

R. L. CALDER K.C., SPEAKING AT LEON CRESTOHL MEETING, PAYS RESPECTS TO 'BALLOT THIEVES'

"Will Defend Anyone Who Maims Them Free," He Declares—Large Gathering Greet Aldermanic Candidate—No Outside Labor So Long As Ward Citizens Idle, Plank In Crestohl's Platform.

A large and at times highly-amused audience listened on Tuesday evening to R. L. Calder, K.C., as he dilated on the merits of Leon Crestohl, one of the five aspirants for aldermanic honors in St. Michael's Ward at the coming elections. Mr. Calder was forceful and witty, and in his best form. The eminent K.C. described Mr. Crestohl as a "decent, gentlemanly, manly person, recognized by his own people as a good and prudent administrator." Referring to the Jewish race in general, Mr. Calder termed them "long-headed," and humorously remarked that if it weren't for the Scotch they would probably be the most "long-headed in the world." He called attention to prevailing conditions in municipal affairs, and prophesied that if the city did not succeed in electing a good council now, there would hereafter be "no popular government in Montreal." He admonished the voters to get out early, illustrating his point by stating that at the last election he had firmly made up his mind that "no one would 'telegraph' his vote this time." Unfortunately, he said, he was called out of town on election day, and did not return until four o'clock in the afternoon, only then to discover that someone had not only voted in his place, but had voted twice! That he suggested, was "rubbing it in." He exhorted his hearers to allow "no accident of birth to enter into their calculations when casting their ballots. "I know I wasn't consulted," he said, "when I was born, so why pick on me if I'm Scotch." He was accorded tumultuous applause at the end of his address.

Mr. Crestohl, in his turn, said that St. Michael ward should send a representative to the City Hall who knows what the division needed, a candidate who would lead, demand or organize demonstrations so that these needs would be recognized and obtained. The ward was the only one out of the 35 comprising the City of Montreal without a playground, a skating rink, a public bath, a library and a clinic, he pointed out. Taxes collected there had been utilized for public works in other sections of the city, the unemployed had not been given the opportunity to earn their daily bread. If, after the election, there were to be public works in St. Michael for the benefit of the jobless, Mr. Crestohl said that he would see to it, if elected, that no outside labor would be employed as long as one resident of the ward was without work. There is much to be done in the next two years, he averred, for St. Michael ward must get what it did not obtain during the past 10 years. Today, instead of showing advancedness, the district is two years further behind than it was two years ago.

OUTREMONT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH NOTES

A very enjoyable evening was spent with the Young Peoples Society on Monday night. The Literary Committee took charge of the programme. There were several interesting individual and double acts put on by the following: Mrs. S. G. King, who sang; Messrs. S. G. King and H. Moore, illustrating his point by stating that at the last election he had firmly made up his mind that "no one would 'telegraph' his vote this time." Unfortunately, he said, he was called out of town on election day, and did not return until four o'clock in the afternoon, only then to discover that someone had not only voted in his place, but had voted twice! That he suggested, was "rubbing it in." He exhorted his hearers to allow "no accident of birth to enter into their calculations when casting their ballots. "I know I wasn't consulted," he said, "when I was born, so why pick on me if I'm Scotch." He was accorded tumultuous applause at the end of his address.

At the Mid-Week service Wednesday at 8 o'clock, Mr. McLean will contribute the studies in the "Creed of a Christian."

The Young People are planning to attend the Sunrise service which will be held this year in St. Giles Fairmount Church at 6:45 a.m. Easter Sunday morning.

At both services on Sunday the choir under the direction of Mr. J. McLean Marshall will render Easter anthems. The soloists will be Miss Jean Templeton and Mrs. Wm. McLean.

There will be open session in the Sunday school at three o'clock. Professor Holland will assist the superintendent and teachers in providing an Easter programme of music and story. Parents and friends of the children are invited to attend. Communion service will be held on

"LITTLE PLAYERS" IN "CINDERELLA" AT THE OUTREMONT

Popular Young Radio Stars Give Another Morning Show Tomorrow

Welcome news for the kiddies—and likewise the grown-ups! "The Little Players of the Air" will give another morning show tomorrow, Saturday morning, beginning sharp at 10:15 at the Outremont. This time it will be "Cinderella," set to music in five colorful acts of tuneful music, novelty dances and lovely costumes, which tell the glamorous story of the forgotten little girl who found her Prince Charming, and the romantic outcome of her episodes. "The Three Little Pigs" will be an added attraction. "Roman Scandals" with Eddie Cantor will be the feature of the regular performance, beginning with Saturday's matinee. The picture needs no introduction. It is the season's outstanding sensation, and has been held over for extra weeks in virtually every theatre in which it has been shown. "Love on a Ladder" with Edgar Kennedy is the added feature, with a cartoon and news, while the regular three acts of high-class value completes a very attractive bill. Don't forget the morning show. Hundreds and hundreds of kiddies saw the last one!

FAIRMOUNT ST-GILES CHURCH NOTES

Services marking the Great Easter Christian Festival will be conducted on Sunday both morning and evening by the Rev. Burton H. Robinson whose Easter theme "Beyond the Tomb" has been suggested by the war-time writing of a former well-beloved clergyman, Rev. J. Patterson Smythe of Montreal. Some problems dealt with "Personality and Its Persistence," "Recognition After Death," "The Community of the After Life," "The Ministry of the Unseen." The Church work directed by Mr. Binnie and assisted by Mr. H. Hewlett, Montreal tenor, will provide two beautiful services of Easter music and the floral committee will make the Chancel beautiful with festival flowers.

On Monday evening, the Christian Endeavour Society is staging its annual Mock Parliament, when spokesmen of several political parties will discuss important issues now confronting the Canadian people.

On Wednesday evening next, the Women's Missionary Society will hold its Easter meeting with Rev. Lavell Smith, M.A., of Westmont Park Church as the special speaker.

A great deal of missionary interest is centering around the annual W.M.S. family party of the W.M.S. groups on Tuesday April 10 when the expected speaker will be Rev. D. R. McKenzie, veteran missionary of Japan.

AFTER-EASTER SALE AT LILLIAN RUBIN'S

The Lillian Rubin Hat Shoppe, Reg'd., at 5103 Park Avenue, announces that connection has been made with one of the largest wholesalers in the city, with the result that they are offering during the week of April 2nd, to 7th, hats generally priced close to $5.00, at wholesale prices. The range covers the season's latest styles and colours.

Special attention is called to this sale in view of the recent millinery strike.

Sunday, April 8th at 11 a.m. Preparatory service and reception of new members will take place on Wednesday the 4th. The Rev. Dr. McIvor, minister of Ephraim Scott Memorial Church will preach the sermon.

