Ormstown Exhibition Successful

DOUBTS and fears were expressed all through Ormstown Exhibition on account of the weather factor, but these proved to be unwarranted. The show financially was a complete success despite the bad weather and the fact that only one day's racing was held. There is no doubt that the horse racing is a feature of this exhibition and that it does attract a large number of patrons to swell the receipts. As evidence of this the grandstand receipts this year were $400 as against $1,190 for last year. These receipts were taken for the one day on which racing was held and this was on Saturday. Totally, the receipts for the three days and four nights gave an increase of $244 over that of last year. This shows that more people attended the exhibition and had the weather been as it was on Thursday or Saturday, the receipts would most likely have proved a record.

There is one thing, and that is that farmers were unable to work on wet days and no doubt attended the show in greater numbers on account of this. Another factor is that seeding and so forth was well advanced this year and the rain was a big help in providing the necessary moisture to ensure good crops. Thus conditions from this angle were greatly in favour of the show.

Except for the opening night on Wednesday evening, the rain did not greatly interfere with attendance as the rain fell mostly during the late evening and night. While the grounds were quite wet in the morning, by the time the crowd came in the afternoon, they were drying nicely. Parking of cars was interfered with to some extent and there is no doubt that more work will have to be done on the by-pass before another year. It would seem that some sort of paving will have to be done and also a drainage system installed, before this will be perfect. On Friday, water lay in the tunnel and cars were unable to pass through it. Aside from this, the new method was a great improvement over the old way of getting cars into the grounds. There was less confusion and people on the midway were not bothered by cars continually passing through.

Despite the weather, Ormstown can mark up a really big success for the 1948 show.

Election July 28th

OFFICIAL announcement was made the past week that the Provincial Election in Quebec will be held on July 28th. This date had been mentioned previously as the one likely and activity among political workers has been going on ever since the last session ended. It would almost seem that Premier Duplessis was waiting for the results of the Ontario election before setting the date of the Quebec election.

The Ontario election returned Premier Drew's Party, although in the decreased numbers and he himself not being elected. The C.C.F. showed gains in Ontario and they have also showed gains in some Federal by-elections since that time. It is reported that there will be C.C.F. candidates in the Quebec election, but to what extent is not clear at this time. The Social Credit Party has also stated that it will have candidates in every riding. Should this prove the case, it will mean a three-cornered contest throughout the Province and perhaps four candidates will be in many fields.

There is no doubt that the fight will be hard and bitter between the two main parties—National Union and Liberals, but what influence the showing of a third or fourth party will have, is something that will have to be seen. In the Ontario election, the C.C.F. gained several seats, to make them the second strongest party in the house. But in number of votes, the Liberals still maintained second place.

It would seem at the present time that there is a trend toward the C.C.F. The results of the Saskatchewan election will be known before the Quebec election has been completed, and it is quite possible that this may have an influence on the voting. The Saskatchewan election will be held on June 24th—about one week from now. Should the C.C.F. be returned to power in Saskatchewan, it is quite likely that more candidates will run in the Quebec election. Saskatchewan is the first province to have had a C.C.F. government and a win for that party would create greater confidence among its ranks and they would be able to approach the people of other provinces on their record of achievement and the fact that they had been re-elected.

There may be many surprises in the forthcoming election and we must be prepared for them. It may take much thought for us to figure out the proper course and thinking to follow in making our choice. The only advice we can offer is to weigh everything carefully and not be persuaded against our better judgment. Whatever fine promises are made, it will be you who will pay the piper—it is your money the government is using and the cost of the promises will have to come from the treasury, not from the pockets of the members, or the party. Governments today are talking in surpluses. If they can build surpluses, then they should be able to reduce taxation—this is the greatest promise that any government can make to the people today. Governments are not profit making institutions, any profit should be passed on to the people in the way of reduction, or abolition of certain forms of taxation. The government that will promise such a course of action will stand the greatest chance of winning the votes.

