MUTINIES CRUSHED BUT OUTLOOK IS BLACK.

St. Petersburg, August 3.—Although the mutinies at Sveaborg have been ended and the uprising at Cronstadt practically has been put down, the outlook is still black. The revolutionists whose hands suddenly were forced by the premature rising at Sveaborg apparently are undaunted at these initial reverses, and intend to persist in their programme of calling a general strike on Saturday or Monday. One of the leaders of the revolutionists says that no boasted word had gone forth and that the fire of revolt would spread to the corners of the Empire. His closing words to the Associated Press correspondent were: "Now watch Reval, Riga and Libau."

The news of the mutiny on board the armored cruiser Pamyat Avoza, off the Estponian coast, is fraught with enormous possibilities. The crew of this vessel rose and killed the commander and four officers.

United States Ambassador Meyer received a despatch from the American consul at Reval saying that the Pamyat Azova entered that port yesterday morning with the red flag at her mast head. Should this cruiser, under the flag of the mutineers sail northward and appear in the presence of the main squadron in the gulf of Finland, the loyalty of the crews of these vessels, perhaps, would be put to a stronger test than they could stand. Although the admiralty claims that the squadron off Sveaborg did not waver in its allegiance, there is something mysterious about the reports of their actions which warrants the suspicion that all is not right aboard. Only two ships fired on the mutineers, the others remaining on the horizon as if the admiral were not sure that they could be depended upon.

PANIC AT PETERHOF.

When the firing began at Cronstadt Wednesday night there ensued a wild panic in the imperial palace at Peterhof, as the palace lies under the guns of the fortress. All preparations had been taken in advance to flee to the Tsarskoe Selo, but the report afloat Wednesday afternoon that the Emperor and his family actually had fled in the middle of the night was denied later at the Chancellery of the Imperial Household. It was explained, however, that on account of "dampness" at Peterhof, arrangements had been made for the return of the Imperial family to Tsarskoe Selo.

Martial law was proclaimed at Cronstadt during the day and all day long reinforcements have been landing there from the mainland. None is permitted on the island without a pass and although the correspondent of the Associated Press was thus equipped, he was held up and searched upon disembarking from a rowboat. The correspondent found that at six o'clock Wednesday evening there were about 2,000 mutinous sailors barricaded in their barracks which were surrounded by troops. The correspondent made a tour of the city and penetrated to the bridge connecting with Constantine fort. He saw sailors laughing from the windows of the barracks at the besieging soldiers across the way. Everywhere there were heavy patrols on the streets, but otherwise the thoroughfares were almost empty. The people are afraid to venture out.

While passing the arsenal at 4 p.m. the correspondent heard a ragged volley, which he subsequently learned had cut short the lives of six pioneers, who had been sentenced to death by the drumhead courtmartial, which began sitting yesterday morning. It was declared that the three hundred sailors who had surrendered during the night had been shot earlier in the day, but it was impossible to obtain absolute confirmation of this statement.

LOSSES WERE NOT HEAVY.

From eye witnesses on both sides, the correspondent learned that in addition to the officers previously mentioned the losses on the side of the loyal men were six soldiers and two sailors killed and about 20 of both arms are wounded. The losses on the side of the mutineers could not be obtained, but they were not heavy. Three workmen were killed and six wounded in addition. Mme. Jacobi, a sister of Col. Alexandroff, who threw herself between her brother and some sailors when the latter swarmed into their house at the beginning of the outbreak, was brutally stabbed to death.

The utmost ferocity was displayed by both sides. One of the workmen killed, cried to the patrol. "Don't fire on the people," but the officer in command turned coldly away and gave the order to shoot the man down.

Early accounts of the Cronstadt trouble have been largely incorrect. The mutinous sailors never went to Fort Constantine. The plan of the uprising was conceived by the revolutionary military committee. While it was executed to the letter it failed because the information of the situation at Fort Constantine and the arsenal was faulty. When the signal was given at 11 p.m. the sailors, sappers and pioneers left their barracks and divided into three groups. The mission of the first and smallest group was to kill the officers, the second was to take possession of the arsenal, and the third was to seize the fortress and the train. The train crew had agreed in advance to be ready. Revolutionaries cut the telegraph and telephone wires.

The hurried task of the first group was accomplished hurriedly and it then joined the second group, which already was on the bridge leading to Fort Constantine. This is the only fort directly connected with the mainland. The sentinels at Fort Constantine offered no resistance. The artillery men remained neutral and submitted to imprisonment in the checkmate at Cronstadt.

It was at this time that the sappers and pioneers, who comprised the two groups, found themselves checkmated. The batteries of the forts were arranged in two tiers. The guns on the lower tier can be swung on an angle of 45 degrees and command only the sea, while the upper guns can be directed in any direction. The magazine, however, while containing a full supply of shells for the lower tier guns had in it only two shells for the guns. A storming party later brought up field and machine guns and the mutineers were without the possibility of using artillery and were compelled to surrender.

About 100 of the mutineers, including all the revolutionary civilians escaped in a steamer, which was lying off the port.

About 200 sailors, who became separated from the main body on the return march to the barracks, were cut off and captured.

The steamer on which the mutineers escaped was not captured. She is believed to have sailed for Sveaborg in the belief that the mutineers were still in possession there.

