WESTMOUNT, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1941

PRICE—TWO CENTS

WESTMOUNT CPC MEMBERS WILL SEEK INFORMATION FROM ALL HOMES IN CITY

Will Conduct Enquiry With Full Knowledge of City Council — Undertaking Will Determine Where Special Attention Is Needed in Cases of Emergency — To Receive Uniforms

The members of the Westmount Division C.P.C. will soon assume a more official appearance than they have in the past. Berets have been obtained and are now being issued and a uniform consisting of a navy blue overall with shoulder straps and flashlight pocket, etc., is being manufactured under the supervision of the Federal A. R. P. Officer in Ottawa and will be distributed as quickly as they can be obtained from the manufacturers. Citizens will therefore easily recognize the members of this force, when on duty, by their berets, arm bands and subsequently uniforms.

The Examiner has been informed through the headquarters of the Westmount C.P.C. that the members will be instructed in the near future to make a personal call upon all householders in the City of Westmount, for the purpose of obtaining information regarding the number of occupants, divided into children and adults and whether there are any invalids or elderly people who might require special attention in the event of an emergency.

Such calls will also enable householders to become personally acquainted with the C.P.C. officers on duty in their neighbourhood, where this is not already the case. It will give these officers a more intimate knowledge of the type of construction of the buildings in their zone and whether or not any particular fire hazards exist.

These enquiries are to be made by the C.P.C. officers with the knowledge and approval of the Mayor and Council of Westmount to whom the suggestion was submitted at a meeting held on the 22nd of September. The opinion was expressed at this meeting that the information to be obtained in this way would be most helpful to the C.P.C. organization and would greatly assist the officers in planning a more complete and thorough protection for the municipality in case of need.

The headquarters staff of the C.P.C., Westmount Division, have expressed the desire that all citizens should cooperate with the C.P.C., at the time of this canvass by giving complete and accurate information on the subjects requested, in the knowledge that this information is being secured and compiled for the further safety and protection of the citizens as a whole and will not be used for any other purpose.

The time when the C.P.C. officers will visit the householders for the above purpose will be announced more definitely in the near future.

MAN SLIGHTLY INJURED WHEN STRUCK BY CAR

Douglas Brown Suffers Injured Hand in Minor Mishap at Claremont And Sherbrooke

Douglas Brown, of 5056 West, avenue, suffered a cut left hand when he was struck by an automobile driven by George Hutton, of 4971 Queen Mary road, at the corner of Sherbrooke street and Claremont avenue, at 11:30 p.m. on Sunday.

Hutton stopped immediately after the accident and took the injured man to the Homeopathic Hospital where two stitches were taken in his hand by Dr. Candman. He was allowed to return home following treatment.

According to information obtained by police the accident occurred as the car driven by Hutton was turning north on Claremont from Sherbrooke and struck Brown, who was standing out from the curb. Constable H. Ward investigated.

Believed to have been struck by a passing vehicle, a car parked opposite her home by Mrs. Catherine O'Sullivan, 4136 Dorchester street, west, was slightly damaged shortly after 9 o'clock on Saturday evening.

MINISTER SEEKS MISSING FATHER OF DEAD HUSSAR

Rev. Capt. T. W. Jones Presses Endeavor to Locate Parent of Trooper Kilcup, Killed in U.K.

If Otis Kilcup, living somewhere in the Maritime Provinces, is still unaware of the death by accident in Britain of his 25-year-old son Trooper Ralph Otis Kilcup, of 17th Duke of York's Royal Canadian Hussars (7th Reconnaissance Regiment) it is not for want of endeavor to reach him on the part of Capt. Rev. T. W. Jones, minister of Calvary United Church.

Trooper Kilcup who enlisted last July was the first casualty of his unit after its departure for overseas. He died of a fractured skull in a motor crash. When news of his death was conveyed to his wife, she and her mother-in-law who is a member of the Calvary Church congregation communicated with Dr. Jones, who is a friend of the family and who officiated at the wedding of the young couple, to enlist his aid in conveying the news to the soldier's father.

It was hoped that publication of Trooper Kilcup's death in the official casualty releases of the National Defence Department to Canadian newspapers might come to the attention of his father. When this proved unavailing, Dr. Jones inserted a paid notice of Kilcup's death in the columns of Halifax newspapers. Up until the time of the Examiner's going to press, no message had been received from the missing parent.

Mrs. Kilcup, Jr., is the former Josephine Brogan of Hemmingford. She has a young son, Douglas.

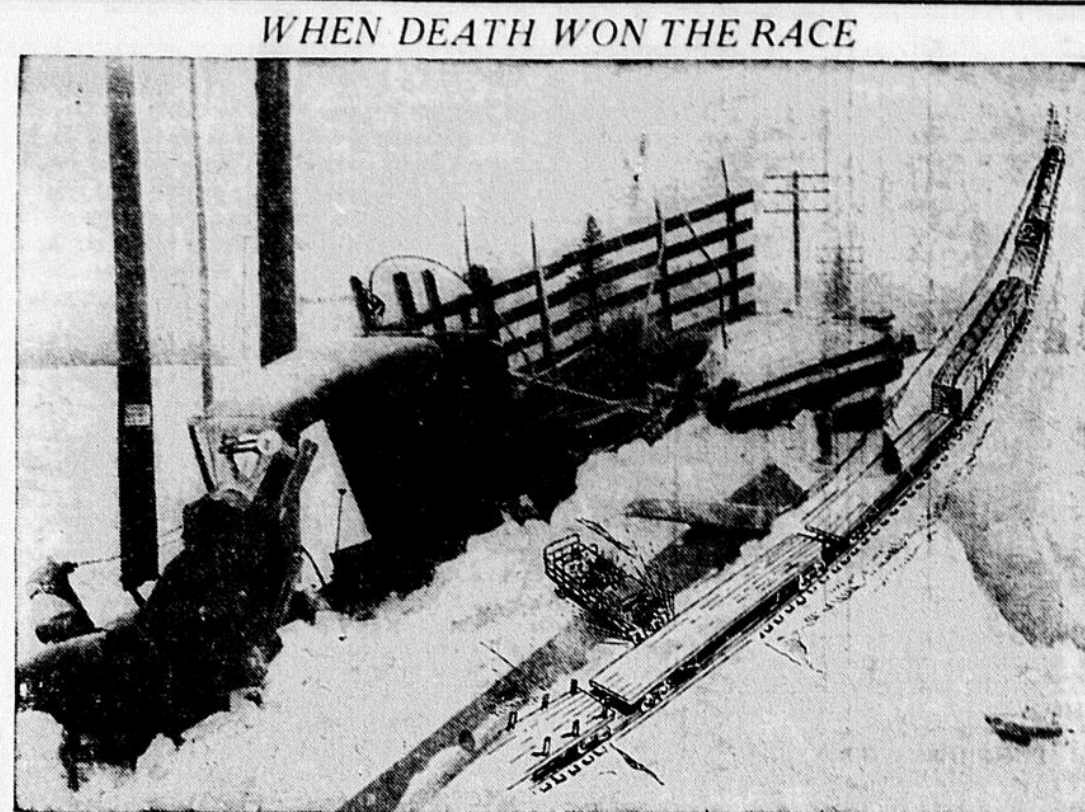

Dr. Jones who served for some months as chaplain with the Canadian Corps did not meet Trooper Kilcup at any time in Britain.

Dr. Jessie Allyn To Be Heard Here

Dr. Jessie Allyn, who has had a long and distinguished record of service as a lady doctor in India, will address the evening congregation in Westmount Baptist Church on Sunday. Dr. Allyn, who was the intimate friend of the Maharani of Pithapuram, is also greatly beloved by India's child widows and her outcast women. On this occasion Dr. Allyn will wear Indian dress — the Sari, which was presented to her as a token of appreciation of her noble work.

At the morning service, Dr. Johnston will have as his theme, "Striking Bottom and Reaching Reality." "I have heard of Thee by the hearing of the ear... but now mine eyes see Thee."

At the service on Sunday evening, October 13th, Dr. Johnston will discuss the pressing wartime question: "Should Sectarian Services be Permitted on Ottawa's Capital Hill?" In the interests of National Unity in this day of Crisis, should we have united services, embracing all religious bodies, or none?"

In the above photo-diagram, fifth in the series published by The Examiner in its campaign for safety at the railway crossing, is shown one of 346 crashes which claimed 133 lives in Canada last year and injured 485 persons. As in many of the cases, this accident occurred at an open crossing, protected by safety devices and in daylight. If the driver had stopped at the crossing it could not have happened and the same elementary safety precaution would have averted tragedy in nearly every other case. Stop, look and listen at the railway crossing, where a lost race is so often fatal.

City Requests Residents To Co-Operate

The following announcement regarding the forthcoming Provincial electoral list was issued at the City Hall yesterday:

Attention is called to the recent legislation extending the franchise to all women over 21 years of age who are residents in the Province and who are British subjects. In order to facilitate the compilation of the list for the City of Westmount, and with a view to making it as complete as possible, a form will be sent out to each householder in Westmount, with a request that the necessary information be supplied and the form returned promptly to the Secretary-Treasurer in the stamped addressed envelope which will be enclosed.

LABORER HURT WHEN STRUCK BY HEAVY SLAB

Vincent Belpulzo, of 7537 Chabot street, a laborer, suffered a fracture of the left leg when a heavy concrete slab rolled on him from the top of a ditch he was digging at 153 Hillside avenue, on the former grounds of the Merchant's Coal yard, last Thursday.

Pinned beneath the block, Belpulzo was released by fellow-workers and carried him to a shack on the lot. Police were notified and an ambulance was summoned immediately from the Western Division of the Montreal General Hospital. He was treated there by Dr. J. Young.

A son of the laborer, Jean Belpulzo, told police that at the time of the mishap his father was digging a ditch about five feet deep when a large concrete block on the bank suddenly rolled down pinning his father's legs. He said the trench was not reinforced to prevent a cave-in.

Belpulzo was employed by Louis Donolo, 630 Dorchester street, west.

STAMP CLUB TO HOLD CONTESTS

Air Force Veterans Help Train Westmount Cadets

An extensive program of activities is being carried on in Westmount by the Air Force Veterans' Association, which is co-operating in the training of Air Cadets, it is revealed in the following press release issued this week:

In June, 1940, most members of the Air Force Veterans' Association took advantage of an invitation extended by the Royal Canadian Air Force to attend drill instructional parades. Weekly parades under qualified instructors continued throughout the summer with the result that in a short time these veterans were nearly as fit as they had been during the first Great War.

This was only the first step. Their physical condition having been brought up to par, courses were then arranged for the Air Force Veterans at No. 1 Wireless School and at the Aeronautical Engineering School, de Bullion street. These courses, under expert R.C.A.F. instructors, covered navigation, armament, wireless, engines and airframes, each of the courses requiring an average of thirty hours to complete and every facility was placed at the disposal of the members of the Association.

75 Complete Courses
A total of seventy-five members completed these courses and the veterans then felt physically and mentally equipped to pass on the knowledge thus obtained to others. At a general meeting the association went on record as a whole as "fully endorsing the organization of Air Force Cadet Units."

Four members of the Air Force Veterans' Association became active members of the Westmount No. 1 Squadron of the Air Cadet League. Later, three members undertook to organize the Breboef Squadron and two others assisted in the formation of the Chomedey High School Squadron. Other officers were supplied to the Catholic High School Squadron on request.

