Two Sherbrooke men were killed Tuesday about 9 p.m., in a head-on collision between a car and a truck on Route 22 five miles north of Coaticook.

Arthur Pelletier, 58, 825 St. Pierre Street, and Antonio Picard, 391 Seventh Avenue South, both of Sherbrooke and occupants of the car, died in the crash.

Herbert Gilchrist, Lennoxville and Lorne Butler also of Lennoxville, occupants of the truck, were not seriously injured. Mr. Gilchrist was treated at Ste. Catherine Laboure de Coaticook Hospital in Coaticook and was later removed to Sherbrooke Hospital. Authorities there said that he had received facial lacerations and was suffering from nervous shock but that his condition is good.

Mr. Butler was not admitted to hospital.

First to arrive on the scene of the accident was a Royal Canadian Mounted Police patrol. They called ambulances and alerted provincial police.

No explanation of the cause has been given yet, and a date for the coroner's inquest has not been set.

One of the victims, Arthur Pelletier, was married and the father of seven children. His companion, Antonio Picard, was unmarried.

Wade, who does not live in the district, spent a night at the home of one of his constituents. "I slept for an hour between 11 p.m. and 7:30 a.m., that would be on the top side," he said Tuesday, declaring he's going to do something about the situation.

Pirate, patriot? argument rages

LONDON (Reuters) — Politicians and law experts today pondered the conflicting labels tied to Henrique Galvao and his 70 men since they seized control of the Portuguese luxury liner Santa Maria Sunday in the Caribbean.

Galvao has been variously termed pirate, patriot, multi-ner, democrat, outlaw and idealist. Galvao himself is reported to have said his aim was "to free all of Portugal." An argument in the British Parliament Tuesday between Laborites and the government centred on whether seizure of the Santa Maria was political rebellion or an act of piracy, or both.

PORTUGAL'S VIEWPOINT
The Portuguese government on Antonio Salazar said "the men who seized the Santa Maria are not politicians or ideologists. They are just outlaws."

But exiled Salazar opponent Humberto Delgado maintained in telegrams to the United States and British ambassadors in Brazil that Galvao's action "does not represent mutiny or piracy, but the appropriation of a Portuguese transport by Portuguese for Portuguese political ends."

Delgado's plea was supported in London by a spokesman for a group of Portuguese democrats in Britain who declared: "Galvao is not a pirate" but a politician making "the latest protest against a fascist regime in Portugal."

Britain's civil lord of the admiralty, Charles Orr-Ewing, told Parliament Portugal asked Britain and the U.S. to help arrest the ship and said the pur-

PARADISE, Mich. (AP)—It was colder than Hell in this Upper Peninsula community near Detroit, on Tuesday.

Paradise had an estimated low of 20 degrees below zero.

Residents of Hell, a southeastern Lower Peninsula community near Detroit, on the other hand, basked in a comparatively moderate 5 degrees above zero.

Bulletin

LISBON (AP) — The Portuguese navy said today the liner Santa Maria has been located in the Atlantic 550 miles east of the Windward Islands. This is the group of islands including St. Lucia, where the seized liner put in Monday.

The Portuguese frigate Pedro Escobar has put to sea, said Rear Admiral Quintanilha de Mendonca Dias, the navy minister. A general order to stand by was circulated by the navy to all naval commands in the East African colony of Angola, the Azores, the Cape Verde Islands and Mozambique.

Rear Admiral Sarmiento Rodrigues said the liner "will be sighted within a few hours." This indicated that the ship had been located through radio checks.

The owners of the Santa Maria, the Companhia Colonial de Navegacao, said the ship has sufficient fuel for at least 11 days.

By HORST BUCHHOLZ
SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — U.S. Navy planes today flew through murky skies to investigate a mystery ship in the Atlantic officials believe might be the captive liner Santa Maria.

A navy spokesman at the San Juan headquarters directing the search for the Portuguese liner hijacked by opponents of dictator Antonio de Oliveira Salazar said a radio fix had been obtained on a ship 500 miles southeast of Bermuda that "might be the Santa Maria."

Search planes hurried to the position—12 degrees 18 minutes north latitude, 52 degrees 12 minutes west longitude—but the navy spokesman, Cmdr. Charles Rainey, cautioned: "It may be one of several misleading leads we have had all during the search."

KEEP RADIO CONTACT
(RCA reported its radio station at Chatham, Mass., had been in communication with the Santa Maria since about 4:45 a.m. today and "traffic is moving both ways normally with nothing to indicate anything amiss on the ship." A spokesman said the liner's operator was "co-operative — accepting and receiving calls as if we were dealing with the Queen Mary or any other liner." The

The 108 delegates of the non-ops' general conference committee, as expected, also ratified the 15-man negotiating committee's decision to call a nation-wide strike May 16, the day after the government's emergency laws expire.

"I am 100-per-cent satisfied," Mr. Hall said after the meeting.

Mr. Hall had been chief negotiator for the unions of 110,000 non-operating railway employees—those who do not actually run the trains—since 1947. His position that the unions should "fight like hell, but obey the law" had drawn criticism from unnamed union sources.

The strike, to enforce wage recommendations of a federal conciliation board, was originally set for Dec. 3, but was banned by the federal government's intervention. The emergency legislation expires May 15.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker Tuesday appealed to unions and management to resume negotiations before the emergency laws expire. Neither side would comment on the request.

Livestock market
MONTREAL (CP) — Morning offerings on the Montreal livestock markets amounted to 58 cattle, 30 calves, 76 hogs and seven sheep and lambs.

Tuesday's offerings totalled 351 cattle, 313 calves, 315 hogs and eight sheep and lambs.

Budget debate

Liberals under attack

By JACK BEST
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — The Liberals, who have been merrily logging the government on everything from unemployment to census questions, suddenly found themselves under concerted counter-attack Tuesday in the Commons.

Works Minister Walker described the national Liberal rally held here two weeks ago as a "shameless vote-catching exhibition." Associate Defence Minister Sevigny said the opposition party was using unemployment to create distrust of the government and inject fear into the Canadian people.

The charges flew as the Commons budget debate ground through its fifth day. It will conclude Thursday.

The budget debate, traditionally a wide-ranging review of the state of the nation, has been used by the Liberals as a forum for heavy attacks on the government's record, particularly in the field of unemployment and economics.

Lionel Chevrier (L—Montreal Laurier) put on the parliamentary record statistics which he said demolished Prime Minister Diefenbaker's recent statement that there are relatively more unemployed in the United States than in Canada.

Mr. Hall, who was criticized for his views that the unions should obey the federal government's emergency laws, was unanimously re-affirmed as leader of the union's negotiating committee.

GLASGOW (AP)—Scotland has a problem that many persons would find a pleasure in solving—it's making more whisky than people are drinking.

Stocks have mounted to 300,000,000 gallons—60 gallons for every man, woman and child in Scotland.

"I don't see how the world will be able to consume all the whisky now maturing unless the rate of consumption goes up fast," said a spokesman for one leading distiller.

Explore new thinking in external affairs

By JAMES NELSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—New lines of thinking in international affairs are being explored by external affairs department experts with the blessing of the government, informed sources said today.

They said the tip-off to three phases of the new impetus given the department was to be found in Prime Minister Diefenbaker's speech in Toronto Tuesday night to the Canada-Israel friendship awards dinner, at which he was honored.

