WARSAW WAS ABANDONED IN AN ORDERLY MANNER

TOWN WILL BE CUT OFF FROM INTERIOR OF RUSSIA AND FAMINE IS FEARED — RETIRE-MENT WAS CAREFULLY PLANNED.

Moscow, Aug. 5, via Petrograd and London — Hundreds of refugees from Warsaw are arriving here daily. Most of them are without money or means of sustenance and are seeking aid at the American consulate where an enlarged staff is attempting to supply temporary assistance pending the organization of a Russian relief commission.

The refugees state that although the population of the Polish capital was convinced that the Germans ultimately would occupy the city a majority of the citizens elected to remain, only approximately 15 per cent to date having left the city.

This accounts for the comparative order and the absence of panic which accompanied the exodus.

When German occupation first seemed imminent the government issued an order that third-class tickets to any point in the interior of Russia should be given free to all citizens desiring to depart. The only condition attached by the authorities was that residents so leaving would not be allowed to return without a special permit.

Those choosing the alternative of departure foresaw that Warsaw would be visited with conditions similar to those imposed on Lodz and that the town would be cut off from the interior of Russia, whence all provisions were obtainable and that Warsaw would suffer from famine.

The refugees compare the orderly and systematic abandonment of the city with the panic caused by the first German approach last October, when an attempt of the city officials, institutions and private citizens to all bolt at once resulted in indescribable confusion.

The retirement this time was so carefully planned and so systematically executed that it went off like clockwork and an onlooker received the impression that a no more extraordinary phenomenon was occurring than the ordinary summer exodus. Sufficient extra trains had been provided so that travelling conditions on the whole differed little from normal.

An unusual feature of the present abandonment of the city was the fact that provision tickets were made unnecessary.

The bulk of the refugees travelled on foot or with their wagons along the highways. Most of the refugees were unable to proceed southward and to Kiev and finding the railway to Vilna monopolized for military purposes they took the line to the east, temporarily crowding Moscow.

Vladova and Brest-Litovsk. Many of these lost their homes in the outlying portions of Warsaw, the destruction of which became a military necessity. All the territory immediately to the west of Warsaw, containing large factories, Polish estates and peasant dwellings, present blackened and uninhabitable areas.

Care had been taken that no suburban factories should fall into the hands of the Germans and be converted to their use. Chief among those destroyed was the million dollar sugar factory belonging to a Polish lawyer, Eugene Kuruluk, with more than 2,000 tons of sugar.

The factories in the city itself although abandoned had not yet been destroyed when the refugees left the capital.

POSSIBLE EFFECTS OF WARSAW'S FALL

LARGE GERMAN FORCES WILL PROBABLY BE RELEASED FOR WESTERN FRONT.

London, Aug. 5.—The effect of the fall of Warsaw now is absorbing the attention of the British officials and public. It is expected that the German Emperor and Empress will make a royal entry in accordance with plans long matured.

What part of the army of Grand Duke Nicholas was able to extricate itself from the enfolding line of Field Marshal von Hindenburg coming from the north is increasingly problematical.

It is believed that this pressure from the north was one of the chief reasons for compelling the final abandonment of Warsaw in order to permit the Grand Duke to send reinforcements to save his right wing.

The occupation of Warsaw also will have the effect of releasing large German forces, long concentrated on the reduction of the city, and permit them to turn westward for renewed operations against the Anglo-French allies.

The British military authorities agree that the fall of the city will have far reaching effects on the eastern and western war theatres.

AMERICA CANNOT FIGHT CENSORSHIP

INVESTIGATION CONVINCES
WASHINGTON NO TREATIES CAN BE INVOKED.

Washington, Aug. 5.—State Department officials virtually have decided they are powerless to secure relief from the rigid censorship to which American mail and cable messages passing through the belligerent countries of Europe are subjected. American citizens and business firms at home and abroad have filed many complaints, but investigation has convinced the department that no treaties can be invoked in protest.

Appeals from business houses which declared impairment of the cable service through censorship had been a serious embarrassment financially, moved the department to begin informal negotiations for mitigation early in the war.

ARCHBISHOP OF RIGA
LEAVES THE CITY.

Petrograd, August 5, via London.—The Archbishop of Riga, held the last service at the Riga Cathedral today, and the consistory left the capital of the Baltic provinces.

WARSAW IS EVACUATED; FIERCE FIGHTING CONTINUES ALONG VISTULA AND BUG

By Stubborn Resistance Russians Have Inflicted Heavy Losses On Armies Pursuing Them—Doubtful Whether Whole Army Of Grand Duke Nicholas Will Reach New Positions Prepared For Them

London, Aug. 5.—The Germans are in possession of Warsaw, capital of Poland and the third largest city in the Russian Empire. Bavarian troops entered the city this morning, having taken successively the Blonie lines and the outer and inner fortresses of the town itself, the Russians only fighting rearguard actions to allow their main army to make good its escape.

While the Bavarians commanded by Prince Leopold have fallen the honor of taking over Warsaw in the name of the German Emperor and his consort, who are expected to make a state entry within a few days, the real conquerors are the troops fighting under Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, along the Narew river to the north-east, to the Austro-Germans, who crossed the Vistula to the south of the city and to the armies of the Austrian Archduke Joseph Ferdinand and the German Field Marshal Von Mackensen which are advancing northward between the Vistula and Bug rivers.

The Russians are fighting desperately and stubbornly to check the progress of these four armies and have had several successes, inflicting heavy losses on their pursuers; but they are being steadily pressed back, which made the longer occupation of the Warsaw Polish salient a hazardous undertaking.

Even now, although the steadiness of the Russian troops and their fierce counter attacks have gained much valuable time for them, it is problematical whether the whole Russian army will succeed in reaching the new positions chosen for it or whether, if it should get there, it will not find those positions turned by the Austrians who have crossed the Bug south-east of Cholm and the Germans under General Von Scholz and Von Gallwitz, who have crossed the Narew.

At the north-eastern end of the line the Russian communications are further threatened by General Von Buelow, who is advancing toward Dvinsk on the Vilna-Petrograd railway. Indeed, the Austro-Germans have set three traps to catch and destroy the Russian army. None of them was sprung, but one was so near to closing that the Grand Duke Nicholas was forced to evacuate Warsaw and now is fighting with all his might to prevent the others from cutting off his retreat.

Thus far he seemingly has been successful, for although the Germans claim the capture of a large number of prisoners the aggregate is small when compared with the immense forces engaged. In addition the Russian guns apparently are well on their way to the rear.

From refugees who left Warsaw some days ago and have arrived at Moscow it has been learned that Warsaw even at that early date has been denuded of virtually everything that might be useful to the Teutons. Factories have been stripped of their machinery and all war stores moved into the interior of Russia, and the government of the city left to the Polish population.

The Russians also are preparing to evacuate Aiga, the port on the gulf of that name in the north. The arrival of the Germans ten miles south of that city already has been the cause of the civilian population departing.

While expressing the fullest confidence in the future, the British military critics make no attempt to belittle the achievements of the Teutons or the effect their success is likely to have in the near east and west.

(Since early in May when they started their great counter-offensive in western Galicia against the Russians who were debouching through the Carpathians on to the Plains of Hungary the troops of the Germanic powers had cleared the Russians out of Galicia, with the exception of a narrow strip of territory in the south-west, have recaptured Przemyśl and Lemberg, taken Lublin, Cholm and Warsaw and are in military occupation of virtually the whole of Poland.)

What their next move will be is a matter of conjecture. Some military observers believe they will continue to attack the Russians in the hope of finally crushing them, a task which it is considered is rendered difficult by the fact that the Russians in their retreat lay the country waste, making it necessary for the invaders to bring up every ounce of food required for their army.

