WESTMOUNT, FRIDAY, JUNE 29, 1945

PRICE:— THREE CENTS

Local Playgrounds Fully Supervised In Summer Months

The municipal playgrounds, fully supervised for the summer months, will commence a completely planned programme starting this coming week. All three sites, Westmount, Prince Albert and Staynor will operate a similar programme each week. For the first week, a salvage campaign will be held probably in the form of a collection of reading material for the service men who are in dire need of books at the present time.

Each week a different headline event will be featured at the three playgrounds. Handicrafts, sports and games will take up most of the periods. The three centres are the comfort-stations in Westmount and Prince Albert parks and the shack at the Clandeboye playground.

Some of the items on this year's programme include raffiawork, feltwork, oilclothwork, knitting, sewing, softball, kickball, soccer, swimming, volleyball, basketball, horseshoes, putting, checkers, quiet games, picnics and other events.

Parents are urged to send their children to the nearest summer school situated at one of these playgrounds where they will be fully supervised during the day. The supervisors at Staynor are Miss Averil Kieler and Bruce Smail; at Westmount Park there are Miss Violet McCammon, Clary Redding and Recreation Supervisor Jim McCormick; and at Prince Albert playground, Miss Esther Wayland is in charge.

Two swimming periods for girls will be held each week through the co-operation of Mr. Spearman, executive secretary of the Westmount "Y". They will be held each Tuesday and Thursday and will commence this coming week.

Dutch People Welcome Young Canadian Soldier

Lance-Corporal John Hofman, 25, Royal Canadian Army Service Corp, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Hofman, 17 Yorke Avenue, was welcomed by the civic band when he visited his relations who live in the ancient capital of Holland during the course of his Army service overseas.

L/C. Hofman was born in The Hague, in 1920, and came with his parents to this country in King's School, graduated from Westmount High and was employed by the City of Westmount, Parks Department, previous to the outbreak of War.

Enlisting in the R.C.A.S.C., he has seen service in France, Belgium and Holland, and, taking advantage of his tour of duty in the latter country, he visited his grand-parents and numerous uncles and aunts, who gave him a royal welcome, and the band which had been used in the general rejoicing on the occasion of the Netherlands liberation, was again used to welcome the young Canadian soldier who had done his part in the struggle to free the land of his forefathers from the rule of tyranny.

Legion Leader Boosts Benefits

Alex Walker, President of the Canadian Legion at present on a tour of the United Kingdom and the Continent, says that Canadian servicemen overseas appear well pleased with rehabilitation legislation, and said that as a result of his observations in other countries, he will recommend even further benefits for ex-servicemen on his return to Canada.

Mr. Walker declined to specify what benefits he would recommend, but hinted they probably would consist of widening the present monetary grants. The biggest worry for returning servicemen, he said, was for "those first two years" in civilian life when

Westmount Pilot Credited With Final Submarine

What may have been the last German submarine to be sunk by a Canadian Coastal Command pilot, was sunk on May 5.

The pilot was F/O A. A. Bruno, of Westmount, who, when on patrol with a second Coastal Command Liberator, spotted two fully-surfaced U-boats.

"We saw the U-boats from seven miles away," said F/O Bruno. "They were making about eight knots. As we attacked, both U-boats opened fire. Our first stick of depth charges on the first submarine straddled slightly ahead of the conning tower. Its stern came out of the water at an angle of 45 degrees and it sank bow first. Five minutes later bodies, wreckage and scum were seen on the surface of the sea."

The second U-boat was destroyed by the accompanying Liberator, whose skipper, a New Zealand Wing Commander, reported after his attack large air bubbles, wreckage and a V-shaped oil patch 2,000 yards long.

Boys And Girls Given Picnic At Malo Beach

Unity Club boys and girls, treated to a well-organized picnic under the sponsorship of the Rotary Club of Westmount, enjoyed games, races and swimming at Malo Beach last Sunday.

The group, over 65 in number, left Staynor Park at 9 a.m., and proceeded by tramway to the Malo terminus at Lachine, where motorboats were boarded to cross Lake St. Louis for the beach above the Indian Reservation.

Prize winners in the foot racing competition were Miss Pamela Haskett, Bill Carter and Roland Lockett.

The picnic organized by Mr. Burke-Seltzer, director of the Unity Club, was supervised by the Unity Club Picnic Committee, under the chairmanship of Ronnie Brambell.

The next events on the Urban Camp picnic program are trips to King Edward woods for junior Unity Club boys, and to Chambly Basin for senior boys and girls. A bicycle tour of the Island is also on schedule for early July.

Rotarian Gift Benefits Boys

Through an anonymous Rotarian donor and the efforts of Wilf Spearman, Secretary of the Westmount "Y", eight Unity Club boys left Wednesday morning to spend two weeks at the new Y.M.C.A. camp at Isle Perrot.

Stipulated by the Rotary Club of Westmount Youth's Work Committee that the boys must be Active Service Men's sons, the eight selected by Unity Club Junior Boys Committee, were Kenneth and Calder Black, James and Donald Rolfe, George Gariepy, Austin Burnham, Roland Lockett, and Francis Doherty. They were Junior Boys Committee, were by Richard Lord and Don Tinning, Chairman and Vice-Chairman of the Unity Club Junior Boys' Committee.

Captain T. E. Jackson will be the Director of Music when the band of the Montreal Regiment provides the music for the weekly concert in Westmount Park.

The programme of music to be played by the band is as follows:

March, "Sons of the Brave," Bidgood; overture, "The Veteran," Thiele; modern transcription on the Russian melody, "Dark Eyes," Hinchey; patrol, "Siam-ese," Lincke; selection, "The Merry Widow," Lehar; intermission; four rhythmic dances: 1—Russian Caravan Dance, 2—A Day in Spain, 3—Penobscot Indian Dance, 4—Cuban Rhumba; Heywood Jones, Russian dance, "Kukuska," Lehar; Dedication and Benediction from "Les Huguenots," Meyerbeer; march, "British Eighth," Elliott; "God Save the King."

Expected Income Tax Reduction

Predictions of income tax reductions made by Finance Minister Ilsley in general terms some time ago are expected to be realized in practical manner in the coming session of Parliament.

Reductions will likely be framed with the purpose in view of affording greater leeway to those in the lower income brackets from the personal income tax and encouraging business activity through easing taxes on goods consumption and those which tend to discourage investment and risk-taking.

In the personal income tax field it is possible the new budget may provide for removal of the basic tax which applies to the entire income, and which is seven per cent for married persons having incomes of more than $1,200 and ranges up to nine per cent on single persons' incomes in excess of $660 a year.

This action would bring some relief to all tax payers, but especially to the low income group.

Annual Report Submitted At Rotary Dinner By Past President Callard

Recent Rotary Carnival activities were reflected at the weekly Club get-together, when Rotarian Walter Murray presented Past President's prizes for the best decorated booth to Tom Nugent, who was responsible for the Fish Pond, and Charlie Wright, who operated the canned salmon concession.

The President's Prize for the most efficiently operated booth was won by Frank Carlin, who, on receiving his prize, declared that he was terribly embarrassed at receiving the award, but when Rotarian Whittaker, who was in the chair, offered to relieve him of the cause of his discomfort, the chairman's offer was not accepted.

Rotarian T. Davies reminded members of the Westmount Rotary Club's Annual Golf Tournament, which is being held over the Grovehill Golf course on July 10th.

The Honorary Treasurer and the Honorary Secretary's annual reports were read, and on motions duly seconded were accepted as read.

Retiring President Callard then submitted his annual report, which was prefaced by a reverent tribute to Rotarians who had died during the year, and frank acknowledgment of the support extended to him while acting as President of the Westmount Rotary Club.

A copy of the financial statement, which shows the sound financial condition of the organization, despite heavy expenditures to worthwhile community projects, was given each member before dinner began.

The work of the Chairmen of the various Rotary Committees and the efforts of the Committee members in their various activities drew forth remarks of high appreciation from President Callard.

At the conclusion of his Presidential report Mr. Callard was welcomed in the Past Presidents' Club and presented with a Past Presidents' button by Rotarian Whittaker.

President A. A. Boire then took over the duties of chairman and concluded his appreciative eulogy of Rotarian Callard's work by presenting the retiring official with a suitably inscribed marble desk stand in commemoration of Rotarian Callard's contribution to the Club during his term of office.

The work of Stan Cayford, P. Delgado, E. Evarson, and Bill Girard during the preparation for the Carnival was the subject of favourable comment by the retiring President.

HONOURED

Captain James H. Graham, son of the late Peter Graham and of Mrs. Graham, is mentioned in dispatches for gallant and distinguished service while serving with the Canadian Army overseas.

His wife, the former Lillian J. Woods, lives with their young daughter Sandra at 4131 St. Catherine street west.

Before enlisting in the Army, Captain Graham was in the employ of the T. Eaton Company, Montreal.

Rubble Valuable For Construction

Planning has long been proceeding quietly for the new and better Britain that is to rise like a phoenix from the ashes of the enemy's bombing raids. Timber for British homes is now being felled in Canadian forests, and other building materials are already being shipped across the Atlantic.

The British themselves are hard at work, as is proved by a score of rubble heaps dotted around London. These heaps are the remains of bombed buildings which have been cleared away and carefully sorted. There are three categories of salvage material: wood and metal which can be used again; rubble which becomes the hard core of construction work; and the finer grained material and dust which is being used for filling in marshes. Rubble makes the best of all bases for runways on aerodromes, but no less important is its use for the roadways which later will link up the new housing projects all over the country.

BIRTH

To Mr. and Mrs. Keith Charters, 218 Metcalfe Avenue, at the Royal Victoria Hospital on June 26th, 1945, a son, Kenneth. Mrs. K. Charters is the former Betty Deadman.

Up to the end of March, 1945, Canadian warships had taken part in the sinking of 23 submarines, the probable sinking of eight more and the probable damaging of seven others.

Pulhems, the system of physical and mental classification used by the Canadian Army, has been of great value in personnel selection.

HITTING THE BREEZE IN PUSHER PLANE

Problem of pilot leaving the cockpit of a pusher-type plane by parachute in case of emergency has been solved by an automatic device perfected by Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corp., in California. Demonstrated by inventor, Frank Davis, above, release of a safety catch disengages the pilot's harness and drops the seat sharply to the lowered position, where it pivots forward, throwing pilot down and clear of pusher prop.

