Landslide For Pearson Predicted; Martin Still In

OTTAWA — (CP) — Rumblings of a Pearson landslide can be heard at the national Liberal convention.

The voting doesn't come until Thursday night but most of the 1,520 voting delegates already appeared to have thrown their support to Lester B. Pearson as the next Liberal leader.

Paul Martin was trying desperately to stem the tide running for Mr. Pearson, 60-year-old former external affairs minister.

"Are you still fighting?" a reporter asked Mr. Martin.

"Did you ever know me to do anything else?" he fired back. "This thing is really rolling."

Presumably, "this thing" meant his bandwagon.

Nominations were scheduled to close at 11 a.m. EST today. They will be announced to the convention at 7 p.m. and the leadership candidates will make their formal bids for votes starting at 7:30 p.m.

MACKAY PULLS OUT
One candidate — Mayor Don Mackay of Calgary — withdrew Tuesday in favor of Mr. Pearson.

DON MACKAY

The third man still in the field—the outfield—was Rev. H. Lloyd Henderson, mayor of Portage la Prairie, Man.

Generally, delegates seemed to regard the leadership issue cut and dried—to such an extent that the convention, which opened Tuesday generated little excitement.

The delegates paid homage to retiring leader Louis St. Laurent. The former prime minister gave his usual scholarly address and, as is his fashion, declined to heap abuse on the Progressive Conservative government. He talked quietly about national unity and NATO.

About the worst he had to say about the new government was that its policies were creating uneasiness and uncertainty in Canada.

DEFEAT NO CALAMITY
It was left to Joseph (Joey) Smallwood, premier of Newfoundland, to put the convention in an "up-and-at-em" mood.

It was no calamity, he said, that the Liberals had been turned out of office last June. After 22 years, it was time for them to be in opposition.

"The Tories will be a better opposition soon, because after a long while they're finding out something about the cares and responsibilities of office," Mr. Smallwood said.

"When they come back to where they belong they will be a Continued on Page 9

BRITISH TROOPS FLY TO STRIKE-BOUND NASSAU

Election Talk Grows

OTTAWA — (CP) — The air of impending election keeps getting thicker in Parliament.

Both Finance Minister Fleming and Works Minister Green made clear in the Commons Tuesday that an opportunity will be provided the new Liberal leader to test his wings early next week.

Mr. Fleming apparently disclosed to opposition parties as well as the public the government's intention to bring a supply motion before the Commons Monday.

Putting off a CCF attempt to discuss unemployment, Mr. Fleming said members would have a chance to debate the issue when a supply motion comes up Monday. This will give the new Liberal leader a chance to propose a motion of non-confidence.

Should he decide to take advantage of the opportunity, Canada could be in the middle of a general election by April.

LIBERALS ELSEWHERE
But while Parliament went about its business, there were plenty of reminders that the national Liberal leadership convention is in full swing in search of a successor to retiring Louis St. Laurent.

When the Commons opened at 2:30 p.m. about 30 of the 106 Liberals were in their seats. By nightfall, as Mr. St. Laurent did his farewell to the party at the convention, Liberal strength had dwindled to six.

Meantime, in the Senate the Liberal majority voted down 42 to 6 government objections to a committee for study legislation authorizing a $30,000,000 loan to the New Brunswick government to cover costs of a hydro power project on the St. John River.

After the committee study today, the legislation was expected to get speedy final approval. The Commons has already passed it.

As the dispute arose, Senator John T. Haig, government leader in the Senate, said the uncertain situation, in which the government is "faced with the possibility of defeat on the floor of the House" and a new election, makes it necessary for fast legislative action.

"I would not last 50 minutes as leader if I did not press for legislation to go through," he said.

Ford Cutback For Two Plants

TORONTO — Ford of Canada announced Tuesday a temporary production cutback which it said will involve 2,400 employees at its Oakville plant and about 3,800 employees in Windsor.

The company said seven days of passenger car production will be dropped to permit adjustment of field inventories. No cars will be produced at the Oakville plant for five days next week and two days the following week.

One-Finger Cure

DALLAS, Tex. — (AP) — Fireman Ed Williams saved the life of a tiny Chihuahua dog by using one finger to apply artificial respiration after it was found unconscious from smoke poisoning.

IRA Raid Station

BELFAST (Reuters) — Raiders of the outlawed Irish Republican Army Tuesday night shot up a police station, wounded one man and set off two explosions in Northern Ireland.

Malnutrition Kills Woman Under Care Of Naturopath

NORTH VANCOUVER (CP) — A coroner's jury has returned a verdict of death by malnutrition in the case of Mrs. Margaret Mary Howard, 30, who died in hospital after being placed on a diet by a naturopathic physician.

The jury Tuesday found malnutrition was due to "her failure to carry out to the fullest her doctor's advice," and attached no blame to anyone for her death. Mrs. Howard, mother of three children, died Christmas Day.

She was treated for two months before her death by naturopathic physician James B. Boucher.

Dr. E. E. Rogers, described as a diet specialist, said he treated Mrs. Howard with insulin after he was called in on the case Dec. 5.

He said he "knew for a fact"

Town Name Revisions Proposed

QUEBEC (CP) — Premier Duplessis and Liberal opposition Leader Georges Lapalme are agreed a governmental body should be set up to revise the names of cities and towns in the province to trim out some English names and replace them with French or historic names.

Mr. Duplessis told the legislative assembly Tuesday night the rights and claims of all groups would be taken into consideration before any changes were made.

He made the statement after Mr. Lapalme suggested the establishment of a linguistic bureau to preserve Quebec's French character.

There is no indication a wholesale change of names is planned. Though no town names were mentioned it is apparent both Mr. Duplessis and Mr. Lapalme have some localities in mind.

Emphasis was laid on the possible names of new housing centres and the names of their streets.

A. F. Klavness and Co. said 10 other men were missing. They did not know if the missing men were on the drifting forepart of the ship.

Police Searching For Frustrated Ex-Suitor

ST. JOHNS, Que. (CP) — Police in two cities today sought a rejected suitor who allegedly led a 22-man raid last weekend on his ex-beloved's home.

Three men—believed by police to be part of the group that beat up respected St. Johns notary Lionel Desmarais, 65, and smashed $1,500 worth of furniture and fittings—were jailed. The others escaped, one with a policeman's bullet in his thigh.

In Montreal, police were trying to link a wounded immigrant with the raid. The immigrant, 25, had reported he was mysteriously shot while waiting at a bus stop.

Held for preliminary hearing Jan. 21 on charges of disturbing the peace and destroying private property were Patrick Delio, 21; Tony Intersino, 23, and Fernand Tinsley, 31, of Montreal. All pleaded not guilty. Provincial police took them to Montreal for questioning.

St. Johns Police Chief Stanley Tremblay said the roots of the ruckus apparently go back to last year when Mr. Desmarais' daughter Lucille, a nurse, became engaged to a man whose broken arm she had helped treat.

They were to be married Saturday, but Miss Desmarais broke off the wedding on the advice of her parents early last week.

Tremblay said the family asked for police protection after threats from the suitor.

Constable Robert Filion, standing the overnight watch at the Desmarais home radioed for reinforcements after three or four carloads of men surrounded the house and swarmed into it despite his warning shots.

Miss Churchill spent five hours in jail on a complaint by the General Telephone Company that she used profane and obscene language over the phone. Sheriff's deputies said they arrested her after she climbed into their car with a glass of rum, resisted efforts to get her out, and cursed them also.

"The belief is growing that she was wrongfully arrested; that doctors, not police should have been called in," says The Daily Mail, a supporter of her father's Conservative party, in an editorial.

"PROFOUND SHOCK"
Lord Beaverbrook's independent but pro-Conservative Daily Express asserts that "Sarah Churchill's treatment at the hands of the Los Angeles sheriffs has come as a profound shock to the British people."

"Guilty or innocent," the Express editorial says, "no woman should be subjected to such treatment. In a free country, nobody—citizen or foreigner—should have to live in fear of police methods."

In a front-page cartoon The Express shows a bumptious, crew-cut American explaining to a British woman:

"The trouble with you Britishers is, ma'am, that you don't realize what life in Russia is really like—why, over there one unguarded remark on the telephone and the OGPU are right round knocking at the door!"

The Daily Herald, which backs the Labor party, carries a glowing review of Miss Churchill in the hour-long TV show, "The Makropoulos Secret."

HER FINEST HOUR
Describing her performance as "flawless," The Herald says in a Hollywood dispatch that it was "undoubtedly Sarah Churchill's finest hour."

In Hollywood, they were betting that Miss Churchill wouldn't make it.

When she entered NBC's huge television studio a stagehand watching her arrival murmured: "That took guts."

At noon, Miss Churchill's wan face was submitted to the glaring lights and searching eye of the television camera in The Makropoulos Secret.

But true to the tradition of the theatre, she gave one of the best performances of her life, critics said.

"It was one of the best performances I've ever seen Miss Churchill give," writes Cecil Smith, television critic of the Los Angeles Times.

Bahamas Tourist Spot Tied Up By Walkout, Sabotage Is Reported

NASSAU, Bahamas — (CP) — British colonial authorities rushed plane loads of troops to the Bahamas today in a bid to prevent violence in a general strike gripping this sunny resort city.

Two planes, each carrying 40 troops, landed early today from Jamaica with troops of the Worcester Regiment. About 150 troops are expected by nightfall. Police are on a 24-hour alert.

The strike has paralyzed the Bahamas tourist trade and displaced plans of thousands of visitors, most of them Americans and Canadians. Hundreds are cutting short their winter vacations and attempting to leave the islands.

A transportation dispute touched off the strike, but its real cause is believed to lie in general political unrest among the Negro population.

Some hotels are already closed and others planned to close today unless the strikers returned to work.

SABOTAGE REPORTED
Police riot squads stood by today as workers roamed the town, picketing and holding mass meetings.

Skeleton crews are trying to keep the island's electricity supply in operation. Sabotage has been reported in several areas.

The Bahamas Federation of Labor announced an all-out drive to get government department workers to join the strike. If they do, the state-run telephone and telegraphic facilities would be cut off.

British Overseas Airways Corporation halted its flights from Miami Tuesday but Trans-Canada Air Lines, Pan American Airways and others continued to operate, carrying capacity crowds home. Four cruise ships visited the city Tuesday, but the S.S. Caronia did not send its visitors ashore.

Most employees of the Bahamas Electricity Corporation left their jobs late Tuesday, but manager Alan Kennedy said every effort would be made to maintain the power supply.

His office said that apart from some pain and discomfort, he is feeling well and is in good health.

Prime Minister Wrenches Back

OTTAWA — Prime Minister Diefenbaker is expected to spend the remainder of this week in bed or working at home in an effort to clear up a wrenched back.

His office said that apart from some pain and discomfort, he is feeling well and is in good health.

American Police Criticized
UK Press Defends Sarah Churchill

LONDON (AP) — British newspapers have rallied to the support of Sir Winston Churchill's actress daughter Sarah, and praised her performance on a television show which followed her jailing in Los Angeles on a charge of drunkenness.

The London papers take Los Angeles police sharply to task for their conduct in arresting her, and some are indignant that the authorities were called in at all.

Miss Churchill spent five hours in jail on a complaint by the General Telephone Company that she used profane and obscene language over the phone. Sheriff's deputies said they arrested her after she climbed into their car with a glass of rum, resisted efforts to get her out, and cursed them also.

"The belief is growing that she was wrongfully arrested; that doctors, not police should have been called in," says The Daily Mail, a supporter of her father's

Youthful Rocketmen Halt Tests

WALLACEBURG, Ont. (CP) — Wallaceburg's amateur rocketeers, John Thompson, Jr., 16, and Bob Janssen, 17, stick by their claim that a rocket they fired reached a height of 8,500 feet. But they won't be able to duplicate it for a while at least.

An RCMP constable called on the two boys Tuesday night and told them they must stop their experiments until they get permission from the department of mines and technical surveys to handle explosives.

"I read over the explosives act tonight," John, son of Wallaceburg's mayor, said, "and it says in so many words that you can't even light a match."

He hopes, however, to go to Ottawa soon to talk to the National Research Council about the slow burning fuel he and Bob have developed and will try to get the necessary permission then to continue the experiments.

Told that John Percival, 17, of West Vancouver, who fired a three-stage steel rocket to an altitude of 10,000 feet Tuesday, doubts their single-stage aluminum rocket could have gone 8,500 feet, John said:

"Our figures were checked by the Institute of Aerophysics at the University of Toronto and that's what they showed."

Canterbury W.I. To Send Parcel To Austin Home

CANTERBURY — The regular meeting of the Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Lindsay Groom with Mrs. E. Wooten as joint hostess.

The next meeting opened the usual way with the president presiding. Minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. John McRae and financial report by treasurer, Mrs. H. Asker. Letters were read from the Veterans Hospital in thanks for boxes sent at Christmas also from the voluntary Service for box sent needy children. Plans were made to send a parcel to the children's home at Austin, Que.

Home Economics Convener conducted a quiz on terms used in cooking which was won by Mrs. H. Asker.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, assisted by Misses Pauline and Marilyn Asker, Claudia Groom and Gloria Chapman.

Girl Guide News

THETFORD MINES

Thetford Mines Girl Guide Association has secured its needed two new leaders and the girls recommenced meetings a few weeks ago, holding their meetings for the present in St. Patrick's School.

New leaders for the group are Mrs. T. Gingras and Miss Doyle, but since both leaders felt the need of a brush-up in their Guide training, Miss Annie Foy of the French Guide Troop has been loaned to them for two months.

So far only one of the seventeen Guides enrolled is from Johnson High School but this may be because the Guide meeting night, Thursday, clashes with other of the girls' activities. It may be possible in the future to change the night of the Guide meeting, in which case it is hoped that more of the Johnson High School girls will attend.

A visit from the Guide Commissioner in Montreal, which will be another highlight in the Guide program, is hoped for in the near future.

FARNAM'S CORNER

Services will not be held in the United Church during the winter months. It is expected they will be resumed at Easter.

Friends of Mr. Herbert Perkins will be pleased to know he has returned home from the B.M.P. Hospital, where he underwent surgery.

Mr. Walter Leonard, of Montreal, spent the holidays at his home here. Mr. Colin Nelson, of Macdonald College and Mr. G. Nelson, of Montreal, also spent the holidays here.

Show Business

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Now that the 10,000,000th visitor has passed through the gates of Disneyland, Walt Disney can afford to be satisfied with the figures in the first 2½ years of operation.

"Disney's folly" has turned into a rousing success. Critics had said too much money was being sunk into an amusement park far away from metropolitan centres. Time has proved that people will come from everywhere to the park—from 65 countries, in fact. Nor has the place proved to be merely for the kiddies, as was predicted. Adults outnumber children 3½ to 1. The average amount spent by visitors is $2.61, including parking, admission, rides and souvenirs.

The publicity value of Disneyland cannot be denied. Virtually all the film stars with children have been there, and it is also a mecca for visiting VIPs. The King of Morocco was so intrigued on his official visit there that he returned incognito for another whirl.

Among other notable visitors: Former President Truman, President Sukarno of Indonesia, the prime minister of Pakistan, Vice-President Nixon, the Begum Aga Khan, the prince and princess of Lichtenstein.

The girls may be missing from the Motion Picture Herald's poll of the 10 top box office stars, but Kim Novak, Deborah Kerr and Debbie Reynolds are Nos. 11-12-13. Marilyn Monroe had better get back to work. In the top 10 last year, she didn't make the first 25 this time.

Red Skelton was in good form when he met the press at the hospital following his near-fatal asthma attack. He picked up a stack from the great pile of letters in his room and asked: "How come they're all addressed to Wyatt Earp?"

The James Dean fans are still active. From a Gas City, Ind., reader: "I don't know why you chose The James Dean Story as the least-needed picture of 1957. In my opinion, which is shared by others, it was a monumental presentation to an extremely magnificent personality. Many who didn't know James Dean found him through this picture."

Farm Forum Activities

THIRD RANGE

Mr. and Mrs. Melville Page entertained the members of the Third Range Farm Forum at the Brompton Road Community Hall on Monday evening. There were 18 members present.

Melville Page was chairman and the topic for the evening was "Production Restrictions."

The following questions were discussed:

Should there be any production restrictions on the products you produce? No there should not be any production restrictions on the products we produce.

By what means, acreage controls, conservation, storage, etc.? In this district it is mostly dairying and it is difficult to control that.

If you are against production restrictions, what are your objections? As far as we can see in this district there is no way of controlling production restrictions. There should be better distribution of surplus commodities.

Following the discussion period, cards were played at four tables. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by the ladies.

The members of the Third Range Farm Forum will be entertained at the Winget home, Third Range, Monday evening, January 13th.

BRILL FORUM

On January 6, the Brill Forum met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Barnes.

