Repercussions of RFK shooting

Affects June election

OTTAWA (CP) — Robert F. Kennedy's assassination in Los Angeles has sent ripples of violence into the Canadian election campaign.

One candidate said he was shot at in Alberta, some threats were made, and any illusions of security torn away by an incident in Hamilton.

Some opponents of tougher firearms control in Canada have changed their minds and decided to support the changes likely to come at the next Parliament.

Yet the Manitoba Wildlife Federation's Flin Flon chapter said last week it wants the right to bear arms written into the constitution.

On June 5, the day Senator Kennedy was shot:

—Liberal candidate Douglas Irwin, 31, got a note telling him to quit the campaign. He says that last Thursday night, someone fired three shots at his car on a lonely rural road as he campaigned in his Red Deer, Alta., riding.

—In Halifax, a man carrying a newspaper bearing the black Kennedy headline waved it at New Democratic Party Leader T. C. Douglas and snarled: "They should have shot you, you Commie SOB."

OFFERS 'PROTECTION'

The day of the Kennedy death, the federal cabinet met here and decided to offer RCMP protection to campaigning political leaders.

Authorities generally feel the only real protection against political violence is a social climate that makes it unthinkable. However, they feared the Kennedy death might disturb the normally peaceful Canadian climate, awakening the beast that sleeps in every society.

Both Conservative Leader Robert L. Stanfield and Mr. Douglas turned down the offer of protection but Liberals, already disturbed by the violent tone of some anti-Trudeau literature, stepped up protection for the prime minister.

Nevertheless, in Hamilton last Friday, a man picked up a loaded revolver 20 feet from Mr. Trudeau and had trouble getting police to notice him.

John Cope, 40, director of the band playing at the Trudeau rally, found the 38-calibre revolver on the ground, raised it by the barrel, and waved it at a passing motorcycle policeman. He says the policeman shrugged as much as to say it wasn't his and rode off with the departing Trudeau motorcade.

MOUNTIE DROPS GUN

Police say the gun was dropped by an RCMP constable in the motorcade.

Official death records for 1966, the latest year available, show that 904 Canadians were killed by firearms or dynamite in 609 suicides, 197 accidental deaths and 98 homicides—45.2 deaths for every 1,000,000 Canadians.

A law to tighten control of firearms in Canada died on the order paper when Parliament was dissolved in April for the election. Political leaders during the TV debate indicated they will support it and it is almost certain to be re-introduced.

It is aimed mainly at preventing criminal use of concealable weapons such as sawed-off shotguns, silencers and spring knives, which would fall into a "prohibited" category.

The law also would give the federal cabinet power to place any other weapon in this category—a discretion bodies such as the Canadian Wildlife Federation and the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association are fighting.

MEETING AT CITROEN PLANT — Striking workers of the Citroen auto plant at Quai de Javel in Paris met in front of the factory to hear their Union leaders giving them a count of talks with Citroen's management. (AP Wirephoto)

Auto workers spur return to work

PARIS (CP) — Thousands more French strikers streamed back to work today, led by the 65,000 men at Renault auto plants who voted overwhelmingly to accept a settlement worked out by their union leaders.

"Cars are already coming off the assembly line at Flins," said a spokesman for the nationalized Renault company, referring to a plant in a Paris suburb at which strikers and police clashed last week.

The spokesman said all Renault workers on the first shift reported this morning.

Still holding out were men at the private car companies Citroen and Peugeot who demanded the same deal offered to the Renault workers.

WIN PAY BOOST
This includes half-pay for the strike period and greater union rights within Renault's five factories, as well as general pay increases. The Renault workers want increases of about 12 per cent.

The return of the Renault strikers plus 10,000 at the Savem truck plant in Lyon and about 30,000 shipyard workers at St. Nazaire, Bordeaux and La Seyne left less than 250,000 of the 1,000,000 strikers still out, by union estimates.

The major holdouts were the personnel of the government radio and television network. Those strikers Monday rejected new proposals by Information Minister Yves Guena.

The central issue was the strikers' demand for a government pledge to seek parliamentary action ensuring freedom of the network's news programs from government control.

Guena offered only to set up a "commission of notables" to work out new legislation.

The radio-TV strike has reduced campaigning via those media for the National Assembly elections to a few news bulletins and brief TV appearances by party leaders.

WILL DEFEND RECORD

Premier Georges Pompidou was to defend the government's record in a broadcast tonight. It may be his last before the first-round balloting Sunday.

Pompidou was to appear with Marie-Madeleine Dienesch, the new secretary of state for national education. This indicated he intended to centre his speech on the continuing student crisis which sparked the country-wide wave of social rebellion last month.

Meanwhile, strong criticism was heard against the police occupation Sunday of the Sorbonne, the main building of the University of Paris and the symbol of the student revolt.

Sorbonne teachers, students and administrative personnel announced they would have nothing further to do with the university as long as the police remained there. A number of newspapers also condemned the government's action.

Rebellious University of Paris students were still occupying the faculties of medicine and science and the schools of fine arts and political science. They said they expected police moves to dislodge them at any time. They would not say whether they planned to resist or would go quietly, as the Sorbonne students did.

He's missing

The Bahamian government said Monday a top colonial official who had been listed as missing is under arrest in Port au Prince, Haiti.

The missing man, information director David Knox of the Bahamas, "in some way offended the authorities and is being held in custody," Bahamian spokesman E. P. Doyle said in Nassau.

Strike threatens seaway ships

MONTREAL (CP) — Time is running out for ocean-going vessels that may be "caught" on the St. Lawrence Seaway system by a seaway workers' strike threatened for Friday.

Spokesmen for shipping agencies said Monday they are not allowing any vessels to enter the seaway upbound until the strike position is clarified.

At the same time the shipping officials were making "every effort" to clear the 80 vessels that were in the seaway system Monday.

And there was no late development in an attempt to resolve the threatened strike by 1,200 seaway workers, seeking what appears to be parity with their counterparts in the U.S.

The Shipping Federation of Canada, which groups most of Canada's Great Lakes shipping companies, fired off a telegram Monday requesting personal intervention by Transport Minister Hellyer.

COULD BE SERIOUS

Federation President Herbert Colley said the telegram described the potential gravity of the situation to Mr. Hellyer.

"Personal intervention of the then acting minister of labor" had helped avert a threatened closing of St. Lawrence River ports over a dock workers' dispute a few months ago.

"We believe that the differences between the seaway workers and the (St. Lawrence Seaway) authority are not as complicated as in the dock dispute, and we trust that intervention by a third party either as a mediator or in personal capacity can bring about a settlement."

diator or in personal capacity can bring about a settlement.

"The international community cannot condone the closure of the seaway which will result in many foreign-flag and Canadian vessels being trapped without an alternate route."

The strike has been called for 8 a.m. Friday by the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General Workers which rejected the majority report of a federal conciliation board.

The board has recommended two six-per-cent increases over a two-year period, but the union is holding out for two increases totalling 18 per cent in a two-year contract.

Canadian seaway workers complain that U.S. workers earn 21 per cent more than Canadians.

The original demand was for 20 per cent in a one-year contract, but this was reduced during conciliation. Basic laborers' rate is $2.77 hourly and the average hourly wage of the 1,200 workers is $3.10.

A strike at the Canadian locks not only would cut off Canadian inland ports, but would shut off Atlantic commerce from major U.S. ports such as Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland and Buffalo.

In Ottawa, a National Harbors Board spokesman said preparations had been made at Montreal, Trois-Rivieres, Que., and Quebec City to handle a "massive" increase in traffic should the strike start. But because of the preparations, no grave problems were anticipated.

Plans Ray's extradition hearing next week

LONDON (AP) — A British magistrate today scheduled a hearing June 27 on the U.S. government's application to return James Earl Ray to Tennessee for trial on a charge of murdering Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Ray was arrested at London airport June 8 and charged then with entering the country on a forged Canadian passport and carrying an unlicensed loaded gun.

HELD UNDER GUARD
After a preliminary hearing before Milton June 10 on the passport and gun charges, he has been held under round-the-clock guard at Wandsworth Prison while Scotland Yard tried to reconstruct his movements and contacts during the three weeks he is believed to have spent in London before his arrest.

Milton said he wanted to hold the hearing as soon as possible, and they compromised on Thursday of next week.

British extradition hearings usually last a day or two, and the magistrate generally gives his decision as soon as he hears all the evidence.

The magistrate ordered him returned to Wandsworth Prison.

Two lawyers from Birmingham, Ala., Arthur J. Hanes and his son, Arthur Jr., are expected in London Wednesday to assist Ray's British counsel.

Ray was arrested at London airport June 8 and charged then with entering the country on a forged Canadian passport and carrying an unlicensed loaded gun.

Ray was brought to Bow Street today for the second time since his arrest 10 days ago.

when a court has decided on a postponement.

The small courtroom was filled with about 100 persons, mostly reporters.

Ray, wearing a blue checked suit and glasses, sat impassively in the dock while counsel and the magistrate discussed details.

After Milton fixed the extradition hearing date, Ray spoke only two words: "Thank you."

He was separated from the spectators by a wall of policemen and detectives. Police also lined the corridor through which he reached the courtroom.

Attorneys for the U.S. government told the magistrate that Ray is wanted on a charge of murdering Dr. King in Memphis April 4 and also on a charge of escaping from Missouri state prison while serving an armed robbery sentence.

Documentary evidence already has been produced in London, the American lawyers told the court, and a fingerprint expert will be flown over to testify at the extradition hearing.

