Three Boys Build Own Model Railroad

With painstaking care and considerable ingenuity, three boys, Douglas and Roger Ackman, sons of Dr. and Mrs. F. D. Ackman, 4690 Westmount Avenue, and Robert Hindle, 3471 Hingston Avenue, have assembled a model railroad in the basement recreation room of the home of the Ackman boys which they have labelled the D.R. and R., the initials standing for the first names of the three teen-age engineers. Working with amazing efficiency, the model set-up has everything that could be desired for such a project in miniature and the boys may well be proud of their proven ability as construction experts. The Ackman family formerly lived at 3773 Hampton Avenue and at that time the three boys, close friends, also assembled a less ambitious railroad while young Doug Ackman also had a hobby of expertly making trout flies. Left to right are Douglas, Robert and Roger.

Alderman R. Panet-Raymond's Plea for Better Bus Service, Results In Much Needed Improvement

Alderman R. Panet-Raymond submits the following letter addressed to The Examiner with attached copy of a letter to Mr. Panet-Raymond from Guy Gauvreau, executive assistant of the Montreal Tramways Company.

The Westmount alderman had complained to the Tramways Company regarding the poor service being given. It will be noted that Brigadier Gauvreau puts the blame for most of the trouble experienced by Westmounters in getting downtown in the mornings to the traffic jams occasioned by various causes in our congested streets.

Herewith Alderman R. Panet-Raymond's letter:

Stuart Richardson On English Inns

Stuart Richardson, Public Relations Officer of the Northern Electric Company, will be the speaker at the Dickens Fellowship meeting at Victoria Hall, Westmount, on Tuesday evening.

Mr. Richardson, who is noted for his wit and humour, will speak on the "English Inns of Dickens's Time", and his lecture is certain to prove of a Dickensian nature, it is announced.

The evening will be rounded off with vocal selections and a dramatic sketch.

Anson Walker, president, will be in the chair.

The Editor,
Examiner.
Dear Sir,

I thought you would be interested to read the letter received from the Montreal Tramways Company, concerning the service given to Westmount people who are regular passengers in their buses, covering Sherbrooke Street West, between 8.00 and 9.00 a.m.

This letter is in answer to my complaints made in respect to the poor service we were receiving sometime ago. As many Westmount residents have also had reasons to complain for the same lack of service you might wish to publish in whole or in part the enclosed letter. It might indeed be a good idea to reproduce the salient points of this letter showing our Westmounters the laudable efforts

John Smithers In Shoe Business For Sixty Years

John Smithers, St. Catherine street west near Greene avenue, will celebrate 60 years in his footwear business Tuesday, still active in the store. A clerk and messenger boy in his youth for A. M. Featherstone and Co., Mr. Smithers opened his own store on Greene avenue January 10, 1890, turning the corner the following year to St. Catherine street.

He remembers that at that time the old horse cars came only as far as Atwater, and to Greene in winter. The only neighboring buildings were the corner post office and a few homes. Besides the usual shoes, he carried bicycle

Supreme Court's Decision Could Embarrass Abbott

The New Lease as provided by the Rentals Administration on the form issued by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board under the provisions of Section 5 (1) of Order No. 813 of the Board may not be valid.

This was probably the most startling piece of information emanating from the meeting on Thursday between the Hon. D. C. Abbott, finance minister and member for St. Antoine Westmount, and a delegation from the Emergency Council on Rent Control, which included representatives from the Canadian Legion, Montreal Trades and Labor Council (A.F. of L.), Montreal Labor Council (C.C.L.), Montreal Tenants League, Canadian Women's Voters' League, Next of Kin Association, the Outrigger Tenants' League, and the Notre Dame de Grace Community Association. The delegation claimed to represent some 300,000 tenants.

Mr. Abbott was asked point blank whether the lease now being offered to tenants by landlords would be valid if the Supreme Court ruled that the wartime leasehold regulations exercised by the Federal Government are ultra vires.

The minister came out with a statement to the effect that the lease would be valid as it has been entered into in good faith by both parties, the tenant and the landlord, and that in his opinion would hold.

Lawyers Differ

Mr. Abbott's statement was immediately challenged by several lawyers in the delegation, who had grave doubts that the lease would be valid. Since the meeting, quite a number of lawyers have expressed opinions contrary to that, given by the Minister of Finance.

They point out that if Chief Justice Rinfret should rule that the Federal Government had no right in the rental field that any agreement or lease entered into by virtue of the rights assumed might not stand up if challenged in a court of law. In other words if the Federal Government were illegally in the field of rental control, then any act committed by them in connection therewith, might be set aside.

It will be recalled that Premier Duplessis gave as one of his reasons for not taking over rental control, the fear that the Province might be sued for damages by the contracting parties.

The wording of the question submitted to the Supreme Court, according to the Canada Gazette is as follows:

"Are the wartime leasehold regulations ultra vires in whole or in part, and if so, in what particulars or to what extent?"

Government May Appeal Decision

Later on in the interview, Mr. Abbott stated, that if the decision went against the Government, that it probably might be appealed. The appeal would be dealt with by the Privy Council, since the two orders 813 and 814 had been passed prior to the Act abolishing appeals to the Privy Council having been given Royal Assent. The minister inferred that ap-

George Marler Issues New Year Message

George C. Marler, Quebec Liberal Leader and member for Westmount St. George, in the Quebec House in a year and message said his wish for the New Year was collaboration between all classes of society in a spirit of justice in charity to insure the prosperity and greatness of our country.

"As a whole the year just ended has been fruitful for Canadians, and particularly for the citizens of the Province of Quebec" Mr. Marler said.

In our province, providence has distributed its gifts generously, thanks to their intelligent work our farmers have reaped abundant harvests, our industrialists and tradesmen have worked to increase our industrial production and better our trade.

While certain people in the world were reduced to slavery, the Canadian people continued to progress in liberty" Mr. Marler stated.

Westmount Artist Holds Exhibition

Le Cercle Universitaire, 515 Sherbrooke street east, will present the paintings of Francoise Pagnuelo beginning tomorrow evening at nine o'clock and continuing for two weeks.

Miss Pagnuelo, who resides at 26 Arlington avenue, Westmount, has offered 67 paintings, including landscapes and seascapes of the United States, Gaspe region, Laurentians, and Montreal.

WESTMT ART ASSOC'N TO MEET ON TUESDAY

The Westmount Art group get together again on Tuesday evening, January 10, in the Art Room of the Junior High School.

Some very good films on Canadian painters and techniques have been procured together with another interesting model. Anyone wishing to join this hard-working organization should make application soon.

Boy Scouts To Campaign In February For $91,000

At the luncheon meeting of the Executive Committee of the Montreal District Boy Scouts Association held on Wednesday, it was officially announced by Earle T. Moore, the President, that the local Scout association would hold a financial campaign from the 6th to 22nd February in an endeavour to obtain the funds necessary to cover the budget of the Association for this year, namely, $91,000.

The dates selected cover the period when Scout district associations in many cities and towns throughout the Province of Quebec, and in fact in every province in the Dominion, will be holding similar campaigns to raise funds for their 1950 needs.

Dominion Douglas Choir Entertains Patients

The choir of the Dominion-Douglas United Church, Westmount boulevard, under Director of Music John Robb, took time out from their many engagements to entertain the patients in the Neurological Institute on Thursday.

Patients and nursing staff greatly enjoyed the singing of this fine choir and they were warmly thanked for their kindness in visiting the hospital.

peals of this nature take considerable time, and in all likelihood the term of the lease might expire before a decision would be handed down.

Confusion seems to follow confusion in the matter of rental controls.

The Minister made it quite clear to the delegation that he thought the matter of rental control rightfully belonged to the Provinces.

Minister Asked to Resign

The Outremont Tenant's representative re-iterated the request previously made by Mr. Abbott by the Quebec Federation of Tenants that the Minister should resign his seat, and also all other members in the Montreal District who had refused to listen to the pleas of tenants against the rent hikes should do the same.

Mr. Abbott in declining to consider the suggestion that he resign his seat, pointed out that under our parliamentary system there was no provision for recall. He denied that he had broken his pledges to his electors in the matter of rental control. He referred to a speech which he had given in Westmount during the election, in which he claimed that he had said that if elected he would be fair to both (landlord and tenant). The fairness of the increases of 18% and 22% were questioned by the delegation.

Faced with a demand for the resignation of Rentals Administrator Owen Lobley, Mr. Abbott said the answer was no! He made it quite clear that he accepted full responsibility for any action by his department. This was the only occasion on which the Minister lost momentarily his good humour and affability.

Sympathy For Veterans

The minister sympathized with representations made by the Canadian Legion on behalf of pensioned veterans and widows, but promised no redress.

Mr. Abbott made it quite clear to the delegation that the Government did not intend to take any action in their request to have the rent hikes suspended or rescinded.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

Young Adult Section — New Year's Resolutions — everybody makes them and everyone breaks them. We haven't made ours yet, so they are not on the scrap heap. However, we intend to make them and hope to keep them. The time and date for this evaluation and planning is 2 p.m. on Sunday, January 15. At that time, in the Westmount YMCA, the members of the Young Adult Program Section will be getting together to look at the past and plan for the future. Where to in 1950? This program planning conference is a valuable guide to new members for it enables them to have a very clear picture of the organization of which they are a part.

Next week the Badminton Club will hold a round-robin tournament among the members. This is the first of the tournaments which are being scheduled to enable the players to rate themselves. After this tournament the members will be given handicaps which will give the beginners a fighting chance against the more experienced players. All members should be in attendance on both Tuesday and Friday evenings of next week.

The regular Friday Social Dance will be held tonight at 9:30. Don't forget to make next Friday a date at the Y. This is January 13—that's right, Friday the 13th—and the occasion will be a "Bad Luck" Party. Are you superstitious? We hope so, for you will have to pay for your superstitions. Dare you take a chance against fate?