All persons leaving Kotlin Island, on which Cronstadt is situated, are searched and detained in case they are open to the slightest suspicion.

INFERNAL MACHINE FAILED.

Moscow, August 3.— An unsuccessful attempt was made yesterday afternoon to blow up the headquarters building of the police. It was frustrated by the discovery of the infernal machine, which had been hidden in a laundry basket, because of the clicking sound of its mechanism.

SIX THOUSAND OUT.

New York, Aug. 3.—It is estimated that six thousand employees of lithographers in this city are placed out of employment through the strike of the Lithographers' International Protective and Benefit Association of the United States and Canada.

The striking organization is composed of printers, transferers and provers without whom none of the shops can be operated.

Throughout the United States and Canada like conditions prevail, and it is esrimated that 30,000 employees of lithographic shops will be out of work or on strike.

The men demand a 48 instead of the present 53-hour week.

QUIET IN TORONTO.

Toronto, Aug. 3.—In Toronto it is not expected that serious trouble will follow the order to strike. Though it is the centre of the lithographic business in Canada, all the large establishments are run on open shop rules, and the rates of pay are high.

WAS NOT EXPECTED TO SURVIVE THE NIGHT.

Halifax, N.S., Aug. 3.—A telephone message received at 11 o'clock from Chester says Mr. Justice Sedgewick is still living, but it is hardly expected that he can survive the day. On the other hand there is a possibility that he may live for a day or two more. His physicians express some surprise at the vitality that the judge displays. They thought he would have died at least 24 hours ago.

REV. MR. DAY WRITES FROM GERMANY.

The Kaiser, His Capital, His Realm.

MR. AND MRS. DAY WILL SHORTLY RETURN TO ENGLAND AND SAIL FOR CANADA ON SEPT. 6TH.

Editor of Record:

Dear Sir,—When I wrote you in January, England was on the eve of a general election. Before my letter appeared in print the wires had flashed across the ocean the news of the great Liberal victory. The defeat of the Conservative forces was not unexpected, but no one anticipated such a complete rout. To be in England during the progress of such a contest was in itself of the greatest interest. The excitement was keen, and, owing to the peculiar method of conducting the elections, long drawn out. I have not yet been able to find out why the custom of spreading the elections out over two weeks is still followed. There seems to be but little in its favor and much against it. But while in this respect our own Canadian custom appears much the better, yet in many other things we have much to learn from the old land. Here men will not stoop to the bribery and corruption which disgrace our elections. The standards of honor in this respect seem to be much higher, and neither candidates nor electors will demean themselves by giving or receiving bribes.

Immediately after assuming power the Liberal Government addressed itself to the redeeming of pre-election promises. Your readers are doubtless familiar with the great questions which have been before the country during the succeeding months, and I need not therefore enter into any details. Of course has been most to the fore, and the amount of squabbling and fighting over it from one end of the country to the other, has been simply amazing. I must confess that it is a little difficult for me to understand the extreme reluctance of both parties to face what seems to be the only logical and satisfactory solution of the matter, i. e.,—a system of so-called "secular education," with no doctrinal religious instruction in the schools, but with the Bible taught as literature as it is in the Protestant schools of Quebec. But neither Anglicans nor Freechurchmen are willing to accept this, although both parties seem to be much divided among themselves as to what they really do want. The present bill is in the nature of a compromise, and is probably as satisfactory as any measure can be under the existing conditions. But I am inclined to think that it will not prove ultimately to be the solution of the difficulty. We have had our educational problems and difficulties in Canada, but have fortunately escaped the extreme bitterness which has been evident in England during the past four years.

Early in April Mrs. Day and I left for Berlin. A residence of eleven weeks in the capital of the Empire, and three subsequent weeks spent in travel has furnished us with opportunities of observing something of and national characteristics. Berlin is a beautiful city, one of the most beautiful I have ever visited. It is thoroughly modern in appearance, and since 1870 has had a most remarkable growth. It has a population of about two millions, and is extending its borders. It is well laid out and has many beautiful squares and public gardens. During the time we were there I made a diligent search for slums but failed to find any. Only fine streets, substantial and ornate buildings and well clad people rewarded my efforts. Why in this respect Berlin should offer such a contrast to other large cities like London, New York and Chicago, I do not know, but in any case it affords a striking testimony to the prosperity and thrift of the inhabitants. Poverty there must be. Of wretchedness and misery no doubt Berlin has its share, but there is no overflow of such, as is only too evident in many other large cities.

Berlin is a great centre of learning. There are over 10,000 students in attendance at the University, and the teaching staff includes many of the most eminent men in all departments. In the Theological faculty Prof. Adolf Harnack is perhaps the most widely known. He is high in favor with the Emperor, and the report is current that he is to be made Prussian Minister of Education. One of his courses of lectures during the last semester on "The Lord's Prayer and the Apostle's Creed," given at seven o'clock in the morning, was attended by between four and five hundred students, many of whom were there for no particular academic purpose but simply on account of their interest in the subject and the lecturer.

A visitor to Germany cannot fail to notice the care that is taken to foster of the nation. I do not mention this as an example to be followed. It is not hard to detect the weariness of the people under the enforced military service. Militarism is too much to the front. Troops are constantly on the march. Officers in brilliant uniforms are always in evidence. Many of the regiments are superbly fine looking companies of men. I frankly acknowledge this, but yet one cannot but hope and pray that the continent where The Hague Peace Conference had its origin, will soon learn some of the lessons of peace, and that Germany as well as the kther countries of Europe will at least abolish their huge standing armies.

