World News In Brief

Tokyo—(AP)—A United States military transport plane carrying Canada's two repatriated prisoners of war left Tokyo tonight for Honolulu and the U.S. mainland.

The Canadians are Lt./Cpl. Paul Dugal of Quebec City and Pte. Arthur J. Baker of Montreal, both members of the Royal 22nd Regiment.

Seoul—(AP)—The Korean battle front was so quiet today the sighting of a lone Communist soldier won official notice. But a United States naval force shelled and bombed the battered east coast port of Wonsan in the heaviest strike in months.

Some observers said the 155-mile line was quieter than at any time since the war began 34 months ago.

New York—(AP)—Patrice Munsell, Metropolitan Opera soprano, gave birth to a daughter today. The mother and the seven-pound, seven-ounce infant were reported "doing fine." It was the first child for the singer and her husband, Robert Schuler, a television director.

Prairie Home, Mo.—(AP)—Mrs. Eller Patterson, who was believed to be 109 years old, is dead. The woman, who came to Missouri as a slave in 1850, died here Saturday at the home of a daughter. Family records indicate she was born at Louisville, Ky., in 1844. She and her husband had 21 children, nine of whom survive.

Athens, Greece—(AP)—Defence Minister Panayotis Canellis said today that Bulgarian troops under fire from Greek forces have again occupied the small island of Gamma, in the Evros river between Greece and Bulgaria. The minister said the Bulgarians did not return the Greek fire and, according to available information, were still on the island.

Nairobi, Kenya—(AP)—Two native policemen seeking members of the anti-white Mau Mau society were killed Monday night as they surrounded a house in which a suspect was hiding. A third policeman was wounded in the firing which came from a neighboring house.

Police said the wanted man and all occupants of nearby houses were arrested.

London—(AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, recuperating from two operations in April, "had a good night and gained strength," a bulletin signed by three doctors said today.

London—(AP)—Negotiations for the loan of British transport planes to hard-pressed French forces in Indo-China have broken down, and France has withdrawn her formal request for the machines, informed sources said today.

Natural Resources Program Is Debated In Commons

Ottawa—(CP)—A second vote in two days on government policy on natural resources development appears in prospect for today.

The Commons defeated one CCF motion Monday night—a technical vote of confidence in the government—and today it was expected to deal with another from the Progressive Conservative party.

The vote Monday night was 118 to 17 to uphold the government's resources policy. The Progressive Conservatives voted with the Liberals against the CCF and the Social Credit parties.

The parties split up in unusual fashion on a vote on a CCF amendment to a Progressive Conservative motion on resources. The Progressive Conservative motion called for a "free enterprise" program on resources and set out some points specifically. The CCF adopted the whole motion but without the "free enterprise" angle.

The vote came after Prime Minister St. Laurent had defended government policy and suggested the government could accept the Progressive Conservative motion if it were changed to propose that the House suggest the government "continue" policies the official opposition thought should be in effect.

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, declined to accept this course but said his party's motion was not intended as one of "condemning" the government.

From his statement, it appeared the Progressive Conservative motion to be voted on later would not be regarded by his party as one of non-confidence, though the CCF amendment to it defeated Monday night was, technically. No CCF member disclaimed this.

Before the resources discussion, two other proposals by the Progressive Conservatives dealing with the CBC—were lost in the

Canadian Troops Underwent Heaviest Red Bombardment Of War In Latest Battle

Attempt On Nehru's Life Is Discounted

Bombay—(AP)—A police spokesman said today that an explosive grabbed from a railway track just ahead of Prime Minister Nehru's train turned out to be four giant firecrackers. Some Indians, however, doubted the explanation.

Reports Monday from Kalyan railway hub, 35 miles from Bombay, said a policeman there removed a live bomb from a track just a few minutes before the Amritsar express thundered through, carrying Nehru from Jalna to Bombay.

These reports said the policeman patrolling the track, fired on an unidentified man believed to have placed the explosive on the track. The bullets missed their mark and the man escaped in the early dawn gloom.

The police spokesman said the four firecrackers, of a large type known here as "atom bombs," were incapable of going anything but slight damage.

He said they had been put in a container and placed on the track, probably by "mischief mongers for the creation of a sensation."

Indians expressing doubt over the explanation pointed out that the government played down the story of an attempt to assassinate Mohandas K. Gandhi with a bomb, but the would-be killer was sentenced later for the attempt.

This occurred in January, 1948, when a youth exploded a hand-made bomb near the aged Indian leader at a prayer meeting. Ten days later, Gandhi was shot and killed at another prayer meeting.

These Indians speculated that the authorities might be attempting to minimize the Kalyan incident in order to prevent recurrence of the riots which claimed many lives following Gandhi's assassination.

Nehru was returning to New Delhi from a 1,200-mile tour of the Maharashtra famine areas when the incident occurred. He left the train here and went on to the capital by plane without being informed of the finding of the explosive.

London—(Reuters)—Mrs. Indira Gandhi, daughter of Prime Minister Nehru of India, said today her father had cabled her denying he had been the victim of a railroad bomb attempt.

Mrs. Gandhi, here for the Coronation, said Nehru told her there was no truth in reports that a bomb had been placed on the tracks ahead of his train Monday.

London—(AP)—Crown Prince Akihito of Japan was received today at Buckingham Palace by the Queen.

Members Of 25th Brigade Tell Of Confused And Bitter Fighting.

In Korea—(AP)—A picture of confused, bitter fighting—punctuated by the heaviest Red bombardment of Canadian troops in the Korean war—was recounted today by men of the Canadian 25th Brigade who stood off a 750-to-1,000-man Chinese attack early Sunday.

The Canadians told of hand-to-hand fighting, and of one soldier who took a burp gun from a Chinese and beat him to death with it.

C Company of the 3rd battalion of the Royal Canadian Regiment bore the brunt of the attack.

Describing the enemy fire, Capt. M. J. Mullin, commander of C Company, of Charlottetown, P.E.I., said, "I have never experienced shell fire such as this. During the last war any of the enemy bombardments I experienced were peanuts to this one. They must have even fired the kitchen sink."

When attacking, the Reds did not wait for their own barrage to lift. Chinese troops swarmed up the slopes around the forward positions through their own gunfire. Canadian troops in fire trenches opened up on the Chinese but were unable to stop the onrush.

The first wave of Chinese to hit the positions seemed to carry no firearms but were well supplied with hand grenades which they threw in trenches and bunkers.

Lieut. Ed Hollyer of Toronto, commander of one of the forward platoons, said he saw two green flares and a red one come from the Chinese lines which seemed to signal the start of the whole affair.

"As soon as they appeared," he said, "all hell broke loose. Enemy shells and mortar bombs rained down on us by the hundreds."

The Chinese first appeared on the right of his position in what he thought were small numbers. Then a large force stormed up the sides of the slope into his positions.

"They seemed to lack organization," Hollyer said, "and were running all over the place in little bunches. When I saw they were all over my position I returned fire to the command post and called Commonwealth artillery right down on my own position."

Hollyer had the artillery bombard his position for approximately 15 minutes, knowing that the Chinese were the only people above the ground to get hurt. He stopped the concentration of fire when he could no longer hear the Chinese running about.

After the bombardment, Hollyer and other soldiers went out of the command post and started a tour of the area. They could find no other Canadians but themselves, a signaler and a medical assistant. They were ordered to withdraw.

The 81st field regiment, Royal Canadian Artillery, fired more than 5,000 shells in support of their besieged countrymen. Eye-witnesses reported the firing was superb, but that the gunners were not without casualties.

At first light, when the Chinese were retreating, the gunners sent up an observation plane that directed the fire of one battery.

After one particular bombardment of the retreating Communists, at least 12 bodies were counted.

There was no total estimate of enemy losses. Reports indicated they were large. While the battle still was raging the Chinese were picking up their dead and wounded as soon as they were hit and getting them out of the way.

One report stated one of the trenches of the forward position of the Royal Canadian Regiment was filled to the top with moaning Chinese and that others were dragging them out and rolling them down the hill to waiting comrades. Canadian casualties are not yet fully confirmed.

During the night there were other probes along the "Commonwealth front." The 3rd battalion of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry suffered casualties when the Chinese made a diversionary thrust at one of their positions. They were also subjected to heavy enemy fire.

Eriz Jean Allard, commander of the 25th brigade, said "splendid defensive fire support was given to the Royal Canadian Regiment by both the PPCLI and 1st battalion, the King's Regiment as well as the 81st field regiment and other Commonwealth artillery units."

"By standing firm and keeping the lines of communications open the Royal Canadian Regiment made possible much of the destruction of the enemy by artillery fire."

Hoboken, N.J.—(AP)—A dock leader was shot to death Monday night in Hoboken's second waterfront slaying within two years.

A single bullet in the head proved fatal to Francis Kelly, who was to have started work today as a waterfront hiring boss at a newly-reopened pier.

The shooting was another in a series of violent incidents on the New York-New Jersey waterfront, being probed by a United States Senate committee.

Pilot Flies Under Twelve London Bridges

London—(AP)—A skylarking, middle-aged pilot flew under 12 bridges in the heart of London today by skimming his light plane just a few feet above the waters of the Thames.

Members of Parliament, bus drivers, tugboat captains and stenographers gasped in amazement as the single-engine plane zoomed under bridge after bridge. Policemen patrolling the bridges were thunderstruck.

Other men have flown under London's bridges before, but their efforts usually were limited to one or two spans. This was the works—a grand slam.

Even as the police set out to question the pilot they talked with a tone of pride of his accomplishment. A movie photographer was aboard the plane, which has a wing span of 36 feet.

Amateur photographer Douglas McKenzie, who took pictures along the bank, said he knew about the plan to make the flight.

He said the plane was piloted by Maj. Christopher Draper and the movie photographer who accompanied him was Joe Matthews.

"Draper kept it quiet before he began this lark," McKenzie said. "But he is not trying to hide it now. The plane has identification numbers. Police will trace him easily. He expects to be fined about £100 and have his licence taken up for a year."

Draper is not a young man. He really pulled this stunt off to show British people there is a lot of life in the old ones yet."

A driver of one of London's big red buses halted his vehicle in the middle of Westminster bridge as the plane approached.

He and his passenger almost fell out the windows as the plane fell under the bridge. "Goo, I never," the bus driver said.

One eye-witness said the pilot flew under Waterloo bridge and over the nearby Hungerford bridge. This may have been a touch of extra bravado or it may have shown caution. The pilings of Hungerford bridge are closer together.

THE LIFE-SAVING STREAM: The Red Cross Society's four-day blood donors clinic opens today at the Belydree street armory and there can be no greater evidence of the need for blood than this picture taken yesterday at the Sherbrooke Hospital. It shows Dr. E. C. Winter, assisted by nurse Mrs. B. Webster, giving an emergency transfusion to an unidentified male patient. The blood used by the hospital comes from the bank that is built up by Sherbrooke donors. Make it your pledge to refill this bottle and the 1,300 others that are being sought in this campaign. United Nations Command Again Charges Reds Are Throwing Up Smoke Screen

Mother And 4 Children Are Gassed

Toronto—(AP)—A 36-year-old mother and her four young children were gassed to death early today and police described it as murder and suicide.

Firemen who gave the victims inhalator treatment for 25 minutes unsuccessfully said the mother was Mrs. Adele Holmes. Her children were Nancy, 7, Irene, 6, Linda, 4, and Kenneth, 3.

Firemen said the father, W. Holmes, returned home from work to find his family dead. Police could give no motive for the slaying.

Police said Holmes, an express truck driver, found four jets on the gas stove open.

The mother lay on the floor, Linda beside her. The other children lay in bed upstairs. Then the father raced to windows and threw them open. He phoned his brother.

Panmunjom

(AP)—The United Nations command today accused the Communists of throwing up a smoke screen in the Korean truce talks and said the Red stalling "casts serious doubts on their sincerity."

Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison insisted the Allies could not agree to Red demands that 40,000 prisoners who have spurned communism be shipped to a neutral Asian custodian.

"Many would destroy themselves rather than submit to removal from Korea," the senior Allied delegate said.

The Reds refused again at a 59-minute session to commit themselves to a neutral custodian.

The most Red truce delegates would say was that Allied nomination of Pakistan as a neutral caretaker was "worth welcoming."

They also insisted that both sides first work out the functions of the neutral before deciding on the country itself.

Harrison, senior Allied delegate, told reporters that the functions would apply equally to any neutral and said of the Red demand:

"That is merely a negotiating smoke screen. That's all in the world it is."

North Korean Gen. Nam Il, chief Red negotiator, said the "important question" is whether unwilling prisoners shall be sent to a neutral state or shall be turned over to the neutral custodian in Korea.

Nam asked the UN command to clarify these three points:

1. What steps would the Allies take to remove military control over the prisoners?

2. How would the UN command at the same time enable the neutral to take control of the POWs?

3. How would it maintain order in the prison camps?

Harrison replied such matters could be quickly solved once agreement was reached on the neutral nation.

Dutch Pay Tribute To Canadians

Groesbeek, The Netherlands—(AP)—High-ranking Canadian and Netherlands military men and officials today attended a service of commemoration for Canadians who fell in Holland during the Second World War.

Brig. R. W. Moncel of Montreal, here from the Canadian joint staff in London, read a message from Lt. Gen. Guy Simonds, chief of the general staff, Canadian Army.

The message thanked the people of Holland for their "generous expressions of remembrance" and said:

"There have been indications in the last few months that the sacrifices made some eight years ago by those men and women in whose memory we are gathered here today may not have been in vain. It is perhaps not unreasonable to assume that in some measure this state of affairs is due to the de-

Miss Universe Weds Man From Philippines

Tokyo—(AP)—The bride's eyes were soft and moist; the bridegroom had a shiner. She is Armi Kusela of Finland, proclaimed the most beautiful woman in the world when crowned Miss Universe last year.

He is Virgilio Hilario of the Philippines, possessor of plenty of pesos and a black eye he got in a fight the other night.

