'Hughie' Does It Again!

J. Hugh Proudfoot, Liberal MP for Pontiac-Temiskaming is the only member of the House of Commons who was re-elected on August 10 with exactly the same majority with which he carried the county four years ago.

In the Federal election of June 1949, Mr. Proudfoot's majority over John M. Argue, P. C. was 2,668. The official certificate given him by the returning officer of Pontiac a few days ago, records that he defeated Hector Belec, Progressive Conservative by the identical figure.

This doesn't tell quite all the story, because the 1949 vote in the riding was considerably higher than at the election held three weeks ago. Mr. Proudfoot's percentage of the total vote was somewhat higher this year than four years ago. Also, he was forced to fight against an Independent Liberal four years ago whereas in the August election, it was a straight fight.

Kitchen Shower

On Saturday afternoon, August 22, a nicely arranged kitchen shower was given in honor of Miss Mary Hanna, by Miss Gwenneth Armstrong at her home in Shawville.

Mary, one of this month's brides, was taken very much by surprise, when she entered the room, which was decorated with pink and white streamers and flowers.

Miss Janice Yemen played, "Here comes the Bride", Gwenneth assisted Mary to her chair and presented her with a brides book and Mrs. Armstrong pinned on a corsage. Gwenneth read an address, while Marilyn Denison and Joan Armstrong carried in the gifts in a decorated basket.

Mary thanked Mrs. Armstrong and Gwenneth and also the ladies for their lovely gifts. All joined in singing for she's a jolly good fellow.

Dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. Armstrong and Gwenneth assisted by Mrs. G. Armstrong and Janice Yemen.

Wyman MacKechnie Honored

The gold medal of the Order of Agricultural Merit has been awarded by the Province of Quebec, to S. Wyman MacKechnie of Wyman who will be decorated as Commander of the Order by Premier Maurice Duplessis at a special ceremony Sept 9 in Quebec City.

In receiving the decoration, Mr. MacKechnie will be the guest of honor at a formal dinner in the ancient Capital during which he will be the only one to accept the highest distinction of the year in the Order which was founded in 1889. He will also be presented with a diploma.

This is the first occasion on which the gold medal and title have been bestowed on a resident of Pontiac County, although Mr. MacKechnie received a silver medal five years ago.

The distinction is granted by Quebec Province for outstanding accomplishments in the field of agriculture and for contributions to community life as well as for the standard of farm maintenance and methods, quality of livestock and other factors.

For the awards, the province is divided into five areas and Mr. MacKechnie was the choice for the gold medal this year in a large section of Quebec. The winner in 1952 was an agriculturist in distant Beauce County.

As these notes go to press it is with sorrow that we record the passing of Buddy Young, in the Hospital in Shawville. Buddy a promising youth of 13 years, was taken ill some six weeks ago, and all that medical aid could do was done. His mother was the former Janet Stewart of Norway Bay. Our sympathy goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Orla Young and family in this sorrow.

Scout News

Scouting in Shawville suffered a severe loss with the death of one of their Scouts, Collins (Buddy) Young, who passed away on August 31. Buddy had been ill for some time in the hospital, where he underwent a severe operation, and although he fought bravely, it was just too much for him. In spite of his pain, he always had that Scout smile and was always cheerful and it certainly can be said he carried out Lord Baden-Powells adage that if you want to be happy, you must give happiness to others. Buddy was a good Scout. Formerly as a Wolf Cub he passed through the various grades and became a Two Star and wore the three stripes of a Pack Leader. He "Went Up" to the Scout Troop where he became a Tenderfoot and qualified for the Leaping Wolf. He also had passed nine tests towards his 2nd Class Badge. He will be sorely missed in his Troop. The various Scout Organizations collectively sent a wreath in the form of a Scout Sign meaning "I am gone Home" and was made in the Scout colors of Red, Green and Gold. The Jamboree Patrol were his pall-bearers and a number of Wolf Cubs were flower bearers. The sympathy of every member of the Boy Scout Organization goes out to his parents, brother and sisters in their loss.

St. Andrew's W.M.S.

The members and friends of St. Andrew's W.M.S. held their September meeting at the home of Mrs. Garnet Wiggins, with the President, Mrs. Stewart, in the chair.

The meeting opened with the worship service from the Missionary Monthly, followed by a hymn sung by those assembled. Mrs. Stewart then led the meeting in prayer. A responsive Scripture reading was next given by Mrs. McNeill, Mrs. Wiggins and Mrs. Bailey, and was followed by a silent prayer.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved, after which the meeting dealt with committee reports, as follows:

A satisfactory response to the drive for clothing to be sent to Korea with reported by Mrs. Stewart.

