Army should guard banks suggests Bernard Rose

Armed soldiers in uniform should be posted in banks to curb the current hold-up epidemic — just as troops are called upon in other civil emergencies.

This is the suggestion of Westmount's Judge Bernard Rose. He has been the author of frequent letters to the editor of The Monitor on this and related subjects.

Judge Rose says he has discussed the idea unofficially with a number of police and military officers who agree that the proposal is sound.

Judge Rose's idea would have the double value of offering the necessary protection while at the same time easing the strain on the already tightly-stretched resources of the regular police force.

"Let us" he said, "have members of the regular army stationed in every branch of the city's banks. They should be armed with revolvers or rifles or machine guns and would, by their presence, dispell any fears that might be held by the banks' staffs and customers."

"The Bank of Canada is protected by the RCMP at all times, the Bank of England in London has regular patrols. All Canadian banks are chartered and are therefore obliged to pay municipal, provincial and federal taxes. If it is necessary to have the Bank of Canada protected there is surely plenty of justification for having the smallest branch of a bank equally protected."

"I have heard," he went on, "that the one thing a bandit is always afraid of is a man in uniform, not, of course, just a commissionaire but a properly equipped soldier."

He went on to say that there were at least three regiments in Montreal engaged in purely routine duties which could quite easily work on a rotation system giving full coverage.

He suggested that the experiment be tried for two or three months or at least until the current crime-wave showed signs of abating. They could be withdrawn gradually in such a way that the criminal element would not know exactly where and when the withdrawals would be made.

"When a strike of a serious magnitude occurs" he said "the federal government does not hesitate to call in the troops. This is an emergency and should be treated in the same way."

"Perhaps most important of all," continued Mr. Rose, "is the fact that it would release for investigating duties all the policemen who are presently tied up in lesser matters."

"Don't forget," he concluded "that the duty would only last from 10 to 3 each day and if we have money in the bank we are entitled to expect that every agency will be used to help the police arrest and convict the criminal."

Valuation appeals to be heard Sept. 2

The Mayor reported to Council at the meeting on August 4 that the Board of Assessors had deposited the 1958-1959 Valuation Roll on the 24th of July, and that the thirty-day period provided by law for the lodging of appeals would therefore expire on the 23rd of August. Appeals can now be made, and hearing on the appeals will take place at the Council meeting on September 2.

The new Valuation Roll shows a total valuation of $102,399,193.00, of which $84,552,483.00 is taxable and $17,846,710.00 is non-taxable. This indicates an increase over the 1957-1958 taxable valuation of $3,416,129.00, and an increase in the non-taxable valuation of $704,955.00.

Council accepts ex-mayor portrait

Miss Alice M. S. Lighthall, daughter of the late Mr. W. D. Lighthall, has offered to the City as a gift a portrait of her father who was Mayor of Westmount from 1900 to 1902. The Council at its meeting on August 4th accepted the gift on behalf of the City. It would appear that the late Mrs. Lighthall expressed the wish that the portrait of her husband be offered to the City.

Egan Chambers star shortstop

By POWELL SMILY

Ottawa — Egan Chambers, MP for St. Lawrence-St. George, is known as a close student of political philosophy and a dogged election campaigner.

It now turns out that Mr. Chambers is also a pretty fair shortstop.

On Wednesday evening, in a beautiful setting in front of the House of Commons, the Members of Parliament baseball team took on the Commons coppers, (Protective Staff, to employ the official designation.)

The politics, (very much on the short end of the betting before game time,) proved that the vote is mightier than the handcuffs. They knocked off the gendarmes 13-5.

Egan Chambers contributed two hits — one a sneaky out when the policemen were all set for a home-run try — two assists and an error.

Plus the putout which ended the game.

This was a thing of beauty.

The Protection Staff had the bases loaded with one out and a run in. The batter whacked one to the second baseman, who threw to the plate for a force-out. The catcher then rifled the ball to third, and there was Chambers, ready, able and willing to make a backhand grab and tag the runner coming in on a wing and a prayer.

After the game Mr. Chambers admitted that he was aware of one or two muscles which he hadn't previously known he possessed.

HIS STOPPED CAR

A car driven by Leslie Boil, 34, 6680 Fielding avenue, ran into the rear of another driven by Charles Turner, 56, 1650 Lakeview avenue, St. Bruno, Que., Sunday, when the latter stopped at the traffic lights at the intersection of Sherbrooke street and Strathcona avenue.

Development of Canadian north topic of talk to Rotary meet

Not too long ago New Quebec and Labrador was considered barren, waste land simply because the only method of transportation into the interior was by aircraft. Following the building of a 357-mile long railway to the iron ore deposits however, the industrialists of Canada, who once told the youth of the nation "Go west, young man" are now saying "Go north, young man".

This new direction in Canada's growth was illustrated by C. B. Greenwood, Traffic Manager of the Iron Ore Co. of Canada, in a talk he gave to Westmount Rotarians, Wednesday. He also showed us highlights on film, of years of work necessary to penetrate the interior of the province.

