World News In Brief

Bolzano, Italy—AP—A landslide following a violent rainstorm buried parts of German tourists in the Austrian Alps Friday, killing three women and severely injuring a male companion.

Taipei, Formosa—AP—Press reports from Keelung, a northern Formosa port, said at least four workers were killed and about 30 seriously injured today in an explosion as divers were working on a sunken steamer.

Rome—AP—Damage from hail storms in northern Italy was estimated today at $1,500,000. Stones the size of marbles knocked down vineyards, orchards, and grain fields from northwestern Turin almost to the Austrian frontier.

Buenos Aires—AP—The government announced Friday the purchase of the first uranium ore mined in Argentina, about three tons of ore from the Santa Ana mine in San Luis province on the Chilean frontier.

Berlin—AP—Publication of Tagesschau Rundschau, official German language newspaper of the Soviet high commission, will continue indefinitely, an announcement said Friday. It had been scheduled to cease publication today.

Skardu, Pakistan—(Reuters)—The United States team climbing the world's highest unexplored mountain, the 23,500-foot K-2 mountain Godwin Austen, has temporarily suspended operations because of heavy snow and high winds, messages reaching here today said. The nine-man expedition reported July 12 the howling north-easterly gales had brought huge snow drifts, restricting the party to their mountain tents for 36 hours.

London—AP—China thanked Russia today for her help in obtaining a settlement in Korea. "A Korean armistice would not have been possible without the initiative and support of the Soviet Union," Peiping radio said, quoting remarks by Premier Mao Tse-tung and Foreign Minister Chou En-lai to greetings telegrams from Soviet prime minister Malenkov and Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

Premier, Bourque To Visit Ungava

Quebec—CP—Premier Duplessis will visit Ungava's iron ore development "some time during August" but no date has been fixed for the 600-mile trip.

Mr. Duplessis told his regular weekly press conference Friday that his second visit to the territory where the Iron Ore Company of Canada is getting set to mine ore will be made partly by air and partly by rail.

Mr. Duplessis will be accompanied by Lands Minister Bourque, Hon. Gerald Martineau of the Legislative Council, Hon. Tancred Labbe, minister without portfolio, Hon. Patrice Tardif, member of the Legislative Council, Gerard Thibault, Legislative Assembly member for Montreal-Mercier, and Robert Clark, newspaper man from Trois-Rivieres.

Taft Was Balance Wheel Of U.S. Republican Party

(Jack Bell, who writes of the meaning of Senator Robert A. Taft's death, has been chief of The Associated Press Senate staff for 15 years. He has had a close-up view of the legislative machinery in the open and behind the scenes, and similarly has followed Taft's political career.)

By JACK BELL
Washington—(AP)—The voice of a great American is stilled. Death has taken Senator Robert Alphonso Taft of Ohio. And it is no overstatement to say that from President Eisenhower's politically-experienced administration has departed the one leader, besides the president himself, it could least afford to lose.

For Taft was more than the nominal floor leader of Senate Republicans, more than the "Mr. Republican" he was to many of his party, more than a lion-hearted champion of old-fashioned personal liberty, more than a blunt craftsman at the legislative trade, and often blurted his thoughts whether they pleased or irked his hearers.

To his party in the Senate, Taft was a balance wheel and a unifying force who kept its factions from flying off in tangential directions. He was also a master craftsman at the legislative trade, a senator who knew the Senate's every mood, calculated its temper, coddled its pride, coaxed its compromising spirit, but sometimes trampled roughshod over its dissenters.

Eisenhower, too, has lost a friend. Between these two men

Red Police Seize Food In Berlin

Berlin—(AP)—Communist police have seized 100 tons of United States-financed food from needy East Germans heading home from West Berlin and distributed it to Soviet zone welfare institutions as "Soviet aid."

The seizures Friday, the first mass confiscation of the week, were concentrated in six Soviet zone suburbs around Berlin.

East Berlin police sent confiscated American food packages to a warehouse on Gustav Adolf Strasse, in Weissensee borough. There police trucks loaded up the food again and took it to old people's homes and orphanages.

Red cloth banners on the trucks identified the food as Soviet. The Kremlin has an agreement with Premier Otto Grotewohl's Communist government to sell East Germany $57,000,000 worth of foodstuffs during the remainder of the year in return for strategic industrial goods.

The confiscations began after a campaign of threats and propaganda failed to keep hungry inhabitants of the Soviet zone from streaming to the Allied sectors of Berlin to get for $1.19 a package of precious flour, fats and other food worth much more. Germans pass out the food to Germans. But all know the United States is footing the bill, $5,000,000 a day. The total of the packages delivered rose to about 850,000 Friday.

Dr. Hans Hirschfeld, press officer for West Berlin Lord Mayor Ernst Reuter, said the relief program will be extended to all of the 18,000,000 Germans under Soviet occupation if the Communist police do not effectively seal off West Berlin.

West Berlin welfare officials prepared to supply a record-breaking throng of East German workers during the week-end.

In nearly every industrial plant where anti-Communist strikes and riots flared last June 17, defiant workers were organizing expeditions to West Berlin. Premier Otto Grotewohl has admitted that the revolt engulfed 272 East German towns and at least 300,000 employees in nationalized plants. Actually, at least 2,000,000 East Germans took part in the uprising.

The socialist underground took the lead in organizing the week-end food rush.

The summons stirred East Germans who have been waging a guerrilla war against Communist oppression with sit-downs and slow-downs in basic industries since the Soviet Army crushed the June 17 uprising.

West Berlin authorities, who have been passing out the food to Soviet zone dwellers and East Berliners alike, asked East Berliners to hold off during the week-end in order that all coming in from the provinces could be served.

They expected 250,000 today and a like number Sunday.

The mass confiscations of food by the Communist police were carried out in Potsdam, Oranienburg, Fuerstenwalde, Zeesien, and Michendorf—all way stations on inter-province railway lines to Berlin.

Old women, children, war invalids were among those who were seized.

His leavening influence will be missed with those of his party who regard Eisenhower with none of the long-time political affection expected to be filled by Senator William Knowland (Rep. Calif.).

His ability to judge the Senate's reaction made Taft's advice invaluable at conferences of congressional leaders and the president.

There is evidence that many administrations proposals either were dropped entirely or radically revised on his judgment.

Americans Say Craft Was Flying Over Korea, Not China As Reds Claim.

Washington—(AP)—United States officials today drafted a rejection of Russia's protest that U. S. pilots shot down a Soviet plane—and pondered the curious timing of the Russian communication.

U. S. Fighter planes downed the Soviet craft Monday in the dying hours of the Korean war. The United States says it was over Korea. The Russians say it was over China. But the Russians waited four days before protesting.

