OFFER, THE FLYING DUTCHMAN.

We never speak as we pass by—
Alas! It was not always so.
But now I cannot catch my eye,
And, when I come, he's prompt to go.
"If we cannot," he said once,
When I wished, his love to try.
But we how Wilhelm urush he tried?
We never speak as we pass by!

Not inexpressible! I assure!
I tell the English, make the town,
Of Kuiper Witton who had heard
But for my prowess and renown?
And Emperor Wilhelm curls his nose,
Hogwale me with averted eye;
And just as though we now were free,
We never speak as we pass by!

The boy, the ingrate, the young cock.
Who thinks he's eagle when he crows
Old Aquila is he to mock?
I'll cut his comb ere matters close.
And yet, and yet he keeps it tight,
And Germany demands not why?
He hangs away like a big Krupp—
We never speak as we pass by.

My Herbert, you should hold my place,
But you must share your sire's world snare.
Did I promote the lion's rage?
To be kicked out by his least cub?
This wedding-fare's gay and smart,
I to Vienna's bridal fly!
But something rankles in my heart!—
We never speak as we pass by!

We never speak as we pass by!
My Francis Joseph see his way
To—help Christine back?
I can't believe I've had my day!
It does ambition's heartstrings crack.
But that impudic pompster shows
The door of his house's best try.
Are we ever to be "cats."
And never speak as we pass by!"

us with indigestible food. There are few perfect cooks and consequently indigestion is very prevalent.
You can eat what you like and as much as you want after you use Burdock Blood Bitters, the natural specific for indigestion or dyspepsia in any form.

NICE AND GOOD.

Amey—"Do you think this cake is nice?"

Little Niece (from Boston)—"Yes, I really 'cognize' it to be kicked out by its least cub?"

Amey—"That is a nice cake. What is it?"

DEBILITY.—It is the chief every time, after, after Meteorite.'"—New York Weekly.
