VANCOUVER SWEEP BY MIGHTY GALE

GREAT DAMAGE DONE BY GREATEST STORM KNOWN IN MANY YEARS.

Vancouver, B. C., Jan. 1.—Sweeping over Vancouver and district, Monday night and all day Tuesday, the stiffest gale that has been known in many years, wrought havoc in all parts of the city and suburbs, causing many minor accidents and damage in the aggregate that will run into thousands.

Power, light, telegraph and telephone wires are down in all directions. Big signs were swept from fastenings into the street and many narrow escapes were reported. One woman was badly injured and taken to the hospital. In the afternoon street car traffic was tied up on account of the main power line between Vancouver and Lake Buntzen being carried away. An auxiliary plan supplied the light.

Several launches were blown ashore in English Bay, the pier was damaged by drifting logs and the waves lashed to fury, threatening damage to other wharves. The wall of the partly destroyed warehouse recently gutted, fell in and so dangerous has this structure become that all traffic was stopped. The Westminster bridge was blown into the creek, carrying live wires with it.

Outside points report wires down in all directions. The interurban lines were blocked by fallen trees. Windows in many buildings were blown in, so strong was the wind.

At one time yesterday only one wire, that of the Canadian Pacific from Winnipeg, was the only means of communication with outside points. The gale vented its force along the coast and as far south as Portland. In one place, near Bellingham, thirty poles were down. Scores of log booms were broken up and there is great danger to vessels from drifters.

EARTHQUAKE HITS SOUTH CAROLINA

MUCH DAMAGE DONE BY THE SHOCK—JAIL WALLS RENT
AT UNION, S. C.

Union, S. C., Jan. 1.—A violent earthquake was felt here at 128 this afternoon. Chimneys were toppled over throughout the city and a large rent was made in the walls of the county jail. The structure is built of stone and was erected in 1823. The shock lasted about 20 seconds.

STEALS $1,000, BUT CONSCIENCE SMITES

HALIFAX RAILWAY CLERK RE-TURNS THE SAME DAY, IS ARRESTED.

Halifax, N.S., Jan. 1.—John Little, an 18-year-old clerk in the office of the Canadian Express Company at Halifax, is alleged to have entered the office early this morning, opened the safe and taken a package containing $1,000. He left for Truro, but on the way repented, returned to Halifax and getting into the office put the money back in the safe. In the meantime the loss of the money had been discovered. Little was arrested and is said to have confessed. The case will come before the magistrate tomorrow.

SUICIDE BY DROWNING.
St. John, N.B., Jan. 1.—The body of Mrs. Fanny Sharpe, a widow, was found on the shore of Courtenay Bay today. She left her home early Wednesday morning and it is believed threw herself into the sea. She had been ill for a long time and her mind is said to have become affected.

TURKEY CONCEDES MOST OF THE ALLIES' DEMANDS

Willing to Cede Practically All of Ottoman Empire's European Dominions, if She Can Keep Adrianople.

BULGARIAN THREAT TO RENEW WAR

ONE OF THE DELEGATES
QUITS PEACE CONFERENCE
IN A HUFF.

London, January 1.—The peace conference between the delegates of the Balkan allies and the Turkish empire settled down to real business this afternoon in spite of a temporary hitch caused by Michael Madjaroff, one of the Bulgarian delegates, departing in indignation from the meeting with the declared intention of informing the British Foreign Office that the war would be resumed by the allies.

NEW TURKISH PROPOSALS.

The Turkish envoys, when the conference gathered again later, presented in writing new proposals which are a great advance on their first offer. They now express themselves as ready to cede Macedonia and Epirus, with Salonika, and as being ready to discuss the question of the fortress of Adrianople and the future boundary between Turkey and Bulgaria in the province of Thrace.

They still refuse to give up the islands in the Aegean Sea and desire to submit the questions of Albania and Crete to the European powers. The conference lasted today three hours and a half and the delegates then adjourned until Friday.

Meeting Allies' Demands.

The representatives of the allied Balkan nations recognized that the Turks have taken a great step toward meeting their demands. On the question of the Turco-Bulgarian frontier in the province of Thrace in European Turkey Dr. S. Daneff, the leader of the Bulgarian deputation, spoke with firmness. He insisted that the Turkish proposal on this question must approximate very closely to the Bulgarian demands if an agreement were to be reached.

During the conference Michael Marjoroff, the Bulgarian Minister to England, had uttered a sharp protest against the dilatory tactics of the peace plenipotentiaries concluding with the declaration of his intention to inform the British Foreign Office that the allies would resume the war. Marjoroff's action brought the proceedings of the conference to a sudden standstill. After his threatening remarks he promptly left the council chamber in the picture gallery of St. James' Palace and walked off on his mission to the British Foreign Office.

Threat Not Taken Seriously.

M. Marjoroff's threat was not, however, taken too tragically by his colleagues, who decided to take a temporary recess evidently expecting that M. Marjoroff would return and that the conference would continue.

When the session was formally opened to-day the Turks presented practically the same proposals as they had put forward at the last meeting. There were that Turkey should retain the fortress of Adrianople and that the future boundaries of Turkey and Bulgaria would be settled directly between those two powers while the other questions in dispute should be submitted to the great European powers.

The envoys of Bulgaria, Greece, Montenegro and Serbia rose in indignation and valuably protested against this trifling by Turkey.

M. Marjoroff took the lead in the protest by declaring that the action of the Turks was indecent. It was, he said, an insult to bring the peace delegates to London simply to tell them to leave everything to be settled by the European powers.

M. Marjoroff then launched his bombshell and quit the picture gallery. The other delegates afterward informally discussed the matters before the conference and spent some time in drawing up minor proposals that had been laid before them.

London, January 1.—After protracted diplomatic skirmishing the Turks finally capitulated to a majority of the demands of the Balkan allies at today's session of the peace conference in St. James' Palace. Through Rechad Pasha they agreed to cede practically the whole of the Ottoman Empire's European dominions, except Adrianople and the territory between it and Constantinople, to their victorious but traditionally despised neighbors.

The terms the Turkish delegates presented to the conference as a counter proposal to the demands of the allies were:

First—The rectification of the Turco-Bulgarian frontier by making the boundary west of the line now occupied by the troops of the allies in the vilayet of Adrianople.

Second—The question of the status of Adrianople to be settled by Turkey and Bulgaria direct.

Third—The cession of the remaining of European Turkey, including Janina and Scutari, to the allies.

Fourth—The Albanian and Cretan questions to be solved by the powers.

Fifth—The Aegean Islands to remain Turkish.

TURKEY WANTS ARBITRATION

The announcement of these terms were wrung from the Ottoman delegates with the greatest difficulty. They came only after Rechad Pasha had reiterated Turkey's desire to shift the responsibility for adjudicating all the vital questions to the great powers and the representatives of the allies had registered their unchangeable objections to such a course and plainly had given the Turks to understand that the failure of the Ottoman delegates to embark upon serious negotiations would mean a resumption of hostilities in southeastern Europe.

Rechad Pasha presented, as Turkey's first proposal, a proposition to submit all the questions at issue except Adrianople, to settlement by the powers. This caused such an outburst of indignation among the allies that he hastily submitted the counter proposals enumerated above. These are more satisfactory to the Balkan States, but Adrianople is still the big question, and Greece protests against Turkish retention of the Aegean Islands.

Adrianople The Problem.

The bone of contention is Adrianople, the last remaining memory of the might of the Osmanli in Europe. The Bulgarians are ready to allow the Turks to retain in Adrianople the famous mosque of the Sultan Selim, the greatest masterpiece of Ottoman architecture, which is built on the ruins of a Roman pagan temple and which rivals with its two hundred foot high minarets the glory of the Mosque of St. Sophia in Constantinople. They are also willing that the Turks shall keep the Muradieh, which was built by Murad I; the Mosque of Murad IV, and the Bayard Mosque, which are the main centres in Adrianople for Mohammedan worship.

May Be More Concessions.

But the Turks refuse to give up Adrianople. There is an imperishable sentiment which makes them crave for the holy city, the earliest site conquered by Murad I, in 1361. This condition probably explains today's sudden yielding to the allies on other points. Turkey seemingly hopes by ceding almost all her territory to be allowed to retain the only point on which she insists. It is thought likely she also may be ready to cede her islands for the sake of seeing the green banner of the Prophet still waving over "the Jewel of the Orient," as Adrianople is called.

After the conference had adjourned to-day the delegates of the allies held an informal meeting to discuss the situation that had arisen by Turkey's changed attitude. They telegraphed their respective governments and also notified the ambassadors of the powers of the happenings of the day. Unofficially hope is now entertained that if peace is not concluded for the Orthodox Christmas, which occurs Jan. 7, the Orthodox New Year, Jan. 14, will witness its approach.

LABOR LEADERS NOW IN PRISON AT LEAVENWORTH

CONVICTS IN DYNAMITE CON-SPIRACY CASES WILL GO TO WORK TODAY.

Leavenworth, Kan., 1.—Frank M. Ryan, president of the Structural Iron Workers' International Union; Herbert S. Hockin, formerly secretary of the union, and 31 other labor leaders, convicted of conspiracy to dynamite non-union buildings, today began the New Year by entering the federal prison to serve terms of from one year to seven years.

PAIRED IN CELLS.

Each labor leader was numbered, clothed in prison garb and assigned to cells. They were paired in cells, except Hockin, who, it is charged, betrayed his companions. It was Hockin who was accused before the jury of having first hired Ortie E. McManigal to do the dynamiting; of keeping out of each "job" by the Iron Workers' executive board, and then finally turning over to the Government much of the evidence upon which his fellows were convicted.

Tomorrow the prisoners are to be talked to regarding their preferences to the kind of work they would like to pursue. Most of the men being iron workers, it is expected, they are to be given outdoor work on new buildings in construction about the penitentiary plant.

The prisoners were taken by rail directly into the prison grounds. Their first view of the interior was from the windows of the train. Within an hour after arrival each prisoner had been subjected to a hair cut and garbed in the prison uniform.

Prisoners Are Cheerful.

The 750 mile trip across Indiana, Illinois, Missouri and into Kansas was to have been kept secret, but at every station crowds greeted the train as the "dynamiters' special" and cheers and singing at midnight showed the disposition of the prisoners toward a new year which for them was to begin with imprisonment.

At midnight, while passing Jefferson City Mo., Marshal Schmidt passed around coffee, which was drunk from tin cups. Each prisoner was permitted at that time to write out New Year's messages to members of his family.

Beyond that outburst of cheers, it was a long, monotonous ride for the men, each of whom was required to sit throughout the night facing an armed guard.

Near Kansas City the prison train passed within sight of the railroad bridge across the Missouri River which McManigal confessed he blew up.

F. J. Higgins, Boston, former New England organizer for the Iron Workers' Union, became unconscious on the train and was placed in a physician's care. He is sentenced to serve two years.

Oldest 58, Youngest 28.

When the prisoners were registered it was found that Ryan, aged 58, years, was the oldest, and Fred Sherman, aged 28, is the youngest.

Charles Wachmeister, of Detroit, with eight children, has the largest family. He is sentenced to two years. In the office of Deputy Warden W. H. Mackey the prisoners were relieved of their pocket possessions. Among these were photographs of wives, mothers and children.

Ryan faced the deputy warden with his shoulders thrown back and head held erect. It required about three

LOOK FOR THIEF, CATCH MURDERER

PARIS POLICE LUCKY TO GET ANARCHIST ASLEEP WITH GUNS BESIDE HIM.

Paris, Jan. 1.—The police began the New Year with a lucky stroke. While searching for the perpetrators of a burglary committed Dec. 26 at Juziers, near Paris, they had occasion to visit an apartment in Paris occupied by a receiver of stolen goods.

Their knocks at the door of the apartment remaining unanswered, the detectives forced the lock. On entering the room, to their intense surprise, they found fast asleep with two revolvers by his side Alexander Nourry, a redoubtable anarchist, who is believed to be the last member of the gag of automobile bandits who killed Assistant Superintendent of Police Jonin last April.

Nourry, who is said to be a bosom friend of the anarchist Lacombe, the assassin of Editor Ducret early last month, is wanted for numerous burglaries. The police suspect that he participated in a bank robbery at Chantilly last March and in the murder of the postmaster at Bezons in November.

PREMIER ASQUITH SAYS ULSTER TO BE INCLUDED

Impossible to Amend Home Rule Bill to Exempt Nationalist Counties---Ireland Must Be Treated as a Whole.

London, Jan. 1.—An attempt was made this afternoon to instil some semblance of New York vigor into the Home Rule debate in the House of Commons. The members from Ulster proposed the exclusion of the northern province of Ireland from the operations of the measure.

Sir Edward Carson, in moving an amendment to that effect, pleaded for serious consideration of the question which might, he said, be vital to the success of the bill and to the whole constitution of the United Kingdom. It was, he said, a question whether the House of Commons had made up its mind to drive Ulster out of the constitution under which it desired to remain. Never, he concluded, without the use of force, could the Ulster people be compelled to submit to the degradation of a parliament in Dublin which was abhorrent and loathsome to them.

Premier Asquith followed Sir Edward Carson and immediately made it quite clear that the Government would not accept the amendment to the Home Rule bill. "It would wreck the bill," he declared, as the effect of the amendment would exclude several Nationalist counties from the operations of the act. Ireland, he continued, must be treated as a whole, on the principle that what was beneficial for the country as a whole could not in the long run be injurious to any part thereof.

The Premier asked the Unionists to declare clearly what their attitude would be if the Home Rule bill in its present form was submitted to the electorate and approved.

Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the Opposition, said that if the bill were put before the electors and they supported it the Conservative party would not encourage resistance to it by the Ulsterites, but if the Government attempted to force the measure through, against the wisdom of the people of Ulster, he would heartily assist them in resisting it. Mr. Law said he believed the Ulster Loyalists would rather submit to being ruled by a foreign country than by the Nationalists.

Winston Spencer Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, who, when he arose to address the chamber, was greeted with loud Opposition cries of "rat" and "traitor," twitted Mr. Law for insinuating that the Loyalist Ulster men would rather be annexed by a foreign country than continue their allegiance to the Crown if the bill were passed.

On division the amendment was defeated by a vote of 294 to 197.

minutes to search the prisoner. He then was taken to another room to have his prison clothes fitted.

A photograph of three girls fell from the pocket of Charles Beum, a former member of the Iron Workers' executive board. He could scarcely repeat his name. Gazing with a wistful look at the photograph was folded in a large yellow envelope, he raised his hands to his face and cried bitterly.

As "Herbert S. Hockin" was announced, in stepped the man who during the trial was called "the Iago of the conspirators."

Charles Wachmeister was the last man searched. Each prisoner was photographed twice, once when he came in dressed in street clothes and afterward in dark gray prison suit. Later the finger prints of each were taken.

EIGHT ENTOMBED MINERS RESCUED AFTER 34 HOURS

SURVIVORS TELL THRILLING STORY OF HOURS SPENT
UNDER THE GROUND.

Tamaqua, Pa., Jan. 1.—After being imprisoned behind a fall of coal, rock and other mine refuse, eight of the nine men entombed yesterday in the colliery of the East Lehigh Coal Co. near here, were rescued alive to-night. News that the rescue had been made brought joy to several thousands of persons who had gathered around the colliery and when word was received that the men were within sight all physicians were requested to come to the colliery.

THRILLING EXPERIENCE.

Shortly before midnight it was officially announced that the eight men, entombed for thirty-four hours because of a fall of coal, outside of being weak from their confinement and lack of proper nourishment, were in excellent condition. After being examined by physicians the men were taken to their homes in automobiles.

Shortly after these men had reached safety the body of Jos. Walters was recovered. Outside of a fractured arm his body was unmarked and it is believed he met death by drowning.

The men told a thrilling story of the experience and how they were compelled to move from one place to another to escape noxious gases, at many times being up to their chests in water. When rescued they were standing in four feet of water.

ADMIRAL A PEER FOR GUN DEVICE

VICE-ADMIRAL SCOTT NOW A BARONET FOR HIS "FIRE DIRECTOR."

London, Jan. 2.—The Daily Telegraph says the baronetcy conferred by King George upon Vice-Admiral Sir Percy Scott, which was announced in the New Year's honors, is regarded as confirming the report that the Admiralty has decided to adopt Admiral Scott's invention, a "fire director," for the entire fleet.

It is said by the Telegraph that the guns on the battleship Thunderer, which is fitted with a Scott director, have been fired with an accuracy 300 to 400 per cent greater than those from the Orion, which has no director. The invention enables the simultaneous discharge of the ten heavy guns of a Dreadnought.

QUEBEC, THURSDAY, JANUARY 2, 1913

PULPWOOD RESTRICTIONS.

The partial removal of the embargo on the exportation of pulpwood from certain Crown Lands leased to various limit-holders of the Province of Quebec is not, as some people seem to imagine erroneously, any reversal of the Gouin policy of assuring the resources of the Province for the benefit of Canadian manufacturers and laborers. On the contrary it is the very expression of that policy as it aims at the production of the finished article within our own borders and, if it is attended with any measure of success, as it is anticipated it will be, it should enable our Canadian mill-owners to compete on much better terms with their rivals across the border.

What is more, the order-in-council just approved by the Gouin Cabinet is in its intent and effect precisely similar to the measure which has been adopted by Sir Richard McBride in British Columbia, a measure which has been thoroughly justified by the results of its operation.

A careful examination of the events leading up to the demand for such a move—a demand that was supported by some of the Conservatives who were the most determined opponents of reciprocity in the Federal elections of 1911—will convince any student of political economy that in taking this step the Provincial Government has been influenced solely by its concern for the future of the pulp and paper industry in this Province. What the promotion and guaranteeing of that industry means is well realized by all who have followed it to any extent. The mills that have sprung up in different parts of Quebec have put large sums of money in circulation, given employment to thousands of French-Canadians, and been responsible for the rise of prosperous and populous villages in many places.

While it may not be advisable to go into too many details it may be remarked that the condition of the pulp and paper industry has reached a somewhat critical stage during the past twelve months. For this the main reason may be the over-production of pulp and paper.

The large profits made by some of the older established mills two or three years ago created something of a boom in the industry and, as is usually the case when there is a good thing on the tapis, the promoters jumped in to spoil it. As a result mills sprang up all over the province and sometimes in places where it was impractical and even ridiculous to build them.

In 1911 no less than nineteen pulp and paper companies with a total capitalization of more than forty million dollars were incorporated and, though this rate of increase was not maintained during the past twelve months, the fact that the output of the mills was largely increased for the reason that most of the newly incorporated companies only began to produce in 1912 has tended to create the situation which the present action of the government is intended to remedy.

Those who have studied the question say that the increase in the output of paper in Canada during the year 1912 amounted to 500 tons per diem while that in the output of ground wood was in the neighborhood of 400 tons per diem. Besides this, the American mills, owing to an abundant water supply, were able to increase their output and in consequence exported less than usual from Canada.

Naturally this combination of circumstances produced a congested market and, if rumor be true, many of the newer mills could not get rid of their product at all. Others were compelled to sell at cost and, it is feared, may even have to sell below cost. Already the Eastern Canada Power and Paper Company has gone to the wall and others of the younger concerns may be constrained to follow its example.

In addition to this, consideration must be given to the fact that prices have also fallen in the States and that there is a duty of $5.75 per ton which our manufacturers must pay if they are to compete in the American market. By a clause in the American reciprocity agreement which is independent of the adoption or otherwise of that agreement it is provided that this imposition of $5.75 will be lifted if the embargo on the limits from which the finished article is made is removed. It is to induce the Washington government to take off this heavy duty that the Gouin government has passed the above-mentioned order-in-council and it may be safely stated that the amount of pulpwood exported as a result of the lifting of the embargo will probably be very small indeed. As a matter of fact the areas affected by the change are but a very small proportion of the limits leased by the various companies and the boon received in return may make a huge difference to the welfare of the industry.

Had the Gouin government really reversed its policy in respect of these restrictions as some people seem to imagine it has, some of the men who have supported it in this action would have been the first to denounce such a move as being both dangerous and iniquitous.

THE SEPARATISM OF LAURIER.

When Sir Wilfrid Laurier visited Great Britain in 1897 in responding to the toast of the Empire proposed by Mr. Chamberlain he said that:

"At no distant date it was manifest to all that the parting of the ways would be reached by England and her Colonies and, when the parting of the ways should have been reached, the problem would be whether the Colonies should be more closely united with the Motherland or whether their relations should cease altogether. The Colonies had a national pride and no tie and no bond would be permanent in the Colonies until it gave to their national pride the greatest possible expression. In Canada she had unbounded faith in their country. When she reached the full development of her manhood nothing would satisfy her but Imperial representation. He knew that this question was not free from difficulties. Illustrations as had been the career of the Parliament of Great Britain, perhaps no less illustrious might be the career of the Parliament of Greater Britain."

On many occasions in Great Britain he repeated the same idea, as for instance at the National Liberal Club he said that:

"If he had another thought to add it was that while he did not believe in the Parliament of man he believed in the Parliament of Greater Britain."

These statements showed a perfectly clear conception of two things, first, that the only alternative to separation was a clear constitutional alliance expressed through the principle of representation; and second, that the time was drawing near when Great Britain and the Dominions would be at the parting of the ways, leading either to Imperial consolidation or to complete and absolute separation.

That the question is inextricably bound up with that of Imperial Defence was equally clear to the mind of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Replying to a resolution proposed in the Dominion House of Commons on March 13, 1900, he said:

"But I have no hesitation in saying to my honorable friend that if as a consequence of our action today the doctrine were to be admitted that Canada should take part in all the wars of Great Britain and contribute to the military expenditure of the Empire, I agree with him that we should revise the condition of things existing between us and Great Britain. Under that condition of affairs, which does not exist, we should have the right to say to tinsy Great Britain: 'If you want us to help you, call us to your councils; if you want us to take part in wars, let us share not only the burdens but the responsibilities and duties as well. But there is no occasion to examine this contingency to-day.'"

The response of the British Government, through Rt. Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, was prompt and emphatic: "Gentlemen, we do want your aid. We do want your assistance in the administration of the vast Empire which is yours as well as ours. The weary Titan struggles under the too vast orb of his fate. We have borne the burden for many years. We think it time that our children should assist us to support it, and whenever you make the request to us be very sure we shall hasten gladly to call you to our councils. If you are prepared at any time to take any share, any proportionate share, in the burdens of the Empire, we are prepared to meet you with any proposal for giving to you a corresponding voice in the policy of the Empire."

Many people have imagined that Sir Wilfrid Laurier's speech was actuated by a sincere desire for a call to the Imperial Council as the means of justifying assistance and defence. But it was really the presentation of what he regarded as an impossible condition. While he argued that we could not participate in defence because we were not called to the council, he has also argued that we should resist such a call if it were made, because it would lead to participation in defence.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has made this plain in the Imperial sphere. In 1907 he objected to a resolution proposed in the Imperial conference by Dr. Smart which, as the proposer himself said, was nothing more than a pious affirmation. The ground of his objection was more important than the objection itself. He protested because the resolution recognized a general Imperial claim upon the constituent parts of the Empire for defence, a claim which for Canada he refused to recognize. In the conference of 1911 he bitterly opposed and ridiculed the proposal of Sir Joseph Ward for a "Parliament of Defence."

Granted that Sir Joseph Ward's proposal was crude and unworkable. Sir Wilfrid Laurier was the only representative who did not express sympathy with his aim, and opposed it both in substance and in spirit. He also opposed a proposal for improving the means of diplomatic communication between the British and Overseas Governments through a modification of the Colonial Office. He declared positively that Canada was content with things as they are, after having said fourteen years before that things could not long continue as they were without the result of separation.

Equally within the sphere of Canadian public life and political thought Sir Wilfrid Laurier's language and the ideas he has followed have been inconsistent with Imperial aspiration. He has over and over again put forward the doctrine of conditional neutrality. He has over and over again asserted the right of Canada to abstain from participation in Imperial Defence and to remain aloof from wars in which the Empire might be engaged. He has argued that Canada was amply discharging her duty to the Empire by the development of her material resources. He has shuddered before the prospect of the vortex of European militarism. Both in the House and on the platform he has pointed out that Imperial representation would mean the entanglement of Canada in Imperial destiny, a thing to him undesirable in Canada.

In his very latest utterance Sir Wilfrid laid down the doctrine that Canada may be at war without being in the fight, and has shown most distinctly that he objects to the assumption by a cabinet minister of Canada of the duties and responsibilities of a member of the Committee of Defence. He went into a long argument to show that wars had occurred in which Canada had not participated, and evidently considered the possibility of wars in the future in which Canada need not be joined with the Empire.

He objects to Canada's representation in Imperial councils because it would involve a partial responsibility in Imperial affairs. He clings to the notion that Parliament and the government should exercise a specific judgment on Canada's participation in war in each individual case, even after war has been declared. He made this very clear when he was twitted on Canada's action in South Africa, and retorted that it had only been taken on the orders of the government and Parliament, forgetting that the government was forced to act after he had declared that it would not, making thus in practice the choice of action or inaction which he defends in theory.

In questions of administration Sir Wilfrid Laurier's course has been equally clear. He was finally brought to the step of doing something in naval matters. Yet he has all along been saying that Canadian naval participation is a National not an Imperial affair. He has endeavored to limit the operations of a Canadian navy strictly to Canadian waters, although the Empire might be at war elsewhere. He has not only tried to give the navy a National not an Imperial significance, but he has tried to enforce that idea by placing it under an Imperial disability, with the view of insuring that it should not fight outside Canadian waters by making it incapable of fighting anywhere else, and to any purpose not even there.

Now, there are those whose actions lead to certain results without their knowing it, and there are those who would only take a certain line of conduct in ignorance of its result. Such men must be opposed, but with deference to their good faith. But where are we to place a man who has shown the most acute intellectual perception of whether his course was taking his country and himself, and who has nevertheless persisted in it as apparently the fruit of an accepted central purpose? The one course is separatism through ignorance, but the other merits a darker name.

MEMORY SCHOOLS.

A blessing on those modern schools in which we mortals find a way, by means of simple rules, to keep our facts in mind.—The man who cannot recollect his front side from his rear, may get his latitude correct by taking lessons here. His mind becomes a filing case in which he stores away the helpful facts, each in its place, for use some future day. And men who once were failures rank have learned to nail the scads; they're presidents of trust and bank—according to the ads. Schools do a noble work, indeed, we're deeply in their debt; and now a school we greatly need to teach us to forget. We poison all our pleasures here; we keep old woes in mind, and nurse stale grudges by the year, which should be left behind. We worry over divers stakes vainly tried to win; we brood upon our ancient breaks when we should blithely grin. This little life is speeding fast; the wise man gaily humps, and lets the spectres of the past go hang or bump the bumps. O'er vanished things, like dreary fools, we fuss and fume and fret; and so I say we need some schools to teach us to forget.—Walt Mason.

THE CORSAGE BOUQUET.

The woman who collected the fascinating little compasse bunches of flowers last year is now hesitating between them and the large single flowers.

The tiny bunches of roses, forget-me-nots and pansies have been replaced with single blossoms of velvet and silk or clusters of one variety. The modish woman, when choosing the flower to tuck in her stole or bodice, always bears in mind that it must be in season. At present she wears two or three china asters, a single chrysanthemum or a bunch of mountain-ash berries.

