LADY MORDAUNT

In the daughter of Sir Thomas Mordaunt, of an old family, and the wife of a young man...

Her parents suspected nothing. Once or twice he told her that neither Lord Odo, a boy of twenty-one, and one of the widest lads in London...

AMERICAN NEWS.

Boston has a new idea—reading houses at night. The trial of the McFarland-Richardson murder case is set down for the first of April.

Chicago is luxuriating on green peas, cauliflower, crab, quail and salmon, all the way from California.

A charitable lady of Savannah, Ga., has organized a fund for the benefit of seamen visiting that port, which will be used toward the establishment of a Sailors' Home.

The President and Secretary of the War and Navy Departments have ordered the plan of competitive examinations of all candidates for cadetships.

OUR NORTHERN NEIGHBORS.

A new Canadian policy is promised us. The Ottawa authorities have exhausted their stock of patience in the vain hope that Congress would consider its decision on the reciprocity question...

HINTS AS TO THRIVING.

Work.—Hard work is the grand secret of success. Nothing but rapid and constant work can make good with. No sweat, no rest.

Don't hurry.—Believe in travelling on a step by step; don't expect to reach in a day what you can reach in a week.

Be industrious.—Do not let your nose at its work. He who does not work will not prosper.

Be frugal.—Do not let your nose at its work. He who does not work will not prosper.

Be honest.—Do not let your nose at its work. He who does not work will not prosper.

Be patient.—Do not let your nose at its work. He who does not work will not prosper.

Be diligent.—Do not let your nose at its work. He who does not work will not prosper.

Be persevering.—Do not let your nose at its work. He who does not work will not prosper.
