World News In Brief

Vienna— (Reuters) —Two suicides reported in Austria today brought to 36 the number of people who have killed themselves in 16 days with the German-made "painless death" insecticide "E-605." In West Germany, where 33 deaths have been reported, many chemists have voluntarily banned the sale of E-605. A death-dealing dose costs about seven cents. The government is expected soon to forbid its sale with a prescription.

Toronto —(CP)—An off-duty police inspector on his way to a movie Tuesday night spotted and arrested Naiffe M. Stephen, 43, wanted by police on a conspiracy charge.

Inspector Arthur Harris took Stephen into custody.

Stephen was the second man arrested in connection with an alleged conspiracy said to have cost a week-end branch of the Dominion Bank $32,000 over the last three years.

The first arrest was that of David S. Bloxham, 46, former manager of the branch, who was remanded Tuesday to March 16 on $5,000 bail.

Revolutionary Armaments Give British Cruisers Superiority To Most Modern Russian Craft

Admiralty Secretary Declares New Six-Inch Gun Capable Of Unbelievable Rate of Fire.

London — (Reuters) — Britain is arming her cruisers with a new six-inch gun whose revolutionary rate of fire makes them the match of Russia's most modern cruisers, the House of Commons was told early today.

The disclosure came from Cmdr. A. H. P. Noble, Parliamentary Secretary to the Admiralty, towards the end of an all-night sitting largely taken up with consideration of navy costs for the coming year.

During the debate, James Callahan, a former Labor government financial secretary to the admiralty, complained that Britain had about 24 "middle-aged or elderly" cruisers between 9,000 tons and 10,000 tons armed with 5.25 and six-inch guns.

He compared these to the "magnificent" Russian cruisers of the Sverdlov class, saying he understood the Russians were building eight such ships of perhaps 15,000 to 20,000 tons.

Noble said Britain is continuing to modernize her six-inch cruisers and when this is done they will be first-class ships able to take on Sverdlov cruisers on "quite favorable terms."

There had been two developments in the gunnery world: "We now have a new, first-class six-inch gun which is really of a revolutionary rate of fire. Four of these guns will deliver five tons of metal per minute.

"Similar progress has been made with a new three-inch gun which will have a rate of fire normally associated with heavy machine-guns."

He said nine ships of the Sverdlov class are in existence and others are being built. Much of the Russian effort was also going onto the building of ocean-going submarines.

Opening the debate on the £353,000,000 estimates for 1954-55, J. P. L. Thomas, first lord of the admiralty, said greatly improved "homing" weapons for destroying submarines will shortly be in service with the navy, and a new sweptwing jet fighter able to carry atomic bombs will be built for the navy.

He could not say when the new jet will be in service, but he did say the navy will shortly get new anti-submarine weapons.

These include a guided missile launched from the air which "homes" on its target and an improved type of depth charge called the "limbo" aimed and automatically fired by an electronic brain after it has found a submarine.

Another weapon on the anti submarine front would be a locating device dropped into the sea at the end of a wire from a hovering helicopter. This "dipping sonar" promises a great improvement in finding the accurate position of a submerged submarine Thomas said.

The minister also reported steady progress in the development of a large guided missile for fleet and convoy protection. The first guided-weapons trial ship will be fitted out soon, he said.

Jilted Lad Detained For Killing Rival

Shawinigan Falls, Que. —(CP) — Gilles Bourassa, 18, was shot to death Tuesday night in the home of his 'teen-age sweetheart. The girl's mother was hit in the stomach by a .22-calibre bullet but was not seriously hurt.

Police said today they are holding without charge 18-year-old Gerard Abel, whom they described as Bourassa's rival for the love of dark-haired Colette Lefebvre, 17. They said Abel walked into the municipal police station 15 minutes after the shooting.

Municipal officers quoted Colette as saying she stopped seeing Abel "because I like Gilles better."

They said she told them Bourassa was shot just after he answered a knock on the door of her home at suburban Shawinigan Falls East. Her mother, Mrs. Benoit Lefevre, heard the shot, rushed to the door and pushed Colette into a bedroom. A bullet hit the older woman.

Colette related that she broke a window and called to neighbors for help, then saw the man who did the shooting run along the street.

Police said a statement made by Abel, along with a gun and ammunition, were turned over to Quebec provincial police.

An inquest was scheduled for today.

Shawinigan Falls is 27 miles northwest of Trois-Rivieres, Que.

Defer Evidence Of Five Marines

Washington —(AP)—The United States Air Force indicated today that it will not let five of its airmen testify at a marine corps inquiry until after an air force board decides what to do about their false germ-warfare "confessions" in Korea.

It appears that the five airmen —who, like Schwable, signed their confessions while in Red captivity —may not be able to testify before the marine court which will recommend whether Schwable should stand court-martial.

Some witnesses at the Schwable hearing have testified that U.S. Air Force men were instructed that, if captured, they could give more information to the Reds than the name, rank and serial number required under the Geneva convention.

Schwable, a much-decorated flier and the highest ranking marine captured in Korea, is to take the witness stand himself Thursday.

A specialist in the study of Communist brain-washing testified Tuesday that 'menticide'—murder of the mind—could reduce anybody to "a mechanical imitator of his tormentors."

Dr. Hoost A. M. Meerlo, a Dutch-born psychiatrist, said subtle physical torture —no rest, little food, filthy living conditions and constant questioning —could have wrung from Schwable the "confession" he later recanted.

Gas Tax Jump Offsets Cut In Sales Tax

By The Canadian Press

New Brunswick has cut its retail sales tax and put its gasoline tax up two cents a gallon.

The changes were contained in the budget brought down Tuesday in the legislature at Fredericton.

The sales tax, known officially as the social service and education tax, will be three per cent instead of four, effective today. The gasoline tax will go to 12 cents a gallon from 10 April 12, making the price in Saint John 43.2 cents a gallon for regular grade and 45.2 for hightest.

The Maritime Automobile Association, representing 10,000 New Brunswick motorists, said it will protest the increase.

Donald D. Patterson, Provincial Secretary Treasurer, said in bringing down the $51,000,000 budget, he estimates a surplus of $59,710.

The Nova Scotia budget also was brought down Tuesday. Provincial Treasurer R. M. Fielding estimated revenue at $50,718,191, highest in the province's history, with no new taxes. He budgeted for a surplus of $347,224.

Welfare Minister B. E. MacDonald indicated in the Prince Edward Island legislature that legislation will be amended to permit cities, towns and villages to introduce daylight time. For the l ' several years standard time has been compulsory throughout the year.

In the Ontario Legislature, traffic act amendments requiring motorists to signal right turns and stops were introduced.

The Manitoba legislature defeated by 32 to 22 an amended resolution calling on the province to provide free medical, dental and optical care for needy old-age pensioners. Also defeated was the original resolution asknig the government to consider supplemening incomes of old-age pensioners whose total revenues did not exceed $40 a month.

Sale of unapproved fire extenguishers would be prohibited in Saskatchewan under a new fire prevention bill given second reading, approval in principle. Labor Minister C. C. Williams said selling such fire prevention devices in the province has become "quite a racket."

The Alberta house gave first reading to legislation to allow Albertans who come under the provinical-municipal hospital care plan to receive benefits when treated in an emergency or as a referred patient in hospital outside the province.

All-Night Session On Pay Demand

London— (AP) —Weary members wound up another all-night session of Parliament at sunrise today with the shrill clamor of the biggest women's "equal pay' demonstration still echoing in their ears.

Carrying banners demanding "Equal Pay for Equal Work," more than 6,000 chanting, cheering women advanced Tuesday night on Parliament where they waited to buttonhole MPs and applaud speakers at four separate mass meetings outside.

They unloaded two bulky petitions containing the signatures of 680,000 supporters, read out a declaration of demand at the statue of suffragette hero Emmeline Pankhurst, and even poked their faces in a House of Lords window to shout and chant.

The modern-day feminists didn't go as far as their mothers and grandmothers who chained themselves to railings around Parliament to enforce demands for women's vote, but most harassed members thought the women got their point across well enough.

In the House itself, the women's supporters peppered the Chancellor of the Exchequer Richard A. Butler with 25 questions on equal pay. The Speaker had to clamp a lid on more questions.

Finally, Labor member Douglas Houghton ,a 56-year-old married man, introduced a bill "to set women free"—establishing by law the principle of equal pay for equal work.

Butler parried most of the questions put to him, but repeated a government promise to start giving equal pay to women in the civil service as soon as Britain can afford it.

Only one male member spoke out boldly against the women. Brig. Ralph Rayner, 57-year-old married Conservative, said: "We have it on the highest authority that women were put into this world to make it a much more beautiful place and to perform various other gracious duties, but not to compete physically and economically with men."

Parliament Rejects Bill To Nationalize Banking

Ottawa — (CP) — Parliament does not want public ownership of Canada's 11 chartered banks.

A CCF proposal to bring the banks under national ownership and control was defeated 11 to 21 in the Commons Tuesday night.

All members except those in the 23-member CCF group opposed the suggestion placed before the House by CCF Leader Coldwell during debate on a government bill to revise the Bank Act.

Two CCF members, Ross Thatcher (Moose Jaw-Lake Centre) and Angus MacInnis (Vancouver-Kingsway), were not in the House for the vote.

Mr. Coldwell had proposed that the bill for decennial revision of the Bank Act be set aside to consider public ownership of chartered banks. After his motion was defeated, the legislation received second reading — approval in principle — and was referred to the Commons banking committee for detailed study.

Mr. Coldwell's motion was opposed by spokesmen for the Progressive Conservative and Social Credit parties, but was not discussed by any Liberals.

However, Finance Minister Abbott, in placing the legislation before the House, said public ownership of banks is "not illogical" for those who believe in the CCF philosophy, but he felt the House did not want to engage in a debate on socialism.

Donald Fleming (PC — Toronto Eglinton) described the CCF proposal as the "siren song of socialism." It was the surest way "to destroy confidence abroad in the Canadian economy."

Rev. E. G. Hansell (SC—Macleod) said there is not enough cash in Canada to enable any government to buy up the chartered banks. He asked CCF members to explain in detail how the purchase would be made, but the request went unanswered.

Alistair Stewart (CCF—Winnipeg North) said the banks have become "fat, slothful and lazy" because the government has protected them against all risk of loss on loans.

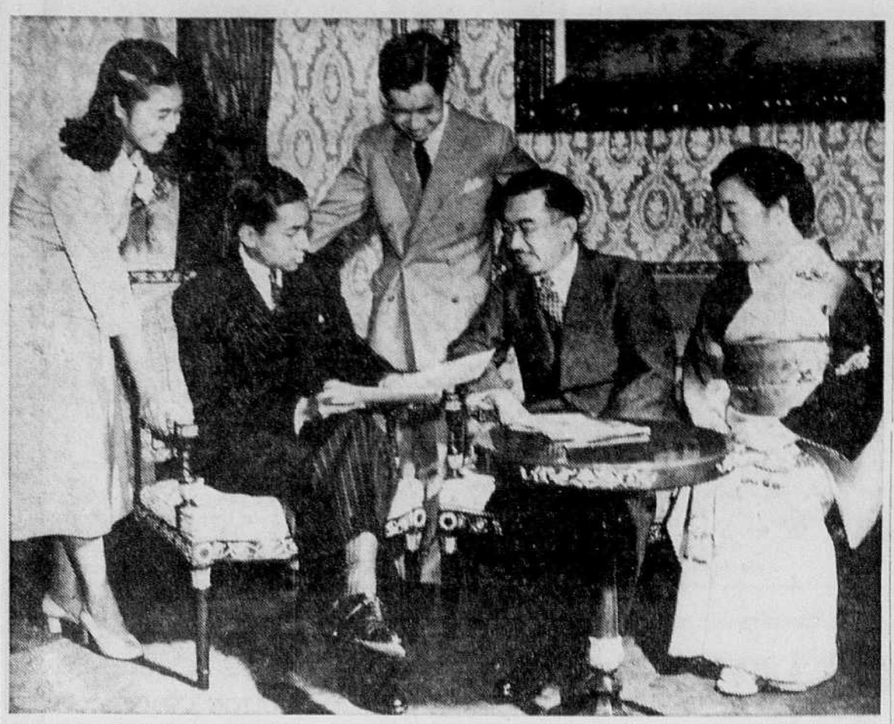

The debate on the government bill to revise the Bank Act continued through two days. However, most of the time was spent discussing the CCF nationalization motion.

The bill would extend the life of the chartered banks for another 10 years and incorporate a number of changes in banking laws.

Two major amendments would permit the banks to lend on insured mortgages and extend Bank of Canada controls over bank credit.

Mr. Fleming said the CCF motion shows the party again is urging socialist control of the entire economy as set out in the 1930 Regina manifesto. Since the party's losses in the 1949 election there had been suggestions the CCF had turned its back on the Regina manifesto, but the nationalization stand showed "the leopard has not changed its spots."

Hazen Argue (CCF—Assiniboia) said high interest rates by some loan companies show that banks are "falling down on the job" of providing loans. No one would pay 24 per cent interest if he could borrow at six per cent from the banks.

Royal Welcome Is Accorded Canadian Prime Minister On Arrival In Japan

Tokyo. — (CP) — The prime ministers of Canada and Japan shook hands today as the former enemy power rolled out the red carpet for the visiting Canadian leader, here on the last official stop of its round-the-world goodwill tour.

Prime Minister St. Laurent clasped hands warmly with Japan's Shigeru Yoshida and other dignitaries as he arrived this afternoon for a three-day state visit.

The Nipponese welcome was impressive, and the red carpet was literal—a 50-foot plush affair rolled up to the RCAF C-5 transport after it taxied to a stop at Haneda airport.

The Canadian leader was the first state guest to be met by a Japanese prime minister since the war. Last fall Vice-President Richard Nixon of the United States, the other post-war state guests, was met at the airport by the deputy premier.

Emperor Hirohito sent his chief court chamberlain, Yusumasa Matsudaira, to welcome the Canadian party, and Foreign Minister Katsuo Okazaki and other cabinet ministers were also on hand.

The prime minister looked fit as he stepped from the plane which had flown him from Seoul after talks Tuesday night with President Syngman Rhee. Hat in hand, he stepped out into the freezing cold, waved to the waiting crowd and stepped briskly down to greet Canadian Ambassador Robert Mayhew.

The Tokyo metropolitan police band played "O Canada" and the Japanese national anthem, then the two prime ministers were introduced and the round of handshakes began. The Canadian leader personally greeted about 50 members of the Tokyo diplomatic corps and Japanese officials.

Showing no signs of feeling the cold himself, he then spoke to Canadian residents who had come to the airport to greet him.

He also had a word with Canadian-born Japanese, and in a short talk he said he brought "warm greetings to the people of Japan from their friends in Canada, and assurance that we shall retain your friendship and hope you will continue to consider us your friends."

Then, escorted by motorcycle police, the Canadian party drove to the Canadian embassy where the prime minister took a brief rest before meeting Yoshida again at his residence later in the day.

A Japanese foreign ministry spokesman said the two prime ministers probably would discuss the present unbalanced state of Canadian-Japanese trade.

Last year Japan received $104,000,000 worth of Canadian goods but exported to Canada only $15,000,000.

Attitude Of St. Laurent Under Fire

Seoul — (CP) — A South Korean newspaper today said Prime Minister St. Laurent is one of a group "becoming tools and dupes" of the Communists.

The English-language daily Korean Republic assailed the Canadian leader for saying here Monday that he believes the Allies should be realistic about recognizing Communist China.

"In the prime minister's definition, it would be realistic' to accept disease and murder and brigandry just because we have them with us," the paper said.

It added that "the St. Laurents of this world actually are embracing the faceless creed of communism by unwittingly advocating a policy of appeasement."

The semi-official paper said "the prime minister makes the same Red-inspired and terribly perilous error in indicating that the Chinese accept their Communist masters."

The prime minister, who concluded a Korean visit today, had been quoted as saying he felt the eventual recognition of the Red Chinese regime must be accepted since it was the government the people wanted.

Bremerhaven —(Reuters)— The 9,000-ton Canadian ship Beaverbrae ran aground in the Weser estuary Tuesday night but freed herself with her own power after two hours, shipping authorities reported. The Canadian Pacific steamship, carrying emigrants from west Germany, continued her journey to Canada.

Agen, France—(Reuters)— Gas inspector Louis Prior used his cigaret lighter to look for a leak in the cellar of a tailor's shop here. Today he is recovering from severe burns. The tailor's shop needs new window panes.

Urge Aid To Students Of Engineering

Montreal — (CP) — The Engineering Institute of Canada today asked for annual government grants to universities to ensure a continuing supply of qualified engineers to keep pace with Quebec's industrial growth.

"The phenomenal industrial development of this province during the last decade or so has required the services of more and more engineers," the Institute said in a brief to the Royal Commission on Constitutional Problems.

"If the province is to continue to progress in this direction, it must be assured of continuing supply of adequately trained engineers. To maintain this supply of engineers it should be possible for any young person of promise and with the requisite academic qualifications to proceed to one of the province's engineering schools, even though having limited financial resources."

The institute also called for higher salaries for engineering teachers. Unless the salaries are comparable to those paid in industry, capable teachers will drift away.

Universities can no longer hope to build up endowment funds from private gifts, largely because of heavy taxation, the brief said. Although industry is giving more financial assistance the major part of the extra funds must come from government.

"The needs of the universities are likely to increase steadily and their own ability to raise funds is not likely to improve," the institute said. "Therefore it is desirable that grants should be made on a regular annual basis in accordance with the needs."

Nonsense Says Eisenhower In Answering Stevenson

Washington — (AP) — President Eisenhower today labelled as nonsense Adlai E. Stevenson's assertion that the Republican party is divided against itself—"half McCarthy and half Eisenhower."

At a press conference, the President also said that Senator Ralph Flanders (Rep.--Vt.) performed a great public service in his Senate speech criticizing Senator McCarthy for diverting attention from important world problems.

Flanders had told the senate that McCarthy "by intention or through ignorance" was "doing his best to shatter" the Republican party.

Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee, contended in a speech at Miami Saturday night that Eisenhower must take personal responsibility for Republican tactics.

Vice-President Richard Nixon has been picked to make the party's official reply to Stevenson. He is to speak Saturday night over the television and radio networks that carried Stevenson's speech.

McCarthy said equal free time should be given to the Republican party, to Eisenhower and to himself. If the federal communications commission had a rule which didn't guarantee that right "that rule has got to be changed."

McCarthy was offered free time, if he desires it, to reply to a CBS television program on which commentator Edward R. Murrow said Tuesday night that the senator repeatedly has stepped over the line between "investigating and persecuting."

The half-hour film and record roundup of McCarthy's activities ended with Murrow attacking the senator's methods and saying: "This is no time for men who oppose Senator McCarthy's methods to keep silent — or for those who approve."

The senator could not be reached for comment.

On another front the Senate Republican policy committee prepared to unveil suggestions for making Senate committee investigations fairer to all.

The policy committee study was undertaken after Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens declared that McCarthy, sitting as a one-man sub-committee, had abused and humiliated an army general.

Flanders, first Republican senator to strike out publicly at McCarthy by name, said McCarthy's wide-ranging hunts for subversives are diverting Americans from serious problems to an extent "dangerous to our future as a nation."

