Mrs. Rudy Schroeder first mother of 1967

Sylvia Schroeder is Miss 1967 in Pontiac County having made her first appearance in this world at 5.29 Sunday morning, January first in this Centennial Year of Canada's Confederation, assisted by Dr. Frank Cowley, who has been ushering in "first babies" for the past several years.

Sylvia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Schroeder, the former Thelma Thoms of Lady-smith. Mr. and Mrs. Schroeder were married on June 28, 1950 and Sylvia is their first child.

She came into a friendly corner of this world by being born in the Pontiac Community Hospital in Shawville where a number of the town's merchants have already presented Sylvia with gifts in honor of her being the first baby of the year. A second baby was born on New Year's Day at Pontiac Community Hospital. This was a son for Mr. and Mrs. Dale Herauld of Davidson. Mrs. Herauld is the former Leona Bell of Shawville and her husband works at the new mill site in Litchfield. For Leona and Dale their New Year's baby rounds out the family to two boys and two girls.

The Schroeders are farmers and Rudy also works out at carpentry, truck driving, at the saw mill or wherever else he can find work. They were most appreciative of the various items received from Shawville merchants, including the tiny baby corsage and beautiful flowers from Hardy Plants, the case of groceries from Langford's Grocery, the case of baby food from the IGA, the baby blanket and rattle from Dean and Merritts, the subscription to The Equity from the Printshop, the nylon gown from Kays' Style Shoppe, the engraved baby cup from Mc-

Cauley's Jewellers, the gift certificates from the JR children's wear shop and from Pontiac Dairy, the chair from the 5 Cent to $1 Store, the cake from Pontiac Bakery, and the photograph from Emard Photos which will be published in The Equity next week.

Live music meets approval of large audience at Shawville

With special guest pianist, Jim Brough, playing Beethoven, assistant musical director Denis Murphy doing a trombone solo and Director Ed Lydeli and sons performing a trumpet trio, the Shawville Community Band had lots of help on their Christmas concert, which was greatly enjoyed by a large audience at the Shawville High School Auditorium on December 29th.

The band itself was in top form with several new additions since its last concert and many weeks of intensive practice showing great results. Flamingo music, bossa nova beats, military marches, grand waltzes, sacred music, modern rhythms, folk songs, Christmas carols and national anthems were all part of the varied program.

The presence of good live music has given the town an interesting new depth which was amply shared with the population on this occasion. After the concert, members of the band were entertained at the home of one of its members, Don Paul

Pontiac's Sheriff is going to EXPO by covered wagon

Pontiac County Sheriff Joseph Dominic Sloan, accompanied by Joseph Dominic Sloan jr who is two years old, will be among the thousands from this County who will attend the World's Fair in Montreal this summer. But the Sheriff and son will not be driving down or taking the train and also unlike most other EXPO visitors this pair will take along their dog and two bush horses.

Whatever else Joe takes down to EXPO will depend largely upon the readers of The Equity who are invited to let him have any suggestions they might have.

The trip will be by covered wagon, which Joe has planned to build himself, with whatever help anyone wants to give him. Starting at the farm of Mrs. Sylvester Sloan in Vinton, which is the birthplace of his own father, the Sheriff hopes to take a swing up to the top of this County before setting towards Montreal so that each of the Mayors of Pontiac can have an opportunity to travel with him for a part of the journey.

Financial assistance for the trip will be accepted from any source. Already certain encouragement and promises have come forth from such places as the Royal Bank in Shawville, Ken Griffin's store in Bryson, Lloyd Kentsley in Campbell's Bay who has donated space in his implement garage to build the wagon and Harold Wilson who has offered the loan of a set of harness.

The Equity will help in every way possible with the whole venture and will keep everyone posted as to progress as progress is made towards its completion. County Council will be solicited for funds to help the project and anyone wishing to help

They rang the bells a hundred times at Pontiac's County seat

The bells of St. George's and the bells of St. John's rang a hundred times each at Campbell's Bay at midnight December 31, 1966 which brought the New Centennial Year into Pontiac County to the united sounds of catholic and protestant chimes.

