World News In Brief

London, May 26.—(Reuters)—Winston Churchill, Britain's wartime leader, was accused in an article in the Soviet News Times today of wanting "to help reaction in Germany."

"He does not of course want a united Germany to play a dominating role," the article said. "He wants this role to be played by Anglo-American imperialism. America and Britain have no use for a united Germany. They want to split up Germany which suits their aim in establishing European and world-wide reaction."

The article concluded: "British diplomacy has often failed to understand political movements on the continent and committed serious blunders. It would be dangerous if she now added new blunders to the old ones."

Jerusalem, May 26.—(P)—The scheduled trial of five Jewish youths, charged with participating in the May 4 raid on Acre prison, was postponed until Wednesday today when the prosecutor said one of the defendants would fail to appear in court.

The five are accused of firing guns and carrying explosives during the raid. If convicted they can be hanged under the Palestine emergency defence regulations.

The defendants are Ben Michaelov, 18, laborer; Nahman Ben Ziterbaum, 18, laborer; Yacoub Ben Joseph Weiss, 23, laborer; Avshalom Eliever Habib, 20, clerk; and Meir Ben Nakar, 21, shoemaker.

All were captured during the raid, which freed more than 200 Arab and Jewish prisoners.

Detroit, May 26.—(P)—Henry Ford II, president of the Ford Motor Company, today appealed to the company's 3,800 striking foremen for "better understanding" in a letter telling "what I think about the situation 'in which we now find ourselves.'"

The statement, issued as an open letter, declared Ford felt the strike was not justified by circumstances. However, he added:

"We agree there is much to be done in clarifying the status of our foremen—particularly in the direction of making them a more effective part of management."

There was no immediate reply from officers of the Independent Foreman's Association of America (F.A.A.), which called the strike Wednesday in a dispute over contract differences.

Foremen at Ford's Rouge, Lincoln and Highland Park are involved in the walkout. F.A.A. officials have predicted the strike will cripple output "possibly" at the beginning of this week.

British Labor Party Again Rebuffs Communist Activity

Margate, Eng., May 26.—(P)—Britain's ruling Labor Party rebuffed Communism and sealed down criticism of Foreign Secretary Bevin's close-to-the-United States foreign policy at the opening of its annual policy-making conference today.

With Prime Minister Attlee and nearly all of his Cabinet attending, the Party Conference defeated by a show of hands a motion to permit Labor party members to join the British-Soviet Society. Opponents of the resolution said the society was dominated by Communists.

The conference also eliminated 19 resolutions, 15 of them critical of Bevin, and substituted on the agenda two composite motions, the most critical of which condemned British policy in Greece and denounced the "Truman Doctrine" of aid to Greece and Turkey. The two substituted motions will be discussed and voted upon later.

The conference withdrew from the agenda resolutions sharply critical of British policy in Palestine. Instead, a composite resolution was submitted reaffirming the Labor view that Jews must have a "national home" and constitute a majority of the population in the Holy Land.

Gives Up To F.B.I. After Dodging Mob

Young Negro in Hands of F.B.I. Following Dramatic Escape from Gang of White Would-Be Lynchers.

Raleigh, N.C., May 26.—(P)—A young negro, who outran almost certain death at the hands of a white lynch mob and then hid without food for 48 hours in the dense pine forests of northwestern North Carolina, was in state prison today after giving himself up to the protective custody of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

In the pre-dawn hours of last Friday morning an armed, masked band of white men seized negro Godwin (Buddy) Bush, 24, from the Northampton county jail in Jackson where he was being held on charges of attempting to rape a young married white woman.

They carried him to one of four waiting automobiles. Bush gambled, wrenched himself free, and fled into the protective darkness. A mob member fired one shot and missed.

Late yesterday, after some 75 law enforcement officers had spent two days combing the woods for Bush, or his body, since no one was certain he had escaped, a Negro preacher called Solicitor Ernest R. Tyler.

Bush was ready to surrender, the preacher said, if Tyler would guarantee he would not be harmed.

Tyler and two F.B.I. agents went to an appointed place and found the negro. They brought him here to the prison last night.

The solicitor would permit no interviews and gave out only the bare facts of the surrender. How-

Amount of United States Currency Individuals May Hold Without Permit Reduced to Ten Dollars to Boost National Economy.

Ottawa, May 26.—(P)—Finance Minister Abbott announced today a change in the foreign exchange control regulations reducing from $100 to $10 the amount of United States currency any Canadian resident may hold or take out of Canada without a travel permit.

Object of the change is to ensure that the United States currency earned in Canada through the tourist traffic will be turned over to the Foreign Exchange Control Board and "thus be available to meet the needs of Canadian economy."

The change will come into effect after a short initial period. In a statement the Minister emphasized that no change was being made in the policy of making "any reasonable amount" of U.S. funds available to Canadian residents for legitimate travel purposes. As in the past, residents would obtain necessary funds and permits for this purpose from the Foreign Exchange Control Board through the banks.

Mr. Abbott also emphasized that the new regulations would not affect the freedom of American tourists to bring funds into Canada or to take home any money not spent during their stay in the Dominion.

Previous regulations had permitted Canadian residents to retain up to $100 in U.S. currency and to use it for travel purposes without the necessity of obtaining a permit. These limits had been proposed when the foreign exchange control legislation was before Parliament and had been put into effect last September for a trial period.

When the regulations were adopted, the statement continued, it was "not contemplated" they would result in any substantial accumulation of U.S. currency in private hands. In practice, however, it had been found that "considerable sums" of the money spent in Canada by American tourists were being held by individuals rather than being sold to their banks in Canada.

Some residents had "taken advantage" of the regulations to acquire and use U.S. currency for unauthorized purposes.

"The purposes of the changes now made is to make sure that U.S. currency earned by Canada through the tourist traffic is turned in to official reserves and is thus available to meet the needs of the Canadian economy," the statement added. "At the same time the ability to retain up to $10 will

Seek Change In Election Of President

Proposed Constitutional Amendment, Now Before Congress, Would Make Electoral College Vote Conform to Popular Vote.

Washington, May 26.—(P)—A move to change the system of electing presidents of the United States gets under way in Congress today.

A House of Representatives judiciary sub-committee has arranged for hearings Wednesday on a proposed amendment to the constitution to make the electoral vote of each state correspond to the popular vote.

Should Congress and then three-fourths of the states approve it, the results of some future elections might be changed.

Sub-committee Chairman John Robison (Rep.-Ky.) told a reporter the amendment also would tend to break up the almost equally solid Republican front in some Northern and Eastern states.

He said it also should result in a bigger turnout of voters because "the vote of every person would count."

Under the present system, voters in each state choose electors who in turn vote for the President. The number of electors is the same as the number of United States Senators and Representatives from the states.

All of New York's 47 electoral votes, for instance, go to the man for whom the majority of the vot-

Claims Loans Used Against U.S. Interest

Wyoming Senator, Who Voted for Loan, Declares British Government Action Menaces Wool and Cotton Trade.

Washington, May 26.—(P)—Senator Joseph O'Mahoney (Dem.-Wyo.) contended today that Great Britain is "using our own loans against us" in a battle for world trade centering around such products as wool and cotton.

The Wyoming Senator, who voted for the $3,750,000,000 British loan when it was approved by the United States Congress a year ago, told a reporter he regards recent action by Parliament as putting an end to private cotton trading.

(Parliament earlier this month passed a bill banning private importation of cotton and closing the Liverpool Cotton Exchange. The bill provides for a government commission to buy the fibre in bulk lots, as was done during the war. England also maintains controls over wool transactions.)

"We are up against a wall of state monopolies in the sale of wool and cotton and any international trade agreement is doomed to failure unless we succeed in getting Great Britain and Russia to agree to a private trading system again," O'Mahoney declared, adding:

"The British are using our own loans against us to finance these operations. The Russians are doing the same thing in the way of operating state monopolies."

Because foreign governments, instead of individuals, do the buying and selling, O'Mahoney said it is important that Congress give the domestic wool industry a guarantee of price support by approving a pending bill which some backers have predicted faces a veto in the form it passed the House of Representatives last week.

O'Mahoney, admittedly fearing the veto, criticized an amendment which in effect would direct the president to increase the tariff on wool any time imports threaten to undercut the support program.

Representative Harold Cooley (Dem.-N.C.) told reporters after the House action that the President would have "no other choice" than to veto the measure if the amendment is finally approved.

His argument has been that such a clause would undermine efforts to reach any general trade agreement at the 18-country conference in Geneva.

Will Clayton, Undersecretary of State for Economic Affairs, has contended the provision would be a blow to the "moral leadership" of the United States in seeking to lower trade barriers at the conference.

Queen Mother's 80th Birthday

Gracious Queen Mother Keeps All Hearts, Wins More Each Day

By NORMAN CRIBBENS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

London, May 26.—(P)—From many parts of the world have come gifts, greetings and tributes to Britain's best-loved woman—stately Queen Mary, who celebrated her 80th birthday today quietly amid the home comforts of Marlborough House.

Despite the luxury at her command, the Queen Mother's choice for a birthday treat was to sit by her radio, listening to a selection of her favorite musical compositions played by 150 handmen of the Brigade of Guards. An enthusiastic listener, she also asked the BBC to revive one of its old-time music broadcasts entitled, "Those Were the Days."

She has become a symbol to her people of the continuing evenness of the British way. Her tongue and umbrella, characteristic of her crown and scepter with which she has led her people through years crowded with great events, crises, sweeping changes and makeshift ideologies. Together, she and they have come through them all unscathed, discovering something new within themselves.

Her place in their affections has been won by years of service. During her 25 years on the Throne beside George V and later, in her semi-retirement in the difficult years since, the Queen Mother's varied and extensive public appearances have endeared her to British subjects everywhere.

She is in every sense a Londoner, cherishing the city's best traditions, associating herself with all phases of its life, following its development with unflinching zeal.

Few characteristic events in the London calendar escape her notice. She visits exhibitions ranging from Oriental ceramics to British industries. She attends theatrical first nights, movies premieres and fragments the opera and ballet. Cinemas showing pictures she's missed or which caught her fancy are likely to find her visiting them.

The fact that her amazing vitality sometimes worries her family makes no difference to the Queen Mother. She lives up to her engagement book. Her public engagements are not perfunctory. She keeps them because she is interested, and because she wouldn't care to be anywhere else.

Throughout the recent cold winter, Queen Mary cancelled but one engagement. That was after she caught a slight chill through insisting on accompanying the King, Queen and Princesses to Portsmouth on their departure to South Africa.

She is a gifted housekeeper, noted for her ability to transform dreary official residences into comfortable homes. She works to a timetable from her rising at 8 a.m. until bedtime—which varies. Spare time is spent in knitting, crocheting and embroidering.

"She misses nothing, knows good workmanship and is never satisfied with shoddy work," said one of her household once.

The Queen Mother has a card index mind, forgets nothing, has an almost infallible gift for names. Her bulky mail is opened by herself and the scribbles notes on their backs before passing them over to her secretary.

