FOUR PERSONS BURNED TO DEATH

And Five in a Serious Condition
as Results of a Small Fire
at Butler, Pa.

Butler, Pa., Jan. 28.—Four persons were burned to death or suffocated and five others are in a serious condition as a result of a fire early today at the home of Curtis Hale, at Clayton, a mining town ten miles from here. A family reunion was held at the home of Curtis Hale, Saturday night. The fire was discovered at 3 o'clock this morning. An overheated stove or the explosion of a lamp is thought to have been the cause. The dead:

Earl Miles, aged 35, son-in-law of Curtis Hale.

Mrs. Pollie Miles, aged 35.

Mrs. Belle Hale, aged 28, wife of James Hale.

Scott Hale, aged 18, son of Curtis Hale.

Curtis Hale, his wife and children, David, James and Sadie sustained burns about the head and body.

Men from a nearby coal mine, assisted by neighbors, extinguished the fire, provided for the injured and recovered the charred bodies of the victims. The damage to the house was less than $1,000.

ARMISTICE NOT YET RENEWED

Between Parties in China, but No Serious Fighting Expected—A New Senate.

Nanking, Jan. 29.—The armistice, which has been in operation for several weeks past, expired today, but no definite steps have been taken for its renewal. Neither Tang Shao-Yi, the representative of Yuan Shi Kai, nor Wu Ting Fang, the republication Minister of Justice, expects serious fighting. Dr. Wu said in this connection: "There is no one to fight; all are our friends."

Chang Hsun, commander of the imperial troops, has his central base at Su Chow Fu, in the northern part of Kiang-Su province. Under his direct command are 8,000 of all sorts of good fighters, inured to the winter. The revolutionists centre is at Linhai Kwan, in Onhwei province, about 100 miles from Nanking. The revolutionists number 15,000 men, eager for fighting, but not acclimated.

General Chang now occupies a special car, from which point of vantage he direct his troops, but a significant fact is that an engine is attached at both ends of the car. His retreat, however, is cut off 100 miles to the north by the cities along the railway line, which turned over a few days ago to the revolutionary cause.

It is confidently believed here that abdication will come when Yuan Shi Kai is satisfied that the Chinese troops in Peking are sufficient in numbers to control the Manchus.

The new Senate was inaugurated here yesterday. It is made up of 42 Senators, who appeared in foreign dress. President Sun Yat Sen, in his speech, urged unity. He said that it was proposed by the new regime to build up, not to destroy. At the close of the President's address there was an impressive scene, the members rising in a body and giving three cheers for the republic. The hall was handsomely decorated and a military band played popular airs familiar to the foreigners.

LORD LONDONDERRY AND CHURCHILL

Still Discussing the Proposed Belfast Meeting — Churchill's Reply.

London, Jan. 28.—The correspondence between Winston Spencer Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, and Lord Londonderry, regarding the Home Rule meeting which is to be held in Belfast on February 8, has not yet ended. Mr. Churchill, sending a second letter to the viceroy, in which he explains that he had nothing to do with the local arrangements for the Belfast meeting, and reminds him that Home Rule meetings had been held in Ulster Hall recently.

"I had no other idea," says Mr. Churchill in his latest letter, "than to discuss, according to the long established custom of British politics, matters which are serious to us, and which we freely recognize are serious to you. The right of interests of the Protestants of Ireland must be the deep concern of every British government. They will be respected by all who faithfully strive to reconcile Ireland to the British Empire, and end the hatreds which disturb the foundations of the state."

"Your letter forces me to refer to a personal matter. Your Lordship has claim, to which I bow, to remind me of the memory of Lord Randolph Churchill. You were his friend through evil, as well as good days. The Unionist party, who, within a few months of the very speech which is now on their lips, pursued him with harsh ingratitude, have no such right."

It was on the platform of Ulster Hall that Lord Randolph Churchill, the father of Winston Churchill, denounced Mr. Gladstone's Home Rule bill, and at the same time declared, "Ulster will fight, and Ulster will be right." It is the mention of this by Lord Londonderry that Mr. Churchill's letter refers.

TWELVE PEOPLE SUPPOSED LOST

By Their Boat Being Caught in an Ice Floe in the Mississippi River.

Cairo, Ill., Jan. 28.—Twelve persons are reported to have been lost today when a row boat in which they were crossing the Mississippi River from Bird's Point, Mo., to Cairo, was caught in an ice jam. They were being ferried across to the Cotton Belt Railway station here.

Searching parties, which were immediately sent out when the news reached here, have been unable to find any trace of the lost boat or its passengers.

The passengers were part of 135 who left a noon Cotton Belt train at Bird's Point, Mo., and were left without conveyance across the river because the railroad ferry man feared to risk his steamer in the ice and heavy fog.

Three boatmen were hired to carry the passengers to this side of the river. Two of them took five passengers each. Frank Jones, said to be an experienced boatman, permitted twelve to get in his boat.

Boatmen of the two lighter fares were about fifty yards ahead of Jones, when they heard shouts for help and, turning, saw Jones battling frantically with a monster floe, which was sweeping his craft beyond control. A heavy fog then hid him from view and nothing has since been heard of the ferryman or his passengers.

FIGHT BETWEEN FRENCH AND TRIBESMEN

ECUADOR A BAD PLACE FOR GENERALS

Five of Them Taken From a Penitentiary and Lynched
by a Mob.

Guayaquil, Ecuador, Jan. 28.—An infuriated mob to-day broke into the Quito Penitentiary in spite of a double guard and lynched Generals Eloy Alfaro, Flavio Alfaro, Medardo Alfaro, Ulpiano Paez and Manuel Serrano, all prominent revolutionists.

With the putting to death of General Eloy Alfaro, ex-president of Ecuador; his brother, General Flavio Alfaro, ex-Minister of War and commander-in-chief of the revolutionary forces; General Medardo Alfaro, who is believed to have been a brother of the two other Alfaros, and General Paez and Manuel Serrano, the leading lights in Ecuador's last revolution have been snuffed out. This revolution, although it had been a long time brewing, began in reality a few days after the sudden death on Dec. 22 last of President Emilio Estrada.

The first of the drastic measures taken by those who opposed the revolution were carried into effect last Thursday at Guayaquil, when General Pedro Montero, who was proclaimed president by the troops after the death of Estrada, was shot and beheaded by a mob which later burned his body.

The shooting of Montero took place in the court room where the general had just been tried by court martial and sentenced to sixteen years' imprisonment for his connection with the revolt. The people, evidently angered at what they considered a too light sentence, rushed into the court room and after riddling Montero's body with bullets, dragged it into the open. Then they decapitated it, built a bonfire and threw into the flames the torso and head of the man who once was a popular hero in Ecuador.

Eloy Alfaro and General Paez and Montero were captured Jan. 22 at Guayaquil, when government troops under General Leonidas Plaza forced the revolutionists who held Guayaquil to capitulate. Flavio Alfaro had been wounded in a battle a few days before the fall of Guayaquil. Medardo Alfaro was captured Jan. 25 as he arrived at Guayaquil on board a steamer with a body of rebel troops.