TODAY'S CHUCKLE — One way to improve motion pictures, shoot more actors and less film!

News in brief

To fade away?

WASHINGTON (CP) — The poor people's city, a rain-plagued remnant of forces that began arriving here April 29, would like nothing better than to fade away.

The U.S. government, Congress and the city fathers wholeheartedly concur. The predominantly-Negro group may have reached about 3,000 residents in its Resurrection City at one point—the goal was around 5,000. But it has dwindled now in the usually-sodden plywood and plastic shacks to perhaps 600.

Cong surrenders

SAIGON (CP) — The largest mass surrender of the war took place today when 116 Communist soldiers gave themselves up in Saigon's Gia Dinh suburb.

Meanwhile, the U.S. command said it was investigating reports that more North Vietnamese helicopters had been sighted along the demilitarized zone. A spokesman refused to give details but unofficial reports said 10 to 20 helicopters had been sighted.

Another dies

The death in London Monday of businessman Frederick West, 45, reduced the number of surviving heart transplant patients throughout the world to five. One was in grave condition and a third was recovering from a liver ailment.

West, who received his new heart May 3, died a few hours after the National Heart Hospital reported his condition was "grave, because of a progressive overwhelming infection."

Future at stake

LONDON (AP) — The future of the House of Lords appeared to be at stake today as its Conservative majority prepared to throw out the Labor government's order for tougher trade sanctions against Rhodesia.

Prime Minister Wilson's supporters threatened political sanctions against the Lords if they attempted to thwart the will of the elected House of Commons, which approved the stricter United Nations sanctions Monday by a vote of 319 to 246.

Don't collect

REGINA (CP) — The Canadian Medical Association was told Monday that physicians should not collect fees for services provided in absentia.

And Premier Ross Thatcher of Saskatchewan told the association's annual convention that all provinces will have to follow Saskatchewan's lead in imposing "utilization" fees or some other form of co-insurance to meet increasing costs of hospital and medical care.

Faribault pays visit

The Progressive Conservative campaign in Sherbrooke County was highlighted today by a visit from Marcel Faribault, candidate in the Montreal constituency of Gamelin and the chief of the party in this province.

Mr. Faribault arrived at the Sports Palace shortly before noon and addressed a gathering of party supporters as well as holding a press conference.

In announcing today's visit by Mr. Faribault, the organizers for Dr. Alexandre Kindy, the PC candidate, indicated they had given up hope that the party's national leader, Robert Stanfield, would be able to visit Sherbrooke prior to next Tuesday's election.

Mr. Stanfield has a tour of the southwestern Quebec area planned for tomorrow but his schedule is so filled that a visit to Sherbrooke seems impossible.

Travelling by helicopter, he has a visit to Cowansville in Montserrat riding listed at 10:45 a.m., followed by a stop at St. Hyacinthe at 12:10 p.m. His last stop in the Eastern Townships will be at Drummondville at 2:40 p.m.

Later he will travel to Quebec City prior to moving into the Maritime provinces tomorrow.

The two-day period of advance polling closed at 9 o'clock last night and accord-

Only one incident was reported from the advance polling, a woman being arrested for impersonation at Poll No. 3 polling station at 859 Larocque street.

It is expected she will appear in Provincial Court sometime today.

One of the major meetings held last night was a Liberal rally at Lake Megantic in favor of Leger Cameron, candidate in Compton, at which the main speaker was Transport Minister Paul Hellyer.

Mr. Hellyer said the important changes are underway in Canada which augured well for the future of the nation.

During his visits in recent weeks from coast to coast, Mr. Hellyer said he had seen many signs of this change and that the best hope for the future was a constitution made in Canada for Canadians.

And Canada needed a stable government, which could be provided only by the Liberal

Election fever mounts

With the voters going to the polls one week from today, general election fever mounted Monday with new promises, new charges, and new counter-charges.

Conservative Leader Stanfield, in Toronto for a major rally which fell short of filling the Canadian National Exhibition Coliseum, said he would, if elected, introduce tax deductions for home-owners paying more than seven-per-cent interest on their mortgages.

Prime Minister Trudeau, in a windup British Columbia tour before flying to Calgary, said NDP Leader Douglas was making "pie in the sky" election promises which would cost billions of dollars a year to carry out.

And Mr. Douglas pledged his support in Regina for a two-price system of wheat, paying farmers a guaranteed minimum of $2.12 a bushel for export sales, and an extra $1 a bushel for wheat sold for domestic consumption. Wheat prices recently have been below $2 a bushel.

Today, Mr. Trudeau jets across the Prairies from Calgary and Medicine Hat, Alta., to Saskatoon, and then to the Lakehead. Mr. Stanfield swings mainly by helicopter through Quebec's Rawdon, St. Jerome, Lachute, Gatineau, Hull, Quyon and Shawville. Mr. Douglas will be in Regina and Moose Jaw, Sask., and Creditiste Leader Caouette concentrates on Montreal.

WOULD CUT INTEREST

Mr. Stanfield said that, if elected, he would introduce tax-law amendments permitting income-tax reductions covering 90 per cent of mortgage-interest payments in excess of seven per cent.

The ceiling on government-guaranteed National Housing Act mortgages has been seven per cent or more since the end of 1963, and now is 9%. The rate on conventional first mortgages has, of course, been higher.

Earlier Monday, in St. Catharines, Mr. Stanfield reiterated his demand that Prime Minister Trudeau repudiate "deliberate lies about me." He complained of Liberal party advertising in Alberta and New Brunswick inferring he supports special status for Quebec.

The Conservative Party took advertising space Monday in Alberta newspapers to declare, over Mr. Stanfield's signature:

"I have never advocated two nations. I believe in one Canada. I have never advocated special status for Quebec. I believe that no province should be offered authority that is not offered to all provinces."

Mr. Trudeau swung his attention mainly on Mr. Douglas while visiting Vancouver's Burraby-Seymour riding, where the NDP leader is seeking to retain his seat in the Commons.

The prime minister said the NDP is promising to lower NHA interest rates without saying what it would cost.

"You've got to use a little intelligence in these things," Mr. Trudeau said. "You can't tell lies to people; they won't believe you. The people don't want to be connected by any political party in this election."

Former prime minister Pearson spent the day in his old riding of Algoma East and was given a welcome like that of a campaigning party leader.

Stanstead North Women's Institute celebrates fortieth anniversary

AYER'S CLIFF — The annual meeting of Stanstead County Women's Institute was held at the United Church on May 23 at 10 a.m. The president, Mrs. Geo. Hatch, welcomed the provincial president, Mrs. Ossington, Granby, and a former member, Mrs. R. Mayhew, Bury, as guests.

The address of welcome was given by Mrs. N. Pierce of the Ayer's Cliff branch. Mrs. Viola Moranville presented Mrs. Ossington with a corsage and Mrs. Hatch presented Miss Moranville with a corsage.

Mrs. N. Pierce presented Mrs. Hatch with a corsage and expressed thanks for her work during the past two years. Mrs. Pierce gave the secretary's report. There are now five branches as two branches disbanded during the past year with an approximate membership of 118.

The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. J. Johnston. Mrs. Johnston also reported on the tea-room at the Ayer's Cliff Fair.

Agriculture — Mrs. Douglas Johnston reported that members worked at the School Fair and all branches paid a share for prizes. The School Fair list has been revised and seeds have been distributed to children for planting this season.

Mrs. Hatch presented Mrs. Johnston with a Life Membership in appreciation of her faithful work as convener of agriculture for the past four years.

Citizenship — Mrs. E. Woodard reported two branches have pen pals; a quiz held on The Fathers of Confederation; entertained other branches, filled Christmas stockings. All branches sent October tea money to the Northern Women's Extension Fund. Several members attended the opening of the new building at the Dixville Home and a copy of the Quebec Mosaic was given to the Stanstead Historical Society.

Education — Mrs. Keane stated donations of books still required to be sent to the West Indies on application for the Estella Holmes Scholarship has been received from Miss Mona Falconer.

Home Economics — Miss V. Moranville reported two bus trips were arranged to Expo 67. Six branches exhibited at the county fair with Stanstead North and Beebe winning prizes. Members worked at the tea-room and wore costumes in keeping with Centennial Year. Some branches held supper meetings, also card parties.

A motion was carried that H. Sanderson print the programs again this year.

Mrs. Hatch, in her report, stated how much she had enjoyed her term of office and the many friendships she had made from all over the province. She thanked the officers and conveners for their support and for the gifts, cards and calls she received while in hospital.

The slate of officers were presented by Mrs. N. Pierce. Meeting then adjourned for lunch and reconvened at 1:30 p.m. Mrs. Keane thanked the Ayer's Cliff ladies for the chicken dinner served.

The radio broadcast coming up are as follows: July 18, home economics; Nov. 21, publicity; March 20, welfare and health. The August quarterly meeting will be held in Beebe.

Mrs. Ossington, Provincial president, then addressed the meeting and expressed thanks for her corsage, the lovely dinner and especially for the songs given by Mrs. Mayhew and Mrs. Pierce. After listening to the reports, she said she wondered if people really know all the WI does.

As no secretary has been acquired to replace Miss N. Holmes, Mrs. Ossington is still doing the work of the secretary. She asked the county presidents be prepared at the convention to say how many more copies of the Mosaic will be needed as a reprint has to be made. She stated that the book, Mosaic, A Heritage of Canadian Handicraft, should be in every library.

The convention will be held June 17-21 in Stewart Hall, Macdonald College, and the National president, Frances A. Clarke, will be present.