In his speech, he:

1. Replied to Liberal party urgings that Canada limit her participation in North American defence, and boosted Canada's role in such international bodies as the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

2. Moved a step forward in declaring that "the time for decision may not be too far re-

Hospital wing urged

Immediate construction of a 65-75 bed addition at the Sherbrooke Hospital has been urged by a firm of Toronto hospital consultants, H. E. Grundy, Q. C., President of the Sherbrooke Hospital Corporation revealed in his annual report Tuesday night.

The addition would consist of two nursing units, one of 40 beds for active medical and surgical cases, the second of 25-35 beds for convalescent and chronically-ill patients. A survey was made by the consultants which comprised (1) analysis of present facilities in all departments and the adequacy of each (2) a general study of the community, with special reference to other hospitals in the area and to local welfare and long stay provisions (3) the formulation of a "master" plan and long range program.

Recommendations made include only patient accommodation and related facilities, but also the anticipated needs for chronic care and resident and teaching requirements.

Mr. Grundy noted that the presentation of his annual report marks the virtual end "of an era." With the passage of Bill No. 2 through the Quebec Legislative Assembly on the fifteenth of last month, hospital care in this province took up an almost entirely new position with respect to public fiscal relations.

"Our type of institution - the public, active, general hospital - whose main source of income was originally derived from voluntary donations, and then, later, from patient income, has again shifted. From now on, our chief financial support will be obtained through government subsidy," he said.

Commenting on the effects of the Bill, he said that since it actually came into force little more than three weeks ago, it is impossible to know what its eventual outcome will be.

"One thing is certain however, it is going to do a great deal towards easing the financial burden imposed upon the individual as a result of the direct cost of hospital care. "It is undoubtedly one of the most important and far-reaching pieces of welfare legislation ever enacted in this province."

He appealed for the continued support of the Governors and many other friends noting that the Hospital's capital debt, the interest to be paid on this indebtedness and the cost of any building program—extensions, and so on—structural alterations to the present buildings represent substantial sums of money for any hospital.

Mr. Grundy announced the names of new Governors of the Hospital elected since the previous annual meeting. They are as follows: G. M. Armstrong, Hubert Armstrong, Leigh W. Bladen, J. B. Bowman, K. L. Halpenny, Norrey Hunting, Grant E. Mitchell, W. K. Molson, N. E. Peveer, Peter Pollock, H. H. Savage, Herbert A. Simons, Gordon R. Stewart.

To resume hunt in Nepal

NEW DELHI (Reuters)—Tigers still were the talking-point today as the Queen and Prince Philip attended a giant garden party for Commonwealth citizens.

Plans for another tiger shoot were announced as the Queen and her husband returned to New Delhi by special train after a tiger-hunting expedition in the jungles of northeastern Rajasthan.

Officials said newly-completed arrangements for the royal party's visit to Nepal next month call for a tiger shoot from the backs of elephants.

The duke shot a tiger Tuesday from atop a 25-foot-high tree platform near the hunting lodge of the Maharajah of Jaipur. He and the Queen read about it in newspapers rushed to them by special jeep at a point 45 miles from New Delhi during a special train stop.

Meanwhile, Amrit Lal Jindal, 35-year-old leader of an Indian non-violence sect, said he will continue his fast against the tiger shoot.

The Queen and Philip will arrive at Katmandu, capital of the Himalayan kingdom, Feb. 23 for a three-day visit. They will be the guests of King Mahendra, who seized power and imprisoned his country's leading politicians on his return from a recent visit to Britain.

It's really cold but no record
Sherbrooke and district awoke this morning to penetrating 12 below-zero weather. And although it was not the coldest day this month, biting winds made the early morning air seem much colder. It was 30 below on Jan. 22.

According to the Lennoxville Experimental Farm the coldest reading during the night was 12 degrees below zero and the reading at 8 o'clock this morning was unchanged. However, unofficially, some Sherbrooke residents reported back yard temperature readings of 23 degrees below zero.

One inch of snow fell in the early part of the morning between two o'clock and five.

Tiger shoot Tabloid blasts Royalty

LONDON (AP) — Prince Philip's prowess as a tiger hunter during Queen Elizabeth's Indian tour draws a front-page blast against the Royal Family today from The Daily Mirror.

"The Royal Family do not seem to have caught up with modern enlightened views on the killing of animals for pleasure," the tabloid says.

The Prince shot his tiger Tuesday in the Rajashan jungle near Jaipur at a shoot organized by the Maharajah of Jaipur. The prince's personal treasurer shot a tigress the day before.

The newspaper, devoting its entire front page to the blast, says there was all the difference in the world between hunting down a man-eating tiger and Philip's shoot. It complains that live goats and bullocks as well as carcasses were staked out as bait and 200 beaters were paid 60 cents a day "to go through the jungle yelling and banging tins to drive a tiger into Prince Philip's gun-sights."

Bishop's to get Israeli students

TORONTO (CP) — study at Bishop's University

John Bassett, publisher of The Telegram, Tuesday night announced the newspaper's awards of six scholarships for Israeli students to attend two Canadian universities.

The six students—four men and two women—will study at Bishop's University in Lennoxville, Que., and the University of New Brunswick at Fredericton.

Three will live in residence at each institution. The Bishop's University awards have been named the Lord Beaverbrook Fellowships, Mr. Bassett said.

He made the announcement at the annual Canada-Israel awards dinner, which was addressed by Mr. Diefenbaker.

lowships, while the other three scholarships will be known as the Diefenbaker Fellowships, Mr. Bassett said.

Mr. Diefenbaker's speech gave the external affairs department instructions to think of strengthening Canada's participation in international commitments, rather than reducing them.

He argued this thesis on three grounds: That the Western powers must remain firm in their determination of nations wanting an effective disarmament agreement, and particito the newly-emerging nations of the world; that any threat to peace in the North Atlantic community is a threat to Canada; and that Canada can have more influence in world affairs by working through international organizations than it could have by withdrawing into an isolationist shell.

Two requirements were cited in continuing efforts to secure international agreement on arms reduction: Confidence in the determination of nations wanting an effective disarmament agreement, and partici-

About Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—As a conscientious student of television plots, it is my conviction that almost anybody can be a TV writer. All you need is the Lowry kit of key lines, a practical attitude about plagiarism and a typewriter.

The method which I have developed is simple and really foolproof. All the ambitious television script writer need do is build a 30-minute plot around one of the following lines, one of which appears in most successful programs:

"You've got to help me, Mr. Private Eye. I'm not asking for myself, but for my son. His mother left me when she found out what I was, and she brought up the boy herself. The boy the fourth actress to be No. 1, the others having been Shirley Temple, Marie Dressler and Betty Grable. I said it was simple: We're all the same type."

Yes, but how does she manage to swim against the current trend, which is toward films of lust and lechery?

SHE'S SEXY
"I think my pictures are sexy," she commented. "Pillow Talk was all about sex. But there's a difference between good, clean fun and dwelling on sordid things. I don't think a girl has to wear a low-cut dress or play a prostitute to be sexy on the screen."

"I wonder if there is such a trend. Do people really want to see such things, or do the producers just think they do? I know that I feel embarrassed when I saw sex on the screen. I wonder if other people aren't, too."

thinks his father died a hero's death in the war. But now the gang I doublecrossed is out to strike at me through him."

"It's all over for me, sheriff. You'll find the gold hidden under the loose floor boards in the assayer's office."

DIDN'T MEAN IT
"But, Serafina dear, I didn't mean to buy the cigar store Indian. I was just watching this auction and scratched my ear. Then the man said I made the highest bid."

