

Paper Firms
Impose Heavy Penalties

MONTREAL (CP)—Fines totalling $240,000 were imposed Wednesday on 17 pulp and paper companies convicted of conspiracy to fix prices in Quebec, Ontario and New Brunswick between 1947 and 1954.

Mr. Justice Harry Batshaw of Court of Queen's Bench found the companies guilty in a 97-page judgment that ruled agreements among the companies had served to unduly limit competition.

What was believed a record amount of evidence and exhibits for the Montreal district marked the trial that opened last Oct. 13 and ended April 11.

The prosecution filed 15,000 exhibits and the defence 48 comprising 500 separate documents. There were 60 witnesses. The 54 called by the 12 defending lawyers contributed 500,000 words to the record.

PLEADED NOT GUILTY
All 17 companies pleaded not guilty when arraigned on summonses under a complaint signed by the RCMP.

The heaviest fines—$25,000—were levied against Canadian International Paper Company and Howard Smith Paper Mills.

Fines of $20,000 were imposed on four firms—E. B. Eddy Company, Anglo-Canadian Pulp and Paper Mills, Consolidated Paper Corporation and St. Lawrence Corporation.

Abitibi Power and Paper Company and Gaspesia Sulphite Company were each fined $15,000.

Four companies were ordered to make $10,000 payments—Donnacona Paper Company, KVP Company, Ontario Paper Company and St. Anne Paper Company.

Fines of $8,000 were imposed against the other five firms—Armstrong Forest Company, Gair Company of Canada, James MacLaren Company, Richmond Pulp and Paper Company and Spruce Falls Company.

Mr. Justice Batshaw said the documents filed by the prosecution showed price-fixing meetings were held and company representatives that attended them later gave instructions accordingly to field employees and wood dealers.

He said he decided the fines should be substantial and exemplary while not vindictive. They were apportioned with regard to degree of participation in the conspiracy—initiative, length of time involved and market share.

Press Hunt For Man In Murder
TORONTO (CP)—Police today pressed their search for Leonard Ede, 35, wanted on a warrant charging him with murder in connection with the trunk death of Mrs. Marjorie E. Scott, 37.

The warrant was issued Tuesday following identification of Mrs. Scott's body, shipped express collect last month in a trunk from Toronto to Argentina, Nfld.

Detectives Wednesday concentrated their search for the suspect in a residential district in downtown Toronto. Mrs. Scott is believed to have been living in that area shortly before her disappearance.

Cause of her death has not yet been established. Wednesday in Kingston, Ont., Ede's father said he was shocked at the news a warrant has been issued in Toronto for his son's arrest.

Leonard Ede, who has the same name as his son, said the younger Leonard was "a good boy who attended church and Sunday school as a lad." He is one of seven children.

MYSTERY SOLVED—Police have identified the body of a woman found stuffed in a trunk shipped from Toronto to Argentina, Nfld., as Marjorie Scott, shown in this police photo taken in 1944. She had been a waitress at Napanee, Ont., and had served a three-month reformatory term for theft in 1944. The trunk was shipped collect to Argentina last month. (CP Photo)

Resigns Bishop's Posts Because Of Ill Health

Dr. Arthur Russell Jewitt, principal and vice-chancellor of Bishop's University for the past 12 years, has resigned his posts because of ill health, it was announced in Montreal yesterday by John H. Molson, president of the University Corporation, following a meeting of the executive committee.

Born in England and brought up in Halifax, N.S., Dr. Jewitt received his B.A. at Dalhousie University, N.B., and his M.A. at Oxford University in 1930.

In 1935-36 Dr. Jewitt studied at Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y., where he received his Ph.D.

Prior to his appointment at Bishop's, Dr. Jewitt served as head of the department of English at the University of Western Ontario for two years.

Before that time he was an associate professor of English at Dalhousie University for 14 years.

Coming to Bishop's at a time when the university was about to undergo a vast program of expansion and reconstruction, many changes have been made on the campus under the administration of Dr. Jewitt.

Among the new buildings erected since his appointment, are the Women's Residence and the John Bassett Memorial Library.

"I have no definite plans for the future but I am looking forward to a quieter life," Dr. Jewitt said this morning.

Seeks Asylum
Cuban Diplomat Resigns

OTTAWA (CP)—H. E. Luis A. Baralt Mederos announced today that he has submitted his resignation as Cuban ambassador to Canada and will seek political asylum in Canada.

He said in a statement that his action was taken because "I find that as head of mission, though a career diplomat as well, I can no longer defend, either effectively or with a clear conscience, those major items of policy with which I totally disagree."

The ambassador said he had wired his resignation to the ministry of foreign relations in Havana Wednesday. "This was followed up with a letter of resignation to President DORTICOS of Cuba in which I set down in detail the reasons for my decision."

"Though my future plans are vague, it is my intention to ask permission from the Canadian government to remain in this country," the statement continued. "I have enjoyed so much my all too brief posting in Canada, and I have made so many wonderful friendships among Canadians, that if Canada would have me I would feel grateful and overjoyed."

Denied By Officials
WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States Wednesday branded as entirely false an accusation by Fidel Castro that U.S. officials were conspiring to promote an invasion of Nicaragua from Cuba. A state department statement denying the Cuban premier's charge in turn accused Castro of pushing a "deliberate campaign of slander" against the United States.

Suspect Remanded
TORONTO (CP)—Joseph Normandin, 20, of Montreal, charged with murder in the knife slaying of Toronto salesman Alexander Bakalakis, was Wednesday remanded to June 22.

Accedes To Request Of Kishi

MANILA (AP)—President Eisenhower today agreed to postpone his visit to Japan because of leftist rioting in Tokyo.

James Hagerly, White House press secretary, told a press conference that although the president "would have liked to fulfill his long-held ambition" to visit Japan, "he fully respects the decision of the Japanese authorities" that he should postpone his trip.

The president blamed postponement of his visit on a small organized minority "led by professional Communist agitators."

Premier Nobusuke Kishi had said the same thing in announcing his government's decision to ask the president not to come.

Hagerly said Eisenhower was confident that the "deliberate challenges to law and order" in Japan will not and cannot wreck Japanese-American relations.

Reading a prepared statement, Hagerly said the president wanted to make known his "full and sympathetic understanding of the decision taken by the Japanese government."

Hagerly also reported that until today Eisenhower had no indication that the Japanese would ask that his visit be postponed.

The Japanese government's decision cast a pall of regret and uncertainty over the president's entourage, but the regret was mixed with relief that he would not have to risk his personal safety on a mission he apparently had been determined to fulfill.

Secret service aides, who had been gravely worried over the threat of violence to the president in Tokyo, heard the news with undisguised pleasure.

Press secretary James Hagerly was advised of Kishi's decision at the moment Eisenhower began a public farewell speech to the Filipinos who have greeted him enthusiastically.

Freak Accident Kills Mill Owner

GREYBULL, Wyo. (AP)—An eight-foot plank was hurled over a sawmill and through the chest of a man standing on the opposite side of the building Wednesday.

