World News In Brief

Ottawa, Dec. 14—(CP)—A broad series of pay, salary and allowance increases for Canada's armed forces, the civil service and the R.C.M.P. was announced in the Commons today by Prime Minister St. Laurent.

The raises, ranging from about four to about 14 per cent, all are retroactive to Dec. 1.

The last general adjustment in rates of pay for government employees was a year ago.

Los Angeles, Dec. 14—(AP)—A rumbling earthquake awoke residents in the south Los Angeles area early today. Police and newspaper switchboards received many calls of inquiry but there were no reports of damage.

* * *

Ottawa, Dec. 14—(CP)—Canada's demands that she be given greater access to traditional markets in the British West Indies have paid off.

Trade Minister Howe announced in the Commons last night that agreement has been reached whereby the United Kingdom, the sterling area's dollar banker, will allow the B.W.I. to boost imports from Canada and the United States beginning Jan. 1 next.

The B.W.I. import quotas on essential and non-essential goods from Canada will be eased and in some cases quotas will be knocked off completely to allow Canadian exporters to ship strategic goods freely to the B.W.I.

Seoul, Korea, Dec. 14—(AP)—Communist anti-aircraft guns shot down three allied planes today while MIG-killing American Sabre jets destroyed one communist jet and damaged three.

The U.S. Fifth Air Force said the Sabres returned safely from their two Jet fights over northwest Korea.

So did two reconnaissance F-80 Shooting Stars that were jumped by six Red MIG-15s near the North Korean capital, Pyongyang. The F-80s outmanoeuvred and outflew the Red pilots in the much faster MIGS.

In unrelated actions Red flak brought down a Shooting Star, an F-84 Thunderjet and an F-51 Mustang. All three fell in communist territory.

Lower Caraquet, N.B., Dec. 14—(CP)—Loss was estimated at nearly $100,000 today as firemen poured water on smoking embers of the W. S. Loggie store here. They had battled through the sub-zero night to prevent the spread of flames to other buildings in this northern New Brunswick fishing village.

With a snow storm shaping up as the embers from the conflagration still glowed in ruins were a store valued at $20,000, its stock estimated at between $40,000 and $50,000 and the house of the Loggie store manager, Hiram Marks, valued at $20,000.

United States Asks Sweden If She Is Prepared To Join Korean Inspection Body

U. N. Reported Agreeable To Appointment Of Neutral Inspectors.

Stockholm, Dec. 14.—(AP)—The United States has officially asked Sweden if she is prepared to join a neutral inspecting commission in Korea, the Swedish foreign ministry said today.

The American request was made in Washington by assistant state secretary John Hickerson in a conversation with Swedish ambassador Eric Boheman yesterday, the ministry added.

Communist negotiators discussing a Korean truce have proposed the truce be inspected by neutral observers.

Brig.-Gen. William P. Nuckols, a U.N. spokesman at the truce talks in Munsan, Korea, said today the U.N. has shown a willingness to accept neutral inspectors.

The foreign office declined to make any comment on its announcement.

A spokesman said no decision has been made so far. He added that the entire question will be discussed by the government.

Munsan, Korea, Dec. 14—(AP)—The communists refused today to lift the curtain of secrecy surrounding their prison camps, but said they would accept the rotation of 5,000 troops a month if the allies accept other communist terms for enforcing a Korean truce.

The limited rotation plan was part of a new six-point communist proposal which made little impression on allied negotiators. An official U.N. communique made no mention of rotation and said the proposal showed "little significant departure from the unacceptable proposal of Dec. 3."

In Stockholm, the Swedish foreign office said the United States had asked if Sweden would join a neutral inspection commission to help police a Korean truce. It said Sweden has made no decision.

Negotiators have not agreed on how an armistice would be enforced. The allies have indicated they might accept a communist proposal to use representatives of neutral nations for behind-the-lines inspections.

Red delegates said international Red Cross inspection of communist prison camps was "out of the question."

They again refused to turn over lists of allied prisoners unless the U.N. command first accepts the communist idea of exchanging all prisoners. Rear-Admiral R. E. Libby wanted to know why. He asked:

"Is it because your list contains just a handful of names and you are ashamed to give it to us?"

The Reds complained the great majority of prisoners held by the U.N. would not be returned if an exchange were made on a man-for-man basis as the allies want.

(In Tokyo today the Associated Press learned the U.N. command intends to stand firm on its demand for a man-for-man exchange of prisoners. An A.P. dispatch said the command feels the communists must give in on this issue or face the responsibility of a breakdown of cease-fire talks.)

A U.N. command broadcast from Tokyo to Korea again charged that the Red secrecy concerning prisoners was 'blackmail' to win their armistice demands.

Brig.-Gen. William P. Nuckols, official allied spokesman, said the rotation of 5,000 troops a month, as proposed by the communists, would be well below the current American rotation level.

He said that while the new Red proposal appears to follow closely one offered Dec. 3, many points need clarification.

There is a possibility the communists may accept the allied plan for truce inspectors operating under a joint military armistice commission, he said.

An allied negotiator said the whole Red proposal will be studied carefully "for any gimmicks it might contain."

The two sub-committees working on the problems of supervising a truce and exchanging prisoners — agenda items three and four — scheduled new sessions for 11 a.m. Saturday (9 p.m. EST Friday) in Panmunjom.

Allied negotiators insisted again Friday that the Reds turn over data on prisoners they hold and permit Red Cross inspection of their prison camps before talking further of exchanging prisoners.

Estimates of allied prisoners in communist hands range all the way from 165,000 to less than 100,000 — most of them South Koreans. The U.N. command holds from 120,000 to 170,000 North Koreans and Chinese.

The new communist plan for supervising a truce incorporated the Red demand that all U.N. forces be withdrawn from coastal islands and waters off North Korea.

The communists also proposed a neutral observer supervisory organ which would be "entrusted by" the military armistice commission. Nuckols said this was one of the points needing clarification.

The Red plan puts no limitations on military facilities such as air bases and does not mention replenishment of arms and war equipment.

Egypt's Press Hails Break With Britain

Cairo, Egypt, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Most Cairo papers cried "Bravo" today to Egypt's decision to recall her ambassador to Britain but one journal, which sometimes reflects public opinion, said bringing home the envoy does not mean a full break in diplomatic relations.

The French-language Journal D'Egypte urged harder efforts to solve the Anglo-Egyptian dispute and said "relations between the two countries will be maintained" even if Britain also recalls Ambassador Sir Ralph Stevenson from Cairo.

Withdrawal from London of Ambassador Abdel Fattah Amr Pasha "does not constitute an obstacle to future understanding and leaves the door open for future attempts at settlement," the Journal D'Egypte said. In the absence of their ambassadors, their embassies would be headed by the charges d'affaires.

But Akher Lahza, a paper which usually opposes the ruling Wafdist party, cracked:

"Thanks be to Allah Churchill is still alive to see the successive blows being hurled at the crumbling British Empire."

This was an apparent rejoinder to Prime Minister Churchill's wartime remark that he had not become head of the government "to preside over the liquidation of the British Empire."

The Egyptian government announced yesterday its ambassador would be summoned from London as "a protest against the aggressions of British forces in the Suez Canal Zone."

Journal D'Egypte said this was mainly a "moral protest."

It stemmed from British destruction of Egyptian houses—British officials called them mud huts—at a village near Suez City last Saturday to clear the way for a military road by-passing a spot where British troops frequently drew Egyptian fire.

Since Egypt cancelled her two treaties with Britain two months ago ordering British forces out of the Sudan and the Suez, 22 British and 125 Egyptians have been reported slain in repeated armed clashes.

Ismailia, Suez Canal Zone, Dec. 14.— (Reuters) —An R.A.F. wing commander escaped death last night when Egyptian terrorists ambushed his car near here, it was reported today.

The car of Wing Cmdr. John Barker, commander of the R.A.F. station in Ismailia, was struck by two bullets. Both he and his driver were unhurt.

A British spokesman also reported today that two Egyptians were killed by a British patrol south of Port Said while attempting to cut telephone cables.

Nun Tells About Trial By Chinese

Quebec, Dec. 14.—(CP)—An elderly Canadian nun who returned recently from 50 years of missionary work in China described in an interview yesterday what happens at communist public trials.

Rev. Mother St. Blaise, now retired at the Quebec City mother house of Franciscan nuns, told how she and 24 of her companions were informed by official messenger in January, 1950, that communist officials would visit their mission in Shangsa, Hopeh province.

They came the next day, ordered the chapel cleared of religious objects in two hours, she said.

Pictures of Red army officials replaced religious images. A large portrait of Stalin was placed on the main altar where the crucifix stood.

The nuns were ordered to appear in the transformed chapel the following evening for "a public meeting."

Mother St. Blaise, who was the first woman missionary of her order to set foot in China in 1902, said these communists "had already taken over direction of our hospital, an event that was marked by a public demonstration and band music."

"The next day, flanked by two soldiers, we were led into the chapel to stand trial.

"Each one of our employees had been ordered to accuse us publicly of the most revolting crimes, strangling children, killing pregnant women on the operating table. Our medical superintendent renounced our religion publicly.

"We stood for five hours, facing the crowd, without being allowed to answer. When the judge decided there was enough 'evidence,'

U.N. Insists Communists Must Agree To Allied Conditions On Prisoners

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD

Tokyo, Dec. 14—(AP)—The United Nations command is determined that the communists must give in to allied conditions on an exchange of prisoners-of-war or accept the responsibility for a complete breakdown of the Korean armistice talks, the Associated Press learned today.

As this stand became known, censorship eased off and permitted the Associated Press to give for the first time since the Korean war began some background on how United Nations prisoners are faring in communist camps.

Some are having a bitter time of it. Others are comparatively well treated.

Approximately 11,000 United States soldiers are missing in action. An unknown number of thousands of these are in enemy hands. But allies have consistently adhered to provisions of the international Red Cross committee and supplied the names and locations of the 165,000 Red prisoners. The enemy has refused to abide by the Geneva conventions.

In the whole war, the Reds have supplied the names of only 110 United Nations captives.

What sort of lives are United Nations prisoners leading in prisoner camps behind enemy lines? As far as available information goes, carefully pieced together from various informed sources, which cannot be identified, here is what is known:

1. In some communist camps prisoners are made to work hard. In others, captives are assigned no jobs.

2. Food in some of the camps is adequate. In the remainder, it is extremely poor.

3. Some prisoners in communist hands are well treated. These are the men the communists feel they can use for their own purposes—such as propagana broadcasts.

4. Other prisoners are not so fortunate. They are badly treated.

5. Nothing is known of the morale of prisoners of the communists.

In some cases, letters, from allied captives have been allowed to filter through Red Cross channels to relatives in the free world. But no Red Cross food packages have ever reached the United Nations soldiers in communist camps.

Ford Strike Settlement Move Likely

Windsor, Ont., Dec. 14.—(CP)—A settlement move in the strike at the Ford Motor Company of Canada may come today.

A meeting of members of Local 200 of the United Automobile Workers (C.I.O.) will consider still-secret proposals for ending the wildcat walkout Dec. 3 of 9,000 production workers that climaxed six months of contract negotiations and was touched off by the firing of 26 union men blamed for causing work stoppages.

These proposals may include a plan which Walter Reuther, the U.A.W.'s international president, said last night he had worked out with George Burt, Canadian director of the U.A.W. and officers of the Windsor Ford Local.

Mr. Reuther revealed no details of the plan. His usual step of issuing the statement of the eve of the union membership meeting was an apparent move to offset reports that he had moved into the situation to "lay down the law" to the U.A.W.'s Canadian leaders.

However, he said in the statement that the international union "insists on termination of the unauthorized strike" and that he and Emile Mazey, international secretary-treasurer, had advised the Ford Local's executive board of "the clear-cut, firm opposition of the international union to unauthorized strikes which are in violation of the democratic procedures required by the union's constitution."

He added that this position was in conformity with that taken by Mr. Burt.

"Together with regional director Burt and the local union officers,

West's Plan Is Outlined By Jessup

Paris, Dec. 14—(AP)—American ambassador Philip C. Jessup told the United Nations political committee today the western powers will open disarmament negotiations with Russia "with the fixed desire and hope that they will result in agreement."

Explaining the revised western disarmament proposals, Jessup said it is obvious that fundamental differences remain between the Soviet Union and the west.

"We do not blink at the difficulties," he said, "but the task of disarmament is vital and we intend to get on with that task."

Negotiations would take place in a new disarmament commission the west wants to set up under the terms of the revised British-French-American resolution which Jessup formally introduced today.

Russia and the big three have agreed in principle on setting up such a commission but still differ almost completely on how to go further about disarming.

"It is in the spirit of widening the areas of agreement that we submit our revised draft," Jessup said, adding that the new resolution makes numerous concessions to demands put forth by Soviet foreign minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky during the secret big-four talks last week.

Jessup said basic east-west differences still exist—the west insists that disarmament must be gradual, step by-step, closely supervised throughout, and culminating in prohibition of the atomic bomb; the Soviet Union demands an immediate ban on the bomb and one-third reduction in armed forces by the major powers.

The concessions advanced today,

Movie Star's Agent Shot By Husband

By GENE HANDSAKER

Beverly Hills, Calif., Dec. 14.—(AP)—A blazing pistol cut down movie star Joan Bennett's agent as he was standing beside her in a parking lot last night. Police said her producer husband, Walter Wanger, admitted the shooting.

Police Chief Clinton Anderson quoted the prominent, grey-haired movie-maker:

"I shot him because he broke up my home."

Wanger was booked on suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder. He stayed in jail overnight. His arraignment was set for 10 a.m. (1 p.m. E.S.T.) today.

The victim, Jennings Lang, 39, was reported in "fairly satisfactory" condition. He underwent surgery lasting 1½ hours.

One .38-calibre bullet penetrated his groin and came out through the rear of his left leg, Anderson said. The other slug tore through Lang's clothing and grazed his thigh.

A bullet ripped through the left front fender of Miss Bennett's big green convertible. She was sitting in the car when the gun roared, about 5:30 p.m., in a parking lot across the street from the Beverly Hills police station.

Lang was standing by the car talking to her. He doubled over, clutching at his abdomen.

Anderson quoted Miss Bennett as saying she told Wanger:

"Get away and leave us alone."

She told the police chief that her relations with her agent were purely business.

Two policemen took 57-year-Wanger into custody on the parking lot.

Miss Bennett, 41, was quoted by Chief Anderson as relating:

About 2:30 p.m. she went into the nearby Music Corporation of America building to see Lang, her agent for 12 years.

They took a drive around Beverly Hills and Hollywood in his car, discussing a proposed television show for her. They returned to the parking lot about 5:20.

She and Lang got out of his car and walked over to hers. She got in, he stood beside the door. They talked a few minutes. She had turned the motor and lights on when the gun flashed and roared and she saw Wanger standing nearby.

The veteran producer of many films, including "Stage Coach", "Foreign Correspondent" and the financially ill-fated "Joan of Arc", was questioned at length and fingerprinted.

Chief Anderson quoted Wanger as saying he warned Lang last January, in New York, that he'd shoot anybody who might break up his home.

The hint of discord between the couple was as shocking to Hollywood as the sudden burst of gunfire.

Lang, the father of two children, is head of west-coast television operations for Music Corporation of America.

Chief Anderson told reporters that Miss Bennett thought her husban has been on the verge of a nervous breakdown because of financial troubles.

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was brought against him by the Bank of America for $178,476. To satisfy unpaid loans to Wanger, the bank moved last September to foreclose on the couple's $150,000 home in fashionable Holmby Hills.

Imminent Capture Of Jewel Thieves Gang Is Expected

New York, Dec. 14—(CP)—An international gang of 16 jewel thieves, most of them Canadians, is reported on the verge of capture.

A New York police source, who predicted imminent arrests, said last night that most of the gang now are in Canada. Ten were reported in Toronto, one in Vancouver, two already are in prison and another was expected to be taken into custody shortly.

A high-ranking police official, who asked that his name not be used, said the expected arrests would solve a series of hotel and apartment burglaries here in which more than $1,000,000 worth of gems has been stolen in the last 18 months.

(In Toronto, the Globe and Mail reported in a copyright story that all members of the gang are Canadians. The newspaper estimated the gang's loot from robberies both in Canada and the United States at more than $3,000,000 and said most of it had been taken to the Toronto area for sale to known "fences."

(Toronto police had no comment, either on the Globe and Mail story or on the New York report.)

A New York city detective, James McShane, was said to have reported that a Loretta Nesbitt was arrested by Royal Canadian Mounted Police in Toronto. She was identified by McShane as an acquaintance of all 16 alleged members of the ring.

McShane and an insurance company investigator have been working on the case in Canada. They have made two trips to Toronto recently, the last one only Wednesday.

The police source quoted McShane as reporting that Miss Nesbitt was arrested "in an automobile which has interested New Jersey police investigating the Willie Moretti slaying" and that she had been arraigned in Toronto on a stolen-car charge.

Moretti, a well-known gambler and underworld figure, was shot to death in a Cliffside Park, N.J., restaurant Oct. 4. The murder is unsolved. There have been reports he was executed by underworld gunmen because it was feared he would become too talkative with government officials investigating crime.

McShane also was reported to have said that all members of the ring have police records and are "known" to Canadian authorities. His report to police also said that American officials in Canada are interested in the case on the assumption that the ring's operations had involved illegal crossings of the border.

It was pointed out that all the hotel and apartment robberies here had been committed by what police call "prowls"—in which pass-keys and celluloid slips have been used to gain entrance rather than force or weapons.

Five jewel thefts reported here during the last six months, however, have netted thieves gems valued at more than $100,000.

These robberies, all staged on Manhattan's east side, included thefts at the apartment of James Mason, the actor, with $30,000 in jewels taken; at the Mayfair house apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Vietor, $30,470 in jewels taken; at the Waldorf Astoria hotel suite of Mr. and Mrs. Chester H. Lehman, $20,000 in jewels taken, and at the Hotel Savoy Plaza apartment of Mrs. William du Pont, $20,595 in jewels taken.

Birthday Today

London, Dec. 14.—(AP)—The King is 56 years old today.

Now well advanced in his recovery from a serious lung operation in September, he spent the morning reading messages of congratulation from many parts of the world.

Members of the Royal Family attended a birthday luncheon at Buckingham Palace.

While today is the King's real birthday, it is usually celebrated throughout the Commonwealth in June.

Waxey Gordon's Racketeering Ends

New York, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Waxey Gordon, top racketeer in the roaring prohibition 1920s, reached the end of the trail yesterday—a prison sentence that amounts to a life term.

The onetime big-shot mobster took it without batting an eye, even as Judge Francis L. Valente said with grim satisfaction:

"It should ring down the curtain of your parasitical and lawless life."

Gordon was arrested as a dope peddler last Aug. 3, sniveling on his knees to police to "Please kill me—shoot me . . . I'm an old man and I'm through . . . Don't take me in for junk (dope)."

Judge Valente gave him two sentences of 25 years to life. They are to be served together. However, at the age of 64, Gordon almost certainly will spend the rest of his life in prison. His real name is Irving Wexler.

Montreal, Dec. 14.—(CP)—Five firemen were injured and three families forced into near-zero weather in an outbreak in a three-storey building in the city's north end.

The fire, which lasted less than an hour started at 5:40 p.m. yesterday.

The firemen suffered second-degree burns on the face and arms in an explosion caused by a back draft.

Damage in the homes was kept to smoke and water.

Content Of CBC Broadcasts Comes Under Commons Fire

Ottawa, Dec. 14—(CP)—A battle of ideologies raged in the Commons yesterday.

