Fine Weather Prevails For Farmers' Picnic, July 1st

Good Attendance — Well Rounded Program, Speeches and Sporting Events

Despite the fact that rain has been prevalent for the past several weeks, the weatherman managed to turn on a sunny smile for the annual Farmers' Picnic at Cairnside, on July 1st, the birthday of Canada. It had rained only a day or so previous and it has rained since, but for the Farmers' Picnic there always seems to be ideal weather.

Due no doubt to weather conditions and the fact that many farmers were taking advantage of the nice weather to catch up on some of the delayed work, the attendance was not as great as for some years. However, there was a good attendance both of patrons and ball teams. A well rounded program had been arranged for this picnic which has been held for almost as many years as the birthday of Canada has been celebrated. In fact it has been held for so many years now, that it has become a sort of family institution and many old timers meet here to renew acquaintances.

The Ormstown Band was in attendance and played selections throughout the afternoon and including some solo numbers. Needless to say this was greatly appreciated and enjoyed. The band did a real good job of entertaining and they played well.

A number of speakers addressed the gathering, the first being Professor Moxley of Macdonald College. He stressed the value of college education for all young farmers and told of how this education is obtained at Macdonald. Today, the farm has to be operated on a high plane in order to make it a going concern. The father and son partnership is an ideal arrangement if it can be worked. This is where education is needed, especially with regard to a financial plan. Farms today require a real good financial set-up and the ability to keep conditions of good operating both as to actual farming and animal husbandry. He cited some instances of where ignorance could cost the farmer much in loss by not understanding what is meant when certain instructions had been given to be followed. He also said that oftentime losses were sustained when the various uses to which products from the farm could be put were not properly known.

Mr. Arthur Laberge, M.L.A. for Chateauguay County, offered his general congratulations for the success of the picnic and for its continuance in the years to come.

Rev. Edwards made his comment along the lines of Canada's 87th Birthday. He referred to Winston Churchill's speech over the radio the evening previous, in which he had said that Canada had a great future. Canada had been brought together as a unit through the foresight of the Fathers of Confederation and today it now holds a position of power. The world is looking to Canada for leadership.

Keith Russell, Farm Forum Secretary, spoke along lines of Farm Forum as an organization for farmers. He said organization is needed and many benefits can be attained through proper organization. Benefits are derived through organization that could not be obtained by the individual. Also by being allied with other organizations greater benefits could be obtained and more knowledge of what is going on. He quoted several benefits such as relief in freight rates on feed and he also stated that had there been a stronger organization it is probable that the recent price reduction in milk could have been averted. He urged more farmers to become members of farm forum groups and take a greater interest in what other groups are doing. Whether they belong or not, whatever benefits are obtained, means that everyone shares, that is what organization does. But the stronger the organization the greater the benefits.

Mr. Low, Secretary of the Montreal Milk Producers, visited this picnic for the first time and he seems to have a knowledge of his subject and is able to explain it in a way that is understood. He spoke about the milk price reduction to the producer which amounts to 10c a hundred. He referred to Keith Russel's charge that a strong organization would have prevented this cut. He took exception to this and said he very much doubted that anything could have prevented it. His organization and that of others did all in their power to avert the cut. Despite everything that was done, the price cut was decided and no one could have prevented it. Depending upon conditions, it is possible the cut will be restored in the fall. It may also mean if this happens, that the consumer will be called upon to pay an increase of one cent per quart in the Montreal market. He said he had been named to fill the position on the Dairy Commission left vacant by the death of Mr. P. D. McArthur, but it would depend upon whether he was accepted. He stressed that the producers should contribute to a fund for publicity purposes in order to help avoid such cuts as had taken place. Such a fund would help in many ways toward keeping the dairy business on a sound footing.

Mr. C. V. Curtiss, Administrator for the Barrie Memorial Hospital, Ormstown, gave an outline of the needs of that institution. He was carrying out this duty for the chairman, Mr. J. K. Dickson.

The area served by the Barrie Memorial Hospital is particularly fortunate both in its well-equipped building and in the quality of the professional people associated with it. Many of you are well aware of this because of your experience in the hospital; some of you made up the 1355 persons who were hospitalized in the Barrie last year, and you can well understand why, in spite of age and risk, the death rate was only one in 200 persons; that no mother has ever died in childbirth, and there has never been an anaesthetic death. It also helps to explain why your hospital is fully approved by the joint Commission of Accreditation of hospitals; an approval shared by only 32% of all the hospitals of over 25 beds in Canada. And this distinction is due to the training and experience of our medical and nursing staff, plus a most modern method of medical records.

Having spoken of the key persons who make a hospital what it is, let me turn to factors having a bearing upon our financial situation and the annual deficit which seems so inevitable. You ask why. The answer is that the hospital cannot be run as a business, although the most business-like methods are employed wherever feasible. But while economy in operation is important and is being achieved, the whole hospital is built around service to the patient and that must be the sole consideration.

Through the weekly newspaper and from other sources, you are aware of some of the problems that cause our own deficit. We have patients who are unabel to pay anything, and yet who cannot take advantage of Quebec Public Charity; those who can only pay in small amounts over long periods, and those who do not want to pay at all and who have to be chased; all of which costs the hospital money. Oh, yes; we do have a good percentage who pay their hospital accounts promptly.

A partial solution to this problem is prepayment of hospital bills. What we mean is that every family, as far as possible, should have prepaid hospital protection through Blue Cross or other form of insurance. For when sickness strikes, it is a costly business. And it is then too late to secure insurance for that occasion.

You, the Public, have already demonstrated your willingness to help, and your interest in the hospital is manifested by your willingness to listen to a spokesman from it. May I suggest several ways that you may help — in addition to direct contributions: 1, Annual Memberships; 2, Life Memberships; 3, Equipment Donations; 4, Guaranteed Income Plan; 5, In Memoriam Board.

Salvation Army Doing Good Work For Mankind

Colonel Keith and Major Carswell of the Salvation Army, Montreal attended the Rotary meeting on Monday. Colonel Keith addressed the meeting, his subject being "Todays World Picture and where do we fit in." In short, the speaker felt that the world to-day is no better off in the fundamental things than before World War 1. As he wended along in his address he made becoming and fitting reference to the accomplishments and aims of the Salvation Army in carrying out its work. His well directed remarks made the Rotarians present feel that if organization and societies made a greater endeavour to carry out fundamental things, as has the Salvation Army, the world as we see it to-day would be inhabited by a greatly improved populace.

The re-establishment home of the Salvation Army on Notre Dame St. W. has been in operation for five years. In this re-establishment home will be found men who have become lost to themselves and society. Through the Salvation Army workers some 55 men leave every six months to a year, and in 64% of the cases these same men have restored themselves so as to be worthy men of society in Canada. Over the five-year period five men have left this home to become prominent heads of different types of industry and commerce in Canada.

Railway Conductor Retires

Makes Last Run Wednesday, June 30th

Wednesday night, June 30th, completed the final run as conductor of the well known New York Central Railway employee, Joseph W. Burditt of Malone, N.Y., who has for over 50 years been connected with Railroading. At the time of his retirement, he was conductor on the Malone-Montreal commuter of the Adirondack Division of the New York Central in which capacity he served for about five years. Over this period of years he became well acquainted with the daily travellers as well as the railroad men along the line, both on the Central and on Canadian lines. Mr. Burditt is well known to many throughout this vicinity. He was born at Laguerre in 1884 and moved with his parents to Elgin in his early childhood. His first railroad work was that of a section hand at Athelstan in 1901. The gang with which he worked was under the direction of his father, Joseph Burditt, Sr.