S. H. Grisham, about 54, the sawmill owner, was killed when impaled by the eight-foot shaft.

A mill worker said the plank somehow caught on the saw and was hurled from his grasp.

July 1 Trial For Powers
MOSCOW (Reuters)—Francis Powers, the American pilot shot down over the Soviet Union May 1, will be put on trial here at the beginning of July, according to usually reliable sources.

The informants added it will be open trial with journalists, diplomats and even tourists invited.

The source was unable to say how long the trial was expected to last or where it would be held.

Total Disarmament Plan Rejected May Try UN

GENEVA (AP)—The Soviet Union is expected to turn to the fall session of the United Nations General Assembly as the next arena in which to press Premier Khrushchev's revised plan for total disarmament.

This was the view of Western officials at the stalemated 10-power disarmament conference today following their rejection of the main provision of Khrushchev's proposals.

United States Ambassador Frederick M. Eaton turned thumbs down on the Soviet plan to start world disarmament by banning vehicles for delivering nuclear bombs and abolishing all foreign military bases.

Eaton said this would give the Soviet Union unquestioned military superiority in Europe and would leave the non-Communist European countries "at the mercy of their larger eastern neighbor."

Eaton said this would give the Soviet Union unquestioned military superiority in Europe and would leave the non-Communist European countries "at the mercy of their larger eastern neighbor."

There was no reply from Soviet delegate Valerian A. Zorin at the conference session Wednesday. But Soviet officials said the Western rejection left little prospect that the conference could achieve anything.

MADE NO PROGRESS
The U.S.-Soviet-British talks on a nuclear test ban also made no progress toward agreement at their session Wednesday.

Soviet Ambassador Semyon K. Tsarapkin formally demanded the right for the Russians to inspect every detail of all U.S. nuclear devices used in tests seeking methods of detecting small underground nuclear blasts.

He said that if this is refused, the Soviet Union will regard any U.S. nuclear test explosion as a breach of the 19-month-old test truce being observed by the three powers.

The U.S. has already announced it is no longer bound by the test truce, but has invited Soviet scientists to witness 12 underground explosions planned to improve detection techniques. But the Russians would not be permitted to see the actual explosive mechanisms.

U.S. Ambassador James J. Wadsworth said he was disappointed at Tsarapkin's stand and expressed hope that the talks could return to a "more businesslike" atmosphere.

Fixed Grants For Institutions Promise Of Liberal Candidate
By CUTHBERT JONES
Record Staff Writer

School commissions, hospitals and other public institutions should be assured of fixed grants from the provincial government so their administrators will not have to crawl and swear allegiance to the party in power to receive financial assistance, Louis-Philippe Brousseau, Liberal candidate in Sherbrooke, told an English-speaking audience at the Sherbrooke High School auditorium last night.

"In the Province of Quebec we are at present subjected to principles that are basically bad," Mr. Brousseau declared. "Right has been twisted and set aside for political considerations."

"One has only to examine this system of grants now in existence. If you are a member of a school board, school commission, a public body or a hospital, the government authorities compel you to crawl and swear allegiance to the Union Nationale party."

"What we advocate is that public bodies and institutions be allowed to operate on a business basis. In other words, we want these bodies to know that during the course of their fiscal year they will be assured of a grant of 'X' dollars," Mr. Brousseau declared.

"My opponent, the local minister, has been talking frequently of the last grant he gave to the Sherbrooke Hospital," the Liberal candidate continued. "First of all, I would like to remind him that this grant is made up of your money and mine and that this grant is inadequate for the only English Hospital in this area where full medical services are given patients."

"I sympathize with the administrators of this hospital who never know from year to year if they will receive a government

Master Plan For Montreal

Would Pay Half Cost Of New Expressway

QUEBEC (CP)—Premier Antonio Barrette told an election campaign rally Wednesday night in his Union Nationale government will assume half the cost of construction of Montreal's cross-island expressway.

Speaking in Montreal, he said the government has prepared a master plan for a system of approach - highways around the metropolis.

The system would have 350 miles of roads, extending in a 50-mile radius around Montreal, and would cost $150,000,000.

Liberal Leader Jean Lesage, speaking in the capital, issued a warning against inter-party feuding on election day, June 22.

He said the Union Nationale organization had better not try to tangle with the Liberal organization.

"It is an army we have," he said. "They had better not try to tangle with it or attempt any frauds. We are ready. We are invincible."

Mr. Barrette told his Montreal audience, estimated at about 9,000 persons, that his administration will meet the Montreal metropolitan commission "as soon as possible after the June 22 election" to determine the amounts already paid for work done on the Montreal expressway and the sums needed to complete the job.

Cost of the projected 33-mile expressway, much of which will be elevated, has been estimated at between $125,000,000 and $185,000,000. It was originally to be paid entirely by Montreal Island municipalities.

CRITICAL OF LIBERALS
He spoke critically of the campaign waged by the Liberals. "The Liberal party has no program," he said. "Its only program boils down to all kinds of promises, a campaign of lies and slanders."

Mr. Lesage said the Liberals are offering Quebec citizens a change of administration.

Mr. Lesage also said the Union Nationale party plans to publish documents— which "we have absolute proof" are forgeries—in the last moments of the campaign.

He said publication is planned for such a late date so "we will not have time to counter or reply."

The documents, he said, are three forgeries which purport to be letters "I signed and affecting certain persons or groups."

"I swear," Mr. Lesage said, "they are three forgeries. I say to those involved in this, beware!"

Reds Fear Canadian Timbermen May Disrupt The World Market

LONDON (CP)—Russia has expressed fears that Canada may disrupt world timber markets, it was learned Wednesday.

The Soviet claims, which caused more than a little surprise in the timber trade, were voiced during the recent annual conference of European importers and exporters of softwood in London.

The Soviet delegate took issue with a statement by E. J. White, Canadian government timber specialist in London. White, a member of the Canadian trade commissioner service, said Canada is seriously interested in expanding softwood sales in Europe and can physically supply any requirement that may develop either this year or in the foreseeable future. The Russians said they thought White was going too far. By giving buyers a "false" idea of quantities available, the Canadians would upset the market.

DROP IN SHIPMENTS
In his market review, White said Britain is a traditional and historical market for Canadian timber. In 1947 roughly 1,000,000 board feet of softwoods were shipped from Canada to Britain. But in 1959 it had dropped to 296,000,000 board feet. Canada, once the biggest supplier for the British market, has dropped to fourth place — after Sweden, Finland and the Soviet Union.

About Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
 NEW YORK (AP) — There probably wasn't a dry eye in NBC's audience Tuesday night (except perhaps Humane Society members fretting about Monterrey roosters) as the network showed a documentary film about the birth and triumph of a Mexican Little League baseball team.

 The movie was obviously chopped down to fit into 90 minutes, including commercials of irritating frequency, and had English dubbed onto its sound track. But even so, How Tall is a Giant? was one of those poignant, heart-warming stories, because it involved small boys, enthusiasm and courage.