They were married in a little Tokyo church Monday night and only three people went to their wedding.

They wanted it that way because Virgilio was a little shy about that shiner.

"She's wonderful!" the 25-year-old millionaire Filipino beamed at his swank hotel suite today during a brief honeymoon.

The happy bride beamed, too. She had a message from her mother in Finland wishing her happiness.

Wednesday they part. She is flying to Honolulu. He is going to Manila on business.

Then he will hurry to the Hawaiian islands to rejoin her. From there they will tour the United States and Europe before going to the Philippines to live.

It was a whirlwind courtship. They met in March at a dance in Baguio, the cool, summer capital of the Philippines. "Miss Universe" had gone to the islands for the International Trade Exposition.

He had eyes only for her after that. They danced and dined in the twinkling capital until April 26. That was the day the Finnish beauty left for Tokyo.

Virgilio came along, too, in another plane.

Armi, 18, said she was too young for romance.

But Virgilio said she had planned to go back to Finland to tell her parents of their planned wedding on her birthday Aug. 27.

"But we just couldn't wait," said Virgilio.

Friday, Virgilio gave her a three-carat diamond engagement ring.

Armi wore a blue, nylon lace gown and carried a bouquet of roses when they were married in St. Ignace Roman Catholic church.

Now, says Virgilio, Armi's public career is over.

"She's going to lead a plain, quiet life in the Philippines."

Policeman Shoots Mackayville Man

Mackayville, Que.—(AP)—A 27-year-old man, described by police as "troublesome ever since we've known him," was shot and killed by a rookie policeman Monday night.

Andre Jean was felled by a bullet from the revolver of Constable Rene Charron who later said he shot in self defence as Jean backed him against a door, a large meat knife in his hand.

Chief Emile De Wys, of this small community across the St. Lawrence river from Montreal, said the shooting came about this way:

Jean threatened his father with the knife. The father ran to the police station, a few blocks away, for help. He returned home with constables Charron and Marcel Labelle, to find the house a shambles, Jean still knife in hand.

Labelle left to get reinforcements, Charron remaining. Charron said Jean threatened him with the knife, ignored repeated warnings and a shot into the floor. He said he shot when Jean had him back against a door.

Red combat troops were taken to Kweilin in Kwangsi province near Indo-China.

The troops rode the Hunan-Kwangsi rail line linking China and Indo-China, the agency said.

The agency predicted an international air force chief of Russians and Chinese Reds would go into action in support of communist Vietnamese ground forces in Indo-China.

Hemingway Awarded 1st Pulitzer Prize

New York—(AP)—Ernest Hemingway Monday won the first Pulitzer Prize in his 30-year career as a rugged, outdoor novelist for his vivid short novel, "The Old Man and The Sea."

The 1953 Pulitzer drama award went to William Inge, Kansas-born playwright, for his Broadway hit, "Picnic," a play with a mid-West setting. It opened here Feb. 19 and previously had won the New York Drama Critics Circle award and others as the season's best play.

There were two repeat winners in this year's lists of awards made by the trustees of Columbia University.

They were Archibald MacLeish in the field of poetry, and Don Whitehead of The Associated Press in the realm of national reporting. MacLeish last was honored in 1933, and Whitehead in 1951.

The New York Times won its second special Pulitzer citation, this time for its Sunday edition section, "Review of the Week."

Other Pulitzer awards announced were given for: Meritorious public service by a newspaper—The Whiteville, N.C., News Reporter and The Tabor City, N.C., Tribune for their successful campaign against the Ku Klux Klan.

International reporting—Austin Wehrwein of the Milwaukee, Wis., Journal for a series of articles on Canada.

The 26 articles ran for a two-month period last autumn. Called "Canada's New Century," the series sought to interpret post-war Canada to the average American.

Local reporting—Staff reporters and photographers of the Providence, R. I., Journal and Evening Bulletin for their coverage of a bank robbery; and Edward J. Mowery of the New York World-Telegram and Sun for his reporting of facts that led to vindication and freedom for a man falsely imprisoned for life as a murderer.

Cartoon—Edward D. Kuekes of the Cleveland, O., Plain Dealer, for his sketch of two soldiers in Korea, commenting on the fact that their fallen buddy was old enough to die but too young to vote.

Editorials—Vermont Connecticut Royster of the Wall Street Journal, for his regular editorial series that ranged from prize fights to politics and religion.

News photography—William M. Gallagher of the Flint, Mich., Journal for his human interest picture of Adlai E. Stevenson, Democratic candidate for President, campaigning with a hole in the bottom of his shoe.

Biography—David J. Mays for his book on Edmund Pendleton, the American lawyer and statesman who guided the state of Virginia in its advocacy of American independence of 1776.

History—George Dangerfield, British-born historian, for his "The Era of Good Feelings," a study of a little-known period of American history—the administrations of James Monroe and John Quincy Adams.

There was no award in music this year.

The RECORD SHOP

New York. —(NEA)—Brunnhilde and Wolfgang, two long-haired dashbunds, looked admiringly at their mistress. Which goes to show they're pretty intelligent beasts, because their mistress is worth looking admiringly at. She's Gisele MacKenzie, the tall, dark and talented Capitol songstress.
Miss MacKenzie (front name pronounced Juh-zell) was talking about her start, with an occasional time out to throw the dogs some leftover breakfast bacon.
"I think my parents are still a little disappointed that I didn't become a concert violinist," she said, daintily unwrapping some more bacon. It turns out this Canadian gal has many talents, besides singing and unwrapping bacon. She started to be a "fiddler"—her own word—and was pretty good.
She got to the point where she had to choose—fiddling or singing. Then along came a bad man and stole her $2000 fiddle, and that was that. Even she was not talented enough to fiddle without a fiddle, so she became a singer. The decision has given many people pleasure—including her manager, who would like to find the thief to thank him.

Gisele—a name that has been mispronounced "every way from chisel to seashell"—has some hit records to her credit. She did a 500,000-copy job on "Don't Let the Stars Get in Your Eyes" and has good ones going now in "Gone" and "Let Me Know." Her duets with Helen O'Connell are delights.
And the future? She'd like to do a musical comedy, make a million-copy record, and bring home more bacon.

THE POPULAR SIDE: Record companies are latching on to the growing trend toward strict instrumentalism. Latest to click is Mercury's Richard Hayman, who fronts a big orchestra with his new-sound harmonica. . . . Wally Cox, TV's "Mr. Peepers," will do some of his monologues on RCA-Victor records. . . . Eddie Fisher, just discharged from the Army, promises he'll write to every one of 5000 home-folk whose addresses he was given by servicemen when he sang in Korea.

ON THE CLASSICS: RCA-Victor's limited special-edition collection of the nine Beethoven symphonies, played by Toscanini, is all sold out and is a collector's item already. . . . Martyn Green, the great Gilbert and Sullivan comedian, will become a U. S. citizen.

DICK'S PICKS
POP SINGLES: "Is It Any Wonder?" and "Almost Always" (Joni James, MGM); "Tira Lira Madeira" (Mitch Miller, Columbia); "If That Would Bring You Back to Me" (Ricky Val, I I O, MGM); "Hold Me Closer" (Jill Allen, Avalon).
POP ALBUM: "The Magic Music Box" (David Rose and orchestra, MGM) makes wonderful background music for parties, reading or just dreaming.

CLASSICAL: Brahms' Piano Concerto No. 2, in B-Flat, Op. 83 (Arthur Rubinstein with Charles Munch and the Boston Symphony, RCA-Victor) has Rubinstein giving a warm, glowing performance of Brahms' best piano concerto; Mozart's Concerto No. 4 in D-Major for Violin and Orchestra (Austrian Symphony, Remington) has fine violin work by Gerard Poulet.

MELBORO
Friends of Mrs. L. A. Booth are sorry to hear that she is ill and best wishes are extended for an early recovery. She is at present staying with her daughter, Mrs. Frederick Fleming, and Mr. Fleming, in Sherbrooke.
Mr. Dean Taber, of Montreal, was a visitor of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Taber and family.
Miss Sylvia Smith spent the week-end in Sherbrooke with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bedard.
Mr. Frederick Batchelor and Miss Norma Weare were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. A. Batchelor and family. Mrs. David Blemlings and two children, Wendy and Wayne, spent an afternoon at the same home.

Her Household -- An Empire

Long before the death of her father, Queen Elizabeth I. assumed more and more duties of state as she prepared herself for the day when she would rule all Britannia. Even in her teens, this young woman was constantly seeking to be a gracious, charming Queen. The full story of these years and how she succeeded her father is told in a stirring narrative by her former governess.

Hollywood—Behind the Screen: Jack Benny's lawyers are near a big cash settlement and a percentage of the profits on TV showings of "To Be or Not to Be." Jack owns 10 per cent of the picture but hasn't collected a dime of the video gold. . . . Rosalind Russell reports backstage for her "Wonderful Town" performances half an hour earlier to apply special make-up on her leg. It covers the scar (that required 17 stitches) she received during filming of "Never Wave at a WAC." . . . Rita Hayworth's shyness (?) gets worse every day. Now extras who play Marjines in "Miss Sadie Thompson" are being asked not to whistle when Rita walks on the set in her tight-fitting gowns.

How to remain a -millionaire dept.: Howard Hughes plays the 50-cent slot machines at Las Vegas, avoiding the dice and roulette tables.

Eye-popping title change: RKO's "The Lady Said Yes" is being released as "She Had to Say Yes." Nothing To It

Van Heflin, before the 3-D camera in "Wings of the Hawk" at U-I, denies that he threw the cast of "The Shrike" out of work by accepting the movie role. The producer and the theater owner, he says, decided to shorten the Chicago run to four weeks.

City Grant Of $5,000 To Sherbrooke Hospital Approved; One Dissenter

It was a case of nobody seemed to like what he was doing at the regular session of the Sherbrooke City Council last evening. At least, this opinion might arise from the unusual condition occurring during the reading of the committee reports. Three reports were presented and in two cases the chairman of the committee concerned refused to move their adoption on the ground that he dissented from an important paragraph in the document.

The only chairman who seemed satisfied was Ald. Carrier Fortin, chairman of the Public Welfare committee, whose report was decidedly non-contentious, covering the admission of patients to various institutions under the terms of the Public Charities Act.

The first report presented was from the Committee of the whole. Ald. Henri Labonne, chairman of the General Administration committee, who generally pilots these recommendations through the Council, turned over the honors to Ald. Sylvio Rousseau because he dissented from a clause providing a grant of $5,000 to the Sherbrooke Hospital, the amount to be paid in five annual instalments.

In voicing his dissent, Ald. Labonne said he admitted the Sherbrooke Hospital, as well as other local institutions, was doing good work but that it was receiving substantial aid from the Dominion and Provincial governments and should not come to the city for aid.

Ald. Paul Hamel, chairman of the gas and electric committee, sought to have changes made in two clauses covering the purchase of transformers, reading a telegram from the original lowest bidder offering to change delivery dates. But the Council decided that the clauses should stand, the telegram in question being received too late for study.

Other clauses in the report provided for the purchase of 3350 street lamps from J. S. Mitchell & Co. Ltd., and John Millen, Sherbrooke, Ltd., at prices ranging from $10.80 per 100 to $206 per 100; the purchase of an electric pump for the waterworks from the Canadian Ingersoll Rand Co. Ltd., at a complete cost of $13,516.81 and other auxiliary equipment and material from various firms.

The contract for the cartage of gravel from the Sand Hill gravel pit to any place within the city limits was awarded to Prudent Delisle and Roger Nolet at 45 cents a ton.

A special committee comprising Ald. Henri Labonne, chairman, with Alderman Carrier Fortin and Everet Nicol as members, was named to prepare and submit a brief from the city to the Tremblay Commission on constitutional affairs.

The whole report was finally approved with the dissent of Ald. Labonne to the hospital grant being registered.

The Council then proceeded to the Protection committee report. This covered the purchase of uniforms and equipment for the Fire department. It was read by Ald. Carl Camirand, acting chairman, but the latter refused to move its adoption because he was opposed to the clause whereby the uniforms would be tailored by a Montreal firm.

When it appeared business would stagnate, Ald. Rousseau jumped in to the breach and moved the adoption of the report, seconded by Ald. Labonne.

Then Ald. Camirand rose to express the reason for his dissatisfaction. A local manufacturer had offered to make the uniforms and he felt the order for 61 uniforms, 19 winter overcoats and 11 spring and fall coats should be given to this firm, even if the prices were somewhat higher than the Montreal dealer. The company had a heavy payroll in Sherbrooke and was recovering from a disastrous strike and should receive sympathetic assistance from the Council, Ald. Camirand believed.

At the suggestion of Ald. Paul Hamel, he moved an amendment to the report to give the order to the local firm, the amendment being seconded by Ald. Hamel.

Ald. Rousseau opposed the amendment, claiming the Montreal bid meant a saving of $1,000 to the city and held that it would be useless to ask outside firms to tender if their bids were ignored. Finally, in an effort to get the rest of the report through, the Council, Ald. Nicol moved a sub-amendment, seconded by Ald. Fortin, that the contentious clause be referred back to committee. This was passed five to two, the supporters being Aldermen Nicol, Fortin, Labonne, Rousseau and Cayer with Aldermen Camirand and Hamel opposed.

A letter from Police Chief Edouard Moreau covering tickets issued for violations of traffic by laws was read by Assistant City Clerk H. P. Emond. During the period from January 1 to April 15, 1,887 tickets had been issued, the latter stated, and of these 805 had paid fines, there were 48 suspended sentences and one case had been withdrawn.

This left 1,033 tickets to be explained, the chief continued. In 860 cases, it had been impossible to obtain the names of the car owners from the provincial revenue authorities, the latter claiming loss of business in the issuing of new licenses at this time of the year and 173 issued to outside residents, some residing as far away as Nova Scotia, had been settled to avoid excessive collection costs.