Joe moved to Malone in 1904, becoming at that time foreman of a section crew there, where he has since resided. He was united in marriage on April -6th, 1913, with Miss Sadie E. Kenney of Malone, whose death occurred in 1929.

The last run from Montreal was a memorable one for Mr. Burditt, for before his train left he was feted in the conductors quarters by fellow workmen on the C.P.R. and N.Y.C. railways, each group presented him with gifts of money. This celebration did not end here for the daily commuters also presented him with a well filled purse bidding him a cheery farewell and good wishes for many long years of retirement, which are his due. More surprises awaited him on his arrival at Malone Station that evening, when his train pulled in for the last time at 7.45 p.m. for he again was presented with another gift of money from the Malone Junction Boys with the following address accompanying the gift:

You are to run extra from the New York Central Railroad to your home, not to exceed normal speed and not to exceed more than two stop-overs. You are to rest and take it easy, taking orders from no one. You are not to forget all your old friends but come and visit them whenever you get lonesome. It is necessary that you report once in a while but no paper work will be required. We all join in wishing you a happy life of retirement, peace and prosperity. You have earned your reward and it has been a pleasure to work with you. Signed by all of us. "The boys at the Junction".

In recognition of his long service the New York Central gave this veteran conductor a certificate which reads as follows:—

This certifies that Joseph W. Burditt has been employed on its allied lines from Feb. 28th 1908 to June 30th 1954 and having faithfully performed duties of said employment for a period of 46 years and 4 months is hereby honorably relieved from active duty as conductor and his name placed on the Honor Roll of the company."

His many friends further extend to him their very best wishes at the close of a long period of very faithful service.

Fountain Damaged And Is To Be Removed Entirely

Likely Will Be Replaced By A Column Carrying A Warning Light

The fountain in the square on Chateauguay Street in front of The Canadian Bank of Commerce in Huntingdon, is to be removed. At least that was a decision reached at the meeting of the Town Council on Monday evening.

On Tuesday evening, June 29th, a truck belonging to Soulanges Cartage Equipment Co. of Montreal, was driven into the fountain and broke the stand underneath the bowl and also caused a leakage in the water pipes. The bowl and part of the stand was taken away to await the actual disposition. The accident happened at 6.25 p.m. and the driver of the vehicle, Leopau Lafremiere, was driving on Bouchette Street and turning east onto Chateauguay St. when he ran into the fountain. It is understood that a claim for damages is being made against the company.

At the meeting of the council the matter was brought up and the opinion seemed to be that the fountain had served its original purpose and there are no more horses to need a drink these days, therefore there was no need of fixing the fountain. It was decided that something was needed at this point as a traffic director, and that a stone column of some kind should be erected and possibly have a yellow warning light on it.

It may be that the council should not act too hastily in this matter as there are quite a number of people who place a sentimental value on the fountain. It was erected in the year 1908 by a youth organization of the W.C.T.U. known as "The Y" and quite a celebration was held when this fountain was first placed at the site. These young people worked hard to raise the money that put the fountain in its place and in those days it did indeed serve a humanitarian purpose for which it was intended. Today the fountain has historical value and sentiment of by-gone days. There are many who feel that it should not be removed because it was donated to the town and because of its sentimental and historical value to the town.

If the fountain is beyond the stage when it could be welded and replaced, then perhaps some part of it could be embodied into the proposed structure and the light could still be part of it. If for instance the bowl and top part were erected upon a stone or cement stand, the light could still be placed on it and the fountain effect would be retained for historical purposes. Such things should be preserved if at all possible, for they tend to give our town added interest. In fact it would be well if a plaque were placed upon it giving a few particulars of the date of erection and by whom. Such would meet with greater approval than that the fountain should be entirely removed.

Camo Canadian Plant to Start Operations Here September 1

Mr. T. Bell to Be Manager of This New Industry

The U.S. Camo Corporation of Kansas City, Missouri, have chosen Huntingdon as a site to start their Canadian operations. This new industry will be dealing exclusively with Canadian Photographic Studios and professional photographers from coast to coast. Besides assembling, distributing, and repairing Camo Cameras, this firm will maintain a laboratory for the exclusive use of the Canadian Photographic profession.

Most of the equipment for "Camo of Canada" was produced in the experienced shops of the Kansas City plant. This engineering and production know-how will be passed on directly to Canadian customers.

The building at the corner of Lorne Ave., and Chateauguay Street will house the Canadian Branch. The town council has already authorized a much needed new water connection for the building.

Mr. Thomas Bell who has been Canadian representative for the U.S. Camo Corporation for the past year will manage the new plant. Mr. Bell opened his own Studio here in 1947. Tom has been a member of the Photographers Association of America for six years, and is currently a member of the Professional Photographers Society of New York and the Ontario Society of Photographers.

He has just completed a six-week training course in the Kansas City plant, and his engineering and administrative background have enabled him to become fully acquainted with the technical and business side of the firm's operations.

Mrs. Bell, ably assisted by Miss Denise Galipeau, has been managing the Studio during her husband's absence. Mrs. Bell will continue to look after the operation of the Studio.

It is certain that everyone will wish Mr. Bell success in this new enterprise which has potentialities for employment for others as it builds its business. The opening here at this time may mean much in the future and it certainly opens up an entirely new line for Huntingdon.

Barrie Memorial Auxiliary Have Interesting Meeting

ORMSTOWN — A general meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Barrie Memorial Hospital was held in the Board Room on June 21st, with Mrs. Geo. C. Elliott presiding. The attendance was smaller than usual, but the meeting proved most interesting.

Mrs. H. Parkinson reported $950.14 in the treasury to date. Convenors were named for the supper and for the different booths of the bazaar on September 16th. Five hundred dollars was voted toward the buying of a bond. The essay ocntest has been postponed until the schools re-open.

The guest speakers in the afternoon were Mrs. Alex. Hutchison and Mrs. J. R. Boutin. Mrs. C. J. Bryson introduced Mrs. Hutchison, who is president of the Montreal General Hospital Women's Auxiliary. She reported on the activities of that body. By comparison the speaker said that the Montreal General is ten times that of the Barrie.

They, as we, have one large money making affair in a year. A few of their projects are: hospital sewing, sending out a news letter three times a year, patients' library, ditty bags for men and women in the wards, snack bar and gift shop, the last named being very popular and profitable. The sum of $30,000 is raised by the Auxiliary in a year.

She also spoke of the wonderful work done by the Voluntary Department in twenty-two clinics within the hospital. In the Montreal General proper there are one hundred such workers. The requirements being reliability, punctuality and continuity.

Mrs. Boutin addressed the gathering in French, being introduced by Mrs. A. Brunet and thanked by Mrs. L. Lauzon.

After the meeting adjourned, the visitors were shown through the hospital. Tea and a social half-hour brought the meeting to a close.

The monthly meeting of the Executive of the Women's Auxiliary of the Barrie Memorial Hospital was held in the board room on July 5th. Several items of business were discussed. Further plans were made concerning the Supper & Bazaar to be held on Thursday, September 16th. Final arrangements were made pertaining to the Food Sale to be held in the Beaudin block on Saturday, July 10th.

Elgin Old Timers Defeat Huntingdon 8 - 7

On the afternoon of July 1, the Elgin Has-Beens came through with an 8 to 7 victory over the Huntingdon Never-Weres at Cluffs Field, Fairview Road.

