FEARED OVER FIVE HUNDRED HAVE LOST LIVES IN FLORIDA TORNADO

War Veterans Construction Camps Scenes of Greatest Suffering as Hurricane, Accompanied by Great Walls of Water, Swept Over Florida Keys—Rescue Train Sent into Stricken Area Reported Wrecked—Red Cross Places Preliminary Estimates of Lives Lost at Five Hundred.

Miami, September 4.—Destruction of war veterans construction camps on the Florida Keys, some of them swept by high walls of water rolling in from raging seas, brought today rapidly increasing fears of a terrific death toll from the hurricane roaring over the Gulf area.

A searching party from Miami reported by wireless to the Red Cross an estimated loss of life of five hundred.

Devastation was heaviest in the camps of the veterans, engaged in building a highway down the Keys to Key West.

One of these camps was demolished. Another was a mass of wreckage. A rescue train, sent down the Keys on Monday to bring back the veterans, was reported wrecked.

This information came from a Coast Guard plane which surveyed the area early today.

Survivors at Camp Number One, the construction site farthest to the north, said the train had passed through there, intending to pick up the veterans there on the return trip.

Walls of water as high as fifteen feet poured continuously over these Keys for hours as the hurricane raged up from the Atlantic, across the tip of Florida and into the Gulf.

Once in the Gulf, the path of the storm was northerly. It centered this morning to the west of Clearwater and gales were expected by coast towns.

Everywhere the hurricane warning was out: two square flags, red with black centres, one flown above the other. Ships were kept to port.

A message from St. Petersburg, the first since the storm swerved up the West Florida coast, said the tide was rising rapidly and the seas were heavy. Property damage was reported only as "considerable." No loss of life was reported.

From St. Petersburg came the further word:

"Have no knowledge of conditions at Clearwater and Tarpon Springs." The five hundred estimate was for the Keys area only.

Refugees from the veterans' camp on unprotected Matecumbe Key told of the force of the hurricane. All of the buildings but one were crushed like small boxes as the wall of water surged over the thin strip of land. Persons were washed into the sea and those who reached a safe spot were powerless to help them. A mother and her six-year-old daughter were rescued after clinging to wreckage all night, their clothing ripped to shreds by the wind and water.

William Cawthron, one of the veterans who survived the disaster on Matecumbe Key, said eighty persons lost their lives.

Computing of the death list was made difficult inasmuch as groups of veterans were scattered all about the camps.

At Tavernier, on Plantation Key, adjoining the Matecumbe, a Red Cross report said at least one hundred were killed. Seventy-five or more were reported dead in the first despatches from Rock Harbor.

With the hurricane shifting its fury to the west coast of Florida, full intensity was looked for in the neighborhood of Cedar Key, ninety miles or so north of St. Petersburg.

The one thousand two hundred residents of Cedar Key are connected with the mainland by only a narrow causeway. Many persons evacuated the town, while others sought shelter in brick buildings.

STORM COMPLETELY WIPED OUT ONE VETERANS' CAMP

Jacksonville, Fla., Sept. 4.—A coast guard plane reported to headquarters here by wireless this morning that the veterans' camp Number Five was demolished and of one of the trains sent to Keys to rescue the veterans only the engine was left standing on the track with all cars overturned.

The Coast Guard sent two planes out from Miami early this morning to survey the hurricane-swept Florida Keys.

The message added the Number One camp was "completely demolished."

It was the first definite news of the train or of the Number Five Camp in Matecumbe.

ORGANIZATION OF YOUTH MOVEMENT URGED

Sylvan Lake, Alta., Sept. 4.—Organization of a youth movement throughout Canada was urged here at the Alberta Youth Conference. It was felt the movement should be developed so that a national congress might be called next June.

THE WEATHER

COOL WITH SCATTERED SHOWERS.

Pressure is high over Quebec and the Maritime Provinces, also from Saskatchewan southward over the northwest states, while a disturbance of moderate intensity centered just north of Lake Superior is causing strong winds with rain in the region of the Great Lakes. The tropical disturbance now appears to be centered west of Tampa, Fla. The weather has been fair in Quebec and the Maritime Provinces, also over Alberta while light showers have occurred in southeastern Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

Forecast: Fresh to strong south-easterly winds with rain. Thursday—fresh to strong winds, shifting to west and northwest; cloudy and cool with scattered showers.

Temperatures yesterday: Maximum, 75; minimum, 52.

Same day last year: Maximum, 85; minimum, 54.

NEW ALBERTA GOVERNMENT SEEKS TO CONTROL PRESS

All News of Government Activities in Future to Be "Handed Out" by Government News Bureau if Social Credit Premier Has His Way.

Edmonton, Sept. 4.—Reportorial enterprise will be a thing of the past at the legislative buildings if present plans of the new Social Credit Government are carried out, it was declared today.

John J. W. Huggill, K.C., Attorney-General, and Dr. Victor Wright, close friends of Premier William Aberhart, announced that the administration soon would inaugurate what newspapermen term a "hand-out bureau."

Premier Aberhart, they said, would operate a "Gold Fish Bowl" Government, his press bureau publicizing each department of government. News from the Government, it was said, would be "dished out on platters" to reporters after being handled by the Government news bureau.

NEW QUEBEC SCHOOL READY

Quebec, Sept. 4.—The Jesuit Fathers took possession of the new St. Charles Garnier School here yesterday and to mark the occasion a dinner was held bringing together the priests of the institution and the architects and contractors of the building. Pupils will be admitted tomorrow.

On September 25th and 26th the school will be blessed and other ceremonies unfolded in the presence of Cardinal Villeneuve.

SEPTEMBER 11 FIXED BY MINISTER OF MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS FOR APPOINTMENT OF NEW COUNCIL TO REPLACE MAYOR AND SIX ALDERMEN WHO RESIGNED LAST MONTH.

Cleveland, Que., Sept. 4.—The political clouds on the local municipal front are drifting away—carrying with them the storms that wrecked the entire Council and left the good ship Cleveland battered and stranded on a turbulent sea without a captain and crew. "Steady, boys," the old veterans encourage during the nightly sessions of townfolk at the general store—"just one more week and we'll be sailing along safely again."

For they are going to elect a new Council on September 11. About a month ago Cleveland lost its Council—completely. First Gagne and Desmarais, waving Superior Court documents with great zeal and enthusiasm, went after the mayor—R. A. McArthur. That was the start.

Mr. McArthur abandoned the ship in the face of Court proceedings demanding his disqualification for a number of reasons—including the claim that he had received $150 for attending sessions of the Council, that he had rented his gasoline buggy to the municipality, that he had valued his services for inspecting the roads at four dollars, and that he had repaired some of the municipality's machinery and received remuneration for his work. Mr. McArthur confessed judgment. He lost his mandate and was automatically barred from holding public office for five years.

Then the crew followed the captain. That was bad. It brought about an unparalleled situation. The entire Council handed in its resignation. The Council comprised J. W. Costello, Aime Tremblay, Thomas H. Faulker, Donald Perkins, Herbert Coles and Nelson Lampron.

But Messrs. Gagne and Desmarais had not completed their work. They filed action against Faulker, in spite of the fact he had resigned. The action, based upon the Statutes of Quebec, is at present pending in Superior Court. In this action, the complainants ask the Court to bar

CANADA FLOATS LOAN AT LOWEST RATE IN HISTORY

Ottawa, Sept. 4.—Finance Minister Rhodes announced today the Government had raised a loan of $20,000,000 in New York for five months bearing the lowest interest rate ever obtained on Dominion administration borrowings.

The loan, running from September 1 to February 1, 1936, carries interest of three-quarters of one per cent. It was obtained from a group of Canadian and United States banks and will be used to retire Grand Trunk Railway Company of Canada seven per cent debentures due October 1, which are payable in New York.

A statement by the Finance Minister said the amount outstanding on the issue was $23,740,000 and that the sum required additional to the amount raised by loan would be provided from other sources.

NEW ANGLES IN GERMAN RACIAL WAR DEVELOP

Although Decrying Persecution, Nazi Leader Declares "We Shall Not Allow Foreign Race to Live Among Our People."

Berlin, Sept. 4.—Confusion returned today to Nazi relations with Catholics and Jews.

Leader Hans von Jagow told a meeting of 15,000 Brown Shirts: "We do not want persecution of the Jews, but we shall not permit a foreign race to live among our people."

Von Jagow, who spoke at a closed meeting, asked the aid of the Storm Troops to "carry this problem to the last man of our people," by word of mouth and not by individual acts.

The Catholic question became vital again after a pause broken by last Sunday's pastoral letter—which exhorted Catholics to "stand in the faith"—with a police order in Hamburg forbidding the wearing of uniforms by Catholic Youth groups.

Only organizations of a "purely religious nature" are exempt from the order, which forbids political and athletic activities among the young people's units and makes it illegal for them to wear insignia or to conduct meetings.

In Henningsdorf, workers for Dr. Stuemer, Streicher's Jew-baiting newspaper, photographed the patrons of Jewish restaurants.

WASP CAUSED AUTO ACCIDENT

Cranbrook, B.C., Sept. 4.—A wasp was responsible for Mrs. A. K. Grey being in hospital today. When Mr. Grey turned to strike a wasp that entered the car window, he lost control. The car swerved and Mrs. Grey was thrown through the windshield. She suffered a severe throat wound.

ETHIOPIAN TENSION SOMEWHAT EASED TODAY WITH WITHDRAWAL OF OIL CONCESSIONS

The Ethiopian tension was somewhat eased today with the withdrawal of the gigantic territorial concession Ethiopia granted to United States interests last week.

After consultation with the State Department in Washington, the Standard-Vacuum Oil Corporation announced it would withdraw from the arrangement. This also made clear that no other interests were involved.

British, French and Italian delegates at Geneva conferred shortly before the first private meeting of the League of Nations Council. It was announced the British and French jointly had drafted a report on the abortive Paris peace negotiations, although it will not be presented jointly to the Council. The British believe the report acceptable to the Italians.

Discussion at Geneva is expected to be protracted. The initial problem is to reach an agreement on the procedure to be adopted. From Rome came statements Italy was confident of victory in the Council sessions.

CLEVELAND TO HAVE ELECTION FOR A COUNCIL

SEPTEMBER 11 FIXED BY MINISTER OF MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS FOR APPOINTMENT OF NEW COUNCIL TO REPLACE MAYOR AND SIX ALDERMEN WHO RESIGNED LAST MONTH.

Cleveland, Que., Sept. 4.—The political clouds on the local municipal front are drifting away—carrying with them the storms that wrecked the entire Council and left the good ship Cleveland battered and stranded on a turbulent sea without a captain and crew. "Steady, boys," the old veterans encourage during the nightly sessions of townfolk at the general store—"just one more week and we'll be sailing along safely again."

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 4.—Good fortune and adversity conflicted today in the manner of a story book romance for two once-penniless youths who unearthed a golden treasure from a dusty cellar.

The theft of $5,000 in gold and $3,100 in currency from the home of one led to the revelation the boys had found a second treasure trove, valued at $10,000.

The two lads, Theodore Jones and Henry Grob, about a year ago unearthed treasure from a trunk in the dank cellar floor beneath Jones' residence. After extended litigation they won the right to keep the gold. The coins were sold at auction last August for $20,000.

The boys did not reveal their second find of $10,000 until yesterday, when police began investigating the robbery at the apartment where Theodore Jones lives with his mother and step-father, Philip A. Rummel.

The $5,000 of gold and the $3,100 in currency that constituted his life savings were stolen from a trunk in the second floor rear apartment last night, Rummel told police.

CHURCH OF ENGLAND ANNUAL SESSION AT CALGARY

Calgary, Sept. 4.—Leaders of the Church of England will meet in annual session here September 13th to 21st. The House of Bishops and the executive boards, along with Anglican laity members, will discuss the work of the church of Canada.

Faulker from holding public office for five years.

In the meantime Secretary-Treasurer W. R. Stevens has been steering Cleveland along. But steering Cleveland along is more than one man's job. Mr. Stevens consequently communicated with the Minister of Municipal Affairs at Quebec, explaining the situation. The Minister of Municipal Affairs has ordered an election for September 11, when a brand new slate of officers will be appointed.

ALBERTA READY FOR MONETARY REFORM POLICY

New Social Credit Government Sworn into Office with Simple Ceremony—Raising of Loan First Problem of New Cabinet.

Edmonton, Sept. 4.—Alberta settled back today to watch its new Government, the administration headed by William Aberhart, elected on a platform of monthly credit dividends of $25 to every man and woman in the province.

In the first public inauguration ceremony in Alberta's history, the Social Credit Government was sworn into office yesterday by Lieutenant-Governor Walsh. Several hundred people jammed the galleries of the Legislative Chamber here to watch a ceremony marked by its simplicity and lack of gloss and pomp. There were no policemen, soldiers, top hats, morning coats or evening-gowned women.

The new Government's first attention will be directed toward finances before making a start on its Social Credit programme. Aberhart expects to leave for Ottawa early next week to negotiate a loan from the Dominion treasury. He faces obligations of $15,000,000 in the next seven months and a treasury almost bare of money.