Just prior to adjournment, a group of residents of the Jacques Cartier Park neighborhood presented arguments against a reported plan to commercialize Marcell street and to demand that the practice of using certain properties as second-hand car lots be ended. The delegation, of which ex-Ald. Paul Leclerc was a member, was promised a sympathetic consideration of their case by the Council and went away very happy.

Ald. Felix Thibault presided over the session in the absence of Mayor J. E. Levesque and Pro-Mayor Leo Cadorette.

Lions Pay Tribute To Dr. A. N. Dupuis

A business meeting at which reports were made on the recent Cent. Convales hospital and the forthcoming inter-club meeting at Manchester, N.H., was held by the Lions Club last night.

Eddie Caron, who is looking after local arrangements for the trip to Manchester, May 18, outlined some details of the program the New Hampshire Lions are drawing up for the Sherbrooke club's visit. He expressed the hope that Lions from Magog and Coaticook would also be able to make the trip. The New Hampshire Lions visited Sherbrooke last fall and the May 18 trip is a return visit.

Before the start of last night's meeting a minute of silence was observed in tribute to Dr. A. N. Dupuis, a member of the club, who died on Sunday. Following the meeting, the Lions went to Brien's funeral parlor to pay their respects to Dr. Dupuis.

A directors' meeting was held later in the evening at the Social Club.

Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic To Open Today

Adding to their roster of Campaign boosters, the Red Cross Blood Donor executive reports today on a letter received from Rabbi, A. Mittleman.

Says Rabbi Mittleman "I have always found it a wonderful thing to see so many unselfish Sherbrooke citizens making a valuable contribution to one of your main objects, by visiting Red Cross blood clinics during your semi-annual campaigns to give their own blood so that a life, whether in one of our magnificent hospitals or on the Korean field of battle, may be prolonged or saved.

It is my sincere hope that your endeavors and those of your co-laborers during the forthcoming blood donor campaign meet with all the success the Red Cross Society deserves."

Rabbi Mittleman's letter could not be a better introduction to the Blood Donor campaign which begins today with a grand opening at Belvidere Street Armoury at 1:30 p.m.

The clinic, a four day session will continue this afternoon from 1:30 until 5 p.m. and this evening from 7:10 p.m. The three consecutive clinic days to follow, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday will begin at 2 p.m. and run until 5 p.m. and each evening from 7-10 p.m. All donors are welcome.

Crokinole Still Played In Townships

Recently the Sherbrooke Record editorially deplored the passing of the once-popular game of crokinole, which it listed as a "lost" game. While its opinion was based on the apparent dearth of news concerning these events, its determination to bury this form of entertainment seems to have been a little too hasty—at least insofar as one section of the Eastern Townships is concerned.

Wallace Dobb, a resident on Rural Route No. 1 of Ayer's Cliff, reports that Leslie Irwin recently won the finals of the Libbytown N.U.I.Y.C. crokinole tournament to become the first declared crokinole champion of this young club.

The N.U.I.Y.C. is sponsored by the Libbytown Farm Forum for the purpose of amusing and training the children of the district. The older group, comprising youngsters of eight years and over, besides the crokinole tournament have a darts contest in progress and are learning square dancing. As soon as the fields dry up, they plan a series of ball games. The children under eight years play junior parlor games, do puzzles, scrap books and occasionally nose into the older games.

Incidentally, the initials, N.U.I.Y.C. stand for "Name Us If You Can."

Final Tribute Is Paid To Mrs. Niles

Final tribute was accorded yesterday to Mrs. Cyrus H. Niles, a well-known member of a pioneer Sherbrooke family, when funeral services were held at the Church of the Advent.

Mrs. Niles died suddenly on Friday at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. H. Bryant, 450 Bowen Avenue, South.

An outstanding personality in the field of sports, social and cultural activity in Sherbrooke, Mrs. Niles was born here. She was the daughter of the late Hiram and Esther Moe.

An ardent curler and golfer, she was an executive member of the Ladies' Sherbrooke Curling Club and former captain of the ladies' branch of the Sherbrooke Country Club. Mrs. Niles was first president of the Women's Canadian Club of the Eastern Townships and one of the two honorary members of that organization.

Rev. Canon E. K. Moffatt officiated at the funeral service. Hymns sung were: Nearer My God To Thee, Abide With Me, Jesus Lives and the Nunc Dimittis. Miss Doris Price was at the organ.

Interment was made in the Moe family plot in Elmwood Cemetery. In addition to Mrs. Bryant, the former Jane Moe, Mrs. Niles is survived by two brothers, G. Reid Moe, Sherbrooke, and Harry Moe, of Cookshire; one daughter, Mrs. James Holden (Rita), of Winnipeg, Man., and granddaughter, Ann Holden. A brother, Charles Moe, Seattle, Wash., and a sister, Miss Margaret Moe, Sherbrooke, predeceased her.

The honorary bearers were: Guy Bryant, C. G. Bishop, D. J. Salls, A. W. Kerridge, S. H. Gallinger, and John McLeod. The pall bearers were: Albert Bryant, Cliff Bryant, R. A. Badger, Frank Gingras, A. M. Hand and Bruce Bishop.

Among those attending the funeral were: representatives of the ladies' branch of the Sherbrooke Country Club, the Ladies Sherbrooke Curling Club, the Women's Canadian Club, and Emmilen Gingras, D. G. Ross, H. E. Ross, Len O'Donnell, Hiram McLeod, William Lavallee, B. N. Holtham, Frank Norcross, John Bryant, Dick Millet, Harry Sampson, J. Bell, Norman Farrell, Gordon others.

Horace Boivin Pushes Plan To Give Every Granby Family Its Own Home

Granby, Que.—P. Horace Boivin, restless, energetic mayor of this bustling Eastern Townships city, is currently pushing a plan to provide every Granby family with its own home.

Mayor Boivin has actively participated in formation of four housing co-operatives, enlisted the backing of city council and now is getting Granby employers to co-operate in the plan.

The scheme already has produced concrete examples of its effectiveness—some families pay as little as $19.60 monthly for their home. Mayor Boivin estimated 59 per cent of Granbyites own their own homes. He is aiming at the record of Shreveport, La., where 96 per cent of the families own homes.

He wants the employers to put up the down payment on their employees' homes and then deduct the money from individual paycheques.

Originally, both employers and unions were against the scheme. Employers feared the workers would leave town before paying their debt while the unions didn't want their members to be tied to any company.

Mayor Boivin has overcome most of the arguments with a mortgage plan that enables the workers to withdraw at will and reduces employer risk to a minimum.

Mayor Boivin also helped get a three-per-cent rebate of the interest money from the provincial government for home-builders constructing three-bedroom houses.

City council came through with a rebate on sewage and water rates for the first two years for co-operative members and exempts them from sidewalk and roadbuilding charges.

The city is also issuing 6,000 trees to Granby home-builders. The co-operatives themselves can offer low-cost lots to members, having bought land before Granby's present real estate boom.

39 Vehicles Seized Here By Provincials

The Provincial Police drive on motorists who have failed to buy their 1953 license plates is progressing very well, if you look at it that way.

The "war," which started yesterday morning, by 11 a.m. today had rounded up 39 vehicles in the city alone which bore last year's plates.

In order to retrieve their vehicles, drivers must buy their new licenses, pay a $10 fine and also towing and storage charges which involves distance of towing and length of storage.

Local Provincial Police traffic chief, Sgt. Henri Cantin, is in charge of "operation unlicensed vehicles" and is being assisted by Officers Rosario Bergeron, Arthur Denault and Maurice Lecours.

The time limit for 1952 plates actually expired on March 1 of this year. After two months of grace, Provincial patience ran out and the big drive began yesterday morning.

Peanuts, Orators Are Discussed By Local Optimists

Business and pleasure last night again set the scene for the Sherbrooke Optimists' weekly dinner meeting at the LaSalle Hotel.

Well attended, this meeting introduced three guests Sylvester Breen, Montreal; Douglas Lancaster, Peterborough, Ont.; and Howard Calver, of Clinton, Michigan. The attendance of Gerry Miltmore, member of the Waterville Optimists, added much to spontaneous discussion that became a part of the meeting.

Up for discussion was preparation of oratorical contestants who will participate at the Optimist District Convention to be held in Sherbrooke later this month.

Henry Crochetiere reported that three contestants had been chosen to represent Sherbrooke Optimists in the Oratorical Contest.

Mr. Miltmore reported on the success Waterville Optimists had met in their endeavours to interest youngsters in public speaking. Enthusiasm for the individual participation he explained runs high.

Mr. Crochetiere spoke too of the Montreal Optimists' success with oratorical undertakings. Nearly ten years ago, he said, they enrolled a waif found in the streets of Montreal who today has reached the top in public speaking as well in other disciplined respects. This child, he said, came first among all other contestants and is expected to walk away with top honours in national and international contests.

President-elect, Paul Nadeau speaking of Peanut Day said that all names of taggers to be submitted by members must be in by next week.

It was a further reminder, mentioned by President Erich Marquardt, that 60 cases of peanuts had been ordered and that there must be taggers enough to dispose of them.

Amedee Roy reported on Optimist Knit Hole badges that are to be distributed among boys for the Baseball season.

The president brought the meeting to a close by showing a film on last year's Peanut Day held at Quebec City.

Seated at the head table with President Marquardt were: Mr. Miltmore, Ken Ross, Paul Nadeau, Amedee Roy and Guy Labrie.

Our Congratulations To: JOHN GRAHAM, of Sawyerville, who is today observing his 95th birthday anniversary.

Motorcycle-Jeep Collision At Windsor And Tractor Accident Take Two Lives

Two men were killed in separate accidents in this district yesterday. Dead are: Jean Girard, 19, of Windsor Mills, who was killed when his motorcycle collided with a jeep; and Gerard Bilodeau, 33, of Herringville, near Bury, who was crushed underneath a tractor.

Provincial Police Det. Guy Dupont, who investigated the fatality of young Girard, along with Traffic Officer Ernest Cote, says that the boy was attempting to pass a truck driven by Gerald Johnson, 24, of Windsor Mills, when he came into the path of a jeep driven by Maurice Sears and owned by the Canada Paper Company.

The mishap occurred about three miles from the Paper Town, on Range St. Zacharie de Windsor and it is believed that Girard's vision was obscured by a heavy fog of dust stirred up by the traffic.

Mr. Girard died instantly of a broken neck, broken right hand and fractured left leg. He was pronounced dead by Dr. Dominique Lambert and taken to the Boisvert Funeral Parlors where an inquest was scheduled for today under district coroner, Dr. Louis Gagnon.

The mishap occurred about 2:20 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Girard's motorcycle, valued at between $400 and $500, was pronounced "completely finished" by Provincial Police while the jeep was heavily damaged although Mr. Sears escaped injury. The boy was the son of Philippe Girard, of Windsor Mills.

The accident which claimed the life of 33-year-old Gerard Bilodeau occurred about 10:45 o'clock last night as the man was driving the tractor from Herringville to Bury.

Dr. A. Lepine, of Cookshire, who was called to administer treatment to the stricken man, said that Mr. Bilodeau apparently died of suffocation. Although the tractor fell on the man when it overturned and was said to have rolled over him several times, there was no apparent cause of death on the body, which is at the Boynton Funeral home in Bury. Death was almost instantaneous.

Mr. Bilodeau owned a farm on the outskirts of Bury and the tractor was his own property.

The accident was investigated by Provincial Police Traffic Officer Hubert Lawrence, of Bury.

TO SAVE A LIFE

The Canadian Red Cross blood donor campaign which opens in Sherbrooke today gives the people of this community an opportunity to participate personally in one of the greatest efforts known for the preservation of human life.

The growing importance of bottled blood in medical science is apparent from the steady increase in the number of victims of serious illness or accidents who are walking the streets of Sherbrooke and other North American cities thanks to the aid supplied by the blood bank.

The 1,300 bottles sought from the citizens of Sherbrooke and vicinity are barely sufficient to replace the number drawn from the central store by the local hospitals for the treatment of local patients.

Therefore, it is a community responsibility for each able person to give their practical support to this campaign.

RED LIES FORESTALL FREE THINKING

Over and over through the years we hear it said that particular blasts of Russian propaganda are designed for "home consumption." We know that Soviet leaders pour a ceaseless stream of false information into the ears of their citizenry and work desperately to seal the people off from outside sources of truth.

Yet the most astute foreign observers of the Russian scene, including a number who have lived there for years at a stretch, agree pretty generally that all this effort is largely a failure.

You might ask. How can this be? How can Soviet propaganda fail when the ordinary Russian hears nothing else?

The skeptic might argue with especial vehemence that the young Russian must surely be a thorough captive of the Communist system. From birth he has had the doctrine, the false history, the heroes, all of it dinned in his ears.

Nevertheless, the judgment is that much of Soviet propaganda is not believed by Russians, and that some of them don't accept any of it at all. One observer once characterized the adult Russian as either secretly belligerent about it, cynical, or utterly resigned.

Why don't the people believe it? There is one fundamental answer: Russia itself provides the corrective, the antidote. The discrepancy between what Communist leaders say and what the reality is in Russia is apparent to every man with eyes.

No matter how you try to immerse a youth in rosy distortions, you cannot forever put off the day when he will walk about his city or town and see Russia as it is. And very few find their illusions surviving this shock.

Hardly a family exists in Russia that has not lost a member to the firing squad, the hangman, the army, the slave labor camp, or the jail for some minor economic offense. These people understand quite well what their "beloved leaders" are doing to them.

If all this is so, the Kremlin must certainly know it. It does, of course. Then why bother to pump out the lies in such a torrent?

The Kremlin's theory on this is really very simple. To keep silent would be to create a vacuum in the citizen's mind, since the leaders can't tell the truth about themselves and don't intend to admit outside information.

Such a vacuum is a dangerous thing to a dictatorship. Gradually a man will fill it with his own independent thinking, feeding on the tiniest fragments of real information wherever he can pick them up. His mind is free to react, to generate ideas.