Others of the observers think Serbia will be attacked, so as to impress the Balkan States which remain neutral, while still others look for a big offensive against the Franco-British-Belgian line in the west. All of the observers are of the opinion that wherever the new operation is begun it will be on a big scale.

The Germans have had also local success in the west, having recaptured on the crest of the line in the Vosges a portion of the trenches which the French took from them some time ago.

AMERICAN FORCES DOMINATE HAYTI.

Port au Prince, Hayti, Aug. 5.—The American forces from the battleship Connecticut have occupied without striking a blow, the national fort which dominates the town. A proclamation has been posted in all quarters, signed by the president of the revolutionary committee, protesting against the misuse of force against a friendly people.

MOORE VICTIMS OF GERMAN SUBMARINES.

London, August 5—10.35 p. m.—The trawler Grimbarian the steamer Portia (433 tons) of Liverpool, were sunk today, presumably by a submarine. Six of the crew of the Grimbarian were drowned and four were rescued. The crew of the Portia was saved.

FIVE ARE DROWNED WHEN AUTOMOBILE FALLS INTO LAKE

EXCURSION AT PORT SYDNEY.
MUSKOKA, ONT., ENDS IN DISASTER.

Port Sydney, Muskoka, Ont., Aug. 5.—Five persons, guests of the Cliffe House, were drowned at 3 o'clock this afternoon when the car in which they were returning from an excursion in company with four other carloads of visitors, skidded on the bridge spanning Long Lake, and breaking through the railing plunged into the lake. The dead are:

Henry R. Alley, 65 years, head librarian of the Ontario Education Department, 16 Foxbar Road, Toronto.

Fred Alley, six years, son of above. Miss E. M. Lawson, about thirty years, Toronto, sister-in-law of Dr. J. W. S. McCullough.

Angus Lawson, 12 years, Nephew of above.

Beverly Swabey, 10 years, son of Mr. Charles Swabey, Toronto barrister, 61 Admiral road.

Harold Swabey and Douglas Lawson, boys, also occupants of the car, succeeded in tearing open the curtains which proved a death trap to the others and reaching the shore. John Clark, chauffeur, also escaped.

The car was returning from Uttersson from an excursion, with seven occupants including the chauffeur, just as it reached the 200 yard floating bridge across Long Lake west of the village a driving rainstorm came up, causing the car to skid on the planks and plunge into the lake. A party was at once organized to recover the bodies, and Albert Bell of Huntsville, a returned invalided soldier, dived several times. The first body recovered was that of Angus Lawson, and at first it was thought attempts at resuscitation failed. An inquest was opened and adjourned.

ITALIAN SHELLS BURN TROOP TRAIN

ALSO DESTROY EIGHT CARS
LOADED WITH AMMUNITION FOR AUSTRIANS.

Geneva, via Paris, August 5.—A despatch to the Tribune from Laibach, says:

"Shells from the Italian artillery set fire to two trains on the Borgo-Levico Railway while they were on their way to Rovereto. The first train was filled with troops, of whom five hundred were burned to death. The second was carrying ammunition, and eight cars of it exploded.

"At Polazzo eight attacks by the Italians were repulsed, but the ninth attack resulted in the capture of several miles of newly constructed trenches.

"The Italians have brought up more heavy guns against Gorizia, the systematic bombardment of which has begun. The Austrians are replying feebly."

TORONTO HEBREWS WILL AID JEWS IN POLAND.

Toronto, August 5.—Toronto Hebrews are going to do their share in the relief of the Jews in Poland. Their plan is to tax every Jew in the city the amount of ten cents per week, and to further this movement the Toronto conference will hold a mass meeting in Massey Hall on Sunday afternoon.

MUST FIND WORK FOR THE RETURNED SOLDIERS.

Toronto, Aug. 5.—At a meeting of the executive of the Toronto Recruiting League today it was recommended that the Dominion and provincial governments and all municipal corporations make an immediate declaration that returned soldiers will have a prior claim to employment over those who could have enlisted but did not do so. Also that employers be urged to announce that their employees returning from active service will be re-engaged.

POLAND'S NATIONAL ASPIRATION.

With Warsaw passing into Germany's hands we shall witness a rivalry for the good-will of the Poles. We hear already of Emperor William's intention to re-form the Polish kingdom. He may make the announcement when he makes his grand entry into the Polish capital. Russia is not losing time. She also wishes to show the Poles who is their real friend. They are reminded, that they will get more from Russia than from Berlin. So we see in a recent report of the opening of the Duma, that the Czar has authorized the complete autonomy of Poland. A bill is immediately to be introduced giving the Poles the right to control their own social, political and religious life, subject only to the suzerainty of the Czar.

This haste to grant them concessions will no doubt be pleasing to the people of the ancient kingdom of Poland. But they will not know which country to believe, which one to look to for the greater generosity. Both have treated the Poles badly. With Austria, they dismembered Poland in 1795 and have ever since ruthlessly repressed the Polish national life. One hears frequently these days of just national aspirations, but none of the countries that speak of their aspirations comprehends the meaning of the word as does Poland. More than a century of uprising, bitter strife and more bitter repression has borne testimony to the living quality of their national hopes. What they failed to get as the results of their own efforts, they may now receive out of the necessity of the two Powers.

Poland, set anew among the nations of the earth, would testify to the difficulty of destroying a national life and characteristics. Russia, Germany and Austria have tried for a century to obliterate the Poles as a national entity but the flame of their national spirit never died down. Alsace and Lorraine, and the Trent provinces of Austria, also exemplify this truth. All these areas, torn in the past from their natural place, may return, as one of the results of the war, to a new status which will permit of the full realization of their ethical ambitions.

AFTER ONE YEAR.

Looking back on the events which have happened since a year ago when the long anticipated struggle between Great Britain and Germany commenced, Canadians will not unnaturally be most deeply interested in the part which their country has played in this great conflict of nations. They have long ago heartily congratulated themselves that they had at the head of their affairs a statesman able to rise to the occasion and deal with the situation in a manner which would reflect credit on the country and its people, a statesman who had associated with him colleagues imbued with sentiments akin to his own sentiments of loyalty and devotion to the Empire which typify individual opinion throughout the Dominion.

Even before war was formally declared, the action of Sir Robert Borden as Prime Minister, in offering such military and other assistance to the Mother Country as Canada could give, in the event of hostilities breaking out, was cordially acclaimed from the Atlantic to the Pacific, as the presence to the call to arms which was sent out a few days later abundantly testified. Immediately after the war broke out, a complete Canadian division was accepted and hurried mobilization and equipment arranged for. It started on the 25th September, wintered at Salisbury, and in early spring went over to France. The story of St. Julien, Ypres, Festubert and Givenchy speaks of the character and the results.

Since then there has been more and steady recruiting till about 140,000 men have been enlisted. Of this number upwards of seventy thousand are now overseas. Reinforcements are going ahead constantly. It is the intention to maintain in the field two complete divisions and a third one may, quite possibly, be put there. In fact, there is no telling to what extent the Canadian resources of men and munitions may be drawn on. A Russian retirement in the east and the return westward of German hordes might easily produce conditions calling for much greater assistance from this country than has heretofore been thought of.

Efforts are now being concentrated upon recruiting of the new regiments and their equipment. The work has gone ahead splendidly but the figures of enlistment in the past month admit of improvement. This applies to all military divisions, but it is quite probable that harvesting activities have much to do with the situation, and that when they are finished enlistment will rapidly be augmented.

Turning to the phase of the question how the war has affected Canada's commercial and domestic arrangements, for one thing it has completely changed the balance of trade, so much so that last month the figures of export exceeded imports by thirty-five millions. Import trade has dwindled materially, while exports, raw and manufactured, have much increased. While many lines of business have been adversely affected, the war has stimulated industry connected with munitions and equipment for the forces.

