HUGHES DEFENDS ALL MONEY SPENT ON THE MILITIA

SAYS HARD TIMES ARE NOT CAUSED BY WAR—GENERAL HAMILTON SPEAKS.

Farnham, Quebec., June 20—"I never apologized for one dollar spent on the militia of Canada or for our young men," declared Col. the Hon. Sam Hughes, Minister of Militia and Defence, here this afternoon before a group of delegates of the Boards of Trade of the Eastern Townships, who had tendered the Minister and General Sir Ian Hamilton, with their respective staffs, a public banquet. Colonel Hughes stated that he could take the militiamen of Canada and compare them, man to man, mentally, morally and physically with any other men of the Dominion of Canada, and the militiamen would come out on top.

Recent utterances by certain public men that hard times were caused by war came in for some more strong criticism at the hands of the Minister, who said:

"It is absolute nonsense to state that hard times are caused by war. We all know that war is engineered by them and the poor soldier has to step in and do the work. But history proves that the most brilliant periods in the life of a nation follow those of war. The Augustan age was the most glorious in the history of Rome. The Renaissance in France followed a period of fierce strife and the Elizabethan age in England outshone any other in the history of England. When a nation loses its zest for the defence of its land then it has reached a low stage and Canadians should bear that in mind."

Sir Ian Hamilton had the unique honor of having his military work recognized by a civil gathering, who cheered him heartily as he addressed them in his brief soldierly manner. He uttered a word of warning to the business men of Canada in their desire to heap up dollars, and he stated that they should not forget what Empire meant.

NEW ENGLAND WEATHER.

Washington, D. C., June 20—Forecast—Northern New England: Showers Saturday; warmer in Maine; Saturday probably fair; light to moderate variable winds.

DR. ROCHE COMING HOME.

London, June 20.—The Hon. Dr. Roche, Canadian Minister of the Interior, and his daughter, sailed for home by the Victorian today.

During his stay in England, Dr. Roche has inspected most of the emigration offices, and contemplates adding one or two to their number.

BARBARA II. FINISHES RACE FROM BERMUDA

New York, June 20—The motor boat Barbara II. crossed the finish line off Bay Ridge, Brooklyn, at 9.24 o'clock this evening, the first to finish of the entrants in the race from Bermuda. The Barbara II. and Tocsam started at 6.27 p.m., June 17. The Dream, winner of the Philadelphia-Bermuda race, left at 4.30 p.m., on June 17.

Because of the rating of the boats the Barbara II., in order to win the return race, was under the necessity of reaching here 11 hours ahead of the Tocsam. The latter had not been sighted at midnight tonight. She must arrive before 8.24 a.m. tomorrow in order to better the Barbara II.'s time.

BODY OF INFANT FOUND BURNED

INQUEST AT WELLAND, ONT., INDICATES SHOCKING CRIMINAL DEED

Welland, Ont., June 20—This afternoon Coroner Colbeck held the adjourned inquest upon the body of the infant found burned on the farm of Robert Nugent here.

At the former inquest Doctors Howell and Davis, who performed the post-mortem, gave evidence that the child had been born alive. Detective Miller, of Toronto, has been working on the case and Nugent was placed under arrest under the nominal charge of vagrancy. It depended on the result of the inquest what final charge would be placed against him.

The baby was the illigitimate child of Lizzie Breiden, a young girl who came here about a year ago and was employed by Robert Nugent, who is charged with being the father of the baby.

The evidence today of the mother of the baby contradicted the former evidence in some respects and showed that the child was alive when born. It had been taken away from her shortly after birth, and she had never seen it again. Medical evidence showed that the baby was fully developed and had died from lack of medical or other proper attention.

Nugent is still under arrest, and the girl is under surveillance awaiting the Coroner's decision as to what further action will be taken.

INSPECT FARNHAM CAMP OF CAVALRY

GEN. HAMILTON AND COL. HUGHES SEE ALL KINDS OF MILITARY WORK.

Farnham, Que., June 20—Farnham camp had the first field turnout of its annual training under distinguished auspices today, when General Sir Ian Hamilton, inspector general of the overseas forces; Col. The Hon. Sam Hughers, Minister of Militia and Defence, and Brig. Gen. Ellison, with staff, saw the cavalrymen carry out all phases of military work under the chief command of Lieut. Col. Smart of Montreal.

The minister's party arrived at the camp at 10 o'clock, and were met by Col. Smart, when the cavalry, under the command of Lieut. Col. Morrill, were formed up for inspection. Their formation from the right was as follows, the cavalry being in brigade mass: The Sixth Hussars, Seventeenth Hussars, the Thirteenth Dragoons and the Twenty-sixth Dragoons. Besides the cavalry, there were sections of the Canadian Army Service Corps, the cavalry field ambulance and a section of the Canadian Army Veterinary Corps.

Immediately after the inspection, the cavalry formed in mass and went past the inspection party in column of route, and went to their respective positions to take part in tactical manoeuvres.

One regrettable incident marked the sham fight. Major Charles McLean, of the Thirteenth Dragoons, well known horseman and Brockville millionaire, in passing through a gap was fired upon by a soldier in the blue force at close range. He was painfully but not seriously injured.

Sir Ian Hamilton, Col. Hughes and party then left for London by special train.

MOUNT MCKINLEY IS CONQUERED BY THE STUCK PARTY

HIGHEST POINT ON CONTINENT REACHED JUNE 7, WITHOUT A MISHAP.

Seattle, Wn., June 20.—Archdeacon Hudson Stuck, the Episcopal missionary, who set out from Fairbanks, Alaska, several months ago to climb Mount McKinley, reached the summit of the highest peak of the great mountain June 7, according to a private cable despatch received here today.

The message, which was sent by Archdeacon Stuck from Fairbanks, said:

REACH SUMMIT JUNE 7.

"Expedition successful. Accomplished first complete ascent of Mount McKinley June 7. H. P. Karstens, R. G. Tatum, Walter Harper and I reached top of south (the highest of all peaks) on a clear day when it was possible to read all the angles of the mountain and other points and make certain that the peak we had conquered was the highest of all.

"We successfully carried a mercurial barometer to the top and made complete readings and observations which, with simultaneous readings at Gibben, should permit close approximation of the true altitude when proper corrections are applied. Water boiled at 174.9 degrees. The present estimate of the summit's height is upwards of 20,500 feet.

"We were able to read angles on all prominent points. With field glasses we clearly saw the flag pole erected in 1910 by the Thomas Lloyd expedition on the north peak (the lower of the two main peaks).

"After completing observations on the summit we hoisted the American flag on the upper basin, erected a six foot cross and said 'Te Deum' on the highest point of North America.

"The northeast ridge is the only possible approach to the summit. Due to the violent earthquakes of last July the higher ridges were terribly shattered and this added largely to the danger, difficulty and labor of the ascent.

"We spent three weeks in continuous bad weather, hewing a passage three miles long through this side. This was the chief cause of delay as we made rapid progress at all other stages of the journey.

"The chief credit for our success is due to Karsten's good judgment, resourcefulness and caution. We did not have a single mishap."

TWO GIRLS DROWN WHILE MEN SWIM TO SAFETY

Banff, Alb., June 20—Eva Ballens and Lily Sutherland, each 25 years of age, employed at the Ban: Springs Hotel, were drowned late yesterday afternoon when a raft on which they were standing careened over Spray Falls. The two girls and five male employes of the hotel were standing on the raft, which was tied to the embankment at the confluence of the Bow and Spray rivers. The fastenings broke and the raft rushed out into the swirling waters of midstream. Four of the men, whose names cannot be learned, sprang overboard and swam for shore, leaving the women to their fate. The fifth man made frantic efforts to run the raft to safety but failed. He was later rescued in an exhausted condition.

EARLY TO BED ADVOCATE IS DEAD, AGED 105 YEARS

Utica, N. Y., June 20—John Collins, aged 105 years, is dead at his home in East Schuyler, Herkimer county. He was born in Ireland in 1808. He attributed his advanced years to his early to bed policy and abstinence from the use of tobacco and alcoholic drinks.

SUFFRAGETTE ESCAPES IN MALE DRESS

OUT ON LICENSE AFTER HUNGER STRIKE, SHE ESCAPES GUARD.

London, June 20—Miss Lillian Lenton, the militant suffragette, who was convicted of having started the fire in the Kew Tea Garden pavilion and who has given the police much trouble, has escaped in man's clothes from the house where she was living in Leeds, pending the expiration of her license.

BROKE HER LICENSE.

Miss Lenton was released from jail in March because of illness caused by a hunger strike. She broke her license and was not heard of again till June 10, when she was arrested at Doncaster under dramatic circumstances.

A woman named Winship was charged with breaking into Westfield House at Doncaster with the intent to burn it. A witness for the defence, who called herself Mary Dennis, confessed that she, and not the Winship woman, was guilty.

She proved to be Miss Lenton, for whom the police had been searching. The Winship woman was released and Miss Lenton sent back to jail.

Miss Lenton immediately started another hunger strike, and got out on license a few days ago. She was placed in a house at Leeds until she had sufficiently recovered to be returned to jail, and police guarded the house. She again eluded them and got away yesterday.

Arson Squad Busy.

A large unoccupied mansion at Solihull, near Birmingham, was set fire to and gutted by an "arson squad" of militant suffragettes today. A number of suffragette placards was found in the vicinity. One of them demanded the release of the woman suffering imprisonment for the cause. A second bore the words: "Votes for Women."

Another was addressed to Sir Walter Phillimore, the judge who three days ago sentenced six of the suffragette leaders to imprisonment in London for conspiracy. It read: "Judge not, that ye be not judged."

The perpetrators of the outrage were not discovered. The loss is estimated at $15,000.

The Weather

Toronto, June 20.—Showers have occurred today in many parts of Ontario and thunderstorms have been experienced in counties contiguous to Lake Erie. SHERBROOKE BOMB MURDER IS BAFFLING

ONLY CLUE RESTS MOSTLY ON RUMOR, POLICE STILL HOPEFUL.

Sherbrooke, Que., June 20.—At the end of three days following the tragic death of Mrs. A. O. Bilodeau in this city, nothing has transpired sufficient to justify the authorities in arresting any person as the possible sender of the bomb, the opening of which caused the fatality.

This, however, does not indicate that no one is suspected nor that there is no clue. Chief McCaskill, since his arrival yesterday, has pretty well covered the town and as a result of many conferences and inquiries is at work upon a line of investigation which may lead to an arrest.

CLUE VERY SLENDER.

The difficulty in regard to this is that there is at present very little more than a presumptive clue, which for the most part consists of hearsay and suspicion based upon opinion and rumor, all of which demand some link to connect the person and the deed. The evidence which may constitute that link is rather slender, but it may be broadened out by dint of expert knowledge and persistent effort.

The substance of which the explosive was composed is one important point upon which research is proceeding. It has already been ascertained that the package did not contain nitro-glycerine, which is the most common preparation used for such criminal purposes, but that there were two other chemicals of equally dangerous nature used. A visit paid to Capelton, where there is an explosive plant owned by Mr. George M. Howard, has convinced the detectives that the explosive material was not obtained there. The remnants of the material that were found in the body of the victim have been placed in the hands of Dr. Pariseault, health inspector for the province, to be analyzed, but it is not expected that the result of that analysis will be given before Monday night.

While Chief McCaskill believes his presumptive suspicions are well worth following up, he admits the difficulty of establishing the connecting link and was not in any way disposed to admit that an arrest was imminent, though he hopes that it will be effected ultimately.

UNWRITTEN LAW SHIELDS MURDERER OF BROTHER

London, June 20.—The "unwritten law" has made its appearance in an English court, and what is more, has won.

The case was that of John Price, who killed his brother Nathaniel. The latter had been very brutal in his treatment of his aged father and mother, and especially brutal in his conduct toward his adopted sister. On the day of the killing this sister had left the house to escape Nathaniel, whereupon John went to a shed, got a gun and shot his brother. In court he made this statement:

"I shot at him; he fell and struggled, and then I shot him again. Then I went into the garden, but before going indoors I thought I would go again and see if he was dead. He was not, so I shot him again. I went in and told mother I had shot him."

Money for the defence of the slayer was provided by a public subscription. After the evidence was submitted the judge urged a conviction on the ground that the slayer had no right to take the law into his own hands. The jury was out only a few minutes, and its verdict of acquittal was greeted with cheers from the crowd in the court room.

MANIAC RUNS AMUCK, SHOOTS UP A SCHOOL

THREE CHILDREN DEAD, SIX INCLUDING TEACHER ARE MORTALLY HURT.

Bremen, German, June 20—Three school children are dead, five others and a teacher are perhaps mortally and fourteen additional children and two men are more or less seriously wounded as the result of a madman with automatic pistols running amuck in a Catholic school here today.

TEACHER A MURDERER.

The murderer is a young teacher named Schmidt, who has been without employment for some months. Entering the school corridor this morning Schmidt, without warning, fired upon and wounded the woman teacher. Then with an automatic pistol in each hand, he entered the class room where the little girls were at their studies and opened fire upon them. There was a wild panic, during which one girl fell down the stairs and broke her neck. The lunatic then fired into the court yard, where the boys were gathering, bullets striking several of them.

One stray bullet from the madman's weapons wounded a workman in an adjoining building. The janitor of the school attacked Schmidt and was shot through the chin, and a teacher who grappled with the murderer received bullets in the breast and abdomen.

ONE ALDERMAN TO EACH WARD LAVIGEUR PLAN

PROPOSAL TO REDUCE THE SIZE OF COUNCIL WILL BE MOVED NEXE WEEK.

At a meeting of the City Council held last evening, Ald. Lavigueur gave an important notice of motion to the effect that at the next meeting of the Council he would move that the number of representatives for each ward be reduced to one alderman instead of two, and that the city charter be amended in consequence.

PRO-MAYOR PRESIDES.

Pro-Mayor Lantier presided in the absence of Mayor Drouin and those present were Aldermen Cannon, Lavigueur, Dussault, Lockwell, Morin, Gauvin, Trudel, Berube, Martin, Collier, Dinan, Fiset, Madden, Emond, and Plamondon.

An invitation from the St. Jean Baptiste Society of Limoilou to attend the procession of that Society on Sunday next, was accepted.

A letter was received from Hon. L. A. Taschereau, thanking the Council for having appointed him as consulting city attorney.

Another letter, from Mr. W. Thompson, manager of the Quebec and Levis Ferry Company, requesting leave to moor one of their boats at No. 1 pontoon, Champlain market, to land their passengers from the Island of Orleans, was referred to the Ferry Committee.

L'ACTION SOCIALE.

In another column of this issue will be found a letter from the editor of L'Action Sociale accusing us of "abuse and falsification" of the text of an article which appeared in that journal with reference to the relations between the French Catholics and the Irish.

If we have not taken up the matter before, it is because we considered the trivial hair-splitting of L'Action Sociale as beneath contempt.

In his letter Mr. Dorion, the editor of L'Action Sociale, says: "In your issue of the 18th instant, under the caption, "Wolfe Memorial Church Agitation Continues," you made a quotation of one paragraph of our article, "Le Wolfe Memorial," of Tuesday, the 17th. In that quotation you distorted our own text by changing two words in it, so giving to said paragraph a general sense and applying our remarks, (which were intended to designate only some Irishmen), to the Irish at large."

The following is the translation which we then gave of the article which appeared in L'Action Sociale: —

"This is not the first time," it (L'Action Sociale), says, "that we have seen in our midst, the Irish defaulting from the Catholics in favor of the Protestants. Community of language has already produced this sad anomaly here in more than one instance, and in the Province of Ontario our compatriots have frequently had occasion to see the sons of Green Erin to arm themselves against them with the Orange fist. We are therefore not unduly surprised at the "amiability" of this Irish correspondent. He is continuing a tradition."

To sum up, the whole agitation of L'Action Sociale is that we should have used the word "Irishmen" instead of the words, "the Irish." Is it with such paltry quibbling as this that it hopes to escape the consequences of its assertion of the day before? We hold no brief to speak for the Irish but if L'Action Sociale considers that the charge which it makes in that paragraph would not be resented by the Irish "generally," then we hold that it is no judge either of human nature as a whole or of the spirit and temper of the Irish race in particular. If it is with such explanations as these that it thinks to undo the effect of the contentious words which it uttered, we opine that it would have been better to leave the matter in statu quo.

Take the last words of the above quoted paragraph from L'Action Sociale, which says: "He is continuing a tradition." Those words, to our way of thinking at least, prove that the attack of that journal was intended as "in a general sense." If "Irish Catholic" was continuing a "tradition," how could it be other than general? Does not L'Action Sociale condemn itself out of its own mouth?

As to "abuse and falsification" we would remind L'Action Sociale that it might be better to take the beam out of its own eye before making accusations of this kind. We would recall to it the fact that in the first article which it wrote upon the subject of the proposed Wolfe Memorial Church it suggested that Canon Scott was seeking to affront the French-Canadian Catholics, while a day or two afterwards it asserted that it had never thought anything of the kind.

Again, in its opening article it contrived to create the impression that the site offered for the memorial church was within the Battlefields Park, thus giving many people an entirely erroneous impression and attracting to the proposal much criticism which was absolutely misdirected and unjustifiable. Yet it was perfectly obvious at the first glance at Canon Scott's first letter that the site in question was private property.

We do not intend to discuss the merits of Canon Scott's proposal in this article. But we do say that if the English Protestants desire to put up a church on their own private property, then that is their affair and theirs alone, and no intimidation or intolerance on the part of L'Action Sociale will count as much as a drop in the bucket with them. It is possible that L'Action Sociale may entertain the idea that they are existing here on sufferance and that they must consult its sweet will whenever they wish to do anything. If that is so, then we should advise L'Action Sociale to disabuse itself of this idea. This is a free country and any one race or creed is as much entitled to its "place in the sun" as any other.

KNOCKING CANADA

It is now said that the sensational decline in C. P. R. stock which occurred recently was the result of a manoeuvre of Wall Street speculators who wished to depress the stock so that they might buy it at bargain prices. Circumstances favored their raid for the time being, but the effect was soon spent and the real merits of the stock are bringing it back to its proper level.

The bear movement against C. P. R. has been in process for some time. The speculators hardly dared to attack any of the other leading stocks on the New York market as these were sure to be taken care of by the Morgan, Rockefeller and other interests. So they selected Canadian Pacific as their victim. Circulars were widely distributed impugning the financial condition of Canada and making the most of the fact that the balance of her trade has been against her—as if that were any criterion of the prosperity of this country. The old idea was that a country became richer by so much as its exports exceeded its imports on the assumption that the difference was paid in gold. In reality but a very small proportion of the trade balance for or against a country is paid over in gold; it finds its way around by a circuit of exchanges between various countries. The real criterion of a country's prosperity is the extent of its ability to buy, so that an apparently adverse balance of trade may be a favorable symptom rather than the reverse.