Always she is available to members of the Royal family, who live just around the corner in Buckingham Palace. They call on her, too, and her advice is regularly needed, whether it concerns a piece of millinery or the education of the Princesses. She has been dominant in the upbringing of Princess Elizabeth.

Although a younger Queen has succeeded her on the throne, the grand old lady remains in the most popular Queen Mother in British history. She keeps all hearts, wins more each day.

Godbout Asks Quebec Take Ottawa Plan

Charges of Maladministration Made by Liberal Chief During Course of Party Rally at Montmagny.

Montmagny, Que., May 26.—(P)—Adelard Godbout, Provincial Liberal leader, said at a Liberal party rally here yesterday that the opposition he leads in the Quebec Legislative Assembly "small disbelieves during the next session the many scandals of the present Union Nationale administration."

He told to several thousand present at the rally that these "administrative scandals" could be found in all spheres of the present administration. They would be disclosed because "we think it our duty to inform the Province of such disloyal actions."

The rally was the first of a series to be held in the course of the summer months in most of the Province's 91 counties. It was held in the drill hall here under the chairmanship of Jean Lesage, K.C., Liberal Member of Parliament for Montmagny-L'Islet.

Mr. Godbout in a review of the work done during the last session of the Quebec Legislature charged that since 1944 the present government had done nothing to help the province in its relations with the Federal Government and other provinces.

Because of its lack of co-operation with the Dominion Government and its attitude towards the work done during the last session of the Quebec Legislature, financial agreement the Union Nationale has caused the population of Quebec to be deprived of "scores of benefits and moneys which are much needed today."

Financial agreements would be reached with the Federal Government.

Early Resumption Of Coal Mining Operations Planned

Gloucester, N.S., May 26.—(P)—Leaders of 12,000 Maritime mine workers brought the 99-day coal strike to an end today and planned a final meeting with the operators to discuss details on the back-to-work movement as miners waited for colliery whistles to signal re-opening of the pits.

A statement issued last night by President Freeman Jenkins, of United Mine Workers (C.C.L.) district 26, announcing the end of the walkout said "men will return to work as and when the different mines are ready to operate, which, presumably, will be not later than Tuesday."

Miners who return to work this week will have a pay day June 7—the first since they drew wages more than three months ago. But this time they will have earned $1 a day more because the strike settlement provides for raising basic wages from $5.84 to $6.84.

If by December 1st coal production has reached the level set by the company, an additional 40 cents a day will be paid from that date until the contract expires January 31st.

Meanwhile, there was bustle in the long rows of old company houses of a dozen Nova Scotia and New Brunswick colliery towns, and incoiliery yards as well, as both miners and operators got ready for resumption of mining.

Around the pit heads workers were busy sending to underground stables the pit horses which enjoyed a long journey in surface barns. Coal cars were being shunt-

Open Hearing Into Double Ship Slaying

Eighteen-Year-Old California Heiress and Fiance Go on Trial for Slaying of Girl's Parents.

By FRANK FRAWLEY

Sanita Ana, Calif., May 26.—(P)—Heiress Louise Overall and her husky fiance, George Gollum, went to trial today on murder charges stemming from the death of her wealthy parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Overall, aboard their dynamite-blasted yacht March 15.

Only the 18-year-old journalism student and her 21-year-old pre-medical student sweetheart declared their innocence as they spent Sunday in the county jail, she knitting and chatting and he playing checkers with a cellmate.

The dramatic case, which may involve one of the longest trials in years in Southern California, had many elements which intrigued the public since the Saturday night when the Overall power cruiser, Mary E., blew up and sank in Newport Harbor, leaving the shattered bodies of the parents in its twisted hull.

Miss Overall, who attended the University of Southern California, became the sole heir to the $600,000 estate of the Overalls. She and Gollum, a Los Angeles City College student, disclosed a fierce love for each other in letters exchanged in jail, copies of which were published after the prosecution had secretly photographed them.

The sweethearts said they had planned to be married on Louise's 18th birthday, April 30, and for a time declared they would be married in jail, but they were not. They have been jailed since their arrest March 19, four days after the explosion which first was thought to have been caused by gasoline.

Their arrest occurred after the cruiser hulk was raised and in its investigators found 29 sticks of unexploded dynamite attached to a battery and clock. Capt. Thomas McGuff, criminologist of Orange County, where the killings occurred, estimated that three sticks of dynamite had exploded.

The autopsy surgeons told a grand jury, which indicted Gollum and Miss Overall on murder charges, that both Overall and his wife had been beaten about the head, the skulls being fractured, with an instrument such as a ball peen hammer or a pipe length. They agreed that Overall was slugged fatally before the explosion; there was some difference of opinion as to whether Mrs. Overall was dead before the blast. The medical

POISON STOPS CRICKET HORD

Ordinance, Ore., May 26.—(P)—A new poison succeeded Saturday in stemming the tide of mormon crickets that threatened to devastate the grain fields and irrigated farms of this eastern Oregon region.

Officials reported that half the insects which reached a poison trap four miles west of here were killed. Most of the others were groggy, and dying.

The poison was spread by plane and truck as millions of the voracious insects crawled within three miles of this hamlet and began chewing their way through wheat-land in another section.

IN HOLLYWOOD

SUSAN HAYWARD AND HER K. P.

Hollywood, May 26.—Susan Hayward, I'm sorry to report today, does not have K. P., the Universal-International publicity department to the contrary.

Or else Susan wasn't in the mood or else I just wasn't her type.

"Susan," her press agent said over the telephone, "has K. P." "Is it serious?"

"Oh, no," said the agent, "she isn't sick. She has K. P.—kiss power. Come out and try it." So I went out and tried Susan's K. P. on the set of "The Lost Moment," the new Walter Wanger epic.

But as far as I'm concerned, it was a lost hour. Susan didn't put her heart into it, even after Robert Cummings doused me with cologne and gave me a shot of breath sweet. Bob was dunking himself in the stuff just before doing a love scene with Susan.

Susan finally got around to kissing me to prove, as the press agent insisted, that she has K.P. It was just a peck. "A nice motherly kiss," Susan said.

Susan may have K. P. but to me it means kiss paltry. Maybe it was that cologne.

HONEST CHISELER

I've finally met the only honest chiseler in Hollywood.

His name is Thomas Sherbloom. He's an ice carver, the only one in the world, he guesses, who chisels the cold stuff on a full-time basis. Everything from movie stars to mermaids. Half a million pounds of ice a year, 180 masterpieces a month.

"Usually they order swans or nudes," Sherbloom said. "But Hollywood likes tricky things."

Cary Grant and Jimmy Stewart gave a party once. They called up Sherbloom and ordered two men in top hats and shorts, a nude holding an apple and another nude with a real lobster in her hand.

There was a party for Darryl Zanuck, the poplo-playing producer. Sherbloom carved out a fellow with a polo mallet in his hand about to hit a ball. The ball was hollowed out and filled with caviar.

"NO TRICK TO IT"

Sherbloom takes it philosophically.

"I guess," he said, "my art work is something like fame in Hollywood. It doesn't last very long (four to five hours). But it's nice to look at while it lasts."

Sherbloom has been chiseling ice for ten years. Before that he was a sign painter, window decorator and amateur sculptor. He works fast, averaging an hour on each 300-pound masterpiece. But he can carve out a dog or a bear in 10 minutes.

"There's no trick to it," he says. "You just have to know how hard to hit it."

Overheard at the Bocage: "I wonder if RKO will dig up Dillingger to star in 'The Life of Lawrence Tierney.' . . . No truth to those marriage rumors," says Hatie McDaniels. . . . Columbia will re-team Janis Carter and Glenn Ford in a murder-romance as a result of "Framed."

PITCHING HORSESHOES
by Billy Rose

Big Mike, Guest No. 13478 at the State Prison farm, hated flowers. All flowers, from azaleas to zinnias.

Like twenty million somewhat more admirable citizens, he had hay fever. During what he called the "season," he had eyes like an albino's and a nose like a radish. If Mike hadn't been a troublemaker, his request for transfer to a prison in one of the pollen-free states would probably have been approved. But no one around the prison liked Mike.

Least of all, a fellow felon named Willie Barrow. Willie hated Mike like Mike hated flowers. It had to do with a dame in East St. Louis they had both made a pitch for. Mike felt likewise about Willie. The only thing the two uglies had in common was their day-dreams, which featured (a) a prison break, (b) the gal in East St. Louis.

One evening after supper, Mike sidled up to Willie in the prison yard and said, "Did you see what I saw?"

"Yeah," muttered Willie. "The guard didn't count us coming in. Getting sloppy."

"That means," said Mike, "they might not miss a guy until lock-in time."

"Check," said Willie. "If a fellow could hide in the field until after dark, he'd have a good chance of getting away."

"Hide where? The field's as flat as a pool table."

"He could hide in a hole if he could dig one when nobody was looking. . . . Willie caught himself. But it was too late. Mike had heard him."

The next few days, Mike kept an eye on Willie in the field. Willie kept two eyes on Mike. The hole-in-the-ground idea shaped up better and better. If anything, the guard was getting even more careless. The gal in St. Louis seemed almost within touching distance.

In the lima bean patch one morning, Willie said to Mike, "This don't make sense. I watch you and you watch me. That way, neither of us get out. Tell you what. You watch the guard and I'll dig the holes. One in the potato patch for me and one a couple of hundred feet away for you. If the guard comes my way, head him off. Talk to him. Tell him there's bugs on the beans, or something. Just before knock-off time we'll drop in the holes. Leave space to breath and cover yourself with dirt and weeds. When it's dark, we can make a break for it."

Big Mike nodded. "You got a deal."

Just before quitting time, Willie eased over to Mike again. "All set," he whispered. "Your hole is past the cabbages. Right next to that clump of weeds. Get going."

At 6.00, the guard blew his whistle and the convicts single-filed back inside the walls. At 7.00, the big siren began to whine. Searchlights cut through the dusk. An inspection of the laundry, kitchen and workshops turned up no trace of the missing men. It was pretty dark before the guards got around to looking at the flat fields on the farm.

Suddenly, there was a shot, a yell, and another shot.

They carried Big Mike's body into the infirmary. Bits of weeds and dirt were clinging to his clothes and hair. His eyes were swollen, and his nose looked like someone had put a match to it.

"Willie Barrow got away," the guard reported.

"Where'd you flush Mike?" asked the warden.

"Truck garden," said the guard. "Heard a commotion over by the cabbages. Went over and investigated. Big Mike must have seen my flashlight. He started running. I hollered for him to stop. He didn't, and I let him have it."

"What kind of commotion was it?" asked the warden.

"Sneezing," said the guard. "The darnedest sneezing I ever heard. The fool dug himself a hole right in the middle of the ragweed and goldenrod."

Variety Of Acts Seen Last Night At Opening Of Circus

Kiddies and grown-ups alike who journeyed to the Arena last night to see the initial presentation of the Merrick Brothers' Circus were rewarded by a variety of humor, color and breath-taking feats calculated to melt the heart of the most cynical observer.

