

City troupe wins high praise at drama festival

KITCHENER, Ont. (CP) — A French presentation of Samuel Beckett's En Attendant Godot won braves from both audience and adjudicator at the Dominion Drama Festival Wednesday night.

Pierre Lefevre, commenting first in French and then in English following the performance of L'Atelier de Sherbrooke, said the company understood "extremely well" the accurate and imaginative acting demanded by the abstract existential play.

Stanstead man killed by gun

ST. HUBERT, Que. (CP) — RCAF officials today identified a leading aircraftman killed while showing a revolver to a comrade Wednesday night as Joseph Andre Donald McClure, 20, of Stanstead, Que.

A spokesman at the air station in St. Hubert, 15 miles east of Montreal, said it appeared McClure's death was an accident. Witnesses had said McClure was trying to sell the gun to a friend and asked him to try it, without realizing it was loaded.

He said McClure, a member of the station's ground crew, died in the station hospital minutes after the incident at 11 p.m.

Both Quebec Provincial Police and the RCAF are investigating.

Goes to trial

VANCOUVER (CP)—Douglas Harold Brown, 29, was committed Wednesday for trial on a charge of capital murder in the shooting death April 19 of a Roman Catholic priest, Rev. Cuthbert Seward, 51, was shot to death when he went to the door of the monastery adjacent to church.

Desegregation pact has wide backing

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A desegregation pact aimed at ending this industrial city's racial unrest has the backing of some of Alabama's most prominent businessmen.

Their names were disclosed Wednesday night amid reports of a budding boycott of stores by white persons opposing the bi-racial agreement.

Mindszenty agreement is reached

BUDAPEST (AP)—The Vatican, the United States and Hungary's Communist government were reported to have reached an agreement that will allow Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty to leave for Rome.

High Vatican sources said they expected the 71-year-old Roman Catholic primate of Hungary in Rome in a few days to assume a high Vatican post.

Informants in Budapest reported Wednesday night that long negotiations proved fruitful.

(Reuters news agency said that Hungarian Premier Janos Kadar left Budapest today for an unknown destination aboard a Soviet airliner. It was believed he was on his way to Moscow for urgent talks with Soviet leaders.)

Special Socred council is called

OTTAWA (CP)—An effort to bring a final showdown in Social Credit's internal struggle and to point the party in a new direction is to be made at a special national council meeting, probably during the third week of June.

A reliable informant said Wednesday night that national leader Robert Thompson has requested that national president Martin Kellin of Regina call a special session of the national council, governing body of the organization between conventions.

The showdown is to be pegged to the resignation of Dr. Guy Marcoux, MP for Quebec-Montmorency who quit the Quebec wing of the party last weekend and gave up his post as party whip. He plans to sit in Parliament as an independent Social Credit MP.

WERE RIVALS

His resignation was regarded here as an episode in the uneasy double leadership of Mr. Thompson and deputy leader Real Caouette, who also heads the party's Quebec wing. They had been rival candidates for the national leadership at the 1961 leadership convention.

In addition, Dr. Marcoux voiced, after his resignation, dissatisfaction with the Quebec wing's manner of presenting Social Credit to the public, particularly in the 1963 election campaign. He suggested the Quebec campaign departed from Social Credit principles which had been more accurately expounded by the Western elements.

Ever since the 1962 election at which Social Credit elected an unprecedented 26 MPs from Quebec to Parliament, Mr. Thompson and Mr. Caouette have been pictured in a power struggle.

The Western elements, until the most powerful in terms of MPs elected, returned only Mr. Thompson and three others all representing Alberta and British Columbia seats.

SEEMED AT ODDS

Mr. Caouette, a fiery, free-wheeling orator, was clearly conscious of leading the large bloc of seats for the party during the one-session 25th Parliament. He and Mr. Thompson gave repeated evidence of being at odds over tactics although they maintained there was no division on basic principles.

In the April election, Social Credit strength was cut to 24 members. The four Western MPs were ousted but Mr. Caouette's Quebec wing lost eight seats and gained two others for a net loss of six.

Until 1962, Social Credit had never elected more than one member. Mr. Caouette having won a seat in a 1946 byelection which he lost three years later at a general election.

A few days after the April election, a notarized statement over the names of six Quebec Social Credit MPs was sent to Governor-General Vanier promising support for a Liberal government. The six later repudiated the statement but the governing Conservatives handed over power to the Liberals.

Parliament convenes to begin heavy program

OTTAWA (CP)—Parliament, ice Bourget (L.-Quebec), take the oath before the Senate.

10:30 a.m.—Commons meets, elects a speaker. Senate, Commons adjourn.

2:45 p.m.—Senate meets again.

3 p.m.—Commons summoned to Senate.

Before getting down to work in the first session since the April 8 election which brought the Liberals to power, a round of traditional formalities was observed.

The schedule for today's opening went this way:

10 a.m. EDT—Three new senators, including Speaker Maurice Bourget (L.-Quebec), take the oath before the Senate.

10:30 a.m.—Commons meets, elects a speaker. Senate, Commons adjourn.

2:45 p.m.—Senate meets again.

3 p.m.—Commons summoned to Senate.

GETS CHANCE MONDAY

Opposition leader Diefenbaker bent on a comeback to office, gets his first crack at the government's program Monday. He also has the opportunity of moving a motion of non-confidence.

The government's program has already been well-publicized during the election campaign. Economic measures and efforts towards easing what Prime Minister Pearson has called the strains on confederation are the keystones.

A new department of industry is promised. So is legislation to create two agriculture ministers—one for the east and one for the west.

Over the period of its life, Parliament is to consider measures for low-interest loans for municipal development, an industrial expansion fund and an economic council to set economic targets.

Finance Minister Walter Gordon is expected to bring down a budget about mid-June.

The government is well along the road to setting up a royal commission on biculturalism as a forum for defining problems and recommending solutions in relations between French and English.

On the social welfare front, work is being done on legislation to establish a contributory portable pension plan, designated as a priority measure for the opening session.

TO SET ZONE

The government also is moving toward establishing a 12-mile coastal fishing zone to protect fisheries and has promised an independent commission to redraw the map of electoral districts.

A federal-provincial conference to work out a program of fisheries development and establishment of a capital fund for the Atlantic Development Board also are expected to be part of its program.

The governing Liberals are under one obvious handicap. With 129 members they are four short of a majority in the 265-seat chamber. Progressive Conservatives have 95, Social Credit 23 and New Democrats 17. There is one independent Social Credit MP, Dr. Guy Marcoux.

Some of the issues which divide the parties already are out in the open. The government is going ahead with plans to acquire nuclear weapons, a question which divided the parties in the last Parliament.

Two former prime ministers—Mr. Diefenbaker and Louis St. Laurent, Liberal prime minister from 1948 until 1957—were on hand for the opening, Mr. St. Laurent as a guest and not a participant.

Cooper going all the way; returns tonight

PRACTICING — Recovery routine in connection with Gordon Cooper's orbital flight is practised by a pararescue team of 76th Air Rescue Squadron, based at Hickam Air Force Base, Hawaii. This team is ready to recover astronaut Cooper from the Pacific Ocean about 7:30 tonight if all goes well on the 22-orbit flight.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Gordon Cooper whirled steadily around the globe today with a green light to go for the full 22 orbits of his assigned mission.

If all goes as planned, Cooper's spacecraft will parachute into the Pacific Ocean during the 22nd orbit, landing at 7:23 EDT tonight, some 80 miles southeast of Midway Island near the U.S. aircraft carrier Kearsarge.

During the 16th orbit Mercury Control centre at Cape Canaveral evaluated the condition of the astronaut and spacecraft systems and then waved Cooper's Faith 7 past a go-no-go decision point over Australia.

"Roger, very good," was Cooper's reaction when the tracking station at Mueha, Australia, relayed the good word.

If anything had been amiss, Cooper would have been ordered to fire his spacecraft reverse rockets over the eastern Pacific for a landing in the Atlantic.

Control centre officials reported the pilot was "in excellent condition."

"He is strong, his attitude is good and he is managing his systems excellently."

GOT REST

The 36-year-old air force major completed his first 24 hours in space shortly after 9 a.m. EDT while whirling eastward in his 16th orbit. During that time he got a good night's rest of about 7½ hours.

"Did you have any dreams?" Cooper was asked as he passed near Cape Canaveral not long after he awoke.

"Negative," he replied. "I slept too soundly."

The quiet, almost reticent, Cooper wasn't saying much.

"I think he must be saving words for posterity or something," said Lt.-Col. John A. Powers, the voice of Mercury Control.

But as a pilot, Cooper's performance topped anything by a U.S. astronaut so far.

His use of the fuel and oxygen supplies of his Faith 7 spacecraft were excellent. As his 16th orbit began, Powers reported that Cooper had 70 per cent of the fuel supply remaining in Faith 7's automatic control system, 90 per cent in the manual system. In his first 24 hours aloft, he consumed only 25 per cent of his primary oxygen supply and none of his emergency supply.

However, Powers said absolutely no consideration was being given to a possible extension of the flight past 22 orbits.

Astronaut Walter Schirra said he had spoken to Cooper's wife Trudy in Houston, Tex., this morning and that she told him she had awakened about the same time her husband apparently awoke.

She wished to know when she could listen in again on the special radio installed in the Cooper home for two conversations between her husband and Cape Canaveral, Schirra said.

Cooper went to sleep about 10:30 p.m. Wednesday night, after talking with astronaut John Glenn, who is aboard the tracking ship Coastal Sentry off the coast of Japan. Tracking stations kept silent through the night.

And then at 6:26 a.m., Powers said, trackers in Mueha, Australia, "heard a familiar voice" and it was that of Gordon Cooper.

SUIT HEATED

Cooper reported that he had some discomfort during the night when his spacesuit heated up. But he said he adjusted the temperature setting and went

Millions in Europe hail space flight, wait for recovery

LONDON (AP) — Maj. Gordon Cooper, the newest and most nonchalant man in space, won a hero's acclaim from earthlings today.

Millions of Europeans hailed his epic flight—and held their breaths for the tensest moment of all when he would come down again.

Cooper's valor, his cool, calm approach to the adventure, won their wonder and admiration.

The "unimpressed space traveller," one Danish newspaper called him.

Cooper rated a hero's headlines. Newspapers in Britain and west Europe splashed the story of his ride into space.

The London Daily Mirror blanketed its front page with a picture of the spaceman and his rocket and the headline:

"Gordon's So Gay on the Big Ride-Round."

"REAL COOL!"

"He is a real cool spaceman," reports The Mirror, "and he proved it by having a nap during the count-down while everyone else was tense with excitement."

"The feats of Cooper and his colleagues, Russian or American, will one day be ordinary human experiences," says The Daily Express.

"But today they are wonderful and the men who perform them uplift the human race by their courage."

Many Europeans stayed up late to watch a midnight television showing from Cape Canaveral of TV recordings of the blastoff.

They came through pretty clearly. Live pictures of the blast off bounced off the relay satellite earlier Wednesday were a failure. Something went wrong with the switching gear somewhere along the line and all European viewers got was a jumble of unrelated sound and pictures.

Italian newspapers played the news across their front pages. Rome's Il Popolo says:

"American recovery (in the space race) is evident, but President Kennedy is the first to insist not to over-evaluate it..."

DUVALIER STAYS IN OFFICE

PORT AU PRINCE (AP)—Haiti President Francois Duvalier insists he will remain in office despite reports abroad that he is planning to flee his rebellion-threatened country.

"Haiti will continue under my administration," Duvalier told correspondents summoned to his palace Wednesday in an apparent effort to scotch reports he intended to flee.

By showing himself unscathed, Duvalier scored a victory over enemies who had sworn to kill him rather than let him begin a new presidential term.