An estimate of war orders in Canada places the total at approximately three hundred and fifty million dollars. This includes orders by the Canadian and Allied governments. Orders for shells alone are estimated at one hundred and fifty-two million dollars. About 160 factories are turning them out.

The revenues, which immediately began to decline after the war, were not very successfully arrested by the taxes imposed at the special session of Parliament in August. Those adopted by the last budget, however, have caused the revenue since then to equal and in most cases exceed what it was in the ante-bellum months of last year. Canada so far spent nearly a hundred millions on the war. It costs three hundred millions to run the country this year, and of this amount the war is costing half a million a day. The big item of outlay is the pay of officers and men. On equipment about thirty millions has so far been spent. Private munificence has supplemented Government undertakings in many ways, and it may be said without exaggeration or egotism that Canada is fully playing her part in the war, and playing it with credit.

THE AEROPLANE'S FUTURE.

The greatest use of the aeroplane of the future, according to Orville Wright, the inventor, will be to prevent war.

"Some day there will be neither war nor rumors of war and the reason may be flying machines," he says: "Aeroplane will make war too expensive, too slow, too difficult, too long drawn out—in brief, prevent war by making the cost prohibitive."

The real reason why the present European conflict has dragged along one year with very little change in the battle line is because of the aeroplane, according to Mr. Wright. He points out that the scouting of the aeroplanes has been so thorough that each side knows exactly where the other side is and what it is doing. Each side has such complete knowledge about the other's movements that the recourse is to trench warfare where fighting by slow, tedious routine takes the place of spectacular dashes.

Napoleon, Mr. Wright observes, made his successful warfare by massing his fighting forces at unexpected places. That would be impossible today because of the scouting of the aeroplane.

Mr. Wright believes the aeroplane has demonstrated its utility and value to be far greater than the Zeppelin. The cost of the Zeppelin is too great in comparison to its value. He declares that Zeppelin scares in English papers have been for the purpose of awakening England to action.

"The Zeppelin must keep at too great height to be of any military advantage for scouting or accurate firing. It may kill a few non-combatants by dropping bombs, but that has no bearing on the result of the war."

PRESS COMMENT.

It is a pleasure to be able to reproduce this from the Toronto News: "Dr. Clark, the robust radical and free-trader, who represents Red Deer in the house of commons, has had a son in the Patricia Regiment since the war began. The son has come through many engagements without a wound in body or spirit. He has stood unscathed while comrades have fallen by hundreds. Conservatives and Liberals in parliament, with the Daily News and many other newspapers who have had stern encounters with Dr. Clark, rejoice that the son has been spared, and trust that he will continue to have as happy fortune until he is released by a glorious peace from the service which he honors."—Toronto Globe.

The cause of the French people we have made ours; in promoting it we are pouring out blood and treasure as we have never done before. Why? The sea, commanded by a supreme fleet; conveys to us the same suggestions of safety as in the past, in spite of aircraft and submarines; we are not less, but more secure from invasion than we were owing to all the developments of physical science, as the experience of war has revealed. Our soldiers are confronting the enemy on French soil because France's peril is the peril of all the democracies of the world. We should have been unworthy of our past and our rich heritage had we stood aside, content to be indifferent of a militarism which, if undefeated would in time have stamped out all those institutions—political, intelligent and social—which are the pride of the two allied races.—London Daily Telegraph.

Instead of criticizing Sir Robert Borden, Mr. Lemieux would be well advised to express his admiration for a man with moral and physical courage so well proven as that of the Prime Minister of Canada. The President of the French Republic (M. Poincare), the commander-in-chief of the French army (General Joffre), and the glorious representative of heroic Belgium (King Albert) have expressed to the head of the Canadian Government their sentiments of cordiality and friendship. That will console, without doubt, our worthy chief for not having received from a less generous adversary the regard due his character, particularly during his patriotic visit to the battlefields of our ancient motherland, France.—L'Evenement.

Sir Edward Grey has justified, under international law, the British blockade of Germany in his latest notes to Washington. So simple, indeed, is the proposition advanced by the British Foreign Minister that the right of the British position can be understood without invoking precedents and principles in detail, as Sir Edward has done in a masterly way in his latest official communication. Once it is conceded that a belligerent is entitled to cut off "by effective means the sea-borne commerce of his enemy," it is admitted that the belligerent operating a blockade must be within his rights in preventing the enemy from sending or receiving his sea-borne commerce by way of neutral ports. To circumscribe the action of a blockading nation to the ports of the enemy would be to create an anomalous situation, since the blockade would be inefficient whenever the enemy were so situated as to be able to receive and send out commerce through contiguous neutral countries and convenient neutral ports. Great Britain's contention is based on a common sense view of belligerent rights. Going further, she offers to submit disputes as to the merits of individual cases to international arbitration. And as a background, against which the British policy stands out as not only just but also generous. Sir Edward Grey calls attention to the notorious inhumanity of Germany, the enemy the British Empire, is forced to meet and checkmate. Whatever spirited discontent over Great Britain's interference with neutral commerce is manifested in the United States is confined to business circles and is felt largely in the South. At its worst, what is conceived as a grievance has a business significance only and does not touch the more sensitive currents of national feeling. Under such circumstances, the issues will yield readily to diplomacy. Wholly apart from international law, Sir Edward Grey's presentation of the British case must appeal strongly to the sense of justice inherent in the public opinion of democracies such as the United States. Conceivably, he might quote more law and establish less justice for his position.—Montreal News.

His Hospital Experience.

From the 5th Northern General Hospital at Leicester, Eng., Private Fred Leitch, of the 15th Battalion, (48th Highlanders), wrote to his mother, Mrs. C. A. Leitch, as follows, under date of June 6: "I arrived here last night at 11 p.m., after a dull journey. We left Le Trefort by motor car at 6 a.m. and arrived at Dieppe, 20 miles, at 7.30 a.m. We took the boat to Dover across the English Channel, arriving about 4 p.m., then came here by train, passing through London. I am the only Canadian in this ward and don't know the other patients. The nurses can't compare with the Canadian sisters. I was sent to bed this afternoon for shortening the sleeves of my shirt. It sounds more like being treated as a kid, doesn't it? But it is funny to me. I can't help laughing at the idea of being sent to bed for punishment."

FRANCE IS DETERMINED TO FIGHT TILL VICTORY

IT IS NOT ONLY MATTER OF LIFE BUT THAT HONOR SHE HAS ALWAYS PREFERRED TO LIFE, SAYS PRESIDENT.

Paris, August 5.—The first meeting of the Chamber of Deputies after the anniversary of the beginning of war and following the establishment of the union of all political factions in France to endure so long as the war lasts was held today and the session was marked by an extraordinary demonstration of patriotism which was a strong indication of the unanimity of all Frenchmen of every faith and shade of political belief. Furthermore today's meeting was the first since the formation of the present coalition Cabinet in France.

Paul Deschanel, president of the Chamber, opened the session with an eloquent speech which was apparently intended to be a following of the example of the address of M. Rodzianko, president of the Russian Duma, at the recent opening of that legislative body in reply to the anniversary manifesto of the German Emperor. To this Premier Viviani gave response in the name of the government.

A Year Full of Glory.

M. Deschanel said a year had passed since the enemy of France, even before declaring war, had violated French territory. "This year has been so full of a glory so pure," he declared, "that it will forever illumine the human race. It has been a year in which France, the France of Joan of Arc and Valmy, has risen if possible to even greater heights."

Continuing, the president of the Chamber recounted briefly "the breaking of the German military power," and the "forcing back of the enemy of France."

M. Deschanel then reviewed in a few words the work of Parliament, praising especially the activities of the several committees. "Let us be soldiers of reasoned confidence, for the reason that the issue of this conflict will not depend solely on material forces. In the final analysis it is to better will power and constancy."

France is Determined.