Canada's youngest airmen, the Air Cadets of Canada, then received instruction from Canada's aces of the last war, many of whom are too old for active service in this war and are doing their bit by passing on the benefit of their valuable experience to the eager cadets. Sixteen classes for Air Cadets were operated.

Wide interest in the Air Cadet movement has been shown by the youth of Montreal and it is anticipated that this course will increase in size as fall approaches, and with the co-operation of the R.C.A.F. it is hoped that the course will continue throughout the winter.

Satisfied with the initial results the Air Veterans' Association recently decided to sponsor a new Air Cadet Squadron. A committee was appointed to further this intention with the result that Y.M.C.A. headquarters was approached and all branches of the Y.M.C.A. agreed to act as recruiting offices for the Air Cadets and recruiting posters were placed in each of these branches together with a supply of registration forms.

Charities Campaign Is Dragging Slightly

Federated Charities' collections in Westmount were running slightly behind totals for the first two and a half days in the campaign of last year according to figures tabulated up until noon yesterday at campaign headquarters.

Receipts amounted to $14,484 which is 30.4 p.c. of the objective of $46,881. Returns for the comparable period of 1940 were 34.9 of the total aimed at.

LOCAL WOMAN LOSES LIFE IN ACCIDENT

Fatal Automobile Accident Occured Near St. Sulpice Tuesday

One woman was killed and a man slightly injured in an automobile accident at St. Sulpice late Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Valeria Garlepy, 30, of 378 Redfern avenue, Westmount, died as a result of injuries that she received, while an occupant of the same car, Capt. David Perreault, who gave his address as the Pennsylvania Hotel, Montreal, was taken to St. Eusebe Hospital, Joliette, Que., with minor injuries.

Provincial police reported that the accident occurred when a car driven by George Derré, who gave his address as 110 St. Catherine street west, Montreal, with Mrs. Garlepy and Capt. Perreault as passengers, tried to turn off the highway to the Manoir Hotel in St. Sulpice. The police said that at that moment another auto driven by Florian Lafortune of Joliette, crashed into the Derré car. Neither Lafortune nor Derré were injured.

Capt. Perreault, who is registered at the hotel as from Three Rivers, Que., is being attended by Dr. Masse of Joliette, who told that his injuries were slight, consisting of a wound in the head and cuts on the right knee.

Mrs. Garlepy's body was taken to the morgue in L'Assomption.

LEAGUE LISTS THE NAMES OF DRAW WINNERS

Six Hundred Sweaters Will Be Sent to Men of Minesweepers

The Overseas Parcels League has announced that a complete list of winners of the draw run under the auspices of the League for the benefit of men of the League minesweepers and trawlers, may be seen at its office, room 529, Windsor Hotel.

The drawing took place at a successful concert given by the T. Eaton Co., "Masquers," at Victoria Hall on Sept. 25. Mrs. Walter Merrill, wife of Mayor Merrill, K.C., drew the winning tickets, while St. Frances, of station CFCF, acted as master of ceremonies. Six ratings from the R.C.N. barracks, Mountain street, acted as ushers and door men.

The mayor spoke of the urgent needs of the British minesweepers and lauded the work being done by the Overseas Parcels League in their behalf. Westmount was very proud to be the home of this organization, he stated.

Originally slated as a one-night venture, popular demand made possible a second night. The "Masquers" played to full houses on both occasions and many latecomers had to be turned away. Arrangements will be made to repeat a performance by this concert troupe in the near future. As a result of the draw and contest some 600 sweaters will be sent to the minesweepers during the next month.

BOTTLES, BROKEN GLASS ARE WANTED BY CITY IN WEEK'S SALVAGE DRIVE

Glass Containers Will Be Sent To Exchanges And Resold — Milk Bottles Are Of No Value In Drive — Campaign Last Week Was Marked Success, Officials Report

This week bottles and glass are in special demand in the Westmount War Salvage drive, which is being conducted in co-operation with the National Salvage Campaign. While all discarded household articles which are of value to the war effort should be placed alongside the garbage for collection on garbage collection day, a special effort is being made from now until Saturday to obtain as much glass as possible.

Unlike most of the other materials which are being collected during the campaign, glass is not re-processed directly for use in the production of war supplies. The bottles will be sent to a bottle exchange and eventually re-sold to bottlers, while broken glass, such as cracked window panes, etc., will be sold to bottle and glass manufacturers.

Any type of glass container, with the exception of milk bottles, are in demand. The latter, however, are of no value as they are the property of the dairies and must be returned to them.

It is pointed out by officials of the local drive that as a certain amount of material used in the manufacture of glass must be imported into the country a considerable saving in foreign exchange is effected if demand for production of new quantities of the product is reduced.

Last week's campaign for old tires, tubes, and other rubber goods, was particularly successful. It was stated at the City Hall, where appreciation was expressed for the manner in which residents are co-operating.

Incidentally, Westmount is the only city where the salvage drive is being conducted on a basis which stresses the collection of certain articles each week. This plan was adopted in order to maintain public interest in this important war effort by introducing a touch of variety. So far the scheme, which was adopted with the co-operation of the National Salvage Campaign, has proven a marked success.

Mr. Justice Gregor Barclay, of 1336 Redpath Crescent, who also sustained a left broken arm in the wreck, was reported yesterday to be at the Normand and Cross Hospital, Three Rivers.

Suffering fractured ribs and a bruised forehead, W. E. Donald,

ALD. W. B. SCOTT, K.C.

Hall, 82 Chestfield avenue, another local passenger on the train, was reported to have sustained shock and a cut left ear. Miss Grace McMaster, 629 Clarke avenue, was said to have been bruised about the head but not seriously injured.

DEATH ANNOUNCED OF MRS. D. KERR

Mrs. Donald Kerr, mother of Rev. F. W. Kerr of St. Andrew's United Church, died Monday afternoon in Weyburn, Saskatchewan. A resident of western Canada for the past 25 years, she had just passed her 90th birthday. She was born in the county of Oxford, Ontario, where her father, Donald Holmes, was a prosperous and well-known farmer. Married in 1866 she lived for some years in Shakespeare, Ont.

She is survived by three sons and a daughter: John E., of Manitoba; Mrs. A. S. Murray of Weyburn, Sask.; Rev. F. W. of Montreal and Laurence V. of New York City. The funeral service was held in Winnipeg yesterday afternoon, Rev. J. A. Bowman officiating.

Ald. Scott suffered a fracture of the left shoulder.

FIRST MEETING OF YEAR HELD BY AIR CADETS

Parade Staged by No. 1 Westmount Squadron for Season's Re-Organization

WESTMOUNT, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1941

... UNLESS YOU GIVE

Residents of Greater Montreal are asked to subscribe generously to the Federated Charities whose annual campaign is now in progress. Many people have the impression that with war industries established in great numbers and with the employment index at a new high the needs of charitable organizations must necessarily be greatly reduced. This is entirely false as the work of these organizations has always been among classes of people who are unemployed—people who are too old to work, too young to work, or too sick to work. The war boom has not alleviated their position nor decreased their numbers to any great extent. The job of caring for them is a tremendous one—and must go on! Give to the limit!

ESSENTIAL FOODS

I have ranged the whole field of diet information, writes William Feather, and have found that all the recognized experts, including those employed by the government, are in agreement that every adult, whether he is trying to get thin, fat, young or energetic, should consume certain items every day. These are: one pint of milk, one serving citrus fruit or tomatoes, one serving potatoes, one egg, meat or fish or poultry, whole grain bread or cereal, fruit, vegetables, and butter. It is permissible to pile in as many other things as the appetite craves or the figure and pocketbook will stand, but the foregoing items are imperative. The experts call them protective foods. They contain the ingredients essential for vigorous health.

BRITAIN CAN ALSO BLITZ

Last September the Luftwaffe was massed for the first time over London. This September the Royal Air Force have carried out their biggest raids yet on Berlin. Resist all temptation to bracket the two battles, for they are poles apart. Those of 1940 were a blitzkrieg, which is a stunt performance. Those of 1941 are business trips—part of a sustained and expanding schedule. Already the Battle of Germany, which is only just beginning, has lasted several weeks longer than did the Battle of Britain last year. Picture this prospect as seen from Berlin. Another war winter looms ahead unrelieved by echoes of summer triumphs and plunder from newly occupied territories which served as cocktails throughout the last. This year the outlook is more ominous. The promised 'Victory 1941' has receded out of sight. The casualties are mounting on their two fronts, and they have two foes to meet. But above all, every German industrial area, however remote, must await the swelling roar of enemy aircraft. Every German must expect, month by month, bigger fleets of bombers carrying bigger bombs. Britain has shown that she can also 'blitz.' Can Germany take its antithesis—steady and increasing pressure?

As the Russians suffer setbacks, the Japanese again cast covetous eyes upon Siberia. Any day now, we may hear that Tokio's patience is exhausted.

In their broadminded way, the Nazis are murdering French hostages without regard to race, creed or politics. The only stipulation is that the victims must be innocent of the crimes for which they are executed.

DAUGHTERS OF NILE OFFICIALLY VISITED BY SUPREME QUEEN

Mrs. Henriette Sheasley, of Glenshaw, Pa., Supreme Queen of the Daughters of the Nile, is the guest of Oasis Temple No. 46, Daughters of the Nile. She arrived yesterday morning, when a delegation of members welcomed her at the station.

The first official inspection and ceremonial took place in Victoria Hall yesterday, and this afternoon Mrs. Sheasley will visit the Shrine of the Hospital for Crippled Children, where tea will be served at 3 o'clock. All Oasis members are invited to attend this tea. Miss Lamont, assistant superintendent of the hospital, will welcome the guests in the absence of Miss M. Orr, superintendent.

This evening, an informal dinner will be held in the LaSalle Hotel, when Mrs. Sheasley will be the guest speaker.

Miss Susie Ryder, Princess Royal, will be Acting Queen, owing to the indisposition of the Queen of Oasis Temple, Mrs. W. S. Andrews, who met with an accident a few months ago.

Mrs. Sheasley will spend tomorrow sightseeing in Montreal, and will leave tomorrow night for Utica, the next stop on her itinerary.

THE FORUM

Conducted by HOWARD S. ROSS, K.C., D.C.L.

In Which Subjects of General Interest Are Discussed

The opinions expressed in this Forum are not necessarily those of this newspaper and it does not accept responsibility for them.

"We've got a fine ground force here," said the Flight Lieutenant. "One of the best. You know, those chaps feel they practically do the fighting; great rivalry among them, each one wanting to send its plane up with the motor purring smooth as velvet, all its machine guns feeding properly, every dial accurate and everything shipshape. And when a pilot knocks a Jerry out, that night his ground crew talks about 'that Jerry we brought down.' They're sure they do the actual work and the pilot is only their field representative."—William L. White in his article, "Fighter Type" in Maclean's Magazine.

Thus Charles Gavan Power, Canada's Minister for Air, the man who says that half of the Empire's airmen must come from this country, the man that Ottawa thought it knew—and didn't. Ottawa didn't know him; it only now discovering him. Ottawa knew the black-headed Quebecer who was full of fun and devilment; the erstwhile hockey player and soldier who had become a politician. It didn't know the "Chubby" Power who took more good looks out of the Parliamentary Library than any member or senator in Ottawa; the "Chubby" Power who could be by turns serious and whimsical; the "Chubby" Power who could lecture delightfully and with rare scholarship on the folklore of Quebec; the "Chubby" Power who, above all, could be Canada's strong man in a crisis.

