Seventy-second year

Parties hold their breath as test nears

Months of political strategy and weeks of hoopla get the acid test today in the climax of a federal election campaign that started with kissing and ended with a flareup of violence.

Campaigning ended officially at midnight Monday and today the parties' programs and policies go before nearly 11,000,000 eligible voters in 264 ridings.

Under cloudy skies with a promise of warmer weather later in the day, polls opened in Sherbrooke at 9 a.m. and will close at 8 p.m. — all Daylight Time.

With slightly over 51,000 voters on the official lists, it is expected that approximately 38,500 or 75 per cent of the registered electors will go to the polls — a percentage figure approximating that of the 1965 elections.

Seeking election in Sherbrooke County are Paul M. Gervais, Liberal; Dr. Alexandre Kindy, Progressive Conservative; Adelard Larose, Creditiste; and Dr. Jean-Paul Blouin, NDP.

All are newcomers, as Maurice Allard, elected in 1965 as an Independent Conservative who later became a straight Independent, withdrew from politics when appointed to a judgeship in Montreal.

All four parties also are contesting the other six Eastern Townships constituencies —

Compton, Drummond, Richmond, Missisquoi and Shefford.

First results from the Eastern Townships should be available about 8:15 but the final count will not be available before 10:30 when the count of the advance poll ballots is completed.

Under revisions to the electoral law, counting of advance poll ballots will start at 10 p.m., Daylight Time.

In the event of a close race, the advanced polls may well determine the outcome as in Sherbrooke County more than 1,500 votes were cast at the advance polls.

The results of today's vote will determine who is going to govern for the next four years.

There were new factors and new faces to ensure that the sixth federal election in 11 years would not be a quiet affair.

But the excitement was mainly harmless until Monday night, when rampaging demonstrators opposing Prime Minister Trudeau broke into a St. Jean Baptiste parade in Montreal and set off a riot.

Scores were injured and arrested in two hours of bloody fighting.

The Montreal clash was the worst of the campaign.

But a small bomb exploded last Saturday in Napanee, Ont., just at the time that Agriculture Minister Greene was to have passed by in a motor cavalcade.

THREE SHOTS MISS
The Liberal candidate in Red Deer, Alta., Douglas Irwin, reported three shots were fired at his car on a lonely road early this month.

There have been reports of hate literature being circulated, particularly on Mr. Trudeau's background.

Mr. Trudeau and Conservative Leader Stanfield both go to the voters today for the first time as national party chiefs. T. C. Douglas, the New Democrat leader, has headed his party through three previous federal campaigns.

Redistribution of riding boundaries, making them more nearly equal on a population basis, brought scores of new names to the list of candidates.

The weather office predicted a generally warm day with fair skies for most of the country. There was a chance of voting-day rain in parts of Newfoundland, Quebec and Ontario. But the basic picture was seasonable June weather that would not deter a good turnout.

Polls opened today at 8 a.m. local standard time in the country's seven time zones. They close at 7 p.m.

It was a wild and ugly conclusion Monday for the campaign of Mr. Trudeau, the 48-year-old bachelor who has been swamped by young girls seeking kisses ever since he became prime minister last April.

He has distributed them so freely that other party leaders accused him of running a campaign based solely on a personality cult.

Monday night, he was on the parade reviewing stand when the demonstrators started heaving bottles, stones and paint-filled light bulbs. He stuck to his post on the platform despite the clash.

For Mr. Stanfield, 54, helicopter-hopping through southern Ontario, mechanical troubles and cloud were the problems on the last day of the campaign.

His charter four-engine plane cracked a wheel housing on landing at London. The jet helicopter that took him to a downtown London park barely made it to ground through low-lying cloud.

As the helicopter continued hopping through communities from London east to Belleville, its compass went haywire and the pilot was lost for 30 minutes.

Mr. Douglas, 63, spent a typical campaign day for an NDP man, talking to shipyard workers during their noon break near his Vancouver area riding. Then he put out a campaign release saying the NDP is the only party that can bring the people "meaningful change in our social system."

Bob Stanfield receives enthusiastic Sherbrooke reception

Campaigns hit the skids

With the St. Jean Baptiste holiday closing down all newspapers in the province and a federal law banning political TV and radio broadcasting for a period before election day, contestants for the Quebec seats at stake in today's federal general election had to resort to old-time methods — meetings and parades — to get their final messages before the electors.

Undoubtedly the feature of the holiday weekend in this area was the visit of Opposition Leader Robert Stanfield to Sherbrooke late Sunday afternoon, the Conservative chief addressing an overflow audience estimated at 1,200 persons at St. Francis school in East Sherbrooke.

Mr. Stanfield arrived at the East Angus airport where he was greeted by another crowd, mostly electors of Richmond and Compton counties, estimated at about 800.

But the other parties also spent a busy weekend.

Hon. Gerard Pelletier, Minister without Portfolio, addressing a meeting Sunday night in Magog in support of Yves Forest, former Liberal MP for Stanstead, who is fighting it out in Missisquoi with the former Conservative MP for Bromme - Missisquoi, Howard Graffley.

Robert Cliche, New Democratic Party chief in Quebec, paid a brief visit to Sherbrooke Saturday on behalf of the party candidate here, Dr. Jean-Paul Blouin.

Adelard Larose, Creditiste candidate in Sherbrooke, who left hospital over the weekend following two weeks stay as a result of a heart attack nomination day, was also accorded a parade last night followed by a meeting in the West Ward. During his address in Sherbrooke, Mr. Stanfield made a direct pitch for the protest vote which many believe might go to Creditiste candidates.

"I know," he said, "the leader of the Creditistes speaks of the underprivileged and the poor."

"I too know something of the poor and underprivileged in Nova Scotia."

"And I think I've done something down there."

He declared that the only hope the dissatisfied had of making their protests effective was by voting for Conservative candidates as only the Conservative party has a hope of overturning the Liberals and providing an alternative government.

Discussing the general issues of the campaign, Mr. Stanfield declared the Prime Minister had ignored the major issues of unemployment, inflation and high interest rates.

"For Trudeau these problems do not exist. He has chosen to live in a world of fantasy where the words unemployment, taxes, etc., are banished from the language."

The Prime Minister, said Mr. Stanfield, was seeking a blank cheque from the electorate without presenting a program and without giving any guarantees to the population of what he would do if re-elected.

Other speakers included Dr. Alexandre Kindy, candidate in Sherbrooke; Luc-Lin Bourque, candidate in Compton, and Howard Graffley, candidate in Missisquoi.

Speaking at Magog in support of Yves Forest, Hon. Gerard Pelletier declared that if the federal government cut its defence budget and withdrew from defence-sharing agreements with other countries — as demanded by Creditiste and NDP, the Canadian economy would be wrecked for the next 10 years.

Guitars twang for Stanfield

Guitars twanged, majorettes blew trumpets and marked time, people waved and yelled, "Hello, Bob" and others waved their placards as Robert Stanfield, Progressive Conservative Party leader walked into the St. Francois School auditorium in Sherbrooke Sunday afternoon.

He smiled and waved and the enthusiastic crowd applauded for about thirty seconds as their hopeful walked down the aisle towards the podium.

Throughout his speech, in which he called Sherbrooke the most bilingual city in Canada, the people in the auditorium applauded and cheered, especially when he jokingly called himself the "... most bilingual man in Canada."

Howard Graffley, Conservative candidate in Missisquoi County, gave a particularly colorful talk, punctuating his speech with flamboyant gestures with his hands and even his legs as he thanked Mr. Stanfield.

As Mr. Stanfield left the hall, guitars once again picked up their boogie-woogie beat and people started to cheer.

They began to sing a victory song.

One man in the crowd who heard the guitars looked at his friend and remarked, "That's Trudeau music."

Railway men call a strike for Thursday

MONTREAL (CP) — About 3,400 CNR and CPR locomotive firemen have called a strike for Thursday to back wage increase demands recommended in conciliation board reports, but Labor Minister Pepin promptly reconvened the board Monday, making the proposed strike illegal.

A walkout by firemen across Canada could cripple the movement of cargo which has been piling up from Montreal east of the St. Lawrence Seaway system due to a strike of 1,200 seaway workers which began Friday.

C. J. Allen, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, said Monday night he had not yet been officially told of the labor minister's order to reconvene the board.

"Until such time as I have something official before me I can't say what we'll do about the government's latest move."

"We are law-abiding people, however, and would do nothing to violate the labor act."

He said at a news conference earlier Monday that the brotherhood had "no alternative but to strike" when the CNR deleted certain collective bargaining clauses from the conciliation report of Judge Rene Lippe.

He said Judge Lippe's recommendations included a 24-per-cent wage increase for passenger train firemen and a 15-per-cent increase for freight and yard service firemen. The brotherhood accepted the report with reluctance, he added. The CNR had announced it would accept the report as a basis for settlement, but "their basis was not acceptable to us — they deleted significant recommendations on collective agreements."

W. T. Wilson, CNR vice-president of personnel and labor relations, said in a statement that the company will continue normal operations in view of Labor Minister Pepin's order to reconvene the boards.

However, he added, the union did not agree with the board's recommendation that a single rate of pay replace a graduated rate which is related to the number of locomotives on a particular train.

Under their contract with the CNR, which expired in March, 1967, firemen on eastern lines of the company's passenger service were paid between $14.32 and $14.83 for each 100 miles travelled. Freight train firemen receive up to $17.41 for each 100 miles travelled. Both classifications were allowed to travel up to 4,800 miles a month.

The wage scales apply to locomotives weighing 250,000 pounds.

A flat rate of $14.21 is paid on passenger trains under CPR's agreement which expired in June, 1967.

A CPR official said his company would accept the board's report and would continue normal operations in the light of the government order to reconvene the board.

TODAY'S CHUCKLE — Liberalism is now being preached in the churches, but apparently it hasn't helped the collection plates yet!

News in brief

Have to turn

MONTREAL (CP) — Shipping companies affected by the strike of 1,295 SIF Lawrence Seaway workers, now in its fifth day, are having to turn to the railways to ship stranded cargo, despite the threat of a strike by CP Rail and CNR locomotive firemen.

The firemen threatened a strike to begin Thursday but Labor Minister Pepin issued a federal order Monday in Ottawa which would reconvene a conciliation board in the dispute and make a Thursday walkout illegal.

Assist guards

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio National Guard, ordered into the riot-torn state penitentiary Monday, assisted guards today in maintaining order after it was discovered that important keys were missing and presumed in the hands of prisoners.

Prison officials were searching for the keys, confiscating weapons and planning to launch an intensive investigation into the riot and fire that caused an estimated $1,000,000 damage and left 50 persons injured.

Chopper deaths

SAIGON (AP) — Nineteen U.S. and Thai soldiers were killed in five helicopter crashes around Saigon today and Monday as combined forces troops intensified their drive to thwart another Viet Cong attack on the South Vietnamese capital.

Another two U.S. flyers were missing in North Vietnam following the downing Monday, due to "unknown causes," of a navy A-6 Intr. B-52. It was the 859th U.S. plane reported down in combat over the North.

Every gun

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has called for the federal registration of every privately owned gun in the U.S. and set off a controversy in Congress.

Johnson asked for the stricter gun control laws Monday in a strongly worded message to both the House of Representatives and Senate. The White House said specific legislative proposals would follow.

Seven deaths in ET

Seven people died and four were injured in the Eastern Townships during a St. Jean-Baptiste weekend marked by poor weather and road conditions.

Dead are Jean-Paul Fillion, 21, of Thetford Mines; Normand Dube, 14, of Sherbrooke; Jean Baillargeon, 10, of Lambton; Mario Desautels, 20, of Granby; Serge Paquette and Jean Sicotte, both 18, of Waterloo; and Claude Gauthier, 32, of Farnham.

Jean Fillion, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Antoine Fillion of St. Antoine de Pontbriand, was killed instantly Friday night when struck by a car while standing on a sidewalk beside a service station.

Police are holding a "hit and run" suspect in connection with the accident.

Normand Dube, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rosario Dube of RR4 in Sherbrooke, was killed Friday morning when he was crushed beneath the tractor he was driving on the Stoke Road between Stoke and Ascot Corner.

According to the Richmond coroner, Dr. Marcel Chaput, the tractor hurtled on top of the youngster after the wheel got caught in a small roadside ditch.

Jean Baillargeon, 10, of Lambton, was killed after being struck by a car while riding his bicycle on Route 28, not far from his home.

Mario Desautels, 20, of Granby, died yesterday when the motorcycle he was driving struck a tree in Roxton Pond, 45 miles east of Montreal.

Serge Paquette and Jean Sicotte, both 18, of Waterloo died Friday evening after the motorcycle they were driving collided with a car near their homes.

Claude Gauthier, 32, of 39 Royal Street in Farnham, was killed instantly Sunday evening when the car he was driving overturned on a secondary road near Farnham.