The travelling library is in its last year.

Mrs. Ossington was thanked for her very informative talk by Mrs. R. Knight.

Council disapproves of C of C letter

A lack of dialogue between city council and Sherbrooke's Chamber of Commerce was complained of last night by Alderman Tony Pinard as Council members read a letter sent by the Chamber to Robert Lusier, Minister of Municipal Affairs, concerning amendments to Sherbrooke's charter.

The committee will study the proposed amendments on Thursday, it was revealed last night. Aldermen are proposing an increase in pensions and a shorter term of service for eligibility.

They want $2,000 a year after nine years service instead of the present $1,500 pension after 12 years service. The Chamber stated in the letter the pension plan should remain the same for the benefit of Sherbrooke taxpayers.

Alderman Amedee Roy asked council if these ideas were really those of the Chamber members or just those of the directors. "The Chamber only meets about twice a year," he commented.

Canada's national sport is not as popular with Sherbrooke youngsters as it used to be, says Sherbrooke Minor Hockey Association president, Gerry Hanson, who stated in a letter to council last night there has been a decrease of 78 minor league teams in Sherbrooke. Council has awarded a $150 grant to the association.

Mr. Hanson suggested better planning of the arena's schedule to allow minor hockey teams to practice here and play their games. He revived former proposals to build two "pocket" arenas, one in the North Ward and one in the West.

He suggested the existing arena open for hockey on Sept. 1 and remain open until April 1. He said he and his colleagues in the association are planning twelve new Atom League teams and four Junior B teams for 1968. Council refused a request by the St. Sacrament Recreation Centre to reduce the prices at the Claire Fontaine swimming pool. The rates will remain the same at 25 cents for children and 50 cents for adults.

Quiz council on public works costs

A group of Sherbrooke citizens who reside on Wilson and McCrea Streets came to City Hall last night and fired a battery of questions at council members concerning the high cost of public works on their streets.

After hearing their problems, Mayor Armand Nadeau suggested, with council's approval, that payment of these citizens' accounts for public works be suspended until council, the citizens and Sherbrooke MLA Raymond Frechette meet to take steps to rectify the situation.

North Hatley will host annual show

The North Hatley Community Club will sponsor the 8th Annual Eastern Townships Antique Show and Sale on July 4, 5, and 6. This show has always attracted attention from parts of Eastern Canada and parts of the Northern United States.

The club already has a waiting list of interested dealers for the available exhibition space and tickets for the opening gala supper are reserved well in advance.

Last year, approximately 2,000 admissions were recorded over the three-day period. The show will be held in a former school house situated in the center of town. A dining room on the premises is catered by a local women's organization.

Miss Emily LeBaron, a local antique dealer and artist who has given her assistance to the show for the past seven years, will decorate the interior of the school house. The annual show was actually the brain-child of Miss LeBaron, who is considered its "guiding spirit".

The dealers involved are setting up booths containing old furniture, glass, china, prints, books and general paraphernalia both useful and ornamental.

City engineer, Frank Mascolo, was on hand to answer the citizens' queries.

In a letter sent to council last night, the taxpayers asked how much a lineal foot of waterworks cost to install, how much a lineal foot of paving and lining streets with gravel cost in some wards as compared to others.

They wanted to know how much it cost to install sewer pipes.

They asked why citizens on Wilson Street, which has 22 feet paved, paid the same tax for public works as those on McCrea Street where 44 feet were paved.

Mr. Mascolo fielded the questions one by one, only to be barraged by three more.

In the letter, it stated the city had reserved 13 feet along the properties and bought some of this land from some proprietors but none from others. Why?

Mr. Mascolo stated the city bought the land which was essential and no more.

Mr. Mascolo told the sometimes irate citizens the roads sometimes cost more to gravel than to pave.

This led them to ask the difference between a street and a road.

They stated their streets were busy and kids could not play in or near them. They hinted taxes should be lower for roads than streets.

Mayor Nadeau explained to them, however, no matter how much they complained, they had come to City Hall asking for the public works to be carried out, and the city had done this.

Centennial day huge success

COOKSHIRE — The Centennial festivities at Cookshire drew a large crowd over the weekend. On Saturday, June 15, a ball game was held in the Town Park. Mayor D. Chapdelaine welcomed the guests, and urged all to support the other festivities which would follow this summer and autumn. A platform had been built near the monument in the park, and a number of impromptu songs and step dances were given from it.

About 85 per cent of the spectators were dressed in beautiful costumes, making a picturesque scene. Two bus loads of friends from East Hereford attended and a number from other places. Part of the Main Street Hill was closed to traffic, and a street dance was held to music supplied for the occasion by the Bernard Orchestra of Sherbrooke.

Refreshments were sold on the grounds, and the police department is to be congratulated.

on the orderly fashion in which they kept the crowds moving, also for vigilance and efficient directing of traffic both on Saturday night and on Sunday, during the Historical Parade.

The weather was ideal for the parade, which started from the Government Buildings on Craig Street North, continued up Main Hill to Pope Street, then down Pleasant View Street to Craig Street South, and onto Main Street finishing up at the Ball Park across the Eaton River.

The parade was very colorful, not only brightened by the uniforms of the band members, cadets and the two Mounties, Mr. Campbell and Mr. Brault, but also by those on the sidelines dressed in costume, and by the number of antiques displayed on the lawns along the route of the parade. There 18 floats and 16 old cars as well as the bands.

The parade was made up of the following: The Guard of Honor from East Angus, Majorettes from Magog, Coaticook, East Angus, Windsor Mills, and Sherbrooke; the Aristocrats band from Windsor Mills, the Coaticook Band, the Eastern Townships Highland Pipe Band and the Cadets of Thetford Mines.

Old cars were driven by Gilles Dumoulin, Victor Martin, Nelson Andrews, representing the Anglican Church, an old Cadillac by Maurice Blanch.

BRIEFLETS

82-year-old very pleased at mention

BURY — (Staff) — With a gay voice and a chuckle that belied her age, 82-year-old Record correspondent, Mrs. George Parsons said yesterday she was very pleased at winning a special honorable mention from the Vancouver Saturday Night Canadian Women's Press Club for scripts she wrote and broadcast on CKTS.

She recalled how she saw a Record announcement in March advertising the contest and she decided to send her three scripts in.

She explained she learned later she was not eligible for the contest because her scripts were not presented in 1967, a contest requisite, but the Club decided her scripts did deserve an award in any case.

She was surprised to win anything and she learned of the award from a friend who had heard the announcement yesterday morning on the radio.

Mrs. Parsons' scripts concerned Ceylon and Ireland. On April 18 she broadcast "The Peace Tower at Ottawa."

The programs she aired on CKTS required her to write 13-minute scripts.

The scripts were presented as a part of the program of the Compton, Richmond, Stanstead and Sherbrooke Counties Quebec Women's Institute branches who broadcast members' texts every third Thursday each month.

These programs began in 1947, Mrs. Parsons said, and she remembered who gave the first talk, the speaker, and she remembered she gave one of the earliest presentations, "The Advantages of Membership in the Q.W.I."

She has been a member of the Institute for 49 years.

In that time, she has been her branch's president, county president and provincial secretary.

She has been a Record correspondent for 67 years now, beginning when she was only 15 years old.

Technicality bid fails

Lawyer Laurent Dube followed the letter of the law yesterday in Court of Sessions when he tried to get his client, charged with driving while his licence was under a six months suspension, free on a technicality.

However, Judge Benoit Turmel ruled the technicality did not dismiss the evidence and he fined the accused, Marcel Boulanger, 29, of La Patrie, $100 and court costs and suspended his driver's permit an additional three months.

Last week, the Crown produced two witnesses, the QPP agent who arrested the accused and Court Clerk Jean-Francois Bilodeau who testified Boulanger's licence was suspended for six months of Feb. 3.

Mr. Dube stated yesterday that neither the QPP agent nor Mr. Bilodeau identified his client as the man whose licence was suspended.

It is stated in the criminal code, he said, that the accused must be identified in such a case.

Crown Prosecutor Stanley Steinman told the court the accused was known in Court because it was not the first time he had appeared so it was not necessary to identify him by having the agent or Mr. Bilodeau point him out.

Besides, he added, the QPP agent testified he had arrested a Mr. Boulanger and gave his address, which corresponded with the accused's.

Judge Turmel rejected the technicality and found the accused guilty.

Two men pleaded guilty to driving while their faculties were impaired and both received identical fines yesterday. Guy Chapdelaine, 42, from Dixville, and Gerard Lessard, 39, from Verdun were fined $60 and costs and their licences were suspended for six months.

Both men had previously pleaded not guilty but changed their pleas yesterday.

Both were represented by Laurent Dube and both were arrested in Coaticook.

Jean-Pierre Verrier, of Danville, pleaded guilty with explanations to a charge of operating a hotel where minors were served alcoholic beverages.

He explained he was not operating the hotel when the charge was laid so Judge Turmel told him to see Crown Prosecutor Andre Langlais before he returned on June 20.

Cemetery group to renew fence at Stornoway

MILAN — The annual meeting of Stornoway Protestant Cemetery Inc. was held at the cemetery on May 25 at 2 p.m. Among those present were Ross MacDonald, Albert MacLeod, John MacAulay, Willie MacArthur, Roderick MacLeod, Allan Matheson and Duncan MacLeod.

After the routine business, discussion followed on the state of the fence fronting the highway. It was decided to renew the small gate and install a few lengths of wrought iron or steel fence, with the proviso of not spending more than $300. during the current year, on the project.