Eloy Alfaro was proclaimed President of Ecuador by the populace in January, 1906, after he had defeated the government troops at Quito. In October of the same year he was elected Provisional President by the National Convention and held the office of chief executive until 1911. In that year General Emilio Estrada ran for the office with Flavio Alfaro as an opponent, and was elected by a majority of over 100,000 votes. Flavio Alfaro then started a revolt and in it he was aided by President Alfaro. The charge was made that Eloy was trying to set up a dictatorship in Ecuador, and from the first the efforts to take away the presidency from Estrada met with reverses. Estrada's forces frequently were victorious and, with public opinion against the revolt, Eloy Alfaro resigned in August and later he and Flavio departed for Panama. Estrada was then inducted into office and retained the chief executiveship until his death last December.

The Alfaros and their followers had not been idle during Estrada's tenure of office, and there frequently came reports of their intention to start a revolution in Ecuador. When Estrada died, General Montero, a trusted lieutenant of the Alfaro's, had himself proclaimed president by the Radicals and the troops in Guayaquil. Montero at the time was commander-in-chief of the military in the Guayaquil district. He formed a provisional ministry and the new government signed an act to ignore the constitutional administration at Quito. It was said that Montero was to hold the presidency until the return of Flavio Alfaro from Panama and then turn over the reins of government to him. Flavio departed for Guayaquil almost immediately and was followed shortly by Eloy Alfaro.

Gen. Leonidas Plaza was the favored candidate for the presidency of the Quito government.

A PROMINENT PROMOTER ON POINT OF DEATH

Halifax, N. S., Jan. 28.—Hon. G. F. Pearson, K. C., proprietor of the Halifax Chronicle, who became seriously ill two months ago, has been very low to-day and the doctors do not expect him to live through the night. Mr. Pearson's disease is an affection of the kidney's and since he became ill life has been maintained only by heavy forced sweats, which to some extent did the work performed by these organs. Mr. Pearson was born in this province 56 years ago. He was one of the great industrial promoters in Canada. In 1893, in conjunction with H. M. Whitney, of Boston, and other American capitalists, he organized the Dominion Coal Company, followed six years later by the Dominion Iron and Steel Company. He promoted the Halifax Electric Tramway Company and assisted in the organization of almost a score of traction and power companies in the West Indies, and Mexico and South America. Until a year ago he was a member of the Nova Scotia government, but was defeated in the last provincial general election.

BIG BLAZE AT PITTSFIELD, MASS.

Three Buildings Destroyed —
Loss $250,000 — A Number of Firemen Hurt.

Pittsfield, Mass., Jan. 28.—Flames that raged for six hours during a frigid gale early today destroyed three buildings in the business section of this city, at a loss estimated at $250,000. The Academy of Music building, which contained the oldest play house in the city, the Miller building which adjoined it on North street, and a storage building in the rear, were the structures burned. The fire started about midnight in the rear of the Outlet Clothing store, which was on the first floor of the Academy building. The police regard the origin of the fire as suspicious, and State officer Thomas E. Bligh began an investigation.

A high wind with zero temperature hindered the firemen who worked for several hours encased in ice. One fireman, who had stood over a hose for a long time was frozen so severely that he could not move and was carried to a nearby hotel to be thawed out.

Five or six firemen were slightly injured by falling bricks. Policeman Patrick Colbert was cut in the leg and taken to the House of Mercy Hospital, but was later sent to his home.

FRANCO-ITALIAN TROUBLE SETTLED

Without Recourse to The Hague—Italy Will Release
Turkish Officers.

Paris, Jan. 28.—The Tavignano incident, involving the arrest by Italian torpedo boats of the small French steamer Tavignano, and her subsequent release, is expected to be settled without recourse to The Hague. In official circles the incident is held to be of quite minor importance, the arrangement of which will present no difficulty.

Before any steps can be taken, however, it will be necessary to establish where the seizure occurred. The captain of the Tavignano, in a telegram to the owners to-day, says that his vessel was captured in Tunisian waters, while the Italians are equally positive in the assertion that her capture took place outside of French waters.

A despatch from Cagliari says that the 29 Turks who were taken from the steamer Maouba by the Italians and later turned over to the custody of the French authorities, left there to-day for Marseilles aboard the packet St. Augustin. They were accompanied by the French vice-consul.

A FORTY THOUSAND DOLLAR FIRE IN MONTREAL

Montreal, Jan. 28.—Two alarms were turned in to-night for a blaze in the Royal Arms Laundry, 204 Papineau avenue, and threatened to spread to four or five manufacturing establishments and dwelling houses. The firemen succeeded in confining the flames to the laundry building, but the factories of the Scout Shoe Company, the Dominion Cocomat Butter Company and La Fabrique de Cigares Puarvana Company suffered damage from smoke and water. The loss on the laundry building is estimated at about $25,000, while the damage by smoke and water to the other concerns will bring the total loss up to between $35,000 and $40,000.

THE DORCHESTER COMPANY.

The contract between the city and the Dorchester Electric Company is now signed, and the indications are that in a few months hence the citizens will only be paying seven cents where they are now paying from twelve to fifteen per kilowatt hour. In these days of heavy taxation and the high cost of living generally, the announcement that the lighting rates are to be practically cut in half and that a better system of lighting will be installed, cannot fail to be appreciated to the full by the public of Quebec.

It is said that the company have the backing of eight millionaires. If this be so it is hard to understand why they are reticent about giving their names to the public, who certainly have the right to know more about the matter before the municipal elections come on. One would have thought that any concern that could boast eight millionaires among its backers, would not be very shy about "trotting" them out for the admiration of the "hoi polloi."

THE ALDERMANIC ELECTIONS.

Prospective candidates for the coming municipal elections are beginning to warm up for the fray, and there are great searchings of heart in the various city wards. As the number of aldermen will now be reduced by one-third, it is obvious that only the men of the highest character and attainments should be selected to fill these important posts.

There are, we believe, many great works to be done in Quebec in the immediate future which cannot fail to affect her destiny very materially. It may well be that the next two years will be the critical period in the history of the Ancient Capital, and, if our civic representatives are not alive to its needs and cannot seize the psychological moment when it comes, we shall all have occasion to rue the day and lament the fact that Quebec is still a back number.

These things being so, it is our opinion that every candidate for municipal honors should hasten to define in the most clear and emphatic terms his views on the great questions which are likely to be the issues in the coming struggle, so that the public may know whether it is justified in supporting him or not.

THE TORY AXE.

The more certain disgruntled Liberals howl over the dismissals of government employees the more encouragement do they give to the Conservatives to carry out these dismissals on a wholesale scale, on the principle that if they are going to be hanged some day in the remote future, they might just as well be hanged for a sheep as for a lamb.

As a matter of fact, there have not been anything like the same number of dismissals under the Borden government as there were made in 1896, when Laurier got into office. And it must be remembered that there are far more men in the employ of the government today than there were then. Hundreds felt the axe in 1896.

In the Department of Railways and Canals the Liberals made almost a clean sweep, beginning with the chief engineer and going on down the line to track-walkers. The St. John Standard, a few days ago, published almost a whole page of names that had been dismissed. The procedure followed by Hon. Frank Cochrane is that there must be an investigation before dismissal.

