Russia in 20 years: a bustling Utopia

By ROBERT ELPHICK

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Nikita Khrushchev today drew a Utopian picture of life in the Soviet Union within 20 years and confidenly forecast the decline of capitalism as a world force.

The Soviet premier told world and Soviet Communist leaders that in 20 years:

1. Russian industry will produce nearly twice as much as the whole non-Communist world turns out at present,
2. Consumer goods production will increase five-fold,
3. Russian workers will have the shortest working day in the world,
4. Free modern housing and free basic communal services will be provided for every family, and
5. All disabled persons will be fully maintained at public expense.

The glowing forecast was made by Khrushchev as he outlined his new 20-year development plan to the 22nd congress of the Soviet Communist party.

He told delegates the program "ushers in a period when all the difficulties and hardships borne by the Soviet people in the name of its great cause will be rewarded 100-fold."

The political instability of world capitalism is increasing, he said, and the United States becoming the epicentre of capitalism's economic difficulties.

"American capitalism has passed its prime and is declining," he declared.

He pointed to high unemployment figures in the capitalist countries of North America, Western Europe, Australia and

'Very bad, reasonably good'

Mixed feelings West reaction

LONDON (CP)—The West today viewed with mixed feelings Nikita Khrushchev's two-pronged foreign policy speech Tuesday at the opening session of the 22nd Soviet party congress.

Most Western commentators expressed deep dismay over the Soviet premier's announcement that Russia will explode a 50-megaton hydrogen bomb while at the same time welcoming his offer to drop Russia's year-end deadline for a German peace treaty.

The Times says the Russian leader's speech "contained the usual mixture of very bad and reasonably good passages."

"There is no military advantage to be gained in touching off so large a bomb," The Times says. "The purpose behind the announcement is largely political. It is meant to fill the Western people with fear of what may happen unless their governments concede points to the Russians over Berlin."

The bomb announcement also brought expressions of alarm and anger from Japan.

Yukio Kawabata, a Japanese meteorologist, said "radioactivity will continue to fall for the next 10 years as a result of these nuclear, tests."

ATTACKS KHRUSHCHEV

Shigesaburo Maeo, secretary-general of the ruling Liberal Democratic party, said Khrushchev's speech "offered no hope for genuine peaceful coexistence."

In the House of Lords, Britain's foreign secretary, the Earl of Home, said Tuesday the withdrawal of the peace treaty deadline meant "the atmosphere of ultimatum . .. was removed," but he criticized the Soviet nuclear test program.

Indian government officials also were privately critical of the Russian proposal to fire a massive new nuclear blast, but as usual had no public comment.

Four British pacifists invaded the Soviet Embassy in London and announced they would stage a sitdown there until the Russians called off the bomb blast. British policemen carried them out of the building five hours later.

In Rome, Il Tempo says Khrushchev's speech "admits of some good hope" despite his "mad intention of further contaminating the air with new atomic explosions."

"By giving up the peremptory deadline of Dec. 31 for the conclusion of a peace treaty with Germany "Khrushchev has removed one of the gravest obstacles" to East-West negotiations.

In Paris, le Figaro welcomes the peace treaty announcement but warns against "undue optimism."

U.S. requests Russia to reconsider test

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has asked Russia to reconsider her decision to explode a 50 - megaton nuclear bomb, saying the test would be unnecessary and could "only serve some unconfessed political purpose."

It said the U.S. has the materials and know-how to produce bombs in the 50- to 100-megaton range — and higher — but that such weapons are not essential to U.S. military needs, and that full-scale tests are not necessary to develop them.

A 130 - word statement was handed to reporters Tuesday night by press secretary Pierre Salinger who said it should be attributed to the White House.

The statement was the only official U.S. comment so far on Soviet Premier Khrushchev's announcement Tuesday that Russia will explode a 50-megaton weapon at the end of this month. A 50-megaton blast is equivalent to the force of 50,000,000 tons of TNT and about 2,500 times more powerful than the U.S. atomic bomb dropped on Hiroshima.

RESERVE ENTHUSIASM

From a diplomatic standpoint, Khrushchev's Moscow speech was seen as combing the carrot-on-a-stick technique with the flick of a whip—using the lure of negotiations over Berlin while brandishing a mammoth nuclear threat.

The state department said there will be no official assessment of the speech until State Secretary Dean Rusk holds his press conference late today.

U.S. officials, however, reserved any enthusiasm for the Russian leader's conditioned offer to lift his Dec. 31 deadline for resigning a seperate treaty are certain what he meant. They indicated that his speech with East Germany until they seemed to contain no basic change in his views on Germany.

Unity unbroken – Dief

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker said Tuesday Premier Khrushchev's statements in the last few months have united the Western world "to a greater extent than ever before."

Mr. Diefenbaker told reporters Khrushchev in his speech to the Soviet Communist party congress in Moscow seemed to express a hope that Western unity has been broken to the point where communism ultimately will succeed.

"His belief that there is disunion and division among the Western leaders is not reality," Mr. Diefenbaker said. "It is indeed fantasy."

On Russia's intention to test a 50-megaton bomb and then stop nuclear testing again, Mr. Diefenbaker said:

"He apparently believes that having done all he has done to poison the atmosphere, and having broken the pledged word of Russia on a moratorium, we should regard discontinuance at the end of the month as worthy of commendation."

Would establish school towns

QUEBEC —(CP)—The Quebec government favors the establishment of school towns as a means of increasing contracts between teachers and students at the secondary school level.

In making the announcement during a press conference Tuesday, Youth Minister Paul Gerin-Lajoie said it is going to be up to regional school commissions to take the initiative.

About six commissions, including that of suburban Ste. Foy, were considering the move.

School towns—self-contained setups where teachers and students live—have been in existence in France for the last five years.

Mr. Gerin-Lajoie, who returned last week from a visit to Europe, said school towns would produce democratic teaching by bringing together students in classicial, scientific, technical, agricultural and other courses.

OTTAWA (CP) — Governor-General Vanier will address the opening of Canada's first National Conference on Adult Education Oct. 29, it was announced Tuesday.

French move against demonstrators

To expel 1,500 Algerians

PARIS (Reuters) — The French government today ordered the expulsion from the country within 48 hours of 1,500 Algerians who took part in bloody demonstrations here Tuesday night in which three Moslems were killed and scores of others injured.

Authorities also ordered 1,500 riot police into the city from outlying areas amid fears that the insurgent National Liberation Front FLN would organize attacks on police in retaliation against Tuesday night's killing of the three Algerians.

Police were holding a total of 11,538 demonstrators for questioning today following demonstrations in several parts of the city.

Some 20,000 Algerians took part in the demonstrations, called in protest against a recent police order forcing Moslem cafes to close early and "strongly advising" Algerians to keep off the streets at night.

BOTH SIDES FIRE

The worst clash was near the Place de l'Opera, where police and demonstrators exchanged gunfire. The police claimed the demonstrators fired first and that they retaliated as the Algerians marched 10 abreast down a main boulevard.

Sixty-four Algerians and 13 policemen were wounded in the fighting throughout the city.

Authorities said probably hundreds of other Algerians were hurt but not badly enough to warrant hospital treatment.

Some Moslems waved the green-and-white flags of the Algerian insurgents and chanted "Algerian Algeria" as they marched through the streets.

QUESTION RIOTERS

Those arrested were questioned today in the giant Palais des Sports stadium in southern Paris. Police said identity checks are being made and those who cannot show valid identification will be sent back to Algeria.

Although calm was restored by midnight, a large armed security force took up strategic positions around the Elysee Palace, President Charles de Gaulle's official residence.

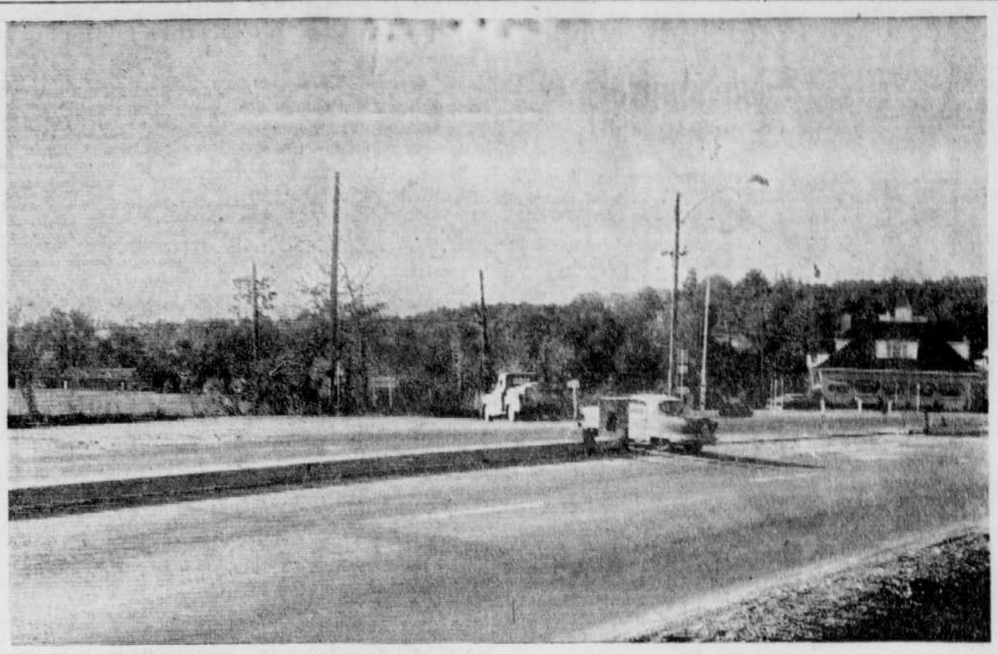
Police patrols were reinforced today and broken glass littered the avenues where the demonstrations took place.

As rioting rocked Paris, the western Algerian city of Oran experienced an orgy of violence in which four Moslems were killed by European mobs.

Hundreds of Europeans clashed with riot police as the mob ran through the streets beating up Arabs and wrecking their stores.

Thirty-one persons were injured. Police made nine arrests.

The violence came as reprisal against the Moslems for recent attacks on Europeans in Oran.



ROCK FOREST TURN — Motorists have complained that the cement divider on King Street West stretches too far out past the Rock Forest turnoff, rendering left turns unsafe. Charles Langlois, Director, of City Services says this was done to bring motorists to a full stop before turning left so that they will not collide with vehicles coming from the north. A sign indicating the turning point will be put up soon. Above, a small car enters the gap in the divider.

UN arrangements runs into opposision

Face Katanga cease-fire crisis

UNITED NATIONS (CP)—Harried United Nations officials, trying to function without a secretary-general, face a showdown over the UN Congo command's cease - fire agreement with breakaway Katanga province.

Both Russia and the central Congo government warned they would challenge any attempt by the secretariat to ratify the agreement. President Moise Tshombe's Katanga government meanwhile refused to release 18 UN soldiers it is holding prisoner until the secretariat approves the truce pact.

Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin of Russia accused the UN Congo command Tuesday of bypassing the Security Council by agreeing on a cease-fire and threatened to take the issue before the council. He demanded that the UN Congo force take action to end Katanga's secession from the rest of The Congo.

DENOUNCES TSHOMBE

Congo Foreign Minister Justin Bomboko called a press conference and denounced the cease-fire as "blackmail" by Tshombe's regime. Bomboko hinted his government would seek Soviet aid to smash Tshombe unless the UN acted against him.

The Congo diplomat said if the cease-fire is ratified by the secretariat, "the trust we put in the United Nations may vanish."

The Katanga issue raised the first real crisis since Dag Hammarskjold was killed. It underlined the need for an interim secretary-general to make top-level decisions. Informed sources said top secretariat officials were wary of ratifying the cease-fire agreement for fear of incurring the wrath of both the Soviet bloc and the Congo government.

Expect reports

OTTAWA (CP) — The government expects to receive further reports soon from two royal commissions, dealing with railway transportation and organization of government business, Prime Minister Diefenbaker said Tuesday.

Plan wedding

LONDON (Reuters) — The Evening Standard reports "preparations are well advanced" for a wedding of the Marquess of Blandford and Tina Livanos, ex-wife of Greek shipowner Aristotle Onassis. Lord Blandford, 35, is the heir to the Duke of Marlborough and was once a reported suitor of Princess Margaret. Tina Livanos is 31 and according to the newspaper has been a close friend of Lord Blandford for some time.