"What it means, Harry, is that I want a divorce. We haven't had a real marriage for 15 years. Your career may have been enough for you, but money and power isn't enough for me."

"Hand me an extra tank! Frank's air is exhausted and he's trapped 40 feet down in an underwater cave, and there are sharks around."

"1006. 1006. Code 3. Blue convertible, licence plate 7C674, proceeding west on 80th Street. Put out an APB for white man, 6-4, 196 pounds, scar on face, blue suit. Caution, he is armed. Over."

"Sure, I may be the fastest gun in the West, but, pardner, I learned a long time ago that killin' never solved nothin'."

Form committee to help clear Vosburgh

Three men are convinced of his innocence

By NICK POWELL
 (Record Staff Reporter)

COWANSVILLE — Three Montreal men, a lawyer, an insurance broker, and a private investigator, have formed a committee to help clear Abel Vosburgh of a charge of murdering his wife and their 11 children.

The three, lawyer John Gottlieb, Q. C., John Boyle, insurance broker, and investigator Robert Browne, met Tuesday to form a technical advisory committee.

Mr. Gottlieb's function will be as counsel for Vosburgh at his preliminary hearing Feb. 3.

Mr. Browne will investigate the background and details of the fire in which Vosburgh's wife and 11 of his 15 children died December 29, credibility of witnesses and similar details, and Mr. Boyle will check on the technical data involved in the hazards involved before the fire broke out.

First and foremost said Mr. Gottlieb, in an interview, the crown has to prove a 'prima facie' case—proper grounds on which the charge of murder was laid—and if the presiding magistrate cannot find such a case, said Mr. Gottlieb, "he must liberate Vosburgh and dismiss the prosecution."

In that case, he said "there is no need to continue the charge of venue appeal."

The appeal for a change of venue will be heard on Monday, Feb. 6.

Commenting Tuesday on the case, Mr. Gottlieb said: "Vosburgh will stay in jail in Sweetsburg until the hearing. At that time only the prosecution witnesses will be heard. However, during the inquiry, I will have the right to cross-examine them. Then I will have to be guided by the technical committee—Mr. Boyle and Mr. Browne."

"They (the committee)," said Mr. Gottlieb, "will furnish me with information and technical data on fire hazards and other conditions connected with the oil space heater, plus other hazards inherent in the poor construction of the Vosburgh home."

The lawyer went on to talk about the members of the committee. All are purely voluntary and unpaid and all say that they feel "an injustice has been done."

A fourth man will be assisting, said Mr. Gottlieb, Jean Louis Lamontagne, a public relations man from Montreal, also interested in seeing justice done. His experience lies in work on death claims for insurance companies, plus some experience in medico-legal aspects, said Mr. Gottlieb.

Mr. Boyle pointed out another side of the case which he says concerns him a great deal.

"That shack," he said, "wasn't fit for animals."

His aim is to try to prove the need for legislation to prevent another similar occurrence.

"There is too great an onus on the coroner in a case like this," said Mr. Boyle. A full inquest should become mandatory, he feels. The coroner had opened and closed the case and the bodies were buried the next day. "That was not right. There should have been an inquest opened," he commented.

"Mr. Gottlieb," said Mr. Boyle, "has already spent quite a lot on this case and before it's over it will cost more. But it is all coming out of his own pocket."

Already a small fund has been collected to help defray legal expenses for the case and anyone interested in supporting the committee, in their work has been asked to send their donations to the Toronto-Dominion bank branch in the Dominion Square building in Montreal, corner of Peel and St. Catherine streets.

"We want," said John Boyle, "to see less responsibility placed on the coroner in such cases of violent death, proper welfare legislation to prevent this sort of thing happening again, and, above all, justice."

Assault charge still pending

QPP officer Ernest Breton is reinstated as force member

Officer Ernest Breton, of the Sherbrooke detachment of the Quebec Provincial Police, who had been suspended from the force pending the results of several criminal charges laid against him, was reinstated Monday evening by Lieutenant Arthur Barre, of Montreal.

Breton told The Record, that he received a phone call late Monday evening from Barre asking him to report Tuesday noon at the QPP offices.

He was then told that he was reinstated and that his salary would be retroactive to the date of his suspension which occurred on October 19.

He resumed his job during the afternoon and was seen patrolling once again, in uniform, in a QPP police car.

A Sherbrooke judge will render judgment on Friday on the assault charge laid against him by Guy Marier. Usually, an officer is not reinstated before he has been completely exonerated by the court of any criminal charge laid against him.

Last week, Judge Joseph Marier remanded the assault case against Breton to January 27, in Court of Sessions. At that date, both parties, Paul-Emile Brazeau, representing Guy Marier, the complainant, and Edmond Barnard, representing Breton, will present their final argument.

The charge was laid against Breton following an altercation which took place between him and Guy Marier in the QPP offices on October 17. All in all, eight charges had been laid by both parties.

Guy Marier was found not guilty two weeks ago of a charge of assault against Breton. The assault charge against Breton proceeded Tuesday morning.

The other cases were remanded last week to Thursday, pro forma.

Richmond woman is sentenced to two years

By PIERRE SAUVE
 (Special to the Record)

Former 24-year old Richmond Caisse Populaire employee, Denise St. Cyr, was given a two-year penitentiary term in Court of Queen's Bench, Sherbrooke, Tuesday morning, following her guilty plea on one of the 128 counts of fraud which had been laid against her.

She later pleaded guilty to the remainder in District Court, and a concurrent sentence was imposed on all charges.

The accused, who arrived several minutes before the hearings, was accompanied by her parents. She remained calm when Mr. Justice William Mitchell imposed the two-year sentence following defence counsel Richard Crepeau's request, which was agreed to by Crown Attorney Benoit Turmel.

Counsel Crepeau asked the accused, and produced a medical certificate alleging that Miss St. Cyr required medical care.

He asked for the two-year sentence, maintaining that the Court to be lenient with the accused would be assured of medical care in Montreal, "medical care which she can't receive in the local prison."

Counsel Crepeau further alleged that Miss St. Cyr didn't keep a single cent of these amount she took from the cash box, and "even though a minute inquest was held, the names of the other persons who received the money are not pre-posed to be known. For reasons which are unexplainable, no other charges have been laid."

Counsel Crepeau further added that Miss St. Cyr didn't have a criminal record, that she had been at the Caisse Populaire for three and a half years, that she was an excellent girl from an excellent family and that she was not solely responsible for the crimes perpetrated.

Crown Attorney Benoit Turmel agreed with defence coun-

BEDFORD — (Staff) — Dr. J. H. Boileau, Bedford District coroner, said Tuesday that Keith and Gail Adams, aged 22 and 17 respectively of Lachine, who drowned when their car plunged off a Noyan bridge into the Richelieu river Saturday night, died accidentally.

Dr. Boileau said that he conducted an investigation himself Sunday night before turning the case over to Provincial Police for further investigation. Tuesday morning, said the doctor, police said their investigations showed the tragedy was an accident.

The next case set to proceed during the present term of the Criminal Assizes will take place on Friday, when Clement Harvey charged with receiving stolen goods, will appear before Judge Mitchell.

Primary textiles are described

MAGOG — The Canadian primary textile industry was described to members of Club Les Franes of Magog, and members of the Magog Retail and Service Association Monday evening by Francois E. Cleyn, President of the Canadian Woolen and Knit Manufacturers' Association.