However that may be, the Wall Street clique started to knock Canada. Then when the requisite impression seemed to be produced and when the money market in Europe seemed to be exceptionally tight, a great volume of borrowed securities was dumped on the market. This was done at the precise hour in the day when it was most likely to weaken the London market and cause a flood of selling orders from Great Britain and the continent. In the meantime the New Yorkers had sold short as far as they dared—that is to say, they had sold much more stock than they possessed in the hope of being able to buy at lower prices than they had sold for, and thus to clear a profit when they came to deliver.

The raid had some effect but not nearly as much as had been expected, the recovery was so rapid that the shorts could hardly have had time to cover to anything like the extent of their reckoning. They made something but far from what they would have done had everything worked out as they had designed.

In Canada the assault did not have as much effect as the true value of the stock is well understood in this country and it is held here more for investment than for speculation. It would take much more than a fusillade from a few Wall Street buccaneers to convince any well-informed Canadian that C. P. R. stock is worth anything less than the figure which it is accustomed to command.

ALEXANDRA DAY.

Half a century is gone since Tennyson sang his lyric, "Welcome To Alexandra" in honor of the present Queen Dowager of England, the widow of King Edward. At that time she was a Danish princess about to wed the then Prince of Wales. Now she is in her sixty-ninth year and the British Queen-Mother, and is encompassed with the affection of her people. They give notable proof of this every year on Rose Day, the 25th of June, which is her day, another name for it being Alexandra Day. And this year, in celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of her landing in England, they are planning to make it a day of high carnival with a display of roses so multitudinous and so widespread that it will surpass all previous commemorations.

There will be roses everywhere, with the Alexandra roses predominating. Elaborate preparations have been made for their distribution, especially in London. A vast number of houses in the capital will be almost rose-covered and a procession of hundreds of rose-decorated motor cars through the principal streets will be a feature of the festival. Queen Alexandra's intense interest in the hospitals is to be graciously remembered, several thousand ladies having volunteered to go to the chief public places and sell roses for the benefit of the hospitals. It is said that in London alone a sale of twenty millions is expected. And at least three hundred other cities and towns are arranging to do honor to the Dowager Queen with equal enthusiasm. It is altogether a very remarkable demonstration and she is worthy of it. Her way of living has been pure and straight; alike in her family, social and official conduct she has set a true example. And so this Alexandra festival is no hollow exhibition of reverence for royalty, but a hearty expression of popular affection, almost personal in its warmth for a woman who wears unwithered in the fiercest light the "white flower of a blameless life."

Comment of The Press

Prominent among the features with which it is proposed to mark the celebration of one hundreds years of peace between English-speaking people are those of an educational nature. The International Conference for the consideration of the commemoration of the century of peace state the educational features as follows: An organized endeavor should be made in British-American countries to promote by well considered methods, the growth of the feelings of mutual respect and goodwill, which already exist. This might include: (a) The endowment of chairs of British-American history, with special reference to the peaceful progress and relations of the two peoples, and based upon the principles of an interchange of professors, and the endowment of travelling scholarships to enable journalists and writers to visit the various English-speaking countries. (b) The awarding of prizes for essays and some other topics in all schools, colleges and universities. (c) The co-operation of the respective committees in the preparation of a history of the Century of Peace from which text books and school books in the several countries may be prepared or revised. (d) An annual peace-day celebration in the schools. Speeches, religious services, stopping work for five minutes and other features of the actual celebration would draw attention for the time being to the good-will existing between Great Britain and the United States, and monuments would do something to keep in mind the great fact of such a long period of peace, but a good educational campaign would do more than any other feature of the celebration to ensure the continuance of peace. Judging by recent utterances of public men in both countries, it is almost unthinkable that Britain and the United States would ever go to war, but among nations, as well as among individuals, the best of friends sometimes fall out. The sky is clear now, and an educational campaign growing out of the peace celebration would do much to dissipate any clouds that might form. It is the duty of Britain and the United States to lead in the the movement for world peace, and the friendly relations necessary to make that possible will be furthered by carrying out the suggestions made by the International Conference.

A "war lord" who has never waged war; an upholder of the divine right of kings who has devoted his life to his people; wilful, impetuous, a dabbler in art, music, science, yet the most German of Germans, the most thorough specialists of any people; fond of military display and personal pomp, yet in his home life simple and devoted to his family as any burgher; in some respects the most progressive of monarchs; in others thoroughly mediaeval—the German Emperor has been the most interesting of world figures for twenty-five years. Contradictory opinions of him proceed from his many-sided personality, his own contradictory traits, exaggerated by the fierce light that beats upon a throne. No monarch has been more severely criticized, but perhaps none has a firmer hold upon his people. He is so much a part of recent history that Price-Collier does not greatly exaggerate when he concludes that modern Germany is the Emperor. His determination that Germany shall not be crowded out of its "hard-won place in the sun" has led him into building a mighty navy and extending the army until rivals look fearfully upon him as the real menace to the peace of Europe. But this wholesome fear may prevent the necessity for using his mighty engine of war. Perhaps the perspective of history will be required to view him in his true proportions. But there can be no doubt that he has been a great leader, a masterful, vital personality who has left his impress on his country and his time.—Baltimore Sun.

CHAIR FOR STUDY OF TUBERCULOSIS

MR. J. A. RICHARD ENDOWS LAVAL UNIVERSITY TO AMOUNT OF $10,000.

Laval University has unanimously accepted the offer of Mr. J. Auguste Richard, president of the Fashion Craft Company and well known in local business circles, of $10,000 for the establishment at the French seat of learning of a chair of Phtisiotherapy. Dr. J. E. Dube, of Montreal, who for many years has been a close student of tuberculosis symptoms, has been appointed the first incumbent and he enters upon his duties immediately. Speaking of the founding of the newest chair at Laval, L'Union Medicale, an important French medical publication says:

"Thanks to Mr. Richard's generosity and broad mindedness, to his wise thought and supple mind which realized the importance and the necessity of a strong fight against the dire enemy, tuberculosis, a new start has been taken, by which its rapid growth may be checked and its terrible consequences warded off from many otherwise innocent victims, who, through lack of knowledge, or proper care, would be ravaged by this dread disease. The thanks of our city are and should be unanimously tendered to such men as this, who wisely and willingly endeavor to do their duty in this life, and withhold nothing that is in their power to aid in the building up, both morally, mentally and physically, of those who go side by side through the battle of life with them, towards the common goal.

"The donor in this case is known to many as a philanthropist of the highest standing, his name being connected with many charitable and beneficial organizations throughout Canada, whilst in Montreal he is best known as president of the Bruchesi Institute and governor of Notre Dame Hospital. He is known as an active, energetic, co-operator, whose level headed knowledge of business affairs renders his advice of the greatest value to his fellow-workers for the welfare of humanity.

"There is no doubt that a public dispensary such as that of the Institute Bruchesi, fills a very important want, as it is there that the doctor comes in contact with the sick, teaches them and gives them intelligent and assiduous care, and draws their attention to the best means to prevent contagion and the spreading of the disease, but this was not sufficient. It was necessary to place the seal of "officialism" on the teaching "against tuberculosis," so that it would become perpetual and give a real start to the fight which is being pursued everywhere else and which has already provoked here such beautiful devotion and such noble aspirations."

QUEEN OF ITALY IS STUDYING EYE DISEASES.

Rome, June 20—Queen Helena has taken up the study of eye diseases, and spends a few hours daily at the various clinicss. She has persuaded one of her ladies, Countess di Trinita, to take a course in nursing, to qualify her as assistant. The Queen has noticed that operation for eye diseases are most expensive, and thinks of opening a clinic for the poor like the late Duke Carl Theodore of Bavaria.

POSLAM IS THE RIGHT REMEDY FOR THE SKIN

Those who have once tried Poslam for the treatment of any skin disease appreciate its marvelously active healing power and the promptness with which it does its work.

They know that relief is immediate and all evidence of disease is quickly driven away; that pimples and minor blemishes are eradicated, inflammed and florid complexions cleared overnight.

More dependable than anything yet devised for the cure of surface troubles, Poslam will afford the greater benefits in the quickest time.

POSLAM SOAP is the soap of soaps for daily use, toilet and bath, as a means of improving color and texture of the skin and assuring its continued health. Soothes tender skin. Best for infants.

All druggists sell Poslam and Poslam Soap. For free samples, write to the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West 25th Streeet, New York City.

Men's Home-Spun Suits Priced on a One-Profit Basis

Let us tell you why we can sell Men's Clothing at the low prices which have made our Clothing Department famous.

We make all our own clothing, employing our own cutters and tailors in a large tailor shop right on our own premises. We buy all our own woolens direct from the Mills at the same prices paid by the largest clothing manufacturers.

Paquet Clothing has to show only one profit instead of three or four as is the case when you buy a suit that has been handled by manufacturer, jobber and retailer, each of whom must make his profit.

Just now we are emphasizing Homespun Suits for Summer. They are made of as good Homespuns as can be bougght, and they are tailored in first class fashion.

At $7.00 we can show you quite a nice suit. If you want something really A 1 you will pay no more for it here than $10.00

CLOSING DAY AT VICTORIA SCHOOL

420 PUPILS GATHERED TO SEE DISTRIBUTION OF PRIZES FOR YEAR.

The closing exercises for infant and elementary classes of Victoria School took place yesterday afternoon.

There were 420 young pupils congregated in the school hall. It was a splendid gathering of healthy, well-dressed and clean, bright children, who marched from their inspection classes in splendid order, and beaming with happiness to take part in the closing exercises and receive their prizes.

The Very Rev. Dean Williams, of the Cathedral of the Holy Trinity, presided and seated on the stage were the Rev. Dr. A. T. Love, minister of St. Andrew's Church, and members of the Protestant Committee of Public Instruction. Rev. Mr. Martin, of Chalmer's Church, Rev. Canon F. G. Scott, of St. Matthew's Church; Rev. Mr. Cobbledick, Methodist Church, Rev. Mr. Beverley, Sr., who is replacing his son, as rector of Trinity Church, during the latter's absence in Europe; Mr. J. E. Sutherland, General Inspector Protestant Schools, Lt.-Col. R. E. W. Turner, V.C., D.S.O., and Lt.-Col. W. J. Ray, members and Capt. F. C. Wurtele, secretary-treasurer of the Quebec Protestant School Board. Also Prof. J. A. Sangster, Principal of Victoria School; Miss Wynne, lady principal of girls' department, and teaching staff: Misses Agnes Buchannan, M. McLennon, M. J. Coombe, L. L. Tremaine, Elsie Amy, Ada M. Forrest, Francis Gillespie and Miss H. G. Wood.

Parents of the pupils were present in large numbers.

The Very Rev. Dean Williams made a few introductory remarks and opened with prayer, followed by Rev. Dr. Love, who congratulated the children on their healthy and happy appearance, and in the course of his remarks dwelt at some length on the great need of education, and expressed his deep regret that many of the parents withdrew their children at too young an age from school, and even before they were even fairly educated, which was a great injustice to the children.

Rev. Messrs. Martin, Cobbledick, and Canon Scott also delivered short addresses. The exercises opened by a piano solo by one of the pupils, Master D. Robinson. The distribution of prizes followed.

The Very Rev. Dean Williams distributed the prizes to the children as their names were called and they came forward smilingly to receive them.

Prize List.

FREE WATER 29 YEARS. REFUSE TO PAY NOW

Woodstock, Ont., June 20.—Several hundred employes of the Bain Wagon Company were idle today as the result of the shutting off of the water supply yesterday by the water and light commission to compel payment of a bill of about $1,200 for past due water rates, and the big factory is without fire protection. The company claim they are exempt from water rates under the old bonus to the Patterson Company, which later on became the Bain Wagon Company, the latter company now being part of the Murray Harris concern. No rates have been collected from the company in twenty-nine years. Over a year ago the commission put a meter in the factory and billed the company for the water used, but they refused to pay. The matter will be threshed out in the courts. Mr. John Bain, head of the Bain Company, is a member of the commission which shut off the supply.

SAY HE TRIED TO MURDER SICK MAN

A MONTREAL PAINTER TO ANSWER SERIOUS CHARGE IN COURT.

Montral, June 20—Charged with attempted murder, S. Radner, painter and paperhanger, who is alleged to have shot David Lessor, restaurant keeper, at his home, 987 St. Lawrence Boulevard, last Sunday afternoon, was brought before Judge Leet in the Arraignment Court today. After the evidence of Mr. Lessor, who was able to leave the General Hospital today, Radner was committed to stand trial at the September term of the Court of King's Bench. Voluntary statement was fixed for June 26.

Pale and dejected, Mr. Lessor mounted the stand and gave a graphic description of the shooting. Radner, he said, entered his house and placing a bull-dog revolver against his wife's head, ordered her to bring her husband, who was lying on a sick bed, or he would blow her brains out.

When Mr. Lessor heard the threats he rushed from the room and when he seized Radner by the arms he claims the latter fired his revolver three times. One of the bullets went wild, but two hit Mr. Lessor in the stomach. They were extracted by the surgeons of the General Hospital.

Maurice Tetrault and Lion L. Jacob, advocates, appeared for the accused. They wanted the charge reduced to one of wounding with the intention of doing bodily harm. Magistrate Leet said the evidence was too strong against the accused, and in spite of his being in ill-health, it was his duty to send him before a jury on the attempted murder charge.

LONDON, ONT., ANGLICAN SYNOD ENDS SESSION

London, Ont., June 20.—The Anglican Synod completed its session today. The majority of the delegates were able to get the afternoon trains for home, few remaining over night. While the mass of the business was routine there were some rather important questions dealt with.

Mr. Charles Jenkins introduced a resolution memoralizing the provincial synod to organize along the lines laid down in the canons of the diocesan synods. While a temporary organization had been provided for, its permanency was not guaranteed at present and he was anxious that this be effected.

"We want to organize the provincial synod properly," declared Mr. Jenkins. "We desire officers, rules of order and the like. The most important feature is the necessity for a committee to continue the work of the province during the interim between sessions. We have not that at this time and it is a weakness."

The memorial was passed and Mr. Jenkins will present a detail scheme for the government of the provincial synod at its next meeting.

LICENSE INSPECTOR OF TORONTO DIES, AGED 71

Toronto, June 20—Joseph Johnston, chief inspector of the Toronto License Department, died this afternoon in his 71st year. He had been away from the office for only three weeks.

Mr. Johnston was chief constable of the old town of Yorkville, and, when the city annexed the smaller place, Mr. Johnston joined the Toronto police force. He became sergeant and then inspector. Five years ago he was appointed license inspector.

BOSTON & MAINE ABANDONS BOSTON-NEW YORK SERVICE

New York, June 20—Announcement was made from the offices of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad here tonight that the Boston & Maine Railroad had been obliged to give up the operation of the Hampden Railroad and the institution of a through service between New York and Boston by that route, because of the inability of the Boston & Maine to secure the approval of its lease of the Hampden Railroad by the Railway Commissioners of Massachusetts.

PRUDENTIAL LIFE AGENTS VISIT QUEBEC NEXT WEEK

Next week three hundred managers and agents connected with the Prudential Life Insurance Company will arrive in Quebec to hold their annual convention at the Chateau Frontenac. The delegates, who are coming from every centre of the United States and Canada, are chosen for their business ability and the amount of business they have done in the interest of the company, and only those who have written $100,000 and over of new business will comprise the three hundred who will meet in convention. Thus it will be realized that the visitors are business men of no ordinary importance. They will spend a week in Quebec, accompanied by their wives and daughters.

IN AND ABOUT TOWN

MANY IN DANGER ON EMBANKMENT

RUNAWAY CITY AMBULANCE DASHES TOWARD CROWD OF PASSENGERS.

There was a narrow escape from a fatal accident on the Louise Embankment yesterday afternoon, caused by a runaway.
Just as the second cabin passengers from the steamer Empress of Ireland were entraining, the city ambulance, drawn by two horses, and driverless, was seen rushing down the Embankment at a terrific speed. The animals headed towards the people, but the majority of the latter succeeded in boarding the train, while the remainder escaped danger by the horses colliding with an iron post and coming to a stop. Had the animals got among the passengers it is likely that some of them would have been trampled to death.
It appears that the driver was thrown from his seat while coming down the Embankment, and the horses started off on their wild run.

LANDSLIDE WORK BEGINS NEXT WEEK

MILITIA DEPARTMENT GETS ORDERS TO CONTINUE THE CHAMPLAIN ST. REPAIRS.

The Government has decided to continue the work of building up the cliff leading from Champlain street to the city, and the Quebec office of the Militia Department has accordingly received instructions to proceed with the work immediately. Capt. Wright, R.C.E. and Mr. L. J. Mathieu, superintendent of works, are now busy arranging details that will permit the work to be commenced next Tuesday or Wednesday, when a large force of laborers will be engaged.
The landslide that necessitates this work to strengthen and make safe the cliff under the Citadel from any future collapse, occurred in the month of September, 1889, and caused the death of 54 residetns of Champlain street, who resided in a row of stone dwellings which were crushed in and totally demolished by the thousands of tons of rock debris that suddenly fell upon them and brought grief and sorrow to many Quebec families.
During the past ten years the Dominion Government has endeavored to repair the fronting of the cliff where the landslide occurred and the Quebec office of the Militia Department, which has charge of the work, expect to have it completed this coming fall.

HORSE BREAKS LEG ON JOHN ST., IS DESTROYED.

About 10.30 last evening a horse belonging to Alphonse Thibault, carter, fell on the asphalt pavement opposite the Imperial Bank on St. John street and broke a leg. Mr. Kelly, Inspector of the Quebec Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, who was on the scene, had to shoot the animal, which was a valuable one.

The case against Captain Outram, of the steamer Victorian, on the charge of having landed a passenger here who was unsound of mind and body, has been postponed until the 27th instant, as the captain was not in the city today to appear.

MR. LAVOIE TO BE MADE LEGISLATIVE COUNCILLOR

It is rumored on very good authority that Mr. Nap. Lavoie, the well-known manager of La Banque Nationale, of this city, is to be appointed Legislative Councillor in the vacancy caused by the death of the late Hon. Thomas Pelletier. It need hardly be stated that the appointment of Mr. Lavoie would be a most desirable one, especially as he is a native of the county in question and his many qualifications as a business man would be particularly suitable to an appointment of this nature.

CATHOLIC SEAMEN'S CLUB WILL OPEN TOMORROW

The Catholic Seamen's Club, in course of erection, has so far advanced as to permit the club rooms to be opened on Sunday morning at 7 o'clock. They will be open for the accommodation of visiting seamen until 11 p.m. Mass will be celebrated on Sunday morning at 7 o'clock in the temporarily arranged chapel and the premises made ready for the sailors to pass their spare time, write their letters and read.