 It followed what host Ernie Ford called a team of "raggedy pants" Monterrey boys from the organization of their Little League in the spring of 1957 to a magnificent moment a few months later in Williamsport, Pa. There they won the world championship from a California team as their star, 12-year-old Angel Macias, pitched a perfect game. (Angel practised his curve by lethally beanballing the family fowls).
 The whole Monterrey team, its volunteer coach and its manager, re-enacted the events, giving the film appeal and validity.

Show Business

By BOB THOMAS
 HOLLYWOOD (AP) — As if things didn't look gloomy enough, here's Tab Hunter with the observation:
 "I'm afraid Hollywood is losing its position as movie capital of the world. Everything seems to be shifting toward Europe. The strikes didn't help—both the actors' and the writers'—and production is getting lower and lower."

"But even without the strikes, it looks as though Hollywood is losing out. Movies are making more money in foreign countries than they do in the United States. So why not shoot the pictures abroad?"

"Americans are too lazy to go to the movies as a habit any more."
 "They'll go out for Ben-Hur—that kind of attraction. But otherwise they'd rather stay home and watch TV."

ANOTHER LOST
 If Hunter sounds like a convert to TV—he is. And so the movies lose another promising star.

His detractors might argue that Tab never won any awards with his acting. Maybe not, but he is an attractive personality of the kind that Hollywood used to build into household names. He has appeared creditably in top films and has a wide following among the younger set.

Now TV will reap what the movies have sown.
 "I like the picture business," he declared. "But an actor just can't rely on it any more. Sure, I could work all the time in cheap pictures or else go to Europe for films. But I don't want to."

"I didn't do a single picture last year; it was all TV."
 "TV is the coming thing—in fact, it's here. So I decided to join it." He'll have a show of his own this fall.

He also is opening a shop in Beverly Hills this month to sell art objects he has collected during trips to the Orient.

This year's 'Diamond Jubilee' Sherbrooke Fair will be bigger and better than ever, Eastern Townships Agricultural Association directors announced yesterday. Dates of this year's fair are August 26 to September 1. For the 75th year of entertainment, fair directors have given authority to the CAC — Hamid entertainment agency to highlight aerial and acrobatic acts this year. As an added attraction fair patrons will have a chance of winning 10 automobiles in drawings. The Hamid show will consist of the Manhattan Rockets, a 20-girl chorus line who will present four dance routines including a salute to football. In the acrobatic part of the performance the Great Becket act, the Borjevas team, the Great Barton finger balancing act and the Bardines will perform during the one and a half hour show. Les Blue and Ivette will perform a juggling act from bicycles while the Grimaldis will take care of the comedy end of the show. A special attraction, the Allen's Bear Act is designed to delight the youngsters. This year as in the past, agricultural and industrial exhibits will be on display. A giant bingo will mark the opening night of the week long fair. On the executive committee of this year's fair are: W. W. Nichol, second vice-president; Dr. Ernest Mercier, first vice-president. Other members of the executive are: R. A. Webster, chairman of the grandstand committee; Eugene Lamontagne, secretary-treasurer; W. MacDougall, chairman of the publicity committee; Louis Codere, chairman of the midway committee; Alec Ross, manager of the fair; Col. Emile Levesque, director; Don MacMillan, director and Antonio St. Marie, director.

Gasoline Explosion Victims

GIRL, 8, FIGHTING FOR LIFE
SISTER, 5, DIES OF BURNS

An eight-year-old Tomifobia girl, one of two sisters severely burned in a gasoline fire May 23, is in very critical condition in Hotel Dieu Hospital today. Hospital authorities said this morning that Raymond Roy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Roy, is not responding well to treatment for third-degree burns which she suffered. Her sister, five-year-old Ginette, died Sunday at Hotel Dieu Hospital. The accident occurred when a brother of the two girls attempted to start his father's car by pouring gasoline in the motor. There was an explosion, and the two girls, who were playing nearby, were sprayed with flaming gas.

Doors Unlocked
2 Apartments Looted
For $250 Merchandise

Thieves made off with merchandise valued at approximately $250 after entering two apartments in an apartment house on Sanborn street early yesterday morning or the previous evening. In both cases, there was no evidence of a break-in, and it was apparent that the doors had been unlocked, since both victims assured police that they had locked their doors before going out for the evening. The robberies took place between 10 p.m. and 1.30 a.m. A transistor radio valued at $75 was taken from the first apartment and a suit and cuff-links valued at $175 were taken from the second apartment. In the latter case, it was the second time this year that the apartment had been burglarized. On May 25, the sum of $80 was taken.

Liming Any Time Avoids Spring Rush

Each spring, farmers have difficulty in securing lime just at the time it is required. Roads are closed to heavy traffic just at the time that many farmers would like delivery of ground limestone. A few days ago, I was in the Agricultural office in Newport. I found a small folder which, I thought, covers the lime situation very satisfactorily. This folder was written by Mr. W. A. Way, Extension Agronomist for Vermont. It is entitled: "LIME ANY TIME."

Empire Loyalist Descendant

No Armchair For 93-Year-Old,
He Walks Five Miles Each Day

MELBOURNE — "The armchair has killed more old men than anything else in the world." Expounding his point of view, John Charles Martin, 93, Melbourne, explained that he made it a point to walk five miles a day, mostly around towns of Melbourne and Richmond. Mr. Martin is the grandson of a family of United Empire Loyalists who were among the first to settle near what is now the town of Richmond on the St. Francis River. "In those days, people just picked out a piece of land they liked and settled on it. The Canadian Government would then, with certain stipulations, hand the tract of land over to the settler provided it was not more than 100 acres," he said. A vigorous man in good health, Mr. Martin is somewhat handicapped by the fact that he has very poor eyesight. Five years ago, he was completely blind, but underwent an operation which allowed him to regain a small percentage of his vision. Aside from his constant daily exercise, he attributes his good health partly to the fact that he never smoked and never drank. Mr. Martin saw active duty with the North West Mounted Police during mopping-up operations following the Riel Rebellion of 1865. At that time, he was a 17-year-old trainee at a St. Johns, Quebec military school and was drafted for service against the Metis in the western provinces. He described conditions at that time as much wilder than today. "There were a lot more wolves, and a lot more Indians in those days. The Indians were, on the average, tall, lean men who could stand a lot of hardship, but they were not very talkative people—you could consider yourself lucky if you got more than a few grunts out of them." On a later trip to the west in the early 1900's, Mr. Martin worked with a surveying team in the north and homesteaded for a short time. However, he returned after several years, and for the last 55 years, has been living in or around Melbourne. He married and settled down on a farm and raised a family of five. But he was not content to be just a farmer, and combined that work with the building of houses in Melbourne until he went blind five years ago. Seven years ago, his wife died, and he is at present boarding in a house belonging to Mrs. Lillian Pierce, of Melbourne.

The Eichmann Case

Argentina is going to ask the United Nations Security Council to take up its charge that an Israeli group's removal of Adolf Eichmann violated Argentine sovereignty.

But the real implications of the case go far beyond this charge.

They lie in Israel's determination to try the man who is charged with sending millions of Jews to horrible deaths during the Second World War.

No one will dispute the enormity of the crimes with which Eichmann is charged. No one would blame Israel for wanting to lay hands on the man. Even today, 15 years after the end of the Second World War, even passing reference to the fate the Jews in Europe makes the blood run cold and then boil.