CONSTABLE MILETTE TELLS HIS STORY.

How He Captured the Accused Horse Thief.

BROUGHT HIM TO SHERBROOKE AND LANDED HIM BEHIND JAIL BARS.

Officer Milette, of Rock Island, arrived in Sherbrooke yesterday afternoon with his prisoner, charged with horse stealing. The man's name is believed to be Harry Beaudoin, who formerly belonged to Sherbrooke.

Information at hand is to the effect that last week he hired a horse and buggy of Mr. Laroche, of Lake Megantic, that he drove to Lingwick, where he met Mr. Cowan and traded horses with him, receiving ten dollars to boot. Beaudoin then left Lingwick. Some time later Mr. Laroche arrived at Mr. Cowan's looking for his horse, and the situation became apparent. Beaudoin was traced to Cookshire, but after that no further trace could be obtained until Wednesday when he was located at Stanstead.

High Constable Moe had notified the various officers along the line to be on the lookout for such a man, and officer Milette spotted Beaudoin soon after he arrived in the three villages.

Officer Milette, who by the way, is a former Sherbrooke resident, gives the following account of the arrest and exciting incidents in connection:

He says: "I was at Rock Island when I heard that a stranger had sold a horse and buggy at Stanstead. Being aware that a horse thief was wanted I made enquiry and found that the horse and buggy corresponded with the information given by High Constable Moe. I learned that the horse had been sold for $50 and the buggy and harness for $25. On looking up the party who sold them I immediately placed him under arrest, anh, before conveying him to the lockup at Rock Island, I placed the irons on him. He told what seemed to be such a straightforward story about his father having died and that his mother was disposing of the stock, that I thought for the moment that probably a mistake had been made. At the same time his appearance and the description of the horse and buggy coincided so well with what information I had that I determined to keep him in custody until he had made good his statements. Before the lockup was reached, from his conversation, I was convinced that he was not the innocent man that he looked. He made several breaks in regard to his name, and I felt convinced he was crooked. When we arrived at the lock-up and when we got into the anteroom I removed the handcuffs and proceeded to search him. In one of his pockets I found a package of cartridges, and as I laid them on the table it flashed through my mind that he would have a gun. On looking round from the table where I laid the cartridges, I was face to face with a revolver. 'If you make a move, I will blow your head off,' said the prisoner. I realized I was up against it, and as the cold iron pressed against my face, I shut my eyes, expecting him to pull, and made a grab for his neck. The movement threw the revolver off the line of my head, and I caught his wrist. If he was innocent-looking before he now seemed to be a fiend let loose. I stumbled in the struggle and went nearly to the floor. By this time the prisoner had reached the window, and with the revolver pointed at me with one hand, he raised the window with the other. Being all alone and unarmed I could not prevent his ecape against such odds. As he went through the window I gathered myself together and followed. Beaudoin immediately made for the river. He started to cross the river, and I followed. When he was some way towards the opposite bank I signalled to some young men to stop him, and seeing that he was likely to be caught Beaudoin turned towards me. He got on to the bank which he had left, and not having any weapon, I told some parties who had followed us to watch which way he went until I returned with my revolver. Beaudoin had taken refuge in a clump of bushes. On returning to the spot where he had gone, I fired two or three shots with the expectation that he would make a move. We then drew closer, and after some time I observed a foot protruding from underneath a pile of old lumber, and on pulling at the same the prisoner was again captured. This time the handcuffs were not removed until he was fully searched. The revolver was a 32-calibre, and seven of the eight chambers were loaded, when it was up against my face it looked like a cannon, and I admit that I was relieved when the prisoner and revolver were separated. He gave several names. I found a prayer book in his possession with the name Harry Beaudoin, Lawrence, Mass., and I told him that there was no use telling any falsehood about his name. He then admitted that the above was his correct name, and that it was all up with him. There was a letter also found in his possession written to a friend in Lawrence, Mass., stating that when he got matters straightened out in Canada, not to be surprised if his friend would see his 'mug' any day."

DR. PARMELEE GIVES INTERVIEW.

Speaks of the Coming Educational Picnics.

AIM IS TO IMPROVE RURAL ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS BY MEETING THE PUBLIC AND DISCUSSING THE QUESTION.

Dr. George W. Parmelee, English Secretary of the Department of Public Instruction for this Province, and whose duties are virtually those of Superintendent of Protestant Education for Quebec, was at the New Sherbrooke last night. In an interview with a representative of the Record, Dr. Parmelee gave the following interesting facts regarding the proposed educational picnics to be held in different parts of the province during the present month.

"What is the purpose of holding the educational picnics, Dr. Parmelee?"

"Well you see, the situation is something like this: Protestant education is in a satisfactory condition in our cities, towns and larger villages. I may say very satisfactory in most cases, for obvious reasons. There are plenty of pupils within a small area, so that good grading is ensured, and there is sufficient taxable property to pay the expenses.

"Now, in our rural districts the situation is altogether different. We have about nine hundred what might be termed farmers' schools, and it is here that the trouble is. Last year 29 of these schools had an average attendance of 5 pupils or less; 170 schools of from 5 to 10 pupils; 231 schools of from 10 to 15 pupils, that is 430 schools, about half of all the rural schools, you see, with an average of about 12 pupils. Now, if pupils are to be properly taught in groups of 12 it is plain that the cost per pupil will be excessive.

