Federal employees to step up strike

Strike action by the general labor and trades (GLT) group of the Public Service Alliance (PSAC) was to be stepped up today, John Hart, southern Alberta representative for the alliance, said in an interview Sunday.

He also said walkouts will continue at the main post office and the mail-processing plant in Calgary, at Banff National Park and at the government grain elevators at Lethbridge, Alta., and Calgary.

The PSAC has been holding selective strikes across Canada, disrupting air travel, postal service and grain shipments.

Mediator Tom O'Connor said Friday, after two days of talks ended in Ottawa, that he saw no possibility of a settlement between the federal government and 18,600 blue-collar workers represented by the PSAC.

A union spokesman said the workers, who include postal maintenance men, airport runway cleaners and grain weighers and samplers, are seeking wage parity with workers in similar jobs in the private sector.

Postal service in Toronto, which handles half the country's mail, has been hardest hit by the strike but the PSAC has agreed to a 36-hour truce to allow delivery of 1.5 million government welfare and pension cheques.

William Doherty, strike coordinator and union vice-president, said the PSAC "will do all it can" to ensure that federal and provincial social assistance cheques are sorted and distributed "so that none of the recipients suffers any hardship."

AGREES TO TRUCE

The alliance has agreed to remove its picket lines at Toronto's post office from 12:01 a.m. Tuesday until noon Wednesday so mail truck drivers and letter carriers can deliver the cheques on schedule.

During the weekend, thousands of jammed letter boxes were cleared and the mail put into storage after 12 truck drivers resumed mail pickups. Postal officials said the drivers will be recalled today when workers begin sorting the cheques.

Postal services remained normal in Winnipeg and were relatively undisturbed by maintenance worker strikes in Vancouver and Regina.

A spokesman for the Canadian wheat board said more than 14,000 boxcars of export grain are sitting idle in Winnipeg because of the strike. About 25 grain weighers and samplers were on strike in that city.

He said grain shipments at Thunder Bay, Ont., and the West Coast terminals have reached an impasse with at least 28 ships waiting to take on grain in Vancouver harbor. Grain handlers at government elevators in Edmonton also were on strike.

HIGHWAY REOPENED

In British Columbia, workers returned to the job Saturday in the Rogers Pass area which had been closed by snow.

There were reports that no serious inconvenience was caused by maintenance crew pickets at Victoria airport, but airport officials said service might be affected later.

Passengers were taking taxis to the air terminal because drivers for coach lines refused to cross the picket line.

Airport runways in most centres were being cleared of snow and ice after strikes earlier in the week.

The airport at Windsor, Ont., was reopened Sunday after being closed for three days due to fog and picketing. Firefighters had refused to cross picket lines.

Postal workers in Montreal were able to maintain normal operations although 75 maintenance workers remained off the job.

In Nova Scotia, John Enman, regional representative of the alliance, said his area was waiting for directions from the national office before picketing would resume.

Meanwhile, Mr. Doherty said mediation talks broke down because government negotiators would not budge from a position that would give the GLT workers total payroll raises of 25.7 per cent over two years.

A conciliation report prepared by a union nominee had asked for a 20.98 per cent wage increase in the first year and 12 per cent in the second. The demand is a minimum to which workers expect more to be added.

The current hourly average wage for the blue-collar workers is $4.42.

Mr. Doherty said the strikes may continue for a long time, but added the union would not reveal its strike plans.

ANNUAL CHURCH PARADE — Members of the 3rd and 10th Sherbrooke Scouts, 3rd and 10th Sherbrooke Scouts, 1st, 2nd, and 3rd Sherbrooke Brownies, 1st and 3rd Sherbrooke Guides, and the 1st Sherbrooke Rangers participated in a church parade at the Plymouth-Trinity Church on Dufferin Street last night. The service was conducted by the Rev. J. Cedric Arnold and Father Brault of St. Patrick's Church. (Record photo by James Bruce)

Syria holds out possibility of Israeli peace agreement

The president of Syria says his government will sign a peace treaty if Israel gives up all the territory it captured in the 1967 war and agrees to a Palestinian state made up of the West Bank of the Jordan River and the Gaza Strip.

It was his strongest statement yet on the possibility of an agreement with Israel.

"This is not propaganda," President Hafez Assad told Newsweek magazine. "We mean it — seriously and explicitly."

Israel, however, has repeatedly rejected those two demands.

The Egyptian magazine Rose al Youssef reports that U.S. State Secretary Henry Kissinger told Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko he expected to get an agreement next month for another Israeli withdrawal in both the Sinai Desert and the Golan Heights front with Syria.

The report says Kissinger and Gromyko agreed to call the Geneva peace conference back into session in April if the withdrawal agreement is reached.

NEWS TO MANY The Israeli foreign ministry said it had not been informed of any such Soviet-United States agreement, and reporters with Kissinger on his recent visit to the Middle East received no indications of Israeli willingness to give up any more Golan Heights territory.

Falastin As-Thawra, a Beirut magazine that reflects the views of the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO), says a U.S.-Egyptian deal in the offing would make East Jerusalem, where the holy places are located, an international area in exchange for the next Israeli withdrawal in the Sinai.

The Arab Boycott of Israel (ABI) organization opened a 10-day meeting in Cairo to review requests from 60 firms to be removed from the blacklist. The boycott includes Ford Motor Co. and Coca-Cola as well as a number of personalities sympathetic to Israeli causes.

The Israeli military command reports that an army patrol clashed with a band of guerrillas on the Lebanese border Saturday night and killed one of the Arabs. It was the first border incident reported since Feb. 1.

A hijacker diverted a North Yemeni plane with one passenger aboard to Saudi Arabia on Sunday and was immediately arrested, Egypt's official Middle East News Agency says.

A flash flood in the northern Sinai desert Sunday engulfed a Bedouin camp, and Israeli officials reported nine persons known dead and a least 20 missing. They said it was the worst flood in the normally arid zone in 60 years.

Four survive ordeal

Four Illinois men survived a 27-hour ordeal in a flooded Indiana cave by eating candy bars, chewing gum and telling dirty jokes.

But three other persons died in another cavern after heavy rains caused streams to overflow, flooding several caves near Bloomington, Ind., officials said Sunday.

The young spelunkers, or cave explorers, drowned Saturday, officials said. The victims were Terry Yokem, 19; Kim Aldridge, 19; and Marsha Bott, 18, all of Indianapolis.

Rescuers found their bodies and the four stranded explorers Sunday.

AFL-CIO blames oil

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Blaming the energy crisis on efforts by the giant oil companies to "fatten the profits," the AFL-CIO says Congress should take steps toward nationalizing the industry.

The AFL-CIO executive council, which ends its winter meeting here today, has called for legislation that would transfer into government hands the authority for importing oil. The proposal would require the oil companies to sell their marketing operations and holdings in other energy sources, such as coal and natural gas.

Rebate offers expire

DETROIT (AP) — Car rebate offers expire this week and Ford Motor Co. is expected to match General Motors' decision to lower the price tag on some compact models by eliminating some standard equipment.

The $100 to $600 rebates, which went into effect in early January, lowered new car inventories, but not nearly enough to force the car companies to increase production and call back workers.

With 13 assembly lines closed this week, 255,000 of the industry's 683,000 blue-collar workforce are laid off.

Cargo caused crash

WASHINGTON (AP) — Improperly packaged hazardous cargo probably started a series of events that caused the crash of a Pan American World Airways cargo jet at Boston 15 months ago, the National Transportation Safety Board said today.

It was the first time the board has implicated hazardous cargo in a fatal aircraft accident and its assessment of the accident is sure to add to the current controversy over air transportation of such materials.

Radiation leaks in city building

TORONTO (CP) — More than 75 persons responded by Sunday to a government search for persons who may have been exposed to excessive radiation while working in a downtown building during the last 30 years.

Meanwhile, provincial and federal radiation experts are looking for other city buildings where present or past businesses may have left radiation dangers.

The three-foot square "hot spot" on the third floor of the downtown building at 103 Church St. was sealed off with lead bricks shortly after the radiation was discovered Friday.

Radium apparently was spilled there when a company which painted luminous dials for aircraft worked in a third-floor office between 1943 and 1947.

WHO AND HOW COME? — Could this be a well-known resident of our fair Queen City of the Eastern Townships? How come he recently won provincial recognition by winning a trophy at the Quebec Winter Carnival. For answers to these questions, and many more, see page 3 of today's Record.

Q. I am a student at a Canadian university. How do I calculate the tuition fees allowable?

A. Tuition fees supported by the proper certificate may be claimed for any 12-month period beginning in the taxation year, which means for 1974 you could claim either on the calendar year or the academic year 1974-75.

Q. I am a student at university and have a part-time job which becomes a full-time job during the summer months. My earnings are more than $1,800 a year. I pay my own tuition fees out of my earnings and understand that only I can deduct these fees from my income for tax purposes. If I do this, my income will be reduced to under $1,300. Does this mean that my father can claim me as a dependant?

A. Yes, if your father supported you during the year. However, the $586 exemption is reduced by the amount that your income exceeds $1,226, example:

Maximum exemption $586
Deduct income over $1,226 $586
($1,300 less $1,226) 74
Allowable exemption $512

In addition, a special exemption of $50 a month is allowable for full-time trainees and students attending a wide range of schools and post secondary institutions.

