City In Darkness; Westmount Power Off Four Hours

The second electrical power blackout in as many nights settled over Westmount early Wednesday when a short circuit knocked out several transformers and power was cut for four hours while repairs were made.

The trouble, occurring in the Glen road power house, was caused when electrical engineers were switching power from one circuit to another. The blackout came without warning, power house officials said. It cut off electricity throughout the city between 12.45 and 4.50 a.m.

Power was cut deliberately Monday night while work was being done on the new hydro sub-station on Olivier Avenue.

Rene Therrien at Hydro-Quebec in Montreal said one Montreal circuit was put out of commission by the trouble in Westmount, but it was quickly turned off and no power cut was necessary. Westmount buys its electric power from Hydro-Quebec, he said, but the suburban city has its own distributing centre and so the trouble was localized.

Every private home in Westmount was affected by the power cut. The Montreal Tramways did not suffer, however, as it has an independent source of power. Travellers in the area during the blackout said the lights from the trams and passing automobiles were the only illumination.

Westmount City Hall authorities said later the trouble at the power house had not been completely repaired but that further blackouts would not likely be necessary.

School Holiday Dates Announced

Westmount Protestant Schools will close for Christmas holidays on Friday, December 22nd, and will re-open on Wednesday, January 3rd.

In the case of the Catholic Schools, St. Paul's and St. Leo's academies, the graduates and undergraduates go on vacation today, but the children in grade school classes have to wait until next Saturday, December 23rd.

The reason for the two dates is that the older students may take on some remunerative work during the holiday rush.

The Catholic Schools will re-open on Monday, January 8th.

Fines Levied In Gambling House Case

Louis Magid, of 3007A St. Antoine Street, Westmount, pleaded guilty to operating a gambling house on his premises and was fined $190 plus $10 costs by Recorder C. A. Hale of the Westmount Recorder's Court.

The defendant, who pleaded not guilty through Counsel last week, changed his plea together with six foundings of the establishment at the time of the raid, carried out by the Westmount Police Department.

The foundings were fined $25 and costs of $4.20 each for the offence.

Westmount Women Entertain Underprivileged Kids

The Westmount Women's Club entertained over 350 children on Friday afternoon in Victoria Hall at a Christmas party replete with a real Santa Claus and 12 live clowns. Each child received a gift and was stuffed with goodies. Co-chairmen for the afternoon were Mrs. Will Harrison and Mrs. J. Gordon Birnie. The clowns were 12 girl volunteers from grade eight in Westmount Junior High School. Pat Marrazza made a great hit with the children with his music box. Pictured above, left to right, are Heather Birnie, Mary Holt, Margery Klein and Joan Bovyer. Mrs. Will Harrison is seen on the right at the back.

Olivier Avenue Sub-station Opening Delayed

Plans for the opening of the new Olivier Avenue Sub-Station in Westmount, were temporarily disbanded Tuesday night, when the City was plunged into darkness for four hours as a result of a flashover in the Glen Road Power Station.

Personnel working at the sub-station were rushed to the Glen Road station when the flashover occurred, causing several switches to be burned out.

As a result, the power had to be turned off for approximately four hours, from 12.45 to 4.50 a.m. Wednesday morning, while the temporary repairs were being completed.

A spokesman for the City said he did not know just when the new sub-station would be opened due to the breakdown in the Glen Road station. Originally scheduled for official opening on Wednesday, it is expected to take place soon.

The spokesman also pointed out that the flashover was not due in any way to the work being completed on the new sub-station, but that the delay in opening is due to the shifting of the personnel to handle the breakdown at Glen Road.

LIBRARY CLOSED

The Westmount Public Library will be closed all day Saturday, December 23, and all day Saturday, December 30.

Westmount High Glee Club To Sing Tuesday

The Westmount High School Glee Club under the baton of Gifford Mitchell, B.A., Mus. Bac., Director of Music for Westmount Schools will give their annual "Spirit of Christmas" concert on Tuesday, December 19, at 8.30 p.m., in the auditorium of the Westmount Junior High School, Academy Road.

Those who heard the Glee Club perform at the recent meeting of the Municipal Association will be anxious to have another opportunity of listening to this fine choral group of 100 voices.

They will also give two performances during the Christmas season on Station CJAD.

Closing Day Show At Westm't High

Westmount High School classes will each put on some sort of show or skit on closing day, Friday, December 22.

These Christmas closing day shows have proved to be very amusing and a great deal of effort is put into the staging of them by the respective classes.

A prize is awarded to the winning class with consolation prizes going to the next two or three in line for honours.

The show will be staged in the school gymnasium and providing there is any room left after the students have been seated may be attended by the public although it is doubtful whether many can be accommodated.

The program on Tuesday night will open with a Carol in which the audience will participate and which Mr. Mitchell says will get them in the right mood.

The next offering by the choir is a selection of three songs: Nazareth by Charles Gounod; Negro Jubilee, "Go Tell It in the Mountain"; and Franz Schubert's "They Sang That Night in Bethlehem."

Following this the audience will be asked to sing "Good King Wenceslas."

Something rather unique will be attempted by the group in "The Story of the Jewish Feast of Lights" and "The Christian Festival of Christmas." These will be told in story and song form titled "December a Joyous Month for All."

"Twas the Night Before Christmas" joined in by the audience will close the first half of the program.

The second half of the evening's entertainment will open with a

Prof. J. Moore Speaks At First Parent Meeting

The first parents' meeting of the year at St. George's School, on Monday evening, was addressed by Professor J. O. Moore, Director of the School of Social Work, McGill University. His subject was How Modern Education Meets the Whole Needs of the Child.

Education today, he stated, rests on the concept of the person as a whole. It is coexistent with life and operates from the cradle to the grave. Education requires organized and cooperative effort on the part of all major social institutions, with the school being assigned a well-defined and important role. Particular cognizance must be taken of the culture and the community.

"The school which expresses the best in modern educational practice," he said, "incorporates much from progressive education, but goes beyond the progressive school. The curriculum is based upon the requirements of the child at various stages of development and the needs of the adult world, as the child is ready to grapple with them."

A recent poll of several hundred Montreal High School students, he stated, revealed the following problems to be of primary concern:— (1) Difficulties within myself; (2) Finding a satisfactory relationship with the opposite sex; (3) Acquisition of a college education; (4) Choosing a career; (5) How to solve the social conflicts of today, especially the possibility of war, and the destructive use of the atomic bomb.

"These problems, together with that of finding socially useful work through which the child (especially the adolescent) can contribute to society, and helping young people develop inner control to replace the external ones thrown off by society—these deserve a place of particular importance in today's curriculum," he said.

Prof. Moore concluded by emphasizing that modern education assumes that at the apex of all values are human values, and that if the primary function of education is recognized and education given its proper status in society, we shall undertake the task of training teachers and financing educational enterprises on a much more realistic basis.

After the formal lecture was concluded Prof. Moore dealt with the questions of parents from the floor, involving not only general educational problems, but specific matters affecting various age levels.

Young Baptists Hold Special Christmas Event

In connection with the Christmas season, the Westmount Baptist Church Young People held a special meeting last night.

Vice-president, Jean Greig, led the group in a special Christmas program. Carol singing, reading of Christmas stories, solos and two main stories, "The Littlest Angel" and "Why the Chimes Rang" were all included in the event. Finally a Christmas thought and a special Christmas prayer concluded the evening.