Y's Chats

Vacation Land

Vacation Land at Westmount Y. was officially opened June 25th when Mr. Atkinson, Chairman of the Boys' Work Committee gave the opening address in which he recalled some of the achievements of the Westmount boys of other years, and directed the thoughts of those present to the theme for the week—"Friendship."

Monday's Events

Speaker—Mr. J. G. Atkinson. Games both outside in the park and inside in the gym—treasure hunt up on Westmount Mountain—swimming.

Bob Eden, a Hi-Y boy, laid the trail for the treasure hunt. Unfortunately we were caught in the thunder showers, and our treasure hunt was out short. But, as everybody had a share of a huge watermelon, everybody was happy.

Tuesday's Events

Division into groups—Orioles, leader, Ian Smith; Beavers, leader, Ron George; Flying Tigers, leader, Tom Parrott; Eagles, leader, Peter Swift.

Visit to Pepsi-Cola Plant where besides seeing the plant in operation, the boys were given Pepsi-Cola to drink and rulers and dominoes. Swimming—out of 52 boys registered only 15 boys were unable to swim the length of the pool. One of the aims of the Vacation Land is that "Every Boy be a Swimmer" by the end of the season. Of the 15 boys, five have already made definite headway. The leaders, Parrott, Smith, George and Swift were all qualified swimmers and are vying with each other as to whose team can be first in having every member a swimmer.

Wednesday's Events

At Assembly, Mr. Patterson, of the Boy Scouts' Association, talked to the boys about the Scouts and the friendship work they are doing, especially in the rebuilding of the lives and ambitions of boys in recently occupied countries. The opening of the ball schedule began with the Orioles vs. Flying Tigers 17-8, and the Beavers vs. Eagles, 6-2. Score of points to date, Eagles 190, Beavers 185, Flying Tigers 180, Orioles 220. Ian Smith left for Parrott today and Tom Sparrow takes his place. The scavenger hunt, run by the Eagles, came off very well.

As the write-up must be in by Wednesday night, each week's account will be from Wednesday to Wednesday.

The following boys are planning a week-end trip to Perrot—Ron George, John Nourse, Paul Van der Slice, Vincent Roberts, Michael Hewton, Lawrence Goode, Owen Clarkin, Laurie Bennet, Peter Holland, Ian Beckett. They will leave Westmount Station Saturday at 12.15 and return Monday.

Unity Club Gets Paddling Offer

Bruce Small, Playground Supervisor of Stagnor Park, obtained invitations from Rupert Binmore, Past-Commodore, and Eric Radford, Commodore of the Cartierville Boating Club, for Unity Club Boys and Girls to make use of the "Back River" aquatic club facilities on Saturday afternoons.

About fifteen boys and girls are expected to take advantage of the Boating Club's gesture and proceed to Cartierville at 2.30 p.m. Saturday afternoon for their first paddling lessons and swim. After the water sports, Unity Club members will be guests of the C.B.C. executive at a "Tea Party."

A. G. Burke-Seltzer, director of the Unity Club, who raced under the Valois Boating Club colours will assist in coaching Unity Boys in racing-canoe paddling technique.

All Unity Club members over fifteen years of age, have been invited to attend the Cartierville Boating Club Regatta on July 29th.

FIFTY THOUSAND HOUSES

In a recent statement, Finance Minister Dingley outlined measures being taken to promote the construction of at least 50,000 housing units during the next year. The first step is providing more materials, especially critical materials like brick, soil pipe, lumber, bathtubs and furnaces. Then labor must be found, and a senior officer is being appointed in the Department of Labor to devote all his time to the field of construction.

Finally, the National Housing Act helps out on financing new homes, both individually and in groups. Homes for veterans on farms and small holdings can be built under the Veterans' Land Act.

In addition, Wartime Housing Limited, a government organization, has put up 1,123 houses for rent to ex-members of the armed forces or to dependents of those still in the service, and another 1,414 are under way.

row, Leslie Syvret, Gillies Ross, Laurie Bennett, Jim Lough, Tim Collinge, Howard Rosen, James Lough, Hadden Whitelaw, Ken Parrott, Ron Hough.

Eagles—Peter Swift, Vincent Roberts, John Nourse, Ian Beckett, Owen Clarkin, Alfred Clark, Bernard Downes, David Bunclark, John Dorrance, Peter Holland, Kissy Goode, Allen Smith.

Some boys are not assigned to teams yet, but by next week everybody will be on a team.

Non-Arrival Of Soldier Vote Prolongs Verdict

Just so soon as the ballot boxes containing the votes of armed services members arrive here, a recount of the total number of votes, civilian and soldier, will take place to determine the Member of Parliament for the Westmount-St. Antoine constituency. Such is the judgment of Chief Justice Bond in the Superior Court.

Two of the candidates were represented at the court proceedings. They were Major-Gen. C. B. Price, D.S.O., D.C.M., Progressive Conservative candidate in St. Antoine-Westmount, represented by Kenneth Wilson, K.C., and Hon. D. C. Abbott, Minister for Naval Affairs, who was declared elected by 69 votes at the returning officer's count of the ballots. He was represented by John G. Ahern, K.C.

T. R. Burrows, returning officer for the division, advised the court that in a circular letter sent out by Jules Castonguay, chief electoral officer at Ottawa, it was indicated that the ballot boxes from overseas were expected to be available by the middle of July.

In view of this information His Lordship ordered the postponement.

Nine large sacks containing the civilian ballots were produced in the courtroom by Mr. Burrows. He was directed to keep them in his charge until the date of the recount. Some 30,000 votes were cast in the division at the June 11 poll, of which, it was indicated, approximately 2,400 are soldier votes.

Varied Lessons Are Continued For Boys Group

Summer lessons for Unity Club members of High School age, sponsored by the Rotary Club of Westmount, began Wednesday morning, when a start was made in several brief courses in English, "word-meaning," "word-pronunciation," and spelling, geometry, botany, chemistry and an introduction to geology.

The courses have been created with an effort to avoid any laborious study, but tend more towards short educational lectures to develop a most natural interest in the subjects. The classes generally develop into discussion groups after a period of questions and answers. The "school" is conducted by and for Unity Club members only. There is no "school" or club fee. A student desiring to attend lectures must first enroll as a Unity Club member.

Second In Series Teen-Age Dances

The second of a series of Summer Teen-Age Dances for Unity Club members and friends is scheduled for tonight at 8.30 o'clock in the gym at the Westmount 'Y'.

Unity Club dances, sponsored by the Youth Work Committee of Rotary Club of Westmount and the co-operative efforts of Mr. Wilf Spearman, Secretary of the Westmount 'Y', bring together young people of the lower Westmount district for organized "after-lark" recreation that has been found lacking in the community during the summer months.

The dance this evening was organized by the Unity Club Dance Committee under the Chairmanship of Richard Black and following committee members, Miss Iris Wooten, Miss Phyllis Gallant, Miss Jean Koski, Kevin Mooney, Ian Campbell, Norman Kerr and Doug Woodham.

Members and friends will dance to an electrical record player and amplifying system. The well-known local pianist—"Canadian King of Boogie" Oscar Petersen is being invited to entertain. Refreshments will be served at 10.30 p.m.

The United States is the world's largest importer of bananas. In pre-war years about 50,000,000 stems—or nearly half the world's supply—were imported every year.

RIDE 'IM, COWBOY!

Zombie may be a rum concoction for most persons, but to riding academy proprietor Victor Kleinert of Chicago, 23-month-old Zombie is the first zebra to be saddle-broken.

MENTIONED IN DESPATCHES

In a delayed release of Servicemen who were honored in the King's Birthday Honors List are found the names of four local residents. Aircraftman E. B. Stone, 3442 Melrose Avenue; F/O. J. P. C. Bauset, 4623 Lacombe Avenue; J. A. Soden, 2209 Prud'homme Avenue, and W. Marsden, Grenier Avenue, all of whom were mentioned in dispatches.

HOME SAFETY

More than half of the home accidents happen outside the house.

Keep the porch, steps and walks clear of children's toys such as wagons, roller skates, garden tools such as lawn mowers, upturned rakes; nail-studded boards and broken glass. Keep swings and other play equipment in repair.

Before climbing a step ladder, see that the spreader is fully extended and the footing firm. If the ladder is to stand on a concrete sidewalk or smooth surface, get some one to keep the ladder from sliding. Use a board under the base on soft ground. Face the ladder when climbing; don't lean too far out or attempt to carry too heavy a load.

When you clean outside windows, use a ladder and move it frequently to reach window easily. Sitting on a window sill is definitely unsafe even for first floor windows. It's easier and safer when you have to use a bucket to pull it up by means of a rope. Use an "S" shaped hook to hang the bucket on the ladder rungs.

Spading and other heavy work in the garden should be taken in small doses at first to avoid overtiring and muscle strain. As a protection against sunstroke and heat exhaustion, take a short rest period in the shade every hour and always wear a headcovering.

As a precaution against poisoning, lock away sprays, insecticides, lye, etc., after use.

Teach children to watch where they throw things.

Lucky Buyers Receive Prizes

Every nickel spent at the recent Rotary Carnival does a great deal of good even although you did not win many prizes yourself, you have the satisfaction of knowing that it was money which was spent in a worthy cause and which will bear fruit at a future date.

There were several lucky people who visited the Carnival, who do not have to wait for that future date to see the result of their investment. Their names follow:

Persian lamb coat, G. Fontaine, 3355 Lasalle Blvd., Verdun; diamond ring, Ruth Butson, 12 Isabella Street, Toronto; Aynsley, dinner service, Stanley Gargas, 589 Archambault Ave., Montreal; chest of Silver, G. Blackburn, 2179 Addington Ave., Montreal; Wrist Watch, Mrs. J. Rhind, 30 Dufferin Road, Hampstead; oil painting, S. Litwin, 266 Notre Dame W., Montreal; floor lamp, Helen Deize, 389 St. James St., Montreal; table lamp, R. S. Taylor, 1461 Mountain St., Apt. 26, Montreal; Royal Doulton figure, Lena Woods, 1489 Mountain St., Apt. 30, Montreal; one ton coal, Mrs. Peters, Central Cigar Store, Huntingdon, Que.