Elgin had a 6 - 1 lead at one time, but Huntingdon tied up the game in the third inning only to lose out when Elgin pushed acroass two runs in the fifth. The best Huntingdon could do was come up with one run in the last of the fifth to make it a very close game.

Pete Bush and George McIntyre did the pitching for Elgin, with Gordon McLean and Bernie Boyle looking after the mound chores for Huntingdon. It was surprising to see how much stuff the pitchers had on the ball after about twenty years absence from the pitcher's mound. Each had a few strike-outs to his credit.

Bobby Chambers came up with two solid singles for Elgin, and Pete Bush hit a long double over the right fielder's head. Doug Elder caught the whole game and showed up good, except for the fact that he had a little trouble throwing to second base.

The Rowat brothers, Raymond and Bill, were in the game — Raymond playing first base for Huntingdon, and Bill coming in as a pinch hitter for Elgin.

Frank Brady, Myles Tillotson, Mons Duke, E. C. Martin, Doug Glover, and Henry Patenaude were the balance of the Huntingdon team.

The Elgin team was made up of such stars as Les Hay, Alex. Hay, Archie Rowat, Spencer Gavin and Bill McIntyre.

With this game over with, the boys are all set to play another before the cold weather sets in.

Huntingdon Loses to Chateaugay 4 - 3

Our friends from across the border somewhat spoiled the festivities of Dominion Day by defeating the Merchants 4 - 3 in an exhibition game played at Cluff's Field the evening of July 1.

Pat Bessette of the Chateaugay Ponies allowed the Merchants only seven hits to become the winning pitcher. Pat also batted in the winning run with a double in the seventh. J. Humiston scored what proved to be the winning run, after he was safe on an error.

Roach and Clements each had two hits for Chateaugay. Chateaugay came up with two double plays to cut off Merchant rallies. The finest play of the game was made by Pony first baseman Foran in the seventh inning when he caught a pop fly bunt off the bat of St. Denis and doubled Parent off first.

Ozzie Watson was the big gun at the plate for the Merchants, hitting a home run and a double in three times at bat. Jerry McDonald went two for four in the Merchants' losing cause.

Annual Street Dance

To celebrate Canada's 87th birthday, a street dance was held in the square in front of the Bank of the Bank of Commerce on Thursday evening. The open-air dance sponsored by the Canadian Legion Branch No. 81, was well attended, and hundred of spectators stood on the sidelines and watched the proceedings. Music was supplied by the Prairie Rangers, and round and square dancing plus the jitterbug were thoroughly enjoyed by all present. Those who were not dancing or watching the dancing were engaged in a few games of Bingo at tables set up in front of the Empire garage. When a few drops of rain fell intermittently, it was thought that the annual Dominion Day dance would have to be held in the Legion Hall, Fairview Road, but fortunately, no downpour dampened the town or the spirits of its citizens.

All in all, from the baseball games to the horse races to the climaxing street dance, an enjoyable time was had by everyone on the occasion of Canada's 87th birthday.

Number of Small Matters Occupy Council Monday Night

Decide That Fountain on Chateauguay Street Has Served Its Purpose — Should Be Removed

The Huntingdon Town Council met at the County Building, Huntingdon, on Monday night for the regular monthly meeting, with all members present. The minutes were passed as read and a number of accounts were passed for payment.

The tenders for the old town truck chassis brought forth two bids, one for $50.00 and the other for $101.00. The letter made by A. M. Rowatt, was accepted.

A letter was read from the Health Dept. at St. Martine, with regard to the condition of some property belonging to George Bougie and situated on Wellington Street. The letter informed the town that it had the right to see that the house and lot is properly cleaned up and if necessary, to evacuate the present tenants. It was ordered that this be done as no notice had been taken of a previous letter to the owner.

Mr. Bougie was present at the meeting and explained that the place had been cleaned up. After a long discussion, the council decided to ask the Health Dept. to make another inspection and see if the premises were to its satisfaction.

Mr. Murphy, representing a machinery company at Lachine, addressed the council relative to a machine for snow removal and general purpose work for the town. The equipment consisted of a crawler tractor and there other accessory pieces which included a snow blower and a bull dozer blade. This machine was especially recommended for snow removal with the blower being used to load the snow on trucks and so keep the town clear of banked up snow.

The equipment could also be used in grading roads, digging and filling trenches and a number of their similar jobs during the summer months. The price of the complete outfit was quoted as a little under $7,000.000.

The council after listening to explanations of what could be done with such equipment left the matter over for further investigations and possible demonstration of the machinery at some suitable time.

Applications for fire protection from Messrs John Telfer and Crutchfield were received. The council decided to grant the protection on the terms agreed upon by other persons asking the same protection.

Milk reports for samples taken June 7th were read as follows: Elmhurst, 37,000cc; Pleasant Dairy, 41,000cc; Belle Vallee, 24,000cc; Moniqui, 95,000cc and Goodfellow, 9,200cc.

Mrs. J. Kelly asked permission to rebuild a shed on her property. Permit granted.

The closing by-law for stores, No. 293, Early Closing of Stores, was read and passed.

A Process Verbal ditch that passes through Garden City is to be cleaned and the cost of such cleaning will be bourne by the residents nearby. This is in accordance with a notice received by the council from the Huntingdon County Council.

The Huntingdon School Board asked for permission to ramp up the sidewalk between the two buildings in order that cars could be parked on the school lot at this point. The permission was granted subject to the usual regulations.

A valve at the Filter plant is to be checked to see if it can be repaired. If it can not, it is likely Editorial Notes...

In The Interest of Safety

As the call of the road gets louder with the vacation season, accident reports begin crowding our newspapers. These accidents include highway, swimming, boating and getting lost. Highest among these is probably that of highway accidents or accidents in which cars are involved. The Huntingdon Gleaner has repeatedly given warnings to motorists to watch themselves, their cars and especially the other fellow. We do believe that there has been an improvement in the area served by this newspaper, but there is still room for plenty more.

Fortunately, the accidents reported in this area are of a minor nature, but they do show carelessness and therefore they could be decreased. Collisions occur at intersections, when leaving the curb and pulling out into traffic and failure to stop at stop signs. Such could be avoided if more care was taken. The driver cannot blame his vemicle. If there are mechanical defects, it is the duty of the driver to have them rectified. The driver is in control of his vehicle, or should be, at all times. The vehicle will only respond as he desires, it cannot take a notion of its own to do something entirely against the wishes of the operator. Driving too fast is not the fault of the car, it will only go fast if desired by the driver. Driving on the wrong side of a curve, or when going over a hill, are not faults of the car Very occasionally brakes will fail, especially those of hydraulic type, but this is not a very common thing. If brakes do fail, then they have not been checked recently, or the linings have been allowed to become worn. The driver must check his car continually and make certain as far as ever possible that all is in order. He knows better than anyone else if his car is working properly in every way. If it is not, he should endeavour to find out why. He may save an accident and this may save lives.

Mechanical defects in cars of today are the least likely to be the cause of accidents. It is the driver that needs to take stock of himself. Is he obeying the rules of the road and regulations as set forth in the law? Has he always the control of his vehicle that he thinks he has? When taking a blind curve, does he take the necessary precaution of slowing down and keeping well to his own side of the road? If the approaching motorist is not taking these precautions and both are taking the curve close to the centre, there will undoubtedly be a collision, or at least severe shock to both drivers if they avoid it. The good driver will drive his vehicle in accordance with the conditions he finds and conducive to safety. He will watch the highway signs as a guide to what he should do to keep control of his vehicle. He will watch for railroad crossings and make sure that such are safe for him to cross. He will avoid crowding behind the car ahead and will not pull out of the traffic line until assured the road is clear both behind and ahead for a safe distance. He will give fair warning to car ahead that he intends to pass and he will not cut in. Above all, he will not take a chance, but he will be sure that what he is about to do will be done with safety in mind When we have all good drivers on the road, then we shall have relatively safe driving and less accidents. But while one careless driver remains, there will always be a hazard.