This Sunday Evening's Fireside will feature Kostlanetz's Concert which includes Debussy's "Clair de Lune", Lehar's "Waltzes from 'The Count of Luxembourg'", Ravel's "Pavane Pour Une Infante Defunte", Lehar's "The Merry Widow Waltz", Fibich's "Poeme", Siczynski's "Vienna, City of My Dreams", MacDowell's "To A Water Lily" and "To A Wild Rose", Drigo's "Serenade", and Addinsell's "Warsaw Concerto". This excellent concert will start at 9 p.m. Refreshments will be served at the end.

The Second Leathercraft Course will start on Thursday, January 19th. This series of ten lessons will include instruction in glove-making, making articles from sheep shearing such as slippers, mittens, and jackets, and help will be given in tooling, lacing, etc. Register early for this course, the number of members is limited.

The Square Dance Club will get together for the first time next Tuesday, January 10th, at 8 p.m. This club has been formed to promote square dancing and all who are interested are invited to be present. Mr. Melvin of the Valois Community Association will be doing some of the calling. The program is being arranged by Jav Conn, the club's chairman and head caller. A full evening of fun awaits you.

Have you dropped into the Informal Program Room? Come in tonight, it is next door to the new program office on the second floor.

BOYS DEPARTMENT — Penny Carnival — Congratulations are due to all the gang who put on the Penny Carnival on December 30th. It was due to their work in putting on this show that over $25.00 was made to go towards the World Service Fund. Many thanks go to Mrs. Parr and Mrs. Jones, who supplied Pepper and Bruce with some of the most delicious fudge we have tasted in a long time.

Alan Brown, of 4417 Upper Roslyn Avenue, was the winner of the bean guessing game. He was only nine beans out in his guess of 2,500. Lloyd Kishino and Bobby Hamilton won the prize for the most popular booth. They had over 450 individual participants at their Bee-Bee Gun Shoot.

Booth managers handed R. Drain an extra special bouquet for working so hard in putting up the booths and for his valuable suggestions and ideas.

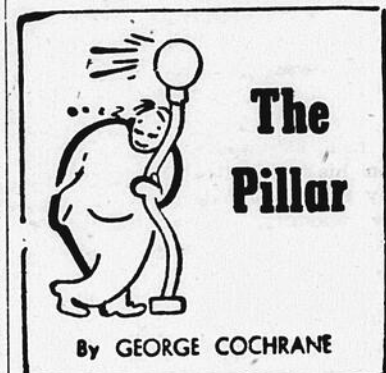

Swimming Team — The Westmount 'Y' Swimming Team, coached by Bob Moffat, pulled out in third place in the Annual Inter-

'Y' Swim Meet, held at Central Y pool on January 2nd. The splashing champions were led by such stalwarts as Gilbert Young, Don Sellers, Ken Copland and Jimmy Sherlock.

Floor Hockey League — This Saturday morning will see the beginning of the Junior Floor Hockey League. All Juniors are asked to come out this Saturday to get on a team and start the League. Remember 9:30 Saturday morning, followed by a swim.

Flash — This Saturday afternoon the movie will be a special treat. The name of the movie is "My Brother Talks to Horses", with "Butch" Jenkins and Peter Lawford. The added attraction is entitled "Neighbour Pests", a Pete Smith specialty.

Christmas Cards — A vote of thanks is certainly due to the many boys in the Westmount 'Y' who helped sell Christmas cards. The profit, which amounted to no less than $65.00, goes to YMCA World Service work. Outstanding in the number of boxes they sold were: Bill Fell, John Griffiths, Pepper Parr and Brian Hutchison.

Gordon R. Ball To Head Red Feather Drive

Gordon R. Ball, general manager of the Bank of Montreal, who resides at 1 Braeside Place, Westmount, has been appointed and has accepted the position of chairman of the 1950-51 Red Feather campaign.

Mr. Ball served as deputy chairman to Eric A. Leslie in the last drive for funds this fall and so brings a wealth of experience to help in the 1950 campaign.

Committee to be Named

It is expected that Mr. Ball will announce very soon the names of those whom he will have on his committee. It is realized by Financial Federation that early planning is essential if the success of the appeal for funds is to be assured.

The campaign just closed saw the amount asked for undersubscribed by $50,000.

The new campaign chairman entered the service of the Merchants Bank of Canada in 1914 and continued in the service of the Bank of Montreal when the Merchants Bank was absorbed.

Mr. Ball represented the Bank in New York for more than 20 years until his return to Montreal in 1947 as general manager. He served in the Canadian Expeditionary force (1914-1919) was wounded three times and decorated for bravery.

The amount to be raised this year has not yet been announced but it is expected that it will be in excess of the target in 1949 which was $1,250,000.

R.M.R. Resumes Winter Training

The Royal Montreal Regiment will resume winter training on Tuesday evening. Something new is being tried out in the formation of a new regimental training depot which will take on the strength all recruits for basic training before being posted to the company of their choice.

Previously training had been carried out on a wing or company basis. The recruits after receiving basic training can pick companies specializing in machine gun, wireless, or driving.

Lieut. G. A. Morris is the O.C. of the training depot with Lieut. L. G. MacKenzie as 2 i/c.

Captain Dave Peebles has started passing practice for football aspirants. Any young man interested in football is invited to come along and try out for the 1950 R.M.R. team.

Employer-Employee Relations For 1950

All round distribution of bonuses ranging from $2,500 down to $75 for employees of three months' service or more, was one store's way of expressing optimism for the New Year. Inset shows Leo Feldman, president, Liberty Department Store (right), who resides at 673 Grosvenor avenue, and his general manager, L. Martin (left), announces the firm's welfare plan to a meeting of employees.

2,500,000 Is Prediction Of Mtl. Populace By '75

"My prediction is that Greater Montreal will have a population of 2,500,000 by the year 1975, and that the whole Island of Montreal population will be close to 3,000,000," Roy A. Patterson, M.A.I., told members of the Westmount Rotary Club at their luncheon meeting Wednesday.

His talk, entitled "Looking at the Montreal of Tomorrow," was a report into the future possibilities of the city, covering the industrial, business, commercial and residential growth.

Covering industrial layout, the immediate past president of the Montreal Real Estate Board said that the trend for industry is to build along Cote de Liesse road, Cremazie boulevard, the Lakeshore and the Town of St. Laurent, and pointed out that a number of industries may build around Dorval airport if airborn freight transportation becomes popular.

The speaker did however maintain that this could be interrupted in the event of another world war, as industry would then tend to scatter over a larger area.

"The trend of building skyscrapers has just about finished," Mr. Patterson said in referring to the future business possibilities. He said that the modern office building would be mostly 10 or 12 storeys high as there was doubt about building them any bigger, and drew attention to the fact that some new office buildings are being built away from the downtown areas because of the present traffic problems.

Introduced by Borden Empy, the speaker also said that he saw a great commercial growth over the next 25 years, stating that commercial centres in places like Westmount and the Town of Mount Royal could be extended to become self-sufficient, while he forecast a number of new towns and cities to take in the increased residential areas.

"These must be bound together by some sort of borough system,

Westmount Naval Officers Promoted In New Year List

Two Westmount Naval Officers figured in the promotion list issued by the Navy Department on New Year's Day.

Promoted to Commodore is Captain Arthur C. Davy, 47, of Westmount and Ottawa, deputy chief of naval technical services at Ottawa.

He entered the Royal Canadian Naval College as a cadet in 1917, and during the Second World War was responsible for the building of naval ships in Canada.

Promoted to Commander is Lieut.-Commander Raymond J. McKeown, 33, of Westmount and Victoria, technical officer on the Canadian joint staff in London. He served at sea and ashore during the last war.

Also promoted was Commander Harry S. Morton to the rank of Surgeon Captain. Captain Morton, 44, is the medical officer at the naval establishment of H.M.C.S. Donnacona, Montreal.

He joined the reserve in 1938 and again in 1946 following war-time duty.

but I cannot forecast the possibilities of a subway by 1975," the speaker said in closing. He was thanked by H. Elmer McMannus of the Westmount Rotary Club.

Three new members were inducted into the Westmount club at the meeting. Cecil Medlar, a past district governor read the induction ceremonies to Paul Freeman, Rene Robillard and Harry H. Griffin, who were introduced by Albert Boire, Jack Burrows and Don Ross respectively.

Miss Mary Doran Dies Suddenly

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Darr, formerly of Westmount and now residing in Clearfield, Pennsylvania, were recently bereaved by the death of their nephew, Rex Henry Litz, aged 32 years, who died in the Meadowbrook Hospital, Hempstead, Long Island, New York.

Police Seek Hit and Run Driver Here

Westmount police are trying to obtain information on a hit and run driver who caused bodily injuries to Donald Mattheson, 33, of 369 Clarke avenue, apart. 2, when he was crossing St. Catherine street early Sunday morning.

Despite the number of witnesses that were with the injured man at the time, no one remembers a great deal about the car, believing that it was a '34 or '35 Ford, and stating that they could not see the license plate as the tail light was out.

Mattheson was rushed to the Homeopathic Hospital in an ambulance and treated by Dr. P. Rendlet for a probable fracture of the left leg. The accident took place opposite 4407 St. Catherine street at 2:58 a.m.

Witnesses to the accident were the victim's wife, Mrs. and Mrs. A. Weston, 4574 Gouin boulevard; Miss A. Green, 1529 Laurendeau street; Norman Rillihen, 3996 Henri Julien street, and G. Cascarano, of 6737 Alma street.

We regret to announce the death of G. deLanaudière (Curly) Selby in his 81st year. Death took place at the residence of his sister, Mrs. C. A. Hopkins, 432 Lansdowne avenue, Westmount, on Wednesday.

Monitor Publishing Co. Hits Peak Business Year

Following the annual custom established for years H. E. McCormick, President of The Monitor Publishing Company, was host on Friday afternoon at a New Year Party given the staff and employees of the Company. The offices were packed to capacity when Advertising Manager H. V. Stoddard introduced Mr. McCormick, who received a rousing ovation from the gathering.

In his New Year message and greetings Mr. McCormick spoke substantially as follows:-

"Today it is my pleasure to be your host. Before we partake of the banquet and drink to the New Year I would like to say a few words and will later ask other members of the executive to speak to you briefly.