COMPLAIN OF CONDITION OF THE CITY STREETS

The Quebec public is continually complaining of the lamentable condition of the city thoroughfares, cut up and left in an almost impassable condition by contractors in charge of the work. The city engineer, Mr. W. D. Baillarge, has done his utmost and is ceaseless in his efforts to have the contractors hasten the work, without results. It is suggested that if His Worship the Mayor were to call the contractors together and give them to understand that their methods of performing their work are intolerable it would have a salutary effect.
There is no complaint made against the street excavation for the installation of the new water pipes to meet the exigencies of the new main. This work is being carried on under the control of the Waterworks Department and is progressing as rapidly as can be expected.
The complaint in regard to the digging up of streets for paving and being left in an impassable condition for weeks without completing the work is heard on every hand, and the citizens of Quebec are insisting that the civic authorities see that the city contractors carry out their contracts.

FIND OLSEN'S BODY AT THREE RIVERS

ONE OF LOVE SUICIDES IS FOUND FLOATING IN THE RIVER—HOLD INQUEST.

Three Rivers, Que, June 20—The body of Hans Olson, who with Lida Littzen, his sweetheart, flung himself to death from the C. P. Ry. bridge here on Saturday last, was found floating in the river today. It was towed to shore and removed to the morgue, where an inquest will be held.
No marks of violence were found on the body. A letter in the Swedish language, discovered in the victims pocket, was taken in charge by the authorities and a translation may reveal facts likely to throw some light on the mystery of the double suicide.
The finding of Olson's body renewed interest in the case and several boats set out in the hope of locating the woman's remains. These efforts, up to a late hour tonight, were unrewarded.

CHAMPLAIN ST. OWNERS NOT BLOCKING N. T. R.

It is learned that the residents on Champlain street and the owners of property on the south side of that street have no intention of taking exception to the laying of the double track along the river front in the rear of their properties, as was announced in Thursday's issue of the Chronicle. Mr. P. Holden, ice dealer, who was specially mentioned as one of the parties concerned who intended to raise objections until he was satisfactorily settled with, denies that he ever made such a declaration, and said he was and is ready to give the right of way through the property he occupies whenever he is called upon to do so.

FIRE HARD TO FIND, EASY TO PUT OUT

Shortly before 12 o'clock last evening, passers by on St. John street noticed smoke issuing from the gateway between the stores of Mr. A. O. Pruneau and the Misses Brownrigg and sounded an alarm from box 13, but the firemen of No. 1 Station had been notified by a telephone message a few minutes previous and immediately went to the scene of the fire, which had originated in the rear of Mr. Pruneau's store. It took the firemen some time to locate the fire, but when they succeeded in doing so, their work was practically of short duration and one length of hose was sufficient to have the fire under control within a few minutes. Considerable damage was caused by smoke to Mr. Pruneau's stationery store. The damages are covered by insurance.

THE HEALTH OF CHILDREN.

We are not speaking today, of a lecture on the health of children. We will merely remind you that those girls of yours need water-proof clothes on raining days.

QUEBEC SYMPHONY ASKS CITY'S FINANCIAL AID.

A special meeting of the Civic Finance Committee was held last evening under the presidency of Alderman Cannon, those present being Aldermen Lavigueur, Collier, Lockwell, Martin, Fiset, Dussault, Trudel, Plamondon, Lantier, Dinan, Morin, Berube, Madden and Emond.
Ald. Morin introduced a delegation of lady members of the Quebec Symphony Society, who requested a civic grant of $500 towards the Society. Madame Drouin and Miss Commettant, acted as spokeswomen and explained that the Society had gone to considerable expense in keeping up its reputation as a first class musical organization but that they could not make both ends meet.
Ald. Fiset was in favor of granting the request of the petitioners, while Ald. Lavigueur was opposed to the grant, as it created a bad precedent, although he was very sympathetic to the Symphony. The committee would not consider the demand, as the application was not made in a regular form, the delegation not being officers of the Quebec Symphony.

CREWS WAIT WORD AT POUGHKEEPSIE

SEVENTEEN BOATS FROM SIX UNIVERSITIES IN BIG REGATTA TODAY.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 20.—The seventeen crews of Cornell, Columbia, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, Washington and Syracuse put the finishing touches on their weeks of training for tomorrow's big regatta with the practice of this afternoon. All the crews were on the river, but as they are all practically ready for the test of the races no hard work was indulged in by any of the combinations.

The eve of the regatta brought with it the vanguard of the customary boat race crowds. Cornell and Columbia men predominated, as usual, and Cornell was the same favorite she was last year. Not many large wagers have been reported, but on the basis of such as have been made the Ithacans are eight to ten favorites for the big race.

Wagers of even money on Cornell against Columbia and Washington have been made and ten to eight on Cornell against Wisconsin and Syracuse. Wagers that Cornell will take all three races are but few, the early betting in the freshmen race being Cornell against any one crew at even money, while the betting on the four oared race shows Cornell, Washington and Pennsylvania the main factors.

Pennsylvania's Time Fastest.

Few people are aware of the fastest time trials of the various crews entered in the big race, but it can be authoritatively stated that the time of the fastest four miles was made by the Pennsylvania crew early this week. Cornell's fastest time is reported to have been ten seconds slower than Pennsylvania, and Washington's fastest trial eight seconds slower. Coaches, however, place no dependence on time trials, as the condition of the course and the condition of the men may be entirely different during the race.

While Cornell and Columbia are believed to have the smoothest rowing varsity crews on the river, there is some question whether the New Yorkers will be able to stand the grind for four miles. Coach Rice believes they will, and Coach Courtney has no doubt at all that Cornell will have plenty of stamina and a reserve force to draw upon in cases of emergency.

Coach Conibear of Washington is placing great stress on the power in his boat. He has the heaviest varsity crew on the river and the rowing experts are awaiting with interest the work of the Washington men because of the fact that the crew rows but once a day. An indication of the tremendous power in the Washington shell is demonstrated by the fact that when under way the swirl from the No. 2 oar passes the rudder, a condition that does not exist with any other crew. The blade of the oar used by the Pacific Coast crew is wider than the blades of the oars used by the other crews.

New Wisconsin Stroke.

The Wisconsin varsity crew will be in the race with its new stroke, Bohstedt, who pulled the No. 2 oar all through the practice until a few days ago, having been put in to stroke the crew in place of Eevert, who takes the No. 2 oar. Coach Vail says he is satisfied the shell moves faster with the new combination. The new oars which the Wisconsin senior crew used two or three times have been laid aside and the crew will row the race with the old oars, the men and the coach liking them much better. All the men are in good condition except Evert, who is suffering with boils, but is expected to be in proper condition by tomorrow.

The Columbia crews have been rowing with remarkable smoothness and showing more endurance during the long rows, so that now Coach Rice thinks there will be no difficulty in the Columbia senior shell about holding out the course length.

The Pennsylvania crews have shown fifty per cent improvement during the past ten days and Coach Ward is now looking forward to good races, especially with the freshmen crew. The varsity crew will row with substitute Wolf in Garvin's seat at No. 5. Garvin has been taken to his home because of illness, and it was stated at the Pennsylvania quarters today that he was suffering with typhoid fever.

The four oared race is scheduled for 4 o'clock , the freshmen race at 5:15 and the Varsity race at 6 o'clock, all races being rowed down stream on the ebb tide.

BALTIMORE FINDS MONTREAL EASY

SECOND GAME OF SERIES IS WON BY OVERWHELMING SCORE OF 14-1.

(International League.)

Baltimore, June 20—The Orioles again found the Royal pitchers today and took the second game of the series by the decisive score of 14 to 1. Dale started for the Royals and lasted only two and two-thirds of an inning when Billy Burk took his place. The latter was also easy. Morrissette, the Mount St. Joseph collegian, hurled in a masterly manner for the locals.

COY LAD BEATS FAVORITE IN LATONIA FOURTH RACE

Latonia, Ky., June 20—Coy Lad beat out High Private and Morristown, the leading favorites in the fourth race, the best on the card at the track today. Jockey Martin had one of his good days, for besides winning the feature, he took the first and fifth races and rode Ambition to show in the third.

LONG SHOTS HAVE DAY AT OTTAWA

FAVORITES FALL HARD AND PUBLIC GETS WORST OF BATTLE WITH BOOKIES.

Ottawa, June 20—Long shots had a field day at Connaught Park, no fewer than five favorites going down to defeat. Louise Travers at 12 to 1 won the first race and Love Day at 7 to 2 took the second. Inspector Lestrade at 10 to 1 captured the third and Carlton G., first choice, cheered the form players by annexing the fourth. Myrtle Marion at five to one carried off the fifth and L. M. Eckert at five to one turned things topsy turvy in the sixth. The seventh saw another upset when Incision at 9 to 2 took first with Curtis B. at 20 to 1 second. Favorites fell hard and the public got the worst of the battle with the bookies as the horses that did win were not heavily backed. The track was fast and over eight thousand persons were present.

Summary:

ASSOCIATION FOOTBALL.

An association football match will be played at the Kent House grounds, Montmorency Falls, Saturday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, between the Montmorency Football Club and the Empress of Ireland team. It is to be hoped that all lovers of the game will make an effort to be present, as there is no doubt that an interesting game will be witnessed, both sides possessing some clever players.

The Montmorency football team will be chosen from the following: F. Willis, E. Sheard, J. Lovett, A. Warner, R. Stocks, H. Slater, R. Herring, West, H. Price, Jas. Bonnell, H. S. Phillips, W. Boyd, G. Greigg.

SIR THOMAS ASKS FOR COPY OF NEW RULES

London, June 20—Sir Thomas Lipton met his yachting advisers today and discussed with them the question of accepting the final terms sent by the New York Yacht Club in reply to his challenge through the Royal Ulster Yacht Club for a series of races for the America's Cup.

It was decided that acceptance of the terms must be deferred until receipt of the 1913 rules of the New York Yacht Club, which constantly were referred to throughout the club's letter, but which were not enclosed.

Without these rules Sir Thomas declared it was impossible to understand the conditions prescribed for the race. He has forwarded a cablegram to New York requesting that a copy of the regulations be sent to him and expects that it will arrive within a week.

BANK EMBEZZLER GETS THREE YEARS SENTENCE

Providence, R.I., June 20—Convicted of embezzling $40,000 from the People's Savings Bank in Woonsokut, of which he was teller, three years ago, Hermengilde Bessette was sentenced today to three years' imprisonment. He had returned $9000.

Ultra Lounge Suits

THE gay colors of spring are mirrored always in the brighter cloth colors, and in our spring and summer stock of Semi-ready clothes. There is a distinct atmosphere of ease and comfort—typical in the fine Lounge Suits in grey Bannockburns; in soft dress worsteds; the almost shaggy looking Scotch Goods. Not the most ultra tailor can create any thing so good unless he tries to copy.

Better to buy the original Semi-ready than an imitation.

UNITED STATES WINS DEWAR CUP

GREAT BRITAIN BEATEN BY 41 POINTS IN SMALL BORE RIFLE MATCH.

Washington, June 20—Beating Great Britain by 41 points, the United States has won the international rifle shooting small bore match, just completed, and recaptured the Dewar Cup. The scores made public today were: United States, 24,551; Great Britain, 24,510. This was the first of the many international rifle shooting matches the United States will compete in during the year.

Last year Great Britain took the Dewar Cup from the United States, winning the small bore match by 257 points. Score at that time was: Great Britain, 24,548; United States, 24,291.

This year's rules calls for 50 men on a side, using the 22-calibre rifle and shooting at 75 feet, the size of the bull's eye being one-half an inch in diameter. Two men on the American team, members of the Butte, Mont., Rifle Shooting Club, made the possible score of 500.

AUSTRALIAN CRICKETERS SWAMP PHILADELPHIA.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 20—The Australian cricketers overwhelmed the Gentlemen of Philadelphia today in the opening day's play of their first match in this city. The visitors had scored 309 runs for a loss of only three wickets when stumps were drawn for the day, while the Philadelphia side was retired for a total of 124 runs. L. A. Cody scored 97 runs for the visitors before he was retired while W. Bardsley had scored 110 and was not out when the game was called for the day.

VICTORIAS vs. C. B. ST. PATRICK'S vs. LAVAL.

The match between the Victoria and the C. B. club should be the feature of the baseball program tomorrow afternoon. This will be the first game in the double-header and, though Victorias are the favorites, the C. B.'s are always a dangerous crowd to tackle.

St. Patrick's should have a good chance to make it five straight, according to the showing which they have made so far. They are not likely however to underestimate the strength of their opponents.

The batteries will be:

Victorias: O'Hara, Breton and J. Marks.

C. B.: Latulippe and Lizotte.

St. Patrick's: Campagne, Frizell and Loisel.

Laval: Pouliot, Beaue, and A. Lizotte.

THE SECRET OF GOOD HEALTH.

Keep the Blood Rich and Pure with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

The condition of the blood makes all the difference between health and sickness. Impure blood and strong healthy nerves and muscles never go together. If the blood is thin every part of the body becomes weak. The stomach fails in strength and the appetite become poor. The body does not obtain enough nourishment from the food, and soon the nerves begin to complain and the person becomes irritable, despondent, worn out and nervous. For a time there may be no actual sickness, only a run-down, weak condition, but there is no defence against disease and from such a condition spring disorders such as anaemia, rheumatism, indigestion, neuralgia, and even paralysis itself.

People with impure, thin blood should take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Every dose helps to make new, rich blood, and new blood means health and strength. They stop the progress of disease, and red cheeks good appetite, new strength, declare the general improvement in the health. Here is an example. Miss Ellen Maude McQuodale, Harriston, Ont., says: "I feel it my duty to add my voice to the many now recommending Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. For years I was a sufferer with backaches, rheumatism and nervousness. I was so bad at times that I was confined to my bed. I felt sleepy and heavy after my meals, and had flashes of light before my eyes, and a difficulty in collecting my thoughts. After using several remedies without benefit I began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and used ten or twelve boxes in all. They gave me the best health I have enjoyed for years, and I have not since had the least return of the trouble."

You can get these Pills from any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE COLLEGE OF PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS OF THE PROVINCE OF QUEBEC

The preliminary examinations for the study of medicine will take place at Laval University, Montreal, on Tuesday and Wednesday, the first and second day of July, 1913. All candidates for these examinations must produce the certificates and the deposit of twenty-five dollars to the undersigned registrar before the fifteenth June.

The semi-annual meeting of the Governors of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of the Province of Quebec will take place at the same place on Wednesday, eighth July, 1913.

The Committee on Credentials will also meet at the same place on Tuesday, eighth July, 1913, at 9 a. m. Every candidate for a provincial license must present himself before the committee to be sworn, taking good care to produce his certificate of admission to the study of medicine and his diploma of doctor in medicine, failing which he will not be sworn.

By order,

DR. J. GAUVREAU,
Registrar, College of Physicians and Surgeons of the Province of Quebec, 30 St. James street, Montreal.

The German Emperor's knowledge of golf is by no means extensive. His generosity, however, made him lend a ready ear to the request of Sir Frank Lascelles for a grant of land for the purpose of a golf course.

"So you want ground for your golf club, Sir Frank?" he said. "We haven't got nice grass meadows round Berlin like you have in England, but I'll give you a bit of the Grunewald."

Now, the Gruewald is a pine forest near the capital, and a favorite Sunday resort of the people of Berlin. The ambassador thought it out for a moment and then answered, somewhat doubtfully:

"Ah, sire, I am afraid there would be too many trees."

"Trees!" exclaimed His Majesty. "All the better to keep the sun off when you are playing in the summer."

From the Files of the CHRONICLE, June, 1813 and 1883.

A HUNDRED YEARS AGO TODAY

An Elegant Epistle.

The following elegant epistle was picked up in one of the enemy's tents, at the late attack on Sacket's Harbor. We think it worthy of being preserved as being something exclusively American; Sackets Harbor. Dear friend: With my pen in hand and my heart filled with the spirit of liberty, I now sit down to communicate and whisper glorious intelligence into the ear of a friend. Our little navy on Lake Ontario, which consists of one ship, one brig and thirteen beautiful schooners, left this harbor with rising of 2,000 of our brave soldiers, besides sailors and marines on board, and steered a course for the Lion's den in Upper Canada. They came in sight of Little York, the capital of the Upper Province. They passed up the lake and there they cleared three vessels and put the soldiers aboard the others; these three vessels went down in front of the fort to amuse the enemy, while our troops effected a landing. But the British General Sheaffe sallied out of the fort, with a considerable force to prevent our landing, but we drove them back and then our vessels all rode down before the town and instantly Sheaffe, with his British slaves and hell-like savage crew in numbers superior to ours, made their appearance on the bank again, fired and charged bayonets and rushed on with all their damned fury, thinking the land was in their favor, but our brave Yank heroes stood the shock and drove them back with such speed that would make lightening lull to keep up.

The signature and address are omitted, as we do not wish to mortify the feelings of any individual.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

To Swim the Whirlpool Rapids.

At this time 30 years ago, Capt. Mathew Webb, who swam the English channel in 1875, and now proposes to swim through the terrible whirlpool rapids below Niagara Falls was met yesterday by a Herald reporter. "Yes," he said, "I am going to swim the whirlpool rapids, and I will say that it is about the angriest bit of water in the world. I came over to make the trial and I went to the rapids and made a critical examination. They are rough, I tell you, but I think I am strong enough and skilled enough to get through alive." "But what is your object in attempting such a terrible feat?" "Ten thousand dollars. I'll explain my plan. The current they say is thirty-nine miles an hour, and the river is ninety-five feet deep. It is wide just below the falls and narrow at the rapids. I am only afraid of two awful ledges of rock which jut out from the shores into the whirlpool. The water fairly shrieks and hisses as it boils over them. Now, I want to avoid the sides, and yet I dare not go into the middle, for there lies the vortex and that means death. I will got out into the middle of the river in a small boat just about the suspension bridge. The only clothing I shall wear will be the silk trunks I had when I swam the channel. At the time appointed I will leap into the river and float into the rapids. Of course I will make no attempt to go forward, for the fearful speed of the water will carry me through. When the water gets very bad I will go under and remain until I am compelled to come up for breath. When I strike the whirlpool I will strike out with all my strength and try to keep away from the suck hole in the centre. I expect to get through all right."

BERLIN DOCTORS DECRY FRIEDMANN

SAY HIS SERUM IS NOT A CURE AND EVEN MAKES PATIENTS WORSE.

Berlin, June 20—The last meeting of the Berlin Medical Society showed that the drift of opinion of Berlin physicians was strongly against Dr. Friedrich F. Friedmann, the Berlin physician who claims he has discovered a cure for tuberculosis. Professor Max Westenhoefer, of the University of Berlin, reported that a post-mortem examination of one of Dr. Friedmann's patients, who had been young and strong, showed a marked acceleration of the tubercular process after treatment. Although Dr. Friedmann had assured a cure, tuberculosis showed plainly at the point of injection.

Prof. Westenhoefer censured Dr. Friedmann for failing to give scientific data and for going abroad to exploit his remedy.

Frau Rabinowitsch, Professor of Bacteriology, said that the Friedmann cultures apparently were made in cold blood, which experience had shown does not give a harmless product.

