HUNDREDS OF LIVES ENDANGERED AS HURRICANE THREATENS LINER

Wind-Churned Seas Hamper Efforts of Rescue Ships to Reach Side of Palatial Liner Dixie, Aground on Reefs Off Florida Coast With 369 Persons Aboard—Loss of Principal Radio Equipment Prevents Receipt of Full Details of Crash—Road Workers in Key West Region Reported Endangered.

Miami, Fla., September 3.—Hampered by hurricane-churned seas, rescue ships laboured today to reach the side of the palatial Morgan liner Dixie, bound from New Orleans to New York, aground on Carysfort Reef with 369 persons aboard.

From the oil tanker Reaper came a wireless message saying she was "Two miles off reef; unable see Dixie; taking radio bearings to follow it in."

The message indicated that the sector was enshrouded in fog, reducing visibility to a minimum.

Desperately striving to aid the 8,100-ton liner was another tanker, the Watertown, the United Fruit liner Platania, and a Coast Guard cutter, the Carrabasset which cleared Port Everglades after being held in the harbor by raging seas.

An eighty-mile an hour gale sent high waves pounding against the Dixie and she was in danger of breaking up. Her regular radio apparatus was not functioning, but with an emergency wireless she sent out brief, somewhat vague reports on her precarious position.

"We are pounding heavily. Not making much headway. Seas and wind heavy, 400 above." This was the most comprehensive message sent from the Dixie since she ran on the reef fifty miles south of here, early this morning.

The cryptic report was generally interpreted as meaning the liner was not shipping much water. Although the captain of the Dixie placed the number aboard at four hundred, officials of the steamship line said she carried 229 passengers and a crew of 140.

The storm, with winds reaching eighty miles an hour and increasing in intensity, swept across the southern tip of the Florida peninsula and visited the main force of its blow to the seas off the Florida Keys.

Only a few serious injuries were noted in the sections reporting on the storm. There was heavy damage to citrus crops in some sections. The Miami-Palm Beach area, part of the rich Florida playground, apparently escaped from further threat of the storm as it was reported central near the southwest-east coast, about halfway between Key West and Everglades City, moving slowly northward.

Carysfort Reef, where the Dixie struck shortly before midnight last night, is fifty miles directly south of Miami and only a little way out from Key Largo.

Carysfort Reef is part of the prolonged, largely underwater barrier of sharp coral rock which extends, with breaks, from Miami to Key West. The reef is ten miles off shore.

Carysfort lighthouse is east of Key Largo, fifty miles due south of Miami. The coast at that point is sparsely inhabited.

The Reaper, Texas Oil Company tanker, some fifty miles away when the Dixie's feeble SOS was sent from emergency equipment, was forced to slow down its rescue race as it ran into the storm-tossed area.

Several other ships, including the Watertown of Cities Service Transport, and the J. E. O'Neal, of the Atlantic Refining Company, were hastening to the reef from considerable distances.

The Dixie was scheduled to arrive in New York on Thursday. It left New Orleans on Saturday.

It was built in 1927 at Kearny, N.J. Its gross tonnage is 8,183 tons. It is fitted for oil and operated by steam turbines.

Her first distress call picked up shortly after midnight was on a small island in Biscayne Bay where land stations were able to identify the sender.

The operator reported the main wireless equipment and the ship's antennae were gone. His emergency equipment was too weak to permit the transmission of details.

The Miami-Palm Beach area, appeared to have been removed definitely from further threat of severe storm. The Jacksonville weather bureau expressed the belief no hurricane winds would be felt on the east coast, but kept up the warnings on the Gulf coast northward to Punta Gorda.

The storm was last reported centered somewhere near the southwest-east coast, about half way between Key West and Everglades City, moving slowly northward.

The area from Punta Gorda to Carrabelle continued under north-east storm warnings, while south-east storms were predicted from West Palm Beach southward to Miami. Key West, relieved at escaping the full blow, today flew northwest warning flags.

No word has come from Matabumbe Key and Islamorada, where a special train went late yesterday to evacuate 650 war veterans engaged in constructing a highway across the keys to Key West. The Florida East Coast Railway prepared to send a wrecking train into the area. Communication with all the keys except Key West was lost early last night.

Two boys were taken from perilous perches in palm trees on a small island in Biscayne Bay when the marine ambulance Philites breasted great waves to make the rescue. They were exhausted but unhurt.

The Florida East Coast held its Havana Special, Key West-New York passenger train, at Key West last night.

Only minor damage was noted in sections able to report the result of Continued on Page 2.

BEAUTY PARLOR PROVES AID FOR MENTAL HEALTH

Missouri Asylum Superintendent Finds Permanent Wave or Facial Helps to Lift Women Out of the Blues.

Fulton, Mo., Sept. 3.—The coils of a permanent wave machine and the cream covered fingers of a beauty parlor operator are helping cure mental cases among women in Missouri.

"There is nothing quite like a permanent wave or a facial or an eyebrow dressing to lift any woman out of the blues," Dr. Raif Hanks, superintendent of a state hospital for the insane, said today.

The success of a beauty parlor at the hospital has convinced him that a barber shop would do as much for the men. One is being installed.

"Our patients come to us in a state of utter hopelessness," Dr. Hanks said. "They are dejected and sit with their chins sunk on their chests. They have no pride in their clothing or their appearance. They have become unkempt and untidy. Once they begin to take an interest and a bit of pride in their personal appearance, it is often possible to use that as a starting point and eventually to restore them."

BELGIUM PAYS FINAL HOMAGE TO ITS QUEEN

Body of Queen Astrid Reverently Laid to Rest Today in Royal Crypt Beside Remains of King Albert.

Brussels, Sept. 3.—The body of Belgium's beloved Queen Astrid was laid to rest today in the royal crypt of the city of Brussels.

The Queen, killed last week in a motor accident in Switzerland, rests beside the late King Albert and other members of the dynasty founded by Leopold I in 1831.

The street lamps and even the taxicab headlights were veiled in black, while from windows and buildings tops crept streamers and black flags formed a somber passageway along the whole route of the procession.

In acknowledgement of the Queen's great love for children and the afflicted, 20,000 school children lined one side of the funeral route.

Bare-headed and pale, King Leopold walked behind the body of his Queen on its last journey through the packed streets of her adopted capital.

The King, his right arm in a sling and his side bandaged from a broken fall, followed the hearse from the palace, where the body had laid in state, to St. Gudule Cathedral, where only eighteen months ago he attended the funeral of his father, King Albert.

The funeral procession included, besides King Leopold, Queen Astrid's father, Prince Charles; the Duke of York, Crown Prince Gustavus Adolf of Sweden, Crown Prince Olaf of Norway, Prince Charles of Denmark, Prince Bonaparte of France and Prince Dimitri of Russia.

QUICK REVIEW OF FLORIDA STORM SITUATION.

The coastwise steamer Dixie, New Orleans for New York, with 369 passengers and crew, called for help as hurricane-tossed seas pounded it perilously against Carysfort Reef, off the Florida Keys. Its radio was damaged.

Mountainous waves and angry winds checked the progress of rescue ships and held some imprisoned in breakwaters.

A tropical storm, small in area, but of hurricane intensity, raged off the tip of the Florida peninsula.

Winds were of eighty mile velocity. Large coast cities expected to escape the full force of blow, among them Key West, Miami and Palm Beach.

Advices were lacking concerning 650 war veterans who have been constructing a highway to Key West over Matabumbe Key, communication having ceased.

CAMPBELL GOES THREE HUNDRED MILES AN HOUR

British Speed King Covers Measured Mile in 1.83 Seconds to Make Average Speed of 304.31 Miles an Hour, Thus Beating Former Record by Thirty-Eight Miles.

Bonneville Salt Flats, Utah, Sept. 3.—Sir Malcolm Campbell bettered his own world's land speed for a measured mile today when he sent his Bluebird roaring over the salt beds here in 1.83 seconds or an average of 304.31 miles an hour.