The meeting of next Thursday will be entirely devoted to the singing of Christmas carols.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

Physical Department
Swimming Meet: The Montreal Y.M.C.A. Inter-City Swim Meet will be held this evening at the Westmount "Y" pool starting at 7.30. Coach Gilbert Young's team at the Westmount Branch has been working out regularly for the past few weeks, in preparation for their first big test under competition. All competitors are asked to be on hand no later than 7.00 p.m. Parents and friends of those participating are welcomed.

Boys' Gym Classes: Last Tuesday saw the Intermediate Boys undergoing extensive physical tests at the "Y" gym, in an effort to declare the most agile members of the class. After the results were tabulated, a three-way tie for the first place resulted — the honors going to Hugh Barclay, John Black and Lloyd Kishino.

Fencing Club: Due to the increase in members of Coach Roland Asselin's Fencing Club, a change of meeting place or a change in the nights of meeting are being discussed. Because of this, don't miss your classes between now and the holiday season.

Gymnastic Club: The Westmount "Y" Gymnastic Club, fresh from their inspiring get-together with all the other "Y" gymnastic clubs last week, has buckled down to a more rigid program of training. They have emphasized the fact again, however, that all people interested in gymnastics, whether they have had experience or not, are very welcome and will receive maximum instruction in the friendly, informal atmosphere in which the Club works out. The next City-wide get-together is planned for the N.D.G. "Y" in January, the following one is scheduled for Central "Y" in February, which will be in the form of a City-wide "Y" competition. From this meet, the different teams will be chosen to represent the Y.M.C.A. in the Provincial Gymnastic Meet, to be held in Montreal in March.

Badminton Club: The badminton club has issued another invitation to adult residents of the community to join the club. For further information, call the "Y" at EL. 1106.

Basketball House League: The Saturday afternoon Hit-or-Miss Basketball House League is now underway. If you are interested in playing the occasional game of basketball, be at the "Y" no later than 1.30 p.m. Saturday afternoons. This is open to all senior members. Come out and have the "Point" Race explained.

Business Girls' Swimming Instruction: A class is being organized for instruction, starting Friday, January 12. All business girls who are interested in beginner and advanced swimming instruction are asked to contact the Physical Director about this class.

Young Adult Section
Residence Supper Club: At the regular weekly meeting of the Residence Club, held recently, final plans were drafted for their Christmas party held last evening. Approval was given to assist in the "Hanging of the Green" at the "Y" and the loan of manpower to help the School for the Blind sell their Christmas trees on December 16 at the Cote des Neiges Armoury. Last evening's program featured the exchange of gifts, plus a presentation to Mrs. Mays, who is referred to by the boys as "Aunt Tillie" for her continued interest and many courtesies as the residence matron. The evening was closed with a movie. Due to Christmas vacations, the next supper meeting will be on January 14.

Square Dance Christmas Party: This Tuesday, December 19, will be the annual Christmas Party of the Square Dance Club. All are welcome to join in the fun, followed by refreshments. First square starts at 8.30 p.m.

December Dance Gay Social Event: Last Friday evening at the Westmount Y.M.C.A. the Young Adults annual Christmas Party was held. The Assembly Hall was artistically decorated in the Christmas motive. During the evening all types of dancing, from South American to square dancing was enjoyed by the large gathering. Prizes for novelty dances were won by Jay Conn, Marg Houston, Don Morrow and Sylvia Grant. Two door prizes were presented

Christmas Trees To Help Blind

Blind twins Suzan and Sandra Champagne play among the Christmas trees which may give them back their sight. These trees will be sold in this city by the Montreal Association of the Blind this Christmas, with all proceeds going to further the work done by this Association to alleviate the terrors of blindness.

Mayor Cameron Heads Blind Xmas Tree Sale

Mayor J. S. Cameron of Westmount, last night promptly at 8.00 p.m. turned on the lights on a huge Christmas tree in a dedication ceremony at Atwater Park.

The ceremony inaugurated the campaign by the Montreal Association for the Blind in their effort to sell Christmas trees in order to raise funds for the association.

Mayor Cameron is general chairman of the campaign.

The largest display of Christmas trees ever exhibited in Canada has been set up at the School for the Blind, 7000 Sherbrooke street, west as a preliminary event in the campaign to sell 40,000 trees today and tomorrow.

Fifteen hundred volunteers drawn from a large number of church and service club groups will handle the sale of trees which range in size from three to fifteen feet. They will be priced from $1 to $3 depending upon the size and shape and the proceeds will go to various activities in aid of the blind.

It is thought that the depot at Atwater Park which is centrally located will focus attention on the campaign.

When the sale opened this morning at 8 a.m. some 300 Boy Scouts were on duty keeping the sales racks stocked with trees of the proper size. The residents of the Home for the Aged and Homeless Blind have threaded shipping tags for the trees.

Arrangements have been made to deliver the trees locally for a small additional charge, so that no inconvenience will be experienced by buyers in getting the trees to their homes.

Pottery Exhibits At Library Now

The Westmount Public Library is holding a small exhibition of pottery from December 11th to 19th, made by the students of the Westmount Junior High School. The exhibit represents the work done by only a few of these students who have spent much time and effort in their after-school activities group, under the direction of Miss Hazel Bryan.

The work of the students shows considerable talent and a distinct feeling for form. The following grade seven students have exhibits: Barbara Byers, Venetia Elliot, Barbara MacLean, Diane Paterson, Christine Bulmer, Susie Beck, Marcia Carsley, Harriet Miller, Naomi Anderson, Jill Barclay, Sandra Downes. Grade eight students are: Elizabeth Sadler, Marilyn Ross, Mary Holt, Joan Saunders, Barbara Kerr, Diana Johnson and Marcia Crombie.

Food Processing Costs High Prof. Burton Tells Rotary

If ways and means could be found to cut down the cost of food processing, the consumer might benefit by reduced prices, Professor G. L. Burton of MacDonald College, told members of the Westmount Rotary Club at its luncheon meeting, Wednesday.

The speaker claimed that while a number of devices and experiments are being made to help grow foodstuffs on the farms at a greater efficiency, such was not the case with the work being accomplished in providing greater and more economical ways of processing the food once it is sold by the farmer.

Dr. Burton suggested that a reduction in the processing and marketing of the various foods, would not necessarily mean less profit for the retailers, since a greater volume of sales could be expected.

The speaker, who was introduced by Bill Tawse, pointed out that despite the lack of efficiency in Canadian processing and distributing standards, Canadians did enjoy one of the finest standards of living as far as food is concerned.

He claimed that more than two-thirds of the people — two and one half billion people — of the world receive less than 2200 calories a day, while the average Canadian's diet is 3300 calories per day. "This," he said, "constitutes a good full meal."

Dr. Burton claimed that the United States has done some valuable research in the processing of food, and claimed that while Canada should and probably would not carry out a plan or research on the same scale, some research could be successfully made.

He expressed the hope that this would be carried out, "to understand the marketing problems" and claimed that the recent signs by the Agricultural Institute of Canada, made the future hopeful in this respect.

The speaker was thanked by Albert Boire. Frank Kenwood presided.

Many Questions Asked At Municipal Meeting

Some of the questions and answers given at the annual meeting of the Westmount Municipal Association the proceedings of which were reported in our last issue are reproduced for the information of those citizens who were unable to attend the meeting.

Regarding the proposal to establish a lending library for better gramophone records to be handled by the civic library, it was stated, that the scheme had been found impractical, reasons given being that there is not sufficient available space in the library building, the staff is now too busy to be able to take on the additional work, and thirdly it would entail an additional annual cost of approximately $2,000.