A Matter of Age

THANKS to medical research and in spite of increasing traffic hazards, modern people, on the average, have a much greater life expectancy than their ancestors enjoyed. Nonagenarians and octogenarians are by no means rare and many men in sixties and seventies are active in business and the professions.

About a century ago fifty was considered a ripe old age. Sir Walter Scott, in The Fortunes of Nigel, depicts James I as an old man, although at the time when the incidents of the novel are supposed to occur that king must have been in his mid-fifties. Scott himself was fifty when he wrote the book.

Addision, writing at an earlier date, made his fine old English gentleman, Sir Roger de Coverley, display the genialities and crochets of old age, and the universal respect in which Sir Roger is held owes something to the number of his years as well as to his character. Yet Addison definitely sets the knight in his fifty-sixth year.

As men aged earlier in past centuries than they do now, they were also expected to mature earlier. The Duke of Wellington was well lauched on his career while he was still in his twenties and was a major-general at the age of thirty-one. Positions of responsibility came to the brilliant young men at the court of Elizabeth I at ages when young men of the present day are still at universities or just beginning careers. George Washington accepted a man's responsibilities before he was out of his teens.

Some of the young men who had an early maturity did attain long life. The Duke, for example, died in his eighty-third year. But few of them were good insurance risks and probably none would have thought it worth while to buy an annuity for an old age beginning at seventy. The prospect of a short life tended to make it purposeful while it lasted, but for the fortunate ones it was also reasonably merry.

Some of the characteristics that modern moralists condemn in their appraisal of past societies may have been faults of youth. Youth is the period of strongly-held opinions, cocksureness and disregard for others' points of view. If tolerance has become more fashionable in modern times, it may be because society is governed to a greater degree by the aged or middle-aged. Hearts (and perhaps heads) soften as the arteries grow harder.—The Printed Word.

Save Horn Blowing For Emergencies

THE Province of Quebec Safety League is presently conducting a safety campaign and from time to time issues bulletins with regard to this. One such bulletin reached our office the past week and is one we feel should be observed. We will quote it in full as follows:

"Needless horn blowing may not be a direct cause of accidents but it is a cause of annoyance and irritation to other drivers, according to the Province of Quebec Safety League.

"And the league, always aiming to encourage drivers to be courteous at the wheel, points out: a courteous driver doesn't blow his horn without just reason. The League refers in particular to wedding parties, or drivers who become impatient in traffic snarls. More noise doesn't relieve the situation, says the League. It merely helps to further irritate other drivers."

Just this past Saturday, the town suffered one of these horn blowing wedding cavalcades. There were at least fifteen cars in the procession and one can imagine the din caused by all these cars blowing the horns continuously while they paraded up and down the various streets. It is not only this, but it is the accident hazard that is set up by these cars trying to follow one another from one street to the other and around obstructions in order to stay in the one line parade. They often dash across intersections without thought to other traffic and seem to be of the opinion that they alone have the right of way. We have suggested from time to time that this practice be stopped, but it still continues. It is entirely unnecessary and has been stopped in many towns much smaller than Huntingdon.

The other annoyance brought out by the bulletin, is that of sounding horns at traffic snarls. No driver stops with the idea of holding up the traffic and all that can be done is to wait until the traffic moves on. This often happens on Chateauguay Street and car drivers behind the snarl keep up the horn blowing for no good reason. Such only tends to add to the confusion and irritates other drivers who are held through no fault of their own. In any case, the hold-up is only temporary.

A person travelling in Great Britain commented upon this very thing. He said he was surprised at the patience of English drivers when held up by traffic snarls, there was an absence of horn blowing during such. The drivers over there know that they would soon be prosecuted for causing a disturbance and therefore refrain from such acts. They are also more courteous to their fellow drivers.

So let's save the horn blowing for emergencies.

Huntingdon—The much talked of St. Patrick's entertainment promoted by the Henderson Street ladies took place at Idlewilde yesterday afternoon and evening. The weather favoured such an entertainment by being fine and mild, with a moonlight night to show the people the way to the most suitable home in the village for such an entertainment. Professor Young of Montreal who was in India some years ago learning palmestry, gave an address on that subject in the afternoon, and in the evening on Human Temperament. Refreshments were served and the drawings were made. The drawing for the Red Cross centerpiece made by the veteran navyman, J. L. Gibbings, was first disposed of, falling to Neil Henderson. The St. Patrick's pig, six weeks old, donated by Herbert T. Cunningham, fell to A. L. Sellar, who presented it to the Red Cross. When the animal was put up to auction, it was bid in by Alex. McEdwards for $12.00. Altogether, the St. Patrick's pig realized $113.00. A guessing contest as to the number of potatoes in a 90-lb bag was won by the host, Mr. T. S. Gardiner. The ice cream booth, like all the rest of the house, was decorated in green, appropriate to the occasion. The gross receipts were $225.00, so the little band of ladies on Henderson Street did not plan and work without reward, and have the satisfaction of making a most handsome contribution to the Red Cross.

March 28

Howick—Dr. Baillie has moved to Bombay, N.Y., where he will practise his profession, having concluded that there is not sufficient work for three doctors in Howick.

Trout River—Although high water threatened, which doubtless kept some away from a distance, the Oyster Supper held by the Debating Society at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert McMillan on Thursday evening was a decided success. While the oysters were being prepared and the supper in progress, plenty of music and games helped to enliven the evening. The tables were tastefully laid by the ladies of the Society in the commodious kitchen of the McMillan home, and remarks were heard that the oysters were exceptionally good. The free-will offering realized $56.50, which, after expenses are deducted, will be handed to the Red Cross Society. This event closes a successful season for the Society.

April 4

Athelstan—The ice in leaving the Hinchinbrook on Tuesday smashed the dam of Elder Brothers' sawmill. This is a serious loss, as the mill-yard is full of logs.

Huntingdon — The Saskatchewan courts have been reconstructed and it is gratifying to learn that the benefactor of our Academy, Judge Brown, becomes Chief Justice of the court of King's bench.

Weekly Review

Conquest By Conspiracy

By LEWIS MILLIGAN

Witch-hunting has become an open-air sport these days, and anyone who has any superficial resemblance to a witch is fair game for the hunters. Senator Joseph McCarthy has carried the hunt for Communists so far in the United States that he himself has come to resemble a Communist in his methods and particularly in his hatred of anyone who disagrees with him. If he were in Russia he would make a good Commissar and be in direct line for membership in the Presidium.

Having said that, I hope to have cleared myself of any sympathy with Mr. J. H. Blackmore, Social Credit M.P., in his enthusiastic support of Senator McCarthy's activities at Washington. At the same time I am inclined to agree with Mr. Blackmore's criticism of statements made by Mr. J. B. McGeachy, editorial writer of The Globe and Mail, in his radio comments on the Indo-Chinese situation. I have always been an admirer of Mr. McGeachy as a radio commentator on current world news, and he would be the last man I would suspect of Communist learnings. Indeed, Mr. Blackmore himself did not accuse Mr. McGeachy of being a Communist, but charged him with "unintended" false statements on Communist aggression in the Far East. He quoted Mr. McGeachy as saying:

"First, the best result to be hoped for in Indo-China is an armistice, followed by some compromise arrangement which, if possible, will give the Indo-Chinese a chance to decide what form of government they prefer; and second, that the West must come somehow to terms with the Asian social revolution. Whether it takes a Communist form or, as in India, Pakistan and elsewhere, a non-Communist form, no amount of military force exercised by the West will decide from this day forward the destiny of any Asian state."