Sardines promote tinplate

Says primary industry helps manufacturing

SEIGNIORY CLUB, Que. (CP) — Every sardine pulled out of the Bay of Fundy means the sale of tinplate in many countries of the world.

This allusion A. M. A. McLean, president of Connors Brothers Ltd. of Black's Harbor, N.B., illustrated the importance of Canada's primary industries to Canada's manufacturing industries in a debate at Tuesday's closing session of the annual meeting of the Canadian Exporters' Association.

The debate centred around the question: "Is the maximum development of Canada's foreign trade in the best national interest?"

The decision was around the problem of whether Canada should find her future economic development through the exporting industries based on primary products or whether she should turn to greater emphasis on secondary industry.

DEBATE HOT ISSUE

Presenting the case for primary industries were Mr. McLean and K. H. J. Clarke, manager of Canadian sales and market development, International Nickel Company of Canada Ltd., while on the secondary industry side were J. D. Campbell, president of Canadian Westinghouse Ltd., and H. B. Style, president of John Inglis Co. Ltd., in an address read in his absence by H. J. Lang, president of Canada Iron Foundries Ltd.

As traditional in such debates the primary industries were apprehensive that any protectionist tendencies in Canada might lead to reprisals from other countries which would cut down the markets for Canada's giant exporting industries, and secondary industry representatives emphasized that Canada cannot find employment for her growing working force except through development of manufacturing.

Mitchell Sharp, former deputy minister of trade and commerce and now a vice-president of Brazilian Traction, Light and Power Company Ltd., moderator of the discussion, said both sides of the argument realize common interests are involved.

Find vessel off course

HALIFAX— (CP) —The Yugoslav freighter Judjuk early today was reported safe somewhere in the St. Lawrence River, hundreds of miles off its original course.

A spokesman for RCAF Search and Rescue headquarters here said communications checks were made to establish the general whereabouts of the ship, last heard from Saturday 700 miles east-northeast of Goose Bay, Labrador.

At that time the Judjuk, en route to Churchill, Man., from Hull, Eng., was bucking a severe storm.

Charlie Brown eats ballot

ATLANTIC BEACH, Fla. (AP)—One absentee ballot wasn't counted in the Atlantic Beach runoff election. Charlie Brown ate it.

Charlie Brown is a dachshund owned by Mayor-elect Henry Isaacs.

The ballot was voided by election officials Tuesday. Fortunately, none of the contests was decided by one vote.

Verwoerd victory expected

JOHANNESBURG — Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd's Nationalist party was expected to be returned to power with a slightly increased majority today in South Africa's first general election since it became a republic last May.

A light turnout marked the early ballotting among only white voters to choose another all-white government.

Some officials estimated that only about half of the country's 1,823,374 voters would go to the polls. Prime Minister Verwoerd called the elections 18 months early in a bid for another five years in power.

Only 86 of the 156 seats in the House of Assembly were contested. Verwoerd's National party retained 50 seats automatically in constituencies where they were unopposed.

Opposition factions attributed the apathy to feeling in some quarters that the white supremacy Nationalists, who have ruled South Africa since 1948, stood little chance of defeat.

Kitchen sink left behind

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) Thieves ransacked a newly built home in suburban Miramar and made off with everything but the kitchen sink. They did, however, get the bathroom sink.

They also took the oven and range, hot water heater water pump and filter system for the swimming pool, a toilet unit and a built-in dressing table.

Booming 'pot of gold'

Urges Canada tourist industry to move into European market

HALIFAX (CP) — Booming and prosperous Europe, where more people have more to spend than ever before, is seen as a pot of gold for Canada's tourist industry.

Speaker after speaker at the annual meeting of the Canadian Tourist Association Tuesday stressed the future in Europe for Canadian tourism and urged the industry to get busy and take advantage of it.

"The time is rapidly approaching when we must move directly into the United Kingdom and European market," said federal Resources Minister Dinsdale.

Canada should try to join the European Common Market, said Premier Smallwood of Newfoundland, but failing that it should try to entice Europeans with their recently - acquired prosperity to visit Canada.

John Fisher, the association's former executive director and now Prime Minister Diefenbaker's special assistant, said the jet age has shrunk the world to the point where Europe is next door.

He cautioned, however, that good promotion should not be wasted by bad performance. Canada was relying too much on promoting tourism rather than on spending money to improve tourist facilities.

EUROPE NEW MARKET

Mr. Dinsdale, whose department handles tourist promotion and national parks, said so far Canada's promotional efforts have been directed almost entirely at Americans. However, travel income from overseas countries, mainly Britain and northwestern Europe, had risen from $16,000,000 in 1951 to $45,000,000 in 1960.

"This has occurred without any advertising or exploitation of this market except by our transportation companies which are now spending very substantial sums on promotion overseas.

"The best possibility for an immediate increase in tourist traffic to Canada is in the United Kingdom."

Countries that once contained no tourist market potential for Canada "are now wide-open for diligent spade-work."

Mr. Smallwood said the six countries of the Common Market have surpassed the United States as the most prosperous in the world. Despite a total population of more than 200,000,000 there was no unemployment and people had money to spend as never before.

The three-day conference ends Thursday.

Livestock market

MONTREAL. —(CP)— Receipts on the Montreal livestock markets this morning were: 74 cattle, 14 calves, 12 hogs and no sheep and lambs.

Tuesday receipts were: 598 cattle, 474 calves, 429 hogs and 124 sheep and lambs.

St. Laurent discusses years in office

Defends wartime Japanese roundup

TORONTO (CP) — Former prime minister Louis St. Laurent Tuesday night defended the wartime policy of rounding up Japanese Canadians on the West Coast to send them east.

He said there was reason to fear at the time that Japanese forces might try to land on the British Columbia coast and there was fear for loyalty of persons of Japanese descent in B.C.

Mr. St. Laurent, wartime justice minister and head of the Liberal government from 1948 to 1957, made the statements in an interview on the CBC's television program, Inquiry.

"Many (of the Japanese Canadians) would remain loyal to Canada as long as there would be a Canada," Mr. St. Laurent said.

He said "mistakes" were made in handling their possessions, "but they couldn't take their landed possessions with them when they were moved." Adequate compensation was given.

VETOED NIGHT RAID

Mr. St. Laurent also told how he vetoed a proposal by the RCMP to pick up the suspects in the Igor Gouzenko 1945 spy case in a simultaneous night raid.

"I objected to that," Mr. St. Laurent said, saying it smacked of cloak-and-dagger. He said he agreed all the suspects should be picked up at once "but to go in the daylight."

He also said the suspects were held incommunicado but defended this because the country was at war and "we do things under conditions that we wouldn't do" under other conditions.

Mr. St. Laurent, wearing a casual shirt with a scarf, was interviewed at his country home in St. Patrice, Que.

The former prime minister had kind words for the late C. D. Howe, his minister of trade and commerce," and M. J. Coldwell, then CCF leader in the House.

ST. LAURENT

Of Mr. Coldwell he said: "It is rather unfortunate that he was not a member of our party . . . I don't think his socialistic views would have been embarrassing. . . . We could have reached honorable and fruitful compromises in the issues with which we were involved."

Mr. St. Laurent said there had "perhaps been a mistake in the time limit on the agreement" on when the Trans-Canada Pipeline was to be completed.

In order to carry out the agreement in 1956, the Liberals had to invoke closure, a soldom-used parliamentary device for limiting debate. This lead to an uproar in Parliament.

Mr. St. Laurent said he didn't like the pipeline debates but liked the pipeline bill which, he said, had the objective of starting a new industry.

The former prime minister admitted he "perhaps didn't say as much as I should have said' in the pipeline debate. "People do make mistakes, you know."

Referring to the Liberal government of that time, Mr. St. Laurent said: "We had become accustomed to carrying on as a board of directors and this displeased a part of the Canadian public."

Juror's upset stomach delays Reis theft trial

POTTSVILLE, Pa. (AP) —A jury today resumes deliberating the fate of Lillian Reis, accused by the prosecution of masterminding a $478,000 burglary then using some of the money to purchase a night club where she once danced.

The jury of five women and seven men was given the case at 4:01 p.m. Tuesday but it recessed its deliberations abruptly at 9:30 p.m. when a juror reported an upset stomach.

The report was relayed to Judge Charles W. Stuadenmeierl who ordered the panel locked up in a hotel for the night and measures taken for the juror, Joseph Landis, so that he would be able to rejoin the jury today.

Miss Reis, 32, a shapely brunette, is accused of hiring burglars to crack the safe of coal magnate John B. Rich Aug. 7, 1959, then taking about $25,000 of the money to complete purchase of the Celebrity Room night club in Philadelphia. Rich has testified only about $3,500 in cash was taken, the amount listed in the indictment. Three men were convicted in the case last spring. They are free on bail pending motions for new trials.

Miss Reis also is under indictment by an Atlantic County, N.J., grand jury on charges of murder in the slaying of Vincent Blaney, a defendant in the burglary case who police said was slain in New Jersey before he could be brought to trial to keep him from turning state's evidence.

About Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — Television is turning into a sort of prime - time casebook of psychiatry.

We're less than a month into the season, and already I'm educated in TV symptoms of mental illness enough to spot the madman the minute the sufferer appears.

The emergence of the villain who is sick, not evil, is part of the medium's effort to avoid scenes of highly criticized violence; to substitute the threat of violence for mayhem, fighting and murder. But they are loading in mental illness so heavily, this pattern can quickly become something of a bore.

In the first three shows of 87th Precinct, the menaces were some kinds of nuts or something: A lady - killer with a penchant for having his flame of the moment tattooed; an unbalanced woman determined to kill in revenge for her husband's execution, and an out-and - out psycho who liked to use a knife.

Last week's Robert Taylor's Detectives was about an eye-rolling mental case avenging his brother by kidnapping our hero. Sunday night's Follow the Sun concerned a seriously disturbed widow who arranged an elaborate frame-up to convict the hero of murder in revenge for her husband's death. The New Breed the other night had the police running all around to save a little girl held by a maniac determined to avenge his daughter's death.

Even Dr. Kildare, in his first TV case, was trying to cope with a lady alcoholic with suicide on her mind. And the opening show of the Fred Astaire series took place in the disturbed ward of a military hospital.

There seems to be a well-organized underground working to push comedian Johnny Carson to the head of the list of candidates as Jack Paar's replacement. Producer David Susskind also mentioned. But if NBC could swing the arrangements it could do a lot worse than to tap Jackie Gleason for the job.

Show Business

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Let's go in the den, where it's more comfortable," said Gloria Swanson after ordering vodka on the rocks from her butler.

As we began to talk, the lights went out. The butler entered with lighted candles and said the trouble was being attended to. Miss Swanson reclined on the couch and continued talking in the candlelight, while I felt for all the world as if I were in the second reel of Sunset Boulevard.

Miss Swanson soon brought me back to reality. The house was not hers, but that of a family she has known for years. And she is not Norma Desmond, the silent star she played in Sunset Boulevard.

"My God, how the legend hangs on!" she declared. "Just a few weeks ago, I had to get tough with an interviewer on the BBC in England. He kept trying to link me up with the picture.

"I finally told him, 'no, I don't have a body floating in my swimming pool. I don't even have a swimming pool. I don't live in the past. I am concerned with the present and the future.'

"I guess I got my point across. I got a lovely note from Alec Guinness just before I left congratulating me for standing up against the legend."

Miss Swanson was here after a seven-week European trip, partly to view the new Paris fashions for her dress business, partly to show her mother the continent. She's working this week in a drama for ABC's Straightaway.

"Guess what I am playing," she said. "That's right—an actress. Isn't it frightful, the typecasting in this town? They got over it for a while, but now it's just as strong as ever. I can't fight it."

KINGSBURY —

Miss Katie Wilson of Montreal, and Mr. and Mrs. James Kerr and daughter, Karen, were weekend guests of Mr. Kerr's parents, Mr. and Mrs Robert Kerr. They were entertained by Miss Marion Kerr for Thanksgiving.

Miss Isabel Crombie and Mrs. Anne Lindsay were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. W B. McMorine, and Miss Carrie Ward.