The copper guessing contest (1023 coppers) was won by: W. C. Gunn, 85A Vitre St. W., and G. Wallace, 4646 Roslyn Ave.

THEY KNOW WHAT'S WRONG

The whole structure of human society rests on character.

A list of sixteen bad habits was handed to two groups of women, and the members were asked to rearrange the order of the habits, placing the most anti-social habit at the top, and the least anti-social habit at the bottom.

One group was comprised entirely of young women who were inmates of reform institutions. The other group was comprised of university graduates.

The strange feature of the experiment was that the institutional girls, some of whom were morons, listed the habits in almost identically the same order as the college girls.

The conclusion seems to be that a knowledge of the relative rightness or wrongness of an action has no relation to conduct or character. People cannot be reformed by telling them that this action is right and that one wrong. The chances are that even the dangerous criminal knows right and wrong about as well as the average citizen.

When character is lacking, education increases the ability of the person to make trouble. The whole structure of human society rests on character.

MOTORING IN ENGLAND

England, like most European countries, requires a rigid test before one is permitted to drive a motor car. The test is compulsory, and there is no way of evading it, or "fixing" matters with the officials. Those who try to do so are likely to land in quod, which is the British equivalent for what Americans call the coop.

In order to be permitted to drive a car, one must make written application, filling out and signing a legal document in which the pedigree is fairly well revealed. A fee of five shillings ($1.25) is required. Then he is given a Provincial License, which allows him to operate a car, but only with an experienced driver at his side. He must display large cards, bearing the letter "L" in red, on the front and rear of his car. These L-plates, as they are called, are regulated as to size and style by the law. If he fails to comply with these regulations, there is a heavy penalty, rigidly enforced, and with no possibility of evasions.

Some time within three or four weeks, he is cited to appear at a given location for his test. An official of the Ministry of Transport appears, and the applicant is given a thorough work-out at the steering wheel. He must demonstrate, with the official at his side, his ability in driving through traffic, in making the various signals required by law, in reading signs and license plates at a distance, in starting and stopping properly, in making right and left turns in harmony with the exacting highway code, in backing his car into a cramped place, in turning on a narrow street without touching either curb, and in backing his car up a lane that is both narrow and steep, and yet keeping in the center of the lane. These are but a few of the things that he must do. The official at his elbow is grading him, meanwhile, on a card.

A third of all applicants, according to statistics over a period of time, are dropped.

That's the way it is in England. In Canada and the United States, any Tom, Dick and Harry, even if half blind and with a wooden leg, can get away with driving a motor car.

PRICE OF SOPHISTICATION

It is amusing to contemplate the price we pay for the pleasure of appearing sophisticated, writes William Feather.

When a man and his wife leave the prairies for a visit to New York City, the wife is likely to buy a trunkful of new clothes, although during a week in the big city she may not see a person she ever saw before or will see again.

The man in turn will pass out tips a hundred per cent too high to porters, doormen, waiters, headwaiters, and ticket concessionaires, to impress these strange impersonal servants that he is a guy who knows his way about.

This quirk in human nature affords a rich harvest to those who entertain the visitors in New York.

THE FORUM

Conducted by HOWARD S. ROSS, K.C., D.C.L.

In Which Subjects of General Interest Are Discussed

The opinions expressed in this Forum are not necessarily those of this newspaper, and it does not accept responsibility for them.

Dr. Meakins, Dean of the Medical Faculty of McGill University, during the course of his interesting address to the graduates, stated in part: "I believe we need more nurses specially trained in administration, education, public health, industry, operating room technique, psychiatry, midwifery, tuberculosis, and convalescence; these specialists should be supplied with technical assistants, nursing aides and trained attendants, both of whom would fill an increasingly important role."

Years ago a young Russian revolutionary named Scriabin adopted as his pseudonym the word "Molotov." It means "the hammer." Molotov was the name spoken and printed more frequently than any other during the first week of the San Francisco Conference. The hammer rang the conference anvil often with blows which resounded throughout the world. Evidently Russia was reminding the nations the the arm which swung the hammer is very strong and must be reckoned with even as to choosing chairmen of committees. There was a victory for China when the sponsoring governments accepted three Chinese proposals for the amendment of the Dumbarton Oaks Charter. They involved the specific provision that the settlement of disputes must be by the principles of justice and international law, that the assembly shall be responsible for the development and revision of that law, and that the economic and social council should specifically provide for the promotion of educational and other forms of cultural cooperation.

Miss F. Munroe, R.N., superintendent of Nurses at Royal Victoria Hospital, stated recently when addressing the graduating class, emphasized the fact that "nurses graduating today have more opportunities than ever before. Nursing is not one of those occupations which will fold up when the war is over, it is just as necessary in peace-time as in war-time. No scheme of social security or health insurance can possibly function without us. There is little or no male competition. Men like to tell us how to nurse, but rarely wish to take a hand in the work themselves."

Dr. Livingstone (of the family of the great medical missionary) has completed a long service in the Arctic. He has served in many areas and latterly at Aklavik in the MacKenzie delta on the shores of the Arctic ocean. As a government physician he practiced there in both the Anglican and Roman Catholic hospitals. In common with most doctors, constables, trappers and traders in the north, the approach to the natives, but he deplores religious divisions in realizes it is unavoidable at present and for some time to come. He realizes fully the many difficulties in dealing with the Indians and Eskimos. If they are coddled in the white man's schools, they are unfitted for their struggle with the elements in the loneliness and ice. He said the natives are learning the white man's methods and many Eskimos make $5,000 a year selling furs, and the Indians have forsaken the paddle for the powerboat.

Bishop Francis J. McConnell came out of retirement to speak recently to the Methodist Social Union at Boston. He pointed out the dangers of what he called secular democracy, as contrasted with God-guided democracy. He claimed that in a democracy which has no spiritual motive, where "liberty, equality and fraternity" are the watch-words, the danger is that a few selfish men, having liberty, will use it to gain unfair control. Then there will be very little liberty for the dispossessed, and not much equality and less fraternity. Government of the people, by the people, for the people, is a dangerous doctrine unless the people are under God rather than under their own impulses.

War hastened the development of silicone rubber, an insulating compound that remains elastic even in terrific heat.

War hastened the building for all purposes a midge 3-horse power motor that weighs only one-fifth as much as pre-war motors of similar power.

Now showing up defects in vital castings for warships, tanks and planes, 1,000,000-volt X-ray machines will increase the safety of our peace-time lives.

Dreamers were a sorry lot. Today, they're quite contented, Building castles in the air—All of them fully rented.

A leading American journal usually friendly to the Government, states some of the tasks which confront President Truman, to be: "He must find out from Mr. Churchill the extent to which Britain intends to attempt to re-erect a balance-of-power system in Europe, and he must make it clear how far Britain can rely on American support in maintaining that system. He must find out from Mr. Stalin the basis of Russian suspicions of American designs, both in Europe and in Asia, and he must discover what means—if any—will erase these suspicions. He must arrive at an agreement with Russia and England for the treatment of Germany and with Russia and England for the treatment of China, including Mongolia, Manchuria and Korea, and with all the Allies for the treatment of Japan and of the former European colonies in southeastern Asia and the south Pacific."

By reason of its position on the globe, Canada is destined to become a crossroads of tremendous strategic importance in the world of tomorrow. D. R. MacLaren, superintendent of passenger service, Trans-Canada Air Lines, told the Mid-Canada Air Conference at Winnipeg. "The people of Canada are fully aware of this," he said, "and of the necessity for the nations to work together in peaceful co-operation sharing fruitfully the freedom of the air as they once shared the freedom of the seas."

"As railway operators we are not dismayed by reconstruction problems," said R. C. Vaughan, chairman and president, Canadian National Railways, addressing a Kiwanis Club, London, Ont. "We are planning and we are prepared to meet them. We look for the cordial co-operation of the people of Canada to help us attain this new era of prosperity and security which we all desire, not for ourselves alone but for the future generations of Canadians."

Simple Tombstone to Mark Roosevelt Grave

Plans for his simple tombstone, minus all carving and decoration, were drawn up by President Roosevelt himself. The monument is sketched here as it will appear on the rose garden grave at Hyde Park. The stone will be eight feet long, four feet wide, three feet tall, and will bear only this inscription: FRANKLIN DELANO ROOSEVELT, 1882-1945—ANNA ELEANOR ROOSEVELT, 1884-19—. The late President had expressed the wish that his wife be buried beside him.

KROON-BOURKE

The sacristy of the Church of the Ascension of Our Lord was the scene of a quiet wedding ceremony when Frances Lillian Elizabeth (Betty), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Bourke, 26 Melbourne Avenue, was united in marriage to Lieutenant Frederick S. Kroon, Royal Netherlands Naval Air Service, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Kroon, of New York.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of blush satin and a coronet of orange blossoms which held her veil of tulle illusion. She carried a shower bouquet of pink roses.

Mrs. Arthur Brown, matron of honour, the bride's only attendant, wore a gown of pearl-grey crepe with a tiny hat to match and carried a bouquet of deep red roses.

Pilot Officer Philip Tourgis, R.C.A.F., acted as best man for Lieutenant Kroon.

PRICE CONTROL AND RATION NEWS

Q.—When will the next coupons for canning sugar become valid?

A.—The remaining ten extra coupons to be used for canning sugar will become valid on July 19. These coupons, of course, may be used for the purchase of jams, jellies, etc., if you do not plan to do any home canning.

Q.—Is there a ceiling price on mushrooms or asparagus?

A.—No. A ceiling has not been set on the prices of either of these two vegetables grown locally. There is, however, a ceiling price on imported mushrooms and asparagus.

Q.—Since the sugar ration has been cut how much sugar can I buy with one coupon?

A.—The value of the sugar coupon has not been cut. It is good for the purchase of one pound of sugar. The sugar cut is effective this month. There will be only one sugar coupon becoming due, instead of two during the month.

Q.—I don't object to our sugar ration being decreased in order to help feed Europe, but I do object to some of our sugar being used to make beer and hard liquor. Just how much is used?

A.—Contrary to all the rumors and false reports circulating about the country, absolutely no sugar is used for the brewing of beer or hard liquors in Canada.