All that, on the surface, seems reasonable enough; but, in the first place, as Mr. Blackmore pointed out, it is false to call the present troubles in India and China "a social revolution." He denied that Communism had ever been a revolution. "From the beginning," he said, "it had been a conquest by conspiracy." He contended that the Russians have no intention of living at peace with the West, that they "take every move as a beachhead from which to make another move. They have told us over and over again that they intend to conquer the world." Mr. Blackmore concluded by wondering why "a man like Mr. McGeachy could make such blunders," and why the CBC should employ him to broadcast them.

It should be stated that Mr. McGeachy prefaced his remarks by saying that he was surprised at the patience of English drivers when held up by traffic snarls, there was an absence of horn blowing during such. The drivers over there know that they would soon be prosecuted for causing a disturbance and therefore refrain from such acts. They are also more courteous to their fellow drivers.

So let's save the horn blowing for emergencies.

The war in Indo-China, like that in Korea, was started and carried on at the instigation of and with military support from Russia. "Social Revolution" is merely a pretext for Russian determination to conquer and control the whole of Asia as a prelude to world conquest. The people of Indo-China know no more about Communism as a social system than the people of Korea or Tibet, and to have them vote on it would be a farce. As for Korea, I have first-hand information that North Korea is being filled with Chinese settlers. In that case, what "chance," as Mr. McGeachy puts it, would the real Koreans have to "decide what form of government they perfer"? That is already decided in advance, and the same thing is probably being planned in Indo-China and even in India, Pakistan and Burma when those countries are completely encircled by the Iron Curtain.

"A plague of opinion! a man may wear it on both sides like a leather jerkin," said Shakespeare. There may be some room for compromise on minor issues, but it must be made on our side by men of broad and deep-based conviction that Russian Communism is not a social system, but an insidious and fatal disease.

MANY HOBBIES

CHAMBERLAIN, Sask. (CP) — John Minorgan has filled his home here with a variety of stuffed animals and birds. Another hobby is growing flowers, vegetables and fruits. The Chamberlain old-timer also grows his own tobacco.

The Week At Ottawa...

OTTAWA, (CP)—The 21-member federal cabinet has had its biggest re-shuffle of post-war years.

Three members have resigned, the portfolios of three others have been shifted and two recruits are making their initial appearance in Prime Minister St. Laurent's inner sanctum.

Gone from the cabinet are Defence Minister Claxton, Finance Minister Abbott and Transport Minister Chevrier. Shifted are Immigration Minister Harris, to finance; State Secretary Pickersgill, to citizenship and immigration; and Associate Defence Minister Campney, to the main defence portfolio. The associate ministership is left vacant for the time being.

Coming into the cabinet are George C. Marler, former Liberal leader in Quebec, who becomes transport minister, and Roch Picard, external affairs parliamentary assistant, who becomes state secretary.

The changes were announced in Mr. St. Laurent's office on Dominion Day after a cabinet meeting. He also announced that Mr. Justice Patrick Kerwin, 64-year-old Supreme Court of Canada bencher, is the new chief justice, Canada's 10th, succeeding the retired Chief Justice Thibaudeau Rinfret.

Jules Leger, Canada's 41-year-old ambassador to Mexico, is the new external affairs deputy minister. He succeeds R. A. MacKay, 60-year-old acting deputy, who becomes associate deputy.

Regretful Farewell

The 55-year-old Mr. Claxton, a First World War sergeant-major who held the defence portfolio since 1946, has resigned to become vice-president of Metropolitan Life Insurance Company of New York and general manager of its Canadian operations Aug. 1.

The new defence chief, handling, a $2,000,000,000-a-year budget, is 56-year-old Ralph Campney, a west coast First World War veteran who made his entry into the cabinet less than two years ago.

Douglas Abbott, 55, another First World War soldier who came to the cabinet in 1945, leaves to fill a justice vacancy on the nine-member Supreme Court of Canada. His salary will be $20,000 a year, compared to $27,000 as a cabinet minister.

Lionel Chevrier, 51, another nine-year cabinet officer, leaves on appointment as the $25,000-a-year president of the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority.

With him as Authority members will be Charles Gavsie, 45, deputy minister of revenue taxation; and Charles W. West, 64, senior deputy transport minister. John R. Baldwin, transport minister for air services, becomes the senior deputy. A successor to his former post has not been named.

Churchill Visits

Sir Winston Churchill came to Ottawa last week and Ottawans turned out in larger-than-usual numbers when he rode through the streets, his bulky, 79-year-old figure slouched a little but still firm with resolve.

At a press conference after an informal meeting with the Canadian cabinet, Sir Winston said chances of world peace are better since his trip to Washington.

The British prime minister said now the whole world knows that the United Kingdom and the United States are united by a "great measure of agreement and understanding" which they are not going to let be broken or disturbed in any way.

He praised President Eisenhower as a "grand man" and said "thank God he is where he is." Security was founded on good, trusting relations between Britain and the U.S. and, said Sir Winston, "nothing will deter an aggressor more than the fact he knows he has got to face the whole British Commonwealth and the U. S."

For that reason, he could reply "yes" to the question of whether the prospects of world peace are better as a result of his Washington trip.

In Top Form

He was in top form as he faced about 100 correspondents and cameramen in the East Block of the parliament buildings.

He spoke of the future of Canada and appealed to Canadians not to forget the "Old Country." He expressed contempt at some American newspapers' reports accusing him of appeasing Communism, But he said the West must learn to live with Russia.

Sir Winston, accompanied by Anthony Eden, Britain's Foreign Secretary and other aides, met the correspondents at the height of a day crowded with activity.

It included the conference with cabinet, which he later described to the correspondents as "very jolly," the jollity springing from the mood of friendship. Formidable issues were discussed, however, as "friends and brothers" would discuss them.

He also delivered a radio talk, which he spent the afternoon preparing.

He said Canadians are the architects and builders of a "mighty structure." But when they achieve their hopes and glories, "do not forget the Old Land, do not forget that little island lost among the northern mists which played so great a part in your early days and now regards you with admiration and pride."

Britain did not fear the future. It was cheered by the comradeship of the young democracies such as Australia, New Zealand and the other "great Dominion (Canada) — if that expression has not become obsolete; I always like the sound of it very much—who gather round us in their strength and vitality."

"We do not fear the future while we advance hand in hand together and in the lasting good company of United States. We are resolved to do our duty, whatever it may cost, and we believe that we shall not fail."

How to say Hello to a GARGOYLE

AFRAID OF HEIGHTS? Then you wouldn't want to be one of the men who recently did repairs up among the gargoyles of the Peace Tower, atop the Parliament Buildings in Ottawa. The scaffolding, rising 280 feet, was the highest ever erected in Canada. We were pleased, but not surprised, that it was made of light, strong, easily assembled aluminum tubing . . . 37,000 feet of it. Saved a lot of time putting up and taking down. And incidentally saved Canadian taxpayers a tidy sum of money. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

Merchants Win 5th Straight League Game

The League — leading Huntingdon Merchants went on a hitting rampage at Constable, N.Y., on Sunday, July 4, and downed the Constable Border Nine 22 - 1.