In the Post Office Department there have been less people "fired" than in 1896, though there are many more post offices.

Most of the dismissals in this neighborhood have been of temporary employees, many of whom were given work at election time. Before every election held during the Liberal regime the Grits always put on a large number of extra men, but dismissed them as soon as the elections were over. And everybody knows that the various public employees were threatened last fall that if they wanted to keep their job this winter they would have to vote for the Laurier horde. Men, who did not want to take any part in politics, were dragged into the firing line by Liberal candidates, and it is these latter that can be reproached for the present plight of certain of their tools.

Besides this, it becomes the party which turned out honest men to make room for election crooks and exploiters of the public domain to raise an outcry now when, as in certain cases, the men formerly dismissed are reinstated. Even at the present time, when the Laurier government has been repudiated and the Liberal press is howling out its jeremiads because an occasional Liberal is given his cone for offensive partisanship, some of the Liberal employees appear to be laboring under the delusion that they still own the country and do not hesitate to intrigue against the party from which they expect leniency. More than one case of such conspiracy has come to light during the past few months, and it looks as if some more of the conspirators will have to be brought to time pretty sharply if they expect the new government to retain them. We are not in favor of the abuse of the patronage system, but, if some Liberal office holders and employees do not know enough to "come in out of the wet," it is their own fault if they get "soaked."

WINSTON CHURCHILL AND BELFAST.

Liberal papers, who find that Ulster is in too serious a mood to be fooled by the political play-acting of the renegade, Winston Churchill, are now indulging in a deluge of disquisitions concerning "the priceless heritage of free speech," and are generally invoking heaven and earth as witnesses of this so-called stigma on twentieth century civilization, the attempt to prevent Churchill from trying to throw a match in the power magazine of Ulster Unionism.

But there is another side to the question. The Ulster Protestants believe, or profess to, that Home Rule will infringe the moral and economic rights of more than a million people. And in this connection the Belfast Telegraph puts the views of Ulster Unionism thus:

"Does freedom itself matter less than free speech? Is liberty to be trampled down, while its mere shadow—free speech—is to be regarded as sacred? Free speech is not a charter for the utilization of unbridled insolence, and the employment of dangerously provocative language. It has its strict limitations, and the politician can no more plead free speech as a justification for verbal violence and outrage than can the habitue of the police court when called upon to answer for language calculated to lead to a breach of the peace. Free speech is a great deal less than the right to say just what one pleases. Life—public and private—would be intolerable were such loose interpretation permitted. Relevant fact must be strictly considered in relation to free speech, and there are conceivable cases and circumstances in which the same individual should not, in the interests of public peace, be permitted to repeat himself in the same locality. Times, of great popular excitement, when public opinion and passion is stirred to its very depths, may even call for the temporary suspension of what is denominated free speech, in order that a grave danger may be averted. Free speech in the abstract is one thing; free speech in the concrete is a very different affair, and it is free speech in the concrete and in relation to public policy that must be considered here."

Apart from this, there is the question of Mr. Churchill's personality to be considered. The feeling against the man is far more bitter than against the movement. The Telegraph points out that there would be little objection to a Home Rule demonstration as such. Mr. Redmond has spoken upon the streets of Belfast on the subject. Noted Nationalists have frequently occupied the Ulster Hall, and so has Lloyd-George, while Mr. Birrell has, on several occasions, addressed gatherings in that city. But there was no outcry against them, no disturbance. Hostility against Churchill is no mere outbreak of religious intolerance and it is not the right of free speech that is impeached at all. The provocation is other than this. To Ulstermen the salient fact is that Winston Churchill is the son of a father whose name is revered wherever there is a North of Ireland Protestant. In the very hall where the son wished to attack the Protestants of Ulster and to eulogize a policy which he characterized as an "odious measure" before he left the Unionist party, an apostate for the sake of office—the father made his clarion call to Ulstermen to stand together and without using language of bigotry or intolerance, scored one of the most memorable triumphs of his career.

Now comes his politically degenerate son—who, a few years ago described the Liberal party as a "squalid, disorganized rabble," a party of "prigs, prudes and faddists," a "filthy, hideous toad"—and he seeks to do violence to the memory of his father in the very scene of that father's triumphs, and to give the lie to his own past political creed.

To make a comparison: What would the Nationalists and Liberals of Belfast say if, for example, Mr. Joseph Devlin turned his coat for the sake of accepting office under a Unionist regime and proposed to inveigh against Home Rule before a Unionist gathering, to outrage the memory of his father and to recant all his previous doctrines? Of if young Mr. Redmond went down to Dublin to do the same kind of thing?

Under the circumstances it seems evident that no worse choice of an instrument and no worse period and place could have been chosen than these to propound the Liberal proposals regarding Home Rule. Yet the Liberal organization refused to recognize the determination of the Ulster people. They wanted to secure an occasion and a meeting that could afterwards be pleaded on English platforms as a proof of Ulster's acquiescence in the Home Rule scheme. Mr. Churchill, with an eye for dramatic effect, saw a fine stage setting in making Belfast the theatre and its population the dramatic personae for a great political hit that would strike the popular imagination. He finds now that his people are in a mood for stage rehearsals, but are in grim earnest. No circumstance of provocation has been wanting. Vitriolic jibes and flouts and sneers about Ulster "bluff and bunkum" were flying broadcast by people so used to their own humbug and hypocrisy that they cannot credit serious purpose to anyone else. There were ceaseless taunts that Unionists would be found at the back-doors of an Irish Parliament and fighting each other for jobs.

Every accumulated insult that could be devised by malignant minds was utilized. Now that Churchill and others of his kidney have sown the wind and are likely to reap the whirlwind "free speech," forsooth, is invoked as the protector of free insult and provocation.

Interference with public meetings is generally to be deprecated but, surely, if respect upon the part of political opponents for such occasions is asked, then it involves equally upon the part of the promoters that they should refrain from studious and persistent provocative conduct and speech. Has this been done in the case of the proposed Churchill meeting? Have the Liberals not rather selected a time, place and man calculated to embitter to the utmost the feelings of those who have been taunted and baited to the limit of endurance? Should any unhappy consequences eventuate, the responsibility must inevitably rest upon those whose conduct can only be regarded as the originating cause.

Public notice is hereby given that, under the Quebec Mining Companies Act, letters patent have been issued by the Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of Quebec, bearing date the eighteenth day of September, 1911, incorporating Messrs. MONTREAL CLOSING LETTER.

Received over the private wire of McDougall & Cowans, stocks brokers, 81 St. Peter street.

Montreal, Jan. 27.—Effort was made to hit prices locally on the weakness in New York, but the success was only fractional, the selling in most cases being the floor traders. Detroit opened stronger and rallied a point, but stocks were supplied freely and after reacting to 57 3/4 closed showing a gain of 3/4 of a point. The market seems to be a purchase on any reaction but we would take small profits, as indications point to a trading market.

GOOD WORK
OF THE LADIES

Branch of the Lake Edward Sanitarium Heard Very Interesting Reports.

