Fifty-First Year

World News In Brief

Toronto, May 7.—(C.P.)—Robert E. Eason was arrested by police on a charge of wounding early today after his wife, daughter and son were shot at their home on Peterborough Avenue in Northwest Toronto.

Mrs. Eason, 55 and the son, 20-year-old Gordon, are in serious condition with abdominal wounds. The daughter, 30-year-old Mabel, suffered an elbow wound. Police said that Corporal William Nichol, a Royal Canadian Mounted Police officer who lives next door to the Easons, was awakened at 3:30 a.m. when two other daughters, both unarmed, ran from the house.

When he entered he found Eason holding a revolver. The police account said Eason appeared dazed, offered no resistance when arrested and said to the corporal: "I guess I went haywire."

Ottawa, May 7.—(C.P.)—Heralding a buildup of air crew for the two carriers Canada will have in her post-war fleet, the Royal Canadian Navy said today it can use a limited number of young men as air pilots and observers. Specifically the navy said: "A limited number of young Canadians, between the ages of 18 and 20 1/2 years and possessing senior matriculation scholastic standing, now have the opportunity of applying for short service commissions as air pilots and observers in the R.C.N."

"Term of service call for seven years in the executive branch for air crew duty, followed by five years in active reserve. Candidates will be accepted as midshipmen and on receiving their wings will be promoted to acting sub-lieutenants provided they are at least 20 years of age at the time. Otherwise they will remain midshipmen until they are 20."

New York, May 7.—The NBC quoted a London broadcast this morning as saying that two grenades were hurled at the former British supply centre and information office in Cairo. No casualties resulted, the broadcast said. Four persons were killed and 12 injured yesterday in Cairo when a time bomb exploded in a motion picture theatre.

Jerusalem, May 7.—(P)—Police said today that an assassin fired a single pistol shot at an armored car in the outskirts of Natanya during the night and escaped under heavy fire.

Authorities denied widespread reports that Natanya homes had been searched, saying that "one routine patrol entered the city as it does virtually every night for routine inspection."

Official sources said 195 of the 216 convicts who escaped Sunday from Acre Prison still remain at large, the number including 166 Arabs and 29 Jews. Four Jewish prisoners and one Arab were killed during the mass delivery and 16 Arabs have been recaptured.

Montreal, May 7.—(P)—Leo-Ferdinand, managing director of the Montreal Veterans Taxi Owners Association, appeared in court yesterday on charges of misappropriation of $2,500, theft, and obtaining $12,000 by fraud. Preliminary hearing was set for May 22 at the request of Joseph Cohen, acting for the complainant.

Palestine Discussions Slow Down As Wrangle Develops

Lake Success, N.Y., May 7.—(P)—A premature wrangle over merits of the Jewish-Arab deadlock on Palestine today menaced progress of the special General Assembly of the United Nations on that delicate problem.

A political and security committee of the whole 55 members of the U. N. met under chairmanship of Canada's Undersecretary of External Affairs, Lester B. Pearson, to start work on forming a special fact-finding committee on Palestine.

But as a result of yesterday's deliberations it has invited representatives of the Arab higher committee and the Jewish agency to appear and argue their opposing cases virtually without limitation. A motion to limit such representations to suggestions about the formation and instructions of the proposed fact-finding committee was fought yesterday by Russia's Andrei Gromyko and defeated.

Thus the hopes of Chairman Pearson that debate on merits of the dispute could be avoided until the fact-finding committee is set

Duplessis And Drew Deny Report Negotiations Now Going On With Ottawa At Below-Cabinet Level

Premier Drew Hits Dominion Government for What He Describes as "Secret" Diplomacy With Provinces—Says Political Treachery Encouraged.

Ottawa, May 7.—(P)—From Premier Drew of Ontario, the Dominion Government had assurance today he wanted a renewal of open Dominion-Provincial financial conferences, while at the same time it received a verbal belt on the chin for what he called its "secret" diplomacy with the provinces. While leaving Ontario's door wide open for more tax agreement sessions, Premier Drew told a Progressive Conservative dinner here last night the Federal Government has been "encouraging political treachery by secret deals and secret deals behind closed doors."

OBSERVES BIRTHDAY

At the same time, he denied specifically reports Ontario and Ottawa have been negotiating at below-Cabinet levels for a renewal of discussions. This came almost simultaneously with a similar denial from Premier Duplessis of Quebec on behalf of his province.

Mr. Drew, speaking to the Ottawa Young Progressive Conservatives, devoted almost all of his address to a hot attack on the Federal Government's methods in negotiating tax agreements, which he termed a threat to Canada's federal structure and a possible forerunner of a unitary system of government.

He assailed, too, what he termed were threats by Federal Cabinet members against the original concept of the British North American Act. And in passing he took a verbal sideswipe at the CBC as a "propaganda" agency for the Dominion Government.

The Premier charged the government with "seeking by force and by pressure and I may say by political blackmail" to move in on provincial taxation fields permanently.

He declared his government would sign a temporary agreement with the Dominion which did not assure that any subsequent permanent agreements would be acceptable to the peoples of all provinces.

Ontario would not be satisfied with "pious verbal assurances" that the Dominion was not trying to establish permanently a system of provincial subsidies.

Indications were, Mr. Drew said,

Indirect Taxation Is Hit By Opposition Members In Debate On Federal Budget

Ottawa, May 7.—(P)—Finance Minister Abbott's week-old budget, which forecast 29 per cent cuts for nine out of 10 income taxpayers, drew criticism from opposition party spokesmen in the Commons yesterday mainly because of its failure to provide relief for the 2,000,000 or more Canadians who do not earn enough to pay income taxes.

Firing the opening guns in the annual budget speech debate, spokesmen for the three main opposition parties expressed their views on what should have been done, and two of them—the Progressive Conservative and the C.C.F.—supported their arguments with motions of non-confidence in the government.

The lack of relief from indirect, "hidden and nuisance" taxes was the main target for the spokesmen—J. M. Macdonnell, Progressive Conservative financial critic and member for Muskoka-Ontario, M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, and Solon Low, Social Credit leader. Mr. Macdonnell, speaking hesitantly because of a throat ailment

Ramadier Is Supported By Party Ballot Statement On Conscription Issue Today

National Council of Socialist Party Approves Break With Extreme Left Which May Have Wide Repercussions.

Paris, May 7.—(P)—France's Socialist Party ratified today Premier Ramadier's decision ousting Communists from his Coalition Cabinet, thus ending a government crisis.

A hastily-summoned national council of the party voted 2,529 to 2,125 to approve the break with the extreme left, an action which may have political repercussions throughout Western Europe.

Ramadier, pleading for the council's endorsement in the 12-hour debate which preceded the vote, declared he would feel like a "grave-digger of the Republic" if he were forced to resign.

Supporting Ramadier, Leon Blum, former Premier and an elder statesman of the party, declared that "resignation of the government would be tantamount to denial of the Parliamentary regime."

The council's vote was in approval of Ramadier's action of last Sunday in revoking the portfolios of five Communist ministers after the Communist Party refused to join in a vote of confidence in the government's wage-price freeze program.

Ratification of Ramadier's action represented a victory for the Socialist Party's right wing over its left wing, led by Secretary-General Guy Mollet, who wanted Ramadier to resign.

Others opposing Ramadier included Roger Capozzi, Deputy Secretary-General of the powerful General Confederation of Labor, who declared during the long council debate that repudiation of the Communists would involve the risk of a general strike.

In the meantime, Renault Automobile Workers strike, which is supported by the Communists and which was the immediate cause of the crisis, was continuing and minor strikes were spreading in other industries.

The final Socialist motion of confidence in Ramadier's government was carried unanimously by the council at 4:30 a.m. an hour after the decisive vote. It expressed the party's regret that by their "refusal to associate themselves with a low-price policy" Communist ministers had caused a split between the two parties of the left at a moment when "threats against the regime were more precise than ever."

Quebec Premier Says He Would Be Glad to Attend Plenary Meeting Among Nine Provinces and Central Government, But Opposed to Any Secret Meeting.

Quebec, May 7.—(P)—Premier Duplessis, of Quebec, said at a press conference yesterday that while his Union Nationale administration would not accept present offers of the Federal Government for agreement on Dominion-Provincial matters, he would "attend with pleasure a plenary meeting among the nine provinces and the central government, but only a plenary meeting—I shall never participate in any secret meeting."

Mr. Duplessis' remarks were made in connection with his denial of reports said current in Ottawa that negotiations have been proceeding between Quebec—as well as Ontario and Nova Scotia—and the Federal Government at below-Cabinet level. A similar denial was made yesterday by Premier Drew of Ontario.

Mr. Duplessis said no employee of the Government or anyone else was authorized to negotiate with the Federal Government.

At the same time, Mr. Duplessis said that recently—as well as during the last interprovincial conferences in Ottawa—"insidious statements" were published in an effort to "try and deceive the good faith" of the people and to "favor the centralizers and bureaucrats of Ottawa and their policy."

"In newspapers of last Saturday—and I refer to newspapers friendly to the Federal Government—there was published an insinuation dispatch to the effect that sources close to the Government, as the phrase runs, had disclosed that certain negotiations were going on."

"Certain truths were mentioned, to better encourage belief in exactitudes; for example, in the way of truth, that the Premier of Quebec had spoken in a very moderate manner of inter-governmental relations. But alongside this truth, there were numerous inexactitudes, to use a polite term."

"The Ottawa dispatch said sources close to the Government believed negotiations of an official nature are going on with a view to new agreements and that agreements were imminent as regards the province of Quebec. This declaration is absolutely contrary to the truth, to the facts, and no one in good faith can have the least justification in making it. This insinuating dispatch from Ottawa says negotiations are proceeding, not with members of the Government of the province, but are going on with certain officers of the Quebec Government. This is absolutely incorrect."

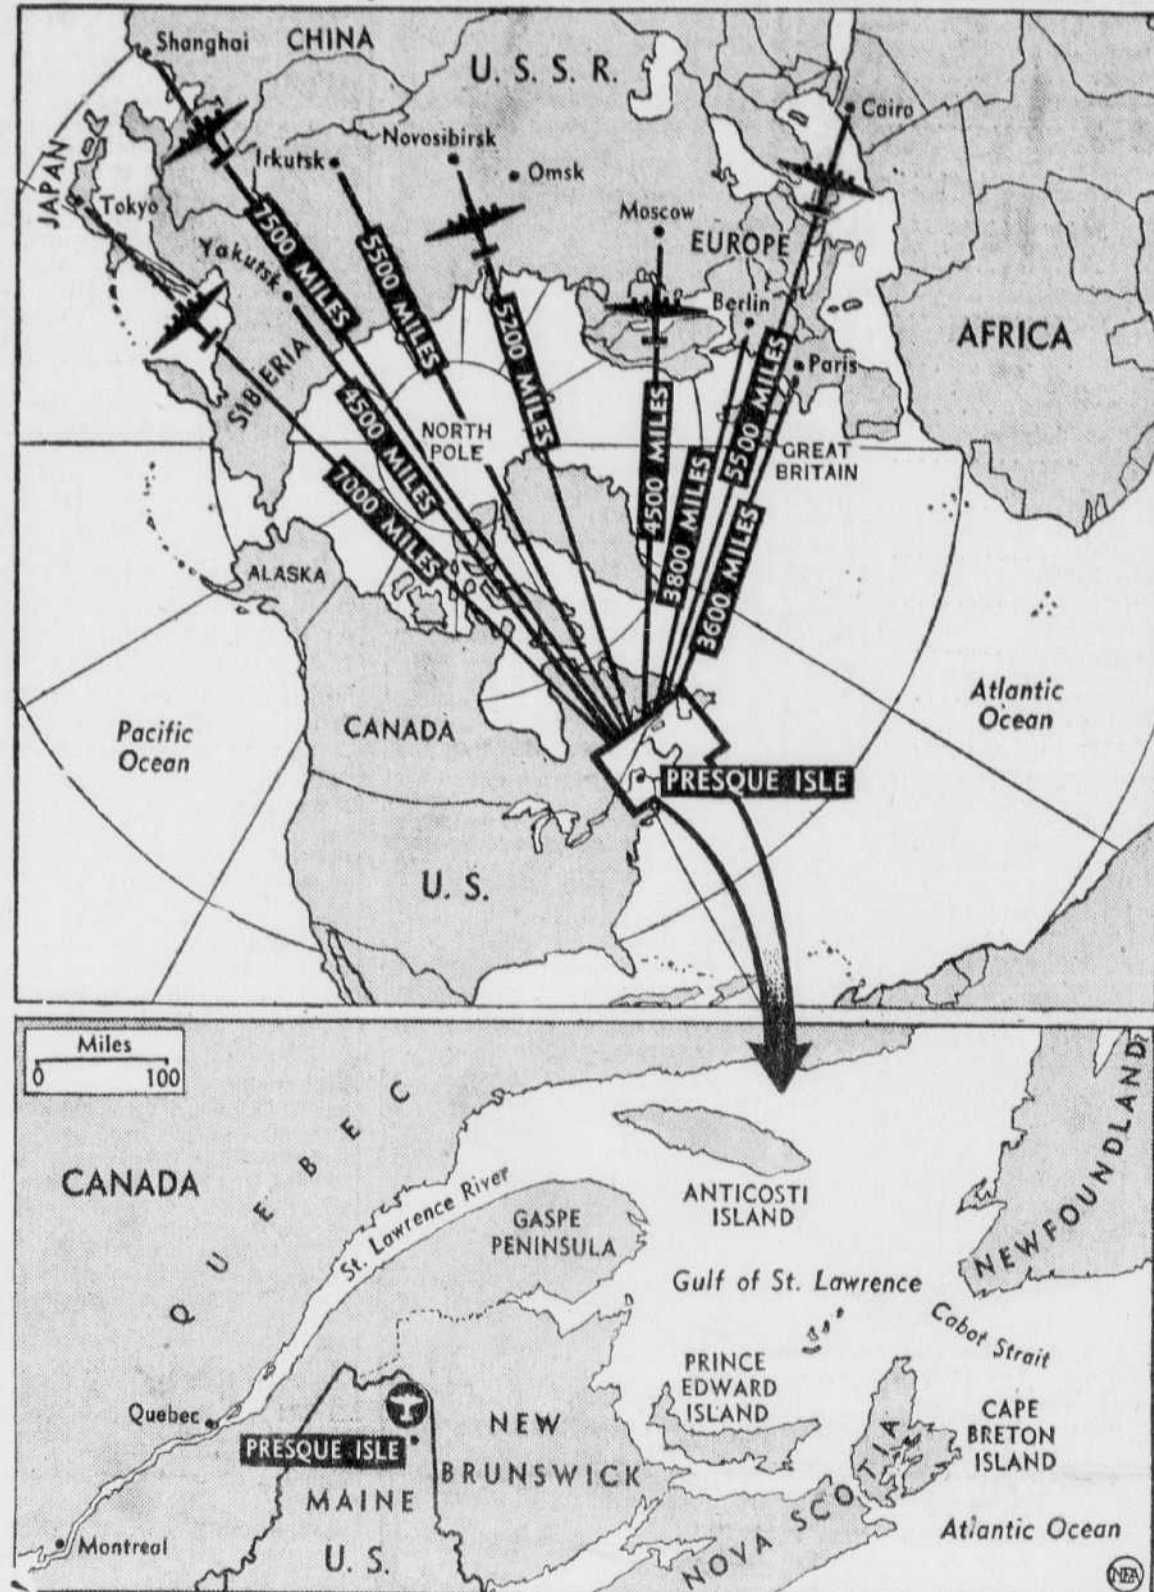

Mr. Duplessis went on to say "continuing this unfortunate propaganda," the dispatch states the Quebec Premier "finds that his arguments as to provincial autonomy are 'petering out.'"

