LONGEST LEASED WIRE IN THE WORLD

New National News Service of Canadian Press Inaugurated Today. Sherbrooke on Leased Wire and Record Will Get Full Service. Places This Paper on Equal Basis With Metropolitan Papers in its Telegraphic News. Will Make Record Indispensable in Every Eastern Township Home.

At 7 o'clock this morning the click of a telegraph instrument in the office of the Sherbrooke Record and of leading papers throughout Canada marked the inauguration of the longest news service leased wire in the world. Furthermore it marked a development in the telegraph service of the Record, which places this paper absolutely on a par with the metropolitan papers of Canada in the matter of telegraphic news. These statements require some explanation.

The Canadian Press Ltd., the organization of Canadian publishers of which the Record is a member, which corresponds in Canada to the Associated Press in the United States and which receives the Associated Press service for distribution in this country, has been planning for some time the important advance in the telegraphic news service of leading Canadian papers which goes into effect today. This morning the operator took his place at the key and the news gathered from the four corners of the globe thus comes direct to the editorial desk in the Record office.

suming of larger expense by individual papers has made it possible to lease from the C.P.R. a wire extending from Halifax to Vancouver, together with a wire connecting with the Associated Press in New York and adequate arrangements for cable service, including full access to Reuter's office, the great news gathering organization overseas as supplementary to that of the Associated Press.

Fortunately for the readers of the Record, Sherbrooke is located on this transcontinental leased wire of the Canadian Press so that, while many papers not so fortunately located must content themselves with what is termed a "pony" service, the Record is able to get on the direct wire with access to the full service. Last week the wire connections were made with the Record building and telegraph instrument installed. This morning the operator took his place at the key and the news gathered from the four corners of the globe thus comes direct to the editorial desk in the Record office.

complete, being that carried by the Eastern wire and the same as received by the St. John and Halifax papers. The new leased wire service will be about double this in volume and in many respects more comprehensive, because of the additional facilities which the Canadian Press will have for gathering Canadian and world news. Record readers will feel assured that in their home paper they will not miss any of the important telegraphic or cable news of the day for the Record now receives its service off the same wire as that which enters the office of the metropolitan newspapers and at the same time.

In addition, in the Record they receive the Eastern Townships news which comes to them in no other paper. The publishers confidently expect that this enlarged telegraphic news service, undertaken at greatly increased expense, will make the Record absolutely indispensable in every English reading home in the Eastern Townships—the one paper that no Eastern Townships family can get along without.

RUSSIA HAD NO MUNITIONS AND NO RIFLES

Former President of Duma Tells of Lack of Preparations at Trial of ex-War Minister.

(Associated Press Despatch.) LONDON, Sept. 3.—The 69th annual Trade Union Congress opened at Blackpool at noon today with a record attendance of nearly seven hundred delegates, representing more than three million workers. Russia began the war, he said, with a poor commanding staff, no munitions and without a plan. Only at the end of the first year did the war department make any pretence at activity, and the activity then consisted in giving fictitious orders and receiving delegations.

"The defects in our military preparation were revealed in the first month of the war," declared the former war minister, and former chief of the industrial commission. "At the time of the Lublin fighting I was convinced of this lack of preparation. I visited the fortress of Ossowetz (Russian) Poland. A. MUCH DISSECTED TOWNSHIP. (Stanstead Journal)

The township of Hatley has again been cut in two, the central-southern section being erected into a separate municipality, designated as "West Hatley." By repeated pruning the municipality had become so shapeless that the future continuity of its present boundaries was next to impossible. Originally the township of Hatley was bounded on the west by Lake Memphremagog. A long time ago, however, the township of Magog was made out of parts of Hatley and Bolton. That brought Hatley's western boundary to a point midway between Lake Memphremagog and Massawippi Lake. Then St. Catherine de Hatley (Katevale) was set off, and that took practically all of the area on the west side of the last named lake. Ayer's Cliff and North Hatley, at opposite ends of the lake were then taken off leaving the municipality somewhat like a letter I, or perhaps more like a boot with its

NO-LICENCE RALLY AT FRELIGHSBURG

Enthusiastic Meeting in Favor of Prohibition Vote on Sept. 12.

FRELIGHSBURG, Sept. 3.-[Special]-An enthusiastic meeting in the interests of the Canada Temperance Act, to be voted on September 12, was held in the Town Hall Thursday night. The audience was large, entirely filling the spacious hall, and responding heartily to the telling arguments of the speakers. Rev. Mr. Brown, pastor of the local Methodist Church, opened the meeting by introducing the chairman of the evening, Mr. W. U. Cotton, of Cowansville, who is taking a prominent part in the no-license fight.

The chief speakers of the evening were the Rev. Father Couture, of the Dominican Order, and the Rev. A. F. Fowkes, temperance organizer for the present struggle in Missisquoi county, and winner of many a victory in recent county campaigns. Father Couture, who spoke in French, held his audience from the start. In an eloquent address he related how he had been converted to the cause of prohibition by a long study of the effects of drink from every point of view. He referred feelingly to the recent tragedy in Farnham, caused by a man rendered a brute by alcohol. He showed how the saloon-keepers grow fat on the hard-won earnings of the poor, and invited his hearers to give one sensible reason why the bar should continue to exist. Needless to say, there was no response. Finally, quoting Lloyd George's famous speech at the beginning of the war to the effect that we can never win the war while whiskey rules, he appealed to the audience to use their votes to help banish this evil being made to help win the war may not be in vain. When he sat down he received a round of applause that showed his entreaties had not fallen on indifferent ears.

The next speaker was Mr. Fowkes, substitute for Mr. John H. Roberts, of the Dominion Alliance, who was unavoidably obliged to cancel his engagement. In a rousing speech Mr. Fowkes turned the guns on the citadel of booze. He began by showing the marvellous progress of the great prohibition movement in the last few years, and appealed to the voters of Frelighsburg not to fall behind the times. He said the people of the civilized world were beginning to see a great light, as is evidenced by the fact that 24 of the American States are now dry, that all Canada except the Province of Quebec has voted out the bar, and even in this province, out of 137 municipalities only 99 were now "wet." He then went on to show that prohibition works well where it is being tried. In support of this he opened the eyes of some of his hearers by quoting the statements of numbers of leading officials and business men of the neighboring counties of Brome and Stanstead, many of whom have become converts to no-license after observing its success in their midst. Ridiculing the statements of the liquor men regarding "blind pigs," he said, "I would rather have a blind pig than a pig with its eyes open, for then he can see where to bite me." In conclusion he quoted from a letter written by one of the lads in the trenches, who appealed to Canadians to have a safe country for the boys to come home to.

Owing to the lateness of the hour, the speakers who followed were brief in their remarks, but all expressed themselves as being confident of a sweeping victory even in this corner of the county, which unfortunately has a bad name for being a headquarters of the supporters of drink. Whether that reputation is correct or not will be shown at the polls on the 12th of September. The other speakers were Mr. Bouchard, of Bedford, one of the vice-presidents of the county Anti-Alcoholic League; the Rev. Mr. Brown and the Rev. Father Monit, of Frelighsburg; R. C. Church, besides the speakers, Rev. Mr. Winch, of the Anglican Church, and Rev. Mr. Perley, from Stangridge East, were on the platform. The meeting, which augured well for a temperance victory in Missisquoi, closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

COSTLY PROPOSITION

"My time," said the magnate, is worth $100 a minute." "Well," answered his friend, casually, "let's go out this afternoon and play $10,000 or $15,000 worth of golf."

KING'S BENCH AT SWEETSBURG

Term of Court Will Open October 1. Farnham Murder Case on Roll.