The Kremlin propaganda technique is designed to prevent that vacuum. It doesn't matter that the stuff isn't believed. The idea is to keep a man's mind filled to the brim. He is so busy listening, rejecting, mentally arguing with himself and his leaders, that he has no time for free and independent thought.

It might be called the technique of the "full vessel." Let the vessel be less than full, and air gets in, creating bubbles of real thought. Put enough of those bubbles together and they might burst in the Kremlin's face one day.

NEVER TRUST A BULL

Owen Sound Sun-Times
The old saying you can never trust a bull was borne out again in the case of a district farmer who was severely gored this week by an animal he was herding to pasture along with his other cattle. The animal, for no cause whatsoever, turned on the man, badly injuring him before he was able to gain a measure of safety behind a barn door.

Authorities in the matter of animal husbandry constantly issue warnings against trusting bulls. While they may appear to be perfectly subdued, even pets, there seems to be something inherent in their nature which may send them into a rage without notice and without provocation.
To play safe, they should be kept securely penned and, when being moved from place to place, held securely with a ring in their nose.

MEMBERS OF IKE'S OWN PARTY BLOCK FOREIGN POLICY PLANS

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington — (NEA) — The most curious development in President Eisenhower's foreign policy during his first 100 days in office is that it has run into more opposition from members of his own party, right here at home, than it has from allied governments overseas.

There is no mistaking now what the President's foreign policy is. He stated it very clearly in his speech to the American Society of Newspaper Editors. It may be summed up like this:

- 1 — Seek true and total peace through international cooperation — not isolation.
2 — Let there be no dictation by one government over the affairs of another.
3 — As long as there is any threat to freedom, remain armed at any cost and be ready for any risk of war.
4 — Support the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the European Defense Community, with West Germany as a partner.
5 — Meet Communist aggression against Korea and in southeast Asia by united action.
6 — Welcome every honest act of peace from the new regime in Russia, but insist on specific accomplishments such as conclusion of an armistice in Korea, an end to direct Communist attacks in Malaya and Indo-China, signing of an Austrian peace treaty, liberation of World War II prisoners still held by the Soviet.

Therefore, it is a community responsibility for each able person to give their practical support to this campaign.

7 — With peace achieved, reduce armaments and have international control of atomic energy with inspection under the UN.
8 — Devote savings from disarmament to world reconstruction, development of underdeveloped areas and the promotion of profitable and fair world trade.

Few Democrats can find fault with this restatement of what has been the basic bipartisan foreign policy of the postwar years. In making this policy effective, however, the President has run into one trouble after another.

Senate Shelved Yalta Resolution

Among the principal roadblocks thrown up in his path to peace, these may be listed:

1 — A resolution charging the Soviet Union had perverted the Yalta and Potsdam agreements by subjugating free people has been shelved in the Senate. Republican leaders responsible say it is not strong enough in condemnation of the Russians and the Democrats, not specific enough in promises to liberate the enslaved peoples.

2 — The President's proposal for a one-year extension of the reciprocal trade agreements act, while the program is given restudy, is attacked by high-tariff Republicans who are trying to impose further curbs against the import of foreign products.

3 — While the Eisenhower administration is proposing some cuts in arms aid and economic assistance to non-Communist countries, economy advocates in Congress are trying to cut these appropriations and the entire U.S. defense program still further.

4 — Congressional zeal to purge the U.S. State Department of all Truman-Acheson influence has led to bitter Senate opposition to confirmation of such presidential appointees as Ambassador to Russia Charles E. Bohlen and Ambassador to Germany James B. Conant.

5 — The President's appeal for restudy of U.S. immigration law has been met with complete indifference in the Congress. So the President has now asked Congress to admit an additional 240,000 refugees from behind the Iron Curtain.

Much of the President's difficulty in getting his foreign policy ship of state launched has come from his self-appointed helpers.

Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's continuing investigations into alleged Communist influences in the State Department and the Voice of America have kept those organizations in turmoil and near chaos. The senator's private deals with Greek ship owners, while well intentioned, seem to have complicated administration's efforts towards the same end.

Leaders Had To Protect Policies

Ohio Sen. John Bricker's proposed constitutional amendment to limit the President's treaty-making powers has been backed by 63 other senators. But this effort has had to be beaten down by administration leaders as a clear infringement on the President's constitutional powers.

Sen. Robert A. Taft's proposal that all Far Eastern problems be settled in the Korean armistice talks had to be opposed by Secretary Dulles to maintain the President's position that these negotiations be limited to United Nations military operations.

Secretary Dulles himself has come in for some of this polite slapping down by the President for overreaching statements. This was particularly true in the case of Dulles' "of-the-record" answers to questions on the possibility for a UN trusteeship over Formosa and settlement of the Korean war at a new line north of the fighting front but south of the Yalu.

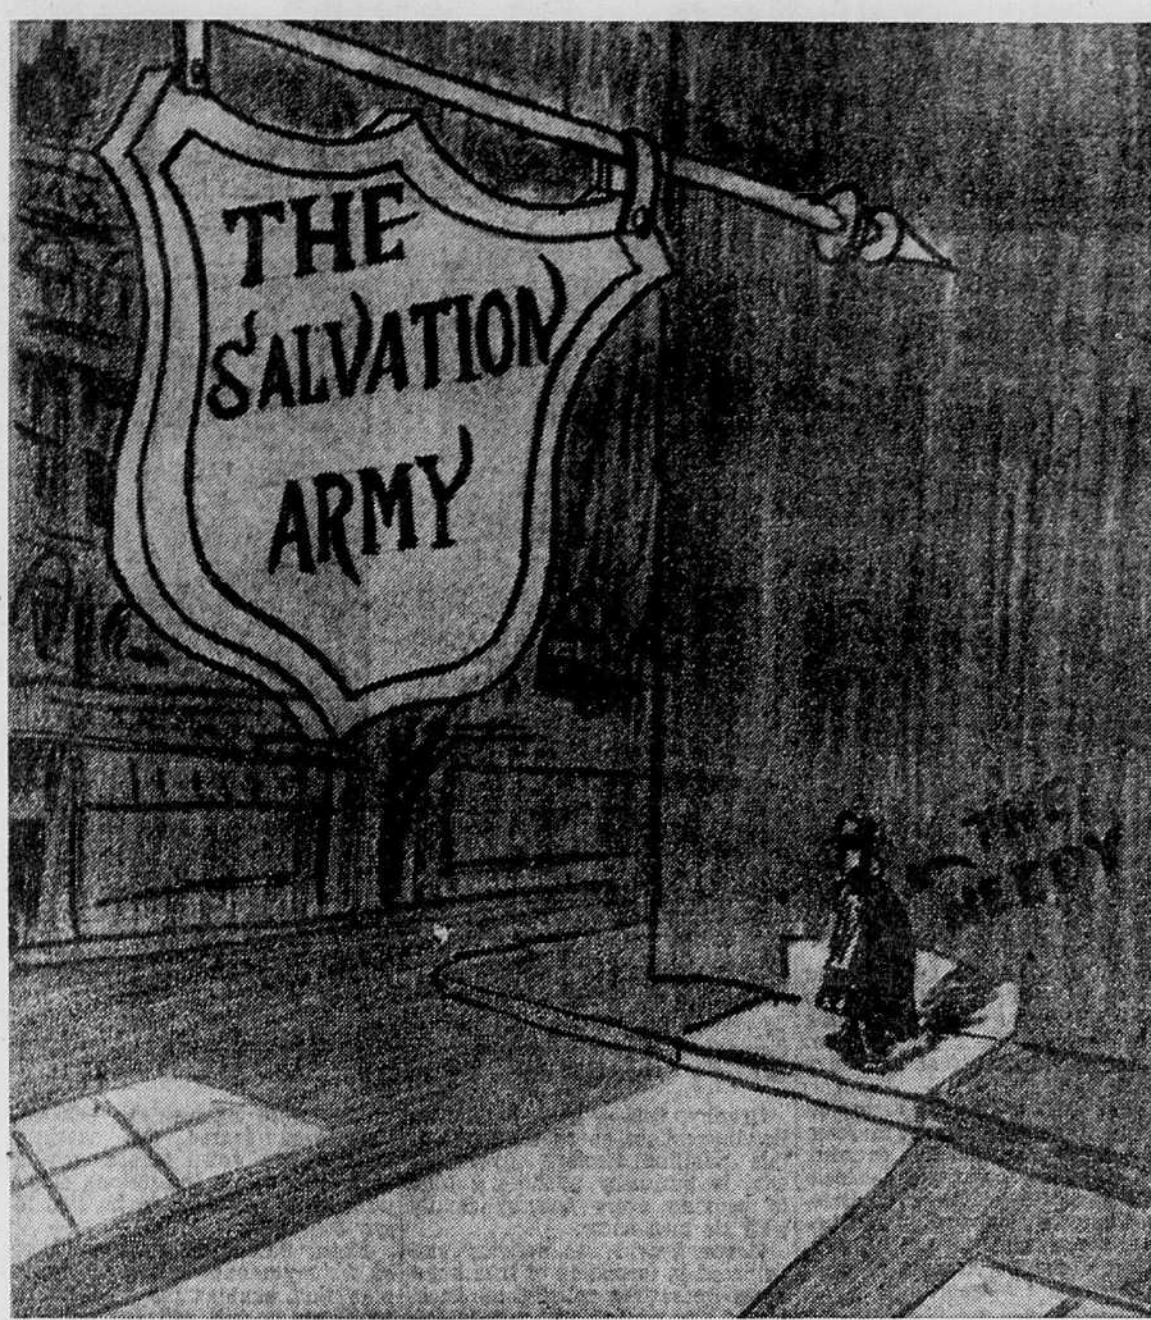

All this infighting at home has taken considerable time that might have been better spent in combating the Communists.

President Eisenhower's campaign promise to go to Korea if elected, with the implication that he would seek an early settlement of that war, has borne little fruit.

Stalin's death and the new regime in Russia had much to do with the exchange of sick and wounded prisoners and the reopening of cease-fire negotiations. Back of this action, however, was the fact that the fighting in Korea had been actively supported by the new administration.

The one positive action which the President has taken in the Far East was his early withdrawal of the U.S. Seventh Fleet from the Straits of Formosa. Rumors that the administration would order blockade of the entire China coast brought a denial of any such intent from the President himself.

In Europe, the course of the future will be mapped more clearly at the North Atlantic Council meeting now in progress in Paris.

Small Families May Be Reason For More Cancer

New York — (AP) — Smaller families may be one reason why cancer is becoming more common. Dr. Leonell C. Strong, Yale University geneticist, finds evidence that by having fewer children we seem to be concentrating some human susceptibility to cancer.

Dr. Strong proposes human studies of this question. If some biological force is involved, a new approach to control of cancer might be found.

One bit of evidence comes from studies of mice and their susceptibility to a form of cancer induced by chemical treatment. The age of the mother mouse at the time she gives birth affects the susceptibility of her young to this form of cancer, he finds. Mice born when the mother is young have a greater susceptibility.

This susceptibility is increased if first or second-born mice are mated with each other. The force which makes them more likely to get cancer becomes concentrated or cumulative.

This kind of concentration of susceptibility may be occurring in humans. Modern families usually have only two or three children.

This would mean that biologically we are concentrating the cancer susceptibility. This susceptibility may be something transmitted by genes, the units of heredity, by chromosomes or something else in germ cells.

There are similar still-mysterious biological forces. One is il-

Want To Go Night Clubbing Behind The Iron Curtain?

Vienna — (AP) — So you'd like to go night clubbing behind the Iron Curtain? You'd like to enjoy the night life of the Balkan capitals—Budapest, Bucharest, Prague and Sofia—which song and story have made famous?

Well, it's quite an experience. You can sit in Vienna and read about it in the Communist newspapers. But if you insist on going, well . . . The gentleman will not shave or clean the nails. The pants must be slightly muddy. He will try to assume the expression of one taking a few minutes off from a 25-hour shift.

Madam, you will kindly skip the high heels and the hair-do. And never mind the girdle. There must be no hint of Paris elegance, pardon, "Western decadence."

Remember too madame, that in the new Soviet woman's place is in the mines or behind the lathe. So, we are set to go to a place where we have a little dance, a little drink, a little dinner. You want something smarter? Take Budapest's Bristol bar or Prague's Cascade and Bocaccio, renamed now and reserved for the upper 10,000 Communists in each city.

The lady will go to those places dressed the same. You, sir, may change to a dark suit. No tie is necessary.

Dinner for two with wine costs the average man a fortnight's pay. Maybe the newspapers were right. They said to stay home.

Nobody seems happy. The army officers sit by themselves. The security police sit by themselves. The civilians sit by themselves.

The loneliest groups of all are the occasional Western diplomats who pop in now and then.

Girls show? Comrade, you forget something. Girls show are for the "idle capitalist rich." Girls today can find healthy jobs on the farms.

The music? Ah, no more rhapsodies of love, no "cheap Western sentimentality." Listen to the current hit: "I'm Merry and I Work All Day—I have No Time to Worry Although You Went Away."

Taxi girls and call girls are all police spies. In fact there are police spies all around these tables watching for people who seem to have too much money.

If the orchestra breaks into any bebop, stay seated. It probably is a trap. As a Bucharest newspaper said recently, "reliable party members leave the floor in disgust" when they hear anything that sounds like American or Latin American music.

East could now pounce on the trick. He was in position to cash the queen of spades and three clubs, thus setting the contract two tricks.

A—Bid four diamonds. This bid invites your partner to go to game if he has slight additional strength in top cards. By going past three no-trump you indicate that your distribution is very unbalanced and that your diamond suit needs no support.

THE MATURE PARENT

LET CHILD GROW RICH IN THREE IMPORTANT VALUES
By MURIEL LAWRENCE
One evening last fall some friends and I were listening to a radio address by the Republican candidate for President of this country.

In simple words, he touched briefly upon his boyhood struggles. "I was a poor boy—only I never knew it," said the man who took the responsibility for our military victory in World War II.