Q. My husband has a farm tractor that he uses, not to earn his living, but to do his farming and a little logging and collecting of firewood. Can he claim any depreciation on this farm tractor?

A. If your husband is a farmer and is reporting his income from farming or logging he would be able to claim depreciation on the tractor. However, if he has no income from farming or logging, and the tractor is not being used for the purpose of producing income, he would be unable to claim any depreciation.

center

MONTREAL (CP) — Despite lack of a developer, financiers and tenants, the Quebec government expects Montreal will have a proposed multi-million dollar World Trade Centre within two years.

So far, only the Quebec government has given a firm commitment to rent offices in the proposed 26-storey structure that will cost $40 million-$45 million, said Philip O'Brien, president of Devencore Realities Ltd., the centre's rental agent.

But Mr. O'Brien said he was optimistic there would be no problems soliciting tenants because several major financial and transportation companies have shown interest.

Mr. O'Brien said a bank executive told him: "If one bank goes, all the banks have got to go and we can't afford not to."

About 100 tenants, apart from the provincial government, would be needed to fill the tower, to be located south of the downtown core near the Montreal Stock Exchange and Place Bonaventure, a hotel, shopping and convention centre.

Mr. O'Brien said he expected the federal government would be anxious to move some agencies into the structure because of its anticipated role in international commerce.

NEED BACKING

Mr. O'Brien said $8 million was needed in equity financing and "we are close to getting it."

He was confident costs would not soar unmanageably, as has occurred recently with most major Quebec province construction projects which failed to peg their costs to inflation.

"We have been very careful about that," Mr. O'Brien said. He said he hoped construction could start before the end of the year.

Guy Saint-Pierre, Quebec industry and commerce minister, has said: "I am firmly convinced that the World Trade Centre will exist within two years."

Mr. Saint-Pierre overflowed with superlatives when discussing the proposed centre, which he said will be an important meeting place in generating international trade.

He was especially hopeful the centre would stimulate sales of goods manufactured in Quebec.

The Quebec government plans to take about 25 per cent of the 500,000 square feet of rentable floor space and will pay $3 million for management of the area, which will contain all the province's international trade services, Mr. Saint-Pierre said.

Whether it's with paint brushes or moustache, life is profitable

SHERBROOKE — Frederic is quite used to making his living with the hair on his paint brushes, but he never considered using the hair on his face before.

Now he is considering it, since he just won the 1975 Annual Provincial Moustache Competition at the Quebec Carnival and was awarded a fur coat worth $1,000 and had all his expenses paid for the six days he was there.

Frederic is well known in the Townships, not only as an artist, but as a flamboyant eccentric. He prefers to describe himself as: "not eccentric, I am crazy, but not dangerous."

Concerning the moustache that has brought him so much attention recently, Frederic said modestly, "it's me." He spends two hours each day shaping it with moustache wax. Like most of his compositions it has a title: "Someday in Quebec, proud and free, the fleur de lis will bloom." The shape of the moustache (it has four individual strands that curve separately) is reminiscent of Quebec's national flower.

Frederic has been wearing his fleur de lis since 1966 but this year he competed in the Provincial Moustache Competition for the first time. During the semi-finals there were 200 contestants but at the finals in Quebec there were 44, of which Frederic won the Fantasy Division. The event was sponsored jointly by the Association of Coiffeurs of Quebec and by the Carnival. The presentation was made on February 12, as far as the next six days was concerned, all Frederic could say was "Party, party, party, every night a party."

By GEORGE STEDMAN

He describes his art as surrealistic. It was just on display in Toronto and he has plans for exhibitions in Rimouski, Montreal, Paris and Quebec. "La Moustache" was well known in Quebec before the Carnival as an artist; now Quebec knows him the way Sherbrooke does as a real character.

No one touches Frederic's moustache, if anyone did he'd "kill them".

SURE, IT'S FREDERIC — Here is well-known Sherbrooke artist, Frederic, in a more affable mood than that portrayed on The Record's front page. He is being received by Ti-Mere and Ti-Pere in their famous 'Caribou Cave' after having won the 1975 Annual Provincial Moustache Competition at the Quebec Carnival.

St. Francis School holds carnival

By DORA McCOURT
(Record Correspondent)

RICHMOND — St. Francis Elementary School's Winter Carnival came to an end recently following a week of activities that saw students and staff participating in a number of special events.

Activities got underway at the beginning of the week with the individual classes choosing their kings and queens. The final vote came on Tuesday with Susan Waterhouse crowned Queen, and Keith Clark, King in the Primary classes. Runners up were Vicki Converse and Jimmy Adamson, as Princess and Prince. In the upper elementary classes, Clay Mosher and Laurie Hodge carried off the King and Queen crowns, with Tammi Wood and Laird Lyster, Princess and Prince.

Wednesday was Outdoor Activity Day. With temperatures hovering around zero it was a day for action and it was exactly that - Mr. Paulsen, phys. ed. instructor, had an action-packed day planned and activities were carried out to a "T."

Teams were made up of students of different ages, each having an equal number, and identified by a certain color ribbon bearing the child's name.

The morning's activities saw the Grades 4-6 outside with the younger children taking their turn in the afternoon. Thing got off to a flying start with skate races on the school's rink. The ice was in ideal condition this year and some really good skating ability was witnessed. For the 9-year-olds, Laird Lyster and Andrew Dickson came in first and second in 3-lap time. Lisa Coddington won in the girl's class. Other results were as follows: 10-year-old-boys - Clay Mosher, Michael Jones, girls - Jill Leroux, Kelly Storry.

Other morning events included the scoop ball relay, won by the Red-White Team, and the Skipping Relay, won by Green-White. Blue Team won in the girl's section of the dog-sled races, with Red Team taking first place for the boys. A new race was added this year - the snowshoe race.

A number of pairs of snowshoes have been made available to the school and the students are encouraged to use them during the noon-hours, etc. In this event Debbie Garrett came in first for the girls, followed by Teena Lyster. In the boy's race, Robbie Rodgers was first with Wendell Hughes a team mates. A number of runs were made with three members of each team. The winner of each then competed in a final run. Winners were from Blue Team - a very pretty little "donkey," Carol Gunter, hauled by Lisa Pope and Brenda Blake.

The afternoon's program came to an end with foot races

The afternoon's program was changed slightly to meet the younger children's age and size. Even the kindergarten class was out, getting into the act along with the older ones. A snow-piling contest got everyone into the swing of things. With the sound of "Go" hands flew, as did the snow. The idea was to stack up a pile the nearest in height to a meter stick. Blue Team proved to be the winners, followed by the Blue-Green team.

Green Team took the honours in the scoop ball relay, while White Team lead in the Skipping Relay. The latter is quite a difficult feat.

The next event, the Donkey Race, brought out much laughter. The middle man, the Donkey, took a real fast ride down the ice, pulled by two on the rink, run according to ages. Winners were as follows: kindergarten boys, Gary Gunter, Mark Clifford; girls, Robin Chabot, Debra Stevens.

7-year-old girls: Cindy

Jones, Lisa Fowler; boys: Richard Senneville, Dale Greenwood.

8-year-old girls: Nancy Gaumont, Sandra Armstrong, boys: Jeffrey Garrett, Roy McCourt.

Other activities during the week included a student vs staff volleyball game. Staff won the first game, the students the second. Keeps everyone smiling that way! An inter-house "tug-of-war" between boys and girls took place during Thursday's noon hour. Green House proved to be champs with an overall total of 360 points, followed by Blue House with 280. Red House captured a total of 260, while Yellow House made 190. The main idea was participation and good sportsmanship.

A penny race competition continued throughout the week. Winners were announced Friday with the following results: Mrs. Willey's kindergarten class won in the primary classes, while Mrs. Jondreville's class won in the elementary level. The money from this project will be used to purchase ribbons and prizes for the carnival and other student activities.

Carnival Week came to a close on Friday with a Valentine's Day dance, complete with live orchestra, during the noon hour. Admission was 5 cents per couple or 10 cents single, and there were a good number of participants on the floor.

Every four years, scouts from all over the world hold a jamboree. This year, that jamboree will take place in Lillehammer, Norway, from July 29th to August 7th.

Over 1,403 Canadians will attend this year, representing one of the largest Canadian contingents ever sent to a world jamboree. Seven boys from Sherbrooke district will be there.

These are: From the Seventh Sherbrooke Troop: Steven Bougie and Bert Perry. From the first Lennoxville Troop they are: Richard Tracy, Andrew Lyon, Douglas Belair, Steven Gillam, and Robert MacKeage. The Sherbrooke and District Council, Boy Scouts of Canada, will provide a sum of $1,050.00 to defray the cost of the trip. The most part of the money will be raised by the boys themselves.

Baden-Powell House was officially opened in 1961 in London, England and since its opening B.P. House has provided inexpensive accommodation to Scouts and their families from over 96 countries.

With this year's jamboree in Norway, all those planning to use the facilities are asked to make reservations early. To do so, please contact the Warden, Baden-Powell House, Queen's Gate, London, SW75JS, England.

The Quebec Provincial Council, Boy Scouts of Canada, proudly announces that the following Scouts have received the Gold Citizen Badge: Andrew Lyon, Douglas Belair, Steven Gillam, Richard Tracy, and Robert MacKeage, all from 1st Lennoxville. The formal 1st Lennoxville. The formal presentation took place Saturday February 15 at the group's annual Father and Son Banquet.