SWEETSBURG, Sept. 3.-[Special]-Notwithstanding the first report to the contrary, a message has been received from the Attorney-General of the province, ordering the summoning of the jurors and that a term of the Court of King's Bench (Crown Side) will be held on the first Monday in October. Accordingly the panel has been prepared, and the sheriff and his deputy will be busy for the next few days serving the notices to the jurors all over the district.

The Farnham murder case will be the principal one submitted, with half a dozen more cases of minor importance. Allan Boyd, who last spring was committed to stand his trial for obtaining money under false pretences from one Garrick and others, has just been delivered to the sheriff by his bondsmen and incarcerated in the Sweetzburg jail, and will likely have his trial in the fall.

MINING IN MANITOBA

The Western Province Has Possibilities in its Mining Lands

I am interested in the new mining province of Manitoba, the development of which can take place under ideal conditions. Hitherto Manitoba has been regarded as the finest agricultural province, but it has now arrived at that stage when it is in a position to take advantage of the newest thought on mining development. What is needed is for the province to secure the right to have control over the mining lands for the best interests of the whole province, both directly and indirectly; directly, by obtaining dividends from the mines and obtaining metals for use in production and manufactures; indirectly by supplying the mines and the population which will collect around the mines, with food, machinery and the supplies which will be needed. People who invest in mines must be persuaded to have a valuation made before they put up their money. If that is done, mining is a clean and profitable business, and will yield larger returns from investments than any other securities offered on the market. What Manitoba needs to develop its manufactures and to be able to utilize its magnificent water powers, is a supply of cheap metals obtained close at hand.-J. B. Tyrrell, B.Sc.

Canada To Be a Great Nation

All the big financial authorities agree that Canada will rapidly become one of the great nations of the world, that war swept Europe will be the great market for Canadian resources, and productions. Everything destroyed will have to be replaced.

Already 8,000 ships costing 12 billions, have to be replaced, and 4,000 merchant vessels provided, costing six billions, 1,700 of these are being made in the U.S. and 1,000 will be made in Canada. The Ottawa Government has already ordered $25,000,000 worth of r. r. cars and $294,000,000 are needed for other Canadian roads. Everything else will be in proportion. Thousands of branches of European and U.S. industries will locate in Canada. Already this has started. Sherbrooke will get its logical share. It has already. This generation, even by working double shifts, cannot, during the lives of the new living, restore normal conditions to devastated Europe, and return to conditions before the war. Let no one be surprised to see this city in three years, with scores of new industries located here, and the present ones doubled their capacity, nor to see 2 to 10 thousand people living in "Model City" with Highlands as the centre of that city. This is no "pipe dream" but forecasts founded upon inevitable consequences. It will be said of Highlands in 4 years that 10 to 1 in favor of these building sites, was indeed modest, for this is the natural, logical, common sense direction for the city to grow. That is why the new industries have located there. Office 2, Casino Bldg. Tel. 1591. Local reasons why Highlands is, will and must be built up, to follow. It's turn has come.

MARRIAGES

CHASE-VALLEE

The marriage of Corinne-Annette daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Vallee, Belvedere Street to Mr. Harold James Chase, violinist at the Premier Theatre, took place this morning at Notre Dame Church, Rev. Father Buisserie officiating. The bride was attended by her father, and the groom by Mr. Fred Dupuis, cornetist at the Premier Theatre.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. G. G. Vallee, Belvedere Street, at which the members of the bride's family and several friends were present. The table was beautifully decorated with flowers, the wedding cake occupying the place of honor, and delightful music furnished by an orchestra during the breakfast, and social hour which followed.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful gifts of silver, cut glass, china, etc., and several checks. The wedding gown was of sand colored silk with shoes and gloves, and hat of pale blue with black facings and sand colored trimmings.

The happy couple left by afternoon train for Theford Mines, Quebec, Montreal and Ottawa, the bride wearing a travelling suit of dark blue ladies cloth, black velvet hat with heron trimmings, and fox fur. Upon their return they will live in town.

Among the out of town guests were Mrs. Lassonde of Montreal, grandmother of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Brunelle, St. Hyacinthe, Mr. and Mrs. Trigraine, Theford Mines, and others.

BRITAIN WILL BUY CANADIAN BACON

Conservation Must Be Reduced 15 Per Cent to Release Sufficient For Export.

OTTAWA, Sept. 3.—A statement from the food controller's office says: "Mr. F. C. Walcott, personal representative of Mr. Herbert Hoover of the United States food administration, has been in continuous conference in Ottawa with representatives of the Canadian food administration for the past two days. The conference has resulted in the establishment of the closest possible relationship between the two administrations, and the basis of a working agreement has been reached.

"The international nature of the food problem both demands and is receiving the mutual consideration of the British, United States and Canadian food administrations. Plans are maturing for joint action to secure essential commodities for export while protecting the general public against exploitation and permitting fair returns to producers.

There is absolutely no foundation for the recent reports that the British Government will not require any more Canadian bacon or hogs. A reduction of at least 25 per cent. in home consumption in the Dominion is essential if sufficient quantities are to be released for export to Great Britain and our European allies.

What the British Government has done is to prohibit the import of bacon, butter, lard and lard, except under license. The British food ministry is establishing a single Government buying agency in the United States for these Canadian and American products, and will make all purchases through this agency beginning September 3.

"The establishment of this agency will make possible international action between the British, United States and Canadian food controllers. Unrestricted individual competition in buying has resulted in prices which have made the action taken by the British Government necessary."

HOUSE FLY DANGER

House flies are recognized as most dangerous carriers of the germs of such diseases as typhoid fever, infantile diarrhoea, tuberculosis, etc. From ditch and decaying materials, they carry and decaying materials, they carry infection to the home and to the food which we eat. The best method to exterminate flies is to prevent their breeding. House-flies breed in decaying or decomposing vegetable and animal matter and in excrement. Stable refuse is especially attractive to them. In cities this should be stored in dark fly-proof receptacles and should be regularly removed within six days in summer. Farm manure should also be removed within the same time and either spread on the fields or stored at a distance of not less than a quarter mile from a house or dwelling. Manure piles may be treated with borax, using three-fifths of a pound to every ten cubic feet of manure. Scatter the dry borax principally around the sides and edges of the pile and wash in with water.

Kitchen refuse is a favorite breeding place for flies, and great care should be taken to keep garbage cans tightly covered. The contents should be buried or burnt at once, if possible. No refuse should be left exposed. If it cannot be disposed of at once it should be sprinkled with borax, as described above, or with chloride of lime. Windows and doors should be screened to keep flies out of the sick rooms and to prevent the spread of disease by this means.

CLASSIFY CROWN LANDS

New Brunswick Determined Not to Make Ontario's Mistake

The province of New Brunswick has undertaken to avoid the recurrence of such tragedies as were discovered by the Commission of Conservation to have been enacted in certain portions of the Trent watershed, Ontario, where settlers were allowed to locate on poor sandy soils, then chiefly valuable only for their timber. With the removal of the timber and the exodus of the lumbering industry, these settlers have been left stranded, with no opportunity to make a comfortable living, and faced with the necessity of constantly lowering their standards.

The work of land classification in New Brunswick is being carried on in connection with the timber estimate and mapping of Crown lands. The country is covered systematically and examinations of the soil are made at regular intervals. Beyond any doubt, the result will be the opening up of new lands for settlement and the establishment of new communities under conditions which will ensure comfort and a reasonable standard of living. This, in turn, will mean a permanent increase in the population of the province, by providing for the native surplus as well as for immigrants. The Commission of Conservation has co-operated with the provincial government in laying the foundation for the land classification work.

use right Grease For Auto

Some motors require grease in the timing gears. Others are lubricated by mean oil from the crank case. Where grease is required it is advisable to use a lubricant which will not affect the lubricating oil in the crank case. When the main bearings have become worn the grease from the timing gears is bound to work into the crank case. The manufacturer of your motor usually recommends a certain type of grease to use.