Now, as President of the United States he has had a few words about Child Health Day, which is being observed today. In an official proclamation, he asked us to "increase our understanding of children's emotional, social and spiritual growth."

This growth is directly related to whether children regard themselves as rich or poor. The verb "to know" means "to accept as true."

It is wise to bear this definition in mind when Johnny cuts his knee on a stone, tells us a witch is under his bed, gets black-balled by a fraternity or stood up by his girl-friend. For what you and I accept as true about him at these times will either shackle him to a sense of helplessness—or release him to a sense of power.

How we comfort Johnny when he encounters the stone, the witch, the black-ball, the stand-up, tests our own emotional and spiritual health as no other service to him can.

If we live in a state of chronic fear of loss through criticism, condemnation and failure, we will transfer that feeling of ourselves as "poor" people to Johnny.

When he cuts his knees on the stone, we will say, "Bad, mean old stone to hurt poor Johnny." When he complains of the "witch" under his bed, we won't be able to present her as a poor thing who has sought a night's lodging under the protection of our generous and powerful little boy.

The work of teaching children to know themselves as rich and powerful must not be written about superficially. Since it is spiritual work of high quality, I am going to remind us that the Bible account of Adam's loss of Paradise involved the knowledge of his "nakedness."

The word does not mean "lack of clothing" in its first dictionary definition is "improvement."

With this true meaning in mind, God's question to Adam throws light upon our own parental duty to Johnny. When Adam kept insisting on his poverty, God asked, "Who told you that you were naked?"

SHOOT STORY
Susan's Suspicion
By EMMIE BELL PORTER

Susan shut the French door and held her hand over her eyes. She had distinctly heard her best friend, Phoebe, say, "Roy dear, we really should confess to Susan, even if she is your wife, you must realize that she is no child!"

Roy's darkly handsome face was bent over the chair where Phoebe reclined gracefully. One arm thrown carelessly over the cloud of dark hair which framed her delicate, heart-shaped face. Her blue eyes were fixed on Roy's troubled brow and one slim white hand rested fleetingly on his brown one.

She knew by the uncomfortable look on both faces as she entered that the conversation had not been finished.

Susan tried to make her voice casual. "Too bad Roy has to go away so quickly on this business trip. He does hate to travel anyway . . . and having to leave on such short notice has really upset him."

Phoebe's eyes, usually so frank and confiding were lowered. "It is a shame, isn't it?"

After bidding her good-by, Susan hurriedly joined her husband in the bedroom. Roy's usually calm face was flushed. Hastily he crammed pyjamas into an open bag, as he anxiously asked, "Susan, are you sure you will be all right, staying here alone?"

"Of course," answered Susan, flinging herself into a chair. Roy's dark eyes were suddenly shadowed with pain. "Dear," he murmured, laying his arm lightly around her shoulders, "Dear, I want you to always remember . . . no matter what happens . . . I've always tried to be a good husband to you."

"Why Roy?" laughed Susan as she blinked back sudden tears. "Darling, you sound as if you were going away forever, instead of just several days." She laid her hand carelessly on the broad dependable shoulders. "We have had a pretty swell life together in the two years we've been married haven't we?"

Roy tipped her head back and passed his hand over her features. "Yes, dear a most wonderful two years!" He pressed his mouth briefly against her cool lips and was gone . . . down the steps into the waiting car.

Susan slept fitfully and at eight o'clock was debating with herself whether to go down and make coffee, when suddenly and terrifyingly the doorbell rang. Susan fled down the steps with terror tugging at her heart and threw the door open to a weary looking Phoebe who stood on the steps smiling through her teeth.

"Phoebe," gasped Susan, "Phoebe, what—Why—is anything wrong?"

"No, darling," soothed Phoebe. "Everything is very much all right . . . very much so!" she repeated mysteriously. "I have something for you. She held out a folded piece of paper to Susan. "Here take this. I'm spending the day with you . . . read the letter then come on up and I'll answer all your questions then."

As one in a dream Susan sat down weakly and read. Dearest, Dearest Susan,

When you get this letter the operation will be over and everything will be perfectly all right. I found out only today that I would have to have an emergency operation and conspired with Phoebe to keep it a secret from you, knowing how much you love me and worry about me at the slightest excuse. I wanted to spare you the suspense and the worry. This was one decision I had to make alone—as I was only given a fifty-fifty chance to pull through—and I felt it was unfair to ask you to help make a decision of that kind. Phoebe has her instructions to give you this letter when and if the operation is a complete success.

Remember, I love you.

Summer calls for a HOT WATER SERVICE

Whether at home, in town or in the country, there's nothing like a hot bath to keep you fresh and rested in the worst heat wave. And there is nothing like hot water all the time to speed household chores or, in mud-pie season, to wash these dirty little hands and faces or launder their soiled clothes.

For all the hot water you need, nothing can compare with an electric automatic water heater. It requires no attention and costs so little: 25¢ per person per week. For hot water service at the turn of a faucet, it's RUUD automatic water heater.

Insist on a RUUD
... it gives service.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

There's always an awkward moment when someone asks you a personal question you don't want to answer. How to avoid answering it? Pass it off with a wisecrack or a refusal softened by a laugh. A beauty queen who was asked on TV how much her evening gown set her back handled the question by the second method. "I really don't know—and if I did I wouldn't tell you." Her smile and gentle voice softened the finality of her answer.

A smile and gentle voice usually will.

and fancy work, to be held in the church hall, on Wednesday afternoon, May 13; and for the luncheon to be served to the Quebec Presbyterial of the W.M.S., in the hall, on Saturday, May 23. Members were reminded that rummage, for the sale to be held at the market, on Friday, June 26, may be left at the home of the convener, Mrs. Lewis Dunsmore, Portland Avenue.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction when a social hour followed, refreshments being served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. W. W. Davey and Mrs. G. M. Dick. Tea was poured by Mrs. E. A. Johnston.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwin B. Coates, of Bury, announce the engagement of their second daughter, Glenna Grace, to Mr. Stanley J. Abdallah, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. George Abdallah, of Sherbrooke. The wedding has been arranged to take place on May 30, at two o'clock, in St. Peter's Church, Sherbrooke.

Messrs. Don Clowery, John Galvin, Henry Crocheteire and Peter Cochrane, were guests on Sunday, at the ordination to the priesthood of Rev. Patrick Norris, which took place in St. Wilfrid's Church, Verdun, and at the dinner which followed in the church hall. Father Norris was one of the supervisors at the St. Patrick's boys' camp, held for two weeks, last summer, at Stoke Lake.

Mrs. A. M. Edwards entertained for St. Andrew's Ladies Aid, on Wednesday afternoon, April 29, at her home, Vimy Street. The meeting opened with a short devotional period, led by Mrs. E. A. Johnston, president, who was in the chair. Following routine business final arrangements were made for the Coronation tea and sale of food

DOROTHY DIX Thoughtless Young Man

Likes To Get Letters From Girl, But Is Negligent In Replying

By DOROTHY DIX

DEAR MISS DIX: I have known Jim for five years. While he was at home neither of us was very serious; we just went out in a crowd. Time came for him to leave and he is now in a government job. He asked if I would write to him, which I did, but he almost never answered my letters. Naturally, mine became very few—but still no response. He has just come home after being away for two years, and soon will be off again. He got in touch with me and we went out, but the subject of his failure to write never came up.

I cared for him all the time he was away, which marred my chances of meeting or dating anyone else. Now from our recent date, I feel he does care a little for me, but I can't be too sure. After our last date, he said he wouldn't see me for a week or two since he had some visiting to do. If I don't see him again before he leaves, should I continue to write?

SANDRA M.

BOY NOT SO INTERESTED

ANSWER: To come quickly to the point, I think the boy, by his thoughtlessness, has shown that he is not nearly as interested in you as you are in him. Of course, there's always the consoling possibility that he's restraining his emotions in view of the long absences entailed by his job. Perhaps he doesn't want to keep you tied down to promises while he's unavailable, but at least he should be fair enough to let you know why he's holding back. In view of his long impending absence, the possibility that it will be wasted time for you if you settle down to awaiting him. I strongly advise that you try to find other interests. Don't wait unless he asks you to. Again, he may just be so sure of you that he feels you'll always be around whether he makes a commitment or not. This, too, is being very unfair to you and you seem like much too fine a person to be subjected to such inconsideration.

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem is a complicated one, but I'll present it as simply as possible. My husband, George, and I have been married for three years. It was a second marriage for both of us, and we never got along too well. He drank quite a bit and was very mean. I worked to help pay the bills, but my efforts were not appreciated, and I never had any money for myself. With all this, I still loved him. Finally, however, after he left me several times, I sued for separation and got it. Since then I have had several dates, and have become interested in one man especially, whose name is Peter. I'm not sure if I love him, though. He doesn't call me very often, and, since I hate to be alone, would it be all right for me to accept dates with other men, or stick around waiting for Peter?

MRS. L. C.

ANSWER: It's plain to see that your dislike of being alone has led you into difficulties already, and is well on the way to produce your own company. There are worse things in this world than your own company, as I'm afraid you'll learn to your sorrow. The first thing you should iron out is your marital status. Before you are free to date indiscriminately, your divorce should be final. As for Peter, since he knew both you and your husband for several years, I rather imagine his insight into your turbulent domestic life would not incline him to step into George's shoes. You admit to some nagging and displays of ill temper, so I'm sure you didn't make of a good wife. Stop concentrating so heavily on the idea of being out for a good time every night and see what you can do to straighten yourself out. Consultation with a clergyman or domestic counselor should show up your weak spots.

DEAR MISS DIX: Don't you think that, at 16, I should be able to distinguish good boys from bad ones? My mother doesn't think so.

D. S.

ANSWER: You should be learning how to judge a boy, and this education is best done under your mother's tutelage. Adults with years of experience in dealing with people are far from infallible in their judgments of others, so certainly a sixteen-year-old cannot be expected to be much of a judge. When you and your mother differ in your opinion of a certain boy, discuss the matter with her frankly and find out just what are her objections to him. In this way you'll have characteristics defined, and you will improve in your own analysis of people.

BISHOPTON

The people of the community were deeply grieved when it was learned early on Thursday morning, April 16, that one of its residents, Mrs. Carl Bishop had passed away. Mrs. Bishop, the former Ethel McHarg, has spent her entire life in Bishopston and was loved and respected by old and young. Her home was a favorite gathering place, where everyone was made welcome. Her untimely passing at such an early age, removes a popular figure not only from her own family, but from the entire community. Sincere sympathy goes out to her husband and family in their sorrow.

Mrs. James Hosking, of Sherbrooke; Mrs. Douglas Willard, of East Angus; and Mr. Lloyd Bishop, of Stanstead; were called here due to the illness and death of their mother, Mrs. C. H. Bishop.

Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed the refrigerator building and contents at the fox farm of Cyril Rolfe, situated just outside of the town of Bishopston. The entire population of this small town, turned out to fight the blaze, and aided by the fire-fighting equipment owned by the Casket Factory, and the supply of water in nearby Mirror Lake, succeeded in keeping the

MARRIAGES

McARTHUR—GATES

St. Lambert, Que. — The wedding of Miss Mary Emma Gates, of St. Lambert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Gates, of Gould, Que., to Mr. James McArthur, son of Mr. George McArthur, of Toronto, Ont., and the late Mrs. McArthur, took place in St. Barnabas Church, St. Lambert, on Saturday, May 2, at four o'clock, the Rev. Canon C. G. Stevens officiating. The wedding music was played by Mrs. Stevens, and a profusion of spring flowers and ivy decorated the church.

The bride, given away by her brother, Mr. Russel Gates, of Port Credit, Ont., wore an afternoon frock of Queen blue corded silk with a deep insert of lace in the front, a small matching hat and a corsage bouquet of Sweetheart roses and lily-of-the-valley.

Miss Shirley Loveland, of Sawyerville, acted as maid of honor for her cousin, and was gowned in yellow, her dress being fashioned in similar style to that worn by the bride, with a corsage of blue corn flowers and lily-of-the-valley.

Mr. James Finnie, of Montreal, was best man for Mr. McArthur and Mr. T. Ingram and Mr. J. Harvey, of Montreal, were ushers.

Mrs. Gates, mother of the bride, wore a dress of navy blue nylon with pink trim, a matching hat and a corsage of stephanotis.

Owing to illness, Mr. Gates, father of the bride, was unable to attend.

The reception was held in St. Barnabas Church Hall, where spring flowers were used to decorate. The bride's table was centered with the three-tier wedding cake, made by the bride's sister, Mrs. M. Turner.

For the wedding trip to Lake Placid, N.Y., and the Eastern townships, the bride wore a navy blue dress under a navy wool coat, cut on Princess lines.

Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. McArthur will take up residence in Montreal West.

Out-of-town guests were: Mrs. F. Embury, Mr. George McArthur, of Toronto; Mr. Russel Gates, Port Credit, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. M. Turner, Kingston, Ont.; Mrs. William Gates, Gould; Mrs. George Plaisance, Cookshire; Mr. and Mrs. R. Topp, Granby.

Bedford's Chamber Of Commerce Was Entertained By Artist T. Aumont

Bedford, May 5 — The final meeting of the local Chamber of Commerce was held in the grill of the Maurice Hotel, for the present season. Preceding annual meeting, dinner was served to eighty-five guests, among those from out-of-town were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Blinn, of Stanbridge East and Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Chrysler, of Riceburg. Seated at the head of the table were the president, Mr. Harry Jones; the vice-president, Mr. J. Boileau; secretary-treasurer, Mr. Alfred Rousseau; and Messrs. W. B. Bradshaw, M. E. Parsons, D. J. Reid, B. W. Draper and T. Aumont. The toast to the Queen was proposed by Mr. Jones. At the conclusion of the dinner, a short business meeting was held, the minutes of the two previous meetings being read by the secretary, Mr. Rousseau, who also presented the financial statement for the year, showing a balance on hand of $128.94. The treasurer expressed thanks to the municipality for a donation of $31, prizes given during the year amounting to $13.55; industrial promotion to $35.50, were among disbursement. It was voted that the secretary-treasurer be given a salary of $50. for the coming year.