The Treasurer gave her report, which was found satisfactory. On motion of Mrs. J. N. McCredie and Mrs. Wilmer Graham a resolution was adopted that the Treasurer send $50.00 to the Provincial W. M. S. Treasurer during the current quarter.

Sick visits were made to five people in hospital and to three people at home.

It was decided that each member should make an article before the next meeting, endeavour to sell it, and bring the proceeds to the October meeting.

On motion of Mrs. J. McCredie and Mrs. W. Graham the members resolved to send a box of treats to Mrs. Fred Graham, who is in hospital.

The roll call was answered with ten Scripture verses.

Program 1 was given from the Study Book. Responsive readings were made by Mrs. Wiggins.

The ushers were Edward Gibbons brother of the bride and Jack Darrach of Sudbury.

For her wedding the bride chose a New York model gown of white nylon tulle and Chantilly lace over satin fashioned with a fitted bodice and Queen Anne collar. Her bouffant skirt featured panels of lace and extended into a chapel train. A halo of baby roses held in place her fingertip veil of tulle illusion and she carried a Colonial bouquet of red roses.

Following a reception at the home of the bride's parents, and later at Scobie House at Norway Bay, the couple left on a wedding trip to New York State. The bride travelled in a rose bengaline suit with navy blue accessories and a corsage bouquet of white roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Duggan will live in Sudbury.

The officiating minister was Rev. C. C. Watson, minister of the church.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, looked charming in a floor length white satin gown and chantly lace with slight train long sleeves and net yoke, her full length veil of white net being held by a white tiara covered with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses with red buds.

The bride was attended by her two sisters, Miss Hilda Smith who was bridesmaid, gownned in a floor length pink taffeta. Her headress was similar to the brides, with shoulder length veil. She carried a colonial nosegay.

Miss Ethel Smith was maid of honor, gownned in a floor length blue net over blue taffeta, with matching net veil to her shoulders. She carried a colonial nosegay.

Little Miss Bernice McNeil was flower girl, wearing a yellow floor length taffeta gown with matching frilled head dress, trimmed with pearls and carried a colonial nosegay.

Mr. Wilbour Sparling was best man. The ushers were Mr. Harvey Smith, brother of the bride and Mr. Karl Sparling, brother of the groom. The wedding music was played by Mrs. Watson.

After the service supper was served to the wedding party and near relatives at the home of the bride's parents.

Later in the evening the bride chose a pink linen and lace dress with white accessories and a corsage of roses.

A reception was held in the hall at Charteris, where every one enjoyed themselves with music and dancing. The young couple are going to make their home in Ottawa.

This & That

We promised you some fancy travel stories this issue, but the boys that went to New York didn't write the Green Lake contingent is too busy and the great western journey isn't over yet. Next week, though, there's bound to be quite a splurge.

Now that we are increasing our subscription lists from Fort Coulonge, Bryson and Ladysmith, we would like to have correspondents in those three places. Let us know right away if you're interested.

Patrons of the Bryson Theatre are advised that the film to be shown on Monday and Tuesday, September 7 and 8 will be "One Minute to Zero", with Robert Mitchem and Ann Blythe and NOT "Lost In Alaska", as advertised in the September program.

Shawville High School will open on Wednesday, September 9, at 9 a.m.

Grades 1 to 4 will assemble in the "old" building.

Grades 5 to 11 will assemble in the auditorium of the new building.

In the last edition of The Equity, we published the 1953 changes in the Shawville Fair prize list. One of these changes occurred in the grain section, which we now find was incorrectly reported. This section should read as follows:

Three new classes have been added in the grain section: best sheaf of oats, wheat and barley, each to be three inches in diameter.

Both the prize list books and the report of the changes in The Equity read "thirty inches in diameter".

"Western Hospitality" is a slogan, nothing else. Here, in Saskatoon, as everywhere else in the world, hospitality and friendliness are not general attributes of a large block of population, but depend entirely upon the intelligence of each individual.

Guess what Saskatoon is busy doing? Putting in new sewers!

Peaker-Black

The marriage of Miss Gwenneth Marjorie Black, of Ottawa and Mr. James Patrick Peaker, of Manotick, Ont., was solemnized on Saturday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock in Southminster United Church, Ottawa.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin J. Black, of Shawville and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Morley Peaker, of Manotick.

Rev. Dr. A. F. Fokes, of Shawville, officiated and white gladioli, ferns and palms were used in decoration. Mr. Percival Kerby played the wedding music, and the soloist was Miss Kay Woodley of Shawville.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by her sister, Miss Lorraine Black, Miss Nora Peaker, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Nancy Colbourne.

Mr. Jack Peaker was best man for his brother, and the ushers were Mr. Gerry Baker, cousin of the bridegroom, and Mr. Dalton Black, cousin of the bride.

