SERIOUS REBELLION THREATENS IN YUGOSLAVIA

Capital Streets Reported Scene Of Grave Riot

Reports from All Parts of Yugoslavia Tell of Disorders Flaring Up Following Signing of Pact Linking Country with Axis—One-Time Leader of Serb Campaign of 1918 Reported Recruiting New Forces.

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, March 26.—(AP)—Rioting broke out in the centre of Belgrade at noon today in protest against Yugoslavia's alliance with the Axis powers.

Police and soldiers quelled the outbreak, which occurred a short time after Premier Dragisa Cvetkovic returned from Vienna, where he signed the Axis pact yesterday.

Accompanied by Foreign Minister Aleksander Cincar-Markovic, who also participated in the pact signing yesterday, the Premier hurried from the station to his offices to confer at once with Government leaders.

Vice-Premier Vladimir Macek, who met the train with other cabinet ministers, followed the Premier to report on disorders which flared in all parts of the country while the treaty was being signed.

The first step taken by the authorities after Cvetkovic's arrival was to close several Belgrade public schools where thousands of older boys destroyed pictures of Hitler and staged sit-down strikes.

Police cordons were stationed around some of the largest schools, and it was reported all might be closed until after the Orthodox Easter April 20 in an effort to avert further trouble.

Hundreds of persons were reported under arrest in the provinces as a result of yesterday's demonstrations which threatened to reach grave proportions. Serb peasants, students, Communists and the rejuvenated Comitaj (Committee of Deserters) which dates back to Turkish Empire days took a leading part in the disorders.

Kosca Pecanac, one-time Comitaj leader and hero of the 1918 Salonika campaign, was reported in Southern Serbia recruiting sons of his old comrades for a new fight against German domination.

Young Serbs besieged the Greek and British legations, asking transportation to the Albanian and Greek fronts to join the battle against the Axis.

One of the largest demonstrations yesterday was in Kraljevo, Serbia, where more than 8,000 men and women gathered to hear speakers in the public square, then paraded through the streets denouncing their "treacherous government."

Two thousand peasants, many armed with pitchforks, marched in Hadji Popovic, central Serbian city, shouting "We want war!" Thousands participated in similar demonstrations elsewhere, openly expressing sympathy with Greece and Great Britain. In some places police made only perfunctory efforts to halt the

GERMAN UNIFORM NO CONCERN TO LONDON

London, March 26.—(AP)—Unchallenged, a man wearing a German army officer's uniform and trappings strolled London streets for hours yesterday, looked over busy Scotland Yard and peered through Buckingham Palace's fences.

This was merely another uniform to Londoners accustomed to the varied garb of British, Dominion, Colonial, Netherlands, Czech, Norwegian, Free French and other allied forces.

The "German officer" was Donald Collins, film actor employed by the Daily Sketch to point up its editorial campaign urging closer surveillance of aliens.

FRANCE INCREASES WORKING TIME

Vichy, France, March 26.—(AP)—The Vichy Government today authorized an increase in the work week from forty to forty-eight hours. Workers placed on a forty-eight-hour week will receive ten per cent increases in salary.

U.S. Congress Delays Move To Outlaw Defence Strikes

House Committee Decides that Test Will Be Given of Operations of National Defence Mediation Board Before Taking Other Action—Strike in Bethlehem Steel Plants Threatens to Spread Across Country.

Washington, March 26.—Democrat House of Representatives today rejected proposals to outlaw strikes in United States defence industries, primarily because of appointment of the National Defence Mediation Board.

Informed sources said they had decided to block attempts to bring such legislation to the floor, at least until the new eleven-member agency has had an opportunity to reduce the number of strikes.

This decision became known as Chairman Mary Norton (Dem.-New Jersey) of the House Labor Committee appealed to all workers to cooperate "to get this important defence job done" lest public reaction force drastic anti-strike legislation.

"I am unalterably opposed to strike legislation," Mrs. Norton said in a statement, "but I have sense enough to know that unless labor unions get together and declare a truce, for the duration of the war, in jurisdictional disputes, and employers and employees compromise their differences, it will be impossible... to prevent this legislation or even to preserve the legislation we have worked so hard to enact."

The Ambassador spoke before the Pilgrims of the United States and his speech was broadcast. Today he will visit the Seaman's Church Institute to dedicate the New York British Navy Club and tomorrow, like all visitors to New York, he will look over the city from the top of

NAVY ESCORTS FRENCH SHIPS FROM COLONIES

Vichy Government Declares that Existing System Does Not Constitute Actual Convoy of Merchantmen.

Vichy, France, March 26.—(AP)—A Vichy Government spokesman said today the French navy had been escorting merchant ships on the high seas "for many months."

Although not actually convoyed, groups of ships from the colonies have been "policed" by small war vessels, the spokesman declared. He asserted no ship so accompanied ever had been stopped by British war vessels.

The disclosure was made when the spokesman was asked to comment on Spanish newspaper reports that a merchant ship loaded with cocoa, coffee, tobacco and bananas was en route to Casablanca, French Morocco, escorted by a French warship.

Vice-Premier Jean Darlan, who is also Navy Minister, declared March 10 that France's food position was so grave that it would be necessary to give armed protection to merchantmen if the British Navy did not permit them to pass through its blockade.

Officials said that the escorts now in use could not be regarded as "armed protection" because they were not strong enough to put up a fight.

Yugoslavian Adherence To Axis Likely To Provide Considerable Grief For Supposed Benefactors

By GUY RHOADES
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

The success or failure of the German move in forcing a Yugoslavian signature to a limited Axis collaborative agreement appears to depend to a considerable degree on the temper of the Yugoslav population, a temper which appears at the moment to be none too friendly.

Various manifestations of popular anger against the Government which drafted Yugoslavia into the Axis have been witnessed during the last few days, manifestations culminating today in fierce riot in the capital, Belgrade, and the arrest of numerous anti-Government demonstrators.

One of the conditions of the agreement—allegedly sparing Yugoslavia invasion—was that Yugoslav authorities suppress anti-German demonstrations and expressions of anti-German feeling.

This at the moment appears more easily promised than done, for the Serbs, in particular, fierce descendants of the fierce warriors who faced the Austro-Hungarian army in the First Great War, seen in no mood to take their Government's act lying down. Their students have staged street demonstrations, shouting Greek and British slogans, singing "It's a Long Way to Tipperary" and in one instance nailing the Union Jack to a flag staff.

The unpopularity of the Government's move was seen in the resignation of cabinet ministers, the delay and frustration of Prince Paul underwent in his effort to constitute an administration that would stomach the treaty, the resignation of numerous civil servants and then today's riots which are not likely to be the last.

The effects of Yugoslav popular resistance has been two-fold. It has

BRITAIN HOPES TO RETAIN ALL HUMAN FREEDOM

Viscount Halifax Tells New York Audience of British Hopes for New Order After Defeat of Nazism.

By J. F. SANDERSON
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

New York, March 26.—(AP)—The principal war aim of the British people and those associated with them "is to win this life and death struggle for the cause of human freedom," Viscount Halifax, British Ambassador to the United States, declared here last night.

In his first public address since arriving in January to succeed the late Marquess of Lothian, the Ambassador sketched in broad outline the new world order to be established at the conclusion of the war. It was one in which "every nation, great or small, will have its place and makes its own contribution" but its main objective would be a community of nations, pledged to mutual co-operation in economic welfare and defensive strength.

The Ambassador spoke before the Pilgrims of the United States and his speech was broadcast. Today he will visit the Seaman's Church Institute to dedicate the New York British Navy Club and tomorrow, like all visitors to New York, he will look over the city from the top of

BERLIN READY WITH WELCOME TO JAP ENVOY

Schools and Factories Ordered Closed in Honor of Visit of Matsuoka to German Capital.

Berlin, March 26.—(AP)—Berlin prepared a rousing welcome for Japanese Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka today against a background of jubilation over Yugoslavia's entrance into the Axis camp.

Matsuoka entered German territory late last night at the tiny town of Malkinia on the Russian border and was expected to reach the German capital at 6 p.m. (noon, E.D.T.) for a rousingly heralded talks with Hitler and his aides.

Factories and schools were ordered to close early to give workers and children time to get in line along the route from the railway station to Bellevue Palace—the Fuehrer's guest house for state visitors.

Propaganda Minister Goebbels urged Berlin residents to "decorate your houses with flags and personally take part in this historic event."

The reception accorded this distinguished Japanese visitor in the Reich's capital, Goebbels declared, "will most effectively demonstrate the insoluble union of nations bound together by the three-power pact."

Li-Gen, Hiroshi Oshima, Japanese Ambassador to Berlin, said he had not "the slightest doubt that the foreign minister's visit will contribute much toward strengthening

Canadian Contribution To War Effort Defended By Prime Minister King

Tells House of Commons that People of Canada Are Contributing Forty-Four Per Cent of National Income Toward Meeting War Costs—$1,300,000,000 War Appropriations Bill Given Approval.

By C. R. BLACKBURN,
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Ottawa, March 26.—(AP)—Finance Minister Hsley has warned Canadians they will pay more than $1,000,000,000 in Dominion taxation—close to one-fifth of the national income "at the present time"—during the fiscal year beginning next Tuesday.

In the House of Commons last night, just before adoption of the $1,300,000,000 War Appropriation Bill, Mr. Hsley said a taxation system which took that share of the national income was virtually "conscription of wealth." The percentage conscription of human beings was "far less."

Dying hours of the long debate on the War Appropriation Bill brought efforts by the New Democracy and C.C.F. groups to advance their theories in raising money for war purposes.

M. J. Goldwell, acting House Leader for the C.C.F., made two efforts to put into the bill provisions whereby any part or all of the huge appropriation—the largest single money bill ever before the House of Commons—could be obtained by a compulsory, interest-free loan levied upon those able to subscribe.

The New Democracy group, first through its leader, John Blackmore, and later through Victor Quelch, Member for Acadia, offered sub-amendments which would empower the Government to have the Bank of Canada issue without interest, whatever amounts were necessary apart from that obtained through taxation and sale of War Savings Certificates.

The sub-amendments were in conflict with rules of the House and were out of order, as was Mr. Goldwell's first motion. But when the bill was up for third reading Mr. Goldwell moved a second amendment which stood the test of procedure rules.

This amendment, which left out the word "compulsory" but provided for interest-free loans to be "levied" on those able to subscribe, was subject of the first division of the House since the present session resumed February 17.

It was defeated by a vote of 167 to eight. Mrs. Doris Nielsen (Unity North Battleford) voted with seven C.C.F. members against the combined Government, Conservative and New Democracy groups.

On the main motion to give the bill third reading there was no demand for a division, although there were a few shouts of "nay."

Shortly before the bill passed Prime Minister Mackenzie King made a statement in which he replied to criticism that Canada's war effort was not all it should be—par-

Godbout Expected To State Government View On Seaway

Opposition Members Charge that Canalization and Power Proposals Will Increase Dependence of Quebec Province Upon United States—Government Supporters See Many Benefits for Industry in Province.