Iron ore was first discovered in Labrador in 1929 and in ten years, six of the present recognized ore bodies had been located. Work was suspended in 1942 due to rising costs but was begun again in the following year and in 1947 the target was to prove 300 million tons of ore which could be mined cheaply from open pits.

By the end of 1950, 400 million tons had been proved, nearly 15,000 square miles had been mapped, 231,000 feet of drilling had been completed and the total exploration had cost ten million dollars.

The ore field is located some 320 miles north of Seven Islands, 500 miles below Montreal. The main problem was transporting the ore to the tidewater for loading into vessels and equally important, obtaining an adequate supply of power.

A four-year construction program was begun. A 357-mile railroad, with terminals at north and south ends; base camps and line camps for 6,000 men; a dock at Seven Islands to house the largest ocean-going ships; erection of townsites at Seven Islands and Knob Lake; hydro-electric plants and equipment for extracting and processing the ore.

Mr. Greenwood then described the mining operations and the passage of the ore from mine to sea.

The ore is blasted where necessary, loaded onto trucks for haulage to a crushing and screening plant and dumped into railway cars for transportation to Seven Islands. The ore is classified there so that the buyer gets what he wants and is transferred to an 800-foot loading dock, where a conveyor belt system distributes the ore without having to move the ships.

"It will readily be seen," continued Mr. Greenwood, "that all important in our system is the Quebec North Shore and Labrador Railway, which undertakes the major part of the transportation."

"Our trains consist of 115 to 125 cars, carrying 14,000 tons of ore and taking 15 hours to travel from the north to south terminals at speeds not faster than 40 mph."

Westmount recorded 14 real estate sales worth $812,500 in May and for the January-May period 111 sales valued at $6,190,304.

A total of 892 transactions in city wards, against 1049 in 1957 had a combined value of $23,534,075, in comparison with $23,042,721 in May, 1957. In suburban municipalities, there were 943 transactions in May against 1028 the previous year, for a total of $20,781,938, compared to $18,812,050.

In May, busiest city cards were Mount Royal, with 51 sales worth $3,688,674, St. Edward, with 10 transactions amounting to $3,246,001, and Ahuntsic, with $2,100,067 in 125 sales.

In suburban municipalities, Saint Laurent was first with $2,629,516 in 74 sales, followed by Montreal North with 113 sales worth $2,335,654, and Town of St. Michel, with $2,044,132 in 101 sales.

Taking the first five months of the year together, there were 4,287 transactions in city wards amounting to $113,691,420, (Continued on page 7)

WE SAY

Students set a fine record

WESTMOUNT students — three boys and a girl — in placing well up in the first 25 names in the matriculation examinations, kept the local standard high for another season. Almost every year, when Quebec announces the standings, this district is well represented.

Since the establishment of the local school commission many years ago — it has been operated here in all its departments with efficiency and despatch — and the high standing of many of the pupils who go through its grades is but another evidence of the value of educational administration of the locally-controlled type.

The high standing of the top quartet this year is also an indication of the determination of these students to perfect themselves in the courses offered and to refuse to allow the many distractions that are available in the modern age, and which far too often appear to be stumbling blocks in the onward march to successful completion of scholastic attainments. To the students and to the commission, as well as to the parents and teachers and all others who in any way helped this quartet to make such high marks, we join in saying "well done".

Many accidents despite caution

DESPITE the fact that the local police department's accident prevention division functions well above the average, and campaign after campaign has been conducted to keep motorists and pedestrians aware of the dangers ever present on roads and highways, we have a fairly large number of minor mishaps here.

Many things contribute to cause these accidents — but the highest percentage, reports indicate, are caused by carelessness. A driver swerves without looking, a pedestrian steps carelessly from a curb, two cars are driven into the same spot on the road at the same time; these and many other indications of thoughtlessness add up to property damage, frequently injury to one or more persons. They also add up to lost time, unnecessary expense and frayed tempers.

The way out is caution. No matter how often the safe driving warnings are reiterated — it appears — is not often enough.

Walk safely, drive safely — there is no other way.

RAF families survive in Iraq

By Richard Kilian

RAF AIR BASE,
 HABBANIYA, IRAQ.

TODAY I can tell the story of the 1,400 British men, women, and children who are totally cut off from the world by a hostile ring of Iraqi men and armour at this huge staging base. A story of bravery and determination.

Most important is that this small band of Britons is safe.

Scores asked me to assure their families that they have not written because there are no mail services.

You drive 50 miles across this featureless cradle of civilisation which nestles between the muddy Tigris and the broad Euphrates to reach "Hab," as it is called.

All along the road are tank concentrations and men huddling under lorries from the deadly sun.

As you approach Hab the numbers rise sharply, for Iraq is afraid the West will use the base as a staging point against the new Government.

Inside I went to see the senior British officer, Group Captain Hugh Edwards, VC, a lanky Australian with three rainbow rows of battle ribbons on his khaki tunic and a wife and two children in Hove, Sussex.