SHUT DOWN ON FOOD STUFFS TO NEUTRALS Shipments Will Be Permitted Only Under Most Rigid System.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—The Administrative Board of the War Relocation Authority, headed by Vance McCormick, and now vested with full powers by President Wilson, has shut down on the shipments of any foodstuffs to neutral countries contiguous to Germany. It is stated here that none of the northern neutrals may expect a shipment of American wheat before December 1, and that such shipments to the neutrals will be permitted only upon the submission of unassailable evidence that supplies are absolutely necessary for their own needs and will not be used to aid Germany. One of the first steps taken by the Administrative Board was the abrogation of a tentative agreement entered into by the Belgian Relief Committee, of which Herbert Hoover is chairman, and the Holland minister here for the release of thirty of the 100 ships now being held in New York harbor. The agreement was to the effect that these ships should be permitted to sail if the majority of their cargoes were given to Belgium. Other neutral countries have fifty additional ships which are being held up.

Loved His Officers Sergt. R. B. Ault of Victoria enlisted with the 62nd and was later transferred to the 29th. Returning home he spoke tearfully of several of the late officers of "Tobin's Tigers," and told of the great esteem held for Major Graham of Vancouver and Capt. Gwynn. The latter, he said, was the idol of the company. Pride in His Hospital Just as some of the New Army men found difficulty at first in "fatigue work" so did some of our nurses, but they would never let you know it, it is the testimony of an observant Tommy. A man always has the convenient short expletive, but nurses must not say it in hospital, though they must think it pretty often. The experienced campaigner takes almost as much pride in his hospital as in his regiment, and it is an extraordinary thing, but the simple request of some nice little V.A.D. lady has much more effect than the belted demands of the best of sergeant-majors, for such is the perversity of the soldier.

C.O. KILLED IN ACTION

Man Whose Effigy was Publicly Burned in England. A conscientious objector whose effigy was publicly burned at Bath when the tribunals were first set up made the supreme sacrifice. He was Pte. Henry Bellamore, Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry, son of Mr. H. Bellamore, St. John's-road, Lower Weston, Bath. Bellamore, who was an insurance agent, told the tribunal he considered the war was an invention of the Devil, and that he would go to gaol or be shot rather than do anything towards helping on the war.

He also stated that if he saw a wounded soldier with crutches fall he would not help him if there were anyone else to do it, even if he knew the man was suffering from wounds received in defence of his country. Subsequently Bellamore joined up voluntarily, and among his comrades was highly popular. Lived His Officers Sergt. R. B. Ault of Victoria enlisted with the 62nd and was later transferred to the 29th. Returning home he spoke tearfully of several of the late officers of "Tobin's Tigers," and told of the great esteem held for Major Graham of Vancouver and Capt. Gwynn. QUEBEC FIRE LAWS

Provisions That Made Spread of Forest Fires Difficult. The Legislature of Quebec made several amendments to the fire act, calculated to add materially to its strength and efficiency. One of these provisions required that settlers engaged in clearing operations must, between April 1 and November 15 of each year, secure a burning permit from an authorized forest officer before setting out clearing fires. Wherever this provision is properly enforced, it effects a very material reduction in the forest fire losses. One of the most serious features of the fire situation throughout Canada is the tendency of the settlers to burn debris during dry periods, when fire is likely to spread and cause serious damage. Another amendment to the Quebec act provides that the debris from settlers' clearing operations must, before burning, be piled in heaps or rows at a distance of at least fifty feet from the forest. On this basis, it is much more practicable to control the fire than where the old method of broadcast burning is employed. Holders of timbers licenses on Crown lands are required to clear away the debris on a depth of one hundred feet from railway rights of way. In many cases, the efforts of railway companies in the direction of fire protection are largely neutralized through the presence of large quantities of the most inflammable debris on lands immediately adjacent to railway rights of way. Another provision of the Quebec act is that any fire ranger or other forest officer may summon any male citizen between 18 and 55 years of age to assist in extinguishing any forest fire; the rate of pay being specified, and penalty being provided for failure to obey the summons. The fire laws of the province of Quebec are among the most progressive in Canada.

KEEP FREIGHT MOVING

In order to facilitate train movements and release passenger train crews for other work, the railways of the United States are making drastic reductions compared to which those in Canada early this year appear mild. Thus, for instance, the Pennsylvania Railroad merely on its lines east of Pittsburgh has eliminated no less than 192 trains, or more than double the number taken off the whole of the Canadian railways. This will cut down the passenger movement by an amount equivalent to 2,265,000 train miles per annum or over 6,590 train miles every week day. A number of parlor cars, restaurant cars and observation cars are being discontinued. The Boston and Maine has taken off no less than 255 trains, or more than five times the number taken off in Canada, saving approximately 41,000 train miles per week. Strenuous efforts are also being made to increase the carload and to impress on merchants the importance of rapid unloading so that the freight equipment may be kept busy to its utmost capacity, and terminals should be kept clear.

ROMANCE OF AGRICULTURE

Persia First Recognized Plant 500 Years Before Christ. The story of alfalfa is one of the romances of agriculture. Five hundred years before Christ the plant was recognized in Persia, but it was not until a little over half a century ago that it first became generally known in North America. In the interval between these periods the history of alfalfa is interwoven with the rise and fall of empires and the movements of armed hosts. Alfalfa furnished fodder for the war horses of the Persians when Greece was invaded by the latter. Carried to northern Africa, possibly by one of the followers of the Queen of Sheba, it was later taken to Italy and still later the Moors left it in Spain as the one really beneficent legacy of the Arab conquest. When the Spaniards themselves became conquerors in turn they took the plant with them to Mexico in North America and Chile in South America, and from Mexico it has spread, via California, all over the Western and Middle Western States, and from Chile it has crossed the Andes to feed the herds of Argentina. To the Arabs we owe the origin of the name by which the plant is best known. To them it was alfalfa, "the best fodder." To Italy we owe the plant's other name, lucerne. While the Spaniards are chiefly responsible for the introduction of alfalfa into the warmer States of the neighboring Union, the growing of the crop in Canada and the northern States appears to have been made possible by the introduction of seed from Germany. Alfalfa was first taken to Germany by the Spaniards, and in time it became hardened by its environment. From Germany Wendell Grimm in 1857 brought a 20-pound package of this hardy seed to America, and from that 20-pound packet most of the alfalfa grown in Minnesota, the Dakotas and Montana originated. About the same time another German brought to the Niagara district other hardy seed, and from this has sprung the Ontario variegated of today, a variety which has given as satisfactory results in Ontario as Grimm has given in Minnesota. But what a story! From Persia to Greece, from northern Africa to Spain, from Spain to Germany on one side and Mexico on the other, and then from Germany to Ontario and Minnesota.

ROYAL VISIT TO BARROW

King Spotted Victoria Cross and Commanded Football as Sport. During the course of a recent visit to Farness Abbey the King and the Queen chatted gaily with several war workers, but longest with Mr. S. Wassan, a shipyard laborer, whose Victoria Cross attracted the King's attention. Wassan, when a private in the Staffordshire Regiment, won his V.C. in 1879 by saving the life of a trooper in a flooded river in front of 3,000 Zulus. To Mr. W. Dickinson, chairman of the Barrow Football Club, the King also spoke. "I like the game," said Mr. Dickinson, "because it develops manliness." "Undoubtedly," replied the King, "I have the very highest opinion of the football soldier." Their Majesties drove to the great Vickers' shipyards at Barrow, where 35,000 people are employed. The Queen was greeted in the shell department by the women workers with the singing of "God Save the Queen." She was also presented with a bouquet of red roses, the emblem of Lancashire. At one point there were 10,000 children on a stand, and the Queen remarked that Barrow was a wonderful place for children.