Windsor man given chance

A 20-year-old Windsor man was given a suspended sentence Tuesday morning in District Court on two charges of car theft.

Jean-Guy Cloutier appeared before Judge Redmond Hayes who imposed the suspended sentence. The accused had previously pleaded guilty in his arraignment before Judge Hayes on January 3 last. The thefts occurred in December 1960.

Following Cloutier's arraignment, the court had ordered a mental examination at the St. Michel Archange Institute in Quebec City. Cloutier was only recently released from the hospital and he was ordered to appear in Court once again to be sentenced.

Crown Attorney Benoit Turmel told the Court however that he had no objections to the accused receiving a suspended sentence since he had spent a number of months receiving psychiatric treatments at the Institute.

Rotary Club welcomes Governor C.A.Herschel

Sherbrooke Rotarians turned out in their best Tuesday evening for one of the highlights of the Rotary year—the oficial visit of C. Andrew Herschel, governor of District 785 of Rotary International.

A member and past president of the Montpelier Club, Mr. Herschel made his official visit to the Sherbrooke Rotary Club the eleventh of 33 such clubs he is visiting in Quebec, northern Vermont and northern New Hampshire.

"The object of my visits to our clubs is to try to bring about closer feelings among our clubs in district 785," Mr. Herschel said in addressing the Sherbrooke members. "Also, it is to let each club take an interest in what their fellow clubs are doing and how other clubs are contributing to the good of their community."

Mr. Herschel is one of 269 district governors supervising the activities of more than 11,000 Rotary Clubs throughout the world.

The speaker talked of future plans for the formation of new Rotary Clubs in this district and congratulated Sherbrooke members for their efforts in setting up the new Drummondville Rotary Club—the first club formed in this district in ten years.

"District membership showed a net increase this year," he said. "There are now 1420 Rotary members in this District, a new increase of 11 new members."

He said this increase stemmed from the new Drummondville Club which had 29 new charter members. The Sherbrooke Rotary club has the largest membership in district 785.

The governor outlined some of the activities which other district clubs are doing to further the improvement of their community, such as sponsoring crippled children camps, organizing community festivities, sponsoring scout troops, offering scholarships and loans for students, and supplying Christmas fittings for the needy.

Paul Theobald, president of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club presented the governor with the very first new Sherbrooke Rotary Club banner.

Head table guests included some of the past presidents of the Sherbrooke Rotary: D. A. Stevenson (1933 Club president); J. H. Wark, (1940); W. S. Sutherland, (1946); B. D Lyon, (1949); C. E. Agricultural news

Sherbrooke Winter Fair roundup, 4H Clubs and stock care

By W. G. MACDOUGALL
(County Agriculturalist)

The curtain was drawn on the Sherbrooke Winter Fair on Friday, Oct. 6th. However, at this time, I would like my audience to bear with me for a few minutes, when the Winter Fair is still fresh in my mind. The 1961 Winter Fair was quite successful; there was a quality exhibit of pure bred breeding stock, and a good display of market livestock.

First, let me discuss the market livestock and the sale of same. On Monday, October 2nd., the market livestock were weighed, after which the culling committee, or as I prefer to call it, the selection committee passed judgment on the livestock being offered for sale. 114 market cattle were offered, however, only 88 went through the sale.

Why were so many refused? One of the principal reasons being that many of them lacked breed type and beef conformation. In other words they appeared plain, both in the first two essentials breed type and beef conformation.

Next, a certain number lacked finish. Steers lacking finish will not grade red brand or top grade. Only steers, which in the opinion of the selection committee, that would grade red brand, when slaughtered, were accepted.

Another fault or reason that the appearance of a few steers was bad was due to the fact that the steers walked very poorly. These steers possibly had been tied during the feeding season. Further cause might be that the feet were not kept properly trimmed.

Steers being fed for an exhibition should be kept in a pen, not tied, and they should have an exercising pen.

Some 20 lambs were not accepted owing to the lack of finish.

MARKET STOCK

On Thursday afternoon, the big auction sale of market livestock was held, when 88 market cattle, 55 lambs and 47 hogs were sold. The sale of champions is always closely watched by the breeders.

The champion steer sold for $1.40 per lb. to the T. Eaton Co. This steer was exhibited by Mr. Noffatt of Sweetsburg, a new exhibitor. The T. Eaton Co. was represented by Major J. A. Leclaire.

By the way, Mr. Leclaire is a director of the exhibition, a member of the publicity committee and joint chairman of the sales committee. The T. Eaton Co. were the heaviest buyer at the sale on cattle and lambs. Canada Packers, represented by Collie Staples, came next in the purchases, followed by Steinberg Ltd. represented by Mr. Gordon, The National Beef, Lagrade and Wilsils etc. followed. These are only a few of the buyers. The 88 steers average 33¾ cents per lb. as compared to 31¼ per lb. in 1960.

Major Leclaire led the bidding on the champion market lamb at $2.55 per lb. The reserve champion lamb went to Art Bennett, our auctioneer, at $2.00 per lb. for the Sherbrooke Hospital. Then it was resold to Major Leclaire at $2.00 per lb.

The first prize pen of 3 bacon hogs sold for 75c per lb. dressed weight by Canada Packers for the Belle Fermiere. The average price per lb. of 47 hogs, was 34¾ cents per lb. as compared to 58c in 1960. However, in 1960 the champion pen sold for $1.20 per lb., and there were only 17 hogs.

PURE BRED CATTLE

A word about the pure bred cattle. The quality of the three breeds was possibly the best ever seen in Sherbrooke. There were 97 Aberdeen Angus, 92 Herefords, and 79 Shorthorns on exhibit. In the Aberdeen Angus, the grand champion ribbon for male and female went to Pierrefonds Farm. This farm is owned by Mr. Yuile, who also had the junior female champion ribbon.

The other champion ribbons were divided between Desourdy Farm, Sweetsburg, De L. G. Johnston, Ste-Genevieve and Star Acres' Farm, Sweetsburg.

In the Hereford breed, the grand champion male ribbon was won by Green Hills Farm, Lennoxville and the grand champion female ribbon was won by Taylor Bros., Richmond. The other champion ribbons were divided between Eric Webster, N. Hatley, Art Bennett, Sawyerville, R. N. Mayhew, Bury, B. Parsons, Island Brook, Dale Parsons, Island Brook, Green Hills Farm, Lennoxville.

In the Shorthorn Breed, the grand champion male ribbon went to Saraguay farm, St. Laurent and the grand champion female ribbon went to Tutira Farm, Arundel. This farm is owned by Mrs. Stuart. The Saraguay farm is owned by Mrs. Pilfield. The other champion ribbons were divided between C. C. Warner, Lennoxville, Mrs. A. Skinner, Sennerville, Tutira Farm and Saraguay Farm.

4-H CLUBS

Another interesting feature of the Winter Fair, was the display of beef calves by the 4-H Clubs. The honors were split between Jimmy Mayhew of Bury and Jimmy Brass of Lachute. Jimmy Mayhew was also the winner of championship ribbon for Hereford steer at the fair.

Mr. Malcolm Fraser of Cookshire, won the C. D. French Trophy and also won the trip to the National 4-H club week in Toronto, which will be held at the time of the Royal Fair in Toronto.

DEHORNING

Many of our exhibitors will now be selecting their steers for the 1962 Winter Fair. Let me remind our exhibitors that all steers at the winter show must be dehorned. Dehorning should be done in cool weather. Consequently, next month would be ideal in dehorning. It is advisable to remove horns when cattle are quite young.

A great many breeders dehorn their calves by using a chemical such as caustic potash pencil. Clip the hair around the young horn, wet the caustic pencil (not with the tongue) and rub it vigorously on the skin over the horn. To protect the hand, the stick of caustic should be wrapped in paper, leaving one end exposed. In a few weeks the horn will disappear.

Other chemicals and electrical dehorners are now on the market.

The ideal time to dehorn cattle is when they are young. The head will have a much more pleasing appearance than when the horns are taken off by the saw or clippers. PP bull calves that are to be fed for the market, should be castrated at an early age. Each year some steers are disqualified at our Winter Show owing to a staggy appearance. This staggy appearance is caused by castration being delayed too long.

STABLING

Beef cattle do not need warm stables. Loose stabling is recommended for market cattle. Stabling should be dry with plenty of straw and free from drafts. Box stalls may be used in smaller herds. In this event, provision should be made for exercise by having a yard where the steers can be turned out regularly for exercise.

It is much easier to keep the feet in proper condition, also the hind legs when the steers are kept in a box stall. The feet must be kept trimmed regularly if the animal is to develop straight legs.

In selecting steers for show purposes, it is always advisable to inspect the dam and sire of same in order to ascertain if they have the proper beef conformation and breed type.

Steers that are going to be placed high in their class, must be low set, blocky and have natural fleshing. If the sire and dam do not have these qaulities, we can hardly expect the progeny to have these qaulities either. Be careful in your selection for next year's winter show.

The winter time is an ideal time to train show animals to lead. When spring and summer arrive ,the feeder is too busy to spend much time in training his animals to lead.

In training to lead, the first step is to get the calf accustomed to halter. He should be tied to a solid post a few hours each day. After they have become accustomed to the halter, lead them out in small yard, never take them out of the yard until they are safely broken.

Twelve cubs become scouts

COWANSVILLE— (Special) —A very impressive "going Up" ceremony took place on October 12, in Cowansville.

Twelve Cubs left the Pack and took their first step into Scouting. Cubmaster Redmile introduced the Cubs to Scoutmasters Thomas and Wallett, who in turn introduced the boys to the Troop.

Boys who went up were Marcus Tevyaw, Michael Kerr, David Doherty, David Ruiter, Stanley Potvin, Gary Holgate, Bobby Scott, Stephen Lickfold, Kendall Damant, Keith Jenne, Randall Sargent, Danny Dover.

Khrushchev backs off

Now that Khrushchev has told the 22nd congress of the Soviet Communist party that he will not insist on signing a peace treaty with East Germany by the end of this year if the West showed willingness to negotiate on the German problem, the question immediately arises:

Did he ever, even in his most belligerent mood, really intend to sign the treaty? Or was he simply using the threat of one to try and bully the West into accepting something we really didn't want.

Under the circumstances, the latter seems more probable. The West has not given in on crucial issues in Germany, and the threat of a peace treaty, from Khrushchev's point of view has outlived its usefulness.

But while he was employing it, the peace treaty gamut was of some value to Khrushchev.

It put the West, and especially the United States, on tenterhooks once again in Berlin, so that when East Berlin was suddenly sealed off in such brutal fashion, the West was tardy in reacting, and in fact seemed to be wondering for awhile whether or not to react at all in view of the treaty threat.

It helped to build crisis tension in the United States itself, with a resulting buildup of conventional forces in that country, accompanied by large amounts of firm, tough talk from President Kenedy.

All of this provided Khrushchev with as much of an excuse for unilaterally resuming testing of nuclear weapons as he needed.

The fact that Khrushchev has apparently backed off from a peace treaty with Germany — at least in the immediate future — does not, however, mean that East-West talks on Germany will necessarily be any easier.

The string that Mr. Khrushchev attached to his new posture was a Western "willingness to negotiate" the German problem.

The term is an ambiguous one. What does Mr. Khrushchev mean by "willingness?" If he means the same thing that the West means by it, then the German situation might indeed, improve.

But if he equates "willingness" with surrender, or with having his own way, then the prospects for a brightening on the German horizon are dim.

And too often, in the past, Khrushchev has shown that while he and the West sometimes use the same terms, the words don't have the same meaning.

College gambling menace

Officers of four national college sports organizations in the United States have advanced a sixteen-point program designed to combat the menace of gambling in inter-collegiate athletics. Each of the recommendations may be worthy of study by college athletic groups, but it seems that the application of the sixteenth and final suggestion would go a long way towards solving the problem.

After making ten recommendations covering improvement in the basic procedure of college athletics and five directed at organized gambling, the report presents a sixteenth point, almost reluctantly, that regional accrediting associations act to strengthen general academic requirements.

The greatest challenge facing collegiate administrators, the report said, is the problem of young men attending college purely for sports reasons and asks for a re-examination of athletic rules to make certain that selection of institutions is based on educational opportunities.