Reds tighten pressure on Western alliance

Once again Communist pressure against West Berlin is providing a crisis for the Western Allies who have on several occasions been forced to extreme measures to assure the continued existence of that out-post of democracy.

For the sake of western prestige it is to be hoped the three countries most concerned — United States, Britain and France — show the same resolution and determination they have in the past.

The undoubted fact that East Germany is acting under Russian pressure in cutting down communications between West Berlin and West Germany raises questions as to why Moscow is putting on the heat at this time.

One probable reason is that the Kremlin must boost its security in the face of increasing resistance within the Communist satellites of Eastern Europe and especially Czechoslovakia.

Recent events in Prague raise the nightmare, of the Russians, of the erosion of the central control of Communist party leaderships everywhere in Europe, including Moscow itself, and the disintegration of the defence bulwark built up under the Warsaw Pact, of which the Czechs were key members.

By Soviet reasoning, any Western action against the travel restrictions could be construed as unjustified intervention which would justify tightening of party control in all of Red Eastern Europe and the stationing of Russian troops on Czech soil.

Another reason, probably, is the determination of Moscow to keep Germany divided as long as possible and the bolstering of the Eastern German Red regime.

The Communists are further complicating the situation by limiting their activities to harassment rather than imposing a complete blockade which restricts the ability of the allies to effectively meet the challenge without apparently taking excessive action.

And Vietnam may have something to do with the new situation, with the Russians seeking to force the United States into making further concessions to North Vietnam in an effort to ease European tension.

Copy the single-minded industriousness of the bee, and someone will steal your honey while you're working.

Air travel headaches

In the airline business, apparently, nothing exceeds like success.

Expecting a passenger volume of 230 million people a year by 1975, airline executives, airport managers and architects are already getting headaches trying to figure out how to handle all of them.

Just getting 500 passengers or more on and off one of the new jumbo jets will be probably enough, let alone arranging for all their baggage to turn up in different cities.

One suggestion is being run through the fan jet to see if it smokes is to "preload" passengers.

This has nothing to do with liquor, although that might help.

The idea is to have passenger pallets that would move into an airplane with passengers already in their seats, thus saving enplaning and deplaning time.

Really, it is coming to that.

You should see the garden we've planned. It takes up twice as much paper as the garden we didn't plant last year.

TODAY in history

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
June 18, 1968 . . .

The Battle of Waterloo was fought 153 years ago today—in 1815—and Napoleon's hopes of regaining power were crushed. After escaping from Elba, Napoleon marched through France gathering men and arms. The Duke of Wellington, with a mixed allied army, met him on the Brussels road, knowing a Prussian force was approaching.

The fighting lasted all day, until the whole allied line advanced at dusk and the French forces were destroyed. French casualties were 40,000 of 72,000.

The PRAYER FOR TODAY FROM The Upper Room

Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus. (Philippians 2:5)

PRAYER: Father, even as we have been taught to see Thee in Christ, our Lord, so we pray today that others may see our Savior in us. Help us to be worthy witnesses of Thy love to those who do not know Thee as Savior and Lord. In the name of Thy Son. Amen.

1846—The first telegraph in Canada, operated by the Toronto, Hamilton and Niagara Electro-Magnetic Telegraph Co., opened for business.

1928—Amelia Earhart, as a passenger, became the first woman to fly over the Atlantic.

First World War

Fifty years ago today—in 1918—floods on the Piave River washed away bridges and placed the Austrian Army in danger on the Italian front, the battle decreased in violence in the mountains, but Italian forces advanced and captured Cap Sile; American forces on the Marne River repulsed German patrols.

Second World War

Twenty-five years ago today—in 1943—American bombers attacked Sicily, particularly Messina; Russians reported the stiffest ground action in several days as their troops stormed Nazi fortifications under construction on the Leningrad front; Allied bombers raided Kahili, an important Japanese air base in the South Pacific.

The Reports Are Slightly Premature

Readers say:

Debate bogs down on obscure terms

Dear Sir:

The Canadian debate on the subject of national unity has been hung up on the rocks of ill-defined terms: "nation", "deux nations", "the state", "the Canadian people" and the term "society." The various views which included these terms failed to find any common reference ground, with the result that any attempts at discussion ended in frustration and needless accusations. Canadians from the Prime Minister down, are persecuting each other because they are unable to define these key terms to each other's satisfaction.

The writer here wishes to draw the reader's attention to the fact that this lack of precise definition of the above terms does not only express the fuzziness of the language but it also reflects the inadequacies in knowledge and social experience in the part of the individuals caught up in this web of ill-defined terminology. Thought, like the ray of light will not penetrate a medium which has been muddled by obscure terms. There is little purpose to discussions under such conditions.

It was under the cover of such terminological fog that the traditional politician was in his glory. A politician can therefore orate in ecstasy, sending each of his hearers separately on an emotional voyage to the land of his desire. Debates under such conditions of fuzzy terminology are impossible. Such debate will degenerate into a rehearsed monologue, like the dance of the medicine man before the afflicted viewer.

The sordid electioneering pleadings always will when exposed to the sobering realities after the election. Thus the politician is in disrepute because his society has failed to promote meaningful experiences which would shed proper light on the terms and concepts. A pseudo-society is therefore like a poorly lighted street which is full of lurking characters seeking refuge in the shadows.

To clarify the terms society, state or nation, it is necessary to define anyone independently of others . . . in terms of common social experience. A society is a scheme in which an individual being's outer environment is dominated by the presence of other individuals. It is a condition of awareness of a plurality of similar beings. The mere presence of a plurality without conscious awareness does not constitute a society. Society further represents a general exhaustion and saturation of the individual scheme of existence; the experience of society is a means of extending the range and expanding the purpose of the species.

Society represents a vast extension of the phenomenon of man. The parameters of human experience: the sense of free will . . . the sense of order and confusion . . . the sense of good and evil are all real and unique achievements of man. These parameters of man's experience are founded on deep and largely undiscovered moral laws which have been forming throughout the eons of time on the fragmentary islands of human society.

Throughout the countless social episodes in caves, forests and deserts conscious knowledge in man has been forming while the symmetries in his vast structural knowledge were struck into the never dying flame of the soul. This was the true beginning of the human society. From that moment on man was satisfied less and less with the jungle patterns of existence. Man who has sensed ultimate truths and creative power within him will never succumb completely to any tyranny which denies these higher realities.

Throughout man's long history, the more successful societies were those which incorporated a measure of stability into their structure, in the form of a political organization or state. History also shows that these societies achieved greatest potential when the political organization was also accompanied by an enlightened nationhood. Nationhood is an achievement of a very high order and it does not just happen as the Canadian peoples have discovered to their dismay. Nationhood is a consciously nurtured spirit; it represents a determination to share a common future.

At this point it is most important to establish jurisdictional priorities between the individual, family, society, state and nation. During the American Revolution, the individual family and the American society were in full agreement — they all turned against the state as represented by British imperial power. It was in this turmoil and struggle against the alien state that the soul of the American nation was born. This striving of a people expresses the long term yearnings of a people; it became enshrined in the constitution of the America.

The state (or the political organization) must work within the bounds of the constitution which expresses the will of a people based on the individual family and the community (or on the society).

In the case of Canada, where the constitution based on the B.N.A. was the product of the state rather than a spontaneous expression of a people, the state appears to be supreme. The Constitution appears to be a superfluity

OTTAWA — (TNS) — Close to the home-stretch now, the outcome of the election race is still as hard to predict as it was at the starting line.

Both the Grit and Tory cheerleaders are, of course, doing their best to generate a victory psychosis but there is as yet no sign of an electoral sweep in the making for either Trudeau or Stanfield.

This worries the Liberal strategists who confidently expected a solid crystallization of the initial signs of Trudeauism at about this time. Their Conservative counterparts see it as a good omen. Some of them regard the absence of an irresistible Trudeau wave as a remarkable Stanfield achievement, for at the bottom of their hearts they were not sure their unpretentious man would be able to cope with what looked like the new Prime Minister's irresistible charisma when the election was called.

The gap narrows

Whether it is primarily Stanfield's steady personality or the electorate's uneasiness about Trudeau's glandular effect on volatile teenyboppers and frustrated women may be debatable. But the fact remains that the PM is not running away with the race. Reports from across the country indicate that, taking into account all the built-in regional variations, Trudeau is still ahead of Stanfield, but the distance between the two is much smaller than it was in the early stages of the campaign and the gap seems to be narrowing with every passing day.

Assuming that nothing unforeseen happens during the final sprint — an admittedly shaky assumption in this contest between two new political leaders — my feeling is that Mr. Trudeau is likely to end up with a small majority in the neighborhood of 140 seats.

This is considerably less than most observers were forecasting at the outset and up to the mid-point of the election campaign, when Grit expectations of a massive Trudeau sweep began fading.

While, I have never lost faith in a sober reaction of the bulk of mature Canadians to the emotional binge of Trudeauism, I made an initial mis-

An idol

It wouldn't be at all surprising if, as a result, most of the former would vote for Stanfield and most of the latter for Tommy Douglas. Neither group, however, appears to be large enough to wipe out Trudeau's leading margin which rests in the apparently unshaken female and go-go vote.

To this emotionally-committed following, the PM's issues and even changing images mean nothing. Trudeau is their idol and that's that. It does not matter what he says and does. They have somehow convinced themselves that under his government all our political, economic and social problems will be solved with magic ease and that Canada, as many of them put it, "will take exciting new directions."