With a fair-sized crowd on hand to see the performers go through their paces, the program opened in true circus fashion with a band and parade featuring color, clowns and comedy, and proceeded through the widely-diversified acts to the final strains of God Save the King. To attempt to select any particular act and label it the outstanding one of the evening would be unfair to the other performers, all of whom were outstanding. Among the more sensational numbers, however, were the wire-balancing acts of the five Beroniss, the breath-taking flights of trapeze artist Winifred Colleano,

HEAVY FINES ARE IMPOSED ON GAMBLERS

Fines of $100 and costs for a gaming-house keeper and $25 and costs for fifteen found-ins were imposed this morning by Recorder Reoul Gagne, following a raid staged Friday night by municipal police in a downtown house.

Cards were being played when the police broke in and the culprits were immediately taken to headquarters.

Commenting on the incident, Chief of Police Edouard Moreau said that there was no place for gamblers or gambling in Sherbrooke and that the police department would do its utmost to check a sudden rise of gambling activities in this town.

The raid was the fourth staged this year by the department.

BIG SUCCESS GREETED FAIR AT COATICOOK

(Special to the Record)

Coaticook, May 26. — Legionnaires of Coaticook enthusiastically agreed with the Lions that the first annual Coaticook Legion and Lions Club Fair was a roaring success. Ringing down the curtain Saturday night, the co-sponsors of the well-attended event reported gross receipts totalling some $2,700 for the two nights and Saturday afternoon matinee.

General Chairman Cecil F. Ducloux, speaking to the Record Saturday night after the treasurer's report had been made up, stated that after merchandise had been paid for and other expenses of construction, etc., had been taken care of the fair should realize a net take of approximately $1,600.

First night's gross receipts were $1,091.87, while Saturday afternoon and evening reached a gross figure of $1,608.91, said Jack Goodfellow, Fair Treasurer.

Top money makers among the booths were Blankets, which reported a gross take of $426, Unbricalls with $409, and the Double-Double game which took in $409, the latter booth probably taking top honors in net receipts since there was no merchandise to account for. Other booths included Jubilee, "Who's the Winner?", Hams and Chickens, Fruit, Superfine, Candy, a refreshment stand and the Raffie Booth.

Large crowds packed the Armories until the final spins of the wheels at midnight on Saturday. They were a fun-loving and free-spending crowd realizing that all net proceeds are to go towards local charitable works of the two co-sponsoring organizations.

Mrs. Armand Gregoire was the lucky winner in the grand raffie, her ticket being drawn for the grand cash prize of $100 on Saturday night. Other winners in the raffie, during Saturday night's draw for five $5 cash prizes, were: J. L. Heath, of Coaticook; Lorenz Dube, of Coaticook; Miss V. McCrea, of North Hatley; Ronald Sage, of Coaticook; and Robert Sanson, of Coaticook.

Once again the Sherbrooke Record Mystery Man roved among the crowds during the evening and Anson P. Rogers was finally identified after being on the floor for well over an hour. The prize of a one-year subscription to the Record goes to Rev. Sydney A. Meade, Brassett, Gaspé County, Que., a former Coaticook boy.

Following the close of the Fair, members of the Legion and Lions Club were joined by the large number of volunteer assistants who had helped in the various booths in a social hour followed by dancing. Refreshments were served to the tired and thirsty workers who were glad to relax after their strenuous efforts. Everyone agreed that the Fair was a tremendous success and are already looking forward and planning for next year's event.

One distinctive feature of the preparation task of the Coaticook Fair was the foresight and initiative of the sponsors, who erected the booths from a carefully prepared blueprint, all lumber being especially sawn and planed, with no nails used in the construction whatsoever. All joints were bolted, permitting easy erection and dismantling of the booths, which are to be stored away for future fairs. The Legion and Lions deserve plenty of credit for the success of their initial venture, and an even larger and better fair is under study for next year.

PLANS NEARLY COMPLETE FOR ARTS DISPLAY

Entrants in the provincial handicraft exhibition are reminded that their exhibits should be brought to the president of their respective circles and these exhibits forwarded, between May 30 and June 5, at the very latest, to the Belvidere Street Armory, Sherbrooke.

The Women's Institutes of the counties of Sherbrooke, Compton, Richmond and Stanstead, the Circle of Farm Women of Region Number 8, as well as Number 6, and the Diocesan Union of the Catholic Union of Farm Women are all taking part in this exhibition organized by the Sherbrooke Junior Chamber of Commerce, with the collaboration of the provincial handicraft office.

The committee at the head of each of these circles will first sort out the exhibits, then make a list of those sent to the exhibition and send a copy to the secretary in charge of publicity, for the organization committee, Mrs. Bella Kerr, care of the Tribune, 3 Marquette Street, Sherbrooke. Each circle is requested to add to its list of exhibits, their total cost, in order to facilitate any claims in the case of loss or deterioration of the exhibits. It is also asked that precise indication be made as to which articles are for sale and which are for exhibition purposes only. The sale price should be attached to each article, with the name and address of the exhibitor, as well as the circle to which she belongs.

In order to avoid confusion, articles destined for the contest in handicraft style and dolls, submitted by members of a circle, should be sent in different packages from those sent in as exhibits. It is requested that these parcels be well labelled.

To aid the exhibitors, there follows a list of the articles which will be accepted at the exhibition: all woven articles, be they of wool or linen, bedspreads, woolen blankets, comforters, rugs, table cloths, napkins, luncheon sets, drapes, linen for roller towels, linen for serviettes, material for men's or women's suits, woven bonnets, shopping bags, stitched quilts, in short, all articles of the program of local inter-circle or provincial exhibitions, with the exception, however, of needlework.

For publicity reasons, each circle is requested to forward to the secretary in charge of publicity for the organization committee, within the next delay possible, a history of the circle, the number of members, the kind of work accomplished by the members as well as anything of general interest pertaining to the circle. The secretary will also be pleased to accept any photographs of the circle, which will be returned at the close of the exhibition, to the secretary of the circle sending them in.

TO HOLD AUTOMOBILE BLESSING

An automobile blessing ceremony, organized by the Catholic Travellers' Association, will be held at the Exhibition Grounds, on June 8th. Thousands of motorists are expected to attend.

DINNER MARKS ASSOCIATION ANNIVERSARY

About 75 persons gathered at the Social Club, Saturday night, for the supper held in honor of the directors of the Employees' Association of the Canadian Silk Products Ltd., to celebrate the tenth anniversary of the founding of their association.

Guests of honor were A. A. Munster, president of Canadian Silk Products Ltd., Lt.-Col. A. Biron, representing the Honorable Johnny Bourque, Minister of Lands and Forests and of Hydraulic Resources and J. C. Poulin, representing Maurice Gingues, M.P.

Other guests included Romeo Vallee, president of the Quebec Hosiery Association; S. C. Knox, personnel manager of Canadian Silk Products Ltd.; Gaston Vallee, president of Kayser Employees' Association; Andrie Pichette, representing Sheer Silk Hosiery Mills Ltd.; Father L. Poulin, chaplain of the Association and former directors of the association.

After an excellent meal, Lionel Fontaine, sergeant-at-arms of the association, proposed a toast to the future success of the Can. Silk Products Ltd.

The first speaker, J. Charpentier, actual president of the association, thanked the guests of honor for their presence, the former presidents of the association for their good work and announced in wishing that the movement shall carry on with its good work.

Donald McGee, secretary of the association, was the next speaker. He summarized the association's activities of the last decade, emphasizing the splendid harmony between employers and employees—two decades of the same co-operative good will and progress.

A. A. Munster spoke of the amazing world transformation, between the years 1937 and 1947, stating that the good will of relations between employers and employees makes for the freedom of speech, religion and press; by the maintenance of our own decisions, ways of life opposed to communistic ideas, shall we carry on with our democratic way of life, he added.

Lt.-Col. Biron addressed the meeting next, bringing greetings and good wishes from Hon. Johnny Bourque, J. C. Poulin congratulated the association on its tenth anniversary, stating that such bonds of good will strengthened the country's security.

Gaston Vallee, Andrie Pichette and Romeo Vallee spoke successively, congratulating the association on its 10th anniversary and offering their best wishes for the future success of the movement.

Father L. Poulin compared the relations of employer and employee with the relations of husband and wife, stating that the little marital troubles bring closer together the parties in question. Good labor relations bring industrial peace, which results in international peace.

All speakers spoke in French, except Mr. Munster and Mr. McGee, who addressed the meeting in English. The speakers were introduced and thanked by Mr. Fontaine. After the singing of "O Canada," the group departed to attend a soiree at the Vauillon Colony.

J. W. Gregoire Is Re-Elected Blind Institute President

Mr. Wilfrid Gregoire was re-elected president at the annual meeting of the Sherbrooke and E. T. Advisory Committee of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, which was held in the Institute's Sherbrooke office on William Street.

Mr. Gregoire was in the chair for the meeting and among those present were C. G. Bryant, vice-president, B. N. Holtham, K.C., treasurer, Rev. Canon J. N. Codere, Rev. Russell F. Brown, N. L. Amiraud, Miss T. Crawford, Mrs. A. M. Edwards, Mrs. Benoit Vanier, Miss D. Dufresne, home teacher, Miss R. Lessard, Miss A. Gaudet, Dr. J. A. MacDonald, Divisional superintendent, Montreal, R. Paradis, Montreal and Neil Tracy, local field secretary.

After the reading of the minutes of the previous annual meeting, the treasurer submitted his report. Mr. Holtham pointed out that although operations of the local office showed a deficit on the results as follows: finally, no deficit, but a substantial sum from the Institute's working fund still remained in Sherbrooke to be applied against running expenses to balance this situation. The meeting then heard the report of the home teacher, Miss Dufresne and that of the field secretary.

Dr. MacDonald then mentioned with regret the passing of two committee members since the last annual meeting, in the persons of D. V. Elliot and Mrs. Charles Crochetiere. He concluded his remarks with comments on the progress of the local section of the Institute since its inception in 1940.

Election of officers for the coming year then took place, with the results as follows: Honorary president, Mr. Justice J. Dalna Landry, Mr. Justice C. D. White, and the Honorable Senator Jacob Nicol; president, Wilfrid Gregoire; vice-presidents, C. G. Bryant, A. Charpentier and C. W. Dunn; treasurer, B. N. Holtham, K.C.

The Committee for the year was appointed, with the following names appearing on the roster: Gordon Petrie, of Rock Island, who will replace L. F. Tilton, who is retiring because of ill health, E. Theriault, of East Angus, and Mrs. R. C. Winslade, of Sherbrooke.

Father Codere then made touch-

THE QUEEN MOTHER

The eightieth birthday of the Queen Mother gives the Empire an opportunity today to pay tribute to a remarkable woman whose interest in the affairs of her subjects has been unflagging. During two world conflicts she was a leader in the relief of the suffering caused in her native country by enemy action and numerous are the instances when she made personal visits to areas blasted by enemy bomb attacks.

During the quarter of a century in which she shared the throne with her husband, King George V, she proved a living example of all the best qualities of royalty. With the death of King George, she was forced through advancing years to materially curtail her activities, but in the darkest days of the Battle for Britain she refused to seek refuge across the sea and stood with her people in the grim fight against Nazi aggression.

