Bulgarians Hear Of Joint Action To Control Axis

Turkish President Expected to Make Formal Announcement of New Pact Designed to Curb Nazis as German Troops and Equipment Continue to Pour into Rumania—Fear Designs on Dardanelles.

Budapest, Oct. 16. — (P) — Reports that Turkey and Soviet Russia are near agreement on a military alliance designed to block Axis penetration into the Near East spread through the Balkans today as Germany poured more troops and equipment into Rumania.

Bulgarian Communist sympathizers in Sofia, where the reports originated, said President Ismet Inonu of Turkey, was expected to announce the pact to the National Assembly in Ankara November 1.

Turkish Government circles maintained silence, but the inspired press asserted that neither Turkey nor her "close friend" Greece would be "intimidated" by Germany, or by any one else.

"Turkey has no intention of changing existing friendships, is determined to defend her independence and is still peacefully inclined," said the newspaper Ulas, Turkish Government party organ.

Turkey counts among her friends both Russia and Great Britain.

Growing anxiety in Turkey over the Balkan situation was reflected in reports from Istanbul that the Government had chartered three steamships to speed removal of its nationals from Rumania.

Greece also showed its concern by calling to the colors engineering and communications specialists of the class of 1938.

That action coincided with reports that several shiploads of German soldiers had joined Italian forces in Albania, raising conjectures that the Axis powers might be planning a thrust through Greece toward the Dardanelles, strategic gateway to the Black Sea.

(Fascist circles in Rome denied any German soldiers are in Albania).

Although co-operating with the Axis powers in the economic sphere, Bulgaria was reported to have refused to mobilize her army as a gesture of military support after receiving contrary advice from Moscow.

Reich Naval Bases Receive Added Attention From R.A.F.

Large Number of High Calibre Bombs Dropped on Kiel and Hamburg as Poor Weather Conditions Force Curtailment of Widespread Bombing Attacks—Berlin Still Visited, However, in Night Attacks.

London, Oct. 16. — (P) — The Royal Air Force dropped "large numbers of heavy calibre bombs" during the night on the German naval bases of Kiel and Hamburg, the Air Ministry announced today.

The main strength of the R.A.F.'s raiding squadrons dropped tons of high explosives on shipping and wharves at those two bases.

The weather was spotty—clear in places, in others so bad that blind flying was necessary; and some of the R.A.F. planes with assigned objectives elsewhere in Germany did not reach their destinations, the Air Ministry said.

On the whole were not as destructive as Monday's, when the R.A.F. demolished buildings, smoke stacks, tanks and reservoirs at the vital synthetic fuel producing plant at Ploetz, near Stettin, the Ministry's communique indicated; but considering the weather they were successful.

British bombs were dropped on oil plants at Gelsenkirchen, Magdeburg and Salzberg. Two oil depots near Kiel also were hit, the communique said.

Seeking to damage the powerful German war machine, other planes hit their bombs at freight yards at Schweitz, Krefeld, Hamm and Soest, and railroad junctions at Nordhausen and Halle.

The planes forced from their primary objectives by the weather unloaded their bombs on munition factories, aircraft factories and power stations, familiar to them from many nights of raiding.

Others renewed the attack on the Channel invasion ports and the gun emplacements at Cap Gris Nez.

All the planes returned to Britain safely.

CLAIMS EMPIRE AIR PLAN FULL YEAR ADVANCED

Canadian Air Minister Declares that Development Already Completed Was Originally Planned for 1941.

St. Thomas, Ont., Oct. 16. — (P) — Hon. C. G. Power, Minister of National Defence for Air, told farmers gathered here last night for the International Ploughing Match, that the British Commonwealth Air Training Scheme has been speeded up to the extent that it is now nearly a year ahead of schedule in some respects.

Mr. Power inspected the technical training centre of the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn introduced Mr. Power at the banquet as "the man of the hour" on whom the responsibility of equipping Canada for war in the air rested.

Outlining progress in the Empire Training Scheme, Mr. Power said, "A two-year construction programme will be completed this fall before the snow flies. As for aircraft, I believe we are in a position to say that if we have not a satisfactory supply, at least we have enough to get on with. I believe, barring unforeseen accidents, we shall be able to meet all requirements for the duration."

The Minister said that the present number of training planes will be tripled by next June. "All the flying schools now open and all the new schools—and there will be many—will be provided with sufficient aircraft to carry on training."

"We shall be able to furnish overseas a constant and increasing supply of pilots, gunners and air observers, so that when the time comes and we begin the offensive, we will be able to wipe the enemy from the face of the earth."

Mr. Power said there will be twice as many aircrew pupils by January 1, as had been anticipated under the plan originally and by next July "there will be many times more."

The turn of events in Europe has not caused any change in the program but has resulted in its acceleration. The Minister added, "I betray no secret when I say there are more in training now than there were fliers taking part in the last war."

SOVIETS AND NAZI FACING ON DANUBE

Bucharest, Oct. 16. — (P) — Large concentrations of German and Soviet Russian troops faced each other across the Danube river today near the Rumanian port of Galati while Nazi planes maintained a constant patrol over the Balkan kingdom's oil fields.

The German forces at Galati were supported by several squadrons of aircraft and three hundred heavy, medium and light tanks which rumbled into the port yesterday.

Informed sources estimated the strength of the Red Army troops on the Russian side of the frontier at 150,000 to 180,000 men.

NAVY SUPPLY PLANT GUTTED BY FLAMES

Camden, N.J., Oct. 16. — (P) — Fire of mysterious origin early today swept the plant of the Camden Forge Company, which holds Government contracts totalling $2,873,695.

The plant is engaged in building turret racks and other ordnance supplies for ships under construction at nearby New York Shipbuilding Company yards under the national defence programme.

Single British Cruiser Creates Havoc In Italian Naval Flotilla

London, Oct. 16. — (P) — The British Empire today acclaimed another saga of the Royal Navy's power on the seas—the story of H.M.S. Ajax and her victory over Italian naval forces.

The Ajax, almost single-handed, sunk two destroyers and crippled a third in two swift Mediterranean battles and came out of the clash ready to fight again any day. The crippled destroyer later was sunk by gunfire.

The Admiralty announced that the Ajax last Saturday fought eight warships, one a heavy cruiser, and received aid only after H.M.S. York appeared to help her polish off the last of her victims.

British officials waited two days to tell their story after the Italians had put out their version. The Italians on Sunday claimed their craft had sunk a cruiser, but admitted three losses. The British announcement was equivalent to a denial that a cruiser was lost.

The Ajax, under the command of Capt. E. D. B. McCarthy, engaged the enemy eighty miles off Sicily,

GOVERNOR-GENERAL AND PRINCESS ALICE TO VISIT UNITED STATES

Ottawa, Oct. 16. — (P) — The Governor-General and Princess Alice plan to visit the United States "shortly" it was learned today from a member of the Governor-General's staff.

Details of the Vice-Regal visit were not immediately available but it was presumed here that as a matter of courtesy the Governor-General and Princess Alice would see President Roosevelt on any trip they make to the United States.

At present they are in residence at the Citadel, Quebec, traditional summer residence of Canada's Governors-General.

This huge Italian Savoia bomber was forced to land undamaged at Bush Bal 'Id, 150 miles East of Aden and the crew of five aboard were taken prisoners. It is here seen at Aden after being flown there by a British pilot. It can now be used to a real worthwhile purpose—against the Italians.

R. A. F. RECEIVES A GIFT FROM "THE HIGH HEAVENS"

SPLENDID SUM OBTAINED FROM NORTH HATLEY

$670 Objective in Red Cross Campaign Oversubscribed by $1,123 — Heavy Shipment of Articles Forwarded to Montreal Headquarters.

North Hatley, Oct. 16. — The small community of North Hatley is justly proud of its achievement in the campaign for funds launched by the Canadian Red Cross Society. The canvassers, under the chairmanship of H. Nelson Pike, collected the sum of $1,123, exceeding their allotment of $670 by $1,123.

Every effort was made to canvass all residents in the district who responded cheerfully to the full extent of their means. The amount collected from local residents was enhanced by generous voluntary contributions from the Village Improvement Society, the North Hatley Club and the American summer residents individually.

A shipment of 612 articles has recently been forwarded to Montreal headquarters by the North Hatley branch of the Society, representing work completed during the August recess.

The shipment included 221 sheets, 11 pairs women's stockings, forty-eight pairs army socks, twenty helmets, two caps, eighty-six pairs bed socks, forty-one scarves, fourteen sweaters, twenty hospital bagdovans, eighty-four Hampton pads, thirty-six towels and twenty-nine donations.

ONE KILLED AND TWO INJURED IN THETFORD MINES

Six-Year-Old Therese Gregoire Instantly Killed in Level Crossing Collision—Rene Gregoire and Lise Poire Critically Hurt.

Thetford Mines, Oct. 16. — Therese Gregoire, six, is dead and Rene Gregoire and Lise Poire are today in St. Joseph Hospital suffering from fractured skulls as the result of a collision between a passenger car and a Quebec Central Railway train which occurred here yesterday.

The accident took place on the St. Alphonsus Street crossing at eleven o'clock as Gregoire was returning from the local school with his daughter, Therese, and Lise Poire, who is also six years of age. It was raining at the time and it may be presumed that the driver of the machine either did not see the approaching Sherbrooke-Quebec train or failed in his efforts to stop his car, with are resulting collision.

Therese Gregoire, the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Gregoire, was killed outright and the other two occupants of the automobile were taken to hospital in a critical condition. The car was badly wrecked.

Latest reports from the hospital state that Gregoire's condition is somewhat improved, while that of the injured girl remains critical.

GERMANS BOAST OF TRIPPLING INTENSITY OF AIR ATTACKS

Berlin, Oct. 16. — (P) — German propaganda spokesmen boasted today that attacks on London will be tripled before the Nazi air offensive reaches its peak.

They asserted that last night's assault on London, in which 1,600 tons of bombs were reported dropped on the city, was only a "zephyr" compared with what is in store.

"We'll reach the typhoon stage yet," they said. "We're only about one third of the way there now."

WAR BULLETINS

Alexandria, Egypt—Italian bombers, operating under a full moon, attacked a concentration of British warships in Alexandria harbor early this morning, but were driven off without scoring a hit.

Algenciras, Spain — High-flying planes raided nearby Gibraltar at mid-day today in what some eye-witnesses here described as the heaviest attack since Vichy French airmen bombed the rock September 24 and 25.

Hanoi, French Indo-China — Authoritative sources said today the Petain-Laval Government at Vichy had instructed French Indo-China officials to "resist with force" any border violations by Thailand (Siamese) troops or planes.

Thailand planes several times have been reported over French territory in recent weeks.

Vichy, France—Two decrees forbidding manufacture, export, import, or moving of war materials in France or French territory for the duration of the war were promulgated today by the Petain-Laval Government.

Prison sentences ranging up to two years were provided for persons convicted of manufacturing any form of arms, gunpowder, military gases, tanks, warships or warplanes.

Many Casualties Feared As German Bombs Ruin London School Building

Two-Storey Building Being Used as Air Raid Shelter Struck Squarely by Two German Bombs as Daylight Attacks Follow Severest Night Raids Since September—Over Two Hundred Planes Used.