Mr. Gauthier was thrown clear of the car which rolled and crushed him.

Two Sherbrooke men, Benoit Quirion, 23, and Jean-Marc Cote, 20, were seriously injured last night when the car they were driving overturned on the corner of McCrea and Wilson Streets.

At the time of the accident, their car was being pursued by police because of a speeding infraction on Portland Street. Mr. Quirion, the driver lost control of the car on the unpaved section of Wilson Street and the car rolled three or four times.

Celebrations end in riot

MONTREAL (CP) — French Canada's St. Jean Baptiste Day celebrations exploded into a riot in front of Prime Minister Trudeau Monday night and sent at least 135 persons to hospital.

Police said more than 290 persons were arrested in what appeared to be separatist-inspired trouble on the heels of a threat against Mr. Trudeau's life.

Forty-four constables and 91 other persons were injured, 12 police cars were damaged—at least three were overturned—and one of six police horses injured later died.

Police denied an earlier report that an officer was killed.

It was a night of fear, bottle-throwing, beatings and blood.

Prime Minister Trudeau, who held a front-row seat during the rioting and ducked a bottle aimed at him, later attended a St. Jean Baptiste Society reception and remarked coolly:

"I was curious. I wanted to see what was happening."

But one embattled constable said as demonstrators were pushed into paddy wagons and scores of injured into ambulances:

"Sixteen years on the force and this is the worst I've seen."

POLICE START EARLY

Police began hauling of demonstrators long before the St. Jean Baptiste parade arrived at a reviewing stand where Mr. Trudeau, Mayor Jean Drapeau and Premier Daniel Johnson were to sit.

They got tougher, judo-chopping trouble makers, after they became targets for flying bottles, some of them containing paint.

The battle became serious some time before Mr. Trudeau appeared at about 9:35 p.m. on the reviewing stand, built on the front steps of the Montreal public library on Sherbrooke Street.

ARREST RIN LEADER

Police called in mounted reinforcements when those on foot and motorcycles could not control the crowd that faced the stand.

The horsemen charged the demonstrators up a slope, swinging three-foot-long sticks at all in their way.

The battle was still going on as the parade marched before the stand.

Ambulances, police cars, paddy wagons and police motorcycles rushed along both sides of the parade to clear away demonstrators, the injured and the arrested.

Institute plans July 2 picnic

KNOWLTON'S LANDING — On June 5 the Women's Institute met at the Glenbrook, with Mrs. G. Westover as hostess. The roll call was answered by What's New in Agriculture. An interesting discussion on gardening with new synthetic products followed.

Due to the absence of the secretary, minutes were read by Mrs. P. Knowlton.

Plans were made to have a picnic for grown-ups and children on the Club Room grounds, on July 2 instead of the regular meeting. A basket lunch will be served at 2 p.m. Pennies for Friendship will be collected from the members on that date. The president, Mrs. H. Williams, is in charge of the picnic.

It was planned to have a demonstration at the Club Room in the near future by Rodney Mills, of Sherbrooke. Mrs. C. George is in charge. Invitations will be issued and the W.I. will serve refreshments.

Anyone wishing to order cards and stationery in June will place their order with Mrs. R. Priest.

Mrs. Porter Knowlton gave an interesting report of the Brome County W.I. Convention in Sutton, at which Mrs. Osington, provincial president, was the guest speaker.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and a pleasant social hour was enjoyed.

Afterwards a sale of plants, bedding plants, plant slips, donated by members, added $8.40 to the club funds.

Waterloo

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Fairman, Melbourne, Australia, left for Ireland after attending the wedding of their niece, Miss Gloria Bockus, and staying for ten days as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bockus.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Marsh were in Montreal on May 31 to attend the convocation at McGill University when their daughter, Janet, received her B.Sc. (H.Ec.). Miss Marsh stayed with her parents for a few days before returning to Toronto, where she is completing her internship in dietetics at St. Michael's Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. John Champagne attended the wedding of the latter's cousin, Miss Dianne Vokey, to Mr. Fred Madden, Jr. at St. Andrew's United Church, Lachine, on June 8. Following the youth service and breakfast at St. Luke's Church on June 9, Rev. Joseph McCord spoke with the 16 teens who had attended. Mr. McCord preached at the 11 a.m. service as well.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Barnett, Highwater, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Harvey. Mr. and Mrs. Harvey have been callers of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Turner and family, Ayer's Cliff.

Mr. Doug Lousley, Ottawa, was a weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Marsh following the McGill Convocation, when he received his B.Sc. in Agriculture, and second prize in agronomy.

Mr. and Mrs. G. I. Carter and Mrs. Leo Ash, Nottingham, N.H., were weekend guests of their sister-in-law, Mrs. Clara Boyd and daughter, Susan while here to attend the Boyd-Burnham wedding on June 8.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Eldridge and family attended the farewell party for Mr. and Mrs. Tony Eldridge at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Eldridge, Knowlton.

Kingsey

Mrs. Ethel Martin, East Angus, visited her cousins, the Misses May and Helen Wright. Mrs. J. Goodfellow spent a few days at Sherbrooke with her sister, Miss Beulah Page, who accompanied Mrs. Goodfellow home to spend some time with her.

Miss Susan Mastine, North Hatley, spent a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Mastine.

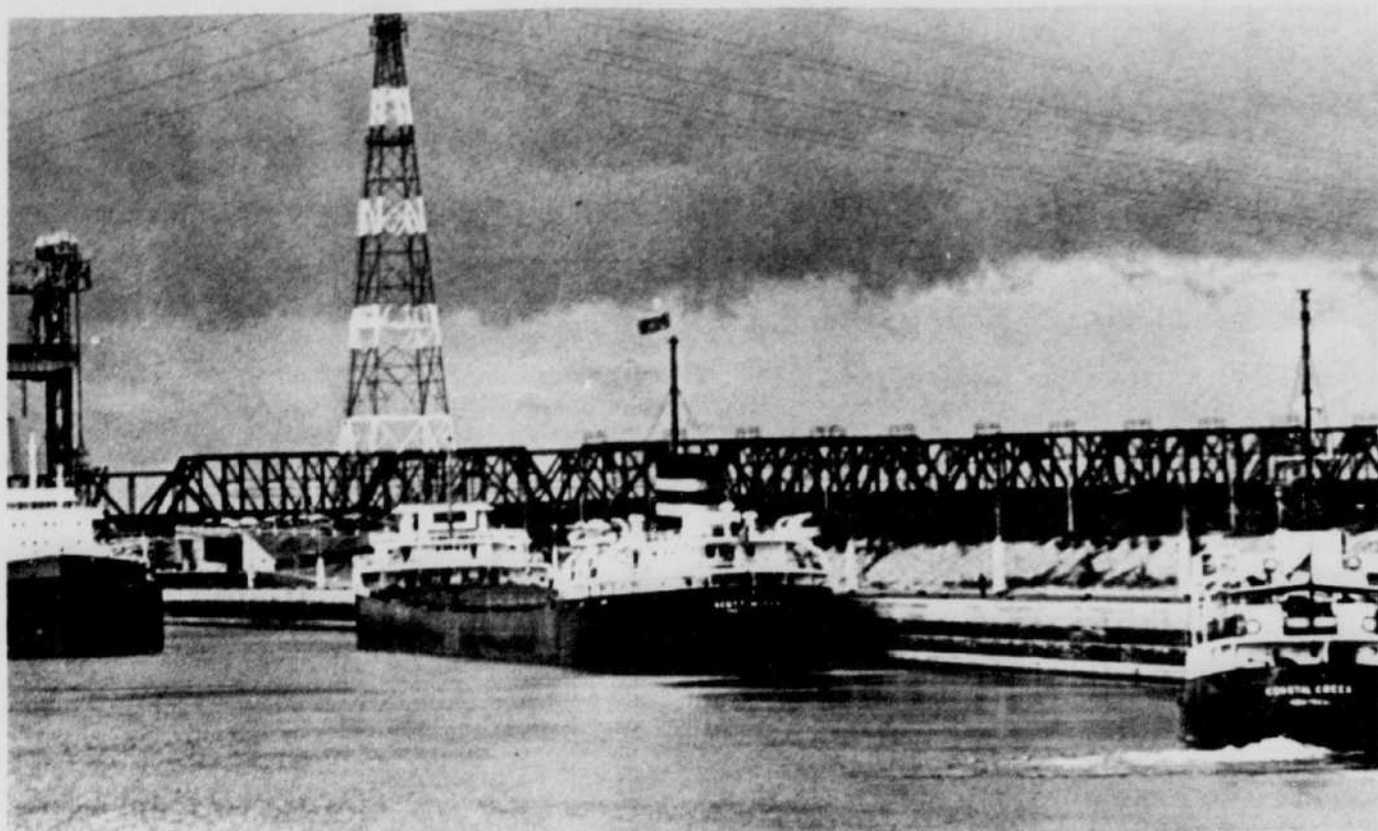

Mr. Wm. Hannan went on a fishing trip to Tadoussac with his brothers, John, Sorel and Stanley, from Montreal.

Visiting pastors to hold services at Derby Line

DERBY LINE — The Trustees of the Universalist Church, at a recent meeting, agreed to keep the church open all summer. In past years it has been closed one or two months. All services will be at 10:30 a.m.

Rev. William Hutchinson, the pastor, will be in Maine from June 25 through August 25, and during this period the ministers here will be John Pandrew, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and Terry Hudson, Central Square, N.Y. These visitors will reside at the parsonage and holiday in this section of Vermont and Quebec.

On May 25 over 40 persons were at the fellowship supper and afterward enjoyed Dr. Ian Campbell's provocative talk. Dr. Campbell comes from Bishop's University, Lennoxville, and his comments on the Canadian political scene were described as hilarious and acute.

CAUGHT! — These ships at Montreal's St. Lawrence locks are trapped in the St. Lawrence Seaway as 1,200 seaway workers went on strike Friday. Oil carrier "Coastal Creek" (far right) was the last vessel to enter the locks before they were closed to upbound traffic Thursday. (CP Wirephoto)

Recent bride is honored

EATON ROAD — Mrs. Bain Rogers was hostess at a bridal shower held June 11 at her home to honor Mrs. Gordon Rogers, the former Miss Donna Taylor, whose marriage took place recently. The guest of honor, who was taken by surprise, was presented with a corsage of summer flowers and escorted to a chair gaily decorated with yellow and white streamers and bows.

Over the bride's head was a white umbrella with hanging yellow rain drops and under the umbrella were suspended two balloons, which when broken, showered the bride with confetti.

Miss Mary Jane Barter and Master Robert Rogers carried a decorated basket filled with gifts to the guest of honor. Later the basket was refilled with more gifts, the basket was also a gift to the bride.

Mrs. Rogers was assisted in opening her many gifts by her mother and mother-in-law, Mrs. Albert Taylor and Mrs. Arthur Rogers.

Later a game was played with Misses Penny and Peggy Hodge assisting.

Refreshments, including a shower cake, were served by the hostess, with the assistance of Mrs. Lomer Hodge, Mrs. Meredith Barter, Miss Peggy Hodge and Miss Penny Hodge.

The many guests were from Birchton, Buwer, Sherbrooke, Lennoxville, Massawippi and Waterville.

South Durham

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wright, David and Daphne, Kenneth and Colleen Townsend were visiting relatives in the vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Carson and family, Greenfield Park, spent the weekend at their home here.

Mr. Wayne Bennett, LaSalle, visited Mr. and Mrs. Murray Wright and family.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Wright, Brompton, were guests of relatives here while in Richmond to attend the funeral of the late Mrs. Rufus Patterson.

Mrs. Violet Johnston has returned from Sawyerville, where she spent a week with her daughter, Mrs. Gerald French. Mr. and Mrs. French, Miss Debbie French and Miss Joyce Montgomery accompanied her to South Durham. Other visitors at the Johnston home have been Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Johnston, Brossard, Mr. and Mrs. Elton Pike and Brian, Verdun. Miss Judy Pike is spending the summer months at the Johnston home and will take up her teaching duties at Drummondville High School in September.

"Buffalo Bill"

There were many "Buffalo Bills," each claiming sole right to that name. William F. Cody, however, was the traditional Buffalo Bill, with his inseparable buffalo gun, "Lucretia Borgia."

1918 graduate attends reunion

COWANSVILLE — Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Pickering spent the weekend in Burlington, Vt., to attend the reunion of the graduates of 1918 and 1948 of the Mary Fletcher Hospital School of Nursing. Three other graduates of the 1918 class were also present.

Saturday afternoon a guided tour of the hospital was held and that evening a social hour took place in the Hotel Vermont before a buffet supper and a dance.

On Sunday morning Miss Betty Wells introduced Dr. Brown, who was in charge of the hospital in 1918, to reminisce. He recently celebrated his 90th birthday and still has a keen memory.