It grew out of a controversial series of broadcasts made over the CBC in its Wednesday night programs by noted physicians, psychologists and philosophers speaking on religious, moral and similar subjects.

The debate broke across party lines, with some members protesting that such subjects should not be aired in the home while others upheld the broadcasts on the ground that there must be freedom of speech on the air

Some expressed fear for children hearing such broadcasts.

It ended with Revenue Minister McCann, the minister who reports to parliament for the CBS, conceding that "in this particular instance probably something got over the air which it would have been better for the great majority of our people not to have been permitted to go over the air."

The discussion developed on a government bill to provide the CBC with grants of $6,250,000 annually for a five-year period. The legislation later was adopted and now goes to the Senate.

The protests centred around broadcasts by Bertrand Russell, eminent British Philosopher; Dr. Anna Freud, daughter of the famed founder of psycho-analysis; Dr. Carl Binger, professor of psychiatry at Cornell university New York; Dr. Ewen Cameron, professor of psychiatry at McGill university; and Dr. Brock Chisholm, Canadian psychiatrist of international renown and chairman of the world health organization.

John Blackmore (SC—Lethbridge), a school teacher and father of 12 children, protested that Dr. Chisholm held views on birth control that were against the teachings of the Bible and against the views of 89 per cent of the Canadian people.

The CBC was allowing over the airways ar "indoctrination" process by a man who wanted to dry up the source of all manpower. This indoctrination was a "monstrosity" which "petrifies the imagination."

R. R. Knight (CCF—Saskatoon) took the view that limitation of such broadcasts would breach the freedom of speech.

As for children, he encouraged his child to "see everything and examine everything and then bring to bear that intelligence of his own that he may make his own choice." His responsibility was to "guide him along what I believe is the proper road and to provide him with a good example," to see that he is "equipped with the ability with which to make this choice."

Dr. Pierre Gauthier (L—Portneuf) protested that he did not want to see Canada's children become "a bunch of sex maniacs." It was immoral to say that children should be left "free with their sex appetites."

Children were not prepared to "assimilate, digest and differentiate." It was up to their parents and to professors in universities to prepare them for such views.

Clarie Gillis (CCF—Cape Breton South) agreed that such views were not for the ears of children. If the CBC found it necessary to present such broadcasts, they should be aired as a forum, with another speaker there to give the opposing opinion and a chairman to maintain balance.

'LOVER BOY' TAG SURPRISES BOB TAYLOR; HE ISN'T THE TYPE

Hollywood—Robert Taylor, I'm reporting today, is blinking at the card entitling him to full membership in the Hollywood Lover Boys fraternity and gasping:

"Who, me?"

The spirited, hot-blooded band of loving movie kings headed by Errol Flynn, Tom Neal and Franshot Tone will just have to do without Bob. He was nominated for honors plus earlier this year by an Italian actress named Lia de Leo, who announced, through a press agent, that Bob had swept her off her little feet.

He's plumb sorry, Bob told me, but he isn't the type.

Not even a bush-league Errol Flynn!

"It's very flattering and all that," Bob grinned.

"But . . .?" I butted in.

"But it ain't me," he wailed. "I'm reasonably certain of that."

It beats Bob why they're pinning the 1951 version of the "Chicken Inspector" badge on him.

Or why he was linked with everybody but Queen Mary and Beatrice Lillie while he was in London making "Invanhoe.'

"They made me quite a gay blade," Bob sighed. "Why, they even had me in Paris with Joan Fontaine. I hadn't even been to Paris, much less with Fontaine."

Just Quiet Guy

He was, Bob explained, a pretty quiet guy whom a lot of people don't know and "if I tried to be anything else, I'd make a heck of a mess of it. I've done very few colorful things in my lifetime. I've never been lost in a Mexican jungle and I don't climb mountains."

It's hunky-dory with him if the tongue-waggers insist on thinking that he sprouted iridescent tail feathers under the Italian skies while the cameras rolled on "Quo Vadis."

But Bob's pretty sure that his plumage isn't any brighter as a movie bird today that it was when he hit Hollywood in 1934.

He got through making "Westward the Women" with 200 actresses at a Kanab, Utah, location without inspiring a front-page valentine from any of them.

"Of course," he grinned, "I wasn't surrounded by the most beautiful women in the world. There wasn't a Miss America among them. They were mostly stunt girls and rodeo girls—real rugged dames.

"But they were wonderful. They'd stand in the howling wind all day, get grimy and dirty, then they'd go to the pool hall for recreation at night."

Denise Darcel, his leading lady, didn't make goo-goo eyes at him except before the cameras.

"Man, how she got her English balled up! She had everybody hysterical. Every day it would take her three hours to get her English straightened out. At breakfast, nobody could understand a word she'd say. But around 10 o'clock, she'd start making sense."

Five Years To Go

Over at MGM, Bob's down on the contract list with another five years to go.

He isn't sure that he wants to go on acting after that.

"I just know that I'm going to finish out this five-year spread," he said. "After that, I'm not planning.

"I like to work. I'm happiest when my career is going well and I'm probably unhappiest when it's not. But I've never wanted to jump off bridges about my career."

As a star who'd shucked off the too-handsome curse, I wanted to know, did Bob have any tips to relay to John Derek and Tony Curtis?

"They need tips?" he said.

"Could be."

Bob thought it over.

"I don't see why people can't be good-looking and be good actors, too. It's all a matter of a good sprinkling of luck, help from the studio and your own integrity.

"Look," said Bob, "I didn't think I was good-looking enough. At one time I figured on getting my nose straightened out and my ears pinned back. I thought my ears looked like the flaps on an airplane."

He rubbed his famous widow's peak trademark thoughtfully.

'I'm getting kinda worried about this," he said. "It may disappear any day now. My father was as bald as a goose egg at my age."

Jane Wyman is serious about her new-found warbling career and is agreeing with her current wax hit, "I Love That Feeling." She's already recorded six sides for Decca and two more will be in the music stores soon.

Sonny Burke, west coast recording director for Decca, predicts she'll become a regular, making 16 to 20 records a year, as many as Dinah Shore.

"She's a stylist," says Burke. "Her voice has an identity you just can't miss."

Landmark Of Prohibition Days In Nova Scotia Is Condemned

Halifax, Dec. 14.—(AP)—The law has finally caught up with 113 Market St., the impregnable "rum fortress" of Nova Scotia's roaring prohibition days.

The little frame house up the hill a few streets from the waterfront has been declared unfit for human habitation and ordered removed.

For old timers it will be the end of an era.

It was the roaring '20s, the lights burned late at 113 and the rum flowed free. On deserted bits of beach along the coast furtive little men waited as rum-laden boats nosed in out of the Atlantic mists with new supplies for the booming bootlegging trade that blossomed during the life of the Nova Scotia temperance act.

Through it all 113 did a steady business.

Outside, the law officers listened in frustrated rage.

The steel doors and shuttered windows of 113 had defied their best efforts. Behind the high fence vicious dogs were on patrol.

On the few occasions that the police did manage to enter the house the ringleaders were missing. Usually, after a court case against the few found in the house, there was a bigger and better celebration at the "fortress".

The day after one such court appearance was the annual police and fireman's parade. At the head of the parade was the band, in a horse-drawn wagon.

Proudly driving the wagon was the proprietor of 113 Market St.

But perhaps the most troublesome, to the police, was the galvanized iron chute which led down to a pile of rocks in the basement.

When police arrived those inside the house with evidence simply tossed their bottles down the chute. The bottles smashed on the rocks and the rum ran down a drain. Result: No evidence.

No. 113 is different now. The ceilings sag and a steel patch hangs over a hole chopped in the upstairs wall when one ingenious customs man once entered.

Nine Sharp

laughing at the same instant. "Well," he said, "so it's you. The girl in a hurry. Why do you practically break your neck, rushing through the train and running up the stairs every morning? Why don't you take the 8:03 like the other secretaries?"

"I used to," she said laughing as she sat down and poised a pencil above the shorthand book on her crossed knees. "But a week ago I decided I liked the 8:26 better. Of course, Miss McCarthy insists on our being here at 9 sharp. Mother drives me to the head of the stairs on the railroad bridge, I dash down the steps and into the first car a split second before the train pulls out."

He rifled through some papers on his desk. "So that's why I never see you on the platform. I look for you every morning."

"Do you?" She looked straight at him and smiled. "Well, I see you in the smoker every day." He could have sworn she'd never seen him. "I knew you worked here. I've been in the steno pool three months. I used to see you on the earlier train. But you never noticed me. So," she said audaciously, "I decided to take your train even if I did break my neck getting here by 9 sharp."

The telephone rang. It was Miss McCarthy, her voice low. "Will Dorothy Maine be a satisfactory secretary for you?"

"Satisfactory? Perfect! Couldn't be better. Thanks a million." He smiled at Dorothy. "I'll see she gets to work each day at nine sharp." Then he and Dorothy looked at each other a long moment and burst into delighted laughter. Office romances are possible, he thought happily, if they begin on the train.

THE END

Fournier Heads Circo Long Service Assoc.

J. T. A. Fournier was unanimously elected president for the ensuing year at the annual meeting of the Circo Long Service Association on Monday night. Mr. Fournier was previously first vice-president and succeeds R. F. Whatley.

After the opening of the meeting with the singing of O Canada, President Whatley welcomed over one hundred members and guests and expressed his particular pleasure at the presence of a large number of Life Members. Vice-President Fournier expressed a similar welcome in French.

After reading of minutes and correspondence by secretary Jack Cook, reports were presented by various committee chairmen. W. Spackman and D. Gagne, co-chairmen of the Welfare Committee, reported on active members on the sick list and George Parsons gave a similar report on Life Members. Treasurer N. W. Robins read the financial statement which was accepted by the meeting. W. H. Griffith and R. Carter, joint chairmen of the membership committee, reported forty-five Life members, one hundred and twenty-four active members in Sherbrooke, twenty-three members in Head Office and branches, which with two non-active members made a total of one hundred and ninety-four.

The Philanthropic Committee report, presented by A. Hedenbergh, recorded the deaths in 1951 of W. Davidson, H. V. Haight, Treffle Lamelin, Treffle Gelinas, W. Tobin and J. Anderson. One minute's silence was observed in their memory.

G. M. Young, Works Manager, was a guest of the meeting and was introduced by Miss E. Odell. Mr. Young officiated at the presentation of service medallions. New members receiving their 25 year buttons were P. Buckland, J. P. Guy, G. Lane, J. Mitchell, A. W. Patton, H. Swensoon, H. J. Twyman and C. Steele. A thirty year button went to A. Bray and thirty-five year buttons to H. Maddiss, A. Blais, S. Langley, W. G. A. McKeage and A. Thivierge with forty year buttons going to D. S. McLean, A. St. Cyr, and P. Swallow.

In his remarks Mr. Young congratulated the Long Service Association on the fine work it is doing and on behalf of the members thanked President Whatley and the retiring executive for the able way in which they had conducted the affairs of the Association.

D. McLean reported the successful results of the Turkey Raffle, the winners of which were L. Hutchison, J. Mead, I. Perkins, H. Neeley and A Lefebvre.

Past President G. M. Dick presented the following slate of officers for 1952: Honorary President, A. S. Johnston; president, J. T. A. Fournier; first vice-president, D. S. McLean; second vice-president, Robert Cote; secretary, John Cook; treasurer, N. W. Robins; information officers, W. H. Griffith and G. H. Logie and publicity officers, E. T. Harbert and H. G. Soper.

W. H. Griffith, E. Siveright and A. Noble acted as scrutineers and reported the unanimous election of this slate. President Whatley thanked his executive and the members for their suport in the past year and turned the chair over to newly elected President Fournier. Mr. Fournier thanked the members on behalf of himself and the new executive and presented Mr. Whatley with a Past President's jewel. G. H. Logie made a presentation to W. Perkins for his help to the Association in their various activities.

A. Buzzell, chairman of the Social Committee, introduced K. Birch who favoured the gathering with a number of piano selections. Following a moving picture "Nechako Survey," dealing with the aluminum development in British Columbia, the members adjourned to the new cafeteria at the invitation of P. Loubert, where refreshments were served.

Frost Village Farm Forum Holds Meeting

Frost Village, Dec. 14. — The Frost Village Farm Forum met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Bowker at Warden. Fourteen High School pupils were present. The members and visitors were divided into three groups for discussion on "Folk School for Farm People." A lack of capable leaders seem to be the unanimous opinion. There was also some discussion about a folk school in Waterloo. Money, vegetables, fruit, groceries or cooking are to be left at Mr. Lloyd Maynes for the Children' Home at Bondville. Mr. Orval Lewis kindly offered to convey them to Bondville. Minutes were read by the secretary, Mr. Andrew Bowker. Old fashion parlor games were played for entertainment, which were much enjoyed by the teen-agers. Lunch was served by the hostess.

Mr. Herbert McElroy, secretary, read the minutes and the Green Leaf. The questions on "Folk Schools For Farm People," were discussed by four groups. Refreshments were served and a social time was spent.

Glimpses Into the Past

threw a glimpse our way in telling how Dr. Wales came to his father's house of an evening for chess. One such evening he received a call, left the table and his chess partner and on his bicycle went to his patient and back in time to finish the game. Mrs. W. A. Bishop recalls that she has a little girl's rocking chair given her by "our good doctor" and still kept as a souvenir of days gone by.

Dr. Wales married Emma, daughter of Wellington Osgood, another early settler in the Townships. They lived in Bury from 1878 to 1906 at which time they went to St. Andrews East. Of their union there were three daughters, Julia Grace, for many years a teacher in the University of Wisconsin; Anna Letitia, companion of her parents, and active worker in church and community life, and Margaret Evelyn, for several years engaged in public welfare work. These three ladies are now living in St. Andrews East, at the old homestead.

When living at St. Andrews during his retirement, Dr. Wales wrote local historic sketches which appeared in the Montreal Gazette and Lachute Watchman. Later these were compiled and printed in book form—now out of print. The title was "Old St. Andrews." For fifty years (28 in Bury and 22 in St. Andrews) Dr. Wales was secretary-treasurer of the Bible Society, and for several years coroner of the district; he was one of the founders of the Historical Society of Argenteuil County, and of the Historical Museum at Careller, Que. In the latter there is a room known as the Wales Memorial Library.

Miss Julia Grace Wales, in a personal letter writes: "My great-grandfather, Benjamin Wales, whose ancestor, Nathaniel Wales, emigrated from England in 1635, came to New England, then to St. Andrews in 1802. He was one of a group who started the first paper mill in Canada. My grandfather Charles was a merchant for many years then his business passed, first to Charles Wales, my uncle, then to a cousin, Charles Stowe Wales, who continued the business until his death in 1946." Dr. Wales died in 1938 and his wife in 1946.

In taking these glimpses into the life of a highly esteemed early resident we learn something of their activities and devotion. Dr. Wales left a record that is a sermon to many men of today. He gave of his best as a physician and still had time and desire to help his fellow man. In searching for details of this sketch we became keenly interested relative to kinship. What relation was Dr. Benj. Wales to Horace P. Wales who founded the Wales Home at Richmond? When asked, Mr. Maurice Stokes and several others did not know. Then in Miss Wales' letter she writes this: "So far as we know there is no relation, unless a distant cousinship, which was not recorded." But we do know that these two men did great deeds for the Townships in which they lived as pioneers. It is also interesting to note that Elmore Cushing's daughter (another old and esteemed early settler) married Mr. Wales, and it was their grandson who gave some 162 acres of beautiful country along with other property to the creation of the Wales Home for Aged People.

Skilled Labor Immigrants Create Jobs For Canadians, States N. E. S.

Not only do highly-skilled immigrants not put Canadian workers out of jobs but they actually increase job opportunities for the native born, says a statement made this morning by E. H. Fortier, local manager of the National Employment Service.

To prove this is a true situation as far as Sherbrooke is concerned, Mr. Fortier quoted satistics, prepared by his service, in order to still "circulating rumors among the public and opinions voiced at the last meeting of the City Council."

The manager issued a chart showing that 103 highly-skilled immigrants had created jobs for 700 Canadians, who might otherwise have been unemployed because of the Dominion-wide shortage of the key labor necessary in the steel industry, which industry he use as his example.

Mr. Fortier uses four local shops, without giving their names but referring to them as Companies A. B. C, and D., and shows the existing situation at each, after all efforts made to find the key personnel needed failed in a skilled-labor drive in the city, province and other provinces.

"A Company. From March to November, 1951, this firm has hired 62 immigrants representing 12 different nationalities but possessing all the necessary qualifications and experience in precision work including advanced knowledge of shop mathematics. During the same period, March to November, the same company hired a total of 576 of whom 62 were immigrants and 514 Canadians. Had this firm not had the 62 skilled immigrants, we are convinced that not more than 125 Canadians could have been given work but by having these 62 keymen, work was thereby created for 390 to 400 additional hands.

"B Company. An identical situation existed with this firm and after this office was unsuccessful in obtaining the requested skilled labor either locally or from other Provinces, 8 immigrants representing 4 nationalities were hired, and this has permitted adding on 15 Canadians who could not have been taken on otherwise.

"C Company. This company required the services of 3 men with special qualifications and whom were not available anywhere in this country. These men were found among immigrants and this has permitted this firm to accept a contract which will employ 50 additional local hands.

"D Compnay. This company has hired 30 immigrants over a year ago and this has been responsible for giving work to 110 or 120 Canadian workers.

"It is worth mention that one of our leading employers in the steel indutsry is holding regular courses to qualify 1st class machinists. Should they qualify, these men will be given every encouragement towards obtaining key positions. Said courses are given at the company's expense and we understand that there are 148 attendants. This I believe is tangible proof of the company's good faith and feelings towards employing Canadians in

416,000 U. S. Smokes Seized At South Bolton

Royal Canadian Mounted Police today disclosed the recent seizure of 416,000 United States cigarets at South Bolton.

J. Charles Chagnon, of Mansonville, was detained for appearance later in court at Sweetsburg, and a truck was confiscated.

The seizure was made by members of the Sutton detachment of the R.C.M.P.

Cab Knocks Truck Into Residence On Wellington St.

Two persons named Roy but who, police say, are not related were admitted to the Hotel Dieu last evening after their taxi crashed into the rear of a parked truck, knocking the truck to the front wall of a house on Wellington street south.

Taxi driver Norbert Roy, 47, Belmont Hotel, suffered head injuries and his fare, Mrs. Roland Roy, 21, of 28 St. Andre street, received injuries to her knees and a bad cut over one eyebrow.

The truck was parked in front of 272 Wellington South.

The truck, a 1942-model one-ton vehicle, property of Sam Smith, was parked in front of 272 Wellington south, and unoccupied, when the taxi hit it from the rear. The truck was knocked against the front part of a home at 262 Wellington south, causing minor damage to the house.

Heavy damage was caused the taxi, a 1951 Monarch sedan, while the truck received medium damage.

Police Constable J. C. de Blois and Detective Henri Boisvert investigated.

Loan By-Laws May Be Delayed Beyond Monday

Despite long sessions and extended discussion, the Sherbrooke aldermen are still doubtful if the series of loan by-laws providing for the borrowing of approximately $5,000,000 for various public works will be available for actual presentation at Monday evening's regular session.

Although formal notice of the by-laws has been presented for some time, the aldermen are seeking to cut down the overall total of the loans which amount to $4,675,000 and when the measures actually come up for study they may show a material change from the present line-up which comprises: Permanent works, $1,900,000; improvements to the electric system, $900,000; water filtration plant, $1,000,000; new baseball stadium, $200,000; an industrial building, $175,000 and a new bridge linking the North and West wards, $900,000.

Special authorization having been received from the Quebec Legislature to spend up to $800,000 for industrial buidings, it is possible the $175,000 by-law may be withdrawn from the referendum list and charged to the special authorization.

