World News In Brief

Le Havre, France—(Reuters)—The French transatlantic liner Liberte with 1,075 passengers aboard went aground today half a mile off Le Havre.

The big vessel was outward bound from the French port, heading for Southampton, England, and then across the Atlantic to New York.

Most of the passengers on board are American tourists returning home.

The 51,000-ton Liberte was formerly the German liner Europa and once held the blue ribbon as the fastest ship on the Atlantic.

London—(Reuters)—Prime Minister Churchill met with his reorganized cabinet today and discussed the question of Communist China's admission to the United Nations.

Reliable sources said Churchill is prepared to defer support for Peiping's admission until Mao Tse-Tung's regime has given sufficient proof of its peaceful intentions.

The sources said the cabinet studied an American suggestion that the question be kept out of the UN general assembly for a year. The United States, they said, is privately seeking Allied support for this plan in the hope the bitterly controversial issue will be clearer in another year.

Cumberland, Md.—(AP)—John J. Cornwell, 86, governor of West Virginia during the First World War and former chief counsel for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, died here today.

He was editor and principal owner of the weekly Hampshire Review, published at Romney, W. Va.

Cornwell's 1917-1921 term as governor broke a 20-year succession of Republican governors.

Shortly after leaving that office he became chief counsel for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, serving until 1946.

He also was vice-president and director of the B. and O.

London—(AP)—The British Broadcasting Corporation announced today that it went into the red £759,610 last year in providing radio and television services.

The BBC blamed most of the deficit for the year ended March 31 on the government's take from the 21 annual licence fee British listeners and viewers pay on each set they own.

Prior to last year, the government kept five per cent of this income, which is the BBC's chief revenue. Now the government retains 15 per cent.

Salzburg, Austria—(Reuters)—An alpine glacier here has cast out the body of a man killed in a climbing accident and perfectly preserved under tons of ice for 50 years.

Police reported today they have been unable to identify him.

The body emerged from under the Pfendischarten glacier in the Grossglockner district near here last week.

With the body was an old-fashioned leather money bag full of coins all dated before 1903 and not used in Austria after 1918. There was also an old-fashioned pair of field glasses and a yellow and black silk handkerchief of a type in fashion in Austria at the turn of the century.

Italy Prepared To Return Bitterly Disputed Trieste Question To United Nations

Keeps Tight Silence On Latest Tito Outburst.

Rome—(AP)—Angry and worried, Italy prepared today to throw the bitterly disputed Trieste question back into the laps of the Big Three Western powers.

Premier Giuseppe Pella's temporary government kept a tight-lipped public silence over President Tito's speech Sunday in which he proposed that the strategic Adriatic port city be internationalized and Yugoslavia get the rest of the Trieste territory claimed by Italy.

But informed sources close to Pella's cabinet said Italy would ask—or already has asked—the United States, Britain and France for concrete information on what they plan to do about Tito's newest tack.

Apple Crop Big Sufferer In Hurricane

Halifax—(C)—The weakening Atlantic hurricane moved in on western Newfoundland and southern Labrador today after lashing the Maritimes and leaving damage estimated at more than $1,000,000.

Most of the loss was borne by Annapolis valley apple growers. Almost half of an estimated 1,500,000-bushel crop was on the ground.

Weather officials said the storm centre passed over Harrington Harbor, near the Gulf of St. Lawrence northeastern corner, about 6 a.m. ADT. It headed northeast across Labrador and was expected to pass into the ocean toward Iceland by mid-afternoon.

Southeastern Newfoundland, including the city of St. John's, was not likely to suffer the pounding Nova Scotia took Monday. Winds of gale force were forecast for the west coast, however.

Communication troubles caused by the storm left Halifax weather office without late reports on the hurricane's effect in Newfoundland.

In the Maritimes it will take days to count damage to coastal breakwaters, wharves and small boats. Wires to many outlying points were still down.

Some roads were blocked by trees and power service was still out in some districts. Several automobiles were hit by falling trees but occupants escaped serious injury.

So far only one storm death was reported.

Apart from damage to orchard crops and waterfront structures, winds reaching 80 miles an hour tore roofs from dozens of buildings, ripped down signs and fences and uprooted hundreds of trees.

British Youths Study In Canada Asks Private Developing Of A-Power

Liverpool—(C)—Two student groups sailed today for Canada and universities across the country.

A party of 11 Britons will enter eastern colleges under the auspices of the Canadian-British education committee, formed in 1932 as an inter-Commonwealth link. A part of 12 Canadian students is returning from summer service with the 27th Infantry Brigade in Germany to resume classes. Three are students at the Royal Military College, Kingston, Ont., and the remainder are the Canadian Officers' Training Corps.

The Canadian-British education committee is sending 29 students to Canada this year. The students pay their own way but are assisted in getting sufficient Canadian dollars for that purpose. Chairman of the committee is Harold Hemming, Canadian business man living in London, whose son is included in the party. The son, John, will take arts and science at McGill University, Montreal.

Chicago—(AP)—Nobel Prize-winner Harold C. Urey today urged giving private industry a chance to create useful atomic power for the United States.

He said atomic power will come sooner if free private enterprise is set loose to work upon it. And he said that happens he'd probably invest in a small company, betting on it to help speed along the atomic age much like Henry Ford and others did to create the automobile age.

Dr. Urey, professor of chemistry at the Institute of Nuclear Studies in Chicago, worked on the atomic project during the war.

He told the American Chemical Society that he favors changing the Atomic Energy Act to "remove the government monopoly." He said industry and inventors should be allowed to patent their own atomic inventions or developments, and the government should sell uranium or other atomic fuels at reasonable cost.

"Atomic energy does me no good at all as a private citizen unless I can press a button on the side of the wall and secure electric light at a price that is competitive with other sources of energy."

Dr. Urey declared we must think of a new industry instead of always thinking of attaching the atomic energy program onto the tail of another industry.

"The automobile was not developed by the railroads or by the big electrical companies. It was developed by new, small industries which have now grown to gigantic size."

Adenauer Begins Task Of Forming New Bonn Cabinet

Bonn, Germany—(AP)—Germany's victorious Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today began welding a new German government dedicated to the liberation of East Germany and close armed alliance with the West.

The Christian Democrat chief opened talks with political leaders on the shape of his new administration after thanking West German Monday night for the votes that put him firmly in the saddle for another four years.

Speaking to a huge victory rally gathered in the Bonn town square, Adenauer called on his people for united effort to release the 18,000,000 East Germans from the "yoke of Soviet oppression and slavery."

The chancellor is scheduled to present plans for the new line-up Thursday to a committee of his party.

The new government must be approved by the incoming Bundestag, (lower house of parliament), expected to meet October 2.

Some sort of coalition seemed inevitable. The big question today was how many parties would be represented.

The voting Sunday gave 48 Bundestag seats to the Free Democrats and 15 to the German party, both members of Adenauer's government bloc since 1949; three to the Centrist party, which said it would vote along with the chancellor; and 27 to the new Refugee party formed by the millions of fugitives from Communist occupied Germany.

The opposition Socialists garnered the other 150 seats.

Adenauer certainly again will include the Free Democrats in the government, giving him a safe majority of 97 votes.

He hinted to reporters Monday that he might also continue his previous alliance with the German party.

There was also speculation Adenauer might try to bring in the Refugee faction. Its 27 deputies would give the chancellor the two-thirds majority necessary to change the constitution and authorize German rearmament if the West German Supreme Court decides the projected German participation in the European army is unconstitutional.

The elections, which went off in complete calm, left the extreme right (the neo-Nazi German Reich party) and the extreme left (the Communists) without a seat in the Bundestag.

More than 86 per cent of the 33,000,000 eligible voters went to the polls.

The West hailed the triumph of Adenauer's forces with obvious relief and pleasure. Official statements from Washington, London and Paris expressed "great satisfaction."

The Russians, who had asserted that Adenauer's re-election would endanger peace, had little initial comment except to claim via Moscow radio that the voting was "held in an atmosphere of constant terror by the Adenauer police."

Congress Marks Anniversary

Toronto—(C)—A gathering of 500 trade unionists Monday night celebrated the 80th anniversary of the founding of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, the country's first national labor organization.

The body was originally called the Canadian Labor Union. Today the TLC is an organization of 560,000 members.

Percy Bengough, TLC president, speaking at the anniversary celebration, said two objectives will receive top priority this year. First is a demand for a parliamentary committee to consider the question of a comprehensive national health insurance project. Second is extension of unemployment insurance to cover unemployment resulting to cover unemployment resulting from illness.

Sixteen Canadians Still Unaccounted For As Prisoner Exchange Concludes

Ottawa—(C)—The Reds returned 30 Canadians in the prisoner-of-war exchange at Panmunjom which started four weeks ago and ended Sunday.

But there are still 16 Canadians unaccounted for in the Korean war.

Of these, 15 are listed by the army as missing, believed captured. The 16th is an RCAF squadron leader, Andrew MacKenzie of Montreal. He is listed as missing in action but some repatriated prisoners have indicated he may have been taken prisoner.

The army went into the exchanges with two lists. Eighteen Canadians were listed as prisoners of war. Twenty-seven were listed as missing, believed captured. The Reds returned all 18 of the former by Sept. 2, but only 12 of the latter.

The Reds also approached the exchanges with a list. It held 14 names. As the weeks went by they turned over 16 more Canadians than they said they were holding.

Originally, the Reds admitted holding only one Canadian prisoner. His name was contained in a list handed to United States officials in November, 1951.

But in April 1953, a Quebec lance corporal, Paul Dugal, was released in an exchange of wounded prisoners. In a pocket of his quilted blue prisoner's uniform he smuggled out a black notebook.

The notebook contained the names of 15 Canadians who were Korean prisoners. Later Dugal remembered having seen a 16th. Capt. Joseph Liston, of Ottawa.

The army checked Dugal's story closely. They confronted him with bundles of pictures including those of the 16 men. He was able to pick out all of them.

On the strength of Dugal's evidence the army listed the 16 previously listed as missing in action—as prisoners of war. From other sources they brought the list up to 18.

The army acknowledged after the last six were returned Sept. 2 that Dugal was right on all counts.

Meanwhile, spokesmen for other United Nations countries claim that the Reds still are holding sizeable numbers of their servicemen. The numbers have not yet been disclosed. There have been reports that the Communists are planning war crimes trials, especially for U.S. officer prisoners.

U.S. prisoners included an unusually high proportion of officers. Among the soldier prisoners, only the usual proportion, about one man in 25, was an officer. But the overall ration went up because most U.S. air force prisoners were commissioned fliers captured when their aircraft were shot.

It has been suggested that the Communists may put some of these on trial on war crimes charges. The Communists have claimed that some of these have signed statements substantiating germ warfare charges.

Whatever prisoners the Reds hold and whatever they may intend to do with them, the United Nations command at Panmunjom is reported to be gravely concerned.

A UN spokesman was quoted as saying Sunday "there is no time to be wasted" in demanding an accounting of prisoners held by the Reds.

Paris—(Reuters)—French butchers today slashed their prices for some cuts of meat by 10 per cent in a new government drive to lower the cost of living.

They were obeying the terms of an agreement between the government and the butchers' federation just over a week ago. The reductions are aimed primarily at meeting the needs of working class families.

U.S. Supreme Court Chief Justice Dies

Washington—(AP)—Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson of the United States Supreme Court, a Kentucky jurist's son who rose to the highest judicial office in the country, died unexpectedly of a heart attack early today.

