LANORAIE, Que. (CP) — Four Canadian seamen are presumed to have drowned Sunday when their small coastal freighter, Fort Albany, went to the bottom of the St. Lawrence River after colliding with the Norwegian freighter Procyon.

Leader dies

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Another staunch friend of the West held Thailand's government reins today following the death of Premier Sarit Thanarat.

The 55-year-old premier, close Western ally in Southeast Asia, died Sunday after a long illness. The cabinet nominated Gen. Thanom Kittikachorn, 52-year-old deputy premier and defence minister, to succeed him. King Bhumibol Adulyadej appointed Thanom premier today.

Kenans freed

NAIROBI, Kenya (Reuters) — Prison gates swung open today for more than 5,000 prisoners freed under an amnesty to mark Kenya's independence celebrations.

Among them were 1,500 members of the Land Freedom Army — successor to the Mau Mau anti-European terrorist group.

In and out

TROIS-RIVIERES, Que. (CP) Provincial police arrested 28 persons they found watching a cock fight Saturday night at a farm 12 miles northeast of Trois-Rivieres.

The suspects were brought by bus to Trois-Rivieres jail, but 13 of them later crawled out windows and escaped.

3 die in crash

TYRONE, Pa. (AP) — Authorities today are probing the wreckage of a chartered light plane near State College Airport which carried two British naval scientists and a pilot to their deaths.

Killed Sunday were the pilot, Mark Riquette, 32, of nearby State College, Pa.; and the two scientists J. Henry Mole of London and I. Alexander Gatenby of Plymouth.

Rescued were Capt. Stanley Wilson of Rimouski, Que.; chief engineer Wilson Trowbridge, Tacks Beach, Nfld.; second engineer Paul Simard, Montreal; third engineer Pierre Desmarais, Verdun; cook Urgel Pelchat, Montreal; and seaman Edgar Wilson, Merasheen, Nfld.

Survivors said the coaster, a 345-ton converted naval corvette, was struck amidships on the port side while proceeding downstream in thick fog.

The Norwegian vessel, carrying general cargo for Mediterranean ports, suffered only slight damage—a 20-inch gash in her hull about eight feet above the waterline. No injuries were reported among her crew of 31.

After dropping off the Fort Albany survivors at Sorel, the Procyon continued downstream. She was to stop at Quebec City for temporary repairs.

The collision occurred shortly after 8 a.m., just west of Lanoraie, 40 miles downstream from Montreal.

Maurice MacKenzie, 24, who visited the scene in a small launch, said the coaster appeared to have gone down "right in the middle of the shipping channel."

A transport department spokesman later denied this, saying the wreckage had been marked with buoys and traffic was not being delayed.

"Visibility was still just about zero when we got there," said MacKenzie. "But you could see two masts sticking out of the water and a ladder floating behind."

The collision was the second on the St. Lawrence in less than a week and the third this year. In the first and most serious incident last July, 33 seamen from the Tritonica died when their vessel sank after colliding with the Roanoke Head below Quebec City.

Minister at fish, game meeting

Bans forest politics

Politics will play no part in the operation of Quebec's new Minister of fish, game and tourism, the minister, Lionel Bertrand, told delegates at the closing banquet of the Quebec Federation of Fish and Game Associations in Sherbrooke yesterday.

He said that he has held to work too hard to achieve his present reputation and would not like to jeopardize it now. Mr. Bertrand has been a member of the legislative assembly since 1926.

Quebec's fish and game wardens are being told point blank, the minister declared, to keep their noses in the bush, and to remain outside the political sphere. He said he has instructed them to do their duty to the province and to leave decision-making to the department, which is responsible to the people.

It is only in this way, the speaker said, that wardens can obtain the high reputation they need to command the authority and respect which has so often been lacking in the past.

He urged that federation members offer their fullest cooperation to the game wardens.

Law enforcement in Quebec's lakes and forests is costing the taxpayers $2,500,000 yearly, leaving only $1,250,000 for wildlife protection, the speaker said. He suggested that these figures could be reversed if the proper attitudes to our natural resources were to be adopted by the majority of hunters and fishermen.

He said he looked forward to the day when the warden would be replaced by the biologist.

The importance of conservation education was stressed by the minister who said he hoped some day to be able to send provincial biologists to give talks to every school in the province, armed with films, slides and books.

He congratulated members of the provincial government for having enough foresight in establishing a separate ministry grouping the related fields of fish, game and tourism last April.

He said that much work has been accomplished thus far, and that more plans are in the offing. He cautioned the delegates, however, not to think that all their recommendations could or would be implemented, as welcome and as logical as they might be.

Money, other members of the cabinet, civil servants and public opinion are all limiting factors in any departmental proposal, he said.

He said that it was in the nature of our democratic system for decision-making to be a laborious and, often an involved process.

The minister struck a warm note with the sportsmen by describing his feelings towards the outdoors with emotion. He pleaded with members of the association to make the greatest effort to keep "la belle province" belle.

"Do not work for the government," he said, "but work for this noblest of missions."

Units were also warned to be on a lookout for a 1962 or 1963 automobile with a California licence beginning with the letters EGW.

Officers available to reporters gave no reason why the men were sought. Nor were they identified further.

Authorities said the FBI had been called in on the case.

Deputies immediately set up roadblocks on mountain roads in the Lake Tahoe area, already made difficult by three inches of snow.

Sheriff George Byers of Douglas County, Nev., said "we still think they're in the area," on the California-Nevada border. Sinatra Jr., is 19 years old.

Sinatra Sr. flew in his two-engine plane to the area early today from Palm Springs, Calif. He had been due to start work this morning at Warner Brothers Studio in Los Angeles on the movie, Robin and the Seven Hoods.

Only three months ago he announced he would divest himself of Nevada gambling interests estimated to be worth about $3,500,000.

He pulled out after the Nevada Gaming Control Board accused him of violating state regulations by entertaining Chicago underworld figure Sam Giancana at Sinatra's Cal-Neva Lodge on Lake Tahoe.

Ironically, young Sinatra was touring with a band, led by

To protest re-naming 1st Ave. for Kennedy

Protests over the changing of First Avenue to Kennedy Street are to be presented to Sherbrooke Municipal Council today.

Gerard Loranger, a resident of First Avenue, said on Friday that he planned to present a petition protesting the renaming to the mayor today, before the council meets this evening. Mr. Loranger said that he had about 125 signatures on the petition.

Alderman Robert Gauthier has received a letter from Rev. Gerard Delisle, cure of St. Sacrament parish saying that this would be the fourth time in the last eight years that the name has been changed.

The letter stated that parish authorities and those of Sacred Heart Normal School had not been consulted over the change.

Father Delisle suggested that the name Kennedy Street be given to St. Catherine Street, near the University of Sherbrooke, rather than to First Avenue.

Hostages held in Bolivia

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — Defiant tin miners continued today to hold 21 hostages including three Canadians and Americans despite a troop buildup and an offer from President Johnson of full U.S. assistance to the government of Bolivia to win freedom for the men.

The Canadians are technicians employed by the National Mining Commission. They were identified as Raymond Brousseau and Aurele Falardeau of Kirkland Lake, Ont., by an official of Health and Sherwood Diamond Drilling Company in Kirkland Lake and James McNamees of Prospection Limited, Montreal.

One of the Americans, Thomas Martin, 27, of New York, a U.S. Information Agency officer, got in touch with the U.S. embassy Sunday night by radio-telephone for the second time since Saturday and said that he and the other three Americans were well. He said they were being held under strong militia guard.

President Victor Paz Estenssoro called a cabinet meeting today, and there were reports he might decree a state of siege. The crisis was heightened by anti-government agitation being stirred up by Vice-President Juan Lechin, leftist head of the tin miners union.

SEIZED FIRDAY

The hostages were seized Friday in the Catavi area, about 155 miles southwest of La Paz, by miners demanding the release of two Communist union leaders arrested by the government.

The government moved 1,600 troops into the region around Oruro, 30 miles north of Catavi, and said it would not give in to the miners' demand.

A White House statement Sunday night called the seizure of the Americans an indefensible act and said President Johnson's offer of assistance would include anything that might be required.

The statement said the president of Bolivia has assured that every effort is being made to secure the prompt release of the U.S. officials.

Besides Martin, the other Americans are Michael A. Kristula of Cadillac, Mich., also a U.S. Information officer; Bernard Rifkin, 52, a native of Brooklyn, N.Y., labor adviser for the U.S. Agency for International Development; and Robert Fergertstrom, a Peace Corps volunteer whose parents live in Honolulu.

ELKTON, Md. (AP) — Expert investigators looked for proof today that lightning struck a big Boeing 707 jet airliner Sunday and caused it to disintegrate into flaming bits of wreckage from almost a mile up, killing all 80 persons aboard.

The toll narrowly missed almost being doubled. By good chance, about 65 persons had stepped safely off the $5,000,000 plane during a stop in Baltimore just 10 minutes earlier.

The Pan American World Airways airliner, en route from Puerto Rico to Philadelphia, fell in fiery fragments from 5,000 feet during a lightning storm.

Wreckage was spread over an area estimated by Sheriff Edgar Startt of Cecil County at four square miles. The crash occurred about 15 miles southwest of Wilmington, Del., near the Maryland-Delaware border and U.S. Highway 40.

The Federal Aviation Agency said the plane was on a holding pattern near the New Castle, Del. Airport at 8:58 p.m., awaiting clearance to approach Philadelphia International Airport.

BRIGHT LIKE THE SUN

Then, said Raymond Gregg of Elkton: "It was just like the sun was coming at me. It was so bright I couldn't look at it."

Another witness, Henry Lindell of Newark, Del., said it was apparent to him that lightning had blasted the plane from the air.

"There were two large arched streaks of lightning in the air," he said. "An instant afterward the sky was completely lit up by a bright orange. You could see the parts starting to fall then."

Early today, 11 Civil Aeronautics Board and seven FAA officials arrived to start the investigation. The area was cordoned off and flares cast an eerie light over the torn, charred wreckage.

There were few large pieces of wreckage, although one big jet engine dug a hole 100 yards from Gregg's home. Small bits of wreckage fell on the farmhouse roof of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Berry, where 12 hunters were sheltered.

HEADQUARTERS IN GARAGE

The investigators set up headquarters in the Gregg's garage. About a dozen Federal Bureau of Investigation agents from Baltimore and Washington launched their customary investigation.

Edwin R. Tully, special agent in charge of the FBI office in Baltimore, said the flight recorder — designed to survive crashes and tell investigators about the minutes preceding the crash — had been found.

A Pan American World Airways jet airliner near the end of its Puerto Rico-Philadelphia flight ran into a lightning-struck rainstorm and crashed near Elkton, Md. Sunday night, killing all 80 persons aboard.

Constituency map details go before Commons today

OTTAWA (CP) — Details of the government's plan to redraw constituency boundaries go before the Commons today.

The government is to introduce it, two main redistribution measures but plans to go ahead with only one of them this session, saving the second for a new session of Parliament early in the new year.

By unveiling publicly the proposed machinery for re-drawing constituency boundaries, political parties and the public will have a chance to mull them over carefully before they go through the legislative mill.

The first step is to establish a new office of representation commissioner whose job it will be to co-ordinate the big task of drawing the boundaries of each constituency in accordance with the population distribution at the 1961 census and other factors.

PRESS FOR APPROVAL

This is the measure the government hopes to get on the statute books before the current parliamentary session ends—before Christmas if the Opposition parties co-operate.

Chief Electoral Officer Nelson Castonguay has already received support from the political parties as the best candidate for the post, expected to carry with it a salary of between $20,000 and $22,000 a year.

The second measure is likely to be held over for the next session of Parliament. It will propose 10 independent commissions—one for each province—to do the map-drawing job and recommend new constituency maps to Parliament.

This is expected to take considerably longer in going through Parliament than the representation commissioner bill. Opposition parties, particularly the Progressive Conservatives, have objections to the proposal.

While the two measures will be introduced today, debate isn't expected to start until Dec. 16.

The parliamentary bill of fare for this week also includes introduction of a bill to authorize Canadian National Railways and Trans-Canada Air Lines to make a number of capital expenditures next year. Debate on these probably won't be held until next week also.

Arguments rage on resignation

LONDON (Reuters) — The controversy over an English Jew's resignation from a British insurance firm's board increased today with a flurry of fresh developments shaping up.

As British newspapers ripped into Lord Mancroft's resignation from Norwich Union under-reported anti-Israeli pressure by Arabs, the British foreign office was said to be considering what action it should take on attempts by the Arab world's boycott of Israel movement to blacklist "offending" companies.

Press reports said Norwich Union's directors, who met Sunday night, scheduled another meeting for later today on last week's resignation.

The Doctor Says

HUNT FOR CANCER SORE BALM IS STILL BEING MAINTAINED

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. One of the most annoying of life's minor afflictions is the common canker sore. Those who have them feel misery all out of proportion to the little white sore spots in one's mouth. My pleasure in passing along what I thought was a hopeful treatment for canker sores recently has turned to disappointment. On the basis of medical reports I recommended trying iodoxuridine (trade name Staxil). This, it now seems, was a mistake. This is used only in treating ulcers of the cornea of the eye resulting from the same cause as canker sores, herpes simplex.

So to those who have called me sharply to account for this false hope, I apologize and give assurance that I am still on a hunt for the answer to canker sores.

Some babies, as a result of a birth injury often associated with an unusually difficult delivery, have a wryneck. Sometimes the mother can feel a hard lump in the muscles of the neck on the affected side.

This is a blood tumor and it may persist for several weeks after which time the clotted blood in the muscle will have been replaced by nonelastic scar tissue.

If a baby is found to have a wryneck, massaging the neck on the affected side and gentle pulling of the head toward the opposite side should be done several times a day. Often this is all that is needed to prevent the deformity from becoming permanent. If the wryneck is allowed to persist the face will become noticeably asymmetrical.