Settled behind lagers in his brick bungalow, we talked.

"If you get a chance, tell my wife Pat that I'm all right," he said. "The situation is tense but quiet. Morale is high."

Edwards faces the failure of electrical power and water purification machinery within six weeks — a failure which could make Habbaniya hell.

During my visit I learned of incidents which have helped to stiffen the resolve of these people thousands of miles from home. I learned of the woman walking down one of the broad, green, eucalyptus-lined streets who was molested by a cocky Iraqi soldier drunk with a newly found self-importance.

I learned of many insults and spitting at British wives. I learned of Wing-Commander Tony Andrade who, with his driver, Senior Aircraftman Brewer, was pulled from a car near Bagdad on revolution day, and beaten and stabbed.

The car was burned, and Andrade saved from being ripped to pieces by a brave Lebanese girl who stopped the mob. Ironically, Andrade, an equipment distribution officer, was visiting Iraq on a job for the Iraqi Government.

Most of the men there are working for the Iraqi Government in one way or another.

CODE DESTROYED

GROUP Captain Edwards went on: "Naturally, our signals were cut, but only after three days of getting messages out. I had destroyed our code immediately and went on using the Nato code. Our last signal was a request for a charter plane to take the people away."

"We even had a signal from the Prime Minister in London."

From a signalman sergeant, lounging by a 50-metre-long Olympic swimming pool, I learned why the signals stopped. "We had started sending the usual 'The quick brown fox jumped over the lazy dog's back.' The test given to typists in training. Never got past the word fox. They thought it was a new coded signal."

Fair-haired, bronzed children — there are 100 at Habbaniya — cavorted innocently in the clear water under the 110-degree sun.

Edwards said: "We are being forced to ration beer to one pint a day and there is no longer any selection in the food, just one course. All our food came from our supply depot at Basrah. We have two officers and 28 men there. Of course we have had nothing since the revolt, but our supplies here were good.

"Our people were involved in topographical surveying, in operating Iraq's only ground control approach system, in servicing Hunters, in instructing Iraqi pilots. About half were involved in maintaining a staging post."

"Now the only people working are in administration. Others are busily engaged in anything from organized sports to quizzes. We must prevent restlessness."

CIVILIANS

AS I WRITE this I know Britain will have to evacuate Habbaniya, leaving behind one of the finest bases with two runways, 13,000 yards long. This was agreed to in 1955.

Civilians at Habbaniya include Air Ministry meteorologists, and Thomas Murdoch, Bagdad representative of Dunlops, and his wife, who were caught at Habbaniya week-ending when the revolt came.

AT THE CINEMA

I MET the wives, wearing I fresh cotton frocks, talking about their domestic help.

R A F families . . .

"They have been marvellous," said Mrs. Hugh Forth, wife of the second in command.

Not many of these women want to leave their men. "It may be necessary," said Edwards, "for some to go. It is just too difficult to know what is going to happen."

"What's on at the cinema?" one officer asked in a loud voice. Came the reply: "The Bridge on the River Kwai."

There was laughter. But it is true the film of captured Britons is playing at the Astra Cinema.

It was altogether too appropriate. Said one officer who had already seen the film while on leave: "You chaps will laugh at the heat and our troubles here when you see what Alec Guinness went through."

It was good to be with these people. They know what they are doing even if their futures have been taken out

It is an offer to replace all unmatured 3% wartime Victory Bonds with new 25-year 4½% Canada Conversion Bonds. (Other bonds of shorter term, bearing interest rates of 4¼%, 3¾% and 3% are also available.)

2. Why is the Government making this conversion offer?

In order to reorganize the national debt on a longer term basis and thus reduce the volume of Government refinancing over the next few years. There is widespread public and business agreement that this is a sensible idea and will help protect the soundness of the Canadian dollar.

3. What interest will I receive on the new bonds?

On the 25-year bonds the interest rate is 4½%—this is 50% greater than the old Victory Bond rate. The increase on the 14-year and the 7-year bonds is also substantial.

4. As a Victory Bond holder, will I be required to make any additional payment?

No. On the contrary, you will receive an immediate cash adjustment.

5. Do I have to convert my Victory Bonds?

You may, if you wish, hold your Victory Bonds until maturity and on the due date you will be paid their full face value. The Conversion Loan offer is open only to Victory Bond holders; and the "right" to convert gives Victory Bonds a special value until the offer expires. This is because there are many people trying to buy them in order to invest in the new bonds.

6. What will be the total of my cash adjustment?

It will depend on the type of exchange. For example, a $500 8th Victory Bond exchanged for a $500 Conversion Bond paying 4½% will give you $8.75 in cash immediately. This includes earned interest.

7. Does this offer apply to Canada Savings Bonds and other Government of Canada Bonds?

No. This offer is limited to unmatured wartime Victory Loan Bonds only.