It will be fifteen or eighteen months before the first monthly dividends are paid but, in the meantime, it will do no good for the rest of Canada to flock here in anticipation. One of the first acts of the new Government will be to register all bona fide citizens of Alberta, forming a basic list of men and women eligible for dividends. Later, when the programme is more complete, eligibility regulations will be drafted, listing specifications relating to residence in Alberta and age limits.

Another section of the regulations will establish an "Indian List" to

RESCUE CRAFT PREPARE TO SAVE HUNDREDS ABOARD STRICKEN SHIP

Masters of Rescue Vessels Confer on Best Method of Procedure to Rescue 372 Persons Aboard Liner Dixie, Grounded Off Florida Coast—Ill-Fated Ship Reported Resting Easily Despite Terrific Pounding Against Reef.

Miami, Fla., Sept. 4.—Tropical Radio reported early today the rescue vessels encircling the grounded Morgan liner Dixie were preparing to start transfer of passengers.

While no lifeboats had been yet launched, the masters were said to be conferring on procedure. The weather had moderated considerably.

The grounded steamship developed a leak in one of its fuel tanks as turbulent seas held back crews from five other steamers which stood by to take off 372 persons—241 passengers and 131 crew.

The master of the distressed steamer reported it was "pounding easy" despite the terrific gusting against French Reef by storm-tossed, mountainous waves sixty miles south of Miami.

"Leak developed in one fuel tank," said a wireless message early today. "Oil leaking out. Ship resting easy."

The Dixie stuck fast when it was swept onto the reef by the tropical hurricane on Monday night.

Standing by and waiting for the sea to moderate enough to permit rescue operations were the Platano, El Occidente, Gatun, Limon and Reager three fruit boats, one passenger vessel and one tanker.

In a dispatch to the Associated Press, W. H. Depperman, a passenger aboard the S. S. Platano, described the rescue ships as a blinking semi-circle around the Dixie early today.

He said the liner's passengers could be seen along the rail, peering out into the storm's inky blackness.

Lighthouses on the reefs guarded the rescue ships against their own possible destruction.

Not one of them dared put out a boat into the churning waves.

Depperman said Captain McRae of the Platano, paced the hurricane deck, sleepless, and the crew stood by the lifeboats. He assumed the situation was likewise on the other rescue vessels keeping the vigil.

Latest reports indicated the storm was moving westward away from the vicinity of the Dixie.

In his story Mr. Depperman says: "Daylight has broken and the S. S. Dixie, plainly visible for the first time since we arrived, lies stranded about a mile and a half off our starboard bow."

Captain C. D. McRae of the Platano has just pointed her out to me. She is like the focal point of the ribs of a fan, with five rescue vessels spread about her. The Platano is the closest in.

"Passengers and crew of the Dixie may be rescued today, but that is not positive. Standing on the bridge, it is my impression the boats may soon be put over the side. The water seems to be growing calmer all the time."

"The atmosphere is growing more tense. Captain McRae is anxiously scanning the hulk of the Dixie with his glasses. Outside, they are making the life boats ready. The same is probably happening on every one of the other rescue ships. All eyes are strained to the Dixie."

CALGARY SEEKING LARGE LOAN FROM GOVERNMENTS

City Council Empowers Mayor to Seek Loan of $500,000 to Meet Current Expenses of City—Economy Suggestion Rejected.

Calgary, Sept. 4.—Mayor Andrew Davison has authority from the City Council to continue negotiations with both the Alberta and Dominion Governments for a loan of $500,000.

When he placed civic finance problems before the Council, Mayor Davison last night was empowered to act. Unless a loan was obtained, he told the Council, the city would have to default on bond interest and other payments.

The Mayor will meet Premier Aberhart in Edmonton on Thursday to solicit support for a federal loan.

"The city should live within its income," said Alderman W. A. Lincoln in opposing additional loans.

DAM TO BE ERECTED AT VICTORIAVILLE

Quebec, Sept. 4.—The town of Victoriaville intends erecting a dam on the Nicolet River, according to announcement in the Quebec Official Gazette. The purpose of the dam is to store the water of the river to regulate the flow and ensure a uniform supply to waterworks systems and mills and a constancy of hydraulic power. Specifications of the undertaking have been forwarded to Quebec Minister of Lands and Forests.

GOOD FORTUNE AND ADVERSITY OF TWO ONCE-PENILESS YOUTHS WHO UNEARTHED TREASURE FROM MUSTY CELLAR REVEALS LIKE STORY BOOK ROMANCE.

BRITAIN DETERMINED TO PREVENT POLITICAL OR ECONOMIC CONFLICT WITH ITALY.

Geneva, Sept. 4.—Anthony Eden, British delegate, assured the League of Nations Council today that there can be no question of any political or economic conflict between Great Britain and Italy.

U.S. MAGAZINE AGAIN CENSORED

London, September 4.—The News Chronicle said today a United States magazine has been censored for the second week in succession, a page understood to refer to a visit by the Prince of Wales to the Riviera being torn out of all copies sent in Great Britain. One page of the August 13 issue of the magazine, bearing a reference to the Duke and Duchess of Kent, was torn out by a wholesale newsdealer before it was delivered to London newsstands.

BRITAIN REORGANIZES DEFENCES AS LEAGUE OPENS AFRICAN STUDY

Control of Far-Flung British Territorial Army Transferred from Under-Secretary for War to Army Council to Provide for Closer Co-operation with Regular Army—Prospects for Early Solution of Crisis Wane as Italy Prepares Long Case Against Ethiopia—Withdrawal of Both Britain and Italy from League a Possibility.

London, September 4.—Ramsay MacDonald, acting Prime Minister, flew today from Rossieholm, Scotland, in the vanguard of cabinet ministers returning to Whitehall to be ready for swift action if warranted by developments at Geneva.

Prime Minister Baldwin will return from France tomorrow to take command of the home front in the Italo-Ethiopian dispute.

Prospects for the rapid solution of the crisis waned in the wake of news from Geneva that the Italian delegation had brought eight bulky packing cases filled with documentary evidence alleging Ethiopia's "barbaric unfitness" to continue as a League member.

Mounting uneasiness that bayonets might not be confined to a colonial quarrel in Africa, but might reflect their deadly glint in Europe was evidenced in another move to tighten the Empire's defences. The War Office announced a change in Great Britain's far-flung territorial army to conform with the regular army.

This measure, following the reinforcement of Malta and Aden and the despatching of the Mediterranean fleet to Suez waters, left no doubt that the Government is taking all precautions.

Concerning the Territorial army, the War Office announced it had made the Army Council directly responsible for the effectiveness of the 136,000 members of the Territorial forces.

The administrative change was announced to become effective on October 1st. It is designed to bring the Territorials into closer co-operation with the regular army. Previously the Territorials were under supervision of the Under-Secretary for War.

SKIRMISHING AT GENEVA STARTED THIS MORNING

Geneva, Sept. 4.—The skirmishing preliminary to League of Nations discussion of the Italo-Ethiopian problem opened here today.

For the first time since the abortive three-power conversations in Paris, Anthony Eden, of Britain, Premier Laval, of France, and Baron Pompeo di Aloisi, of Italy, met together. But it was only to discuss the report of the Paris session which Eden will submit to the Council this afternoon.

The document, prepared jointly by the British and French delegations, was declared acceptable to the Italians. After Eden submits it, Laval will endorse it and state the French viewpoint.

Eden this morning also discussed the situation with Teclé Hawariate, the Ethiopian delegate, and Prof. Gaston Jeze, Ethiopian representative on the Ulaal Conciliation Commission.

The Council's first meeting is a private session under which article of the Covenant the Ethiopian appeal against Italy shall be heard.

ITALIANS CONFIDENT THEY WILL WIN LEAGUE VICTORY

Rome, Sept. 4.—Italy was confident today that it would win a sweeping diplomatic victory in the Council of the League of Nations.

Informed circles were convinced Great Britain would abandon any effort to obtain support for imposition of sanctions.

News of Secretary of State Hull's announcement in Washington of the withdrawal of the American interest in the Ethiopian oil concession caused little less than a sensation, and much jubilation.

After recovering from the surprise over the confirmation that the enterprise had a bona fide American connection, informed circles pointed out this seeming deflation of the economic "buffer" left Italy in a stronger position than ever.

It not only presented to the world in dramatic fashion further evidence of the perfidy of Emperor Haile Selassie in alienating from under Italy's very nose what it regards as its legitimate economic rights, these circles asserted, but it also represented an important recognition of Italian claims.

If Great Britain should appear as the foe to the Italian policy, in respect to sanctions, the feeling was that Italy had sufficient friends in the Council to swamp such a move. Nor was the possibility overlooked that in the ensuing controversy the League itself might be torn asunder by the withdrawal of England or Italy, or both.

BOTH ITALY AND ETHIOPIA FREED IN ULAAL AFFAIR

Paris, Sept. 4.—Neither Italy nor Ethiopia are at fault over the Ulaal incident. Such was the unanimous decision of the joint Conciliation Commission which did its part to eliminate this perplexing incident as a cause for the Italo-Ethiopian conflict.

Ethiopian observers called the decision an unexpected victory for their cause. It deprived Mussolini, they said, of one of his strongest arguments in support of the Italian case against "barbarous Ethiopia."

The Ulaal incident, called a "scuffle over a desert water hole," involved the slaying of a number of Italians and Ethiopians. Upon it, Italy based one of its strongest arguments in support of its case against "barbarous Ethiopia."

The commission to which the League of Nations gave the task of finding who was responsible, failed to agree in its first attempt at Scheveningen, the Netherlands; then tried again after an extraordinary session of the League Council and selection of Dr. Nicholas Socrates Politis, of Greece, as a fifth arbitrator, to break any deadlock in which the

AGED PLANTER IS SOUGHT FOR BRUTAL MURDER

Crazed Over Sale of Land During His Absence, Man Alleged to Have Slain Four Relatives and to Have Wounded a Fifth.

Montego Bay, Jamaica, Sept. 4.—An aged planter, alleged to have murdered four relatives and wounded a fifth in a fit of rage, was sought by armed police today over the rolling countryside near this drowsy Caribbean seaside resort.

One of the victims was an infant his brother Joseph's three-month-old daughter, who was killed in the kitchen of her home at Hampton Village while Joseph's wife hid in terror in a bedroom.

A few minutes before Joseph had been felled in his own backyard after an argument with his brother over the land. His son, Mortimer, with him, received a revolver shot in the leg as he ran off.

Then, striding into the house, Benjamin shot the baby and another twenty-three-year-old son, who died almost instantly.

Announcing he intended to kill all those connected with the sale, he ran back into the yard and stood over the dying Joseph.

"Now, you brute, you can sell the land," he was quoted as screaming while three more bullets were pumped into the prone man's body.

While plantation workers fled in panic, the crazed killer crossed the road to the home of a cousin and, without preliminaries, shot him in the breast.

Joseph and the cousin died in hospital here a few hours later. Officers learned later that Benjamin had bought a revolver and fifty cartridges here Saturday and had spent the week-end drinking.

It was in this village that Great Britain's Duke of Kent spent a few weeks honeymooning this year with Princess Marina.

CLINTON BRAINERD PASSED AWAY YESTERDAY
Winthrop, Me., Sept. 4.—Clinton T. Brainerd, seventy years old, of New York city, president of the McClure Syndicate, died at his summer home here yesterday. A former editor of the Washington Herald and president of its publishing company from 1915 to 1919, Brainerd had been president of the McClure Syndicate since 1911. He was a native of Denver.

SIGN OF BETTER TIMES
Des Moines, Iowa, Sept. 4.—"Yes, times are better—cigarette butts are longer."

Thus observed Leonard Hofius, who calls himself the "poet laureate of the jungle."

"I don't need graphs, charts or car-loading tables to see conditions are better," he remarked. "There are more and longer cigarette butts and fewer men looking for them—that's my index."

SEVERAL RECEPTIONS HELD FOR FRENCH SLOOP'S CREW

Officers Received at Mess of Royal 22nd Regiment at Quebec and Officials Paid Visit to Frigate-Commander Gobyet.

Quebec, Sept. 4.—Several receptions were held yesterday in honor of the officers and men of the French sloop Ville D'Ys which arrived here Monday in command of Frigate-Commander Gobyet.

In the morning the officers were received at the mess of the Royal 22nd Regiment. During the afternoon officials visited the Commander aboard. They included Lieut-Col. D. B. Papeau, representing Hon. E. L. Patenaude, Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec.

In the evening the officers were received at dinner at the Citadel. This function coincided with a complimentary dinner given Colonel J. B. P. Dunbar on the occasion of his departure for Halifax, where he will be stationed.

The ship's crew were entertained at a dance under the auspices of the Canadian Legion, British Empire Service League. Today the officers of the sloop will be entertained at luncheon by the France-America committee.

RETURN FROM EXPLORATION WORK ON LABRADOR COAST
Flew as Far North as North West River and Are Presumed to Have Photographed Likely Plane Bases.

Charlottetown, Sept. 4.—Home-ward bound after "secret exploration work in Labrador for private interests," a seaplane piloted by W. H. Irvine, of Canadian Airways, Montreal, alighted on Charlottetown harbor last night.

The exploration party included F. T. Jenkins, assistant general manager of Canadian Airways, and Charles Palaisay, an engineer.

Leaving Montreal on August 7, they flew as far north as North West River and spent most of their time shooting pictures along the Labrador coast, presumably photographing likely plane bases.