—M. Gratton O'Leary in Maclean's Magazine.

The Central Bank for Cooperatives and twelve district banks formed in the U.S. in 1933, loaned more than $491,000,000 to form cooperatives, of which about $414,000,000 has been repaid.

For the first half of 1941 the farm income in the U.S. was 17 per cent higher than in 1940.

In the drive for national defence and the battle for democracy, "milk is as vital as munitions" said the Governor of the U.S. Farm Credit Administration.

Members of the Young Workers League will attend the morning service. Morning Sunday School will be held at 11 a.m. and afternoon school in all departments at 3 p.m., and the Men's Own Brotherhood will meet at the same hour.

The Young People's Union will meet on Monday at 8.15 p.m. All young people are cordially invited to attend.

The Red Cross unit will meet on Tuesday from 10.30 a.m. to 4.30 p.m. and the evening branch at 7.30 p.m.

On Wednesday at 8.15 p.m. the Women's Missionary Society will hold its Autumn Thank-offering meeting. The speaker will be Capt. T. W. Jones, and his theme will be "The Missionary Crusade in War Time."

Harvest Thanksgiving services will be held on Sunday, October 12. Gifts of fruit, flowers and vegetables should be sent to the church on Saturday Oct. 11.

There is no Federal income tax on Cooperatives in the U.S.A. An attempt was made in Massachusetts to levy a tax of one-half of one per cent on the annual gross sales of cooperatives in the State. The Bill was defeated.

There is a growing belief that our knowledge is not balanced by our wisdom. One of our many useful immigrants said: "My old mother was the wisest person I ever knew—and she could neither read nor write."

What a pity that often after not learning is limited to the acquisition of information without following through and learning how to wisely apply it.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Unreality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 5th.

The Golden Text is from 1 John 2: 16, 17. "All that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world. And the lust thereof; but he that doeth the will of God abideth forever."

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me." (Psalm 51: 10).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Higher enjoyments alone can satisfy the craving of immortal man. We cannot circumscribe happiness within the limits of personal sensement." (Page 60.)

Canada's War Effort Noted As Greatest Is Nearer

Inspiring the nation to even higher resolve and even greater sacrifice is Canada's war record: Two years ago, Canada's soldiers, sailors, and airmen, including reserves, totalled 68,000; today they number 490,000. In the Canadian Active Army are 230,000 volunteers; in the Canadian Army (Reserve), 170,000 volunteers and trainees; and single men between 21 and 24 are being drafted for the Canadian Active Army on Home Defence. The Royal Canadian Navy now has 250 vessels and 23,000 officers and ratings. The Royal Canadian Air Force numbers 67,000 of all classifications.

In the British Isles are more than 100,000 Canadian soldiers, sailors and airmen. Troops include the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd Divisions with ancillary units. Canadian coastal batteries guard vital shore areas. Canadian divisions are posted to an honor sector and would form the spearhead of British defence in case of invasion. Canadian airmen have won undying glory over Britain, Germany, France, Dunkirk, Nazi-occupied territories, the Middle East, Greece and Libya, and off Norway. The Royal Canadian Navy has, with the Royal Navy, convoyed freighters carrying over 30,000,000 tons of supplies; has sunk U-boats, captured enemy vessels and compelled scuttling of others; aided in the evacuation from France, rescued many from bombed and torpedoed ships. Over 1,200 Canadians have figured in casualty lists; of them, 736 killed, 195 missing.

Mechanized Units Go Soon
Training for overseas is the 4th Division. The 5th (Armored) Division will be transferred to Britain this year. A 6th Division has been authorized. Home defenses along Atlantic and Pacific coasts are constantly being tightened.

The Canadian Active Army is calling for 7,000 volunteers per month. The Royal Canadian Navy aims at 400 ships and 27,000 men by next March. The Royal Canadian Air Force is sending more and more pilots and ground crews overseas. Due to go to Britain this year are 2,500 radio locator specialists, who warn of approaching enemy raiders; an addition to the 1,000 already there. Women are being enlisted in auxiliaries of both Army and Air Force, to release men for front-line service.

Canada is spending between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000 a day on war; two years ago, the arms bill was less than a million. By March 31 next, the war bill will have passed $2,000,000,000, including well over half a billion to finance purchases for Britain.

In addition to assuming heavier taxes, Canadians have bought war bonds and savings certificates worth $1,460,000,000; they have contributed about $20,000,000 to auxiliary war services, and out-right gifts to the Government total nearly $2,000,000.

Two Billions in Orders
War contracts and commitments, both for Canada and Britain, pass $2,000,000,000. Over $20,000,000 have been advanced for plant construction and expansion, and for materials. Canada will contribute $531,000,000 to the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan. A home defence construction programme will cost $110,000,000. Naval building calls for $128,000,000. On freighters, $200,000,000 will be spent. Personal and maintenance equipment for the services require $100,000,000.

War material production covers steel ships, planes, land, 25-val, anti-tank and anti-aircraft guns, Bren and other automatic weapons, gun mountings, anti-tank mines, bombs, grenades, small arms ammunition, shells, depth charges, tanks, explosives and war chemicals, precision instruments, trucks and other transport vehicles. A surplus of some material is being sold to the United States under the agreement covered by the Hyde Park Declaration.

Food shipped to Britain includes 200,000,000 bushels of wheat, 7,000,000 barrels of flour, 13,000,000 lbs. of honey, nearly 15,000,000 dozen eggs, millions of pounds of concentrated milk, thousands of tons of canned goods. By December, 800,000,000 lbs. of pork products will have been sent; by March next, 112,000,000 lbs. of cheese.

All this constitutes elements of Canada's war effort; and still the peak has not yet been reached.

True love believes everything, and bears everything, and trusts everything.

Fellowship To Celebrate Dickens Visit Centenary

The Dickens Fellowship announce that their programme for the coming winter will be devoted to the celebration of the centenary of the only visit Charles Dickens made to Montreal, a visit that took place early in 1842.

The book of study will be Martin Chuzzlewit, which the novelist wrote immediately on his return to England, and in which he recorded many of his impressions of America. Dramatic sketches based on this novel will be produced at the various meetings, and towards the close of the session the Fellowship will present the play, "Mr. Dickens comes to Montreal," specially written for the centenary by R. H. Mainer, well-known resident of Notre Dame de Grace and prominent member of the Authors' Club.

The opening meeting of the Fellowship will be held on October 28, when the Ven. Archdeacon Gower-Ross, hon. president, will review the Book of Study. Winnifred Parker will present dramatic sketch entitled "Introducing the Chuzzlewit Family." The musical programme will be sustained by Mrs. W. K. Davis, contralto, and Josef Berljawsky, violinist.

Following are the programmes for subsequent meetings:

November 25 — Rev. J. Richmond Craig, Ottawa, Charles Dickens and his Literary Stockpot; dramatic sketch from Martin Chuzzlewit, directed by Maude Aston; Mrs. Phyllis McLearen, soprano, and Mrs. Andrew Webster, contralto.

December 16 — Tiny Tim Night. Characters from Dickens Books presented by Whitfield Aston and Company; Christmas Carols by the Wesley United Church Choir, Notre Dame de Grace, and Community Singing, J. G. W. Rendall, conductor.

January 27 — Austin Cross, Dickens the Reporter visits America; Dickens News-cast arranged by Walter Whitaker; instrumental Trio.

February 24 — Members' Night, Winnifred Parker, convener; Recital by Members' Chorus, J. G. W. Rendall, conductor.

March 24 — Rev. Dr. T. W. Jones, Calvary United Church, If Dickens were alive today; John Hobart elocutionist; Herbert Hewitson, tenor; and William Stevens, pianist.

April 28 — Emile Vaillancourt, Litt.D., F.R.G.S., Dickens and Montreal in 1842; dramatic sketch, Martin in America, presented by Robert Watt; Charles Hutchins, baritone, and Arthur Davidson, violinist.

Special events are the Annual Bridge on November 11, the Dickens Birthday Banquet on February 7, and the play, Mr. Dickens comes to Montreal, on March 12 and 13.

The Fellowship will again hold its meetings this season in Victoria Hall, Westmount. Miss Phyllis Rowell will officiate as companion. Arthur H. Carter is president for the current year and will preside at the various meetings. The secretary is Mrs. Mabel Edwards, AT. 6889.

Life is a quarry, out of which we are to mold and chisel and complete a character.

REVIVE POPULAR DANCING PARTIES AT RITZ

Blake Sewell and his orchestra, favorites of Montreal's younger set, will revive their popular Saturday Night Dancing Parties at the Ritz Carleton Hotel beginning Saturday, October 4. This talented 12-piece ensemble, which has just completed a successful summer engagement at the Red Room, Ste. Adele Lodge, is featuring a new vocalist in the person of Miss Thelma Lane in addition to Russ Kearns, their male vocalist. Using four saxophones doubling on clarinets, a five-man brass section and three-man rhythm section, this ensemble in seven years has worked its way to the top locally against stiff competition. The parties will continue for ten weeks.

CITY REPORTS THEFTS FEW IN SALVAGE DRIVE

Resident Writes Letter to Examiner Complaining of Articles Being Stolen

While admitting that there have been certain cases of theft of articles placed alongside garbage cans for collection in the local salvage campaign, city officials stated yesterday that the amount of such material stolen was practically negligible.

The Examiner questioned city officials on the matter following receipt of a letter from a resident in which it was stated that rag-pickers were helping themselves to this material. The writer stated that 50 pounds of scrap metal and 30 pounds of old newspapers which she had placed beside her garbage pails to be collected as war salvage, had disappeared before the garbage collector had made his rounds.

Westmount police have been given special instructions to be on the look-out for thefts of this type and to immediately arrest unauthorized persons attempting to collect this material.

Text of the letter complaining about the situation, written to the Examiner by a local resident, follows:

The Editor Westmount Examiner Westmount.

Sir: What manner of efficiency is behind the committee in charge of salvage collection?

After repeated requests by this committee through the medium of newspapers and posters our family have made an effort to gather as much scrap metal (and lots of it wasn't scrap) and old newspapers as we could.

This material, we have been told, not only by the salvage committee's posters but in one of your recent editorials as well, is to be placed alongside the garbage on garbage collection days, where it would be picked up for proper disposal.

On several occasions, we have noticed rag-pickers complete with horse and wagon, going through the lanes behind our homes on garbage days, and as these men are in the market for just the materials we have been asked to collect for the war effort, and being many of them, quite unscrupulous, it takes little imagination to see another place to which our "scrap" could be taken. We notify the police every time we see one of these "fifth columnists" and must say, they are very prompt in checking on them.

However, today — garbage day — we placed outside in our lane, fifty pounds of scrap metal (old picture frames made of brass, that we have had in the family for a long time, etc.) and thirty pounds of old newspapers. Ten minutes later — all this scrap was gone. The garbage-collector had not yet been around and upon phoning the salvage committee we were told that they had sent no one out to collect scrap, but still it was gone.

I suppose our little friend with his horse and wagon makes quite a business of sabotaging our war effort — what are we going to do about it Salvage Committee? Westmount.

HOW TO KEEP IN TRIM
Maxie Rosenbloom, playing a featured role in Paramount's "Louisiana Purchase," keeps in training by a light workout each morning. "I go a couple rounds with Yehudi," is the way the former world's light-heavyweight champion explains it.