VERDUN SEEKS OWN REGIMENT

Verdun, Que., Oct. 16. — (P) — City Council decided last night to ask military authorities to establish a regiment in Verdun, a city that claims that in the last war it sent the highest percentage of manpower overseas of any Canadian centre.

London, Oct. 16. — (P) — London reckoned today the destruction and death in one of the worst overnight bombardments of forty days of constant air siege while Nazi raiders blasted at her and Britain in new daylight assaults.

The Ministry of Information described the night attack as "of a heavy nature," but added that the damage "was not as great as that done in raids which took place in early September"—implying it was the worst since those early raids in which the daily death toll ran to 300 and 400.

Almost without pause the Germans followed up with fresh thrusts here, and near Liverpool, as well as along the South and East coast and over coastal regions of Scotland and Wales.

The cold October dawn lighted many a scene of devastation and death in London.

A schoolhouse used last night as an air raid shelter had been levelled. The biggest delayed action bomb yet dropped on the city lay a slanting menace to a widely known building. A famous London square was piled with debris of shattered buildings. A whole block of apartment buildings was blown to pieces. Dead and injured lay in the ruins.

At one place where the dead and dying could be brought out they were placed on the littered pavement to await the attention of overtaxed ambulance crews.

The Ministry of Information said the overnight raiders strewn their bomb cargoes indiscriminately, hitting many homes. Unofficially it was estimated that 250 houses were destroyed by bombs from 200 to 250 planes during the night.

Two big bombs hit the two-storey schoolhouse squarely, but missed a trench shelter dug in a corner of the schoolyard. Rescue workers feared many were killed and injured. They did not know how many were in the building. Scores were in the trench shelter.

The biggest time bomb yet dropped on London lay unexploded and menacing near a widely known building. An explosion damaged a famous London Square, filling streets with debris from smashed building fronts.

One blast ripped a block of apartments to pieces, and a pastor sleeping in a nearby church basement told of crawling out and seeing the twisted bodies of dead and injured, some of them still in their beds, pinned beneath beams and blocks of concrete.

It was estimated unofficially that 250 tons of bombs were dropped on London by 200 to 250 Nazi planes during the night.

One bomb made a direct hit on a previously damaged office building from which rescue squads still were trying to remove persons pinned under debris. Five dead and a number of injured were taken from the wreckage and others were believed still buried.

In the same area a block of one-room apartments for girls was wrecked and numerous casualties.

GERMANS CLAIM RUSSIA FULLY INFORMED OF PROPOSED DRIVE

Berlin Sources Take Issue with Russian Statement that Moscow Was Not Told in Advance of German Plan to Occupy Rumania—German Pressure Placed on Bulgaria to Establish Nazi State.

Berlin, Oct. 16. — (P) — German sources claimed today that Soviet Russia was informed of Germany's intention of sending troops into Rumania.

The assertion was made in answer to questions put by foreign correspondents concerning a statement by Tass, official Russian News Agency, that Moscow had not been informed in advance of Germany's action.

The Germans said the Tass denial referred to a story appearing in the Copenhagen newspaper Politiken and not to the fact of whether Moscow had been informed.

The Danish newspaper Politiken published a report of its Berlin correspondent stating "The Soviet Government was timely informed that German troops would be sent to Rumania, and that the Kremlin was informed of the aims and number of troops sent to Rumania. Tass is authorized to state that this report of the newspaper Politiken does not correspond to the facts."

German sources claimed there was no doubt about the information having been given.

DANVILLE WILL HAVE BEER AND WINE LICENCE

By-law Opposing Granting of Permit for Sale of Alcoholic Beverages Defeated by Majority of Seventy-Eight Votes Yesterday.

Danville, Oct. 16. — By a majority of seventy-eight the citizens of Danville yesterday voted to permit the sale of beer and wine in local hotels.

Going to the polls to give their decision on a by-law petitioning the Quebec Liquor Commission not to grant the right to sell wines and beer, the voters rendered a clear-cut margin against the legislation.

Interest in this question had been very keen and as a result three hundred and twenty-seven citizens, out of three hundred and ninety-five eligible to vote, cast their ballots yesterday. Final returns showed two hundred and two against the by-law, with one hundred and twenty-four upholding it. One ballot was rejected.

In making this decision residents of Danville showed that they are aware of what is involved in such a question. To begin with the moral aspect of the matter favors the granting of a legitimate permit to operate a licensed hotel where drinking can be controlled, rather than have citizens seek less savory pleasures in their search for alcoholic beverages. Moreover, such a move tends to wipe out racketeering and other illegitimate practices prevalent in a community having prohibition.

FRENCH VESSEL SUNK

Hanoi, French Indo-China, Oct. 28. — (P) — The French warship Marnes, a patrol vessel of 601 tons, was reportedly sunk by a typhoon. Some French destroyers were reported beached sixty miles South of Hainan.

Roosevelt Assumes Full Control Over Vital War Material Export

By LLOYD LEHRBAS (Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, Oct. 16. — (P) — President Roosevelt today assumed full control over the sale or export of raw and manufactured products vital to the United States defence programme, after invoking the Government's power to requisition any equipment, munitions, machinery, tools, materials or supplies needed to prepare for any emergency.

In an executive order the President orders the Army and Navy Munitions Board yesterday to make an immediate survey to determine the necessity of requisitioning any of the items deemed necessary for defence purposes.

The Board was authorized at the same time to determine whether it is in the public interest to sell, or otherwise dispose of, any of the articles or materials requisitioned.

Defence experts said that under the action the United States could regain possession of many war materials, equipment and supplies already sold but not yet shipped to foreign countries and then either retain them, or dispose of them to other foreign countries or individuals.

Examples of the President's powers, delegated to the Munitions Board and the Administrator of Export Control, included retention of the following:

Vitally important machine tools already sold to, or on order for Soviet Russia.

Planes ordered by Sweden.

Planes sold to Thailand (Siam).

Scrap metals already sold to Japan, but not yet shipped.

President Roosevelt's announcement was issued several hours before his recently proclaimed embargo on iron and steel scrap became effective at midnight.

Besides the embargo clamped on scrap, the new regulations imposed similar restrictions on export of twenty-six basic raw materials and eleven chemicals.

CONVENTION AT RICHMOND WAS FINE SUCCESS

United Church Convention of Sunday School Teachers Hear Proposed Activities for Coming Season.

Richmond, Oct. 16.—A group of Sunday School teachers from Ulverton, Windsor Mills, Kingsbury, Melbourn Ridge, Asbestos, and Richmond assembled in College Street Church, Richmond, to discuss means of promoting religious education in their respective churches. The leadership consisted of Rev. David Forsythe, Director of Religious Education of the United Church of Canada, Rev. Victor Buchanan, of Kingsbury, Rev. Pollett, of Windsor Mills, Rev. R. LeGrow, of Asbestos, Rev. A. W. Seaton, of Ulverton, and Rev. S. J. Jennings, of Richmond.

The convention began with a quiz on Sunday School presented by Rev. Forsythe who then gave an able and stimulating address. The speaker centered his remarks around three main topics: "How to make the Bible interesting to Sunday School children," "How to awaken a Christian faith and experience in the child," and "How to give expression to the Christian experience in daily life." The speaker's quickening suggestions provided much material for the fruitful discussion which followed.

A list of proposed activities for the district was then presented by the local pastor. Among other things it was proposed: (1) that there be an exchange of Sunday School Superintendents; (2) that each Sunday School prepare a religious play and present it to its own and neighboring Sunday Schools; (3) that each local school hold a monthly teacher's meeting at which a Teacher's Training Course be given.

This convention is but one of a series of meetings to be held throughout the Quebec—Sherbrooke Presbytery to arouse new enthusiasm and better methods in the great work of Sunday School teaching.

CASE AGAINST LENNOXVILLE MAN DISMISSED

Judge J. S. Couture Ruled Leandre Lallier Could Not Be Sent to Trial on Charge of Conspiracy to Defraud Governments.

Leandre "Ti Blond" Lallier could not be bound over for trial on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the Provincial and Federal Government of $50,000 in excise duties and the public in general, Judge J. S. Couture ruled yesterday afternoon in Magistrate's Court after listening to all the evidence in the preliminary hearing which was commenced yesterday morning.

With four others, Lallier was held in connection with the operation of a still for the illicit manufacture of alcohol at St. Adolphe de Dudswell.

Still awaiting preliminary hearings on the same charge of conspiracy to defraud are Joseph Breton, Placide Gravel and Severin Breton, of St. Adolphe, and Joseph "Bokie" Lallier, of Lennoxville, brother of Leandre. Preliminary hearing of Severin Breton will be held Friday.

In the opinion of Judge Lemay, no conclusive evidence which would prove Lallier was mixed up in the operation of the still was brought forward by the witnesses, although it was proved that a large still containing a 500-gallon tank, two 1,000 gallon fermentation vats and a 150-gallon boiler was located under the ground floor of a barn owned by Severin Breton of St. Adolphe.

The barn was located on a strip of land which faced the Maribeton-Bishopston road and was owned by Venerable Breton, father of Joseph and Severin Breton, all three of whom testified at yesterday's hearing.

Venerable Breton, with whom Severin Breton resides, ceded the barn to the latter, Joseph Breton lives on the other end of the same land, but used the barn in question to keep his cattle, hay and certain farm implements.

Joseph and Severin Breton denied they had known a still was installed in the barn. Joseph Breton admitted that one night he and his father, in the absence of Severin, had allowed "Bokie" Lallier to put a truck load of scrap in the barn, but said they did not know what. The owner of the barn, Severin, admitted seeing two iron and two wooden tubs in the barn, but said he had not asked anybody about them although he wondered why they were there. Both the Bretons gave testimony quite different from their declarations in local Royal Canadian Mounted Police headquarters, but when checked up by Dalma Landry, R.C.M.P., acting in the case, they declared that they had said anything the police wanted them to because they were afraid and because they wanted to get back home as quickly as possible.

In the face of figures produced by Antonio Lanouette, of Victoriaville, an accountant of the Shawinigan and Power Company, showing a marked increase in electrical consumption at the Breton farm the latter part of the summer, Severin Breton, who paid the bills, laid the rise to a new pump installed in the barn.

Constable A.H.R. Allevy, of the R.C.M.P., who was standing guard over the barn on September 16, the day after the raid, said that a car approached the barn and that he saw the accused in the front seat. When he walked toward the car, it was hastily backed up and driven off down the road.

Although he had built wooden tubs for one of the Lalliers, Arthur Lacasse, a local carpenter, said he testified that he had no dealings with Leandre Lallier. A local grocer testified he had sold several quantities of sugar to the accused, and Wilfred Poulin, clerk of a local hardware store, told the Court he had sold Leandre several cans.

Witnesses at the morning session were C. P. Dubuc, local engineer, who submitted a sketch of the barn and still and told what he had found, Sylvio Trudeau, local Customs Officer, Corporal Omar St. Amant, Maurice Laberge, of the R.C.M.P., Major Lawrence Greenfield, of the local Provincial Revenue Office, and Venerable Breton.

Catholic Women's League Of Local Diocese Reviews Year of Service

Sacred Heart Magazine in back of the Parish Church.

The report of the Diocesan Convention of Organization and Juniors, Miss Maura McManamy, included an expression of regret at the departure of the former chaplain, Rev. Father Linahan, and a welcome to his successor, Rev. Charles Papp. It was pointed out that both the Richmond and Sherbrooke subdivisions are hard at work and are doing particularly valuable war service.