Due to the difficulty in obtaining steel and cement, the Council may cut down the baseball stadium appropriation to $100,000 to cover the erection of a temporary structure to serve until such time as a proper permanent stadium can be erected.

Efforts are also being made to prune the permanent works by-law, but the rapid growth of the city makes this difficult, most of the aldermen feeling that more, not less, work should be done.

In addition to the loan by-laws, the aldermen are also studying a request from the Bus drivers' union asking that the new operators of the service in Sherbrooke be compelled to take over on a seniority basis the present employees of the Sherbrooke City Transit Company. The aldermen are sympathetic to the request of these 78 men but are doubtful if the new operators would consider such an amendment to the contract which already has been concluded.

It is against the law to mow the lawn on Sunday in New York City.

Fire Chief Warns Not To Use Flame On Frozen Pipes

With the first cold wave of the season now upon us, Director of the Fire Department, W. P. Donahue, has issued a warning to citizens against the use of open flames, such as open torches and ignited, oiled, rags, to thaw out frozen water pipes.

"As most of the pipes are in the cellar, where there are apt to be cobwebs and other things inflammable, this is a dangerous procedure," Chief Donahue says.

"If you must thaw out your pipes, without assistance from a plumber," he adds, "the safest method is to cover a section of the pipe with rags and pour hot water over them."

Still Seizure Hearings Set Today

Arthur Rancourt, of Sherbrooke, and Henri Desaulniers, of Stoke, were scheduled to appear before Judge Joseph Marier today on charges arising from the seizure of a still at Stoke last October.

Rancourt is charged with being found in possession of illicit spirits, with operating a still and with being found in possession of a quantity of smuggled American cigarets.

Desaulniers, described as the owner of the farm where the still was found, is charged with being found in possession of a still.

The still was seized Oct. 4th by members of the Sherbrooke detachment of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police under Cpl. J. R. P. Laliberte.

Oasis Club Members Have Bowling Night

The Oasis Club of the Blind met on Thursday evening for bowling. Eighteen blind persons bowled, Roland Laliberte was high man with a score, for the evening, of 83, and Miss Bourque, of Magog, was high lady with a score of 65.

Albert Trudeau represented the Sherbrooke Lions Club all by himself last evening. Owing to the great number of activities at present being carried on by the local Lions; he was very busy most of the time, but he did a great job, and had some assistance from Mr. Roch, who brought the Magog contingent in.

Refreshments were served at the close of the evening with Mrs. Arthur Nadeau, of Magog, Mrs. Neil Tracy, Mrs. Ben Schofield, and Miss Rachel Lessard doing the honours.

Missing Bricks At Chimney Base Sets Small Fire

A fire from a defective chimney base caused light damage to the kitchen wall last night in the home of George Lafond, 185 Melbourne street.

Several bricks had become dislodged from the base of the chimney, which starts in the kitchen, and fire officials believe a spark leaped through the gap and onto the wall.

Firemen from No. 1 station responded to the phoned-in alarm at 6:24 o'clock and were back in less than half an hour.

Director W. P. Donahue, Capt. Eugene Fortier and Lieut. L. P. Lessard headed the fire-fighters.

Four Killed In Maskinonge Accident

Three Rivers, Dec. 14.—(CP)—A Montreal-Quebec passenger train ripped into a light automobile at a level crossing in Maskinonge yesterday, killing four persons and strewing debris as far as half a mile away.

So mangled were the victims—three were killed on the spot and the other died shortly after being admitted to hospital—that immediate identification was difficult.

The victims, all from Montreal, were finally identified as Mrs. Victor Lagarde, 55, her son, Bernard, 25, driver of the car, her daughter, Madeleine, student-nurse in a Montreal hospital, and her three-year-old grandson, Richard.

A. C. W. W. Will Meet In Canada

The Associated Country Women of the World will hold its 7th Triennial Conference in Canada. This country's invitation was accepted at the time of the biennial convention of the Federated Women's Institutes of Canada this past June, and word has just been received by the national president, Mrs. Hugh Summers, Fonthill, Ont., that the A.C.W.W. has now set the date. This will be Aug. 12 to 23, 1953, with place of meeting the Royal York Hotel, Toronto. The theme of the conference will be, "How can the countrywoman as an individual and through her society take a more active part in international work."

Committees were set up at the A.C.W.W. convention to make arrangements for this important event, with Mrs. Summers heading the All-over A.C.W.W. Conference Committee. Mrs. G. D. Harvey, Stanbridge East, 1st vice-president, Quebec Women's Institutes, is a member of the Pre and Post Conference Tours Committee, with Mrs. Howard Thomas, Woodstock, N. B. as chairman. All provinces are being asked to suggest plans for these tours and a special request has been made that they should give an opportunity to observe Adult Education Centres and for making informal visits at farm homes.

The Q.W.I. president, Mrs. G. E. LeBaron, North Hatley, is convener of the Exhibits Committee and W. I. members in all provinces will be advised shortly of preliminary plans for this feature of the conference.

WATERLOO MAN NAMED

Quebec, Dec. 14—(CP)—F. R. Rand of Sackville, N.B., yesterday was elected president of the Canadian Institute of Stove and Furnace Manufacturers, at the close of its 11th annual meeting. He succeeds A. L. Acton of Ottawa.

New directors include J. C. Court, Waterloo, Que.

W. V. S. Pays Tribute To Quebec W. I.

Branches of the Quebec Women's Institutes have been commended by the Women's Voluntary Services, Montreal, for their faithfulness in continuing the Personal Parcel project through so many years. Commenting on the fact that so many send regularly the WVS add they hope, with the Christmas Spirit abroad and in view of the new austerity rationing in the United Kingdom, that all those who may have given up parcel sending will start again and that those who have never sent will now begin this satisfying project.

In this message received at the Q.W.I. office, the WVS goes on to say, "We know all the 'regular' senders will continue their efforts and take this opportunity of thanking them for all they have done and send to all the best wishes of the Montreal WVS for Christmas and the New Year."

This month's reports from the branches reveal many are sending that special Christmas box in addition to the monthly routine, but for any who wish to join in this work and become a "regular" names of those most in need, taken from lists supplied by the WVS, may be had by applying to the Q.W.I office.

Government Will Help Quebec City Get Out Of Its Financial Problems

Quebec, Dec. 14—(CP)—The Quebec government will spend $250,000 to get old Quebec city out of a financial row with its 28 suburbs.

The dispute arose over the provincial capital's plan to end a 10-year old system of sharing revenue from its two-per-cent municipal sales tax with the suburbs.

The case was argued last night at a crowded meeting of the private bills committee of the Legislative Assembly.

It was settled when Premier Duplessis announced the government will grant Quebec city $250,000 to be applied to its sinking fund and to debt payment.

The Premier suggested that the federal government which also owns a lot of tax-free property in the provincial capital should come through with an equivalent amount.

Rene Chaloult (Nat.—Quebec) suggested that religious communities enjoying property-tax exemptions should "in their own interest" help relieve the city.

The committee hearing was the highlight of proceedings yesterday in the Legislature which next week will be adjourned for the holiday season until Jan. 8.

The Legislative Assembly approved a government bill to increase exemption of small estates from provincial succession duties. The elected house also approved 1951-52 budget estimates totalling $1,941,000 for the fisheries department.

It was in the midst of discussion of estimates of $2,030,000 for the game department when it was adjourned until this morning.

The Legislative Council, appointed provincial Upper House, passed a government bill for expenditure of $6,000,000 in the next three years for medical diagnosis centres, one of them in Montreal.

The Upper House also approved a bill to reduce the cost of hospital care for public charities patients to rural municipalities.

Quebec city's plan to end payments to its suburbs out of sales tax revenues first was laid before the legislature last week. The provincial capital's sales tax yields $2,000,000 a year and by an agreement dating back to 1941, 33 per cent of this revenue is doled out to the suburbs.

The 1941 census is the basis of the payments claimed by the suburbs since their citizens do much of their shopping in Quebec.

Quebec city made the proposal that it hold all the revenue from its sales tax because it faced next year a deficit of $1,200,000 on a budget of about $8,000,000.

Part of the anticipated deficit has been overcome by new taxation and part by borrowing but Quebec still expected to go $280,000 into the red.

Spokesmen for the suburbs said their budgets are balanced with their share in Quebec sales tax revenues and if these stopped or were reduced all would have deficits.

19.7 Inches Of Snow Fell Here Last Month

Believe it or not—19.7 inches of snow fell last month in the local area according to meteorological data released today by officials at the Dominion Experimental Station in Lennoxville.

During the month of November last year only 5.7 inches of snow fell. The average monthly snowfall for the past 37 years is 9.41 inches. More than a foot and a half of snow fell last month but to look at the fields today you would find it hard to believe.

The average temperature last month was 28.22 degrees compared with 37.47 degrees for the same period last year.

The highest temperature recorded for the past month was 65 which occurred on the 14th while on the 28th the mercury dropped to 8 below.

A total of 1.75 inches of rain fell last month compared with 4.42 inches for the same period last year.

CONFOUNDING THE NUISANCE

One is inclined to wonder if the Government has not followed the traditional course of bureaucracy in its move to abolish door-to-door canvassers for the $2.50 radio license fee through replacing it by a worse form of nuisance with little likelihood of greater returns. Certainly there will be approval of the elimination of the license peddlars, but few if any radio listeners will slacken their demands for a complete abolition of the license fee. It is claimed that $100,000 will be saved on commision to canvassers but Ottawa says nothing about the salaries and expenses of the fifty inspectors, eight of them at the head office in the Capital, who will devote all their time to checking on licenses and prosecuting householders who fail to appear at the post office and other appointed places to pay the fee. Certainly they will set the Government back more than $2,000 per official.

As one commentator regards this new form of government economy, "it is saving a buck here and throwing two away there."

It cost $675,779 to collect roundly five and a half million in radio licence fees last year. That made cost of collection 12 per cent, which is out of bounds for costs in securing revenue. The average cost of collecting federal taxes in Canada is fractionally less than two per cent. There is no conviction that fifty inspectors will, considering the expanse of Canada, come anywhere near making everybody pay. The escapees will remain a very large number and that fact adds to the anomaly or the iniquity of the radio licence fee system. No law is any good that can't be enforced; no tax is just or right that is not reasonably sure of being collected at least close to 100 per cent. It has long been known that the radio licence fee is left unpaid by many thousands, the yardstick for that conclusion being taken from the number of radio sets being sold in Canada.

Parliamen thas adopted the public subsidy for the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, $6,250,000 annually for the next four years. No matter how the money is raised, the public will pay. Why not abolish the fee system entirely, avoid that $600,000 cost of collection and hand out sufficient subsidy to take care of CBC without the public nuisance fee and the institution of 50 salaried inspectors, who by the very nature of their jobs will have to do a lot of snooping?

TWO GERMAN DOCTORS

A heart-warming story of two immigrant German physicians is told by the Edmonton Journal.

Julius and Hanna Kratz, husband and wife, graduates of a German medical school, came to Canada three years ago. Before that they had practised medicine in Palestine after leaving Hitler's Germany in 1933.

In Quebec, the couple took a year as internes and thus qualified as interim practitioners in Canada. They went, then, to Fort Vermilion, one of the most northerly and most isolated communities in Alberta, and began serving its mixed population. Last year, Dr. Julius passed the medical council examinations which give him a permanent licence practise in Canada, and just recently Dr. Hanna did likewise.

But they are not leaving Fort Vermilion for the higher fees and more comfortable living of some larger centre to the south. The reason is clear, for when Dr. Hanna was in Winnipeg for her examinations she received a telegram of good wishes from 1,200 Indians, 1,000 Metis and 800 Ukrainians, Mennonites and Anglo-Saxons.

A SERIOUS SITUATION

Reports come from circulation managers of newspapers that it is becoming harder and harder to find carrier boys and keep them on the job.

The Printed word sounds a note of alarm about the "most disturbing bit of news." It adds:

"What will the banks and the big corporations do for presidents and board chairmen in the year 2000 if the crop of newspaper carrier boys withers away now? Where will the country turn for elder statesmen? How can there be big shots if they cannot refer to the time when they ran a paper route?"

Christmas is not far off. A great many householders never forget the faithful carrier at the door, the boy who in snow and rain makes sure that the newspaper is placed where its legibility is not diminished. And when a good lad is remembered — there are girls who also deliver the newspaper daily — it is a satisfactory thought that here is a little help, a little encouragement, given to good citizenship in the future, the very foundation of a well ordered and prosperous nation.

"JUICE" MAKES FRIENDS FOR WHITE HOUSE JESTER

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

Washington — (NEA) — From his plush, beautifully decorated office suite in the brand new World Center Building on 16th St., it's only on easy walk to the White House for George E. Allen, erroneously called the White House Jester.

He makes the walk frequently and when he gets to the gate outside, the guards wave him in without asking for a pass. Inside, he goes into the President's private office without the preliminary of making an appointment.

The beauty of George Allen's frequent walks and hearty welcome at the Executive Mansion is that there is an excellent chance they will continue regardless of almost who becomes President in 1952. He has the most unusual behind-the-scenes position in the present political situation ever enjoyed by one man.

George is one of the President's best personal friends. He is a buddy of Chief Justice Vinson, considered to be Truman's choice in case he doesn't run. He is one of General Eisenhower's closest personal friends in case the General gets the voters' nod. And he has a foot in the door of Senator Taft's camp.

George insists that he doesn't advise his friends on politics. Some observers say that he is the greatest political wire-pulller of his time. There's no question that he is in the perfect position to pull political wires if he wanted to try.

Big Time Executive

His main source of a considerable income is from serving as a member of the board of directors of 14 of the country's largest firms, being chairman of the board of a 15th, chairman of the advisory board of a 16th, member of the executive of the executive committee of a 17th and trustee of an 18th, an big insurance corporation.

Some of the companies he is associated with include Republic Steel, Steep Rock Iron Mines of Canada, Penn Mutual Life Insurance, ACF Brill Motors, Standard Gas & Electric Co. of Chicago, The W. L. Maxson Corp., and the Hill and Knowlton advertising and public relations firm.

He has his office with, and acts as counsel to, Alvord and Alvord one of Washington's most successful firms of general and income tax specialists. His closest and highest paid business connection is with AVCO Manufacturing company.

Just what is George Allen's value to these firms? He says his chief worth to them is as a sort of public relations adviser. Others say it's not what George does for them but who he knows for them.

In a chapter of his very funny book, "Presidents Who Have Known Me," he refers to an attribute called "juice," which he defines as the ability to get political favors, Allen writes:

"Some people might think I'm a big Washington juice man myself. My business associates, unfortunately for me, don't embrace this fallacy. If they did, they'd pay me more. The companies with which I am associated sometimes have business to do with the government, as almost every American company does these days.

Offers Real Advice

"I am able to tell my associates whom to do business with, how to make their way through the maze of red tape, and how best to conduct themselves but I can't make a better deal for them with the United States government than any of their competitors can make. I haven't that kind of juice."

Just what brand of juice George Allen does have certainly could be important, backstage, in the coming presidential election.

The most important ingredient in the Allen juice is a tremendously attractive personality. He's witty, gay and gregarious. He doesn't take himself too seriously. He plays golf, bridge and poker and is a wonderful story teller.

An ingredient in the Allen juice, somewhat disguised as far as the public is concerned, is a shrewd mind and real executive ability. As Commissioner of the District of Columbia's city government under Roosevelt he ran his part of the city with real ability and in the process became the father of the WPA idea.

Before coming to Washington he had been a fairly successful hotel man. As Chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation he did a good, blemish-free job.

PRESS COMMENTS

LOOK TO THE HIGHWAYS

Hamilton Spectator

Outspoken C.N.R. President Donald Gordon, who has a way of coming up with new and provoking ideas, hints the railways may go into the trucking business themselves.

"If the railways are to give the public the full benefit of co-ordinated techniques," he told a Toronto audience over the week-end, "an expansion of their service to include highway competition is inevitable. Indeed I have pointed out that the railways are not afraid of competition and it is interesting to observe that it is now the trucker who 'views with alarm'."

Mr. Gordon prefaced this with a claim that the railways have been jockeyed into a position where the newer forms of transportation are permitted to operate in their specialized fields without having to accept general obligations which are "the historic legacy of the railways." They are not, for example, obliged to provide all their own facilities.

All of which is intriguing enough in itself, but seems to prompt another big question: How will our highways expand to take care of both motorists and these growing fleets of trucks?

The size of some of the new road monsters — and who knows but some day soon they will be carrying railway freight cars over the highways to the points of destination — have given more than a broad hint of competition to come. They are actually straining our existing facilities and relief in this part of the world does not seem to be too near. Our present highways system is utterly inadequate for our prolifierating automotive traffic and to the individual motorist no less than to the truckers the strain is becoming intolerable. All the propaganda about accident prevention hinges on this unpleasant fact.

The challenge is not just to the railways; it is to our governments and to public thought. We are dreaming of new expansion while our foundations are restricted and antiquated.

Glimpses Into The Past

By BERTHA WESTON PRICE

A GOOD OLD DOCTOR

If we were to get busy sometime while searching under the leaves of yesterday and set our minds to learning something worth while about the first medical men who came into Canada as well-trained doctors, or those who came as student-pioneers, or even with no training more than high school, we would be surprised how few experienced medical men there were But they had courage and a will to do, so they left their studies at New England universities, or before they had entered college because they were filled with the spirit of adventure and the desire to be among the first pioneers.

Many of those "good old doctors" remained in the Townships and today they are well remembered by older residents. Among them we may have glimpses of a man who left a record of long and faithful work among the early settlers, and who did his part ably in the social and municipal life of his home town. Dr. Benjamin N. Wales spent the best part of his life in Bury, Compton County, though he was born at St. Andrews East, Argenteuil County, and spent his last years there in the old home.

Benjamin Nathanial Wales, M.D., C.M., graduated from McGill Medical College in 1874 and in the summer of 1877 he located in Sawyerville, Que. The next year he went to Robinson (Bury) where he practised for eighteen years as doctor and surgeon, and was for several years senior physician for that district. A general favorite with his neighbors and friends, Dr. Wales was widely known and highly esteemed. He took active interest in the life around him and brought credit to his abiding place and his family. He did not let his medical life become narrow; a great reader, he was in touch with the latest and best in the fast-growing Townships. Fond of chess, music, botany, gardening he was near to nature and did all in his power to induce others to follow in his path. In those days doctors depended largely on nature's gifts to the healing art, and naturally he was well versed in plants and herbs, many of which are forgotten by the busy medical men—or are they? For all we know they may be using cures their predecessors used over a century ago and are searching for newer treasures for their workshops.

The small village of Robinson grew into the town of Bury, named for Lord Bury, an English financier, father of a son who came to Canada as many other young men came. They left their mark in various ways on the annals of early history. The Bury Model School, the Young Men's Club, a medical officer for Court Robin Hood, Canadian Foresters, and an ardent Liberal and admirer of Sir Wilfred Laurier—Dr. Wales found his days filled to overflowing. We nearly forgot to mention that he played the flute and bass viol and once formed an orchestra in Bury, and later did the same at St. Andrews. There was no Presbyterian Church in Bury so he turned his attention to the Methodist Church and today a beautiful memorial window in the Methodist Church stands as a loving memorial given by his mother, Mrs. Charles Wales (nee Letitia Platt Treadwell). It was placed there at the time the church was built.