The 63-year-old judge and former holder of many top government posts was stricken while at his Washington apartment.

His wife and his son, Fred Jr., were at the apartment and summoned a physician at 2:30 a.m. EDT. Vinson died 45 minutes later.

Vinson took over leadership of the U.S. Supreme Court on June 24, 1954, an appointee of former president Truman to succeed the late Chief Justice Harlan F. Stone.

The Kentuckian's death paves the way for President Eisenhower to make his first appointment to the Supreme Court bench.

Eisenhower may name his choice within the next few weeks, since the high court is scheduled to open its next session Oct. 5.

It was believed most likely that Eisenhower would designate the new appointee as chief justice. But he could also choose one of the present members of the nine-man court to be chief justice and name the new appointee as an associate justice.

There was some speculation that California's Gov. Earl Warren would be Eisenhower's choice. Warren, a Republican, announced last Thursday he would not seek re-election when his present term expires at the end of next year but gave no hint of his future plans.

At Eisenhower's vacation headquarters in Denver, assistant press secretary Murray Snyder said today he knew of no post for which Warren was being considered. The presidential staff said this morning there would be no comment from Eisenhower on Vinson's death until later in the day.

Move Search For Suspect To Montreal

St. Michael Des Saints, Que.—(CP)—The search for a Quebec City fishing guide, wanted for questioning in connection with the stabbing and robbery of an American fisherman late Saturday night, has spread to Montreal, 100 miles south of this Laurentian lumbering and fishing village.

A St. Michael des Saints taxi driver, who may have driven the guide to Montreal Sunday morning, also is being sought. The cab was not identified.

Quebec provincial police said the guide, Donald Bernard, 23, allegedly stabbed Louis Lefebvre, 59, of Castletown, Vt., threatened him with a gun and robbed him of more than $320.

After spending Sunday night in a hotel here, Lefebvre and his two companions on the fishing expedition that ended into a "night of terror" for the three, left by automobile Sunday for Castletown.

The wounded American's neck and back of his head swathed in bandages which covered painful but not serious knife wounds, was accompanied by his brother-in-law, Dominique McMahon, 44, and Jerome Lamoria, 42, also of Castletown.

The Americans told police this is what happened.

Lefebvre was attacked and robbed by Bernard in a fishing camp at Lake Tibeke, 30 miles away, while McMahon and Lamoria were fishing.

Bernard fled when he heard McMahon and Lamoria returning. The three Americans, tearing another attack, fled across the lake in a boat and hid in dense bush all night.

They trekked out of the woods to safety Sunday morning.

British Ace Creates New Speed Mark

Tring, England—(C)—British test pilot Neville Duke flew at an average speed of 727.6 miles an hour to set a world air speed record Monday.

The new mark, set in a scarlet-painted Hawker Hunter jet, was 11.91 mph faster than the record of 715.69 mph set in July by an P-56 Sabre piloted by Lt. Col. William F. Barris of the U.S. air force. The record is subject to official confirmation.

Duke, an RAF squadron leader and Britain's top test pilot, crashed through sound barrier four times in his swept-wing jet fighter as he blasted back and forth over a measured 1.8-mile course at this English south coast resort town. His highest speed was 738.8 mph.

Duke's wife, Gwendoline, watched from a nearby beach as he socked his fighter through the sound barrier four times in his swept-wing jet fighter as he blasted back and forth over a measured 1.8-mile course at this English south coast resort town. His highest speed was 738.8 mph.

Thousands of vacationers lined the shore as Duke hurtled past. He was disappearing almost before they heard him coming.

Duke threw the jet into a victory roll at the end of the run.

He reported the conditions had been good and clear, but "bumpy." "At times the wind, being a little gusty, made it feel like driving a car over a rutted field," he said.

The ace test pilot made two sets of runs. He said after his first attempt that according to his instruments he had averaged about 725 mph.

After his second crack at the record, Duke said he thought the speed must have been higher than on his first run.

Both attempts took bare seconds after all the lengthy preparations, last-minute adjustments and the patient waiting for the right weather.

In the required four passes over the course last week the 31-year-old Duke failed by a fraction to gain the one per cent on the American record. He set out for a fresh bid but ran into under-carriage trouble and had to crash-land.

Full-Scale Dispute Brewing Over Exchange Of Prisoners

Panmunjom—(AP)—A full-scale dispute over the exchange of war prisoners was building up today. The Communists accused the Allies of holding back captives and the UN command drafted a demand for the return of Allied POWs it asserts are still in Red hands.

While Peiping radio claimed the UN command withheld 357 Chinese and Koreans from repatriation, Gen. Mark Clarke's headquarters worked over a list of Allies believed in Red captivity.

The names were collected from interviews with returned prisoners, from Communist broadcasts and lists and from letters written by captives.

The UN list, after careful re-checking, will be handed to the Communists with the demand that the Reds either return or account for the missing men.

Still listed as missing are 15 Canadian army men and one RCAF flier.

The list was to have been given to the Reds Monday, but was delayed pending further careful checks.

Allied spokesmen said the names will be announced in Washington, but that there was no indication yet when this will be done.

Peiping claimed a check of prisoner lists showed the Allies held back 228 Koreans and 129 Chinese. These 357, Peiping said, wanted to return to their homelands, but were not repatriated during the prisoner exchange.

Both the UN command and the Communists have insisted that all POWs who wanted repatriation had been returned during the 33 days of operation big switch, which ended Sunday.

Meanwhile, the stage was being set for the next phase of the armistice—setting the fate of prisoners who have refused repatriation.

The UN command began moving the first of nearly 23,000 Communist POWs from camps in southern Korea to the demilitarized zone.

They will be shipped at the rate of about 2,500 a day, with the lot scheduled for completion by September 18.

The Reds say they hold about 300 Koreans and 20 non-Koreans who have refused repatriation. They have not announced when they will start moving these POWs to the demilitarized zone in western Korea.

The balky POWs will be guarded by Indian troops under the control of a five-country repatriation commission.

For 90 days, Allied and Communist officers will be allowed to talk with the POWs in an effort to convince them to return home. Prisoners who still balk at going home will then be turned over for 30 days to the Korean political conference.

If the conference fails to settle their fate, the POWs will be released.

Dulles Likely To Adopt More Cautious Strategy In Future

Washington—(AP)—State secretary Dulles' pre-election support of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer did not backfire, but that apparently does not mean the United States will adopt similar strategy in critical future elections.

Informed diplomats said today Dulles, although jubilant over Adenauer's victory, may be more careful when asked to comment on future elections.

The secretary, they said, realizes that anything smacking of American intervention in elections is a risky business.

In the past, U.S. policy has been to avoid any acts or statements which might be interpreted as intervention in foreign elections.

Last Thursday, two days before the German election, Dulles told a press conference the defeat of Adenauer would be a disaster which would delay chances of German unity and restored sovereignty for the German people.

The landslide proportions of Adenauer's victory have convinced American observers that the secretary's remarks cost the German leader no votes and may have helped in his re-election battle.

After conferring with President Eisenhower in Denver Monday, Dulles said the White House was not displeased over his controversial declaration favoring Adenauer.

The president "saw nothing out of the way" in his remarks, Dulles said.

It was learned, however, that Dulles was concerned at the furor his remarks kicked up. German Socialists heatedly denounced his remarks as "incredible intervention."

A few hours after his press conference last week, Dulles called U.S. high commissioner James B. Conant for advice on what effect the declaration would have in Germany and whether any new state department declaration should be issued. Conant apparently advised Dulles to sit tight.

In a formal statement, the state department hailed the Adenauer election victory as "an overwhelming endorsement" of democracy and "uncompromising opposition to Soviet designs."

Livestock Parade, Races, Attractions, At Brome Fair Despite Labor Day Rain

By LARRY MOORE
Brome, Que. — A continuous drizzling rain and a heavy fog made their Labor Day appearance at the Brome County Fair yesterday for the fourth consecutive year.
The town residents and farmers of this small county who annually join together for the "biggest smallest fair" in the country were pretty well dampened internally as they had hoped that the 97th annual fair would be relieved from the jinx they had in three previous years.
Although a persistent rain fell and the skies showed no sign of clearing, hundreds of people gathered on the grounds for the second day of the fair. And back again this year is the T. Green Amusement Co. who are supplying the midway.
The Green Midway offers a number of exciting and thrilling rides, games of chance, sideshows, candy apple and candy floss for the children, and for the man there is the show with a touch of Paris featuring beautiful ladies in the French Follies.

After a quick stroll around the midway yesterday afternoon, a great many of fair patrons attended the grandstand attraction. The program consisted of a cattle parade, two classes of harness racing and several of the acts being presented nightly in front of the grandstand.
Decked out in their Scottish uniforms, the Army, Navy and Air Force Unit band from Magog, with their bagpipers playing a gay melody came down the track leading the first herds in the cattle parade.
Proud cattle breeders marched their herds in front of the capacity grandstand where they received an enthusiastic ovation. Among the various breeds represented in the parade were, Ayrshires, Holsteins, Jerseys, Guernseys, Brown Swiss, Canadians, Aberdeen Angus, Herefords and Shorthorn.
Bert Osgood acted as master of ceremonies, and introduced the herds and their owners as they passed the reviewing stands. Immediately following the cattle came the draught horses, the general purpose horse and the driving and carriage horses.
Appearing every evening on the new Brome Fair grandstand is the Garden Brothers attraction with its presentation of internationally known stars. Featured in this revue is Johnny Dash the famous juggler and the Clair Rouse, comedy musical act.
The talented Nelson Sisters are also in attendance, as well as Bobo, the world's most loveable clown. Making a last minute change in plans, Eric Badinton, the conquerer of the rollic polie, and his sister, Norma, master of the tight-rope, who hail from Indonesia, are appearing at the Brome Fair.
Supplying the musical background for the acts and giving concert during the entire four day fair is the Knowlton High School Band under the direction of Harry Long. Teenage girls and boys from this band, and dressed in their smart looking blue blazers, you would be justified in calling them one of the best school bands in the province.
The main building is again featuring some outstanding commercial displays. Merchants and salesmen are showing everything from the latest washing machine to the newest comb, and the big number of people who visited the exhibits almost made the circulation impossible.
Occupying the same booth, as they have in the past fifteen years is the Bondville Ladies' Guild. The ladies have a continuous rummage sale in process, with a large assortment of ladies', children's and men's clothing. All the Guilds merchandise are donations, and the proceeds go towards the maintenance of the Bondville Church of the Good Sheppard.
Broadacre's, Brome county's leading florist, arranger of funeral designs, wreaths, pillows, Masonic and I.O.O.F. emblems, etc. are showing a beautiful floral display. Among the leading household electrical appliance dealers represented is the Southern Canada Power, General Electric and Northern Electric Company's of Canada.
The Brome county inhabitants are not sophisticated braggarts, but their is one product they can boast as being of good quality as any of the province, and that is their maple products. This year's entries are of a very high quality, and the display itself is one of the biggest in eastern Quebec.
Good food is an essential to all, and perhaps that is the reason for the keen interest shown by farm dwellers and town residents towards the horticulture display. Entries in flowers, fruit, and vegetables are said to be of an exceedingly high quality.
Highlighting this year's floral display is the remarkable baskets of gladiolus. Contained in the large variety of colorful flowers is the African violet, zinnias, verbena, glloxinia, geraniums, and a num-

Cookshire Man Killed As Car Leaves Highway

Cookshire—Gerard Lachance, a 34-year-old resident of this town, was killed early Sunday morning when his car left the road while he was returning from East Angus and struck a culvert.

