CANADIANS TAKE VIMY RIDGE IN GREAT BRITISH VICTORY

GREAT SPRING OFFENSIVE OPENS ON 12-MILE FRONT WITH HEROIC CHARGE

Canadians Have Place of Honor in Attack on Vimy Ridge, Crucial Point of German Line—Aviators Found Path for Advance—Artillery Preparation Sets New Record

Special Star Cable by United Press.

LONDON, April 10.—The great Spring Offensive by the Allies is on. On a line twelve miles long the British have driven the enemy back two and three miles, establishing a new line from Givenchy-en-Gohelle, which is south of Lens, to Henin-Sur-Cojeul, twelve kilometres southeast of Arras.

By a heroic charge the Canadian troops have taken the Vimy Ridge, of vast military importance, and now the heavy British guns are being placed on the ridge to dominate the region beyond. The Vimy Ridge commands the city of Lens and its vast plain of coal fields as far as Douai.

The British attack, which began before daylight yesterday, was foreshadowed by the brilliant offensive of the British Flying Corps the latter part of last week and the attack on Zeebrugge Saturday night. The new activities of the French in Belgium also led to the expectation that Easter week would see the beginning of a great movement and, it was hoped, the beginning of the end.

In the last few days aviators had taken photographs of every foot of the German defences, and when the order was sounded today to advance, Gen. Haig knew exactly what he wanted and where to get it. The assault was made with brilliancy along the twelve miles of the main battle line. Trench after trench was taken, the Germans either fleeing in disorder or surrendering meekly. Many were too weak to retire, it was reported.

While the main action continues on the new line being pushed between Lens and Arras, the British conducted an independent action, with great success in the field of the great German retreat. There they have advanced, taking Hermies and Bourisles, points of much strategic importance. Bourisles is on the road from Bapaume to Cambrai, with Cambrai only eight miles away and in the range of the British field guns. Hermies is a little south of Bourisles.

In the direction of St. Quentin the British have captured Fresnoy de Petiti. The famous road named "The Harp," only a little less formidable than the noted "Labyrinth," was captured with virtually the whole battalion defending it. Several "tanks" were seen climbing Telegraph Hill, which commands "the Harp" and probably had much to do with the surrender of this position.

Along the railway running through to the valley of the Scarpe the British made good progress, while upon the Lens branch of the line they captured Malson Blancs wood.

The news has caused great elation in London. It is reported that the Germans were preparing an offensive in this very sector, but that the British have been forewarned with them. Despatches from Copenhagen today say that Field Marshal von Hindenburg has apparently completed his new strategic dispositions, which were on an immense scale. This is indicated by the fact that traffic on the German railroads, almost stopped for some weeks by the demands for troop trains, is once more approaching as near to normal as is possible under war conditions.

It is believed here that Germany will very shortly risk her fleet once more, and no news could be more welcome. One reason for this belief is that the large number of British warships released from Atlantic patrol work by the United States navy will soon reduce Germany's chances in a sortie even further.

BRITISH OFFICIAL STATEMENT

LONDON, April 10.—The text of the official statement issued last night reads: "The operations continue to be carried out successfully in accordance with the plans. Our troops have everywhere surmounted the enemy defences from Henin-Sur-Cojeul to the southern outskirts of Givenchy-en-Gohelle, to a depth of from two to three miles, and our advance continues. The enemy's forward defences on this front, including Vimy Ridge, which was carried by the Canadian troops, were captured early in the morning. These defences comprise a network of trenches and fortified localities—Neuville Vitasse, Telegraph Hill, Tilloy-lez-Mofflaines, Observation Ridge, Savy, Hyderbad Redoubt, Athies and Le Folle Farm.

Subsequently our troops moved forward and captured the enemy's rearward defences, including in addition to other powerful trench systems the fortified localities of Feuchy Chapelle de Savy, Hyderbad Redoubt, Athies and Le Folle Farm. "Up to 3 p.m. 5,816 prisoners, including 119 officers, passed through the stations, and many more remain to be counted. Of these, a large number belong to the Bavarian divisions, who have suffered heavy casualties in today's fighting.

The captured war material includes guns and a number of trench mortars and machine guns, which have not yet been counted. "In the direction of Cambrai further progress has been made in the neighbourhood of Frivillecourt Wood. We have captured the village of Demicourt. "In the direction of St. Quentin we captured the villages of Pontury and Le Verguier. "The aerial activity of the past few days has continued with great energy. Several successful bombing raids were carried out by us, our machines co-operating with our artillery with excellent results. Two hostile machines were destroyed, and fifteen others were driven down and probably crashed to the ground. Two German kite balloons were brought down in flames. Ten of our airplanes are missing.

PIVOT OF GERMAN FRONT BROKEN

By Canadian Associated Press. LONDON, April 10.—The Times in an editorial, says that ever since the third month of the war the Germans have held Vimy Ridge heights. It is admitted the great bastion and fortress of the German western lines. Whatever else has been allowed to go, they held Vimy with a grim resolve and to all the arts of fortification. They never hesitated, when the Allies threatened to shake their hold, to sacrifice men to preserve it. The French tried over and over to take it knowing its strategic value. Gen. Foch failed there. It would cost the German 60,000 men. Upon Vimy hinges the whole strategy of the enemy retreat in the West. With Vimy gone the pivot of retreat is thrown out of gear. The Daily Express says: "The capture of Vimy by the Canadians is of great importance. It must have far-reaching results. Many formidable obstacles were surmounted by the attackers. The Canadians gained a reward priceless."

BRITAIN STIRRED BY VICTORY

By Canadian Press. LONDON, April 10.—The news of the successful opening of the new British offensive has stirred intense interest and high hope among the people throughout the country. Whatever the enemy may have claimed as to the retreat in the Somme sector having been premature, and that the British had been misled, and that the blow delivered in the Arras-Lens region cannot be explained away in any such manner. It is urged that there is no possible voluntary element in this retreat and that there can be no dispute as to who took the initiative. A new chapter in the conflict on a western front has begun and whether or not it is to prove the beginning of a decisive battle it is bound, according to the prevalent opinion here, to lead to results of the highest importance.

The main feature of the battle thus far, on which attention has been focused, is the capture of Vimy Ridge. The immense value of this series of heights, which dominate the plain from an elevation of 400 to 500 feet, and have been recognized throughout the war and great sacrifices have been regarded as justifiable if they resulted in its possession.

LONG BATTLE FOR RIDGE. The French and Germans fought fiercely for control of the ridge in the summer of 1915, both sides suffering heavy losses but in the end the Germans held the main portion of the position. Later the British took over the ridge and were ousted by the Germans from the part of the ridge which had been won by their predecessor. One military critic commenting on the present battle, thus describes the importance of the Vimy ridge: "They are admittedly the bastion of the enemy's western line. What-

CANADIANS OCCUPY PLACE OF HONOR IN VIMY RIDGE FIGHT

Capture Thousands of Prisoners in Cheapest Victory, as to Casualties, Yet Won—Germans Dazed and Caught by Surprise

Special Star Cable from Our Own Correspondent. (Copyright.) THE MONTREAL STAR OFFICE, 20 Cocksfoot Street—LONDON, April 10.—Canadians today are perched well over the top of Vimy Ridge, thousands of prisoners have been taken, and, according to the first summing up of our casualties, it has been the cheapest victory troops from the Dominion have won.

The first of the wounded began to arrive in England yesterday. At an English port I spoke with some of our men. Most of them had been hit in the early part of Sunday morning. Since then more serious fighting has developed, but as yet our corps have hung on and even gained slightly towards the railway which runs on the far slope of the ridge.

At the time of cabling our new front, which is rapidly being consolidated, is from Givenchy-en-Gohelle to Petit Vimy, a little village on the crest of the ridge which commands the larger town of the same name, well in front of LaFolle Farm—situated on what is the highest ground, without exception, around Lens—about three-quarters of a mile from Thelus, which had been one of the Germans' strongest points in the defence of the ridge.