Meantime, Wednesday their MiG 15 fighters had attacked and destroyed a U. S. B-50 bomber off Siberia. They charged this aircraft violated Soviet territory. The U. S. denied this, protested "in the strongest terms" and demanded a report on some survivors said to have been picked up by the Russians.

U. S. officials wondered, considering the ceaseless contest between east and west for propaganda advantages, why the Russians had delayed and then protested. Were they attempting a bold cover-up for their own action?

Two senators complained that the United States had been outfoxed.

Senator Ralph Flanders (Rep. Vt.), a member of the armed services committee, said that letting the USSR tell the world first about the B-50 incident in the sea of Japan was "just another case of stupidity at the Pentagon or the state department, or both."

Senator Alfred Sparman (Dem. Ala.), a member of the Senate foreign relations committee, said: "I think it's a mistake to let the Russians and communists get the jump on us so many times. It puts us continually in the position of answering communist propaganda when we could be out first with the real facts."

Flanders said pro-communist or even neutral peoples could "get the impression that the Soviet is telling the truth and that we're trying to get out of an incident."

The U. S. case on the B-50 was bolstered by the testimony of the sole confirmed survivor, Capt. John Ernest Roche, who was picked up by a U. S. destroyer after 22 hours in the sea.

Roche said in Tokyo early today the U. S. plane was attacked "by two Russian jets at a time when there was 'no possible chance' that it was closer than 40 miles to Siberia."

As for the shooting down of the Russian type ILL transport while the Korean war was still on, a state department spokesman said unequivocally "we will reject the protest." He said the responsibility will be placed on the Soviet government for causing the plane to fly through a Korean combat zone.

The U. S. air force said the plane was shot down 10 or 12 miles south of the Yalu river, boundary between Korea and Manchuria. The Russians said the attacking U. S. fighters invaded Chinese territory near the town of Huanid.

Prisoners' Exchange To Be Rehearsed

Munsan—(AP)—The four-nation neutral commission which will police the Korean armistice met at Panmunjon today for the first time and heard the communists' chief military armistice delegate wish it success.

Meanwhile, the first group of Allied prisoners was reported on its way down the road to freedom and the UN command prepared a full dress reception rehearsal for Monday to speed their homeward journey. The prisoner exchange is scheduled to begin Wednesday at Panmunjon.

The neutral commission officers from Sweden, Switzerland, Poland and Czechoslovakia were introduced and exchanged credentials in a formal meeting at the dusty truce site.

The commission's chief function is to watch for violations of the armistice.

Maj.-Gen. Blackshear M. Bryan, the Allies' senior delegate to the UN-Red military armistice commission, introduced the Swiss and Swedish representatives, Lt.-Gen. Lee Sang Cho, Bryan's counterpart on the commission, introduced the Poles and Czechs. Lee told the officers:

"I hope for the success of the members of the neutral nations supervisory commission."

Farm Homes Will All Get Electricity

Quebec—(AP)—Premier Duplessis said Friday his government intends to put electricity into every Quebec farm home.

During his regular press conference, Mr. Duplessis announced the Quebec rural electrification board has been authorized to spend $300,000 to extend electrical services in rural regions.

Mr. Duplessis said that in 1944, 20 per cent of Quebec farms were electrified. Today, 70 per cent benefited from electricity.

"Eventually," he said, "we aim to bring that figure up to 100 per cent."

Mr. Duplessis said the rapid spread of electrification in Quebec stems from legislation sponsored by his government in 1945 which made possible organization of electric co-operatives. The legislation authorized expenditure of $10,000,000. Another $10,000,000 was voted later.

Although Quebec was richly endowed with hydraulic resources, few farms were electrified in 1944 and rural dwellers left their land for the cities in large numbers.

The electrification program started six years ago, put a brake on the exodus from the farms and made farming more attractive, especially for women folk whose house chores now could be done with electrically-powered machines.

Another result was that value of farms automatically increased with the coming of electricity and exports of co-operatives. The value of farms increased about $50,000,000.

Electricity eased farm production programs and cut costs at a time when man-power was a problem.

So far, he said, 16,200 miles of wire had been set up across nearly every region of Quebec—about five times the distance between Halifax and Vancouver.

Mr. Duplessis said 43 co-operatives are distributing electric power through these lines.

Church Architecture In Quebec Undergoes Many Major Changes

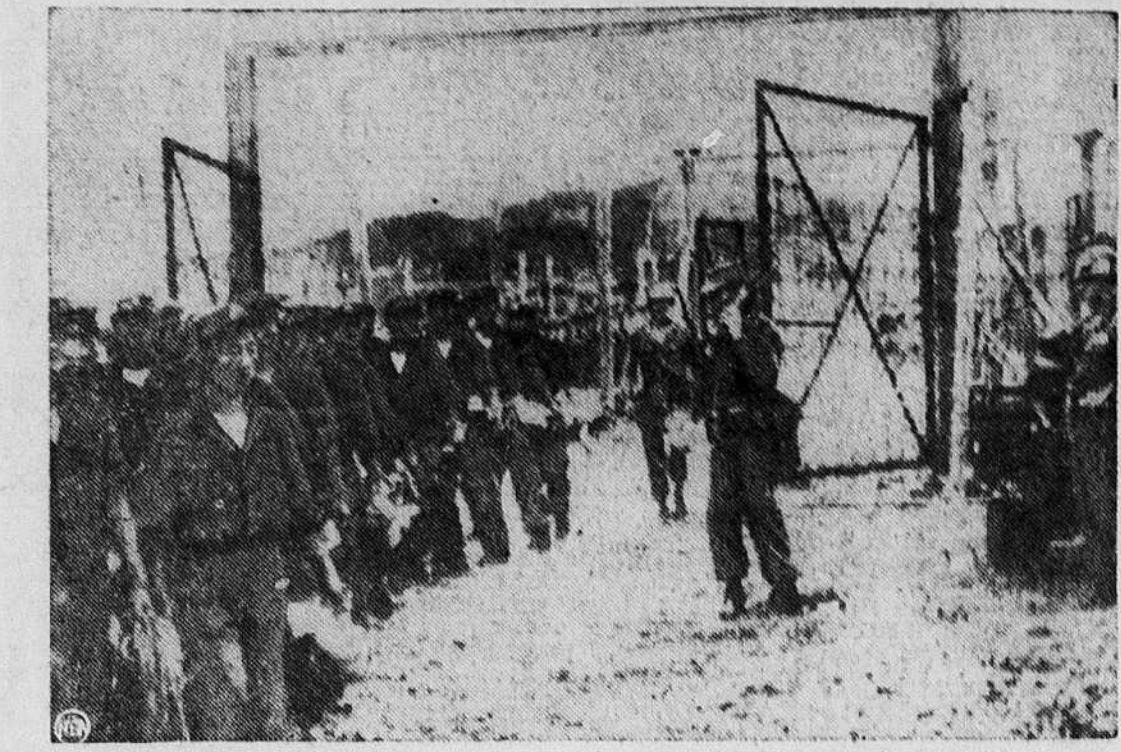

By BERTRAND THIBAUT
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Quebec—(AP)—In staid Quebec province church architecture has undergone such changes in recent years that ancestral beliefs would be shaken if faith rested with the shape of temples.