Duvalier's constitutional term of office expired Wednesday, but he declared himself re-elected for six more years after a rigged ballot two years ago. Despite opposition, the 56-year-old strongman exuded self-confidence as he appealed for better relations with the United States but made plain he would not tolerate outside interference in his rule.

An investigating committee of the Organization of American States was due here today to inquire further into the Haitian crisis, but Duvalier has no intention of letting it probe charges of repression inside the country.

If the OAS was competent to probe such matters, it should have intervened in the racial strife in Birmingham, Ala., he said.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

ONLY SHERLOCK COULD SOLVE IT

Professor Moriarty, the arch criminal, stood in the dock awaiting his trial for stealing a small sum against Lord West and Sir Raymond East.

It seemed like an open and shut case as the prosecution proved conclusively that the Professor, sitting North, had bid three spades to show control of that suit when really he was void of clubs and by so doing had induced Lord West to open the king of clubs, not the king of spades against the final six heart contract.

The Professor called but one witness and a stir went through the courtroom when everyone saw that his one witness was the master detective, Sherlock Holmes.

Upon being duly sworn the great detective explained that the real criminal was Sir Raymond should have bid four clubs over the Professor's three spades. In Holmes' words, "Lord West had shown a very strong two-suit hand and four clubs could not be hurt. Then if the Professor had still gone to six hearts Lord West should have been able to deduce that the Professor was up to one of his well known tricks and opened the king of spades."

As the spectators burst into cheers Holmes turned to the Professor and remarked, "You must be slipping. The old Mor-

Show Business

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Leave it to Otto Preminger to enliven the social scene with a swinging capitalist affair for a couple of Communists.

The producer tossed an elegant party for Hollywood's smart set. The guests of honor: Ivan Piriev, president of the Soviet Film Makers Association, and Lev Juhljanov, a prominent Soviet director.

As an incidental matter, the party also saluted the end of filming of Preminger's latest movie, The Cardinal.

The Russians should have much to tell their fellow workers when they get back to Moscow. The meal was elegant, from Polynesian appetizers with cocktails to the dessert of giant strawberries, served with side dishes of sour cream and brown sugar.

Glenn Ford, who was born in Portneuf, Que., and Rhonda Fleming were twisting, oblivious to all around them. Tom Tryon, who had the title role in The Cardinal, played it coolly with Angie Dickinson. A warm duo on the dance floor was Jill St. John and Anatole Litvak, making a rare visit to his old Hollywood haunts.

Other returnees from their Swiss havens were the David Nivens, Niven back to co-star with Marlon Brando in King of the Mountain, and Norman Krasna with his wife. They were at a literary table with William Inge and George Axelrod.

ROMANOFF SHOWS UP

During the cocktail hour, host Preminger spied Michael Romanoff, retired restaurateur and reported (by himself) Russian nobleman. "This is the moment of truth!" exclaimed Preminger, and he rushed Romanoff to meet the guests of honor.

Romanoff merely greeted them in English, and Preminger retired sulkily.

"I know enough Russian to get by with," Romanoff confided afterward. "I did quite well when I was in Russia two years ago. I was interviewed by Pravda and Izvestia. They treated me excellently."

"I had to go to Russia to find believers."

Hon. degree is conferred on Bedford cleric

GRANBY — The Ven. I. M. Lidstone, Archdeacon of Bedford and rector of St. George's Church, was presented by Archdeacon R. Kenneth Naylor of Montreal, for the conferring of the degree of Doctor of Divinity, honoris causa at the annual convocation held in the Montreal Diocesan Theological College Hall on May 6.

Right Rev. Robert Kenneth Maguire, Lord Bishop of Montreal, also received the degree, conferred by Rev. W. H. F. Kennedy.

Archdeacon Naylor, in presenting the Archdeacon, mentioned he had graduated with a Bachelor of Arts degree from McGill in 1916.

After study in the Montreal Diocesan Theological College he was called back to his home in Newfoundland by the illness of his father. There he spent some years as a school teacher and returned to the mainland in 1927, when he was made deacon by the Bishop of Quebec.

The same year he was ordained priest by the Bishop of Montreal and appointed incumbent of Greenfield Park, where he remained for four years.

He then became the rector of St. George's Church, Granby, succeeding Archdeacon Longhurst, and was appointed Archdeacon of Bedford in 1947, taking on the three parishes of Deane, Bedford, Brome and Shefford.

Several members of St. George's Parish accompanied Archdeacon Lidstone's family ed.

Discuss settlement of rural areas

The problems of rural development and land settlement in Protestant areas of Quebec were discussed by the directors of the Quebec Federation of Protestant Colonization and Settlement Societies at their recent annual meeting.

The progress of a survey on rural communities currently being carried out among Protestant clergy throughout the province was discussed. Also reviewed is the need for accurate information on areas where land settlement can be carried out. It was suggested that Protestant public and high school principals be acquainted with the work of the federation and that their cooperation be enlisted.

At present the federation consists of the Eastern Townships Settlement Society, the Eastern Townships Colonization Association, and the Protestant Colonization and Land Settlement Society of the District of Montreal, but notice was given that a fourth member was in the process of formation in the Laurentians, and it is hoped to revive interest in land settlement in the Gaspé district.

Officers for the coming year were elected. They are president, T. G. Sevigny, Montreal; vice-president, E. J. Struthers, Stanstead; secretary-treasurer, Archdeacon T. J. Matthews, Lennoxville; executive secretary, O. R. Evans, Montreal.

School boards

Merger not expected before '64

RICHMOND — (Staff) — The amalgamation of the Windsor-Brompton and the Richmond Protestant School Boards will probably not take place before June 1964.

Both boards wish the amalgamation, but Richmond Chairman Barrie Armatage said following Monday's meeting of his board that it must wait the 30-day posting period in both municipalities, then go to Quebec to be adopted by order-in-council and announced in the Quebec

Official Gazette.

Since the 30-day period does not close until near the end of May, and since school board amalgamations take place only in June, the Windsor-Brompton-Richmond merger will probably miss this year's legal amalgamation period, Mr. Armatage explained.

The merger was originally proposed by the Windsor-Brompton board, which asked that it be given one seat on the new joint board.

(Record staff reporter)

Parents of children in the Windsor-Brompton school municipality must already send them to Richmond to attend St. Francis High School when they reach secondary level.

The Richmond board is the one with jurisdiction over St. Francis High, and at all stages of the negotiations it has been emphasized that the effect of the merger would be to give Windsor-Brompton ratepayers a voice in running the high school without removing their own elementary school.

The amalgamation of local school boards is being encouraged by Protestant education authorities throughout the province, and Kenneth Dowd of the Richmond-Drummond-Arthabaska Central School Board, a senior body to which both amalgamating boards belong, spoke to a Windsor-Brompton meeting urging the merger.

Mr. Dowd mentioned the expansion of specialized schooling—technical training shops, for example—as one advantage amalgamation offered.

Chairman Michael Planidin of the Windsor-Brompton Board noted that 50 per cent of secondary students in the district were dropping out, and there was a need for secondary education up to urban standards.

Bishop's student wins Canada Council grant

Bishop's student, Dylis Elizabeth Francis, has been awarded one of the ten pre-master's degree scholarships of $1,500 from the Canada Council in the humanities divisions.

The award will allow Miss Francis to study towards her master's degree at McGill University in Montreal.

Eugene Houde of Sherbrooke was given a scholarship of equal value in the social science division which will permit him to further his studies in industrial relations at Laval University.

The awards (Category 1 in the Council's competition) have an average value of $1,500 and apply towards study at a Canadian University in the M.A. class.

C of C asking organizations to cooperate

Organizations which plan activities in the city during July, August, or September are asked to contact the local Chamber of Commerce.

The C. of C. has asked that notification be made prior to May 27.

Chamber officials have noted that the reason for this procedure is that there has been a noticeable lack of publicity surrounding summer events which might fall into the category of tourist attractions.

Two publications brought to the attention of the Chamber of Commerce's Tourism Committee (one published by the Quebec and the other by the Ottawa government) have not contained adequate publicity, according to the chamber.

Soft-spoken 'confidence man' pleads guilty to fraud count

By LEONARD RYAN
(Record staff reporter)

Roger Grenier had the appearance of having come from Montreal's financial district, instead of St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary, when he appeared before Judge Redmond Hayes in Sherbrooke Wednesday to plead guilty to obtaining money by false pretences.

He was given a one-year sentence, to be served concurrently with a two-year term recently imposed in Montreal on similar charges.

Grenier had been sought for several months between the time he vanished from Sherbrooke and his apprehension in Montreal.

The fraud for which he was charged was one of several suspected offences committed last fall in Sherbrooke in what police described as "the confidence game."

It is known that Grenier arrived in Sherbrooke last year and rented an office downtown. He represented himself as the agent of a large firm and advertised for salesmen. In at least one case, he accepted $277.97 from an applicant, purportedly as a guarantee against shipping expenses for the product.

He disappeared soon after.

police said, and was later arrested in Montreal and convicted for similar activities.

Grenier, a well-spoken man of about 35, admitted his guilt and told Judge Hayes he was willing to pay whatever penalty the judge thought appropriate.

May 20th postal hours announced

The Sherbrooke Post Office has announced its reduced holiday services for the Queen's Birthday, Monday, May 20.

The public lobby will be open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. General delivery, registration, and sale of stamps at wickets will continue from 8 a.m. to 10 a.m.

There will be no service from money order or savings bank wickets. There will be one delivery by letter carrier within the city, but none on rural routes during day.

Letter box collections and despatch of items mailed at the King Street West post office will go on as usual.

14 floats in Saint Jean Baptiste parade

Sherbrooke's St. Jean Baptiste parade this year will contain 14 floats, almost every one of them extolling some aspect of the city's "radiance."

There will be one devoted to commerce, one to industries, one to workers, one to youth, one to artists, one to French life, and one bearing three Roman Catholic archbishops of the region.

The June 24 event will be the high point in the three-day program of events the local St. Jean Baptiste Society has announced for the feast of the patron of French Canada.

On Saturday, June 22, a grand banquet will be held at the University of Sherbrooke social centre on St. Catherine Road. Time is 6:30 p.m.

Sunday, June 23, will open with a pontifical mass at Sherbrooke Cathedral, to be celebrated by Msgr. Georges Cabana, Archbishop of Sherbrooke. Mass is at 11 a.m.

Sunday evening at 8, cadets and majorettes will drill at the Municipal Stadium on Park Street. Armand Leroux, society president for Sherbrooke Diocese, will speak, as will Mayor Armand Nadeau, federal MP Gerard Chapdelaine, and Minister without Portfolio Carier Fortin, provincial member.

This will be followed at 9 by fireworks and an evening of popular entertainment with Louis Bilodeau as master of ceremonies. Adults will be charged a $1 admission to the stadium proceedings, with children accompanied by parents admitted free.

Throughout the latter part of the evening, during the choral folk singing which will be the featured entertainment, will burn the "Feu de la St. Jean," a traditional bonfire which has been lit in previous years in Jacques Cartier park.

Through Friday, June 21, and Saturday, children of the Association de la Canadienne will offer St. Jean Baptiste souvenir pencils for sale in the city streets. Sunday, women of the Society will sell fleur-de-lis flags at the doors of city churches.

Monday comes the parade, with its 14 floats, still in preparation by the Society. The young boy who will represent St. Jean in the final float has not yet been chosen, but titles for the floats have been announced.

Each represents a field in which "Sherbrooke radiates" — in the Eastern Townships, in commerce, in industries, in municipal systems, in French life and tourist attractions, in labor, in French-Canadian folklore, in youth, in sports, in her institutions, her artists, and her communications media.

The second-to-last float, "Sherbrooke radiates through her religious leaders," will be occupied by Archbishops Cabana of Sherbrooke, Arthur Douville of St. Hyacinthe, and Albertus Martin of Nicolet.

