TAEJON AIRFIELD IS ABANDONED TO REDS

World News In Brief

Bogota, Colombia, July 17.—(AP)—The wreckage of a DC-3 missionary plane, missing since June 9 with 15 Americans aboard, has been found with all aboard dead in the Perija mountains 70 miles west of Maracaibo, Venezuela. The wreckage and the charred bodies were found by a land search party.

The plane belonged to the New Tribes Mission of Chico, Calif.

Hartsdale, N.Y., July 17.—(AP)—General Evangeline Booth, 84-year-old retired chief of the Salvation Army, remained near death in a coma during the week-end at her home here.

The general, daughter of the Army's founder, has been ill and bedridden during the last year. A Salvation Army officer said her death might come at any time.

Tokyo, July 17.—(AP)—The Japanese attorney-general's office today suspended more than 180 communist publications. The suspensions followed early-morning raids on Red party centres in 13 prefectures.

Dublin, July 17.—(Reuters)—W. F. A. Turgeon, Canadian ambassador to the Republic of Ireland, today presented his credentials to President Sean O'Kelly.

Turgeon, first Commonwealth ambassador in Dublin, made formal presentation of a letter of credence signed by the King.

Hitherto he has been Canadian High Commissioner to the Republic of Ireland.

London, July 17.—(AP)—A blast which blew up nine barges full of naval ammunition Friday night may have been caused by sabotage, an Admiralty statement said today.

The munitions barges exploded after one of them caught fire. About 30 persons were injured but no one was killed. The explosion scattered live ammunition over a wide area around Gosport and neighboring Portsmouth naval yard.

Lark, Utah, July 17.—(AP)—Rescue crews groped through 400 miles of smoke-filled tunnels today, searching for five men trapped in a burning lead mine.

The men have been missing since early Sunday when fire broke out in the Lark mine of the United States smelting, refining and mining company.

Hong Kong, July 17.—(AP)—A Chinese newspaper in a dispatch from Canton today quoted authoritative sources as saying: "The Chinese communist high command 'is determined to liberate Taiwan (Formosa) despite United States' naval protection of the island.'"

Scientific Mission Loses Plane In Northern Lake

Edmonton, July 17.—(AP)—Members of a nine-man scientific expedition to the north magnetic pole arrived here in an R.C.A.F. rescue aircraft early today. The expedition's own plane is in 20 feet of water in a North West Territories lake.

The men, who spent two nights in the sub-Arctic shivering in wet clothes and taking turns using a single sleeping bag, were picked up last night from the shore of Spitz Lake, 544 miles northeast of Edmonton.

An R.C.A.F. spokesman gave this account:

The expedition was headed by Ralph Hutchinson of Ottawa and Kenneth Whitman of Toronto, scientists who were to study the constantly-shifting magnetic pole. Mr. Hutchinson is head magnetician in the federal technical surveys department and Mr. Whitman is a geophysicist.

In an R.C.A.F. canoe with a seven-man crew, the party took off from Ottawa July 7 for a 43-stop tour of the northland. Friday it landed on Spitz Lake and set up a magnetic survey point.

Late in the day it prepared to leave. P.O. A. G. Carswell of Ottawa and Toronto, the pilot, said the plane skinned over what he took to be a rock. It left a hole in the forward part of the aircraft. He taxied the canoe to within 100 yards of the shore, then it sank.

Hill Fails In Bid To Ride Falls

By GERRY LOUGHEED
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Niagara Falls, Ont., July 17.

Another attempt to defy the swirling waters of Niagara Falls has failed.

The Niagara River, filled with eddies and cross-currents, yesterday dashed the hopes of daredevil Major Lloyd Hill, who tried to go over the 175-foot horseshoe falls in a steel barrel.

Hill navigated about 2 1/2 miles of river successfully in the 725-pound cylinder but the barrel was caught in cross-currents within a half-mile of the cataract and hurled against a shoreside power station abutment.

Friends attempted to dislodge the bouncing, tossing barrel with pike poles but failed. A strong inshore current kept pushing the stainless steel craft back against the wall.

After an hour, they attached ropes to the barrel and hauled it ashore.

Hill, uninjured but badly shaken up when the river hurled the barrel about like a matchbox, was bitter about it.

"Why didn't you shove her out again?" he mumbled to his brothers, Red Jr. and Corky, as they helped him to his feet.

"I could have made it. I know I could have."

Hill said later he is determined to try again, either next Sunday or as soon as possible.

While Hill himself didn't make the trip over the falls yesterday, the barrel did. Within minutes after he was dragged out and whisked away in a waiting truck, one of his brothers untied the ropes and shoved the cylinder into the current.

It got into a downstream channel, hurtling over the precipice near the spot where Hill had hoped to go over.

Many of the estimated 200,000 persons lining the Canadian and American shores were unaware Hill had been removed and gave a shout as the barrel disappeared under the stry at the bottom of the falls and then bobbed up.

It was dented badly but apparently remained watertight. Hill said he would use it again without any alterations, or repairs.

The riverman hoped to become the fourth person in history to go over the falls and live. He was making the first attempt in 20 years.

George Stanakis of Buffalo, who made the last try, was suffocated when his 2,000-pound wooden barrel was imprisoned 15 hours by eddies blow the falls.

The spokesman said the expedition likely will return to Ottawa, finished for this year.

Other crew members are: F.O. D. L. Munroe, Aylmer, Que.; F. W. Bari, Ottawa, co-pilot; F. G. O. Paynter, Ottawa, radio officer; Sgt. A. B. Hillman, Ottawa and Belleville, Ont., flight engineer; LAC R. A. McLean, Cyrville, Ont., and Moncton, N.B., flight mechanic, and LAC W. E. Southcombe, Ottawa and Sarnia, Ont., crewman.

Slavs Condemn Soviet Terrorism
Belgrade, July 17. — (AP) — A government-sponsored Yugoslav peace congress today formally condemned Russia's "terroristic" campaign of pressure against this country. It called for settlement of all international disputes by agreement.

The conference, bringing together more than 1,000 representatives of peace organizations throughout the country, set forth its stand in a nine-point resolution registering Yugoslavia's determination to remain independent in the cold war between the east and west.

Outnumbered Americans Are Pushed Back Six Miles But South Koreans Halt Reds North of Pusan.

Tokyo, July 17.—(AP)—Hordes of Red infantrymen and tanks bore down on Taejon approaches tonight. But in the east Gen. MacArthur said the communists were handed their two worst setbacks of the Korean war.

The Taejon airfield, three miles north of the one time South Korean provisional capital, was abandoned last night. Leif Erickson, Associated Press correspondent at American headquarters in Korea, said a spokesman announced the field had been under Red artillery fire since Monday noon.

Two Russian-built Yak fighter planes were shot down today by American pilots. It was the first time the Red planes had shown any fight since 17 were shot down early in the war.

In the west the Americans, outnumbered 10 to 1 by the North Koreans, were pushed back six miles. The entire 24th American infantry division fell back slowly from the Kum river southwest of Kongju and northwest of Taejon.

Tank-led North Korean infantrymen pushed across the Kum Saturday, MacArthur said.

But, the United Nations commander reported, the 24th held them up 48 hours, giving southern elements time to gather men and supplies for "assuming the offensive" against the north.

He said American troops had taken up defensive positions along the north and west approaches to Taejon, the abandoned southern emergency capital.

Once they crossed the Kum, MacArthur said, the Reds resumed their flanking and infiltration tactics. This forced the Americans back. But they inflicted losses out of proportion to the ground gained by the North Koreans, he said. American losses were "not excessive."

The communists apparently had a twin-pronged drive going south of the river. Both field dispatches and eight army headquarters in Korea said Taejon still was in American hands.

American and Australian fighters and U.S. light bombers ranged along the front or just behind it in more than 200 combat sorties. They were credited with destroying or damaging 28 Red tanks, 32 trucks and 14 railway box cars.

Superfortress bombers struck deep into North Korean territory. Fifty of them dumped 400 tons on the railroad yards at Seoul, 90 miles beyond the front. Other planes plastered the closer Chungju area.

The North Korean ground forces ran into shattering surprises in two actions on the eastern front, MacArthur said they were "two of the most conclusive setbacks" of the Korean war.

North of Yongdok on the east coast, United States planes tore the Reds apart. In the critical sector around Chechon it was artillery that mauled them.

Yongdok is 85 miles north of the port of Pusan, which is the American supply depot on the peninsula.

MacArthur said the Reds had been heartened by limited success there in a combined sea and land operation against the South Koreans Sunday. The North Korean force attacked Monday morning and—as MacArthur put it—"received its biggest surprise of the war."

Fighters roared in to support a South Korean regiment. The result was a "catastrophe" for the Reds, MacArthur's communique said.

The other North Korean setback around Yechon, 55 miles northeast of Taejon, came Sunday night. A South Korean regiment came up with a unit of U.S. artillery—now previously reported in that sector—and the Red force halted dead in its tracks.

Tokyo, July 17.—(Reuters)—Taejon, important road and rail centre and former temporary capital of South Korea, is expected to fall to invading communist forces within 24 hours, on the basis of reports reaching Tokyo late today.