"This affirmation is without doubt the result of a desire on the part of 'centralizers' but, as is well known by the immense majority in the province, it does not in any way agree with facts."

The dispatch also said, he continued, that "the two premiers—meaning Mr. Drew and myself—have overlooked the fact that the

How Giant U.S. Bombers From Base Close To Quebec Can Roam World

Large map above shows how U. S. Army's atom-bomb-carrying B-29's and still more powerful B-36 superbombers could fan out over the top of the world to far-off points in Europe, Asia and Africa from the projected $14,000,000 Air Force base 30 miles northwest of Presque Isle, in Aroostook County, Me., nestled close to the Canadian border. Lower map shows close-up of the site, strategically located for planes to attack any of the great industrial centres of the world. It is also astride the shortest European-U.S. aerial invasion route down the St. Lawrence valley. AAF says construction will begin about June 15 and may be completed by fall, 1948. B-29's have a range of 6,500 miles and B-36's a range of 10,000 miles. Gen. Carl Spaatz, AAF commander, foresees 13,000-mile-range planes in a few years.

Emilien Guay Refuses To Testify As Ducharme Hearing Resumed

FIND CLUES TO MISSING PLANE

Vancouver, May 7.—(CP)—Searchers seeking the missing Trans-Canada Airlines transport which disappeared with 15 persons aboard nine days ago, reported today finding items of clothing and an oil slick in the waters of the Gulf of Georgia close to where an "undetermined contact" had been made with anti-submarine detection equipment.

Emilien Guay, whose role as a prizefighter has been suggested in evidence submitted at Mrs. Cyprien Ducharme's preliminary hearing on a charge of murder, is being held in the same jail as accused following his refusal to testify as the hearing was resumed this morning.

The Danville resident was called to the stand this morning as the hearing continued in Court of Sessions after several postponements requested by the Crown that new witnesses might be introduced.

Mrs. Ducharme, 47-year-old widow with twelve children, was found criminally responsible for the death of her farmer-husband who died by arsenic poisoning in Wotton on February 5, 1946. When her preliminary hearing was adjourned on April 11, twenty-eight witnesses had been heard. The enquete then was postponed to April 21 that stenographic notes might be transcribed and studied. It was subsequently postponed on April 23, and April 26, when the Crown announced that new evidence had been uncovered and four or five more witnesses were to be heard.

Mr. Guay was Ducharme's employer and a frequent visitor to the Ducharme home in Wotton. Accused's sons testified in the early stages of the preliminary hearing that it was because of jealousy arising out of the friendship of Guay and accused that Ducharme tried to commit suicide at least on two occasions before his death by arsenic poisoning.

As the continuance opened this morning, Guay was the first called.

He took his place in the witness box and announced:

"I have nothing to do with this case and I have no business testifying."

Judge Marier pointed out that his function was to answer questions posed by the lawyers, and when Guay declined, Judge Marier

Rivers Near Flood Level In This Area

Although not yet threatening serious damage to property in the city, waters of the Magog and St. Francis Rivers this morning neared flood levels.

According to official figures supplied by Horridas Pepin, of the Running Streams Department, the St. Francis River had risen to a level of 22 feet, an increase of 4.4 feet over the level recorded yesterday morning, while reports of water in cellars came from the firm of St. Rubin Limited on King Street and from several property owners on Windsor Street.

Lansdowne market cellar has also been flooded. Over four feet of water was registered last night. Although this cellar is provided with a safety trap, water is reportedly seeping through the walls.

With the swollen St. Francis sweeping along its course, dams at St. Gerard, 40 miles from Sherbrooke, and at Weedon were reported to be leaking under the pressure of the high waters.

Further heavy rainfall in the district today or tomorrow might raise the local rivers to the danger point, it was learned, for at several points the streams threatened to overflow their banks. Should the weather clear, however, the waters would recede rapidly to normal levels.

Radio Engineer Waiting For Sign Of Life From Martians

Washington, May 7.—(P)—If Mars is trying to communicate with the other planets by radio, Grote Reber figures he should pick up the message.

For several years Reber has had a fantastically intricate radio receiver specially designed to pick up celestial messages.

So far, however, he's heard no strains of a Martian soap opera, a senator's speech or even a dot-dash signal.

"They just don't seem to be trying to talk to us," Reber said, although he speculates this way:

"If there are any people on Mars or any of the other stellar bodies, and if they have reached about the same stage of development as earthlings, they probably know about radio. But it may be that their transmitters aren't sufficiently powerful to broadcast to earth."

Reber, a radio engineer, built his queer listening station near his home at Wheaton, Ill. He came to Washington today to tell the Institute of Radio Engineers about it.

While listening for a message from Martians is his hobby, Reber does serious work, studying the weird radio waves that come from the sky.

"This stuff is just cosmic noise," he told a reporter. "What makes it nobody knows. But it definitely is of natural origin, due to some disturbance in cosmic space."

"Not by the wildest flight of imagination, however, could you suppose it might be created by any type of human intelligence."

Some scientists believe this noise, which exists almost constantly, may come from an atomic disturbance far out in space.

Reber and A. E. Covington, of the National Research Council of Canada at Ottawa, a physicist, said in an interview that the listening devices can be trained at the Milky Way, at the sun, at Mars and that ultra high frequency radio waves are received.

The United States Bureau of Standards and a number of independent radio engineers are investigating these mysterious cosmic radio transmissions.

Rt. Rev. John Farthing Has Ended Distinguished Career

Rt. Rev. John Cragg Farthing, Anglican Bishop of Montreal for 30 years before his retirement in 1939 and an ex-officio president of the board of directors of the University of Bishop's College in Lennoxville, died in Calgary yesterday at the age of 85 years. He had undergone an operation the previous day.

Respected by all creeds and classes, Bishop Farthing was regarded as a sound theologian and a capable administrator.

Since his retirement he had lived with his son, Hugh C. Farthing, K.C., a prominent lay member of the Anglican Church in Western Canada.

Funeral services will be announced later. Respected by all creeds and classes in the diocese of Montreal Bishop Farthing was regarded by the Anglican community as a sound theologian and a capable administrator. For many years he was identified with all movements for the public good and gave of his time unsparingly to the many church and charitable movements he sponsored. Probably, however, he will be best remembered for his business-like administration of the affairs of his diocese. Statistics compiled after 25 years of his episcopate revealed that in the Montreal diocese during this time Anglican churches increased from 168 to 289, clergy from 115 to 141, and families from 11,867 to 19,544. The total assets of the church which were $866,650 when he assumed charge rose to $2,028,327. By his own efforts the bishop raised $150,000 to add to $100,000 secured earlier for new church buildings. Dr. Farthing was consecrated bishop of Montreal in 1909 and for many years was a prominent figure not only in his own diocese but in the deliberations of the General Synod, the governing body of the Anglican Church in Canada. He was convener of the committee on church services and served on the sub-committee which revised the book of common prayer in 1922. A notable contribution by Bishop Farthing was a uniform form of Thanksgiving for Harvest Blessings which made services more accessible to the congregations in the Canadian West.

part Olsen and Johnson. They specialized in bookmaking editors, demoralizing traffic and giving the fire department conniptions. They had actresses bathing in milk and arriving at Grand Central with tiger cub on leash.

Back in 1907, Ed was advance man for Ziegfeld's first "Follies." The first of this memorable series didn't set the Hudson on fire. When it closed in New York, Ed and his backers weren't too bullish about the out-of-town bookings. It was Ed's job to travel ahead of the show and whip up the kind of excitement that sells tickets.

Ed arrived in Baltimore a week ahead of the "Follies." A look at the ticket rack showed him the advance sale wasn't enough to pay for the posters of the Anna Held showgirls Ziggy was featuring.

Ed got a notion. He walked over to see a Mr. J. A. Cassard, president of the newly-formed Maryland Automobile Club. He pointed out the Club could get itself some publicity if half a dozen of its prominent members drove their Oldsmobiles and Stanley Steamers halfway to Washington, where the "Follies" was playing, prior to its Baltimore engagement. Six Anna Held girls would meet these eminent gentlemen halfway from Washington, and let themselves be escorted into Baltimore. Upon their arrival in Baltimore, there'd be a big shindig at the Belvedere Hotel for which Mr. Z. would pick up the tab.

Mr. Cassard thought the idea just dandy, and immediately wrote out the names of six of the town's most dignified taxpayers. He assured Ed these members of his club would be delighted to meet the Anna Held girls halfway.

Next day the local papers front-paged the story. Portraits of the six burghers appeared under the fat black headline: "BALTIMORE MEN WILL MEET ANNA HELD GIRLS HALFWAY." And then a few thousand words about the champagne supper which would follow.

As they say on the radio, all heck broke loose. Six bewildered husbands had never even heard of Anna Held girls were denounced by their wives as lechers and libertines. The words "divorce" and "hell" bounced off the walls of six homes. Remember that in 1907 most God-fearin' folk figured the theatre was one of Satan's branch offices.

A few hours after the papers hit the street, the beleaguered husbands descended upon the theatre. They choked the truth out of the local manager, then marched to the newspaper offices. They threatened to bring lawsuits, shoot editors and dynamite presses.

Next day the papers graciously retracted. Over the pictures of the Anna Held girls in tights was the headline: "BALTIMORE MEN WON'T MEET GIRLS—WIVES WON'T LET 'EM!"

By this time Ed Rosenbaum was in Boston, scheming some new shenanigans. At the Baltimore box office, the line of ticket buyers was way around the block.

Next year Ed Rosenbaum came back to Baltimore to publicize a newer and greater "Follies." That night in the hotel lobby, he ran into Cassard, the Motor Club president.

Ed hope my little press stunt didn't embarrass you, said Ed. "Embarrass me?" smiled Cassard. "I thought it was wonderful. It gave me a chance to get even with the six practical jokers who kidnapped my wife on our wedding night."

THE REMAINS WERE LAID TO REST IN RIVERSIDE CEMETERY BESIDE HER LATE HUSBAND, WHO PREDECEASED HER SOME YEARS AGO.

The bearers were Messrs. Lawrence Horner, Raymond Hall, Stuart Hawk, Frederick Sanborn, Fred Shufelt and Gordon Shufelt. Beautiful wreaths were on the casket in loving memory of the deceased.

One brother, Mr. Fred Ellison, of Brigham, and several nieces and nephews are left to mourn her passing.

Those from a distance who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Percy Hawke, Mr. Stuart Hawk, Mrs. Sarah Douglas, Mrs. Edward Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. Cedric Douglas and Miss B. Thompson, of Brigham; Miss Beattie and Mr. and Mrs. David Grubb, of Sweetburg; Mr. and Mrs. Holloway, of Stanbridge East; Mr. Leslie Armstrong, Mrs. Fred Pettig and Mr. James Armstrong, of Knowlton; and Mr. and Mrs. Archie Dryden, of Cowansville.

MR. JOHN OLIVER PAQUET, OF BURY
Bury May 7.—There passed to his rest at his home here on March 31, Mr. John Oliver Paquet, at the age of eighty years, a well known and respected member of this community.

For four years Mr. Paquet had been in failing health. In September of last year he suffered a severe heart attack. He was tenderly cared for at his home by Mr. and Mrs. Trevor Pehleman. He had seemed as usual that day until after his supper, when he was stricken with another attack and passed away within two hours.

He was born in the Township of Newport, Vt., in 1867, a son of John Oliver Paquet and his wife, Eunice Godell. He had five sisters and one brother. Only one sister, Mrs. Charles Ward, survives him.

Mr. Paquet lived all his life in this district and was a carpenter by trade.

In 1892 he was united in marriage to Ruby Ann Berwick, who predeceased him on December 6, 1945. His wife also had been cared for in her last hours by Mrs. Trevor Pehleman.

The funeral service was held on Thursday, April 3, with prayers at his late residence at 1.30 p.m., and thence to the United Church, where Rev. N. Hillyer, conducted the service. The hymns sung were old favorites of the deceased, and were "O'er The Hills," "The Old Rugged Cross," "When Jesus Calls Us O'er The Tumbul," and "God Be With You 'Till We Meet Again."