During the years spent in Bury Dr. Wales and Mr. Thomas Stokes, an early settler, were close friends and both enjoyed the classic game of chess. Many an evening the two heads were bent over these little figures that kept their minds active. The Wales and Stokes families were always friends and worked together in the growth and good standing of their community. From his early days of practice, Dr. Wales was an expert bicyclist and went his way through forest, over corduroy roads with skill and safety; his bicycle was ever a trusty friend. Mr. Maurice Stokes kindly

Jacoby On Bridge

By OSWALD JACOBY

TRUSTING LUCK WON'T BRING MANY PRIZES

There is a certain spot on the ceiling that some bridge players look at when they don't know what to do. Some players just look up at the ceiling with a vacant stare, and others find it useful to scratch their heads or rub their chins at the same time.

These are very fine things to know, to be sure, but it's even better to know the right way to play a hand. Today's hand shows the difference.

West opened the ten of diamonds, East covered with the jack, and South won in his hand with the king. One glance showed declarer that he needed three club tricks to make his contract, since he could make exactly two tricks in each of the other suits.

South therefore led a club to dummy's ace and returned a low club from the dummy. East quite properly played his low club, and South had to guess whether to play the queen or the eight of clubs from his hand.

South thought about it for a second or two and then looked up at the ceiling. This didn't help him, for he came out of his huddle by finessing the eight of clubs from his hand. This allowed West to win with the jack, which meant that declarer could win only two club tricks—not enough for his contract.

There is a standard method of playing this kind of suit. It is not absolutely infallible, but it does eliminate guesswork.

South must begin the clubs by leading the eight and letting it ride for a finesse. If this finesse loses to the king, there is no further problem. If it loses to the jack, South returns to his hand and finesses through West a second time, either by leading the nine or the queen.

This method assures three tricks in the suit if the honors are divided or if West has both the king and jack. It fails only if East has both king and jack. The odds are 3 to 1 that three tricks will be developed—and there is no need to guess or consult a crystal ball.

Q—The bidding has been:

South	West	North	East
1 Spade	Pass	1 N.T.	Pass

You, South, hold: Spades A-K-7-3-2, Hearts K-J-3-2, Diamonds Q-J-7, Club 9. What do you do?

A—Bid two hearts. Game is very unlikely, but you have reason to believe that the hand will play better at one of your major suits than at no-trump.

The Record Short Story

NINE SHARP

By MAY HOLT BATCHELDER

When John Ellsworth was made a junior executive in the big advertising agency where he'd served a year's apprenticeship, he started taking the 8:26 instead of the 8:03 to New York every morning. It was an express from his suburban station, arriving in New York just before 9 o'clock.

John soon learned the shortcut of the secret stairway in Grand Central that led up to a heavy door opening out on 47th Street near Park, conveniently near his office.

He had a wonderful feeling of satisfaction and importance, being a junior executive with a satisfactory raise in salary. Sitting in the smoker each morning he'd smile happily as he overheard important sounding snatches of conversation among advertising, radio and television executives.

After a week of commuting on the 8:26 he recognized many of the same faces each morning; mostly men's faces. There were a few career women who didn't have to be at their jobs too early.

Most of the young secretaries took the 8:03, his former train. He rather missed the gay chatter, the badinage, the laughter of the girls Not that he knew any of them—his hight school classmates were married by now or living in the city; these commuting girls were a new crop.

He'd been away from the home town so long—four years of college, summers as a counsellor at a boys' camp. Now that he was a junior executive he was sort of looking around for an attractive girl to date, with eventual marriage in view. But it really wasn't easy to meet the right girl.

There was so much talk about the man shortage, about the great preponderance of girls in New York, but he hadn't found it easy to meet nice girls. Oh, of course, there were lots of pretty girls at the agency but he was rather cagey about office dating. Too many men had told him it was a mistake and he'd discovered the same thing; it never worked out, really.

You took a cute girl from the office out on several dates and then the office grapevine started buzzing: "Are you engaged?" Then if you stopped taking the girl out simply because you were bored, getting nowhere or maybe slightly uneasy because she was taking you too seriously and you didn't care anything about her—well, then you had to go around the office every day encountering raised eyebrows.

Besides that, the hurt look in the girl's eyes, the proud defiant toss of her head that proclaimed you'd embarrassed her in the eyes of the office, were pretty hard to take. Not worth it. No, John had determined months ago, office romances were out as far as he was concerned. . .

The second Monday morning, John sat as usual in the smoker of the 8:26 and read his morning paper serenely all the way in to New York. He'd had a rather dull week-end, going to the country club dinner dance on Saturday with his parents and being very polite and dancing with his mother's plump middle-aged friends. He'd thought ruefully that it would have been much nicer if he'd had a girl with him. But how was he to meet the right girl?

As the train slid into the tunnel and eased its way along the tracks into Grand Central, John looked up at the sound of clickety-clack heels coming into the smoker. He saw an adorable girl in a blue tweed suit. Tall, slender and pretty, she was about 22. Her blonde hair was bleached at the ends into little points of gold; her skin was the color of sun-warmed apricots, her eyes as blue as Bermuda water.

John stared at her intently as she clickety-clacked down the aisle, right past him, toward the rear of the smoker, which was the last car next to the club car. Seeming in a breathless hurry, she rushed past John, apparently without the flicker of an eyelash in his direction. A whoosh of blue tweed, a faint flurry of fresh flowery perfume, the clatter of spike heels—and the girl was gone.

When John hurried out of the train and stood in the slow patient line waiting to ascend the narrow stairway he saw the flash of blue tweed and a pair of beautiful legs as she turned the sharp angle of the metal stairway and disappeared from his eager view. There was no sign of her when he finally emerged on 47th Street.

He thought about the girl so much that he was scarcely able to keep his mind on his work. But he sat doggedly at his desk all day, had coffee and a sandwich sent in at noon, and stayed late to get caught up on his work. "This won't do," he admonished himself sternly, "mooning over an unknown girl when I have to keep on my toes on this job or else."

Next morning he was at the station good and early. He paced the length of the platform, looking for the girl in blue tweed. But there wasn't a sign of her. He sat in his usual seat in the smoker, reading his newspaper. When the train slowed down he heard the sound of clicking high heels. The tall blonde girl came into the car.

She was wearing a green coat today; her blonde hair was brushed demurely page-boy. She never looked to left or right, blue eyes straight ahead, she hurried through the car and she was out of the train the instant it stopped and halfway up the metal stairs by the time John got off the train.

She must have a secretarial job, he figured, to which she has to report at 9 sharp. Probably had a fussy office manager. She really should take the earlier train with all the other girls. Little lazybones, he thought, with an indulgent smile; probably out on a date last night and she overshot. Suddenly the thought of her being on a date with some unknown man made him unhappy.

On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday mornings, John searched the station platform for the girl but there was never a glimpse of her when the train pulled in and he hopped aboard. Each morning, however, she rushed through the smoker, dashed out of the end door as soon as the train stopped and scampered up the metal stairs.

On Friday morning she wore a black coat with a cute little ermine collar; a black velvet hat with gossamer veil sat on her pretty blonde head. He was furious when he realized she was all dressed up for a Friday evening date. He was cross all day and sat working in his office, not even going out to lunch. He worked late; why not? He was trying to get ahead in business; he had no date; he might as well be the eager beaver of the agency.

The following Monday morning, after an extremely dull week-end with his parents and some visiting cousins, he deliberately sat two or three cars ahead of the smoker, hoping to see the blonde girl so that perhaps, he could sit with her. But, he reminded himself, you just couldn't introduce yourself to a girl on the train and ask her for a date.

He looked around the car but didn't see her until the train entered Grand Central. He heard the familiar clickety-clack of the high heels; the blonde girl in blue tweed went by like a breeze. He wasn't quite sure, but he almost thought she flashed him a look as a faint smile flickered around her mouth. She rushed down the aisle and he turned around and stared after her.

How could he meet her? There were still some modern day conventions, after all. He couldn't very well put is foot out in the aisle, trip her, pick her up and say hastily, "My name's John Ellsworth. I'm 24. I live with my parents in your home town. I'm a bachelor but I've been thinking a lot about marriage lately. Now that I've a good job I want to settle down in a nice little ranch house with a pretty wife. Like you. In fact—with you."

No, he couldn't do that. And she'd never speak to him voluntarily. Why should she? An attractive girl like that knew plenty of men . . . The train had stopped now and John hopped out and sprinted back down the platform in the direction of the 47th Street stairs. But she was far ahead of him; two lovely ankles twinkled up the last steps and she was gone.

John was pretty depressed all morning. He worked extra hard and had so much rush work to get out that the secretary he shared with another young executive was completely snowed under. John called Miss McCarthy, the personnel director, and she said she'd send him a girl from the steno pool upstairs. "By the way," Miss McCarthy said "your boss has decided you need your own secretary. So the girl I'm sending down is for your approval."

He looked up from his cluttered desk as he heard a pair of high heels clickety-clacking down the corridor. That familiar sound! But it couldn't be. Hundreds of girls walked fast like that, their heels beating a quick tattoo. John's heart speeded up as he stared at the doorway. The click-clack came closer.

It just couldn't be, he thought. But it was. The tall blonde girl in blue tweed, the elusive girl of the 8:26, came in breathlessly and smiled right at him. "Mr. Ellsworth?" she said in a demure secretarial voice. "I'm Dorothy Maine. From the steno pool."

They stared at each other a moment and then they burst out

Home And School Hold Meeting At Boundary

Rock Island, Dec. 14. — The Border Home and School Association held a regular meeting recently presided over by the president, Harold Cass, in Centenary Church Hall, Stanstead.

Following the reading of the minutes of the last meeting and of an executive meeting, the financial statement was given which included the recently held oyster supper of which the proceeds were $115.87 after all bills were paid. Mrs. Warren Soutiere read a letter from the Junior Red Cross supervision regarding a grant from them, to be used towards the expence of equipping the kitchen in the new Sunnyside School. At present there are about 90 students in Holmes Model School and in the Academy enjoying the hot dishes three days a week.

Mrs. Margaret Abbott, convener of the meals asked if any mothers can go to the school building to serve will they kindly phone her, and if anyone would like to contribute vegetables, especially potatoes, will they leave them at the home of Carol Cass.

Mr. Cass read a letter from the Quebec Federation about changing the Easter vacation from two weeks to one week and have the other vacation days one at a time during the year.

Dr. Allison, after some discussion, made a motion that the vacation remain as in the past, the two weeks at Christmas and again at Easter gives the student a relaxing period and much needed rest to carry on their studies. The motion met with unanimous approval.

Mrs. Margaret Abbott, presented a second attendance banner to the Association for the Academy grades; from this meeting it was won by grade 8, the Model School banner was won by grade 2. Mr. Cass invited membership into the organization and reminded all, of the Home and School magazine which is now available at .75 a year.

Mrs. Hugh McClary, head mistress of the Model School, stated letters had been sent to parents about running shoes and the number of four pairs is all that it will be necessary for the H. and S. Association to purchase. At the last meeting, a motion was made, and approved, to buy running shoes for those who could not afford them.

The meeting adjourned and Mr. T. A. Grady, manager of the local Southern Canada Power Co. introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Maynard, who is lighting specialist, being a graduate of Nela Park School of Lighting, in Cleveland, Ohio. He has attended a 3-months' special course at Lighting Service School, Toronto, and he is a member of the Canada Electric Association chairman of the Lighting Council, and of the Illuminating Society of Montreal section and has for 17 years been with the S...P. C

Mr. Maynard explained how the ordinary bulbs used in the homes are made, of the different types of lamps and their uses, that it is possible to use a heating lamp and sunlamp together in any home, thus creating "Florida Sunshine," a lamp to be used to remove odors in the home, and other lamps and their uses. He spoke of the flash bulbs and of the importance they played during wartime by taking pictures of enemy territory.

In concluding he showed a colored movie film on how a fluorescence light is made, and of the precision machinery used in the construction of a light.

Lawrence Tilton thanked Mr. Maynard for his informative address. Lunch was served by Mrs. Le Jenkins Mrs. Maurice Moore, Mrs. Margaret Abbott and Mrs. Warren Soutiere.

BOUNDARY CHRISTMAS CLUB

Mrs. Rudd Miller of West Park, recently entertained the Boundary Christmas Club at a banquet.

The table was most attractive with a Christmas cloth, napkins, and the place cards were miniature Christmas trees. Eleven members were present and enjoyed the delicious roast chicken dinner.

A brief business meeting followed when Mrs. Byron Jenkins was re-elected president and Mrs. George Eryou was re-elected treasurer for the ensuing year. It was decided to combine birthdays with Christmas next year, and the entertaining hostesses were arranged for the next twelve meetings.

Two quiz games were played with Mrs. Richard Reynolds winning the prize for both. Mrs. Jenkins took the part of Santa Claus and distributed the packages from the gaily decorated Christmas Tree. The remainder of the evening was spent playing '500" with Mrs. Clarence Lyons winning the first prize and Mrs. George Stewart the consolation prize.

The first meeting of the year will be held January 15 at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Barlow.

BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL CLUB

Miss Elsie McFadzen was hostess to the Christmas party of the Border Business and Professional Women's Club at "Ingleside," recently.

There were ten members present and when all had gathered, group singing of Christmas Carols and songs was enjoyed, with Miss McFadzen and Miss Catherine McKenzie at the piano.

Later there was an exchange of gifts all gaily wrapped and taken from beneath a Christmas tree which was trimmed with lights and ornaments. The delicious refreshments served by the hostess was in keeping with the festivities. The first meeting in new year will be a dinner meeting at 7 o'clock at the home of Miss Catherine McKenzie, on January 14.

DEATH OCCURRED

Mr. and Mrs. George Smith, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Elton Bennett, of Derby Line received word on Monday, Dec. 10, that their brother-in-law, Mr. Gordon Sykes, of Plasto, New York, had been accidentally killed. He was employed in the Railroad yards.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith and Mr. Bennett left the following afternoon for the home of their sister, Mrs. Sykes. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hartley, of Rock Island, are staying with their daughter, Mrs. Bennett, during his absence.

Mr. Sykes was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Sykes, of Holland, Vt., and his wife is Ella Bennett, formerly of Derby Line.

Sympathy of the cummunities is extended the bereaved family.

Stanbridge Ridge Farm Forum Holds Meeting

Stanbridge Ridge, Dec. 14. — An interesting meeting of the Farm Forum was held recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Clough with an attendance of 27.

In the absence of the chairman, Mr. Edmund Jess conducted the discussion, dividing those present into three groups. Conclusions were that more practice in public speaking, more taking part in debate as well as the acquiring of further knowledge of political and economic problems would benefit all rural communities. Help from instructors, bulletins and pamphlets available, should be used.

A letter from Mr. Frank Corey was read, expressing thanks for a book sent to him during his recent stay in hospital. Further plans were made for the float to be used in the forthcoming Santa Claus parade.

Great interest is being shown in the making and repairing of toys for needy children and a large number are being prepared.

It was reported that the Forum will be able to rent the unused Roman Catholic schoolhouse here for a community hall. Mrs. Eunice Soule will entertain at the next meeting.

A quiz game of "Twenty Questions" was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

General Notes

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Douglas were recent guests of the latter's mother, Mrs. Bockus, at Pigeon Hill.

Mr. George Hamilton has returned from a business trip to Newfoundland.

Mrs. Edmond Jess motored to Montreal.

Farm Forum Holds Meeting At Foster

Foster, Dec. 14. — The Farm Forum was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Mizener recently with 16 present. After listening to the broadcast, the minutes of the last meeting, the Green Leaf and several other communications were read by the secretary, W. R. Mizener. A discussion followed on "Folk Schools for Farm People" under the leadership of the chairman, Stanley Quilliams.

Several Christmas carols were sung, after which lunch was served by Mrs. Mizener, assisted by the ladies present, which brought a pleasant evening to a close.

Next week, being fourth night, pictures will be shown in the basement of the Creek Church when the Frost Village Forum will be welcome, also any others who are interested.

Gracious Big Fans Return To Fashion

London. — The inclination of London and Paris dress designers to couple ostrich and lace fans with some of their more exotic gowns is causing British fashion writers to recall the "language of the fan."

In the old days the fan in a lady's hands spoke a language of its own. If she wished to communicate with a gentleman without speaking, she could do so by judicious use of the fan.

If she were annoyed at something, for instance, a twirl of the fan in the left hand meant "do not speak to me." A warmer message, "I love you," could be conveyed by pressing the tip of the shut fan, or its handle, to the heart.

Holding the half-open fan, or its handle, to the lips meant "you may kiss me." If the lady wishes to talk to the man, she would touch the tip of the fan with her fingers. And if he was neglecting her, she would fan herself with a short, quick motion.

Fashion writers note this could still be a useful method of silent telegraphy—providing the modern male takes the trouble to learn the code.

Says Pre-Game Meal Is Athlete's Choice

Montreal. — What an athlete thinks he likes to eat is more important than what the coach thinks he should eat before a big game. It's all psychological anyway—at least that's what the current issue of the Canadian Medical Association Journal says.

An article written by an English correspondent for the journal says the pre-game meal should respect the likes and dislikes of the athlete.

In short, if an athlete thinks his favorite food makes him play better—providing his diet is adequate to start with—then he will play better.

The article says the performance of an athlete might well suffer if he is denied his favorite food because he expects it to.

"If a champion runner has a preference for, say jam, and despises treacle, most of his athletic fans would prefer to believe him than the arm-chair scientist whose athletic performance is probably limited to running around the brench," the article continues.

John Diefenbaker (PC—Lake Centre) suggested it would be a denial of freedom if the majority were allowed to determine what the minority should think and say.

J. M. Dan McIvor (L—Fort William) a United Church minister, said he wanted to protest against atheistic broadcasts.

Later, the Chamber voted 55 to 28 against a motion by Donald Fleming (PC—Toronto Eglington) which would have limited the grant to the CBC to one year, leaving it up to Parliament to vote the grant in successive years. He suggested this would permit Parliament to main control over the broadcasting system.

It also voted 60 to 27 against an amendment to appeal to the exchequer court on questions of fact and law against rulings, orders and directives of the CBC.

The walkout of the production workers has caused the layoff of 3,000 Ford officer employees and feeder plant workers. It has also closed down the power plant at the automotive works in what the company says is a violation of a contract with the union.

In the no-deadlocked contract negotiations, the union has been seeking a 30-cents-an-hour "package" increase over the basic hourly rate of $1.32. A conciliation board recommended a 13-cent-an-hour increase.

"It has been said that immigrants employed locally are responsible for the existing unemployment situation and actual statistics do not agree with this assertion and regular unemployment (short time excluded) is not much higher than it was for the corresponding period last year. On December 1st, 1950, there were 756 claimants receiving unemployment insurances benefits and the same date this year shows 1014 or an increase of 256.

"On the other hand, on the 1st of December, 1950, there were 72 persons working on short time as against 1952 at the corresponding date this year, or an increase of 1880 and 90% of whom belong to the textile industry. Again this would clearly illustrate that immigrants hired by the steel industry have no bearing on the present local unemployment situation and the economic conditions affecting the textiie industry in Sherbrooke are actualiy the same in any other part of the country.

"We hope that the facts related above will clarify a situation where circulating rumors have misrepresented the existing situation.

Demonstration Staged By Reds

Tehran, Iran, Dec. 14.— (AP) — Some 10,000 defiant communists massed before their burned-out "peace" headquarters here today and announced they will rebuild it stronger than ever.

The crowd let out frequent roars of "Death to (Premier Mohammed) Mossadegh," but neither police nor pro-government nationalists intervened.

Nationalist demonstrators burned and wrecked the Reds' peace headquarters Dec. 6 when they smashed an attempted communist student demonstration. At least eight persons were killed and more than 200 injured in the bloody clash.

At today's rally Red speakers said the pro-government wrecking crews had "plunged us like steel into the fire and hardened us. Our unity and purpose have been strengthened."