8. What steps should I take if I am away from home on vacation and wish to take advantage of this offer?

You should write immediately to your bank, investment dealer, stockbroker, trust or loan company, requesting literature and application forms.

9. Does it matter that the Victory Bond I hold is very small?

Every holder of a Victory Bond, even though the amount held may be only $50, should take advantage of this offer. It is in his best interests as well as in the best interests of Canada.

10. How long is this offer open?

Until September 15, 1958, but it is to your advantage to convert as quickly as possible and have the benefit of the immediate cash adjustment.

11. Where can I exchange my Victory Bonds?

At any bank, investment dealer, trust or loan company, or through your stockbroker.

Gladiolus galore mark RMR Armory exhibit

Many local flower fanciers will be attending the 24th Annual Exhibition of Gladiolus staged by the Quebec Gladiolus Society at the RMR Armory in Westmount Tuesday and Wednesday from 3 p.m. to 10 p.m. the first day and from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. the second.

Westmount Mayor A. S. Brunneau will officially open the exhibition at 8 p.m. Tuesday assisted by Major Taylor Kennedy C/O of the Royal Montreal Regiment and the adjutant Captain R. L. Borror.

The exhibition is expected to equal or even surpass the exhibition held in the Armory last year, due to the growing popularity of the Miniature and the Medium size Gladiolus which are gaining great favor both with the florists and Gladiolus conscious public because of their daintiness, exquisite colors and their adaptability to modern home decor.

Newer varieties which made their appearance for the first time last year should be in greater prominence on the show tables this year together with many old time varieties that are favorites with many of the Gladiolus growing fraternity.

Growers from Ontario and from the State of Vermont are expected to swell the number of exhibits, and to add keener competition among the local Gladiolus growers, for the Rosettes, emblems of the champions of the show, and those blue ribbons representing first prize color class winners.

ROSETTE AWARDS

The Green Rosette presented by the Green Mountain Gladiolus Society of the State of Vermont, and the Purple Rosette presented by the New England Gladiolus Society, are two of the coveted emblems of Gladiolus champions and represent the Champion Basket and Champion Seedling respectively. The Champion Spike of the Show is awarded the Blue Rosette of the Quebec Gladiolus Society.

Of greater interest to the ladies will be the arrangement division, where the ingenuity of the exhibitor is manifested in original creations.

The following are a few of the classes: Miniature study—suitable for bedside table; decorative home study; centerpiece for table; brides bouquet; corsage bouquet, and arctic study—to be composed of white Gladiolus and Gladiolus foliage only. The most beautiful decoration will be selected by the judges for a Champion Award.

MILK BOTTLES

An idea of the size of the exhibition may be gleaned from the requisition item of last year for milk bottles, for the single and three spike entries, which totalled twelve hundred, while close to one hundred baskets were used. These figures do not include other containers and vases, many of which were supplied by the exhibitors themselves.

At the close of the exhibition, all the bloom will be auctioned in aid of the Regimental Sick Fund.

LOCAL MEMBERS

Local officers of the society include: A. Stuart McLean, president, 4532 Draper in N.D.G.; I. N. Fraser, vice president, 259 Brock avenue, Montreal West; Fred J. Coleman, secretary, 426 Egan avenue, Verdun. Directors include: R. Edmonstone, 21 Stanton road, Westmount; R. R. Herman, 4514 Madison avenue, N.D.G.; W. H. Henthorn, 1360 Brown boulevard, Verdun; J. Kydd, 745 Melrose avenue, Verdun and C. Nagy, 26 Lafleur avenue, Ville LaSalle.

Chairman of the event is Frank McIntosh, immediate past president of the Association. Committee members include Mme. Madeleine Alarie, Maurice Bourgault, Mrs. T. Gottheil, Mme. Paul E. Jean, Mrs. B. Schwam and Frank Wright.

The programme for this gala event will consist of entertainment by well-known artists of radio and television as well as sports personalities, a fashion display and a water show. Among those participating will be Colette Bonheur, Jacques Desbaillets, Yolande Dulude, Claire Gagnier, Nicole Germain, Yolande Guérard, Laure Lalonde, Jacques Plante, Dollard St-Laurent, Gerald Travers and Dennis Vaughan.

The fashion display will be under direction of Madeleine Alarie, featuring models from the Commercial Model Agencies.

A water show will add to the variety of this gala afternoon. Divers and swimmers under the direction of Tony Fouriegos of the Palestre Nationale will put on an interesting display of their talents which will include comic diversion.

The funds from this event are greatly needed by the Cerebral Palsy Association to meet the increasing demands for services in the Province for those affected by Cerebral Palsy. These services include adequate diagnosis and evaluation, treatment, training and education program-

Museum director to study in Italy

Edward Cleghorn, 564 Victoria avenue, associate director of The Montreal Museum of Fine Arts, has been awarded a special grant by the Canada Council to study Renaissance art in Italy for a period of six weeks, it was announced today.