To the question of whether an active program of smoke abatement was being followed by the city, — Mayor Cameron replied to the effect, that the matter is being studied and that a delegation had met with the C.N.R. and C.P.R. in Ottawa. The delegation was well received and was told that the two railways were constantly replacing coal driven engines with diesels which would eventually eliminate the smoke nuisance near the tracks. According to readings taken on the smoke meters the smoke in Westmount was less impressive.

To the question of why the snow removal was not carried out more efficiently, — Mayor Cameron stated that snow removal was purely a question of how much the city was willing to spend, and he personally thought that a reasonably good job was being done. The Mayor added that he believed that a better job was being done now than in previous years. Last year he said, $39,000 had been spent on roughing walks and roads. $24,000 had been expended in sweeping up snow and roughing materials. The snowfall last year was 90 ins., in 1947 115 ins., and 61 ins. in 1948, Mayor Cameron revealed. It is not the depth or amount of snow that counts the mayor added, but rather the kind of snow such as that which fell on Monday night of last week. Last winter 5,600 tons of roughing had been used. Rain sometimes called for a second roughing job.

One complaint received, dealt with the snowplows piling up a ridge of snow in garage driveways after the resident has laboriously cleared it to the street, which necessitates more spade work. Mayor Cameron replied that with only about five or six gangs at work it was impossible for them to stop to clean out the thousands of driveways. While there was a permanent force it was also necessary to hire casual help and trucks, at so much an hour, which was quite costly, the mayor said. Costs had to be kept down, if taxes were also to be kept under.

To a complaint regarding the poor service of No. 14 and No. 65 tramcars, following a statement by a resident that he had waited 20 minutes for a No. 14 car on the boulevard one morning that week in very cold weather, it was stated that the Monereal Tramways had been asked repeatedly to improve the service.

There was no answer available as to why house numbers on Cote St. Antoine road differed from numbers on Sherbrooke street.

Something will be done about the dangerously sharp curve at Victoria avenue and the Boulevard. Mr. Fenwick stated that he had witnessed an accident recently at that particular spot and that he agreed that it was bad.

A complaint that has been aired before again came up in regard to shrubbery trimmings which the garbage collectors refuse to take away. The resident complaining said that he had followed previous instructions and had put the prunings in a separate container but still it was left by the collectors. Mayor Cameron said that there might be an extra charge for removing this type of rubbish but that he would look into the matter.

The direction sign on Cedar avenue will be made to stand out more prominently and the evergreens removed from obliterating the sign.

The dust created on Carmont avenue, through the Tramway Company using sand to present the cars from skidding, was again complained about. This question has caused considerable complaints in the past, but the Tramway Company insists that there is no alternative except perhaps removal of the tracks and tramcars being replaced by buses.

To a question as to why zoning laws could not be changed to allow large houses being covered into separate dwellings such as duplexes — Mayor Cameron said that it was entirely a question as to whether or not Westmount desired to preserve its residential areas. If we do not retain its residential character residents might as well move to the country where they might, as in New York for instance, have to spend 1½ to 2 hours travelling. Again, if the density of population were doubled traffic troubles would increase. It was the policy to maintain a reasonable balance by allowing certain types of business to operate on certain streets which he thought was sufficient.

All of the above questions were submitted in writing either before or during the meeting with President J. R. Fenwick and Mayor Cameron handling the answers.

Westmount Park Wolf Cub Pack Practice Carols

Here is the weekly news from Westmount Park Wolf Cub Pack, this time from the pack meeting on Tuesday, December 5.

After the Jungle opening and a couple of "warming-up" games we got down to business, that is instruction and passing of tests for stars and badges.

Geoffrey Cory passed the Time Telling Test and Basil Stevens the Book Balancing, these two tests being in the First Star work.

George Christie was presented his Second Star and later in a short ceremony invested as Sixer in the Grey Six. Michael Redden was made Sixer for the Red Six, Bruce Anderson the Green Six, and Gordon Cummings for the Brown Six. The Toymaker Badge was presented to Bruce Anderson and Michael Redden.

During the following campfire the pack practiced Christmas Carols for an intended visit at a Home for Old Ladies just before Christmas.

Westmounter Is Awarded

William A. Torrey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Torrey, 39 Holton avenue, Westmount, was awarded a junior varsity football letter at the annual Vermont Academy fall sports banquet held there recently.

The letter presentations were made by Vermont Academy coaches, Robert Marr and John Lucy. Marr was a former Williams star while Lucy was captain of the 1939 Colgate team.

your Christmas greeting this year will live for months to come if you send a potted plant as your gift. Choose from a choice selection of old favorites . . . Poinsettia, Azalea, Begonia, and Cyclamen, the perfect gift for your friends, your family, your church.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

In your issue of December, 1st., in referring on the front page to the Atwater Park project, you make the statement, "previously the ground was owned by a religious order and consequently the tax problem did not arise".

This is not a correct statement. I think you will find on checking up that vacant land owned by a religious order is not exempt from municipal taxes unless on the property there is a building used for religious purposes which would qualify the entire property for tax exemption.

When the Atwater Park was owned by a religious order and the title stood in the name of the religious order, municipal taxes were paid and the City of Westmount received quite a revenue. A few years ago the religious order got into financial difficulties and the Provincial government made a large loan and took the Atwater Park property and several other vacant properties owned by the religious order as collateral security putting title into the name of the Provincial government. Because that happened the Provincial government claimed it was Samuel Bronfman Resigns Presidency Jewish Fed.

Samuel Bronfman, 15 Bevedere road, Westmount, has announced his retirement as President of Jewish Philanthropies after 18 years of service as head of the organization.

Mr. Bronfman has been elected as one of the three honorary presidents of the federation, the others being Michael Hirsch, and A. H. Jassby.

David Kirsch of 4927 Grosvenor avenue, who has served as vice-president of the federation since 1928 was named president.

Mr. Jassby speaking for the board praised Mr. Bronfman for the many outstanding contributions he had made in the "structure, program and outlook" of federation.

The creation of the Combined Jewish Appeal 10 years ago was a result of the leadership of Mr. Bronfman, he said.

Mr. Bronfman will continue to serve as honorary president of the appeal, and national president of the Canadian Jewish Congress and United Jewish Relief Agencies.

Other officers elected were Jack Klein, first vice-president; Zane Levinson, second vice-president executive committee and Abe Bronfman, honorary treasurer.

not obligated to pay municipal taxes. Queen Elizabeth Park, at the corner of Wood Ave., and Sherbrooke, was one of the property so dealt with at the time.

Officially Open Modern Hodge Brothers Building

Hundreds of guests inspected the facilities of Hodge Bros. Ltd., 6170 Sherbrooke Street West as they officially opened their new building last week.

Customers and friends were accorded an opportunity of viewing the entire premises of the popular west-end Ford-Monarch dealers, Gordon and Russell Hodge, which combines under one roof complete sales, service and parts departments. The modern building and up-to-date facilities will enable Hodge Bros. to render a still higher standard of services to Ford-Monarch owners and all car and truck owners in the district.

The modern service department which ordinarily is humming with factory trained mechanics was turned into a reception hall for the official opening and the hundreds who attended were invited to enjoy refreshments as they viewed the new 1951 Ford and also the Monarchs, Ford trucks, Anglia and Prefect cars and Thames trucks on display.

The new building will enable Hodge Bros. to extend their services more readily to a still-growing community with added space, equipment and services to provide even better service than in the past.

The building was designed by de Belle and White, architects. Stephen Steinhubl was general contractor.

Hodge Bros. new two-storey building is an impressive business addition to the west-end with its modern design and architecture.