Mr. Lachance, employed as salesman for the Southern Canada Power Company, has attended a Hong Kong Association dinner in Bury on Saturday evening. He had returned to Cookshire with his wife and other guests and after leaving them at their several homes in Cookshire, he drove two friends to East Angus where he remained till about 7.30 a.m. Sunday.

day. While returning home and approaching a sharp curve opposite R. Doyon's farm, his car went out of control, passing between a telephone pole and a mail box and colliding into the end of a culvert. The victim was alone at the time and he suffered severe head and body lacerations.

Mrs. Doyon, who heard the impact called her husband, a neighbour, Pierre Bessette and a fellow employee of the Southern Canada Power Company, C. Rouleau, and Dr. Lepine. Mr. Lachance was rendered first aid and an ambulance was rushing him to Sherbrooke Hospital when he died en route.

Gerard Lachance, son of the late Mr. Charles Lachance and his wife, nee Marie Lea Fortier, formerly of Sherbrooke, was thirty-four years old. He had served with the Royal Rifles of Canada from July 1940 till September 1947. He was taken prisoner at the fall of Hong Kong and liberated in the autumn of 1945. On his return to Canada he was in hospital for some time. In August 1947 he married Miss Dorothy G. Bompus, of Ottawa, and entered the employ of the Southern Canada Power Company at Cookshire. Mr. Lachance is survived by his wife, two sons, Charles aged 4 and Gerald aged 2; four sisters and three brothers, resident in Montreal.

At the inquest, held at Sherbrooke on Monday under the direction of Dr. Gagnon, coroner for this district, it was found that Mr. Lachance had gone to sleep at the wheel of his car and a verdict of accidental death was returned. Det. Guy Dupont and officers Hubert Lawrence and Gerard Belisle made the investigation.

The funeral will take place from the Legion Hut, Cookshire, at 2:15 Tuesday afternoon, thence to St. Peter's Anglican Church, at 2:30. Interment will be in the Cookshire Cemetery.

On Sunday afternoon before a small attendance, six heats of harness racing were held with some of the best pacers and trotters battling it out for a divided purse of $800. Shanghai B and Joseph Perowne copped the honors in the first and third race while Renown Marc and Peter McKinney shared the second, each winning a heat.

On a muddy and slow track yesterday afternoon, two races were held. The afternoon purse was $600 divided, with prize money going in a five-way split. Morgan Brooke, Continued On Page 5

LT. CMDR. L. CRAIG BISHOP

Young Sherbrooke Naval Officer Craig Bishop Drowned At Halifax

Lt. Cdr. L. Craig Bishop, age thirty-four, one of three sons of Mr. and Mrs. Guy C. Bishop of Quebec Street, Sherbrooke, was drowned near Halifax yesterday despite a heroic rescue attempt made by his wife.

The tragedy occurred during an eastern seaboard hurricane when Lt. Cdr. Bishop fell overboard from the bouncing pleasure yacht, Vagrant. His wife, formerly Patricia Ann Gatten, of Halifax, a life preserver around her waist and fully clad, jumped into the churning sea in an effort to aid her husband — her attempt was no avail since she was unable to reach him.

Mrs. Bishop herself had a difficult time reaching shore and was afterwards taken to hospital suffering from shock.

Commander Bishop, a Sherbrooke High School graduate with one year's attendance at both Bishop's College School and Bishop's University, Lennoxville, was a McGill graduate with his Bachelor of Science degree.

With the opening of the Second World War, Bishop was one of the first 150 University students to answer the call of his country's need for young men. Having signed on with the Royal Canadian Navy he received the major part of his training in England which formed the base for most of his wartime duty. From his activity in motor torpedo boat service in the North Atlantic, Lt. Cdr. Bishop leaves behind a war record which includes the D.S.C. and bar.

Recent records of Cdr. Bishop's activities, including operation as staff officer at Windsor, Ont., for 18 months and having been one of the 12 Canadians picked to take the special staff officer course (which prepares one for the post of Commander) add to the tragedy.

Born in August, 1919 and married a naval cadet at H.M.C.S. Stadacona in Halifax in 1941, Craig Bishop leaves behind him besides his wife, two sons, Barrie and Bryan aged six and four.

Himself the second of three sons he leaves also his brothers Dean and Bruce besides his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Guy C. Bishop.

Upon word of Lt. Cdr. Bishop's death from the Canadian Navy, his father and brother, Dean, proceeded to Halifax.

Just about the time lunch was over the group were reminded that this particular day, September 6th, was the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Andrews. Their son, Mr. Wilmer Andrews, was asked to present the bride of twenty-three years with a corsage and the groom was present with a boutonniere. Good wishes and congratulations were extended to Mr. and Mrs. Andrews by all present. Another surprise was when it was announced that Master Barry Brock was celebrating his eighth birthday.

It was a grand gathering and all expressed thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Andrews for having organized the picnic and the hope that they would be able to gather one year hence for a similar event.

No Cobalt Bomb In British Test

Canberra — (AP) — Australia's opposition Labor party kicked up a fuss today over speculation that Britain may be planning to test a super-dangerous "cobalt bomb" in its October atomic test on the central Australian desert. The government quickly answered that the blast will involve no danger to the Australian people.

Labor party leader Herbert Evatt referred to recent reports that scientists have plans to encase atomic weapons in a cover made of the metal cobalt. He believed that such a casing would greatly increase the radio-active effects of an atomic blast.

Evatt said Australians were entitled to a definite and unambiguous statement that the government was insisting on absolute public safety.

Prime Minister Robert Menzies told a press conference that he did not know what type of atomic explosion was planned but added: "This tremendous joint enterprise is calculated to save Australian lives, not imperial them."

Regina — (CP) — The Saskatchewan provincial archives' micro-filming project has been expanded to include private papers and diaries on loan, federal documents or the West, weekly newspapers, municipal and school district records.

DIFFERENCES ON RUSSIAN TACTICS

At the root of the recurring disputes between the United States and its allies lies a great many complex factors, writes Bruce Blosatt, NEA commentator, but one of the most important is a difference in attitude towards the overtures the Russians make for peace. He continues:

The American viewpoint is fundamentally simple. Since World War II we have taken part in countless conferences with the Russians and we have seen most of them come to nothing. We have come to believe that the Kremlin uses negotiation not for the sincere composing of differences but as a vital front in its continuous warfare upon free men.

Consequently, before we go on with this process which seems to benefit only the Soviet Union, we have told Moscow quite plainly that we would like to see some real evidence of a change of heart, proof that the Reds in any new meeting would deal in good faith.

Britain and France don't see the matter that way at all. They believe that when the Russians speak of easing "international tensions," they should be taken seriously. They do not worry over the fact that previous conferences have disclosed the Kremlin's bad faith. They argue that Stalin is dead and this is a new Soviet regime; at the very least, they say, we should sound out the new rulers and measure their intent.

Holding a major East-West conference, in fact, holding almost any conference at which the Kremlin will be represented, seems to be viewed by the British and French as the most vital need of the moment in world affairs.

The British and French see in our attitude a disarming inflexibility of mind, ill-adapted to the shifting realities of the world struggle. That is perhaps an arguable point. But if we are at all inflexible, it is probably fair to say that our allies are no less so.

The evidence suggests they are just as rigid in adhering to their viewpoint. Their chief complaint against us is that we refuse to flex in their direction.

We have as much reason to complain of their pat thinking. We may honestly contend that they have become panacea-minded in their responses to the world struggle. They act like men grasping at any straw. Beseated by troubles of many kinds, they see bright hope in a nicely wrapped, single-package solution labeled "conference with the Russians."

To us this attitude seems childishly gullible. We wonder how thoroughly they have considered the prospect that an easing of world tensions may in the end serve the Kremlin more than it does us. It could give the new regime time to consolidate its power and enhance the Soviet Union's military strength.

It finally comes down to this: Who best understands Kremlin mentality and long-range aims?

We are distrustful of dictators generally, and particularly of Moscow's leaders. Our allies appear to renew hope again and again that such men can be dealt with honorably. Perhaps fear underlies this attitude. But history is against them. It shows that men who truckle to tyrants usually are crushed by them.

A PLAN BEFOREHAND

The United States has revealed a new foreign policy attack which may presage more decisive action in the face of foreign aggression than that country has shown this past few years. Secretary of State Dulles has recently warned Red China that any aggression in Korea or Indo-China will endanger the homeland of China itself. This is a refreshing forthright statement of foreign policy regarding China and the intended course of action planned by the United States under given circumstances.

Actually when the Korean War broke out, President Truman took the lead in rushing aid to President Rhee and was a major force behind immediate UN action in that theatre. But since then, with the conflicting aims and clouded issues, just what course the United States would be likely to follow under a given set of conditions abroad has been a matter of doubt. In fact, this lack of certainty, which mirrored indecision within the councils of the United States itself, undoubtedly prompted the Communists to go further than they might have dared if they had been confronted by a definite pronouncement of U.S. intentions.

Mr. Dulles left no room to question his sincerity. The Chinese Communists must now realize, he said, that "they could no longer count" on the "privileged sanctuary of Manchurian air and supply bases" in the event they renew aggression against South Korea. The Chinese Government, he continued, should realize that such a second aggression (as Indo-China) could not occur without grave consequences that might not be confined to Indo-China. Apparently the Korean War has taught a much-needed lesson. The United States has left the Reds no opportunity for misinterpreting its intended action if war is renewed in the Far East. There will be no quibbling over aggressors and those assisting aggression, as there has been since 1950.

It should be noted, however, that Mr. Dulles is speaking for the United States alone, and not necessarily for the United Nations. The English have opposed a long costly war in China, and, as far as Korea was concerned their argument has had considerable force. It is doubtful whether they would continue to advise keeping hands off Red Chinese territory if an attack was made on Indo-China. Malaya is too closely bound up with such a campaign to permit the British to pull their punches.

All this is for the future. It is comforting to know that the United States Government has made up its mind what it will do.

EUROPEANS AREN'T INTERESTED IN U.S. A-TYPE CAPITALISM

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington — (NEA) — The big problem of battling communism in Western Europe has been to convince the working people of those countries that American-style capitalism and the free enterprise system have more to offer them than communism or socialism.

Fair progress in this phase of the battle for men's minds has been reported from West Germany. The people there can see first-hand that communism offers the East Germans only a hollow shell.

In France and Italy, however, the fact that the free enterprise way of life offers a higher standard of living to the working people has not registered. Communism still seems to promise more to more people.

This is one of the underlying reasons for the setback which the de Gasperi government suffered in Italy's last elections and for the more recent strike wave in France. The people there simply do not have confidence that their government and their employers are not at all interested in giving them a better break.

Beginning with the Marshall Plan, the United States has tried hard to sell this idea of greater profit sharing to the Europeans, and to the rest of the world for that matter. American businessmen have tried to sell it to European businessmen and American labor leaders have tried to sell it to European labor leaders. It has been known generally as the "productivity drive." But the idea has not caught on and has been slowed to a walk.

Brushes Off Drive

President Eisenhower's report to Congress on the first six months of foreign aid operations in his administration brushes off this productivity drive with a scant five paragraphs.

As a matter of fact, all the initiative in the productivity drive has now been turned over to the Europeans. It has been practically abandoned as an American enterprise. The reason for this lies largely buried in a peculiar chain of circumstances.