Mr. Cleghorn, a member of the Museum staff since 1950, will leave for Italy at the beginning of September. He expects to spend most of his time in Florence, Rome and Venice.

Mr. Cleghorn said, "It is a principle accepted by all major American museums and the National Gallery of Canada that periodic visits to European museums are a prime necessity for directors and curators to enable them to refresh and sustain the standard of scholarship which is expected of them."

Prior to his appointment to the Museum, Mr. Cleghorn was lecturer in fine arts at Waterloo College, University of Western Ontario.

ment brought to the places where it was most needed? It was flown in on one of the largest airlifts of its kind in history.

Said Mr. Greenwood, "From October 1950 until December 1953, Hollinger Ungava Transport carried 138,700 passengers and 170,343,000 lbs. of freight for a total of 15,263,190 ton miles. All this, notwithstanding the fact that the planes had to fly into single landing strips at the bottom of canyons, in cross winds and through some of the world's most exasperating weather. The longest single stretch without a flight of some kind was 48 hours."

What of the future of Quebec-Labrador? Mr. Greenwood wasn't making any rash predictions, but said "Recently new industries have developed which will rely on the railway for their main artery of supplies. It is probably one of the wealthiest mineral locations in the world today and it is not unlikely that we will, within our time, see an ever-increasing movement of industry into the northern sector of Quebec."

New Hampshire's Chase Barn Theatre Has Gala
 20th Anniversary

NEW Hampshire's illustrious and the state's most accessible summer theatre for Montreal visitors, the Chase Barn Playhouse, celebrates its 20th anniversary this season. Established in 1934 by the late Will Chase, a retired music editor of The New York Times, at Whitefield within easy driving distance of the lovely Franconia and Mount Cannon areas, it has held a high position among summer theatre groups since. Originally, Chase invited a group of Yale Drama School students to his family's estate, and with their help remodelled a 100 year old barn for practical theatre study and performance.

Subsequently, professional actors were engaged, and a permanent apprentice drama school started. In 1940, the founder's niece, Lucy Chase Sparks, took over and the Chase Barn became a stepping stone for many noted performers. The current season has Zeke Berlin installed as managing director, with a cast formed around a core of solid professional stars such as James J. Cordes, Elizabeth Evans, Gene Crow, Maria Fenton, William Mason, Jane Nottage, James Burr and Charles Davisson. Four productions remain on this season's schedule: August 5 to 9, Gore Vidal's A Visit To A Small Planet; The Reluctant Debutante, another comedy, by William Douglas Home, takes over August 12 to 16; followed by Samuel Taylor's hit, The Happy Time, from the 19th to 23rd; and winding up with Two Blind Mice, still another comedy, by Samuel Spewack.

FRED TOLDY, popular pianist attracting fans to Fred Cloutier's Lounge in the THORN-CLIFFE RESTAURANT, Rosemere.

Stowe Playhouse Schedule Runs to August 31

MIDWAY through a series of summer stage attractions, the Stowe Playhouse still has four more productions scheduled to August 31. The popular Vermont resort's summer theatre — to give it full-name treatment — The Baggy Knees Playhouse, out "off-Broadways" anything running in New York or the straw hat circuit. Housed in an authentic old barn, on the Mt. Mansfield road just outside of town, with all the old trappings intact and the smell of hay and old milk cans pervading the proceedings, the stage offerings have been received with enthusiasm and amazement by local and visiting drama lovers.

Set for August 8, 9 and 10 is My Three Angels; to be followed by The Rainmaker, August 15, 16 and 17; Loud Red Patrick, August 22, 23 and 24; concluding the season with the old standby, Once In A Lifetime, August 29, 30 and 31.

Miss Maple Leaf-Canada Finale at Lafontaine Park

EMILE St. Pierre, managing director of the Miss Maple Leaf-Canada organization, has announced that the Grande Finale of the national contest will take place at Lafontaine Park Tuesday, August 12, beginning with the talent awards at 7:45 p.m. The entry committee, under the supervision of Margaret Gecy, has chosen 20 finalists from photos and applications received from all parts of Canada. These girls, between the ages of 17 and 24, will compete for the top honor at the event. Judged by beauty, deportment, intelligence and talent, the girl chosen Miss Maple Leaf-Canada will represent the Do-

Bellevue Casino slates new show

Jack Suz's Bellevue Casino has come up with an entirely new and refreshing presentation as of August 7.

Keynoting the production with smart costuming and smooth material, the young and vigorous headlining stars are showcased in a very satisfactory and entertaining manner.

Led off by Billy Albert (whose former connection with the noted singing group prompts some scribes to refer to him as the original Rover Boy) and the Ardrey Sisters, with straight singing arrangements, mountain music and Presley takeoffs amusingly interpolated, the show is well paced throughout.

Baron Buika, another feature performer, uses great comedy and music talents to full advantage. Bob LeClaire, the singing star, gets the most out of a batch of pleasing tunes.

On hand, to be sure, are the Bellevue Casino Lovelies and the beautiful Lola Sully with three smart dance productions.