New Ford Displayed

Major change in the outward appearance of the 1951 Ford, which was displayed, lies in a new dual-spinner grille and in the wider, longer-wrap-around front end bumper. Parking lights are restyled and larger chrome headlamp rims extended beyond the lenses. Added chrome and new, larger tail lamps are featured in the rear end styling.

Riding qualities of the car have been improved by new springing and newly-engineered rear shock absorbers which add to the comfort of the passengers. The car has an entirely new instrument panel in which all instruments are recessed and control knobs are mounted in depressed cups and individually lighted. The speedometer pointer has a glowing ring which encircles and illuminates the speed figure.

A novel feature is an ignition switch starter. The driver simply turns the key to full right position to start the motor. The rear trunk lid has a new counter-balanced hinge mechanism. The posture-control front seat is mounted on curved tracks so that in moving backward or forward, the entire seat assembly tips to the correct position to suit tall or short drivers. The steering wheel has been redesigned, with a full-circle horn ring on custom models.

KOREA

Will Murders Send Westmount Youth to War — Conscription Rumoured

Westmounters in common with others are sorely puzzled by the serious position in which our forces fighting in Korea now find themselves and which threatens to become a second "Dunkirk."

From reading a short few weeks ago headings such as "Now That the Korean War is Virtually Finished" today we read that the forces of the United Nations are fighting for their very existence and suffering huge losses in men and material.

HOW THEN has such a situation arisen? It is quite true that a short time ago the North Korean forces were in full retreat towards the Manchurian border — they were going so fast that in some instances the United Nations units were unable to keep contact with them — and on the face of things it appeared as though the war was all but over.

BUT it should not have necessarily appeared so to those in authority. Theirs was the duty to probe deeper than the surface and, while there may have been some excuse for over-optimism on the part of the relatively uninitiated man in the street, none can be offered for those in a position to analyse accurately the situation and its possibilities and, by reason of the trust imposed in them, expected to do so.

NOT MUCH probing and very little imagination was needed to realize that sooner or later the extension of hostilities to North Korea and the success therein of the United Nations would lead to intervention from beyond the Korean border. Ideologically and racially the people on either side of that line are very much akin and the twin tie-up forms a very substantial basis for active assistance. Quite obviously that assistance has been given and is responsible for the debacle now going on in North Korea.

PRESUMING that this development was foreseen by the powers that be though not emphasized by the commentators who appeared to assume that it was all over bar the shouting, we hope and trust that in their wisdom, the former have considered even longer the possibilities of the situation, and have taken the necessary steps to ensure that the match lit in Korea, does not give rise to a much greater conflagration.

A SITUATION which contains all the ingredients of a potential flare-up of gigantic and far reaching dimensions — and who will deny that these are to be found in Korea — must be handled, the military aspect apart, with the utmost expedition, tact and sincerity. There must be no intrusion of individual interest on the part of any member of the United Nations. Justice and world peace must be the only considerations. On the outcome of the present situation the future of the United Nations Organization and of the civilized world may well depend.

Prime Minister Attlee's visit to Washington and his talks there with President Truman and later with our own Prime Minister, the Hon. Louis St. Laurent, at Ottawa, last week-end, may pave the way for further action to avert what appears to be an impending war, in which the youth of Westmount and of the world would once again in this decade, be called on to make the supreme sacrifice to preserve peace for posterity.

One Westmount parent spoken to last week was quite worried as his son who will graduate from Westmount High School this spring had just informed him that instead of entering McGill University in the fall as planned he had decided to join the University in the fall as planned he had decided to join the Royal Canadian Air Force. The parent further stated that his son had informed him that it is accepted as fact by many of the boys attending Westmount High that some form of conscription will be introduced by the Canadian Government in March 1951. Whether there is any grounds for this rumour is unknown, but the serious part of the whole thing is that our youth are just marking time on studies pending the expected outbreak of war.

Dominion Douglas

"The Man Who Changed the Date" will be Dr. Lloyd Smith's sermon at the morning service. The choir will sing two carols, "Sleep, little Dove" an old French carol, and "O Zion's Daughter" by Hill. Lilian Ellis Thompson will sing "As Joseph was a-walking" by Thiman.

At 3.00 p.m. the annual Church School Pageant and White Gifts Service will take place. The Pageant this year will be presented by the Teens Club, assisted by the Boy's Choir, and some Sunday School "angels". Every scholar is asked to bring one or more gifts wrapped in White, and marked with the age and sex of the most suitable recipient. A special offering will be received for the Old Brewery Mission.

At the evening service, Dr. Charles Johnston sermon will consider the question, "How Shall We Celebrate?" The choir will sing the old English carol, "Shepherds Shake Off Your Drowsy Sleep", and Doris Zinek will sing "O Holy Night" by Adam.

Following the service, a Christmas social, with games and carols, will be given, after which the Y.P.U. election of officers for 1951 will take place.

There will be no regular meetings of ladies' organizations this week.

Friday at 7.30 p.m., all members of the Y.P.U. are asked to meet at the Church for annual carolling in the streets. The money raised will be donated to one of the local Christmas funds.

Clean Gutters

Have you had the gutters on your house cleaned out lately?
One of the most flagrant sources of damage to homes is rubbish collecting in the roof gutters and downspouts, backing up rain water which then seeps into the walls. A wire basket strainer over the downspout will help. So will a good metal paint once in a while. But best of all, clean the gutters regularly, particularly after the usual fall of leaves in autumn and again in the springSENECA

SAFE-GUARDING BEAUTY

Canadians spend almost 40 million dollars a year on toilet preparations, excluding soap. This includes baby powders, creams and oils. Both domestic and imported products of this huge industry now come under the watchful eye of the food and drug divisions of the Department of National Health and Welfare and, as with food and drugs, the division's laboratories guard against any injurious toilet preparations being sold in this country.

Puppet Show Will Benefit Work Of Training In Remedial Reading

The Junior League of Montreal is presenting "Nestor — The Talking Horse", a puppet show children's party for the benefit of the Montreal District Remedial Center Inc., in the Ball Room of the Windsor Hotel, tomorrow, at 10.30 a.m.

The Montreal District Remedial Center Inc. is an outgrowth of the Remedial Class held at St. Mary's Hospital in connection with the Child Guidance Clinic which was begun by the Maternity Committee of St. Mary's Hospital in 1914. It was supported solely by the members of that committee until last year when the Hospital opened a psychiatric department and took over the Child Guidance Clinic. With the growth of the Remedial Class it was moved to its present address, 3480 Cote Des Neiges Road, and incorporated under its present name, with Mrs. Louis Chatel acting as director and Miss Margaret McKeown as the remedial teacher. The business of the school is administered by a sub-committee of the Maternity Committee having Mrs. J. L. Hollyer as President and Mrs. J. B. Handfield as vice-president.

The work of the Center is the assistance of children of normal and superior intelligence who have difficulties in school work, primarily reading, spelling and arithmetic. Miss McKeown is particularly suited to do this work as she has had special training in remedial reading, and also as she has the tact and patience which gives these children the self-confidence to continue at school, while attending remedial classes at the Center. Her success is evident, for the children are usually able after a short period of time to overcome their difficulties and continue their studies without remaining seriously handicapped.

As a recognition of the value of the work of the Remedial Center the City of Montreal in connection with the Social Welfare Department has recently approved a small grant for its support.

MRS. N. TALBOT MAIS

Mrs. Mais is acting as chairman of the ticket committee for the children's party which will be held at the Windsor Hotel on Saturday at 10.30 a.m., in aid of the Montreal District Remedial Center Inc., when a puppet show will be presented by the Junior League of Montreal.