New, individualistic designs have replaced old designs, imported from Europe or early French settlers. Canadian architects and Canadian materials have been used to erect churches, the design of which would probably have shocked the builders of earlier places of worship.

The early settlers built their churches along lines of two designs popular in the 17th and 18th century. Now, no set pattern is followed.

Builders of the 17th and 18th centuries designed churches built in the form of a cross or in a Re-collet style.

Identification Of 20 Bus Victims Continues; Investigation Planned

Troops' Vote Will Begin On Monday

Ottawa—(AP)—The armed forces at home and abroad go to the polls Monday, getting the jump on other Canadians who won't cast their ballots in the federal election until Aug. 10.

About 105,000 men and women in uniform in Europe, the Far East and Canada are eligible. Their votes, cast for the candidate of their choice in the riding where they have permanent residence, will be counted Aug. 17.

Special civilian returning officers, aided by Halton officers from the three armed services, handle their election machinery geared to handle the vote in Edmonton, Ottawa and Halifax in Canada; Kure in Japan and London, England. Kure takes the votes of troops in the Far East and London, those in the United Kingdom and Europe.

The vote from overseas will be the hardest to handle. In Europe, there are Canadians serving in France, Germany and Britain, and some may be travelling elsewhere on the continent. In the Far East there are Canadians in Japan and Korea.

These five headquarters are in charge of special returning officers, some of them retired servicemen. Their job is to count the votes and forward the result. The voters come to them inside two sealed envelopes. The inner envelope contains the soldier's ballot, marked by him and sealed in secret. The outer envelope is air-mailed personally by the voter to make sure it gets to the special returning officer.

The difficulties of conducting an election by mail are great. For example, about half the 5,000-man 27th Canadian infantry brigade in Germany will be on manoeuvres away from their Hannover base.

Identification Of 20 Bus Victims Continues; Investigation Planned

Troops' Vote Will Begin On Monday

Morrisburg, Ont.—(AP)—Twenty persons plunged to watery death Friday when a Toronto-to-Montreal bus rammed a small truck and hurtled into the Williamsburg canal.

Early today, 13 of the victims had been positively identified and seven tentatively. Of the 20 who perished, 12 were men and eight women. Nineteen persons escaped. Seventeen passengers, the bus driver and the truck driver, of the seven tentatively identified, six were women.

Undertaker Leonard Keck said the women were more difficult to identify than the men because women normally carry their only means of identification in their purses. The purses were washed about inside the submerged bus or floated free of it and have not been recovered.

The Colonial Coach Lines express bus was rolling toward Montreal when at 4:05 a.m. it smashed into the stalled, half-ton delivery truck. The bus hurled the truck into the canal, running beside the highway, then followed it, apparently clearing the 30-foot embankment in one giant leap. The bus struck in mid-canal and settled rapidly in 20 feet of water, its lights still on.

The water was pouring into the open windows before most of the drowsing passengers knew what had happened.

Ronald J. P. Mortished, 62, of Dublin said a fellow passenger pulled himself up on the luggage rack, shoved his feet through the window and escaped.

Then: "I followed him. I came to the surface and saw other people milling about in the water and shrieking. In the dim light I could see the side of the canal and set out for it."

George Tinsley, 23, of Liverpool, England, related: "The bus driver was yelling 'be calm' but many of the passengers were hysterical. One old woman seemed to think the bus wouldn't sink. I yelled to her, 'get out and swim!'"

"The driver got the front door open before the bus settled too far. He dived out, shouting to others to follow him. There was a crowd around the door fighting to get out. I kicked out the window on my side. I must have dived through the window... I could still hear the women screaming inside."

The rushing water finally choked off the screaming. "The bus driver was pulled out of the canal later, legs, arms and hands protruded from the windows. Ten soaked bodies were sprawled in the aisle, over the seats. Police pulled the curtains and threw a tarpaulin over the front of the bus. The other 10 bodies were taken from the canal."

Exact cause of the accident was not yet known. The bus driver, Lorne Chesbrough, 30, of Kingston, Ont., and the truck driver, Max Roadman, 40, of Toronto, were still in hospital at Cornwall in a state of shock.

Police declined to issue an official statement on the accident before interviewing the drivers. Neither was in condition to talk. Highways Minister Doucett of Ontario said there would be an immediate and searching probe into the accident.

At Windsor, Ontario, said the truck was stalled, without lights, on the highway, apparently pointed in the same direction as the bus, and that the truck driver was standing beside his vehicle when the accident occurred.

Troops' Vote Will Begin On Monday

Washington—(AP)—A state funeral was in prospect today for Senator Robert A. Taft, whose death from cancer Friday continued to evoke expressions of grief and praise throughout the world.

In the midst of their eulogies, many of the Ohio Republican's Senate colleagues proposed that his body be brought from New York to lie in state in the Capitol rotunda.

Senate officials arranged to work out final details today.

The Senate recessed in respect to Taft, but the House of Representatives continued in session and Friday night formally adopted a resolution expressing profound sorrow before adjourning out of respect.

The Tafts' residence in Washington's Georgetown district kept a light burning over the doorway Friday night. Messengers with telegrams and flowers kept appearing in its glow.

Mrs. Taft remained in her upstairs room. Confined to a wheelchair, she had flown to New York earlier this week for a bedside visit with her fatally-stricken husband.

Odds Favoring Malenkov Are 1,300 To 0

By DON DALLAS
London—(Reuters)—This is a fantasy based on what could happen if the 1,300 yes-men meeting in the Kremlin next Wednesday decided to say "no."

The Supreme Soviet of the U.S.S.R., which will meet in the big Kremlin palace overlooking the Moscow river, is theoretically the supreme voting body of the Soviet people, the highest organ of state power.

The 1,300 delegates reared under Stalin in habits of undeviating obedience are likely, under Premier Georgi Malenkov, to perform as usual their old function of rubber-stamping decrees and decisions presented to them.

But theoretically they could take steps to turn Russia into a democracy as it is understood in the West. Theoretically they could also reverse the Malenkov regime's policy by going back to a full program of Stalinist repression.