Quebec, March 26.—(AP)—A full outline of the part Quebec will play in the proposed development of navigation and power projects on the St. Lawrence River is expected to be given the Legislative Assembly today by Premier Godbout when debate on the waterways scheme is resumed.

The Premier is expected to speak after Dr. Albin Paquet (U.N.-Libelle) concludes an address here before the adjournment yesterday when the Lower House heard the opinions of two Government supporters and two members of the Opposition.

Dr. Paquet told the House that he believed if the projects are carried out at the present time they will be "premature, too costly and ruinous for Quebec Province."

"We should examine the question with Canadian glasses," Dr. Paquet said. "It is not in the light of Washington or Ottawa that we should consider the problem." President Roosevelt must be admired for what he is doing at present, the speaker said, but as far as the waterways are concerned it should be remembered "he wants to serve the interest of his own country."

"Let's be logical," Dr. Paquet said. "We have no money—yet we will canalize the St. Lawrence. We have unemployed in the Province—yet through canalization we will send all the work to Toronto." The Member said in expressing belief that most boats will not stop at Montreal if the projects are carried out.

Earlier the House heard Antonio Barrette (U.N.-Joliette) express the belief that the development may force amalgamation of the railways, thereby increasing unemployment.

Rene Chalout (Lib.-Lobiniere) said he did not believe that the development of the St. Lawrence would "Americanize" us more or to arm Quebec Province to throw itself into the arms of the United States.

Defence Expenditure Of United States Exceeds $40,000,000,000

Washington, March 26.—(AP)—Awaiting word that President Roosevelt had signed the $7,000,000,000 British aid appropriation at sea, the capital found today that the cost of enormous national defence programme had almost reached the $40,000,000,000 mark.

Actually, a tabulation showed, the authorized and proposed United States expenditures since June 1, 1940, have totalled $39,177,800,000, including the British aid appropriation. An additional $3,511,000,000 in orders have been placed here by Britain in that period.

The President's signature on the aid appropriation measure was generally expected to be a signal for a new intensification of effort to get those dollars transformed into "the necessary supplies as rapidly as possible, and to get those supplies delivered to Britain and American armed forces."

Some saw a hint of a stepped-up aid tempo when defence officials late yesterday ordered 200 tons of molybdenum—an ingredient in incendiary bombs—ready for Britain by April 1. This was the first lease-lend commitment whose character was offi-

Willkies Captivate Montrealers In Fleeting Visit To Metropolis

By GEORGE KITCHEN
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Montreal, March 26.—(AP)—Thousands of Montrealers compared notes today and agreed their fleet but impressive acquaintance with Wendell Willkie, No. 1 private citizen of the United States, was a big success.

They put that thought into cheers last night when thousands wedged into downtown Windsor Station to bid a thunderous farewell as Mr. and Mrs. Willkie concluded a brisk one-day visit in which they captivated the heart of this city.

The departure, aboard their private car on a New York-bound train, capped a busy day which saw the couple parade through thronged streets and later visit munitions plants. The programme was highlighted by an address by Mr. Willkie before a distinguished gathering in Montreal's Canadian Club.

It was a happy, carefree throng that stood on the Windsor Station concourse for more than an hour last night awaiting the Willkie departure. Eventually, their coming heralded by cheers from other cred on outside, the Willkies arrived, piped by a band of the Black Watch Royal Highland Regiment of Canada.

Dressed in evening clothes—they were returning from a private dinner party—the visiting couple inspected

BETHLEHEM STRIKE SPREAD

Bethlehem, Pa., March 26.—(AP)—A heavy detachment of Pennsylvania State police maintained order at the beleaguered Bethlehem Steel Company plant today after a day of strike violence and as the Congress of Industrial Organizations Steel Workers Organizing Committee threatened to spread the walkout to all Bethlehem Steel mills and shipyards in a "finish fight."

On the other side of the State, the S.W.O.C. called upon its members to quit work at 8 a.m. (E.D.T.) in the company's huge plant at Johnstown, Pa., if the Employees Representation Plan attempts to hold a scheduled election to select bargaining representatives—the same step that precipitated the strike here Monday.

A tentative truce meeting in an effort to settle the local dispute was scheduled among representatives of the C.I.O. Steel Union, the E.R.P. and W. L. Trumbauer, the Company's Industrial Relations Manager.

The threat of a walkout at Johnstown came as 125 State Troopers, some mounted on horses and swinging riot sticks, drove pickets and strike sympathizers from the nine gates of the five-mile long plant here and forced them to streets out of sight of the sprawling mills last night.

Scores were injured and a half

ITALIAN PRESS WOULD IGNORE CHANGED RUSSIAN STAND

Rome, March 26.—(AP)—A Fascist spokesman said today Soviet Russia's announcement that she would remain neutral should Turkey be forced to enter the war was regarded here as a platonic reaffirmation of Russia's desire to remain outside the conflict.

The Italian position toward the development was described as one of "extreme reserve."

URGES AUSTRALIANS GROW MORE TOBACCO

Canberra, March 26.—(AP)—Acting Prime Minister Arthur Fadden yesterday told the Australian House of Representatives that Australian-grown tobacco leaf could be absorbed in twice the quantity now produced.

The Australian-grown leaf is not rationed as are manufactured tobacco and cigarettes. Mr. Fadden said the stock of leaf tobacco in Australia at the end of last January totaled 38,000,000 pounds, of which 10,000,000 pounds were Australian-grown.

The total was said to be sufficient for 17 1/2 months' supply although certain popular grades would be exhausted before that time.

Hospital, Red Cross, the Walsk Home and the Catholic Old Folks Home.

Following the reports, Mrs. Brault read the state of new officers, which was accepted as follows: President, Mrs. William Dyson; First Vice-President, Mrs. Ezra Woodard; Second Vice-President, Mrs. Frank Haselton; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Leon Miller; Assistant Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Agnes Whitehouse.

VAILLANCOURT SENTENCED ON MORE CHARGES

Pleaded Guilty this Morning to Obstructing an Officer in Performance of His Duties.

Three more sentences were handed out to Robert Vaillancourt, of Lennoxville, by Judge J. H. Lemay in Magistrate's Court today, all of them arising from the seizure of a large still at Lawrenceville, Que., several months ago and the capture of Vaillancourt by Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

When he appeared last week, Vaillancourt pleaded guilty to charges of possession of a still and possession of alcohol at Lawrenceville, and this morning was sentenced to $500 and costs and six months, and in default of payment of the fine an additional six months, and in default of payment of the costs six more months, on each count.

Vaillancourt also pleaded guilty this morning to obstructing an officer in the performance of his duties, although last week he had entered a not guilty plea. On this charge he was sentenced to one month in prison.

Rosaire and Theodore Lefebvre, of Asbestos, pleaded not guilty to committing perjury last November in Court of King's Bench in their testimony during the trial of Onsimé Blodreau, of Asbestos, and Andre Blodreau, of Disraeli, for fabrication of evidence. They elected to undergo a speedy trial, and were remanded until April 2.

Guillemette, of Asbestos, appeared on an accusation of committing grievous assault on the person of Ant. Guillemette, of Sherbrooke, on March 23. They also elected to have a speedy trial, and will appear in Court again next Wednesday.

Can. Contribution

Particularly from those who might think Canada was not doing as much as the United States was being asked to do under terms of the Lend-Lease Bill for aid to Britain.

Mr. King gave a resume of what Canada had done in the form of a "can will offering," as a country which was spending "not only her resources, but her blood."

The action of the United States inspired the greatest feeling of gratitude in the hearts of Canadians, he said, but it was not fair for critics to say that Canada was not doing as much in the common struggle to save democracy.

"Never in the history of war have 11,000,000 people given so freely, and pledged so fully their treasure, their resources and their manhood," he said.

According to the best estimates which could be made now, Canada's direct and indirect war effort would require "almost forty-four per cent of our national income" in 1941-42. Recent investigations set the estimated gross national income for the coming year at $5,950,000,000.

If the United States were doing as much in terms of national income and population, her war expenditure in a single year would be $35,000,000,000 of the expected national income of $80,000,000,000. She would have 2,750,000 men in the active army, on the same comparative basis, since Canada has 250,000.

MINER KILLED IN MAGDALEN ISLANDS PIT

Company Officials Announce that Hope Has Been Abandoned for Man Trapped Four Days in Manganese Mine.

Grindstone, Magdalen Islands, March 26.—Operators of a manganese pit reported today Albin Pettipas was killed in a cave-in four days ago and said rescue workers expected to recover his body late today.

Until the announcement was made, the rescuers had been laboring frantically to clear away the debris in the hope that Pettipas was still alive. A skilled Draeger rescue crew was on its way from St. John's, N.S., to take charge of the operations.

Company officials, blaming the cave-in on a surface movement of approximately thirty yards of mine muck, said other members of the mining crew escaped without injuries when Pettipas was trapped. The movement crushed wooden timbers which had been supporting the 45-foot shaft.

In its brief announcement, the company did not indicate how it had learned Pettipas was killed.

In response to a wireless appeal for assistance from Grindstone, veteran Draegermen who assisted in rescuing two men from a similar cave-in in the Moose River, N.S., last night in 1936, left Stellarton last night. They were travelling by train and boat to Charlotteville, where a chartered airplane was waiting to bring them here.

Presumably, the trip was called off when it was learned Pettipas had been killed.

Pettipas was trapped in a shaft which had become partly filled during the winter. Clearing work had been begun and Pettipas was below when he was working on the timbering of a wooden platform on which he was working a day or two of the broken wood.

COTE'S APPEAL POSTPONED TO TERM IN APRIL

Court of King's Bench, Appeal Side, Montreal, Grants Counsel's Request for Postponement of Murder Hearing.

Scheduled to be opened yesterday in the Montreal Court of King's Bench, appeal side, the hearing of the appeal in behalf of Arthur Cote, sentenced to hang on May 9 for the murder of Jeffrey Mann, a Hamilton, Ont., farmer, was postponed to the term which will open on April 15.

Philippe Monette, K.C., of Montreal, who is acting as counsel for Cote, made the request, explaining to the Court that the record, over 600 pages in length, had not yet been completed, and Cesaire Gervais, K.C., of Sherbrooke, offered no objection to the postponement on behalf of the Crown.

Pointing out that the date for the execution is early in May, Mr. Monette suggested that the Cote appeal be put first on the list of the April term, but Chief Justice Sir Matthias Teller said that since the execution could always be postponed there was no necessity of making a ruling in the matter at present.

EDUCATION IS BIG FACTOR IN LEGION'S WORK

"Fighting Man's University" Boasts 23,263 Students Representing Navy, Army and Air Force Units.

The largest educational institution in the world—from a numerical standpoint, at least—is being operated by the Canadian Legion War Services for Canada's armed forces at home and overseas.