Newly Formed Auxiliary Of St. George's Troop Headed By Mrs. Hoppe

A meeting was held recently in the Boy Scout Hall, with the purpose of forming a scout group ladies' auxiliary of St. George's Troop and Pack. Mrs. R. Hoppe presided over the meeting and Mrs. Kierstead, chairman of the advisory committee, was the guest speaker. Mr. E. T. Frank, Scoutmaster, represented the Scouts and Wolf Cubs.

In her address Mrs. Kierstead outlined the purposes of the Ladies Auxiliary and some of the ways in which the mothers might assist the Scouts and Leaders.

Mr. Frank noted that there was a particular need for neckerchiefs to be made for the Scouts.

The following executive committee was elected:—

President: Mrs. R. Hoppe, 1470 Closse St., Montreal.

Vice-President: Mrs. A. Lawson, 1945 Tupper St., Montreal.

Secretary: Mrs. M. Skinner, 3847 Verdun Ave., Verdun.

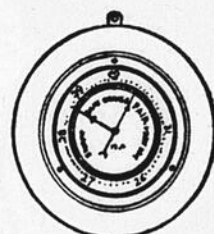

Treasurer: Mrs. E. T. Frank, Apt. 1, 5175 Sherbrooke St., W.

Tea Convener: Mrs. Calzley, 1256 Brown Ave., Verdun.

Membership Committee: Mrs. Shart, 3422 Decarie Blvd., Montreal.

The next meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary will be held Wednesday, January 3. An invitation is extended to all mothers of Scouts and Cubs to attend.

Housewives are aided in their battle against dirt and dust by the trend towards basementless homes, says W. H. Evans, vice-president of the Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Co. Ltd., Leaside. Automatic washing and drying machines have brought the laundry upstairs, he said, while the growing popularity of automatically controlled heating equipment that can be located on the first floor further lessened the need for cellar space.

Cash In On Something Personal

Long on friends, short on cash for gifts?

Nothing solves this problem better than an inexpensive initialed or monogrammed gift, which the thoughtful idea of personalizing lifts above the ordinary.

Who isn't pleased by the flattery of having his or her name and address printed on stationery; on little "informals" used for hastily written notes? As flattering to the hostess are paper guest towels and paper napkins which rely upon a name or a monogram emblazoned in color, plus a matching border of decorative design, for their intrinsic appeal.

The stationery department will yield anything from personalized score pads to laundry lists for the little gift that makes up in ego-satisfaction what it lacks in actual cost.

A lot of flattery is offered for a little investment by a tote tray which carries the recipient's initials scrolled in gilt by initialed coaster sets, complete with golf-stick stirrers; by peasant-styled waste paper baskets individualized by a full name in print.

Monogrammed or initialed Christmas gifts which flatter the recipient's ego make up in personalized appeal what they lack in actual cost. Margaret Arlen, CBS women's commentator, gets ready to wrap a selection of personalized gifts which lined up (left to right) include initialed coasters plus stirrers, paper napkins, guest towels, name-imprinted stationery, monogrammed tote tray. Girl's rubber boots with stenciled initials (upper left), a name-printed waste-paper basket (upper right) and initialed lipstick-size clothes brush and mirror (lower left) are other personalized gifts. A unique imprinted "personal butler" (lower right) snaps shut on ashes, can be carried in a purse.

Personalized gifts also solve the problem of just fitting the needs of a special friend. Under this heading come sterling book marks and key chains carved with craftsman-like monograms. Unique little gift that pays a special compliment to the recipient is a portable ash tray which is called a "personal butler." It snaps shut on ashes and can be carried in a pocket or a purse.

For the teen-ager whose every scarf, cap and tie is labelled, there are rubber boots which can be added to the list of monogrammed accessories. Practical boots of skirt-high length, and identified as her very own by two big stencilled initials, come in a flock of colors, any one of which will enhance their appeal as a Christmas gift.

New hand-bag accessories offer a host of unusual ideas for little gifts which take on imposing airs when they take a monogram.

Most novel is an accessory trio combining lipstick case, perfume vial and lipstick-sized clothes brush which despite its midget proportions is a mighty dust chaser. A mirror with a lipstick-case handle is initialed in gold on black. So is a compact with attached lipstick and perfume fla-

Young Marrieds Have Christmas Gift Ideas With Eye on Budget

That grand old standby, the Ladies Home Journal, puts its own young married editors on the spot in the December issue and quizzes them about their thrifty ideas for the festive season and Santa Claus' pack. The Journal staff comes up with some interesting suggestions, some of which we quote here:

Helen O'Donnell, who is assistant to the Ladies Home Journal beauty editor, suggests you might try making small-touch accessories for sisters and cousins and aunts — for instance, two shaped belts made from 3"-wide strips of colored felt, trimmed with fringe loops and scrolls of braid; snap-fastened. Or you might line a scrap of mink with red jersey to wear as a necklet, the long ends to tie in a bow. Next, two headbands made from bicycle clips (plastic, from 5 & 10). Both are infinitely becoming and couldn't be easier to make. One is covered with velvet tubing (available ready-made by the yard in dime stores) and veiled; the other covered with a large flat ribbon bow, the loops and ends extending down to cover both sides. Marion Wilson, assistant to the Journal's pattern editor, is handy with a needle; if you are also — some ideas for you. Make a man's apron (to be his own exclusive) in faded blue denim bound with red. A large red-and-white cops-and-robbers neckerchief becomes a pocket in front, another a quilted glove-like pot holder. Or, next in line, two aprons, one in flowered chintz stitched onto a grosgrain ribbon sash, pot holder to match; the other in gingham gathered on a satin ribbon. (Shop in upholstery as well as dress-goods departments for unusual fabrics.)

Nora O'Leary Smith makes an unusual table or mantel decoration by coring the centers of three red apples, inserting thick white candles, placing bright green sprigs of spruce around the base. For a party, for a front hall, a small tree trimmed with a lot of small inexpensive gifts; red ribbon for women, green for men, one for each guest as he comes in. Nora makes, to hang on her big tree, small felt cones trimmed with sequins, cotton ice cream; and a little felt boot trimmed with beading; and other knick-knacks.

MAKING MATTERS WORSE

"Cook," said the mistress of the house, "I really must complain about that friend who comes to see you. Last night she stayed so late that I couldn't get to sleep because of her laughter."

"I'm so sorry, ma'am," replied the cook, "I was telling her about that time you tried to make a cake."

With Christmas Wonder In His Eyes

Much of the glory of Christmas for many of us lies in seeing wide-eyed wonderment in a child's eyes as he glimpses the color and glitter of a decked Christmas tree or a new toy. In this great city, the rapt look will soon be shining in thousands of children's eyes, not only in private homes, but in hospitals and large institutions where kind hearts have seen to it that the sick and the underprivileged will rejoice over gifts, and at big parties run by service organizations. It's trite but true, that a child's joy is one of the most precious rewards of Christmas giving. The spirit of Christmas — is our gift of love on His birthday.

Highlights of Overseas Councils Reported by Mrs. Turner Bone

In a talk on British Women in Council given by Mrs. Turner Bone at yesterday's meeting of the Montreal Council of Women the speaker touched upon several of the highlights of a meeting she attended during her trip to Europe last summer, held by the executive of the British National Council. Many of the problems discussed were similar, said Mrs. Turner Bone, to those concerning Canadians, including lack of adequate low-priced housing.

In Britain it was found that many of the blocks of houses set up under County Council housing schemes were so expensive that instead of being occupied by one family of five or so to a dwelling, several families were having to combine in one dwelling.