Admittedly to compel all members of a college athletic squad to maintain certain standards in their academic work might not abolish professional gambling in connection with college sports, but it would be an important step in this direction.

In recent years there has been evidence, particularly in the United States, that some colleges are more interested in the showing of their rugby and basketball teams than they are in the achievements of their graduates.

To offer a thin cover-up against charges of professionalism, they have introduced a series of athletic scholarships whereby some hunk of brawn barely able to sign his own name is carried along for four or more years at good compensation, the only academic requirement being that he can give setting-up exercises at infrequent intervals to his fellow students.

As long as college sports are conducted on a strictly professional basis they will attract the large-time gambler always on the look-out for an easy dollar.

Car safety inspections

The suggestion of Provincial Police Director Josephat Brunet that all motor vehicles operating in the province undergo semi-annual inspections deserves immediate consideration by the provincial authorities. A substantial proportion of traffic accidents can be traced to mechanical defects — faulty brakes, lights, steering, etc.

Right-thinking motorists soon realize that when there is something the matter with their car and take steps in their own interest to have the defects remedied without delay. But in the words of director Brunet, there are still drivers on our highways who, for reasons of false economy, negligence or even rashness operate their vehicles in a dangerous condition. Literally they are accidents looking for a place to happen.

To date, municipal police forces in a number of Quebec cities and towns have been conducting brake and light inspections, but they have been none too effective as motorists who believed their cars required substantial repairs could avoid the check points without too much difficulty.

This difficulty could be obviated under Mr. Brunet's plan, already operative in many states, which would require that the motorist have his car inspected at an approved garage before travelling on the highways.

Bygone days

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

October 18, 1936 fell on a Sunday.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

(From the Record of Friday, October 18th, 1946)

Aberdeen Angus Cattle owned by Howard Murray of Magog won the grand championship of the Sherbrooke Winter Fair. The reserve grand championship went to an Aberdeen Angus owned by Mrs. Hugh MacKay of Danville. The championship and reserve championship in the Shorthorn division went to cattle owned by Mrs. T. C. Stuart of Arundel. Championship and reserve championship in the Hereford division went to C. D. Franch, M.L.A. of Cookshire. E. S. Watson of Bury won first in the 751-850 lbs. class with a Shorthorn. The three prizes offered by the Montreal Livestock Exchange went to Edward Hooper of Hillhurst, Benjamin Jacklin of Bury and W. C. Williams of Bulwer. The judge was C. E. Devlin.

TEN YEARS AGO

(From the Record of Thursday, October 18th, 1951)

Mrs. A. A. Munster, regent of the Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E., in Sherbrooke, was presented with a life membership in the Provincial Chapter of the Order by Mrs. J. J. Creelman of Montreal, provincial president. Also present at the presentation was Mrs. G. A. Winters of Montreal, provincial 1st vice-president.

Rev. R. C. Tait, Minister of Plymouth United Church, addressed the Y's Men's Club on "Southern hospitality not only exists but it is something to write home about." President Jim Strickland introduced the speaker and Douglas Martin thanked him. Two guests were present at the meeting, Peter Cochrane, introduced by Ernie Chalut, and Alex Leslie, introduced by president Jeff Wilson. Seated at the head table with the president were, Jim Strickland, Rev. Mr. Tait, Douglas Martin and Dick Crotty.

Ernest Rutherford

Laid nuclear physics foundation

By GERRY McNEIL

MONTREAL (CP) — "Emanations of light and energy, swift and penetrating, cathode rays strong enough to pierce a brick wall, or the head of a professor of literature, appeared to sparkle and coruscate from him in sheaves."

This was physicist Ernest Rutherford as seen by classics professor John McNaughton during a lecture at McGill University early in the century.

"Here was the rarest and most refreshing spectacle" exulted McNaughton, "the pure ardor of the chase, a man quite possessed by a noble work and altogether happy in it."

Rutherford's noble work was a quest into the nature of radioactivity and atomic structure. His results established him as a knight in the medieval birthplace.

He won a Nobel Prize in chemistry in 1907. As a physicist, this amused him. And in 1931, he became Baron Rutherford of Nelson, his New Zealand birthplace.

He died in 1937 of complications resulting from a minor hernia operation. Death came two years before the United States began serious work on a nuclear bomb.

* * *

"The foundations of nuclear physics and atomic energy are largely the work of one man—Rutherford," said Sir James Chadwick in one of the Rutherford Memorial Lectures that are delivered here every five years.

Sir James followed a lead provided by Rutherford to the discovery of the neutron in 1932. The neutron proved to be the non-electron to split an atomic nucleus and release its awesome energy.

Rutherford, 27, came to McGill in 1898, attracted by a physics laboratory he thought the best in the world.

Already considered brilliant, he had devised the wave detector Marconi used in the first radiotelegraphy experiments from Newfoundland. At the University of Manchester, England, he began work on radioactivity with J. J. Thomson, discoverer of the electron.

McGill physics chief John Cox saw genius in Rutherford and minimized his teaching duties to allow him more time for research.

The young scientist brought an atmosphere of his own to McGill's lab. Humming "Onward, Christian Soldiers," he attacked the unknown with such labor and logic that it had to surrender.

* * *

"It sometimes seemed to fellow workers that Rutherford knew the answers before doing the experiments," said Chadwick. But hard work, thorough examination, and finally "a bird's eye view of the territory he was exploring" were the forerunners of Rutherford's inspiration, he adds.

Intense research led Rutherford to his theory of radioactivity. It was, he said, a spontaneous disintegration of the atom, in which one kind of matter changed into another of different chemical and radioactive properties, at the same time emitting radiation.

"If it were ever found possible to control at will the rate of disintegration, an enormous amount of energy could be obtained from a small quantity of matter," he wrote.

His theory must have sounded like alchemy then. How could one element change into another, or the atom, then thought indivisible, divide?

"It is almost impossible today to realize how daring this was," said Chadwick.

But Rutherford's experimental proofs could not be denied. His theory was hailed as the greatest insight into the basic structure of matter since that of Democritus, a fifth-century BC Greek.

* * *

When the big, bluff physicist left McGill in 1907, he was sought by American and British universities. But he returned to Manchester and the coveted Cavendish Chair of Physics to continue his work.

In 1911, he read his nuclear theory of atomic structure there. There was imagination in Rutherford's theory, but no speculation. It left only the nucleus and external arrangement and motions of the electrons unknown.

In 1917, he succeeded in showing that a nitrogen nucleus could be disintegrated—the first full step towards understanding the problem of nuclear structure.

In 1919, he went to Cambridge. His work there led Chadwick to the neutron. Rutherford also managed to produce nuclear changes by artificial bombing. Later refinements by other scientists resulted in the reactions that cause nuclear explosions.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

HAND TOO STRONG FOR PREEMPT BID

What is the purpose of showing today's hand? There is nothing complicated about the bidding.

As for the play: South wins the heart opening in his own hand, draws trumps, goes after the diamond suit, finds that it fails to break and eventually concedes a trick to the ace of clubs.

The reason for showing the hand is that when it was played South chose to make the lazy man's opening of four spades.

I have seen these rock-crusher preempts made in fourth seat so often that anything I can do to teach people that when your hand is strong enough to open with a forcing bid of two you should always open with that bid and not with a preempt.

Of course, when he played the hand at four spades and made six, South was ready with his explanation. He told his partner, something like this: 'You had passed originally. I didn't think we had much chance for a slam and did not want to give East and West a chance to get together on a minor suit save."

North accepted the voluntary explanation, but I don't accept it. South held 17 out of the 40 high card points and had no reason to expect that East and West who had both passed could make enough tricks in any suit to warrant bidding against a two spade opening.

Letter to Editor

The Editor,
Sherbrooke Daily Record.

Dear Sir:

Whoever got the idea of practically blocking off the Rock Forest turn off with the cement center-piece on the new boulevard on King West near the city limits?

In leaving only a narrow opening several hundred feet past where the opening would naturally be expected to be they certainly have succeeded in setting up an accident-trap. A driver turning onto the Rock Forest road has his vision of cars coming into Sherbrooke off Bourque Boulevard almost blocked by the curve in the boulevard at this point, and at the same time, as he must be completely crossways in the road he is left vulnerable to be hit in the rear by cars coming out of Sherbrooke on King West when he slows down or stops.

Whatever was the intentions of whoever planned this is beyond comprehension. Obviously these people have never had the occasion to make this turn or they would have realized that for the best interests of motorists it should have been planned differently.

Yours truly,
A Motorist,
Rock Forest.

Common sense applies to vitamins and minerals, too. Your body uses both vitamins and minerals daily for the maintenance of good nutritional health. But it's not equipped to store up certain vitamins — any oversupply is wasted.

COMMON SENSE APPROACH — VIGRAN-M*, a new common sense vitamin and mineral formula, is now available. The VIGRAN-M formula is designed to eliminate the waste of excess dosage while providing vitamins and minerals that may be necessary to help you maintain normal good health.

COMMON SENSE PRICE — Because VIGRAN-M is based on a common sense formula, you pay a common sense price. For only pennies a day you get a guaranteed quantity of ten vitamins and seven minerals whose reliability and uniformity is backed by the Squibb name, famous the world over for quality control.

Denmark does some hard thinking

Seek to improve Greenland lot

By GEOFFREY DODD

COPENHAGEN (Reuters) — Denmark is doing some hard thinking on ways of improving the economic lot of its subjects on the icebound island of Greenland.

Danish government officials agree that something drastic must be done if the islanders are to share in the prosperity of their mother country. But just what the program should be or how it should be carried out are still matters of debate.

Mikael Gam, Danish minister for Greenland affairs, estimates that the Danish government must spend about $3,000 per inhabitant of Greenland during the next five years if the island's under-developed economy is to be improved.

The big stumbling block, however, would be in finding the necessary technicians and skilled workers to carry out the development program. Gam admits that it would not be possible to get all the men required and that the five-year program would have to be spread over a considerably longer period.

* * *

The last census in Greenland in 1958 showed a population of slightly more than 30,000, but this has been increasing steadily since.

The dangerous coastal waters, where fish abound, provide the main basis of the present Greenland economy.

Greenland's mineral wealth is at present of uncertain size and will remain an "economic longshot" in the development of the island. Private interests mine cryolite, coal, lead and zinc and may begin extracting molybdenum in a few years. But the lead and zinc mine is to close next season.

Some 2,000 Greenlanders are employed with the fishing fleet and many others work in the fish processing factories.

* * *

Present government plans provide for an extensive development of the fishing industry, although each increase in the total catch will for some time increase the budget deficit because many unprofitable processing plants are kept in operation to prevent unemployment.

Officials have indicated, however, that the commercial development of the huge island, which has so far been almost a monopoly of the government's Royal Greenland Trading Company, will be handed over to private enterprise when possible.

Other sources of income for the residents are sealskins and seal oil, and sheep and reindeer herds.

RUSSIA IN

Japan as a sign of the capitalist decline.

Khrushchev compared Russia's three party programs—his is the third — to a three-stage rocket.

"The first stage wrested our country away from the capitalist world," he said. "The second propelled it to socialism and the third is to place it in orbit of communism."

GOOD TIMES COMING

Once the Soviet Union became the leading industrial power and the socialist system the fully decisive factor of world development "the scales will tilt once and for all in favor of the forces of peace and the barometer of international weather will show 'clear.' The menace of world war is gone never to return."

Khrushchev outlined his 20-year program after boasting of the progress that had already been made in the Soviet Union.

Living conditions had been altered radically under communism and unemployment had been wiped out, he said. The real income of Russian peasants had increased by more than 500 per cent.

Lois Marshall thrills Thetford music lovers

THETFORD MINES — Lois Marshall, the brilliant Toronto-born singer, thrilled Thetford music lovers when she appeared with the Quebec Symphony Orchestra in the first concert of the 1961-1962 season, held at the Parish Hall.

Miss Marshall, who has been acclaimed throughout the world as one of the finest singers of our day, soon justified her reputation with her rendition of Mozart's Motet, Exultate Jubilate, a technically difficult piece which she sang effortlessly and with great sensitivity.

Her voice seemed perfectly suited to the lyric Mozart music, yet she later demonstrated a fine versatility with flawless performances of four arias from Paccini operas.