These resemble a cluster of gleaming rubies against the suit of gray, black or blue velvet. The touch of vivid color is an absolute necessity this winter, and many costumes depend entirely on the corsage bouquet for this.

English violets give a lovely touch to gray and prune-colored gowns. They can be excellent imitations of the flowers, or made of narrow ribbon combined with green leaves. One clever woman used the real leaves with ribbon flowers, which will slightly and give an excellent idea of the natural flowers.

Maidenhair fern is being combined with the corsage bouquet now. It softens and vivid color and blends with a gown in a very desirable manner. The real fern can be preserved, by the way, for days if the ends are burned off, thus forcing the sap up into the leaves. Asparagus fern is also a good addition to a silk flower.

THE SECRET OF A GOOD COMPLEXION

This is the season for evening parties, social events, etc. Why not look your best? Why let your complexion suffer by contrast with other ladies? Why not ensure a good complexion? You can do this on sound, natural lines by using Zam-Buk, nature's herbal balm.

Zam-Buk is a skin food; and complexion is purely a matter of skin health. Zam-Buk smeared lightly over the face each night acts as a skin tonic. It stimulates the cells beneath the cuticle to healthy action, makes the capillaries and blood vessels work, and the vigorous circulation thus started carries away secreted impurities. Waxy, yellow deposits are thus removed. Hard, pimply growths are softened and disappear. That yellow tinge gives place to the pink of health and the white, velvety "look" and "feel" which healthy skin alone has.

Isn't this wiser than relying upon talcum powder and cosmetics? These only put on a "complexion" from the outside. It doesn't last. Zam-Buk helps nature to build up a complexion from blood and tissue. It lasts.

Zam-Buk also cures skin diseases, pimples, ulcers, abscesses, blood-poison, eruptions, cuts, burns, scalds, chapped places, scalp sores, piles, etc. 50c box at all druggists and stores, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, but beware of harmful substitutes and imitations.

GLIMPSES OF OLD QUEBEC

From the Files of the CHRONICLE, December, 1812 and 1882.

A HUNDRED YEARS AGO TODAY

The Quebec Gazette contains practically else but war news between Russia and France and the United States and Canada, and in the former case the news was about two months old, the paper publishing extracts from London, Paris, St. Petersburg, dated 20th September and 3rd October, while Canadian and American news which was also received by mail was 15 days in transmission, while letters from Kingston, 23rd December, and Montreal, 26th, were received here on 29th.

According to the latest European news, Bonaparte had made overtures of peace to the Emperor of Russia, but it was stated that the latter rejected Bonaparte's overtures and would refuse any overtures while the enemy was in his country.

The Intelligence received and published in the Quebec Gazette on 31st December, fully confirm the story of the entry of the French into Moscow and the destruction of that great city by fire, but there is a remarkable contradiction respecting the latter event between the Russian and French accounts. The former say that the inhabitants and their effects were removed, previous to the entry of the French; the latter, that not only the mass of the inhabitants and their effects, but 30,000 sick and wounded wounded Russians remained in the city. The Russian general says he avoided a second battle, partly to avert the destruction of the city, while the French accuse the Russians of having set it on fire.

The Grand Voyer of the District of Quebec has appointed the Chevalier d'Estimenville as his deputy and the latter notifies all persons concerned that he has opened an office at his residence near the King's bateau yard, at the corner of the street, towards the Brewery, St. Rochs.

The Band of "A" Battery, following an old established custom, serenaded a number of prominent citizens on New Year's eve.

The Anderson Cup was played for in the Quebec Curling rink and won by W. S. Bennett with a score of ten points.

Judgment was rendered on the 30th December, 1882, in the case of the city of Quebec to recover the amount of the bonds of the Levis and Kennebec Railway Co., amounting to thirty thousand pounds and handed over to the city by Baron Grant, as collateral security. The plea set up against the city was that the bonds were valueless, having been illegally issued. The law allowed the bonds to be issued only after 45 miles of the road had been constructed and the defence proved that only 43 1/2 miles of the road was completed when the bonds were issued. The city's action was therefore dismissed.

The annual turkey matches of the 8th R. R. took place at the Beauport range on the 31st December, the prize winners being Capt. Balfour 4 turkeys, Sergt. Dewfall 2, Major Scott, Sgt. Hull, Ptes. J. Goudie and H. Forrest, one each.

FREIGHT THROUGH BRIDGE, 8 KILLED

IRON WORKERS REPAIRING STRUCTURE DASHED INTO THE RIVER.

Huntington, W. Va., Jan. 1.—Eight men were killed and fifteen were injured when a freight train on the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad went through a bridge over the Guyandotte River, three miles from here at 11 o'clock this morning. The known dead:

Engineer E. S. Webber, Russell, Ky.
Emmett Wood, Talbott, W. Va.
Chas. Maddy, Talbott, W. Va.
John O'Connor, Huntington, W. Va.

It was said that four more iron workers were missing.

A crew of thirty-five of the iron workers were employed in repairing the bridge when the freight train appeared on the main track. Some of them believing the structure to have been weakened left their posts, but others laughed at danger and were carried down with the wreckage when the bridge collapsed under the weight of the train. The firemen of the engine, it was reported, refused to cross the bridge and witnessed the accident.

False-work had been placed under the bridge while the repairs were being made, and those in charge believed it to be safe for railway travel. But the river had risen during the night, and it is reported, so weakened the falsework that it collapsed, allowing the bridge to go down. The iron workers were thrown into the water and some of them were drowned, but others swam a shore. Spectators who were watching the men at work gave the alarm and physicians were summoned from here. All traffic on the railroad will be tied up until a temporary bridge can be built.

STEAMER NEVADA SPOKEN.

St. John's, N. F., Jan. 2.—The steamer Nevada, reported overdue on her run from St. John's to Sydney, C. B., was sighted off Cape Race today. Her steering gear was crippled and she was taken in tow by the steamer Solway. The Solway was expected here to-night.

Royal Baking Powder

Absolutely Pure

The Woman Makes the Home

She makes it best who, looking after the culinary department, turns her back resolutely upon unhealthful, or even suspicious, food accessories. She is economical; she knows that true economy does not consist in the use of inferior meat, flour, or baking powder. She is an earnest advocate of home made, home baked food, and has proved the truth of the statements of the experts that the best cooking in the world today is done with Royal Baking Powder.

FOR LAUNDERING BLANKETS.

For one pair blankets, dissolve half bar of good soap; when melted, add one tablespoon powdered borax and one tablespoon ammonia. Put the above in tepid water, enough to cover the blankets. Let remain in suds one hour without rubbing, but saturate them well.

Rinse until the water is clear. Hang on the line without wringing and they will not shrink.

Milk may be kept from scorching if the pan in which it is to be cooked is rinsed thoroughly before the milk is poured in.

To whiten clothes, add a spoonful of borax to the last rinsing water. The borax should be dissolved in very hot water before adding.

When a drain pipe becomes clogged, mix a handful of soda and salt each and force down the pipe, then flush with a kettle of boiling water. A teaspoon of vinegar added to any meat which is to be boiled will render it much more tender.

CLEANING CARPET SWEEPERS.

Carpet sweepers may be cleaned by using a hairbrush with wire bristles, such as may be bought for 10 cents. The threads and dust that become entangled in the rollers will yield to treatment with the wire brush.

DARWIN'S THEORY NOW ESTABLISHED

HUMAN DESCENT FROM APES PROVED BY SKULL OF THE "SUSSEX MAN."

London, Dec. 24.—A race of apes and speechless men, inhabiting England hundred of thousands of years ago, when they had for their neighbors the mastodon and other animals now extinct, is the missing link in the chain in man's evolution, which leading scientists say they have discovered in what is generally described as "the Sussex skull." To this Dr. Woodward proposes to give the name "Eoanthropus," or "man of dawn."

Prof. Arthur Keith says that the discovery marks by far the most remarkable advance in the knowledge of the ancestry of man ever made in England, and supports the view that man was derived not from a single genus or species, but from several different genera. He goes on: "It gives us a stage in the evolution of man which we have only imagined since Darwin propounded the theory."

Simian Stage of Evolution. Prof. Keith's view is that the Sussex man was a man "still in the simian stage of evolution," and he holds that the skull supports the conclusions which the anthropologists of to-day have reached that in the early days, many hundreds of thousands of years ago, there were several quite different species of mankind existing at the same time.

Several points of interest have developed from the scientists' examination of the skull, which, by the way, they are inclined to believe belonged to a female. The chief point is the size of the brain cavity, which is estimated by Dr. Woodward at 1,070 cubic centimeters. This compares with 1,000 to 1,200 in aboriginal Australian women, and 1,080 in the Gibraltar skull, belonging to the pleistocene period.

In form the brain was flattened, and, as in the modern man, the left fore part of the brain was larger than the right. Another feature to which attention has been drawn is the enormous thickness of the skull. Both these are points of resemblance with the skull of the Neanderthal man.

Is a Human Skull.

Attention is drawn to the fact that in a host of details, such as the formation of the ear and the points of the lower jaw, the skull, unlike that of the Neanderthal man, is of the human as opposed to the anthropoid type. The neck, on the other hand, must have been squat and apelike, and the formation of the chin retreating, like that of a dog.

According to Dr. Woodward, there are two points which definitely and positively mark the skull as human. These are found first in the nature of the hinge for the lower jaw, which agrees absolutely with that in modern men, and differs emphatically from that of apes, and, second, in the presence of the two conspicuous sub-conical bosses of bone at the base of the skull, known as the mastoid processes.

These are peculiar to the human race, but the bosses of bone in the Sussex man are smaller than in the higher race.

Lower Jaw Proves It.

But it is not, Dr. Woodward declares, till we come to an examination of the lower jaw that the full significance of the discovery becomes apparent, for while the brain case is emphatically human the jaw is as emphatically apelike. Found by itself it might and would be regarded as that of an ape with many human features in its general conformation.

This remarkable fragment agrees with the celebrated jaw found about five years ago by Jauer Heidelberg and known as the Heidelberg jaw, but it presents an apelike feature which the less ancient Heidelberg jaw does not. The most striking point of both is the extraordinarily receding chin, the jaw sloping backward sharply from the base of the teeth, which had a decided forward thrust.

In the living races of mankind the chin is always more or less conspicuous, the lower border of the jaw standing well in advance of the teeth, which are mounted vertically along its rim.

Other apelike features of the jaw are the absence of the muscular ridge along its inner surface, known as the myeloid ridge, affording attachments for the muscles of swallowing and speech. This ridge is always present in the human jaw.

A Speechless Race.

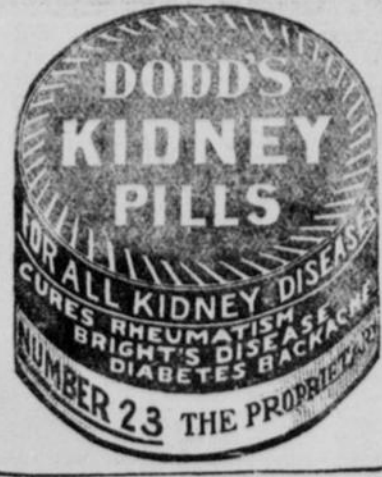

Finally in apes two branches of the lower jaw, where they meet in front behind the teeth, form a sort of platform on which the tongue rests. In man this platform has been suppressed, thus greatly enlarging the cavity of the mouth and rendering speech possible.

It is, therefore, generally agreed that the skull belonged to a race of men who lacked the power of speech.

A prominent anthropologist, who was interviewed, said that the evidence on that point was convincing, the "speech centres" in the brain being so feebly developed that brain power was practically non-existent.

It is also clear that the front teeth, which are missing, must have been very large and protruding, and man with such teeth could not talk. Yet the back teeth must have been human teeth.

As has already been explained, the Sussex skull is not entire, but the fragments discovered are sufficiently complete to give, when fitted together, a fairly accurate picture of a greater portion of the brain-containing part of the skull. The face and the greater part of the forehead are missing, but fortunately half of the lower jaw with the first and second molar teeth in situ was recovered. The front part of the mandible also is missing, but there is enough to show that the chin conformation was identical with that of the anthropoid apes.

No Other Bones.

Not a single bone of the limbs or trunk was found.

The skull was apparently complete when unearthed by workmen, but realizing the importance of their find they broke it up into three fragments right away. Charles Dawson, an amateur geologist, heard of the affair by chance, and with the aid of Dr. Woodward recovered as many fragments as possible. They also discovered in the same spot two broken pieces of the molar of the pliocene type of elephant, a molar cusp of a mastodon, teeth of the hippopotamus, castor, and equus, and fragments of an antler of the cervus elephant.

Mr. Dawson, in telling of the discovery, said the fragments of the skull, like the fossils found with them, were deeply stained and impregnated with iron oxide.

The same stratum also contained samples of colts, or the most primitive flint forms ascribed to human workmanship, which occur so plentifully on the Kentish plateau, twenty miles north of the scene of the present discovery. These include two highly worked flints of a type known as chellian, but they are fawn-colored, while the other flints were deeply stained like the fossil bones found with them.

Middle Pleistocene.

The human skull shows no mark of having been rolled and worn like the fossil bones of the pliocene animals that lay near it. Hence Mr. Dawson and Dr. Woodward expressed the opinion that the human fossil bones were not of the same age as the pliocene animals, but belonged to the much later date, indicated by flints, namely, the middle pleistocene period.

This opinion, however, is not shared by other scientists. Sir Edwin Ray Lankester thinks the age of the skull could not be considered satisfactorily established, and urges the geological society to take the necessary steps to determine exactly the age of the deposit.