The bride wore a strapless gown of nylon net over satin with lace appliques, and a Chantilly lace redingote, with long sleeves coming to points over the hands, and a train. Her fingertip veil of tulle illusion was held by a headress of lace and pearls, and she carried a semi-cascade bouquet of all white feathered carnations and gladioli buds.

After a reception at the Rideau Glen Lodge, the couple left on a wedding trip to New York and points south. To travel the bride wore a lilac suit with black accessories, a white feathered hat and white gloves, and a corsage bouquet of white and mauve carnations.

Forward looking communities, yes, and even backward looking communities, are realizing more and more the importance of using their modern school buildings as community centres. School architects these days do not confine themselves to the needs of the children during the thirty hours a week when they occupy these expensive buildings. Plans for new schools are made with it very much in mind that other groups of the population will be using the rooms in the evenings and on weekends. To get the most out of the tremendous investment that a new school building represents it is only natural that the building should be used by as wide a section of the population as possible. No group should be refused the use of the school as long as it is left in as clean a condition as it was found. If an organization leaves work to be done then that work should simply be charged against that organization and a bill sent for services rendered. Until recently, the Boy Scouts of Shawville have been granted the use of a class room in the old school for their meetings and their St. John Ambulance courses and Leader training. When the new school was ready for use, the natural thing to expect was that the auditorium would be offered to the Scouts for whenever they could use it outside school hours. Instead, the Scouts were put right out of the school altogether and now face a cold winter with no place at all to meet. Scouting is the only boys organization in the Community and should be encouraged to expand, not snuffed out in the midst of its growth. Those who benefit from a well organized boys club are not only the boys themselves. Educators will be the first to agree that benefits of organized spare time activities are felt to a great extent in the class rooms and the homes throughout the community. But the Scouts are just one group that should be using the school building. Having an auditorium can be a tremendous asset for many groups. Women's Institutes, Young People's, the Christian Businessmen's Organization and all Church groups, the Women's Auxiliaries, the Farm Forums and indeed the municipal councils of the various surrounding villages. To hold a public meeting in a creaky old building with broken seats and impossible acoustics is a shame when the town owns a perfect meeting place in their school building. The job of keeping a schedule of who is to use the school and when, will be a difficult one and possibly there is nobody on the School Board who will want to take this on. In other communities, this business has sometimes been turned over to the Home and School Association. There is no Home and School Club here just now, but it is very likely that as these school problems arise, such a club will be formed. The functions of such a group are many. The club forms a bond between the teachers and the parents of the children so that they can understand each other's methods and aims and thus make the home and the school more able to work together. It introduces the teachers to the parents and gives everyone a chance to discuss both their own particular little problems and any general concerns they might have. This is all done in the congenial atmosphere of a social gathering where every one is on an equal footing. Other functions of such a club are to bring people in from outside to give us a broader view of child-related subjects and to provide a ready audience for whatever little concerns the children might from time to time put on as a part of their school work. Making resolutions to the Boards and keeping in close touch with changes of school policy, a Home and School Association can be a valuable asset to any community and is almost a necessity where a new building is being used as it should be used—that is as a Community Centre.

A letter just received from Eddie Rausch, Scoutmaster of the 1st Bryson Troop shows that his Troop are taking advantage of the summer weather to get off those tests in swimming which are required for the First Class Badge. Seven of his boys have successfully passed as shown in the Gazette. They are still trying for their swimmers and Life Savers or Rescuers Badges and by next week they may have just done that. Eddie is a pretty busy boy looking after his Troop, keeping his Scout Band up to date, building a Scout Hall and looking after the Gattineau Power in his spare time. He has arranged for a Patrol of Scouts to come each week from Campbell's Bay to join with his Troop until at such time that town can have their own organization. Nice going, Eddie.

All centres in Pontiac District are arranging for their Annual Meeting of the Group Committee, which must be done before the end of September. Shawville is having theirs on September 3, but the date of the others have not been announced. Shawville has a big problem on their hands in arranging for a place in which their Units may meet during the coming year. Within the neighborhood of one hundred boys who are members of the different Units, to say nothing about the training classes and St. John Ambulance Classes, Scout Mothers' Auxiliary, this is indeed an important part of their agenda.

Edgar Moses called at District Headquarters the other day and took away a supply of District Badges for his boys. Up until now there has been a shortage, but you will be seeing each of the Quyon Units with their insignia of Chief Pontiac paddling down the Ottawa River on all their neckerchiefs. Edgar tells me there will be about a dozen Wolf Cubs "Go Up" to his Troop this year and he is transferring about an equal number to the newly formed Rover Crew in Quyon. Having the three Units in a Group enables the trained boys to be of help as Rover Instructors and later as Scouts. Irvin Watson is training the Jamboree Patrol in Bridge Building and they are going to put on a demonstration of how this is taken down each evening in front of the Grand Stand at the Shawville Fair. No nails are used, just lashings, and when completed, will carry anything that the poles will stand. The passes for those on duty are ready as soon as the lists are prepared for the different duties and the times on duty are ready.