"The city of Montreal, with all its vast wealth only attempts to provide one teacher for 40 pupils. If they had to provide one teacher for each 12 pupils, I do not hesitate to say it would bankrupt the city.

"Neither can it be done in the rural schools."

"But what about the 430 schools you just mentioned, Dr. Parmelee?"

"I was going to explain these people are bravely trying to meet the difficulty by keeping their schools open for shorter terms and worse yet, by employing cheaper teachers. There were last year 200 schools, which were open an average of only six months. There were 500 schools which were open an average of only seven months."

"You spoke of employing cheaper teachers, Doctor; can you give me any idea of the salaries paid in this province as compared with other parts of Canada?"

"Yes, and to our shame—I say to our shame because I think we can show the people, if we can get them to attend our educational picnics how to remedy this evil without very much extra cost to the people. The average salary paid female teachers in the rural parts of Quebec is $170. In the Northwest Territories it is $475. In Ontario hereafter it will be $300 as a minimum not as an average, you understand. We are paying lower salaries to our teachers than any other province in Canada, and besides we do not discriminate. The young miss fresh from school and the experienced teacher are generally speaking placed on a par, with the inevitable consequence, a lack of qualified teachers."

"I think, Dr. Parmelee, that an outline of the proposed remedies for the evils you have cited would be of interest to the readers of the Record."

"You may say to your readers that if they will attend any one of the educational picnics this month they will get our plans thoroughly matured and explained. It would take up too much of your space to go into this matter now."

"If the propositions to be laid before the public at these gatherings do not call for much extra cost to the people of the province I suppose the Government will be asked to contribute more?"

"The Government is now giving one-half a million dollars to education. If they increased this by 50 per cent. it would only add about one dollar per pupil to the school funds of the province. No, the remedy is not there. It is with the people themselves. I have said that our rural education is not economic, because we have too many schools for the number of pupils. Our prime remedy is the consolidation of our elementary schools, and another is the raising of more money by the people themselves."

"How does our present expenditure per pupil compare with that paid in other places?"

"We are paying $11 per pupil enrolled. This includes University and High Schools and school inspection.

"New York pays 31.28, Massachusetts pays 25.60, and in fact less than any place in North America that I know of. Why Manitoba is expending $30 per pupil on education!"

In conclusion Dr. Parmelee expressed the hope that every rural ratepayer in the district of St. Francis would attend one of the two meetings to be held, the first at Richmond on Aug. 14th, and second at Coaticook on Aug. 23rd. When the whole matter will be freely laid before the people of the district. Dr. Parmelee left this morning by the 9.15 G.T.R. train for Quebec.

OPENING OF NEW COURT HOUSE.

Quebec Cabinet Ministers Will Be Banqueted.

COMMITTEE IS TO PREPARE PROGRAMME FOR FORMAL OPENING—VISIT OF HON. MR. ALLARD YESTERDAY.

A number of citizens met last night at the Grand Central Hotel to discuss the proceedings in connection with the opening of the new Court House.

It is understood that at the time of the opening several ministers from Quebec will be present.

There were present at the meeting Dr. P. Pelletier, M.L.A., Messrs. C. F. Olivier, C. W. Cate, K.C., H. R. Fraser, K.C., John Leonard, K.C., J. S. Broderick, K.C., S. Fraser, J. E. Genest, Dr. Bachand, S. Fortier, M. Breault, M. T. Stenson, J. A. LeBlanc, M. O'Bready, C. D. White, Alfred Lanctot, D. McLeod, R. Biron and others.

It was moved by Mr. Cate, K.C., and seconded by Dr. McLeod, that Dr. Pelletier be the chairman. C. D. White was appointed Secretary.

After some discussion, it was resoved that the members of the Bar of St. Francis be asked to take charge of the proceedings at the Court House. It was then decided to invite the co-operation of the leading residents of other parts of the district in tendering a banquet to the ministers in the evening. In this connection it was resolved that a committee be appointed to organize and to arrange for a banquet to the ministers of the Government of the Province of Quebec on the occasion of the inauguration of the Court House in the City of Sherbrooke and that the said committee be composed of the Federal and local members, and of the wardens of the several counties in this district, and of a certain number of citizens in Sherbrooke with power to add to their number. The committee of citizens then elected was: Mayor Olivier, Dr. Bachand, President of the Board of Trade, M. T. Stenson, D. McManamy, H. R. Fraser, Duncan McLeod and C. D. White.

HON. MR. ALLARD'S VISIT.

Hon. Mr. Allard, Provincial Minister of Public Works, who was in town yesterday to make an inspection of both the old and new Court Houses, was accompakied by Dr. Pelletier, M.L.A., and at twelve o'clock met Mr. C. W. Cate, K.C., batonnier, Mr. C. D. White, secretary, and other members of the Council of the Bar, and Mr. D. McManamy. The Minister made a thorough inspection of the new building. Some slight proposed alterations were brought to the attention of the Minister, especially in connection with the jurors' boxes and the bench. He promised to have the work done. As this work will not interfere with moving, he stated that he would lay before the Premier the fact that the new Court House was ready for occupancy, so that the necessary proclamation may be published. This latter procedure is necessary owing to the fact that all writs, etc., may be made legal at the new Court House. It is expected that the offices will be moved within the next two weeks.