Following the broadcast a short business meeting was held. Then followed the discussion on "Production Restrictions." Question No. 1. No, we do not feel that there should be production restrictions on dairy products or poultry products, unless in the case of large companies producing eggs or broilers by the thousand. We do feel that minimum prices should be continued on these prices.

Question No. 2. a) We feel that if production restrictions are found to be necessary they must be compulsory. However we do not feel that they are necessary at the present time.

b) On dairy products or eggs, storage seems to be about the only answer to the problem.

Question No. 3. We are against production restrictions because:

1) We feel that when farm production is controlled very often the people that control the production do not understand farming or the farm situation—also very often controls seem to backfire and do more harm than good.

2. If products are controlled in this area (or province) they will be brought in from other areas.

3. We would like to see more co-operation between countries interested in the same produce. Maybe by close co-operation some price slumps could be avoided.

COOKSHIRE

The topic of "Production Restrictions" proved both of such interest and such complexity at the Cookshire Farm Forum meeting on January 6th, that the discussion period extended far beyond the usual time, and was difficult to break off. It was found impossible to reach any clear or definite answers to the problem.

The Forum was much indebted to Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Hodge, who, at short notice, threw open their home for the meeting, when the member who was to have entertained the gathering became ill with a bad cold.

The radio broadcast was found very interesting, though the experts who took part in it seemed to find it as difficult to find any clear solutions as we ourselves did later.

The first question was, should there be production restrictions of the products you produce? Some felt that on moral grounds there was something wrong about such restrictions when a large part of the world's population goes hungry. But on practical grounds it was felt that locally there should be restrictions on such things as pork and poultry; and that there should be restrictions on milk coming into the province at a price lower than we can produce it.

Question two was, if there are restrictions, should they be voluntary or compulsory? It was felt that, to be effective, restrictions must be compulsory, yet they should be subject to producer control. The second part of the question—"by what means these controls should be exercised"—met with various responses. Some felt it should be by acreage control with conservation; others that it should be through conservation with some storage; there should be some surpluses in storage to guard against bad years. It was brought out that the natural law of supply and demand must inevitably impose some restrictions. But so many factors enter in that it is difficult, if not impossible, to give a definite or clear answer.

The third question was, What are the objections to restrictions on production? One problem is that if restrictions are voluntary many will not obey them; if they are compulsory they interfere with the freedom and independence of action which seem essential to farming operations. There was also the point that restrictions do not seem normally right in a hungry world.

It was suggested that research work might be done to find new uses for our products.

Correspondence and other business was dealt with, including greetings from the Rev. and Mrs. Alex Cameron, and the programs of the semi-annual meeting of the provincial Farm Forum and other agricultural organizations.

Owing to the length of time occupied by the discussions and business, the usual session of recreation was impossible. But the hostess served lunch.

The meeting of January 13th, will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Burns at Island Brook, with the subject for discussion "Price and Income Supports."

IVES HILL AND DRAPER'S CORNER

The Ives Hill and Draper's Corner Farm Forums met at the Stewart Cairns home, with an attendance of 17 members.

The questions were answered as follows:

Should there be any production restriction on the products you produce? We think that on small farms there is no need of restrictions.

If so, should they be voluntary or compulsory? They should be compulsory.

By what means, acreage controls, conservation, storage, etc.? Our group is divided on this matter, between acreage and conservation.

If you are against production restrictions, what are your objections? The farms in this area are not big enough and do not produce enough to have production restrictions.

Cards and checkers were then enjoyed, followed by refreshments served by the hostesses.

The next meeting will be held at the Draper home.

COATCOOK VALLEY

The Coatcook Valley Farm Forum met recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Green for their first meeting of the new year.

After the radio broadcast on "A Challenge to Farm Policy," the topic was discussed as a whole and the Forum Guide read.

To question No. 1 Should there be any production restrictions on the product you produce? We did not think so at the present time.

No. 2 If you are against production restrictions what are your objections? We are not over producing in this area, and believe the quota system is the only effective way.

A social time was spent and a lunch served. The next meeting will be held at Bill Bishop's on January 13th.

The Forum members and friends also had a Christmas Party on December 23rd when they met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Drew for an oyster supper, after which a brief meeting was held, followed by the exchange of gifts from the Christmas tree. The rest of the evening was spent in carol singing.

STANBRIDGE RIDGE

The Farm Forum Group met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Corey with an attendance of 12.

The broadcast on the topic of "Production Restrictions" was listened to and followed by a discussion period led by the chair-

Busy Meeting Held By W. I. At Minton

MINTON — The January meeting of the W. I. was held at the home of Mrs. Anne Styan.

Secretary Mrs. Grace Conner, read the report of the Christmas meeting which was held at the home of Adah Dean, where Miss Evelyn Jenken was presented with a decorated basket of gifts from the members, exchange of gifts was enjoyed and Christmas Carols were sung accompanied by Mrs. Reg. Conner at the organ.

Treasurer, Mrs. John Jenken, reported a balance of $141.99 after Christmas expenditures.

Thank you cards were read from Mrs. Bailey, Mrs. Harper, Mrs. Card, Mr. Bill Gigg, Mrs. Hartwell and Mrs. H. Johnson.

Mrs. Doris Conner reported that 27 candy boxes had been sent out to neighbourhood children one toy for a baby, five baskets of fruit etc., to shut-ins and a gift of Yardley's powder, seven cards and a present to Mrs. L. Hartwell at the Wales Home.

Ten dollars was sent to Mrs. Klinck for the Grace Home and $5 to the cafeteria at North Hatley School.

After the conveners reports were heard a general discussion period followed. An invitation was received from the Hatley Centre W.I. to attend their February meeting. It was decided to send two more boxes to shut-ins in the near future.

After the meeting adjourned, the conducted by Welfare and Health, Mrs. Ken Dean, conducted a jumbled word contest which was won by Mrs. Doris Conner and Mrs. Garnet Card. Mrs. Doris Conner also won the Round Robin.

SAWYERVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Gauthier, of Waterloo, were overnight guest of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Bailey.

Mr. Eric French spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Eric Hurd in Toronto, Ont.

man, Carl Vaughan. It was decided in general that there should not be any restrictions on the products we produce.

It was reported that from January 1st, a discount of 20 per cent on car insurance would be given to Farm Forum members. Some dues were handed in. Minutes and Greenleaf were read by the secretary.

A few games of five hundred and refreshments ended a very enjoyable evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hayes will entertain the next meeting.

CLARENCEVILLE

Mrs. H. Padden's many friends are pleased to know that she is able to be about again after being under the doctors' care for the past week.

Mrs. H. Chilton had the misfortune to fall from a chair in her home and sustained a fractured leg. She is recuperating satisfactorily in the St. Albans Hospital and expects to be able to return to her home in the near future.

Miss Carol Jane Adams, nurse in training at the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, is spending a month's holiday at the home of her parents.

Mrs. Ina Miller has returned from a week's visit in the city with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Miller and her daughter and son, Mrs. Doris Burke and Gerald.

Mr. and Mrs. Stonefield entertained several friends at a sherry party last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Aldridge gave a cocktail party to several of their friends from St. Johns and Clarenceville on New Years Eve.

Mrs. Percy Matthews is spending several days with friends in Montreal.

Miss Beatrice R. Hewson of Montreal spent several days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Derrick.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon G. Derrick attended the 50th wedding anniversary of Judge and Mrs. Andrew Collins in Swanton Vermont. The reception given them by their friends was held in the Methodist Church hall and there were over a hundred present.

The evening passed pleasantly with a program of songs, recitations, music and the guests of honour were presented with a substantial purse, for which both Judge and Mrs. Collins responded with words of appreciation. Refreshments and a beautiful wedding cake were served during the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Young and family, and Mrs. Pike, motored to Stanbridge East where the latter remained to resume her duties in the school.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Miller spent the weekend in the city.

Mrs. Terriault has moved to Martintown, Ont., to visit her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harbeck have taken up residence in the Ledger home formerly occupied by Mrs. Terriault.

Mrs. Ingraham has returned to the rectory after several weeks spent in visiting relatives in Kingston, Ont., and Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Cussin and family, of Troy, N.Y., were guests of her mother, Mrs. John McCloy and sister, Mrs. Foster Derrick, over the holidays.

At the last regular meeting of Clarenceville Lodge No. 91 A.F. & A.M. the following officers were installed for the ensuing year: Wor. Master, Bro. Chester Adams; I.P.M., Wor. Bro. Donald MacCallum; S.W., Bro. Gerald Derrick.

Christmas Party Held By Bedford Sunday School

BEDFORD — There was a large attendance at the annual Christmas tree for the children of the United Church Sunday School, which was held in the Church hall. Those in charge of the evening's entertainment were Miss Lottie Casey, Sunday School superintendent, Mrs. R. Wood, Mrs. L. Ames, Mrs. William MacArthur, Mrs. Gordon Jones, Mrs. Kenneth Best, and Mrs. R. Oakes. Mrs. Alex MacArthur and Mr. Ronnie Martin acted as accompanists for the various numbers.

The program opened with a chorus by the Sunday School, after which by Darryl Wightman, Sylvia Campbell and Jimmie Corey extended a welcome to all. The next number was put on by the nursery class Margaret Van Horn, Pamela Miller, Cathryn Robinson, Christine Corey, Norma Nichols, Richard Robinson and Donna Campbell.

Freddie Gilman, Graham Jones and Calvin MacArthur gave a bib parade, followed by a recitation by Marilyn Nichols. Askit was put on by Norman Grenia, Judy Corey and Kevin Bishop; a chorus by the Sunday School, followed by a dialogue by Richard and Eleanor Clough, a second dialogue was presented by Glen Cockerline and Lennie Lapointe.

A novelty skit was put on by Cheryl Best; Ann Gilman, Judy Campbell, Craig Bishop, Richard Martin and Donald Van Horn followed by a chorale by Betty Ann Lewis, Linda and Esther Gage and Wanda Corey. Those taking part in the next skit were Dale Bishop, Dale Wood, Brian Norris, Roger Cockerline, Barrie Wood, Gary Wightman.

Peter MacArthur, Dale Bishop, Richard Martin and Craig Bishop sang a song, while Gail Nichols, Bruce Martin, Peter MacArthur and Valerie Nichols presented a skit. A play, with Jane Percy, Jeannie Wightman, Betsey Jones, Mary Muncester, Noreen Wood was the next item, followed by a pantomime, with Madelyn Falcon, as reader, those taking part were Jane Percy, Betsey Jones, Kevin Bishop, Barrie Wood, Carol Getty and Peter MacArthur.

A carol by the whole Sunday School, and a novelty song by the members of the Junior Choir and a recitation by Bobby Campbell brought an excellent entertainment to a close, after which gifts and candies were distributed from the well-laden Christmas tree.

I. G. Bro. Al Prince; Tyler, Bro. Wm. Killick. Following the meeting a lunch was served in the dining room.

Jeffrey Lowther Trial Scheduled February 4

A jury was chosen today to hear the first case in the 1958 Assizes of the Court of the Queen's Bench for the district of St. Francis.

The trial of Irwin James Fowler, 22, of Danville, charged with criminal negligence in the death of Jean-Marie Delisle early morning Oct. 13 on the highway between Danville and Asbestos is the first on the roll. Fowler will be defended by Rene Monty.

At yesterday's official opening presided over by Mr. Justice Gaston Desmarais, Clerk of the Court Jean-Marie Gregoire read the tentative dates set for 20 trials.

Jeffrey Lowther, facing a retrial on a charge of murdering Gilles Murray at the Mount Orford Golf Clubhouse, Sept. 17, 1955, is slated to appear February 4.

Lowther was condemned last year to hang but the verdict was reversed by the Quebec Court of Appeals and a new trial granted. Lowther will again be defended by Paul-Emile Brazeau.

Some 100 jurors were called to court duty for the Assizes term by Clerk of the Court Gregoire yesterday.

The roll for the Assizes with the tentative dates is as follows:

Alfred Boucher, ordered to trial May 7, 1953, for criminal negligence. Trial remanded to next Assizes term. Lawyer Carri Fortin.

Judiciary Bills Get Approval

QUEBEC. —(CP)— The Quebec Legislative Assembly yesterday gave final reading to two significant government bills dealing with the judiciary.

One bill—adopted by a vote of 60 to 14—dealt with Magistrate's Court. It would transfer from the Quebec Superior Court to Magistrate's Court the jurisdiction over cases involving alleged usurpation of municipal or school posts.

The other bill provides for re-establishment at five the number of judges to hear cases in the Court of Appeals. It was given second and third readings by a vote of 63 to 12.

Both bills must also be approved by the Legislative Council—upper house—before becoming law.

During debate of the Magistrate's Court bill, a former Battalion of the Quebec Province Bar Association, Jean-Paul Galt, said its implications are "very grave."

Mr. Galt, Liberal for Quebec west, said the bill is a gesture the government "some day will regret, perhaps before long."

If the bill becomes law there will be no appeals from judgments of Magistrate's Court in municipal or school usurpation cases.

At present jurisdiction in this field belongs to the Quebec Superior Court whose decisions may be appealed to the Quebec Court of Appeals. Any case then could be taken to the Supreme Court of Canada.

Premier Duplessis, who also is a former Battalion of the Province, said he introduced the bill for two reasons.

One was to enable such cases to be processed with diligence by the courts. At present a person might be elected to a municipal or school post without legal qualifications and still proceed to remove him from office by piling appeal upon appeal. Now such a case would be dealt with in one court.

The other reason was congestion of cases in Superior Court. By removing these matters from the jurisdiction of Quebec Superior Court its rolls would be less crowded.

Mr. Duplessis, replying to strong Liberal opposition, said if the legislation proved unsatisfactory he would not hesitate to modify it at the next session of the legislature.

Veteran Aldermen May Get Pensions

QUEBEC (CP)—The Town of St. Hyacinthe yesterday became the first in Quebec's history to seek authority to pay an annual pension of $2,000 to aldermen who have served 25 years or more.

The town's request in a private bill was approved by the Private Bills Committee of the Legislative Assembly. The measure must be approved by the Assembly and later by the Legislative Council before it becomes law.

Jeffrey Lowther, re-trial granted by Quebec Court of Appeals May 9, 1957, on a charge of murder. Trial Feb. 4. Lawyer P. E. Brazeau.

Art lovers of Sherbrooke have a special treat in store for them. Armin Holt-Horowitz, an artist of international repute, will hold an exhibition of his Mexican sketches and paintings at the Y.W.C.A. 300 Montreal St., Thursday, Friday and Saturday from 3 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

Mr. Holt-Horowitz was born in Warsaw, the son of a very famous artist. He lived in Vienna for 40 years and received his training in that city, as well as in Munich and Paris. He is somewhat of a world traveller as well, having done work throughout Europe, the Orient, Mexico and Canada.

While in Mexico three years ago, he did many landscapes of Mexican scenery which he describes as "picturesque with many contrasts between two great cultures." Although he enjoys all painting, his great love in the art is the painting of portraits.

In England he has painted the portraits of nobility such as Sir Stanislas Trafford, Sir Richard Barrett-Lennard, Sir Edward Preston, Sir Cuthbert Hoghton, and Lady Albemarle.

In the Americas he has painted such figures as Arturo Rubenstein, the great pianist, Diego Rivera, the famous Mexican artist, and the well known landscape painter, Dr. Alt. And in Sherbrooke, he has just completed a portrait of His Excellency Archbishop Georges Cabana—a commission he received from the local chapter of the Knights of Columbus.

Stricter Law For Liquor Under Study

QUEBEC (CP)—The Provincial Government is studying the possibility of setting up stricter control over liquor-selling establishments licensed by the Quebec Liquor Commission.

Premier Duplessis made the disclosure yesterday in the private Bills Committee of the Legislative Assembly during study of a bill introduced by the City of Shawinigan Falls. The bill sought special police powers to deal with liquor infractions.

Mr. Duplessis rejected the request for jurisdiction for liquor law infractions belongs to the Provincial Police and the Quebec Liquor Police.

There have been two French-language stations here since 1936 and the applicants feel the increase in population since then has created a need for a third.

ATTENDING VLA CONVENTION — Hon. Alfred J. Brooks, Minister of Veterans Affairs, left, is greeted by M. L. Lafontaine, district superintendent of the Veterans Land Act, upon his arrival in Sherbrooke this morning to address the provincial conference of VLA.

Veterans Affairs Minister To Address VLA Convention Today

Supervised farm credit continued to be the main topic of discussion as the conference of Veterans Land Act personnel for the Province of Quebec entered its third day today. The five-day gathering, under the direction of T. J. Rutherford, of Ottawa, national director, and M. L. Lafontaine, of Montreal, superintendent for the Province of Quebec, opened at the Hotel Sherbrooke on Monday and continues through Friday.