- I REMEMBER -

The Story of Bristol, Quebec, as told to Rosaleen Dickson by William Russell

Sixty eight years ago I hitched a ride on the mail stage with Joe Wynman. Erin Raften was the driver's name and Joe and Erin took the mail up from Aylmer, changing horses just north of Quyon. From there they went on through Elmside and Bristol and on up to "Port Ash". Some of the mail was taken off at Sharp's Corners, where a man by the name of Hurnen took it northward from there. I rode in the stage for three miles and a half on the old main road into Clarendon, and the memory of this ride is as clear to me today as anything I see at hand. They say the mail route had belonged to a Mr. Moyle before that, but the one I remember was Joe Wynman.

These days, when it is all the rage to own a television set with which to see things far away, I wonder if it isn't foolish. The television I have is in my mind and can bring back to me such scenes as no television set could ever bring. And the television of our memory has the added virtue that it only brings to us those things which are good and which build our characters. On this television set that God in His wonderful wisdom has given to me I can see those days when there were no mechanical means of communication at all. No telephones, no railroads in Pontiac, no telegraph. Then the great commotion when we obtained one connection with the outside world as James MacFarlane set up the first telegraph set to send and receive messages over the wire. James was bookkeeper at the Craig's store and this place became the most fascinating place in town.

Looking back over seventy years, I can see the men and women and the whole picture of their lives. My home was a humble one. We were not rich as the word is commonly used, but very rich in the training we received. At that time, as all small boys will, I considered our home to be a very strict place, but in later years came to realize that this early training was a great asset when we had to go out into the world, at a tender age.

Our home was about two miles north of the village which, on the official plan, was called Inkerman. We lived one half mile east of the town line between Bristol and Clarendon. Our nearest neighbors lived in an area within a mile west of the town line north to Sharp's Corners, a mile and a half east of the town line and south to the village of Inkerman. That was quite a wide circle. In those days of slow transportation and no telephone, to call neighbors, but when there was threshing to do, or sawing wood with a drag saw, or raising a building, we sometimes had as many as twenty men gathered. These buildings were mostly of logs and took many strong men to raise. Of course a lot of the women would come to these bee's too for good food was an important part of a day's work then as it is now.

Of all those men and women I cannot remember one for whom everyone hadn't the greatest respect. Perhaps we were too busy with our work to have time for gossip, but in those days I never remember hearing a slight on another's character. Each did his best and was respected for it—no one excluded.

One man stands out in my memory when I remember those early days at Inkerman Village.

Sam Knox was his name. He was always present whenever a strong man was needed and made the way easier for us all in joy or in trouble. His dream was to have a monument for Inkerman, when the Pontiac Pacific Junction, now known as the C.P.R. became a going concern, but the village name just died a natural death when the people, changed the name to Bristol, after the Post Office Department called the Post Office Bristol. Corners was added because of the five roads which met there.

Bristol was a great trading center. A lot of produce was taken by horse teams to Ottawa and also to lumber camps on the Coulonge. The first steam boat I remember was owned by Captain Dan Cowley and later was run by his son Miles. In the winter, they crossed the river on the ice. Later Tom Craig had a steamboat built. I can remember the day his Mother christened it. I was just a lad and stood by in awe as she broke a bottle over it and shouted above the noisiness of the celebration, "I Christen this boat the Janet Craig", and the boat slid into and water like a giant duck. That was at what we call the old wharf, a half mile south of the village.

We had two general stores at that time. There was Craig's, which was founded by William Craig. He had a large farm on which most of Bristol was built. He had about five hundred acres and employed quite a few men as the farm was drained with planks. All around the front of his farm was a neat board fence. Quite a nice lay-out for those times. Old Will Craig's life was a short span and his three sons operated the store and kept about fifty acres of the property north of the village as their farm.

On this property the St. Thomas Anglican Church was built in the year 1875 and the first minister that I can picture in my memory was Rev. Everett.

Archie Gill had the other general store. Archie was a fine type of business man and had a small farm on the front road in Bristol, running along the town line. I think he was the first to have a blacksmith shop in Bristol. He employed a man by the name of Dick Scafe who helped him in the manufacture of hand made wagons. Some of these wagons were used in hauling rock on the main line at Chalk River. In my memory I can clearly see those horse drawn wagons, remember the names of the horses and their colours.