GREENSHIELDS' MARKET REVIEW

Stocks moved within narrow margins yesterday in moderate trading.

Among the gainers, Noranda Mines advanced one point to 82½, Dominion Tar and Chemical, 1½ points to 44½ and Canada Cement one poin to 80. The strength in Noranda may be forecasting important developments in the company, such as immediate work on the Gaspe property and other matters, which should add substantially to the company's future earning power.

H. W. Molson, president of Molson's Brewery Limited, told stockholders at the annual meeting that the first three months of the current fiscal year, which started on October 1, will show record figures with December probably the biggest month in the company's history.

The keel of a 115,000 barrel lake tanker for British American Oil Company was laid yesterday. Completion is scheduled for next fall at a cost of $4,500,000.

Laura Secord Candy Shops Limited reported net profit for the year ended Sept. 30, of $276,200 or 96 cents per share against $361,600 for $1.26 per share in the preceding fiscal year.

Says Rural Gossips Discourage Teacher

Castor, Alta. — "Wagging tongues" in country districts are a factor in the shortage of rural teachers, says G. K. Haverstock, superintendent of the Castor school district in central Alberta.

He told a ratepayers' meeting here: "Most young women entering the teaching profession come from good homes. But we have nothing to offer them but one-room shacks where they must live under primitive conditions.

"If these young teachers want to take part in community life, as most normal young woman do, and a young man takes them home from a social function, it is not long before vicious tongues start wagging and stories of misbehavior spread through the district."

The result was that many teachers either sought posts in the cities or went into business life, creating the teacher shortage most country points are experiencing.

The solution, Mr. Haverstock suggested, lay in the provision of three or four-room teacherages where a married teacher could bring up his family under normal conditions.

CARS DAMAGED

Two cars were heavily damaged in a collision which occurred Wednesday on the Stanstead Highway at the corner of routes five and 22.

Both drivers, Florence Bowers, of Lennoxville, and Robert Tyler, of Axer's Cliff, escaped uninjured.

Provincial Police Officer Curtis Parsons investigated.

RECORDER'S COURT

Nine parking tickets at $2 each, one speeding ticket at $10 and $3.70 costs, were paid in Recorder's Court this morning.

Nazaire Blais, 81A Brooks street, was fined $10 and costs for overtime parking. Blais, a taxi driver, has a permit for taxi service outside of Sherbrooke but not for this city. He pleaded guilty.

Another motorist pleaded not guilty but was found guilty of driving through a stop sign at the Belvidere-McManamy intersection. He was fined the costs.

Recorder for the City of Sherbrooke, Redmond Hayes, K.C., presided, and Albert Rivard appeared for the city in the last two cases.

Kalimpong, India, Dec. 14.—(Reuters)—The Tibetan government has ordered its officials in India "to keep their lips tight on developments and happenings in Tibet, particularly on policy matters," a high Tibetan official said today.

The official described the order as "a temporary action in view of Tibet's passing through a transitional stage."

(Chinese communists have moved into Tibet and meagre reports reaching the outside world have indicated they are steadily assuming greater control.)

Mansonville Farm Forum Holds Meeting

Mansonville, Dec. 14. — Mansonville Farm Forum believes that evening or week-end courses would be useful for this community; especially for those who are unable to leave for very long periods of time.

At the meeting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Steinback, the topic "Folk Schools For Farm People" was discussed after the dramatized broadcast had been heard. The members feel that there should be leadership in all phases of rural life. Social diplomacy, public speaking, and recreational leadership were subjects mentioned. They think the idea of folk school courses is commendable as it enables people to converge, learn and practice leadership in agriculture, domestic science, community leadership, recreation, etc. As chores and other farm work requires the daily presence of the farmer and members of his family, the idea of evening or week-end courses seemed to impress many of the members who stated that arrangements for short periods of absence such as a week-end, could be made without too much difficulty.

Fourth Night preparations were discussed also. A meeting of representatives set for Wednesday evening, will be held in the Town Hall at 8:00 p. m. Representatives from the other forums are attending, to present the suggestions from their forum members and help plan the evening's entertainment. The North Potton Forum has offered to prepare the lunch for the Fourth night.

The Forums invite anyone interested to attend this evening of entertainment.

The Bible Study Group will discontinue the weekly meetings for the holiday season. The studies will resume the evening of January 8th and will be held in the home of Rev. and Mrs. H. E. White at 8 p. m.

EAST PINNACLE

Mrs. Kenneth Jacobs, of St. Albans, Vt., spent several days here to help care for her mother, Mrs. Emma Barber, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Young. Mrs. Barber was taken to St. Albans, Vt., Hospital, on Friday. Her daughters, Mrs. Jacobs, Mrs. R. Young and Miss Nettie Barber reported that Mrs. Barber is somewhat improved.

Mrs. Grace Beaucage, of St. Johns, spent the last week-end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Dymond. Other guests at the same home were Miss Norma Beaucage and Mr. N. Riddle, of Cowansville.

Premier Smallwood Doughty Campaigner

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The unpredictable Joseph R. Smallwood leads his Liberal party for the second time in Newfoundland's Nov. 26 general election.

The man who became Premier after campaigning for confederation surprised everyone, especially the opposition, with his snap election call.

Mr. Smallwood, 52, who claims his greatest support comes from "the toiling masses" is known as a fiery little man whose brain "always remained as cold as ice."

When Newfoundland's national convention met in 1946 to discuss future forms of government, "Joey" took his seat as the only member to be elected on a "union with Canada" platform.

He fought a bitter, uphill battle to get a delegation to Ottawa to study what basis might exist for confederation. When the convention turned down a motion that union with Canada be recommended to the British government as a possible future form of government, Mr. Smallwood immediately began collecting signatures for a petition asking that confederation be placed on the ballot. It was.

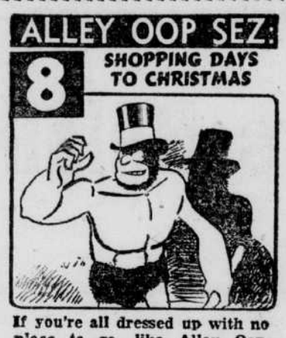

With three choices the issue went to the people on June 3, 1948, and ended in a stalemate because neither confederation ner responsible government received a majority. Commission government, which had run third, was dropped and the remaining two were voted on in a second referendum on July 22.

He used cars, boats and a small airplane to get around the country to press his case. His opponents accused him of "selling out his country," of being a "Judas Iscariot" and a "Quisling."

When the big day came, confederation—and Smallwood—won by about 7,000 votes.

At 18, Smallwood was acting editor of the St. John's Evening Telegram and later was known to Newfoundland's radio audience as the "barrelman." He wrote seven books on the island and visited most of its 1,300 communities.

He is married and has three children.

Women's Assoc. Holds Meeting At Bedford

Bedford, Dec. 14. — The bi-monthly meeting of the W.A. of St. James Church was held recently at the home of Mrs. Ralph Van Horn, who was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Sinclair McIntosh. The meeting was opened with the W.A. Prayer, by the president, Mrs. G. Gould, after which, the minutes of the preceeding meeting, which was held at the home of Mrs. G. Gould, assisted by Mrs. L. Elliott, were read by the secretary, Mrs. Richard Craighead and approved as read.

The report of the treasurer, Mrs. George Harland, showed a balance on hand of $234.69, after the payment of all outstanding bills.

The evening was spent in making Christmas stockings for the annual Christmas tree, for the Sunday School party.

The Dorcas Secretary, Mrs. A. Palmer, reported that, all the articles for the Branch's bale, had been completed, with the exception of a pair of socks and a nightgown. The bale will have to be in at the Synod Hall, Montreal by the end of March.

The president reported that a partially completed quilt had been received from Mrs. F. E. Draper, which would be quilted as soon as possible, this makes the second donation of a quilt to the Branch. The president also announced that a donation of $10 had been received for the Branch.

Mrs. Gordon Johnson, who is in charge of the Little Helpers' Group, announced that the annual children's party would be held on Saturday afternoon, December 15, in the parish hall. Donations of cookies and sandwiches were asked for. Mrs. Malcolm McCaw was appointed to look after helping with the preparation of refreshments. The president thanked the members for making candy bags. Mrs. Ralph Van Horn, who is looking after the repairing of the choir cassocks, requested that they would be turned in for Christmas.

Mrs. F. N. Williams drew the name of Mrs. Sinclair McIntosh as the recipient of the dress length donated by Mrs. Grant Lauer to the Branch, to raise funds for a donation to the Dental Clinic of the Bedford High School Association.

A motion was made that a donation of $10 be sent to the Fellowship of the Arctic. The Rev. Mr. Haskell, spoke on the work being done in the Diocese of Rupert's Land, at the opening meeting of the Branch, in October. His lecture, together with the slides, which illustrated it, was excellent. Mr. Haskell was well informed on his subject, having spent the past three years as a Church of England missionary in that diocese. Mr. Haskell is on a lecture tour through Canada, and was recently in the Canadian West, en route to British Columbia, from whence he will sail for Australia.

A motion was made that the Branch donate the sum of $6 to be given as prizes for Scripture, to the students at the Bedford High School, to be presented at the Christmas concert, on December 21, at the High School. The classes in which the prizes are to be awarded is to be left to the discretion of the school principal, Mr. Frank Trecarten.

A bill for $5.15 for material for choir gowns was presented and ordered paid. Mrs. George Moody reported that she had sold all of the church calendars, 75, in number, purchased by the Branch. The rector, the Rev. W. J. White, reported that 18 members had attended the corporate communion service, held for the members of the Branch on the occasion of St. Andrew's Day, which saint is the patron saint of missions.

The secretary was instructed to send Christmas cards to the shut-ins, and former members of the Branch, who have moved from Bedford. The president announced that the nominations committee had completed their duties and would present the slate of officers at the annual meeting, to be held early in January. The members of the committee were Mrs. Stanley Rider, Mrs. A. Hewitt, Mrs. Allan Palmer and Mrs. Grisdale Gould.

Following the business meeting, refreshments were served by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. W. B. Bradshaw.

I.O.D.E. MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of Missisquoi Chapter, I.O.D.E., was held at the home of Mrs. Ellis Jones. The meeting was opened with the Prayer of the Order, with the regent, Mrs. F. E. Best, presiding. The minutes of the preceeding meeting, which was held at the home of Mrs. Donald Blinn in Stanbridge East, were read by the secretary, Mrs. F. N. Williams and adopted as read.

The report of the treasurer, Mrs. W. B. Bradshaw, showed a balance on hand of $168.65, after the payment of all outstanding bills. Among those paid, was one for wool, flannelette and cotton, from Provincial I.O.D.E. Headquarters, Montreal, to be used for articles to be made up for shipment overseas.

In the absence of the Educational Secretary, Mrs. Stone, the I.O.D.E. calendars were given out by Mrs. Hannibal Sheltus. Calendars will be placed in the school, at Mystic, Stanbridge East, Philipsburg and Bedford. The matter of school prizes was discussed, these will be presented at the Christmas concert at the High School, and will include the addition to those given by the Chapter, the Gertrude Chadsey Memorial prizes and the Frances Corey Memorial prize for English Literature in Grade XI.

The report of the Post War Services convener, Mrs. Richard Craighead, showed that a large carton of books, magazines and playing cards had been sent to the Naval Hospital, at St. Hyacinthe and that another carton, containing 44 articles, had been sent to Provincial Headquarters, I.O.D.E. Montreal, during the past month. Mrs. Edward Piche, Mrs. F. N. Williams and Mrs. Richard Craighead were appointed to look after the purchasing of Christmas Cheer for a number of shut-ins and the secretary was instructed to send cards to a number of the Chapter's friends and members.

A letter was read from the Provincial Chapter, I.O.D.E., in regard to the work being done by the Labrador Voluntary Educational League. Facts brought out in reference to this work, showed that on the Labrador Coast, there are 12 main and 4 branch schools, in which, approximately 300 children are supplied, during the Winter months with cocoa and biscuits. The choice of cocoa in preference to other beverages, has been determined by the fact ascertained by analysis, that cocoa has more definite nourishment and is therefore preferable to others. Food for the mind is not forgetten, educational magazines in large numbers being supplied to the children and their families. Up to the present time, a Government Grant of $500 supplemented by small I.O.D.E. donations, has been the only source of revenue, thus, allowing a very small margin to carry on this most worthy of undertakings. Mrs. H. H. Gibaut is the I.O.D.E. representative for this work, and has reported on conditions prevailing on the Labrador coast. It has been decided to continue the cocoa and biscuit fund, until the time of the I.O.D.E. annual meeting in April, when further information may be forthcoming, and it may be possible for the members to decide on the extent of the work they wish to do in this field. Regarding educational work, catalogues with suggestions for library books, will be on hand in February.

It has been decided to put the work done in connection with "Canadian Scene" under the department of immigration and Canadianization. Contributions for the continuance of this work has been received. An appeal for funds to carry on the work of this organization, has been made. The regent reported that donations had been made to the I.O.D.E. bursaries at at Macdonald College, and at Ste. Anne de la Pocatiere, also to the Peace Garden Fund, Save the Children Fund and Seamen's Amenities. A letter was read, regarding the foundation of a bursary in the School for Nurses at the Sherbrooke Hospital, to help nurses through the three year training course.

A cigarette fund has been established by the Order, to provide money for the purchase of smokes to send to Canadian troops serving in Korea. One carton containing materials to be made into cancer dressings, has been sent to Provincial I.O.D.E. Headquarters, Montreal, and materials, consisting of white cotton and white flannelette, are still coming in. Following the business meeting, refreshments were served by the hostess, tea, being poured by Mrs. F. N. Williams.

ST. JAMES GUILD SALE

The annual Christmas sale and tea, under the auspices of the St. James Church Guild, was held recently in the Masonic Hall, both socially and finacially the afternoon was most successful.

The members who were in charge of the various tables included, Mrs. W. B. Bradshaw, Mrs. Roy Cook and Mrs. Fred Tambling, novelty table; Mrs. Allan Palmer and Mrs. Percy Terrill, food table; Mrs. D. J. Reid, Mrs. B. W. Draper and Mrs. W. J. Baglow, apron table. The tea tables were in charge of Mrs. George Moody, who was assisted by Mrs. Gordon Stewart, Mrs. Garnet Steel, Miss Kathryn Sheltus and Miss Marilyn Miller. Salads and kitchen, Mrs. C. Deleuze, Mrs. Roger Campbell, Mrs. Warren Brown, Mrs. Harry Jones and Mrs. Ralph Van Horn. The ticket sellers were Mrs. Russell Blinaco, Mrs. Lewis Currie, Mrs. Richard Craighead and Mrs. Stanley Rider.

Both halls were used and presented a festive appearance, with their decorations in keeping with Christmas. Tea was served at small tables, centred with green and red candles, while the tea table, at which, tea and coffee were poured by Mrs. W. J. White and Miss Jessie Blackwood, was centred with a large basket of pine, and red candles in silver candlesticks.

Say Young Folk Lack Spirit Of Adventure

Hull, England. — A curious lack of the spirit of adventure among modern-day young business men and women has a committee of Hull executives worried.

The executives have about £30,000 in grants to spend on young students who want to go abroad to study foreign trade and languages.

The committee executes a trust fund endowed about 30 years ago by Sir Henry Samman, a former wealthy Hull shipowner. The hitch is that fewer than 200 students have applied for the grant in these 30 years.

Last year, only four students went abroad under the scheme and Leslie Downes, chairman of the trust committee has appealed to the local Chamber of Commerce for more applicants.

"Sir Henry established the fund with the object of increasing trade relations with Russia," said Downes. "But when the iron curtain fell it become impossible to send anyone to Russia to study business or anything else."

The Lennoxville Women's League met at the home of Mrs. H. Turner with 15 members present.

The president, Mrs. A. MacKenzie, opened the meeting by reading a portion of Scripture followed by the Lord's Prayer in unison. In the absence of the treasurer, Mrs. Fowlis, Mrs. J. Beattie gave a very gratifying report of the Christmas sale and tea.

It was decided to make donations to the board of managers and the Sunday School. Shut-in members are to be remembered with gifts.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Miss A. Brown and Mrs. R. Smith.

The Christmas meeting of Plymouth Ladies' Guild was held in the church parlor on Tuesday evening, December 11, with Mrs. R. C. Tait and Miss L. Seymour as hostesses. There were thirty-one present. The president, Miss F. Wark, opened the meeting with the Lord's Prayer in unison. After routine business plans were made for decorating the church for the Christmas season, and a sum of money was voted for this purpose. It was agreed to co-operate with the Women's Association in having some of the Sunday School rooms redecorated with funds raised by the recent turkey supper Substantial amounts were voted to the Current Fund of the church, to the Missionary and Maintenance Funds, to the Women's Missionary Society, and smaller sums to others. Mrs. R. C. Tait, on behalf of the members, presented the retiring president, Miss F. Wark, with a gift, and Mrs. E. V. Kimmis presented a gift to the retiring secretary, Miss L. Seymour, from the Guild. Mrs. Tait and Miss E. M. Hall distributed the Christmas gifts, an exchange among members. Refreshments brought the meeting to a close.

The monthly meeting of the ladies committee of the Sherbrooke Library was held at the home of Miss Winnifred Farmer, Portland Avenue, on December 6.

The president, Mrs. George Smith, was in the chair and conducted the business session.

The treasurer, Miss Evelyn Bradley, reported that due to donations still being received for the Christmas sale and tea, her financial statement was not complete, but so far the proceeds were very gratifying. Miss Bradley stated that all outstanding bills had been paid and bank balance to date was $185.80.

Mrs. Smith thanked the members for their untiring efforts in connection with the Christmas sale.

Mrs. Arthur Cross, who is in charge of the fruit cake drawing, requested that all raffle books be returned to the Sherbrooke Library not later than December 19. The drawing will take place December 22, at the Sherbrooke Library at eight o'clock.

New business was then brought before the meeting, when it was suggested a public bridge be held the latter part of January. However, this matter was left over until a later date.

The meeting was adjourned.

Refreshments were then served by the hostess, with Miss Bradley presiding at the tea table.

Mrs. Douglas Ward will act as hostess at the next meeting, to be held at the home of Mrs. George Smith.

Mrs. Earl Savage and Mrs. Howard Paige entertained the "Friendly Christmas Club" of Lennoxville, at the former's home on Wednesday evening. All members being present, "500" was played at three tables. The two first prizes were won by Mrs. Earl Kingsley and Mrs. Melville McHarg, while the consolation prizes went to Mrs. Fred Glass and Mrs. Alex Fowler. The floating prize was won by Mrs. Lillian Stewart.

After refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. L. Stewart presented Mrs. M. McHarg with a gift, voicing best wishes from the members.

Mrs. James Povey gave each member the Christmas money they had saved during the year, and in appreciation for her services was presented with a lovely and useful gift by Mrs. Rupert Hall. Mrs. Povey thanked each member and said how much she had enjoyed the card games and being treasurer for the club. She also voiced the hope that all would be playing next year.

On Saturday evening thirty-two couples motored to Hillcrest for their annual banquet. After the dinner a Christmas party which had been planned, was held at the home of Mr and Mrs. C. H. George, Conley Street, Lennoxville. There a beautifully decorated Christmas tree was loaded with a variety of gifts, including many jokes.

Following the distribution of presents, dancing and a sing-song, to the music furnished by Mr. F. Glass, Mr. and Mrs. R. Pariseau and Mrs. E. Kingsley, was thoroughly enjoyed.

Later in the evening refreshments were served, when all the members assisted.

The annual event concluded with the singing of "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows," "Auld Lang Syne" and "God Save the King."