THE SILVER LINING
There is one boon as the aftermath of the appendectomies performed on William Holden, star of Paramount's "The Remarkable Andrew," and his wife, Brenda Marshall, Holden says they'll have time to furnish their home while convalescing.

To Give Address

Captain the Rev. T. W. Jones, M.A., D.D., of Calvary United Church, who will speak on "The British Empire" at a meeting in Wesley Hall under the auspices of the Women's Missionary Society of Wesley United Church, on Wednesday, October 15. Dr. Jones was the supervisor of the Y.M.C.A. War Services, First Division C.A.-S.F.

Series Of Recitals Will Be Presented

The first of a proposed series of recitals will be held in Westmount Park United Church following the evening service on Sunday, Oct. 12. G. E. Flower will be at the organ console.

Joseph Berljawsky, formerly solo violinist with the famous symphony orchestra of Vienna will appear as guest soloist with Mr. Flower.

The evening service, itself, which commences at 7:30 p.m., will be given over almost entirely to the choir who will sing Mendelssohn's "Hear My Prayer," and Mrs. J. C. Scott will sing Costa's, "I Will Extol Thee." A number of familiar hymn tunes will be chosen for congregational singing.

LEARNS SONG

For his role in Paramount's "Glamor Boy," Walter Abel had to learn a complete song which he sings five times during the picture. At one time Abel wanted to be a concert singer.

Hidden Titles Contest Resumes This Week

The Westmount Examiner this week resumes—following its usual suspension during the summer months—the popular Hidden Titles Contest wherein residents have the opportunity of winning passes to the Westmount United Theatre by finding the two advertisements in this paper which contain the names of the two feature-length pictures being shown at the Westmount Theatre during the first half of the week following publication. In this case, of course, it will be the first half of next week.

Conducted through the co-operation of Mr. Godel, manager of the theatre, the contest appealed to readers from the start, both from the point of view of amusement and the opportunity of winning passes to the show. These are awarded to six persons who submit correct answers in compliance with the rules of the contest.

While no effort is made to place names of the films in places requiring a microscope to locate, they very often set readers on a hunt that takes them through the paper two or three times before they are found. Surprisingly enough this often occurs when the contest editor believes he has placed them in comparatively conspicuous positions.

A large percentage of readers have apparently formed the habit of looking for the "Hidden Titles" the minute the paper arrives and it is not unusual for persons, patience exhausted, to phone the editor and accuse him bitterly for inserting either none, or but one of the titles. They usually laughingly apologize when their location is pointed out.

One of the easiest ways to "catch" contestants, the editor found was to place a missing title in a classified ad and this tip may save considerable hunting through the paper. However the more difficult titles are to locate the more readers seem to enjoy the contest.

The contest editor wishes all hidden titles seekers the best of luck this year and hopes the contest proves as popular as ever.

The rules follow:

Simply find the two "ads." in the current issue of The Westmount Examiner in which the names of the two feature pictures being shown at the Westmount Theatre during the first half of the coming week are hidden.

Submit all answers to The Contest Editor, The Westmount Examiner, 2191 Hampton Avenue, using the special coupon provided in each issue for the purpose.

Residents of Westmount, only, are eligible.

All answers must be in the office not later than Wednesday, and the names of the winners will be published in Thursday's issue.

A convenient coupon will be found elsewhere in the paper.

The winners are drawn from among those who submit the correct answers as, unfortunately, it would be impossible to give passes to everyone submitting the right answers.

'Y' ARRANGES FINE PROGRAM OF ACTIVITIES

A Well-balanced Program of Swimming, Arts and Crafts Has Been Arranged

Schedules of activities planned for the four boys' groups at the Westmount Y.M.C.A. are now under way for the fall and winter season. A well-balanced program of gym activities, swimming, arts and crafts has been arranged.

Every Monday and Thursday, seniors meet for gym at 4 p.m., with swimming one hour later. Boys in this group over 17 years of age will be allowed to participate in the weekly "Friday Friendly Frolic," from 7 to 12 p.m.

Intermediates' gym classes are being held on Tuesday and Friday at four in the afternoon. These classes are followed by a half hour swim period.

The Junior schedule calls for gym and swim on Wednesday at four o'clock and Saturday at 10:30 a.m.

The youngest "Y" group, known as the Preps, will have a half hour swim on Wednesday afternoon at 4 p.m., and a gym, swim, and recreational program commencing at 9:30 Saturday morning.

There is to be a party for all boys of the Prep, Junior and Intermediate sections tomorrow (Friday). The program will begin at four o'clock with a swim. The swim will be followed by a supper, movies, music and singing. All boys planning to attend should put in a reservation as soon as possible.

The Ladies' and Business Girls' gym, swim and badminton classes at the local "Y" are proving to

FINAL TRIBUTE PAID TO LATE C. HUTCHISON

Life-long Resident of Westmount Died Following Brief Illness

Final tribute was paid Charles Alexander Hutchison, of 255 Metcalfe Avenue, at a funeral service conducted at his home on Saturday afternoon. Interment was in Mount Royal Cemetery. A life-long resident of Westmount, Mr. Hutchison died at his home last Thursday following a brief illness. He was 72 years of age.

He was a son of the late Alexander C. Hutchison, who was at one time mayor of the old municipality of Cote St. Antoine, now known as Westmount. Born in Westmount, Mr. Hutchison received his education in local schools.

He was one of the oldest members of St. Andrew's United Church and a life member of the Heather Curling Club and the M.A.A.A. He had retired from business some 20 years ago.

Surviving are his widow, the former Alice W. Christie; one daughter, Mrs. Fred W. McFadden; a son, Lorne A.; one granddaughter, Lorna Hutchison; a brother, William B., and a sister, Mrs. George Wood, all of Westmount.

ert Morrow will commence this Friday.

The company band will be coached by Robert Binning of the Town of Mt. Royal Cadet Corps, whose few weeks with the company have already begun to show results.

The company Bible Class will meet each Sunday from now on at 2:15 and will be in charge of Captain Richardson, assisted by Lieut. James Patterson, Staff-Sgt. Robert Morrow and the N.C.O.'s.

The life boys will resume their regular Friday night activities this week, meeting at 7 o'clock at the church and will feature a treasure hunt. Two new team captains will be appointed and awarded their white cap-covers and lanyards.

Hasty resolutions are of the nature of vows; and to be equally avoided.—Penn.

ONE IMPORTANT PIECE

One important piece of furniture, such as this English desk—the back of which is designed to match the front—can set the tone of a room. The desk is a copy of one which stands in the Regency Room in Buckingham Palace. It's of dark mahogany—hand-rubbed with oil to give it a mellow, rich finish.

of the church, and Mr. T. Jenkins sang "Because".

The bride, given away by her father, wore a gown of white silk net with a lace jacket, a head-dress trimmed with pearls, and a fingertip-length veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations and white roses, with pink, blue and white ribbons.

Miss Millicent Gilmour, of Rosemere, who acted as maid of honor, wore a gown of deep rose taffeta with a jacket, and small net hat, and carried a colonial bouquet of pink and blue flowers.

The Misses Helen and Betty Brophey, twin sisters of the groom, acted as bridesmaids, wearing gowns of net fashioned on the same lines as that worn by the bride, the former wearing pink and the latter wearing blue. They wore small net hats, and carried colonial bouquets of pink and blue flowers.

Mr. Gordon Lee acted as best man for the bridegroom, and the ushers were Mr. Gordon Redshaw, brother of the bride, and Mr. John Brophey, brother of the groom.

The little flower girl, Myrna Redshaw, sister of the bride, wore a floor-length dress of white flowered taffeta, with white shoes and a hat of the same material as her frock, and carried a colonial bouquet.

Mrs. Redshaw, mother of the bride, wore a gown of powder blue with embroidery, a navy blue hat and accessories, and a corsage of tea roses. Mrs. Brophey, mother of the groom, wore a beige dress with a wine hat and a corsage of yellow roses.

Following a reception at the home of the bride's parents, on Hampton avenue, the bridal couple left for a wedding trip to Toronto and Niagara Falls.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a Marie Jose model of white tulle, crepe made on sheath lines, with the draped bodice having a "V" neck and long tight sleeves, and the skirt finishing in a short train. Her veil of tulle illusion was held by a coronet of lily-of-the-valley and she carried a cascade bouquet of white gladioli blossoms.

Miss Barbara Holden and Miss Cecile Lounson, cousins of the bride, as flower girls, wore Kate Greenaway frocks of Robin's egg blue, wreaths of blue forget-me-nots in their hair and carried Colonial bouquets.

Mr. Howard Pullam was best man for his brother and the ushers were Leading Aircraftman

John H. Hodgson R.C.A.F., brother of the bride, and Mr. Emmet Kough.

Mrs. Hodgson, the bride's mother, was in a gown of garnet color crepe, having a short peplum shoulder effect and bracelet length sleeves. Her hat was of garnet suede, trimmed with glycerine feathers, and she wore a corsage bouquet of pale mauve cattleya orchids.

Mrs. Rufus C. Holden, grandmother of the bride, was gowned in black crepe romaiba and wore a hat of black felt and panne velvet.

The reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents, 322 Redfern avenue, where white gladioli were used to decorate the bride's table being arranged with white roses and bouvardia.

BY ANY OTHER NAME

Elam is the most ancient name of Persia, from Elam the son of Shem, whose descendants are said to have been its first inhabitants. Iran is the term applied by the present Persians to their country; and Iranloo, or Iranée, (as the appellation takes the Turkish or the Persian form) to the people. Fars, Pars, or Paros, from which European derive the term Persia, and apply it to the whole country, as it was also applied by the Greeks and Romans and some of the sacred writers, is only the southern province of the empire as that name is now used by the natives.—From "A Residence of Eight Years in Persia Among the Nestorian Christians," by Rev. Justin Perkins. (1843).

COSTUME ENSEMBLES CHIC AND WEARABLE

NEW YORK. — Because of the great chic and double wearability, costume ensembles are slated to ride high in the fashion sky this fall. Leading in popularity is the softly tailored sheer wool dress with matching 26-inch length fitted jacket.

Both dress and jacket have the new smoother shoulders, the buttonfront jackets feature simple rolled, never or collarless necklines. The casual jacket ensemble with inset waistband is also noted.

Newest, most fashionable and intensely figure-flattering is the peplum jackets over matching wool dress, the peplum almost tunic length and gently rippled. When fur trimmed, the fur is artfully handled to make the peplum and trim a little flat collar.

The fur jacket and dress ensemble in both dressy and casual types is prime favorite with college and career girls because it affords luxury at a budget price. Furs that make the jackets American include opossum, sable-dyed skunk and mouton lamb.

Many Variations Of Versatile Beret Seen In New York Showings

NEW YORK. — One of the leading autumn silhouettes is the versatile beret, sponsored simultaneously by several of the outstanding designers in their early fall showings. This is not the beret of the sturdy Basque fishermen, nor yet the wind-defying tam-o'-shanter of the Highland Scots. These gentlemen would scarcely recognize the modern species. It is being designed in a dozen different ways.