According to Imperial officers whom I have met in France, this should be an important beginning of an outflanking movement which will compel falling back to the Douai line and promises well for whippers in the Canadian divisions at the front that the Hun will reluctantly give up Lens and its valuable coal mines. Canada's division started the attack just as a rainy, stormy dawn was breaking. It followed what one of my informants who has been through three great bombardments describes as "The Somme's most terrific day multiplied by five."

"The Huns' first line, with which the Canadians were well acquainted after many raids, was gained with slight casualties. The Bavarian garrisons were dazed into surrender and in the first hour over a thousand prisoners were hustled back and five machine-guns captured. The second and third lines, which had been crumpled almost beyond recognition by the sudden increase in what had been a steady and heavy bombardment, were defended with greater tenacity, but driving rain, which for once came from behind, was in the Canadians' favor.

Our heavier guns then started another concentrated bombardment. It must have caught the Huns' complicated system of light railways, for, according to one wounded man from Vancouver, his battalion captured a small train of supplies with a little deserted engine in which steam was still up. ROLAND HILL.

STORY FOR CANADIANS

Special Canadian Press Cable by Stewart Lyon. CANADIAN HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, via London, April 10.—The crest of the Vimy Ridge has been carried. The strongest defensive position of the enemy on the western front has been captured by the army of Sir Douglas Haig, and the Canadian corps was given the place of honor in the great event, being strongly supported by some of the most famous of the British formations.

The attack was preceded by a bombardment which continued for several days, and in which guns of the heaviest calibre, formerly used on only the biggest battlefields, took part. The results, as revealed by aerial observation, were repetition of the Battle of the Somme. Aeroplanes, flying low, could find only shapeless masses of hurled up earth where the enemy's first line had been.

GERMANS SUFFERED SEVERELY

By Saturday afternoon Thelus, the chief village held by the enemy on the ridge, and lying due east of Neuville St. Vaast, was pounded out of all recognition, only two houses remaining standing. The British heavy artillery, fighting increased to great violence. "In the region between the roads from Albert to Cambrai and Peronne minor engagements developed taking the form intended by the Germans. "From Soissons into the western Champagne artillery firing increased. "No important change on the eastern front is reported. Heavy snowstorms occurred in the Carpathians. "Between the Vardar and Lake Dorian the British, after artillery firing, simulated attack by vivas, commands and shouting "Gorrah. Our annihilating fire laid off efficiently on the battle trenches which were fully occupied."

THREE NEW YERS FOR NEW YORK BAY

NEW YORK, April 10.—Ground was broken today by the Staten Island Development Company for three big yachts in New York Bay between Coney Island and Stapleton, Staten Island, to cost several million dollars. The pier will be more than 1,000 feet long and capable of accommodating at the same time ten ocean freighters with a combined capacity of 100,000 tons. Railroad sidings to piers will be built back of the pier to give to direct all-rail communication with the trunk lines of New Jersey. The property, including the stone buildings and railroad yard, will cover more than thirty acres.

Wall paper that is made from rubber has been invented by an Englishman.

CONFIDENT PREDICTIONS. Nevertheless the opinion is expressed that if the Germans are definitely driven from the ridge, without hope of re-attacking, they are likely enough to be compelled to acknowledge defeat and retreat. It is called the Mouse line, running from Verdun through Messines, Maubeuge and Lille.

WHAT OFFICIAL STATEMENTS SAY OF THE FIGHTING

PARIS, April 10.—The official communication issued by the War Office last night reads: "From the Somme to the Aisne our artillery energetically bombarded the German positions. The enemy countered, particularly north of the Aisne and on the town of Rheims, which suffered an intense bombardment, several civilians being killed. "In the Frenoy Forest our grenade throwers repulsed an enemy attempt against one of our advanced posts. "On the Somme the British artillery activity on both sides was less powerful than on the preceding days. It was localized in the region east of Rancapelle. "Eastern theatre—Cannonading took place in the region of Tservena Stena, and between the lakes, and there was rifle and machine gun firing in the Italian sector. A German airplane was brought down south of Lake Dolran, two officers and one mechanic being taken prisoner."

GENERAL WILSON TELLS MILITARY OF NEED FOR MEN

Campaign Will Be Continued in Other Armories in City

The campaign of Maj.-Gen. E. W. Wilson to secure recruits for the Canadian Defence Force opened last night when the officer commanding No. 4 Military District addressed a parade of the 3rd Victoria Rifles at the Cathcart street armory.

Placing the matter squarely before the men, Gen. Wilson said that some might argue that they would lose good positions if they spent the summer in camp. He replied to this that even if a man lost his position he would be in a better plight than the man who went to the front two years ago and made real sacrifices.

DARCY'S METHODS ARE TO SAY THE LEAST ERRATIC

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 10.—E. T. O'Sullivan, former manager of Les Darcy, appeared before the State Athletic Commission to tell how he smuggled Darcy out of Australia, and military service. Les Darcy did not appear, but will be here next week.

"It was plain case of Darcy's being forced to get out, or to be conscripted into the army for service," said O'Sullivan. "He was crazy to get away, and asked me to help him. I did not want to get mixed up in his business, but he would have been in trouble with the fans, who might even have forced him to stay and enlist, if he had suspected he was trying to get away."

"Darcy and I left Australia together," said O'Sullivan. "And it was my money that purchased the ticket for him. I was to get one-third of all the money he earned in America. About a week later I discovered that my trunk had been opened, and that the contract was missing. I told Darcy it was gone, and he said not to worry, that when we reached New York we would draw up a new contract in legal form. Later he said he would not give me more than 25 per cent."

"I said that was agreeable. He never signed, however, but after we reached New York he introduced me to everyone as his manager, and told me to go ahead and arrange matches for him. I arranged the McCoy match and he was delighted with the arrangements. This bout was fixed up while he was on a theatrical tour. When he returned to New York, he informed me that he did not intend to live up to his agreement of 25 per cent. I told him we would fix that all right, and the next day signed for a bout with Gibbons in Milwaukee. The following day he informed the press that I was not his manager, never had been, and never often faced each other when both were baseball players."

Toronto Still Anxious to Have Lacrosse Again This Season

Charlie Querris writes in The Toronto News: According to a despatch from Montreal, the application of the Tecumseh Lacrosse Club for a franchise in the National Lacrosse Union will be turned down at the annual meeting which takes place this coming Saturday. The matter of expenses seems to be the trouble, but surely the clubs in the East could stand one trip to the city if it is a real lacrosse circuit.

HERE'S COBB OF THE ICE RECEIVES $500 A GAME NAME'S NEWSY LA LONDE

NEWSY LA LONDE, captain of Les Canadiens hockey team, is the Ty Cobb of the ice. He gets more money for swinging a hockey stick than any other man in the world, says a San Francisco paper under a heading as indicated above. Ten thousand a season is LaLonde's figure. The full Canada League schedule calls for about twenty games. So, reckoned from the number of games played, at $500 a game, Newsy makes "good" money.

LaLonde has been pursuing the puck professionally for nine years. He started when he was 20; that makes him 29 now. In this respect he resembles Newell Banks, the checker champ, who is also a twelve-monther on the sunny side of thirty. Unlike Banks, however, Newsy wears no Zita. His handsome physique is shaven clean.

LaLonde is a pretty big man. He balances the beam at 170 pounds and stands about five-foot-seven. He is a powerful, well-proportioned Canadian Newy dwindle. Harry Mummery, for instance, weighs 225. But Mummery isn't with the team this trip; he lost a mouthful of teeth when he first came to the San Francisco series with it Friday night. His dentist, Laviolette, who has been earning his salt with his pepper on the ice for thirteen years, is also above the double-century mark.