The Legion, which also supplies the troops with entertainment, sports, and personal services, originated the education plan at the outbreak of this war.

Success of the scheme has impressed British educationists and U. S. authorities, the latter believe might well be emulated for the fighting forces of their country.

These efforts have directly aided the national war effort. Through Legion facilities, scores of youths are entering the armed services...

The Legion also operates thirty-four recreation huts in Canada and four in the United Kingdom...

Overseas, the Legion operates a residential club for troops visiting London, and has two mobile canteens which are specially trained supervisors follow the men in route...

Six war service organizations which ordinarily appeal separately for funds have united in one nationwide drive for $5,500,000 under the name of "The Canadian War Services Fund."

Application Of Sliding Scale For Commercial Electricity Consumers Is Delayed Pending Further Study

Junior Chamber of Commerce Members Informed New By-law Will Not Be Enforced Immediately—Propose Issuing Monthly Bulletin for Junior and Senior Trade Organizations.

Pending further study, application of the by-law providing a sliding scale of electricity rates for commercial consumers, adopted at the regular sitting of the City Council, on March 17th, will be delayed.

According to the by-law as it now stands, the minimum bill and initial charge, including the first thirteen kilowatt hours, will be 84 cents per month.

He explained that a heavier charge for the consumption of electrical current in display windows offset the benefits which could be derived from a decreased rate for interior lighting, in view of the fact that the majority of merchants use more current in their windows than in the interior of their stores.

War Drive Contributions On First Day Amount To $1,600

Sherbrooke Campaign for $30,000 in Aid of Canadian War Services Fund in Full Stride—Women to Carry on Door-to-Door Canvass—Giant Thermometer at Main Intersection to Record Progress of Collections.

With almost 200 canvassers at work on cards distributed to them by officers of the Central Committee, and large numbers of women enlisted to make a house-to-house canvass, Sherbrooke's Canadian War Services Fund, Inc., campaign for $30,000 is well under way today and is gaining momentum for an irresistible sweep to reach and perhaps surpass the objective.

Approximately $1,600 was taken in yesterday as the drive was inaugurated, and it is expected that tonight's announcement by the Central Committee will see this total almost doubled.

DEATH REMOVES O. E. THIBAUT IN 69TH YEAR

Prominent Local Citizen, a Former Traveller and Retired Pharmacist, Widely Mourned.

A large number of friends and acquaintances are today mourning the death of a fellow-citizen who had been prominent in business and social circles for many years in the person of O. E. Thibault, who passed away in the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital yesterday afternoon at the age of sixty-eight years.

A man who had drawn to himself countless friends through his splendid qualities of mind and heart, his sterling character, kindness and generosity, Mr. Thibault's passing has deprived this community of one of its outstanding citizens.

A resident of Sherbrooke for the past thirty years, Mr. Thibault was born in St. Jean Baptiste de Rouville, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Octave Thibault, and on June 18, 1900, married Auxilia Fournier, of St. Andre D'Arpentuis, who predeceased him on March 22, 1939.

Mr. Thibault was for many years a traveller for the firm of Parke Davis and Co., before entering into business for himself in 1926 when he opened a drug store at the corner of King and Alexander Streets, a business which he operated until it was taken over by his son, Raymond, several years ago.

He had received his education at the St. Hyacinthe Seminary and the University of Montreal, and had graduated in pharmacy from the University of Chicago. He resided in Hancock, Mich., for a number of years before coming to Sherbrooke.

He is survived by five children, Leopold Thibault, of Montreal, Raymond Thibault, of Sherbrooke, Capt. Maurice Thibault, Medical Officer at the St. Hyacinthe Training Centre, (Rolande) Mrs. Lucien Viau, of Montreal and (Madeleine) Mrs. Th. C. Boly of Margot; three brothers O. A. Thibault, of Montreal, Achille Thibault, of Peppercell, Mass., and Octave Thibault, of Portland, Oregon; a sister-in-law, Mrs. Ernest Thibault, of Detroit; two daughters-in-law, Mrs. Raymond Thibault, of Sherbrooke, and Mrs. Maurice Thibault, of St. Hyacinthe; two sons-in-law, Lucien Viau, of Montreal, and Th. C. Boly, of Margot; and nine grandchildren, Louise, Jacques, Elaine and Suzanne Viau, of Montreal; Colette, Jean and Pierre Boly, of Margot, and Claire and Andre Thibault, of Sherbrooke.

The funeral will be held on Friday morning from the late residence, Brooks Street, to St. Michael's Cathedral.

Confidence Expressed Drive On Behalf Of War Services Will Surpass $30,000 Mark

Co-operation of Rotarians Pledged at Meeting Last Night—A. A. Munster and Hon. Jacob Nicol Voice Appeal on Behalf of War Services Campaign.

Rotarians in making the drive a success in Sherbrooke. He had no doubts that the campaign would exceed its objective in this city if each and every citizen played his part.

Pledging the support of his fellow Rotarians, President J. H. Wark said, "We know what we have to do and we are going out to do it and I am sure that with the co-operation of all who are working in this campaign and the residents of Sherbrooke, the drive will be a success." He mentioned that this war could not be won by armed forces alone, but by everyone, large or small, and especially the industrial leaders and the laborers, pulling together.

Seated at the head table with the President and guest speakers were Rotarians J. L. Foley, A. Laberge, Emilien Gingras, D. J. Salls, Dick Hawkins, H. V. Haight and Matthew Graham, and two guests, Clinton E. Soles and Pilot Officer Donald Foley. Other guests included N. F. Dinning, Sergeant P. Metvier, of the R. C. A. F., Montreal, R. J. Dunn, also of Montreal, and C. E. Parrot, of Sherbrooke. Birthday greetings were extended Rotarians Dick Hawkins and Matthew Graham.

MR. WILKIE STATES THE ISSUE

Much has been heard in recent weeks of the future of Wendell L. Wilkie, defeated candidate for Presidency of the United States, much has been heard as to the reasons for his all-out support of President Roosevelt in the latter's Aid-to-Britain drive. To some it is a shrewd political game, to others it is sincere interest in the welfare of the world. And although he has consistently refused to discuss his own political future and intentions concerning 1944, his address in Toronto on Monday evening contained a clear expression as to how he viewed the future of United States politics.

A common front was needed among political leaders at the present time, he declared, if these same political leaders were to have any future. He felt it incumbent upon himself to do everything in his power to aid President Roosevelt in the latter's drive to aid Great Britain and assure the preservation of democracy in order that he, Wilkie, might have the opportunity to criticize the same President or his successors in the future, an opportunity which would not be granted to him under dictatorships, for under dictatorships Opposition leaders have the habit of disappearing.

Isolationists also came in for a severe tongue-lashing from a man who is rapidly proving himself a master at the art of invective. In a warning to both Canada and the United States he declared that to talk of maintaining democracy on the North American continent if the rest of the world fell under totalitarian rule was foolish, as Axis domination would mean the reorganization of industry and commerce throughout the world on totalitarian lines. On this matter, he declared that "If Nazism conquer Britain it means the whole continent of Europe, of Africa, and, with the help of Japan, a substantial part of Asia will be ruined by Nazism."

"It means with their Fifth Column, they will begin to invade, at least with ideas, South America." It would mean that North America would become an armed camp. It would mean that most of its substance would be spent on defence forces and a totalitarian form of trading would have to be adopted to trade with the rest of the world.

The leaders of democracies had a heavy burden in these times. There was the burden of the leadership to save liberty, "and the least that one individual such as I can do is to uphold the hands of those leaders in this critical hour."

THE DODECANESE ISLANDS

One of the strategic positions in the Eastern Mediterranean, bombardment and blockade are expected by the British authorities to cost Italy her Dodecanese Islands, where Italian garrisons face serious shortages of food and war supplies.

Sportsmen throughout the district are still protesting at the heavy slaughter of deer, which it is feared will seriously affect legitimate hunting in the coming summer.

The following officers were elected at the annual meeting of the Mission Band of Chalmers' Presbyterian Church at Gould: Mrs. McQueen, Mrs. J. Cowan, Mrs. J. Morrison, Mrs. William Gibson and Miss V. Cowan.

One of the worst fires in the history of the United States occurred at New York when 150 persons lost their lives in the destruction of a factory building.

The Provincial Government has offered to pay virtually the entire cost of constructing two new wood and iron bridges in Spaulding and Ditchfield Townships.

The more important Islands of Rhodes, Leros and Scarpanto, from whose bomber and submarine bases Mussolini had expected to strike at Egypt and Greece, have been bombed heavily, and the Royal Navy gave Scarpanto one severe shelling.

Serious shortages of gasoline and war supplies on the Islands were given as one reason for the dwindling in the past few months of Italian air attacks upon the Middle East.

The British command has shown no disposition to rush a cleanup of the islands by landings, however, taking the position that blockade would starve out the Fascist forces.

They said morale of the garrisons had been lowered steadily, accentuated by Greek and British successes in Albania and Libya. Greek refugees from the islands were quoted as saying talk of revolt was spreading among the Greek population, which outnumbered Italians on the islands twelve to one.

The Dodecanese Islands belonged to Turkey until 1912 when, during the Tripolitanian War, Italian forces seized them in a single battle, aided by native islanders who hoped for autonomy.

Turkey formally ceded the Dodecanese, and thirteenth island, Castelrosso, to Italy in 1924.

THE BLOCKADE EXTENSION

The announcement by the German Government that the counter-blockade activities of the Reich will be extended to within three miles of Greenland brings the zone of intensive sea warfare to the threshold of the Western Hemisphere which the United States has committed itself to defend and the proximity of the new deadline is attracting considerable attention at Washington, due to the previous oft-repeated statements of the United States authorities that Greenland is considered part of the Western Hemisphere and, therefore, covered by the Monroe Doctrine.

Officials are silent, however, as the Berlin announcement is being studied and plans of action to meet the situation are under review. Two Coast Guard cutters, both of them armed, are believed now operating in the vicinity of Greenland as part of the neutrality patrol, and ever since Germany occupied Denmark the United States has been showing increasing interest in the two Danish Crown possessions, with principal interest being centered on Greenland.

The new German decree extending the blockade zone to include Iceland claims that Great Britain is using Iceland as a base against Nazi counter-blockade activities, since the country was occupied by British and Canadian troops last May.

Greenland contains valuable cryolite mines, said to be the world's only commercial source of the mineral used in refining aluminum, an essential to aircraft production.

The United States has close links with Greenland, being the colony's chief supply source for foodstuffs and medicines which were cut off by the German occupation of Denmark, while several months ago a consulate was opened in the country to look after United States interests.

Greenland and Iceland have also been mentioned as stepping stones across the North Atlantic for the possible delivery of light aircraft to Britain.

AXIS SHIPPING LOSSES HEAVY

Although the Germans and Italians are loud in their boasts of what they have done, are doing and will do in the sea war against Great Britain, giving supposed support for their claims by highly exaggerated statements, figures indicate that Britain is returning blow for blow in the Battle of the Atlantic.