MEAT HIGHER IN CHICAGO.

SECOND ADVANCE IN LAST TWO MONTHS.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—Meat prices are again soaring in Chicago, and the prophecy that the big packers intend to make consumers in the United States pay for the losses in foreign trade in consequence of the packing house exposures and congressional legislation, apparently, is being fulfilled. Following raises in Kansas City and Omaha a few days ago, retailers on Wednesday announced another slight increase in all choice cuts of beef, lamb and pork. This is the second advance in Chicago in the last two months, and the net increase in the costs of meats in that time is about ten per cent.

FIRE IN STABLES.

HAY AND GRAIN MADE DENSE SMOKE WHICH HINDERED FIREMEN.

An alarm was sent in from box 35 at 5.51 o'clock yesterday afternoon for a fire in the horse-barn belonging to the Silver Spring Brewery. The cause of the fire is unknown. It started in the hay loft in about two tons of very dry hay. The blaze was soon streaming out of the ventilator, which acted as a chimney. It was then noticed and the alarm sent in. An employee of the brewery was unharnessing his horses in the stable at the time and was unaware of what was taking place over his head until the brigade arrived. Everything in the stable that could be moved was taken out.

Fire brigades 1, 2 and 3 answered the call. Four lines of hose were turned into the upper windows for some time before any signs of the fire letting up were visible.

As there was a large quantity of smoke and no wind to blow it away, it made the work for the firemen much more difficult. The time taken by the brigades to place the building and surrounding buildings in a safe condition was one hour and forty-five minutes.

The actual damage will be small and fully covered by insurance.

A considerable quantity of hay is damaged. There was a bin in the loft containing about a car load of oats, which were also damaged, principally by water. The building sustained but very small damages, only a portion of the roof being burnt. In all the loss will be very small.

FOUND DEAD IN HIS ROOM.

SUDDEN END OF E. W. MEYERS, OLD RESIDENT OF BELLEVILLE.

Belleville, Ont., Aug. 3.—Mr. Edward W. Meyers, a well known resident of this city, was found dead in his room Tuesday morning, having expired some time during the night. Heart disease was the cause of death. Mr. Meyers was 70 years of age and was born in Belleville. He was for some years jailer at the county jail. A family survives.

SEASON OF DEATH AMID THE ALPS.

AN UNUSUALLY LARGE NUMBER OF ACCIDENTS TO MOUNTAIN CLIMBERS.

Geneva, Aug. 3.—Although the Alpine season has only just opened an unusually large number of accidents has already occurred. In the majority of cases inexperienced climbers — sarcastically termed "mountain scratchers," by the Swiss—have been the victims. Several English tourists have met with mishaps.

Fourteen accidents are reported during the last two days. In these three persons were killed, six severely injured, and two slightly injured.

A movement has now been started to prohibit all persons attempting the ascent of difficult mountains without guides. The largest number of accidents happened to inexperienced climbers, who imagine they can dispense with the services of experts. The Swiss and Italian Alpine Clubs have decided to place the matter before their Governments with a view to the total suppression of the "mountain scratchers."

STABBED FOUR TIMES.

FINLANDERS ALMOST MURDER IN ROW OVER FIFTY CENTS.

Kenora, Aug. 3.—Monday evening, an altercation occurred between John Grundland, a Finlander, and John Labelle, who—was in charge of Fraser's livery, over fifty cents, with the result that four Finlanders, friends of Grundland, set upon Labelle and Grundland stabbed Labelle four times. Fortunately the blows landed under the shoulder blade and did not penetrate deeply, though one was five to six inches long. After committing the deed Grundland escaped, but a colored porter of the King Edward Hotel, named Bert Virgil followed him, and watching his opportunity, knocked the knife from his hand with a club, and Constable Gordon joined in the chase and arrested him.

Ottawa, Aug. 3.—Conductor Bombard, of the Ottawa and New York Railway, had his satchel stolen from him at the Central Depot Monday night. He placed it on the platform while he re-entered the train, and upon his return a minute or two later discovered that it had been taken. The satchel contained railroad tickets, mileage books and a sum of money. A passenger from Utica was also relieved of his grip about the same time. Similar thefts and pocket-picking have been reported to the police lately in considerable numbers. The dingy condition of the station, which is looked upon as a standing disgrace to the capital, is considered to be largely responsible for these peculations.

The feature at Brighton Beach was the riding of the colored jockey, L. Williams. Out of four mounts he rode four winners. The Nautilus Stakes resulted in a win for Red Friar, who beat the favorite, Garnish.

At Fort Erie, Ont., the six races on the programme were well filled and nicely balanced. A handicap for two-year-olds, at 5½ furlongs, and a short steeplechase served as the features.

At Cleveland the M. and M. stake of $10,000 transferred from Detroit proved the principal attraction. Ann Direct won the race, second money went to Brilliant Girl, and third to Kennith Mack. The 2.08 pace was won by Hal C. The 2.08 trot went to Mainsheet.

The Henley regatta, which will be held at St. Catherines Friday and Saturday, is expected to be the most successful in the history of the Canadian Henley. The first arrivals on the scene are the Duluth crew, the newcomers to the Canadian Henley. Some time Sunday night or Monday some party or parties forced an entrance into the Rowing Club house and did considerable damage.