Wilfrid Pelletier, who has done so much for music in this province, directed the orchestra in an interesting program of lesser-known music. Sensing the audience's unfamiliarity with the modern idion, he gave a preliminary explanation of Papineau-Couture's Concerto Grosso, ably illustrating his remarks with exerpts on the piano.

Papineau-Couture, a teacher in Montreal, has produced a fine work, and it was warmly received by the audience. Mr. Pelletier said he felt it is a duty of Canadian orchestras to present Canadian music, especially when the music is of the calibre of the Concerto Grosso.

The program oponed with Schumann's Manfred Overture and closed with the Iberia Suite of Debussy.

The Quebec Symphony Orchestra has developed into a fine musical organization of which both the City of Quebec and the province can be justly proud.

Birchton group given talk on U.N. Seminar

BIRCHTON — At the regular meeting of the Helping Hand Club of the United Church, the highlight was a talk by Miss Betty Robinson, of Bulwer, on her trip to Macdonald College, where she was a delegate to the United Nations Seminar.

Miss Robinson held her audience throughout, with her commendably clear and interesting manner of presenting the facts. She was introduced by Mrs. G. Nutbrown and thanked by Mrs. Murray.

Discussion took place regarding the purchase of a new fire-extinguisher for the Hall.

A nominating committee, Mrs. A. G. Glen, Mrs. Neil Taylor, Mrs. Gilbert Nutbrown, Mrs. C. Stowe, and Mrs. H. Picard, was appointed to bring a slate of officers to the December meeting.

As convener of the Christian Fellowship Committee, Mrs. Howard Picard contributed interesting readings, Mission to the Nations, What Is a Community, and The Value of Rural Life.

A number of bandages were rolled for Unitarian Relief.

Mrs. Charles Spalding, a new comer to the Community, joined the group during luncheon, served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Howard Picard.

The devotions were in charge of Mrs. Nutbrown, and the meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Murray.

In humorous vein, Mrs. Plowright amused the group with a rendition of Teaching His Wife to Drive and The Minister's Wife.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John VanDerLeden with Mrs. Plowright as co-hostess.

In the London Stock Market, trading was quiet at the opening. The general tone was firm.

Stockholders of the Toronto Dominion Bank at the annual and special meeting in Toronto on Dec. 5th will be asked to approve a capital stock increase of 2,000,000 $10 par shares, bringing the total authorized capital to 5,000,000 shares. All of the presently authorized 3,000,000 $10 par shares are issued.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reports that at mid September there were 6,235,000 Canadians with jobs, 146,000 less than a month before, but 88,000 more than a year earlier. Unemployed represented 4.7% of the labour force as compared with 5.1% a year ago.

The Canadian steel production during the week ended Oct. 14th. was 122,749 tons,. down 2.6% from the previous week's 186,085 tons. The decline was due to the Thanksgiving Day holiday.

Placer Development plans to acquire all the assets of Bulolo Gold Dredging other than the latter's holding of shares in Placer. Placer, which already owns 20% of the outstanding capital stock of Bulolo would issue 187,602 of its shares to Bulolo. As Bulolo holds 145,732 shares of Placer, this would bring its total holdings of Placer capital stock to 333,334 shares and would represent its only asset.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reports that imports to Canada in Angust were valued at $494.2 million against $444.5 million last year. The U.S. index of industrial production seasonably adjusted declined one point in September to 112 from 113 in August. The decline is explained in part by strikes in the automobile industry.

Hawks Looked Ragged Although They Posted 5-3 Win Over Bruins

University Of Sherbrooke Meets Bishop's University Tonight At Park Avenue Stadium At 8.00

The University of Sherbrooke Green and Gold squad will tangle with Bishop's University this evening at the Park Avenue Stadium under the lights. The tilt is scheduled to commence at 8.00.

This will be third appearance for Coach Berwick's squad and they will be gunning for their first win of the season. In their first two outings against the University of Montreal the locals dropped both decisions.

In the opener in Sherbrooke the Green and Gold went down to 20-0 licking and in Montreal last Saturday they came out on the short end of 13-7 count. Coach Berwick reports no serious injuries following Saturday's tilt and will have a full squad on hand for tonight's tiff.

In their first outing the Green and Gold held their own for the first half as both teams battled to a scoreless thirty minutes. In the second half the locals, short on experience, saw a total of 20 points being counted against them.

In Montreal last Saturday the Green and Gold boys were slow in getting started and before they knew it they were down 13-0. This happened in the first ten minutes of the game and it was all Montreal could get and Sherbrooke counted one touchdown as the game finished 13-7.

Bishop's University have yet to post a win in their league but will be after their first tonight. Coach Gordon Ross has run into troubles and injuries have hit his camp but the game should put plenty of interest into the local football front.

Bishop's, with their past record, are slight favorites to win but they might run into a little surprise as Sherbrooke may lack experience in their first start in football but certainly have plenty of team spirit and this should help them against their more experienced opponents.

Coach Rudy Pilous Far From Being Satisfied With Team's Showing So Far, Tally Three Quick Goals

Chicago Black Hawks, more mature and more confident in the eyes of coach Rudy Pilous, are undefeated after three National Hockey League starts this season.

But the team's record is no source of joy for Pilous because the Hawks have yet to show any semblance of the form that last spring carried them to their first Stanley Cup win in 22 years.

Except for three goals within one minute and 20 seconds during the second period, the Hawks looked ragged Tuesday night in posting a 5-3 decision over the lowly Boston Bruins.

The win came after a pair of weekend ties with Detroit Red Wings and lifted Chicago into a second-place deadlock with Toronto Maple Leafs in the league standings.

New York Rangers, at home to Montreal Canadiens in tonight's only game, are first with six points.

Pilous was dissatisfied with Tuesday night's showing and didn't hide his feelings.

TRYING TOO HARD

"Maybe we were trying too hard and maybe the way Boston plays caused us to be ragged," he told reporters in the team's dressing room after the game.

"I know this: the boys are champions and they have the pride of champions. When they start looking bad against a team like Boston, then they try all the harder and before you know it they're playing like Boston.

"But we're going to practise today and maybe we can tighten up the club a bit. No matter what we've done, we haven't lost as yet and that's something."

Chicago's second-period outburst broke a scoreless tie and sent the Bruins on their way to a fourth loss in five starts. Boston has only one tie to show for five games and has allowed the opposition 25 goals.

Jerry Melnyk, Bobby Hull and Stan Mikita provided Chicago's three quick goals. Melnyk, acquired from Detroit last summer, converted a pass from Hull for the first goal at 13:34.

Hull then took a Murray Balfour pass and beat rookie goalie Don Head at 14:03. Mikita's goal —at 14:54—came while Boston defenceman Ted Green was serving a penalty.

HORVATH FIRES ONE

Boston closed the gap to 3-2 on early third-period goals by rookie Ted Gray and Johnny Bucyk. Then Ron Murphy and Bronco Horvath, a former Boston player, rapped home goals to put the game out of reach.

Charlie Burns scored Boston's last goal with just one minute and 25 seconds remaining.

Head made only 23 saves while Glenn Hall, in the Chicago nets, stopped 20 Boston shots.

Despite the lackadaisical showing, Pilous said he felt the Hawks are a much better unit than the one which bounced Montreal and Detroit out of the playoffs last spring.

"This team is more mature since winning the championship and has more confidence," Pilous said. "And I know we've strengthened ourselves in picking up players like Bob Turner, Bronco Horvath and Jerry Melnyk."

The Canadiens, only team beside Chicago that sports an undefeated record, cut defenceman Jean Gauthier Tuesday and will dress only five rearguards for tonight's battle at New York.

Gauthier was sent down to Hull-Ottawa Canadiens of the Eastern Professional Hockey League, subject to immediate recall.

One of the Habs walking wounded — left winger Dickie Moore—joined a team practice session Tuesday for the first time since injuring his knee during the club's training camp at Victoria last month.

Moore has been skating for a week, but plans to give his knee a little more work during the next few days.

"It's the only way I can find out if I'm ready to come back or not," Moore said. "Skating alone is one thing, joining in a scrimmage is another."

Moore got the go-ahead to join the team's workout from his doctor, but at the same time he was told "to go easy."

There is no indication—even if the knee responds to the work—when Moore will be back in action.

Montreal's other injured player—centre Jean Beliveau—still has his right knee in a cast.

Provincial Mixed Bowling Tourney To Be Held

The above photo shows members of the press and radio who attended Open House yesterday afternoon when Carling's Brewery announced plans for the Provincial Mixed Duck Pin Tournament to owners of the bowling alleys throughout the district. In the photo, left to right, Gordie Breen CKTS sportscaster, Ernie Pouliot, Carling's representative at Magog, Len O'Donnell, Sports Editor at The Record, Jean-Louis Dupuis, local representative for Carling's, Jean Chartier, Sports Editor at the Tribune, and Jean-Louis de Leseleuc, Sports Editor of La Presse.

A $20,000 mixed bowling tournament for duck pin leagues, the first ever to be held on a province-wide basis in Quebec, will get under way November 5 and carry on throughout the winter months.

The tournament which is open to all bowlers, bowling in their home alleys, is sponsored by Carling's, who have also been responsible for bringing major league baseball and NFL football to Quebec audiences via CBC television networks.

In this first major presentation of a participating sport the brewery has arranged a system of handicaps under which all players, from the newcomers to the old hands, have an equal chance at the prize money.

A spokesman for Carling's said that one of the compelling reasons for its support of bowling is that it is one of few sports in which the family can participate as a group.

Details of the tournament were announced this week and full information has been distributed to all bowling alleys in the province.

Each bowling establishment will declare a winner each month and a final winner at the end of the season. Each of the bowling establishment winners will compete in one of the 33 district play-offs to select a representative team for the final provincial championship for the provincial trophy and the top prize money. Members of the winning team split $2,500 with $1,500 going to the runners-up. In addition there will be trophies for the monthly winners in each bowling hall.

In recent years bowling has become one of the most popular participating sports in Quebec with some 500 bowling halls in the province.

Bob Dupras Elected President Of Sherbrooke Juvenile Hockey Loop, All Games Will Be Played At Arena

Bob Dupras was elected president of the Sherbrooke Juvenile Hockey League at the annual meeting last night. Other members of the executive are, Al Caplan, Albert Poulin, Jean-Guy Boivin who will act as vice-presidents while Germain Lemieux was named secretary-treasurer.

The same four clubs who operated last year will again comprise the circuit. St. Pat's, Progress Club, Aramis Club and the Optimist Club will carry on. Coaches for the four clubs were named also.

The league decided to play all their games at the Arena. Last season they played a portion of their games outdoors but this year the executive decided to move into the Arena.

The executive has yet to make arrangements with the Arena in order to secure dates for their games. In order to secure funds to meet these new obligatons the league will run a big drawing.

Bob Labonte will handle the Aramis Club while Roger Bergeron will look after the Progress Club and Laureat Bilodeau was named coach of St. Pat's with Rodney Pelletier taking over the same duties with the Optimist Club.

The selection of players will be held later this month at the Arena when all youngsters who are interested in playing in the league will turn out. The four coaches will then choose their players at this turnout. It is the same system which is used by the Sherbrooke Junior League and has proved a success. It overcomes the fact that a club could pack their lineups as each coach picks on player ot the time.

Green Bay Loses Top Players To US Army Call-Up

NEW YORK (AP) — Football stars Paul Hornung and Ray Nitschke, both of the powerful Green Bay Packers, and baseball player George Thomas of Los Angeles Angels have been added to the growing list of professional athletes recalled to active duty in the defence department build-up.

The overall list, a check revealed today, now totals nearly a score and indications are many more are still to come.

None of the call-ups, however, hit with the force of the announced Tuesday that the Packers, defending Western Division champions of the National Football League, probably will be without halfback Hornung and linebacker Nitschke for the second half of the season. Green Bay shares first place now with San Francisco.

Hornung, 25, a former star quarterback at Notre Dame, has won the NFL scoring championship the last two seasons and is well in front this season with 77 points in five games.

Nitschke, 24, former Illinois fullback, became a regular with the Packers last season and has been a standout on the defensive platoon.