Exhausted soldiers of the United States 24th division were gradually being whittled away by ceaseless North Korean attacks.

The troops may make their next stand, dispatches said, at Okchon, about eight miles east of Taejon on the main Taejon-Taegu-Pusan railway—main axis of supply for U.S. forces.

Censorship To Be Left To Press

Tokyo, July 17.—(AP)—Marguerite Higgins, foreign correspondent for the New York Herald Tribune, said tonight she has been ordered out of Korea and told to return to Tokyo "under escort."

Miss Higgins said in a telephone interview from an advanced American base that she had been given no reason for her expulsion.

Two other correspondents barred from Korea Saturday were given General MacArthur's personal permission to return—Tom Lambert, of The Associated Press, and Peter Kalischer, of The United Press.

Miss Higgins, only woman correspondent on the Korean war front, was among the first reporters to go there when the fighting started.

She said the message to leave Korea came from headquarters of Lt.-Gen. Walton H. Walker, commander of ground forces in Korea. She said she believed Walker was preventing her from carrying out her assignment on the grounds she is a woman.

Gen. MacArthur earlier in the day repeated his opinion that the press alone could determine what news should be published of the Korean war.

He said he welcomed a cable from the managing director of the Chicago Sun-Times, advising the General that the paper had introduced self-censorship.

MacArthur said army personnel were not trained in journalism and must devote their entire energies to military operations. They could not effectively share the responsibility of deciding which news to print.

"There is probably no more misused nor less understood term than press censorship," he declared.

Taejon Appears Almost Deserted

By WILLIAM R. MOORE
A command post in Korea, July 17.—(AP)—Taejon was deathly quiet tonight.

The city that last week was South Korea's temporary capital and the nerve centre for the joint American-South Korean military action against the North Korean Reds appeared almost deserted.

Press correspondents left Taejon last night at a time when sporadic small arms fire was heard in the city.

Lachie McDonald of the London Daily Mail, Bill Sydney Smith of the London Daily Express, Gene Symonds of United Press and I returned on a visit tonight.

We heard no sniper fire. Once or twice artillery or bombs boomed in the distance. We left at 9 p.m. (7 a.m. E.D.T.).

Few signs of life were seen on the streets. Normally the population is 100,000.

There was more activity at the railroad station—now the end of the line of Korean rail traffic from Pusan to Seoul. Pusan is the important supply base on the southeastern coast.

Trains had been shutting all day between Taejon and points south. Most of them carried wounded and battle weary soldiers back from the newest zone of fighting.

There were no American Mustang flights with U.S. bombers. All Mustangs returned.

Washington, July 17.—(AP)—An enormously complex—and potentially dangerous—transportation program is hampering efforts to build up material behind the United States forces in Korea.

A mountain of equipment, weapons, ammunition and other material must go into a single South Korean port daily to keep forces there supplied for the bitter fight.

Flag For The General

Gen. J. Lawton Collins (left), U.S. Army chief of staff, shakes hands with Gen. Douglas MacArthur after presenting him with the UN flag in a ceremony in Tokyo. MacArthur, who is UN commander in Korea, said his command would "do all in its power to uphold this noble ideal." The standard is the same that flew over the Palestine headquarters of the late Count Folke Bernadotte. (NEA Telephoto via Army radiophoto.)

Russia Will Try To End War If U.N. Accepts Red China

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Washington, July 17.—(AP)—State Secretary Dean Acheson is planning to make one of the most delicate diplomatic moves of the world crisis this week in reply to suggestions of India's Prime Minister Nehru for settling the Korean war.

The New York Times and a New Delhi source reported today that Russian Prime Minister Stalin has replied to these suggestions by asking for the seating of communist China in the United Nations Security Council as a step toward ending the war.

Acheson is expected in his answer to draw a sharp line between peace and appeasement, as those terms are applied here to the Korean situation.

The essential condition to any settlement of the Korean and related Far Eastern issues is complete withdrawal of the communist invasion forces from South Korea, the United States secretary is expected to write.

At the same time, associates said, Acheson will not close any door to an international effort to work out a just, permanent solution of the Korean problem in the United Nations once the Red aggression has been ended.

Nehru sent personal messages last Thursday to Acheson and Stalin. Stalin's reply was handed to the Indian ambassador in Moscow Saturday.

The New York Times, quoting confidential sources, said Stalin wrote that he "welcomed Nehru's initiative in trying to restore peace in Korea" and "reactivation of the Security Council should be the first step."

The Times noted that this latter reference obviously meant that the Chinese communists should be seated on the U.N. Council in place of the nationalists.

Seating of the Chinese Reds on the Council would lead to the return of Russia to its deliberations and a discussion of the Korean situation among its five permanent members—the U.S., Britain, France, Russia and China, the Times said.

Substantially the same information was reported from a reliable source in New Delhi.

Acheson is convinced that any compromise on the basic issues of the Korean crisis now would constitute appeasement of an aggressor that would be almost certain to bring on other communist attacks elsewhere in the world.

New Delhi, India, July 17.—(AP)—Generalissimo Stalin has told India's Prime Minister Nehru he considers Red China's admission to the United Nations Security Council an essential step toward ending the Korean war, it was reliably reported today.

A reliable source said the Russian Prime Minister, in a note to Nehru, agreed the Korean crisis must be settled peacefully through the Security Council. But the Council, Stalin was reported to have insisted, must include the Chinese communists among its "big five" permanent members.

Stalin's note, delivered here yesterday in reply to a previous communication from Nehru, sug-

Word Awaited On Engagement Of Princess

London, July 17.—(Reuters)—Vivacious Princess Margaret, who reaches her 20th birthday next month, is again the centre of rumor and speculation about the possibility of an early announcement of her engagement.

Rumor in Mayfair, London's society centre and focus of the theatre and night-club life for which the Princess has shown some taste, is that the engagement announcement will come with her birthday, Aug. 21. But others of the social set are inclined to believe such an announcement most likely will be delayed until Margaret is 21.

With Princess Elizabeth's second baby expected this autumn, Buckingham Palace was expected to avoid the additional excitement of announcement of the betrothal of the King's younger daughter.

There is an ancient tradition of Glamis Castle, Scottish Highland home of Queen Elizabeth where Margaret was born, that daughters of the house always choose their husbands before their 20th birthday.

But Margaret, even if she has made her choice, does not necessarily have to announce it.

Latest of the prospective husbands selected for Margaret by her public following is Walter Francis John Montagu-Douglas Scott, Earl of Dalkeith, only son and heir to the eighth Duke of Buccleuch. Aged 26, educated at Eton and Oxford, he is a Lieutenant of the Royal Naval Volunteer Reserve.

The Earl of Dalkeith is only the latest of a long list presented for public consideration in the last couple of years.

The Marquess of Blandford, heir to the Dukedom of Marlborough, was at Balmoral Castle for the Princess' 18th birthday.

Margaret was scarcely out of the Girl Guides when French and American newsmen saw her at a theatre with former King Michael of Romania and jumped to premature conclusions.

Heirs to Earldoms and Dukedoms are most prominent among the other entries. Hon. Peter Alastair Ward, rich, handsome second son of the Earl of Dudley, who flew with the R.C.A.F. seemed for a time to be a candidate.

Liner Franconia Is Refloated

Quebec, July 17.—(AP)—The ocean liner Franconia is in drydock here today, ready for minute inspection of her hull, damaged when she ran aground near Quebec harbor Wednesday night.

The liner, stranded on a rocky point off the western tip of the Isle of Orleans, was refloated early yesterday by six tugs, her own engines and a flood tide that made the actual job of pulling her off the rocks a matter of 32 minutes.

As she clattered noisily off the rocky bottom, several hundred curious Quebecers applauded.

The Franconia, a 20,000-ton Cunard Donaldson liner, rammed into the rocks with 800 passengers shortly after leaving Quebec on a trip to Liverpool. No one was injured as the big vessel ground to a stop at Pointe au Tureau in full view of startled vacationists and island residents.

When the Franconia was pulled out into the river she slid along.

Morrison Prepares Labor Party's Election Program

By ROBERT D. BROWN
London, July 17.—(Reuters)—Herbert Morrison, deputy Prime Minister and the Labor party's chief policy planner, is putting finishing touches to the final draft of the election program which the government is expected to take to the polls during the next 12 months.

It is likely to be the most carefully prepared statement of socialist policy in the party's history. Yet it may prove the least specific in its proposals.

Probably it will drop the practice of the last two elections of naming particular industries earmarked for nationalization. Instead, there may be a formula which would give the government, if returned to power, freedom to deal with any industry it feels calls for state intervention.

Morrison is believed to have discussed this aspect of policy with his Labor, trades union, and cooperative colleagues during the last few weeks.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

WARNING TO OPTIMISTIC OLIVERS

"Aren't you interested in winning?" asked Optimistic Oliver's partner. "Just let me know what you're after. If you're looking for thrills, that's all right with me. I might be able to dream up a few for you to remember me by."

"I was trying to win a big score," Oliver denied himself. "If we had taken that pack we'd have made a fortune."