The changing constitutional status of the British Commonwealth places greater stress upon the throne as the connecting link between the scattered parts. Queen Mary did much to strengthen this position, a policy which has been followed by the present monarchs.

THE JAPANESE UNCHANGED

The recent Japanese elections offer little encouragement for those who believed that the United Nations soon might be able to drastically cut their occupation commitments in that country. True, General Douglas MacArthur has done a great job in organizing this defeated nation into some semblance of order and preparing the Japanese people for a new constitution which was patterned along as democratic lines as possible under adverse circumstances. This constitution, worked out under the personal direction of MacArthur and imposed on the Japanese people from above, has been hailed as the most perfectly democratic constitution in the world of enlightenment and justice.

Hopes that the Japanese, who have shown themselves apt pupils in copying Western ideas in so many matters, might quickly learn the principles of democracy have been rudely shattered by the recent voting, which returned to power virtually the same groups which allowed the militarists to abolish freedom in Japan in the 1930's and launch her on two wars of aggression. The Extreme Right gained complete control of the Upper House and 259 of the 466 seats in the Lower House. Thus a reactionary administration, devoted to the old order, appears inevitable.

Recent meetings of the Allied Control Council have been featured by admissions of the existence of passive resistance to the Allied authorities among the Japanese and the Australian Minister of External Affairs, Dr. Evatt, declared that the men responsible for Japanese aggressions have not yet been excluded from political activity.

With the election results confirming these anxieties, it seems certain the time is still far distant when the Allies can consider withdrawing their occupation forces from the country.

GREAT LAKES SHIPPING TOLLS

The movement now underway, especially in the United States, for the imposition of tolls on shipping using the St. Lawrence and Great Lakes canals to make developments self-supporting, deserves serious consideration of both the Canadian and United States governments regardless of the outcome of the further expansion of this inland seaway.

Both nations have invested hundreds of millions of dollars in the construction of canals and the dredging of shallow rivers and lakes upon which they are receiving no financial return. In addition the maintenance and operation costs are the direct burden of the governments without any compensating revenues. In effect, the governments are subsidizing shippers over these inland waterways to the tune of millions of dollars annually, thus giving them an unfair advantage in competing with the railways, who not only have large sums of borrowed money invested upon which they must pay interest, but pay heavy maintenance costs and are also heavy taxpayers to the provinces and the municipalities through which they pass.

Water transportation plays an important part in the development of this continent and it has certain obvious advantages in the movement of bulk commodities such as grain, coal and ore. But, out of fairness to the taxpayers as a whole and to its competitors, lake shipping must be prepared to pay all its own costs and not expect the governments to dig down to the tune of millions of dollars annually to provide it with a cost-free right-of-way.

The situation will become more aggravated if the deep waterway is completed. Foreign shipping will be enabled to penetrate the very heart of the continent, taking freight not only from the railways but from existing Canadian and United States companies without making any contribution for the services they require.

BIG SUBSIDY GRAB WOULD SET UP "CHOSEN INSTRUMENT" AIRLINE

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the second of three articles on government subsidies to the aviation industry.

Effort to change U. S. international aviation policy—substituting a single, U. S. flag "chosen instrument" airline in place of regulated competition among the 15 U. S. companies now certified for overseas flying—represents one of the biggest subsidy grabs ever attempted in Washington.

As disclosed by Civil Aeronautics Board Chairman James M. Landis in testimony before the House Interstate Commerce Committee five—really seven subsidies—are now being sought for this proposed super-dooper airline, topped by a guarantee of 10 per cent profits no matter how bad its service might become or how much it worked against the national interest.

Two bills to create a joint international aviation company, owned by the U. S. airlines, railroads and steamship companies, are now before Congress. They were introduced by Rep. Carl Hinshaw of California in the House, by Senators Owen Brewster of Maine, Pat McCarran of Nevada, and others in the Senate. Pan American Airways is the only U. S. company supporting this legislation. All the other airlines, the President's Air Co-ordinating Committee, State and Commerce Departments are opposing it.

COULD LEAD TO WORLD SUBSIDY RACE

Subsidies which this legislation would provide are these:

1. A construction subsidy. If foreign plane manufacturers could build airplanes cheaper than U. S. manufacturers, the government would have to pay the American flag line the difference out of the U. S. treasury. This would permit the American line to buy its planes as cheap, have no more investment than its foreign competitors.
2. An operating subsidy. If foreign airlines, with cheaper labor, could operate planes and ground crews for less than the American line, the government would pay the difference.
3. An obsolete equipment purchase subsidy. If U. S.-made planes became outmoded—that is, if American manufactured four-engine propeller-driven planes should have to be replaced by British jet-driven planes—the U. S. government would be obligated to take the old planes off the U. S. flag line's hands, so it could buy the newer models. Also, the government would have to put up 75 per cent of the money to buy the new planes.
4. A national interest subsidy. On routes that did not take in enough revenue to cover costs of operation, the government would have to make up the difference if it was considered in the national interest to keep this route going against foreign competition.
5. A foreign subsidy offset subsidy. If a foreign government paid its airline a subsidy, the U. S. government would be required to match the foreign subsidy so as to keep the U. S. flag line in business on an even basis. This could lead to an international subsidy race.
6. A national defense feature subsidy. This could cover a number of things: Building of airports at strategic locations for the peacetime use of the U. S. flag line, maintaining a fleet of transport planes which could be operated by the U. S. flag line as a contract carrier for the armed services.
7. International mail pay subsidy. The U. S. government would be required to pay for carriage of the mail, in addition to guaranteeing the U. S. flag line against other losses. If over a 10-year period the U. S. flag line had averaged more than 10 per cent profit, it would repay one-half of the excess over 10 per cent to the government.

MAXIMUM TAKE FROM PUBLIC TREASURY

In summing up his testimony on this proposed legislation, Chairman Landis declared that it "goes even further than the establishment of a monopoly in destroying all incentives; it even destroys the profit motive itself. . . . The carrier can operate almost without regard to its success in keeping costs low and in attracting patronage. The management will be little concerned with actual airline operations; its main function will be to see that the maximum take is developed from the public treasury."

The Civil Aeronautics Board's contention today is that its present policy of regulated competition, called for by the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, is working and that there is enough traffic in sight to enable all U. S. competing airlines to show a profit without all the heavy subsidies considered necessary for the proposed single, "chosen instrument" carrier. Furthermore, CAB contends that if in the future it is found there is not enough traffic on, say, the North Atlantic route to support three competing carriers, operation certificates can be amended so that the airlines can reap a fair return on their investment.

All certificates for North Atlantic operations were granted for six years from 1946. That is considered a fair period in which to test out the regulated competition, unsubsidized policy. If by 1952 it is found to be unworkable, then will be the time to consider a change in policy.

A LESSON FOR OTTAWA

Press Comment

THE AMERICAN SCENE

By ROSCO DRUMMOND
Chief of the Washington Bureau of The Christian Science Monitor

Washington—Wherever Washington correspondents, politicians, and diplomats gather these days, there are a lot of persons asking a lot of questions about what Henry A. Wallace is up to. And not merely what he is up to, but what he is actually accomplishing, if anything, politically and idea-wise in his current series of press conferences and mass meetings across the country.

Few consider Mr. Wallace a positive political force—that is, a leader who would have any chance whatsoever of winning any kind of national nomination from any present party or winning any national office if he started any kind of a third party.

Few consider that Mr. Wallace's views are the views of any very large section of American popular opinion. There are various groups which are glad to use the former Vice-President for their own ends, and it seems clear that Mr. Wallace is not one who thinks it important to question where much of his support comes from.

But no one is disposed to dismiss Mr. Wallace as a political force who can exert great negative power or minimize the public interest which his appearances and speeches are evoking.

It is the attention Mr. Wallace is receiving at every stop along his speech-making itinerary which interests and puzzles many observers.

Mr. Wallace manifestly is not being neglected by the press, as often has been charged. Substantial national coverage is being given to his trip. From the dispatches of correspondents travelling with him, it is evident that the Cabinet member who broke with President Truman over American policy toward Russia is attracting large audiences. And, what is more, they are paying to listen!

The Baltimore Sun's careful reporter Howard M. Norton, has been sending these reports of Mr. Wallace's reception:

In Cleveland—"A cheering capacity audience of 8,000 in the public Music Hall; more than a thousand were left standing outside." Tickets cost 60 cents to $2.40.

In Chicago—"A frenzied, cheering crowd of more than 20,000 over-flowed the Chicago Stadium." It was a sell-out, and scalpers even did some business at the doors.

In Detroit—"Five thousand Detroiters paid 50 cents to a dollar to hear the former Vice-President, and an overflow crowd of 4,000 heard him through a public-address system in a park across the street."

In Los Angeles—"Twenty-seven thousand tickets" were sold for the mass meeting in Gilmore Stadium. Top price was lifted to $3.60. The proceeds go to the Progressive Citizens of America, a liberal group sponsoring the meetings.

From press reports, this trip takes on all the appearances of political barnstorming. While presidential candidates attract larger crowds, I never have seen a pre-convention campaign tour, even those of Wendell L. Willkie and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, command even non-paying audiences of such size.

Does this mean that Mr. Wallace is more popular and more influential than has appeared heretofore? It probably would be misleading to attempt a dogmatic answer. There are, however, several factors which contribute to an explanation of the interest his speeches are stirring.

For one, there have been very few balanced, understanding, highly regarded voices of criticism raised against the Truman Doctrine, and therefore, Mr. Wallace has pre-empted nearly the whole field of criticism at a time when criticism is genuinely needed. Under these circumstances, the country will wish to listen to Mr. Wallace whether or not it agrees with him—perhaps because it does disagree with him.

Second, there is a great and deep reluctance to accept the role of large world responsibility which the Truman Doctrine has thrust upon the nation, even though that role is inescapable. There are, in consequence, many who are looking for an escape, for some kind of alternative. Mr. Wallace's alternative may not appeal to many persons as workable, but they are ready to listen.

Finally, Mr. Wallace is a political uncertainty and a political threat. He is organized labor's favorite political voice. The labor unions crowd his meetings to give him—and themselves—support and to try to show the Truman Administration that it had better pay attention to the labor vote.

The prevailing political judgment is that while Mr. Wallace could not elect himself or any candidate of his choosing, he could defeat Mr. Truman by starting a third party. He keeps this threat warm by talking about it.

FRENCH-CANADIANS AND THE CIVIL SERVICE

L'Action Catholique (Quebec). It has been argued that if we have not our share in the federal civil service it is because our young people are not interested in this work and do not prepare themselves specially for it. Let us admit that this is true up to a point and let us explain it. It is very encouraging for French-Canadians to prepare for examinations for important positions when the qualifications demanded have been got together precisely for the purpose of eliminating candidates of our language? It even happens that everything is fixed to assure the triumph of the one selected,—when the position has not been specially created for him. . . . The governing people at Ottawa are excused by saying that French-speaking candidates for federal positions are not numerous enough. If that is the case, why are so many of our people turned out in spite of the best recommendations? How does it come that a policy of promotion applies only to English-speaking civil servants? To get ahead our people must speak and act like the English. If they remain themselves they are marked people. To be promoted they must be twice as competent, they must have twice the protection, they must work twice as hard. Is that just?