Q.—I operate a hotel at a summer resort. How often am I entitled to collect coupons from guests' ration book?

A.—Coupons for rationed goods may be collected from residents in hotels, boarding houses and summer tourist homes every four weeks instead of every two weeks. In the case of new residents or temporary summer residents, no coupons are to be collected until the end of the first four weeks' stay and ration books need not be taken from persons staying less than four weeks.

Q.—Is it alright for me to use the coupons intended for sugar for canning for preserves, honey or corn syrup?

A.—Certainly you may use the sugar for canning coupons for any type of preserves, honey or corn syrup.

NURSE HONOURED BY PRESENTATION DINNER AND GIFTS

On the occasion of her leaving the employ of the Simonds Canada Saw Ltd., where she had acted as medical nurse for the past three years, Miss Hazel M. McMahon, R.N., second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McMahon, Arundel, Que., and a graduate of the Homeopathic Hospital, was entertained at a dinner by the firm officials and employees.

Speaking on behalf of the office and shop employees Mr. W. Daoust stated that Nurse McMahon had fulfilled her duties in a manner which reflected the greatest credit on the nursing profession, and her own ability as a nurse. He then presented Miss McMahon with a set of travelling bags, jewelry, a sum of money and a dozen roses, and expressed the best wishes of everyone for her future welfare.

C.P. Branch No. 96

The Ladies' Auxiliary, Canadian Pacific (Que. No. 96) Branch of the Canadian Legion held their regular monthly meeting at the Club Rooms.

The President, Mrs. A. Lyle, opened the meeting with the Legion Ritual, welcomed the members and extended congratulations to Miss Rosamond A. Esling, whose brother, Lieutenant A. J. C. Esling of the 1st Parachute Battalion, after some five years of service overseas, has arrived home. Sympathy was also expressed for Mrs. W. Gatenby and the Misses Gatenby on the death of a dear relative.

Initiation of new members was conducted by the President, when Mrs. Thomas Chambers, Mrs. J. I. Frederick and Mrs. W. Gray were enrolled and presented with corsages of carnations provided by Mrs. Tanner.

Committee reports showed considerable activity, and that of the Hospital Committee stated that visits had been made to the Montreal General Hospital on two occasions and comforts distributed to some eighty patients by Mrs. N. H. Chalmers, Mrs. D. McIntyre, Mrs. R. Thomas, Mrs. W. E. Henderson and Miss W. Atkinson.

Mrs. Chalmers reported attending the monthly meeting of the Canadian Legion Hospital Committee, and appeals were made for donors to the legion blood bank, musical instruments for the instruction and rehabilitation of patients at St. Anne's Hospital, and also for pajamas for veterans resident at the Notre Dame de la Merci Hospital. MISS MABEL LUCILLE HOLLAND AND THOMAS MITCHELL MILLS last appeal it was decided to send a dozen pairs of pajamas.

Whose engagement is announced. Their wedding will take place early in August. Miss Holland is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Holland, Dufferin Road, Hampstead. Mr. Mills is the younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mills, Lansdowne Avenue, Westmount.

Notes from the Suggestion Box, read by Mrs. Legault, revealed that members of the Armed Forces were well pleased, and appreciated the services rendered at the Welcome Room.

Mrs. R. A. Gunton gave a report of the Birthday Party, and also of the Family Bingo Party at which Miss Eva A. Skelton gave some very amusing impersonations. That both events had been enjoyed and appreciated was evinced by the vote of thanks tendered Mr. and Mrs. Gunton for their untiring efforts on behalf of the Auxiliary.

Mrs. A. Yeudall, assisted by Miss V. Grant, was appointed to take charge of the Penny a Day Committee, which was organized to raise funds for the Auxiliary during the summer recess. Envelopes are being forwarded to all members, and Mrs. Bowes-Lyon requested anyone having articles for the Rummage Sale to phone her at YO. 4605 and she would arrange for collection of same.

Mrs. W. L. Payne gave a very interesting account of the Provincial Command Ladies' Auxiliary Convention, at which our Auxiliary was represented by Mrs. W. L. Payne, Mrs. M. Storrer, Mrs. L. E. Hamson, Mrs. W. E. Henderson, Mrs. H. R. Unsworth, Mrs. D. I. G. Bowes-Lyon and Mrs. C. Major. An item of particular interest was the visit to the Field of Honour at Pointe Claire, where a Memorial Service was held and the delegates placed flags and poppies on the graves of our deceased comrades.

Miss Edna M. Lyle reported that the Tennis Tournament was now finished and had resulted in a close contest, Miss Patricia Young being the winner of the trophy.

The business session was followed by a pleasant social hour spent in Quiz Games, under the direction of Miss Edna M. Lyle and Mrs. D. Matheson.

Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Gunton and her committee. Meetings will be resumed on the third Thursday of September.

JELLIED CHERRY SALADS

Pick over, wash and pit $\frac{1}{2}$ pound sweet black cherries (or enough to give 1 cup, when pitted), saving the cherry pits and any juice that comes from the fruit. Stuff each cherry with a salted roasted peanut. Measure 1 tablespoon plain unflavored gelatin into a bowl and cover with $\frac{1}{4}$ cup cold water. Measure any juice that may have come from the cherries and add sufficient boiling water to bring measure to 1 $\frac{1}{4}$ cups. Add the cherry pits and $\frac{1}{2}$ cup granulated sugar. Bring to the boil, stirring until sugar is dissolved, then boil 2 minutes and strain, and add the softened gelatin to strained mixture and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Stir in $\frac{1}{4}$ cup lemon juice. Chill, with occasional stirring, until just beginning to thicken, but not set. Fold in the stuffed cherries and turn into moulds which have been rinsed with cold water. Chill until set. For serving, unmould on a bed of crisp watercress or lettuce. Serve with mayonnaise or other thick dressing.

SUGAR RATION CUT STARTED THIS MONTH

On Thursday, June 21 only one coupon, No. 60, became valid for a pound of sugar instead of the two coupons that housewives have become accustomed to using on the third Thursday of every month. This was the first installment in the five pound per person reduction in the Canadian sugar ration which is being spread over the last seven months of the year.

This cut in monthly allotments occurs in June, July, August, October and December the Wartime Prices and Trade Board has announced. The regular ration of two pounds will be received in September and November.

Now on an equal per capita consumption basis the peoples of Great Britain, United States and Canada are all going on reduced sugar rations to provide the requirements of our allies and liberated countries. Canada's share of the three way cut amounts to 200 million pounds.

This cut is being shared by home consumers and industrial users including bakers, biscuit and cereal makers, soft drink and confectionery makers, candy, jam and wine manufacturers.

To meet the unusual demand created by post-war conditions, the world sugar stock will be down to a dangerous minimum by the end of the year. Production which has been lowered for the past four years by Japanese occupation of Java and the Philippines was cut again this year by drought and hurricanes in Cuba and the other West Indies sources. Though free the Philippines will have no sugar to ship for sixteen months, it is stated.

will be used to send sugar and jam to the soldiers overseas.

A superb sauce for vanilla ice cream is crushed and sweetened strawberries—that's all!

Last Meeting

The last meeting of the Order of the True Kindred, until the resumption of activities in the Fall was held this week.

This ancient women's organization has been working quietly and efficiently for the past fourteen years in Montreal, clothing babes and orphans who are in need regardless of race, creed, or color.

Many a needy babe has received a beautiful layette from this group of Christian workers, whose motto is "We help others."

Through the efforts of the Misses Gertrude Rooney and Carol Ann Cuddihy, assisted by Carol McDonnell, the above amount was raised and turned over to Mrs. J. F. Bryant, President of St. McDonnell, a sum of $14.68 was the ladies in the district for their help, also to the merchants on Queen Mary Road. This amount

Britain-bound and headed for the continent with at least part of the answer to the insistent demands of Canadian troops still in Europe for Canadian-type entertainment is this group of dancers, including Westenders who have in years past been responsible for considerable enjoyment brought to men and women of the active service forces stationed within M.D. 4.

Pictured are young women of The Blue Bell Bullets' Revue, all of them Montreal telephone workers, with Peter Miller of the Speirs-Miller School of Dancing who has been their devoted instructor and is a veteran of the Great War. This group, together with the men of this local civilian concert party who were pictured in last week's Examiner, left Montreal by train for Halifax last Sunday afternoon and on Tuesday morning sailed for overseas in the Ile de France.

Their three months' journey is made possible through the generous support of their employers and of members of the Auxiliary Aid Association, Telephone Employees of Montreal Fund, many of whom are long-time residents of this community.

HILDA RICHMOND

Mrs. Harvey noticed that John and Bettie did not look happy when they returned from a visit to their Aunt Helen. Sooner or later she would learn what was the matter; she would not ask.

After a little whispering together, John said, "Mother, is there enough money in my band and Bettie's to buy a pretty dish like Aunt Helen's?"

"Do you want to buy a dish like Aunt Helen's?" asked Mrs. Harvey.

Then it came out that when Aunt Helen had invited them to help themselves to candy out of the dish, both children had taken hold of it, and then, though they did not know how it happened, it broke.

"And you want to replace the dish now?" said Mrs. Harvey.

The children tearfully owned that they had permission only to help themselves to candy out of the dish, but they had been naughty and had played with the dish and broken it, and now they were anxious to buy another as near like it as they could.

"Do you think," said Bettie, "that it will take my two shiny half-dollars that Grandfather gave me for my birthday?" Both children looked very solemn, but a bargain is a bargain, and they had decided, when talking things over with their mother some time before, that if they broke or damaged anything belonging to another person it was only fair to make the matter right.

During the conversation a caller had come in, and when the children went to get their banks, she said to Mrs. Harvey, "Are you really going to let those poor children use their money to replace that dish? Don't you think you are hard on them?"

"I don't think so," said Mrs. Harvey. "They both know that it is wrong to meddle. What would you do in such a case if it were Jack and Jan?"

"Well," said Mrs. Crosby, "I would explain that what they had done was very, very naughty, and probably I would not let them visit that house again for a long time."

"Here come Jack and Jan," said Mrs. Harvey. "Come right in," she called hospitably.

The children sat down and remained quiet for a few minutes and then they began to run about the room. "Oh! see here," said Jan, taking a new book from the table. "Isn't this pretty?" Jack had found a paper weight and was trying to carry it to his mother.