NEUTRAL SAYS B. M. GARFIELD

Asked by an Examiner-Courier representative as to his attitude towards the various candidates in the forthcoming election in St. Michael's Ward, B. M. Garfield, president of the Business Men's Association of the North End, made the following statement: "I do not believe I am flattering myself when I say that I exercise a good deal of influence in the North End. My interest in the district is well-established. Certain rumors are in circulation, and it is only fair that I should justify the situation. Four out of the five candidates are patrons of my theatre, I have fixed a certain rental price for my halls. It will be the same for all, and any candidate who is willing to pay that price may have the use of them. I shall work neither for nor against any aldermanic aspirant. As a matter of fact, I shall not even vote. I can see no reason for any of the candidates feeling hurt at this decision, since I consider it the only equitable stand I can take. I shall remain absolutely neutral. "Have you signed the nomination papers for any candidate?" was asked. "Positively not," came the reply. "Will you act as chairman at any of the meetings of any candidate?" "No."

Mr. Garfield concluded by stating that "whichever one of the candidates happens to be the lucky man, he can depend upon the cooperation of the Business Men's Association when he becomes alderman."

ST. MICHAEL'S CANDIDATES PEN PICTURES

JAMES A. SAGE

James A. Sage, "official" candidate for aldermanic honors in the coming election, is, according to his own statement, "a real, honest-to-goodness Irishman, born in the Emerald Isle, and coming to Canada as a boy; lived in the ward for upwards of thirty years; is a home-owner, and has raised a family of ten boys and girls; and consider myself just a good, plain citizen." He began his career as a messenger boy, and rose progressively to shipping and order clerk, sales supervisor, salesman and finally vice-president and sales manager of an important local wholesale house, which was "wiped off the map" by the Great War. Since then he has devoted himself mainly to developing his own business as a manufacturers' agent. He has given freely of his time and means to the aid of people in distress. He is friendly towards the laboring man, and a firm believer in the "Square Deal." He asks that the voters get their ballots in early, and "may the best man win."

HOUSE BASKETBALL AT NORTH BRANCH

Much Enthusiasm Shown In First Session of League

In the opening game on Monday evening's program in the North Branch spring league, the Bears under Hugh Struthers, caused the first upset of the season when they nosed out a 21-20 win over the Maple Leafs under Bill Station. The second game of the evening saw Jim Robert's Butchers romp home in an easy win over Stewart Robert's Toolers by the score of 28-14. The Dynamiters, with Les Mason, also had an easy victory over the Smoke-eaters, under Bob Sullivan, when they emerged at the tall end of 30-17.

The games for next week are as follows:

- Monday, April 2
Smoke-Eaters vs. Butchers, 8.35-9.20.
- Bears vs. Dynamiters, 9.25-10.10.
- Toolers vs. Maple Leafs, 10.15-11.00.
- Thursday, April 5
Maple Leafs vs. Smoke-Eaters, 8.35-9.20.
- Dynamiters vs. Butchers, 9.20-10.10.
- Bears vs. Toolers, 10.15-11.00.

MACVICAR MEMORIAL CHURCH NOTES

The services in Macvicar Memorial Presbyterian Church next Sunday will be of a special character in view of the Easter Season. The Easter Messages both morning (11 a.m.) and evening (7.30 p.m.) will be given by Rev. Dr. Potter. There will be a special Easter music at both services.

On Monday night the Young People's Society will hold their Easter meeting at 8 p.m. there will be a brief Easter message and as it is also Consecration night a full attendance is expected.

The Home Helpers Night (W.M.S.) held last Wednesday at 8 p.m. was most encouraging in every way. It was an open night for everyone, and a large number responded. Mr. J. Ritchie Bell gave a most interesting address and also sang. The Misses Robb enriched the proceedings with their Sacred selections. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting. Mrs. John Findlay is convener of the "The Home Helpers."

On Tuesday next, April 3rd a Social Afternoon will be held under the auspices of the Women's Missionary Society from 3 to 5 p.m. A musical and literary programme will be rendered consisting of solos by Gladys Davies, violin selections by Norma A. McLean, readings by Mrs. Percy Hall, etc., etc. Refreshments will be served.

On Tuesday, April 3 at 8 p.m. a concert will be given under the auspices of the Y.P.S.C.E.

Don't forget the Sunrise Service Sunday, April 1st, at 6.15 a.m. in Fairmount-St. Giles. Rev. Wm. McLean will give the message.

WOMEN'S GUILD

The Women's Guild of the Church of the Ascension have arranged a Conference, displaying and demonstrating Canadian Products, to be held in the Parish hall, Park Ave., on Tuesday, April 3rd, at 2:30 p.m. Tea will be served, and an invitation is extended to all women to attend.

FOUR CANDIDATES FOR MAYOR, EIGHTY-NINE FOR ALDERMAN, FOUR PROTESTS, FINAL COUNT

Plenty of Action Promised As Largest List of Civic Aspirants In Years Swings Into Line—Many Meetings Being Held—Fight In St. Michael's So Far Devoid of 'Mud-Slinging'.

As the army of aspirants for civic honors wheels into line, thunders of charge and counter-charge hammer at the ear-drums of the electors in almost every section of the city. This is not the case, however, in St. Michael's— or rather what charges there may be, if any, are still kept well within the depths. There are, of course, rumors apleaty, but in the final analysis they appear to have little basis in fact. In Laurier Ward, however, the storm has broken with all its violence, and Alderman Max Seigler and Omer Langlois would seem to have already locked horns in a battle to the death. With eighty-nine aldermanic candidates, and four for the office of mayor, the "talent" will have plenty to choose from.

Election Briefs

With the largest number of political aspirants in the field ever recorded, forfeited deposits are liable to look like the National Debt.

What candidate hung that sign over his opposition's headquarters — and how?

Some wag has suggested a "sweep-stake." Well, that might be one way some of the candidates would get their money back.

Sometime between midnight and four a.m. Tuesday, the bronze plaques ornamenting each side of the main entrance to the Seigler Clinic, in Laurier Ward, were torn off by miscreants, it is reported. Defacement of public buildings is vandalism at its worst!

The misnomer "Telegrapher," as applied to scoundrels, paid or otherwise, who cast votes illegally is difficult of understanding. Telegraphers, actually, are a hard-working, intelligent, highly-paid class of men and women who send and receive telegrams, and there can be no possible connection between them and the ballot thieves.

R. L. Calder, K.C., addressing a meeting last evening in support of Leon Crestohl, said the only thing St. Michael's had in common with other wards was "dirty streets."

VOISARD'S NEW BEAUTY SALON

A new and attractive beauty salon has been established by Mr. J. Voisard at 5817 Park Avenue, immediately above Bernard, with fully-equipped individual booths for patrons, a feature which should strongly appeal to ladies of refinement who wish privacy. Mr. Voisard is well-known as a beautician, having been located for nine years at 221 Fairmount Avenue, prior to moving to his present location. He agrees, with other leading hairdressers who have publicly announced that there does exist an "oil permanent," and states he is prepared to demonstrate that fact to the satisfaction of all who visit his Salon. He is himself an expert of proven ability, and is surrounded by an efficient and courteous staff of assistants. He suggests a "New Wave for Easter" to accompany the new costume.