In an eloquent passage the president of the Chamber then repeated the determination of France of continue the struggle to complete victory. "It is not only a matter of life," he said, "it is a matter of that honor which France always has preferred to life."

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

A message from President Poincaré was read in the Chamber by Premier Viviani, and in the Senate by Aristide Briand, Minister of Justice. It was addressed to the first year of the war. M. Poincaré laid especial emphasis on the "sacred union of the political parties in France," calling this one of the conditions of victory. He declared this union was more firmly established today than ever before. "If Germany is counting on the possibility of dividing France at the present time, she is deceived today as completely as she was a year ago," was one of the statements in M. Poincaré's communication. "Time will not weaken the ties binding the great French family," he declared, "it will only draw them closer."

Praise For the Army.

Referring to the army the president said: "The army, composed of the very substance of the nation, at once understood the grandeur of its role. It knows it is fighting for the safety of our race, for our traditions, and for our liberty. It knows that upon the victory of France and her Allies depends the future of our civilization and the fate of humanity."

Co-ordination of Action.

"A generous emulation inspired all lines of French activity to come to the aid of the national defense, and this aid is given utterly without selfishness. The country should encourage not only harmony among political parties, but also private co-operation and good will. Individual energies, recognizing how to submit themselves to discipline, constitute a great force in the nation. In war time such energies never are too numerous or too powerful, nor is there ever a greater need to co-ordinate national action to produce a single effect."

"The merits of a people are luminously reflected in the army. The army, composed of the substance of the nation, immediately understood the grandeur of its role. It knows it is fighting for the safety of the race and the traditions and liberties of the country. It knows that on the victory of France and the Allies rests the future of civilization and humanity. Into the heart of the most modest of our soldiers and marines has come a high appreciation of this great historical duty. Each man is completely devoted to his Mother Country, and those who fall die without fear, since by their death France lives and will live forever."

An Error of Arrogance.

"In the error of its arrogance Germany has represented France as light, irresponsible, unstable and incapable."

FALL OF WARSAW EXCITES GERMANY

RUSSIANS RETREATED IN GOOD ORDER LEAVING LITTLE BOOTY.

London, Aug. 5.—An Amsterdam despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company says the announcement of the fall of Warsaw caused great demonstrations throughout Germany.

The official bulletins, the despatch adds, indicate that the Russians retreated in good order and that the invaders found little booty and nothing of military value.

Emperor William has sent a congratulatory message to Prince Leopold and the King of Bavaria. Extraordinary scenes of enthusiasm were witnessed in the German cities.

able of perseverance and tenacity. The people and the army of France will continue to confront this calamitous judgment by their calm course. They will not let themselves be troubled by the false news which has its effect only on impressionable souls; by noisy manifestos for peace by our enemies, or by the perfidious and suspicious insinuations whispered by the agents of the enemy in the ears of neutrals—cowardly counsels aimed at future efforts at demoralization. No one in France is disturbed.

"The only peace which the republic can accept is that which guarantees the security of Europe, and which will permit us to breathe and to live and to work to reconstruct our dismembered country and repair our ruins; a peace which will effectively protect us against any offensive return of the Germanic ambitions. The present generations are accountable for France to posterity. They will not permit the profanation of the trust which their ancestors confided to their charge. France is determined to conquer; she will conquer."

Untoward Incident.

Only one incident threatened the war anniversary celebration in the Chamber of Deputies. Immediately M. Deschanel called the Deputies to order. Leon Accambray, member from the Aisne, who frequently of late has viciously attacked the government in the evident attempt to discredit Minister of War Millerand, demanded the floor. Murmurs from all sides of the House grew in volume as M. Accambray mounted the tribune. When he began to speak the protestations from his colleagues, exhibiting clearly their impatience and their temper, seemed to frighten the Deputy from the Aisne who, after hesitating for a moment, asked leave to print his remarks. He then left the tribune at once. Later, during M. Deschanel's address, M. Accambray sought to interrupt the President, but the long and unanimous applause of M. Deschanel's praise of the work of the Chamber drowned out his voice.

The speech of M. Deschanel and the message of President Poincaré, were frequently interrupted with applause. At the close of each address there was an outburst of clapping from all the delegates, who rose to their feet.

TELEGRAMS EXCHANGED BY KING AND DUKE.

Ottawa, August 5.—The following telegram was sent by Field Marshal H.R.H. the Duke of Connaught, Governor-General of Canada to H. M. the King, on August 4.

"On the anniversary of the declaration of war I send you, in my own name, and in that of all the loyal Canadians, our renewed expression of loyal devotion to yourself and our determination to carry this war through till victory and lasting peace crown the efforts of our arms."

(Signed) ARTHUR.

The following reply was received: "Buckingham Palace, Aug. 4th."

"It is a great pleasure to receive from you and the Canadian people, such an expression of devotion and of loyal determination to bring this war to a successful conclusion, as contained in your telegram. These sentiments were forcibly endorsed by Sir Robert Borden's eloquent speech yesterday."

THE FRENCH FLEET HAS BOMBARDED ANATOLIAN COAST

TURKISH FORTIFICATIONS ARE DAMAGED AND SUBMARINE DEPOT DESTROYED.

Paris, August 5.—One armored cruiser; two cruisers, torpedo boats, dredgers, and an aeroplane ship of the French fleet demonstrated August 3rd and 4th off Sigahdjik and Scala Nova, on the Anatolia. August 3rd, Sigahdjik was bombarded and the Customs House and part of the fortifications destroyed. On the day following the armored cruiser bombarded the fortifications of the Turkish quarter of Scala Nova and a fortified point to the west of that town, while the other vessels of the squadron shelled and destroyed the village of Spelia, supposed to be a supply depot for submarines of France's antagonists.

The foregoing information is contained in a statement given out today by the French Ministry of Marine.

ITALY MAY MAKE WAR ON TURKEY

TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY THOUSAND MEN READY TO SAIL.

Rome, August 5.—The tension between Italy and Turkey is declared here to be becoming daily more acute. Italy is said to have asked for categorical explanations concerning Turkey's alleged refusal to withdraw her troops from the Cyrenaica district in Tripoli and Turkey is pursuing what is described as her usual policy of procrastination.

In official circles here the feeling is held that hostilities on the part of Italy may commence at any moment, as Italy's last note to Turkey was almost of the character of an ultimatum. Two hundred and fifty thousand men in the provinces of Bari, Foggia, and Lecce are said to be prepared to sail from Brindisi on short notice.

MINISTER REVIEWS FRENCH FINANCES

FINANCIAL BURDEN IS GROWING—LONG TERM LOAN IS PROBABLE SOON.

Paris, August 5.—In the course of a discussion in the French Senate today on the bill to raise the limit of national defense issues, which was passed in the Chamber of Deputies, July 29th, Alexandre Ribot, the Minister of Finance, took occasion to review the financial situation.

"On July 31st," he said, "there were 6,959,000,000 francs ($1,391,600,000) of defense issues in circulation. In July alone 825,000,000 francs ($165,000,000) net were placed in the short term bonds and 322,000,000 francs ($64,400,000) in the long term obligations."

"Our financial burdens are constantly growing. Arms and ammunition cost a great deal. We shall probably have recourse to a long term loan whereby we can consolidate all our short term treasury issues. We still have a great military and financial effort to make to reach a victorious conclusion of the war."

"The public brings in its gold without pressure. It is conspicuous of the situation and feels that today no man can save himself by thinking solely of himself. It can be done only by the citizens giving the country their lives if necessary and their goods of this world in any case."

"We must conceal nothing from the country. It is worthy to hear everything. Only in dissimulating nothing can we fittingly respond to the country's fine confidence."

The bill increasing the limit of national defense issues was passed.

DEATH LIST 75.

Casualties in Erie Flood Are Increasing Hourly.