Report of Miss Minnie Mooney, of the Diocesan Closed Retreat Committee, was read by Miss Arlene Hand, and reviewed the religious service on November 11 at the Villa of the Blessed Sacrament.

Mrs. Francis Hoye, Diocesan Convention of Magazine, reported that from the five subdivisions thirty-five subscriptions have been sent in. Of these twenty-six are taken by individual members, two are sent by the subdivisions to their chaplains and one is purchased by subdivisions for sale at monthly meetings of the League.

The St. Patrick's Mission Circle has during the past year continued its contributions to missions, both at home and in the field, it was shown in the report prepared by the President, Mrs. E. G. Clark, and read by Miss Irene Collins. The work in Canada consists of partial support of a student to the priesthood at the China Mission Seminary, Scarborough, Ont., and donations to the Sisters of Service, the Sisters of the Atonement and Rev. Father McNeil for missions in the West. In the foreign missions the Circle supports two orphans in India and two catechists in Africa.

Mrs. R. Provancher, Diocesan Convention of Provencher, presented a detailed report, and expressed the League's appreciation to the local press.

Reports of G.M. Guides were given by the Diocesan Convention, Miss Maura McManamy, and by the Captain of the 3rd Sherbrooke Company, Miss Margaret Doherty. During the past year average attendance was twenty-six, the Misses Maureen Foley and Mary Corcoran served as Lieutenants and did excellent work. Activities included participation in the Armistice Day parade, a demonstration of the League's work, a Senior Subdivision, attendance at Mass during the Forty Hours and on every second Sunday in the month, operation of a booth at the bazaar, hikes and parties, and work for the Red Cross.

In her report, Mrs. E. E. Jamieson, of Lennoxville, Convener of Citizens, reviewed how the League had offered full co-operation with the Red Cross when the Society was organized for war work after the outbreak of war. She reported that many members had participated in parades on Remembrance Day and placed wreaths at the monuments, and mentioned the activities of the League in connection with Health Week.

Miss Florine Mullins, President of the Sherbrooke Subdivision, briefly reviewed the activities of the group from the annual meeting in April, 1939, to the present time. Activities were formally opened at a membership Card Party on October 6. By means of food sales, card parties and a garden party funds were raised to enable the group to carry on its work. Miss Mullins praised the various committees for their excellent service during the year.

Activities of the Lennoxville Subdivision were reviewed by Mrs. Jamieson, while the report of the Richmond Subdivision was presented by Mrs. R. A. Marcotte.

Most ambitious undertaking of the Sherbrooke Juniors was the sponsoring of the lecture at the Granada by Rev. Father Hubbard, netted, it was estimated, at $441.14 was presented by Miss Gertrude Conway. Other activities included card parties, a rummage sale, the annual skating party, operation of the Girl Guides Camp at Little Lake, work for the Red Cross and many social services. Mrs. Ross Alexander reported for the Richmond Subdivision.

remained with a skeleton staff.

The German military establishment in the Rumanian capital was augmented by arrival of a Nazi naval mission, expected to supervise construction of a naval base on the Black Sea.

A contingent of Italian marines was expected here shortly to assist the Germans in instructing the Rumanians in modern war methods.

Refusal of Russian authorities, meanwhile, to extend the November 15 deadline for departure of the 90,000 German minority in Bessarabia, which Russia regained from Rumania last summer, caused the Nazis to speed arrangements for their removal.

BRITISH MINISTER VISITING ISTANBUL
Sofia, Bulgaria, Oct. 16.—(AP)—William Rendel, British Minister to Bulgaria, left today for Istanbul to confer with Sir Hugh Knatchbull-Hugessen, British Ambassador to Turkey, as Bulgarian Radicals reported that Russia and Turkey are discussing a military agreement to block any Axis plan of penetration into the Near East.

The conference at Istanbul was regarded by diplomatic observers as likely to be closely identified with future Turkish-Russian relations—in which Turkey still would carry a British guarantee.

Mr. Rendel, who was received by King Boris yesterday and twice conferred with Foreign Minister Bogdan Philoff in the past four days, also is expected to discuss with Sir Hugh Bulgaria's position in latest developments in Southwestern Europe.

The British Minister departed as the German Education Minister, Bernhard Rust, arrived to receive a planned welcome from school children lined up along streets leading from the station. Tomorrow he will open a German Institute at which Philoff is to make a speech.

There is mounting evidence, meanwhile, that Bulgarians are impressed with Soviet manoeuvres and are trying to hold firm in a policy of neutrality against reported Axis pressure.

The Sofia newspaper Zaria, leading Democratic Journal, reviewed German-Russian relations and concluded that Bulgaria must not forget that all countries, including the United States, now "are seeking friendship with Russia."

were caused by demolition of a row of houses in an adjoining street.

Another bomb hit a public shelter and it was feared that a number of people had been entombed.

Still another bomb exploded near a shelter under a building in which 110 persons had taken refuge. Resulting fire by mid-morning had taken out seven dead and a number of injured.

The rescue work was slowed by the necessity of removing masonry by hand to prevent further collapse of the building.

The Ministry of Information said that German bombers dropped a large number of bombs indiscriminately on London during the night. The Ministry said damage to London was heavy, but not as heavy as that done in a raid which took place early in September.

Two German bombers were shot down during the night, bringing to nineteen the number destroyed during the day and night. Fifteen British planes were lost, but nine pilots were saved.

German raiders struck elsewhere in England, Scotland and Wales. Houses and other buildings were destroyed in an attack on a Midlands town, but the Government said casualties were not numerous, considering the scope of the attack.

Diving warplanes machine-gunned streets in London. The biggest time bombs yet dropped on London fell near a famous building. High explosive bombs, believed to be the largest Germany has been dumped along with smaller explosives and all kinds of fire bombs.

The raiders, taking advantage of a clear, moonlit night, shuttled back and forth across the Channel ceaselessly.

Royal Air Force planes countered again with extensive attacks.

Crown Seeking to Prove Clarence Hebert, 27, of St. Alban's, Vermont, Guilty of Murder of Wife.

Sweetsburg, Oct. 16.—Charged with the murder of his wife, whose body was found half buried under bushes near Granby last December, Clarence Hebert, 27, of St. Alban's, Vt., is standing trial in Magistrate's Court here, and as deliberations which were opened yesterday continued this morning, testimony was given by Dr. J. M. Roussel, medical expert, of Montreal, who had performed the autopsy, and by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Upton, of Guelph, Ont., parents of Mrs. Hebert.

Dr. Roussel reported that the victim, formerly Phyllis Upton, of Guelph, was between twenty-five and thirty years old, and that the bones of the face had been burned.

He declared that the death could have dated from the spring of 1939. The victim was between four feet and four feet eleven inches tall.

Mr. and Mrs. Upton said they last saw their daughter on Holy Thursday before Easter in 1939. Mrs. Upton identified several articles of clothing as those of her daughter, and said that they had been left with her in Guelph.

In yesterday's proceedings several witnesses related the circumstances under which Mrs. Hebert's body was found. Mrs. Hebert disappeared in the spring of 1939, and police said she had been dead about eight months when found.

The Crown produced various articles found near the woman's body, including a small chain in which a watch had been fastened. Dr. W. J. Garland, a Coburg dentist, said he had examined a dental plate found with the body. He said a similar plate had been made less than five years ago by a dentist in the Coburg district, but he could not swear that the plate produced was that of Mrs. Hebert.

Crown Prosecutor Paul Provost explained in a preliminary address to the jurors, chosen earlier yesterday that the Crown sought to prove in the course of the trial that Hebert, whose wife died, made two efforts to have her sent to an insane asylum and that he wished to get rid of her because of another woman.

Other witnesses at yesterday's hearing included Gustave Massue, a police detective formerly stationed at Granby, Dr. P. A. Ledue, of Granby, who conducted an inquest when the body was found, and three other Granby men, Alderice Gossy, Armand Lussier and Ulric Martin.

Hebert listened to the evidence from the prisoner's box and showed no signs of emotion.

Single British Cruiser Creates Havoc In Italian Naval Flotilla

ing the Ajax was in touch with considerable enemy forces steamed up to add her six eight-inch guns to the support.

Planes were sent aloft and the destroyer which the Ajax had damaged in her second encounter was located, limping along at the end of a tow-line attached to another Italian destroyer.

As the Ajax neared, the towing destroyer slipped the tow and made off at high speed toward Sicily, billowing a smoke screen.

It was ascertained that the damaged destroyer was the 1,620-ton Argilliere, of the latest class of large Italian destroyers. The York and came on the scene and half an hour was allowed for abandoning the Argilliere. Then the enemy ship was sunk by gunfire.

Rafts were dropped from the cork to supplement the boats for the survivors of the Italian destroyer. A wireless message was broadcast to Italian stations giving the position of the survivors, despite the fact that such a signal compromised the position of the British forces.

"Experience at the sinking of the Italian cruiser Bartolomeo Colleoni on July 19—when our rescuing destroyers were bombed by Italian aircraft—made it impossible for our ships to take any further measures for the safety of the survivors of the Italian destroyer," the Admiralty said.

The Admiralty listed three other victories: Bombardment of the port of Savona, near Genoa, by a British submarine and the sinking of two armed merchant ships in the vicinity, one of them of 5,000 tons, another of 3,000.

Sinking of two supply ships, one of 3,000 tons, the other 800, by submarines off Naples and Benghazi, Libya, respectively.

Ploughmen Test Their Skill In 61st Annual Competition

Sherbrooke Ploughmen's Association Carried on Yesterday Despite Inclement Weather—Twenty-Seven Teams and Ten Tractors Took Part in Close Contests.

The broad acres of meadowland on the Mulvena Farm close to the City of Sherbrooke was the place chosen by the Sherbrooke Ploughmen's Association for its annual ploughing match yesterday and it seemed like the irony of fate that this day should have had inclement weather. However, with the stoic calm for which our Eastern Townships ploughmen are noted the annual contest in turning the sod, showing of sturdy farm horses and modern tractors, was carried out to the satisfaction of all.

A Sherbrooke citizen remarked in the morning: "They will have to postpone the match," but he did not know that the motto of the Association has always been: "Carry On." Neither did he know that in the sixty-one years of active service the Association has never postponed the annual match. Why begin now?

Twenty-seven teams and ten tractors took part in the contest and by noon the grass-covered land was laid out in furrows that promise well for next year's planting. This turnout of combined man, horse and mechanical power was, however, less than half that registered last year, according to the statement by Secretary MacDougall, who was at his post of duty.

President Melville Paige, one of Sherbrooke's good ploughmen, took his allotted portion and set a good example in time and workmanship. Owing to the steady rainfall there were few visitors, but those who were present saw good work done under trying conditions, but they did not see one man or boy with "a chip on his shoulder," from start to finish it was a game of "Keep Ploughing."

Catholic Women's League Of Local Diocese Reviews Year Of Service At Business Session Of Convention

Mrs. R. A. Marcotte and All but One Officer Re-elected and Reports of Activity During Past Year Presented—War Work of League to Be Continued with Vigor in 1940-41—National President Addressed Meeting.