Again, theoretically, they could throw out Malenkov and appoint his successor a majority of them agreed on.

Impossible? Yet many basic principles of democracy are written into the Soviet constitution—among them freedom of speech, press and assembly. It all depends on how you interpret them.

Citizens of the U.S.S.R., for example, are "guaranteed inviolability of the person." But the loophole comes in the next sentence saying that "no person may be placed under arrest except by decision of a court or with the sanction of a public prosecutor."

Again, the inviolability of the homes of citizens and privacy of correspondence are protected by law. But this, of course, would not apply to an "enemy of the people"—a most elastic category.

Majority rule in the Supreme Soviet is another principle. The Soviet is another principle. The Soviet is another principle. The Soviet is another principle.

Premier Will Not Repudiate Letter Sent To Servicemen

By Canadian Press Staff Writer
A "dishonest" campaign letter, those Pelawawa horses, car taxes and co-ops figured in the federal election campaign Friday.

Prime Minister St. Laurent said at Cornwall, Ont., he has no intention of repudiating a Liberal federation campaign letter sent to Canadian troops in Korea. He said the letter is neither dishonest nor libellous.

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, said the previous night at Sarnia, Ont., that the letter was the "most dishonest" he had ever seen and demanded Mr. St. Laurent repudiate it.

The letter said the Liberal government is trying to make certain troops get a "fair share" of Canada's "high" living standards but that the Progressive Conservatives "think the government has been extravagant in providing such lavishness and luxury for the armed services." It quoted Maj.-Gen. G. R. Peakes, VC, Progressive Conservative military critic, as saying troops might forego "some amenities" rather than Canada have a lower standard of living.

Mr. St. Laurent said he had found an inquiry that Gen. Peakes had made the statement in Parliament's official report.

The Prime Minister, on another subject, charged Mr. Drew with "misrepresenting and distorting" the facts of the Currie report, which said there was an administrative breakdown in the army works services.

Mr. St. Laurent said there had never been any horses on the payroll at Pelawawa but no matter how often he told Mr. Drew this fact "he keeps on asserting this statement which is not true."

He was "getting a little tired" of Mr. Drew's charges that Defence Minister Claxton is negligent. "Every one in Parliament—including Mr. Drew—knows that there has never been a more devoted or hard-working or competent minister than Brooke Claxton."

At Windsor, Ont., Mr. Drew said cars are over-taxed and promised an inquiry into how much the taxes should be reduced.

On housing, he said: "We have one of the sorriest records of any industrial nation because of the bungling and lack of planning of our government." Down payment on homes should be reduced to about 10 per cent and a 30-year period should be allowed for pay-

Hollywood—Exclusively Yours: Fiction in a slippery way of replacing fact in movie story telling. "For dramatic impact," screenwriters explain.

But now it's fact becoming fiction for a new film biography.

The biography is Audie Murphy's, based on his book, "To Hell and Back." Facts are becoming fiction in the screenplay's combi-sequences for an eye-brow-lifting reason—moviegoers just wouldn't believe what really happened!

Mae Wynn, who was former showgirl Donna Lee Hickey until Columbia persuaded her to change her name to the character she plays in "The Caine Mutiny," has a big Las Vegas power wonderings if he's lost his sweetie to a career.

Hollywood talking about the sizzling feud between Ann Sheridan and Glenn Ford a few nights back was pop-eyed when the TV set flashed:

"Ford Theater Presents Ann Sheridan."

Mickey Rooney and his Elaine deny the stork rumors. . . First films of the earth looking like a globe will be seen in "Riders to the Stars." It's actual V-2 rocket camera footage taken 150 miles up in the stratosphere.

Jeanne Gets New Part
 The idea of Jeanne Crain playing a wanton wench may not sit well with the fans who have been seeing a halo over the Crain negotiating the way to come along with her or find themselves a new idol. She's about to play her first downright bad girl part in Moulton Productions' "Duel in the Jungle," to be filmed in Africa and London, and she's "prepared to prove that I can handle vivid, colorful parts—even at the risk of losing a great fan following."

Argues Jeanne: "I've been cute long enough. I can't take a chance on being forced to play somebody's daughter again. I'm not another Mae West, but then I'm not the washed-faced pigtail type people think I am, either."

Rand Brooks and Ben Petti, who taught Will Rogers' children how to rope, are introducing a Hollywood western show to the summer state fair circuit. . . C. B. DeMille's beaming over the latest boxoffice figures on "The Greatest Show on Earth." A $14,000,000 gross to date in U.S.A.

Latest summer stock recruits: Joanne Dru and John Ireland in "Laura," and Evelyn Keyes in "I Am a Camera." . . Nat Holt's next western "Seven Badmen," is based on the careers of the Reno Brothers who terrorized the midwest while the James boys were playing with cap pistols.

Wants Shirt On
 Another beef-cake boy wants to keep his shirt on.

Richard Jaeckel, the bare-chested wolf of "Come Back, Little Sheba," admits he stepped up in class just working with Shirley Booth and Burt Lancaster in the film, but now:

"I'd like to keep my shirt on and prove that I'm a serious actor."

Richard Burton tells on Hungarian-born Sir Alexander Korda, who still speaks with an accent that makes him sound like a male Zsa Zsa Gabor. When Korda loaned him to Fox for "My Cousin Rachel," he promised Burton a completed script before he sailed for the U.S.

Weeks went by and on the eve of sailing, Burton, with no script, came thundering into Korda's office with the threat that "I won't get on the boat unless I get a bloody script."

Korda quietly said: "Of course, the boy must have a script. What would you like, my boy—a script of 'Four Feathers' or a script of 'The Private Life of Henry the VIII?'"

Audience Of 5,000 Hears Massed Band Waterloo Concert

Waterloo.—The tenth annual Festival of the Federation of Amateur Bands of the Province of Quebec was held in Waterloo on Sunday, July 26. Twelve bands with a total of four hundred and fifty musicians congregated to present to the residents of Waterloo a musical treat. Bands were present from Covansville, Thetford Mines, Windsor Mills, Black Lake, Magog, East Angus, Coaticook, Megantic, Iperville, Princeville, Disraeli and Waterloo. The twelve bands made a most impressive parade in the morning when they paraded from Foster Square and paraded to church down Main Street. Each band played in turn which presented a continual blend of martial airs.

After dinner, the bands massed at the fair grounds before over five thousand thrilled listeners to present a varied massed band concert, directed by the Waterloo Concert Band leader, Mr. George Young. Opening with "O Canada" the first selection was a march, "Hospitality," followed by another march, "Precision." The overture "Mignonette" was next followed by "Laurentian Echoes." A popular song "Mexicali Rose" was included on the program along with another march, "Military Escort." The hitting song "Louise" was followed by another overture "Determination."