But there is serious question as to whether justice will be served if Eichmann is tried in Israel. If his trial goes on, it has all the aspects of a show trial. It will surely convict the man and sentence him to death.

An international tribunal would probably come to the same verdict and sentence.

But the difference between an international court and an Israeli court in the eyes of the world would represent the difference between justice and vengeance.

No matter how fair, just and capable those connected with an Israeli trial are (and they would certainly be most capable men) the rest of the world would regard their actions only as revenge.

There will be many, perhaps most of those who follow the case, who will sympathize with this revenge.

But how satisfying and complete would it be to take the life of one miserable man in return for the millions who died in unspeakable agony.

Revenge of this kind can only be petty. Israel will gain more honor, and the world more justice if Eichmann is turned over to an international tribunal.

The crimes committed may have been specifically against the Jews, but in the larger sense, they were crimes against the whole of humanity.

Some Facts And Figures

No one can deny that the automotive industry has a considerable impact on the economy of Canada.

For this reason, no matter what views they hold on foreign trade, Canadians should at least study some facts and figures advanced by Stuart Armour, economic advisor to the Steel Company of Canada last week.

Mr. Armour was speaking to the Rotary Club of Chatham, Ont. and remarked on the fact that 165,000 motor vehicles were imported last year. This, he estimated, represented a loss of 33 million man-hours of employment for Canadian workmen.

"Had those vehicles been manufactured in Canada, our unemployment situation would undoubtedly be less disturbing than is still the case today," said Mr. Armour.

Canadians cannot long continue to enjoy North American wages, North American standards of living and the "free-wheeling Canadian way of life" if they are going to spend their wages on foreign cars and other imports, warned Mr. Armour.

Bearding The Lions

A Canadian tobacco firm evidently decided to beard the lions in their den.

The company sent a gift of cigars and cigarettes to 200 cancer experts in convention at Honey Harbour, Ontario.

A note accompanying the gift carefully explained that acceptance did not imply endorsement nor did it imply that tobacco is "necessarily innocuous."

The experts — doctors, researchers and scientists — are divided on what possible role smoking plays in producing cancer of the lungs.

THE COMPETITIVE SPIRIT

(Dun's Review)

Salmon bred from roe in fisheries have a rough time of it when released in tidal waters. The synthetic environment which eliminates danger also dulls the competitive instinct so necessary for survival in a cannibalistic world. The way of nature is rough and hard, whether it is hound against hare, falcon against dove, midge against elm, or crab grass against Kentucky blue.

Risk is the price of a day's adventure. Complete security is an obvious contradiction in terms, just as 100 per cent insurance against any danger or difficulty is as meaningless as it is unwarranted. Risk is an inherent quality in life, and risk is the compensating impulse to survival which is competition.

For instance, thousands of business enterprises fail each year, with financial loss to suppliers and personal loss to proprietors. Can commercial insolvency be prevented? Not entirely. Not in a competitive economy. The right to fail is just as inherent in free enterprise as the right to succeed. Commercial failure is part of the normal wear and tear on the machinery of production and distribution. However, risk implies caution, and caution comes with understanding and experience of the hazards of "going to market."

Most commercial failures are personal failures caused by a mixture of overconfidence and undertraining for the responsibility.

For more than a century, Dun & Bradstreet has maintained commercial insolvency records, and although the rate of failure fluctuates with good times and bad, the reasons for failure are consistent. Most failures are due to controllable errors in the judgment of men, rather than "acts of God" in which man is a victim of accident or circumstance. Innovations in technology, styles or marketing methods influence the trend of a business, and the real test of management skill and stamina often occurs during such shifts. The loss of capital in commercial failure is less significant than the loss in morale, because dollars are easier to recoup than faith in one's ability as an entrepreneur.

Some enterprises fail, recover confidence as well as capital, and start again. There are thousands of business men who have converted the stigma of bankruptcy to a wound stripe, and those who have paid their creditors in full have made it a badge of honor.

There can be no immunity from danger, whether in little, middle, or big business. Many fine textbooks have been written to guide the manager around hazards, but there are no infallible patterns for success, nor cure-alls for errors in judgment. We learn to swim by swimming, and we learn best against the tide.

Mother Nature isn't sentimental about the welfare of her creatures. However, she has an instinct for checks and balances. She increases the speed of the timid, the resistance of the weak, the immunity of the sensitive, and the armor of the sluggish, but she never eliminates individual risk.

The business life is a spirited enterprise, and it offers exciting compensations. But daring must often outweigh caution where decisions must be made. The more we seek shelter, the more we invite mediocrity. There comes a time when we must face realities with the forthright understanding that we are on our own. No fighter ever won a championship punching a bag or shadow-boxing, and no business man can succeed or survive without exposure to competition.

THE FLIES HAVE IT

(Kitchener-Waterloo Record)

We are told by scientists who apparently ought to know, that if a nuclear war didn't eliminate every living thing on earth, germ warfare would. Add to that the news that both the United States and Soviet Russia are working on "death rays" of science fiction fame.

With all these advances in practical knowledge, you'd think that by this time man would be able to wipe out such a common pest as the housefly. But according to Cornell University researchers, flies are amazingly adaptable. Each new insecticide knocks out most of the population, but enough survive to pass on their resistance to a new generation. They laugh at DDT now. The result is the search for constantly better insecticides.

If the little bugs can put up such a fight, maybe the outlook for human beings if another world war broke out is not so bleak. Of course, let's hope we never have to find out.

PHILOSOPHY BETTER THAN HYPNOSIS

(Cape Breton Post)

A patient's attitude toward anything possibly can be changed by hypnosis, but it is nonsense to believe that people should be spared the experience of something distasteful when it is necessary. The softening process has gone far enough. People made so soft by the comforts of modern life as to be unwilling to face anything disagreeable, are on the slick slide down to decadence.

Much more needed than hypnosis is the cultivation of a calm philosophy toward harsh and unescapable facts.

WHOOPEES THREATENED

TORONTO (CP) — The only whooping cranes known to exist in the world are threatened by plans to build a new railway line to the shore of Great Slave Lake in the North West Territories, says the Audubon Society of Canada. The society says the railway as now planned would run through the northern portion of Wood Buffalo National Park, the only known nesting place in Canada of the rare birds.

SCOUT SHORTS

LONDON (CP) — Boy Scout officials are worried because so many boys have been leaving the movement out of distaste for appearing in shorts. A questionnaire now is being sent to 37,000 Scouts and Rover-senior Scouts—asking their opinion.

QUID PRO QUO!

Report From Ottawa

by Clyde Blackburn

OTTAWA — This piece may earn me a sock on the nose from the member of Parliament best qualified to deliver it.

He is George Hees, Minister of Transport and member for Toronto-Broadview since 1950. He will be 50 this week but is a trim, slim athlete and a former amateur boxer.

To be truthful (and this may help earn me that sock), George is about the handsomest man around Ottawa. Also, he has brains. And a lot of money in the bank according to reports.