VAN CLIBURN

RCA Victor: Tchaikovsky: Concerto No. 1, in B-Flat Minor, Op. 23. Van Cliburn, pianist, Kiril P. Kondraskin, conductor. LM-2252. This is the eagerly awaited debut of 23-year old Texas-born Van Cliburn who won worldwide acclaim last April when he won the first International Tchaikovsky Competition in Moscow. The choice of the familiar Concerto No. 1 is a fitting one as this was one of the selections in the finals. For this recording and a number of concerts in the U. S., maestro Kiril P. Kondraskin was permitted to perform with the young star. The result is a highly satisfactory listening experience. From the familiar opening chords Van Cliburn plays with a fresh virility and youthful zest, maintaining a fine shading in the slower movements and overall a good sense of timing with the orchestra. A brand-new collector's item.

FRANCESCATTI

Columbia: One of the foremost virtuosi in the art of violin playing is French-born Zino Francescatti, possessing such a superb touch and remarkable control of the instrument as to enhance the listening of the many and sundry items in his record repertoire. The following three discs of this great artist cover selections in three types of music which are most appealing and recommended as a basic representation of enjoyable violin music. On ML 5184 we hear the Lalo: Symphonie Espagnole Op. 21 and Vieuxtemps: Concerto No. 4 in D Minor, the former played by the Philharmonic of New York under Dimitri Mitropoulos, and the Vieuxtemps by The Philadelphia Orchestra conducted by Eugene Ormandy. These are among the most popular of violin concerti with the full orchestra providing a background for the showmanship of the violinist, either in a graceful and lengthy andante or a brilliant scherzo or rondo. ML 5253 under the simple title Francescatti presents some of the most famous shorter concert pieces: Sarasate's sparkling and exciting 'Zigeunerweisen' or 'Gypsy Airs', Saint-Saens' melodic 'Havanaise Op. 83' and brilliant 'Introduction and Rondo Capriccioso Op. 28', closing with Ernest Chausson's tranquil 'Poeme'.

"She walks in beauty"

A TRIBUTE TO H.R.H. PRINCESS MARGARET

You are a Queen, but with no royal sceptre in your hand,
As we, the people of the world, from land to land,
Salute you, on your wise and noble stand
In all the trying days that now have passed,
You stood for all the worth-while things that last.

When God made you, He gave your spirit wings,
Destined to play in life a noble role,
Endowed with royal beauty, grace and youth,
The royal banner now will be your goal.

Exhibition of local women's paintings to highlight University Women's meet

When over 300 delegates to the 14th Triennial Conference of the Canadian Federation of University Women visit Montreal August 12-16, one of the activities that is most likely to attract a great deal of attention will be an exhibition of paintings and books organized by Miss Alma Hart, 590 Cote St. Antoine, and her committee.

Miss Hart, a life-long resident of Westmount, received her early education at Argyle School, later graduated from Miss Edgar's and Miss Cramp's School, and earned her B.A. degree from McGill University. An active member of the Montreal University Women's Club for many years and a member of the Board of the McGill Alumnae, she has devoted a major part of her time to organizational work for these two groups. As a discriminating reader and an appreciative student of the arts, she finds her role in the conference as chairman of the committee for the exhibition of paintings and books, a congenial one.

The paintings, all by members of Canadian University Women's Clubs, are coming from all parts of the country. The number of exhibits was still growing, but Miss Hart estimated that there would probably be about eighty-five, mostly oil and watercolors, and about 30 clubs would be represented. A cover design for the program has been created by a committee of three: Miss Anne Savage, Mrs. S. D. Earle of Westmount, and Miss Monique Chabot, all prominent in Montreal art circles.

Paintings by local members number about twelve. They include two by Mrs. Saul Hayes, who is the Montreal Club's Federation representative; two paintings by Miss G. Page Pineo of the Montreal University Women's Club; one by Miss Barbara Bain of the McGill Alumnae; two paintings each by Mlle. Jacques-line H. Leboeuf and Mlle. Monique Chabot of the Societe de Femmes Universitaires de Montreal; one painting by Mlle. Marie-Paul Charest of the SFUM and a pastel and an etching by Miss Dean Cheshire, of the Montreal Lakeshore University Women's Club.

Assisting Miss Hart, as convener of the Book Exhibit, is Mrs. C. M. Russel, also a Westmount resident. Of special interest to local residents are "My Lady Greensleeves" by Dr. Constance Beresford-Howe, and "The History of Fanny Burney" by Dr. Joyce Hemslow, both authors being on the staff of McGill University. There will also be two publications by Dr. A. Vibert Douglas, formerly of McGill University and now of Queen's University.

Now they have a lipstick called Pink Vanilla. When we were boys, we had to get our ice cream out of cones.

Three students win career essay contest

Two Loyola High School students and a resident of Westmount were recipients of regional awards in the recently completed "Career Forecast" essay competition sponsored by the New York Life Insurance Company. These three were among ten winners from Quebec Province.