The Queen City March was well done and the Waltz Over the Waves was exceptionally well received by the huge gathering. The Maple Leaf Forever was followed by the closing march, "Mount St. Louis Cadets." The National Anthem brought a very nice afternoon's concert to a close. Included on the program was a guest soloist Mr. Suchar, of Montreal. Mr. Suchar, who is presently appearing at the Normandie Roof of the Mount Royal Hotel, is a Piano Accordionist par excellence, and his several selections of varied nature received thunderous ovations.

The evening's program to be given by the fine Covansville Band under the direction of Mr. Edward Benoit was cancelled due to inclement weather. A banquet in the evening closed out the busy day for the musicians.

While the day's program was a very satisfying and a very pleasant one, it took much work on the part of Mr. Young and his members to arrange for all these details. Mr. Young is well known for doing a good job with whatever he starts and this festival was another example of his ability to carry through to a successful conclusion a difficult situation. The people of Waterloo are justly proud of their band and leader.

 ADDED ATTRACTION!

Rev. Father Leon M. Lemay, of the St. John Evangelist Church, who this past week was elevated to the position of Canon.

Before coming to Coaticook to assume his duties at St. John Church, Canon Lemay served for many years as professor at St. Charles Borromeo Seminary, acted as counsellor for the Convent of Petites Soeurs of Ste-Famille and also served the Parish at St. Roch-d'Orford where he was instrumental in constructing a fine new church and presbytery. Following the disastrous fire, which destroyed the former St. John Church at Coaticook, Canon Lemay has again had the huge task of having to build another church for his congregation.

SCHOOL COMMISSION
 With the reopening of schools not more than one month away it was decided at a meeting of the Coaticook Catholic School Commission that at least five new classes would be needed this year to take care of the many youngsters of school age who will be starting on the road to learning.

One class will be added at the St-Marc school and the school on Pleasant street which has not been used for some time, will be reopened to handle four classes.

The college will have a director, eight professors and four other instructors.

The new Gendreau school on Cutting street will have a director, six religious instructors and ten lay teachers.

St-Marc school will have five teachers, St. Edmund school will have a director and eight instructors and the Pleasant street school will require a professor and four other instructors.

During the past eight years the number of classes at the college has grown from six to twelve, Gendreau school has increased from six to twenty classes and St-Marc school has added one class to the present number of five.

The Protestant School Commission has hired the required number of teachers for the coming term also and the number of children at the college school for the first time has increased and it is believed that the primary grade teacher will have over 40 youngsters in her room this year. It is hoped that a much-needed addition to the present High School will be added before many months and plans for this are well under way at present.

Puzzle Still Unsolved; 2 Chances Next Week

Today our crossword puzzle moves into a higher income bracket. We've crossed the barrier from a two to three figure prize and, as you submit puzzle number 10 for your consideration, the award becomes $100 for the lucky winner, or a share of it if more than one correct answer is received.

All of which simply means that none of the 2,102 people who answered Puzzle No. 9 had the right answer. But, oh, how close some of you came! One lady, for instance, wrote "boxes" instead of "boxes" in one of the clues and but for that slight error would have hit the jackpot. Every other clue in her puzzle was correct.

Some of you suggested last week that unless the number of entries increases the chances of the puzzle being solved are slight. One contestant spoke of open warfare in her family because she and her husband couldn't agree on the clues and when she sent in her reply, instead of her husband's, and her's was wrong and his was right well, you can imagine what happened!

So to keep peace in the family and give you an extra chance to win the money, we are amending our rules this week. In future we will accept two entries from the same household, or the same person. Both puzzles, of course, must be on separate forms, either clipped from the Record or a facsimile.

Now, get cracking, and maybe a week from today we will be able to announce the name of a winner.

Despite the many weeks this puzzle has been running, interest still seems to be keen. A Danville lady wrote us that she has been getting the Record for years and that "this is the most interesting contest that you have had in for a long time."

Another contestant wants to know how the readers of other papers that carry these crosswords are making out. Just about the same as the rest of you, judging from what we have seen. However, a metropolitan paper which, like ourselves, got up to puzzle No. 9, came up with not just one, but three winners this week. So, take heart, someone can solve these puzzles.

A North Hatley lady said she filled in her puzzle "on top of a hay mow, with this year's hay."

"I hope that will bring me luck," she wrote, "but if it does there will be no photos of me, as being a farmer's wife you would most likely find me canning in the kitchen, or weeding in the garden, or, best of all, cleaning out the pigs or chickens. I would hate to have a photo taking doing the last two jobs."

Someone else was less worried, writing: "I always wanted to have my picture in the paper—and not to have to kill a man to get it in."

An optimist advised us that "when sending a cheque for this correct solution, please deduct a year's subscription to the Record. Mine expires shortly."

The same man asked whether we have the correct solution beforehand, "or do you wait until all answers are in and then confuse everybody."

The answer to that is that we do get the puzzles, and the answers, a couple of weeks before they appear in the paper. Wouldn't you like to know where we hide the answers?

A few other comments were: "Enclosed is puzzle. Hoping it's correct to prove to my husband that I'm not useless."

"Here we are again. My pen is getting weary, but always ready to try again."

"I hope I have the right answer. My little boy has to have his teeth taken care of and also needs glasses."

"I could make very good use of $90 for clothes for my children this winter."

And a poem:

"I've tried and tried to make a verse,
"They just keep getting worse and worse."
"I'm not no good at making rhymes,
"But I sure could use 900 dimes."
"My thoughts turn to my empty purse,
"And now at last I've got my verse."

Oh, well, we've often seen much worse!