The remains were laid to rest beside his late wife in the United Cemetery.

The bearers were Messrs. Herman O'Brien, Charles Ridd, R. J. MacKay, Robert Mayhew, Kenneth MacDonald and Jack Pehleman.

The Date, May 7; The Place, Rheims

Symbolic keys to the "Salle De Guerre" are a major attraction for 10-year-old Jean-Claude Petit, Rheims schoolboy who wants to be a locksmith. The map-lined room itself was a key to peace, for here the final stages of German defeat were plotted. In foreground are two of the chairs in which the Nazi General Jodl and the other Germans sat to sign their surrender on May 7 two years ago.

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
Rheims, May 7.—(NEA).—In the map-lined room at the Modern and Technical College of Rheims, nothing has changed since three Nazi representatives sat stiffly at a conference table two years ago and signed Germany's surrender.

Outside it is different. It is once more like the days before the war, say the villagers. Rheims, on its second May 7 of peace, is a busy provincial town instead of a busy military headquarters.

The last of the American Army of Liberation left a few weeks ago. The cafes, which less than a year ago teemed with American soldiers, are now almost deserted except at the "aperitif" hour. The girls the Yankees left behind them are now jitter-bugging with their own compatriots.

The SHAEF war room of General Dwight D. Eisenhower's where the surrender was signed, was turned over to the town of Rheims last summer. The maps and war charts still cover the walls; the mission assigned to the Allied Air Forces on May 8, 1945; the strength of the Allied armies; the "thermometer" that rose as Germans were captured, 4,095,051 prisoners from June 6, 1944, to May 7, 1945.

And another figure, less triumphant; 661,900 Allied casualties on the Western Front up to the that May 7 day.

More than 12,000 civilians and 10,000 members of the Allied forces have come to look at the surrender scene since it was open to the public. Soldiers, townspeople and school children, walk past the empty table and spell out the names tacked to the now empty chairs.

Outside the college building that houses the Nazi surrender scene, war room guardian Francois Trevely (left) chats with a countryman.

Say the townsfolk:
"They were a little boisterous at times, your American soldiers. But many have promised to come back, and they will be welcome. They and our other Allies are way Rheims has peace on May 7, 1947."

been in failing health. In September of last year he suffered a severe heart attack. He was tenderly cared for at his home by Mr. and Mrs. Trevor Pehleman. He had seemed as usual that day until after his supper, when he was stricken with another attack and passed away within two hours.

He was born in the Township of Newport, Vt., in 1867, a son of John Oliver Paquet and his wife, Eunice Godell. He had five sisters and one brother. Only one sister, Mrs. Charles Ward, survives him.

Mr. Paquet lived all his life in this district and was a carpenter by trade.

In 1892 he was united in marriage to Ruby Ann Berwick, who predeceased him on December 6, 1945. His wife also had been cared for in her last hours by Mrs. Trevor Pehleman.

The funeral service was held on Thursday, April 3, with prayers at his late residence at 1.30 p.m., and thence to the United Church, where Rev. N. Hillyer, conducted the service. The hymns sung were old favorites of the deceased, and were "O'er The Hills," "The Old Rugged Cross," "When Jesus Calls Us O'er The Tumbul," and "God Be With You 'Till We Meet Again."

The remains were laid to rest beside his late wife in the United Cemetery.

The bearers were Messrs. Herman O'Brien, Charles Ridd, R. J. MacKay, Robert Mayhew, Kenneth MacDonald and Jack Pehleman.

Friends of Mrs. Jay Ladd are sorry to learn that she was taken to the Sweetsburg Hospital by Dr. Rogers of Cowansville, after which it was found necessary to remove her to the Royal Victoria Hospital.

Miss F. Cummings, of Abercorn, spent a few days at the McClay home.

Mrs. V. McClay has rented Mrs. T. Miller's apartment in Knowlton, where she has opened a hair dressing parlor.

Friends are sorry to learn that Mr. H. H. Prouty was taken to the Sweetsburg Hospital by ambulance, suffering with pneumonia. Latest reports are that he is gaining.

Mrs. A. Dionne was a guest of relatives in Waterloo.

Mr. Forest Tibbitts and Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Tibbitts accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Leon West and daughter attended the funeral service in Foster on Friday afternoon of Miss H. Day.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Wright and son, Gordon, who spent the winter at the Knowlton Inn have opened their cottage on the lake shores for the summer. Mr. and Mrs. J. Bingle, of Montreal, have also opened their summer cottage here.

IN HOLLYWOOD

DOUBLE FEATURE IS CONFUSING

Hollywood, May 7.—Really, Hollywood, I've had enough. My back is out of joint. My eyes hurt, and my sense of values has gone to pot. Two-feature-length movies, a newswreel, a cartoon, a travelogue, and a two-minute trailer are driving me crazy.

I get the plots mixed up. I always get into the theater in the middle of the second picture. By the time I get around there again, I have the leading man in the first picture married to the horse in the second picture.

Or my favorite actor is the hero in one picture, and after the newswreel he comes back wearing a mustache and is the villain.

People don't go to movie theaters anymore to be entertained. They go to be tortured. They emerge with their spines all out of shape and with technicolor headaches.

Let's revive single features. Or else replace theater seats with hospital beds.

After all these years, Errol Flynn is wooing the press. He hosted a luncheon for the scribes on the second day of work on his new film, "Silver River."

There's plenty of pressure in New York to leave those fight-flicking scenes in "Body and Soul" on the cutting-room floor.

The State Department has quietly asked Hollywood to lay off gangster movies. The reason: Because they were interfering with Uncle Sam's efforts to sell the U. S. to a world looking for peace and security.

Faye Emerson's Roosevelt is wearing a lapel pin bearing the words, "Please Do Not Handle." The pin or Faye? . . . Harry James will be back from his band tour June 10, just two weeks before Betty Grable keeps her date with the stork. . . . Producer-director Mike Curtiz is prepping "Winter Kill" for H. Bogart and L. Bacall.

Aside to movie producers: With the California Centennial coming up, how about a film version of "Samuel Brannan and the Golden Fleece," novel of the gold rush days by Reva Scott, the San Francisco newspaperwoman?

KILROY COMPETITION
Marlene Dietrich, now in Paris making a movie, went to Verdun the other day to entertain some troops in the same theater in which she danced for American G.I.s during the war. Entering the theater, she saw a shapely pair of legs drawn on the wall with the words:

"Marlene Was Here." It was signed, "Kilroy."

Figures with a wallop from the Hollywood headlines:
"Hollywood Spends $500,000 on Educational Films for Schools in Last Three Years."
"Hollywood Spends $12,000,000 on Two Films, 'Duel in the Sun' and 'Forever Amber.'"

There's a deal cooking to film the life story of Jean Harlow. But who could they get to play the part? There will never be another Harlow.

Peggy Cummins' mother goes into Santa Monica hospital May 8 for a major operation. . . . June Haver will become a traveling orchestra wife to the summer while husband Jimmy Zito alternates between engagements in Texas and Chicago. . . . Edward Arnold's daughter, June, has set her wedding date to Eugene Elbright for June 27.

Mr. L. Eldridge, of Boxon Centre, called on relatives here.

What a joy comes to every mother on seeing her daughter healthy and robust during the trying time when she is passing into womanhood.

Sherbrooke Welcomes Delegates To Rotary Conference

Clubs In 195th District Are Holding Three-Day Congress

Members of the Sherbrooke Rotary today assume their roles as hosts to hundreds of delegates and their wives who are registering here and at North Hatley for the spring conference of Rotary International, 195th District, being held in this city for a three-day period ending on Friday.

With preparations complete, local Rotarians needed only assistance from the weatherman to make the conference—first of its kind ever held in Sherbrooke—a marked success. Headed by Leonard W. Brockington, of Ottawa, a group of outstanding public speakers will address the Rotarians tomorrow and on Friday, and a varied program will provide entertainment for the visitors.

Majority of the delegates are expected during the afternoon and evening. Most of the visitors will register at North Hatley, the balance at the William Street Armory.

BROCKINGTON'S ADDRESS WILL NOT BE BROADCAST

The address by Leonard W. Brockington, of Ottawa, at Thursday night's meeting of the Rotary Conference will not be broadcast as previously announced.

With all clubs in the 195th district due to be represented, delegates will begin the heaviest day of the conference tomorrow morning with a meeting in the Premier Theatre at 9:45 o'clock, at which time addresses will be given by Thomas J. Davis, of Butte, Montana, a past president of Rotary International, and by Ernesto Santos Bastos, of Lisbon, Portugal, a director of the international body.

A luncheon at the William Street Armory will follow at 12:30, the speaker on this occasion to be Rev. Norman Rawson, of Hamilton, Ont. Group assemblies will be held at 2 o'clock and 3 p.m. there will be an entertainment for Rotary Annals at the Social Club on Melbourne Street. At 3:45 o'clock the delegates will visit points of interest and at 7 o'clock in the evening the day's activities will be climaxed by the annual banquet and ball in the Armory.

Banquet speakers will include Leonard W. Brockington, of Ottawa, recognized as one of the outstanding public speakers on the continent, Thomas J. Davis, and Ernesto Santos Bastos. An entertainment by La Chorale St. Jean Baptiste and the Sherbrooke Symphony Orchestra will be given before the delegates, and a review and drill by the Sherbrooke Rotary Squadron will complete the program.

Friday will see a business session in the morning at the Premier Theatre, featuring reports and elections, and the conference will come to a close with a luncheon at the Armory, when the speaker will be Professor George H. T. Kimble, of McGill University.

Official registration of out-of-town Rotarians is scheduled to take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock, with an informal reception to be given tonight at North Hatley by members of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club and their ladies.

HARMONY BAND CONCERT WAS MUCH ENJOYED

Sylvio Lacharite directed his Sherbrooke Harmony Band through a fine concert for the Policemen's Benefit Organization at the Grand Theatre last evening.

The program which opened with the familiar "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," by Bach, carried a variety of numbers and the audience showed their appreciation of the band which has helped to mark Sherbrooke in the music world.

Guest artists last night were Marcel Marcotte, clarinetist, and his sister, Miss Rejane Marcotte, talented pianist.

Mr. Marcotte's interpretation of the first movement of the Concerto in E minor, by Carl Maria Von Weber, was full of understanding. With no apparent effort he injected all the composer's meaning into the work.

The band showed brilliance as they played the Moonlight Sonata, by Beethoven, and Knight of the Rose, by Strauss.

In Malaguena, by Ernesto Lecocq, the band demonstrated the exotic and sensual nature of the Spanish people.

Miss Marcotte's delicate touch showed to advantage as she played Grieg's Concerto for piano in A minor. As an encore she played Chopin's Etude, opus 10, No. 5.

To close the concert the band played the Preludes from a symphonic poem by Franz Liszt.

COOKSHIRE GIRL WINS HIGH HONORS IN W.C.T.U. CONTEST

Cookshire, May 7. — This district has been advised that Miss Lorna Heatherington, winner of the local W.C.T.U. essay contest, sponsored by the National W.C.T.U. at Clonahouse, Athens, Ont., has not only taken first place in the Compton County Intermediate Group, but also first place in the Province of Quebec and in the Dominion of Canada. Miss Heatherington was also a winner in the Junior Group a few years ago of county, provincial and Dominion awards.

MRS. C. O. BIRON PASSED AWAY IN 65TH YEAR

The death of Mrs. C. O. Biron, nee Marie-Louise Bordonaleau, occurred at her home on Dufferin Avenue yesterday after a long illness. She was 64 years of age.

Born in Princeville, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Bordonaleau, she received her education at the Convent of the Ursulines in Stanstead and Princeville.

In 1904 the deceased was married to C. O. Biron, who survives her. Always actively connected with charitable organizations, Mrs. Biron was president of the Lady Patronesses of Parochial Works, a member of the Ladies of St. Anne and many other welfare societies.

Besides her husband she leaves two sons, Yvan, of Sherbrooke, and Maurice, of Rimouski; a daughter, Pauline, wife of Col. Hector St. Pierre, of Ottawa; three grandchildren, Jean, Jacques and Renee, and many other distant relatives.

The funeral service will take place in St. John the Baptist Church at 9 o'clock on Friday morning, with interment in St. Michael's Cemetery.

ROADS OPENED TO HEAVY TRAFFIC

All paved roads in the Sherbrooke district will be opened to heavy traffic starting tomorrow morning at eight o'clock, it was announced today by the Provincial Roads Department.

However, owing to adverse weather conditions, gravel roads will remain closed for a few days, declared a Department spokesman.

Heavy traffic on these roads was prohibited by the Department four weeks ago.

SEVEN CADET SCHOLARSHIPS ARE SPONSORED

Ottawa, May 7. — There was big news today for Canada's 15,000 Air Cadets—the Air Cadet League of Canada will sponsor seven cadet scholarships to the Naval-Air-Force College, Royal Roads, near Victoria.

The announcement was made by C. Douglas Taylor, League president who said one Air Cadet from the Maritimes and one from each of the remaining provinces will be chosen by the League to take the two-year course.

Tuition fees and certain incidental expenses will be borne by the Air Cadet League which hopes to thus "make valuable training available to many qualified young men who might not otherwise be in a position to continue their studies." Each scholarship involves an outlay of approximately $1,000.

The college trains cadets who can aspire to positions of leadership in the Royal Canadian Navy or the Royal Canadian Air Force but candidates must be at least 16½ years of age but not over 19½ on July 1, must have senior matriculation standing and be physically fit.

A cadet can apply for entry by filling out application forms soon to be available at their squadron headquarters.

No. 67 Canadian Rotary Squadron Royal Canadian Air Cadets

Squadron will parade on Thursday, May 8, at 1820 hours at William St. Armory. Cadets must be on time.