When asked what these new directions will be, these mesmerized victims of a new personality cult have no answer. But they have an unbounded faith in some undefined supernatural powers of their messiah who knows best what's good for the country and the world and should, as far as they are concerned, do no wrong.

So you stop.

And one brass bed, two dining room chairs, a drop-leaf table and a lampshade later, she thinks she's ready to go.

Allen— Wightman

BEDFORD — A pretty summer wedding took place Saturday June 1, at two-thirty p.m., in the Bedford Wesley United Church, when Beverly Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Wightman, of Bedford, Que., became the bride of Mr. Donald Arthur Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Allen, Baie Verte, N.B.

Rev. Peter MacAskill officiated at the ceremony and the wedding music was played by Mr. Ronald Martin. During the service vocal selections were sung by Mrs. Peter MacAskill and the members of the junior choir. The church was decorated with arrangements of white chrysanthemums and white lilies, and the guest pews marked with nosegays of lily-of-the-valley and white ribbon.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length, white satin bengaline gown, Queen Anne design, her elbow length nylon veil was held by a headpiece of white satin roses and lily-of-the-valley and she carried a bouquet of red roses and lily-of-the-valley.

The three bridal attendants, Mrs. Melbourne Yack, matron of honor, sister of the bride; Mrs. Lloyd Derick, cousin of the bride and Mrs. Walter Organ, sister of the groom, were in identical floor-length gowns of coral pink silk, trimmed with white Guipure lace. Their headresses were of Guipure lace forming flat bow headpieces and they carried miniature nosegays of coral pink carnations and lily-of-the-valley.

Mr. Byron Deatty, of Ontario, acted as best man for Mr. Allen, and the ushers were Messrs. Anthony Glencross, of Ontario, and Darryl Wightman, Bedford, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Wightman, mother of the bride, wore a gown of Chantilly lace over green, a white tulle hat and white accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses.

Mrs. Allen, mother of the groom, was in an ensemble of peacock blue silk with bone accessories and wore a corsage of pink roses.

Following the ceremony the reception was held in the Church Hall, after which the couple left by motor on a wedding trip to the Southern States, the bride travelling in a yellow suit with black accessories.

On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Allen will take up residence in Woodstock, N.B.

Vacation With Sun Lamp

You don't have to take a mid-winter vacation to acquire that sunny girl look. With a sun lamp, a bottle of baby oil and some lemon juice, northern lasses can look as if they just returned from tropical shores. Every day take a brief intermission under the sun lamp with all the exposed skin well-covered with baby oil. Begin with one minute under the sun lamp to gradually build up a base and work up to the maximum time recommended by the sun lamp manufacturer.

N. Porter officiated at the double ring ceremony. The organist was Miss Viola Moraville, Beebe.

Vases of spring flowers were used to decorate and the guest pews were marked with white satin bows.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of rose point lace over bridal satin. The empire-line bodice fashioned with simulated pearls, and the long lace sleeves ending in points over the hands; the lace train falling from a bow at the back of the scooped neckline, forming a cathedral-length train. Her veil of tiered tulle illusion was held in place with a tiara of simulated pearls and aurora borealis, and she carried a cascade bouquet of baby pink Sweetheart roses and lily-of-the-valley. Her jewelry was a single strand of pearls with earrings to match.

Miss Martha Van-Oosten, of Toronto, Ont., as maid of honor, wore a floor-length pale pink empire-waist sheath of rayon lace over satin, with an attached coat of nylon fastened at each shoulder with a satin bow. Her small head piece was of simulated pearls in a rose design and she carried a cascade bouquet of variegated carnations tinted to match her gown.

Miss Betty Ann Leith, the groom's sister, bridesmaid, wore a floor-length empire-waist gown of pale green chiffon over satin, with a panel of the same material attached at each shoulder. Her headress was a small tiara of pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of variegated carnations, tinted to match her gown.

Miss Jennifer Garfat, niece of the bride, the flower girl, wore a floor-length dotted Swiss voile gown of canary yellow, with white lace trim on the edge of the short sleeves and neck and a white sash tie at the back. She carried a small white basket of assorted colored sweetpeas.

Former cancer patients, as counselors

BURLINGTON, Ont. (CP) — Former cancer patients are being asked to work as counselors for patients who are depressed or frightened because they have cancer.

The Burlington Counselling Service for Cancer Patients is being formed by a committee of three women members of the board of the Burlington unit of the Canadian Cancer Society, with a medical advisor. Several of the committee members have had cancer.

The idea began when one of the women spent time with a friend who had recently had a cancer operation and was badly depressed. The committee member talked about her own experience and said she now leads a normal life. It seemed to help her friend start out of her depression.

Volunteers will counsel only patients who have had the same type of cancer they had. They will try to tell them what to expect, what treatment and recovery feels like, what activities are possible in the future.

BETTER TO FACE FACTS

Even if some of the facts are unpleasant, the committee members feel it would help to talk about them and face them, rather than fear the unknown and conjure up imaginative problems worse than the real ones.

It is hoped it will help the pa-

Second home — the livin's easy

Beach houses and second homes geared for weekend and vacation relaxation make up a growing essential in the average American's living scheme. A livable, relatively work-free room in a beach house is furnished in man-made materials to shrug off mildew and rust problems that face those living near the water.

Although white is the dominating color, the fabric on glass fiber molded chairs cushioned with latex foam rubber and glass fiber draperies are spiced with soft yellows, greens and orange. Clay pots with greens and flowering pots dress up the living room and the terrace for the summer gardener.

For and about Women New methods restore mentally ailing

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Susan J., 23, efficiently typed her boss' dictation, filed duplicate copies of letters and hid the addressed mail in her desk, where it stayed for months.

Jack C., 40, complained to his wife that the junior accountant made fun of him before other executives and hid Jack's work. One morning, Jack refused to get out of bed. He stayed in bed two weeks.

Dennis K., 35, said he was an actor but always found fault with the script, the director, the other cast members. He worked as a clerk for a magazine and never appeared in any roles. One day, he broke into tears at the office and a friend took him home.

George F., 44, was considered a brilliant, aggressive advertising account executive until he started falling asleep during meetings with clients. George would wake up during a session, hurl an expletive like "that's so much..." and walk out.

Odd behavior, certainly. These four persons represent a mounting number of average men and women who finally break under the pressures of office or home responsibilities and personality conflicts.

What are the odds that the "average" person will succumb? Look around the office. For every 10 employees, one will spend some time in treatment for a psychotic or neurotic illness. The gap in future years between those who crack up and those who don't will narrow.

"We are," according to Dr. Robert F. del Vecchio, education director for a pharmaceutical company, "in a period where disruption of law and order resembles schizophrenia. We are totally disoriented and grappling with what we don't understand, such as Vietnam and student riots."

It is all a sign of the times, he feels. As a result, psychiatrists, mental health researchers and industry medical specialists predict that as many as five in 10 will suffer some form of debilitating mental breakdown in coming decades. The seriousness of the problem strikes home when a report points out that approximately 17 million people have some type of mental and emotional disorder now. These patients occupy better than one-half of all hospital beds and accounted, as late as 1966, for a cost of $20 billion. Of this amount, business lost $15.5 billion in productivity.

Things are not all black, though they may seem that way. The dollar drain to business forces a change in attitude toward hiring or continuing to employ the person who is mentally ill. According to a third-generation psychiatrist, there is, for the most part, no cure for the mentally ill. The person with prompt, proper care and rehabilitative training can and does return to a productive life.

This return is not a pipe dream. A National Institute of Mental Health report shows a continuing sharp decrease in resident patients in mental hospitals in the last 12 years. There was an increase of patients admitted but the number released was double that of 1955 and the pattern showed a shorter hospital stay. The hope is for more people to avoid any time in "the mental hospital."

How is this to be done? In most cases, with the techniques used to treat Susan, Jack, Dennis and George. These included:

—Prompt and intensive use of psychotherapeutic drugs such as tranquilizers, antidepressants and electroshock treatments to "stabilize the patient so he can be reached."

—Intensive but brief hospitalization in a general hospital — as little as two to three weeks — with diminishing visits for psychiatric treatments to avoid "long, almost destructive confinement in state mental institutions."

—Day-care or night-care clinics where a patient may continue to work or be at home and report for drugs and consultation.

—Community mental health centers being established under a 1963 federal mental health act, where the patient will have access to many forms of treatment but remains in the community.

HAMBURGERS EN BROCHETTE — For meatballs with a new and different treatment. (Photo by Heinz Kitchens)

Carte blanche to creativity

HAMBURGERS EN BROCHETTE

1½ pounds ground beef chuck
½ cup fine soft bread crumbs
1 egg, slightly beaten
¼ cup barbecue sauce with onion
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon rosemary leaves, crushed
2 medium ripe tomatoes, cut in eighths
2 medium green peppers, each cut into eight 1-inch squares
4 small onions, quartered
¾ cup barbecue sauce with onion
Salt and pepper

Lightly mix together the first 3 ingredients. Combine ¼ cup barbecue sauce with next 3 ingredients; blend into meat mixture. Using about 1 tablespoon measure, form meat mixture into 32 meatballs. Thread 4 meatballs, 2 tomato wedges, 2 green pepper squares and 2 onion quarters on each of eight 12-inch skewers. Place skewers on grill set 3 inches above glowing coals; brush with sauce; sprinkle with salt and pepper. Broil 15 to 20 minutes or until desired doneness, turning and basting frequently with sauce. Serves 8.