LaLonde's most effective work is accomplished by his speed. Therein does he again resemble Cobb. The man skates whirlwindingly. He also relies on an underhand shot, perfected by himself. This shot, like the hook-check of Johnny Walker, the rough-house rover of the Seattle Metropolitan, is pretty hard to get away from. LaLonde, playing wing, was the first game at the San Francisco series with it Friday night. Newsy's greatest fault, if it may so be called, is somewhat belated disposition, another characteristic of the Detroit outfielder. They say that he's a tough bird, this Newsy, and mean, and very likely to stick his finger in somebody's eye when he's called, in a somewhat belated manner.

Ice hockey, according to LaLonde, is played by the Canadians in winter just as much as baseball is played here in summer. Out of Montreal alone last season over 700 teams were produced. Seven men play out of Montreal in a single Canadian city were chasing the rubber at the same time.

Lacrosse, however, runs hockey a close race for popularity in the Dominion, especially during the summer months. Lacrosse is reputed to be the toughest game anywhere. It is a nasty combination of basketball, football, baseball and hockey; they play it with a hard rubber ball, which is batter around with sticks netted like the weapons used by bug-chasers; and Lacrosse, once world's champion heavyweight boxer, was pretty good at it in his time.

And LaLonde is also one of Canada's most expert lacrosse players. He gathers in another ten thousand every summer, due to his proficiency in this sport, and in other words, he makes in a year almost as much money as a newspaperman makes in a month.

GOOD SCORES AT BALMY BEACH CLUB

Special to The Star. TORONTO, April 10.—The regular weekly shoot of the Balmy Beach Gun Club was held as usual on their grounds, Eastern Avenue, a good turnout of members being on hand and some good scores were made. R.C. Harris was high in the spoon-shoot, scores: Name Shot at Broke

Harry McKewen, treasurer of the C.P.R. Montreal and District A.A.A. issues a disclaimer that he is a committee member in the soccer section. The old P.Q.F.A. board member was recently elected at the C.P.R. annual meeting, presiding, and was, however, not elected. Mr. McKewen also says his duties with the Athletic Association are such as to prevent him taking up soccer this season.

The Star soccer representative acknowledges with thanks receipt of membership of Sons of Scotland F.C. The P.Q.F.A. board meet tonight under the chairmanship of vice-president H. G. Legrove, in other words, the chief business will be confirming the First Division schedule, and arranging the ladies' day game, and selecting Canadian Vickers' opponents. The society will request that Lyalls be chosen, knowing the been rivalry between the pair, and after last year's great success in which those teams did not meet in the proceeds, the P.Q.F.A. will doubtless acquiesce.

FREDDIE WELSH MAKES FIGHTING MOVE AFTER ALL

NEW YORK, April 10.—Freddie Welsh, Lightweight Champion of the World, today sent to Gov. Whitman a letter asking that he be allowed to organize a sportsman's regiment in America for service in the European trenches.

Welsh declares he wants to offer his services and financial assistance in such enterprises and he proposes boxing bouts in which he shall appear as one of the principals, the proceeds to go to the support of the force. "Several friends of mine, graduates of Westpoint," Welsh wrote, "to whom I have broached the subject, have signified their willingness to join the regiment. Many boxers and other sportsmen are enthusiastic over the project and want only to join, if I can be persuaded to raise the necessary funds."

LACHINE GUN CLUB

Chas. Hart won the club (silver) spoon; C. Burns the novice (silver) spoon and Geo. Robinson the sweepstakes. The regular weekly shoot of the above club on the banks of the Canal.

The weather was very cold and the wind was blowing a severe gale, making the birds take zig-zag courses, and this accounts for the low scores made. There was a good attendance of spectators, but the number of shooter was small. Six events were shot off.

INDIANS WILL BE EXEMPT

CLEVELAND, Ohio, April 10.—Eleven Indians will be taken from the Ford's prize list, when the select conscription order is made effective. Daly, catcher, was born in St. John, N. B., and Jack Graney, was born in Ontario. This would exempt them from service.

Although they are within the age limit, the eleven affected are pitchers: Dickerson, D. Condy, Leaback, Petty, Combe and Smith; infielders: Wambly, Harris, Evans and Guisto; and outfielders: Roth.

PRESIDENT TENER AND BAN JOHNSON DISCUSS THE CHANCES OF BIG BASEBALL

NEW YORK, April 10.—On the eve of the annual pennant races in the major baseball organizations, the executives of both the National and American leagues have prepared the following statements for the Associated Press, outlining their views of the coming season's play.

THE NATIONAL LEAGUE

By President John M. Tener. "Based on an ante-season judgment upon conditions and expectations as I find them wherever I go, I am led to believe that the baseball season will enjoy a prosperous season in 1917. Of course I make this statement mindful of the contingency of a war pressed with vigor on land and sea might act as a deterrent on what otherwise undoubtedly would prove one of the best years baseball ever has experienced. This applies to the minor as well as to the major leagues."

Speaking especially of the National League I am convinced that the race this year will be equally as keen and interesting as it was last season. I look for a great battle for honors right up to the finish, with the New York Giants to win the pennant without any trouble, in fact many think Manager McGraw will take his team to the front and gradually widen the gap between the Giants and the other contenders of the club's look stronger than last year.

I do not entertain any such idea. The year will be equally as keen and interesting as it was last season. I don't again see the way we can furnish some surprises to the public. I little anticipate. Undoubtedly Pittsburgh has strengthened by the addition of young material. These youngsters' membership Pirates quite formidable at the close of last season. Mathewson may surprise in Cincinnati. At all events the Reds are pretty certain to be superior to the form they showed last year.

Chicago will begin the season handicapped by the loss of Caplan, but they will be expected to play the very best ball of which they are capable. The team will be expected to play for whom ability I have the highest respect. In St. Louis the new organization has been very successful in policy of building new from the ground up. Therefore Manager Huggins will receive a new infusion of young blood at his disposal but other new players will be sought with the hope that the team may be expected to come a contender for the pennant.

HOWLEY GOT NO NEW PITCHERS FOR THE ROYAL TEAM

SPECIAL TO THE STAR. JERSEY CITY, N.J., April 10.—Manager Dan Howley taking advantage of an off day yesterday hit the trail for Brooklyn to claim the four pitchers and a short stop which Squire Ebbots promised to farm out.

"We need pitchers and need them badly," said Howley on his return. "I will get a few this week irrespective of where they come from but they will have to deliver the goods. Only three pitchers have reported and should the team have to open on Monday they will be short for the needed twirlers, but despite his activities he has been unable to land them West Side Park will not be available for a continuation of the training program until possibly the latter part of the week. The heavy snowstorm which gripped the east coast early over Easter put the kibosh on outdoor work, but the squad will not remain idle by any means. Manager Howley will take his charges to open hooties in the Spalding Ammunition Baseball League which will be held tonight, at 8 o'clock, at 371 St. Paul street, Jersey City. DENIES RUMORS OF REVOLT OF SPAIN; PEOPLE ARE LOYAL

Special to The Star by United Press. WASHINGTON, April 10.—Ambassador Liano, of Spain, said today he is in position to deny reports that a political upheaval was threatened in his country and that the monarchy was in peril. 'All my despatches,' said the Ambassador, 'shows that exactly the contrary is true. Labor troubles, inaugurated by agitators, completely disappeared after the recent outbreak. There is no probability of possibility of a revolution such as recent rumors and reports, some of which have been published in this country, seek to indicate. Complete tranquility reigns throughout all Spain.'

FOR PREFERENCE IN TRADE. LONDON, April 10.—Sir Joseph Ward, of New Zealand, speaking at the Overseas Officers' Club here, said that all the Dominions wanted to give the Mother Country preference in trade and urged co-ordination of the Empire with a view to relieving the Motherland of some portion of the burden of war taxation. He did not believe, he said, that absolute free trade within the Empire is practicable. The Imperial Conference will appeal to the imagination of the whole Empire and none can foresee the momentous future that might follow.

ANOTHER RELIEF VESSEL SUNK

LONDON, April 10.—The Norwegian steamer Camilla, with a cargo of corn for the Belgian Relief Commission, according to a Reuter despatch from Copenhagen, has been sunk off the coast of Jaderen, south of Stavanger, Norway, and nine survivors and the two dead have arrived at Skudenes, Norway. The survivors were picked up by the steamer. The Norwegian steamer Camilla, of 2,272 gross tons, and 291 feet long, was owned in Bergen.