Squadron will be inspected by Air Vice-Marshal Middleton, C.B.E., A.O.C., Central Air Command, Trenton, Ont., at 2000 hours.

Friday parade, May 9, is cancelled.

J. A. ARCHAMBAULT, F.L., Commanding Officer.

Mayor's Deciding Vote Needed To Uphold Decision According Taxi Permits To 10 Veterans

The deciding vote of Mayor Guy Bryant on two divisions assured the Sherbrooke Veterans' Taxi Association of the ten licenses that had been informally promised them to operate a fleet of taxis in the city, the Aldermen evening off five to five on the acceptance of a committee report which recommended the change of by-law 514 limiting the number of taxis which might operate. The amendment provided that the limit be raised from sixty-five to seventy-five, the extra permits to be issued to members of the Sherbrooke Veterans' Taxi Association, Inc.

The first vote, taken after almost two hours of debate, was on an amendment to the report asking that the matter be referred back for further study. The amendment was moved by Ald. Paul Hamel and seconded by Ald. Sylvio Rousseau. In addition to the mover and seconder, those favoring a delay in the decision were Aldermen Oliva Beziel, Alphonse Trudeau and Hector Rivest. Opposing the delay were Aldermen Armand Fiset, Albert Charpentier, Wesley Bradley, Henri Labonne and Guy Bishop.

After the Mayor has cast the deciding vote against the delay, a vote was taken on the original motion to issue the licenses and give notice of a formal amendment to by-law 514 to be voted on at next meeting. This saw the same line-up of aldermen, with the exception that the roles were reversed and the report carried, again on the deciding vote of the Mayor.

In moving the adoption of the report, Ald. Charpentier declared that Sherbrooke had long been in need of additional taxi facilities. With the increase of the population and the repeated extension of the municipal boundaries, the demand had become even more pressing. Care will be taken, he said, to ensure that the recipients of the permits are actually veterans of the First or Second World Wars.

Ald. Labonne, the seconder of the report, maintained that the overwhelming majority of the citizens he had interviewed urgently desired an increase in the number of taxi licenses to remedy unsatisfactory conditions, although a small minority believed that conditions had shown improvement in recent weeks with the threat of competition. Honest

Suggests Work Be Started At Once On New Local Hospital

The logical approach to the vital hospital issue here is to build a unit for 150-170 beds and house the nurses in one floor while the money required to build the nurses' home is secured, Dr. Harvey Agnew, of Toronto, editor-in-chief and secretary of the Hospital Council of the Canadian Medical Association declared in a discussion period following his address at the Arena last night.

As an alternative, he pointed out that the hospital could be built with the two top floors unfinished and the nurses' home built with the money that would have been used to complete the hospital.

Dr. Agnew spoke at a public meeting attended by a large group of citizens interested in hospital planning for the community.

Miller Hall, president of the Sherbrooke Hospital, presided and the speaker, who was introduced by Dr. W. E. Hume, was thanked by Dr. W. E. Hume, O.B.E.

To questions from the floor Dr. Agnew made these suggestions:

The new hospital need not have an elaborate out-patient department, but should have a small, well-equipped emergency department to look after accident cases; sun porches are not necessary but desirable; doctors' offices in the hospital proper are not recommended for a city the size of Sherbrooke.

Urging the community to proceed with the building of the hospital, Dr. Agnew pointed out that hospital consultants faced with the high cost of building materials are advising, if a situation is acute, to

Housing Problems Occupying Attention Of Local Council

Housing projects vied with the taxicab issue to engender proceedings of the regular City Council meeting last evening, with a formal request being made to the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation for the construction of fifty more veterans' houses in Sherbrooke under the same conditions as those under which the present seventy-five dwellings were erected.

In reply to an earlier approach by the City, the Housing Corporation stated that it was prepared to go ahead with the construction program if a formal request was received from the City and last night's debate ensued from a clause in the Plenary Committee report recommending the despatch of the letter.

No opposition was forthcoming to the project itself, but Ald. Trudeau felt that the new houses should be made to conform with the municipal building code which provided that all houses leading have a cellar and a chimney leading from the cellar to the roof. This type of construction was rejected in the earlier wartime

FINE PLAY IS PRESENTED AT PLYMOUTH HALL

Playing to a capacity-filled hall, an uproarious three-act comedy was presented last night by the Plymouth Players in Plymouth Church Hall.

An excellent cast gave a memorable performance of a young married couple subjected to mother-in-law troubles.

Entitled "Mother-in-Law Blues," the play gets underway when a young and loving husband has to absent himself temporarily from home for business reasons without his wife's knowledge. Circumstances then compel him to stay away all night, to find on his return that his wife is on the verge of tears and has called her authoritative mother to the rescue.

Complications then ensue until the bewildered husband has lost all hope of redeeming himself in the eyes of his wife and is threatened with being jailed by his mother-in-law. However, fate lends a helping hand and the husband's little outing is finally explained to the satisfaction of all concerned. The final curtain falls on a reunited couple and there's even a boy friend for the widowed mother-in-law.

Playing sincerely and without affectation the whole cast took full advantage of the comic situations unfolding throughout the play. In many instances the witty lines brought down the house.

Although all performers were outstanding, particular mention should be made of Eunice MacIntyre who gave a convincing interpretation of the mother-in-law as could be desired. George Lake is excellent as the adoring

13,500 War Veterans Settled On Farms By V.L.A., Rotarians Told By Major-General Burns

Eradication of certain faults admittedly existing in the application of the Veterans Land Act was forecast last night by Major-General E. L. M. Burns, C.B.E., D.S.O., M.C., Assistant Deputy Minister of Veterans Affairs, in the course of an address delivered on the occasion of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club's weekly meeting in the New Sherbrooke Hotel.

"Unfortunately, most of the publicity about the V.L.A. has concerned the alleged defects and high costs of the 'small holding projects,'" General Burns stated. "We do not deny that in a good many cases these complaints have justification. The fact is that the V.L.A. stepped out of its proper and understood role of settling the veteran who wanted to farm, full or part time, and into the suburban housing business—and there its troubles began."

"We thought we were making a contribution to meet the housing needs of some 2,500 veterans, at any rate. But shortages of material, shortages of experienced construction labor and all the things that contribute to the high cost and deteriorated quality of building everywhere hit the V.L.A.—with the results you read about in the papers. The administration is going to remedy the defects as necessary and will see that any veteran who is settled on one of these small holdings gets good value for his money in the conditions as they exist today. The monthly payments of principal and interest of the houses on the projects near Sherbrooke will vary between $22 and $30."

"But you should know that V.L.A. has settled 13,500 veterans on full time farming under conditions, financial and other, which will give them an enormously greater chance of success than the soldier settlers of 1919," the speaker continued. "The veteran who wants to farm—if he has the right experience and character and the right sort of wife—can be lent up to $6,000 to buy land, buildings, stock and equipment at a rate of 3½ per cent. It keeps his contract for 10 years, $2,320 of the amount is written off."

"Ten thousand have been settled on small holdings which, besides providing shelter, will enable them to gain part of their living off the land. This work continues and it is reckoned that up to 100,000 veterans in all will be helped under the V.L.A. before the work is finished."

Defining rehabilitation, in a general sense, as "the process by which a member of Canada's Armed Forces becomes a unit of the Canadian labor force," General Burns showed that many benefits had been made available to the veteran who was attempting to re-establish himself in civil life. Figures showed that there were at the present time nearly 1,000,000 veterans in Canada and of this total only 51,000 (according to National Employment Service statistics)—a little more than five per cent—were out of work. Further breakdown of the total revealed 13,600 to be in hospitals, 32,000 in vocational training, 41,500 in university training, 16,000 awaiting return on farms or businesses and 13,200 on V.L.A. farms. The remaining 832,700 were presumed to have been re-absorbed in civil life and to be earning their own living.

Chief concern of the Department of Veterans Affairs, according to General Burns, lay in providing utmost assistance for veterans who had been seriously wounded in

PUBLIC HEALTH NURSES PLAY VITAL ROLE

By William A. O'Brien, M.D.

William Rathbone, of Liverpool,

England, originated the idea of public health nursing in 1859. His wife became ill and finally died.

He was so grateful to a nurse for making his wife more comfortable

while she was ill that he wanted to do the same thing for women who could not afford a nurse.

He sent his wife's nurse out to help the people in the district. His instructions were to teach the people to help themselves, to assist doctors,

and not to try to give all the care themselves. Then he went to Florence Nightingale and told her of the need for specially trained nurses for the field, and public health nursing was born.

Public health nursing has become an essential service through the success of nurses in teaching the principles of healthful living and by bringing individuals in contact with medical resources of their community. Public health nurses give bedside nursing care to the sick at home and teach the other members of the family to bring health to people.

They are of greatest value in helping people secure proper medical treatment. In their visits from house to house, they learn of conditions which should be brought to

Eddy Gilmore Is Winner Of Year's Prize

Chief of Associated Press Moscow Bureau Given Pulitzer Award for Distinguished Reporting on Foreign Affairs.

New York, May 7.—(AP)—Winner of the 1946 Pulitzer Prize for distinguished telegraphic reporting on international affairs—one of journalism's highest awards—is Eddy Gilmore, chief of the Associated Press Moscow bureau, whose dispatches ranged from a Stalin interview to the human interest stories of Russia's ordinary citizens.

Other awards announced yesterday by Frank D. Packenthal, acting president of Columbia University on behalf of the school's board of trustees, which annually presents the prizes made possible by a $2,500,000 gift from Joseph Pulitzer, one-time publisher of the New York World and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, included awards in the fields of literature, music and art.

Special citations were made to Columbia's Graduate School of Journalism and to the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

No prize was given for a play. The St. Louis Post-Dispatch was mentioned in a citation "for its unswerving adherence to the public and professional ideals of its founder and its constructive leadership in the field of American journalism."

The Baltimore Sun, whose staff members previously had won six prizes, received its award for a series of articles by Howard M. Norton "dealing with the administration of unemployment compensation in Maryland, resulting in convictions and pleas of guilty in criminal court of 93 persons."

Other Pulitzer prizes: "For a distinguished novel published during the year by an American author, preferably dealing with American life"—Robert Penn Warren, a University of Minnesota professor, for his "All the King's Men," a novel telling of a southern political leader's rise to power.

"For a distinguished example of a cartoonist's work published in an American newspaper during the year"—Vaughn Shoemaker, Chicago Daily News cartoonist, only individual winner this year to have received a Pulitzer Prize previously.

"For an outstanding example of news photography"—Arnold Hardy, Georgia Tech student and amateur photographer, for a dramatic picture of a woman leaping to death in the Wincoff Hotel fire in Atlanta last December.

"For distinguished correspondence during the year"—Brooks Atkinson of the New York Times, for a series of articles on Russia.

"For a distinguished example of telegraphic reporting on national affairs"—Edward T. Follard, of the Washington Post for a series of articles on Columbian Inc.

"For a distinguished example of a reporter's work"—Frederick Wolfman of the New York World-Telegram for articles on "The infiltration on communism into the United States."

World Trade Bid Is Begun By Britain

More Than 3,100 Manufacturers Spread Choicest Products in Display for Foreign Buyers During Week.

London, May 7.—(AP)—Britain's manufacturers, more than 3,100 strong, spread their choicest products in colorful display for foreign buyers this week, launching what Sir Stafford Cripps termed a drive for world trade expansion.

Bidding for export orders to bolster the country's strained economic position, Sir Stafford, president of the Board of Trade, said in a speech last night formally opening the London and Birmingham showings of the British Industries Fair, that the manufacturers could promise "reasonable to good" deliveries and "comparatively cheap" prices.

"We are definitely taking risks with our fuel supplies in order to maintain the maximum possible manufacture," the Board of Trade president said, in order "to emphasize that even under exceptional and temporary difficulties our industries are strong and vital."

Whether prices would rise before deliveries could be made was a world problem and Britain was limited in the degree to which she could control even the cost of her own goods.

"By subsidies we have kept our cost of living stable so far to avoid rocketing prices. We do not believe in profiteering out of the world's Against Time,"

Versa prize—to Robert Lowell for his "Cord Weary's Castle," Music prize—to Charles Ives, of West Redding, Conn., for his "Symphony No. 3," first performed in New York last April.

The annual $1,500 scholarship for an art student "certified as the most promising and deserving by the national academy of design"—to William H. Kummann, of Glen Rock, N.J.

All of the prizes to individuals were for $500, and the gold medal presented to the Baltimore Sun cost $500.

Eddy Gilmore's award marked the 11th time The Associated Press had won a Pulitzer Prize.

Gilmore, 39, joined the Associated Press in Washington in 1935 after working five years as a reporter on the Atlanta Journal and the Washington Daily News.

He won international attention last year with an exclusive interview with Premier Stalin on the eve of the first meeting of the United Nations in the United States.

misfortune . . . our export prices have not risen in proportion to our import prices but if these latter continue in their upward rise it must, of course, mean an adjustment in our export prices too."

Expressing hope that on this basis Britain could expand her 1947 export trade 40 per cent greater than the 1938 level, Sir Stafford said it could be done "only within the framework of a general world expansion of trade."

Touching on the importance, in this respect, of the international trade organization talks at Geneva, the Cabinet Minister added:

"It—as is the case—all countries are trying to increase their export trade there must either be a great expansion of the total world trade or the most cut-throat competition to share what is not enough for all . . . If the nations negotiating at Geneva can reach a sufficient measure of agreement amongst themselves to enable them to launch out upon a program of orderly expansion of trade we shall have set out foot on the right road to reach world prosperity.

"If not, then we shall be driven back along those paths of restrictionism which led to such disastrous results for us all in the years between the two World Wars."

The Fair will run until May 16. It was last held in 1937.

"I've Struck the Balance Between NOW . . . and THEN"

"Future income for the family! . . . That was my big worry, until the London Life representative helped me to strike a balance between today's needs and tomorrow's."