In about 5 per cent of these children the condition is not easily corrected and an operation is necessary. Since correction by simpler means sometimes takes nearly a year, the child should not be operated on until after his first birthday.

After surgical correction it is necessary to keep the head in a normal position for several weeks to prevent it from returning to the wryneck position.

Q—My 5-year-old is chronically constipated. He has a bowel movement every 4 or 5 days and then only if I give him fig juice every day and an extra helping of prunes every two or three days. It doesn't seem to affect his appetite or sleep and he has no pain. What would you suggest?

A—In some persons it is normal to have a bowel movement only once or twice a week.

The fact that your son eats and sleeps well suggests that he may be such a person. If when his bowels move the stool is not unduly hard and difficult to pass, he is not constipated in the true sense of the word.

Your policy of giving him figs and fruit juices is the best way to prevent true constipation.

U.C.W. meet

TRENHOLM — The monthly meeting of the Trenholm U.C.W. was held on Nov. 27, at the home of Mrs. V. Morrow, who also was in charge of the devotional period.

The supper was reported a decided success, with proceeds proving very satisfactory. It is hoped to repeat the supper again next year.

Linoleum has been laid in the kitchen. The group will again cater for the Sunday School Christmas concert, to be held Dec. 21, food was solicited at the meeting.

Attendance pins will also be purchased for perfect attendance by Sunday School pupils. Election of officers resulted as follows: Mrs. F. Mills, re-elected president; Mrs. W. Stevens, vice-president; Mrs. V. Morrow, re-elected secretary-treasurer.

The meeting was adjourned and lunch served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. F. Mills.

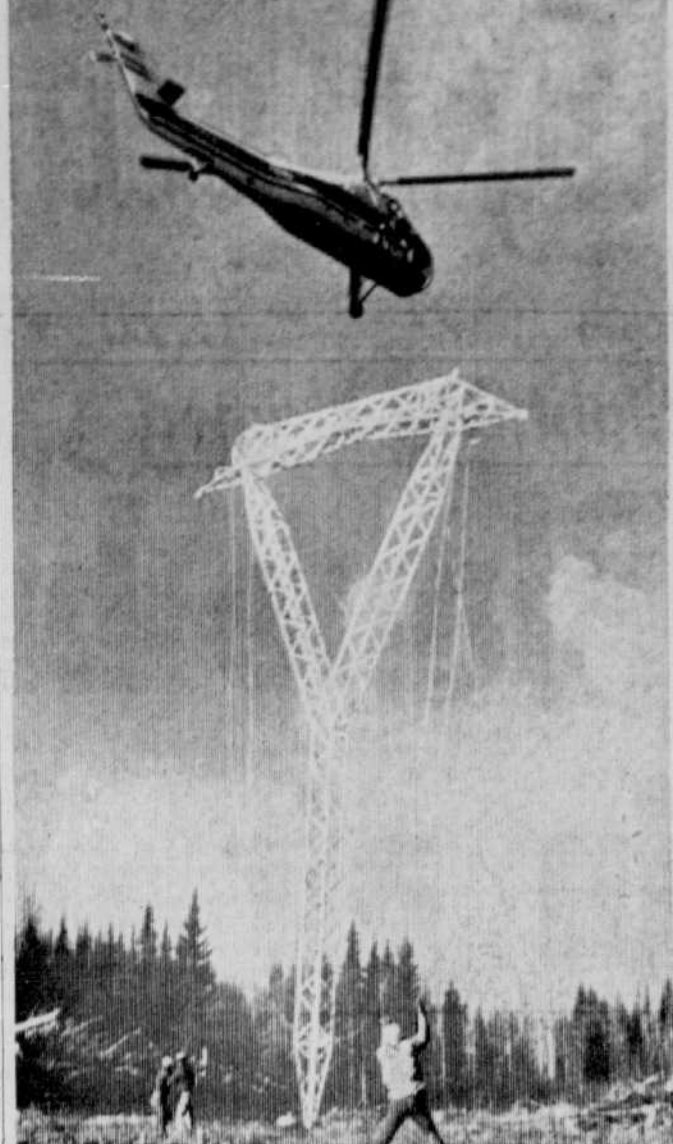

The next meeting will be in March, at Mrs. F. Mills' home.

British bogey of the box banished since Sean stormed silvery screen

LONDON (CP)—The actor son of an Edinburgh truck driver and the rip-roaring spy novels of a former naval intelligence officer together are paving British movie houses with gold.

No longer does the bogey of television haunt cinema managers since black-browed Sean Connery stormed on to the screen as Britain's favorite spy, James Bond. The first two movies of Ian Fleming's secret service thrillers are piling up the bullion in the box-office.

From Russia With Love, which opened in London Oct. 10, is breaking records faster than agent Bond can draw his Walther PPK automatic.

It's by far the most successful British film of all time, say the happy publicity men.

It is the only film ever to be shown simultaneously at four West End London cinemas, to capacity audiences. More than 250,000 people saw it in the first week, beating the record held by Gone With the Wind.

HELD OVER In the suburbs and provinces, "Russia" has been packed out at every showing and the normal one-week run extended to three or four weeks. "House of Bond" notices are a novel experience for local movie-houses in the television-conscious towns of England.

Wardour Street, London's little Hollywood, has never known anything like it. The film, scheduled to reach Canada at Easter, will easily cover its cost in Britain—about $1,875,000—and American receipts are estimated at $3,000,000, indicating a cool $750,000 personal profit apiece for the American partners who made the film in Britain, Harry Saltzman and Albert (Cubby) Broccoli.

Bonds, in fact, have become gilded. Not that author Ian Fleming was exactly on the breadline before parting with the film rights. In 10 years, the suave, chain-smoking Fleming has Taylor, Daily Record correspondent, in order that she may forward it within the time limit.

Prayer partner's letter tells of Western charge

AYER'S CLIFF — The December meeting of the St. George's Women's Auxiliary was held at the home of Miss Flora Paul, at which seven new members were welcomed. The meeting, opened by Canon Denton, was followed by the general business meeting, conducted by Miss Kezar, secretary-treasurer.

An interesting letter was read by Mrs. McFaul from the Prayer Partner, Rev. Edwin C. Boyer, consort, Alta., with whom Mrs. Stuart Taylor keeps in touch.

Mr. Boyer serves eight parishes, some of which are 150 miles apart and is presently adding two more. He told of buying a portable organ and giving recitals, and was so gratified to be able to bring music to those remote areas, which are partly peopled by Indians.

Miss Paul, in charge of Dorcas work, asked for five pairs of mittens, two dressed dolls, and articles to fill Christmas stockings, all of which were offered by members.

Mrs. G. Vance and Mrs. R. Martin reported that the J.A. and G.A. groups, of which they are in charge, realized $15 from their sale table at the Christmas tea. The girls are to be congratulated for their hand-made articles.

Tentative plans were made to hold a tea early in the new year, when it is hoped pictures of the Anglican Congress will be shown.

The meeting was adjourned by Canon Denton.

FLEMING WEALTHY

He has earned around $1,500,000 from the bizarre exploits of Agent 007, the tough guy with the high-life savor-faire and Savile Row suits. British sales of hardback editions nudge 400,000; paperback run into millions.

And the books are translated and published in droves all over the world—U.S. paperback sales are pushing 10,000,000.

From Russia With Love, written in 1955 and said to be President Kennedy's favorite, is the best seller of them all.

Sean Connery, the craggy six-footer with the soft Scots brogue, is not everyone's idea of Bond—his performance in Dr. No was widely criticized as wooden. But he adds a neat gloss of parody to the self-spoofing movie of "Russia," muttering at one point that he should have spotted the villain when he committed the social blunder of ordering red wine with fish.

His next adventure as trigger-happy 007 will be Goldfinger, which starts shooting at Pinewood Studios in Berkshire next February. The film company, Eon Productions, may well decide to shoot one a year, following author Fleming's own pattern. They are confident they have the hottest property in the history of British films.

Successful Christmas sale, tea and card party held by Bishopton Guild

BISHOPTON — The Ladies Guild held its annual Christmas sale and tea on Nov. 30, followed by a card party in the evening, in the Rebekah hall. In spite of the inclement weather, the proceeds were quite satisfactory.

Mrs. F. L. Gilbert and Mrs. C. Leonard had charge of the work table; Mrs. Lloyd Harrison sold the mystery articles; Miss Donna Harrison attended the fish pond and Mrs. A. E. Leonard looked after the raffle tickets.

The guests were greeted by the president, Mrs. M. Davis. Mrs. C. Vintinner and Mrs. L. Harrison were in charge of the kitchen, assisted by Mrs. Robert Harrison and Miss Irene Harrison, of Sherbrooke, Miss Patricia Harrison and other members.

Cards were played at seven tables in the evening, prize winners being: Ladies' first, Mrs. A. Leonard; second, Mrs. C. Vintinner; consolation, Mrs. L. Bentley.

Men's first, Lawrence Weston; second, Robert Bishop; consolation, Ronald James.

A raffle took place during the evening, Mrs. B. Guerin winning the quilt, the cushion top going to Mrs. F. McIntyre and the jewellery was won by an out of town lady.

UCW PARTY

Recreation uses increase

Traffic jam feared in Quebec forests

The province of Quebec is ed by all the speakers. These heading for a "monumental traffic jam" in the forests unless the movements and habits of our increasingly recreation-minded population are planned and controlled, cautioned the President of the Canadian International Paper Company, E. B. Hinman, Saturday.

Speaking in a panel discussion on multiple forest use, Mr. Hinman told delegates to the Federation of Fish and Game Associations convention on Saturday, that present difficulties would be magnified unless the citizens themselves develop a true understanding of the virtues of good forest behaviour.

The principle of multiple use for forest resources was endorsed

Dr. Moisan concluded that the representatives of these three areas—the fish and game clubs, the wildlife managers and industry executives—must work together.

An attempt to assign priorities to these areas was made by a member of the audience. He suggested that the industrial dollar take priority over conservation. Last on his list was recreation.

Are spared jail by tradition

A courtroom tradition of long standing that the first person tried before a newly appointed criminal court judge be freed was maintained Saturday and because of this, three Sherbrooke youths were spared the misfortune of spending Christmas in Winter Street prison cells.

The custom was applied by Magistrate's Court Judge Jean-Louis Pelouquin presiding over hearings for the first time when he gave suspended sentences to Guy Boutin 18, Remi Dolbec 19, and Claude Lapointe 29, of Sherbrooke who all pleaded guilty to being accomplices after the fact in a recent theft at Codere Hardware on Wellington Street North when $150 worth of goods were stolen.

The youth responsible for the crime, Remi Girouard, another Sherbrooke resident was sentenced to a 15-day term in local jail cells.

The theft of two 22 calibre rifles and some electrical appliances was committed at the Codere firm December 5. Police said that Girouard (like the three accomplices) was an employee of Codere's. Police said that Girard hid himself in the building just prior to closing time.

When the other employees had departed police said Girouard stole the rifles and electrical appliances and let himself out a window of the building by swinging from a cable that the three others had set in place.

Once he had been hauled to the roof by his companions, all four descended a stairway and escaped.

Neither of the four has criminal records, court officials said.

This scheme echoed Mr. Hinman's contention of the importance of the forest industry. He said that one out of every three dollars circulating in Quebec has been generated by the forest industry.

The speaker described the difficulties when the three uses interact, a problem made more acute by the coming of age of the automobile, the attainment of the affluent society with its abundance of leisure time, and the subsequent mass exodus from our cities in a search for literally greener pastures.

Indiscriminate flights by light airplanes into the forest without regard for private rights were another common misdemeanor. Vandalism was common and the representative of another company at the convention claimed that too many hunters were possessed of a "destructive mania." He added that people should ask permission before cutting wood which is reserved by forest concessionaires.

The lack of order and discipline also resulted in forest fires, he said.

J. Labelle of the provincial parks department said that parks in Quebec which were once mainly used for conservation are now being used more and more for recreation. Such facilities as camping grounds and beaches are rapidly being increased, he said.

A member of the audience described difficulties encountered when a group of Sherbrooke hunters recently were quite heavily fined by officials of the Domet Company for hunting on ground where this company has a vast concession. He asked for more cooperation from companies.

Coin Club meets tonight

The Sherbrooke Numismatic Society meets tonight for the final session of the year. President Lionel Lessard notes that members are asked to bring a guest and also a gift of some numismatic material which will be distributed to members during the evening.

A film will also be shown along with refreshments. This final meeting should prove of interest to members and to invited guests as the year ends and the usual exchange of holiday greetings will be in evidence.

Vice-president of Young PCs

A Sherbrooke man, Claude Lavelle, has been named one of ten vice-presidents of the Quebec Young Progressive Conservative Association. Mr. Lavelle's appointment was announced Saturday.

Funeral Wednesday for former Stanstead mayor

STANSTEAD — Robert Meekren, a former Mayor of Stanstead, died last Thursday, at Queen Mary Veterans Hospital in Montreal.

The funeral will take place in Stanstead on Wednesday at 3 p.m.

Born in England, Mr. Meekren came to Canada as a young man and resided in Stanstead for many years. He was greatly interested in the Boy Scout movement and organized the Stanstead troop. He served overseas during the First World War and was taken prisoner.

A member of Golden Rule Masonic Lodge AF and AM Stanstead, he was the first candidate of Lively Stone chapter after the chapter was founded in 1913. He was a member of Christ Anglican Church and served for many years as a warden and vestry clerk.

He is survived by a brother, Frank Meekren of Victoria, B.C., who is on route to Stanstead and a sister living in England. His wife predeceased him many years ago.

Santa comes to Sherbrooke; downtown is wonderland

Sherbrooke's tots were caught up in a jubilant carnival atmosphere in the heart of the city Saturday as Santa and his North Poleons arrived here on their once-a-year-day to turn Sherbrooke into a winter wonderland.