Indoor Method:

Follow above procedure for preparation of steaks. Place on broiler pan with rack; brush with barbecue sauce; sprinkle with salt and pepper. Broil 3 inches from heat source 5-7 minutes. Turn; brush with barbecue sauce; sprinkle with salt and pepper. Broil an additional 5-7 minutes or until desired doneness. Remove toothpicks; serve immediately.

butter or margarine and 1 tablespoon Barbecue Sauce with Onion; sprinkle with salt and pepper. Roll steaks jellyroll fashion; secure with toothpicks. Place steak logs on charcoal grill, about 2-3 inches from glowing coals; brush with additional barbecue sauce; sprinkle with salt and pepper. Grill 15 minutes, turning and brushing frequently with sauce, or until desired doneness. Remove toothpicks; serve immediately.

Where are patients like Susan, Jack, Dennis and George going if they are mentally ill and not shut up in an institution? Hopefully, back to work.

For Feminine Flattery

To activate the romantic mood, a confection of chiffon, ostrich and silk organza flowers all intermingled into a wrap-around of feminine flattery. One extravagantly romantic creation is a satin capelet with tiers of ostrich feathers. Plans cheap housing

QUEBEC (CP) — The provincial government has given the Quebec Housing Corp. authorization to conclude three agreements with the Central Mortgage and Housing Corp. that would provide more than $139,000,000 for construction of low-cost housing in Quebec.

The government decision to borrow the sum from the federal organization, made public in the current issue of the Quebec Official Gazette, says the loans are provided for in the budget for the current fiscal year.

The interest rate would be approved by the Quebec cabinet and applicable from the date on which the CMHC approves the deal.

One of the agreements would grant $33,342,600 for construction of housing to accommodate 9,729 students in Quebec.

The second would provide $34,056,000 for construction under municipal housing programs of 2,155 lodgings in the regions of the Gaspé, Quebec City, Trois-Rivières, Ottawa-Hull and Montreal.

Mr. Sorel told a news conference the union wants the Quebec government to promise it will do something to encourage farmers to remain on their farms and not abandon them.

Pounds & pounds

QUEBEC (CP) — The fishing catch in Quebec for the first four months of 1968 totalled 12,728,000 pounds, more than double the weight of the catch for the corresponding period last year, the industry department said in a statement Monday.

The department said the increase this year is understandable in the light of the fact that the opening of the 1967 fishing season was delayed for some time by bad weather.

We've failed

MONTREAL (CP) — Canada has failed in providing aesthetic qualities in the everyday environment, Lloyd Brooks, director of the federal government's national and historic parks branch, said Monday.

Mr. Brooks told delegates at the biennial conference of the International Federation of Landscape Architects Canada has over 40,000,000 acres of re-

Melbourne Ridge UCW plans for coming events

MELBOURNE RIDGE — The United Church Women met at the home of Mrs. N. Fowler on June 7. The devotional period was taken by Mrs. J. Hawker.

Several thank-you notes were read as was a letter regarding the summer school at Macdonald College in August.

Community Friendship reported 33 cards, eight calls and eight hospital calls made.

Sunshine committee reported that flowers had been sent to a member in the hospital and a card was signed to be sent to Mrs. R. Fowler.

Plans were discussed regarding the serving of lunch at an auction sale and also for a wedding to which the group is catering on June 29. Mrs. M. Taber and Mrs. E. Wilkins are to look after supplies.

Following the business meeting, the president, Mrs. M. Taber, presented a gift to Mrs. V. Thormin, who with Rev. Thormin, leaves the area at the end of June.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. R. Woods and Mrs. N. Fowler.

At a meeting of the Bury Athletic Association, last Wednesday evening, progress reports were heard from the chairmen of the various committees, showing that all is in readiness except for minor details which will be attended to in due time.

William Gaulin, chairman of the park committee for the past 22 years will see that the park is in good order for the occasion. Cecil Ross, chairman of the Band and Sound Committee, has engaged the 40 man St. Laurent Pipe Band of Montreal, who will furnish music for the parade and again in the afternoon.

A full course turkey dinner at noon in the Town Hall, and a salad tea in the late afternoon will be under the supervision of Mrs. Hilda Dougherty, Sawyer-ville, assisted by members of the B.A.A. A most entertaining variety show is in the hands of Mrs. D. Harrison and Mrs. R. Mayhew.

Mysterious goings on will be taking place in garages and barns, to emerge as gaily decorated floats for the big parade under the direction of Douglas Harrison. Hitherto, the weather has almost invariably been all that could be desired and it is hoped this year will be no exception.

When he moved to Sherbrooke in 1958 he joined the Sherbrooke Scout Council and as the Chairman of its Camp Committee was responsible for the further development and greater use of the campsite at Lake Lowering. Upon moving to Montreal in 1962 he became a member of the Provincial Executive Committee and later a vice-president of the Provincial Scout Council. He also became chairman of the Scouts' Organization and Expansion Committee and was responsible for many improvements in district organization and more recently an expansion program which has resulted in a great number of additional boys joining the Scout Movement in Quebec.

As a member of the National Council he has served on liaison committees with Les Scouts du Canada, representing the Boy Scouts' National Council on a number of occasions at deliberations between the two brother organizations. He is also a member of the National Organization, Planning and Expansion Committee and will be an observer at the National Staff Conference to be held at Banff next September.

Mr. Westgate is General Manager for Canada of the American Credit Indemnity Company of New York. He is married to the former Catherine Nussey, and has three daughters and a son, Ward, 14, a Queen's Scout determined to follow the example of service set by his father.

The floats were representing D. There were many teams and saddle horses, with the people dressed in old costumes, and an old-fashioned wicker baby carriage with parasol covering, and a live baby in it, wheeled by the two parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Veilleux, in costume and a clown on a high-wheeled bicycle.

The evening closed with a ball game in the ball park and a display of fireworks.

A very useful and attractive addition to the town park is the new fountain, placed in the park as a Centennial project by the Town Mayor and Councilors, which is much appreciated by the people.

Join together?

QUEBEC (CP) — Premier Daniel Johnson Monday invited Opposition Leader Jean Lesage to join him in challenging Prime Minister Trudeau who, the premier said, has made "certain comments detrimental to the French-Canadian nation."

In a brief exchange over the June 25 federal election in the legislative assembly, Mr. Lesage then named three cabinet ministers and a Union Nationale M.L.A. who have endorsed what Mr. Lesage called "the old, backward Tory party."

Popular mid-June bride feted at surprise shower held at Border

ROCK ISLAND — The home of Mr. and Mrs. Forest Rollins was on June 1 the scene of a delightful event when a shower took place to honor the approaching marriage of Miss Joan Getty of Sherbrooke a popular mid-June bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Getty.

On Miss Getty's arrival she was surprised to find a number of relatives and friends from the area awaiting her. She was presented with a corsage of summer garden flowers by Mrs. Rollins and a similar corsage was presented to her mother by Mrs. Douglas Stevenson.

A mock wedding took place on the lawn of the home, the theme, being orchids to onions in three easy steps. The script, composed by Mrs. Rollins, was humorous as were the costumes. The minister who tied the knot, was Mrs. Howard Major; the bride, Mrs. George Hatch and groom, Mrs. Maurice Laberee. The bride's father was Mrs. Forest Rollins and her mother, Mrs. Victor Robinson. The flower girls was Mrs. Douglas Stevenson and the best man, Mrs. Bruce Sheldon.

Afterwards the ladies went into the house where Miss Getty was seated in an antique rocker, adorned with colored garlands, which toned with the flowers and lighted candles used to complete the arrangements.

Kim Major presented the gifts to her cousin, Miss Getty, while two other cousins, Brenda and Darlene Stevenson assisted her in opening them. From the ribbons and bows, Mrs. Muriel Mosher fashioned a bonnet, later worn by Miss Getty.

An amusing marriage game was played and the prize winner was Mrs. Victor Robinson. Supper was served to the guests by Mrs. Rollins, assisted by Mrs. Dale Rollins, Mrs. Howard Major and Mrs. Maurice Laberee. Mrs. Mosher and Mrs. Rollins poured at the dining table, which was covered by a white hand-crocheted tablecloth and centered by the shower cake.

The cake, made and beautifully decorated by Mrs. Ruby Sheldon, was in the design of a bride in white, with silver and pink roses. It was cut by Miss Getty and served by Mrs. Stevenson.

Guests attending were from Barton, Vt., Georgeville, Sherbrooke, Graniteville, Beebe, and Boundary Villages.

TIGERS FETED AGAIN
DENIS ST. PIERRE, mayor of Victoriaville, along with members of the City Council, officials of the club and fans honored once again their Tigers, Allan Cup champions, at a large celebration Saturday.

THE DEMONSTRATION opened with a golf tournament in the afternoon followed by a banquet and a parade through the City Streets. It was quite an affair. The streets were lined with thousands and the players, team officials and guests were in special old-time carriages drawn by trucks. It was a real old fashioned affair.

ON RETURN TO THE golf club all members of the club were presented with a set of cufflinks with the City emblem engraved on them. Henry Crocheteau, president of the QAHQ, made the presentation of rings, on behalf of the CAHA, to the players and team officials. The QAHQ had made their presentation last month.

THE WINNERS of the golf tournament were presented with prizes. Practically everyone who took part in the event was given something. It was a well organized day and those who looked after it deserve plenty of credit for the great job.

