HORRORS LAID TO HOLMES.

Katie Durky Believed to be a Victim.

NEW DISCOVERIES MADE IN CHICAGO.

Ontario Officials Very Anxious to Get Hold of Holmes—They Probably Will—Was Minnie Williams Murdered in Hamilton?

(Special to the Star.)
Toronto, July 26.—The various ramifications of the case that is being worked up against H. H. Holmes, the alleged murderer of Nellie and Alice Peitzel, are being followed with much interest here.

This much is certain, no matter what opposition there is, the Ontario Government, jealous of its reputation for the administration of justice, will try and have Holmes brought here for trial. Crown Attorneys Dewart and Curry met yesterday with reference to the charges of murder against Holmes. As a result of their conclusions, Detective Cuddy has sworn out two separate warrants, charging Holmes with the murder of Etta Alice Peitzel and of Nellie Peitzel.

The authorities of Philadelphia were notified by wire of the issuance of the warrants and of the intention to ask for his extradition.

The Attorney-General's Department will take the matter up, and spare no effort to have Holmes extradited and placed upon trial.

The latest information received by the Detective Department here from District Attorney Graham, of the Quaker City, intimates that, should Holmes' extradition be asked for, he would, in all probability, be surrendered. The charge of having murdered H. H. Peitzel has been formulated in Philadelphia, but has not been presented to the Grand Jury, pending the action of the Canadian officials and the return of the Peitzels. It has been understood that the city presenting the strongest case against Holmes would have the privilege of trying him. For his final decision on this point, District Attorney Graham, of Philadelphia, is awaiting the final report of Detective Geyer, who is in Philadelphia or Chicago, and that it was his intention to so report to the District Attorney.

Strenuous efforts are being made by the Chicago police to put together a strong case of murder, but the Philadelphia District Attorney is anxious that his prisoner should be disposed of as quickly as possible, and since the warrants have been issued, he has been more than likely that Detective Cuddy will leave in a few days to try to bring Holmes to this city.

Philadelphia, July 26.—(Press despatch.)—District Attorney Graham is much pleased with the turn affairs have taken in Toronto. He believes that the result of the deliberations of the coroner's jury at Toronto is equivalent to a conviction of Holmes in the criminal court. It is now almost certain that Holmes will be taken to Canada to answer there for the bloody deeds, which is confidently believed he committed in Toronto last November. Although there has been some talk of a requisition from the Chicago authorities for Holmes no papers have yet been received from the officials here.

With reference to the Toronto case it is stated, however, that it will require at least two months before the accused can be extradited. Holmes' lawyer, Shoemaker, decided that his client was not afraid to face any charge the Canadian authorities had to make against him. He added that it must be remembered that the process of extradition is just as difficult from the Canadian jurisdiction as it is to get a man from the United States. If the Toronto authorities failed to convict Holmes, which he was sure they would, there might be a fight before the man is returned to this city.

Chicago, July 26.—More proof was found yesterday that Julia L. Connor is dead, and that she was made away with by H. H. Holmes. It was determined that she disappeared before June 9, 1892, an important factor in the search for her.

Chicago, July 26.—More proof was found yesterday that Julia L. Connor is dead, and that she was made away with by H. H. Holmes. It was determined that she disappeared before June 9, 1892, an important factor in the search for her.

As late as November, 1892, Holmes, as shown by the letters which have been found, was writing her parents as to her whereabouts, and stating that she had gone to St. Louis. But on June 5, 1892, he wrote to her brother-in-law, Ira Yantis, of 329 Ward Avenue, Waukegan, Wis., giving him a fictitious address as to her whereabouts in St. Louis. Yantis wrote back to Holmes on June 9, and this letter was found yesterday.

At that time Yantis had no suspicion that Holmes had made away with his sister-in-law, and supposed his niece friend. This letter was written three weeks before the one in which I. L. Connor accused Holmes of breaking faith with him. The latter's letters refer to his daughter Pearl. From this it would appear that Mrs. Connor was killed first and the child afterwards.

Startling disclosures were also made last night to the Chief of Police and his subordinate officers engaged in the Holmes investigation, by Patrick Quinlan, the friend and former employee of the alleged wholesale murderer.

He gave information which convinced the police that Holmes made away with Katie Durky, who was employed by Holmes as his clerk at the drug store in Englewood. Quinlan gave the police a picture which he said was that of the missing girl. He is being examined again to-day.

At midnight Chief Badench said the case was growing more horrible and mysterious every hour, and he was sure Holmes had committed more murders than the world had yet been apprized of.

Yesterday afternoon, two women called on the Chief and gave him the name of a 16-year-old girl, the daughter of wealthy parents, who became acquainted with Holmes during the fall of 1893, and afterward disappeared. The Chief refuses to give the name of the girl, but says he is satisfied she was another of Holmes' victims.

It is regarded as a rather uneventful day in police circles, when the name of H. H. Holmes is not connected with the mysterious disappearance of one of more persons who were last seen in his company. Detectives who are thoroughly conversant with the Holmes case do not believe that the self-confessed insurance swindler has been guilty of at least ten murders, and name the following as his victims:

CIGRAUD, Miss, of Indianapolis, who was associated with Holmes for six months.
CONNOR, daughter of I. L. Connor.
DURKY, KATE, a girl whose life Holmes insured.