Smart stepping, baton twirling majorettes in high white tassled boots, comely fur hats and neat fitting dress stepped smartly to Alouette and Jingle Bells as youngsters watched and listened eagerly perched atop dad's shoulders.

Dazzling melodic sounds came from the many bands in the parade, Les Tourbillons de Coaticook, the crack boys band, Les Aristocrates de Windsor marching sternly to the vibrant drums of their groups and Les Dynamiques thrilled the crowds with their machine-gun-like precision drum rolling and powerful brass bands.

The Queen of the fairies delighted the children as she drifted by in splendid white satin dress and furs, wand in hand before her castle.

Snow White, too, in her regal robes and silken red cloak added to the fairy land atmosphere that charmed the tots.

At the end of the procession of bouncing buffoons, brightly-costumed majorettes and brass bands was of course the king of the whole affair, Santa. He was, as usual, red-cheeked, smiling and waving to the children as his four faithful reindeer tugged his snow sled through the crowds.

STORMY ASBESTOS STATUE HAS CORPS OF DEFENDERS

ASBESTOS — "The World We Live In" has developed a growing corps of defenders.

But among the 500 signers of petition "to keep the sculpture of Armand Vaillancourt in Asbestos," he said.

The petition referred to by Mr. Landry was promoted by Asbestos journalist Marcel Charest.

"The atmosphere in Asbestos has changed towards the statue," Mr. Landry said.

He said that he and a group of people, including teachers at the new school and teachers at other schools in the town, had been trying to show that "only a few" people agreed with Mr. Charest's reasons for trying to get rid of the statue.

"His preamble to the petition makes the people of Asbestos look ridiculous. Many signed it because they didn't like the statue. That's their business, but we don't want the province to think we endorse the sort of foolishness in the preamble. It can be demolished," Mr. Landry said.

able is very laconic, "to keep the sculpture of Vaillancourt in Asbestos," he said.

The petition referred to by Mr. Landry was promoted by Asbestos journalist Marcel Charest.

"The atmosphere in Asbestos has changed towards the statue," Mr. Landry said.

He said that he and a group of people, including teachers at the new school and teachers at other schools in the town, had been trying to show that "only a few" people agreed with Mr. Charest's reasons for trying to get rid of the statue.

"His preamble to the petition makes the people of Asbestos look ridiculous. Many signed it because they didn't like the statue. That's their business, but we don't want the province to think we endorse the sort of foolishness in the preamble. It can be demolished," Mr. Landry said.

He said the preamble suggests that the continued presence of the sculpture in the town could affect the next provincial election, and goes on to criticize the government's patronage of the arts, maintaining that artists should be forced into "productive" work.

"Even people who don't like the sculpture have signed our statement to show that not all of the population of Asbestos agrees with this nonsense," Mr. Landry said.

"Personally, I like the work," he said, "but Mr. Charest is trying to get rid of it by using faulty arguments."

BISHOP'S ALUMNI MEETING — Brig. John H. Price, centre, was the guest speaker at a meeting of the Eastern Townships branch of the Bishop's University Alumni Association Saturday. Canada's image in Africa good

Canada has a unique image power, but on the contrary has shared their status of a colony at one time.

They also know that the Canadian nation has not the military might nor the desire to extend its territorial borders. Brigadier Price added.

"Because of all this" the speaker continued, "we are trusted by these people and very often are able to persuade them to constructive action which cannot be done by big nations."

The chances of Canada influencing Africans in future actions would probably be more likely, said the speaker, with the new French-speaking countries there because we, as a country with French Canadians, have this additional bond in common.

"In view of the importance of the Afro-Asian vote," the brigadier continued "this is, I believe, the most important role we can play in relation to the interests of the free world."

Canada should as another duty, the speaker said, support operations like the border-patrolling role of the United Nations Emergency Force, now keeping Israel and Egypt from one another's throats. Congo type ventures by the United Nations aiming to keep order internally the speaker said, pose not only a financial problem but also result in racial trouble.

China vulnerability said Sino-Soviet split cause

STANSTEAD — The rupture in Sino-Soviet friendship is due to the fact that the Chinese now believe that Russia would not retaliate against an American nuclear attack on China, a Canadian traveller to China said this weekend.

Addressing the World Federalists of Canada meeting at Stanstead College Saturday the group's president Professor Charles Burchill said that the Chinese now feel that they are at the mercy of the Americans. Constant reminders of their precarious position, Professor Burchill said, is the ever present American Seventh Fleet off the China coast, and the frequent sorties by American high-flying U-2 spy planes.

Mr. Burchill, is history and economics professor at Royal Roads military college in British Columbia and is now touring the country lecturing on China.

American military bases in Formosa, Korea, Japan and on other nearby territory add to the Chinese feelings of vulnerability, Professor Burchill said. The American Seventh Fleet alone, Professor Burchill said, could destroy half of the Chinese population if it released all of its nuclear ammunition on China.

At the present time, Professor Burchill noted the Chinese Reds can produce only two bombs a year each about equal in power to the American bombs used on Hiroshima and Nagasaki during World War II. And they haven't the airplanes that could transport these, he said.

As for the Chinese people's faith in the present government, Professor Burchill said, "only 50 million of the total population of 750 million would support its overthrow."

Professor Burchill criticized the American press for what he termed "distorted reporting" of the commune system of agriculture in China.

He observed that families lived in the same villages both in the communal villages and in the urban areas, both of which he visited.

The only instance that was pointed out to him when families were temporarily split up was on construction projects where it is the Chinese custom to employ both men and women.

He described the administrative organization in the communes. He said that each village in a commune (which sometimes consist of up to 45 villages) elects three members to a central body which in turn elect an executive council.

One fact that impressed Professor Burchill he said, was the tolerance that the revolution in China showed towards the "bourgeois."

He said that former landlords were discriminated against by being deprived of a vote for village representatives and by being reduced to the status of a peasant.

Former industrialists on the other hand Professor Burchill said.

said were retained as managers of their former enterprises and given a partial share of the profits.

He said too that many of the bourgeois were executed, but expressed the opinion that some of these had been extremely disreputable characters. He singled out money-lenders as an example.

He contrasted this with the Russian revolution's treatment of the old ruling class. The Chinese revolution had been "both more humane and wiser" than the Russian Revolution, he said.

World Federalists are gaining in Japan

The World Federalists, a group dedicated to achieving world peace through universal law and a world government are making the greatest headway in Japan, the Canadian president of the organization said in an interview this weekend.

Professor Charles S. Burchill, who toured the East this summer, told The Record Saturday that a paid membership of 50,000 Japanese is registered and that prospects for a much greater number are bright.

This is explained by the fact, the professor said, of the altered relationship of the Japanese nation to the rest of the world, militarily in particular, that was the outcome of World War II.

The peace treaty which terminated the war, Professor Burchill said, ordered the removal of all armaments from Japanese hands leaving the nation vulnerable.

Japan suddenly became aware of the importance of rule of law to replace that of force the professor said, and the post-war period has been marked by the popularity of the idea of "mondialization."

This idea, akin to that of the World Federalists, has been endorsed through resolutions of municipal councils throughout Japan and represents the aspirations of 60 per cent of the people there, Professor Burchill said.

Japanese Diet (Parliament) members as well as many academicians such as Professor Aya Awa, nobel physics prize-winner from The University of Tokyo and one of that city's mass circulation daily newspapers all strongly support the World Federalist idea Professor Burchill said.

In recognition of the importance of the movement in Japan, Professor Burchill said, the World Congress of Federalists was held there in August.

At the popular level, Professor Burchill said, activity is particularly intense and the Japanese organization has even written a World Federalist song which they sing instead of the national anthem when they gather.

Three lines of tracks on the main route of the CNR between Montreal and Quebec City were not expected to be cleared before Saturday night. Other trains were rerouted.

Train kills 17 cows

MONTREAL (CP)—A 35-car CNR freight train encountered nothing but trouble on a journey here from Portland, Me.

First, near Richmond, Que., it ran into a herd of cattle being driven across the track and killed 17 cows.

Later, about 20 miles east of here on the south bank of the St. Lawrence, a dozen cars in the middle of the train jumped the track and careened down a slope only 20 feet from Highway No. 9.

Preliminary examination indicated a piece of metal dropped from the floor of one car, derailing it and causing he other 11 cars to follow it off the track.

Crew feared a third disaster would follow because one of the derailed cars was a tanker with a partial load of explosive propane gas and five other cars were loaded with inflammable paper products. However, no fire resulted.

Three lines of tracks on the main route of the CNR between Montreal and Quebec City were not expected to be cleared before Saturday night. Other trains were rerouted.

YWCA vote set for Dec. 12

Electoral members of the Young Women's Christian Association of Sherbrooke will cast votes December 12 in favor or against the amalgamation of the Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A. of Sherbrooke.

The casting of votes will take place during a general meeting to be held at 8 p.m. in the MacKinnon Memorial Building, 300 Montreal Street.

Man is beaten, robbed of $40

A Sherbrooke man was beaten and robbed by unknown assailants around 2 a.m. Sunday as he was returning to his home at 133 Big Forks Street.

John A. Lavigne, the victim, was struck on the head with a bottle and left unconscious on the street. Some $40 and a wristwatch were taken off his person.

The superintendent of the building responded to the cries of the victim but the assailants escaped before Sherbrooke police arrived on the scene.

SECOND JMC CONCERT — The second in a series of four concerts at Cowansville sponsored by the Jeunesses Musicales of Canada will be held this Thursday evening at the Princess Theatre, Cowansville.

Guest artist for the evening will be pianist Czeslaw Kaczynski. Mr. Kaczynski and Mrs. Arthur Rousseau, of Trois Rivières, have been attempting as a team to introduce young audiences to the piano repertoire. Thursday evening, Mr. Kaczynski will perform a varied program of selection drawn from it. The commentary, which normally forms a part of the JMC concerts, will be by Mrs. Rousseau.

Town streaked magenta

Authorities seeking spray paint vandals

COWANSVILLE — (Staff) — Cowansville police are looking for vandals who went about the town Friday night marking cars, the bridge, signs and other objects with a spray can of magenta-colored paint.

Three cars parked in the centre of town were marked, as was the sign beside the door of Niagara Finance's office on Main Street. A few four-letter Anglo-Saxon words found their way onto the bridge crossing the Yamaska river on South street. Another bold streak of magenta paint found its way onto the announcement board at the Cowansville art centre. Parking meters in front of the medical centre on South street got the similar treatment.

Collision causes $125 in damages at Cowansville

COWANSVILLE — (Staff) — About $125 damages were caused to two cars which collided Saturday morning at 10:55 at the corner of River and South Streets here.

The first car, driven by Robert Gaylor, of 191 Selby, Westmount, belonged to Anibal Piccoli, of the same address. The Piccoli vehicle was struck by another car belonging to Paul Tardif, of 308 South Street, Cowansville, and driven by Laurent Coulombe, of Sweetsburg at the time of the accident.

St. John's Guild meets in Brome

BROME — The Ladies Guild of St. John's Church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Belcher on Dec. 4.

After a hot dish lunch, served by the ladies, Mrs. Belcher took the chair for the business meeting.

It was decided to make a donation of $10 to the Children's Memorial Hospital and $15 towards the expenses of the Sunday School Christmas Tree.

The annual meeting of the Guild will be held with Mrs. Lyla Owens on Jan. 15, at the noon hour.

Mrs. J. A. Byers won the Surprise parcel, given by Mrs. J. C. Soles.

Sends shipment to headquarters

SUTTON — Included in the shipment of finished articles, sent to Montreal headquarters by the Red Cross Society on Dec. 2 were:

Eight quilts, 14 infants' gowns, 52 quilts, 20 knickers, 12 pairs of pyjamas, 41 pairs of socks, 2 infants' jackets, two pairs of booties, two wrap sweaters, three pairs of overalls, five pantie dresses and 5,260 swabs.

CRIPPLED FOR LIFE

About 15,000 persons in Sweden are permanent polio victims—most of them caught in the severe epidemic of 1953.

SHOW KITCHENS

Model kitchens were the main showpieces at Sweden's St. Erik's Fair, Scandinavia's principal household equipment show, this year.

EMPLOYEES HONORED — The ten new associates of Slack Brothers Limited who were honored at Waterloo at the annual dinner held on November 27. The employees received framed citations entitling each of them to one week's paid holiday over and above the customary holidays. Shown above at the dinner seated; are Alphonse Lepine,

WATERLOO W.A. ELECTS OFFICERS

WATERLOO — (Special) — The 1964 officers for St. Luke's Woman's Auxiliary were elected at the annual meeting held at the home of Mrs. O. T. Pickford here.

Mrs. Chaucery Hamilton returned as president, Mrs. Doug Osborne, vice president, Miss Irene Davidson, secretary, Mrs. Reg Blampin, treasurer and Mrs. Paul Jones as the Dorcas Secretary.

Reverend Keith Dickerson opened the meeting with prayers.

At the close of the business for the month Mr. Dickerson took the chair and read the slate of officers, proposed by the nominating committee, Mrs. Alan McKergow, Mrs. Murdoch MacIntosh and Miss Hope Davidson. The slate was accepted unanimously.

The rector expressed the gratitude of himself and Mrs. Dickerson on the warm welcome they had received when they came to the Parish of Waterloo. He spoke of the rectory which had been prepared for his family. The new stove and refrigerator was much appreciated by his wife. Drapes and new shade curtains added to the appearance and comfort for them all.

Mr. Dickerson gave a short report on the Parish Council meeting the previous night and asked for continued interest and support in the branches of church work. A leader for the Junior Auxiliary is needed. A volunteer was asked for.