"True," admitted his partner. "If you had wheels you'd be a trolley car. And if I had any sense I'd know better than to play Canasta with you."

This was a bit strong, but the complaint was not unjustified. Oliver had lived up to his nickname, with disastrous results.

When the hand began, Oliver's side had 4600 points, while the opponents had only 2000. His side needed 120 points for the first meld, while the opponents needed only 90 points. Neither side melded, and the pack grew to quite a respectable size. Finally, Oliver discarded a deuce, freezing the pack.

Oliver then proceeded to discard five kings in a row. The rest of the story will need no telling to experienced Canasta players. Oliver found a few more safe discards but eventually decided to discard anything else that was surely safe. Having done so, he was no longer able to meld 120 points, no matter what was discarded to him. His hand was useless, and his partner was no better off. Their only hope was that the opponents also would never be able to meld.

Unfortunately for Oliver, the enemy eventually got the pack, which was really huge by that time. They scored well over four thousand points on the hand! Now let's go back to Oliver's position when he decided to freeze the pack. Before he discarded the deuce, he held the following twelve cards:

Hunting Season Dates Are Announced

Bedford, July 15. — Moose hunting will be permitted in Quebec from October 15th to October 31st, both dates inclusive. This information was received by the Quebec Federation of Fish and Game Associations following publication of an Order-in-Council in the Quebec Official Gazette.

Announcing this regulation which was sent to the Federation by the Honorable Dr. Camille E. Pouliot, Minister of Game and Fisheries for the Province, Mr. Benoit Bertrand, President of the Federation, said that the short season and the later dates for moose hunting were in keeping with the desire of all sportsmen to save this big game animal from further depletion. Provision for the proclamation of an open moose hunting season was made in the Quebec Game Act which was amended recently by the Quebec Legislature. This regulation applies throughout the province, with the exception of Chibougamau, Laurentides, Gaspé de la Verendrye Parks, where hunting is forbidden at all times. The resident of Quebec must this year pay $1.00 for a license to hunt moose. Non-residents who are not members of clubs leasing fishing and hunting territories will pay $100 for their moose hunting license.

President Bertrand added that Federation officers felt that the 1950 regulations were an important step toward moose conservation. With hunting delayed until mid-October, moose are now protected during their mating season and will not be liable to be attracted by guide calls. "If sportsmen co-operate and do their share," said Mr. Bertrand, "the moose picture in Quebec will look much brighter than it did a year ago."

Alphonse Gregoire, Clerk Of Local Recorder's Court, Dies In Accident

Quebec, July 17.—Alphonse Gregoire, 27-year-old clerk of Sherbrooke Recorder's Court, was fatally injured Saturday on a south shore St. Lawrence highway leading to Quebec when his automobile turned over.

Provincial Police headquarters here said the accident occurred on a concrete south shore highway, between Laurierville and St. Apollinaire, in Lotbiniere country Saturday afternoon a few miles from Quebec bridge.

Police said Gregoire was at the wheel of the automobile and was accompanied by a brother who emerged from the accident with minor injuries.

A coroner's inquest into the accident was held this morning at St. Apollinaire under Dr. Jean-Paul Pouliot.

Mr. Gregoire had been secretary of the local police department and the Recorder's Court since 1947. He was starting out on his holidays at the time of the accident.

Mr. Gregoire, a native of Bromptonville, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Gregoire. He was educated at Victoriaville and was a teaching brother of Les Freres de l'Ecole Chretien at Laval des Rapides before he came to Sherbrooke.

He is survived by his parents, three brothers, Raymond and Gaston of Bromptonville, and Donat of Sherbrooke, and seven sisters, Mrs. G. Nault (Stella), Sister Ste. Marie (Hortense) of Notre-Dame Congregation in Montreal, Bernadette, Laurette, Gilberte, Madeleine, and Marie Claire.

Funeral service will be held Wednesday at 9 a.m. from St. Michael's Cathedral with interment in Bromptonville. The remains, which will arrive from Quebec, will be exposed at Mr. Gregoire's home on Brooks St. Claire.

Premier Duplessis, Mines Minister French Are Shaken Up In Accident

Quebec, July 17.—Premier Duplessis and Mines Minister French were "shaken up but not injured" late last night when their automobile collided with another carrying students on the Quebec-Chicoutimi highway, provincial police reported.

The Premier's group was returning from Arvida, Que., where they attended the opening Sunday of an all-aluminum bridge.

Legislative Councillor Gerald Martineau, travelling with the Premier, suffered a cut on the forehead requiring four stitches while Mines Minister C. D. French, also in the car, was unharmed.

After the accident, the Premier and his party resumed their trip to Quebec with friends in another automobile.

At Chicoutimi the Premier surrounded by civic, religious and provincial officials opened the world's first aluminum highway bridge across the Saguenay river while a crowd of some 5,000 looked on.

The bridge, linking Arvida and Shipshaw, is near the site of Canada's big aluminum smelters at Arvida. The structure cost $500,000 and is 504 feet long and 32 feet wide.

The Premier said that the bridge linking the two shores was an eloquent symbol of the unity between peoples here of various races and creeds.

Among those present were Donald Gordon, president, Canadian National Railways, and Roads Minister Talbot.

Third Victim Of Accident Died Saturday

Noelange Laplante, 17-year-old St. Claude girl, critically injured in an accident which claimed the lives of two of her companions, Rose Lacasse, 20, and Jeanine Godbout, 17, on Thursday, succumbed to her injuries in the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital early Saturday afternoon.

Miss Laplante was walking along the highway three miles this side of Richmond, accompanied by three of her friends, when they were struck by a car going towards Windsor Mills and driven by Alfred Ward, of Hamilton, Ont.

Miss Lacasse was instantly killed while Miss Godbout died in the ambulance before it reached the hospital. The fourth girl, Miss Mercier, of Richmond, escaped injury.

On Saturday afternoon the coroner's jury, presided over by Dr. Georges Legendre, of Danville, dispersed after a four hour session when no agreement could be reached as to the verdict.

Dr. Legendre stated this morning that he had made his report to the department of the Attorney-General and that in all probability a new inquest would be held some time tomorrow.

A verdict of accidental death was returned in the case of Edgar Vidal, 41 year old Richmond resident, who was struck by a car on the Danville highway, also on Thursday.

Mr. Morrison in turn presented the trophy to Etienne Desjardins, chairman of the Safety Committee.

In congratulating Johns-Manville employees on "their magnificent record" Mr. Fisher said: "I can think of nothing that is more important than the safety, the mental and physical well-being of every member of our organization. The management of Johns-Manville has always put that consideration at the top of its planning."

"In winning this safety trophy you have had to compete with 19 other J-M factory and mine locations. The record of your accomplishment speaks for itself."

"You have established a record no other J-M factory has attained. In 1949 you completed more than 1,000,000 man-hours without an accident. Moreover, for the record you achieved between September of 1948 and March 1950—a record of 1,200,000 man-hours of production without an accident— you received international recognition by being placed on the Honor Roll of the National Safety Council."

"My congratulations to all of you."

Mr. Morrison said that the "key to safety is in accident prevention," adding: "All of our employees contributed in one way or another to making work safer. Their suggestions, made through our factory safety committee, played an important part in winning the trophy. Our employees have demonstrated that they know how to work safely."

"This new safety record means new freedom from pain, suffering and the many other family hardships which are brought about by accidents. Your winning of this trophy is definite proof that everyone can do his work in a safe way and can help others to do their work safely."

In reply, A. Larivee, president of the local Syndicate, declared on behalf of the employees: "Messrs. Fisher and Morrison we thank you and you can count on our full co-operation in promoting safety at all times."

Asbestos, July 17. — The Canadian Johns-Manville factory here was presented Friday with the Vice President's Award for Production Safety for its record of more than 1,000,000 man-hours without an accident.

Presentation of the trophy was made by A. R. Fisher, vice-president of Canadian Johns-Manville to J. E. Morrison, factory manager. Mr. Morrison in turn presented the trophy to Etienne Desjardins, chairman of the Safety Committee.

EVERY CITIZEN'S DUTY

Tomorrow the property-owners of Sherbrooke are required to register their views on the proposals advanced by the City Council for extending municipal services to the newly-developing areas of the city. At that time a by-law calling for the borrowing of $1,400,000 to finance these various schemes is being submitted to the ratepayers for their approval or rejection.

At first glance the amount asked may seem large, but it must be appreciated in the first place that the aldermen have evolved a two-year plan of public improvements, with the borrowings to be made in two instalments as the works progress. This, in itself, is a definitely progressive move, permitting as it does the more efficient planning of the different works to be carried out. It opens the way for the projects to be undertaken in logical sequence rather than to be done in a haphazard manner, performing small projects here and there in an effort to meet the widening demand.

An examination of the by-law, as presented to the ratepayers through the press, shows very few projects to which any objection can be taken. Sherbrooke is growing at a rapid rate, with new streets being opened up each week. Both from the viewpoint of the convenience of the residents of the new areas and the welfare of the citizens as a whole, it is essential that they be provided with the elementary public services—water and sewerage, sidewalks and passable streets. Similarly, it is desirable, in fact almost necessary, that parks, playgrounds and associated services be provided for all districts.