Dividing Huntingdon Into Wards

AN idea that has been expressed on many occasions and from various quarters in the Town of Huntingdon, was brought to the attention of the Town Council at their meeting held the past week. It was that of dividing the town into three wards. Presumably, if such were put into effect, and under the present system, it would mean that two aldermen would be elected for each of the three wards. As the matter was not fully discussed at the meeting, the full idea cannot be analyzed, nor can it be said how the town is proposed to be divided. There is one thing however, the town would have better representation if it were divided into wards.

In the first place the people in each ward would need only to place matters of interest before their own representatives for such matters to receive proper recognition. In arriving at a budget, it would be much easier to apportion costs as this would be done according to the requirements of each ward. There would probably be greater satisfaction in the case of elections when the people would be able to vote for their own particular candidates instead of voting on a whole council. The vote for the Mayor would have to be taken in all wards as is done at present.

Huntingdon is growing fast, its boundaries will not doubt be extended beyond those now existing, and this before another election is held. As properties ask to be included in the town, it is likely that other properties will wish to become a part of the town also. Under such conditions it would seem that the logical way of government would be to have representatives for the various parts of the town who actually reside in that part for which they are responsible. In this way they will know of the conditions existing and be in contact with the people to whom they would be responsible. When money would be required to be spent, it would be appropriated to the ward where it would be required. It would soon be seen if the ward could support such expenditures in relation to its taxation value and thus the bickering about all the people paying for something done in one part of town, would be greatly eliminated.

The time is fast approaching when Huntingdon must prepare a budget for each year and work required to be done according to such budget. Haphazard spending without thought to possible revenue and to possible emergencies, will soon put the town in bad condition. Under a ward system a plan could be worked out as to the required amount of repair work that must be done and the amount of new work that may be required. Provision for emergencies could be taken care of by reducing the amount of new work to be undertaken. It is very evident that more attention must be paid to planning of all matters in this town. The future must be provided for and not left to take care of itself. There is more thought required than just how much taxes can be raised. Thought must be given as to whether the present facilities and services are adequate for the expansion that can be seen coming. Expansion will mean additional expense of upkeep and to overcome this it will be necessary to know how much finances can be acquired to take care of it. It is certain that we cannot proceed along the same lines that were taken ten or twenty years ago. As the town grows it will need more protective measures such as additional full time policemen, it may even need a certain number of paid full time firemen. These things are in the future, but not in the too distant future. Then again, will the present filter plant be adequate to supply all the water that will be needed?

It would therefore seem that the council should give its utmost attention to the matter of wards that has now been requested.

Danger in the Trend

FROM the result of certain elections that have taken place, it would seem that the C.C.F. is gaining ground in popularity in this country. Some of this popularity may be the result of those with Communist leanings throwing their weight behind this party in order that it may sometime be placed in power. It is known that the tactics of the Communists have been changed and that less disturbance is evident among the various unions. They may now believe that this is the wrong angle.

The C.C.F. is the closest allied to the Russian doctrine and it has succeeded in making gains of late. There is a federal election in the offing. It may come this year or in 1949, but at any rate the confidence of the C.C.F. is being built up with the possibilities it may have of success. It may also be that the Communist underground is working to have this party elected and when they have secured power, to take over the government on Communist lines. It is well known from the workings in other countries that this is the sole aim of the Communists. While the general run of C.C.F. members may be sincere in their plan of action, they cannot know how many of their party may be working toward control of the party for Communist ends. Such would probably not show itself until the party had gained the power it is seeking. Then the communist would begin to assert himself and gradually the control would be diverted from the party in power to the agitators. We have seen it happen in other countries and it can happen here if we let it. We must all be on our guard lest we sell out ourselves and our country. The time to be on our guard is now, when elections are being held and the results are evident that gains are being made. We have been told that the Communists would throw in their lot with the C.C.F. whether they want it or not. They would not throw their weight behind the other parties, because these parties' policies are not such that would enable them to attain what they are seeking.