Hon. Alfred Brooks, Minister of Veterans Affairs, is a special guest at the sessions today and will address the convention banquet this evening.

Addressing yesterday's sessions, George Owen, assistant district superintendent, pointed out that a survey made across Canada by the VLA established beyond doubt the need for additional credit by farmers who wish to organize an economic farm unit. This need is more urgently felt by younger men in the early stage of their establishments.

Since the amount and cost of the land, livestock and equipment required for an economic farm unit continues to increase, the need for carefully supervised credit in very substantial amounts, and made available to competent and progressive farmers, becomes more and more urgent if agriculture is again to take its place with other industries in the matter of income to those who work, manage and, at the same time, largely finance its farms.

The use of Farm Credit Adviser employed by lending agencies could ensure:

- 1—The best use and greatest safety of the money loaned;
- 2—that the credit needs of competent operators are amply met;
- 3—that a planned program is followed which will be a success and result in progressive reduction of the debt;
- 4—that such planned program is directed towards production more in line with future market requirements.

The work of establishing the Canadian Petrofina Limited in North America was explained to the weekly meeting of the Rotary Club last night by W. G. Wells, district manager of the Canadian Petrofina Limited in Sherbrooke.

On July 1, 1953, the company started absolutely from scratch. We did not have anything, not even products to sell, but just the same, we undertook the job of capturing a substantial portion of the gasoline market in Eastern Canada within three years," Mr. Wells said. "Or putting it another way, we undertook the task of accomplishing in three years what had taken other companies 15 to 25 years to accomplish."

"The three main tasks of the company at its initiation were to secure efficient, experienced staff; placing the company physically in a position to do business and to do so as fast as possible; a publicity campaign to make the trademark 'Fina' a by word, the establishment of a credit card policy and other schemes," Mr. Wells explained.

Canadian Petrofina's staff was faced with the jobs of handling innumerable operational details required before even a gallon of gasoline could be sold.

The rapid development of sales at both wholesale and retail levels, once the company was in a position to deliver the products was necessary, he said.

"Today, after four years," Mr. Wells said, "Petrofina has 900 employees who we think form the best organization in Canada; efficient, hard-hitting and entirely free of politics. And incidentally, Canadians can be justly proud of the achievements of Canadian Petrofina because, while its capital is international in character—we have shareholders in Canada, the United States, Belgium, England and all over Europe—even in Angola—its employees are 99.9 per cent Canadian, and the rapid development of the company which has made history in petroleum circles throughout the world has been due entirely, and has been made possible only by and through the initiative, know-how and hard work of these Canadian employees."

Mr. Wells described the construction side of the company's establishment in the Canadian petroleum marketing field. "We now market our products in most of Ontario, and throughout Quebec and the Maritimes. We have some 1,600 outlets; we have built nine marine terminals, five pipe line terminals, 32 bulk stations and warehouses and a large number of service stations.

"The job has been a fantastic one, and this could not have been done without the complete dedication to the cause and enthusiasm of every employee in Canadian Petrofina."

Speaking on the trademark, Fina, adopted by the company, he said the trademark was placed prominently in the service stations. By this method, Fina became well established, he said, and the trademark Fina became well known.

Credit cards, he said, were later accepted in Fina stations even though they were from competitors.

Further he said that a training program and limited advertising campaign for service station attendants had been put into operation. "We honestly believe that the results obtained have warranted the expense and effort that was put behind this program."

With regards to the quality of the Canadian Petrofina Limited's products, Mr. Wells outlined a three point plan of action that was commenced.

"First, to produce the highest quality products in the world. 'If we were to catch up quickly with companies that had been established for years, it was necessary for us to adopt an aggressive policy. We could not afford to follow, we had to lead in order to gain wide public acceptance."

"Second, to produce these high quality products at the lowest possible cost by installing equipment capable of refining the cheapest crudes available."

"Third to get out of the crude oil the maximum percentage of light-end products such as gasoline, and the minimum percentage of heavy end products such as bunker fuel oil."

A refinery was completed in September, 1955, and has operated, other than from breakdown difficulties, at capacity from the very first day of operation, he said.

Concluding Mr. Wells noted "We have succeeded in attaining our initial objectives. We would not be human, if in looking back, we were not a bit proud of what we have accomplished. However, we must not forget that after all

Town Planning Essential To Proper Civic Growth

"City building is the chief physical form of our national growth," said Dr. J. Hodgson, opening his address to the Women's Canadian Club of the Eastern Townships at their luncheon meeting in the Sherbrooke Hotel yesterday. "And by 1980 Greater Sherbrooke will probably have attained a population of 125,000."

Though each city is unique in its growth, each will undergo the same basic changes. The downtown area, which was the village, will adapt itself to larger needs with some vexatious problems, chief of which will be congestion when the main streets become the city's commercial centre. This is the change at the core.

Behind the main streets lies the inner ring. This is the area of high cost and low revenue for the city. Each city reflects the people who live there and though people will tell you with pride in every city, "We have no slums," every city has these blighted areas where crime flourishes and slums will not go away by themselves, Dr. Hodgson continued.

The third area in city development is the main residential body which comprises all the housing stock except the very new and the blighted and here is where municipalities must enforce maintenance and occupancy codes, nipping dilapidation in the bud.

The fringe is the outside area which will absorb all the increase in growth and it is a matter of concern to every citizen if there is a shack-town on the edge of the city. All undesirable aspects of fringe growth can be eliminated by proper handling when growth occurs. Plans should be made for water supply, parks, shopping centres etc. For one should not have to literally walk a mile to buy a cigarette, said Dr. Hodgson.

Central Mortgage and Housing Corp. is bound up in these growth processes, although it does not take part in the planning. It helps through loan insurance under the National Housing Act to finance nearly half the country's new housing. It makes loans directly to corporations for low-rental housing or to protective home owners. It guarantees home improvement loans made by banks. It may, with government approval, enter into partnership with provincial governments for the construction of low-rental housing; it makes grants for re-development such as Regent Park in Toronto and the Jeanne Mance project in Montreal. It has made grants for re-development studies in ten cities, six of which have been completed.

"But," concluded Dr. Hodgson, "what is needed most is an attitude of public responsibility, each citizen supporting the planning efforts of those who know how to make a better environment for ourselves and those who will follow us."

Seated at the head table were: Mrs. D. F. Watson, Mrs. C. G. Blake, Dr. Hodgson, Mrs. Jan Pick, president, Mrs. Pierre Beaudry, Jean Carmel of Central Mortgage Corporation in Montreal and formerly of Sherbrooke, who introduced the speaker, and Mrs. T. P. Hanson.

Special guests included two Bishop's University students, Miss Lillian Rider, of Valleyfield, and Miss Alexandra Matte, of La Tuque. Mrs. Don Watson thanked the speaker.

A moment of silence was observed in tribute to the memory of Mrs. J. S. Bourque, who was honorary president of the club.

The next meeting will be held on Feb. 19, at which Mr. James Thompson will speak on "Britain Has Her Problems."

Reviewing Social Security

With Canada apparently permanently wedded to the principle of social security through federal government agencies, the decision of Prime Minister Diefenbaker to order a study of the United States social security plan to decide whether it can be adapted to existing social legislation in this country will be welcomed.

In marked contrast to the United States plan which offers a co-ordinated system of old age pensions, survivor benefits and disability insurance determined on an actuarial basis, the Canadian social security plan is a hodge-podge of independent legislation. Unemployment insurance, old age pensions and the proposed hospital insurance plan bear no relation one to another and the benefits paid bear little relationship to the contributions required.

A man who has worked steadily all his life, contributing regularly to the unemployment insurance fund and to the old age pension fund is entitled to no more when he reaches the age of seventy than is the person who goes through life working just enough to maintain his unemployment insurance book in good standing. In fact, under the present set-up, the regular worker is at somewhat of a disadvantage. Having worked steadily, it is possible that he has accumulated a small bank balance or perhaps a very modest pension, which prevents him from receiving the old age pension at the age of sixty-five, whereas his less frugal friend, by taking the means tests, is qualified for these payments.

By combining old age and invalid pension, unemployment insurance and other welfare payments into a single policy, better security might be provided for the individual at substantially less cost.

No Basis For Claim

President Sukarno of Indonesia is on a tour of Asia and Africa which some say will feature an effort to "sell" his country's campaign to wrest the area of West New Guinea from Dutch control. It is a mission that deserves to fail.

At no point since its inception as an island republic has Indonesia demonstrated a sound claim to New Guinea. There are only a relative handful of Indonesians on that soil. The native Papuans have no ties with and no interest in Indonesia.

When the Western press sensibly called these facts to world attention Indonesian officials heaped abuse upon it for "distortions." Indonesians are ill-qualified to discuss other people's distortions.

The best thing that could happen to the Indonesians would be for them to get a non-Communist government capable of governing what they already have. At this moment the Jakarta government is a pitiful instrument which exerts almost no effective control in some areas and very little in others.

Its performance since Indonesia gained independence hardly constitutes a recommendation for the acquisition of further territory, especially territory far from Jakarta and without any logical link to the existing republic.

Sukarno might wisely use his touring time studying some texts on governmental organization and management.

Printer's Week

A banquet in Montreal on Monday night marked the opening of International Printing week. The week will be devoted to extolling Canada's fifth largest industry which employs many thousands of printers, engineers, type-setters, and others.

The week's activities were arranged by the Montreal Club of Printing House Craftsmen. It includes the demonstration of the production of a daily newspaper.

In far-off days, our ancestors carved images and signs on stone, rock, or wood. This was a record of the habits, beliefs and social activities of the particular period, and was, to say the least, somewhat tedious.

Today, thanks to a poor German citizen, Johannes Gutenberg, printed records of political, social, business, and other activities are immediately at the disposal of millions of peoples. Since 1457, when Gutenberg first invented his movable type press, enormous improvements have been, and still are being made.

The first press was introduced into Canada in Halifax, in 1752 by John Buchell, and in 1778, Canada's first newspaper, the Gazette was printed in Montreal by Fleury Mesplet.

There seems little doubt that, but for the art of printing, our civilization would not have made the advances it has. And none could disagree with the assertion Monday night of Health Minister Waldo Monteith that a free press is the foundation of our liberty.

WASTING POLICE

(Milwaukee Journal)

It is expensive to train and equip and maintain a police officer, and it's hard enough to get and keep good ones. Why not make maximum use of their skill, courage, judgment, responsibility? Milwaukee has 5,800 parking meters; tending them is a big but purely mechanical chore. Wasting trained officers on such work just doesn't seem efficient.

HE KEEPS PRETTY BUSY.

Outdoor Christmas lights offer a tempting scope for the activities of a certain type, and once again the lights are being stolen and broken.

The activities of this moron are year-round. It is he who smashes Jack-o'-lanterns at Halloween, throws sand in bystanders' eyes while leaping on the beach in Summer and races through a bed of prize tulips in the Spring.

He is not too distant cousin of the driver of retarded mentality who splashes mud on pedestrians.

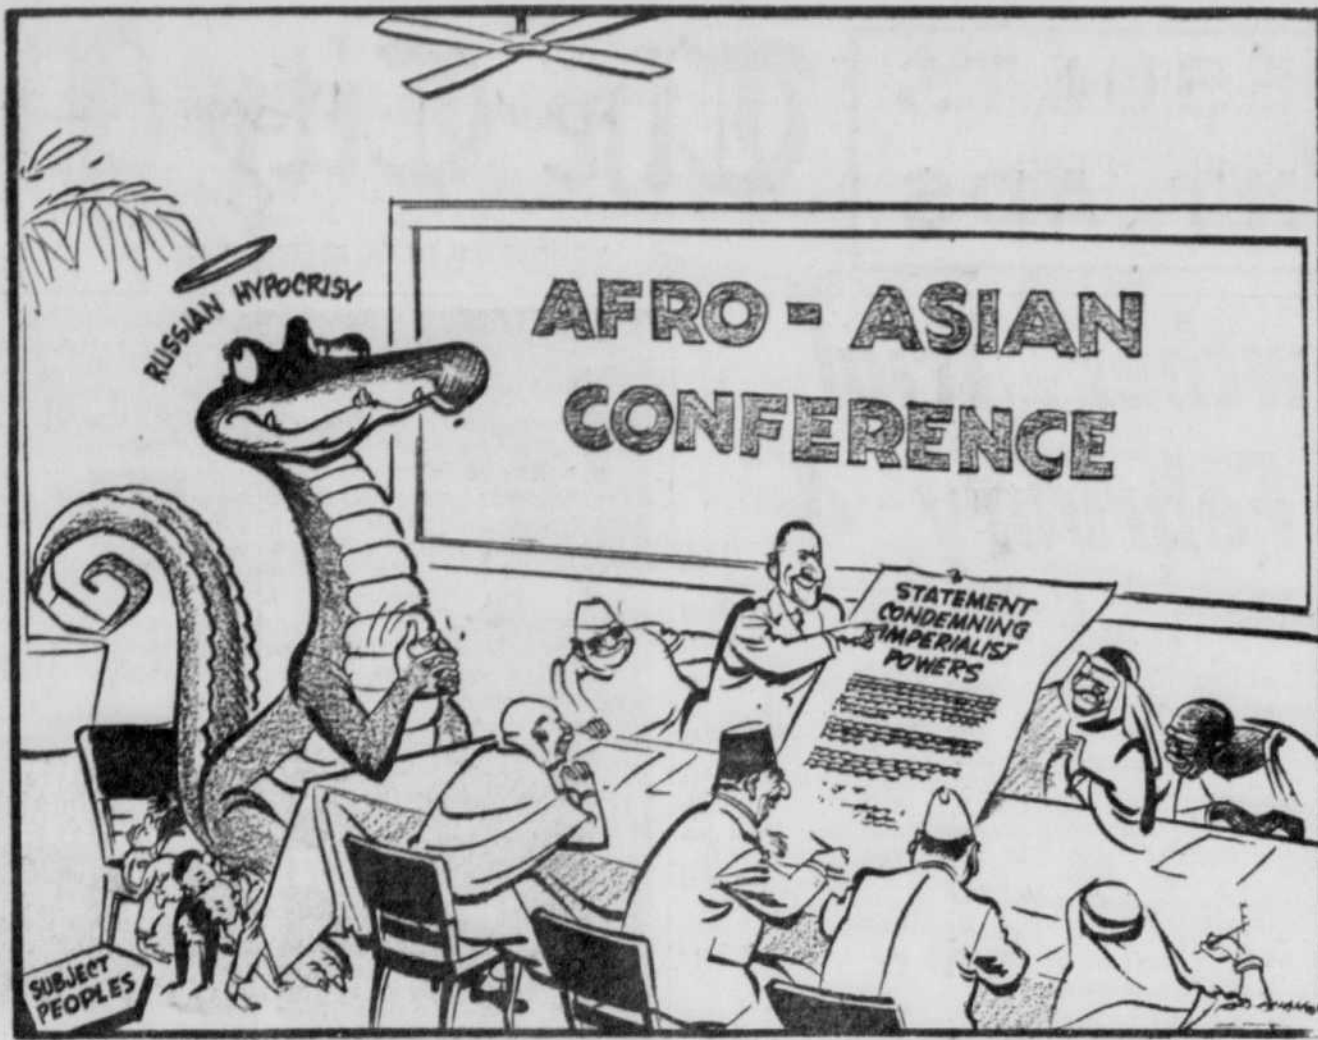

When he has nothing else to do, he provides himself with a little innocent diversion by pushing children off tricycles, kicking dogs or throwing rocks at old ladies.