The December meeting of the Brompton Road Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Lemuel Clark, Brompton Road, who with Mrs. Edward Berwick and Mrs. Donald Cullen, acted as hostesses.

The president, Mrs. Wesley Billing, opened the meeting with the Salute to the Flag and the Club Women's Collect. Members answered the roll call by naming their favorite Christmas carol.

Mrs. Milton Brown, welfare and health convener, reminded members of Civil Defence and First Aid Courses to be held in January. Mrs. Brown stressed the importance of this work, and several members plan to attend.

Under the convenership of Mrs. Gerald Decoteau, home economics convener, booklets of Canadian fish receipts were distributed, and a paper entitled "Fire need not eat your home," was read.

Mrs. C. S. Billing, citizenship convener, was asked to look after Christmas cheer in the neighborhood.

Mrs. Elgin Decoteau reported on the successful Christmas tea and sale, the proceeds of which were very gratifying.

Motion that $5 be voted towards distributing Christmas cheer to veterans in local hospitals, was passed. Members donating home-made food were asked to leave it at the home of Mrs. Herman Clark, where the boxes will be packed and delivered by Mrs. Emma Buck and Mrs. Wesley Billing. The home-made candy for the Christmas party at the Wales Home, will be looked after by Miss Verna Hatch, and is to be left at her home.

Following the business session the exchange of gifts took place and candy canes were given to the children. Miss Bessie Hess was the winner of the guest prize.

Mrs. Wesley Billing extended a warm welcome to the many guests, after which refreshments were served by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. Melville Page, Mrs. Alden Clark, Mrs Herman Clark and Miss Gail Clark.

IN THE WOMEN'S SPHERE

Lennoxville Women's League Holds Meeting

The Lennoxville Women's League held their Christmas sale and tea at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Hall recently.

The hall was decorated with red and green streamers and pine boughs tied with red ribbon. The centrepiece on the lace-covered tea table was composed of finials and sprigs of pine, flanked with red candles in silver candlesticks. The small tables were centred with red candles in log holders trimmed with evergreen and red berries.

Mrs. A. MacKenzie and Mrs. W. R. Adams received the guests, while the treasurer, Mrs. Fowlis, took the money at the door.

The League was honored to have as one of their guests Mrs. George Dick, one of the oldest members of St. Andrew's Church. Mrs. G. Christison and Mrs. C. Morrison presided at the tea table, assisted by Miss A. Shaw.

The fancy work was in charge of Mrs. R. Stevenson and Mrs. J. Trenholm. Food table, Mrs. J. Beattie and Miss A. Brown; aprons, Mrs. R Ray; calendars, parcel post and candy table, Mrs. W. Wilson and Miss F. Murray. Miss Lois Hunting sold tickets on a cake donated by Mrs. Fowlis. The lucky number was held by Miss E. Smith.

The tea was convened by Mrs. R. Norton, who was assisted in the kitchen by Mrs. H. Kendall, Mrs. R. Hunting, Mrs. W. Young and Miss C. MacKenzie. Mrs. J. Sawyer made the tea. The waitresses were Miss W. Ray, Mrs. G. MacDonald, Mrs. E. Morrison, Mrs. R. Smith and Mrs. H. Turner.

Sick Girl Trained For Bright Future

Gravenhurst, Ont., Dec. 14—(C)—Jane Mark, 24, an Indian girl, gained hope for the future when she contracted tuberculosis.

Jane was working as a domestic at Moose Factory when she became ill. She was brought to the Muskoka hospital here for treatment.

After a few months' rest she began to seek something concrete to do. She began studying, completed her public school education and took a stenographer's course.

Now she works as a part-time secretary for Dr. G. D. Richardson one of the hospital's leading doctors, and keeps school records for the more than 200 patients studying at the hospital.

Jane has not yet decided whether she will stay on to work at the hospital or go elsewhere. Whatever she does, her future now is wider and brighter for the training she has received.

Monthly Meeting Of Women's Auxil. Held At Foster

Foster, Dec. 14 — The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Auxiliary was held at the home of Mrs. Robert Price, recently, and was well attended.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. A. J. Griffin, with prayer also the Lord's Prayer and members prayer in unison. The Litany was read by Mrs. A. L. Young, with all joining in the responses.

The minutes of the last meeting were given by the recording secretary and approved as read.

A letter was read by the corresponding secretary, Mrs. R. Price, from Mr. and Mrs. F. Beale, of Clarenceville, acknowledging, with thanks, a letter, expressing the best of wishes to them in their new field of labor, that had been sent to them from this branch, with love and appreciation of their sojourn in our Parish, the last winter. A card was also read from Mrs. W. G. Knowlton, for a get-well card and from the Baird family, in Fulford, for a sympathy card that had been sent to them in their recent bereavement.

Mrs. Code gave an itemized account of the recent rummage sale, when $126.75 had been realized. Mrs. J. A. Griffin took this opportunity to thank all the members for their hearty co-operation, which made the sale so successful. The corresponding secretary, was authorized to send a card of thanks to Mr. W. A. Inglis for the kind assistance he has so freely given us each year.

Mrs. A. V. Beale read a letter from Florence Pennington, giving us the requisitions for our annual ball. She also gave us a wonderful report of the Deanery meeting, which had been held at Sutton, in October. It was moved that a parcel be sent to a local boy at Christmas, who is at present in Korea.

Mrs. A. V. Beale very kindly offered her home for the December meeting. No further business arising, the meeting was adjourned and after Grace had been said by Mrs. Crowhurst, all sat down to lunch. Mrs. Griffin expressed the thanks of all present for the kind hospitality.

W. A. DINNER

A dinner was held in the basement of the Creek Church recently, under the auspices of the Women's Association. In the afternoon, work was started on a quilt, which has since been completed and sold. A short business meeting was held, when several bills were ordered paid.

CHRISTMAS SALE

The annual Christmas sale was held in the Town Hall, recently, under the auspices of the Bishop Carmichael Memorial Church Guild. The hall was decorated with lighted Christmas trees and the various tables of fancy and plain articles, home cooking and others, along with the tea tables were attractively arranged around the hall.

In the evening, a card party was held, when cards were played at eighteen tables. The door prizes were won by Mrs. Raymond Streeter, Waterloo, and Mrs. G. Stevens. Other prizes for cards were won by Mr. George Foster, Mrs. Donald Gibbs, Mrs. H. Spencer, Mr. George Larocque, Warden; Mrs. H. Wing, Mr. Romeo Lise, Waterloo; Mr. H. Benoit, Mr. K. Rollins, Mrs. A. Bowker, Warden; Mrs. N. Crowhurst, Mrs. C. Caw, Mrs. I. Page, Mrs. J. Vintinner, Mrs. P. Morrison, Mrs. G. Bailey, Mrs. Raymond Streeter, Mr. Clifford Taylor, Mrs. Mooney, Mrs. Marcel Larocque, Mrs. Stevens, Miss E. Hunter, Mr. R. R. Quebec, Miss R. Smith, Mr. A. Morin, Mr. A. Gaucher, Mrs. Puize, Mr. Percy Boright, Mr. H. Prouty, Mr. George Allen. $100 was realized from this event and thanks are expressed to all, who so kindly donated prizes or helped in every way to make the success of the evening.

Smallwood Cabinet Seeks Re-Election

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The Liberal cabinet of Premier Joseph Smallwood seeks re-election en bloc along with its one new minister in Newfoundland's Nov. 26 general election.

New member of the cabinet is Gregory Power, chairman of the liquor control board since 1949, who was sworn in as finance minister after the Legislature was dissolved Nov. 3.

He will seek a seat in Placentia-St. Mary's, won by a Progressive Conservative in the last election. Mr. Power made his first political appearance in 1949 when he was defeated in the federal election by Progressive Conservative W. J. Browne in St. John's West.

Premier Smallwood himself holds the portfolio of economic development, a big plank in his election campaign.

Here is the line-up of other cabinet members:

Samuel J. Hefferton, education minister—a journalist, was named interim education minister and won his seat in the 1949 general election, Newfoundland's first as a province.

William J. Keough, fisheries and co-operative minister—was natural resources minister in the 1948 "caretaker" government and after winning his seat in St. George's-Port au Port in 1949 was named to his present portfolio.

Herbert L. Pottle, minister of welfare and acting minister of natural resources—a former judge of the juvenile court, was elected in the 1949 contest and named to the cabinet as minister of public welfare.

Leslie R. Curtis, attorney-general—a senior law partner, Mr. Curtis was appointed attorney general in the 1948 government and gained a seat in the Twillingate riding in the election of 1949.

James J. Spratt, provincial affairs minister—a former member of the St. John's municipal council for 16 years, the last four as deputy mayor, Mr. Spratt was appointed to the cabinet following the 1949 election.

Edward S. Spencer, public works minister—a former highway engineer, Mr. Spencer was named to the cabinet immediately following the 1949 election. He is a member for the Grand Falls district.

Philip S. Forsey, supply minister—a former school teacher and a strong advocate of confederation, Mr. Forsey was named acting minister of provincial affairs in Mr. Smallwood's interim government. He won his seat in Burin and took over the portfolio of supply after the election.

Oliver L. Vardy, minister without portfolio in charge of housing administration—a manufacturer, Mr. Vardy was a member of the St. John's municipal council for eight years. He was named to the cabinet without portfolio in 1950.

James R. Chalker, health minister—was in business for himself before entering politics, gaining election in 1949. He was named to the cabinet shortly after the contest.

Charles H. Ballam, labor minister—a long-time unionist and one-time president of the Newfoundland federation of labor, Mr. Ballam was named to the labor ministry in the 1948 cabinet. He won election in the Humber constituency.

Survey 60,000 Acres For Northern Farms

Saskatoon. — Surveyors this year struggled through knee-deep mud, splashed through freezing muskeg and battled black flies and mosquitoes to push back Saskatchewan's northern agricultural frontier.

In six-and-a-half months in the bush, they added more than 60,000 acres to Saskatchewan's surveyed agricultural land. It was the first operation of its scale in the province in more than 15 years.

Part of the 60,000 acres surveyed is located in an area running south from a point about seven miles south of the town of Hudson Bay. The land will be turned over to the provincial department of agriculture to be leased to prospective settlers.

Alex Stewart, in charge of the survey, said the main difficultities encountered were heavy rains which turned roads, bush trails and the bushland itself into an almost impassable quagmire.

The surveyors often were soaked to the waist working through swamps and crossing streams which ordinarily would have been nearly dry in the early fall.

Use of propane fuel for city motor buses is increasing. This fuel is the gas bottled under pressure used in homes outside areas with piped gas.

Ives Hill Farm Forum Holds Meeting

Ives Hill, Dec. 14.—The Forum met on December 10 with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Green with a large attendance. Mr. Green was chairman.

The broadcast was listened to and the gathering broke up into into four groups for discussion purposes. It was thought folk schools would fill a need in the community by leadership training. It could be carried out through folk schools, plays and debates and public speaking. The other type of school or course suggested was farm organization and business course.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The "Green Leaf" was also read.

It was decided to send Russell Nichols and Leslie Young to the short course at Macdonald College. A letter received from Mr. Blanchette was read. Final plans were made for the dance to be held in the local hall on Dec. 14, also for the Christmas tree to be held on Dec. 22. The next meeting is to be at Mr. H. H. Allison's.

Mr. Haines Bernard conducted the recreational program of contests and quizzes. Cards also were played. Lunch was served by Mrs. Green, assisted by others present.

W.A. MET

The Ives Hill W.A. met recently with Mrs. A. M. Allisn.

The president, Mrs. S. N. Cairns, presided, opening the meeting by all repeating the Lord's Prayer. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

It was moved by Mrs. A. M. Allison and seconded by Mrs. J. G. Farwell that $20 more be given to the church funds and $10 to the M. and M. Fund. Mrs. Farwell is to purchase articles for prizes to be given to the Waterville school. Plans were made for the usual Christmas cheer for shut-ins and others.

The sum of $2 was donated to the local Farm Forum to help in the purchase of candy for candy bags at the annual Christmas tree. The meeting was then adjourned.

OBITUARIES

MR. NELSON SAMWORTH, GRANBY.

Granby, Dec. 14. — Citizens of Granby were shocked to learn of the sudden death of the late Nelson Samworth, which occurred at the Montreal General Hospital on December 1 following a brief illness, at the age of 51 years.

The late Mr. Samworth was born in Granby on October 21, 1900, and lived nearly all his life here, except for five years when he was employed by the express department of the Canadian National Railways at New Glasgow, N.S.

Upon his return to Granby he entered the employ of the Miner Rubber Company, Limited, in 1930, where he worked until the time of his death. Here he was plant safety superintendent and was a member of the 20 Year Club.

On September 16, 1924, he was married to Miss Madge Waugh, of Granby, who survives him; also two daughters, Mrs. C. A. Cornish and Miss Jean Samworth, and one son, George Samworth, all of Granby.

Other relatives are a sister, Mrs. Claude Donaway, of Granby, and a brother, Mr. Walter Samworth, of Ottawa, Ont., and three grandchildren.

The funeral took place from the Granby Funeral Home and the body was accompanied by six gowned members of the choir to St. George's Church, viz., Capt. C. Cormish, E. F. Davidge, W. O. Lewis, Jr., Howard Laurie, H. D. Jeffreys, C. Nelthorpe, who acted as pall bearers.

Active bearers were Messrs. C. C. Peasley, M. McComiskey, Keyworth Stapleton, Hector Martin, Lenard Dozois and Leo Jason.

The service was conducted by Ven. Archdeacon I. M. Lidstone, rector of St. George's Church.

The late Mr. Samworth was a keen member of the Anglican Church, and a member of the select vestry of St. George's, Granby, where he sang in the choir for over 20 years, and was leader of the Willing Workers Club there.

He was an ardent bowler and was one of the original members of the City Bowling League; he was also president of the Miner Bowling League.

Mr. Samworth was greatly interested in the Boy Scout Movement and was a Scoutmaster of the Granby Troop, and recently was a member of the Granby Branch of the Baden-Powell Guild of Old Scouts.

THOMAS D. WATSON, OF CANTERBURY EAST

Canterbury East, Dec. 14.—The people of this community were grieved to hear of the passing of Thomas D. Watson who was in his 58th year. His death occurred in the Sherbrooke Hospital on December 6th.

The deceased was the eldest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Watson, of Scotstown, and was educated at Scotstown school. Tom spent his entire life in this district and was known to possess a kind and obliging disposition which won the love and respect of all who knew him.

He was married to Daisy E. Sharman, only daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Sharman on July 11, 1917, who predeceased him in 1930. One son, Erwin, was born of this happy union. They bought a farm in Galson where they lived several years, afterwards moved to Scotstown where he took up business of butchering for a number of years, but owing to ill health had to give up for lighter work, until his health failed. He was removed to the hospital where he remained off and on for 14 months until his death.

The remains were brought to the home of his brother-in-law, Mr. Clayton Sharman and son, Erwin.

He leaves to mourn his passing two sisters, Jean, Mrs. Clarance Morrison, of Toronto; Marion, Mrs. Herbert Bell, of Montreal; and one brother, Andrew, of St. Johnsbury, Vt., and nieces and nephews.

The beautiful flowers on the casket were silent tokens of respect and sympathy.

Prayers were held at the house before proceeding to St. Alban's Church, Scotstown, where Rev. Walker conducted the funeral service. Favorite hymns of the deceased were sung "Onward Christian Soldiers" and "Safe In The Arms Of Jesus."

Bearers were Messrs. Leslie MacLeod, Leo Frain, Bruce Bentley, Basil Wolly, William Wonnacott, and Charles Bown. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Bury Funeral Home. Interment was in Bown Cemetery.

Those from a distant were: Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Watson and daughter, Jean, Mrs. Clarence Morrison, Toronto, Miss Muriel Hammond, of Sherbrooke, Miss Frain, of Montreal, Mrs. Arnold Bown ,Mr. M. McIver, Mr. Hammond, of Lennoxville, Mr. D. McMillan, of Cookshire, H. Leonard, of Sherbrooke, Angus McIver, of Sherbrooke and many others from Bury, Scotstown and Lingwick.

WARDEN

Mrs. J. Marcotte and daughter, Barbara, spent an afternoon with Mrs. Crowhurst at Foster.

The December meeting of the W. I. was entertained by Mrs. Courtemanche at Waterloo, the joint hostesses being Mrs. H. Jones, Mrs. McKenney and Miss Kilton. Carols were sung and plans made for sending Christmas cheer. $10 was voted to be sent to the Wales Home Christmas cheer fund. Small gifts were exchanged and a cake was raffled and won by Miss N. Galbraith. Refreshments were then served to the 15 members and five visitors. The January meeting is to be entertained by Mrs. Hanna and Miss Hanna.

WOMAN GRABS FRIEND'S CHILD FROM PATH OF SPEEDING TRAIN

Mrs. Gerard Veronneau, of St. Bruno Village, Que., risks life to rescue 7-year-old boy from railway bridge

1. Mr. Veronneau and his friend Mr. Deslières were fishing on a railway bridge near Chambly, Que. Their wives and children were a short distance away enjoying the mid-summer sunshine. No one noticed that 7-year-old Jacques Deslières had decided to join the men on the bridge. No one noticed, either, the sound of an approaching train!

3. Running in front of the train, the gallant woman grasped her friend's son and just managed to climb down the incline of the rail bed before the train roared by. Both were shaking with fear — but both were safe. To Mrs. Gerard Veronneau we proudly pay tribute through the presentation of THE DOW AWARD for outstanding bravery.

2. The boy was well out on the bridge when Mrs. Veronneau saw him and the train at the same time. She frantically screamed "Hurry, hurry!" . . . but, when young Jacques looked up at the train he froze with fear. He stood there, staring at the onrushing locomotive and shrieked at the top of his lungs. Mrs. Veronneau summoned up all her courage and raced to the rescue.

THE Dow AWARD

THE DOW AWARD is a citation presented for acts of outstanding heroism and includes, as a tangible expression of appreciation, a $100 Canada Savings Bond. The Dow Award Committee, a group of editors of leading Canadian daily newspapers, selects Award winners from recommendations made by a nationally known news organization.

Home And School Hold Meeting At Sutton

Sutton, Dec. 14 — A well attended meeting of the Sutton Home and School Association was held at the High School, recently.

The room, in which, the meeting was held had been gaily decorated by the pupils of grades 6 and 7 and, together with the tree, which had been placed there to receive the gifts for the Christmas hampers, presented a very festive appearance.

The meeting, presided over by the president, Mrs. Rupert Phelps, was opened with the Lord's Prayer. Mrs. F. Ingalls read the minutes of the last meeting and they were accepted. The minutes of a recent special executive meeting were also read. At this meeting, it was decided to purchase three new tunics for children, whose parents were unable to provide them. This has now been done and no girl attending school, is at present without this uniform.

Several letters of appreciation were read from pupils who had received proficiency prizes at the School Opening, as well as notes of thanks from members who had received cards and flowers.

A letter from the Village Council stated that our request for a nine o'clock curfew could not be granted at present, owing to the fact that the expense of extra police, which would be required, would mean an increase in taxes.

The president, then introduced Miss E. Gotto, who told the beautiful Christmas Story, "The Other Wise Man". Miss Gotto has a fine talent as a reader and story teller, and the manner in which she presented this well loved story, will not soon be forgotten by all who were privileged to hear her. Miss H. Vail thanked Miss Gotto in a very pleasing manner.

The president expressed regret for the sorrow, which had come to one of the teachers, Mrs. Royea, in the loss of her mother, Mrs. Vincent.

Mrs. George Webb then presented the teachers with an electric tea kettle to be used in the teachers' room for their own convenience. This gift was in appreciation for the many little things done for our children outside their regular line of duty.