In the name of the American people and the Government to which they look for guidance, I thank you for your inspiring words.'

LITTLE STORIES

FOR BEDTIME BY THORNTON W. BURGESS

BUSTER BEAR FINDS BOBBY COON.

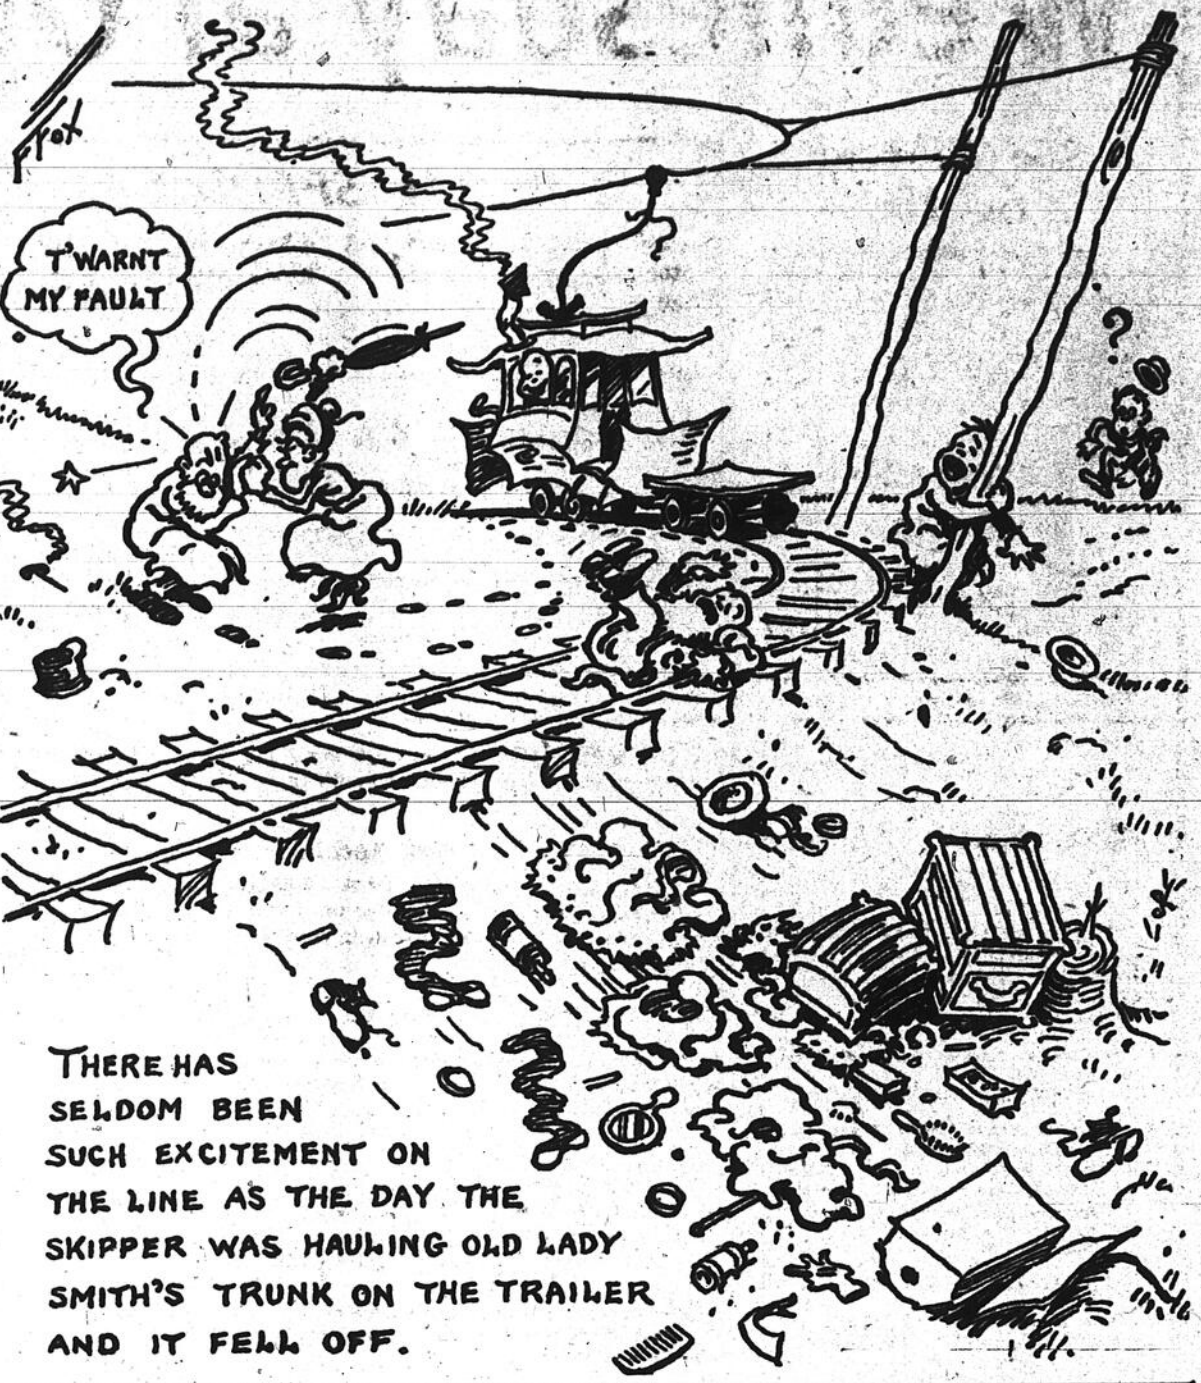

(Copyright, 1917, by T. W. Burgess.) Bobby Coon was back in his new house—the little cabin in the rocky ledge deep in the Green Forest, and never before was he or any member of his family ever more upset than he was. You see, he had started out in high spirits to see what was to be seen about his new home and to find out who his neighbors might be, and he hadn't much more than started when he discovered that his nearest neighbor was none other than Buster Bear. "What's that enough to upset anybody?" It was enough to upset Bobby Coon, for it was only a few hours before that Buster Bear had tried to catch him and had threatened to eat him. So all desire to spend the night looking about left Bobby the very instant he found Buster Bear's home not very far along in that very same rocky ledge in which his new home was.

"Who are you in there, anyway?" demanded the deep, grumbly, rumbly voice. "Here I've found the best home I've ever had, and you're living here. Why don't you come out and be sociable?" Bobby simply shivered and kept his tongue still. For a minute or two there was no sound from outside. Then there were three loud sniffs—sniff, sniff, sniff! They made Bobby shiver more than ever. "Oh, no! So it's you, Bobby Coon! It's my little cousin Bobby!" exclaimed the deep, grumbly, rumbly voice of Buster Bear, followed by a chuckle. "Welcome to the old rock ledge," Bobby. "Welcome to the old rock ledge. If I am to have such a near neighbor I'm glad it is to be you. Come out and shake hands. Don't be so bashful. I won't hurt you."

The Toonerville Trolley THAT MEETS ALL THE TRAINS

THERE HAS SELDOM BEEN SUCH EXCITEMENT ON THE LINE AS THE DAY THE SKIPPER WAS HAULING OLD LADY SMITH'S TRUNK ON THE TRAILER AND IT FELL OFF.

ONE WOMAN'S STORY

By CAROLYN BEECHER

The teller of the story, butterfly daughter of a well-to-do family, married Robert Drayton, an ambitious young lawyer, who takes his bride from New York to a modest home in a small city. She is extravagant and knows nothing of running a house; also, she is jealous of her husband's clients. She feels a renewed intimacy with her husband when their second child comes. Robert is appointed assistant district attorney, and she feels fearful for her security. That she becomes so jealous of Phyllis Lawson, another client of his, that she conceals herself in a clothes press in his office while they confer, only to be discovered by her husband, who rebukes her. They drift further apart.