"There are 720 textile mills in this country," the speaker said, adding that these plants employ some 74,000. The greatest number of these mills are located in Ontario and Quebec. Mr. Cleyn said.

The secondary textile industry purchases fabrics produced by the primary textiles, and process them into garments.

BEEBE — Plans are being made to hold a card party on Feb. 3 in the Beebe Elementary School, sponsored by the Home and School Association.

Canasta, 500, bridge and cribbage will be played and prizes awarded. Refreshments will be served.

List government measures to aid textile industry

Since the election of the Progressive Conservative party as the majority party in 1957, a great deal has been done in an attempt to settle the problems of the textile industry, Maurice Allard, Progressive Conservative MP for Sherbrooke, has told the local Chamber of Commerce.

He noted that the Chamber had sent a list of suggestions for remedies to Prime Minister John Diefenbaker in November and had at the same time, asked for Mr. Allard's position on the problem.

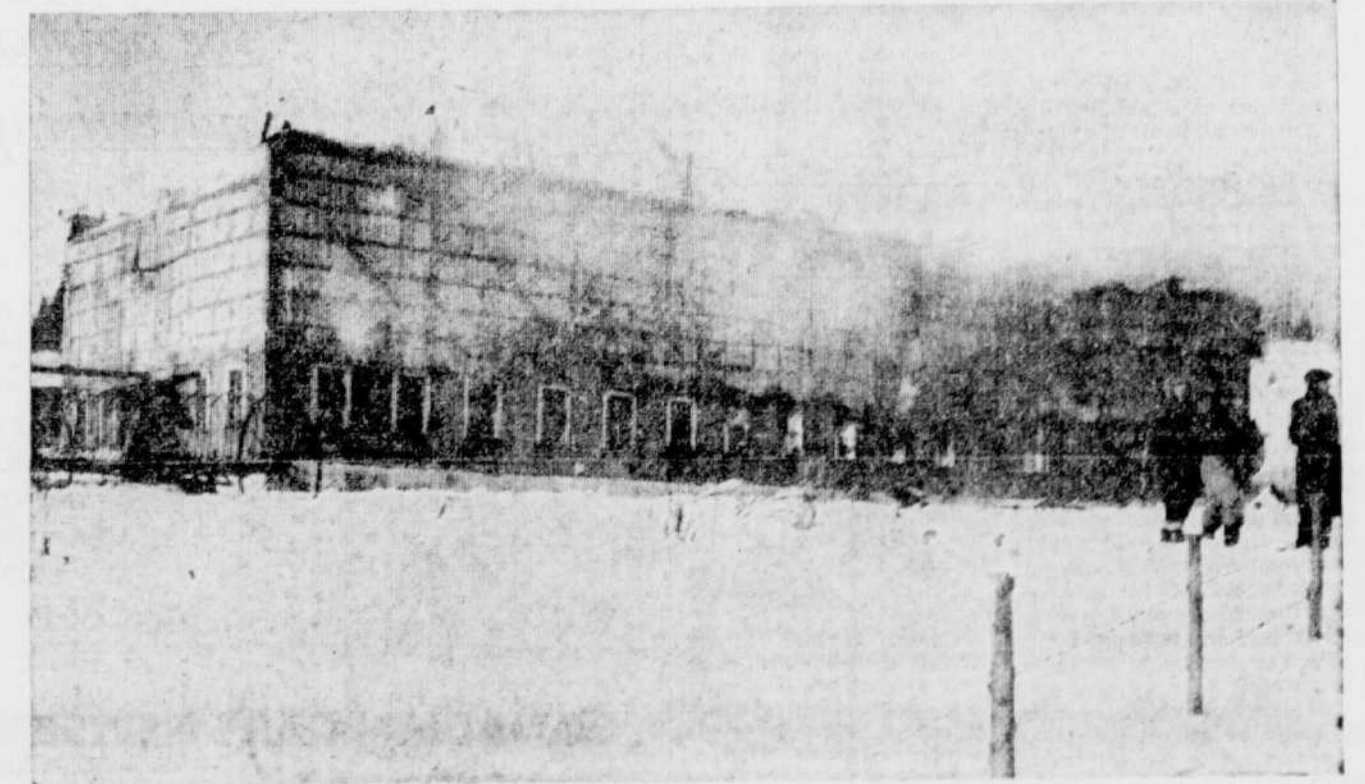

In reply he cited efforts made by the government in this field: (1) In 1957, a request for an inquiry and recommendations to the tariff board concerning tariff duties on textile products; (2) In 1958, the present government raised the British preferential tariff on Woolens and carded wool under tariff item 554b; (3) In 1959, the government raised the most favored nation tariff in order to restore the British preferential margin; (4) In 1958, the government considerably amended the definition of the word "dumping" in the act; (5) Additional assessors were appointed and instructions were given to request more detailed invoices, accompanied by samples; (6) Certain measures were taken with regard to particular groups of commodities on receipt of recommendations from the tariff board; (7) Negotiations were started in Geneva during the 1959 GATT session, with regard to a number of textile products; (8) Official authorization was obtained to pursue negotiations with regard to consolidated textile items under Instructions No. 125 of the tariff board; (9) At the government's request, in August 1959, temporary suspension of imports of Japanese textiles; (10) Following the budget speech of the Minister of Finance on March 31, 1960 allowing the four budgetary resolutions, a tariff increase of about 15 per cent was imposed on many foreign textile products (11) On May 5, we received Japanese quotas for 1960; (12) In 1960, the Minister of Finance asked the American government to cut down subsidies on textile product exports to Canada.

Sherbrooke Rotarians set up a new club at Drummondville

The Sherbrooke Rotary Club extension committee told fellow Rotarians at their weekly meeting Tuesday night that the committee had been successful in establishing a Rotary Club in Drummondville.

The chairman of the club extension committee, East President Bob Webster told Rotarians that there are 22 chartered members now belonging to the Rotary Club in Drummondville although the Club would not receive its charter for some weeks to come.

Rotarian Ferdinand Stegmaier gave a classification talk on Stickettiveness. Although the title is a bit deceiving, Mr. Stegmaier talked on the Art of Fly Catchers. He is the owner of the Aeraxon Fly Catcher of Canada Ltd., in Sherbrooke.

"My fellow Rotarians have listened to many classification talks, but this is probably the stickiest one they have heard yet," the speaker said with a chuckle as he continued to tell Rotarians of the history behind the fly catcher business.

"Before the turn of the century people used mushrooms covered with milk and sugar to catch flies, later they used poison, and sticky squares. Mr. Stegmaier said, "And it wasn't until 75 years ago that a pastry maker in Germany came up with the idea to use sticky paper and glue. During his lifetime he became the biggest manufacturer of flypaper in the world with 14 factories in Europe and one in Canada."

Although the speaker did not have time to go into details describing the manufacture of flycatchers he mentioned that in 1929 it took 54 operations to make the catchers by hand while today one female employee with the help of equipment can produce between 24,000 and 25,000 flycatchers in one day.

A new Rotary member was introduced to the Sherbrooke Rotarians Tuesday night. Guy Levesque, son of the late Emile Levesque was introduced to the Club by Dick Dickson. Guy Levesque was a member of the Rock Island Rotary Club before joining here.

The Sherbrooke Rotarians observed the Rotary Magazine Week which marks the 50th anniversary of their official magazine. The Rotary Magazine has 385,000 readers in 130 countries and the Revista Rotaria, the Spanish language edition has 45,000.