This alone justifies the expenditure for non-revenue producing expenditures. But there is also an important group of items in the new by-law which will be more than self-sustaining—the extension of gas and electric services and the improvement of transmission and distribution facilities. Given any reasonable use of the services to be provided, the increased revenues from these sources should meet most of the carrying charges on the new issue.

Then, there is the increase in property values and the consequent jump in taxation revenue which should result from the completion of municipal facilities in the new areas.

Taking these factors into consideration and with the realization that a progressive city must spend money on expansion, it is to the obvious interest of the property-owners generally to approve the proposals.

But of even greater importance is the need of every property owner to vote, whether he favors or opposes the scheme. These referendums are the best means of keeping the council in touch with public opinion and unless the ratepayers vote, either for or against, they can find little reason, subsequently, to criticize the municipal administration for its acts.

A VITAL WEAKNESS

The plea of Trygve Lie, Secretary-General of the United Nations for the creation of an international army to carry on the Korean war only stresses one of the vital weaknesses of all peace organizations created to date—the failure to provide a sufficient force to prevent aggression in advance. When the United Nations was first created, a strong element urged that at least the nucleus of an international army be created, pointing to the many times the orders of the old League of Nations had been defied because of the inability to take any effective action against those powers who did not believe in the importance of moral suasion.

However, the appeasement element in the United Nations, and outside it, were successful in their efforts to prevent the creation of such machinery, presenting the argument that everyone was filled with goodwill and that any international army would only serve to create friction. The second part of their argument might have been in line had the first been based on the true facts. Actually, one of the major participants in the early conferences came filled with ill-will, which has only grown with the years, fanned to a great extent by the willingness of the other powers to back down before the aggressive moves.

Now, when the crisis actually arises, the long task of laying the groundwork must be undertaken at a time when the force should be fully mobilized. In the meantime, the arduous task of defending Korea, or attempting to defend it, must be undertaken by the United States.

True, it is doubtful if an international army could have been much more effective in the fighting to date than the United States army alone, but the fact remains that except from limited assistance given by a few powers, there is still no international effort to restore and maintain the peace.

LET'S GO AND KILL OURSELVES

Many people would never take part in a game of chance; roulette, where the turn of the wheel decides fortune or otherwise; who look with terror at the blank wheels in the midway at the fair or exhibition, will bet their lives on the turn of five wheels of their motor cars. Each one of the wheels, four rubber-tired and the fifth the steering wheel, is a wheel of chance.

Holidays are hazardous days. The wheels go round and round when careless people start out for a week-end, a public holiday, or for the two weeks or a month annual respite from the job; they often spin much faster than is ordinarily the case. The steering wheel is handled with more abandon in dodging, cutting-in, passing on a hill, and taking other chances in which the stakes are human lives.

Anyone of the four wheels on which you travel is a wheel of chance. Actually it does not really matter much whether you reach your destination 200 miles away, fifteen or twenty minutes sooner than the chap you passed ten miles after you got started. The car ahead of you on a hill may appear to be a tortoise, but it may get to its destination and those riding in it read: "Tried to pass on hill, two killed, two injured, one maimed for life."

Before you jam the throttle down to the floorboards, or take racing driver chances with the steering wheel, reflect a moment; can you afford to lose? Are the stakes, the life of your wife, your children, your friends or your own worth the gamble? Did you tell them before you started that you were going to "stake all" on the turn of the wheel? Did they agree that you should "shoot the works"? Would they have been willing to go for a holiday trip had they known that you were going to gamble with the turns of the wheel? How many motoring holidays end in hospitals and mortuaries which never would have been started if someone had laughingly remarked as the last door was slammed shut, "Well, let's go out and kill ourselves"?

POLICE CHIEFS SUPPORT OUR OPINION

Kingston Whip-Standard
We were gratified to learn that private citizens, unless specifically drafted by police, should remain strictly on the sidelines when they see bandits or other lawbreakers at work, is emphatically supported by the International Association of Police Chiefs. The members of the Association went on record some years ago against such interference, and their point of view may be expressed as follows:

"It is easier to investigate a robbery than a murder."
The course recommended by the police chiefs was summed up briefly by H. L. MacPherson, writing in the Windsor Star. They warn involved citizens to:

1. Use your head. Don't resist.
 2. Hand over your money and do whatever else you're told.
 3. Scan the bandit closely meanwhile for distinguishing features and other marks which will help you give a good description of him. His arrest and conviction may depend on that.
 4. When he leaves, don't interfere.
- We add to the foregoing the recommendation to notify the nearest police force as quickly as possible, after the departure of the bandit.
- The combined opinion of the members of the Association is the opinion of experts who have reached high executive posts in their police forces, in many instances the highest. The course they recommend, we believe, is the wisest possible, and in many ways the best calculated to serve the interests of law enforcement.

THE DOUKHOBOR CRIMINALS

Ottawa Journal
For their violent crimes, ranging from riotous assembly to arson and attempts to destroy bridges and railroad tracks, 193 members of the "Sons of Freedom" sect of British Columbia's Doukhobors have been sent to prison. One of them faces 14 years in the penitentiary, and the average was about four years.

These are strange people. Before court convened in Nelson the other day—for imposing sentences on a batch of them—the prisoners sang the Lord's Prayer in Russian, and prayed. Nevertheless they are criminals before the law, and their crimes are not to be excused by their fanaticism. When protest against the established order takes the form of burning houses and schools, trying to wreck trains, it has passed far beyond the bounds of tolerance.