The third annual meeting of the Ladies' Branch Lake Edward Sanitarium Association was held in the Morrill College Hall, Jan. 26th, at eleven o'clock. Mrs. Turner presiding. Among those present were Mesdames J. T. Ross, Williams, G. H. Thomson, J. Brown, Colley, McCorkill, A. J. Turner, Huestis, C. C. Sewell, R. E. W. Turner, Messervy, Wiggins, J. Laurie, C. H. Shaw, F. G. Scott, Hinds, Webb, McLimont, Holt, Misses Bur-stall, Thomson, Carter, Leonard, Irvine, Boswell, Turner, Hon. R. Turner, Canon Scott, Rev. Mr. Burgett, Dr. Hubbard and Dr. Delaney.

In the absence of the Secretary, Mrs. Foy, a joint report was read by the Treasurer as follows: Ladies' Branch, Lake Edward Sanitarium Association. Secretary and Treasurer's joint report:—There is very little for either the Secretary or Treasurer to report this year. The work of the Sanitarium has been carried on with most gratifying results, as will be learned from the interesting account written for us by the doctor in charge. Our Committee has had only two meetings during the year, but we are now busy with a plan by which it is hoped to raise funds for the replenishing of the household effects of the Sanitarium.

kill, Colley, A. J. Turner, J. Brown, Wiggins, Messervy, Poston, Misses Boswell, Carter and Irvine.

Quebec, January 26th, 1912. Ladies and Gentlemen: It affords me pleasure, to give you a brief resume of the work done by the committee during the year.

The Ladies Branch has continued in their work of furnishing the Sanitarium, as their funds permitted, but now find so much is needed, that at a special committee meeting held on Jan. 22nd, it was thought advisable to suggest that a Donation Party be held February 7th, where those willing to help this good work, should be able to do so.

Different ladies have kindly offered to furnish the refreshments and a short musical programme arranged. The need is great and we would ask the present meeting to help all in their power. When we consider the noble work which is being done in fighting the great white plague, it brings the good work of the Sanitarium home to all of us, as we never can tell when some one near and dear to us may need its help.

I will ask Mr. Turner to read a report from Dr. Craig of the work the Sanitarium has done during the year.

EMILY TURNER, President Lake Edward Sanitarium. Annual meeting of the Ladies' Branch, Lake Edward Sanitarium Association, held at Morrill College Hall, Quebec, January 26th, 1912.

Madam President, and members of the Ladies' Committee of the Lake Edward Sanitarium Association: As you have again reached the close of your official year, it will be of interest to note what have been some of the results of your efforts, and what has been accomplished by the Sanitarium in the tuberculosis campaign. Since the opening of the institution in October, 1909, 72 cases have been treated with very gratifying results. Patients: Quebec city, 20; Montreal, 18; Quebec Province, 18; Ottawa, 8; Saskatchewan, 2; New Brunswick, 2; Nova Scotia, 1; Ontario, 1; British Columbia, 1; Manitoba, 1. Total, 72.

In order that these might be satisfactorily reported, I have divided them into five classes as follows: Class 1—Incipient and moderately advanced cases remaining in the Sanitarium two months or more: Incipient, 17; moderately advanced, 19. Total, 36.

Results of treatment: Apparent cure, 15; arrested, 16; improved, 4; unimproved, 1. Total, 36.

Class 2—Incipient and moderately advanced cases remaining in the Sanitarium less than two months: Incipient, 9; moderately advanced, 5. Total, 14.

Results of treatment: Apparently arrested, 8; improved, 5; unimproved, 1.

Sanitarium treatment of whom there were 7.

Class 5—Cases in the Sanitarium at present: Incipient, 4; moderately advanced, 6; advanced, 3. Total, 13.

Many of the cases have been able to resume their former occupations, and are living in comfort and happiness. The great difficulty frequently is to persuade the patient to remain for a sufficient length of time in the Sanitarium. Some of these cases, which I have had to report as arrested or improved, would no doubt, have been apparent cures, had they remained longer under treatment.

In Sanitarium work, one must consider the fact that ones efforts not only go to effect the patient personally, but are widespread among his relatives and associates and in the community in which he lives. In the first place a source of infection has been removed, which without proper education would most likely originate many other cases. Secondly, the patient has been given a chance to restore his physical condition, and become once more a useful individual. Thirdly, he goes out as a missionary to others to impress upon them the lessons he has learned and the importance of this great effort against tuberculosis. This Sanitarium is not only a means of physical improvement to the patient, but is as well an important educational source. The influence of your work in connection with the Lake Edward Sanitarium, is spreading, not only in this province, but to the east and west of us. It is well to remember then that the results of your efforts are not limited by the personnel of the patients themselves, but are being spread abroad to the general education and physical improvement of the public.

I have taken this opportunity of quoting to you some of the details of four of our patients that you might have an idea of the individual results which may be obtained by careful treatment in suitable cases.

We, at the Sanitarium, could ill afford to let this opportunity pass without our thanks to the Ladies' Committee for their many kindnesses and deep interest.

(Signed) D. A. CRAIG, Medical Supt. Sanitarium.

Case No. 1—A young lady was admitted to the Sanitarium in a very much run down condition. Her weight was only 116 pounds, and considering her build this was extremely low. She had, as well as considerable lung enlargement, with cough and expectoration containing tubercle bacilli, laryngeal trouble and could scarcely speak above a whisper.

This patient remained one hundred and fifteen days in the Sanitarium and left to continue the cure at a resort. On discharge, she had gained nineteen pounds in weight, her sputum and cough had disappeared and she could speak quite naturally.

This patient I pronounced as an arrested case. She may, provided proper precautions are carried out, become, in time, a cure.

Case No. 2—A young man came to the Sanitarium having had a brisk hemorrhage. He weighed only one hundred and thirty-four pounds having lost ten pounds in weight. While at the Sanitarium he had two hemorrhages, and considerable cough, and expectoration containing bacillae.

This patient was discharged after one hundred and eighty days treatment. On discharge his condition was as follows:—He weighed one hundred and sixty-three pounds, a gain of twenty-nine pounds, and had neither cough nor expectoration. His general condition was excellent and I feel sure of this man being a cure, provided he carries out the proper precautions.

Case No. 3—A young lady, admitted to the Sanitarium weighing one hundred and seventeen pounds. She had had a sharp hemorrhage and was thin, run down and anemic.

She was discharged after remaining one hundred and thirty-eight days in the Sanitarium, weighing one hundred and thirty-eight pounds, a gain of twenty-one pounds, and in splendid condition. All things considered I believe that this patient made better progress, and was in better condition on discharge than any other case I have ever treated. She has resumed her former occupation.

Note—From time to time I have heard from this patient. She has not lost, so far, any of the weight she gained and feels as well as the day she left the Sanitarium.

Case No. 4—A young man, clerk in an office was sent to the Sanitarium. He was of very large build, pale and anemic, he weighed one hundred and sixty pounds. He had a very troublesome cough with a large amount of expectoration containing many tubercle bacillae, as well as was running an afternoon temperature.

This patient remained one hundred and seventy-eight days in the Sanitarium. He gained seventeen pounds in weight, and had no cough or expectoration. His temperature never much above the normal mark. This man took the cure very faithfully and the results are shown in the progress he made. He has since resumed his occupation with short hours and has not gone back.