"How did we do it?"

"First, we figured out the income my wife and children would need if anything happened to me. Then we decided what my present assets should earn if invested in sound securities. The difference determined the amount of additional insurance I had to buy. It's a great relief to have no worry about the family's future—and there's enough insurance to care for me too, if I live to retire."

DOROTHY DIX

Beauty Isn't Everything

Fiance Won't Marry Girl Because Of Looks Without Make-Up

Dear Miss Dix: For the past three months I have been engaged to a man whom I expected to marry shortly. One afternoon, he dropped into my home while I was helping my sister clean house. I was wearing an old pair of slacks, had on no make-up and my hair was in bobby pins. Since that day, he has refused to see me. He informs me that he could never marry me now because whenever he looked at me hereafter, he would remember how I looked that afternoon.

DOROTHY DIX

I love him very much. But I now wonder if his love for me could really be true, for I have always believed that he should still care for me no matter what I looked like. What should I do in this matter?

PERPLEXED.

Answer: There is nothing you can do under the circumstances except to make a graceful exit because if a man refuses to marry you, you can't drag him to the altar against his wishes.

I think your boy friend is just putting on an act and is making the way you looked in your house-cleaning regalia an excuse for breaking the engagement. You may not have looked like a glamour girl without make-up and your working clothes on, but certainly your lack of being dolled up couldn't have turned you into such a hideous creature that he couldn't endure the sight of you.

Anyway, I think you are lucky to be rid of the boy before you are tied up with him for keeps, for surely any husband who expected his wife to be always decked out to within an inch of her life would be a pest to live with.

What does he expect of a wife—that she will always be young, beautiful and dressed in pink chiffons with flowers in her hair? What about the times when she will have a cold in the head and be sick and miserable? How is she going to cook, wash and iron and baby-tend in her best clothing? And how is he going to look with a two days' stubble of beard?

A marriage has to be founded on something more stable than beauty if it is going to last and be any comfort while it does last.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am 35 years old and have been married twice. Since I divorced my first wife, I have found out that I love her and that she loves me. I have one child who is her son. My present wife won't let me do anything for the child. She won't even let me go to see him. If she would only let me do that, it would help me some.

My second wife refuses to divorce me in order for me to go back to my first wife. If I knew what to do so that God would be pleased with it, it would add 20 years to my life. Please tell me what to do?

B. L. S.

Answer: Unfortunately, I am not one of the people who feel that they know the things that God knows, so I cannot tell you what would be the right thing for you to do in your present predicament. According to the Bible, which is the word of God, He intended marriage to be a sacred and binding contract, and that when a man took unto himself a wife, he should be faithful to her until death parted them. So far as I know, no provision was made for men like you, who thought they got tired of their wives, divorced them and married some other women they thought they were in love with, only to find out afterward that they really loved Number One.

So, inasmuch as you brought your misfortune on your own head by breaking one of God's commandments, you will have to suffer the penalty. But you should be man enough not to let your current wife keep you from going to see your son. You owe the little chap, at least, that.

Dear Miss Dix: I am married to a very good man and love him very much. He is kindness itself to me. The only trouble is that he always jokes with other women and the girls where he works. Also, he sends them cards at Christmas. I don't mean that he runs after women because he seldom goes anywhere, but I don't like his joking, and I have thought of leaving him.

MRS. E. E.

Answer: Well, for crying out loud! To think of any wife having little enough sense to leave a good husband whose only fault is that he is jolly and friendly with the women he is thrown with. Sister, you need to have your head examined.

The Record will be pleased to receive any letters to this Dorothy Dix column. These will be forwarded to Miss Dix who will answer them as quickly as possible.

Glorify Yourself...

USE BOTH HANDS TO SPEED WORK

By ALICIA HART

Too many women put the burden of their housework upon the hand that responds quickest to their bidding.

Even if the other hand is not so dexterous, expert home economists say that you should put it to work. By using both hands, they claim you can slice minutes from housework and salvage valuable time for other things.

Take dishwashing as a two-handed job. It is polished off quicker and more efficiently, according to the experts, if you will first organize your kitchen-sink assembly line so that dishes are moved from right to left.

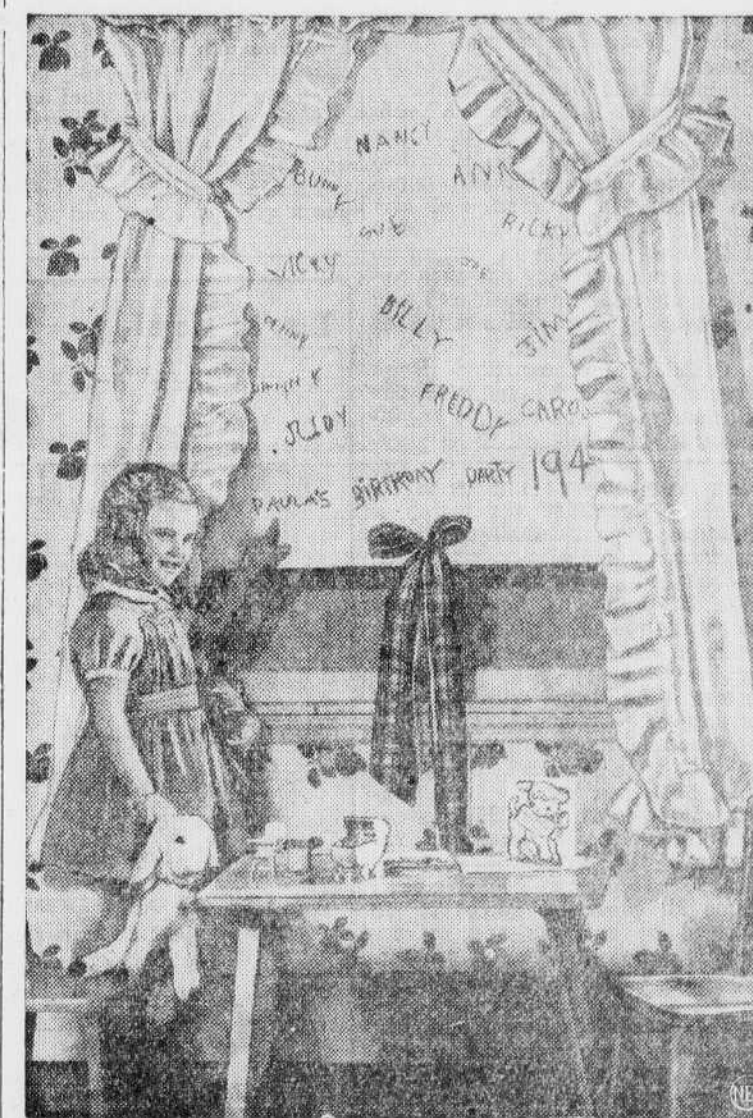

The right hand (if you are right-handed) should be used to slip the soiled dishes into the dishpan. The left should be used to pull dishes out, to hold them for a scrub with the dishrag, and to stack them into the dish drainer.

Don't allow one hand to loaf on the cleaning job, either. To speed up dusting, put each hand to work with a dust-rag. The same tactics can be used when floors and baseboards need wiping.

When windows need washing, dip two rags into the bucket of suds, and divide the labor. Same thing goes for waxing floors, polishing brass.

It may take practice to make both hands work together, but the time saved in training the team will be worth the trouble.

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Fuller, Queen street, are leaving today to spend a few weeks in New York.

Decorated Shades Add
Bright Beauty to Room

Souvenir for a little girl's birthday party is her window shade "guest book" photographed in multi-colored crayons by small guests.

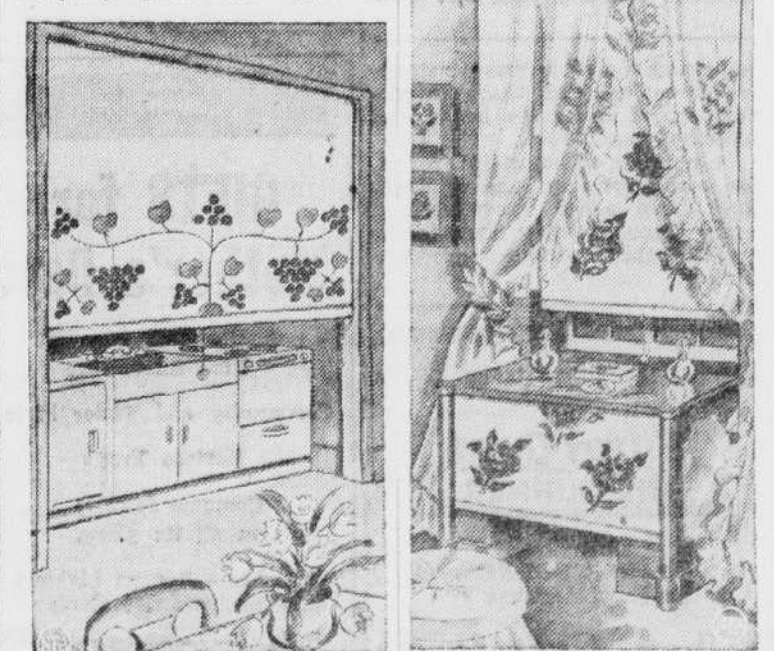

You can use tricked-up window shades to add dash or splash to a room as decorators do, and satisfy your artistic urge to paint, draw or paste decals on a functional piece of cotton cambric at the same time.

What's more, the decorated shade that guards privacy at the window can as prettily screen a kitchenette, dressing table, open shelf cabinet or a doorless closet.

Interested in tricks? Let experts of the Window Shade Institute guide your hand.

For any decorating, they say, stretch shade flat on a table top. Unroll it as far as needed for the design. Anchor the folds at each end of the roller with paper clips to keep shade from snapping up while you are working on it.

Autographs on window shades are smart. A child's room is made more fascinating to the young owner if her window shade serves as a party "guest book." Have the Flower and fruit decals make gay decorations for a shade screening a kitchenette.

Giant roses painted on shade at window are repeated on the shade used for dressing table.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

W.C.T.U.

The county executive of the W.C.T.U. met in Lennoxville, at the home of Mrs. W. Henderson, Park avenue, with Mrs. W. E. Hodge, president, in the chair.

Interesting reports were given of Miss Edna Grant's visit in February. Miss Grant, who is National Field Secretary, addressed over a thousand pupils in Sherbrooke County. A resume was also given of the visit of Dr. John Coburn, of Toronto, who covered all Sherbrooke County Schools showing temperance films. At the open meeting held in St. Peter's Church hall a generous amount was collected for his work.

Plans were made for the 48th Sherbrooke County Convention to be held in Wesley Hall, Trinity United Church, Sherbrooke, on May 21. Plans were also made for a rummage sale on the 14th of May.

At the close of the business meeting the hostess served refreshments, assisted by Mrs. J. Paige.

PROVE SPRING TONIC

By GAYNOR MADDOX

The more fresh fruits and vegetables you get in your spring menus, the happier will be the family health.

Here are colorful and zestful suggestions:

Salad Plate

Place hot potato salad topped with hard-cooked eggs on shredded cabbage. Complete the plate with buttered asparagus, shrimp, carrot fingers and lemon quarters.

Mixed Fruit Plate

Orange slices, avocado quarters and apple balls, garnished with radish roses. Serve with a hot bread, a dessert and tea or coffee.

Lemon pie is just what faded spring appetites crave.

California Lemon Pie

Bring the following to boil in a saucepan over direct heat: 1 cup water, 3/4 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel. Then add: 5 tablespoons of cornstarch, 1/2 cup cold water.

Cook over low heat until thickened, about 5 minutes. Stir constantly. Remove from heat. Then add separately, mixing well each time: 2 well-beaten egg yolks, 1 tablespoon butter, 6 tablespoons lemon juice.

Pour into an 8-inch baked or crumb crust pie shell. Top with this meringue: beat 2 egg whites until frothy. Add 4 tablespoons of sugar by teaspoons. Continue beating until eggs hold shape in peaks. Brown in moderate oven (325 deg. F.) for 5 to 10 minutes.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Tomato juice with lemon, parsley omelet, toast, butter, strawberry-jam, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Chicken broth, crackers, salad plate, heated rolls, butter, ginger snaps, tea, iced tea, milk, chocolate milk.

DINNER: Meat balls baked in spiced tomato sauce, boiled new potatoes, buttered asparagus, raw carrot sticks, radishes, California lemon pie, coffee, milk.

AUSTIN

The Women's Institute met with Mrs. Mitchell with an average attendance. Delegates were appointed to attend the county convention at Abercorn, in May. The June meeting will be with Mrs. Leonard Shuttleworth.

The Misses Mabel and Elsie Patterson, of Magog, and Mrs. Rudy Nelson, of Lennoxville, were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Rossell Jersey.

Mr. Rossell Jersey was in Montreal for two days.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross MacDonald, of Montreal, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bryant were tea guests of Mrs. John Patterson and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Patterson.

"MITCH" HUNT IS ON STAFF OF "PANORAMA"

Residents of the Boundary Communities will be interested in the recognition given to a Derby Line boy who is now a resident of Burlington.

Mitchell Hunt, son of the late Porter F. Hunt, and Mrs. Margaret Hunt, now resides with his mother and two brothers at their home on North Avenue, in Burlington. An ex-member of the United States Army, Mr. Hunt is now attending the University of Vermont. In the April 12-19 issue of the new little publication called "Panorama," dedicated to Burlingtonians and visitors, the following appears about "Mitch" as the magazine reviews its staff on its first anniversary: "A Vermont, town loose from the Green Mountains to serve five years in the army during the war, Mitch Hunt is now catching up on his interrupted education at the University of Vermont. Mitch graduated from Derby Academy, Derby, Vermont, in 1936, and Bay Path Institute, Springfield, Mass., in 1938.