Beaver's Canada began in 1972 as an experimental program for boys 5 years old to cub age. At the National Council's November meeting, that program was officially approved as an additional section to the programs of the Boy Scouts of Canada.

Members of Quebec Scouting will be sad to hear of the passing of Mr. Russell E. Paterson, an honorary Vice-President of the Quebec Provincial Council. He joined scouting on May 12, 1910, as Scout Master of the Second McGill Scout Troop and continued Scouting until January, 1975. He was the first Director of Camp Tamaracouta in 1913, and served as Scoutmaster of St. Andrew's Scout troop for many years.

He was appointed Quebec's first Executive Secretary on February 2, 1920. In 1947 he was awarded the Silver Wolf by Chief Scout Viscount Alexander. He will be remembered by many Scouters, particularly for his instructional sessions on the Starman and Prospector badges. Mr. Paterson was a registered member of the Boy Scouts of Canada for over sixty years.

Scout update '74, an article appearing in the August September issue of the Canadian Leader magazine, is a report on the revised qualifications for certain Scout Badges. The new Scout Handbooks contain the update and the Scout Centre will provide a free insert for those which do not.

On April 30, 1973, the Sherbrooke and District Council, Boy Scouts of Canada withdrew its partnership with "Federated Charities," and formed its own "Scouts Financial Campaign." This first campaign was launched on Oct. 6th to 15th, 1973. The objective for 1973 was $5,000. The gross returns for that first campaign were $4,904.

This year, the Council's 2nd Annual campaign took place September 9 to 20th 1974. The objective again was $5,000. The gross returns for this year's campaign was $5,046.75.

We would like to thank those involved in making it such a success. They are: Donald M. Patrick, co-chairman, C. Evans Joslin, co-chairman, Hywel Griffiths, treasurer, Don Lyon, co-manager, Percy Grey, co-manager, Clarence Blake, advisor, and Reg Chivers, president, Sherbrooke and District Council, Boy Scouts of Canada.

A sum of $4,500 has been allotted for major projects in 1975. Of this sum $3,450 will be used to develop better facilities and to maintain the Council's Lovering Lake Scout reserve, a 43 acre campsite situated in the heart of the Eastern Townships.

A sum of $1,050 will be used to defray the cost of sending the seven boys to Norway '75. Thanks go out to all the people who donated directly or indirectly to the Boy Scouts campaign this year. Until next time, Happy Scouting.

The Women's Canadian Club of the Eastern Townships cancelled its February meeting. The next meeting has been scheduled for March 12.

Mayor Bruce Armstrong attended opening night ceremonies and presented the key to the municipality to the Bonhomme of the Carnival, Marcel Leduc. Rupert Fullerton handed over the envelope of the judges and Andre Marcoux, President of the Nite Riders Club, then announced the queen, who made an acceptance speech, and presented the Duchesses.

The young ladies each received a ski suit from the Nite Riders and the Queen was crowned by last year's winner, Joanne Parent, followed by another gift for each lady of a silver bowl given by Garage Ducharme.

Judges for all events were Rupert Fullerton, Mayor Armstrong and Mrs. Gabriel McDuff. Sculptures were of houses, houses, skidoos and Bonhomme and they are the property of Jerry Rouillard, Peabody Rd., Murelle Rouillard, Laval Marcoux, Mr. and Mrs. Jean Paul McDuff, Garage Ducharme and Omer Prive. Children's sculptures were to be judged separately.

The parade was led by Theodore Coutu and his wife, followed by Pierre Giroux. A yesteryear sleigh and Bonhomme was included. A dragon led by Danny McNeil had 12 men underneath its cover and Jean Paul McDuff's Masquerade Dance outfit of a large spotted cow with Philippe Vachon and Denis Nole underneath brought chuckles from the crowd.

Representation of a snowmobile by Garage Ducharme and by Garage Marcoux, the latter decorated by Paul and Mariette Pouliot with men using chain saws and old type buck saws and pine needles showing, was entered by Champigny Mill. An interesting scene of a small stuffed bear climbing a balsam tree with cedar trees was also displayed.

There were two teams of children's broom ball and team No. 1 won 2-0. Coaches were Alain Lessard and Gaston Arton. Men's broom ball comprised of two teams from Knowlton and two from Mansonville: Space Lab No. 1, Space Lab No. 2, Knowlton Clair and Knowlton Police. Space Lab No. 1 came first with a score of 6-5. A rare pulling contest was also held for both sexes.

The masquerade dance was held in the Mansonville Hotel and the winners of costumes were Lorraine Rouillard as a Scarecrow, Sylvia Allard as a Japanese Girl, and the cow described previously was won by its creator and helpers, Mr. and Mrs. Jean Paul McDuff, Denis Nole and Mirelle Rouillard.

Directors were Wayne Clark, Larry Ethier, Pierre Giroux, Terry Willard, Philippe Vachon, Rupert Clark, Claude Marcoux, Gerald Carrier, Michel Leduc. Directors Kevin and Ian Heath were away on holiday. Also doing their part to make the carnival a complete success were Sec. Chantal McDuff, Treas. Louis Lacaille, Vice-Pres. Omer Prive and Pres. Andre Marcoux with the assistance of his wife Phyllis.

The following gifts were given to the Queen and to each of her attendants by the Maple King of Quebec, Hill Haven; dusting bath powder by Maria

Federal agencies and departments accused of unco-ordinated spending spree

OTTAWA (CP) — About 50 federal agencies and departments have joined the glossy world of television in what some officials involved say was a costly and unco-ordinated spending spree.

The federal collection of TV electronic hardware ranges from simple video scanners of the kind used to watch for shoplifters in retail stores to fully equipped TV studios.

Bigger spenders such as the health and trade departments possess elaborate systems that one information officer said "anybody would be proud to own."

Government bureaucrats were said to use the equipment with varying degrees of skill and success to produce TV programs for public consumption, as a staff-training tool and even as the trendiest kind of inter-office memo.

Sony of Canada Ltd., subsidiary of the big Japanese electronics firm, finds federal business good enough to have a representative spending virtually all his time looking after sales to the government. He sells cameras, videotape recorders, studio monitors, switchers and other apparatus of the trade.

REPLACING EQUIPMENT
Some of those who work with the equipment said much of it is breaking down after being in use three to five years. It must be overhauled or replaced. A Sony official said some departments are getting rid of worn-out black-and-white equipment and retooling for color.

Communications experts at National Film Board (NFB) and at Information Canada (Infocan) said a television craze gripped the federal bureaucracy with the advent a few years ago of simple, compact equipment.

The sudden burst of television popularity roughly paralleled a dramatic growth in the size of the federal information bureaucracy.

Critics said departments rushed into the TV field so precipitously that there was no up-to-date inventory of equipment and no accurate calculation of over-all cost.

A 1973 survey, which the government will not release, estimated that 50 departments and agencies acquired television equipment costing several million dollars.

There is no central control over equipment purchasing and no fixed policy on who should have the equipment and how it should be used.

FILM BOARD BYPASSED

The 1951 National Film Act requires government departments to channel all film production through the NFB. But the legislation makes no mention of videotape, which wasn't even invented when the bill became law.

"We have no rational tallying-up of what television equipment exists or how well and to what degree it is being used," said Eric Miller, Infocan deputy director.

Mr. Miller guardedly acknowledged there is "a problem." Others said serious blunders have occurred.

For example, the health department was said to have invested at least $80,000 in picture-and sound-recording equipment to outfit a television studio at its headquarters in Tunney's Pasture, a bleak suburb of government buildings here.

The department rented additional equipment and produced a series of six taped television shows on sports, fitness, food inspection and other topics.

Then the romance with television ended.

"We decided to abandon it because the cost was too high," said Pierre Couture, the department's information director.

AUTOPSIES FILMED

The studio equipment, said to be among the most elaborate anywhere within the government, now is used—among other things—to film autopsies on farm animals.

Other departments have had similar unhappy experiences and some information officers and staff-training specialists have grown disillusioned with the medium.

African gamblers hard to beat

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (CP) — When it comes to gambling the Rhodesians — black and white — are hard to beat.

Millions change hands every year on everything from the turn of the dice at a local bar to the roulette wheels of the posh casinos in the northern tourist areas.

Typical of this free-wheeling approach to life is the project of the Rotary Club in Fort Victoria, where Lake Kyle, a giant irrigation project, is slowly being filled. It is expected to spill over the dam during the coming rainy season.

The Rotarians are holding a sweep on guesses as to the time and date the water will spill. It is reminiscent of the betting on the breakup of the ice in northern Canada.

But this is just small change compared with some of the gambling. Each month the state lottery with a first prize of $80,000 is drawn. Recently a ticket bearing the pseudonym Oh Canada won the big prize but officials said it wasn't won by a Canadian.

CASINOS BUSY

At the two casinos at Victoria Falls and Kariba the turnover is tremendous. "American" blackjack (unlike anything seen at Las Vegas), roulette, poker, chemin de fer and slot machines are always busy. The two casinos regularly hit the road to visit Salisbury and small towns for agricultural shows and charities.

Racing—both thoroughbred and trotting—is staged almost every Saturday and Sunday on the Calendar.

Here the betting on totalizator or through legal bookmakers is almost endlessly varied. It ranges from straight win and place bets—down as far as fourth place—to predicting the winners of a series of races. Doubles and quinellas are just as popular.