Hon. R. Turner after reading the report gave an interesting account of the work being done in the Sanitarium and giving particulars as to certain cases in which the treatment had been eminently satisfactory.

The present officers, Mrs. R. Turner, President; Mrs. J. T. Ross, Vice-President; Mrs. H. C. Foy, Secretary, and Mrs. J. H. Holt, Treasurer, were all re-elected by acclamation, and Mesdames Hinds, Webb, McLimont, Martin, J. Laurie and Miss Burstall were elected members of the Committee.

After some discussion about the arrangements for the Donation Party, to be held in aid of the Sanitarium on Feb. 7th, in the Morrill College Hall, the meeting adjourned. Subscriptions and donations received for the Sanitarium during the year: Mr. L. Samenhof, $100; Offertory from St. Mary's Chapel, Island of Orleans, $90; Mrs. J. T. Ross, balance of proceeds of sale, $38.49; Laides' Aid Society, Trinity Church, $18; a friend, $25; Lt.-Col. and Mrs. Turner, $10; Mrs. John Brown, $5; Mrs. C. H. Shaw, $3; Mrs. J. T. Ross, for paper napkins, $1.25; Miss Effie Turner, $1. Total, $301.74.

(Signed) Helen A. Holt, Treasurer.

Donations Easter, 1911:—Mrs. John Hamilton, plants; Mrs. R. Turner, plants; Mr. Miller, partridges; Hon. R. Turner, flowers and candy; John Martin, tongue.

Donations 1911:—Rev. E. Templeman, magazines; Mrs. R. Turner, books and flowers; Mrs. Al. Turner, strawberries, flowers and magazines; Mrs. J. T. Ross, pesas, flowers and gramophone records; Mr. J. T. Ross, launch; Hon. R. Turner, Canadian flag; Mr. L. Sullivan, gramophone records; from the patients, 17 gramophone records; Miss E. Crosby, books; Mrs. F. T. Weatherley, The Sketch; Mrs. J. T. Ross, raspberry canes; Mrs. Irvine, fur coat; Mrs. Sharples, cakes, candy, bed socks and books; Dr. Sullivan, Thanksgiving Hamper; Mrs. R. Turner, grapefruit and candy; from Toronto, box of books; John Martin, chickens; a lady, socks; Mrs. Wurtelle, woollen hel mets; Col. Lindsay, books.

Donations Christmas, 1911:—Mrs. R. Turner, hamper and decorations for tree; Dr. L. Lindsay, fancy paper table napkins and pudding chamer; Hon. R. Turner, decorations for Sanitarium, confectionery, hamper and flowers; Mrs. Boswell, barrel of apples; Mrs. J. T. Ross, a box of gifts for the household; Mrs. E. Sewell, Xmas gifts; Dr. and Mrs. Laurie, books; Mrs. Sharples, $5 for patients gifts; Miss Charlton, cakes and candy; Dr. Jos. Sullivan, Xmas hamper; Miss Turner, a card and remembrance to each of the household; John Martin, a box of apples and a turkey; Mrs. John Hamilton, fur coat and hood.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN
NORTHWEST LAND REGULATIONS

Any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years old, may homestead a quarter section of Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. The applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-agency for the district. Entry by proxy may be made to any agency, on certain conditions by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of intending homesteader.

Duties—Six months residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 20 acres solely owned and occupied by him or by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter section along side his homestead. Price $3.00 per acre.

Duties—Must reside upon and cultivate the pre-empted six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry including the time required to earn homestead patent and cultivate fifty acres extra.

Homesteader who has exhausted his homestead right and cannot obtain a pre-emption may enter for a purchase homestead in certain districts. Price $3.00 per acre.

Duties—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect a house worth $100.00.

QUEBEC DEFEATED BY CANADIENS

After a Fast and Most Closely Contested Match—Some Hard Checking.

Montreal, Que., Jan. 28.—Canadiens made their hold on the leadership of the National Hockey Association a trifle more sure last night by defeating the Quebec Club in one of the fastest and most closely contested games seen here this season, by five goals to three.

The Frenchmen were fortunate to come through the hour's play with a margin of two goals to their credit. In playing merit they were not noticeably superior to the blue shirts, who put up the best exhibition they have shown here this season. Indeed, in the last period of the contest, they actually outplayed the locals, and it was only by herculean efforts on the part of the Canadian defence that the lead was maintained. There was little, if any, foul checking, but within the rules the players went the limit, and while the defensive tactics used by either team were legitimate, they were extremely forceful and effective. One or two of the men wilted under the continuous hammering and showed signs of distress before the gong announced the conclusion of the struggle.

Almost as interesting a spectacle as that presented by the combined efforts of the two teams to score were the duels that were being fought at centre ice and on either wing. Here honors were fairly evenly divided, except in that which Oatman and Payan were engaged. These two never lost an opportunity to smother each other and as a result of the everlasting pounding into the boards or headlong tumbles coming from a well-directed body check, the Canadian winger was fly-the signals of distress in the last twenty, while the blonde haired boy from Quebec was traveling almost as fast as ever.

ART. ROSS SAVED THE WANDERERS

And Added Materially to the Defeat of the Ottawas—
People Cry Fake.

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 28.—Wanderers, outplaying the Ottawas in the second and third period, after being outclassed in the opening period, sprang the biggest surprise of a season of surprises at the Arena Saturday night, downing the Stanley Cup holders by 9 goals to 6, in a National Hockey Association fixture. Play was fairly fast throughout, with a lot of rough hockey thrown in by way of excitement, and the defeat of the champions came as a thunder clap, particularly in view of the easy manner in which they had accumulated a lead in the early stages and the rumors that were afloat concerning an alleged "frame-up" to allow Wanderers to win.

The result gave the game a decided setback in the capital and hundreds left the rink in the third period, under the impression that the Ottawas had played to lose. Such stories, however, were evidently absurd, for the game was a hard fought one and Wanderers surely deserved to win. They were way off color in the first period, but came back strong in the second and finished like real hockeyists. Art Ross's sensational work being chiefly responsible for their victory.

In the first period the Ottawas took two and Wanderers once. Kerr responding with a third for Ottawa and leaving it 3 to 1 when the teams crossed over.

In the second period Wanderers tied the score at 3 to 3, four to four, and they skated off with the score 5 to 5.

Shortly after the commencement of the third quarter, Ross scored on a spectacular rush from goal to goal, making it 6 to 5. He repeated on a 50-foot shot in two minutes, and the Ottawas, with ten minutes to play, pulled their defence down to the attack, Lake and Shore leaving Ross another opening. The big defence man suddenly shot away alone and cinched the game for the visitors by making it 8 to 5. Russell made it 9 to 5, and though Ottawa tried desperately they could not overcome the lead, Walsh getting a lucky goal with but a minute to play.

The shooting of the home team was wretched and Lesueur, in goal, gave the poorest exhibition that he has ever put up. Ross was the individual star of the game, with Russell a good second. Kerr and Shore were the only conspicuous members of the Ottawa team.