Sutton Church group elects joint presidents

SUTTON — Election of officers and presentation of committee reports were important features of the annual meeting of the Women's Association of the United Church held on Jan. 18, at the home of Mrs. James Flanagan, Mountain Street.

The slate of elected officers is as follows: Joint presidents: Mrs. Cedric Douglas and Mrs. Ethel Macey; first vice-president, Mrs. Gertrude Dyer; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. James Flanagan; treasurer, Mrs. Douglas Mudgett; secretary, Mrs. Bernice Russell.

The financial reports showed a successful year with a bank balance now of $230.15. Important fund-raising events had included a St. Patrick's supper, chicken-pie supper, turkey supper for teachers, Presbytery dinner, Valentine food sale, other food sales, and catering for wedding receptions and on other occasions. The required allocation had been sent to Missions, and all other obligations had been fully met.

Three groups had presented the new communion plates to the church in loving memory of Clifford McKell.

Ten meetings had been held during the year, with an average attendance of 18. Twenty-three Valentine cheer boxes had been sent out, also cards and gifts to shut-ins and sick persons. Flowers had been given to those at Easter and other times, and calls had been made on them.

It was decided to hold a food sale at the time of the Junior W.A.'s Valentine Tea. The W.A. also has agreed to cater for the Brome County Teachers' Association at a meeting to be held on Jan. 26 at the High School.

A sum of money was voted for the Flower Fund.

Special events had been the showing of films of a motor trip to the Yukon, B.C. California and return home through U.S.A., by Mrs. C. A. Adams and her sister, Anna Hawke, of Cowansville, and a film taken by Miss Monahan, while visiting a friend who was a foreign missionary.

After the meeting, Mrs. Flanagan and co-hostess, Mrs. Douglas Mudgett, served refreshments.

Three Richmond youths report on Boys Parliament

RICHMOND — Quebec Older Boys Parliament was the theme of the Sunday evening service at Richmond and Melbourn United Church, on Jan. 15.

Three Richmond boys, who attended the Parliament held in Montreal during the Christmas holidays, took part in the service and gave a report on the interesting work being carried on by Boys Parliament.

Robert Healy explained parliamentary procedure, which is patterned after the procedure of the House of Commons in Ottawa. Douglas Kerr reported on the kind of legislation which was considered by the Parliament, including a Bill to promote the sponsoring of refugee families.

Terry Rodgers reported on the recreation which the boys enjoyed at Lower Canada College, where the Parliament met, and told of the financial needs of the Boys Parliament, if it is to carry on this work among the older boys of the province.

The Woman's Association made it possible for the boys to attend by paying their registration.

FITCH BAY —

A Friday night dance was held in the Canon Gustin Hall, but the severe cold probably accounted for the poor attendance.

At the Saturday night card party, nine tables were played, with some onlookers. Prizes were won by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keefe, and consolations went to Mrs. Sisco and Alan Bacheider.

Annual Parish meeting

Waterville United Church notes progress in all departments

WATERVILLE — The United Church held its annual parish meeting on Jan. 17, when progress in all departments of the church was reported.

Two new elders, A. S. Blier and Gerald Knutson were added to the session, making a total of six. The others are J. H. Woodside, R. L. Gale, Elton Parkinson, Eric Swanson.

Miss Edith Swanson, Olaf Knutson and Eric Swanson with S. A. Hopper and Earl Fidler, Jr., already elected, make up the Board of five trustees.

The meeting was under the chairmanship of Rev. A. G. MacLeod, pastor. R. L. Gale was elected secretary for 1961.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Then followed the reports, those dealing with religious education being submitted first. The Cradle Roll report by Mrs. E. N. Fidler, Jr., indicated 23 in the Baby Band, in which 11 were new. Mrs. MacLeod reported for the Mission Band indicated a membership of 22 with Mrs. Earl Gunn taking Mrs. E. Fidler's place as associate leader during the course of the year.

The report of the Sunday School by Wilfred Crowley, superintendent, proved a feature. With 87 enrolled, a record membership had been achieved with attendance averaging well over 75 percent.

Among the highlights of the year had been a Church family picnic at Bulwer on July 9 and the Christmas concert and party on Dec. 21.

While donations had been generous, expenses had been heavy, with a small deficit resulting. Plans are under way to erase this.

For the Sunshine Group, Mrs. MacLeod reported for Mrs. Hal Robinson. A full year had been enjoyed, with 250 cards mailed and 125 calls made.

FINANCIAL REPORTS

Under the head of Financial, the Woman's Affiliation report was read by Mrs. George Hopper for Mrs. Elton Parkinson, secretary, who could not attend. Membership was high and average attendance excellent. This had been the second year with the W.A. and W.M.S. as a united group and had been highly satisfactory.

The treasurer, Mrs. H. S. Ball, reported that the W.A. had raised nearly $2500 during the year from various projects, with the W.M.S. raising an additional $231.23.

Mr. MacLeod, reporting for the trustees, indicated alterations and improvements in the church property. A hard-surfaced parking lot had been constructed, the church provided with new front doors, a copper wayside pulpit provided, new equipment added and changes made. Private donors who wish-to remain anonymous were responsible for much of these.

Lloyd Spafford, treasurer of the board of stewards, reported an excellent year with receipts from normal sources of over $5,500 and a balance of $472.64 on hand. Obligations incurred for capital expense had been reduced to $750.

Frank Blier, treasurer, submitted the report for the M and M, showing $1,076.82 had been raised and remitted to Toronto during the year, a record amount.

The annual canvass, as reported by Earl Fidler, took place late the preceding fall and was very successful, the average annual subscription being $36.99 for local purposes and $18.14 for Missionary and Maintenance.

The report of the session, submitted by Mr. MacLeod, indicated that the church had 204 members with 290 persons under pastoral oversight. Fifteen persons on profession of faith and one by certificate, had joined the church during the year. There had been eight baptisms, five marriages and five burials.

NEW BUSINESS

Under the head of New Business the stewards were first dealt with. Meredith Barter had been elected chairman of that board, succeeding Stanley Reed, under whose direction a remarkable year had been achieved. Elected as new members of the board for a three-year term had been James Wolf, John George and Ed. Ball, while automatically retiring after three years were Frank Davison, George Emery and Clayton Bernard.

It was unanimously decided that Mrs. Ben. Smith be re-elected press secretary and that every church family would continue to receive the United Church Observer during 1961.

Eric Swanson called attention to the fact that the 100th anniversary of the founding of the church would be observed in June of 1962, and it was decided that each organization be asked to elect two members to make up a committee which would be in charge of necessary preparations.

It was also unanimously decided that the pastor's salary be revised upward, this to apply retro-actively. The treasurer was authorized to forward a contribution to the Lord's Day Alliance of Canada.

VOTES OF THANKS

Votes of thanks to the Ladies for their successful efforts and to the chairmen, members of committees and workers in the church were adopted. Special mention was made of the excellent contributions to the progress of the church, made by Mrs. Eleanor Burton, organist, and George Emery, janitor.

As senior elder present, R. L. Gale proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the MacLeod family. Not only had they given impetus and sparked the wonderful showing but they had taken on their full share of community endeavour as well. Mr. MacLeod replied appropriately.

Mrs. T. Surtees entertains Baptist Mission Circle

SUTTON — The Baptist Mission Circle was entertained for its monthly meeting on Jan. 19 at the home of Mrs. Thomas Surtees, Pleasant Street. Results of use for mission work of drama, newspapers, T.V., radio and mission boats were analyzed by Mrs. Naaman O'Brien, Mrs. Walter Lawton, Mrs. A. P. Rumsby and Miss E. M. England.