At the trotting the betting is even more varied. Races see the field divided into four or five groups and the punters have to predict, in order, from which groups first and second will come.

POOLS POPULAR

At race meetings there are often delays on the day's card while major races from South Africa are rebroadcast. On these races both the club totalisator and the bookmakers will accept bets up until race time.

Football pools are run during the winter on local soccer games and this form of betting is probably the most popular with Africans.

Newspapers regularly carry pictures of winners of four-figure sums for bets of as little as 10 cents.

Local sports clubs cash in on the gambling fever with regular party evenings where at least two or three crown-and-anchor boards are in operation. Most of the clubs restrict bets to a maximum of 50 cents but others allow bigger bets.

No bar is complete without its set of dice. Games range from the straight throwing to the exotic "Enkeldoorn poker" where each player has a set of dice and the bets double, starting at 25 cents. In just eight bets the stakes become $32 from every player still in the game.

HOUSEWIVES AND MOTHERS SHOULD BE HEARD.

WHY NOT?

Any woman who is a housewife and a mother has what is possibly the most demanding career in the world. Think about it.

It's exhausting and rewarding. It's satisfying and frustrating, stimulating and boring. It's lonely, it's frantic, it's physical and mental.

Think about all the specialized jobs we perform every day of our lives. Jobs which, outside the home, command a lot of respect. Nurse, teacher, psychologist, chef, accountant, interior designer, chauffeur, electrician and plumber. We are all these and more.

In addition to being homemakers, we are often partners to our husbands working on the family farm, at the fish dock, in the store or service station. And, in many instances, we work at a second full-time career outside the home.

To most of the five million women in Canada who choose homemaking as a career, it's a rich and rewarding one.

Right now the great push to equality leaves many of us wondering where we fit into today's society.

The answer is—front and centre.

Sure there is a move towards greater individual freedom. A movement to free both women and men from stereotyped roles. Freedom of choice and opportunity. Freedom to pursue lifestyles of equality.

This is how it should be.

And the most equal person in the world should be the homemaker.

The whole social structure of the home and community revolves around us. We are the pivot of society.

The next time someone says "only a housewife"—challenge that remark.

We are much more—our vote can help change the laws; our purchases as consumers can affect the economy; our voice on school boards can improve our children's education; our concern for the community can change for the better the quality of all our lives.

This is the year for housewives to take their rightful place in society.

The family*Bridal Shower

DANVILLE — On Saturday afternoon, February 15 Miss Irena Frost of Mississauga, who will be an Easter bride, was the guest of honour at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Robert Gartsch, Asbestos, with Mrs. Kenneth Frost and Mrs. Denis Dubois of Danville as co-hostesses. On her arrival Miss Frost was presented with a corsage of carnations, with bronze measuring spoons as a background and tied to a duplicate of the invitations which had been sent out to the well over twenty relatives who had gathered there for the occasion. While she was seated in a chair with multi-colored streamers, the hostess presented her with an umbrella filled with gaily wrapped parcels. Assisted by her mother, Mrs. Ernest Frost and by her future mother-in-law, Mrs. Marion Blemings of Melbourne, she opened the many gifts, which were passed among the guests.

Irena expressed her appreciation for the lovely gifts and for the party, which gave her the opportunity of seeing all her aunts and cousins at this time. Lunch was served, buffet style in the dining room, pleasantly decorated with lighted pink tapers and a large shower cake beautifully frosted by Mrs. Dubois in dainty pastel flowers. Also featured on the table was the bride and groom cake decoration which had been on Mrs. Gartsch's wedding cake. This was most appropriate, as Irena had chosen her wedding date. After Irena had bid farewell to the guests, she accompanied her mother to the hospital to visit her dad, who has been a patient there for the past four weeks to carry him his snack of goodies from the party.

On the same evening Mrs. Manville Williams and Mrs. Ray McMorine entertained friends and neighbours at a shower at Mrs. Williams' home, Water St. There, the bride-to-be was escorted to a chair in front of the living room window, which was gaily decorated with cupids and with red and white streamers. Before her were a large number of parcels, all beautifully wrapped in white paper and decorated with fluted ribbons, hearts and cupids. Once again, she had a corsage pinned on her, this time by Mrs. Williams, while Mrs. McMorine presented one to Mrs. Blemings and Miss Judy Williams did the honours for Mrs. Frost. Several pictures were taken before Irena commenced to open the gifts. Upon opening parcels, she found a complete kitchen set of canisters, bread box and garbage pail, as well as several smaller items, bathroom scales which will match her color scheme and a set of TV trays on a stand in woodgrain. To these friends, who had been very close to her since early childhood, Irena could only say "thanks a million" for all their kindness and to the hostesses — close family friends — she offered her sincere thanks.

In the dining room the lace covered table was centered with a Valentine centerpiece and flanked by lighted red candles in glass holders. Needless to say, once again there was a delicious lunch, with Miss Judy Williams assisting in serving it.

Many other plans were fully discussed with the members, the meeting closing with the Mizpah.

Following the service, Mr.

and Mrs. Denney entertained at a reception in their home where a luncheon was served.

Attending, in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Philip, were Kristen's paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Denney, Rock Island, her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey Denney, Derby Line.

St. Peter's A.C.W.

is planned for April 24, and a Coffee Party too will be held in April.

Our "forgotten patient" has a birthday April 6 and members wish to make her a gift. It was suggested that a birthday box be established, to which members may make donations for their own birthdays for such purposes. A card has been sent to Bishop Mathews wishing him a speedy and complete recovery.

The next meeting will be held March 11 (Tuesday) at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

A brunch for cholesterol watchers

By Aileen Claire
NEA Food Editor

Brunches are very popular during the holidays. Those who enjoy eating but must watch their cholesterol count won't be left out this year. They can eat such treats as special egg dishes, muffins, French toast, cakes and pancakes when these are made with cholesterol-free egg substitutes and skim milk.

2 tablespoons chopped mushrooms
2 tablespoons tomato sauce
2 tablespoons salt

Heat margarine in a 10-inch skillet over low heat. Add cholesterol-free egg substitute. Begin to stir when edges start to set. Stir only occasionally until set. For each serving, spoon 1/4 of scrambled egg on a toasted muffin half. Generously spoon mushroom sauce over eggs. Serve with remaining muffin half and broiled tomato. Makes 4 servings.

Cook over low heat stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil.

2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
6 tablespoons English muffins

Pour cholesterol-free egg substitute into a heavy 10-inch skillet. Cover tightly. Hold over very low heat just until firm to the touch, about 15 minutes. Cool. Remove from skillet in large pieces. Cut into small cubes. Melt margarine in saucepan over medium heat. Add celery and green pepper and sauté 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Blend in flour, salt and curry powder. Gradually stir in skim milk. Bring mixture to a boil, stirring constantly. Simmer 1 minute. Fold in diced eggs and pimiento; heat through. Serve on toasted English muffin halves, with remaining muffin halves on side. Makes 6 servings.

POTATO PANCAKES

1/2 cup cholesterol-free egg substitute
3 cups cubed raw potatoes
1 medium sized onion, cut up
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon white pepper
Margarine
Applesauce

Place cholesterol-free egg substitute in blender container. Add potatoes, onion, flour, salt and pepper. Whirl until cubes are well grated and the mixture is evenly rough in consistency. Pour into bowl. For each pancake, pour 1/4 cup batter onto hot, lightly greased griddle. Fry on both sides until well browned, about 3 minutes per side. Serve hot with applesauce. Makes about 1 dozen pancakes.

Food pages no more a woman's domain

By Gaynor Maddox

Fifteen years ago The New York Times made a man its food editor. The women food editors of the land were shocked, surprised and skeptical. Today Craig Claiborne is recognized throughout the world as one of our leading food writers.

The trend toward using men for food and nutrition articles continues. Inflation and depression are partly responsible. Experienced general reporters are now using their investigative training to report on the rapidly changing food picture. In other words, food news of food appears on other pages in a newspaper these days as well as in the women's or family spot.

There are currently about 14 men serving as food editors or writers on American newspapers. William E. Rice, 36, is executive food editor of The Washington Post. After attending the University of Virginia and Columbia School of Journalism, he worked for a time on The Post then left for two years in Europe.

"I actually learned how to cook at the Cordon Bleu in Paris. Then I went to southern France and picked wine grapes. After that I returned to Paris and worked in a bakery. My next venture was running a wine and cookery school," confesses Rice.

"After that, I returned to Washington, D.C., and in The Post's food slot. My ambition was to put food news occasionally on the front page. I did."

Topeka, Kan.'s Journal-Capital has a man food editor on it. So does The Californian in Fresno. In Seattle, Stan Reed runs the food pages of The Post-Intelligencer with the skilled assistance of a woman.

"For years I've been a reporter, editor and manager. I've lived all over the world and I think I've learned the kinds of food people like to eat. That's what I write about. They like a touch of foreign flavor," says Reed, 57, who adds that his wife is a wonderful traveling companion.

In Florida, Harvey Steinman sits at The Miami Herald's food desk. In Hollywood, Fla., Bernie O'Brien writes knowingly about various aspects of food for The Sun-Tatler. There are others in what was once regarded ed as strictly women's business.

In Utica, N.Y., Harold Whittemore is food editor of The Observer-Dispatch-Press. In Waterbury, Conn., Kenneth Carter holds that job on The Republican and newspaper syndicates use many male food and restaurant writers whose articles are featured on pages other than women's pages.