Another problem discussed said Mrs. Turner Bone, was the lack of occupation for handicapped women in institutions, especially for the younger women. A report emphasized the big age-gap between the young woman newly disabled, and the older women who had been inmates for many years and the depressing atmosphere which resulted. It was generally agreed that the girls should receive training that they might occupy themselves and also earn some additional money. "I was pleased to note later that Her Majesty the Queen was interested in the project which would guarantee its progress," stated Mrs. Turner Bone.

Council in Italy

Dr. Girod, vice-president of the International Council of Women, with whom Mrs. Turner Bone spent an enjoyable evening, informed her of the setting up of a new National Council of Women of Italy. At the present time a new (non-fascist) group have been chosen by the women of Italy to be the executive committee of the Council. As many of the women live in Rome during the season meetings are held in the big city. The government thinks so highly of the Council that it has donated office space in a government building. The same women go north during the summer and are able to keep well in touch with the rural Italian women of the hill country and with the industrial areas of Milan and Padua. The movement among Italian women has achieved real enthusiasm.

Among Council friends who entertained Mrs. Turner Bone were: Miss Cowan, past president of the British Council who has addressed the Montreal Council in 1947 and Miss Cornwall, a visitor to Montreal following the Philadelphia Conference of the International Council of Women, in Edinburgh; a former Montrealer, Mrs. Wakefield, and the Honorable Mrs. Home Peel, J.P., who had also addressed the Council on a visit to Canada.

A Hearty Breakfast for the Man of the House

Start the day with a "stack of wheats" with butter and syrup. The man of the house will be happy.

Griddle cakes are versatile. They can be served at many meals. Meat roll-ups, a variation of the basic recipe, use up every last scrap of leftover meat or chicken and make a delicious supper entree. Another variation is the apple pancake dessert which provides a hearty ending to an otherwise light supper of soup and salad. Corn griddle cakes, new and different, will please all the family no matter what hour of the day they are served.

Corn Griddle Cakes

One and one-half cups sifted flour, 3½ teaspoons double-acting baking powder, 1½ teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1 egg, well beaten, 1 cup milk, 1 cup cooked or canned corn, 2 tablespoons melted shortening.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, pepper and sugar and sift again. Combine egg, milk and corn. Add to flour mixture, add shortening, then mix only enough to dampen flour. Bake thoroughly on hot, greased griddle. Serve hot with butter and maple-blended syrup.

Meat Roll-Ups

Use your favorite pancake recipe. Spread each pancake with about 2 tablespoons of meat mixture, made by mixing together 1½ cups ground cooked meat or chicken, ½ teaspoon salt, dash of pepper, ½ teaspoon onion juice, and few drops of Worcestershire sauce. Roll carefully. Serve at once with gravy or well-seasoned white sauce to which a bouillon cube has been added.

Apply Pancake Dessert

Use your favorite pancake recipe, making six 7-inch pancakes. (Allow about ½ cup batter for each.) Stack in two piles, spreading spiced sweetened apple sauce or apple butter between cakes. Sprinkle top with confectioners' sugar, if desired. Cut in pie-shaped wedges and serve at once with maple-blended syrup.

Griddle cakes and syrup produce masculine breakfast smiles.

C. A. C. Reports

... On its Own History and Sponsors ...

If you are a new reader to this column (and we like to think we have some) perhaps you have wondered just what the Canadian Association of Consumers really is? Perhaps you also wonder what it does, and if its activities can do you any good. Well, as a little matter of history, C.A.C. finally came into being at a two-day session held in Ottawa, September 29th and 30th, 1947. Work done by the Consumer Branch during the war, and under the guidance of the top-flight women leaders of the country, had shown how valuable the aid and opinion of the woman consumer was to Canada at that crucial time. Leaders of every large Women's organization felt that this work should not die with the end of the war. Out of that feeling, grew the idea of an independent, civilian consumer group, which would represent the point of view of all the hundreds of thousands of individual home-makers in Canada.

Founders

The limitations of this column won't allow room for a list of the forty or so prominent women's organizations who sent their representatives to the founding of C.A.C. Those organizations are all household words in Canada, so we are going to mention a few. For instance, the National Council of Women, the Canadian W.C.T.U., the Dominion Association of the United Church, the National Council of Jewish Women, the Baptist Church of Canada W.M.S., National Federation of Home and School, Church of England Women's Auxiliaries and the I.O.D.E., also the Canadian Congress of Labour. French-speaking women were well represented, among their organizations being, Federation Nationale St. Jean-Baptiste, La Ligue des Droits de la Femme, La Federation des Femmes Canadiennes — Francaises, and the Cercles des Fermieres, The Federated Women's Institutes, of whom the Cercles des Fermieres is the French counter-part, have always been, are now, among the strongest supporters of C.A.C.

B'nai B'rith

B'nai B'rith Women, Laurentian Chapter No. 520, Home Economics Group will meet at B'nai B'rith Youth House, 5319 Jeanne Mance St. this evening at 8.30 p.m.

Dr. Saul Wilner, prominent Montreal psychiatrist will be the guest speaker. His subject will be "The Sexual Development of the Child up to Puberty." A discussion period will follow. Mrs. M. Kroch will preside.

Mrs. Harry Labare and Mrs. Edward Merson are group chairmen. Mrs. Mac Zifkin is president of the chapter.

Presidents And QWI Talk Over Projects With Local Council

At the recent meeting of the Montreal Council of Women yesterday, the president Miss Esther Kerry reported that Presidents' Conferences were again a feature of the November calendar. Eighty-eight officers of societies federated in the Council met in four groups to hear of each other's work and to review that of the Council. A new high in attendance and interest was reached as the conference discussed the wide scope of work accomplished, public relations, Council revenue and the part which women might play in public administration and law-making.

Miss Kerry also announced a second conference of officers and chairmen of the Quebec Women's Institutes and the Montreal Council of Women held last week. These conferences, called to serve as a clearing house for information and a means of pooling support on projects, are showing informal results too in the discovery of mutual interests and the building of understanding between women of country and city.

Santa, Clowns, Gifts, Bring Joy at Club's Kiddies Party

Hundreds of balloons were clustered like gigantic, multicolored grapes from the high windows at Victoria Hall on Friday afternoon, much to the fascination of the 350 young guests of the Westmount Women's Club.

The merry occasion was the Club's annual Christmas party for underprivileged and handicapped children and for children and young friends of members.

The "special" guests from the School for Crippled Children, School for Handicapped Children, Weredale House, and Summerhill House, were received at the side door by Mrs. Russell Stackhouse and ushered into choice seats, while Westmount children and their parents occupied the back of the hall.

After all were seated, Mrs. J. C. McKean, president of the club, welcomed them.

When the children could tear their eyes from the massive balloon decoration, they took time to inspect the brightly-lighted Christmas trees on either side of the stage and the friendly clowns who bounced about distributing candy, paper hats, etc., and other surprises.

During the course of the afternoon each boy and girl received a small shopping bag, paper hat, popcorn, bags of candy, fruit, ice cream, a ball-point pen, and at last one of the balloons.

A full-scale variety show, under the co-chairmanship of Mrs. J. Gordon Birnie and Mrs. William Harrison, unfolded before the munching kiddies. Mr. Patrick Marrazza emceed and between acts circulated through the audience singing and joking. Jack Liddell enthralled the children with his popular juggling act while the pianist, in true vaudeville style, played mood music.

A few rousing choruses of Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer were followed by a breathtaking muscular display by Lucien Collette, young contortionist. Introduced as "what some of you probably do every morning before breakfast," the act included a hand-stand atop a table, four coke bottles, and five chairs. If some youngsters had had their way he would have remained on stage for an hour. And so would have the magician, Jimmy Bristol, who soon had the children doubting their eyes.