COMMENTS ON PUZZLE

NO. 9
Answer to more difficult clues:

- ACROSS:
- CHEAT is best. A CHEAP person doesn't necessarily require watching while a CHEAT usually does.
 - ZERO is best. A Japanese Zero once brought down was usually used for further combat. Many a HERO returned again to battle.
 - RASH is best. It gives a BUSH order it is certainly in a hurry — no maybe about it. Being in a hurry may well be the reason for giving a RASH order.
 - READER is best. The word intelligence is important. A READER will gain a full interpretation of what is reading by his INTELLIGENCE. In a LEADER the essential quality is keeping a grasp on the surest of the two words above intelligence.
- DOWN:
- CHEAT is best. A CHEAP person doesn't necessarily require watching while a CHEAT usually does.
 - ZERO is best. A Japanese Zero once brought down was usually used for further combat. Many a HERO returned again to battle.
 - RASH is best. It gives a BUSH order it is certainly in a hurry — no maybe about it. Being in a hurry may well be the reason for giving a RASH order.
 - WILY is best. In children being WILY is an unattractive quality which is not likeable. Many children are naturally WILD and boisterous, and yet quite likeable.
 - FLESHY is best. Being FLASHY is a manifestation of bad taste, having no necessary connection with wealth. Plenty of money means easy living, and in some cases a tendency to become fleshy.
 - COWED is best. It gives us the better link with the idea of lack of spirit. A man may well be BOWED when his youth is gone.
 - LIFT is best. The clue says "probably". You'd certainly think a man for a GIFT, no probably about it, and you'd probably think him for a LIFT. "Probably" is appropriate for LIFT since you might not have the opportunity or in some cases of a LIFT think were not expected.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

SIDE GLANCES

RED POLICE SEIZE

Continued from Page 1. lids and youth alike were seized by railway patrols from third-class passenger cars and subjected to search and questioning. Their American-bought fats, flour, canned milk and dried vegetables were taken away from them. Police took down their names and addresses and turned over the information to Communist party district officials and state security agents for reprisals. Communist loudspeakers blared warnings of jail for "Ami American" foot beggars, as Berlin-bound trains stopped at suburban stations. But East Germany's "second revolution" rolled on.

ODDS FAVORING

Continued from Page 1. blanka and that Beria belonged back in the Kremlin? All they have to do is muster a majority. Well, the chances of it happening are about 1,300 to 0. And to a mathematician, that's infinity.

TROOPS' VOTE WILL

Continued from Page 1. That means special polls must be set up in the field. Polls for servicemen all will be open three hours a day between Aug. 3 and Aug. 8. The number of voters eligible overseas is estimated at about 20,000, considerably higher than the "handful" who cast ballots overseas in the 1949 election. That year there were only 22,714 votes cast among servicemen from an eligible voters list of about 50,000. In 1945, there were 174,589 votes cast overseas, including 7,839 in Newfoundland which was not a province of Canada at that time. The total service vote was 359,078 and the number of eligible voters 750,000. Next-of-kin of Canada's 18 servicemen taken prisoner-of-war in Korea may exercise their right to cast an extra vote as proxy for their absent menfolk. Several hundred 16-year-old apprentices in the army, navy and air force also will get a vote for the first time. The law says all members of the active armed forces are entitled to vote, and that includes the apprentices.

TAFT WILL BE

Continued from Page 1. band. Among the early callers were the President and Mrs. Eisenhower. The Eisenhowers visited with Mrs. Taft for about 10 minutes. The President left a letter. In a public statement, Eisenhower had said: "The American people have lost a truly great citizen and I have lost a wise counsellor and a valued friend." This came from the man Taft had fought bitterly last year for the Republican presidential nomination, then had pitched in to help discharge the White House responsibility he himself had sought for so long. More than any other thing, the 63-year-old Ohioan had wanted to follow the footsteps of his father, William Howard Taft, into the White House. But with their differences buried for the sake of national and party unity, Taft and Eisenhower pulled together. Taft's judgment in Congressional timing and his peacemaking ability were accounted a tremendous asset for Eisenhower administration attempts to put through its program at its first legislative session. Former President Truman, generally at odds politically with Taft, said his death was America's loss Truman added: "He and I did not agree on public policy, but he knew where I stood and I knew where he stood." John L. Lewis and other union leaders, who often criticized the Ohioan and the Taft-Hartley labor relations act he co-authored, mourned his passing. In Europe, leaders of Britain, France and Italy quickly expressed their regret. Even Moscow radio, in a broadcast Moscow in London, took note of Taft's passing, but in a one-sentence account: "According to London radio, the prominent member of the U. S. Senate, Taft, died today." There had been published reports that Taft knew the malignant nature of his ailment long before his death. But neither the family nor his physicians could confirm this.

The schipperke, a small tailless dog, was originally used on Belgian barges as a guard and vermin killer.

The Doctor Says

SURGERY BEST CURE FOR GOITER

By Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.
The thyroid is a gland of internal secretion which lies in the hormone is absorbed directly into the blood.

When behaving normally, the thyroid products just the right amount of secretion for the needs of the body. Among other things, it helps to regulate the action of other internal glands and also to keep the heart beat regular. If the front of the neck, sometimes extending down under the upper portion of the breastbone. It does not have a duct or passageway to empty its secretion and therefore its thyroid gland starts misbehaving it may produce either too much secretion or a secretion which is abnormal.

The result is the development of a condition which is known as toxic goiter of which there are several kinds. Other names for this condition are Graves' disease and von Basedow's disease.

Ordinarily, in a toxic goiter the thyroid becomes somewhat enlarged. The other symptoms vary but the most common besides enlargement are a rapid heart rate, bulging eyes, trembling of the hands, nervousness and loss of weight. Sometimes these symptoms alone are enough to make a diagnosis. Almost always, however, doctors wish to have a metabolism test taken which measures more accurately the degree to which the thyroid is overactive. This is done early in the morning before eating. It is entirely painless.

Discovery Important
Toxic goiter has been discovered as soon as possible before it has produced damage which may be difficult or slow to overcome. The most common form of treatment has been surgery. This involves an operation in which part of the thyroid tissue is removed, leaving only enough to supply the normal needs of the body.

Now some other methods besides surgery have begun to be used for toxic goiter. Drugs of the thiouracil family have been used with success in some cases. Radioactive iodine is also a useful medical treatment. Not all patients with toxic goiter can be successfully treated medically, however, and surgery probably will continue to be used for at least some patients for a long time.

Indians Clash With Granby Phillies At Local Park Tonight

Race Between Bob O'Donnell, Horse, Begins Tonight At Seven O'Clock; Granby Plays Again Tomorrow Night

Righthander Bill Dailey, whose record is 3-0 to date, is expected to be on the mound tonight when Sherbrooke Indians entertain the second-place Granby Phillies at Municipal Stadium.

The game starts at 7:15 and is a four-in-one attraction. Here are the features:

(1) Granby at Sherbrooke, second-place team versus League Leaders in Provincial baseball;

(2) Race: man against horse, 75 yards—Bob O'Donnell, Indian short stop, against horse, ridden by "Major" Jack Bowes;

(3) Ladies' Night: women admitted for small service charge plus tax;

(4) Door Prizes: 12 pairs of Kayser nylon hosiery.

The race of O'Donnell against the horse begins at seven o'clock. Tomorrow afternoon, Indians play at Granby and the two teams return here for another tilt at Municipal Stadium Sunday night, beginning at eight o'clock. Fans are advised to take note of the time differences. Tonight's game really starts at seven if patrons want to see the horse race too. But the Sunday night contest is not until eight, to give both Indians and Phillies some leeway in travelling back here from Grand-Granby after the afternoon contest there.