"Children, children! how often have I told you not to touch other people's things? Put that book right down, Jan—and Jack, let that paper weight alone."

The children obeyed sulkily. In a minute or two, however, they found other things they wanted to see and they could not resist handling them. After they had gone, John and Bettie came back from Aunt Helen's with the information that the dish had cost one dollar. So fifty cents was counted out of John's bank and fifty cents out of Bettie's, and their mother went with them to buy a new dish.

After they had gone happily out to play, Aunt Helen said, "Mary, I used to think you were too severe with your John and Bettie, but when I compare your children with others, I think you are a wonderful mother."

"Thank you, Helen," said Mrs. Harvey. "Fred and I decided when the children came that we wanted them to be welcome guests in the homes of our friends. It is not the fault of children when they are unpopular; it is the fault of their parents."

MAKE PEWTER GLOW

Pewter, when properly cleaned, glows with an attractive, soft lustre. To keep it that way or to restore pieces that have become blackened through neglect, either of the following methods will prove successful, leaving the pewter looking like new.

1. Mix a soft paste of ammonia or denatured alcohol and a mild abrasive. Apply with a clean cloth and allow to remain until dry. Polish with a piece of flannel or other soft material.

2. In the juice of one lemon dissolve two tablespoonfuls of baking soda. Combine thoroughly and rub the pewter with the mixture, using the lemon rind as sponge. Rinse very thoroughly. This is most important, for if the lemon juice is not entirely removed, it may cause corrosion of the metal.

FRESH STRAWBERRY ICE-CREAM

It's easy to make if you have a mechanical refrigerator. Mix 2 1/4 cups (1 pint) 18% cream, 1/2 cup fine granulated sugar, 1/4 cup corn syrup and 1/2 teaspoon vanilla. Turn into a freezing tray and freeze until just firm (the cold control of your refrigerator should be set at its coldest point). Cut the firm cream mixture into cubes and turn out into a chilled bowl. Beat until smooth and fluffy (lucky is she who has an electric beater, but hand-power does the job too). Fold in 1 cup crushed strawberries and, to bring out their flavor, 2 tablespoons lemon juice. Freeze again until firm, stirring once or twice to keep the strawberries suspended.

Serve strawberries whole, stems still on—arranged around a little mound of fruit sugar on each individual plate—now there's dessert for you! Just dip and eat. What about serving with your berries, some very crisp small wafers spread thickly with white cream cheese?

Thrill-Packed "Dark Waters" Screen's Terror Sensation

If you are one of those people whose favorite reading matter is a suspenseful, chilling psychological mystery story complete with several juicy murders, a beautiful girl in danger and an exotic locale then drop whatever you are doing and get down to the Snowdon Theatre as fast as you can to see "Dark Waters," while it's still there. As a charter member of the above described clan we can vouch for the all-around satisfaction that is to be found in the new Benedict Bogeaus film which is now playing at the Snowdon United Theatre until Friday night, through United Artists release.

"Dark Waters" is a thriller with all the elements for raising a bumper crop of goosepimples. It has an exotic locale — the mysterious, little known bayou country of Louisiana. Its setting, an old and run-down plantation mansion provides the proper mood of intrigue and suggested crime. The fogs which hang heavily over the swamps, the sound of strange croaking insects and the leap of oily frogs all add to the basic feeling of mystery and expectancy which are so deeply a part of this film.

And then, of course, there is a beautiful girl — and a handsome man. The girl is Merle Oberon in the finest role of her entire career. As Leslie Calvin, who escaped death when a ship on which she was travelling was torpedoed, only to face death again in the supposedly restful acres of an old plantation home belonging to her family, Miss Oberon reaches dramatic and emotional heights which even she never before attained. She gives a deep and sincere intensity of performance that adds immeasurably to the mounting suspense and excitement.

One of our chief favorites, Franchot Tone, is co-starred with Miss Oberon. Franchot finally escapes from the "white tie and tails" role which have been his lot ever since he came to Hollywood and gets the opportunity to show the really fine versatility he possesses. As a simple, fighting, country doctor he is not the wise-aleck wolf we have seen in so many films, but a guy with a sincere desire to do some good in the backwoods country — and to win a girl. He is eminently successful in both pursuits. Orchids to producer Ben Bogeaus for giving Franchot this chance and more orchids to Franchot for turning in a great performance.

Third of the big three who makes "Dark Waters" a tremendous hit is Thomas Mitchell, our nominee for the title for Hollywood's Leading Character Actor. Last time we saw Mitchell he was close friend and adviser to President Wilson in the film "Wilson" and before that he was the kindly father in "The Sullivans." But in "Dark Waters," Mitchell makes a complete about face and turns up as the soft-spoken cold-blooded Mr. Sydney, brains of the plot against Merle Oberon, and murderer extraorinary. Few actors that we can think of off-hand could have carried off the difficult role so convincingly.

The review would be incomplete without a sweeping bow and a flourish in the direction of Fay Bainter, Elisha Cook, Jr., John Qualen, Rex Ingram and Nina McKinney, for brilliant support.

The film was directed by Hollywood's most outstanding find, Andre De Toth, who made the challenging "None Shall Escape." The promise shown in his first film has been more than kept. "Dark Waters" is a trip through exciting, tense, spine-chilling territory. See it, by all means.

Kiddies' Days Popular At Park

Taking advantage of the ideal weather that prevailed these past few days, as well as the drastic reductions in admission price and on many attractions along the Midway, thousands of kiddies fresh from school have flocked to Belmont Park for the Special Kiddies' Days now being celebrated until Friday, July 6th, with exception of next Sunday. Advantage was also taken by adults to enjoy a day's outing as many picnic baskets have been in evidence. Kiddies' guest tickets can be obtained from your nearest Thrift Stop & Shop dealer. Other picnics taking place this week include those being held today by the Y.M.C.A. Notre Dame de Grace Branch. Dance music is supplied nightly as well as every Sunday afternoon by Stan Wood's Orchestra in the beautiful and spacious ball-room which boasts a dance floor second to none in the Dominion. The current Free Outdoor Attraction featuring Helen Harvey and Irah Millette, wizards of the trapeze who indulge in some breath-taking stunts on slender bars seventy feet high without benefit of any safety device whatsoever between them and Mother Earth, is presented twice daily at 5 and 11 p.m. until Sunday inclusive when there will be a double-header with the sensational cycling Victorias, an English importation, making its local debut. The Victorias will also be seen all next week and in honour of Dominion Day the Park will be open all day Monday.

Iron the sleeves of a dress first, then the collar, the blouse or top, and the skirt last. Go over the sleeves, collar and any trimming again to be sure that they are dry. Hang on a hanger, and let it air for an hour or two before putting it in a clothes closet.

And use a press cloth when pressing any woolen garment. The new ones are treated so they prevent shine and streaks.

AT THE MONKLAND THEATRE

You'll probably see more air-planes in "Winged Victory" than you've seen in any one picture. Trainers, fighters, bombers in awesome numbers roar through this 20th Century-Fox film of the great Army Air Forces — Moss Hart stage hit which is now playing at the Monkland United Theatre, until Friday night.

But "Winged Victory" is not about planes or flying. It's about the men who fly the planes.

This drama, with its soldier cast of 300, is a report to the nation of how the Army Air Forces makes its fighting men. It's the miracle of metamorphosis — it's the "how" and "why" care-free, happy-go-lucky American boys emerge as the most perfectly trained, technically skilled and efficient flyers in the world.

This was the mission of "Winged Victory" as set down by Gen. Henry H. Arnold. For thousands of anxious mothers and fathers, he wanted a graphic explanation of the phenomena of seeing their sons (who just a short time ago knew nothing more than perhaps hopping up a jalopy) piloting gigantic bombers and lightning-fast fighter planes. He wanted them to see the care, exhaustive study, and precise training, the countless physical checks undergone in the making of a flier. In short, he wanted them to know that it wasn't just their kid at the controls of a giant fortress, but a highly skilled technician trained to the n'th degree of every phase of his work.

It was the personal element of flying that Moss Hart welded into "Winged Victory," the story of six pilots. Over 400,000 people cheered "Winged Victory" during its six months run on Broadway, a good portion of them being the mothers and fathers General Arnold meant it for. And these people left the theatre feeling, as parents, much comforted about their flying sons; and, as citizens, very much proud of their Army Air Forces.

What this country needs most is a Victory Garden that can be Extract from the Annual Report of Dominion Textile Co. Limited, presented to Shareholders by G. B. Gordon, President and Managing Director.

ALTOGETHER one thousand and sixty-five men and women left us to join the colours, and of those there remain over eight hundred now in the Services awaiting discharge or transfer to different theatres of operations.

Plans are well under way for the reabsorption of these men and women into the various company occupations. There is, of course, a legal obligation on the part of all employers to reinstate their employees, now veterans, in jobs not less favourable than those they would be holding had they remained in civil employment. Your company's policy in this regard is to go as far as possible beyond the legal requirements. It is from no mere sense of duty that we will take back these men and women into the company's service. It is rather that we consider it a privilege to welcome them back. From this group will emerge those with qualities of courage and leadership who will eventually guide your Company's affairs and help maintain its leading position in the textile field.

We regret very deeply that twenty men will never return, as they laid down their lives in Active Service.

THRILLING SUSPENSE! Joan Bennett and Edward G. Robinson, in a scene from "WOMAN IN THE WINDOW," which opens Saturday at the Monkland United Theatre, playing until Tuesday night.

"Hotel Berlin" Cast Is Violently Anti-Nazi

There is a definite ring of authenticity in Warners' "Hotel Berlin," now playing at the Westmount United with five stars—Faye Emerson, Raymond Massey, Andrea King, Peter Lorre and Helmut Dantine—heading the cast. This is largely due to the various members of the cast who have, at one time or another, brushed up against the Nazis.

For instance, there is Helmut Dantine. Dantine learned about Nazis the hard way—from the inside of a German concentration camp. He was confined to that camp after his arrest as an officer in the Austrian army. The actor remained imprisoned for many weeks before being released on condition that he would leave at once.

Then there is Kurt Kreuger, who plays a Nazi air ace in the film. The Nazis coming into power, had a direct effect upon Kurt's family. They were forced to flee to Switzerland. And now the Nazis hold the family estate which was willed to Kurt when he was only eight.