Mrs. H. P. Bonnick gave a report on the recent Little Helpers party. Mrs. A. J. Buckland displayed the Christmas gifts donated by the members of the W.A. for the prayer partner family of Canon Scarce, Mackay Residential School, Dauphin, Manitoba. The box will be packed and sent at once.

Mrs. O. T. Pickford read a letter of thanks from the matron of Verdun Hospital for parcels sent to the two adopted patients.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. McKergow and Miss Davidson.

BLEW OFF STEAM

McGill graduates meet

GRANBY — (Staff) — The McGill Graduates Society, district of Bedford branch, had a record attendance to hear Dr. Rock Robertson, principal of McGill University, address them on progress now being made at McGill and the many and diverse interests and studies that go to make up this world-renowned university.

Under the chairmanship of Dr. M. C. Mooney, of Sweetsburg, some 80 graduates, their wives and friends met at the Nid Condor outside Granby.

Jacques Marchessault in thanking the speaker said they were fortunate in having such an outstanding man as Dr. Robertson come so far to address the group.

Granby Kiwanis meets Tuesday at Social Club

GRANBY — (Special) — The Granby Kiwanis Club will hold its regular meeting, December 10 at the Granby Social Club at 27 Elgin St. at 6:15 p.m.

The guest speaker will be Gerard Marcoux of the local office of the provincial license bureau. He had chosen for his subject, Safe Driving.

Immediately following the regular meeting there will be a meeting of the board of directors and all members are invited to attend, especially the 1964 directors.

Congratulations were sent out to the Magog Club for their party. Since Christmas and New Year's fall on Wednesday this year it will be announced at a future meeting when the Granby Club will meet at the holidays. Most of the Christmas Seals have been made ready for mailing. The crutches that were assigned to the Brome-Missisquoi Hospital were delivered December 6.

At Ste. Foy

Teachers walkout continues

QUEBEC — An enforced holiday for 8,826 Roman Catholic school children in suburban Ste. Foy is to continue today.

The suburb's 370 lay teachers stayed away from classes Friday, saying they wanted immediate settlement of a salary dispute that arose last May.

Their representatives met the Ste. Foy school board Saturday night but a spokesman said no agreement was reached.

Board Chairman Maurice Barbeau said later he hopes negotiations will continue. No date had been fixed for another meeting with the teachers.

The teachers say they will continue to hold "pedagogical study sessions" until the board raises their salaries to the level paid in Quebec City. They estimate this would mean a yearly increase of between $1,000 and $1,500 for each teacher.

Mr. Barbeau told a press conference the board accepts in principle the idea of wage parity with Quebec City. But the Ste. Foy board wants to work at it gradually, he said, starting two years after current teacher contracts expire in June, 1964.

FOUR INJURED — Four persons were injured in this car when it missed a curve on a secondary road near Sutton's Horizon Hotel Saturday night and rolled over into a field. Released from the Brome-Missisquoi Perkins Hospital at Sweetsburg this weekend were Andre Carrier, driver of the car of 316 Foucault Street, Arvida, and passenger Francois Leduc of Montreal. Lize Duffy and Francine Gagnon, both of Montreal are still in hospital. They are reported this morning as in satisfactory condition. The foursome were returning to Montreal when the accident occurred at 12:30 a.m.

Cell location a secret

There's no red-carpet, kid-glove care; Ruby getting what every prisoner gets

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Wearing white pocketless coveralls with C.J. stamped on them and laceless slippers, Jack Ruby—the man who killed Lee Harvey Oswald — is kept alone in a three-man cell. C.J. stands for county jail.

He has been isolated as much for his security as for minimizing trouble in the 960-prisoner jail.

The location of his cell is kept secret. But it most certainly does not have a window facing on Dealey Plaza.

"What if some nut with a high-powered rifle decided he wanted to get Ruby and started shooting from the viaduct across the way at every window on this side," says a deputy in Sheriff Bill Decker's office.

Decker has consistently been plagued with questions about the treatment of Ruby. Recently he got two telephone calls. One caller said Ruby was being tormented under third-degree spotlight conditions. The other complained Ruby was getting red-carpet, kid-glove care.

SAME AS ANYBODY ELSE — "He gets what every other prisoner gets, and that's it," says Decker.

Sunday, Ruby had a breakfast of oatmeal, apple-grape jelly, toast, coffee. Dinner was roast beef and gravy, mashed potatoes, buttered English peas and carrots, bread and iced tea. Sunday supper is regularly light: Cake with buttercream icing and coffee.

Ruby is permitted to shave himself and has pencil and pa-

Marriages

Naylor-Westgate

TORONTO — The marriage of Helen Harriet, daughter of Mrs. Norman Winslow, of Sherbrooke and Mr. Clifford Westgate, of Locust Hill, Ont., to Mr. John Boyd Naylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Naylor, of Toronto, Ont., took place recently in the Church of the Comforter, Toronto, Ont. Rev. G. King officiated at the double ring ceremony. Organ music was played by the regular church organist. The church was decorated with bouquets of gladioli. White satin bows marked the guest pews.

The bride, given in marriage by her step-father, Mr. Norman Winslow, wore a floor-length gown of bridal satin, the fitted bodice featuring a round neckline with long sleeves ending in points over the hands. Her four-tier finger-tip veil of nylon tulle was held in place by a tiara of pearls and tear drops. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses, white carnations and lily-of-the-valley. Her only jewellery was a tiny sterling silver cross.

Mrs. Dieter Schaefer, of Whitby, Ont., sister of the bride, as matron of honor, wore a street-length dress of peau de soie, having a fitted bodice with round neckline and full skirt. Her headpiece was of white marabou fur and net. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Gordon Noble and Mrs. Robert Adams, both of Toronto, were dressed identically to the matron of honor. All attendants carried crescent-shaped bouquets of shasta daisies and mums tinted to match the color of their dresses.

Little Kathleen Coulter, as flower girl was dressed in a short full dress of white nylon over taffeta, with a round band of marabou fur in her hair. She carried a basket of white and blue tinted mums. Mr. Eugene Davey acted as best man and the ushers were Messrs. Thomas Hale and David Burness, all of Toronto.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN BOYD NAYLER

Mrs. Norman Winslow, mother of the bride, wore a teal blue jacket dress of wool crepe, with white and brown accessories. Her corsage was of yellow Sweetheart roses. The groom's mother, Mrs. Frank Naylor, wore a sheath dress of apricot wool, with beige and brown accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Mrs. M. Naylor, the groom's grandmother of Toronto, wore a wool sheath dress of turquoise with a corsage of yellow roses. Following the ceremony a reception was held in the lower hall of the church where a dinner was served to over 80 guests. The bride's table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Later the couple left for a trip to Florida and the Eastern United States, the bride wearing for travelling a three-piece pale blue wool suit, black accessories and a corsage of pink Sweetheart roses.

Out of town guests attended from Sherbrooke, Sawyer, Island Brook, Quebec, Manchester, N.H., Locust Hill, Rouge Hill and Whitby, Ont. The couple are residing in Scarborough, Ont.

Polly's pointers

by Polly Cramer

DEAR POLLY — Perhaps some of the readers would like to start a "Newborn Mother's Club" as we have. Tiny baby clothes are so expensive and so quickly outgrown. Each mother in the club saves clothes her newborn has outgrown. When a new mother arrives home from the hospital she is presented with a complete layette assembled from items other mothers no longer use. She in turn saves these clothes and members of the club add to it. A wonderful way to greet a new mother. — MRS. V. M. P.

DEAR POLLY — I keep a roll of adding machine tape in my kitchen cupboard and cut off the right length for making a grocery list, sending notes or recording the weekly work report. — V. F. S.

DEAR POLLY — I have a quick and easy way to decorate those Christmas cookies most of us will soon be making. Take a glass or any other small article that has a design cut in the bottom, grease it lightly and press down on the balls of cookie dough. Sprinkle with colored sugar and the sugar will stay in the design. I have a fancy button that is a favorite for this purpose. The colored sugar stays in the grooves it leaves, and there is a star on each cookie. — MRS. J. D.

DEAR POLLY — People who have septic tanks do not like to wash vegetables from their garden in the kitchen sink because of the mud. We built a table-high frame of 1 x 4-inch lumber and covered it with one-half inch screen. It is near the edge of the garden where we wash most of the dirt off the vegetables with the hose. The vegetables can stay there for a while and drip dry. — Mrs. W. B. L.

GIRLS — Have drip-dry rubbers as well as vegetables. Wash the mud off the youngsters' boots and overshoes on this screen-topped table. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — Mothers with boys who belong to the Cub Scouts or Boy Scouts will find it easier to sew the various badges on uniform sleeves if they are slipped on a sleeve ironing board the emblems pinned in place and sewed either by hand or on the sewing machine. You get them on straighter and with no frustration. — MRS. L. C.

GIRLS — How well do I remember the struggle I had getting the letters and emblems placed just right on my boy's Scout uniforms. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — I keep a box of very personal "stationery" for writing to faraway relatives, particularly grandparents. In the box go the children's school papers, local political news sheets, church or PTA bulletins, party invitations and other family correspondence. All these tell a bit about our kids, our doings and what is going on in the community. It helps make the loved ones feel closer and our own personal additions can be written on the backs of these extras. — MRS. D. P.

GIRLS — This would be especially good in helping those who formerly lived in your town keep in touch with local happenings. POLLY found it is time-saving when making long-legged pajamas for the children to sew a substantial knee patch right into the leg before sewing up the seam. This puts reinforcement exactly where most children first wear a hole and is certainly easier than trying to patch a hole in the leg after it appears.

MRS. V. B. DEAR POLLY — To avoid musing your hairdo while trying on dresses in a store, take along a plastic shower cap or one of the little plastic rain caps which tie under the chin. This saves time and temper with not a trace of misplaced hair or a lost earring. — M. W.

DEAR POLLY — Big, soft, dinner-size paper napkins are much more useful than ordinary paper hankies when a man has a head cold. — MRS. H. E. C.

DEAR POLLY — The maze of tailor tacks that confront one making a pleated skirt used to be confusing until I started to use one color thread for the fold lines and another for the lines to fold the fabric to. — C. B.

Share your favorite home-making ideas... send them to Polly in care of Sherbrooke Daily Record. You'll receive a bright, new silver dollar if Polly uses your idea in Polly's Pointers.

Non-fruit cake

Pace-changing "Christmas" cake

Pumpkin Spice Chiffon Cake holds special appeal for those finding some of the more traditional Christmas sweets too rich and just a little heavy.

Delectable though they are, traditional Christmas cakes laden with fruit are just too rich for some people. Even those who can enjoy them, welcome an occasional change of pace from pieces of fruit cake at Christmas dinner or with steaming coffee or chilled punch when they drop by to exchange Christmas greetings.

Pumpkin Spice Chiffon Cake was specially developed for the holiday hostess seeking such variety. It was also kept in mind that things get mighty hectic a day or two before Christmas and a "non-fruit" cake with unusually good keeping qualities would be just what many would be looking for. This recipe certainly meets that qualification.

It's an exceptionally moist cake and keeps an extraordinarily long time. It's a good size, too, and serves a fair number of people if cut into thin wedges. Pumpkin Spice Chiffon Cake differs from the standard chiffon cake in its very open, porous texture and very high moisture content. This is mostly due to the base of canned pumpkin. The pumpkin taste is barely detectable, the pleasant spicing providing a delicate, yet dominating, flavor.

If you want to keep the cake on hand to offer guests over the holidays, store it in a "cake saver" or on a large cake plate with a bowl inverted over it. It will keep for about ten days this way, if you "air" about five minutes every other day. Otherwise, a mold may develop from the moisture.

PUMPKIN SPICE CHIFFON CAKE
(Yield) 1, 10-inch ring
1 1/2 cups once-sifted all-purpose flour OR
2 1/2 cups once-sifted pastry flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups sugar
1 1/2 cups nutmeg
1 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1 1/2 teaspoon powdered cloves
1/2 cup canned pumpkin

For and about Women

Today's recipe

CHOCOLATE VELVET TORTE

- 6-ounce pkg. semisweet chocolate chips
- beaten egg yolks
- 1/4 cup water
- 1 cup whipping cream
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
- Meringue shell

Melt chocolate over hot, not boiling water. Cook slightly; spread two tablespoons of the chocolate over bottom of the cooled cinnamon meringue shell. To the remaining chocolate, add egg yolks and water; blend. Chill until mixture is thick. Combine cream, sugar and cinnamon; whip until stiff. Spread half chocolate in shell; fold remainder into chocolate mixture and spread on top. Chill several hours or overnight. Center with meringue mounds. Makes approximately 8 servings.

MERINGUE SHELL

- 4 egg whites
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon vinegar
- 1 cup sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon

Beat four egg whites with vinegar and salt until soft peaks form. Mix sugar and cinnamon thoroughly, and gradually add to egg whites, beating until very stiff peaks form and all sugar has dissolved. Mould the meringue mixture into a 9-inch pie plate, saving out about 3 heaping teaspoons to make meringue mounds which can be dropped on a piece of foil and cooked with the shell. Bake at 275° F for about one hour. Turn off heat and let dry in oven for 1/2 hour. Cool and fill.

APPLE SOUR CREAM SQUARES

- 1 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1/4 cup soft butter
- 1 egg
- 1 cup diced tart apples
- 1/2 cup dairy sour cream
- 1 slightly beaten egg
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup chopped walnuts

Sift together dry ingredients. Add milk, butter, and unbeaten egg. Beat until smooth. Stir in apples. Pour into greased 9 x 9 x 2 inch baking pan. Blend sour cream and slightly beaten egg; spread over batter. Sprinkle with mixture of sugar and walnuts. Bake in 375° F oven 30 minutes. Cut in squares. Serve warm with whipped cream.

Recipe for graciousness

Good-looking women are more the rule than the exception in North America. As far as beauty goes, North American women seem to have more than their rightful share.

In this country you never have to look far or long to see beautiful girls and attractive women of all ages.