Later Miss Wells took Mr. and Mrs. Pickering on a special tour of the operating rooms of which there are eight. Miss Wells is an anesthetist or the staff and for Mrs. Pickering, who for many years was also an anesthetist, it has an eye-opener to see the latest equipment used today.

In the afternoon they attended the Commencement exercises in the Ira Allen Memorial Chapel for the 1968 graduating class.

As it was the 50th Anniversary of Mrs. Pickering's graduation, during the supper hour she was presented with a life membership in the Mary Fletcher Hospital School of Nursing Alumnae Association.

The parade 'was really good'

The peppy marching girls' band played C'est si Bon and the spectators nodded their heads in approval because the Saint Jean Baptiste parade was really good.

A colorful blend of 12 gaily-decorated floats depicting Sherbrooke in the year 2,000, snappy marching boys' bands, girls on horseback sitting on silvery saddles, an old firetruck that had long ago seen its last fire and lots of pretty girls made the spectacle ultra-impressive.

Young Saint Jean Baptiste was acted by three-and-a-half-year-old Serge Siminaro.

The golden-haired youngster is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacques Siminaro of 342 Brooks Street and he was certainly the highlight of the parade as he smiled and waved his banner which read "Ecce Agnus Dei".

Thousands of Sherbrookers and visitors lined the streets from the fairgrounds where the parade assembled to the end of the route at Mitchell

By DENNIS FINLAY
(Record staff reporter)

The floats gave them a glimpse into the future of Sherbrooke and one, entitled Habitatio, was prettily enhanced by a lovely girl and a structure which resembled Habitat '67 in Montreal.

It gave an idea of how people might live in the near future. Another favorite, especially for the younger folk, was the float entitled Discotheques, which showed a young guitarist and three teenagers dressed in mod attire. The airport float, sponsored by the merchants of the Sherbrooke Shopping Centre, had a dynamic theme.

A large silver airplane gave one the impression of speed. An impressive float sponsored by the City of Sherbrooke was called Sherbrooke, a Dynamic City and it drew applause everywhere it passed.

As usual, one of the strong points of the parade was the marching bands from all over the Eastern Townships who participated.

One group that stood out with its entertaining music and snappy marching was Les Optimistes from Cowansville.

There were also Sherbrooke's Marjolaines 'Crescendo' from Notre-Dame d'Asbestos, the Saint-Clotilde Majorettes, the Etoiles d'Or from Sherbrooke, the Cavaliers from Drummondville, the Coaticook Tourbillons, the Windsor Aristocrats and the Drummondville Conquistadors.

Que. scraps decree that forbade taking photographs for resale

QUEBEC — (Staff) — The provincial cabinet has abolished a six-year-old decree which forbade Eastern Townships amateurs from making pictures for resale.

A petition, signed by 20 non-commercial photographers that led to the abolishment of the decree stated that most studios in the Townships had no employees and those who were employed by studios were usually just clerks or telephone receptionists.

The decree had also stipulated that anyone entering the field had to serve an apprenticeship course at fixed wage rates and hours at a professional studio before selling pictures.

graphers complained the apprenticeship was too long, the hours strenuous and the wages ridiculous.

They also pointed out no new professional photography studios have been opened in the Townships area since the year the decree was legalized.

The group's spokesman was Gilles Fontaine.

Coaticook taxpayers want arena referendum

COATICOOK — (Staff) — Taxpayers here voted Friday night at a public meeting to hold another referendum on July 17 on the construction of an arena.

The law requires that over 20 signatures be registered before a referendum can be called and Joseph Cloutier, an alderman, said more than 20 persons signed a petition asking for the referendum.

Mr. Cloutier stated the vote on July 17 will be held in the new Sacred Heart School on St. Jean Baptiste Street.

This is where the assembly was held on Friday.

First step in Sister's beatification complete

The apostolic procedure of Mother Marie Leonie Paradis, founder of the Little Sisters of the Holy Family religious order, was closed Saturday morning at the Mother House of the Little Sisters on Galt West in Sherbrooke.

Father Angelo Mitri, postulator, will now take the signed and sealed documents to Rome where they will be studied by the Sacred Congregation of Rites whose members will validate the virtues of Mother Leonie.

The process was closed with the hymn Te Deum on Saturday in the chapel.

Mother Marie founded the order in 1880 at Memramcook, New Brunswick.

She moved the Mother House to Sherbrooke in 1892 and remained the Mother Superior of the order until her death in 1912.

The apostolic process opened March 19 and since that date, there have been 49 meetings at which 34 witnesses have testified.

Thirteen of the witnesses were members of Mother Leonie's order and the others were laymen and religious.

The members of the tribunal at the beginning of the process were Msgr. Georges Cabana, former Archbishop of the Sherbrooke diocese; Msgr. Louis Joseph Cabana; Msgr. Joseph Veilleux; Msgr. Gerard Letendre; Father J. M. Suprenant, all who acted as judges; Msgr. Origene Vel, and Canon Gaston Provencal, Father Pierre Milot, Father Robert Rouleau and Jacques Prince.

On April 26, Msgr. Louis Joseph Cabana left the diocese and was replaced by Msgr. Irene Pinard.

Due to sickness, Msgr. Suprenant was replaced by Canon Victor Dupuis.

If Mother Leonie is beatified, it will be the first time that a citizen of Canadian origin has been so honored.

Other Canadians have been beatified but they have been born out of the country.

Mayor's barn destroyed by fire Friday

SUTTON — (Special) — A large barn owned by the Mayor of Sutton, Max Gagne, was destroyed by fire on Friday despite the efforts of 17 volunteer firemen to save the building.

Mr. Gagne deals in farm machinery and much equipment stored in the lower section of the barn was removed from the building and saved.

About 75 tons of hay were destroyed in the barn which was built in 1940.

It was approximately 125 feet long. There has been no official estimate of damages.

Sutton Legion Auxiliary holds closing meeting

SUTTON — The Women's Auxiliary Canadian Legion, No. 158 held the season's final meeting June 12 in the Legion Hall, with a good attendance.

Plans were made for the annual food sale, to be held in Knowlton, July 13. Food is to be brought to the Legion Hall on July 12. Raffle tickets are to be brought in by July 1.

The surprise parcel was won by Comrade Osborn.

Birthday greetings were sung to three comrades, who had celebrated birthdays recently.

Members were sorry to know that Comrade Amy Cowan had been in hospital and Comrade Connie Sherrer is in hospital for surgery.

The meeting closed to reconvene Sept. 11.

Refreshments were served by Comrades Osborn and Lamb.

WHERE'S THE LAMB? There was no lamb for young Saint Jean Baptiste this year. He stood on his float alone but little Serge Siminaro, three-and-a-half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacques Siminaro of 342 Brooks Street, didn't seem to mind. He wore a big smile and waved his banner throughout the parade.

Though cloudy skies threatened to provide a damper to affairs, Serge didn't bat an eye. And it didn't rain. (Record photo: Gerry Lemay)

Camp director says Y day camp will soon be exciting reality

"This summer's Day Camp at Shore Acres will soon become an exciting reality," announced Camp Director Don Lee today. The camp is designed for boys and girls aged 8 to 14, and operates four one-week periods during the month of July, starting on the holiday Monday, July 1st. It is jointly sponsored by the Sherbrooke YM-YWCA and its senior service club, The Y's Men.

Located about a dozen miles from Sherbrooke, on the shore of Little Lake Magog, the campsite occupies 15 acres of woods, playing grounds and beach, right in some of the prime holiday territory of the Eastern Townships.

"The whole idea of day camping," explained Mr. Lee, is to provide an exciting, challenging and fun experience for campers which is within easy reach of all from the point of view of transportation, family finances and preparation. Campers move easily to and from the campsite every day in a special bus which picks them up at 9 a.m., in the morning in Lennoxville, at the "Y" or at Four Corners, and leaves the campsite at 4 p.m., in the afternoon to return them to their point of departure.

The cost of attending the Camp, $9 a week, covers all transportation as well as the cost of milk for each noon meal, and a "cook-out" supper and breakfast which are special features of this year's Camp. All campers are expected to bring their own lunches to Camp each day.

"We've put a lot of thought into this year's Day Camp," added Mr. Lee, and come up with some things which are new and different. Day Camping can be such a tremendous opportunity for kids if it's handled in a way that encourages them to learn and do things that they can't do in the city. We've tried to build lots of these kinds of activities into this year's camp. The key to it all, though, is small groups of 7 or 8 friends of about the same age, under the guidance of a skilled counselor, who, and this is really important, can plan out what they all want to do.

"We're doing all we can to make sure our staff will be able to really help kids have a full experience. Shore Acres campers will have opportunities not only for all kinds of activities, but for the experience of getting and developing ideas together, and making decisions about their own activities. That's an important part of growing up."

Among the activities and instruction that Shore Acres campers can look forward to are swimming, water games, crafts, learning how to build a fire and cook outdoors, boating, hiking, all sorts of active games and sports, quiet games, discussions, singalongs and nature hunts. Counselors will take part in five days of training in these areas and skills, as well as in understanding children, teaching techniques, dramatics, life-guarding and water safety, camp safety and hygiene, and general camp routines.

Thursday nights will be sleep-out nights. Rather than returning home on Thursday afternoon, campers will stay at the camp.

W.M.S. to send delegate to July Training Centre

SCOTSTOWN — The Evening Auxiliary of St. Paul's Presbyterian Women's Missionary Society was held at the home of Mrs. W. G. MacLeod on June 11 with one visitor present.

Mrs. John M. Morrison was in charge of the worship and study, the theme, God confronts His people, was taken from the study book Christ and the Faiths of Men. The scripture reading was from Jonah 1.

Mrs. W. G. MacLeod, delegate to the annual rally in Asbestos on June 1, gave an interesting report.

The Program of Recruitment, recommended at the Synodical meeting in April, was discussed and is to be given serious consideration. Much co-operation has been shown by contributions to the fund started by the Auxiliaries to help send a delegate to Belleville Training Centre in July.

The next meeting will be at the home of the president, Mrs. Burns MacDonald, in September.

At the close of the meeting a social hour was enjoyed with Mrs. Alexander MacIver assisting Mrs. MacLeod in serving refreshments.

Labor Government may further limit Lords

As was generally expected, the British Labor Government is reacting to the House of Lords rejection of its Rhodesian sanctions bill with threats to reform the British non-elective upper house.

It is unlikely the Labor Government will exercise its power to abolish the Lords and could meet the situation by creating a number of new peers which would shift the balance of power in favor of Labor, thus ensuring the passage of government legislation.

But in all likelihood Prime Minister Wilson may adopt the more accepted course of introducing legislation to further limit the powers of the Upper House, such as was done by Premier Asquith's Liberal Government in 1910 when the Lords rejected the "people's budget" of 1909.

This deprived the Peers of all control of money bills and restricted its right of suspensive veto to two successive sessions.

When the House of Lords attempted to amend the bill out of all recognition, Parliament was dissolved and the Liberals registered a sweeping majority in the subsequent elections.

When the Government threatened to create 250 new peers to assure passage of the bill, the Lords capitulated and voted their own strait jacket.

In some ways the House of Lords action may be a boon to Mr. Wilson.

He can apply the sanctions indefinitely by one-month orders-in-council and at the same time have a constitutional issue to remove pressure from his economic difficulties.

Our next-door office neighbor isn't especially religious, but he most certainly believes in the here-after.

Advertising in Russia

Recently a newspaper contained an eight-page advertising supplement which featured such things as colored TV sets, a 24-hour dry cleaning service, guarded parking lots for private cars, summer cruises, tourist trips and rental electronic computers.

What is so odd about this — only that it appeared in a Moscow newspaper, capital of the nations which since the days of Lenin has been condemning advertising as a tool of the dirty capitalists to deceive the public.

They also argued that advertising was an economic waste which increased the cost of goods to the people.

But in recent years the average Russian has been demanding more consumer goods and under popular pressure the controllers of the state economy reached the startling conclusion that competition could make more good of a better quality available to the average man than could a government monopoly.

And advertising became the next logical step as without advertising in some form, competition cannot exist as ads alone inform the average man of the best quality at the best price.

Perhaps advertising will produce further changes.

Once the marketplace is freed by competition and advertising, the taste of freedom by the average citizen can sooner or later lead to a government of freedom.

Every day, he's here after a buck or two, here after some tobacco.

A smile and a handshake

Sympathetic guards try to help inmates in medium security jail

TORONTO (CP) — A smile and a handshake for prisoners being processed into Ontario's medium-security reformatory at suburban Mimico struck correctional officer Eric Ford as a bizarre idea.

The men were not used to that kind of treatment, and "I wasn't too sure how they would react," he said.

But the handshake worked. The rest of a unique project at the province's third largest reformatory under which guards are being transformed into a parapsychological team is working just as well.