PEITZEL, ALICE, found murdered at Toronto.
PEITZEL, B. F., found dead in Philadelphia; for securing the insurance on her life, on his confession, he had substituted a body for that of Peitzel, Holmes was convicted of fraud, and is now awaiting sentence.

PEITZEL, NELLIE, found murdered at Toronto.
PEITZEL, HOWARD, last seen with Holmes at Indianapolis, October 21, 1893.
Quinlan, Cora, a girl daughter of Janitor Quinlan; Holmes had her life insured for $1000.
Williams, Annie—Holmes' stenographer and companion.
Williams, Minnie, sister of Annie; Holmes says she was killed by Annie in a fit of jealousy, and she put her body in a trunk and sunk it in Lake Michigan.

The names of Miss Cigraud, Cora Quinlan and Katie Durky have been added to the list of Holmes' supposed victims within the last 48 hours.

Patrick Quinlan, the former janitor of the Holmes house, sixty-third and Wallace streets, who was in the "sweat-box" at police headquarters last night for several hours, said first and foremost that Mrs. Connor had gone to the North side, to remain a few weeks, and he afterwards said she had gone to California, and that he had never seen her since.

Quinlan says he can produce his daughter, if necessary. Quinlan made many contradictions and improbable statements, and the police believe he can be made to tell a great deal more than he has yet told.

Mrs. W. L. Doyle, a friend of Mrs. Quinlan, was questioned for half an hour. Before her examination she stated to a reporter that a young lady named Cigraud, who lived with Holmes, had been before the Williams girl, and who came to Chicago from Indiana, had mysteriously disappeared.

That the police regard Mrs. Doyle as an exceedingly important witness was evidenced by the care with which they have guarded her.

William L. Doyle, the woman's husband, who is a mason and a contractor, was found at his home, not far from the Holmes building, on 63rd street. Doyle said that in the latter part of 1891, he rented the flat in the Holmes block which had been occupied by the missing Mrs. Connor. He said that he had never seen her, and his wife became acquainted with Holmes and Minnie Williams. Doyle said that Mrs. Connor's disappearance dated from 1891.

Carleton Quinlan's eleven-year-old daughter is believed to be nine miles from South Haven, Mich.

Quinlan, the man who purchased the drug store from Holmes, the accused murderer of the Williams sisters, is positive that Holmes is guilty of the crimes attributed to him, and insists that he ended the life of Katie Durky, a young woman who was for a time in the Holmes household, and who he insured and helped Holmes in many of his shady undertakings.

"Holmes was digging in that cellar day and night, and I now think he was burying the bodies of those he had 'slaughtered,'" he said.

L. L. Connor, the husband of Julia F. Connor and the father of Pearl Connor, both of whom are thought to have been murdered by Holmes, was in Chicago last night. He says he has no positive proof that Holmes killed his wife and child, but says he believes such to be the case. He does not know where the crime was committed, but thinks it was done in this city.

Mrs. Peitzel talked more freely of Holmes last night than at any time since she returned from Toronto. She is firmly convinced that it was Holmes' intention to murder her. I can see it all now," she said. "I can see why Holmes murdered Minnie Williams and Mrs. Connor, why he has done away with my little girl, and why he has done away with my two children. The miserable wretch only wanted to cover up his infamous track."

"I may be thankful I am sitting here to-day and that I am not in my grave," she said. "Do you think you had a narrow escape from death at his hands at the house in Burlington?"
"Yes, am confident that he intended me to meet the same fate then as my husband and my babies met."
"Did you know much of your husband's affairs?"
"No, he told me little of them. I knew hardly anything of the building that Holmes built. When we came to Chicago we lived the first year or more of the second a happy life. My husband was a carpenter, and had plenty of work. He and I lived at my old home while my husband was away. I had been ill-health. The coming to Chicago did me good. My husband drank very little before he met Holmes. After that I noticed he seemed to drink a good deal."

An important discovery made to-day at a Central Station was the disclosure of the identity of the expressman who is supposed to have done the trucking for Holmes. He lives in the neighborhood, and, pending his examination by the

"It Will Work Wonders

With this Generation of Men."

A Startling Advance in Medical Science is fully explained in a little book called "Complete Manhood, and How to Attain It."

An earnest man who had suffered, hesitated, then put it to the test, writes thus: "I felt that the first day I was one I'll never forget. I just finished with my wife. I wanted to hug everybody and tell them that my old self had died yesterday and my new self was born to-day. The man was not 'made whole' by medicine in a day—no man is—but in a moment he saw—Knew—how he would be in a little while—the 'new light' before he had finished the first chapter. Every man who would know the grand truth, the plain facts, the new discovery of medical science, who would secure this book, should read it, and then tell his friends."

To simple 'sensible' men, to those whose physical condition is perfect—to those who need no aid—to boys—we say emphatically this book is useless and uninteresting. It is a purely medical and scientific, published to make known a system of treatment of incalculable value to men who are suffering from weakness, nervousness, etc.

If you are looking for something sentimental, frivolous, improper, don't waste your time and cash by writing. This is not for you. If you want advice, wisdom, warning, help, reliable medicine—if you want to escape sinners, traps, quackery—get this book now.

Write to the Erie Medical Co., 64 Niagara St., Buffalo, N. Y., and ask for copy "Complete Manhood." They will send it sealed in plain envelope, promptly free, for a short time.