Consider, for instance, the direct profile beret, excellent for some women; or the ¾-profile type, high at one side; or the back-of-the-pompador beret with its long haircasing back for women who wish to appear well groomed when there isn't too much time for grooming. Then there is the beret based on the crusader's helmet with peaked visor; and the Ballerina beret, euphonious and triangular with a long back, ornamented above the pompador with a jeweled dancer, and worn with a mask-like strip of veiling drawn across the eyes. There are also those double-duty berets. You wear two at once—one as a pancake hat, the other as an accompanying snood. Or you can wear one and carry the other. There is literally no end to the continued story of the beret this fall.

These ubiquitous berets, large and small, come in felt, velvet, beaver, fur, leather and velours.

RECIPES GIVEN FOR GOOD DUTCH SOUPS

"Boonscep" and "uonscep" may look actually dangerous to you unless you are from Holland—but to Hollanders, these are merely bean and onion soups. Now that you know, you'll be surprised that you did not translate the words immediately.

Try the recipes and you'll see why these soups are popular among men and women whose ancestors come from the land of the dikes.

Boonscep

- 1 cup white navy beans
- 1 cup thick sour cream
- 1 small onion
- 3 quarts water

Salt and pepper

Boil beans until they have the consistency of three plums of thick cream, add salt and pepper to taste and one small grated onion. Let this come to a boil and add one cup thick sour cream.

Utensoep

- 12 good sized onions
- 1 quart beef stock
- Toast
- 2 tablespoons flour
- Butter
- Salt and pepper

Cut onions very fine and cook in butter until done, add beef stock and cook, thicken with flour and add salt and pepper. Toast slices of bread and pour soup over.

WHY FRANCE FELL

To tell at once, and with force, what one has on one's heart is a wise policy, for a frank, quick approach causes less harm than a hostile and brooding discontent. Had the leaders of France been frank with the people... my beloved country would never have fallen.—André Maurois, noted French essayist.

EVERYTHING CONSIDERED

BY
GERALDINE BRIETZCKE

We'll call them the Dashes, for the sake of convenience. It's an appropriate name, too, because they are full of vitality and enthusiasm.

The Dashes have cheered up the good neighbor policy of our street considerably during the past few years. Before, when the Blanks trailed dully in and out of their sombre, lightless, sad-colored house, the neighbor situation was very different. When the Dashes took over the house across the road, it immediately became a home, began to smile, and has been smiling broadly ever since.

Fresh paint and pretty—well, gadgets must be the word—have changed the house's appearance as much as the bubbling-over liveliness of the new owners has changed its spirit.

"My dear, I'm so glad to see you!" is "he enthusiastic and constant cry from across the street, as the Dashes dash to welcome some friend or relation—and they have many of both.

Their door seems to be open half the time, and yet you never catch them looking untidy, no matter how busy the day. The women of the household wear just the right sort of charming house dress, and look like these pictures of movie stars caught—unawares (maybe) that adorn movie magazines.

Many's the lot and dusty child who, playing in the road, has been called in to the Dashes' house for cool lemonade and cookies. And they're always bringing us something nice. Once they presented us with a fresh and aromatic loaf of country bread, and in the inimitable Dash manner, presented us with some flowers as well.

They were pink flowers, and while most people would have been content to hand them over merely as flowers, our friends had them floating in a delicate turquoise glass bowl, with turquoise glass balls bobbing on the water among the blossoms.

Again, most people would be content to spray their lawn and let it go at that, but the Dashes hold the hose up. Instead of a letter box, they have a tiny model house to catch the mail; a perky iron robin guards the house number; a pretty flagged

WESTMOUNT C.W.L. HEARS ADDRESS BY BISHOP AUXILIARY

His Excellency, Most Reverend Lawrence P. Whelan, D.D., Bishop Auxiliary of Montreal, was the guest speaker at the opening tea and reception of the Westmount Subdivision of the Catholic Women's League, held on Tuesday afternoon in St. Leo's School hall.

The main theme of His Excellency's address was that of unity, reference being made to the different societies in the parish and to the manner in which they co-operated.

Today is a test of practical Catholicity, said the speaker, remarking that while knowledge of "The three R's" was sufficient years ago, nowadays people are demanding more than they did in the past, not only in secular knowledge but in knowledge of the Church.

The Pope has asked that study groups be formed in dioceses, the speaker continued. "We need to be not only practical Catholics, but educated Catholics," His Excellency said. "We must have confidence in our religion. We will have confidence in the Church if we have confidence in God."

The guests and members were received by Mrs. W. J. Keating, president of the Subdivision, and members of the executive. Bishop Whelan was thanked by Mrs. J. T. Rogers.

Rev. Thomas Kearney, C.S.C. of Notre Dame University, Indiana; Rev. W. E. McDonagh, Chaplain of the Subdivision; Mrs. C. A. Doyle, representing Miss B. Primeau, Diocesan president; and Mrs. J. Coffey, also spoke briefly. Mrs. Keating introduced the speakers.

Mrs. J. M. Doyle rendered two solos, accompanied by Mrs. J. Shea. They were thanked by Mrs. W. H. O'Reilly. Tea was served by Mrs. W. Boyd and her committee.

WOMEN'S SHORT GAME POOR TOP PROS CLAIM

Chicago. — Women golfers' short game just isn't so hot, Tommy Armour and Dick Metz contended after having completed a two ball foursome with a couple of "the gals."

Theoretically, feminine golfers should be better shots than men on the green, but they aren't. Then too, their approach shots should offer some sort of a threat to the burly, muscled men of the links, but that threat is absent.

The reason, said Tommy Armour, "is nerves" and, added Metz, "psychology has a lot to do with it."

"The ladies, L— love 'em," said Armour. "It's astonishing from 150 to 200 yards out. They hit their woods off the fairway better than a man, possibly because, being short of toe, they are called on to use their woods more than the men."

"Up close they're—well, they aren't so good and that's because you have to have nerves and touch and a finely attuned sense of 'feel' to play the short game expertly."

"Women are soft and delicate but they haven't the coordinated nervous systems of men. They haven't the 'feel' of the club that's needed for cutting a shot extremely fine. It's a matter of nerves."

Then Metz explained what he meant by psychology having a lot to do with it. He said:

"Women see only the trouble around a green. Give them a short shot over a trap and they see themselves in the trap. Give them a little pitch and they imagine themselves being off line or shooting over the green. They only see the hazards. They never picture themselves hitting the balls into the cup. It's all psychological with the ladies; none of them ever sell themselves on doing the thing right, they upset themselves by emphasizing the dangers."

Anything to say gals?

Hot Lemonade With Honey Fine Remedy For Colds

When Grandma prescribed hot lemonade for "Grandpa's sniffles and sneezes," it was even then an old fashioned remedy. Nobody knew the "reason why." Today lemons are just as effective as ever in treating the common cold and their prescription continues with the approval of modern medicine.

When colds and "flu" are prevalent, hot lemonade is "tops" on the drink list in many a home. Ever since Wu Lai wrote his "Lemon Hot Water Song" away back in the 13th century when the Yuan dynasty ruled China, folks have been drinking hot lemonade. But whereas the ancient Chinese boiled their lemon juice with sugar or honey to make what they called "She-nie-pie," up-and-coming lemonade mixers today use fresh lemon juice, just as it is expressed from the lemons. For the vitamins which are potent elements in lemon juice lose some of their health value when cooked. Today people know—thanks to research workers—that it is better to pour boiling water on fresh lemon juice to make hot lemonade.

The wise housewife chooses clean-skinned fruit of fair size, since this is the greater economy in the end. Larger fruit gives more juice and clean skin assures good quality.

For one glass of hot lemonade, take one lemon—two is better.

NEW AND HELPFUL

Brand new, and an important boon to home seamstresses, are thermoplastic dress forms which will not lose their shape over a period of years. It is estimated that a proper dress form cuts in half the time required for a woman to fit a garment on herself.

This Winter You'll Wear Hair Shorter And Forward

"The trend in hair fashions this season is definitely toward shorter hair," declared Mr. Paul, famed hair stylist of the Charles of the Ritz Salons, when interviewed recently for the Christian Science Monitor. "And," he added fervently, "I hope this means the end of the long, unvarying glamour bob."

"By shorter hair," he explained, "I mean five to six inches in the front, and about one inch longer than that in the back." Mr. Paul looked critically at the head of the young woman in the chair in front of him, and turned it slowly to gain a perfect feeling of its contour, his hands deft and masterly in their rapid movements.

"The famous 'feather trim,' so popular this summer, was the forerunner of the new vogue for shorter hair," he continued. "This versatile style will enable women to keep their hair in place neatly and smartly, and to have it dressed to suit the contour of the head."

"You will note, too," he added, "that hairdressers can do a great deal more with hair that has been trimmed and shaped." He ran his fingers through the soft hair of the girl in the chair and snipped away as he chatted. "With the long bob we were compelled either to let it hang or to put it up on top of the head. . . the only two things that could be done. This accommodating new length of hair lends itself to any number of variations of the original coiffure."

Latest in Coiffures

"What is the very newest thing in coiffures?" he was asked. "Without a moment's hesitation he came to the point."

"The newest thing is the decided swirl at the back of the head, with no hair on the neckline. The hair is swirled to one side. The ends are combed into soft curls behind the ear. A comb is necessary to hold them in place. Those women, however, who feel they must still have the softness of hair on the neck, can have that too. All they need do is to have the swirl and then pull out a few curls around the neckline."

"As a matter of fact, the whole line in this new hair style is a forward movement," he continued, "bringing the hair around the face for decorative purposes. This can be accomplished by coquille curls or the reverse pompadour. The new hats call for more hair around the face and less at the back of the neck."

Hair Must Be Shaped

"Since hair is a woman's most pliable feature, it should be used decoratively. The hairdresser," he stressed, "has just your hair and your individual face to work with. In order that he may devise a coiffure that is smart and becoming, as well as manageable for you, your hair must be properly cut and shaped. This is particularly true when you are intending to have a permanent wave. Let the hair that is not naturally wavy be given an expert, artistic permanent, in order to provide the foundation for an attractive and flattering coiffure."

There is no excuse today for a permanent wave to be "fuzzy," Mr. Paul says. A method has been developed whereby a permanent wave is designed and given according to the individual texture of the hair. This method assures a soft, casual-looking permanent wave—the nearest thing to naturally curly hair.

Hat and hair problems are as closely related this season as usual, and the solving of one makes light work for the other. You are the arbiter of which shall be first—but how about a new coiffure?

NEWS OF THE THEATRE WORLD

Theatrical
AttractionsManpower At Westmount
Is Rich In Entertainment

Edward G. Robinson, Marlene Dietrich and George Raft are the co-starring trio of "Manpower," the new picture which opened yesterday at the Westmount United Theatre playing until Saturday night. With this triple-threat star grouping, an exciting story by ace scripters Jerry Wald and Richard Macaulay, and masterful direction by Raoul Walsh, director of such recent hits as "High Sierra" and "Strawberry Blonde," "Manpower" stacks up as entertainment-plus.

The new film is set against a background of the Pacific Coast's night life, where the hard-boiled linemen relax between the dangerous jobs of adjusting high tension power lines. Second home for most of them is the cheap and joyful Club "28," where they are entertained by the B-girls (dance hall hostesses) and forget the dangers of their daily life. It is a close little fraternity, the men bonded together by the hazards of their job.

Closest of these bonds is that between the two characters portrayed by Raft and Robinson. In a crashing electric storm, as they are dealing with hot wires, Raft is knocked unconscious, and Robinson attempting to save him, receives a permanent leg injury.