In the high school division of the contest, which required of the entrants an essay dealing with "My Career In Canada During the Next 25 Years", Paul Rambaut, 18, Weyburn, Sask., a fourth year student at Loyola High School, was awarded $350 for forecasting his career as a nuclear physicist.

Melvin Diabo, 17, a full-blooded Mohawk from the Reservation at Caughnawaga and another fourth year student at Loyola, won $100 for an outline of his ambitions in the field of medicine.

A regional award of $500 in the university division went to Paul L. Murphy, 27, 4643 Sherbrooke street west, second year Arts student at Sir George Williams College, for projecting his career as a lawyer.

Excerpts from the essays of the two Loyola students follow.

PAUL RAMBAUT: "Science has always appealed to me perhaps because it conveys an absolute in a world where truth is often scorned and derided . . . It is quite natural that I should pursue this career in Canada not only because she is already a world leader in the field but also because in no other country in the world will the atom be put to more immediate use . . . long after Canada's major rivers have been harnessed to capacity, and even after the uranium veins of Great Bear Lake have been exhausted, future Canadians will require still more power, for they must face the awesome task of changing the face of the continent."

MELVIN DIABO: "I am a full-blooded Mohawk Indian and I live in a reservation called Caughnawaga, just across the river from Montreal . . . It is my dream eventually to graduate from university as a medical doctor. If I become a capable doctor, I am sure that I can do much for the betterment of my people. As a doctor, it will be my determination to see to it that medical problems are solved first. I will try to see to it that sick children receive proper treatment and that older people do not suffer needlessly because of a lack of interest in their welfare or because of a lack of proper facilities . . . My dream is to see the Indian take his place in society beside his white brother and it is my hope that by means of medicine . . . I shall be able to make my dreams come true."

In all there were entries from some 370 communities across Canada dealing with topics ranging from astronomy to zoology.

Julia Murphy slated to direct MRT plays

Julia Murphy has been named resident director for the coming season by the Montreal Repertory Theatre. MRT is planning an expanded season of 12 plays, the majority of which will be directed by the new resident director.

Daughter of the late Sir James McBrien, one-time commissioner of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, Mrs. Murphy went to London's Royal Academy of Dramatic Art to train for her career in the theatre. After receiving her acting diploma from RADA, she returned to Canada because she was "more interested in a country with no theatre than one already crowded with good theatres."

In Ottawa, Julia Murphy acted and directed for 20 years at the Ottawa Little Theatre. She was co-founder and director of the Saturday Players, a group of actors trained to play for children. She taught drama at the High School. In Sarnia, she directed a summer stock company for two seasons. She has directed for Crest Theatre in Toronto and the Canadian Repertory Theatre in Ottawa.

Combining an interest in many branches of the arts over the years, Julia Murphy has acted a great variety of roles in addition to directing. She has designed sets. After painting for only 18 months, she gave an exhibition of her oils and charcoal drawings in Ottawa. She has written fiction. She has read poetry over the radio.

Included among the trophies awarded to Julia Murphy is the 1952 Bessborough trophy, top award of the Dominion Drama Festival.

Since her arrival in Montreal a little over two years ago, Julia Murphy has directed four MRT plays, taught at the MRT School of the Theatre, organized the MRT Workshop and directed six films for the National Film Board.

West End furrier creates mink coat for the Princess

The occasion which Frank Murphy, 4545 Montclair avenue, will remember with mixed emotions is the day when a man from the Canadian Government in Ottawa walked into his showroom of Murphy Furs Limited to notify him that he had been commissioned to create the finest Labrador wild mink coat for H.R.H. Princess Margaret. He was extremely proud to be chosen for this honor, and in view of the importance of this commission was slightly overcome.

To find the reason why Mr. Murphy was chosen for this honor we must go back many years to the time when Revillon Frères of Paris had rights to trade in fur with the Indians, and ship the furs to France for manufacture. As an employee of this firm Mr. Murphy was showing his ability to judge value in raw furs and was training his creative abilities in the science of fur operation. Then in the early Thirties the Hudson's Bay Company took over the entire Revillon Frères business in Canada. As they had recognized the talents and abilities which Mr. Murphy had been developing they asked him to join them; incidentally he was the only employee to be asked to join H.B.C. After five years association with this firm, Mr. Murphy decided to go into business for himself. That was twenty years ago and he is now established in the King's Hall Building in Montreal.

During his years with the Hudson's Bay Company one event stands out in Mr. Murphy's mind and this was a trip on the "Nascope," the Hudson's Bay Company ship which was owned by the Canadian Government and which went on three-month trips to visit all the outposts of the Canadian North. The voyage was not unproductive as it afforded Mr. Murphy the opportunity to meet many people who were interested in the Canadian fur trade and whose association has given much enjoyment over the years.

St. Mary's Hospital continues expansion

Following the re-location of nurses and sisters from the top floor of St. Mary's Hospital to an extension of their own residence, foundation work is starting on a casualty and out-patient department in the rear of the building, at ground-floor level. The estimated cost is $685,000.