A year of service to the Church, to the community and to the Dominion was reviewed by the Catholic Women's League of the Diocese of Sherbrooke at the afternoon session of the fourteenth annual convention of the organization held yesterday in the auditorium of Mont Notre Dame convent.

Among the highlights of the session were the election of officers, which saw every member of the Executive, with the exception of the Treasurer being returned, the adoption of several timely resolutions and brief remarks by the National President of the Catholic Women's League, Mrs. J. A. MacCabe, of Ottawa.

The following officers were re-elected: Honorary Chaplain, Most Rev. A. O. Gagnon, Bishop of Sherbrooke; President, Mrs. R. A. Marcotte, of Richmond; First Vice-President, Mrs. Francis Hoyer, of Sherbrooke; Second Vice-President, Mrs. E. J. Jamieson, of Lennoxville; Third Vice-President, Miss Maura McManamy, of Sherbrooke; Recording Secretary, Miss Gertrude Conway, of Sherbrooke; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Arlene Hand, of Sherbrooke; Mrs. Grant Campbell, of Richmond, retiring after two years' service as Treasurer, was replaced by Mrs. A. Marcotte, of Richmond.

Mrs. MacCabe paid a warm tribute to the Sherbrooke Diocese C.W.L. and expressed her pleasure at being able to attend the most interesting convention. It was encouraging to note, she said, the interest in the work of the League that is being taken by juniors in the Diocese. Mrs. MacCabe told the League that to date over $19,000 of the League's $25,000 war loan to the Dominion Government had been made up through out the Dominion. The National President took the chair for the election of officers.

Indicative of the desire of the League to be of every aid to other service organizations in necessary war work, the following resolution was passed: "Whereas the C.W.L. is an organization for 'God and Country,' be it resolved that we continue our war work with vigor, co-operating with the Red Cross Society and other service organizations, and that all Subdivisions co-ordinate their efforts."

In the report of Mrs. R. Provencher, Diocesan Convener of War Service, it was pointed out that all subdivisions had formed separate Red Cross units and accomplished a great amount of work. In Sherbrooke 480 finished articles were turned over to the Red Cross, including fifty-five pieces of refugee clothing, sixty-three baby garments, seven pairs of pyjamas, twelve sheets, forty-nine towels and twenty-five wash cloths, 166 khaki handkerchiefs, four bed jackets, nine quilts, eighty-one rolled bandages, fourteen pairs of socks and five scarves. Two pairs of blankets were also donated.

The sum of $10 was donated to the Knights of Columbus to go for ward Army Huts, while the sum of $243.68 was collected in a special drive for a fund with which to supply the needs of Catholic soldiers from the local Diocese, $102 being donated toward this through the generosity of a few ladies from Windsor Mills. Sherbrooke Juniors donated $100 to the Red Cross from proceeds of a lecture given in the Granada Theatre by Rev. Father Hubbard, twenty members attended.

Nursing classes, a large amount of work was done, and money was also raised by selling programmes during the showing of "Gone With the Wind" at the Granada Theatre. The report also revealed great activity by the Sherbrooke Seniors and Richmond and Lennoxville Seniors and Juniors.

Among other resolutions adopted were one urging the reconstruction of the family as an aid to Society through Christian education and another calling for a drive aimed at removal from sale in the Diocese all articles of a salacious nature.

MISS VAN VLIET DIED SUDDENLY AT AGE OF 70

Had Taught in Coaticook and Sherbrooke High Schools and Before Retiring Was Principal of East Ward School.

Miss Laura Isabelle Van Vliet, who taught for many years in the Coaticook and Sherbrooke High Schools and before retiring was Principal at the East Ward School here, passed away suddenly at the age of seventy years at the home of her sister, 121 London Street, late yesterday afternoon.

Born at Lacolle, Que., in 1870, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Traver Van Vliet, she began her teaching career in the Eastern Townships at the Coaticook High School. Later she came to Sherbrooke and for approximately twenty-five years was instructress at the Sherbrooke High. For two or three years before retiring she acted as teaching Principal in the East Ward School here. Of late she operated a well-known private school on London Street.

Private funeral services will be held here and the remains will be taken to Lacolle for interment. The deceased leaves to mourn three sisters, Miss Eleanor Van Vliet; and Mrs. W. S. Allen, of Sherbrooke, and Miss Annie Van Vliet, of New Jersey, N.Y., and one brother, Walton Van Vliet, of Lacolle.

LENNOXVILLE

Mrs. George Dwyer was hostess at her home on Depot Street yesterday afternoon to members of the Lennoxville Women's League of St. Andrew's Church, Sherbrooke, at their regular meeting, when plans were discussed for their Christmas sale and tea to be held in December. Mrs. James McKelvie led the devotional service, after which the President, Mrs. J. G. Trenholme, conducted the business session. Their agenda disposed of members enjoyed an hour of pleasant conversation, and later a dainty afternoon tea was served by Mrs. Dwyer, who was assisted in her hospitable duties by Mrs. A. Rowat.

Members of the Young Women's Association of the Lennoxville United Church heard an interesting address on "Hints on Dressmaking" given by Mrs. Lawrence E. MacAlister at their regular meeting held last evening in the Gertrude Scott Hall, with their president, Mrs. Hart Montgomery, and Mrs. Eric Lennon as hostesses. During the business session plans were discussed for their Halloween tea on October 28. Money was also voted for Red Cross work. Two new members were enrolled and welcomed. It is expected that the meeting next month will take the form of an illustrated address and the public will be invited. Following adjournment delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Broadhurst, of Waterloo, spent the week-end with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Orr, in Milby, and also visited her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hyndman, and her grandmother, Mrs. Jessie Orr, Clough Avenue.

Miss Louise Molloy has returned to "The Varsity," Belvidere Street, after visiting relatives and friends in Quebec City.

Mrs. W. A. Henderson and Mr. Alvin Henderson motored to Montreal over the week-end.

COLONIZATION SOCIETY NAMES ITS OFFICERS

Rev. R. W. Carr, of Cookshire, Re-elected President of E.T. Colonization Association at Annual Meeting Held Here.

Election of officers for the ensuing year and a review of conditions at present obtaining at the Lawrence Colony near Island Brook, where about forty families have established themselves under the back-to-the-land movement, featured the annual meeting of the Eastern Townships Protestant Colonization Association held in the City Hall yesterday afternoon.

The election resulted in the return of Rev. R. W. Carr, of Cookshire, as President, supported by D. J. Salls, of Sherbrooke, as Honorary President, A. W. Pratt, of Cookshire, as Vice-President, and R. W. S. Nutbrown, of Sherbrooke, as Secretary-Treasurer.

The executive committee consists of: Thomas Keeley, Sherbrooke; George Hurley, Sawyerville; Rev. A. Godwin, Sawyerville; F. A. Briggs, Sherbrooke; Rev. W. W. Smith, East Angus; J. W. Woodside, Lennoxville; Rev. F. R. Matthews, Lennoxville; Rev. W. J. Rowe, Bury; J. A. McClary, Lennoxville; Rev. J. M. Benton, Gould; R. N. Elliott, Cookshire; Rev. Dr. A. H. McGreer, Lennoxville; and W. J. Duffy, M.L.A., Gould.

In his report, the President, Rev. R. W. Carr, emphasized that colonization had continued to receive the active and sympathetic attention of the executives of the organization and that the outstanding accomplishment of this year's work was the erection of a church at the Lawrence Colony.

This church was made possible through the Provincial Government grant, donations from the Anglican Diocese of Quebec and individual subscriptions, he said. The improvement of the road leading to the Colony enabled one to drive comfortably as far as Christmas Brook, the President reported. Eight colonists had enlisted in the Canadian forces, he added.

A section of his report read: "During the year we were very sorry to lose from the Executive Committee, the Rev. W. Dunn, who has been transferred to the Magdalen Islands. Mr. Dunn has been keenly interested in the development of the Colony and your committee has asked his successor in Sawyerville, Rev. Mr. Goodwin, to continue that service by acting for the judgment and counsel of the Compton County agriculturist, R. N. Elliott, and have appreciated very much his willingness to confer with us."

The Committee has been compelled to combine the upper and lower schools into one for the school year. It was decided that every possible consideration would be given the families of the men who have joined the King's forces.

Colonists are given one hundred acres of land and a letter of credit for $250 with which to construct a home. Under the Dominion Provincial Colonization Plan, the householder is given fifteen dollars per month for living expenses in addition to various bonuses. The full assistance amounts to about $1,000 over a period of four years.

Predicts U.S. Will Soon Be Fighting At Britain's Side

United States Will Back Empire "With Every Ounce of Strength We Possess," Rev. Dr. C. H. Williams, of Whitefield, N.H., Declares at Inter-City Meeting of Local Rotary Club.

Probability that by early November the course of the war will have come to the United States was seen here last night by Rev. Dr. C. H. Williams, of the Whitefield, N.H., Rotary Club, who was the guest speaker at the annual inter-city meeting of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club held in the New Sherbrooke House.

"As a citizen from across the border," he said, "I am confident that the people of the United States are behind Great Britain, and that we will continue to back the Empire with every ounce of strength we possess."

He added that the people of the U.S. were today facing exceedingly dangerous "isms," which penetrate more deeply into the life of the nation than Communism, Fascism and Nazism.

"These are neutralism, pacifism and isolationism," he said. Describing pacifism as the most dangerous of the three, Dr. Williams declared that the United States would not sacrifice one particle of its heritage of liberty, justice and democracy handed down through the ages. The people realized that the forces of "isolationism had to be crushed and that only be accomplished by immediate aid to Britain."

Isolationism and neutrality are what Germany and Italy want of the United States, Dr. Williams said, but the United States could not ignore its responsibilities in international affairs in order to benefit at the expense of the free democratic nations now at war with the forces of evil and barbarity.

The aspirations of Hitler, Mussolini and Stalin to dominate the world were bound to fail, the speaker said, "he who takes the sword shall perish by the sword."

"Sooner or later," he said, "these dictators will come face to face with the sword of justice." And that sword, the speaker continued, has been taken up by the democracies, who are determined that Hitler shall be stopped in his campaign of aggression against helpless nations. The Nazi plan of world domination had struck a snag, he said, when it had to deal with the British Empire and now all free nations were at the side of Britain in her battle against tyranny.

Germany had drawn the sword against peace-loving peoples and the version that "if a man smite thee on the right cheek, turn unto him also the left," could no longer be accepted. For today, justice, as represented by the democracies, must remain the dominant factor in the world.

Referring to the fall of France, Dr. Williams declared that the republic had capitulated not because its men had been unwilling to continue the fight, but because of a corrupt political system. He was confident that France would rise again.

PREMIER GODBOUT SPEAKS OUT

A welcome relief to the efforts too frequently witnessed among politicians in this Province to stir up racial hatreds are the remarks of Premier Adélard Godbout this week at a Rougemont rally. The Quebec Premier minced no words in dealing with the virtues and shortcomings of his fellow-citizens. Furthermore he made it clear to them that it was Great Britain and Great Britain alone which is preserving liberty for this and the other countries of the world.

After urging that French and English alike should work "hand in hand for the greater good and development of this our Canada, yours and mine," he placed the position today squarely before the people of the Province with the declaration:

"Anybody who, in these days, does not recognize what we all owe the British Crown and who doesn't know that it is Britain and Britain alone, who today is fighting a lone fight for liberty and Christianity is a traitor." These are strong words, but no stronger than those he addressed to a section of the populace seeking to stir race hatred when he declared:

"Let us stop drooling. Let us stop this everlasting — 'The English have this, the English have that.' It is not through repeating this chant that we will ever get anywhere, and it is not through petty jealousy that we will improve the relations of our country."