The principle of the productivity drive as a program to help wean Europe away from communism was first written into the Mutual Security Act through an amendment introduced by former Senator Blair Moody (D-Mich.) in 1951. The next year former Senator William Benton (D-Conn.) implemented this by another amendment. It provided that up to $100 million in European counterpart funds could be allocated for promoting productivity drives in the Marshall Plan countries.

These counterpart funds were made up of the money received by foreign governments from the sale of American foreign aid products. No direct American appropriation was therefore involved in promoting productivity. The counterpart funds were to be capital loans to European manufacturers who would undertake to cut prices, expand sales and increase wages.

Eleven Countries Agreed

By dint of a year's hard work, a team of American experts under Everett Bellows got 11 European countries to agree to take $95 million worth of this technical assistance. The sums were: France, $30 million; Britain, Germany and Austria, $10 million; Italy, $22 million; Norway, $4 million; Denmark and The Netherlands, $3 million; Belgium, Turkey and Greece, $1 million apiece. Productivity councils were set up in each country.

Early in 1953, Harold E. Stasson, the new foreign aid administrator, sent teams of U.S. businessmen abroad to survey all programs. Almost without exception, these teams came back and recommended that the Moody-Benton amendment productivity drive be dropped.

The reason given was in general that European businessmen didn't want American productivity methods introduced in their factories. They resented American interference. In response to these recommendations, expansion of the program stopped and staffs were cut. The program was saved legally only by the amendment from Senator Edward J. Thye (R-Minn.) to carry out existing commitments.

The idea did not die completely, however. OEEC — the Organization for European Economic Cooperation, a Marshall Plan holdover — picked up the idea and is trying to promote it. A new European Productivity Agency has been recently formed in Paris. Its aim is to promote the productivity drive idea for a three-year trial to see how much good it will do towards greater profit-sharing as an effective means to promote free enterprise and combat communism.

Bible Thoughts

Sing, O ye heavens; for the Lord hath done it: shout, ye lower parts of the earth; break forth into singing, ye mountains, O forest, and every tree therein; for the Lord hath redeemed Jacob, and glorified himself in Israel.—Isaiah 44:23.

Desire joy and thank God for it. Renounce it, if need be, for others' sake. That's his job beyond joy. — Browning.

Russians Making Bid For Share Of Western Oil Sales

By SEYMOUR TOPPING

London — (AP) — Russian salesmen today are bidding for a share of the Western oil market. Their current campaign indicates the Soviet bloc is ready to export about 2,000,000 tons annually.

Soviet agents recently have concluded a deal with France for the sale of 400,000 tons of Russian and Romanian oil, and proposed offers to Argentina, Iceland and Greece. Apart from regular deliveries to Finland which are expected to increase to about 650,000 tons in 1953, about 300,000 tons were exported westward in the first six months of this year.

Russian and Romanian oil has not been seen in such bulk on the world market since the 1940s.

In addition there are smaller deliveries of oil products to the West, chiefly fuel oil, from Poland, Hungary and Eastern Germany.

The Iron Curtain countries do not begin to rank with the big oil exporters like Saudi Arabia, which shipped about 42,000,000 tons in 1952. But officials find this Communist oil export activity significant as:

1. A good indication that the Soviet bloc's expanding oil production now is able to satisfy Russia's home needs.

2. As part of the general Soviet drive to break down East-West trade barriers, particularly the embargo on the shipment of strategic goods.

Although the Russians are obviously using their oil exports to make their trade offers more enticing, there is no indication that the Kremlin is undercutting world oil prices. Also Russians are handicapped by a severe shortage of tankers for oil deliveries.

The Kremlin is reported to have offered 500,000 tons of petroleum and probably crude oil, as well, to Argentina, about 30,000 tons of gasoline and 160,000 tons of black oils to Iceland, and an unspecified quantity of oil to Greece.

Under the terms of the recently-concluded Russo-Swedish trade agreement, the Kremlin has undertaken to deliver 80,000 tons of gas oil and 20,000 tons of tractor kerosene. Poland will send another 50,000 tons of fuel oil.

In the first six months of this year, Italy has received about 125,000 tons of Russian and Romanian oil. There have been increasingly frequent small shipments of Russian or Romanian black oils to Belgium, Norway and Denmark.

According to Soviet statistics for crude oil output, which experts here are inclined to accept, Russia's own production last year reached 47,000,000 tons or about 5,000,000 tons more than in 1951. Premier Georgi Malenkov claimed last month that Russian production in 1953 would reach 53,000,000 tons.

Russia is second only to the United States as a consumer of oil. But her per capita consumption is much smaller than most Western countries because of a depressed standard of living.

In the satellite countries, Romanian output is thought to be more or less static at about 4,000,000 tons, although her five-year plan aims at 10,000,000 tons by 1955. Production in Hungary is estimated at 500,000 tons. Czechoslovakia expects to produce 200,000 tons a year as against only 75,000 in 1951.

The first drum cylinder press was installed in the offices of the London News in 1813.

EXPERT SHOWS WAY TO WIN AT BRIDGE

When today's hand was played in a recent tournament, most declarers had to struggle to make game at hearts. In most cases they lost a diamond, a club, and a heart without the slightest trouble. One or two declarers even managed to lose a fourth trick, thus losing their game contract.

When my friend and associate, Freddie Sheinwald, played the hand, he came up with the astonishing total of all 13 tricks! As you might expect, he got a little help from the defenders, but it was still a very neat performance.

West opened the six of spades, and Sheinwald, playing the South hand, decided that this was an "honest" opening lead and therefore decided to let it ride around to his declarer. Even if this finesse had lost, declarer reasoned that he would be able to discard a diamond on one of dummy's spades and thus avoid the risk of losing two diamond tricks.

As it happened, East was unable to produce the queen of spades, and South was able to win with his jack. His next step was to lead a low diamond very casually from his hand. West quivered slightly and played low. This was a mistake, as it turned out.

Having noticed the quiver, Sheinwald had no hesitation in playing dummy's queen. When this held, he returned to his hand with the ace of diamonds.

Two rounds of spades followed. South discarding his last diamond. Now declarer led a third round of diamonds from the dummy. East desperately put in the ten of hearts, hoping that it would embarrass declarer to overruff.

This was the second offensive error. Declarer was glad to overruff with the jack. It was now clear that East did not hold the queen of hearts, so declarer cashed the king of hearts and finessed dummy's nine of hearts, followed by the ace of hearts to draw trumps. Now dummy could cash the last two diamonds to discard declarer's two losing clubs. The three extra tricks earned declarer a very welcome top score.

CARD SENSE
Q.—With both sides vulnerable, the bidding has been:
North East South West
1 Diamond Double ?
You, South, hold: Spade 5, Hearts K-6, Diamonds Q-J-9-5-2, Clubs K-7-6-4-2. What do you do?

A.—Bid four diamonds. This is a pre-emptive raise, showing considerable distributional strength but not very much in high cards. With greater high-card strength you could afford to redouble and raise the diamonds later on.

TODAY'S QUESTION
The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spade 5, Heart 6, Diamonds Q-J-9-5-2, Clubs K-Q-7-6-4-2. What do you do?

Coronation Hall Mark This Year On Gold, Silver

Toronto. — (CP) — British gold and silver articles made this year will rate a special place in the collector's showcase.

In honor of the Coronation, the 1953 hall mark stamped upon all such items will include the Queen's effigy.

Dating back to the early 14th century, the hall mark is actually a series of symbols pressed into the metal denoting where made, by whom and when. This mark of identification and quality was formally started in 1340, when the Worshipful Company of Goldsmiths established the Goldsmiths Hall in London.

At one time hall marks included the reigning monarch's head. This started in London in 1784 and stopped in 1890.

However, in 1935 to celebrate the silver jubilee of King George V, both his effigy and that of Queen Mary appeared on gold and silver goods, the first time in the long history of the hall mark when a King's and a Queen's head appeared together.

George Carter of Toronto, head of the silversware department of a large Canadian jewelry house, said a great deal of British gold and silver was purchased that year and he has not come across any of it since.

Collectors of silver have great respect for the initials "HB" included in a hall mark. They belong to a famous woman, Hester Bateman, who ranked as one of the best of the early Georgian silversmiths.

About the period 1774 to 1800, Mrs. Bateman favored a comparatively simple line of design.

She evidently passed her skill on in the family and much fine silver bears the initials of her eldest son, Jonathan Bateman and Peter and Ann Bateman, Hester's second son and his wife.

THE MATURE PARENT

MAKING CHILD TELL ALL ISN'T WAY TO MORAL SAFETY

One day when Polly was eight, she did a wrong thing. Sent to the store for some stew meat, she lied about its price to her mother to keep 20 cents. With her stolen profit, she bought a ruby-studded bracelet at the dime store.

That night, she could eat little supper. Nor did she sleep well. At 6 o'clock the next morning, she awoke her mother to confess the evil deed upon her conscience.

Her mother was pleased with the confession. After Polly had agreed to repay the money from her next allowance, her mother said, "Remember, if you always tell Mother everything you do, nothing can ever harm you."

Into Polly's opened and relieved conscience, these words sank heavily and impressively. Without hesitation, she eagerly accepted the idea that her moral safety depended, not on the revealing of truth, but on another human being's knowledge of everything she did.

This idea has retarded Polly's growth in self-reliance. Though she has been married for five years, she still feels compelled to tell her mother everything that troubles her.

If she feels threatened by her husband's criticism, she reaches at once for her mother's reassurance instead of seeking her moral safety in revealing the truth of her feelings to her husband.

No human being can give another moral safety. So we must not tell children we can give it to them. Their moral safety depends not upon our knowing everything they do at all, but upon their own knowledge of what they feel and the fearless ability to express it. If they are trained in this knowledge and ability, we don't have to worry about making them tell us everything that happens to them. If something happens to them that they don't like, they can say so and deal with their problem independently.

Our motive for demanding to know everything that happens to her.

Some of us who brag loudest about the "independence" we give our teen-age children use this disguised form of control. We never realize that our curiosity about what Mary did on her date last night is not so much interest in Mary as our need to direct her impulses and action by remote control.

To examine such a need takes great courage. We deny her the right to test herself against any risk or hazard because we are afraid of them ourselves.

If we have proved our own strength in the test, too.

SHORT STORY Romance In An Elevator

By Shirley Sargent

The professor had been elevator starter in the six story Brent building ever since Tod Davis could remember. He clicked his castanets, guiding people into one or another elevator. Sometimes he said, "Car going up" or "Step in, please," but usually he just clicked his castanets and motioned.

Tod sidestepped the crowd going into the second car. Valerie operated elevator number three part time, helping to put herself through college. The professor winked and let Tod go in, but it wasn't any good. He was shoved into the corner opposite Valerie by eager shoppers.

Romance in an elevator, Tod thought wryly. Personal conversation, interrupted by calls of "Three, miss," and "Second, please," was nearly impossible, but Valerie managed it.

"Good morning, Mr. Davis," she said now, formally. "Why aren't you at college?"

"Too nice a morning to be cooped up," he said, watching her but conscious that every eye was on him. Everybody streamed out by the time they reached the top floor and only two nurses got in for the down ride. Quickly, he said, "I'm quitting school."

Valerie's expressions — anger chasing disappointment — told him how she felt. As people got on at the fourth floor level, all she could say was, "I'm afraid you're making a mistake."

Tod had known Valerie would be stubborn. First floor and everybody out as a new stream crowded in. Just enough confused time for Tod to stop beside her. "It's that job," he said urgently. "I'll be making enough for us to be married. Steady work."