Mr. D. J. Reid, chairman of the nominating committee, the other members of the committee being, Dr. George Leblanc and Mr. Ralph Van Horn, was called upon to present the slate of officers, which was as follows: Harry Jones, president; L. Boileau, vice-president; Alfred Rousseau, secretary-treasurer; members of the executive, Dr. George Leblanc, replacing Dr. F. E. Draper; Kenneth Best, replacing J. Laine; Edmond Jee, replacing Mr. L. Grenier; the remaining members of the executive are Messrs. B. W. Draper, Hector Laingevin, J. O. Levesque, D. J. Reid and Ernest Hebert.

The program presented at the seven meetings held during the year have been most worthwhile and instructive. The opening meeting was held in September, it was ladies night. The guest speaker was Mr. L. Archambault, of Sherbrooke, whose subject was "The Advantages of the Chamber of Commerce"; at the October meeting Corporal Acher, R.C.M.P. of Montreal, spoke on "How to get Industries to Locate in a Town." At the February meeting the Farm Forum groups entertained the members of the Chamber of Commerce at a social evening in the High School hall, when the speaker was the county agent for Franklin County, Vt., who gave an address on his trip to the British Isles, illustrated with colored slides; at the March meeting the Chamber of Commerce entertained the Farm Forum for the District of Missisquoi, in the High School, when several films were shown, one of the Kenwood plant at Arnprior, Ont., another dealing with pollination and the part that bees played in this work, the third was a comedy.

Mr. B. W. Draper on behalf of the members of the Chamber of Commerce congratulated Mr. Jones and Mr. Rousseau, both returned to office for another year on the excellent work, that they had done during the past year, which had been the most active since the opening of the organization. Mr. Draper also congratulated them on their work in connection with the securing of a new plant for Bedford, the Gamma Toy Company.

Mr. Boileau, vice-president, speaking in French and English, thanked the members for their cooperation last year, which has rendered such a successful year, possible. Mr. Jones said that he would endeavor to make the work of the organization still more interesting for the coming year, which will open with the September meeting. The highlight of the evening was the entertainment provided at the close of the business meeting, by the noted and well-known magician, Mr. Tom Aumont, of Montreal. He is one of the best-known and most skillful to be found in Montreal and has made an outstanding name for himself in the fields of entertainment, a reputation, which he ably upheld on Thursday evening. Time and again he completely mystified and baffled the audience by his wizardry and sleight of hand, all done in such a finished manner, that it was impossible to follow his movements. The adage, "The hand is quicker than the eye" was amply proved on this occasion. At the conclusion of the entertainment, Mr. Jones moved a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Aumont, for providing such an enjoyable evening and expressed the hope that all would have the pleasure of again having Mr. Aumont with them. Mr. Aumont thanked Mr. Jones and stated that he would be very pleased to again visit Bedford, where he had been favored with an appreciative and enthusiastic audience.

No Reason For Being Lonely In Southeast Asia

By JACK MACBETH
 Hong Kong — (P) — No young man of any nationality has any excuse for being lonely any night in almost any city in Southeast Asia.
 All the big towns in this area seem to have one thing in common: Huge dance pavilions, as modern music and friendly females.
 After observing, with habitual restraint and dignity, night life in Manila, Singapore, Rangoon, Bangkok, Jakarta, Saigon, Hanoi and Hong Kong, researchers give this account of their findings:
 There is little to choose between the dance halls but there is much to choose from in each of them.

For instance, the taxi girls. They are almost all uniformly tiny, pretty and their shapes vary but little. They almost all cost the same to dance with. And few of them have much to say, except the Chinese.
 They are the best dancers, fastest talkers, dearest listeners and most aggressive.
 A fellow can be sitting by himself, thinking politics perhaps, minding his own business. Then along comes Ting Ling Lu, sits down, calls the waiter, orders the most expensive drink in the house, grabs the poor boy's hand and smiles invitingly:
 "Come on, keed, dance me!"
 But the other Southeast Asian girls learn fast. One Vietnamese girl started off like this in French:
 "I have much thirst. I have much hunger. I like you. Dance me!"
 Two hours and about $15 later she paid this little farewell tribute to her crestfallen partner: "I

Young Yale Student Wrote Great March Some 40 Years Ago

Albuquerque, N. M. — (AP) — Some 40 years ago a young Yale student named Alton Elliott wrote a march for his fraternity convention.
 If the music world ever noticed it, it was quickly forgotten. A copy submitted to an English publisher gathered dust for years.
 Then came the First World War and the English publisher, strolling along the Thames, ran into a group of Canadian soldiers quickly stepping along and singing: "There's A Long, Long Trail A-Winding."
 The publisher hurried back to his office to start off the song officially on the long, long way which has brought author Elliott $70,000 in royalties over the years. It still brings Elliott an average of about $1,000 a year.
 At 61, Elliott still is writing music—as a student in the music department of the University of New Mexico. If it seems strange for a successful song writer to be sharing a classroom with youngsters, Elliott has an explanation.

like you. I eat well. I drink well. I tired now. Good night now."
 Some of the area's taxi girls are, naturally, a little on the rough side. But most are well groomed, soft spoken, outwardly coy, and as morally correct as their little chum who works behind a counter or in a bank.
 A successful taxi-girl can earn as much as $75 a week. Out here, that's good money.
 Even the names of the dance halls vary little—"Contented Universe" or the "Garden of Eden." Drinks are reliable but expensive; as much as $2 a tot for whisky. The bouncers are charming people—judo experts.

MOTHER'S DAY WISH
 The things a mother wants from those she loves
 Are simple things, not costly gifts, or rare,
 A kindly thought, an understanding heart,
 A simple card to say that you still care.
 That through the years, your love is still the same
 And, even tho' your lives are far apart,
 The memory of the old days still remains.
 For, tho' the hair once fair, has turned to grey
 And steps that once were swift have slower grown
 Her love for you is just as strong today
 As in those dear old days of long ago.
 So send a card, or drop a line of cheer
 To show you've not forgot those dear old yester-years.
 Just simple things, not costly gifts, or rare
 Are treasured by a mother with fond care.

THE CORONATION

Great God of Hosts, whose gracious hand
 Still guides the British Nation,
 Look down in mercy on our land
 To bless the Coronation.

Grant to our Queen Thy heavenly grace
 That she may truly gather
 Her loyal folk in every place
 As did the King — her father.

Give to her subjects in all lands
 Thy Grace and Benediction
 That they may 'eer bear up her hands
 In Christian Supplication.

May health and happiness abound
 And joy surround her Throne
 Keep far her foes, dispel all woes
 And grant us Peace at home.

Sustain, we pray, the Ancient Rite
 And keep it safe for ever,
 Bulwark of Strength, of Truth and Right
 To support, but crumble? NEVER!

tion: "Early success can be detrimental, as it was in my case," he admits.

There's no doubt about the success of his "Long, Long Trail." Canadian soldiers picked it up from Elliott's fraternity brothers. As a marching song, it spread quickly to other British troops. When the U. S. entered the war, "Long, Long Trail" was slowed from march to a ballad and sung as a nostalgic reminder of home. Elliott considers the slower American version sentimental. It was written as a march and Elliott has decided marches are what he does best.

With the money from "Long, Long Trail," Elliott went to Europe in 1929. He travelled the continent trying to write light, popular songs "like Irving Berlin."

After repeated failures, he settled down and wrote the militant opera "Top Sergeant" following 20 years of work.
 Another of his better known works is the "British Eighth" march, accepted as their march they were chasing Rommel's Afrika Corps.
 He took his bachelor's degree in music from the University of Arizona in 1948 and now is working on a master's degree. Elliott is composing a southwestern opera in the grand style based on the life of Billy the Kid.

Ocean Floor Is Very Familiar, Says Geologist

Calgary—(P)—The floor of the ocean is a familiar to Dr. Maurice Ewing of New York as the floor of his living room, yet he has never been under water in a diving suit.

Dr. Ewing, director of Lamont Geological Observatory at Columbia University, is internationally known for his marine studies. He is on a lecture tour of North America, speaking to various geological and geophysical societies.

"In my business diving is just a stunt-like sitting on a flagpole," he says.
 Dr. Ewing makes all his marine studies by instruments, including some methods used by oil geologists on the Canadian Prairies. It was his work in oil exploration while a student at the University of San Antonio which led him from the plains of his native Texas to the plains underlying the sea.

He had always wondered what happened at the "splice" between the land and the sea and when he found out later his observations left him more puzzled than ever.
 In general, he found there were two kinds of splice, one typical of the Atlantic ocean, the other typical of the Pacific. Land fell gradually in the Atlantic to meet the sea while in the Pacific coastlines were more abrupt and often an arc-shaped line of islands was thrown into the sea.
 Dr. Ewing doesn't know what caused these arcs but the fact is

Mount Robson Is Highest Peak In Canadian Rockies

Mount Robson, B. C. — (P) — Towering 13,068 feet above this little settlement on the Canadian National Railway's main line is Mount Robson, the highest peak in the Canadian Rockies.

It's famous the world over—but no one knows who named it Mount Robson, or why.
 A maepstic ice-sheated form "monarch of the Rockies." The summit is almost always hidden in clouds and has offered a challenge to mountaineers for decades. Many have climbed it.

The railway crawls around its southern flank after coming from Alberta through the Yellowhead Pass, and it gives its name to Robson Park, separated from the more famous Jasper Park by the B.C.-Alberta boundary.

Mount Robson is first mentioned in the book "Northwest Passage by Land," by Milton and Cheadle, published in 1865. The mountain is also marked on their map but nothing is said by whom or after whom it was named.

Alexander MacKenzie who came through the Yellowhead Pass, refers only to the "height of Land" which he marked on his map and Simon Fraser doesn't say anything about it at all. Similarly David Thompson, who must have passed close, does not write of the mountain.

Again, David Douglas, the bot-

Callers and guests of the Misses Elsie and Gwen Elliott were Miss Effie Jack and Miss Doris Jack, of Quebec; Dr. and Mrs. James Golden and children, of Durham, North Carolina; Mrs. C. Golden, of Greenfield, Mass.; and Mrs. Dale Philbrick.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Stocks have sold their property in Asbestos, and have moved into an apartment in Mrs. Gordon Denison's home.

Mrs. F. Bean's many friends are sorry to hear that on account of ill health she has given up her apartment in the McCoy Apartments, and will be going back to Sherbrooke.

They are common in the Pacific and so rare in the Atlantic that one geologist insisted the Caribbean sea must actually be a part of the Pacific ocean. That would make the West Indies, rather than Central America, the original dividing line between the two oceans.

One of the important recent discoveries was that erosion occurred on the ocean bed just as it did on land, although at a much slower rate.

Geologists have long been puzzled by the extreme flatness of the ocean floor. Dr. Ewing says, Mountain-building forces operated under the sea as on land and there was a chain of mountains running through the Atlantic similar to the Rockies and Andes combined. However, in other areas it was possible to travel hundreds of miles over the ocean without finding a difference of more than six feet in the floor's elevation.

Dr. Ewing says water currents continually remove sediment from the steeper slopes and hold the material in suspension. This sediment travelled for miles over the ocean floor and finally was deposited in the deeper slopes.

One question Dr. Ewing has answered for himself is whether or not sunken ships remain suspended half-way down. He says a ship will sink until it eventually strikes the bottom, despite water pressure.

anist who gave his name to the Douglas fir, went through the same country in 1827 but does not mention the peak in his journals.

Many of these early explorers must have known of two books written by Joseph Robson, an old Hudson's Bay man, in 1753-64, but mountain was named after him. Authorities do not believe the A check of Hudson's Bay Company employees for 40 years before the first mention of the name gives no Robson, unless the name was corrupted from Robinson or Robertson.

In any event, there is no record of the origin of the name given to one of the most famous mountains in Canada.

And here's another little fact not known to many: Mount Robson is not Canada's highest mountain. Mount Waddington, in the Coast range, at 13,260 feet, is taller, and Mount Logan, just south of Alaska in northwestern British Columbia, stands 19,850 feet.

Give A Mother's Day Corsage That Will Last As A Bouquet

By KAY SHERWOOD
Here's a tactful tip to dads and devoted children. You can double the thrill we mothers will get from our Mother's Day corsage if you'll send us one we can pull apart to make into a miniature flower arrangement after its brief outing on our Sunday-best dress.

Just tell the florist in advance so he'll leave long stems on the flowers instead of clipping them off. Corsage-designer Doris Weber of the Society of American Florists suggests these as suitable for the double-purpose corsage: lilies of the valley, carnations, small roses, daisies, violets, or even a spray of small Cymbidium orchids. A single flower such as a gardenia is also suggested.

So are flowering plants which can yield a corsage now, and go into a garden later. I like a red geranium cluster on a natural straw or white handbag.

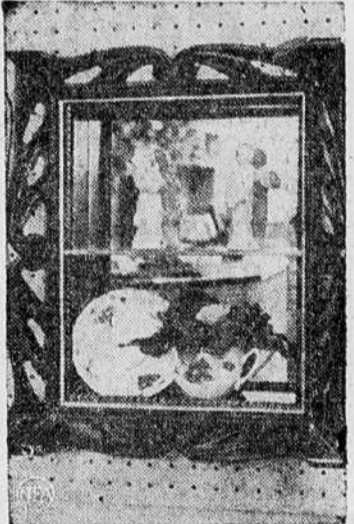

Containers in which short-stemmed flowers may be arranged need not be limited to such things as Play up the sturdy, bright-colored potted plants in a wicker basket placed by the front door or in the center of the kitchen table. Flat, bowls and bud vases. A flower-sprigged teacup is just right for a

This old-fashioned glass jar makes a decorative container for a corsage of white carnations and a red rose.