Dr. Jerry Cooper, a consulting psychiatrist with the Ontario department of reform institutions, conceived the project almost a year ago and the greeting was the first step in breaking down the hostility between guards and prisoners.

"The doctor was right," Mr. Ford said. "The inmates were so surprised that I immediately had the upper hand."

That was last July. Today the whole atmosphere at Mimico is different.

Captain Lou Elinsky noticed it on the breakfast line, once the sullen beginning of another day of scarcely concealed animosity.

He doesn't hear a muttered "screw" from somewhere behind him in the dining hall. MOOD NOW CHEERFUL.

"Now, a lot of them look me right in the eye and say 'good morning,'" the captain said. "They laugh and crack jokes with each other—and the thank yous! They're even beginning to call each other mister."

Dr. Cooper said he first got the idea of using correctional officers as part of a treatment team when he noticed that most of them were not the sadistic goons of popular imagination.

"Some of them had always counselled," he said. "Not under an official program, but they did take an interest. They didn't want to be just jailers and they had a lot of know-how."

"Actually, in some ways they are in a position to do a better job than professionals such as psychiatrists and psychologists, who are often wrapped in their own little worlds."

"They are with the inmates, in the same environment."

There was also the practical consideration that correctional officers could be the answer to a chronic shortage of skilled personnel in prisons. WORKS TWO WAYS.

With the active co-operation of Mimico's superintendent, John Morris, a group of guards chosen for their sympathetic understanding began working with prisoners in groups and individually.

Originally, there were eight guards involved in the project. Now, there are 10 and another five are eager to join their colleagues. About 48 prisoners take part in the program.

"Actually, the program does us as much good as it does the inmates," an officer said during one of the weekly meetings during which the guards talk over their problems.

During these meetings, Dr. Cooper remains in the background. He is quick to point out that the responsibility for the program lies with the correctional officers themselves.

"Sometimes they ask my advice and sometimes I offer it," he said. "They don't always agree with my solutions, but that's okay too. After all, they're the ones in the front lines."

Could be used as food

Some wool for dinner anyone?

AUCKLAND (CP)—How about a nice skein of wool for dinner? The prospect is not as fantastic as it sounds.

Dyed-in-the-wool New Zealanders, accustomed to a ride to prosperity on the sheep's back, have lately been dealt a series of shocks over their principal export.

The price of wool fell steeply last year. Much of the season's clip was not sold and at one time thought was even given to dumping it in the sea to maintain prices.

Now scientists seriously suggest that the future of wool could be as food rather than as a fibre. It is enough to make a patriotic New Zealander gnaw his socks. Actually, wool prices are showing signs of recovery. Even so, the industry is worried that before too long it may be possible to produce a synthetic fibre with all the desirable qualities of natural wool. But wool has the added advantage that when cleaned it is almost pure protein, which is likely to be in ever greater demand in a hungry world. New Zealand scientists say that its composition is nutritionally satisfactory. Digestibility and palatability are the problems. They believe that with further work, it could be made acceptable as a constituent in food for human beings. A further encouraging feature is the discovery by Australian scientists of how to feed sheep so that they will grow two or three times more wool.

COMMENT

by Lubor J. Zink

OTTAWA — (TNS) — As long as the so-called hate literature questioning Pierre Trudeau's political background emanated primarily from the publishers of a tiny periodical called the Canadian Intelligence Service, the mass media paid little attention.

Mr. Trudeau, while cracking an occasional joke about his alleged left-wing radicalism before 1965, remained silent about the pamphlets, which by the time of the Liberal leadership convention included one written by Igor Gouzenko (the one-time cipher clerk at the Soviet embassy in Ottawa whose revelations led to the smashing of an elaborate Communist spy network in Canada and the United States).

The silence remained unbroken until last week when what purports to be a summary of Mr. Trudeau's political background appeared in a pamphlet issued by the Canadian Council of Evangelical Protestant Churches.

Apparently stung by this latest questioning of his past which can hardly be blamed on the "extreme rightists," Mr. Trudeau lashed back. He said that there is no place for this kind of literature in a free society and ascribed its origin to "all kinds of sick people."

Questioning is necessary

These are interesting statements. For if questioning of the political philosophy and actions of a man seeking the highest office in the land were to be forbidden in a free society, how free and how secure would that society be?

It should be noted that none of the questions raised by the probers of Mr. Trudeau's political past concerns his private life. It should also be noted that virtually all the questions and doubts raised in the various pamphlets are based either on quotations from Mr. Trudeau's published writings or on verified events.

Interpretation of those quotations and events may be a matter of debate, but that's what free exchange of views is about. To dismiss what in essence is legitimate political criticism as "hate literature" emanating from "sick people" is a well-known totalitarian practice. The method is used extensively by the Soviet authorities who either jail their domestic critics or declare them "mentally sick" and put them in lunatic asylums.

Unable to do the same in the free countries, the Communists and their dupes try to discredit and destroy their opponents by calling them "lunatic rightists," "dangerous reactionaries," "McCarthyites" and "fascists."

The technique has been so successful that by now few politicians and journalists in the democracies dare to take a strong anti-Communist stand for fear of being smothered by such labels.

Having studied the public record of Mr. Trudeau's political background I see good reason for doubts.

Granted that some of the questions raised in the pamphlets are ridiculous (e.g. those based on his choice of Harvard and the London School of Economics for his studies), but many others are not.

It is not ridiculous to ask questions about Mr. Trudeau's trip to Moscow in 1952 when such trips were pretty difficult for any Westerner.

Leftist associations

It is not ridiculous to ask questions about Mr. Trudeau's Cite Libre associations with well-known Quebec Communists and militant left-wing separatists.

It is not ridiculous or irresponsible to point out that Cardinal Leger reportedly vetoed Mr. Trudeau's university teaching appointment on account of pro-Communist leanings, and that Marcel Faribault describes his former pupil as "a socialist of the worst kind."

There can be little doubt that a man with Mr. Trudeau's background would not be hired by the Government or industry for any of the sensitive jobs in this country without a thorough security clearance. Yet the electorate is being asked to give such a man the mandate to govern Canada with no questions asked.

The implications of the questions raised about Mr. Trudeau's political philosophy and background may sound unbelievable to many Canadians. But, as the unbelievable case of Kim Philby in Britain has amply demonstrated, we live in an era which leaves no room for automatic assumptions of ideological and political allegiances even in the highest places of our society.

Had anyone written pamphlets questioning Philby's fitness for a high counter-intelligence job, he would no doubt have been denounced as a despicable peddler of "hate literature" and a "sick" person. I am not drawing any comparisons, but it seems to me

The PRAYER FOR TODAY from The Upper Room

"Wherefore, O King Agrippa, I was not disobedient to the heavenly vision." (Acts 26:19, RSV)

PRAYER: Father, may I not be disobedient to that which I know to be the right way. Make me sensitive to the many opportunities for service in Thy name. Give me the courage to undertake the difficult as well as the pleasant tasks. Amen.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Diatoms, microscopic plants of the Algae group, are among nature's most beautiful and ecologically important creations. Diatoms are encased in exquisitely designed siliceous shells, which collect in countless quantities at the water's bottom, helping to form rich oil deposits. The World Almanac says. Besides being a major source of food for sea life, diatoms give off most of the earth's oxygen.

PAINTING BEE — The men of St. Paul's United Church in Waterloo organized an old fashioned work bee to spruce up the manse in time for the church's centennial in October. About 20 men worked on different nights to give the large house a fresh coat of cream colored paint. The job was started on June 10th and was finished on June 18th. (Record photo: Marcel Cote)

Artists will be at school

SUTTON (Special) — Guest artists at Kenlynden Pottery Vacation School, Old Notch Road, Sutton, for the first half of July will be Anita Aarons and Merton Chambers of Toronto.

Miss Aarons, in private life Mrs. Merton Chambers, is Allied Arts Editor of "Architecture Canada" and a teacher of design at the Ontario College of Art. After many years of teaching in Australia, where she made a name for herself as a sculptor and designer of jewellery, Miss Aarons came to Canada four years ago, settling in Toronto after travelling across the country from coast to coast.

Mr. Chambers, a native of Ontario, is a graduate of the Ontario College of Art and is best known for his architectural ceramics and large planters, although he is also a successful designer and maker of batiks. He has travelled and studied extensively in Europe as a holder of a Canada Council Grant.

Morning classes at Kenlynden Pottery Vacation School are held from Monday to Friday and are available on a daily basis as well as the weekly residential plan with practice time in the afternoons if desired.

Dunham

Those from here who attended the Mixed Shower in honor of Mr. Murray Rowse and Miss Francine Allard, held in the Yamaska Hotel on June 5 were Mr. and Mrs. Roland Allard, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Allard, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Allard, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. McCrum, Mr. and Mrs. H. Piette and Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Selby.

Stanbridge East Institute meets

STANBRIDGE EAST — The Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Asa Stote for the June meeting with 20 members and one guest present. The president, Mrs. C. Rhicard, asked that a few moments of silence be observed in tribute to the late Senator Robert Kennedy. Mrs. Rhicard expressed the hope that none of those present would ever by thought, word or deed, contribute to the hatred and prejudices that might lead to similar violence in our own country.

The roll call, a practical hint, cooking, sewing, or household, was well responded to and many practical ideas and remedies were given. A letter of thanks was read from Mr. Renie, principal of Stanbridge East Consolidated School, for assistance given at the school classes in cooking and sewing.

An appeal for members to sew for Red Cross was received from Miss G. Heney, who has received a shipment of little girls' cotton dresses, all cut and ready to stitch by machine, from Red Cross headquarters. Several members are now knitting and crocheting squares for afghans for the Red Cross.

Dunham Guild rummage sale

DUNHAM — The Ladies Guild of All Saints Anglican Church met recently at the home of Mrs. Jack Minnis. Three guests were present, Miss Symington, Mrs. H. Boomhower and Mrs. Lacroix.

The treasurer reported the sum of $45.10 realized from the rummage sale. Since many articles were left over, tentative plans are being made to hold another sale in the fall. In invitation from the Helping Hands of Frelighsburg, was extended to the Guild to attend a meeting in June. Rev. Toase thanked the ladies for serving refreshments following the confirmation service.

Miss Grant will hostess the next meeting at the Dunham Ladies College on June 26. Mrs. Minnis served refreshments.

Cowansville

The final 500 Club party was entertained by Mrs. Gerry Parent at the home of Mrs. Gert Barrand, as co-hostess. A pleasant evening was spent. Prizes were won by Mrs. Margaret Hamilton, Mrs. Gert Barrand and Mrs. Pearl Brock. Refreshments were served.

Mrs. Roger St. Louis has returned home from the B.M.P. Hospital. Miss Julie Gagne, Montreal, assistant to Pioneers of the Bell Telephone Company, visited the retired Bell employees here.

Bedford horticultural society holds an executive meeting

BEDFORD (Special) — On Monday June 17, a meeting of the executive of the Bedford Horticultural Society was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Harland, with president, H. L. Stone conducting the meeting.

Mrs. Harland reported that the society has 76 members. Several letters were read, one from W. Rhicard who is a patient in the Montreal General Hospital, and one from J. Laing, thanking the society for their sympathy at the time of the death of his mother Mrs. Rose Laing.

The treasurer, Miss Margaret Beauvais, reported that prizes at the recent flower show had been sent out, amounting to $91. W. Reid of Hemmingford was the judge. The president thanked all those who had helped with the flower show directed by D Rhicard of Stanbridge East.

Mrs. Roy Cook will be in charge of the flower show at the Missisquoi County Agricultural Society's exhibition which will be held August 10-11. Mrs. Cook was appointed to look after the revision and preparation of the prize list for the flower show.

The president expressed thanks and appreciation to Mrs. Mildred Short, Mrs. Roy Cook, Mr. and Mrs. George Harland, for their work in planting and arranging the flowers for the summer. The flowers are in containers at the churches and on the streets. They are also in the square and on the hill opposite the post office.

The next executive meeting will be held at the arena on August 6, and the general meeting will be in September.

An invitation to a luncheon was received by the society. The luncheon will be held June 26 at the Helene de Champlain restaurant on Ile Ste. Helene. The week of June 24-29 has been proclaimed as national rose week by the Canadian Rose Society. A new rose, the Royal Canadian, will be introduced at the luncheon, it's been called the sweetest rose, this side of heaven. A royalty from the sale of the Royal Canadian Rose and other allied products will be donated to the Vanier Institute of the Family.

The guest speaker for the luncheon will be Dr. Wilder Penfield, who is president of the Vanier Institute.

The meeting concluded with the serving of refreshments by the hostess.