"It would be unfair to our principal to disclose any further information," said Mr. Jenkins when he came ashore.

STABILIZATION OF CURRENCIES TO BE STUDIED

British and French Financial Experts Expected to Meet Secretary Morgenthau on Holiday Visit to Spain and Portugal.

Washington, Sept. 4.—Secretary Morgenthau is trying to arrange a full pleasure trip to Europe, a visit which some believed might place him in a position to discuss stabilization of international exchange.

As outlined following the treasury chief's return from a week-end conference with President Roosevelt at Hyde Park, N.Y., plans indicated he would spend his time travelling in Portugal and Spain.

Observers emphasized that English and French monetary experts might possibly strive to seek him out and discuss stabilization prospects.

Ever since Morgenthau used the Government's $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund to ease a French financial crisis in mid-June, reports have been current that some stabilization developments might be expected during the early months.

Such discussions would embrace no departure from Morgenthau's open-door policy on stabilization, publicly announced last May when he said "the world should know that when it is ready to seek foreign exchange stabilization, Washington will not be an obstacle."

International markets, with Belgium's belga offering occasional exceptions, have been quiet. There has been talk in Washington that major currency stabilization have settled into a "de facto" stabilization which offers possibilities for an actual agreement.

Great Britain, now near the fourth anniversary of suspension of the gold standard, has been reported unwilling to enter currency talk until after elections some expert in the fall.

Both Morgenthau and Secretary of State Hull have emphasized the importance of stabilization in boosting world trade—a major goal of President Roosevelt's tariff reciprocity programme.

A further, but less talked of, domestic motive is found by some in the $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund. With increasing frequency, reports have been heard that the Administration is seeking ways to balance the budget. International stabilization would remove necessity for the fund and it then could be applied to debt retirement. Morgenthau already has spoken of such an eventual use of the money.

ONE OF CRUELEST PERIODS IN HISTORY IS PREDICTED
Outschoorn, South Africa, Sept. 4.—Prime Minister J. B. M. Hertzog said today he believed the world is "beginning a long, and if we must judge from what has gone before, one of the bloodiest and cruelest periods it has ever known."

Addressing the United Party conference, the Prime Minister continued: "I am not going to let myself in to the dispute—Italo-Ethiopian—but I feel that it is not a thing we can regard as just another incident similar to those which have happened in the past. There is a new spirit abroad in the world today. That spirit is not confined to Europe alone, but it is rife in Asia as well."

WOMEN MORE FANATICAL IN PATRIOTISM THAN THE MEN
Addis Ababa, Sept. 4.—Ethiopian women armed with spears, daggers and rifles volunteered as warriors for Emperor Haile Selassie's army today.

More fanatical in their patriotism than the men and completely under the influence of the clergy, the women were not content to serve merely as nurses and munition bearers.

In past wars, in accordance with an old Ethiopian custom, wives of chiefs who went to the front accompanied them as female servants, their duty being to "comfort" their warrior husbands.

MIRIAM'S PRIDE IN HOLLYWOOD SOCIAL SWIM

While his foster mama is achieving fame as one of moviedom's outstanding actresses, Miriam Hopkins' sturdy and going on four, is rapidly becoming one of Hollywood's younger social lions.

Adopted by Miss Hopkins when only ten days old, she was christened Miriam, given by Wesley Ruggles, Jr., son of the screen director.

Two Italian and two Ethiopian representatives might find themselves. These deadlocks developed, Politics entered the discussions and the decision was reached at a final session in Paris which ended yesterday afternoon.

Ethiopian observers acknowledged they had feared the commission might find Ethiopia guilty, inasmuch as the Council at Premier Mussolini's insistence had ruled out any discussion of the ownership of Ussual which they insisted was Ethiopian.

The unanimous decision of the commission reached gave both nations a clean bill of health, awarded no damages and decided neither nation was responsible for subsequent developments growing out of the incident.

CLAIMS REFORMERS WOULD CUT GOVERNMENT REVENUE
Montreal, Sept. 4.—Taxes on luxuries and amusements are sound business for governments, but the source of such revenue should not be wiped out to please reformers, Hon. T. D. Bouchard, Quebec Minister of Municipal Affairs, Trade and Commerce, declared here last night.

Mr. Bouchard was speaking at a banquet tendered him by the Quebec allied theatrical industries, of which he is president.

The theatrical industry should not despair, Mr. Bouchard said. It would be a better times just as ordinary business advanced, in connection with governments aiding in a return to improved conditions, Mr. Bouchard said it was their duty to enact laws to re-establish economic equilibrium within the nation by bringing prices to the level of the purchasing power of the people.

RUSSIA CONTINUES HEAVY SHIPMENTS OF GOLD ORE
Seattle Shipping Officials Predict that Over $10,000,000 Worth of Ore Will Be Treated at U.S. Smelters This Year.

Seattle, Sept. 4.—Continuing the heavy movement of gold ore from Russia to the Tacoma smelter, which has approximated $6,000,000 in the past year, two more ships will arrive this week-end. The Norwegian motorship Bronny and the British steamship Anglo-Peruvian will bring a total of 18,000 tons valued at $1,000,000 the General Steamship Corporation said.

National Government this week. Of the three members of the Canadian delegation to the League, J. H. Woods, of Calgary, Edouard Montpetit, of Montreal, and Miss Winnifred Kidd, of Montreal, not one had ever sat in Parliament or held a responsible public position.

Even if Mr. Bennett could not send a member of the Government, the Liberal leader said, he might have got Sir Robert Borden or Hon. N. W. Rowell to lend their wide experience at such a critical time. The coming meeting might have to pass upon the application of sanctions which would involve Canada in war.

STABILIZATION OF CURRENCIES TO BE STUDIED
British and French Financial Experts Expected to Meet Secretary Morgenthau on Holiday Visit to Spain and Portugal.

Washington, Sept. 4.—Secretary Morgenthau is trying to arrange a full pleasure trip to Europe, a visit which some believed might place him in a position to discuss stabilization of international exchange.

Such discussions would embrace no departure from Morgenthau's open-door policy on stabilization, publicly announced last May when he said "the world should know that when it is ready to seek foreign exchange stabilization, Washington will not be an obstacle."

INTERNATIONAL MARKETS, WITH BELGIUM'S BELGA OFFERING OCCASIONAL EXCEPTIONS, HAVE BEEN QUIET. THERE HAS BEEN TALK IN WASHINGTON THAT MAJOR CURRENCY STABILIZATION HAVE SETTLED INTO A "DE FACTO" STABILIZATION WHICH OFFERS POSSIBILITIES FOR AN ACTUAL AGREEMENT.

GRANADA... STARTING TODAY... Millions Eager to See the Queen of Hollywood! The Glorious Star of "One Night of Love" in Her Second and Greatest Screen Triumph! DRAMATIC MUSICAL ROMANCE! Canada's First Lady Mine Operator Takes Up Reins Laid Down by Her Father. Bienfait, Sask.—In the national aristocracy of business, Miss Jessie Hamilton, demure student of mining detail, occupies a niche among the elite. To prove women's claim to a choice of professions, she stepped from a Manitoba country school into the heart of Saskatchewan's coal fields and emerged Canada's first woman coal mine operator. The hum of hoist engines, each capable of lifting five hundred tons of coal each day, penetrates the trim office she occupies on her vast holdings a few miles west of here. But Miss Hamilton, who stepped into the breach to carry on the work and plans laid by her father, explains it was all a matter of necessity. The training she received before the death of her father, R. L. Hamilton, one of the early pioneers in this coal mining district, stood her in good stead for the career she was to adopt. She is a graduate of Arts of the University of Alberta and also attended the University of Manitoba. For a time she taught school at Mile 214, south of Churchill in northern Manitoba. Keenly efficient Miss Hamilton came to her rank as mining mistress not alone by right of heredity but by a succession of achievements that rank her as a leader in a man's vocation. Since the opening of the mine site, in 1926, there has been a continuous record of such achievements in which the new owner has played no small part. Shortly after opening the new mine, thousands of gallons of water poured in on miners in the workings. Electric pumps were installed capable of pumping out 71,000 gallons each hour. New cutting and shearing machines were employed and other improvements carried out to make the mine one of the leading shaft operations in the field. Miss Hamilton is modest about it all. She does not like the suggestion she is possibly Canada's first woman mine operator. She has sufficient confidence in the men working for her to accept the responsibility and undertake to master detail associated with a sizeable mine. Tell it to fifty thousand in Record Want Ads for a cent a word.

LIFE'S JOURNEY.

Life's a short journey,
When all is said—
A few miles travelled,
And then we're dead.
A few friendships made
Along the way,
Are sometimes shattered
By things we say.
Life's a short journey
When all is said—
Let's make the most of it,
'Ere we're dead!

CIVILIZATION AND THE BIBLE: "THE SECRET OF ENGLAND'S GREATNESS."

No man who has in mind the welfare of his country would willingly see religion die out of the land, nor permit hatred and persecution to spring up in it.

However much he may disapprove of certain doctrines or old practices, he knows that the disappearance of religion would be an incalculable loss.

Whatever its defects or departures the Church stands for that which is highest in life and culture; it symbolizes the ascendancy of the Spiritual over the Material. Though to some it may bring little moral support and lesser love and faith, yet to the greater number it is an inspiration, a solace from worry, and a refuge from harassing care.

What more favourable atmosphere could be found for the cultivation of reverence, love and duty than that which the Church door affords?

There is a strange power in the Church which appeals to all of us in its simplicity and purity and in the percolating power of the Bible. As H. Lefroy Yorke, an impassioned British philosopher, writes clearly: "Those who insist most strongly upon what is called 'the purity of faith' are consciously promoting the evil they wish to avert. History shows that the safe men are the dangerous men. They resist changes until it is too late, and the violent inrush of new ideas sweeps away as in a flood not only the worn-out theories, but some vital beliefs. Heads of schools are alive to this danger, and within recent years meetings have been held at Cambridge and elsewhere to consider how the Bible should be taught in the light of modern criticism."

This same problem comes to us in the guise of the new schools of public economy and political science, but there are too few who give time, thought and study to the existing government of their own country.

Theological creeds no longer take hold of our imagination, nor do they excite our senses in their discussion. The appeal of texts, prophecies and miracles has crumpled away, and we grapple more kindly to questions of humanity, welfare and government. Yet we can never diminish the high regard we hold for the good men who spend their lives in thinking of the people and for them.

For political science there abides in the phrase no thought of the modern politician who thinks not of aught else than politics.

EDITOR'S NOTE BOOK.

All that interests us in the recent visit to Canada of the enigmatic Governor of the Bank of England is whether Canada, in the long run, will pay his travelling expenses through the Bank of Canada.

Directors of the C.N.E. at Toronto added $10,000 to their advertising appropriation. The increased attendance for the first three days more than paid for the additional appropriation. Our "wise old fifty" directors of the Sherbrooke Fair changed the date of their Exhibition and cut down their advertising by one-half. They were surprised that the attendance nearly dropped out of sight the last few days, and would have gone altogether had it not been for the Midway people jumping in to their aid.

The three Senators who messed up the Beauharnois Canal Power scheme may have given a lesson to Canadians, but it is one hard to learn when the glib "polityshun" mesmerizes the Simple John Does on public ownership. There sits the Beauharnois Canal along the shore of the St. Lawrence, standing like a one-armed sailor with a wife in every port. It looks like something the cat dropped in disgust. Yet it is a latent source of great power production. Mr. Sweazy invited too many Senators into his game, and they diluted the water with all the sang froid of those who surround any public utility which makes a noise like money "Thar she stands," producing a fraction of its possible electric units, but a standing proof of too much politics in business—a monumental folly, which no man has the courage to rescue our taxpayers from. We are bleeding, faster than the canal can turn out kilowatts, whilst simpletons like Bouchard would shove us deeper into the slough.

THE COMING FEDERAL ELECTION.

Contributed by J. E. Andrews, Bishopston.
Canada is about to experience the throes of another general election and, judging from the evasive and incipient proclamations issued by the various party leaders, we are about to become subjected to another avalanche of mediocre reasoning, mud-slinging, deception and old-fashioned party braggadocio.

Not one of the announced programmes for the future administration of the affairs of the Dominion Government contains a single syllable of new and exalting thought and intention; not a method of possible reform is mentioned that would mean any amelioration of any sort to the over-burdened taxpayer, those afflicted with unemployment and those suffering from the stagnation of their formerly self-supporting business or trade. Instead, they emphatically indicate division on the old political party lines, a hunger for the mouldy bone of gain, revealing themselves as prehistoric animals ready to become possessed of the savings of others through uncouth manipulation of governmental function.

No mention is made of a scientific attempt to solve the food problem, a present condition that is a satire on our boasted mental ability and so-called civilization that, in a land of abundance such as ours, any should suffer hunger, as they do.

We are sadly troubled by little-souled, short-sighted, greedy aspirants for public office, mere party tools who degrade the prerogative of office, even before they have attained it, by constant effort to debauch the electors through bribes and promises of gain, in exchange for their votes.