It exceeded by nearly thirty-eight miles his old record of 276.816 made at Daytona Beach, Fla., last spring.

The mighty Bluebird thundered over the smooth hard salt without bumping noticeably while thousands of spectators watched from vantage points.

The flying Englishman halted at the northeast end of the straightaway with a flat tire. It was estimated forty-five minutes would elapse before he could make the return. A change of all tires was necessary while mechanics checked over the 2,500 horse-power motor.

The time was recorded by officials of the American Automobile Association. Sir Malcolm prepared to make the return dash over the thirteen mile course immediately.

A two way run is necessary, with the time of both runs averaged to make the record official.

During his dash to new fame, Campbell also swept aside the old world's record for five kilometres, set when he established the former mile mark.

He turned the five kilometres in 37.91, an average of 255.819, exceeding even his old record time for the mile. The former record for the longer distance was 43.47, an average of 272.95.

It was the front left tire that went flat on the Bluebird, but he came to a stop without accident.

Bluebird's terrific speed nearly equalled the United States airplane speed record of 304.98, but was more than one hundred miles under the world plane speed record of 423.822.

MISHAPS TOOK TWO LIVES IN THIS DISTRICT

Henri Boisvert, Fifteen Years Old, of This City, and J. Vignant, of Winoski, Vt., Killed Over the Week-End.

Two persons were killed and a number injured in week-end motor car accidents in the Eastern Townships. Henri Boisvert, fifteen-year-old local youth, suffered fatal injuries at Chambly Saturday afternoon, while at Mystic, three miles from Bedford, J. Vignant, of Winoski, Vt., was instantly killed when the automobile in which he was a passenger crashed into a highway bridge.

Henri Boisvert, fifteen-year-old son of George Boisvert, 50 Wellington street south, suffered fatal injuries at Chambly Saturday afternoon. Young Boisvert had climbed on top of a house in the rear of Jerry Mathieu's truck and was knocked off when the vehicle passed under an overhead bridge. Boisvert was struck a fatal blow on the head and died about an hour after being admitted to a Montreal hospital.

Mathieu, driving the truck, did not perceive the lad when the latter climbed on the boxes. He would not have noticed the accident had it not been for the shouts of another employee, who was in the rear of the vehicle and witnessed the tragic mishap. This youth yelled at Mathieu and the latter immediately drew to a stop. Young Boisvert had struck one of the iron beams under the bridge with his head.

One person was killed and four others injured, one critically, when the automobile in which they were riding swerved off the road and crashed into a highway bridge at Mystic, three miles from Bedford. J. Vignant, of Winoski, Vt., riding in the rumble seat of the car, was precipitated out of the machine and instantly killed. Mrs. L. Bessette, who was also in the rumble seat, was seriously hurt.

Three other passengers, Miss Bessette, of Winoski, Vt., J. Bouchard, of North Stratford, and L. Bouchard, of Brattleboro, Vt., sustained cuts and bruises.

The accident occurred Sunday afternoon when the driver hit the shoulder of the road in passing another car, and while endeavoring to regain the centre of the highway lost control and crashed into the bridge.

Dr. Jacques, of Farnham, district coroner, held an inquest at the home of H. T. Smith and a verdict of accidental death was returned.

Mrs. A. Vincent, thirty-two years old, and Alfred Mainville, forty-two years old, both of Granby, were removed to the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital by Brian's Magor ambulance Sunday afternoon, suffering from quite serious injuries sustained when the automobile in which they were driving left the road and plunged through a fence and into a fifteen-foot ditch.

REMODELLED LIFEBOAT ON LONG TRIP AROUND WORLD

Jack P. Lodge, at Helm of Tiny Craft, Hopes to Pilot Sailboat to More than $50,000 in Prize Money.

St. Louis, Sept. 3.—A twenty-foot, remodelled lifeboat bobbed away from the levee here yesterday and headed down the Mississippi River on the second leg of a 45,000-mile voyage around the world.

At the helm of the tiny craft was Jack P. Lodge, Great Lakes and ocean mariner who hopes to pilot the sailboat to more than $50,000 in prize money by completing the journey, reportedly the first of its kind attempted by a boat less than thirty-six feet long. Sailing leisurely, he expects to take three years.

Lodge left Cleveland June 1st and arrived here threading 1,300 miles through the Great Lakes and the Illinois River. His next stop is New Orleans, where he will add a heavy keel to the boat for the ocean trip.

The boat, self-bailing and non-sinkable, has a steel hull and is equipped with a twenty-foot mast with a mainsail and one small staysail.

BRITAIN INSISTS THAT DISPUTE BE SETTLED AT LEAGUE SESSION

Mysterious Manoeuvres of British Promoter in Connection With Ethiopians Granting of Valuable Oil Concessions to United States Firms Leave British Policy Unchanged—Convinced that British Interests Are Not Connected With Deal—British Original Peace Proposals Still Open.

Geneva, September 3.—Great Britain still stands by the covenant of the League of Nations, in the Italo-Ethiopian dispute. The mysterious manoeuvres of Francis Rickett, British promoter, in Addis Ababa leave British policy unchanged, the Canadian Press was authoritatively informed today.

Reports received from Sir Sidney Barton, the British Minister to Ethiopia, and enquiries among the big London banks, have now completely satisfied the British authorities that no British interests are concerned in Emperor Haile Selassie's mining concessions to the African Development and Exploration Corporation.

To that extent the British enquiries are complete and no further report is awaited before Anthony Eden, Minister for League Affairs, makes the British statement before the meeting of the League Council opening tomorrow. But the mystery of who is the real power behind Rickett remains. He was last heard of in connection with an oil company with a British name, the majority of whose stock was held by Italians.

But who is really behind the present venture—beyond the fact that the British are not concerned—the British do not profess to know.

Eden and Premier Laval, of France, today resumed their conversations here, opened in Paris yesterday, on the report to be presented to the Council on the failure of the tri-power conference at Paris to settle the dispute. Tonight Eden will motor to Aix-les-Bains, France, where he will dine with Prime Minister Baldwin, on holiday there, and have a final discussion before the head of the British Government leaves for London.

Prominent in Eden's statement to the Council, the Canadian Press learns, will be a last-hour bid for peace. Eden will endeavour to secure re-consideration by Italy of the peace proposals submitted jointly by Britain and France during the negotiations at Paris. These proposals, it is felt in British circles, have never received the consideration they deserved. They would give Italy, it is insisted, practically everything that she can hope to secure by war.

The main idea of these proposals is that as Ethiopia has made it known she desires foreign assistance in re-organization and development, that assistance should be given under the auspices of the League of Nations. This assistance naturally would come from the three powers—Britain, France and Italy—and Britain and France are more or less disinterested in Ethiopia, so there would be no objection to Italy having the main share of economic concessions.

If, the British hold, Italy goes to war in defiance of the covenant, of the League of Nations, it means the end of collective security as an effective instrument of peace. War, therefore, would not be a colonial enterprise, as the Italians view it; it would be a challenge to the whole structure of peace in Europe.

Italy demands Britain clarify its position.

Rome, Sept. 3.—Italy, through its Government, today demanded clarification of the motive behind the so-called "Rickett affair" disposing of Ethiopian oil concessions to an American corporation through the dealings of a British promoter.

No such scandal has been brought to light since the famous scandal of the "Ethiopian Corporation of 1918," the morning papers insisted, and added that Britain at this moment was in a very "difficult position."

The whole press gave voice to a gathering opinion here that Britain, despite the statement of Eden, has made in connection with the affair has been possessed of the knowledge of efforts to create a buffer concession between Addis Ababa and Italian East Africa.

Hundreds of Arab troops have already departed for the Italian military colony in East Africa, General Italo Balbo, Governor of Libya, reported to Mussolini. The Arabs are being replaced in the Libyan army by volunteers.