New judge has choice of where to live

QUEBEC — (Special) — The fourth Superior Court judge to be appointed for the judicial districts of St. Francis and Bedford will have the right to make his residence in either district, it was indicated Wednesday following a conference between provincial government officials and members of the Bedford District Bar.

Under existing legislation, Superior Court judges serving the two districts are obliged to maintain their residence in Sherbrooke. This provision will be retained for the three of the judges but special provision will be made for the additional member of the Bench it was announced by Hon. Carrier Fortin, minister without portfolio, in the Legislative Assembly Wednesday afternoon.

Yesterday morning a delegation from the Bedford District Bar, comprising Henri Lizotte, Jean Marquis and Gerard Normandin, of Granby, Guy Genest, of Waterloo, Jean-Paul Couture of Farnham, and Francois Levesque of Bedford, met with Attorney General Georges Emile Lapalme, Mr. Fortin and the MLAs for Bruneau and Missisquoi, Glen Brown and Jean-Jacques Bertrand, to explain the problems created by present legislation requiring the judges to live in Sherbrooke.

Later it was announced in the House by Mr. Fortin and Mr. Bertrand that it had been decided to amend the legislation in the manner sought by the Bedford District lawyers.

Kennedy objected, without dissuading Pearson, to the Canadian intention to establish unilaterally a 12-mile zone around the Canadian coast for fisheries purposes. Sources said Kennedy didn't even bring up his long-held hope that Canada will join the Organization of American States. But, surprisingly, the president gave way under Pearson's insistence that the US-Canada bilateral air agreement is outmoded and unfair to Canada. After years of stony indifference in Washington, Kennedy agreed to the holding of official talks that could lead to new air travel arrangements to give Canadian airlines much broader rights in the U.S.

Cowansville tax rates to remain the same

By PAT BOUGIE
(Record staff reporter)

COWANSVILLE — (Staff) — The tax structure for the Municipality of Cowansville will remain the same for the coming year, Mayor and aldermen decided Tuesday night at the Town Hall following the presentation of the 1963 budget estimates.

Alderman Conrad Bellefeuille proposed a resolution that the tax structure remain the same after learning that the 1963 budget showed an expected surplus of $311. Mr. Bellefeuille's motion was seconded by Alderman Norman Browning.

Tuesday night's budget was the largest ever presented to council, finance committee chairman Alderman Philippe Montagne said. A total of $486,695 in expenditures are expected as compared with revenues totalling $487,006 for a surplus of $311.

REVENUE

In the revenue department Cowansville expects to collect $7,829 in general urban taxes on a valuation of $7,829,300; $1,314 in taxes on a farm valuation of $131,445 and $138,115 in taxes on a special urban valuation of $7,829,300.

Bipartisan taxes are expected to amount to $30,000. The water tax is expected to amount to $63,000 as compared with $55,000 for the previous year. Tenants tax will amount to $33,400 as compared with $30,000 last year. Business tax will amount to $16,300 as compared with $15,000 last year. Poll tax will reach $1,100, the same as last year. Amusement tax will total $2,000.

Interest on tax arrears will total $2,000. Dog tax, $200; Sales tax, $110,000 as compared with an expected $70,000.

Building permits will total $5,000 as compared with $4,000 for the previous year. Fines, $1,500; Grants including winter works, and provincial grants on the purchase of two fire trucks will total $46,412 as compared with $28,000 for the previous year.

Rental of municipal equipment will amount to $20,000. Dump rental will total $50; Clerical services, $100; Revenue from parking meters, $7,000; Outside fires $1,000 and miscellaneous, $2,000 for a total revenue of $487,006.

EXPENDITURES

Total expected expenditures for the year have been estimated at $486,695. They are subdivided as follows:

Pay to Mayor and aldermen, $5,720; Administration expenses, $36,625; General government, $28,480; Fire department, $11,100; police department, $30,235.

Street lighting will cost $22,650; upkeep of streets and sidewalks, $30,025; sewer system, $16,465; water works, $21,835; public works, $12,215; maintenance and repair of equipment, $22,970; public welfare, $7,625; recreation and community services, $9,650; debt charge, $173,000.

Capital expenditures will total $58,100 and are subdivided as follows:

Purchase of a leveller, $26,500; purchase of a 1961 fire truck, $10,000; purchase of a 1963 fire truck, $19,000; purchase of a one-ton truck, $2,600.

This year's budgetary revenues are $87,000 higher than last year, Mr. Montagne said. Expenses however, are also about $87,000 higher than 1962 budget estimates.

Council to investigate air pollution complaints

COWANSVILLE — (Staff) — Cowansville municipal council decided Tuesday night, following a letter received from the Department of Health of Montreal to look into a complaint against the Vilas Industries Limited.

The letter from the Montreal Health Department, dated May 9, advises council that several complaints have been received from residents that the smoke coming from Vilas Industries Limited is polluting the air.

Council decided to look into the matter and hold a meeting with Vilas Company officials.

The date scheduled for Cowansville council to meet with Cowansville taxi drivers to find out if the taxi drivers want or do not want meters installed in their automobiles is May 22.

The meeting will be held at the Town Hall.

Something fishy here' claims tenderer

Four Cowansville councillors seek rescission of resolution

COWANSVILLE — (Staff) — Once a resolution has been passed to accept a tender, this resolution should not be rescinded for any reason whatever, two Cowansville aldermen said Tuesday night despite opposition from the remaining four aldermen present.

"A resolution is a resolution. A resolution is a decision which has been passed by council following the approval of aldermen, entered into the meeting, minutes and passed as a final decision," Alderman Philippe Montagne said Tuesday night following a heated discussion which broke out between council members and a local commercial garage owner, claiming that his tender on a fire truck was turned down even though he had the lowest bid.

Mr. Montagne's statement was seconded by Alderman Norman Browning, chairman of the Police and Fire Committee.

The heated discussion broke out after Paul Brault, owner of the Brault Automobile Garage, on Main Street here demanded explanations from council as to why his tender for a new fire truck for Cowansville, which was the lowest bid, was not accepted.

Aldermen accepted a tender from the Godreau Garage, at Sweetsburg for which was $160 more than the Brault Garage tender.

The procedures to which Mr. Brault objected to date back to last March, when Cowansville decided that it needed a second fire truck.

After getting in touch with three manufacturers of fire fighting equipment, aldermen decided to purchase the truck from the Pierre Thibault Company of Pierreville, with the stipulation that the truck be purchased from a local garage owner and then equipped by the Thibault Company.

As a result of council's decision, aldermen claim that Thibault asked for tenders from local companies.

The tenders were then presented to council April 2, so that council could decide which kind of truck they would purchase and have it equipped with fire fighting materials.

April 2, Alderman Norman Browning proposed that a truck be purchased from Godreau Automobile at Sweetsburg for the price of $18,487.23.

Alderman Browning's proposition was seconded by Alderman Marcelin Larocque.

Brault's Garage's tender was of $18,327, or $160.23 less than Godreau's Garage.

"Godreau's Garage is not even in Cowansville," Mr. Brault said, "he does not pay any business tax to Cowansville, and besides, my tender was $160 lower than his."

"There is definitely something fishy in the whole thing," Mr. Brault added.

Alderman Larocque, taking the floor, said, "I am ready to propose that the resolution be changed. The whole thing slipped by me," Alderman Conrad Bellefeuille agreed with Alderman Larocque to the resolution and pass a new one, giving the sale to the Brault Garage.

This is when Alderman Montagne objected to changing a resolution on grounds of principles.

"Also," he said, "Mr. Godreau lives in Cowansville although his business is not here and he never got anything from the Town before and we thought that it was time to give him something."

Alderman Browning then said, "when we ask for tenders, we never commit ourselves to accept the lowest bid. Besides, we purchased the police car from you, and we have it repaired at your establishment. You have probably received more business from us than Godreau and will probably receive more than he will ever get."

"Why did you ask for tenders then, if you did not want the lowest bid?" queried Mr. Brault.

"The whole thing is fishy," Mr. Brault repeated. "Once the tenders were opened, I could not even talk with any of you."

Alderman Arthur Knight, and chairman of the publicity committee then joined in the discussion. He said, "no, we don't discuss anything in public any."

Duties of a notary outlined at Cowansville Lions meeting

COWANSVILLE — (Staff) — The duties of a notary were outlined to members of the Sherbrooke and has been in Cowansville as a notary since Maurice Hotel here Tuesday night, in a talk given by Raymond Boily, a local notary.

Mr. Boily, who was born in the Sherbrooke and has been in Cowansville as a notary since 1961, attended the University of Ottawa where he obtained his B.A. He also obtained a Bachelor of Philosophy from the same University.

With a scholarship from the French Government, he went to Paris where he studied at the Institute of Political Sciences of the University of Paris. He is president of the French Debating team of Ottawa University; attaché for cultural affairs of the Canadian House of the University of Paris; director for cultural activities of the Law Faculty of the University of Montreal in addition to being active in a variety of other associations.

In his talk, Mr. Boily explained that a notary and a lawyer were very much the same inasmuch as both of these followed the same studies except for the last year.

He added that a notary carried out all the same duties as a lawyer except for the contentious matters which a notary then left to a lawyer.

"A notary is an official public officer, who attests registrations, loans, a real estate agent. He even keeps records of marriages," Mr. Boily added.

"Every three years," he explained, "a notary's work is checked out by an inspector. For any irregularities found in a notary's work by an inspector, a notary can be fined heavily and even be disbarred," he said.

Mr. Boily spoke of the District of Bedford Notaries Association. He explained that this group, which consists of about 23 notaries from Bromie, Missisquoi and Shefford counties meet once a month to discuss matters pertaining to their profession.

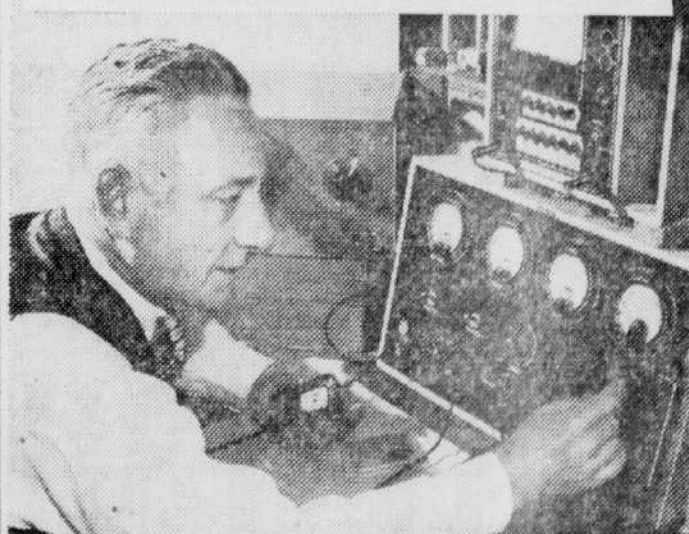

Finally, he explained that a client was fully protected against 'shady' notaries through the inspections and a special board to which clients can complain.

Only those persons, partnerships, companies and corporations, doing business as general contractors and having their head office in one of the counties of Compton, Richmond, Sherbrooke, Stanstead, or Wolfe, are invited to bid on this work.

Tenders will not be considered unless submitted in accordance with our specifications and instructions to bidders, and the Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

HERVE A. GAUVIN, P.Eng., Deputy-Minister.

The Doctor Says

TRACE ELEMENTS — WORKERS IN YOUR CHEMICAL FACTORY

What are little boys made of?

The question once received a fanciful answer. Today, we are acquiring more accurate knowledge of what elements are necessary to the proper function of the human body.

Some of the most fascinating aspects of this subject have to do with the so-called trace elements — those bits of mineral, present in such small amounts that, until recent years, we didn't even know they were a part of our bodies.