Who will pitch for Sherbrooke at Granby tomorrow afternoon is uncertain as Manager Pinky May and the Indians have been on the road the last three days and were in Drummondville last night. However the local pilot can call upon righthanders Len Nayman, Gerry Underwood and Johnny Cerbo while southpaw Clyde Thomas is also available. Danny Oskin was slated to pitch at Drummondville last night, as this was being written.

Granby Climbs To Within One Game Of Sherbrooke Indians By Sweeping Doubleheader As Leaders Defeated

By The Canadian Press

Granby Phillies advanced to within one game of the high-flying Sherbrooke Indians Friday night by sweeping both ends of a Provincial Baseball League doubleheader from Theford Mines Miners, 2-1 and 12-1.

The Indians contributed to Granby's cause by dropping a 9-6 decision to Drummondville Royals. The abbreviated opener at Granby was a pitching duel between Sator of the Miners and Granby's Liptiri and Gilbert. Liptiri, who worked the first five innings, was credited with the victory. The two Granby hurlers allowed only two safeties to three off loser Sator.

In the second game, the Phils outhit Theford Mines 11-3 and capitalized on six errors Trautwein, who needed help from Triandos, got the victory.

The Drummondville affair was marred by 9 errors, five by Sherbrooke. Al Berresford turned in a five-hit pitching job. The Royals belted two Sherbrooke hurlers for 11 safe blows.

St. Johns Canadiens scored a 9-3 upset victory over the third-place Quebec Braves in a game at St. Johns.

Besides committing three errors, the Braves were held to three hits. Lewright, who took over the mound chores from Long in the fifth, was credited with the win.

The Habs reached two Quebec pitchers for nine hits, with the loss going to Al Dumouchel, who worked the first seven frames.

Robin Roberts Chalks Up 18th Win With 5-1 Verdict Over Milwaukee; Cleveland, Yankees Keep Winning

The pitchers held the spotlight in Friday's major-league baseball action.

Robin Roberts chalked up another notch on his way to a possible 30-game season by winning his 18th victory as Philadelphia Phillis clouted four Milwaukee pitchers for nine hits and a 5-1 verdict in the first half of a doubleheader at Milwaukee. Roberts gave up four hits.

Heavy rain broke up the scoreless second game in the top of the 11th inning. The Phils had two men on base and two out when

Little Mo Draws Top Assignment

Rye, N.Y.—(AP)—Tennis queen Maureen Little Mo Connolly and the veteran Doris Hart, playing in her eighth series, Friday drew top singles assignments for the task of defending the Wightman Cup from young British invaders.

The United States players are favored to sweep the seven-match competition, beginning with three tilts today and winding up with four Sunday at the swank Westchester Country Club.

Miss Connolly, at 18 holder of every major tennis crown in the world, will oppose Angela Mortimer, 21-year-old Torquay miss, in the first singles match.

Miss Hart, from Coral Gables, Fla., who has won 15 of these international matches and lost only a doubles test since 1946, will face Helen Fletcher, a 21-year-old left-hander from Derbyshire.

Porky Oliver Ties For Lead

Chicago—(AP)—Golf's top-drawer tournament pros made their move in the $25,000 all-American meet at Tam O'Shanter Friday with a par-busting frolic led by Porky Oliver with a second-round 65.

The round Oliver, whose opening 73 Thursday left him eating dust in the stampee for the $3,420 first prize, slammed into a tie for the 36-hole lead at 138 with Jimmie Clark and Dave Douglas, Canadian open champion.

Clark, 32-year-old ex-marine from Laguna Beach, Calif., duplicated his first-round 69 while Douglas, the hungry-looking PGA executive from Newark, Del., blasted a 67 to go with his 71.

Oliver's blistering 33-32, seven under par for the trampled 6,900-yard course and only two strokes off the record, was the most sensational golf of the meet thus far.

Oliver's "Pork Chops" breadwinner of a family of four children, hit all of Tam's greens but the 18th where he had to chip dead to salvage par 4. But he riddled birdie putts of 11, 10, 8, 4 and 5-foot-and got cinches on the long holes by reaching the greens in two shots.

"Of course the money is important, but tournament golf just wouldn't be worth it without the laughs, too," said the good-natured 220-pounder.

Oliver is fresh from winning the Kansas City Open last Sunday.

Cards in St. Louis

Ralph Branca, discarded National League righthander, stopped the ambitious Boston Red Sox on nine hits while pitching Detroit Tigers to a 5-3 victory in his first Fenway Park start.

Boston didn't lose any ground to Chicago White Sox, however, as the American League's second-placers dropped a 2-0 shutout to Washington. Bob Porterfield collected his sixth whitewash—a sparkling three-hit effort. For the other pitcher it was a black night. Virgil Trucks, who had won eight straight since joining Chicago, lost the decision.

Cleveland Indians, with Wally Westlake collecting five straight hits, cooled off the pesky Athletics with a 12-6 win at Philadelphia.

Back in the National, New York's Larry Jansen, who can just about beat Cincinnati by throwing his glove out on the mound, got 10th victory and fifth straight as the Giants trounced the Redlegs 9-2.

At Chicago, the victory-starved Pittsburgh Pirates rode Murry Dickson's stout eight-hit pitching to a 4-0 win over the Cubs in a day game.

In the other day affair, New York Yankees gave St. Louis Browns their usual Yankee Stadium welcome by blasting them for an 11-5 victory.

O'Neill Concerned About Simmons

Milwaukee.—(AP)—There's nothing wrong with Curt Simmons that conditioning and better control won't cure.

Manager Steve O'Neill of the Philadelphia Phillies says he is concerned about the ineffectiveness of his star left-hander, but not worried.

Simmons has been knocked out of the box in his last four starts and has won one and lost five since returning to action a few weeks ago. The 24-year-old batus hurler caught his foot in a power mower June 4 and was out about three weeks.

"Curt gets tired very quickly," said O'Neill. "He hasn't had time to get back in shape."

Simmons says his foot doesn't bother him, he just can't seem to get the ball where he wants it, so he has to slow down his fast ball. The batters are rapping him hard.

The annual Eastern Townships men's amateur golf tournament is being played this week-end at the Sherbrooke Country Club.

This is a two-day 54-hole tourney which attracts the top club swingers from the district.

An open tournament will be held on August 15-16 at the Sherbrooke Country Club but this week-end it is strictly for the amateurs.

Members of clubs in good standing with the E.T.G.A. may compete.