MUCH-NEEDED REFORM

Le Clairon (St. Hyacinthe). In practice, there are no more than two places in Quebec Province where, on our highway network now undergoing modernization, the native or foreign traveler is stopped by tollgates to make him pay a tribute to ancient customs if he wants to go on his way. These two places are located at the north and west extremities of our most important highway, the Sir Wilfrid Laurier, where it comes into the Victoria and Harbor bridges. The Island of Montreal or which there lives more than a third of the population of our Province and more than a tenth of that of the whole country is isolated from the south shore by the maintenance of a system, both antique and obsolete, for collection tolls at the entrance of the two bridges spanning the Saint Lawrence for those who want to cross it.

CONSERVATIVES LOOK AHEAD

Christian Science Monitor. Americans would be surprised to see the Republican Party declaring itself for public ownership of the national banking system, the railroads, and the coal mines. But Britons, it is safe to say, are not surprised to see the Conservative Party pledging its support to such a program in Britain.

The distinction between the Conservative platform now put forward and the position of the Labor Government is one mainly of degree. For example, the Conservatives will resist nationalization of the steel industry, and would relax controls in road transport and civil aviation.

Moreover, that party would, if returned to power, apply present policies of socialization with a broader brush than that used by the Labor Government. This would mean the laying down of over-all patterns for industry-Government collaboration, leaving details to be worked out between management and workers. It is our opinion that in practice these differences would be more important than they appear on paper. The Conservative program is frankly directed to the slowing down of socialization in Britain and to the restriction of the area in which it will operate.

Frankly, too, the Conservatives ask American support for their point of view. They raise the question of a big new British loan. This action may well be a prelude to behind-the-scenes discussions not only between British and American spokesmen but between British political leaders.

It should be assessed against the background of a copyright report which this newspaper has just published on the long-range possibility of a coalition Government for Britain. A loan to Britain, if obtained through Conservative influence, could be a bargaining point in British politics.

The infiltration of more conservative opinion into the British Government would doubtless be welcomed by strong sections of American opinion. The Conservative platform makes an obvious bid in their direction. But it also seeks to reassure the British worker that a change in the Government will not cost trade union-

ROLE FOR THE PRINCESS

London Times

Every generation makes the British monarchy less potent and more social and representative. It is today above all the mirror in which the people may see their own ideals of life; and in representation there is a part for the Princess Elizabeth to play which is hers alone and is not derived from her elders. She may stand for the aspirations of the men and women of her own age, for everything that is forward-looking, for all the effort that seeks to build afresh, upon the ancient unshakable foundations that our proud history has laid, a finer order and an ampler liberty than even this great free Commonwealth has yet achieved. Youth must go forward into the dark and arduous future with resolve and the readiness for stern endeavor, yet will labor the more fruitfully if it can still see visions and dream dreams. Both for the resolve and for the vision it has been the British way to prefer a human emblem; and today one is offered. "The youth of the nation are the trustees of the future." For young men and women in all the British nation the trust is symbolized by the Heiress-Presumptive to the Throne.

Boycott Is Established Against Ship

S.S. Jupiter—"Ship Without a Port"—Roams Lake Erie as Union Dock Workers Bar All Coal Harbors.

Cleveland, May 26.—(AP)—Union dock workers established a boycott today against the S.S. Jupiter—a "ship without a port"—as the freighter roamed Lake Erie.

Since leaving Detroit and her 24 striking crew members Friday night, the 7,000-ton bulk cargo vessel skirted two Lake Erie ports but did not attempt to dock at either city, Waitzman said.

After touching at Sandusky, O., the Jupiter arrived at Fairport Harbor early yesterday, but left after "hanging around" the harbor, he said, adding that the ship probably would experience difficulties at all ports because of union dock workers' refusal to load the vessel.

Walter C. Secord, vice-president of the Jupiter Steamship Company, operator of the vessel, said the company was in contact with the ship by ship-to-shore telephone, but declined to disclose the carrier's whereabouts. Other sources said it was headed east.

Joshua Lawrence, national director of the N.M.U., filed charges with the United States Coast Guard yesterday contending the Jupiter was unsafe because she was improperly manned. Waitzman estimated the Jupiter carried only three or four unlicensed men, and six officers, but Capt. William T. Kiel of the Detroit Steamship Inspection Service, reported the ship had hired 16 crew members at Sandwich, Ont., after leaving Detroit.

Bush was charged with attempting to rape Mrs. Margaret Allen Bryant, a young stenographer, last Thursday night in Rich Square, a small community in Northampton county 12 miles from Jackson, the county seat.

He was arrested by Rich Square Police Chief Frank Outland and was identified by three high school boys who ran to Mrs. Bryant's rescue when she screamed. Outland said Bush denied any knowledge of the alleged rape attempt.

YOUTH DEAD FOLLOWING FIST-FIGHT

Vancouver, May 26.—(AP)—A 16-year-old youth, tentatively identified by police as David Sherlock, is dead and another teen-aged youth is being held in a juvenile detention home here following a fatal fist-fight in a park last night.

Police said the two boys were walking in the park with their girlfriends when Sherlock and a number of other youths approached them. Witnesses reported the second group started to annoy the foursome. During the ensuing quarrel Sherlock and his companions were asked to leave. When they refused, blows were exchanged and Sherlock fell to the ground.

It is believed he may have struck his head on the base of a fence. He was pronounced dead on arrival at hospital.

How High Is Up?

An idea of the tremendous height to which the Navy's new rocket missile "Neptune" is expected to soar is given by this diagram, comparing its projected flight with altitudes previously attained by various missiles, balloons and planes. Chart was prepared from data obtained by Glenn L. Martin Company, builders of the Neptune, from the Naval Research Laboratory.

SUNSHINE CLUB ADDRESSED BY REV. HUXTABLE

Granby, May 26.—The May meeting of the Sunshine Club was held one evening at the home of Mrs. A. H. Crack, Ottawa Street.

The guest of the evening was Rev. Charles Huxtable, of Montreal, who gave his ever popular "Current Events" talk. In June it will be sixty years since Rev. Mr. Huxtable entered the christian ministry, a record of which to be justly proud.

Other numbers on the program were a piano duet, "Nola" by Mrs. H. Bowker and son, Billy, by special request, "When You and I were Young Maggie," by Mrs. Nell Patterson. An interesting account of this song was given by Mrs. G. Fuller, who, in 1911, was singing of the song. The home of Maggie Clark, the heroine, was situated one mile from the creaking old mill in Glanford Township, a short distance south of Hamilton, Ont., and Maggie is buried in the White Church Cemetery in Glanford. The old saw mill is situated on Twenty Mile Creek and the writer of the poem was George W. Johnston. The original manuscript is owned by Mrs. Padghana, of New York, now in her ninety-sixth year.

Mrs. Patterson's second song was Longfellow's beautiful serenade, "Stars Of A Summer Night." Mrs. Gray read a poem on "Mother's Day" and this was followed by two songs, "Oh Dry Those Tears" and "The Songs My Mother Sang To Me," by Miss Dawn Mitchell. Two other songs were sung by Mr. Billy Bowker, "The Blind Ploughman" and "Power Divine," thus bringing to a close an enjoyable program. Thanks were extended to Rev. Mr. Huxtable and all those taking part.

An interesting letter was read from Mrs. Scott, now in Ireland, in which mention was made of those who had passed on to higher service here and kind sympathy was extended to the bereaved. Kind mention was made of Mrs. Leslie Gallagher, now in a nursing home at 3001 Kent Avenue, Montreal.

A splendid report was given by the two sick callers, Mrs. Viola Smith and Miss Sheila Swebb, showing that the sick and shut-ins had not been neglected.

Mrs. G. I. Blake invited the club to hold its June meeting at her home, 101 St. Charles Street.

Mrs. Crack was assisted in the serving of refreshments by her daughter, Mrs. Dwight Fowler, and Mrs. G. I. Blake.

General Notes

Miss Betty Chapman spent the week-end in Windsor Mills visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Chapman.

Mrs. Lillian Luce, formerly of Granby, but now of Swanton, Vt., spent a day in Granby.

Miss "Buzzie" Buck, of Montreal, spent the week-end at the home of her mother, Mrs. Margaret Buck, Dennison Avenue, while here to attend the Giddings-Brophy wedding.

Miss Mary Holder, of Vancouver, B.C., spent the week-end in Granby with Mrs. Margaret Buck and Miss Buck.

Miss Miriam Gerard spent the week-end in Plessisville, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Girard.

DR. W. ROWELL GIVES ADDRESS TO KIWANIAN

Waterloo, May, 26. — The Waterloo Kiwanians were hosts at their regular weekly meeting to twenty members of the Granby Club in an inter-club meeting on Tuesday evening. Headed by their president, Jules Crevier, and Lieut. Gov. George Dureault. The other members, who attended were Kiwanians Wesley Rowell, vice-president Fred Wallace, secretary Herve Robichaud, Carl Bullock, Walter Legge, Sidney Simons, Owen Lewis, Malcolm Lidstone, William Flannery, Walter Hinkhouse, Dwight Fowler, Clayton Ball, Leo Arel, Jim Leddy, Jim Salisbury, Samuel McLaughlin, Jim Flack and Conliff Savage.

The president of the Waterloo Club, Robert Millichamp, was in charge, assisted by president Jules Crevier, of the Granby Club. The guest speaker on this occasion was Dr. Wesley Rowell, of Granby, an active member of the club. His address was entitled "The Manufacture of Porcelain Teeth" and his opening remarks, based on the supposed history of the origin of false teeth was as interesting as it was amusing.

Dr. Rowell dwelt for some length on the connection of "store" teeth with that of ear-rings, and with the impressive citation of dates and personalities of the B. C. era, the speaker made an immediate impression on the group of over fifty Kiwanians. Ranging his remarks to take in the up to date manner in which porcelain teeth are manufactured, mentioning the materials that go into their manufacture, along with the manner in which they are treated, Dr. Rowell's address met with sincere approval from the group.

President Jules introduced the speaker, and he was in turn thanked by Kiwanian Charles Slack of the Waterloo group. During the course of the meeting, Kiwanian Robert Flood led in the singing of several verses of the "Waterloo Kiwanian Song" that cleverly embraced several members of the visiting club.

Next week's meeting is to take the form of a picnic lunch taken up to the premises of Robinson's Park, at which time a general clean-up by the members will take place of this beautiful spot. The president eagerly sought the full support of all members in this manual undertaking. Vice-President Ben Marchessault announced the progress made in connection with the coming Minstrel Show to be held on Friday evening, May 30, in the Town Hall, at which time the Magog "Cotton Town Coons" will present their show. It is expected that this entertainment will be very well patronized, and it is to be made known that all proceeds derived therefrom will be spent on equipment to be used by the teen age boys in town. It is felt that if the young men in town are presented with supervised activities, that it will benefit them greatly and present them an outlet for their unspent energy. It is the hope of the Kiwanian Club that sufficient money will be realized from the Minstrel Show to allow them to work in an ardent manner to this end. Religion, creed or belief will not keep any young man who is interested in sports activities from belonging to this

"Teen Age Boy's Organization."