Newsday published in Garden City, Long Island, is widely known for its progressive news policies. A University of Maryland journalism graduate, Arthur Schwartz, 30, is their assistant food editor.

"My grandfather taught me about food. He would cook up a lot of food, put it on his pushcart and wheel it about the town until all was sold. Later when he became a hotel chef, he taught me other ways with food," Schwartz explains proudly.

The food editor of The Philadelphia Inquirer was a general newsman and night city editor for 14 years. He also covered the Vietnam war. For the past five years he has been turning out The Inquirer's two food sections, its Sunday 12-to-20 page food section and two restaurant columns. He does have the assistance of a bright woman who writes a daily thrift recipe.

Ann Landers
Annoyed at airport searches

Dear Ann Landers: I am a frequent traveler who is becoming increasingly irritated by the hand luggage inspection in airports. I missed two planes because I had to stand in line while strangers poked around in my purse, examined my shopping bag and even unwrapped gift packages. Not only is this annoying, but I'm sure if a smart lawyer looked into it he (or she) would discover it violates some constitutional law that has to do with invasion of privacy.

Please respond in print, Ann. Thousands of others must feel as I do. — Irrked Lady At La Guardia

Dear Irl: Sorry about the inconvenience, but here are the facts: Since the airport security checks began in 1973, 66,000 guns and knives have been taken from passengers and more than 3,000 people were arrested for carrying drugs and weapons. Not one successful hijacking has been pulled off in the United States since November of 1972.

I'd say the security checks have proven to be well worth the inconvenience. So cool it, Toots, and give yourself an additional 30 minutes to get to the airport so you don't miss another plane.

Dear Ann Landers: You said recently that you'd keep on giving advice until you or your typewriter fell apart. This letter is to let you know that if your typewriter gives you any trouble, please let me know. My parents gave me a beautiful new electric model for Christmas and I would gladly send it to you if you need it.

I'm a high school senior who grew up reading your column. You taught me many things and saved me from making some big mistakes. It was spooky how many times you came up with the answer to a question that was bugging me that very day. We like what you stand for, Ann Landers, and we want you to stick around for a long time to come. — Seventeen And For

You Dear Seventeen: Your letter is so nice I'm almost ashamed to print it. But I do want to thank you for your generosity. You made my day.

Dear Ann Landers: Do all working couples have this problem or is it just us? My husband does manual labor. I do office work. Vic goes to work at 5:30 a.m. I always get up to prepare him a big breakfast and I fix his lunch-box. Since I don't have to be at work until 8:30 a.m. I hop back into bed for an hour or so after he leaves. Vic resents this terribly and says, "All you do is sleep." Actually, I do the marketing, cooking, cleaning and laundry, as well as put in 40 hours a week at my office job. But he still thinks I have a cinch and keeps telling me that he works much harder than I.

Every evening after supper Vic reads the newspaper and falls asleep in front of the TV. After I finish the dishes I sometimes join him. If I should doze off he wakes me up immediately and demands an explanation as to why I fell asleep. "What have YOU got to be tired about?" is the way he puts it. What's the matter with him anyway? Or am I wrong? — Boise Boob

Dear Boise: The guy probably feels guilty because you are working harder than he is, and he knows it. Just add up those hours spent on marketing, cooking, cleaning and laundry and tack them on to your 40 hours a week in the office and you'll get the picture, baby.

Senior citizens entertained

ROCK ISLAND — A good number of people gathered in Stanstead South church hall on Thursday afternoon, February 13 for the Valentine party.

A buffet luncheon was served at 1:15 p.m. from a table having a Valentine ornament and consisted of a variety of hot casseroles, salads and squares for dessert.

Miss Pearl Dorman spoke the blessing. After dinner a short program took place. A welcome was extended the group, and especially Mrs. Harry Goodall, who has been ill since the end of 1974, all being pleased to have her looking so much better in health.

Four Valentine thought cards were signed and sent to absent people on the sick list. Three prizes were claimed, by Mrs. Goodall, Mrs. B. MacLeod and Mrs. Roland Gagnon.

Two poems, The Month of Valentines, and A Valentine, were read.

For the remainder of the afternoon, cards of players' choice were played at several tables. It was by popular vote of the attendance to have the March gathering a luncheon gathering at 1:15 p.m. in the church hall.

Colonial Inflation During the Revolutionary War years, paper money became worthless. But its value is picking up as the U.S. Bicentennial draws near.

Professor discovers supertree

VANCOUVER (CP) — A University of British Columbia forestry professor has discovered a super-tree—a type of lodge pole pine—growing high on the mountains of the Yukon Territory.

The tree survived while whole forests at lower elevations were obliterated by the devastating glacial force during the last great ice age, said Dr. Oszkar Sziklai.

He said it takes a tough tree to survive at the 4,000-foot level in the Yukon, where temperatures reach 97 degrees in summer and drop to 80 below zero in winter and where perhaps only six to 12 inches of soil are free of permafrost.

Dr. Sziklai is trying to develop genetically superior trees whose progeny will one day help populate commercial forests with tall, relatively knot-free trees containing 10 to 15 per cent more wood than present forests.

Dr. Sziklai made the discovery by accident when he accepted the use of a helicopter from the Yukon Forest Service.

SPOTTED IN CLUSTERS

Lodge pole pines are not supposed to grow at elevations higher than 3,000 feet.

"We were flying at 3,500 feet and I spotted lodge pole pine and I said there must be some mistake. Then we saw the same thing at 4,000 feet. The pilot landed the helicopter and I was able to confirm that this was lodge pole pine. It was very exciting. The trees covered an extensive area.

While normal lodge pole pines have double needles, the needles on these trees grew in clusters of three. Dr. Sziklai said he has never heard of such a tree.

"A botanist would probably call it a separate species."

The professor took samples of the branches, cones and timber from these trees and is arranging to ship them to Sweden where the research work will be completed by the scientists of two major forest companies who have funded Dr. Sziklai's work on lodge pole pine since 1970.

CUTTINGS GRAFTED

The idea of special, tough or "plus" trees was developed in Sweden in 1930, said Dr. Sziklai. Much work has been done in British Columbia since 1957 when 450 plus trees were selected. The work had been done jointly by the B.C. forest service, forest companies and the University of B.C. forestry school.

Because plus trees may be located in difficult terrain and may be hard to find again, a system has been developed where cuttings are taken from certain trees and grafted onto trees in nursery areas.

The initial work of selecting Douglas fir plus trees in B.C. has not been completed and the second stage of hybridizing them and testing their progeny is being started. Early results indicate that this work will give excellent results and lead to superior forests in the future, said Dr. Sziklai.

Dr. Sziklai came to B.C. with 214 other students and faculty members of the Sopron Forestry School who fled from their native Hungary in 1956 during the Soviet invasion. He had completed his undergraduate studies in Hungary but went on to earn his master's degree and PhD at the University of B.C.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

February, the second month of our modern calendar, was named Februarius by the ancient Romans (februare — to purify). It was connected to the divinity Februs, and Faunus, a Pan-like god, whose great feast of purification, Lupercalia, was celebrated on the 15th of the month with animal sacrifices, magic circles and fertility rites. The World Almanac notes.

The famous playwright and wit George Kaufman once said that there were two ways to tell when a certain player held a good hand. First, his face would light up; then he'd misplay it.

South's face lit up like a Christmas tree and it didn't take him 10 seconds to boom out his seven-spade bid.

It took him even less time to misplay it and go one down. At tricks two and three he cashed the ace and king of hearts. Then he ruffed a heart, returned to his hand with a second club and tried to ruff another heart. Unfortunately for him, that mean old East overruffed and the grand slam had left permanently for never-never land.

How did South misplay the hand?

He was right in trying to ruff two hearts; he was wrong in how he went about doing it.

South should cash just one high heart and ruff the second one. Then back to his hand to ruff another. Then he would cash dummy's queen of trumps; get back to his hand by ruffing a club or diamond. Either suit would go through. Then he could draw trumps and claim.

Humbert's rink wins Sherbrooke Mixed

Lloyd Humbert of the Lennoxville Curling Club posted a 9-3 win over Len Loach's Lennoxville rink to cop the main event in the Sherbrooke Mixed Borspiel Saturday evening and emerge with the Ernie Taylor Memorial Trophy.

In the Consolation section Cliff Allen and his Sherbrooke rink eked out a close 7-6 victory over Stan Rowe and his Lennoxville quartet to win the Balfour Trophy. The outcome was only decided with the final stone of the match.

In the Humbert-Loach battle Skip Humbert opened with a big-three end and then added one counter in the second. Skip Loach got one in the third but the Humbert rink bounced back with a four-end and from then on it was tough sledding for the Loach rink.

The Loach foursome just couldn't get untracked and this didn't help their cause. After six ends it was 8-1 for the Humbert crew. In the seventh Loach and his rink finally got two on the board but they then conceded the match to Lloyd Humbert and his rink.

In the Balfour duel it was close and the outcome was only decided with the final stone of the game. After four ends the score was deadlocked at 3-3. In the next end it was the skips who had the outcome in their hands and finally Skip Allen made a take-out to stay

Close games in Ladies curling playdowns

MONCTON, N.B. (CP) — Sharon Grigg, whose Medicine Hat rink is rated highly at the Canadian women's curling championship along with Saskatchewan, almost snatched defeat from the jaws of victory in her opening-round game Sunday night.