LOU POLIQUIN, Tigers' coach, tried his luck at golf and he consumed a total of 119 strokes for the 18-holes. Not bad for his second attempt at the game. Maybe he will trade his lacrosse stick for a golf club. He, like a lot of other people, figured the game was easy but he learned there was a lot to it after laboring the whole afternoon.

PAUL - EMILE MICHEL, ROLAND ALLARD and President Gad Dumouchel did a great job while members of the press and radio attended to the parade. Gilbert Fouchard, CHRD, Roger Levesque, Jean Roux and Pierre Roux were the main organizers. Congratulations gentlemen for a fine job.

THE RACE FOR honors in the Provincial Baseball League is certainly developing into a tight battle. Thetford Miners are the latest to take over. They have a string of nine straight going for them and hold a two game lead over Sherbrooke, Drummondville and Granby.

THE ALS RAN into them on the weekend and came out on the short end of 5-2 and 9-3 counts. The fans also had a little extra excitement when Martinez and Miners' Kaiser staged a brawl. Martinez landed two good blows but the benches emptied quick and the fight didn't last too long.

UMPIRE NICK MAFARA will no doubt make his report to President Yvon Ellyson. Fines and suspensions should follow but this will depend on what Mafara's report states. To complete things the Als dropped the verdict. Despite setbacks the Als are still in the battle for top spot.

LENNOXVILLE GOLF and Country Club held their annual Field Day on the weekend and over two hundred golfers took part. It was a huge success and the course was in fine shape.

WE HAD THE opportunity of looking over the new nine holes and when it will be finished it will be something great. The greens look good enough to play on but the fairways are still in progress of finishing off along with the sand traps. I think it will be one of the better courses around these parts.

THE $50,000 SUMMER CLASSIC at Blue Bonnets was a huge success more ways than one. A total of $1,000,807 was bet by the 20,626 fans on hand and the second fastest mile registered in Canada, 1:58, was paced by True Duane.

THE TWO CANADIAN entries, Golden Blend and Timey Knight, finished fourth and fifth while Cardinal King, trained and driven by Stanley Dancer, finished last. It must have been quite a race.

OLYMPICS CAME up with a terrific performance Sunday evening but with the outstanding work of Gilbert Sawyer in Sorrel's nets they came out on the short end of a 7-6 count. It was one of the better games seen here this year and had plenty of action.

SAWYER WAS especially brilliant in the last ten minutes of the game as time after time he blocked off the hard drives from the Olympics. Penalties proved costly to both clubs. The Titans tallied three times when they had the man advantage while the Olympics picked up the same number.

THE OLYMPICS seem to have found their bearings and should commence to show more improvement. They were in a little mix-up with the changing of their coach but it looks as though things will straighten away.

QUEBEC SENIOR Hockey League will hold their annual meeting this afternoon at Leandre Mercier's cottage at Katevale. It should be quite a meeting if advance reports are any indication. It seems everybody is looking for a job on the executive which is a change from past years.

THE CLUBS HAVE to deposit their bonds at the meeting and a general idea of the coming season will be known. I will be surprised if the National team is represented meaning they will drop out. They intend exhibition games only.

RUMORS HAVE BEEN circulating regarding what will happen but nothing will be official until after the meeting. The new constitution will be adopted and whoever is elected should have things easy in future years. I don't think there will be many changes. Quite a few clubs have commenced plans for the coming season and it should be a banner year.

THE ANNUAL Joe Colby Memorial Trophy will be at stake Saturday at the Sherbrooke Country Club and Gordon Harmer, club captain, reports a new system will be used.

THE FIELD WILL be divided into six classes, based on handicaps. There will be no special classes, it will go by handicaps and players are reminded they must have their cards up to date if they wish to compete. No one will be allowed to play unless he has his official handicap card signed by the club captain within the past fifteen days. If this is put in force it will be something new. At Lennoxville Sunday everyone was asked for their cards and they had them.

I THINK THIS is a good way and gives everyone a better chance with the high hand players competing with players of their own strength. Post Entries will be accepted and the draw will appear in Thursday's edition.

Als sweep past Mets 9-8, Indians blank Miners 7-0

Sherbrooke Alouettes swept past the Lachine Mets 9-8 last night in Lachine on the strength of a seventh inning-bases loaded triple by Juan Sabathier.

In other Provincial Baseball League action Quebec Indians stopped the Thetford Miners' winning streak at nine as they cornered the Miners 7-0 in the Capital City last night. A three run homer by Fred Hopke in the first followed by a home run, with none aboard, by Harvey Yancey in the same inning put the Indians ahead 4-0. Luis de Leon went all the way on the mound for Quebec, blanking the Miners on seven hits while his teammates committed a single error.

Doug Wagner started for Thetford and was relieved by Yvon Gervais in the sixth. The two combined to give up 13 hits, though all seven runs were charged to Wagner. Drummondville kept their hopes to catch front-running Thetford alive last night when they dropped the slumping Plessisville Braves 6-4 in Drummondville.

In the Provincial League this evening Sherbrooke will rest up for its encounter with the surging Drummondville Royals tomorrow. Drummondville travels to Plessisville while the Capital City Indians are in Lachine to meet the cellar-dwelling Mets.

Granby Cardinals will attempt to move back into first place content on this evening when they met the Thetford Miners in Thetford. Sherbrooke will be back home Thursday evening to host the Quebec Indians at 8 p.m. at the Municipal Stadium.

Als' took the lead in the first last night, 2-0, but the Mets quickly got these back when they added a total seven runs in the second, third and fourth. The Als pick up three runs in the sixth and three more in the seventh on Sabathier's three-run shot.

Enrique Chaviano won his fourth game last night, against one lost, while Wayne Amyotte who relieved Ino Alarcorn in the seventh, suffered his fourth defeat in six appearances, with two wins.

Chaviano and Testa, Alarcorn, Amyotte (7th), Occhionero (7th) and Seara, Homers, Lachine, Dickson.

Indians belt Senators as Yankees win

It was Indians 22-0 over Senators and Yankees 12-8 over White Sox last evening in the Sher-Lenn Little League. Tonight Twins meet Tigers and Orioles tangle with the Red Sox with both games at the Parade Grounds at 6:30.

Senators at no time were in the game against the Indians. Eight errors being charged to them while Yves Longpre, Indian hurler, held them to two singles. These were the features of the game.

Yves Longpre, Denis Gaudreau and Jacques Lambert all hit home runs in the game. Rejean Dostie and Mario Cloutier were the only hitters for the Senators.

There was no scoring in the first two innings, with both Longpre and Provencher showing up well on the mound. Indians broke into the scoring column in the top of the third with four runs. They got two more in the fourth, nine in the fifth and finished off with seven in the sixth. Longpre sent 11 men down by the strikeout route in his win.

Oakland drops Baltimore for their third straight, Angels edge Yanks Sal Bando suddenly has found Baltimore pitching to be a soft touch and Oakland Athletics are driving the battered Orioles to ground.

Bando, who drilled three hits and drove in three runs as Oakland completed a doubleheader sweep over Baltimore Sunday, League than the top. The Athletics, who have beaten Baltimore six times in their last seven meetings, moved into a fifth-place tie with Boston Red Sox—9½ games off the pace.

Jim Fregosi's 12th-inning homer gave California Angels a game 1-1 in the sixth, and allowed only one more hit before leaving for a pinch hitter in the top of the 12th.

The Yankees pushed over a run in the sixth after filling the bases with none out against Jim McGlothlin, but shoddy baserunning cost them a bigger inning. McGlothlin worked out of another bases-loaded jam in the ninth before giving way to winner Minnie Rojas.

Voss, batting .140 going into the White Sox' game against Cleveland at Milwaukee, broke up a scoreless duel in the seventh inning with his two-run triple off Steve Hargan.

Winner Jack Fisher blanked the Indians until the ninth, when pinch hitter Willie Smith doubled home an unearned run before reliever Bob Locker nailed the victory.

Dufferin mixed golf tournament a huge success

DUFFERIN HEIGHTS (Special) — Noella Ashworth and Robert Gardyne combined Sunday to win the Dufferin Heights Golf and Country Club Two-ball-best-ball tournament.

The two combined a net score of 65, one stroke ahead of Alice Farrow and H. Wells. G. Dustin and Al Rollins chalked up net scores of 67 and a half and Pat Norrie and John Ashworth followed with a 69 and a half.

The prizes to the honest golfers went to A. Jacques and A. McVeay with a net score of 130. There were over 50 golfers participating in the event with prizes being presented by the Match Committee; Robert Gardyne, Wally Browning and Doug Henderson.

On June 22 and 23 the Dufferin Heights annual Field Day will be held. Preliminary reports say that many participants have already registered for the events.

Ayer's Cliff sweeps two from Coaticook to extend lead in Massawippi loop

Ayer's Cliff Lakers took a commanding three-game lead in the Massawippi Valley Baseball League standings over the weekend when they took both ends of a home and away series from Coaticook Sunday afternoon and evening.

Lakers downed the Canadiens 7-5 in the afternoon tilt at Ayer's Cliff and Sunday evening took a 4-1 decision in Coaticook. In other Massawippi League action, Magog outslugged Sherbrooke 10-7 in Magog Sunday. Lakers will rest until next Saturday afternoon when they travel to Magog and Sunday afternoon Ayer's Cliff will play hosts to Sherbrooke.

In Sunday afternoon's game Coaticook took the lead in the top of the third on a home run by Michaud with none aboard. In the last of the fourth, Lakers scored three runs on singles by Holmes, Lamey, Peak and Mooney.