Sir John A. McDonald was the Prime Minister then, and we gave him credit for pushing the C.P.R. as far as Sand Point. It was some little time before it got any further. They were working beyond Pembroke on the other side of the river about the year 1879. Of course there were contracts for northern Pontiac and work was being done clearing the right of way of trees and making large cuts through the rock. It was wonderful the progress they made for the kind of power they had.

But to get back to our village and Archie Gill. He had a sash and door factory opposite the English Church. There he had the first stationery boiler and engine in Bristol. Soon afterwards there were two more blacksmith shops belonging to George Morrison and Willie Young and later still another blacksmith, Robert Thompson set up shop in town. These men worked perhaps harder than anyone in the village. Their hours were anywhere from five in the morning to ten and eleven at night.

John McGuire ran a tannery which later was taken over by a man hired by Tom Craig and finally operated by Joe Morris. He used hemlock bark and I remember clearly the piled cords or bark in back of his place which were ground in a one horse power mill after being broken up with a small wooden maul by a hired man. Calf skins were fifty cents with five cents deducted for every hole made by careless operators when removing the pelt. That made the price sometimes as low as ten cents.

We also had a cooper, Nesbit Armstrong was his name and he made firkins and pails all by hand. Bob Dodd was the first harness maker I can remember. Later came Dow Davis and later still Robert MacFarlane because harness making was an important industry in those days.

The first shoe maker I can call to remembrance was Sandy Harrison. He supplied the needs of the village alone until George Craig opened his shop. A man by the name of Ned Monterville also had a shoe shop for a while but he moved around a lot. The shoemaker that did the most service for the neighborhood was the one who went from home to home taking measurements and made shoes for all the family. This man's name was Roach and he lived just north of Quyon on the steel line that was called Roach's Corner.

For tailors we had David Morrison and also a little tailoring was done upstairs in the back of Craig's store. Then there was Danny Rooney, the travelling tailor. As I remember Mr. Rooney, he was a good writer and also spoke very well.

There was a hotel run by Sandy McLeod. He was the trickster of the neighborhood. One Spring when Archie McCuaig came home from his shanty and went over him five dollars he could do some to the hotel, Sandy McLeod bet impossible thing and when McCuaig tried to collect the bet McLeod took to his heels and ran down the street. As he passed

Sandy Morrison's shoemakers shop he kicked open the door and by the time the shoe maker had laid down his work and gotten to the door to see who was being so rude there was poor Archie McCuaig to take the scolding.

Of medical men we had a constant stream. Among the first was a Dr. Smith. He now lies in the Norway Bay Cemetery. The next was Dr. Cranston. He came here as a young man and later settled in Arnprior. The next that I remember was John Knox McKinley. He was one of the cleverest doctors of his day and generation, both as medical man and surgeon.

A Labour Day Tribute

Science has done much to advance to the present stage of efficiency the materials, machines, and equipment which are used to deliver electricity.

These however excellent they may be, would be entirely without avail were it not for this Company's army of workers—over 700—your own neighbors and friends—who guide the hidden forces locked up in electricity into safe channels, so that they may properly perform the service which scientists have made possible.

This week, on the eve of Labour Day, tribute is paid to the Company's loyal and conscientious group of workers!

Reorganization of Livestock Insect Investigation

More effective service in pest control to the Canadian livestock industry is planned by the federal Department of Agriculture in a reorganization of research and associated work on livestock insects that is carried out by the Division of Entomology, of the Department's Science Service.

In this reorganization, to go into effect on October 1, 1953, the Livestock Insect Laboratory at Lethbridge, Alberta, will become the major research centre on livestock insects for Western Canada. Mr. R. H. Painter, BSA, MSc, who has been in charge of the laboratory since its establishment in 1947, will be promoted to Livestock Insect Liaison Officer for Western Canada. In that position he will work closely with provincial authorities in planning and carrying out provincial programs for the control of livestock insects. Mr. W. D. Haufe, B.Sc., M. Sc., will be appointed Acting Officer in charge of the laboratory when Mr. Painter's promotion goes into effect.

Mr. Painter is well known to the livestock industry and has unrivalled knowledge and experience of the insect problems affecting the industry in Western Canada and of methods of dealing with them. He was in charge of a warble-fly control campaign, throughout the West from 1942 to 1948, and played an important part in the establishment and direction of the Livestock Insect Laboratory at Lethbridge since 1947. The industry should benefit greatly from enlarged scope of his activities. Mr. Haufe has demonstrated exceptional ability in the planning, direction and execution of research work on insect pests.

Additional research staff will be transferred from Kamloops to Lethbridge to meet the needs of the enlarged research program there. It is also planned to develop a comparable research centre in Ontario to serve the industry in Eastern Canada. Some phases of the studies will be continued at laboratories at Ottawa, Ontario, Kamloops, B.C., and Saskatoon, Sask. This work in the Department throughout Canada is directed and coordinated by Dr. C. R. Twinn, Head Veterinary and Medical Entomology Unit of the Department.