The Alberta foursome did manage to struggle to a 7-6 win over British Columbia, represented by Marion Radcliffe, but not before the Kelowna four came within a whisker of tying the match on the final end.

"It was going quite well as far as my team was going," said Sharon, a native of Moose Jaw, Sask.

"But it was just myself really. We had numerous chances to count two and three. I'd either just get a piece or was heavy on the draw."

Despite the struggle, Sharon heads into the next two rounds today sharing first place with Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Ontario and Newfoundland, all with first-round victories.

HOST LOSES

Jean Mogh of Souris, Man., trimmed Lee Tobin's Quebec rink from Montreal, 10-6; Marj Mitchell of Regina and her defending-champion Saskatchewan entry won in another struggle, 9-8 over Nova Scotia's Phyllis MacDonald from Halifax; Bea Cole of London led Ontario to a 10-5 win over host New Brunswick, skipped by Ivy Lord of Saint John, and Gail Hiscock's Newfoundland entry from St. John's handled Diane Blanchard of Charlottetown, P.E.I., 10-5.

Today at 2 p.m. AST, both Alberta and Saskatchewan will try to regain their touch in games with Quebec and Newfoundland respectively.

Elsewhere in the second round, Prince Edward Island faces New Brunswick, British Columbia goes against Manitoba and Ontario plays Nova Scotia.

At 8 p.m., it's Saskatchewan vs. B.C., New Brunswick vs. Alberta, Quebec vs. Newfoundland, P.E.I. vs. Nova Scotia and Manitoba vs. Ontario.

SADECKI SIGNED

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Left-handed pitcher Ray Sadecki has won his arbitration suit with St. Louis Cardinals and will receive an estimated $55,000 for the 1975 National League baseball season. The Cards, who announced the decision this week, were reported to have offered Sadecki $48,000.

Fitzsimons cops Campbell-L.A. Open

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "I thought if I shot 65 I would win," said Jack Nicklaus. "I didn't know how this young boy would react."

Nicklaus shot his 65, but he didn't win.

That's because the reaction of the young boy, Pat Fitzsimons, was a string of 14 consecutive pars—a hard-won string put together in the face of growing pressure—that secured his first professional triumph in Sunday's final round of the Glen Campbell-Los Angeles Open golf tournament.

Fitzsimons was staked to a six-shot lead by his course-record 64 in Saturday's third round and clinched it with a steady one-under-par 70 over the last 18 holes of the 7,028-yard Riviera Country Club course.

He won by four strokes with a 275 total. The big lead starting the final round was the difference.

"With a six-stroke lead, you want to concede yourself the victory, but you can't do that," the 24-year-old Fitzsimons said.

"It's like looking at a three-foot putt for six hours. If you make it, people say, 'Well, that's what he's supposed to do.' If you miss it, they say,

"How in the world could he blow something like that?"

"Blowing a six-shot lead could be a devastating thing."

KITE SECOND

Tom Kite, who birdied three of four holes on the back nine for a 68, finished second at 279.

Nicklaus, who started play 10 strokes back in the mild, sunny weather of the final round, made up the lost ground but finished five behind at 280.

Tom Wiskopf and Hale Irwin were next at 282, Irwin with a closing 67, Wiskopf with a 68. Tom Watson, Billy Casper, Jim Dent and Jerry McGee were at 283.

Casper shot a last round 69, McGee and Dent 70, Watson 71.

Johnny Miller never got in the chase. He had a triple-bogey seven on his second hole and finished with a 74-287.

Ben Kern of Toronto shot a 79 for a 303 total worth $229. Fitzsimons won a combined total of less than $27,000 in his first two seasons on the tour and last year had to drop out of action for a couple of months when his money ran out.

He collected $30,000 from the total purse of $150,000 in this tournament.

RCGA board announces rule changes for Junior-Willingdon Cup matches

At the recent RCGA Board meeting a number of changes have been instituted in 1975 for both the Canadian Junior Championship and Willingdon Cup Matches.

CANADIAN JUNIOR GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

The entry format of the Canadian Junior and Juvenile Golf Championship has been changed to a Qualifying System in lieu of the handicap limitation format of previous years.

Provincial Junior tournaments are to be used wherever possible for the qualifying rounds and the first 36 holes will count as the contestant's qualifying scores. A junior qualifier must average not more than a maximum of 10 strokes over course rating per round, while the limitation on juveniles will be an average of not more than a maximum of 12 strokes over course rating per round.

Foreign entries must have approved handicaps of 3 strokes or less for juniors and 5 strokes or less for juveniles. If more than 30 foreign entries are received, a qualifying round (36 holes) will be held at the site of the championship. The qualifying criteria will be the same criteria that is utilized for provincial qualifiers. Foreign entries will be limited to a maximum of 10 per cent of the field.

Exemptions are to be given to:

(1) All players who made the 36 hole cut in any previous Canadian Junior and Juvenile Golf Championship.

(2) All provincial Junior and Juvenile champions of the current year.

(3) All members of the Junior Interprovincial 4-man teams selected to represent their province at the Canadian Junior.

In the event of a tie in the Junior Interprovincial team matches, the best 3 of 4 team member scores shall count towards determining a winner.

CANADIAN AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIP WILLINGDON CUP MATCHES:

The Willingdon Cup Matches will be played in conjunction with the first two rounds of the Canadian Amateur, thus reducing the competitive week from six (6) to four (4) days.

In the event of a tie in the Willingdon Cup Matches, the best 3 or 4 team member scores shall count towards determining a winner.

E.T. Trail Riders Club hold meeting,

new plans on tap

The February meeting of the Eastern Townships Trail Riders Club was held at the Lennoxville Town Hall and many items of business were discussed.

The second annual sleigh ride which was held in Kingscroft this year was a great success despite the very cold weather. A supper and dance followed the ride.

An inter-club hockey game will be held in March.

A horse clinic for members will be given by Jack Dreschler, April 12 and 13, at the Centre d'Equitation in St. Denis de Brompton.

With Spring not far away, plans are being made for an inter-club horse show tentatively set for May. Plans are also underway for another two-day trail ride which has proved to be very popular in the past.

The next meeting of the Eastern Townships Trail Riders Club will be held March 21st, at the Lennoxville Town Hall. New members are welcome to come and join in the work and fun of the club.

Expos appoint Monique Giroux to PR staff, Dave Leonhard is named player-coach of Quebec

MONTREAL — Monique Giroux has been named Administrative Assistant in the Montreal Expos' Public Relations Department. The appointment was announced by John McHale, president of the club.

"The appointment is a well-deserved recognition of her outstanding work and service in publicity to press, radio, television and to the fans," McHale said.

Giroux has worked as a secretary in the Expos' Public Relations Department since November 1968. She now assumes wider responsibilities in the day-to-day operation of the Department, working with Larry Chiasson, Director of the Department, and Rodger Brulotte, Assistant Director.

EXPOS ADD NEW FILMS TO FILM LIBRARY

The Montreal Expos have added a series of new baseball films to their film library.

Two of the films are annual additions — the "1974 World Series", available in French and English, and the "1974 All-Star Game". The two films feature highlights of Baseball's Blue Ribbon events.

Another recent addition is "All-Star Pitching Tips", a sequel to the previously issued "All-Star Bunting Tips".

These and other films, all 16 mm in color with sound, are available free of charge to groups for public showing. Groups can make arrangements for borrowing of films by contacting Monique Giroux of the Expos' Public Relations Department.

Edge Sorel 4-3 on Sunday

Beavers back on winning ways

SHERBROOKE — A pair of weekend victories lifted the Sherbrooke Beavers out of a recent slump and increased their lead in the Quebec Major Junior Hockey League's west division over Cornwall by two points.

The Beavers came from behind in the first period Friday to post a 6-2 win over Chicoutimi Saguenéens in front of 3,867 fans at the Sports Palace. It was their first victory on home ice after their two last home matches ended in losses.

Last night, Claude Larose's goal with 33 seconds remaining in the game clinched a 4-3 edging over Sorel Black Hawks.

The wins were the 40th and 41st in the regular campaign for Sherbrooke, but several big games are coming which are must wins to stay on top. Tuesday they head to Chicoutimi and before they return to the Sports Palace on Friday against the Shawinigan Dynamos, they play the Draveurs in Trois-Rivières.

Claude Larose opened the scoring at the 3:44 mark but the Sags bounced right back and tallied twice within 25

Rivières. These games are especially important for the Delage delegation.

On Friday the team didn't get rolling until the final period. They showed some signs in the middle session but it took the third before they could wrap up the decision. The Beavers seemed tired and played in a lackadaisical manner. Time after time they lacked the extra punch to finish off their plays.

Body-checking, which has been a big factor in their past games, was lacking and the speedy Saguenéens roamed at will. Francois Robert was the only player in the game who really dished it out. In the second period they commenced and turned in a better performance. Chicoutimi outshot the locals 17-11 in opening frame while in the second Sherbrooke had 17 to 6 advantage. In the final frame it was 16 to 10 for Sherbrooke.

Claude Larose opened the scoring at the 3:44 mark but the Sags bounced right back and tallied twice within 25 seconds and moved out in front. Francois Robert evened the count when he was left uncovered in front and batted home the loose disc.