In the absence of Mrs. Andrew Moffat through illness, Mr. Moffat, pastor of the church, gave a report of an address given by Miss Downes, returned missionary from India, at the Sherbrooke Baptist Church on Jan. 17. Mr. Moffat, accompanied by Mrs. Moffat, Mr. and Mrs. W. Lawton and Mrs. T. Surtees, had motored to attend that Sherbrooke meeting, and he had prepared a digest of Miss Downes' report, which was informatively instructive to the Mission Circle.

Mrs. Fred Knights, president, presided. Besides the devotional period, business meeting was held before the program.

Refreshments were served.

GORDON LONSDALE

LONDON (AP) — Evidence will be heard Feb. 7 against five persons accused of stealing British naval research secrets for an unnamed foreign power. Magistrate K. I. P. Barraclough said the hearing, to last about three days, will determine whether the three men and two women held in jail since Jan. 7 should be sent to trial. The accused are Ethel E. Gee, 46, and Harry F. Houghton, Civilian employees of the Royal Navy research station at Portland; Peter Kroger, 50, a book-seller; his wife Helen, 47; and Gordon A. Lonsdale, 37, who said he was a company director.

The Krogers and Lonsdale had Canadian passports. But the RCMP said last week Mr. and Mrs. Kroger were not Canadian citizens and that Lonsdale's nationality was still under investigation.

St. Paul's W.A. at Marbleton re-elects officers

MARBLETON — The 61st annual meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Paul's Church was held at the parsonage on Jan. 17, with a good attendance.

The meeting was opened by the rector, Rev. George Robins. The financial statement showed that all obligations had been met, and the thank-offering secretary reported a considerable increase over previous years.

Reports were also given by the Living Message secretary, prayer partner, and Little Helpers.

The Dorcas work has continued steadily throughout the year, besides the usual requisition for the Garden School Quilts were made and bales sent to Quebec, and from there to Missions at Labrador, and on the Magdalen Islands. Thirty church calendars were sold.

The president thanked Mr. and Mrs. Robins, all officers and members and the many kind friends, for their loyal support and work, which had made such a successful year.

Before taking the chair for the election of officers, Mr. Robins expressed thanks for the splendid work, which had been done, and spoke of the great need of missionary work through out Canada and elsewhere.

 Frank Ney, manager of Nanaimo Realty Company, says the firm pays $25 for the first 10 pounds of excess weight lost and $2.50 for each additional pound worked off.
 "It makes for greater efficiency all round," he says. "Our sales have gone up 15 per cent since my staff began reducing and the over-all efficiency of the office has increased by at least 20 per cent."
 Mr. Ney says one of his top salesmen dropped 60 pounds in 60 days and also doubled his sales.
 He paid out more than $325 to his staff during the last year. And he's not losing money. "I have recovered what I paid out through increased efficiency."

FORMING THE CUP — Marc Beaudoin, North Hatley silversmith, fashions a chalice using an anvil and a raising hammer. Mr. Beaudoin never uses machinery in his work and as result each chalice takes at least 10 days to complete. (Record Photo by Doug Gerrish)

Silver chalice maker true craftsman Uses no machines in his work; each article a unique creation

By ALISON SCHOENFELD
(Record Staff Reporter)

NORTH HATLEY — A craftsman rather than an artist is the way Marc Beaudoin, North Hatley silversmith, describes himself. Mr. Beaudoin spent three years in Montreal as an apprentice and came to North Hatley two years ago and set up shop.

A true craftsman never uses a machine in his work, Mr. Beaudoin emphasized.

He makes mostly chalices for religious orders in this vicinity and in Ottawa. His output for a year would at the most be 25 chalices.

Each chalice is unique because even if the same design is used Mr. Beaudoin can never duplicate his work exactly. To make a chalice he starts off with a round plate of sterling silver which he forms into a cup which is then polished and gold plated on the inside to comply with church regulations.

The base has a simpler design so it will not detract from the beauty of the cup.

The nut and screw which hold the two parts together are also hand-made. The whole process takes at least 10 days.

Although there are several silversmiths in the province of Quebec, Beaudoin is the only one who specializes in chalice-making.

He gives classes twice a week in enameling which is part of his craft. He often enameles either the base of the knot of the chalice. If he does not use this final process all the work goes into the making of a chalice, not including the gold plating, can be done with an anvil and a raising hammer.

Although Beaudoin is fascinated with his work. He finds plenty of time to spend with his wife and four month old daughter, and he coaches the North Hatley High School basketball team.

In the summer he works with the Sports and Hobby Association which he founded several years ago to provide entertainment for the local children during the summer. He is also a member of the Red Cross Water Safety Committee.

Mr. Beaudoin is a member of a very artistic family. His brother Gaetan is a well-known North Hatley potter and his mother is an artist.

Why did Mr. Beaudoin become interested in this work? Because he wanted to live a peaceful life doing work he enjoys at whatever speed he likes. As a silversmith he has achieved these objectives.

Leading wild-life expert

Adventurer-photographer settles down

KNEEHILL VALLEY, Alta. (CP) — Two years ago Redvers Cavindish, his wife and their two sons, bought 50 acres of parkland in this western Alberta valley and settled into a rather old, broken-down house that with the property.

He called his acquisition Many Wings and set about another of many careers that have built him a reputation as one of North America's leading wildlife photographers - writers.

It was an abrupt but deliberate change of style for an adventurer whose war service and work with pen and camera have taken him to Europe and the Middle East and to some of the most remote areas of North America.

His conscience had told him, he said, that he had a debt to repay.

"Everything I have I owe to wildlife. I'm trying to put some of it back now."

A casual observer might say wildlife already owes much to Redvers Cavindish.

Toronto-born and British-educated, Mr. Cavindish served once with the British Army and once with the Canadian Army, during the First World War. The first was at the age of 15 when he ran off from school in England and made it to the trenches before someone found out about his age. He later returned to France with the Canadian Army, served on the Western Front and was through the Mesopotamian campaign.

TOOK DOCTORS' ADVICE
A bad wound that for a time paralyzed one side prompted doctors to suggest that Cavindish spend more time outdoors.

He has ever since. His special photography assignments include work for Life Magazine, Nature Magazine, the Illustrated London News, the Times Picayune, and the American Nature Association. In 1932 he received the American Biological Society's gold medal for the best nature writing of the year. The same year he was awarded first prize by the Buffalo Museum of Science for the most outstanding photographs of American wildlife. Bernard Baruch commissioned him several years ago to photograph wild ducks on his Hob Caw estate in Florida.

By way of a break in his outdoor work, Mr. Cavindish served with Canadian and British intelligence during the Second World War.

But even with so many memories to draw upon, a quiet Alberta life seems to suit the whole family. Mrs. Cavindish, who says she could write a "great big book" about her husband, prefers to pen children's stories, and sons Colvert and Winston, now in their teens, are themselves capable photographers and may end up in the same kind of work.

HAUNTED HOUSE
Many Wings' funny little house, by legend haunted, has been remodelled only slightly to suit the family's mode of life.

Mr. Cavindish says the house just accumulated over a long period of time. Originally it was one or two rooms, used first as a blacksmith shop. Rooms were added, as fancy took them, by two maiden ladies who owned the place.