Erie, Pa., Aug. 5.—The death list resulting from the flood of Tuesday night was brought up to twenty-six here late today with the recovery of two more bodies. The search for bodies is progressing slowly and city officials believe that it will be at least a week before the work has been completed. Fifteen persons are known to be missing and Coroner Hanley said he thought the death list might reach seventy-five.

Figures compiled late today showed that the total damage in the city and county would amount to between six and seven million dollars.

SITUATION IN THE DARDANELLES IS EXCELLENT

TURKS LESS AGGRESSIVE ALTHOUGH THEY ARE BEING CONSTANTLY REINFORCED.

London, Aug. 6.—The situation in the Dardanelles on the front held by the Australian troops is excellent although there has been continuous heavy fighting involving serious casualties on both sides, according to the British press representative on the Gallipoli Peninsula.

"The Turks since their last repulse," the observer says, "have shown much less aggressiveness seeming more content to sit in the trenches than to attempt an offensive movement. The troops being kept occupied constantly in building and rebuilding trenches which crumble away rapidly every day owing to the soft sandy soil."

"Heavy Turkish reinforcements are being constantly brought into advanced positions showing that the Turks realize the importance of holding back any further attempt of the Allies to encroach on the peninsula."

BETHLEHEM STEEL IS STILL CLIMBING

STOCK SOLD AT 301 YESTERDAY A GAIN OF 269 POINTS SINCE BEGINNING OF WAR.

New York, Aug. 5.—Common stock of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, whose rise has seen few parallels in the history of the New York Stock Exchange passed the 300 mark today. It sold during the morning at 301, a gain of since the beginning of the war of 269 points. The company was incorporated in 1904 and the stock has never paid a dividend.

The rise this morning was 11 points from the previous high record, established yesterday of 290. The stock has advanced 30 points this week. When the Stock Exchange closed on July 30, 1914, just before the outbreak of the war, it was quoted at 32. The advance of this stock and the shares of other corporations in the war order group has been accompanied by unrestrained speculation with little authentic information on which to base such a rise. It has been known in a general way that Bethlehem Steel had received huge war orders on which the profits presumably are large, but no official figures have been given out. The speculative fever has been kept up by many unconfirmed reports of enormous profits and expected declarations of large dividends.

Many stocks have been lifted from comparative obscurity to sudden popularity at rising prices by similar reports of profits on the business of supplying war munitions to Europe. Some of the earlier advances in the war shares from the close at the outbreak of the war today are: Crucible Steel, 17 to 89; New York Air Brake, 55 to 116; Westinghouse Electric 62 to 112; American Locomotive 19 to 56 1/2; American Can. 19 to 59 1/2. Even larger was the rise in the curb market of Electric Boat, which builds submarines. Before the war it sold at around 15. On the recent rise it has touched four hundred and thirty.

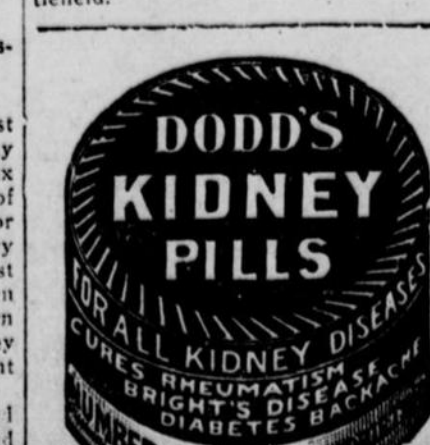

Later in the day Bethlehem Steel rose to 307, but it relapsed before the close, which was at 301. American Can touched 60 1/2 but fell back to 58 3/4.

vent pestilence from following in the wake of the flood. A company of state police arrived here tonight from Butler to assist in the rescue work and to patrol the flood district.

Another terrific rainstorm struck Erie tonight retarding the work of searching parties for a while. No reports of additional damage were received, however.

To Refill Cartridges.

It is learned from a good source that many Germans have been arriving at Constantinople. It is believed that this has reference to the installation of a factory for the refilling of used cartridges picked up on the battlefield.

LLOYD GEORGE SEES RAY OF HOPE IN THE DARK HORIZON

AUSTRIA AND PRUSSIA ARE HAMMERING SWORD THAT WILL DESTROY THEM.

London, Aug. 5.—Speaking to 10,000 Welshmen at Bangor this afternoon before he heard of the fall of Warsaw, David Lloyd George, the Minister of Munitions, referred to the situation in the east in these terms:

"I view it with anxiety but not with dread. I can see a ray of hope in the dark horizon—the regeneration of the great people of Russia. Our enemies do not understand what they are doing in the east. Their mighty cannon are shattering the rusty bars that fettered the soul of Russia."

"Look at Warsaw. What is happening behind that? The Russian people are shaking themselves free of stifling debris, their mighty limbs preparing with new spirits and new hope for a new land."

"Austria and Prussia are doing today for Russia what their military ancestors did for France. They are hammering a sword that will destroy them."

BERLIN EXPECTED WARSAW'S CAPTURE

NO DEMONSTRATION WHEN NEWS OF ITS FALL WAS RECEIVED.

Berlin, Aug. 5, via London, Aug. 6.—Details of the fall of Warsaw have not yet reached Berlin and the German General Staff has no action beyond the brief phrase in the middle of the day's official report.

The news of the occupation of the Polish capital was received here quietly, almost without enthusiasm or demonstration.

The Berlin newspapers did not even trouble to issue extra editions, but announced the news in their regular editions. Flags immediately began to make their appearance in the streets, and at 4 o'clock in the afternoon the whole city was agitated.

So sure had the authorities been of the fall of the fortress that preparations for the appointment of a civil governor and the installation of a civil administration centered at Warsaw are almost complete and will be announced in a day or two. The Governor will, it is understood, be a prominent German.

BRITISH COMMENT ON WARSAW'S FALL

KAISER HAS GAINED SOMETHING WHICH MAY BE USELESS AFTER ALL.

London, Aug. 6.—All the London morning papers today deal editorially at great length with the fall of Warsaw. All of them admit the tremendous political effect of the occupation of the Polish capital by the Teutons, but a majority of them minimize its strategic results as regards Russia.

"The news will have a far reaching on the world at large," says the Daily Telegraph, "and it would be foolish to under-rate its significance. Politically we can well imagine that the latest news of the retreat of the Russians and the irresistible advance of the enemy may be of extreme utility to the nation anxious to impress the world with its martial qualities, and especially to persuade neutral powers like the Balkans that the god of battles has given victory into its hands."

"The military and strategic consequences, however, is very different from the political. When Emperor William adds up the net gains and losses he will discover that at much cost of blood and treasure he has only enabled the Russians to fall back to lines more easily defended and to that ultimate space of territory which always has baffled conquerors from the west."

"The Daily Graphic says: 'The loss of Warsaw and the years fighting are an undoubted blow to Russia and her allies. From the military point of view it proves that the Germans are, in comparison to the Russians, stronger than they ever have been during the past twelve months. It would be foolish for us to minimize the importance of the victory. It is reasonable to expect that the Russians were able to retreat in good order and save the bulk of their army. Warsaw is not a second Sedan. Nevertheless the military power of Russia must remain impaired for some time to come. That means a greater strain on the western powers France for a long time has been putting forth practically her full strength, so that whatever more has to be done must be done by us.'"

MACHINE GUN FUND

Only fourteen dollars is now needed to bring The Chronicle Machine Gun Fund up to twenty-five thousand dollars.

Owing to the fact that several subscriptions which have been promised are not in yet the time limit for the closing of the fund has been extended until Monday next.

In the meanwhile negotiations are going on between the Committee and the Militia Department at Ottawa with a view to secure the most rapid delivery of the guns possible and the sympathies of several ministers have been enlisted.