Baron Pierre de Coubertin of Paris, has addressed to the Governor-General of Canada a letter in which, as President of the International Olympic Committee and restorer of the modern Olympic games, he protests against the gifts of money to William Sherring, of Canada, the winner of the recent Marathon run at Athens.

DIAMONDS IN UNITED STATES.

DISCOVERED IN FOUR REGIONS — PLACE OF ORIGIN UNKNOWN.

(From the Scientific American.)

Never before in the history of the United States has there been such a demand for diamonds as there was in 1905. Large quantities were imported, but the country produced none. In 1903 it had an output worth $100, in 1900 its production was valued at $150, and in 1899 the country boasted native diamonds to the value of $300.

Diamond have been discovered in the United States in four different regions but their actual place of origin is in every case unknown. All have been found in loose and superficial deposits and all accidentally. It is not improbable, however, that some day the original sources of this queen of gems may be discovered.

The high price of diamonds has made the recent search for these precious stones in the United States and Canada keener than ever before. A careful watch for diamonds was kept during the examination by the United States Geological Survey of many samples of gold and platinum sands at the Lewis and Clark Exposition in Portland, Ore.

A lookout for diamonds has also been kept by a number of people who have been dredging for gold on an extensive scale in the rivers of California. In neither case have any finds been reported.

RESENTED BY PEKIN.

ACTION OF UNITED STATES IN REINFORCING ITS LEGATION GUARD.

Pekin, Aug. 3.—Great surprise is expressed here at the action of the United States in reinforcing its Legation guard. It is recognized that the Americans have the most difficult position in the Legation quarter to defend, and one of the smallest guards, but nothing is happening there to justify an increase, which is likely to offend the Chinese. Mr. Rockhill, the American Minister, telegraphed to Washington strongly opposing the increase.

THE KAISER SEES A RED PERIL.

Anarchism Threatens all Crowned Heads.

NO HEAD OF STATE FEELS SAFE, HE SAYS.

Paris, Aug. 3.—The Matin to-day publishes an interview had by its correspondent with Emperor William, in which his Majesty said the "yellow peril" was not the sole danger threatening the world. There also being the "red peril."

"The heads of states," the Emperor added, "whether of absolute or constitutional monarchies or republics, hourly risk their lives. President Fallieres runs the same risk as the Czar and President Roosevelt the same risks as King Alfonso. Those aiming at the abolition of all authority and order by government are thoroughly agreed, and those charged with the duty of making order respected are, unfortunately disagreed."

The correspondent says that at the Kiel regatta the Kaiser noticed that the French armored cruiser Leon Gambetta was not present. He thought the warship had been invited to be present during the regatta and he said to the French naval attache: "It is a pity the Gambetta is absent. Come, come, I know what this means. We are still suspected and are kept in punishment." The Kaiser inforced his remark by a genial laugh.

Speaking to another naval officer the Kaiser said: "It is freely reported that I am pleased when I learn that some fresh scandal has broken out in the French army. It is absolutely false. We Europeans live too closely together and our national lives are too intermingled for us not to feel an evil occurring to any single member. Any harm befalling the French army fills me with uneasiness. Anti-militarism is an international pest. The nation rejoicing thereat resembles a city rejoicing at an outbreak of cholera in a neighboring town."

TWO MUSKEGON FAMILIES GLADDENED BY REPORTS FROM STE ANNE DE BEAUPRE.

Muskegon, Aug. 3.—Ste. Anne's wonderful shrine in Quebec, Can., it is announced, has cured two Muskegon young women, formerly helpless cripples. They are Miss Mamie Cheney, the 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cheney, 435 Grand avenue, and Mrs. Anthony Page, a young married woman. They are both expected back from the magnetic chapel and the scene of the nine days' prayer in two or three days.

When a child of 8 years Mamie Cheney was poisoned with ivy. Her hands were affected, and to all parts of her body the treacherous poison scattered. Doctor after doctor was consulted. An even $1,000 was spent, but nothing helped her. Ste. Anne's was talked to her, and on July 3rd, in company with Mrs. Anthony, she left for the scene of the previous wonders. She was devout, and her total cure now is the announced result. Her folks are poor and their joy is unbounded.

Mrs. Anthony was injured in the right ankle five years ago in a railroad wreck, and since then she has been an invalid. Letters received say she is now the happy young woman she was before the accident.

HANDLING VICIOUS HORSES.

RAREY'S LITTLE TRICK FOR CURING BALKING—SOME CAUSES OF SHYING.

(From Country Life in America.)

A balky horse can be cured when under the saddle, by a very simple method. Turn him around and around in his tracks a few times and then suddenly straighten his head and he will willingly, and even gladly, go forward. This was the method of the celebrated John S. Rarey and has never been known to fail.

The "jibbler" differs from the balker inasmuch as his so-called vice is caused by congestion of the brain. The horse thus affected is liable to bolt or run away after one of these attacks and is a dangerous animal.

Rearing, although commonly termed a vice, is often caused by too severe a curb. Sometimes the rearing horse loses his balance and falls backward. It is needless to say that the rider is then lucky if he or she escapes without serious, if not fatal injury. When the horse rears loosen the reins and speak to him in a soothing tone, but if he persists give him a sharp blow between the ears with the butt of the whip. This will bring him down on all fours with amazing quickness.