Only with the discovery of delicate and precise means of chemical analysis was the presence of the body of such elements as iodine, copper and zinc revealed.

The average adult body contains about one two-thousandth of an ounce of iodine, most of which is concentrated in the thyroid. But without this minute amount, it would be impossible for the body to maintain a normal metabolic rate.

Iron was recognized as an important constituent of the blood long before anyone realized that copper was just as essential, although in a far smaller amount. Without copper, the bone marrow cannot

NOW GOVERNMENT OWNED — Saguenay Power Company, an affiliate of Aluminum Company of Canada is one of seven privately owned companies taken over recently by publicly-owned Quebec Hydro. Saguenay's Chute-du-Diable powerhouse, 1,920 feet long and 160 feet high above the lowest bedrock with an installed generating capacity of 275,000 horsepower, is on the Peribonca River, flowing into Lake St. John north of Quebec City. use the iron that is present to manufacture the hemoglobin needed in the blood to carry oxygen to the tissues. As a result, a form of anemia would develop.

Vitamin B12 was recognized as a substance the lack of which would cause pernicious anemia. But only recently was it discovered that without cobalt there can be no effective vitamin B-12.

Such discoveries have helped your doctor to sort out different kinds of anemia and to treat each kind with greater assurance of success.

Most of the trace elements are vital links in one of the enzymes that control the in dispensable chemical reactions of the body. Zinc, for example, is an essential part of an enzyme that permits the red blood cells to carry carbon dioxide, a product of cellular fatigue, to the lungs. This and other chemical reactions in the body that involve carbon dioxide depend on the zinc-containing enzyme. Zinc is also a component of one of the enzymes of digestion found in the intestines.

Manganese is found in one of the enzymes necessary for the kidneys to form urea from ammonia, and thus enables the body to eliminate a waste product which, if allowed to accumulate, would poison us. It is also present in other important enzymes.

Although fluorine is not essential in the body's metabolism, it is present in varying minute amounts in the natural water of most regions. When the concentration is too low, dental decay, especially in children, increases. Fluorine, when present, does not strengthen the teeth directly, but neutralizes the enzymes that are produced by the bacteria in the month that would otherwise dissolve the dental enamel.

Like copper, cadmium is found in every part of the body. As yet no one knows what its function is but the fact that it is present throughout the body suggests that it, too, plays a vital role.

The chemists of the future undoubtedly will discover what that role is. When they do, they will have helped your doctor to a better understanding of your body and the forces that help and hinder its normal workings.

EAST CLIFTON — Mr. and Mrs. Donald Annesley and family have returned to Trenton, Ont., after spending a few days as guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Bellam.

3EDFORD — Mr. Edward Terrill, who is attending the University of Vermont, at Burlington, Vt. spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Terrill.

Friends of Mrs. Jack Soles, will regret to learn that she is a patient in the B.M.P. Hospital at Sweetsburg, where she underwent surgery.

Rev. and Mrs. T. F. Duncan are visiting their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. M. Sharp, at Franklin Center.

Mr. Ronnie McIntosh has gone to Montreal, where he has obtained employment.

Mrs. Saidie Veysey, who has spent the winter with her sister, Mrs. John Gough, has returned to her home at Stanbridge Station.

May bride-to-be feted at shower in Richmond

RICHMOND — Mrs. H. Frazer and Mrs. W. G. Barrington, assisted by Mrs. Robert Fortin and Mrs. H. Coles, entertained at a shower in honor of Miss Nancy Nourse, a bride-to-be of the month, at the home of Mrs. Barrington, Lorne Avenue.

The color scheme in the rooms was carried out in pink and white. On the buffet were white candles in crystal holders, with a flower arrangement of pink carnations and white mums.

On arrival the guest of honor was greeted by Mrs. Robert Fortin who gave her a corsage of pink carnations and feather mums; and escorted her to a decorated chair, to the strains of the wedding march, played by Mrs. H. Frazer. Mrs. Fortin on behalf of the guests, presented Miss Nourse with a Kenwood blanket.

Contests and games were played and later refreshments were served by the hostesses assisted by Mrs. H. Coles, Mrs. R. Fortin, Mrs. J. Barrington and Mrs. A. R. Turner.

Mrs. K. G. Nourse poured at a table centered with a shower cake decorated in pink and white, flanked by pink candles in silver holders.

Name officers at Guild meeting in Fulford

FULFORD — The Ladies Guild met at the home of Mrs. C. Worden on May 7.

As this was the beginning of a new year for the Guild an election of officers was held, resulting as follows: Mrs. Grant Payne; re-elected president; Mrs. Forest Wright, first vice-president; Mrs. R. Gillians, second vice-president; Mrs. C. Worden, secretary; Mrs. D. Bockus, re-elected treasurer; Mrs. F. Wright and Mrs. V. Brunton, sunshine conveners.

A successful year was reported with donations made to the Red Cross.

Plans were made for a summer social in June, and a drawing was won by Mrs. McDougall.

Canterbury East Warden W.I., Institute meets

CANTERBURY EAST — The W.I. meeting was held on May 7 at the home of Mrs. Prentice Jacklin, with Mrs. Douglas Mayhew co-hostess.

Mrs. Thompson read the minutes in the absence of the secretary - treasurer, Mrs. Herring.

A letter of thanks was read from the Maplemount Home in Cookshire.

Mrs. Jacklin, welfare convener, has made the Christmas stockings and asked members to bring wrapped gifts to the next meeting, when the stockings will be completed.

Some finished quilt blocks were handed in; a paper drive was held May 2; some clothes pins were sold and money donated for school prizes in Bury; and all bills were ordered paid.

An exchange of plant slips took place. As many members as possible are requested to attend the annual meeting to be held in Sawyerville.

At the close of the meeting the hostesses served refreshments.

GENERAL NOTES
Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Wright, of Sherbrooke, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Prentice Jacklin.

U.C.W. meets

FULFORD — The U.C.W. met on May 9, at the home of Mrs. W. Naylor, with Mrs. C. Sparkes as hostess, lunch being served prior to the meeting.

Many articles were brought in for the sale to be held in July.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. May Day on May 23.

Warden W.I., Guild meets

WARDEN — The county meeting of the W.I. was held in Waterloo, on May 8, followed by a luncheon.

Mrs. McGibbon, of Lachute guest speaker, in addressing the group, gave an interesting account of her last autumn's trip to Australia, Japan, Hong Kong and other points, showing many of the interesting souvenirs which she had collected.

GUILD
Mrs. Lyle Ashton entertained the meeting of the Guild at her home on May 9 when a report was given of the two card parties held recently.

The surprise parcel, given by Mrs. Norris, was won by Mrs. L. Ashton.

Sugar-on-snow, pickles, and doughnuts were served by the hostess.

Plans were made to clean the church and hall in June, when the meeting will be held in the hall, followed by a pot luck dinner.

Kinnear's Mills Institute meets

KINNEAR'S MILLS — The Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Wendell Marshall on May 8.

The program was a discussion on the most troublesome weed in the garden.

Mrs. Lawrence Allan was the winner of the gift box.

Plans were made to attend the semi-annual meeting to be held in Inverness, May 17.

Refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the meeting.

"There is definitely nothing fishy about the deal," Alderman Knight added.

Alderman Laroque then came up with a suggestion that council should let Thibault purchase the truck themselves and equip it. This way, friction between aldermen and the garage owner would be greatly reduced.

Alderman Montagne and Knight objected to this claim, claiming that a resolution should never be broken.

Cooper takes things easy; he sleeps, and sleeps...

By JOHN BARBOUR

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Call it nonchalance, or just easy going, but some-thing—within the privacy of his sky cabin—it's hard to tell whether astronaut Gordon Cooper is awake or asleep.

Even in the last few minutes, waiting to blast off, Cooper may have dozed off.

Again—in some quiet moments as he approached the California coast on his second orbit—Cooper dropped off to sleep again.

Finally after 12 hours and 40 minutes in space, Cooper reached the 10-hour period circumscribed as a "don't call me, I'll call you" time in which he could rest undisturbed by calls from the ground.

It took him barely five minutes to relax to the point where his doctors could say it appeared he was asleep.

NAPS BEFORE BLAST OFF

The doctors say Cooper was near sleep, if not actually dozing at a time during the last 60 minutes of his countdown.

Space officials don't look down on this kind of catnap on the job. They can tell whether an astronaut is dozing because the space pilot's body is wired with sensors that tell on him — take his electrocardiogram, temperature, breathing rate and so forth.

Actually his doctors were happy to see him napping earlier in the flight because it indicated he would have little trouble sleeping during the rest period.

Asked if it was all right for Cooper to drop off that way, operations director Walt Williams said, "Why not?"

Cooper going all the way back to sleep.

Powers said the astronaut reported that "as far as he was concerned everything on the spacecraft was nominal." Nominal is an astronaut word meaning normal.

Early in the flight, and while Cooper chatted his way from sunset to sunset as if he did this sort of thing every day, the earthbound technicians and scientists were jubilant.

On the seventh orbit Cooper had gone into drifting flight which meant the spacecraft was rotating aimlessly through all axes though the trajectory remained fixed by the ballistic impulse.

He passed South Africa, Australia, India, Indo-China and mainland China.

On the seventh orbit Cooper had gone into drifting flight which meant the spacecraft was rotating aimlessly through all axes though the trajectory remained fixed by the ballistic impulse.

But it didn't make any difference to Cooper since he was weightless anyway and couldn't tell up from down.

Cooper was so completely un-awed by his experience that he took an unscheduled doze during his second orbit—which was understandable since he had been up since 3:50 a.m. Wednesday.

At one point early in the flight, the Cape Canaveral capsule communicator, astronaut Walter Schirra, asked Cooper: "Great sport, isn't it?"

Cooper's answer was a succinct, "yeah."

HELD U.S. RECORD

Schirra was the holder of the previous U.S. record of nine hours and 13 minutes, set Oct. 3, 1962.

The world record is held by a Russian, Andrian Nikolayev, who began a 24-hour, 34-minute flight across 1,612,000 miles Aug. 11, 1962. Cooper will go 600,000 miles at most.

Over South Africa Cooper tested the ability of an astronaut to sight 3,000,000-candle-power lights on the ground.

If he gives a favorable report, such lights probably will be placed around the world to guide future astronauts back from trips to the moon.

This whole business started at 9:04 a.m. Wednesday when Cooper blasted off launch pad 14 here. He went into a true orbital attitude over Bermuda at 17,546 miles an hour.

Bermuda thus became the first low point on his flight—100.2 miles—while he reached a maximum altitude of 165.8 miles initially over Australia.

The elapsed time from low point to low point was 88 minutes, 45 seconds.

TALK TO FATHER

Mrs. Cooper—Trudy—and the Coopers' teen-age daughters, Camala and Janita—watched the launch on television at their Houston, Tex., home. They had talked to the astronaut earlier by telephone.

Mrs. Cooper was able to follow the flight on a special communications set. She could hear her husband's voice as he passed over Texas.

During his pre-rest period operations, Cooper became the first known astronaut to launch another satellite from a space-ship in orbit.

This was a flashing, xenon gas beacon—the kind used to warn motorists at roadblocks—which was to be used by Cooper to determine how well he could measure distance in space.

He also carried out a number of radiation measurements, but his attempt to expel a tethered balloon to measure atmospheric drag in space was a failure. The balloon ejection equipment wouldn't operate.

OTTAWA (CP)—France is expected to go along with approval of an inter-allied NATO nuclear force at the alliance's ministerial meeting here next week, diplomatic sources here say.

This force will comprise units already in being: several American Polaris missile submarines in the Mediterranean, British bomber command, tactical air forces of Canada, West Germany, Belgium and The Netherlands—and two French squadrons based in Germany and armed with U.S. nuclear warheads.