But there is another aspect to this matter, this universal corruption which seeps into and debases almost every public administrative function: that is the crooked elector. Just so long as there are crooked voters, for just so long we shall have a crooked government. We get the quality of government that we are collective personally, and we are almost sure to support a man of our own quality and calibre. For real or fancied misconduct while in office we damn the men whom we have elected to represent us, even after we have accepted a bribe for our vote; or we go out and tease our neighbour's last cow out of him at half value, if we can, and then expect that the government should be honest in its conduct of public affairs, that others with whom we deal should be honest with us. Crookedness on our part does not promote honesty in others.

As long as there are ten crooked voters in any constituency, that constituency may have a crooked representative; and it does not take many such men to contaminate with dishonesty a whole parliament; and then the bribe-taker, the crooked voter, reaps—and his children and friends reap—what he sowed.

Electors of Canada! Reformation, like charity, begins at home, with you and I. Maybe there was a time to steal, but it is now time to stop. If and when the depraving politician, or his henchmen, approach you, electors, with any kind of an offer as a bribe, reward or gain in exchange for your vote—speak him without warning. Make him afraid of honest men.

Three years of determined honest conduct on the part of the electors—and honest conduct on their part means not only practising it themselves, but compelling their representatives to become honest in their acts—and a complete resistance to any further submission to nose-rings leadership, and we would have a "straight" government.

Dishonesty does not pay, no matter by whom, when or whatsoever methods it is employed. It is illegal, contrary to moral idealism and perfection, and inevitably leads to confusion and disintegration of system. Consult the annals of old Rome if you wish to know to what end we are hastening.

And the reaping! You and I may escape the reaping if we die soon, but our children! What a pity that we have children—for whom we pretend to have regard—who must reap the crop of depravity that we are sowing to-day; children who will curse the memory of their greed-mad parents who heaped up burdens for them to bear to the limit of their life and then to pass them on to their children.

What of our young men who have not yet become depraved by association with crooked business methods and political charlatans and grafters, strong, eager, well-intentioned, hopeful youth who are still under the influence of good home life, the college teaching, the church, the Boy Scout training; what of them as a saving hope for our wonderful country and the uplift of a sagging civilization?

It is only now, before they enter into the complicated and revolting methods of present day business and politics, that they may become the means of saving us to better conditions and a new hope; tomorrow they may become contaminated, disappointed rebels—another generation of crooks, delaying reform and perpetuating the present unhappy conditions.

Forget the absurd, stultifying party divisions and elect clean, one-party young men and women to pilot the Ship of State into clearer waters in honest effort to make Canada a fit and pleasant land for our children and those with whom they must associate after we are gone.

Let this be clean-up year.

ARTIST-QUEEN FINDS SCOTCH LANDSCAPES LOVELIER THAN DUTCH POLITICAL PICTURE

London, England, September 4.—Painting pretty pictures of Scotch lochs and mountains in the endeavor to forget for the time being such very prosaic things as the gold standard, unemployment and industrial depression, a certain middle-aged, stoutish, pink-faced lady recently mounted her easel in various beauty spots in the east end of Loch Earn in Perthshire. Here, instead of thinking of Dutch cheese, she can sketch Ben Vorlich, one of the great Sir Walter Scott's favorite peaks.

She will need all the rest and quiet she can get for she happens to be wealthy Queen Wilhelmina of Holland, the only real twenty-four-karat woman ruler in the world. And like Queen Victoria, when she rules, she rules. The Dutch found out all about it the other day. Many of them were pleased. Some were not pleased and more may be heard about it when the Dutch Parliament meets early this fall.

Little Holland used to be very well off. With her big East Indian empire of Java, Sumatra and other great islands rich in coffee, rubber, tin and other valuable world commodities, she managed to keep her people at home employed, fairly happy. World depression has hit Holland and her colonies just as it has struck the rest of the world. There is unemployment at home. Industry has been hit hard. The wealth-producing exports from the colonies have diminished.

To battle with all these things, the Premiership of Holland was given to old Hendrikus Colijn, Queen Wilhelmina's favorite statesman.

To form a cabinet in a country like Holland is no easy job. Instead of the two big political parties that America knows and three that Britain has, there is a multiplicity of them in Holland. The lower house of the Christian Historicals got ten, one hundred members. The first election returned twenty-eight Roman Catholics from Holland's "Solid South" twenty-two Socialists, nine Liberals and seven radicals. Of the Protestant parties, the Anti-Revolutionaries of Colijn elected twelve, and the Christian Historicals got ten. It has been the custom to form an extra-party cabinet. That is, the men are chosen from the various parties but without specific coalition of those parties to sustain the cabinet.

Early this year Premier Colijn's policy was at all costs to balance the budget, to keep the money out on the gold standard. To do this he has presented to the Parliament successive waves of bills. One set inflicted more taxes. The others made more cuts in wages and salaries.

Neither the Roman Catholic nor the Socialist party openly advocated a budget increase in unemployment. He said the government had spent hundreds of millions upon the execution of useful public works and proposed to do more of the same. This fall when Parliament meets, he may have a rough ride. Scenery-painting Wilhelmina will also probably come in for some toasting. The Dutch like their Queen, but they are a democratic people and think she has been a bit too domineering. In the first place, when she asked Professor Aalberse to form a cabinet, she circumscribed his activity. In the next place, when he, leader of the biggest party, failed, custom and courtesy required that she should summon M. Alberda, leader of the Socialists, the next strongest party in the Chamber of Deputies. Instead, he was ignored.

Queen Wilhelmina.

leader of the Catholic party, refused to give the government a vote of confidence. Colijn resigned.

Queen Wilhelmina sent for Aalberse to form a cabinet. But she tied his hands by insisting that such a cabinet must be formed upon a wider basis than a mere union of the Catholic and Socialist parties. Aalberse failed. The Queen once more charged Colijn to form a cabinet which he did, including four Catholic members or one more than in his last cabinet.

Colijn, in an address to the country, insisted that his measures, introducing import quotas and subsidizing home agriculture by hundreds of millions of guilders might have been costly to the taxpayers, but had undoubtedly also prevented widespread increase in unemployment. He said the government had spent hundreds of millions upon the execution of useful public works and proposed to do more of the same.

This fall when Parliament meets, he may have a rough ride. Scenery-painting Wilhelmina will also probably come in for some toasting. The Dutch like their Queen, but they are a democratic people and think she has been a bit too domineering. In the first place, when she asked Professor Aalberse to form a cabinet, she circumscribed his activity. In the next place, when he, leader of the biggest party, failed, custom and courtesy required that she should summon M. Alberda, leader of the Socialists, the next strongest party in the Chamber of Deputies. Instead, he was ignored.

WHEN YOU GET THE BLUES.

Grenville Kleiser.
When you get the blues, don't be a weakling and surrender to them. Change from your present set of centered, discouraging thoughts to a high level of constructive thinking. Dwell upon your blessings, your unused abilities, and the golden opportunities that await your earnest effort. Know that you can be master of your moods, and that by substituting hopeful thoughts for erroneous ones you can begin right now to advance towards the goal of useful achievement.

When you get the blues, think of the millions of men who have passed uncashed through deep waters of despair and depression. You can do likewise. Be of good courage and put into action the best resources of your mind and heart. Know that you are equal to every situation and that you can now rise superior to the enemies of your peace and happiness.

Relax Your Body.—When you get the blues, lie down in a quiet room and thoroughly relax. Concentrate on each part of the body in succession, beginning with the feet and legs. Make yourself absolutely limp. Relax the neck muscles. While thoroughly relaxed, recall to your mind some pleasant scene or personal experience and meditate about it. Soon your feeling of depression will have changed to one of cheerfulness.

When you get the blues, realize that every victory over doubt or discouragement will make the next victory easier. Remember that the primary cause of worry, depression, fear and failure is mental. Correct or eliminate everything in your inner life which retards your best progress. Keep a high ideal constantly before you to stimulate your best thoughts into activity. The sources of happiness and nobility are within you. Your character is the product of your habitual thoughts and aspirations. Take full command of your personal powers and use them for worthy purposes.

Divert Your Mind.—When you get the blues, instantly divert your mind. Get busy with some useful work. Read an inspiring book. Mingle with optimistic people. Compel yourself to smile in the very face of adversity. Do everything leisurely. Omit a meal or two. Drink copiously of pure water. Get your mind off yourself by doing something helpful for others. Be a consistent optimist.

When you get the blues, know that they are powerless if you face them fearlessly. Depressing thoughts are often very persistent, and in order to fully overcome them you must be equally persistent, in substituting cheerful and encouraging thoughts. This remedy for discouragement is always successful when faithfully applied. Keep at it, persistently, expectantly, and courageously, and you will win.

Take no anxious thought for the morrow, since God supplies you now with everything essential to your welfare. He speaks to your consciousness, and through this direct channel gives to you an inexhaustible store of spiritual thoughts. Look to Him expectantly for everything. Look upward with a humble desire for guidance. There will come to you a revelation and benediction from the Giver of every good and perfect gift.

If you feel blue,
Think of those
Worse off than you—
Do something, smile,
That will do!

If things seem wrong,
Don't complain
The whole day long—
Do something, hum,
Sing a song!

If down and out,
See new chances
All about—
Do something, laugh,
Don't doubt!

If you feel sick,
Don't grumble,
Despair, nor kick—
Do something, scream,
Heave a brick!

TIDES PROVIDE GREAT FUTURE POWER SOURCE

Designer Pushing Ahead $36,000,000 Project for Harnessing Passamaquoddy Power Despite Numerous Difficulties.

Eastport, Maine, Sept. 4.—Political, engineering and legal difficulties notwithstanding, the $36,000,000 Passamaquoddy Bay tidal power trap moved ponderously today toward the goal envisioned by Dexter P. Cooper, its designer.

Despite inauspicious circumstances favoring its completion, the preliminaries to a vast amount of organization, administrative and technical detail incidental to actual engineering work already is under way.

Political-legal complications have beset the world's largest projected tide power project since Cooper foresaw eleven years ago the possibilities of utilizing twenty-eight foot tides to generate electric energy.

Cooper labored for more than a decade to bring his dream to fruition. His plans encompassing both Maine and Canadian waters, Cooper received a construction corporation charter from the Maine legislature in 1925 and from Canada in 1928. By referendum the people of Maine voted him authority to export his power.

But in 1929 the Dominion declined to renew the Canadian charter and Cooper was forced to resurvey his project to include only U.S. waters. The State Legislature extended his charter in 1933 and Cooper sought a public works appropriation of $47,000,000. It was declined in January, 1934. Reopened at the behest of President Roosevelt, the project finally received the first $10,000,000 of a prospective $36,000,000 allocation of federal funds.

Voluntourous reports of various commissions termed the project socially desirable and technically possible. Cooper was assigned as consulting engineer, to seek markets for Quoddy's surplus power.

The rising ocean tide, pouring through a headrace and turbines, was expected to create 166,670 kilowatt-amperes in a north power station. Meanwhile, part of this power would be used to pump water into a vast reservoir near Haycock Harbor, southwest of Eastport. As the tide fell away, the north power plant would cease generation and the water in Cogscook Bay run out through gates.

Six dams, varying in length up to approximately 2,700 feet and in height to perhaps 170 feet from bedrock, and twelve to fifteen smaller dams and levees in addition to various gate locks and a headrace and tailrace were contemplated, Major Philip B. Fleming, army engineer and chief of construction of Quoddy, said.

The depth, base and types of dams, Fleming said, would depend on the bay foundations, yet to be determined by innumerable borings. Both earthfill and rockfill dams were planned.

COWANSVILLE W.C.T.U. HELD BUSY SESSION

Highly Encouraging Reports of Activities of Past Few Months Given at Regular Session of Cowansville W.C.T.U.

Cowansville Sept. 4.—Mrs. Leon Stowe entertained the regular monthly meeting of the local Women's Christian Temperance Union at her home with a good attendance of ladies.

Psalm 19 was read by the president and followed by prayer, after which the minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. E. A. Turner, and adopted.

The president then thanked the members and friends of the W.C.T.U., who contributed so freely to the food sale which took place a few days previously at the United Church parlors and which netted the amount of $13.50 to the treasury, part of which was voted sent to the county treasury for temperance study course work which is to be carried on again in Missisquoi and Shefford counties this year.

A resolution of sympathy in the death of her husband was voted sent to Mrs. Arthur Macfarlane, of West Byome, a former member of Cowansville W.C.T.U.

The Union members are deeply grateful to the friends who have kindly made donations of articles for the comfort bags for sailors on the deep seas, as the Union Ladies made ten bags and they are well filled with the various articles which are useful to sailors, including socks, adhesive tape, writing material, thread, needles, Gospels and other good reading matter, shoe laces, wash cloths, mending wool and many other articles too numerous to mention much of which were supplied by Union members. Each bag and contents are valued at $1.25 so that it makes quite a generous donation to this department of work.

The local campaign work for the eighth national course is to open this month and the Misses Suzy Stowe and Arleen Miner have consented to act as local judges for the examination papers.

Mrs. W. D. Smith and her mother, Mrs. L. D. Phelps kindly offered to entertain the next monthly meeting of the Union at their home.

Mrs. Stowe and her daughter served ice cream, cake and other refreshments.

WORKLESS GIVE CITY NEW LAND SETTLING PLAN

Group of Twenty-One Local Unemployed Seek Aid to Establish Market Gardens—Valuation Roll Protests Referred to Committee.