In this kind of humble comfort, Mr. Cavindish continues free-lance writings and his special interest in ducks and song birds. He has turned to the life of a conservationist and has made his 50 acres a wildlife sanctuary.

He wants to teach young people about wildlife and the adventures of photographing it.

He wants Many Wings to be as an Alberta project, and not just a home and private bird and animal sanctuary for himself and his family.

"We are fixing up the house, the old house."

Prompt response saves house at Stanbridge East
STANBRIDGE EAST — What might have proved a serious fire, had it not been for the prompt action of the new Fire Brigade, occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Blackwood, when their kitchen took fire at about 3 a.m., the morning of Jan. 19.

The blaze was caused by an overheated stove pipe and its nearness to the wall. The firefighters arrived within about 10 minutes following their call, and with the help of the Bedford Fire Brigade, which was also called owing to a shortage of water, had the blaze extinguished in approximately half an hour.

Much damage was done to the kitchen while preventing the fire from spreading, but the rest of the house was untouched. The home on the Puddledock Road was formerly known as the Harry Beattie place.

Mrs. Blackwood, who was ill at the time, was taken to the house of neighbours, Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Tremblay.

The five-county Bay Area Rapid Transit District is developing the system which will be tied in with existing transit network. High-speed trains will use the subway's lower level while streetcars now operating on the surface will utilize central level. Upper level will be used for continuous pedestrian mezzanine where stations, escalators and entrances to downtown shops will be located. Similar subways are planned for nearby Oakland and Berkeley.

Fabric jewelry new trend in Paris costume jewelry

By PEGGY MASSIN
 PARIS (Reuters) — The newest trends in French costume jewelry turn the spotlight on such unusual items as fabrics, suede and passementerie.
 Necklaces are made of velvet or satin motifs studded with tiny stones. Beads are worked in new effects of coiled braiding, while classic gold metal sportswear jewelry is replaced by suede mountings and frames.
 Pierre Cardin is one of the leading advocates of fabric jewelry, made according to his own designs by the specialized firm of Dacmo. Lavalieres and Sauteurs feature chunky balls the size of pigeons' eggs, covered in velvet and strung on a fine gilt chain. Variations are silk yarn pompoms, or braiding and passementerie — decorated lace — used to make outside beads.
 Cardin shows triple strand choker collars made of two twisted silk cords intertwined with one matching colored strand of cut glass stones. New touches on old classics are the multi-strand pearl collars concentrated at the centre front only, suspended from wide black velvet ribbons tied behind the neck.
BOWS FOR CLASPS
 Velvet bows also replace conventional clasps on other jewelled necklaces. Another amusing idea is found in wide dog collars made of silk passementerie fringe, studded with an occasional rhinestone "teardrop."
 Christian Dior favors combinations of smoky pearls and dark-hued stones set against ribbon backgrounds. Wide bracelets, worn "slave fashion" on the upper arm, are made of black satin ribbon strung with pearls.
 Pendant and drop earrings are silhouetted against perky black velvet bows fastened to the lobe of one ear, or are contrasted by different sizes in a purposely "unmatched" pair.
 Brooches are assorted in larger versions with colored stones set in the centre of three superimposed velvet bows or a ribbon cockade.
Homemaking
 "Welcome"
 A really efficient door mat is half-perforated rubber for scraping and half absorbent carpeting for drying. This mat can be kept in peak performance by scrubbing with a brush dipped into hot soap or detergent suds.

World Day of Prayer February 17

Protestant women throughout Canada will join with women in 144 other countries for World Day of Prayer Friday, Feb. 17.
 The service, which is similar in content in each country, was written this year by a committee of church women in the United States.
 Its theme, Forward through the Ages in unbroken Line, is the first line of the opening hymn. Last year's service was prepared by Canadians.
 First service of the day will take place in the Fiji Islands and the last will be at St. Lawrence Island in the Arctic.
 In Canada, 3,500 local church groups will mark the day, sponsored by the Women's Inter-Church Council of Canada.
 Offerings are used to publish Christian literature, to aid refugees, assist overseas students and provide literature in braille for the blind. Last year 88 organizations throughout the world were assisted.
 The Day of Prayer was inaugurated in 1887 in the United States. It was adopted in Canada in 1920 and soon after spread to Europe, Latin America, Asia and Africa. By 1927 it was world-wide.
 Since 1930 the various participating countries have taken turns writing the service.

Photos now 'permitted' in homey family room

Read a piece the other day and the record player, and the card table, the fireplace, the bookshelves and Papa's easy chair that got shoved out of the living room because it didn't have a mate (everything in living rooms seems to have to go in pairs, like the animals on Noah's ark).
 So the living room ends up by looking like a picture out of House Gorgeous and the family room ends up looking like a home.
 And where does the family do its living? Not in the living room, of course, but in the room where anything is allowed—even a comfortable chair for Dad.
 The Saturday previous this choral group visited the Sanitarium, where again they cheered the sick with their lovely singing.

ALDERSHOT CHAPTER I.O.D.E.
 At the January meeting of the Aldershot Chapter I.O.D.E. held last Thursday evening, the preliminary report on the advance sales for the Spinners' Spree was extremely gratifying. All indications point to this year's Spree as being more popular than ever.
 The regent, Mrs. George Smith, cautioned the members to be sure those planning to attend make their reservations as soon as possible, pointing out that as the Spree is being held in the New Sherbrooke Hotel, there would not be as much space as in former years, and that already the reservations made were reaching capacity.
 Mrs. A. Wark, co-convenor of Corsages with Miss Florence Clark brought a sample to show the members who admired the three new members into the Chapter, Mrs. Myrtle Durrant, Mrs. Karin Lives and Mrs. Laura Page, who repeated the Oath of Affirmation along with the members of the Chapter, and received their badges and constitution of the Order.
 A short recess was called for the payment of fees and the members then nominated a slate of officers for the ensuing year.
 Refreshments were later served by Mrs. N. Munkittrick and Mrs. D. Martin.

 Twelve Christmas baskets and several gifts had been sent and letters of appreciation were read from the recipients.

Beauty Tips

Eye Lines
 If you pencil on your eyebrows each day, you probably envy the beauties with perfect, sweeping brows. Remember, however, that you're fortunate to have fine cosmetics with which to reshape your brow line as you will. And keep in mind that to maintain a natural look, the best method is to press powder lightly onto the pencilled brows with a swansdown puff. This helps to set the penciling, too.

White man's religion

Apartheid harms Christianity

Brian Barrow is a South African journalist long experienced in reporting on the problems of his country. In this story he discusses the harm caused Christianity by South Africa's policy of apartheid.

By BRIAN BARROW
CAPE TOWN (CP) — There is little doubt, even among supporters of Prime Minister Verwoerd's Nationalist government, that apartheid is doing irreparable harm to the cause of Christianity in South Africa as well as in African territories beyond the union's borders.

Africans in the union are being won over in vast numbers to the belief that Christianity here is not a true universal religion. They regard it more and more as a white man's religion, something that smacks of apartheid — racial segregation — and is therefore in direct conflict with basic Christian principles. This antagonism is spreading even among Africans who were long ago converted to the Christian faith. And there are signs it is growing rapidly even among African clergies.

African separatist churches have sprung up by the thousands. Influential church leaders such as Cape Town's Anglican Archbishop Joost de Blank and Roman Catholic Archbishop Owen McCann are aware of the dangers.