You may have to look a long time, however, before you find—

• A woman with a low-pitched voice or one whose laughter is easy-on-the-ears.

• A woman who listens attentively while someone else is talking.

• A woman whose tact and charm immediately puts others at ease.

• A woman who has things of more general interest to talk about than her children, her house, and her petty annoyances.

• A woman who has such a delightful sense of humor she brightens any social gathering.

• A woman who can express her own ideas without sounding as though she is stating indisputable facts.

• A woman who isn't either openly or slyly critical of other women.

• A woman who has enough poise and self-confidence so that she doesn't always have to try to make an impression.

• A woman who actually looks happy.

Any one of these is much harder to find than an attractive looking woman. Yet these are the qualities that make a woman attractive, not just to look at, but to be with.

Questions readers ask

Q—My Texas-born neighbor keeps boasting that most of the holiday turkeys are raised in Texas. I hope I can prove she is wrong because I'm sick of her bragging.—Mrs. L.L.

A—Tell your neighbor that the turkeys from her state are excellent. But so are those from other states. California is the largest producer—18.1 million birds a year. The other nine states that account for 75 per cent of U.S. production are: Minnesota, 14.9 million; Iowa, 7.8 million; Wisconsin, 5.5 million; then Texas, 4.1 million; Virginia and Missouri, 4 million each; Utah, 3.9 million; Ohio, 3.5 million and Indiana, 3.3 million.

Wouldn't it be good if you were born in California? The figures are from the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Beauty Tips

BACK TO BACK

Few take the time to give much care to the back. But, with fashion designers baring backs and exposing more shoulders, it is essential that these areas get a fair share of beauty treatment. When bathing, use a back brush or a stimulating loofah sponge. Smooth a cream or lotion over your shoulders to rid them of any rough spots.

my Cleaners
NOTEBOOK

Some of the strangest, most unpredictable stains we get are made by those cold wave solutions used at home. Still, the problem isn't as bad as it is in some places. A wag who was in the store the other day told us that "I guess those women political prisoners in Russia get treated to a brain wave."

Well, the problem isn't as bad as the joke, either. But all the time we get clothes coming into the store on which wave solutions have caused bleaching, a change in color or strange purple spots. The thing that makes a lot of women mad is that often the wave solution will make no spot at all. Then, the next time the dress is ironed—out comes a great big ugly spot.

This is called oxidation. The same thing happens when a spot is left uncleaned and the air gets a chance to work at it.

Surely the answer is to wear old clothes when giving yourself a wave at home. But this isn't going to always keep the pesky stuff off your clothes, so—

If the garment is washable, sponge out the solution with clear water and be sure it is all out before you iron.

With the other garments, bring them in for dry cleaning right away. And be sure and tell us what the stain is. Tell us even if the stain is still invisible, that invisible bleach and acid in the solution is just as dangerous as if you could see it.

Agricultural news

Compton Agricultural Society meeting held

By DON MACMILLAN
(Cookshire Agronomist)

The annual meeting of the Compton County Agricultural Society was held in the Sawyerville High School on November 23rd, with approximately 50 members in attendance. Art Bennett, Sawyerville, as president presided over the meeting. A minute's silence was observed in memory of the late John F. Kennedy, who had been assassinated the day previously.

The various reports presented showed fairly satisfactory operations during the past year even though the weather had not been as good as it might have been.

The dates set for 1964 were as follows: August 21-22-23. It was reported that All Canadian Shows would operate the Midway in 1964. Mr. Auger of the Gaston Attractions was present and showed moving pictures some of which had been taken at the Cookshire Fair.

The Board of Directors decided to consider the holding of a Seed Fair in early 1964.

The officers for 1964 are as follows: President: Gordon McElrea; Vice-President: Omer Dionne, Cookshire; Secretary-Treasurer: W. S. J. Hodgman, Birchton.

The Executive Committee is composed of the Officers above along with: Art Bennett, R. G. Hodge, H. V. Burns, C. Ross, W. A. Bishop, H. C. Barter and D. J. MacMillan.

The regulations were reviewed and several changes were suggested to be studied by the Prize List Committee.

The Quebec Arberdeen Angus Association held its annual meeting recently and various projects were discussed. It was decided to send out a news sheet every month and Arberdeen Angus breeders were invited to contribute articles of interest for this publication.

The Aberdeen Angus Association is asking that nominations for the 1964 Sherbrooke Spring Sale should be sent to their secretary before January 1st next.

CAR-TRACTOR ACCIDENTS
for car-tractor highway acci-

denis in Ontario during September. Figures have been released. Although I have no figures for Quebec, this hazard still remains. Also there is still the old tractor seen on the road particularly at dusk without the proper lighting.

Twenty-nine farm tractors on Ontario highways and other were involved with car traffic rural roads during September. Five tractor operators were injured as well as eleven people in the other vehicles.

GUNMEN KIDNAP

Sam Donahue, billed as the Tommy Dorsey Band, Sinatra Sr. rose to fame with that group, and in his act the younger Sinatra sang his father's old songs.

SING FOR COMPETITION

Also ironically, young Sinatra sang at Harrah's Lake Tahoe Casino, a competitor of his father's Cal-Neva Lodge.

Dragnet operations were directed by the El Dorado, Calif., County sheriff's office, because the abduction took place just within the California border.

Staneline is 60 miles southwest of Reno.

Joe Foss, a trumpeter with the Dorsey band, told officers he and Sinatra Jr. were eating dinner in Sinatra's motel room.

About 8:30 p.m., the telephone rang and Sinatra hung up after a brief conversation.

At about 9:30, Foss reported, there was a knock on the door and a shout of "room service."

Two men, one armed with a small revolver, burst in, asking "where's the money?"

They took the small amount in the two men's wallets, then tied and gagged Foss with tape. Foss said they also taped Sinatra's hands.

MAY BE THIRD MAN

Foss said a third man might have been standing outside. One man carried a package of some sort, he added.

After forcing Foss to lie on the floor, the men left with Sinatra, vanishing into the snowfall. Tire tracks heading towards Reno were found later.

Sinatra Jr. will be 20 Jan. 12. He is one of the entertainers' three children. His mother is Sinatra Sr.'s first wife, the former Nancy Barbatto, who was reported at her Hollywood home.

Paper drive

SCOTSTOWN — (Special) — Plans for the fall paper drive, to be held on Dec. 11 or 12, were made at the December meeting of the Women's Institute. It was not definite on which date a truck could be hired.

Scotstown residents are asked to have their paper outside.

LA officers of Richmond group are installed

RICHMOND — The regular meeting of St. Francis Lodge 510 Ladies Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, was held on Dec. 4, in the Masonic Hall.

The following officers for 1964 were installed by Past President Sister Elizabeth Marchand, assisted by Conductress Elrida Poulin: President, Sister Annie Smith; vice-president, Sister Margaret Fortin; secretary, Sister Ivy Fuller; Treasurer, Sister Beatrice LaRoche; chaplain, Sister Annie Crook; warden, Sister Lottie Osborne; inner guard, Sister Nellie Wheeler; outer guard, Sister Alberta Stevens.

The highlight of the afternoon was the visit of Sister Margaret Beaton of Farnham, vice-president of District No. 9, who was escorted by Sister Elrida Poulin, conductress, to the president's station.

Sister Beaton, who gave a very interesting talk on the work of the Lodge, was introduced by the vice-president Sister Margaret Fortin, and thanked by the president, Sister Annie Smith.

Following the close of the meeting, Sister Beaton was a guest at the Chalmers United Church Christmas tea.

In the evening, Sister Fortin entertained the guest of honor and the members at her home, when cards were played and later a social hour enjoyed, followed by refreshments.

Obituary

MRS. WILLIAM NURSE, OF DERBY LINE.

DERBY LINE — Funeral services for Mrs. Bertha Adella Nurse, wife of the late William Nurse, were held on Nov. 28, at two o'clock at the Converse Funeral Home, Rev. Carl Gustafson, pastor of St. Andrew's Church officiated. Interment took place in the family plot of the Derby Line Cemetery.

Mrs. Nurse was the daughter of the late Wesley and Anna (Lyons) Young, of Barnston, where she was born Oct. 1, 1873. Her husband predeceased her a number of years ago. They had no children.

Mrs. Nurse was a dressmaker and had been a member of Crystal Rebeckah Lodge, No. 14, Rock Island for over 40 years.

Only relatives by marriage survive her, Mrs. Charles Nurse and Mrs. Margaret Fraser, of Brattleboro, Vt., and Mr. and Mrs. Rex Nurse, of Sherbrooke.

LIGHTNING BLAMED

disaster—was not found immediately.

Tully confirmed that several eyewitnesses already interviewed had said lightning struck the plane.

Pan American said Flight 214 departed San Juan at 4:10 p.m. and arrived in Baltimore at 7:35 p.m., where the 65 fortunate passengers got off. It left Baltimore at 8:25 p.m. and was expected in Philadelphia at 8:45 p.m., 15 minutes behind schedule.

The airlines said the last known radio contact between the plane and ground was a terse, terrifying message: "Going down in flames at 158 Zebra," or 8:58 p.m.

HEAD AT AIR BASE

The message was overheard by the ground control centre in New Castle, Del., and at Dover, Del., Air Force Base.

Jerry Greenwald, 20, of Hockessin, Del., watched the crash from a window of the Merryland Roller Rink near Glasgow, Del.

"It looked like a bomb explosion," he said. "There was a big flash and a few seconds later you could see the wing torn off. You could actually see people falling out. The plane came down slowly and when it hit the ground it looked like it exploded again."

The wreckage was so disintegrated that no bodies were found immediately. A temporary morgue, set up in the basement of the national guard armory in Elkton, was empty.

Red Cross workers sadly turned away a handful of relatives who drove from Philadelphia.

The scene was one of an anguished sorrow at Philadelphia International Airport, where relatives waited for the plane that never arrived.

FIREMAN COLLAPSES

During the night a volunteer fireman on the scene, 56-year-old Stewart W. Godwin of North East, Md., collapsed and died, apparently of a heart attack.

Elkton, a community of 6,000 is near the head of Chesapeake Bay, an area raked by heavy rains and winds preceding last night's lightning storm.

George H. Lewis, a resident of Delancy Road, where much of the shredded debris fell, said the storm was unusual: "We noticed it because it was a little bit odd, having an electrical storm in December."

Grim-faced policemen tossed clothing, luggage, papers and other debris into piles. One was asked if anything had been found intact.

NOTHING TO PICK UP

"If there is, I haven't seen it, and I've been pretty much around the area," he replied. The four-jet plane had been groping through the storm on instruments immediately before the crash.

The crash was the third over Maryland in four years for which external causes have been blamed.

A severe local storm was blamed for the crash of a Capital Airlines Viscount May 12, 1959, in which 31 persons died. Another Viscount, operated by United Air Lines, crashed near Ellicott City in late November, 1962, killing all 17 persons aboard. Investigators said the plane apparently collided with two swans.

THEY SPEAK

Separatism is a hot topic at diplomatic cocktail parties in Paris, with a wealth of theories about the root causes and the assignment of blame.

Some say Quebec is a backward country, emerging at last from a slumber of two centuries. Some blame the Winniepeg or the Haligonian who can't or won't speak French; others say he would never get a chance to speak if he did learn.

Some point to a sharp change in Quebec demographic patterns. The old families of 20 children have dropped to three, four and five over a few generations. Now the Quebecois has a chance to look around, educate himself and find out what he has missed.

NO EASY SOLUTION

At a dinner party, a Canadian who works for an American company said he couldn't see why British Columbia, for instance, should worry any more about Quebec than Florida should worry about Vermont, a French-Canadian woman said she personally hasn't any grievances.

The story was told of a brilliant French-speaking economist who went to work in Ottawa and had to make a technical report in English, even though the report was later to be translated into French. "He could only express about 60 per cent of his true personality in English and he naturally felt frustrated."

Nobody had any easy solution. A consensus emerged that something should be done to overcome the Quebec inferiority complex. One man felt the difficulties will disappear when and if Canada reaches what he called the "Swiss point," in which the minority feels secure in relation to the majority.

A feeling among some English-speaking Canadians, however sympathetic, was that too much pushing by Quebec could cause the rest of Canada to become disgruntled and start pushing back. But Quebec was in a hurry and action was needed soon.

Organizational meeting held at Vale Perkins

VALE PERKINS — An organizational meeting was held Nov. 28, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Magoon to appoint a board of five trustees to receive a charter, which it is hoped will be granted soon, to manage and direct maintenance of Owl's Head Cemetery.

The trustees appointed were Eric Sullivan, Maurice Gardner, Lorne E. Barnett, Mrs. Mary Magoon and Mrs. Leverett Jewett. Mrs. Jewett was appointed secretary and Mr. Barnett, as chairman.

Other organizational matters were also brought up, it was decided that these be left until a charter was received. However as this will involve considerable time and expense, ways and means of obtaining funds are being considered, which will be used to clean up the cemetery.

On the event that the Corporation is granted, a membership drive will no doubt, be undertaken. Anyone wishing to assist in this worthy cause may contact the secretary.

U.C.W. meets

FULFORD — The U.C.W. met at the home of Mrs. W. Naylor on Nov. 28, when lunch was served at noon, prior to the meeting.

Plans were discussed for the annual Christmas tree.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Arnold Badger on Dec. 12.

TOMIFOBIA —

Miss Joyce Turner, of Montreal, was a weekend guest of Miss Frances Embury.

Mr. James Hibbard, Jr., of Eastman, was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rever.

Mr. Larry Keeley, student at Sir George Williams College, Montreal, and Mr. Lanny Keeley, student at Macdonald College, Ste. Anne de Bellevue, spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kelley.

The rummage sale held in St. Andrew's Church hall was well attended, proceeds amounting to $30.