While the British Admiralty announces the loss of 71,773 tons of British and allied shipping during the week ending March 16, as compared with 98,832 tons the previous week and 141,314 tons the week before that, the authorities declare that in the same period Britain's own naval and air raiders were sinking almost three tons of Axis shipping for every four tons Britain and her allies lost.

Compared with the announced total of 410,000 tons lost to allied and neutral shipping in the five weeks up to March 16, Axis losses in that period were 300,000 tons. This announcement gave no details of how many Axis ships had been sunk, but came at a time when Britain has been reporting increasing bombing successes along the Continental coast. Although German and Italian merchant fleets have been swept from the Atlantic, coastal trade is regarded as vital to the Axis war economy, as the British experts say that the Axis must have full use of Continental waterways supplementing rail routes to feed raw materials and arms to its industries and armies.

For this reason, much of Britain's bombing strength has been concentrated in raids upon shipping and rails centres despite growing popular demand for all-out bombing of Berlin.

FROM THE RECORD FILES OF THIRTY YEARS AGO

In a storm described as the worst in years, despite its late date, railway and highway traffic throughout the Eastern Townships was brought to a virtual standstill. The snow fall amounted to twenty to thirty inches while the thermometer sank to twenty degrees below zero or lower.

One of the hardy perennials of the Quebec Legislature, a measure calling for the abolition of the Upper House was introduced by Opposition members at the regular session of the Legislative Assembly. The Upper House still exists however.

Sportsmen throughout the district are still protesting at the heavy slaughter of deer, which it is feared will seriously affect legitimate hunting in the coming summer.

The following officers were elected at the annual meeting of the Mission Band of Chalmers' Presbyterian Church at Gould: Mrs. McQueen, Mrs. J. Cowan, Mrs. J. Morrison, Mrs. William Gibson and Miss V. Cowan.

MIDNIGHT IN HONOLULU

The black wall of Diamond Head Crosses the moving dark of the water. In the secret grove of palms, The air breathes the fragrance Of ginger blossoms. The hedge of night-blooming cereus Burns with white lights like lamps. #### WHEN WAR IS OVER, LIFE MUST GO ON.

Le Jour, of Montreal. Canadians who, twenty-five years ago, answered the call to the colors left a world where there was no large-scale unemployment. The economic set-up was not the same. Only a relatively small number of people were affected by panics and crises—mostly those who were on the exchange;—the scourge was not so big as to depress a whole nation for an indefinite period. Most of the men who went to war in 1914 had left jobs and once the war was ended they were eager to return to them. After four years of fighting it was like a holiday for them to doff their uniforms and get back into harness. Many soldiers who had no particular job to get back to went back to the land which was being offered by the Canadian Government out West. Wheat production had made a host of farmers rich during the war. It was believed that this source of income would be never-ending.

Today, the scene has changed. Thousands of men who up to now have gone into the Canadian army turned their backs on a world which for ten years or more has not given them the chance of earning their own living. Without their own wrong it can be said that a host of young men who entered the army in the summer of 1939 received from their first pay envelope. For the first time they have been well fed and sheltered and for the first time the States is taking an interest in their daily health and welfare.

But when the war is over, what then? When once again there is peace, can the Canadian nation say to all these "doxies"? "You have done a good job, my friends. Thanks very much! You can pack up and go home now!" The former unemployed man can say: "Go home? But where to? Go back to my work? What work? I never had any. Do colonization work in the Province of Quebec? That is not my field. Go and set up on the land in the West? The wheat farmers were starving out there before the war."

That is what we would be told by the "savory of civilization." And he would be right. The society grew up in since 1939 has not always been generous where he was concerned. Nevertheless, he shall have fought bravely to safeguard institutions that are better than those of the enemy. Much better! But he will have his own ideas about demobilization. When off duty, he needs buddies, what could be expected when peace came would have been discussed in words of one syllable, strong and to the point. It is with some emotion that I think of the men in the army who wrote to his father: "You were gudfather in 1918. I hope that we shall be less so this time."

NEW INSURANCE PLAN HAS A WEAKNESS

The Peterboro Examiner. From Queen's Park comes the limitation of possible legislation to take care of part of the trouble caused by automobile owners who do not carry insurance. It is proposed to levy $2 from every car owner who has no insurance and the money collected in this way will go into a fund out of which persons who receive personal injury as the result of the negligence of drivers who are not protected by insurance will be helped. These drivers in turn would be expected to repay to the fund on a time payment plan the amount paid out or else forfeit their right to drive.

The plan has merit but it does not go far enough. It does not touch at all the problem of property damage caused by financially irresponsible motorists. Any man who has enough money to pay for his markers and driver's permit can still trundle an ancient wreck out into the highway and ruin a good car and leave the owner of the damaged machine looking the best.

There are thousands of dilapidated cars running around Ontario highways, carrying no insurance and driven by persons who have no means to pay for any damage they may cause. Court judgments against such persons are not worth the paper they are written on because there are no assets from which to collect. A bad accident, of course, eliminates the delinquent because he cannot drive again until he has put up evidence of financial responsibility. But that is not much solace to the car-owner whose good machine has been ruined by the carelessness of some person who is utterly unable to pay for the damage he has caused.

RAIDS AFFECT BRITAIN'S MILK SUPPLY

The Woodstock Sentinel-Review. In consequence of the recent fall in production of milk, the British Ministry of Food has issued orders restricting sale of condensed milk, the manufacture of milk powder, and the distribution of whole milk. To the Milk Marketing Board has been entrusted the duty of equalizing supplies between one consuming area and another, and dairymen are asked to maintain full supplies to hospitals, mothers and children, and invalids, reducing the amount to non-priority customers.

The Minister points out that a temporary shortage is not unusual at this period of the year, but it would appear that the war has something to do with it this time. A trade journal, the Milk Industry, published in London, reports that a change against Charles James Barry, of offering for sale milk alleged to be 13 per cent deficient in butterfat, was dismissed when he successfully pleaded as defence that the dropping of bombs near his farm so affected his cows as to account for the deficiency.

Miss Elizabeth Bowen, dairy instructor, told the court that on the morning after another bombing raid she visited Mr. James' farm and found that only four of twenty-one cows from which she took samples gave the presumptive standard of butterfat content. At another farm, published in London, reports that a change against Charles James Barry, of offering for sale milk alleged to be 13 per cent deficient in butterfat, was dismissed when he successfully pleaded as defence that the dropping of bombs near his farm so affected his cows as to account for the deficiency.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By Wm. E. McKenney, America's Card Authority

DECLARER PUZZLES OVER STRONG SUITS; ONLY ONE WILL WIN

Today's hand reminds me of a situation that occurred in the early days of contract bridge. At a national tournament in Cleveland, there were a number of players in the contract event who had previously played nothing but auction. One young lady asked me, "Do you get more than one bid in contract?" "Certainly," was the reply.

"Thank you, I'll bid one heart and one spade." "And that is exactly what I would like to do on this hand, but though the heart suit is stronger we must bid the spades first."

West continues clubs and South ruffs. A trump lead knocks out one adverse honor, and another club forces South again. A second trump lead forces out the other adverse honor.

Although a fourth club lead can force South's last trump, North still has the jack of trumps with which to take out the last adverse trump.

Then the tricks in the red suit are ample for the contract.

If South bids hearts first, North may steer him into four hearts instead of four spades, since North's extra spade is not sufficient to offset a decided preference shown for hearts by South. At four hearts, the contract is set by the repeated club leads, despite the best possible breaks in all four suits.

Women's Clubs

BROMPTON ROAD W. I.
 The erection of a Community Hall by the Brompton Road Women's Institute in 1940, climaxed a long cherished ambition, which will ever stand as a perpetual memorial to the splendid co-operative spirit between the W. I. and the Community.

Among the many fine achievements during the past year revealed at the annual meeting held in the new Community Hall, this tangible evidence of W. I. activity certainly stands first.

Mrs. Lemuel Clark, later re-elected President, presided over the largely-attended session, during the course of which the manifold activities of each and every department were reported.

After the customary opening ceremonies, the singing of the W. I. Ode and the recital of the Mary Stewart Collect, Mrs. Clark feelingly referred to the passing away of Mrs. Fred Fange, a lifetime member, a minute's silence being observed by the members in tribute to her memory.

Routine monthly business was first disposed of, following which Mrs. John Rose, who had been assisted by Miss Ruby Winget, submitted the Auditor's report, the financial statement, which showed a very successful year, being presented by Mrs. W. F. Goodfellow.

Before vacating the chair for the election the President expressed her thanks and appreciation to the officers and members whose loyal support and co-operation had been largely responsible for the wonderful success achieved by the Brompton Road W. I. during the past year.

A pleasing interlude then occurred when Mrs. Clark presented gifts to two members, Mrs. H. McLeod and Mrs. W. F. Goodfellow, who had been present at every meeting.

Mrs. John Rose moved a vote of thanks to the retiring officers, following which Mrs. W. F. Goodfellow assumed the chair.

The results of the election followed: Mrs. L. Clark, President, Mrs. E. Hatch, First Vice-President, and Mrs. S. Clark, Second Vice-President, all three re-elected; Mrs. Milton Brown, Secretary and Publicity Convener; and Mrs. E. Goodfellow, Treasurer.

The following conveners were also appointed: Mrs. W. F. Goodfellow, Health and Welfare; Mrs. Gordon McElen, Home Economics; Mrs. E. Hatch, National and International Affairs; Mrs. C. Sawyer, Education; Mrs. John Rose, Agriculture; Miss Verna Hatch, assisted by Mrs. Stuart Billing, Mrs. W. Lavallee and Mrs. W. F. Goodfellow, Ways and Means; Miss Verna Hatch, Red Cross; Mrs. E. Hatch, assisted by Mrs. F. Winget and Mrs. H. McLeod, Sunshine Committee.

The programme for the ensuing year, as drawn up by Mrs. Milton Brown and Mrs. Stuart Billing, was presented by the former and approved.

Mrs. S. Clark and Mrs. W. F. Goodfellow were named Captains for the opposing teams in an attendance contest to be staged during the coming year.

The President and members of the Branch were pleased to welcome three new recruits, namely Mrs. W. Bonnallie, Miss Ruby Winget and Miss Annie Winget.

The departmental reports which included a detailed review of the past year's activities in each, were submitted by the conveners as follows:

Mrs. Gordon McElen's report on Home Economics, was read by Mrs. H. McLeod, owing to the convener's absence; Mrs. Ernest Hatch gave an interesting review on Canadianization and National Events; Mrs. Stuart Billing reported on Agriculture; Mrs. W. F. Goodfellow gave detailed account of Child Welfare and Public Health; Mrs. E. M. Goodfellow reported on Publicity, including a vote of thanks to the Sherbrooke Daily Record, clippings from which were handed in for the W. I. scrap book; Mrs. E. Winget, in her report on Immigration, stated that "boys" had been remembered at Christmas; Miss Verna Hatch gave a gratifying account of how money was raised by the Ways and Means Committee, and Mrs. Gordon Robinson gave an interesting review on Canadian Industries.