Thomas, an outfielder and third baseman for the Los Angeles American League club joins a major league baseball list that includes pitcher Steve Barber, an 18 - game winner, and shortstop Ron Hansen of Baltimore Orioles; shortstop Ruben Amaro of Philadelphia Phillies and outfielder Bob Taylor of Milwaukee Braves.

Eddie Machen Flies Home Today After Knocking Out Brian London To Move A Little Closer To Champ

LONDON (AP) — Eddie Machen flies home to the United States today after a victory that could bring him closer to a shot at Floyd Patterson's world heavyweight boxing championship.

The victim was Britain's Brian London, who was outclassed by Machen in five one-sided rounds Tuesday night and retired from the scheduled 10-rounder complaining that his nose felt as though it was broken.

"Now I want a fight with Henry Cooper (British champion) to decide who is the No. 1 contender for the world title," the unmarked Machen told reporters after the fight in indoor Wembley Stadium.

"I am willing to fight Cooper anytime and anywhere. If somebody can arrange the fight, I'll be there."

British promoter Jack Solomons has been negotiating for months to match Cooper against Patterson.

Machen's stylish annihilation of London would ensure a good gate for any bout with Cooper here.

London, 27 - year - old former British champion who is no longer ranked among the world's top 10, set himself up as a punching bag for the 29-year-old Negro from Redding, Calif. London several years ago lasted 11 rounds in a title fight with Patterson in the U.S.

A sellout crowd of 12,000 fans saw their boy cooly chopped down by Machen, who moved like a cat and pounced like a panther. When London retired at the end of the fifth, blood was gushing from his nose and coursing down from a cut over his right eye.

"I think my nose may have been broken by a left hook in the fourth round," London said. "The cuts didn't worry me but I couldn't breathe."

Machen dismissed London as "just a slugger." It was his 40th victory in 45 fights over six years. He weighed 200 to London's 209.

On the same bill, John McCormack of Scotland outpointed Harko Kokmeyer of Holland for the vacant European middleweight title in a 15 - round scramble that had the fans booing when they weren't yawning.

Tokyo — Fumio Kaizu, 153, Japan, knocked out Samart Sorndaeng, 150¾, Thailand, 7. (for Orient middleweight title).

London — Eddie Mache, 200, Redding, Calif., stopped Brian London, 209, England, 5.

Furniture Men Take Top Spot In Bowling Loop

RICHMOND—The Richmond Furniture took over first place in the Richmond Bowling League when they blanked the Canadian Children's Wear in four straight. Richmond Plastics took Brunswick Hotel three strings to one while Richmond Transport won by the same score.

Plastics and Brown are in second place with Transport and Brunswick Hotel tied in third place. Canadian Children's Wear has yet to win, holding down the cellar spot in the Maguire circuit.

Florry Maguire of Brunswick Hotel rolled the high single and triple with 231 and 521. He was followed by Jean Beland of Richmond Furniture with 205 and 516. Others bowling high scores in the weekly Sunday night loop were Gaston Langlois of Plastics, rolling a single of 200 and triple 455; Bob Beaudet, Transport with 187 single, triple 469; R. Girardin of Brown Shoe with 188 and 446.

Richmond Furniture also took the team high with single 764 and triple of 2100 pins.

San Antonio, Tex.—Santiago Gutierrez, 158, San Antonio, outpointed Harold Redman, 156½, Beaumont, 10.

4 Teams Apply To CAHA For European Tour

MELVILLE, Sask. (CP)—Four teams have applied for permission to make a 13-game exhibition hockey trip to Europe in December, Gordon Juckes, secretary-manager of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, said Tuesday.

Clubs who have asked for the three - week trip to Czechoslovakia, Germany and Sweden are Port Arthur Bearcats, Abitibi Eskimos of the Northern Ontario Hockey Association, Moose Jaw Pla-Mors of the Saskatchewan Senior League and Winnipeg Maroons. All four are senior hockey teams.

Reports that Trail Smoke Eaters had been invited to make the trip were termed "unfounded" by Juckes.

Guidolin Stars As Barons Nip Quebec Aces

Cleveland Barons had scored their first American Hockey League victory of the season today and defenceman Aldo Guidolin was the key man in the triumph.

The Barons, who had lost three in a row without a victory, nipped Quebec Aces 3-2 Tuesday night.

Guidolin pulled the Barons from a 2-0 second-period deficit by drilling home two goals and assisting in the third in the only game of the night.

Guidolin scored the first two Barons goals, then fired a pass to Cal Stearns who batted the puck home for the clincher.

Michel Harvey and Danny Lewicki scored in the first period to send the Aces into the lead.

Tom McNeeley Don't Care Who Is Referee For His Bout With Champ As Long As He Can Count For KO

NEW YORK (AP)—Tom McNeeley says he doesn't care who referees his title fight with heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson.

"All he'll have to do is count," said the 24-year-old challenger from Arlington, Mass. "That's the type of a fight it will be. One of us is going to be knocked out and I feel it's going to be him."

The Patterson camp's determination to get an out-of-state referee was the reason for the shift of the title fight from Boston to Toronto, Dec. 4.

Merv McKenzie, Ontario athletic commissioner, said at the signing in Toronto Monday he will prepare a slate of six referees okayed by the fighters and then will pick one.

"Cus d'Amato (Patterson's manager) will make up his list of six and hand it to McKenzie," said Pete Fuller, McNeeley's manager. "We don't intend to name anyone. All we want is a fair shake and we think we'll get one."

McNeeley said at a luncheon Tuesday: "I intend to go right after him for the kayo. I've seen his fights and I've seen him go down. I think I can keep him down."

McNeeley has a 23-0 record, including 18 knockouts, in three years of pro fighting. The crew-cut, six-foot-two 200 - pounder never has fought a ranking contender, but that doesn't bother him.

"Patterson will go down if he's hit right," said the husky blonde.

McNeeley said he had a dream shortly after the fight had been made for Boston, the original site.

"I can remember it vividly," he said. "I was standing in the ring, sweating and happy. I can recall Jackie (trainer Jackie Martin) jumping with joy.

"In the corner was Patterson. His head was down and he was slumped on the stool. I can't remember what I hit him with or what the round was. It must have been a tough fight because I was sweating and felt tired."

What round will he flatten Patterson in Toronto?

"Somewhere between the sixth and 10th rounds," said the 9-1 underdog.

Canadiens Send Jean Gauthier To Hull - Ottawa

MONTREAL —(CP)—Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League Tuesday sent defenceman Jean Gauthier to Hull-Ottawa Canadiens of the Eastern Professional Hockey League, subject to immediate recall.

Gauthier, a 24-year-old, 190-pounder, played the first two league games with the parent Canadiens. He spent most of last season with Hull-Ottawa except for a four-game trial with the NHL club.

Each Yank Gets $7,389.11 For His Series Cut

NEW YORK (AP)—The victorious New York Yankees each received $7,389.11 for their world series victory over Cincinnati Reds, but they came out about $1,100 poorer than Pittsburgh Pirates, who won in 1960.

The Pirates came out with $8,417.94 each last year because their home park, Forbes Field, had a bigger capacity than Cincinnati's Crosley Field.

The share for each Yankee was the lowest since 1952, commissioner Ford Frick announced Tuesday. The Yanks of 1952 each banked $5,982.65 after beating Brooklyn in the series.

The Yanks voted 36 1-6 shares, plus cash awards of $4,500. This includes 33 full shares along with seven fractional slices.

Earl Torgeson, Hal Reniff, Bud Daley, Billy Gardner and Jack Reed all received full shares although they were not with the club all season. So did trainers Gus Mauch and Joe Soares.

Cincinnati awarded 30 full shares and seven fractional shares. Catcher John Edwards, who came to the club on June 27 got a half share the same as pitcher Ken Johnson, who was bought from Toronto July 21. Catcher Darrell Johnson, No. 1 receiver after he was obtained from Philadelphia on Aug. 14, collected a quarter share.

MONTREAL— (CP) —Halfback Don Clark, the Big Four Football League's leading ground-gainer, and defensive lineman Bobby Jack Oliver were picked Tuesday as Montreal Alouettes' candidates for the Jeff Russel Memorial Trophy.

Players on each Big Four team annually nominate two candidates for the trophy from among their own teammates and a final selection is then made among the eight team representatives.

The trophy, won last year by Ron Stewart of the Ottawa Rough Riders, is awarded to the player best combining sportsmanship and ability.

Perth Getting Ready For Empire Games By Extending Its Airport To Handle Pure Jet Aircraft

PERTH (Reuters)—This Western Australian town is extending its airport to enable it to handle pure jet aircraft bringing competitors and spectators to the Empire and Commonwealth Games being held here from Nov. 22 to Dec. 1, 1962.

Tens of thousands of overseas visitors are expected to pour into Perth for the games, and the organizers hope the result will be a valuable addition to foreign exchange resources.

Every effort is being made to attract as many people as possible, in addition to the 1,500 athletes who will come from more than 30 Commonwealth countries to compete.

Already, huge earthworks and skeleton buildings are rising on sites marked out for arenas, halls and villages to be situated close together in virtual parklands.

These will become permanent features of the city afterwards.

To house the athletes, Perth is building a £900,000 village, the result of a competition among 40 West Australian architects.

The 150 homes in the village now are being built alongside the lovely Wembley Downs Golf course and less than a mile from the Indian Ocean and its popular surfing beaches.

After the games, the homes will be available for private purchases.

The other nine main facilities are either being built or are existing halls earmarked for particular sports, such as swimming, cycling, rowing, boxing, wrestling, fencing, weightlifting and bowls.

Looking ahead, Perth has designated its impressive main stadium, gouged out of virgin bush five miles from the centre of the city, to become the focal point for international track and field events in the Pacific and Indian Ocean areas.

Surplus of Cocoa hurts Ghana

By HELEN ADDAE

Many of the alarmist stories that have been spread about recent events in Ghana have revolved around the personality of President Nkrumah. Yet some of the most turbulent stresses within the nation arose while the President was out of the country on his visit to Russia.

Outstanding was the strike of railwaymen at the large port of Takoradi over the five per cent compulsory saving measure introduced in the last budget.

The budget was, in many respects, a tough one. But it was necessary because Ghana's reserves have been falling fast and the price of cocoa, the country's main revenue earner, has suffered severe setbacks.

Although the budget stipulated that there should be a five per cent compulsory saving of worker's salaries, people earning less than £10 a month (average working wage in Ghana is £20-25 - a month) are exempt altogether.

Quite a number of the railway and port workers who went on strike were, in fact, earning less than £10 a month. So they would not have been involved in the new regulations.

In a broadcast made on his return from holiday, President Nkrumah hinted that there were people behind the strikers engaging in subversive activities aimed at upsetting the Constitution. There seems to have been some substance in this allegation in view of the fact that many of the strikers could not have come within the new budgetary regulations.

But the strikers must have had some considerable grievance to have come out at all, for striking in Ghana is illegal and the Unions are allied to the C.P.P., the Government party.

Partly, of course, the trouble arises from the fact that the terms of trade in world commerce are getting harder. Less money is flowing into primary producer countries now than in the immediate post-war years.

It is unfortunate that just when the nation is enjoying its full-fledged independence, there should be a world surplus of its primary product - cocoa - due to increased crops both in Brazil and Ghana itself.

Ghanaians, who rightly looked forward to increasing prosperity with their independence, find it difficult to appreciate that their standards cannot rise greatly and quickly - although, undoubtedly, there have already been improvements.

All this explains why President Nkrumah is anxious to proceed with the Volta River Dam scheme. This will not only provide bauxite as an additional export to cocoa but, through the electrical power arising from the dam, will enable many light industries to be set up in the country.

As a result, dependence on primary products would at least be lessened, if not overcome altogether.

Once Upon A Time There Were Some Merchants

who were selling merchandise for whatever prices they could get! Most of the time, the prices were high. Some of the customers paid the high prices. The merchants chuckled and pocketed the enormous profits. Sometimes the customers complained . . . they said prices were much too high and they'd buy in some other town. When this happened the merchants gave them discounts . . . BUT THE CUSTOMERS WERE STILL PAYING MORE THAN THEY SHOULD HAVE FOR THE MERCHANDISE!