For Mayor

Camillien Houde, Anatole Plante, Salluste Lavery, K.C., Pierre Desrosiers.

For Alderman

St. Michael—Leon D. Crestohl, Arthur E. McBain, James A. Sage, Morris B. Signer, David Rochon.

WHEELERS HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

The Winged Wheelers Soft Ball Club held their annual meeting, last night, to elect its officers for the coming year. Mickey Hennessy, popular amateur boxer and athlete, was made manager and Captain by a large majority.

Among those present were: George Leonidis, Oazy Williams, Happy Nadler, Joe Hennessy, Tess Tessler, Leo Bernard, Christie Tambus, Lionel Kaiserman and others.

The Wheelers are in need of a few more ball players for the new season. Anyone interested should get in touch with "Gerald", CR. 5484, after 5:30 p.m.

In Which Subjects of General Interest Are Discussed

NOTE:—The opinions expressed in these columns are not necessarily those of the Examiner, and this newspaper does not accept responsibility for them. They are published for their general interest, variety, and originality of treatment.

By Howard Ross, K.C.

Canon Cody who was elected to a seat in the Ontario Legislature a few years ago and who became a Conservative cabinet minister and who later went throughout Ontario urging the abolition of the Prohibition Act which he had previously advocated has now declared that both church and university must avoid action in the political or economic field if they are to do their best work. Such a speech by one whose whole recent life has been steeped in political action is, to say the least, very surprising.

Dr. D. N. McLachlan, secretary of the United Church social service board issued a spirited and convincing reply. He pointed out that every important church—Catholic and Protestant—in its utterances since 1890 has asserted the obligation of the church to criticize economic and political organizations in the light of Christian standards. No body has been more outspoken than the world-wide Lambeth conference of Anglican bishops, endorsed by the general synod of Dr. Cody's Canadian church. Dr. Cody urged the church and the university to promote ends rather than means. It is this challenge of the ends sought by the present economic and political order which the professors and parsons have criticized as unchristian. To this no one to our knowledge has given a convincing reply.

Our Federal Government has had to coin 34,000,000 one-cent coins. One denomination is trying to reduce its deficit by asking its members to add to their annual contribution one cent placed in a box on the dining room table at the opening of each meal. The plan was started too late to have great effect on the budget of 1933 but 150,000 boxes have been applied for and it is hoped that each table will add at least $10 to the church funds during 1934. The diversion of the pennies into the boxes created the shortage referred to.

The President of the American Bar Association spoke recently to the students of Harvard Law School. The Association has been greatly disturbed over the low estate into which the legal profession has fallen. Many have been wondering if it will be possible to control crime and rid the nation of the exploitation which is carried on under the skillful guidance of clever lawyers. According to the New York Times the President said: "The most important thing about law is getting business. Go to church every if it is hard to take. You'll meet a lot of nice people there. It isn't so important for you to see them as for them to see you. Now that's called the church racket, but what of it, as long as you're getting business in a quiet, genteel way?"

all this with much lower rates than we have in this district. And this in spite of the fact that Quebec Province has the greatest water powers in the world.

Canada has a record of forty-three million horse power of hydro electric energy and as yet only about eight million horse power is in use and a considerable part of that power runs to waste during daylight hours and during the night when people are sleeping. Perhaps we are asleep most of the time on this vital question?

Another profession which seems to have disappeared during the last four years is the efficiency expert.

The Open Road is published every little while by Bruce Calvert at Mountain View, New Jersey. His Credo is: Stand on your own intellectual feet. Do your own thinking. Mind your own business. Do not leave it to someone else. Accord all others the same right. Co-operate with your fellow workers and thinkers to MAKE THE WORLD SAFE FOR INTELLIGENCE.

There is a steadily growing belief that every man and woman in the world is entitled to as much of the earth's surface, sunshine and air, and the opportunities of life as he and she can rightly use and no more.

I disagree with every word you say, but I will defend to the death your right to say it.—Voltaire.

Tariff walls and customs duty barriers are far more dangerous symptoms of warfare than any number of battleships, said Sir Arthur Balfour, of Sheffield, England, addressing the purchasing agents Association of Montreal, recently.

"Economic warfare constitutes a far greater menace to the peace of the world than building warships does," he said, "and we should all put a stop to competitive tariff building and trade together without the restrictions which are not only a source of danger to the British Empire, but to the whole world."

Leather-Pushers On The Screen

A regular old fashioned battle royal with the participants all well known boxers, some of whom have held championship titles, will be seen in the realistic free-for-all fight in the opening sequence of Columbia Pictures' "The Whirlpool" starring virilo Jack Holt.

Some of these include: Frankie Nolan, who was Pacific Coast flyweight champion from 1919 to 1926. Ray Spiker, heavyweight champion of Canada in 1922 and held the same title in the U.S. Navy during 1927-28. Jim O'Gatty, a middleweight who battled Jack Delaney to a ten-round draw in Providence in 1925. Jim Dime, heavyweight champion of the Pacific Coast Fleet; Charlie Vincent, former U.S. welterweight titleholder, who has met all the topnotchers including Benny Leonard, Freddy Walsh and Johnny Dundee. Nat Slott, a featherweight well known on the Pacific Coast and former amateur champion. Dick McCarron, light-heavyweight, contender for the Pacific-Northwest crown against Cliff Reynolds in Seattle. Jack Low, an Eastern welterweight who has over 100 winning battles to his credit.

Jack Parry, once contender for the U.S. welter, title, and Frank Schab, a heavy boxer also sling mean fists in "The Whirlpool" fight sequence. Some array, with none of them pulling their punches.

ALI BABA AND THE FORTY THIEVES

In line with the many successes of the Y.M.H.A. Junior Dramatic Group earlier this season the Association has decided to present their first general children's play—"Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves"—a dramatization of the famous Arabian Nights story, under the direction of Miss Rose Arfin, on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, April 2, 3, 4th, at 2:30 p.m., in the "Y" Auditorium, 265 Mt. Royal West.

The story is simple enough for even the youngest child to understand, and yet so full of action and adventure that it is certain to hold the interest of those parents who will accompany their sons and daughters. Opening with Ali Baba watching the cave open and close mysteriously when the robber chief uses his magic words, and continuing with the murder of Kassim, and the discovery of the thieves in barrels of oil and the eventual slaying of the chief of the robbers by Morgiana, the play is full of excitement from beginning to end.

Of special interest to all who enjoy appropriate settings is the fact that the play requires seven complete changes of scenery—by far the most elaborate undertaking by this Group. The scenes are very colourful and in many places add a sense of mystery to all the action. A specially trained stage crew consisting of Ben Scheeter, Bill Deskin, Ben Blicher and Boris Levine will be in charge. Each player has been outfitted in the most attractive costumes representative of the time of the story, and designed by Mr. and Mrs. L. Wener, and prepared by the Mother's Committee; turbans and other head gear were made by Mrs. Jack Halperin, while Mr. Jack Halperin assisted with dance routines.