SIGN CONTRACT — Robert Monast, Chairman of the Missisquoi Regional School Board, seated left and Dr. M. Cedric Mooney, Chairman of the District of Bedford Regional School Board, signed the major contracts for construction of the jointly owned school, at the Cowansville Town Hall, June 18. Final meeting of season held by Legion LA

WATERLOO — The Ladies' Auxiliary of Legion Branch 77 met on June 11 with 17 members, four charter members and four guests present.

The final meeting before the fall showed a satisfactory bank balance in the general account and concession account. The ladies will have a busy summer of catering but will not have a general meeting until Sept. 10.

Mrs. Roxie Cote, welfare and sick chairman, reported that two cards and flowers had been sent. Mrs. Grace Rainville reported on the recent veterans' visit.

After a brief explanation of the proposed social service center for Waterloo, which is only in its beginning stages, two ladies volunteered to represent the Auxiliary on a working committee. They are: Mrs. Isabel Tryhorn and Miss Myrna Fraser.

Publicity chairman, Mrs. J. Champagne, reported that pictures of the veterans' visit had been sent to the Legionary and to the ward at Ste. Anne's Hospital, as well as to the local papers.

The meeting was followed by a social hour, with four tables of 500, one of bridge, and one playing cribbage. Prizes were won by Mrs. Mildred McCullough, Mrs. Audrey Blampin, Mrs. Christine Singfield, Mrs. I. Tryhorn, Mrs. Hilda Hadd, and Mrs. Georgette Long.

Donors to the Ste. Anne's parcel for the month are Mrs. Dorothy Tibbitts, Mrs. Christine Tryhorn, Mrs. Beatrice Racicot and Mrs. Audrey Blampin.

Military Taxicabs

In 1914, Gen. Gallieni organized the famous "taxicab army" of Paris to move troops from that city to the Marne River to halt the Germans at the first battle of the Marne.

Bedford social notes

The flowers in St. James Church on June 16 were in memory of Miss Mildred Steel, given by the members of her family.

Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth Trickey, with their children, Philip and Ronnie, are spending several weeks holidays at Cape Cod, Mass. During Mr. Trickey's absence the services were taken on June 16 by Col. Fee of Montreal, padre with the and Stanbridge East, Rev. Mr. Armed Forces and on June 23 Lake, Longueuil, and Mrs. Lake a lay reader, Mr. F. H. Hodgson, Montreal, officiated at the manse committee in the services at Bedford and Philipsburg church hall.

On June 15 a congregational Miss Cheryl Best, Montreal, picnic for the Bedford Wesley was with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Best for the week-end with the Sunday School, at the East Dunham beach. Messrs. William MacArthur and Ewart the Bedford charge, comprising Martin were in charge of transportation.

a big, smooth,
Ambassador
with FREE air conditioning.

On those days when it's so hot and muggy you can almost cut it with a knife, there's nothing to compare with the joy of driving home in an air conditioned car.

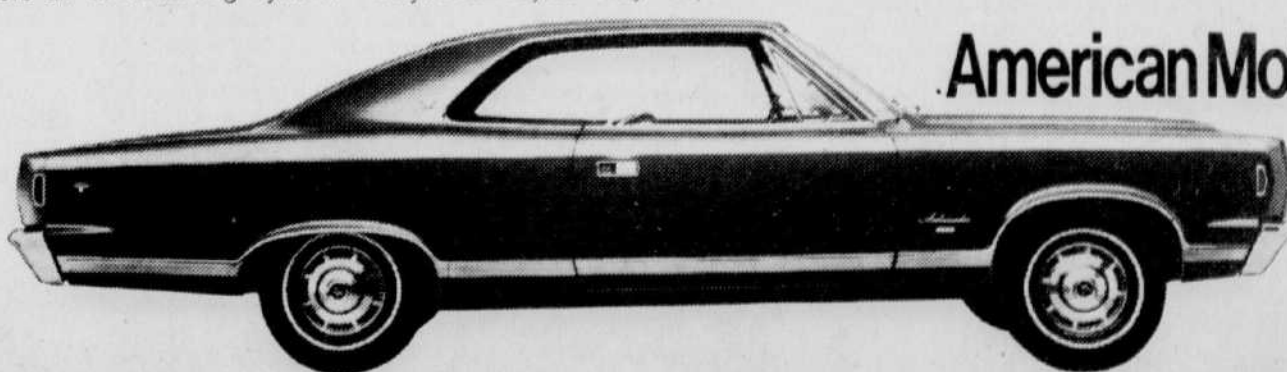

American Motors understands. That's why we put Kelvinator air conditioning into every Ambassador... free! Everyone should be cool. The other manufacturers don't go along with us on this. They all want more for a car with a comparable air conditioning system.

	Ambassador	Ford	Chevrolet	Plymouth
Standard Equip. Air Conditioning?	YES	NO	NO	NO
Extra Cost of Air Conditioning	NIL	$394.	$458.30	$441.15

Well, we've led the industry before... in rustproofing... in compacts... in single unit construction. Now, it's air conditioning. Maybe some year they'll follow. Who knows?

In the meantime, though, you get two advantages. The sheer pleasure of driving an air conditioned car, plus the increase in trade-in value... just because your car is air conditioned.

On the way home from work tomorrow, stop in at an American Motors dealer and take a test drive in a cool one... a 1968 Ambassador. Then ask yourself: "Why should I suffer when I can get air conditioning free?" Why indeed.

THREE-PENNY BIT A nipped-in jacket in brown-and-white herringbone joins with an A-line tweedy skirt and dark brown jersey blouse (left). This is by Chuck Howard. From Junior Sophisticates comes the great coat (center) teamed with the great dress. Tom Nassore and June Frances designed this in a giant plaid for the coat and combined that with a lesser plaid for the long torso dress that bounces out to a rounded skirt. Davidow interprets the classics (right) in this unusual 100 per cent Italian silk plaid suit in brown and black. It has new longer jacket and bias tab pocket detail.

Tsoukanas-Hall wedding

MONTREAL — The marriage of Shirley Gene, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Hall, Magog and Mr. Athanasios Tsoukanas, elder son of Mrs. H. Tsoukanas and the late Mr. H. Tsoukanas took place recently in St. George's Greek Orthodox Cathedral, Montreal. Father S. Athanasoulas officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The church was decorated with standards of white gladioli and candelabra of white candles; the guest pews were marked with white satin bows.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore an original floor-length semi-fitted A-line gown of white silk, the long sleeves and hem trimmed with Viennese lace looping. Her chapel-length veil of silk illusion was held by a coronet of matching Viennese lace and her bouquet, a cross-shaped arrangement of white carnations, baby rosebuds, centered with an orchid.

Mrs. T. A. Stinch, as matron-of-honor, was in a floor-length sapphire blue gown, empire-style bodice, with short sleeves. She carried a colonial bouquet of white mums circled with daisies.

Miss Katherine Samios, god-child of the groom, the flower girl, wore a dress identical to that of the matron-of-honor and she carried a basket of flower petals. The headpieces of both attendants were bows of identical material.

Mr. Elias Tsoukanas, brother of the groom, acted as best man and Messrs. John and William Hall were the ushers.

Mrs. George P. Hall, mother of the bride, chose a two-piece suit-dress, fashioned by Dior, of fine English worsted wool. She wore navy blue accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. H. Tsoukanas, the groom's mother, wore a powder blue brocade dress and coat ensemble with matching hat and accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Following the ceremony the receiving line took place in the church, where friends and relatives could offer their good wishes. 'Bon bonnaires' were presented to guests on leaving the church, as is the Greek custom.

The reception was held at the Huroiniere Room of the Chateau Champlain, where a dinner party combining the Canadian and Greek traditions was enjoyed by all.

Telegrams were read from Greece, Magog, the Allan Memorial Hospital and from Holland.

Later, the newly-weds left for their honeymoon, the bride travelling in a rose-beige shift under a white coat, highlighted with rose-beige and grey accents. She wore navy blue accessories and an orchid corsage.

Guests were from Montreal, Magog, Rhode Island, Shawinigan Falls, Quebec.

READY FOR THE CAMERA — With a tug of Pink Sensation tiara the daisy bearing flower-girl is ready for the cameras. The bridal bouquet is a semi-cascade of white feathered carnations in garlands of ivy. The trend in summer bridal bouquets, is to less formal styling. Her basket, a special FTC design won't tip, spill or show the wrong side of the flowers. (Photo by Malak, Ottawa)

D'Youville LA sponsors festival for patients

On Sunday, June 16, the Ladies Auxiliary of D'Youville Hospital held its annual holiday festival for all the patients.

Due to weather conditions, all activities were held indoors, much to the disappointment of the patients, who look forward to this yearly outing.

At 2 p.m. the program was underway with a word of welcome by Mrs. Philippe Roy, to all patients, visitors and fathers, the latter being mentioned as that Sunday was 'Father's Day.'

Music, singing and dancing progressed throughout the hospital, providing entertainment for the 370 patients.

The Honolulu Trio, along with several young Honolulu dancing girls, contributed much entertainment and was greatly appreciated by the sick.

This group donated its time freely to the hospital.

In other sections of the hospital a group of folk dancers, the 'Arlequins,' provided the patients with an assortment of dances to the accompaniment of a choice selection of music.

Some 20 young singing Girl Guides, sponsored by the Lions Club of Sherbrooke, circulated throughout the hospital providing cheer to the patients.

While all these entertainers were busy themselves from floor to floor, about 30 Auxiliary members and friends were divided into groups, with each three-some being given a certain area to cover within the hospital.

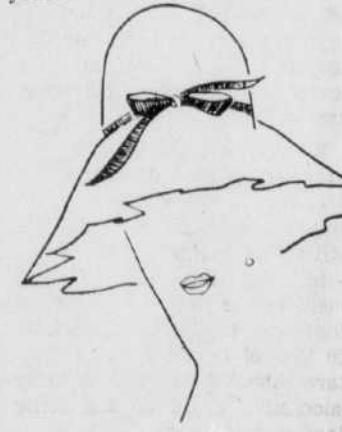

Paper plates, donated by Mrs. E. Kirk, were individually arranged with a fresh spring flower, an assortment of home-baked cookies, donated by Auxiliary members, an ample portion of fruit and a cool soft drink. Each patient was given his plate by an Auxiliary lady, who pinned a flower to his or her bed-jacket.

The emotion shown by many of the patients, brought the realization of how precious a small gesture can be to them.

By 4 p.m. each of the 370 patients had been visited. The hospital resumed its usual atmosphere and the 'Lawn Social' had ended for another year.

Models bring charm to scene

NEW YORK (Reuters)—More and more foreign models are picking up dollars, prestige and wider experience in return for bringing foreign charm to the American modelling scene.

British, West German, Italian and Scandinavian beauties see New York as the advertising centre of the world and consider the experience of working under the direction of American photographic techniques outweighs the advantage of a portfolio showing experience in London, Paris or Rome.

"It is a question of timing as well as a search for creating a name and identity for yourself," said Ursula Wunnenberg, a West German model who was working for an exclusive Paris fashion house when Wilhelmina

—one of New York's top models who runs her own agency—asked her to come to New York. "The French are no longer designing for an international clientele but exclusively for the petite French woman," she said. A model follows the markets where her image will sell, she added.

IMPRESSED BY TECHNIQUE An Irish model, McGilliga, is impressed with the approach and attitude of the photographers and technicians.

"There is a great deal of pressure here to execute a flawless product because there is so much at stake—the financial investment, the product itself, reputation of the photographer and of the model.

"It is not fun here, it's hard work."

Wilhelmina says the image in demand today is the "California girl" who wears natural makeup and spends all her time in the sun and surf on the West Coast.

She feels this "all-American" type is often found among Europeans who come here to work.

Hats are on the fashion scene

By HELEN HENNESSY
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK—NEA)—About a decade ago the beauty industry mesmerized women into believing they looked like walking dreams when their hair was teased into a towering mess. And this myth relegated the millinery industry to fashion limbo. Who could perch a hat atop a bird's nest? Even the most chic women didn't dare crush their hairdos.

I recall a reception at the French embassy in Washington about eight years ago when a lady of the press who was wearing a hat that was a HAT—all pink tulle and flowers—asked Nicole Alphonse whether she preferred small or big chapeaux. (She really did say "chapeaux.")

"Hats?" said Mme. Alphonse. "I do not wear hats. When coiffures change so that I can wear one without ruining my hair I will be delighted. But right now it's impossible."

Hairdos did change, but women had become accustomed to hatlessness. And not until now, when the total look is so important to the fashion-conscious, has the millinery business taken a giant step back into fashion prominence.

Hats are definitely back on top in the fashion scene. And young girls who never experienced the lift a perky hat can give are now experiencing the delight their mothers enjoyed years ago.

Frank Olive who designs hats that make you feel young and pretty or young and witty talked with me about why hats are again in big demand.

"Today's woman," he said, "has a closet full of basic wardrobes. Now she buys to wear frills and soft colors. They have had tough chic ever since they have been old enough to care about fashion—you know, Harper's diamond eyebrows, that sort of thing. They're ready to look pretty."