SHORTHORNS FOR MILK

English Experts Claim Them Superior To The Dairy Breeds. English Shorthorn farmers are proclaiming the merits of their breed. Listen! Professor Long says the milk-producing farmer has studied how to increase the flow of milk while maintaining the characteristic feeding qualities of the Shorthorn breed, and has succeeded. On the other hand, some of the pedigree breeders have subordinated milk to flesh development. But in its native land the Shorthorn is pre-eminently the best dairy cow in the best dairy country in the world. The milking qualities of the English Shorthorn are shown in a remarkable way by the results of the tests made at the London Dairy Show. In the eleven years, from 1894-1894 inclusive, first place in both milk and fat production was won by a Shorthorn in every case, competing against all dairy breeds, commonly known as the ability of the Shorthorn to produce high-class meat is too well known to require discussion. Avoiding Fire Losses. In Canada, as well as in other countries where such flood conditions have prevailed, it has frequently been pointed out that flood losses which have occurred to some interests, might largely, if not entirely, have been avoided, if, when building their structures, sufficient weight had been given to such evidences as are afforded by the water-marks and other indications of former high water stages. Saved Whole Detachment. Following is the citation of Sgt. William Gosling, R.F.A., for the Victoria Cross: Owing to a faulty cartridge, a bomb, after discharge, fell 19 yards from a trench mortar of which he was in charge. He sprang out, lifted the nose of the bomb, which had sunk into the ground, unscrewed the fuse and threw it on the ground, where it immediately exploded. This saved the lives of the detachment.

EVERGREEN WINDBREAKS

After a careful estimate and investigation of the rapid progress in evergreen tree planting for windbreak purposes one must come to the conclusion that an evergreen windbreak is not only a paying proposition, says the "Michigan Farmer," but in some cases an absolute necessity where the need for some object to act as an obstruction to the wind is felt. Evergreen trees are especially desirable for the rapid purpose for several good reasons. Compared with deciduous or leaf-dropping trees, they do double duty because of the fact that they retain their foliage throughout the entire year, while the deciduous trees drop their leaves right at a time when they are most needed to give protection against winter storms. Several rows will lodge more snow and check more wind than several rows of deciduous trees, and in addition to their value as windbreaks they are a thing of beauty all ways. Jailed Italian Army Grafter. A curious war fraud was made known through the condemnation of a cavalry officer at Rome to ten years' imprisonment. In the early part of the war the officer was assigned to commanding a regiment of Italian civilian stabiles, but, of course, to pay a fair price, instead of giving orders to pay on the department, he himself paid cash for saddles, usually one-fifth of their value, and collected the proper price from the department. Aim of Rural Schools. "The Canadian rural school that is merely an attenuated city school is missing its mission to its community and should not be endured," says Neil McNeil, D.D., Roman Catholic Archbishop of Toronto.

PREVENT THE BLUES: GET OUT OF SELF

Make Other People Happy—People Tired of Sympathizing—Don't Be Selfish. To give way to the "Blues" is worse than folly—it's the quintessence of selfishness, and instead of the sympathy meted out to a person in the doldrums, what he heartily deserves is a thorough good shaking and a real bad time. Truly troubled persons, people who've been through the mill, are the ones who grumble the least; they know when they're well off. The other, and major portion of the community, only think they're badly done by. You'll generally find a cripple or otherwise afflicted person quite cheery. Then think shame of yourself that you, a strong, healthy individual, permit yourself to grizzle and growl, and be your own devil, driving you out of your Eden. The Case Diagnosed. "Blues" arise either from liver or selfishness. If the former, take a dose of medicine; if the latter, take yourself seriously to task. Look within; don't try to find out why you're not happy, but why you're miserable. If that you expect too much from life. The happiest man is the one who is content with little for the present, and expects much from the future. Go out into the world, and instead of comparing your misfortunes with other people's successes, realize your own blessings in life as contrasted with some other poor thing's down right bad luck. Don't think so much about what you haven't got, as what you do possess. This is the way not to think. "Here am I, twenty-five, forty years of age. Not many men have worked as hard as I. I flatter myself I've got my fair share of brains, and I'm only earning a few dollars a week; while that absolute young idiot, Jones, who's never done a day's work in all his life, has more money than he knows what to do with." Others Worse Off. Well, what if Jones is better off than you? There's nothing in that to make you unhappy. Instead, think how good God's been to give you your fair share of brain and your health. Now, this is really the best way to treat your "blues." Go for a stroll in any street in any city; go with your eyes very wide open and power of observation very alert. In a few minutes you'll see a dozen poor, unfortunate beings who are truly to be pitied—poor, deformed, poverty-stricken wretches who might say with truth that they've never had a chance in life. These "blues" they're a disgrace to any healthy man or woman; and besides a doleful person becomes so wearisome. The "blues" you feel, the cheerier you should be. Some one has remarked "We'll be a long time dead." Then be happy, and make other people so, while you're still alive.

AUTOMOBILE SAVES MANY SITUATIONS

Many Important Uses on Farm—Not Merely a Plaything for Wealthy Farmer. Used rightly the automobile is a fine thing on the farm. It cannot be used for the same purpose as a Clydesdale horse, a mule cow or a fat pig, and it will not bring in a revenue in just the same way, but it has, however, a place to fill, and if used with the same judgment that one would expect to exercise with the other farm equipment in order to secure a reasonable income it will fill that place just as well as any one of the other things. No doubt many people have the idea that the auto on the farm serves no purpose other than a plaything. This is not the correct view of the modern car. For Messages and Speed. It bears about the same relation to the general farm management and operations that the telephone bears to the home, and who for a moment would think of doing away with that great convenience? Certainly not the one who has been in touch with it and who knows and can appreciate its many phases of usefulness. So is it with the car. It is the quick-message work or the speed-up job where the auto comes in to do its part in the farm economy. When Teams are Busy. There are always more or less light jobs to do which in order to accomplish successfully or to work out at a profit, must be done quickly. For instance, a five-mile trip must suddenly be undertaken. The teams are away or at work and would be too slow anyway. What can be done? No way to go. But wait. What about the auto? And almost before you could think about hitching up a horse, the car is half-way toward the end of the journey. The auto has saved the situation. Again, the binder breaks down on a busy day—no repairers less than ten miles away; no more work for half a day. But, hold on, the auto! The horses are tied to the fence; a speed-up trip is made to the agent, and the binder is again running at full speed within an hour. Ah, wonderful! Who says the car is only a plaything? Real Tribute to Neighbor. Here's a real tribute to the ability of Frank Nighbor—it's one from the heart. In an Ottawa-Canadian game big Bart Corbeau, the blonde backwoodman, played considerably below his usual standard. He never seemed to get started on those tearing rushes which have played havoc with the other teams. At the end of the second period, Manager Kennedy asked him if anything was the matter. "There's nothing the matter with me," said Corbeau acidly. "I'm all right, it's that fellow Nighbor. He takes the puck away from me every time I get it."

HOW QUEBEC IS AFFECTED BY DRAFT LAW Exemption Clauses Will Be of More Value to Quebec Than Any Other Province.