McCarthy, in New York at the time, at first declined comment, but later said, "I haven't got time to answer republican heroes."

Report Tax Will Compel Transfer

Montreal—(CP)—The Gazette says today in a newspage story the International Civil Aviation Organization may move its headquarters from Montreal because of Quebec's new provincial income tax.

It says the ICAO council will probably recommend the move to the assembly meeting in May.

"Some three weeks ago," it says, "a delegation headed by the chief of the United Nations agency's legal bureau waited on Premier Duplessis to again ask exemption from sales taxes and other diplomatic privileges.

The request was again denied.

"At the same time it was intimated to the delegation there would be no exemption from the provincial income tax."

In Quebec, Premier Duplessis' secretary, Roger Ouellet, told The Canadian Press Mr. Duplessis hasn't seen any ICAO delegation "within at least a few months."

Fabulous Hollywood Marriage

By BOB THOMAS

Beverly Hills, Calif.—(AP)—Joan Benny and Seth Baker embarked on a Hawaiian honeymoon today while her father, Jack Benny, faced an estimated $25,000 bill for one of the most fabulous weddings in Hollywood history.

Benny, wearing white tie, tails and glasses, Tuesday night led his 19-year-old adopted daughter through the flower-festooned Crystal Room of the Beverly Hills Hotel. "I'd rather not look so good and wear glasses than fall on my face," the comedian explained.

Benny gave Joan in marriage to the 26-year-old New York stock broker and son of industrialist Harry Baker, before a crowd of stars of stage, radio, television and movies. Rabbi Edgar F. Magnin performed the double-ring ceremony and advised the couple to "forget about the tinsel of life and live for the good things."

A tightwad on his radio and TV programs, Benny spared no expense in the wedding. White lilacs were flown from Holland to add to the white and green motif that converted the Crystal Room into a spring garden. Designer Don Loper, who staged the affair, flew to France to arrange for an exclusive weave of brocaded white satin for the bride's gown. Thirty-five yards with lily-of-the-valley figurings were used.

Benny smiled weakly and made some attempts at humor, but he seemed obviously nervous with his role as the doting father. He even resisted the temptation to join the orchestra of 10 violinists in "Love in Bloom."

The wedding brought the biggest star tournout within memory. Two hundred attended, including George Burns and Gracie Allen, George Montgomery and Dinah Shore, Ann Sothern, Jane Wyman, Bob Hope, Eddie Cantor and the Benny troupe of Dennis Day, Don Wilson, Mel Blanc and Bob Crosby.

Only Rochester was absent, being in New York for the Milton Berle show.

The reception swelled the guest list to 600. Among the celebrants: Tyrone Power and Linda Christian, Esther Williams, Dean Martin, Ann Blyth, Ed Wynn, Joan Bennett and Ethel Merman. The guests were treated to French champagne, vintage 1945, and a buffet dinner which included boned capon, wild rice, beef stroganoff and caviar. The cake was a five-tiered affair weighing 200 pounds.

The wedding almost presented some social mishaps. Nancy Sinatra was there as well as her former husband, crooner Frank Sinatra, but the pair did not meet. Likewise former mates Robert Taylor and Barbara Stanwyck arrived, but not together. Among the wedding guests was crooner Vic Damone, once reported engaged to the bride.

Heavy Damage In Warehouse Blaze

Toronto— (CP) —Fire caused an estimated $100,000 damage early today when it raged out of control for two hours in a five-storey warehouse of the T. Eaton Company in west central Toronto.

No one was hurt in the three-alarm blaze, which spread quickly through stores of inflammable merchandise and gutted the building. An unidentified janitor was taken out of the building by firemen.

Toronto fire department began an investigation into the cause of the fire.

"The blaze had a good start by the time we got there," said district fire chief Eugene Torpey. "We sent in calls for additional rigs and more firemen, and soon had many firemena and 17 pieces of equipment fighting it.

"The fire spread quickly through piles of inflammable goods and sent out clouds of choking smoke, which hampered firemen."

"We estimate damage at $25,000 to the building and $75,000 to its contents."

Milling Crowds Cause Of Near Tragedy During Visit

Brisbane, Australia — (CP) — Mothers, aided by police, had to fight today to keep their children from being trampled as several thousand people rushed into this Queensland city's exhibition grounds to see the Queen.

The rush started almost an hour before the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh were due to arrive.

The huge crowd had been waiting four hours outside the grounds in stifling heat. Finally they rushed forward in a mad, snowballing stampede.

Prompt action by police and ambulance officials prevented a tragedy. They moved in at the gates as the crowd surged past and helped mothers snatch their children out of danger.

The children had been given a holiday and the royal appearance at the fair grounds was especially for them. About 10,000 had parts in a school display planned for the royal couple.

After the Queen and the duke had arrived, the crowds broke through barricades again and began advancing into an area where the Queen was inspecting a guard of honor.

Police and army officers joined hands to halt the oncoming mob. Dozens of children fainted later before the eyes of Queen Elizabeth in the sticky, sub-tropical heat.

The Queen herself appeared flushed from the heat as she rode through the city, but was composed at both the children's rally and a parliamentary luncheon. She held a small parasol while under the blazing sun.

During the day the Queen also presided at a meeting of Queensland's executive council where she said in an address: "The brotherhood of democratic nations of our British Commonwealth is one of the strongest factors working towards permanent peace and goodwill, and it is an influence which no nation, however great or small, can afford to disregard."

She also held an investiture, where more than 50 men and women were decorated. Ex-servicemen were decorated for gallantry in Korea and the Queensland president of the Returned Servicemen's League, Raymond Tuish, was knighted.

A crowd of about 10,000 watched the Queen and the Duke arrive in an open car at St. John"s Anglican cathedral for their first mid-week divine service of the Australian tour. The Queen unveiled a tablet commemorating her visit, and during the service the Duke read one of the lessons.

Carroll Righter's Astrological Forecast

Aries (March 21 to April 19) Comment made by another can make you feel frustrated early but by going over and above this pettiness into your experienced philosophy, right answer comes to you—to everyone's benefit.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) Taking stock of financial matters may produce system that needs changing early, but by midday there appears solution which brings chance to study out better course of conduct.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) Higher-ups and associates disconcert by their apparent criticism, but actually there is present a germ of truth that calm recognition of brings chance to eliminate a present flaw.

Cancer (June 22 to July 21) Behind-scenes worries help not at all, so stop fussing, look matters straight in the face, decide how you can replace what you don't like with desirable conditions, and waste no time doing it.

Leo (July 22 to August 21) Discussion over finances with others, early, need not have you roaring like a lion. Just solve dispassionately by seeing how your own interests are affected, with care.

Virgo (August 22 to September 22) Take care of your credit by not antagonizing chip-on-shoulder associate who is just in bad humor; show by your understanding quality you can exercise self-control.

Libra (September 23 to October 22) Get through chores early, then make point to seek advanced information you need in your own line of vocational occupation in newspaper, other available outlets. Keep working steadfastly.

Scorpio (October 23 to November 21) Early expenses, quarrel with close tie over money can be avoided just by realizing better system for joint affairs really is essential—devise better system now.

Sagittarius (November 22 to December 21) Try to get away from home as soon as essential tasks are complete; be in world of action, seeing just how you can utilize past experiences to present gain in public matters, civic responsibilities.

Capricorn (December 22 to January 20) Stop looking at your problems; see how you can be more efficient, thereby aid associates to greater sense of well-being, harmony in mutual aims.

Aquarius (January 21 to February 19) Seek economical pleasures with congenial companions, ardent attachments; by keeping mind focused upon these pleasant thoughts, you can eliminate material tensions.

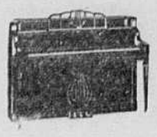

Pisces (February 20 to March 20) Take it easy on making any commitments or demanding definite decisions from others, since matters beyond control of either of you later can cause broken agreements. Just do job well today.

If Your Child Is Born Today

Today's child is one of those very ingenious youngsters who will have so many matters of all sorts in his, or her, mind that it's pretty difficult to complete them, unless you have made a point to teach early that whatever is once begun should be completed to nth degree. The lesson of stickativeness is one your progeny should be taught early and is a prerequisite to success in any line of endeavour. Good chart for work connected with governmental occupational or selling, lecturing, etc.

On the surface, all appears well between Joseph Cotten and lovely Jean Peters. It's just a cover-up, however, for furious and dangerous feelings which each feels towards the other in this scene from "A Blueprint For Murder," opening today at the Granada Theatre on its new Giant Wide Screen.

BOLTON CENTRE—

Miss Betty Cousens spent a long week-end with her school friend, Miss Beverly Quilliams, in Foster.

The many friends of Mr. William Fisk will be very sorry to know that he is ill.

Mr. Douglas Williams, of Lennoxville, was a guest of his mother, Mrs. William Fisk, and Mr. Fisk.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cousens and Miss Shirley Cousens, of Montreal, were guests of their respective parents here. Mr. William Fisk, who has been seriously ill, accompanied them to Montreal, where he has entered the Queen Elizabeth Hospital, for observation and treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cousens attended the banquet and entertainment at the Brome County Central School at Knowlton, to which the chairman and commissioners and their wives from the various school boards were invited.

Former Resident Of Scotstown In Winning Choir

Scotstown, March 10 — Friends of Mr. Rodney A. MacAulay, will be interested to know, that he and 44 other members of the Montreal S. P. E. B. S. Q. S. A. Chapter, went to Bridgeport, Conn., to take part in a singing contest in which fourteen choruses were competing.

They won the championship again for the second time, and brought back the silver cup. The Montreal chorus was the only Canadian groups taking part, the others were all from the U.S.A.

They have high praise to the Bridgeport Chapter, for the fine hospitality and entertainment received. The Hall where the concert took place was filled to capacity and more.

The Barber Shop Boys and men every where, sing because they love to sing, and to give pleasure to others. The Montreal Chapter has given many concerts and programs to veterans and others who cannot get about, and raised money for the under priviledged children. This is all gratis. A proud and happy welcoming committee of men and women met the boys at Central Station, on Sunday night on their return home.

FORMER MILAN RESIDENT VISITS RELATIVES

Mr. "Thormaid Murriston", of Detroit, Mich., formerly of Milan, a native of the Vack-in-Lewis Isle, Scotland, spent a pleasant few days visiting relatives and friends and renewing old acquaintances, most of whom were former residents, of Milan and Hampden congregation, en route to Fredericton, N.B., to visit his aunt, Mrs. Jane Murray, widow of the late Rev. Allistar Murray, who was pastor in Hampden and Milan from October 1922 to May 1930, and his cousin, nee Mary Murray, wife of the Rev. Thomas J. Watson, also in New-Brunswick.

Mr. Morrison who took his relatives and friends by surprise, was heartily welcomed "when recognized" and the time passed all too quickly for all until he was on his way East.

His vocation is that of a sailor on the Great Lakes.

His last visit home was in the spring of 1938. It is to be hoped he that will not let so many years elapse between visits again.

Record Run Seen

Early Start And Favorable Weather Aids Syrup Crop

Seldom have the Townships seen sap running and maple syrup made in February but this year has experienced both.

The trees have been tapped very early this year, reported Wentworth S. Richardson, senior agronomist of the Dominion Experimental Farm, when queried about the weather of the last few weeks.

While the quantity has not been great new syrup has been on the market for some time. Mr. Richardson knows of at least one instance in which seven gallons were made from the yield of 400 trees. The Bulwer and Birchton district has been to the fore.

The colder weather of the last week, however, has stopped the sap running.

John Nichol and Sons, Reg'd., Lennoxville, one of the leading dealers in syrup report that they have sold a fair quantity of the new product for which there has been good demand.

"The trees have been tapped so early, in some cases," added Wesley Nichol, "that if the colder weather continues they may have to be tapped all over again."

With snow still left on the ground a run of warmer days, with frosty nights, should see the opening of a bumper season soon, in the opinion of oldtimers in the syrup-producing business.

Roads Hard-Packed Again In Morning As Snow Is Back

Two inches of snow was the fall between six o'clock last evening and eight this morning reported the Dominion Experimental Farm today.

This fall saw roads covered and in some cases almost as hard-packed by traffic as the surface of Daytona Beach. Main streets and highways, almost as dry and bare for the most part as those of June, were covered again by snow or slush.

Wellington street sidewalk sweepers were plying their brooms this morning and pedestrians were again skidding in places. Buses kept to schedule and drivers reported little difficulty.

The return of the snow and of slightly colder temperatures in the last few days broke an unusually long run of a fairly steady mercury with 15 and 16 degrees the lowest for the nights and the late twenties and early thirties the daytime story.

Some of those experienced in the vagaries of the Weather Man are now looking for a fair-sized storm before the Old Man relents and ushers in the spring-like days which many are anticipating.

William Stevens Guest Artist At Schubert Concert

Few people in Sherbrooke may realize that this year the Schubert Music Club celebrated its Silver Jubilee, twenty-five years of encouraging Sherbrooke musical talent, of bringing noted musicians to our city, and of supporting that excellent organization, the Victorian Order of Nurses.

It was in the fall of 1928 that a few musically-minded friends decided to form a Music Club in this city, and so successful were their efforts that their club is now one of the leading organizations of its kind in the Eastern Townships. Of the original twenty members, there remain only four, who are still active today: Mrs. J. K. Edwards, Mrs. F. H. Bradley, Miss Kathleen Leonard and Miss Nora Leonard. However, new members are continually added, new projects undertaken, and this musical group has come to fill a very real need in an ever expanding and advancing city.

Each year, the Schubert Club provides at least four scholarships to High School Students, taking their McGill Conservatorium music exams, and gives as well a valuable prize of musical scores to the pupil obtaining the highest marks.

A small concert, given in the club's first year of existence, for the benefit of the Victorian Order of Nurses, established a precedent, and every year since then, a generous donation has been made to this organization. Since the death of Mrs. Joseph Rosenbloom, one of the charter members, and a tireless worker for the V.O.N. and the Schubert Club, this donation has been given as a memorial to her.

This year the annual concert features the young Canadian pianist William Stevens, of whom the New York critics said "The piano playing of William Stevens in the Town Hall, last night, had a spic and span quality. It was precise and clear. In the Chopin B minor sonata, it was a distinct pleasure to listen to his pedaling." (New York World Telegram and Sun) "Each note sparkled and not one was slurred over or blurred." (New York Herald Tribune).

Mr. Stevens also gave a recital at the Gardner Museum in Boston this week.

It is of interest in Sherbrooke too, to know that this young man won highest praise from one of this city's best loved champions of music, the late Mrs. Charles B. Howard.

The concert will be held Monday, March 15, at 8.30 p.m., in the Sherbrooke High School Auditorium. Tickets are available from any club member, and also at H. C. Wilson's, Wellington St.

Teach Child To Make Own Decisions

The most difficult as well as the most important function of public education in a democracy is habituating the child to make his own decisions. If public education can habituate ordinary people to make sane and practical decisions, then freedom will remain the best and most satisfying principle of human society. When public education fails to do this, some other principle besides freedom is invoked to restore the semblance of human security.

It is sobering to realize that today great masses of humanity have bartered freedom for fancied security and that other great masses of humanity long for freedom but are condemned to live and die without it. We continue to set great store by freedom; if we are to continue to enjoy it we must train our young people to regard freedom not as a natural state into which we grow without effort, but as a hard-won boon which must be earned by continued and sustained effort.

Part of the conquest which we call human freedom is the conquest over our own tendencies and desires. The free citizen must learn to make his own choices, but he must make them in the light of moral duty and social obligation. To be free, he must really choose what he is to do; to be a free citizen of an ordered world he must make the choices that are right for him and good for his fellow-citizens. School is one of the places—an important place—in which he may learn to choose and to choose right.

Aluminum Caps Now Provided By Local Dairy

Residents of Sherbrooke today received the first milk bottles in Quebec to use the aluminum bottle cap. These bottles were distributed by Leclerc Dairy who recently switched their entire dairy capping operation over to aluminum caps.

Management of the dairy found in actual tests that by installing their own machine to manufacture and apply the caps they were able to cut capping costs and provide a cap that gives complete protection to the bottle contents and the pouring lip. The capping machine, which is of English manufacture, forms and applies the caps without them ever being touched by human hands. These stiff aluminum caps snap off and on the bottles without trouble and can be manufactured in a variety of colors and patterns so that each dairy product may be quickly identified.

Fashion Show At Christ Roi Hall

Progressive School Sees Teachers And Children In Tussle For Mastery

Three topics were chosen by Dr. A. R. Jewitt, principal and vice-chancellor of Bishop's University last night, when he addressed members of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club in the New Sherbrooke Hotel on "Problems of Modern Education."

They were, first, the great debate between the progressivists and the traditionalists; second, the relations between business and industry and education; third, the high percentage of failures in colleges.

The speaker was introduced as a former Rhodes scholar by Col. Albert A. Munster who spoke of Dr. Jewitt's distinguished academic career and of the great impetus given to Bishop's since his arrival in 1948.

Dr. Jewitt, after a humorous introduction, defined the common objective of all education as the fostering and hastening of the process by which boys and girls become responsible, thinking men and women.

The traditionalist school, he said, believed in the vitality of the older discipline; in the continuing value of reading, writing and mathematics, in short, in a mind centred school.

The progressivists held that a school should be child-centred. Education should be insinuated gently by appealing to the student rather than by tasks and discipline.

T. S. Elliott, the poet and critic, had remarked that "we are all naturally lazy" and had advocated that we learn to interest ourselves in subjects in which we have no aptitude. Dr. Jewitt, who later qualified himself as "a confirmed and incorrigible traditionalist," spoke with a smile of the monthly necessity for him to reconcile his bankbook with the bank's statement as an illustration of the fact that he had little mathematical aptitude. Yet he had found the period at Dalhousie when he had had to apply himself to a mathematics course one of the most valuable of a lifetime.

The traditionalists, Dr. Jewitt pursued, believe that it is not the duty of the master to teach the child what he wants to learn but to impart discipline and the wisdom of the ages and to make the student like it. "The business of education," he quoted, "is to feed the lambs and not the young goats."

He spoke of an English teacher, writing of her experience in an American school under the title "Tug-of-war with Grade Six," as an illustration of the fight being put up by many children against being educated. In American schools it was often war-to-the-knife between teacher and pupils with the strong American feeling for power and success leading the children frequently to try to assert mastery over their teachers.

"Progressivism run wild," declared the speaker, "will lead to chaos."

It was Dr. Jewitt's own conclusion and hope that these rival schools would ultimately be reconciled to provide a common synthesis.

In introducing his second topic, the Principal of Bishops referred to the financial difficulties of universities in the United States and Canada and to attacks on academic freedom and the charges that the colleges were "coddling Communists."

The recommendations of the Massey Commission had made the role of the universities in Canadian education appreciated more than ever before.

The Principal quoted Clarence B. Randall, chairman of Inland Steel, to the effect that industries owe a great debt to the colleges and should give them both moral and financial support. Industry was the champion of free enterprise and universities the champion of academic freedom, therefore, held Mr. Randall, neither could survive without the other and they must stand or fall together. The support of free universities should be a vital charge upon industry, had been the Randall stand.