Mary Albu, who makes her American screen debut in "Hotel Berlin" as Andrea King's maid, had all the Nazis she could take—and left Germany three years ago eventually making her way to the United States.

Two others associated with the production company of "Hotel Berlin," Peter Pohlitz and Trudy Berliner, have experienced life in a Nazi concentration camp. All in all, the crew of "Hotel Berlin" was an armed camp—against the Nazis.

Rockwell's "Bernadette" Acclaimed Masterpiece

Fresh on the triumphant acclaim accorded his famous series of paintings, "The Four Freedoms"—and inspired by the moving portrayal by Jennifer Jones of the simple girl of Lourdes in the 20th Century-Fox dramatization of Franz Werfel's "The Song of Bernadette"—Norman Rockwell, America's best-loved artist, has completed a painting of "Bernadette" which is being hailed as one of the celebrated artist's greatest masterpieces.

It can safely be estimated that no painting, or series of paintings by any artist—American or foreign—has been so widely reproduced as Rockwell's "The Four Freedoms"; nor has any painting found its way into so many American homes. In these canvases he has summed up the true cause of our fight—"The Four Freedoms"—Freedom of Speech, Freedom of Worship, Freedom from Want and Freedom from Fear.

Through his many paintings for magazine covers, Rockwell has long enjoyed a unique position among artists as our leading interpreter of America's folkways. With "The Four Freedoms" his stature became international, and his fame extended to the far corners of the globe wherever free people were fighting Freedom's battle.

It was at this time that Norman Rockwell conceived of a subject comparable in emotional appeal, and perhaps even more challenging to his mature craftsmanship. He saw in Jennifer Jones, as the simple girl whose profound faith and flaming courage stirred the entire civilized world, the inspiration for one of his finest canvases.

Peyton Boswell, Jr., noted art authority and editor of "The Art Digest," describing the conception and realization of the painting, says:

"Here, through the medium of a lone girl, glorious and exalted, could be created a painting to inspire people in all walks of life. Many were the sketches prepared. Constantly, the artist deliberated over details of composition and color. With expert draughtsmanship he sought to capture what Franz Werfel had expressed in words.

"The Song of Bernadette," which is now playing at the York United Theatre, features in addition to Miss Jones, William Eythe, Charles Bickford, Vincent Price, Lee J. Cobb and Gladys Cooper.

MIXED DOUBLES TOURNEY ENTRY LIST 46 TEAMS

The first tennis tournament of the season on the municipal courts, a mixed doubles affair, has drawn an entry list of 46 games. The tournament will start this Tuesday evening at the Western courts. There is still a scarcity of men as there were more women than men entering the event, but partners will be found for everybody before the event has been completed.

This is not the regular mixed doubles tourney as the names of partners are drawn out of a hat, but it is generally a popular part of the season's programme.

The draw list is now up on the courts and players who have entered the event are asked to check their names on it. The following is the draw itself: Tues., Court No. 1, 7:00 p.m., Jack Green-Francis Shaw vs. Dave Shaughnessy-Flo Arama; court no. 2, 7:00 p.m., Jack Light-Toby Getz vs. Ed Crane-Carol MacDonald; court No. 3, 7:00 p.m., Norm Burnett-Mary Van Tanageron; court No. 4, 7:00 p.m., Jack Morris-Evelyn McMann vs. G. Overseas GIs Miss Sports, Crisler Finds

Ann Arbor, Mich.—What does a GI think about most when he's far away from home, on a lonely island base?

Aside from his family and friends, it's probably about athletics, whether from a participant or spectator point of view in the opinion of H. O. (Fritz) Crisler, University of Michigan athletic director and head football coach.

Crisler just returned from a jaunt through the Panama Canal zone and nearby areas that included 10,000 miles of flying to island bases alone during the past month.

Aside from helping set up a sports program for the thousands of GIs in this area, Crisler spent many hours answering questions and showing motion pictures of sports events in his "spare time."

"The question they asked the most?" said Crisler here. "Perhaps it's the one which deals with which section of the country plays the best football?"

The answer?

"I told them that every section played both good and bad football," Crisler replied.

Among other questions popping up most frequently were those about the baseball pennant races, who is most likely to dethrone Joe Louis after the war, and what football teams will be strong this fall.

CRICKET LEAGUE RULES CHANGED

Delegates from all teams in the Montreal and District Amateur Cricket League except the Fleet Air Arm Team made several changes in playing rules at a recent meeting.

The regulation relating to the use of borrowed players to make up any teams short of players was ratified. It was specially agreed that any player borrowed from another club should be considered as "filling up" rather than "constituting" the team, and that they are not to be used to strengthen the club.

With this object in view, any batsmen borrowed from another club shall not bat earlier than number seven. A further precaution is that certain bowlers listed in the regulations shall not be allowed to bowl.

The season has been extended to September 29. Cup tie qualifications are not affected by this regulation, and no borrowings are permissible in cup tie games.

A gratifying feature of the meeting was the co-operation between the various clubs.

Among those present were F. T. Broadbelt who presided; Geoffrey Pike, F. W. Christie, A. Harford, R. H. Casement, R. Frewen, E. Delves, S. P. Voce, D. Rose, P. L. Pratley, J. Plumbley, D. P. Sykes, D. Plumbley and G. L. Ingram.

J. C. Hodges, office services, C.N.R., Montreal, has been elected a director of the National Office Management Association, representing Canadian chapters. The association has 75 chapters in Canada and the United States and 5,700 members.

During the last sixty years, intelligent co-operation between veterinarians and farmers has helped to bring about a two-thirds reduction in live-stock losses caused by infectious diseases and parasites, say veterinary authorities.

HOT CUBAN

Lou Olmo, outfielder-infielder of Dodgers and formerly of Montreal Royals, would like nothing better than to take National League bat title back to Cuba this fall, and may turn trick if he maintains current hot pace.

Wanderers Grab Two-Game Lead Over Tornados

The juvenile section of the Westmount Municipal Softball League opened this week and Bob Woodburn's Wanderers nine grabbed off a two-game lead on the field when they defeated Richard Lord's Tornados in two fixtures. The Wanderers won at Westmount Park by a score of 10-5 and at Staynor by an 8-4 count.

The Tornados dropped their third straight game when the Unity club took them into camp at Staynor by 6-5 count.

In Friday's game at Westmount Park, the Wanderers took advantage of eight walks in the second inning of the game to push across nine runs and that was enough win out by the 10-5 score. Harold Young and Jerry Barnes led the winners at bat while Jack Gardner was the best for the Tornados.

Dave Ross, Bill Fee, Tom Armstrong and Bob Woodburn were the leading batters for the Wanderers in their 8-4 win over the Tornados with Allan Turner and Conley Forey starring for the losers.

A three-run rally in the last inning gave the Unity club nine their 6-5 verdict over the Tornados. Fred DeJean's triple with two on base was the deciding factor of the game. DeJean starred at bat for the Unity squad, banging out four hits in as many times at bat. The Tornados held a 5-2 lead going into the last half of the sixth frame, but the U.B.C.'s desperate late-inning rally brought the game out of the bag.

The following is the remainder of the juvenile schedule: Friday, June 29, Unity at Wanderers; Wed., July 4, Wanderers at Tornados; Fri., July 6, Unity at Wanderers; Mon., July 9, Unity at Tornados; Wed., July 11, Wanderers at Unity; Fri., July 13, Tornados at Wanderers; Mon., July 16, Tornados at Unity; Wed., July 18, Wanderers at Tornados; Fri., July 20, Unity at Wanderers; Mon., July 23, Wanderers at Unity; Wed., July 25, Unity at Tornados; Fri., July 27, Tornados at Wanderers; Mon., July 30, Tornados at Unity; Wed., Aug. 1, Wanderers at Tornados; Fri., August 3, Unity at Wanderers; Mon., August 6, Wanderers at Unity; Wed., Aug. 8, Unity at Tor-

AUSTRALIAN FUNGO DRIVE ASTOUNDS BASEBALL COACH

Berkeley, Calif. — "I never imagined that a baseball could be driven 503 feet 3 inches with a fungo bat," exclaimed Clint Evans head baseball coach at the University of California, on receiving official word of the performance of Walter Driver of the Victorian Baseball Association in the annual baseball correspondence field games with California.

"Mike Mitchell of Cincinnati," continued Clint, "held the world's record with a drive of 413 feet 8½ inches from 1907 through 1911. Sept. 30 of that year Ed Walsh of the Chicago White Sox raised it to 419 feet ½ inch. Babe Ruth hit 421 feet 8 inches in a triangular field games contest among the players of the New York Yankees, New York Giants and the Brooklyn Dodgers on Sept. 24, 1931. Eight years later Frank Maderas of St. Mary's College, Moraga, Calif., moved the record to 432 feet, the drive being measured under the supervision of Coach Earl Sheely, the former Chicago White Sox first baseman.

Completely Overshadowed

"These were great drives, but all have now been completely overshadowed by the astounding performance of Australian Walter Driver, the measurement being made by Reg Darling, Secretary of the Victorian Baseball Association; Committeeman Harry Rodgers, and our representative in Melbourne for these contests, Ern Cowley. My only regret is that I was not present to enjoy the thrill of seeing this the greatest official fungo hit of all time."

In describing the new world's record drive, Cowley said it was young Driver's third shot and there was no trouble with the measurement as the ball landed between two stands in a direct line through a gate leading onto the playing arena. Driver also holds the Australian junior record with 327 feet.

The summary:

Splendid performances were also registered by two young Australians in the throwing divi-nados; Fri., August 10, Tornados at Wanderers; Mon., August 13, Tornados at Unity.

sion. Bill Johnston established a new Australian and contest record with a distance of 396 feet 5 inches, and 19-year old Mox Retallick registered a new record for a boy of high school age of 387 feet 9 inches. This was 43 feet 9 inches farther than his throw in the 1944 contest, and indicates the possibility that this youngster may establish a new world's record for throwing both the baseball and cricket ball.