In discussing the question of exemption in connection with the Military Service Bill. Hon. Arthur Meighen, solicitor-general, made some significant statements with regard to the Province of Quebec in the course of the debate on the second reading. He said: "I want to say to the members from Quebec that this Bill is not intended to, and will not, if understood the Bill, work unfairly to that Province. Rather, on the other hand for just and good reasons this Bill in its results will work more lightly on the Province of Quebec than any other Province in Canada. "In the first place the Province of Quebec is an agricultural province. A much larger proportion of the population of that Province is engaged in agriculture than is the case, at least, with any other of the old provinces of Canada. Agriculture is one of our essential industries, necessarily employing the largest proportion of our population. "Consequently, under the terms of the Bill, the exemptions to agriculture will far outnumber the exemptions to other vocations of our people. Therefore, the exemption clauses, applied evenly and fairly all over this Dominion, as is the intent, will, for just and good sound reasons, be of more value to the Province of Quebec, than to any other provinces of Canada. "Secondly in the Province of Quebec the young men marry at an earlier age than in the English provinces. It is a custom that deserves commendation. "How does that affect the operation of this Act? Under this Act, the first three classes to be called out embrace only unmarried men between the ages of 20 and 34. Under these three classes it is not impossible that the whole 100,000 may be secured, and, in that case, the Act will apply to a smaller proportion in the Province of Quebec than in other provinces. This, however, is fortunate, not because the Bill makes favorites, but because the Bill is fair. It is, for good, sound and sufficient reason, and is in the general interests of the State. Consequently this Bill, so far from being designed or fanned to result in unfairness to the Province of Quebec, will, on the contrary, in its practical effects, for good and sufficient reasons of State, fall more lightly on Quebec than on any other province."

FRUIT FOR THE WEST Why Bushel Basket Is Poor Package—For England

Best packages for tender fruit shipments are discussed by O. M. Creelman of the Dominion Cold Storage Division, Grimsby, Ont., as follows: "There has been an impression gaining headway among some fruit growers that the bushel basket, as used in a number of the American peach-growing districts, was just what was needed in this country. With this idea, many shipments of Elberta peaches in bushels to Winnipeg. These were picked hard ripe and packed in these baskets, which had a post in the centre for support and a paper pad over the top for protection. The fruit arrived in Winnipeg in excellent shape, but would not sell. In fact, they hardly brought the freight and icing on them. "The package was attractive, in its way; was strong enough, it loaded easily in the car, was cheap, but the market didn't want it. Why? Peaches in Winnipeg, as in nearly all the west, are more or less of a luxury, being comparatively high-priced, and being so they were used to them in an expensive package, so did not take to these. They expect their expensive fruit put up right, and will pay for it that way. They practically throw the bushel basket out as a peach basket for long-distance shipments. "In the west they desire a high-class package for peaches. We find there the standard western peach box, 13 1/2 by 11 1/2, and with varying depths from four inches to five inches. Practically all the peaches that enter the west are in this case, at least all that come in from Washington, Oregon, and British Columbia. In it the peaches are packed in a diagonal pack and are wrapped in tissue paper. This seems to be the ideal package. It is strong, attractive, displays the fruit well, if properly packed, loads easily in cars, is excellent for express shipment, pilfer-proof, with cleats, allows plenty of ventilation, is the most efficient in handling of trucks are used, and it is not hard to pack. It is also the only package in which peaches can be shipped to England. For shipment to the Canadian west use for strawberries and sweet cherries the British Columbia full pint Hallock crate; for sour cherries, the six-quart Climax basket, and for peaches the Standard western peach box.

PREVENT THE BLUES: GET OUT OF SELF

Make Other People Happy—People Tired of Sympathizing—Don't Be Selfish. To give way to the "Blues" is worse than folly—it's the quintessence of selfishness, and instead of the sympathy meted out to a person in the doldrums, what he heartily deserves is a thorough good shaking and a real bad time. Truly troubled persons, people who've been through the mill, are the ones who grumble the least; they know when they're well off. The other, and major portion of the community, only think they're badly done by. You'll generally find a cripple or otherwise afflicted person quite cheery. Then think shame of yourself that you, a strong, healthy individual, permit yourself to grizzle and growl, and be your own devil, driving you out of your Eden. The Case Diagnosed. "Blues" arise either from liver or selfishness. If the former, take a dose of medicine; if the latter, take yourself seriously to task. Look within; don't try to find out why you're not happy, but why you're miserable. If that you expect too much from life. The happiest man is the one who is content with little for the present, and expects much from the future. Go out into the world, and instead of comparing your misfortunes with other people's successes, realize your own blessings in life as contrasted with some other poor thing's down right bad luck. Don't think so much about what you haven't got, as what you do possess. This is the way not to think. "Here am I, twenty-five, forty years of age. Not many men have worked as hard as I. I flatter myself I've got my fair share of brains, and I'm only earning a few dollars a week; while that absolute young idiot, Jones, who's never done a day's work in all his life, has more money than he knows what to do with." Others Worse Off. Well, what if Jones is better off than you? There's nothing in that to make you unhappy. Instead, think how good God's been to give you your fair share of brain and your health. Now, this is really the best way to treat your "blues." Go for a stroll in any street in any city; go with your eyes very wide open and power of observation very alert. In a few minutes you'll see a dozen poor, unfortunate beings who are truly to be pitied—poor, deformed, poverty-stricken wretches who might say with truth that they've never had a chance in life. These "blues" they're a disgrace to any healthy man or woman; and besides a doleful person becomes so wearisome. The "blues" you feel, the cheerier you should be. Some one has remarked "We'll be a long time dead." Then be happy, and make other people so, while you're still alive.

WHY SPRAY TWICE?

Experiments Show Conclusively the Value of This Method

Prof. Blair of Nova Scotia writes: In order to gather information as to the value of the early sprays as compared with the later ones a series of tests in which plots were sprayed before, and twice after the blossoms in 1915, were compared with those sprayed once before the blossoms and twice after. In one series of experiments the one spray before the blossoms was put on about midway between the first spray, which was put on just after the leaf buds were nicely opened May 17th, and the second spray put on just before the first petals opened May 21st, or just before or about the time the blossom clusters were showing pink. This we have called a midway spray. In the other test the one spray before blossoms was put on just before the petals of the flower clusters opened.

There was a difference of from two to three per cent, only in favor of two sprays before the blossoms. The two most important sprays were the ones just before and just after blossoming. From results obtained it would seem that should the period between the opening of the leaf buds and the opening of the petals of the flower clusters be short owing to weather conditions, one spray may be sufficient to give practically clean fruit, but should this period be extended two sprays should be given.

A study of results from soluble sulphur plots sprayed at different dates indicates that the early spray was quite an important one, and that the two applications before the blossoms were advisable. On the day following the application of the midway spray at Berwick there was a sharp rainfall of about quarter of an inch, as was the case with the spray after blossoming, which showed that soluble sulphur is not an adhesive spray, and that a heavy, quick rainfall may reduce its fungicidal value and bring about increased burning, as was the case with these sprays. It would seem, therefore, that it is wise to make two applications before blossoms, first after the leaf buds open, and second just before the blossoms open, which dates correspond with those advised for the best control of insects.

Food Shortage Incidents For feeding pigs with wheat, Eli Barber, farmer, Royston, Yorkshire was fined $35 and costs. Messrs James Cottle, Ltd., proprietors of a Chester restaurant, fined $25 for wasting bread, said that it was left by customers after dining. A man named Hamilton, who advertised seed potatoes at $125 a ton, was fined $100 or 65 days' imprisonment, at the Lennox Mansions House. The Crown offers three acres in the borough to Windsor people for allotments.

As a result of a raid at the Hammersmith Palace of Varieties, a number of men were detained, and two of them handed over to the military at West London Police Court.