The Year 1949 just ending, has been biggest of this Company's history, the $500,000 peak has been reached — and it sure sounds like a lot of money — the only part I dislike about it that I had to sign cheques for nearly a like amount in salaries, newsprint, materials and equipment. Wages alone amounted to nearly a quarter-of-a-million dollars. But that is progress, and I wouldn't want it to be otherwise.

Silver Anniversary

Now we look to 1950 — when we will observe our Silver Anniversary — On September 17th, 1925, the first Monitor was published, so during that week in 1950 we want to make it a real celebration — firstly, that the first nine months will be the greatest ever; secondly, we want to invite one and all to see our plant.

But don't let me be too optimistic.

Today the market is becoming increasingly competitive and costs have pyramided, and are still going up. With hopes for the future still bright, continued advancement and progress will require the fullest co-operation of all, both executives and employees. Success for the coming year entails the smoothest inter-departmental efforts and the realization that waste of both time and material can be ruinous and make all the difference between a good or bad year's report.

It should be understood that the margin of profit is so narrow that bad management or careless indifference of employees can easily upset the delicate balance and bring about serious conditions.

For a fair day's pay, a fair day's work is expected in return; and all employees should be proud of their association with

A. L. Bennett, 79, Sugar Broker, Dies

Arthur L. Bennett, 79, president of the raw sugar brokerage firm of W. S. Goodhugh and Company, died on Monday after a long illness.

Mr. Bennett was born in Bristol, England, and came to Canada 40 years ago and became prominently associated with the sugar business. He was a director of the Canadian West Indies League, and was an active member of the St. George's Society. He was closely associated with the Church of the Advent, Westmount, and was a keen worker for the church.

His wife died three years ago. He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Elsie Price, and two nephews and a niece, all of Bristol, Eng.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday at the chapel of Jos. Wray and Bro. with interment in Mount Royal Cemetery.

Camille Marsan Is Mourned

Camille Marsan of 1 Albert Place, Westmount, died at his late residence on Saturday.

Mr. Marsan is survived by his widow, the former Sara Dore.

Funeral services were held from the chapel of J. P. Feron and Sons, St. Antoine street, on Tuesday, with burial at Mount Royal Cemetery.

Mrs. Arch. Robertson Dies at Home

Mrs. Mabelle Ames Bannister Robertson, wife of Archie Robertson of 363 Lansdowne avenue, Westmount, died at her late residence on Tuesday.

Funeral services were held from the chapel of William Wray, University street, yesterday, with burial taking place in Mount Royal Cemetery.

the Company they work for, and be fully aware of its policies and the need for them.

At each of these events for many years it has been the custom to refer to the Company as "The Good Ship Monitor," as Mr. Stoddard often calls it, and as sailing towards port with a rich cargo, the annual harbour being reached safely so far.

But keen competition today merits the warning it will take good sailing and close sailing to weather the outlook for the coming year. It will call for good seamanship from the youngest apprentice to the top executives. It will call for devoted attention to an even better standard of workmanship than before, and it puts us — one and all — on our mettle.

A year ago, looking forward to this day, confidence was felt that a successful year would be ours. As stated, we have handled the biggest volume of business in our history. With proper co-operation and perseverance, there is no need why, in face of the keenest of competition, 1950 — our Silver Anniversary Year — should not be the biggest and best ever. To this haven we set our sail with the New Year, as The Monitor embarks on a new cruise.

At this time, I want to wish every one connected with The Monitor Publishing Company a Happy and Prosperous New Year."

Others To Speak

Brief but appropriate messages and greetings were also voiced by General Manager H. B. Houghton, Secretary-Treasurer Lorne D. Macbean, Verdun Guardian Manager H. G. Phillips, Westmount Examiner Manager H. R. Mount, Circulation Manager Richard A. Lewis, Plant Superintendent A. McGregor, and News Editor of The Monitor, Wilf Burnley.

Caterers supplied and served a splendid banquet at which the festive bird, the turkey, held the place of honour, followed by gala entertainment and dancing.

Lady Asks If Montreal Can Act — Why Can't Westmount Take Action?

One of the ladies who complained to The Examiner last week about the "Smoke" nuisance in Westmount has sent along a clipping of a letter to the Editor by Roy E. Wagar, City Councillor for Notre Dame de Grace.

The lady asks "why couldn't Westmount do something like this?" The letter in question reads:

Sir, You have recently carried two or three letters from citizens in reference to excessive smoke from certain industrial plants, and asking why the City Smoke Inspectors do not take action.

We who have been leading the campaign for smoke abatement in Montreal are glad to see an increasing number of our citizens thoroughly aroused over the excessive smoke from some industrial plants and large buildings.

They could help us further if they would phone the City Hall, PL. 6111, Local 272, and give the facts to one of our City Smoke Inspectors. They can be assured the complaint will be promptly investigated and remedies suggested.

Failure to carry out these recommendations and bring the smoke emitted into conformity with the City's Smoke By-law will bring appropriate action.

Signed,

Roy E. Wagar,
City Councillor,
Notre Dame de Grace

New Year Baby Born at Herbert Reddy

A six-pound, fourteen-ounce daughter was born to Mrs. Robert Baxter at 12:00:05 a.m. Sunday at the Herbert Reddy Memorial Hospital, claiming the honour of the first child born in 1950. Mr. Baxter is a taxi company employee, and this is their first child.

Dr. Lloyd Smith Gives New Year Code To Congregation

Rev. Dr. Lloyd Smith of Dominion Douglas United Church took as his theme for his sermon on Sunday morning "What is it that really makes a New Year?" "Is it not that we ourselves are making a new beginning. Be sure you are facing the future with a resolution to do better in 1950. This is the secret of all success," the minister said.

Dr. Smith pointed out that on this continent it has become characteristic of men to discover methods for raising the rate of production of goods, and he suggested that "what this world needs is men who are keen and alert to new ways, men with the spirit of pioneers."

Among proper New Year resolutions he suggested: Stop taking delight in "massacring the reputations of others."

Funeral took place on Monday from the Church of the Ascension of Our Lord, Westmount, to Cote des Neiges Cemetery.

Canada will hold its regular monthly meeting on Monday, January 9, at 8:15 p.m. at Roslyn School, Westmount avenue.

Seven Pound Girl Born Five Seconds After 1950

First to Mrs. Robert Baxter at Herbert Reddy; N.D.G. Hospitals Produce Three Boys

Montreal Hospitals vied for the honours due each year to the first baby born January 1, but the Herbert Reddy Memorial Hospital in Westmount won by an almost unbeatable margin. Little Miss 1950 was born there Sunday at five seconds after midnight, to Mrs. Robert Baxter, La Pinere Road, Notre Dame de Sacre Coeur. The New Year baby weighed six pounds, fourteen ounces, and mother and daughter are both well. Mrs. Baxter's husband is a taxi driver, and this is their first child.

N.D.G. hospitals also did well. The first 1950 arrival at the Catherine Booth Mother's Hospital, Madison Avenue, was a seven-pound, nine ounce boy, the third son born to Mrs. C. O. Rochon, 4055 Cavendish Avenue, at 1.42 a.m. His proud father is Provost-Marshall, Headquarters Quebec Command.

About 18 minutes later a nine-pound boy was born at St. Mary's Hospital, Lacombe Avenue, to Mr. and Mrs. Peter Paul Paquin, Garneau Park. This is their fifth child.

Homoeopathic was very nearly put out of the act. Only at 3:25 a.m., was the first New Year baby born here. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. G. Winter, 4399 Madison Avenue, and he is their third happy event.

the company is making in order to improve its service.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) R. Panet-Raymond

Letter to Mr. Panet-Raymond; from Tramways Company; Dear Mr. Panet-Raymond

We have your letter reporting the difficulty you have experienced in using our Westmount - N.D.G. bus service between 8.15 and 8.35 a.m. at Arlington Avenue.

We would like to take this opportunity to explain to you the real difficulties the Company has to face on the Westmount - N.D.G. bus line especially between 8.15 and 8.45 a.m., which is the worst half hour of the morning rush period.

More Use Buses

As you know, the change in fares which went into effect on October 1st, placed the Westmount - N.D.G. bus route on the same basis as other services in the Uniform Fare Area. Consequently, many passengers who formerly did not wish to pay the difference in fare prior to October 1st, are now using the buses. The new fares also make this route available to school children at the low school rate.

You will realize that due to these changes the Montreal Tramways Company is called upon to accommodate more passengers on this route, especially between 8.15 and 8.45 a.m. at the peak of the rush period when students are using the service.

Service Augmented

The Company studied the movement of passengers very carefully and, as a result, additional service which began on December 9, is now in effect.

For your information, the present schedule calls for the following number of trips Eastbound between 8.00 and 9.00 a.m.

- From Madison 20
- From Girouard 20
- From Grey Avenue 1
- From Prince Albert 7
- From Lanardowne 1
- From Metcalfe 1
- From Greene Avenue 11

From Guy Street 2
Total 63

Should Switch Vehicles

We wish to draw your particular attention to the service starting from Greene Avenue. Intending passengers between Victoria and Greene Avenue, if unable to find immediate accommodation on the buses, may gain time by using any street cars to reach Greene Avenue where transfer may be made to the buses starting empty from that point.