Kicking is certainly a vice. Sometimes however, it is caused by fear, in which case much can be accomplished by gentle management. Exactly the opposite treatment of the rearing animal should be applied to the kicker. Hold his head up with might and main, for the horse cannot throw out both hind legs at once when his head is elevated. Kicking straps are what the name implies. A strap, fastened to the shafts over the horse's croup prevents kicking, but this is only serviceable when driven in single harness. Shying is a dangerous fault. It cannot properly be termed a vice, as it is generally the result of defective vision. Gentle treatment, soothing words and patient persistence in accustoming the animal to the dreaded object will often affect a cure. To lash a horse because he shies or is frightened only aggravates the evil. He will associate the punishment with the frightful object and will fear it more and more each time he encounters it.

Has Taken a Thousand

Zutoo

Always Cured Headache. Never Affected her Heart.

Here is a testimonial from the wife of Doctor W. L. Shurtleff, K.C., of Coaticook, Que., who has taken a thousand Zutoo Tablets (the Japanese Vegetable Headache remedy.)

It should convince any doubting one, that while the tablets cure headache, they do not, like the drug cures, affect the heart, nerves or stomach. No one would or could take such a number if they were not perfectly harmless. Mrs. Shurtleff herself had to discard the drug cures.

Here is what she says:

I have always been a great sufferer from headache, and have taken a great many headache cures. I found that after taking them for a time they caused palpitation of the heart. Three years ago I began using Zutoo. I have likely taken over a thousand tablets. I have never yet felt the least ill-effect from using them and they cure my headaches as quickly as any remedy I ever took.

They are Harmless as Soda.

MAN KILLS HIMSELF WITH DYNAMITE.

TIES EXPLOSIVE AROUND HIS NECK AND IS BLOWN TO PIECES.

Wellington, Kan., Aug. 3. —Graham Gibbs, a young man employed by the Santa Fe Railroad, blew himself up with dynamite Tuesday in front of the Wellington National Bank, in Washington avenue, because Rosa Gaubetz did not return his affection.

Gibbs told a friend with whom he roomed that he was going to kill himself, but the friend thought he was joking. He bought a quantity of dynamite, placed it in a sack, tied it around his neck, attached a fuse and set fire to it.

Pedestrians saw the burning fuse, but dared not interfere. From a safe distance they watched the fire creep closer and closer to the dynamite. Then, at the last moment, Gibbs seemed to realize his fate and strove desperately to tear off the bag and throw it from him, but he was too late, and with a terrific explosion he was blown into atoms. A great hole was blown in the street, and not a piece of his body was recovered.

MORE BAD NEWS.

St. Petersburg, August 3.—2.35 a.m. —On the heels of the other bad news comes the startling statement that the Emperor has flatly refused to accept the conditions to which Premier Stolypin agreed in his negotiations with Count Heyden, Alexander Guchkoff, Prince Nicholas Lavoff, Paul Vinogradoff and Senator Koni, for the re-organization of the Cabinet.

There is increasing apprehension that the Emperor proposes to take the final step of turning the country over to the military dictatorship of Grand Duke Nicholas.

The streets of St. Petersburg again are filled with patrols.

STRIKE ALMOST COMPLETE.

Yuzovk, August 3.—The strike here is almost complete. Troops are pouring in. Governor-General Boval is in personal command. Some of the mines have already been flooded and ruined. Agitators from St. Petersburg and Moscow have arrived and are urging the strikers to prepare for an armed uprising, but to await the signal, which soon will be given. CREW IN REVOLT — 200 MEN MUTINY AND MURDER CAPTAIN.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 3.—The crew of the cruiser Pamyat Merkurya, a ship of 3,000 tons, carrying 200 men, revolted yesterday and murdered the captain. Five other warships are reported in open revolt at Cronstadt and the mutiny is spreading. At Cronstadt, where it was intended that the outbreak should originate, the men proved in the early hours yesterday morning that they were filled with a rebellious sentiment, but were without leaders. Their mutiny was confessedly entirely political. It began soon after midnight and brought all the garrison of the fortress to arms. The mutineers were members of the torpedo crews and the sappers and were barracked on the outermost headland of the island.

The first move of the rebels was to rush the officers' quarters. Some of the officers were killed. Most of them were wounded, and among those wounded were the commandant and his wife. Others were arrested and confined in their quarters. Then the mutineers turned on the fortress. The infantry refused to join them, but did not make any move to prevent the arrest of infantry officers. The mutineers took a train to Fort Constantine with the intention of arresting the officers there.

AN AMERICAN LORD WITHOUT A TITLE.

The lord of "Lucky" Baldwin's ranch can drive eighteen miles in a straight line across his own acres. In such a tour he will pass his own general merchandise store, maintained for the convenience of his own people, the school supported for their children, the blacksmith shop, the church and the post office, all belonging to the equipment of the estate. He will pass through his vast orange and fig and olive orchards, his walnut groves and his vineyards where the Mission grape is gathered from the gnarled vines planted by the padres. There are also one hundred acres of lemons, one hundred acres of grape-fruit, two thousand acres of vegetables, and twenty thousand acres of corn, hay and small grains. His thirty thousand sheep graze on the brown hillsides, and he could clothe his people with their wool if he wished. His wheat ranch could feed them, his three thousand head of cattle could provide beef and leather. In other fields are five hundred work mules and five hundred draught and carriage horses.