The excitement of the ushering in of this new year of hope spilled over into the square at the station where an amassed pile of Christmas trees was ignited by Pontiac's Provincial Member, the Honorable Ray Johnston. The trucks of L & M Electronics, Gary Hearty of Vinton and others collected the trees Saturday afternoon; Cletus Ferrigan and Jojo McGahren went to Haley's Station to get fireworks; Harold Wilson donated three gallons of gas to get the bonfire started; Ed Ranger and Irvine Cahill were among the many organizers; Joseph Dominic Sloan was the man behind the whole venture; sirens of the Ringrose Ambulance, the Pontiac Bus Lines, Pilon's tow truck and the Quebec Provincial Police, Campbell's Bay Detachment were sounded—and after the siren wails had died down, and the church bells were still counting out their one hundred peals, choral singing was performed by a group of youngsters under the direction of Cletus Ferrigan and to the great enjoyment of an entire town of spectators.

Celebrate with lights all through the year!

Word from the Upper Ottawa Valley Historical Society says that recent delegates to a convention who travelled through Pontiac County were "literally enthralled with the rugged scenery". They may tell their friends and this place will become a mecca for people seeking rugged scenery. If for nothing else, in a year when people are changing their scenery with edifices and plantings, we may become famous for leaving ours alone.

But in one small way, which has been proposed by more than one interested Shawville citizen, this little village may present a bright face to visitors during the year. It has been suggested that the many colored lights adorning outdoor trees be left up all year to show the passer-by that Shawville is celebrating along with Canada. The idea seems to have taken hold as the friendly lights remain, long after the New Year.

NOMINATIONS WEDNESDAY

Nominations for positions on the Councils of several municipalities take place Wednesday, January 11 between ten o'clock and noon. Then, if more than the required number are nominated and leave their names standing, there will be elections on Monday, January 16, between 8 am and 6 pm. It is to be hoped that nobody will be taken by surprise and allow those two short hours of nomination slip by without having taken the opportunity to name a person of their choice so sit on council for the coming year. Also it is to be hoped that nobody will allow their name to stand who does not feel able and willing to go to a great deal of trouble for his fellowmen during 1967.

Next week is "Week of Prayer"

The Universal Week of Prayer for 1967 will be observed in Pontiac County beginning Monday, January 9th. Local clergy will be participating in the services. The theme of the addresses will be that suggested by the Canadian Council of Churches. The offerings received (Continued on page eight)

"We still can't believe it" was the way Mrs. Iverson Harris summed up the family's feelings after the tragic New Year's Eve fire which destroyed their barn, their grain and 100 tons of hay, their herd sire, Dell Golden Rocket, and their entire milking herd of 47 head of registered Jersey cows, along with eight of the young calves, the tractor, the milk cooler—not even a pail was left.

Another eight young calves were saved and taken by Willard Sparling to his own farm for warm keeping because they had not been out yet and would have died from the cold. Also another eleven heifers which had been out in the field were not burned and have been fed since the fire by kind neighbors who have dropped off hay from their own supplies.

Each neighbor has arrived with something to help Pat and Iverson Harris over the shock of their great loss, and their son and daughter, Lindsay and Lynette have been home to stand by and assist in all the cleanup work. (One thoughtful friend brought milk; something Pat had forgotten even to think about a need for!)

Earl Bear, Ronnie McGuire and Don Fulkford were busy during the week digging a trench in the back field, burying and covering over the dead animals. As the weather has warmed up to prevent freezing of the carcasses, the work was made doubly difficult. To mention the names of all the people who have been helping in many ways would be impossible for they are not all known. Iverson would particularly like to know the identity of the wonderful men who alarmed them at 3.15 on Saturday morning that their barn was on fire. The three were on their way home from work at Braeside in a Volkswagen and stopped to wake the family when they saw flames at the barn. The men stayed for a while and then left and in the emergency of the situation Iverson had not thanked them and now would appreciate knowing who they are.

The Harris farm was established on its present location over a hundred years ago by Iverson's great grandfather which means that the fifth generation in the same family has grown up there. The barn which was burned down was built by Iverson who started it twenty years ago and has been used by farm organizations as an example of the finest modern type of milk production unit in the area. Thoughts of rebuilding have been foremost in everyone's minds as they view the results of this terrible fire but Iverson and Pat have not made definite plans at the moment.