THE CO-OPERATIVE MOVEMENT

The belief existing in many quarters that the profits collected by the "middle man" are one of the main causes of trade dislocation today, some two million persons across the North American continent have banded themselves together in a series of co-operative stores handling everything from soap to automobile tires and binder twine to gasoline. The co-operative principle is even being applied to insurance, medical care and money lending, in which field, instead of paying legal interest rates that may amount to fifty per cent a year, the customer-proprietors pay only nine per cent.

These two million people are members of organizations which did a business totalling $600,000,000 last year and operated in every Province of Canada and every State of the Union.

The system has been developing since 1912 when farmers in Ohio, Michigan and Indiana formed a co-operative to "break" high retail fertilizer prices, which soon dropped thirty-five per cent.

When the co-operative movement's central organization, the Co-operative League of the United States of America, opens its twelfth biennial convention in Chicago today, it will represent about twenty-five per cent more members than at its last convocation, in 1938.

The big achievement that will be marked at the coming convention is the pushing of the consumer co-operative principle beyond the field of distribution into the realm of production.

They have established a co-operative paint factory in Alliance, Ohio; fertilizer factories in Baltimore, Indianapolis, and Alliance and Maunee, Ohio; flour mills in Auburn, Ind., and Outlook, Sask.; feed mills at Mannheim, Pa., and Superior, Wis.; and a coffee roasting plant at Superior—where the first co-operative grocery was started by some Finns twenty-two years ago on a capital of $15.50. It now is a $3,500,000 business.

THE SOVIET-NAZI SPLIT

Each day developments in Europe bring increasing indications that the so-called bonds of iron between Nazi Germany and Soviet Russia are becoming more and more strained, the recent German advance into Rumania serving to place an almost intolerable force on the partnership. The matter has come to a head with the declaration by the Kremlin, in characteristic indirect fashion, that Germany—also in characteristic fashion—had broken its word to Russia by moving troops into the Balkan kingdom without informing Moscow.

That the uneasy partnership between Hitler and Stalin is suffering strain, was divulged by the Soviet news agency, Tass. It issued a denial of a report in the Danish press that "the Soviet Government was timely informed that German troops would be sent into Rumania and that the Kremlin was informed of the aims and numbers of troops sent to Rumania." This, Tass abruptly observed, "does not correspond to the facts."

What the "facts" were Tass did not say, but it must be recalled that a much-heralded clause in the Russian-German non-aggression pact provided that Moscow and Berlin keep each other informed of their plans and moves in the international sphere.

Russia would have particular reason for resenting the move in Rumania. She has always regarded Bucharest as within her sphere of influence. Furthermore, the German move means that Nazi troops have been planted along another Soviet door-step, Bessarabia which Russia recently won by ultimatum from Rumania. It means, significantly, that a rough German-Soviet frontier now stretches from the Baltic to the Black Sea.

While it may be premature to assume on the basis of this slender denial that a Russian-German break is impending, it is an important straw in the wind. Only Monday foreign observers in Bucharest saw increasing evidence that Russia is speeding to mobilize a powerful military machine along the Russian-Rumanian frontier—ready either to clash with German soldiers or join in a new land seizure by the Axis powers.

Soviet Red Army troops were reported pouring into border areas and rushing the construction of five new military airdromes.

There was the possibility that Ribbentrop, Hitler's Foreign Minister, might make a hurried trip to Moscow to pour oil on the troubled Germanic-Soviet waters. Such a trip has been spoken of in dispatches from the Reich recently.

The Soviet Government's statement was in direct contrast to a claim by Berlin spokesmen on October 10 that powers friendly to the Rome-Berlin Axis had been notified German troops had arrived in Rumania and that others were to follow.

An interesting sidelight on this development was a dispatch from Washington which spoke of progress towards more friendly relations between the United States and Soviet Russia being made in almost daily discussions between Constantine Umanisky, the Soviet Ambassador, and State Department officials.

London dispatches have told recently of renewed Anglo-Russian trade talks, and the Russian Ambassador, during a recent official tour of air raid shelters in London's East End, received a cordial welcome from the crowds.

ACTION AT LAST!

Perhaps the announcement by Prime Minister Mackenzie King that the Government is prepared for a full-dress session of Parliament when the House meets November 5 coupled with an evident desire to speed up Canada's industrial war effort indicates that at last the Government hopes to fight something but a paper war. The decision to hold a regular session instead of a formal one is a sign that the Government must have something definite to report on its activities of recent weeks.

This is the true desire of the people of Canada who are becoming highly disgusted with the half-hearted measures displayed to date and want to see something in the way of definite results. For months the Government has promised that Canada would produce tanks, guns, shells and other needed supplies of war materials, but the production was essentially a promise with nothing practical to back it up. The tanks, guns, planes and shells were all for the future. Recently however, a dim light has appeared through the mist, indicating that a portion of the promised munitions are really being produced. This is as it should be.

Canada has vast industrial resources and no just reason exists why they should not be used.

FROM THE RECORD FILES OF THIRTY YEARS AGO

Many Eastern Townships residents were muled by the activities of a get-rich-quick artist, C. D. Sheldon, of Montreal, who has disappeared in the general direction of Mexico with such funds as were entrusted to him by clients.

Those taking part in the concert in connection with the Harvest Home Thanksgiving Service at the Bury Methodist Church were Miss Bernice Weyland, Miss McGee, Miss Blanche Ross, Mrs. Sawyer, Miss Gladys Trombley, Mrs. Thomas Morrow, Miss Georgie Coates and Mr. Charles Murray.

Pope Pius has refused the requests of certain Irish independent leaders to lend his blessing to the movement demanding Home Rule for Ireland, claiming that such procedure would be undue intervention in domestic politics.

The prize-winners in the rifle shoot promoted by the 13th Light Scottish Dragoons at Waterville were M. E. Hastings, Sgt. Major F. J. Westover and Lieut. B. C. Draper.

The apple crop in the Western section of the Eastern Townships is reported poor in both quality and quantity while some mysterious disease is causing great damage to the trees themselves.

Heavy supplies have caused a sharp slump in the price of butter, this commodity dropping to eighteen cents per pound on some exchanges.

SEA MEMORY

Remember, bright afternoon,
And the green waves breaking on the brown rocks—

A gull cutting the sky with wings,
The sand reflecting the red sun,
Sea-glitter, salt-wind, and the blue air burning.

And we cry again,

Return, O bird, return,
Bird of the blue air, of wind-swept sand and water,
Bird of love, bird of the heart's wishing,
Return with the glad sky and the lip's singing.

—Evelyn Simpson.

ALL-NIGHT NOISE IS DISTURBING

To the Editor of the Record,
Dear Sir:—The rights of citizens in a residential district are ignored when the Mayor and Council, or any other dispensers of civic favors, grant a permit for large-scale building operations to be carried on at night—and all night.

The deafening noise which sometimes robs us of all sleep is excused, I understand, on the specious plea that a hospital is being erected for the sick and suffering and so the work must be hastened even if it does interfere with the rest of a few private households. To some this plea may seem a strong and reasonable one, to others a weak excuse. To me it sounds more absurd and fantastic than would be a request that the first honored, free, and permanent patients of this hospital, once it is opened, be the nerve-shattered victims of the nocturnal din—if they should be then alive.

Protests made to the authorities do not receive the courtesy of a reply, and therefore I venture to ask for a small space in your correspondence columns.

I am, Sir,
Yours truly,
EDWARD K. MOFFATT.

FRENCH PRESS

SEES HANDWRITING ON THE WALL FOR GERMANY

(La Patrie, of Montreal)
Myopia in politics, Germany forgets the consequences of its heinous crime. Nevertheless, the disasters of the Sussex and the Lusitania once got it into an important scrape, the entrance of the United States into the war. The neighboring republic is already moved by the arrogance of Japan; it may very well lose the rest of its Pacific Empire as he waits. Bismarck nevertheless saw a little further. Is it not true that when the gods would destroy they first make mad?

His invasion of England deferred—if it is not really halted—Hitler does not know which way to turn. He realizes, every day and every night, that the collapse of France did not mark the beginning of the end. Great Britain no more wanted war than she coveted conquest. But, entering the lists against her will and in the noblest of causes, she will fight until victory is won.

The walls of London, like those of earlier walls of Jericho, may crumble, but what the commercial metropolis of the world represents will never fall. The British nation makes its own thought of Horace, that all the ruins of the world will not share its will; it has made its own the thought of Lamartine, that confidence remains whole because it derives from Heaven.

CONFIDENTLY BELIEVES BRITAIN IS UNCONQUERABLE

(La Presse, of Montreal)
The history of what may perhaps be aptly termed the "aerial siege of London" will record the heroic acts that were accomplished during weeks of relentless and continual bombardment. The British nation has already honored several of those whose deeds have been most remarkable.

And here we may note with pride that the first man to be decorated with the George Cross, recently created by His Majesty to be awarded to those who performed acts of extreme gallantry, was a Canadian engineer, Lieutenant Robert Davies, leader of the group of sappers, who, at great risk to their lives, "liquidated" the time-bomb which had exploded, having destroyed the famous St. Paul's Cathedral in London.

A people animated by the spirit of these brave men, can never be conquered. We can have an abiding faith in the final victory of the British.

HAVE A SMILE

Mother (sighing and hurt): "Why, how can you say that?"
Father: "Because he can babble so many things that sound wonderful but mean absolutely nothing."

PRESS COMMENTS

CANADA ON GUARD

(New York Times)
No more graceful and useful gesture in recent Canadian-American history has been made than the recent press tour of Canadian defence facilities. Happily conceived, and as happily conducted, the 2,700-mile trip from the shell plant at Hamilton to the convoy-assembly port of Halifax, on which American publishers, editors and correspondents were the guests of the Canadian "Fourth Estate," has forged a new link in the stout chain of friendship between these two American nations. The results of the tour can be measured in much information gained and valuable lessons learned. It is clear that a good deal of work will be required to synchronize the defence programmes of the two countries. Standardization of specifications for military, naval and air equipment is obviously desirable. Not only would such standardization aid Canada in her mighty war effort; it would facilitate the mutual defence of North America.

Nor should our mutual efforts be limited to military co-operation. Economically the same raw materials and industries support us both. In this field there is one step that can properly be taken without loss of time. The requirement of our State Department, announced earlier this year, that Canadian visitors to the United States must have passports, was an obvious mistake. While it is important to bar undesirable aliens, the economic loss sustained in the free interchange between the two countries is far more obvious than the gain achieved. The passport requirement should be made to correlate and complement the activities of the two nations.

REAL BRAVERY

(Ottawa Journal)
Mr. Vernon Bartlett, M.P., talking from London over BBC the other evening, said he was frightened to death of it all, but he wouldn't be any other place for the world. It was a very frank confession, and probably it is the common reaction of Londoners to the trials they are enduring with so much fortitude. The bravest men and women are entitled to be frightened when deadly bombs fall around them with a terrifying clamour, or at the thought that roaming the skies over their heads are enemies eager to kill them and equipped for the purpose with the latest devices of hellish ingenuity. Only one totally lacking in imagination could go through such experience without flinching. But brave men and women do not run away when they are scared. They surmount the weakness of the frail flesh—and carry on. They do their duty, whether that duty consists in sitting quietly in a shelter or fighting fires or hunting for the deadly time bombs. Londoners are in the face of fire. Theirs is the blood of free men and conquerors; in their veins runs the fire of glory and adventure.