These sixty thousand acres are divided into several ranches, each in charge of a superintendent who in turn reports to a general manager who is responsible to the owner. It is a paternal, feudal system, highly specialized by means of the American talent for systematic administration and organization.

After some difficulty all were safely landed. A nice sum was divided between the two children.

REV. MR. DAY WRITES FROM GERMANY.

peror, he seems to have won his way to the first place in the affections and love of the people. One strong reason for this is doubtless found in devotion to the interests of his country. Naturally in his own Kingdom of Prussia are seen the strongest evidences of this attachment, but throughout the empire, as far as my observations have gone, he is regarded with strong admiration.

For the past three weeks we have been travelling chiefly in SOUTH GERMANY.

We have visited Wittenberg, Leipsic, Dresden, Nuremberg, Bayreuth, and Munich. In Luther's city we found many interesting memorials of the life and work of the great Reformer. A hasty glance at Leipsic revealed the beauties of the city that is one of the largest centres for printing and publishing in the world. In the beautiful capital of Saxony we spent a happy week, one of the chief delights of which was the famous Picture Gallery with its world renowned Sistine Madonna. At Bayreuth we visited the grave of Wagner and saw the celebrated theatre where next month the great Wagner festival will be held. In quaint Nuremberg we found many interesting relics of mediaeval days, and in the Bavarian capital we had another delightful time among the art treasures which have helped to make Munich famous.

And now we are resting in OBERAMMERGAU.

Here in the very midst of the Bavarian Alps we are spending a couple of weeks in the little village whose Passion play has made its name a household word in all Christendom. We came with the intention of remaining only a few days, but so delightful and interesting have we found our surroundings that we cannot tear ourselves away. I shall not attempt at the close of this lengthy letter to describe the charm of the place, the beauty of its environs, and the delight of association with its people. That would require a whole letter in itself. We make our home with the man who in 1890 and 1900 took the part of St. John in the Passion Play. He is one of nature's gentlemen, courtly, graceful, and refined. The centuries of devotion to the fulfilment of an ancient vow have left a marked impress upon the inhabitants of this Bavarian village, imparting to them characteristics of mind and manner which differentiate them in a marked degree from the surrounding peasants. Oberammergau is a place to rest in, I was almost going to say, to dream in. But better would it be to say, a place in which to spend hours of quiet reflection on "the story that has transformed the world."

After a short run through the Austrian Tyrol, we return by way of the Black Forest and the Rhine to England, where I have preaching engagements which will keep me busy until the 6th of September, when we sail for Montreal on the SS. "Dominion."

Very sincerely yours,
FRANK J. DAY.

Oberammergau, Bavaria, July 20th, 1906.

KILLED IN FREIGHT WRECK.

ENGINEER PERISHED WITH 50 CATTLE AND 300 SHEEP.

Rochester, N.Y., Aug. 3.—A rear-end collision between two east-bound freight trains occurred at Hooper's Crossing, on the New York Central Railroad, two miles east of New York, early Tuesday. One man, Engineer J. Clark, of Syracuse, was killed, and 300 sheep and about fifty cattle were killed. The accident was caused by the first train breaking in two sections in the middle. The danger signals on the rear of the train were set, but Engineer Clark, of the second train, evidently did not see them in time to bring his heavy train to a stop, although he reversed his engine. The engine and about fifteen cars were ditched.

FATAL STREET QUARREL.

BROTHER OF WOUNDED ITALIAN USES DEADLY STILLETO.

New York, Aug. 3.—Two Italian pedlars quarrelled in South street, near Fulton Market, Tuesday morning. One shot the other down with a revolver, then turned and ran. A brother of the wounded man followed the shooter down South street and caught up with him on Peck's Slip, and buried a stiletto between his shoulders, killing him almost instantly. The tragedy was witnessed by the big early morning throng in Fulton Market and the crowds landing from Brooklyn by the Fulton ferry. The man who was shot has a chance for life.

BRAVE FIREMAN SAVES TWO CHILDREN.

BUT IT MAY BE AT THE EXPENSE OF HIS OWN LIFE.

New York, Aug. 3.—Two children, standing paralyzed with fear in the path of fire engine No. 22, caused the wreck of the apparatus Tuesday night and will possibly cost the life of Engineer Henning. Caught in a car track at 58th street and First Avenue, when the driver swung his three horses aside to save the children, the engine toppled over and the scalding water from the boiler deluged Engineer Henning, who was pinned between the side pipe and a rear wheel. He was hurried to an hospital, where, it was said, his recovery is doubtful.

15,000,000 IN CATHOLIC FEDERATION.

Buffalo, N.Y., Aug. 3. The American Federation of Catholic Societies, in session here, adopted the Volkerein plan of federation in a modified form at Tuesday's late session. This will give the organization 15,000,000 members, making it the strongest church aid society in the world.

A resolution disapproving of all forms of socialism, commending the action of the government in excluding anarchists and apostles of rebellion, and sympathizing with wage-earners in their efforts to ameliorate their condition was passed.

Another resolution adopted called for a regeneration of the drama, advising Catholics to refrain from attending plays that offered morality. Election of officers took place yesterday.