The list of subscriptions so far takes no account of the thousand dollars contributed by Miss M. E. Dunn, although the Militia Department has informed her that the gun purchased with this sum can be handed over to the Second Battalion if so desired.

Another useful donation came from the Custom House officers and staff, per Mr. E. N. Chinic.

Among the suggestions received during the day was the following:—

The Editor "Quebec Chronicle,"

Quebec, P. Q.

Dear Sir,—Would it be possible for the Militia Department to arrange matters so that after the war any village or towns which subscribe for a machine gun at the present time could get either a Canadian machine gun or one taken from the Germanic alliance as a memento of the war? If this could be promised I believe that it would encourage several villages in the Province to subscribe for at least one gun.

Thanking you in anticipation for publishing this letter,
Yours truly, TROPHY.

A full list of all who have subscribed to the fund will be published in tomorrow's issue.

CORRESPONDENT THINKS PROPER ATTENTION SHOULD BE PAID TO THEM.

The following letter has been received by the Chronicle:

To the Editor of the Chronicle:

Dear Sir,—It is probably unknown to most of us that we have in Quebec for at least a few days each week some of our Gallant Soldiers returning in a wounded condition from the battles in which we have taken so much interest in, and so much pride. It must be, I am sure, the wish of everyone here that anything we can do for these different bodies of men should be done.

Might I suggest that, as I see you are closing the fund for the quick-firing guns, that you would turn your attention to getting together the means to show some proper attention to the constant stream of "returned wounded."

"EXPLOITS OF ELAINE," WITH GOOD FEATURES

Eight Reels of First Class Pictures Today and Tomorrow at the Olympia.

With the "Exploits of Elaine," the Olympia wouldn't require very strong features to draw the crowds, but today and tomorrow's programme is composed just the same of the best and newest pictures the Pathe Exchange has released. This programme comprises "In Humble Guise," in two parts; "Where the Trail Led," in two parts, that was released early the 16th of July, the "Exploits of Elaine," in two parts also, and a comedy entitled "The Laughing Gas."

The "Exploits of Elaine" will of course be the greatest attraction for the first of these two days, but there is a good chance that those who will see the other two reels will recommend them to their friends as the best pictures of the kind exhibited in any theatre.

"The Laughing Gas" may be as good a comedy as some in which Chaplin is featured although it has not got the reputation that great comedy appears, but patrons of the Olympia will enjoy it and declare the film a first class one.

INTERESTING STORY FROM THE FRONT

SIR ROBERT BORDEN INSPECTS CANADIAN TROOPS MARCHING TO TRENCHES.

(Correspondence)

At the Front in the Trenches, 22nd July.

Here I am again in the support trenches at—

We are not up in the first line this time, as we had been there 4 times in succession, and it sure was some one else's turn to take it over.

We are right behind the front line, as close supports, and I suppose we will get the usual heavy shelling here, that usually goes with the supporting line.

Well, on our way in yesterday, Sir Robt. Borden inspected the Battalions going into the trenches, and completed the 2nd on their splendid appearance. The fellows did look well, so fit and bronzed, and every man in perfect health.

I had quite a long chat with the Premier, as Gen'l Alderson asked me to stay with them while the Battalion marched past.

He told me that Gen'l Hughes would only be over here next week, as he was detained this week in London.

It was quite an interesting sight to see the Regiments go by and the Premier standing at the corner beside an old Farm House, (somewhere in Belgium) take the salutes as each Company filed by.

It was indeed a historic sight, and one that will go down in the annals of Canadian History. He had already visited the other Brigades and ours was the last, before he left to go back to England.

With the Premier was a very important staff, including Gen'l Alderson, Gen'l Mercer, Col. Sir Max Aitkin, whose splendid data of events in the interest of the Canadian Divisions, has caused such great satisfaction, R. B. Bennett, Esq., Col. Firth and many others. Sir Robert desired to convey to the men of the Canadian Battalions the great appreciation of the people of Canada for the magnificent work of the 1st Division and the achievements they have secured in the great cause of liberty.

Their work will never be forgotten and he also paid a glowing tribute to those who had fallen and who had given up their lives cheerfully in this great sacred cause.

These few moments spent with their Prime Minister, will never be forgotten by any of the Canadians, the great seriousness of the occasion and the determined expression of the men and the Premier all but a graphic, true, picture lesson of the grim, dogged intentions of Canada, as represented by Sir Robert and his men of Canada, away in this out of the way spot in Belgium.

It is expected that the 2nd Division will be over here sometime about the middle of August, and they should do well, if all the reports are true that we hear about them. But they will have to go some, if they are able to do better than the 1st Division, and the experience of the long tedious months, in the mud of Salisbury is not washed when the severe strain such as has been called for has been stood, and the men not found wanting.

THE BLACK WATCH.

In 1730 six companies of Highlanders were raised for the protection of Edinburgh, and the following year were consolidated into a regular regiment, the Highland regiment, and were numbered the Forty-Second. On becoming amalgamated the colors on their tartans were extracted, leaving only the dark green ground as a tartan, and from this they took the title of the "Black Watch."—New York American.

WHERE HE LEARNED JUGGLING.

Rankin—Do you know Professor Toshemp, the great juggler?

Phyle—I should say so. We were raised together.

"How in the world did he ever learn all of those wonderful stunts?"

"He started to earn his living as a photographer, and he learned all of those tricks while trying to amuse the babies whose pictures he took."—Youngstown Telegram.

Just One Application and the Hairs Vanish

(Modes of Today)

A harmless, yet very effective, treatment is here given for the quick removal of hairy growths: Mix enough powdered delatone and water to cover the undesirable hairs, apply paste and after 2 or 3 minutes remove, wash the skin and the hairs have vanished. One application usually is sufficient, but to be certain of results, buy the delatone in an original package.

IMITATIONS OF CHAS. CHAPLIN

ONE OF THE AMATEUR ACTS TO GIVE US AN IMPERSONATION OF THE GREAT CANADIAN AT THE AUDITORIUM TONIGHT.

It will probably be a difficult task for the announcer tonight to find out from the audience who is the winner of the first prize in the amateur contest at the Auditorium. Twelve dollars are offered for the first prize, eight for the second and five for the third. And there will be a good number of competitors, including some very good Chaplin impersonators; the "fight" for these prizes will certainly be very keen.

A good Chaplin imitator would be enough to draw a big crowd after what the patrons of the Auditorium were treated to on the Special Chaplin Night, a few weeks ago. But there will probably be some even more interesting numbers, if the originality of a turn is to be accounted for.

Professor Fecteau alone is certainly the best amateur that can be advertised and he will have dangerous rivals in all the other acts.

The three singers who are to imitate the steam organ are a great number in that line and if we would only mention their names we are sure that all their friends—and there are scores and scores of them—would do more to advertise the performance than even the newspapers can do.

The pictures will be shown first; then will come the five acts of regular vaudeville, and the amateurs on the last part of the bill as the feature of the performance.

LAVAL HOPES TO TRIM THE LEADERS

STUDENTS FEEL CONFIDENT
 ST. PATRICK'S WILL BE DE-FEATED SUNDAY NEXT.

Despite their overwhelming defeat by Emmets last Sunday, the Laval team is practicing hard this week, full of confidence that they will down St. Patrick's, the league leaders, in Sunday's game.

Laval made the Saints travel overtime to win the last time the two teams met and Manager St. Pierre states his men are anxious to make up for the way they threw away that game.

Manager Walker, of St. Patrick's, however, thinks his team is stronger than ever and will likely send Ashton to hold down the Stauers. Newton is now displaying high-class form behind the bat and considering his long absence from the game, his playing at this position is not inferior to any catcher in the league. His batting is another strong feature.

The second game which will be between Patricia and Emmets should be another keen contest. Laurin, with Miller behind the bat is the most dangerous pitcher in the league to face, and with an improved team behind him, the Emmets will not find everything plain sailing.