As a means of training as large a group as possible in stage presence, poise and diction, the cast will consist of 24 boys and 3 girls. Morris

Well Dressed Man Considers Shoes For His Wardrobe

The smart dresser is watching his step this Spring—at least, he's looking twice at his shoes from the style angle before he decides whether the fit is good and the shoes feel comfortable.

So when you go out to buy shoes this Spring don't go around with any firm resolution to buy a pair of shoes like the last ones you bought—just because they were comfortable and gave you your money's worth of wear. Go out shopping with an open mind and give the shoe salesman a chance to show you some of the new styles.

Shoes Have New Streamlining

Now that we've got that little sermon off our chest, what's new? Well, in the first place, it's the outflare style—the modified pointed toe model that flares out at the ball of the foot. Their fighting words to many men, and that's why this style may still

Some men don't like the pointed toe idea, and others say the outflare makes their feet look too wide—but experience has taught us that the outflare is a shoe that doesn't tend to run over—a shoe that keeps its good looking shape longer than others we've worn. It's smart and trim looking, too—gives the foot a streamline appearance that's as modern as "airflow" in motor cars.

Smart dressers are choosing this style of last in the brown wing tip shoe with perforations for informal town wear this spring. Its comparison for town and business wear is the black town shoe with straight perforated tips. And having mentioned those two shoes we might state that perforations on the toe of the shoe are coming into prominence. Plain, undecorated shoes are still good, but if you want to stride along with the head of the parade choose something with perforations. That's one style feature—another is color. Rust, that new shade that got a bit of promotion last fall, is gaining ground, and smart dressers are breaking down the old tradition that black is the only color proper for evening wear by wearing tans, browns and rusts with informal clothes.

Brogues for Sports

For sportswear and spectator sports you can get a good line on what's what by noting the southern resort wear trends. All white buckskin brogues are getting quite a bit of play, and we're told that elkskin in white, greys and two-tone combinations have a strong bid in for the popularity prize in plain toe models with clear through perforations. That type of shoe is very smart and very comfortable, for the clear-through punchings keep your feet cool and that kind of air-conditioning means solid comfort.

CANADIAN MISSION NOTES

Sunday evening services of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon) held in the Ri-alto Hall "B", at 4711 Park Avenue.

Elder Lloyd M. Jacobsen delivered the first sermon, the relationship of God and man being the theme. He explained the Latter-day Saint conception of God which is not that God is only a spirit and he fills the whole immensity but that God is a person with body, parts, and passion and can only be in one place at a time; it is the divine influence that is everywhere present. The speaker related Biblical incidences illustrating how God has been ever watchful of his children, always willing to assist those that were living his commandments according to the best of their knowledge. God is not the author of confusion, however, many persons today transgress the natural laws and discredit the divine being with what we have brought upon ourselves because of the misuse we have given our free agency. The Elder also discussed man's accomplishments and development during the nineteenth century and forcefully illustrated how we are indebted to God for these many blessings.

Miss Percilla Wilson spoke upon the importance of remembering the Sabbath Day and keeping it holy. She discussed the three essentials of the dedicated day that should be observed: first, rest from all one's labors; second, attend church or community gatherings and worship; third, offer oblations to the Lord. Activity engaged in on the Sabbath Day should be that type of recreation that brings one in keeping with the spirit of God. The day of worship was changed from Saturday which is the seventh day to Sunday because Christ was resurrected on that day. The speaker related several of the healings that Christ performed on Sunday as recorded in the New Testament thus proving that it is proper to do good on the Sabbath especially to one's fellow man.

HER PUNISHMENT

Her punishment is this: to see the years Go hurtling past brimmed up with stress and change, Uncounted hopes in each and countless fears, Through shifting vistas, fortunes new and strange; And yet to stand untouched by any gust Of time and circumstance that round her beats, To have no sudden doubts, no hopes, no trust, No shining victories, no drab defeats, Immured in life as in a prison cell, A prisoner too ignoble to resist The guards who pace the walls where he must dwell With voice or knife or swift-avenging fist. She does not know this is her punishment: To live in vague and meaningless content.

The Way the Wind Blows For Spring

Emphasis is on Line Rather Than Ornament this Season—Three-quarter Sleeves Are Gathered Cleverly—Contrasting Materials and Colors Popular Again This Year.

By Annette Alice

You've heard about the back-sweep in hats and the up-sweep in hair styles . . . and now comes the front-sweep in coats and dresses. Everyone is to look wind-blown, but in the smart direction, of course. (We tremble to think what will happen if that nasty March wind goes the wrong way.) The whole effect is to give you a dashing, perky sort of look, with the big emphasis on line rather than ornament.

For instance, the smartest coats are in tweedy wools or rough wools without any fur, tailored with a cleverness of line that will simply leave you overcome. The majority of them have front fullness of some sort, making you look as though you were being swept along by a strong breeze on your back. There's one by Schiaparelli in a lovely navy tweed that shows this. The revers stand crisply forward and the skirt sweeps to the front. You have to have style sense to wear it, of course.

Other coats (showing how inconsistent is fashion) blow the other way! Lelong has one with big gathered sleeves that sweep backwards. It's all very effective if you are careful about the things you wear with coats like these. The hat you choose must carry out the line of your coat or you are sunk.

And What About Sleeves? The shops say that they are being bombarded with questions about sleeves. Will the new sleeves be perfectly plain? What's all this about

Fashion Notes

Found, beach sandals that are not only smart but comfortable. Norma Shearer, charming star who has introduced so many new fashions, introduced the beach clog with white crocheted vamp and ties, and now everyone wants them. Miss Shearer's beach clogs are made with rubber sole and real wooden heels, with a soft crocheted vamp open to show the toes, the clogs held on by clever ties of crocheted that cross and tie in a bow on the instep.

Joan Crawford introduces a new "jewelry ensemble" in her new picture, "Sadie McKee," which she designed herself. She wears a hand-hammered gold bandeau at the back of her hair and a matching hammered gold collar as an accent for one of her loveliest black evening gowns.

Jean Harlow, noted for her preference for white in the evening, chooses her newest Spring evening ensemble in heavy white crepe. Her fitted frock drapes high about the throat in front and falls almost to the waistline at back in the new cowl drapery. The frock is completed with an unusual formal train of white silk fringe, the same fringe used to make a graceful swaying evening cape that falls to the hipline.

Leo Carroll, last seen on the Broadway stage in "The Green Bay Tree," has been added to the cast of "Manhattan Melodrama," as have Isabel Jewell and Muriel Evans. Clark Gable has the central role in this new three-quarter sleeves? We admit there is plenty of justification for all this furor about them, since they have been up to strange tricks in the last few years. But whatever sleeves will be, they won't be plain. Fashion is still depending upon them for style interest. The fullness has slipped down around the elbow in many cases, creating that new sloping shoulder that has appeared for Spring. Sometimes they have a backward sweep, particularly if the dress carries out this line.