Bill Johnston's performances in these contests have been outstanding since his first appearance at the age of 18 when he threw 356 feet. The next year (1940) he advanced to 364 feet 2 inches and to 375 feet 6 inches in 1942. His duties with the Australian Forces kept him out of the competition until this year, when he demonstrated decisively that he is continuing his rapid rate of development in the throwing division. It is going to be an interesting race to see which of these two throwers will be the first to surpass Sheldon Lejuene's world record of 426 feet 9½ inches with the baseball, and Englishman R. Percival's record of 422 feet with a cricket ball.

Employees of the motive power and car shops and the stores department of the Canadian National Railways at Point St. Charles, Quebec, have given nearly 3,000 blood donations to the Red Cross since January, 1942.

ROYALS PLAYOFF DRIVE GAINS TEAM TWO GAMES

Ozzie Dalzell's Royals are starting to make their drive for a playoff berth in the senior section of the Westmount Municipal Softball League. The Royals copped two games during the week, both as the result of thrilling finishes, to jump into a tie for third position in the "A" division of the loop.

The District Depot, one of the early season favourites, are also making their presence felt. The soldiers captured three games to take over second place in the "A" group.

Last week's results were as follows:

District Depot 4, No. 12 E. Depot 1.

District Depot 9, M.T. Garage 1. No. 11 A.I.D. 9, L.P.O.D. 4. Royals 18, St. Hubert 17. Provost 16, Royals 1. Dodgers 8, No. 11 A.I.D. 1. Royals 11, L.P.O.D. 10. M.D. 4 5, No. 11 A.I.D. 3. District Depot 8, Navy 1.

St. Hubert 7, M.T. Garage 0 def. Doug. Alexander and Doug.

Heron were the two standouts in the Royals' pair of wins. Alexander banged out a home-run with bases loaded and two out to beat St. Hubert 18-17, while Heron clouted one with two on to earn the 11-10 verdict over the slipping L.P.O.D. nine. Norm Burnett also hit for the circuit in the L.P.O.D. tilt.

The Dodgers had their work cut out for them in the game with the improving No. 11 A.I.D. squad before they downed the airmen

8-3. Johnny Mahaffey, Emmet Millen and Allen Dyke banged out two hits apiece for the local club.

The No. 11 A.I.D. nine lost one of the toughest games of the year when the M.D. 4 club downed them 5-2. The winners garnered but two hits off Jerry Snyder and tallied all their five runs in the first inning with but one hit. The losers got five hits.

There will be no games on Monday night but in all probability a couple of postponed fixtures will be slated for Tuesday. On Wednesday July 4 District Depot play M.D. 4, St. Hubert meet the Navy and No. 12 Equipment Depot play at the Provost Corps. On Thursday, L.P.O.D. play Dodgers, in what should be one of the best games of the season; Royals meet No. 12 Equipment Depot and the M.T. Garage visit the Provost Corps.

The following is the standing of the teams including the games played on Monday June 25:

WESTMOUNT HIGH LIGHTS

By GEORGE COCHRANE

For one and all the school year has come to an end and from now on this column will have less and less to do with Westmount High School and its clientele and more to do with the other citizens of this fair garden suburb.

But it would be nothing short of criminal to switch to the new line without saying a few words about Monday night's expedition of WHS students to Belmont Park. The number one metropolis amusement park was overflowing with local educationalists who were all determined to shed their woes with a night filled with frolicsome pursuits. And as far as one could judge with the naked eye, they succeeded admirably. Or should we use the pronoun we?

After Parc Belmont had locked its gates at midnight, the happy throng wended its way to the homes of Belmont Avenue's Jean Van Patter and to Montrose Avenue's John Hopkins. The celebrations, complete with nothing stronger than ginger ale, wound up the scholastic year in a manner that will be long remembered.

Vacation Items

Jack Dudley, Warren Chipendale, Roy Hellyer and about 15 other husky young males who have been released for the summer, left by train on Tuesday for the Ontario lumbering centre of Temiskimane. Blonde Jack has promised to act as our special agent up in that wooded area and from time to time his exclusive reports on the doings of the Westmount males, who will be removing bark from trees for the next two months, will be appearing here.

Eric Gregory Swaine doined khaki at Longueuil on Wednesday morning . . . Chuck McCrae will start work in Northern Electric's cable division next Tuesday. . . William Atwood Macdonald will probably be the first WHS'er to make his way to a pay wicket this summer. After writing his last exam Monday afternoon, WAM started work with Westmount's efficient parks department corps at seven o'clock the next morning . . . Diana Harrower will be up at the Girl Guides' camp at Morin Heights next week. She'll be a counsellor. . . Sue Haire, Inger Jorgensen, Sheila Taylor and the other gals who leave for Muskoka Lakes' Bigwin-Inn at the beginning of next week have discovered that their salaries will pay for their railway fare and one package of cigarettes. . . Patty Peirce leaves for Torch Lake which is down in the State of Michigan tomorrow and Bob Eden will be heading for Knowlton on Sunday. . . Miss P. G. McGoun is very peeved with the Vox Dum staff. They spelled her name with a "w" instead of a "u." WHS's principal, R. O. Bartlett, was among the thousands who witnessed the Yvon Robert, Larry Moquin vs. the Dusek freres team wrestling match at the Forum last week. . . Something should be done about the political propaganda which still decorates some of this constituency's telephone poles. The "Carry this Constituency with Flannagan" signs seem to predominate. After his defeat at the polls, the face of Maj.-Gen. C. B. Price has pretty well disappeared from the poles. And the number of Liberal posters is growing ever smaller. . . The Haire family were ejected from their Grosvenor Avenue home on May 1 and are now living opposite McGill campus. On October 31, though, they intend to move into another house on Grosvenor which, to ensure no more ejections, they have bought. . . And now, as the sun is slowly turning us into something oven-brown, methinks 'twould be a good idea to conserve some energy for next week.

Putting Contest Won By P. Minto

Percy Minto captured last week's putting contest on the Westmount Park course with a total of 100 for the 36 holes. Mr. Minto outpaced eleven other contestants to win the event. One of his closest rivals was R. Hill, who set a course record for nine holes, with a score of 20.

Another contest will be held this evening starting around eight o'clock. Competitors may start before this time and any that do so will help out the committee in charge of the event.

The Westmount Park course, an innovation this year, as part of the city's recreational programme, has proved exceptionally popular and is in continual use all day long.

The competitions at King George Park will be inaugurated this coming week with the first event carded for Tuesday evening, July 3. After this week the event will be held on Mondays, but due to the holiday coming up, it will be played this Tuesday instead. In other years the weekly competitions at King George have been well attended and it is hoped to build them up again this year.

The starting time at the King George competition will be eight o'clock. As usual, a 36-hole medal play will be held.

Dodgers Drop Game To Stars

Westmount Dodgers went down to defeat by a 6-0 score at the hands of the Snowdon Stars in a Snowdon senior Softball League game played at MacDonald Park. Gamache was on the mound for the pitchers; he struck out ten allowing only four hits; Smiley Meronek was the losing pitcher. Toe Blake ran up a single in the sacks loaded in the third in-

Westmount Soccer League Entries

The pee-wee and bantam sections of the Westmount Municipal Soccer League were organized this week and at the moment of writing four clubs have entered the pee-wee group and three in the bantam division. The teams will play a six-man game and it is expected that at least one more club will enter the bantam section.

The teams already entered are four pee-wee clubs. Jack Cote's Aces, Don McDonald's Skulls, Phil Martin's Rovers and Mike Barnard's Royals. The three bantam clubs are Norm Kerr's Rangers, Don McDonald's Argos and Ernest Meyer's Panthers.

Two pee-wee games will be played at Westmount Park tonight with the Aces scheduled to meet the Skulls and the Rovers hooking up with the Royals.

Games will be played at Westmount Park, on two new pitches to be laid out each Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday. There is a possibility that some Monday games will be played but as the band concerts are held on these nights, it is very doubtful.

A full schedule will not be drawn up until this week-end, but no games will be played on Monday night due to the holiday.

Any new teams wishing to enter the league are asked to contact Recreation Supervisor Jim McCormick or Clary Redding, the playground supervisor, at Westmount Park.

The spreading pasqueflower, known to botanists as anemone patens, was chosen some years ago as Manitoba's provincial flower. It is sometimes wrongly called "The Prairie Crocus". It is not a crocus. A crocus has bulbous roots. The roots of an anemone are fibrous, as in the pasqueflower.

WHY WINNING TEAMS SLUMP

The New York Giants, who seemed to be making a runaway race of it early in the season, have hit adversity, and presently are resting precariously in fourth position. For the past three weeks the club has been playing cellar baseball. It's apparently one or those things that happen occasionally to clubs that are going too well. When a club is sweeping all before it there is a tendency to overconfidence. Worse than that, rivalries develop on some winning clubs who happen to be burdened with too many temperamental prima donnas. The battle is over the credit for the team's showing. Some of the boys realize they're pretty good, and the slightest reprimand from manager or coach will cause a blow-up or send a player into the sulks with disastrous effect on the team's spirit. A good manager has to be a diplomat, psychologist, and a source of inspiration as well. It's a long season, and the manager has to see that the boys are kept sweet and pulling together for the better part of six months.

Friction seems to have developed within the ranks of the Giants. This is written a long way from the Polo Grounds, and your chronicler doesn't pretend to have any inside information. But one or two recent events are illuminating. For instance, a couple of weeks ago Manager Mel Ott slapped a $500 fine on Pitcher Bill Voiselle, his ace moundsman—one of the stiffest fines levied on a player in recent years. Ott charged that Voiselle had given Johnny Hopp a "soft" pitch that the Cardinal outfielder had slammed for a triple which led the way to loss of the game by the Giants.

The incident reveals that nerves must be on edge in the Giant camp. Heavy fines do not harm when they are levied on players who break training, when the cause for the fine is plain for all to see. But to fine a pitcher like Voiselle on the allegation that one of his pitches was deliberately "soft" isn't the type of discipline to improve a team's spirit. Nobody but the pitcher himself will know if the pitch was deliberate or otherwise. Johnny Hopp will probably tell you that it was a mighty clever pitch that only a player of his skill and experience against good pitchers could have hit at all.

Montreal fans are again showing the baseball world that this city is ripe for major league ball. Another 17,000 attendance last Sunday. It appears that a new minor league record will be achieved here this season, in spite of the fact that several especially favourable Sunday dates were washed out early in the season.