Unemployment relief and the back-to-the-land movement received attention as the City Council resumed its regular fall and winter sessions last evening. The grumbling was brought to attention by the reading of a letter from a group of twenty-one family heads, who had a total of 116 children, all of whom are now on relief. These men had a back-to-the-land plan and wished to acquire a 100-acre farm which they knew could be secured for about $300. They proposed to purchase this land with funds supplied by the Provincial Government, but as the season was far advanced, no definite action will be done this fall unless the city continued to aid them during the transition period.

Would the city, they asked, provide this aid in the form of a lump sum of about $100 per family, so that they could establish their homes on the soil, not the far north, but on market gardens near the city and bring up their children as self-respecting members of the community? The aldermen appeared to think the idea had some merit, and the City Clerk was instructed to meet the petitioners today and look into the matter in more detail.

Alderman Ross, chairman of the Road Department, called the attention of the Council to the fact that the permanent works program contained in the by-law passed this spring was not being carried out, and that only a few days more work remaining. Some new plan for providing work for the unemployed should be prepared at once, he thought. He suggested that work be resumed on the retaining wall on the east side of the St. Francis River. The river is low now, he said, and the construction of the abutments would provide few problems.

Alderman Bourque had another proposal for providing work. Gas pipes should be laid on newly-opened streets by the unemployed, the customary guarantee from residents along the street of a return of ten per cent. on the cost being lifted in these cases.

Here again the Council was in an agreeable but evasive mood, both questions being referred back for further study.

A number of local taxpayers believe that their property valuations should be reduced. Twenty-three protests were lodged against the valuation roll as at present prepared. In only two cases, that of a property on King street west and one on the Atlantic North-Western Railway, a subsidiary of the Canadian Pacific, and the National Breweries on Wellington street south, was there any change made, the valuations being slightly reduced from last year.

Here again, the Council declined to take a stand. Aldermen Royer, Bourque and Thibault were named a committee to study the protests.

J. A. Poulin will receive $125 for preparing plans and supervising the construction of the bridge stand in Dufresne Park, the recommendation of the Finance Committee to this effect being approved without division. It was also decided that Conway and Conway receive the contract for the workmen's liability insurance for the year 1935 at manual rates and the sum of $172 was ordered paid for the engraving of debentures issued under recent by-laws.

The property owned by the city on Laurier avenue and occupied by two industrial concerns will receive two coats of paint, the tender of A. Ledoux to do the job for $950 being accepted.

Conservative meeting at Waterville, Hon. Sam Gobeil, Sat. eve., Sept. 7th, 8 p.m. D.S.T.

SUNNY LIVING starts at the table

How you feel and how you look depend largely on the foods you eat. The balanced menu provides the "bulk" to prevent common constipation—caused by lack of this essential fiber.

Common constipation frequently causes headaches, loss of appetite and energy. Yet, in most cases, it can be overcome pleasantly and safely by eating a delicious cereal.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a natural food for normal individuals. It furnishes "bulk" in convenient and concentrated form. ALL-BRAN also provides vitamin B and iron.

Isn't this sunny way better than taking patent medicines? Two tablespoons of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases, with each meal. If relief is not obtained, see your doctor.

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal, or use in cooking. Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

KING GEORGE V CHAPTER TO CELEBRATE JUBILEE Holding their opening meeting early in the season to discuss plans for coming activities, members of the King George V Chapter of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire met yesterday afternoon at the MacKinnon Memorial.

The Regent, Mrs. W. E. Loomis presided, and after the usual opening ceremonies the minutes were read by the secretary, Miss May Mitchell, and the financial statements were presented by Miss M. Twose, treasurer. Prior to adjournment an animated discussion took place in regard to the form in which the Chapter would celebrate its Silver Jubilee on November 7th. No definite plans were adopted, but several suggestions will be given serious consideration at the next meeting.

COLONISTS LEAVE FOR JOANNE'S Three colonists left Sherbrooke today bound for Joannes Township, where they will establish their new homes under the Vaurin $10,000, 000 colonization scheme. R. W. S. Nutbrown, secretary-treasurer of the Eastern Township Protestant Colonization Association, accompanied the party as far as Montreal.

The party as far as Montreal. The colonists are a family of several children, and his family will follow him to Joannes after he has settled himself and made the necessary arrangements. This is the first group to leave from the Eastern Townships under the auspices of the Colonization Association, which operates under the Vaurin plan. Applications and enquiries are steadily coming in, however, and it is probable that in the near future another group of settlers will depart.

At present no Crown lands are available in the Eastern Townships. Next year, however, it is probable that land in this district will have been found and the colonists will not have to move north.

WEATHER BROKE THREE RECORDS DURING AUGUST

Last Month Proved Brightest, Warmest and Driest of Any August During Past Twenty-One Years.

August 1935 has established an almost unique place in the weather records, no less than three "firsts" being chalked up during the month. August was blessed with the highest temperature for any August day—ninety-seven; the greatest amount of sunshine for twenty-one years—271.3 hours; and the lowest monthly rainfall—1.36 inches.

The average temperature for the month was 66.14 degrees, or nearly five degrees above the average of 61.24 degrees last year and somewhat above the twenty-one year average of 62.69. The lowest temperature registered during August was thirty-five degrees, compared with a record low of thirty for the month.

The Lennoxville Experimental Farm figures place the average August sunshine at 220.5 hours, or 50.8 hours less than last month. Last year Old Sol made his appearance for 244.6 hours, with August, 1916 proving the darkest month of only 176.5 hours.

The rainfall last month of 1.36 inches was barely a third of the average of 3.73 inches and considerably below last year's August figure of 2.18 inches. August 1917 holds the record for the wettest month with 8.27 inches of rain. The heaviest one day rain last month was .43 inches as against the twenty-one year record of 2.25 inches in August 1916.

GOV.-GENERAL OF BERMUDA AT NORTH HATLEY

General Sir Thomas Astley-Cubitt, Who is Guest of Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson, Much Impressed by First Visit to Canada.

North Hatley, Sept. 4.—This peaceful town resting so serenely on the shores of charming Lake Massawippi, with its picturesque summer homes dotting the tree-covered hillsides rising from each side of the lake, has during the past two days been singularly honored by having within its borders a distinguished visitor in the person of His Excellency General Sir Thomas Astley-Cubitt, K.C.B., C.M.G., D.S.O., Governor-General of Bermuda.

His Excellency, who holds the added honor of being one of the six full Generals in the British army and a distinguished soldier and prominent figure in England, is making his first visit to Canada. He is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Atkinson at their summer home here. Much-travelled and a man of wide experience in many lines of endeavor, Sir Thomas is keenly enthusiastic about Canada and was most favorably impressed with the beauty of Lake Massawippi and the scenery of the Eastern Townships.

A personal friend of Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson, Sir Thomas is leaving North Hatley this afternoon and sails from Montreal tomorrow to resume his governmental duties in Bermuda. Lady Astley-Cubitt, who accompanied her husband on part of his journey, did not come to North Hatley. She is making a longer visit in Canada and the United States and remained on the Pacific Coast.

Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson, whose permanent home is in Atlanta, Georgia, maintain a winter home in Bermuda, and it was indeed a pleasure for them to receive Sir Thomas at their charming Canadian home where they have spent the past thirty-six summers.

MARRIAGES

HEATH-BROCK Stanstead, September 4.—A very quiet wedding was solemnized at the Anglican Church, Ayer's Cliff, August 17 when Marjorie Agnes Brock was united in marriage to Oscar Wilcox Heath, Rev. W. W. Smith officiating. Their only attendants were Mrs. John Boucher and Mr. Lawrence Farrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Heath are well and favorably known in Stanstead and are graduates of Bugbee Business College, 1933. After spending two weeks at Lake Park Vt., Mr. and Mrs. Heath will be at home to their friends at Judd's Mills.

HEATH-BROCK Ayer's Cliff, Sept. 4.—A quiet wedding was solemnized at the Anglican Church, Ayer's Cliff, on Saturday, August 17, when Marjorie Agnes Brock, daughter of Mr. Edgar H. Brock and the late Mrs. Brock, of Stanstead, was united in marriage to Oscar Wilcox Heath, son of the late Lyman K. and Blanche Baldwin Heath, of Orleans, Vt.

Rev. W. W. Smith, minister of the Anglican Church, East Hatley, officiated. They were attended by Mrs. John Boucher, matron of honor, and Mr. C. Lawrence Farrow, groomsmen.

Mr. and Mrs. Heath will be at home to their friends at Judd's Mills after September 1.

WHITTIER-WATERHOUSE

Asbestos, Sept. 4.—A very pretty but quiet wedding took place on Wednesday afternoon, August 28, at the Asbestos United Church, when Bessie, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Waterhouse, of Margog, was united in marriage to William J. Whittier, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Whittier, of Cherry River.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in a navy blue ensemble with matching accessories and carried a bouquet of sweet peas. The bride's attendant was her sister-in-law, Mrs. George Waterhouse, as matron of honor, while Mr. Waterhouse acted as best man. The bridal couple left immediately after for a motor trip through the States.

Rev. Mercer officiated at the ceremony.

BARKER-ROLLIT

Cowansville, Sept. 4.—A marriage of great interest to many in this vicinity took place in Ivesville, Saturday, August 24, when Sheila Henrietta, daughter of Rev. Charles and Mrs. Rollit, of Ivesville, and George A. W. Barker, youngest son of the late John J. Barker and Mrs. Barker, of Cowansville, were united in the bonds of matrimony. The bride's father, assisted by her brother, Rev. Dixon Rollit, and Rev. E. S. Barker, of Cowansville, officiated.

This beautiful old church, which had been recently redecorated, was further beautified by quantities of gladioli and other cut flowers for the occasion. The bride, who was charmingly gowned in white satin with long veil arranged in coronet style and carrying a bouquet of roses, entered the church on the arm of her elder brother, Mr. J. Rollit, while the organist played the Lohengrin Bridal Chorus.

The bride was attended by her sister, Hannah, as maid of honor, and four nieces as flower girls. The groom was supported by his friend, Mr. Van Vliet.

A conclusion of the ceremony a reception was held on the lawn of the rectory. A more beautiful setting for such an occasion could hardly be imagined than the quaint old church and rectory with spacious lawn, bordered with bright flowers and nesting on the edge of a grove of trees of many varieties. After the reception Mr. and Mrs.

Social and Personal

Mr. E. E. Spafford, of East Broughton, is a visitor in town today.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Miller and their son, Master Stewart, who have been holidaying at Lake of the Mountains and at Lac-des-Québec, returned home to Sherbrooke last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Vosburg, of New York, are the guests for two weeks of Mr. and Mrs. William Munro, Lennoxville, and during their stay are renewing old acquaintances here and in Clareville, Que.

Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Thomson have returned from Kingston and Toronto, where the latter has been visiting relatives for the past two weeks. Mr. Thomson motoring up for Labor Day to accompany her home to Sherbrooke. They were accompanied by Miss Kathleen Dennis, who was a guest of friends in Toronto for her two weeks' holiday.

NEWLY-DISCOVERED ISLAND FOUND IN POLAR REGION

Group of Explorers Hoist Red Banner and Claim Land in Name of Soviet Union.

Moscow, Sept. 4.—A group of explorers reported today they had landed on the icebreaker Sadko on a newly-discovered island in the Polar regions, planted a Red banner and claimed the land in the name of the Soviet Union.

The landing was effected the night of September 1, a wireless message from the ship said last night. The explorers, equipped with dog teams, intended to try to penetrate inland and take photographs. The newly-discovered island is in a previously unexplored region east of Franz Josef Land.

Barker left on a motor trip and on their return will take up their residence on William street in the house recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Nunn. About one hundred and fifty guests were present. The gifts were numerous and very beautiful.

The bride wore a very costume of navy blue crepe with hat and accessories to match. All join in wishing the young couple very many years of joy and prosperity.

FELS-BUCHANAN

Parham, Ont., Sept. 4.—An interesting wedding took place at a high noon, Wednesday, August 21st, at "Birchcrest," the Topping summer home at Eagle Lake, Parham, Ont., when Miss Alene Buchanan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Buchanan, of Sioux City, Iowa, and Mr. Edwin Fels, also of Sioux City, were united in marriage.

The ceremony was performed by Dr. N. B. Topping, grandfather of the bride, who has reached the venerable age of eighty-six years, and who still enjoys excellent health.

The bridal couple stood beneath an arch of willow branches and were supported by Miss Bessie and Mr. Borden Buchanan, twin brother and sister of the bride, while Miss Isabel Ross, of Lennoxville, Que., and Miss Marjorie Smith, of Smith Falls, Ont., the cousins of the bride, acted as flower-girls.

The bride is a graduate of Morningside College, Sioux City, and member of the Alpha Sigma Sorority. Mr. Fels is connected with the Standard Oil Company.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held on the grounds followed by luncheon. The toast to the bride and groom was proposed by Mr. Coral Ross, of Lennoxville, Que. Mr. Fels ably responded.

Mr. and Mrs. Fels left by motor amidst a shower of rice and confetti for their future home in Sioux City, visiting Niagara Falls and other places of interest en route.