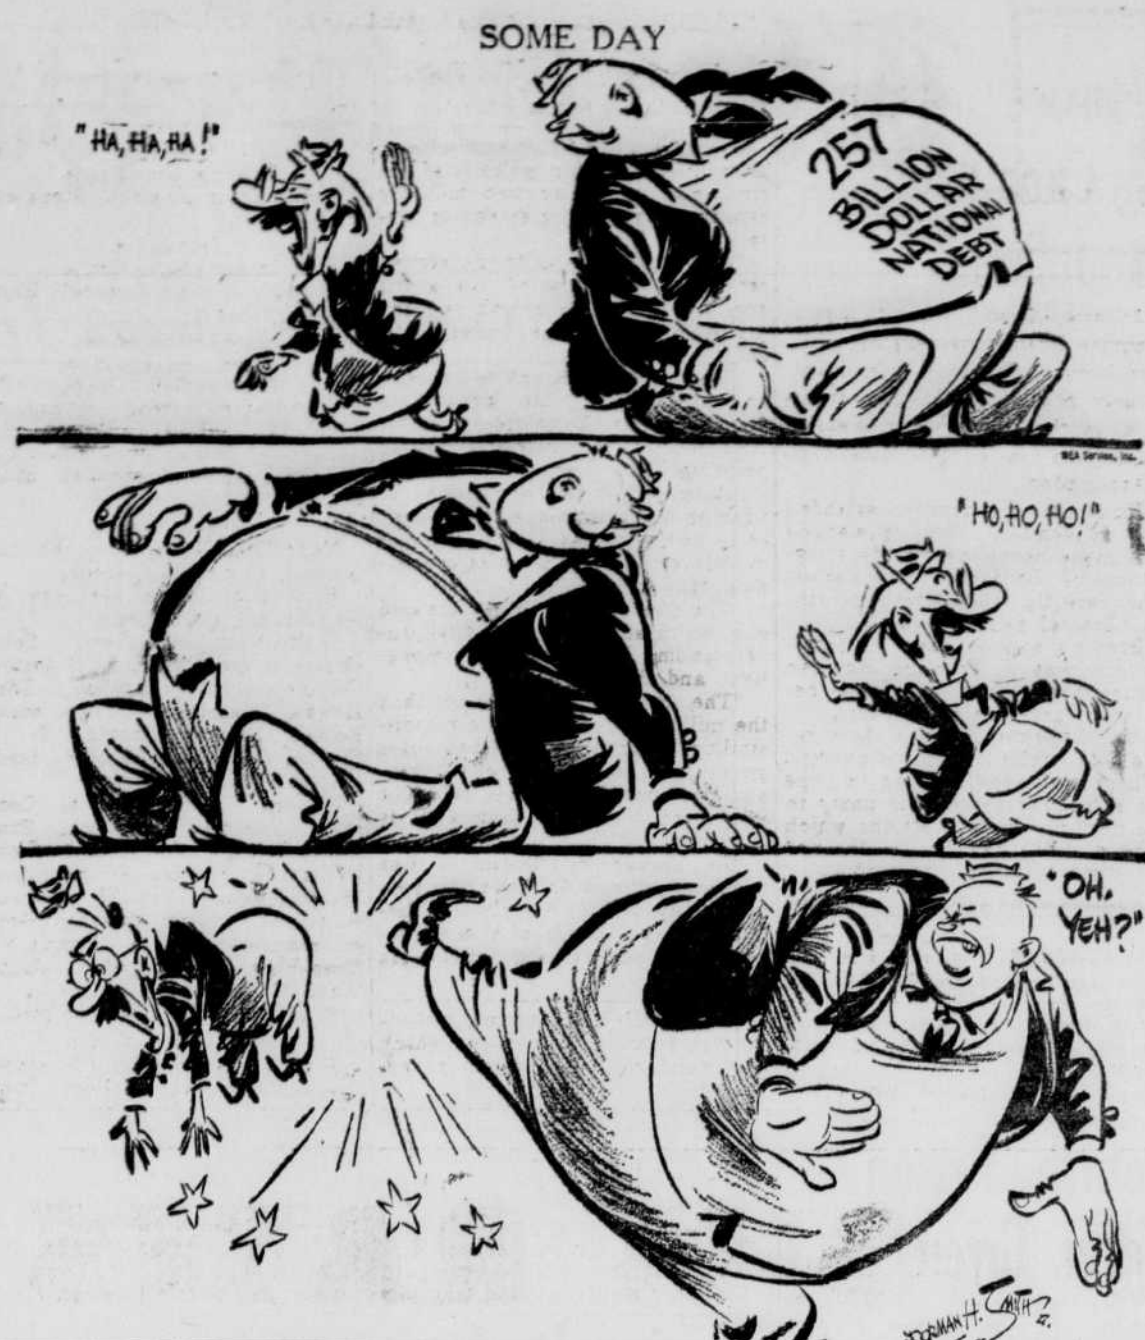

And yet prison is not the complete answer to this old problem, because experience shows that these fanatical men and women do not fear imprisonment, come out of jail no more amenable to our laws than when they went in. It is a factor, too, that Canadian taxpayers will have to pay hundreds of thousands of dollars for the maintenance of these people while they serve their terms.

It is only incidentally that this is a question particularly for British Columbia. This lunatic fringe of the Doukhor colony is essentially a national problem and must be settled, if it can be settled, through the resources and authority of the federal government. The Journal suggested some time ago that the "Sons of Freedom" be transported to some remote section of the country, given the bare essentials of a livelihood and left to their own devices—there they could burn and wreck to their hearts' content and they would injure none but themselves. It might be harsh treatment, but treatment richly earned by such unruly customers, by people so given to violence, so contemptuous of our laws and institutions.

PRINCESS AS GOVERNOR-GENERAL

By Lenore Crawford, in Ottawa Citizen
The rumor that Princess Elizabeth might be the next Governor-General of Canada struck certain editorial offices like a bomb. Those which have advocated a Canadian for the office considered it would be a definite setback to that proposal and they saw in the rumor a planned attack by those desiring a Governor-General from the United Kingdom.

Montreal Matin thought the presence of Princess Elizabeth would have the effect of stirring up in Canadian breasts a more fervent feeling for Great Britain and the Royal family, a feeling which in view of the Korean situation might have serious results. "It would be an excellent pretext to feed the mobbishness of all colonials," the paper concluded. "It also would be . . . a precious help in permitting several of our rulers to adopt legislation which they would judge the most advantageous for British interests. In order for all Canadians to continue respect for Princess Elizabeth, it is indispensable that she keep outside our Canadian disputes."

Population Of Ireland Falls 3,000,000 In Last 100 Years

By JOHN E. CARLOVA

Dublin, July 17. —(Reuters)—The Republic of Ireland's principle export is people.

Emigration during the last 100 years has drained the Irish population from 6,000,000 to the present 2,950,000.

Set in motion by the terrible famine of 1849, the great exodus overseas still continues, mainly to the United States and Britain.

Despite the intervention of the war, a net total of 143,000 people left Ireland during the 10 years up to 1942.

This official figure—disclosed by Liam Cosgrave, parliamentary secretary to Prime Minister John Costello—has undoubtedly stepped up since the war. The gauge is the steady increase in immigrants' remittances—totaling $37,800,000 a year—the republic's greatest source of overseas revenue.

Two factors are blamed for the heavy emigration—the inability of the island properly to support even the present diminished population, and the loyalty of Irishmen overseas in helping friends and relatives to follow them.

Although half of Ireland's employable population work on the land, many of the smaller farms are unable to support even the people who live on them.

Even industry—mainly meat curing, linen making, distilling, brewing and other occupations connected with agriculture—can absorb only 15 per cent of the employable population.

The average wage for men is only $10 a week, $5 for women. This compares with a 1938 wage of $7.50 for men and $4.25 for women.

Yet, over the same period, the cost of living has leaped by 70 per cent.

Poachers Plunder Scottish Stream Of Salmon, Trout

London, July 17 — © — Organized commercial gangs, employing commando tactics in raiding the famed salmon and trout rivers of Scotland, have aroused the government to action.

Charges in the House of Lords that poachers were using explosives, poison and electrical devices to extract rich catches from well-stocked streams, brought prompt assurance from T. Fraser, under-secretary of state for Scotland, that new legislation would be introduced to meet the situation.

Under the existing law, poachers are liable to a maximum fine of $10 ($31) or the equivalent of the price they get for a couple of good-size salmon.

Mr. Fraser told a questioner in the House of Commons, that the government would base its new legislation on recommendations made by a special committee of inquiry. Its major proposals call for a sharp increase in penalties, confiscation of motor vehicles and nets, widened rights of search and a provision compelling dealers in

USE HIGH CARDS TO BEST ADVANTAGE

The trick that you take with an ace is the same trick whether it captures a deuce or a king. In general, however, you will produce more tricks for your side if you play your ace on a high card than if you play it on a low card.

The hand shown today illustrates this principle. The play boiled down to a duel between West and South. West wanted to capture a high card with his ace of clubs, and South wanted to prevent the loss of a high club.

The bidding was quite good. North had a sound takeout double of one diamond, with enough red value for a jump raise to three spades. It is important to note that North's hand was not worth a jump to four spades, since his takeout double had forced South to bid, and South might have a completely worthless hand. In that case, even three spades might be in danger. After this strong bid from North, the South hand was well worth a try for game.

West opened the king of diamonds, and dummy won with the ace. Declarer saw at a glance that the contract would depend on making three club tricks since on the last club South could discard his losing heart. He would thus lose only two diamonds and one club.

The clubs would provide three tricks if each opponent held three cards in the suit. However, South saw a way to provide against different breaks provided that West held no more than three clubs.

At the second trick declarer cashed the ace of spades, after which he led a low trump to his own ten. This drew the trumps held by the enemy and at the same time gave South the lead.

Declarer next led a low club towards dummy. West played the seven, since declarer would easily win three club tricks if West put up the ace at once. Dummy won with the jack of clubs, confirming what was evident from the bidding—that the ace of clubs was in the West hand.

Declarer returned to his hand by overtaking dummy's jack of spades with his own queen. He then led the six of clubs towards dummy. On this trick West was compelled to play his ace. Thus West was forced to play his ace of clubs on a trick that contained only low cards.

West could cash his two diamonds, but then he was through. He led a heart hopefully, but dummy put up the ace. South took the king of clubs, led a trump to dummy, and then discarded his losing heart on the queen of clubs.

The contract would have been defeated if declarer had carelessly used the king of clubs to force out the ace. This would have limited him to two club tricks, in which case the loss of a heart trick was inevitable.

The Record Short Story

Saturday Again

By NORAH SMARIDGE

"Saturday again—and I'm so lonely," Sheila thought desperately, listening to the Wilsons laughing in their kitchen. "I could have dropped dead weeks ago—and they wouldn't know, or care. Anywhere would be better than this room."

She hadn't felt like that a month ago, though. Transferred to her firm's newest branch, she had answered an ad for a furnished room in Brooklyn. And she had liked Mimi Wilson, the young wife who had opened the door to her; had liked, too, the glimpse of Larry Wilson, disappearing down the hall.

"It's swell you answered our ad—we much prefer a young tenant," Mimi had said. "Larry was afraid we might have to take some old girl who'd cook all her meals on a gas ring and never leave the apartment!" She had grinned at Sheila; Mimi was slender, vivaciously attractive. "You'll find the room comfortable, and I'll knock a bit off the rent if you'll keep it clean yourself."

Sheila had taken the room, sure that she would find the Wilsons congenial. Her folks in Wilmington would be relieved to hear she was going to live with a nice young couple and wouldn't be lonely.

But it hadn't worked out that way at all. Because the Wilsons made no attempt at friendship. They lived, indeed, behind closed doors—doors that seemed to slam coldly in Sheila's face.

Once, thinking they were waiting for her to make the first gesture, she had knocked at their kitchen door with some fudge her mother had sent her. Coffee was perking; she was sure Mimi would offer her a cup—and settle down for a chat. But Mimi only accepted the fudge with surprised thanks. And, two days later, Larry had knocked on Sheila's door and thrust a plate at her.

"For you, Miss Merrick. My wife made some blueberry muffins." He had smiled. "Hope they don't kill you or anything—"

And that was that. She had been repaid for the fudge. The muffins, on the dry side, were like sawdust in Sheila's mouth as she heard the slam of the kitchen door.

Remembering, she reached for her hat. She wouldn't stay there any longer; she would take a look round the neighborhood right now. There must be a boardinghouse, a girls' club, a branch of the Y, maybe . . .

But the living-room door flew open as she was leaving, and Mimi looked out.