He still plays strenuous games, is an old footballer and so forth, and takes early morning sprints around the city as a regular thing.

George would like to be Prime Minister of Canada which probably is one of the most normal and decent ambitions a man could have. He has done something about it but not enough, so far, and when the Conservatives were picking a new leader in 1956 he put his own ambitions aside and went all out to support the party's choice, John Diefenbaker.

He makes friends easily and makes his associates feel they are very important to him. He could give Dale Carnegie lessons.

Having known him and his personal magic for 10 years it came as a surprise to me this week to realize I had never written anything about him in this series.

I was reminded about this because of his job in recent days putting Transport Department estimates through the House supply committee.

Ministers and members are just human beings doing a certain job but it can be most important to the minister concerned and to the progress of affairs, how much the minister lets human emotions rule him.

George does a great job here. He says just enough and no more to his needlers. He doesn't let them get his goat. He treats them as a general manager would treat his corporation's shareholders.

His one indulgence is to grasp the opening often given by Opposition needlers to say, with a poker face, that his party has been able to accomplish this or that in spite of the failure of the Liberals to handle it.

But in the main his performance is a model (and there are several of his colleagues who apparently think the same way, fortunately).

Our performance is an open book, he tells them. Obviously we cannot put it all on paper and lay it before you. Just come over and tell us what you are interested in. We will give you the facts and if you have any helpful ideas we will be delighted to hear them.

What is there left to be said? Maybe we have here the Prime Minister of 1970. Maybe not.

But we do have a politician-

Planks For Both Parties

Federal Policies Issues In N.B.

FREDERICTON (CP) — Federal-provincial relations planks have been nailed to both the Progressive Conservative and Liberal platforms for the June 27 New Brunswick election.

Premier Hugh John Flemming is bidding for support on the strength of what he describes as the "good relationship for co-operative action" between his Conservative administration and the PC government at Ottawa.

The federal-provincial fiscal conference opens in Ottawa July 25.

Liberal Leader Louis J. Robichaud says a government formed by his party would make a demand at the Ottawa meeting for "exploration of tariff arrangements."

This would be to permit reciprocal trade on specific items between the Atlantic Provinces and eastern United States under a common market plan.

Both platforms pledge support for efforts to obtain construction of the Chignecto Canal connecting the Bay of Fundy and Northumberland Strait, an equitable transportation policy and capital projects encouragement.

Abolition of the three-per-cent provincial sales tax is described as a continuing objective of the government. The PC platform mentions a forthcoming study of the effects of monetary policy on the Atlantic region while the Liberals recommend relaxation of what they say is the "federal tight money policy."

The government has called for greater use of Atlantic provinces ports and a fair share of ship-building contracts for yards in the area, especially Saint John. Restoration of shipping services between New Brunswick and the West Indies is a Liberal objective.

Premier Flemming, whose supporters held 34 of the 52 seats in the last legislature, promises continuing co-operation with the other Atlantic provinces and neighboring Maine along with support for the Atlantic Provinces Economic Council.

The Liberal platform, with its proponents using the slogan "New Brunswick Can't Wait," proposes a special post-election session to abolish premiums for the government hospital insurance plan and to improve liquor regulations.

Liberals contend the premiums can be paid from general revenue. Government spokesmen say this could only detract from some other service, increase the debt or bring about extra taxation.

The Liberals propose to establish a non-partisan committee of members with a judge as chairman to investigate the liquor situation and make recommendations for improving the laws governing sale.

Other Liberal suggestions are for a new department of youth and welfare, a fulltime deputy minister of fisheries, new mining and child welfare measures, an equal-pay act for women and a million-dollar fund for low-interest loans to new industry.

Premier Flemming has announced a $10,000,000 five-year program for marketing and roads is being instituted immediately. The program to enable better transportation of farm, fishery and forest products to market would be province-wide.

Bygone Days

THIRTY YEARS AGO

A special session of the City Council has been called to study the unemployment situation, with special emphasis on provincial aid for relief works. The following officers were elected for the Brome County W.C.T.U.: Mrs. S. W. Foster, Miss Martin, Mrs. T. Hawley, Mrs. Cecil Woodward, Mrs. G. Martin and Mrs. N. Brook.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

France capitulated in face of the German land offensive and German and Italian leaders are meeting to decide the surrender terms.

TEN YEARS AGO

President Truman is expected to have much tighter control over the formation of the United States' major foreign policy programs as a result of the new appointment to ambassador W. Averell Harriman. Howard Littlejohn, student in Grade XI, is the winner of the Harold S. Pye Memorial Trophy. This was announced by E. E. Denison, principal of Lennoxville High School, after an election which was conducted in the high school grades on June 14.

matter of FACT

"Nazi" was once just the German nickname for "Ig-natz." When Hitler's party, Nationalsozialistische Deutsche Arbeiter-Partei, was coming to the news, obviously a shortened form of this name was needed. So party members took the first two syllables of the party name, which sounded like the familiar diminutive.

Under certain conditions, it may continue for several years.

So, don't wait until the last minute before seeding to decide you need lime. Already it may be late to help the young plants. Plan your lime needs a year ahead and use lime when labor and weather are in your favor.

It's important to mix lime into the soil when you're liming a field for the first time. But for maintenance applications, each four to five years, the method of application is less important than remembering to put lime on. Lime is nontoxic and won't damage or injure livestock. It can be spread any time.

Bulk spreading is the most convenient and perhaps the most satisfactory way to apply lime. Often, it will save both labor and money.

1. Apply on sod before corn.
2. Apply on hayland after first, second, or third cutting.
3. Apply on corn stubble in the fall.
4. Apply before seeding sudan or millet.
5. Apply on pastures any time.

A farm lime spreader is best adopted to small, stony fields and hilly pastures. With bagged lime and a spreader, you can apply lime any time the ground isn't too wet or the snow too deep.

o'clock, there will be a guest speaker, who will outline the importance of Progeny Testing. There will be a Mexican raffle and auction of calves. All beef breeders are cordially invited.

Farmers are reminded that all applications for grants on fertilizer should be sent to their nearest agricultural office before the end of June and if at all possible before June 20th, so that applications may be sent to Quebec before the end of June.

FIXED GRANTS

fact that 13 per cent of the Quebec labor force was unemployed as compared with five per cent in Ontario. But he charged that the provincial government was deficient in three respects:

It had failed to encourage diversification of industry, especially in the smaller towns. As a result, when the one industry in the community curtailed operations for one reason or another, there was no alternate source of employment for the wage-earners.

The Union Nationale had failed to develop secondary industry in connection with the valuable iron ore resources.

The government also had failed, he said, to encourage existing industries.

"Quebec produces some of the finest brick in the world," he declared, "but 74 per cent of the brick used for the erection of the Montreal Polytechnical School was imported from Vermont. And the same applies to other government-sponsored buildings. Rather than encourage local brickyards, the Union Nationale imports brick from the United States because a friend of the administration is agent for the American company."

Other speakers included Mrs. Pierre Beaudry, Cecil Dougherty and Paul Gervais, who acted as chairman of the meeting.