WHEN TO LEAD SINGLETON TRUMP

An Arizona reader asks, "Is a singleton trump lead ever advisable?"

The answer is, "Yes indeed, but not often. You should be certain that declarer is going to need ruffs in dummy or a cross-ruff in his play of the hand and feel that a trump lead is so important that you can afford the danger of killing a possible trump trick in partner's hand."

Today's West hand really cries out for a trump lead against South's six spade contract.

North's bidding has clearly shown four spades, four hearts and either four or five clubs while South is sure to be short in both clubs and hearts. West knows that neither hearts or diamonds will break for declarer and that probably East is sitting with long clubs and four trumps. Hence, declarer will almost surely need a cross-ruff to make his slam and one trump lead will cut out one ruff.

Unfortunately for the defense, West liked his heart holding so much that he led the queen. Dummy's ace held the trick and South saw that he could make seven if he went after diamonds and the suit broke. He also noted that if he could cash two hearts and the minor suit aces he could then make eight trump tricks on a cross ruff. He wouldn't make seven, but he would make his contract so South cashed dummy's king of hearts and ace of clubs and his own ace of diamonds. Then he made his eight trumps separately and gave away the last trick.

Had West opened that trump, South could have cross-ruffed away, but would have wound up one trick short.

CARD SENSE

Q—The bidding has been:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass
2 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass
3 ♠ Pass ?
You, South, hold:
♠ A-4-3, ♥ A-6-5, ♦ K-Q-7-4, ♣ 8-2.

What do you do now?
A—Bid four no-trump. You plan to go to six diamonds if your partner shows an ace.

TODAY'S QUESTION

He bids five hearts to show two aces. Now what do you do?

Obituaries

MRS. GORDON PATERSON, OF WINDSOR.

WINDSOR — The death of Mrs. Gordon Paterson, a highly esteemed resident of Windsor, occurred here on Aug. 17, 1963, at the St. Louis Hospital, after a lengthy illness.

Mrs. Paterson, the former Ernestine St. Denis, was born in Sarsfield, Ont., on Aug. 27, 1901, the daughter of the late Damien St. Denis and his wife, the late Philomene Beauchamp. In 1920, she was married to Gordon Paterson, who predeceased her in 1955. During Mr. and Mrs. Paterson's early marriage, they lived in Hull, and in 1929 moved to a farm in Lower Windsor. In 1955 they moved to the town of Windsor, where Mrs. Paterson lived until her death.

She leaves to mourn her loss, a daughter, Gertrude, Mrs. Delbert Watson, and a son Andrew, (Buddy), both of Windsor; ten grandchildren; four sisters, Florence, Mrs. Donat Beauchamp, Clarence Creek, Ont., Angelina, Mrs. Albert Laviolette, Earlton, Ont., Celina, Mrs. Jos. Godin, Clarence Creek, and Clara, Mrs. George Raymond, Kingston, Ont.; two brothers, Leo and Elzear, both of Sarsfield, Ont., and several other relatives.

The funeral was held in St. Phillip's Church at 10 a.m. on Aug. 20, with a Requiem High Mass sung by Father Cloutier, assisted by Father St. George and Father Fortin, followed by burial in Windsor Cemetery.

The bearers were Robert and Earl Kendall, Raymond Lapensee, three nephews, Francois Beauchamp, Emery Peché and Guy Laviolette.

Among those present were several relatives and friends from Sherbrooke, Lennoxville, Island Pond, Derby Line, Montreal, Gatineau, Sarsfield, and Clarence Creek, Ont., Richmond, Melbourne and Dennison's Mills.

MARK RUSS WHITCOMB, OF FRELIGHSBURG.

FRELIGHSBURG — On Thursday, Nov. 21, at the Verdun Protestant Hospital, after a lengthy illness, the death occurred of one of Frelighsburg's oldest citizens in the person of Mark Russ Whitcomb.

Mr. Whitcomb was born at Waterloo, Aug. 31, 1879, only son of the late Col. Charles Whitcomb and his wife, Mary Jane Roberts.

He joined the Sovereign Bank of Canada in 1903, opening the branch at Frelighsburg the same year. He was afterwards attached to the Eastern Townships Bank in Bedford and served in several Eastern Townships branches.

After the amalgamation with the Canadian Bank of Commerce, he was appointed manager at Frelighsburg, where he served until his retirement in 1931.

Mr. Whitcomb had lived in the Village of Frelighsburg for nearly sixty years and in his last home thirty years.

He is survived by his wife, the former Nellie Holden, of Frelighsburg; a son, Raymond Whitcomb, of Bedford; a daughter, Mildred, Mrs. A. Blackwell, of Montreal; and four grandchildren.

An older sister, Elizabeth, Mrs. Edward Goodwill, of Waterloo and Montreal predeceased him in 1959.

The funeral took place at the Dion Funeral Parlor in Bedford on Nov. 23, and was conducted by the Rev. Kenneth Tricky, rector of St. James Anglican Church, Bedford. Burial was at Frelighsburg in the Anglican Cemetery.

The bearers were Harold Deming, Malcolm McCaw, Ben Draper and James Baglow, all of Bedford.

Among relatives from a distance who attended the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Holden, Ottawa; Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Holden, Dr. and Mrs. G. W. Holden, Mrs. Jean Corcoran, Miss Dorothy Roberts, Montreal; Mrs. Stewart Roberts, Ville St. Laurent; Mr. Gordon Roberts, Granby; Miss Christy Pray and Mr. Thomas Frary, Montreal; also a large number of friends.

DUBLIN RANGE —

Mr. and Mrs. William Planche and family and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Lowry and Cheryl, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Henderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Robinson of Greenfield Park, and Mr. Douglas Robinson, of Montreal, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Robinson.

Mrs. John Dempsey and Mr. Raymond Dempsey, accompanied by Mr. Cromarty Cruickshank, were in Sherbrooke to attend the funeral of Mrs. Robert Cruickshank.

Donations made by Institute at Melbourne Ridge

MELBOURNE RIDGE — The Women's Institute held its Christmas meeting in the W.I. hall on Dec. 3, with all members as hostesses. Mrs. Sydney Johnston, first vice-president, was in the chair.

Donations were made to the Salvation Army and also to the Dixville Home and it was decided to send the remainder of children's Christmas gifts also to the Home.

A Christmas card and a gift was received from Mrs. Kiddie, in Scotland, and a drawing for this was held among the members, with Mrs. Gerald Fowler the winner. Another card was received from the Provincial W.I. members.

It was decided to have cake decorating and rug making, as a short course.

Mrs. W. Nelson distributed articles to be made up into a layette, as a welfare and health project.

The next meeting will be held on Jan. 11 at the home of Mrs. G. Beers.

Miss Carrie Ward read a Christmas story. Winners in a Bible Quiz were Mrs. M. Taber and Miss C. Ward.

Several Christmas carols were sung and an exchange of gifts took place. Miss C. Ward and Mrs. W. McMorine looked after the distribution of gifts, and candy bags for the children.

At lunch time, Mrs. Gerald Fowler presented Mrs. W. McMorine, who was observing her birthday, with a birthday cake.

Magog upsets Bishop's Seconds in ETABA fixture 67-66, Berube and McKell pace winners in close duel

In a high scoring ETABA league contest Sunday evening the Magog entry in the loop edged Bishop's University Junior Varsity squad by a close 67-66 count.

The game was tight through out, as neither team was able to get a decisive advantage. The first half started with Magog jumping into the lead but soon the Bishop's cagers had overtaken and passed them. At the half Magog put on a scoring spurt to tie the match at 25-25.

In the second half Bishop's tried to use a man-on-man defence and as a result the Magog forwards jumped into a 12 point lead, many of their baskets coming on lay-ups after evading their JV defenders.

With just a few minutes left in the game, Bishop's came alive and shot into a 66-63 lead. Their lead was short-lived however as Magog scored two quick baskets to preserve the victory.

For the victors, Jean-Paul Berube and Ron McKell were the high point getters, as Berube netted 20 and McKell added 19.

Maurice Rancourt was close behind with 13. Ken Taylor continued his scoring for the JVs as he hit for 23 points, 17 of them in the last half. John Piper and Dave Oldfield both scored 14.

Many of the Bishop's points came on foul shooting as Magog was called for 24 infractions. The high scoring performance by the Magog team may come as a surprise to other ETABA entries, since this first year squad was not expected to cause too much trouble to the more experienced members of the league.

What they lacked in height, the Magog cagers made up in good shooting, speed and aggressive play.

MAGOG — J. Beaudry 7, J. P. Berube 20, R. McKell 19, P. Pare, D. Parker, M. Rancourt 13, I. Sivan 4, C. Whittier 4. Total 67.

BISHOP'S — P. Bourne, D. Campbell 7, M. Holden 1, A. Lumsden 7, D. Oldfield 14, J. Piper 14, K. Taylor 23. Total 66.

Giants win over Redskins 44-14 as Steelers rally to nip Dallas, meet Giants in battle for league title

NEW YORK (AP) — Pittsburgh Steelers, stopped on fourth down every time they've been close to the National Football League throne, have faked their way into a winner-take-all battle at New York and a shot at grabbing their first Eastern Conference title.

The Steelers had the clock and the scoreboard stacked against them at Dallas Sunday, trailing 19-17 with only 3½ minutes to go while the Giants' 44-14 victory over Washington Redskins already had been posted.

And they were on their own 16 fourth down and 14 to go.

Pittsburgh quarterback Earl Brown went back into punt formation, faked a kick, then whipped a 42-yard pass to Red Mack. The Steelers kept the drive going until Theron Sapp bolted 24 yards off right guard for the deciding touchdown with 1:53 left.

The Steelers, unable to win a division crown since they entered the league in 1933, now are 7-3-3 to the Giants' 10-3. Pittsburgh must beat New York to win the title—decided on percentage points—while the Giants can clinch their third straight Eastern championship with either a victory or a tie.

SITUATIONS SIMILAR

The situation is much the same in the West, where the Chicago Bears lead at 10-1-2 after avenging their only defeat by downing San Francisco 49ers 27-7. Green Bay is a half step back at 9-2-1 following a 31-14 romp over Los Angeles Rams in a Saturday game.

The Packers, seeking an unprecedented third consecutive NFL title, can win the Western title outright only if they win at San Francisco Saturday and Chicago loses. The Bears can clinch either with a tie or a victory against Detroit.

The Lions knocked Cleveland Browns out of the Eastern race Sunday by rolling to a 38-10 victory which continued their hex over the Browns. And St. Louis Cardinals, the only other Eastern team which went into action alive, was eliminated despite a 38-14 thumping of Philadelphia Eagles, built on Charlie Johnson's four touchdown passes.

In the only game on the weekend program that did not have a bearing on the title races, Johnny Unitas had a field day in passing Baltimore Colts to a 41-10 wallop of Minnesota Vikings.

Jim Shaw sets Canadian record for 100-yard

HAMILTON (CP)—Jim Shaw of the University Settlement Club, Toronto, swam the 100-yard back stroke even here Saturday in one minute, four seconds to set a Canadian and Ontario record for boys aged 13 and 14.

He was competing in the Hamilton Aquatic Club's annual Christmas carnival.

Christine Lutton of North York, a Toronto suburb, swam the 50-yard free-style spring in 28 seconds to claim a Canadian record for girls 11 and 12 years old.

Peterborough YMCA boys' team set an Ontario mark of 2:03.5 in winning the 200-yard medley relay race.

Five hundred competitors from Ontario and New York State took part in the event.

Omaha Knights

extend lead in

Central League

Omaha Knights stretched their lead to seven points with a win and tie during the weekend in Central Professional Hockey League action.

The Knights defeated the second-place St. Paul Rangers 3-1 Saturday and held St. Louis Braves to a 3-3 deadlock Sunday.

In other league action Sunday, Minneapolis Bruins blanked St. Paul 4-0.

Omaha tops the circuit with 23 points, trailed by St. Paul with 26 and Minneapolis with 25. St. Louis holds down fourth spot with 22 points, 12 up in Cincinnati.

The Saturday night affair was a makeup of a Nov. 22 contest postponed because of the assassination of U.S. President Kennedy.

Bill McCrery and Bob Courcy scored for the Knights in the first period. Bill Taylor put the Rangers within reach in the final period but Leon Ronson scored the clinching goal into an empty net.

CARON GRABS SINGLE

The Knights carried a 3-1 lead into the third period on Sunday but Ray Cullen and Al Caron, the league's top goal scorers, stormed back with singles to tie it up.

Jack Stanfield got the Braves' other goal while Bob Courcy, Norm Dennis and Bill Inglis tallied for Omaha.

Gary Dornhoefer, Ron Willy, Billy Knibbs and Jeannot Gilbert of Minneapolis provided the goals for George Gardner's first shutout of the season.

Tuesday, Omaha is at St. Louis and St. Paul is at Cincinnati.

The game was generally a slow affair, but when Mac scored twice early in the third period, the pace picked up.

The performance of three rookies and two veterans sparked the Galters to their win. Bob Adams and Chuck Norris, played standout hockey for the winning Bishop's squad. Both handed out jolting checks to the Mac forwards again and again to stop dangerous rushes.

In Saturday's match, the Bishop's defence came up with a solid performance to hold the winless Aggies to two goals and only 22 shots. Mac forward Bryan Murray, league scoring champ last year, scored both Macdonald counters early in the third period. Bishop's had gone ahead 3-0 on goals by Nils Bodtker and Sandy Cotton in the first frame, and one by rookie defenceman Chuck Norris in the second.

Doug Stanforth scored the game-clincher at 11:15 of the final period, and Guy Payne scored again to up the count to 5-2.

Bishop's Galters down Macdonald College 5-2

Bishop's University hockey Galters need only one more win to beat their 1962 record. With a 5-2 victory over the hapless Macdonald College Aggies on Saturday, Bishop's squad finished their pre-Christmas part of the OSLAA schedule sporting a 2-1 record.