This force will have two main purposes: to commit American and British strategic nuclear weapons to European defence; and to co-ordinate the assignment of targets of various nuclear units.

TORONTO (CP)—All death duties should be eliminated from estates valued at less than $100,000, the Estate Planning Council of Toronto suggested today.

The council comprised of trust officers, insurance underwriters, chartered accountants and lawyers, told the royal commission on taxation that estates valued at less than $100,000 should be exempt from 7.7 per cent of death-duty revenue.

Since this is only .01 per cent of the national budget, the removal of these estates from taxable categories would mean "relatively little loss of revenue." It would result in "substantial assistance to the small business man and proprietor, and a significant reduction in the work of the (revenue) department."

Quilt is won at Open House

Winner of the hand-made quilt at the Open House held at the School for Retarded Children May 9 was Miss Marcelle Girard of Dixville.

The ticket was drawn by Mrs. J. Paige, of Prospect Street, in Lennoxville. The proceeds of the drawing, which was attended by 100 people, will go to the Sherbrooke Home for Retarded Children and the Dixville School for Retarded Children.

The annual meeting of the Sherbrooke County branch of the Association for the Help of Retarded Children will be held at the school June 3rd. An executive director from Montreal, Mr. Miron, will attend and accept interviews from parents of pupils they wish to enter school in September.

Hostesses at the Open House meeting were: Mrs. Lorne Buckman, Mrs. H. Blachford and Mrs. J. O. Poulin. Conveners were: Mrs. L. Goyette, Mrs. Tony Beaulieu, Mrs. P. Verret and Mrs. J. Paige.

In charge of food sales were: Mrs. Douglas Ross and Mrs. H. Gilbert. In charge of children's art work and gift tables were: Mrs. Thomas Quinn, Mrs. Thibodeau, and Mrs. D. Williams. Mrs. H. Thompson attended the drawing for the quilt.

Jimmy Larente doing fine job with Ivan Dugre's stable at Saratoga Raceway, set for opening May 23

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. — The familiar face of Jimmy Larente is very much in evidence these mornings at Saratoga Raceway's expanding colony of drivers and trainers go about the job of whipping their charges into shape for the Summer Meet inaugural on Thursday night, May 23.

A consistently successful performer here since his debut in 1949, the popular Montreal-born Larente is currently working with a group of 11 that includes six from Ivan Dugre's Charter Oak Stable of Sherbrooke.

Of this group, Miss Speedster is the lone two-year-old and Larente has worked her in 2:30 to date. A bay filly by Speedster-Lady Levity, the promising youngster has been nominated for the Raceway's

He also posted 52 seconds and 46 thirds and finished second in the summer meet standings with a Universal Driver system rating of .351.

Stanstead County Fish Club holds meeting

AYER'S CLIFF — The general meeting of the Stanstead County Fish and Game Club was held on Tuesday evening, May 14, at the County Building hall with a good attendance of directors and members present. President Philip Poops presided.

Repairs will be done at Baldwin and O'Malley ponds and the outlet at Crystal Lake is to be enlarged to prevent high water in the spring. Beaver will be trapped and moved to Heather Johnston for registration. They are largely responsible for the flooding with their dam at the outlet.

A committee was named of Mr. Poops, Clifford Rediker, Merrick Belknap, George Joyal, Carl Robbins and Game Warden George Audet, to prepare resolutions for presentation at a public meeting, to revise hunting and fishing bylaws, that will be held in Montreal in early June. A second meeting to take place in Quebec at a later date.

A report was heard on the June 11th annual banquet, which will be held at the Ayer's Cliff Fair grounds dining hall commencing at 5:30 p.m. and served by the ladies of St. George's Anglican church. A social evening is to follow in the Ayer's Cliff school gym with speakers, Foster, was elected to represent the club at the Eastern Townships Federation meeting. Mr. Poops is also a representative.

Final plans completed for annual Y's Men's Track Meet Saturday at Parade Grounds, nine schools in

Members of the press, radio, Hi Y Club, Field Marshals Walter Mutchler, Bruce Coulter and Gordon Ross were guests of the Sherbrooke Y's Men's Club at their weekly support meeting held at the Magog Hotel last evening.

President Jim MacKinnon welcomed the guests at the final meeting prior to the 21st annual Track Meet taking place Saturday at the Parade Grounds. Rain or shine the Meet will get underway at 9:00 a.m. Nine schools participating are: Ashbestos - Danville - Shipon, Bishop's College School, Granby High School, St. Francis High School (Richmond), Lennoxville High School, Princess Elizabeth High School (Magog), Sunnyside High School (Stanstead), Stanstead Wesleyan College and Sherbrooke High School.

Thirteen trophies will be up for competition, six going to schools in reward for team efforts. The remaining seven trophies are for individual performances and through the generosity of L. G. Balfour Co. Ltd., the club has received seven miniature trophies which will be awarded to the individual winners for permanent possession.

Fire routs them out in early hours and Dick Stuart completes job at Fenway Park by a sweep doubleheader

It was a tough day for Los Angeles Angels. First they were routed out of their hotel by a fire, then routed out of Fenway Park by a fiery first baseman.

Dick Stuart, who says he's worried about his hitting, drove in seven runs on two homers—one a grand slam—and led Boston Red Sox to a doubleheader sweep of Angels, 9-3 and 7-6 Wednesday night.

Stuart's heroics propelled the surprising Red Sox into second place in the American League, one game back of Chicago White Sox who scored a 7-4 victory over Detroit Tigers.

Mudcat Grant blanked Kansas City Athletics on a two-hitter for Cleveland Indians and Baltimore Orioles whipped Washington Senators 7-1 on Milt Pappas' three-hitter in other night games. New York Yankees edged Minnesota Twins 4-3 in the only day game.

A three-alarm fire in the Hotel Somerset in Boston chased Angels from their rooms in the early morning hours and the slugging Stuart finished the rout at Fenway Park.

HITS GRAND-SLAMMER

His grand slam in the third inning of the first game put it out of reach. He had a three-run homer in the nightcap, and scored the winning run in the eighth inning on Russ Nixon's double.

Stuart, an off-season trade acquisition by Red Sox who were looking for some right-handed power, lifted his runs batted in total to 24 and increased his home run production to seven, both marks high among the league leaders.

But Stuart, hitting only .250 says he isn't satisfied.

"Even if I drive in 100 runs and hit 30 homers, I wouldn't be happy if I hit for the batting average I have right now," he said.

Bill Monbouquette went the distance for the first game victory, beating Bo Belinsky. Dick Radatz won the second in relief.

Cowansville names coaching staff for 1963

COWANSVILLE — (Staff) — The Cowansville Colts, of the Brome-Missisquoi Junior Football Conference, has elected its coaching staff for the coming year, Onil Couture, club publicist, announced Tuesday night.

Chief coach will be John Brown while Peter Dobbin and John Barrand have been named assistant coaches. President of the team is Rev. John Peacock.

Those wishing to play football for the Colts this year are asked to show up at the training sessions or to contact head coach John Brown.

LAST NIGHT'S STARS

Batting—Dick Stuart, Boston Red Sox, drove in seven runs in 9-3, 7-6 doubleheader sweep over Los Angeles Angels. He hit a grand-slam homer in the first game and hit a three-run homer in the nightcap before scoring winning run in the eighth inning.

LAST NIGHT'S FIGHTS

Warren, Ohio—Fernand (The Bull) Chretien, 134, Toronto, knocked out Roy Carruthers, 143, Akron, 2.

Alouettes held workout last night another slated this evening, Henry and Conroy on hand, 7:30 tonight

Sherbrooke Alouettes held a first, third and hurled a few innings and played the outfield. He belted several balls, tossed at him by Andre Bessette, over left, centre and right field fence. He is a long-ball hitter and should add strength to the Al's hitting.

Connie Mandala was on hand for his first workout and will be back this evening. Mandala finished as third high hitter on the club last year. He hasn't lost any of his ability as he drove out balls in all directions last night.

Coach St. Vincent is still looking for a replacement for Frank Kurty, who quit the club owing to business reasons. He stated, following the workout, that he had a few players in line but wouldn't give anything definite until he had seen them in action. He hopes to get it settled soon.

put your money where the mileage is:

"Big Edge" Silvertown

It puts the rubber where the wear is

BFG puts more rubber where the wear is to give you more miles for your money. Tires wear first on the edges (a look at any worn-out tire proves this). So, it stands to reason, the tire with the Big Edge will give you the Big Edge in mileage.

Of course there's more to a tire than mileage. That's why BFG has taken comfort and safety into consideration and developed a special "soft" rubber that smoothes bumps but doesn't bounce. Packs extra braking power, too. B.F. Goodrich puts the right kind of rubber where it does the most good. . . . so you can put your money where it does the most good. Boot ruins Handley's bid for perfect game

Milwaukee Braves' Bob Handley made like Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers. Koufax didn't.

While Koufax was making his first appearance since pitching a no-hitter against San Francisco Giants, Handley stole the spotlight by hurling the Braves to a 9-3 triumph over St. Louis Cardinals Wednesday night and coming within two outs of matching Koufax' four-day-old masterpiece.

Handley got Julian Javier on a grounder to open the ninth, but pinch hitter George Altman reached first when Frank Bolling booted his grounder. That seemed to unsettle Handley, who was then tagged for a triple to right centre by Curt Flood for the first St. Louis hit.

Before Handley regained his composure, the Cardinals had two more hits and three runs. But nothing could dim the performance of the 24-year-old left-hander, who pitched probably the finest game in his three seasons in the majors.

WINS FOUR STRAIGHT

Koufax, meanwhile, was touched for 11 hits, but struck out 12 and won his fourth in a row when Ron Fairly drove in the decisive run with a two-out single in the 12th inning and gave the Dodgers a 3-2 triumph over Philadelphia Phillies.

In other National League action, first-place San Francisco scored four runs on one hit in the fifth inning and edged Pittsburgh Pirates 4-3. Cincinnati Reds belted Chicago Cubs 10-2 and New York Mets downed Houston 7-4, ending the Colts' winning streak at six.

Handley was 5-7 with the Braves in 1961, 11-13 last year and now is 4-2 after posting his fourth complete game with his second three-hitter of the season.

After Flood's triple got things started for the Cards, Dick Groat followed with a single, Charley James was safe on an error by Denny Menke and Groat scored the third run on Ken Boyer's single before Handley worked out of the jam. Menke homered for the first Braves' run in the third inning and Milwaukee continued to pound Curt Simmons, who lost his first after five victories.

Fairly's run-producing single gave him a league-leading 29 runs batted in and gave Koufax his fifth victory in six decisions.

LEADS IN RBI

The Dodgers southpaw had been lifted for a pinch hitter at the start of the inning after striking out 10 or more in a game for the 43rd time. Jim Gilliam scored the winning run after singling and moving to second on a passed ball. The loss went to Johnny Klippstein, 1-2.

The Giants broke a scoreless tie against loser Don Cardwell in the fifth after Orlando Cepeda led off with the inning's only hit, a pop fly that dropped in short centre. Cardwell, now 1-5, walked winning pitcher Juan Marichal to force in one run and hit Felipe Alou to force in another before Bob Bailey bobbled Willie Mays' grounder and let in two more runs. Marichal brought his record to 5-3 with Bob Bolin's relief help.

Richmond Bowling League holds closing, trophies and prizes are presented, 200 on hand for event

RICHMOND — The bowling season ended here on a high note when 148 trophies were presented to players in the various leagues. Five groups were represented this past season, St. Jean Baptiste Ladies League; H. H. Brown Shoe; Teen-Agers League; Carling's and the Commercial League.