SUBALTERN'S SCHOOL

"Discipline yourself first." The words, apart and precise, came from the top of the college hall. "You must get discipline by personal example." A hundred cadets sat perfectly still, rose to their feet as the officer took up his hat, and stood stiffly to attention as he passed. The lecture was over. "Take a look at the men as they file out, note-books in hand. A bronze upright crest of young men in officer-like clothes, you notice, without the stars of rank. Some are over thirty, a few barely twenty, but mostly they are between the two ages—a manly lot. One in every ten or so wears a ribbon, a Distinguished Conduct or Military Medal. They were serious-faced a few moments ago, but now there is a boyish fun-loving mood creeping over their faces. They have open faces, straight eyes that have been used to looking death full in the face. Ninety per cent. have seen active service of twelve months or thereabouts—a few twice that time—and mainly they have won their stripes (that they took off on becoming officer-cadets), and the recommendation for commissions which brought them home, in the field. From the field they came direct to England to this school.

SUBSTITUTE FOR WAR

Eskimos Settle Disputes by Dancing or Singing Contest

Mr. Christian Leden, a young Norwegian explorer, who has lived among most of the tribes of Eskimos, believes that in many respects the Eskimos are the happiest people in the world, and that in many respects their civilization is the highest existing today. Mr. Leden is a great lover of life, since 1893 living among the Eskimos, and he knows most of the tribes that have been discovered by white men. He recently returned from a sojourn of three years and a half among the Eskimos of Canada.

"In some ways we can learn as much from the Eskimo," says Mr. Leden, "as he can learn from us. We commonly think that the world ends where the timber line ends and where the great Arctic waste begins. The Eskimo thinks that the world ends where the ice ends and where the timber begins. In many respects the Eskimo civilization is the highest in the world."

For instance, the Eskimos never indulge in tribal warfare. They cannot conceive how one whole nation can make war on another. Occasionally there are fights or duels between two Eskimos, but even these affairs are rare, and, as a rule, are carried out with a cold-blooded formality that would astound us. One method for settling a dispute between two men is for them to swap blows until one cries quits. A offers his shoulder to B to strike, and B does the same for A. Then A permits B to hit him on the temple, and again B reciprocates. This goes on until one man has had enough, but there is never any temper shown. This is usually just in sport to see who can stand the hardest blows. As a rule, however, the real disputes between two individuals are settled in another way—by a sort of competition.

The two disputants try to outdo each other or outlast each other, and when the judges have decreed one the more proficient, honor is satisfied. But the idea of men marching out to kill other men whom they have never seen is incomprehensible to them.

ANOTHER DR. ANGEL

Manager's Self-Sacrifice Fatal in Works Explosion

Fifty persons were killed and about 150 injured in an explosion at privately owned munitions works at Ashton-under-Lyne. Among the dead was Mr. H. Sylvian Dreyfus, the manager of the factory. Dr. Charles Dreyfus could identify his body only by the initials "S.D." on his clothes. Mr. Dreyfus, like Dr. Angel in the great East End explosion, remained in the works warning others to seek safety before the explosion occurred. A number of children were killed in the streets by the explosion.

HAVE A FRUIT GARDEN

But Watch For Ravages Of Tent Caterpillars

Henry Gibson gives advice to the fruit gardener of eastern Canada as follows: This is an excellent time to set out a new fruit garden. When setting out, have plenty of the small fruits, such as Blackberries, raspberries, currants, and gooseberries, in it. Then there are those trained fruit trees that you told your neighbor you thought of having. Don't overlook them, they are as easy to manage as any other form of trees. Don't be afraid to cut any newly-planted fruit trees. They require heavy cutting back to form a foundation for the coming tree. Keep a sharp lookout for any tent caterpillars that may be among the fruit trees. Destroy every one of them, for these gregarious insects are doing untold damage throughout the country by their ravages. We find that burning the tents or webs with a kerosene torch is one of the most effective means of destroying these pests. When they are thus destroyed, spray the trees with arsenate of lead to finish up any that have escaped the torch.

OSLER'S OWN WORDS WHEN TO CHLOROFORM

Much-Distorted Utterance on Comparative Uselessness of Men Over 40—Age of Achievement

In a speech at the anniversary exercises of Johns Hopkins University on February 22, 1905, Dr. William Osler, F.R.S., F.R.C.P., said, as widely reported the next day: "I have two fixed ideas well known to my friends. The first is the comparative uselessness of men above 40 years of age. This may seem shocking, and yet read aright the world's history bears out the statement. Take the sum of human achievement in action, in science, in art, in literature; subtract the work of the men above 40, and while we should miss great treasures—even priceless treasures—we would practically be where we are to-day.

It is difficult to name a great and far reaching conquest of the mind which has not been given to the world by a man on whose back the sun was still shining. The effective, moving, vitalizing work of the world is done between the ages of 25 and 40, those fifteen golden years of plenty, the anabolic or constructive period, in which there is always a balance in the mental bank and the credit is still good.

"My second fixed idea is the uselessness of men above 60 years of age and the incalculable benefit it would be in commercial, political and engineering contracts do not, when purchasing equipment, give due attention to the matter of depreciation. Depreciation is made up of two factors—age and actual deterioration—each important as the other. Furthermore, these two elements cannot in the very nature of things be combined satisfactorily, as the latter bears a direct relation to the volume of work done by the machine, but no such relationship is borne by the former. For example, if a concrete mixer is driven to its utmost capacity day and night its liability to become out of date is not increased. On the other hand, its life is shortened.

It is not a difficult matter to keep an efficient tool in order. To do so, it is necessary that due attention be paid to defects as soon as they show themselves—the renewing of wearing parts just as soon as they show signs of wear—as well as careful handling whilst in use. Depreciation on such a machine will be very small, provided the tool is maintained at a high efficiency.

Another matter which calls for care in purchasing machinery is the question of a tool being bought today which may be superseded to-morrow. This should be taken into account when the subject of depreciation is under consideration. It may not have an effective life of many months, as another tool may at any moment be designed which will render it financially unsound to keep the original machine in use. It is of vital importance that liberal provision be made for this risk when purchase of equipment is being made.

Repainting Exterior Woodwork Exterior woodwork painted the first time fails to show as good and lasting a result as when it has been painted again after two years' wear. Repainting over a good whitelead surface that has become dry and lousy will yield a good wearing finish. The chalking of whitelead paint is no disadvantage, for in this condition it will take the new paint better than a hard surface, and will not scale.

SERENITY OF FALCONER

University President and Classical Scholar, but Very Modern

"If I were asked what most impressed me in Sir Robert Falconer," said one who knew well the knight who presided over the fortunes of Toronto University, "I should say that it was his serenity. He is, I think, the most serene man I have ever met. His manner is serene. So is his mind. And both mind and manner are serene as well as serene."

In office his distinctive policy was to trust the undergraduates to discipline themselves. Herein he was notably successful. It was his great achievement to bring peace—"peace with honor"—to the storm-tossed soul of Toronto University. His sense of public duty is remarkable. This is particularly exemplified in his public speaking. He gives every audience of the best that is in him. No neither "talks down" to men, nor does he talk over the heads of his hearers. And wherever he is, the atmosphere inevitably takes on something of thoughtfulness.

The president is a fine classical scholar. But he bears no outward impress of Rome or Athens. He is emphatically a twentieth century Canadian, and, as such, even classical learning seems to take on a greater probability than it does in some other cases. But far beyond his classical attainments must be placed his capability of discharging so many and such various duties with never-falling dignity and acceptance.