Last year the Galters managed only three wins and no ties in fourteen league games, but in their first four games this year, Bishop's has picked up five out of a possible eight points.

In Saturday's match, the Bishop's defence came up with a solid performance to hold the winless Aggies to two goals and only 22 shots. Joey Giardello stops Dick Tiger for title

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — To freshly crowned champion Joey Giardello, the middleweight title means vindication, redemption and, most important, a better life for his wife and three children.

"This is what I dreamed of. I never thought I'd get the chance again," said Giardello, who conquered Nigerian Dick Tiger Saturday night.

"Now, maybe, people will stop throwing up the past, and maybe they'll just look at me as the champion. That's the way I'd like it to be."

"I'm no longer a wild kid. I did a lot of crazy things and I paid for it."

Eight years ago Giardello was convicted of assaulting a service station attendant. He was sentenced to six to 18 months but was paroled after serving three. In a move to hasten his rehabilitation, the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission restored his boxing licence.

He fought his way back to the top and a title fight with Gene Fullmer April 20, 1960. The bloody brawl wound up a draw. Promises Rematch

"I thought I won it and I thought, too, I'd never get another chance," said Giardello today. "But Tiger is like me—he fights everyone—and he gave me the shot. I'm gonna give him the shot right back."

The 33-year-old champion from Cherry Hill, N.J., has an offer of a $50,000 purse for a non-title fight in Vienna in the spring against Hungarian Laszlo Papp, the unbeaten European champion.

Then came the return title fight with Tiger in the summer "wherever it will draw the most money."

"I'm confident I'll beat him again," said Giardello. "Before Saturday I fought that fight over in my mind a hundred times and it always came out the same way—me winning. I was in the best shape of my life. For this fight, Sonny Liston could have been in there with me."

"After the 14th round the guys in my corner said 'Joey, you're the champion.' I actually cried. I was so happy."

"Then in the 15th Tiger put up his hands and waved for me to come in. He could have waved until the next day. I wasn't coming in."

That's the way it went for most of the 15 rounds in Convention Hall. Tiger stalked and Giardello moved. The 34-year-old defender was sluggish and erratic. He missed often as Giardello danced out of range, jabbing, hooking and cuffing as he moved.

"I could never hit him solid," said the downcast Tiger. "He would never stand still. He was always dancing."

"I was surprised at the decision. I thought I did enough to win. He ran. How do you win by running?"

Referee Paul Cavalier, the only official, had Giardello, a 3-to-1 underdog, the winner by a rounds score of 8-5 with two even.

Tiger, who weighed 159 to Giardello's 158, had a three-year winning streak snapped at 10. It was Giardello's fifth straight victory in 13 months.

Executive unanimously re-elected as Quebec Federation Fish and Game Association convention ends

Delegates to the annual weekend convention expressed their confidence in the Federation's executive by unanimously re-electing the entire slate of officers for the coming year.

Re-elected were Manny R. Wilson of Grenville, president; Gilles Pelletier of St. Michel Mistassini; Emile Lamoureux of Montreal, and Jacques Descoteaux of Quebec, vice presidents; Sterling Pollock of Montreal, treasurer, and Paul E. Pageau of Montreal, secretary-manager.

Among yesterday's guests of honour were Hon. Carrier Fortin, Minister of Labour; Horace Boivin, Mayor of Granby; Hon. Lionel Bertrand, Minister of Fish, Game and Tourism who delivered the closing address, and Curre Rene Levesque of the University of Sherbrooke.

The 174 delegates ended up their weekend convention by passing some 30 resolutions which included increasing the salaries of game wardens, having all guides in the Province licensed, a study of the use of insecticides to be undertaken by the provincial government, the removal of automobile burial grounds from the side of highways, and the destruction of wolf packs as they are reported.

The entire proceedings of the convention were translated simultaneously so that members were free to speak to their native tongue.

Wolves are menace to population, says Dr. L. Lemieux, bounty should be lifted, failed in its purpose

The wolf has been the victim of preconceived false ideas and folklore ever since Little Red Riding Hood paid a visit to her grandmother, and this tale is one of our oldest myths, Dr. Louis Lemieux of the Quebec Wildlife Management service said to delegates at Saturday's convention.

Speaking in a panel discussion on wolf control, Dr. Lemieux credited the wolf with a number of good works. These included the prevention of overpopulation among certain species such as the rabbit and the partridge.

His function in limiting the population of deer has been largely usurped by man, the speaker said.

Dr. Lemieux said that the removal of the wolf bounty was a necessary measure, explaining that it had failed in its purpose of controlling the wolf population.

Failure of the bounty was attributed to the considerable amount of time it took for even professional trappers in tracking down the elusive animal and the insufficient amount of money offered for the predator.

was in its cycle which took from ten to twelve years to complete, the speaker added.

Close battle in Western loop

Tight hardly the word to describe the Western Hockey League race.

After four games Saturday and Sunday—each team having played at least 21 games—only six points separated the top five clubs.

The exception to the rule was Vancouver, solidly in sixth and last place 14 points behind the leader.

Denver Invaders continued to set the pace with a 3-1 victory over Vancouver Canucks Saturday. Seattle Totems walloped San Francisco Seals 8-2 in the other game.

Sunday, Los Angeles moved to within a point of Invaders by defeating Seals 4-2 while Portland Buckaroos edged Totems 4-3.

Steve Witkowski, John Sleaver and Lou Jankowski provided the scoring punch for Invaders. Vancouver replied with a late goal by Dale Anderson.

Seattle's triumph over San Francisco Saturday was Totems' most one-sided victory of the season. It had its other moments, too, when a wild melee broke out in the second period and two fans attacked Seals' Charlie Burns.

SCORES TWICE

Tom Burgess, with two, and Larry Hale, Jim Powers, Bev Bell, Del Tonoff, Bob Barlow and Larry Zeidel got their names on the Seattle scoring column. Al Nicholson and Burns replied for the slumping Seals.

Granby Vics stop Beavers 5-2, Rockets dump Gauls 6-1

Roger Bedard's squad retains top spot in battle after weekend games, Labrosse comes up with four goals

Granby Vics came up with a 5-2 win over Sherbrooke Beavers while Drummondville Rockets walloped St. Hyacinthe Gauls 6-1. Vics' victory enabled them to retain their slim one-point lead over St. Hyacinthe while the Bobby Pepin's squad moved to within three points of the front-running Vics.

Michel Labrosse registered four goals as the official opening of Drummondville's new Civic Centre took place. Hon. Bernard Pinard, Minister of Public Works and deputy for Drummond County, assisted Mayor Marcel Marier at the ceremonies held prior to the game.

In Granby Rene Pepin gave the Beavers a 1-0 lead at the end of the first period when he banged home the puck after taking passes from Larry Drouin and Rejean Hamelin. They potted the goal just a minute and a half after the opening.

In the middle session the Vics rolled in four unanswered goals to take a 4-1 lead. Ron Roberts potted two while Gilles Bedard and Jacques Gagne notched the others. Only one was scored when Granby had the man advantage.

In the final frame Bert Bourassa came up with a marker just before the halfway mark. Jacques Gagne got his second tally of the afternoon later in the frame. Poor shooting cost the Beavers the game as on several opportunities they had Andy Payette at their mercy but they were wild on their shooting.

In Drummondville the Rockets came up with their first win of the season over St. Hyacinthe and it was the opportune time as it marked the official opening of their new Civic Centre.

The trio of Labrosse-Richard-Picard accounted for four goals with Michel Labrosse getting all four. A Martin and Harvey notched the others while Andy Bessette saved St. Hyacinthe from a shutout.

Only five penalties were dished out in the wide open battle. Martin got the first marker in the opening frame to give the Rockets a 1-0 lead. In the second Labrosse then went to work and potted three goals. Bessette got his goal in the middle session.

In the third period Labrosse got his fourth tally of the afternoon and then Harvey finished off the scoring to give the Rockets their 6-1 decision. The work of the other two lines in defensive roles saved the day for the Drummondville squad.

Triple tie in American Hockey loop, Providence, Hershey and Baltimore deadlocked for first

For the fourth time this season, the leaders of the American Hockey League's Eastern Division are running in triple harness.

Providence Reds created the latest triple dead heat Sunday night when they wrapped up their second 2-1 decision over Rochester Americans in as many nights to catch Hershey Bears and Baltimore Clippers, who had shared the lead before the weekend activities.

The Clippers had it all to themselves for 24 hours when they edged Hershey 2-1 Saturday but the Bears came back the following night with a 4-3 decision over Buffalo Bisons while the Clippers were idle. All three have 25 points, with the Reds having three games in hand over Hershey and four over Baltimore.

Pittsburgh Hornets, Western Division leaders, dropped Springfield Indians 3-1 and Cleveland Barons trounced Buffalo 5-1 in other games Saturday. Cleveland blanked Springfield 2-0 and the Hornets were beaten 4-1 by Quebec Aces in Sunday's remaining fixtures.

CLOSING-MINUTES TALLY

George Ranieri scored with less than three minutes remaining to give the Reds their victory over Rochester Sunday. Bob Beckett scored earlier for Providence and Less Duff counted for the Americans.

Bill Dineen, Clete Morison, John Hanna and Ed Hoekstra tallied for Quebec against the Hornets before Bob Dillabough averted a shutout for the losers.

Defenceman Marc Reaume fired home a long shot from a third-period faceoff to give the Bears their margin over Buffalo. Myron Stankiewicz, Dan Polizani and Michel Harvey

Marlies extend lead in OJHA, Canucks second

Toronto Mariboros continued to pace the pack Sunday as they stretched their unbeaten string to 11 games and crushed visiting Hamilton Red Wings 10-3 in Ontario Hockey Association Junior A action.

In other scheduled games, Montreal Junior Canadiens tightened their hold on second spot with a 4-0 win over visiting Peterborough Petes, hometown St. Catharines Black Hawks battled to a 5-5 tie with fourth-place Niagara Falls Flyers, and visiting Oshawa Generals strengthened their sixth-place hold with a 2-1 victory over Kitchener Rangers.

Tuesday the fifth-spot Black Hawks travel to Niagara Falls with hopes of a win and a fourth-place tie with Flyers, and the third-place Petes travel to Oshawa.

Kitchener and Hamilton, both in the cellar with nine points, are idle.

18TH MARLBOROS WIN

Mike Walton and Wayne Carleton scored a pair each as Marlboros picked up their 18th win in 21 outings. Britt Selby, Andre Champagne, Ray Winterstein, Peter Siemkowski, Ron Ellis and Rod Selling fired singles.

John DeDiana, Jim Peters and Red Lemieux got one each for Red Wings.

Jean-Claude Hebert, Andre Boudrias, Christian Borgeleau and Bob Lemieux got one each as the Junior Habs blanked the Petes.

Goalie Andre Gagnon turned aside 22 shots in registering his first shutout of the season.

EDGE KITCHENER
Bob Kilger and George Vail got one each as Generals edged Kitchener. Terry Pembroke was Rangers' lone marksman.

The Generals outshot Kitchener 37-25 as they overcame a 1-0 first period deficit with two unanswered markers in the middle period.

Doug Jarrett and Fred Stanfield counted two each and teammate Ken Hodge got the other for Black Hawks as they battled to their draw with Flyers.

Derek Sanderson potted a pair and Bill Goldsworthy, Brian Cornell and Ted Snell got singles for Niagara Falls.

Mexico City-Luis Gonzalez, 112, of Mexico, outpointed Mauro Miranda, 114, Mexico, 10.

Donnybrook erupts in Toronto, further action to come

SKATE SAVE — Detroit goaler Terry Sawchuk foils Ralph Backstrom with a skate save. Detroit players Andre and Marcel Pronovost, Larry Jeffrey, and Ron Ingram, converge to help out.

Who punched Murray Balfour in the eye?

President Clarence Campbell would like to know and has opened an investigation into the free-swinging brawl between the Toronto Maple Leafs and Chicago Black Hawks Saturday night.

The 10-minute donnybrook erupted late in the game when Reggie Fleming speared Eddie Shack. It was Fleming's way of saying thanks for a sock he caught on the jaw earlier in the game.

Both benches emptied. Shack crouched on the ice in pain but teammate Bob Baun moved in quickly to tangle with Fleming. Balfour took on Larry Hillman. Stan Mikita squared off with Ron Stewart and somehow Chico Maki and Carl Brewer got into the action.

Balfour then went after Brewer and afterward claimed he had Carl's number until Leaf coach Punch Imlach and trainer Bobby Haggart intervened.

"Brewer never hit me," said Balfour, who took four stitches in the brow. "I drove him into the bench and was beating the hell out of him."

"He started yelling Bobby, Bobby," then Haggart and Imlach landed on me. I don't know which one of them hit me, here," he said, pointing to his eye, "but it was one of them, they were both there."

Both Imlach and Haggart denied the accusation. Haggart said it was a fan and despite Toronto's 3-0 victory, Imlach was sizzling. He blamed Chicago coach Billy Reay for deliberately instigating the brawl.

"He sent Fleming out there. He knew what would happen when he sent that guy out there and it did. We can't afford that kind of thing."

The Leafs got a goal in each period, from George Armstrong, Frank Mahovlich and Eddie Shack, and outstanding goaltending from Don Simmons, who recorded his second straight shutout. It was Chicago's first loss in their last 13 starts.

Veteran Red Kelly sparked the Leafs to their triumph in Detroit with a breakaway goal and two assists. He knotted the score at 2-2 with his fourth of the season in the middle period, and set up goals by Eddie Shack and Dave Keon that broke the game wide open. Bob Nevin and George Armstrong also scored as Toronto outshot the Wings 41 to 26. Detroit scorers were Larry Jeffrey, Claude Laforge, with his first NHL goal, and Alex Delvecchio.