Los Angeles also wants major league baseball, but the Pacific Coast city is a long way off the major league track. Travelling to the movie capital would be awkward and expensive. Montreal is overnight from New York and Boston. We should be next in line if and when the major ex-

Model Of St. Lawrence Deep Waterways on Display

Two hundred and twenty miles of the St. Lawrence river from Lake Ontario to Montreal has been reproduced in dramatic fashion on Eaton's Fourth Floor.

A large 47-foot scale model in panoramic relief illustrates for the man on the street the proposed changes in riverbed, locks and canals of the St. Lawrence river to permit large ocean-going vessels to travel 2,260 miles from the Atlantic over this great inland waterway. Ships may travel to Kingston on Lake Ontario, thence through Lake Ontario, Lake Erie, and Lake Huron to Chicago on Lake Michigan, on up to Fort William and Port Arthur or to Duluth at the head of Lake Superior.

The St. Lawrence Deep Waterway is a proposed joint project of the Governments of Canada and the United States.

Today cargoes must be transferred to smaller boats for transportation through the canals and locks, an expensive and delaying process. The project is intended to achieve the uninterrupted flow of Canada's produce to all parts of the world. A vast inevitable by-product will be the development of millions of additional electrical horsepower for factories and homes of both countries.

The Model is one of the finest of its kind ever exhibited. It was designed and constructed for Eaton's by Canadian artists and craftsmen. Consultation with Government engineers and painstaking study of survey maps, months of careful modelling to exact scale down to the minutest detail, all contributed to the construction of as accurate and authentic a model as it is possible to produce.

The centre or International section of the diorama, where major changes in the river will take place is reproduced on a scale of 27 inches to the mile, the two flanking sections are on a scale of four inches to the mile.

Blue glass illuminated by subterranean fluorescent lighting highlights the river's course. Reproduction of dams, locks, and power plants are complete to the last detail. Riverside towns and villages nestle in the rolling countryside. Overhead a separate section of the exhibit depicts in cross section fashion the riverbed depth and water level. Miniature ships in continual motion travel down the river from Prescott to Montreal, being lowered through miniature locks on each separate stage of the journey.

The background of the exhibition area on the Fourth Floor shows Canada's geographic location as the centre of the world's commerce routes to the major ports of the world are indicated, leading from the heart of Canada over her great inland waterway. A plan designed to pave the way to new prosperity and progress in the world of tomorrow. This exhibition features a 15-minute recorded commentary at intervals throughout the day. It will be on display for at least two weeks commencing June 28.

The world's largest fishing grounds are off Canada's east coast. Starting in July of this year, of Canada's exportable surplus of fish, about 35 million pounds will be allocated to the U.S.A., South America, the Caribbean Islands and UNRRA.

AUSTRALIA'S PLAN

Migrant Children for the Antipodes

Australia is to take in 51,000 child immigrants in three years.

The children will be wards of the state. The government will arrange for their passage to Australia, and this is the most formidable of the immediate problems because of the shortage of shipping. They will probably travel in parties of 500, accompanied by nurses, doctors, dentists and linguists.

On arrival they will be housed in garden homes, probably converted military establishments close to large towns. Here they will be cared for and educated through the primary school age. There are many administrative difficulties including the provision of probably 1,500 school teachers and many nurses, but the government is confident that these can be overcome.

they will be busy picking up the threads of war-disrupted lives and would be under heavy financial strain.

Everyone was interested mainly in getting a job and having a home on his return. Mr. Walker said aim of the Canadian Legion would be "permanent employment with decent pay for our returning servicemen and women and decent homes for them." Such a plan was feasible, as Canada was capable of supplying good jobs for all, he said.

Mouth Organ Crescendo

Early in the war a team of civil servants was sent out by the British Ministry of Economic Warfare to scour the shops for mouth-organs. This was not because of a mysterious urge for music, but to help plan the bomber offensive in Europe. Mouth-organs used to come from Bavarian factories which had been turned over to aircraft production, and on each one was embossed an aerial picture of the plant where it was made. As a result of this planning, 140 Bavarian ex-mouth-organ factories are now lying in total ruin.

Bricks From Ballachulish

The Scottish Development Council, formed in 1930, is extremely busy nowadays in the development of industry, as witness its latest activity in Ballachulish.

Experiments have been carried out with the slate refuse which has been accumulating around the quarries for over four hundred years, and as a result several wagon loads of it have been sent south for final tests.

This slate refuse is first crushed into a fine powder, and this powdered slate, it is hoped, will enable a new process of brick-making to be developed. If this scheme is successful a new industry will be set up in the West Highlands when peace comes, and Ballachulish should indeed be a prosperous place, for both brick and slate will be in great demand.

One of the most interesting inventions of 1931 was a clock, described in the London Christian Herald, which turned an illuminated globe constantly showing the earth as it might appear to an observer on the moon. The globe was a replica of the earth, and was geared to an electric clock so that the former was made to turn with the axial rotation of the earth.

Inside the globe, which was translucent, an electric lamp rotated once in a year. The lamp threw a contrasting light to the surface of the globe, and in this way indicated the position of sunrise and sunset lines.

Private Smith had been in the army a week when the sergeant asked:

"What do you think of the army as far as you've gone?"
"I may like it after a while," he replied, "but just now I think there's too much drilling and fussing around between meals."

"None But The Lonely Heart" Stars Cary Grant at the Seville

A Cockney nobody; a shiftless, self-centered ne'er-do-well, whose embittered life is bounded by the mean streets of London's East End district—that's Cary Grant's role of Ernie today in RKO Radio's film version of Richard Llewellyn's best-seller, "None But The Lonely Heart," which is now playing at the Seville United Theatre until Friday night.

It's a strange role for the gay and cheerful Grant; for the whimsical, handsome sophisticate of so many big movie hits. Hollywood has witnessed no more startling departure from type in many years.

But even more striking is the contrast between this current screen role and the real Cary Grant. A Cockney? No! Born in England? Yes. But a genuine American citizen today. Shiftless? Not if the making of five big pictures in the past year mean anything. Self-centered? Don't try to tack those two words on Grant in the presence of any of his working associates!

An electrician on the set of "None But The Lonely Heart" remarked one day: "I've been working round the studios for twenty-five years, and I don't think I've ever seen a guy less affected by success than Cary Grant. I know, for I worked with him on "She Done Him Wrong," when he was just breaking into pictures twelve years ago."

This gives some idea of the character of the man, Grant.

By and large, he's a cheerful individual, and, to a certain extent, easy going, although it would be an unwise proceeding for anyone to try to push him around.

He dresses simply, and has an abhorrence of the over-dressed male. As a youngster, he was much more popular with boys than with girls. Today, he's equally popular with both.

His favorite light reading matter is the short stories of W. W. Jacobs. He inclines to classical music, dislikes Hawaiian melodies, and loathes hillbilly songs. He likes English ales and dry martinis, and drinks a lot of milk. He's a good dancer; the rhumba

Time To Shape Shrubs And Hedges

June is the month when all common shrubs used in hedges make rapid growth, and it is the time when hedges and specimen shrubs can best be shaped by clipping. The oftener new growth is clipped back, the denser will the hedge become from lower shoots that have been induced to grow. After mid-July, the sparse, new growth will require slight trimming. Clipping back severely or pruning in autumn should be avoided. This is not the growing season and wounds made at that time do not readily heal. Twigs and branches are therefore likely to die back a distance below the cut during the ensuing winter.

Flowering shrubs such as lilac, early spiraeas, honeysuckle and cotoneaster should not be trimmed to form shape until flowers have faded. Pruning out dead wood and undesirable branches should be done early in the spring but trimming to shape the bush is best done immediately the blossom is past, say the experts at the Dominion Experimental Farm at Brandon, Man. If this work is done later than July 15, the already formed buds that mother the blossoms in the following year are likely to be sheared off.

being one of his specialties. Friday night will often find him at the Hollywood Legion fights.

He has no use for any kind of fortune telling, and frankly admits that any philosophy he may have steams from the Bible.

He has a pleasing baritone voice, but cannot be induced to sing in public. He has always had a desire to take up the piano seriously, but has never been able to give up the necessary time. He likes mostly to strum the songs of Jerome Kern.

He has a remarkable memory for things that matter, faces, promises, appointments, and so forth, but has difficulty with trivialities.

He seldom chews gum, smokes an occasional cigarette, and very rarely indulges in a pipe. He likes women to smoke, provided they're "tidy" smokers.

He has an exceptionally heavy growth around his mouth and chin, and has to shave twice a day. His hair is blue-black and thick. He tans easily, and spends quite a lot of time in the surf when he is at his Santa Monica beach home.

United Church YPU Camp To Be Held

Noted as a camp "planned by young people for young people", Camp Wantanopa, leadership training camp of the Montreal and Ottawa Conference Young People's Union of the United Church of Canada, will be held from July 14th to 24th. It is situated on the banks of the Ottawa River at L'Orignal, Ontario.

65 miles from Montreal.

Courses will be given in subjects of vital interest to young people, such as—public speaking, youth and temperance, India today, our Christian faith, etc.

The services of a very fine camp staff have been secured and will include such well known young people's leaders as Rev. Gerald Fee, assistant minister of St. Andrew's United Church, Westmount; Rev. K. G. McMillan, formerly of Terminal Park United Church, Montreal, now of Parkdale United Church, Ottawa; Rev. C. H. Dawes, of Aymer, Quebec; Rev. C. M. Stewart, of Stanstead, Quebec; and Sqd. Lrd. Rev. A. O. Lloyd, chaplain recently returned from overseas.

Camp Wantanopa is an ideal place for young people to spend a really worthwhile vacation—screened in cabins—good meals—reasonable cost—swimming—tennis—hikes—camp fires—study—worship—relaxation—inspiration—challenge.

Quite a number of registrations have already been received but there is still accommodation for a few more young people, 16 years of age and over, who wish to fit themselves to give leadership in young people's work.

Information may be obtained from any United Church minister.

A Poem Without Words

A musician from Melbourne, Australia, Dr. A. F. Floyd, considers Londonderry Air to be the best tune ever written. He says that adequate words would never be found to describe music because it begins where words have left off. The best he could do for Londonderry Air was: "Like a very beautiful poem with the words rubbed out and the meaning left in."