Prof. Keith also disputes the age assigned by Dr. Woodward and Mr. Dawson. He is inclined to place the skull back in the days of the pliocene elephant or hippopotamus.

Prof. Boyd Dawkins, on the other hand, saw no reason to doubt that the period was that given to it by the first investigators.

Prof. Keith expresses the opinion that the skull is what anthropologists have been seeking for forty years, namely, a tertiary man, mankind of the pliocene age, which was the beginning of the first great glacial period.

JUNGLE SALE OF SINGING FISHES

A LITTLE STORY FOR THE CHILDREN OF THE CROSS DR. BULL FROG.

By Farmer Smith.

"Now, you sing that song right or I will throw a coconut at you," said Dr. Bull Frog, as he made a face at the Little Fish, which caused his glasses to fall in the water.

"You see, it doesn't do any good to get mad at me. For when you do, your glasses fall off," gurgled the Little Fish. "I am trying to sing the song right, but my mouth gets full of water."

"Tut-tut!" exclaimed Dr. Bull Frog. "I can live under water and on the shore, too. So come up where you can get some air. Now, sing these lines after me:

"Little Fishie in the brook, Look out for the tiny hooks."

"But, I don't like to sing about hooks," said the Little Fish, beginning to cry.

Dr. Bull Frog couldn't see that the Little Fish was crying, for the tears looked just like the water in the Big River.

"Go on! Go on!" exclaimed the doctor, "you have to do a lot of things in this world that you do not like. So do I. So does everybody."

"Yes," said the Little Fish, "but everybody doesn't have to sing about the things they do not like."

"Then," said Dr. Bull Frog, turning over the leaves in the singing book, let us sing this song:

"Little Fishie has his eyes On the floating Little Fish, What would Little Fishie do If he caught just one or two?"

"That's better," said the Little Fish, as he started to sing, while Dr. Bull Frog beat time with his glasses.

By the time the song was learned, Mr. and Mrs. Elephant came down to hear it.

"I did not know fishes could sing," said Mr. Elephant.

"There are a great many things you don't know," said Dr. Bull Frog.

Total increase, 1912.....$815.80

It is noticeable that even in the poorer parishes there is an increase over last year's collection.

It is worthy of note that the door to door collection on Christmas Eve commenced at 6:30 and at 9:30 every ward of the city had been collected and the reports received at the Club Rooms of the Commercial Travelers. This is an extraordinary feat, when we consider that this includes Montcalmville to Bellvidere road, Stadacona to Charesbourg, and Limoulou to Beauport—a very large and populous section to cover in such a short time. But nothing extraordinary for the Commercial Travelers, who, after ten years' experience, have a perfect organization.

The doors that had no contribution to give were very few, and these due to proprietors being absent. Another year we hope these good citizens shall at least leave their donation to be given anyway.

RENEWING OLD KID GLOVES.

Make a thick mucilage by boiling a handful of flaxseed, add a little dissolved toilet soap, then when the mixture cools, put the gloves on the hands and rub them with a piece of white flannel wet with the mixture. Do not wet the glove through.

To clean kid gloves rub with very slightly damp bread crumbs. If not effectual, scrape upon them dry fuller's earth or French chalk, when on the hands, and rub them quickly together several times. Or put gloves of a light color on the hands and wash them in a strong lather made of soft soap and warm water or sponge them well with turpentine and hang them in a warm place or where there is a current of air and all smell of turpentine will be removed.

CONGRATULATIONS TO PRESIDENT FALLIERES.

Paris, Jan. 1.—The traditional New Year's reception at the Elysee Palace was held today. It was exceptionally well attended as the function was to mark the last public appearance of M. Fallieres in his capacity as President of the republic. The entire diplomatic corps was present.

Sir Francis Bertie, the British Ambassador, as dean of the diplomatic corps, delivered a speech in which he congratulated M. Fallieres on behalf of his colleagues. He said that during M. Fallieres' tenure of office he had taken a pre-eminent part in the work of civilization and largely had helped to maintain the good relations between nations.

President Fallieres thanked the ambassadors for the kind words of Sir Francis and said he would always treasure as one of the happiest memories of his years in office the excellent relations he had maintained with the diplomatic corps.

ENGINEERS STUDY DRY DOCK PROBLEM

BOARD READY TO REPORT TO OTTAWA ON QUESTION OF ALIGNMENT.

The problem of the alignment of the new Quebec dry dock has been investigated by the three expert engineers recently named by the Government, who are now engaged on their report to be submitted to the Department of Public Works.

The difficulty in the alignment of the new dock was raised some weeks ago, when the engineers arrived on the scene to arrange for the beginning of the work of construction. One of the experts insisted that the entrance to the dock should face the river parallel with the present dry dock, while a second engineer held the opinion that the entrance would be more advantageous if it faced down the river and thus would be free of any possible blockade from moving ice that always crowds to the south side of the river with the down tide.

The Government, in view of the difference of opinion, decided to name a commission of engineers to study the question. Messrs. Lafleur, chief engineer of the Public Works Department, Ottawa; Wilson of the firm of Coope, Son & Matthews, London, England; and A. D. Swan, engineer of Montreal, were named and have for some days past been engaged in investigating conditions, and are now working on their report.

Mr. Swan, one of the engineering experts, was seen by a Chronicle reporter, but said he could not possibly give out any information in respect to the decision arrived at until the report reached Ottawa.

In the meantime it is said by parties who are in a position to know that the entrance adopted will face toward the Island of Orleans.

MR. STAFFORD NOW IMMIGRATION HEAD

APPOINTED AGENT FOR QUEBEC, WITH MR. HUARD AS ASSISTANT.

Mr. John P. Stafford has been officially named Dominion Government Immigration Agent for the port of Quebec, and Mr. Alphonse Huard, N. P., is appointed as his assistant.

The official letter containing Mr. Stafford's appointment arrived in the city on Tuesday last, when Mr. Huard also received notice of his appointment.

The naming of Mr. Stafford to the position of Dominion Government Immigration Agent at Quebec is approved by the public, and especially by the railroad and steamship agents, who are constantly brought into contact with his department during the summer season of navigation of the St. Lawrence.

Mr. Stafford joined the immigration service over twenty years ago, and today enjoys the reputation of being one of the ablest and most energetic, as well as honorable, officials in the entire service.

He is the son of the late Mr. Lawrence Stafford, a former Quebec Agent of the Dominion Government, and brother of Mr. Lawrence Stafford, advocate, of this city.

The appointment of Mr. John P. Stafford cannot be classed as political. It is a well deserved promotion of a capable officer, who has spent the best part of his life in the service, and is familiar with the duties of the office from A to Z, and while he is deserving of congratulations, the government is also to be congratulated on the excellence of its appointment.

MINTO SPECIAL DERAILED AT CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., Jan. 1.—The Minto Special, which left Charlottetown this morning for Summerside, ran into an open switch outside of Charlottetown, derailing the engine, baggage car and second-class car, the engine and baggage car turning completely over. The passenger coaches remained on the track. The engineer and fireman jumped and escaped injury. Baggage-master Burns escaped with a few bruises. The switch lock was found to have been broken and the switch thrown wide open.

NEW ICE BREAKERS FOR ST. LAWRENCE

MINISTER OF MARINE IS CONSIDERING TWO DOUBLE SIZE OF MONTCALM.

It is learned that the Minister of Marine and Fisheries has under consideration the construction of two large ice breakers, double the size and capacity of the Steamer Montcalm for service in the Lower St. Lawrence during the winter season, and will place the amount required for the building of one of the two boats on the estimates during the present session.

This bears out the reputed determination of the Dominion Government to inaugurate the scheme of winter navigation by practical means that is sure to lead to a regular winter service of the St. Lawrence to European ports before many years.

TORONTO MAN UNDER ARREST FOR BIGAMY.

Toronto, Jan. 1.—Samuel M. Fellows was arrested today, charged with bigamy. Some time ago Fellows was apprehended by the police upon information received from England, but he denied so positively that he was not the man wanted that he was allowed to go free. Information of a more detailed character has been received since, which claims that Fellows, upon coming to Toronto in March last, left a wife and three children in Manchester, England, and that since his arrival here another child was born to him in Manchester. On November 2nd he married a widow in Toronto, who has three children.

Outplaying and outgeneralling the Wanderer team at almost every stage of the game, the Quebec sextette continued its winning streak in Montreal Tuesday night and scored three goals against their opponents' one.

STRENUOUS GAME.

Quebec won out on its merits after a hard and strenuous game in which there was considerable rough work, many penalties being handed out to members of both teams and something over a hundred dollars being collected in fines. Mummery, $30, Marks, $15, Hyland $17 and Sprague Cleghorn $15, were the chief offenders and the first named not only spent some time on the fence but also had to have five stitches put in his eye as the result of a blow from Ernie Russell.

The Quebec team all played in splendid fettle, the impregnable "Paddy" putting up an almost faultless exhibition of goal-keeping. Quebec's new man, Crawford, was hailed as a veritable find and there is no doubt that the cupholders will be greatly strengthened by his appearance with the team. His showing much impressed the Montreal press and he also helped out a good deal by checking back.

Malone Did Most Scoring.

Malone, as usual, did most of the scoring, his first point being tallied on a pass from Hall and the second in the third period.

Marks played a grand game, attacking well and checking back with great success.

Tommy Smith was good both on attack and defence and is one of the best all round players on the team. Hall and Mummery presented a strong combination that seemed to rattle the Wanderers a lot and they stopped many dangerous rushes.

Only in the first period did the Wanderers have any advantage and that was only at intervals. Although the game was fast at the outset the ice soon deteriorated and the going became pretty heavy. Hyland Ross and Russell kept the champions busy for the first half of the period and Russell drew first blood on a pass from Hyland after about eight minutes of play.

Moran Stops 'Em.

Wanderers continued to press and gave Paddy Moran a good lot of shots to handle, but Paddy was not to be caught napping and cleared all he was called on to negotiate in fine style, being frequently applauded by the spectators.

All the efforts of the Wanderers to increase their lead proved abortive and six minutes after Russell had scored Hall came right down and drawing the defence skilfully passed to Malone who tied the score for Quebec.

This put heart into the Quebec team and they speeded up so much that by the end of the period the Wanderers were pretty well disorganized.

When Quebec came out for the second period they continued to have the best of the play, but altered their style of game, Tommy Smith playing well back and Marks and Malone carrying the attack to the enemy. This seemed to worry the Wanderer forwards and by and by Smith, who had been watching his opportunity, got away and through the Wanderer defence, putting Quebec in the lead after seven and a half minutes.

Game Gets Rough.

After this whatever move the Wanderers tried out the Quebec men always found something to counter with. It was at this juncture that the game became rougher and Mummery was sent off, Sprague Cleghorn following shortly afterwards.

In the third period Quebec elected to play on the defensive and these tactics worked out well. When the period was about half over Malone tallied a third point for the visitors. Mummery was again sent to the fence shortly after and Jeff Malone came on and put up a good game.

Wanderers finding it impossible to penetrate the Quebec defence themselves started in to try shooting from centre ice but could make no impression and the game ended shortly after.

The teams:

VEZINA IN GOAL BEAT TECUMSEHS

CANADIENS VICTORIOUS AT TORONTO BY SCORE OF 4 TO 3.

Toronto, Jan. 1.—Very excellent goal tending by Vezina was responsible for another defeat of the Tecumsehs at the Arena to-night, Canadiens winning by four to three. The largest crowd of the season saw the game, which was close throughout, but not notable for speed until near the end of the final period, when Tecumsehs came very close to evening the count. Vezina, however, stood in the breach and practically won the game for the Frenchmen.

Canadiens had a marked advantage on Tecumsehs in speed. The sturdy defence of the Indians offset that advantage to a large extent. The McNamara brothers played a strong game both defensively and offensively. On the forward line Smith, in spite of his lack of speed, played an effective game and notched two of the Indians' three goals. His shooting was hard and accurate. Art Throop appeared better able to go the route than any of the other forwards and worked hardest. He had one tooth knocked out and others loosened by being hit by the puck during the third quarter.

Nicholson's goal tending showed some improvement, but his clearing was not altogether without fault. George McNamara made several sparkling rushes. Jack Laviolette was the best man on the French attack and the best man on the ice, excepting, perhaps, Vezina.

Cleanest Game of Season.

The game was slow and lifeless in the first two periods. No spirited checking was in evidence and there was an almost total absence of back checking. The game was the cleanest N. H. A. fixture of the season, only one minor foul being committed, that by Lalonde in the final period. Tecumsehs had slightly the better

TOMMY MURPHY DEFEATS BURNS

FRANKIE'S SECONDS THREW UP THE SPONGE IN THE SEVENTEENTH ROUND.

San Francisco, Jan. 1.—Frankie Burns' seconds threw a towel into the ring in the 17th round of his fight with Harlem Tommy Murphy to-day. Burns had been beaten almost insensibly and his face had lost its contour.

Murphy, barring the second round, when he ran afoul of a right cross that sent him to the mat for a couple of seconds, was at all times Burns' master.

Ringside odds saw Burns on the long end at 10 to 6 against 10 to 7 this morning.

Weather conditions were ideal and 4500 people witnessed the contest. Murphy had everything his own way in the first two rounds. He displayed dazzling speed and landed time and again left hooks to the jaw, drawing blood and all but flooring the Oklahomaan.

Burns opened the third with two vicious right clouts to the jaw, after which round resolved itself into a slugging match. Murphy staggered Burns in the fourth and forced him into a corner. The Harlemite nearly felled Burns in the fifth, but Burns forced Murphy to a clinch.

Both men landed often in the sixth, playing constantly for the face and jaw. Burns opened a gash over Murphy's mouth. Murphy had the better of the seventh, planting his left solidly to the jaw a half dozen times.