Beware in the coming elections that you are not beguiled into false thinking and that your hand when marking the ballot does not stray into places unknown.

United Church Has Busy Day

Sunday, June 13th, was truly the children's and young people's day at the United Church, Huntingdon. At the United Church, Huntingdon, people united in membership with the church by profession of faith. Along with the minister, Mr. Wm. Coulter, on behalf of the Session, welcomed them into the fellowship of the church.

In the afternoon a baptismal service was held at two-thirty, when seven babies were baptized. Each of the babies put on their best behaviour while the ceremony was performed. The babies baptized were: Joyce Rita Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Ralph Watson; Thomas Cameron Quinn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Quinn; Janice Caldwell Stark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence W. Stark; Wendy Margaret Liversidge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley P. Liversidge; Robert John George Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norris E. Williams; Morgan Angus McIntyre, son of Mr. and Mrs. Angus J. McIntyre; Marion Isabel Vanwart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elgin B. Vanwart of Toronto, (nee Jean Coulter). The service was well attended by relatives and friends of the families.

In the evening the Young Married Couples attended service. The subject was "The Next Step." After the service the Y.M.C. took charge of their own worship service in the basement of the church which took the form of a religious film entitled "Faith Triumphant." The minutes of the last meeting were read and plans made for the next meeting, followed by light refreshments. This brought to a close a long, full, but gratifying day.

Not Good For Huntingdon

Several merchants along Chateaugay Street have been approached with a proposition to close their stores and other stores in Huntingdon, all day on Saturdays. To accommodate the shoppers it has been proposed that the stores stay open later on Friday nights. Just what the reaction is on the part of the merchants has not been obtained, but certainly this would not prove satisfactory in Huntingdon. It is quite alright and such places of business to close on Saturdays, because they are not catering to the farmers and other shoppers for their daily requirements. But there is certainly a need for the stores to remain open on Saturdays as this is the day that the farmer does most of his shopping and makes his arrangements for visit to town. Closing in a city like Montreal is quite alright as a large number of people living there go out to country points for a visit or to summer residences. In Huntingdon those very same people and the residents of the town and district are here waiting to be served with their requirements. We believe that it would be foolhardiness to even consider such a proposition.

Town Softball League

A town softball league has been organized with four teams entered as follows: Dewittville, St. Joseph's School, Huntingdon Merchants and Leach. Games are to start next week on the diamond at the Fair Grounds. Fans are asked to get out and support this local endeavor as well as to see some good games.

Donations to County Hospital

The following cash donations have been received on behalf of the Huntingdon County Hospital: Miss E. M. Edgar, $5.00; $10.00 each from the following: J. C. Dunlop, Miss Alice Wilson, Mrs. Marion Reese, Chateaugay-Huntingdon Women's Institute and L. J. Robb.

Preventing Misunderstanding

The statement recorded in the Gleaner last week as given by Mr. Pope as what industry meant to the Banks in Huntingdon may have been wrongly interpreted. What was meant is that one third of the revenue that comes into this trading area can be credited as coming from the industries. The balance comes from general trading and through agricultural channels.

Soap Box Derby

The meeting closed with a prayer following which delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Redten. The meeting for July will be held at the home of Mrs. Stanley Ruddock.

On Monday, June 7th, an interesting party of five dined at the Chateau Hotel, representing three generations. Mrs. Wm. Wilson, nee Anna J. A fire call was put in on Tuesday morning at 8:38 for a chimney fire at 35 Bouchette Street. It did not amount to much and the firemen took out the stove pipes and let them burn out, no extinguishers were used.

But soon I'll leave dear Chateaugay Its blossoms bright with fruit to be: I travel on in friendship fair A "Highland welcome" waits me there.

The Value of Advertising

One of the outstanding examples of successful advertising is that carried out by the life insurance companies operating in Canada over an unbroken period of twenty-seven years. During that time, the growth of the life insurance business has been phenomenal.