In the middle period the Beavers came alive and they peppered Jean Belisle but failed to flash the red light. Finally Peter Marsh with his mates hemmed in the opposition as Simpson and Green kept driving and when Marsh was left alone he got the loose disc to drive it behind Belisle. Coach Delage left the trio on and they came right back 12 seconds later as Green put Simpson in the clear and he let go with a hard wing-shot to beat Delisle and give the locals a 4-2 lead just before the frame ended.

The Beavers were all over Delisle and company at start of third frame but the agile net-boy kept them at bay. Larose and Tessier had good chances but Delisle robbed them in succession. Lahache got the nod but the Beavers came up with some good clearing to hold the fort.

Mark Green extended the lead when he finished a nice passing play with Michel Brisebois and Jere Gillis and 22 seconds later Marc Tessier potted the final tally of the game and that was it for the Sags as the Beavers held on till the final siren.

Nick Sanza made a terrific save when Marc D'Amico got in alone and had the local boy at his mercy but Sanza came up with the grab. He came right back but was baffled again. The Beavers looked like the squad of former time and with the wings back-checking the defense blocked the centre and this had the Sags out-guessed.

The Beavers drove a total of 41 shots at Delisle while Sanza had to turn aside a total of 32 during the tilt. Claude Larose and Francois Robert were the best for the Beavers while Daniel Lecours along with Marc D'Amico and Serge Dubois, on the blueline, were the best for the Sags.

Coach Yvan Gingras stated he wasn't in favor of the recent story which came out of Chicoutimi regarding paying the players a bonus of $10 for a goal and $5 for an assist. He claimed it hurt the club's drive but the club executive decided on it. He did not have anything to say on the matter. He voiced his opinion but it didn't change anything.

Coach Delage claims it will hurt the league and put some clubs in a precarious position with their players. He doesn't see where it will help, or make the players dig more. Time will tell what the outcome will be, further added Coach Delage.

In Sunday's match, Richard Mulhern's first period goal, along with singles from Robert Desormeaux and Michel Brisebois in the second gave the Beavers a 3-0 lead after 27 minutes of play. The Black Hawks came back with two goals in the second and added another in the third to even the score before Larose's thrilling tally.

Nick Sanza blocked 34 of 37 shots on the Sherbrooke net, while Claude Legris faced 28 drives from the Beavers. A total of 26 minutes in penalties was called by the referee in the contest.

Shawinigan Dynamos are scheduled to play their sixth game in nine nights tonight when they play host to Cornwall Royals and at the moment, it would seem the Dynamos could use a rest from their Quebec Major Junior Hockey League opponents.

Since last Sunday, the Dynamos have lost all five games they have played and in the process, have been outscored 59-18.

Their latest loss came in Hull Sunday night as the Festivals skated to a 13-4 win. In other games, Trois-Rivières Draveurs defeated Quebec Remparts 6-1. Montreal Juniors topped Cornwall 5-2 and Chicoutimi Saguenéens blasted Laval Nationals 7-3. Saturday, Trois-Rivières clipped Hull 6-1.

At Hull, Jim Montgomery scored three goals and added five assists and team-mate Ted Bulley had three goals and four assists to lead Hull to an easy win over the Dynamos, who are mired in last place in the league's East Division.

Montgomery's outburst gave him 47 goals and 79 assists for 126 points on the year and a tie for second place in the scoring race with Jean Trotter of Laval. Michel Bossy of the Nationals leads the league with 129 points on 74 goals and 55 assists.

SCORED TWO EACH

Garry McFayden and Denis Pomerleau each had a pair of goals for Hull with singles going to Ted Zajac, Scott Hunter and Jim Vanni.

Buffalo, the Adams Division leader with 88 points, was also the over-all league leader today with Montreal, tops in the Norris Division, second with 86 points.

Rick Martin scored his 37th and 38th goals of the season to lead the Buffalo attack.

At New York, Bill Fairbairn pounced on a bouncing puck to score the winning goal.

Rene Hamelin, Benoit Plouffe, Richard Dubreuil and J. P. Gobeil scored for the Dynamos.

Hull outshot Shawinigan 51-22.

Trois-Rivières extended its lead atop the East Division to six points with the win over the second-place Remparts.

Mario Rouillard, Pierre Lagace, Gaby Jourdain, Michel Comtois, Claude Periard and Guy Crevier scored for the Draveurs with Gaetan Boucher notching the lone Quebec goal.

HAD TWO APIECE
Jean-Luc Phaneuf and Normand Dupont scored two goals apiece Sunday as Montreal defeated Cornwall for the third time on in Montreal.

Mike Wong scored the other Montreal goal with Pierre Brassard and Daniel Geoffrion replying for the Royals.

Marc d'Amico and Claude Giguere scored two goals each to lead the Saguenéens past the Nationals.

Jean-Paul Leblanc, Michel Tremblay and Yves Lozeau scored the other goals for the Saguenéens with Denis Roy, Bossy and Mario Piacente replying for the Nationals.

Aside from the Cornwall-Shawinigan clash, Laval plays host to Montreal tonight.

Local teams fare poorly on weekend

LENOXVILLE (BP) — Home-town teams did poorly over the weekend, chalking up a pair of wins against six losses.

The Bishop's basketball squad defeated McGill 77-50, while the Champlain hockey team squashed Rochester Institute of Technology 7-1. In other games, the BU women's hockey team lost a pair of encounters while the CRC puck squad did the same. The Gaiters basketball team dropped a loss.

Thursday, the Polar Bears met Loyola University in Montreal and returned home with a 6-1 defeat. Ann Perrier scored for Bishop's, assisted by Sandy MacDonald, in the second period. Goalie Louise Drainville allowed six of 39 shots on net to go in.

In Friday's contest, the McGill Old Girls blanked the local contingent 6-0. McGill led 2-0 and 5-0 after the first two periods of play. Marilyn Stanes scored a hat-trick for the Old Girls, while Sue Paquette had two and Debbie Mullins scored once.

In men's basketball action, the Gaiters split their weekend, defeating McGill and losing to Loyola. Bill Stinnie led the locals with 17 points in their win, with Steve Etcheverry and Arnold Dolphin following with 14 and 13 respectively. Mike Dudgeon scored 10 points. Bishop's had a 42-29 half-time edge and didn't let it go in the second half.

Saturday's match against the Warriors was close until the last minutes when Loyola poured on the coal and notched a big lead. With the half-time scoring at 48-43 in Loyola's favor, Bishop's held them for a while but finally dropped a 101-82 decision. Stinnie was high scorer for Bishop's with 35 and Dolphin was next with 25. Both games were good team exhibitions proving the BU squad could get away from its individualism. But, alas, the season is now finished and the pit has seen its last Bishop's home game. The contests next season will be played in the new sports complex.

The Champlain men's hockey team played two games at a tournament in Plattsburg, N.Y. and started off their semi-final round of league competition against Loyola Jayvees Braves.

Chris Mitchell, Bruce Yates, John Mills with two and Paul Bourgault with another swamped the RIT squad 7-1. In the championship final of the tournament against Plattsburg State College, the Cougars lost 10-8, after blowing a 7-2 lead in the match. The team won the runner-up trophy and three Champlain players, goalie Barry McCormick and forwards Yates and Mills were named to the all-star team for the tourney.

In the playoff tilt, first place Loyola clobbered CRC 11-1. Tom Hunting scored the lone Champlain goal at 15:25 of the third period. The Braves took 3-0 and 9-0 leads after the opening and middle periods. Kim Norris started the game in Champlain's nets and was replaced by Glen Zakaib in the third.

The BU men's hockey squad lost to Sir George Williams University 5-3 in Montreal on Saturday, finishing their regular season schedule.

2,370 turned out for Ski Marathon

CANTLEY, Que. (CP) — Snow conditions were poor Saturday and Sunday as 2,370 entrants heaved their way through the eighth annual Canadian Ski Marathon.

Starting in Lachute, Que., Saturday they travelled all or part of a 100-mile course that ended here Sunday evening. EVENING.

Of this group, 450 persons attempted to travel the whole route and win either gold, silver or bronze awards.

To win the gold medal required travelling the 100-mile distance with a 12-pound pack and camping out overnight. The silver-medal winners did not have to camp out and the bronze winners had only to cover the total distance.

Six of 94 starters won gold awards. They are Richard Goodfellow of Montreal, Donald Johnston of Ottawa, Stephen Price of Vancouver, Gosta Evardson of Beaconsfield, Que., Neil Weiss of Lorraine, Que., and Thor Vikstrom of Laval, Que.

"It was a waker's nightmare," one official said Sunday night. "The snow was heavy and changing and it was hot."

WEATHER HOT
Temperatures ranging into the 40s made skiing hard work. "Everyone was watching everyone else to see what wax they were using and how it was working," the official said.

There were 15 silver medal winners and 28 bronze winners, including Pierluga Niglorini and Grinn Uslendhi of the seven-member Italian team taking part.

The champion family tour team was Malcolm, Judy, Gail and Mark Adams of Montreal with a total of 240 miles skied—60 miles each.

The top men's touring team—with a total of 320 miles, was Pierre Leclerc, Jean Speth, Evariste Lavoie and Tom Dennis, Quebec City, while the top women's team—with a total 220 miles—was Chantal Potier, Louise Martineau, Jorj Wills and Aileen Jibin of Montreal.

Winner of the Governor-General's award for covering 80 miles in nine hours, 56 minutes was Calevi Orkarannan of Finland followed at 10:14 by teammate Arto Tienen and at 10:36 by Per Haagenrud of Norway.