Traffic Jams

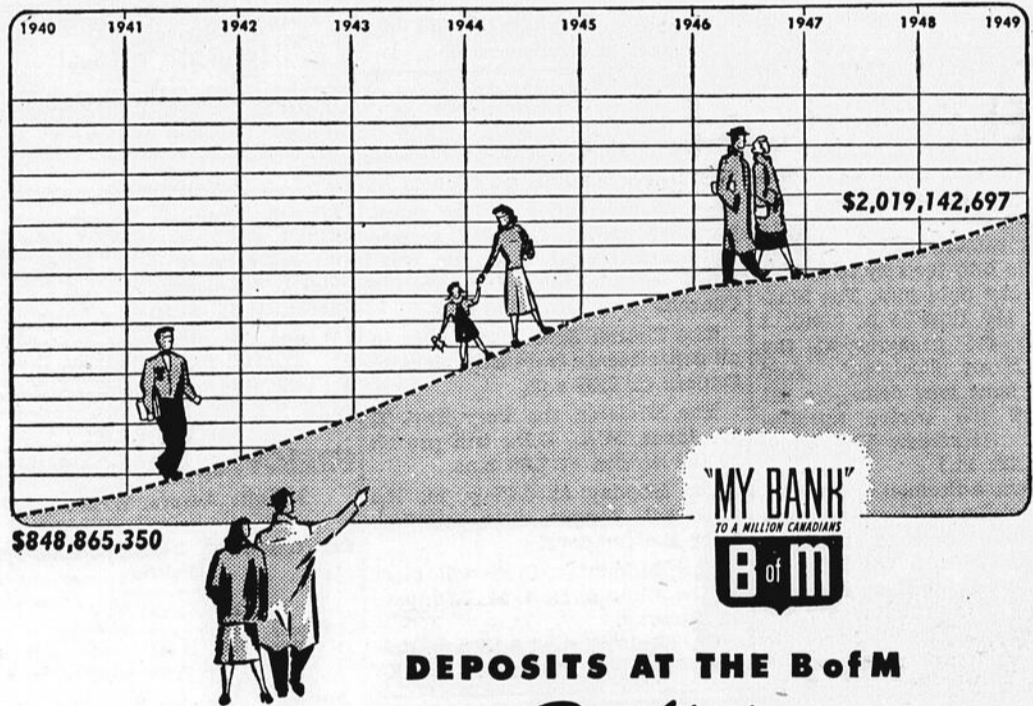

One of the many problems the Company has to contend with is getting its vehicles through a maze of other traffic, taxicabs, trucks, motor cars, pedestrians, etc., and the speed of our vehicles is determined by the general speed of the flow of traffic on the streets on which they operate. Our trams and buses are subject to all the delays of great cities, such as fires, funerals, parades, etc. I can assure you that our vehicles go into operation on their scheduled times but due to many interruptions of all kinds we are sorry to say they are unable to keep on schedule for very long.

Yours sincerely,

Canadians are thinking of tomorrow

DEPOSITS AT THE B of M

HAVE Doubled in 10 years

— NOW TOTAL MORE THAN TWO BILLION DOLLARS

This huge sum is a tribute to Canadians' foresight and thrift.

Ten years ago, B of M customers kept a total of $848,000,000 in their savings and current accounts. During the war years, these people took the opportunity to boost their 'Fund For Tomorrow' to $1,613,000,000.

Their habit of saving for the years ahead has not only persisted since the war but has gained in strength. Today, their deposits stand at more than two billion dollars—an all-time B of M record and the largest Canadian deposits of any bank. Of this money, well over a billion dollars is in savings.

The fact that the B of M's resources also have topped the two-billion mark during the past year proves one thing clearly—that the size of a financial institution such as the Bank of Montreal simply reflects the measure of confidence a million and a half Canadian men and women share in it.

And by thinking of tomorrow, these people are helping to build the Canada of today and tomorrow. For their savings determine the support the Bank can bring—through investments and loans—to the enterprise of men and businesses across the nation. Indeed, this year, loans made by the B of M are the highest they've ever been.

Working with the people of Canada for the past 132 years, the Bank has kept continually before it these two guiding purposes—to assist actively the nation's economic development and to justify always the confidence of its depositors.

PROSPEROUS YEAR AHEAD?

Mr. Howe Thinks So —
Mr. Duplessis' Warning

Canadians can look back upon a year of peace and a degree of domestic prosperity which should make us all thankful. In a world where hunger is general, the future uncertain, security as unattainable as manna from heaven, Canadians enjoyed the largest per capita income in their history. The average Canadian family had an income in excess of three thousand dollars. True, the cost of living also rose, and will show another increase when the next index is made public — yet, all things considered, we are fortunate, perhaps the most fortunate nation in the world.

What the year ahead holds for us, no one can tell. Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe, our Minister of Trade and Commerce, told the House of Commons before it prorogued that the coming year would be a good one for Canadian trade, and he added: "In the past, I think, my predictions have been found to be pretty accurate." If our business men can convince themselves that Howe is right, the resulting confidence will go far toward maintaining our high level of employment and wages. Pessimistic reports filtering into this country from the U.S. don't help maintain confidence.

It might also be advisable to keep in mind some words of Premier Duplessis at a press conference last Friday night: "State paternalism is always disastrous and leads infallibly to tyranny and bureaucratic dictatorship . . . In fact, true security and the only security that is stable and durable is that based on the old but up-to-date maxim, "God helps him who helps himself."

Our national prosperity won't last long when incentive and initiative are killed by taking from one class of the people to provide handouts to another class.

Christian Science

"Sacrament" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday.

The Golden Text is from Proverbs 16:13. "The preparations of the heart in man, and the answer of the tongue, is from the Lord . . . Commit thy works unto the Lord, and thy thoughts shall be established."

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible:

"Now the first day of the feast of unleavened bread the disciples came to Jesus, saying unto him, 'Where wilt thou that we prepare for thee to eat the passover?' And he said, 'Go into the city to such a man, and say unto him, The Master saith, My time is at hand; I will keep the passover at thy house with my disciples.' And when the hour was come, he sat down, and the twelve apostles with him." (Matthew 26: 17 and 18; Luke 22: 14.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: —

"The Passover, which Jesus ate with his disciples in the month

Nisan on the night before his crucifixion, was a mournful occasion, a sad supper taken at the close of day, in the twilight of a glorious career with shadows fast falling around; and this supper closed forever Jesus' ritualism or concessions to matter. Our Eucharist is spiritual communion with the one God. Our bread, 'which cometh down from heaven', is Truth. Our cup is the cross. Our wine the inspiration of Love, the draught our Master drank and commended to his followers." (Pages 32 and 35.)

Westmount Baptist

Following the precedent of last January, the Ministers of the Protestant Churches of Westmount will exchange pulpits at the morning service on Sunday. Rev. D. M. Grant, B. D., of St. Andrew's United Church will conduct the morning service in Westmount Baptist Church. The sermon theme will be "Our Life, A Mosaic In The Divine Plan".

In the evening Dr. Johnston will occupy his own pulpit. The theme of the address will be "Heart Belief and Lip Confession". According to Paul, these two things are basic to a vital, satisfying Christian experience. Heart belief alone may carry the suggestion of cowardice. Lip confession alone would savor of hypocrisy. The two together constitute the primary essentials of discipleship. Paul said: "If thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus and believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved". The regular weekly programme of the congregation in all of its organizations progresses intensively. The Women's Association Groups meet in various homes. The Congregational Christian Fellowship Hour is held on Wednesday at 8 p.m. The Young People's Union meets on Thursday at the same hour. The choir rehearsal is held on Friday evening. The Missionary Circles have each a monthly gathering and the Mission Band meets next Sunday morning under the direction of Mrs. Albert Smith.

The bride wore an afternoon gown of turquoise blue crepe and a hat of winter white felt while pink roses composed her bouquet.

Miss Barron, in wine crepe, wore a black hat and carried a bouquet of flowers to tone with her dress while Miss Mace was in teal blue crepe with which she wore a winter white hat and harmonizing shoulder spray.

HUNTEN — RUBENSTEIN

St. Andrew's United Church, Westmount was the scene of a wedding at half-past five o'clock, December 28, when Isobel Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mortimer Ross Rubenstein, of Westmount, became the bride of Mr. Donald Mount Hunten, of London, Ont. Rev. D. M. Grant, assisted by Rev. G. K. Ward, performed the ceremony and Mr. P. B. Motley was at the organ, with Mr. Percival Powles as soloist. The organ loft was banked with Christmas trees and garlands of hemlock roping finished with smaller trees, and on the Communion table was an arrangement of white flowers, on either side of which was a candelabrum and a cascading effect of pine branches and red poinsettias, while bouquets of red poinsettias, pine and holly with ribboned streamers bordered the aisle.

Given away by her father, the bride was gowned in a portrait dress of white bridal satin and Guipure lace trimmed with seed pearls and fashioned with a pin tucked bodice trimmed with an edging of lace, the long tight sleeves with points over the hands and the flared skirt falling from a band of matching pin tucking and extending into a long train. Minute Mix

By H.B.S. and D.McG.

MINUTE MUSICAL . . . Andrew MacMillan, whose picture appears elsewhere on this page, brought his wife, the former Miss Elsie Pearce, of London, Ont., to celebrate the New Year with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. MacMillan 2298 Wilson Avenue, and then hurried back to Toronto on Monday afternoon in order to be on the spot for rehearsals the following morning with the Royal Conservatory Opera Company. When we talked to him, Andrew hadn't much time to spare, but he did announce proudly that he has high hopes that the Opera Company will become a permanent institution. Since he left Montreal three years ago for Toronto, he has sung many leading roles with the opera and also is the Assistant Stage Director. This in addition to his radio and recital work.

"When did you first act as a soloist?" we asked Andrew. He skipped that one—had completely forgotten—but remarked that as far back as he could remember, he had enjoyed music. All his family, he added, liked to sing with choral groups and church choirs. Before the war Andrew sang baritone in Kensington, and had also been guest soloist in a Hampstead church, at St. Andrew's and St. Paul's; and also at Wesley United. Other Montreal musical activities included singing with the Lyric Operatic and also in a Montreal West production under the direction of Harry Norris. He was also base soloist in the Messiah presented by the late Walter Clapperton. So much we managed to drag out of Andrew about his past!

He was much more cooperative about the future Royal Conservatory Opera Company season starting in February when he will appear in all three of the operas to be given during the first week of that month as Leporello in Don Giovanni (Mozart); Schaunard in La Boheme; and, to quote him "a small part as Marullo in Rigolletto."

This coming April, Andrew is to take part in the Bach festival to be presented by the Mendelssohn choir of Toronto with the Toronto symphony under direction of Sir A. MacMillan.

And for opera fans, the following is a list of Andrew's roles during the past three years with the Royal Conservatory Opera productions: "Kegala" in the Bartered Bride; the father in Hansel and Gretel; Tonio in Pagliacci; Isentoin in Fledermaus; Figaro in the Marriage of Figaro; Schaunard in La Boheme; Gianni Schicchi, in Gianni Schicchi. He has also sung the role of Elijah in the oratorio of the same name, and the role of Harapha in the Oratorio Samson.