Rosie Lacompte pitched a masterful game, allowing four hits while striking out eleven. The only Constable run was unearned and came in the eighth inning when the Merchants were ahead 18 - 0. Reome had walked and gone down to second on a passed ball; Dick Fleury hit a sharp ground ball to Gerry MacDonald and when the ball got away from MacDonald, Reome scored the only run off Lacompte.

Ozzie Watson had his hitting shoes on when he hit a home run, a triple and a double, batting in four runs. Gerry MacDonald, with a home run and a single, knocked in five runs. Rosie Lacompte hit three singles to drive in five runners and Jon Proudfoot, with a home run and three singles, batted in two runs.

Rene Senecal, who only played part of the game, had a double and a triple. George Stark and Art Brown made their first appearances in a League game, George getting two walks in his only time at bat and making a wonderful running catch off the bat of Jerry Fleury. Art Brown laid down a perfect bunt with runners on first and second in the ninth inning and beat it out for a hit.

This Sunday the Merchants will be at home at Cluff's Field where they will play the Chateauguay Ponies.

Howick High School Notes

On Friday, June 25th, the last examination was written and another school year came to an end. During the last few days the various rooms marked the end of the year with treats and tokens of good wishes for those who will not be at the H.H.S. next year. The Principal is particularly appreciative of the fine gesture of farewell shown by the staff and students.

To all we wish pleasant holidays, and a happy and successful year when school re-opens in September. To the members of the graduating class, in particular, we wish gratifying results in the final examinations and success in whatever they undertake to do next year.

Promotion results for the first nine grades will be ready for publication shortly in the Gleaner.

a new valve will have to be installed at a cost near $1,000 for the part alone.

A letter from the Huntingdon County Hospital requested that the road in front of the hospital be repaired and if possible that the black top be run right up to the sidewalk at this point. It was pointed out that the road is so low that the fenders of cars scrape the sidewalk. It was decided to place some gravel there for the time being and the Mayor will ask about getting some black top material. It was also requested that the river bank be completed right to the Peter's property.

The hedge at Garden City is filling into the ditch along the road and some persons had asked that it be cleared. It was decided to cut it down completely. There are also some vacant lots there and in other parts of the town which require attention from the owners. Mr. Moody was asked to give notice to the owners of the lots to have them cleaned up at once.

The question of what should be done with the fountain on Chateauguay Street, since it had been damaged in a collision, came up for consideration. It was asked if the damage should be repaired or whether it should be removed entirely. It was suggested that it had served its purpose and was no longer required, therefore it should be taken away. Mayor Leo Cappeillo said that in the event that the fountain was not replaced, Chester Pease had asked to be allowed to buy the top part as scrap. It was decided to sell the whole of the fountain to Mr. Pease if it is not replaced. It was felt that something is required at this point as a regulator of the traffic so it was decided that a stone column or something should be erected at the spot. Further suggestlight be placed on it and also that tions were that a yellow warning direction signs be added. It was left until settlement of the damage had been concluded before definitely what form would be taken.

Difficulties are in the way of extending Somerville Street. Under present plans the only way it could be done is for a right angle turn to be made. Otherwise it will be necessary to appropriate the land for a straight through extension. The matter is left for further consideration and investigation.

It was decided to call for tenders for the painting of the Filter Plant on the inside. The material will be supplied by the town.

Letter to the Editor

Editor,
The Huntingdon Gleaner Inc.,
Huntingdon, Quebec.

Dear Sir:

Our town fountain was knocked down a few days ago. Rumour has it that it will not be replaced.

Many will recall the great amount of time and effort put forth on concerts and entertainment by the "Y" society members under the leadership of the late Mrs. Robert Sellar to raise the money and buy the fountain and have it placed in the town square as a gift to the town. This was about fifty years ago and the fact that it has not been damaged before, surely indicates that it was no obstruction to traffic.

The fountain is an old landmark — a part of Huntingdon, not an obstruction or a piece of old iron to be scrapped, and many old "Y" members feel very keenly about it's removal.

I am writing this to draw the matter to the attention of your readers with the hope that enough of them will be sufficiently interested to ask that the fountain be restored.

Yours truly,
One of the "Y" Members.

Seventh Summer Bible School

St. Andrew's Seventh Summer Bible School presented its closing program on Sunday evening with a good attendance of parents and friends. The children entered the sanctuary to the music of "Onward Christian Soldiers" and each class presented something of what had been studied during the two weeks course. The theme for this year was "Worshipping and Serving God in His Church" and each study book dealt with some phase of worship and service, including a timely discussion of the World Council of Churches whose Assembly holds its second meeting in August of this year in Evanston, Illinois. Handwork was on display, all related in some way to the main theme.

The attendance in the School this year was cut down considerably by sickness but some 107 pupils were enrolled with the highest single day attendance 97. Prizes were distributed to class leaders and a souvenir of the School to each pupil present.

The Director, Rev. R. D. MacLean, expressed appreciation to the students for their attendance and attention, the parents for their cooperation, all who contributed financial help and transportation, and above all to the teachers who make the school what it is. An offering amounting to $52.01 was received to help defray the expenses of the School.

On July 1st, the combined picnic of the Summer Bible School and St. Andrew's Church School was held at St. Anicet beach. Swimming and races made up the program and perfect weather made the outing a splendid success.

The staff of the summer Bible School this year included the following: Mrs. J. G. Bickford, Mrs. Albert Godin, Mrs. R. D. MacLean, Mrs. H. McCaffrey, Mrs. J. McCoy, Mrs. G. McLean, Mrs. I. Mennie, Miss M. Oney, Mrs. Wm. Shearer and Mrs. H. Wallace.

The Aetna Fire Company of Fort Covington expects to take delivery of a third unit for their fire brigade. This is a larger pumper than they used previously and carries a water supply tank of 800 gallons.

The Fort Fire Co. boys have a very progressive organization and do all the brigade work on buildings and maintenance on an entirely voluntary basis. When repairs are needed to plant buildings and equipment, the local merchants and garages are very co-operative in supplying the Fire Chief and his boys with supplies on a greatly reduced cost basis. The Fire Company is staging a benefit celebration on July 4 to help out with incidental expenses.

The Dundee Council agreed a few years ago to contribute $200. per year for five years to the Fort Fire Co. in order to have the benefit of having the Fire Co. send their fire fighters to outbreaks of fire in the Township.

Beauharnois

Induction Service

BEAUHARNOIS — The Induction of Mr. James W. Ranes to the Session and Congregation of the Pastoral Charge of St. Edward's Presbyterian Church, Beauharnois, was held on the evening of Wednesday, June 23, at eight o'clock. Many dignitaries of the Presbytery of Montreal were in attendance. The service was presided over by the Reverend R. J. Berlis, B.A., B.O.D.D. Moderator of the Presbytery of Montreal and pastor of the Church of St. Andrew and St. Paul, Montreal. The organ prelude Entree by Dubois was played by Mrs. I. M. Anderson. The opening hymn "Praise My Soul the King of Heaven" was followed by a prayer of invocation and the Lord's Prayer, Scripture reading and the Pastoral Prayer, after which the congregation sang "Breathe on me Breath of God". The sermon "A Tale that is Told" was ably delivered by the Reverend William Brown, pastor of the Presbyterian Churches of Riverfield, Howick and Georgetown. The order of induction followed. The narrative of steps was led by Interim Moderator, the Very Reverend C. Ritchie Bell, B.A., B.D., D.D., Registrar Presbyterian College, Montreal Professor of Pastor Theology and Homiletics.