"Oh, Miss Merrick—I was listening for you, Larry and I would like you to join us this evening for cards and stuff. We've got a man coming—"

"My boss," Larry said, appearing. He yawned. "He's nuts about photography—he'll probably lug his screen and projector with him—"

"I see," Sheila said. "I'm afraid . . ."

"No you don't see," Mimi contradicted. "He's not a bad guy. Not old or bald or anything. Only a few years older than Larry, actually. But we—well, he's a good fellow, we just thought maybe you'd help us with him."

A tinge of resentment went through Sheila. They didn't really want her company. She was just someone to help them entertain a dull young man! One who brought his hobby with him. She'd have to sit through pictures of fuzzy trees and dull old houses and supposedly picturesque corners.

But if she didn't accept, she thought suddenly, the poor young

U.K. Cabinet To Discuss Korean Aid

London, July 17 — (Reuters)—The Cabinet was to meet today to consider two major questions stemming from the Korean war—the state of Britain's defences and whether she can afford to send ground forces to aid the Americans.

The appeal for troops, sent to 52 countries by Trygve Lie, United Nations secretary-general, was high on the agenda for the meeting, to be attended by Prime Minister Menzies of Australia.

British warships are already serving with the United States Seventh fleet in Korean waters.

Faithful Jawaharlal Nehru's approach to Marshall Stalin also were to be considered by the Cabinet.

Many British newspapers today urged the government to insure that the country's defences are adequate.

"The Labor party must back the government in its task of insuring that our military resources are swiftly increased in strength and efficiency," said an editorial in the Daily Herald, official voice of the Labor party.

The Liberal News Chronicle said "if there is anything more we can possibly do in Korea to reinforce the Americans it should be done."

The Conservative Daily Telegraph lamented that there "still survives among the socialist rank and file a section of Bourbons who are apparently impervious to experience."

They had learned nothing from either Hitler or the Kremlin's conduct during the last four years.

The Liberal Manchester Guardian, on the other hand, said "we have never pretended that the handful of British and United States divisions immediately on call could act as an effective fire brigade in any area or combination of areas in which communism could strike."

The anti-socialist Daily Express says that a defence debate in the House of Commons in imperative to discover what protection Britain has achieved by its expenditures on defence.

Maurice Breton Is Candidate In Joliette

Joliette, Que., July 17 — Maurice Breton, 42-year-old Joliette lawyer, Saturday was unanimously nominated Liberal candidate in the forthcoming Federal by-election in Joliette-Montcalm-L'Assomption.

Hundreds of delegates attended the convention. The by-election was made necessary by the resignation of George-Emile Lapalme who recently was chosen provincial Liberal party leader.

Breton's sole opponent at nominations was J. Edouard Roy, an industrialist, who withdrew because of pressure of business.

Mr. Lapalme made a few remarks following nominations. "There are many reasons to hope for a big victory for our party in the next provincial elections which I will take place in the not too distant future," he said.

"Contrary to what many believe, no precise rule can make it effective, nor were any two military censors ever in agreement on detail."

"If its purpose is to be served censorship must be of the spirit and applied only by those who themselves print the news," he said.

"It's objective is not to mislead or misrepresent truth, as that is repugnant to basic concepts of free society, but rather to avoid printing information of direct military value to the enemy or such as may contribute psychologically to his cause by raising the morale of his forces while depressing that of ours."

"The formula is a simple one and one which all men of normal understanding may easily comprehend and apply."

"The contention of some that the military must take the responsibility of laying down fixed rules governing limitation upon news and pass upon each item before it is printed is as unrealistic as it is defective."

"In Korean operations it has been my purpose to leave this responsibility where it rightfully belongs—in the hands of the correspondents, editors and publishers concerned."

NEW TELEPHONE RATES

The Board of Transport Commissioners has ordered our first general rate increase in 23 years EFFECTIVE JULY 22, 1950

In accordance with an interim order of The Board of Transport Commissioners, telephone rates will be increased on July 22nd. These rates will apply until the Board makes a final decision on the application for higher rates that we made last October.

No one, of course, wants to pay higher prices for anything. Though our costs have been going up faster than our revenues for some time, we delayed applying for increases until it was clearly evident we could not continue to operate satisfactorily without higher rates.

Most things you buy and the things we buy too, have gone up in price in recent years, and nearly all of them more than the revenue increase we asked for. The temporary rates now ordered by the Board give us only part of the revenue we require. If we are to continue towards our goal of providing service to all who want it, when and where they want it, we must receive the balance of the increase for which we applied.

Although the cost of telephone service has finally gone up, when you think about it, the value of telephone service has gone up even more. In terms of convenience, security and friendly contacts, a telephone is worth far more than it costs!

HOW TO FIND YOUR NEW RATE

Look up your exchange area in TABLE "A". Its rate group appears beside it. Below, under the corresponding rate group column in TABLE "B", you will find the rates for the most widely used classes of service. If you need any information about other rates, please call our business office.

TABLE "A" — ALPHABETICAL LIST OF EXCHANGES

Large table with columns for EXCHANGE, RATE GROUP, and EXCHANGE, RATE GROUP. Lists various exchange areas and their corresponding rate groups.

TABLE "B" — MONTHLY EXCHANGE RATES BY RATE GROUPS

Table with columns for CLASS OF SERVICE and RATE GROUPS (1-10). Shows monthly exchange rates for Residence Service and Business Service.

LONG DISTANCE RATES New rates apply on Long Distance calls between many points in Quebec and Ontario. Increases vary from 5 cents to 25 cents, depending on distance and class of call. Long Distance rates on calls outside Ontario and Quebec are unchanged. Details are available at our Business Offices.

OTHER RATES AND CHARGES Information about other new rates and charges may also be obtained from our Business Offices.

MESSAGE RATE — The monthly rate provided for the number of outgoing local calls shown opposite "Message Allowance", and unlimited incoming calls. The rate for each outgoing local call in excess of the Message Allowance is 5c.

NOTE — The rates quoted for individual (including Message Rate), 2-Party and Rural Service are for wall telephones. Desk telephones are 20c more and hand telephones 35c more than shown. The Extension rates quoted are for any type of instrument.

You'll find the cost of telephone service has not gone up as much as most other things you buy. Its cost is still low — one of the smallest items in your budget. Today as always your telephone is big value.

WELL-BALANCED DIET IS THE KEY TO REMAINING IN GOOD HEALTH

By Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.
There is much talk of a well-balanced or normal diet, but comparatively few people know what this really means. A satisfactory diet for a normal person requires eating enough food to supply the needs of the body and enough water to matter to give bulk for satisfactory intestinal action.

The food must supply enough calories. A calorie is a unit of food value and refers to that portion of the food which supplies energy for muscular exertion. The caloric requirements vary with the weight, age, and amount of muscular work done. For example, a man weighing about 150 pounds doing a moderate amount of muscular work ought to have about 3,000 calories daily, of which 280 should be supplied by protein foods and the remainder from starches and fats. Larger persons in general require more calories. An active person engaged in strenuous labor might use up as much as 5,000 calories, whereas one doing sedentary work might need only 2,500 calories or less. Calorie requirements for women average about 20 per cent less than for men. The total caloric requirements of children are still less though they are more for their weight than adults. Thus, a boy

CARSET BITS of news . . .

FOOTAGE BY THE MILE-WITH CARSET JACKBITS

At the LaCave hydro electric project on the Ottawa River nine FM-2 Wagon Drills with Carset Jackbits drilled nearly nine miles of hole (46,000 feet) for the blasting of a tailrace plug 10 to 15 feet high, 40 feet wide and 420 feet long. Following tests with various types of steel bits and Carset Jackbits set with Carboloy inserts, 125 standard 2" four-point Carset Jackbits were ordered. After the 46,000 feet of hole had been drilled, 11 of the Carset Jackbits had not been used at all and 14 were still serviceable. The average footage obtained from each Carset Jackbit was therefore well over 400 feet. In the same rock, steel bits drilled only from two to four feet. Carset Jackbits saved many hours in steel changing and allowed full advantage to be taken of the nine-foot feed on the Wagon Drill Mountings.

Carset Jackbits, set with Carboloy inserts, are a development of Canadian Ingersoll-Rand, a leader in the manufacture of rock drilling equipment for over 60 years. For further information on Carset Jackbits ask for a copy of our pocket catalogue 4091.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McCourt, were guests of honor, last Thursday evening at their home, on King Street West, when a delightful surprise party, in honor of their tenth wedding anniversary, had been arranged by thirty of their relatives and friends. After the guests had arrived, Mrs. McCourt was presented with a corsage of mock orange and "Better Times" roses, by her daughters, Priscilla and Louise, who also gave their father a boutonniere. Refreshments were then served in the dining-room, where the lace-covered table was centered with a three-tier wedding cake, topped with red roses. Silver baskets of red roses and white candles in matching holders completed the tasteful arrangement.