MINUTE MERRIMENT . . . "Thank goodness", said Mr. MacGillicuddy the other day, "that the Open Season on Open Houses is over for another year. I have spent two rather terrifying weekends."

People, it seems, have always terrified Mr. MacGillicuddy. He tells us that as a small boy, he was known to spend weeks under his bed, rather than risk the ordeal of coming face to face with visitors.

"Of course", he says, "I've outgrown that childish phobia. Now I merely slump as far down as I can in an overstuffed chair, and trust that no one will notice me."

"You were speaking", we reminded him gently, "of holding open House."

"It was horrible", he murmured. Not that I minded so much when the Christmas tree caught fire. My wife's nephew said it was spontaneous combustion, and he took chemistry eight times in school, so who was I to doubt his word?

"I think that the incident of Alfred and the china cabinet rather unnerved my wife, though. True, it was our china cabinet, but after all, it was Alfred's head!

"When it comes to a good, old-fashioned Open House—or any Open House, for that matter", continued Mr. MacGillicuddy, "my wife goes all-out. Our friends, of course, can't take a hint. They keep coming in."

"Why, on New Year's Day, I counted 82 people, before everything went black. When I came to, I was sitting on the cellar stairs, chatting with the milkman. I didn't like to ask him what he was doing there, especially when he was kind enough to remark "Nice party, Mac," so I just let the whole thing slide.

"We struck up quite a friendship. He told me how he became a milkman, when all the time his parents had wanted him to go to Harvard. I told him that I had gone to Harvard for 18 years, and that he hadn't missed a thing."

"Just then, a rather distinguished gentleman crawled over to us, shook hands with my friend, and said 'Nice of you to invite me, Mr. Yeats, but I really must be crawling—er, running along. They're holding Open House over at MacGillicuddy's, and I don't want to miss that.'

"Next year", said Mr. MacGillicuddy, with some spirit, "I shall arrange to spend the holiday season in jail. That should solve the Open House Problem."

MINUTE MADNESS . . . The following scene is reported to have taken place recently at the Authors of the Ages Club, situated a safe distance from the Celestial City. Burns, Bunyan, Dickens and Tennyson are chatting in the lounge. Enter Shelley, carrying a copy of the current issue of the British Medical Journal, and followed by Boswell, Johnson, Lamb and Ruskin.

SHELLEY—"I think we should sue."

BUNYAN—"That's not a Christian attitude, Bysshe."

BURNS—"I need a good stiff one. Steward!"

SHELLEY (ignoring interruption)—"Dr. Russel Brain, a London brain specialist, says in an article in this journal, that we—the whole lot of us—were—are—were—no matter—mad! He's classified us as maniac depressives, alcoholics, drug addicts, schizophrenics, and just the plain garden variety of psychopaths. It's that last I object to most strongly. Bad enough to be a psychopath, but a plain, garden variety—well! . . . By the way, what is a psychopath?"

DICKENS—"Let's have a look at that article, Bysshe."

SHELLEY—"You got a special mention, Charlie."

DICKENS (reading from article)—"A Tale Of Two Cities' bears marks of the author's preoccupation with violence and cruelty. It is a form of masochism.—I'm inclined to resent that last.—What does masochism mean, Sam?"

JOHNSON—"Finding pleasure in pain suffered by one's self. Sounds silly, doesn't it? But as I recall, I had a devil of a time thinking up that one—What's he say about me?"

SHELLEY—"Oh, you're quite mad, old boy."

JOHNSON—"Your fault, Boswell. He got that impression from reading that ridiculous biography of yours."

BOSWELL—"Nothing of the sort."

Begins Rehearsals In Toronto

ANDREW MacMILLAN

Before going to Toronto three years ago to study, Mr. MacMillan was soloist at many Montreal musical events. Recently he has been singing leading roles in Toronto with the Royal Conservatory Opera Company, of which he is also Assistant Stage Director; has been heard in recitals and on CBC programs, and also has done some broadcasting on the International Service. After spending the New Year holidays in town he returned to Toronto to begin rehearsals for a season of opera starting in February.

It's your "oats" definition that did it. The doctor's probably a Scot. So there."

BUNYAN—"Gentlemen, gentlemen!"

BURNS—"I need a good stiff one. Steward!"

LAMB—"It's pretty obvious as to what classification Robbie comes under."

DICKENS—"I was never too fond of the 'Tale of Two Cities'. I lifted most of it from Carlyle, anyway. Wonder what the doctor thinks of him?"

RUSKIN—"Let's play whist."

TENNYSON—"That bit about split personalities. Could it be that we've been confused with Bob Stevenson. That Jekyll and Hyde had me confused. And as for you, Lamb, m'boy, maybe that stunt of writing under the fool name of Elia wasn't so clever, after all."

BURNS—"Let's have a quick one all 'round, Steward!"

RUSKIN—"I've found the cards." (Shelley tosses medical journal into fireplace, and pulls up a chair.)

Caramel, Brown, Among Formal Favorite Colors

Colors for the coming season's evening attire suggest black and white as the formal favorites, followed by many shades of pink, a little gray and particularly many shades of caramel and pale tortoise-shell browns as well as Havana browns. Harmonies of color, which have much appeal are Havana brown with Louis XIV blue, or deep plum purple with aquamarine blue, or lime green. Slate gray and orchid mauve are not uncommon, while touches of black trim many pink dresses.

One of the loveliest dresses this season is a typical Grecian model in white silk jersey trimmed with dark green ribbons and designed by Grès for the launching of Lenthéric's new perfume "Repardée". It is a simple dress with the neckline drawn in from the bare shoulders by a narrow green ribbon and all the fullness drawn into the waist in a similar manner, while huge scarflike draperies fall from the shoulders in a diaphanous cloak effect.

THE BUSINESS TOUCH IN HOUSECLEANING

A woman who had been a top-notch business executive was bored with keeping house until she decided to apply her office-learned efficiency at finding short cuts to save time. She changed around her kitchen to eliminate unnecessary steps, assembled her cleaning materials in a basket so she could carry them with her from room to room, cut down on bed-making time, dish-washing time, ironing time. She took such an interest in finding more efficient ways to do her chores that before she knew it the audience included women exhibitors attending the conclave.

Baked Cabbage Bundles Are Budget Aid

Baked cabbage bundles provide good eating at budget prices

Solid nutrition at budget prices, plus good eating — that's what most homemakers are looking for. These two recipes fill that bill:

Baked Cabbage Bundles (6 servings)

Six sizable cabbage leaves, ½ pound ground beef, ¼ pound ground pork, 1½ teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ¼ cup diced onion, ½ cup uncooked rice, 1 ca. tomato soup (10½-ounce size), ½ cup hot water.

Immerse cabbage leaves in boiling water. Cook for 2 minutes and drain. Mix together meat, salt, pepper, onion and rice. Spoon mixture onto cabbage leaves. Fold each leaf over filling, and fasten with toothpicks. Place cabbage bundles in a two-quart heat-resistant glass casserole. Combine tomato soup and hot water; pour over cabbage bundles in casserole. Bake 1½ hours in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.). Remove toothpicks before serving.

Cheese Omelet With Spanish Sauce (Serves 4)

One and one-half tablespoons fat, 6 eggs, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ cup milk, dash of pepper, ½ cup grated American cheese.

Heat the fat in a skillet; then tip the skillet to grease the sides and bottom. Beat the eggs, just enough to blend the yolks and whites. Add the salt, milk and pepper and heat thoroughly. Pour into the skillet and cook over low heat until a film of cooked egg has formed on the bottom of the pan. Lift the edge of this cooked egg and tilt the pan so that the uncooked portion runs under the raised cooked portion. Sprinkle cheese over omelet. Again cook until a film of cooked egg forms, then repeat the lifting and cooking process until the entire mixture is cooked and golden brown on the bottom—this process will take about 10 minutes. Then loosen the omelet with a spatula, fold from handle of skillet to opposite side of pan. Or roll jelly roll fashion and turn onto a warm platter. Serve Spanish sauce as a filling or over omelet.

Combine tuna, celery and apple. Season with salt and pepper. Toss carefully with enough mayonnaise or salad dressing to moisten. Serve in lettuce cups.

Certificate Memento First Barber-Haircut

Lewisham (London) barbers have decided to give a certificate to every junior customer having his hair cut.

Few of us can remember the proud day when wrapped up in the barber's sheet, and perched in a high chair, we first heard the busy clip-clop of the hairdresser's scissors — and were not quite sure whether we liked it. We cannot remember whether tickly bits of hair went down our necks or whether the barber gave us his political opinions.

Now, however, the young people or Lewisham will have a memento of this great occasion. The certificate is headed: To commemorate the first haircut, and it continues: This is to certify that . . . has graduated from babyhood, having received his first haircut this day.

With the certificate will be an envelope containing a lock of the first shorn hair.

An evening bodice of heavy lace, worn outside the waistline of a swirling taffeta skirt, makes its mark. Belts of the finest embroidery, or made of ermine, or leopard, set off a pretty waist. While a flower, artful though artificial, tucked beneath a jacket collar, or into a belt, adds the finishing touch, the last word to any accessory story.

appointments will be announced in February.

Following are the winners:

QUEBEC

George Sidney Stevens Lamb, a Canadian of English descent, was born in Montreal on April 20, 1924.

Mr. Lamb's father, the late Professor H. M. Lamb of McGill University, served in World War I. His brother Major R. B. Lamb, served overseas in World War II, with the Black Watch, and Sidney Lamb himself, enlisted with the Canadian Army in 1943 and served overseas in the Queen's Own Rifles as a non-commissioned officer. He was wounded in 1944 and subsequently transferred to the Intelligence Section in which he remained till the end of the war.

In 1946 Mr. Lamb entered McGill University as an undergraduate in the Honours English and Philosophy course and in 1949 he graduated with First Class Honours in English and Philosophy and the Prince of Wales Gold Medal.

Sidney Lamb is now enrolled at King's College, Cambridge, on the Moyses Travelling Scholarship award from McGill University. He is beginning the first year's work toward the M.Litt. degree, but since Cambridge insists on a two-year course for such a degree and since the Moyses Travelling Scholarship is only available for one year, Mr. Lamb is recommended for the Order's War Memorial award (overseas) for the college year 1950-1951.