(Saint John Telegraph-Journal)

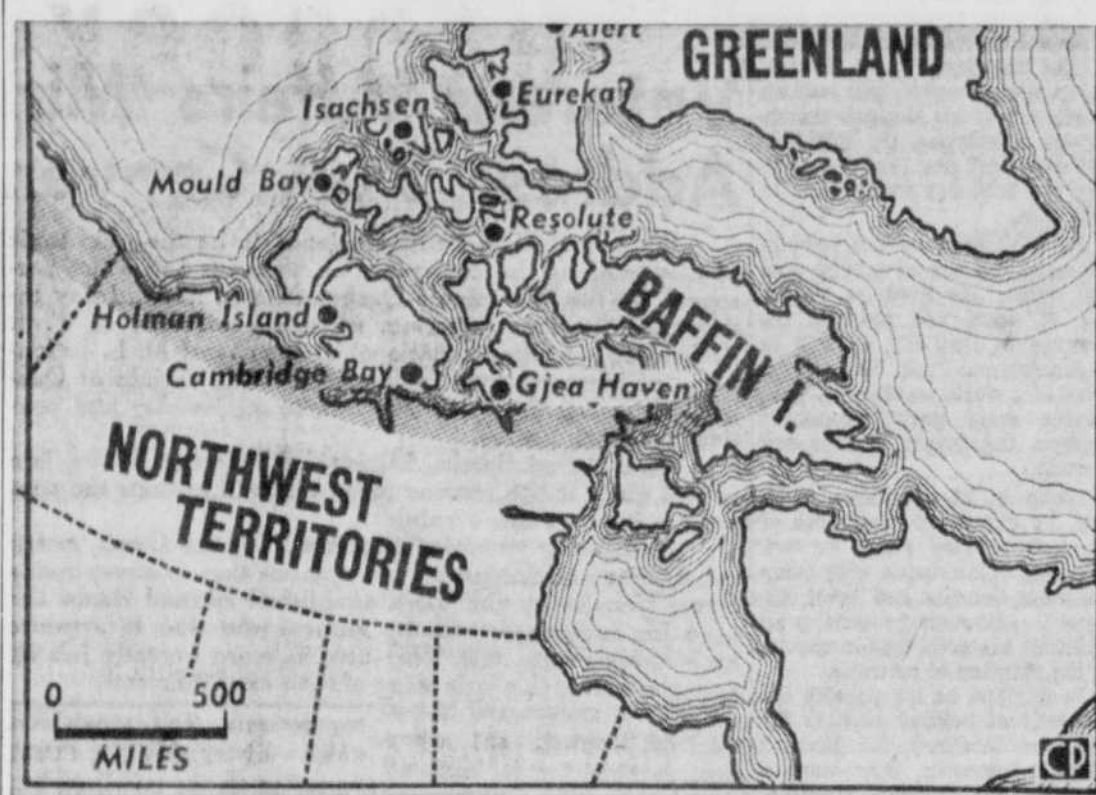

Things looked rather gloomy for Wetmore Lambert of Richardson, Deer Island, when he accidentally dropped his billfold, containing $800, over the side of his boat in dock at Lord's Cove. The wallet sank to the bottom where there is seven feet of water at low tide.

Reginald Richardson Jr., volunteered to don a diving suit and seek the missing billfold. He was successful in a matter of minutes, aided by the fact that Mr. Lambert had lowered a rock tied to a

Spotting Hostile Aircraft

Arctic Residents First Defence Line

Men at the scattered posts shown on map may have first crack at alerting North American defence system. Northernmost point, Alert, is 400 miles from North Pole and far north of the Distant Early Warning line (shaded).

MONTREAL (CP)—The scattered residents of Canada's barren Arctic islands constitute a thin advance warning line against attack from hostile aircraft.

Eskimos, traders, RCMP and weather men have been re-organized by the RCAF into the vast network of the Ground Observer Corps, the volunteer body charged with detecting and reporting unidentified aircraft.

The Arctic section comprises a first defence line behind which are the Distant Early Warning line on the Arctic mainland, the Mid-Canada line and the Pine-tree line to the south.

Outmoded by inter-continental ballistic missiles, the lines are still capable of detecting and pinpointing speedy aircraft or missiles.

The RCAF recently toured island outposts and FO Norman Dick, Vancouver, worked out new corps recruits. His trip ranged from the weather station at Alert, on the northern tip of Ellesmere Island and about 400 miles from the geographic North Pole, to points in the Eastern and Western Archipelago.

John Sookacheff, 28, of Calgary, in charge of the Canadian-United States weather office at Alert, would get first crack at warning of hostile bombers in any attack from the direction of the North Pole. Alert is the last bit of land between the Pole and Canadian territory.

He reports by radio to Vancouver, via Edmonton, the corps' western Canadian headquarters. These reports are checked against the aircraft known to be operating in the area and, if necessary, the entire North American defence mechanism then can be put on the alert.

At many outposts, conditions are too barren to support Eskimo populations. Animal life, sparse at best, varies from the little rodents called lemmings to Arctic hare, seal, fox, fish, wolves, bear, and musk ox.

About 1,200 miles southwest, and roughly the same distance due north of Edmonton, lies Holman Island off Victoria Island. FO Dick worked out a new observation establishment at this Hudson's Bay Company trading post. Factor Jim Cumming, 23, of Winnipeg, is chief observer. His only white companion is Rev. Henri Tardy, Roman Catholic priest from France, and there's a small Eskimo settlement.

To the east lies Gjea Haven where George Washington Porter, an Eskimo Hudson's Bay factor, is a corps spotter. He's a short, smiling man who served with the United States Army during the First World War.

Other points in the archipelago where spotters are located include Mount Bay, Isachsen and Eureka—all Canadian-U.S. weather stations manned by eight-man teams—Sachs Harbor and Cambridge Bay.

Another is Resolute Bay, located 1,700 miles north of Winnipeg on Cornwallis Island. Resolute, a larger weather station and RCAF base, is called the civilized centre of the Arctic, with a barber, bingo, motion pictures and rationed beer.

Bygone Days

TWENTY YEARS AGO

From the Record of Saturday, Jan. 15, 1938.

British and Irish officials are meeting in an effort to end the Anglo-Irish economic warfare but general opinion sees little hope for an agreement.

Officers elected for the Asbestos United Church W.A. were: Mrs. B. E. Beamer, Mrs. Eric Morrison, Mrs. Dean and Mrs. H. Deeley.

TEN YEARS AGO

From the Record of Thursday, Jan. 15, 1948.

With the election of Edouard Belvert to the Bench as district magistrate, young local attorney, Richard Crepeau, will fill the vacancy in the firm of Boisvert and Cote. The firm will be now known as Cote and Crepeau.

Johnny Lujack, Notre Dame's All-America quarterback, today was named Athlete of the Year for 1947 in the annual Associated Press post-year poll.

HISTORIC OPPONENTS

Abraham Lincoln and Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederate States, were born in the same section of Kentucky.

WILD COUNTRY

Elephants, lions, panthers and many antelope are found in Eritrea, former Italian colony in North Africa.

JACOBY On Bridge

SMALL TRUMP IS BIG CARD

Ace Gutowsky of Oklahoma City, former Oklahoma All-American and Detroit Lion star, is also quite a bridge player.

In today's hand Ace used the six of trumps to deliver a key block against a vulnerable game.

North's jump to three spades was a rock bottom minimum but he felt that two spades was inadequate and any other bid would get his side to game anyway. Actually three no-trump makes because of the spade break but there was no way that North could see this and certainly if game were to be bid four spades looked like the best spot.

West opened the king of hearts and continued the suit after Ace played the nine. Since dummy's queen of hearts was high at trick three it behooved Ace to trump in. Most players would ruff automatically with the four spot but Ace noted that the six might be a very important card if used right then and there.

Hence he did ruff with the six spot and now declarer had no way to limp home with the contract.

If he failed to overruff he was down automatically so he had to use his jack. Now the king-ten in the West hand became a sure trump trick.

If Ace had ruffed with the four declarer would have been able to overruff with the five and then finesse successfully against West's king.

Matter of FACT

The iris is named for the Greek goddess of the rainbow. There are about 200 species, all of which are native to lands north of the equator. Long ago flower-loving peoples carried other kinds of irises with them in their travels; so it is difficult to tell where in the Old World they grew originally. Instead of being related to the lily, the iris is a member of a family which includes the gladiolus, the crocus and the freesia.

Substantial Sum Voted To Decorate Church By Thetford Woman's Group

THETFORD MINES — Tuesday evening Thetford Mines United Church W.A.-W.M.S. held its first meeting of 1958 with a newly elected executive presiding and a good attendance of members.

The president, Mrs. H. McHarg, welcomed the ladies and opened the meeting with a hymn, followed by a devotional reading given by Mrs. Oliver.

The secretary, Mrs. K. Little read the minutes and correspondence, this consisting of a letter from the Stewards asking for financial help in decorating the interior of the church. A sum of $600 was voted for this purpose, with the promise of more if it should prove necessary.

Treasurer, Miss Phyllis Hacker read the financial report. The annual allocation of $60 to the United Church Missionary Society was voted from funds now on hand.

Before continuing to new business, retiring president, Mrs. C. V. Hacker, thanked the ladies for their gift to her, it being a Christmas plate to be added to her growing collection of Copenhagen ware. Superintendent of the Sunday School, Mrs. H. Robinson thanked the W.A.-W.M.S. for again sponsoring a successful Christmas party for the children.

In the line of new business, committees were drawn up for the year's work. Mrs. Oliver was asked to continue as devotional chairman. Mrs. D. Scott consented to continue as pianist. Mrs. Harry Eden and Mrs. Lorne Taylor were asked to be responsible for stewardship and citizenship instruction during the year. A kitchen committee was set up consisting of Mrs. J. Kinnear, Mrs. R. Little, Mrs. W. Haddow, Mrs. Laplante and Mrs. Miles.

Mrs. E. W. Reid accepted the position of sewing convenor, replacing Mrs. P. L. Daigneau who has served faithfully in this capacity for many years. Heading the knitting committee and also in charge of the sale of cards was Miss Becky Crease.

Those in charge of various tables for the Bazaar will be, plants, Mrs. W. Petery; surprise packages, Mrs. Houle; white elephant, Mrs. H. Robinson; fish pond, Mrs. B. Mathers; home cooking, Mrs. P. Kennedy.

Miss Dorothy Daigneau consented to take on the work of the Cradle Roll and also the duty of selecting gifts during the season for the sick.

Since a new Bible is given to each baby christened in the Church it was decided to buy several Bibles and have them on hand. Mrs. C. V. Hacker was asked to do this.

Plans were made for serving of refreshments at the annual meeting with various members donating food and help for this occasion.

The question of the annual World's Day of Prayer, which will be held in the United Church this year was discussed and Mrs. P. Kennedy and Mrs. L. Taylor, were asked to represent the W.A.-W.M.S. in the reading of prayers.

Annual dues were collected and one new member joined.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. A. Kinnear, Mrs. R. Little, Mrs. W. Haddow, and Mrs. H. McHarg.

Reports Are Presented At Meeting Of Stanbridge East United Church

STANBRIDGE, EAST — The congregational meeting of the United Church was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Stone, when Rev. T. F. Duncan met the session and the elders. The roll of members examined and a report was given by Frank Corey on the several meetings held.

In the meantime, the Women's Association was being presented with a slate of officers for 1958, the following being appointed unanimously: President, Mrs. Frank Corey; vice-president, Mrs. Homer Yates; secretary, Mrs. Leslie Lackey; treasurer, Mrs. Gus Broeckart.

Reports of the activities and elections of several organizations followed and Mr. Duncan presented a review of the marriages, baptisms and deaths during the year. Mr. Corey gave a report of the session.

Mrs. Lackey presented the Women's Association report and Mrs. Broeckart reported on the financial situation of the Association, which was most satisfactory, due to the efforts of the past president, Mrs. R. Fortin, and the members.

A statement on the Sunday School work was given by the superintendent, B. Kidd, and the treasurer, Cyril Soule.

A report by the secretary-treasurer followed, Bruce Kidd noting that the interior and exterior of the church had been decorated and painted, with all expenses met and a substantial balance on hand. The members of the board of stewards were re-elected, as was the treasurer of the M. and M. Fund. Mr. Kidd was named Sunday school superintendent, as well as secretary-treasurer of the church.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

W. I. MEETING

The Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Bernice Moore for the January gathering. As this was an "Evaluation Meeting," roll call was answered by helpful criticisms or suggestions which might improve or make meetings more interesting.

It was decided to open the meetings at 2:30 p.m. in the future.

ure and members were asked to take note of the time also to bring old cotton and linen for the Cancer Society to the February meeting.

The convener of agriculture, Mrs. Larocque, was authorized to find out the number of pupils desiring seeds for the School Fair and to order these. The study of UNESCO, under the convener of Mrs. C. Tremblay, was concluded, to be followed up by a test at the next meeting.

Several letters of thanks were read from recipients of Christmas cards or boxes. The serving of refreshments brought a pleasant afternoon to a close.

A Message From
Mr. Sam Steinberg, President,
Steinberg's Limited, Montreal, Canada

Serving Your Community

The year 1958 marks Steinberg's 41st year in business, and I felt I would like to take this opportunity to communicate with you as customers and friends and reaffirm the principles of our company in relation to their effect on you and your family.

Our primary endeavour at Steinberg's is to serve your community to the best of our ability. This service of which I speak reaches far beyond the building of modern supermarkets and stocking them with a wide variety of foods. It goes beyond offering you the highest quality at the lowest possible price.

When I speak of service I speak of sharing your common understandings, your common traditions, your common ideals and your common ideas.

We at Steinberg's welcome the opportunity to become part of a progressive community and we do our utmost to help continue its traditions and participate fully in its mutual endeavours. This is what we mean by service because it's what we do together that determines the future progress of a community.

In the coming year we will open new stores and become an integral part of many communities. Some of these new stores will be in shopping centres because we believe that a well planned, integrated shopping centre is the best means of serving the residents of new housing developments springing up in and around our cities.

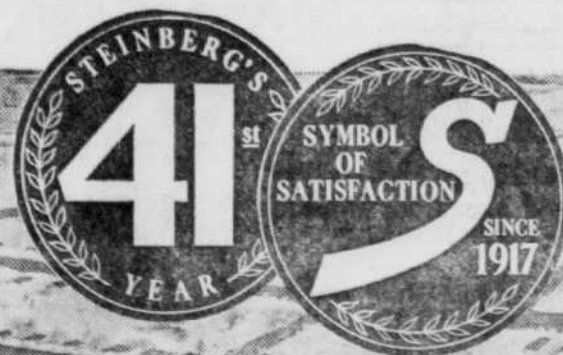

Thousands of people in areas such as this are already experiencing the service rendered by our stores in shopping centres and it is because of the confidence these people have placed in us that we will be able to build additional stores and service more communities in 1958.

The year 1958 will also see a continuation of our policy of bringing you only the highest quality foods at the lowest possible prices, and we will endeavour to serve you better by anticipating your needs as customers and friends, thereby contributing to a better standard of living for all.

The next time you visit your Steinberg's store, take time to meet the manager and some of the people who work there. They are anxious to meet you and assist you in every way.

The people you'll meet work as a team to better serve your community because they are proud of that community. Many of them are residents themselves and they are proud of their association with local business people in the community. Most of all — they are proud of the fact that YOU are a customer.

ROBERT POWERS OF SWEETSBURG

SWEETSBURG — Funeral rites for a senior citizen of the Cowansville-Sweetzburg area, Robert Powers, were observed on December 17 at 2 p.m. in Trinity Anglican Church, Cowansville, Rev. J. O. Peacock officiating.

A favourite hymn of the deceased was sung, "Breathe on Me Breath of God." Bearers were Murray Rulter, Albert Strange, Ralph Rogerson, Gerald Johnston, Albert Forster and Leonard Lickfold.

Interment took place in the family lot at Riverside Cemetery. Mr. Powers was born on June 5, 1876, in Abercorn, and he died on December 15, 1957, in Sweetzburg, following a short illness, in his 82nd year. He had lived most of his long, useful life in Cowansville and Sweetzburg, and he had won the affection and esteem of many. Evidence of this was apparent in the numerous floral tributes and expressions of condolence received by his widow.

He leaves to mourn his widow, the former Katherine Demague; a sister, Mrs. Mary Fraser, Oakville, Ont.; five daughters, Mrs. Cy Hart, Toronto, Ont., Mrs. K. Johnson, Camp Borden, Ont., Mrs. Philip Perrault, Cap St. Martin, Que., Miss Hilda Powers and Mrs. Alex Taylor, both of Cowansville; four grandchildren, Gerald and Frances Ann Johnson, John Powers, and Mrs. Douglas Taylor; also two great-grandchildren, Brian and Clifford Taylor. Two sons predeceased him, John, who was drowned, and Roy, who was accidentally electrocuted.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Scott, Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. Clark Powers, and George Powers, Brigham; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Powers, East Farnham; Mr. and Mrs. L. Kavanagh and Mrs. W. Demague, Granby; Mr. and Mrs. William Crawford, Brigham.

MRS. JOHN M. BROWNLOW OF LACHINE

RICHMOND — The death occurred at the Lachine General Hospital on December 15th, 1957, of Catherine Davies Brownlow, wife of John MacLeod Brownlow.

Mrs. Brownlow was born at New Rockland, January 1st, 1876, daughter of the late David and Mary Davies, and for many years was a resident of Sherbrooke and Richmond, before leaving to reside at Lachine. While here Mrs. Brownlow made many friends who regretted to learn of her passing.

The remains were conveyed to the William Storie Funeral Home, Richmond, where the funeral service was held on December 18th. Mr. Charles Townsley of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Upper Melbourne, officiated.

The many beautiful floral tributes bore silent testimony of the esteem in which she was held. A solo, "God Understands," was sung by Mr. Townsley and a favorite hymn of the deceased, "Abide With Me," was rendered, with Miss Irene Armstrong at the piano.

Bearers were Charles W. Armstrong, Wilton L. Pope, Vernon Booth, Gordon Daves, Lewis Cox and Gordon Noble.