AGRICULTURE IS VITAL

Support to Other Great Industries—Cropping vs. Mining

Agriculture must not only be self-supporting, but, in large degree, agriculture must support our other great industries. Without agriculture, the coal and iron would be left in the earth, the forest would be left uncut, the railroads would be abandoned, the cities depopulated, and the wooded land and waterways would again be used only for hunting and fishing. Shall we not remember, for example, that the coal mine yields a single harvest—one crop—and is then forever abandoned; while the soil must yield a hundred—yes, a thousand crops, and even then it must be richer and more productive than at the beginning, if those who come after us are to continue to multiply and replenish the earth.

KAISERGRUBER-BELGIAN

Career of Fighter and Interpreter with Canadian Forces After spending 35 months in France, 23 of them in the front line, Pte. H. Kaisergruber, a Belgian-born fighter, returned to the Pacific Coast of Canada. He said ever since he had joined up to go overseas and fight he had had to make excuses for his name, but after convincing his superior officers and comrades that he was actually fighting on the right side, they accepted him and dubbed him "The Kaiser's Grave-Digger," the latter part of his name having that meaning in German. Kaisergruber left for overseas with the Princess 14th Battalion, to which he was transferred when he reached England. After serving for nearly two years in the front line and escaping without a wound, he became physically unfit for further active fighting and was made a wireless interpreter, speaking German, French, Flemish, Belgian and English. In 1914 he knew no English.

Pte. Kaisergruber's father was a doctor in Ostend. He had a brother a major in the Belgian army in the Congo and another a captain with the 3rd Belgian infantry. He met the latter in Flanders while fighting. A sister resides in Paris, and while in the French capital he spent some time with her. The Belgian fighter's experiences cover the most interesting stages of the war's development, and his stamina alone enabled him to last over two years. He was gassed slightly once and twice suffered from shell shock, and during his entire service had but seven days' leave.

HAPPY RETURNING HEROES

Father Saw Son for First Time—Canadian Confidence The following is a typical extract from an account of a return of a party of Canadian soldiers. The men seemed taken by storm, so enthusiastic was the welcome given them, and tears of happiness sprang to the eyes of many a hardened fighter. Little children clung to their fathers, so long away from them. One Vancouver hero's exploits, which commenced at Ypres and included most of the important events from those to Vimy Ridge, blushed like a school girl when a tiny son whom he had never before seen was placed in his arms, while happy wives, mothers and sisters seemed unable to believe that their loved ones were again with them. Every man radiated confidence, and every man held up his head with pride. The scars of battle were distinguishing badges of merit and not one soldier regretted the sacrifices he had made.

Explorer's Strange End Timothy McCarthy, one of the Weddell Sea party who accompanied Sir Ernest Shackleton on his 750-mile journey in the small boat from Elephant Island to South Georgia, was last killed while acting as gunner in a ship that was torpedoed.

Repainting Exterior Woodwork Exterior woodwork painted the first time fails to show as good and lasting a result as when it has been painted again after two years' wear. Repainting over a good whitelead surface that has become dry and lousy will yield a good wearing finish. The chalking of whitelead paint is no disadvantage, for in this condition it will take the new paint better than a hard surface, and will not scale.

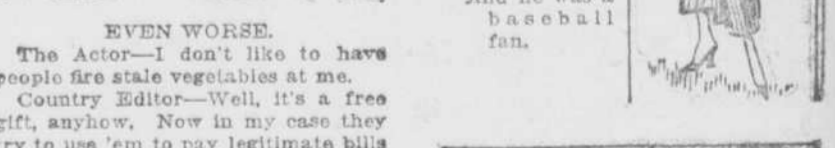

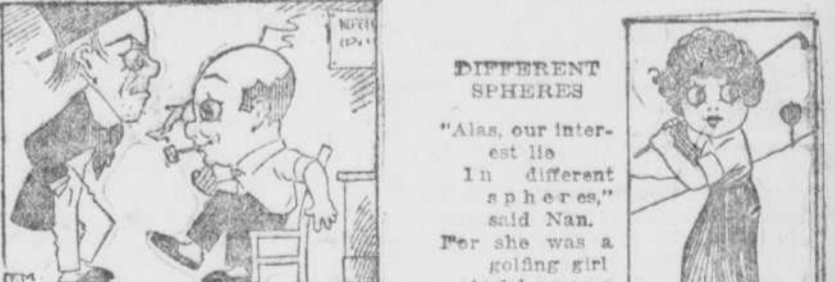

Another matter which calls for care in purchasing machinery is the question of a tool being bought today which may be superseded to-morrow. This should be taken into account when the subject of depreciation is under consideration. It may not have an effective life of many months, as another tool may at any moment be designed which will render it financially unsound to keep the original machine in use. It is of vital importance that liberal provision be made for this risk when purchase of equipment is being made.

OBJECTS TO BEING CALLED LAST BOURBON

Spain Objects to Article Along This Line in Portuguese Paper.

(Associated Press Despatch.) LISBON, July 29 (Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—The Spanish Government has sent a note to the Portuguese ministry for foreign affairs, demanding that the Seculo, an important newspaper in Portugal, be called to court for publishing an article from its special correspondent in Madrid, entitled "The Last Bourbon," in which it was foretold that the King of Spain would be the last sovereign of this line.

WOMEN TAKE PLACE OF SECTION HANDS ON C.P.R.

(Canadian Press Despatch.) REGINA SASK., Sept. 3.—Owing to the shortage of men for section hands, a gang of women has been put to work by the Canadian Pacific Railway here. They are engaged with scythes and hoes in cutting grass and weeds along the tracks. The women are mostly of Austrian and German birth.

BELGIANS FORCED TO WORK BEHIND HUN FIGHTING LINES

Further Evidence of German Disregard for Rights of Prisoners.

(Associated Press Despatch.) WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Further evidence of the disregard of the Germans for the rights of prisoners of war and of subjugated peoples has reached the State Department in the story of an escaped Belgian. Exposed to shell fire and gas attacks and unprovided with protective masks, the natives are being compelled to work just behind the German fighting lines, he asserted, where the unsanitary conditions brought disease to those who escaped death or injury incident to battle.

ALLIED RESERVES BETTER THAN THE CENTRAL POWERS

(Associated Press Despatch.) PARIS, Sept. 3.—Abel Ferry, a prominent member of the Chamber of deputies, contributes an article to the Petit Parisien on "The war of attrition," in which he says that the side whose reserves first give out will be conquered. The general war plan of the Allies, he believes, must take into proper account the wear and tear of French effectives, and also the losses and the resources in men of each one of the Allies. The reserves of the Allies, he writes, are superior to those of the Central Powers, their armaments are as good, and they have the superiority in production.

THE IRISH AND THE HUNS.

(London Reference.)—In the trenches one evening a battalion of the Leinster Regiment held a "kailie" (ceilidh), or Irish sing-song, at which was a spirited rendering of the humorous ballad, "Bryan O'Lynn," sung to an infectious rollicking tune. The opening verse runs: "Bryan O'Lynn had no breeches to wear. So he bought a sheep-skin to make him a pair. With the woolly side out, and the skinny side in, Falx, 'this pleasant and cool says Bryan O'Lynn." The swing of the tune took the fancy of the Germans in their trenches, less than fifty yards away. With a "rum-tum-tum-tum-tum-tum-tum," they loudly hummed the air at the end of each verse, until the Leinsters, singing at the top of their voices, gave the words a topical application: "With woolly side out, and the skinny side in, 'Sure, we'll wallop the Gerrys, says Bryan O'Lynn.' Hearty bursts of laughter and cheers arose from both trenches at the conclusion of the song.