The annual event since 1967 is the longest such cross-country marathon in the world, rivaled only by the Vsa Lopp event in Sweden.

Red Wings riding high on good performances

Detroit Red Wings today are riding a three-game winning streak and much of the credit is going to goalie Jim Rutherford and centre Marcel Dionne.

The Wings, who have little hope of ever catching Pittsburgh Penguins for the third playoff spot in the National Hockey League's Norris Division, started their current streak with a 4-3 win over Philadelphia Flyers last Wednesday and then extended it Saturday by the same score against Atlanta Flames.

Sunday, the Wings earned their third win by a 3-1 count against the Penguins with Dionne scoring his 34th goal of the season and Rutherford, a former Penguins player, providing excellent goaltending against a 37-shot Pittsburgh attack.

In other NHL games Sunday, New York Rangers beat Philadelphia 2-1, Buffalo Sabres defeated Toronto Maple Leafs 4-1. St. Louis Blues whipped Washington Capitals 7-2, Kansas City Scouts defeated Minnesota North Stars 4-2, Chicago Black Hawks blanked Atlanta Flames 4-0 and Los Angeles Kings tied 2-2 against California Seals.

Saturday, Pittsburgh edged St. Louis 3-2, Minnesota upset Vancouver Canucks 4-1, Toronto beat the Rangers 5-2, New York Islanders upset Montreal Canadiens 7-6, Chicago whipped Washington 10-3 and Los Angeles shut out Boston 6-0.

FIRST SINCE DECEMBER
The Wings' victory at Pittsburgh was their first on the road since they defeated Boston Dec. 5. And it was the first loss at home for Pittsburgh since the Nov. 27 defeat by Montreal.

"We just weren't sharp and even seemed to be listless for part of the second period," said Penguin coach Marc Boileau. He was ruefully impressed with Rutherford's goaltending, saying

Rutherford "always seems to play well against us."

Dionne, who led the Wings with two goals in Saturday's win against Atlanta, scored an unassisted short-handed goal on a breakaway at 13:26 of the second period. Chuck Arnason tied the score for Pittsburgh three minutes later, but Dionne came back in the third period to set up Walt McKechnie for the winning score.

Buffalo, the Adams Division leader with 88 points, was also the over-all league leader today with Montreal, tops in the Norris Division, second with 86 points.

Rick Martin scored his 37th and 38th goals of the season to lead the Buffalo attack.

At New York, Bill Fairbairn pounced on a bouncing puck to score the winning goal.

Nordiques break jinx, Whalers continue hex

Quebec Nordiques broke a jinx Sunday night while New England Whalers continued their hex over Winnipeg Jets in World Hockey Association play.

The Nordiques won their first game in four outings against San Diego Mariners with a 6-4 home-ice win while the Whalers ran their record against the Jets this season to 3-0 with a 2-1 overtime victory in Winnipeg.

In other action, Houston Aeros bombed Toronto Toros 5-1, Edmonton Oilers edged Minnesota Fighting Saints 6-4, Chicago Cougars nipped Vancouver Blazers 2-1 and Indianapolis Racers blanked Cleveland Crusaders 6-0.

Saturday night, Cleveland edged Toronto 4-3, Phoenix Roadrunners defeated Baltimore Blades 3-1 and Vancouver downed Houston 4-2.

Renald Leclerc's goal at 15:22 of the second period snapped a 3-3 tie and the Nordiques went on to record their 37th win of the year and open an eight-point bulge atop the Canadian Division.

"Leclerc has never skated like he did tonight this season," said Nordiques coach Jean-Guy Gendron. "He was good out there."

COACH HAPPY
"I am happy we could win against a well-balanced team like that one."

Wayne Rivers scored three goals for the Mariners to run his total to 42 for the year but it was not enough.

"We were really flat in the first period," noted coach Harry Howell. "We were flat and they were flying. When the Nordiques are flying, you have to hit them. We didn't do it."

By a slender margin

Quebec wins Winter Games title

LETHBRIDGE, Alta. (CP) — Ontario has come back to the pack after virtually owning the first two editions of the Canada Winter Games.

Quebec is the new champion, but by the slenderest of margins—three points over second-place British Columbia and four over dethroned Ontario.

The Quebec contingent ended the third Winter Games Saturday with 219 points, only 2½ more than in Saskatoon in 1971 when it finished third, but enough to win in a competition that was more evenly matched than ever before.

Ontario, which won the inaugural Winter Games in Quebec City in 1967 by 18 points over B.C. and took the 1971 renewal by almost the same margin over the same province, dropped 38 points to finish with 215. British Columbia finished second for the third straight time with 216 points, a drop of 19 from Saskatoon, and Alberta was fourth for the third time with 197.

Cashing in on the benefits of a strong program designed to bring opportunities for athletic excellence to all parts of the province, Quebec took top spot in seven of the 22 men's and women's sports.

That was an abrupt reversal of the Saskatoon result that saw Ontario win in 10 divisions and Quebec in three.

2,000 TOOK PART
Points at the Winter Games, in which more than 2,000 athletes from the 10 provinces and two territories participated for 11 days, are awarded on the basis of 12 for a first-place finish in a sport, 11 for second, 10 for third and so on down to one for 12th.

Even though athletes from a province win the most golds in a sport, however, it doesn't necessarily mean the team will pick up top points. For example, Alberta won three of the 11 boxing golds but B.C., with two, had a strong enough performance from other team members to finish on top.

"Most of the other teams have come up significantly since 1971," said Bob Secord, director of the Ontario sports and recreation bureau.

Ontario has long depended on a sophisticated sports program run by individual groups but it now seems likely to pattern itself after Quebec, which is spending $25 million this year to provide money and coaching for athletics throughout the province.

"It appears that there may be the need for more government participation if levels of excellence are to be raised significantly," said Secord, adding that he expects this to come from the new ministry of culture and recreation.

Ontario has also been in the habit of holding its own winter games a few weeks before the national competition to pick its team. That probably won't happen again.

"We have concluded we must pick our teams 11 months before so they can get more intensive training as a group, although there will always be room for the kid who later comes out of the woodwork."

And he ended with a warning: "It has now been shown that Ontario can be had. Next time we'll be out to show that Quebec can be had."

Ice island created in Arctic

CALGARY (CP) — The company that drilled the world's first offshore gas well from a floating ice platform, Panarctic Oils Ltd. of Calgary, is obviously of the opinion that two are better than one in the Canadian Arctic Islands.

Panarctic has built two ice platforms eight miles east of Drake Point, on Melville Island's Sabine Peninsula 1,700 miles north of Calgary.

One will be used to support drilling equipment to test the offshore extension of the Drake Point field, the first of five major gas fields discovered by Panarctic. The other will be used only if there is an underwater blow-out.

Panarctic, owned 45 per cent by the federal government and 55 per cent by a consortium of 30 private companies, now has identified 13 trillion cubic feet of natural gas reserves, mainly from the Drake Point, King Christian, Kristoffer Bay, Thor Island and Hecla fields.

While results of the energy search have been described as encouraging by Panarctic president Charles Hetherington, a threshold reserve of at least 30 trillion cubic feet has to be found before commercial development becomes viable.

MAJOR POOL

Panarctic is a member of the Polar Gas Project studying the possibility of a pipeline or other transportation system to bring the Arctic Islands gas, described by the Geological Survey of Canada as one of the nation's major energy pools for future use, to southern markets.

The concept of offshore drilling from floating ice platforms is not new, said Dr. Hans Kivisild of Calgary, vice-president of Foundation of Canada Engineering Corp. Ltd. (Fenco), engineering consultants to Panarctic for the ice platforms.

But "it took 20 years for the concept to be accepted and 25 years for the concept to be implemented," Dr. Kivisild, a Canadian pioneer in ice engineering, said in an interview.

The first major exposure of ice-platform drilling to industry was the engineering feasibility study called Polarquest, commissioned to Fenco and Kenting Ltd. of Calgary by a group of companies interested in Arctic energy exploration five years ago.

But it was Panarctic—not a member commissioning the Polarquest study—which became the first company in the world to employ the technology, Dr. Kivisild said.

CONFIRM FIELD

The first ice platform was built eight miles off the west coast of Sabine Peninsula to confirm the offshore extension of the Hecla field. The well under that platform, Hecla N-52, successfully confirmed that the Hecla field extends at least eight miles and perhaps 20 to 30 miles offshore.

Canusa Unit meets

DERBY LINE — The February 12 meeting of the Stanstead South church Canusa Unit was held that evening at the home of Mrs. Roy Davis in Derby Line.

The president, Mrs. Ted Jewett presided and Mrs. Terrence Walsh conducted the devotional opening. Due to the absence of the secretary no report was heard. The treasurer's report was heard and all were satisfied with the balance.

Money was voted in support of the foster adopted boy. Members were in favor to serve a luncheon in May to a group of Senior Citizens from Pointe Claire. This resulted in the planning of the menu and price which is being forwarded to them for their final decision to come.

The World Day of Prayer will be held on March 7 at the Derby Line Universalist church with two representatives suggested from Stanstead South to be on the organizational meeting and participate in the service.

The March 12 meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Louis Barber in Derby Line at 8:00 p.m.

The meeting adjourned and Mrs. Davis and co-hostess, Mrs. Mary Rumery served refreshments during the social hour.