Those from a distance attending the wedding were Mrs. Norman Buchanan, mother of the bride, Miss Katherine Buchanan, B.A., Miss Bessie and Mr. Borden Buchanan, students at Morningside College, all of Sioux City, Iowa. Mrs. Gordon Smith and daughter, Marjorie, of Smith Falls, Ont., Mrs. Donald Ross, Mr. Coral Ross and the Misses Erma and Isabel Ross, of Lennoxville, Que., and Dr. Topping, of Parham, Ont., who has many old friends in the Eastern Townships, having been stationed in Leeds Village a number of years ago.

The bride has visited the Eastern Townships on several occasions as guest of her aunt, Mrs. Donald Ross, of Lennoxville, Que.

"Poor man," said the sympathetic lady visitor. "I expect you'll be glad when your time is up, won't you?" "No, ma'am, not particularly," replied the prisoner. "I'm here for life."

Mr. and Mrs. Hilaire Roussie, of Washington, D.C., are guests for a week of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hawkins, Fulton avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Wels and Miss Elsie Welsh, Queen street, returned last night from Old Orchard Beach, Maine, where they have been holidaying for two weeks.

The many friends of Mr. John H. Winget, Johnston avenue, will be sorry to hear that he is still very ill at the Hotel Dieu Hospital, where he has been a patient for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Caunter and Master Ralph, accompanied by Mrs. R. Barry and Mr. Norris McGee, motored to Mystic recently to spend the day with Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McGee.

Mrs. R. G. Milford and the Misses Milford, "Ferminehurst," Howard avenue, who have spent the past few months at their summer home at Little Lake Magog, are returning this evening to take up residence at their Sherbrooke home.

Mrs. W. Frank Norcross carried off the class "A" honors in the weekly golf competition at the Sherbrooke Country Club yesterday, with Mrs. F. A. Baldwin as runner up and Mrs. Oscar Stenson coming first in Class "B."

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Mayhew and son, Kenneth C., left yesterday for their home in Concord, N.H., after spending the holiday week-end visiting relatives and friends in Sherbrooke and Lennoxville.

Mrs. A. E. Cilles has returned to her home on the Belvidere Road, after spending two weeks a guest of her sister, Miss A. K. Wright, in Montreal. During her vacation Mrs. Cilles also visited Mr. and Mrs. Owen Channon at Otterburn Park.

Mr. George M. Wilson, of Lachine, who spent Labor Day and the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Wilson, Victoria street, left last night for Montreal. Miss Mabel Hunter, of Montreal, who was a week-end guest at the same home, has also returned to the metropolis.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin F. Redmond have returned to their home in Hartford, Conn., after visiting the latter's sister, Mrs. J. Harold Shearn, and Mr. Shearn, Wolfe street. During their stay they were also guests of Mr. Thomas Elliott and family, Cambrai street.

Mrs. Robert Newton and Miss Alexandra Newton returned last night from Cap d'Algie, where they spent a week. They were accompanied on the return trip by Miss Margaret Newton, who has been attending the summer school at the University of Montreal for a month at their summer home on the St. Lawrence.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Ross entertained at a most enjoyable dance at their home on Prospect street in honor of Miss Fern Price, of Indian Head, Sask., who has been their house guest for several weeks. The guests included the members of the St. Francis Young People's Club.

After dancing had been enjoyed for several hours, the hostess served dainty refreshments, assisted by Mrs. Charles Drummond, Mrs. Arthur Mills, the Misses Celia McLeod, Muriel Hatch, Lorna Ross, Eileen McLeod and Elva Hatch. Prior to dispersing the guests extended a hearty vote of thanks to their genial host and hostess, and wished Miss Price, who is leaving shortly for her western home, a pleasant journey.

Mrs. Gordon Richards entertained at a lovely party last evening at her home on Prospect street in honor of Miss Lillian Brownlow, a popular bride-to-be of the month, who was her bridesmaid a few years ago. Cards were played at five tables, the prizes for bridge being won by Mrs. George Lethrop and Mrs. Jack Grime, the consolation going to Mrs. E. Kennett. The fortunate "500" players were Mrs. H. McIntyre, Mrs. E. Hedge and Mrs. Brown, while Mrs. Ben. Grime was awarded the consolation.

At the conclusion of the game delightful refreshments were served, the hostess' sisters-in-law, the Misses Betty and Viola Richards, and her daughter, Joyce, assisting.

During the evening the guest of honor was generously "showered" with jam and pickles, the acceptable gifts being presented by little Marjorie Richards, who brought in her beautifully dressed doll in its daintily decorated pink and white carriage, the removal of "dolly" revealing a lovely assortment of delicious preserves for the bride-elect.

LOCAL POLICE HAD BUSY TIME DURING AUGUST

Fifty-Nine Persons Placed Under Arrest by Municipal Bluecoats—Twenty-Four Cases of Drunkenness and Fourteen Violations of Municipal By-Laws.

Municipal bluecoats marched fifty-nine prisoners before Recorder Lionel Forest in Police Court during the month of August, the monthly report issued today by Chief H. O. Camirand indicated. Twenty-four of these prisoners had been arrested for drunkenness, fourteen for violation of municipal by-laws, eleven for vagrancy, six for theft, three for infraction of the Quebec Motor Act and one for indecency.

Twenty-eight of the fifty-nine prisoners paid the fines imposed by the Recorder, while eleven were committed to jail for non-payment of fines. Ten suspended sentences were handed out and ten cases were transferred to the Magistrate's Court.

There were 198 police calls during the month and fifty-seven cases of protection. Twenty-nine doors were found unlocked after closing hours. Thirty-eight lights were reported defective and two dangerous places were noted. Six lost children were found and returned to their parents. Fifty-six loads of wood were delivered to indigent families. Collections for the month included $270 for the Recorder's Court, $84 for rent and $78.10 for scales.

CARDS OF THANKS

We the undersigned, through the medium of the Record, wish to thank all the friends and neighbors who in any way helped or otherwise assisted us during the bereavement through which we have just passed in the loss of our kind and loving wife and mother, we especially wish to thank Mrs. Myers for her singing; also the bearers and all those who were so liberal with their automobiles and flowers.

LONGTIN BEAT RAINVILLE IN CLOSE BATTLE

Victory in Canadian Tennis Club Final Last Night Gave Longtin Two-to-One Edge Over Canada's No. 1 Ranking Player in Three Meetings This Summer.

Montreal, Sept. 4.—After a grim, see-saw battle which lasted three hours, Roland Longtin last night defeated Marcel Rainville, Canada's No. 1 ranking player, in the final of the Canadian Tennis Club's invitation tournament.

The victory gave Longtin a two-to-one edge in the three meetings of the French-Canadian ace here this season. Rainville crushed Longtin in the Montreal Cup event and was in turn swept aside by the latter in the Verdun Tennis Club final.

The battle was not as one-sided as both previous meetings of the pair. It was not until after the twentieth game of the fourth set—when Rainville took cramps in his right hand—that Longtin was assured of victory. Through that set Rainville fought gamely, but in the last two games he was scarcely able to hold his racket.

Longtin began poorly with his opponent setting the pace from the outset. He made many brilliant placements but a plethora of nets and outs cost him the set, Rainville maintained the same steady pace in the second set, but Longtin tightened up to cut down his percentage of errors. He broke Rainville's service in the eighth game and won his own delivery to square the count.

Driving deeply to minimize the effect of Longtin's expert cross-court shots, Rainville swept into a four-one lead in the beginning of the third set. Then Longtin, handling the ball smartly in rushes to the net, took three games to tie the score. The count mounted slowly to six-all when Longtin, with sharply angled forehand shots, broke through and then followed up the advantage to win the set.

Longtin maintained his accurate placing to take the lead in the fourth set and held the edge at five-three. But Rainville, refusing to admit defeat, fought back strongly and won the decisive game to take the lead at six-five. Longtin won the next two tilts to force ahead at seven-six and again Rainville came back to assume an eight-seven advantage.

In the sixteenth game Rainville reached set point, but lost the advantage. Again the score mounted as Longtin rallied. At ten-nine Longtin had match point and lost it. After the next two games Rainville's hand cramped and, after holding out to win one game, lost the next two as Longtin took the set and match, winning the final point on a service ace.

RAIN AGAIN CAUSED DELAY IN PLAY AT FOREST HILLS Forest Hills, N.Y., Sept. 4.—The world's best or the world's best-worst player as he has been called by some United States professional experts, Fred J. Perry, of England, definitely has one virtue that no other player in the fifty-four men's American singles tennis championship can claim. It is consistency.

At times Perry does turn in an indifferent performance, but not when anything is at stake. He was not too impressive in his early matches, but the class of his exhibition in trouncing Frankie Parker, fourth ranking American, dissipated any notion that the defending champion is going to take undue chances.

Perry's next opponent is Frank Shields, number three on the United States list. They will meet in the quarter-finals, but he will take more than Shields' booming service to upset the brilliant Englishman.

The one player in the home-bred ranks considered to have much chance of extending Perry is young Don Budge, of Oakland, Calif., a sensation at Wimbledon this year. Unless he is in rare form, if and when he encounters Perry, it appears the best that can be expected of Budge is to force Perry to an extra set.

As the result of yesterday's rain, which caused the second postponement since the combined men's, women's and veterans' championships started here last Thursday, the men's final now is scheduled for Sunday at the earliest.

WEATHER AGAIN HALTS GIANTS' UPHILL BATTLE

Pluvial Skies Caused Second Postponement of Double-Header with Phillies Yesterday — Montreal Increased Lead Over International League to Five Games.

Dolorous Bill Terry looked up at the black skies, felt the rain falling and bemoaned the turn of events that seemed to him to be dictated by a malicious fate.

The drizzle that brightened the greenward of the Polo Grounds did nothing for Terry but make his outlook blacker. The New York Giants, just one game behind the St. Louis Cardinals on Labor Day, had hoped to sweep a double-header with the Phils, while at the same time wishing ill luck to the Cards, who also were engaged in a double bill with the Pirates.

The Chicago Cubs, only a half game behind the Giants, also will be entertaining at home with the second-division Phils. Boston Braves and Brooklyn Dodgers scheduled to be in the city tomorrow. They form a strong threat to bust right out in front of the present leaders. They are not listed to play a single double-header before they mix with the Giants in a four-game series.

The only bright spot in the coming drive, as far as the Giants are concerned, is that the season closes with the Cards and the Cubs in each other's hair, while the Giants will be engaging Brooklyn and the tail-end Braves. That is bright if the issue has not already been settled.

With the Detroit Tigers drifting further and further away from the pack in the American League the old cry of too great a concentration of power has been sounded again. It was the same cry that went up in the Ruthian heyday of the New York Yankees and it has brought about an early discussion of trades.

With the games rained out in all sectors yesterday, the dopsters sat around and discussed possibilities. It is known that the Yanks intend to trade their outfield and infield with new talent, Washington is preparing to sell or barter and Tom Yawkey, of the Boston Red Sox, has signified his intention of wrapping gold for hitting power. Connie Mack is reported ready to consider cash offers for Higgins and Foxx while Mickey Cochrans may let Walker and Owen go.

The Montreal Royals have hoisted themselves another notch nearer the International League pennant today. They defeated the second-place Buffalo Bisons last night by four to two for their fourth victory against one defeat in their last series with the Herd. The triumph put the Royals five games ahead of Buffalo with each having six games to go.

Two wins over the Toronto Maple Leafs, who they engage in a six-game series, or two losses by the Bisons, who meet the Rochester Red Wings in another half-dozen games, would provide the Royals with the margin necessary for the pennant. Syracuse, virtually tied with Buffalo for second place due to a win over Albany coupled with the Bisons' defeat, is five games behind with only four more to play. They have only a mathematical possibility of drawing even with the winner of the pennant.

Albany closed its home season by losing its one hundredth game of the campaign to the Syracuse Chiefs by four to three.

PIRATES ANNEX LEADERSHIP OF SOCCER LEAGUE

Cowansville Scored Two to One Triumph Over Knowlton Shamrocks to Record Third Straight Victory and Assume Pace-Setting Berth in Brome-Missisquoi League.

Knowlton, Sept. 4.—The Cowansville Pirates are today comfortably entrenched at the top of the Brome-Missisquoi Soccer League standing. A two to one decision over the Knowlton Shamrocks in the first "crucial" fixture on the 1935 schedule provided the Buccaneers with their third straight victory and established them as strong favorites for the championship.

The fans who turned out to watch the important encounter on the Brome Lake Duck Farm grounds were rewarded with the best exhibition of football played in the Brome-Missisquoi circuit to date. Fast counter-attacks and strong defensive work featured the engagement and the issue remained in doubt until the final whistle had blown.

The Pirates were obliged to come from behind to maintain their unbeaten record and hand the local entry its first setback. The Shamrocks drew first blood midway through the first half. A lightning-like thrust by the local forwards was climaxed by Davis, the league's top-scorer, booting a wicked shot which Forster was unable to handle.

The setback was a signal for a determined Cowansville offensive which bore fruit as the half-time intermission approached. The visitors kept play inside the Knowlton area and knotted the count when Captain H. Brown won a decision over Goalie Mosley on a penalty kick.

Once in the lead Cowansville reverted to defensive tactics and succeeded in maintaining their slender advantage. Goalie Forster was hard pressed on several occasions as the Shamrocks battled against time in a vain attempt to register the tying marker. Knowlton was awarded a penalty kick, but Forster handled it neatly and the Shamrocks' danger was temporarily averted. A few moments later Forster was rushed and went down under a horde of opponents and team-mates, but he again prevented the oval from crossing the goal-mouth.