THE DICTATORS AND THE U.S. CAMPAIGN

(New York Herald-Tribune)
It is little credit to those Democrats who repeat the Democratic campaign slogan that the issue in the Presidential campaign is Roosevelt vs. Hitler that they apparently believe what they say. They do this in the face of the record of contempt for the Roosevelt administration on the part of Mr. Hitler. The contempt stems from the score of the man of prompt action for the delivery of many words. It is the reaction of the gangster whose pockets are filled with revolvers for the country squire who, unarmed, lectures the gangster on his duty to amend his ways.

Let us look at the record for the last two years. At the time of the Munich conference, Mr. Roosevelt, eager to see Germany appeased, urged Mr. Hitler to settle affairs at the conference table and to preserve the peace of the world. Mr. Hitler went about his plans for war and partition without the least attention to Mr. Roosevelt. In April of 1939 Mr. Hitler to the President asked Mr. Hitler to pledge himself not to attack other nations. Mr. Hitler replied by a two-and-one-half-hour tirade reciting Germany's pacific intentions, and went right ahead preparing for war. As the fateful September 1st approached Mr. Roosevelt once more sought to remind Mr. Hitler. He once more said that the last attention to Mr. Roosevelt's desires. In fact, a few months later the German Government published a "white paper" the burden of which was that American diplomatic agents in Europe had been inciting the British, French and Poles against the Germans.

It does not require detailed knowledge of the conduct of international relations to realize that this Hitlerian record is not the reaction of a man who is afraid. Quite the contrary, it is the reaction of a man who feels that his adversary can do him no serious harm. Mr. Hitler knows just where he stands with Mr. Roosevelt. He looks upon the President as a man given to bluff and as easily baffled. While he knows that Mr. Roosevelt is strongly anti-German he also knows that Mr. Roosevelt waited until the fall of France before translating his anti-German sentiments into positive anti-German acts. Why, then, should Germany fear "him"?

As a matter of fact, Mayor La Guardia's chilly enunciation of Mr. Roosevelt's plea for that gentleman's election to a third term very probably could be fittingly applied to describe the sentiment of the German about the coming Presidential election. "I prefer Roosevelt with his known faults," the Little Flower explained with his accustomed candor, "to Willie with his unknown virtues." Mr. Hitler knows just what he can expect from Mr. Roosevelt. Mr. Willie is, to him, an unknown quantity. Under the circumstances it would seem the part of political discretion—as well as of personal decency—for prominent Democrats to drop the charge that the dictators are looking for the defeat of Mr. Roosevelt. Why not stick to the issues?

HON. JAPANESE SANDBAG MAN

IN THE LAWS EYES

(Peterborough Examiner)
Private William Moulton of the Perth Regiment was found guilty of murder and sentenced to hang for the death of a soldier who was killed by a bullet fired from a machine gun on November 19. While he was admittedly drunk at the camp in Niagara Falls, he shot to death another member of his regiment.

In addressing the jury, Mr. Justice Kelly made it quite plain that a soldier was appearing before a judge here as a citizen of the country. He was in a civil court and had not been dealt with by military law. We recall at the time of the shooting there were questions on that point.

The learned judge said: "In our law there is no difference between persons. The fact that he is a soldier makes no difference. Perhaps some of you wonder why a soldier is tried in a civil court. In our law there are no soldiers—they are all civilians in the eyes of the law. There is no power in a military court to try such a case as this. He stands here as a citizen of the country." That, of course, is plain fact, but the existence of laws which place a soldier and a civilian on exactly the same footing before the law is something which has not been broadly understood. Otherwise there would not have been the amount of questioning which occurred at the time when Moulton was arrested.

THE CHANNEL

(H. V. O'Brien, in Chicago Daily News)
The British have a secret weapon to which sufficient attention has not been paid. I refer to that strip of concentrated screechlike known as the Channel.

I have crossed this body of water many times, both invading the United Kingdom and retreating from it. I have crossed at various points and in assorted crafts. Even on the fast run from Calais—in a big ship, requiring only a little over an hour and a half for the trip—I have arrived in such condition that I couldn't give battle to an aroused caterpillar.

From now on, the waters of the Channel are likely to make a trip by barge more frightful than any bombardment. For the first half, the Germans will fear they are going to die and for the second, they will fear they aren't.

I have been seasick on all kinds of water; but the Channel is in a class by itself.

HERE AND THERE

Faced with the problem of establishing a currency system for his country, Henry Christophe, Haiti's negro emperor, proclaimed that every green gourd in the country henceforth was the property of the state. These gourds were paid back to the people for their farm products, which, in turn, were sold to European markets for gold. Today, Haiti has a silver coin known as a gourd.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

DECLARER TRAPPED WITH FOUR LOSERS BY DIAMOND LEAD

The American Contract Bridge League's national championships tournament is divided into two sessions, the summer session and the fall session. The summer session, which is always held at Asbury Park, N.J., includes two of the world championship events. The events held in the fall are not duplicates of those played at Asbury Park. There are too many championships for all to be played in one week.

One of the most interesting events in the summer session of the national tournament is the amateur team-of-four. At the fall session, which will be held this year in Philadelphia the week of December 2, there will be an amateur pair championship. The winners of either of these events automatically become masters and therefore ineligible to defend their title.

At Asbury Park this year the winning team was A. R. Dick, C. W. Thomas, Jr., and J. T. Shearn, Jr., of Philadelphia.

Here is a nice defensive hand played by Thomas and Dick. The king of spades was the natural opening. Dick put on the ten, a very nice play, as it allowed Thomas in the North to lead the six of spades. Dick won with the queen and immediately returned a small diamond.

Now you can see what happened. West had an established diamond trick in his hand, as North still held the ace of clubs. If this play had not been made, the two losing diamonds could have been discarded on the two good clubs. Thus North and South would have taken only two spade tricks and the ace of clubs.

YOUTH PROBLEM IS REVIEWED AT C.W.L. BANQUET

Rev. Father Hector Daly, S.J., Guest Speaker at Largely Attended Banquet Which Closed Diocesan Convention Last Night.

Graced by the presence of the National President, Mrs. J. A. MacCabe, of Ottawa, and honored by the attendance of Mgr. P. S. Desranleau, Bishop-Coadjutor and other church dignitaries, the annual C.W.L. Diocesan banquet at the Chateau Frontenac last evening was an outstandingly brilliant and successful event, the delight of which was intensified by the charming personality of the guest-of-honor and the graceful demeanor of the official hostess, Miss Gertrude Conway, President of the Sherbrooke Juniors, under which auspices the sumptuous feast was served.

The banquet was served in the main dining room, which has just recently been redecorated in blue and buff, the colors effectively harmonizing with the League's colors of blue and gold, and forming an attractive background for the head table, above which hung the beautiful C.W.L. shield illuminated with the League's motto: "For God and Canada."

There was indeed a notable assembly of guests seated at the head table, where covers were laid for twelve, the League's colors being charmingly used in its lovely centerpiece of golden chrysanthemums in a large Sheffield bowl and blue candles in handsome crystal candelabra, while a corsage of lovely Talisman roses adorned the place-card for the guest-of-honor's name, a graceful tribute to the National President, from the Sherbrooke Diocese.

With Miss Gertrude Conway, President of the Sherbrooke Juniors, presiding, the guests at the head table included His Excellency the Coadjutor Bishop of Sherbrooke, the Rev. Father Hector Daly, S.J., guest speaker, Mrs. J. A. MacCabe, National President, guest-of-honor, the Rev. Canon J. C. McGee, Mrs. Romeo Marcotte, of Richmond, Diocesan President, the Rev. Canon N. Codere, Mrs. Francis Hoyer, Vice-President, Mrs. A. L. Valle, Immediate Past Diocesan President, the Rev. Father C. E. Pepin, the League's Chaplain, Mrs. J. E. Jameson, Second Vice-President, Mrs. Grant Campbell, of Richmond, Treasurer.

Grace was said by the Bishop-Coadjutor, who included a special prayer for the Sovereign Pontiff, Pope Pius XII.

"The King," the only toast, was ably proposed by the Rev. Father Charles E. Pepin, who referred to His Majesty as a "model of patience, self-sacrifice and trust in God."

Father Pepin also included his warmest approval of the handsome contribution of $25,000 made to the War Fund by the C.W.L. of Canada, which thus gave tangible expression to its loyalty and love for His Majesty. "Therefore," said Father Pepin, "let us raise our glasses to our beloved King."

The guest speaker, the Rev. Father Hector Daly, S.J., was charmingly introduced by Mrs. Arthur W. Cote, who in a well-phrased and delightful manner performed this quite evidently pleasant task.

Father Daly's virile and forceful address on "The Church and the Youth Problem" from his very first utterance, thrilled, arrested and absorbed the undivided attention of the one hundred and fifty guests who were privileged to hear him last evening.

"First," said the speaker, "one must understand youth. Personally, I'm an optimist and do not think that the modern girls and boys 'have gone to the dogs.'"

"But," continued Father Daly, "I think the 'good old days' should in a measure be indoctrinated into the home. 'Home was home' in those days, not just a place to sleep in. Today too much is prepared music by radio, education by radio, in fact everything is 'canned.' The speaker introduced several humorous phrases into his exceptionally strong and excellent address.

Stressing that the "home" was the foundation of all education, Father Daly also admonished all parents who failed to incorporate religion into the every-day life of their homes.

Tabulating his remarks under three headings, religious, social and intellectual, in connection with the lives of modern "youth," Father Daly gave straightforward advice, not only to parents and guardians, but to teachers in schools and convents.

In schools, said the speaker, there is not enough importance attached to the connection between and the application of religion in every-day life.

God is a Father, and parents who have not a deep faith in themselves cannot expect much of their children. Schools should equip girls to face the world and know how to conduct themselves when they leave the sheltering walls of their Alma Mater, said the speaker, and in conclusion he urged the girls to be "ready, steady, more than ever our girls and boys should be forewarned and forearmed."

Miss Helen McManamy voiced an appreciation and thanks to Father Daly on behalf of the Juniors, in a very gracefully worded manner.

The next item was a delightful interlude, during which Mrs. A. N. Bachand Dupuis sang very beautifully the League's song, "Carry On," being accompanied by its composer, Mrs. L. E. Codere, Sherbrooke's premier musician.

With her customary grace, Mrs. Francis Hoyer introduced the guest of honor, Mrs. J. A. MacCabe, of Ottawa, National President of the C. W. L. of Canada, whose charming personality and sweet dignified manner quite captivated every one in the huge assembly gathered to pay tribute to their Chief Executive.

First thanking the members for her lovely courage, Mrs. MacCabe went on to say that never had there been a time when a more urgent call had come to Catholic women, to unite in one purpose in their service to their Church and Country.

Enlarging the work done by the local sub-divisions, which the speaker likened to the bed-rock foundation of the Diocese, and on to the National C. W. L., the speaker referred to the wonderful co-operation, which enabled the C. W. L. to contribute $25,000 to be used by the Canadian Government for war work.