Eighth Round Was Vicious.

The eighth round was the most vicious of the fight. After Murphy had peppered the Oklahomaer with lefts to the face, Burns landed three powerful blows to the jaw. A rally followed, during which Burns was all but sent through the ropes.

Murphy had the better of the ninth and Burns was bloody as he took his seat. Murphy almost felled Burns in the tenth, but Burns fought with gameness in the eleventh while Murphy used him as a chopping block.

Burns staggered Murphy in the twelfth, a left to the face followed quickly with a powerful right slowing up the Harlemite. Both men were covered with blood when the round ended.

Burns Loses His Punch.

The thirteenth round saw no blows of consequence and Burns slowed up perceptibly in the next two rounds. He seemed to have lost his punching power.

Murphy, in the sixteenth, almost knocked out Burns with right and left punches to the jaw, and Burns was carried to his corner. When the bell rang for the start of the seventeenth, Burns tottered from his seat. Murphy went after him, landing right and left on an undefended face. The crowd importuned Referee Griffin to stop the fight and a towel was thrown from Burns' corner as a token of defeat. Murphy got the decision.

of the first period. In the first ten minutes they had five shots to Canadiens one and succeeded in scoring the first two goals. Strike, Throop and G. McNamara were prominent for the Indians. A shot from Strike hit Pitre in the stomach and disabled him for a few minutes. Harry Smith got the first goal of the game on a shot from outside the defence. The puck landed in the upper left-hand corner of the net.

Howard McNamara scored the Tecumsehs second goal on a pass from Smith. Nicholson blocked a shot from Lalonde but did not clear quickly and Pitre slammed the rubber back in to the net. Lalonde missed a pass close to Tecumsehs' goal but Laviolette evened the count with a lone rush which carried him through the Indian defence. Vezina, meantime, played a great game. G. McNamara's rushes availed nothing when the Montreal goalkeeper rushed ten feet out of his goal and blocked the shots.

Laviolette's Long Shot.

At the commencement of the second period Laviolette went through and put his team in front with a long range shot. Canadiens attacked Nicholson's goal vigorously in this period and had a slight margin in the favor of the play. Pitre scored the sixth goal from a scrimmage in the mouth of the Indians' net and made the tally four to two.

Canadiens superior speed was in evidence in the final period when Nicholson made his best performance of the night. One and two-men rushes carried the rubber from end to end repeatedly, but good goal-keeping prevented scores. Finally Harry Smith notched Tecumsehs' third and final goal after a scramble close in front of Vezina. The locals were pressing determinedly in the final few minutes, but the Frenchmen checked back desperately and held the Indians off.

The line-up:

Tecumsehs.	Goal:	Canadiens.
Nicholson		Vezina
G. McNamara		Dubeau
H. McNamara		Laviolette
Smith		Lalonde
Strike		Pitre
Throop		Smith

Referee: Johnny Brennan, Montreal; judge of play, Charles Querrie, Toronto. Goal umpires: Marchand, Montreal; Anglin, Toronto.

Substitutes: Second period, Gaul replaced Throop; E. Liffiton replaced H. Smith; Throop replaced Strike. Third period, Throop replaced Gaul; Dalarie replaced D. Smith. There were no substitutes in the first period.

Penalties: Lalonde, minor foul.

Summary:

1—Tecumsehs, H. Smith.
2—Tecumsehs, G. McNamara
3—Canadiens, Pitre.
4—Canadiens, Laviolette.
5—Canadiens, Laviolette.
6—Canadiens, Pitre.
7—Tecumsehs, H. Smith.

VICTORIAS 3, SHERBROOKS 2.

Sherbrooke, Que., Jan. 1.—The Victorias of Montreal defeated the local hockey team in an exhibition game here today by a score of 3 to 2.

FRANCE HAS FIRST RIOT OVER A FOOTBALL GAME

Paris, Jan. 1.—For the first time in France a football riot occurred to-night. It was at the Parc Des Princes, Paris, after a Scottish rugby team had defeated a French team by a score of 21 to 3.

The mob broke down the barriers and assailed the referee, J. W. Baxter, with sticks and stones. It required the united efforts of the players, police and mounted officers to break up the disturbance and rescue the official.

On returning to Paris a large crowd of the spectators of the game paraded the boulevards, shouting "down with the referee." Afterwards they made a demonstration in front of the office of a sporting newspaper.

The Weather

Toronto, Jan. 1.—Pressure is high over the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, while a trough of low pressure extends from Lake Superior southward to the Gulf of Mexico. Some local snowfalls have occurred in Manitoba and Saskatchewan but the weather in Canada has been nearly everywhere fair and mild.

Minimum and maximum temperatures: Victoria, 32-40; Vancouver, 30-36; Kamloops, 20-26; Calgary, 18-30; Edmonton, 14-20; Battleford, 10-16; Prince Albert, zero, 6; Moose Jaw, 14-25; Winnipeg, 12-28; Parry Sound, 30-34; London, 18-36; Toronto, 30-42; Ottawa, 28-34; Montreal, 32-36; Quebec, 32-36; St. John, 36-44; Halifax, 30-40.

Forecasts:

Lower Lawrence: Fair, not much change in temperature.

Gulf and Maritime: Fresh westerly winds; fair, not much change in temperature.

OCEAN STEAMSHIP ARRIVALS.

New York: Adriatic, Genoa; Kroonland, Antwerp.

Queensdown: Megantic, New York.

St. John, N.B.: Lake Champlain, London and Antwerp.

OTTAWA WINS IN BURLESQUE GAME

TORONTO BEATEN 7 TO 1 ON SOFT ICE — MATCH WAS QUITE TAME.

Ottawa, Jan. 1.—The smallest crowd that has ever witnessed a National Hockey Association game in Ottawa saw the Ottawa defeat the Torontos by 7 to 1 in a burlesque exhibition at the Arena to-night. Taking a lead of three goals in the first period, the wearers of the Red, White and Black scored two against Toronto, one in the second and added another brace in the final.

Toronto's goal was a lucky one, a long shot from Sue McLean's stick finding a place in the net behind LeSueur. The blue shirts were never dangerous.

Ottawa outplayed the Torontos at every turn and after the first session the spectators sat back in silence, except for the moment when Toronto scored. They then arose and gave Bruce Ridpath's team a mighty cheer as if to encourage them. Otherwise it was a funeral-like affair. The crowd numbered about 2,500, presenting a surprising contrast to the capacity audiences of other seasons. There was no excitement of any kind and the match, except for a few fouls, was decidedly tame, though Referee Harvey Purford and Referee Hern handed out a few major penalties.

Poor Start of Season.

It was an unfortunate start to the professional season, which will be a poor one locally unless the Toronto team strengthens up.

The weather had been mild since early in the week and the ice was so soft that the skates of the players and officials sometimes cut through into sand underneath. It was even worse than if there had been water on the surface, for the puck stuck and rolled instead of skipping along, thus eliminating the possibility of fast skating, combination or clever stick handling.

Slap-dash hockey consequently was the result, with Ottawa the aggressors throughout. There was considerable tripping on both sides and occasionally the opposing defence men caused the crowd to recall the hockey games in the nineties through hoisting the puck up or down the ice—it would not go otherwise. No combination was effected by either team. The Ottawas worked out their full squad, so one-sided was the game and Manager Bruce Ridpath, of the Torontos, kept putting men on-and off, in an effort to infuse the westerners with speed and snap.

Good Hockey Impossible.

The conditions were such as to make good hockey impossible and consequently it would be unfair to judge the Torontos on to-night's showing. Their defence was fairly good and Holmes, in goal, made a number of fine stops. Davidson and McLean showed fair form and Cameron, at cover, was the best man on the Toronto team, by a wide margin. They failed to block the men either with their bodies or sticks, however, and had the ice been hard, speed merchants like Ronan, Darragh and Shore would probably have skated rings around the defence of the Blue and White.

Cameron showed speed in going up the ice and made a number of game attempts to bore through the Ottawa defence, but both McLean and Davidson were slow in clearing. It was on the line that "Riddy's" team showed its greatest weakness. Wilson, Foyston and McGiffin are said to be hard ice men and in their previous games they were given credit for showing considerable speed.

To-night, however, about the only thing they showed included pretty uniforms and good looks. They shot poorly, passed away ahead of the man, as a general rule, and were about three flights below the Ottawa in stick handling.

McGiffin checked very hard and earned two major penalties which cost him $10, but Ronan and Denison had much the better of him in mid-ice.

Toronto Must Be Strengthened.

The belief locally is that Ridpath will require strength in nearly every position if the Torontos are to make a showing when the other big teams in the N. H. A. shake off their pre-season drowsiness and get down to normal shape. Neighbor, who was on for a time, is an Ottawa valley recruit. He did not have a chance to show what he could do, but it is known that he has speed.

The match was, of course, nothing other than a good stiff workout for Ottawa. Percy LeSueur stopped everything that came his way except for McLean's unexpected hoist from away out. LeSueur dropped off in the third and Clint Benedict stepped in and filled his place to a nicety. Fred Lake had an easy night at point and only rushed occasionally. Shore worked hard and brought down the house with several of his serpentine rushes. Skene Ronan did some pretty stick handling; Jack Darragh kept boring in constantly, and Harry Broadbent had little difficulty in out-playing his check. Broadbent broke away for several pretty rushes and gave Holmes several close calls with his wicked shooting. Joe Denison replaced Ronan when the latter injured his eye in the first period and distinguished himself by nothing two goals in quick succession.

Tommy Westwick replaced Broadbent in the last period. Westwick

MCCARTY NOW IS UNDISPUTED "WHITE HOPE"

DEFEATS AL PALZER IN THE 18TH ROUND, REFEREE STOPPING FIGHT.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 1.—Luther McCarty, of Springfield, Mo., shattered the heavyweight championship ambitions of Al Palzer, the Iowa giant, at the Vernon Arena today. For nearly 18 rounds he used the huge frame of the Iowan as a punching bag.

The middle of the 18th round found Palzer staggering blindly about under a volley of lefts to his battered face, and when Referee Charles Eytton walked between the men and hoisted the right hand of the smiling cowboy pugilist, the decision was received with cheers.

LEADS WHITE HEAVYWEIGHTS

McCarty's victory, following his decisive defeat three weeks ago of Jim Flynn, places him at the top of the list of white heavyweights.

McCarty has announced, and reiterated the statement today, that he would never fight a negro.

Palzer, in spite of his superior height, weight and reach, was no match for the cool-headed, agile youngster. He literally stumbled through the fight, assimilating awful punishment, and his rushes were wholly ineffective. He scarcely landed a clean blow throughout the fight.

Palzer began the fight with an aggressiveness that indicated a desire to finish his man in short order, but McCarty had little difficulty in eluding him.

Only once Palzer appeared to have an advantage. In one of the early rounds McCarty slipped to the mat. Palzer rushed in, launching a right uppercut to catch the rising man, but McCarty ducked out of danger.

McCarty Fights Cleverly.

McCarty fought cleverly throughout, taking his time and beating down his man systematically. He seldom wasted a blow, and hit with deadly precision. Palzer had practically no defense against the Missouriian's whip-like left, delivered straight from the shoulder, and seldom was he able to block the right swing or uppercut which invariably followed a series of straight lefts.

McCarty landed at will, and with an accuracy that became monotonous. Palzer's eyes were kept almost continually on his manager, the veteran Tom O'Rourke, who shouted instructions to him through a megaphone. He appeared to have no initiative whatever. O'Rourke's instructions were as audible to McCarty as to Palzer, and every move of the Iowan was anticipated by his foe.

Palzer's Face Disfigured.

Palzer's face was badly disfigured, and he showed the effects of his beating even more than did McCarty's last victim, the veteran Flynn.

In the 18th round Palzer walked unsteadily to the centre of the ring and literally fell into a left hook that dazed him. He clung to McCarty's shoulders, and when they separated McCarty shot two lefts to the jaw. McCarty apparently unwilling to administer the finishing punch, backed was only on for about ten minutes but he managed to pull off a lot of useful back-checking, went down with Ronan and Darragh for a few pretty rushes and finally had his efforts rewarded when he registered, on a neatly played back-hand slap, his first goal in the big league.

Bruce Ridpath, their manager, and Jack Marshall, their new coach, shouted instructions to the visitors from the side and both were confident that their proteges would have done much better had the ice been hard.

H. Purford and R. Hern were the officials, doing fine work.

WORKS AT TORONTO COST 13 MILLIONS

SEVEN BY-LAWS ADOPTED AT CITY ELECTION INVOLVE $13,046,000.

Toronto, Jan. 1.—Toronto ratepayers today carried seven by-laws providing for the expenditure of $13,046,000. They were as follows: For a new waterworks system at Scarborough, $6,667,000; for a viaduct at Bloor street to the east end of the city, $2,500,000; for a garbage disposal plant, $1,000,000; for the extension of the filtration plant at the island, $1,375,000; for storm overflow sewers, $954,000; grant to Sick Children's Hospital, $250,000; grant to National Sanitarium Association for Cure of Consumption, $200,000; and for good roads in the county, $100,000.

H. C. Bocken, who was elected mayor council to succeed Mayor Geary, was re-elected by a tremendous majority. Thomas Foster, T. L. Church and J. O. McCarthy were re-elected to the Board of Control. John O'Neill, who sat in the City Council last year, was elected to the Board of Control, replacing Controller Maguire. The successful candidates for the City Council and Board of Control were as follows:

City Council—Ward 1, W. D. Robbins, re-elected; A. E. Walton, W. P. Hubbard, Ward 2, S. Morley, Wickett, C. A. Risk, H. A. Rowland, re-elected. Ward 3, Marmaduke Rawlinson, re-elected; A. E. Burgess, David Bell, Ward 4, John Wanless, Jr., re-elected; George Weston, re-elected; George McMurich, re-elected. Ward 5, J. W. Meredith, John Dunn, re-elected; J. T. V. May, re-elected. Ward 6, C. H. Maybee, F. G. McBrien, re-elected; David Spence, re-elected. Ward 7, A. J. Anderson, re-elected; Samuel Ryding, re-elected.