THE MOBILE X-RAY CLINIC

The directors of the Waterloo Club wish to announce that during the week of June 9, from Monday morning until Friday night of that week, that a Mobile Clinic will be in town to X-ray all school children and all employees of the several manufacturers in town. These groups will be done according to schedule. It is also announced that at the same time all citizens are urged to take advantage of the opportunity provided by the Kiwanian Club and be X-rayed at the same time. The time required for the entire operation is only a matter of seconds, so no valuable time will be lost at this end.

It is possible to X-ray every citizen of Waterloo during the time the Mobile Clinic will be in town, so any citizen is cordially invited to hand his name to any member of the Kiwanian Club, or to the secretary, George Dubois, whose telephone number is 19. The money derived from the sale of Christmas seals by the Kiwanians will go towards the paying of this medical attention, and once again everyone is requested to co-operate in every way possible. The week of June 9th is the date, and the place of operations will be announced later. Do not neglect your health, have your X-ray plate taken at no expense to yourself.

THE PROTESTANT CEMETERY AFFAIRS

The annual meeting of the Waterloo Protestant Cemetery Company was held on May 14, at 8:00 p. m. The members of the board, who were present at this meeting included the President, F. R. Dalton; F. W. Bockus, vice-president; H. Bird, O. L. Lewis and W. A. Graves, sexton.

It was pointed out at this time that the board had had the roadway through the cemetery tar surfaced last fall, the cost of which was quite heavy, but the improvement made was necessary. It was also announced that the fence around the cemetery needs repairing very badly which also will add greatly to the costs of the treasury.

Lot holders and relatives of the same should bear in mind that the only money received for the upkeep and care of the graves is from the sale of the lots, and the interest from the endowment fund. Therefore contributions will be gladly received. Any remittances may be turned in to the treasurer,

F. R. Dalton; or the secretary, R. J. Graves.

THE YOUNG WOMEN'S GUILD

The Young Women's Guild of St. Luke's met at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Adam, who was assisted as the joint hostesses, Mrs. Muriel Stanhope and Mrs. Geraldine MacIntosh.

A very good attendance was on hand and the president, Mrs. Dora Graves, was in the chair for the business meeting.

A social hour followed and the serving of refreshments brought the meeting to a close.

ST. LUKE'S P. W. A.

The P. W. A. of St. Luke's met at the Church Hall with the president, Mrs. Walter Readshaw, in charge.

A quilt top, which had been donated by Mrs. F. W. Jones, and completed at the home of Mrs. Readshaw, was brought in for sale.

Requests were made for articles for the coming rummage sale, and a good amount was realized from the variety table.

The meeting came to a close with the serving of refreshments by the hostesses, Mrs. Paul Jones and Mrs. N. Grenier.

MILBY

The May meeting of the Milby Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. George McVety with Mrs. John Cox, the co-hostess. The president, Mrs. Charles Graham, occupied the chair and the meeting was opened with the "Salute to the Flag" and the "Club Women's Creed." Mrs. R. Broadhurst and Mrs. George McVety turned in several knitted articles for welfare work. Mrs. R. Sutor reported having sent the fifth parcel overseas. A sick member had been remembered by the W. I. and a small boy in the community is to be remembered. A sale of miscellaneous articles, slips and bulbs was held with Mrs. Charles Graham, the auctioneer. The meeting adjourned and a social hour was enjoyed during which the hostesses served delicious refreshments assisted by Miss Ruth Hamilton and Miss Phyllis Sutor.

Mr. and Mrs. Burns Paige spent a few days visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ross Carter.

Master Walter Winget, of Sand Hill, was a recent guest of Master Bobby Bowers and Miss Ann Bowers.

A discussion was held regarding the "Handicraft Exhibit," which is being sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce in the Belvidere St. Armory, Sherbrooke. Several ladies will exhibit handicraft on this occasion. The president announced that we had been asked to make some small cakes of maple sugar for the veterans in the local hospitals. Mrs. E. Beattie, Mrs. J. Cowan and Mrs. R. Sutor volunteered to make these cakes. Mrs. Clark, of Brompton, had extended an invitation to

Cooperative Mothers

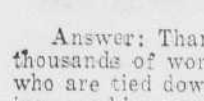

Young Women Rob Domestic Life Of Monotony

Dear Miss Dix: There are four of us young wives and mothers who have formed a Mutual Help Association that is so successful that I want to pass the idea on to other women in our position. Here is how it works out:

As soon as one of us gets in a pinch, the others rally to her assistance. For instance, recently I had an opportunity to attend an affair of civic-minded women. As soon as our club heard of it, one neighbor took over the baby, a second had the two boys go to her house for food, while a third had my little daughter in to play with her youngsters of the same age.

On another occasion, they all came to my rescue when I received a telephone call saying that an out-of-state relative would be in the city for only a brief time and planned to have dinner with me that night. Immediately one of our group took charge of the children, another cleaned up the house from top to bottom, and still another, who is a crackerjack cook, got up a dinner worthy of Lucullus.

We take turns in being baby-sitters when our husbands invite us to step out on an evening. And so we rob domestic life of much of its drabness and monotony.

DOROTHY DIX

MRS. G. E. C.

Answer: Thanks for your plan, Mrs. G. E. C., and I hope that thousands of women will try it out. For certainly the young women who are tied down to a never-ending grind of changing babies, cooking, washing and cleaning, need some sort of alleviation of their lot. And perhaps the answer to their problem is co-operation.

Gone forever are the good old days when there were faithful servants at prices that even people on very modest salaries could pay. The modern woman has to face the fact that she has to run her home on her own power, push her own perambulator and cook her own dinners. But it is a treadmill job, and it is no wonder that she gets fed up on it.

MOTHERS UNION

But if the women in any neighborhood could organize themselves into a sort of Mothers Co-operative Club and "spell" each other, as they say in New England, in their work, it would do a lot to take the curse off of the drudgery of being a domestic slave.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I have been engaged to a girl for over a year. But I hesitate about marrying her because I am very quiet, never have anything to say, and am afraid I will bore her. She is very quiet, too, and we don't talk much. But when I ask her if she gets tired of me, she says no, that she thinks I am very interesting and that she likes me the way I am.

Is it possible for two quiet people to be happy and get along together? Or would they get on each other's nerves?

JOSEPH.

Answer: You like to like is the best tip you can have in picking out a mate. You would be very unhappy if you were married to a girl who was always screaming, laughing and jumping around like a monkey on a stick. And the girl would be equally miserable if she were married to a man who was a night club addict and was always rushing around from one place of amusement to another, and who would make her feel totally out of place everywhere because she couldn't wisecrack with her husband's friends.

You needn't worry about ever boring a woman as long as you tell her that you love her and think she is the prize matrimonial package. She will think that she never heard anyone who was so eloquent and had such a thrilling line of conversation.

HELEN TAYLOR GIVEN SHOWER BY FRIENDS

Massawippi, May 26.—Mrs. Myrtle St. Dizier entertained at a "Shower" for Miss Helen Taylor. When the bride-to-be arrived she found upwards of twenty-five friends assembled to greet her. A short program was enjoyed, after which, Mrs. St. Dizier on behalf of the ladies gathered, presented Miss Taylor with two lovely wool blankets and an electric table-lamp.

The guest-of-honor, in her pleasing manner, thanked her friends for the handsome gifts and invited them to visit her in her new home. A delicious salad tea was served by the hostess, assisted by some of the ladies. Tea was poured by Mrs. Taylor and Miss Stevenson at the lovely lace covered table, which was centered with a bride's cake.

On leaving, the guests wished the bride-to-be much happiness.

COWANSVILLE

In a campaign to raise money for the "Save the Children Fund," eight of the schools of the District of Bedford organized various activities to obtain contributions. In Bedford at the spring meeting of the District of Bedford Teachers' Association, a collection of $10.65 started the movement. In a very short time Stanbridge East Consolidated School, a small school, sent the remarkable amount of $88.95; at Cowansville Consolidated High School, the pupils sold ice-cream, tickets on raffles, sponsored a tea, and a school party and raised $95.22; the Bedford High School pupils gave a bridge party at which they obtained $32.50; Dunham village school sent in $4.50; and Granby High School obtained $187 from the sale of sandwiches and soft drinks at the District of Bedford Track Meet on May 17; Waterloo High School and Frelighsburg Intermediate School each contributed $25, which made the creditable total of $418.22 for this worthy cause.

The annual meeting of the Home and Scholl Association was held in the Cowansville Memorial High School. Reports were received from Major Wood concerning the school uniform for the girls and the hot lunch program that will be undertaken in September. Mrs. W. S. Rodger gave a very full report as convener of the hot lunch committee. The retiring president, Mr. Guy Cousins, stated that an increase of average attendance was evident during the year and he wished continued success for the association. The following state of officers was duly elected for the year 1947-1948: President, Mrs. R. Jarvis; vice-president, Major J. N. Wood; secretary, Mr. Grayburn; treasurer, Mrs. W. S. LIFE IS A FOUR-LEGGED CHAIR

By William A. O'Brien, M.D.

Dr. O'Brien

A human being sits psychologically on a four-legged chair, says Dr. C. C. Burlingame of Hartford, Conn., in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

One leg is his job, the second is his hobby, third his play, and fourth his body.

If the chair has four solid legs he sits comfortably, but if any of the legs are too short, too long, or missing, he wobbles.

Psychiatry, the personal tutoring for those who are living an unbalanced life, helps line up the legs.

Work is essential to happiness. The most tragic feature of illness is the feeling that we are not needed. As long as a normal person has a job, life is worthwhile.

A man whose work brings him personal pleasure is fortunate. If a person does not have a pleasant job, he finds satisfaction in a hobby. There will come a time when the hobby will be more important than a job, no matter how pleasant the job.

Importance of Play
Play is the business of childhood as it strengthens muscles and stimulates growth. Long after the physical effects of play have disappeared, the lessons learned on the play field remain. In order to be happy, man needs to enjoy himself in the company of others. Unless we learn to do this when we are young, it will be difficult to master them when we are older.

The success of the old family physician with nervous patients was due to his knowledge of people rather than of what was wrong with them. A modern psychiatrist is also successful in handling patients because he is first a physician, second a sociologist, third a psychologist, fourth an educator, and fifth a vocational guidance expert.

Question: My husband has had pains in his legs for the past four years. Is this caused by arteries?
Answer: If the trouble is in his arteries, nerves to the arteries may be cut, or he may be given local treatments.

Si Johnson, Boston Braves, Acquires New Pitching Tricks In 20th Season

New York, May 26.—In store clothes and behind spectacles, Silas Kenneth Johnson, graying at the temples, looks more like one of the owners than a starting pitcher for the Braves.

Si Johnson has been around as long as the older inhabitants can remember—forever, it seems.

Someone cracked that O' Si has been 40 for the past several years, but that's not true. He's only 38, despite the fact that this is his 20th season, with practically all of it spent in the National League. He first came to the Reds from Rock Island of the Mississippi Valley as far back as 1928—a well set-up, blue-eyed, brown-haired Norwegian kid of 19.