NEW BRUNSWICK

Fred Cogswell, a Canadian of English - French parentage, was born on November 8, 1917, at East Centreville, N.B.

Mr. Cogswell is married and is a veteran of World War II; he served with the Canadian Army in Canada and overseas from February 1940 till August 1945, when he received his discharge. He entered the University of New Brunswick in 1945, registering in the Faculty of Arts, and in 1949 graduated with Honours in History and English. At the present time he is doing post-graduate work leading to the degree of Master of Arts at the same university. Dress Up Broccoli With Cheese Sauce

Broccoli is one of the most important Vitamin C bearing winter vegetables. Try it with cheese sauce with sliced cold turkey.

Broccoli with Cheese Sauce

Wash about two pounds fresh broccoli and trim a bit off ends of stems, but do not remove branches. If any stems are more than ½ inch in diameter, make lengthwise gashes through them (about 4 or 6) almost to the flowerets. The stalks will then cook as quickly as the flower buds. Drop broccoli into a small amount of boiling salted water. Cover and cook quickly until just tender — 10 to 15 minutes, or 1½ minutes in a pressure saucepan.

Cheese Sauce

(Makes enough for 4 servings)
Melt ½ pound processed American cheese in double boiler. When melted, stir in ½ cup milk. Pour over hot broccoli.

Vegetable Casserole for an Oven Dinner

Shell 2 pounds fresh peas, reserving 3 or 4 of the pods. Combine peas with 2 cups celery cut into one-half inch pieces. Add 1 teaspoon salt and ½ cup water. Add pods to vegetables for added fresh flavor. Cover casserole tightly and bake 1 hour at 325 degrees F. Remove pods. Season vegetables with butter and pepper to taste. Serve while hot.

Here's a wonderful main dish winter luncheon salad dancing with vitamins.

Western Tuna Salad

Two 7-ounce cans tuna (2 cups), 2 cups diced celery, 1 red-skinned apple, diced, unpeeled, lemon juice, salt and pepper to taste, mayonnaise or salad dressing, Iceberg lettuce cups.

Break tuna into large pieces. Use scissors to cut celery into crunchy bite-size cubes. Dice unpeeled apple and sprinkle with lemon juice to prevent darkening.

Class Standing. At the present time he is doing post-graduate work at the same university leading to the degree of Master of Arts in English Literature. He proposes to continue his studies at the University of London, working for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy.

MANITOBA

John J. Madden of St. Boniface, Manitoba, was born in Leeds, Yorkshire, England, on December 1, 1919, and has lived for 23 years in Canada. He is a graduate of the University of Manitoba, receiving the degree of Bachelor of Arts (Honours) in May, 1949. At the present time he is doing post-graduate work at the University of Toronto leading to the degree of Master of Arts in Economics. He proposes to continue his studies at Trinity College, Cambridge.

Doreen Hulme, William Stevens At American Club Musicale

The American Women's Club is holding a musicale and tea on Wednesday, at 3 p.m. in the Ball Room of the Ritz Carlton Hotel. There will be songs by Miss Doreen Hulme and piano selections by Mr. William Stevens. Mrs. Robert Holmes, the music chairman for the club, is in charge of the program.

Miss Hulme, a young Ontario-born soprano, began her serious study of music at fifteen. At present, she is the soprano-soloist at Grace Church-on-the-Hill in Toronto, and recently has given recitals at the Canadian National Exhibition and the Toronto Art Gallery. Competing on "Opportunity Knocks", she was awarded the Grand Prize and has been heard in many shows on the C.B.C. since. Among these are "The Doris Hulme Show", "The Weston Show" and "The Gilbert and Sullivan Series".

She has been guest soloist with the Toronto Symphony Pop Concerts and the Northern Electric Hour and was chosen for a part in the Canadian presentation of the opera "Peter Grimes", last September. For three consecutive years Miss Hulme has appeared on Singing Stars, and last year was chosen as semi-finalist.

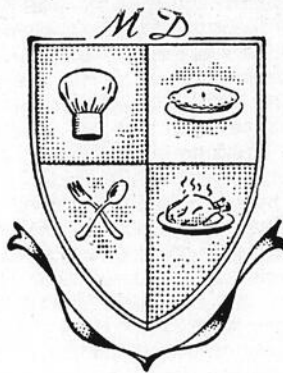

Mr. William Stevens, the pianist appearing on the same program with Miss Hulme, is a young musician born in Montreal of American parents. His musical education started at the age of six. Later, he attended the McGill Conservatorium of Music studying with John Weathersted and won five scholarships in addition to his Licentiate and Bachelor of Music Degrees. In 1943, Mr. Stevens joined the Navy and was a member of the Canadian Navy Show during the war. As accompanist for Oscar Natzke, the New Zealand basso, he appeared at the Royal Albert Hall in London in 1945, and in the same year played in Paris for Radio Diffusion Francais.

Since his return from overseas, Mr. Stevens has appeared in recital both in Montreal and the United States. In 1947, he was the soloist in two performances, of Gershwin's Rhapsody in Blue for the International Festival of School Music and in 1948 he was soloist at the Eastern Slopes Music Festival at North Conway, New Hampshire.

Mr. Stevens will make his formal debut at the Ritz Carlton Hotel in February.

Mrs. George Wakeman, the president of the club, will receive at the musical, assisted by Mrs. Howard Jennings and Mrs. Robert Holmes. Mrs. Harold Remine, Mrs. J. B. White, and Mrs. Wayne W. Woodworth are ushering.

Two Excellent Features Sunday At The Westmount

The absorbing story of a man who comes close to losing everything in life, his wealth, career and the girl he loves, when he becomes enmeshed in the relentless grip of gambling is unfolded on the Westmount screen in a powerful new drama. "The Great Sinner".

Faultlessly enacted by a superb cast headed by Gregory Peck, Ava Gardner, Melvyn Douglas, Walter Huston, Ethel Barrymore and Frank Morgan, under the brilliant direction of Robert Siodmak ("The Killers" and "The Spiral Staircase"), here is a picture which holds you in its spell from the moment its hero, the young writer, Fedor, steps from the train at Wiesbaden, is introduced to its gambling casino and begins the descent which plunges him into disaster.

It is the lovely and reckless Pauline who is unwillingly responsible for the almost Dr.-Jekyll-and-Mr.-Hyde metamorphosis which takes place in Fedor's personality. Gambling is in her blood, as it is in the blood of her father, General Ostrovsky, who is not above using his daughter as a pledge for the roulette debts he owes to the casino's manager, De Glasse. It is in order to redeem Pauline that Fedor plays his first stakes at the wheel. But when in a spectacular coup he wins more than enough to pay off her father's obligation to De Glasse, he finds that he cannot stop. It is then that his degradation begins, a downward course in which he is robbed of every shred of respectability, honour and manhood and in which he is narrowly saved from murder. It is not until he has reached the lowest depths that Fedor finds redemption and happiness in the story's moving climax.

AT THE WESTMOUNT

Lucille Ball and Bob Hope complement each other expertly in Damon Runyon's "Sorrowful Jones," which Paramount brings this Sunday to the Westmount Theatre. They are co-starred in the heart-warming comedy which features William Demarest, Bruce Cabot and Mary Jane Saunders.

The acting in "The Great Sinner" is of a distinguished order.

Second Feature

The Companion feature, "Sorrowful Jones", story co-stars Bob Hope (in the title role) and Lucille Ball, is just about the finest, most heart-warming comedy ever offered film fans!

Hope has never been better—no, not even in "The Paleface", which was certainly one of his best. In

"Sorrowful Jones" he has more of a story than he has ever had before, and the kind of story, so characteristic of Runyon's tales, that reaches down the heart and produces a warm glow that stays with you for a while.

Hospital to Hold Annual Meeting

The 128th annual general meeting of the Montreal General Hospital will be held January 11th at 5 p.m. in the nurses' residence of the Central Division, 65 Dorchester street east.

Annual reports will be received, new life governors and officers will be elected and the meeting will be asked to confirm an amendment to a by-law changing the retiring age of the attending staff from 65 to 62 years.

Rev. Harvey Campbell Guest Speaker at S.A.

The Rev. Harvey B. Campbell, B.D., D.D., Minister of Westmount Park Emmanuel United Church was the guest speaker at the Sunday afternoon service in the Salvation Army Auditorium, on Drummond street.

Following Dr. Campbell's address the Citadel Band rendered a full program of appropriate music which was enjoyed by the capacity audience.

LEARNS ITALIAN

Wanda Hendrix, co-starred with Alan Ladd in Paramount's "After Midnight," had to learn to speak Italian for her role. She plays an Italian girl of noble birth in this post-war adventure drama.

John Lund, starring in Paramount's "The Lie," is of half-Irish and half-Norwegian descent.

Delayed Christmas Tree Party Held

A belated Christmas Tree party was held on Friday in Westminster Central United Church, Atwater avenue, for children and members of the Mothers' Educational Group of the church.

A huge green Christmas tree dominated the decoration scheme. Gifts exchanged by the children were distributed from the tree.

Mrs. Gordon Wingman supervised games for the children, while Mrs. Walter Adams took charge of the refreshments, consisting of ice cream, cookies, sandwiches and milk. Candy bags and oranges were handed out to the youngsters by Mrs. J. S. Nickerson, who arranged the party. These annual parties were inaugurated some years ago by Miss Norah Christie.

WHY ETUDES? In Two Parts) Educational Series No. Four, (1949 - 1950)

Why Etudes? We could add. Why scales? Why exercises? Why arpeggios? Etudes are a must in the course of any advancing music student. Just what is an "Etude"? Theodor Baker (1851-1934), noted musicologist who acted as the literary advisor of G. Schirmer Inc. as well as editing their publications, defines the word in his music dictionary as: "Etude" (French) A study; especially one affording practice in some particular technical difficulty. "Etude de concert" (French) an etude designed for public performance; a species of characteristic piece." In another of our encyclopedias of music and musicians (Parkhurst and de Bekker) the definition is slightly different — "Etude" (Fr.) Exercise, study or lesson. Chopin composed twenty-four famous piano compositions with this title, Opus 10 and Opus 25, as did Liszt with his "Etudes d'execution transcendente."