Interment was in St. Andrew's

Cemetery, Upper Melbourne. Mrs. Brownlow leaves to mourn, her husband; a son, Elwin Brownlow, of Lachine; a sister, Mrs. Arthur Noble, Gwent, and a brother, Donald Daves, of Windsor Mills. Three sisters and two brothers predeceased her several years ago.

Relatives residing here are J. J. Pepler, brother-in-law, Mrs. H. Frazer, Mrs. H. Wyatt, W. E. Perkins and a number of nieces, nephews and other relatives.

Relatives and friends were present from Lachine, Windsor Mills, Sherbrooke, Kingsbury, Melbourne Ridge, Hartford, Conn., Danville and Richmond.

MALCOLM B. MACDONALD, OF PORTLAND, ORE., FORMERLY OF MILAN

PORTLAND, Ore. — Funeral services for Malcolm B. MacDonald, 6482 N. Missouri Avenue, a retired farmer, were held on December 14 at 11 a.m. at the Little Chapel of the Chimes Burial took place in Skyline Memorial Gardens.

Mr. MacDonald, who died at a Vancouver, Wash., hospital on Wednesday, December 11, was born in Milan, Que., June 27, 1876. He moved to North Dakota in 1898 and farmed there until 1944, when he retired and came to Portland. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Eva C. MacDonald, Portland; two sons, Allan G. and Malcolm S. both of Portland; a daughter, Mrs. Christie Fjalstad, of Portland; a sister Mrs. Christie MacDonald, of Portland; four grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

ELLSWORTH CROSS OF SHERBROOKE

Formerly of Ulverton
Ellsworth Cross passed away at the Sherbrooke Hospital on Tuesday morning, December 24, in his 81st year, after a lingering illness of three years, during which he was confined to hospital several times.

The funeral held at the R. L. Bishop Funeral Home, Queen St., on Friday afternoon at 1:30 p.m., was largely attended by relatives and friends. Rev. Fred Matthews conducted the service.

"The Old Rugged Cross" was sung by Mrs. Wright Gibson. Bearers were Percy Sweet, Wallace Miller, Alton Peck, Wallace Johns, Harold Aldrich and Irvin Smith.

The flowers, silent tokens of love and sympathy, were many and beautiful. Interment was in the Ulverton United Cemetery, beside his wife, who predeceased him 31 years ago.

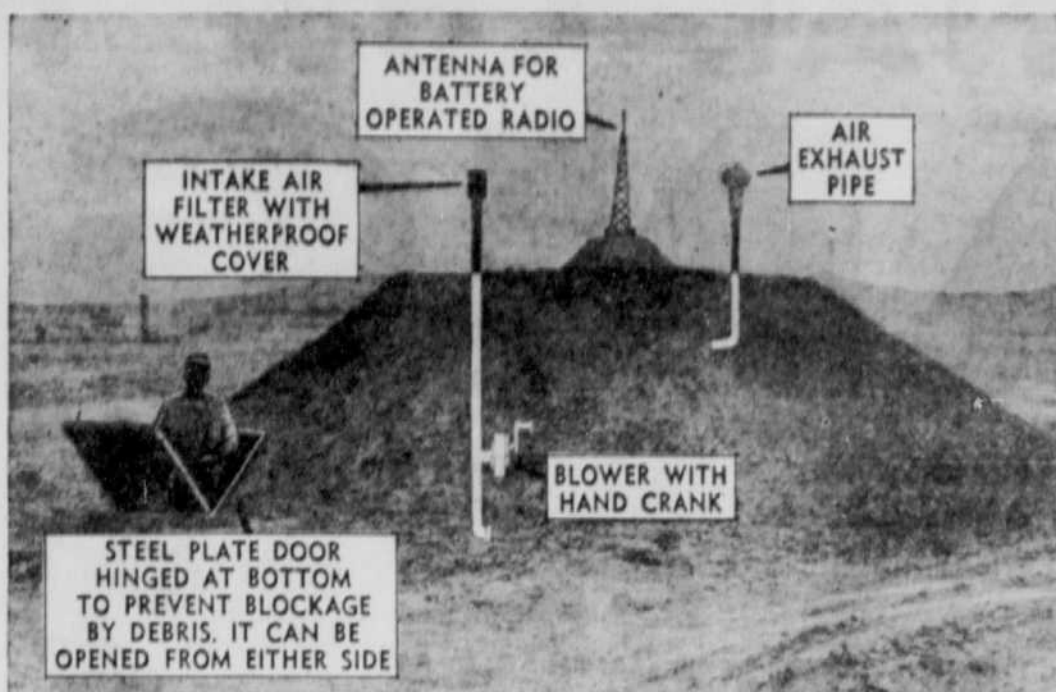

Many friends were gathered at the church to show their remembrance of an old friend and their sympathy for the family. Mr. Matthews accompanied the funeral cortege to Ulverton and Rev. E. New, pastor of Ulverton United, assisted with prayers at the grave.

Mr. Cross was born at Ulverton on June 30, 1876, the second son of a family of ten children born to Arnold Cross and his wife, Sarah Jane Blake.

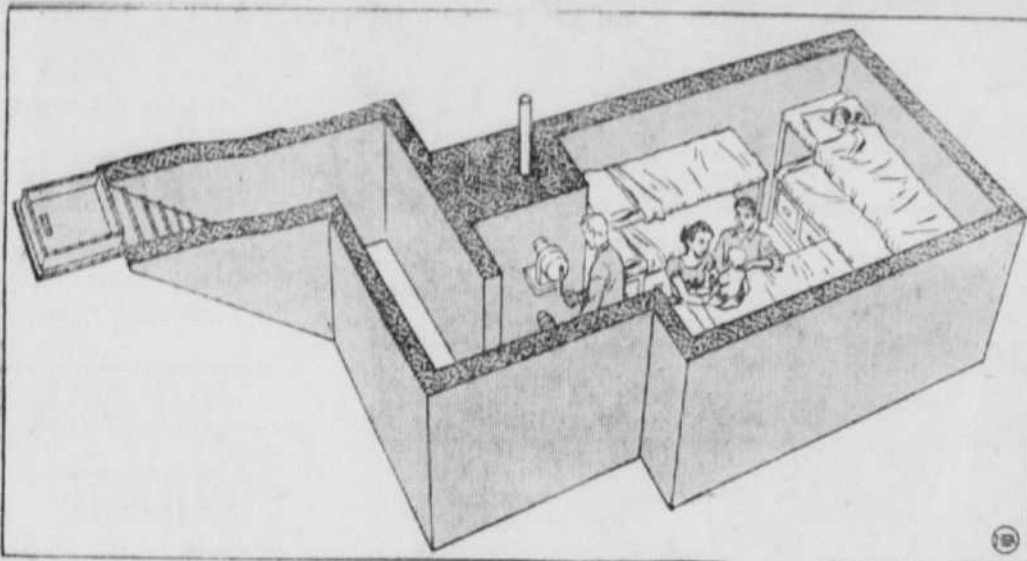

In 1900 he married Jane Eleanor Smith, eldest daughter of Andrew Smith and Isabella Hutton, and three children were born to them, Harvey Ellsworth, who died in infancy, Henrietta Maud, wife of Stanley A. Johns, of Sherbrooke, with whom he made his home, and Charles Livingstone Cross, of Sherbrooke.

At the beginning of World War I he moved with his family to Sherbrooke, where he engaged in munitions, and later he entered the employ of the Fairbanks Morse Co., where he remained

Recommended Air Raid Shelters

APPROVED AIR RAID SHELTER — Photo-diagram shows exterior appearance of the type of air raid shelter designed by engineers of the Federal Civil Defense Administration recently tested under nuclear blasts. It suffered only superficial damage to the air-intake and exhaust pipes, which were bent nearly horizontal, but still functioned. Earth mound remained intact and there was no damage to the concrete family chamber underneath it.

until forced to retire due to ill health. He leaves besides his son, daughter and son-in-law, two brothers, Leonard, of St. Johnsbury, Vt., and Alvah, of Ulverton; three sisters, Mrs. James Stevens, Bertha, Richmond; Mrs. Frank Hubbard, Maud, Sherbrooke; and Mrs. Charles Ellis, Eva, North Hatley; four sisters-in-law, Mrs. Ernest Cross and Mrs. Leonard Cross, St. Johnsbury; Mrs. Will Cross, Passumpsic, Vt., and Mrs. Alvah Cross, Ulverton; three brothers-in-law, Frank Hubbard, Sherbrooke; Charles Ellis, North Hatley, and Peter Murphy, Montreal.

He also leaves many nieces, nephews and other relatives. Two brothers and two sisters predeceased him. Among those attending the funeral were Mr. Ralph Wilson and Mrs. Albert Bell, of Montreal; Mrs. James Stevens and Mrs. Esther Cogan, Richmond; Mr. and Mrs. Alvah Cross, Mrs. May Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cross and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cross, Ulverton; Mr. and Mrs. C. Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Little and Mrs. J. Ferneley, North Hatley, and Mrs. Harold Aldrich, Huntingville, and Mrs. Luigi Ranco, of Montreal.

BENJAMIN BEAMISH, OF STANSTEAD.
STANSTEAD — Benjamin Beamish, for many years a resident of the Boundary Villages, passed away on December 24, at the Sherbrooke Hospital, where he lived only a short time after being admitted. Mr. Beamish had been an invalid for about two years, but was confined to his bed only a week before his death. He was in his 87th year. The funeral was held on December 26 at Cass Funeral home, Rock Island, where Rev. T. W. Tyson, pastor of Stanstead South Church, officiated. The bearers were Douglas Hodge, Cecil Whitman, Archie Mosher and Lloyd Broadbelt.

Burial was in the family lot of the South Barnston Cemetery. Mr. Beamish was born in Liverpool, England, coming to Canada at the age of 16 years. In 1900 he was united in marriage to Stella Maxfield, of Way's Mills, and to this union were born two children, Minnie, at home, and John, of Ayer's Cliff. For several years, Mr. Beamish was head cook at the Derby Line hotel. Later he farmed for about seven years, then went to a Newport hotel as cook. He retired a few years ago owing to failing health.

Mr. Beamish is survived by his widow and daughter, Miss Beamish, both of whom were unable to attend the funeral because of illness; his son, John Beamish, Mrs. Beamish, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Hodge and Miss Beryl Beamish, all of Ayer's Cliff.

MRS. HEBETH SYNDER, OF SHAWINIGAN FALLS, FORMERLY OF BEDFORD
BEDFORD — The death took place at her home in Shawinigan Falls recently of Mrs. Hebeth Synder, formerly a resident of Bedford. Mrs. Synder was born at Mystic, the former Bertha Russell, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. L. Russell. Following her marriage to the late Hebeth Synder lived on the Phillipsburg Road, after which Mr. and Mrs. Synder moved to Bedford. Several years after Mr. Synder's death, Mrs. Synder went to Shawinigan Falls, where the remainder of her life was spent. Of her three children two survive, her son, George, passing away some years ago. She leaves a daughter, Cora, Mrs. Thomas Scott, of Shawinigan Falls, and a son, Earl Synder, of Montreal, as well as several grandchildren. Mrs. Synder is also survived by the two sisters, Mrs. Ethel Stone of Stanbridge East, and Mrs. Mable Colby, of Bedford. Mrs. James Wits of Stanbridge East is a niece and Bernard and Leonard Stone also of Stanbridge East, are nephews.

The funeral was held in the Bedford United Church, of which Mrs. Synder had been a member during her residence here, officiated.

Interment was in the family lot in the Union Cemetery. The pastor, Rev. T. F. Duncan, officiated.

WALTER JAMES OBORNE, OF RICHMOND.
RICHMOND — Walter James Osborne passed away at his home in Cleveland on December 17, 1957. He had been in failing health for the past year. Mr. Osborne was born October 3rd, 1883, at Boscobel, Que., son of the late David and Delia (Priest) Osborne. He was twice married; his first wife, the former Annie Louise Jones, of New Rockland, died in 1934, leaving a son, Cameron. Left to mourn his loss are his wife, Lottie Smith, widow of Forest Mills; a son, Cameron Osborne, of Melbourne; a daughter-in-law, Mrs. C. Osborne, and granddaughter, Sharon Osborne; a stepdaughter, Mrs. Ford Monahan, of Edmonton, Alta., and her husband; five stepsons, Mervyn and Malcolm Mills, of Lachine, Elmer, Alfred and Alton Mills, of Richmond, with their wives. Also surviving are a sister, Myrtle, Mrs. G. Libjgren, of Fitchburg, Mass.; two brothers, William Osborne, of Marlboro, N.J., and Howard Osborne, of Windsor Mills; a sister-in-law and three brothers-in-law and numerous nieces and nephews. Six sisters and a brother predeceased him.

Mr. Osborne was formerly employed by the C.N. Railway as yard foreman at Richmond. He retired July 1st, 1947, after 38 years of service. He was a life member of the Masonic Lodge, No. 15, A.F. and A.M.

The remains rested at the J. H. Fleury Funeral Home, Adam Street, where a Masonic service was held on Thursday evening. The funeral took place on Friday, December 20, at 2 p.m., to St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Upper Melbourne, where Rev. Charles Townsley conducted the service. Bearers were A. St. Onge, Raymond Dulude, E. G. Fletcher, Frank Smith, Robert Frazer and Cecil Mitchell. Interment was in St. Andrew's Cemetery, Upper Melbourne. Among those present were: Mr. Donald Osborne, New York; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Osborne, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Osborne, Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Osborne, of Windsor Mills; Mr. William Harris, of Abbotsford, and burial was in the family lot, in St. Thomas Church Cemetery, Rougemont.

The many beautiful floral tributes of sympathy and the many who called at her home bespoke of the high esteem in which Miss Standish was regarded by her relatives and friends, who came from Bedford, Chatham and London, Ont., Granby, Knowlton, Montreal, Cowansville, Lennoxville and Sherbrooke.

CECIL COATES, OF SCOTSTOWN

SCOTSTOWN — This town and neighboring communities were shocked to learn of the sudden passing of Cecil (Dick) Coates at his home here on Monday, December 16th, in his 53th year.

Mr. Coates was born in Scotch Wee, son of the late Myron and Scottina (Pinkham) Coates. He spent most of his life in this community, being employed at Taylor's Saw Mill and Scott Brothers' for several years. He was employed at the Guelph Plywood Co. Ltd., for the past 15 years, until the mill closed a few weeks ago.

On July 16th, 1928 he was united in marriage to Catherine Campbell, of Scotstown. Mr. Coates is survived by his wife; four daughters, Ruth, Mrs. Donald Matheson, Remilda, Mrs. John David MacDonald, Joyce and Sylvia; two sons-in-law, Donald Matheson, Toronto, Ont., and John David MacDonald, Dell; and a grandson, Alan MacDonald; seven sisters, Lena, Mrs. Auburn Cota, Wisconsin, Violet, Mrs. William Coleman, Scotstown, Minnie, Mrs. Floyd Hooker, Bury, Grace, Mrs. Gwilym Lawrence, Bury, Nellie, Mrs. Theodore Gange, Sherbrooke, and Bertha, Mrs. Bertha Thompson, St. Thomas, Ont.; six brothers, Hollis Coates, Bury, Clarence Coates, Keith, Carlos Coates, Lawrence; Willis Coates, Keith, Wallace Coates, Bury, and John Coates, Wee; several nieces and nephews. An infant daughter, Marilyn, died in 1940.

The deceased was a kind and loving father and husband, always willing to help anyone in need. Always interested in sports, he was a staunch supporter of the High School sports, and an active member and past president of the Scotstown Sports Association. The beautiful flowers and numerous messages of sympathy were silent testimony of love and esteem in which he was held.

Funeral services were held from the house on Thursday, December 19th, to St. Paul's Presbyterian Church. Rev. I. D. MacIver officiated, speaking words of comfort to the bereaved family. One favorite hymn, "What A Friend We Have In Jesus," was rendered.

Bearers were all close friends, A. M. Goodwin, P. D. Murray, N. Maher, N. Nicholson, C. Henderson and J. M. Morrison.

Interment took place in the family plot at River View Cemetery. Among relatives and friends present were: Mr. Murdo Campbell, Waltham, Que., brother-in-law; Mrs. William Harms, Detroit, Mich., sister-in-law; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Matheson, Toronto, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Gange, Sherbrooke; Mr. and Mrs. Philip Vintinner, Montreal; Mr. Crayton Simpson, Toronto; Mr. Ivan Danforth and daughters, the Misses Muriel and Claire Danforth, Waterville; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hooker, Bury; Mr. and Mrs. G. Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Coates, Bury; Mr. Robert Scott, Fredericton, N.B.