This year two top competitors will be missing from the field. Don Doe last year's winner and John Dukelow will both be competing for a berth on Quebec's Willingdon Cup Team.

With the absence of Doe and Dukelow the selection of a favorite is a tough problem.

Willie Kirby, the top S.C.C. player this year, Bill Doe, and the Laurie Brothers, Granby, and several others have a chance of taking the trophy.

The opening round on Saturday decides which of the three flights the competitors will compete in. The thirty top low scores are in flight "A", the next thirty low scores in "B" and the next thirty in "C".

This is medal play and eighteen holes on Saturday and thirty-six on Sunday will provide a good test over the tough 18-hole course.

Whoever wins the E.T. amateur at the S.C.C. sure deserves it.

Minor League Play-Offs Start

The play-offs in the minor baseball league get underway today at Sangster Park.

There will be a doubleheader with the first game getting underway at 1:30 p.m.

Centre Ward Royals, winners of the league title, meet the third place St. Pat's Indians while St. Joseph Yankees tangle with the Giants. Both series are best-of-three affairs. The finals will be best-of-seven.

Lennoxville Giants have been the hottest team in the league recently and may cause an upset although the Royals are favorites.

Unemployed Scot Wins Irish Open

Belfast, Northern Ireland.—(AP)—Eric Brown, an unemployed Scot, won the Irish Open golf championship at Belvoir Park Friday with a 72-hole total of 272.

Brown's final-round 70 early assured him of setting an Irish record. Reggie Whitecombe held the previous record—a 281-shot at Dollymount, Dublin, in 1936.

E. R. Richardson, of Sherbrooke, well-known canoeist is at Moon-cy's Bay, Ottawa, and is the flag officer for the 53rd annual Canadian Canoe Association championship regatta.

Meet The Wives, Children Of Sherbrooke Baseball Club

Charming "Better Halves" Of Indians Proving, Like Husbands, Wonderful Ambassadors To Canada For Uncle Sam

With the debut in Sherbrooke this summer of local affiliation with the Cleveland Indians of the American League, Sherbrooke was invaded by a score of hand-picked young baseball players anxious to do well in their trade here and step up to higher company, the Big League as their acme of ambition.

As a team the players couldn't be doing any better than they are now for they are in first position of the Provincial Baseball League.

The boys and their general manager, Merrill "Pinky" May, have shown themselves to be winners too in each one's ability to choose a life companion.

The Daily Record photographer has assembled a collection of photos of the local baseball wives, plus the children. They are, as their husbands, grand people.

We found them to be, like their men, folk, wonderful ambassadors to Canada for Uncle Sam.

their 11-year-old son, BUTCH, while four-months' son MIKE gurgles his fascination for Record photographer, Royal Roy.

job it is to preserve the dignity of her husband in three rambunctious children is Mrs. May and the reserve with which her job is punctuated wins a pennant for the family of five.

MEET MRS. CASTRO, lower left, wife of Sherbrooke Indians centre fielder, JACK CASTRO. BEEBE is seen here with their daughter CARYN, age 4, whose playtime occupation is keeping track of the city zoo's latest additions. According to Mrs. Castro, the zoo in Sherbrooke is the delight of their lives since distances at their Washington, D.C., home do not make it easy for several trips weekly to the animal world.

LOWER CENTRE — "JOVIAL JANE" could be the cut-line for this picture of MRS. THOMAS, wife of CLYDE THOMAS, Sherbrooke Indians left-handed pitcher, as she is seen here with her three-year-old son, HERBIE, on the understanding that it would not apply to just the photograph. The Record has decided that there must be sunshine in California after all since San Diego resident, Jane, has made it her business to reflect the radiation.

AT MUNICIPAL STADIUM: are the baseball wives. They prove devotion by an almost 100% turnout at each game that is at a distance within reason and reason means anything that accommodates a child's bedtime. Seated in front row seat is MRS. MERRILL MAY with three-year-old son, MILTON, in her lap, while MIRA, 6, and PINKY, 10, are seated beside her. Middle row, left to right, are MRS. CLELL HOBSON with four-months' son, MIKE, in her lap, and 11-year-old BUTCH beside her; MRS. JACK CASTRO is seen with her 21-year-old daughter CARYN; MRS. CLYDE

Sports Roundup

By JACK HAND
New York—(AP)—Just 25 years ago today, at a luncheon for the late Bill Muldoon, Gene Tunney retired from the ring as undefeated heavyweight champion of the world.

Unlike Joe Louis, Jim Jeffries and the others who could not leave well enough alone, the champ never again drew on a glove in competition. Opinion still is divided on his place among the champions of the past. Unfortunately, he is remembered best because of his famous "long count" incident in his second fight with Jack Dempsey at Chicago in 1927.

Jimmy Bronson was talking about those days in his little office on Broadway. Bronson was "chief adviser" for Tunney, working the corner in his two fights with Dempsey and the night he gave Tom Heeney a brutal beating in his last fight.

"Tunney had something up here, no fighter ever had," said Bronson, pointing to his head. "He was a perfect judge of his own condition, both physically and mentally. He was a surgeon in the ring, a master at making the other guy fight the way he wanted him to."

Like everybody else, Bronson too talked about the "long count" in Chicago the night they first used the neutral corner rule.

"Gene got hit with a sucker right," he said. "Dempsey couldn't knock your hat off with a right. But as Gene pulled away he waiked right into a left hook Dempsey hit him five more before he went down."

"Barry (referee Dave Barry) started to count and Dempsey went to his own corner, right behind Tunney. He wouldn't go to the neutral corner. When he did, Barry started the count again. It really was 18 seconds not 14. When Tunney got up he started to backpedal. He went past the corner faster going backward than Dempsey was going straight ahead. Dempsey finally caught him and Tunney threw everything he had in one right that made Dempsey grab. After that it was a breeze."

"When Tunney came back to the corner I asked him 'What night is it?' He said 'Jim, don't be ridiculous. I'm all right and you know it.'"

"There wasn't too much turmoil that night but the next day they started to whoop it up. Rickard (promoter Tex Rickard) doctored the pictures to make it look as though Tunney never could have got up. And they started the ballyhoo for a third match. Everybody wanted it but it never came off."

"Tunney was up in Speculator, N.Y., getting ready for Heeney the next summer. He was staying out on a little island. One day he told me, 'Jim, when you get through work, come over to the island. I want to talk to you.' When I got over there, he said 'This is my last fight. I don't want you to tell a soul. Keep talking about who I'm going to fight next. But this is the last. Rickard just called me up and told me that Dempsey, under no condition, ever would fight me for the Dempsey fight at Chicago and $525,000 for his swan song with Heeney, now is chairman of the board of several companies.