Raft in turn, drags him to safety. When he recovers, the two men are closer than ever.

Then Dietrich comes into their lives. She plays the daughter of one of the older linemen, and no better a B-girl than she should be. She has just come out of the penitentiary, and soon after her release her father is killed on the job. Robinson, whose character in the film is that of a simple, vigorous soul without too much insight, feels sorry for her, and over his friend's hard-bitten protests, marries her. They set up housekeeping in a small apartment.

Raft, injured in an accident, comes to stay with them and recuperate. Although he is attracted by Dietrich, he refuses to meet her halfway when she plays up to him. She decides, since he will not have anything to do with her and she doesn't love Robinson, that she may as well go back to her old work. She goes to the club to ask the proprietor if she can have a job at his place in Chicago. While she is there, the place is raided and she goes to jail.

Raft hears about it and hurries down to the jail to get her out before Robinson finds out. Furious and disgusted with her, he slaps her down a flight of stairs, makes her promise to go back to her husband. But, determined to see the fury of a strong friendship turned to hate, and makes a thrilling finish to the powerful dramatic story.

Murder in his heart, Robinson rushes out in a storm to find Raft. The ensuing clash has all the fury of a strong friendship turned to hate, and makes a thrilling finish to the powerful dramatic story.

Powell, Myrna Loy Shine
In Love Crazy At Monkland

When William Powell and Myrna Loy are billed together, audiences are sure of laughs. But never was the promise of laughs more beautifully filled than in "Love Crazy," their latest "man-and-wife" adventure, now playing at the Monkland United Theatre until Saturday night.

Miss Loy becomes jealous of Powell and decides to divorce him. Powell discovers that a wife can't divorce her husband if he's crazy, so sets out to convince her and all sundry that he's mad as a March hare.

His method takes the form of a series of screwball antics such as chewing up phonograph records and digging a hole in Fifth Avenue. But when the alienists are called in, the antics fool them and they take his craziness seriously and commit him to an asylum. Then Powell's struggles to extricate himself from his own web of deceit make him look all the crazier, until he finally escapes, dressed as a woman, to work out his salvation and be reconciled to his wife.

Powell's debonair handling of the absurd situations is engaging and hilarious, and Miss Loy's performance as the wife, as usual, leaves nothing to be desired. Gail Patrick plays the "other woman" convincingly, and Jack Carson adds comedy as the rival for Powell's affections after his separation. Florence Bates also garners laughs galore as Powell's mother-in-law.

Jack Conway directed with deft skill. It is his first work with Powell and Miss Loy since "Libeled Lady." Contributing excellent support are Sidney Blackmer, Sig

Rumann, Vladimir Sokoloff, Donald MacBride, Sara Haden, Kathleen Lockhart, Fern Emmett, Joseph Crehan and George Meekler.

Double Program
Now At Snowdon

One of the outstanding attractions of the year, is Frank Capra's "Meet John Doe," which he made at Warner Bros. studio, in which Gary Cooper plays an average American who has lost his means of livelihood and who, in spite of ambition, comes to be classified as a migrant. In playing the role of an average man, temporarily down on his luck, Cooper adds another portrait to the gallery of "heavenly vagabonds" so dear to the heart of Americans. The problem of the man displaced from ordinary economic status, whose ideas, if not radical, are at least different from the rank and file, is as old as history and as new as tomorrow's newspaper — and just as challenging and dramatic.

Barbara Stanwyck, by no means new to Capra productions, has the leading feminine part, and the strong supporting cast includes, Edward Arnold, Walter Brennan, Spring Byington, James Gleason and Gene Lockhart.

Second Feature
Readers of Edgar Wallace can thank another English author, the famous poet Rudyard Kipling, for all of the two hundred novels, thousand-odd short stories and score of plays written by the master mystery and detective story writer. For it was Kipling alone who labored to convince Wallace that his forte was in this type of writing. Wallace accepted his advice and thus began a phenomenal career. Among his best known works is "Missing People," which occupies half of the Snowdon double program which is now playing, and in the leading role will be seen Will Fyffe, with Kay Walsh and Lyn Harding.

The latest war news and short entertainment will be in addition to the feature attractions.

RONALD COLMAN
STARS AT YORK

Hailed as one of the brightest comedies of the year, Ronald Colman's new starring vehicle, "My Life With Caroline," revolves around the casual romances of a neglected wife and the ingenious strategy by which her husband thwarts her intended elopements and holds his home together, is now playing at the York United Theatre until Friday night.

Anna Lee, lovely and vivacious British star, heads the featured cast as the wife, with Charles Winninger as her self-indulgent father and Reginald Gardiner and Gilbert Roland as two of her admirers.

Because of the pressure of business, Anthony Mason can't spend as much time as he'd like with his wife Caroline. And she, living at various expensive resorts with her pleasure-seeking bon vivant of a father, finds herself falling in love with handsome young millionaires who have no trouble in convincing her that she's terribly misunderstood and unappreciated.

At an Idaho ski resort, Caroline has fallen in love with a rich young Argentine and is planning to divorce Anthony at once when Anthony arrives on the scene.

Aware of the scheme, Anthony pays assiduous attention to Caroline and adroitly tosses monkey wrenches into the romantic works of the plot, with the result that Caroline sees the light and is reunited with her understanding spouse.

The role of the tolerant and comprehending Anthony gives Colman one of his finest parts to date, while Miss Lee, an outstanding favorite on the British screen, makes her American debut as the vacillating but charming Caroline.

MOVIE ON TOLERATION
ROUSES GERMAN IRE

While there is not a word of propaganda, controversy nor apology in "Monastery," the announcement of its distribution in this country was a signal for a violent attack on the film in the German motion picture trade press.

A flamboyant headline across the front page of "Der Film," a Nazi film organ of Berlin, last June turned its pages to an invective dispatch datelined Hollywood describing the new production as a "Hetz-film," a "New Film of Hate against Germany."

In a recent address the Rev. Michael J. Ahern, S.J., who makes and does the narration for "Monastery," while decrying persecution of the Catholic Church in Germany stated, "This is no propaganda. It happens to be provisionally a good answer to Hitler. Hitler wanted to unify Germany, its economics, its industry. He made up his mind that he wanted one religion."

"First he got at the smallest religion. There were only 500,000 Jews out of 60,000,000 inhabitants. Then he started on the Catholics. But there were 20,000,000 Catholics and that was not so simple."

"In point of fact 'Monastery' does offer a factual document in refutation of some absurd charges made by the German Government, because 'Monastery' shows positively what religious life really is."

"Monastery," in addition, offers a refutation of the menacing philosophy of hate which is threatening to bring about international disaster. Men can be filled with joy through giving up everything; they can help their fellows through sacrifice and devotedness. Would it not help the world if men and nations would learn more on the principle of giving rather than the fallacy of getting?"

The production "Monastery" comes to us with the praise and commendation of His Eminence, Cardinal O'Connell of Boston, to whom it has been dedicated. His Excellency, Bishop Whelan has given his written approval for its display in Montreal, on October 3-4-5 at the Gesù Hall, 1200 Bleury St. and on October 6 and 7, at the Lovola Auditorium, Sherbrooke St. W. These showings are sponsored by the Catholic Truth Society of Canada, Montreal Branch.

TRADITION OF CIRCUS IS PASSING RAPIDLY

I have just witnessed the passing of a cherished Canadian tradition—or rather the evidence of its having passed. I have just been to the circus. And there were no cowboys, no Indians. There were no whooping, no thundering hoofs, no staccato pistol shots.

At first I wasn't aware of what was missing. The circus looked natural enough, the big tent, the animals, clowns, trapezes. But all through the opening acts there was that feeling that something essential was not there. But just before the finale, I knew: It was the cowboys and Indians.

There was a day when the cowboys and Indians headlined the circus program. In fact early circuses were built around this feature. Remember Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show, and Pawnee Bill, and the 101 Ranch? Cowboys and Indians opened and closed the shows. There were dozens of them, yipping and shooting their way through the program. They—and the cowgirls, too—were the highlights of the street parade. But, of course, the parades are no more, either.

In later years a real, western cowhand might not have recognized the circus version, but still there was enough authenticity to satisfy the public—those like me. The gay-colored shirts, the shiny silver ornaments, the studded saddles and bridles added something which at that time we hadn't learned to call glamour. The fact that the circus cowboy lived on long after the day of the mustached, gun-totin', Indian fightin' cowhand of the early West failed to detract from the picture.

But now that's all gone. There was a limit, of course, to the persistence of such characters in the face of progress in this motorage, even in this pseudo-circus form. Disappearance of the Western frontier took with it the cowboy, that is, the gun-carrying kind, and the war-whooping Indian. The fact that the circus continued them for a time, and that the movies, too, helped to perpetuate this American tradition, explains perhaps the misconception of the modern West in the eyes of many untraveled East-

PREFERS HOLLYWOOD

Before Jimmy Lydon became one of Hollywood's outstanding young actors he was a star on Broadway. Since his success in Paramount's "Henry Aldrich for President," he has been offered two Broadway plays but is staying in Hollywood for the Aldrich series.

TWO FAMOUS AUTHORS

Louis Bromfield, Pulitzer Prize winning novelist, is writing the screenplay adaptation of Ernest Hemingway's best-selling novel, "For Whom the Bell Tolls," for Paramount Studio. The picture will begin filming in early October with an all-star cast.

COLLECTOR

Eva Gabor, beautiful Hungarian actress in "Forced Landing," has an autographed picture of every contract player on the Paramount lot. She has them framed in her playroom.

MAYBE HE'S TYPED

J. Carrol Nash, appearing in "Forced Landing," is now known as "the man of a thousand faces," as a result of playing 50-year-old characters in three recent productions.

But what have we in the circus today in place of the wild and woolly cowboys and Indians? Norman Bel Geddes' Mother Goose characters! What a change! Little Miss Muffet sits on her tuffet and rides placidly along where we used to watch, wide-eyed, a pinto pony charging through the dust under a swaying, yipping, scarlet-shirted, gun-blazing cowboy.

Perhaps right here, though, we should utter a word of sincere appreciation of the fact that in this time of war, of airplanes and tanks and guns, guns, guns!—there was not a single shot, not a single gun—except one in the hands of a clown—in that whole circus. Maybe, after all, we are "doing all right" without the cowboys and Indians. There was something mighty diverting about Old King Cole and Cinderella and the three blind mice.

Active Week Marks Opening Of Rugby League

TWO SENIOR AND ONE JUNIOR GAME PLAYED; ARGOS DEFEAT DODGERS BY SCORE OF 12-10

The Westmount Six Man Rugby League started its 1941 season with three games having been played last week, two senior and one junior. Kevin Kennedy's Argos, which won the title last year under the name of Senators, got off on the right foot when they defeated Euard Read's Dodgers 12-10 on Thursday afternoon. The other senior game of the week saw the Dodgers and Pierre Rodier's Bulldogs play a 10-all draw. The third game, a junior fixture resulted in a walkover for the Beavers over the Panthers 41-0.

After dropping their first game to the Argos, the Dodgers appeared to be well on the way to breaking even on their week's encounters, when they sported a ten point lead at half-time in their game with the Bulldogs on Tuesday. The Dodgers scored on two unconverted tries in the first half, Donnie Mann got the first when he intercepted a lateral pass on a Bulldog end run, running the 30 yards to the Bulldog goal-line unopposed. Stan Hughes got the other five points when he picked Euard Read's forward pass out of the air, although covered by two or three opposing players. The pass travelled over the Bulldog goal-line from ten yards out.