CHRISTMAS PRESENT FROM THE VOIRIE

The Quebec Dept. of Roads, Traffic Division finally got the message and got it through to the Dept of Public Works and the people of Pontiac will all rejoice. At the corner of Portage du Fort Road and Highway 8 there is now a caution light. Now we have lights which flash red to stop all traffic going from Portage du Fort to Shawville and vice versa and flash amber to warn all up and down traffic on Highway 8 that this is a dangerous corner. In on the bargain, they have installed two great flood lights to illumin-

QUYON'S CITIZEN (A Guest Editorial)

Other towns may have their outstanding persons whom they name the Citizen of the Year. No less has Quyon, a person who amply qualifies in this category.

His tongue, as his name, offers strains of those settlers who came from the "Auld Sod," and found their way up the Ottawa Valley. Yet, if some one greets him with a "Bonjour", the reply one hears is in the Gallic tones.

He serves daily the community in many ways. From behind the counter he meets the public, often going the second mile to convenience young and old.

Sports enthusiasts know him well. Of course, he cheers for his favourite NHL team, Les Canadiens, but, he is also ever present in assisting the young with their rink and other outdoor activities. No wonder his sons are strong and valuable ball players.

There is ample scope for his continued interest in youth. His work in educational circles proves this.

It is not strange that recently he was busy arranging an event to honour one who has been placed in a position of public responsibility. It is natural for him to be in the centre of any concerted good works.

Perhaps one of his quiet sources of all this activity is that on Sunday morning he witnesses to his Faith by his presence at worship in God's House.

You would not say that Basil Murphy does one outstanding deed in any year, but wherever there is any little thing or a great matter needed doing, he is there to see it through.

And Basil would not do nearly so well, if Leona were not at his side.

THIS IS THE YEAR

(Centennial Year Thoughts)

The birthday of Canada's Confederation is July 1, 1967. Last weekend a number of towns and villages across Canada ushered in this historic year with special celebrations, getting a six months running start on Canada's Centennial.

Some of the folks in Pontiac have plans for their individual contributions towards the nation-wide celebration which will take place during the year. Our Sherrieff will be journeying, in a covered wagon of his own making and a strong team of bush horses, to the world's fair in Montreal. Starting from the Sloan homestead at Vinton, Joe hopes to make the trip in less than two weeks and has asked us to invite readers for suggestions to make the trip as meaningful as possible.

Hundreds of local people, as well as numbers from distant places, are working out their family trees using simplified genealogy forms concocted by Sawville's Gordon Crouse, and Shawville Council has tentative plans for "something special" to take place during the week that the Centennial Caravan will be in our town.

An historical pageant is being prepared by Mrs. Piers Ebbsworth and her committee of the Campbell's Bay Home and School Association and a riverside recreation area is being improved by the people of Quyon.

We had a little Centennial project landed in our laps at mid-summer 1966 when an immigrant from Europe arrived in Shawville with a wife, a child and a promised job which turned sour. The project, completed by New Year's day 1967, has been to establish this family with a good job for the man, a home of their own (rented), enough furniture to get by, a car of their own, a dog and a cat, and one new (born in Canada) daughter. All the red tape and large and small arrangements and adjustments which this has involved have been an eye-opener and a valuable lesson to our entire family which heretofore had taken for granted a lot of the benefits of Canadian citizenship with little appreciation. Through the eyes of a newcomer, Canada looks weird indeed, but entirely wonderful.

This awareness is going to be the most enduring result of the whole year-long calendar of events in Canada during 1967. Everyone, whether they have come to Canada for the first time or have lived here all their lives will be impressed with the weirdness and wonders of this country in 1967.

The mightily advertised Centennial Projects on the large scale, have involved us Canadians, a people who are congenitally stubborn and independent, in co-operation and compromise. The little private unadvertised projects have given us insight into previously overlooked bits and pieces of the Canadian fact. Each of us has been made to feel that our particular forbears took part in the building of Canada as it is, and that we can take a part in making it what it will be tomorrow. Fewer and fewer people are going about "blaming"

COUNTRY NOTEBOOK

Mark January 10, January 11 and January 12 on your calendar. And put 10:30 a.m. beside the day. These are the dates for this year's "This Business of Farming" Telecasts. If you are farming to make a living, you just can't afford to miss them.

The Tuesday program is "Soils and Good Soil Management". It features discussions and illustrations on erosion control, soil testing, drainage, soil fertility, and methods of handling our soils for greatest crop return.