College for Farmers

Farming is a complicated business these days. The old-fashioned notion that "anyone can farm" is even less true today than it was a few years ago.

Professor L. H. Hamilton, Director of the Diploma Course of Macdonald College points out that "The modern farmer can benefit from extra training for his profession".

To meet this need Macdonald College offers a two-year practical Diploma Course in Agriculture which runs from the end of October to the end of March each year.

While costs of other college courses have risen sharply over the last few years, Professor Hamilton noted that the Diploma Course is still offered free of all tuition charges. The only stipulation is that students be the sons (or daughters) of farmers and be residents of Quebec, the Maritimes or the Ottawa Valley in Ontario. Total cost for each winter session is $200. This figure includes student fees as well as room and board.

A.C.W.W. Delegates Tour Quebec

Forty women, delegates to the recent Toronto Convention of the Associated Country Women of the World, concluded a three-day tour of Quebec's Eastern Township region at Macdonald College on Saturday. The women were entertained on the College campus by the Vaudreuil and Ste. Anne's Branches of the Quebec Women's Institutes. The touring group included delegates from India, Pakistan, Egypt, Norway and Germany. Several members of the group came from scattered points in the United States and Western Canada. The tour sponsored by Quebec Women's Institutes included visits to farms, historical sights, industries and educational institutions. At selected points the delegates were entertained by local W. I. members.

On Sunday afternoon the Country Women took a tour of Montreal and were entertained later at supper by the University Women's Club. On Monday the delegates concluded their visit to the province at Quebec City, under the sponsorship of The Circles Fermiers and the Quebec Department of Agriculture.

However, the course is open also to non-farm young people who wish to learn more about farming. In these cases, the Diploma Course Director pointed out the College does charge tuition fees.

Miscellaneous Shower

Mrs. Lorny Smith and Mrs. Allan Findlay of Shawville, were joint hostesses at a miscellaneous shower, held in honor of Miss Minerva Smith, now Mrs. Billy Sparling.

Minerva thanked the kind folks in a few well chosen words. After a few jokes the evening came to a close.

A dainty lunch was served by the hostess.

"Farm people appreciate the services of their agricultural representatives very much", Mr. Griesbach says, "but they sometimes feel that while the agricultural representative is greatly overworked, there are many farmers who never use his services. How can the agricultural representative reach more farmers without having to increase his own activities?" asks Mr. Griesbach. "We hope that agricultural representatives, D. A.'s and agronomes will sit down with farm people on November 2nd and thresh over this problem with them."

The important part played by the farm wife as a partner with her husband, will be the subject for discussion in Farm Forum the following Monday, November 9, under the title "Partners All". This will be followed on November 16th by a look at the dairy industry when "The Challenge of Dairy Substitutes" will be considered.

Other Farm Forum topics in succeeding weeks will include: "Telling the Farmer's Story" (December 14); "Stop, Look and Listen"—the level crossing problem (January 18); "Barriers to Trade" (February 1); and "The School Tax Problem" (March 1).

All broadcasts will be heard on Monday evenings on the Trans-Canada network of the CBC and will be followed by local discussions.

Buddy Young Passes

It is with deep regret that we record the death of John Collins (Buddy) Young, who died at the Pontiac Community Hospital on August 31, 1953, at the age of 13 years.

The courage and indomitable spirit which he exhibited in the trying weeks before his death were an inspiration to all who knew him. The feeling of loss engendered by his death is shared by the entire community with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orla Young of Shawville.

The loss of Buddy Young will bear with particular weight on the Shawville Scout Troop and the Shawville United Church Sunday School, in both of which groups Buddy was an active member.

The funeral service was conducted on Wednesday, September 2, at Shawville United Church, by Rev. H. G. Lester, with interment in Maple Grove cemetery.

In addition to his parents, Buddy is survived by two sisters, Betty and Susan Ruth, one brother, Douglas, all at home, and by three grandparents, Mrs. John Stewart and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Young, all of Shawville.

Church of England Shows Film

As part of the Golden Jubilee Year observance, the Church of England in Canada has produced a colored film entitled: "The Power Within". This outstanding film has been rated one of the three best films recently produced in Canada.

A film of great beauty and inspiration, its purpose is to inform the people of the Church of England in Canada what they are doing through their own Missionary Society to bring the power of the Spirit of Christ into the lives of the people of their own country and in lands abroad. The problems and the opportunities of church expansion, the joys and difficulties of the missions, are all brought out to encourage the audience to take their own share of responsibility in the primary and still unfulfilled duty of the Church.