In expressing appreciation of the part taken by a Canadian corporation to establish scholarship in universities without in any way infringing on academic freedom or control, Dr. Jewitt added: "I hope the time may never come when we must rely on governments for the greatest part of our aid. Dr. Jewitt did, however, appreciate the great help which universities had received from governments.

The speaker pointed out that universities were not receiving some of the finest of the high school graduates. Thirty per cent of those who entered universities should not be there. Their places should be taken by some of those now going into jobs, attracted by the high wages offered by industry and for whom the prospect of more years of education meant a serious drain on family incomes.

There were many in universities who were wasting both their parents' means and the money devoted to public education by failing or by just getting through. There were many who lacked stamina and fibre, who had little capacity for hard work and self-sacrifice and it was sad to realize the number of those who had this deficiency. More emphasis was needed in the schools upon self-control and self-reliance, upon initiative and upon originality.

Dr. Jewitt was thanked by D. J. Salls in a witty appreciation of the guest-speaker's qualities as educationalist and curler.

President L. W. Dixon was in the chair.

Phil Biron introduced the evening's guests: Ald. W. H. Bradley, Q.C., Eric T. Webster and C. Wentworth.

Leo Tracy reported on the prospects for the Albany trip which may see the district governor attending and also the presence of the governor of the 255th district. Clarence Blake presented a banner sent as a token of esteem by the Fairbanks club, Ontario. Artnur Kerridge said grace and Tom Keeley led the singing with his customary verve.

Those seated with President Dixon and the speaker at the head table were: Ogden Glass, headmaster of Bishop's College School; Gerald Rockwell, Col. Albert A. Munster, Abe Echenberg, D. J. Salls, Arthur Kerridge and Lyman Tomkins.

Special Rights Plea Of Social Credit Refused

Following week-end incidents in which two Social Credit movement supporters were arrested for failing to circulate after being warned by the police, the group made application to the City Council for special permission to distribute their pamphlets on the city streets. At a regular committee session on Monday evening, the Council turned down the application, the attitude of the Council being explained in the following letter addressed by City Attorney Albert Rivard to Paul Carrier, the spokesman for the group:

"Following on your delegations to the Mayor and the Aldermen, on March 7, the Council has taken your request into consideration and have decided that the law will not be changed.

"You should understand that the law forbidding the distribution of pamphlets etc. in public places, applies to everyone, and it would be illegal to make any exception for certain people.

"Everyone is treated in the same manner and it is the only way to maintain public order.

"If you desire to call on people at their homes, that is entirely up to you and they are free to listen to you. But what concerns public order and the laws that concern it are under the jurisdiction of the chief of police and you should conform to them like all good citizens who respect authority. Otherwise you will have to suffer some unfortunate circumstances."

Two Bishop's C. O. T. C. Officers To Train With 1st Brigade In Europe

The officer commanding the Bishop's University Contingent, Canadian Officers Training Corps, has announced that two officers of the contingent have been selected for training overseas with the 1st Canadian Infantry Brigade Group.

The officers selected are 2nd Lieut. Robert Stocks and 2nd Lieut. Hector Hebert.

As only seventy officers have been chosen from all Officers' Training Corps in Canada to take part in this training course, it is considered a singular honor that two men from the Bishop's Contingent have been chosen.

Lieut. Stocks is a resident of Cowansville, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Stocks, and was born in Sweetsburg February 15, 1934. He was educated at the Cowansville High School and entered Bishop's in 1950 and will graduate this June.

Lieut. Hebert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rene Hebert, Bachand street, Sherbrooke, being born here on April 2, 1935. Educated at St. Patrick's School, he entered Bishop's in 1950 and will graduate this June.

False Alarm Is Received From Local Hospital

A false alarm sent fire reels speeding to the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital this morning about 1 a.m.

Fortunately the sirens were not going on the truck or a panic might have started among the patients.

This is just one of anywhere from 50 to 75 such calls a year. Said Director Percy Donahue, "Whoever it is must have the mentality of a lunatic and should be locked up."

Open Houses Mark Education Week

Attendance is expected to be large this evening at the Mitchell School where an open house 'Home and School' meeting is being held at 8 p.m. in connection with Education Week. Several teachers are expected to take the stand to speak on curriculum.

Also scheduled for this evening is an open house and gymnastics demonstration at the Lennoxville High School auditorium beginning at 7.30 p.m.

Friday afternoon brings open house to the East Ward School from 2-4 p.m. when there will be a music demonstration given under the direction of Malcolm Brown. It is hoped that parents of students will attend.

Eaton Road Forum Meets

Eaton Road, March 10. — The Eaton Road Farm Forum met at the home of Mr. R. Wingeat, on March 1, with twenty-one members and friends present.

Mr. Walter Hodgeman, of Birchton, first vice-president of the Quebec Farm Forum Association was the guest of the Forum for the evening.

The broadcast, "Are School Taxes Fair" was heard, after which a good discussion was held. This Forum felt that school taxes are not on a fair basis.

The "Green Leaf" was read by the secretary, L. Copping.

Mr. Hodgeman told of the conference of Farm Forums meeting in Toronto, Ont., and the meeting of the C.F.A., in Hamilton, Ont., which he attended, which was very interesting to the Forum members.

At the close of the evening refreshments were served by the host, assisted by Mrs. Wingeat and the Forum ladies.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Blodgett.

MANSONVILLE—

Several Mansonville Intermediate School students will be on the air over station WIKE, Newport, in recognition of Education Week on Friday, March 12, at 1:30 p.m.

"Letters To The Editor"

A newspaper seeks to give its readers comprehensive coverage of world and local events and to keep them abreast of the latest happenings in sports, in the financial world and in the social life of the community. In the case of The Record the community embraces a good part of the Eastern Townships.

The daily paper also brings to subscribers, through its advertising columns, information as to where they may fill their needs in goods and services. It carries church announcements and news of the churches and advertisement in the entertainment field.

The Record feels it would be desirable to have closer co-operation from its readers. It wishes to know their views; what they are thinking. It welcomes constructive criticism and individual opinions on topics of public interest. It invites "Letters to The Editor."

In order that different persons may have the opportunity of expressing their views writers of letters to The Record are asked to make their contributions as brief and as concise as reasonably possible. Names and addresses of correspondents must be given although a letter may be printed under a pen-name if this be the writer's desire.

The newspaper reserves the right, and this subscribers will understand, to refuse to publish any letter which lacks interest, which might do harm to the public interest or for any other reason.

Just What The People Want

The good old Communist wolf, forced at last to accept the fact that wolves are not popular, is hurrying to cover his tell-tale fur with American sheep's wool. For there are many lambs in green pastures across the border; more in those which are not so green.

Here is the recent news: "The American Communist party brands as a lie the charge that it advocates the use of force and violence in the pursuit of any of its immediate or long-term goals."

The Communists want simply to curb the power of the trusts — a popular program since Teddy Roosevelt and Bryan's time — to obtain equal rights for the negroes, (fair enough, Comrade) and to spend less on bombs and battleships. They offer "the American way: jobs, peace, democracy."

Hurrah! It sounds inviting. "Whoa, Commie, stop them hawses. Let's get on that thar waggon." Inviting, that it, if we did not know about the jobs, the peace, the democracy experienced by many in Russia.

As it is, one can only says: "Tell it to the kulaks!" For these farmers together with hundreds of thousands of peasants were systematically starved by the Stalin regime when they failed to extend a co-operation which put their own families last.

Their jobs today? The horizontal holding down of Mother Earth. Their peace? That of the grave. Their democracy? The kind brought invariably by the Great Leveller.

One has only to look at Russia with its slave labor camps behind its Iron Curtain. The answer to this specious program is there.

The Malenkov shift to greater flexibility, following the death of the rigid Stalin, is penetrating to America. The new line is more clever, more deceiving. It represents a shift in tactics only.

The change in the American Communist tune shows recognition that little progress was being made while motives and methods were left unmasked. There is no effective outright Socialist party in the United States today, must have run the reasoning, therefore, let us change surface character and take over this rich field.

This is the first able move American Communism has made for a long time. It aims to ditch a large part of the odium attaching to the party and to court popularity by offering a program which many will think reasonable and just.

Watch for an upsurge in Communist strength in the United States, as an American publication would say.

Executives And Slums

There are a number of business executives in Sherbrooke, as elsewhere, who have a persistent habit which does not make for the happiness of stenographers. In a certain office, for instance, work finishes, officially, at five. At about fifteen minutes before the closing hour, Mr. Executive produces a sheaf of letters to be answered. In another office, closing time six o'clock, the boss makes it a regular practice to do a good part of his day's dictation within the last half-hour expecting the results to be laid on his desk before Miss Helper leaves. Occasional late-in-the-day dictation is often necessary and this a co-operative staff realizes. Adopted as a constant practice the inconsiderate habit can be more than irritating. . . .

The Windsor Star, in a recent editorial, pointed to the advantages of clearing out a city's slums. The slum represents not only a social problem, said The Star, is also means an economic loss for poor premises often occupy potentially valuable sites. In Toronto a large syndicate is to spend something like a hundred and forty million dollars in building apartment blocks in a district which has deteriorated badly for decades. Sherbrooke's slum percentage, population-wise, is small but there are some houses in "Stove Pipe City" and in, at least, one other area which are said to have an almost unbelievable lack of comfort and the conveniences. . . .

Press Comment

AN UNJUST CONVICTION

The Toronto Globe and Mail

There will be general approval of Chief Justice McRuer's action in levying heavy fines on three United States publishing firms, and an editor employed by one of them, for contempt of court in last week's murder trial at Cornwall. We are sure he would have acted no differently if the editor and publishers concerned had been Canadian.

Where this newspaper does disagree is with the Chief Justice's conviction (also for contempt) of Mr. Edward Bryan, the magazine wholesaler who distributed the offending publications in the district where the trial was held. Mr. McRuer sentenced him to ten days' imprisonment. But after representations by citizens of Cornwall, where Mr. Bryan and his family are well respected, the Chief Justice relented and ordered him released on payment of $50 costs. Mr. McRuer is to be commended for recalling what in the circumstances, had been an unduly harsh sentence. None the less, the conviction stands.

With all respect for the courts, we do not believe Mr. Bryan's conviction was reasonable. What appeared in the three crime-story magazines (printed in the U.S. and passed into Canada by officials of the Canadian Customs) was not his responsibility. He could not be expected to have read all the stories and articles in everyone of the numerous magazines he distributed; or, if he had, to have recognized those which were legally offensive. That responsibility, in our view, rested squarely with the people who edited and published them; the people who, quite properly, were heavily fined.

This newspaper contracts with many people to perform the same function for it as Mr. Bryan performs for the magazine publishers; that is, to distribute it on a wholesale basis. In the performance of that contract, they cannot possibly be expected to know what is in The Globe and Mail every day. Their job is simply to get the paper to certain places by certain times. They may have leisure to read it after they make their deliveries; they have none before.

Again, take the case of magazines. In most instances, a high percentage of their output is distributed by mail. The distributor is in fact the Postoffice, which surely cannot be held in any way accountable for offensive material one of them may contain. Supposing, in this particular case, most of the magazines concerned had been delivered by the postman? Would he have been deemed in contempt? Most people can answer that for themselves.

The full and final responsibility for material appearing in newspapers and magazines surely belongs with the people who edit and publish them. They have time which the people who distribute them all down the line have not; knowledge which those people cannot be expected to have; legal advice which is not available to them. It will be a sorry day, in this newspaper's view, when one of its distributors is punished (without right of appeal) for something which, rightly or wrongly, we printed; but which he himself in all likelihood never saw.

THOSE WHO "DON'T SLEEP A WINK"

The Montreal Gazette

Science has made some discoveries about sleep which many of us suspected for a long time. Researchers have decided for one thing, that the old business about everyone getting eight hours sleep a night isn't correct. Needs vary, not only for people of different ages, but for different people of the same age.

People who have been called "sleepy-heads" and "lie-abeds" all their lives may not be lazy at all. They just require more sleep than other people. On the other hand ,there are people, especially older people, who do not require more than five or six hours sleep out of the 24.

Scientific support of this kind may eliminate one cause of inferiority complexes. It will no longer be necessary to make apologies for visiting in slumberland somewhat longer than the average.

One thing this biological research has not clarified, however, is the status of the person who "doesn't sleep a wink" at least half of every night, yet manages to operate fairly normally every day.

The explanation, of course, may be psychological, rather than biological. One suggestion is a recurring dream, a dream of lying awake, when the person is actually sound asleep.

This explanation often comes to those who try to awaken one of those people who "don't sleep a wink." Their breathing is quite noisy, too, during those "wakeful" periods.

SLUM CLEARANCE

The Windsor Star

The advantage of clearing out slums from the centres of cities isn't only a social one, of removal of festering conditions from the municipal body. It also has economic connotations, of making productive, in private incomes and taxes, potentially valuable property. Most slums are close to business sections of cities, covering blocks which should have great worth.

Reports from Toronto are a huge syndicate, handed by Sir Robert MacAlpine of England is to spend $140,000,000 on a large area in the centre of that city. While it doesn't include Toronto's worst slums, it is a district which has deteriorated badly during the past few decades. United States money also is involved in the deal. The 65 acres will be used for apartment blocks.

Just recently announcement was made that a Swiss group is to start an $8,000,000 apartment block in the same general area, and that a Toronto group will spend $3,500,000 on a hotel there.

It is significant that United States, British and Swiss capital understands the economic aspects of slum clearance. It might awaken some Canadian capital to the possibilities. We could use some of that kind of money in Windsor to rehabilitate certain blocks of slums which are close to both the Detroit River and Ouellette avenue.

McClure Syndicate — WNU Features.

Ann Drew stood in her tiny studio looking critically at a set of dress designs thumbtacked against the wall—every detail satisfactory, including the Ann-mark on the pert little face that always topped her work.

The hum from the busy street far below her windows seemed to change into a man's well-remembered comment. "Ann, a face isn't necessary."

"Humph! Not unless I like a face—and I do," she had insisted.

"Yes, particularly that one; it's your own," the man answered. "You're conceited, Ann. Imagine! Conceited about a funny little face with a funny little scar that makes the mouth look a bit one-sided!" But his voice had been soft and right. Then, for the first time. Bert Harris had kissed her.

She took the sketches down and stacked them on her desk. Running an envelope into her typewriter, she addressed it to the Harris Dress Manufacturing company and slid the drawings inside to be mailed.

A door slammed across the hall. Ann winced; the slamming of a door had been Bert's good-bye two months before. The Harris merry-go-round is right back where it started, she mused—business, marriage, strictly business—plus a five-year-old son.

Perhaps there had been too much Ann-this-and-that. But the registered lipmark with the Ann Drew signature meant faith in her career and Bert's understanding had not been broad enough to accept her refusal to add the name of Harris.

She decided to go home. Queer! She could finish a series for any other concern and work on. But every Harris envelope sealed, whatever the hour, terminated her working day.

It always had. Eight years before the Harris contract had been the first and only one in her file; a year later because Bert Harris had been her husband and she had crowded his work in at home between busy days at the studio; this season because she became emotionally fatigued each time she outlined the unnecessary little face—every pen stroke tended toward the hope that she might live again in Bert's thoughts.

Slipping into her coat, Ann dialed her apartment. Andrew answered and finally she stopped his chatter long enough to tell him that she was on her way home.

Going down in the elevator she smiled. She knew that Andrew was rushing for his toy telephone He would throw one end through the kitchen door. Then he would scamper as far as the long cord would permit to ring the bell and tell old Hannah that Mummy Ann wanted her dinner.

Deciding to walk home through the park, she found herself stopping to rest on a familiar bench. She opened her bag for a cigarette.

Holding it between her lips, she started to fumble through her coat pockets for a match but pulled out a large square of colorful rayon instead. Her face brightened as she draped it at arm's length from one hand to set up the grouped tulips plaqued against their background by pairs of Ann-marked lips. She tilted her head and murmured. "My first brass ring in textile!"

A light snow began feathering the early dusk. Deftly, Ann knotted the square about her head. She stood, lifted her face and snugged her collar about her throat. Unmindful of the admiring glance of a man who had settled himself on the other end of the bench a few moments earlier, she felt through her pockets again: "Darn!"

She turned quickly when the man struck a match. He walked over and held it out suggestively. "You didn't find one?"

"Bert! I—I didn't realize that anyone was about."

"I know," Bert parried. "When I came along you seemed rather absorbed—shall we say—in yourself?"

"Why not add 'as usual'?" Ann asked.

"Ann, listen. . . . "

Ann's eyes glinted queerly. An ever-alert inner imp impelled her to answer, "Not in this snow. I think, instead, I'll follow the me-first program you credit me with and take myself home."

Opposite the park she glanced back but saw only a screen of snowflakes. She shrugged, signaled a taxi and was home in a few minutes.

A half-hour later, the buzzer sounded and she heard Hannah ask someone to wait. When she started toward the living room, the glow from a lamp shone on Andrew's toy telephone as it rang at her feet She picked it up and listened. "Mummy Ann, H-ann-ah says if t-h-a-t m-a-n wants to stay for dinner, why doesn't he s-a-y so?"

Just then a man's hand touched her arm and Ann felt his face close to hers. "Oh! I didn't know who . . . " she said. Then she smiled and spoke into the telephone. "Andrew, you—you ask him."

Andrew raced through the hall, calling, "Daddy! Daddy will you s-t-a-y?"

Bert Harris pressed his face closer to Ann's. "You know, I followed you into the park to tell you that I'm thoroughly annexed—and you made me come home alone—all the way."

JACOBY ON CANASTA

CUTTHROAT CANASTA IS EASY

"One question about cutthroat puzzles us," writes a Michigan reader. "None of the players has melded, and the discard pile is therefore huge. Only six cards remain to be drawn, one turn for each player, and it is now my turn to play. Do I just sit there and hold my whole hand, or may I play as much as possible, even though it is impossible to make canastas and go out?"

First, let me remind my readers about the game of cutthroat. This is a form of canasta for three players. A separate score is kept for each of the three players, and each player is out for himself. If a player takes the discard pile, however, the other two become partners for that hand.

Before the discard pile is picked up, each player is on his own. If you wish to meld from your hand, you may do so. Such a meld does not make the other two players partners.

It is seldom a good idea to meld from your hand in the early or middle stages of the play. Such a meld makes it possible for you to get the discard pile at a later turn even if you have only one matching card (and a wild card), but this is seldom necessary. The disadvantage of an early meld is that you give away too much information about your hand.

When the play gets down to the last turn, however, you aren't very worried about revealing your hand. It's quite all right to meld what you can, in order to avoiding getting stuck with the whole hand.

If a player takes the pack after an opponent has melded from the hand, the two opponents become partners. Those two opponents are allowed to merge their melds whether or not they have been put down on the table before the discard pile was picked up.

Q—In the game of samba, a player puts down 4-5-6 of spades together with 8-9-10, hoping to join them eventually with a seven of spades. The partner has A-K-Q-J of spades. May he add these cards to the 10-9-8, completing a samba but leaving the 4-5-6 out in the cold?

A—The partner may complete the canasta in the way indicated, regardless of the 4-5-6. The low, three-card sequence may be disregarded (except that it is counted in the final score of the hand) or it may even be added to or made into an additional sequence canasta.