This Mother's Day corsage of small orchids makes a lovely, long-lasting display in a wicker basket which is posed with its mate near a window.

After tape and ribbons are removed from a violet nosegay worn on Mother's Day, the flowers are placed in a shadow box.

Bright red and white geranium plants in this wicker basket will transplant to the garden.

bunch of violets or a tiny nosegay. Cruets, pretty perfume bottles, little old-fashioned glass jar or doll-sized tea sets show off the gay flowers.

Let the decorative border of a saucer "frame" a single flower, or show it under glass in a shallow, covered candy dish. A gardenia lasts a long time this way.

Use showmanship to magnify the importance of these miniature eye-catchers. Spotlight one under the lamp on an end table. Let a mirrored table-mat double their beauty.

Vienna Students Go Mad To Help Research On Drug

Vienna — (Reuters) — Professors and students of Vienna University have been deliberately going mad for 12 to 34 hours to help research on a powerful and dangerous new drug.

Under careful supervision they have taken small doses to experience for themselves and to report for their colleagues the exact symptoms caused by the drug.

Some believed at first they were floating round the room, others that their feet were glued to the floor, or that they had deformed arms or legs.

Then followed a feeling that they were standing beside themselves, "outside their own skins," and that they were someone else.

One argued with a watching scientist: "I can have no more experience for my own self has left me."

Another thought he was a wolf and bared his teeth and growled at the professor and nurses around him.

The patients returned to their normal selves later with a slight feeling of tiredness but no other harmful effects.

The drug was discovered by a Swiss scientist who took a little by accident and discovered its effects. It is made from wheat and has been known to exist accidentally in nature, as in the case where bread poisoned a whole French village and sent its people mad for a short period.

With the aid of the drug, the researchers hope to discover much about the causes and cure of schizophrenia split personality.

Frame a tiny cluster in a shadow box. Or, pose a delicate spray arrangement on a window sill so the back light from the window will pick out the exquisite veining and translucent color of the petals.

U. S. New Style Jeeps Expected Soon In Korea

By BILL BOSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

In Korea. — (CP) — Canadian units here are scheduled to receive the United States army's new-style jeeps and 2½-ton trucks, the 25th Canadian infantry brigade has been informed.

Eighth army headquarters has told the brigade that it will be "phased into" the change-over from old to new-style vehicles as part of the Korea theatre's overall program.

Actual switch is expected to take place during the summer, and should be completed by early autumn, brigade staff officers say. The turned-in vehicles, after reconditioning in U.S. Army workshops in Japan, will be reissued to Korean Army units.

For certain types of equipment, and rations, the Canadians here have been in the American pipeline. It was not considered practical or economical, when the force was set up in 1950, to establish a Canadian pipeline for so small a formation.

The problem was to maintain not only a flow of vehicles to replace those knocked out in action or damaged in accidents, but parts to service those in operation.

It was almost a foregone conclusion, when the theatre change-over was decided, that the Canadians, too, would make the switch.

The new jeep has many refinements suggestive of civilian vehicles, a longer wheel-base affording more foot room in the rear, and a moulded hood that gives it a dressier look.

Major difference in the truck is that it is hydraulically driven, has a more comfortable cab for the driver, and also is generally better looking.

The theatre program is to effect the switch from the base forward. During the last two months most base and lines-of-communications units have drawn theirs.

Woman Chemical Engineer Has Led Adventurous Life

Toronto — (C) — Sygfryda A. Grygowiec had the distinction of being the only woman delegate among 500 men attending a U.S.-Canadian Chemical Institute convention here.

The attractive young Polish woman, a graduate chemical engineer who works near Montreal, has led a hard and adventurous life.

In 1939, when 17, she and some friends tried to cross the border from Poland into Hungary. "It was a gamble and we lost," she said.

"We had no food and so we stopped at a farmhouse. There was a Russian militia officer inside."

Miss Grygowiec then spent nine months in a Russian prison waiting for her case to be heard. After that she was sent to a concentration camp.

She was released in 1941 and for another year travelled from village to village testing light bulbs. She was not allowed to leave Russia, but spent her time trying to escape.

Finally she bribed Soviet officials to let her take a train to a southern city where the Polish army was mustering. When one unit left for Iran she was concealed in the baggage car.

Miss Grygowiec then served as a second lieutenant in the Polish Army and was in Italy when the war ended. She studied in Rome, then London, graduating in 1950.

"My sister who lives in Montreal said I should come to Canada because it's the place to live," she said.

And Sygfryda Grygowiec agrees with her sister.

Monte Casino In Sub Housewives Rome Will Show To Take Over No Scars By '55 Norwegian Homes

By JAMES NORRIS

Rome — Reuters — Montecassino Abbey, which 400 tons of Allied bombs reduced to rubble in 1944, is rising again and by the end of 1955 will show no scars.

It is being rebuilt on the same spot where at various times during its history it has been pillaged, demolished by earthquake and at last completely destroyed by aerial and artillery bombardment.

Italy's ministry of public works has already spent more than 2,000,000,000 lire (about $3,220,000) on the first seven stages of the reconstruction, and will spend another estimated 4,000,000,000 lire (about $1,610,000) on the last three stages.

Some 400 workmen and scores of craftsmen are working on the project, under the direction of an architect who is himself a Benedictine monk, Don Angelo Pantoni.

Although the abbey as an institution is 1,400 years old, none of the buildings was of earlier date than the sixteenth century.

The oldest art relic was the great bronze door of the cathedral church which was forged in Constantinople in 1066. It survived the bombardment.

Books and archives were sent to the "open city" of Rome for safe keeping during the war, but many frescoes and paintings were destroyed. All that was left was the crypt and the tomb of St. Benedict who founded the abbey in 529 A.D., and his sister St. Scholastica.

For seven months the German army held the 1,700-foot hill on and daughter, Sandra, and sister-in-law, Mrs. M. Lemoine, sailed for England, where they will spend two months and attend the Coronation.

Oslo — (Reuters) — "Housewife substitutes" may be taking over in many Norwegian homes this summer so that wives can go away by themselves and enjoy a real vacation—free from family responsibilities.

That is the plan of the Norwegian state holidays council which wants the government to back its plans to provide eventually for carefree vacations for every Norwegian housewife, regardless of the size of her purse.

Under its initial plan, now waiting approval, the state would grant 800,000 kroner $112,000 to help meet the costs of the project and the council would set up a central organization in Oslo with local committees all over Norway to carry it out.

Most Norwegian families who go away for their summer holidays, rent houses or camps or rooms where they have to do their which the abbey stands and blocked the Allied advance on Rome. Germans and Allies faced each other across the narrow River Rapido, because a chance of strategy had turned the old abbey in to the key fortress of the German "Gustav" line.

No army could advance up the valley towards Rome without holding that hill, and after months of bitter concluded that the abbey itself was held by the Germans.

In February, 1944, Allied bombers bombed the abbey, and throughout the rest of the campaign bombs and shells churned up the rubble left by that first attack.

The Germans burrowed into the hill side, and stayed there until Polish troops claimed the hill in May, 1944.

can get right away for a real rest. Most local authorities and many big industrial firms already have regular "housewife substitutes," but at present their job is mainly confined to helping families where the housewife is ill, in hospital, or having a baby.

The problem now will be to recruit and train sufficient "housewife substitutes" so that they can step in when the housewife leaves for her vacation.

Richmond Chamber Of Com. Honors Farmers At Annual 'Farmer Night' Meet

Richmond, May 5. — A large crowd turned out at the Richmond Hotel to attend a banquet given preceding the general assembly of the Richmond-Melbourne Chamber of Commerce.

In this large attendance at the banquet were members of the Chamber and a large delegation of farmers from the Richmond district. Each year the Chamber of Commerce organizes "Farmer's Night" at which a noted farmer is asked to address the delegation and give advice concerning their farms.

This year some 90 people, with the greatest major being farmers, gathered in the Golden Room of the Richmond Hotel to honor the Chamber.

Among those who were seated at the head table were B. W. Armatage, president of the Richmond-Melbourne Chamber, Gaston Desmarais, mayor of Richmond, president of the School Commission and an active member of the Chamber.

Annual Report For Richmond Group Made

Richmond, May 5.—The Sacred Heart Alumni Association has had an active season.

President Georges Tremblay and his executive organized several events.

It was decided to give a life membership to all former pupils now in the clergy, to all former professors, and to those who made large donations.

It was also decided that the former students of Richmond College, students out of town who went to schools operated by the Rev. Fathers of the Sacred Heart and friends of the fathers be admitted into the association, upon payment of their dues.

Fernand Menard, the secretary, has prepared the annual report for the period between November 25, 1951, and April 21, 1953.

The report shows that a lot of work was accomplished by the group.

There were seventeen members and four visitors present.

The question of joining the Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbytery Women's Association of the United Church of Canada was under discussion. Each Group has been asked to send as many representatives as they can to the First Annual Meeting to be held in Lennoxville United Church on June 4th. It is hoped that a few members of this group may be able to attend.

The main item of business was the forthcoming May tea and sale of fancy was to be held on May 20, for which conveners and workers for all departments were arranged. There is also a sale of food in connection with this tea. As this is an annual event and the main activity of this group for the year, we take this opportunity to invite as many as can to come and enjoy a pleasant afternoon.

Hostesses for the June meeting will be Mrs. Galbraith and Mrs. Wentworth.

The meeting was closed by Rev. J. Leslie Dean and a delicious salad tea was served by the hostesses.

Memorial Library Campaign Planned At Stanstead

Stanstead, May 5. — Plans for the Grace Libby Memorial Library got underway on Thursday night when the committee met to consider plans for the purchasing of books and a suitable plaque for the door. Present at the meeting were Mrs. McClary, Peter Leckie-Ewing, Dr. A. R. V. White and Lloyd Bliss.

The idea of the Grace Libby Memorial Library grew out of the necessity expressed by a great many people, that Sunnyside School should have some suitable memorial to this much loved teacher who devoted her life to work among the juniors at Holmes Memorial School for more than 30 years.

Miss Libby came to Stanstead in 1918 and took up her duties as teacher of grades one and two. She spared herself nothing to start these pupils off on the right foot during their first years of school and it became her life until her retirement in 1950, due to ill health. She died in November, 1952, the most loved and respected teacher that has ever come to the school. Three generations of College students mourned her passing and will want to pay her a suitable tribute in this memorial library.

It was decided at this meeting that a suitable bronze plaque should be made for the library door to bear the words, "Grace Libby Memorial Library." It is hoped that the money for this will be raised from the students of the senior grades of Sunnyside School, most of whom were her pupils.

It was estimated that $1,000 would be required to purchase books to fill the shelves for the library and it is hoped that this sum will be forthcoming from former students and interested local organizations. An appeal will be made to the College Alumni Association at their annual meeting in May.

Mrs. McClary reported that lists of books for students were available to choose from and it was decided to ask Mrs. Poapst, Haskell librarian, to assist in the final choice. Donations of books will be gratefully accepted but it was pointed out that these would have to be screened for selection. Any that are not used will be passed on to some other organization or libraries where they can be made use of.

Lake Megantic H. & S. Assn. Plans With Mrs. Allcorn Speaker In May

Lake Megantic, May 5. — The regular monthly meeting of the Home and School Association was held in the school house one Thursday evening.

The president, Mrs. Porter Farwell, was in the chair. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Several bills were presented and payment of same was moved and approved.

Suggestions were made regarding increased attendance necessary for the success of future meetings. One of these was that there be fewer meetings during the next year and that there be planned programs for those meetings held. An "attendance contest" was also arranged; the losing side will be required to provide the refreshments at the last meeting of the year.

It was announced that Mr. W. W. Roberts, supervisor of the Compton County Central School Board, would be the guest speaker at the May meeting.

Several films, obtained from the Department of Education, were shown to portray the value of visual education in the school. Delicious refreshments were served. The hostesses appointed for the evening were Mrs. Neil, Mrs. Hawthorn and Mrs. Mills.

Vinegar Bend Mizell Commences To Hurl, Stops Pirates With Two-Hitter; Tigers Win Over Yanks; Dodgers Lose

The folks down in Vinegar Bend, Ala. — population 39 — better start thumbing their St. Louis guidebook. This looks like a good year to go watch Wilmer pitch.

Wilmer is better known to baseball fans as Vinegar Bend Mizell, the 22-year-old plowboy who pitches for St. Louis Cardinals.

He is often referred to as the "lethargic Dizzy Dean" and the only thing left for him to do to earn undisputed right to the title is to start winning all those ball games everybody thinks he can win.

Mizell looks as if he's on the right track now. Monday night at Pittsburgh he mowed down the recently dangerous Pittsburgh Pirates on two hits. He struck out nine and didn't allow a safety until rookie Carlos Bernier broke through with a single in the sixth.

Frank Thomas got the only other Pittsburgh hit, also a single, with two out in the ninth. St. Louis won 5-0.

While Mizell was ending the Pirates' five-game winning streak, two other streaks in the National League also were broken. The Milwaukee Braves stopped Brooklyn at six straight with a 9-4 decision at Ebbets Field and Cincinnati Redlegs snapped their eight-game losing string at the expense of New York Giants. This happened in the second game of a double-header after the Giants had won the first game 12-4. The Cincinnati victory was by a 9-5 count.

Philadelphia took sole possession of first place in the National League from Brooklyn, as the Phils whipped Chicago 8-4.

In the only American League action the lowly Detroit Tigers conquered New York Yankees 10-8 knocking the Yanks down into a percentage tie for first place with Cleveland Indians. Boston at St. Louis was postponed because of wet grounds and the other four clubs weren't scheduled.

After sending Preacher Roe to the showers in two innings the Braves exploded for five runs against Clem Labine in the sixth inning to get the decision. Del Crandall, Johnny Logan and Sid Gordon led the 15-hit Milwaukee attack.

Del Emis had a big night for the Phillies. He drove home five runs, three of them on a double, and hit a home run as Jim Konstanty picked up his second success against one loss. Willie Jones also homered for the Phillies.