"During the war he served as Intelligence and Public Relations Officer for the Air Transport Command in the United States, London and Paris.

"He is News Editor on the Vermont Cynic, Managing Editor of the newly-organized University Literary Magazine, and was recently elected a University of Vermont delegate to the World Student Organization which meets in Chicago this fall. He is a member of the Sigma Phi fraternity, the Green Mountain Club and the Chittenden County Fish and Game Club. He lives with his mother and two brothers in their new home on North Avenue. Mitch joined the staff of Panorama last September and serves as feature writer and Special Features Editor."

RAMBLING 'ROUND THE BORDER

Last Sunday morning, at the close of the regular service of worship at the Universalist Church in Derby Line, an outdoor gathering took place on the lawn of the church, marking the planting of two trees in memory of departed members of the congregation, long connected with church affairs and beloved by all, not only in the church but in the Boundary Communities as a whole.

One of the trees was planted in memory of Miss Charlotte Butterfield, in recognition of her lifelong interest and loyalty, while the second tree was planted to remember everlastingly a former minister, the Rev. E. L. Conklin, who officiated as pastor for 21 years in the Derby Line church.

Both of the remembered members of the congregation had taken special interest and pride in the lovely old shade tree which has stood so majestically on the church lawn for so many, many years, and with their help tree surgeons were often called upon to help maintain the life and growth of this splendid tree. It seems only fitting therefore that the two trees should have been planted to their memory on Sunday last.

Mrs. U. A. Lanoue, wife of the Rev. U. A. Lanoue, Newport minister, will be the guest speaker next Wednesday evening at the annual Mother and Daughter Banquet being held in the social rooms of the Stanstead South Church, at 6:45 p.m.

Stanstead's "old brick building," which has progressed from an old-time country store, to the home of three different banks at various periods of time, and in later years, the village post-office prior to the erection of the modern public building of today, finally to follow the trend of the times and become first a club-room and lastly, tenements, is now to become a church.

Erected by Ichabod Smith 123 years ago, which places this still imposing edifice at the century mark, the "old brick building" is now being renovated and refitted for religious purposes.

The property, which was transferred by deed on April 28th, is now in the hands of an amalgamation of evangelist operating under the name of the Evangelical Christian Assembly, its Sherbrooke department being more familiarly known as Grace Chapel, of which Dr. A. C. Hill is in charge.

Services will not be held in the rebuilt building until full possession is made.

HASKELL FREE LIBRARY HELD BUSY MEETING

Derby Line, May 7.—Members and the friends of the Library Committee met with the trustees of the Haskell Free Library to discuss various aspects of the local library situation. It was announced that Mrs. Patricia Carroll was leaving at the end of June, and that efforts were underway to secure a successor. Every effort will be made to secure a trained librarian, and it is hoped that one will be located early enough so that she can work with Mrs. Carroll for a time.

During the recent illness of Mrs. Carroll the library was kept open by various members of the friends of the Library Committee, including Miss Patti Foster, Miss Mariette Cabana, and Miss Elsie McIntosh. Dr. A. R. V. White said that this effort had done a great deal toward making the trustees realize the value of the community, and that the work this group was doing was a great help to the library.

Discussion was held regarding the safety of the Haskell Opera House, but it was felt that this was a question that did not come within the functions of the friends of the Library Committee. It was announced that the trustees had already spoken of the problem and that plans were underway looking toward some new exits from both the balcony and the main floor. It was also mentioned that at all recent events at the Opera House there had been a fireman in attendance, as a safety measure. The entrance to the Opera House is actually separate from the main building, and the wall would make this entrance almost fire-proof, the fire escape at the rear of the stage is a very good one, and there are fire-escapes at the west side of the building. The trustees do not regard these escapes as adequate, but feel that barring a panic there would be no need of a loss of life in case of fire in the building. In anticipation of increased future events in the Opera House, the trustees plan to carry this information. It was also reported that the number of books in circulation and the number of people who visited the library had greatly increased. The trustees of the library have definitely budgeted themselves for a deficit in an effort to increase the usefulness of the library, and it will be necessary to secure funds either from the village or from directly from the public. The village of Derby Line voted the sum of $200 to the library, and it is anticipated that the Municipality of Rock Island will do the same.

Mention was made of the Rotary Children's room, which is now in use, even though the furniture has not all been installed. New lights were installed, new drapes added, shelves were made and installed, and the room has tables and chairs for the use of the children. More than one hundred new books have been added and there is also a supply of the most popular magazines for boys and girls. Mrs. Carroll stated that the number of children using the room was constantly increasing, and that the circulation of children's books had increased many fold.

A number of books in French, for both grown-ups and children, have been added recently, and every effort is being made to increase this section of the library.

Guests registered at the Del Monty Hotel during the past few days have included: Mr. and Mrs. William Cross, of Jamaica Plains, Mass.; Mrs. Leslie Currie, of Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. N. Guilbert, of St. Hyacinthe; Mrs. Paul Zeb, of Buffalo, N.Y.; W. H. MacLean, who has arrived back for the summer after spending the winter months at West Palm Beach, Fla.; Philip Cote, of North Battleford, Sask.; Alphonse Credien and Frontiersman Andre Hebert, of St. Johns, Que.; and Ted Archer, of United Press-Photo Service.

Second Neon sign to be erected in the Boundary Communities was placed over the entrance to the modern new restaurant operated by Happy's Diner, on Saturday.

PREPARE FOR BUSY SEASON IN BALL LOOP

Softball fans and players, like baseball enthusiasts, are relearning their old nursery rhyme, and chanting "rain, rain, go away," as they line up their program and get set for action for the coming season. At the Boundary, a meeting of the Border Senior Softball League (1947) took place at the 74th Battery last week when team representatives met to line up their schedule and adopt various motions for the operation of the league.

This year, according to John Gilmore, recreational director of the Boundary Community Centre, there will be five teams in the Border Senior Softball League, with the schedule set to open on Friday May 9th.

Teams represented were Sacred Heart Club, by Francis Besette; Rock Island Town, by Paul Pricard; 74th Battery, by Henry Dewey; Beebe Town, by Pete McFarland, and Union (Butterfield), by John Sylvester.

The following referees were appointed to handle all League games: Pete MacFarland, Chris Robert, Rudy Miller, Walter Campbell and George Seguin.

All player lists must be submitted to the League secretary by their team representatives not later than May 18th. Lists shall be limited to 15 men, and any further registrations after May 18th must be made in writing to the League secretary and such applications must be considered and approved by a special meeting of team representatives.

Official Canadian Rule Book regulations will be followed for all games with the possible exceptions: 1st man softball to be played; each game to be 7 innings with five complete innings to be played to consider the match a full game; no baseball spikes to be worn by any player; no gloves to be used except by the catcher and 1st baseman; base runners to be allowed to advance only one base on overthrow over 1st, 3rd or home base; all postponed games to be played within 7 days of date of postponement; 1st half of schedule to be from May 9th to June 27th inclusive; and there shall be a meeting of team representatives on June 25th to decide last half of schedule; referees to turn in official score to League secretary after each game; all protested games to be decided by referees; representatives not involved in protest. Starting time of games to be 6:30 p.m.

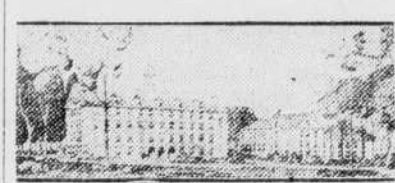

The schedule follows: May 9th and 28th, Sacred Heart-vs-Beebe at Beebe; Union-vs-74th Battery at Derby Line, May 14th and 30th, Rock Island-vs-Sacred Heart at Derby Line and Beebe; Union-vs-Beebe at Beebe, May 16th and June 4th, 74th Battery-vs-Beebe at Derby Line, and Union-vs-Rock Island at Stanstead, May 21 and June 6th, Rock Island-vs-Beebe at Derby Line, and Sacred Heart-vs-74th Battery at Stanstead, May 23rd and June 11th, Sacred Heart-vs-Union at Stanstead, and 74th Battery-vs-Rock Island at Derby Line, June 13th, Sacred Heart-vs-Beebe at Stanstead, and Union-vs-Beebe at Derby Line, June 20th, 74th Battery-vs-Beebe at Beebe and Union-vs-Rock Island at Derby Line, June 26th, Sacred Heart-vs-Union at Stanstead and Rock Island-vs-74th Battery at Derby Line.

The League secretary is John Gilmore, and the schedule calls for two games on each date of the first half of the season schedule. Starting time 6:30 p.m.

ren using the room was constantly increasing, and that the circulation of children's books had increased many fold.

A number of books in French, for both grown-ups and children, have been added recently, and every effort is being made to increase this section of the library.

COLLEGE COLUMN

On Thursday evening the College senior boys basketball team played in the College gymnasium against the Border All-Stars in the first game of the play-offs. The game resulted in a 39-20 victory for the visiting team.

On Saturday afternoon the staff of the Eastern Townships Conservatory of Music gave a recital in Montreal at Tudor Hall. The hall was filled almost to capacity, and the varied program was well received by an appreciative audience. Miss Ethel Nesbitt and Mrs. Barbara Martin played piano duets; Miss Elsie McFadden played some of her own compositions and Miss Gwen Hands gave several vocal solos. The program was brought to a close with the singing of the "Alma Mater."

On Saturday afternoon and evening the college students enjoyed a "Sadie Hawkins" party sponsored by the Athletic Association. Because of unfavorable weather, the softball games that had been planned were cancelled, and the party began in the gymnasium with unusual basketball games and mock wrestling matches. This part of the program was followed by a wiener roast and an informal dance. The party was a great success, and all students thoroughly enjoyed their day.

AYER'S CLIFF

Mrs. T. D. Sloggett and Mrs. Cecil Astbury, were joint hostesses one evening in honor of Mrs. Clifton Warner, who was taken by surprise, when she arrived home from Coaticook to find twenty-one of her friends assembled there. She was ushered to a chair decorated with pink and white streamers falling from the ceiling. Little Miss Ruby Keeler, of Granvilleville, were a floor length crepe paper dress trimmed with frills of pink and white, and the pink sash was tied in the front with white, and white slippers. At just the right moment she wheeled in a doll's carriage decorated with matching colors and loaded with many beautiful and useful gifts. Little Ruby assisted Mrs. Warner in unwrapping the gifts. After they had been admitted the guest of honor thanked her friends in a few well chosen words. The guests were then invited into the dining room, where they were seated at a large table covered with a white linen cloth, centred with a potted plant and white tapers in brass holders, tied with pink bows. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses and a pleasant hour was spent. Out of town guests were Mr. E. Robinson, Mrs. D. Ellingson and Mrs. Arlington Ayer, of Brown's Hill; Mrs. John Beamish, of Coaticook; Mrs. Stanley Keeler and little Miss Ruby, of Granvilleville; Mrs. Kenneth Bever, of Tomfobias; and Miss Constance Hopps, of Hatley.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kirby, of Magog, were supper guests of the latter's sister, Mrs. Eugene Lapointe, and Mr. Lapointe.

TALK IS GIVEN BY TEACHER AT SUTTON MEETING

Sutton, May 7.—The Home and School Club had a very interesting meeting at the High School. Miss May Hextall, the helping teacher, gave an interesting and instructive address on "Vocational Guidance."

She gave a report from the sub-committee on Vocational Guidance of which she is a member.

This sub-committee had contacted twenty-six High Schools and of them six High Schools were interested in vocational guidance.

Sutton High School being one of them. She outlined the things that can be done at present in this line.

Occupational information to students, this is being done in Sutton; 2. Movies from the Vocational Guidance Centre; 3. Booklets and leaflets available including a self inventory service and aptitude tests; 4. A vocational consulting service, which would have to be under a trained person; 5. Preparing a student for a chosen vocation. The last two can hardly be undertaken by a small High School.

Miss Hextall gave some helpful information on the teaching courses at Macdonald College and the Household Science course. She told the members of the bursaries and grants available, one bursary, a new one this year of $200, is offered by the Fisher Trust Fund to the pupil taking the highest marks in Home County in the school leaving examinations, who will promise to teach for three years in rural schools.

Miss Hextall was introduced by the president, Mrs. Clinton Hazard, and was thanked by Mr. H. F. Archibald on behalf of the club, who spoke of the time and work Miss Hextall had put into preparing her address and amazing the information it contained.

A musical quiz was held by Miss Madeline Miltimore, and Miss Gertrude Dudley, which was very amusing. Mrs. A. A. Thompson was the winner of a box of soap flakes.

Mrs. Cecil Carr gave a report on the speakers, who had addressed the pupils on their particular careers and a hearty vote of thanks was tendered to these people. Owing to the lateness of the season, the approaching examinations there will be no more speakers for this season.

The speakers were as follows: Dr. D. Gruer, Vet-surgeon; Rev. H. L. Davey, medical missionary; Miss Gertrude Gingsas, "Music As A Career"; Mr. F. Sutcliffe, "Business Owner"; Mrs. F. Sutcliffe, Registered Nurse; Miss May Hextall, "Teaching"; Dr. E. Gatenby, Dentist and Dental Assistant; and Mrs. Saunderson, "Handicrafts as a Career."

A JOINT W. A. MEETING

The three senior groups of the Women's Auxiliary of Grace Anglican Church held a joint meeting in the Parish Hall. The president, Mrs. H. Charters, was in the chair and the meeting opened with a missionary hymn and prayer especially remembering absent and sick members.

Mrs. A. H. Miller was at the piano for the hymns and also accompanied Mrs. Arthur Darrah and Miss Barbara Olmstead who sang two solos and a duet, which were very much enjoyed.

Miss M. E. Webb read a special letter in connection with the United Thank-Offering, for May and also a letter from the Dorcas secretary detailing things needed in the north for hospitals and schools. An assurance was also read from the April notes describing the life of a missionary in the Arctic.