CHAPTER XI. Holland Lansing was back. I did not know how he was relieved or sorry. She looked stunning. She had replenished her wardrobe generously, and she certainly made a delightful picture. I think some money came in for me while I was away, and am going to find out. "You are very fortunate," I answered. "So many women and girls have their eyes on you. I always feel thankful for my independence. Yet, do you know I have often thought I could earn my living if I had to." I smiled in derision. The idea of dainty Holland Lansing earning her living was ludicrous. "Oh, but I mean it," she exclaimed, noting the smile. "I believe most of us could if the necessity arose."

THE HOME DRESSMAKER

One of Smartest of New Spring Styles for Women

The woman who is on the outlook for a smart Spring costume will find this design perfectly adapted to her needs. The coat is a very new one with a tiny little vestee that is eminently smart and attractive. The skirt is simply straight and laid in plaits, but the plaits form a box pleat at the front and one at the back. Here, natural colored pongee is trimmed with the same material that shows an Oriental design, but there are numberless trimmings that can be used. Striped silk is pretty on plaits, and you can make the suit of a serge with the collar, cuffs and pockets to match the suit and embroider them in worsted threads.

UNHAPPY.

You were a very foolish little girl and the best thing to do is to say so. Just tell your friend how sorry you are that you were so foolish and that you very much regret your letter.

JACOBAN.

Would like to know the correct pronunciation of Jacobean. I hear most people, including salesmen, pronounce it Jacobean on the third syllable. I understand it should be pronounced Jacobean, emphasis on second syllable.

BEDOJIN LOVE SONG.

From the desert I come to thee. On my Arab shod with fire. And the winds are left behind. In the speed of my desire. Under thy wings I am flying. And the midnight hears my cry. "I love thee, I love thee!" With a love that shall not die.

CLEANING CHAIR SEATS.

If you know of anything that would clean heated silk on a chair seat, please let me know you will confer a favor. MRS. R. Ans.—Try rubbing them with cornmeal well moistened with gasoline.

SPRUCE BEER (FOR TOM TOM).

Five quarts warm water, one pound white sugar, one quart each extracts ginger, cream soda and spruce; 1 yeast cake, pinch carbonate of soda. Dissolve sugar in boiling water, add water to make five quarts, add extracts, dissolve yeast in a little warm water with a pinch of soda, stir well and pour in. Cork them up and place in the sun or in a warm place for twelve hours to ferment, then put on ice. It is always better to drink a day old.

Could you supply me with the words "The Three Old Maids of Lea." A. M.

HOUSE OR HOME.

People use words loosely. They speak of "owning a house" and "owning a home" as if both phrases meant the same. As a matter of fact, many a man who pays rent all his life owns his own home; and many a family have successfully saved for a home only to find itself at that very moment but a house. I know one such case. To "own their own home" became a perfect obsession with the family—a false god to which everything else must be sacrificed. To swell the sacred fund, the father wore clothes so shabby that his business progress was retarded. The children were undernourished, and two of them died. Life lost every vestige of sweetness in the driving struggle to scrimp and to pay. At length ambition was realized; they stepped through the door of the house, on which the last cent had been paid. They had bought their house; but in the process they had destroyed their home.

At this season of the year, when thousands of families are planning to build or to re-decorate, it is well to stop and ask: What is the ideal home? I should say, first of all, it is a "cozy" place, a place not too large.

The Vatican has fifteen thousand rooms (15,000). The Pope could, if he would, sleep every night for forty years in a different room. The Winter Palace at Petrograd is 90 vast, that, once when repairs were to be made on the roof, peasants were found living there in wooden shacks; their existence unsuspected by the glittering tenants underneath.

But these palaces are not homes. The turtle does not construct a shell ten times larger than it needs; the bird does not spread her nest across a whole tree-top merely because material happens to be handy. Only man commits the foolish error of building a house too large to be a home.

The ideal home is a place of rest. One can rest in room simply furnished, but not in a department store or a museum. You would not fill your home with warring visitors; do not crowd it with pictures, bric-a-brac and "souvenirs" that jar and clash.

And the home is a place of peace: "restored" where a few pictures suggest the fragrance and healing of the outdoors; where good books lift the tired mind out of itself into the companionship of the wise and great of all ages; where love and sympathy conquer care. The cave man who first piled stones together into a rude hut did it to provide shelter for his most precious possession, the sacred fire. There is a sacred fire that burns in every real home; an altar to restfulness and forbearance and love. He who can claim that altar, whether the shelter built about it be a mansion or only a single room, owns his own home. DUTCHIE.

PLASTER PARIS PLAQUES.

Get a few pounds of plaster of Paris at hardware store. There are two kinds, 2c and 3c per pound. Get the better kind. Cut out some pictures such as ladies' heads, or small views colored are better. Put them in water. Get one of the wet pictures and lay face downwards on plate in the middle, then mix plaster of Paris with water, about four tablespoons (you can generally judge how much plaster you need) by the size of the picture you intend making) and pour into plate while plaster is still wet. Put a piece of ribbon on back at the top (also while wet). Then put in a hot place to dry. When dry, loosen with knife in a similar way to which dices are taken out. Do not lay on colored cloth or color will run into it.

NEVER BEEN ASKED. Then may I ask you now what restrictions there are to keep a man at home when he himself asserts that he is physically fit. If the conditions are those of business, isn't it selfishness that is holding you back? Those men who have so gallantly fought for us are coming back with those limbs lacking which they required for their business.

Also may I introduce myself as a girl who has given up her lover because he preferred civilian clothes. He was an athletically built chap, and had four or five brothers, none of whom were serving their country. No mothers, faints, swooning, tears, prayers, etc., held him back for he never knew a mother's love. Yet he was quite content to be present at our family worship where prayers were repeatedly offered, not for the end of the war, or my only brother's safe return, but that he might perform his duty nobly and well. That brother is still many months under military age, and for as many months has been in France.

I am writing this in hopes that you may know that one girl in this wide Dominion has given up the dearest thing on earth, the dream of home and husband, to serve the country she loves so well by aiding in recruiting a slacker, and one who still remains a slacker, and one who feels as the Ancient Mariner: Alone, alone, all, all alone, Alone on a deep blue sea, So lonely 'twas that God Himself, Scarcely seemed there to be. AN EXCEPTION.

"Try doing without and see," I retorted, then went to market while the rain was lashing.

"I might never have known he lunched with her that day had it not been for Harper Carleton and his wife. I say, Mrs. Drayton, your husband is a lucky dog," he remarked when I dropped in to see them in the late afternoon. "Of course, he is. Isn't he my husband?" I laughed.

"That goes without saying, but it wasn't what I meant. I saw him lurching with that stunning Miss Lansing. She's a client of his, isn't she?"

"Yes. When I met her this morning she told me she had some business with Robert." I answered, determined he should not think me ignorant of my husband's business.

"Well, I say again, he's a lucky dog. He must have influenced her to take something from him," with a meaning look at me which I ignored as usual.

"To what other handsome woman do you refer?" "Why, Mrs. Lawson, of course. Her getting her divorce for her, isn't he?" At least this morning's paper said so.

"Oh, yes," I replied, "but isn't it too bad she feels she wants one?" "So she was to persevere and get her divorce in spite of what she had told me. I think some money came in for me while I was away, and am going to find out."

"You are very fortunate," I answered. "So many women and girls have their eyes on you. I always feel thankful for my independence. Yet, do you know I have often thought I could earn my living if I had to."

I smiled in derision. The idea of dainty Holland Lansing earning her living was ludicrous. "Oh, but I mean it," she exclaimed, noting the smile. "I believe most of us could if the necessity arose."

"What has become of I jealous of Phyllis Lawson, another client of his, that she conceals herself in a clothes press in his office while they confer, only to be discovered by her husband, who rebukes her. They drift further apart."