After Sharpeville and Langa riots last March, Dr. de Blank warned that Africans had not only turned against the whites but against the Christian Church which they had come to identify with white oppression. And Archbishop McCann said that at the beginning of 1959 there were more than 1,000 separatist African Christian sects in South Africa whose beliefs and ritual included pagan and tribal practices.

Since Sharpeville's these separatist movements have increased in number and today it is estimated there are 2,200 of them. In the opinion of some experts, many of these sects have become the bridge over which the Africans, frustrated and disillusioned by white Christianity, are marching back to heathenism.

The tremendous growth of these separatist movements shows the amazing fragmentation of Christianity that is taking place in South Africa.

Some of the separatists, for instance the African Methodist Episcopal Church, are properly organized bodies recognized by the government and have large followings and a well-educated ministry.

Among these, African nationalism is a more powerful element than religion. Other sects were founded through a desire to give Christianity a purely African character with African dress, languages, ritual and liturgy. Often these sects have only a handful of followers and in some cases are led by self-appointed African archbishops with little education and nothing more than a lay preacher's experience.

In 1951 there were about 800 separatist sects in the union with a following of about 1,590,000 Africans. Today, with 2,200 sects, the total membership has increased to an estimated 3,500,000.

Although official figures are not available, their numbers are certainly greater than the African membership of all the established churches put together.

Africans are colorful and imaginative people who rejoice in fancy high-sounding names and the titles of some of their separatist churches range from pompous to the ludicrous. Nearly all the titles are elaborate and the term Zion appears in scores of them.

One of the churches is called Sunlight Four Corners Apostolic for Witnesses of God Jehova. Another has the rather charming title of The Church of Pleasant Living Congregation in Zion Street.

There are many Zionist variations, including The First Catholic Apostolic Church Jerusalem in Zion of South Africa. And there are names with all sorts of vague meanings, such as the Ethiopian Church Lamentation of South Africa.

Members of the so-called Zionist churches may not drink beer, take medicines or chew tobacco. Many of the African Zionists believe that there were 10 Virgin Marys, five white and five black, and when they went to heaven Shembe, the guardian of the gates of paradise, would only allow the black Marys inside. The white ones were sent to hell.

These beliefs, of course, are most significant. All the African Zionists believe that Christ was a black man. They also say that the white people can never go to heaven because they have such a good time on earth.

Some other church names include The Bantu Customers Church to Almighty God, The Remnant Church of God and believe it or not — The African Castor Oil Dead Church.

The separatist movements have confronted the established Christian churches, which have a vital part to play in race relations, with their greatest challenge.

Last month an important step was taken in the direction of equality.

Delegates of the World Council of Churches, including the two great Afrikaans churches — the Dutch Reformed Churches of the Transvaal and the Cape Province — held a conference in Johannesburg.

In a statement following the session all the churches subscribed to the principle that unfair racial discrimination and compulsory apartheid could not be reconciled with the Christian conscience or a Christian community.

The effect of this statement is that the two big Afrikaans churches whose members are mostly supporters of the government now share the view of all other Christian communities that men are entitled under God to certain rights and privileges in the land of their birth.

Whether this stand would affect government policy was something the whole of South Africa was waiting to see.

St. Paul's W.A. meets at Bury

BURY — St. Paul's W.A. met at the home of Mrs. Bessie Olson on Jan. 12. Rev. W. Walker opened the meeting.

The Dorcas secretary read the requisition for the sale and plans were made to fill the order.

Miss L. Palmer read the first chapter of the Study Book, the theme of which was, "Toward the Center," followed by a discussion. One member contributed to the birthday box, and three cards of sympathy have been sent out.

Refreshments were served by the hostess.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Arthur Olson, in the evening.

CHILDREN ARE LOSERS WHEN MOTHERS WORK AS ESCAPE

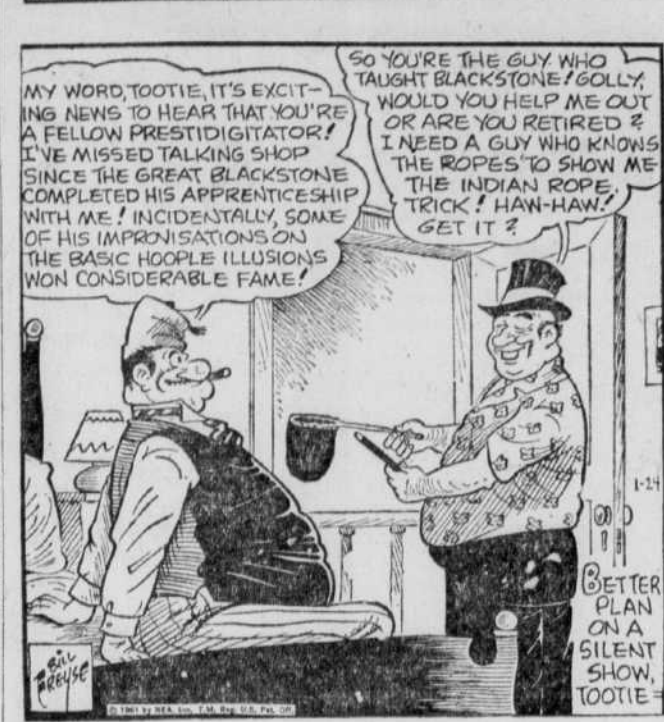

Commenting on a recent column that urged obedience as an important safety factor in the prevention of childhood accidents, a very wise high school girl asks the following question:

"Do you think it's worthwhile for a mother to go to work and leave her children with a baby sitter when the money she earns is just about enough to pay the extra expenses that she would not have if she stayed at home?"

"I baby sit four days a week were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Burn Owen and family.

The funeral of Mrs. Carl Brock, Cora Wittle, formerly of this place, was held in the United Church on Jan. 13, upon arrival of the Montreal train. Interment was in Trenholm Cemetery.

The next meeting of the Trenholm W.A. Group will be held on Wednesday, Jan. 25, at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Charles Brock.

with two children aged 7 and 4 years," she explains. "Their mother, who goes to work, told me she wanted them to mind and even be spanked if necessary. However, the parents rarely spank.

"They tell the children to do a thing but never see that it's done. As a result, the children do not pay attention.

"The mother admits it is easier, when she has time off, to give in to the children rather than to make them mind.

"The younger used temper tantrums to get his way until I cured him. Since the mother really doesn't increase the family income, if all expenses are considered, don't you think she might do better to stay home and give the children the companionship and discipline they need?"

I do not for a moment cast reflection on many brave mothers who must supplement the family income for current expenses or their children's higher education. However I must say that I have known altogether too many instances in which younger mothers, in particular, take jobs merely to escape what they consider the drudgery of housekeeping and child care.

As my prematurely wise young correspondent has suggested, the family income is not significantly benefited if additional expenses are deducted from the take-home pay check. For example, one must deduct such things as the salary of the baby sitter, transportation to and from work, meals and snacks eaten outside of the home, and the additional costs that go for clothes, cosmetics and other trimmings.

In my experience, most mothers who use outside work as an excuse to escape from maternal obligations and domestic duties suffer from shortsightedness.

Some, who married in their teens, seek the freedom and experiences they renounced when they went from high school to the altar. Others, however vigorously they may deny it, work for pin money to blow on nonessentials.

Either way, these selfish young women do not command the same respect from their husbands and their children that is accorded the working mother whose labors are performed in behalf of the family welfare.

I am sure that my young correspondent will not repeat the mistakes of her employer. And I am sure that her children will have fewer accidents and fewer serious illnesses than the children presently in her charge.