Board of Education—Ward, W. W. Hiltz, J. W. Jackson, Ward 2, W. H. Shaw, John Noble, Ward 3, C. A. B. Brown, A. C. Lewis, Ward 4, R. D. Fairbairn, W. H. Smith, Ward 5, Alex. McKay, W. O. McTaggart, Ward 6, F. J. Conboy, W. W. Hodgson, Ward 7, R. R. Hopkins, James A. Ellis.

By a vote of four to one a plebiscite on tax reform was carried in the affirmative. The question was whether or not the voter was in favor of applying for legislation to assess buildings, business and income on a lower basis than land.

KING'S SON STANDS 64
IN A LIST OF 65

London, Jan. 1.—Prince Albert, son of King George, stood sixty-fourth in order of merit in a list of sixty-five persons who underwent an examination for naval cadets last month. The newspapers comment on the standing of the Prince as evidence of the complete impartiality of the examiners.

CHINESE SCHOOL WILL BE BUILT IN TORONTO

Toronto, Jan. 1.—Chinamen working in conjunction with the Toronto Chinese Mission have purchased land on which they intend to erect a three-story Y. M. C. A. building, in which will be conducted the first Chinese school in Toronto.

Students from outside points will be accommodated.

It is expected that the building will cost between $20,000 and $25,000.

WILL PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN REALLY CURE MY STOMACH TROUBLE? YES!

If Your Stomach Is Sick, Sour, Gassy and Upset Now You
Surely Get Relief in Five Minutes.

Sour, sick, upset stomach, indigestion, heartburn, dyspepsia; when the food you eat ferments into gases and stubborn rashes; your head aches and you feel sick and miserable, that's when you realize the magic in Pape's Diapepsin. It makes stomach distress go in five minutes.

If your stomach is in a continuous revolt—if you can't get it regulated, please, for your sake, try Diapepsin. It's so needless to have a bad stomach—make your next meal a favorite food meal, then take a little Diapepsin. There will not be any distress—eat without fear. It's because Pape's Diapepsin "really does" regulate weak, out-of-order stomachs that gives it its millions of sales annually.

Get a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. It is the quickest, surest stomach relief and cure known. It acts almost like magic—it is a scientific, harmless and delightful preparation which truly belongs in every home.

McCarthy Is Now Undisputed "White Hope"

followed Palmer about the ring and sent his right and left at will to the face and body. Palmer hung on to McCarthy's neck and the cowboy shot rights and lefts to the wind. Palmer was dazed at the bell.

Round 16—Palmer rushed in at McCarthy who placed rights and lefts to the body. Palmer soon was staggering about the ring from blows to the head. The Iowan rallied and put his left to McCarthy's face and the cowboy again sent him back with well-placed blows to the stomach. Palmer was hanging on as the bell rang.

End Came In Eighteenth.

Round 17—Palmer was groggy as he came up for the seventeenth round but there was no doubt of his courage. His ability to stand punishment appeared to be his sole asset. McCarthy put two terrific rights to the jaw and followed with straight lefts to the injured eye. A short uppercut to the jaw almost finished Palmer and the Iowan hung on with his eyes half closed. Palmer hit McCarthy low and the referee cautioned the big fellow. Palmer could hardly find his corner at the bell.

Round 18—Palmer stumbled into a terrific left hook and hung on to McCarthy's shoulder. McCarthy shot a hard left to the jaw and played a tattoo on Palmer's body. The blood flowed from Palmer's eyes and mouth as McCarthy shot two terrific straight lefts to the head. As Palmer staggered about blindly Referee Eytan rushed to McCarthy and held up his right glove.

FATHER AND SON KILLED
BY TRAIN ON TREBLE.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 1.—Eugene W. Dahl, travelling freight agent of the Grand Trunk Railway and his young son were instantly killed when they were hit by a train on the Cincinnati, Lebanon and Northern Railway tracks at Pleasant Ridge, a suburb, late today. Mr. Dahl and his son were following Mrs. Dahl and her father, G. G. Carlson, of Chicago, along the tracks and were crossing a trestle when the train bore down upon them. Mrs. Dahl and her father barely managed to get off the trestle in time, but the husband and son were hit and when picked up a moment later were found to have died instantly.

LONDON TIMES THINKS PEACE IS NOW NEAR

London, Jan. 2.—The Times regards yesterday's meeting of the peace conference as a long step toward a settlement of the trouble between Turkey and the Balkan allies. "The New Year has begun well," it says, "and the prospects for peace, though it is some way off, is hopeful. There are many awkward questions to follow the territorial settlement, such as indemnity, finances, railways and an arrangement afterward between the allies themselves which likely will prove hardly less difficult than the negotiations for peace."

The Times adds that there is a confident impression that the ambassadorial conference which reassembled today will reach a successful agreement. Some apprehensions are current with regard to Roumania, but the Times thinks it not likely that the powers will permit their desires to be thwarted by any ambitious designs conceived in Bucharest.

RUSSIA SEES THE LAST OF SERFDOM

CAUCASUS, AFTER 50 YEARS, GETS THE BENEFITS OF EMANCIPATION.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 1.—The Council of the Empire adopted today a law abolishing the last vestiges of serfdom in Russia. When the rescript of emancipation was issued in 1861 the Caucasus was excepted from its provisions on account of special conditions there and temporary transitional measures were instituted pending the adoption of the most suitable method for giving the serfs their freedom. This transitional stage now, after half a century, has been terminated, though there was still opposition to its being abolished.

Premier Kokovsov personally appeared before the Council of the Empire to urge the adoption of the law. It has already passed the Duma.

MALDEN, MASS., HAS A DEATH MYSTERY

BODY OF YOUNG WOMAN IS FOUND IN CEMETERY WITH MARKS OF VIOLENCE.

Malden, Mass., Jan. 1.—The body of a woman, found today beside the road near Holy Cross Cemetery, in the Linden section of this city, was identified tonight as that of Mildred Donovan, of Revere, Mass. Medical Examiner Thomas M. Durrell, of Somerville, after performing an autopsy, with the assistance of Medical Examiner William D. Swan, of Cambridge, and Prof. William F. Whitney, of Harvard Medical School, declined to sign a death certificate and none of the three physicians would make public any opinion as to the cause of death.

Aside from a broken nose and abrasions on the face, no marks of violence were found and the police were uncertain whether the woman was murdered or died as a result of accident or illness. Her face lay in a pool of blood. There was indication that she had been dragged through the grass from the highway, a short distance, and from the appearance of automobile tracks nearby, the police think she was brought to the place in a motor car. The autopsy showed that she had been dead about eight hours when found early this afternoon.

The identification was made late to-night by the girl's stepfather, Frank Menard, foreman for a milk company in Revere.

STRIKING CARMEN SHUT DOWN N. Y. TROLLEY LINE.

Yonkers, N.Y., Jan. 1.—Every trolley car of the Yonkers Railway Company, operating in this city, Hastings-on-the-Hudson, Mount Vernon and through to the New York city line, stopped running today when all the company's motormen and conductors went on strike. About 500 men are out and leaders tonight threaten to extend the strike to the Westchester Electric Company's lines tomorrow, which would affect nearly 100 more men.

Alleged violation by President Whitehouse, of the Company, of a verbal agreement to give local men the preference on taking on employees is given as the reason for the strike.

UTILIZING SHORT LENGTHS RIBBON.

If you have plenty of short lengths of ribbons and you are wondering what in the world you will do with them, here are some uses they can be put to.

First of all there is the silk bag for fancy work, or for coins or handkerchiefs that young girls take with them to their dances and parties. In the metal coat hanger, with the rod and clamps, there is great comfort. The straight rod is covered with narrow ribbon by winding tightly around, and sewing each end. The bent hook is also covered, and suspended at each end are tiny sachet bags made of ribbon. This hanger is a convenient one for skirts, being of a length that holds a skirt band, and keeps the skirt unwrinkled and scented with the owner's favorite perfume. "A veil holder" is made of strips of ribbon and a mailing tube. Narrow ribbon is best, for the cover must fit over the tube without a wrinkle. This with one or two fine veils wrapped around it and tied in place with ribbon, it is a gift any woman will appreciate.

There are other things remnants of ribbon will make. Little sachets of scraps of ribbon, heart-shaped, round and square; little holders for powder leaves and needle or pin cases for travellers are a few suggestions. The little pieces of ribbon are helpful when the giver wishes to put a little of her own work into the gift.

TAKING OUT FRUIT STAINS.

Fruitstains on napkins or tablecloths will disappear if covered at once with a bit of bread dipped in water and left there for 10 minutes. The bread absorbs the stain. It also has proved effective in removing a wine stain. Apply at once.

If, in ironing, you chance to scorch a piece, if it is immediately saturated with peroxide of hydrogen, then folded in a cloth and ironed over, the scorch will be removed.

THE NEW YEAR'S LIST OF HONORS

PREMIER WHITNEY, ONTARIO, AND PREMIER MORRIS, NFLD., RECEIVE ADDITION-AL HONORS.

London, Jan. 1.—Among the New Year's honors are the following: Knight Commanders of St. Michael and St. George—Sir Edward Patrick Morris, Premier of Newfoundland; Sir James Whitney, Premier of Ontario.

Companions of St. Michael and St. George: Lieut.-Col. William Patrick Anderson, Department of Marine and Fisheries; Mr. Zachary Taylor Wood, Royal Northwest Mounted Police, and Mr. George Thomas Allen, Secretary of the Treasury.

The same order granted to subjects in the Australian Commonwealth: Hon. T. Quinlan, former speaker of the Western Australia Legislative Assembly; Mr. Leonard Stowe, Clerk of the Parliaments of New Zealand.

The King's police medal is granted to Mr. John C. McRae, late Chief of Police of Winnipeg, and Mr. William Patrick Traynor and Mr. Hugh Y. Brown, of the Winnipeg city police.

Knights Bachelors: Mr. John Stephen Willison, managing editor, "The News," Toronto; Hon. Auguste Real Angers, K. C., Montreal, and Mr. Frederick Williams Taylor, London, England, manager of the Bank of Montreal.

Only Two Peerages.

London, Dec. 31.—The New Year's list of honors issued to-night according to custom, proved disappointing. Two peerages, seven baronetcies, and eighteen knighthoods are conferred. Government officials, manufacturers and merchants almost monopolize the rewards. The stage, literature and art were entirely ignored.

The Liberal Government has been criticized sharply for having previously inflated the peerage, while professing to be extremely democratic, that it caused no surprise that only two additions were made to the list, those being Sir George Sydenham Clarke, a distinguished Indian official, and Sir George Kemp, a wealthy ex-M. P., whose selection is considered remarkable because he recently resigned his seat on the ground that he was unable to support Home Rule.

Vice-Admiral Sir Percy Grotte received a baronetcy as a reward for his successful work in improving the gunnery of the navy, for which he devised a new system that has been recently tried with excellent results. The Earl of Desart, former solicitor of the treasury, and Sir John Allsbrook Simon, the solicitor-general, are made privy councillors.

The new Knights include Francis Darwin, a son of the late Charles Darwin.

POLICE WOULDN'T ALLOW

SULLIVAN-MCLEOD BOUT

St. John, N. B., Jan. 1.—The police would not permit Mike (Twin) Sullivan and Beth McLeod, of St. John, to meet in their proposed ten-round boxing bout this afternoon in Moncton.

WITHDRAW PROSECUTION IN STEAMSHIP WIRELESS CASES

Boston, Jan. 1.—Federal prosecution of transatlantic steamship captains, charged with failure to comply with the new wireless laws, was withdrawn today by order of Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagel. Captains Hall of the steamer Numidian and Sheppard of the Winifredian had been made the subjects of charges, while other cases had been under consideration by government officials. The steamship companies' pleas that they were unable to comply with the new regulations because of delay on the part of contractors in filling their order for equipment, were accepted and they were given further time to install the apparatus.

DEAR OLD DONEGAL!

'Tis not that I'm complainin',
I have no fault to find,
I chose the newer country,
I've left the old behind;
An' everything has prospered,
I've scarcely lost at all,
But sometimes I be longin'
For dear old Donegal.

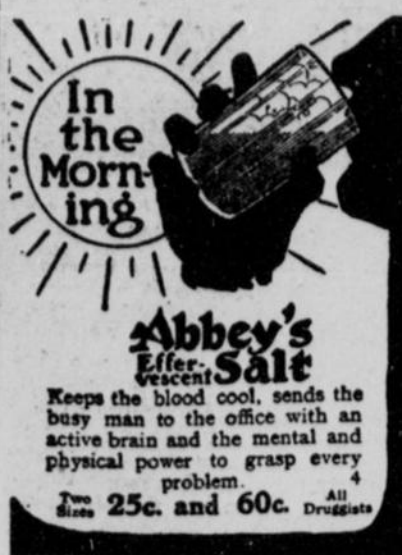

'Tis there the heavens are pensive,
They rest the weary eyes;
This sunshine is too dazlin',
One tires of hard blue skies;
I think of mists and shadows
That breathe the mountain wall,
Till I can't speak for sobbin'
For dear old Donegal.

Ah, you should see those mountains,
Those smilin' valley ways,
And hear the little streamlets Go murmurin' God's praise;
No green so green as Ireland's Where silver raindrops fall
Between the sunbeam's smilin'
In lovely Donegal.