The amount of life insurance protection in force has grown by nearly six times. The figures are astronomical. In 1919 the amount of life insurance protection in force was just over $2,000,000. At the close of 1947, this had grown to approximately $12,000,000.

It has become an accepted axiom that every individual who has any responsibility to others should carry insurance on his life. It is looked upon as almost a duty.

To such an extent has this developed that in 1947 there was approximately $900 of life insurance for every man, woman and child in Canada as against only approximately $250 in 1919.

There can be no doubt that the well thought out advertising carried on by the Canadian Life Insurance Officers Association through the newspapers of Canada has been a large factor in bringing about this condition and attitude of public opinion. It is worthy of note also that this advertising campaign, as far as the weekly press is concerned, appears in a carefully selected group of which The Huntingdon Gleaner is one.

HOME COMING

Showing at O'Connor Theatre on June 20-21

Three years after the end of the war — with the shouting, the glory, the suffering and the terror almost forgotten — MGM has turned out one of the first pictures to deal again with the great struggle.

"HOME COMING" tells of the transformation taking place in a doctor with the American Army in Italy. The change in him is wrought mainly by his nurse, with whom he falls in love and who is killed before he returns to the States and his wife.

This is a picture with the widest possible audience appeal, emotional, highly sentimental, at times tense with action, dramatically effective and full of all the ingredients and the stars that stand to enhance its appeal especially with the feminine customers. The cast, headed by Clark Gable and Lana Turner, spells nothing but the very best news for patrons.

Gable, for the first time since the pre-war days, again hits full stride in a role that is tailor-made for him. His manner is restrained, yet assured. Miss Turner, even without the benefit of glamorous gowns, is at her appealing best. Anne Baxter is excellent as the understanding wife and John Hodiak is equally good as the friend.

Gable and Miss Turner accompany the armies through the Italy campaign and later through the invasion and France. They go through bombings together and see their friends die in bombing attacks on the hospital tents. Miss Turner is to be transferred, but they meet in Paris on a furlough. There Gable

Weekly Review

Hitler Was a Maniac

By LEWIS MILLIGAN

There have been many books written about Adolf Hitler since he wrote the first one about himself, Mein Kampf. If indeed he did write that political hodge-podge. He no doubt wrote or dictated the first part of it, dealing with his early life, and had something to do with conceiving the crazy program for the future of Germany. Some light is incidentally thrown on this question by Erich Kordt, a former German diplomat, in a new book dealing with Hitler's foreign policy. Referring to the Fuehrer's methods of issuing orders, Herr Kordt says:

"His ghastly lack of education, his imperfect mastery of the German language, especially of written German, and his complete disregard of logic, were patent. No well-thought-out document ever came from his pen, merely vague directions. . . . His violent dictation and the tone of his voice intimidated. . . . A smatterer in everything, he was an expert in bluffing."

Goebbels was chiefly responsible for the build-up of Hitler as a superman, but he did the job too well, for he succeeded in puffing up an already highly-inflated ego. It is quite evident that the backers of Hitler never intended that he should become the supreme dictator of German foreign policy and commander of the military forces. But once he had assumed these powers and surrounded himself with the Gestapo, everybody was afraid of him. Herr Kordt says it was Hitler's habit "in every domain to work with two or more competing persons or departments, and to play them off one against the other." In a crisis his ante-room was thronged with party potentates of every size and shade, with military and unofficial advisers, each trying to catch the Fuehrer's ear. But "only very few cases are known of Hitler having called for reports from regular diplomats—he disliked and disparaged them, and much rather listened to adventurers and quacks. Those about him said to have surpassed even the courtiers of the Kaiser in flattery."

Herr Kordt gives the following example: "When on the capture of Abyssinia, Hitler paid tribute to the Army commanders for its training and leadership. General Keitel replied in a big gathering: 'No, my Fuehrer, to you alone are due these magnificent achievements!'"