Jean Guy Girard acted as MC during the presentation banquet held in the Cabaret Richmond. Top trophies presented were the Dow Trophy, won by Brunswick Hotel of the Commercial League, the club also won the Bourbeau Trophy, given by the owner of the alleys, Omer Bourbeau.

Engineers, scientists are in greater demand

OTTAWA (CP)—As the technological revolution gains speed, the demand for more engineers and scientists is mounting, a new government survey shows.

On top of the rising requirements for professional people in scientific and technical fields, there are shortages as well—widening the science gap at a time when technology is advancing at an ever-increasing pace.

The survey shows that not only do industry and government want more engineers and scientists, but so also do the universities, the main source of future technologists.

To pinpoint Canada's professional manpower needs to 1964, the federal labor department polled 2,800 employers in industry, government and education. About 2,500 replied, disclosing that some 2,600 employers had engineers or scientists on their payrolls.

The result was made public in a professional manpower report just released.

It shows the greatest shortages in the social science fields where the vacancy rate is 10.4 per cent, compared to 6.2 per cent in engineering and six per cent in natural science.

SCIENTISTS NEEDED
The main vacancies were for industrial and metallurgical engineers, mathematicians and physicists, sociologists and statisticians.

Heavy shortages were reported by industry and government. In government, the vacancy rate was 7.9 per cent for engineers, seven per cent for natural scientists and 11.3 per cent for social scientists. Industry's rate was six per cent for engineers, 5.4 per cent for natural scientists and 12.3 per cent for social scientists.

The university sector reported the lowest rate of vacancies—2.9 per cent, engineering; 4.2 per cent, natural science; 4.7 per cent, social science.

Looking ahead, employers in the three sectors forecast that between 1962 and 1964 their requirements for engineers will increase at an average annual rate of 5.9 per cent. In the same period, they expect the need for natural scientists to rise at a 5.4-per-cent rate and for social scientists at a rate of 9.1 per cent.

Universities and colleges see their needs rising at the highest rate—10.7 per cent for engineers, nine per cent for natural scientists, 13.2 per cent for social scientists.

ENGINEERS AT TOP
Industry said its expected rate of gain will be somewhat lower, ranging from 5.2 per cent for natural scientists to 8.8 per cent for social scientists. The government estimate was slightly lower.

Here's how the demand shapes up in terms of occupations:

The greatest increase in demand in the engineering professions is expected to fall in the industrial and mechanical fields, where job openings are increasing at a rate of 10.7 and 7.3 per cent, respectively.

The smallest gains are in the mineral industry, where employment opportunities are expanding more slowly. Demand for metallurgical and geological engineers is expected to rise annually by 3.1 per cent, for mining engineers by 2.3 per cent.

In the natural science field, the greatest need seems to lie in the fields of mathematics and physics, where the respective rates of gain are 10.5 and 6.3 per cent.

Lowest estimates are for the fields of geology, agriculture and forestry, each around three to four per cent a year.

Of the three social science professions, the greatest increase in requirements is expected to be for sociologists. In this field, demand is expected to rise by 13.3 per cent each year to 1964. For statisticians, the rate of increase is 10.4 per cent, while it is 7.8 per cent for economists.

DANVILLE

The 2nd Danville Guide Company held its Tuesday meeting with their fathers as guests when 16 fathers turned out for the special father-daughter night.

On behalf of the Royal Canadian Legion, Branch 41, Allen Royal presented the company with a new Union Jack, dedicated by Rev. Tyson. Sandra Johnston was enrolled as a new Guide and welcomed into the company.

A short play entitled, Guiding Now and Then, was put on with all Guides taking part. Shirley Royal taking the part of the Guide of yesterday and Barbara Brown as the Guide of tomorrow.

A camp fire followed with the Guides singing Have You Ever Been in Quebec, Sera Sponda and the Army Song.

A candlelight lunch was served by the lunch committee and an enjoyable evening spent.

Program is given by Bedford tots

BEDFORD—Mrs. Alex MacArthur held the closing of her nursery school class on May 10, attended by mothers of the pupils and friends. John Craighead acted as usher and Louise Pope was the hostess.

An interesting program was presented, opening with the singing of a hymn, followed by several selections of the rhythm band, with Ralph Gilman and Bruce Deming as conductors.

Mrs. MacArthur who is bilingual, had trained the pupils in both French and English and several songs in both languages were sung.

Among those who took part were Ralph Gilman, Gary Woolmer, Gervais Tougas, Louise Pope, Susan Muir, John and Jimmie Jess, Bruce Deming, Billy Sampson and John Craighead.

The serving of refreshments by the pupils brought an enjoyable event to a close.

Cool weather will reduce trade balance?

 CP CROSS-CANADA SURVEY
 By STUART LAKE

Canadian Press Staff Writer

Early summer weather in New York, Chicago, Cincinnati and other major U.S. cities within several hundred miles of the Canadian border may have a bearing on efforts to reduce Canada's unfavorable tourist trade balance.

"If these centres get their usual hot, muggy weather while we enjoy our cooler, more pleasant summer, then the reservations will begin to pour in," says Alan Field, director of the Canadian Government Travel Bureau.

Given such conditions, the bureau is figuring on an increase of at least 10 per cent in tourist spending over last year.

Visitors to Canada in 1962 spent a record $560,000,000 but Canadians abroad spent $610,000,000, making it the 12th straight year that Canada has had a deficit.

However, the deficit of $50,000,000 was less than one-third of the 1961 figure of $160,000,000 and the smallest since the $6,000,000 of 1951.

"Canadians are the world's greatest travellers," says Mr. Field. "If more of them would decide to visit other provinces and not other countries we wouldn't have to worry about a deficit."

GET MORE INQUIRIES

The belief that Canada will play host to more visitors this year is based on the number of inquiries reaching the travel bureau's Ottawa office—the result of increased spending on promotion and the drive to attract more European tourists.

About 1,000,000 pieces of mail asking about Canada were received in 1962 and the volume so far this spring indicates this year's flood should be about 25 per cent greater.

"We're handling between 18 and 20 tons of mail some days," says Mr. Field.

What's more, a sub-post office located at the bureau's headquarters makes it possible for the agency to fire back answers the same day.

Biggest attraction is the Trans-Canada Highway, its 4,860 miles from St. John's, Nfld., to Victoria, B.C., nearly completed.

"We're working out a plan whereby tourists can travel the highway in several stages and then receive a windshield marker of some sort to show they have visited all 10 provinces," says Mr. Field.

THIRD LARGEST EARNER

Other lures are the changing of the guard on Parliament Hill in Ottawa, which attracts up to 5,000 people a day during the summer, the Calgary Stampede and Cape Breton's Gaelic Mòd. Campers continue to flow into provincial and national parks in increasing numbers although Mr. Field says, "the backbone of our trade is still the family going from place to place by car."

Transfer of the travel bureau to the trade department from northern affairs was a beneficial move, says Mr. Field.

"After all, trade and tourists go together and now we have the services of Canada's trade commissioners who can drum up business for us all over the world."

Tourist trade now ranks as the third greatest dollar earner for Canada, behind woodland products and wheat.

"We hope to nail down second place this year and go to the top by 1967."

The tourist bureau is working under "firm targets" laid down in January by George Hees, then trade minister. He forecast an increase of $75,000,000 in tourist spending in Canada this year and a matching increase for 1964.

Mother goat's three new kids steal the show at zoo

MOTHER AND KIDS — Mother goat does in the sun at the Sherbrooke Zoo as her three new kids seek adventures in various directions within the goat enclosure. Kids were the first young born this spring to any animal at the zoo.

Humble goats have stolen the limelight from more exotic creatures at the Sherbrooke Zoo. The three kids a mother goat gave birth to in April are the social event of the spring season.

The past year at the East Ward's Victoria Park have been marked by the erection of a pavilion to shelter visitors, but Ald. Antonio Pinard, whose recreations committee is in charge of the zoo, says it will have to wait at least another year for major alterations.

In planning for expansion of her zoo, Sherbrooke must always bear in mind the fact that neighboring Granby has made her zoo a major factor in civic prestige. Such concentrated effort is hard to compete within the Eastern Townships region.

"Some of the people I've been talking with in Quebec say we should go in for birds," says Ald. Pinard. "It would be a way of making our zoo distinctive."

Meanwhile up at the zoo site on Park Street, keeper Sylvio Laverdiere—assisted by a grown-up son—tends to the newly-enlarged goat family, plus the deer, bears, bison and other animals in his charge.

DEER LICKS HANDS

"That one's pretty domesticated, all right," says Mr. Laverdiere as a fleet young Virginia deer approaches and licks the hands of a visitor who enters the enclosure.

When feeding time came one recent afternoon, the deer seemed more interested in welcoming visitors than in munching the grain Mr. Laverdiere had to offer from a bucket.

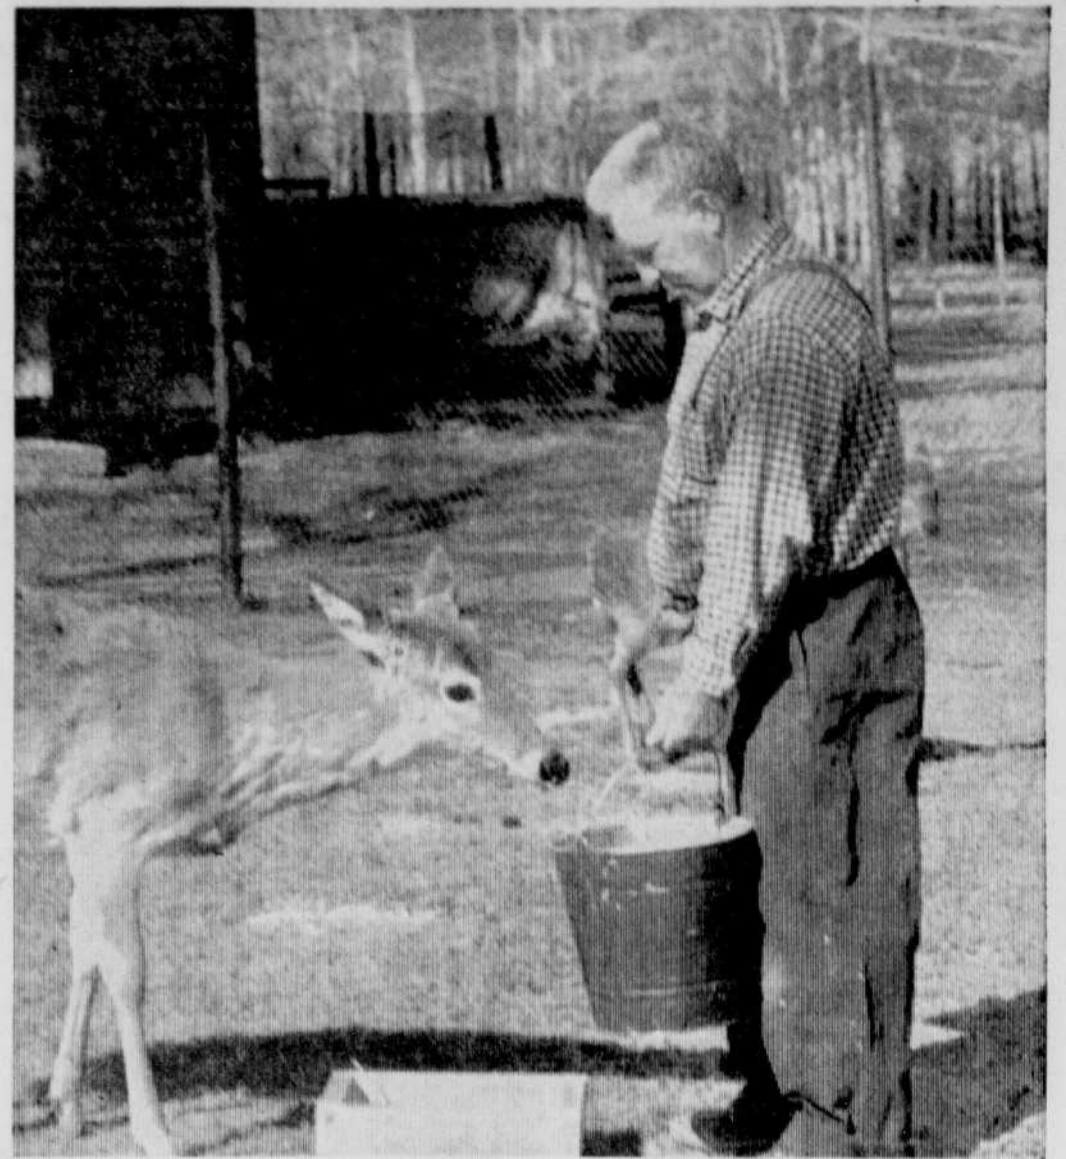

Roaring from the bears' cages up the path indicated all residents of the zoo were not so placid-tempered, however.