The highlights of the game, which was capably handled by J. Martin, of Farnham Glen, included Forster's brilliant netting; the formidable defensive furnished by Knowlton's Brown brothers in the manner of which Johnston, of Cowansville, and Bowbrick, of Knowlton, broke up dangerous rushes, and the general effectiveness of both forward lines.

The teams lined up as follows: Cowansville goal Mosley. L. fullback G. Brown. R. fullback C. Brown. I. half Robinson. Oleson. C. half Bowbrick. B. Forster. R. half D. Hindle. Moore. L. outside Corfield. Perkins. I. inside Davies. H. Brown. Centre Westcott. McCrum. R. inside Evans. Baker. I. inside S. Hindle.

The standing of the Brome-Missisquoi League to date is: P. W. L. F. A. P. Cowansville . . . 3 3 0 9 1 6 Knowlton . . . 3 2 1 3 3 4 Iron Hill . . . 0 0 0 0 0 0 West Brome . . . 2 0 2 1 10 0 Farnham Glen . . . 2 0 2 0 9 0

With the opening of the rugby season approaching rapidly the local followers of the pigskin are making plans for this autumn's activities. IRISH VICTORY CHANGES LOCAL SOFTBALL RACE

St. Pat's Handed Julius Kayser Second Defeat of Season Last Night to Tighten Race for Sherbrooke Softball League Play-Off Berths.

St. Pat's today claimed some of the Sherbrooke Softball League bouquets as they rested after doing their bit towards making the fight for the play-off berths closer and more interesting. Last night the Irishmen accomplished a feat which only one other team in the circuit—Paton's—has been able to achieve to date—defeat the formidable Julius Kayser entry. They took the Kleinmen into camp by a score of eight to two and created a merry scramble in the race for positions in the post-season series.

Taking full advantage of the errors committed by an infield which has completely collapsed after winning nine of its first ten scheduled fixtures, St. Pat's scored in every one of the five innings played on the Rand diamond last evening. The Irishmen themselves played faultless ball behind Johnny Hibbard's five hit pitching and in only two frames were the Kayserites able to cross the plate.

Emile Houde, the league's leading hurler, yielded six singles and a double as he was charged with his second defeat in the last three games. He struck out five opponents and walked an equal number, three of whom toured the bases and scored. Hibbard issued two passes and of the five safeties he allowed two were triples by Hec Asselin and Gerry Blanchard. The only extra-base blow in the winning aggregation's collection was "Annie" Choquette's two-bagger.

An error, a base on balls, a single and an infield out sent St. Pat's away to a two-run lead in the initial frame. Maurice Parsons singled to open the second stanza and Choquette brought him home with his double to increase the Green Shirts' margin to three points. Two singles, two free tickets to first and an error accounted for three more tallies in the first half of the third chapter, while single points were chalked up in both the fourth and fifth rounds on a combination of Houde's wildness, two hits and additional misplays.

The Kayserites scored in both the third and fourth frames, Asselin and Blanchard clouting their three-baggers with a team mate on base. The final analysis revealed that the Kayserites had left five runners stranded on the paths, while St. Pat's had failed to bring home eight mates.

The score by innings in last night's game was: St. Pat's . . . 2 13 11-3 Kayser . . . 0 01 10-2 The line-up follows: St. Pat's—Kandalfat, Roy, Hibbard, Flinn, Kirby, Corcoran, Jackson, Parsons, Choquette, Boisvert and Bosse. Kayser—Courchesne, Drapeau, Asselin, Chartier, Latulippe, Pinard, Dion, Blanchard, McLeod and Houde.

It was learned this morning that the Blas entry had been allowed to drop out of the league although they still have five games on their schedule. As a result two victories have been added to the Lennoxville record, while single triumphs have been tacked to the Kayser, Paton's and St. Pat's win columns.

Accordingly the league standing to date is: P. W. L. F. A. P. Kayser . . . 12 10 2 79 47 25 Paton's . . . 12 9 3 72 50 18 Lennoxville . . . 12 8 4 53 45 16 The Canards . . . 11 6 5 71 62 12 Granes . . . 11 6 5 46 47 12 Mitchell's . . . 10 5 5 66 63 10 Blair . . . 12 10 31 65 4 4 Rands . . . 14 1 13 35 75 2

PLANS BEING DISCUSSED FOR LOCAL RUGBY TEAM With the opening of the rugby season approaching rapidly the local followers of the pigskin are making plans for this autumn's activities. BRITISH RACER FINALLY GAINS HIS OBJECTIVE

Correction of Error in Subtraction Last Night Revealed that Sir Malcolm Campbell Has Established New Land Record of 301.1292 Miles an Hour.

Salt Lake City, Sept. 4.—Sir Malcolm Campbell and his Bluebird racer were poised today for a triumphant return to England with a record—finally computed correctly—of 301.1292 miles an hour on land. A "silly mistake"—the words were "Sir Malcolm"—kept the "human bullet" for hours in the belief he had failed on the Bonneville salt flats to achieve his dream of a mile in twelve seconds.

The fact he had bettered his previous record of 276.816 miles an hour by more than twenty-three miles, as originally figured by the timers, brought only a wry face and a declaration he would have to "go through it all again on Thursday." It was far into the night before officials of the American Automobile Association sent word hurriedly to the intrepid driver, with many apologies, that they had made a mistake.

The announcement brought from Campbell the declaration he was "delighted," but the news was rather in the form of an anticlimax. He altered previous plans to try again tomorrow and ordered the six-ton, 2,500-horsepower Bluebird prepared for shipment. He will embark at New York on September 12, with "The Old Lady," as he calls his racer, probably on board the same ship, the Majestic.

The error came on the return run, after Campbell had flashed northward across the gleaming salt plain at 304.311 miles an hour and brought his huge racer to a safe stop despite a blown front tire. Timers first computed his south-bound mile at 295.569 miles an hour for an average of 290.875 miles. A later check of the electrically marked tape showed the return mile was run in 12.03 seconds, instead of the 12.13 seconds—or 298.013 miles per hour originally announced, which accounted for the increased average finally credited. The tape, it was said, showed the error of 10-100th of a second in subtraction.

Just as the morning sun mouthed the heavens Sir Malcolm roared his mechanical monster down the 900-foot wide stretch, centred by its black line oiled into the surface. Like a black ball it appeared on the western horizon and then flashed over the measured mile. Just as he started the measured mile flags death stared him in the face. The left front tire blew out with a noise like a rifle crack.

Campbell was going at a 300-mile-an-hour clip. The big machine swerved slightly off the guide line. A quick twist of the wheel and the Bluebird was under control, again travelling true on the course. Campbell then slowed his car down to a halt.

Sir Malcolm betrayed no concern. His chief worry was the necessity of a quick change of tires for the return spin necessary to compute an average and a new record. The rule for record attempts of this kind permit only an hour for the two runs.

Eight minutes were left of the important hour when Campbell gave his Bluebird the gun on the return dash. His approach to the measured mile on this trip was five and a half miles. The blowout had caused him to stop a half-mile short of the eastern terminus of the graded track.

Campbell indicated in an interview last night that he intends to view last night's stand at least until someone else beats it. Then he may try again.

REALIZES LIFE'S DREAM

Sir Malcolm Campbell, noted British racer, who drove his Bluebird to a new land record over Utah's salt plains yesterday. Campbell was credited with a mark of 301.1292 miles per hour last night after an earlier estimate had credited him with 299.875 miles an hour. The fifty-year-old "human bullet" is now satisfied and will not make another attempt unless someone else breaks yesterday's mark.

LONELY ISLAND DESCRIBED BY TRAVELLER

Tristan Da Cunha's Population of 160 Described as "Grown-Up Children" Who Live Healthily on Simple Diet.

Port of Spain, Trinidad, Sept. 4.—The "grown-up children" on Tristan Da Cunha, "world's loneliest island," have little variety in diet and in consequence, apparently, enjoy good health, according to an interview here with Sir Montague Burton, who was aboard the C.P.S. Empress of Australia when that liner dropped anchor off the little island and supplied provisions for the colony, who sometimes remains out of communication with the outside world for more than a year.

Unable to read or write, and with immature minds, the island folk are very similar to the "poor whites" in South Africa, said Sir Montague. Potatoes were practically their only crop.

"For breakfast they usually have potatoes in the jacket," he said. "For lunch they have potatoes and fish, and for supper, potatoes and milk."

Although the existence of money in the island is unknown, it is not a socialistic state, for the more energetic can fence in a bigger patch and produce more potatoes, and he who neglects his potato patch cannot expect any consideration from others. He must work or starve.

"They are an industrious and healthy lot, and the fine quality of their teeth has been the subject of scientific investigation. Before long we shall probably have a new slogan, 'potatoes, fish and milk for tough teeth.' This is in direct contradiction to what we have been told by the medical profession vis., to prolong life of one's teeth one has to exist on dog biscuits or something as hard, and to refrain from sloopy, 'rotted-tooth' food."

The island, discovered in 1506, was annexed by the British as a dependency of Cape Colony in 1816. The first inhabitants were William Glass, his wife, two children and two macons. Shipwrecked mariners, colored women from Cape Colony, and British, Dutch, Italian and Asiatic settlers have brought the present population to 160.

SHARP INCREASE SHOWN IN ONTARIO GOLD PRODUCTION

Increased Output During First Half of Year Attributed to New and Booming Fields in North-Western Parts of Province.

Toronto, September 4.—Increased production of gold in Ontario during the first six months of 1935 over the same period last year is credited by Ontario's Department of Mines to the new and booming fields in north-western Ontario, notably the Jelliffe area containing Little Long Lac.

Total gold produced from all sources in the first half of the year was 1,052,639 fine ounces, compared with 1,040,222 fine ounces in the first six months of 1934. The output increased in its actual world value from $36,626,316 to $36,882,698.

Nickel production increased from 63,315,706 pounds to 63,963,301 and in value from $15,016,662 to $16,071,186. Value of copper production was estimated at $8,148,656 this year compared with $7,585,370 in the first half of 1934. There was an increase in production by 19,949,299 pounds to 112,598,884.

Silver production was lower, but was actually higher in value. In the 1934 period, 2,642,037 ounces were worth $1,170,320 and this year 2,335,335 ounces were valued at $2,351,332.

A Liverpool school teacher is said to have asked her class to name the twelve greatest men in the world. One boy wrote: The Everton football team. 11 Charlie Chaplin. . . . . 12

Java Is Found To Be Country Minus Poverty

Lady Baden-Powell Greatly Impressed by Conditions She Found Existing in Java, the Netherlands Possession in Indian Ocean.

Of all the countries visited by Lord and Lady Baden-Powell, Chief Scout and Chief Guide, during their world tour, the one which stood out in Lady Baden-Powell's memory, she told a reporter, was Java, the Netherlands possession in the Indian Ocean, with a population of 40,000,000 where no one was in want.

"I might say there is not a poor person in all of Java," Lady Baden-Powell remarked. "Of course, the natives' diet is frugal—a handful of rice and a couple of bananas is sufficient to keep them each day—but we could learn a lot from the attitude of these Eastern people. Their kindness, their friendly spirit and their goodness shine from their eyes. We got a marvellous reception everywhere, but Java stands out in my memory."

Since leaving England last October Lord and Lady Baden-Powell visited Toulon, Gibraltar, Port Said, Aden, Ceylon, Java, "a delightful place called Thursday Island," Australia, New Zealand, which the Chief Guide thought the loveliest country of all—San Francisco, Seattle and cities across Canada, seeing Scouts and Guides at every step.

"The conglomeration of races represented in our ranks—Armenians, Syrians, Greeks, Turks, French, Arabs, Somalis, Indians, Jews and British," Lady Baden-Powell commented, "was no less interesting than the variety of Eastern religions of the Scouts and Guides, Parsis, Brahmans, Mohammedans, Hindus, Tamils, Singhales and Burghers—the last the religion of the Dutch East Indies—all stood side by side in perfect accord, proving that a child is a child the world over with no barriers, hatreds or distrusts to overcome.

"That is the chief aim of the Guide and Scout movement, to cement friendship between the children of all nations so that when they grow up and become the leading women and men of their communities they will be free from any prejudice whatever, whether of race or of religion."

HIGH STANDARD OF NEWSPAPERS IN DOMINIONS

Tribute to Assistance which Press Has Given in Keeping Untarnished Glory of the Crown Paid by President of Newspaper Society.

London, Sept. 4.—Tribute to the high standard maintained by newspapers in the Dominions and colonies and to the assistance which they had given in keeping untarnished the glory of the Crown was paid by Arthur Grime, of Blackpool, the president, at the annual dinner of the Newspaper Society.

Mr. Grime, who was one of the delegates to the Imperial Press Conference in South Africa, said to British critics and newspapers: "Condemn as you like the froth and the fume arising from the acute competition and political acrimony of some of our metropolitan newspapers. But if you judge all newspapers by this standard you do grave injustice to the solid work of the many journals which have steadied public opinion in times of crisis and braced it in times of doubt and difficulty."

"Moreover, you condemn important newspapers in the Dominions which are of inestimable value to the commonwealth. In Canada, in Australia, in New Zealand, in South Africa, and the East are controllers of newspapers who carry their high responsibilities with lofty purpose and unswerving loyalty to the Crown. They are parts of the keystone which helps to keep the commonwealth together."