The conspiracy between Hitler and Mussolini before the war is exposed by Herr Kordt in a letter brought to Hitler by the Italian Ambassador on August 25, 1939, in which the Duce said: "At our meetings the war was envisaged for after 1942, and at such a time I would have been ready on land, on sea, and in the air according to the plans which had been arranged." Evidently, Mussolini had bluffed Hitler himself with his flamboyant boasts of "eight million bayonets." But now, when his fellow conspirator called upon him to enter the war, Mussolini tremblingly replied: "It is for me one of the most painful moments of my life to have to inform you that Italy is un-

Beauharnois Men in
Accident at Maple Grove

Accident in Maple Grove
BEAUHARNOIS—An accident took place on the Maple Grove-Bellevue highway early in the morning of June 2nd, when four men, residents of Beauharnois on their way to Montreal, encountered a pair of horses, evidently strayed from pasture, on the road. In an attempt to avoid striking the animals, the car swerved to the side of the road, but unfortunately, one horse was struck, the impact causing head and facial injuries to all four of the men, while the horse was killed. Two of the injured men were hospitalized for a few days, the other two returning to their homes after receiving treatment from Dr. R. Dubuc, of Beauharnois, who was called to the accident. Those involved in this unfortunate accident were Messrs. R. F. A. Desjardins, C. St. Onge and M. Laurin. Sympathy is also felt for Mr. R. Yelle, Beauharnois butcher, in the loss of his horse.

Farewell Presentation to
Mrs. Leggett by Evening Auxiliary

The Evening Auxiliary of the W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. J. E. Sullivan Tuesday evening, June 8th. The president was in the chair and 36 members and guests were present. The meeting opened with the singing of a hymn and Mrs. Leggett, president, leading in prayer. Miss B. Kilgour led the devotional exercises. Study period was in charge of Mrs. Leggett, who will be leaving shortly to reside in Vancouver. Mrs. Leggett spoke of "The Will of God" in our lives and His plan for each one of us. Following the conclusion of this talk, Mrs. Spencer thanked Mrs. Leggett for the preparation of this address, and spoke of the warmth of Mrs. Leggett's friendship and how greatly she will be missed both in the congregation and the different activities of the church and community and wished her success and happiness in the new work she will take up in Vancouver. On behalf of the members of the Ladies' Aid Society, the Senior Missionary Society and the Evening Auxiliary, she presented Mrs. Leggett with a Sheaffer pen and pencil set, which was graciously accepted. At the close of the meeting, a social hour was held, Silver Wedding Anniversary.

On Monday evening, June 14th, Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Anderson were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Calhoun on the occasion of the former's silver wedding anniversary. Dinner was served for the immediate family when Rev. and Mrs. Ronald Rowat of Malone, N.Y. were able to be present. Mrs. Rowat is the sister of Mr. Anderson and was a bridesmaid at the wedding twenty-five years ago. A purse of money was presented to the bride and groom during the dinner hour, with all the good wishes of the family and close relatives. During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Calhoun held an "At Home" for Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, when friends of the latter dropped in to give their best wishes. In the course of the evening, Rev. Mr. Leggett presented Mr. and Mrs. Anderson with a beautifully decorated box of silver quarters. He expressed the kind wishes of all their friends most sincerely. A one layer wedding cake adorned the dining room table and while refreshments were being served, the bride assisted by the groom, cut the cake with a knife which had a large silver bowally decorating it. The members of the Presbyterian Church choir, of which Mrs. Anderson is the Organist and Choir Director, assisted very ably in serving the refreshments.

Council Meeting

A Council meeting was held on Monday, June 8th, in the City Hall, at 8 p.m. Present were: Mayor H. Roy, Aldermen M. Urgel Charrette, Henri Primeau, Eucher Huot, Raoul David and J. Emile Lemay. The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted.

The secretary gave a report on the analysis of the samples of milk from the Laiterie Moderne and J. J. Joubert.

Urgel Charrette moved that $100. be donated to the Boating Club by the City of Beauharnois. It was seconded by Eucher Huot. Motion carried.