Further there was the report of Miss Verna Hatch, Red Cross Convener for the Brompton W. I., which has done such an amazing amount of work, that letters had been received from headquarters, thanking and congratulating the members for their splendid help.

It was announced that representatives from the Branch had attended all County sessions, had entertained the November Session when they were highly honored by the presence of Mrs. Alfred Watt, President of the Federated Countrywomen of the World.

The meeting closed with the singing of God Save the King.

Later a delicious baked bean supper was served, the table being attractively done with a Shamrock plant and lighted green candles, used in compliment to St. Patrick's Day which had been so widely celebrated earlier in the week.

ST. PETER'S W.A.
 During the regular monthly meeting of the Women's Auxiliary held in the Parish Hall yesterday afternoon, after the Litany service in St. Peter's Church, important changes in the old curriculum were introduced.

Mrs. P. M. Robins, President, was in the chair and the minutes as read by Mrs. L. A. Darcy, Secretary, and the current financial report as given by Mrs. T. V. Veer, Treasurer, were adopted.

Routine business included plans for a rummage sale with Mrs. Fred Jackson acting as convener, and the appointment of Mrs. R. J. Bell and Mrs. Guy Ingham as delegates to the annual meeting of the Quebec Diocese W.A. convening in Quebec on May 14 and 15.

Changes in the monthly house-to-house collection were discussed, and it was finally decided to adopt the envelope system, proposed by the President, which Mrs. F. E. Kerridge will convener.

Other changes included the appointment of an Educational Secretary, Miss Winnifred Wiggett being afterwards appointed to the new office.

The W.A. corporate communion hitherto held on St. Andrew's Day, will now be observed on the third Wednesday in every month.

Further, the W.A. of St. Peter's will now meet twice a month instead of the customary monthly sessions.

Prior to adjournment, Mrs. M. L. McFadden, President of the Evening Branch, announced that the Branch would sponsor a showing of lantern slides early in April.

 Unhappy Partner a Hint to Get Dance Diagrams

Other Girls Will Avoid Him!
 "Can I bear it?" she thinks, as he fox-trots all over her feet. And her unhappy look tells other smart girls to avoid him like the plague! If he'd only learn his steps really well, find out how to lead! Many a former stumbler has learned to practise—with diagrams showing him the steps for each dance.

The diagram with our picture, for example, illustrates the two-step you do in fox-trotting. Humming "Dinah," you get it right away: Counting 1 AND 2 (1) step forward diagonally on left foot, (AND) quickly close right foot up to left, (2) step forward on left foot. Now repeat, starting with right foot.

To lead properly—girls, are you listening, too?—remember that the man relaxes his right arm in stepping forward, then indicates any change of direction by a turn of his shoulders or a pressure of his hand.

Know a few points like these and your partners look proud instead of sorry to dance with you!

Our 32-page booklet explains technique of graceful dancing, gives clear diagrams and instructions for fox-trot, waltz, slow fox-trot, Conga, tango, rumba and shag. Basic steps, variations.

Send 15c in coins for your copy of Home Course in New Ballroom Dances to Daily Record, Home Service, Sherbrooke, Quebec. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and the name of booklet.

Country and Dairy Products Prices

Montreal, March 26.—Eggs developed a steadier undertone in fresh receipts in large lots, the range on top grades being about 1/2 cent firmer. Receipts were in fair volume and moved quite well. There were no changes in prices to retailers, however. The butter market was about steady but bids were shaded in some instances, Quebec 92 score being 34 3/4-35 cents in the open market and 34 1/2-35 cents on the commodity exchange. Poultry continued firm with supplies of fresh fowl somewhat difficult to obtain.

Members of the Montreal Provisional Trades Association met here to discuss the invitation of the Dairy Products Board to submit any views they may see fit with reference to the fixing of a minimum price for butter. No announcement was made following the meeting. The Dairy Board, it is understood, is obtaining opinions from the industry and the trade across the Dominion and it may be some time before this is gathered and acted upon. Whether a minimum price will ultimately be fixed will, of course, depend upon developments since circumstances may be such that no such action will be necessary.

SYL APPS RETURNS TO CARRY LEAF TORCH

Toronto Routs Bruins 7-2 To Snare Lead In Stanley Cup Playdown

Crowd of 13,825 Fans See Apps Fire Three Goals and Assist in Fourth as Maple Leafs Assume 2-1 Lead in Best-of-Seven Semi-Final—Bruins Hope Bill Cowley Will Get Back into Action in Time to Save Day.

Toronto, March 26.—(P)—Their aspirations temporarily blasted by a man just risen from the injury bench, the bruised Bruins today glanced along the same casualty row to gain encouragement from the hope that Bill Cowley may return to aid in their fight for the Stanley Cup.

The National Hockey League's scoring champion was on the sidelines with a damaged knee last night as Syl Apps stepped from hospital to lead Toronto Maple Leafs to a 7-2 triumph over the Bruins. The victory gave the Leafs a two-to-one edge in the best-of-seven semi-final Cup series.

On the sidelines for a month due to a knee injury, Apps led a blistering Toronto attack, scoring three goals and helping Nick Metz in another. The fact the Toronto captain's leg stood up under pressure, established the Leafs as favorites for the next game here Thursday.

A crowd of 13,825 fans saw the Leafs come from behind twice and set the stage for ponderous Bucko McDonald to fire the winning goal in the second period. Defenceman Des Smith of Boston was in the penalty box when McDonald's long shot glanced off Dit Clapper's leg into the Bruins' net.

In the Toronto dressing room Manager Conn Smythe predicted that the Leafs would win again Thursday and go on to take the

REDS' MANAGER CALLS REDS TO KEEP PENNANT

Tampa, Fla., March 26.—(P)—Deacon Bill McKechnie was cool and confident as he put his world champion Cincinnati Reds through their final workout here before breaking camp for the trip to Miami, Havana and the baseball wars.

"I'm picking the National League to finish just like it did last year," he predicted. "We'll be first, Brooklyn second and St. Louis third."

As it is rare for the Reds' pilot to come out so flat-footed for anything except the doctrine of clean living, he was asked quickly to give his reasons, before he could change his mind.

"It's simple," he said. "We've won the last two years and I think we're stronger than ever before. They're not to come after us, and we'll be hard to catch."

"Jim Gleason gives me a better punch in my outfield. Floyd Young and Bob Matlick give me the best all-around reserve strength for an infield that I've ever had. And the way Monte Pearson is pitching I wouldn't be surprised if he was a big winner for us."

"And, speaking of pitching, I think from what I've seen so far that this is the year Johnny Vander Meer will come back. He's close right now to his form of three years ago when he pitched two no-hitters. Still just a bit wild, but he's unshakable when he gets the ball across."

LAST EASTERN A.H.L. OUTFIT MEETS DEFEAT

Cleveland Tops Providence 6-5 to Win Series—Awaits Pittsburgh-Hershey Winner for Title Scrap.

Conquerors of Providence Reds, Cleveland Barons awaited today a winner of the Pittsburgh-Hornets-Hershey Bears series to start a final for the American Hockey League championship now narrowed to an all-Western Division affair.

The Barons, who finished on top of the Western section, eliminated the last Eastern team from the playoffs last night when they defeated Providence Reds, 6-5. The victory gave Cleveland the series by 3-1 in games over the Reds, who finished first in the Eastern Division.

Pittsburgh meanwhile took a one-game jump in their best-of-three semi-final with Hershey when they defeated the Bears, 4-1. No matter which wins out, the championship final will be an all-Western meeting as the Bears eliminated New Haven of the Eastern section and the Hornets defeated Springfield of the Western section.

Nick Knott, Pittsburgh rookie, put his mates out in front with the only goal of the first period and Red Currie made it 2-0 before Gordie Bruce got Hershey's lone tally in the second session. In the final frame, Pittsburgh added goals by Jack (Peanuts) O'Flaherty and Lorne Duguid to clinch the verdict.

At Cleveland meanwhile, a crowd of 10,712 watched the Barons outscore Providence in a bitterly-fought contest. The Barons went one goal behind in the initial frame but scored two unanswered tallies in the middle period and held their margin in the last.

Rowdy Finish As Red Wings Herd Rangers To Sidelines

Lynn Patrick Draws Match Penalty and Art Coulter Misconduct Banishment as Deciding Game of Best-of-Three Stanley Cup Playoff Series Ends—Red Wings Strike Early for 3-2 Triumph and Right to Oppose Chicago in Semi-Final.

Detroit, March 26.—(P)—The Stanley Cup, time-battered emblem of world hockey supremacy, will rest in a new city when the 1940-41 National Hockey League season comes to its close.

New York Rangers, although playing the brand of hockey with which they wound up the regular season in a blaze of glory, were no match for an inspired Detroit Red Wings team last night in the third and deciding game of their best-of-three preliminary cup playoff series.

Loser of the first game here last Thursday, 2-1, the Rangers went all-out—as they did in winning the second game of the series in New York Sunday 3-1—to try to overcome an early Detroit lead and force overtime play. They came close nine seconds before the end of the third period when Neil Gilvieve scored their second goal on a pass from Alf Pike.

Spectacular saves by Johnny Mowers, brilliant rookie goalie, kept the Rangers from pulling the game out of the fire. The game ended in a display of tempers during which Lynn Patrick, Ranger wingman, drew a match penalty and Ranger defenceman Art Coulter was given a misconduct penalty.

The Wings scored twice in the first period and made the outcome certain with another counter midway of the final period. Bill Jennings opened the scoring at 11:38 when he knocked a 20-foot rebound shot past Goalie Dave Kerr.

Kilby MacDonald deadlocked the count at 15:25 when his drive from a face-off at the Red Wing line struck Mowers' arm and bounded into the net. A "goof drive" by Jack Stewart with 12 seconds of the first period remaining sent the Wings into the lead to stay, however.

BISHOP'S CAGE SQUAD SPILLS BOMBERS 35-20

Lane and Richards Big Guns as Collegians Show Class in Post-Season Exhibition Encounter at Lennoxville.

Bishop's University cage squad defeated the Y.M.C.A. Bombers last night in Lennoxville by the score 35-20 in a post-schedule grudge match.

Last week when Bishop's tapered off their schedule with a narrow 42-41 victory over the Bombers, the Sherbrooke lads doubled the ability of the purple and white clad eagles to duplicate their win, so they challenged them to an exhibition match. This time the Bishop's team did not satisfy themselves with a one-point victory and went on to sink the Bombers by a 15-point margin.

Tubby Lane sniped twelve points to lead the Bishop's squad and also was high man for both teams. Ivor Richards was not far behind with eight points, four field goals, while Bob Carpenter came up from his guard position to account for another seven. Charlie McGilton, young Stanstead product, scored only four points but he played a steady game, setting up many of the scoring plays. For the Sherbrooke outfit Ronnie Welsh and Amby Wootton each scored six points.