Reliable sources also reported Balbo also has ready two divisions of regulars ready to occupy the frontier between Egypt and Libya as a safeguard against any hostilities Italy might face there. Officials would not confirm the report.

SMALLER POWERS PLACED IN DIFFICULT POSITION

Geneva, Sept. 3.—Some of the smaller nations of the League of Nations today were anxiously anxious today on the eve of the League Council meeting on the Italo-Ethiopian dispute.

As the delegates arrived for the momentous session, it became certain the three chief topics will be: 1.—The report by Anthony Eden, British Minister for League Affairs, on the unsuccessful tri-power conference in Paris.

2.—The report of the Italo-Ethiopian conciliation commission on the Unaluf frontier incident.

3.—Consideration of Ethiopia's alleged unfitness for League membership, which Italy is expected to charge.

Little Austria, struggling to maintain its independence, has placed itself on record in its official Government Gazette as siding definitely with Italy against "the fiction of Ethiopian independence." At the Important Advances in Diagnosis of Esophagus and Stomach Cancers Expected from New Austrian Instrument.

NEW MEDICAL DEVICE AIDS CANCER FIGHT

Montreal, Sept. 3.—A new medical instrument which it is expected may have a far-reaching influence in the diagnosis of cancers of the esophagus and of the stomach was described yesterday by a doctor attached to the endoscopy clinic of one of the city's main hospitals. The instrument which is called a flexible gastroscope may eventually supplant entirely the use of X-rays in the diagnosis of cancers in that part of the human body, he believed.

He explained that at present X-rays were used in the far greater majority of cases of diagnosis of cancers in the esophagus and stomach due to the great skill required in manipulating the rigid esophagoscope and gastroscope. A method whereby diagnosis could be made directly with the naked eyes without the use of plates would be in the nature of an important step forward in the detection of cancers. He said the flexible gastroscope was already in use in a number of European hospitals as well as in some American ones, notably in New York and that the results obtained so far were highly encouraging.

Another instrument of recent discovery which has been added to the already large number which are used in endoscopy, the science of diagnosis and treatment of diseases of the viscera by means of hollow tubes, is the gastro-photometer.

He pointed out that as yet it had not been popularized and that its use was mostly confined to Viennese hospitals where it had been introduced originally. He described the gastro-photometer as an unbreakable gastroscope coupled with a midjet photographic apparatus which makes it possible to make four distinct photographs of the stomach walls. As in the case of X-rays the diagnosis was rendered more difficult due to the necessary introduction of a reproduction medium. A perfect direct diagnosis, that would eliminate this intermediary, would be the method susceptible of the most satisfactory results. It was hoped that the discovery of the flexible gastroscope might supply the solution, he said.

LABOR LEADERS WILL GIVE ROOSEVELT THEIR SUPPORT

Basis for "Better Social and Economic Order Has Been Laid," Declares William Green.

Washington, Sept. 3.—Resounding speeches by labor leaders gave the United States with varying degrees of forcefulness yesterday a broad hint that they approved of Franklin D. Roosevelt as President.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, said the basis for a "better social and economic order has been laid."

Frank Morrison, secretary, related in his Labor Day address that in 1906 the Federation had adopted the policy of standing by its friends and opposing its enemies. He outlined four new laws which he said were enacted through the aid of friends in House and Senate, and because President Franklin D. Roosevelt insisted.

SOCIAL CREDIT FORCES GIVEN LARGE DEFICIT

Statement on Public Accounts Reveals Deficit of $2,081,760 for Past Fiscal Year in Accounts of Alberta Government.

Edmonton, Sept. 3.—The United Farmers of Alberta Government wound up the 1934-35 fiscal year, which ended March 31 last, with a deficit of $2,081,760, including the Provincial Telephone loss of $343,709, according to the public accounts released by Hon. J. R. Love, Provincial Treasurer, over the week-end.

The total deficit for the last fiscal year is $138,458 less than the 1933-34, period, when it amounted to $2,220,218.

Details of the province's financial operations for the last fiscal period were given in a report furnished the Government by James C. Thompson, Provincial Auditor.

Issuance of the public accounts was one of the last acts of the outgoing Reid administration. Its Social Credit successor, headed by William Aberhart, takes office today.

The report showed:

Deficit of $2,081,760, which is a decrease of $138,458 compared with year previous:

Provincial telephone loss of $343,709, which forms part of general deficit.

Income tax fell $272,028 short of $650,000 estimated for fiscal year.

Treasury bills amounting to $17,803,750 owing to Dominion besides $468,000 subsidy overpayment.

Total expenditure in year by Province, Dominion and municipalities of $4,624,708 for unemployment relief.

Net increase of $3,970,721 in Alberta's funded debt, as result of year's operations.

Provincial guarantees amount to $9,038,058, in addition to the public debt.

The deficit was made up of $1,738,048 of a loss on the general revenue fund, comprising $1,021,825 of an operating deficit and $716,223 for sinking fund or debt retirement.

On provincial telephone operations, there was a deficit of $201,915 besides $141,794 for debt retirement that was not provided.

These various items all were on income accounts.

Dealing with the general revenue fund, the report shows that actual revenue was $15,697,770 or $513,710 less than what was estimated. Expenditures, on the other hand, amounted to $17,435,821 or $700,232 more than the sum estimated.

BRITAIN INSISTS THAT DISPUTE BE SETTLED AT LEAGUE SESSION

same time Austria, more than any of the other smaller states, is directly interested in the maintenance of the Status quo—which the Ethiopian crisis threatens to destroy.

Hungary, too, is torn by conflicting tendencies, wishing both to cling to its close friendship with Italy and yet avoid showing an anti-British position, and simultaneously to build up good relations with Germany.

The Little Entente states also find themselves attempting a difficult balancing act—their maintenance of the League of Nations authority and the inviolability of the covenant and yet keep the closest possible cooperation with France, which in turn desires to avoid a break with Italy.

No information was forthcoming as to the purpose of the flying visit of the officers to the border on the north where the first Italian attack is expected, but observers pointed out that the trip probably was made to confirm rumors of Italian troops crossing the border.

Meanwhile it was understood here that the Italian army was being moved along wide lines to carry on the defence of the country in case the Italians begin their long-planned war campaign.

A detachment of the Imperial Guard is en route to Dire Dawa to reinforce troops stationed there and to protect the railway between here and Djibouti. It also was reported 20,000 regular soldiers have been rushed from Harrar to Ogaden.

Emperor Haile Selassie's American financial adviser, Everett A. Cullen, issued a statement declaring British capital was in no way involved in the Emperor's vast oil concession to the African Exploration and Development Company.

FRENCH CITIZEN HELD AS ALLEGED SPY FOR ITALY

Addis Ababa, Sept. 3.—Count Maurice de Roquefeuille, prominent French promoter, was arrested today for alleged espionage for Italy, it was reported from Harrar.

Arrested with him, the report stated, were his French wife, an Ethiopian clerk and an Italian Maltese priest. The arrests caused a sensation as Roquefeuille is well known through many years' residence in Ethiopia.

An account of the captulations of Roquefeuille was turned over to the French consulate at Harrar. Roquefeuille came to Ethiopia in 1923 as head of a French syndicate to exploit a concession for the mining of mica in the neighborhood of Jigjiga, which was backed by Ababani, Paris

L'AVENIR FAIR AGAIN PROVED GREAT SUCCESS

Record Crowds and Entries Witnessed at One-Day Exhibition of Drummond County Agricultural Association.

L'Avenir, September 3.—Favorable by a fine, but cool, day, almost a perfect day from the viewpoint of the spectators at a country fair, the annual exhibition of the Drummond County Agricultural Society held here yesterday proved one of the most successful in the long history of this institution.

Taking advantage of the Labor Day holiday, hundreds of residents from the surrounding town made this village their mecca yesterday. Here they renewed old acquaintances and examined a splendid display of livestock, poultry and domestic art, which proved that the thrifty farmers of this district and their families have not lost the qualities of their forefathers in respect to agriculture.