Prof. Max Wolff, of the University of Berlin, who had examined patients treated by Dr. Friedmann, reported that he had found no improvement.

Prof. Ludwig Schleich, who has been representing Dr. Friedmann during the latter's absence from Berlin, was alone in defending him. He declared that undoubted cures had occurred and announced on behalf of Dr. Friedmann that the serum would be placed at the disposal of physicians after the doctor's return.

One of the members asked the society to pass a vote of want of confidence in Dr. Friedmann but no vote was taken.

Taking Precautions.

A miniature panic seized the small station of Slocombe—the guard of the local goods train was suddenly taken ill. Who should fill his place? A promising young porter was given a trial trip.

"This is my opportunity," he breathed to himself, "to show them what Joe Jenkins is made of."

All went well till the train came to an upgradient, when despite all the efforts of driver and fireman, it was only with difficulty that the train mounted the ascent.

At the next stop the driver came to the guard.

"Never remember having so much trouble with the old engine before, Joe," he said. "Do you know I only just managed to get her up that gradient?"

"Yes," said the guard, with a proud look; "and she would have run back if I hadn't had those brakes on hard!"—Answers.

WOMAN CABINET MAKER.

Miss Annie Beautsen, daughter of the prime minister of Denmark, has just become a "master" cabinet maker. She served her apprenticeship in the factory of a furniture firm in Copenhagen. She made a beautifully finished writing desk as part of her examination work. Cabinet making is said to be quite a fad with Danish society women.

LAWYERS PESTER PACIFIC ROADS

COVET JUICY PICKINGS OF UNION AND SOUTHERN DISSOLUTION WORK

New York, June 20—Judge Roberts Lovett, chairman of the Union Pacific Company, issued a long statement in New York this afternoon saying in effect that the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific authorities have been approached by various persons unnamed professing to have influence which they would bring to bear in the matter of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific dissolution proceedings, provided the railroad people employed certain lawyers. He added that these offers were invariably rejected, as the result of which, presumably, many rumors were circulated reflecting on the Union Pacific-Southern Pacific management and motives.

"Every time that we have had any plan connected with Union Pacific-Southern Pacific dissolution," said Judge Lovett, "I think that without a single exception, we have had calls from parties purporting to be able to exert great influence with Congress and in other places. All sorts of emissaries have come to me with the story that they could accomplish all sorts of things for us if we would employ certain lawyers. I have refused to see any of these parties, and I do not believe a single word they have said about what they can accomplish for us. Following these communications there was generally some sort of a rumor appearing in the press which I could not help but connect with these parties."

Baltimore and Ohio Deal.

With reference to the proposed deal with the Pennsylvania Railroad, whereby the Union Pacific was to trade $38,000,000 of Southern Pacific stock in return for stock of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad of substantially the same value, Judge Lovett explained that there was "no desire on the part of the Union Pacific to control the Baltimore and Ohio," adding that if such control resulted it would be "merely incidental." The exchange, if consumated, he said would give the Union Pacific about 3 per cent. of Baltimore and Ohio stock.

Judge Lovett scouted the idea that the proposed deal with the Pennsylvania was a forerunner to bringing that road, the Union Pacific, the Southern Pacific and the Baltimore and Ohio under the control of one handling house. "So far as Union Pacific is concerned," he said, "Kuhn, Loeb and Company are interested in a large degree, but I cannot imagine anything more preposterous than the story that this is a scheme to get all these roads under the control of one handling house."

He added that at present there were no negotiations under way for the disposal of any more Southern Pacific to any other railroad system, although he would not commit himself as what might be done in the future. He had no recent communication from the Attorney-General, he said, as to whether he approved exchange of Southern Pacific stock for Baltimore and Ohio.

Knight Engine vs. Poppet Valve Engine

Four years ago, before the Royal Automobile Club of Great Britain, a 38 h.p. Knight Engin of Daimler manufacture made a world's record for durability and efficiency.

That record stood unchallenged until May of this yar, when, before a Committee of Judges of the Automobile Club of America, an acknowledged leader among manufacturers of Poppet Valve engines put up his best 38 b.p. six cylinder engine to beat or to equal the record held for four years by the Knight Engine.

The Judges' report on the two tests settles the question of all-round supremacy in automobile engines.

In a series of advertisements we shall show how thoroughly the Knight engine's supremacy has been upheld, and prove that even four years ago it was superior to the Poppet Valve engine of 1913, in the following particulars:

1. That for the size of motor the Knight Engine develops greater horse power than the Poppet Valve.
2. That it generates its horse power with less consumption of gasoline.
3. That it requires less adjusting, and its condition after use is more perfect.
4. That the test to which the Knight Motor was subjected was much more exacting than that of the Poppet Valve.
5. That where a Poppet Valve motor loses in power with use, the Knight Motor increases.

We want every owner or prospective owner of an automobile to watch for and read these advertisements, because for four years we have made many claims for the Knight Engine. The comparative figures of the two tests will prove how fully our claims have been justified

A FLY CATECHISM.

The following questions and answers were prepared by the Indiana State Board of Health and have been widely copied. The School Board of Asheville, N. C., caused them to be pasted in the spelling books used in the graded schools of the city:

Where is the fly born? In manure and filth.

Where does the fly live? In every kind of filth.

In aything too filthy for the fly to eat? No.

Where does he go when he leaves the surface closet and the manure pile and the spittoon? Into the kitchen and dining room.

What does he do there? He walks on the bread, fruit and vegetables. He wipes his feet on the butter and bathes in the milk.

Does the fly visit the patient sick with typhoid fever, consumption and cholera infantum? He does, and he may call on you next.

Is the fly dangerous? He is man's worst pest and more dangerous than wild beasts or rattlesnakes.

What disease does the fly carry? He carries typhoid fever, consumption and summer complaint. How? On his winds and hairy feet. What is his correct name? Typhoid fly.

Did he ever kill any one? He killed more American soldiers during the Spanish-American War than did the bullets of the Spaniards.

Where are the greatest number of cases of typhoid fever, consumption and summer complaint? Where there are the most flies.

Where are the most flies? Where there is the most filth.

Why should we will the fly? Because he may kill us.

When shall we kill the fly? Kill him before he gets wings. Kill him when he is a maggot in the manure pile. Kill him while he is in the egg state.

Plan of Campaign for Fly Fighters.

Keep the house free from flies. Every fly should be considered a possible disease carrier and should be destroyed.

Keep the windows of the house, especially the kitchen windows, carefully screened during the spring, summer and autumn.

Protect children from exposure to flies and do not allow nursing bottles to be exposed.

Protect milk and foodstuffs from contact with flies.

Keep the garbage outside of the house carefully covered.

Abolish open drains near dwelling places.

Here is a good story told by an American. The goose had been carved, and everybody had tasted it. It was excellent. The negro minister, who was the guest of honor, could not restrain his enthusiasm.

"Dat's as fine a goose as evah I see, Reuddah Williams," he said to his host. "Whar did you git such a fine goose?"

"Well, now, pahson," replied the carver of the goose, exhibiting great dignity and reticence, "when you preaches a speshul good sermon I never axes you where you got it. I hopes you will show me the same consideration."—Tid-Bits.

Miss Anna M. Shreve, who has had charge of the nursery for twenty-six years at Girard College in Philadelphia, has had 500 boys under her charge. She is regarded as a mother by the children. There are 1,500 boys in the school, and the kind of management necessary that they may all be clothed and fed properly requires a great deal of thinking on the part of the good woman.

CLEANING THE FOOD CHOPPER.

Those who use the food chopper realize that the cleaning process is not easy. The easiest and best way to clean it is to take a piece of raw potato and put it through the chopper after using. Every particle of food is forced out, leaving only raw potato in the machine. This is much easier to rinse off than bread or cracker.

Other charming evening cloaks are fashioned of braided net and brocaded silk.

SLASH SKIRT AND NEW BUNCO GAME

LOST BET BECAUSE HE FORGOT THEY ALL OPENED ON SAME SIDE.

Cleveland, June 20—Slashed skirts, now in the height of fashion; a new bunco and the loss of $3, all figure in the narrative poured into the sympathetic ear of Eli Potts, desk officer in police headquarters, by a stranger who introduced himself as Zenas Whipple, dealer in Indian runner ducks in East Paradise, O.

Soldiers' monument in the public square, the well known view from the top of the Williamson building and a sight-seeing auto-bus ride through the parks had engaged the interest of Whipple.

But greater yet was his interest in what the dressmakers called the slashed skirts.

On Euclid avenue in the afternoon, Whipple had seen for himself that slash skirts are indeed worn on the street, just as the paper had said.

At a bar hard by, over a glass of lager beer, Whipple formed the acquaintance of an agreeable young man who listened to the duck man's story of discovery and proposed a wager which he described as the newest afternoon diversion.

All Going One Way.

They were to stand at an arcade and count the slash skirts going by. Whipple was to count the slash skirts going east and his friend was to count the slash skirts going west.

The one who counted the greater number in 30 minutes was to win the bet. The bet was to be $1.

In 30 minutes Whipple's friend had counted 14 going west but not a one had been counted going east.

Whipple paid over the $1. His young friend proposed the duck man a chance to even up and that the conditions be reversed. So they moved to the other side of the street and this time Whipple was to count the slash skirts going west, while his friend counted those which went east.

This time 19 were counted for the young man and again not a one for Whipple.

"It took me two hours and a lot of looking around to figure out the durned swindle," the duck man told Eli Potts. "I disremember now whether it's left or right, but all these durn slash skirts open on the same side. Plenty went past my way, I reckon, but I couldn't see them, and when we crossed the street, I was still on the blind side. I don't care so much about the $3. I want that slick young feller shown up."

WOMEN ON RAILROADS.

Mrs. Clara Bradley, president of the Women's Auxiliary of the Brotherhood, says transportation companies may before long employ women as conductors, engineers and even as firemen. It is not a matter of strength, she says, to operate the levers of oil-burning engines, and she would not be surprised if railroading will come to be a field of industry for women.

LEARNED TO SAVE AS CHILD.

Mrs. Hetty Green, who was before her marriage Hetty Robinson, was only 8 years old when she opened a bank account. Her father had tought her how to take care of money even before that. Once when she was a young lady she went to New York to visit with $1200 to buy gowns. She spent $200 and put the rest in the bank.

FASHIONS IN WAISTS.

Women are beginning to rebel, just the least bit, in regard to the large waists that fashion decrees that they shall have. There may be a reversion before long to the hour-glass waist, but it will probably be only the young women who adopt it, as the present fashion is altogether too comfortable for older women.

FOND OF MONTESORRI SYSTEM

Washington will probably be the center of the Montesorri movement in the United States, as Dr. Alexander Graham Bell is so enthusiastic over th movement that he has turned over one of the rooms in his residence in that city for the purpose of introducing the system. Miss Anna George, a graduate of the Montesorri School, and a former Chicago school-teacher, is in charge.

HINTS FOR THE HOUSEWIFE.

LATEST NEWS OF PARIS FASHIONS.

Paris, June 21, 1913.

Monsieur Astruc is now presenting the opera "Benvenuto Cellini," in his new Theatre Champs Elysees, and fashionable Paris attended the premiere en masse. Mlle Vorska and M. Lapelletrie assumed the principal roles, and at the close of the performance the fascinating Russian dancer Pavlowa gave the "Dance of the Swans," and, as usual, was wonderfully received.

The exquisite gowns of shimmering satin and diaphanous tulle found a fitting background in this artistic theatre.

A Callot gown of unusual beauty was developed of lierre lace. This was tied close to the figure with a crossed drapery of white moire, and a high girdle of the same material confined the folds of lace and tulle forming the bodice. Tucked in at the corsage was a bouquet of pink satin roses.

A great number of white satin gowns with extremely low-cut bodices and long trains were noticed. Exquisite jewels adorned the fair wearers of these gowns, and the headdresses weer bands of velvet, jewels or tulle adorned with aigrettes.

The skirts of the evening gowns are no longer draped, but hang in straight graceful lines from the draped bodices. Some show short panniers.

White evening cloaks share popularity with those of geranium-red brocaded silk.

Afternoon gowns grow more elaborate as the season advances, and Madame Paquin's creations are particularly worthy of admiration. From dull-blue brocaded crepe de chine she has developed a charming model. The bodice has a V-chaped ..e of tucked linen of the sheerest ..ality, and narrow bands of black velvet outline this; the wide girdle has three flat bows of the velvet in front, caught with square buckles through the center. Wide cuffs of the linen turn back over the long, close-fitting sleeves. The skirt is draped directly in front and at the back. Blue silk stockings and Colonial shoes of black patent leather complete the costume.

The basque of chiffon appears on many afternoon gowns, and Drecoll is responsible for a charming gown emphaing this mode. Over the foundation of cream shallow lace the basque of blue chiffon with a double peplum is worn. It is belted in at the waist with a girdle of sapphire-blue velvet, and from beneath this hangs a long overskirt of lemon-yellow stockings and blue satin slippers are worn with this creation.

Many women who promenade through the Bois wear smart tailored suits of fawn, tan or olive tinted cloth, and there is a decided preference for the small hat. The flat oval shapes of colored straw, with stiff sides and a bow of ribbon velvet directly in front, are the latest offering of the shops on the Rue de la Paix.

Small taffeta turbans are also favored, and these fit closely to the head, having one or two upstanding loops of rosebuds on the right.

Shoes of black patent leather with tops of white, tan, violet or blue kid, are much worn at present.

The dainty, practical tub frock appears in many phases, and cotton voile, dimity, crepe and handkerchief linen are the materials most used to fashion these favorites. A charming model of striped blue-and-white voile has the blouse gathered to an epaulette yoke. Over this is worn a round collar of sheerest linen and lace. The long modified bishop sleeves are gathered into a straight cuff, and over this is a turn-back cuff of linen. A tie of dull-blue picot edged ribbon is worn at the throat. Three broad tucks finish the hem of the skirt.

MAKE YOUR OWN HATPINS.

Don't throw the whole effect of your hat entirely out of key by the use of discordant hatpins. It is a simple matter to have handsome hatpins to harmonize with your hat, and at a small expense, too. A bit of lace, silk, brocade, or any other material will do.

A hat trimmed with a touch of coral, bright blue or green, would look all the better if its hatpins were made of large button molds covered with the same bright material with an ordinary penny hatpin with white or black head stuck right through the hole in the mold.

THE NEW PARASOLS.

While the fashions for many years have added to the size or decorations of parasols or umbrellas, there has been no decided change until this year, the bee-hive parasol, with reflex ribs to the framework, is decidedly new. The same may be said of shoes, which have had high heels for so many years. This year the low heel is worn and there is even tendency to have no heel at all.

BABY TWICE BAPTIZED.

Queen Alexandra signified her intention to stand godmother to the first great-grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Parish. The baby had been christened in India, but when the parents found upon their return, that the Queen Mother had signified her desire to be godmother, they arranged the rather unusual ceremony of a second baptism at St. Margaret's Westminster.

Recipes For Quebec Housewives.

German Potato Salad.

Boil small potatoes with their skins on. Cut one quarter pound of bacon into small pieces and fry brown. Now skin your potatoes, cut into dice, and mix with the bacon—fat and all. Add a little minced onion and parsley. Dress with French dressing. After it has become thoroughly chilled and marinated, serve on a bed of lettuce leaves.

Tapioca Cream Soup.

Soak two tablespoonfuls of pearl tapioca overnight. Add one quart of white stock and cook until transparent then add one cupful of water, one tablespoonful of butter, one onion and a stalk of celery cut fine, pepper, salt and mace. Simmer one hour. When ready to serve, stir in one cupful of rich cream and add a little minced parsley.

Ginger Ale Salad.

Follow the usual recipe for coffee jelly, substituting ginger ale for the coffee and adding a little lemon juice. When hardened cut into cubes. Then sprinkle with crushed nuts and serve on lettuce leaves with a mayonnaise dressing.

Cookie Tartlets.

Make a plain cookie dough, roll it out rather thin and line muffin tins with the dough. Bake, and when cold fill each cup with stewed rhubarb or strawberries, and put a spoonful of whipped cream on top.

Pea Timbales.

Cook sufficient peas to make two cupfuls. When tender, put through a vegetable press. Add a little minced onion, two well-beaten eggs, two tablespoons melted butter and sufficient pepper, salt and paprika to season. Turn into buttered timbale molds and set them in a pan of hot water to bake. Serve with a white sauce to which has been added some nicely cooked peas.

Carrot Puree.

Peel and slice several good-sized carrots. Put them in a saucepan with minced onion and two tablespoons of drippings. Covery closely and cook until the carrots are tender. Then add one quart of stock, pepper and salt and cook for fifteen minutes. Put all through the vegetable press and serve very hot.

Fruit Canapes.

Use the sponge cake that was left from Sunday's supper. Cut into squares and split. Saute in butter on both sides. Spread cooked fruit on each piece. Make a thick sauce of the fruit juice by adding arrowroot to the hot juice and pour over the canapes.

Siberian Sauce.

Stir together one teaspoon chopped pimento, three of grated horseradish, one of mixed mustard, one teaspoon of sugar and a little salt. Add sufficient vinegar to cover and serve with cold meats.

Boiled Leettuce.

Stir away the thick stalks from four or five heads of lettuce and boil the leaves in salted watre for fifteen minutes. Turn out into a pan of cold water, drain and chop. Return to the fire, add a cupful or more of white sauce and when quite hot stir in the well-beaten yolks of two eggs.

Cranberry and Nut Salad.

Cut into a dice a sufficient quantity of cranberry jelly. Sprinkle with chopped walnut meats and pile lightly on a bed of lettuce leaves. Cover with mayonnaise dressing.

Rice Pudding.

(Made from Cold Boiled Rice.)

Break up two cupfuls of cold boiled rice so that it will be free from lumps. Add one tablespoon melted butter, one tablespoon sugar, a good pinch of salt and the beaten yolks of three eggs. Stir in two cups of flour to which has been added one heaping teaspoon of baking powder. Beat all together until smooth, flavor with oragne, and, the last thing, fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the three eggs. Put in a buttered baking dish and bake until it is well set. Serve plain or with a fruit sauce.

Date Gems.

Sift together two cups of flour, two teaspoons baking powder, one-half teaspoon cinnamon, one-half teaspoon ginger and a little salt. Heat one-half cupful mloasses and a tablespoon of butter in a sausepan until the butter melts. Theen stir in the dry ingredients, alternating with one-half cupful milk until it is well blended. Now, add one cupful of chopped dates which have been liberally sprinkled with flour. Bake in buttered muffin tins for half an hour.

Baked Hash Balls With Mint.

The lamb which was left from Monday's dinner may be used for these. Mince fine and add some chopped leaves of fresh mint, pepper and salt and the yolks of two eggs. Form into balls and place in a baking dish. Pour a teaspoon of melted butter over each and bake in a hot oven.

Bacon Gravy On Toast.