Johnson is as distinctive as he is distinguished appearing. No pitcher has been with more bad clubs. Walter Johnson has some semblance of support in Washington about half the time while waiting all those years for his crack at a World Series.

Cincinnati was falling into its darkest baseball depths when the unsuspecting young Silas Johnson joined the Redlegs in '28. In the better part of seven campaigns he spent with them the Rhinelanders were four times last, seventh and sixth. Outside of one brief spell when they finished second, even the Cardinals were comparatively off and then in reverse in the little more than two years Johnson dwelled in St. Louis, winding up fourth and sixth.

With managers unable to make up their minds whether it was his fault or the ineptness of the supporting company, Johnson was twice sent out after reaching pitching maturity. On each occasion he demonstrated that he had much too much to be left to wither in what was then Double A—his 22 victories as against 12 losses with Rochester in 1933, for example.

That gave Johnson the highly dubious honor of being drafted by the pre-Carpenter Phillies, then mired in the cellar.

Obviously Gerry Nugent wanted Johnson to feel perfectly at home in a major league setting. And he did, for while O' Si was with the Phils he thrice ran last and were seventh when the war and the Navy came to his rescue in July, 1943.

After spending two and a half seasons in the Navy, Johnson appeared on the washed-up side when the reconstructing Blue Jays let him go early last term, but Billy Southworth, who managed him in Rochester, had shifted the ed to the Boston Nationals, had a place for the steady old warrior.

O' Si participated in 28 assignments for the outfit owned by Louis R. Perini and the other two Steam Shovel, won six and dropped five with the very respectable earned-run average of 2.76.

Johnson did a workman-like job on the Giants at the Polo Grounds the other afternoon. But for a home run with two on by Willard Marshall, he would have shut them out with seven hits. In a relief job prior to that, he shut out the Phillies with three hits for seven and two-thirds innings. Johnson always had natural speed and a well-developed curve. Smack dab out of Newark, Ill., High, he fanned 19 in a game while pitching for Rock Island.

With the last-place Red of 1932, he did not yield a hit to the hard-hitting Pirates until the eighth. The Buccaneers' total was three and the Rhinelanders prevailed, 3-0. Again with the ruck-running Reds in '33, he twice let the Braves down with one hit.

In his 20th season, Johnson has acquired new pitching tricks.

He employs a sinker, slider and fork ball, sneaks in a splitter here and there. He has remarkable cross-fire and has developed something brand new in the way of a blooper. This might be called the springboard, for he gets away on his toes and releases the ball straight overhead.

The Braves are headed somewhere, and Si Johnson is getting used to the fresh air above the dark and dank confines of the basement.

Johnny Mikan, Southpaw Pitcher, Helping Rochester Wings Out Of Rut

A lot of credit for the surprising showing of Rochester Wings can be placed on the lanky shoulders of southpaw Johnny Mikan.

The Wings, International League doormats for the last few campaigns, are only one game away from the .500 mark today and a game out of the first division.

Mikan, who spent spring training with the parent St. Louis Cardinals, is one of the mainstays of Rochester's mound crew and the 28-year-old pitcher has gained five victories against three setbacks while taking part in 12 games.

The 190-pound, six-foot two-inch hurler was knocked out of the box in his first two starts but since has won his last four, all complete games.

In 1946, Mikan also got off to a poor start and didn't get in the groove until late in the season. He was driven from the hill six times in his first eight starts but after July 16 he finished nine out of 13 starts and wound up with a 10-6 won and lost record for a dismal seventh-place club.

Mikan turned back the last-place Toronto Maple Leafs, 3-2, Thursday night, limiting Leafs to seven scattered hits in out-pitching the veterans Luke Hamlin and Harry Kimberlin.

Wings won out in the ninth on singles by Chuck Brewster, Charley Marshall and a fielder's choice

INSTRUCTION IN SWIMMING TO BE GIVEN CHILDREN

Derby Line, May 26.—Rev. E. C. Amaron, president of the Frontier Community Centre, was elected chairman; and John Gilmore, director of the Frontier Community Centre, was elected vice-chairman. A committee to plan and operate swimming instruction for the children of the villages of Stanstead, Rock Island, Beebe, Quebec, and Derby and Derby Line, Vermont, at the public beach at Derby. This project is being sponsored by the Community Centre, with the aid and assistance of all local groups and individuals.

Mrs. Ann Aldrich was elected convener of the committee on organization, with the following assistants: Peter Joley, Derby; Fletcher Niles, Derby; and Rev. Armand Fortin, Derby Line.

The transportation committee will be under Albert L. Young, of Stanstead, with J. M. Kirwin, Rock Island; Henry Rollins, Beebe; and Harley Ames, Derby Line, assisting.

R. A. Hammill, of Rock Island, is convener of the Finance Committee. A. M. Irvine, Stanstead; Romeo Rodrigue, Rock Island, and Earl E. Hackett, Derby Line, are the other members.

Advertising and publicity will be handled by G. Earl Hean, Derby Line; Mrs. R. R. Harris, Derby Line; Miss Rita Gosselin, Beebe; and Miss Elizabeth Coffin, Derby.

It is planned to have eight weeks of swimming instruction for the children, with Miss Gwyn MacHarg, of Rock Island, and Buddy Fuller, of Derby, Vt., the instructors. Both the above will take special training under the Red Cross for this purpose.

A meeting of the chairman, vice-chairman, and the conveners of the various committees will be held next Tuesday evening, May 27, at the Del Monty Hotel, to get this important project underway.

The meet, sponsored as a part of the Y's Men's Boys' Work program, saw a total of 181 individual participants competing in some 41 different events for a total of some 400 entries. Every Y's Man had an allotted job to perform during the day, and it was due to their hard work and careful planning that everything went along so smoothly. Members of the St. John's Ambulance Brigade under District Officer John Hennis were on hand all day in a special unit to look after any first aid needs. They treated one case of a torn ligament and some 18 or 20 cases of sprains, twists and minor cuts and bruises. Assisting Mr. Rennie were W. H. Hartley, L. P. Couture and V. P. Morin.

Jeff Wilson was General Chairman of the Meet. Carl Griffith handled the announcer's duties. A concession under Andy Blatherwick's direction were operated to raise funds for the Boy's Camp operated by the Y's Men at Chocomaere, Little Lake Magog. Several members of the Sherbrooke Municipal Police Force were on duty throughout the day, lending a hand with the crowds and providing their much-appreciated assistance.

on Mikan's grounder.

Rochester provided Mikan with a 2-0 lead by scoring once in the sixth on two singles, a wild pitch and error and once in the seventh on Charley Kress' homer but the Leafs' de-docked the issue by scoring twice in the bottom half of the seventh on three hits and two walks only to lose two innings later. The loss was the Leafs' ninth straight.

In the only other game, Buffalo Bisons outslugged the defending champion Montreal Royals 10-5. Royals jumped on Ted Gray for four runs in the first frame but Bisons stormed back and scored twice in the second and five in the third to win going away.

Wet grounds caused postponement of the scheduled games between Newark and Baltimore and Syracuse and Jersey City.

ROYALS MOVING RAPIDLY UP TO FIRST PLACE

Montreal Royals, heavy pre-season favorites to repeat as International League pennant winners, are moving rapidly towards first place in the circuit's tight struggle.

Manager Clay Hopper's squad, which romped to the flag in 1946, currently is one game behind the league-leading Jersey City Giants and has won seven of the last nine games while the Giants have divided their last eight encounters.

Lefty Al Gerbeuser came up with another fine hunting job yesterday as the Royals defeated Toronto Maple Leafs 3-1 in the first game of a scheduled doubleheader. The second game was postponed because of rain.

Gerbeuser limited the Leafs, who snapped a 10-game losing streak Saturday, to five hits while the Royals made the most of the four safeties yielded by Norman Brown.

Home runs by Mickey Grasso, Tony Yvares and Les Layton enabled Jersey City to sweep a twin bill from Baltimore Orioles, 2-1 and 4-1.

Bob Kuzava gave up only two hits in the opener but one was a two-run homer by Grasso. Yvares belted two homers in the nightcap and Layton the other to spoil the home debut of southpaw Gene Beardon, recently obtained by Baltimore from Cleveland.

LENNOXVILLE HIGH SCHOOL WINS E.T. TRACK CHAMPIONSHIP

5 New Records Set And 2 Tied As L.H.S. Team Wins Skinner Trophy

Long a contender but never quite able to grasp the championship, Lennoxville High School literally ran away with the 6th annual Eastern Townships Track Meet held on the Parade Grounds on Saturday, sweeping aside two former championship schools to take the Skinner Challenge Trophy for the first time in Lennoxville's history.

It was a big day for Lennoxville and a still greater day for Coach Harold Pye who saw his men romp home with victory after victory until the championship of the Eastern Townships Interscholastic Meet was in the bag. Stansstead College, last year's winners, and Bishop's College School, three-time consecutive previous winners, were thoroughly flustered to take home the silverware, but Lennoxville were out to win, and win they did, amassing a total of 77.35 points.

It was L.G. records setting one record and tying another, who paced the Lennoxville team to an impressive and well-deserved victory over some fourteen competing schools. Lennoxville's victory climaxed one of the most successful track meets ever held by the Sherbrooke Y's Men's Club, sponsors of the annual track and field event, which this year saw five new schools, fourteen in all, competing for the championship.

Perfect weather, after an overcast sky with threat of rain in the early morning, left many a sun-burned face and neck on both spectators and officials as the hot sun poured down on the Parade Grounds throughout the afternoon. It was a hot day, and a hotly-contested meet, with five new records chalked up on the board, and two existing records tied, during the day-long meet.

Seldom if ever have so many records been smashed in a day at the Y's Men's E. T. Interscholastic Meet, and full credit must be given to David Stearns of Bishop's College School, who not only smashed the Intermediate 440 and 100 yard dash records, but added to his laurels to toss the discus for a new record of 101 ft. 7 1/2 in., fully six feet more than the existing record of 95 ft. 7 in. Stearns fully earned the Sherbrooke General Sports Committee Challenge Trophy for Individual High Aggregate score.

It was a day of surprises. Dark-horse competitors continually upset the apparent favorites. Another newcomer to the E. T. Meet was Asbestos High School, whose J. King created considerable fame for himself, with a first-place win in the pole vault and a smashed field record for the Intermediate High Jump.

P. Gall of Drummondville, took top honors in the Junior section, while M. Morrow, Sawyerville High School, took 1st in the Junior High Jump and a 2nd in the broad jump. St. Patrick's Academy of Sherbrooke, also entering for the first time, took a 2nd in the Junior 440 relay. L. Dorsey won the 220 yard dash and K. Hetherington got 3rd in the broad jump.

W. Cranford of Drummondville, took two firsts in the Midget section, while Orvald Nordby of Stansstead set a new field record with his high jump of 4 ft. 3 in.

Stearns led in the individual class aggregate totals, with his 19 points for the Intermediates; D. Kuehner of Lennoxville placed 2nd with 16 4/5ths points in the Senior Section; P. Gall, of Drummondville 3rd with 15 points in the Junior Division; and A. Smith of Richmond and G. Cranford of Drummondville tied for Midget honors with 6 points apiece.