"Increase your membership, push on, honor your country's laws, and keep up your good work," said Mrs. MacCabe, "for ultimate success depends on individual support, and may God's continued blessing rest on your defense of Faith and Country. We must not fail, we must not falter."

Miss Gertrude Meagher, on behalf of the Juniors, extended thanks and appreciation to the National President.

Mrs. Desranleau, Coadjutor-Bishop, chose as the subject of his inspirational address, the study book selected by the C. W. L., for the coming year, namely "The Mystical Body of Christ."

The scholarly construction of his address and his spiritual interpretation of this Sacred Subject, both revealed the depth and actual presence of religion and faith in the speaker's heart, while his righteous indignation against those who are trying to "banish charity among the nations," evinced his steadfast loyalty on the side of those who are striving to hold all that makes for freedom and right.

"Christ is our Life and Light," he said, "and we all must accept the mystery of the natural and supernatural and acknowledge the 'Mystical Body of Christ,' of which He is Head."

Before concluding Mgr. Desranleau congratulated the C. W. L., especially mentioning the Sherbrooke Juniors, who had so ably acted as hostesses for the banquet, which so happily concluded the 14th annual convention of the Sherbrooke Diocese.

Miss Arlene Hand was given the honor of thanking Mgr. Desranleau, which she accomplished in a very clever and appropriate little speech.

Miss Gertrude Conway, who presided throughout the evening with ease and grace, extended thanks to Mrs. Dupuis and Mrs. Codere, whose musical contribution had been one of the outstanding features of the well-planned programme; also to Miss Eugenie Shea, in charge of arranging for the music, Mrs. R. Provencher and Miss J. Saint-Jacques; for publicity, Miss Helen McManamy for looking after the banquet hall and very specially mentioning Mrs. Arthur Cote and Miss Claire Angers, who convened the dinner.

Mrs. L. E. Codere accompanied for the singing of "O Canada," at the commencement of the banquet and at its close played God Save the King.

PROPER CURTAIN LENGTHS

When buying materials for curtains, if you are not sure of the proper length for your windows, there are three lengths most generally accepted as correct. Curtains should be long enough to touch the sill, to come to the bottom of the apron or to reach the floor. When measuring, be sure to allow amply for a generous bottom hem, top hem for the curtain rod and heading, if you wish one.

BOMBAY BALKS WAR RUMORS BY LOUDSPEAKERS

Officials Hope to Reach All Sections of Population with Campaign of Counter-Propaganda.

Bombay, Oct. 16.—(C)—A network of loudspeakers attached to a national system of broadcasting shortly to be installed and operated in Bombay, will, it is hoped, put an end to "wild rumors and false enemy propaganda."

The Times of India says: "Among the many benefits of the scheme is that the truth will be told to the illiterate and poor in an idiom they will understand so that they will no longer fall victims of rumor and gossip by which they are ultimately victimized."

The Bombay War Publicity Committee proposes to install twelve loudspeakers in different parts of the city and the system will be expanded as found necessary.

"Broadcasts will be made of official news of the progress of the war and of the war effort being made in the provinces of India. Factual and informative talks will be given in all languages by eminent men drawn from all communities and by announcers," the Times says.

DENISON'S MILLS

The October meeting of the Ladies' Guild of Holy Trinity Church was held at the home of Mrs. Charles Taylor and Mrs. George Taylor and was a successful quilting bee with nearly all members and a few guests present. Final plans were made for the chicken pie supper for the church. Rev. F. B. Cooke opened and closed the business meeting with prayer and the hostesses served lunch.

The County Institute meeting held in the Community Hall was well attended and the women of the local branch were hostesses to a number of members for the supper following.

Mr. Charles Taylor, who is visiting in British Columbia, narrowly escaped serious injury when knocked down by a car in Vancouver, suffering severely bruised legs.

The benefit dance in aid of the Kingsley parsonage fund in the community hall was quite well attended and about eighteen dollars was realized.

It was a shock to this community to hear of the death of Frederick A. Armstrong in Prince William, N.B. Mr. Armstrong moved to New Brunswick only a few weeks ago. The deceased had resided here for a number of years. Internment took place in Denison's Mills recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Patrick and family and Mr. Henry Patrick spent the holiday week-end in Sawyerville, visiting with relatives.

The congregational chicken pie supper of Holy Trinity Church was a very successful event this year and the proceeds of the evening amounted to more than two hundred dollars.

Mrs. Bernice Fowler was the winner of the quilt and Mrs. T. Lambert the winner of the chicken.

Mr. and Mrs. Penn. Andrews and family, of Quebec, were visiting Mr. Ray Andrews.

Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Brook and infant daughter were visitors at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Andrews.

WHAT money? Why—the money in the banks! The money carefully put away by you and your neighbours in savings accounts. The money you could have spent today but wanted to keep safely against some future need. The businessman's money for use in his normal operations. There are more than 4,846,000 bank deposit accounts, savings and current. Within these two classes the great majority of deposits are small or of moderate amount. But you'd be wrong if you assumed from this, that the rest of the deposits are owned by the few! Quite the contrary! The railways, for instance, have deposits in the chartered banks—and that indirectly includes the whole population of the Dominion. The trade unions have deposits. Millions of policy-holders share in the ownership of insurance companies' deposits. And don't overlook the deposits of wheat pools; farm co-operatives; churches; municipalities and municipal hydro commissions, school districts; school children's penny bank savings deposited with the chartered banks; and commercial and mining corporations with very wide lists of shareholders, large and small, all over Canada. Truly, money on deposit in Canada's chartered banks is owned, in fact, by you and your fellow-Canadians.

In war, as in peace, Canada's Chartered Banks maintain, uninterrupted, their useful services — safeguarding depositors' funds; facilitating the nation's business — looking forward to peace with freedom as the only sure basis of enduring prosperity.

Upset World Forcing U. S. To Sit Tight In The Philippines for Next Few Years

Whole Problem of Islands Is Series Of Well-Nigh Unanswerable Questions

Manila, Philippine Islands, Oct. 15.—The Government of the Philippine Islands is sending to Washington this month its Speaker of the House in the National Assembly, Jose S. Yulo. Officially, Speaker Yulo is entrusted with the mission of explaining and determining American opinion on certain amendments to the Philippine constitution, granting the President emergency powers over national defence. Unofficially, Speaker Yulo will sound out American public opinion on the question of granting the Philippines their independence in 1946, as provided for now under the Tydings-McDuffie Act of 1934.

If Speaker Yulo is able to learn anything concrete about his unofficial and more important mission, he will have something there that most of the American people and most of the Philippines themselves don't yet know.

For the whole problem of the Philippines is one big long series of almost unanswerable questions. Do the Philippines want independence?

Do the United States want to drop the Philippines like the bushel of hot potatoes they are?

If the Philippines want to cut loose, should the U.S. guarantee their independence, spending a few billions for their defence?

Has the whole question of Philippine independence been brought up a generation too soon?

Should both Philippines and Americans put the issue on the shelf, going along as they are now set up for another ten or twenty years?

Should the setup be changed, and the Philippines be granted a kind of dominion status—something that doesn't now exist within the framework of American Government?

If the United States does not let go the Philippines, should we take them over bodily and give them territorial government such as we now give Alaska and Hawaii?

Should the Philippines ever be considered for statehood and admitted into the Union?

If the United States cuts loose from the Philippines, will the Japanese gobble them up?

The answer to the last question is probably the easiest one of the bunch to answer, and it is very definite, "yes."

The story of Japanese filtration into the Philippines has been told many times. The northernmost point of the Philippines is only seventy-eight miles from Formosa, southernmost of the Japanese Islands. Immigration is now restricted, but over the years the Japanese have built up a substantial colony in Davao, southern Mindanao, where they raise everything that rich countries permit, in a soil so fertile and a climate so hot that it will grow three crops of corn in a little over a year.

These Japanese make good citizens. They work like bees, they know how to get along with Filipinos, they are law-abiding and they obey their consul. Japanese good-will missions pour into the islands at all times—official overseers, trade and tourist bodies, delegations of bespectacled students on vacation to observe conditions. All of them are, apparently, building up pro-Japanese sentiment and looking to the day when they can walk in and help themselves.

There is Jose talk among some Americans, long resident in the islands, to the effect that the Filipino really likes the Jap better than the white man. But to offset that, there is good substantial talk from leading Filipinos that they don't want to be cut loose from the United States, in 1946 or any time thereafter. This talk has crystallized into a movement with a name, the Re-examination Movement.

Get a number of the leaders of this Re-examination Movement together and you will hear surprising things. These leaders are, they more or less openly admit, the Tories of the Philippines. They include a few men in high Government positions. There are business men, planters, bankers, mine men and a few Americans. These are the men who, realizing that seventy per cent of the Philippine trade of about $250,000,000 is with the United States, just don't want to see it kicked out the window for the Japanese to pick up.

They further maintain that the Independence Act was passed too soon, that the Filipinos don't really understand its consequences, and that the status quo of U.S.-Philippine relations should be maintained for some years to come. Leaders of this movement have in recent months openly made speeches on the floor of the National Assembly to further this point of view. A few years ago it would have been political suicide to espouse openly this cause.

The most confusing point about the entire situation is that the independence issue has been kicked around like a political football by the Philippine nationalists and leaders like an economic football by American business men and politicians so short-sighted as to be almost blind. The result is a Grade A mess which is the Philippine problem.

Reconsider, for a moment, just what the Philippines are. The entire archipelago consists of 7,000 islands, 406 of which are a square mile or larger, 4,600 of which are still unnamed. Their total land area is slightly larger than Great Britain, slightly smaller than Japan. They stretch 1,150 miles North and South, 660 miles East and West. They are inhabited by 16,000,000 people who produce for export principally gold, sugar, copra, hemp, cocoa oil and tobacco.

To weld this scattered semi-civilization, the Filipino leaders had to have an issue. They made that issue Nationalism, and Uncle Sam altruistically encouraged them in this ambition.

Aiding and abetting these nationalists has been an American lobby made up of four strange bedfellows: 1.—The sugar lobby, which resented and would like to freeze out competition from Philippine sugar.

2.—The dairy products lobby which resented the competition that cocoa oil, going into the manufacture of margarine, gave to U.S. dairy products.

3.—The pacifist lobby which fears the Philippines may lead the U.S. into war with Japan.

4.—The isolationist bloc which would have the United States get out of every inch of land not North American, and stay out.

All these elements combined, in 1934, to obtain passage of the Independence Act. There is provision in the Act that a conference shall be called in 1944 to consider how trade shall be conducted if independence is granted, fully and finally, in 1946.

But the whole problem of Philippine independence can be reconsidered at this 1944 conference if both the United States and the Philippines signify they want the Act repealed.

If neither signifies any desires, the law will stand as it is on the books now, and the U.S. will then kiss the Philippines goodbye.

Solving the problems of the Philippines probably involves sitting tight for the next four years. The result of war in Europe, the possibility of more trouble in the Pacific, will have no small bearing on the outcome, regardless of internal affairs.

LEAFS EMBARK ON LIFE IN TRAINING CAMP

Coach Happy Day Has Thirty Men In Squad

Syl Apps Succeeds Red Horner, Now Leafs' Goodwill Ambassador, as Captain of Toronto's National Hockey League Outfit—Three-Way Battle for Regular Goaling Chores.