Cut up one-half pound bacon into small bits and fry brown. Add one-half cup of hot water, two cups of milk, a small piece of butter and seasoning. Add sufficient flour to make a thick gravy. Pour over the toast.

CHILDHOOD DANGERS.

No symptoms that indicate any of the ailments of childhood should be allowed to pass without prompt attention. The little ailment may soon become a serious one and perhaps a little life passes out. If Baby's Own Tablets are kept in the house minor troubles can be promptly cured and serious ones averted. The Tablets are guaranteed absolutely safe and can be given to the newborn babe as well as the growing child. Thousands of mothers use no other medicine for their little ones. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST LAND REGULATIONS

Any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years old, may homestead a quarter section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. The applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Subagency for the district. Entry by proxy may be made to any agency, on certain conditions by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of intending homesteader.

Duties.—Six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres solely owned and occupied by him or by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter section alongside his homestead. Price $3.00 per acre.

Duties.—Must reside upon the homestead or pre-emption six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry including the time required to earn homestead patent and cultivate fifty acres extra.

A homesteader who has exhausted his homestead right and cannot obtain a pre-emption may enter for a purchase homestead in certain districts. Price $3.00 per acre.

Duties.—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect a house worth $300.00.

W. W. CORY.
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

...B.—Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid for.

SYNOPSIS OF REGULATIONS.

GOVERNING Timber on Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta, the Northwest Territories, the Railway Belt in the Province of British Columbia, and the tract of Three and a Half Million Acres Located by the Government of the Dominion in the Peace River District in the Province of British Columbia.

LICENSES.

A license to cut timber on a tract not exceeding twenty-five square miles in extent may be acquired only at public auction. A rental of $5.00 per square mile, per annum, is charged on all timber berths excepting those situated west of Yale in the Province of British Columbia, on which the rental is at the rate of 5 cents per acre. In addition to rental, dues are charged on the timber cut at the rates set out in section 20 of the regulations.

TIMBER PERMITS AND DUES.

Permits may be granted in the Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, to owners of portable saw mills, to cut over a definitely described tract of land not exceeding one square mile in extent, on payment of dues at the rate of 50c. per thousand feet, B.M., and of a fee at the rate of $100.00 per square mile for each permit.

TIMBER FOR HOMESTEADERS.

Any occupant of a homestead quarter-section having no timber of his own suitable for the purpose may, provided he has not previously been granted free allowance of timber, obtain a free permit to cut the quantity of building and fencing timber set out in section 30 of the Regulations.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

SUFFERED TERRIBLY WITH HAY FEVER

Until "Fruit-a-tives" Completely Cured Her

Mrs. Henry Kemp

CORNWALL CENTRE, ONT., NOVEMBER 27th. 1911

"I was a martyr to Hay Fever for probably fifteen years and I suffered terribly at times. I consulted many physicians and took their treatment—and I tried every remedy I heard of as good for Hay Fever. But nothing did me any good. Then I tried "Fruit-a-tives" and this remedy cured me completely. I a mnow well, and I wish to say to every sufferer from Hay Fever—"Try Fruit-a-tives": This fruit medicine cured me when every other treatment failed and I believe it is a perfect cure for this dreadful disease."

SENATE TARIFF IS LOWER THAN HOUSE

REVISED UNDERWOOD BILL REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE HAS MANY CHANGES.

Washington, June 20.—Important reductions in the Underwood Tariff Bill rates on iron, steel and other metal products; the addition of cattle, wheat, pig iron, Angora wool and many other articles to the free list; and an increase in rates on many classes of cotton goods, and some silk products, were the chief features of the revised tariff bill as it was laid before Senate Democrats today by Chairman Simmons of the Finance Committee.

After weeks of work, in which every item of the bill had undergone close scrutiny by sub-committees of the majority membership of the Finance Committee, the re-drafted measure was brought into the Democratic caucus today. For two hours the important changes were explained to Democrats, and the bill was then made public. Experts of the committee at once began work on a comprehensive summary of the changes.

President Wilson's desires as to free sugar in 1916 and free wool at once, prevailed in the re-draft of the bill. To the list of "market basket" reductions the Underwood bill contained, the Senate committee added many important items. In the general level of its rates the "Simmons Bill" represents a heavier cut from existing rates of the Payne-Aldrich law than did the bill as it passed the House some time ago.

The Senate caucus adjourned early and members spent the afternoon working out private analysis of the measure. The caucus will reconvene tomorrow morning. Senate leaders believe the bill will reach the Senate itself late next week.

LADY DALMENY, NOTED BEAUTY, IS LONDON.

London, June 20.—Lady Dalmeny, the celebrated beauty, has just come to London for the season and is creating quite a stir.

Before her marriage she was Dorothy Grosvenor, younger daughter of Lord Henry Grosvenor, and a cousin of the present Duke of Westminster. Both Lord and Lady Dalmeny are great racegoers, his lordship having horses of his own. Lord Dalmeny is the eldest son of Lord Rosebery.

FOREING GOVERNESSES TO SUE FRENCH WRITER.

Paris, June 20—Marcel Prevost, the romancer, is making a patriotic appeal to French mothers, asking them not to employ foreign young women as governesses. He says numerous German and English girls are breaking up families all over France, while their influence on the young genration is seldom for the good of the French child.

The Association of Foreign Governesses in Paris is going to sue Marcel Prevost for damages, claiming that his reports are untrue and that his conclusions are unjustified.

SILENCING THE PHILOSOPHER.

"Yes," remarked the philosopher; "deafness is indeed a terrible affliction. But in such cases nature, you know, always provides some compensation. At any rate, if a man is deficient in one sense he usually has another abnormally developed. Now, I once knew a poor blind fellow whose sense of touch was positively uncanny. Really, it served him almost as well as eyes do a normal man."

"Sure," said the genial Irishman, who hitherto had taken no part in the discussion, "an' I've noticed that, too! There's a friend of mine, he's lame, poor chap, but he can get about almost as easily as you or I. True, one of his legs is short, but the other makes up for it by being three inches longer.

FIGHT UNSANITARY STREET CARS IN LONDON, ONT.

London, Ont., June 20.—If the Street Railway Company cars are found by Medical Health Officer Dr. Hutchinson to be in the condition alleged by Alderman Glass, who at a meeting of the City Council stated that he had found some insanitary, they will be taken from the service and ordered to the barn.

Dr. Hutchinson stated today that the management had been promising first class conditions at different intervals. "I am going to go after the company if the cars are not kept in proper sanitary condition," he stated today. "If I find a car that is not sanitary I will take it off the line and run it into the barn. The cars must be kept sanitary."

BIG GUNS BEING HAULED BY DOGS.

Brussels, June 20—The mitrailleuse—gatling guns—belonging to the Prince Baldwin Carabines are now drawn by dogs, horses having been discarded after an exhaustive trial.

Belgium and Holland are the two countries where no big dog is allowed to loaf. The same is true to some extent in Germany and France, but Belgium is the classical country for dog utility. While the cannon was drawn by horses it could follow the regiment only under favorable conditionss; the dogs can carry the cannons wherever a human foot takes hold.

As draft animals for war material they are declared a great success especially as they can be made to lie down and bury themselves in the ground when the battery is in action. The dogs are now tought to keep their mouths shut when on the march.

Thirty dogs have been added to the regiment and the German and French ministers of war sent representatives here to inquire into the cannon dog teams.

MANY OPPOSE THE NEW CURRENCY LAW

U. S. ADMINISTRATION BILL MEETS MANY OBJECTIONS IN THE SENATE.

Washington, June 20—President Wilson tonight began his conferences with the rank and file of the currency committees of the two houses of Congress. It is understood his purpose is to learn just what changes are likely to be demanded in the new Glass-Owen-McAdoo Currency bill by its present critics and opponents in the Senate and House.

Tonight the President talked at length with members of the House committee; next Wednesday he is to confer with members of the Senate committee, and on different days next week he will talk over details of the bill with Republican senators who have been closely identified with previous efforts at currency reform.

Antagonism to present action on the currency and criticism of the new bill as it has finally been agreed upon by the administration leaders became well defined among members of the Senate today. While there is no organized effort to hold up action, prominent members of the Senate Currency Committee expressed the belief that the committee as a whole does not favor the immediate passage of any bill, and that President Wilson would be urged not to demand action during the extra session.

Should Refund Bonds.

Comments on the measure by senators were guarded, but several expressed the belief that the provision asked for by Senator Owen for the retirement of national bank notes and the refunding of the 2 per cent Government bonds now securing that currency with a 3 per cent issue should have been left in the bill. The most striking criticism of the measure came from Senator Nelson, a Republican member of the currency committee.

"The bill made public by Mr. Glass seems to be but a temporary makeshift," he said, "and amounts to no more than the Aldrich-Freeland emergency currency law. It is simply a provision for emergency currency, and is more cumbrous in its machinery than the Vreeland bill. While it professes to decentralize by creating 12 or more reserve associations, yet it leaves control in the hands of a single board located here at the national capital, composed largely of government officials.

"It fails utterly to amend or improve our present system of national banks, and the system of bond secured currency appertaining to them. In other words, all the bill really attempts to do, with all its verbosity and ponderous plan, is simply to provide for emergency currency, a currency entirely different from all our other paper currency. At best it can only be looked upon as a temporary measure."

Democrats Are Cautious.

Democratic members of the committee expressed a desire to go over the measure in detail with President Wilson and so far no committee meeting has been called. The plan embodied in the measure has never been passed upon or enforced by the Senate committee; but it will furnish a basis upon which they will attempt to meet the President in case he is insistent upon legislation at this session.

"I am against the plan of central political control embodied in the bill," said Senator Hitchcock, a Democratic member of the committee, "just as I would be against a central business control of the system. I believe the regional reserve associations should be independent, as banks now are, and that the Government should limit its control to that of a supervisor over their actions, instead of dictating the rates of discount for the various reserve associations, compelling the loaning of funds to one association by another and exercising similar powers.

"The bill also, in my opinion, shows a total failure to provide any reserve for the payment of the notes the Government proposes to issue, and for which it can be required to pay out gold at any time."

INEXPENSIVE AND DURABLE CHAIR SEATS

These chair seats resemble leather and wear a long time.

Fix to chair seat a piece of tapestry carpet (wrong side of carpet up) and tack firmly to chair with common flat headed tacks.

Give seat two or three coats of dark green paint and when thoroughly dry give two coats of shellac.

Finish edges of seat with a strip of dark green leatherette half inch wide, raw edge folded under; tack on with brass headed tacks an inch and a half apart.

MODERN FAGIN IS IN POLICE TOILS

NEW YORKER MAKES AMAZING CONFESSION—HE AND HIS PUPILS STOLE $500,000.

New York, June 20—Isodore Rader, professor of burglary, made a confession this afternoon to Judge Swann. In the back of a pool room on the lower East Side, Rader says for several years he has held daily classes in stealing. His pupils and alumni, of whom he mentions many by name, have stolen half a million dollars worth of purses and merchandise, he estimates. Also, he says, they paid Central Office detectives, plain clothesmen and uniformed police thousands of dollars to avoid arrest.

A dozen or more burglars have told the police from time to time of Rader's school, but somehow he eluded arrest and kept on teaching his "trade." They got him when a favorite pupil "squaled." This afternoon he sent word to Judge Swann that he wanted to confess. Seven closely written typewritten pages, locked in the judge's desk, contain what he said.

Time and again, Justice Swann said, Rader declared, with names and dates, that he paid men in the Police Department to let him remain free. One time, Rader said, he paid only $150 to avoid arrest when caught stealing a truckload of merchandise worth $10,000.

The only time he was "stung," he said, was when a detective refused to divide a $500 reward received for recovering stolen goods. Rader says he stole the goods and, not being able to sell them, handed them over to the detective to claim the reward.

The detailed confession will not be made public until the District Attorney will have had time to investigate it.

ALEXANDRA DAY IS GREATEST TAG DAY

PREPARATIONS IN GREAT BRITAIN IN HONOR OF THE DOWAGER QUEEN.

London, June 19—On Wednesday next all England, and London particularly, will give proof of its loyalty and affection for Queen Alexandra, for June 25 will be Alexandra day, on which charity reaps its most golden harvest, and Alexandra day this year will surpass anything of the kind ever seen in this country or any other country.

In London alone 43 committees are busy making arrangements for the unique charity festival and more than 300 provincial towns and cities have joined the movement which originated from an idea which has come to us from Queen Alexandra's native country, the little kingdom of Denmark.

With a real national festival of flowers the ladies of England will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of Queen Alexandra's landing in this country and the innumerable charitable and benevolent institutions in which the Queen Mother is interested will be richer when the day is over.

It is no exaggeration to say that practically everybody in England on Alexandra day will be wearing the little wild rose which is the emblem of the day, for the central committee calculates that at least thirty millions of these little pink and white flowers will be sold, orders for half that number having already been received, and this is only from towns outside of London.

The roses are made by 300 crippled girls who have been at work on them all last winter and Queen Alexandra is informed of the progress of the movement once or twice a week.

When London awakens on Alexandra day and the people leave their homes to go to their daily task they will find 20,000 ladies dressed in white selling the roses on every street corner and one thousand delivery wagons will be busy distributing new supplies not only to the street sellers but to the hundreds of public and private buildings which will decorate their fronts with the flower dedicated to the most beloved queen England ever had.

At noon there is to be a gorgeous parade of automobiles gaily decorated with wild roses and handsome prizes will be awarded to the most tastefully decorated cars. The judges will be the Duchess of Sutherland, Hon. Arthur Stanley, chairman of the Royal Automobile Club, and Lady Wilmer Lowson, president of the Ladies' Automobile Club.

GOOD RICH MILK WHAT'S REQUIRED

TEST OF HERD IS A VITAL MATTER TO DAIRYMEN OF CANADA

The critical consumer of milk may give a snap verdict on the glass of good rich milk given him in the restaurant or at home, and may vaguely wonder what percentage of fat the milk is supposed to contain. Certain standards of richness are fixed by various countries, and by municipalities, while some purchasing companies and dealers also set a standard below which the milk must not fall.

The knowledge of the average test of the herd, interesting as it is, is not as valuable to the progressive dairyman as the knowledge of what each cow's milk tests. Whether it is 2.9, 3.4, 4.5 or 5.6 per cent of fat depends on various factors, and can only be ascertained after systematic sampling and testing. Such testing sometimes reveals curious facts. A pet cow whose "good, rich milk" was reserved for table use was recently discarded by a farmer when cow-testing proved to his dismay that her milk was nearly the poorest in the herd.

The average test of the herd is a vital matter to every dairyman whose milk is paid for at the cheese factory by the test; it is of decided importance to both creamery manager and patron when considering the by-product of skim-milk for feeding, and the loaded wagon for the cream-hauler. For two lots each of 16,500 lbs., of normal milk may contain either 500 or 900 pounds of fat; one lot is scarcely the best for cheesemaking, while the other would be "good, rich milk."

PROOF ENOUGH.

A North-countryman, charged with having set fire to a large hayrick, was defended on the ground that he was not altogether responsible for his actions. One of the witnesses testified to the belief that the prisoner was "wrang in his heid."

"Can you mention any occasion on which the prosiner behaved in a manner to warrant your statement?" he was asked by the learned counsel.

"Yes," answered the witness. "Ah knows once at work he got half a crown too much for his wage, and—"

"Well?" said counsel, as witness hesitated.

"He took it back to the manager," concluded the witness.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Quebec, May 30th, 1913.

TENDERS FOR AUTOMOBILE CARRIAGES FOR THE CHIEF AND THE DEPUTY CHIEFS OF THE FIRE DEPARTMENT.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Is hereby given that sealed tenders, endorsed: TENDERS FOR AUTOMOBILE CARRIAGES will be received by the undersigned, City Clerk's Office, from now until the 16th of June next, at four o'clock sharp, in the afternoon, to supply the City with three automobile carriages, of which one to be a "touring-car," to carry five passengers and two carriages commonly called "roadsters," each to carry two persons, a description of which now follows:

1st—The body of the carriage shall be in metal and built in such a manner as to allow space sufficient to put in cloaks, boots, helmets, etc., and all the necessary tools;

2d—The carriage shall be painted in vermillion colour, a sample of the colour to be seen in the Fire Department, City Hall.

3d—The wheel base to be not less than one hundred and twenty inches (120 ins.)

4th—The engine shall not be of less than thirty-two forces and four-tenths (32 4-10) A. L. A. M., and with four cylinders of 4½ inches (four and a half inches).

5th—The rubbers shall be four and a half (4½) by thirty-six (36) and demountable, together with an additional extra rim for the wheels.

6th—The carriages shall be equipped with electric self starters.

7th—The lighting shall be by electricity.

8th—The carriages shall be equipped with tops and wind-shields.

9th—The "roadsters" shall not carry any glass or wind shield in front, but instead shall have a search light of the same capacity as the head light on both sides of the carriage.

10th—The carriages shall carry sirenes of the same quality as those being used here, and shall be equipped with an attachment on each side for three gallon Babcock fire extinguishers and also equipped with bumpers.

11th—The contractor who shall get the contract shall guarantee the machine for two years after delivery against all defects in material and workmanship.

12th—The carriages shall be delivered within fifteen days (15) of the signing of the contract.

13th—Each tender shall enclose specification of the carriages to be supplied with a complete description thereof, and such information as is necessary to find out the real quality and value of said carriages.

14th—The tenders for automobile carriages must be drawn in conformity with the notice or call for tender.

15th—The automobiles shall be delivered by the contractor at his own expense to the City, and the price mentioned in the tender must include the cost of delivery.

16th—The tenders shall be enclosed in an envelope accompanied with an accepted cheque for the amount of deposit required, which is 10 per cent (ten per cent) of the price demanded by each tenderer for each of the said three vehicles, and each of the said envelopes shall contain on its face a receipt from the City Treasurer of said deposit.

17th—The said deposit, after the contract is awarded, shall be returned to all persons whose tender have not been accepted.

And as regards the one to whom the contract is awarded, his deposit shall be kept back by the Treasurer until full execution of the contract and after the said automobile carriages shall have been delivered and accepted.

18th—The City does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any of the tender.

19th—If all the above conditions are not fulfilled, the City shall keep back and confiscate the said deposit and reserves its recourse for damages for non delivery in satisfactory condition.

20th—The contractor shall sign the contract within three (3) days after he shall have been notified that he is awarded the contract, and he shall pay the cost of said contract and of a copy to be delivered to the City.

For further information, apply to the Chief of the Fire Brigade, City Hall.

By order,

H. J. J. B. CHOUINARD,
City Clerk.

NEAR-BRIDEGROOM WOULDN'T ADMIT POVERTY—SUICIDES.

Toronto, June 20—Fred Webster died at the General Hospital tonight. Webster was to have been married on Thursday night, but late in the afternoon was found unconscious from poison. He was taken to the hospital, but failed to regain consciousness.

Webster had represented himself as a wealthy man and apparently preferred death rather than tell his fiancee he was poor and without prospects in life.