A letter was then read from the Board of Eduction in connection with a question now being discussed, re. a change in the Easter holidays. A ballot was enclosed and Home and School Associations were asked to send in their vote.

A Farm Forum Was Formed At Canterbury

Canterbury, Dec. 14. — A Monday evening, Messrs. W. Hodgeman, Donald McMillan and James Davidson held a meeting in the hall in connection with Farm Forums.

The members of Hardwood Flat Farm Forum attended. The broadcast was listened to and discussed.

Messrs. Hodgeman and Davidson were very desirous of forming a Forum here, with the results that a Forum was formed with Mr. E. Rudd, for secretary, N. G. Bennett, chairman and Samuel Maher, as leader of discussions.

Refreshments were served and a short social time was spent.

The next meeting will be held at Mr. Thomas Chapman's home.

Canuck Gal Shorter Than American Miss

By DOUG HOW
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Hannover, Germany. — Lili Marlene is still haunting the hearts of soldiers. She is proving more than a successor to the durable siren of another era, the Mademoiselle from Armentieres.

For this sweetheart of song of the second world war not only is as bewitching, as tormenting, as ever but she has become a force for reconstruction.

She is a sort of cross between diplomat and nurse of the spirit. She helps heal the wounds and bridge the gaps left by the war, between the Germans who discovered her and the allies who came later but no less devotedly to her shrine.

She descends nightly, for instance, upon the steamship Canberra which is shuttling across the Atlantic to bring shiploads of Canadian 27th Infantry Brigade soldiers to Europe. Aboard, she receives the joint homage and fealty of former enemies.

Germans in the Canberra's crew and the Canadian soldiers who are her passengers have found that the war, rather than perpetuating their differences, provides a common denominator for conversation, for recollections, for swapping of experiences. Of all the bonds across the bitter years, Lili Marlene is the most subtle, the most pervasive.

Germans and Canadians share Lili without jealousy or hesitation and, indeed, take mutual pleasure in her charms. There are a number of veterans of Rommel's Afrika Korps among the more than 100 Germans in the crew. They seem content to have their Lili wooed in song by young Canadians, many of whom were 10-year-old schoolboys when Lili was sung at El Alamein.

One of these Germans, a blonde former N.C.O., plays the cello in the ship's four-piece orchestra. No other song runs through the ship as often as this soft, haunting tune about the girl who waits for her soldier underneath the lamplight beside the barracks gate.

The Germans play the music, the soldiers sing and Lili steals aboard, a tender, mystic wraith. As the music of her mystery spreads, men pick it up and hum or sing it in English or German.

Some of them just look out across the sea or stare into the ceiling and let the gentle Lili murmur in their blood.

For, with all her new and broadened achievements, Lili remains strongly personal.

The two alternatives were: Easter vacation from the Thursday preceeding Good Friday to the Tuesday, following Easter Monday, with three days to be given as holidays during the winter or, to leave the holidays as they now stand, Good Friday and the week following Easter. The vote was for the holidays as they now stand.

This concluded the business and the president thanked the members for their generous response to the appeal for donations for the Christmas boxes. Mrs. Leon Dyer, Mrs. Cecil Carr, and Mrs. Fordyce Ingalls volunteered to help pack the boxes and word was to be given out that any further donations could be left at the home of Mrs. Rupert Phelps.

The meeting was then adjourned and was followed by a light lunch and social hour. Refreshments were in charge of Mrs. H. Dyer and Mrs. K. Jenne, assisted by Mrs. Homer Ruiter and Mrs. Lawrence Smith.

Hot lunches will again be provided, after the holidays, under similar conditions as last year, to children unable to return home for dinner.

A new mass-production method of producing one-piece, hollow-steel propeller plades by forcing hot metal through a die, has been revealed. Blades now in use usually are made of two parts, which are welded together.

OBITUARIES

BRIG.-GENERAL D. C. DRAPER

Sutton Junction, Dec. 14. — Brigadier-General Draper was the son of John Colbourn Draper and Harriet Elma Downs who resided on a farm near Sutton Junction and it was here their son Dennis Colbourn was born in the year 1872 and received his early education. At the age of eighteen he went to Montreal and took up business.

At an early age he became interested in cavalry units. In 1914 he went overseas with the 5th C.M.R's as Captain with Col. Harry Baker. By October 1915 this regiment was in the trenches. He rose quickly, and became Officer Commanding the Regiment on the death of Col. Baker.

At the close of the war in 1918 General Draper returned home having been decorated with C.M.G. and D.S.O. and Bar.

In 1928 he was appointed chief constable of the Toronto Police Force serving the city of Toronto faithfully and efficiently for many years. When Chief Draper resigned as Chief of Police he was appointed as consultant to the Police department so highly was his knowledge of police work rated. He was president of the International Association of Chiefs of Police in 1944-45, and a life member of the Chief Constables' Association of Canada.

General Draper entered Sunnybrook Veterans Hospital on October 23rd., 1951 and passed away on November 8th. The funeral service was held in St. Paul's Church, Toronto, on November 10th; the body was brought to Sutton and was laid to rest in Fairmount Cemetery with full military honors. Lt.-Col. H. F. C. Cocks, M.C., E.D., chaplain of Ste. Anne de Bellevue Military Hospital conducted the service at the grave assisted by Rev. Dr. S. W. Boyd pastor of United Church, Sutton, Lt.-Col. Thomas Stewart, Chaplain of Sunnybrook Veterans Hospital; and Rev. F. Gedye, of Brome.

He is survived by his widow formerly Miss Marjorie Hume, of Sherbrooke, two sisters, Mrs. F. H. Darrah and Mrs. H. Le Gallais, of West Brome, Que.; a niece, Mrs. G. A. Barber, of Montreal; a cousin, Dr. F. E. Draper, Bedford; and two second cousins, Dr. Dennis Draper and Dr. Ernest Draper, of Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal.

Athletic Assoc. Holds Meeting At Beebe

Beebe, Dec. 14.—The Beebe Athletic Assoc., under its new president, George Richard, is increasing its activities and opened a drive for funds with a dance in the Beebe Town Hall. One hundred and five dollars was cleared and a bond for $50 was won by Irvin Corey of this place. Valuable assistance in making the dance a success was given by Mrs. Smith, principal of the Beebe Intermediate School, and by the students who assisted in the decorating and the selling of tickets.

During 1951, the Athletic Association raised $1494.34 through their various events and activities, and paid out $1367.23 in expenses and the reduction of their debt. In 1949 their debt stood at $1400 largely as the result of the establishment of the Beebe Memorial Park. This debt has now been reduced to $500 and it is hoped that it may be completely wiped out in the near future.

Plans are underway for increasing the children's play facilities in the park as soon as sufficient money can be raised. The association recognizes the urgent need for an adequate play ground for the children and is asking the public to cooperate in every way possible in bringing this about.

THE WELCOME CLUB

The fifth meeting of the Welcome Club was held recently with 23 members present.

Two topics were discussed at length. The first was the skating rink under the direction of Armand Gagnon who was given full authority to purchase the necessary equipment for building. The second subject was a Christmas Party and Tree for the members and their families to be held on Saturday, Dec. 15, at 8 P. M.

The business meeting adjourned followed by a work period. The ladies are teaching the girls knitting and the men are teaching the boys jig-saw work.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Gagnon, Mrs. Lawton and Mrs. McMullen.

A FAREWELL PARTY

Pte. Raymond Bronson was the guest of honor at a Farewell Party planned by his parents at his home with about 50 guests present. Raymond expects to embark from Canada in the near future.

The evening was pleasantly spent with dancing and Community singing. Refreshments were served at midnight by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Bouchard.

Presentations were made among which, was a purse of money, two cigarette lighters, cigarette case, cigarettes and also cards.

Pictures were taken of the group by Mr. Philip Probert and the guests departed after wishing Raymond a "Bon Voyage" and safe return.

BORDER VIEW 4-H

The first meeting of the Border View 4-H was held at the Welcome Club hall.

Officers and projects were voted for with the help of the guest speaker, Mrs. Leonard, the county club agent. The above name for the club was selected.

The slate of officers are: President, Rosalie Taplin, vice president, Audrey King, secretary, Joan Brown, game leader, Denise Gaudreau, treasurer, Myrna Lawson, news-reporter, Corwyn Lorimer. Other members were Sandra Ingalls, Maria Cote, and Leah Lorimer. Junior Leaders were Joan Brown and Audrey King.

Magog Lions Plan Party For 16 Blind

Magog, Dec. 14.—Members of the Magog Lions Club are ready for their first Christmas party for Magog's blind, numbering 16. This group of citizens also belongs to the Sherbrooke Oasis Club and attends meetings regularly.

This party will be held at the home of Mrs. Arthur Nadeau on St. Pierre Street here tomorrow from 2 to 6 p.m. A buffet lunch will be served and presents will be distributed among the guests.

William H. McKenna, chairman of the Magog Lions' Blind Committee, stated that although this is the first time something like this has ever been carried out in Magog, he hopes that it will become an annual event.

Meridian Concert To Be Held At Boundary

Rock Island, Dec. 14 — The Meridan Choir will present a Christmas gift to the Boundary Communities in the form of a free concert, to be given on Friday evening, December 21, in the Haskell Opera House.

Under the direction of Jack St. Souveur the choir will sing favorite Christmas carols, songs and their popular rendition of old favorites. They will lead the audience in group singing and Miss Madeline Poulin will favor the gathering with vocal solos. Mrs. St. Souveur will preside at the piano. The hour is set for 7:30 o'clock, early enough so parents can take the children, to enjoy this fine gesture by the choir, at this time of the year.

This is the third successive year the Meridans have given a free concert at Christmas time, in keeping with the belief, "It is more blessed to give than to receive." It is free, show your appreciation by attending with the whole family, and friends.

CUB MEETING

Mr. Mark Young, of St. Albans, Field Scout executive of the Long Trail Council and Dr. Perry Fitch, of Newport, Vt., were at the Derby Line village hall recently where they met parents and six very interester prospective cubs.

Mr. Young gave an address on the aims and benefits of the cubs and fully explained its activities. Plans are underway to form a Long Trail Cub Pack in Derby Line, under the leadership of Mr. Edwin Earle and Rev. Charles Vickery. Mr. Young also showed some very interesting films, pertaining to his address, all of which, was much enjoyed.

WARDEN

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Paige and daughter, Carol, of Nitro, Mrs. D. Collins and Miss Marion Collins, of East Farnham, spent a day with Mr. and Mrs. K. Talbot and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Duboyce, of South Natick, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. T. Duboyce, of West Bolton, and Mrs. S. Newton, Eric and Olive Newton, were tea guests of Mr. and Mrs. V. Lewis.

Mr. E. L. Maynes accompanied Mr. Lloyd Maynes, Mr. H. C. Wallace and Mr. E. H. Ashton, of Waterloo, to Farnham, where they called on Mr. E. P. Corcoran.

Windsor Rockettes Take 1st Place Again In E. T. Ladies' Basketball, Edging Girls Of Radar Unit, 29-28

Windsor Mills, Dec. 14 — For the third time this season, Windsor Rockettes moved into sole possession of first place in the E. T. Ladies' basketball League last night when they edged the girls of the Sherbrooke R.C.A.F. Unit, 29-28, in a game played before a packed house at the Canada Paper Club.

Windsor now leads Radar by two points while Bishop's University trails the League leaders by four points. The League resumes its schedule after the holidays.

The game was a close-checking and ragged affair in the first half with only 16 points, nine by Windsor and seven by Radar, scored by half time.

Play opened up in the final two periods with the R.C.A.F. girls putting on most of the pressure, particularly in the final quarter.

Windsor led 27-17 late in the final frame but Radar kept pressing until the very end, scoring their final basket with only five seconds of play remaining.

Little Rita Berube showed the form which made her one of the leading scorers in the loop last year, leading all scorers for the night with 13 points on behalf of Radar. May Fontaine, stellar guard of the R.C.A.F., played her usually-good two-way game and contributed six points.

The Windsor girls had more luck keeping in check Radar's center, Ruth Hamilton and their close checking on Miss Hamilton kept her off the score sheet.

Windsor center Hilary Watt got off to a slow start last night but came through in fine form during the second half and wound up with a total of 11 points. Captain Sally Butler also played an outstanding game for the winners, scoring nine.

Rookie Barbara Ross got her big opportunity during the second half when guard Jean Westgate was "chased" after piling up five personal fouls and the newcomer to the Windsor team showed she has the makings of a really good basketball player.

Summary:

R.C.A.F. Unit: Enid Smith 2, Jackie Roberts 0, Ruth Hamilton 0, May Fontaine 6, Pat Morrison 4, Elizabeth Grimes 3, Jill Harding 0, Rita Berube 13. Total—28.

Windsor Rockettes: Shirley Robinson 0, Noreen Butler 0, Barbara Ross 0, Carmen Allard 0, Jeanne Raymond 1, Hilary Watt 11, Sally Butler 9, Jean Westgate 4, Denise Allard 4. Total—29.

Referee: Bill Fuller, Sherbrooke.

Royals Knock Off Aces 4-1 In One-Sided Affair At Montreal

Montreal, Dec. 14— (CP) —Montreal Royals last night downed Quebec Aces 4-1 in a Quebec Senior Hockey League game here before a crowd of 4,448.

Dickie Moore, Cliff Malone and Bob Fryday were the big guns for the Royals with Moore scoring twice and getting one assist. Malone scored once and had two assists. Jean Beliveau scored the lone tally for the Aces.

Early in the first period, Moore scored on passes from Malone and Desaulniers. The second marker was scored at 14:56 following a pile-up in front of the net with Malone pushing it in.

Quebec scored at 17:53 when Beliveau sank a short one into the right-hand side of the net. Moore got his second goal of the game when he intercepted the puck near the blue line and shot into an almost clear net.

Royals scored again in the second when Fryday went half the length of the ice, pumping his marker in at 15:14.

In the third period there was no scoring as both goalers were on their toes stopping some labelled shots.

St. Jerome Edge Granby 5-4 In Overtime Tilt

Granby, Que., Dec. 14.—(CP)—St. Jerome Eagles last night took a 5-4 overtime decision from Granby Royals and moved to within one point of fourth place in the Quebec Junior Amateur Hockey Association standings.

Granby remains in last place with but one victory in 24 starts.

St. Jerome took a 1-0 lead in the opening period but the home team came to life in the second to tally three unanswered goals. Granby opened scoring in the third but three St. Jerome tallies sent the game into overtime.

Fern Lapointe paced the winners with three goals. Gilles Plante and Jim Bartlett got the others. For the losers, Yves Gauthier and Marchessault each scored twice.

Bill Hayes Named Head Of Buffalo Bisons

Detroit, Dec. 14.—(AP)—A. W. (Bill) Hayes has been named general manager of Detroit Tigers' new farm club at Buffalo, the Tigers announced yesterday.

The Tigers purchased the Buffalo club recently to replace Toledo of the American Association in the farm system.

Keating Leaves Halifax Field After New Deal

Halifax, Dec. 14. — (CP) — Mickey Keating, 20-year-old Halifax St. Mary's defenceman who is a product of Western Canada Junior Hockey ranks, will leave this week-end to join New Haven of the Eastern United States Amateur League, coach Wilf Field announced today.

Although his ice work has been good at times, club officials said the Maritime Major Hockey League setup is a bit too strong for him.

Field also said a trade will bring a goalie and a defenceman here next week. St. Mary's will trade Morley MacNeil for goalie Don O'Hearn and defenceman Al Bergeron of Eddie Shore's chain. However, the Halifax club will not make the switch unless MacNeil is assured a spot with Shore's Syracuse team of the A.H.L.

Locals Hold Fast-Stepping Chics To Stalemate; Bobby Pepin And Lepine Tally; Campeau Joins Club

Chicoutimi, Que., Dec. 14—(CP)—Chicoutimi Saguenays and Sherbrooke Saints played to a 2-2 deadlock in a Quebec Senior Hockey League game here last night.

Play was clean and fast with only four penalties being handed out.

Sherbrooke took the lead in the second period when Joe Lepine combined with Bobby Pepin and Bill Kyle to score at 11:31. Lepine beat Pelletier in the Chicoutimi goals with a smart shot into the right hand corner after a pretty passing play.

Five minutes later Donat Dechene took passes from Gladu and Wray to knot the count.

In the third period Jimmy Moore beat the Saints' Roger Bessette with a low shot with Franche and L. Smrke drawing assists. The Saints came back strongly with Bobby Pepin tipping McDougall's shot in for the tying marker. Joe Lepine also drew an assist.

There were few scoring chances for either team in the overtime period with play scrambled.

Sherbrooke—goal, Bessette; defence, Sandalack, Lepine, Wright; forwards, R. Pepin, Tremblay, Planche, McDougall, Kyle, B. Pepin, Smith, Ferguson, Biggs, Campeau.

ROYALS HERE TOMORROW

Tomorrow evening the Montreal Royals will be putting in their second appearance of the season at the local Arena. On their initial trip Frank Carlin's squad hung a 5-1 trimming on the locals while in Montreal they edged out Dugre's squad 3-2.

Since their last trip this way the locals have been playing better hockey and with the recent addition of Tod Campeau, a former Royal, the Carlin squad may run into some tough opposition. No doubt Campeau will go all out against his former mates.

Referee: Morrison. Linesmen: Levesque and Lepage.

Schroeder, Trabert Make Comeback To Take Davis Cup Doubles And Send U. S. Into Finals Against Aussies

Melbourne, Australia, Dec. 14—(AP)—Lennart Bergelin failed his Swedish teammates badly again today as Ted Schroeder and Tony Trabert won the doubles and clinched the Davis Cup tennis cup interzone final for America.

The player who was supposed to be his country's ace in the hole collapsed after a good start, enabling Ted and Tony to come from behind and triumph easily, 10-12, 6-0, 6-3, 6-2.

Sven Davidsson, Bergelin's youthful partner put up a spirited battle all the way, but the load was too much for one to carry.

Bergelin's foldup was a big disappointment to the crowd of 6,000 which had hoped at least to witness a good doubles match after yesterday's one-sided singles.

There was no apparent explanation for Bergelin's abject failure to play his game. His teammates were extremely unhappy about it. "If there had been two Davidssons out there today we might have had a Swedish victory," said Frank Shields, captain of the U.S. team.

The first set, which required 41 minutes, was marked only by failure of the American pair to play anything like their best tennis. The next three sets, which took only 47 minutes, were distinguished by Bergelin's failure to hold his service in five straight tries.

Despite the one-sided scores in the last three sets, Schroeder and Trabert showed little to worry the Australians in the challenge round at Sydney, Dec. 26-28. The Aussies' two jewels, Frank Sedgman and Ken McGregor, likely would lick them in straight sets on today's form.

Overnight, the veteran Schroeder lost the keen edge which cut Bergelin to pieces yesterday and had the Australians raving about him. His service was much less severe and it was only towards the ends of the match that his service returns began dipping low over the net and catching the Swedes coming in.

Ted dropped his service twice, once in the 21st game of the long first set and again in the fifth game of the third set when the Swedes temporarily pulled even at 3-3.

Trabert played his usual steady doubles game and got progressively better after the first set, but the American team needed Schroeder at his brilliant best to be a threat to the Aussies.

There remains the possibility that Vic Seixas will be moved into the doubles post after today's dull showing of the supposedly "all set" pair.

With victory already decided, tomorrow's concluding singles will supply a dismal climax to the one-sided series here. Shields said he would stick with Schroeder and Trabert while Gunnar Galin, the Swedish captain, said he hadn't decided on his lineup.

Saint John Regain Their 11-Point Lead In Maritime Major League

Saint John Beavers were catching their breath today after regaining their 11 point lead in the Maritime Major Hockey League last night with a 9-5 win over Glace Bay Miners.