Every etude carries a value all its own for it repeats and repeats the same particular technical difficulty until it forms a habit. When that special mechanical obstacle has been mastered the student has gained new technical fluency and this is only accomplished through gradual stages of musical growth. There are so many kinds of etudes, each dealing with one type of problem, one of the multitudes that make good piano playing.

In the elementary stages one studies the mechanical aspect but as the pupil progresses the addition of interpretation is noted in the more advanced etudes. (We will deal with Bach, Chopin and Liszt Etudes in the second article.) Among the many excellent composers to develop a solid foundation in the early stages one could mention Gurlitt, Heller, Krogmann, Streabog, Bertini, Duvernoy, Burgmuller, Clementi, Kohler and Czerny, who has written for every difficulty.

There are many contemporary musicians who present the works of the aforementioned composers

Family All at Sea - - - So's Baby Sitter

They're on Round-World-Who-Knows-How-Long Cruise

New York. — There's one nice thing about a pretty baby-sitter named Jane Drake. The family who retains her services doesn't have to worry about getting her home after her night's work is finished.

It'd be tough if they had to — they lived on a boat, which stopped off in New York harbor on its leisurely way around the world. Jane Drake is only one of the landlubbery conveniences the Stanley Dashew family have installed aboard their 91-foot schooner, Constellation.

Mr. Mrs. Dashew are a couple who have made their dream of sailing around the world come true by selling their home in Grande Rapids, Mich., and their car to finance the jaunt. The Dashews' two children, 7, and Lesley, 7 months, are along, too, which accounts for Jane Drake's presence. Four others are making the trip.

To make Jane's position unique in the baby-sitting world, she had never done any diapering or formula-mixing or lullabying before. But, as an experienced yachtswoman sailing out of Detroit, she knows boats. When she read of the Dashews' contemplated adventure, she wrote, asking for a job, and was promptly hired.

Her main job is to look after Lesley when the Dashews take shore leave on the Constellation's frequent port calls. She admits feeling terror when she first was handed Lesley and a diaper, but now feels that Lesley is "a doll" and she handles a diaper as calmly as she reefs a jib.

Miss Drake, 35, also helps Stephen with his lessons, which can't be by-passed for a little thing like a cruise around the world.

The 33-year-old Dashew, who

ALL HANDS ON DECK (except the baby sitter): Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Dashew strike a sea-going pose at the wheel with son Stephen, 7, and daughter Lesley, seven months old.

gave up his job as branch manager for a business machines corporation to go down to the sea, says he and his wife, Martha, 31, have been planning the trip for 12 years.

By saving and by selling their worldly goods, they got together enough money to buy the Constellation, which was formerly an officers' training ship at the Coast Guard's New London, Conn., academy. They also got together a $10,000 "kitty", which will finance their round-the-world-in-who-knows-how-long cruise.

They started in July from Chicago, and first sailed through the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence River, then down the Atlantic Coast to New York. From here, they're going on down the coast, through the Caribbean Sea, the Panama Canal and eventually up the Pacific Coast to San Francisco. If the "Kitty" has enough lives, they may push up to Alaska.

Mrs. Dashew has stacked the galley with 10,000 cans of food and a few additional cases of baby food. The medicine chest holds 65 types of medication. A ship-to-shore phone has been installed.

She says that rearing a baby at sea is easier than on land. The diaper-disposal problem, for example, is a cinch, with the ocean or the river at hand. Mrs. Dashew uses surgical dressings instead of old-fashioned diapers. She's also using a disposable-type feeding bottle, which goes over the side after each feeding, thus cutting down the sterilization difficulties.

Lesley whom her father says is "the best sailor aboard" has a specially-built crib, built into one of the cabins, and equipped with an air-foam mattress and air-foam lining on the walls. The Constellation can pitch and toss, but Lesley sleeps calmly in her rubber-lined crib.

Once the "kitty" is exhausted, or the crew gets tired of aimless sailing—whichever happens first, but the crew bets it will be the former — they'll all be moving ashore again. And Stanley Dashew will go back to work to get together another kitty.

"Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm"

Delightful Play for Children

For the second major production of the Children's Theatre season, the directors of this talented group of juveniles, Dorothy Davis and Violet Walters, decided to present "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" with a view to interesting children of all ages. The simplicity of its treatment and the wholesome sweetness of its story established this play as an outstanding success for both young children and teen agers.

The mother of Rebecca Rowena Randall of Sunnybrook Farm is burdened with a large family and a mortgage. She is much relieved when her more affluent relatives, Aunt Miranda and Jane, offer to take Rebecca off her hands to train and educate her.

Rebecca is a lovable child, although quite a bit different from her Aunt Miranda's rigid standards. There is Latin blood in Rebecca and she will have her outbursts.

As time goes on, the child wins her way slowly into the heart of Miranda just as she does with all who come in contact with her. There is also the suggestion of a future love, cleverly woven into the plot.

An excellent cast has been selected for this production which takes place at Victoria Hall on the afternoons of Saturday, January 14th, and 21st.

Alan Ladd Hurt During Filming

The fight was staged at the old Los Angeles incinerator in Vernon. As part of the action, Stewart, the suave leader of a robbery gang, throws Alan, as a postal inspector, down a long inclined ramp made of concrete. Ladd started to roll down the ramp at a rapid rate, hit a rough and sharp section of concrete which ripped through his trousers and cut his skin in 30-odd places. The accident was caused by the terrific momentum Ladd reached as he rolled over and over.

Recently while on location in Chicago, Alan suffered the first black eye of his screen career when a hand mail-truck was opened and struck him in the face during a chase sequence. In other scenes of "United States Mail" he has received countless bruises, a wrenched knee and other sprains, Alan says that of all his action-crammed films "Two Years Before the Mast" was the only other picture in which he has had a really rugged time, but "United States Mail" tops that one.

Phyllis Calvert plays opposite Ladd in "United States Mail." Lewis Allen directs with Robert Fellows producing.

Officials of the Heather Curling Club on Kensington avenue, Westmount, hung out the "No Curling" sign on Wednesday.

On Tuesday night water dripping from the rafters of the roof formed small lumps on the five playing sheets, making play difficult. It was decided to keep the members off the ice sheets until conditions improve.

This is the first time in the memory of most curlers that weather conditions have caused postponement of matches in early January.

Money Needed To Keep Team Going

No money . . . no team!

Unless a substantial sum of money, is in the till of the N.D.G. Maple Leaf Football Club by kick-off time of the 1950 season, there may not be a local team in the Junior section of the Quebec Rugby Football Union.

Club President Harry Lawrence made the statement this week, pointing out that a tremendous amount of new equipment must be purchased before the next season begins.

Calculating conservatively that it takes more than $55 to equip each player, the President said that new pants, sweaters, cleats and helmets were a must for most of the players as this year's equipment was on the verge of falling apart.

BILL DURNAN TOPS

Goalies Jack Gelineau of Boston and Harry Lumley of Detroit racked up shutouts during the week. Lumley now shares the lead in most number of shutouts with Bill Durnan of Canadiens and Turk Broda of Toronto. Durnan has the best goals-against average. In 35 games he's allowed 73 goals to be scored on him for an average of 2.04.

"There is no point in saying that we can manage with the obsolete equipment that we have at present because if we do that we are only fooling ourselves," the president said, pointing out that it was also increasing the danger of a player being seriously hurt.

"Rather than do that, we will withdraw from the league," he said, and was backed by co-coaches Bill Davies and Solly Mastro on this statement.

Davies and Mastro cited the possibilities of the 1950 squad as two thirds of the 1949 championship team expect to be back in harness and a crop of new possibilities are expected to try out for the remaining ten positions.

"It is a long way off to talk about football I know," backfield coach Davies said, "but it is also a big sum of money which is needed, and we don't expect to be able to collect it overnight."

All three agreed that it was no use in depending on gate receipts from next year's games. This year the local games netted enough money to pay the officials and a few other incidentals, leaving virtually nothing in the till for any purchases to be made.

"We are working under some severe handicaps when it comes to playing our home games," the president said, drawing attention to the small crowds and even smaller collections taken in at the Trenholme Park games last season.

All three voiced a hope that the people of the district would begin to add their support to the team that has taken the Quebec title three out of the last four years, claiming that it would be more than a shame if the team had to fold up on account of the lack of funds.

SPORTIVELY SPEAKING

By George Cochrane

WE NEED IT!

The rain is coming down by the traditional bucket as we tap these words out on the reliable Underwood. The kiddies are supplying their share of precipitation, too, as they sadly leave their skates and pucks at home and walk the streets with little better to do than walk through puddles and make mud pies, occupations which wane in popularity after a few days.

And expend a little pity in the direction of Phil Wimmer, ye cigar loving man who looks after the City of Montreal's sports and recreation programme in this area. Phil has hundreds of boys all set to swing into puck action, kids ranging in age all the way from nine to 19.

But the rains keep tumbling down.

Up in the northern part of this province, the twin cities of Rouyn - Noranda to be a little more precise, the weather has been just as disappointing as the brand which the weatherman at Dorval has been purveying for this locality. But Rouyn has done something about it—and Noranda is going to follow suit.

For in the past few weeks the good burghers of Rouyn have erected an artificial ice arena. It fills a real need in this hustling prosperous mining community. And what Notre Dame de Grace needs is one of the same.

There are lads around Loyola who will tell you that the west end collegians will have an artificial ice plant in the very near future. If so, and if the Loyolians will consent to allowing city teams to play out there, it will prove a tremendous boon to NDG's hordes of hockey - minded youngsters.

As it is now, the hundreds of lads who use the local outdoor rinks get about eight weeks of skating each season, and as the years roll by winter seems to be becoming shorter and shorter. But mere words aren't going to do anyone any good unless they are heard in the right places. The question is: Can something be done about it?

Skiing's standout moment!

In 1933, against all odds, a Canadian ski team blazed to Alpine victory!