HARVARD SWEEPS THAMES REGATTA

YALE, WITH ENGLISH STROKE, WORST DEFEATED NEW LONDON CREW IN YEARS.

New London, Conn., June 20.—For the sixth consecutive year, Harvard's varsity eight-oared crew triumphed over the Yale oarsmen in the long four mile race that closed the annual inter-university regatta here this afternoon. Preceded by the two crimson victories of the forenoon and the two wins of Thursday, it completed a Harvard sweep that has been equalled but once or twice in the long history of Yale-Harvard rowing.

Tonight bands of Cambridge students are parading the streets shouldering new brooms emblematic of the crimson sweep of the Thames River. The final defeat administered to Yale was so crushing and complete that the English stroke and rowing methods imported from Oxford are being held up to ridicule this evening, in a manner which many veteran oarsmen think unjust at this time.

Sweeping down the river with a steady and consistent stroke Harvard crossed the finish line eleven lengths ahead of the blue in 21 minutes and 21 seconds. The Eli eight rolled and splashed across in Harvard's wake 38 seconds later, as badly defeated a crew as has been seen on the Thames River course in some years.

Race a Procession.

Except during the first mile the race was merely a procession, with the Crimson oarsmen increasing their lead steadily. It was not that the Yale sweep swingers broke, or failed to get speed out of their English stroke, but Harvard surpassed them in every department of the art of rowing. Using a trifle quicker stroke, Coach Wray's pupils drove their long knife-like racing craft through the water at a faster pace and with less lost motion, yet in the end they failed to show the symptoms of excessive exhaustion that marked the finish of the blue.

During the last half mile of the race Harvard maintained a fast pace, finishing with a racing sprint that carried the stroke up to 40 to the minute. As the shell slid across the finish the oarsmen dropped their sweeps and slapped each other on the back and then waved to friends who were chanting the long drawn out Harvard cheer. Far back in the rut came the Yale eight, rolling and ragged, the shell barely crawling through the water and (the oars trailing and splashing as the men went automatically through the motions of rowing without either catch or snap to their blade work. As the shell drifted under the railroad bridge, Stroke Crocker and Lippincott at No. 7 toppled forward, while in the middle of the craft Philbin at No. 4 was so exhausted that he reeled out of alignment, sagging the shell dangerously before he could recover his balance.

Criticize English Stroke.

So far as the English stroke as taught by advisory coaches Kirby and Gold of Oxford was concerned, the Yale oarsmen appeared to get considerable power and speed into both blade and slide early in the race, but when the crucial test came, at the mile and a half mark, the period of coaching was too short for them to hold letter perfect, under the strain. Slowly but surely faults began to creep into the individual work of oarsman after oarsman, until during the last mile it was simply a case of every man rowing for himself without either rhythm or form so far as the crew man in front of him was concerned.

Speaking of the efforts and resultant effects of Yale crew in connection with the English stroke, a famous amateur oarsman said last night:

"The stroke taught by Messrs. Kirby and Gold is all right in itself, but it is not adapted for use by American crews except after a most gruelling and lengthy preparatory course of training preceding the actual work in the shell. The strain upon the stomach and loin muscles is terrific and no crew, in my opinion, can go four miles with that stroke unless they are specially fitted by several years of preliminary work for the muscular strain that the stroke imposes."

This opinion, backed by statements from former Varsity oarsmen to the effect that it would take several years before Yale could expect satisfactory results from the new system, was borne out by the Yale showing in today's race.

How Race Was Rowed.

Starting with a 36 to the minute stroke the Eli oarsmen jumped into the lead at the very flash of the oars. For a moment the bow of the blue shell showed in front across the mirror-like surface of the Thames and then the Harvard forty to the minute clip began to tell. It was nip and tuck for a few hundred yards and then the Crimson eight rowed slowly into a fair lead on the west course. The Eli combination appeared to get more power from its blade work, though they were stroking four less to the minute than Harvard. It was between the half and the mile mark that Yale made its best showing. They battled their way to even terms again just at the mile flags and that was Yale's last stand in the contest.

From that point the Blue slipped gradually back, first a few inches and then a few feet, until finally the margin reached lengths and Yale slipped into the oblivion that swallows up losing crews.

At the mile and a half flags Harvard showed open water before Yale and Crocker, the Yale stroke, was using a most exaggerated stroke, his head almost disappearing between the gunwal as he reached forward and finishing with a backward tilt that threatened to throw him into the lap of Lippincott, No. 7. Still stroking 36 to Yale's 32, Harvard had a lead of two and a half lengths at the two miles and gained steadily thereafter. Half a mile beyond the Navy Yard four shell lengths separated the two crews and another was added before the leaders entered the final mile.

Yale Fades Away.

Yale faded away completely in the last quarter of the course and with the yacht sirens wailing and cannons booming, Harvard, now confident winners, swept down the long lane of gaily decorated craft while the Blue eight, beaten and blinded by the strain, splashed and gasped at the water with their sweeps in a pitiful attempt to finish a race in a fashion befitting the athletic traditions of Yale. Half a mile from the bridge Harvard dropped her stroke to 32, yet at that led by six lengths and then in the final burst of victory hit it up again to 40 while eleven lengths behind the Blue was wavering even at 26 strokes per minute.

After the race there were Harvard enthusiasts who, carried away with the joy of winning, stated that had Yale been able to give the crimson eight a real fight the 1913 crew would have broken the course record of 20 minutes 10 seconds made by Yale in 1888. Whether this statement was so or not, the fact remains that it was an ideal day for such an attempt. The course for the four miles was like a mirror and there was hardly enough breeze to ripple the flags along the course.

The official times of the two crews by half miles was as follows:

Half mile—Harvard, 2:27; Yale, 2:35½.

Mile—Harvard, 5:11; Yale, 5:12½.

Mile and a half—Harvard, 8:02; Yale, 8:04.

Two miles—Harvard, 10:41; Yale, 10:49.

Two and a half miles—Harvard, 13:13; Yale, 13:29.

Three miles—Harvard, 16:07; Yale, 16:29.

Three and a half miles—Harvard, 18:59; Yale, 19:21.

Four miles and finish—Harvard, 21:42; Yale, 22:20.

PRESENTATION TO CHIEF STEWARD OF EMPRESS.

A pleasant function took place on board the R. M. S. Empress of Ireland yesterday, as she was on the way up from Rimouski to Quebec.

Before leaving England on his present trip, the popular Chief Steward, Mr. A. W. Gaade joined the army of benedicts, taking for his helpmeet, Miss Brown, a former stewardess on the steamer.

Yesterday Mr. Gaade was invited into his room to meet some friends who wished to discuss a certain important matter with him. On reaching the room he was surprised to see the representatives of the Customs and Immigration Departments, Canadian and United States, Post Office and Railway companies who are in the habit of going up and down between Rimouski and Quebec, assembled there. As soon as he entered the door was closed, and Mr. George Moore, City Passenger Agent of the C. P. R. stepped forward and in a neat address presented Mr. Gaade with three sets of carvers—meat, fish and game—concluding by wishing Mr. and Mrs. Gaade a long and happy voyage over the sea of life.

Mr. Gaade was more than surprised, but on gaining his composure, thanked the donors for their valuable and unexpected gift.

Mr. M. K. Bolger, of H. M. Customs, in a feeling as well as a witty address, proposed long life, health and happiness to Mr. and Mrs. Gaade.

This was drunk with Highland honors, the company singing "For they are jolly Good Fellows." After again congratulating the bridegroom, the party broke up.

BULGARIA NOW SENDS ULTIMATUM TO GREECE

London, June 20—Bulgaria, in a note sent to Greece, has assumed the same attitude that she took in her voluminous note addressed to the Servian Government yesterday. The note says Bulgaria declines to cease the concentration of her troops on the Greek lines or to demobilize her forces unless Greece consents to a joint occupation of the disputed territory.

According to reports current at Saloniki, Bulgaria will require another ten days to complete the concentration of her forces against Servia and Greece. Numerous small skirmishes between the opposing armies are reported.

ONE ALDERMAN TO EACH WARD LAUIGUEUR PLAN

A letter from Hon. R. Turner, asking the Council to increase the annual civic grant to the Lake Edward Sanitarium from $1,000 to $2,000 was referred to the Finance Committee.

A petition was also read from a number of residents of Cote d.Abraham, requesting the civic authorities to remove the small park opposite the Patronage school, as the park is objectionable, owing to the parties who meet there every evening.

When the report of the Finance Committee, recommending a grant of $250 to the citizens committee for the entertainment of the International Geological delegates who are to attend the annual convention at Toronto came up for consideration, Ald. Fiset objected to the city spending money entertaining delegates who were only passing through the city to attend conventions elsewhere and he was supported by Ald. Lavigueur, while Ald. Trudel favored the grant. When the application made by Sir George Garneau was read, the Council agreed to adopt the report.

HIT BY STRAY BULLET.

Moscow, Ont., June 20—A girl, aged 11, and a boy, aged 7, children of Thomas Mills, were walking along the railway track near here today when they heard the report of a gun and a bullet passed through the boy's body, just missing his heart. There is little hope of his recovery.

MONTREAL TO USE OIL TO LAY STREET DUST

Montreal, June 20.—The city is, at last, to make some serious attempt to repress the dust nuisance. Orders have been given by the Road Department for 10,000 gallons of oil, of which delivery is expected this week. The oil will be used on macadamized streets only.

The price paid is nine cents per gallon, a gallon being rather more than sufficient to treat two square yards of road.

AGUINALDO'S SON IN JAPAN SEEKING HELP?

Tokio, June 21—The newspapers here report the arrival in Tokio of John Aguinaldo, son of Emilio Aguinaldo, the former Filipino revolutionary leader. They say he wore Japanese dress and came to Tokio secretly, being followed later by a suite composed of three Filipinos. The newspapers reflect the impression which obtains in some quarters that Aguinaldo has come to Japan to take advantage of the negotiations between Japan and the United States to secure the liberation of the Philippines from American rule.

A despatch from Tokio, June 17, said reports from Kobe announced the arrival of Aguinaldo in that city on his way to Tokio. It added that in Kobe, Aguinaldo conferred with several Japanese and that in some quarters it was believed his visit had to do with a movement for the independence of the Philippines. The Foreign Office at Tokio said it had no knowledge whatever of Aguinaldo.

ELECTRIC STORM SPREADS HAVOC IN PENNSYLVANIA

Philadelphia, June 20.—An unusual thunderstorm preceded by wind of great velocity and accompanied by a tremendous downpour of rain visited this city for a few minutes tonight after inflicting death and destruction throughout eastern Pennsylvania. Wire service for several hours was practically at a standstill. Considerable damage was also done in southern New Jersey and Delaware.

Paul Smith, 14 years old, was blown out of a cherry tree in Pottsville and instantly killed.

In this city the greatest damage was done in the northeastern section, where trolley wires were blown down and traffic was suspended for more than an hour. Telegraph and telephone poles and wires were blown down in many sections and a number of people were injured by falling signs and loose bricks blown from chimneys.

For two minutes before the arrival of the rain the wind blew with a velocity of 59 miles an hour, the greatest recorded by the weather bureau since 1899. At times the rain fall amounted to .8 of an inch per minute, an inch and a quarter falling in less than half an hour.

MONEY AS TIGHT IN ENGLAND AS ANYWHERE

Montreal, June 20.—"Money is quite as tight in England as elsewhere and it will remain so until the Balkan trouble is thoroughly cleared up. It is hard to say what will happen in the Near East, but if the great powers remain in accord they can possibly bring sufficient pressure to bear to ensure amicable relations," said Sir William Whyte on his return to Canada tonight, after a three months tour of Great Britain. "Trade continues very good," he added, "and conditions in general, despite some financial stringency, are prosperous."

Sir William said that as far as Canada was concerned there was a definite sentiment in England that some of the cities had been borrowing somewhat too fast and that for a time at least the flow of English capital would be less rapid. He considered that the action of the Liberal party in the matter of the navy bill would not have, as some thought, very much influence on the British investing public. "It will doubtless influence some," he said, "but the great financial houses will not be affected. After all, there is no use cutting off one's nose to spite one's face."

The lunatic was finally overpowered, but not before he had been badly injured by a crowd of enraged people who were attracted to the schoolhouse by the shooting. The police were compelled to use their sabres in order to protect the murderer from death at the hands of the mob.

Ten automatic pistols were found in Schmidt's pockets. Most of these had been fired until their chambers were empty. As there was no question that Schmidt was violently insane he was committed to an asylum.

SYLVIA PANKHURST WANTS STICK AND STONE MOB.

London, June 20—In a speech tonight at Limehouse, an eastern quarter of London, Sylvia Pankhurst, advocated an army of women, armed with sticks and stones, marching from the East End of London to Westminster to demand the vote.

MANSLAUGHTER VERDICT FOR GRAVES BROTHERS.

Halifax., N. S. June 20—The trial of the three Graves brothers, charged with the murder of Kenneth Lee, in June of last year, was concluded at Bridgetown today, and the jury brought in a verdict of manslaughter. They were convicted of murder last year and sentenced to death, but their counsel succeeded in securing a second trial for them. They will be sentenced tomorrow.

PRINCE ALBERT TO FISH SALMON IN NEWFOUNDLAND

St. John's, Nfld., June 20—With the second son of King George of England aboard as a cadet, the British warship Cumberland arrived off St. George's, on the west coast, today for a weeks salmon fishing. A special train has been placed at the disposal of the captain for use in conveying the officers and Prince Albert Frederick to the salmon pools each day and bringing them back at night.

For a week the vessel will remain at St. George's and then on June 28, will come to St. John's where she will stay five days, during which the citizens will carry out a program of entertainment arranged in the Prince's honor.

DENY THAT PELKY HAD ANYTHING IN HIS GLOVES

Calgary, Alb., June 20—After five hours had been given over to medical testimony in the Pelky trial this afternoon, the last few witnesses, including three sporting editors and advertising managers of the local papers, were examined briefly by counsel for the presecution.

One man was asked to tell how Pelky bound his hands with the bandages before putting on the gloves, and the electric tape was produced in court. After repeated questioning by the counsel he swore that Pelky had put nothing else inside his gloves. The last witness was a mounted policeman, who said that McCarty did not look well when in the ring and he was sluggish, while Pelky was active in the contest. McCarty was yellowinh in color and looked far from well. This concluded the evidence for the day and the only other evidence for the crown will be that of Dr. Moshier, who will be recalled.

The morning session was occupied with the taking of medical evidence.

Glace Bay, N.S., June 20—The charred remains of Mrs. Jerry Toomey were found this afternoon near a shack in which she lived in the woods near St. Joseph's Hospital. The shack was burned to the ground and the woods caught fire. How the woman met her death is not known, as she was alone at the time of teh fatality. An inquest was opened tonight.

SCHOOL YEAR ENDS FOR GIRLS' HIGH

LADY PRINCIPAL'S REPORT SHOWS GRATIFYING RESULTS—PRIZE LIST.

The closing exercises of the Girls' High School took place last night when a most interesting program was rendered by the different classes. The report of the lady principal showed that the attendance was quite up to the average for other years, in spite of the exodus of many English-speaking families. Emphasis was laid upon the tact and consideration of the Board of Commissioners, the good will of the teaching staff and the constant loyalty of the pupils to the highest ideals of the school. The quality of the work done during the year was satisfactory beyond the average and so diligently have the pupils applied themselves to their tasks that the number of promotions is unusually large.

One of the distinguishing facts of the past year has been the assistance given to backward pupils or those who from any reason were in need of special assistance. The value of this experiment has been so clearly established that the board has sanctioned its becoming a regulation for the year 1913-14.

Following is the prize list:

I. PREPARTORY.

Class A.

Estelle Young, first prize for promotion.

Class B.

OPPOSITION TO NEW ARBITRATION ACT

Washington, June 20—Vigorous opposition from the new Department of Labor to the proposed arbitration and mediation act, prepared by the railroads and railroad brotherhoods for enactment by Congress, was voiced today when the measure was presented to a joint session of the House and Senate Interstate Commerce committees.

Secretary Wilson appeared at the joint hearing late in the day and criticized the new measure as going beyond the necessities of the hour. He promised to file a brief with the committee later. He suggested that the only emergency legislation needed was to increase the size of the board of mediators under the Erdman act. This, he said, could be effected by an amendment to the act rather than by substituting a new one for it. He was not in favor of creating a bureau of mediation.

Seth Low, president of the new civic federation, had informed the committees that the railroads and brotherhood had agreed on a new bill which would create a commissioner of mediation and conciliation, appointed by and responsible only to the President. The commissioner, with two designated government officials, would constitute a board of mediation and concilation, to whom matters of dispute could be referred. Mr. Low had said the present act, designating the Commissioner of Labor, now a subordinate in the Department of Labor, and a member of the Commerce Court as mediators, was not designed to meet modern conditions.

Replying to Secretary Wilson's statements, Mr. Low declared the parties interested wanted this board of mediation and conciliation constituted in a certain way and would use it only if satisfied with it. He suggested the Government might well wait until the act was passed and then have it amended if it should be found necessary.

Mr. Low insisted that the movement was of tremendous importance in American industrial circles and that the bill should be passed immediately. He added that he was uncertain as to whether the railroads and the brotherhoods would agree to the secretary's suggestion.

The two committees will continue consideration of the bill, but there has been no intimation as to whether either expects to report it during the extra session of Congress.

AUSTRALIAN CABINET RESIGNS, LIBERALS WIN

Melbourne, Australia, June 20—The Australian Federal Premier, the Right Hon. Andrew Fisher, and the Cabinet resigned today as a result of the recent elections in which the Liberals obtained a majority of one over the Labor party in the Federal House of Representatives.

The Right Hon. Andrew Fisher had been Premier of the Australian Federation since April, 1910, when the Labor party came into power.

The general elections, held on June 1, caused great excitement owing to the closeness of the contest. There were several women candidates, all of whom were defeated.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER PLANS TOUR OF QUEBEC.

Toronto, June 20—A Globe Ottawa special says:

Sir Wilfrid Laurier intends to tour Ontario and Quebec and address a series of meetings in each province before the next session of Parliament opens. The meetings will probably begin during the latter part of August and continue during September.

Sir Wilfrid will spend the next few months at the Capital and holidaying with friends probably in the mountains of the New England States.

His residence at Arthabaskaville is being enlarged and greatly improved this summer, and the Liberal leader hopes to spend quietly there a considerable part of the succeeding summer.

WOMAN SLEPT 32 YEARS.

When She Awakened She Was in Apparently Good Health.

London, June 16.—Among the problems which have baffled modern doctors and scientists is that presented by people who have fallen into trances and remained asleep for a number of years, defying all the efforts of the greatest savants to awaken them from their heavy slumbers. One of the most remarkable of these cases is that of Caroline Ollson, a native of the little island of Okuo, off the coast of Sweden, who fell asleep in 1875 and did not awake until 1907.