The members brought articles for a bazaar including new and used clothing, infants' wear, hospital supplies, gifts and there were six quilts and a fine blanket made of wool pieces. These were prepared for shipment by Mrs. F. A. Olmstead assisted by Mrs. Albert Brown and Mrs. Hazard. There were thirty members present.

The hostesses for the tea were Mrs. H. E. Eastman, Mrs. W. E. Dow, Mrs. Edith Walker and Mrs. Tessa O'Regan. This was the third springtime joint meeting.

Holstein - Friesian Group Held Important Session At Richmond

Richmond, May 7.—A county meeting sponsored by the St. Francis District Holstein-Friesian Club was held here with a view to acquainting breeders of the district with the new rules and regulations of the parent association. Past President E. E. Richmond, of South Durham, was in the chair.

Necessity of increasing pasture fields was emphasized during the meeting by Leon Beaudin, local agronomer, who spoke in French and English. Commercial fertilizer known as 0-14-7 was recommended for fall spreading, while application of 100 pounds of manure of potash in the spring was advised in cases where clover was to be found.

Buildings were recommended to level bumps in rough pastures, part of the cost being borne by the Provincial Government. Pasture mixtures to be used were those stipulated by the Provincial Pasture Committee.

Rules pertaining to pasture breeding were reviewed by H. Lajoie, secretary-treasurer of the Quebec Branch of the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada. Any breeder who has already had his herd classified may have his two-year-old heifers and young bull graded by applying to the head office at Brantford. A fee of $4 must accompany the application.

This year each club must have a minimum enrolment of 100 members if it is to receive a maximum grant of $50. All veterans who are Holstein breeders are allowed to join their local clubs free of charge.

Mr. Marcoux, federal livestock field man for the district, asked those present to assist boys and girls in the Calf Club work. Naming of leaders for this work was also requested of the club.

Brief addresses by W. S. Richardson, of the Dominion Experimental Farm, Lennoxville, and H. Lajoie, secretary of the Quebec branch of the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada, featured a

TEACHERS IN ANNUAL RALLY AT ASBESTOS

Asbestos, May 7.—The fourth annual meeting of the St. Francis Valley Teachers' Association was held at Asbestos High School on April 25. The business session was opened at 5 p.m. with the president, Mr. Ian Hume, B.A., in the chair.

Mr. Hutchison, convener of the athletic committee, reported on the Hockey and Badminton season and plans for the Spring Track Meet were discussed. The donation of two trophies for Track and Field competition by the Canada Paper Company of Windsor, and the Denison Company, of Drummondville, was acknowledged. Asbestos High School will be host to the May Track Meet.

Miss Montgomery presented the treasurer's report. The debating committee reported on the final debate won by Drummondville school. Supper was served by the girls of the Household Science Department, of the Asbestos High School, under the supervision of Miss Ross.

When the meeting reconvened the nominating committee presented the slate of officers for 1947-48 as follows: President, Mr. Ian Hume; vice-president, Miss MacFarlane; secretary, Miss Ross; treasurer, Miss Nicholson; sports convener, Mr. Rothney; P.A.P.T. representatives, Miss Welsh and Mrs. Andrews.

Recommendations in the report of the program committee presented by Miss Ross, were considered by the Association. Mr. Sutherland distributed copies of the experimental course in "Citizenship," which his committee had prepared.

As chairman of the salary scales committee, Mr. Hume reported on negotiations with the Central Board. Miss Noble read an interesting report on remedial reading. It was resolved that research should continue in that field. The 1947 Education Week was discussed and a committee appointed to plan for publicity.

Following the close of the business session Mr. Annett spoke on the topic of "Vocational Guidance." Pointing out that for the majority of people the making of a life and the making of a living were inseparable, Mr. Annett developed the definition of vocational guidance as "the process of assisting the individual to choose, prepare for, enter upon and progress in an occupation." Tracing the nature, the need and the services involved in a guidance program, the speaker asked the interest and co-operation of Association members in the projected program of guidance in the schools.

General Notes
Mrs. Henshall spent two days with Mr. and Mrs. Elton Webb during her stay in Asbestos, and while there Mrs. Webb entertained twelve of Mrs. Henshall's old friends and neighbors one evening.

Mrs. A. R. Ross and Mrs. Eric Morrison motored to Cowansville to attend a Presbyterian meeting. Friends of Miss Irene McKeown are sorry to hear that she is under the doctor's care.

Mrs. Henshall has returned to her home in Montreal, after spending three weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Nigel Gray-Donald and visiting other friends.

Mrs. Reilly has returned from Montreal, where she has been taking treatment in a hospital.

William Henshall spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell and family, Belvidere Street, before leaving for Los Angeles, Calif., and Vancouver, B.C.

Rev. Mr. Ross attended a Ministerial Association meeting in Ulverton.

Mr. and Mrs. Nigel Gray-Donald, Mrs. E. C. MacGonigal and Miss Lillian MacGonigal motored to Sherbrooke.

BISHOPTON
Mrs. B. Kemp, of Melrose, Mass., Miss Fannie Knapp and Mr. Gordon Knapp, of Sherbrooke, were the guests of friends and relatives here.

Miss Ruby E. Perkins, of Coaticook, spent the week-end at her home here.

Mrs. H. E. Perkins and Mrs. Guy C. Robinson were in Richmond to attend the auction sale of Mr. Wilfrid Gordon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Beauchamp, of Arnprior, Ont., are the guests of their daughter, Mrs. Paul Proulx, and Mr. Proulx.

The Ladies' Aid of Christ Church, increased from $1 to $1.50, this being done to cover the cost of rising salaries and to provide for a reserve for the Extension Service.

It was pointed out that the Canadian Holstein-Friesian Association is the only one of its kind recognized all over the world. More attention to the practicing of R. and P. was also urged on farmers of the Province of Quebec.

Importance of herd sires was stressed by the speaker, who stated that artificial insemination seemed to be the logical solution to the problem of producing high-quality stock. Centres were said to have been organized in other areas and a similar step was seen possible for the Eastern Townships.

Following Mr. Lajoie's remarks, a discussion took place, this featuring a report by W. G. MacDougall to the effect that accommodations would be improved this year at the Sherbrooke Fair. An increase in prize money was seen possible.

Clean-Up Week To Be Launched In Richmond - Melbourne Area

Under the theme of the national slogan "Beautify Canada by Beautifying Our Community," Richmond and Melbourne will undertake a vast Clean-Up Week program next week, sponsored by the Richmond-Melbourne Board of Trade, with the assistance of the Junior Board of Trade and strongly supported by the Municipal Councils.

From May 11 to 17 inclusive, the communities will receive a complete rejuvenation in keeping with the week's 4-point program motto, "Clean-Up," "Paint-Up," "Plant-Up" and "Light-Up."

Completely circularized with one of the heaviest and most intensive literature distributions ever effected for such an event, the communities will undertake their part in helping to "Beautify Canada by Beautifying Our Community."

Every school child will receive a special checking card to be filled in at home, indicating the enforcement and co-operation of the four-point program of the week. Marks will indicate that (1) we have cleaned up our back yard, front yard, vacant lot, basement, attic, porch, garage, electric closets, lighting fixtures and lamps, furnace and lawn; (2) we have painted our house, porch or stairs, walls or woodwork, floors (or varnished), fences, out-buildings, screens, roofs, walls (painted, kalsomined), walls, (cleaned), cellars (or whitewashed), furniture, house gutters (or cleaned); (3) we have planted and beautified: flower boxes, flower boxes, flower garden, vegetable garden, grass seed, shrubbery, trees, rock garden, removed rubbish piles, metal refuse containers, trimmed trees and removed dead trees and stumps; (4) we have destroyed insect pests, destroyed porches and steps, repaired screens, removed old signs, replaced electric light bulbs, provided metal refuse cans, emptied ash cans, sold junk or paper (amount), repaired side-walks, repaired water faucet leaks, and repaired roofs. The cards carry the week's slogans in picture form, and are bilingual.

In addition to the house-by-house canvass covered by the school children, Richmond and Melbourne will also be covered with special book and envelope stickers in semblance of a small slate, bearing the four-point motto of the week, transparent window and windshield transfers bearing the slogan "Clean-Up... Paint-Up... Plant-Up... and large store window posters in full color also with the slogan and motto of the Clean-Up Week program.

Effecting the distribution of the literature, in co-operation with members of the Senior and Junior Trade Boards, are Chief of Police, Joffre L'Heureux and members of the Department. The full co-operation of the citizenry is anticipated.

RICHMOND

Mr. William Lang, of Toronto, Ont., presented very interesting slides on the "Game Trail of Ontario" and also scenes from Lower Quebec and the Lake St. John District. These pictures were shown in the Town Hall during the week and in the Parish Hall of St. Ann's Church on Sunday evening. They were of special interest to the members of that Church as Rev. George Harrington, the rector, was pictured doing missionary work among the Indians at Pointe Bleue.

Canadian Movies Interest Aussies

Sydney Australia, May 7.—Canadian documentary films shown to Australians attending Sydney's 10-day Royal Easter Show were favorably received.

The film programs, staged every four, covered every phase of Canadian life—agriculture, social planning, industry, education, sport, history, art and music.

Films portraying Eskimo and Indian life seemed to be the most popular. People leaned forward in their seats and gasped as they watched Eskimos eating raw fish or Indian women carrying papooses.

Every session saw all seats filled, with additional people standing around the walls of the basement room of a big show-ground building containing the Empire display.

At the end of each screening a few Australians hunted up Canadians who were on hand and quizzed them about Canada. Many of the inquiries were from mothers whose sons trained in Canada under the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan. Farmers asked questions about the number of Canadian farms with electricity and Canada's wheat acreage.

Some inquired about working conditions in Canada and one trained nurse asked if she could carry on her work in Canada if she visited Australia's sister dominion.

But Australians weren't the only ones asking questions. Practically every session at least one Canadian, now a resident of Australia, approached Canadian film people to talk of the homeland. Some of these Canadians had been in Australia only a year, others had come out before the First World War.

One woman of uncertain age indicated her disapproval of the Canadian accent by remarking to a film attendant: "My dear, you must try to learn the English language while you are in this country."

It is estimated at least 11,000 Australians saw the Canadian documentary films and the majority expressed interest and approval.

Mrs. C. R. Stewart is spending several days in Montreal with her son, Mr. Cecil Dyson, and Mr. Dyson.

Miss Annie Frazer, of Montreal, attended the meeting of Confederation Chapter, O.E.S., real, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. McMorine, Dufferin Ave., nue.

Calgary On Brink Of Elimination In Tonight's Cup Final With Royals

Toronto, May 7.—(C)—Montreal Royals had all the edge on Calgary Stampede as the two great senior amateur teams prepared for tonight's fifth game of the best-of-seven series for the Allan Cup and the Canadian Senior Hockey title. Montreal leads by 3-1, needing only one more victory to wrest the title from the Westerners.

Fireman Casey Proving First-Class Relief Hurler For Brooklyn Dodgers

John McGraw always maintained that one of the prime requisites of a championship club was a first-class relief pitcher. Following the logic of the immortal leader of the New York Giants, Brooklyn Dodgers already should have one on the National League flag. For where is there a better "fireman" than huge Hugh Casey of the Brooklyn?

A check the last few years bears out McGraw's theory. Only last year, the World Championship St. Louis Cardinals boasted a pretty fair relief chucker in stumpy Ted Wilks who went through the season unbeaten, registering eight triumphs in relief.

Fireman Howard Kist won 14 and 13 games, respectively, for Cards in their third pennant-winning years of '42 and '43. In '41 Brooks won their first flag in 21 years because of the fine emergency work of Casey who won 14 close, in contrast to their usual wide-open style, Calgary won. But the Westerners are sold on the attacking game and were expected to play that way tonight. Manager Jack Arbour of the Calgary squad says that's the style they're accustomed to and that they're not going to change when the chips are down.

Montreal won the first game 7-3. Calgary took the second by 2-1. Montreal took the third by 7-0 and the fourth, a fight from start to finish, 4-3.

Both teams have been having workouts on the Maple Leaf Gardens ice since the game there last Saturday night. The Calgary squad was at full strength but on Royals lineup Cliff Malone was a doubtful starter after an old back injury was aggravated by crashing into the boards.

The only time in this final series when Calgary played it close, in contrast to their usual wide-open style, Calgary won. But the Westerners are sold on the attacking game and were expected to play that way tonight.

Of Dodgers' first 13 games this season, Casey has appeared in seven. Four of them he saved for others and twice he was rewarded with victory.

His latest win came yesterday at Ebbets Field when he took over mound duties in the seventh inning and held Cardinals scoreless in the three remaining frames to emerge with a 7-6 triumph.

Chicago and Boston moved into a tie for second place, two games behind Brooks when Cubs squeezed through with a 3-2 victory over Phillies in Philadelphia and Braves made their home night inaugural success by blanking Pittsburgh Pirates 6-0.

Cubs had to come from behind with two runs in the seventh to win, while Braves, behind the four-hit pitching of Johnny Sain, won in easy fashion. Kirby Higbe was the starting and losing pitcher for Pittsburgh who dropped from second to fourth place.

Cincinnati won its first victory in the current eastern swing by trouncing Giants at New York 11-6. Although forced to seek relief in the eighth, veteran Bucky Walters registered his 192 big league mound victory and his second without a defeat this season.

Chicago White Sox saw the American League lead shrink to a half game when they dropped a 3-0 game to Philadelphia Athletics while Tigers were shading New York Yankees in Detroit 3-2.

Bill Dietrich, veteran right-hander who was released unconditionally by White Sox last winter, gained revenge on his former mates by limiting them to five hits in winning his second game.

STURDY CHAIN LEADS IN "Y" BOWLING FINAL

Sturdy Chain laced Commandos 3,627 points to 3,075 Monday night in the initial encounter of a two-game, total points playoff for the championship of the Y.M.C.A. Five Pin Bowling League.