'Tis there are all so friendly,
'Tis here are all so wise;
Ye don't believe in pookahs,
In spells or evil eyes;
In Ireland the banshee
Still wails by hut or hall,
Thank God! the Little People Are yet in Donegal.

'Tis not that I'm complainin'—
An' still my eyes are dim,
I see the pleasant hearth glow,
I hear the evenin' hymn;
Across the soundin' ocean,
I own its tender call,
An' evermore 'tis pleadin'
Come back to Donegal!

MAY RESCIND THE ANTI-HOPPLE RULE

HORSEMEN IN GENERAL THINK
IT HAS FAILED OF ITS PURPOSE.

Chicago, Jan. 1.—The forthcoming special session of the Congress of the American Trotting Association, which was called to be held in Chicago, is already attracting the attention of horsemen, because the general impression is that the purpose of the gathering will be to rescind the rule against the hopple, and also abolish the system under which purses and stakes are divided among the winners by points.

The racegoer public in general see very little difference in a trotting or pacing contest, as the one pleases and amuses him as much as the other. If there is anything in the extraordinary increase of pacers over the more desirable trotters it is up to the breeders to solve the question by discouraging the production of pacers, as a number of up-to-date breeders are doing now, and have done for years.

It has long been demonstrated that there is no profit in breeding pacers, for the fastest and best of them command no high prices, neither are they in demand by foreign buyers. Most of our fastest trotters have either gone abroad at more than paying prices or been kept in this country at high values. Every one of the 205 or better trotters of 1912 have been sought after by foreigners, and those that are here cannot be bought.

Such is not the demand for fast pacers, as of the six new pacers that took records faster than 205, and the nine that entered that list in 1912, none has been sought after, not even by American breeders.

A total of 91 pacers entered the new 210 list of 1912, and all were good race horses, as only one of that total gained his mark by the tin-cup route, against nine among the 54 new 210 trotters.

The number of records 210 pacers that took faster records in 1912 was 34, of which only one, Don Pronto, travelled over the tin route, against three in the same trotting division, which had only 16.

The so-called standard-bred pacing horse will die out gradually and steadily when the men raising horses for profit will fully understand their market value, and mate their mares with strictly trotting-bred horses possessing trotting speed.

CHILDREN LOVE SYRUP OF FIGS

SWEETEN THEIR SOMACHS AND CLEANS THE LIVER AND WASTE - CLOGGED BOWELS WITHOUT GRIP-ING.

Every mother immediately realizes after giving her child delicious Syrup of Figs that this is the ideal laxative and physic for the children. Nothing else regulates the little one's stomach, liver and bowels so tenderly and so promptly, besides they deary love its delightful fig taste.

If your child isn't feeling well; resting nicely; eating regularly and acting naturally it is a sure sign that its little insides need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or your little one has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, tongue coated; give a teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs and in a few hours all the foul, constipated, clogged up waste, undigested food and sour bile will gently move on and out of its little bowels without nausea, griping or weakness, and you will surely have a well, happy and smiling child again shortly.

With Syrup of Figs you are not drugging your children, being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics, it cannot be harmful.

Mothers should always keep Syrup of Figs handy. It is the only stomach, liver and bowel cleanser and regulator needed—a little given today will save a sick child to-morrow. Full directions for children of all ages and grown-ups plainly printed on the package.

Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," prepared by the California Fig Syrup Co. This is the delicious, tasteful, genuine old reliable. - Refuse anything else offered.

DIZZINESS
ANOTHER
of EYESTRAIN.

To the lay mind it may be difficult to understand how dizziness can be induced by the eyes, yet many cases of vertigo are due to nothing more or less than eyestrain. If your system is in good order, your dizzy spells are undoubtedly caused by the strained condition of your eyes. The right glasses will correct this defect in your vision and you will never be troubled with dizziness from this source again. We make glasses for this purpose at satisfactory prices.

Public Notice Re Snow Guards.

The attention of the public is called to clauses 4 and 5 of By-law No. 23 concerning the lighting of certain portions of the city, which read as follows:

4. When the apparatus for the said lighting shall be placed in certain places where they may be exposed to damages through the fall of ice or snow coming from the roofs of buildings, the proprietor of said building shall place on the edge of the roof of said building a snow fender or an appropriate and convenient protection bar to prevent the fall on the said lighting apparatus of any snow or ice or objects of a similar nature to damage the said lighting apparatus.

5. If the owner of a building in this city omits or neglects to place on the edge of the roof of his building a snow fender sufficient to prevent the fall on the said electric lighting apparatus of snow or ice or other objects liable to damage the said lighting apparatus, such proprietor shall be liable to a fine not exceeding forty dollars, and in default of payment of the said fine and costs, to an imprisonment for a space of time not exceeding two months.

I have the honor to request proprie-

IN COLLISION.

Astoria, Ore., Dec. 30.—Ship
Crown or India (Br) dragged her anchor in this harbor during a gale to-day and collided with bark Inver-clyde (Br). The jibboom of the In-verclyde crushed the bulwarks of the Crown of India. Tugs Wallula and Tatoosh separated the vessels. The damage to both will be heavy.

THE PANAMA CANAL.

It is reported that 50,000 passages to Pacific coast ports through the Panama Canal have been booked in Southern Europe by agents of steamship lines which will operate through the canal. Tickets are being sold to wage earners on the instalment plan. Rates to the Pacific seaboard from Europe will average $39.50 as compared with $29.50 to Atlantic ports.

P. & O. RUMORS.

With regard to the persistent rumors that the P. & O. Company's stock had been acquired by the C. P.
R. and other companies, Sir Thomas Lutherland, chairman of the P. & O., declared at the annual meeting that there is absolutely no truth in the allusions to the sale of the company's business to any combine whatever, or to the purchase by the company of any other shipping interest with the same object in view, and, moreover, there have never been any negotiations with the company to the effect.

STEAMSHIP CONSOLIDATION.

Duluth, Dec. 31.—Announcement was made to-day of final arrangements by which the fleets of the Wisconsin Transit Company and the North American Steamship Company will be consolidated. The consolidation will be under the management of R. A. Williams, of Cleveland.
Three ships are involved—the J. P.
Reiss, America and Brazil.

R. M. Wolvin, of Winnipeg, a member of the Duluth Shipping Company, has purchased the steamer Chili from C. W. Elphicke & Company of Chicago.

FIRST WHEAT ARRIVES BY TRANSCONTINENTAL.

Port Colborne, Ont., Jan. 1.—The National Transcontinental made good its promise of a year ago when a train load of wheat arrived in Port Colborne today. Almost a year ago it was stated by the directors of the road that they would have a train running over the entire line before Jan. 1.

The train consisted of 20 cars of wheat, approximately 600 tons. The wheat is to be unloaded and milled at Port Colborne, and immediately reloaded and forwarded on the same train to St. John, N.B., from where it is to be shipped to South Africa on a ship which is awaiting it.

It is expected that the wheat will be milled before 12 o'clock noon tomorrow and again on its way before night, arriving in St. John by Saturday.

FOREIGN TRADE PASSES BILLION

CONTINUANCE OF CANADA'S EXPANSION DEPENDS UPON FOREIGN MONEY MARKET.

Toronto, Jan. 1.—The foreign trade of Canada crossed the billion-dollar mark in 1912, Canadian railways earning $201,000,000, the Western wheat crop reached 200,000,000 bushels and 394,784 new people were added to the population of the country, according to the annual financial survey of the Globe. In the same period various government, municipal corporation and private borrowers secured $200,- 000,000 abroad, as compared with $221,000,000 in 1911. The large new stock issue of the Canadian Pacific Railway, a portion of which was subscribed at home, was, however, not included in this year's account of borrowings. Regarding the commercial outlook the Globe's survey says:

"The permanent continuance of trade expansion depends very largely upon the freedom with which we may again abolish our financiers in London. The volume of securities which we place abroad could not without producing some slackening in business here, so immediately does the great outflowing process which the country is undergoing depend upon monetary supplies from abroad. Our new labor is employed as largely upon the construction of the machinery with which we shall presently increase enormously our output of goods as upon the production of foodstuffs which would have an immediate revenue value, and this circumstance would intensify the effect of any serious slackening in our construction operations.

Canada's Credit High.

The problem of the moment is whether the settlement of European political troubles will bring about easier conditions in the foreign markets. Authorities incline to the view that capital will become more accessible a little later, but that the borrower must continue to pay more throughout the year 1913. The reassuring fact is, that even in the face of continued heavy borrowings, which have placed us in the position of being the largest borrower in the London market outside of London itself, Canada's credit remains as high as ever—as high as that of any country in the world. It is to be hoped that municipal borrowers particularly will more clearly recognize the responsibility which this entails. Certainly municipalities will be forced to sound the market for their security offerings before committing themselves to expenses for public improvements.

Home Institutions, "Poor."

At home the lending institutions are, for the most part, poor, in the sense that they are being continually pushed to the limit of their ability to lend, and this condition may be expected to continue throughout the current year. If the difficulties in obtaining money for new enterprises and to provide for expansion of existing concerns forces the growth of business to slacken to a more moderate pace, the results, while disappointing in some quarters, will surely be of ultimate benefit.

From an industrial standpoint the outlook for 1913 is of the best. Business has not been over-extended, and commercial paper has been well met at the close of the year, considering the greatly-increased output of goods and the scarcity of money throughout the country.

CHINESE ARRANGE SIX POWER LOAN

NEW REPUBLIC TO GET 6 PER CENT BELOW SALE PRICE OF BONDS.

Peking, Jan. 1.—A preliminary agreement was arranged to-day settling the details of the proposed six power loan of $125,000,000 to China.
The new republic is to receive six per cent below the sale price of the bonds. The Chinese audit department, under the advisement of Herr Romp, the German representative of the international banking group, will supervise the expenditure of the proceeds of the loan.

China has agreed in principle to an arrangement whereby the six powers
—the United States, Great Britain, France, Russia, Germany and Japan —undertake not to press for the immediate payment of compensation to foreigners for losses caused by the recent revolution. Russia alone claims $525,000. A mixed commission will assess the amounts due by China for these losses and the funds for the payment of them probably will be derived from a supplementary loan. An arrangement along this line, however, is subject to the approval of the governments of the six powers interested.

The custom returns for the past year already total about $7,980,000 and later returns are expected to increase this amount to about $8,250,000. This amount will be sufficient to pay the Boxer indemnity up to the middle of last May, but it is understood it will be allowed to stand over and the first proceeds of the loan utilized to settle the arrears in the indemnity.

CITY OF QUEBEC—CITY HALL.

City Clerk's Office.

PROCLAMATION.

Quebec, December 31st, 1912.

I, the undersigned, City Clerk of the City of Quebec, do hereby give public notice that a recount having been asked of the votes given for the election of an Alderman for seat No. one of Limoilou Ward, which was held on the eighteenth day of December, instant, 1912, the said recount took place on the 26th and 27th of December, 1912, before the Honorable Chief Justice F. X. Lemieux, J. S. C., who, on the said twenty-seventh day of December, 1912, declared that, after the operation of said recount, the number of votes legally polled in the election of an Alderman for seat No. one of Limoilou Ward, had been 176 for Mr. Berube, 129 for Mr. Lamontagne, and 77 for Mr. McGowan, thus giving a majority of 47 votes to Mr. Berube over Mr. Lamontagne, and 99 votes over Mr. McGowan, as follows:

CHILDREN WORKING FOR SCHOOL HYGIENE CONGRESS

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 1.—One hundred and twenty-five thousand school children of Buffalo and vicinity are to sign a mammoth invitation to be sent to the heads of nearly half a hundred countries all over the globe, requesting them for the sake of their little cousins in those lands to send as many delegates as possible to the fourth international congress of a school hygiene, which meets here next August.

In addition, the invitation will be signed by Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard, who is president of the congress; Mayor Louis F. Fuhrmann and many other prominent men.

Among those countries which the invitation will be sent are England, France, Germany, Russia, Italy, Spain, Finland, Roumania, Serbia, Greece, Portugal, Holland, Sweden, Denmark, China, Japan, Korea, India, Canada, Brazil, Argentina, Chile and Ecuador.

MANY RECEPTIONS MARK NEW YEAR'S

LIEUT.-GOVERNOR AND STAFF, CLERGY AND MILITARY "AT HOME" TO FRIENDS.

The year 1913 was ushered in under extremely pleasant circumstances, that augurs well for a happy, prosperous and progressive year for the city of Quebec.

The weather conditions were propitious and every citizen appeared to feel the spell of a happy influence. The only drawback was the unusual absence of snow to whiten the streets and make better roads in the city and country for sleighing. Nevertheless every citizen of Quebec, young and old seemed to be happy in the enjoyment of the holiday.

Besides the official receptions every Quebec family had its quota of callers to pay their respects and exchange the compliments of the season.

Lieut.-Governor's Reception.

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, Sir Francois Langelier, held an official reception at the Parliament House from 12 noon until 1 p. m., which was attended by over 500 gentlemen, including most of the leading citizens of the Ancient Capital.

His Honor received his callers in the Legislative Council Chamber, attended by his aide-de-camps, Captain Victor Pelletier and Major A. de L. Panet and a staff of militia officers in full dress uniform.

Sir Lomer Gouin, Prime Minister, and members of his Cabinet assisted the Lieutenant-Governor in greeting the citizens, among whom were members of the clergy, judiciary, Senators, members of the Federal and local Parliament, members of the professions, and representatives of the various branches of Quebec trade and industry.

During the reception Lieut. Governor Langelier presented a long service medal to Major J. A. Fecteau, of the 89th regiment.

Reception at Archbishop's Palace.

In the absence of His Grace the Archbishop, Mgr. Begin, the Coadjutor Bishop of the diocese, Mgr. Roy, presided at the reception held at the Archbishop's Palace from 11 a. m. to 12 noon.