The case was recently discovered by Dr. Frederstrom of Paris, who made a detailed examination of the case. It appears that for the first time in fourteen years of her life, Carolina Ollson was in perfect health. Then she fell ill and ultimately sank into a trance from which no one could awaken her. Food was artificially administered, and for years she exhibited no interest in anyone or anything. Then suddenly she awoke, and the most careful examination failed to reveal the slightest weakness or mental defect. Since then she has enjoyed exceptionally good health.

Another Long Sleeper.

This seems to be the longest nap on record, although there have been several instances of sleeps lasting twenty-four years. Another case in which the sleeper regained normal health is that reported from Minnesota, where a German some time ago completed a sleep which, with the exception of a solitary week, continued for twenty-three years. He went to sleep quite naturally one night, but the following morning remained in bed, and from that time for over a score of years he scarcely ever awoke of his own accord. He used to be roused once a day in order to be fed with his diet, consisting of a little milk, which was poured down his throat. Immediately this was done he was fast asleep again.

Doctors utterly failed either to account for this or to arouse him thoroughly, and not even an electric shock would awaken him. Ultimately he awoke of his own accord and soon regained his lost strength.

Caused by Practical Joke.

Equally remarkable was the case of Margaret Bonyenval, the "Dormouse of Menelles," as she was known, who, after being in a trance for twenty years, died in 1903. In 1883, when 21 years of age, she became unconscious as the result of a practical joke played upon her by a friend and was never again aroused from her comatose state. She was fed by a tube, and after a time became the most talked of woman on the continent. Medical celebrities from all over the world visited her, but failed to diagnose her particular case or bring about any remedy. In another case a young woman who had been asleep for seventeen years awoke suddenly at the sound of a bell which she imagined had been rung for breakfast.

PRINCE ERNST AND BRIDE GOING TO WINDSOR

(Special Dispatch.)
London, June 21.

REPORTS have been spread, though it seems without any foundation, that Prince Ernst of Cumberland and his bride were to come to London before the end of their honeymoon; but it is settled that they shall see the King and Queen before the end of the year, probably in the early part of November. They will then be at Windsor, and there will be shooting in the Great Forest.

Though the call is to be of an entirely private character, it is understood that the Duke and Duchess of Brunswick, as the young couple will have by that time become, will pay the customary semi-state visit to London, and will lunch with the Lord Mayor and the City Corporation at the Guildhall. Before they return to Germany they will travel to Sandringham, there to stop with Queen Alexandra for several days. The Duke of Brunswick will be gazetted to the colonelcy of one of the British regiments while he is in England, and the Ninth Lancers are named as likely to receive this honor.

It is now stated as probable that the meeting of the King and Queen and Tsar later in the year, which was in the first place rumored as likely to be in June, will take place during the middle of August. Though no confirmation has yet reached Buckingham Palace of the announcement, it is understood in court circles that the meeting will take place. Present information is to the effect that the King and Queen and the Tsar will travel on their respective yachts to the coast of Finland, and will prolong their stop sufficiently to remain a few days with Queen Alexandra and the Empress Marie of Russia at their villa on the outskirts of Copenhagen. The King and Queen, it is understood, will be accompanied by their three elder children, the Prince of Wales, Princess Mary and Prince Albert, and will be away from England about three weeks in all.

Like most of the royal family, Princess Mary is fond of all animals, but especially of dogs. A picturesque little Italian greyhound is her special favorite, and it is with this in her lap that most of her recent photographs have been taken. The little dog goes with her everywhere and is permitted to live indoors. Princess Mary has also a couple of handsome Persian cats from the catteries of Princess Victoria of Schleswig-Holstein, who owns some of the finest felines in the kingdom. Like Queen Alexandra, Princess Mary has befriended many a stray animal which was lucky enough to meander near Buckingham Palace.

THE DUKE AND THE CADET.

The Duke of Connaught carries no side and is approachable by practically anybody. One morning as his Royal Highness was approaching the front of Buckingham Palace he was accosted by one of the California cadets, who was anxious to visit some of the museums and places of interest in London and asked the Duke if he could give him a few hints. Certainly he could and would gladly do so, but meantime he would like to know who his questioner was, why he appeared doubtful about the geography of London and whether, as seemed probable to His Highness, he was a Canadian.

The Duke asked many questions, showed keen interest in the cadet movement and casually mentioned that he knew "something about soldiering." After a long chat he conducted the youth to the front of the palace, the better to point out the direction of some of the "sights," and then left with a cheery farewell.

A policeman asked the lad if he knew to whom he had been talking. "Well, no," was the reply, "except that he was a very nice, pleasant man." On hearing that he had been enlisting the services of the royal Governor General of Canada the cadet expressed his gratification and added frankly, "If I had known who he was I don't think I should have ventured to speak to him, but he is real nice, and I am ever so glad I did."

Invitations are again being given at the shortest notice. The telephone is constantly called into account, as it saves time and trouble, besides simplifying things. Moreover, it obviates dates clashing, which hostesses dread more than anything else. The average dance of the season is ending so far somewhat earlier than in other years, which is put down to the example set by the King and Queen in their regard for early hours. At the same time there have been some very gay and late affairs before the breaking up of which early breakfasts have been served. Even fragile débutantes have partaken of strong coffee, grilled cutlets and bacon and eggs before leaving. One of the sen. le characteristics about most débutantes of to-day is that they have appetites and are not ashamed to own it.

Fashion is fickle as to churches for smart weddings. Just now the churches most in favor are the Guards' Chapel, St. Paul's, Knightsbridge, and St. Margaret's, Westminster. A wedding in the choir of Westminster Abbey has taken place only once this year—that of the Honorable W. and Lady Beatrice Ormsby-Gore. The Dukes of Northumberland have the right for themselves and their families of marriage and burial in the Abbey. In olden days St. George's, Hanover square, was the chosen church. In it, for instance, took place the weddings of all the daughters of the seventh Duke of Marlborough, of whom remain the Dowager Duchess of Roxburghe, Lady Wimborne, Lady de Ramsey and Lady Sarah Wilson. At one time there was a fancy for St. Peter's, Cranley Gardens, as its vicar, then the Honorable and Rev. Francis Byngg, now Lord Stratford, was noted for his fine voice and appearance, which lent a grace to the marriage ceremonial.

BACHELOR HOSTS IN LONDON.

Bachelor hosts are a power in London. They have the art of life at their finger tips, keep perfect servants, have the best of wines and cuisine and their dinners are noted for smartness and for a spirit of jollity and freedom. Among the bachelor hosts of to-day are Prince Arthur of Connaught, Lord Winterton, Lord Milner, Lord Hugh Cecil, Lord Revelstoke, Mr. Alfred de Rothschild, Mr. William Gillett, of Bachelors' Club fame, and the Marquis de Soveral, formerly Minister for Portugal.

Lord Revelstoke gives dinners and dances for royalty; Mr. de Rothschild has concerts at which Mme. Melba sings at his house in Seamore place, and the prettiest women in London may be seen in his pit tier box at Covent Garden; Mr. Gillett is noted for his radium parties and of late his luncheons at the Ritz Hotel.

The horsed equipage is more in evidence in Hyde Park than it was last season. It is probable that it will always have a vogue for park parades, as the automobiles move too quickly and their occupants cannot see or be seen as well. The champions of the old style are only hoping that the King will show himself in the park one day driving a mail phaeton. That, they say, would give a decisive lead to fashion.

Hotel keeping is a favorite hobby of some royalties and a good many society folk. The Duke Carl Theodore of Bavaria has a hotel at Tegernsee, a few miles south of Munich. In England there is Lady Aberdeen, who is president of the Green Lady Hostel, a hotel for working people, at Littlehampton. Lady Augusta Orr-Ewing, the widowed daughter of Lord and Lady Glasgow, has a first rate hotel for golfers at Dunskey, her home at Portpatrick, in Wigtownshire. Lady Burton and her husband, Mr. Baillie, of Dochfour, have built and fitted out a splendid modern hotel at Aviemore, from which can be seen the Cairngorm Range and some of the finest scenery in Inverness-shire. Lord Dunraven keeps a hotel for golfers close to Adare Manor, his place in Limerick. Lord Leitrim owns the Rosapenna Hotel, at Mulroy Bay, which was designed in Stockholm and built of wood in Scandinavian fashion, and Lord Inchiquin has a hotel at Arranmore, near his place at Miltown-Malbay, in Ireland. Lord Claud Hamilton is interested in the Sandringham Hotel, at Hunstanton, as is the Honorable Douglas Tollemache in the Felix Hotel, Felixtowe.

A very old and picturesque Highland custom, which has the warm approbation of Lord Kingsburgh, is being revived at many of the Highland and Scottish gatherings. Each officer of a society in Highland dress approaches the chairman, crosses dirks with him, then places the dirk to his lips and finally salutes with the blade at his forehead. It is the survival of an ancient clan system which implied faithfulness and loyalty to the clan chieftain.

SOCIETY BREAKFASTS NOW IN HYDE PARK

(Special Dispatch.)
London, June 21.

BREAKFAST in Hyde Park was invented by society last year on its way home from the fancy dress balls at the Albert Hall, and on any sunny morning now well known persons may be seen taking their morning meal at little tables under the trees in the park.

Having found the open air Continental lunch at the Ring House, the Hyde Park restaurant, due to the enterprise of Mr. "Lulu" Harcourt, very good, and afternoon tea under the trees a joy, society is now experimenting in breakfast and supper in the open. The simple coffee and rolls served to the smart Parisienne in the Bois are supplemented in the London version by bacon and eggs, fish and even something from the grill.

The strange thing is that the pleasure of al fresco meals in the Park seems only to be appreciated by society folk and foreigners. Very few ordinary Londoners go there and fewer provincials. Even Hindus and negroes are to be seen enjoying the facilities provided by a beneficent government, while the ratepayers' wives and daughters are scrambling to get seats in the hot, crowded teashops of Piccadilly.

The first turnout of the Coaching Club will occur on the last day of this month at the Magazine, Hyde Park, when the coaches will be driven to Hurlingham. There will be a second turnout at the same place on Saturday, July 5, when the drive will be to Ranelagh. Lord Desbrough, the president, who is more catholic in his sporting tastes and interests than probably any other Englishman living, had intended to resign, but at the unanimous wish of his fellow members he has consented to continue as president for another year. Mr. Alan Lupton, Mr. Richard Budgett and Lord Hollander have been chosen to fill the vacancies on the committee, and Mr. Stanley Brotherhood and Captain the Honorable E. H. Wyndham, of the First Life Guards, have been elected members of the club, a distinction much sought after.

Daring Burglary Causes a Feeling of Insecurity

(Special Dispatch.)
London, June 21.

THE proverbial nine days has not been enough to exhaust the interest, or consternation, over the daring burglary at the Berkeley Hotel in the small hours of the morning while exactly opposite society was still dancing at the Ritz Hotel. It is remarked upon as strange that no one heard anything unusual, and it came as a great shock to many next morning to learn that they had been dancing within a stone's throw of a desperate affair of the sort.

It gives, besides, such a sense of insecurity to feel that even so high class and ably conducted a hotel as the Berkeley may be burglarized under the very eyes of the Piccadilly police. There never has been a time, it is said, when women possessed finer jewels or had such difficulty in keeping them. Even men are wearing far more than they used to, and on going abroad, for instance, it is quite customary for both husband and wife to insure their belongings in the way of jewelry.

Every species of project for the keeping of what they have got is resorted to by women of fashion. As a rule a jewel case, if used at all, is carried by its owner herself, not her maid, when travelling, and is then chained to her wrist. A special very deep and long shaped bag is used by many women, but others discard the old form of case and use specially made "rolls" with tiny pockets for each ring or pendant or ornament, and have the innocent looking roll packed among other things.

A well known racing man, however, whose wife had suggested not long ago that his collection of tie pins be packed in this way had the whole lot stolen from registered luggage on a train de luxe; so it is difficult to know whether it is best to trust to luck and the boredom of a chained bag like a bank messenger or to the hazards of train thieves. Men wear not only valuable tie pins with really large stones, such as some years ago distinguished money lenders or particularly dashing stock brokers, but the harmless looking pearl buttons which adorn their shirt fronts are often as costly.

Channel Tunnel Scheme Has Prospect of Success

Changed Conditions Win Many Opponents to Favor It Now and London Chamber of Commerce Promises to Make Strong Endeavor to Influence House of Commons.

WELL KNOWN AVIATOR IS A STRONG ADVOCATE.

(Special Dispatch.)
London, June 21.

PROMOTERS of the Channel tunnel scheme, so often revived and shelved, think there never was a time so propitious as the present for reviving it and carrying it to a successful issue. Relations between England and France were never more friendly, and even Germany, since the British sovereigns were present at the wedding of the Kaiser's only daughter, seems disposed to look upon England with more "friendly rivalry."

The London Chamber of Commerce is taking up the matter once more, and will make a strong endeavor to influence the House of Commons in its favor. The Lord Mayor and nearly all the mayors of London boroughs, the mayors of Hackney, Finsbury, Holborn, St. Pancras and Islington believe that it would be a boon to commerce generally, and that all the old arguments against the tunnel are dead.

Mr. Claude Grahame-White, the aviator, discussing the subject, has put the matter in quite a new light.

"In the days, more than thirty years ago," he said, "when a tunnel connecting England and France was first suggested, there were various strong arguments—military, naval and political—against it. But these have all disappeared now, largely through the coming of the aeroplane.

"To-day it is as simple a matter to enter England from France by aeroplane as it is to cross the Channel in the orthodox manner, and, consequently, the old argument that England's strength lay in her isolation is largely done away with. In considering flying in this connection it is as well to look ahead a little. It may be said that a heavier than air machine can carry only two or three people, whereas a Channel tunnel could pour a continuous stream of hundreds and thousands into England.

"A Channel tunnel will be constructed some day—there can be no doubt about that. For arugment's sake let us say in ten years. What about the aeroplane in ten years. I firmly believe there will be heavier than air machines then which will compare with the Mauretania in size and for the number of people they can carry. It is only a question of more power. Instead of having an engine of 100-horse power we shall get them of 10,000-horse power and more.

"When that day arrives it will not make the slightest difference whether there is a tunnel or no tunnel between England and the Continent in so far as fears of invasion are concerned. In 1920 all that will concern us from the point of view of national safety will be to see that we are better equipped in the air than any other Power. From the point of view of saving time and for commercial purposes there can be no two questions concerning a Channel tunnel. It should be constructed as speedily as possible."

Sir George Birdwood is another supporter of the scheme.

"I am entirely for the tunnel," he said. "If France, to-day with us, were to-morrow at one with Germany, where should we be, unless behind our navy there were an army effective for offence? Our reliance through five hundred years on the royal navy as a sure and infallible security against invasion has lulled England into a sense of false security against invasion, which in the altered circumstances of to-day is a grave danger, and the awakening out of that deadly dream by the construction of a Channel tunnel would be of the greatest good to the country.

"The tunnel all the while would also be promoting personal intercourse between the peoples of Germany and France and England, and inspiring a sense of closer brotherhood among them and a truer and deeper regard for justice and righteousness among themselves and toward all men; that, after all, is the only reliable guarantee of international security and peace and honor."

"If the Channel tunnel were constructed," said Mr. A. F. Bird, M. P., "it would be equal to an additional fleet of dreadnoughts and armored cruisers, because we should be secure against all possibility of being starved out. Again, is the manhood of a nation of 45,000,000 people so deteriorated that it could not defend a hole in the ground 26 feet in diameter? I consider that the time is ripe for the Channel tunnel. The advantages are so obvious that any opposition, in my opinion, is most unpatriotic."

"I have always believed in the channel tunnel," said Mr. Russell Rea, M. P. "From the point of national safety the objections to it—from the beginning in the days of Sir Edward Watkin—are, in my opinion, an entire bugbear. Both England and France would reap great benefit in trade and intercourse."

Captain D. V. Pirie, M. P., says:—"I am an enthusiast for the Channel tunnel. I am very glad to think that public opinion is coming back to a sane view on the matter, and is no longer being carried away by temporary panic. When distinguished soldiers like Sir Reginald Talbot express decided views it ought to be sufficient to allay public anxiety. The tunnel from England to France would remedy what has proved the worst public service between any two capitals, and in every respect would be a splendid thing."

Superstition Is Hard to Kill

Giving of Old Fashioned Remedies Still Prevails Instead of Sending for a Physician.

(Special Dispatch.)
London, June 21.

OLD women's "remedies" die hard. Indeed it is most difficult to kill them, despite the better education and the greater knowledge that people are supposed to have acquired in this, the twentieth century. Every day one comes across instances where old-fashioned remedies—or supposed remedies—are resorted to in preference to sending for a physician, and where fatal results attend these amateur practices and superstitions.

At an inquest in London the other day it was reported that a mother had administered saffron and brandy to her ten months old child, which was suffering from measles. The Coroner, who is a physician, told the mother that the mixture was not of the slighest use, and turning to the jury he expressed his ignorance as to how saffron got its fame as a cure for measles. Though it was in general use all over the country, it was perfectly useless. The foreman of the jury seemed to know something of the subject, for he ventured to impart the astounding information that nine mothers out of ten administer the same thing as a cure for measles. Yet these are the days of national insurance and free medical attendance.

Some other quaint remedies that were popular once were described the same evening by Dr. F. M. Sandwith Gresham, professor of physics, in a lecture at the City of London School.

Tiger's flesh and new born puppies were among the old remedies. One book recommended a live spider to be rolled in butter and formed into a pill and then swallowed as an antidote to jaundice. A broth made from vipers was said to strengthen the eyesight. In the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries powdered mummies were prescribed, and so great was the demand that fraud led to more mummies being supplied than ever came out of Egypt.

One old book recommended the plant called "Solomon's seal" for the taking away in one night of the blackness of bruises "caused by falls of women's wilfulness in tumbling upon hasty husband's fists, or such like."

Not at All.

"Did Mr. Cumso seem annoyed at your calling with his bill?" asked Mr. Gaskett of his new collector.

"No, sir," replied the young man; "on the contrary, he asked me to call again."

Scott Art Works Are To Be Sold

Four Wonderful Panels of Beauvais Tapestry and Several Miniature Clocks in the Collection.

(Special Dispatch.)
London, June 21.

WHEN the French decorative objects and furniture and collection of porcelain and tapestry which belonged to the late Sir John E. A. Murray Scott are sold at Christie's during the last week of this month much interest is sure to centre in the four panels of Beauvais tapestry with which the first of the three days' sale will close.

They are 7 ft. 10½ in. high and 6 ft. 2½ in. wide, and each is finely woven, with a pastoral scene viewed through a foliated arch, at the base of which is a stone balustrade, while at the side are growing hollyhock plants in full flower. The tops of the arches are richly festooned with colored flowers.

The subject of the first panel is a group comprising a pheasant, crane and parrot, beside fruit and vegetables; the second represents a cock, hen and chickens in the foreground of a landscape, with a building and trees in the distance; the third shows a dog, lamb and doves; and the fourth two swans, a duck and ducklings swimming in a pool, on the edge of which bulrushes are growing.