Wednesday night, second-place Charlottetown Islanders, continuing their march towards first place, moved to within nine points of their goal.

Miners fought back with five third-period goals last night but they were too few and too late to overcome the powerful Saint John lead. Charlottetown will have the jump on Beavers tonight when they meet Sydney in the only loop battle.

Beavers, playing on home ice, shot five in the first session and two in the second while holding Miners scoreless. Then the visitors fired four straight and sandwiched another between two more Saint John goals.

Jack Meldrum and Al Buchanan led the Beaver scorers with a brace each. Singles were shot by Ken Watson, Tom and Carl Smelle, Matt Mesich and Johnny Arundel. Watson had the biggest total with his single goal and three assists and Johnny Ubriaco, the League's top point-getter, also had three assists.

For Glace Bay, Jim Anderson and Len Haley each counted twice. Neil Amadio shot the other. Playing coach Bud Poile had three assists, Anderson one and Haley one.

Beavers were playing without the services of defenceman Howie Lee, who left Saint Jonh by plane yesterday for a tryout with Pittsburgh Hornets of the American Hockey League.

It was understood he would play three games and might not return to Saint John.

At Halifax, Coach Wilf Field announced that 20-year-old Mickey Keating, St Mary's defenceman, will leave this week-end to join New Haven of the Eastern United States Amateur League.

Although his ice work has been good at times, club officials said the M.M.H.L. setup is a bit too strong for the young product of Western Canada junior hockey ranks.

Field also said a trade will bring a goalie and a defenceman to Halifax next week. St. Mary's will trade Morley MacNeil for goalie Don O'Hearn and defenceman Al Bergeron of Eddie Shore's chain. However, the Halifax club will not make the switch unless MacNeil is assured a spot with Shore's Syracuse team of the A.H.L.

Senators And Cataracts Battle To 2-2 Draw; Free-For-All Takes Spotlight In Wild Third Frame

Shawinigan Falls, Que., Dec. 14.—(CP)—Ottawa Senators and Shawinigan Falls Cataracts played to a 2-2 overtime Quebec Senior Hockey League tie here last night before 4,000 fans.

Lyall Wiseman and Claude Dolbec tallied for the home team and Bill Johnson and Bill Robinson were the Ottawa goal-getters.

Following a scoreless first period, Wiseman and Dolbec gave the Cats a 2-0 lead in the second, a lead erased in the third on two Ottawa goals late in the period. The overtime period was scoreless.

Ottawa held a slight edge in the opening period and took over in the second with Leo Gravelle being especially dangerous.

The game broke wide open when Jack Gisebrecht was chased for interference and the Cats, quick to take advantage, banged home two quick tallies.

The Cats kept at it in the third but Johnson batted in a pass past Al Millar. With but a minute to go, a general set-to broke out. When it was cleared away Wiseman and Emile Dagenais had majors while three other players, including the two goalies, got minors for fighting.

Austin, Tex.—Pete Gil, 153, Austin, knocked out Corky Calahan, 150, Chicago, 1.

Spartans Top Y.M.C.A. Basketballers, 83-37

The more seasoned Sherbrooke Spartans took the measure of Y.M.C.A. Intermediates last night, 83-37, in a basketball game played at the William Street Armoury.

Playing together for the second straight year, last season's provincial semi-finalists had little trouble with the "Y" squad who, however, are improving each time out.

With a little more practice as a team, Marcel Fortier's crew should give a pretty fair account of themselves this season.

Al Hunting, Charlie Clarke and Dave Turnbull set the pace for Benny Linds' Spartans, scoring 22, 19, and 17 points, respectively, while McMurray's 10 was high for Y.M.C.A.

Spartans grabbed an early lead and were ahead 50-19 at the half. "Y" stopped them cold in the third quarter, limiting the heavy-scoring Spartans to a mere seven points in this frame, and potting nine points themselves.

Summary:

Y.M.C.A.: McCall 5, Norris 2, McMurray 10, Alcorn 2, Connor 2, Gilles 0, Lynch 8, Johnson 4, Lougheed 0, Chesbro 4. Total—37.

Spartans: Boland 5, Stafford 1, Griffin 2, Hunting 22, Clarke 19, Billings 3, John Turnbull 0, Goodhue 3, Dave Turnbull 17, Brent 6, Littlejohn 2, Evans 3. Total—83.

Referee: Warren Forbes.

City Volleyball Resumes Schedule

The City Volleyball League resumes its schedule at the Y.M.C.A., Saturday afternoon, with a double-header, beginning at 1.30 o'clock.

In the first game, "Y" Businessmen play Tuque Rouge and "Y" Seniors play Rubins Ltd., in the afterpiece. The games were not played last Saturday because of the Immaculate Conception holyday.

It is hoped to have the annual meeting and election of officers between games.

Play Advances In Local Mixed Curling Fixture

Tonight's matches will be the deciding factor for the rinks in the semi-finals of the Mixed Bonspiel which is being sponsored by the Sherbrooke Curling Club.

The semi-finals will take place tomorrow afternoon and in the evening the finals for the main event, as well as the consolation, will be played.

Last night on the early shift Ned Soles downed Len Keeler 10-6 while Doug Racey came up with a 11-2 victory over Les Cleveland and Bert Keeler chalked up a 9-4 win over Bill Boisvert's rink.

Tom Chapman doubled the count on Reg Bishop's quartet 12-6 and Roy Wiggett came through with 10-7 win over Bruce Bishop's foursome while George Chapman downed Bart Holtham 8-4. Dr. Dion guided his crew to a 8-4 win over Gordon Armitage's foursome while Bill Hammond registered a 13-6 victory over Ossie Goyette and Frank Gingras posted a 12-6 win over J. R. Sangster and his rink.

New Juvenile League Formed At Cookshire

Bill Rowland was elected president of the newly formed juvenile hockey league at a meeting held in the Legion Hall at Cookshire.

A good gathering was on hand for the event and four teams have signified their intentions of operating teams in the circuit.

East Angus, Cookshire, Sawyerville and Bury are laying plans for a good year and the youngsters will be organized into regular teams. The main idea behind the movement is give the kids an apportunity of showing their ability under controled supervision.

Gordon Buchanan was named vice-president and Bill Fuller was elected secretary of the league and it is hoped to start the schedule shortly after New Years.

Boston Braves Press Stanky For New Deal

Boston, Dec. 14—(AP)—President Lou Perini and general manager John Quinn of the Boston Braves today were pressing their former star, Eddie Stanky, new manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, for his decision on an important four-player swap.

The Tribal executives laid the ground work for the deal with Fred Saigh, the Cardinals' owner, during this week's baseball meetings in New York.

"We won't mention any names now," Quinn said, "but we probably have offered the Cardinals more than we should. Saigh knows our offer and he wants Stanky's approval."

In dire need of a second baseman, it was understood that the Braves offered Vern Bickford, the 14-9 righthanded pitcher, and first baseman Earl Togeson for infielder Red Schoendienst and catcher Del Rice.

Wings, Heading For Fourth Straight Championship, Hold Six-Point Lead Over Leafs; Hawks And Canadiens Tie

If there's a club in the National Hockey League capable of stopping Detroit Red Wings in their march towards a fourth straight championship, they've yet to stick their noses above ground. This may be a kiss of death to the Wings, but right now they have every reason to be a bit snobbish in the pro hockey world.

The Wings, who would start a big hassle about "What's wrong with Detroit" if they ever slipped to second place, demonstrated last night just why they are six points ahead of the runner-up Toronto Maple Leafs. They whipped the Leafs 3-1 at Detroit and became the only club in the circuit to show a victory over all opponents at home and on the road this season.

That should be reason enough to call the Wings to pick up N.H.L. championship No. 4 in as many seasons as the end of the 70-game 5½-month schedule. It was their 15th victory in 26 starts and what make this record all the more impressive is that they can still set the pace after shedding a batch of players during the off-season to help out the struggling Chicago Black Hawks.

The Hawks caught up to the idle fifth-place New York Rangers with a 1-1 tie at home against Montreal Canadiens. The Montreal-ers now are in fourth position, 13 points behind Detroit and four less than Boston Bruins, in third place.

Detroit was held to a 1-1 first-period tie but bounced back with a pair in the second session to pick up the two points. Reports from the Automobile City indicate it couldn't have been much of a game as Wing goalkeeper Terry Sawchuk had only 13 stops—two in the first period, seven in the second and four in the final 20 minuets.

Maybe it was because the Wings played an alleged "kitty-bar-the-door" game but it also showed that they can score goals when needed and then set the pace to their liking.

Toronto's Tod Sloan matched the Wings' first-period counter by Ted Lindsay and the Wings tucked away the decision with goals by Marty Pavelich and Benny Woit in the second. From there in it was a simple case of holding out the Leafs whose famed power play coudn't penetrate beyond the Detroit blue line in the third stanza.

At Chicago, Bill Gadsby was the hometown hero when he scored the tying goal with less than three minutes of the game remaining. That nullified his "goat's" role in the first period when Montreal's Boom-Boom Geoffrion scored while the Hawk was sitting out a holding penalty.

Kid Gavilan To Test Walter Cartier Tonight In Ten-Rounder At Garden

New York, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Cuban Kid Gavilan—the man with the iron jaw — tests Walter Cartier's .500 plus knockout average tonight in an interesting Madison Square Garden pairing.

You can watch (NBC-VC) or listen (ABC) at 10 p.m. EST when welter champ Gavilan again ventures into the middleweight division a non-title 10-rounder.

Everybody pegs away at the indestructible Keed and nothing happens. In 93 fights, only Ike Williams was able to knock him down —and he couldn't keep him there. In fact Gavilan won two of their three bouts.

It's often the same story when Gavilan pegs away—nothing happens. His record shows 77 wins with 22 knockouts but most of the KO's came in lesser fights.

Gavilan's flashy moves, his two-step rhumba and bolo are eye-catchers. But he seldom drops an opponent. In recent fights he has chucked the bolo-rhumba style and concentrated on hooks to the body and uppercuts thrown out of a half crouch.

On the basis of Gavilan's unimpressive draw with Johnny Bratton at Chicago Nov. 28, he is only a 6 to 5 favorite over Cartier. Many think the price is out of line, giving a decisive edge to the fast-punching Gavilan against a stand-up boxer-puncher like Cartier.

Cartier, 27, has won 20 in a row since he was knocked out by Rocky Castellani in 1948. Gavilan hasn't lost in his last 14, winning 13 straight until the Bratton draw. It will be Gavilan's 12th start this year.

The 25-year-old Gavilan is much more experienced with 93 fights and a 77-12-4 record. He has only 22 knockouts in 93 to Cartier's 22 in 43. Cartier has a 38-4 record with no draws.

Lack Of Scoring And Not Overtime Hurting Game, Says President; Dollar Shortage Is Big Factor

New York, Dec. 14— (AP) — Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League, said yesterday that more scoring and not overtime is the solution to curtailing the number of tie games played in the league.

Campbell said an increase in goal production would result in less ties.

"When I assumed office five years ago the league averaged 6.1 goals per game," Campbell said. "Since then the goal production has declined. Last year the average was 5.4 per game. Through Sunday of the current season the average was 4.8. Each drop in goal scoring brings a corresponding increase in tie games."

He pointed out that "there has been no overtime play in the league in 10 years. When we permitted overtime play before the war approximately 30 per cent of the games were decided."

Week-end games that have teams playing in Canada on Saturday night and in the United States on Sunday evening make it virtually impossible to play overtime.

"The teams have train deadlines to meet," Campbell said, "and if they played overtime they would miss connections and therefore couldn't meet their commitments for Sunday."

The former lawyer and league referee cited Bill Cook, new Ranger coach and one of hockey's all-time greats, as a prime example of a coach who puts goal-scoring first.

Cook relieved Neil Colville at the Ranger helm last Sunday and in three games since then the Rangers have scored 15 goals. Campbell said his latest figures showed the Rangers topping the league with an average of 5.5 goals a game. Chicago was second at 5.1, Montreal third at 5.0, Detroit next at 4.7, Toronto fifth at 4.5 and Boston last at 4 even.

Attendance throughout the league is as good and in some cases better than last year and Chicago is the lone sore spot. Chicago at one time was the biggest drawing town in the circuit.

In Campbell's opinion, television is not hurting the game—"only New York and Detroit televise their games." The dollar shortage is another factor in the decrease of attendance since the lush pre-and post-war days.

Browns And Cards Waging Fierce Battle For St. Louis Patronage; Owners Going All Out For Fans

New York — (NEA) — St. Louis, for years pro-Cardinal, finds itself being courted by the least inhibited promotor in baseball, probably the whackiest, certainly the most entertaining and possibly the smartest.

And if the form sheets are indicative, the old town likes it.

Bill Veeck, the unflagging idea man who operates the St. Louis Americans, is engaged in a violent hassle with Fred Saigh over the town's patronage.

It all adds up to The Battle of the Turnstiles.

The reconstruction program is on in the Browns' camp. Veeck's way of wooing St. Louisians away from the Red Birds. The first move was to bring in Rogers Hornsby, an old favorite, who immediately announced that the funny business was over and that the Browns would play baseball for a change.

"I take my baseball seriously, and if my club is getting beat, I don't want anybody laughing at some clown or midget," The Rajah said.

Veeck agreed to reform.

SAIGH ON THE RUN

You will recall the Sport Shirt Veeck of Cleveland days. If he didn't have seven jazz bands at his heels playing seven different tunes in crashing discord, the silence and loneliness got on his nerves. If he wasn't giving away a new automobile or a live moose to some customer who wandered into the park by mistake, he was bored beyond endurance.

"He seems quite happy now just trying to slap a strait-jacket on Saigh," said Mickey McConnell, the former Dodger scout director. "He's got the Cardinal owner on the run and he knows it. He will not rest until he has converted St. Louis into a one hundred per cent Brownie town."

Certainly Saigh didn't aid his cause any when he dumped Marty Marion down the laundry chute. Mr. Shortstop has long been a household word around town.

It wasn't a popular move.

"I was in St. Louis about that time," McConnell said, "and two Cardinal fans I knew walked right out and bought season tickets to the Browns.

"Saigh partially saved face, however, when he made the big pitch for Eddie Stanky. The Brat adds color to any lineup, and the Cards need that."

Veeck is sure he has the right man in The Rajah.

"Seven out of 10 fans I talked to before we signed him preferred Rogers," Veeck said. "They'll come out to the ball park to see his kind of team."

STARTED WITH RIVERA

When Hornsby stepped up for the big rebuilding job with the Little Brownies, the first player he wanted and got was Jim Rivera, a tidy bundle of rich, crunchy goodness who had a great year at Seattle in 1951.

"Jim will make St. Louis forget Pepper Martin," Hornsby predicted. "He beats you five ways, with the long ball, the bunt, steal, a good catch, or a throw. Rivera is the only guy around today I'd buy a box seat to see play."

The emphasis is on youth, speed — and the first division.

Veeck said he hoped to run fourth or fifth next season after finishing in the cellar last trip, but Hornsby said, "I'll have my sights on first place, that's all that counts."

Bill Veeck is pulling out all the stops in his pitch to win over St. Louis patronage. His goal is to get Hornsby the material, and he doesn't care how he has to go about it.

"He asked me what players I wanted in the league," Hank Greenberg, Cleveland General Manager, said. "There's been no action yet, but he promises delivery in a three-cornered swap. He even wanted to know if we could use Ted Williams!"

While things are looking up for the Little Brownies, Fred Saigh still has an ace in the hole.

Fella named Stan Musial.

Ten College Presidents Suggest Abolishment Of All Bowl Games; Athletes Should Keep Up Classes

Washington, Dec. 14.—(AP)—The abolishment of all post-season football Bowl games was recommended unanimously yesterday by ten U.S. college presidents studying intercollegiate sports.

The recommendation was part of a proposed program which would supervise the athlete from high school until he finishes college.

Dr. John Hannah, president of Michigan State College and chairman of the committee, said the educators were all agreed that:

1. Sports competition should be confined to its season. Football should be played between September and around Dec. 1. "Out go the bowls," Dr. Hannah said.

2. "Lavish entertainment" of prospective sports stars should be strictly prohibited.

3. Freshmen should be barred from varsity teams.

4. College athletes should be made to keep up with their classes, with grades good enough to get them a degree at the end of four years. Those who can't keep the pace should not be allowed to compete.

5. Booster and alumni clubs should not be allowed to give scholarships directly to athletes. The schools themselves should handle all funds.

The penalty proposed for breaking the rules: Any violator would jeopardize its academic standing.

The committee was named by the American Council on Education to study what is wrong with sports—and to find a cure.

Oddly, the American Council on Education has no power to enforce its decisions. But Hannah said at a previous news conference that the council be made up of almost all educational associations, universities and colleges in the country.

Its influence is so great, he said, that any decision it reaches carries great weight.

Enforcement would be left to the nation's five accrediting organizations, Hannah said. There are five of these, which set standards not only for the colleges and universities but also for the high schools.

They are the North Central, the Middle States, the New England, the Northwest and Southern Associations. All belong to the American Council on Education, and representatives of each will be at the committee's next meeting.

Jim Ross To Miss Tilt Against Maple Leafs

New York, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Rookie Jim Ross, lanky New York Rangers defenceman, may miss his team's week-end National Hockey League game, the club announced today.

Ross suffered a severe knee bruise in Wednesday night's game against Boston Bruins. If Ross can't make the trip to Toronto Saturday night, player-coach Lloyd Ailsby of New York Rovers will fill in. The Rangers play Detroit here Sunday.

Ailsby has been reinstated as an amateur but according to league rules he can play three professional games without losing his amateur standing.

Klosterman Tops Nation In Aerial Department

New York, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Don Klosterman, Loyola's one-man bomber squadron, topped the nation's major college passers during the past season and set eight records in the process.

The 21-year-old senior at the Los Angeles University threw 315 times and completed 159 in nine games, breaking records for both the number of tosses and for completions.

Final figures released today by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau also showed that Klosterman piled up the most yardage by passes, 1,843 yards. Losses on a few attempted runs gave him a total offence figure of 1,803 yards, second to Princeton's Dick Kazmaier, who accumulated 1,827 yards on passes and runs.

Klosterman's average of 204.8 yards per game via aerials also was a first but no record. That's held by Stan Heath, now with Calgary Stampeders, who averaged 222.8 for Nevada's aerial circus in 1948.

Kazmaier had the best passing average, 62.6 per cent on 77 completions in 123 attempts.

Matson Sets Record For Ground Gaining

New York, Dec. 14—(AP)—Ollie Matson, San Francisco University's contribution to the Associated Press All-American football team, is the nation's No. 1 major college ground gainer for 1951.

The 203-pound negro senior finished his collegiate career with a National record, having gained 3,166 yards in three-years to wipe out the mark of 3,095 yards established by Eddie Price of Tulane. Price now is with the New York Giants of the National Football League.

The season's final figures released yesterday show that Matson won the title easily with a net of 1,566 yards in nine games. He scored 21 touchdowns as he guided the San Francisco eleven to its first unbeaten-untied season.

His 1951 total is just four yards short of the one-season mark of 1,570 yards set by Fred Wendt of Texas Mines, in 1948.

Joe DiMaggio Signs With Yanks Again

New York, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Joe DiMaggio signed with the Yankees again today — to do pre-game and post-game television programs in 1952.

The contract of the Yankee Clipper, who announced his retirement as a player last Tuesday, is with the Yankee ball club alone, and if it should develop that he also will handle the play-by-play on radio or television it will be a separate deal.

The sponsor of the pre-game and post-game programs is not known at present. Terms were not revealed.