The Ottawas threatened to use Fred Taylor, but this time the gate receipts were their and Wanderers promptly put on the kibosh by refusing to go on the ice until Ottawa had promised to abide by the constitution. The same applied to Ottawa's threat to use seven men. Taylor consequently viewed the match from the fence.

The attendance was about 4,500, but the story that the clubs were "fixing" their games evidently caused a lot of feeling, and when one of Ross' long shots eluded Lesueur in the last quarter, many began to shout "fake." The ice was hard and fast.

CRESCENTS WON FROM LAVAL

Cup Holders Succumbed to Their Second Defeat in a Very Close Game.

By the close score of 3 to 2 the Crescents managed to nose out a victory from the Laval at the Rink on Saturday night, the cupholders going down to their second consecutive defeat. The game was a fast and exciting one, but the Crescents had it on the Laval for combination, and this combined with their very aggressive forward line, gave them the victory. The Crescents had the play for the larger part of the evening in Laval territory and although the latter made desperate attempts to break away were too closely watched.

The match started out at a fast pace, both sides missing chances that might have resulted in goals. Finally Joe Labrecque located the nets and scored first blood for the students. In the second period Crescents got two goals in succession, "Smash" O'Brien and G. Carey making the records. The Crescent lead was soon overhauled, however, for Joe Pouliot lodged the puck in the nets, making it two all the period ending with the game tied up. In the third period, both teams made desperate efforts to score, but Crescents had the best of the argument and J. Phillips scored the last and winning goal for the "Yellow, black and red."

The Crescent team was very evenly balanced, and played well together. Laval had a good team too, but their play was ragged. The defence had its work cut out for it, and Demers had the time of his life. DeLery and Gourdeau did good work, while the two Labrecques, Vallee and Pouliot worked hard.

Dion had some hot ones to stop, but managed to get away with most of them. He was well protected by Perry and Delaney. Carey was perhaps the most aggressive player on the ice, but O'Brien and the two Phillips were always in the limelight.

FIRE IN THE SEMINARY GROUNDS

Conservatory Was Badly Damaged by a Blaze Last Evening.

Great excitement was created in town last evening when shortly after 6 o'clock it was announced that a serious fire had broken out in the building of the Quebec Seminary. An alarm was rung in and the firemen hurried to the scene, when it was discovered that the fire had broken out in a conservatory in the grounds. The firemen, when they arrived, found smoke issuing from all parts of the building, but soon had the fire under control. Besides the smashing of glass, many valuable plants were ruined. The fire evidently took from an overheated furnace. The damage will amount to about $1,500.

DEATH OF WILLIAM J. DERBY.

Death came to William J. Derby at his residence, 1009 Harrison street, Thursday morning, January 11, after a short illness of three days of pneumonia. Mr. Derby came to Kansas City from Quebec, Canada, twenty-five years ago. In 1889 he established a plumbing business at 510 East Twelfth street, which place he still occupied when death claimed him. Honesty in business dealings, consideration for his neighbors, and always a charitable thought for the unfortunate, won for him the respect of all whom he met. In his last hours he was attended by Rev. Father Lyons, of St. Patrick's Church, who prepared him to meet his Saviour. The funeral was held Saturday morning from St. Patrick's Church, where Requiem high mass was sung by Very Rev. M. J. O'Reilly. Mr. Derby is survived by his wife, Isabella, two sons and two daughters, William J. and Robert Emmett, of 1009 Harrison street; Mrs. D. C. Oberlin, 4416 Forest Avenue; and Mrs. D. M. Pierce, 3812 Mercer Place; also three grandchildren, Esther, David and William Oberlin—Kansas City Journal.

LUNCHEON OF THE CANADIAN CLUB

There was a luncheon under the auspices of the Canadian Club at the Chateau Frontenac on Saturday afternoon last, when an interesting address was delivered by Mr. P. T. Magrath, of the International Waterways Commission.

Mr. Magrath's subject was "Stray Thoughts About Canada and the Empire." He described the richness of Canada and urged that the strictest care should be exercised in the class of people who were admitted within its borders. He thought that Canada must either remain a portion of the British Empire or become part of the United States. He advocated the holding of Imperial Conferences more frequently and considered that they did great good. With the possession of the great wealth of Canada will come the increased desire to become a citizen of the Dominion. The pride and pleasure in being a Canadian citizen will depend upon the wise manner in which the sieve is used upon its borders. The cementing together of the British dominions which encircle the globe is a magnificent task, he said, and in the best interests of humanity. The perpetuation of the Great British Empire stands for the interests and advancement of mankind.

MORE "GUESTS" COME FROM MONTREAL

Personally Conducted Party Reaches Ancient Capital En Route to View the Plains.

Fifty distinguished visitors to Quebec arrived from Montreal on Saturday afternoon, travelling over the Canadian Northern Railway. They were accompanied by a return of attendants, who paid particular attention to them en route. The attendants were dressed in blue, with handsome brass buttons, and conducted their party with great care to the palatial boarding house on the Battlefields Park which is conducted with so much success by His Majesty's Government. They were greeted on arrival by a large crowd of the curious, but the distinguished party bore the scrutiny with that self-possession which marks those who have often appeared in the public eye. It is understood that another personally conducted party of fifty will arrive to-day and will also take up their quarters at the palatial hotel on the Plains. Quebec has long been putting forward its claims as an ideal winter resort, and it will perhaps be a "real pleasure" to know that parties are coming here by the fifty to enjoy its bracing atmosphere.

It might be said, however, in passing that the "honor" of this visit is due to overcrowded state of the Montreal jail, and that the tourists in question are gentlemen who have adopted for a space by their country for their country's good. Quebec being a moral city, its jail is almost empty, while Montreal, whose morality, at least according to the newspapers, is not so high, cannot find accommodation for its charges. The prisoners seemed to take their trip to Quebec as a good joke, and seemed to be relieved to get away from Montreal, where the meals were poor and the accommodation most inconvenient. The city of Quebec will no doubt be equally pleased if the tourists when they are allowed to leave Quebec will be personally conducted back to Montreal. Quebec would like some sort of a measure as well as Canadian manufacturers, as it does not wish to be made a "dumping ground."

RECORDER'S COURT.

There were nine prisoners for simple drunkenness disposed of in the Recorder's court Saturday morning. Five of them were discharged, another was allowed to go on suspended sentence and three were fined $5 and costs of 15 days in jail each.

Librettos are sold in the entrance, not inside of the theatre.