Among the miniatures, of which there are a dozen fine specimens, there is one, painted after the manner of Charlier, depicting Leda seated in a landscape, holding flowers and looking down at Jupiter metamorphosed into the swan at her side. Another is by R. Cosway, R. A., of Maria Fagniani, wife of the third Marquis of Hertford, with powdered curling hair and wearing a black dress with white fichu, coral and pearl necklaces. Another by Cosway is of a gentleman with powdered hair, dark blue coat with velvet collar and white cravat.

A Louis XVI. clock by Lepaute, of Paris, is contained in a case formed as an oviform vase of gros-bleu Sèvres porcelain, mounted with ormolu neck, and handles formed as caryatid figures of nymphs.

Another Louis XVI. clock, 28 inches high, also with a Lepaute movement, is in a vase shaped white marble case, with white enamel revolving dials. The handles are formed as bronze figures of twisted serpents, while at one side stands a bronze Cupid pointing the hour. Another, with movement by Maniers, of Paris, is in a drum shaped ormolu case, with figures of a nymph playing upon a lyre and a youth playing pipes. With the clock goes a pair of Louis XVI. candelabra of bronze and ormolu designed as Cupid and Psyche, modelled after Falconet.

SHIPPING NEWS

EMPRESS DOCKS AT NEW BERTH

BRINGS 1500 PASSENGERS—OTHER NEWS OF SHIPPING FROM THE RIVER FRONT.

The C. P. R. Co.'s R. M. S. Empress of Ireland, Lieut. Foster, R. N. R., from Liverpool, Friday evening, June 13th, arrived in port at 3:15 p. m, yesterday and moored at her new berth at the Breakwater, further to the westward. This will allow room for two large steamers between the Empress and the north end of the Breakwater.

The Empress of Ireland brought out 174 first, 442 second and 880 third class passengers, a total of 1496, a heavy mail and a general cargo. The saloon passengers commenced to land at once from the midship gangway, while the mails were being sent ashore forward.

A most interested spectator of the landing of the mails was the Hon. L. P. Pelletier, Postmaster General. He appeared to be well pleased with the manner in which the work was carried on.

Lieut. Forster reports heavy weather for two days, while the steamer was in mid-ocean, the rest of the passage being moderate to fair.

ANTICOSTI LINE.

Steamer Meaford, Captain Sheats, left Anticosti at midnight on Thursday with a cargo of pulpwood for the Ontario Paper Co., Thorold, Ont.

Steamer Querida, Captain Lund, left Sodus Point, N. Y., at 10 a. m. yesterday, with a cargo of coal for the Canadian Import Co. After discharging she will proceed to Anticosti to load pulpwood.

Steamer Savoy, Captain L. Pelletier, arrived at Ellis Bay this morning.

Steamer Saguenay, with members of the Montreal Board of Trade and a number of Quebecers on board, is expected to arrive at Ellis Bay about 10 o'clock this morning, where a fine reception awaits them.

BAIE DES CHALEURS LINE.

Steamer Gaspesien, Captain Blouin, having landed Quebec passengers and cargo, left for Montreal yesterday morning.

CANADA LINE.

Steamer Wittekind from Quebec, June 7th, arrived at Rotterdam, June 19th at 2 p. m.

Steamer Pisa, Captain Hauer, from Rotterdam, etc., with 1147 steerage passengers and a general cargo, arrived in port at 9 o'clock last night and moored at the Breakwater.

The Pisa arrived at Quarantine at 9 a. m. yesterday, where she landed a case of small-pox and all the passengers from the same compartment, numbering 168. The vessel was then fumigated and was allowed to leave Quarantine shortly after 6 o'clock p. m.

MANCHESTER LINE.

Steamer Manchester Port, Captain Stoll, from Manchester, with a general cargo, arrived here last evening.

QUEBEC STEAMSHIP COMPANY

Steamer Cascapedia sailed from Quebec for the Maritime Provinces at noon yesterday.

THOMSON LINE.

Steamer Gairngowan from Middleboro, with a cargo of paving blocks, arrived in port yesterday afternoon and moored alongside the Reford shed, Louise basin.

BARS VALET FROM WRITING MEMOIRS.

Paris, June 20—The reputation of no public man or woman can be considered safe during the present craze for writing memoirs. Neither princesses nor domestic servants can refrain from putting pen to paper, if offered the slightest pretext. A local newspaper declares that the French prime minister, when engaging a valet recently, made the latter sign a formidable contract, in which it was provided that in case the valet should ever think of writing his memoirs, he undertook to pass over in silence his time spent in the Barthou household.

DELAWARE HEN MOTHERS WHOLE LITTER OF PIGS

Wilmington, Del., June 18—James Lafferty, a former near Newark, has a hen that is mothering 11 little pigs. Several weeks ago the hen began laying eggs in the pigpen. The mother pig ate the eggs regularly until her litter arrived. Then she ceased and gave her attention to the new family.

The hen continued to make the pen her roosting place. Finally the little porkers made such friends with her that the fowl gave up her plans to hatch a brood and adopted the little pigs. She allowed the juvenile porkers to eat the eggs that she had in her nest.

Now, whenever she clucks the little pigs scamper to her. The mother pig doesn't appear to mind it.

CLOSING LETTER.

By private wire to Neuville Belleau & Co., 93 St. Peter st., Quebec. Phones 946-4076.

New York, June 20—The market continued its reactionary course today. Opening at fractional declines, the recession ran into full figures in many instances.

By 1 o'clock, Union Pacific had dropped 1 point, Lehigh Valey 1½, Amalgamated Copper 1¼, Steel ⅞ and Reading ¾ of a point, but this was accompanied by extreme dullness and there was no apparent urgent pressure or liquidation.

London sold about twenty thousand shares on balance.

Coper metal was heavy, the London quotation being 15s lower and the market here was slow and at slight concessions, notwithstanding the shut-down of the big Nichol Copper Company refinery causing a shrinkage in amount of copper refined of at least 1,000,000 pounds per day.

The drop in British consols to the lowest price ever recorded,, coupled with the lowest price in 40 years for German Government bonds, had a depressing effect on foreign feeling.

The United States Steel Corporation's outpput shows a gain in 11 years of 8,000,000 tons, or nearly 100 per cent, but its percentage of the country's has fallen from 66.2 per cent to 54.1 per cent.

The Currency bill came in for general discussion and it seems to be the concensus of opinion that the bill has many excellent features, which will doubtless be preserved, while it is hoped that those objectionable will, after mature deliberation, be alimi-nated.

Preliminary estimates of the bank statement show a gain of $9,000,000 in cash.

This should be reflected in strengthened reserves, for loans in Wall Street, at least, have shown no appreciable increase.

The threatened strike of ten thoubeen averted by advice of officers of sand General Electric employes has the National Federation of Labor, but a lock-out of 20,000 building construction men has been ordered in Chicago.

The 2 per cent dividend declared by New York, Ontario & Western was a surprise, as the company shows no such earnings and the dividend is said to represent the necessities of the New Haven road, which owns control.

Closing prices were dull and somewhat heavy and we look for further possible reaction before the end of the month.

IMPROVED SERVICE ON QUEBEC CENTRAL RY.

On Monday, the 23rd instant, the summer train service on the Quebec Central Railway will become effective.

The New York service will be further improved this summer, as a train carrying a through Pullman will leave Levis at 2.30 p.m., arriving in New York at 7.52 a.m. Returning will leave New York at 5.02 p.m., due in Levis at 11.30 a.m. with through cars.

There will also be a train leaving New York at 9.00 p.m. due Levis at 2.30 p.m. with Pullman as far as Sherbrooke.

The Boston and Portland service will also be satisfactory and all trains will be equipped with Dining Car or Buffet service, the Pullmans have electric fans and electric lights in the berths, which is the latest comfort in Pullman construction.

CHEAP SALE

Now is the time to purchase your summer requirements. I have decided to sell my entire stock at a great sacrifice. Drop in and have first choice of a large assortment of Collars, Shirts, Under-Clothing, Neck-Ties, Rain-Coats, Hats, Socks and a full line of Haberdashery of the newest styles.

UNCLE WALT MASON'S DAILY PROSE POEM

THIS WEARY WORLD.

The chinchbugs chew the corn and wheat, which keeps the farmer flinching; and though he knows just where they eat, he cannot stop their chinching. If he should buy a load of drugs and try to ease his sorrow, by killing off ten million bugs, there'd be far more tomorrow. And so he feels misfortune's pinch, and groans beneath the pinchers, and lets the bugs go on and chinch with their back action chinchers. The cutworms kill the wheat and corn with double action cutters; the farmer leaves his house at morn, and views his fields, and mutters some language of magenta tint, which here must be omitted; it would not make a hit in print—for children 'tisn't fit. He goes to town to get relief by drinking soda fizzers, and while he yells about his grief, the cutworms wield their scissors. This sort of thing we hear each spring, and oftentimes we wonder that crops are raised at all, by jing, since they're all knocked to thunder. The farmers in the fall, indeed, bring in their loaded wagons; no consolation do they need, no comforting with flagons. So let the humble cutworm cut, the chinchbug do its carving; they doubtless are a nuisance but the farmres are not starving.—Walt Mason.

FOR SALE—Country farm situated 5 miles from the city of Quebec, containing 65 acres (more or less), divided in 3 sections, south part on St. Foye Macadam Road, north portion on St. Foy Road and East on Suede, said suede road dividing northern property equally in two. On south side of St. Foy Road, one well built farm house, on north side a splendid residence, and on east side facing suede road a first class cottage. Residence and cottage are supplied with water and baths, also outbuildings, containing dairy, hennery, coach house, stables, piggery and barns, all in first class condition. The fields are nicely separated by spruce and hawthorn hedges, the soil is most productive, being in a state of high cultivation. Should the purchaser not wish to enjoy the life of a farmer, he can divide the land into building lots. By so doing he is sure to reap large returns, as that part of the country is rapidly being populated and the demands for suitable sites for residences will be in great demand shortly. This property is directly opposite Quebec Bridge. For further particulars apply in writing to B. G., care Chronicle, Quebec.

COMMERCIAL NEWS

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

McDonald & Lesperance, stock brokers, private wire to New York and Montreal, Hochelaga Bank Building. Telephone 1227.

(Canadian Press Service.)

New York, June 20—By slow and easy stages the stock market drifted downward today. The force of the recent upturn seemed entirely to have spent itself, and although the volume of business was light and there was no appearance of severe pressure at any time, the small offerings were sufficient to make further inroads on the gains which followed last week's severe break.

The declining tendency of the market bore no relation to the developments of the day, which was barren of news of real weight in the determination of speculative influences.

The rise in prices has made stocks less attractive to prospective investors, especially in view of the unusually large returns now being offered on new bonds and short term notes. At the same time the market is no longer receiving the benefit of supporting orders from large financial interests, such as it was deemed necessary to extend during the troubled days of the last week. The market's absorptive power in consequence is less noticed.

Traders committed to the short side were no longer in haste to cover, while bull operators were correspondingly less sure of their position, and were prompted to take profits. Stocks were offered rather than bid for, and to dispose of them it was necessary to make concessions.

Canadian Pacific, Lehigh, Smelting and Interborough preferred were the weak spots in the list. The copper stocks were sold on reports of further declines in the metal market here and abroad. Although the market occasionally rallied, gains were not held and the close was not far from the lowest, declines ranging from fractions to two points.

Further London selling here tended to depress the market in the forepart of the day. Sales for London acocunt were about 20,000 shares.

While much study was given to the proposals for currency reform as tentatively incorporated in the bill given out at Washington, bankers were inclined to reserve their opinions. It was realized that many changes might be made, and that the chances for enactment of the law at the present session of Congress were uncertain. Publication of the bill apparently had no influence on the stock market.

The bond market was heavy. Total sales, par value, $1,407,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.

NEW YORK CLOSING LETTER.

By private wire to M. L. Dohan, broker, Domining Building, St. Peter street. Phone 4748.

New York, June 20—What there was in the way of a market in the late afternoon was a little heavy. Trading was exceedingly dull. There was unfavorable comment on the fact that after pressure of the foreign sales ceased the market developed practically no rallying power.

Conservative interests thought, however, that only dullness should be expected until after July 1, but that the crop conditions were favorable and that the upward movement would probably occur.

Atchison was firm and indeed has been notably so of late; it acts suggestive that quiet accumulation is under way.

The roads was to have assurance of big crops in its territory.

National Railways of Mexico first preferred sold at 43, off 14 points from last previous sale on May 7.

Total sales for the day 203,000.

A CHALLENGE

We defy all the real estate firms of Lauzon to prove the contrary of what is affirmed here.

The lots of the Parc Levis are the nearest to the dry dock, the church, the convent, college, the Intercolonial station, and the Ruel factories than the lots of all the other firms.

The Parc Levis HAS FOR ITSELF ALONE the advantage to adjoin the government land and to be crossed from one end to the other by the aqueduct of the town of Lauzon.

KILLED WHEN HELPLESS ON TRESTLE BRIDGE.

Lennoxville, Que., June 20—James Havill, an Englisman, was killed last night by a C. P. R. train here.

Havill was a man of about forty and had only recently arrived from England. He was employed in a brick yard near the town, and while he was walking across a trestle bridge spanning the river, a train bore down upon him, and owing to the lack of space between the edge of the bridge and the track, he was unable to get out of the way and was knocked down falling under the wheels of the engine.

WOMEN CONTINUE FIGHT FOR VOTE IN CHURCH

London, Ont., June 20.—The effort to secure a vote for women in the vestry of the Anglican Church will not be dropped by those who are behind the movement. It was said today that while the necessary vote to allow of woman representation was not secured yesterday, it was confidently expected that the next synod would grant the request by a large majority.

Mrs. E. M. Tilly stated that the women who brought the matter to the synod's attention were well satisfied with the vote and looked upon it as an evidence that the movement had the hearty sympathy of those who understood the value of women's vote in connection with the church.

"The women certainly have right on their side," said Mrs. Tilly. "Two-thirds of the work of the church is done by women, and the congregation is composed of two-thirds women. From these facts it is quite easy to see why women should have representation. Not one solid argument was advanced in opposition. The reasons given by those who were not in favor of the vote were most silly and they have not a foot to stand on. The older members of the synod are not in favor of changes of the established customs, but the younger men are in sympathy with representation. We will win and secure representation before long."

Correspondence

L'ACTION SOCIALE

To the Editor of the Chronicle:

Sir,—In your issue of the 18th inst., under the caption "Wolfe Memorial Church Agitation Continues," you made a quotation of one paragraph of our article "Le Wolfe Memorial" of Tuesday the 17th. In that quotation you distorted our own text, by changing two words in it, so giving to said paragraph a general sense and applying our remarks (which were intended to desiguate only some Irishmen) to the Irish at large.

We protested immediately, in our issue of the same day—i. e. the 18th—against such an abuse and falsification of our text. You did not seem to pay any attention to our necessary and legitimate protestation.

We appeal, now, to your loyalty and we feel confident that you will publish in your columns the correct translation of our text.

Yours truly,
JULES. DORION,
Editor L'Action Sociale.

RE. MEMORIAL CHURCH.

To the Editor of the Chronicle:

Sir,—Mr. McSwaite did not very well understand me. I mean that I am glad to say that I am approving the following principle: To use a private property, according to the taste or want of proprietor.

But one would not need to study philosophy two years to perceive the difference between a principle and the opportunity or utility to practise a principle. There is no anomaly at all when I recognized that the private property in question could be used to build a church, and the fact that the project should not be realized, because that property is too far from habitation.

JOS. T. CHENARD.

SYSTEM ON THE FERRY.

To the Editor of the Chronicle:

Sir—As an instance of the way in which our ferry company does business I would mention a case which occurred the other day. The passengers who had just gone across to Levis had to pay on that side of the river, while the passengers just coming on a ferry boat to cross over here were also paying on that side. Instead of letting one of the two lots pay first and thus clearing the two lots off one at a time, we had the spectacle of the two crowds squeezing in opposite directions through the same small wicket and paying indiscriminately as they came or went. It would have been the simplest thing in the world to have avoided this ridiculous condition of affairs.

Yours truly,
VIATOR.

FAMOUS ARCHITECT SAILS FOR CANADA

London, June 20—Mr. Thomas Edward Collcutt, the famous architect, who is to regulate the competition among architects in connection with the additional Parliament Buildings at Ottawa, sailed by the Victorian today.

The Hon. Lionel Guest and Dr. Ogden, Toronto, are also among the passengers.

COURT AWARDS DAMAGES FOR AERIAL COLLISION.

Paris, June 20—The French Court today ordered Captain Dickson to pay 1,000 francs to aviator Thomas, and 10,000 francs to the Antoinette Company, for damages resulting from the first aerial collision on record.

At Milan, in 1910, Capt. Dickson and Thomas collided in mid-air. Dickson sued Thomas for 80,000 francs, and the latter sued Dickson for 100,000 francs.

MILITANTS NEARLY BREAK UP MEETING

WOMAN SUFFRAGE ALLIANCE DIVIDED ON MILITARY OR PEACEFUL METHOD.

Budapest, June 20.—Militant suffragettes nearly caused a serious row at today's session of the International Woman Suffrage Alliance. Mrs. Anne Cobden-Sanderson and Mrs. Charlotte Despard, both English women, and the latter president of the Woman's Freedom League, delivered fiery harangues, advocating militant tactics and protesting against their exclusion as fraternal delegates from full participation in the proceedings of the alliance. They claimed as fraternal delegates they were entitled to the same rights as the official delegates.

Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont of New York manifested sympathy with the attitude of the militants by standing up at the conclusion of Mrs. Despard's speech and cheering and waving her handkerchief. The non-militant delegates, however, resented the tone of the speeches as an abuse of the courtesy extended by the congress in permitting Mrs. Cobden-Sanderson and Mrs. Despard to speak at all; but the tact displayed by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt of New York, president of the alliance, prevented a rupture.

The British and French official delegates were solidly opposed to militancy, and there were militant sympathizers in the German and Swedish delegations, while the Americans were divided on the subject.

It is probable that the entire question of the status of fraternal delegates will have to be reconsidered before the meeting of the next congress. The action of the American Woman's Congress in sending twenty representatives to Budapest shows the necessity for some change.

San Francisco is believed to have a good chance of securing the next congress. Mrs. May Wright Sewall of Maine today presented to the congress the invitation of the Panama-Pacific Exposition to hold the next session in San Francisco. The German delegates urged the selection of Berlin. A decision on next year's meeting place will be made tomorrow.

INVESTIGATE SUPRESSION OF NEWS OF COLLISION

Boston, June 20—Investigation into the failure of the manager of the Warren Line to make public yesterday the fact that six men were drowned off the Nova Scotia coast when the Warren Line freighter Sagamore cut the fishing schooner Olympia in two was urged today by friends of the drowned men, following a declaration of Captain Fenton that a wireless message contained the information.