Three-quarter sleeves are very good, often gathered cleverly, or worn with unusual lingerie touches. Bell sleeves to the wrists are found on many coats, especially swaggy sports coats.

The most amazing thing about sleeves this Spring is finding them often in contrasting materials and colors. Vionnet put scarlet sleeves on a black coat . . . a plain crepe frock will have polka-dotted sleeves and neckerchief to match . . . a cocktail dress will have sleeves and scarf of lame. It all sounds utterly mad—but it's surprisingly effective.

Whither Goest Thou, Dame Fashion?

By HELEN HOAGLUND

Giving one's wardrobe a beauty treatment is a pleasant chore that every woman faces in this jubilant season of the year. And this spring ushers in as tempting an array of new styles as the fashion-wise woman has ever glimpsed.

An Interesting Russian Influence Is Here

The recognition of Russia by the United States had far-reaching importance in diplomatic and commercial circles—but it also had a meaning all its own in the world of fashion. For behold the vivid Russian ballet color combinations in this spring's silks and woollens! Among these vivid peasant hues (which suggest the colors in the costumes and settings of the Russian ballets) are chocolate brown, "Le Beau Danube" often combined with pale flesh pink, silvery gray with brilliant turquoise or pinky violet, and a combination of "poison green" with kelly green.

Many of the newest silk prints have discovered the charm of the Russian peasant type of motif. You'll see all-over florals reproduced from old peasant yarn embroideries, in those gay harmonies of primitive colors that are typical of Russian art. Some of these lively prints when made up in dresses further suggest a Russian influence by means of tunics, high necklines, and often a bit of gold embroidery.

Everyone's Talking Suits and Jacket Costumes

It's getting so that a dress simply can't go out alone without its own matching or harmonizing jacket or coat. And it looks as if suits would be spring's most ubiquitous costume this year! There's altogether a looser picture which has just gone into production.

The recent warm weather has attracted large crowds to the beaches, so Johnny Weissmuller has been asked to give up his leisure time during the filming of "Tarzan and His Mate," to resume his duties as a Santa Monica Life Guard.

Frances Williams, New York stage star, was making her first appearance before a camera, making tests for her role in "The Hollywood Party." She asked the cameraman where she should stand, and so on. "You see I'm just a strange little girl from New York," she explained. "So you'll have to tell me things to do and places to go!"

Jean Hersholt, whose newest role is in "Men In White," arrived in New York, accompanied by his wife and son Allen. Hersholt is under long-term contract to Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

feeling about the cut of the suit coats in the newest models. Some have an ample flare just below a nipped-in waistline, illustrating the popular new wind-blown silhouette that you are hearing so much about. Collars, too, often have sail revers in fur or fabric, or ribbon ties (and sometimes gay plaid taffetas are used for such trimming). The long-coated suits often adopt the tuxedo version of the revers theme; and there is Augustabernard's fetching rippled collar on many of the smart new suit coats.

You'll find loose "kimono-cut" suits of knuckle-length, boxy little jackets of knee-length, with that youthful, new-looking front fullness. In suits or daytime ensembles, you'll often find "companion" fabrics used with dashing effect. Sometimes, for instance, the jacket is checked and the skirt is monotone. Or the coat may be a heavier version of the light-weight material that is used for the skirt or frock. Then often (especially in the knit fabric ensembles) you'll find the same colors, but in different materials —or matching patterns in a reversed color scheme.

A New Femininity Adds Grace to Spring Fashions

Not only in the diaphanous new evening gowns of picturesque silhouette but in sports and afternoon frocks as well you'll find a charming new spirit of femininity holds sway.

Spring's new models owe much of their feminine seductiveness to lovely fabrics. "Swish" is, in fact, the Paris password for chic, as an intriguing rustle is invariably heard wherever smart women gather. Taffeta is staging an important revival, especially in youthful plaids, checks or striped designs. Failles and such old-fashioned fabrics as challis mixtures, alpaca and surahs play leading roles in this revival of quaint materials.

There are more sheers and dainty chiffons than you've seen in many a spring. And how well they lend their gracious softness to the floating feeling that is so essential a phase of the new evening silhouette — which boasts trailing scarfs and sash end-winglike panels which float from the shoulders, trains, flounces and ingenious drapes. This graceful floating aspect of the new frocks is airily reminiscent of the summer breezes themselves.

W. S. Van Dyke gave John Miljan a twenty-five passenger bus for Christmas for a practical joke . . . It was a 1920 Velie and very delapidated.

The salary of the new emperor of Manchoukuo is $1,750,000 a year. This accounts for his willingness to undertake such a precarious job.

First Bum: "I'm looking for the president of this railroad."

Second Bum: "Well you don't expect to find him here, do you?"

First Bum: "Oh, I don't know, I'm on his track."

"In The Spring. . . ."

"In the spring a young man's fancy mightily turns to what the girls have been thinking about all winter." That is, gentle readers,—new clothes with which to startle the Easter paraders. Every man likes to turn out on Easter Sunday attired in a new coat, hat, suit, shoes and carrying a cane. Probably his spats and gloves are also new and of a startling hue.

Their enthusiasm however is as nothing compared to the hue and cry raised by each and every female with regard to what they must have for the Easter season. You don't have to tell us that the wife is insisting on new clothes for the Spring season and you don't have to tell us that they will be difficult to procure—what with the depression and everything. But there is no need to disappoint her. No indeed.

Just hustle around, in the cellar or in the attic, in the drawers of that old chest—if you like. Gather together your old gold. There must be a lot of it. Jewellery goes out of style, watches are no longer the mode, gold coins accumulate, chains become broken and find their way into the odd corner. Gather them all together and bring them to the Gold Scrap Shop—with branches at 467 St. Catherine St. West (next door to St. James United Church), and 884 St. Catherine St. West (two doors East of Capitol Theatre), where an expert valuator will give you ready cash for them. And remember the highest prices ever paid for old gold are now being offered.

If you find it inconvenient to journey to one of these branches just phone PLateau 6973 and an expert valuator, equipped with ready cash, will call at your home. No articles purchased by us are displayed in our windows.—C.

YOUTH'S TRAGEDY

One phase of the depression which has so far, apparently, escaped the notice of commentators is the indifference with which employers have been persistently jettisoning young men and women on the plea of economy, and without, it would seem, the slightest consideration for the hardships involved in the jettisoning process. Thousands of boys and girls in their teens, prior to the break-up, accepted positions to which were attached very meagre emoluments. They did so with the idea of mastering the details of some vocation, and building for themselves a future. The idea of a pension for loyalty and "length of service" was frequently dangled before their eyes. They rested secure in the thought that, failing to achieve prominence, the pension at least was a sheet-anchor, and that devotion and reliability would, in this small way, reap some reward. They would seem now to have been following a phantasmagoria. Today, at twenty-one, twenty-two, twenty-three, perhaps, these thousands find themselves out on the streets, their youth slipping from them, and being told, with monotonous regularity, when they apply for employment that they are "too old." There is a moral obligation herein entailed. What might develop therefrom eventually is difficult of visualization. What is developing is tragedy!