John Merrill picked up the first five points for the Bulldogs, catching a low forward from Willie Graham just over the Dodgers' goal-line. With but seconds remaining to play the Dodgers looked sure winners, but a Graham to Kevin Shea forward pass on the last play of the game enabled Shea to scramble over for the tying point. The Dodgers charged through and knocked down Graham's attempted drop-kick which could have won the game.

Euard Read, Donnie Mann and Brendan Macken were the best for the Dodgers while Adrian Lunny, Kevin Shea and Willie Graham starred for the Bulldogs.

The Argos won their game with the Dodgers 12-10 but were hard-pressed throughout, with only a fifteen yard forward pass, Kevin Kennedy to Logue McDonald, from the Argos one yard line, easing the situation in the last minute of play.

The Argos came from behind a five point deficit in the game to go ahead 6-5 at the half-way mark. The Dodgers opened the scoring when Euard Read caught a forward pass from Donnie Mann, just over the Argos' goal-

First Senior Rugby Tilt Monday

The first senior high school rugby game of the season to be played on Westmount Park is scheduled for Monday afternoon, October 6th, when the D'Arcy McGee High School team hooks up with the Westmount High School squad.

English Rugby will be played on Saturday afternoon.

W.H.S. DOWNS L.C.C. BY 15-5 IN FIRST TILT

A strong Westmount High rugby squad whipped the West Hill champions to a 6-1 victory at Molson Stadium on Saturday in a game that was tight from start to finish.

Late in the third quarter the Purple and White squad fought the ball down the field deep into West Hill territory. It was taken from there by husky John Porter, who broke clear around his left end and went over standing up. Jim Peters placed the ball neatly between the posts for the extra point.

The way was paved for the Westmount touchdown by two plays. Doug Heron tossed a forward, which was knocked down but ruled complete on interference for a gain of 15 yards and then Finlay carried the ball on a beautiful run around end to camp on the West Hill 10-yard line for the last play of the third quarter.

Play in the opening periods was very tight with the Purple and White heavily penalized for holding. Heron and Porter consistently moved the sticks but a husky West Hill secondary held off any threat. Both teams fumbled but there were no great threats in the first half after West Hill scored its lone point, in the first quarter. The rouse followed a nice pass taken by Murray Hayes from Meyers for a 20-yard gain. Meyers booted for the single point.

West Hill fought back furiously in the fourth period and Quarterback Hayes tossed forwards with reckless abandon but very little success as the Westmount line hurried him on each play. An interception and run backed by Porter on a Hayes toss killed any chance the W.H.S. team might have had of saving the game.

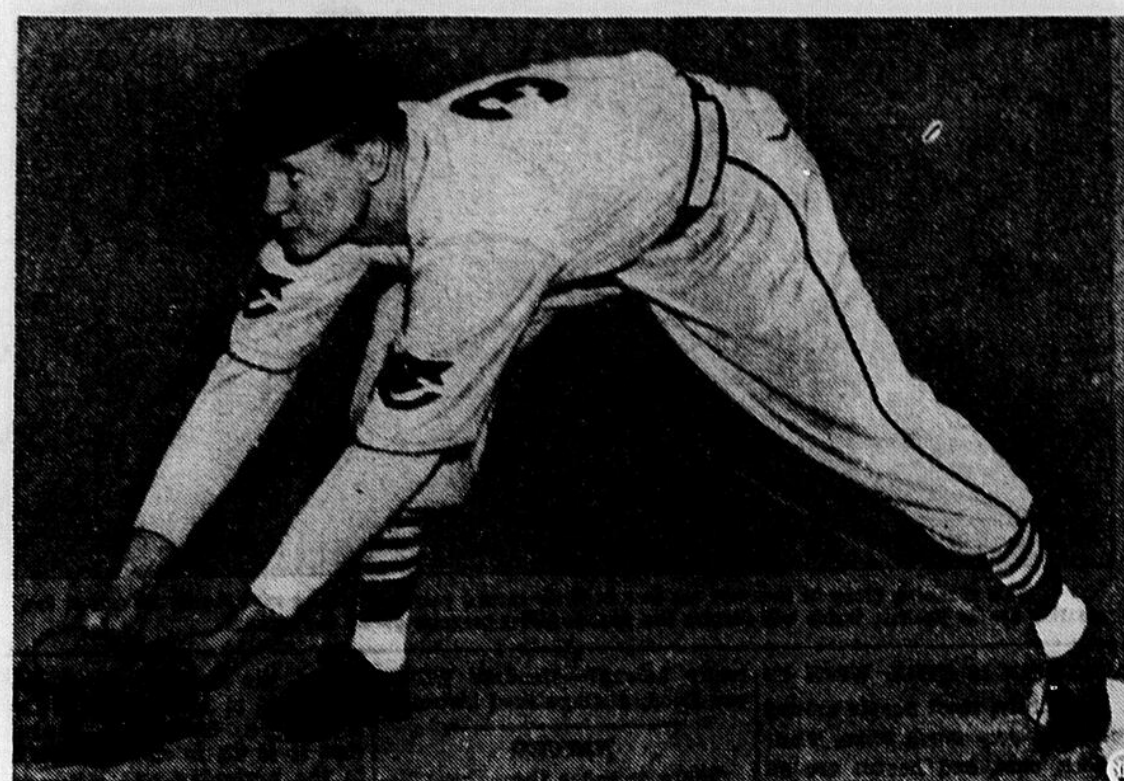

Westmount High School defeated Lower Canada 15-5 in its first scheduled game in the Protestant Football League at Westmount Park on Friday afternoon. The local squad scored an early lead and managed to chalk up its victory with little difficulty.

The first count was made in the opening quarter. The ball was in W.H.S. hands in L.C.C. territory when Kyle Prescott followed his interference on an extension play and carried the ball over for a major. James Robinson repeated for W.H.S. on an identical play in the next quarter, making the score 10-0 as both convert tries missed. L.C.C.

With about five minutes left in the fourth Robert Walby, who played a consistently good game for the losers, tossed a forward over the W.H.S. goal-line. The pass was knocked down but interference was ruled on the play, making the score 15-5. John Archer and Turkey Milne turned in good performances for L.C.C.

The teams:
L.C.C.: Walby, Piepr, Morris, Milne, Muir, Robertson, Kent, Atkinson, MacFarlane, Lawrence, Archer, Sutherland, Bassett, King, Molson, Shaw, Wallace.
W.H.S.: Masterman, de Lallanne, Erno, Prescott, McCrae, Edmonson, Oliver, Williams, Spencer, Jackson, Hellyer, Patterson, Chippendale, Levitt, McAllister, Ross, Wilson, Robinson.

Mize May Go As Cards Sift $750,000 Worth Of Talent

Ray Sanders

First baseman Ray Sanders, whom Montrealers viewed last weekend while playing the initial sack for the Columbus team, is slated for the St. Louis Cardinals. He is considered the outstanding recruit in the American Association.

By LUTHER EVANS

With the Cardinal incubators hatching major league talent on a wholesale scale, Branch Rickey will make one of his biggest trips to market this fall and winter.

As a matter of fact, Ivory Dealer Rickey is shopping around for prospective purchasers right now. He called on William Harold Terry of the Giants in New York the other day. After that Dizzy Dean thing he has a soft spot in his heart for the Cubs.

Salesman Rickey is even willing to help out his one-time employee, Larry MacPhail, in Brooklyn. The Brooks are champs, next year will be another story, and the Dodgers may require a few spare parts.

Rickey doesn't mind strengthening the American League, either. . . . At a price. Nibbles by the affluent Red Sox and Tigers for any of his farm-handlers will be welcome. Rickey is not only in the baseball business. He is also in the ball player business. He controls more slaves than anybody has had since the emancipation proclamation. He has more healthy men in camps throughout the country than the United States army.

PLAYERS NEVER DIE ON CARDINALS

Baseball men declare the St. Louis Nationals have $750,000 worth of new talent scattered around the land. That isn't hard to believe after looking at the phenomenal southpaw, Howard Pollet.

Rickey's first step probably will be to dispose of Johnny Mize. The big first baseman is only 28, but a baseball saying is that they never die on the Cardinals.

Rickey gets rid of 'em while the getting's good. Mize gets $20,000 a year and Samuel Breadon does not go in for robust salaries.

Not when he has a Ray Sanders to take Mize's place. Sanders, who stands 6 feet 3 inches and weighs 190 pounds, recently was named the most valuable recruit in the American Association.

They say Blattner, second basing for the Sacramento store, can't miss.

Columbus, which is to turn over Slugger Sanders, has a fine shortstopper prospect in Klein. Walter Sessl, a 6 foot 4 inch outfielder with Houston, would be ready had not the army called.

PITCHING SHELVES ARE WELL STOCKED

There are other infielders and outfielders, but it is the pitching department where practically every other major league outfit is short, that the Cardinals are long. It is for this reason that Rickey may peddle a couple of the older pitchers, say Lon Warneke and Clyde Shoun. A second strike on Warneke is that he is well paid.

Houston could have sent a right-hander to match Pollet. His name is Freddie Martin, but the army gets him.

When the Buffs gave up Pollet the Pazzler, Rickey simply reached down in his grab bag and came up with Norman Russell as a replacement. Russell had copped 15 while losing 4 for Mobile of the Southeastern League. Tod Wilks, youthful right-hander, has taken 20 for Houston while losing 4.

Right-hander Fred Munger is slated for spring delivery from Sacramento, where he is helping Pepper Martin and the Cardinal chain to another pennant.

GORNICKI AND GRODZICKI AND STILL THEY COME

Tocheater has Hank Gornicki and Max Surkont, among others. Gornicki was returned to the AAs as a reward for turning in a one-hitter against the Phillies. Surkont the Swift manufactured a no-hit, no-runner recently.

Columbus will send Johnny Grodzicki, a hard throwing bloke. The Cards have two more in New Orleans in Al Ulrich and Johnny Beazley.

Southworth will have trouble trying to decide what to do with all the new hands next spring.

Even after Branch Rickey makes room for some by going to market.

FINAL PUTTING TOURNAMENT OF THE CURRENT SEASON HELD AT KING GEORGE PARK

The last putting tournament of the season was held on the adult course in King George Park last Thursday evening. Only 18 holes were played in the event which saw John Haskell turn in the winning card with a 43.

The round-robin tournaments which has been in progress during the past month or so has come to a conclusion with Mr. Charles Holland winning the event with an average score of 43.3 strokes for ten rounds. Mr. Holland eked out his win by the scant margin of 3/50th of a stroke over Mr. R. Wilson-Smith, who had a score of 47.7 for eleven rounds, an average score of 43.36.

Other good scores in the event were by Mr. W. D. MacDonald, 43.5 for ten rounds; Mr. R. H. Babbage and Mr. F. W. Dengate with 44.3 for eleven rounds and Mr. H. B. Thompson with 44.4 for eleven rounds. Mrs. F. W. Dengate led the feminine contestants with an average score of 47.9 for ten rounds.

An oddity of the event is seen in the fact that Mr. W. D. MacDonald, although placing third in the tournament proper with his average of 43.5, did not lose one single match in which he played.