The film opens with a scene in St. Bartholomew's Church, Ottawa (the Governor General's Church) where the preacher gives the sermon in the form of a story. After a few introductory remarks on the Power of the Spirit of Christ in the life of every individual, the scene fades out into pictures of the "Power Within" as it is seen at work in the lives of people in the Arctic, Japan, India, along the British Columbia coast, amongst Canadian Indians and in all types of Canadians.

This interesting film will be shown at several centres through out the County of Pontiac during the week of September 4 to 11. It will be shown in St. Paul's Church, Shawville, Friday, September 4, 8.15 p.m. Arrangements are being made to have it shown during the Evening Service in St. James' Church, Otter Lake, Sunday September 6; St. George's Church, Portage du Fort, Monday September 7, 8.00 p.m.; St. George's Church, Campbell's Bay, Tuesday, September 8, at 8 p.m. and in 70 hall, Eardley, Wednesday, September 9 at 8 p.m.

Sgt. A.S. Dale

Sgt. A. S. Dale of Shawville has left for two weeks duty with the Armed Forces Display at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto. Sgt. Dale joined the RCAF in 1942 and during the war served with No. 5 Bomber Reconnaissance Squadron in Newfoundland. At the present time he is on the staff of No. 1 Radar and Communication School at Clinton.

Sgt. Dale will assist during the show at the Air Force electronics display.

Roma Butler, 21 year-old mezzo-soprano from St. John's, Newfoundland, is currently walking on air since a grand prize award on the CBC's Opportunity Knocks program started her out on a new network series. The attractive young lady hasn't always had the desire to sing; in fact, she started out on her career by studying the piano for eleven years. However, when she moved to Toronto to continue her studies she turned to vocal lessons and Canada has been richly rewarded by her choice.

Pontiac Co-operative Medical Services

The monthly meeting of the Board of Directors was held August 27, in J. M. Argue's office with the president, Charles Russell in the chair. Directors present were Gladys Sly, Dave Davies, Pheobe McCord, Norma Telford and Lennis Dean, chairman of the Supervisory Committee.

The meeting was called to order and the minutes of the July meeting were read and approved on motion of Peobe McCord, seconded by Dave Davies and carried.

Correspondence was read and dealt with from: H. G. Willis, Parrelton, Que., Grace Hospital, Ottawa; Gatineau Memorial Hospital; Co-op Medical Services Federation; W. G. Nicolson, Secretary United Co-op of Ontario; Breen Melvin, Secretary Co-op Union of Canada and several applications for membership.

It was moved by Mrs. McCord seconded by Dave Davies and carried that the following applications for membership be accepted:

Mrs. Wilbur Horner, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Draper from Seventh Line Forum, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Lamb and family, Robert Wall, Mrs. Joe Belsher, Shawville Hospitalization Group 2; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Armitage, Onslow Hospitalization Group.

Renewal premiums were received from Starks Corners Forum, 2 family and 1 dependent premiums, $51.50; 1 family premium, Austin 2 Forum and $239.98 from 13 members of the Pine Lodge Group.

Following bills and claims were presented for payment:

Gatineau Memorial Hospital, $154.72 (1 claim) Pontiac Community Hospital 15 claims $775.60, Underwood Limited for ribbons and carbon paper $7.40. The bills were accepted for payment on motion of Dave Davies, seconded by Mrs. McCord and carried.

The secretary reported that $6,672.75 was billed for 1953 September renewals, which was almost the same amount as billed in August 1952. Also that several inquiries had been made regarding a better hospitalization coverage with higher premium rate. Bylaws of the Association were not 'clear' to some group secretaries. In view of this the following was recommended:

(1) Add a higher priced Plan giving more benefits.

(2) Hold Secretaries' Work Shop.

(3) Prepare a special report for the annual meeting which would contain financial statement, charts and data to explain certain aspects of operation and to show the steady growth of the Association since 1948.

The Board rejected the suggestion of adding another Plan. They

Fish Tags Record Strange Journeys

Fishes are finloose creatures, and once they take it into their heads to go wandering there's no saying where they may make their next stop. Proof of this comes daily to the Quebec Biological Bureau of the Department of Game and Fisheries in the shape of returned tags from fishes released to improve the fish populations of rivers and other water courses.

A Montreal angler, A. Marleau, was fishing in the port of Montreal, when he hooked a 19-inch, 2-pound dore which, as it turned pointed out that one of the Ontario Co-operatives had to discontinue one of their two plan services owing to the fact that healthy people who required a minimum of hospital care just took out the lower priced policy which caused a deficit.

It was agreed to accept the recommendations of holding a secretaries Workshop early in October and the report for the annual meeting.

The meeting adjourned on motion of Mrs. Sly.