In the first half Bishop's drew first blood when Richards scored and drew away 4-0 on another basket by Carpenter. Wootton sniped one for the Bombers and Murphy tied the game 4-4 on a long shot. Lane sank one from centre floor and Bishop's drew away once more. Play in the first half was rugged and many personal fouls were called. Rough play held the score down and when the half ended Bishop's led 12-6.

In the second half the play opened up and baskets were scored in more abundance. Bishop's added to their lead on scoring plays by Hay, Richards, and Lane but Welsh and Wootton found their range on long shots and at three-quarter time the score was 19-12 for Bishop's.

Bishop's really opened up in the last quarter and the Bombers folded under the pressure. Carpenter, McGilton and Richards denied the mesh fragments in the closing minutes and when the smoke had cleared the final score stood 35-20 in favor of Bishop's.

Referred by W. H. Wolter, of Sherbrooke, the game was clean and fast, and the fans were kept at a high pitch of excitement as the lead saw-sawed back and forth and the result was in doubt right up to the final whistle.

Pharo was another star for the Thetford lads, garnering 12 points, while the other five were scored by Oddy. For the Quebec quintette Wallace set the pace, collecting twelve points, while Leger had nine, Dempsey six, Fox five and Phillips two.

Black Hawks Seek New Worlds To Conquer As Habitants Bow

Weary Chicagoans Triumph 3-2 Over Canadiens and Hope to Retread Steps of Windy City's Destiny Team of 1938—Cully Dahlstrom Sends Hawks Against Red Wings with Winning Marker Early in Third Frame—Lo Presti Canucks' Nemesis.

Chicago, March 26.—(P)—Hopeful of retreading the steps of Chicago's destiny team of 1938, the Black Hawks looked to new worlds today in their Stanley Cup hunt while Montreal Canadiens, beaten by the odd goal in three games, headed wearily homeward to break up camp.

The outcome of the whole series was decided in the last period of the third game here last night. For two games and two periods the teams were even, but Cully Dahlstrom, Minneapolis-born centre, scored the eleventh goal of the series to give the Hawks the deciding, 3-2 victory.

The record of another Chicago team gave the Hawks confidence for their next best-of-three series against Detroit Red Wings, who meanwhile eliminated New York Rangers at Detroit. It was Bill Stewart's Black Hawks of 1937-38 who also finished fifth in season's points and battled their way to the Stanley Cup.

Unable to keep pace with the leaders in the regular National Hockey League schedule, Chicago shaped up as a strong "money team" by their tightened work against the Habitants, who threw all the fight their young strength possessed into the three-game playoff. In the end it was home-ice advantage, gained when the Hawks bested the Canadiens by one point to take fifth place, that really spelled the difference.

At one time it looked as if the Canadiens would do it. They spotted the Hawks a two-goal lead in the first two frames and then wiped both out late in the second frame in a brilliant drive that saw Joe Benoit, three-goal hero of the second game, and Winger Ray Gettiffe.

Good Old Easter Bonnet Is Coming Into Its Own

Millinery Designers Have Made Both Colorful — South American Types and Lavishly Decorated Bonnets in Best Easter Tradition — Are "Naturals" for First Navy Silks, Lingerie Blouses and Small Prints.

There's a pleasant promise that this spring's hats will be prettier than they have been in several years, and millinery designers obligingly have made both colorful, big-trimmed South American types and lavishly decorated bonnets in the best Easter parade tradition.

It is predicted that the Latin hats will be more popular when summer's white and bright colored dresses come in, although they will be smart with tailored light wool spring suits. The Easter bonnets are naturals for your first navy silks, lingerie blouses and small prints. Either style should be welcomed by husbands and beaux who dislike stork turbans, doll's hats, towering crowns and poke-in-the-eye quills.

The majority of one designer's collection is the Easter bonnet type of pastel straws, trimmed with colored veils, feature birds, pink roses, velvet bows and all sorts of feminine nonsense. Toya, baku and other fine straws are the materials and their colors are delicious—delft and Alice blues, ice-cream-pink, green-chartruse, and scarlet and white.

If at first these seem over-decorated, in comparison with plain dark winter hats, remember that they won't be worn with fur coats—they'll be for new pencil-suit suits and frocks, for upswept back hair and smooth pompadours.

Among the most elaborate of Easter bonnets is a postilion shape in dull green baku straw with a riot of natural colored cherries, strawberries and tiny bananas, made of feathers, piled at the front and a streamer-snood of bright green jersey.

More feminine and flatterly is an Alice blue baku with a full-blown pink silk rose posed against an up-standing bow of blue velvet, or an ice-cream-pink straw with a band of deeper pink roses and a thin black veil dotted in chenille. The startlingly all sizes, made of smooth feathers, decorate a number of the hats; even newer is a trim of small birds cut out of white pique, stiff as paper, that perch around the low crown of a shiny red straw sailor.

The South American hats aren't so extreme that they look like ship's party favors.

A modified sombrero of cream-colored paper-Panama has only a fat rope of scarlet yarn for trimming, banding the crown and looping through the brim to make a pump tassel to the shoulder.

A saucer-brim sailor of red toya straw has a band of cobalt blue yarn, embroidered in raffia flowers, around its edge, and a Spanish cap of red silk jersey inside holds it snug to the head.

Turbans of loosely woven striped cottons with bright tinsel threads—run between the stripes of red, yellow and blue aren't too Carmen Miranda-ish for everyday wear.

SMILE! SMILE! SMILE!

Brisbane, March 26.—(Q)—Quest is being made for Australia's best wartime smile, symbolic of a cherry outlook during a time of stress, the object being to raise patriotic funds.

"HOOP" SKIRTS IN DRESSES POPULAR

While slimmer skirt lines were noted, there's lots and lots of fashion news in the full flared skirts for spring. Some of them, sometimes called "hoop skirts," spring from basque bodices and are ultra-feminine. This "hoop skirt" effect is achieved by circular cordings all around the full skirts. Enchanting in taffeta, they are also seen in rayon crepe. Added charm is noted in their tiny frilled lingerie collars, their demure frilled three-quarter sleeves. Incidentally this basque, or longer fitted, waistline is very important for spring, and extremely figure-flattering. Skirt width is also achieved by means of pleats, although some skirts feature flat pleats that give a rhythmic hemline effect.

The new prints are so wonderfully different and smart, that even if you're not partial to prints, you'll want one of these.

WOMAN IN WHITE

It's not too early to think about clothes to wear when spring's warmth chases winter's chill off the landscapes. Here's a bright, all-white ensemble, worn by Toni Gilman, popular actress. The suit is of white flannel, the skirt having a red-and-white polka-dotted blouse. White pigskin bag, doeskin gloves and faille silk hat complete the ensemble.

SHIRT-COLLAR JACKETS GAIN GREAT PRAISE

Newest Shirts for Spring Designed for Free and Easy Walking — Feature Three or Four Patch Pockets.

The newest jackets for spring are the shirt-collar jackets. Styled like a man's, they have soft, high revers over which the collars of their favorite shirts and blouses fit gracefully. Some come with their own detachable white pigie or linen over-collars. Shirt-collar jackets are the choice of everyone from college girls to young matrons.

Of course there are many other jacket styles to choose from, including cardigan and revere jackets, double-breasted and link-button styles and jackets with Peter Pan collars.

The new jackets are longer this year (26 to 28 inches) and have smoother shoulders and more easily fitted waistlines. They feature three or four patch pockets, sometimes button-rimmed, or novelty shaped pockets. Wide variety of styles includes button-front styles, 2, 3 or 5-button jackets.

Pastel colors are headlined for spring with glen and rainbow plaids, checks and pin-stripes also featured. Shetlands, tweeds, wools, and renowear fabrics are widely used and covert is seen, too, though not as frequently as the others. Pastel especially with the younger set.

As for skirts, they are box-pleated, all-around, gored or flared. Some have high kick pleats. All are designed for free and easy walking. And they are of the same fabrics and colors as the jackets.

A pony in Theoford, Neb., suddenly went carnivorous and was seen eating chicken on four occasions.

New Fashions For Spring Are More Wearable Than "Wacky"

Stunning Clothes that Depend for Their Beauty on Good Lines, Good Fabrics and Flattering Colors Popular This Season — Designers All Out for Democracy in Dress.

The spring fashion collections are distinguished by their lack of wacky trimmings and gadgets, strange lines, unbecoming colors and other utter nonsense which might make for exciting headlines but never for a nation of well-dressed women.

And this in itself is substantial proof that nobody needs to worry any longer about whether designers can get along gracefully without inspiration from Paris.

The outstanding members of New York's couture are showing stunning clothes that depend for their beauty on good lines, good fabrics and flattering colors. They have stopped struggling so obviously to be original. There's real subtlety in their originality this spring.

As things stand now, it appears to be true that no woman of taste need look beyond these shores for a vast variety of clothes to suit that taste as well as her pocketbook and general mode of living.

The formal evening showing of spring fashions in New York, with its large and experienced staff of designers, was as gala and colorful as Paris openings used to be.

It applauded a pale pink camel's hair coat over a slim black chiffon gown with pale pink violets at the waistline. It cheered May baskets of black lace, studded with jet, and set into a white chiffon evening skirt.

"Elsie Dinsmore" shades — apple sauce green eiderdown pink, soft blue and mauve — brought applause for a group of hats, many of which are huge cartwheels to be worn far back on the head, just behind the pompadour.

Dress and full-length coat ensembles are interesting when the coat sleeves are shorter than those of the dresses and a puffed effect is created at wrists.

Featured are stiff silk coats for daytime, Oriental themes for both day and evening, slit dinner skirt, peg-top drapery and most important, great variety in silhouette, in color, in fabrics and general handling of each.

There's no regimentation here. Designers are all out for democracy in dress. They don't even hint that they would like to see all women adopt one new trend or one new way of wearing her clothes. They aren't trying to set trends. They are trying to give beautiful women beautiful clothes to wear.

(People who go around sniffing, "There ought to be a definite trend," or "Why haven't designers started at least one fad that all women will follow?" will please leave the room. Who in the world wants to be told what she must wear? The smart woman wants to be able to suit herself after looking over a variety of types of clothes).

There are both sloping shoulders and squared ones; skirts full and skirts slim; hard, bright colors and soft ones; severely tailored suits and soft, dressmaker types; bouffant evening dresses and slim, siren sheaths. In other words, the right clothes for any and all figures and individual preferences.

There's a fireman's red, full-length day coat over a striking paisley print dress with gloves to match the print, and a coat of magnetic blue wool over a cyclamen and blue printed silk dress.