THEN FAUCHER CAME TO SHERBROOKE! The word began to spread—"FAUCHER, THE KING OF LOW PRICES, SELLS TOP BRAND MERCHANDISE FOR MUCH LESS THAN OTHER MERCHANTS." Customers flocked to Faucher's store on King Street East. Business was so good that he opened another store on Wellington North. Business was booming, but some people said — "There's a catch. Things like this just don't happen". To these folks we say, "Brand name merchandise. Good service is good service. "If you still have your doubts, we'll tell you how we operate."

WE BUY IN CARLOAD LOTS. We strike a hard bargain. We don't pay the manufacturer one cent more than we have to, to get nationally advertised brand name merchandise. Then we are satisfied with a very low profit. Much lower than other merchants. WE MAKE UP IN VOLUME WHAT WE LOSE IN PROFIT ON EACH SALE, so, at the end of the month, we end up with a profit that makes us happy.... AND OUR CUSTOMERS GET BARGAINS SUCH AS SHERBROOKE HAS NEVER SEEN BEFORE!

Nuclear war scare causes quirks

Ants more sensible than humans

By HAROLD MORRISON

WASHINGTON (CP) — Biologist Julian Huxley once noted that only two kinds of animals engage in large-scale organized battle on their own species—men and ants.

In ants, females do all the fighting while the males watch. Among humans, it is the man who usually carries the rifle.

But in the developing nuclear age, ants may have one advantage over men: they are not subjected to curious changes in character caused by panicky fear of a nuclear war.

For example, a well-educated lawyer from suburban Arlington suggests the formation of a machine-gun company to mow down Washingtonians who might rush out of the downtown area in the event of a sudden atomic attack.

* * *

Patent attorney Frank Campbell says the machine-guns, under his proposal, would be used only against fear-crazed mobs streaming over the Washington bridges and destroying property in neighboring Virginia communities.

Out in Nevada some residents have warned neighboring California, especially heavily populated Los Angeles, that a hail of bullets might greet people fleeing in panic to Nevada in the event Los Angeles is hit.

The idea that man must guard himself against his neighbor as well as the enemy is spreading as increasing numbers of Americans dig out their back lawns to install fallout shelters.

Many are reported to be attempting to masquerade construction so neighbors down the street won't know a shelter is being built. Others are openly warning that they will shoot neighbors who try to force their way in when the bomb falls.

* * *

A Roman Catholic priest has said the natural right of self-defence gives a shelter owner the right to use whatever means is necessary to protect himself and his family.

The U.S. Civil Defence Agency says most Americans still think in terms of co-operating with their fellow men in "the revival for survival."

Demand for federal literature on fallout shelters has climbed to about 5,000,000 requests a month from just 100,000 requests for all of 1960. All through the country reports are flowing in of sharp rises in shelter construction and production of survival kits.

* * *

Drowned in this activity are the voices of some scientists who suggest shelter-builders in the big vulnerable cities may be digging their own graves. One estimate is that if Soviet Premier Khrushchev lobs a 100-megaton bomb into North America, the fireball would completely scorch an area extending out 20 or 30 miles in all directions from the target centre — including underground shelters.

Amid all this fear of bombs comes a voice suggesting Americans should stop running away.

"I am not afraid," says Rosalind Elias, Metropolitan Opera star, in a $2,800 half-page advertisement she placed in the New York Times.

"We hear of fallout shelters, of evacuation, of running away, of living underground.

"I shall not crouch in a hole like an animal."

Nature helps to restore B.C. forests

VICTORIA (CP)—While fire destroyed millions of board feet of prime spruce timber in the British Columbia interior, nature was hard at work this summer to replace the loss.

A B.C. forest service spokesman said surveys show promise of a heavy crop of spruce cones in forests left unscathed by the fires.

Crews set out in early fall to gather the cones. It is expected they will harvest enough seed for 40,000,000 seedlings.

This yield would be sufficient to replant 60,000 acres of charrec Crown spruce forests over the next 10 years.

Foresters are less optimistic about the prospects for replacing fire-ravaged interior Douglas fir, yellow pine and larch, from which only light harvests of seed cones are expected.

CONES IN STORAGE

Along the B.C. coast, the fir and Sitka spruce cone crop has also deteriorated to the extent that none will be collected this fall. These cones have been infested by boring insects.

But large stocks of coastal seed are held in cold storage by the forest service and the reforestation program will not be affected.

Figures for the 1961 fire season in B.C. have not been compiled but the spokesman estimates timber losses will come close to the $37,000,000 mark reached in 1960.

One terrible trio of fires, nicknamed Vunder, Vesp and Vert, 180 miles northeast of Vancouver, crackled through 600,000,000 board feet of prime spruce.

"It's staggering when you think that this was enough timber to build 90,000 homes and it went up in smoke in about four days," he said.

"Even Mother Nature can't keep pace with that rate of destruction if it keeps up for many more years."

Stock ownership among employees growing in U.S.

NEW YORK (AP)—Milton E. Cole is a pulp delivery foreman. He's also a capitalist because of the stock purchase plan of his employer, the Scott Paper Company.

He says he didn't have a nickel when he went to work but now enjoys a quarterly dividend along with his regular pay.

Frank Markus, a chemical operator for du Pont in Deepwater, N.J., thinks his company's stock thrift plan means he'll be able to put his three boys through college.

Miss Mildred Mick, a secretary for Sears, Roebuck for more than 30 years says her stocks, acquired under a profit-sharing plan, mean that after retirement she can take care of ordinary needs and still have something left over with which to enjoy life.

OWNERSHIP GROWING

Stock ownership is growing in the United States among employees using three kinds of plans offered by the companies for which they work.

The number of Americans now owning at least one share of stock is estimated at 15,000,000 and stock market authorities believe that one out of five got his first shares through a company-sponsored plan.

Such plans were developed in the 1920s. Their popularity took a nose dive after prices plunged in 1929. They have been returning in volume in recent years, some with safeguards against severe financial loss.

Of some 1,100 companies listed on the New York Stock Exchange, 233 offer at least one form of stock purchase plan for a total of 248 plans. And more than 1,600,000 employees are participating.

An exchange pamphlet shows 530,000 employees participating in 114 stock purchase plans; 753,000 in 80 savings and thrift plans; and 260,000 in 39 profit-sharing plans. In addition, 84,000 employees are included in stock bonus plans, monthly investment plans, or stock retirement plans.

FIRMS PAY COSTS

Under stock purchase plans companies absorb administrative costs, commission charges and other fees but usually don't contribute directly to the purchase price.

Under savings and thrift plans, companies contribute from 25 cents to $2 for each salary dollar set aside by employees for buying company common stock.

The 39 companies with profit-sharing plans report a total of 96 per cent of eligible employees participating. These plans accumulate funds and invest them in company stock or a combination of such stock and other securities. In 23 of such plans employees don't contribute any of their own money. In the 16 others they can contribute up to 10 per cent of their salaries.

GLEN SUTTON —

Mrs. William Burnham spent a few days in New York with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Charles Diomba.

Fred G. Stupplebeen SK2, U.S. Navy, has arrived home after spending three years in Japan. He expects to be stationed in Burlington, Vt., where his family will join him.

Miss Mildred Learmonth is visiting her sister, Mrs. Dufferin Annesley, and family.

Mrs. Jasper Dinning and Mr George McReynolds are spending an indefinite time at their home here.

Miss Bonibel Anderson, of Sherbrooke spent the holiday weekend with relatives here.

Mrs. Annie Hughes, from East Angus, is visiting Mrs. George Stewart.

Mr. Eddy Amadon has returned to work in Black Lake, after being under the doctor's care.

SAWYERVILLE —

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gleason Painter were Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Gadapee and daughter, Laureen, of Danville, Vt., Mr. and Mrs. Rosco Patrick, of Richmond, and Mrs. Lindsey Painter, and son, Torryl, of Lennoxville.

Halifax fuel salesman best friend on shore a fisherman can have

HALIFAX (CP)—Don Helpard, branch manager of S. Cunard and Company's marine division, does more than sell fuel to merchantmen, fishermen, weekend sailors and scallop draggers.

He's liaison man between ship at sea and family at home as well as postmaster, banker, storekeeper and bearer of good and bad tidings.

When storms threaten, the short, stocky 48-year-old father of four is especially busy in his small office overlooking the waterfront. The phone jangles with calls from uneasy relatives of men on the fishing grounds.

Don tells a worried mother of nine that her husband can be expected home before the storm. A new bride is assured her husband, far at sea, is a good skipper with a sound craft and prepared for the storm.

COMPANY POLICY

A big man in rubber boots and denims waits to talk with Mr. Helpard. The fisherman is going to try for home a few miles down the coast. His vessel has been refueled but there are stores to be bought and stowed aboard, customs to be dealt with, bills to be paid and a cheque to be cashed.

Don looks after all these needs and more. It takes time but "it's company policy," he says, adding with a laugh: "I'm the daddy of them all."

The company has been selling fuel since Samuel Cunard, founder of the steamship line, sold the coal his ships carried here as ballast on Atlantic crossings in the early 1800s. The company has since changed hands but the original name was retained.

The extras which normally take up more time than the sale of fuel have been provided for about 20 years. Mr. Helpard, 15 years with the company, has been dealing personally with fishermen for 10.

WHERE TO SELL

The telephone rings. It is a marine radio call from a fisherman with a catch wanting to know where to get the best price. He may save the fisherman an 80-mile trip to a poor market.

The number of boats Mr. Helpard handles varies with conditions and seasons. Winters are usually slow but at peak periods 20 boats a day are common.

When the Gloucester dragger Ocean Wave went aground on McNab's Island in Halifax Harbor earlier this year, it was Don who looked after the rescued seamen, made sure they had clothing, medical care, hotels, transportation and immigration clearance.

Not all memories are pleasant. Don recalls how he sat across from a young skipper only hours before he and his crew were lost at sea in a storm that claimed 17 lives.

How do the fishermen feel about Don?

Captain Edward O. Grandy, at sea for much of his 46 years, looked toward his 140 - foot schooner E. F. Zwicker and said: "Apart from being our oil man, Don is a ship's husband away from home."

117 years-old

He is like a "younger person"

BOMBAY (CP)—India's oldest man has been located. He is Khem Das, a 117-year-old shepherd, who says he hopes to live "at least 15 years more."

Das lives in the snow-bound Himalayan hamlet of Mathiana in the Manali region bordering Chinese-occupied Tibet. A Bombay reporter sent to interview him said he "looks like a man between 60 and 70 but behaves like a much younger person, active from sunrise to sunset attending to his various chores."

Officials say Das is fast becoming a big tourist attraction and there is anxiety among his 59 grandsons and great-great-grandsons that the harassment may affect the old man's health.

RARELY ILL

Das has been ill only three times in his life. He remembers that the last time he was bedridden was "some 30 years back."

Every morning he goes to Manali town, two miles downhill, to shop. He climbs back to Mathiana effortlessly. In the afternoon he takes a flock of sheep to graze on a meadow some 2,000 feet above the village. He also tends his modest farm, giving instructions to his grandsons on soil problems.

Das has still some teeth left and says he can "eat anything that a normal person does."

HEAVY SMOKER

Das is a heavy smoker, as are all mountain people in the Himalayas. The tobacco he uses is raw, powerful and heady. In a day he smokes about 30 hand-rolled cigarettes.

A vegetarian, he loves maize bread, curdled milk and butter.

His meals are hearty but he fasts periodically according to Hindu religious custom.

Asked for tips about how to live beyond 100 years, Das said: "Take life philosophically. Never worry. As the scriptures say, do your duty towards God and humanity and leave the rest to destiny."

Members of R. C. church to air views

NEW YORK (AP)—A worldwide "vox populi"—voice of the people—is rising today in the Roman Catholic church.

And church authorities are encouraging it.

The mounting tide of suggestions and viewpoints is part of the planning for the second Vatican council, to be held sometime in 1962, the first such global gathering of Catholic magistrates in nearly a century.

In a church that often is pictured as being ruled only from the top, the ordinary clergymen and laymen are being urged to register their ideas and proposals for the council's consideration.

SUGGESTIONS POUR IN

As a result of such advice literally thousands of suggestions already have poured in on the Vatican planners.

The process of popular, rank-and-file participation in government of the church is nothing new in Catholicism, but to many people it is a little-known aspect that the present reminders bring to the fore.