Mrs. Gilbert Telford, Manager-Secretary.

out, had been tagged in Vermont and wandered into Canada through the islands of Lake Champlain.

How a sturgeon tagged by the Quebec Biological Bureau, at the Ile Juliet in the St. Lawrence, weighing 6 pounds, was caught eight years later in Ontario weighing 19½ pounds is the story told by the tag returned to the Bureau by George Vanston of Mallorytown, Ontario. He caught it in July this year. It was released in June, 1945. It had grown from 30 to 42 inches in length.

Listen now to the story of three fishes that stayed near home. Fernand Burelle, of Beloeil Station, Vercheres County, went fishing in May and June, along the Richelieu River, which borders his town. In that period, at spots not many miles apart, he caught three tagged dore, all of which had been released a year before at Missisquoi Bay which, considering this fish's capacity for taking long hikes, is a mere strolling distance away.

A reward goes with the return of these tags; the Biological Bureau is glad thus to learn more about the habits of fishes. What anglers appreciate even more, however, is the fact that they also receive a typewritten statement of where the fish was released, how much it then weighed and than any other car!

Make no mistake about it CHEVROLET is the LEADER!

1ST in Sales!

1ST in Value!

1ST in Demand!

Only one car can be the leader! Only one car can be the favorite! Only one car can be the most-sought, most-bought car in Canada! That car, year-in, year-out, is Chevrolet. In the first six months of 1953, according to the latest official registration figures, Canadians bought 41,660 Chevrolets. This is 12,401 more cars than were sold by its nearest competitor — dramatic proof of Canada's continuing preference for Chevrolets!

The tremendous popularity of Chevrolet means lower production costs. It means big savings that are passed on to you! And because Chevrolet value lasts, there are extra dollars for you when you trade in your Chevrolet, for Chevrolet consistently shows highest trade-in values of any car in Canada! Final proof of good value is the loyalty of Chevrolet drivers, a loyalty that grows stronger with every new year — with every great Chevrolet we build.

Although other cars are available, thousands of Canadians are waiting patiently to get their Chevrolet. No other car will do! Surely this is proof of Chevrolet's superiority . . . and its unchallenged place in the hearts of Canadian motorists.

(Received from Miss Abbie Pritchard, charter member of Wyman W. I. and Honorary Vice President of the Q. W. I., who attended the A.C.W.W. Conference held in Toronto recently.)

It gave one a thrill of a life time to be one of the large audience present at the opening of the Seventh Triennial Conference of the Associated Country Women of the World which was held in Convocation Hall, University of Toronto.

A procession of girls, members of the Junior Women's Institutes and Homemaking Clubs, carrying flags of the 25 A.C.W.W. countries, marched to the front and placed the flags to form a back ground for the speakers. Silent prayer was followed by the singing of God Save the Queen.

Hon. J. C. Taggart, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, Canada, gave official welcome, which was followed by greetings from around the world by the A.C.W.W.

The hymn of all nations was sung, and to the strains of organ music which had interspersed the numbers of the program, the girls marched out with the flags, and the audience followed to enjoy a cup of tea at Hart House, across the University Campus.

Other highlights of the Conference was the trip to Guelph, where an International Church Service was held in Memorial Hall. Afterwards luncheon was served in the Dining Hall, and after a brief program on the lawn, the delegates went on to Stoney Creek. Here a large group awaited our coming, and present were five of the Charter members of the first Women's Institute formed in February, 1897. Children and grandchildren mingled in the welcome, and after a brief program, we were shown where the first W. I. meeting was held, and the home of the first president, and also some of the cairns marking historic sites.

Another all day trip was given through the courtesy of the Ontario Hydro Co., when the trip was made by bus to Niagara Falls. Here the delegates were shown something of the great developments carried out under the Hydro, and had actual experience of the splendid meals that are served to the workers, but the highlight was the Falls. The Floral Clock was a thing of beauty. The W. I. of Welland County, served a picnic supper. A program followed and pictures were taken, after which those who did not wish to remain for the illumination of the Falls returned to Toronto. Those who were present in Maple Leaf Gardens for Canada Day, will never forget the thrill of the program presented, both in the afternoon and at night. The Maple Leaf Gardens were packed as for many a hockey match, but every delegate will never forget the Canadian story as unfolded for them.

At the closing banquet on Saturday night, the delegates and visitors relaxed to enjoy the biggest social event of the conference. Music, songs, presentations, and speeches, followed the all-Canada menu, and the singing of Auld Lang Syne, brought the wonderful gathering to a close.

The hospitality accorded the delegates and the friendliness, among them all, was very heart warming, and did much to make the Conference the success it was. Problems affecting women and children, and to raise the standard of living will still be the aim and work of the A.C.W.W.