STRESS WARMTH NOT WEIGHT IN NEW SWEATERS

New sweaters and jackets for active sport wear are appearing almost daily. Looking beyond the wide variety of types, colors, and shapes, these new garments seem to have one quality in common. And that is, warmth without weight, a character which is obtained by the use of spun rayon properly blended with wool and cotton.

One of the most interesting of the new sweaters is the "Mirapaca," of the brushed wool type, available in pullover and coat models, with button and zipper closures. Another is the "Furitan," which combines a zipper-closed worsted vest with woolly sleeves and neck band of a spun rayon blend.

types promise to gain wide popularity, for golf and country wear, since they are very obviously the husky, virile type of garment which active men can use in hard service. Yet they are highly attractive in appearance, in the soft browns, heathers, and blues which are featured. Many people are surprised by this year's crop of sweaters and jackets.

Absence Of Any Military Trend Noticeable In Men's Fashions

Perhaps the most outstanding feature of the men's fashion picture for Spring is the absence of any marked military trend, which during the last war became one of the dominant notes in men's dress, featuring tight-fitting coats, flared at the skirt, full-belted and adorned with fancy pockets.

The 1941 fashion picture, on the contrary, continues to be marked by the increasing popularity of sports and semi-sportswear, with the full and easy-fitting sports coat with bi-swinging pleats making for casual comfort. So far as the military dress is concerned, it has bordered from the civilian side this time, with the same type of coat being adopted as the official military tunic.

For the time being, however, indications are that Spring of 1941 will see a continuation of the trend to color and the growing popularity of rusty or peat brown. This color, which will be popular in both worsteds and tweeds, is expected to be one of the dominant Spring fashion notes. In worsted, the Windsor two-button double-breasted jacket has lapels rolled to the bottom of the two sets of buttons. The fabric is lined with simple chalk stripes, emphasizing the new color. In the tweed, blends of three varying shades of brown will be common. The single-breasted jacket of three buttons carries over the 1940 style accentuating height.

The brown shades offer a color theme fitting most of the chevots, tweeds and soft suit fabrics, allowing accessories of mixed greens and blues and continuing to do away with many of the restrictions formerly associated with business and semi-business dress. Another color which will be seen increasingly this Spring is "Air Blue." This trend is definitely attributed to the defence programme, which includes Air Force Blue as one of the color notes of military full dress, particularly in the air service, and is also a carry-over from the popular uniform shades of the British Air Force. Air Blue is expected to be the spearhead of the campaign for increasing color in men's dress during 1941. This color will be found in the worsteds for business wear and also in the tweeds and sports ensembles for sportswear.

New tropical worsteds this year will be featured by an unusual range of colors, including various shades of blue in stripes or over-squares, greens, many tones of tan, grays and beige. Designs are equally numerous, including miniature checks, herringbones, diagonals, cross-weaves, solid colors and both single and double stripes. The tropical saxony emphasize stripes with unusual color treatment.

An indication of the type of dress that will be popular on the beach and in the country this Spring and Summer is seen in the emphasis on color in both sports coats and slacks, as well as accessories, through the well-known Winter resorts. One of the predominant color notes is the sandy tan or beige in gabardines, home-spuns, shetlands and corduroys. Print sport shirts will continue to be popular worn with gabardine jackets and slacks in blues yellows and tans. The native prints in bathing shorts are also popular and evidently will be one of the dominant notes on the beaches this Summer.

Topcoats for the Spring will continue to be shorter than they were in 1938 and 1939, reaching approximately four inches below the knee. The popular types indicated are the covert cloth, fly front, in an olive tan shade, stitched around the bottom and at the cuffs; the rugged Harris tweeds, also stitched at the bottom and sleeves; the plaid tweeds in blues and browns with raglan sleeves, military collar and slash pockets; the shetlands with peak-lapels and fly front.

Some of the college favorites dominant on the campus today and a forerunner of the 1941 trend, include the single-breasted three-button sports jackets of big yarn materials such as shetlands and cashmeres. The khaki hat which came into popularity last year continues to be a campus "must."

A preview of high fashion on Easter Sunday will see the oxford gray cutaway coat with one button and peaked lapels and tails extending to the back of the knee. The light gray worsted waistcoat and gloves along with pronounced gray stripes on cheviot trousers, will furnish relief for the dark-toned coat. For less formal Easter wear, the oxford gray jacket will be substituted for the cutaway worn with striped gray trousers, a four-in-hand tie and black homburg hat.

NEW NECKLINES IMPORTANT IN SPRING SUITS

Smooth Shoulders and Plentiful Pockets Featured in Many New Suit Styles Created by Expert Designers.

Variety is the keynote of the Spring 1941 suit picture, and there is excitement in this variety in the wealth of fashionable details, lines and fabrics sponsored by famous designers. In these many new suit styles no one silhouette predominates, but all are characterized by a feminine softness specially designed to emphasize the natural contours of the figure.

Even tailored styles, characterized by precision fit, have an interesting softness of line, often interpreted in a feminized version of the English gentleman's drape, with soft bodice fullness, usually repeated in a slightly bloused back.

Necklines in this season's suits tell a story in themselves. The newest are shirt necklines, convertible types which form a pointed collar when buttoned high, and casual revers when worn open. Collarless necklines are also of major importance in suits, with high "V" necklines newer than the cardigan type. In suits of a dressy character, lingerie collars are often included, and when removed, gay scarves in costume colors or collars of blouses worn outside the collarless neckline make a dramatic color accent to which accessories may be keyed. Another neckline treatment which looms importantly in the new suits was inspired by Captain Molyneux. It is a cross between the collarless type and the popular small revers, as little notched revers are cut-in-one with set-in panels across shoulder tops, leaving the neckline collarless in back.

Shoulders on the new suits are smooth, interpreting the fashionable return to natural contours. There is a chic break-away from bulk in this new, gently sloping line which is far more feminine than the wedge top silhouette of the past ten years. Padding is still used, but is placed lower this season, giving some width at the natural shoulder line but no height.

Pockets are everywhere, real ones and fake. They are frequently of unusual shapes, accenting intricate seamings, and are used above or below the waistline, or both, and designed to lie flat. Military pockets like those on an officer's great coat are placed below the waistline on many new suits, and have flanged edges which give an intriguing new look. Flaps simulating pockets are another important trim on suit jackets this season; they are used in pairs or trios and are sometimes placed right at the natural waistline in miniature peplum effect. These decorative flaps are always strategically placed to emphasize the natural contours of the figure without the bulk frequently associated with real pockets.

ISLAND BROOK

The death occurred on Friday afternoon of Mrs. Samuel Woods, who passed away after several weeks' illness. Mrs. Woods celebrated her ninety-first birthday in January and was the oldest pioneer settler in the community. The funeral service was held on Monday afternoon at the Anglican Church, Rev. Mr. Godwin officiating.

Mrs. Lewis Seveigny and daughter, Edythe, of Bircator, visited the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Burns, on Sunday.

CONSERVATISM IN SPORTSWEAR FOR YOUNG MEN

Men's sportswear is taking another big forward step this year as indicated by lines now being shown in the better stores. The popularity of the slack-and-shirt ensemble and the coconut straw hat last year has encouraged men's wear designers to launch forth this season with an unprecedented selection of sports apparel.

Contrasted with the usual tendency noted in new designs, the designers have, in large measure, curb-ed their native desire to cast tradition to the winds. Rather, they have exercised considerable caution and the result is a pleasant combination of what might be called "colorful conservatism."

For example, the 1941 model slack-and-shirt ensembles emphasize comfort throughout. Colors are cheerful, yet softer and quieter than last year. Browns and tans are gaining the lion's share of attention, with blues and greens also well received.

COLOR SCHEMES ARE VARIED IN 1941 CLOTHES

Navy Expected to Lead Spring Fashion Parade—Darker Shades Predominate in Formalized Town Fashions.

Color will run rampant for Spring! Light, neutral shades, dark and bright shades are all in the picture—and you will find many to match or contrast with your Spring costume. The darker shades predominate in formalized town fashions, while the light, neutral and bright shades will find their way in town and country traveling wardrobes.

Navy is in for greater popularity than ever this year. Always a favorite, it will lead the spring parade. It will be shown in suits and coats and sheer dresses, dressed up with crisp, lingerie touches. While red is a natural complement with navy in trims, edging, lining and in bright red blouses. Navy sportswear is a new "dark horse" and with white braid and brass buttons on a slacks outfit or suit, navy has a real nautical flavor. Another blue that is in the spring fashion picture is Air Force blue, seen particularly in coats and suits, and reflects the military influence and a keen interest in aviation. Newest color group to leap into prominence this spring is green, definitely a color with a future! Highlighted in a wide variety of shades, greens were predominant in the Fashion Futures show held in New York. Greens from lime green, yellowed greens to dark forest greens... all have a natural spring flavor. Clear, lettuce "Vitamin" green is used for day and evening dresses, while bright Emerald green is the latest news for casual coats and sportswear.

Whenever you mention greens, you always think of that other bright color range reds—this spring still a favorite in coats, suits, print dresses and accessories! Clear, true reds that brighten up your navy or black costume. The "little boy" coat in red can be worn for dress or sports wear or with your navy suit wear a bright patent bag or red hat and with white gloves, you'll really be patriotic!

A real "natural" for spring are beiges, clear, natural beiges with no trace of gray or pink in them. Beiges are good in casual sports clothes and in coat and suit or in print dresses combined with black or bright reds and greens. Cocoa browns are high fashion for spring in coats and suits and are "dressed up" with white accessories in the form of hat or gloves. Deeper shades of brown, saddle and turf-tan, are shown in bags and shoes, dyed to match and go well with natural beige and plaid fashions.

Sharp contrast is the keynote of your accessory colors for spring—bright, gypsy-like colors, with South American way, vibrant yellows, spicy reds and sharp greens.

HEALTHY EVACUEES

Oswestry, Eng., March 23.—The Rural Council finds no evidence of increase of infectious disease resulting from influx of evacuees.

Here's the new "side-swipe" dinner sheath for spring and summer evenings. It's of maroon and white leaf print silk and is worn over a black sheath. This is a nice example of the slimmer silhouette in clothes for formal wear which was featured at the official spring fashion opening in New York.

Simple Lines Suggested For Small Wardrobe

It's sound procedure for the woman with an unlimited clothes budget to build her wardrobe around simple dresses and classic suits and coats. For the woman whose budget is extremely limited, it's the only sound procedure. Then she'll never cry: "I haven't got a thing to wear!"

Unless you can have several suits, it's a mistake to choose a highly styled little model of which you—not to mention your friends—will tire easily. If you can have only one coat, it had better be a coat that will go over every dress in your wardrobe.

Having only two pairs of day shoes presents no problem at all if both are plain, flattering pumps in black, brown or navy blue. However, having only two pairs of day shoes can present a real problem if one is rocker-soled and red, the other good with suits but not with dresses or vice versa.

Owning only one dinner dress may make you unhappy after the fifth wearing if the dress is an exotic print. But owning only one dinner dress is no cause at all for self-pity if the dress is a beautifully cut black, gray or white sheath with which any number of different types of jackets may be worn.