Texas Oil Man Strikes Gusher Of Controversy

By JAMES DEVLIN

New York—(AP)—A rich Texas oil man has struck a roaring gusher of controversy in the field of public affairs.

He is H. L. (Haroldson LaFayette) Hunt of Dallas, financial backer of the "Facts Forum" radio and television programs.

Associates say he is worth $2,000,000,000, that he makes $1,000,000 a week. Hunt himself won't discuss the fortune that he started with $50 in 1921.

The controversy over "Facts Forum" and how objective it is has swirled for the last several months.

Hunt vows the programs offer fair and impartial discussion of public issues and that they merit their $3,000,000 a year of free air time.

Critics term the form a political propaganda machine giving major weight in conservatism and isolationism. Some charge it is a front to push Joseph R. McCarthy into the U.S. presidency.

Like most men of great wealth, Hunt shuns personal publicity. But he came to New York recently and called a press conference to defend "Facts Forum" against the attacks.

Hunt, a tall, white-haired man of 65, appeared unruffled when asked is anti-Semitic, anti-Catholic, anti-labor, anti-Negro and anti-fascist.

Hunt said the forum is anti-Communist but that otherwise its sole aim is to increase popular interest in public issues.

The Providence Journal and Evening Bulletin launched the first major investigation of Facts Forum in a series of eight articles last December and January. The gist of their findings was:

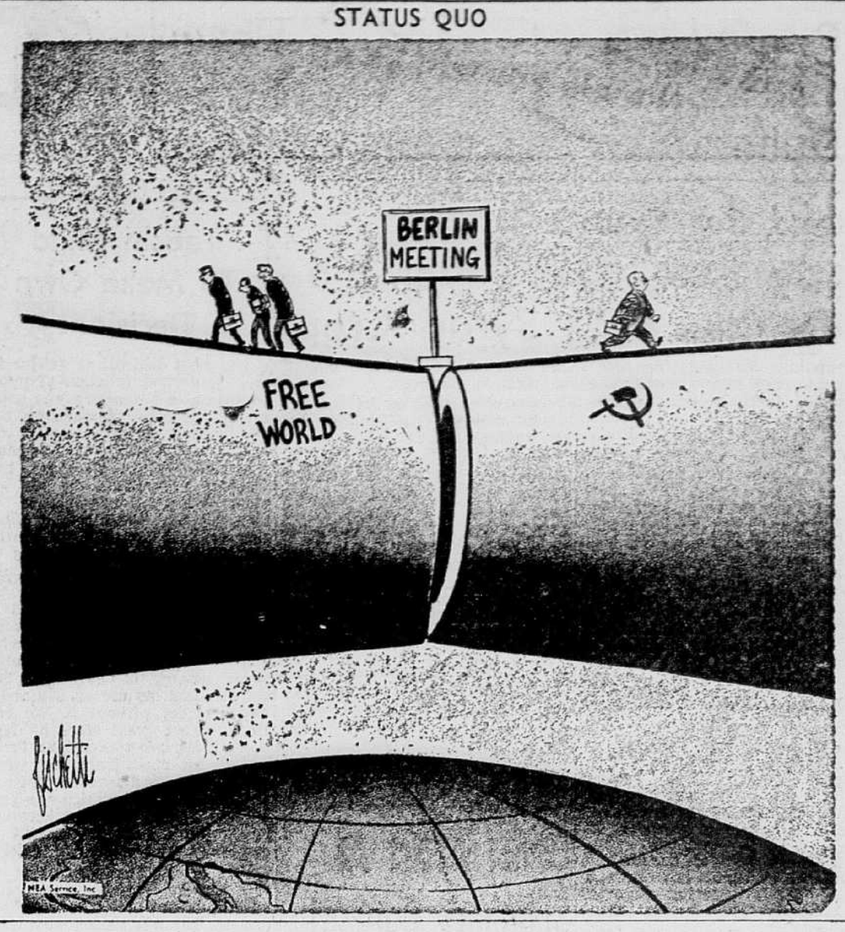

". . . The major criticism that can be made of Facts Forum is that its net effect is to disseminate fear, suspicion and divisive propaganda."

Dan Smoot, commentator on one radio program, follows a format of giving one side of the question first and then the other side. The critics argue that Smoot gives the liberal side in a perfunctory manner but gives a real emotional pitch to the conservative arguments that close the program.

A Facts Forum TV program presents two senators taking opposite sides on an issue of the day. Critics say these are slanted with a "dumbbell" on the liberal side and an adroit speaker on the conservative side. Hunt denied this.

Hunt says he himself probably could be classed as a conservative Democrat. He favored General Douglas MacArthur for the U.S. presidency and later supported Dwight Eisenhower's candidacy. He denied he ever had said that "it's up to McCarthy to save America."

Superstitions Held Big Factor In Death Rate

By CORLEY SMITH

Hanoi, Indo-China —(Reuters)—Doctors here say that 30 to 50 per cent of all babies born in Indo-China die before they are 12 months old—and ancient, but ignorant, superstitions are a major contributing factor.

The Viet Namese government has only just begun to compile statistics on childbirth and infant deaths, but the few figures already becoming available point to these startling conclusions:

1. Despite dirt and strange superstitions, babies survive the perils of birth almost as well as children born with all the aids of modern science.

2. But after the first three days of life, the most dangerous period for a Western child, they begin to die off like flies. By the end of the first year at least three of every 10 babies have died. The real figure may be as high as five in every 10.

Superstition Destroys

Superstitions lessen a baby's chance of survival in this war-torn country. Many mothers-to-be suffer from malnutrition for lack of milk, fruit and meat. Yet in many villages in the Red river delta expectant mothers are forbidden to eat anything but rice an salt in the last month of their pregnancy. Other foods are considered poisonous to the unborn baby and mothers-in-law keep careful watch to stop them being eaten.

Thus many babies are born without strength enough to resist the tropical diseases which attack them in their first year.

According to another old wife's tale here, birth is an evil thing and will bring ill fortune on the house where it occurs. Often a young mother-to-be is driven out of her home to bear her baby in the bushes or in a corner of an open rice-paddy.

Jacoby On Bridge

By OSWALD JACOBY

STUDY THE DUMMY THEN MAKE PLAY

When the official American Team stopped in New York for a couple of days before going to Europe to play in the World Championship, a practice match was arranged for them at the famous Regency Club in New York.

One nice thing about the practice match was that America was sure to win. In the hand shown today, taken from the match, B. Jay Becker made a very interesting play.

West opened the jack of clubs, and Becker studied the dummy intently before making his first play. Suppose you do likewise, and decide on your plan for the hand.

If you decided to win the first trick, give yourself a doubtful mark. Becker played the eight of clubs at the first trick, allowing West to win with the jack.

The true situation didn't occur to West, naturally enough. He assumed that his partner had started a signal with the five of clubs (the four of clubs was missing), and he therefore continued by leading the three of clubs. When dummy's seven of clubs won the second trick, West gulped audibly and visibly.

Becker got to his hand with the ace of hearts to cash the rest of his clubs. It was then easy to duck a heart to East, win the spade return with the ace of spades, and cash the rest of the hearts. Thus declarer made four clubs, four hearts, and the ace of spades. The defenders could take the rest with the ace of diamonds and the spades, but the contract was home.

If South wins the first club trick and goes after the hearts, East will immediately shift to spades. The defenders can bring in the spades before South can develop nine tricks.

You, South, hold: Spades 9-7-3, Hearts A-J-9, Diamonds A-K-Q-J-2, Clubs 7-5. What do you do?

A—Bid two diamonds. Do not be misled by the strength of the diamonds. You still have only 15 points in high cards with only moderate distributional strength. You cannot afford to insist on a game unless your partner can make another move.

Republics To Support Dulles Plan

Caracas, Venezuela —(AP)— The inter-American conference headed today toward adoption, probably by Saturday, of the "Dulles doctrine." Majority support appears assured for the American state secretary's proposal to rally united action against Communist attempts to dominate any part of the western hemisphere.

Eight of the 19 Latin-American republics attending the 10th such conference here already have signified their backing of the proposal.

Canada, a Commonwealth member, does not attend the inter-American conferences.

There still was some question today as to what final form the anti-Red resolution will take. There have been indications that some Latin-American countries will propose amendments to the United States formula.

Guatemala, accused by the U.S. of being Communist-dominated, is the only country voicing outright opposition.

Gut the Guatemalan foreign minister, Guillermo Toriello, while promising a fight against the proposal, admitted today that its adoption seems certain.

Mexico has indicated it favors some action to curb Communist infiltration in the western hemisphere, but wants the U.S. resolution to include "any totalitarianism." It also proposes calling for joint action to be taken whenever "agents of foreign international communism" take control of an American state.

The U.S. proposal calls for joint action when "the international Communist movement" dominates or controls a state's political institutions. It is the U.S. viewpoint that domestic Reds are as much a threat to peace as are foreign Communist agents.

The tension of the debate was emphasized Tuesday when Toriello stalked out of the conference during a speech by the Dominican foreign minister, who assailed countries which "help Soviet Russia" but sit back and allow the U.S. to be attacked.

Education And Leisure

"If education to-day seems to deteriorate, it is primarily because we have both vague and diverse opinions about the kind of society we want. To know what we want in education we must know what we want in general, we must derive our theory of education from a philosophy of life." So said an English poet, T. S. Eliot, in 1932.

If one is to examine the relation between education and leisure much of the confusion in modern education will be resolved. First, what do we mean by leisure; freedom from employment? The word for leisure in Greek was "schole" from which we derive our word "school." Our word leisure comes from the Latin "licere" meaning "to be permitted" — a quite different idea. The latter definition is more in keeping with our era and its desire for the freedoms, from, which surely is a negative attitude and a misconception of true leisure.

The Greeks had less leisure time than we do since the majority of them could only eke out a bare subsistence from the land. Leisure was an important time of re-creation and a time of education in the widest meaning of that word. The majority of the Greeks of course never had the same lengthy training which we have and many did not even know how to read and write. But this did not prevent them from making their leisure educative for the Greeks loved argument and discussion. The Greek society also had slaves which meant that other people had much leisure time. But it is not in them that we are primarily interested. The belief that informed the Greek idea of leisure was that "we are unleisurely in order to have leisure." To paraphrase this, we work to live, not live to work.

Underlying these statements two diametrically opposed philosophies. The former sees man as a bilateral being, made both as a human for this world and as a soul for the approaching order of existence. The latter visualizes man as a unilateral being with his existence limited to the temporal order. Education becomes apprenticeship for some given job, whereas in the former education is an apprenticeship for life. And when man is seen as a unilateral being leisure becomes meaningless except as a respite from work, or freedom from employment as was noted earlier in this article.

It may seem paradoxical to speak of work in a disparaging manner when many people detest work. "The young are lazy, indolent, and expect too much from their employers. Therefore, don't talk about leisure until you have taught them what work is." But it seems that we have lost a proper concept of work precisely because we misinterpret leisure as absolute licence. Leisure to other people may also conjure up visions of a select aristocracy who seek puerile diversion to kill time—a slaughter which cannot be done without injuring eternity. Again, nothing could be further from our present interpretation of leisure than to think of it in aristocratic terms.

Leisure to Aristotle was the highest activity of that part of the soul which possesses rational principle. It was the highest activity because it was the only one pursued for its own sake. And Aristotle regarded as the highest good that which was not sought for the sake of other things but only for its own. An education consisting solely of vocational training would come under this category. Leisure to the Greeks was a time when life was lived to its fullest and deepest in some "schole" or educational manner.

Is work to be banished as a baneful drudgery in such a system? No, work should be a happy opportunity for us to pay back our debt to God and our neighbour by some service which we find interesting. Because this is so vocational training must enter into the school curriculum although it must not play the dominant role. The two conflicting theories of modern education, the essentialist (the conservatives of education) and the pragmatist (the radicals of education) can be resolved in this synthesis. Both education for life and vocational training are necessary although the former is the more important. That is to say tl at education must be concerned with many things which cannot be measured by practical values and which can only be learned through drudgery and tears. This however is not to make a virtue of defect by pardoning all dull teaching and teachers.

Education can never be a bed of roses, but it can and must be a preparation of that bed in which roses will later fortuitously bloom. This will happen in a leisure which is not a relaxation time but a state of spiritual energy in which life as a whole is worthily lived.

This concept of leisure to be successful (as the Greek was not) must have a religious basis. Only then will it lead to a progressive revelation of the nature and destiny of man and will give a true and joyful motivation to our work no matter what it may be. It is this sort of leisure which must inform our life, education and society to resolve the confusions which lie in all three.

Owning Show Dogs Is Fun, Disappointing, Too

By RUSS K. LOWRY

We've owned, in our time, many "show dogs." These are animals which are outstanding in physical beauty and perfection, not 'trick dogs" or circus performers.

The dog-show game is a bigger hobby than most people think. About 1,000 dog shows are held each year throughout America under the sponsorship and rules of the American Kennel Club, which is the recognized registry and governing body of purebred dog fancy in the United States.

Thousands of dog owners and breeders enter their animals in these events, and vie for trophies, ribbons or cash awards. Feelings are at a high pitch of tension and often tempers flare right in the middle of the show ring.

We've seen disappointed and frustrated exhibitors fling ribbons back into judges' faces, shake fists under each other's noses and use language we wouldn't dare print.

The trouble is that many contestants have an exaggerated opinion of their animals' physical superiority and cannot take a judge's unbiased decision which blasts such beliefs and hopes.

The exhibitor is disappointed, sportsmanship gets out of hand, insults are hurled and threats are made.

Not too much of this sort of intense competitive spirit takes place, but enough of it transpires to add spice to the proceedings.

We admit our share of disappointments over the years, though we've never indulged in bad temper and demonstrations. We've had our share of triumphs, too, so the thrills of winning and the discouragements of losing balance out pretty well.

Our latest "hope" lies in a very handsome, eye-taking young Boxer we own, called "Branoko's Overlord." He has the most ideal head and body proportion we've yet to see. These points are considered of prime importance in the dog show competition.

Some fanciers and professional dog handlers who have seen him say he has what it takes. Several have tried to buy him, though he's never been tested in the show ring. Latest offer is a brand new auto.,

But we'd rather have the dog than a fine car any day, even though the dog may not live up to our dreams when dog show judges start putting him through his paces.

We'll see. Anyway it's a thrill of a lifetime when you win with your dog and "take home the bacon.' Maybe that's the allure of showing dogs. It certainly gets into your blood.

THE PET FORUM

(Q): "A breeder has offered me a Manx cat. I'd like to breed them. Have you any information on this breed?"

Mrs. J. J. O.

(A): The true Manx, or "Rumpy," is a tailless cat,stemming from the Isle of Man. It is claimed that purebreds should be registered in the Manx Cat Association of that far-off land. The association is very jealous of its standards and is trying to bring about worldwide recognition of the breed. Manx cats are catching on in America and are beginning to fetch good prices.

(Q): "Please settle an argument. A friend who owns a Collie claims his is America's most popular breed of dog. Others say this is not so. Are there any official figures on the popularity of the breeds?"

Miss G. G. K.

(A) the registrations of the American Kennel Club are accepted as the true guide of "dog popularity." Beaglehounds are in first place, Cocker Spaniels are second, Boxers are third, Dachshunds are fourth, Collies are fifth. There are 110 recognized breeds.

Have you a problem on pet care, feeding or training? If so, Mr. Lowry will be glad to help you. Write him in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Vatican City — (AP) — Pope Pius' slow but steady recovery continued sufficiently today to allow doctors to reduce indirect feeding.

Vatican sources said the physicians, heartened by the 78-year-old pontiff's return to a partially solid diet, hope to discontinue all indirect feeding in a few days.

The Pope, confined to his apartment by a serious gastric ailment for 44 days, started taking small amounts of solids last week and has been daily increasing the volume.

Vatican sources say the solid foods are slowly restoring his strength.

Lansing, Mich. — (AP) — The Michigan legislature Tuesday night passed a bill to ban the showing of people drinking beer and wine in television advertising. It now goes to the state senate. Representative John J. McCune, a Republican who sponsored the bill, said the purpose is to give children the idea that drinking is socially acceptable. It was not intended to end beer and wine advertising on television.

Sudan Parliament Opening Session

Khartoum—(Reuters)—The Sudan's first parliament session, ringed by jittery soldiers, opened in Khartoum today.

The Parliament buildings were protected by barbed wire. Troops were on the alert and police patrolled the capital to prevent a repetition of the March 1 riot which killed 34 persons and forced postponement of the parliamentary opening.

The Sudenese legislators heard a pledge by Governor-General Sir Robert Howe to build up a Sudanese army for the new African state capable of resisting "any outside aggression."

Howe said the Sudanese interim government will "spare no efforts" to insure the country's safety after British and Egyptian forces withdraw.

IT MAY BE YOUR LIVER

If life's not worth living it may be your liver!

It's a fact! It takes up to two pints of liver bile a day to keep your digestive tract in top shape! If your liver bile is not flowing freely your food may not digest . . . gas bloats up your stomach . . . you feel constipated and all the fun and sparkle go out of life. That's when you need mild gentle Carter's Little Liver Pills. These famous vegetable pills help stimulate the flow of liver bile. Soon your digestion starts functioning properly and you feel that happy days are here again! Don't ever stay sunk. Always keep Carter's Little Liver Pills on hand. 37¢ at your druggist.

BABY'S COLDS

Help Nature To Fight Them Off

Medical Science denies there is any such thing as a cure for colds—only Nature herself can do it. So when baby's sniffles, or stuffy breathing warn you of a cold's presence—cooperate at once with Nature.

See that baby is kept warm, gets plenty of sleep and take extra care that the bowels are thoroughly cleared of harmful wastes. To do this without upsetting baby's whole system and further weakening it, try Baby's Own Tablets. Mild, yet act promptly in getting rid of irritating materials that make baby restless and feverish.

One Nova Scotia Mother says: "My baby of 16 months caught a nasty cold so I tried Baby's Own Tablets and she threw this cold off quicker than ever before. I certainly am for Baby's Own Tablets from now on." Equally good for restlessness and peevishness resulting from irregularity at teething time, for constipation, digestive upsets and other minor infant troubles. Get a package today at drugstores.

Women Of Protestant Churches Hold Day Of Prayer Service At Scotstown

Scotstown, March 10. — On Friday afternoon, March 5, at three o'clock, the women of the three Protestant denominations gathered at the St. Alban's Anglican Church for the World Day of Prayer service.

Mrs. Basil Woolley opened the service with a prayer. All joined in a few moments of silent prayer in honor of the late Dr. Sarah Chakko, principal of the "Isabella Thoburn College," at Lucknow, India, who wrote the service form.

The three presidents of the W.M.S. societies, Mrs. Basil Woolley, Mrs. Alex Murray and Mrs. Fraser Mayhew, took charge of the service.

The Canadian Girls In Training and their leader, Mrs. Charles MacRae, were invited to take part.

Prayers were given by Mrs. C. Baker, Mrs. Roy Desruisseaux, Mrs. Philip Boy, Mrs. A. R. MacDonald, Mrs. Angus A. MacKenzie and Mrs. Ross MacDonald.

Miss Judy Parsons and Beatrice MacLeod distributed the leaflets and Miss Fay MacDonald and Patsy Gordon took up the collection.