President Bruneau has named H. Ledden and Dave Power to handle both games. Sylvio Drouin had been appointed, but his refusal to act due to his absence from the city, led to Dave Power's selection by the president.

Sporting Notes

The New York Nationals are fighting their way to the top. The National league race is about the closest ever in the history of this organization. Any club with the exception of Cincinnati, though even Herzog's crew is not too far behind, might lead the league during the next few days. The Braves got a setback yesterday.

Last year's champions are not too popular this season. They have kicked their way through so far, while certain cities have complained that their players have acted in a manner far removed from what is termed gentlemanly.

One New York paper, especially hands out some stiff criticism against Stalling's tribe stating that they have "blasphemed their way to a position in the league standing". Considering the number of run-ins the Braves players have had with the umpires, not to mention Ever's scraps with other players, it looked as if the harsh words of the N. Y. journalist were not idle chatter.

That the Arena will be packed Saturday night seems to be assured. There is a brisk demand for the bouts and the Victoria Club has announced that there will be 1500 seats at 50c. This will give an opportunity to all to witness the calibre of the men and the clean sport which the management of this popular club offers its patrons.

The St. Patrick's Club will practise this evening on the Esplanade. Every player is requested to be on hand, if possible.

The Young Victorias accept the challenge of the All-Stars for a baseball game to be played Sunday afternoon next on the Esplanade at 2.30 L. Paquet, Manager.

The Young Victorias are also agreeable to take on the Giants on Sunday morning on the Esplanade.

Frezell will likely pitch for Emmets against Patricia, Sunday next.

There will be a meeting tonight of The Boys from Bunker Hill. Who never worked and never will. —By order of the president.

Patricia will have several new faces Sunday next, including a new first baseman.

Emile Racine, third baseman of Laval was married last week, the Laval club presenting him with a well-filled purse of gold. The blushing young groom will return from his wedding journey in time to help his bachelor and other friends to beat St. Patrick's, Sunday.

The Eggers-Conley bout scheduled for Saturday night before the Victoria Club promises to be the finest exhibition of the season.

There has been a great number of tickets sold for tomorrow's football game between Valcartier and All-Quebec which will be played on the Exhibition Grounds. Whitehead of the Valcartier aggregation is reported to be the very best shot in the business around these parts. Quebec will try hard to retrieve their defeat of last week.

The Emmets will practise this evening on the Esplanade.

Popular Pastimes No. 167: Wondering which of your "friends" always tells you sweetheart whenever you happen to be seen with another girl.

BOXERS WILL BE IN TOWN TODAY

VICTORIA ATHLETIC CLUB HAVE PREPARED A FINE FOR SATURDAY NIGHT.

Is Quebec a good boxing town? There is only one answer to this question, and it is an emphatic affirmative. But Quebecers are a fair-minded lot and when they go to a boxing match, they like to see contests between men who are fairly evenly matched.

Manager Belanger, of the Victoria Club, has studied the question from all angles. On a previous occasion he met with a slight hitch, due to his trusting too much to a man's word. But he has benefited by the experience gained and though every man signed to box before the Victoria Club has earned a reputation as a sportsman, yet every detail has been carefully planned and all contests are iron-clad.

The main bout on Saturday evening will be between Conley and Eggers, and this is an attraction which the club management have secured at no small cost. It is needless to quote the capabilities of Eggers and Conley, those who follow the boxing game know that these men are top-notchers in their class. Rivet and Charlie McCarthy will also meet on the same night, and this goes to prove to be full of action (as the movie director says). Shea and McCline will battle ten rounds on the same evening, and there will be a first class preliminary besides.

All the boxers are expected to be in town today, and they will at once prepare for their bouts.

The Quebec Arena will be the scene of the various conflicts and ringside seats may be procured at the Victoria Hotel, Edgar Langlois, and at the Arena, the price being $1.00 each. Apart from these seats there are several hundred at 75c and 1,500 at 50c, so that all sport lovers have a splendid opportunity of taking part in the revival of the manly art which has been brought about by the efforts of the Victoria Club.

SHIPPING NEWS

SOME CARGO OF BENGORE HEAD HERE

LIGHTERS ARRIVE WITH TMBER FROM VESSEL STRANDED AT HARE ISLAND.

Several lighters arrived up yesterday laden with portions of the cargo of the stranded S. S. Bengore Head which was laden with deals when the collision occurred at Hare Island last Sunday.

The timber brought up yesterday was discharged at the Breakwater. A large force of men are still busy in freeing the vessel of the balance of her cargo. It is expected that the vessel will be refloated by next Monday or Tuesday. The Bengore Head will go into dock here for repairs immediately on arriving up.

SHIPPING NOTES.

The S. B. Rosecastle, City of Ottawa and Dagland passed up yesterday en route to Montreal.

The S. S. Michigan arrived at 2.30 a.m. yesterday and after discharging Quebec cargo proceeded to Montreal. S. S. Manchester Inventor arrived up yesterday morning from Manchester after a passage which was delayed considerably by fog. She discharged a portion of her cargo at shed 25 at the Breakwater, and left last night for Montreal.

The first of the three new liners now building for the American Hawaiian Steamship Company, on the Atlantic, is expected to be completed by December 15, according to advices received at New York. The vessels are under construction at the Maryland Steel Company's plant at Sparrow's point. The S. S. Missourian which is at present in port belongs to the American-Hawaiian Steamship Co.

According to reports circulated in shipping circles at Atlanta, Ga., a large shipbuilding concern, which already owns and operates a large plant in a New England port, has perfected plans for the establishment of a new and extensive shipbuilding yard at Savannah. The plan, it is understood, hinges upon the success or failure of a bill introduced recently in the Georgia Legislature to amend the constitution so as to exempt from taxation for a period of ten years the shipbuilding corporation which has arranged for an initial capitalization of approximately $3,000,000.

Consul General Skinner at London on July 30th notified the State Department of a new British regulation requiring masters and sailors on neutral ships visiting British ports to be provided with passports or identification papers and to present such papers for registry if remaining more than twenty-four hours in British waters. The Bureau of Navigation of the Department of Commerce has been asked by the State Department to work out some means of complying with the order without embarrassing American shipping. Until the order is in full force temporary landing permits will be issued. A large proportion of the crews of American ships are neither native Americans nor naturalized Americans and cannot receive passports from the United States. That presents a difficulty which may be an embarrassment to American trade. It was explained that the order is aimed at German spies.

SWEDISH ROUTE TO RUSSIA.

As commerce through Archangel is practically limited to Russian Government orders, commercial interests in Canada may be interested in knowing something about other routes that may be feasible for private commerce. Especially is this the case when one takes into consideration that sending merchandise by way of Vladivostok is not only expensive but slow. The western routes opened may be indicated as follows:

New York-Bergen, by way of the Norwegian Steamship Co., Bergen-Stockholm, Wassa, or Raumo, in Finland, and thence to any point in Russia.

New York-Narvik, in northern Norway; Kemi and Gamla Karleby, in Sweden. Haparanda, and thence to any point in Finland or Russia. This route is difficult and not much used.

COMMERCIAL NEWS

NEW YORK MARKET.
(Canadian Press).