Visitors are not yet very frequent at the zoo, but more sunny weather and the convenience of the recreation area in parklands just across the road will be an encouragement as summer approaches.

Even now, however, mothers are seen taking an afternoon off to push a baby carriage and take a tot by the hand along the pathways between cages and enclosures.

Gaston Lebrun, city superintendent of parks, notes the new drainage system for wolf and coyote cages as a major improvement during the past year. The door shelters and enclosures are also newly rebuilt since last spring.

And the Sherbrooke Zoo awaits its next spring arrivals—deer and bison, whose young are born in June.

Co-operative brings prosperity to Newfoundland fishing centre

WEST ST. MODESTE, Labrador (CP)—The cross on the church of Our Lady of Labrador casts its flow across the Straits of Belle Isle. Rimmed in fluorescent lights, it is visible for miles.

It is the heart of West St. Modeste. All the community's economic, religious and social life centres on the hillside church. It stands bright and new, symbol of how much better a fisherman's life can be made.

By Labrador standards the 35 families in West St. Modeste and the 24 in nearby Pinware are prosperous. Although even today they seldom reach a level where they pay income tax, they earn enough to satisfy their basic needs and to have something left over. Not many years ago, they lived in constant debt and want.

Now they have a co-operative fishery that brings them a good price for their catch, and a co-operative store that supplies their needs at a fair price.

They have a 32-mile road—the only one of any substantial length on the entire Labrador coast—that links them with Pinware and Blanc Sablon.

TRAIN OWN TEACHERS

Their school is the only one in Labrador that has been able to train its own teachers and even export native Labradorians to teach in other settlements.

Nearly all the credit for getting these things belongs to Rev. Alphonse Maurice Tessier, a chubby, crew-cut French-Canadian priest.

Father Tessier's early interests were not in missionary work, although his order—the Roman Catholic Order of Oblates of Mary Immaculate—is best known for its missionary work.

He was first an administrator and historian for the order in Ottawa, then a chaplain with the Hull Regiment and the Royal 22nd Regiment overseas during the Second World War. In 1947 he was asked to go to Labrador for a year.

"It's been a long year," he remarked dryly. LOOKS AHEAD

Father Tessier, now 61, is as hale and sturdy as a man 20 years younger. He looks to the future.

"Oh yes, I am proud of the co-operative, the school and the road. But we are not stopping yet. This year we are going to start a caisse populaire." (The French term for credit union comes more easily off his tongue than the English.)

"It will be another step in the advancement of these people. You would not believe how far they have come."

When he first came to West St. Modeste, said Father Tessier, he found the fishermen at the mercy of the "summer merchants" who arrived in spring and left in the fall.

"Slavery is the only word to describe the system. Our people never saw money in their lives. They only knew they were in debt to the merchants in the spring, and when the merchants left in the fall they were still in debt."

The merchants advanced them salt, nets and hooks, food and clothing, and they took the fish in payment. Our people never knew what fish prices should be—they only knew what the merchant allowed them for fish. The merchants set the prices for what was bought and what was sold.

"I didn't know anything about fish when I came, but I asked a lot of questions and I learned. I knew it had to stop."

Today, canned soups that the summer merchants sold for 32 cents are sold for 16 cents—at a profit—by the co-operative.

The co-op store is open all winter. "I have seen times," Father Tessier recalled, "when after the merchants went our people had supplies only for a month or two. By March, they sometimes had nothing in the house but a little salt meat, some fish, flour, sugar and maybe tea. We have stopped that."

No one in St. Modeste now lives on the dole. Even non-members of the co-operative benefit from the lower prices at the store and from the higher prices the co-op commands for fish, which it sells under contract to a Halifax firm.

Getting the co-op going took five years of preparation. Father Tessier got the men talking about it by dropping into their homes and sitting around the kitchen chatting. 'MEN ARE PROUD'

"Our people are not the type for big public meetings. They are too independent for that. I had to start informally."

When he thought the people were ready, he asked the Newfoundland government to send in an expert on co-operatives to make the basic plans. The co-op

Federal minister of forestry

OTTAWA (CP)—At 62, an age when most men begin contemplating retirement, Jack Nicholson is embarking on his third major career—as federal minister of forestry.

The lawyer-businessman from British Columbia ran for public office the first time in June 1962, and was elected Liberal MP for Vancouver Centre.

He was re-elected last April 8 and then was appointed to the cabinet formed by Prime Minister Pearson, whom he has known for 20 years. Now he looks forward to more years of useful service in his new calling.

To his new post, he brings a profound belief that men in executive positions must have the ability to concentrate on a particular problem and follow it up with a decision.

"I'm not a technical expert, but I hope I can always be reasonably well-informed in whatever endeavor I undertake," he said in an interview.

WORK TO SUCCEED

"Nowhere in the world are there greater opportunities for people who want to make something out of life than in Canada. provided one is prepared to settle down and work for it."

This philosophy of a man who says "my only hobby is work" characterized his previous careers as a trial lawyer and then as a top-ranking industrial executive.

A native of Newcastle, N.B., and graduate of Dalhousie University, he originally set out to go into commerce but ended up practising law in Vancouver from 1924 to 1941.

His entry into the business world came about during the Second World War. In 1941 he was appointed deputy controller of supplies for the federal munitions and supply department and shortly after Pearl Harbor was asked to set up Canada's synthetic rubber program. The result was the organization of the giant Crown-owned petroleum chemical complex of Polymer Corporation Limited at Sarnia, Ont.

Mr. Nicholson held top executive posts with Polymer for almost 10 years. In 1952 he moved to Rio de Janeiro, where he managed the operating subsidiaries of the Canadian-controlled Brazilian Traction, Light and Power Company Limited until 1956.

Male models ambled across the runway in the newest look in men's casual shirts in pure silk, cashmere and wool—and ranging in price from $10.95 to $55.

All men's shirts were worn outside the trousers. One was in basket-weave pure cashmere in natural camel shade, trimmed with gold—covered buttons. Dior is the only fashion house showing a cashmere shirt.

PATTERNS RANGE

Shirts for the ladies were in pure silk and ranged from abstract, avant-garde designs to demure stripes. A beige silk long-sleeved blouse was worn by the House of Dior were shown to the press recently at a reception and fashion show.

Sancho Fernando Sanchez, who designed some of the numbers shown, said he had never been in Canada, but had a good idea of the popularity of the "casual" life of North Americans.

An expert on accessories, the designer said bags and shoes were better matched—in the same texture and color. Gloves should be an immediate complement to the costume worn in colors which were "too striking."

Handbags, he said, should be primarily useful. "Women don't have to carry enormous trunks."

CHURCH OF THE ADVENT ST. AGNES GUILD

The monthly meeting of St. Agnes Guild of the Church of the Advent was held at the Church Hall with eight members present.

The president, Mrs. M. Mandigo, opened the meeting with prayers, minutes of the previous meeting were read, and the treasurer's report showed a favorable balance.

A rummage sale will be held in the church hall on May 16 at 8 p.m.

Arrangements were discussed for Rev. Canon Moffat and his wife, who will be here the weekend of June 22 for the special 75th Anniversary Service of the Church.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. M. Mandigo, Hubbard Avenue on June 4.

The meeting adjourned and refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. G. Saanum.

ALDERSHOT CHAPTER, I.O.D.E.

The May meeting of the Aldershot Chapter, I.O.D.E. was held at the I.O.D.E. House, Moore St., recently with the regent, Mrs. S. K. Barnes in the chair.

Mrs. A. Wark read a letter from the Y.W.C.A. and money was voted towards sending a girl to Y.W.C.A. Day Camp this summer.

Mrs. N. Munkittrick asked all members to bring rummage to the sale being held on Friday, May 17. She reported that there were some very excellent pieces to be sold.

The regent, Mrs. S. K. Barnes, welcomed a new member to the Chapter, Mrs. Alford, who was presented with her pin.

Mrs. R. Wheeler, was presented with a Primary Life Membership Pin, by the regent, Mrs. Barnes, during the evening.

After the meeting a lunch was prepared by the hostesses. During the luncheon, Mrs. Barnes presented Mrs. Girling and Mrs. Durrant with a going away present, a cup and saucer, designed with the I.O.D.E. crest.

Nurses' caps each tell a story, denote rank

MONTREAL (CP)—Nurses' tholomew's in London, England, the cap of the school of nursing where she was trained.

The capping ceremonies are special occasions in the hospitals, when the student nurses are "officially accepted."

The veteran nurse can tell at a glance where these caps originated. Hospitals from the Vancouver General to St. Bar-mony is held in March when student nurses are given white caps. In the intermediate year two black bands are added, one across each corner. Seniors get a solid black band across the top, and graduate nurses go back to plain white caps.

Student nurses at the Jewish General Hospital wear caps when they start working in the wards—about six or eight weeks after they enter training. The cap is flat and saucer-shaped. Half-way through the nursing course, mothers of student nurses present them with caps bearing a black band in the "black band ceremony." At graduation the bands are removed and the cap is once more all white.

At the school for Graduate Nurses at McGill University, students wear a hat with a shallow crown of stiffened white net banded with a pleated ruffle.

Graduate nurses are sometimes allowed to wear the caps of the institution in which they are working, although few choose to do so. At the Montreal General Hospital, nurses are allowed to wear the staff cap after they have served there for three years.

In Britain a graduate wears the belt of her hospital as well as the cap or veil. These are wide and elasticized, and come in a variety of colors with special individual buckles.

CAPS TELL STORY — Mrs. Patricia Capling, a graduate of Montreal General Hospital's nursing school, wears her own cap and holds two belonging to nurses on duty with her. Cap at left is from Vancouver General Hospital and the other from Toronto Western Hospital. Most nurses wear the cap from the hospital where they were trained.

Don't muff the muffins

Making good muffins is quite an art—but the techniques are simple and easy to master, for the list of ingredients is short and the variations many.

Ideally, muffins are straight sided with slightly rounded tops. Unfortunately, many novice muffin-bakers get carried away with mixing and beat the batter, and their over-zealousness results in a coarse product full of small tunnels.

Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Harrison, of Massawippi, announce the engagement of their daughter Elizabeth Idella, to Mr. Lawrence Gordon Emery, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Emery of Hatley. The wedding has been arranged to take place in the month of August, in Massawippi, United Church.

Coconut Bran Muffins are a little different from the run-of-the-mill kind in that cooking oil is used as the shortening, and that they are a sweet type, nearer than usual to a cake. Because of this they team well with fruit or ice cream for dessert, or are equally appetizing spread with butter or margarine for tea. Either way, they are best served hot and to be reheated can be wrapped in foil and heated at 425 deg. (very hot) for about five minutes.