He talked of seeing girls come into a store in the new soft look, saying they browsed around wearing $22 ruffled dresses, found a hat that was the perfect complement and bought it on the spot—kids who until now thought anything other than hair for the things that will give her pleasure. To achieve the total look she buys all the appropriate gimmicks needed and a hat is one of those."

Olive believes that a girl goes into a store today and buys a hat because emotionally she wants it.

"Young women in their 20s," he said, "have never known what it is to be pretty, head was old hat. And it's not just the young people who have fallen victim to the hat syndrome."

"If a hat has character," Olive maintains, "it can make a woman forget that SHE has character lines in her face. It even makes her walk taller."

He believes that too many people in the industry aren't on top of what's going on in the fashion world today. Even models now wear berets, yet, Olive says, some hat firms still believe it's hairdos that are "lousing up" hats.

A dozen years ago, Olive pointed out, the world didn't face the problems it has to contend with now. And whether or not anyone is concerned, he still is a part of what's going on. A designer who isn't part of the scene falls by the wayside. "A designer," he said, "must be as mobile as the front page of a newspaper."

What some designers just don't understand, Olive feels, is that Miss Tennessee is Miss Universe today. Provincialism is out.

Olive is largely responsible for the popularity of the derby for women. He went to London for ideas and saw the young kids in Chelsea having fun wearing their father's derbies. He put the derby in his line and it is still his biggest seller here.

"Costumes are a big part of today's dress—velvet pants, ruffs—clothes that are amusing. Everything you wear should relate to your mood. In a small way this offers some compensation in times when we don't live by the philosophy of saving. We exploit and destroy."

"Fashion doesn't mean shoes, hats, skirts. Fashion means change—the tempo of the times."

And today's change of tempo has certainly put the hat back on top where it belongs.

SEPARATISTS SHUFFLE — Police closed in on a group of separatists who tangled with some NDP supporters after the socialist refused to join in the separatist chants. Prime Minister Trudeau was making an east-end street rally address Friday night in the Montreal riding of Hochelaga, when the scuffle broke out. Police carted off the small group of separatists before further trouble erupted. (CP Wirephoto)

Poor nations grow high-yield cereals

HAMILTON (CP) — The annual convention of the Agricultural Institute of Canada was told Monday that high-yield cereal crops are being grown successfully in underdeveloped nations.

Ralph W. Cummings, associate director for agricultural sciences at the Rockefeller Foundation in New York, said new technology in the production of cereal crops is beginning to progress.

Varieties now have been planted by Rockefeller workers on 15,000,000 acres in India and 90,000,000 acres in Pakistan plus lesser lots in the Philippines and Turkey.

Wheat varieties used in the program were developed in Mexico and rice varieties at the International Rice Research Institute in the Philippines.

Mr. Cummings said the rice institute has developed varieties that have produced as much as 20 tons of unhulled rice a hectare (about 2.5 acres) for three successive crops on the same land within a year.

Morning fire destroys a barn

BROMPTONVILLE — (Staff) — Fire completely destroyed the barn of Fernand Normandin, RR 1, Bromptonville, early Sunday morning.

The fire, which broke out at 2 a.m., caused an estimated $6,000 damage, police officials stated yesterday.

The fire did not reach the house as men of the Bromptonville Fire Brigade worked to keep the flames from spreading.

Bromptonville fire Chief Jacques Arguin was in charge of the men.

There were no animals killed in the blaze and no one was injured.

The two fire trucks returned to the station at 3:15 a.m.

In Memoriam

SHUFELT — In sad and loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother, Evelyn Shufelt, who left us on June 25, 1968.

Just a thought from those who loved you.
Just your memory fond and true.
In our hearts you'll live forever.
Because we thought the world of you.

Sadly missed and always remembered by

LAURA AND KEITH LAMPMAN (daughter and son-in-law)
JOYCE AND CLAUDE LAMOTHE (daughter and son-in-law)
AND GRANDCHILDREN Bedford, Que.

Card of Thanks

LUPTON — I wish to express my sincere thanks to Dr. Levesque, nurses and staff at the Hotel Dieu Hospital, Rev. Canon Colin Cuffell for his visit and my friends who came to see me and sent me cards while in the hospital. Your kindness will always be remembered.

TOM LUPTON
Stouffville, Que.

WRIGHT — We wish to thank our children and many relatives and friends for the wonderful surprise party they gave us on our 40th anniversary. For the numerous cards and phone calls we received, also the lovely cake Marcelle made for the occasion. We especially thank all for the many gifts we received, we especially thank Forest, Marcelle, Ted, Linda and Arthur Edgcombe for all the work and time they gave to make it the success it was. Also we wish to thank Mary and Elgin Decoteau, Dorothy and George Hadenko, Beth and Don Cullen and Edna and Gordon Hatch. A party would not be complete without these good friends. We also would like to remember and thank our friends of Queen Mary Chapter, for the beautiful plate and bon bon dish they presented us with, also the Temple Bowling Club. Thank you one and all.

Patrol streets

WASHINGTON (AP) — National guardsmen patrolled the curfew-emptied streets of the U.S. capital early today after disorders broke out following the forcible closing of Resurrection City.

Mayor Walt Washington declared it a state of emergency and called in 1,450 national guardsmen Monday after unruly crowds of Negro youngsters hurled bottles and rocks at police.

NOTICE TO ALL CABLE TV SUBSCRIBERS

Dear Subscribers:

Because Community Antenna Television systems (CATV) now fall under the new broadcasting act, the new Canadian Radio-Television Commission has advised us that we must comply to section 106 of the Canada Election Act, which states as follows:—

"No person, company or corporation shall, in any province before the hour of closing of the polls in such province, publish the results or purported results of the polling in any electoral district in Canada, whether such publication is by radio broadcast, or by newspaper, news-sheet, poster, billboard, handbill, or in any other manner; any person contravening the provisions of this section (and in the case of a company or corporation any person responsible for the contravention thereof) is guilty of an illegal practice and of an offence against this Act."

Since we have to obey this new law, we will have to remove all C.A.T.V. television stations from our service for the period of time beginning 6:30 p.m. Tuesday evening, June 25th until 8 o'clock the same day. This is of course, the closing hours of the Canadian polling stations, throughout the province of Quebec.

Respectfully Yours,

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

All good bridge players are lucky. At least they make skill look like luck.

When North put down the dummy, he remarked, "I have all my bids." South might have replied, "At least you made all your bids, but you did not have them."

North's two spade raise was correct but it was also a minimum raise and he should have signed off from then on.

South saw all this but his attention was concentrated on finding the best way to bring the slam home. There was no way to avoid the loss of a club trick so he had to be lucky in both spades and hearts.

After South won with the diamond ace he led dummy's jack of spades. East played low and West dropped the 10. From then on it was just a matter of mopping up. South repeated the spade finesse, drew trumps, cashed one high heart just in case there might be a singleton queen and eventually took the heart finesse to make his contract.

A spectator asked, "Didn't you take the wrong percentage play when you led the jack of spades instead of a low one? Suppose East had held a singleton king?"

South replied, "In that case I would have thrown the contract out the window. As the cards actually lay, the low spade lead would have been fatal. I would have had to go back to dummy for a second spade finesse and would have been unable to get back again for the heart finesse. I was lucky to find the cards as they were but I had decided that West was more likely to hold a singleton spade than East. Of course, if the singleton spade had been the king, I could not have made my contract but the singleton spade turned out to be the 10."

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Nervous Tension, Diet May Aggravate Ileitis

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—What is Crohn's disease?

My aunt was operated on for this two years ago but now another operation is necessary. Does it always recur?

A—Crohn's disease (regional ileitis or regional enteritis) is an inflammation of isolated areas of the ileum or lower part of the small intestine. In about one-third of the victims who have an acute attack, recovery is complete. In the rest, the disease becomes chronic. Almost half of those from whom the diseased areas are removed have recurrences.

Q—What causes ileitis? Is it the same as colitis? Is it hard for a doctor to detect it in its early stages? Is surgery necessary? Is there a specific diet for it? Are the nerves or the mentality damaged by it? Is it hereditary?

A—The cause is unknown but nervous tension and a diet high in roughage will aggravate it. It is similar to colitis, which is an inflammation of the colon or large intestine. It is not hard to diagnose if a doctor considers it in a patient who has chronic diarrhea, fever, loss of weight, abdominal cramps, blood in the stools and an iron deficiency anemia, and if he rules out other conditions that produce similar findings.

A bland, low-residue diet is an important part of the treatment. The disease does not affect the victim's nerves or mentality and it is not hereditary.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Birchton U.C.W. sees slides

BIRCHTON — The June meeting of the U.C.W. was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rogers. Chairman of the meeting, Mrs. Howard Picard, opened the meeting with a Biblical theme, ending with an article entitled, "Living one day at a time, followed by an impressive prayer."

Since members had been requested to give serious thought to the urgent question of Long Range Planning for the Church, Rev. J. A. Filshie, introduced by Mrs. J. A. Murray, showed a film strip depicting how the Church had become a much-wanted part of pioneering days.

It was emphasized that a congregation, group or company must be successful, have goals, objectives, with observed results. In the discussion following, it was realized that the present day society, to quote President, L. B. Johnson, "the world over, has desperate need of committed men to embark on the task of carrying out God's Purpose."

There is urgent need of more lay participation in all phases of the work of the Church, since there continues to be a decrease in the number of ministers amid the "population explosion," it was stressed.

The president, Mrs. George Latewood, expressed the group's appreciation to Mr. Filshie.

Favorable comments were expressed on the new floral arrangements in the church. Encouraging reports were received from the standing committees: a tentative date of Oct. 19 was set for the fall supper; report of 18 boxes sent to Wilfare; contributions to the MacDonald College Summer School Fund received by its treasurer, Mrs. Stanley Logan.

Mrs. Howard Picard, reported for the directors, that at a recent meeting it was decided to repair the church wall, clean the pipes, sell the two rolls of hemp carpet, continue plans to sell the antique organ, and line both stoves in the Church with fire brick.

After the closing of the meeting, a social hour and refreshments were enjoyed, during which Mrs. Stanley Taylor entertained with reading two poems from a New Hampshire State School Bulletin, this she was asked to repeat at the July meeting to be held in the hall.

Mrs. Rogers' assisting hostess was Mrs. Howard Picard.

Auxiliary of Wales Home holds annual meeting

RICHMOND — The annual meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Wales Home was held on June 11 in the Parish Hall of St. Anne's Anglican Church with 16 members present.

The president, Mrs. George Walker, was in the chair and the treasurer's report showed a substantial balance.

Mrs. Ronald Butler, in charge of Home Shop, gave an interesting account of goods sold and profits made.

Satisfactory reports were given on: First, monthly birthday teas; second, drives which residents enjoyed during the summer with those who loaned cars; third, weekly Friday afternoon teas and last the well organized Home Shop, which is open two afternoons each week.

Suggestions were made for improved use of the cart which serves patients in the infirmary.

The annual reception in August was planned with date to be announced.

Yankees belt Senators 12-6 as Indians stop White Sox, two games tonight in LL

In the Sher-Lenn Little League played over the weekend Yankees took a 12-6 win over Senators while Indians dumped White Sox 11-6. Tonight Tigers travel to Lennoxville to take on the Yankees and at the Parade Grounds Senators meet the Red Sox.

Yankees had to come from behind in their game with the Senators. They were trailing 3-1 at the end of two. Pierre Provencier, of the Senators, hit a home run with two men aboard in the bottom of the second inning to score three runs. Yankees got their run in the second on a hit by Hartwell.

In the top of the third, Yankees came up with three hits, one of them a home run by J. R. Goyette good for three runs putting them ahead 4-3. Randy Warner hurling for the Yankees kept the Senators off the score board for the next two innings.

Yankees built up their lead getting four runs in the fourth and fifth innings. Senators in the last of the sixth, on hits by Rejean Dostie and Marcel Morin, got their last two runs, Yankees taking it 12-6. Warner in his win had nine strikeouts.

Five bases on balls, issued by S. Delisle and his relief man D. Doyon, coupled with a three bagger by R. Cabana got the Indians away to an 8-0 lead in their game with the White Sox in the top of the opening inning. They added one more on a home run in the second by Yves Longpre and finished up with two more in the first part of the sixth.

White Sox had one run in the second, three in the third and two in the fifth. D. Choquette was the winning pitcher with Delisle the loser.

Cincinnati downs Mets 6-5, Cubs lose again

Lee May of Cincinnati Reds experimented with his batting stance Monday night. This led New York Mets to wonder whether a first division stand really is an impossible dream.

May put the Mets' opportunity to reach the .500 level in jeopardy with a three-run homer in the sixth. Then he squelched everything with a run-scoring triple in the 11th that gave Cincinnati a 6-5 victory.