Indians And Red Sox Tie 4-4, Guy Vincent Clouts Homer

Kansas City Holds Yankees To 7-7 Tie, White Sox Down Washington 6-4, Baltimore Splits With Indians

Because what should have been a sacrifice fly was converted into a double play, the New York Yankees have only a share of the American League lead instead of being all alone on top.

The boo-boo came in the third inning of Wednesday night's game at Kansas City. Hector Lopez left third base too soon on a fly ball and was doubled up by the A's—who then twice overcame three-run deficits and tied the Yankees to a 7-7, 10-inning tie.

When rain finally called a halt, the Yankees were all square with Cleveland. And the Baltimore Orioles, who split a two-night pair with the Indians, were just one percentage point back.

The third place Orioles, beating the Injuns 13-5 after a 33-24 first game loss, have a 33-24 record. New York and Cleveland each are 29-21. That figures out to a half-game edge for Baltimore, but percentages form the basis of the standings.

The Chicago White Sox regained fourth place with a 6-4 decision over Washington. Boston spilled Detroit to fifth place by beating the Tigers 4-3 in 10 innings.

That third-inning run that never got home kept the Yankees from an eighth straight victory. Home runs by Yogi Berra and Cletis Boyer sent them into the last of the ninth with a 4-1 lead. But the A's then went to work on starter Ralph Terry and relievers Bobby Shantz and Johnny James, scoring three for a tie on Norm Siebern's sacrifice fly and a pair of bases-loaded walks.

The Yankees scored three more in the 12th, capped by Roger Maris' two-run single off Leo Kiely. But Kansas City, winless in nine consecutive tries against New York, squared it again on Pete Daley's two-run pinch-homer off Ryne Duren, a single by Jerry Lumpe and a triple by Russ Snyder.

EIGHTH-RUN INNING

An eight-run eighth inning did it for the Orioles in the second game after home runs by Al Pilarcik and Gus Triandos had overhauled a 5-0 Cleveland lead. Jim Busby, just back from the minors, doubled twice and drove in two runs in the rally—in which half of Baltimore's runs were unearned. Jim Grant (4-2) was the loser in relief. Hoyt Wilhelm (3-4) won it with four innings of two-hit shutout relief.

The tribe took the opener with four runs with two out in the first inning against Steve Barber (6-3). The first of Johnny Romanos pair of two-run homers settled it. Woody Held also homered with one on for the Indians. Jim Perry (7-2) won it, putting away his sixth in a row with a six-hitter.

Pirates Have Three-Game Bulge, Defeat San Francisco 14-6, Braves Split With Cubs In Twin-Bill

St. Louis Cardinals are seven games behind and Chicago Cubs trail by 9 1/2. But they're the two top clubs in any National League pennant plans Pittsburgh Pirates have at the moment.

The Pirates have a three-game lead, biggest bulge of the season in the majors, after soaking second-place San Francisco Giants 14-6 Wednesday. And they pulled five games away from third-place Milwaukee after the Braves managed only a split with the Cubs in a two-night doubleheader.

But while the Cubs, winning 8-5 after a 5-4 loss, kept the Braves from closing in, the Cardinals continued to look like possible challengers with a 6-0 victory over Cincinnati Reds. It was the fifth success in six games for the fourth-place Cards, who took three of four from the Pirates last weekend. The Cards won behind the three-hit pitching of rookie Ray Sadecki.

Los Angeles Dodgers walloped last-place Philadelphia 14-2 in the other game.

ERROR OPENED DOOR

The seventh-place Cubs, who almost made it a sweep by junking Warren Spahn's four-hit shutout with four ninth-inning runs in the opener, came from behind with six runs in the nightcap eighth. An error by Red Schoendienst, which made four of the runs unearned, and five singles did it as the Cubs tagged starter Carl Willey, losing reliever Ron Piche (0-2) and Lew Burdette in the big frame.

Mo Drabowsky (2-3) won in relief after the Braves scored all

Vincent's Circuit Blow In Top Of Fourth Ties Game, Yankees Visit Tigers Tonight At Parade Grounds

Indians and Red Sox battled to a 4-4 tie in a Little League game played last night at the Parade Grounds. The game was called at the end of the fourth inning owing to rain. Yankees visit Tigers tonight.

Indians went scoreless in the first two innings while the Red Sox in the first chucked up three runs Doherty and R. Stewart driving in the runs. Top of the third the Indians clicked for two with St. Cyr and Manseau hitting safely.

Red Sox with a single by Cabana and a walk in their part of the third tallied one more run. Two more for the Indians in the first part of the fourth inning made it a 4-4 game. A home run, with one on, by Guy Vincent accounting for the runs. Red Sox went scoreless in the fourth and this was when umpire O'Connor called the game.

On a slippery field the teams had to play careful ball. Vincent's home run for Indians and Landry's play at third for the Red Sox were the features of the game. O'Connor, Webb and L. Cote were the umpires.

Huot Family To Compete In Special Tournament At O'Keefe Pro-Amateur Event At Granby-St. Paul On Weekend

GRANBY — The most outstanding family name in golf circles in Canada is "Huot" and next weekend, June 18 and 19, golfers, pros, amateurs and spectators will have the opportunity of seeing at least 14 of the Huot family golfers meet in a special tournament. The event will take place at the Granby-St. Paul Golf and Country Club, about 50 miles from Montreal, in the Eastern Townships in conjunction with the first O'Keefe Pro-Amateur Tournament of the season.

The eight Huots who are pros will play for the "O'Keefe-Huot Trophy" and the six Huot amateurs will compete for attractive merchandise prizes. As well as to the trophy, there will be a special prize of $100 for the winning Huot pro.

Julius Huot is probably the best known. He won the C.P.G.A. title a total of 3 times; first in 1934 and also captured the Rivermeade trophy. In 1955, Jules won the Ontario Open, the Gatineau Club's Open and the Quebec Professional Championship. In the last several years, he has taken many O'Keefe trophies: Sorel, Rawdon, Trois-Rivieres and Mount Orford. In 1959, Jules won the O'Keefe Quebec Match Play Championship at the LaSalle Golf Club. For many years, he has been a pro at Laval-sur-le-Lac.

Three of his brothers will be in the competition. Roland, a pro at the Loretteville Golf Club; Rodolphe, Royal Quebec, winner of an O'Keefe trophy at Trois-Rivieres in 1959, and Tony, pro at the Island of Orleans.

Other pros in the Huot family who will be competing are: Gerard-Raymond, and Claude Huot, unattached; Gerry, pro at the Granby-St. Paul and winner of an O'Keefe trophy at Mount Orford in 1956, and Raymond of the Esterel Club.

The O'Keefe pro-amateur tournament is a two-day affair and about 50 pros and some 200 amateurs are expected. They'll play on one of the handsomest golf courses in the Eastern Townships. It is an 18 hole 6,400 yard course, par 72. It's a course that calls for all the tricks of the trade.

The O'Keefe Brewing Company will present a total purse of $1,000 to the winners and $500 in merchandise to amateurs. As well, there's a special prize of $100 in merchandise to amateurs who score a hole-in-one.