COCONUT BRAN MUFFINS
Yield — 15 muffins
1 1/4 cups once-sifted all-purpose flour or 1 1/2 cups once-sifted pastry flour
4 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
3/4 teaspoon salt
1 1/4 cups crisp breakfast bran
1/2 cup cut-up shredded or flaked coconut

1/2 cup lightly-packed brown sugar
1 egg
3/4 cup milk
1/2 cup cooking (salad) oil
1 teaspoon vanilla
Lightly grease 15 muffin cups. Preheat oven to 400 deg. F. (hot). Sift the all-purpose or pastry flour, baking powder and salt together once, then sift into a large mixing bowl. Mix in breakfast bran, coconut and brown sugar.

Beat egg until thick and light; stir in milk, oil and vanilla. Make a well in dry ingredients; add liquids all at once and combine lightly. Two-thirds fill prepared muffin cups. Bake in preheated oven about 20 minutes. Turn out muffins and serve hot with butter or margarine.

Dept. of inane remarks

How annoying, those people who always say—

When looking at a group picture, "It's terrible of me."

When shamelessly bragging, "I don't want to brag, but..."

When confronted with someone else's problem, "Just don't worry everything will turn out all right."

When telling something they shouldn't be telling, "I wouldn't tell this to anyone but you."

When interrupting a busy person, "I hope I'm not interrupting."

When describing a person who is arrogantly careless about his dress and social niceties if he also happens to have wealth, "He's as plain as an old shoe."

When writing stacks of picture postcards while on a trip to "get away from it all"—"Wish you were here."

When going all-out to have a really big party, "We're having a FEW friends..."

When getting one bad break, BC.

"That's just my luck."

When seeing someone for the first time in years, "You haven't changed a bit"—even when the changes are startling.

When they are excited over having seen a celebrity in person, "You know, I ordinarily wouldn't walk across the street to see a celebrity..."

When telling you a long and involved story about Sam, "You'd really have to know Sam to appreciate this."

When offering unsolicited advice, "I know it's none of my business, but..."

When paying a drop-in visit that may last anywhere from one to three hours, "I can only stay a minute."

Bishop's College School places title on line at Y's Men's track meet May 18

Bishop's College School, six-time winners of the Sherbrooke Y's Men's annual Eastern Townships Track and Field Meet, may meet a 'bigger boy' this year, according to BCS coach Sam Abbott.

Bishop's College School put their title on the line this Saturday, along with nine other schools when they will vie for 1963 honors in the 21st running of the Meet.

"We barely made it last year," said Coach Abbott Wednesday. "I told them they would one day meet a bigger boy," he said, "and it may be this year."

In last year's meet, Bishop's College School, experts at last-minute power finishes, surged from fourth place to first in a matter of six events.

Chances of winning this year's Meet are "in the lap of the Gods," commented Coach Abbott. "We aren't a well-balanced team," he said, "but we are in good shape."

The BCS team, said Coach Abbott, will give a good account of themselves this year, despite the fact that the team has lost William Frost, quarter mile record holder, and the team's top runner D'Arcy McGee.

Assisted by John Silver, this year's team has about 12 new boys. The team has very little in the Pee Wee and Bantam section, said Coach Abbott, and although the team has no pole vaulters or high jumpers this year Coach Abbott hopes to see BCS pick up points in the relays. The most outstanding showing from BCS will be midget relay, he said.

Despite quotes from Sherbrooke High School coach Jim McKinnon that SHS has the weakest and smallest team they have ever had officials think Sherbrooke High, top contenders at the meet each year, will put up a good fight.

Coach McKinnon predicted Wednesday that SHS would place fourth or fifth in the meet this year, as compared to their third place showing in the 1962 meet.

Coach McKinnon says the 'surprise outfit' this year will be Lennoxville High School but LHS coach Rollie Dewar wouldn't make a prediction on the outcome of his team.

He did, however, say that "with the right breaks Lennoxville will place better than they have in past years. Lennoxville, Coach Dewar said, pins its hopes on winning points in the Pee Wee and Bantam classes.

Malvern Butler, coach of second place winners in last year's meet, St. Francis High School, wouldn't comment on his team this year. The team is somewhat weakened this year through the loss of their star mile runner Junior Tibbitts.

RHS coach Butler said two boys have been entered from RHS in the mile run this year "but they are not as good," he said.

Officials predict Sunnyside High School at Rock Island to put up a good fight this year and SSHS coach Juris Terauds predicts the team will place within the top five this year.

The team, one of the best ever from Sunnyside, hopes to pick up at least 20 more points than last year, said Coach Terauds.

Best showings from Sunnyside will be in the Pee Wee and Junior classes in high jump and broad jumping.

In practices, junior, John Emslie has already bettered the track record of 18.7 feet inches. John has jumped 20 feet 2 inches in practice. In High Jump he is one-half inch away from the track record of 5 foot 10½ inches. In the Pee Wee class Steven Farrow is one-half inch away from the high jump record.

Because of conflicting dates with the Brome track meet, athletes from Knowlton, Sutton, Waterloo, Cowansville and Bedford schools will not be competing in the Sherbrooke meet this year.

Sunnyside High School coach Terauds said with Knowlton High School—fourth place winner last year—not competing this year, schools from this area will have a better chance of placing.

1962 MEET
Seven records fell by the wayside in the day-long meet, held at the Parade Grounds last year.

Bishop's, well off the pace for most of the day, amassed a total of 69½ points, 14½ more than the surprising second-place finisher St. Francis High School of Richmond. Sherbrooke High School, rated as co-favorites before the meet started, finished third with 54 points, one less than Richmond.

Athletes from the Asbestos-Danville - Shipton High School won fourth spot with 50 points and Knowlton High School rounded out the top five with 48 points. The spread then dropped to Sunnyside High School with 30½, Sutton High School, 29, Stanstead College, 24, Cowansville High School, 21½, Ayer's Cliff High School, 21, Lennoxville High, 19½, Bedford, 15 and Granby High School, 10. Windsor High and Bury High, two schools who entered but one man, failed to pick up points.

Richmond, Asbestos, Sherbrooke and Knowlton all nibbled at the lead during the course of the day. Bishop's believed by many people to be out of the running because of their sixth place standing with but 14 events left, picked up big points in junior and juvenile distance relays, last events on the card.

Two athletes, a midget and a bantam, virtually ruled their classes with their fine performances.

Don Marchand, Sutton, was awarded one of the most wanted trophies of the meet, the Sherbrooke General Sports Commission Trophy given to the athlete with the most points of any division.

Winston Ingalls, a midget from Ayer's Cliff High School bagged four firsts in his class, set a record and was awarded the J. H. Hunter trophy for his efforts. The trophy is given annually for the individual high aggregate in the midget class. Ingalls picked up 21 points which also earned his school a tie with Ayer's Cliff for the Charles Connors trophy, awarded to the school with most points in that division.

Don Marchand, a bantam, picked up two firsts, two seconds, and set a record in his class to win the Syd Hart Trophy for individual high aggregate. Marchand's 22 points likewise won his school the BP Canada Ltd. Trophy for class high aggregate.

Seven records were broken in the meet last year and one tied.

William Anderson, a pee wee from Granby High School, threw the disc 74 ft. 2 in., to better the old mark of 64 ft. Don Marchand, threw the bantam disc 110 ft. 6 in., bettering the previous record by 2 ft. 10 in.

Winston Ingalls from Ayer's Cliff and Chris Annett of Richmond shared in the breaking of two midget records. Both boys jumped 18 ft. 7 in. in the broad jump and both cleared the high jump bar at 5 ft. 4 for their record-breaking feats. Wallace Billing set the other midget record for the 880-yard-run, breaking the tape in 2:15.5. The old record, set in 1958 was 2:20.5. Billing is from Lennoxville High School.

William Frost of BCS set what was perhaps the nicest record of the day with a sterling performance in the junior 880-yard-run. Frost, captain of the BCS team, sprinted to the wire in 2:10.85, chopping five tenths of a second off the old record, which has stood since 1958.

The other junior record was set by Wade Gifford of ADS with a throw of 110 ft., 3 in., in the disc. The previous mark was 109 ft. 8 in., set in 1960.

The tied record came in the Pee Wee class. E Fowler of Richmond leaped 4 ft. 2½ in., in the high jump. The record was set away back in 1956 by Jeff Mills, who was then attending Richmond High School.

The open mile, most popular event on the card, was won last year by Junior Tibbitts of Richmond, in 4:49.8. Tibbitts, who looked out of place because of his small size, set a torrid pace and was never challenged for the lead. Charlie Boreham, winner of the mile for the previous two years and record holder of the event, failed last year to return and defend his title.

Rollie Dewar, president of the Sherbrooke Y's Men's Club, sponsors of the meet, presided at the presentation of trophies immediately following the last event, completed at about 7 o'clock.

9 schools to compete for trophies in interscholastic track and field meet

Nine schools in the Eastern Townships will compete for trophies in the 21st annual Eastern Townships Interscholastic Track and Field Meet at St. Francis High School in Sherbrooke on May 18. The meet will be held at the Sherbrooke Y's Men's Club 21st annual Eastern Townships Interscholastic Track and Field Meet May 18 at the Sherbrooke Y's Men's Club, 800 King St. E., North.

Starting time will be 9 a.m. and it is expected that it will take until after 5 p.m. to complete all the events. This year's track meet has been pushed ahead one week. The Y's Men's try to hold the meet the closest Saturday to May 25. But, explained public relations man, C. Whatley, this year's provincial track meet at St. Lambert falls on May 25 and at the Sherbrooke Y's Men's Club 21st annual Eastern Townships Interscholastic Track and Field Meet May 18 at the Sherbrooke Y's Men's Club, 800 King St. E., North.

Jack Martin, official starter for the Y's Men's Meet has also been asked to act as official starter in the provincial competition and would have been unable to attend the Meet here if it was held the same day. This year's meet, however, falls on the same day as the Bishop's College School has won the ET meet six consecutive years. Above, the 1962 winning team.

Participation in the Meet is limited to schools in the Eastern Townships and covers five classes with age groups as follows: Junior 18-19 years; Juvenile, 16-17 years; Midget, 14-15 years; Bantam, 12-13 years and Pee Wee, under 12 years.

In every event points are awarded, both to the school and to the individual; there are two trophies given to each class, one of the individual accumulating the most scoring points in his age group and the second to the school with the most points.

There is a trophy for the school winning the most points in all groups; another for individual with the most points regardless of age group and finally the trophy for the winner of the Open Mile Run.

Also, in every final event, the first four finishers are awarded bars and ribbons.

Thirteen trophies will once again be up for competition. Since 1956 the Meet has been sanctioned by the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada and all rules are the same as in use for the major meets of the world. Since the meet is sanctioned by the A.A.U. of Canada, any record established will receive official recognition.

The Syd Hart trophy for high aggregate in Bantam class was awarded to Donald Marchand of Sutton with 22 points. The BP Canada Ltd. trophy, given to the school with the most points earned in that class also went to Sutton High with 22 points.

The J. H. Hunter Trophy for individual high aggregate in the middle division went last year to Winston Ingalls of Ayer's Cliff High School. His 21 points led his team in winning the Charles Connors trophy for class high aggregate.

Ken Flewelling of Knowlton High School took the city of Sherbrooke Athletic Commission Trophy for individual high aggregate in the Juvenile class. His school won the Jean Maysenholder Trophy for class high aggregate with 30 points.

George Cooke, a junior from Sunnyside High School, copped the J. S. Mitchell Trophy for high point getter in his class. BCS picked up 20 points in the division to earn the Warren Lynch Trophy.

Don Marchand won the Sherbrooke General Sports Commission Trophy for "the athlete picking up most points in any class," and finally BCS took the A. C. Skinner Trophy for winning the meet.

Parents and friends of the students participating in the Track Meet attend and support the team from Knowlton High School.