The service was closed with all repeating the benediction.

Mrs. Woolley extended an invitation to all present to stay for tea which was served by the St. Alban's ladies in the hall. Mrs. P. Boy, on behalf of the St. Paul's and St. Andrew's ladies, thanked the St. Alban's Ladies Guild for their kind hospitality.

Mrs. Charles MacRae thanked the ladies for inviting the C.G.I.T. group to take part in the service and the refreshments.

ST. ANDREW'S W. A.

The St. Andrew's Women's Association met at the home of the president, Mrs. Donald MacIver, on Thursday evening, March 4, with Mrs. William Ladd for the assisting hostess. Eight members answered the roll call.

Mrs. Ross MacDonald conducted the devotional period. The subject of the lesson was "The Way of The Cross." Scripture reading was taken from St. Luke IX, and the hymn was "Take Up Thy Cross."

There being no business from the previous meeting, the new business consisted of plans for a food sale on April 9. A used clothing sale will be held the latter part of April. All members were reminded to bring in their talent money, at the May meeting.

The visiting committee reported being active, visiting sick and shut-in friends. Mrs. W. M. Ladd acted as secretary, in the absence of Mrs. D. Waters.

The meeting closed by all repeating the "Mizpah Benediction."

Refreshments were served in the dining room by candle-light. The table was attractively set, where Mrs. Ladd poured tea.

LEGION AUXILIARY

The members of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion held a very successful food sale on Saturday afternoon, March 6, in Mr. John M. Morrison's vacant store, on Main Street.

When the door opened at three o'clock the counter was laden with pies, cakes, doughnuts, cookies, bread, etc. Within a very few minutes many happy patrons were wending their way home with their choice purchases.

A STANLEY PARTY

Mrs. George MacRae entertained several ladies at her home.

Mr. Eugene Bernard, of Cookshire, displayed his Stanley products, and a very pleasant evening was enjoyed by all.

Those who won prizes were: Mrs. D. D. MacLeod, Mrs. A. MacLennan, Mrs. George MacRae, and Mrs. Angus Morrison.

Refreshments were served by the hostess.

DINNER PARTY HELD

Mrs. Lewis Elger entertained at her home, on Wednesday evening, March 3, in honor of her brother, James Armstrong, of Eastend, Sask., who has been her guest for the past five weeks.

Dinner was served to twelve friends and relatives, and a very happy social evening was enjoyed.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. G. Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. Alex MacDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Lyfred Elger, Mrs. Mary Smith, of Canterbury; Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Morrison, of Eastend, Sask., and Mrs. Percy Colburn, of Lowell, Mass.

SAMBA CLUB MEETS

The Samba Club held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. F. Buck, on Tuesday evening, March 2.

Samba was played at several tables, and a very pleasant evening was enjoyed.

Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by her daughter, Miss Margaret Buck.

CARD PLAYERS ENTERTAINED

Mrs. Harvey MacRae entertained at five tables of "500" including the members of the recent "500" marathon group, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Goodin.

The prize for high ladies' score went to Mrs. Russell Morrison and the gentlemen's to Dr. E. G. Henry.

Refreshments were served. The hostess was assisted in serving by the Misses Miriam MacRae, Ann Goodin and Joan Gougeon, of Montreal, Kay MacLeod and Marilyn Goodin.

The highlight of the evening was the presentation of two birthday cakes, one to Mrs. K. R. MacLeod, made by Mrs. Goodin, and one to Mr. Harvey MacRae, made by Mrs. E. G. Henry.

With Miss Kay MacLeod at the piano, the guests all joined in singing "Happy Birthday" to the guests of honor.

The interpretation of the birthday cake favors by Ann Goodin added to the fun.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. Arnold MacKenzie entertained twelve young boy friends of her son, Lorne, on the occasion of his tenth birthday.

All enjoyed a happy time playing outdoor games.

Mrs. MacKenzie served a delicious tea assisted by Mrs. W. S. MacCaskill.

Master Lorne was the recipient of many lovely gifts which he opened and they were admired by all.

At the close of the party each guest was presented with a favor.

General Notes

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Forbes and children, Bobbie and Jo-Anne, of Lennoxville, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold MacKenzie.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ladd left on Monday, March 8, for Valentine, Arizona, where they will spend a month's holiday visiting Mr. Ladd's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Ladd, and family.

Miss Margaret Johnson, of Montreal, was a guest of her brother in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Martin.

The Messrs. Donald MacIver, Malcolm MacDonald and Murdo MacLeod, spent a week-end in Montreal.

Mrs. A. J. Hunt and Mrs. Wilbert Buchanan, of Bury, were guests of Mrs. W. S. MacCaskill, and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold MacKenzie.

Misses Shirley Morrison, Helen Robidas and Shirley Robidas, of O'Sullivan's Business College in Sherbrooke, spent a week-end at their respective homes here.

Mrs. Percy Colburn, of Lowell, Mass., spent a week with her mother, Mrs. Lewis Elger.

Mrs. W. E. Walker was a guest of friends in Montreal.

Mrs. Percy Coates, of Gould Station, was calling on Mrs. Lillian Churchill. Friends of Mrs. Churchill will be sorry to learn that she had the misfortune to fall in her room.

Mrs. W. S. MacCaskill and Mr. and Mrs. John C. Morrison, were in East Angus calling at the home of Mrs. A. Beliveau.

Mr. William Paquin, accompanied Mr. James Armstrong to New York, where they will visit relatives.

Mrs. Blanche Hunter and granddaughter, little Miss Caroline MacDonald, have returned home from Winchester, Ont., where they spent a very pleasant holiday with Mrs. Hunter's father, Mr. William Leslie.

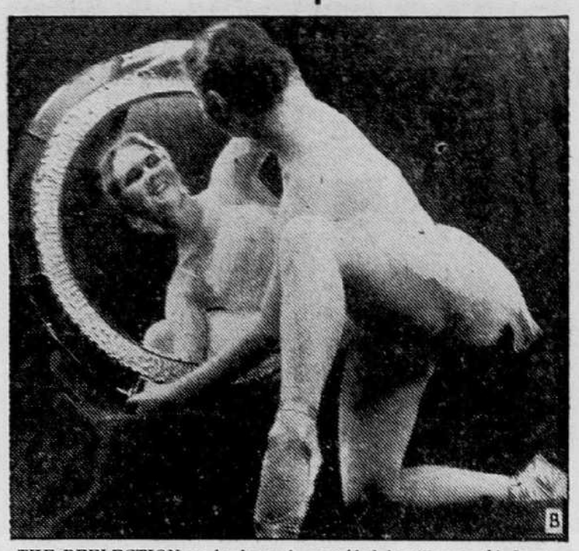

Miss Helen Robidas accompanied by Master Michael Johnson, of Snerbrooke, spent a week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Desruisseaux.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Elger, and Mrs. Lyfred Elger accompanied Mrs. Percy Colburn to Newport, Vt., on her way home to Lowell, Mass.

Miss Mary Lou Ladd, student of the Sherbrooke High School, was a week-end guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Ladd.

Mr. and Mrs. George Woolley and daughter, Dianna, were week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Nicholson, on Albert Street.

Business Gets Help from Ballet

THE REFLECTION on business is provided by 17-year-old Janet Smith, a budding English ballerina, who lends her art and charm to call attention to a mirror to be displayed with thousands of other products of Britain at this year's British Industries Fair, to be held simultaneously in London and Birmingham, May 3-14.

GEORGEVILLE—

The St. George's Guild met at the home of Mrs. George Hornby. The meeting was opened with prayer, and business was transacted. After which work was distributed. A very delicious tea was served.

Week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Robinson were Mr. Clarence Robinson, Miss Audrey Haytes and Mr. Llewelyn Robinson, of Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. Avery Maskell, of Montreal, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Robinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Courtland Drew, of Abbotsford, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Drew.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Judd and Miss Charlotte Judd, of Magog, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Dustin.

Mr. Richard Bachelder, of Montreal, spent a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bachelder.

Mr. Allison Dustin is spending an indefinite time with his sister, Miss Eunice Dustin, at Rock Island.

Mr. J. G. Cochrane has returned home, after his visit in Scotland.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Ramage and little Debbie, of Sherbrooke, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Robinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Drew, of Granby, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Drew.

AUSTIN—

The annual meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. William Merchant, with Mrs. B. Morley as joint hostess. Cloth was distributed to be made up for the annual garden party in August. All the officers were re-elected and the same conveners were appointed for another term. Two raffles were held, one of which was won by Mrs. Rolland and the other by Mrs. L. Cochrane. Visitors present were Mrs. M. Dufresne, of Sorel, and Mrs. Gustin and Mrs. Smithers, of Magog. The serving of lunch brought the meeting to a close.

ALUMINUM BOTTLE CAPS

in the province of Quebec

Leclerc Dairy is always searching for ways and means to bring you better dairy products. As a firm which pioneered many dairy innovations in the province of Quebec, Leclerc Dairy is now proud to present their aluminum bottle cap.

In the future, all of the products of Leclerc Dairy will use the aluminum cap which provides the maximum protection to the contents and to the pouring lip of bottle.
With the protection of aluminum, you can be sure of:

(1) Sweet, pure milk.
Dust, dirt, germs, etc., are locked out.
(2) Cleanliness, for aluminum milk caps are manufactured and applied to the bottles without being touched by human hands.

Be safe, be sure, with milk protected by aluminum bottle caps.

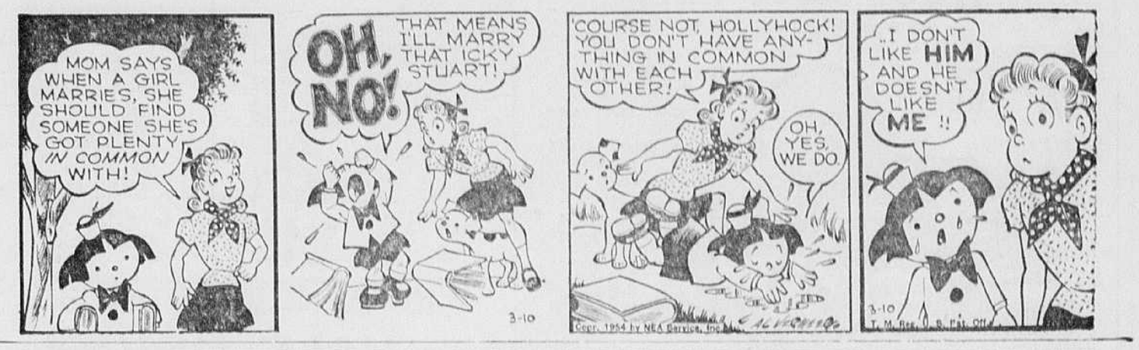

For the best milk — in the best bottle — with the best cap — use LECLERC DAIRY milk.

Two Well Attended Variety Shows Are Presented By Local Talent At Granby

Granby, March 9 — A variety show was presented in the Granby High School hall on Friday and Saturday nights before full houses on both evenings. The cast of players was entirely of local talent and all took part were worthy of mention.

The first number on the program was a one-act play entitled, "A Mad Breakfast", a comedy of most unusual nature. Miss Smith, played by Mrs. Hughes-Games, was an outstanding character, completely, lost in the realms of the stage; Mr. Roberts, played by Ward Smith, was credited with a constant under tone of laughter throughout the play, his sole interest being that of eating, which he never ceased to do; Lizzie, played by Norah Haigh, was enacted especially well, this character was a difficult portrayal and without a doubt was perfectly cast; Mr. Jones played by Jack Leslie took the lead and did well, remembering his lines and there were many. Mr. Long, portrayed by Art Newman, was a strong character, combatting most unpleasant circumstance.

The curtain fell with all those who took part, ten in all, being given full credit for their efforts.

The play was directed by John Turpin and prompted by Pierre Gagnon and G. E. Waugh.

During an intermission which followed the play home made candy was sold by students of the school.

Then an excellent minstrel show was staged under the direction of Mr. Dunsmore, principal of the Granby High School.

There was a chorus of twenty-one voices, whose singing was greatly enjoyed. Costumes were most appropriate, and make-up, excellent.

End men were: Bill Flack, Bob Anderson, Howard Laurie, Bill Harvey, Dick Shutt and Mac Dunsmore and their performance was nothing short of professional. The interlocutor, was played by Harry Vandergrift, and Mrs. E. Davidge was the pianist, her talented contribution being a great asset to the production.

The principal soloists were Howard Laurie, Malcolm Nelthorp, Mrs. L. Kavanagh, William Harvey and E. Davidge.

Minstrels were, Anne McComisky, Daisy Kavanagh, Jean Samworth, Carol Morris, Shirley Marchessault, Elaine Payne, Bill Lewis, John Grothe, Ernie Davidge, Bob Hughes-Games, John Sterling, Mac Nelthorpe, Roy Smith, Gordon Miller and Reg. Stephenson.

The convener of the show was William Solomon, and other members of the committees were Mrs. Saffron, Mrs. Monks, Mrs. MacDonald, Mr. English, Mr. Costly, Mr. Sterling, Mr. Newman. Mr. Vandergrift, Mrs. Gagnon, Mrs. Vandergrift, Mrs. Culvert, Mr. Graham, Mrs. J. Miner, Mr. and Mrs. Newman and Mrs. Kruse.

Those who took part in this presentation wish to thank the following companies; Kent Lumber Co. Ltd., Kurt Mutual Industries, Ltd., James A. Wright and Sons, Ltd., Granby Industrial Supplies Ltd., Miner Rubber Co., and Burlington Mills.

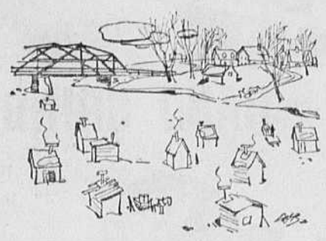

All proceeds realized from this event will go toward the purchase of a projector for the High School.

Bringing Up Baby

Hints Collected by Mrs. Dan Gerber (Mother of 5)

March is here . . . bringing promises of another lovely spring. But the weather is still fickle! So when you're fresh-airing baby, take an extra sweater or blanket in case the temperature topples. A sizeable square of sheet plastic, tucked in carriage or stroller makes an excellent "protector" if sudden showers surprise you.

* * *

Weather change catch you short of drying space? Just turn baby's play pen on its side for extra rack room.

* * *

Vitamin C . . . easy as 1-2-3. No squeezing, no straining to give baby the precious Vitamin C he needs every day. Gerber's Strained Orange Juice is specially processed for babies. It's made from tree-ripened oranges, selected for uniform Vitamin C content and the mild, fresh-fruit flavor tykes take to. Carefully pasteurized and finely strained so it can be fed from bottle, cup or spoon.

* * *

Cover-up! If you do not use all the orange juice, or any baby foods, at one feeding, leave the remainder right in the container. Just cover well before placing in your refrigerator. If you don't have Gerber's handy can covers, a bit of wax paper and a rubber band will serve nicely.

* * *

Five to go! Gerber's five famous Baby Cereals are all pre-cooked and ready to serve. Simply add milk, formula or other liquids to get a smooth, easy-to-swallow texture. Each one has a delicate, but distinctive flavor pleasing to unawakened taste buds. And all five are enriched with blood-building iron, bone-building calcium and the important B-Vitamins baby's growing body needs. For variety, rotate: Rice, Barley, Oatmeal, Wheat, and Mixed Cereal.

* * *

Important! When first introducing cereal to your eager little eater, try a soupy mixture at first so the texture will seem more familiar. Increase the thickness of the cereal gradually as your baby learns to swallow.

MARRIAGES

BELLINGHAM—DANDURAND

St. Armand, Que., March 10. — On Saturday morning, March 6, the marriage was solemnized in the Roman Catholic Church, St. Armand, of Miss Gisele Dandurand, and Mr. Frank Bellingham.

A reception was held for members of the immediate families after the ceremony, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Dandurand. On the Tuesday evening preceding the marriage, a very delightful shower was given for Miss Dandurand by the ladies of the village, when she was presented with a purse of money, accompanied by the best wishes of all her friends here.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

CATHOLIC WOMEN'S LEAGUE OF CANADA
Sherbrooke Senior Subdivision

The March meeting of the Catholic Women's League, senior subdivision was held Wednesday, March 3, in the Canon Fisette Memorial Library. The president, Mrs. B. W. Murray, was in the chair and opened the meeting with the League Prayer, the Prayer for the Pope and prayers for the souls of Mrs. L. E. Codere, Mrs. E. R. Reilly, Mrs. A. Seeds, mother of Mrs. B. N. Holtham, and Mrs Francois Roberge, mother of Mrs. W. W. Noel.

Mrs. Murray dwelt on the loss suffered by the league due to the death of Mrs. Codere, unusually gifted and devoted member of the subdivision. Mrs. Murray said, "I feel she is very near us and will help us to go ahead in spite of our sorrow, spurred by her inspiring league song, 'Carry On,' befitting for this very occasion. In memory of her we shall sing 'Holy God We Praise Thy Name' at all meetings."

The president congratulated Miss Gladys Mullins, the recipient of a life membership from the Sherbrooke diocese of the C.W.L.

Preceding her report on spiritual activities, Miss Mullins thanked the president and the members for the great honor bestowed on her, in which they had all taken an active part. The celebration, she added would have been perfect had it not been overshadowed by the passing of our dearly beloved Mrs. Codere, who was to have written a song for the occasion.

Miss Mullins reported flowers would be placed on the altar of Our Lady, on special feasts during the Marian Year. She announced the corporate Communion for members of the league and women of the parish on March 14; and that Rev. Arnold Toner, C.S.C., would be speaking every Sunday at 2 p.m., during Lent.

Mrs. F. E. S. Shelley, convener, reported on visits to ill in hospital, homes and the Sacred Heart Home, as follows: Sherbrooke Hospital 58; St. Vincent de Paul 18; Hotel Dieu 8; Sanatorium 20; Sacred Heart Home, weekly; private homes 2. Votive lamps for nine patients.

Miss Ave Walsh gave a report on social service as follows: nine orders groceries; one wood; 30 quarts milk. Also delivered to needy families were 2 sets children's underwear, 1 pair overshoes, 1 pair flannellette blankets, 10 yards sheeting, (new); 1 pair sheets and pillow cases (used) and 1 case used clothing; $5 for fire emergency.

Mrs. Victor Chicoine, of Ascot, proposed for membership by Mrs. F. O. Beatty, convener, was accepted.

Mrs. Shelley reported on collections in favor of the Campaign for the Blind, undertaken by Catholic Women's League conveners: Mrs. O. Goyette, Vimy Street, in charge of several streets in her vicinity, Mrs. Shelley, Mrs. B. Lecours, Mrs. L. P. Leveque, Mrs. C. W. Clark, Miss E. Boisvert, the total amount being, $408.19.

Citizenship convener, Mrs. M. W. D. Ferguson, stated the cards advertizing hours of Masses, on Sundays, were being renovated.

In thanking Mrs. Ferguson for her efforts in this connection, the president voiced regret that she would be leaving Sherbrooke at the end of the month and the appreciation of the splendid work Mrs. Ferguson had done in her convenership, and several endeavors in which she had assisted. Mrs. Murray said the loss to the league would be one of a very valuable member.