Sarto Fournier, president of the Granby-St. Paul Club, is inviting all those interested in participating sports to attend this Pro-Amateur O'Keefe Tournament. It is an excellent opportunity to see top notch golfers in action. Parking and club house facilities are open to all and of course, admission is free.

Others O'Keefe golf tournaments include an amateur event at Dolbeau June 25 and 26, a pro-amateur at the Ste-Dorothee Golf and Country Club July 2 and 3, another one at St. Jean Que. August 13 and 14. The grand finale is scheduled for Beauceil August 27 and 28 and it will be the "O'Keefe Quebec Professional Medal Play Championship" with a $4,000 purse.

Arnold Palmer Is 4-1 Betting Choice To Dethrone Champion Bill Casper In 60th Annual US Open, Starts Today

DENVER (AP)—Arnold Palmer, the only one of three Canadians among the professionals, is the 4-to-1 choice to win the U.S. open golf championship that starts today over the 7,004 yards of the Cherry Hills County Club.

The man who uses the fewest strokes on the four rounds will succeed Bill Casper as the titleholder in the nation's most prestige-packed tourney.

He also will get a $14,400 cut of the prize money that has been upped to $80,000 because of the enthusiastic advance sale of tickets.

Seldom since the young days of Ben Hogan, now 47 and trying for a record fifth title, has anyone dominated pre-tournament talk as does Palmer, already winner of $32,203.40 this year and the champion at the Masters in April.

STILL UNCERTAINTY
Yet, ironically, there have been few tournaments where there has been so much uncertainty. The thinness of the Denver air is the reason. Rip Arnold, pro at the host club which nestles in the foothills of the Rockies, says that the ball will travel six per cent further here than at sea level.

No. 36 - Takeaway

By JIMMY DEMARET

For pitch shots, the feet are nearly as far apart as the width of the shoulders.

The hips are opened slightly. The position of the shoulders conforms. The ball is played to the right of the stance's center point. The forward press sets the swing and body in motion. It provides for the moving, rhythmic beginning of the one-piece takeaway.

The right knee's give

As indicated by the arrow in the accompanying illustration, the lateral turn or pivot is made possible by the right knee's give toward the center of the stance. This brings about the shift of the weight to the right foot and the turning of the hips and shoulders.

At the completion of the backswing, the clubface has opened in perfect relation to the hips, shoulders, arms and hands.

A pause amounting to a rhythmic poising here can be effective in preparing to unleash the downswing.

Coaticook Canadians Visit Fuller At Municipal Stadium In Junior Baseball Tilt Starting At 7.30

Action resumes this evening in the Sherbrooke Junior Baseball League when Coaticook Canadians visit Fuller at the Municipal Stadium with gametime set for 7.30 p.m.

Tonight's fixture should prove to be a thriller as both these squads are fairly equal in all departments of play. The Canadians were edged 9-8 Tuesday evening by the Indians while Fuller defeated the Canucks 9-3 June 9 in the last meeting of the two clubs.

Fuller has a fairly strong team this year, especially in the hitting department with such standouts as Gerry Menard, Serge and Luc Gregoire, Bob Desrochers, and Doyon. The Coaticook team has several good players in Simard, Pelouquin, Louis Michaud, Pivin, and Bissonette and can put up an excellent battle against the hosting Fuller ninesome.

All in all, this evening's game should be a fast and lively one as both these clubs can play excellent ball. Spectators are invited to attend the fixture and will not go away disappointed.

Carlos Ortiz Gets Decision Over Duilio Loi

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Sharp punching Carlos Ortiz fought the toughest fight of his career Wednesday night to win a split decision over Italy's Duilio Loi and retain his world junior welterweight boxing title.

Loi, the rugged 31-year-old European welterweight champion, won the cheers of the Cow Palace crowd in the televised 140-pound championship fight that was close all the way.

The stocky Italian from Milan held a 2½-pound weight advantage at 140 to 137½ for the Puerto Rican-born champ who now lives in New York City.

A tremendous roar went up when judge Matt Zidich gave the nod to Loi by a 143-143 margin. The cheers turned to jeers as referee Vern Bybee scored 145-143 for Ortiz and judge Fred Bottaro gave it to the champion by a 148-146 margin.

$3,000,000 In Suits Against Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Suits asking almost $3,000,000 damages from the scaffold collapse that killed two spectators at the 500-mile auto race May 30 were filed here Wednesday.

The 19 suits against the Indianapolis Motor Speedway contend the makeshift stand fell because 35 to 40 unauthorized spectators climbed on to see the start of the race.

The petitions in five superior courts contend the speedway management failed to control the crowd. They also allege the additional fans climbed on the stand without permission from the private builders who erected it.

COOKSHIRE —

Rev. and Mrs. R. W. Carr, of Beamsville, Ont., were overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hollis V. Burns, and called on several friends in town. Mr. Carr had been on this Pastoral Charge for quite a number of years, and all were pleased to see him again. A number from the town attended the 119th Anniversary of the United Church of Canada, in Sawyerville, and were pleased to hear Rev. Nettie Hoffman preach. Mrs. Hoffman, the former Nettie Wilson, was well known in this part of the Eastern Townships, since her father, the late Merrill Wilson, had held pastorates in Sawyerville, Bury, had acted as "Supply" when the late Rev. Mr. Forde died suddenly at Cookshire.

Bedlam For Bettors

U.K. May Legalize Off-Track Bets

LONDON (Reuters)—The government hopes the passage of its bill to legalize off-track betting shops for cash wagers will bring about a radical change in the world of British horseplaying, which has been described as heaven for lawyers, hell for police and bedlam for bettors.

Under the legislation, licensed betting shops will be in operation by May 1, 1961.

The bill replaces an agglomeration of statutes on gambling, some of them going back to the 16th century.

MAD LEGAL TANGLE

The present law on horse-race betting, especially off-track betting, is a mad tangle of ancient and conflicting legislation. It's hard to enforce, provides much business for sharp-witted legal eagles and, in terms of the horseplayer, is the most entertainingly complex and loony way to part with one's money known to man or nag.

On-track betting is, of course, legal—so much so that there often seems too much of it. First, there are the pari-mutuel, or tote (totalizer) windows run by the racing clubs. And, at every track there's a long, loud line of private bookmakers taking bets on their own—legally.

In addition—and here real confusion steps in—off-track betting is allowed in England and Wales under a system whereby no cash can be put down. Customers maintain "turf accounts," or running tallies, settling them up at regular intervals. Most of these legal bets are phoned in to the bookmakers' offices.

But, up in Scotland, bookies are allowed by law to handle off-track cash bets. So, some Englishmen mail their pounds and shillings to bookies in Edinburgh and Glasgow.

Then there is what's called street betting. It is highly illegal and just as widespread.

Bookmakers' runners flit around town picking up cash wagers, and sometimes getting picked up by the police. Much street betting is done with milkmen, bakery truck drivers and others on door-to-door rounds.

Around Derby Day, it's the rare milkman who isn't happy to leave two quarts of milk and a pound of butter—and take away your two-bob "flutter."