ISLAND BROOK
Mr. Robert Dawson of Camp Borden, Ont., spent the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dawson.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Burns, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burns, Miss Margaret Burns, of Sherbrooke, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Burns of Flanders and Mr. J. Burns of East Angus had a family dinner at the Sawyerville hotel.

Printer's Ink Really Does Run In His Blood

BELLEVILLE, Ont. (CP) — It might be said that if Charlie Hardwick cut his finger he would bleed ink.

Charlie, who will be 80 in May, retired recently after 65 years as a printer, 55 of them as composing room foreman at the Belleville Ontario Intelligencer and one of its predecessors, the Belleville Ontario.

His 65-year career as a printer is believed one of the longest in Canada.

Dubbed the "atom of the composing room" at Belleville, Charlie never weighed more than 95 pounds during his working life. He was seldom seen without the familiar ink-stained apron of his calling.

BORN IN ENGLAND

Born Charles Henry Hardwick near London, England, Charlie entered the printing trade at the age of 15 after he arrived in Canada with his brother.

His first job was with The Bulletin, a weekly at Collingwood, 70 miles northwest of Toronto, where he received room, board, clothing and "an occasional 25-cent piece."

He soon decided he deserved wages, but his employer disagreed. So he moved to Toronto where he worked for a book publisher. Then he came to Belleville and joined The Ontario at $3 a week, $2.50 of which went for room and board.

He made two more moves before settling permanently in Belleville. First he went to nearby Wellington to work on The Independent, another weekly. He soon came back to The Ontario for $5 a week. Refused a raise, he went to Galt for $9 a week.

The Ontario publisher kept asking him to come back. "One day he told me if I would come back he would pay all my travelling and moving expenses. I had got married in the meantime. I took the offer. He paid my expenses all right, but later deducted them from my pay at $1 a week."

ENGINE STAYED DIRTY
Charlie recalls that the old Ontario's presses were operated by a wood-fueled boiler. One day the paper was late and when the publisher asked why, the press room foreman explained he had taken the engine apart to clean it and couldn't put it together again. "From then on," says Charlie, "the engine stayed dirty."

The Ontario's publisher liked "personals" — one-paragraph items reporting names of visitors to town. He commended the staff one day for an unusually long list.

"People in those days made long stays in the city, so a couple of days later we repeated the same personal column figuring they were still in town and the items were still news," Charlie says.

Charlie was married in 1902 to Lillie May Carr of Bloomfield, 15 miles south of here. She died a few years ago. Three of their four sons became printers: Cecil of Belleville, Bert of Guelph and Reg of Windsor. The fourth, Norman, lives at Belleville.

MAGOG — St. Luke's Women's Guild met at the home of Mrs. E. Jackson, Pine Street with Mrs. C. Buzzell, vice-president, conducting the meeting. Plans were made for the Annual Candelmas Tea and Sale to be held on Wednesday, January 29th. The mystery parcel donated by Mrs. E. Jackson was won by Mrs. Jessie MacDonald. The hostesses assisted members, served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

Two rinks of the Magog Social and Curling Club were in Sherbrooke and Lennoxville for the Coronation playdowns. Both rinks will be attending the Coronation Bouspiel in Montreal on January 20th. The rinks are Mrs. E. Jackson, skip, Mrs. T. Trew, Mrs. M. Connor and Mrs. I. Parker; Mrs. M. Syon, skip, Mrs. A. Moynan, Mrs. J. Syon and Mrs. S. Whittaker.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Pearson and children, Bruce and Nancy, of Lachute, and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Pearson, of Lennoxville, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. Holt and family.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Connor Bullard Street, during the holidays were Miss Audrey Connor, nurse-in-training at the Montreal General Hospital, A.B.A.W.I. Bill Connor, of Sydney, N. S. and Messrs. Jack Morrison, Gene Mahon, Steve Kelly and Pete Black, all of Sydney, N. S.

Miss Clare Connor, on the nursing staff of the Montreal General Hospital, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Connor and family, visited Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Connor and family, Bullard Street.

Miss Martha Cross and Mr. David Cross of Nashua, N. H., were guests for the week-end of Miss Christie Powers, College Street.

Mr. Stanley Hyde, who flew home for the holidays from his posting in Italy, has since been confined to hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Duncan and daughter, Jennifer, of Montreal, were holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Trew, Bullard Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyton of Etobicoke, Ont., were visitors during the holidays of Mr. and Mrs. J. Connor, Bullard Street.

The Misses Patricia and Carol Sergeant spent a week recently with their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Gilles Marcotte in Richmond.

Mr. Robert and Louis Jr., Sergeant spent a week with their grandmother, Mrs. Charles Crawford, Stanstead.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tyler and son, Kim, of St. Johns, and Russell Hulme, Town of Mount Royal, were holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Hulme and Miss Alice Hulme.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Marden, who flew to England for the holiday season, have returned to their home on Victoria Street.

better opposition... not just carping critics and tormentors of the government. Canada will be better for having a better government and better opposition."

PEARSON LEAD SHOWS

These were some of the signs that Mr. Pearson, 1957 Nobel Peace prize winner, was taking a long lead over Mr. Martin, former health minister:

1. In addition to Mr. Mackay, J. W. Pickersgill, former immigration minister and reputed strong man in the Liberal party, came out publicly for Mr. Pearson.

2. Reports circulated that the Quebec delegation, without about one-quarter of the convention's voting strength, was giving heavy backing to Mr. Pearson.

3. It was reliably reported that at least 140 of the 155-member Toronto area delegation will vote for Mr. Pearson. This delegation represents one-twelfth of the convention's voting strength.

4. A survey indicated that most former Liberal cabinet ministers, with the exception of veteran James G. Gardiner, endorse Mr. Pearson.

NEW BRASS?

Mr. Martin's committee took cognizance of these signs in the wind and issued a statement saying that if the Liberal party brass is opposed to Mr. Martin's bid for leadership, then it is time the party changed the brass.

Jim Brown of Brantford, Ont., Martin committee chief and former Commons member, said:

"I know and so does every delegate that it is time the people and not the brass is heard if the Liberal party is to come back to power."

The statement was issued with approval of the 54-year-old Mr. Martin. It added:

"If the brass in the Liberal party feel that the party can survive only through their dictates as a closed corporation by telling delegates how they should think, then the time has come for a new leadership with an ear to the ground and especially to the future."

DARK HORSE CONFIDENCE

Mr. Henderson, meanwhile, appeared undismayed.

"The tortoise is moving up," he said laconically. "The victory in the race is not always to the swift and the strong."

World News In Brief

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. — For the third time in five days chunks of rock fell Tuesday from the top of the Niagara River gorge at the site of last Friday's 40,000-ton fall. State park police did not estimate the size of Tuesday's fall but said "a sizeable piece" fell into the gorge.

MONTREAL — (CP) — The speed of jet airliners will bring about substantial increase in passenger traffic and a reduction in the price of tickets. TCA President Gordon R. McGregor said Tuesday night.

MADRAS, India — (Reuters) — The Madras morning newspaper the Hindu broke an 80-year tradition Tuesday by putting news on its front page instead of advertisements. The paper has a circulation of more than 75,000, one of the biggest in India.

HOME & SCHOOL

their own rate. W. W. Gibson, principal of the High School, said that mimeographed suggestions on how to study were given to all students, but it was the parents' responsibility to see that the right time, place and facilities were available for the child.

The third skit was entitled "TEEN TIME TROUBLES," with Mrs. W. Ellwood as the mother, Stan Lothrop as the father, Mrs. Walter Henderson as the 14-year-old daughter, and Wright Gibson as the 18-year-old son. The specific problems facing the fictional parents were the daughter's school attire, the son's propensity to smoke, the difficulty of getting them out in the mornings, and the use of the family car.

Discussion on these points waxed long and furious, with much to be said on both sides. The consensus of opinion seemed to be that when rules are agreed upon by parent and child, they should be adhered to. Rules laid down by someone, either the government or the community, govern all our lives and it is well to begin early to inculcate a respect for them in our children. Happy relationship between parents and their children are important but not to the disregard of common courtesy.

In thanking the moderator, Paul Lesser regretted that so many parents who could have been helped by such a discussion were absent. Those who were interested in the development of their children showed it by being present, and being members of an Association which was trying to help parents with their common problems. He remarked on how true to life the subjects presented had been and thanked Mrs. Clarke for her kindness in bringing them to the meeting.

Refreshments were served later in the cafeteria under the direction of Mrs. J. A. Hogg and Mrs. Fred Page.

Airline Strike

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Eastern Airlines flight engineers said Tuesday they will go on strike Sunday if a contract agreement is not reached on or before that date.

Tax Reduction Helpful In Boosting Economy

MONTREAL (CP) — A substantial reduction in taxes would be one of the most efficient ways to assure a resumption of economic expansion, Charles St. Pierre, president of La Banque Canadienne Nationale (national Canadian bank) said Tuesday at the bank's annual meeting.

"The income tax," Mr. St. Pierre stated, "often deprives corporations of a part of their earnings needed to improve and modernize their plant. It hinders more particularly the initiative of owners of smaller industries which are 10 times as numerous as large ones."

"Stability of employment, the mainstay of economic prosperity, demands that the manufacturing industry be in a position to expand rapidly and improve its equipment in order to increase productivity."

COMMON MARKET EFFECTS

Mr. St. Pierre said it is impossible to foresee the repercussions from the recently formed six-country common market in Europe or the larger free-trade zone which is being considered, but there seemed no doubt that such developments would require a readjustment of Canada's commercial policy.

In regard to current economic conditions, Mr. St. Pierre said: "There is no lack of sustaining factors. During the extensive period of development our country has experienced, neither securities nor raw materials have been the subject of reckless speculation."

"The period of stabilization or, at worst, recession we will have to go through will not alter in the least the bright future of our country so richly endowed with natural resources and where the extension of industrial equipment has been remarkable."

Never in any country, Mr. St. Pierre said, did statistics show an unbroken chain of records. Progress always proceeded by stages, passing through successive ups and downs. The Canadian economy and attained a very high level. It must consolidate its position before reaching a new stage.

GREATEST DAYS

for so long—22 years. He added with a smile:

"That fear will not exist next time."

He said, firmly, that he has always believed in the judgment of the people.

FAULT IN OURSELVES

"And I carry that belief to the point of believing that when we do not carry the judgment of the people, the fault is in ourselves and not in the people. When that happens it means we need to get closer to the people."

Liberals should "hold fast to the Liberal faith; to plan for a larger future, to promise only what we believe we can perform and benefit Canada by performing; to trust the people and to deserve their trust."

If this were done he had no doubt the party "will give even greater service to our beloved country in the future than it has in the past."

His speech, in both English and French, emphasized national unity which he said had been nurtured by the Liberals. He said one of his greatest satisfactions was that he had contributed to the growth of that unity.

PARTY IDEAL

He defined the Liberal ideal as:

Recognition of the equal rights of all Canadians; an ardent desire to ensure for all a fair share in development of natural resources; acceptance across the country of the consequences of the diversity of Canadian racial origins, cultures, languages and religions; and application of those principles in the field of social security and social well-being.

Mr. St. Laurent said national unity is more than the absence of friction between different races and religions.

Financial & Market Report

RICHMOND

The members of the G.M. Bridge Club were entertained at the home of Mrs. Howard Hills on Tuesday evening, January 7th. Several tables of cards were played and prizes were awarded to Mrs. A. #### Cards of Thanks

ROLA-PLIESZYNSKI — Mr. and Mrs. Stanislas Rola-Plieszynski thank from the bottom of their hearts all the people who expressed their sympathy at the time of their great loss and made their burden easier to bear.
Owing to circumstances they are unable to thank each one personally.
STANFORD — I wish to thank all my doctors, nurses, friends and staff on the third floor and Mrs. Crosby for their loving care; also Rev. Dr. L. M. Outerbridge and Ven. Archdeacon T. J. Matthews for their many visits and prayers. My grateful thanks and appreciation to all who sent cards and gifts or visited me while I was a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital; to all who sent baskets and those who contributed the lovely and useful gifts to my sunshine basket, also kind friends and neighbours who sent in food. All your kindnesses are much appreciated and will always be remembered.
MRS. W. H. STANFORD,
Lennoxville, Que.

WALLACE — I wish to thank Dr. Taylor and Dr. Klinek, the nurses and staff on the second floor for their kindness and care while I was a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital and do sincerely thank all who sent cards, gifts and visited me and also to those who were so kind to Olive. Also for remembrances and gifts since I have returned home. I wish you one and all a Happy and Prosperous New Year.
HUGH L. WALLACE,
Lennoxville, Que.

I wish to take this opportunity, to thank all my friends and neighbours, who sent cards, flowers and visited me, while I was a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital. Also to Dr. MacLeod, nurses and nurses aides on second floor, also ladies in ward for their kindness.
I say thank you one and all.
Yours sincerely,
MRS. S. MORRISON.

Aluminum Co. of America is reported to have decided to halt construction of three projects in its $100 million expansion program temporarily on account of the fact demand is not absorbing all the production of its present facilities.

PROBLEMS

the fundamental reason for any degree of success we have achieved is that we have the good luck of living and working in Canada, in a country that is expanding rapidly and whose markets are growing every day; in a country where the social, political and economic climate is the best in the world, and in a country which offers infinite opportunity to anyone who has the necessary vision, initiative, courage and willingness to work."

Mr. Wells was introduced by Marcel Lapointe and thanked by Gene Gingras.

Ruth Millett

Clothes, Dates, Rush-Rush—
Suddenly She's a Woman

She doesn't know the difference between "braise" and "broil." But she can identify at a glance the make of every car on the road, both foreign and domestic.

She can slave for hours on any teen-age group effort, but she moves in slow motion when it is time to load the dishwasher.

She always asks, "Who is it?" when called to the telephone. How else would she know whether to make a dash for it or placidly finish painting her nails unless she received the wanted information — girl or boy?

She plays one record over and over for a few days and then puts it aside never to be played again, not even to try to find out why its beat once so enraptured her.

She is just as thrilled over Mike's attentions this month as she was over Billy's devotion a few weeks ago. And she never bears an ex-steady a grudge.

Never Enough

She loves clothes and no matter how crowded her closet is, she never has enough.

She rushes from one most important moment to the next most important moment, always anticipating the one ahead and never looking back on the moment already lived.

She thinks 25 is old and can't imagine that anyone older than that has any fun in life.

She never sits down to talk on the telephone if she can lie down, even on the floor.

She can be dramatic about anything at all—and usually is.

But don't worry about her. In just a few short years she'll be so settled down and practical and responsible you'll find it hard to remember the teen-ager she now is.

And she'll find it hard to remember, too.

Victorian Order Of Nurses Find New Frontiers

OTTAWA (CP)—The Victorian Order of Nurses—whose members trekked to the Klondike nearly 60 years ago—still finds new frontiers.

The home-nursing order has announced plans to establish a branch at Elliot Lake, Northern Ontario mining centre, in early spring.

The fast-growing mining community now has a population of 17,000. Plans for an 18-bed hospital are under way. At present expectant mothers must travel to Blind River, 40 miles distant, or to Sudbury or Sault Ste. Marie, which is 90 miles away.

Community leaders, planning for a town that has as many women and children as miners, have turned to the V.O.N. to reinforce community health officers.

The community plans to raise $16,000 to cover costs of establishing a V.O.N. branch with two nurses and two cars by April. Elliot Lake will be the 119th branch of the nursing order.

MANNERS MAKE FRIENDS

To keep your address list up to date, make a list of the addresses on the Christmas cards you receive from out-of-town friends. Then when you get time, check the list against your address book.

An address book that isn't kept up to date isn't of much help when you need it.

ALDRISHT CHAPTER, I.O.D.E.

The regular monthly meeting of Aldrisht Chapter, I.O.D.E. was held at I.O.D.E. house on Friday evening, January 10, with the regent, Mrs. George Foreman, presiding.

Mrs. R. D. Wells acted as Standard Bearer in the absence of Mrs. R. Chivers, and Mrs. George Smith as secretary in the absence of Mrs. M. Salvas.

The minutes of the December meeting were read and approved with the addition of the name of Mrs. A. Christie as a hostess.

Mrs. Smith reported that the annual Ladies Singles Darts Tournament would be held in Sherbrooke the first week in March, and it was left to the conveners to decide whether it should be afternoon or evening, or whether or not refreshments should be served. The entry fee will be fifty cents as usual.

Mrs. D. Lynn reported that plans were progressing favorably for the Spinners Spree, and Mrs. D. Davis, decorations convenor, asked for the following work nights: Thursday, Jan. 16, Friday, January 22, at I.O.D.E. house, and Wednesday, January 22, at Mrs. Davis' home.

The regent reported that the Chapter were hostesses at the Municipal Meeting being held January 21.