FASHIONABLE WEDDING AT THE CATHEDRAL

A fashionable, as well as very pretty wedding, took place at the Cathedral of the Holy Trinity on Saturday morning, when Dr. Philip Holliday, formerly of this city, but now of Montreal, and Miss Ethel Andrews, daughter of the late Mr. F. H. Andrews, were united in the bonds of wedlock. The nuptial knot was tied by the Very Rev. Dean Williams, and the service was fully choral, Mr. E. A. Bishop presiding at the organ. The bride, who was given away by her uncle, Mr. J. Boyd Andrews, looked handsome in a costume of ivory white duchess satin, trimmed with rose point and embroidered with pearls. She wore the groom's gift, diamond and peridot earrings, with a necklace to match. She was attended by Miss Hilda Webster and Miss Mabel Billingsley, both of Montreal, who were gowned alike in pale blue satin, with overdress of marquisette and large black picture hats trimmed with plumes. They also wore the groom's gifts, nugget necklaces, and carried meteor roses. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold cuff link, and to the ushers ruby stick pins. The groom was attended by Mr. Colir Holliday, and the ushers were Dr. Colin Ross of Montreal and Mr. F. H. Andrews, brother of the bride. After the ceremony there was a wedding breakfast at the residence of the bride's mother, the happy couple subsequently leaving on a honeymoon trip to New York and Philadelphia, followed by the best wishes of their large circle of friends in Quebec.

"THERE'S A REASON"

SIX YOUNG MEN CAPTURED

Brought Back From Montreal, Where They Were Taken Into Custody.

Six young men, several of whom belong to most respectable families in St. Roch's, skipped out of town on Friday last, each taking good care to commit a robbery from his parents before leaving town. The young thieves were apparently tired of their native city and intended seeing more of the world, but did not even get a chance to visit Montreal, as Chief Trudel had notified the police authorities of that city and they were arrested on the arrival of the I. C. R. train, on Friday evening last.

Detectives Sylvain and Patry, Constable Bernard of the Provincial Police and Constable Lacasse, of the city police, left for Montreal on Saturday afternoon and returned yesterday morning with the prisoners, who were lodged in jail.

CONTRACT SIGNED WITH DORCHESTER CO

Work Will Be at Once Begun Upon the New Electric System.

The agreement between the Dorchester Electric Company, who recently obtained the contract for the lighting of the city, has been signed by the representatives of the company and the City of Quebec, and everything now points to a successful carrying out of the enterprise. It is stated that work will at once be started by the Dorchester Company, and that everything will be in readiness for the assumption of the contract when the time comes to take it over from the Q. R. L. H. & P. Co., the present contractors. It is understood that the Dorchester Company has the backing of a number of leading Canadian financiers, and that nothing will be left undone to push the undertaking to a speedy and successful conclusion.

ARRIVAL MONTREAL GRAND OPERA CO.

Organization Reached Town Yesterday Afternoon by Special Train Over C.P.R.

The Montreal Grand Opera Company, which opens a week's engagement in Quebec this evening, arrived in town by special train over the C. P. R. yesterday afternoon at 3.45 o'clock. The special train was made up of four baggage and scenery cars, two passenger coaches and two Pullman coaches. Upon arrival, the company took up quarters in various hotels, the principals being quartered at the Chateau Frontenac.

Last evening Mr. C. O. Lamontagne, business manager of the company, met a number of representatives of the local press, to whom he gave some very interesting facts concerning the great organization. The company is 135 strong. There is an orchestra of 40, with two conductors, and a chorus of 45. There are 25 principals. From Quebec, the company goes to Montreal for an extra week, then to Toronto for two weeks, bringing the season to a close in Ottawa, where the company disbands after a week's performance.

Mr. Lamontagne spoke in enthusiastic terms of the opera season, which he declared had been a real artistic success, and which promised even greater things for next season. He spoke of the enormous amount of money which it took to run the opera, nearly $175,000 having been already paid out this season. The artists' trip alone from Europe cost $4,000. He described in glowing terms the devotion of Col. Meighan to the project and the time, energy and money which he had spent upon it.

Col. Meighan arrived with the company yesterday and will supervise the production of the different operas in Quebec. Owing to a serious accident to Mr. Clerk Jeannette, the general director of the company, who met with a serious accident on Saturday, when a taxicab, in which he was riding, collided with a street car in Montreal, being confined to his home with a broken rib, and Col. Meighan at once stepped into the breach, and will direct the productions here.

Mr. Lamontagne announced a couple of changes in the Quebec programme. To-night, M. Daryal will sing the role of "Faust," instead of Mr. Sterling. In "Madame Chrysanthemum," Mme. Beatrice La Palme will appear in the title role.

Correspondence

Editor of the Chronicle.

Dear Sir: Having noticed in the papers that the Government is requested to send the steamer Montcalm from Gaspe to Newfoundland in February, I wish to state that it would be a good plan owing to the severity of the weather since the 12th of January, and heavy ice coming from the north and the River St. Lawrence, the gulf is quite well packed, and if the steamer can navigate now there will be no trouble at any time. Up to the 8th January our bay was clear to here.
Now it is frozen out quite a distance.
As the movement of the ice in this part of the gulf is comparatively slow and not piled up as are the Northumberland Straits, the Montcalm should work through at any time. It seems to me that a steamer of the Stanley type would be much better in the ice
down here.

CHILDREN'S BRANCH

OF THE S.P.C.A.

The Women's Branch of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals have formed a children's branch, such as is known in England and the United States. To become members the children pledge themselves to be kind to all animals and wear a small button on which is a horse's head and the lettering S.P.C.A.
Juvenile. The committee intend visiting both English and French schools to initiate the children, after the work has been previously explained to them. The society feels that much can be done towards making a kinder and more animal-loving future generation, by bringing this most necessary work to the notice of the present
rising generation, and hopes that parents will use their influence with their children to make the membership of the Band of Mercy a large and enthusiastic one.

ICE-BRIDGE WAS NEAR YESTERDAY

But Moved Off on the High Tide—Steamer Montcalm Is Temporarily Disabled.

For a time yesterday Quebec was threatened with an ice bridge. Owing to the severe cold spell the ice has been making rapidly and yesterday it remained stationary for a time, but moved away on the high tide.

Meanwhile the ice-breaker Montcalm is temporarily laid up, having lost one of the blades of her propeller while at work at the ice above. Another blade is loose. Nothing can be done with the Montcalm until February 2, when the high tide will enable her to be placed on the grid iron.
The blades of her propeller will then be replaced with her regular winter ones.

ADDRESS TO H.R.H.
DUKE OF CONNAUGHT

From the Association of Canadian Clubs and Governor-General's Reply.

Ottawa, Jan. 28.—On his return
from New York Saturday His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught, Governor-General of Canada, was waited upon by a deputation from the Association of Canadian Clubs, composed of Messrs Charles R. McCullough, Honorary President, W. C.
Carter, President, and Amos O'Brien, Hon. Secretary, and presented with a formal address of welcome. When His Royal Highness arrived in Canada the Association sent him a despatch containing hearty words of welcome, and only wanted a fitting opportunity of extending to him a formal greeting. Saturday being the anniversary of the first notification to Canadians of His Royal Highness's appointment as Governor-General was chosen as a fitting time.

The address referred to the assistance given them by Earl Grey and expressed as follows:

"We beg to express the hope that the work being done by Canadian Clubs generally may interest Your Royal Highness, and that the Women's Canadian Clubs, in particular,
may interest Her Royal Highness,
the Duchess of Connaught. As vehicles for the expression of opinion and the dissemination of information the clubs are, we think, performing a real service in conserving and developing a well balanced national and imperial spirit. And, too, as providing a common meeting ground for Canadians of different political and denominational affiliations these organizations are doing not a little to promote not only a spirit of toleration amongst us, but of mutual trust and good will."