The officials are highly enthusiastic over the success that attended yesterday's one-day event, being especially pleased at the almost record response to the call for entries in all departments.

While not as large as some of the other county fairs, the fact that the show occupies but a single day generally assures a large crowd, as those who wish to meet former friends are certain of meeting them on the grounds on this great day.

BRITISH FLEET NEAR ENTRANCE OF SUEZ CANAL

British Admiralty Taking All Precautions to Protect Route to Eastern Possessions as Critical Hour Approaches.

London, Sept. 3.—As the critical hour approached for the League of Nations Council to take up the Italian-Ethiopian dispute, Great Britain's Mediterranean Fleet has steamed into strategic positions around the entrance to the Suez Canal.

At Port Said, the Home Fleet lay with steam up, awaiting sailing orders. Malta workmen prepared to improve defences there.

The Admiralty termed these activities routine manoeuvres. They brought Great Britain's home and Mediterranean units into a quick re-orientation, extending from Britain to Port Said.

Alexandria furnished the main rendez-vous for the vessels. The battleships Revenge and Valiant, the cruisers London, Devonshire and Shropshire, the depot ship Woolwich, and half of the third and half of the fourth destroyer flotillas were lined up there.

The battleship Resolution, the cruiser Despatch, and half of the third destroyer flotilla were anchored at Port Said.

Three cruisers, the Arethusa, Delhi and Durban, a supply ship, the Reliance, and half of the fourth destroyer flotilla were drawn up at Haifa.

Workmen are prepared to swing a huge boom defence across Grand Harbor at Malta. Precautions against an aerial attack were being made ready also.

The aircraft carrier Glorious reached Malta and the destroyer Wessex was steaming there from Gibraltar.

The glorious later set out for Alexandria.

Fall manoeuvres off Scotland were announced by officials for the Home Fleet. They are to begin September 9.

Sir Roger Backhouse, commanding the Home Fleet, hoisted his flag on the battleship Nelson at Portsmouth following the collision between the Ramilles and the North German Lloyd vessel Eismann.

The accident sent the Ramilles into dry dock for several weeks. The Nelson was to join the fleet at Portland today.

The aircraft carrier Glorious reached Malta and the destroyer Wessex was steaming there from Gibraltar.

EIGHTEEN ONTARIO PERSONS MET TRAGIC DEATHS DURING WEEK-END

estimates placed the seriously hurt at more than two hundred.

Deaths from drownings and other fatal accidents, not included in the automobile figures, also tended to swell the grand total.

California headed the list of states with the greatest number of deaths—thirty-three. New York was second with twenty-four and Illinois next with seventeen.

Three states, Missouri, Ohio and Pennsylvania were fourth, Michigan was in seventh place with eleven and Iowa and West Virginia followed with ten each.

Other states reported the balance of fatalities.

Three persons were killed in a plane crash in California Sunday night and another man died there in a burning summer cabin. One man was killed by a train in Illinois and a Kentucky man died in a roller coaster accident. Drownings took four lives in New Jersey, three in Virginia, two in Tennessee and another in Indiana.

When he marched on the courts his customary smile was missing. Parker broke through in the third game to assume a two-one lead.

That roused Perry and, although he lost the seventh game on service, he ended the conflict as quickly as possible.

Going "all out" in the last two sets to give one of the finest exhibitions ever turned in, Perry administered a sound 6-4, 6-2, 6-0 triumph over Frank J. Bowden, of New York.

Laird Watt, Montreal international and the last of the Dominion's best and court gentlemen, against Roderich Menzel, Czechoslovakian star rated among the world's leading ten players. The Canadian was unable to extend the Czech as Menzel smashed his way to a 6-4, 6-2, 6-3 victory.

Every day the unofficial championship of Spain was won by the towering and swarthy Enrique Maier who downed his compatriot and veteran Davis Cup player, Manuel Alonso, by 6-1, 6-2, 8-6 in a fourth-round match.

Bobbie Murray and Henri-Paul Emard, of Montreal, were eliminated in earlier rounds. Emard was beaten by Shields in a first-round contest and Murray bowed to Bryan "Bitsy" Grant, of Atlanta, then ranking fifth States star. Superbly speeded and court gentleman, Watt was the chief factor in Grant's 6-1, 6-2, 6-2 victory over his Montreal opponent.

Watt had reached the second round by earning a 7-9, 6-3, 8-6, 8-6, 6-2 decision over Lieut. R. Morrison, of the United States Navy, and had advanced to the third round with a 6-4, 6-3, 6-2 victory over Lawrence Nelson, California junior.

"If prices for wool, meat and dairy products continue to show progressive increases as they have done during the past six months, New Zealand's difficulties for the winter slump should be almost entirely eliminated."

Continuing, Mr. Collins said the Government accounts showed a surplus of $8,400,000 against a deficit of $2,000,000 in 1932. The banking of free deposits averaged $94,000,000 in July as against $66,000,000 during the corresponding period of 1932.

"In July there were five thousand fewer registrations than in July, 1934, and the wages bill has increased by $14,400,000 in the past twelve months. Customs and other government revenues are buoyant and the outlook from every point of view is encouraging."

PERRY WHIPPED YOUNG FRANKIE PARKER EASILY

British Ace Gave Brilliant Exhibition of Tennis in Disposing of One of Most Promising Juniors in United States—Last Canadian Eliminated by Menzel.

Forest Hills, September 3.—Fred Perry, Great Britain's ace of the tennis courts, had his mane twisted by the United States Lawn Tennis Association yesterday and then let out a big roar that blasted Frankie Parker, one of the country's best young prospects, out of the fifty-fourth national singles championship. Parker succumbed to the British star, but the after-effects of the youngster's defeat are felt mostly by the Association today.

It was a bad day for tennis. There was a steady drizzle and an atmosphere was dank and chill. Perry was enjoying the cozy warmth of a pine-log fire in a suburban home of friends. Officials telephoned him that his match was to be played as scheduled. He rebelled against the order at first but finally capitulated.

When he marched on the courts his customary smile was missing. Parker broke through in the third game to assume a two-one lead.

That roused Perry and, although he lost the seventh game on service, he ended the conflict as quickly as possible.

An easy way to judge whether general working conditions in an industrial establishment are satisfactory, is to enquire into the percentage of labour turnover. With approximately 2,000 employees in its Montreal factory, and an annual turnover of less than 10 per cent, the Imperial Tobacco Company believes it has been reasonably successful in its endeavour to maintain conditions up to standards acceptable to the worker.

The pay envelope, of course, is the first consideration. Whatever time rates other employers pay for comparable labour, the Imperial Tobacco Company always contrives to pay a little more. Its time work rates increase with length of service. If a worker's earnings are less than they should be, the company endeavours to transfer this worker to work at which he or she is more adaptable.

Attached to each department is a relief staff who, besides substituting for absentees, take the places of those who temporarily leave their machines. Thus is continuity of production maintained, and undue fatigue avoided.

And of course all things that make for cleanliness, comfort or safety are liberally provided. The buildings are well lighted, well heated, well ventilated, and of modern fire-proof construction. There are wash-rooms, lavatories and drinking fountains everywhere, all kept scrupulously clean. Sweepers, scrubbers and painters are constantly at work, cleaning up and brightening up. Dust removing and humidifying devices keep the air pure. Guards and safety devices are used everywhere to minimize danger.

Lockers, uniforms and lunch rooms, about which more will be said later, together with the medical and nursing services, and the life insurance and sick benefit features that have already been discussed, complete a picture of conditions that combine to make the daily round of the worker unusually pleasant and care-free.

ACROSS THE BREAKFAST TABLE.

I kissed you once, oh, thrill of thrills!
And said I'd love you ever;
I held your lovely soft white hand,
And vowed I'd leave you, never.
And then the person made us one,
Oh, day of days divine!
It made me glad to know that now
You'd be forever mine.