In the top of the sixth Coaticook scored one run when Lamey came home on singles by Labrecque and Pinard. Ayer's Cliff moved ahead 5-2 in the last of the sixth on two more runs. Doubles by Denton and Peak and a single by Mooney drove home two men.

Lakers rounded out their scoring in the last of the seventh with two runs on a walk to Starr, a single by Holmes and Rollie Denton's two-run double. Coaticook managed two runs in the eighth on two walks and a two-run single by Marcoux. Canadiens added one more in the ninth. Winning pitcher was Wayne Nugent who, in eight innings, allowed five hits and five runs. Reliever Keith Peak allowed one hit. Pinard dent all the way for Coaticook and picked up the loss.

In Sunday evening's tilt Lakers took the lead in the top of the fourth with a run on a single by Holmes, who advanced to second on a pass ball and home on Denton's single. The score remained 1-0 until the top of the eighth when the Lakers picked up three more runs.

Leading off the eighth Starr singled, Lamey walked and Denton singled, scoring one run. Peak followed with another single driving home two more runs. In the last of the ninth Gagnon singled, advanced to third on Dawson's double and scored on an infield out.

Keith Peak's six-hitter earned him the win, while Coaticook's Claude Legare took the loss. Legare allowed seven hits before being relieved in the ninth by Pinard.

Pirates knock Astros deeper in cellar, Braves edge Redlegs 3-2

What kind of host locks his guests in the cellar?

The Pirates did it to the Astros after Houston obviously overstay a visit to Pittsburgh.

Stuck in the National League cellar themselves until last Thursday, the Pirates completed a five-game sweep of the Astros with a 4-3 victory Monday night that shoved Houston deep into last place.

Pittsburgh now is tied for eighth place.

Atlanta Braves also took a step up the stairs, moving into second place with a 3-2 victory over Cincinnati Reds in the only other game played.

Los Angeles was rained out at Philadelphia.

The Pirates started their series in Forbes Field against Houston only one game ahead of the Astros after climbing out of the cellar with a victory over San Francisco Giants last Thursday.

Canadian Open starts Thursday with top pro golfers competing TORONTO (CP) — Everything about Julius Boros is relaxed, from his effortless swing to his ambling approach to every green.

Big Julie displayed his relaxed approach Monday as he practiced for the 72-hole Canadian open golf championship which starts here Thursday at St. George's Golf Club.

Boros started in a foursome with veteran Miller Barber and two young touring professionals. Barber and Boros stopped at the 10th hole, told the younger players to go on and then waved another two some through.

"These young fellows move pretty fast," said Boros. "It's tough keeping up with them."

That's the type of quiet approach to the game that earned Boros $126,785 last season after the 48-year-old veteran regained his putting touch.

PLAY LEISURELY

Boros and Barber played the last nine holes leisurely. From the 10th through the 15th holes, Boros hit every green and was putting for six consecutive birdies, which he never made. He appeared more interested in testing the greens for angles, trying to commit the contours to memory.

"You hope you can remember them," he said. "You try to."

While many of the touring professionals practised over the par-70, 6,792-yard layout, another 132 golfers were playing for the 20 spots still available in the four-day Open.

The tournament carries total prize money of $125,000, with a first prize of $25,000. Ken Girard of Toronto, a former National Hockey League player with Toronto Maple Leafs and Detroit Red Wings, was the low scorer among the qualifiers, carding a five-under-par 67 at another Toronto course.

FOLLOW WITH 68, 69s

Dick Carmody of Long Beach, Calif., followed Girard with a 68, while Ted Makalena of Hawaii, Kobie LeGrange of South Africa, Hal Irwin of Denver and Rocky Thompson of Wichita Falls, Tex., came in with 69s.

The golfers get two more days of practice rounds before the tournament Thursday.

The field is one of the best ever to play in a Canadian tournament. Included is the Big Three of defending champion Billy Casper, former champion Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus. Other top names include two-time winners Doug Ford and Jim Ferrier, Gary Player of South Africa and Lee Trevino, who won the U.S. Open at Rochester Sunday.

The top Canadians are touring professionals George Knudson and Al Balding, both of Toronto.

Come and spend a week-end with us and enjoy your favorite game of golf, take a dip in our heated swimming pool or just relax in our comfortable dining room. We also have a snack bar at your disposal in case you don't want to miss any of the fun, so come on down and spend a week-end with us.

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Use of Laxatives
Can Cause Gas Pains

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—When I eat my meals, or even when I drink fluids, I get loud rumblings from my stomach. What causes this? Can anything be done to stop it?

A—The rumblings come from a mixture of gas and fluids, not in your stomach but in your intestines. It is increased by taking laxatives, eating foods that are known gas-formers and the nervous habit of air swallowing. For complete relief you must avoid the cause. For temporary relief, a defrothing agent, such as activated charcoal, is worth a try. Several new defrothers that contain methylpolysiloxane are available but their effectiveness has not been conclusively proved.

Q—I get severe chest pains during the night. My doctor says they are gas pains. Why would gas pains persist for over two years?

A—They will persist indefinitely unless your doctor can find and remove the cause.

Q—Is it true that a person with a heart condition should not take baking soda to cause belching and relieve the gas in her stomach?

A—Gas in the stomach or intestines may irritate a sensitive heart by causing pressure on it. Soda combining with the acid gastric juice would increase the amount of gas in the stomach. Conscious efforts to belch also increase the gas because they are invariably accompanied by air swallowing. Bicarbonate of soda is rarely given any more because its chief use (alkalinizing the stomach contents and the blood) is better served by using other ant-acids that neither form gas in the stomach nor stimulate a rebound production of acid gastric juice.

Q—How does measles injure the ear? What other causes of nerve deafness are there?

A—Middle-ear infection (otitis media) is a common complication of measles. If it is not cured promptly it may extend into the inner ear and cause permanent deafness.

Nerve deafness may be caused by other febrile diseases, such as mumps, influenza, scarlet fever, malaria, typhoid fever and meningitis. An overdose of quinine, salicylates (including aspirin) and streptomycin; exposure to loud noises and some types of skull fracture also cause nerve deafness.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Everything happens to the unlucky expert. That is... everything bad. He must have something good occasionally but we never hear about it. Here is his latest tale of woe:

"With 24 points including two aces and all four kings, I was certainly entitled to go to six no-trump. For anyone else 24 plus 10 or 34 is enough for a slam. Most of the time 32 is enough for my opponents. This time, with the bad break in hearts, I had no play for six. West opened his 10 of diamonds. East's jack lost to my king and I cashed my ace and king of hearts to see what would happen. West showed out and it became apparent to me that West had opened a four-card diamond suit to the 10. I led a diamond. West played the eight and I ducked. East showed out and West proceeded to cash three more diamond tricks and set me three. Imagine a man leading away from an ace against six no-trump!"

We sympathized with our friend, but we really felt that he deserved this bit of bad luck. He had no play for his

They were: Robin White, Stanstead; Wayne Cunningham, Rock Island; Walter Neill, Hudson Heights; Jonathan Cowen, Fort Chambly; Anthony Gillespie, St. Sauveur des Monts; Andrew Merrill, Thetford Mines; and Wayne Thompson, Montreal. The last five are students at Stanstead College.

The Bishop read the Lessons from the Scripture, the hymn, Come, Holy Ghost, was sung. After renewal of the Baptismal vows by the candidates, the Laying On of Hands by the Bishop confirmed the boys, and was followed by prayers.

The Bishop, in his address, referred to a Bible passage, The Holy Spirit will bear witness, and his message was on these words: One must bear witness to Christ and to his work, he said, go into the darkness and give evidence, if you are going to be a witness to Christ, you must first know honesty," and concluded by adding, "this is what confirmation is all about."

The choir led for the singing of appropriate hymns for this service. The crucifer was Gordon White and the servers to the Bishop, Merlin Alger and George Barnes.

The following morning, June 1, Bishop Stradling, with Father Peirce, officiated for the Holy Eucharist served to the newly confirmed.

SUPPER
At six o'clock a supper was served in the Parish hall and gave an opportunity for members of the congregation to meet the Bishop.

Arrangements were in charge of the Guild. After being introduced by Father Peirce, Bishop Stradling offered the Blessing. The supper was served buffet style.

Ulford Cargill, rector's warden, extended a warm welcome to Bishop Stradling, who is spending a few weeks in the Diocese of Quebec, before going on to England for the Lambeth Conference, a gathering of Bishops of the Anglican communion. Mr. Cargill noted that Christ Church is prayer partner with the Diocese of Johannesburg and asked Bishop Stradling to take back the greetings of Christ Church Parish to Father Rakale, a negro priest and Father Blythe, a white priest, both of his Diocese and both former visitors at Christ Church Parish in the past.

Diane Prangle and Heather Peirce, Christ Church Girls Auxiliary, on behalf of the G.A. groups, presented Bishop Stradling with a sum of money, the Eucharist offering at the Diocesan Festival held recently at Quebec Lodge on Lake Massawippi. Miss Prangle, in her remarks, said the money is for St. Joseph's Home for Colored Children in Johannesburg.

In expressing his appreciation Bishop Stradling also mentioned how much he is enjoying his visit in the Quebec Diocese.

You, like most families, are probably making payments on your house, your car and other things that bring you a comfortable and enjoyable life. Without your regular income could you continue these payments or would there be a severe adjustment in your living standards?

Call the Man from Manufacturers. He'll be glad to help you with a plan tailored to your needs. A plan with a guarantee that the protection can be renewed to age 65 and which in the interval cannot be changed or cancelled by the Company, regardless of what happens to your health.