It was requested that the members bring in their old Christmas Cards to be sent to England in response to a request. These should be brought in on January 24 when a report meeting will be held in conjunction with the work night. The annual meeting of the Chapter will be held February 7, when the reports of the various conveners and officers will be approved, and the new officers elected.

Following the adjournment, nominations for the new officers for the ensuing year were held, after which refreshments were served by the hostesses: Mrs. D. Davis and Mrs. Lorraine Billing.

BELVIDERE W. I.

The Belvidere Branch of the Quebec Women's Institutes met at the home of Mrs. Francis Paige, Prospect St., Lennoxville, with the president, Miss Edna Smith in the chair.

Following the opening prayers, the treasurer reported a bank balance of $209.68.

Plans were discussed for a tour of a local industry in the near future, the Bell Telephone being the one chosen by the members.

MND Alumnae Names Scholarship Tea Committees

A meeting of the Mont Notre Dame Alumnae Association Council was held at the Convent on Sunday, January 12th, with the president, Mrs. Octavien Leveque presiding.

The opening prayer was recited by Rev. Mother St. Antoine de la Providence, Superior. Mrs. Leveque extended good wishes for the New Year and commented on the happy co-incidence that the meeting was being held on the feast day of Blessed Mother Marguerite Bourgeoys, foundress of the Congregation of Notre Dame.

Plans were made for the Annual Scholarship Fund Tea to be held on Saturday, February 1st, and the following committees were appointed:

Reception: Rev. Mother St. Antoine de la Providence, Sup.; Mrs. Octavien Leveque, president; Miss Yvette Campbell, vice-president; Miss Yvette Campbell, past president.

Decorations: Mrs. Doris Dustin, Mrs. Julien Giroux, Mrs. Claire Cloutier, Mrs. Armand Hebert, Miss Helen Fitzgerald.

Refreshments: Mrs. Stella Veilleux, Mrs. Paul McKenna, Mrs. W. B. Murray, Mrs. Jacques Lemieux.

Publicity: Mrs. Victor Brownlow.

Tickets: Mrs. Octavien Leveque and Miss Yvette Campbell.

The Alumnae Association sponsors eight scholarships and this Annual Tea is one of the major endeavours for providing funds for this purpose. It is therefore hoped that all former pupils and friends will lend their generous support to make it an outstanding success.

The Forty Hours Devotion is being held at Mont Notre Dame on Friday, January 17, and Saturday, 18th.

I.O.D.E. Work Overseas Continues

This week an Imperial Order Daughter of the Empire relief shipment of 99 cases, weighing five tons, valued at $23,420.61, left Canada for refugee children in Europe, Africa and Asia.

Mrs. R. C. Latimer, National Services at Home and Abroad Secretary, said that the warm clothing, blankets, first-aid and X-ray supplies, powdered milk and handicraft material provided by chapters of the I.O.D.E. across Canada were destined for refugee camps, infants' homes, welfare centres, orphanages and T.B. hospitals in British Somaliland, Kenya, Sudan, Germany, Italy, Austria, Greece and Korea.

These I.O.D.E. supplies, which left from the Ports of Vancouver, Halifax and Saint John, will be distributed by field teams of the British Save the Children Fund, who have always handled I.O.D.E. relief shipments in these countries.

Since the war, the I.O.D.E. has sent continuous aid to the destitute children abroad, but their overseas help is only 20% of the more than half million dollars spent annually from the services departments; 80% is spent in Canada on local projects such as: clinics, veterans' hospital, sanatoria, senior citizens, immigrants, libraries, summer camps, nurseries, historic sites, Canadian disaster funds and emergency welfare.

More Librarians Required To Meet Increasing Needs

WINNIPEG (CP) — More trained and experienced librarians are needed urgently in Manitoba.

Miss Vera Patrick of Souris, Man., told the annual general meeting of Manitoba Provincial Council of Women that recent increases in provincial library grants would make it possible to establish more libraries.

"But we need more librarians—not bookworms in the accepted meaning of the word—but fully qualified and experienced persons who like working with people and who realize the importance of books and reading."

In presenting the report of the library committee, Miss Patrick added that Canada has 2,400 librarians but 4,000 are required to meet increasing needs. She suggested that some organizations could offer bursaries to assist young people to train as librarians.

The meeting passed a resolution urging the provincial government "to do all within its power to make it possible to procure and retain a sufficient number of qualified librarians to meet the needs of the province."

NURSES' JOKE

PLYMOUTH, England (CP) — A nurse who won a "22-carat necklace" at the hospital party in this Devon city received 22 carrots on a thread.

HOW 225 MILLION DOLLARS WOULD BE SPENT IN FIRST YEAR:

THE ANSWER TO SPUTNIK?—President Eisenhower has called for a four-year, 1.6 billion-dollar program to spur science education for the missile and satellite age. Newschart, above, shows how the money is to be spent. Drafted by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, the seven-point program allows wide latitude to the states in the spending of the funds. Even so, indications are that the proposal faces heavy going in Congress—from those who oppose all Federal aid to education, from those who say the plan does not allow Washington enough control over the states and from those who claim the program fails to meet the nation's needs.

Committees Named By Auxiliary Of Stanstead Frontier Legion Branch

ROCK ISLAND — The Ladies Auxiliary of Stanstead Frontier Branch, No. 5, of the Canadian Legion held its January meeting at the armory, with the new president, Mrs. Ada Curtis, presiding.

Mrs. Curtis opened the meeting with the usual ceremony and the secretary gave her report. The application of Mrs. Dana Mosher, of Tomifobia, for membership was approved.

Bills were presented and voted paid. The treasurer's reports included the amounts realized from the cooking school and raffle, both of which were satisfactory.

Several letters and cards of appreciation from boys in the service and veterans in hospitals, who had been remembered with a Christmas gift, were read. Mrs. Ruth Putney was a requested to inquire about drapes for the new Legion home windows and report at the next meeting.

Mrs. Curtis appointed the following to committees: Sunshine, Mrs. Mabel Crawford, Rock Island, Mrs. Probert, Beebe; flowers and baby remembrances, Mrs. Mary Bronson; membership and credentials, Mrs. Peggy Ann Soutiere, Beebe and Granville, Mrs. Joyce Jarvis, Stanstead and Mrs. Gertrude Stewart, Rock Island.

Entertainment, Mrs. Gladys Chartier, Mrs. Kay Miller, Mrs. Francis Halsall, Mrs. Pearl Crawford, Mrs. Ruby Simpson and Mrs. Dorothy Cooper; veteran's welfare and gifts, Mrs. Irene Bacon, Mrs. Ruth Putney, Mrs. Mary Brewer, Mrs. Dana Mosher,

W. K. MacLeod Wins Contest At Thetford Mines

THETFORD MINES — The Thetford Mines Horticultural Society has announced the prize winners in its Christmas Tree Decoration Contest. In awarding the prizes, the committee noted that although there was a goodly number of entries, it is hoped even greater interest will be shown as the contest becomes known as an annual event.

It was also noted with some disappointment that Thetford Mines homes in their decorating this year did not quite come up to the standard usually attained in this centre. This might possibly have been due to the somewhat unusual weather conditions prevailing immediately before and after Christmas. Black Lake, however, put on a very good show.

Judge for the contest was Jean Vallier of Quebec City.

Winner of the plaque for "outstanding merit in exterior decorating" went to W. K. MacLeod, whose home on Notre Dame street is always the Mecca of sight-seeing children at this season of the year.

Winner of the nicest outdoor Christmas Tree award was Lionel Pelchat, Gaudreau Street.

First prize winner for exterior effect, including tree, window boxes, entry-way, etc., went to Robert Croteau, 129 First Street West.

Runners-up, also awarded prizes in the exterior effect class, were Herbert Kerwin, 1278 Coleraine Avenue, and Robert Filion, 123 Lapierre.

The Doctor Says

Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.

FOR SAFETY REASONS, FITTING OF SHOES BY X-RAY IS NOT ADVISED

An extremely important subject is brought up in today's first inquiry.

Q—What is current thought about the use of fluoroscopes for fitting children's shoes?—Mrs. L.T.

A—There is a general feeling today that unnecessary exposure to X-ray is undesirable, particularly for those under the age of 40. For this reason and since it is believed that shoes can be fitted properly without the use of fluoroscope, the abandonment of shoe-fitting fluoroscope, has been recommended. Furthermore, technical studies have shown that stray radiation may reach shoe salesmen and bystanders as well as the child being fitted.

Q—I have had arthritis for some time on the first joint of my fingers. What can be done?—Mrs. J.S.

A—Such changes are called Heberden's nodes. Generally speaking there is little or no pain involved and the joints do not become completely stiffened. There is not a great deal which can be done about this condition, but it should be brought to the attention of your physician when you next see him.

Q—I am a young man of 18 and interested in the medical profession. I have taken a college preparatory course in high school and have taken a scholarship test which was partly an IQ test. I am discouraged because I am not sure that I can get into college and medical school with my record and test. Do average people go to college, become interested in a job, marry and live a normal life? Or are they so below others that they cannot find a place for themselves?—R.C.

A—I can assure you that many people find jobs and happiness outside of the medical profession. The question of whether a boy or girl should or should not go to college and what occupation should be chosen is important but lies largely outside the field of a health columnist. You should be able to get good advice from someone in your school. Certainly vast numbers of people unsuited to college or medical school find good jobs, marry happily and live normal lives.

Q—I am 57 and have had a curvature of the spine for several years. I have been twisted opposite to the curvature and this gives me almost unbearable pain. Could this hurt me in any way? I am willing to stand the pain if you say it can't cause injury. —J.H.

A—It sounds like pretty rough treatment to me. If the twisting is hard enough it could cause a fracture of one of the vertebrae in the back, or other injury. If I had such a curvature I should want to get to the bottom of the difficulty by consulting an orthopedic surgeon.

1958 Officers Installed By Cookshire W. A.

COOKSHIRE — Mrs. Heatherington was hostess to the Women's Association of Trinity United Church for the first meeting of the New Year.

Mrs. Earl Parker was in the chair, and Mrs. Breen had charge of the devotional period.

Mrs. Tredinnick's financial report showed a balance of $115.25 on hand; the secretary's report of Miss Elliott, read by Mrs. Vogell, showed a very active year, with varied worthwhile projects accomplished. Mrs. Parker, card convener, reported a large number of orders for Christmas and every day cards had been sold.

Rev. E. Breen then conducted a short installation service for the officers for the ensuing year, namely, president, Mrs. Macmillan; secretary, Mrs. Pashley; treasurer, Mrs. Tredinnick.

Plans were made for the annual congregational supper to be held on Friday January 17th, in the Church hall.

Following adjournment, a game and sing-song were enjoyed and refreshments served. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Macmillan.

GENERAL NOTES
Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Rolleston were Rev. N. and Mrs. McKenzie and family, of Sawyerville, Miss Margaret French and Miss Ruth Bailey, of Sawyerville, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rolleston, of Beebe, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Barrett, of East Angus.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Rolleston were New Year's Day guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry French, in Sawyerville.

Mr. Elric Schoeller has been a patient in the B.M.P. Hospital at Sweetsburg, due to a foot injury.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Creller spent a few days at New Year's with relatives in Forrestville, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Robinson were New Year's guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Harland and Mr. and Mrs. Austin Campbell in Bedford.

Detroit Assistance May Be Offered In Toronto Subway Route Fight

DETROIT (CP)—If Toronto's battle over new subway routes needs any further complications, Detroit may be able to help out. The argument here is: "Why go below traffic or along side streets? Go above it, and save $12,000,000 a mile."

Monorail is a subway in the air, suspended above street traffic. A sort of upside-down subway system with the wheels on top, running along rails held aloft by towers.

Actually, monorail is a misnomer for the plan proposed to the city's government by the Rapid Transit Commission.

It proposes two rails set close together and suspended from inverted "L" towers erected at the curb and set 100 feet apart.

Cars would be suspended from wheels riding atop the rails. With tracks suspended approximately 30 feet above the street, clearance of the bottoms of the cars would be about 15 feet above street level.

It's no new idea. Plans for monorails date back to the 1800s. In 1909, a model of a system designed by Louis Brennan, an Englishman, carried 40 passengers in a 14-foot-long car along a circular track.

Germany experimented with the idea before the war, and now has a system operating at Wuppertal.

The commission's report rejects subways as almost old-fashioned. And the cost! The commission says subways would cost the city $15,000,000 or more a mile while a monorail system would cost $3,000,000 a mile or less.

The commission recommends as the most practical solution to the city's transit problems a $175,000,000 monorail system with 54 miles of track on six major thoroughfares.

Detroit, despite its near 3,000,000 population, at present has only a bus system although speedways help move auto traffic quickly.

The monorail trains would move between 50 proposed passenger stations at speeds up to 80 miles an hour, although it would be more like 30 miles an hour in downtown Detroit.

At the stations, escalators would carry passengers up to the level of the monorail car doors. Inside, the cars would resemble modern subway cars.

Philadelphia is also studying the idea and its transit commission estimates a cost of $800,000 a mile for 7½ miles of track.

One reason for Detroit's higher-per-mile estimate is that it includes clearing and building 20 parking lots for motorists who could get downtown faster by monorail than in packed rush-hour traffic.

The commission said its report, made after two years' study, is only "tentative." However it states firmly that the monorail is tomorrow's public transportation.

Meleors Edge Richmond Braves 4-3 In Overtime Before 1,021; Victory Gives Asbestos Tie For Top Spot

ASBESTOS — The Asbestos Meteors downed the Richmond Braves 4-3 in a hard-hitting overtime game that saw eight penalties doled out at Asbestos last night.

A crowd of 1,021 witnessed the duel between Richmond's goalie Beauchene and Asbestos' Bergeron. Beauchene stopped 27 shots while Bergeron kicked out 20.

Last night's win put Asbestos in a three way tie for league leadership with Sherbrooke and Victoriaville. This is the second time that the top slot in the league has been shared by three squads.

Asbestos took an early lead in the first period 51 seconds after the opening whistle when Drouin scored on assists from Moore and Glaude.

Richmond returned in the second frame with two fast goals by Jacques at 3:43 from St. Jean and Dubois and Lapierre at 6:55 solo. Asbestos tied the score on Moore at 9:07 from Forgues and Michelin.

The third period produced no goals but at the 6:59 mark of the 10 minutes overtime period, Jacques for Richmond scored assisted by Dussault. Asbestos potted two quick shots from Champagne at 7:37 assisted by Illick and Perron and Champagne assisted by Illick at 7:45. Final scores: 4-3 in favor of Asbestos.

Richmond: Beauchene, Dubois, Ducharme, Gendron, Glau, Rousseau, Bachand, Grenier, Jacques, St. Jean, Dussault, Lapierre and Desrosiers.

Carmen Basilio Meets With IBC Today Regarding Return Bout With Sugar Ray, Honored By Writers

NEW YORK (AP) — After a night of being feted as the 1957 "fighter of the year," middleweight champion Carmen Basilio turned to serious business today.

The 30-year-old former marine and his co-managers, Johnny DeJohn and Joe Netto, will confer with Jim Norris, head of the International Boxing Club, regarding terms for a return title bout with Sugar Ray Robinson. He dethroned Robinson with a split 15-round decision in their torrid scrap last September.

Although Robinson currently is involved in legal troubles, the return bout is regarded as virtually set for Chicago sometime in March. The dates of March 18 and March 25 have been mentioned.

"I want this fight more than anything," declared the craggy-faced former union farmer from Chittenango, N.Y., after he had received the Edward J. Neil Memorial Plaque as "fighter of the year" at the Boxing Writers Assn. dinner Tuesday night.

"I want to beat Robinson more than any fighter I ever met," Basilio continued. "I want to win decisively so that there will be no question about it."

Basilio received the Neil award named in memory of the Associated Press boxing writer killed in the Spanish Civil War 20 years ago, before a marine color guard.

He bowed his head modestly as Maj. Gen. James P. Riscley, director of marine personnel, former heavyweight champion Jack Dempsey and other celebrities praised him. It was the second time Basilio has received the Neil award. He won it previously in 1955 when he was welterweight champion.

Dempsey, voted the No. 1 fighter in the 1950 Associated Press mid-century poll, received the James J. Walker Award for "long and meritorious service" to boxing. The former Manassa Mauler, who received the first Neil award in 1938, called for a plan that would bring back the small clubs in boxing.

Western Canada Hockey Fans Turn Out Strong For Look At International Rules, Helps To Improve Game

CALGARY (CP) — Western Canada hockey fans took a look at international hockey rules in a tion Tuesday night and the general feeling was decidedly favorable.

Royals Post 5-4 Win Over Chics; Cats Blank Aces

Montreal Royals took over undisputed possession of fourth place in the Quebec Hockey League Tuesday night by edging the lofty Chicoutimi Saguenéens 5-4 on a goal by defenceman Jack (Red) Bonnass with 62 seconds left in the game.