Senator Hamilton Lewis says the St. Lawrence Waterways will never pay. He must admit however, that they are in a strong liquid position.

Instead of stabilizing the French franc the people of France should pay some attention to the stabilization of a French government.

None but the supreme authority in any country should be allowed to organize and drill an army. A private army, such as Sir Oswald Mosely is alleged to have organized, is a menace even in such a law-abiding country as England.

Three thousand parcels of land are now in the hands of the Canadian Soo through non-payment of taxes "and the prospect is that with a tax sale to be held this year, this may be increased by another thousand." Toronto is fortunate in that respect. The parcels on the city's hands through tax sales do not exceed 500.

Letters to the Editor

The Editor,
 "Examiner-Courier,"
 Dear Sir:—

Reply to Labor Protest

The letter from Mr. Rinder, representing the St. Michael's Independent Labor club, which appeared in your last issue, has been brought to my attention as possibly referring to the Convention held at the Rialto Hall Tuesday March 13th.

I quite agree with many of the views held by your correspondent, for the simple reason that I was personally in favor of a system whereby all the labor organizations, church groups, business men's association, or any other duly qualified organizations, should be invited to send 5 delegates each to participate in the selection of one of the six candidates then in the field, but my proposal was put aside, against my wishes, and the final system of allowing ten delegates to each candidate, as also the selection of one name from each of the 29 polls, as the balance of power, selected and kept secret from the candidates, was agreed to, all deciding then and there to abide by the verdict, and if voted down, to get behind the man chosen, and help in every way possible to elect him. The convention was called in legal form, fair to every one Messrs. Callaghan, Murphy, Maguire and Sage agreeing. When Mr. Murphy was retired on a technicality, prior to the convention proper, and did not show up with his delegates, he was ipso facto OUT, then Mr. Callaghan explained to the assembly that at 5 p.m. the same Tuesday, he was informed of pending legal business likely to take up his time for a couple of months, and in fairness to the ward, withdrew, the Convention then proceeded to ballot for the remaining candidates, and one of the delegates in the Hall rose and asked the question, would the delegates then present as Mr. Callaghan's supporters be allowed to vote, the chair ruled that the question would be put to the candidates for their decision. Mr. Sage was asked the question first, he hesitated for a moment, then rose and said, that as these men came out on such a dirty night, that as far as he was concerned, they could all vote, but Mr. Maguire rose and positively refused to allow them to do so, the chair ruling in his favor. Labor bodies will always be sure of a square deal from me, if I am elected on the 9th.

Sincerely yours,
JAMES A. SAGE,
 Official Candidates for St. Michael's Ward.

THIRTEEN TUESDAYS AT ST. MICHAEL'S

The devotion of the thirteen Tuesdays in honor of St. Anthony of Padua, commenced on last Tuesday, and will continue every Tuesday until the thirteenth of June, the Feast of St. Anthony.

Holy Mass will be celebrated at 7, 7.30 and 8 o'clock each Tuesday morning, while the afternoon service will start at a quarter to four, and that in the evening at eight o'clock.

A beautiful shrine to St. Anthony has been erected in the Sanctuary and an urn destined to receive the written requests for favours and blessings is to be found at the shrine. These requests are read and prayed for each Tuesday. Preparations have been made to accommodate the very large attendance expected each week at St. Michael's Church.

HEALTH

NO LONGER YOUNG

"Man does not die; he kills himself," said Seneca, the Roman philosopher, who apparently had observed that life is frequently cut short by faulty habits of living. Age is not a simple counting of birthdays passed. Some are physically old at forty; others are comparatively young at sixty. We have the records of many men and women who have been at their best, physically and mentally, after they had passed into the period of life which is commonly regarded as old. Heredity plays a definite part in length of life. Most of those who attain to long lives can boast of a list of ancestors who attained to a good age. Nevertheless, ancestry is not enough, for the heredity factor can be offset by bad habits and length of days can be attained by many through good habits in spite of a poor ancestry as regards long living.

Moderation is apparently the most important aspect to be considered. Plenty of rest, moderation in food and drink, reasonable physical and mental activity, together with a fair share of time spent in the open air—this is the prescription which would be written for those who wish to live long and enjoy good health while they live.

As we grow older, there is a decrease in physical activity. Less food is required, and, as the body begins to lose some of its vigor, it has not the old reserve to deal with indiscretions in diet which formerly caused no inconvenience. It was Sam Weller's father who remarked that "wisdom and wisdom go together." The wisdom which he credited to older persons is not displayed by their increasing girth; this indicates rather a lack of wisdom in choice of diet.

The older person requires a balanced diet just as much as does the growing child or the young adult. It is well to make up this diet from the simpler and more easily digested foods, and to eat smaller amounts of all foods. Sweets should be cut down as they are often not readily digested and are then responsible for the formation of gas.

It is not intended to suggest that the older person should become a food crank and start to think that this or that food disagrees with him. However, personal experience is not to be disregarded, and when such experience shows that some foods are not readily digested, it is well to try if leaving them out of the diet will prevent the trouble.

It should be remembered that all foods require a thorough chewing before swallowing. This applies even to the well-cooked, easily swallowed cereal. Another important point is that fresh vegetables are essential in the diet. In later years, fruits are usually best taken when baked or stewed.

To the Electors of Montreal

Dr. ANATOLE PLANTE

In answer to numerous requests, I have accepted to be a candidate to the mayoralty of Montreal.

To be judged worthy of occupying the highest post in the administration of this metropolis, is indeed a very great honor. But, at the present time, this honor carries with it a particularly heavy burden.

The finances of Montreal are indeed in a most critical condition. The whole Dominion is justly alarmed at this dangerous situation. And you expect from me on this point a definite pronouncement.

I stand for the complete autonomy of Montreal: the metropolis of Canada should be allowed to govern itself without outside interference. But to-day the City is facing the greatest crisis in its history: the burden of taxes has become unbearable; our income has been reduced and the expenditure for unemployment relief is increasing. Montreal must be enabled to discharge all its obligations, help its unemployed, and workmen, and assist the landlords whose rents are not being paid. In order to carry on this program, the City needs the co-operation of the banks, of the financiers and of the governments, and a satisfactory understanding with them must be brought about.

It is evident that certain reforms are urgent and that drastic measures must be taken without delay. I will ask for and I feel reasonably sure that I shall obtain the powers which will enable me to undertake these measures and to achieve these reforms.

I have received the assurance that, in this task, I may rely on the whole-hearted co-operation of the Chamber of Commerce, the Board of Trade, the landlords and the different business and labor organizations of the city.

We must find the means of securing the necessary income for the operation of the present municipal services. It is imperative that the City honor its obligations to its own unemployed, while respecting at the same time the evident rights of the taxpayers.