GERMAN ARMED TRAWLER FLEET DRIVEN ASHORE

British Destroyer Force Shattered Mine Sweeping Fleet Off Jutland.

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 3.—The demoralized remnants of the German armed trawler fleet that was attacked and shattered by a British destroyer force Saturday off the Jutland coast in the North Sea, four of the German craft being driven ashore and destroyed, made off to the southward, scattering and sending wireless messages for assistance as they ran. A detachment of German light naval forces, accompanied by hydroplanes and submarines, arrived shortly afterwards, but too late to save the four trawlers that had been run ashore. In the course of the encounter that ensued, a German hydroplane was brought down and a companion craft was seen to dive to the water, presumably to rescue the survivors.

The German armed trawler fleet, confident in its protection by Zeppelin observation and the proximity of a supporting squadron, has of late worked in the boldest fashion in sweeping the seas clear on the route for submarines, and has been extending its sphere of operations northward. Frequent reports from the Danish coast towns mentioned the sighting of warships, and the daily Zeppelin patrol was one of the sights of the big Danish resort of Fance. Yesterday's experience seems likely to make the Germans more cautious, and to that extent interfere with the submarine campaign.

FIRE DESTROYS B. & M. MAIL CAR

Overheated Lamp Cause of Outbreak. Damage Nearly $400.

A mail car standing on the siding in the Boston & Maine yards caught fire early yesterday morning and the woodwork was practically destroyed. The outbreak was discovered at 4:10 a.m., by a watchman in the engine house after the flames had been in progress apparently about two hours. The fire was probably caused by an overheated lamp. The damage is estimated between $300 and $400. Nos. 1 and 3 stations answered the call and extinguished the blaze in an hour.

ACTION AGAINST BOSTON & MAINE

Stanstead Brakeman Sues Company for $5415 for Damages From Accident

An action has been entered in the Superior Court by Homer Martel of the village of Stanstead, against the Boston & Maine Ry. Co. for $5415. Plaintiff, who is 62 years of age, and has been employed by respondents as brakeman for the last thirty-three years, alleges that on the 15th of September last he was climbing on the top of a freight car at Beebe Junction to do his work, when he was struck by a scale shed and thrown on the rails and cement foundation, sustaining very serious injuries. Plaintiff also alleges that the accident was due to the gross negligence of respondents in allowing the scale shed to be constructed in such close proximity to the track, and that respondents removed same a few days after the accident.

75,000 VISITED EXHIBITION

Receipts Increase Over Last Year. Balance Sheet Will Show Satisfactory Surplus.

The records of the attendance at the Sherbrooke Exhibition which closed on Saturday, show that the total number of visitors for the week was 75,000.

The gate receipts were a little in excess of last year, but the surplus, which is very satisfactory, is somewhat less than that of last year owing to the large increase in expenses. The directors spared no reasonable outlay in order to make the Exhibition thoroughly successful. One heavy item of expenditure was the wages bill, the management having engaged considerably more help than last year and at necessarily higher rates in order to accommodate the visitors and exhibitors. An increase in the prize list is also responsible for additional expenditure.

FLOWER BULBS USED AS CATTLE FOOD

Method Adopted in Holland Whereby Milk Can Be Secured From Bulb.

(Associated Press Despatch.) AMSTERDAM, Sept. 3.—It now transpires, according to a Handelsblad, that the prohibition of the export of flower bulbs was issued with a view to controlling their export for abnormal use. By the removal of harmful ingredients it was found possible to prepare a very nourishing milk, producing cattle food of various sorts from the bulbs, and last year about 200,000 kilograms of tulip bulbs went abroad as cattle food, presumably to Germany.

FOOD SHORTAGE ACUTE IN OSTEND

Milk, Butter, Eggs and Vegetables Cannot Be Obtained.

(Canadian Press Despatch.) HAVRE, Sept. 3.—Milk, butter, eggs and vegetables are not obtainable in Ostend, Belgium, according to a deserter from the German army who has arrived here. Meat is scarce, and when obtainable, the administration of the commune distributes seventy five grammes weekly to each person. Coffee brings twenty five francs a kilogram and sugar is not obtainable. Three hundred grammes of bread is distributed daily to each person by the American Relief Commission.

DEHORNING OF CATTLE

The following eighteen reasons considered objectionable and to be a horror are given by W. W. Fraser, Live Stock Commissioner for Manitoba.

1. They are worth 40 to 50 cents per cwt. more live weight.
2. They make better cattle when matured.
3. They are more contented.
4. They are more kindly to one another.
5. They do not produce in the other animal a nervous, restless temperament by inflicting injury, often severe, as they do if wearing horns.
6. They produce more milk, since they are free from fear of each other.
7. They produce more beef, for the same reason.
8. There is less danger to the people who have them in charge.
9. The bull, which sometimes kills his keeper, cannot do so if dehorned.
10. He cannot gore so death a horse or other animal, as is too often the case where the horns are on.
11. They can be housed in much smaller space, and kept more comfortable with less expense.
12. One animal cannot guard a doorway, and keep the others exposed to the elements.
13. One cannot hook all the others from the water-trough.
14. The shrinkage is much less in shipping.
15. They are not torn and bruised in shipping.
16. At least three head more cattle can be shipped in the same car.
17. A mixed lot of more or less inferior cattle will sell much more readily dehorned.
18. More and better cattle will be produced as a consequence.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—The Friends of Irish Freedom tried again Saturday night to hold an anti-British street meeting in Broadway. The result was a melee between the police and a crowd of 5,000 persons which ended in complete dispersal of the gathering and the arrest of two of the agitators.

MUCH LABOR UNREST IN GT. BRITAIN

Chairman of Trade Union Congress Charged Government With Breach of Pledges.

(Canadian Press Despatch.) BLACKPOOL, England, Sept. 3.—The Trade Union congress was opened here today with a record attendance of 700 delegates John Hill of the Bolemakers and Shipbuilders Union who presided, said in his opening address that something more than resolutions were required to obtain reforms and that "Worn out methods are no longer in hand to ministers should be buried with the battle axes and bow and arrows of England of the Plantagenets."

Referring to industrial unrest, which he said had assumed alarming proportions in the workshops this year, he outlined findings of a commission of inquiry to the effect that the Government had broken its pledges regarding industrial conscription, and that men had been compelled to accept unfair conditions under the fear of being compelled to enlist. The commission found deep in the minds of the workmen the conviction that high prices for food were due to unchecked gambling by middlemen for which no advance of wages could ever compensate.

Mr. Hill said the new minister of munitions, Winston Spencer Churchill, and Mr. George N. Barnes, labor representative of the war cabinet had promised to remove the causes of unrest.

FOUR VOICES RAISED AGAINST DEATH PENALTY

(Associated Press Despatch.) PETROGRAD, Sept. 3.—It was with only four voices in dissent, one of which was that of former minister of Posts and Telegraphs Tschertell, that the Petrograd council of Workmen's and Soldiers' deputies adopt its resolution protesting against the death penalty at the front or in the rear of the lines.

NEW YORK POLICE BREAK UP CROWD OF ABOUT 5000 PERSONS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—The Friends of Irish Freedom tried again Saturday night to hold an anti-British street meeting in Broadway. The result was a melee between the police and a crowd of 5,000 persons which ended in complete dispersal of the gathering and the arrest of two of the agitators.

In contrast to their policy of last Wednesday night, when they showed great patience in breaking up the meeting at Thirty-Fifth street and Broadway, the police last night were much more vigorous in their methods, calling into use an automobile equipped with a powerful searchlight, which ran back and forth through the crowd.

The meeting was broken up last night under the personal direction of Deputy Police Commissioner White. The arrests were made on the charge of obstructing traffic and creating disorder.