Sherbrooke Downs Drummondville; Splits Two-Game Series With Granby

The Sherbrooke Baseball club won two of its three games over the week-end. Although out-hit 15-8 Saturday in Drummondville the local club eked out a 9-8 win over the Cubs. Yesterday Sherbrooke split a two-game series with Granby-B. They won at home in the afternoon 3-1 but lost out in the evening, under the lights at Granby 10-5.

Larry "Lefty" Letteri limited the Granby "B" Baseball Club to three hits yesterday afternoon at the local park to enable Coach Dube's boys to eke out a 3-1 victory in a regular fixture of the Provincial Independent baseball loop.

Letteri, Sherbrooke's big portender, held the visitors to three hits. Deragon, Granby's rightfielder, poked out a two-bagger and a single while Sancombe, the visitors' shortstop, connected for a single. Sherbrooke picked up six hits off of Lefty, Granby's right hander. Manny McIntyre led the home team with three hits, a nice two-bagger and two singles, while Normie Dassault, Giles Dube and Lefty Letteri connected for bingles.

Sherbrooke was the first to cross the platter, when in the first inning Dassault was issued a free ticket, stole second base, Ruel struck out, and Manny McIntyre driving Dassault home. Paquin got a free pass, and when he stole second McIntyre drove for home to register the local's second tally, as well as to complete a double steal.

The locals came back in the third to mark up their third run, when they connected for two hits and an error to finish their scoring for the afternoon. Granby failed to get a hit until the fourth inning, when Deragon poked out a two-bagger, but he was left stranded with his mate, Couillard, when Subb was sent down swinging and Hebert went out, short to first, to retire the side.

The visitors got their second hit of the afternoon, when Deragon got a single, with two men out. Subb received a free pass, but Hebert hit into a fielder's choice to kill their chances of scoring. They came back in the seventh to get their sole tally. Hill received a base on balls to start off, the next two men went out, but they pushed Hill around the bases and he came home to register Granby's lone run.

Sherbrooke got two more singles, one in the seventh with the other in the eighth, but failed to get any more runs. The first two men to face Letteri in the ninth went out, second to first, pinch-hitter Bill Harvey drew a walk. Sancombe nicked Letteri

Yanks Blast Boston Red Sox 17-2 To Administer Worst Defeat This Year

New York Yankees, fresh from a "revolution" last week, showed their spirit at their home Stadium Sunday when they bludgeoned Boston Red Sox 17-2, handing the American League Champions the worst beating any big league club has absorbed this year.

The Yanks had 17 hits in winning their third straight from the Boston team.

The victory carried New York into third place past the Red Sox, who dropped to fourth. It marked the fourth straight victory for the Yankees since their "Insurrection" last Wednesday when six of their members, including Joe DiMaggio and Charles Keller, were fined by President Larry MacPhail for refusing to pose for pictures in a promotional venture. MacPhail claimed the players had promised to do so.

It is not known whether the players' resentment over the fines has worn off but their exhibition on the field makes it appear that they have decided to take it out on the opposing teams.

A home run by Williams, his 11th of the season, with one in the ninth, accounted for the only runs Boston had in the game. The Yanks hit three games. DiMaggio, however, broke loose with four hits, his best batting day this year.

Keller clouted his 10th homer and drove in three runs. Second baseman George Stinewiss, coming out of slump, crossed the plate five times to tie another American League mark. Tex Hughson, first of three Boston pitchers, suffered the most, giving up six hits and five runs without being able to finish one inning.

The Yanks still were three games behind the League-Leading Tigers who divided a double header with the Chicago Sox in Detroit. The Tigers, behind the seven-hit pitching of Newhouse, won the opener handsly 10-1, but the White Sox bounced back to win the second game 5-2. Left-hander Eddie Lopat and shortstop Jack Wallassa combined to give the Sox the victory. Lopat yielded only five hits and Wallassa hammered two homers to drive in three runs.

Homers also were responsible for the Tiger victory. George Kell hit a grand slam home run to make things easier for Newhouse, and Pat Mullin, who hit a four-bagger in the second game, also hit one in the first two with two men on.

In the only other American League game, Washington, paced by Stan Spence's three-run homer in the first inning, defeated Philadelphia Athletics 3-1 in the opener of a scheduled doubleheader. Play was halted in the seventh by rain. Second game was postponed. Rain also washed out the scheduled doubleheader between St. Louis and Cleveland at Cleveland.

New York Giants retained possession of first place in the National League pennant race by walloping Boston Braves 9-3 in the opener of a scheduled double header. The second game was halted with the Braves leading 4-3 in the top half of the fifth. Clint Hartung, highly publicized outfielder turned pitcher, won his third game without a defeat although he was tagged for 11 hits.

Chicago Cubs remained five points behind the giants by eking out a 3-1 win over Cincinnati Reds at Wrigley Field.

Jackie Robinson led Brooklyn Dodgers to victory over Philadelphia Phillies 5-3 at Ebbets Field and the Dodgers returned to third place, one game behind the leading St. Louis Cardinals. Robinson belted two singles and his second home run of the season to help lefty Joe Hatten register his fifth victory against one defeat.

The fifth place Pittsburgh Pirates held the World Champion St. Louis Cardinals to a split, coming back to win the second game of a double header 2-1 after dropping the opener 10-5. Lefty Fritz Ostermuller, who blanked the Cards in Pittsburgh two weeks ago, held the Redbirds to three hits in racking up his fourth win five decisions.

BOBBY LOCKE WINS SPECIAL GOLF TOURNEY

Philadelphia, May 26—(AP)—Links experts are still discussing with no little heat who is the better man of the course, Hershey's Ben Hogan or South Africa's Bobby Locke.

The spectacular victory of Locke in his duel yesterday for top prize in the Philadelphia Inquirer Invitational Tournament may have changed some opinions. Locke started the day five shots behind Hogan. Yet playing him into a man over a rain-soaked, difficult course Locke turned in two brilliant 70 rounds, each one under par, while the Pennsylvania scorer to 77-73.

Locke won the tourney with 277 strokes, seven under par for 72 holes; Hogan finished with 282, in fourth place a shot behind Matt Kowal, Philmont, Pa., and United States Open Champion Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago.

That would seem a thoroughly satisfying performance, but not Mangrum, among others, "Hogan—he's great, I'll take him every time."

For the tourney here, Locke won $2,500 first money, Kowal and Mangrum each $1,440 in their tie for second at 281, and Hogan $1,000 for fourth.

MANAGOFF WINS FROM DAVIS IN QUICK FASHION

Bobby Managoff, ex-heavyweight wrestler of the world, downed Wee Willie Davis, of Hollywood, in two straight falls to win the main bout Saturday evening at the local Arena.

Managoff after being slugged around the ring by the Hollywood giant, who was warned on several occasions by referee Dan Murray, but still continued his rough tactics. Finally after thirteen minutes and twenty seconds Managoff got a leg twist on Davis and made the big follow give in after a few minutes of persuasion, to emerge the winner in the first fall.

After absorbing more than a sufficient amount of punishment in their first appearance, Managoff started off at the ring of the ball and before Davis knew what hit him he was lying on the mat, being counted out, with Bobby Managoff again applying his famous leg twist after three minutes and seven seconds of wrestling.

In the semi-final Tod Morgan failed to put in an appearance and Ray Eckert agreed to take on George Gagney and Abe Kolman, first one then the other. Eckert took on Kolman first, and after using his usual rough methods on his opponents, when the referee was not looking, managed to floor Kolman after nine minutes. Eckert then proceeded to tackle Gagney, without a rest, and he continued to rough up things, without listening to the referee. Finally Kolman jumped through the ropes to come to the aid of his partner, but referee Murray got him out of the ring and warned him if he repeated it he would award the fight to Eckert. After ten minutes referee Murray awarded the fight to Gagney and Kolman when he disqualified Eckert for his rough methods, much to the crowd's delight.

In the preliminaries George Gagney, of Quebec City, and Abe Kolman, the Jewish wrestler from Brooklyn, N.Y., ended in a draw. Kolman, who is built close to the floor, was a little heavy for Gagney, although he applied numerous head holds he could not move the stocky little man and the result was that the match ended in a draw.

In the curtain raiser, Rosaire Lefebvre won over Leo Denault, when he threw three body slams in a row at Denault and fell on him to pin his shoulders to the mat for the count.

In the semi-final Tod Morgan failed to put in an appearance and Ray Eckert agreed to take on George Gagney and Abe Kolman, first one then the other. Eckert took on Kolman first, and after using his usual rough methods on his opponents, when the referee was not looking, managed to floor Kolman after nine minutes. Eckert then proceeded to tackle Gagney, without a rest, and he continued to rough up things, without listening to the referee. Finally Kolman jumped through the ropes to come to the aid of his partner, but referee Murray got him out of the ring and warned him if he repeated it he would award the fight to Eckert. After ten minutes referee Murray awarded the fight to Gagney and Kolman when he disqualified Eckert for his rough methods, much to the crowd's delight.

In the preliminaries George Gagney, of Quebec City, and Abe Kolman, the Jewish wrestler from Brooklyn, N.Y., ended in a draw. Kolman, who is built close to the floor, was a little heavy for Gagney, although he applied numerous head holds he could not move the stocky little man and the result was that the match ended in a draw.

In the curtain raiser, Rosaire Lefebvre won over Leo Denault, when he threw three body slams in a row at Denault and fell on him to pin his shoulders to the mat for the count.

Large Crowd Attends Initial Opening Of Sherbrooke Driving Club Field Day

Perseus interceded on behalf of the descendants of the winged horse, Pegasus, and the judges were kind. It didn't rain. And the season's first horse show which marked the official opening of the summer season in the parks and playgrounds in the city was run off on Saturday in splendid fashion.

There was a crowd of 2,000 on hand for the first of four field days to be sponsored by the Sherbrooke Riding and Driving Club here this summer. Entries were heavy and performances good considering that many of the horses from local stables have not yet hit their best form after the winter layoff.

The Schiller-Marquardt-Stegmayer stable, known to horsemen as S.M.S., copped 21 ribbons, seven of these being firsts. Among the riders, Yvette Schiller and Julien Turcotte, favorites of horse show audiences, each brought in two of those firsts.

The first of the 14 classes on the program started promptly at 10 a.m. With time out for lunch, the show moved smoothly throughout the afternoon.

Incidental music was provided by Jack Lenaghan at an electric organ.

The audience heard Alderman Alphonse Trudeau declare the city parks open and saw Aime Choquette take an uncheduled ride. Up on H. D. Blais' Gamin in the handy hunter class, Mr. Choquette and a score of spectators were dazzled when the heavy weight horse, pounding over the course, ferociously beat the trail and jumped over a rail and out of the ring.

Fourteen-year-old Julien Turcotte, who won two firsts for S.M.S., handled Eileen Morgan's star in the two pony classes. He won in both.

Riding Clipper from the S.M.S. stable, young Turcotte took first place in the seat and hands class in which the rider's ability is judged. The boy was aboard Domino beside Erich Marquardt on Tommy when the S.M