The sum of $75 was voted for priestly vocations in St. Patrick's parish; and $5 towards expenses of St. Patrick's Day celebration.

Mrs. A. L. Vallee, C.W.L. convener for work at Cancer Clinic, reported the following members had attended, on February 3: Mrs. B. W. Murray, Mrs. R. N. Harvey, Mrs. E. Wiles, Mrs. E. J. Wolfe, Mrs. Shelley, Mrs. W. E. Chapman, Mrs. B. Lecours, Mrs. J. R. Simms, Mrs. R. G. Pouliot, Mrs Ferguson, Mrs. Bertram Phelan, Mrs. J. N. Fuller, Mrs. E. Morin and Mrs. Vallee.

The above ladies made 780 surgical dressings, 97 17 by 24 bed pads, 180 covers for pads, from old cotton.

The president announced tag days would take place April 2 and 3, and rummage sale, April 23.

At the request of the president, Mrs. Arthur Harris, secretary, read rules governing nominations, following which Mrs. E. J. Wolfe was elected convener, other members elected on the committee, being: Mrs. A. L. Vallee, Mrs. R. N. Harvey, Miss Ave Walsh and Miss Priscilla Tuite.

The president specified that ballots are to be mailed to Mrs. E. J. Wolfe, Belvidere Street, South, before Wednesday, March 17, and ballots without signature will be void.

"Holy God We Praise Thy Name" brought the meeting to a close, following which, Miss Arlene Hand, president of the Sherbrooke diocesan Council, repeated the report of the national convention, previously given to the executive, for the benefit of all members of the subdivision.

The speaker was introduced by the president and thanked by Miss Yvette Campbell.

STANSTEAD EAST—

Bride-Elect Is Feted By Friends

Stanbridge East, March 10 — Miss Joyce Fortin, a popular bride-to-be, was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Soules and family, on February 27.

At the close of a friendly evening's fun, refreshments were served on a lace covered, candle-lighted table.

A corsage and gift were presented to the guest of honor, by Mr. Eric Irwin, on behalf of the guests present.

On leaving Miss Fortin graciously expressed her thanks to all.

JR. GUILD PANCAKE SUPPER

The pancake supper held under the auspices of the Junior Guild in the St. James Church Hall was most enjoyable. Among those attending were several from Bedford and Dunham, and a good representation from this vicinity.

General Notes

The March meeting of the Municipal Council was held on Monday evening, in the council room with Mayor R. Fortin in the chair and all council members present.

The funeral service of Mr. Elphege Goudreau, was held at Ste. Jeanne d'Arc Roman Catholic Church, with many relatives and friends from Dunham, Cowansville and Stanbridge East attending. Interment was made in the Bedford Cemetery.

Dr. and Mrs. Bruce Baker and children, of Macdonald College at Ste. Anne de Bellevue, were guests of their parents for a week-end.

Mr. Stuart L. Hodge, of Thetford Mines, and Miss June Hodge, of the Royal Victoria Hospital in Montreal, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hodge, over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Gage, of Ormstown, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. Gage.

Mr. Small, of Thetford Mines, was in town for a day.

Mrs. Edison Johnson has returned from the B.M.P.M. Hospital, at Sweetsburg, where she went for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin and family, of St. Lambert, were guests of relatives here.

Mr. Paige Knight, of St. Lambert, returned to Montreal, accompanied by Mrs. M. Bullard, and his mother, who was in Cowansville, returned home with him.

The members of the Red Cross Society met in the United Church Hall with a good attendance. This meeting was called for the purpose of tying quilts. Two quilts were completed. Mrs. Edna Corey and Mrs. C. Deschamp are on the quilting committee. The society hopes to meet every month during this year.

Canvassers for the Boy Scouts are receiving donations for the fund to assist in carrying on the work of that organization. At the United Church service, Rev. F. F. Duncan referred to Baden Powell, the organizer of the first group.

The Womens Institute had a very successful food sale in Hodge's store, on Saturday.

ST. MARY'S—

Mrs. H. McQueeney, of Auburn, N.Y., has been called here by the illness of her mother, Mrs. Thomas Morrissey.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Paquette and family visited relatives in Mansonville.

Mr. William Long, of Waterloo, was a week-end guest of Mrs. A. Long.

Mrs. Claude Goyette is home from the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital, in Sherbrooke, where she underwent an operation.

The Proulx families visited Miss B. Proulx, who is seriously ill in the St. Vincent de Paul, in Sherbrooke.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Buzzell, of Sherbrooke, and Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Nelson, of Melboro, were guests of Miss S. Morrissey and Mr. J. Morrissey.

Cookshire W. A. Holds Meeting

Cookshire, March 10 — The Woman's Association of Trinity United Church held its bi-monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Osborne Lake, with a fair attendance of members present.

Mrs. J. Vogell was in the chair and opened the meeting in regular form. Mrs. Earl Parker read the minutes of the previous meeting.

Tentative plans for new ways of raising funds were made, and Mrs. E. Waldron distributed material to be made up into articles for sale.

Following adjournment, the hostess served delicious refreshments. Miss Louisa Elliott will be hostess for the next meeting.

General Notes

The many friends of the Rev. Albert Hinton were shocked to hear of his sudden death, and extend deepest sympathy to Mrs. Hinton and family.

The Rev. Mr. Secord, of Bury, was in charge of the Ash Wednesday evening service at St. Peter's Church.

World's Day Of Prayer Held In Trinity Church

The World's Day of Prayer was held in Trinity United Church, Friday afternoon, March 5. The program prepared by the late Dr. Sarah Chakko, of India, was followed.

Ladies representing missionary societies from churches in the city who took part in the service, included Mrs. Z. W. Griffith, Plymouth United Church; Mrs. P. M. Robins, St. Peter's Church; Mrs. George Stevenson, Presbyterian; Mrs. J. Wark, Church of the Advent; Mrs. A. Hill, Grace Chapel; Mrs. George Heath, St. Paul's; Mrs. B. Noble, Sangster Memorial; Mrs. F. C. Amery, Baptist Church; Mrs. W. E. Hodge, Trinity Church.

Mrs. H. Welsh was the special speaker, her topic being "That They May Have Life." Mrs. Welsh mentioned the fact that Dr. Chakko of India, who prepared the World's Day of Prayer program, had passed away and expressed sympathy for her mother and family. Mrs. Welsh spoke of God's great gift of spiritual light, and how this gift of light is so badly needed all over the world. Many millions have no way of knowing about it, unless we, in this country make it possible for missionaries to tell of this light.

Mrs. J. Gilbert sang the solo "Spirit of God Descend Upon Our Hearts."

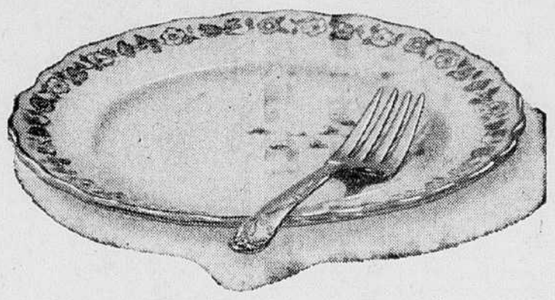

Mrs. J. Hazle, Mrs. K. A. Burbank, Miss Robina Stevenson and Mrs. Owen Williams took up the collection.

WARDEN—

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Chamberlain and son, Arthur, of Stanstead, and Mrs. Clara Chamberlain of Waterloo, were Sunday guests of Mr. F. H. Bowker and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Bowker and family. Mrs. Nelson Langevin, of Waterloo also spent a day at the same home.

Friends were sorry to hear that Master Freddie Bowker, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Bowker, who is ill with the whooping cough, was taken to the Alexandra Hospital, Montreal, with a badly burned knee.

One-Man Zoo

Energy Of Granby Mayor Leads To Remarkable Development

Granby, Que. —(CP)— It really isn't a misnomer to speak of Granby's one-man zoo. Virtually single-handed Mayor Horace Boivin has brought it about, and soon the zoo will rank second only to the provincial establishment at Charlesbourg, near Quebec City.

The dynamic mayor, who thinks and acts in terms of his lively city of 25,000, had childhood dreams of a zoo for Granby. Now they are a reality, and by next summer the zoo population should reach 100 or more.

The nice thing about it is that acquisition of the animals and birds hasn't cost the city a cent. Also, the mayor's zeal was contagious and business firms have pledged themselves to donate food for the lifetime of their specially sponsored zoo residents. The land itself, about 80 acres, was donated by Notre Dame parish.

In his travels about the world the business man-mayor has made Granby and zoo almost synonymous in his enthusiastic conversations with almost everyone he met.

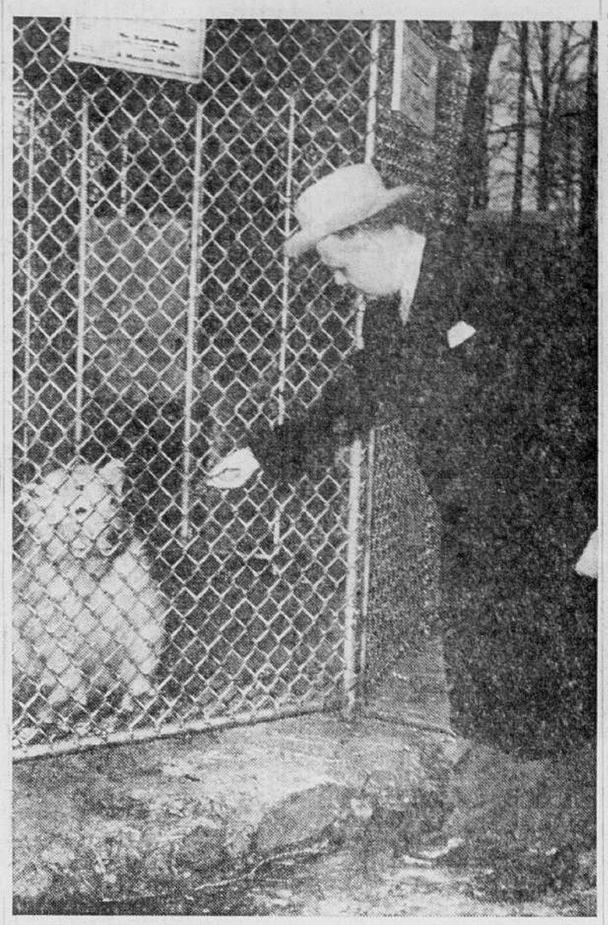

Most of the animals are in barns for the winter but new buildings are being erected—the plans donated by local architects—and among new arrivals expected soon are two elephants. They are gifts from India.

Lima, Peru, pledged a pair of honey bears and penguins; Santiago, Chile, one pair of animals, species yet undecided.

London's famous Regent Park Zoo will send along a pair of black oil swans. Two light brown bears, offspring of Himalayan animals, will be donated by Zurich, Switzerland.

The Berlin zoo will decide on a couple of animals to send Antwerp, Belgium, will ship a pair of wild bears. From Egypt will come two camels.

The zoo's polar bear will be joined by another from Churchill, Man., through courtesy of Capt. Pat Campbell, whose father, Dr. James Campbell, is curator of the Toronto zoo. Dr. Campbell, honorary president of the Granby Zoological Society, is contributing a pair of barbary sheep. The Charlesbourg zoo has pledged a llama.

BUILT CITY'S ZOO—Mayor Horace Boivin of Granby, Que., offers a titbit to a young polar bear, recent addition to Granby's famous zoo which Mayor Boivin has built up almost single-handedly. In his trips around the world he has had promises of elephants from India, honey bears from Peru, swans from England and baboons from Toronto, more than 100 animals for the zoo, and all free. (CP Photo)

Calgary has made contributions —a pair of coyotes and a hawk. The KLM Royal Dutch Airlines, in co-operation with the city of Amsterdam, will send either tigers or leopards. Lars Christiansen of the Christiansen South African-Canadian Steamship Lines has given two zebras.

Toronto became one of the largest single contributors when Mayor Alan Lamport gave Granby a pair of baboons. The Winnipeg Lions Club contributed a lion cub.

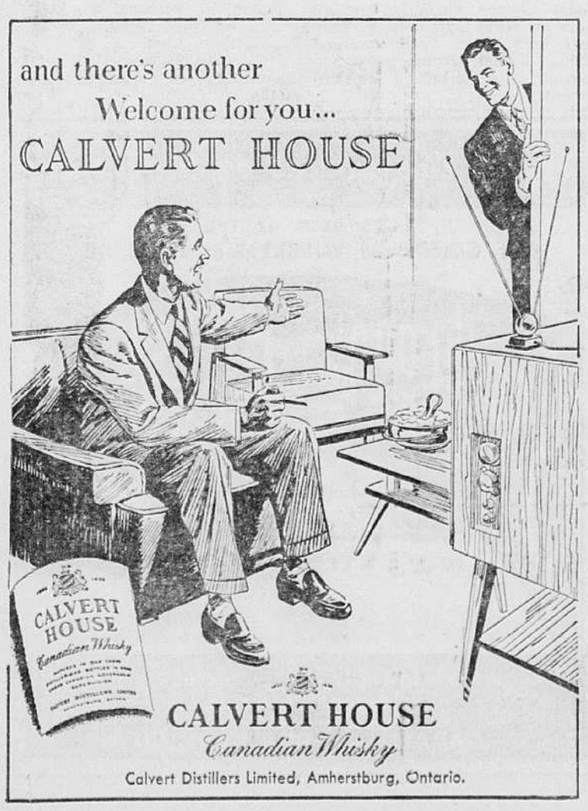

The zoo came into existence almost unnoticed in 1943 when the national parks of Canada gave Granby two North American bison. But the real growth began in 1946 and since then the mayor and his fellow-townsmen have become constantly more ambitious.

Worship Service For Youth Held At Cookshire

Cookshire(March 10 — On Friday afternoon, March 5, in the auditorium of the High School, a "Service of Worship for Youth", in conjunction with the Women's Day of Prayer, was conducted by Mrs. H. V. Burns for the girls of the school.

The guest speaker was Mrs. S. J. Bennett, leader of the Girls' Auxiliary of St. Peter's Church. After a brief outline of the progress of the World Day of Prayer, Mrs. Bennett pointed out that this day comes at the beginning of Lent a time to examine ourselves, and children require this as much as the adults.

With two short stories, she showed the desirability of overcoming two very flagrant, human tendencies. First, the practice of finding fault with others, secondly the gullibility of people to believe the worst of others from gossipy rumours. She also gave a short account of the life of the late Dr. Sarah Chakko, of India, who had just recently died, but who had helped to prepare the service for the World Day of Prayer.

The collection, amounting to $4.40, was taken up by Betty MacRae and Joan Cook. The specially prepared programme was followed. Those taking part in the prayers and responses were Elaine Kerr, Dawn Gilbert, Joan Laberee, Ardyth Painter, Helen Cook. Mrs. D. MacRae acted as pianist for the program.

A very impressive candle ceremony was put on by the girls. A picture of a lotus flower was placed on a table, together with an open Bible and a single tall white unlighted taper. As the closing lines of an appropriate poem were recited the taper was lighted by Charlotte Cork, symbolizing, as pointed out in the poem, that the life of youth should be as placid as the lotus flower sparkling in the sunlight, and that purity and wisdom are desirable traits for young people to have; the burning candle should show the true way of life that God expects one to travel.

General Notes

Miss Edith Gill, nurse-in-training at the Catherine Booth Hospital, Montreal, was a recent guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Gill.

Cheque Presented By Hospital Club At Sweetsburg

Sweetsburg, March 10 — On the afternoon of March 4, the Sweetsburg Ladies Hospital Club met in the Staff House and presented a cheque of $740 for the furnishings of a semi-private room in the new Brome-Missisquoi-Perkins Memorial Hospital.

Dr. W. S. Rodger, chairman of furnishings committee for the new hospital was present to receive the cheque which was presented by the president of the club, Mrs. H. Strange.

Among those present were all the members of the executive of the club, Mrs. J. N. Wood, treasurer, Mrs. N. M. Ingalls, secretary and Mrs. J. J. Bertrand, vice-president, also the Superintendent of the Hospital Mrs. Elizabeth Paintin, R.N.

This being the annual meeting, the president and vice-president, were re-elected, but the secretary and treasurer resigned. Filling their places are Mrs. Stanley Peron, as secretary and Mrs. Hugh Wilson as treasurer.

The surprise package was given by Mrs. Strange and Mrs. J. J. Bertrand. There were 15 members present in spite of the March storm.

General Notes

Mrs. N. M. Ingalls spent a few days in Montreal over the week-end of March 7, with her daughter, Mrs. William Ralph Mr. Ralph and daughter Deborah.

Mrs. Roland Gibson, of Sutton, called on her cousin, Mrs. Stanley Peron. It is regrettable that Mrs. Hilton Smith had the misfortune to fall in the yard of their newly acquired farm on the Knowlton highway, breaking two bones in her ankle. She is a patient in the Sweetsburg Hospital, under the care of Dr. M. C. Mooney.

Sympathy is extended to Messrs. Raymond and Carlton McMahon and their families in the death of their mother, Mrs. John P. McMahon, of West Shefford. The funeral took place in St. Francis Xavier Church there on March 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McClintock, of Sutton, were in town on March 2, to consult Dr. R. R. Boright.

ASBESTOS—

Mr. T. F. Ward, Sr., passed away on Monday at his home in Ste. Anne de Bellevue. Mr. Fred Ward received the news and left that noon. Mr. Ward had been in failing health for sometime. Mr. Ward, Sr had been a Burser at Macdonald College and also served at Upper Canada College. Besides his son T. Frederick Ward, Jr., there are left to mourn his loss his widow, a son, Wallace, and two daughters, Margaret and Kathleen; also two grandsons, John and Robert.

Sincere sympathy is extended to Mr. Charles Townsley, who received the news of his father's death, in Belfast Ireland.

Sincere sympathy is extended to Mr. E. W. Currie who received the news that his father, Mr. F. N. Currie of Fredericton, N.B., died on Tuesday evening. Mr. Currie has left to be with his mother for the funeral.

The many friends of Mr. A. H. Smith, Panneton Street, are sorry to learn that he has been stricken with pneumonia.

Mr. Norman Breton, of Montreal, was in town over the week-end to attend the operetta and visit with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Breton, on Panneton Street.

The Asbestos Factory Office played hockey against the Montreal sales office in the Richmond Arena, on Saturday, February 27th The final score was 11-1 in favour of Asbestos. After a rather one sided game the two teams adjourned to the Iroquois Club, in Asbestos for supper. Mr. J. E. Morrison, plant manager, joined the Group to welcome the visitors.

A return bout is planned for March, in Montreal, with the Montreal Office playing host to the Asbestos group.

The Board of Stewards of the Asbestos United Church held a board meeting in the church hall on Thursday evening at 7:30 p.m. The chairman was Mr. J. L. Cowdrey, and Mr. George Flack the secretary. Many items of business were brought forward and discussed.

Mr. Cameron Grainger and Mr. T. Altpeter, of Toronto, Ont., spent the week-end at their respective homes. Both are spending some time at the Asbestos Plant studying the cost data system for C.P.M.

Mrs. George Heath has been in Sherbrooke at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Reed. Mrs. Heath was called there due to illness.