The Wings also blew a 2-1 lead Saturday when the Canadiens scored four goals in the final period. Gilles Tremblay got the tie-maker and Henri Richard burst out of a month-long scoring slump with two goals that clinched the win.

Jean Beliveau opened the scoring in the first period and the Wings came back with second-period goals by Alex Delvecchio and Pit Martin. In the NHL, But Tremblay tied the score at 2-2 and Claude Provost insured it with his third of the season.

Bobby Hull's 17th of the season and 199th of his career was all the Hawks needed against Montreal as Glenn Hall chalked up his fourth shutout of the year with 26 saves.

Hull scored at 1:19 of the first period when he tapped in the rebound from Red Hay's shot and late in the period Stan Mikita scored during a Montreal power play, combining with Reg Fleming on a two-on-one break.

Navy comes up with win over Army to get bid in Cotton Bowl but West Point needs more persuasion

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Navy is convinced it has the No. 1 college football team in the United States and can prove it in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas on New Year's Day—but there are some folks up at West Point who need a little more persuasion.

"For the life of me, I don't see how this team beat Pittsburgh," said a bitterly disappointed coach Paul Dietzel of Army after seeing the upset hopes of his Black Knights die with the clock on the Navy two-yard line Saturday at Philadelphia Stadium.

So the Midshipmen came off with their fifth straight triumph over their service rivals 21-13 and a chance to play top-ranked unbeaten Texas in the Cotton Bowl.

Coach Wayne Hardin of Navy refused to exult over the shaky, controversial triumph. But at the same time he refused to make any concessions to detractors of All-American quarterback Roger Staubach and company.

"We didn't play our best game against Army, and Army was tremendous — superb in every respect," Hardin said. "Nevertheless, we won and I still think these boys of mine are the best in the country."

DEAN PRENTICE, a former Ranger and Johnny Bucyk performed the heroics as Boston took three of four points in the home-and-home series. Prentice scored twice in the last five minutes of the game for the 8-6 win and Bucyk scored at 17:07 of the third period Sunday to earn the 2-2 stalemate.

Doug Mohs, Tom Williams, Orland Kurtenbach, Bob McCord, Bucyk and Murray Oliver also took part in the Bruins' scoring. The Rangers got two goals from Val Fonteyne and singles from Andy Bathgate, Rod Gilbert, Phil Goyette and Jim Neilson.

Jacques Plante, the victim of Boston's antics around the net, sat out Sunday night's game. The Rangers said they want to rest his sore left shoulder and call up rookie Gilles Villeneuve.

Bucyk swooped in on Villeneuve and squeezed the puck through his pads for the equalizer. Earlier he set up Oliver's 11th of the season. The Ranger scorers were Camille Henry and Phil Goyette.

The tense game, played before a somber crowd of 102,000 in dedication to the late president John F. Kennedy, ended in a state of high excitement and confusion.

Trailing 7-21 in the final period, Army smashed to a second touchdown and then made a daring two-point conversion on a run by quarterback Carl Stiehweh to make it 21-15.

With less than five minutes to play, the underdog Cadets recaptured the ball on a perfectly executed outside kick and then drove for what could have been the decisive touchdown.

Two YARDS TO GO
The clock was ticking off the final seconds as the Cadets, led by Stiehweh, moved inside the five. Then, they had a final down with two yards to go.

Their timeouts exhausted, Stiehweh motioned desperately to the officials to stop the clock until the noise subsided so that his players could hear the signals.

"We were running an automatic series," Dietzel lamented later. "When Stiehweh asked the officials to wait for quiet, they should have stopped the clock, but they didn't."

Black Hawks players are looking forward to Christmas as team dishes out special gifts for all

NEW YORK (AP) — There's every reason to believe that Bobby Hull and Chicago Black Hawks still will be leading the National Hockey League at Christmas time. But there's another looking forward to the holiday.

"The players are all excited about what gifts they're going to get," explained Hull, the NHL scoring leader who netted 16 goals in his first 23 games.

"Our owners, Jim Norris and Arthur Wirtz, are the most generous in the league and this has to be a contributing factor in our showing so far this season," added the Hawks' dynamic, blonde left winger. "I don't think that any other NHL team does as well for its players at Christmas."

"One year they gave each of us a $100 gift certificate. Another time it was a portable television set worth about $150. A few years ago we got a camera worth about $125."

"They also give a $10 gift to all of the players' children. Pierre Pilote really does all right. He has four kids. Glenn Hall and Ron Murphy each have three."

Hull, 24, is the father of two boys.

"Mr. Norris treats us so well that I know I have a guilty conscience when I have a bad game," Hull said. "The other guys, I'm sure, feel the same way."

Norris, a millionaire sportsman, and Wirtz, president of Chicago Stadium, became co-owners of the team in 1952.

Robeson maintains silence

Whereabouts of famed singer a mystery

NEW YORK — (NEA) — What happened to Paul Robeson? The famous American Negro singer and actor who once said that he considered Communist Russia as his "second motherland" has disappeared from public view into the dim world behind the Iron Curtain.

A Paris newspaper has reported that the "great colored singer Paul Robeson" was disillusioned with Russia and communism. He is quoted as having expressed disappointment to have found racial discrimination being practiced in Red Russia. He was shocked to have discovered that minority peoples in the Soviet Union, such as Jews, Armenians, Georgians and others, were being forced to adopt Soviet Russian "culture" instead of their own.

"I am disillusioned because I found (in Russia) a different form of oppression which is all the more dangerous because it operates in the name of a bogus liberation," Robeson is reported to have said.

This account was denied by Eslanda Robeson, the singer's wife, and by persons who described themselves as "Robeson's friends."

But Paul Robeson himself

remained silent. The man who said that he chose Communist Russia as his "second motherland" because he championed Negro rights did not even break his silence during the historic civil rights march on Washington.

One of Robeson's last appearances in public was at the end of 1959 when he played the famous role as Shakespeare's Othello in Britain. In April 1961, he was reported to be in a Moscow hospital suffering from exhaustion. Five months later he was said to be resting in a nursing home near London.

However, since then, Robeson has disappeared from public life. His wife makes no secret of the fact that she intends, for the present at least, to keep him cut off from the outside world.

"Nearly everyone everywhere who knows anything about Paul Robeson knows by now what his political views are," Mrs. Robeson told the news agency of Communist Czechoslovakia. She denied that her husband was ever a Communist. But, she added, "He is a firm friend of the Soviet Union, of the People's Republic of China and of the socialist world."

Yet no western reporter was ever permitted by Mrs. Robeson to speak face-to-face with the singer or to discover whether in fact he still holds the views she attributes to him.

The circumstances of Paul Robeson's recent departure from Britain ostensibly for a "rest" in Communist East Germany were, to say the least, murky.

At no time before the take-off or after the landing in East Berlin was he exposed to public scrutiny. Though a reporter for the London Sunday Telegraph was on the same plane, he was not permitted by Mrs. Robeson to interview the singer.

After he was given a passport to leave the United States in 1958, at the age of

By LEON DENNEN

60, he undertook a heavy schedule of concerts in Europe and Russia. He may well have overtaxed his health.

But the fierce determination with which his "protectors" keep him from all contact with the public and the press suggests that he found his faith in Russia and communism misplaced.

It is indeed possible that, after more than a decade, he saw through the Communist fraud. Emotional man that Robeson is, he probably allowed himself to voice his disillusionment. His "exhaustion" may thus be as much political as it is physical.

Is Robeson therefore being held incommunicado by his "friends" and "protectors"? Until he speaks himself, we shall not know the truth. For the time being Robeson's deep bass voice is silent.

Border Royal Arch Masons mark 50th anniversary

STANSTEAD — Lively Stone Chapter, No. 16, Royal Arch Masons, Grand Chapter of Quebec, observed its 50th anniversary on Nov. 30, at a meeting held in the Masonic Temple, followed by a dinner in the banquet room.

James Martin, Excellent Companion, extended a welcome to the District Grand Superintendent, Rt. Ex. Comp. Arthur Needham, of Holyrood Chapter 15, Richmond, and to the visiting fraternity.

Mr. Needham, on behalf of the Grand Chapter offered congratulations to Lively Stone on achieving its golden anniversary.

EARLY HISTORY

Rt. Ex. Comp. Alfred Aldrich, gave an interesting talk on the history of the Royal Arch Masons in Stanstead, which he said, dates back to the year 1821. This first Chapter, known as St. John's was established in 1821, and because of Masonic decline, ceased in 1829. In 1838 St. John's Chapter was revised with Charter Supreme from the Grand Chapter of Canada and was one of the first Chapters in the Province.

Henry Martin was a character, a sort of Jack of all trades. He was a combination of surveyor and prospector and it was he who drew up the plans for Crystal Lake Cemetery, at Stanstead. When he died he left a third of his holdings to the cemetery and a third to Golden Rule Lodge. Mr. Gustin was also the man who was instrumental in having the Golden Rule Masonic communications held annually on top of Owl's Head Mountain, a custom still maintained by the Masonic brethren.

Mr. Martin one of the promoters of Royal Arch Masons and after re-establishing St. John's Chapter, made a trip to Boston, Mass., and for $50 bought the furnishings needed by the Order.

In 1860 St. John's Chapter changed its name to Golden Rule Chapter, No. 9, and continued to operate in Stanstead until 1869 when it was transferred to Sherbrooke and became known as Golden Rule Chapter 1, Province of Quebec. The Chapter is still in Sherbrooke and is the oldest Royal Arch Chapter in the Province.

INSTITUTED IN 1913

In the fall of 1913 Lively Stone Chapter was instituted at Stanstead. There were 11 men who were members of Golden Rule Chapter, Sherbrooke, and six from Cleveland Chapter, Newport, Vt. Thus was established an international Chapter which has continued drawing its membership from both sides of the Border for the past 50 years.

The candidates initiated to the Royal Arch degree on the historic day in 1913 were Prof. E. C. Irvine, Clifford Frost, Henry P. Stockwell, M.D., Charles Jenkins, Lyman House, Dr. C. Waite, H. G. Kirwin, Jay Turner, George Seymour, Dr. C. I. Moulton, Lieut.-Col. B. B. Morrill and Frank L. Wilkinson, all of whom are now deceased.

James Williamson, a Stanstead resident, was the first affiliation of Lively Stone.

Other speakers on the afternoon program were Rt. Ex. Comp. Howard Walsh who referred to the Degree work of the Order, Rt. Ex. Comp. George Galbraith, Richmond, an Rt. Ex. Comp. Copping, of Friendship Chapter, Cookshire.

BANQUET

The banquet took place at six o'clock and several of the ladies of the Masonic brethren were guests. A chicken pie supper with all the trimmings was served by members of the Golden Star Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star. The head table was centered with a bowl of red chrysanthemums flanked by matching candles in silver holders.

Seated at the head table were Ex. Comp. James Martin and Mrs. Martin, Mr. Needham, Comp. Rev. Ralph Roger, the guest speaker, and Mrs. Rogers.

Mr. Martin proposed a toast to the Queen and the President of the United States, also to Grand Chapter, to which District Superintendent, Mr. Needham, responded.

Mr. Rogers spoke to the assembly about Lively Stone Chapter, referring to its members as being lively stones to bigger and better things of life. He noted the fraternal friendships of Masonry and of the Eastern Star, the latter including the ladies of Masons, and spoke of the good which comes from the Orders as each member strives to make the world a better place for all.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Roy, Derby Line, are honored on 25th anniversary

DERBY LINE — The silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Roy was celebrated on Dec. 1, commencing in the morning, when the bride and groom of the silver years, their children, Cynthia, Mrs. Joseph Field, Mr. Field and their little daughter, Catherine, Roland, Jr., Veronica, Joan and Celeste and other close relatives attended St. Edward's church, where Father Joseph Dussault, was celebrant of the Anniversary Mass.

Open House took place at the home of the couple in the afternoon, when a large number of relatives and friends were received by the family.

Refreshments were served from the diningroom, where the table was arranged with a hand-made lace cloth, centered with a bowl of pink and white poms and chrysanthemums. The three-tier anniversary cake, a gift of the family, was made and decorated in pink and white by Mrs. Ben Blais.

Mrs. Yvette Reeves, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Ronald Young poured, Miss Joan Roy, presided at the punch bowl. After the initial cut of the anniversary cake was made by Mr. and Mrs. Roy it was cut by Mrs. Field and passed by Miss Veronica Roy.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy received several lovely gifts of flowers, silver, money and a money tree. Mrs. Roy was presented with a corsage of red roses, the gift of Mr. Roy, which she wore on her wool sheath dress. Mr. Roy had a white carnation boutonniere.

Miss Celeste Roy was in charge of the silver-covered guest book.

During the day Mr. and Mrs. Roy received congratulatory phone calls from Worcester, Mass., and Beloit, Wis. They were also recipients of other phone calls and cards.

Later in the afternoon a buffet family supper took place at the home.

The reception and events of the day were arranged by the couple's five children, assisted by an aunt and other relatives.

Mr. Roy and Rita Emmons were married at St. Johnsbury, Nov. 21, 1938. They came to Derby Line the same year, when Mr. Roy, a pharmacist, purchased the building and business of the late Mrs. Brown.

Their eldest daughter, a registered nurse, now Mrs. Field, with Mr. Field and their little daughter, Catherine, resides in Nashua, N.H.; Roland, Jr., is a second year student at Massachusetts College of Pharmacy, Boston, Mass.; Veronica is a student nurse at St. Mary's hospital, Montreal; Joan and Celeste are at home and attend Sacred Heart Convent school at Newport.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Roy are prominent in the communities as members of St. Edward's Church and its societies and are supporters of many worthwhile community projects. Mr. Roy is a member of the Rotary Club.

Relatives and friends visiting the Roy home on Sunday were from St. Johnsbury, Barre, Montpelier, Newport, and the Boundary Villages.