61 Girl Guides And American Girl Scouts Had Grand Time Camping At MacPherson Bay, Lake Memphremagog

Georgeville, July 17.—A camp of sixty-one Girl Guides and American Girl Scouts was on July 5, over a week under canvas. The camp was near MacPherson Bay, on Lake Memphremagog, and was sponsored by the Provincial Camp Committee. It was for Patrol Leaders from divisions in the Province of Quebec. Patrol Leaders came from Asbestos, Longueuil, St. Lambert, Three Rivers, Granby, Richmond, Noranda, Valleyfield, Shawinigan Falls, Rouyn, Grand Mere, Arvida, Ile Maligne and Lachute.

The camp was under the direction of Miss Muriel Davies, provincial camp adviser, with Mrs. H. Cass, of Beebe, as nurse. Other guides on the staff were Miss Eileen Stansfield, of Montreal, provincial international commissioner; Mrs. A. Lewis, of Three Rivers; Mrs. L. Kendry, of Granby; and Miss Joan Martin, of Montreal, Junior Guide. Five Cadets from Montreal helped to set up camp and to close it.

Seventeen American Girl Scouts from Concord and Laconia, N. H., with three leaders spent five days in camp. This American group drove up in cars with their baggage on a trailer.

Dominion Day was celebrated by the whole camp going to Newport, Vt., on the "S.S. Anthemis." This was a very successful expedition as very few of the guides had ever seen Lake Memphremagog before.

In spite of numerous showers of rain all cooking was done by the Patrol Leaders on trench fires under fire shelters.

The Patrol Leaders lived in units of ten, doing the cooking for their own unit, washing up and other camp chores. Emphasis was put on campcraft with swimming, nature, gadget construction and campfires as other activities, but a most important and pleasant feature of this camp was that each Patrol Leader learned from mixing with girls from so many and far separated parts of our province.

The American group gave an international flavour to the camp. Added to this was the fact that the 6th Sherbrooke Company of French speaking girl guides was camping in a nearby field and allowed the Roman Catholic Patrol Leaders to attend mass on Sunday morning in their camp.

After breaking up the camp a group of seven Canadian Patrol Leaders with Miss Stansfield in charge left for Concord, N. H. to make a return visit to the American Girl Scouts.

The help and co-operation given by Local Associations and parents and friends of the guides have been greatly appreciated by the Provincial Camp Committee. Equipment was loaned, the guides were driven to and from camp, they were helped with financing and they were entertained as they passed through Montreal. The committee is well aware that with-

Shower Held For Bride-To-Be

Richmond, July 17.—Miss Helen Hills, of Richmond, a popular bride of the month, was guest of honor at a shower on July 4, at the home of Mrs. Murray Barlow, in Danville.

Several friends had gathered in the living room, which was decorated with pink and white streamers, bells and pink roses. Miss Hills, who had called for a few minutes while other friends were visiting in the vicinity, was surprised to be greeted by the playing of the bridal chorus by Mrs. Andrew Horan.

After being presented with a corsage of pink roses, Miss Hills was handed a cluster of streamers and asked to wind up each one. Several short streamers leading from the main one, led to small useful gifts hidden in various parts of the house. The guests of honor's sense of humor added much to the enjoyment of the proceedings. Finally, when the last gift had been unwrapped, it was found to be a "Presto" pressure cooker.

Miss Hills, in her usual charming manner, thanked her friends for the gift and invited them to her parents' home to see her other gifts, and also to visit her in her new home in Waterloo.

The remainder of the evening was spent playing games. Later, refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. A. Horan, Mrs. W. M. Gilchrist and Miss I. Kyes. Miss Hills cut the wedding cake, which had been decorated by Mrs. A. Horan, while her mother, Mrs. Hills, poured tea.

IN 50 YEARS ALUMINUM HAS GROWN TO BE A LARGE PART OF CANADIAN LIVING

Toronto - First Aluminum-ware factory in Canada

Building the home for Wear-Ever

1950 is the fiftieth anniversary of the Wear-Ever line in Canada. These aluminum cooking utensils were introduced here at the beginning of the century. Their popularity grew so rapidly that, by 1912, a new factory was needed to supply the demand. This was built in Toronto. It was the first plant in Canada to make aluminum articles—and this was only a dozen years after the first Canadian smelter had started making aluminum ingots at Shawinigan Falls.

Today Alcan has twelve plants, all of them engaged in the aluminum industry, while more than 1000 independent companies across Canada shape the metal into all sorts of useful forms—from kettles to freight cars.

WHAT A Home Run!... SOMETHING TO TALK ABOUT! A fellow who can swat home runs is a good man to have around a ball club. That's why Sherbrooke of the Provincial League is glad to have Silvio Garcia in the line-up.

Sunday Box Scores In Majors Show Lively Ball Hopping Merrily Along As 68 Pitchers Mauled In Fixtures

Here is the dope about that lively ball from the Sunday box scores. The appalling one-day total—37 home runs, 377 base hits, 188 runs, and 68 beat-up pitchers in 16 games.

In Pittsburgh a little guy named Ted Beard who hit .277 for Indianapolis last year, hit one over the right-field stands. No one did that since Babe Ruth in 1935. And this Beard is no Ruth.

Walt Dropp of Boston Red Sox lashed three homers and two doubles in a doubleheader. Duke Snider of Brooklyn went five for five against St. Louis Cardinals—one a homer.

New York Giants and Cincinnati Reds slashed away at one another for a total of 58 hits including 12 homers. There were seven homers in the first game, five in the second.

A total of 33 hits splattered off the walls of Fenway Park where Cleveland and Boston Red Sox divided a doubleheader. In Washington, Bucky Harry sent six pitchers single file after the Browns.

By some peculiar combination of events there was one shutout. But Walt Dubiel of the Cubs kept in tune with the times by making it a perilous nine-hitter.

Dubiel's shutout was a bitter blow at Philadelphia Phillies who dropped two to the Cubs and fell into second place.

Dubiel did his stuff in the 8-0 first game when the Cubs chased Russ Meyer with six runs in the seventh inning. In the second game, the Cubs ended rookie Bob Miller's eight-game win streak with a 10-3 wallop.

Brooklyn pounded four Cardinal pitchers for 19 hits, winning 10-2 as rookie Chris Van Cuyk coasted home in his major league debut. Despite the loss, the Cards held first place by a half-game.

Ted Wilks, making his first appearance of the season after an arm operation, was hit solidly in the ninth. But Red Munger was the loser.

Boston missed a chance to close in on the leaders by losing the second game to Pittsburgh 6-5 after taking the opener 9-5 from Victor Beckford's 10th win. A flurry of four homers brought reliever Hank Borowy his first victory of the season in the second game.

Hank Thompson's error on Bobby Usher's grounder with the bases loaded in the 12th gave Cincinnati an 11-0 win over the Giants and a clean sweep of the home-run battles. The Reds took the opener, 16-4, with Ted Kluszewski hitting two homers and Johnny Pramesa, Grady Hatton and Lloyd Merriman one each.

Everybody split in the American League, leaving Detroit with its four-game lead over New York Yankees.

Homers by George Kell, Hoot Evers and Jerry Priddy enabled the Tigers to take a second game from Philadelphia 7-6 after the A's whipped Art Houtteman 5-2 in the first.

Just when the Yanks were ready to move in on the Tigers, Bob Cain stopped them. Cain beat the Yanks for the third time 5-2 in the second game. Gene Woodling's two-run double won the first 2-1 for Vic Raschi over Billy Pierce.

Dropp hit two homers in Boston's 13-10 opening victory over Cleveland and added another, No. 22, in the second game which the Sox lost 8-4. The day's slugging sent Dropp into a tie with teammate Vern Stephens for the league RBI lead. Each has 90.

Sid Hudson limited St. Louis to seven hits for a 5-1 Washington victory in the first game but six Senators couldn't stop the Browns who earned an even break with a 10-8 verdict.

Magog Horse Show Is Huge Success; H. J. O'Connell's Entries Pace Large List Of Contestants In Field Day

By FLORENCE McAULEY
Record Staff Reporter.

Magog, July 17.—Magog's first horse show was enthusiastically accepted yesterday afternoon, as some 2,000 spectators lined the showing at the grounds of Miss Francoise Pouliot to witness the sharing of winnings by local and out-of-town mounts in a program of 17 classes judged by Dr. E. W. Watson, of Break of Dawn Stables, Toronto.

Yesterday's event was complete in every detail, combining interesting class with an outstanding list of entries and noted riders.

Top-notch hunters and jumpers from the famous stables of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. O'Connell, of Ste. Genevieve were on hand to claim their ribbon rewards as rider, Percy Knott placed Paleface in top position in Open Hunter and, after a jump-off, in Open Jumping, also claiming ribbon honors with Floating Power and a newcomer, Lac des Loups. The O'Connell harness horses, too, were seen highstepping their way to victory, as Mrs. Romeo Poirier drove Whitgate Princess to first in ladies' class and claimed second in over 14.2, and G. M. O'Connell placed Whitgate Smile in the over 14.2 class.

The thrilling action of well-trained hackneys was in evidence as C. S. Ives' pair fought for top honors with the entries of Mr. and Mrs. Claude de Angelis, of Dorval. The De Angelis entry, Manor Warwick Princling, outstepped Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Stoumel in the over 14.2 class, and it was the Dorval ponies who claimed the "red" over the local pair in a closely contested double class.