THRILLING TRIP OF STATES LINER TO ENGLISH PORT

St. Louis Rushed Through Danger Zone with All Lights Out

Special to The Star by Our Own Correspondent. NEW YORK, April 10.—The passengers of the American liner St. Louis tell a thrilling story of their experiences on the trip. They rushed through the danger zone with all lights extinguished and had narrow shaves. But it was on the outward trip that the most stirring incidents occurred. The St. Louis caught "E. O. S." signals repeatedly during her approach to the English coast, so that three steamers being torpedoed within 100 miles of her path. On her arrival off her port of destination, she found the tide too low to enter, and was obliged to cruise back and forth in mine-infested waters and within range of submarines for hours.

THEY WERE BLOWN DOWN

How often we hear it said of a man or woman "they were blown down in health" which accounts for their sickness. It is important, therefore, that when you get tired easily, when your nerves are troublesome or your work is irksome, you should promptly strengthen your system with the blood-enriching, tissue-building food in Scott's Emulsion which contains the purest cod liver oil and is free from harmful drugs.

How close her call was is told by a British naval officer who returned to this country on the steamer. Before she docked, eighty-two mines, deliberately dropped in her path by a German mine sower disguised as a Norwegian tramp steamer, had been picked up. She passed within twenty feet of one that was left, and an hour later a small steamer struck that identical mine and went down like a stone.

BARRELS OF MINES

A British destroyer overhauled the Norwegian tramp as she was making inopportunely down channel. Hailed, she declared she was a fishing trawler, "torpedoed" by a cargo of salt fish. But British naval officers are incredibly curious these days, and the commander of the destroyer compelled her to halt while he went aboard. Her decks were crowded with barrels which her captain assured him were filled with salt fish. But when one of the crew of the destroyer began to hack a barrel with a hatchet the tramp's captain begged him to stop. "No, don't do anything! There might be an explosion." That was enough. The barrels were opened and there found to contain mines.

Identical to the eighty-two picked up by the mine sweepers. The captain of that tramp and his crew were taken to port where they continued to having seven over 100 mines. They were then court-martialed and summarily shot. British justice is still swift. Homeward bound, the St. Louis switched off suddenly upon a route never taken by a trans-Atlantic steamer for many years, following an Admiralty warning that five submarines were in her track. She rushed through with all lights out, struck a tremendous mine, and won her way safely to this port. The same British naval officer who told me this story said that British naval officers in England were full of admiration for the St. Louis' escapade. "Your Government was slow to arm merchant ships," they told the Captain of the St. Louis, "but when she did begin..." "Just as safe as if you had been conveyed by the Queen Elizabeth" a brother Terrance.

until they are quite certain that no civil disorders will develop in the land of the Slav.

GERMAN PLOTS.

We hear a lot of their efforts to establish an understanding with the Russian Socialists—truly an alliance so transparently dishonest, as to arouse the suspicion of a cast-iron dog.

Even the blood-drinking Count von Reventlow—who opposes all peace talk on the ground that peace can only be got now by giving up the annexation schemes of the Pan-Germans—sees clear hope for a rapprochement in the declaration of some Russian Socialists that they are disinterested in the fate of Constantinople.

At the time of writing, the Ridge seems to be firmly in our hands, confidently awaiting counter-attack. Our lads have crouched for weeks on its western slopes. They have delivered costly attacks upon the German positions above them, but, by a succession of bad luck, without much effect.

A RUSSIAN DOMESTIC INTEREST.

But it is impossible to believe that any large section of the Russian Revolutionary forces would abandon the chance to get an outlet to the warmer seas, now that it is within their grasp. This is, properly viewed, no question of brutal Imperialistic expansion. It is simply the natural right of a people to command its own gateways, such as Canada would desire to exercise if a foreign nation held our Atlantic coast line up to the ports of Pittsburg, Labrador.

SANITATION AND HEALTH.

THE past few decades have added much to the better understanding of sanitary conditions. In the matter of foul drains, which formerly were practically unheeded, Dr. Farr has shown that the breaking out of cholera or bubonic plague, in the neighborhood of drains and cesspools, furnished numerous and conclusive proofs as to the evil effects of these agencies.

THE GERMAN OFFENSIVE.

The German offensive, with which we have been threatened for months, still waits. This fact appears to support the theory that it was intended to hurl it on the Russian front. The Russians themselves report heavy concentrations before their lines. A modern offensive calls for a lot of previous preparation; so that it is entirely probable that the Russians would see plenty of it before it was delivered.

THE WORLD'S PRESS

Face to Face With the Monster. Pittsburgh Dispatch: The indictment of the Imperial Government framed by the President of the United States is the most damning arraignment in history. The enormities committed by the German Government have been as unprecedented.

Right Must Rule.

New York Journal of Commerce: America will fulfill its obligation and assume its full share in preserving the world's political freedom. Between autocracy and democracy there can be no choice whatever. If one or the other is to fall, there is no course for Americans to pursue, except that of helping eradicate the curse of militarism.

Profits From Potatoes.

Chicago Journal: A dealer in Presque Isle, Me., one of the sections that was the potato-potato-producing region, has paid by one cheque $67,336 for a stock of automobiles of one make this spring. Profits on potato fields in the last year are to pay for these machines and many hundred more of the luxury speeders.

Risen to the Emergency.

London Daily Telegraph: The general sense of her fellow-countrymen that was that of Milton—"Nothing lovelier can be found in woman than to study household good"; Tennyson's picture of the "Queen of the rosebud garden of girls" and his "Airy, fairy Lilian" seemed not far removed from common experience.

A Long Way From '76!

Baltimore Star: British-Americans have nursed ever since '76 the firm belief that the American Revolution was in its basic principles a just revolution. They have been proud to remember that in that great struggle George Washington led a nation of men.

An Incident of 1812.

Philadelphia Ledger: In this war Germany has time and time again destroyed the life of an American—all noncombatants of a neutral nation. The Academy of the Fine Arts in Philadelphia was the principal in an incident of the War of 1812 which shows how differently even an acute and thoughtful person may judge the same human lives of friendly Powers.

A War President.

Springfield Republican: Lincoln's idea, that if he saved the Union, people would forget his mistakes, but that if he failed to save the Union, 10,000 angels could not turn aside the penalty that would descend upon him, was a true estimate of a war President's position. A sound judgment of the real objects of the war is primarily essential to ultimate success.

CHIN-CHIN WITH FRED STONE IS FULL OF MIRTH

Since the days of "The Wizard of Oz" the names of Dave Montgomery and Fred Stone have been sufficient of themselves to attract the public to a theatre, no matter what the title of the attraction may be. It was thus with the Red Mill, through which the versatile and irrepressible team tumbled their hilarious way, and now "Chin Chin" is proving the fact once more. Even with the lanky Montgomery on the sick list, the individuality of the pair is being retained very creditably by Stone and his capable assistant, Roy Bender. The suitably droll personality of Montgomery is missing, but for all that the show is fun in abundance.

The musical comedy, outside the pale of ordinary dramatic standards, has built up standards of its own and "Chin Chin" meets the test very satisfactorily. It amuses, it is fresh, its music is bright and goes with the plot, the spectacles are beautiful and on a big scale. What more can be desired? His Majesty's held a capacity audience last night, a riotous, convulsed and a happy one.

"Chin Chin" is a syncretized version of "Aladdin," known of old in pantomime. In "Chin Chin" the Widow Twankey, and the Slave of the Lamp, and all, but they would scarcely be recognized. There is a romance between Aladdin and an American heiress, and the magic lamp is used to bring about all sorts of transformations. The chorus, young and comely, sing prettily and capers gracefully. There is some extremely good dancing, and some equally excellent burlesque dancing by Stone and Violet Zell. Everything comes out all right and at the end Aladdin, the Wizard, is chased away, promising to return next night at 8 1/2. That is "Chin Chin."