Mgr. Roy was assisted by the Vicar-General, Mgr. Matis, and other local church dignitaries, who greeted a large number of citizens of every nationality and creed who called to pay their respects.

Lord Bishop Dunn Receives.

Quite a large number of visitors called at Bishopthorpe yesterday to pay their respects to the Lord Bishop of Quebec. His Lordship was at home from 3.30 to 6 p. m.

Cure of Quebec Reception.

Mgr. Laflamme, Cure of Quebec, and priests in charge of the Basilica held a reception at the Presbytery, to which a large number of citizens attended to exchange the New Year greetings.

The Rev. Cures of St. Jean Baptiste parish, St. Roch's parish, Jacques Cartier and St. Sauveur parishes also held receptions which were largely attended, also the Rev. Fathers of St. Patrick's Church and Rev. Fathers of the Jesuit Order were called on by the members of their respective congregations, and others.

Military At Homes.

The Warrant Officers, Staff-Sergeants and Sergeants of both No. 5 Depot, Royal Canadian Regiment, and the R.C.G.A., Citadel, held an at home in their respective mess rooms that were largely attended by both their military and civilian friends.

The Warrant Officers, Staff-Sergeants and Sergeants of the R.C.R. received in their mess, St. Louis Barracks, and were most bountiful in their hospitality. The commanding officer of the corps was one of the first visitors to pay his respects and wish his subordinates a happy New Year.

The Citadel reception as usual was a splendid success, and the Warrant Officers, Staff-Sergeants and Sergeants of the R.C.G.A. vied with each other to make their visitors at home. The commanding officers and officers of the R.C.G.A. were among the callers to wish the non-commissioned officers a happy New Year and the utmost good fellowship prevailed.

Garrison Club Luncheon.

In accordance with one of its most time-honored traditions the Quebec Garrison Club entertained its members to the annual New Year's Day luncheon yesterday. Speeches were made by Colonel Gandet, the President of the Club, and by His Honor Sir Francois Langelier.

A most enjoyable time was spent by the members.

Hotel and family parties were general last night. There was another brilliant gathering at the Chateau Frontenac, and at the St. Louis Hotel every seat was occupied, a splendid menu was provided and the special music was a feature.

At Kent House, Montmorency Falls, it was New Year's all day. A big crowd spent the day at the resort and the New Year's dinner was a feature last night.

GOVERNOR GENERAL GREET'S THOUSAND

EXQUISITE WEATHER MARKS LEVEE OF HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS AT OTTAWA

Ottawa, Jan. 1.—Favored by exquisite weather, the principal social function of New Year's Day, the levee of His Royal Highness the Governor-General, was largely attended. The ceremony took place in the gubernatorial offices in the east block. His Royal Highness being attended by a staff of aides in full uniform.

Officers of the headquarters staff, of the several militia corps and of the navy and cadets of the Royal Military College were present in force, their dress uniforms imparting a dash of effect to the assemblage. Members and ex-members of the Cabinet, dignitaries of the church and state, resident consuls-general, Senators and members of parliament, officials of the civil service and citizens to the number of nearly 1,000 paid their respects to the representative of the Crown, who, with a stately cordiality, shook hands with his guests.

The train on which Rt. Hon. Robt. L. Borden travelled from New York was more than half an hour late, so that the ceremony was well under way when the Prime Minister arrived. Hon. Martin Burrell, Minister of Agriculture, and Hon. George H. Perry were also present as representatives of the Government. The ex-ministers included Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Richard Scott, Sir Frederick Borden, Hon. Sydney Fisher and Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King.

Those in attendance on His Royal Highness were Captain Buller, A.D.C., Capt. Long, A.D.C., Capt. Buckley, A.D.C., Major Worthington, A.D.C., Col. Lowther, military secretary, and Mr. A. F. Sladen, C.M.G., private secretary.

Mgr. Stagni, Papal Delegate, and Archbishop Gauthier also held large receptions, as did the various benevolent and fraternal societies.

13,000 BLESSED BY HOST ON NEW YEAR'S MIDNIGHT.

Montreal, Jan. 1.—With the words "Blessed be God, Blessed be His Holy name," on their lips and the Host raised by the hand of their Archbishop in benediction over their heads, a congregation of over 13,000 persons ushered in the New Year at Notre-Dame Church last night. The service opened at 11 o'clock, when members of the Nocturnal Adoration Society recited in unison. Then followed the Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, this portion of the ceremony being timed so that sharp at midnight the Host was elevated by Mgr. Bruchesi over the heads of all present. After a few brief remarks by His Grace mass was celebrated, the Archbishop officiating. At the Communion it is estimated that over 4,000 approached the Holy Table.

SULZER'S INAUGURATION OF THE JEFFERSONIAN TYPE.

Albany, N.Y., Jan. 1.—Precedents of years standing were ignored, and others created to-day during the inauguration of William Sulzer, of New York, as Democratic Governor of the Empire State.

All the pomp and display usually incident to such occasions were lacking; this at the Governor's own request. There was no military demonstration; no Governor's salute of 19 guns to announce the change of administration; no parade of civic and political bodies; nothing, in fact, to feature the induction into office of the State's chief executive, except a notable gathering of prominent people and the carrying out of the procedure provided by the constitution.

The new Governor in his desire for simplicity insisted upon walking from the executive mansion to the capital, refusing to ride in a carriage which had been provided. After the ceremonies he inaugurated a new feature by appearing on the front steps of the capitol and addressing the thousands who were unable to witness the ceremonies inside.

Weather conditions were ideal. The sun shone brightly from a clear sky, and the air was just crisp enough to be bracing.

Governor Sulzer is the forty-second chief executive of the State. He succeeds John A. Dix, second of the name to occupy the Governor's chair, who, when he assumed office two years ago today, was the first Democratic Governor in 18 years.

NEW NATIONAL UMPIRE IS A FEARSOME GIANT

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 1.—Ball tossers who love to bait umpires just breaking into the big show may think twice before they tackle "Bill" Guthrie the National League's newest arbiter. Guthrie is a giant physically. He stands six feet two inches in his stockings. He hails from the stock yards district in Chicago, being a neighbor of "Packey" McFarland.

Guthrie, who is a protégé of "Brick" Owens, also of Lynch's staff, stated to umpire six or seven years ago. His first professional engagement was with the Wisconsin-Illinois League, where he umpired two seasons. He went from there to the American Association, but was not quite ready for hard work, and the next season found him in the Texas League. His work in the Lone Star organization was excellent, so excellent in fact that he was offered a contract by "Tom" Lynch, and he lost no time in putting his name to it.

25 CENT, "DANDERINE" FOR FALLING HAIR AND DANDRUFF--GROWS HAIR

Don't Pay 50 Cents for Worthless Hair Tonics—Use Old, Reliable, Harmless Danderine—Get Results.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast.

A little Danderine to-night—now—anytime—will surely save your hair. Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application you will say it was the best investment you ever made. Your hair will immediately take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

PRESIDENT TAFT'S GREETING TO 7,000

"LATE FALL WEATHER" FOR NEW YEAR'S FUNCTION AT WHITE HOUSE.

Washington, Jan. 1. — President Taft's last New Year's reception at the White House attracted to-day one of the greatest crowds that ever has gathered at the executive mansion. Clear skies and late fall weather brought out the general public in extraordinary numbers, and a new record for attendance of private citizens probably was established. Surrounded by his family, the members of his cabinet and a distinguished company, the President received officials and citizens of high and low degree, and when the last caller had been greeted Mr. Taft had shaken hands with more than 7,000 persons.
The reception began shortly after noon, members of the cabinet and the diplomatic corps being received first.
Next were the justices of the United States Supreme Court and other federal courts, United States ambassadors and ministers, senators and representatives, army and navy officers, a long line of other officials and members of military societies and other organizations. Then came the public.

The Prime Minister of the Province of Que- bec Has Purchased a Magnificent Knabe Piano.

Sir Lomer Gouin has just purchased a magnificent Knabe piano for his residence on Mount Carmel street.
To the firm of C. ROBITAILLE, sale of this magnificent instrument, which connoisseurs have qualified as the "World's Best."

BRILLIANT PARTY GREET'S NEW YEAR

DEATH OF 1912 WATCHED BY FESTIVE GATHERING AT CHATEAU FRONTENAC.

A Babel of sound from horns, whistles and bells, a shower of paper streamers that quickly turned the great dining hall of the Chateau Frontenac into a fairy land, a fusillade of popping cords—mostly of the wine that bubbled in the cup, but with a goodly percentage of the sober-er waters that bubble without alcoholic excitement—these greeted the coming of 1913 and the passing of 1912 at the Chateau yesterday morning as a great bell tolled out the dying hour of the old year.

As the first tolling note of the requiem sounded the strings of lights dimmed and went out, and the great electric board bearing the figures
"1912" dimmed to its lowest candle power. Stroke by stroke the great bell tolled out the dying hour. Old Father Time, with lantern and scythe, emerged from the base of the great clock that marked the midnight hour. With palsied hands he vainly strove to turn back the hands, then sadly turned and hobbled his weary way through the lanes of happy diners.

The last stroke of midnight sounded. The lights flashed up to full brightness. Magically "1912" became "1913." From the top of the great clock the New Year appeared in the person of a pretty little maid, who released a flock of white doves, which fluttered gracefully about the room.

Din Greet's The New Year.

In the meantime Mr. Frank S.
Quick, the busy head waiter at the Chateau, who was an efficient master of the revels, had distributed to each table a variety of noise-making devices, horns, whistles and balloons, as well as hundreds of rolls of varicolored paper. The last stroke of the bell was the signal for pandemonium to break loose.

The spirit of Omar Khayyam, brooding over the feast, quickly realized that the modern New Year has some other stage setting besides his jug of wine and book of verse beneath the bough. The boughs were there, in festoons of Christmas green, intertwined with lights, and the jugs of wine all had gold tops. The book of verse was missing, but an elaborate menu card doubtless filled the bill to everybody's satisfaction.

The Water Wagon Appears.

Filing through the dining hall now came a procession of little girls bearing flowers, which they distributed to all the diners with prettily worded wishes of "Happy New Year." Next came the good old water wagon, with but one occupant yet, but the invitation to climb aboard was general. An Italian street piano artist added finely to the din. Santa Claus made his final appearance until 4 year hence. Chateau attaches in freak carnival costume mingled with the diners. There was a parade of more Chateau employees, from scullery maids to firemen, cooks and bottle-washers. And there was noise, a volume of it, that refused to be quieted for an hour or more. One courageous soul felt called upon to make a speech. He had more courage than discretion, and quickly the table which he had pre-empted for his spell-binding was wheeled out of the room.

Showers of Paper.

The rolls of paper began to fly, pretty and harmless missiles. The ropes of evergreen, the chandeliers and the tables and diners were quickly enveloped in the colored streamers, a pretty sight.

There was a supper served, of course, and nearly everybody present ate more or less, but it was apparent enough that they hadn't come to feast. The beginning of the revels made calm and quiet eating an impossibility. And the rolls of colored paper, while beautiful from a spectacular point of view, are not easily digested and are quite tasteless and unsuited to the needs of the trencherman.

All in all, it was a delightful party.
There was warmth of greeting, spontaneous good cheer, happy congratulations from table to table, good-fellowship that enabled strangers to
"mix" in the festivities and revels, and there was not a single unpleasant incident to mar the scene. The tales of wild orgies that follow New Year's celebrations in so many cities are not to be heard in Quebec.

Vandeville Entertainment.

It was a brilliant gathering, too.
The brilliant costumes of the ladies, blending with the tasteful decorations of dining hall and tables, made a picture long to be remembered.

There was, if anything, too much entertainment. Manager Fred Mc-Mahon had provided all sorts of good things to divert and amuse. A splendid vaudeville entertainment was provided, but few cared to watch it. The company made its own vaudeville, and vaudeville of a very novel type it was.
Everybody turned entertainers for the time, and there was good, honest fun for all.

It was late on New Year's morning before the fun was over and Manager McMahon and his assistants gently but firmly wished good night and a "Happy New Year" to the last loiterers, with especial emphasis upon the "good night!"

TAXICAB DRIVERS OUT ON STRIKE IN LONDON.

London, Jan. 1.—The strike of 8,000 taxicab drivers which began today continued tonight. It has caused less inconvenience than had been expected.
The chief effect of the movement has been to prove that London is greatly over supplied with taxicabs. A feature of the day was the re-appearance of large numbers of obsolete cabs drawn by horses.

NEW YEAR CELEBRATION ENDS IN A SHOOTING.

Toronto, Jan. 1.—A New Year's celebration in the Italian colony resulted in a shooting affair this morning.
Louis Bucht is in St. Michael's Hospital with a bullet in his left leg, while the police are looking for Joseph Lu-carelli, charged with doing the shooting. The latter was a relative of the wounded man, and had been out with some compatriots watching the old year out with the accompaniment of liquid refreshments.

Bucht had retired when Lucarelli came home and began to maul him over in bed. Bucht resented this and in an altercation which ensued Lucar-elli drew a revolver and fired twice.

Happy and Prosperous New Year to all our Customers and Friends

To all we present our most respectful homaze and wish you the best of health, happiness and prosperity for the coming year.

The year 1912 has been our most prosperous year since the foundation of our firm.

This happy result, which was the best reward we could receive for our efforts in trying to satisfy you, is due to you and you are entitled to our thanks, as we must acknowledge that your patronage, which was very much appreciated, was the cause of our success.

Thanks are also due to our chiefs of departments and to our employees who devoted themselves with such zeal to make a success of our undertaking.

Needless to say that we will double our efforts during 1913, not only to be agreeable to you, but also to be very particular in our purchases, so that they will be profitable for you.