Chicago Cubs suffered their fourth straight loss—3-1 to Houston Astros in the only other National League game. Pittsburgh at St. Louis was rained out.

"I've come up with this new stance," said May. "On right-handed pitchers, I open my stance and I can hit the outside pitch better. On left-handers, I tighten my stance and wait until the last possible second."

May did just that off lefty reliever Bill Short in lining the triple down the right field line that sent in Johnny Bench, who had singled.

Als down Royals twice at home as Thetford splits to remain in first Enrique Chaviano's arm and a prolific batting attack earned the Sherbrooke Alouettes two home game wins over Drummondville on the weekend. While on the road the locals were trounced 9-0 in Granby. Sunday afternoon the Als embarrassed the Royals 15-5 while last night Chaviano blanked Drummondville 4-0.

In other Provincial League play all Saturday's scheduled tilts were rained out. Drummondville won two games over the long weekend, downing Granby 9-2 yesterday afternoon and trouncing Lachine 9-1. Thetford split two tilts, taking the Plessisville Braves 5-3 and dropping a 5-2 decision to Quebec. Lachine downed Plessisville 10-5.

Tonight Thetford is at Lachine, Quebec is at Drummondville and Plessisville will travel to Granby. The Als' next home game is tomorrow evening at the Park Avenue Stadium when they meet the Quebec Indians at 8 p.m.

In Sunday afternoon's tilt, which was called after seven complete innings of play, the Als scored 15 runs on 17 hits to walk past the Royals 15-5. The game was called early, a decision reached by league officials prior to game time, so that local organizers of the St. Jean Baptist Day celebrations could prepare the Park Avenue Stadium for Sunday evening's festivities.

Sierra, Als' starter, went all the way, giving up 10 hits and four free passes, to earn the win. Nineteen-year-old Royals' starter, Mike Young, was given the loss.

The game, which offered little excitement after the first three innings, amused the fans. In the fourth inning when Gilles St. Onge picked up an inside-the-park homer, no error was accorded on the play.

St. Onge, with Ridley on first and two away, slammed a hard shot into left-centre. Royals' outfielders George Gmelch and Hector Soto smashed head-on while in pursuit of the ball.

Both fell to the ground, unconscious. Second baseman Frank Pignataro tore out to left-center but his relay home was not in time and St. Onge walked home.

Als' shortstop Pace followed with a homer over the left-field wall. Both St. Onge and Pace had doubles prior to their home runs.

St. Onge led the Sherbrooke crew with two singles, a double and the homer, scored a run and picked up six RBIs. Ridley was two-for-two, was walked three times, had two runs batted in and scored three times.

Willie Madison was three for four while new acquisition Dick Wiecezak impressed local supporters with three hits on five trips to the plate. The youngster singled twice and doubled, picked up an RBI and scored three runs.

Walter James led the way for Drummondville with three singles on four trips to the plate. Steve Jones relieved Young in the third, after the youngster had given up six runs and nine hits. Jones had nine runs scored on him on seven hits and three walks. Only seven runs were earned. Both homers were hit off Jones.

In last night's encounter Chaviano stole the show springing out eight hits to earn his fifth victory of the campaign, three being shutouts, as against one setback. Chaviano's arm was backed up in the early innings by an alert Alouettes' infield.

Mike Young went all the way for the Royals again last night, allowing eight hits, four walks and striking out four. His cause was hampered as the Royals' infield committed three errors, two of these costing runs.

Als' opened the scoring in the bottom of the second on back-to-back doubles by Sabather and St. Onge. Sherbrooke picked up their second run in the third when Madison singled, went to second on an error, and to third on a single by Sonny Pace.

Madison scored as a result of a double steal set-up as Pace attempted to take second. The throw was in time to get Pace but Madison walked home safely.

Again in the fifth the locals, using a Dodger-type scratch hit and run type offense, pecked away to score another run. De Leon led off with a single. Madison moved the runner to second and was safe on an error on the throw by second baseman Pignataro. Pace advanced the runners on a fielders choice.

and-run type offense, pecked walked. Sabather followed with a grounder to shortstop Hughes who relayed the ball to the second baseman, picking off Felipe. An error on the throw to first by Pignataro scored the run.

Chaviano doubled home Borrome in the sixth to close out the scoring. Alouettes' heavies with the bat last night were Willie Madison with a pair of singles on four attempts, two stolen bases, an RBI and a run scored. Borrome was one for three and scored a run while Sabather and St. Onge doubled with Sabather scoring a run.

Hughes had two singles on four trips to the plate for Drummondville.

Detroit trounces Cleveland 14-3 as A's nip Twins 3-2

Detroit Tigers' Jim Northrup exploded from a long slump and tied a major league record Monday night by hitting two grand slam homers.

His performance at the plate helped the American League-leading Tigers to a 14-3 victory over second-place Cleveland Indians.

Elsewhere, Reggie Jackson's three-run homer and Ed Sprague's brilliant relief pitching carried Oakland Athletics past California Angels 3-2 and Minnesota Twins nipped Chicago White Sox 1-0 behind Dean Chance in a rami-curtailed game.

In the fifth inning, Northrup drilled the first offering of knuckleballer Eddie Fisher over the right field fence, clearing the bases, and then unloaded another first-pitch grand slam off southpaw Hill Rohr in the sixth.

His efforts tied the two-in-one game mark previously shared by six others. Of the six, only Baltimore's Jim Gentile, in 1961, had hit a pair in successive innings.

TOOK NO CHANCES When Northrup came up again in the eighth, reliever Willie Smith walked him on four pitches. He struck out in the first and third innings.

Northrup's eighth RBI and Jim Price's first major league homer helped Denny McLain breeze to his 13th victory in 15 decisions and sent the Tigers 7½ lengths ahead of the AL pack.

Jackson's sixth inning homer erased a 2-0 California lead and John Odom took a four-hitter into the ninth before two walks forced his exit. Sprague, a side-wheeling rookie, took over and walked Leo Rodriguez on four pitches, filling the bases with nobody out.

Sprague then got Bubba Morton to tap into a force at the plate before Bob Rodgers grounded into a game-ending double play.

California's Rick Clark held the Athletics hitless until the sixth, when Rick Monday walked, Sal Bando singled and Jackson smashed his eighth homer over the centre field fence. The loss was Clark's eighth without a victory.

John Roseboro's fourth-inning single off Bob Priddy scored Bob Allison, who had singled and stolen second, with the only run Chance needed in the Twins-White Sox squeaker at Milwaukee. Chance, (7-8), allowed three hits before rami-half play at the end of the fifth.

Armand Dussault wins Joe Colby, field of 144 competed in event

Armand Dussault of the Sherbrooke Country Club emerged the winner in the Joe Colby Memorial Tournament at the Sherbrooke Country Club Saturday when he fired a 71 less his four handicap for a net of 67.

A field of 144 golfers turned out for the event despite the rainy condition of the course. There was a slight drizzle all day but even with this some very good scores were posted. Arnold Baker, also of the host club, copped the honors for the low gross of the field with his 21-25 section with 67 while in the final class, 26-32, M. Dumas of the Mt. Orford Club emerged the winner with a net of 67.

In the gross division of the tournament Arnold Baker copped the low gross while Paul Cordeau took second in the AA class with 78. In the B section it was a two-way tie between G. Fleury of Drummondville and Jean-Guy Dion each with 82. M. Fortin was the low winner in the BB class with 88.

In class C Norman Gauthier of the Country Club was the winner with an 89. He also registered a hole-in-one at the ninth hole when he dropped his tee shot using a seven iron. Grant Sheltus took the CC section with an even 100 strokes.

Sandra Post defeats Kathy Whitworth in playoff to take Ladies' PGA tourney

Her parents and golfing colleagues warned Sandra Post not to expect much success during her first year on the women's professional golf tour. How wrong they were!

The Oakville girl Monday defeated Kathy Whitworth in an 18-hole playoff to win the Ladies' Professional Golf Association title and $3,000 in Sutton, Mass.

The first Canadian girl to play on the professional tour, Miss Post was told by her parents and other golfers that she would have trouble breaking even financially.

But Sandra, 20, joined the tour in February and has cashed a cheque in each of the 11 tournaments in which she has played.

Miss Whitworth, who also is president of the LPGA, said Monday that Miss Post should continue to swell her bank account.

"There's no weak point in Sandra's game that I can find. In fact, I was kind of surprised that at her age she could play such a variety of shots."

It's not surprising to many Canadians, especially those in southern Ontario, that Miss Post is doing so well. Her father started teaching her the fine points of golf when she was only five.

BROKE 100 AT NINE He told her that when she broke 100, she could start playing competitive golf. She shot under 100 at the age of nine.

Sandra's mother said in an interview Monday that her daughter worked hard to master her game.

"She had lot of natural ability, and her dad gave her many hours of help."

Miss Post first caused a stir in golfing circles when she won the Canadian junior title when she was 14. That was only the beginning.

Sandra went on to win the Canadian junior title three more times, the Ontario junior championship three times and the Ontario Opens once, and represented Canada on a junior team that toured England, Scotland and Wales last year.

She was on Ontario's junior team at 14 and on the senior interprovincial team while still a junior.

This winter, she captured the South Atlantic women's tournament at Ormond Beach, Fla., and tied for third place in the Harder Hall tournament at Sebring, Fla.

Her mother said Monday that Sandra is thriving on the tour.

Kathy Whitworth urged Sandra Post to turn pro

SUTTON, Mass. (AP) — Kathy Whitworth is president of the Ladies Professional Golf Association and the top money winner on the tour, but she can't be accused of any conflict of interests.

Earlier this year, Miss Whitworth convinced Sandra Post of Oakville, Ont., to turn pro. Sandy justified Kathy's confidence Monday, dethroning the LPGA president as LPGA champion.

"Sandy played super golf," Miss Whitworth said after Miss Post posted a five-under-par 68 in overwhelming the 1967 champ in an 18-hole playoff at Pleasant Valley Country Club.

"She played beautifully," Kathy said. "She was just fantastic. I've seen a lot of fine rounds, but not many like this. She just hit every shot well."

Miss Post, 20, playing her 11th tournament since joining the tour, went on a birdie spree to earn $3,000 and become the youngest player, as well as the first foreigner, to win the LPGA title.

Her eight birdies included spectacular putts on lightning slick greens and two spectacular chip shots. She used an eight-iron in chipping out from 35 feet on the 12th hole and then used a wedge on an uphill chip from 100 feet on the 16th.

FINISHES WITH 75

Miss Whitworth, 29, was two under par, but trailed by four strokes after 16 holes. Then, she gambled on the 17th and hit the water twice before taking a fat eight on the par-five hole. She finished with a 75.

"I figured I didn't have anything to lose at that stage," the tall Texan explained after collecting $2,300 and moving into the lead among LPGA money winners with an official $17-255 this year.

Miss Whitworth has known Sandy since the former Canadian junior champion was 12. They became acquainted in an exhibition match in Florida and now are close friends.

"Sandy's victory is good for the LPGA, gosh, yes," Kathy said in reply to a question. "I realized her potential long ago and was happy when she turned pro. She's one of our strongest players. She has impressed me a great deal. For a girl her age, she has a lot of knowledge."

Miss Post smiled and joked her way through 72 holes in tying Miss Whitworth at two-over-par 294 for the regulation distance.

She still was happy-go-lucky as she headed for Baltimore and a tournament this week.

"As you can well understand, this is the greatest thrill of my life," the rookie pro golfer said.

PAYS HER WAY

"We have never had to give Sandra a copper," she said. "Dad and I were going to sponsor her, but we've never had to contribute a dollar. That girl's keeping herself."

Miss Post has wanted to be a professional golfer since her childhood, and she hasn't changed her mind.

"It's wonderful," she said Monday from Sutton, Mass. "But of course, I've been very lucky this year. It's quite a life or I wouldn't be here."

"It's the best move I've ever made. I'll never regret it. I know that now."

I always wanted to be a professional golfer. I love travelling, golf and meeting people and this is the only thing to do. I think I belong out here."

Miss Post will make her only Canadian appearance of the year next month in Toronto at the Supertest Open. Then she will head back into the United States with the tour.

Unless she enjoys extraordinary success, however, Miss Post doesn't plan on a long career as a professional golfer.

"I'd like to play for two or three more years and give it all I have. Then I'll try and live a normal life . . . maybe get married."

Olympics drop close 8-6 decision to Caughnawaga, A's here Thursday night

CAUGHNAWAGA — Sherbrooke Olympics remain steadfastly tied in second place as they dropped a close 8-6 decision to the Caughnawaga Indians in Verdun Saturday evening.

In other Quebec Lacrosse League action Lawrence Martin scored six times for Valleyfield but couldn't beat Drummondville as the A's downed the Braves 14-11 in Valleyfield Sunday night. The Braves as a result remain two points behind Caughnawaga, Sherbrooke and Sorel in last place. Drummondville remains eight points ahead of these three with 18 points.