All of which is not to say that it's a good idea to wear clothes which won't be noticed. The secret of chic lines lies in choosing simple, well-cut dresses and suits and then in knowing how to doll them up with hats and accessories so that the finished ensembles will be distinguished.

It's much smarter to wear a simple shirtwaist dress with a crisp white pique collar, plain white gloves and an attention-getting, whimsical hat, than to wear a fussy dress, frilly gloves and a dull bonnet. It's always more chic to wear a tailored suit and a crazy hat than a tailored hat and a crazy suit.

BUTTONS WILL MARK EASTER STYLE PARADE

Never Have Buttons Been So Important, Attractive or Original in Design as in Milady's 1941 Creations.

Buttons will march in the Easter Parade this year. They will march down the front of military fashions in gold, eagle and anchor designs. They will march down the front of coat dresses, which the fashion authorities tell us are so style important this season. In gigantic round discs they will button up the smartest new hats. Some will be metal discs. Others will be pearl. Many of the tweeds will flaunt silver or gold button originals. Some will have the new silver and rose gold combinations. Not in many springs have buttons been so fashion important, and never have they been more attractive, or original in design. So if, perchance, your budget doesn't stretch to a new Easter outfit, give your last season's frock a 1941 look by a change to dramatic new buttons. For buttons change with the seasons. Metals which have been so popular this winter, promise to be ever more important this spring. But they will be quite different in character from our winter editions. Many are in lightweight versions so they won't pull the light-weight spring fabrics out of shape. Bright enamel applique in a score of different colors on gold and silver buttons make interesting accent possibilities for giving fashions a distinctive look. Another popular metal style is the silhouette metal button. So many of the new buttons in original designs are accompanied with pin clips, brooches, zipper pulls and other accessory items, which fashion-conscious women are using in effective ways to ensemble their hats, gloves or bag with their costumes.

RECTORY HILL
Rev. Mr. Walker was a recent dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leith. Mrs. Weston Graham and Miss M. Perkins were also dinner guests at the same home.

Mrs. Sydney Lockwood, of Richmond, spent a week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Patterson and helped in celebrating the eighty-seventh birthday of her mother, Mrs. George Fleming, who has spent the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Rufus Patterson, and Mr. Patterson. ## Rainbow Easter Promised In New Spring Fashions Exciting Use of Color Outstanding Feature—Designers Have Turned to Medieval Art for Inspiration—Beige Whipcord Popular — Dolman Sleeves Here to Stay.

Top-ranking fashion designers, who have been without inspiration from Paris for almost a year now, are giving a better-than-excellent account of themselves this spring. Most exciting of all, however, is the new use of color in this spring of 1941. Easter parades will put the rainbow to shame. Some designers like ultra violet, by itself, and as an accent for navy blue. Spring green—a lively character tone—is also a new color, and

COTTON GAINS FAVOR IN NEW WOMEN'S WEAR

New School of Dress Design Expected to Take Place as Undisputed Favorite in Formal and Afternoon Wear.

"Cotton lace can't be accented enough" . . . "this will be a big season for cotton embroideries" . . . "printed cotton pique play suits are making the headlines" . . . "the new cotton formals are divine."

Such is the steady stream of praise of the new cottons for 1941 which has been pouring from the presses in fashion magazines and columns since late winter. Cotton will take its place this year as the undisputed favorite of the new school of dress design.

Cotton becomes more than ever essential in the wardrobe of the well-dressed woman. For many years the favorite material for house dresses, cotton now becomes a "must" for office, for afternoon wear, and for dancing and dinner formals.

Seeking a suitable fabric for playtime in the California resorts, Hollywood designers long ago answered the demands of motion picture stars for clothing that was cool and comfortable as well as smart and dignified.

The cables buzzed with such comments as "brown cotton printed with pink roses is made into Balancing's outstanding evening dress," and "Piquin has two printed cottons that are among the best dresses going to America."

star-sapphire is headlined in evening and at home dresses.

Red-and-black is a featured spring color combination for city street, and ecru—a lush red—is a new necessary shade.

Beige whipcord makes a couple of smart suits for town. Plaids and checks are prominent. That perennial favorite, navy blue, is shown with white accessories and with red ones. Cool gray wools (the nicest ones are chalk-striped) are used to fashion suits with the ever-popular crisp look. Brown is evident, but not conspicuous.

Shoulders are gently rounded but seldom down-right sloping. Skirts are from sixteen to twenty inches from the floor. Seldom is there one as long as 15 inches from the floor.

The dolman sleeve apparently is here to stay. There's every indication that shoulder padding is definitely on its way out. Plunging necklines on tailored day blouses to wear with suits as well as on street prints and dinner dresses are big news this spring. The silhouette gets slimmer and slimmer. Tiered skirts look new. Peplums are in.

Hand-knitted suits are popular for the woman who divides her time between town and country. His hand-knitted navy suit with vertical ribbing has a gored skirt, bell sleeves, pushed above the elbow, and is shown with a matching pompadour turban and white shirt.

Evening gowns vary between slim, siren sheaths—often with a small amount of fullness placed entirely down one side—and bouffant creations with real glamour.

In the former category, a pale pink crepe gown, with frill of black lace down the left side from waistline to floor, is outstanding. In the latter, my favorite is a voluminous gown with long, black silk jersey bodice and a bouffant skirt of black shirred tulle on which there are bands of grosgrain ribbon.

This summer dinner dress of off-white pique with off-white bands of ric-rac has a sash of black pique, also ric-rac trimmed. The shoulders are square, but not exaggerated.

MORE NOVELTY IN MEN'S HATS IS NOTICEABLE

Blues and Greens Continue to Be Leading Colors—Brims this Spring Will Be Wider.

The general trend for spring in men's hats will be toward novelties, toned down to the tastes of the more conservative man. It is perfectly true that the average man wants to look smart, and a bit dashing to boot, but he doesn't want his new hat to attract attention. The latest hat news is that this man will have himself a fine time picking out his hats this spring. For, at the moment, the various felt hat style trends, which have been in a state of constant upheaval in recent years, have settled down into a nice comfortable stretch this spring.

There is no doubt that this trend is further manifested in the selection of colors due to go over in a big way during the coming season. For the most part, neutral shades and tones will reign supreme. Browns, in soft medium shades, will be the choice for most men, and within these same color limits, brown is fast regaining the important place it held a few years ago. Covert, a color so neutral that it has a little of everything in it—brown, grey and green—is steadily gaining. Related to this is khaki, similar to Covert, but with more of a yellow cast. This color has had a remarkable success, particularly when lightened up with bands of subdued bronze, blue or green. Blues and greens continue leading colors, both having a slight greyish cast. Grey, in its medium shades, is as good as ever.

According to past standards, the brims this spring will be wider, but not too much wider. 2 1/2 and 2 3/4 inches are the best brim widths for regular town hats, while sports types will look well with brims of 2 3/4 to 3 inches.

In crown shapes, the crease rounded at back and pinched at front is becoming increasingly popular, as is the crown that tapers inward from the top of the hat band line. The pre-shaped crown has also come of age and is now accepted as a sensible way of giving the wearer a regular hat creased and shaped better than he is able to do himself. Pre-shaped crowns now cover a wide range from the round telescope to the conservative spread crease, and even the regular centre crease.

VARIETY OF FABRICS IN NEW MEN'S SUITS

Fabrics have a new softness . . . tweeds, men's wear suitings and even gabardine weaves are supple this season, easily draped into the soft lines required by the mode. Two-fabric combinations interpreted in two colors are very new . . . such as navy or black gabardine or cavalry twill shirts combined with tweed jackets in vivid red, Kelly green, purple or royal blue . . . or in brown combined with the fashion important natural tones. Pastel plaids are definitely new. Shadow plaids, overplaids and glenurquharts. Shepherd checks are fashionable, chalk stripes too.

PLASTIC SHOES WILL FEATURE SUMMER MODELS

Flexible Comfort and Transparent Beauty Provided by New Models Designed to Carry Over to Summer.

"Vinylite" plastic, used so successfully in glamorous daytime and evening shoes for town wear since last summer, has now been employed extensively in shoes for winter and spring resort wear, in models destined to carry over to the coming summer. These plastic shoes provide flexible comfort and other practical features, as well as transparent beauty. Along with sun-tanned arms and shoulders, midriff and knees, those shapely and healthily tanned feet can show, too, through transparent plastic daytime and evening shoes.

The plastic used in popular shoes has heretofore been mostly in subdued colors, but new and brighter colors have been added to the plastic line for spring, and combinations with pastel kid, suede and fabrics give added chic and variety to shoes already renowned for their smartness and comfort. The material in bright colors, pastels, and a variety of new subtle tones to blend with every type of costume is being used by many of the leading shoe manufacturers in new designs for dress and spectator sports wear.

Tiered skirts and dolman sleeves are fashion news this spring. The red and black silk print shown here combines both of these style points. The tiers are box-pieced and the bodice has a criss-cross treatment.

White suede is combined with rose, blue or green plastic for stunning street shoes to accompany pastel or white frocks and hats. Some of the latter are trimmed with plastic, as applique or soutache trim, edging, bands and lacings. Several smart shoes using red, blue or saddle tan kid with clear plastic run a close second in smartness and beauty to the pastel suedes. Snake-skin, most elegant of the leathers for spring, is developed in several colors—red and blue in addition to the natural gray, and used as trim and on the heels of plastic shoes. Patent leather is also combined with the synthetic material for the first time, to make delicate-looking and smart shoes for spring town wear. A new and particularly attractive shoe color—teal, or pigeon blue—is introduced with insets or saddles of clear plastic. And black crepe or faille for the older woman is dressed with insets or trim of clear plastic, the former use supplying comfort and elasticity over the instep. The same model for Southern resort wear uses white suede with clear plastic insets.

Mrs. Murdo McInnes, who was visiting at the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Norman Matheson, has returned to her home in West Hill, Ont. She was accompanied by her niece, Miss Irene Matheson, who will remain for a time as her guest.

Miss Hazel Sims has returned to Windsor Mills, after spending a week-end at the home of her aunt, Mrs. S. J. Scott.

Miss Violet Tennant, Council Secretary of Girls' Work of the Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, was a guest-speaker of St. Paul's W.M.S. She gave interesting highlights of the various phases of her work with "teen" age girls, stressing the importance of this work, in character formation and the training for life work. She painted a graphic picture of the Missionary Conference at Madras, India, in 1938, which she felt it a great privilege to be able to attend. Over sixty-nine languages were spoken, by delegates to this Conference which, had it not been held at that particular time, could not have been held since, owing to the world turmoil. During her stay in town, Miss Tennant was a guest at the home of Mrs. A. D. MacIver.

The friends of Mrs. S. J. Scott and family extend sympathy in the loss of their husband and father, Mr. S. J. Scott, whose death occurred recently.