A year has passed so quickly, Dear,
Yet we know each other better—
Burno, here comes the postman now,
See if I have a letter—
Yes, Dear, as I said before,
We know each other better—
But somehow love has lost its thrill,
Look at this enormous grocer's bill!

HOW TO TELL WHO TO VOTE FOR.

The road to understanding of public affairs is a difficult one. As Bunyan said in his Progress it is the quest of the inheritance incorruptible, undefiled, and that fadeth not away.

His two pilgrims, in figures of speech, are Pliable and Christian. At the first contradiction which he meets with Pliable gave up, discouraged, and naturally became a follower of others, not a thinker for himself. His companion struggled on, and presently there came to him a man named Help. He gave Christian much aid and understanding and he became a Leader as he was bade to pursue the straight way.

Christian passed along gaily after marking the passage through the Slough of Despond. This "slue," as we call it in the woods, is, to pursue the allegory, a place of difficult passage which is clogged with millions of good advice and wholesome instructions which have grown into a tangle which we to-day call Politics.

More idle gossip, with a small fact thrown in to give to the mess a semblance of truth, is invented by Politicians to disconcert, deceive and cause apprehension among the army of Pliables, who are merely followers. Many succumb and linger in the Slough of Despond.

The perennial Pliables may be led astray by the plausible speaker who grows fond of the sound of his giddy gurgles, but the man who pursues the truth and follows the blazed trail finds the good and arrives at the substantial truths which cannot be subverted by the cleverest talker.

Study and meditation can alone recognize the plain marks on this blazed trail, and if one but have a care of the medicine which may be found in the campaign cupboards to give the intelligent voter that dizziness in the head which causes him to falter and to step aside.

There is a common intuition in all of us which determines within each of us that irrevocable law of Nature which gives to each individual the power to know that he will find his own good by methods which benefit the whole community, and does dislocate the plans of the self-seeker.

In plain language, this is a year of election when you should vote for the Man. Politically, it is the "outs" seeking to oust the "ins" so that the one may enjoy the spoils of office and the fruits of victory. There is little difference between the parties. Vote for the Man. Know that Man. Know his inmost thoughts. If he wobbles on the railway question, and declines to rid the taxpayer of this and other growing burdens, then you cannot depend on that man.

Avoid the wobbler. If he has no definite policy, then he is the sort of fellow who will not appoint committees to think for him and bureau to act for him.

SPITE VOTING DEFEATS ITSELF.

Just to show to themselves that their old partisan hatreds were alive, the Conservatives in Alberta marked their ballots with second choice to what they thought was the hopeless fever of the "Social Credit" candidates.

To mark their partisan hatred in the same manner the Liberal voters marked their ballots with a second choice for the "Social Credit."

Like all hatreds there was the boomerang which comes to the Mad Hatters of the World. Both Conservatives and Liberals helped to elect the Social Credit men, and thus set up a flash-bang which now comes home to them.

You cannot beat a man you do not like by voting for another man you do not like. You are just double-crossing yourself.

Vote for what you believe, for the man you believe in. If you cannot conscientiously vote that way, then do not vote at all. But do not defeat yourself to serve the ends of some petty personal distaste.

Stand pat on your beliefs.

EDITOR'S NOTE BOOK.

The Minister of Railways was chosen to open the Conservative campaign in Quebec Province, and his first speech in Outremont was made on behalf of an unknown outside the circle of his own flock. Of all the clumsy tactics and tacticians the Conservatives of Quebec seem to have the only surplus they can point at in the years. What a charming chance they had to rise above parish politics and open their key campaign on behalf of a man who is known wherever there is purity of diction and statesmanlike thought in the person of R. S. White, of Westmount and Mount Royal, who is known for his personality, and for the fact that he is the oldest living political warrior in Canada. Whenever there was a sign of political sagacity shown by the Conservatives in this province, it was found that the veteran member had to be credited with the home run. No other Conservative member in the Dominion has ever been elected by such smashing majorities.

Sane and sensible people in Alberta would laugh to scorn the thought that the hoi-poli in the constituencies would sell their votes for a monthly instalment on the non-existent wealth of the province. But they did not assume the roll of teachers and tell the ignorant that they were voting for an impossible profit which could not hold water. In the Silver Coinage Jennings Bryan election for President away back in '93 the Republicans were asleep at the switch until Senator Mark Hanna woke them up and convinced a whole country that they were about to be bilked by a squad of silver mining owners. Mark Hanna saw that the people were told the truth in plain language. Among the Alberta politicians there was not a single leader to combat the folly preached by a half-baked financier, who never paid a hired man.

Three life insurance companies have made haste to align themselves behind the foolish Housing Scheme, tried once before with woeful losses to the public bodies which took part in it. These companies consent to risk their money and that of their insurers in a venture which is sure to score losses: Sun Life, North American Life and London Life. Their only excuse can be the difficulty in finding on sale such securities as are not ruled and regulated by governments which follow the plan of pursuing the people's money wherever they may find it in quantities. The governments are wasting money faster than the workers can save it. Why should the directors of the fiduciary trusts place that money in a scheme which has been tried and found wanting?

At the present moment of writing the attendance at the Canadian National Exhibition is away ahead of last year—46,000 increase the first three days. To-day some people attend because they think to see that rare money-eating bird, the "Canadian National," the only animal of its kind in the world. In my early days as a cub newspaper reporter, away back in the eighties, I learned how to advertise the C.N.E., but the Sherbrooke Exhibition prefers an haberdasher who never advertised as their publicity director. They act like Paddy who economized on the hay for his horse. "And I had just got him to live on a forkful of pea straw per day, when the animal up and died on me!"

WHAT EDITORS SAY

A HATER OF ENGLAND.

The Toronto Star.

Hitler is an admirer of Britain and desires her good-will, but Mussolini always has been regarded as anti-British. I Duce objects to the presence of the British in Malta, Gibraltar and Cyprus. He feels that the British are so strong in the Mediterranean, with their naval bases and strong fleet, that the Mediterranean is a British sea, whereas he would make it Italian. He tried for years to gain control of the local government of Malta, by substituting the Italian language for the ancient Maltese tongue and used money freely for that purpose. But the British dismissed the Maltese parliament and banned the use of Italian in the law courts. As The Star said in commenting on these developments a year ago:

"Mussolini has grandiose ambitions in the Mediterranean. He is erecting new fortifications along the straits of Messina and forbidding English aviators to fly over them. The attempt to Italianize Malta is not unconnected with the Mussolini policy of political and territorial aggrandisement."

If Mussolini can accomplish his purpose in Abyssinia the British will be able to remain in Kenya, British Somaliland and the Sudan only on sufferance and the route to India via the Suez canal will be forever at the mercy of the Italian government. The policy of I. Duce shows an utter disregard for British interests and looking to the future, may be said directly to challenge the existence of the Empire. In an article in his paper, Popolo d'Italia, Mussolini once said, "It is not to Italy's interest to help preserve a British navy; on the contrary it is Italy's business to help destroy it."

There are Mussolini's in Ireland, but in Canada we call them Nationalists."

GREAT BRITAIN LEADS WAY OUT OF DEPRESSION

Important Role in Recovery Period Played by Private Capital "Unparalleled by Any Corresponding Financial Recovery in United States."

Montreal, Sept. 3.—Less fluctuation of business in Great Britain and the important role in the recovery period played by private capital in Great Britain, "unparalleled by any corresponding financial recovery in the United States," is indicated, says the September letter of the Royal Bank of Canada, in the volume of domestic corporation financing in the United States and Great Britain at the bottom of the depression and in the first half of 1935.

In the bank's letter, it states in the first six months of 1931 the volume of domestic corporation financing fell to 1-8 of the 1927 peak in Great Britain, but in the United States in the first six months of 1933 it fell to 1-72 of the 1929 peak. In the first six months of 1935, British financing was sixty-four per cent. of the peak, while that in the United States was only two per cent. of the peak total.