The Lenten services in the All Saints Anglican Church started on Thursday evening, at 7 o'clock. Rev. Guy Marsten has sent out folders with the program of services for this period.

Mrs. Edith Boyd, organist, of the Asbestos United Church has received the Easter Cantata music and plans are being formulated for rehearsals in the very near future. All members of the choir are asked to turn out to these rehearsals.

Mrs. A. H. Smith, who was a patient in the Canadian Johns Manville Hospital, has returned to her home. Her friends hope that the severe burns she received recently have healed.

Mrs. Harry Ingrey spent sometime in Danville looking after her youngest daughter, Mrs. M. Montgomery, (Doreen), who was very ill with pleurisy. Mrs. Montgomery is able to be about again.

WATERLOO—

Mr. Joseph McGovern and Miss Annie McGovern, of Warden, were calling on Mrs. A. Henry Smith, when here to attend the funeral service for Mrs. Charles Allen, which took place on Friday, and later called on Miss E. Mairs.

Benefit Party By North Hatley Teachers, Pupils

North Hatley, March 10 — The teachers and pupils of Grades one, two and three, of the North Hatley Consolidated School, gave a benefit card party at the Community Hall.

Mrs. Pike and Mrs. Fearon, the teachers, were assisted by Miss Hazel Cinnamon. The parents supplied the refreshments and prizes, and the children themselves made the attractive tallies, with a different design for each table.

The boys of the three grades set up the card tables. Master Paul St. Pierre was the very capable little cashier for the occasion.

The little girls, wearing dainty aprons over their tunics, served the cups of tea without a spill, and passed the sandwiches and cakes with smiling solicitude.

Mrs. Kenneth Dean poured tea at a table covered with a lace cloth and decorated with beautiful spring flowers.

Bridge was played at eight tables, and the first prize was won by Mrs. Eric Schiller, of Hillcrest, and the consolation prize went to Mrs. Robert Brown.

In Canasta, the prizes were won by Mrs. Elburn Bampton and Mrs. Gerald Taylor.

There were seven tables of "500" at which the first prize was won by Mrs. Robert Vaughan, and the consolation by Mrs. Edith Woodward.

While the adults played cards the children played bingo.

The party was for the benefit of little Stephen Lindop, and all present were delighted that the affair was much a great success.

A great many guests stayed to help tidy up and wash dishes.

All felt that Mrs. Pike and Mrs Fearon, as well as their young pupils, were to be congratulated upon the success of their kind project.

CAHA ASKS CRITICS FOR SUGGESTIONS

★ IT MAY BE HARD TO BELIEVE but it seems that at last George Dudley, the man who has had the final say in all matters pertaining to hockey in Canada, has asked for suggestions regarding the picking of a team to represent Canada in the World Hockey Championships. We know that it is hard to understand such an act on Mr. Hockey's part but nevertheless it is true.

What strikes us so funny is that when the team was picked, Mr. Dudley and company went about their little way and did their own choosing and never asked for suggestions. But now that they are behind the proverbial eight-ball they have changed their opinion about things. When the team was named in the first place several sport writers claimed that they were sending and we quote, "a boy to do a man's job."

Even our English confreres said the same thing when they saw the club in action and this drew plenty of comments from famous CAHA. They then figured that perhaps they were right and sent along some reinforcements, although they refused to admit that was the reason for sending them over.

The most humiliating part of the whole affair is that a country that has produced the best hockey players in the world down through the years dropped the world title to a country that has only been playing the game for the last seven years, if we can believe the reports from behind the Iron Curtain. Why the CAHA would send over a very ordinary B-class team to represent Canada is hard to understand but knowing the manner in which Mr. Dudley operates it doesn't surprise us.

We think that if teams are going to represent our country then they should be the best or shouldn't compete in these world tournaments, especially when they are playing against any Red-dominated country. The outcome may not mean much, as all connected with hockey understand the circumstances, but it certainly gives the Russians wonderful propaganda for their world-wide programs.

It is just about time that the CAHA should realize that top amateur teams are a thing of the past in this country. Their saying that they cannot afford to finance a team is pretty hard to believe, especially after glancing through their reports and seeing the cash reserves they have stacked away. Why not dig into them and finance a team properly, and we are sure that the country would be properly represented.

Members of the Russian club were paid by the State and for winning the title each played picked up the tidy sum of $1,200, which is not bad. We are sure if the players selected to go over were certain to draw a decent salary while they were there things would be different and Canada would be very well represented. You can't expect players who earn top salaries are going to drop everything and go just for the trip. Those days are over.

So Mr. Dudley, how about getting in line with the rest of the world and quit kidding yourself about the World Hockey Championships. The days of the joy-rides are over. Canada must send a worthy representative over next year as we are sure that the Russians will be tougher next year and in order to regain our prestige something drastic must be done. So how about listening and studying the suggestions that are sent in and for once take a little outside advice instead of trying to run things in your usual high-handed methods. We are of the opinion that this is now too big a job for one man, at least the results of the past few days have proven it.

Independents Hosts To Lennoxville At Sherbrooke High School Gym At 8:00 In E. T. Basketball Final

The J. S. Mitchell Trophy will be at stake at the Sherbrooke High School gym on Thursday night when the Sherbrooke Independents and the Lennoxville Grads hook up in the final game of their E.T. basketball championship series.

The Lennoxville squad, who defeated the Sherbrooke Independents last Saturday night by a score of 38-36, go into the final game with a two-point margin over the Sherbrooke agreegation. Time is eight o'clock.

Lennoxville's narrow win over the Independents, was the first loss of the season for the Sherbrooke men, in eleven league games and playoff tilts. The team this year, although playing under a new banner, is made up of a neucleus of players who copped the E.T. title under the colors of the Sherbrooke Regiment in the 1950-51 campaign and again in 1951-52 under the colors of the Sherbrooke Spartans.

In the 1952-53 season, the team lost the coveted trophy to the Thetford Aces, of Thetford Mines, while playing under the name of the 35th Battery.

The J. S. Mitchell trophy has been used to denote men's champions of the E. T. Basketball League for eight seasons now and the winner of the Thursday night's game will be the ninth holder of the coveted silverware. The Regiment won the cup the first year it was offered for competition in 1945-46. Granby Grads, no longer a member of the circuit, took the cup away from Sherbrooke for the first time in 1949-50.

The Lennoxville Grads, who are new to the league this year, will be out to make their first year a big one by defeating the Independence. George Gerard's Grads and Ray Brown's Independents easily led the league all season. Independents, undefeated in eight games, and Lennoxville, whose only two losses were to the Independents, prior to the playoffs. Independents got by easily against the Athletics and the Grads just as easily defeated the Richmond squad to meet in the finals.

Rangers Square Off Against Hawks Tonight In Crucial Game; Veterans Play Big Part In New Yorkers' Drive

Lynn Patrick has just as many hockey veterans as brother Muzz.

When Muzz, co[illegible] of New York Rangers, brought up old-timers Doug and Max Bentley and Edgar Laprade, National Hockey League fans expected a great stretch run by the Rangers to edge Lynn and his Boston Bruins for the fourth playoff berth.

They got it. But the Rangers winning streak didn't get them past the Bruins.

The Bentleys and Laprade have been terrific. They helped win many games for the Rangers. Lynn's old-timers have done all right, too. Such men as defenceman Bill Quackenbush, a 12-year man in the big leagues, Milt Schmidt, who has never had a bad season in 15 years in the NHL, and Porky Dumart have given the Bruins staying power all year.

It's a question now of whose veterans will hold out the longest.

Rangers Hard Pressed

The Rangers are up aganst it. They meet the last-place Chicago Black Hawks at New York in the only game tonight.

The Hawks can't go anywhere in the championship race but they can help ruin Ranger hopes of catching the Bruins. The Rangers are in fifth place, three behind Boston, and have six games left in the 70-game schedule.

The Bruins, on the other hand, have a game advantage plus the three-point edge.

Thursday night the Rangers and Bruins meet at Boston. The writing may be on the wall after that. In two other tilts Thursday, the second-place Toronto Maple Leafs take on the third-place Canadiens at Montreal and the Black Hawks meet the league-leading Red Wings at Detroit.

Russian Hockey Team Has Special 14-Man Bodyguard

Toronto — (CP) — The Russian hockey team in the world amateur championships at Stockholm had a bodyguard of 14 men wherever they went, a Canadian player said on arrival home Tuesday night.

"We never saw a player alone," Eric Unger said in an interview. "They moved around in a body, in their hotel, restaurant and at the stadium, and always the 14 guys were with them."

Coley Hall Offers To Finance Team

Vancouver — (CP) — Vancouver sportsmen Coley Hall has offered to gamble $15,000 that he can send a Canadian team that would win the 1955 world hockey championship.

Hall, owner of the professional Vancouver Canucks in the Western Hockey League, said in an interview he is willing to pick an amateur team for the next world tournament. If the club lost, as Toronto East York did to Russia in Stockholm, Hall would finance the trip. If the club won, the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association would foot the bill. He estimated the cost at about $15,000.

"My idea is to send an amateur team, probably all players from British Columbia, and wipe out the stigma which is strictly the fault of the CAHA."

Russians Claim Swimming Record

Stockholm — (AP) — A Russian swimming team Tuesday night claimed a world record for the men's 400-yard medley relay.

The Russians said they swam the complicated mixture of back stroke, breast stroke, butterfly and free style in three minutes, 52 seconds.

The listed world record is 3:57.1 set last year by a Yale University team. An Ohio State team has a record application pending for a time of 3:55.1 set Feb. 6.

Royals Blast Saints 8-4 In Wide-Open Battle To Move Into Tie With Chics; Motto McLean Tallies Two

Montreal — (CP) — Montreal Royals last night moved into a first-place tie with Chicoutimi Saguenays in the Quebec Hockey League race, dousing Sherbrooke Saints 8-4.

The high-scoring game, played before a crowd of 2,000, also saw Skippy Burchell narrowly miss tying Ottawa's Howie Riopelle for the lyeague's individual scoring lead. Burchell picked up a goal and two assists to bring his points-total to 81, one less than Riopelle.

Dick Wray got two of the Royals' goals with Dick Gamble, Ray Laplante, Roger Leger, and Eddy Litzenberger connecting for the others.

Motto McLean tallied two for Saints and Bob Rawlyk and Jim Hay one each. None of the game's five penalties figured in the scoring.

Defencemen Bucky Hollingworth and Roger Leger teamed up for the opening goal, Hollingworth carrying the puck from one end of the rink to the other and passing back to Leger on the point.

Litzenberger counted with a short lift at 6:38 but McLean broke away alone on goalie Bob Perreault to score Sherbrooke's first goal.

In the second period Royals broke away for three goals in six minutes. Wray converted Tessier's rebound for one, Denis tallied on Harmon's pass for the second and Burchell made it 5-1. At 12:53 Laplante rapped home a short backhand tally, but McLean replied with his second goal of the evening as Sherbrooke came back and peppered Perreault with eight shots.

The teams matched goals in the third frame, defenceman Hay and winger Rawlyk scoring for the Saints while Gamble and Wray counted for Montreal.

Sherbrooke — Goal: Gatherum; defence: Hay, Bownass, Palamar, Ehman; forwards: Dube, Rawlyk, Podolsky, Brown, McLean, Irving, Stankiewicz, Bruneteau, Johnson, Malo.

Montreal—Goal: Perreault; defence: Roche, Harmon, Hollingworth, Leger; forwards: Frampton, Wray, Tessier, Blaine, Denis, Litzenberger, Desaulniers, Burchell, Gamble, Laplante.

Superior School Makes Clean Sweep Over St. Francis In Juvenile And Junior Games; Play Friday Night

Superior School made a clean sweep of minor hockey last night by tying up the Juvenile and Junior series, at two games apiece. In the Juvenile game Superior downed Pat Murphy's St. Francis team 7-3.

Thibault was high scorer for Superior with three goals and an assist and he was closely followed by Baril with two markers and a pair of assists.

In the first period Superior took a 3-0 lead on goals by Dupont, Thibault and Baril. They had the advantage all the way as St. Francis was three players short when a line from East Angus was delayed and they took to the ice late in the second period.

With their appearance the St. Francis squad took on a new lease of life in the third frame but it was not enough to catch up to the Superior team who had counted two more markers in the second period. Coach Murphy took his goaler out five minutes before the end of the game and succeeded in keeping the Superior squad bottled up in their own end.

In the Junior game Roger Roy's Superior squad piled up a 3-0 lead in the first period on markers by Thibault, Hinse and Beaudoin before St. Francis could score their first goal late in the second period.

From then on St. Francis were constantly shooting on Bergeron in the Superior net. In the third stanza Thibault got the first marker for Superior while Goulet answered with a goal some eight minutes later, followed with one by Gagnon making the score 4-3 for Superior.

Bergeron was once again hard pressed but Superior sewed the game up in the last three minutes of play on a goal by Williams. Pat Murphy once again pulled his goaler but Bergeron was sensational in the opposing nets and the final score was 5-3.

As both series are tied up at two games apiece, all four teams will meet once again, Thursday at 6.45 Juveniles will play with Juniors clashing Friday evening.

Surgeons Operate On Williams' Arm

Cambridge, Mass.— (AP) —Surgeons worked 80 minutes Tuesday to wire Ted Williams' fractured left collarbone, an eight-day-old break which has attracted almost as much attention as the late Babe Ruth's famed stomach ache caused by over-indulgence in hot dogs and pop.

The operating probably will shorten Williams' absence from the Boston Red Sox line-up from months to weeks.

Dr. Russell Sullivan told reporters the operation "had to be done, otherwise it would have been months" before the break healed.

Dr. Sullivan, aided by two other surgeons, used a six-inch steel nail to join the broken pieces of bone and also stitched a triangular fragment into place. The clavicle then was braced by insertion of bone slivers.

Dr. Sullivan said Williams will be able to job easily within two weeks, should be able to bat and throw "lightly" in six weeks—when the pin probably will be removed—and should be able to play ball in eight weeks.

Owen Sound Is Willing To Represent Canada

Owen Sound, Ont.— (CP) —Owen Sound Mercurys, Allan Cup champions in 1951 and first-place finishers in the Ontario Hockey Association senior A series for the last two seasons, might be willing to represent Canada in the world hockey championships next year, team officials indicated Tuesday.

A Mercury spokesman said the team would make the trip if it would not be required to make a lengthy exhibition tour of Europe and it expenses paid the players would be enough to keep their families while they were away.

He was commenting on a statement by George Dudley, secretary-manager of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, that "it would be impossible to get one of these clubs (senior A or junior A) to leave."

Mercury officials noted the OHA senior schedlule this year ended Feb. 24, three days before the start of the world tournament. The OHA senior A final is to start March 19 Thus the Mercurys or any other club in the league could have been given a bye into the group final, flown to Stockholm for the tournament immediately after the schedule ended.

Cards May Have Replacement For Slaughter In Moon

St. Peterburg, Fla. — (AP) — Enos (Country) Slaughter is not yet ready to retire, but when he does, the St. Louis Cardinals have a hunch they've found a worthy successor.

Being groomed to step into the shoes of the 38-year-old Slaughter is Wally Moon, a young outfielder who technically is still a member of the International League Rochester Red Wings.

Unless he goes into a complete eclipse, Moon is a cinch to become a full-fledged member of the Cards within a matter of days. In the short time he's been here, the 23-year-old fielder has caught the eye of manager Eddie Stanky.

"The boy hasn't smiled since he's been in camp," observed Stanky. "He's all business. If he continues to look as good as he has been I don't see how we can keep him off the club."

Moon has the advantage over most of the other rookies in the Cardinal camp. After batting over 300 for Rochester last year, he put in an entire winter playing in the Venezuelan League with the pennant-winning Maracaibo team. He was adjudged the most valuable player in that loop.

Archie Moore Floors Baker To Win By TKO

Miami Beach, Fla. — (AP) — Light heavyweight champion Archie Moore gave Pittsburgh heavyweight Bob Baker a savage beating Tuesday night to win by a technical knockout in 2:08 of the ninth round.

Baker was reeling before a murderous attack when referee Petey Sarron stepped in and stopped the fight. Moore was 15¼ pounds over the light heavyweight limit at 190¼. Baker came in at 209.

Jackie Robinson To Play In Field

Miami — (AP) — Jackie Robinson, former all-star second baseman, probably will open the baseball season in left field for Brooklyn Dodgers.

That was indicated by manager Walter Alston Tuesday in announcing he will use his regular line-up for the first against Philadelphia Phillies tonight.

Also announcing that Peewee Reese would play short for the first time. Alston listed Robinson for left field and Billy Cox as his third baseman.

Three defeats forced Alston's hand. In the first game, the National League champions didn't score until the ninth inning. They were held hitless until the final inning of the second game and shut out with six hits in the third contest.

Dave Hayden Paces Squad With Two Tallies; Goalies Steal Spotlight; Meet Here Tomorrow Night At 8:30

By LARRY T. MOORE

Windsor Mills — "The series isn't over yet," roared Roger Gingues, coach of the Sherbrooke Iuntermediates, in the dressing room last night, following their 3-2 victory over the Windsor Paper Makers in the third tilt of the best of five series for the Massawippi Valley Hockey League championship.

It seemed as though the whole population of this Paper Town was on hand for this important game. Well over 800 fans jammed into the Canada Paper Arena, to cheer the home town boys on to victory. But, the Windsor squad failed to come through on top, for had they, they would have been the 1953-54 winners.

Still leading in the series, 2-1, the Roger Longpre club will travel to Sherbrooke tomorrow night, to clash with the Sherbrooke team in the fourth tilt of the series. So far the local team has had much bad luck around the nets, mostly because of outstanding goal tending by Benoit Lapierre, in the Windsor cage, but last night's overwhelming victory seems to have restored their "esprit de corps," and now they're counting on public support. Game time is 8:30.

Dave Hayden, starry left winger, paced the local team with two goals and assist. Equally outstanding, in his department, was Roch Labbe, whose showing in the Sherbrooke nets would deserve praise for any goaltender. Larry Menard, who received seven penalties so far in the series, stayed clear of the cooler, and figured in on the first Sherbrooke marker.

As the first period unrolled itself, the two goalies appeared to be the most important players on the ice. The disc was rushed from one zone to the other, with both netminders turning in some beautiful play. Moans rose from the local fans who went to see the game, when defenceman Guy Lindley hit the goal post of the uncovered nets.

A hard slap shot by Menard produced the first Sherbrooke marker at 15.31 of the initial period. In the corner, Hayden flipped the rubber over to Menard at the blue line. Lapierre had stopped his snot, but he fumbled the disc and it penetrated the Windsor cage.

The Hayden, Bert Morin, and Claude Papineau line were particularly outstanding in this frame, and missed numerous scoring opportunities. Team captain and massive rearguard, "Eddy" Roby, snared a pass at center and broke away with Morin. Passing a defenceman, Roby pocked the disc over to Morin who shot on goal. But once again, Lapierre flung himself in mid air for another spectacular save.

The second period had scarcely opened, in fact 1:55 had passed when Hayden banged in his first tally to give Sherbrooke a 2-0 lead. The rush play forced the Windsor goalie out of his cage, and Papineau passed to Hayden, whose knee-high shot caught the left hand corner of the nets.