Analyzing it, Rev. Gregory Baum, of St. Basil's seminary at Toronto, writes in a recent issue of the Davenport, Iowa, Catholic Messenger:

"The magisterium of the church . . . not only speaks to the people, it also listens to the people. It is in this connection that theologians speak of the prophetical office of the laity."

In words that many Protestants might think reflect a strictly Protestant attitude, he points out:

"The spirit of God is not confined to the hierarchy. The Holy Ghost operates in all members of the church and may lead any of them to make a contribution to the evolution of doctrine."

He adds:

"There are people who believe that all Catholic initiative comes from the apostolic hierarchy, or that all new ideas come to us from Rome, or that we must not think or move until our bishops have commissioned us."

Such views, he says, don't reflect a real grasp of the church's nature, for "the spirit permeates the whole church" and works its fruits and insights on many levels.

CRITICISM URGED

All Catholics are involved in the process, he said, even in the church's "role of teacher . . . we must articulate our thoughts."

This includes frank criticism of any flaws or weaknesses, says Claude Ryan, national secretary of L'Action Catholique Canadienne. He writes:

"Religious authorities, like all human authorities, in order to govern the church will need to draw strength from a vigorous and demanding voice of public opinion."

This does not detract from or lessen the authority of the Pope or of the council of bishops, both of which have supreme jurisdiction either singly or jointly, to pronounce finally on church matters.

NO SMALLPOX

Canada has had no cases of smallpox since 1945 when five were recorded.

Medical research field challenges women

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Women by the hundreds must be encouraged to become medical research scientists to fill the gaps created by men who are turning away from the health fields toward the technical sciences.

Medical scientist Dr. Virginia Tennyson, who holds that opinion, continuously tries to justify its desirability. She says:

"I think it fair to say that in some fields of scientific inquiry, women are better equipped by nature than are men.

"For instance, few will argue that women aren't more intuitive. In the laboratory, they are more inclined to respect a hunch, which is just another word for disciplined imagination and deduction.

"We women 'hunch,' because we are determined to get a realistic answer.

"Women workers in science are inclined to be more patient than men. Perhaps it's debatable but I seem to find, too, that women are more likely to persevere. (They) are less prone to give up because of boredom and tedium."

Dr. Tennyson herself is working proof of her own words. She is an anatomist and electron miscrocopist at Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons in New York City.

She now is trying to determine the cause of excess fluids in the brains of infants suffering from hydrocephalus, a birth defect. This often fatal disease leads to gross enlargement of the head, wasting away of the brain, loss of mental powers.

Young women on the threshold of a science career should realize that, in some laboratories, exceptional demands are made of them in ability and natural scientific talent, Dr. Tennyson says. And, she reminds them, they'll have to compete with men.

"If a young woman enters a science career with a 'feminist' chip on her shoulder — with the attitude of demanding her rights — she doubtless will arouse hostility and so will meet with hostility.

"But I have found that most professional people will accord you more than your 'right' if you have ability. If you do have it, it will be recognized. Appreciation of it shouldn't be forced down your colleagues' throats."

Women are being appreciated in science. For example, the National Foundation offers 515 scholarships, each worth $1,000 every year to students, regardless of sex, in the fields of medicine, nursing, physical and occupational therapy, and medical social work. Dr. Tennyson herself is on a Foundation-March of Dimes grant.

Despite her preoccupation with her work and field, there definitely is another side to this auburn-hair, blue-eyed scientist.

She can whip up some excellent crepes suzette or dabble with a paint brush. Dr. Tennyson tried to lead a life of "dynamic equilibrium. the rule we find in all nature. I don't spend all of my time with rabbits and mice and peering into a microscope.

"Fact is, I have so much equilibrium I even go skiing."

MORE AND MORE, women will be needed to fill gaps in ranks of medical research scientists. So say Dr. Virginia M. Tennyson, above, shown at an electron microscope at Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons, in New York. Rabbit is three-year-old Isobel, who has mothered several litters used in research.

Value of Massage

Massage alone will not reduce weight. It must be combined with right diet and mild exercise. But it does increase muscle tone thorough improved circulation and, therefore, can prevent flabbiness.

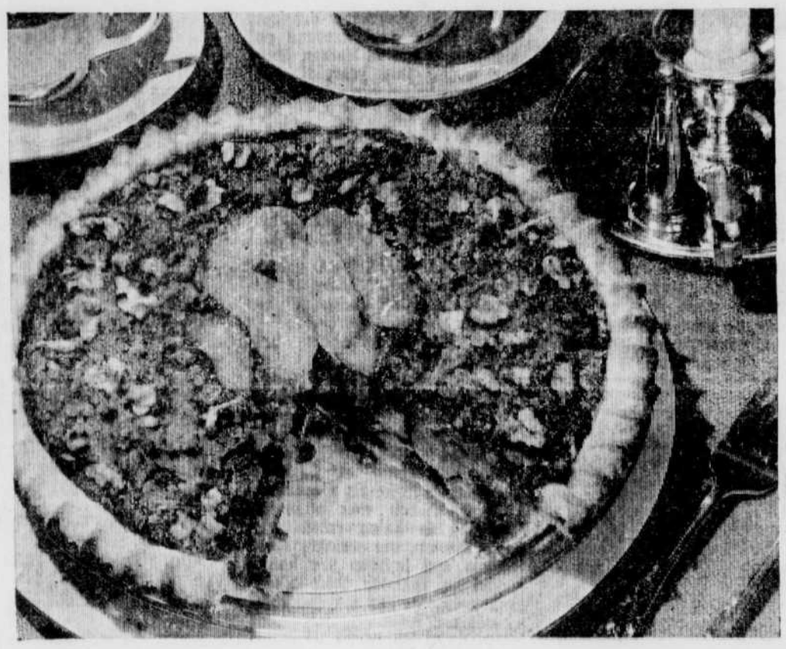
Apple pie with walnut crumb top



APPLE PIE with a Walnut Crumb Top is a delightful variation of the perennial apple pie. Quick-cooking tapioca helps thicken this fruit pie so that the juices are clear and flavorful.

There's a harvest of apples in Fall that means "good eating" in dozens of ways. Munching an apple while taking a brisk walk, burning leaves, or studying math is a healthy way to "snack." But going beyond the snack idea, there are many apple recipes available these days that bring this marvelous fruit to the dinner table.

The recipe here offers interesting variety to the standard favorite of Canadian desserts.

APPLE PIE WITH WALNUT CRUMB TOP

1½ tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca, ¾ cup sugar, ⅛ teaspoon salt, ¾ teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon nutmeg, 3½ cups peeled and thinly sliced fresh apples, (Greening, Cortland, Rome Beauty, Wealthy, McIntosh), 1 tablespoon lemon juice, ¾ cup heavy cream, Pastry for one-crust 9-inch pie, Walnut Crumb Topping, ¼ cup butter, melted.

Combine tapioca, sugar, salt, spices, apples, lemon juice, and cream. Let stand about 15 minutes. Roll pastry ⅛ inch thick. Line a 9-inch pie pan. Trim pastry 1 inch larger than pan, fold edge to form a standing rim, and flute. Fill with apple mixture and bake in hot oven (425° F) 30 minutes. Then sprinkle Walnut Crumb Topping over apple mixture around edge of pie, leaving 1½ to 2-inch area in center uncovered to permit escape of steam. Spoon melted butter over crumb topping. Bake 20 to 25 minutes longer, or until syrup boils with heavy bubbles that do not burst.

Walnut Crumb Topping

Combine ½ cup sugar, ½ cup fine graham cracker crumbs, ¼ cup flour, ¼ cup chopped walnuts, 1 teaspoon cinnamon and ⅛ teaspoon salt.

Food Tips

French Toast becomes a filling luncheon dish when it's made the following way. In a shallow dish, combine three slightly beaten eggs, one cup of milk, one-quarter teaspoon salt and one-quarter teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. Melt one-third cup of butter in a skillet. Taking two or three at a time, dip twelve slices of bread into the egg mixture, then brown them on one side in the hot butter. Turn. Sprinkle the browned side of each slice with two tablespoons of grated cheddar cheese. Remove the slices from the skillet and serve them when the cheese is melted and the undersides brown.

Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. George Sheard, of Coaticook, Que., wish to announce the engagement of their only daughter Joan, to Mr. William John Allday, M.A., M.A.Sc., of Kingston, Ontario, older son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Allday, of Six Ashes, Shropshire, England.

1 MERCURY COMET —the compact Mercury. Built for the family who wants a compact car that doesn't look it or act it. The new Comet is a Mercury, with fine car styling unsurpassed among compacts. New rear deck with dual tail-lights provides a flair unique in Comet's price class. And Comet's look of success hasn't gone to its price. Comet still only looks expensive.

Automatic or manual transmission • Up to 33 miles per gallon on regular gas • Oil change cycle extended up to 6,000 miles • New coolant lasts up to 30,000 miles • Six people ride in comfort • Vacation planned "big car" trunk • 9 models, including Comet's new personal compact car, the S-22 with bucket seats.

2 MERCURY METEOR — the middle sized Mercury. This car is so new its unveiling will not take place until November 30. But it is so exciting, that you should know about it right now. Meteor carries on a famous Canadian name, but that's where past resemblance ends. This totally new automobile is tailored for the man who wants a bigger car than a compact —but not quite as big as a big car. Meteor is the heart of the new Mercury line.

Special Features:
Choice of new 145 hp Bantam V-8 or 101 hp "six" engines • Complete package of self-servicing features: Oil change cycle extended up to 6,000 miles; chassis lubrications and coolant last up to 30,000 miles; self-adjusting brakes • Luxurious 6 passenger interior • Cushion-Link suspension for big-car ride.

3 MERCURY MONTEREY the big Mercury. If you think big, Monterey is sized for you. Monterey is big where it counts—in comfort, in performance, in value. Combine its sofa wide seats with its elegant interior decor—and 6 people stretch out in style. The 1962 Mercury Monterey has all it takes—to take you places in a big way.

Special Features:
Engine choice—Super Economy "six" or two V-8's that include the 300 hp Marauder • 120 inch wheelbase and Cushion-Link suspension for the smoothest ride • Complete package of self-servicing features: Oil change cycle extended up to 6,000 miles; chassis lubrication and coolant last up to 30,000 miles; self-adjusting brakes • Big model choice of sedans, hardtops, wagons and an elegant convertible.

$30 for school prizes

Legion Branch 242 will sponsor Pee Wee hockey

WATERVILLE — At the general meeting of the Waterville-North Hatley Branch, No. 242 of the Royal Canadian Legion, held here recently, Comrades Syd Hart and Ashford Stewart, of the Sherbrooke Legion branch, were welcomed and introduced by President Francis Stone.

This coming winter two Pee Wee Hockey teams, already equipped, will take to the ice again under Legion supervision, sponsored by Branch 242.

Last winter they received routine instruction. This winter a more competitive type of game will be made available under sports directors Pat Gagnon, Guy Meigs, Fred Provis and N. Ditchburn, assisted by R. Ditchburn, President Stone, Fred Lucas and Ralph Bean.

Among items on the agenda was a gift of $30 to the North Hatley High School, as prize money for successful students at the school opening exercises.

District Commander Frank Pryce, recently returned from the Provincial Command convention, has placed a resolution before the assembly, to be sent to the Department of Education at Quebec:

"That more consideration be given to veterans when employing caretakers or bus drivers.

"At the end of World War II it was on the agenda that veterans be given preference whenever possible on these sedentary jobs. The Legion intends to renew its claim that the services of the veteran must be remembered.

"School boards are grateful when they are remembered by the Legion, service clubs, Women's Institutes and other patriotic organizations. The Legion, with its youth effort, is a Canada-wide movement and is intended to be of benefit to school age boys and girls. The school boards and teachers must realize that they benefit by this program. In return, the Legion asks that the veteran be employed."

Before adjournment, the president reminded members that Comrades Hart and Stewart had been of great assistance when Branch 242 was organized two years ago and in the process of growing up as young Legion branch. They have been welcome visitors ever since.

Both Comrades Hart and Stewart congratulated the president, officers and members for the efficient manner in which the meeting was conducted, with a special note on the way Pat Gagnon delivered his financial report.