Ken Mosdell, Gene Achtymichuk, Kelly Burnett and Lulu Denis shared in the Montreal scoring before a hometown crowd as the Royals moved two points ahead of Trois-Rivières Lions, who were idle.

At Shawinigan Falls, the Cataracts cut Chicoutimi's first-place bulge to eight points by blanking Quebec Aces 8-0, with goalie Eddie Johnston gaining his fifth shutout of the season, a league high.

Allan Johnson and Claude Laforge scored two goals each to pace Cataracts in a victory that lifted the club five points ahead of third-place Aces. The other marksmen were Dick Bouchard, Bev Bell, Jean Paul Denis and Ted Hodgson.

The biggest weekday crowd this season turned out to see southern Alberta's Big Six Intermediate Hockey League initiate regulations of the International Ice Hockey Federation in a twin bill. The seven-team league is the first in Canada to adopt IIHF rules.

A wide majority of fans, players, coaches and executives agreed the stricter rules provided a faster, wider-open game, better stick-handling, sharper passing patterns and cleaner play.

EXPERIMENT ONLY
The Big Six decided to adopt international rules as an experiment following reaction of eastern fans who saw the Russian Selects play Canadian teams under such regulations.

About 38 games are still to be played. The league will revert to Canadian Amateur Hockey Association regulations for the playoffs.

Nearly 1,500 fans were at the Stampede Corral to see Calgary Junior Reps defeat Calgary Beavers 6-4 in the first game while Calgary Adderson Hustlers whipped Okotoks Oilers 7-3 in the second tilt.

FEWER INJURIES
"A player now can go after a puck without being afraid he will be rammed through the boards," league president John Watson said. "This style of play allows for fewer injuries and less scrambling hockey."

Aubrey Winter, referee in the opening game, said he found the game cleaner, freer and faster. Players stuck to playing hockey instead of bruising each other, they didn't freeze the puck against the boards and because of the "no icing the puck" rule had to use more stick-handling and passing. Only two boarding infractions were called.

Less enthusiasm came from Al Rollins, former National Hockey League netminder now with Calgary Stampede of the professional Western Hockey League, and Gus Kyle, Stampede coach. They felt some of the color and thrills were taken from the game.

HAMEL SAVES — Bob Bedard, on the left, has just fired a hard shot at goalie Hamel, partially covered by his players, but the Victoriaville net-minder robbed A. Delamarre, (15) from a rebound on his doorstep. The other players are all from Victoriaville hurrying to Hamel's aid. (Photo by Gerry Lemay)

Rockets Upset Magog Aces 4-3

MAGOG. — (Special) — The Drummondville Rockets scored another upset when they edged the Magog Aces 4-3 on their home ice last night before 550 fans.

The win moves the Rockets into a fourth place tie with the Aces, each with 12 points but Magog has one game in hand over Drummondville.

The Rockets wrapped the game up with three quick goals in the second period, two of them by former Sherbrooke Saints player Bobby Pepin.

Fausse opened the scoring in the first period on passes from Godhue and Cotterell. The period ended with the Aces in the lead 1-0. Three penalties were handed out, two of them to Magog.

In the second period the Rockets put on the pressure in the last ten minutes of play to notch three markers. The first by Pare on a pass from Banville and the other two by Pepin from Lahaie and Kenny Biggs, another former Sherbrooke player.

The Aces counted twice in the third period, one by Charbonneau from Cotterell and Fausse and the other by Godhue from M. Goyette and Vaillancourt. The Rockets also notched one when M. Boivin scored in the last three minutes of the game. Three penalties were also handed out in the third, two of them to the Rockets.

Billy Mosienko Honored By Fans At Winnipeg

WINNIPEG (CP) — It was "Billy Mosienko night" here Tuesday night and the season's largest crowd turned out to honor him.

Although Warriors lost the scheduled Western Hockey League game 5-2 to Saskatoon-St. Paul Regals, everything else was to the fans liking.

Mosienko, veteran captain of Warriors, everything else was to the fans liking.

Mosienko, veteran captain of Warriors, slammed in both Winnipeg goals and got thousands of dollars in gifts, including a car and a pair of gold-plated skates.

The 36-year-old veteran who scored 268 goals in his 14 National Hockey League seasons proved he has lost little of his magic as he netted his 22nd and 23rd goals this season.

Also honored by the 8,991 fans were his wife, who received a bouquet of flowers, Billy, Jr., 10, and Brian, six, who each got a bicycle and Wendy, 18 months who was given a huge panda bear.

Rory Calhoun Challenges Basilio To "Winner-Take-All" Fight

Rory Calhoun, number three ranking middleweight, wants it known that there isn't a middleweight in the world that he can't beat and that includes champion Carmen Basilio.

"Calhoun is willing to meet Basilio on a 'winner-take-all' basis," said Al Bachman in a statement to the Sherbrooke Daily Record. Bachman is co-manager of the dusky White Plains N.Y. bomber with his father, Frank E. Bachman. The elder Bachman has guided three other men to world titles, lightweight Lew Jenkins, light-heavy Bob Olin and Maxie Rosenbloom.

Calhoun is now in training for his fight with "Spider" Webb next Monday in San Francisco. Bachman claims that Webb is one of the toughest opponents in the middleweight division. Webb holds a disputed decision over Calhoun, but the Calhoun camp is confident that their ever-improving battler will more than even the score next week. Calhoun's last fight was a sensational knockout victory over Chicago's Bobby Boyd in two rounds last November.

Concerning an article which appeared in a Montreal paper that Calhoun would quit the middleweight ranks to campaign as a light-heavy Bachman said. "This report is completely untrue," Calhoun wants a crack at the middleweight title and if he beats Webb decisively on Monday I'll predict that Rory will be the next middleweight champion."

Bachman also stated, "If Calhoun has to go to a bigger division he will make it worth his while by going into the heavy-weight ranks and go after Floyd Patterson."

International Amateur Athletic Federation Accepts 14 World Marks But Turns Down Ibbotson's Mile

LONDON (AP) — The fastest mile ever run in the world, the 3:57.2 performance by Derek Ibbotson of England, got the cold shoulder in a listing of 33 track and field world records ratified Tuesday night.

The International Amateur Athletic Federation announced acceptance of 14 world marks set by Americans and of seven by Russians.

Ibbotson's remarkable time, turned in against world class opposition in a London meet last summer, was not mentioned. Neither were several other record-breaking feats which have been questioned for one reason or another.

Ibbotson struck official snags after he admitted publicly over television that another British runner paced him over the first half-mile. This is frowned on by international athletic officials—one of whom said Ibbotson's claim now will come before the IAAF rules and records committee in August.

FIRST CHINESE WOMAN

Americans won acceptance for six individual and eight relay records. China's Cheng Feng-Jung became the first Chinese woman ever to hold a world record with a high jump of 5 feet, 9 1/4 inches.

Olympic decathlon champion Milt Campbell has his 13.4 time for 120-yard hurdles at Compton, Calif., last May ratified. Bob Gutowski got into the listings with his pole vault of 15 feet, 8 1/4 inches at Palo Alto, Calif., in April.

Other individual American marks ratified were 9.3 seconds for 100 yards by Texas sprinter Bobby Morrow; Tom Courtney's 1:46.8 for 880 yards; and times of 22.2 seconds for 200 meters and 200 yards hurdles by Ansel Robinson of Fresno State College at Austin, Tex., last June. In three cases the IAAF accepted relay marks which later were bettered by other U. S. teams.

Victoriaville Goalie Turns In Classy Performance To Stop Dube Squad; Three-Way Tie For First

Victoriaville Canadiens, backed by a superb goal-tending performance by Ronald Hamel, coupled with an outstanding all-around job, walked off with a close 3-2 verdict over the Sherbrooke Beavers last night at the Arena before 909 fans. The win moved the Canadiens back into a tie for first place in the Massawippi League.

The Canadiens showing complete reversal from last Sunday when they were shell-lacked 10-2 by the Beavers outplaying the home club for a good fifty minutes. Plourde, Bellemur and Michelin did the scoring for the visitors while Ray St. Cyr was credited with both Sherbrooke goals.

By result of Victoriaville and Asbestos victories three teams occupy the top spot in the standing but the Beavers hold a slight edge having a game in hand over their opponents. The Meteors posted a 4-3 overtime verdict over Richmond to move back into contention.

The Canadiens showed a good strong all around passing and skating aggregation and for the first two periods held the upper hand. They outplayed the Beavers, although the Dube squad had more shots at goal, but the Canadiens forced the play the whole way.

Ron Hamel gave the local fans an exhibition of goal tending which hasn't been seen around here for quite sometime. He was terrific and the Canadiens owe a big vote to him for their victory, especially in the third period when the Beavers came out of their lethargy to take command for a few minutes.

It may have been the fact that the Dube team figured they were in for an easy game since they walloped the Canadiens 10-2 Sunday but they were shoved right back on their heels as the Canadiens poured all over them.

Plourde opened the scoring when he picked up a perfect rebound, dead centre, to lift it into the open net. It was the only tally of the period.

Marcel Benoit almost got the equalizer when his shot deflected off Ross' stick but it was wide otherwise it would have beat Hamel. Beaudoin was right in a three-way passing play but he tipped the rubber over the top of the net.

Bellemur came up with the Canadiens' second tally. It developed when four men broke away for a Sherbrooke ganging play and the speedy forward had no trouble in picking his corner. Playing coach Leon Michelin talked what proved later as the winning goal when he got away and after a nice piece of stick-handling rifled the disc through Dubois' legs to give his team a 3-0 lead.

Gil Turner And Vince Martinez Clash Tonight With Winner Meeting Isaac Logart For World Championship

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Philadelphia's Gil Turner and Vince Martinez of Paterson, N. J., fight here tonight in a 12-rounder which will earn the winner a crack at the welterweight championship of most boxing jurisdictions.

The National Boxing Association, which includes all United States boxing commissions with the exception of New York and Massachusetts, has recognized the Turner-Martinez bout as a semi-final welterweight title fight. The winner, ruled the NBA here last weekend, should meet Isaac Logart for the crown.

The NBA reached its conclusion through an elimination tournament it sponsored between Turner, Martinez, Logart and Gaspar Ortega. Logart defeated Ortega last Dec. 6 to qualify for a bout with the Turner-Martinez winner.

ANOTHER TOURNAMENT

However, the world boxing championship committee, headed by Julius Helfand of the New York State Athletic Commission, also sponsored an elimination tournament. The world group included the NBA's four boxers plus Virgil Akins of St. Louis and George Barnes of Australia. Helfand said Monday his group will insist on the six-man elimination being carried out before recognizing a champion.

The NBA decided not to include Akins because he lost last summer to Turner. Barnes was eliminated since he has declined to come to the U. S. from Australia to fight.

Just to confuse the already confused, there is a third version of who is, or should be, champion.

The Massachusetts State Commission recognizes Akins as the titleholder by virtue of a victory in Boston over Tony McMarco.

The New England commission withdrew from the NBA when the national organization refused to recognize Akins.

Quebec Hockey League's Big Three Remains Unchanged After Week's Play; Jean Paul Denis Leading

MONTREAL (CP)—The big three in the Quebec Hockey League's individual scoring competition are still unchanged after last week's play, although there was some shuffling about lower down in the top 10.

Jean Paul Denis of Shawinigan Falls leads the pack with 53 points—21 goals and 32 assists. Still second, league statistics show today, is Greig Hicks of Chicoutimi who got seven points, running his total to 50.

Gene Mekliko, also of Shawinigan Falls, is third with 44 goals and 31 assists for 45 points.

Quebec's Jean Paul Sabourin went on an eight-point binge to climb from a 10th spot tie to seventh. He has 38 points. Montreal's Ken Mosdell picked up seven points and now is eighth with 37.

Willie Towel Stops Zulueta

LONDON (AP)—South African Willie Towel, British Empire lightweight champion, outpointed Cuba's Orlando Zulueta Tuesday night over 10 rounds.

Both fighters weighed in at 135 pounds.

Towel proved the heavier puncher. By the third round he was matching left for left with the wily Cuban stylist and showing a greater variety of punches all round.

British promoter Harry Levene said he now will try to line up a match with world lightweight champion Joe Brown for the 23-year-old South African.

Elroy "Crazylegs" Hirsch To Quit Football, To Become Sports Director With Oil Company; Surprise To Rams

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Elroy (Crazylegs) Hirsch, one of football's great escape artists, is quitting the game that once nearly robbed him of his fantastic co-ordination and later helped him become a movie star.

The great Los Angeles Rams end, described as a man who appeared to run downhill at two different angles simultaneously, said Tuesday that he has accepted the position of sports director with an oil company.

"I hope to work out something with the Rams as an adviser," the 34-year-old Hirsch said, "but this certainly must mean the end of my playing career in the National Football League."

Hirsch's retirement came as a surprise to the Rams. He is the second Los Angeles star to announce he is through playing in two weeks. Veteran quarterback Norm Van Brocklin was the first.

In the 1951 season Hirsch suffered a depression fracture of the cheekbone in an exhibition game.

The injury damaged his co-ordination and a doctor advised him to quit football.

Although at first he was unable even to catch a lob pass, Hirsch decided to prove he wasn't finished. The proof was eloquent.

In 1951, he was the NFL's leading pass receiver. He caught 66 throws, scored 17 touchdowns, equalling a league record set by Don Hutson, and gained 1,495 yards, a league record. The Rams won the title that year.

Hirsch got into the movies in 1953, starting in the story of his own career, Crazylegs, All-American. He was in Unchanged in 1955 and Zero Hour last year.

SHS Junior Girls Down NH 40-16

Rallying after a poor start Sherbrooke High School Junior Girls ran out a 40-16 victory over North Hatley in an exhibition basketball game.

The game started with North Hatley opening the scoring, and at quarter time S.H.S. was trailing 7-3.

Throughout the second quarter the maroon and white squad put the pressure on, both offensively and defensively. Paced by M. Billson the local girls edged out N.H.S. to a lead of 25-9 at half-time.

During the third quarter the maroon and white continued their strong defensive playing as they held the North Hatley girls almost scoreless.

In the all important last quarter North Hatley tried desperately to break through the local girls' defense. Nevertheless when the final whistle sounded the score board indicated 40-16 in favour of the local girls.

Kay Bean was high scorer for N.H.S. with 7 points while P. Stevenson and L. Knutson stood out on the defensive line.

M. Billson led the SHS girls with 16 points while H. Echenberg and A. Ives played well on the defensive side.

The lineups follow:
N.H.S.—K. Bean (7), W. Woodward, C. Smith, P. Stevenson; A. Mosher (2), M. Nutbrown (2), L. Knutson, B. Benton, N. Guild (2), L. Clarke (2), C. Greer (1), D. Pryce. Total—18.

S.H.S.—S. Quinn (2), M. Billson (16), D. Rich (12), S. Allatt (2), C. Austin (2), M. Fleming (4), A. Ives, C. Simpson, H. Echenberg, E. Rose, J. Dinning, D. Bartlett. Total—40.

Scottish Soccer Fans Happy Over 1958 Prospects; Heart Of Midlothian Club Qualifies For World Tourney

LONDON (CP)—Scottish soccer fans, looking at the world through tartan-colored spectacles, are happy about 1958 prospects.

The first reason for elation is that Scotland is among the 16 qualifying nations for the World Cup championship, to be held in Stockholm next June.

The second is that Heart of Midlothian, an Edinburgh club, threatens to break all British records for most points collected, most goals scored and least goals conceded in major league soccer.

TO TOUR CANADA

The Edinburgh team, which is to tour Canada next May and June, had 36 points from 20 games just after the season's halfway mark. Unbeaten at home, they had lost only one game away. The goal tally read 82 for, 14 against and they were 11 points ahead of their nearest rivals, Clyde.

The main reason for Hearts' dominance in Scotland's First Division is the decline of Rangers and Celtic, the two Glasgow clubs that have dominated Scottish soccer for the last 50 years. Another Edinburgh team formerly prominent, Hibernian, has also lost ground.

Rangers began rebuilding their somewhat elderly team mid-season and Celtic and Hibernian slipped after each suffered four beatings in a row.

In a Scotland "Under-23" team against Young England these four clubs provided seven players. The situation highlights the problem of Scottish soccer — apart from a few top clubs, there is little real competition.

LOP-SIDED WINS

The number of goals scored in Scottish games is another example. Scores of 8-0 and 7-3 are common and underline the disparity between clubs.

The standard of most Scottish clubs compares with English Third Division sides. Top clubs, like Hearts, probably would rate First Division status if playing in English soccer.

Scottish professional clubs compete in two divisions, first and second, and there is a reserve section which roughly corresponds to south England's combination league of professional club juniors.

In contrast to English players, most Scottish footballers are part-timers, training at night with professionals in the First Division.