"So's running an elevator," she reported. "Why don't you talk to the professor?"

Tod leaned against the wall, watching the professor direct traffic. He couldn't see college for the $2.70 an hour he'd get working for a construction company. Balance the promise of an underpaid white collar job after two more years of college against that kind of money, and you didn't give a darn for education.

The castanets clicked, the professor's arm moved, people shifted forward. Watching him, Tod was reminded of an automaton. The professor was a fixture, performing the same gestures routinely. Habit and duty guiding him. Like a puppet. Tod thought, realizing why Valerie wanted him to talk to the professor.

With the elevators all in use, he turned to Tod. "How's college?"

"As the elevator zoomed past the fourth floor he took her in his arms and proposed."

"I'm quitting for a job at $2.70 an hour."

"So you can get married?"

"Valerie says she won't marry me unless I finish college."

"Smart girl," the professor said quietly, turning back to the impatient people, castanets clicking, arm waving.

In the next lull, the professor spoke hurriedly, "I took this job on temporarily 23 years ago, because I needed money to be married. I was going to teach, be a professor, but the children started coming and this was steady. Great job if you like herding sheep."

Ayer's Cliff, Sept. 8. - There entered into rest, on Thursday, August 13, Gertrude Bigelow, beloved wife of the late Dennis E. Doran, at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Goldwyn Davidson, and Mr. Davidson.

The deceased was an esteemed resident of this place, she and her husband having moved here from Tomiobia in 1938.

She was an ardent church worker as long as health would permit. She had been confined to her room a greater part of the time for the past few years.

She was born June 4, 1864, and was united in marriage to D. E. Doran, who predeceased her November 13, 1950. Of this union there was one daughter, Mable, Mrs. Stanley Gotherp, who passed away on September 9, 1949.

The funeral service was held in Beulah United Church, on Monday, August 17, with Rev. W. H. Boomhour officiating.

The bearers were S. I. Baldwin, Thomas Molyneux, E. H. Chadsey and Albert Davidson. Interment was made in the Ayer's Cliff Cemetery beside her late husband.

She leaves to mourn her passing her granddaughter, Mrs. G. Davidson, and Mr. Davidson, one great-grandchild, Cheryl Davidson, an only sister, Mrs. Mable Bryson, of Worcester, Mass., and nephews and nieces, to whom sympathy is expressed.

The relatives from a distance who attended the funeral were Mrs. John Bryson, of Worcester, Mass., Mr. Ronald Bigelow and Master Frederick Bigelow, of Hartford, Conn., and Mrs. Derwood Bigelow, of Boston, Mass.

HANDICAPPED PERSONS NOW GETTING REHABILITATION AID

By Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.
It seems that we are really getting somewhere with what to do for our handicapped and disabled neighbors. Instead of sitting back and taking the position that nothing can be done for those who are handicapped by disease or injury, many organizations and individuals have rolled up their sleeves and

No one—or at least very few—likes to sit back and feel that he is unable to contribute to his own support or that of his family, or to engage in any useful occupation. Almost all in this category are pretty unhappy.
It is a costly matter, too, to maintain the disabled in idleness even with the often pitifully small support which society gives them.

These 8,000 had been receiving public assistance at the rate of nearly $6,000,000 per year, but it cost only $4,000,000 to prepare them for work. And during the first year after they were gainfully employed, these men and women earned an estimated $14,000,000!

Not all of those who are handicapped or disabled can, of course, be prepared for any kind of occupation, but an enormous number can be if properly prepared physically, psychologically, and given vocational training.
Once this has been done, the cooperation of industry, and in fact of all of us, in finding a place for those who are handicapped in jobs which they can do, and for which they are trained, is essential. While the road is still long ahead, much progress in fitting handicapped persons into appropriate jobs has already been made.

You Can Help
One of the problems which remains is the shortage of trained personnel to aid in rehabilitation services. Young men or women interested in helping their fellows could well consider the job possibilities for themselves of physical therapy, speech and hearing training, vocational counseling, social work, all of which, and others, enter into the service which can be rendered to the handicapped.
An excellent, more extensive discussion of this subject, on which many of these remarks have been based, is the pamphlet by Miss Switzer and Dr. Rusk entitled "Doing Something for the Disabled," which is available through the non-profit Public Affairs Committee, Inc., 22 East 38th Street, New York 16, N.Y., for 25 cents.

WELCOME CLUB

The Welcome Club met on Wednesday evening at the Club House at Beebe Plain, Vt., with an encouraging attendance of twenty-one members and three guests.

The president, Miss Mae Bean, was in the chair, and following the singing of "My Country 'Tis of Thee," she presided over the business session. Reports of the secretary and treasurer were read and approved.

It was decided to "houseclean" the club house on Friday evening, September 11, and at the same time to paint the lunch counter in the 4H colors, also to purchase a wall can opener for the kitchen and two roller blinds for the kitchen windows.

The main business on the agenda was planning the harvest supper to be held at the club house on September 12. It was decided to start the supper at 5 o'clock, continuing until all are served. It being "harvest" it was decided to feature vegetable and hash dishes. All members who are making vegetable donations are asked to bring them to the clubhouse on Friday morning, September 11, that they may be prepared that evening.

It was reported that the recent purchase of 52 steel chairs have arrived and will be unpacked so they can be used at the supper. Those who were at the 4H clubhouse at Salem Lake the weekend of August 28-30 reported a most enjoyable time and delightful weather for the outing.

As the October project, it was decided to have a Christmas sale, and each member was asked to donate a saleable gift. The evening of Sept. 18 is 4H achievement night, and all members and friends are cordially invited to attend at the clubhouse at 8 p.m.

The next regular meeting will take place on September 25. The meeting adjourned and lunch was enjoyed, served by Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Coye and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jones.

ashes and mysteries

The medieval game of cricket, which is somewhat gentler than hockey or football, is full of mysteries for the uninitiated. And perhaps cricket's greatest mystery is "The Ashes", for which England and Australia compete each year. The Ashes grew out of a match played 70 odd years ago at the Kennington Oval. With 6 wickets in hand, and needing only 20 runs to win, England scored only 14 runs. Next day this epitaph appeared in a sporting paper:

In affectionate remembrance of English cricket, which died at the Oval on 29th August, 1882. Deeply lamented by a large circle of sorrowing friends and acquaintances. R.I.P. (N.B. The body will be cremated and the ashes taken to Australia.)

Next year the English cricketers were asked to "bring back the ashes", so the Aussies solemnly presented them with an ash-filled urn. It stands today in the "long room" of the Marylebone Cricket Club.

The Marylebone Club was founded in 1787—just one year after Molson's. And if there's any mystery in Molson's, we'd say it lies in the unique strain of yeast used in brewing it—a perfect sample of which is kept guarded in a vault. This Molson strain of yeast vies with 167 years of brewing skill as the most likely reason why more Canadians say, "Make Mine Molson's" than ask for any other brand.

More Detectives Being Hired To "Shadow" Suitors

Louisville, Ky. —(AP)— Posing as a prince charming with a view to "marrying well," always a hazardous business, is getting even riskier these days.

This is because more and more dotting mamas and papas are hiring private detectives to investigate their daughters' fiancés.

Such a trend has been noticed by the only two women detectives who attended the World Secret Service Association convention here.

Mrs. Mildred Gilmore of Los Angeles and Mrs. Lila V. Watts of Detroit said they have been called upon to spend a lot of their time on this phase of the private eye business since the war.

They attribute it in part to the many hasty and unhappy wartime marriages.

Perhaps surprisingly, parents are not too interested in whether the potential son-in-law has money, Mrs. Gilmore has found.

She and Mrs. Watts agreed in an interview that most parents simply want "good fathers for their grandchildren."

About nine of 10 of the "hundreds" of investigations they've made have turned out "favorable for the marriage." But it's the possible occurrence of the other type case that keeps such business coming in.

Mrs. Gilmore's favorite is the boy whose "noble French family" turned out to be living in a Chicago tenement.

Scandinavian Airlines System was formed in 1946 by amalgamation of the national airlines of Denmark, Norway and Sweden.

Guide to Miracle Fabrics

Characteristics	General Care	Special Handling
Nylon Durable, high abrasion and sun-resistance. Dye penetrates fibers. Curtains may tend to yellow eventually.	Hand wash if possible. Use lukewarm water. Machine wash in mesh bags. Minimum agitation. Don't spin or wring. Try to avoid ironing. If needed, use lowest temp. possible.	For yellowish cast use two tbsps. vinegar per gallon water in last rinse to dissolve detergent built-up in fibers. If this fails, yellowing due to iron heat and can't be erased.
Orlon Strong fibers, long-wearing, high abrasion and sun-resistance. Holds dye well. Natural ivory cast of fibers tends to show up after repeated washings of white curtains.	Hand wash if possible. Use lukewarm water. Don't spin or wring. Dry indoors or out. Use lukewarm iron if needed.	Spinning or wringing may set deep creases. Fabric doesn't absorb moisture so you can't dampen to iron out wrinkles.
Glass Fiber Excellent wear, fire-proof, dirt, dyes stay on surface. It is thought that chemical reaction of soot on white curtains turns fibers gray in time.	Wash separately from other clothes by hand in lukewarm or hot water. Use any detergent. Don't wring. Don't iron. Dry over clothesline.	Don't rub. May rub off surface dye or break off tiny glass fibrils when washing. Use swishing motion. Use care in slipping curtains on rods to avoid poking holes or breaking threads.
Vinyon Excellent wear, usually slick, dirt-resistant surface. Good for upholstery.	Washes easily with cloth dipped in warm water, all-purpose detergent.	Don't let fabric come in contact with much heat. Don't try to press or iron.
Dynel Blankets won't felt or shrink. Warm and lightweight. Will take fast color dyes. Fibers may tend to shed under friction or when wet.	Wash in conventional or automatic washer. Avoid prolonged agitation. Shorten spin cycle or loosen wringer tension. Use warm water, any good detergent.	Won't stand heat. Will tend to shrink up under satin blanket binding if warm iron is used to press binding.
Acetate Solution-dyed acetate should have good resistance to sun-fading. Spun acetates have rougher texture, more resiliency than filament acetate. All take beautiful dyes in wide range fast colors. All much weaker when wet.	Wash in lukewarm water using mild detergent. Use gentle touch to avoid tearing. If necessary for stain removal, use one-quarter amount of bleach used for cottons and dilute with cool water. Don't soak in bleach.	All acetates have a low melting point. To avoid fusing fibers which produces shiny spots, set iron for low temperature, then disconnect when iron warms up.
Acetate Taffeta Wears well. Takes wide range of fast dye colors.	Dry clean.	Don't try to spot clean or iron at home. May permanently damage taffeta effect.
Rayon Wears well. May be dyed in fast colors. May be pre-shrunk. Much weaker when wet (up to 70 per cent).	Dry clean heavy drapes or when in doubt about washability. Spun rayon may shrink with machine agitation so handwash if possible. Filament rayon should be hand-washed. Use lukewarm water.	Apt to tear easily when wet so take it easy. When rayon combined with other fibers, treat as though all rayon.
Crease-Resistant Finishes Do impart a fine "hand" and fabrics treated with resin finishes tend to shed soil, wrinkle less. Will survive indefinite washings.	Wash according to type of fabric treated. AVOID THE USE OF CHLORINE BLEACHES. Synthetic finish retains chlorine. Iron heat converts chlorine to acid and fabric apt to fall apart.	If stains make mild bleaching imperative, get small packet of photographer's hypo from camera shop, dissolve in water, add to last rinse water. This reduces chlorine action. Let dry before ironing.