They had every reason to be thankful for these newspapers, added Mr. Grime, as the British nation had every reason to be thankful for the sanity and high purpose of the newspapers of the New Kingdom.

Mr. Hon. David Lloyd George, former prime minister, who followed, said: "You cannot form opinion from a switchboard in London which controls and colors the lights. That is why I am in favor of an independent provincial press remaining."

turned to Bedford and will spend the coming months with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Saunders, and attend school.

Miss Sutherland, of Lacolle, is attending the Bedford High school and is at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clive Dale.

Dennis Draper who has been visiting his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Currie, in Toronto, has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Baucher, of Montreal, are the guests recently of Mrs. W. A. Shelton.

Miss Jacqueline Fortin left on Wednesday to resume her studies at the Mother House of the Presentation of Mary at St. Hyacinthe.

Miss Eleanor Fortin, who has been the guest of her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Phalen, in Boston, Mass., has returned to Bedford.

SCOTSTOWN IS EN FETE TODAY FOR 1935 FAIR

All Buildings Well Filled and Choice Range of Exhibits Entered to Please Many Visitors Who Will Gather from Far and Wide for This Popular Fair.

Scotstown, Sept. 4.—With one hundred and sixteen exhibitors showing 2,700 different entries, the sixty-seventh annual exhibition of Compton County Agricultural Society Number Two opened here this morning under favorable conditions.

Naturally activity on the grounds up to noon this morning centered chiefly on preliminary work, although judging got away to an early start so that the work might be cleared up in plenty of time before the closing hour tomorrow night.

All departments are well filled and there promises to be keen rivalry for the honors in all sections. Every building is well filled with exhibits and there is no room to spare.

The grounds themselves are spick and span, while the various buildings, which look most inviting, are certain to enjoy their share of patronage as the attendance this afternoon and tomorrow swells to what officials here will be a new all-time record for this popular fair.

The weather promises to be favorable today and tomorrow and the Weather Man is expected to lend kindly co-operation. A gentle breeze was blowing this morning which helped to keep the temperature at a reasonable degree for fair-goers. Visitors to the Scotstown Fair usually find weather conditions much more favorable than is the case at many of the mid-summer fairs, when a hot sun often makes it a trying task to wander about the grounds and in and out of the buildings.

E. A. Wilson, president of the Compton County Agricultural Society Number Two, William Mayhew, vice-president, and G. E. Cowan, secretary-treasurer, were in a most optimistic frame of mind this morning. They looked about with satisfaction everything was in order for the busy two days and they were ready with their Sunday smiles to welcome the many friends from all sections of Compton County and more distant places who would come to sojourn with them during these two memorable days when Scotstown bids welcome to all who tarry within its borders.

The people of Scotstown are now veteran fair organizers. Their experience in this work goes into the distant past. They know what the people want and they have the happy faculty of winning the support and confidence of the exhibitors.

These are two qualities which make for a success fair and there is no reason why the Scotstown 1935 Fair should not go down as one of the most successful ever held by the progressive organization which sponsors it.

A number of distinguished visitors are expected at the grounds this afternoon and tomorrow. The Patrons of the Scotstown Fair are Hon. Jacob Nicol, Hon. Samuel Gobeil, W. J. Duffy, M.L.A., C. French and A. Rousseau. The honorary directors are Rev. J. A. Leblanc, Rev. George Robitaille, Rev. L. Ledoux, Rev. R. E. Parsons, Rev. A. Tremblay, Rev. George Murray, Rev. E. M. W. Templeman and Rev. J. M. Beston.

The directors comprise W. J. Duffy, D. G. Hillis, J. M. MacKenzie, J. D. McRitchie, Percy Sherman, J. Rousseau, H. Brunelle and George McCaskill, Lingwick; Dr. McRae, N. G. Bennett, T. Stokes, W. S. McCaskill, Arthur Hunt, William Mayhew and Clayton Sherman; Bury; N. McLeod, Milan; M. Bourret and J. Gobeil, La Patrie; H. Demers, Notre Dame des Bois; J. A. Blanchette, Chateaufort; William Irving, D. Smith, D. A. Campbell, H. A. Scarth, A. M. McKenzie, W. W. Bowman, E. A. Wilson, William Ladd, Dr. Smith, O. Dumoulin, S. Parsons, P. A. Sherman, M. MacAulay, J. Start, F. Lizotte and W. Murray, all of Scotstown.

Following are the directors in charge of the various departments: Horses: George McCaskill and J. D. McRitchie; cattle: P. A. Sherman, D. Campbell and D. G. Hillis; sheep and swine: D. F. Smith, F. Lizotte and J. M. MacKenzie; dairy products and vegetables: W. Murray; ladies' department: Dr. Smith, H. A. Scarth and Tom Stokes; poultry: William Irving; gate and grand stand: A. M. McKenzie and Joseph Start.

Committees: Executive, E. A. Wilson, William Mayhew, W. W. Bowman, W. J. Duffy, H. A. Scarth and C. E. Sherman; grounds: William Mayhew, F. Lizotte, A. M. McKenzie, W. W. Bowman and N. G. Bennett; printing and advertising: Dr. C. M. Smith, H. A. Scarth, P. A. Sherman, G. F. Cowan and W. J. Duffy; information and reception: W. J. Duffy, P. A. Sherman, W. W. Bowman and A. M. McKenzie; amusement: E. A. Wilson, M. MacAulay, William Ladd, F. Lizotte and N. Bennett.

BROME FAIR IS REGISTERING A GRAND SUCCESS

All Previous Attendance Records Smashed Yesterday as Thousands Attended Brome County Fair — Splendid Livestock Parade.

Brome, Sept. 4.—Thousands of visitors crowded the Fair Grounds here yesterday as officials of the Brome County Agricultural and Horticulture Societies wrote a new attendance record into their books and were obliged to turn away several hundred persons from the grand stand performance owing to lack of accommodation. The attendance for the first two days of the Fair, the seventy-ninth to be held by the Societies, has broken all existing records and the officials and directors are elated over the generous and encouraging response with which their work and efforts have been met.

Many visitors yesterday commented on the high quality of the exhibits which, in many instances, are far superior to those of larger exhibitions. One of the features of the afternoon was the great livestock parade, when a long line of prize stock—that at one time completely circled the half-mile track—moved past the grand stand. Many fine ponies, stallions, mares and colts in halter, as well as carriage horses, led the parade. So big was the parade that the horses had to be led off the track to make way for the cattle. The parade was easily the finest ever witnessed here and elicited much favorable comment from the spectators.

Other attractions of special interest in front of the grand stand included the lady rider class, numerous pony classes, ladies' turnout and boy driver of farm team class. The horse races were also a highlight. Eva Worthy, owned by Dr. R. Veilleux, winning the 2:28 trot in three straight heats, and Volo Ripple, owned by Guy C. Tilloston, carrying off the honors in the 2:20 class, also in straight heats.

Much interest was manifest yesterday in the splendid exhibit of the Brome County Women's Institute in the Main Building. Each branch of Brome County has ten exhibits of handicraft on display, and yesterday the judging was concluded, the Foster branch winning first prize, Abercorn second and East Bolton third.

Among the distinguished visitors to the fair yesterday were Hon. R. McLeod, K.C., Alfred Wood, president and editor of the Sherbrooke Daily Record, H. Grenier, Montreal, travelling passenger agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway; Hon. W. F. Kay, Dr. F. H. Pickett, M.P., and L. A. Giroux, K.C., of Swanton.

Arthur C. Carter, president of the Brome County Agricultural Society, and C. C. Jenne, president of the Horticultural Society, together with Edward Caldwell, secretary-treasurer of the two Societies and the directors, were kept busy yesterday seeing that there was no hitch in the activities and that everything ran smoothly.

The following special prizes were awarded yesterday afternoon: Pony race, boy under 15 years, Winfield, Burrell, Foster; Single Carriage Horse, James Domingue, Iron Hill; Lady Driver, Miss Lillian Barber, Brome; Best Gentleman Rider, Harry Wallace, Knowlton; Pair of Carriage Horses 15-1 and under, Forrest Cousins, Bolton Glen.

Early this morning a large crowd began to stream through the main gate and the third and final day of the Fair was expected to be as successful as the first two performances. Races scheduled for today are the 2:22 pace and trot, the named class and free-for-all.

GREATER CO-OPERATION IN INSURANCE WORK IS URGED

More Rigid Selection of Those to Whom Licences Are Granted Among Suggestions Made at Winnipeg Conference.

Winnipeg, Sept. 4.—A strict uniform licence system for life insurance agents and greater co-operation between the public and insurance companies were suggestions before delegates attending the annual conference of the Association of Superintendents of Insurance of the Provinces of Canada here today.

The individual, the company and other policyholders alike suffered through lapses and terminations, B. Arthur Dugal, of Quebec, declared in contending insurance was "perhaps the world's most valuable service to mankind."

The report of the secretary, R. Leighton Foster, of Toronto, was approved. Major activities of the Association in between annual conferences was concerned chiefly with enactment of legislation recommended at the last annual meeting. The convention was told legislative affairs of all provinces approved without change all statutory amendments recommended at the Saint John meeting of the organization.

DEFAMATION OF JEWISH PEOPLE IS DENOUNCED

Zionist Congress Ends Deliberations by Condemning Germany's Attempts at Weakening Position of Jews in All Countries.

Lucerne, Sept. 4.—Delegates to the nineteenth biennial world Zionist Congress were enroute home today after approving a resolution presented by Dr. Stephen S. Wise, of New York, president of the World Jewish Congress, condemning persecution of Jews in Germany.

"Germany defames the whole Jewish people and their culture in its systematic diffusion of doctrines and theories aimed at weakening the position of Jews in all countries," Rabbi Wise said in presenting his resolution.

"The Zionist Congress, which always has considered defence of Jewish honor its essential duty, protests in the name of the Jewish people against defamation of Jews on racial grounds as contrary to the elemental principles of moral right."

The resolution was approved by a majority of the assembly, but Siegfried Mosel, German delegate, said that while he was convinced the measure was in line with Zionist policy, he felt obliged to vote against it "on general principles."

The long debate was closed last night with the election of a Zionist executive. The only new members on the governing body of the world organization are Rabbi J. L. Fischmann, of Jerusalem, and F. Rottensreich, of Galicia. Louis Lipsky, of New York, was named a delegate to the executive for special missions.

SIR JOHN WAS A MEMBER OF CHURCH CHOIR

Canada's First Prime Minister in His Youth Helped to "Pitch the Tunes" in Anglican Services—Thoroughly Acquainted with Psalms.

Adolphstown, Sept. 4.—How Sir John Macdonald, first prime minister of Canada, in his youth helped to "pitch the tunes" in Anglican services in Napanee, was an activity signifying an accomplishment not brought out by Sir John's biographers, according to W. S. Herrington, librarian of Lennox, who has been delving into newspaper files not generally available.

Sir John had a very close connection with the City of Kingston as well as with the City of Lennox where he first lived after coming from Scotland to Upper Canada with his parents when a youth. A portion of his boyhood days was spent in Adolphstown and in Napanee. Mr. Herrington points out an anecdote was a clerk in a Clark's store.

"An anonymous correspondent of the Napanee Beaver many years ago referred to Sir John A. as a regular attendant at divine service in the old schoolhouse in East Ward, and speaks of his taking a prominent part in pitching the tunes," Mr. Herrington says.

Methodists and Anglicans used to hold their services in this building before any churches were erected in Napanee. The minister in charge of the Napanee parish at the time was Rev. Saitern Givens, who in an address on the laying of the foundation stone of the present St. Mary Magdalene Church some years later stated John A. Macdonald was one of a number of young men who met on week evenings in the schoolhouse to practise the hymns and psalms for the Sunday following.

As Macdonald had been brought up in the Presbyterian atmosphere of Scotland he was thoroughly acquainted with the psalms.

John A. Macdonald was M.P. for Lennox during the first session of the House of Commons after the general election of 1882. He met his first defeat in Kingston in 1878 when the Mackenzie government went to the country and during the session of 1878-1882 he had accented a British Columbia seat in the House.

Sir John did not offer himself in Kingston again until 1887 when he retrieved his seat there. He was re-elected in Kingston in 1891 a few months before his death on June 6.

YOUNG SURVEYOR FACING DEATH ON MOUNTAINSIDE

Rescue Party Frantically Attempting to Reach Youth Trapped on Narrow Ledge Thousand Feet Up Precipitous Mountain Slope.

Calgary, Sept. 4.—Trapped on a ledge high up a mountainside in northern British Columbia, Paul Cardini, a young surveyor, was in danger of death today. Relief efforts were halted by darkness late last night and rescuers will try to reach him again today.

One thousand feet up the mountain and five hundred feet from the summit, young Cardini was held prisoner on a narrow ledge, unable to sit or lie down in a bitter cold northern night with snow swirling around the mountain peak.

Member of a far north mining camp surveying party, Cardini found himself in a position which was difficult to return down the precipitous slope and moved upward 1,000 feet, hoping to get over the top of the mountain and descend by another route. He reached the ledge and found he could neither ascend nor descend.

When his plight became known a rescue party was organized, but darkness came before they could reach the scene.