But of course the climax of the afternoon could not be delayed, and the twelve clowns (girls from Westmount High School, trained by Mrs. Garfield Birnie and gaily costumed by Mesdames Percy French and C. W. Williams) were sent scurrying backstage to hunt for Santa Claus, impersonated by jovial James Cosgrove. Santa himself helped distributed the pens.

Club members remarked on the good humour of the special guests. They cheerfully offered the women popcorn and candy and one Weredale boy placed his full bag of popcorn in his shopping bag and was overheard explaining to his friend that he wanted to save it for his sister. He was swiftly given another bag, and beamed his thanks.

Young Peter Rittner, also a student at Weredale, talked enthusiastically of the House where "we have so much fun." He was justly proud of being one of the ten "best boys" of the week which merited his attendance at the party. Surveying his full shopping bag and equally full companions he summed up the success of the afternoon quite simply, sighing; "Boy, am I happy!"

Also very happy were those women who made the party possible, including busy conveners Mrs. Harold Mills, Mrs. Gordon Blair, Mrs. Charles Shearer, Mrs. M. G. Hogan, Mrs. Stella MacIntyre, Mrs. R. H. Anderson, Mrs. George Oleson and Mrs. C. W. Clark.

Recently a U.K. firm received an urgent cable for special rugby jerseys needed for a game here the following Saturday. By three o'clock the same day the jerseys had been specially made up, and shipped by fast air freight to London. They were then trans-shipped here by B.O.A.C. in ample time for the game.

BY POPULAR DEMAND AT MONKLAND

For mystery, thrills, romance and comedy, this never to be forgotten combination of the two feature attractions that were enjoyed so much in the past, return Saturday till Tuesday only at the Monkland Theatre. Don't forget your date with Olivia DeHavilland and Lew Ayres in the Nunnally Production of "The Dark Mirror." Also the comedy riot with Geo. Brent, Lucille Ball and Charles Winninger.

Louise Tollstam Elected President Of Hobby Show

Louise Tollstam, a fourth year student at Westmount High School and member of the cabinet of the Westmount Girls Hi-Y Club was elected president of the 1951 Hobby Show Committee, at a meeting of the executive committee held at the Westmount Y.M.C.A. this week.

Miss Tollstam has been active with the Westmount Boys and Girls Hobby Show for the last few years, and last year was elected Vice-President of the Hobby Show. This will mark the first time in the history of the Westmount Boys and Girls Hobby Show that a girl has been elected president.

Diane Reusing and Ronnie Law were elected Vice-President of the 1951 Hobby Show. Miss Reusing was secretary of last year's Hobby Show Committee, a fourth year student at Westmount High School, and member of the cabinet of the girls Hi-Y club. Mr. Law is a member of the Westmount Y.M.C.A. Leader's Corps and chairman of the Physical Committee of the 1951 Hobby Show.

Other officers elected were as follows: Brian Steeves a student at Westmount High School and member of the Westmount Hi-Y Club was elected secretary, and Doug Reed a senior student at Westmount High School and member of the Westmount Hi-Y Club was elected treasurer.

This year's Hobby Show will be held at the Westmount Y.M.C.A. during the Easter Holidays, and will be open to all boys and girls of Westmount.

St. Matthias Pack Hands Out Badges

The Pack had a visit last Friday from Mr. Gilhooly, and although he did not have time to pass all the badges, the following are the results: Parts of Second Star — Stuart Smith, Roger Bellingham and Colin Russel, Peter Leslie, Homecraft and Collector. Colin Russel, Gardener Badge. Warren Laing, Homecraft and Gardener. Stephen Ferguson, Toy-maker. Robert Carr, Toy-maker.

The badges will be given out tonight but points will probably go on for the January competition, as there is a special competition for tonight only.

Stephen Ferguson, having now completed six badges, and having performed in a satisfactory manner as Second of the White Six, is now appointed Sixer of that Six.

The December competition was won by the Brown Six, but due to badge examinations last Friday, the prize was not given them. They will get it tonight and will hold the pennant in their Lair during January. Tonight the Pack will hold its last meeting before the holidays. The program will be an open one, with a special competition and prize. There will be a few extras and it is hoped we'll all have a lot of fun.

The Pack will open for the new year on January 5th, the first Friday of the month.

Stamp Club Holds Election Meeting

At the last meeting of the Junior Stamp Club, elections were held for appointments to the Committee. As the programme is being extended in the New Year to include a social period during the Club meeting, it was felt necessary to have six members on the Committee instead of only two. Those elected were: Patricia Graham, Beatrice Oliver, Claude Rouler and Micheal Ashby.

A Christmas party was held on Thursday this being the closing event of the year.

"The Black Rose" and Comedy Opening Sunday at Westmount

"The Black Rose," starring Tyrone Power, Orson Welles and Cecile Aubry, and featuring Jack Hawkins, opens at the Westmount Theatre Sunday. Depicting in Technicolor the grand scale on which Thomas B. Costain wrote this best-selling romantic adventure story, Twentieth Century-Fox filmed "The Black Rose" throughout the world in order to encompass its English, European, African and Asiatic settings. Concentrating its production activities in England and North Africa, the traveling film company, under the charge of Producer Louis D. Lighton and Director Henry Hathaway, undertook to recreate two thirteenth century worlds, the Occidental and Oriental.

"The Black Rose" tells of the adventures that befall two young Englishmen, a scholar and a bowman (Power and Hawkins), when they go off in search of the unknown wonders of the world. They fall into the service of Bayan of the hundred eyes (Welles), a mighty conqueror making a pilgrimage to the Kublai Khan. On the trek their heroism is tested by their rescue of a half-English girl known as "The Black Rose" (Miss Aubry) from an Oriental world she would escape.

The fabulous voyage of Power and Hawkins takes them from English medieval castles to desert wasteland and finally to Oriental shrines. From the gateway to the east at Antioch to the point at which they cross into fabled Cathay there is the rugged encounter of the ropewalk, life or death archery contests, viciously played knife games, thundering racing camels and Arabs on horseback.

Added Attraction

"Kill the Umpire," Columbia Pictures' behind-the-plate comedy of a constantly-behind-the-eight-ball diamond arbiter, is the added attraction. William Bendix is starred in this cinematic eulogization of what probably is America's most-maligned individual. At that, according to Hollywood report, there's nothing wrong with Bendix as an umpire that a good seeing-eye dog couldn't cure! It's a far cry from his starring role in "The Babe Ruth Story!"

Una Merkel, Ray Collins and Gloria Henry top the featured supporting cast of the film, in which Bendix is seen as an ardent baseball fan, whose strident booing of decisions has gotten him tossed out of ball park after ball park, while his too-frequent attendance at ball games has gotten him tossed out of job after job. Faced by an imminent domestic crisis, with his wife planning to leave him, Bendix decides to compromise: he becomes an umpire, thus receiving a steady salary and, simultaneously, getting a chance to see baseball games.

"Kill the Umpire" carries him through the training regimen at the school for umpires in Florida, and then into minor league ball. At the former establishment, Bendix finds hilarious difficulty in adjusting his umpire-baiting way of life to the rigid disciplines and techniques which help to make an umpire what he is.

Municipal Hockey Meeting Is Called

There will be a meeting of all persons in the City of Westmount interested in entering a team or teams in the Westmount Recreation Hockey League.

The meeting will take place at the Westmount Athletic Grounds on Thursday December 21st at 8 p.m. Please do not telephone your teams entrance; come to the meeting or send a representative.