New Light On World History With Discovery

Enkomi, Cyprus—(Reuters)— Archaeologists excavating an ancient city here have made a discovery which is expected to throw new light on the history of the world 1,000 years before Christ.

The discovery, rated as "priceless", is a tablet with Cypro-Mycenean inscriptions on both sides. It was found almost perfectly preserved in the ruins of Alasia, capital of Cyprus 35 centuries ago.

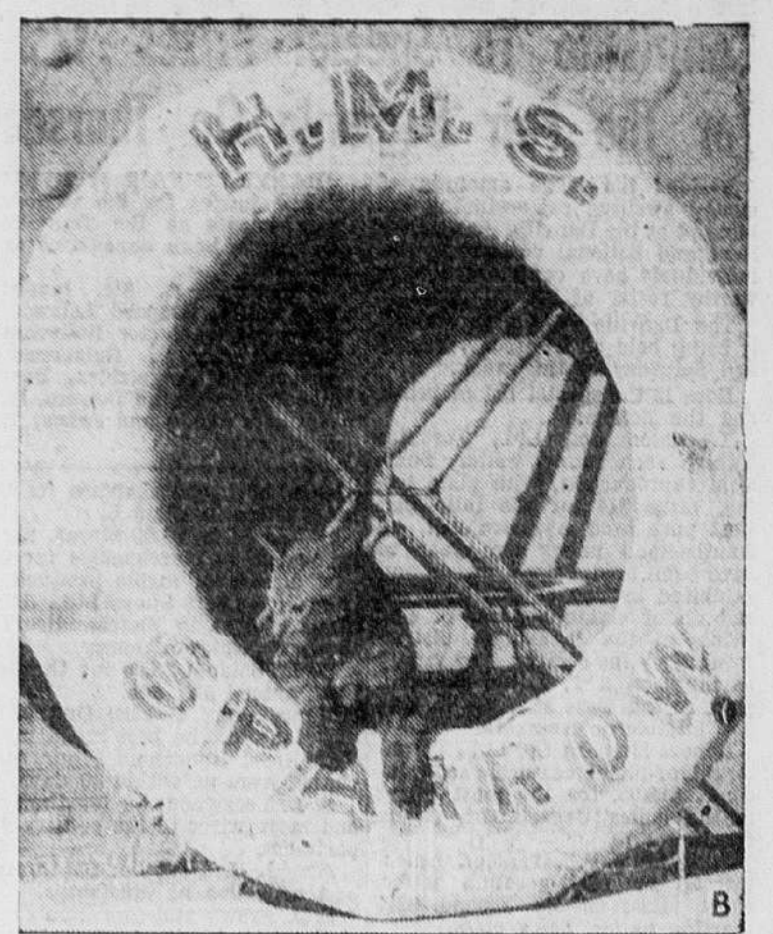

Alasia, near the eastern coast of this Mediterranean island, was first excavated in 1948 by a joint Anglo-French team and archaeologists of the Cyprus museum.

As building after building, including the temple and palace, dramatically came to light, excavators systematically combed the floors and nooks of the ancient city looking for the clay tablet archives they knew must be there.

For four years none was found among the wealth of other discoveries.

A translation is expected to reveal details of the Mycenaean civilization, which flourished in northern Greece from 1400 to 1100 B.C. The poet Homer called it the "heroic age."

Cat Joins Sparrow Against Reds

NATURAL ENEMIES—if you go by names—have united against the Communists in Korea. Pictured in a life buoy is Scumpy, meowing mascot of H.M.S. Sparrow, British frigate. A proven sailor and very popular with his shipmates, Scumpy came through patrols in winter's icy winds and rough seas like an old hand. A British fleet joined the U. S. Navy in the very first days of the Korean conflict and British ships have been there ever since.

Ancient Cook Prescribes Rest And Abstinence

Atikokan, Ont. — (CP) — A 95-year-old man from Mount Forest, Ont., is spending his vacation cooking for his son's construction camp in this northwestern Ontario region.

John McLelland does a hefty day's work at the camp operated by his son Ross, but he's been working hard all his life.

He was born on a farm about six miles from Mount Forest and was plowing as soon as he was big enough. In 1903, he went to the New Liskeard area where he ran a lumber mill through floods and other troubles on the Temiskaming river.

His jobs ranged from lumbering to fire ranger and prospector. He gave his name to a gold mine near Longlac.

He tried the implement business in Mount Forest for a while but soon returned to prospecting, this time in New Brunswick where he staked a magnesium claim. He retired to Mount Forest in 1942 and came to Atikokan for his holiday about two months ago.

His formula for long life? "Live right, without tobacco and whisky, and get plenty of rest."

Seasickness Is State Of Mind, Dutchman Says

Montreal. — (CP) — One trip across the Atlantic, and a rough one at that, has convinced Evert Veroeff, 76-year-old Dutch farmer, that seasickness is a state of mind—not an ailment.

The elderly Netherlander was on his way to Saskatoon to visit his daughter and her husband and he had awaited 43 years to make the trip.

Veroeff, who arrived with approximately 800 other Dutch settlers, was pretty pleased with himself. Despite his age, he says he is as fit as a man half his age and he attributed this to hard work and the fact he has never had to see a doctor.

The ocean trip was rough but he never missed a meal and didn't lose a wink of sleep and "that's more than can be said for a lot of the passengers."

At home, he looked after 40 cows, 40 pigs, so many chickens he was never able to count them and in his "spare time" attended to his duties in a large wheat field as well as looking after the barns.

"I've been trying to come to Canada for many years," he said. "But when I mention it to my mother many years ago, she put

Abandoned Trams Make Up Motel, Includes Church

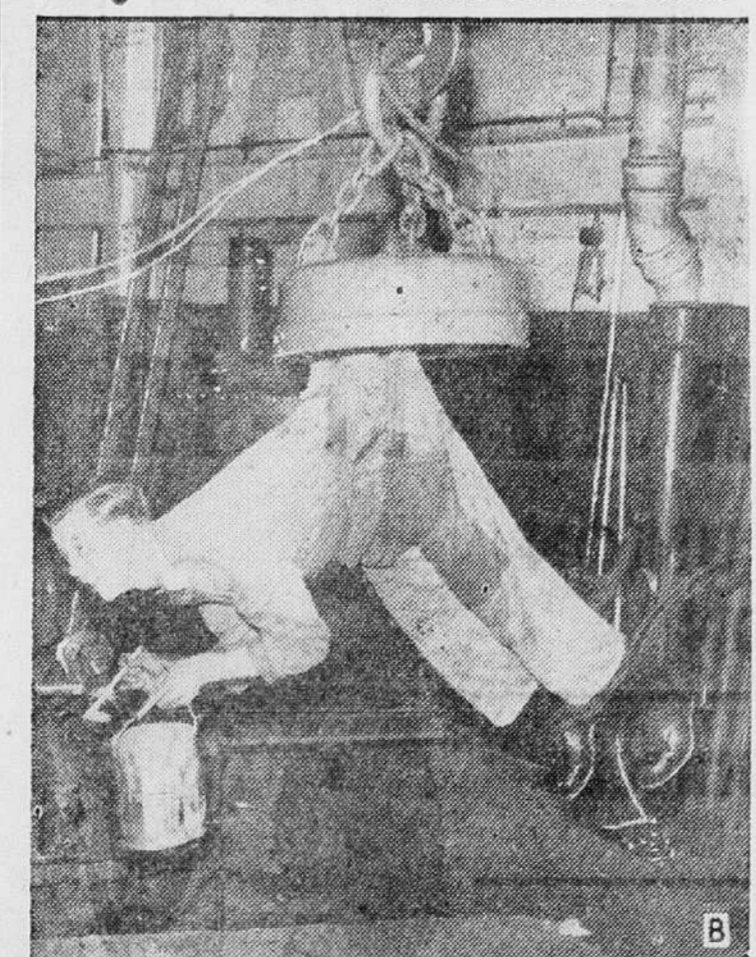

Calgary. — (CP) — Luxurious outdoor swimming pools aren't usually associated with churches, especially when the church is interdenominational and fashioned from an old streetcar.

Such is the arrangement that has made a holiday motel located on Bragg Lake near here such a success. The architects, Cliff Butcher foot down and told me I couldn't make the trip. But here I am at last and I'm really happy to be here."

Veroeff said that his wife, eight years his junior, would make the trip next year.

One of his concerns was his yellow, wooden shoes and how they would react on Canadian streets.

Forgeful Floor Painters Should Note

HAVE YOU ever painted the floor and found you have painted yourself in and there is no way out except by stepping on and ruining that beautiful, even coat? Apparently George Heath has, for in demonstrating the power of industrial magnets he has come up—and gone up—with an idea the manufacturers overlooked. George's—or the magnet's—effort was to draw attention to this year's British Industries Fair, London and Birmingham, April 27 - May 8.

B. C. Reform Project Run Co-Operatively

Vernon, B.C.—New hope in the reformation of young offenders centres on a co-operative project of the attorney general's department and the Canadian forest service.

In the thickly wooded wilderness 60 miles southeast of here 20 youths from Oakalla prison are in camp. They are self-supporting and earning $3 a day plus food, making roads and trails for the forest service.

The camp is at Bison Lake and is a temporary jail. The boys are not on parole.

"But," said Rev. J. Dinnage Hobden, executive secretary of the John Howard Society, "if these lads behave themselves and adjustments come up to expectations, they will be on parole at the end of summer."

The youths are opening up heavily-timbered country to make it accessible, mainly for fire-fighting purposes.

In full charge of the camp is Robert Deldiel, provincial probation service. The boys have their own recreation hall and their own committees run the recreational side of their life in the bush. They fish and hold sports-tournaments.

Uranium City To Be Treeless In Timberland

Uranium City, Sask.—This uranium boom town, most modern and scientifically laid-out community in Saskatchewan, will be a town without trees, even though it sits smack in the centre of thousands of square miles of heavy bush and timber in the north-western part of the province.

In the planning stage, almost every thoroughfare in the new community was laid out as a wide, tree-bordered boulevard.

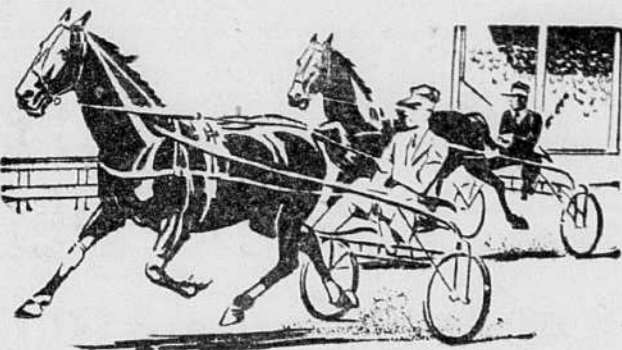

However, officials of the natural resources department, with one eye on the masses of trees that reach right to the town limits and the other eye on the forest fire hazard this summer, ruled that Uranium City must be treeless.

Boat Building Seen Wonderful Polio Therapy

Vancouver—Building your own boat is "wonderful therapy" for anyone, says Walter Hendrickson, 39. He's been on crutches since he was stricken with polio at the age of four.

The climax of 16 months of labor was reached when Hendrickson readied his sleek powerboat, "Sma' Fish," for her maiden trip in local waters.