In reply His Royal Highness said:
"Gentlemen, I desire first of all to tender my very best thanks for the friendly expressions of goodwill towards myself and the Duchess which you have just read.

"Before I came to Canada I had heard much of the work of the Canadian Clubs, and not many days ago I had the pleasure of being present in person at one of the meetings of the Ottawa branch.

"I can assure you of my great appreciation of the broad-minded, businesslike method which evidences itself
in the provision of a meeting ground which is common to people whose views on matters religious, political and social, are often widely divergent.
"By thus bringing them together
you are helping them to know one another, and such mutual knowledge will

CASCARETS FOR A SICK, SOUR STOMACH

Gently but thoroughly cleanse and regulate your Stomach, Liver and Bowels while you sleep.

That awful sourness, belching of acid and foul gases; that pain in the pit of the stomach, the heartburn, nervousness, nausea, bloating after eating, feeling of fullness, dizziness and sick headache, means indigestion;
a disordered stomach, which cannot be regulated until you remove the cause. It isn't your stomach's fault.
Your stomach is as good as any.

Try Cascarets; they cure indigestion, because they immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile
from the liver and carry off the decomposed waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels. Then your stomach trouble is ended forever. A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your entire family feeling good for months.
Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

ULSTER IS THE
STORM CENTRE

In the United Kingdom—England and Scotland Pay Little Attention to Home Rule

London, Jan. 28.—Ulster is now the political storm centre of the United Kingdom. Home Rule has been discussed in England and Scotland by Nationalists and Unionists, but no great enthusiasm has been aroused either for or against. In Ireland, outside of Ulster, the people are firmly convinced they are to have Home Rule. Ulsterites, however, are up to their eyes in fight. Several big demonstrations have been held in various parts of Ulster to protest against any change in the form of government of the country. One of the demonstrations in Belfast was of the industrial workers; another in Omagh was largely made up of farmers, small holders and farm laborers, who showed just as strong opposition to Home Rule as did their city brothers. In the latter place again the Ulsterites pledged themselves to form a provisional government if the bill is passed.

Every voter in Ulster, however, is not a Unionist. There is, in fact, a fairly large sprinkling of Nationalists.
In many cases the Unionist members were only returned in the last elections by narrow majorities, the Marquis of Hamilton, for instance, winning by only 100 votes in Londonderry. One division of Belfast itself is represented by Joseph Devlin, one of the Nationalist leaders.

Into this district, the battle ground
of Home Rule for the present at least,
the Government and Nationalists are to carry their banner. Winston Spencer Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, is to be spokesman of the Government for Home Rule and he is to be accompanied by John E. Redmond, the Irish Nationalist leader, and other Irish politicians. The date selected for the meeting is Feb. 8, and Unionists and Nationalists of Belfast are predicting a lively night, no matter where the meeting is held.
Elaborate police precautions will be taken for the protection of Mr. Winston Churchill. Should he be joined by Mr. Redmond in the drive from the residence of Lord Pirrie, where he is to be a guest, to the place of meeting, with Mr. Redmond's usual escort of Nationalists, there is almost certain to be rioting.

Except for a visit of Lloyd-George,
Chancellor of the Exchequer, in 1906,
and another by Mr. Birrell, Chief Secretary for Ireland, in 1907, no Liberal statesman had spoken in Belfast in eighteen years, and when Mr. Churchill and Mr. Redmond appear it will be the first time a Liberal Cabinet Minister and the Nationalist leader have spoken from the same platform in the city.

The Unionists are organizing a counter demonstration, but the First Lord of the Admiralty, in advocating a policy which his father with equal vehemence denounced, will be the center of attraction. It will be an interesting moment in the interesting life of Mr. Churchill.

Andrew Bonar Law, the Unionist leader, will go to Belfast on Easter
Tuesday, April 9, to reply to Mr.
Churchill, and there will be another demonstration so that Belfast has a lively time ahead.

The announced determination to fight, rather than accept Home Rule, is taking the form of organization in Ulster. One reads, in the Unionist papers, of the appointment of drill masters to instruct the members of the 3,400 Orange lodges in the use of arms, and William Moore, member of Parliament, has taken the lead in offering the use of land for drilling purposes and announcing that, as a justice of the peace, he would give permission to drill. Under the Bill of Rights, he declared, Protestants could not be prevented from carrying arms,
and drilling could be carried on under licenses from two justices.

The Irish Unionists have taken the old City Hall, Belfast, for their headquarters and they say this will be the home of the provisional Government should Home Rule become an accomplished fact. The next Unionist demonstration will be held in Belfast on Feb. 1. It is being organized by the Presbyterians of Ireland and it promises to be even more largely attended than its predecessors. Invitations have been accepted by leading Presbyterians from all parts of the country for a convention on that date,
and here the formal protest against the bill will be made. Meetings also will be held in different points in the city at the same time.

The objections of Ulster have been set forth by the Rt. Hon. Thomas Sinclair, one of the leading merchants of Belfast, a former Liberal who left that party upon the introduction of Mr. Gladstone's first Home Rule bill in 1886, and has since been leader of the anti-Home Rulers. There are many objections to the measure, he said, but among the chief of them is that it would lessen the status of the citizenship of Ulstermen. Under the Union they had the same civic status as a resident of England, the same control of local affairs, the same representation in Parliament and enjoyed the benefits of its legislation. To deprive them of this would be an unwarrantable degradation of their citizenship, especially as their forefathers were sent to Ulster 300 years ago by the state for the purpose of assisting to hold by their harbors of industry and their loyalty, Ireland for the British nation.

There was no doubt, too, he added,
that civil strife and disorder would follow the establishment of Home Rule and would plunge the manufacturers and commerce into serious disaster. The same result would be produced by the insolvency of a Home
Rule Government, for the resources

MASS MEETING OF
SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Interesting Series of Provincial Meetings. Inaugurated at Y. M. C. A.

The annual convention of the Quebec City Branch of the Quebec Provincial Sunday School Union has begun yesterday afternoon at a mass meeting of the various Sunday Schools, composing the union, which was held in the Y. M. C. A. Hall. The attendance was very good. The Rev.
E. T. Capel of Montreal, general secretary, conducted a model Sunday School service, using yesterday's International Sunday School lesson.
Luke 2, 22-29. "The Presentation in the Temple," and "Jesus, the Light of the World." Mr. Capel forced home some very practical lessons and held the closest attention of all present throughout. A number of the city clergy also participated in the service. The convention will continue today and tomorrow, sessions being held both afternoon and evening, at 3
p. m. and 7.45 p. m. Subjects of deep interest will be discussed and a most profitable time is anticipated. The public are cordially invited to all the meetings.

of Ireland would fall several million below the sum necessary to run the government, and it was scarcely conceivable that England would make up the deficiency.

Then there was the religious aspect of the case. Ulster Unionists consider any safeguards against national injustice would not be worth the paper
they were written on. Unionist legislation, Sir Thomas continued, had advanced the prosperity of Ireland by leaps and bounds as evidenced by the trade figures, which reached, in exports and imports in 1910 the sum of $650,000,000.