Constitutional queries were proferred to the Pastor Elect and to the congregation by the Moderator. The Act of Induction was also in charge of Dr. Berlis at the completion of the Induction. Then came a welcome from all members of presbytery present.

The charge to the minister was taken by the Reverend H. S. McKell, D.D., First Presbyterian Church, Schenectady, New York. Speaking of Mr. Ranes in words of eloquence and wisdom in a manner endearing him to the listener. Mr. Ranes, as a member of the First Presbyterian Church, Schenectady, had forfeited a career as an engineer to take up the ministry. Dr. McKell whose spirited advice and encouragement must have meant a great deal to the young man who was to change a life of industrial powers to a follower of Christ.

The charge to the congregation was in the hands of the Interim Moderator who spoke of his many happy connections with the local congregation.

This dedication service was wholly devout in its sincerity and depth of solemnity and a spiritual revelation to all who attended and were in deep reverence beholding a young man entering into a life of service taking vows with a solemnity and devotion to his people.

Rev. Ronald Rowat and Mrs. Rowat, Malone, N.Y., were present at the ceremony.

Trinity Church Sunday School and congregation had a splendid sunny day for their picnic which was held Saturday afternoon, June 26, at Bisson Point.

His worship, Mayor A. Poupart, was offered a great honour, having been chosen as a Director at the thirty-third Congress of the Union of Municipalities held at the Manoir Richelieu through June 15th to June 20th. The Mayor was occompanied by Madame Poupart and other official delegates from the town, Mr. Arthur Cowan, Mr. Martin Petrie, Mr. Lucien Frappier and their wives and Mr. George Henri Daigneault.

Social and Personal

Mrs. J. O. Parker, Labrieville, was a recent mid-week guest of Mrs. H. G. Wootten. They week-ended at Lac des Iles.

Mrs. R. B. Calhoun and family left recently to summer at Lac des Iles des Mari.

The official opening of the playgrounds on Lussier Boulevard made possible by the efforts of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the outstanding response from the community at large during the effort held two weeks ago to add further equipment to the already well equipped playing fields. The date has been set for July 4th when a special programme has been prepared for that day for the enjoyment of the youngsters. The area for these grounds is quite extensive and has become a popular recreation spot for juniors. The presence of Canon Dominique Julien and Mr. Edgar Hebert, provincial deputy, is expected at the opening ceremonies. Children being admitted to school in the fall session of this year are eligible for admission to the playgrounds and cards of membership can be had upon registration with the permission of the parent and their necessary signature. These admittance cards are available upon request from Mr. Leopold Ouellette, Rexall Drug Store, Ellice St., who is president of this worthy project. Membership cards are punched twice daily, thus eliminating any headaches as to whether the member actually did attend the playground. A swimming pool provides great enjoyment in the heat of the day and as the children are well supervised for this and other activities, the parent is relaxed knowing their family is in the open reaping the benefit of good healthy sports and the warmth of the summer sun.

Monitors are in charge of the various groups and having been educated in supervising work are well equipped for the jobs allocated to them. Parents are invited to attend the playground to see the children at play as well as avail themselves of an opportunity of discussion with the monitor. Buses are provided for transportation, girls from 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. from the Beauharnois Intermediate School grounds, corner of St. Georges and St. Catherine Streets and Marie Rose School grounds on Ellice Street. Boys at the same hours from English School Grounds corner of St. Georges and Beauce Road and College grounds, Richardson Street.

That the Drive for Funds merited over $7,000 actually oversubscribed by a thousand dollars shows the keen interest of local colleges is apparent as well as proving the ability of the committee in charge who gratefully thank all donors for their support and generosity of subscriptions.

How the Good Earth Helps Nutrition

A Few Pointers For Gardeners to Keep in Mind

By MARGARET E. SMITH, Ph.B., M. Sc. Director of Nutrition Division, Health League of Canada

BY OBSERVING nature and following up the observations with experimentation, it becomes apparent that a large variety of plants show a variety of reactions if settled in combination with others:

(1) Some plants help each ather directly and others indirectly because, if left to die on the soil, they give back a part of what they took away.

(2) Some plants grown in close contact with other varieties will inhibit the neighboring plants' growth and development.

(3) Some plants repel animal pests.

(4) Some plants reduce the danger of fungi and other plant diseases.

Sunflowers and potatoes will destroy or stunt each other. Strawberries dislike cabbages. Tomatoes are harmed by Kohlrabi and fennel, a yellow-flowered herb used in sauces. When beans are planted near cucumbers, they are both benefitted. Other neighborly plants which should be planted near, or with each other are:

Beans and peas.
Beans and potatoes.
Beans and sweet corn.
Beans and turnips.
Tomatoes and parsley and stinging nettle.
Beans grow well with cucumbers around them.
Sweet corn grows well near potatoes.
Peas grow well with turnips.
Peas grow well with potatoes.
Beets and onions aid each other.

Tomatoes are not good for crop rotation. They should always be planted on the same soil. They like compost made of their own ancestors. All the herbs, except fennel, make good neighbors for vegetables and flowers. Citrus trees grow well in neighborly contact with live oak, guava and rubber trees.

The quality of roses is improved by planting them with garlic. The rose plant stems will be stronger and the quality of the roses more fragrant. The flowers will keep longer after cutting. They will not smell of garlic. The quality of the garlic will also be improved. Plant a row of garlic cloves about 2 inches deep around each rose-bush.

If a small portion of garlic is added to a salad, add also a generous portion of parsley. Chew the parsley well, and the chlorophyll in it will take care of tell-tale breath of garlic odor. Parsley is one of the most valuable green vegetables and should be eaten (chewed well) twice per day.

Go easy on spinach. In spite of Popeye, it contains oxalic acid which unites with calcium and makes an insoluble calcium salt which the body cannot use. It is wise to use spinach sparingly.

Plants scientifically arranged make good neighbors. By attending to the neighborly instincts, better tasting, better looking, and more-nourishing vegetables can be produced than if planted haphazardly with no selection or good neighbors. Be particular in planting vegetables and flowers because you can save space, time and money, and have a superior crop.

The soil must be kept in its natural condition by use of natural, not artificial, fertilizer. The natural foodstuffs grown on natural soils will contain the nutrients the human body needs to maintain health.

In 1929 the local medical Panel Committee of Cheshire, Britain, stated, after 25 years of study, that impoverished soil was an important cause of malnutrition in the area under the committee's jurisdiction. Malnutrition, the committee said, was the prime cause of ill health in the area, and many of the foods available for consumption lacked nutrients owing to the condition of the soil.

Dr. Robert McCarrison missionary in the Himalaya Mountain areas of India, noted the beneficial results of natural fertilization there. The mountain soils are carefully nourished with animal, vegetable and other types of waste, and irrigated with water containing salt and other minerals. McCarrison said, "During my residence among the Hunzas I never saw a case of asthenic (very weakening) dyspepsia, gastric or duodenal ulcers, appendicitis, mucous colitis or cancer. Neither were they prone to oversensitivity to heat, cold, or nervous impressions brought about by stimuli from fatigue, anxiety or other activators." This is quite a contrast with our western civilization with its highly civilized diseases.

Sir Alberta Howard, in his book "Sail and Health" (1947) gives an illustration of the effect of inorganic vs. organic fertilizer on the production of oranges in the Mazoe Valley.