It is undoubtedly true that excessive restrictions on new issues and the greater uncertainty as to future profits explain at least part of this difference, says the letter. The large loans by the government, through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, to industry and banks have had no real counterpart in Great Britain. "If it is permissible to interpret a rising trend in the security market as indicative of a growth of confidence in business prospects," says the letter, "then it would seem that in spite of temporary setbacks the time is approaching when activity in the durable goods industries in the United States will receive the stimulus of a steadily increasing volume of new investment."

Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Sykes Honored by Friends and Relatives on Silver Wedding Anniversary.

A very happy event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Sykes, Church street, Lennoxville, on Saturday evening, when their friends and relatives gathered to celebrate their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Sykes, who received the guests was becomingly gowned in tea rose crepe, with a corsage of carnations and baby's breath. The house was beautifully decorated with flowers, the color scheme in the living room being carried out in autumn colors and the dining room was decorated with pink and white gladioli, larkspur and sweet peas. Long white streamers were suspended from the chandelier and were festooned at the corners of the bridal table with small vases of pink and white sweet peas. A three-storey wedding cake, decorated in silver and white, with pink tapers in silver holders—the latter being a gift from their daughter, Mrs. Graydon Bennett, centered the table.

Cards and dancing were the order of the evening, music being furnished by Mrs. J. E. Bellam and Messrs. William Paige and William Turner. At midnight, delectable refreshments were served by their daughters, Mrs. Graydon Bennett and Mr. John Peart, assisted by others.

Mr. and Mrs. Sykes received many beautiful gifts of silverware and money. At the close of the evening, the guests departed, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Sykes many more years of happy married life together, expressing the wish that they might live to celebrate their golden wedding anniversary.

LOCAL MILITIA RETURNS HOME FROM ST. JOHNS

Sherbrooke Regiment and Les Fusiliers de Sherbrooke Arrived in Sherbrooke Last Night After Holiday Week-End of Tactical Scheme Work With Other Infantry Units.

Their week-end of tactical scheme work ended, the Sherbrooke Regiment and Les Fusiliers de Sherbrooke, numbering about 200 all ranks, returned from St. Johns by special train last night. The two local regiments had been under canvas since Friday night together with numerous other infantry units.

The last day in camp was mainly taken up with the tactical scheme already worked out by the directing officers last Saturday.

A complete war strength battalion was formed from the troops in camp and marched into position as a portion of a three battalion force placed to defend an entrenched "bridge-head" covering the future employment of a complete division of all arms due to arrive at St. Johns three days later.

The problem, which was on the whole successfully worked out, was to place the component parts of an infantry battalion as to hold off the attackers. The superior fire power of a post-war battalion was excellently brought out by the scheme. Today a battalion is a miniature army complete in itself. In war time days an infantry battalion consisted of four rifle companies equipped with 32 Lewis guns as auxiliary equipment. The new establishment, as demonstrated yesterday, calls for the following organization: Headquarters wing—this includes signallers, medical units, administration, and four anti-tank guns. One support company organized in a company headquarters, three Vickers machine gun platoons and a mortar platoon, four guns, and three rifle companies which include in their equipment 24 Lewis guns. As worked out on the ground two rifle companies were placed in front line supported by 10 heavy machine guns. Anti-tank guns were placed on the flanks. Two mortars were placed to deal with a possible centre of enemy concentration and the remainder of the force, including all of the third rifle company—was held in reserve for counter attack if the defensive line was broken into at any point.

One of the happiest features of the whole camp was the interest taken in the movements by the citizens of St. Johns and vicinity. During the last five days scores of citizens turned out from their homes and voluntarily took cool drinks to the soldiers, many others presented fruit and vegetables to the soldiers. At the battalion headquarters a small Canadian tender years trotted round with a large jug of water and a tray of glasses which he filled and offered to all in need. The language difficulty seldom came up in the "mixed" battalion, but one operation did not go very well, because all the non-commissioned officers happened to be English who spoke no French and all the other ranks were French who spoke no English—a rare occurrence. The platoon commander had to be interpreted as well as commander!

The camp was thoroughly enjoyed by all participating. In this first class messing arrangements contributed a great deal. "An army moves on its stomach" and it was freely admitted that the camp was a "first class" one. The Permanent Staff officers and other ranks were all picked men and had the confidence of all.

LABOR DAY PARADE HELD

A parade, which formed up at Dufferin Park and wended its way through various sections of the city, was held yesterday in celebration of Labor Day. A municipal traffic officer and two Provincial circulation officers headed the parade. Mayor F. H. Bradley, Chas. B. Howard, M.P., and Emery Fortier, M.L.A., were among those who took part.

Yesterday marked Canada's forty-second annual celebration of Labor Day. In this country, where Labor Day is participated in by all classes, it is celebrated in true holiday fashion by parades, meetings, speeches, picnics and other events, in contrast to present Labor Day activities in Europe on May 1, which, as a rule, is not a legal holiday and is frequently marked by sundry riots and conflicts with police authorities.

TWO ROBBERIES NIPPED IN BUD AT EAST ANGUS

Burglars Tried to Enter Ferland's Jewelry Store and Office of Anselme Tourigny, Secretary-Treasurer of Town, Early Sunday Morning.

East Angus, Sept. 3.—A woman's high-pitched scream and a man's barking gun nipped two robbery plots in the bud here early Sunday morning and caused the burglars to make a hasty retreat. They learned to their sorrow and in the vernacular of the underworld that East Angus "is a tough nut to crack."

A. H. Ferland's jewelry store and the office of Anselme Tourigny, secretary-treasurer of the Town of East Angus, were the two places the burglars tried to rob. It could not be learned definitely today where the culprits started. The attempted robberies occurred almost simultaneously. But it is safe to presume they went to the Town Hall first.

The two men made their way into the building, entered the hall-way and, using a crow-bar, tried to force open the door of Anselme Tourigny's office. They had a hard time. They smashed the frame of the door. They were on the verge of entering the office when they heard a noise.

The two men crouched in the darkness—and waited. They heard footsteps. "Someone coming," one of the burglars growled, and he felt around the darkness and grasped a chair. "I'll fix him," the burglar said in a low voice, and he raised the chair above his head.

The stage was set for a dramatic piece of work. The foot-steps grew louder, and suddenly a figure was framed in the door-way of the hall.

The burglar, who was going to Tourigny's office to use the telephone, she tried to scream again, but the men stopped her. "Don't scream like that," the tough burglar warned her. "Just stay here, and be quiet. It will be all right."

Mrs. Gaulin stopped screaming. She lay on the floor, and the men made a hurried exit.

But they were determined burglars. A hundred yards from the Town Hall was Ferland's jewelry store.

The jewelry store is located at the front of the house. Mr. Ferland lives at the back. The men went to the back, surveyed the premises, and decided to enter through a window. That is the usual method burglars employ. It often works. But this time they selected the wrong window.

The men pulled her into the hall. The woman was Mrs. Gaulin, the caretaker, who was going to Tourigny's office to use the telephone. She tried to scream again, but the men stopped her. "Don't scream like that," the tough burglar warned her. "Just stay here, and be quiet. It will be all right."

The men pulled her into the hall. The woman was Mrs. Gaulin, the caretaker, who was going to Tourigny's office to use the telephone. She tried to scream again, but the men stopped her. "Don't scream like that," the tough burglar warned her. "Just stay here, and be quiet. It will be all right."

Mrs. Gaulin stopped screaming. She lay on the floor, and the men made a hurried exit.

But they were determined burglars. A hundred yards from the Town Hall was Ferland's jewelry store.

The jewelry store is located at the front of the house. Mr. Ferland lives at the back. The men went to the back, surveyed the premises, and decided to enter through a window. That is the usual method burglars employ. It often works. But this time they selected the wrong window.