Always a delight to see, yesterday's children's classes were no exception. A group of fine-quality ponies, ridden and driven by competent young horsemen, was presented to the spectators. Young Michael Prew took first place in the 11 Hands and Over saddle class, riding M. L. Ryan's Queenie, while Claudette Desfosses placed her mount, Rosette, second. In under 11 Hands, Claude Gendreau took the red ribbon with Laragos Peter, as he did in the harness class. George Bishop was seen riding second place in the under 11 Hands entry. The youngsters, many in colorful costumes, showed a keenness of competition and an interest in good horsemanship and sportsmanship.

An added feature in yesterday's program was the display of riding by Nola and Leonard Ryan, with color saddles or bridles in true Indian fashion took complete authentic Indian costumes, who guided their mounts by means of a rope.

Many ribbons from yesterday's event were claimed by the J. A. Desfosses, Montreal and Rock Forest, mounts. Dennis Moore, a neat little jumper, was put over the green course by Denis Doucet in claim first place in Canasta from the same stable to second place. These also placed among the winners in the Knock Down, with Canasta as red-ribbon winner.

Western classes are becoming an important part of the local horse show, and yesterday's parade and stock classes were well received. Top entry was Ebony Miss, owned and ridden by E. Davies of Montreal, who was winner of the "red" in both events. Stage Boy, a Fair-play Riding Stable entry, was ridden to second by Aime Choquette in the stock class, a working class, which demanded the use of lassos and performance of eight, or change of lead. Western-type costumes in the parade class gave color and created atmosphere.

The Bonnie Brooks Farm, St. Laurent, entry owned by Mrs. Solomon was successful as top winner in the saddle event, Barrymore's Dainty Maid claimed the red ribbon in under 15.2 as well as in Combination. Dr. L. A. Gendreau's outstanding stallion, My King of All, closely contested top place in both events, and in carriage class, too, was edged into second position.

Making her showing debut this year, R. L. Bishop's three-year-old, My Queen of All, took the excitement of the ring calmly in her stride and, ridden by Mrs. G. Bonnette, placed in the ribbons in the 15.2 class. Already a big winner at the Ormstown show earlier in the season, Mr. Bishop's mount looks to have a promising future in the showing.

Hillcrest Lodge entry, Jill, claimed first in Hack, ridden by Julien Turcotte, a Montreal entry. Dickfield Express, owned and driven by R. O. Guy was judged first in the Carriage class and in High Steppers over 14.2. Rex, another Montreal entry, owned by O. Gauthier Ltd. and ridden by Andy Laselle was top winner in saddle over 15.2.

Outdown entries claiming ribbons were Peter Plouffe's Bobby, of Montreal; Bill Hatley, entry of Mrs. F. B. Johnson, North Hatley; Sportsman, owned by J. A. Gingras, Warwick; Golden Topper, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McLary of East Hatley; other exhibitors were Leo Dore, Montreal; C. A. Maguire, Hill; Raymond Lelarge, Montreal, as well as many other local and well-known horsemen.

A horsehoe of pink carnations and a basket of flowers were presented to Miss Pouliot in appreciation of her interest in and untiring efforts to further good horsemanship locally.

Ringmaster of yesterday's show was Scotty Sellers of Montreal. R. Beaudry was in charge of the hitching ring, while Henry DeJormie of Sherbrooke acted as announcer.

Locals Down Saints 8-1; Blank Sox 4-0 After Dropping 4-2 Tilt; Farnham Here Tomorrow Evening

Sherbrooke Athletics copped two of their week-end fixtures to remain 1 1/2 games behind the pace-setting Drummondville Cubs in the Provincial League. On Saturday evening Jacques Jeaneau limited St. Hyacinthe to six hits to chalk up an 8-1 victory and yesterday the A's split with Granby, losing the afternoon tilt 4-2 and winning the evening game 4-0.

Jeaneau hurled a close game in St. Hyacinthe but had things under control the whole time. He retired 12 men at the plate and issued only three bases on balls. He drove in two runs to help his own cause. Pascual also accounted for two tallies, when he drove out a two-bagger like his battery mate. Silvio Garcia banged out a triple when the locals staged a big eighth inning to tally six runs which proved too much for the Saints to ever take.

In the afternoon game at Granby by Felix Zulueta gave up seven hits for four runs while the best of the locals could do was to collect five for two tallies. The local hurler issued nine free tickets to first, and this proved his down fall, although he retired five men at the plate.

Silvio Garcia came through with a circuit blow to account for one run while Pascual drove in the other. Sherbrooke scored both their tallies in the final inning, while Granby started off with two in the opening frame and added singletons in the fifth and seventh to ensure themselves of the victory.

In the evening fixture Lou Shapiro, although he was in serious trouble on three different occasions, managed to hold Bob Latschaw's squad away from the plate and chalked up a 4-0 blanking over the Red Sox.

Shapiro was tough in the clutches, and this proved a big item in him earning his victory. He retired 11 men at the plate and failed to give any free passes while his opponent, Dickson, issued three passes and accounted for only six at the plate.

The Granby team just couldn't phantom Shapiro's offerings as on three different occasions they were in a scoring position, but just couldn't show a run across the plate. In the third they collected three consecutive hits, with one away, but failed to tally. In the eighth and ninth they picked up two more hits in each inning but again failed to tally.

The A's bunched all their tallies in the second and third innings. Pascual had connected for bingles. In the third after Martin and Garcia were retired, and Garcia had banged out a fielder's choice, Nance came through with a double and Garcia crossed the plate. Big Frank Jelincick then lifted one of Shapiro's offerings over the fence by the score board, with plenty to spare, to register two more runs and give Shapiro a good margin to work on.

In the fourth Dussault collected an error but was left stranded as his mates failed to push him home. It was the last safety for the A's as they went down in succession for the following frames.

Tomorrow evening the locals will be hosts to Farnham at the Park Avenue Stadium at 8:30.

Australian Davis Cuppers Take On Mexico Next After Drubbing Canada Without Losing A Set

Montreal, July 17.—Australia's classy tennis team left here today for Mexico City after blanking Canada 5-0 in the North American Zone Davis Cup tie.

The Australians breezed by the Canadians without losing a set in four singles and one doubles match. The Australia-Mexico winner will meet the European Zone champion for the right to face the Cup holder, the United States, Sunday, the Aussies swept through two meaningless singles matches following flawless performance Friday and Saturday. On Friday they took the opening singles tilts and on Saturday they wrapped up the cup tie with a doubles triumph.

In the opening games, Australia's No. 1 player, Frank Sedgman, 22, faltered. Montreal's Brendan Macken in straight sets, while his lanky team-mate, Ken McGregor, 22, duplicated his feat in disposing of Lorne Main, 20, of Vancouver.

There was no let up in the doubles as veteran Jack Bromwich and Sedgman whisked through Montrealers George Robinson and Henri Rochon 6-2, 6-4, 6-5.

An estimated 3,000 Sunday saw the best display of the three-day affair when McGregor out-distanced Macken 6-4, 6-4, 6-4, in a bitterly-fought singles match. The tousled-haired Australian slapped seven serve aces and 36 placements past the Canadian.

Main was no match for the fleet-footed Segman, who coasted to a 6-2, 6-1, 6-3, triumph.

The Australians made few mistakes and recovered easily with brilliant placements and bullet services.

Killer Cy Block Ruins Another No-Hitter Tilt

"The spoiler."
That's what International League pitchers are calling Cy Block, veteran infielder of Buffalo Bisons. Block ruined a no-hit no-run bid by Syracuse's Jim Prendergast April 23, when he pinch-singled with two out in the seventh and final inning after an error permitted him to bat.

Yesterday Block spoiled a no-hit bid by Rochester's George Copeland with another two-out pinch-hit single in the seventh and final inning of the second game of a twin bill which the Red Wings won 5-1. Block batted for losing pitcher Jake Wade.

The pace-setting Wings also won

4 Teams Battle It Out To Meet U.S. In Finals

Two Scandinavian teams and tennis forces from Australia and Mexico will meet later this month in the European and North American zone finals of Davis Cup play.

Australia, favored to reach the challenge round against the United States Aug 25-27 at Forest Hills, N. Y., completed its rout of Canada yesterday at Montreal. In Copenhagen, Denmark swept the final two singles matches for a surprising 4-1 conquest of Italy's Davis Cup squad. Italy was the 1949 European champion.

Australia meets Mexico at Mexico City, while Denmark plays Sweden for the European Zone championship. The two zone champions will meet at the Westchester Country Club in Rye, N. Y., with the winner going against the United States.

Sweden gained the European finals by defeating Poland Saturday, while Mexico won from Cuba last week.

Australia clinched the series with Canada Saturday by taking the doubles. Yesterday the Aussies made it a clean sweep of five straight matches when Frank Sedgman defeated Lorne Main of Vancouver and Ken McGregor defeated Brendon Macken of Montreal in singles.

Kurt Nielsen and Torben Ulrich took the final singles matches for Denmark from Rolando De Bello and Giovanni Cucelli of Italy.