Fred Stone is as good as he ever was in this production, the same absurd, rough-and-tumble, inventive scamp. Among his stunts are characterizations of Paderewski, riding a trick pony in the circus. Each one of these is enough to raise a laugh from the oldest man in the world. In his Chinese duet with Bender, and his "Danse Poetique," with little Miss Zell, Stone wins further successions of laughter. The last mentioned is a typical Stone achievement, and would seem to require an india rubber dancing partner.

The production is gorgeous, after the fashion of high class musical comedies, and full advantage is taken of the opportunity to work in oriental colors and settings. A distinct novelty is found in the first act when Douglas Stevenson and the Blossom Girl, appearing in "Goodbye, Girls Goodbye." The heads of the chorus suddenly appear through holes in the curtain, and the singers, from top to bottom, and the girls join in the song.

Mr. Stevenson's Aladdin is excellent, and his singing is not a trifle off the success of "Chin Chin." But his dance "Love Moon" with Miss Gladys Zell, in the second act, is the performance. The other principals are good. Oscar Ragland as Abanazar, Gladys Zell as the American girl, Miss Elvorth as the Goddess of the Lamp, Allene Crater as Widow Twankey, and Violet Zell as Fen Tan. W. E. P.

"FEDORA" WELL PRESENTED AT THE NATIONAL

In Sardou's "Fedora" Paul Renoum's players at the Theatre National Français, have chosen an ambitious presentation in which they acquit themselves with surprising success. The play is particularly suited to Mme. Blanche David, who can run through the series of emotions with all the ease of a Paderewski playing the Moonlight Sonata. Last night she was at her best, and gave as good a performance as has been seen on the French stage in Montreal. It was on her that the whole burden of the drama fell, and she is to be congratulated. Georges Scheler, smooth and polished as ever, worked with her in perfect harmony. The rest of the company gave faithful support. A small detail for which much thanks—realizing that razors are, contrary to tradition, really known in Russia, the gentlemen of the company did not smear their faces with liberal portions of assorted whisker. And the uniforms were well designed.

"Fedora" is a story of the Russia that passed but a few days ago, the land of secret police and summary and secret punishment for fancied crimes. It is also the story of a woman's vengeance, and of hatred which turned to love and sacrifice. Late one night the chief of police in Petrograd, was shot in an untenanted villa in the suburbs. At his death-bed Princess Fedora, torn with sorrow to avenge him, and when he died she set about her task. There was one man suspected—Count Boris Ipanoff. Her fiery denunciation of the murderer made by the police led to her exile. In Paris she met Ipanoff, and immediately had him kept under surveillance by members of the Okhrana, the secret police of her country. Fortune played her way when the man fell in love with her, and with all a woman's guile, she led him to confess to the murder, although he refused to give an immediate explanation of his motives. Then she denounced him to the Russian agents, and laid a trap for him, inviting him to her apartment at midnight, when he promised to explain why he had murdered Vladimir.

He came, and told the story. It was not, as the Princess Fedora had imagined, the political reasons that he had killed Vladimir, but because the latter had intrigued with his wife. With this explanation the Princess learned that Vladimir was unfaithful, realizes that she loves Boris, and she succeeds in keeping out of the hands of the Russian agents, who are waiting to kidnap him and take him back to Russia.

Loris Ipanoff and the Princess are to marry. To add to their joy they learn that Boris has returned to Holy Russia. But on the foot of that comes the news. Fedora's denunciations have had their effect—Loris' brother has been imprisoned and "put out of the way" as a consequence, and his good mother dies of the shock. Also, there is a price on Loris' head. He learns that it was a woman who denounced him, and to the woman whom he is to marry, and who is the culprit, he unwittingly says how he will deal with her. At the close of a strenuous scene in which Fedora shows all she can to assuage his wrath, she breaks down and admits that she was the woman, and explains her motives. After the first shock Loris is ready to forgive. "Better not," Fedora

LOCAL STRONG MAN AT THE FRANCAIS

An ex-member of the Montreal Police Force, Wilfrid Cabana, who is described on the program as "the Canadian Sampson" should certainly be entitled to this designation, for at the Francais this week he gives demonstrations of physical strength which include the carrying of the weight of a touring car on his chest. Among other feats he lifts two dumb-bells to which are suspended half-a-dozen men, or a total weight of about 60 or 700 pounds. This turn will be on all the week, and a contest open to all local amateurs will be held on Friday.

Among the other items on the program Sengalli is a dog which has been trained to do all kinds of tricks, and provides a popular turn. Garconetti Brothers give an acrobatic performance. Berry and Berry appear in a musical act, while Halperin and Delmar sisters, in singing and dancing, and Brooks and Oakley in a comedy skit complete the program which, with the exception of Cabana, will be changed on Thursday as follows: "Clair and Atwood, acrobatic novelty; Robinson and McKinnis, comedy talking, singing and dancing; The Girl from Quakerstown in a comedy; Mabel Lewis and Jess Felber in a comedy skit, "A Motor Inn"; Joseph L. Browning in "A Timely Sermon," and Wilfrid Cabana.

DARKEY SKIT AT THE ORPHEUM IS WELL RECEIVED

To dream you had sold your soul to the devil that you had committed a murder for the sake of money and under the devil's promise of freedom, and finally as you sat in the electric chair with the current turned on, you find yourself laughing at the warden because His Satanic Majesty is his master would very probably be considered a bad nightmare.

But transpose this idea to the stage, place a Dixie ducky in the role, and give the role to John B. Hymer, and it becomes a screaming farce. John B. Hymer and his company are at the Orpheum this week, and all of the skits that have come to the Orpheum this season, and they are many, none has yet been quite as good as "Tom Walker in Dixie."

"What Every Girl Should Know," produced by Mona Hungerford and her company is a playlet with a lesson for all parents. It preaches the indecency of parents who believe that a nice girl's innocence will keep her in ignorance, but whose idle beliefs are sometimes most rudely and terribly shattered. The play is well acted.

Louis Hart appears in "As in a Dream" and while this is a "strong man act" it has such a touch of refinement that it at once becomes interesting and entertaining. Louis Hart is only a small man but his strength is prodigious.

AUDIENCE LIKED "THIS IS THE LIFE"

An exceptionally pretty chorus, attractive costumes and scenic effects, and a Hebrew lawyer and tin star country sheriff made a merry round of "This is the Life," at the Gayety last night. A large audience seemed to enjoy every bit of it.

Abie Reynolds and George F. Hayes were a laugh all the way. Every comedian has a little trick of his own and George Hayes' turn was in the manipulation of his hat. The big chorus not only looked well, but danced harmoniously and gracefully. Some of the favorite songs numbers were "In the Sweet Land Ago," "I Want to be a Soldier," and "When the Sun Shines in Virginia." A excellent specialty was the singing of the Record Four male quartette. "This is the Life" for the entire week.

WOOD SPLIT PULLEYS

Every Day 300 Dodge Wood Split Pulleys Are Made

And every day about three hundred of them are sold. Not so much because the selling organization keeps our output moving. But because the downright efficiency of the Dodge Wood Split Pulley has made it standard equipment.

The Dodge Wood Split Pulley is lighter, stronger, better balanced and provides a better belt surface than any metal pulley that ever was made. It costs 50% less to buy and provides 50% more returns in horse power value. And it may be run at higher speeds than metal pulleys without danger of bursting.

Write for our book, "A Scientific Test." It will pay you to study it.

Ordinarily we get enough phosphorus from our food, but under the stress and strain of modern conditions of life, and particularly the anxieties and worries of war time, the daily waste is greater than can be supplied by ordinary diet.

These days there are lots of rooms to let. You may have electric light and telephone BUT

CAN YOU SUPPLY CONTINUOUS HOT WATER ?

If you cannot, you stand little chance of renting rooms permanently. HOT WATER is an absolute necessity. Roomers will not be bothered asking for hot water and getting a kettle or pitcherful. They want enough for a hot bath and they want to be able to get it in a few minutes.

A Gas Water Heater

It is safe to say that the Canadian advance so brilliant opened, is still going on and there is not the least doubt that the results have given every satisfaction, not merely in a spectacular sense which the civilian is able to appreciate, but in a more technical and military sense.