Daryl Spencer, the Giants' rookie third baseman who was benched last week for weak hitting, smashed his first major league grand slam home run in New York's first game victory over the Redlegs.

Gus Bell matched Spencer's effort for Cincinnati in the night-cap. Bell and Ted Kluszewski collected 10 hits and drove in 12 of the 12 Cincinnati runs.

At Detroit the Tigers hammered Vic Raschi and three successors for 18 safeties including four doubles and two triples.

The Yanks, with a 3-3 record on their first western swing, play a one-game stand in Cleveland tonight with the winner taking over the American League lead.

Official Scorer To Be Sole Judge In Lord Calvert Trophy Award For Most Valuable Player In Provincial

President Albert Molini of the Provincial Baseball League announced today the establishment of the Lord Calvert Trophy as symbolic of the most valuable player in the League, with the official scorer in each city acting as sole judge.

Following each game, the scorer will relay the names of his three "players of distinction" to league headquarters, and at the end of the season the player with the most points will be awarded the Lord Calvert Trophy, president Molini stated.

The agreement was reached with Jack Clifford, sales manager of Calvert Distillers, with an additional honor to be given. Separate awards will be given to the player in each city receiving the most votes by the official scorer. Under this plan a player could receive his city's award as well as the Calvert Trophy representing the most valuable player of the entire eight-team circuit.

Molini and the Calvert sponsors will choose a trophy befitting such an honor. In many cities the fans previously voted for their "players of distinction." It was decided to try out this new idea of having the official scorer make the choices. These will be made known to the public over the P.A. system following each game.

"We believe the Provincial League will benefit from this idea and we are equally certain it will go over successfully in all eight cities," Molini commented. "All team officials have promised cooperation on this 'player of distinction' voting," he added.

The cities included in this campaign are: Quebec, Drummondville, Sherbrooke, Thetford Mines, St. Jean, St. Hyacinthe, Three Rivers and Granby.

The plan will go into effect from the opening game until the last scheduled event of the 1953 campaign. Under this plan a player will receive as much recognition on the road as on his home field.

The Asbestos team had the ball often but their passes were intercepted and the first quarter ended 14-2 for Sherbrooke. In the third quarter S.H.S. moved ahead again and the quarter ended 28-12. The last quarter was the best playing in the game. Sherbrooke gained 9 points and Asbestos with 8 the game ending 37-20 for Sherbrooke. Kennett and Quintin were Sherbrooke's high scorers making 12 and 10 points respectively. Gordie Howe Wins Hart Trophy For Second Consecutive Year; Rollins And Kelly Tied For Second Spot

Montreal. — Hockey's top individual award, the Hart Trophy, was won for the second year in succession by Gordie Howe of Detroit. In carrying off the award which is presented annually to "the player adjudged to be most valuable to his team," the big Detroit winger also received a cheque for $1,000 from the National Hockey League.

Howe had more than twice as many points as his closest rivals, Al Rollins of Chicago Black Hawks and Red Kelly of Detroit. The three-time N.H.L. scoring champion polled a total of 58 points out of a possible 90 in winning the trophy. Rollins, Chicago's great goalkeeper who was the Hawks' No. 1 star all year, had 25 points, as did Kelly. However, Rollins had more first-place votes than Kelly and would therefore gain the runner-up position.

Balloting for the Hart Trophy was carried out by 18 hockey writers and broadcasters—three from each N.H.L. city—and points were awarded on the basis of five for a first choice, three for a second and one for a third. Howe was the first choice of nine selectors, the second pick of four and the third selection of one. Four of the 18 selectors failed to cast a vote for him.

Rollins was the first choice of three selectors, the second pick of three and the third pick of one for a total of 25 points. Kelly polled two first-place votes, three seconds and six thirds for his 25-point total. No other players were very close to Howe, Rollins and Kelly.

By winning the Hart Trophy two years in a row, Howe did something that only two other players were ever able to do. Eddie Shore, Boston Bruins' sensational defenseman, won the trophy in 1934-35 and 1935-36, while Montreal Canadiens' immortal center, Howie Morenz, captured this prized piece of silverware in 1930-31 and 1931-32. Besides winning the Hart Trophy two successive years, Shore won the award four times altogether. Morenz won it three times in all.

The 25-year-old Howe enjoyed his greatest individual season in the National Hockey League during 1952-53. Besides winning the Hart Trophy he also copped the Art Ross Trophy for winning the National Hockey League scoring championship and was a unanimous choice for the right wing position on the First All-Star Team. In winning the scoring crown for the third successive season Howe established a new N.H.L. points record. In 70 games he scored 49 goals and had 46 assists for 95 points. The previous record for most points in a season was 86 and was also held by Howe.

As well as topping hockey's major circuit in most points, he was also the highest goal scorer for the season with 49, and assisted on more goals than any other player—46 all told. Howe fell one goal short in his effort to tie the N.H.L. goal scoring record for one season. Maurice Richard of Canadiens holds this record—50 goals in 50 games.

The 1952-53 season was a most lucrative one for the big (6 feet tall, 187 pounds) rawboned Westerner. In addition to his regular N.H.L. salary, which is one of the highest in hockey, he collected no less than $4,500 in bonus money from the National Hockey League. He pocketed $1,000 from the League for winning the Art Ross Trophy, he picked up another thousand for winning the Hart Trophy, and another $1,000 for making the All-Star Team. He received $1,000 for being a member of the team winning the National Hockey League championship, and $500 for being a member of the team eliminated in the Stanley Cup semi-finals.

Howe was born at Floral, Sask. (a stone's throw from Saskatoon) on March 31, 1928. He turned professional with Omaha Knights of the United States Hockey League at 17. After one year with Omaha he broke into the Red Wings lineup at the start of the 1946-47 season. He has just completed his seventh season in the N.H.L. He has been picked to the right wing post on the First All-Star Team for the past three seasons and was a member of the Second Team in 1948-49 and 1949-50. Gordie has scored a total of 209 goals in the N.H.L. during regular scheduled play. He is the youngest player in history to move into the exclusive 200 or more goal class.

Jack Adams, general manager of the Red Wings, originally planned to make a center out of Howe, but he has been so successful as a right winger that it looks as if he'll remain at that position for some time. Howe is the only ambidextrous player in the National Hockey League. He is exceptionally strong with long powerful arms. He is the current "Iron Man" of the N.H.L. and hasn't missed a League game for the last four seasons.

The 25-year-old Howe enjoyed his greatest individual season in the National Hockey League during 1952-53. Besides winning the Hart Trophy he also copped the Art Ross Trophy for winning the National Hockey League scoring championship and was a unanimous choice for the right wing position on the First All-Star Team. In winning the scoring crown for the third successive season Howe established a new N.H.L. points record. In 70 games he scored 49 goals and had 46 assists for 95 points. The previous record for most points in a season was 86 and was also held by Howe.

As well as topping hockey's major circuit in most points, he was also the highest goal scorer for the season with 49, and assisted on more goals than any other player—46 all told. Howe fell one goal short in his effort to tie the N.H.L. goal scoring record for one season. Maurice Richard of Canadiens holds this record—50 goals in 50 games.

The 1952-53 season was a most lucrative one for the big (6 feet tall, 187 pounds) rawboned Westerner. In addition to his regular N.H.L. salary, which is one of the highest in hockey, he collected no less than $4,500 in bonus money from the National Hockey League. He pocketed $1,000 from the League for winning the Art Ross Trophy, he picked up another thousand for winning the Hart Trophy, and another $1,000 for making the All-Star Team. He received $1,000 for being a member of the team winning the National Hockey League championship, and $500 for being a member of the team eliminated in the Stanley Cup semi-finals.

Howe was born at Floral, Sask. (a stone's throw from Saskatoon) on March 31, 1928. He turned professional with Omaha Knights of the United States Hockey League at 17. After one year with Omaha he broke into the Red Wings lineup at the start of the 1946-47 season. He has just completed his seventh season in the N.H.L. He has been picked to the right wing post on the First All-Star Team for the past three seasons and was a member of the Second Team in 1948-49 and 1949-50. Gordie has scored a total of 209 goals in the N.H.L. during regular scheduled play. He is the youngest player in history to move into the exclusive 200 or more goal class.

Jack Adams, general manager of the Red Wings, originally planned to make a center out of Howe, but he has been so successful as a right winger that it looks as if he'll remain at that position for some time. Howe is the only ambidextrous player in the National Hockey League. He is exceptionally strong with long powerful arms. He is the current "Iron Man" of the N.H.L. and hasn't missed a League game for the last four seasons.

By winning the Hart Trophy two years in a row, Howe did something that only two other players were ever able to do. Eddie Shore, Boston Bruins' sensational defenseman, won the trophy in 1934-35 and 1935-36, while Montreal Canadiens' immortal center, Howie Morenz, captured this prized piece of silverware in 1930-31 and 1931-32. Besides winning the Hart Trophy two successive years, Shore won the award four times altogether. Morenz won it three times in all.

Canadian Amateur Boxing Tourney Reaches Semi-Finals; Burke Emery Wins By Default, To Meet Gelzins

Montreal. — Wilf Desjarlais, the Indian boy from Regina whose punches land like the hind legs of a kicking mule, takes on a cagey veteran tonight in the semi-finals of the Canadian amateur boxing championships.

Fighting in the 139-pound class, Desjarlais runs up against Fred Daigle of Montreal, a member of Canada's 1948 Olympic boxing team who came out of retirement this year.

The 18-year-old battler from Regina caught the fancy of the crowd at the opening of the three-day tournament Monday night when he slugged his way to a win over tough Gaspard Bouchard of Montreal, who believes in crowd-pleasing and throwing solid punches, no matter what he has to take.

Desjarlais showed lots of courage, going into the fight with a jaw so sore from a bothersome wisdom tooth that even application of vaseline to his face before the bout was painful.

Traffic Safety Campaign Opened By Coaticook Police Department

Coaticook, May 5. — The Coaticook police department, noting with concern the increasing number of traffic accidents caused by reckless driving within the town limits, has launched a traffic safety campaign.

Recent reports have shown a number of cases in which young children have been struck down and injured, but which might easily have been so, and the authorities are determined that no further cases will occur if they possibly prevent it. With the arrival of longer daylight hours there will be a greater danger of children playing outdoors in the evening and drivers are warned to take added precaution when passing playgrounds and other places where children may be playing ball or other games as that is often the time they dart unthinkingly onto the highway.

Says Chief Gerard Groleau: "We have at heart our children's safety, the same as other cities and towns in the province, and that is why the Coaticook police department is starting its present campaign against speedsters and other traffic law-breakers within the town limits. Please take note that no attempt to influence or bribe the members of the force doing their duty, as we have already seen, will restrain us from carrying out our intention, which is to protect the life of every one of our citizens."

So that no one may be caught unawares and claim they did not know they were in the wrong, Chief Groleau wishes to remind all drivers of the following traffic regulations: A speed in excess of 20 miles per hour is prohibited—on winding roads where visibility is limited, on dangerous curves, in commercial districts, in school zones, at all intersections and at level railroad crossings. A speed limit of 30 miles per hour for other places within the town. Signal for stops and turns. Respect every stop sign or signal and all other traffic regulations. Keep to the right, especially at intersections. It is your duty to report immediately any accident.

The department will have the support and backing of the Lions Club, who themselves are planning a safety campaign, and other groups of the town who are interested in the welfare of our children. Needless to say the members of the force will also have the eternal thanks and gratitude of all parents of Coaticook if their children can once again walk in safety when going to and from school.

VICTORIA LODGE

Members of Victoria Lodge, I.O.O.F., enjoyed a showing of colored, sound films, arranged by the program committee under Bro. W. B. Perry, following their regular Tuesday night meeting.

The films included a trip on the Mauretania to the Caribbean and another film depicted a journey by a Dutch Airlines plane to the same island-vacation paradise. The third film showed a typical trans-Atlantic crossing aboard the Queen Elizabeth.

RADIO BROADCAST

Friends of Cecil Meade, of Coaticook, were surprised and pleased on Wednesday morning at 10.30 to hear his voice coming over their radios from station CBM, Montreal. Mr. Meade was a guest on the Nancy Fraser show at that time.

During a very interesting interview he related his experiences on his recent trip through Europe and South America. He told of attending an engagement party in Holland and sang a typical folk song.

He also described the difficulties of travel in some South American countries as well as giving a picture of native life and habits. The ideal way to travel, he said, is to carry only half the amount of baggage one usually thinks necessary on a trip and take twice the amount of money you think you will need.

CHURCH SUPPER

An enjoyable family-style supper, prepared and served by the ladies of the Women's Association of the United Church, was held in the church hall on Thursday evening. A good attendance was noted not only of members of the congregation but friends from the other churches as well. The tables were prettily decorated with crepe paper streamers and spring flowers.

Grace was said before the meal by Rev. W. J. Rowe of the Anglican church. Following the supper a short musical program was enjoyed. Rev. W. B. Perry introduced Mrs. Kenneth Walker, president of the W.A., who generously thanked those present for supporting the ladies in this fund-raising effort.

The musical numbers included, "Good-bye, My Lover" and "Working on the Railroad," sung by a male quartet of Messrs. Stanley Cromwell, Jack Giedhill, Jack Turnbull and Stanley Beerworth. They were accompanied on the piano by Miss Allison Perry, who afterwards rendered a piano solo of variations on well known airs. Miss Patsy Thompson was heard in a vocal solo of the popular "Doggie in the Window." The evening concluded with the singing of the National Anthem.

If You're TIRED ALL THE TIME

Everybody gets a bit run-down now and then, tired-out, heavy-headed and maybe bothered by backaches. Perhaps nothing seriously wrong, just a temporary toxic condition caused by excess acids and wastes. That's the time to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's stimulate the kidneys, and so help restore their normal action of removing excess acids and wastes. Then you feel better, sleep better, work better. Get Dodd's Kidney Pills now. Look for the blue box with the red band at all druggists. You can depend on Dodd's. 52