Wednesday will be "Farm Machinery Management Today" a topic good for hot discussion anytime with the high cost of mechanization.

Then on Thursday, the TV camera looks at "Family Farm Business Arrangements". I know from personal experience how badly information is needed on this subject. Three farms I know were sold out this past year simply because the father and son had no working financial agreement.

Here is a suggestion. Wherever possible, get a group together to watch these telecasts. Call up your old Farm Forum Group, or ask a few of your neighbors to join you around the kitchen table and a cup of coffee.

When the telecast is over, sit and discuss it for an hour—or the rest of the day if you like—and pool your ideas.

This Extension Department is pulling together some material to go with the telecasts. If you would like a packet for yourself, or several packets for your group, write us at the College. Or you can phone or write your Quebec Farmers' Association Secretary, Mrs. Margaret Bunbury.

The packet will have as well as background material, half a dozen questions related to each broadcast. You can use them to get discussion going and you can fill in the answer blanks if you wish. If you return them to us, we will pull the answers together and let you know what everyone else thinks.

Like to try it? It cost you one stamp, and the effort of finding the writing pad. Box 237, Macdonald College.

Incidentally, these three telecasts were produced by the CBC in co-operation with the Ontario Department of Agriculture. They are being shown in Quebec because a few people took the trouble to write the CBC and said, "Please can we see them also."

Starting February 13th to March 1st a series of half-hour programs on "Soils" will be seen on the French-language TV network. Dr. Gerry Millette of the College's Soils Department has done the writing for this series, is helping to produce them, and will be the "star" in four. This set is a joint effort of the Quebec Department of Agriculture and the CBC.

If you can follow French at all, don't miss this series either. Agriculture is the same in any language.

The forecasters seem to be in complete agreement that the farm outlook for 1967 is again excellent. The butter surplus has gone industrial milk, either because of, or in spite of, govern-all the faults of the nation on "THEY" and more and more people are taking on the responsibility for improvements.

This is the year Canadians are saying "WE should be doing . . .", and then "Let's see how we can achieve . . .", instead of "The trouble with Canada is that THEY . . .".

This is the year for celebrating the fact that in Canada a person can see what should be done and then do it; for understanding the weird and encouraging the wonderful.

This is the year to initiate your good ideas and just see if any of them will work by giving them a try. Nobody will laugh at you, no matter how wild your scheme may seem. Just call it a Centennial Project and like magic it will be accepted. The next opportunity will be a long time coming so why wait till 2067, do it now.

This is the year

ment action, will be over $4 cwt; the largest wheat crop in history has been sold for delivery in '67; meat, poultry and eggs will all find markets strong.

In talking over the Outlook with Dr. David MacFarlane and Dr. Cecil Haver of the Economics Dept., I was reminded that Quebec is basically a dairy province. With 30 percent of the population, we turn out 35 percent of the nation's milk. In fact 80 percent of the farm cash income in the province comes from the livestock and livestock products—mostly dairy.

In the last twenty months, the change in Quebec dairying has been very significant. Quebec farmers are responding to the favourable situation. New stables and equipment, larger herds, the consolidation of milk plants, streamlined marketing, are all part of the modernization pattern. Although each week's paper still lists farm sales, in Quebec cow numbers are actually up. Since last May, 30 percent fewer female cattle have gone to market. Cow prices are $100 higher than a year ago.

In all other provinces, cow numbers are down from a year ago. But total production has remained just about the same level. Drawing on the last of our stored butter, as a nation we are consuming somewhat more milk than we are producing.

But here is a less encouraging fact worth noting, and seems to call for some sort of New Year's resolution. Quebec keeps 140,000 more cows to produce 800,000,000 pounds less milk than its neighboring province to the west, and takes in $25 million less farm income.