TRIO CHARGED WITH STEALING AT BISHOPTON

Gerard Dubois, Xavier Daigle and Alfred Duguay Appeared Before Sherbrooke Magistrate Today Charged With Theft of Clothing Loaned Them at Bishopston Airport.

Bishopston, Sept. 3.—Three men who abandoned their jobs at the Bishopston Airport and allegedly tried to make their escape with the clothing temporarily allotted them by the government were placed under arrest at Marleton yesterday afternoon.

Gerard Dubois, Xavier Daigle and Alfred Duguay, all three from Quebec City, appeared before Judge J. S. Couture in the Magistrate's Court this morning charged with the theft of underwear, shirts, shoes, woolen sweaters and trousers valued at forty dollars. They were remanded to September 10.

The three men, according to Bishopston Airport authorities, obtained jobs at the airport a few days ago. They were loaned clothing for the duration of their stay at the camp. Yesterday, however, the trio took their unannounced departure—walking through the woods to Marleton, where they waited for the mixed passenger and freight train from Sherbrooke.

In the meantime, however, airport officials set out on their trail. Learning that the men had cut across to Marleton, they hurried to the station to stop them.

The train arrived and the trio tried to board the tender. They were spied and ordered off. Just then, the Bishopston party arrived. The men fed up the tracks, but were overtaken before having gone a great distance. Roger Gauthier, Provincial Police officer, stationed in Sherbrooke over the week-end, was notified. He went to Marleton and placed the three under arrest.

It led to Mr. Ferland's bed-room.

Mr. Ferland was asleep. He was awakened by a noise at the window. He slipped out of bed, tip-toed to the window, looked—and found himself face to face with the two burglars.

The burglars were as surprised as was Ferland himself. They took to their heels. Ferland grasped a gun and sent a volley after them.

TWO PLAY-OFFS WERE FEATURES OF FIELD DAY HERE YESTERDAY

B. N. Holtham and "Bee" Beaudry Captured Principal Class "A" Prizes in Extra-Hole Events at Country Club—F. E. Palmer and E. Manes Topped Class "B" Contenders, While Don Diplock and M. Soles Captured First Prizes in Class "C"—Seventy-One Players, Representing Nine Eastern Townships Clubs, Participated in Day's Play.

Two play-offs were necessary last evening to determine the winners of two major awards in yesterday's Eastern Townships Golf Association field day at the Country Club. Four of the extra three holes before B. N. Holtham and "Bee" Beaudry emerged victorious over Harry Fowles, Jr., of Lennoxville, and Gordon Noble, of Windsor Mills, respectively.

Holtham and Fowles finished the day's play with identical gross aggregates of 159, while Beaudry and Noble were deadlocked with totals of 157 for the best net award in Class "A." Twilight had settled over the course when the quartette started the three-hole play-off. It was difficult for players as well as for spectators to follow the course of the ball. The two ties remained unchanged until the fourteenth approach. The last green, here Holtham and Beaudry came out ahead to annex the first prizes.

Holtham and Fowles pined a field a twenty-six Class "A" entries, while W. K. "Billie" MacDonald, of Granby, recently-crowned Eastern Townships senior champion, placed third with 162. Earl Peabody, five strokes behind the leaders, ranked fourth.

There were thirty-one contenders in Class "B"—players with handicaps ranging from seventeen to twenty-four strokes. F. E. Palmer claimed the best net award with a score of 171, while H. W. Stewart, of Lennoxville, was runner-up with 174. Ertion Manes, of Lennoxville, took the best net prize with a card of 198 and two youthful members of the Country Club, Don Johnston and Elwin Hall, finished in a tie for second net honors. The pair decided to play-off later rather than toss for the award.

Two juniors set the pace in Class "C" in which fourteen were critics. Don Diplock turned in the best gross, an aggregate of 189, nosing out Charlie Terrey by a margin of five strokes. Maitland Soles produced a net of 143 which qualified him for first prize ahead of Norman Flint, of Lennoxville.

Young Fowles and a club-mate, D. C. McRae, were joined by others when the morning round had been completed. They turned in 18-hole cards of eighty to lead Holtham by a single stroke. In the afternoon round, however, Holtham took a six-ty-eight to Fowles' sixty-nine, while the detailed scores of the field day follow:

GODFREY COTE SET RECORD IN SWIMMING RACE

Fifteen-Year-Old Sherbrooke Youth Established New Mark in Winning Stracchino Memorial Cup Race on Magog River Saturday Afternoon.

Godfrey Cote, fifteen-year-old son of Frank Cote, McManamy street, is today the proud holder of the Stracchino Memorial Trophy. Winner of the annual Y.M.C.A. three-mile swimming race on the Magog River Saturday afternoon, young Cote became the second holder of the coveted trophy offered in memory of one of Sherbrooke's outstanding athletes.

Maintaining a steady stroke, Cote established a lead shortly after the start of the race, and seven aspirants tried to follow him. He set the pace along the entire distance, reaching the halfway mark at the Canadian Pacific railroad bridge in the record-breaking time of thirty minutes and thirty seconds.

Down the home stretch, Cote remained well ahead and had enough stamina left to sprint from the boat house to the finish line. His time for the distance was fifty-nine minutes and fifty-five seconds, bettering the mark set last year by nearly three minutes. As he crawled out of the water Cote was in fine physical condition, showing little strain from the cold and grueling grind.

Roland Labarre, of East Angus, winner of the 1934 classic, finished second in sixty-one minutes and fifteen seconds, while Edgar Stracchino, son of the cup donor, was in third place—one minute and ten seconds behind last year's winner.

Gaston Roy, Arnold Simpson, L. Harding and G. Farrell completed the course in that order. Simpson was runner-up in the 1934 event.

Cups, donated by Achilles Stracchino, were presented to Cote, Labarre and Edgar Stracchino by Mrs. Vincent Stracchino.

Saturday afternoon's attraction was voted a fine success by the swimmers and the hundreds of spectators who lined the river banks to witness the race. Bill Peak, who made all arrangements for the event, acted as starter, while Maurice Parsons was official timekeeper. C. C. Cabana and Clint Stocks were the judges, while "Babe" Veer and Gordie Wilcox officiated at the halfway mark.

CANADIAN OPEN TITLE ANNEXED BY GENE KUNES

Twenty-Six Year Old Philadelphia's Feat Will Stand as One of Golf's Best 1935 Achievements.

Montreal, Sept. 3.—When Gene Kunes carried the Canadian open golf championship back to Norristown, Pa., carrying on a tradition that this title must be American-owned, he broke through one of golf's best-guarded doorways. Like the United States and British open tournaments, the Canadian open has been won usually by an experienced campaigner—and they do not call a professional golfer experienced until he has won a few major tournaments or is getting along in years. The has been too much strain along the stretch for most of the youngsters in the three classics.

Kunes, twenty-six years old, a likeable boy who never had won a major event, felt the strain on Saturday during his final drive along Summer's 6,390-yard war-front, only a single stroke ahead of his closest challenger at that point, Vic Ghezzi, of Deal, N.J. Gene had to be good on every hole to hold that lead and he knew it.

He fired a great round of sixty-eight, two under par, to set up what proved to be the winning score of 280 for the seventy-two hole test. Tight-lipped, white-faced, Kunes seemed under terrific pressure. He neared the end. He sank a downhill, eight-foot putt on the seventeenth for a par and was so relieved when the ball dropped that he grabbed it out of the cup and rewarded the pellet with a kiss.

He was shooting for a sixty-seven but his penultimate shot hit him a stroke on the last hole where his second shot landed in a trap beside the green. Kunes, fighting himself desperately, pitched twenty feet from the cup, putted to the lip as the gallery groaned and got down for his sixty-eight.

Gene became the first young victor in the open since the tournament was renewed after the war. It has been a title for such campaigners as Leo Diegel, Tommy Armour, Walter Hagen, Harry Cooper and Joe Kirkwood. Bobby Jones tried it once when he was about nineteen and failed.