Slated for construction in a year's time is an extension providing increased accommodation in the hospital's south wing, and a power house.

These improvements are aimed at doubling the hospital's present capacity in its wards, kitchens, service departments and surgical and obstetrical units.

The entire project, according to architects, Edward J. Turcotte, 1478 St. Catherine street west, will cost approximately $2,000,000.

Persecuted offered novena

Montreal Roman Catholics will join with members of their faith throughout the world this week in a novena (nine days) of special prayer for members of the church who are in countries under Communist domination.

The novena will begin tomorrow, according to an announcement read in all Roman Catholic churches on Sunday. Undertaken at the special request of the Pope the prayers will ask divine assistance so that Roman Catholics "will suffer anything rather than split off from the Christian faith and Catholic unity."

United Church men meet next week

Local members of the United Church of Canada will be among the hundred or more delegates from Montreal and Ottawa expected at the second annual Regional Conference of Men of the United Church of Canada next week.

The Conference will be held at L'Institut Français, 12625 Notre Dame street east, Pointe-aux-Trembles, August 15, 16, and 17. R. H. Griffiths will be acting as general chairman, while W. R. Abbott is president of the Conference.

Rev. Frank H. Morgan, minister of MacKay United Church, Ottawa, will be one of the principal speakers on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, and will conduct the Communion Service on Sunday afternoon.

The three-day program includes discussion groups, work shops, films, and worship periods.

Reunion conference set for September

A conference on the reunion of the Christian Church will be held for Eastern Canada at Queen's University, Kingston, Ontario, from September 3 to September 5.

The conference, open to all who are interested, will be led by Archbishop Frank Woods, Archbishop of Melbourne, Australia. Archbishop Woods will be returning from the Lambeth conference of bishops where church union discussions are high on the agenda.

For the past 18 months the clergy, theological students and laymen representatives of the Anglican and United Churches have been pursuing conversations, prayer and study on the question of the reunion of the Christian Church, in preparation for the conference.

The conference fee is $10.00 inclusive of board and room. Arrangements can be made for transportation if necessary. For complete information please address your inquiries to: The Rectory, P.O. Box 113, Beauharnois, P.Q.

Westmount Baptist Church

Blue prints must always precede building and vision should lead to constructive action. If we do not think bigger than we act then the results of our actions will be small. "The Place of Vision" will be the subject of the morning sermon by the Rev. E. J. Bailey, and at night the sermon will be on "Buried Treasure."

During the summer when many churches are closed in the evening, we invite members of other churches to share our evening worship at Westmount Baptist Church. Prayer Meeting continues also on Wednesday at 8 p.m.

On gardens

By
The Venerable
R. Kenneth Naylor, D.D.,
Rector, Trinity Memorial Church

"And the LORD God planted a garden eastward in Eden; and there he put the man whom he had formed." It seems the most natural and kindly thing that the Lord God could have done for man. He had created him out of the very earth and He gave him a corner of his own natural Mother Earth to live in; and not only to live in — He gave man responsibility for it. "The LORD God took the man and put him into the garden of Eden to dress it and to keep it." And there man can always be at home.

I know of nothing that restores tired, jaded nerves so quickly; or anything that allows one to reduce one's place from city pavements and busses so readily. I catch a bus at University Street and am annoyed at having to change at Atwater.

I am doubly annoyed at Atwater if there is not an almost empty bus waiting for me; and still more annoyed if the bus has to stop too often. If I walk I cannot get to the end of the walk fast enough. But in a garden that all changes by magic. Even the weeds are friendly; they have been actually waiting for me. They know that I have a use for them and they are quite prepared to make next year's soil. The flowers and vegetables look pleased at getting rid of their weedy neighbours and respond to a few kindly touches.

Even the movements of hand and foot are slower, more deliberate, more purposeful. There is something to do with the hand that leaves the mind free to roam from China to Peru, from Hammurabi to the Archbishop of Canterbury. That is one of the advantages of the simpler kinds of labour, and especially of gardening. A gardener ought to hear the voice of the Lord God walking in the garden in the cool of the day. The gardener and the farmer come closer to the ways of God than most people, for the farmer is the most creative man in the world — he sows his seed and reaps a hundredfold.

The carpenter makes wonderful furniture or houses, but he is not a creator in the same sense.

Do not imagine that it is a beautiful garden, beautifully kept. It is small and rough, but it allows me to wallow for a time in good brown earth, and to hear it talk to me.

The United Churches hold joint services

For the 17th summer season, Stanley Presbyterian Church and Dominion-Douglas United Church are joining together for summer services. Four Canadian swimmers participated, finishing behind Australian rivals in all but one event.

Cameron Grout of Westmount, fourth behind three Australians in the 110-yard freestyle at Cardiff, was second to games champion John Devitt last night beaten by four-tenths of a second over the longer 132-yard distance.