The teams will go to it again tonight in the final and deciding contest of the series. The game will also officially be the last tilt of the playoffs and of the "Y" bowling season.

Sturdy Chain got away to a flying start in the game Monday night. All but one of the Chainmen rolled anywhere from 204 to 236 in the first string to give Sturdy Chain 1,298 to Commandos' 1,079. After that they maintained some semblance of the attack in spite of a general decline in point output on both sides as the game went on. The pace was enough to give them a 562-point lead at the end of the three strings.

Outstanding for Sturdy Chain were Wyatt Johnson, who bowled high string of 336, and B. Hopcraft, who rolled 313 in one frame and high three of 784.

A. Dube was the best of the Commandos with 266 in one frame and 683 in all three.

Sturdy Chain's 562-point lead is the biggest opening game lead of any series in the current "Y" playoffs, according to playoff statistics.

The following are the teams and detailed scores:

STURDY CHAIN
M. Farrell	287	236	290—690
R. Ainslie	204	213	258—675
D. Spalding	292	230	240—762
B. Hopcraft	179	316	289—784
W. Johnson	336	199	178—713
Totals	1298	1164	1105-3927

COMMANDOS
F. Caunter	225	165	178—568
E. McGee	241	207	227—675
L. Cote	160	231	217—608
A. Dube	266	197	220—683
R. Morin	187	225	159—561
Totals	1079	1036	961-3075

For 13 hits, Tigers had to score single runs in their last three innings to win. A homer by Little Edie Lake in the eighth settled the issue.

Big Ted Williams rang a merry tune ringing out two homers and a single to lead Boston Red Sox to a 6-5 11-inning triumph over Browns in St. Louis. After tying the score in the ninth with his first circuit clout, Ted waloped another with two men on base in the 11th to offset a two-run uprising by Browns in their half.

Washington and Cleveland were not scheduled.

Bernborough's Injury Was Neglected; CLAYBOURNE TO OPPOSE CORTEZ IN MAIN BOUT

Bernborough... broke down after carrying 150 pounds in Australia's Caulfield Cup.

New York, May 7.—(C)—Standing in his stall on Spendthrift Farm, hard by Lexington, Ky., Bernborough is reminded of Phar Lap in more ways than one. He is as big as Phar Lap—17 hands, one inch—and narrowly missed the tragic ending of his illustrious predecessor.

Although Phar Lap died almost 20 years ago, Australians still speak of him in hushed tones. Many in the land down under implicitly suspect he met with foul play.

Phar Lap, a national idol in his native land, was shipped to this country for the $100,000 Agua Caliente Handicap, won it laughing with the speed of a prairie wind to take his place among the world's top money winners.

Phar Lap, the picture horse, was headed east to tackle America's handicap starts when in northern California he was poisoned, fatally while grazing on sprayed grass.

Bernborough, Phar Lap's modern counterpart in Australia, has a phenomenal winning streak, and was also headed this way for meetings with Armed, Assault, Styxie and other big shots when he was asked to carry the impossible burden of 150 pounds in the 12-furlong Caulfield Cup at Flemington.

And Calumet Farm had Armed in the Widener and Santa Anita Handicaps at a measly 129.

The real reason for the Bernborough's breakdown, reports Maguire, "was his owner's selfish action in running him in the Caulfield Cup under such a tremendous load. The Caulfield Cup is one of the hardest races to win on the Australian calendar. It is a sprint for the first six furlongs for position, and a sprint home over the final six. To have any chance a horse must be in the first half-dozen at the halfway mark."

Bernborough's chance of carrying 150 pounds under these circumstances can well be imagined. The first half-mile took 47.4 seconds, and though the last mile was run in the very slow time of 1:43, Bernborough still could not get closer than within four lengths of the winner, Royal Gem.

The time, 2:30.4, was slow compared with previous years, 2:28 or 2:29 being the usual time.

That the effort to carry such weight over 12 furlongs was terrific was well shown by the champion's distress after the race. If his trainer had been planning the horse's program, the Caulfield Cup would have been left out.

Knowledgeable racing men had no hope from the time his weight became known.

How much the race took out of him was shown the following Saturday, when he broke down badly in the L. K. S. MacKinnon stakes when meeting the fine mare, Flight.

Knowing of the accident, Jerry G. Mayer paid A. O. Romano, Sidney night club proprietor and a Johnny-concomitantly in racing, $100,000 for Bernborough for stud purposes. That was before Jerry G.'s brother, movie magnet Louis B., decided to dispose of his stock and farm.

When Bernborough arrived in southern California, Mayer and veterinarians were amazed that, for some totally inexcusable and inexplicable reason, his chipped sesamoid bone had been neglected for four months.

For a spell it was feared Bernborough would be of no use even as a stallion, but, leased to Leslie Combs 2nd for three years, skilled attention saved him.

Like Phar Lap, Bernborough was denied the opportunity of tackling American stickouts.

But, unlike Phar Lap, this great Australian at least has the chance to produce his kind.

Barbara Scott Willing To Return Car That Endangers Her Standing

Montreal, May 7.—(C)—Barbara Ann Scott may be able to keep her sleek canary-colored convertible automobile given her by her native City of Ottawa after she won the world figure skating championship, but a statement last night by Avery Brundage, president of the United States Olympic Games Committee, only added to the general confusion.

Brundage, the man who started it all, said in Santa Barbara, Calif., there might be "extenuating circumstances" which would clear whether it was all right for her to keep the car, or whether her announced intention of returning the car to the donors would allow her to retain her amateur status.

The part that puzzled most people was that first Barbara Ann was told by amateur authorities when the car was presented on her return from Stockholm it was all right to accept the gift and now Brundage fails to explain if she would be allowed to keep the car or just be allowed to compete in the Olympics because the car was returned.

Said Brundage: "My personal opinion would be that if the girl accepted the car after being told that it would be all right—and I have heard that she was given this advice by a competent authority—such an extenuating circumstance might clear up the matter."

He gave the opinion after being told Barbara Ann's mother, Mrs. Clyde Scott, had announced the car would be returned to the donating city so her pretty 18-year-old daughter would not be ruled ineligible for the 1948 Olympic Games.

Whether Barbara Ann keeps the car will depend on the ruling of J. S. Edstrom, president of the International Olympic Committee at Stockholm, who requested the Canadian Olympic Association to forward a report on the matter. Brundage had filed his objection to the skater accepting the gift with the president of the international body.

A statement by the Canadian Olympic Association after a closed meeting here yesterday expressed anxiety "to protect the eligibility" of Barbara Ann for the 1948 Olympic "and also her amateur status." The committee had sent "a complete report" to President Edstrom.

Mayor Stanley Lewis of Ottawa and other capital city sportsmen were sharp in their criticism of Brundage's action of bringing Barbara Ann's acceptance of the car to the attention of the International Committee.

Mayor Lewis said the incident "represents a new low in sport" and the City of Ottawa would accept "with deep regret" the return of the automobile.

"The Dominion government should take some action on this," he added.

At London, in confirming the car would be returned to the donors, Barbara Ann said, "It would be selfish of me to keep the car and lose a chance to bring honor to Canada at the Olympic Games."

The skater said earlier she thought the "Americans want to get rid of me for the Olympics," while her mother charged the American Olympic Committee was "trying to oust" her daughter from the Olympics in order to enhance the chances of Gretchen Merrill of Boston, who placed third to

BARBARA ANN SCOTT

Barbara Ann in the world championships at Stockholm.

A new angle was introduced by C. H. Cumming, past president of Ottawa's Minto Skating Club, who said if Barbara Ann were declared a professional because she accepted the car, all amateur skaters who competed against her at the North American championships in Ottawa recently also would lose their amateur standing and therefore be barred from the Olympics.

He explained that under the amateur code any amateur contestant who entered into competition with or against a professional can lose his or her amateur standing.

5TH SHERBROOKE TROOP

The regular meeting of the Fifth Sherbrooke Troop was held with an attendance of thirty-four Scouts and four leaders. The meeting opened with flagbreak and inspection followed by a game called "Poison Circle." Instruction again this week was under the patrol planning and a special allotment of points for the best planned week by the Fox Patrol under Patrol Leader Kent Smith. This patrol also won the total points for the evening.

The instruction was as follows:

Foxes compass; Lions compass; Beavers knotting; Wolves 2nd class signalling; Antelopes outdoor observation; and the Sea Scouts seamanship. Another game, under A.S.M. Thibault followed then the troop prepared for campfire. This was under the direction of Sea Scout Skipper Eric Sharpe. The feature of the campfire and of the evening was the presentation of a first aid stretcher to the troop from the St. John Ambulance Brigade, represented by District Officer J. M. Rennie, of Sub District No. 5, and R. T. Hartley. Mr. Rennie in presenting the stretcher, said that he was very gratified to know that the 5th Troop Scouts had come through the recent first aid course with flying colors. Skipper Turner expressed the thanks of the troop to Mr. Rennie for the generous gift.

Boxing has become popular with the 5th Troop now and the following matches were run off: Robert Bayley won over J. Embault; E. Travitsky won over Mac Coates; Don Force won over Barry Holt. The final bout was won by John Turnbull who fought against Don Hall. The referee was E. Sharpe, timekeeper D. Varney, and judge L. Thibault.

The 5th Troop wish to extend their grateful thanks to the Mother's Club for the donation of two new wall tents.

The troop held a hike to the old Linx Lair two weeks ago.

Sea Scout Barry Holt passed his 1st class cooking and Hugh Wright Grayden Woollerton and Billy Edgecombe passed their 2nd class cooking.

PARENTS' NIGHT AT ST. PAT'S

The 10th Sherbrooke St. Pat's Troop held a Parents' Night on Friday with both troop and pack present. The meeting began with flagbreak and inspection which was taken by the Assistant District Commissioner and the District Scoutmaster. This was followed by a coming up ceremony in which Cub Hector Hebert was welcomed into the troop and into the Beaver patrol under Patrol Leader H. Lecours. Several games followed then the troop put on a display of Scout badge work. The Fox Patrol did signalling, the Beavers first aid and the Wolves knots. The displays were judged by the D.S.M. and the A.D.C. An investiture also took place and recruits St. Pierre and Pidgeon were duly invested into the troop, St. Pierre going into the Foxes and Pidgeon into the Wolves. Prizes donated by the Ladies' Auxiliary were awarded to the Fox Patrol, winners of the Scout competition. Other badges were awarded to Scouts Goyette and Patton. The Troop Leader and Patrol Leaders all received a whistle and lanyard for their good work in the past.

Rev. Father Tierney, troop chaplain, addressed the Scouts telling them that Scouting would make them honest citizens.

The A.D.C. E. E. O'Byrne and the D.S.M. Douglas Racey, also addressed the meeting. Afterwards the Ladies' Auxiliary served refreshments for which the troop and pack wish to tender their sincere appreciation. A meeting of the group committee was held after the troop ceremony was over.

5th Troop Mothers Meet

The Mothers' Club of the 5th Sherbrooke Troop held a well-attended meeting at the home of Mrs. C. H. Pearson, Montreal Road. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted, and the treasurer's report was read and approved. Wool was distributed to the members to be used for mittens for needy children receiving boxes from the Boy Scouts this year at Christmas. The next meeting will take place at the home of Mrs. M. Smith, 80 Montreal Street.

SCOTSTOWN

The social committee of the Ladies' Circle of St. Paul's Presby. Church, with Mrs. F. C. Goodin, convenor and director, put on an evening of entertainment in the Town Hall in the form of wrong. "Bringing Up Junior," a three comedy plays and a musical drill in waltz time. These plays and drills presented to a large and enthusiastic audience were praised for their numbers. Each character was impersonated with grace and humor. Noteworthy features of the evening's entertainment were the piano selections between the acts, by Mr. Leonard MacIver, of Sherbrooke, who has been a prominent musical figure in Scotstown, since his school days, and his contribution to the program greatly enhanced the enjoyment of those present. A sparkling comedy on "Child Psychology" opened the program, with Mrs. Philip Boy taking the part of an enthusiastic student of child psychology, playing the role with confidence and determination, until her friends, whom she was trying to impress, turn the tables and prove beyond doubt, that her methods were wrong. The role of friends was taken by Mrs. K. R. MacLeod, Mrs. Clifford MacDonald, Mrs. Harvey MacRae, in a very clever and witty treatment of reform, with Smithy Chapman, Heather Mac-for a housekeeper. The applicants were taken by Miss Anne MacLeod, as Olga, from the Volga, Mrs. Sweetly, taken with grace and versatility by Miss Dorothy MacLeod, while Smithy Chapman posed as Mrs. Sweetly's spoiled child. Gertrude Brass, a flashy and flip character was taken by Ann Goodin in a hilarious dance number; Mrs. Boggins, a deaf, elderly lady, was very amusingly impersonated by Mrs. E. M. Smith; Gladys Charming was gracefully taken by Miss Iris MacLeod. Several piano selections were well rendered by Miss Lois Mackenzie, and received enthusiastic applause. The closing feature, a highlight of the program, was a "Musical Drill" in waltz time, to the accompaniment, "The Blue Danube Waltz" played by Mr. Leonard MacIver. This performance was beautifully executed with accuracy and graceful rhythm, the routine being effectively carried, showing co-operation in practice. The participants, costumed in white, floor-length gowns, appliqued in silver with silver girdles and headpieces, and carrying bouquets of blue and silver were the Misses Iris MacLeod and Ann Goodin, leaders; Miriam MacRae, Kay MacLeod, Alberta MacLeod, Renalda Coates, Norma Nicholson and Marilyn Goodin. Mayor A. M. MacKenzie acted as chairman for the affair.

sons, Wayne and Keith, were weekend visitors of Mrs. Joliffe's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel MacLean. Mrs. D. B. MacAulay, who was a guest of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil MacAulay, has returned to her home in Knowlton.