It was proposed that Mayor Roy and his wife be named as delegates to attend the Convention of L'Union des Municipalités, which will be held at Mont-Richelieu, La Malbaie, Sept. 15th to 20th.

It was also moved that on the request of Miss Laberge, Beauharnois Postmistress, a letter be sent to Ottawa requesting that the Post Office be closed on Wednesday afternoon between the hours of 12 and 5 p.m.

At the previous Council meeting held on May 31st, a petition signed by residents of Trudeau St. demanding that Hannah St. be continued to Trudeau St. was read and it was decided unanimously that it was a very necessary move. The residents of Trudeau St. complained of the round-about way of reaching Hannah St. from Trudeau. The matter is now being taken up with local Engineers and is being handled by one of the Notaries here. A motion was also made to open up St. George St. to Beauce St. in the near future.

The incorporation of the Beauce Road into the City of Beauharnois has suffered a slight delay owing to a change in plans which will mean a still larger territory being taken in. It is hoped, however, that this will be straightened out soon and work started on the sewer and water mains across the tracks.

Chief of Police Robert, Mayor H. Roy and two Aldermen from Beauharnois will be attending the Convention of Police and Fire Chief Association of the Province of Quebec which will be held at Rimouski, Quebec, on July 30-31, August 1-2. From there they will make a boat trip down to Baie Comeau where they have been invited to spend a day visiting the town.

Preparations have already gone under way for the Regatta which is to be held in Beauharnois, July 3rd and 4th. It is expected that this will be one of the largest Regattas Beauharnois has ever held and one of the most important in the Province this year, with over one hundred motor boats from the United States and Canada competing.

Standard of Living in Canada Puzzles Britishers Says Editor

Walter R. Legge, editor and publisher of the Granby Leader Mail and past president of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association, who arrived at Montreal, on Monday on the Cunard White Star liner, R.M.S. Ascania after a six-week survey of conditions in Britain, said the British people cannot visualize Canada's high standard of living.

"Thousands of them want to come to Canada," Mr. Legge said. "I was surprised to discover that few people would admit to having voted for a Labor Government."

"In Britain today the working man undoubtedly is receiving higher wages but as taxes are so much higher, I doubt if he is any better off," Mr. Legge added. He found Britain's press was not "war conscious and on the contrary it ignored the possibility of war."

Canada's Exports One third of the income of every Canadian is dependent directly or indirectly on external trade. In view of Canada's dependence on foreign trade for her welfare, it is interesting to note the progress we are making as a nation.

Total domestic exports in April 1938 were less than $1 million dollars; in April 1947 they had increased to $191 million and in April 1948 to $212 million dollars.

For the first four months of this year they were $84 million compared to $88 million for the first four months of last year and only $54 million for the first four months of 1938—the year before the war. Agricultural products played an impressive part in this increase. They amounted to $73 million dollars in the first four months of this year, $53 million in the corresponding period of 1947. This was an increase from $68 million in the same period of 1938.

Export of fish and fishery products was $30 millions from January to April this year, $26 million January to April last year compared to less than $8 million in the same period of 1938.

Looking for markets

Eight assistant trade commissioners, having completed their training at headquarters in Ottawa and toured all Canadian provinces, will arrive shortly in the foreign countries to which they have been posted. They will lighten somewhat the burden of trade commissioners who have been promoting the interests of Canadians with an ever-increasing appreciation of the importance of foreign trade in the national economy of our people.

These assistant trade commissioners go to Portugal, England, New Zealand, Brazil, Greece, Norway and India.

A miscellaneous shower was held at the home of Mrs. Clarence Stark, on Monday evening, June 7, in honour of Miss Mary Tannahill, whose marriage takes place Saturday, June 19. About 60 guests welcomed her as she entered the room to the strains of the wedding march, played by Mrs. Wm. Smellie. The room was prettily decorated with pink and white streamers.