As a physician I have had the privilege of being admitted to the homes of a great many workmen and unemployed. I know the deplorable condition to which the present crisis has reduced them. If elected I shall do everything in my power to remedy this unacceptable situation.

During this short pre-election period we must not lose time and energy in futile class disputes or clashes of individual opinions. I am the man of no particular group, of no particular class. I appeal to all those who, irrespective of party, race or class, wish to send to the City Hall a sound business administration.

This is not the first time that I have been called to public service. Since 1927 I have the honor of representing the Mercier division in the Provincial Parliament.

I have consistently supported, throughout my public life, the cause of women's suffrage and I feel confident that the women-electors of Montreal shall not be unmindful of the sacrifices which I have made repeatedly in order to further this cause.

At the time of the World War, I answered my country's call and served to the best of my ability.

With the same sentiment of honor and duty I accept to-day, in this emergency, to serve my City.

In the Army as well as in politics and my profession, I have already, at the age of forty-one, had a long career of public service, during which I have subordinated personal interest to the interest of the community. It is not therefore without pride that I say to you: "Compare my record to the record of my opponents and, on voting day, select in all freedom the candidate whose past carries the greatest guarantees of loyalty, honesty and public spirit."

I therefore have the honor of soliciting your support and your vote. I trust that on April the 9th you will grant me the large majority which I need to carry on the arduous task which the next mayor of Montreal will have to face.

In return, I promise to place my whole-hearted energy in overcoming the difficulties of the hour and in building up for you, my co-citizens, a strong, honest and respected administration.

LUKE CALLAGHAN MEMORIAL SCHOOL NOTES

Dental Health
Rev. Brother Patrick, Director of the Luke Callaghan Memorial School, recently launched a Dental Health Campaign for the benefit of the pupils of the school.

While it is usually found that school children's teeth are in very good condition, the reverse has been true of the last few years of the depression, many families having been unable to afford professional services from private dentists.

Out of 600 pupils of the school who were examined, 87% required dental service of some type, the cases varying from mild defects to ones of such severity as to endanger both mental and physical health.

An appeal to the dentists of the North-end by Brother Patrick to render their services free of charge received a very gratifying response, many of the dentists promising to take care of three to four cases each month until the end of the campaign in the month of June.

This response is highly indicative of the spirit of public welfare that distinguishes the character of the dental profession, members of which are giving their services, time and materials in an endeavour to safeguard the health of school children.

There are 150 pupils who are receiving the dental care without any charge, another ninety boys are being treated in various dental clinics, and the remaining 350 have definitely promised to attend private dentists.

This campaign is the first of its kind to be inaugurated in any of the English-speaking Catholic schools of Montreal, and has secured both the interest of parents and dentists. The following is a list of some of the dentists who have contributed their services:

Annual Dinner

The success of the First Annual Dinner to be held by the St. Michael's Athletic Club of the Luke Callaghan Memorial School on the evening of April 4th, in the School Auditorium, is well-assured, due in great part to the unceasing efforts of Rev. Brother Borromeo, executive organizer, Jos. T. McCarthy, president, and Charles Cornell, secretary-treasurer and assistant-organizer.

Formed only three months ago, through the medium of its various activities, the club has forged ahead constantly at an exceedingly rapid pace, by reason of the various activities which it has sponsored, such as

Cream Of Britain's Fliers May Enter Long Distance Race

Melbourne and the State of Victoria, in Australia, are, like Toronto, both celebrating their centennials this year, and one of the features of the celebrations is an air race from England to Australia. It will be the longest and most spectacular air race in history, and the prize is $50,000. In flying from Britain to Melbourne, a distance of 13,000 miles, the contestants will cross four continents and must maintain a speed of 180 to 200 miles per hour. The race will begin about October 30, but the entry list closes on June 1st. Entrants must have flown solo for more than one hundred hours to be eligible. Above are some of the fliers who may participate. Top, left to right: Capt. J. C. Fitzmaurice, Flight Lieut. Atcherley; Charles W. A. Scott, who last year broke the England-Australia record; and Sir Alan Cobham, one of England's most famous aviators. Lower right is Captain Hope, one of Britain's leading racing airmen. Lower left, Mr. and Mrs. James Mollison, holders of many long distance records, who have definitely entered the race.

Jill: "My idea of a good husband is a man who can raise the dough in the hour of knead."

Saskatoon Sports a Tenor, a Joker and a Real Good Mocker

As a Toronto sports columnist once remarked: Saskatoon can certainly boast a well-balanced hockey team in the Quakers, what with a jolly joker, a mocker and a useful tenor on board.

The Quakers have been touring Europe, and very successfully, since early in January. Someone sent said scribe a translation of an article which appeared in a Berlin newspaper when the Quakers visited Germany.

Saskatoon followers of the lads who reached the Allan Cup finals a year ago, and recently won the so-called world's amateur championship in the Milan tourney, will probably be surprised to find just what a good team they really have.

Many friends of the School Club will be in attendance at the annual dinner, Rev. Francis J. Singleton, pastor, honorary president of the School Club; Rev. Brother Patrick, director of the Luke Callaghan Memorial School; Rev. John Britt, of St. Michael's Church; Rev. William Byrd, chaplain of the School Club; J. A. Mercer, K.C., M.P. for Laurier-Outremont, and patron of the School Club; R. C. Cornell; Michael Kavanagh, president of St. Michael's A.A.; T. J. Dube, president of the St. Michael's Conference of the St. Vincent de Paul Society; W. E. Carragher, of St. Michael's A.A.; Col. John Long, Thomas Cuddihy, director of Studies of the Catholic School Commission; Alderman Owen J. Callary, Outremont; Paul Haynes and Howie Morenz, Montreal hockey players; Marty Barry, of the Boston Bruins Club; Fred E. Neville, manager of the Victorias; Rev. Brothers Paul O'Keefe, Anthony, Joseph, Ireneus, Austin, Rogers; and Messrs. Raymond Altinus and Luke MacDougall.

Hockey—Senior Division Award
Due to the lateness of the season, and the closing of the Lovola College Stadium the awarding of the Jos. Mercier Hockey Trophy was decided by a vote at a special meeting of the executive and representative committees, it was unanimously decided that the Ninth Year, under the captainship of Gerald Ambrose, were the winners of the School Trophy in the 1933-34 hockey season of the Senior Division of the House League.