The schedule will be made up based on the entries received on that date, with no post entries being accepted.

Gay Xmas Party Held By Putters

A Christmas party under the Sponsorship, of the Westmount Recreation Department was held on Monday in the Green room at Victoria Hall for the Putters Club. The room was gaily decorated with a lit tree complete with presents was the predominant feature. Santa Claus arrived, the weather being good enough for him to park his reindeers on Sherbrooke Street (without getting a ticket). Members and friends turned out to greet him, and he had a present and a cherry word for all.

The Recreation Supervisors lead the games, and a gay romping session they were, everybody participating and having a grand time. The Tea committee produced a very delicious spread of cakes and sandwiches.

The party was the closing of the 1950 activities. It is hoped that 1951 will bring members both old and new together for many more enjoyable evenings.

Municipal Basketball Ends Series Wednesday

The first round of the Westmount Recreation Basketball League was completed last Wednesday night with each team holding a spot by themselves. The Wolves took sole possession of second place in the opener by defeating the Dukes 36-10. Mike Barnard once again paced Mr. Greenbaum's entry potting a total of 12 points. Marv. Greenbaum sunk 6, Wendy Young had 6, with Lafontaine, Zivillick and Grant pushing in 4 apiece. For the losing Dukes, Tyler Garnered 5, Bourassa 4 and Nelson 1.

In the second game of the evening, Cammy McFadden led his Saint team with a 10 point effort, with Delo getting 9, McDonald 8, Taylor 6 and Jolly 4. For the winless Staynor crew, Jim Cotter sunk 4 points, Martin got 3 and Brembell 1.

The finale saw perhaps the best basketball game of the season when Willie Monolson's high flying Ave. Stars tangled with Logue McDonald's Royals. The Royals could not break the tight zone defence set up by the Stars for any more than 20 points, while sharp shooters Earl McDonald, Jack McKissock and Willie Monolson totaled 45 points, McDonald soloing for 22 of them. Easton and Lomassney brought the total up to 49. The scoring was well divided with Royals, McDonald had 6, Young 5, Campbell 4, W. Graham 4, and G. Graham 4.

The second round of the schedule will begin this Wednesday night with the windup on the following week, December 20, the schedule continuing after the hockey season.

Westmount High Hockey Team To Play St. Leos

Hockey at Westmount High Forum, on Saturday morning, School has hardly gotten underway as due to several unfortunate happenings the team has only had practice on the ice for three hours all told.

On Monday the Forum ice which had been booked by W.H.S. was commandeered by Royals, and on Wednesday, the team journeyed to Lachine but again were disappointed, as Daniel O'Connell School, had apparently reserved the ice, with Westmount being told that their day was Thursday. An unfortunate mix-up in dates which caused some ruffled feelings.

Davie McDougall will not be able to play this season according to coach Jim Patrick.

An exhibition will be played against St. Leo Academy at the Basketball

The Basketball squad is working out under coach Ron Sharpe, the well known McGill footballer. This season Westmount will have a junior team as well as a senior squad. The junior team will not be entered in the school league but will play 10 exhibition games against school league entries. The senior "A" team will play its first scheduled game during the first week in January.

In last week's issue of the Examiner it was stated that Westmount lost to Loyola juniors by the score of 26-18. The figures should have been reversed as Westmount won this game in the Golden Ball tournament at Sir Arthur Currie Gymnasium.

MISCELLANY

To those whose minds occasionally take a philosophic bent the "Miscellany" section of Time Magazine is a constant source of material for thoughts that, while not always sweet and pleasant, are most definitely worth thinking. For Time, with a thoroughness of which they are justifiably vain, cull only those items which are far from the beaten track. And it is the unusual which makes us stop and ponder.

Consider these three items picked at random from a recent issue of my favourite news magazine.

Item the first: Deadly Weapons. In Milwaukee, the city council voted a $25 fine for the use, sale or possession of peashooters.

Now that I am past the pea shooting age I am all in favour of the various municipalities which make up this weather-beaten island doing the same. It would be nice, around Hallowe'en time, to be able to walk the streets of this suburb city without having to look fearfully at every 12-year-old to ascertain whether or not he is carrying one of these lethal weapons. Nothing deals a greater blow to dignity than to feel the sharp ping of pea on head and the tinkle of pre-adolescent laughter that accompanies it. And so I say: Ban the peashooters. Full speed ahead.

Item the second: Handyman. In Cheektowaga, N.Y., the Times printed a classified ad: "Wanted—Man to wash dishes and two waitresses."

After reading an item like that you wonder just how enjoyable such a position would be. At first it seems like a pleasant way to pass one's idle evenings. But then, sober second thoughts (the bane of all travelling salesmen) make the prospect a little less alluring. Suppose that the dishes come by the hundreds. Suppose that the waitresses are fat, ancient and completely repugnant. Suppose that the waitresses don't like you. No, the second thoughts are too sobering. I tore up my letter of application.

Item the third: Inflation note. In Buffalo, a drugstore chain advertised a headache remedy in the Evening News: "50c size—59c."

Such honest advertising might be adopted with profit by some of our local merchants who are prone to sell the 50-cent item for a dollar and advertise it as a terrific saving. Honesty is still the best policy but, in advertising, it is becoming more and more rare.

Interpreters Needed For Hospital Clinic Patients

The Montreal Women's Voluntary Services have issued a special appeal for interpreters to assist in the medical clinics and wards of the Royal Victoria Hospital.

The need for persons who can speak foreign languages has arisen due to the fact that during the past few years, more and more people from the old world, who have settled here, are seeking medical advice.

Proves Barrier

In many instances they are unable to explain their ailments, particularly when it is not an outward abrasion. The children of these people are sometimes capable of speaking a few words in English or French but they cannot properly describe the case to the satisfaction of the doctor. The difficulty of the language barrier resolves itself only after a great deal of time and patient ground-work on the part of all concerned.

Languages most commonly required are Polish, Russian and Italian, but there is also a need for German, Czechoslovakian, Latvian, Greek, Ukrainian, Norwe-

Mrs. Thomas Earle Westmount Lady Widely Mourned

Mrs. Thomas B. Earle, of 22 Chesterfield avenue, Westmount, died at the Western division of the Montreal General Hospital, on Thursday after a brief illness.

Mrs. Earle was prominent in church circles and was a member of the board of directors of the United Church Home for Elderly Ladies.

A life member of St. Andrew's United Church, Westmount, she was at one time president of its Women's Association and secretary of its missionary society. She was also a member of the Museum of Fine Arts and the Royal Montreal Golf Club.

Born in Glasgow, Scotland, the former Margaret Campbell (Peggy) Sellar, she came to Montreal as a girl.

Surviving are her husband; a son Tommy; her mother, Mrs. George Sellar; a brother, William of Calgary, Alta.; and three sisters, Mrs. Malcolm Loucks, Mrs. G. A. Gaherty and Miss Florence Sellar, all of Westmount.

The funeral service was held on Saturday afternoon in St. Andrew's United Church, Westmount, with burial taking place in Mount Royal Cemetery.

Perhaps the capitalist with the gumption to be pleasingly and amusingly frank with his clientele will reap the reward which he deserves.

Now, I must get serious for a moment, gentle reader, and give you the lowdown. This column has been missing for some weeks due to extreme inertia on the part of Author Cochrane. The inertia has not been displaced but I thought I'd have to preface this message with something: Christmas is just around the corner. Shopping is always a problem. So let me help you to select the right magazine subscription for all your friends, relatives, offspring and business acquaintances. Yes, I am still in the business.

See you next week—Stalin and the draft board willing.