For beef producers, the future continues bright. It will continue to be a seller's market, although the edge may be off the top prices. In Quebec, however, the beef industry, in competition with the dairy industry, is not significant at the present time. According to Prof. Haver, we produce less

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Ottawa 4,
Dec 27, 1966

The Equity,
Dear Sirs:

This season of the year, like most people, I have a number of once a year friends to send a Christmas card and in some cases a letter is included. One of these is a former Minister of Shawville United Church, Rev. Malon Robison, a very active, energetic, sincere man of God. His wife answered my letter this year and told me Mr. Robison had a very serious operation last May and has been quite ill but is able to be up and around the house. I just thought a get well card or letter I am sure would be greatly appreciated from some of the older members who knew him and liked him so well. His address is Rev Malon Robison, 25 Park Cres., Dr., Scarborough, Ont.

than half our meat needs, and of that, perhaps only 2 per cent makes the top two grades. Quebec-produced beef, therefore is mainly a dairy by-product. Certainly, the market is here for a strong beef industry.

Hog production continues to move ahead in Quebec, and forecasters say producers will continue to share a favourable meat market. Prices however will be lower than 1966 and feed-grain prices a little higher. The same old squeeze but gently in '67.

Poultry men are looking for another good year in Quebec. While flocks have built up in response to high 1966 prices, they are not expected to flood the market. Increased price of laying mash, is adding another 2½ a dozen to the cost of production.

Turkey and broiler production in Quebec is following a north American pattern of regionalization, according to Dr. Haver. This trend favours the local producer and a reasonably good year is in prospect for this sector of the industry.

So in 1967 it seems all our worries will be little ones but the big enough for most

Court Report

Court was held at Campbell's Bay on Dec 22, 1966 with District Judge Avila Labelle in attendance.

A 46 year old Calumet Island man who appeared before District Judge Avila Labelle was fined $25 as well as ordered to pay the court costs for pointing a rifle at two police officers. The evidence revealed that a QPP Officer accompanied by a Campbell's Bay Town Constable, on the 15th of December, 1966 being in the pursuit of a speeding motorist on a secondary road in Calumet Island finally caught up with him as he entered the accused yard. Pigeon then came out of his house pointing an old rifle towards the two officers and ordered them of this property. The two officers did not take any chances to be shot at and immediately left the premises, returning shortly with a Warrant of arrest. Then they arrested Pigeon, seized the rifle he threatened them with and took him to Campbell's Bay jail. Judge Labelle also confiscated the rifle seized by the QPP.

A Shawville hotel man, Frank A. G. Finnigan who pleaded guilty to two charges of selling alcoholic beverages to minors and selling rye to take out was fined a total of $200 and ordered to pay the court costs.

Angus Mervin Clayton 20 of 1263 Cheverton Ave, Ottawa, who was caught by the QPP while driving his car at speeds up to 95 mph in a 30 mph zone was fined $50 and ordered to pay the court costs.

Two construction workers employed by a Company building the new Paper Mill at Portage du Fort were fined $10 plus the court costs, when they recognized their guilt to a charge of obtaining food and lodging from a hotel-keeper at Portage du Fort without paying for them. Aldege Denis 29 of 3495 Dorion Street and Real Castillou 35 of 1704 Christopher St., both of Montreal were also ordered to reimburse the motel-keeper the sum of $37 each for their room and board.

Morrisburg over Pontiacs 4-3

The Shawville Pontiacs were in action only once during the holidays and as a result of that game a 4-3 win for Morrisburg last Friday they remain in fourth place in the Ottawa St. Lawrence Senior Hockey League.

With the New Year, the Pontiacs schedule will return to full swing, starting with the Perth Smith Falls Rideaus visiting Shawville this Friday. This will be the first game of the season for the Pontiacs on their own ice as previous home games were played in Renfrew. On Sunday the Pontiacs will travel to Ottawa for an important game against the Ottawa Nationals, and then Tuesday they visit the Buckingham Aces.

In last Friday's 4-3 loss in Morrisburg, the Pontiacs certainly found that they can't win hockey games playing with a two-man shortage. They were called for 11 penalties in succession during the first half of the third period, and during this time Morrisbug blasted home three goals to win a close 4-3 contest. On each of the last three Combines markers Shawville were playing 2 men short.

It is doubtful if one team in an evenly balanced league such as the Ottawa-St. Lawrence has ever been assessed this number of calls, eight minors and three misconducts in such a short space of time as the first came at 1:15 on a roughing call to Earl Powell of Shawville and Rowdy Gillard of Morrisburg, and ended at 11:35 on a slashing call to Bob Newberry. During this time, no other Morrisburg player was penalized.