Mr. Thompson who finished sixth in the tournament only lost one match, that to Mr. Wilson-Smith, but three of his other matches ended in a stalemate. The winners of the tournaments will receive their prizes at the presentation of prizes to be held later on in the month at Victoria Hall.

DAMANTS WIN TENNIS MATCH

Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Damant won the mixed doubles tennis championship of the municipal courts on Monday evening, when they defeated Sid Quinton and Miss Betty Wickham, 6-2 and 6-3. The match was much closer than the score indicates, with the Damants being forced to play top-notch tennis to win out. Although the match was played on a rather cold night, good tennis prevailed with Mr. Damant's net-play featuring.

Mr. and Mrs. Damant won their way into the finals by defeating Mr. H. Heinrich and Mrs. F. L. McNaughton 6-1 and 6-4. Quinton and Miss Wickham won their semi-final round from Lt. Ed Spearing and Miss M. McInnes 6-2 and 6-4.

The finals in the mixed doubles brings the tournament season on the municipal courts to an end. No one player succeeded in capturing more than one title as the calibre of play in most instances seemed pretty well on a par.

W.H.S. DOWNS WEST HILL BY SCORE OF 6-1

Westmount High School defeated Lower Canada 15-5 in its first scheduled game in the Protestant Football League at Westmount Park on Friday afternoon. The local squad scored an early lead and managed to chalk up its victory with little difficulty.

The first count was made in the opening quarter. The ball was in W.H.S. hands in L.C.C. territory when Kyle Prescott followed his interference on an extension play and carried the ball over for a major. James Robinson repeated for W.H.S. on an identical play in the next quarter, making the score 10-0 as both convert tries missed. L.C.C.

With about five minutes left in the fourth Robert Walby, who played a consistently good game for the losers, tossed a forward over the W.H.S. goal-line. The pass was knocked down but interference was ruled on the play, making the score 15-5. John Archer and Turkey Milne turned in good performances for L.C.C.

The teams:
L.C.C.: Walby, Piepr, Morris, Milne, Muir, Robertson, Kent, Atkinson, MacFarlane, Lawrence, Archer, Sutherland, Bassett, King, Molson, Shaw, Wallace.

BE A SPORT

Two farmers decided on a trip to town. After a round of sight-seeing they entered an hotel.

"We'd like to stay here for the night," said the elder.

"Certainly," said the clerk. "Would you like a room with a bath?"

The elder farmer hesitated. "Go on, Oliver," urged his friend, "be a sport. We only live once."

He whose face gives no light shall never become a star.

YOUTH

LAST RESPECTS PAID TO LATE GEORGE WOOD

Funeral Service Held on Tuesday for Noted Architect — Died After
Short Illness

Friends and relatives paid final tribute to George Winks Wood, of 248 Kensington avenue, at the funeral service held at St. Andrew's Church on Tuesday afternoon. Interment followed in Mount Royal Cemetery. A noted architect, Mr. Wood died Saturday morning at his residence following a short illness. He was 78 years of age.

Mr. Wood was particularly well known as designer of buildings and Macdonald College, Ste. Anne de Bellevue; of the Guardian building, 240 St. James St. west; the Shaughnessy building, 407 McGill St., and many other edifices in Montreal and vicinity.

Son of the late Peter Wood and the former Margaret Fletcher, Mr. Wood was born and educated in Montreal. He began the study of architecture with the firm of Hutchison and Steele, architects, in 1877. He had continuously practiced his profession for the past 64 years and was connected with the firm of Hutchison and Wood at the time of his death.

Mr. Wood was a Fellow of the Royal Architectural Institute of Canada and one of the oldest members of the Province of Quebec Association of Architects. He was also one of the oldest residents of Westmount and, before his death was the oldest living member of St. Andrew's Church, Westmount, of which he was also one of the original members.

The late architect was a past president of the Canada Club, the Whitlock Golf Club and Heather Curling Club, of which he was a life member.

He is survived by his wife, the former Helen Hutchison; three sons, A. Campbell Wood, G. Arthur Wood, and Douglas F. Wood; and by three grandchildren, Mrs. Charles Harrison, L.A.C. R. Douglas Wood, R.C.A.P., and Miss Phyllis W. Wood, all of Montreal.

Many Wish To Keep In Good Condition

"I want to get into condition" is the most familiar sentence around the local Y.M.C.A. at the present time. Even the younger boys are speaking in terms like the above. The war has made people conscious of the fact that they may be called upon to carry even greater burdens than they are at present. They seem to feel that it is their duty to prepare for the future.

This desire to be prepared and fit has given each a goal to strive for in planning an activity program. Many of these people are becoming members of the Y.M.C.A. or other organizations whose facilities and program fit in with their plan of preparedness.

The local Y's fall and winter program for men, women, boys and girls has been in progress for one week. Attendance has been very good considering the weather. Now that the warm weather has gone a rise in attendance is expected.

Because of the demand for conditioning work special emphasis is being given to the needs of each individual member. A definite program of activity is set up for each member depending on his or her capabilities and physical condition upon entrance. Results obtained will depend to a large measure on the instructor-member relationship. A combination of gym classes, games, swimming and so forth with a few health pointers on diet will bring about surprising results even in a fall and winter season.

A LOT OF JOHNSON
Lincoln, Neb.—The State House Johnsons are on the move. Lieut. Gov. William E. Johnson is asking for pay while he acted as governor. State Auditor Ray G. Johnson refuses to allow his claim. Attorney General Walter R. Johnson told the district court the claim was just. State Treasurer L. B. Johnson will make the payment if the judge so decides.

AFTER RECORD
Kirby Higbe was 1940 National League leader in strikeouts and bases on balls. He's this summer's pacemaker in the win column and alone September drive he may plant his fair name in the book with a new modern record for games pitched in one season. Clyde Shoun holds it now, 54. The Dodger ace has passed the 40 mark. In the red-hot pennant showdown, with starting pitchers jumping in the next day on relief jobs, Hig looks like a clinch to set a new high.

Talent is that which is in a man's power.—Lowell.

STUDENTS SPONSOR CIGARETTE BLITZ

The students of Sir George Williams College Faculty of Arts, Science and Commerce are sponsoring a "Georgian Cigarette Blitz" early in November, the object of which will be to raise money to send cigarettes to the boys who have left the college to join the army, the air force or the navy.

Difficulty has been experienced in obtaining the names and addresses of all such students, and the co-operation of their parents and friends is sought. If you know of a Sir George Williams College student on active service, you are therefore invited to send his name and address to: Hazel Brown, c/o Sir George Williams College, 1441 Drummond St., Montreal.

By so doing you will enable his college friends to send him cigarettes and to mail him the college paper regularly.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS TO OPEN COURSES

On Sunday, Oct. 5th, will open the 14th annual national study course in scientific temperance education in the Sunday Schools throughout Canada. The course will continue five weeks and is open to all boys and girls from the ages of seven to seventeen. The Women's Christian Temperance Union and Religious Education Council of Canada seek to give every boy and girl the facts concerning beverage alcohol. This is one of the strong recommendations of the Royal Commission in their study of the alcohol question.

The lessons are printed in the Northern Messenger and many S. S. papers, also in leaflet form. The Junior lessons are in story form for children to eleven years. Anyone desiring papers is asked to phone EL 0947. During the past thirteen years approximately 85,000 papers have been written and $3000.00 given in prizes by National and Prov. Unions besides bicycles, wrist watches, fountain pens, clocks, picture testaments, books and last year war savings stamps. Many county and local prizes were given.

The course was started in 1925 by Frederick E. Dougall, then Junior partner of John Dougall and Son, publishers of the Montreal Witness. This firm spent around $40,000 on the project which has been carried on with increasing usefulness in the interval, in co-operation with the W.C.T.U. and the Religious Education Council.

CAVE MAN IS STILL WITH US

Outwardly, most people around you look very much alike. Their clothes, cars, and houses are all of a kind — and modern. But underneath this 1941 veneer, to what periods of the past do they really belong?—Hendrik Willem van Loon, distinguished historian.

NATURE

There is order throughout Nature; order lies in the very heart of things. By applying his mind thereunto, to use Newton's words, the man of science finds the world to be intelligible. Does it seem a far-fetched thought that it is all inelligible because in the beginning was Mind, and that Mind was with God, and the Mind was God? —Professor J. A. Thompson.

WILLIAM LIEBER IS RE-OPENING CLASSES

Fall and winter classes are re-opening under William Lieber, formerly director of the famous Russian Institute of Music at Kieff, and his popular piano and vocal studio at 4046 Dorchester West is a mecca for students seeking instruction in the finer realms of music and vocal training. Educated at the Russian Conservatory of Music, Mr. Lieber follows the methods used in that institution. He has appeared on countless concert stages and has played several times over local radio stations, and has scored success with every appearance. Mr. Lieber's pupils have achieved singular success, concert and radio performances on their part having been received with much acclaim from even the severest critics.

Expression, says Mr. Lieber, is the soul of music; he concentrates on expression and voice placing, and deplores the fact that many so-called musicians in Montreal district seem to have absolutely no idea of these basic fundamentals.

Mr. Lieber carries on instruction in no less than six languages.

Full information and details of his interesting courses may be obtained by telephoning or calling personally on Mr. Lieber.

The wealth of mankind is the wisdom they leave.—John Boyle O'Reilly.

Legion Branch Will Hold Concert

Marking the opening of the fall and winter activities of Vimy Branch No. 47 of the Canadian Legion, a grand variety concert will be held in the ball room of the Mount Royal Hotel, Tuesday evening, October 7th, 1941, at 8.30 o'clock.

An excellent program has been arranged including such highlights as the Act of Remembrance and Salute to the British Commonwealth of Nations, Flags of Canada, Newfoundland, Australia, South Africa, New Zealand, India and many more will be carried in a smart impressive movement by the Vimy Patrol Team. The service flags of the fighting forces representing the Navy, Army and the Air Force will also be included in the patriotic display of Empire Colours, R. W. Lillard's Immortal Lines "An Answer" will be given by James H. Boyd, president of the Quebec Command Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L.

Tom Burke's Orchestra will render selections throughout the evening and accompany the many talented artists who will appear on the program in song, dance, tap dancing and variant novelty acts. As well as outstanding vocalists and accordion and banjo soloists, the famous Flanders' Troubadours will be heard in an excellent number by popular request.

The love principle is stronger than the force principle.—A. A. Hodge.

Organist Honored By Presbyterians

At the First Presbyterian Church, Mance and Prince Arthur streets, on Friday evening last, the choir held a social evening to say goodbye to their organist and choir director, Herbert Simmonds, who is leaving to take a similar position at Parkdale United Church, Toronto.

Mr. Simmonds was presented with a wallet containing money, and Mrs. Simmonds a bouquet of carnations.

J. R. Dick J. Taylor and Norman Clelland represented the church and session and spoke expressing their regret and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Simmonds. Mr. Simmonds takes up his new duties in Toronto on the first of October.

At the first rehearsal of the Masonic Choir of Montreal held on Sunday afternoon last, the choir presented Mr. Simmonds with a silver tray, suitably engraved.

Mr. Simmonds has been deputy conductor of the choir for several years.

"WRENS" ADOPT SHIP

Navy girls in Plymouth, England, members of the W.R.N.S. (the Wrens to their friends), have adopted a ship of their own and the Admiralty is so pleased with them they have agreed to name it H.M.S. Wren, an escort ship of 1,200 tons. However, the Wrens will never sail it. Girls of the navy can never go to sea.