The 25-foot craft has a comfortable cabin and bunks, with a tidy little dinette and stove that was supplied by his wife, Inez. She also helped Walter to build the craft.

Hendrickson, who works as a personnel officer at the Pacific National Exhibition, said: "I've always wanted a boat of my own since I was a kid and used to fish for shiners. But I never dreamed of having such a boat as the 'Sma' Fish."

Gay 90's Bike Is New Way Of Making Money

Toronto—George White of Toronto has pedestrians and motorists agog when he rolls by on his "penny-farthing."

The odd-wheeled bicycle, a relic of the gay 90s, gets its name from the small "farthing-size" back wheel and the large "penny-size" front wheel.

George doesn't just sail along for the laughs, either. On a recent trip to Montreal, which took him four days, he earned $500.

"I tied a condensed milk can to the back of my penny-farthing and everywhere I went people wanted to take pictures," said the 28-year-old adventurer. George let them take pictures, too, if they each put 25 cents in the can. The money rolled in so fast he had to get a gallon can when he was only half way to Montreal.

At present a truck driver, but in the past everything from a handyman to a snake-charmer, George said any time he's out of work he just hops on his "bone shaker." It's not long before some business man hires him for advertising purposes.

The solid wheels make for a rough ride but George says all you need is stamina and a cushion.

Indians Win Two; Playoffs Open Here Wednesday Night

Merchants' Night, Draw Postponed; Del Gaudio Homers; Danny Osinski Ties Wins' Mark; Bowes Brilliant

The pennant-winning Sherbrooke Indians concluded their Provincial Baseball League schedule with a split against Granby Phillies and a victory here last night over the Yankees from Three Rivers. The contest Granby at Sherbrooke for Saturday night was washed out. Scores of the three games were 3-0, 1-3 and 2-0.

Danny Osinski won his 18th game of the year against seven losses, limiting Phillies to six hits here Sunday afternoon, to tie Lew Shapiro's local mark for wins in a series. Last night, "Major" Jack Bowes set down the Yankees on seven hits for his 16th pitching triumph. At Granby Sunday night, the law of averages, his mates' inability to get more than two hits and the fact that rain limited the game of our and 2/3 innings, caught up with righthander Bill Dalley and he lost his first decision of the year, against six wins.

Shoddy work by the Granby infield helped a great deal in Sherbrooke's victory here Sunday afternoon with Gerry Del Gaudio's seventh homer of the season with one man on did all the damage against Three Rivers last night.

The washout Saturday evening forced postponement of Merchants' Night of the Chamber of Commerce. This will be held here Wednesday evening, opening of the playoffs against Quebec Braves. Many prizes will be given away in this drawing with the big prize being a Pfaff Sewing machine, compliments of Raby et Frere.

The drawing for $500 in attendance prizes, organized by a committee of local sportsmen, independent of the ball club, was held for last night but because of the rainy weather it was postponed until Thursday evening. The committee felt that because of the dismal weather last night many a loyal fan was unable to get to the game.

Righthander John Cerbo (16-3) is manager Pinky May's choice to pitch the opener of the playoff semi-final against Quebec here Wednesday evening. Sherbrooke and Braves are even on the year's play.

The game here last night was a superb pitching battle between southpaw Bowes and righthander Marco Mainini, the league's leading strikeout artist. Mainini made only one serious mistake and was a first pitch when he pitched to Del Gaudio which went over the left field fence, scoring Bob O'Donnell who had singled to center, in the fourth.

Making his fifth mound appearance for Yankees in a week, Mainini had only one other bad inning — the third when he pitched to Del Gaudio which went over the left field fence, scoring Bob O'Donnell who had singled to center, in the fourth.

The game here last night was a superb pitching battle between southpaw Bowes and righthander Marco Mainini, the league's leading strikeout artist. Mainini made only one serious mistake and was a first pitch when he pitched to Del Gaudio which went over the left field fence, scoring Bob O'Donnell who had singled to center, in the fourth.

Bowes pitched one of his best ball games of the season in making his victim for the fifth time this year. The lefthander struck out nine enemy batters and gave up only three free passes to first in winning his 16th against three losses. Only one man got as far as third base against Bowes and only four balls were hit out of the infield.

The game was delayed 25 minutes because of the drizzle last night and only sound work by groundskeeper Don Funkhouser and assistant Emile Drolet kept the field playable both for that contest and the one Sunday afternoon.

The game here against Granby was delayed an hour and ten minutes because the Phillies were late in arriving. Their manager Al Barrillari claimed he didn't receive notification that the weather here was favorable for baseball until a late hour, when he kept arguing with umpire Howard Malabon at home plate prior to the already delayed game. Barrillari was kicked out and Paul Bletz, one of the Philly pitchers, handled the visitors from the coaching box.

At Granby Sunday evening, Phillies scored single runs in the first, third and fifth innings while Sherbrooke could score only in the fifth — one run. Trautwein yielded only two singles to Indians, both in the fifth when Del Gaudio got a safe hit and Waters, pinch hitting for Dalley also singled. Del Gaudio scoring on a fly out by Saner in the rain-abbreviated game.

Held to only six hits by Gus Carmichael and Mike Burack, the pennant-winning Indians managed to win their 15th straight game, 3-0, in an afternoon encounter with Granby Phillies. Danny Osinski, on the mound for the locals, held Philis to six scattered singles and his mates reeled off four double plays to help the righthander over

* BASEBALL * Gus Brault Has 70 At St. Johnsbury, Len Harmon With 73 Leads Pros While Don Doe And Harry Fowlis Cop Prizes

St. Johnsbury, Vt. — A star-studded entry of American and Canadian, professional and amateur golfers took part in the 3rd annual International golf tournament in St. Johnsbury over the Labor Day week-end and it was an amateur from the Eastern Townships who won the title.

Gus Brault, of Cowansville, fired a two-under par 70 to post the lowest score for the field.

Len Harmon, professional from Knowlton, Que., shot a one-over par 73 to tie with Joe Bassett, pro at the Alpine Hotel, Woodstock, Vt.

Harry Fowlis, of Sherbrooke, was another E.T. pro to take a share of the prize money. Fowlis shot a 74, which included a one-under par 35 for the first nine, to take sole possession of third place.

Pro Dean Phenehy, of Middlebury, Vt., had a 75 while Dan O'Donnell, of St. Albans, Vt., and Roland Royer, of Newport, Vt., both professionals, had 76.

Two other Eastern Townships golfers won prizes and one was none other than Don Doe, Granby's sensational club swinger, who tied for third place among the amateurs. The finalist in the Canadian Open shot a 76 as did Kirk Price, Burlington, Vt., and Herman Rowe, St. Johnsbury. Kerm Grant, of Lyndonville, Vt., was next in the class "A" amateurs with a 77.

The other E.T. golfer to win a prize was Len O'Donnell, S.C.C., who won the low net in class "C". O'Donnell shot a 79 minus a 15 handicap for a 64 net.

Heavy rain and wind did not dampen the spirit of the some 300 competitors who participated in the three-day tourney.

The congenial host pro, Mac Henderson, had the players moving along the picturesque nine-hole course in fine fashion. There was hardly a delay. Play started on Saturday with the class "C" players and Sunday and Monday saw the professionals and top amateurs battle for the prizes.

The ladies' event took part in the tournament. Midge Henderson, of St. Johnsbury, was the winner for the nine-hole event, due to the bad weather. She had a 41 which was better than some of the men.

Miss Raymonde Laporte, of Sherbrooke, had a 34 net for the nine holes to win the low net prize.

Getting back to the men, Leo Outlette had a 75 to win the "B" honors while Mac Henderson, Jr., had a 79.

Stanley Lee, of Littleton, New Hampshire, and Ed Hanson, of St. Johnsbury, had 81 while Carl Hanley and Duffey Dodge, of St. Johnsbury, took fifth and sixth positions with 83 and 84.

Gil Ethier, of Mt. Orford, and clubmate Denis Begin were two more E.T. golfers who won prizes.

Ethier fired an 87 while Begin had an 89 to take first and second place respectively in class "C".

Don Erskine, of Lyndonville, Vt., had a 63 net to win the net in class "C".

The Eastern Townships actually won their share of the prizes, with Brault, Harry Fowlis, Jimmy Fowlis, Len O'Donnell, Don Doe, Gil Ethier, Denis Begin, Len Harmon and Utric Couture, of Victoriaville, winning.

Utric Couture, of Victoriaville, had a 77 and another pro, Jimmy Fowlis, Lennoxville's popular club-swinger, had a 78.

Couture tied for 7th place among the pros with Ray Daley, of Waumbuck, N.H., with 77 while Jimmy Fowlis was ninth. Both came in for prize money.

There were 23 ladies in the tournament.

catcher, knocked out a home run. The Indians again came to life in the sixth inning scoring six runs to tie up the score at eight all.

Both teams went scoreless in the seventh inning and the game went into extra innings. Indians in the eighth got a chance to take the game, with a man on third and two outs, but they failed to push home the deciding run. In the top of the ninth Rousseau, the Yankee hurler, won his own game, getting a single and reaching third on two passed balls. He stole home with the tie breaking run to give this nothing in their half of the ninth, both teams played well, and the deciding game should be a thriller.

Playoffs Continue In Industrial Loop

The Sherbrooke Industrial Softball League playoffs continue this evening at Dufresne Park. Superheater and No Claims meet in the opening game.

No Claims lead this two-out-of-three series one game to nil. Sher-mac and St. Pat's meet in the night cap, with Bill Cochran's team being in the driver's seat with one game tucked away.

Tonight's games should be thrillers as both Superheater and St. Pat's must win to stay in the playoffs.

Boston Detail Special Man To Protect Mantle

Boston — (AP) — Police in plain clothes were carefully spotted in the packed 32,123 crowd to protect Mickey Mantle, New York Yankees' star outfielder, in Monday's doubleheader against Boston Red Sox.

Mantle's life had been threatened in an anonymous written letter, addressed to the Yankee Stadium and mailed in Boston on Aug. 25. At that time the New York club was on the road.

Yankee officials turned the letter over to New York police to inform Mantle. Before the Yankees reached Boston Monday morning, they were joined by a Boston detective who guarded Mantle until he reached Fenway Park.

The Yankees split the doubleheader, losing the first game 7-4 and winning the second 5-3.

Durrelle Earns Decision Over Gordie Wallace

Sydney — (AP) — Yvon Durrelle of Baie Ste. Anne, N.B., won an unanimous decision over Gordie Wallace of Toronto Monday to qualify for a Canadian lightweight title bout.

Carrying the fight all the way, Durrelle won the favor of both judges and the referee. Both weighed 168 for the 10-round match.

Durrelle was down briefly in the third but didn't take a count. He now meets Bill Field of Toronto in a bout billed as a lightweight title match.

Tiger-Cats Edge Argonauts 14-12

Hamilton — (AP) — Hamilton Tiger-Cats had little offensive power but were quick to snatch up the fumbles Monday as they edged Toronto Argonauts 14-12 in their Big Four football league game before 17,000 fans.

Tiger-Cats, who took over first place with the win, scored only two touchdowns and both came on Argonaut fumbles in the first and third quarters.

It was their third straight victory and left them as the only unbeaten club in the four-team league.

The Tiger-Cats, with Bernie Custis at the quarterback slot, came up with a feeble offensive attack both in the air and on the ground. Custis, taking over from Bob Ceiri, was fired last Friday, tossed only seven passes. Three of them were completed, three were intercepted and the other was thrown to the ground.