Two orange groves were planted by a large company in 1924. One was artificially fertilized with a mixture of super phosphates, muriate and sulphate of potash, nitrate of soda and ammonium sulphate; cultivation was clean, weeds kept out, and pratically no organic matter put to use. The other was fertilized with raw rock phosphate and ground bone until these materials became scarce during the war; then legumes were grown in the orchard and covered with vegetable wastes; weeds were kept down by grazing cattle which deposited manure.

In the artificially fertilized grove there is now a minimum of new growth. The crops of oranges are subeconomic and the removal of dead branches is a constant chore.

In the naturally fertilized grove, the trees now bear heavy crops of high quality fruit, the foliage is thick and dark green, and there is no dead wood. Healthly, well-nourished plants are free from disease.

The Late Alex Bothwell

While he apparently had not been enjoying good health for some time the passing of Alex Bothwell was nevertheless a regrettable surprise to a great many of his acquaintances.

While we were not sure about same, we are of the opinion that he was a native of the eastern Townships. However, he was so long identified with the Town of Lachute and Argenteuil County and so imbued with the interests of same that many people doubtless concluded that he was a native son of Lachute. Albeit, it is doubtful if Lachute and Argenteuil County ever had a more devoted exponent and booster.

A graduate of Macdonald College, Alex Bothwell was Agronome (Quebec Department of Agriculture) for Argenteuil County for several decades. Likewise an outstanding member of that group of public servants. In addition he was also Secretary-Manager of Lachute Spring Fair for a great many years. In fact, a great deal of the credit for the past successes and progress made by that great Fair should be given to Alex Bothwell.

He died on Thursday, June 24, and his remains were interred on Saturday, June 26 in Lachute Protestant Cemetery.

Noted Holstein Bull From Canada to U. S. A.

While a group of Canadian Holstein breeders went across to Indiana, U.S.A., to purchase a herd sire, that bull has close blood-relationships, so to speak, with present-day popular Canadian Holstein families or stains.

The bull concerned is Franlo Gen Treasure Model and he was purchased from C. M. Bottema, Bridgeport, Ind., U.S.A. by J. E. Innes, Woodstock; Robert F. Howden and H. F. Findlay, Edgley; J. E. Houck & Sons, Brampton, all of Ontario, and Hugh Hallward, North Hatley, Que. Also purchased were six top daughters of Treasure Model - three senior yearlings and three 2 year olds. Two of them received Honorable Mention for All-American honours last year.

The report says: "The buyers were impressed both by the quality of his ancestry and the type and production of his 70 daughters in the Bottema herd. His first six daughters to complete production records averaged as two-year-olds 15,940 lbs. milk 612 lbs. fat, average test 3.84% butterfat.

Canadian Ancestry

Treasure Model's dam is the famous show cow Browns Mistress Corrine, berd by Brown Corporation, La Tuque, Que. That cow has won many show honours including: All-American three-year-old; Honourable Mention All-American Aged cow; Best Uddered Female at the Royal Winter Fair, Waterloo Dairy Cattle Congress and International Dairy Exposition. She was also grand champion at the 1949 International Dairy Exposition, Indianapolis. As a producer she has to her credit 3 records with above 800 lbs. fat, her best record being 862 lbs. fat from 21,117 lbs. milk 4.1%, at 7 years of age.

In addition, Mistress Corrine has to her credit, as a reproducer, an All-American daughter; a Reserve All-American daughter and a Reserve All-American son.

Treasure Model's sire is a son of the noted five times All-American bull Chip of Nettie and Aaggie, in turn, a son of The Gold Medal cow Montvic Chieftain Tensen B., bred at Mount Victoria Farm ,Hudson Heights, Que. "Chip will be remembered", says the report, "as the winner of the famous 'battle of the bulls' at the first postwar Royal Winter Fair."

Dancing was enjoyed during the evening to the music of the "Wilsonaires", and at intermission time, an envelope containing the sum of $121.00 was presented to the young couple by Mr. Mac Ruddock, who, on behalf of the assembled group, extended to Margie and Jiggs congratulations and best wishes for many years of happiness together.

Several Local People Attend F.C.H.S. Commencement Exercises—

Many from Dundee and Ste. Agnes were present at the annual commencement exercises of the Fort Covington High School held in the Fireman's Hall on Tuesday evening, June 29, when one of the graduates was a local girl in the person of Shirley Mae Grant, daughter of Mr. Hugh Grant of Dundee.

The guest speaker for the occasion was Professor Donald Armagest of the New York State Teachers' College in Potsdam, N.Y. In his address, he outlined the need for better public relations and understanding amongst people. He emphasized tolerance — tolerance and respectful understanding for the other fellow's point of view — his race, his creed, his color.

The salutatory address was made by Robert Thibert; June McElwain gave the valedictory; and an essay, "Good-bye to a Good Friend" was given by Shirley Grant in which she summarized briefly the history of Fort Covington High School. This essay was especially interesting and timely inasmuch as it marked the final commencement of the F.C.H.S. as such. Presentation of diplomas was made by Dr. Philip W. Gorman, president of the Board of Education, and Mr. Harry J. Weir, school principal, announced the awards.

Of these several awards Shirley received three — the "Becker Junior College Award" — a silver key with her name inscribed in the back; the Dr. Bruce P. Smith (in memoriam) Award which constituted the sum of $10.00 and the "Babe Ruth Sportsmanship" Award which is a small gold medal with a picture of this famous athlete on the back, and Shirley's name also inscribed thereon.

Congratulations are extended to Shirley.

WEDDING

McClenaghan - Stevenson

Against a floral background of ferns with pink and white peonies, the marriage was solemnized in Franklin Centre United Church, on June 26th, at 3 p.m. of Bernice Mae, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stevenson, and William Lloyd McClenaghan, son of Mrs. Agnes McClenaghan and the late Norman McClenaghan of Ormstown.

Rev. Travis performed the ceremony and Mrs. Stewart Moneypenny played the wedding music. Mrs. John Wallace sang "All Joy Be Thine" and "I'll Walk Beside You".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Austin McClenaghan as Matron of Honor; Misses Lois Harkness and Wilma Stevenson as bridesmaids, and little Linda Scoble, cousin of the groom, as flowergirl.

Bob McClenaghan was best man for his brother and Mr. Clifford Craig and Mr. Alvin McClenaghan acted as ushers.

The bride wore a gown of white lace and net over satin; the bodice with long sleeves of lace ending in points over her hands, had a scalloped neckline covered with lace completed by a Chinese collar. A small jewelled cap held her shoulder length veil of tulle illusion in place and she carried a bouquet of white carnations.

The attendants were dressed alike in net over taffeta, with bouffant skirts and shirred bodices having gathered net shoulder pieces and they wore matching mitts. The Matron of Honor was dressed in yellow and wore a picture hat of yellow net and carried a bouquet of mauve carnations. The bridesmaids were dressed in mauve and wore beaded mauve caps and carried yellow carnation nosegays. The little flowergirl wore a lime green taffeta dress with a net overskirt, the bodice having puffed sleeves and Peter Pan collar. She carried a small basket of yellow rosebuds and mauve sweetpeas.

Mrs. Stevenson, the bride's mother wore a navy blue and white dress with red accessories and a corsage of red carnations. Mrs. McClenaghan, mother of the bridegroom, wore a beige dress with brown accessories and a corsage of bronze carnations.

The reception was held in the Church Hall which was prettily decorated with pink and white flowers and streamers. Amid good wishes and confetti, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd McClenaghan left later for the Maritimes on their wedding trip.