Although soft ice slowed the game considerably, play was none the less reduced for the goalies Since Labbe took over in the Sherbrooke nets at mid-season, he has been an important factor in the team's success, and his display at the middle mark confirmed this. Receiving shots from all angles, he plunged forward, dived and did just about everything else to save the game.

NOTCHES TWO

DAVE HAYDEN

Bachand drew a two minute penalty for tripping Papineau, but the Windsor squad held the Gingues' men scoreless. Nearing the end of the second stanza, Juneau scored the first Paper Makers goal with Couture and Spenard assisting. Twelve seconds elapsed since the face off at center ice, and Sherbrooke had extended their margin to 3-1.

This goal came from the stick of Hayden, who had tricked Lapierre out of position, shortly after taking a pass from Morin. The time of the goal was 19:48.

Between periods, coach Roger Gingues mapped out a defensive plan, which was carefully carried out by the local squad, and as a result they held the Paper Makers to one goal. Even this goal was protested by the Sherbrooke squad who contended the whistle had blown before Cloutier had slapped the disc in the nets. All the local players, goaler included were sprawled out on the ice, in an effort to smother the disc.

Because a group of radical youths had whistled several times and interfered with the play it is not known whether the rubber was in the twine or not. This goal could have cost Sherbrooke's game.

At 7:17 the whistle sounded again, and this time Papineau and Guillemette went off for roughing. In the dying minutes of the game the Windsor team couldn't get organized. Their power play just wouldn't click, and so Sherbrooke won their first tilt of the series They dropped the first game 3-0 in Windsor, and were edged 5-4 in a return match at the local Arena last Sunday afternoon.

Summary

Windsor Mills — Goal: Lapierre; defence: Abran, Daigneault, Bachand, Guillemette; Forwards: Couture, Juneau, Spenard, Laporte, Morey, Colutier and Martin.

Sending Maple Leafs To Russia Is Good Way Of Starting World War Three, Says Manager Frank Boucher

Toronto Maple Leafs told the Russian ambassador in Ottawa Tuesday their proposed tour of the Soviet Union would "promote international ice hockey and goodwill."

Manager Frank Boucher of New York Rangers said Tuesday night that "if Canada wants to take responsibility for starting World War III, I can see no surer way than sending Leaf managing director Conn Smythe to Moscow with a hockey team."

Boucher, a longtime National Hockey League adversary of Smythe and the Leafs as a player, coach and manager, wasn't entirely serious about the dangers of world conflict.

But the reaction of European crowds and sports writers to Canadian-style hockey—even the relatively tame senior B brand served up by Toronto East York at the world hockey championships in Stockholm—gave rise to the suspicion that a taste of the the thumping NHL variety might be a somewhat dubious gesture of international friendship.

A former NHL player of smallish stature once said "You've gotta be able to knock the other guy down to stay in this league." And every coach's first word to his rookies is the warning, "if you keep your head down going in on the defence, you'll get killed."

Sweden Cry 'Gangsterism'

These maxims may be commonplace to fans in NHL cities, but their application on a relatively mild scale by East York players brought cries of "gangsterism" and "terror tactics" from Swedish reporters accustomed to European-style hockey, where "violent bodychecking" is grounds for a penalty.

Boarding, a technical offence seldom punished under Canadian rules, also proved a thorn in East York's flesh as players found themselves thumbed off consistently for shoving an opponent in to the dasher. The thump of bodies crashing into the boards can be heard frequently from coast to coast in Canada on any Saturday night NHL broadcast.

Playing under their own comparatively benevolent rules, the Leafs have committed 924 minutes' worth of infractions in their 64 games this season, a crime sheet second only to that of Montreal Canadiens.

Whether the Russians would readily to such goodwill ambassadors as centre Tod Sloan (92 minutes) and defenceman Tim Horton (90 minutes) is a question to give pause to the most sports-minded Ottawa diplomat.

Group Of One-Legged Men Trying To Master Art Of Skiing; School Sponsored By Amputee Ski Body

Big Bear Lake, Calif.— (AP) — The challenging art of skiing, tough enough for a normal person to learn, is being mastered by a group of determined one-legged men.

Like other groups in this area they're taking instruction, but there's a difference: the members use only one regulation ski, with another on a crutch.

They are students of the American Amputee Ski School, the only one of its type in the country.

Its director, Scobee Smith of Lancaster, Calif., lost a leg in a bout with cancer two years ago.

The school, just started this winter, has about a dozen pupils, including three army veterans who became single amputees in Korean combat.

Import From Germany

"The whole idea of an amputee ski school," said Smith, a senior at the University of California at Los Aangeles, "belongs to Bob Engelien, a former army captain and an amputee.

"Bob saw amputee skiing for the first time in Germany in 1951, and gave it a try. He became convinced there should be an amputee ski school over here. He got it going just before he died three months ago."

Skiers here marval at the amputees' great progress.

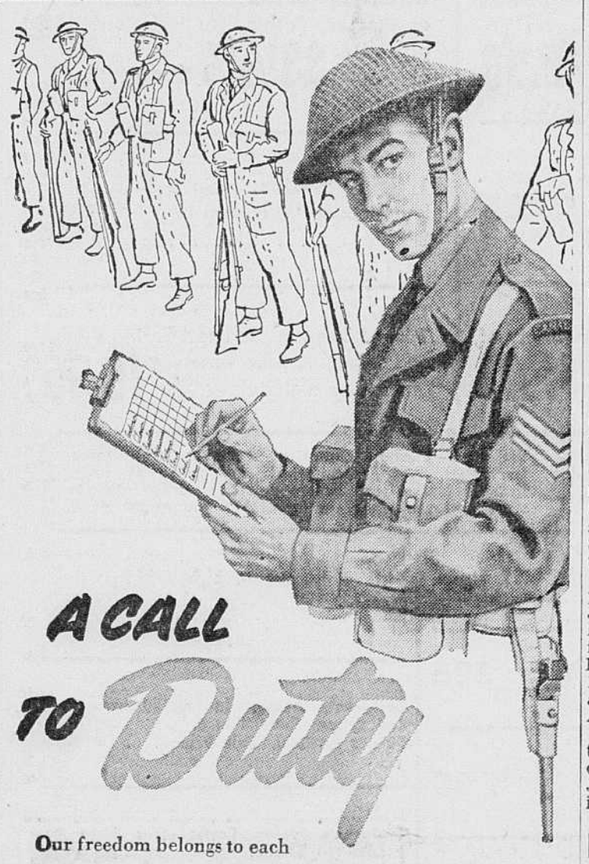

Just Like Pros

"We can ride up on the rope tows, make downhill runs, do our turns and traverses like pros," Smith reported. "Last week, I even went through the Slalom course and did some airplane turns."

Smith said Engelien brought back a sample crutch ski from Germany, copied it and made others for the students at his school. "We use a regulation ski plus the crutch ski."

The school is sponsored by the Los Angeles Athletic Club, which pays the teaching and equipment costs. Snow Summit Schol provides the facilities at no cost. Service clubs handle food, lodging and transportation expenses for the amputees.

Sweden Asks For Action On Russian Amateurs

Stockholm — (AP) — A Swedish athletic official said Tuesday "some international body such as the Olympic committee some day will have to decide something about Russia's state-financed amateurs."

"As long as Russia athletes were not winning, Russia could get by with her strange notions of amateurism," the official said.

"But no longer. Russia is winning, winning practically everything entered and it is a well known axiom that rules are more lax for losers than for winners."

Many other international officials agree it is unfair for student amateur athletes and other young men and women who participate in athletics as pure amateurs to have to meet Russian "state amateurs" on an equal footing.

It is widely believed — and some Russians will confirm — that Soviet athletes often are cared for in vast training camps for months while they prepare for international competitions. The propaganda value of their victories is referred to as "tremendous" by Western world officials.

Leafs Claim Metal Objects Thrown At Them From Gallery

Toronto — (CP) — Toronto Maple Leafs, returning home after Sunday night's 4-0 National Hockey League victory over the Rangers in New York, complained Monday of being the targets of two metal objects thrown from the gallery in Madison Square Garden.

Leafs said puck-shaped pieces of heavy metal, weighing about three-quarters of a pound each, narrowly missed two Leafs players. The discs travelled about 60 feet down from the gallery of the garden.

Players said the first one thrown landed a few feet behind the Leafs when they were lined up at the blue line of the darkened arena while the National Anthem was being played. The second hit the ice 10 or 15 feet from Toronto netminder Harry Lumley during the closing minutes of the game, it was reported.

In Montreal, league president Clarence Campbell said he had heard nothing of the metal-throwing incidents. He said the protection of players against such incidents is the responsibility of the home team.

Johnny Sain May Return To Yanks

Little Rock, Ark. — (AP) — Johnny Sain, who retired from baseball last December after winning one world series game and compiling a 14-7 record with New York Yankees in 1953, is reported ready to rejoin the club.

The Arkansas Gazette said Monday night that Sain will leave in a few days for the Yankees' training camp at St. Petersburg, Fla.

However, the big righthander said later from his Walnut Ridge, Ark., home that "I'm still retired. I'm still doing business here."

After announcing his retirement late last year, Sain opened an automobile agency at Walnut Ridge. The Yankees sent him a 1954 contract which was said to call for a $5,000 raise over his 1953 salary of $20,000, but at that time Sain said he wouldn't return to baseball.

The Gazette said recent developments, which included a new offer from the Yankees for more money plus moving and living expenses, have led Sain to change his mind.

Nipigon Brook Trout Cop Top Spots In Event

Fort William, Ont. — (CP) — Three brook trout caught by three lakehead residents in the Nipigon area last year have placed first, second and third in the Field and Stream magazine annual international fishing contest.

First was a trout weighing nine pound four ounces, caught by James Warren in Lake Nipigon. Next came a nine-pounder landed from the Nipigon river by Peter Kyryluk. Third was an eight-pound, 12-ounce trout caught by Constable Clifford McDonald of Port Arthur.

The world record for brook trout is held by the 14-pound, 8-ounce fish caught by the late Dr. J. W. Cook in the Nipigon river in 1916.

Lyndhursts To Play Two Games In Paris

Stockholm — (Reuters)— The Toronto East York hockey team, which placed second to Russia in the world ice hockey championships here, attended a farewell party in its honor at the Canadian legation Monday night.

In Paris they will play two games against the Swedish Djurgaarden team, the present champion of Sweden.

Weird Refereeing, European Rules And Sloppy Ice Play Big Part In Championships; Russia Rated Fourth

Toronto — (CP) — Lost lost the world amateur hockey championship because of some weird refereeing, unfamiliar European rules and sloppy ice conditions. And the champion Russians were about the fourth best team in the Stockholm tournament.

"We aren't crying, but that's the way it is," four Canadian team members said on arrival home Tuesday night. The consensus of the four was that Czechoslovakia, Sweden and Canada had better teams than the Russians but that politics entered the picture — the Czechs and Swedes held back in games against the Soviet team.

The four — Eric Unger, Don Lockhart, Bill Shill and Doug Chapman — received a heroes welcome as their plane from Montreal landed at Malton airport. A crowd of about 75 was on hand, newspaper men and photographers flocked around them and they were interviewed on television.

They said the Russians had prepared four years for the Stockholm championship.

"We were told that when the team was picked, they practised eight hours a day for months," Lockhart said.

Not Natural Players

The Russians are not natural hockey players, but they are fast and their short-passing game was "pretty good," Unger said. "They don't forecheck and when they are the defending team, five of them line up at their own blue line waiting for the opposition to come in."

The four had only one word — "politics" — for the Russians' 1-1 tie with Sweden and 5-2 victory over Czechoslovakia. Canada defeated the Czechs 5-2 and Sweden 8-2.

"The Swedes and the Czechs held back; those games were fixed," Unger said.

All agreed, too, that the referees were baised. As an instance, they said that in Canada's game against Sweden, Chapman was elbowed by a Swedish player, suffered a fractured jaw in three pl ces, and the Canadian received the penalty.

Ice Didn't Help

The ice was soft and about an inch of water covered the surface, they said.

Asked to explain Canada's 7-2 loss to Russia in the final game of the tournament, the players said only that the team played a "lousy game."

"We just couldn't get going that day but I think we could take them if we ever met again," Unger said.

The four said Canada would "murder" the Russians in a game played under Canadian rules.

"But we must not forget that those Europeans train all their hockey lives under their own rules while Canadians have to learn them in three weeks or so," Lockhart said. "Any Canadian amateur club would have a tough time in the championships."

Sal Maglie Hit Hard By Baltimore But Still Satisfied With His Arm; Was Just Tossing, Says "The Barber"

Phoenix, Ariz.—(AP)—Sal Maglie had just finished his first pitching assignment of the spring, and for a man counted on to bring the New York Giants well back into the National League's first division, Sal the Barber's performance was open to discussion.

The boxscore showed that the new Baltimore Orioles — winning their fourth straight exhibition—had collected seven hits and four runs in the three innings Maglie labored.

Included were four straight doubles in the second inning by Vern Stephens, Billy Hunter, Clint Courtney and pitcher Joe Coleman, and a first-inning triple by infielder Bob Young.

Most of these gentlemen have never been charged with power hitting, and there was some consternation in the New York camp.

It was a calm and unperturbed Maglie, however, who reviewed the matter in the dressing room. The main thing, the veteran hurler said, was that he "felt good"—felt good pitching, and felt good in the back.

The Maglie back was a major problem last year, and the reason the Barber came up with an 8-9 record in dire contrast to his 18-3 the year before and 23-6 in 1951.

"I'm satisfied," Maglie said. "They weren't hitting anything good. My curve was all right."

The 37-year-old star from Niagara Falls, N.Y., who was brought up on the Ontario side of the river, explained that obviously he wasn't putting everything on his pitches. At this stage of the spring, he certainly was not striving for a no-hitter.

Maglie loosened up, by the way, to blank the enemy in the third inning.

Russian Hockey Squad Receives State Bonus

Stockholm —(Reuters)— Members of the Soviet team which defeated Canada for the world ice hockey championship, received a state bonus of 5,000 rubles $1,250 each, the liberal Swedish evening paper Aftonbladet reported Monday.

The paper said it had received this information from "one of the Soviet team's most skillful players."

"He said," Aftonbladet added, "that he was very well off at home, thanks to sport. He had a salary of 3,000 rubles $750 a month from the army. With his extra income from sport he had bought a car for 16,000 rubles $4,000.

"Soviet players," Aftonbladet continued, "also receive their full monthly salaries from the state when they are on sports errands."

Swedish Hockey Association To Clear $150,000

Stockholm — Reuters — The Swedish Ice Hockey Association earned about $150,000 on the world championship tournament, secretary Perle Bergstroem, said Monday.

He estimated the net profit at "a pretty penny."

Nearly 150,000 persons watched the tournament, Bergstroem said.

Russia won the championship Sunday by defeating Canada 7-2.

Fronts Trounce Royals To Lead Semi-Finals 1-0

Quebec. —(CP)— Faulkner rapped in two goals last night as Quebec Frontenacs trimmed Montreal Royals 7-1 to take a 1-0 lead in the best-of-seven Quebec Junior Hockey League semi-finals.

The other Quebec goals were scored by Pat Presley, Mike Ratchford, Fernand Turcotte, Stan Parker and Guy Rousseau. Carl Wandowich got the only Montreal counter.

The underdog Royals held Quebec to a 1-0 margin in the first period. Ratchford got the only goal on passes from Gilles Tribault and Rousseau.

Presley took Faulkner's pass to make it 2-0 for Quebec before the half-way mark on the second period but Wandowich put Royals back in the game with a goal at 13:23. Faulkner made it 3-1 before the period ended on a play with Bob Chevalier and Charles Denomme.

It was all Quebec in the third period as they pumped in four unanswered goals by Turcotte, Faulkner, Parker and Rousseau.

Miners Rally To Win From Sydney

Sydney — (CP) — Glace Bay Miners exploded with two goals late in the third period to take a 2-1 win over Sydney Millionaires Tuesday night and a 1-0 lead in the best-of-nine Maritime Major Hockey League semi-finals.

Cliff Hicks' excellent goaltending held Miners in the game during the first two periods and then, with defeat staring them in the face, scored two goals in the last four minutes for the victory.

George Robertson gave Sydney a 1-0 lead in the second period. In the third, Kenny Watson fired the equalizer at 16:34 and two minutes later playing coach Hugh Campbell set up George Oulette for the winning goal. Oulette scored on a screened shot.

Sydney outshot Miners throughout the game, with Hicks handling 37 shots to Norm Defelice's 19.

Referees Mike Choma and Jim Kelly called 18 penalties, and Glace Bay received 11, including a misconduct and match misconduct to captain Copper Leyte when he argued too vigorously on a high-sticking penalty to teammate Jim Farelli.

Stellarton Takes Lead In N.S. Series

Windsor, N.S. — (CP) — Stellarton Royals took a strangle-hold on the Nova Scotia Senior Hockey League title Tuesday night with a 5-4 win over Windsor Maple Leafs that gave them a 3-1 lead in the best-of-seven series.

Royals' two unanswered first-period goals gave them the margin of victory. They were outscored 2-1 in the second and held their own with two goals in the third.

McKenzie paced Stellarton with three goals and Dorrington got two. Windsor's marksmen were C. Smith, Ogilvie, Acker and M. Smith.

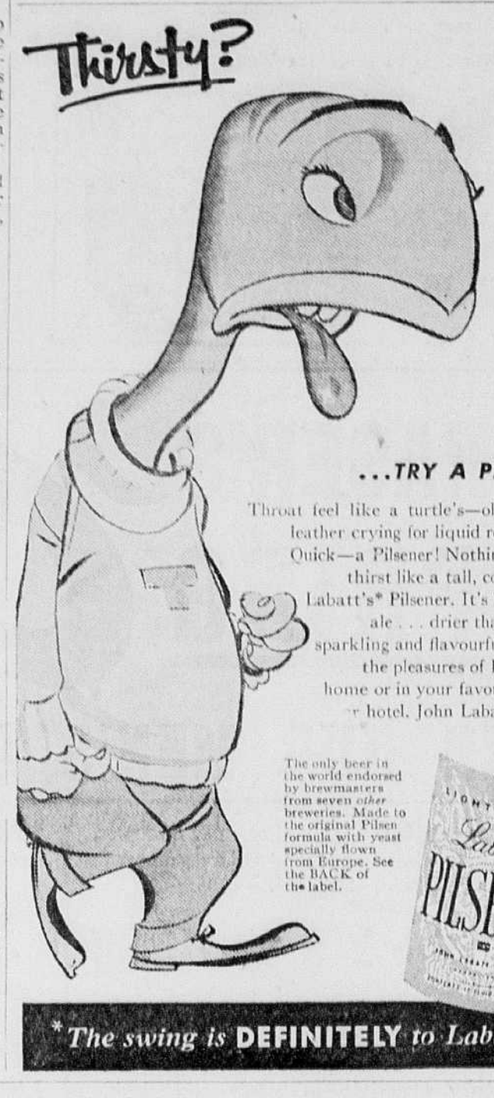

Leafs held the play for the first time of the series but Royals' Floyd was equal to the occasion. He made 34 stops, 10 more than Windsor's Cashen.