Penalties again defeated the Olympics' cause as the Indians scored seven power-play goals. On four occasions the Olympics had two men in the penalty box.

As a result of the rough duel Sherbrooke lost the services of Pierre Lepine for an indefinite period of time. Olympics' prolific young forward ingored a foot injury and aggravated its condition.

Barry Delisle who recently played a number of games with Johnny Fergusson's Montreal Canadians of the National Lacrosse Association League and Irvine Goodleaf led the scoring parade with a pair of goals each.

Lone tallies by Peter Brisebois, Pidge Norton, Bonnie Alfred and Allan Dickson rounded out the scoring. Norton who also started the season with the Canadians picked up three assists.

For the locals, Ron Thompson had the hat trick and an assist with Charlie Blair scoring twice. Johnny Hansen rounded out the scoring with a single tally. Hansen's goal was Sherbrooke's only power-play effort.

Doug Carpenter was given four minors and a misconduct. Guy Hubert also picked up 18 penalty minutes to assure him of a continuing lead in the most penalized player standings. Marc Brunet received three minors.

General manager Rosaire Letourneau was particularly annoyed at the game officiating. He blamed the loss on penalties and said he was going to speak to Coach Goudreau about the team's efforts.

He also mentioned that Richard Dagenais may rejoin the Olympics this coming weekend but no definite word has been made known as yet.

The locals have had only 20 goals scored against them in their last three games. Defensively the locals have played well but offensively Sherbrooke has got into a knack of missing goals regularly.

At present Richard Charron has a severe charley horse, Fleury recently rejoined the Olympics after being sidelined with a knee injury and Lepine has a serious foot injury.

The absence of these three men could make the Sherbrooke-Drummondville match Thursday evening at the Sports Palace a one-sided affair. Hopes for an Olympics' victory will lie in the young legs of Brian Hein, Ron Thompson and other young men who recently joined the club.

Large field forces playoff in Quebec Open

MONTREAL — A record of 212 entries for the Quebec Open Golf Championship, June 27-29th, at Islesmere, has necessitated that a qualifying round be held on Tuesday, June 25th, at the Pinegrove Golf Club.

117 professional and 97 amateur competitors have registered for the 55th challenge for the Royal Montreal Trophy awarded annually to the winner.

The event, co-sponsored by the Province of Quebec Golf Association and Carling Brewery, has attracted players from all sections of Canada who will be shooting for $12,000 in prize money, a rise from $5,000 in 1967. The Quebec Open is the second competition on the Canada-wide Carling tour which boasts $70,000 in purses.

117 of the total entry will compete for 40 positions in the starting field who will tee off at Islesmere on Thursday. Ninety-five participants have been granted exemptions based on past performances. The leading 35 scorers from the 1967 Quebec Amateur Championship at Laval were granted byes; and the top point professional winners from the Quebec Open and the Quebec P.G.A. Championship, both in 1967, were exempt from qualifying.

The tournament will be under the direction of Mike de Haerne and Ed Faubert of Islesmere and Dave Weinstein of Pinegrove.

Waverley Steps sets record of $794.20 to win

TORONTO (CP) — Waverley Steps, a three-year-old bay colt, Monday set a Canadian thoroughbred record of $794.20 when he won the fourth race at Woodbine race track.

A second place ticket was worth $235 and a third $58.80. The payoff was the sixth highest in North American thoroughbred history and the biggest since May 19, 1934, when Tycoons paid $810 at Hagerstown, Md.

The North American record is $1,885.50 set June 17, 1912 by Wishing Ring at Latonia, Ky. The Canadian record was $508.10 set Aug. 28, 1953 by Can It Yes at Exhibition Park in Vancouver.

Waverley Steps, a 397-to-1 longshot, ran leisurely near the back of the 12-horse field in the early stages of the mile race.

Owned by Cliff Wadge and Danny Shiel of Toronto and trained by Shiel, the colt began to move at the top of the stretch. He won by 1½ lengths over Phalamanda Bay.

PREVIOUS BEST 7TH

In four previous outings this year, Waverley Steps was 12th twice and 10th twice. He started three times as a two-year-old and his best finished was a seventh.

A total of $64 was bet on Waverley Steps in the $30,439 win pool. Mutuels manager Stu Warren said $22 win tickets were purchased. There also were two $5 tickets and two $4 combinations and three $6 combinations. There was only one $10 ticket on the longshot and that was for place. There also was a $5 show ticket and 21 $2 show tickets. The victory stunned the crowd of 6,189 and caught Shiel off guard. He didn't have a bet on his own horse, and Mrs. Wadge had only a small place bet.

A LUCKY KID — Kay Purdue, a five-year-old pacer, nuzzles her "good luck" friend, a two-week-old kid being the young goat in her stall, she has won two straight at Audubon Raceway. (AP Wirephoto)

Joe Frazier stops Manuel Ramos to retain his share of world title

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Frazier, staggered in the first round, retained his share of the world heavyweight title by stopping Mexico's Manuel Ramos at the end of the second round at Madison Square Garden Monday night.

The six-foot-three Mexican had been dropped for the second time late in the second round. There was some confusion as referee Art Mercante stopped the fight.

Mercante said he had counted to seven when the bell sounded and "there was some indication he had had enough but I would have stopped it anyhow."

Apparently the bell rang when Ramos was beginning to get up but in the referee's judgment the Mexican had had enough.

"His eyes looked glassy," said Mercante.

It was a wild free-swinging battle while it lasted. Both men came out swinging from the opening bell.

RIGHT SHAKES FRAZIER

In the middle of the first round, a Ramos right hand staggered Frazier. The man who owns the world title in five states faltered momentarily and then continued to hammer away with both fists.

Ramos sagged, sinking slowly to the canvas, where he took a nine count.

When he got up, the Mexican was able to slam back with his left to the body but Frazier was coming on like a champion.

A right uppercut to the chin started the barrage. Three crashing hooks to the body and another big left hook sent Ramos down again in the final seconds of the second round.

Referee Mercante counted up to seven while the Garden throbbed with noise.

RED LIGHTS ON Mercante looked into Ramos' eyes as he got up and signalled the bout was ended although the red lights on the ring posts were on, indicating the end of the round.

Mercante and judges Jack Gordon and Al Berli each gave Frazier the first round by a shade.

Under New York rules, the technical knockout was scored in the second round. In this state the minute between rounds belongs to the preceding round.

The ending was disappointing to about 1,000 Mexicans, who had made the long trip to New York to cheer their man, who weighed 208 to 203½ for Frazier.

Despite a sorry showing in training camp, the Mexican came to fight, gambling all on an early knockout. He was unable to follow up quickly when the champ wobbled in the first and that was his last real chance to win.

Frazier was making the first defence of the title he won by stopping Buster Mathis here March 4.

Frazier is recognized as world champ in New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Massachusetts and Maine.

Jimmy Ellis is the World Boxing Association champ and Mexico, which belongs to the World Boxing Council, still recognizes Cassius Clay, who is appealing his conviction for refusing to report for military duty.

FRAZIER UNBEATEN

It was the 21st straight for the unbeaten Frazier who has stopped 19 of his opponents since turning pro.

Ramos' record now is 20-7-2. He never had been knocked down in 28 previous fights. He brought a 15-fight win streak into the ring with him.

Sutton Golf Club to hold official opening on weekend

SUTTON — (Special) — The official opening of the Sutton Golf Club will take place this weekend, Saturday and Sunday, June 29 and 30.

The opening event will consist of an 18-hole tournament which can be played either day. Doctor Guy Bourgeois, club captain, Pierre Dugas, club professional, and the match committee invite all members to take part in the event. Starting time can be secured from the pro shop.

On Saturday evening there will be a dance, commencing at 9 p.m. while Sunday, after the round, cocktails will be served starting at 6:30 p.m.

The presentation of trophies and prizes to the various winners of the tournament will take place after.

The social events will take place at Auberge de Sutton and dress will be sports wear exclusively. The match committee is hoping a large crowd will be on hand for the opening tournament.

The course is reported in fine shape and the golfers who have played it rate it one of the best in the region. It is hoped that the same standards of excellence that Mont Sutton ski slopes are famous for will be reached for the golf course.

Florent Brochu's Isola Abe, driven by Florent St. Denis, copped the main dash Sunday evening at the Sherbrooke Race Track when she paced home ahead of a classy field to win in 2:07.3. It was Isola Abe's second consecutive victory having won in 2:11.1 a week ago.

Beatle Mir, the top favorite in the class, got caught in the rear of the six-horse field and couldn't get around on the last half. St. Denis jumped to the fore right from the start and set the pace the whole way leaving the others in the rear.

St. Denis, who drove a heady race, took over going to the half in 1:05 but then came back in 1:02.3 to beat out Baby Sandwich and Abe Campbell. Claude Grenier with Beatle Mir, who went off at 5-2, figured he had sufficient drive to overtake the early pace-setter.

Grenier dropped back to the rear of the platoon and after the opening half tried to overtake the front runners but St. Denis kept his steed going all out and although Abe Campbell and Baby Sandwich tried to catch him he had sufficient horse left to beat them both to the wire. It was a close race the whole way.

In the first race Sunday evening Claude Grenier and Miss Meadow Rose pulled up the winner in the first half of the double. In the second half Gilles Jutras got Fabi's Shawnee Wann home the winner and the lucky better picked up $306. It was the top payoff of the weekend.

On Saturday's card it was Centaur and Kidd's Carla Gallon who formed the double and $19.50 was collected. In the fourth it was Norm Lachance with Untouchable and Kidd's Sierra and the better collected $48.40. Untouchable paid $20.40, $9.60 and $4.90 across the board.

In the exacta, Wendle Mosher, teamed home Queen's Pardon and with Mighty Counsel paid their backers the sum of $24.10. Two of the favorites Justa Pick-up and Jeff's Star, were scratched and didn't start, leaving the field wide open.

It was a muddy track Saturday evening and the races were off but Sunday it was a different story. A crowd of 1,199 was on hand and it showed $43,694 through the betting windows. On Saturday 918 fans bet $34,572.

Miss Meadow Rose paid $19.20, $8.60 and $5.10 across the board which was tops of the evening. In the big trot Saturday Laurier Bergeron and Moon Star walked off with the dash. They were behind at the start as Moon Star broke at the gate but despite this Bergeron got his steed back on his feet and pulled around the class to win the dash.

Robert Jutras and Kory finished a strong second with Gilles Jutras and Donovan just behind. Kory didn't have enough left to stay with Moon Star, who was stepping along in fine style.

Tomorrow evening the main dash will see seven trotters battling it out for a purse of $300. A field of 77 has filed its entries for the mid-week card at the local track which is "Ladies' Night" and a good crowd is expected.

Rod Laver, Lew Hoad and Ken Rosewall return as pros at Wimbledon to take games

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Australians Rod Laver, Lew Hoad and Ken Rosewall, the whiz kids who thrilled Wimbledon as amateurs, came back as professionals Monday in the first All-England Club open championship and produced the same magic on courts soaked by rain.

Laver, the world's top money winning pro and the No. 1 seed, defeated Eugene Scott of the U.S. 6-3, 4-6, 6-3, 6-2.

Rosewall, the No. 2 seed, cruised past 38-year-old Abe Segal of South Africa, 6-3, 6-4, 6-4, while Hoad knocked out Jaidip Mukerjee of India, 6-3, 6-4, 6-2.

Seventy-eight professionals and 211 amateurs were entered for this history-making championship that has caught the imagination of the fans.

Keith Carpenter of Montreal was eliminated in the first round by Jose Arilla of Spain who beat him 6-4, 6-4, 11-13, 6-3.

NO UPSETS There were no upsets on the opening day in which six former champions—Laver, Hoad, John Newcombe of Australia, Manuel Santana of Spain, Roy Emerson of Australia and Alex Olmedo, the Peruvian pro now living in Los Angeles, were competing.

Newcombe defeated fellow Australian pro Owen Davidson, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4, 6-3, while Santana beat Hans Joachim Plotz of West Germany, 6-0, 6-4, 6-4. Emerson downed Ron Holmberg of the U.S. 6-2, 6-2, 6-4. Olmedo led Patricio Rodriguez of Chile 12-10, 7-5 when darkness stopped play.

The start of play was held up for two hours on most of Wimbledon's 15 courts, because of rain. Then recurring rain made it a stop-and-go day under sulen skies.

More than 20,000 spectators turned out.

REMEMBER WHEN . . . Joe Louis defended his world heavyweight boxing title for the last time 20 years ago today—in 1948—when he knocked out Jersey Joe Walcott in the 11th round in New York. Louis retired in 1949 and Ezzard Charles claimed the title after defeating Walcott in 15 rounds.