St. Catharines, Ont., Oct. 16.—A hockey season that is expected to bring thousands of United States dollars into Canada to help in the war effort opened for Toronto Maple Leafs today on a military note. Reville sounded before daylight and the Leafs embarked upon the first full day at training camp—a two-week period that will prepare the players for five months' National Hockey League competition.

During that time United States currency will flow into Canada in the form of players' salaries. Part of this money will be held in trust by the Canadian Government for players with American teams. It will revert to them when they resume residence in Canada at the end of the season.

The Leafs, the last N.H.L. club to begin training, brought thirty players to camp along with a new coach, Clarence (Happy) Day. The former Leaf defence stalwart and league official took over the coaching when Dick Irvin signed with Montreal Canadiens last spring.

The team also has a new captain—Syl Apps. One of hockey's smartest centres, Apps succeeds Reginald (Red) Horner, who retired from the defence to a post as Leafs' goodwill ambassador.

The squad—about the largest ever to undergo training under Toronto auspices—proved somewhat unwieldy, prompting Manager Conny Smythe and Coach Day to follow a new departure. Beginning this morning the players were divided into two sections. While one section works out on ice, the other will be taken "P" or golfing.

Of the players at camp, three are goalies. Turk Broda, regular custodian in recent years, will have to battle Phil Stein, of Syracuse Stars, and an amateur, Bas Bastien, for his job. Bastien was with Port Colborne Sailors and Atlantic City Seagulls last season.

There are eight defence men competing for the four regular berths and nineteen forwards seeking one of the ten positions generally held open by the club.

REMEMBER WHEN?

Gennie Mack, shrewd Philadelphia Athletic manager, bought Bob (Lefty) Grove, ace Baltimore Oriole pitcher, for $100,000 cash sixteen years ago today. The southpaw was with the Athletics until the end of the 1933 season when he was traded to Boston Red Sox.

LAY PLANS FOR CAGE SQUAD TO REPLACE GRADS

New Edmonton Team Will Seek Dominion and North American Women's Basketball Titles—Will Be Called Comets.

Edmonton, Oct. 16.—Percy Page, retired coach of the disbanded Edmonton Grads, world famous women's basketball squad, today laid plans for the formation of a club which will sponsor a new team that will seek Dominion and North American senior women's basketball championships.

The new club will be backed by officials of the former Edmonton Commercial Grads basketball organization and the new team will be called Edmonton Comets. Page announced last night that decision to sponsor the new organization and help finance it for at least a year was reached at a meeting at which the Edmonton Commercial Grads Club was officially dissolved and the books closed.

The club was dissolved four months after the Grad team disbanded here June 6.

The new organization will operate along the lines similar to those built up by the Grads, who from 1915 to their dissolution won all championships available in girls' basketball.

Sport Flashes

Buck Newsom got a lot of outside offers after the series, but the screwiest of all was one to sign up as a bouncer. (Old Bo would have made a good 'un).

The Milwaukee Brewers, who have a wide open managerial job, can have their pick of Ki Ki Cuyler, Nashville-ex; Bert Niehoff, Jersey City-ex; Rogers Hornsby, Oklahoma City-ex and others too numerous to mention.

Odd situation: When Quarterback Jack Haebeel reported to Umpire Paul Haebeel in the Washington Idaho game—merely father and son.

The Oakland Tribune claims to have found a wrestling fan and wants to get in line for the Pulitzer Prize for good reporting.

Today's guest star: See Taylor, Des Moines Register: "All happenings in the major leagues hereafter will be dated before 1940 and after 1940—the year the National League won the World's Series and two all-star games."

Two Players Bidding For Jobs With Toronto Leafs Have Unusual Record

Add good luck charms: Dick Kowinski and Johnny McCree. The pair of former Kirkland Lake Blue Devils have played on four successive amateur championships clubs in the past four years. They're both trying for National Hockey League berths at the Toronto Maple Leafs camp in St. Catharines, Ont., now—and the Leafs should sign them, even if only on the assumption that their luck will hold good in pro ranks.

The old order has changed in one of the most unexpected places—New York Rangers. The team is expected to start this season with the same fifteen men that won the Stanley Cup last year will have a new coach for the first time in fifteen years. The veteran Manager-Coch, Lester Patrick, announced his retirement last night at the training camp in Winnipeg and will concentrate on "Front Office" duties. He named Frank Boucher, one of the original Rangers of 1926, to take over the pilot's duties.

Reconstruction note: Red Dutton has signed western Canada puck chasers in his rebuilding campaign for the Americans at the New York Club's training camp in Port Arthur, Ont. Three of them—Bus Wycherley, Saskatoon; Billy Benson, Winnipeg; Squee Allen, North Battleford, Sask.—are expected to come to the Leafs' camp in St. Catharines. The others probably will play with two farm clubs, Springfield Indians and Seattle Hawks.

It was like old home week as Toronto Maple Leafs gathered at their annual pre-training banquet yesterday. Seated about the room were such former stalwarts as Baldy Cotton, George Hainsworth, Jimmy Fowler and George Parsons. In the grey-blue uniform of the Royal Canadian Air Force was one of the most valuable defensive forwards in Leaf history—Corporal Frankie Finnegan. Introducing Red Horner at the banquet, Cotton told of the time that the big defenceman who is now the Leafs' Goodwill Ambassador signed his first contract with Manager Conny Smythe. No mention was made of money. "Red didn't care about money—he just wanted to give his all for the dear old Leafs," related Cotton, adding: "But he soon smartened up."

Frank Boucher, who has been given the Rangers reins by Lester Patrick, is one of the original members of the New York Club and for ten years piloted the famous Ben Cook-Boucher-Bill Cook line which broke practically all records in organized hockey. During the famous Ranger trial, Boucher scored more than 1,100 points in goals and assists.

Search for talent: Art Ross is working different amateurs with the Bruins on his Boston Bruins to determine the best players among the younger crop. Ross' job won the National Hockey League championship last season but lost out in the Stanley Cup playdowns—and the fiery Manager wants nothing less than perfection.

Last night in the seven-team loop last season, Montreal Canadiens already have one "first" this year and are gunning for a second. They were the first N.H.L. club to open training at their St. Hyacinthe, Que., camp and now have an exhibition game scheduled for this week-end. It will be played Sunday at St. Hyacinthe against the American League club, New Haven Eagles.

Several Boxes Still Available for Horse Show Tomorrow and Friday Nights at Exhibition Arena.

Sale of boxes at the Exhibition Arena for the Red Cross Horse Show, which will be held tomorrow and Friday nights, has been brisk, and is but another indication of the manner in which residents of Sherbrooke and the district are swinging behind the show, proceeds of which are to be turned over to the Canadian Red Cross Society.

FRANK BOUCHER ACCEPTS LARGE HOCKEY CHORE

Former Centre-Ice Star of New York Rangers Will Guide Team in N.H.L. as Les Patrick Takes "Front Office" Position.

Winnipeg, Oct. 16.—Frank Boucher, one of hockey's greatest centre-men of all time, stepped into a big pair of shoes today when he took over the coaching duties of the world champion New York Rangers from Manager Lester Patrick.

Patrick announced last night he was giving up the post he has held for almost 15 years in order to devote all his time to managing his three-ring hockey circus which includes, besides the Rangers, Philadelphia Ramblers in the American Hockey League and New York Rangers in the Eastern United States Amateur Hockey League.

The veteran coach who has guided Rangers to victories in Stanley Cup play-offs three times since 1926, said it would be hard for him to leave the players' bench, but he had "no regrets."

Last season Boucher was assistant coach of the Rangers, and at the Rangers' school and training camp here this fall has been practically in charge.

CLAIMS RIPLEE CATCH "MIRACULOUS"

Greensburg, Pa., Oct. 16.—(AP)—Manager Bill McKee last night modestly placed the credit for the Cincinnati Reds winning the 1940 World Series on General Manager Warren C. Giles and his players. Jimmie Riplee, a hero of the series, that Riplee's catch of Catcher Sullivan's liner was "the most miraculous catch" he ever saw on a ball field.

The Very Idea! "So they'd retire old William Klem! Great Scott! They can't do that to him! The fans who pay the baseball freight, Would howl if they gave Bill the gate. So sparsely would they dot the parks, You'd have to spot them with the arcs."

Sports writers, printers and radio announcers are sending thanks to the Maryland football squad—there isn't a jaw-breaking name on it.

Eddie Mead, Manager of Henry Armstrong, has joined his fighter in the hospital.

Many Old Campaigners Yield N.H.L. Berths To Youngsters

Tiny Thompson, Nels Stewart, Red Horner, Marty Barry, Eddie Shore, Al Murray and Art Chapman Among Noted Players Quitting Big Top This Season—Canadians' Veterans Threatened in New Deal of Montreal Club.

Toronto, Oct. 16.—A lot of the old familiar faces will be missing in the National Hockey League this season.

It won't seem quite the same now that Tiny Thompson has decided to quit the big league, or that Red Horner won't be swinging his fists or that old Nels Stewart won't be ambling along in that inimitable waltz style the New York fans used to moan about and love to watch.

There are kids like Frankie Brimsek and Walter Stanowski and Murray Armstrong to do the jobs now.

The veterans are going out so fast that a fan of five seasons ago would look in vain for some of his old favorites.

Al Murray is retiring, a little guy bowing out long after he fooled those people who said he was too small.

Thompson, one of the N.H.L.'s all-time great goalkeepers, gave up the Detroit netminding job to coach Buffalo of the American League.

Horner, the inveterate "bad man," will act as the Goodwill Ambassador for Toronto Maple Leafs.

Stewart apparently is out of the game altogether this season. Another American veteran leaving the active service—Art Chapman—will act as Red Dutton's aide.

Eddie Shore has quit, too, after years and years as the league's No. 1 defenceman. He'll stick to his Springfield Indians of the American League.

The old guard of Montreal Canadiens—fellows like Walter Buswell, Armand Mondou and Earl Robinson—is threatened with extinction in the new deal Montreal Canadiens have dealt themselves.

One-minute interview: Joe McCarthy: "We didn't lose by much. But we did lose. We lost in the first month of the season when DIMaggio hurt his leg after Jake Powell dented his skull against a steel wall in a Kentucky exhibition."

Howlers: A monologue is a conversation between two people, such as man and wife.

A worm looks like a caterpillar that has been shaved.

Petroleum is a sort of oil-cloth used for covering floors.

Lighthouse keepers have few opportunities for gardening.

A butress is another name for a dairymaid, that is, a maid who makes butter.

TINY THOMPSON ENDS LENGTHY N.H.L. CAREER

35-Year-Old Goalie Takes Over Buffalo Club in American Hockey League—Started Pro Goaling in 1924.

Detroit, Oct. 16.—(AP)—Ceil (Tiny) Thompson, one of the greatest goal minders in modern hockey history, said good-bye today to the National Hockey League, ending a career in which he stopped an estimated 100,000 shots from sailing into his net.

The 35-year-old goalie left Detroit last night for Buffalo where he will take over the Buffalo Club in the American Hockey League.

He carried with him a box containing the pads he has worn since he started goal minding for the Duluth club in the American Association in 1924. He has worn them down through the years, but he doesn't expect to don them often this year.