Queen's Colt Is Favored In St. Leger

London — (AP) — The Queen's fine colt, Aureole, held the favorite's position Monday night during an odds colt race for the St. Leger classic race.

Aureole remained an 11-to-8 favorite at London's Victoria Club. The St. Leger will be run at Doncaster Saturday.

Robert Broley, 15, of Moncton placed second after the 20 heats. Wayne Jones, Moncton, and Robie Burke, Halifax, won placings in class competitions.

George Park Wins Twice At CNE Meet

Toronto — (AP) — George Park of Hamilton, Ont., was the only double winner today in the Canadian National Exhibition Labor Day swimming competitions.

Park stroked his way to victory in the 100-yard senior men's free style, covering the distance in 55.5 seconds, and swam to another win in the senior men's 100-yard backstroke. His time in the latter was 1:08.8.

Native Dancer Is Fine, Says Trainer

New York — (AP) — Trainer Bill Winfrey said Monday he is well pleased with the condition of the foot injury suffered recently by Native Dancer, and indicated the three-year-old champion will be back on the full training grind in a day or so.

"The horse seemed really first rate this morning," said the trainer for Alfred Vanderbilt after the dancer had galloped around the main track at Belmont Park.

Brooklyn Rolling To Modern Record Lead In National League Race; Yanks And Red Sox Split As Indians Cop Two

It's too bad the National League season has only three weeks to go. Otherwise the Brooklyn Dodgers almost certainly would challenge Pittsburgh's record 27½ game lead of 51 years ago.

Since Aug. 7, the Brooks have won 28 of 33 games to boost their edge over Milwaukee from 7½ to 13 games. Monday's two Brooklyn wins over Philadelphia while the Braves lost twice to Chicago gave the Dodgers their longest lead of the year.

The Dodgers would have to win all their remaining 16 games and the Braves lose their 16 to better the 1902 pennant-winning Pirates' record.

However, the Dodgers are almost certain to win the flag by one of the largest margins in modern times. Only five National League champions won by a larger margin than the Dodgers own today.

Besides the 1902 Pirates, the 1906 Cubs won by 20 games, the 1943 St. Louis Cardinals by 18, the 1907 Cubs by 17 and the 1944 by 14½.

Brooklyn gained its 95th and 96th victories Monday, knocking off Robin Roberts and Curt Simmons by 6-2 scores. The Dodgers need only nine more to better the team record of 104 victories by the 1947 Dodgers.

The Dodgers can clinch the flag this week. They need only a combination of four victories or four Milwaukee defeats to eliminate the Braves mathematically.

The Phillies joined the Giants and Cardinals among the "dead" Monday as Roberts absorbed his 13th defeat and Simmons his 12th. Four Philly errors and Duke Snider's 37th home run helped Carl Erskine to his 18th triumph in the opener.

Roy Campanella ruined Simmons in the nightcap with a three-run homer in the sixth inning that erased a 2-1 deficit. His three RBIs on his 39th homer enabled him break Bill Dickey's RBI mark for a catcher. Campy now has 136 RBIs, three more than Dickey drove in with the 1937 Yankees.

Hank Sauer was the chief Milwaukee tormentor, leading the Cubs to a pair of 4-3 and 6-4 triumphs. He drove in a run and scored twice with a double and single in the first game and accounted for two runs with a triple in the second.

Cleveland's Indians shaved New York's American League lead to nine games, winning a pair from the St. Louis Browns while the Yankees were held to a split in a doubleheader in Boston. Home runs by Al Rosen, Larry Doby and Dale Mitchell gave the Indians a 10-7 victory after Bob Lemon had blanked the Browns 3-0 in the opener.

Rosen's homer enabled him to retain the league leader 39-38 over Philadelphia's Gus Zernial, who also belted a four-bagger.

Ted Williams hit his ninth homer with a man on base and singled in another run in the Red Sox 7-4 opening triumph over the Yankees. Mel Parnell won his 19th but needed help from Ellis Kinder who equalled Joe Hevings' American League relief record by appearing in his 63rd game. Joe Collins paced the Yankees to a 3-3 second game victory with four hits including a home run.

Detroit's Tigers climbed into sixth place for the first time this season whipping the third-place Chicago White Sox twice 6-2 and 4-2. Ned Garver and Billy Hoelt handed the fading Sox their third and fourth successive losses.

Washington trampled the Philadelphia Athletics twice 13-2 and 6-3 as Jimmy Dykes' crew plunged into seventh place. Third baseman Eddie Yost drove in three runs and scored seven—in the first game—with three doubles, a homer and single.

Red Schoendienst and Stan Musial led the Cardinals to a double victory over the Cincinnati Reds 4-3 and 1-0. Pitcher Harvey Haddaway and fifth shutout in the div permitted six hits for his 17th nightcap. The twin triumphs moved the Cardinals into third place.

Pittsburgh's last-place Pirates won their first doubleheader of the year at the expense of the Giants 9-7 and 5-3. Danny O'Donnell homered in the nightcap to extend his hitting streak to 18 games for the winners.

The opening event — the ten-mile marathon — started as a thunderstorm broke and the 17 competitors were whittled to 11 by the time the race ended. The winner was 24-year-old Lorne White of Guelph, Ont., running unattached.

Hampered by deep puddles on the inside lane of the macadam track, White posted a time of 58 minutes 10.25 seconds.

The Red Diamond athletic club of Pawtucket, R.I., sent up a point-winning crew, getting two firsts—both by young Marilyn Connors, two seconds and three thirds in the girls' events.

Brooklyn's Carl Furillo Is Finished Until World Series With Fractured Left Hand After Brawl With Durocher

New York — (AP) — Brooklyn's Carl Furillo, who was injured in Sunday's brawl with New York Giants, is through for the season. He won't play again until the world series.

The major league's leading hitler (.345) suffered a double fracture of the bone behind the knuckle of the little finger of his left hand, Dr. Eugene Zorn, the club physician, said Monday.

At first it was thought that the Dodger outfielder had suffered a single fracture and would be out for only ten days. Further examination disclosed the double break.

The veteran's outfielder's hand was stepped on in a tussle in front of the Giants' dugout following his wrestling match with Giant manager Leo Durocher.

The long-simmering feud between Furillo and Durocher erupted Sunday when Durocher had been hit on the right wrist by a Ruben Gomez pitch in the second inning.

St. Joseph Yankees Nip St. Pat's 9-8 To Knot Minor Baseball League Playoffs; Meet Wednesday At 5:45

Fighting with their backs to the wall and facing elimination in the final series of the Sherbrooke-Lennoxville Minor Baseball League, the St. Joseph Yankees tied the series at two games each when they defeated St. Pat's Indians 9-8 at Sangster Park on Saturday afternoon in a grueling 9-inning game. The teams met Wednesday night at Sangster Park at 5:45 p.m. in the deciding game.

Indians took a one run lead in the opening innings, but the Yankees got this one back and two more to take a 3-1 lead. They got these runs all on errors by the Indians' outfield. They added five more runs in the top of the fifth when Indians again committed three errors, and before the inning closed manager Parsons changed pitcher Anderson to the outfield and Forret, the centre-fielder, took over on the mound.

Indians got one more run in the fourth, when King, the Indian

Additional Sport News Rochester Red Wings Extend Lead To Six Games With Double Win As Royals Washed Out; Leafs Cop Two

The pennant-bound Rochester Red Wings ran their winning streak to 14 Monday by sweeping an International League doubleheader from Syracuse Chiefs, 12-5 and 9-4.

This lengthened Rochester's lead over the second-place Montreal Royals—whose scheduled doubleheader with Buffalo Bisons was rained out—to six games. The Red is in third position, a game behind the Royals.

Floyd Woodridge, making his first start for the Wings since coming up from Houston, pitched a masterful five-hitter for the opening triumph. Playing manager Harry (The Hat) Walker powered the Wings to the nightcap with two home runs, good for five tallies.

Toronto Maple Leafs kept their hopes of making the playoffs mathematically alive Monday night by squeezing a double bill from Ottawa Athletics, 6-5 and 4-3.

The twin triumph still left the Leafs 3½ games behind the fourth-place Baltimore Orioles, who took a doubleheader from Springfield Cubs 7-4 and 6-5.

At Toronto, the scheduled seven-inning first game, tied 5-5 at the

Teddy's Sister Cops Seagram Cup

Toronto—Teddy's Sister, the consistent Canadian-bred mare owned by J. J. Fleming of Oshawa, Ont., won a tremendous stretch duel and the $5,000 Seagram Cup handicap Monday as she wipped Bennington in a photo finish at Woodbine race track. A Labor Day crowd of 15,000 watched the horses run over a muddy track.

In a twin feature, the $5,000 Sandown stakes for three-year-olds, the winner was Heroic Age, owned by Matthew Elman of Toronto.

Heroic Age was rushed out of the gate by jockey Herb Lindberg, opened up four lengths on his rivals and, although Jewel Case made a valiant effort to catch him in the last two furlongs, she missed by a length and a half. Belifiars finished strongly for third.

Heroic Age, which was second choice to Jewel Case in the wagering, paid $8.10.

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT
New York — (P) — It is not pleasant to see a nice kid being thrown to the wolves.

We have in mind the humiliating defeat inflicted upon a little 18-year-old named Ken Rosewall, of Sydney, Australia, in the next-to-the-last round of the United States tennis championships which ended Monday in Forest Hills, N.Y.

Husky Tom Trabert of Cincinnati lapped the daylight out of the weary, woe-begone youngster, producing a sad anti-climax to a match that had been looked forward to all week.

Having watched the diminutive stylist play for the last two winters in his own land, we are in a position to know something of the brand of tennis he can produce when his body is fresh and his mind not jaded by an overdose of the game. His showing against Trabert was disillustating to thousands who were watching him for the first time and had no way of knowing that the boy was at about 70 per cent of his efficiency.

The ones who knew best were the U.S. players and Rosewall's teammates. Though they were happy to see Tom win, the former shook their heads and whispered it was too bad about Rosewall, whom they greatly admire. The other Aussies were afraid to say anything out loud, as their dandy little manager-coach Harry Hopman was braying to all who would listen that Ken was in perfect shape.

Hopman knew better, of course, and he knew he had been largely responsible for beating a fine group of youngsters down both physically and mentally during the five harrowing months they have been his command since they left home for a trip around the world. He was talking strictly for Australian consumption, knowing that he will be expected to answer a few questions when he returns to Melbourne.

It was suggested to Hopman more than a month ago by well-intentioned persons that he was overdoing the iron discipline and keeping the kids under too tight reign too long. He was strongly urged to give his tennis pawns at least a two-week rest from the game sometime before the U.S. championships.

He didn't listen, and he drew his reward when both his 18-year-olds, Rosewall and Lewis Hoad, were knocked off in straight sets.

How do they drill an oil well, Dad?

Advertisement for INCO Nickel. Features a large illustration of a young boy looking up at a hand pointing towards the sky. Text includes: 'You've seen me drill a hole in a piece of iron. Drilling down through rock is somewhat the same but the drill points have to be extremely hard and tough. The cutting parts of the drill are made of nickel alloy steel because it lasts longer and cuts quicker than most other materials.' 'Do they drill very deep?' 'Yes, sometimes oil wells are drilled two miles deep. Pieces of pipe are joined to each other and the rock bit is screwed on the bottom end. To keep this great length of pipe from breaking it is sometimes made of nickel alloy steel which is strong and tough. It is also less subject to the corroding influence of salt, sulphur and chlorides often found in oil wells.'