Against Communist Terrorists

Commonwealth Troops Still Fighting In Malaya

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (Reuters) — Commonwealth troops — British, Australian, Gurkha, New Zealand and Malayan—are still on active duty in northern Malaya as the long-drawn-out campaign against the country's Communist terrorists draws to a close.

British soldiers have been on active service in Malaya for longer than in any campaign since the Napoleonic wars, which ended in 1815 at the Battle of Waterloo.

Malaya's state of emergency, proclaimed June 16, 1948, when Communist guerrillas of the "Malayan Races Liberation Army" were holding much of the country under their sway, is to end July 31.

It has cost 11,073 lives and a total of 1,470,000,000 Malayan dollars (about $485,000,000).

No estimate has been made of the economic losses the country has suffered in buildings and property destroyed, and in the value to this newly-independent nation of the dead and wounded.

In the blackest days of the emergency, between 1949 and 1953, the terrorists captured three towns: Kuala Krau, Jerantut and Batu Arang. They held them for brief periods, shooting policemen and their wives and children, and then withdrawing.

How much EDUCATION is ENOUGH?

TODAY, more than ever before, an advanced education is almost a prerequisite for success. Every teen-ager capable of absorbing an education should stay at school until he graduates. Every promising student should, if at all possible, go on to college. If your youngster decides to leave school two or three years early when there's no necessity for it, or gives up the idea of college because he's not sure what courses to take, he may have to pay for those few years all the rest of his life.

As a public service, Sun Life of Canada offers several new leaflets in its recently introduced Values in Education series. THE VALUE OF A COLLEGE EDUCATION and WHY STUDY THE HUMANITIES? should help your children in their search for a proper vocation. HOW TO GET MORE FUN OUT OF SCHOOL is directed to the young teen-ager. ADULT EDUCATION TODAY reveals that there are more men and women enrolled in regular school classes for adults than there are children in schools. These and other leaflets in the Values in Education series are available without charge or obligation. Just use the coupon below.

Sun Life of Canada has many plans designed to start young people on their life insurance programmes at a time when they are in good health and the premiums are low. Don't forget Sun Life's Guaranteed Insurability Benefit. And for the head of the family, there's the new Adjustable Policy, which offers a choice of options at the end of five years. There's a Sun Life representative near you. Why not call him today?

Marriages Of Local Interest

PLYE — MUNDAY

The marriage of Kathleen Isabel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Munday, St. Catherine Road, and Kenneth Lorne, of Ayer's Cliff, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Pyle of St. Raymond, Que., took place on May 21 at half-past two o'clock in St. Paul's Anglican Church. Rev. R. S. Jervis-Read officiated. The organist was Mr. Irving Richards, and the soloist, Mrs. C. Currier, sang the Lord's Prayer. The church was adorned with summer flowers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was in a waltz length gown of white tulle over lace fashioned with a fitted bodice having a sequin trimmed Peter Pan collar on the matching jacket, and a bouffant skirt. Her veil of tulle illusion was held by a coronet of tulle embroidered in sequins. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses.

Miss Barbara Munday, bridesmaid for her sister, wore a coral organza dress, the fitted bodice styled with a sweetheart neckline. She wore a toning hat and her bouquet was of Shasta daisies. Miss Ann Munday, niece of the bride, was flower-girl and wore a lime green organza frock with a white hat, and carried Shasta daisies.

Mr. Stanley Pyle acted as bestman, and Mr. Gordon Munday ushered.

The bride's mother was in blue embroidered organza with beige hat and accessories, and the groom's mother wore royal blue lace over taffeta and white hat.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Sangster Memorial Church Hall where quantities of apple blossoms were used to decorate. The bride's table was centered with a three tier wedding cake encircled with lily of the valley.

For a wedding trip to Montreal the bride travelled in a pale blue suit with white accessories with which she wore a corsage of red roses. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Pyle took up residence in Ayer's Cliff.

Guests were present from Ayer's Cliff, Magog, Montreal, Quebec, St. Raymond, Chute Panet, Donnacona, Cowansville, and Augusta, Me.

Too Much Playpen Restricts Child

MONTREAL (CP)—Playpens may retard development of a child's vision, says Dr. Anita Eberl, visual consultant for the Cardinal Stritch Reading Clinic in Milwaukee.

"Playpens deny children valuable experience in judging distances," she said in a speech to the Eastern Canada Ophthalmic Congress.

Parents should start to train their child's eyes when he is only a few weeks old. This includes

Time to Drop Rude Term 'Spinster' From Vocabulary

"I do not know at what age one dare call a woman a spinster." Dr. Harold Thomas Hyman, who writes the popular NEA column "The Doctor Says," reminds us that the great physician, Sir William Osler, made that statement. He doesn't say when it was made. Osler was born a little more than a hundred years ago.

There's NO age today at which we dare call a woman a spinster. That cold, unfeeling word for a woman who has never married has almost disappeared from our speaking vocabulary.

And the equally unkind tag, "old maid," is fast fading from the language, too.

And it's a good thing—for two important reasons. Speaking of single women as being "unmarried" instead of calling them "spinsters" or "old maids" is kinder, for it doesn't carry hidden contempt, it doesn't call up such unflattering pictures as did the terms "spinster" and "old maid." That being so, girls don't have to hurry into marriage today to avoid being thought of as spinsters or old maids by their families and friends.

No deadline pressures a girl to get a husband or settle for being classified as a spinster or old maid.

She is a "single girl" or an "unmarried woman"—and there is no scorn in either term.

At last the one-time spinster has won a place for herself in the world—where she is judged by her worth and attractiveness as a person, instead of being looked on as a failure because there is a "Miss" instead of a "Mrs" before her name.

The Doctor Says

BODY REACTS TO INJURIES WITH PAIN STAB AS SIGNAL

Pain is the danger signal set off when any exposed area of our bodies is subjected to injury or abuse or when any organ is damaged or suffers functional disturbance.

Pain is probably the most frequent of all your complaints. When it is mild, of brief duration or located in what is considered a nonvital region like the fingers, toes, arms or legs, you can usually treat it yourself, at least for a while.

When it's severe, recurrent, persistent, unresponsive to home remedies or it's located in what's considered a vital region like the chest, belly, eye, ear or head, it deserves the attention of a physician.

Pain is registered by no one but the patient. The physician can only learn of its characteristics through the words of the sufferer. That's why it's so important for you to know something of the pain mechanism.

With the knowledge of how your signal system works, you're better equipped to help your physician correct whatever started the bells ringing and the lights blinking.

If you could make a microscopic examination of any skin area, you'd discover uncountable millions of delicately adjusted police and fire boxes. Some go off if you touch them. Some respond to pressure, others to heat or cold, still others to pain.

You can set them all going at once if, for example, you drop a hot iron on your foot. But you can't get the touch box to go off unless it is touched.

Each of the others display just as much selectivity as the station dial on your TV set. You can easily prove selectivity of this signal system.

Next time your doctor or dentist gives you a local anesthetic, notice that you feel his instruments touch you but you register no pain.

You may remark: "I can feel the knife but it doesn't hurt." The cocaine-like drug has blocked the pain but not the touch signal system.