Our heavy guns were first brought there, and three days after in the morning, and they began firing the same afternoon. They have gone on ever since, so that the Christians who were put in position in the morning, are still in position.

It is safe to say that the Canadian advance so brilliant opened, is still going on and there is not the least doubt that the results have given every satisfaction, not merely in a spectacular sense which the civilian is able to appreciate, but in a more technical and military sense.

Competent, sober estimates had reckoned on seeing the Canadian advance could not advance without losing a third of their strength, but this estimate has been entirely falsified. The casualties have been heavy, but less heavy than any competent estimate, imagined. The air service and artillery made this possible.

Speaking of the preparation for the attack, a Canadian artillery officer who returned a few days ago, said that there was more ammunition than could possibly be shot off.

MANY PATRONIZE RED CROSS TEA ROOMS

The Red Cross tea rooms, which have been removed from the New Birk's building to James A. Ogilvy & Sons, St. Catherine street west, are being amply rewarded for the change by the increase in patronage. Several tables are being reserved by society ladies each day, for the playing of bridge and five hundred and thirty to four or five p.m., and tea from five to six.

A dressed doll and a fine brass doll bed have been donated for a drawing, the winner to be announced as soon as all the tickets are sold or not later than April 21.

Private Honshaw, a returned soldier, who is convalescing at Ste. Anathe, has donated a model bicycle which he has requested the ladies to sell by ticket, the entire receipts to be used for the purchase of soldiers' comforts. Private Honshaw is only able to work one hour a day and as a consequence it took him 27 days to construct his model, during which time his only tools were a pen knife, a camel hair brush, a file and a piece of sand paper.

Questions remember an old song entitled: "Soon You'll See Your Recruit Again?" It was very popular at the time of the Crimean War, still retain the air in memory, but have very few of the words. One line is "We'll be sailing off tomorrow by the ring of the day," and the refrain is: "Soon you'll see your recruit again." Another old song is "With you get in." Mother Eve came home to die. Germans Ordered Poisoning of Wells on Leaving Country

LONDON, April 10.--Jan Malcolm sends a letter to the Times dated April 6, which reads: "I enclose herewith two scraps of paper taken from German prisoners in the region of Bapaume, where I found myself last Monday. Their contents should be made known far and wide, for they bear eloquent testimony to the wanton and cruel spirit with which the Germans are losing the war. These translations are faithfully done from the originals. No. 1 is dated March 9, and gives instructions for the procedure preliminary to the so-called German withdrawal on the British front, and runs as follows: 1. Pioneer X, an infantryman, will throw dung into the wells; 2. Pioneer X 2 infantrymen will cut down trees; 3. Pioneer X 2 infantrymen will stack wood in the houses. No. 2 is a timetable to be carried out in Bancourt village, just east of Bapaume. "In the village of Bancourt it is more important to poison the wells than to blow them up."

"10th March--Straw will be heaped up and tarred."

"10th March--Explosives are to be ready for cellars and wells in Bancourt."

"11th March--All unused wells and watering ponds must be plentifully poisoned with dung and cresoate soda. Sulfuric acid and cresoate soda must be placed in readiness beside the wells which are still in use."

"12th March--Bancourt must be ready to be set on fire."

"13th March--Parade in fighting kit; issue of iron rations, cleaning

LOUIS P. P. CARDIN HAS PASSED AWAY

The death took place yesterday of Louis Pierre Paul Cardin, former member of the Legislative Assembly of Quebec for the County of Richelieu. He had been seriously ill for some time, and his death was not unexpected.

Mr. Cardin was born on May 21, 1841, the son of a well-to-do farmer of Isle Madame, opposite Sorel. He was educated at L'Assomption College and was admitted to practice as a notary in 1868. Later he was for some years president of the Agricultural Society of Richelieu County.

He took an active part in military affairs. He secured a first-class

Lift Corns Out With Fingers

Don't Hurt a Bit--It's Magic

Few drops stop soreness, then the corn or callus shrivels and lifts off. Try it and see! No humbug!

This tiny bottle holds the wonder of wonders. It contains an almost magical drug called frezone. It is a compound made from ether.

Apply a few drops of this frezone upon a tender, aching corn or sore. It will disappear and shortly you will find the corn or callus shriveled and loose that you just lift it off with the fingers. It doesn't hurt one particle.

You feel no pain or soreness when applying frezone or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the skin.

Just ask in any drug store for a small bottle of frezone. This will cost but a few cents but will positively rid you poor, suffering feet of every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, or the tough calluses on bottom of feet. Genuine frezone bears the name of Edward Wesley Co.

RUSSIA WILL NOT CHERISH PLAN OF ADDING TO LANDS

Idea of Territorial Expansion Renounced, Says Minister of Justice

PEACE ADVOCATES BEING DENOUNCED

Kerensky Explains Attitude Regarding Prisoners of the Revolution

By Canadian Press.

LONDON, April 10.--Russia has renounced all idea of territorial expansion, according to a Petrograd despatch to Reuter's quoting a statement by Minister of Justice Kerensky. Minister Kerensky, in the course of a speech delivered on Monday before the military delegates, declared that while Russia wished no more territory she would defend to the end the liberty which she had won.

Reuter's correspondent also reports that the new Governor-General of Finland, Feder Rodtcheff, denounced Russian peace advocates in an address before the Congress of the Constitutional Democrats, the party which he formerly led in the Duma.

Minister Kerensky, in his speech, said that he wished to put an end to certain assumptions that he was an ardent supporter of the peace party. He charged that these rumors were spread with the malicious purpose of sowing discord between himself and the democracy.

"If I did not arrest Grand Duke Dmitri Pavlovitch," said Minister Kerensky, "it was because he had the plot against Rasputin. If I did not arrest General Ivanoff, who tried to march troops to Petrograd to stop the revolution, it was because he is an old man and an invalid and a prisoner would have killed him in three days."

"As for the prisoners in Tauris, Solo, I have visited them and I can tell you that the soldiers guarding them have promised to obey no order but mine. Moreover, the commanding officer is a friend of mine in whom I have complete confidence. I will be in Petrograd for as long as it is without an assurance that the old political regime in Russia will be restored."

At the conclusion of his address Minister Kerensky was cheered by the delegates who unanimously voted confidence in him.

KRONSTADT READY FOR HUNS' ATTACK

By Canadian Press.

KRONSTADT, April 3, via London April 10.--Kronstadt is preparing to repel an expected German naval attack when the Gulf of Finland is free of German territory.

The fortress is entirely controlled by a council elected by the troops and is unconditionally resolved to defend the Russian freedom and territory to the last. The council is equally resolved against fighting for the purpose of separating it from the mainland. A member of the council said that as long as Germany was unwilling to abandon its plans of annexation there was nothing to do but fight.

He said that everything possible had been done to put the defenses of the fortress in first-class order and that the stronghold was as strong today as ever.

An impressive sight is offered to the visitor to Kronstadt from the water after dark. At every half mile along the tracks across the ice, bonfires flare and in their gleam the red flags of the revolution can be seen faintly waving. Around the fires the revolutionary soldiers chant the new republic's motto: "Peace and bread for the coming of the Russian republic."

WAGE INCREASE IS DEMAND MADE BY BRICKLAYERS

The bricklayers of Montreal, through their union are demanding an increase of ten cents over their present wages of fifty-five cents an hour.

A second demand which they have put up to the general contractors and brick contractors, is that they be allowed a half day on Saturday all the year round, and that they work during that time the wages shall be at the rate of time and a half. These conditions to constitute a member of the present demand is also made that the foreman who hitherto has not necessarily been a member of the organization must be a member of the Bricklayers' Union.

PAINTERS TOO.

Only recently the Painters' Union has similar demands, for an increase of wages; but so far, they have not been met. The Union demanded a minimum rate of forty-five cents an hour, the present rate being from thirty to forty cents. They claim that during the earlier stages of the year, employers took advantage of the industrial depression at that time, to reduce their wages.