Thanks to Ladies
Arrangements for the annual dinner of the St. Michael's School Athletic Club to be held in the School Auditorium of the Luke Callaghan Memorial School on April 4th have been greatly forwarded through the unceasing efforts of Mrs. Mulvanie, convener, and Mrs. Wright, Mrs. McCready, Mrs. Pearson, Mrs. J. Quinn, Mrs. H. MacDonald, Mrs. J. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Powers, Mrs. H. Lacroix, Mrs. Sullivan, Mrs. Chevrier, Mrs. Leahy and Misses Turner and E. Foley, all of Outremont and the North-

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LESSON-SERMON
The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, April 1, is "Reality."
The Golden Text is: (Lamentations 5:19) "Thou, O Lord, remainst forever: thy throne from generation to generation."
The following passages are selected from among those comprised in the Lesson-Sermon to be read from the Bible and from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy:
"And God is able to make all grace abound toward you: that ye, always having all sufficiency in all things, may abound to every good work." (II Corinthians 9:8).
"If sin, sickness, and death were understood as nothingness, they would disappear. As vapor melts before the sun, so evil would vanish before the reality of good. How important then to choose good as the reality." (Science and Health page 480).
Mother love has wrecked many a life.

The Debate

The 15th Annual Tenth vs Eleventh Year Debate for the Chas. P. Tucker Cup, took place on Tuesday afternoon, last. The subject for debate this year was "Resolved That Lotteries, The Proceeds of Which Are to be Used for Charitable Purposes, Be Legalized in Canada."

Upholding the affirmative side were Jack Tritt, Marjorie Evans, Cyril Wellington and Rita Brown, representatives of Grade Ten. For the Negative side, were Eileen Kingsley, Ralph Moore, Annette Kahn, and Isadore Gottheil, substituting for Noreen Patterson, the representatives of Grade Eleven. Presiding in the chair was the president of the Students' Council, Pearl Garmaise.

The judges, who so kindly and graciously gave their time for the contest were Mrs. Hilliard Norris, B.A., Mr. W. J. Messenger, M.A., and Mr. Harold W. Smith. Mrs. Norris, as chairman of the judges, gave the decision. The upholders of the negative side were the victors, who last year won as Tenth year. The cup was presented to Annette Kahn, the leader of the negative, and also a separate cup to each of the members of the team.

Principal's Dance

Friday, April 13th, has been definitely set aside for the annual Principal's Dance, given by Mr. Walsh and taken care of by our "Students' Council." The dance will be absolutely free. Those who go do not even have to subscribe for another school magazine as was suggested. The tickets will be given to all those who have in any way helped our school this term. There will be a limited number of these, as usual, and it will be left to the discretion of Mr. Walsh to invite the pupils he thinks deserving of tickets. Any tickets left over after that will be given to those who have played smaller parts in our school activities.

Badminton

The teachers enjoyed the game against the pupils so much in January that they challenged them to a game in which the teachers played with the girls. Miss Cameron Hay and Ruby Rabinovitch came out on top with Miss Amos and Annette Kahn as runners-up, though the latter did not go down without a battle.

After the hard games the girls were entertained by the teachers in the Board Room. All enjoyed the afternoon very much and hope that next year the girls will be as fortunate as they.

Outremont Hockey League Closes Successful Season

Our picture shows the executive of the Outremont Hockey League which has just closed a highly successful 1933-34 season. They are: Henry W. Sylvester, president; Roger Lacoste, founder; J. Varboncoeur, vice-pres.; O. Cardinal, vice-pres.; K. Lyons, M. Delorme and J. Normandin, secretary-treasurer.

Gym Exhibition

After a lapse of several years the annual Boys' and Girls' Gym Exhibition was held this season on Thursday evening, March 22nd, before an enthusiastic assembly of parents and pupils.

Credit should be given to Miss Howard and Mr. Brennan for turning out a demonstration of this calibre, as the various groups went through their difficult tasks with hardly a flaw, and it is hoped that next year an affair of this kind will again be staged with more pupils participating.

Spring Training

With the temperature close to zero and with a foot of snow on the ground, Strathcona ushered in the

Prize Essay Contest For Boys And Girls

In connection with the forthcoming production of "Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves," by the Y.M.H.A. Junior Dramatic Group, a prize essay contest has been arranged for boys and girls between the ages of ten and fifteen years, the conditions of which are as follows:

Subject: "Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves."
Words: 300-1000.
Prize: A copy of "The Arabian Nights" with illustrations; to first boy and first girl.

Closing date: March 31, 1934.
Send essays to Editor of Examiner-Courier, 5736 Park Ave.
Results to be announced at performance of "Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves" on April 2, 3, 4, at Y.M.H.A., 265 Mount Royal West.
Come on, boys and girls! Contest closes tomorrow. Prize essays will be published complete in later issues of the Examiner-Courier. It may be your first step in a literary career! So—Come on, boys and girls!

North Branch "Y" Notes

The Murray Boys' Tournament, held at the Sun Life Building on Saturday, attracted seven entries from the North Branch Boys' Badminton Club. These included Brian Haggerty, Tommie Wilkinson, Harold Heulett, Alan Lambert, Geo. Young, Victor Griffiths and Cliff McClay.

Victor Griffiths defeated Cliff McClay in one of the semi-finals, 15-7, 9-15, 15-1, while in the other, Tommie Wilkinson defeated Brian Haggerty, 15-2, 15-3.

In the finals Tommie Wilkinson defeated Victor Griffiths, 15-11, 15-9.

Learn To Swim

North Branch "Y" has for years conducted a free Learn to Swim Campaign for school boys, and this year will be no exception. Last year 365 boys registered for the ten free lesson periods, and Henry Peacock, the "Y" physical director, and his volunteer swimming instruction corps, had a busy time during the spring months. These 365 boys came not only from the schools in the immediate vicinity of the "Y" but also from Barclay, Earl Grey, Delormier and Wm. Dawson.

In this "every person a swimmer" emphasis this spring, Mr. Peacock has announced that while special attention will be given to those who cannot swim, considerable time will be given also to coaching boys who can swim to improve their style. This will call for a closer supervision of the swimmers, and to that end more volunteer coaches than usual are being recruited for this community service.

Swimming Tests

Swimming has become a major activity at North Branch "Y" during the past few weeks, and every member is being encouraged to pass as many of the Y.M.C.A. graded tests as possible. The following have passed the Beginners' Test: Jack Croucher, Kenneth Smith and Angus MacKinnon. The Advanced Beginners' Test has been taken by Lorne Baker, Elwood Baupit, Jack Callanan, Joshua Deuel, Richard Lilly, Gordon Perkins, Russell Thompson, Ernest Delaney, Norman Hair, Henry Hudson, Haig Jackson, Stanley MacLean, James Rinder, Herbert Whiston, Peter McGuire, and Bill Forrest.

The Junior Swimmer Tests are now being attempted by Herbert Whiston, baseball season as Room 40 defeated their ancient rivals, Room 42, by the score of 13-11.

The game was close throughout, but the superior hurling of Hart turned the contest for the winners.

This was an exhibition tilt, with a league probably starting after the holidays.

Employer (to new office boy): "Has the cashier told you what you have to do in the afternoon?"
Policeman: "As soon as I saw you come around the bend I said to myself, 'Forty-five, at least!'"
New Boy: "Yes, sir; I was to wake him up when I saw you coming."
Woman driver: "How dare you? It's this hat that makes me look so old."