Gusts of snow swirled around the mountains at St. Moritz, Switzerland. It was the day of the relay race in the International University Ski Championships. And for the first time Canada was competing . . . racing against many of western Europe's finest skiers.

The unfamiliar Alpine snow took its toll of the Canadians. The fourth-lap skier lagged eight minutes behind the leading Italian teams . . . and faced a steep 1,800-foot climb. But at the storm-blown summit amazed officials saw him sweep in—only 30 seconds behind the leaders. With half a minute to make up, the fifth Canadian streaked into the last lap—a 3,000-foot plunge into the valley. He flashed past the favourites one by one . . . and crossed the line a winner by 45 seconds! Good sportsmanship has won many world friends for Canada . . . just as the spirit of working together has made us one of the world's great nations. These two, sportsmanship and enterprise, keep your opportunities for work and play in Canada . . . unlimited.

The Canadian Ski Championships, together with events of the North American and International University Championships will be held this year at Banff from Feb. 4 to March 5.

Bear Mountain - Ski Meet Off

The Torger Tokle Memorial ski jump which was scheduled for Monday January 2 at Bear Mountain, New York, was postponed indefinitely due to lack of snow.

This is one of the more important meets in New York State who are apparently suffering from the dearth of snow just as we are in the Province of Quebec.

Putters' Social Club To Meet Next Monday

The Westmount Putters Social Club will again resume their interesting socials this coming Monday, January 9, in the Oak Room of the Victoria Hall at 8.00 p.m.

A program of very good movies has been procured and with refreshments rounding out the evening, Mr. George Cairns, president, promises a great get-together.

Anyone who enjoyed putting during the summer in Westmount Park is welcome to attend.

SKI-CYCLING—Victor DeMasters demonstrates in Chicago an attachment on his motorcycle which allows him to ski on snow. The new sport, which provides thrills, actually makes for safer riding on ice and snow.

THE SAME OLD STORY

It was a different football team playing the same old tune in the Rose Bowl on Monday, as the Pacific Coast Conference champions went down to their fifth successive defeat in the New Year's Day classic, Ohio State turning the trick this time by whipping the California Golden Bear, 17-14, before 102,000 startled fans, who had come expecting a California victory, what with the Bears installed as 6 1/2-point favourites on the basis of an undefeated season's record.

But the combination of a great Buckeye ground offensive and some of the dumbest quarterbacking ever seen anywhere on the part of Cal's Bob Celeri, Ohio State proved itself vastly superior, although it took a field goal in the last two minutes of play to win for the Midwesterners. A couple of Ohio backs named Fred Morrison, who gained more yards rushing than the entire California team, and Vic Janowicz, a defensive specialist who cut Cal's throat with three interceptions of awry Celeri passes, were too much for the Golden Bears, who should have lost the game by 30 points, but were aided by three Ohio State fumbles, a couple of dropped forward passes, and some more bonehead quarterbacking by Ohio's George Savich.

But when it came to poor quarterbacking, Celeri was in a class by itself. A sub signal-caller on the Cal team which lost to Northwestern, 20-14, in the 1949 Rose Bowl, Celeri was rated as one big reason why Cal should win the 1950 battle. During the course of the regular season, he had set six all-time Coast passing records. But when the chips were down, Celeri was even worse than the Bears' quarterback last year, and in 1949, Cal could have beaten Northwestern with passable brainwork.

Celeri, the gambler, gambled at the wrong times, passing from his own 5-yard line, calling the wrong plays at the wrong time, and generally stumbling along for sixty minutes. He had a kick blocked, leading to Ohio State's second major, had three passes intercepted (as many as he completed in thirteen attempts), the second interception leading to the first Buckeye touchdown, and gave the Midwesterners their margin of victory with two minutes to go with what could be classed the "Bonehead of the Year".

With time running out, Celeri went back to his own five-yard line to punt. The snap-back was low, so the Cal quarterback decided to run with the ball. Back on the 2-yard line, he changed his mind again, electing to kick instead, booting the ball on the dead run. To say that this was not a good kick would be the understatement of the year, the pigskin rolling out of bounds on the 13-yard line, a net total of minus 2 yards on the punt, since the line of the scrimmage was at the 15. Ohio State promptly sent end Jim Hague back to boot the all-important 3-pointer, and Cal was whipped, and the Coast had lost five in a row in the Rose Bowl.

Pacific Coast football seems to get worse instead of better through the years. In 1946, Alabama whipped Southern Cal, 34-14, in a game in which the score could have been 75-0; in 1947, Illinois walloped U.C.L.A., 34-14, in a game in which the Illinois could have run up any score they pleased; in 1948, Michigan came west to wallop U.S.C., 39-0; in 1949, Northwestern, third place team in the Big Nine, came out to the coast and humiliated proud California, 20-14; and this year, Ohio State went west and won, 17-14, in a game that should have ended about 45-14. The relative strength of the two teams can be shown in the fact that Cal got into Ohio State territory exactly twice in the game, scoring TD's both times.

Pacific Coast football definitely needs a shot in the arm, and if they are hiding any more like Celeri out there, change that to a shot in a head.

Furnace Care Prevents Fire

Fires resulting from faulty stoves, furnaces, boilers, smoke pipes, chimneys and flues cost Canadians almost $7,000,000 in 1948. Originating in the heating system alone, over 8,000 such fires were caused last year through carelessness or indifference in maintaining and handling heating equipment.

Most fires of this nature can be prevented, the Canadian Institute of Plumbing and Heating stated today in a special Fire Prevention Week reminder. A proper check of furnaces and chimneys during the months when the heating system is idle, and repairs to damaged or worn out equipment and cracked chimneys are highly recommended. Chimneys and furnaces should be thoroughly cleaned, especially in homes burning soft or low grades of coal. These precautions will also help cut high fuel bills caused by inefficient heating equipment.

Six tips on cleaning the furnaces are suggested by the Institute:

- (1) Once the chimney has been swept, clean out the pit at the bottom of the chimney.
- (2) Remove all soot from the pipes connecting the furnace to the chimney. Remember that soot retains moisture and will corrode the pipes if allowed to stay indefinitely.
- (3) Pipes should also be checked for holes and loose connections from which obnoxious smoke and dangerous coal gas may escape. These pipes should slope upwards to the chimney.
- (4) The fire box and flue passes should be thoroughly cleaned, and sections checked for air leaks resulting from cracks or other damage.
- (5) Of particular importance is the adjustment of draft regulators and other control and safety apparatus such as commonly found today on mechanically and automatically operated systems.
- (6) Regular inspections pay dividends in safety and health, even when no trouble is apparent.

Proper experience and equipment are necessary for satisfactory inspection and cleaning. Home-owners who feel unable to cope with the job should call upon the services of a qualified heating contractor.

JOE DIMAGGIO STANCE—Outfielder Bill Wilson was sold by Sacramento to the Chicago White Sox for $75,000 and four players. Casey Stengel of the Yankees says the most talked about prospect with an independent minor league club has a stance like Joe DiMaggio's, and looks like a hitter.

Pyramids Were World's First Skyscrapers!

The shortage of building materials has helped to bring about one quiet revolution in the building trade — the substitution of tubular steel for myriad scaffold poles of all sizes that were formerly used for structural work in this country; and as nowadays we see with what dexterity and speed these scaffolds of hollow masts are raised we may well marvel that they were not thought of much earlier in this age of steel.

The oldest of civilizations, however, created a mighty architecture without scaffolding or supporting timber of any sort. Ancient Egypt, mother of civilization, lacked trees, and therefore had practically no timber, yet her building went on incomparably. How was this managed?

In the absence of timber, Egyptians could still make bricks in unlimited numbers; so bricks solved the problem. With their home-made bricks they built vast ramps up which slaves hauled colossal blocks of stone from ground level to the uppermost heights of temple or pyramid.

To the subjects of the Pharaohs there seemed something godlike in these achievements; they believed that their ramps would enable a dead king to step into the starry heavens, there to join the company of the gods. Religious writings of the Egyptians of 550 centuries ago, telling of a dead Pharaoh, declare that "a ramp to the sky is built for him so that he may go up to the sky thereon." These were the first skyscrapers!

Dr. Dewey Speaks at St. Andrew's Church

The Rev. Dr. George F. Dewey told a meeting of the MacGillivray Auxiliary of St. Andrews Church, Westmount, on Tuesday that great changes had occurred in the mission field during the past half century.

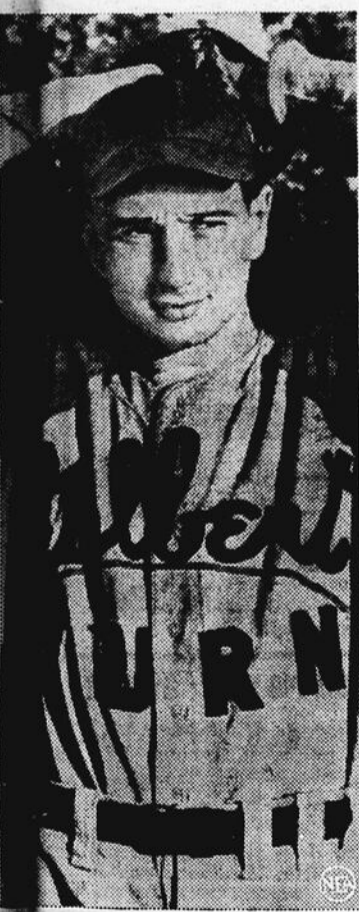

Upheavals in Asia and Africa had necessitated a hurried reappraisal of the missionary work of the world, he said. A challenge had been flung out to the entire missionary field which could not be ignored. Like all good strategists, missionaries would have to take stock of their positions and meet the situation squarely, Dr. Dewey stated.

Communists Create Difficulties
Firstly a deeper understanding of the world's needs must be acquired. A return to prayer was indicated. He cited examples of Burma, Ceylon, India and China as fields where communistic domination was forcing mission workers to leave and return to their home countries. An altogether different world would have to be faced by future missionary leaders he pointed out.

Dr. Dewey was introduced by Mrs. H. K. Gorham, of Circle No. 8. Mrs. A. G. Ray presided at the meeting at which Mrs. A. J. Wright was the soloist.