New York, Aug. 5.—The demand for the popular specialties showed no signs of abatement today and there was another advance of good proportions. Public buying, which had given evidence of falling off, apparently was stimulated anew by yesterday's upturn and a large amount of orders accumulated over night. Trading was brisk throughout, and total sales were 916,000 shares.
The instability of the war stocks with their current high level was demonstrated again by occasional periods of reaction, but the general course was upward. After the first rush of buying was over the severest relapse came, cancelling most of the early rise, but in the afternoon the movement received fresh impetus. Weakness of a few specialties and railroad shares in the last hour prevented the market from making an even display of strength at the close, but the late relapse was not extensive enough to cut deeply into the gains of most stocks.
Bethlehem Steel maintained its reputation as the most spectacular of the war shares. It passed the 300 mark early in the day and reached 307, an advance of 17 points. Later it relapsed to 301. Another new high record was made by General Motors at 191 7/8.
The urgent demand for United States Steel continued, and the action of this stock gave tone to the whole market. It was bought in blocks of 1,000 to 5,000 shares and rose to 72 1/2, another new high record since 1912.
Railroad stocks played little part in the forenoon rise, but on the recovery which followed the early relapse they were bought heavily at advancing prices. Rock Island St. Paul, Canadian Pacific, Union Pacific and Reading were prominent in the movement. The late selling was directed largely at the railroads, which fell back generally.
Sentiment was governed by the same influences which have prevailed heretofore, and the gossip of the Street ran along the familiar lines of improved business conditions, particularly in the steel and affiliated industries, and reports of large war orders. War news played little part in the dealings, although the fall of Warsaw was mentioned as an influence in bringing about the late reaction.
Bonds were irregular.
Total Sales, (par value), $3,220,000.
United States fours declined quarter on call.

CLOSING MARKET LETTERS.
By private wire to Breen & Gourdeau, Stock Brokers, 63 St. Peter Street, and 6 Sault-au-Matlot Street, Phone 185.
Chicago, Aug. 5.—Bears were encouraged by a more favorable weather map and appearance of better weather for tomorrow. There was pressure, therefore, on all deliveries. Shippers are in urgent need of stocks and even with favorable weather the nearby delivery may be expected to hold relatively strong.
Corn—Improved weather conditions had an effect on corn similar to that of wheat, but the decline was not so severe. Country sales are unequal to the demand and will probably continue so until the harvesting in small grain is out of the way.
Oats lost about 1 cent of the sharp advance of yesterday, largely because

NEW YORK CLOSING LETTER.
McDougall & Cowans, Stock Brokers, 116 Mountain Hill, Quebec. Phone 1402-1403.
New York, Aug. 5.—The advance in the price of pig iron and steel billets induced heavy buying of U. S. Steel common which made a new high record advancing to 72 1/2. Beth. Steel sold 307 Cru at 79. In speculative circles one hears nothing but war orders, war orders. It is hard for the thoughtful mind to determine how the advance in raw materials can benefit the manufacturing companies who have accepted war orders at fixed prices. C. P. R. was another strong feature selling up to 147 3/4. It is generally believed that with the promise of a great crop in Canada and high prices for it, C. P. R. will maintain its 10 p.c. dividend rate. The decline in its earnings is principally due to the practical failure of the crop last year. Rock Island was another feature in the railway list, advancing to 19 1/2 as against close last night of 16 7/8. In this connection we beg to refer to several dispatches sent out during the last three days to the effect that we had reason to believe important interests in the Rock Island Co., had secured a large amount of the old Chicago R. I. and P. stock, enough to continue them as the dominant interests, and that now their policy in the administration of the property would be constructive and not the reverse as it has been for a year past. Total sales, 913,000; Bonds, $3,192,000.

A BAD BARGAIN.

"They say she literally bought the count, and now I guess she wishes she'd bought him on the instalment plan."

"Why so?"

"Then all she'd have to do would be to stop payments and they would take him away."—Boston Transcript.

LADY JEPHSON'S APPEAL.

To The Editor of the Chronicle,

Dear Sir,—I have noticed the appeal of Lady Jephson (London England) in your columns for reading matter in both English and French for the 'Soldier Boys' in the Trenches and on the Firing Line. No doubt many of your readers would be glad to comply with this appeal but the difficulty or the expense of forwarding it may prevent their doing so. To any desirous of supplying this literature and will telephone No. 651 I will be glad to send for same and have it forwarded to the address mentioned, viz.—100 Oakley Street, Chelsea Embankment, London England. Please bear in mind that illustrated papers, magazines and only the very latest news papers (no ladies fashion books or like periodicals) are appreciated.

Yours very truly,

W. H. WIGGS.

PRAYERS FOR OPPONENTS.

Quebec, August 5, 1915.

To the Editor of the Chronicle:—

Dear Sir,—In this morning's 'Chronicle' a correspondent, who signs "Christian," strongly objects to prayers "For Our Opponents."

Now I beg to submit that Christ Himself not only said, "Pray for them that persecute and calumniate you," but one of His seven words on the Cross was, "Father, forgive them, they know not what they do."

Mindful of His teaching, followers of Christ in all times have deemed themselves in duty bound to pray for their enemies, from Stephen, the Pro-tomartyr, who, while his persecutors stoned him to death, cried out: "Lord, lay not this sin to their charge," down to those priests at Rheims, who victoriously pleaded for the lives of German prisoners, as the populace rose up against them, infuriated at the bombardment of their glorious Cathedral.

"Father, forgive them, they know not what they do," is a prayer more than ever in season.

For generations past, the German people has been taught by false porphets and philosophers that Might is Right and that Germany must conquer by fair means or by foul.

Wonderful was the change wrought by the prayer of Stephen in the soul of Saul, the Persecutor, who became Paul, the Apostle of Nations.

No less wonderful a change can be brought about in the deluded German mind through the prayers of Christianity, for the Arm of the Almighty is not shortened and His Ear is ever close upon our lips.

Sincerely yours,

LAWRENCE DRUMMOND.

ROBT. EDESON AT GRANDE

ALLEE GARDENS.

"Where the Trail Divides" a Masterpiece in Five Parts, 250 Scenes.

A big show is on for tonight and tomorrow at the Gardens. A five reel masterpiece, featuring Robt. Edeson, the celebrated American actor, in "Where the Trail Divides" will be shown. In producing this virile drama care was taken to set the scenes on a typical western ranch. It is a story of real manhood in the making a narrative of adventure and daring deeds.
It is a drama with a big theme, that love and friendship, after all, are the things worth while. The popular Bully Boy comedy will be shown, also a strong weekly.

Gee Whiz. How these wonderful features do pile up. Three a week.
Humdingers, every one of them too.
We have set the pace and we are still leading. We cannot announce our programme too strongly. Everything we say about our pictures will be more than backed up by the pictures themselves. Monday and Tuesday, John Mason in "Jim the Penman"; Wednesday and Thursday, "After the Ball", from the world famous song of the same name. A picture in six reels that will ensnare all hearts and leave an impression never to be forgotten. Friday and Saturday, Myrtle Steadman in the "Wild Olive". All good pictures which are well worth twice the price of admission.

GERMAN SPY ARRESTED.

New York, Aug. 5.—Ignatius T. T.
Lincoln, a former member of the British parliament and a self-confessed German spy, who was arrested in Brooklyn yesterday on a Federal warrant charging him with forgery amounting to approximately $6,500 was held for a further hearing on August 19th when arraigned in the United States District Court today.
The date was set after an attorney representing the British Consul had told the court that extradition papers and depositions would arrive from England by then.

DEFAULTING CASHIER

HAS PLEADED GUILTY

Montreal, Aug. 5.—Samuel Stafford
Barton, cashier of the Canadian Steel Foundries Company, limited, who stole $7,000 in money from the company on July and who was arrested by the New York police last Tuesday, with over $6,000 in his possession, appeared before Judge Leet today and pleaded guilty to a charge of theft to the amount of $7,000. Blurtown, who was remanded for sentence on the 6th, is understood to have made restitution of the balance of the money.

ANOTHER TOPSY.

Little Mary had heard it said that sister Kate "belonged to her mother's people," that baby brother was "his father over again" and that "Albert was a Brown."

"Little Mary," the relatives all said,
"doesn't look like anybody."
She followed her mother about the house one day with an anxious look.
"Mamma," she finally burst forth,
"ain't me people?"—Indianapolis