Ghezzi, whose final attempt to wrest the triumph from Gene was almost as dramatic as the Norristown boy's winning circuit, finished with a total of 282.

Tony Manero, of Sedgfield, N.C., put together rounds of seventy, seventy-four, seventy and seventy-one to finish in a third-place tie with Ed Dudley, burly Philadelphia, at 285. Dudley scored two rounds of sixty-nine on Saturday in one of the tournament's most sensational displays. In order after these players came Jimmy Hines, of Garden City, N.Y.; and Ray Mungrum, Pittsburgh, and Horton Smith, of Oak Park Ill., tied for sixth.

Jules Huot, of Kent, Quebec, 1934 Canadian professionalist title, tied

CAPELTON BEAT NOTRE DAME TO CAPTURE TITLE

Eustis Aggregation Scored Second Straight Victory at Expense of Local Nine to Annex Eastern Townships Senior Baseball Championship.

Capelton, Sept. 3.—Eastern Townships senior baseball champions by right of conquest, Capelton today awaited instructions regarding the next step in their quest of provincial laurels. Victorious over Sherbrooke's Notre Dame aggregation in two straight games, the Eustis lads prepared for their next opponents—confident of repeating the successes which brought them the Quebec intermediate title last summer.

George Giroux's boys disposed of the Notre Dame threat on Sunday. They spiked a ninth-inning rally after three runs had been registered and romped away with an eight-to-six decision. It was an uphill struggle for the homesters who came from behind to knot the count and then showed across three markers in the closing inning to establish their winning margin.

The veteran Joe Daudelin had only two bad innings. In the second frame the visitors crossed the plate three times to assume a three-one lead. The Capelton hurler held his opponents scoreless during the next six innings before he weakened in the final chapter and allowed another trio of markers. Daudelin yielded seven hits, struck out five and walked two. His support was wobbly in spots, four errors being committed by his infield.

Harry Trotter and Dubois shared Notre Dame's mound duties, the former toiling eight innings and Dubois finishing the pitching chores. Trotter was touched for six hits, fanned seven, struck five passes and gave up three safeties.

Walter Harvey led the Capelton attack with a triple, a double and a single in three appearances at the plate, while every other member of the team except first baseman McVeigh connected safely at least once. Walter Farrell played a stellar defensive role in his team's victory, directing the home team's operations from behind the plate in faultless fashion.

Jackson collected two singles off Daudelin's deliveries and Tony Pinard extruded a home run for the only extra-base blow in the Sherbrooke nine's collection.

The score by innings was:
Notre Dame 090 000 008-6
Capelton 100 210 218-8

MRS. VARE CAPTURED SIXTH UNITED STATES TITLE. Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 3.—For the sixth time in fourteen years of competition, Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare won the United States women's golf championship Saturday afternoon, turning back the sensational Minneapolis freckle-faced, seventeen-year-old Patty Berg, by three and two, Cool, calculating and precise with her iron shots, Mrs. Vare was far too steady for her young rival. Usually outdriven by ten to twenty yards, she repeatedly tallied with iron shots that split the pin.

But even in defeat there was still plenty of glory for the red-headed Miss Berg. She started taking the game seriously only three years ago and in coming up to the finals this year she outshot such seasoned campaigners as Ada Mackenzie, of Toronto, and Charlotte Glutting, the reigning New Jersey champion.

PLAYER SCORED ACE BUT FAILED TO WIN HOLE. Durham, N.C., Sept. 3.—Ralph Unstead made a 220-yard hole-in-one. Henry Poe shot a three and won the hole.

It was this way. Unstead shot two balls towards the out-of-bounds marker. His third drive hit the green and rolled into the cup. Then it was found that his first shot had not gone out of bounds. He had to play it—for a four.

LOCAL NETMEN BEAT DANVILLE TO GAIN FINAL

East Sherbrooke Racquet Wielders Victorious in Five Matches Against Danville in Play-Off for Provincial Intermediate Team Championship.

East Sherbrooke's tennismen today sought new fields to conquer in their quest for the Province of Quebec intermediate club championship. After disposing of Danville to reach the Eastern Townships final, the racquet wielders from across the river prepared for the invasion of the Mount Sutton Tennis Club in a match which will decide this district's representatives against Montreal's contenders for the provincial crown.

The local netmen captured all five matches from Danville Sunday afternoon. They were hard pressed in four events, but emerged victorious by reason of greater experience and superior court strategy. Danville, champions of the Richmond County section, battled gamely to avert a shutout but the visitors found a way to win the match.

Paul Biron, a promising candidate for the Eastern Townships men's singles title, started East Sherbrooke on its victory march with a 7-5, 6-2 victory over Emilian Lafrance, of Danville. Lafrance extended his opponent in the opening set, but Biron struck his stride in the second tilt and dropped only two games.

Playing second singles, Lucien Goyette registered a close 6-4, 7-5 decision over Leland Gibson, while Hector Prefontaine gave East Sherbrooke a clean sweep of the singles by disposing of Hobart Green to the tune of 7-5, 6-2.

The most interesting match of the afternoon was the men's doubles battle between Biron and Ivan Boisvert, of East Sherbrooke, and Gibson and Green, of Danville. The homesters drew first blood, winning the initial set at 6-4, but found their hopes of a straight-set victory shattered when the Danville team rallied to square the match by taking the second set after eight games had been played. Better teamwork was evident in the deciding tilt which the local tandem annexed at 6-3.

Archie Bishop and Majella Charrest scored an easy win at the expense of M. Cloutier and M. Letendre, losing only two games as they recorded a straight-set triumph.

Arrangements are being made today for the East Sherbrooke-Mount Sutton match which, in all probability, will be played during the course of the week.

The detailed results of Sunday afternoon's matches follow:
First singles: P. Biron, East Sherbrooke, defeated E. Lafrance, Danville, 7-5, 6-2.

Second singles: L. Goyette, East Sherbrooke, defeated L. Gibson, Danville, 6-4, 7-5.

Third singles: H. Prefontaine, East Sherbrooke, defeated H. Green, Danville, 7-5, 6-2.

First doubles: P. Biron and I. Boisvert, East Sherbrooke, defeated L. Gibson and H. Green, Danville, 6-4, 8-10, 6-3.

Second doubles: A. W. Bishop and M. Charrest, East Sherbrooke, defeated M. Cloutier and M. Letendre, Danville, 6-0, 6-1.

DURIVAGT REMAINS KING OF QUEBEC'S JUNIOR NETMEN. Montreal, Sept. 3.—Utilizing a clever mixture of strokes, Roger Durivagt scored a 6-3, 3-6, 6-2, 6-3 victory over George Robinson Saturday afternoon to retain his provincial junior tennis championship. The slightly-built monarch outsmarted and outstroked his rival for the greater part of the encounter to earn his second straight victory over Robinson in the junior final.

Only in the latter part of the second set did Robinson display his best brand of tennis. At other times his stroking, particularly his forehand, was uncertain. Durivagt, although putting more loft to his shots, made far fewer outs and outstayed Robinson in many of the long rallies which featured the match.

LOCAL SQUAD DEFEATED IN EXHIBITION AT QUEBEC. Quebec, Sept. 3.—The handicap of playing under lights for the first time proved too much for the St. Pat's entry in the Sherbrooke Softball League which visited Quebec for an exhibition fixture over the week-end. Playing against an all-star aggregation selected from the local senior circuit, the visitors went down to a nine to one defeat Sunday night.

"Paddy" Voiselle fanned seven visitors, walked seven and allowed only two safeties. Johnny Hibbard and Armand Filion shared the Sherbrooke team's mound duty. Hibbard struck out one and issued two passes during the four innings he worked, while Filion whiffed two and gave up three passes in the last four frames. Filion collected St. Pat's two hits and drove in the lone marker in the Sherbrooke column.

Theo Hamel and J. Gingras led Quebec's eight-hit attack with two safeties each, Hamel connecting for two triples.