Morrisburg jumped ahead early on a goal by Bill Craig in Friday's game and it stood until Bryan Murray beat Don Grant in the Combines goal late in the second frame.

In the penalty filled third

First game on artificial ice Friday night

Skating was enjoyed on the Shawville rink on New Year's Day but not on artificial ice. The weather was suitable for a sheet of ice to be frozen before the final arrangements were made to use the refrigeration plant. However, the work on the plant is now proceeding apace so that artificial ice will be there for Friday night's game of the Pontiac's vs Rideaus.

Immediately after the first home game, Minor hockey, children's skating, public skating, school hockey and hopefully figure skating will be scheduled for the rink.

Millar Beverages of Renfrew have installed a fine new time clock and Pontiac Farm Equipment has loaned a tractor to draw the new ice cleaner, shaver and flooder.

frame Bob Rushford sent Morrisburg up 2-1 with the Pontiacs short 2 men but Carson Ryan tied up the contest just 6 seconds later as he broke in alone and scored right from the face-off.

Penalties soon put Shawville behind the eight ball as Jim Forrest fired a pair of goals within seconds apart to send Morrisburg up 4-2 and only some great stops by Jim Carmichael kept the shorthanded Pontiacs close. Late in the period Pontiacs cut the margin to 4-3 as Glen Richardson banged home Earl Powell's pass but Shawville ran out of time in their battle to tie up the contest.

Starting time for Friday's opener in Shawville will be 9:00 p.m. against the second place Rideaus.

peace among nations. There are efforts towards peace within nations. There are efforts towards peace between management and labour.

During the twelve days of Christmas, each year the birth of One who is called the Prince of Peace is celebrated.

Each year, ordinary affairs pause and there is a moment of awe and wonder as Christmas is observed.

And then the busy rush re-commences.

But the kind of peace which the Prince of Peace has available is not just the absence of discord.

Rather, the peace which He can bring is an inner, spiritual peace—a peace, which Saint Paul describes as a peace which passes all understanding.

Furthermore, this peace is not something which can be achieved by negotiation, nor won by human effort alone.

This peace above all is a gift from God.

The Prince of Peace, shortly before He left the earthly life said to His chosen messengers:

"Peace I leave with you: My peace I give unto you . . ."

True peace, then is something offered as a gift from God, as God's peace, a gift from His Son is a positive spiritual composure and once received and shared with others is truly a peace which passes all understanding. with God and it continues in in-wit God and it continues in individual human response, within and among groups.

One of the most ancient and most meaningful of Christian greetings refers to this very gift from God.

"The Peace of the Lord be always with you". This Christian greeting reminds all Christian disciples of that clarion anthem which burst forth from the Heavenly Choir on the first Christmas Day:—

"Glory to God in the highest and on earth, Peace . . ."

J. C. Jamieson celebrates ninety-fifth birthday

Mr. J. C. Jamieson celebrated his 95th birthday on December 11th with a party of family and friends at the home of his eldest daughter Mrs. Roy Leach on Rivermead Road, Lucerne, Que.

Mr. J. C. Jamieson

There were about 35 people at the party, several from the Elm-side and Wyman areas.

For a time Mr. Jamieson operated a general store at Elmside as well, with his wife, who passed away in 1964 which was four years after they had celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary. Mr. Jamieson's present address is 599 Pleasant Park Road, Ottawa.

Mr. Jamieson is enjoying good health and enjoyed meeting all who were present. He was a former Bristol resident, owned the farm home where Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Pirie and family live. He was a good church man and was always there when there was good to be done, was leader of the band of trail rangers for years at St. Andrews Knox church.

Shawville

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Armstrong and Lynn of Montreal spent Christmas with his mother Mrs. Wellington Armstrong.

Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Rowat and children of Scarborough were visitors for a few days during the Christmas holidays at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Rowat.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Brownlee of Lake Cowichan, BC, returned to Shawville to visit Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Dale over Christmas. Mr. Brownlee is Mrs. Dale's brother and had not been in Shawville for 41 years. It should be recorded here that he saw a lot of changes.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Dickson for the weekends of Christmas and New Years were all members of the family as well as some of their friends and during the week in between young Andrew Dickson entertained seven of his own friends for his seventh birthday party. Riding on their one-pony open sleigh was enjoyed by young and old during the holiday weekends, as it was in several other Shawville families.
