RECORDS BROKEN AT 25th VALLEYFIELD REGATTA

Grand Total 264 Power Boats Seen in 25th Annual Event

VALLEYFIELD ....

The Regatta which took place last week-end broke all previous records in the different classes in the two days of racing on St. Francis Bay.

"It was," as commented Commodore Paul Campeau, "one of the best ways of celebrating the 25th anniversary of our International Regattas. The new records established as the outcome of the official races, will, no doubt, cause many comments, not only among the participants coming from points as far away as California, Wisconsin, Florida, Oklahoma and Michigan, but also among all sports' Commentators thereby giving further favorable publicity to our Regattas".

These broken records, added to the popular victory of the "Miss Valleyfield" in the 280 class, further demonstrated to the great number of spectators, the quality of this outstanding water festival. Frederic Browse's victory with the "Miss Valleyfield", Commented Regatta President Guy Brodeur, could not have been more gratifying, and I believe all Festival Officials were in total accord."

The ideal weather of last Saturday permitted the drivers to reach higher speeds that that of last year.

The outstanding contestant of the day was Jean-Noel Hebert of Ville de Lery, who was awarded the Georges Lecompte Inc. trophy in the Class "C" Racing Hydro. It was presented to him by Miss Lise Lecompte, Queen of the Regattas. The time registered was 4 minutes, 29 seconds and one fifth, for a speed of 66.964 in the second race. In the finals for this class, Hebert had travelled the five miles at a speed of 66.568 per hour. It is the third consecutive year as the winner of this event.

Roch Jolicouer of St-Georges de Bauce, was awarded the O'Keefe trophy for his performance in Class "A" Racing Hydro. Mr. Jacques Sauvé made the presentation. Average speed registered was 55.69 m.p.h.

Walter Martin of Woodlands, Que., twice surpassed the Canadian record in class "C" Racing Runabout. In the first race, he reached a speed of 52.72 m.p.h., and in the second, a speed of 53.828 m.p.h.

A female contestant, Miss Susan Keiser of Concord, Mass., took fifth place in class "A" Stock Hydro. The Honors of this class went to J. Webster Jr., of Toronto.

Ray Ogier of Burlington, Ont., far outdistanced the other contestants in class "C" Stock Hydro. He won this event with an average speed of 56.639 m.p.h., in an average time of 5 minutes, 17 seconds and 6/10 for the two races.

In the class with the largest number of contestants for the afternoon, with twenty-seven starting in each race; two were eliminated in the first. J. Webster of Toronto was the star of this event with an average time of 5 minutes, 44 seconds and 5/10.

Walter Martin of Montreal was awarded the Allied Chemical Trophy, presented to him by Mr. George H. Elliot of Montreal; the time registered being 6 minutes, 28 seconds 4/5. The contestants in this class displayed keen competitive spirit.

Due to the high number of entries in certain classes, referee Bob Finlayson of Toronto had to resort to four finals.

Despite the keen spirit of the contestants, no bad starts were registered during the first day. However, several of them had to be picked-up by the patrol-boats after their own craft had capsized. Fortunately, no injury was reported.

During the day, Saturday, a total of 164 boats started in the 18 events presented in the seven classes on the agenda for the afternoon.

SPEEDBOAT CHAMPION

Harold Bucholtz, centre, of Buffalo, N.Y., was all smiles after his Tu-Bad-Too had come in first in class 266 at the annual Valleyfield Regatta over the week-end. The ace U.S. driver received the O'Keefe Trophy from Jacques Sauve, left, O'Keefe agent in the Valleyfield region, and special congratulations from Miss Regatta (Lise Lecompte).

The successes of the Silver Jubilee Regattas were no less impressive on Sunday as the four classes on the program established new Canadian speed records.

Harold Bucholtz, of Buffalo, N.Y., is credited with the best speed of the day, in the race for the Provincial Championship for Hydroplanes with an average time of 3 minutes, 43 seconds and 4/5, and an average speed of 80.429 m.p.h. CFLV Trophy was presented to him by Miss CFLV, Rejeanne Lafrenière, accompanied by Mr. Hubert Lauzon well-known Sports Commentator at the local radio station of Venise du Québec.

It is the second class in which Bucholtz distinguished himself, as he had already been awarded the O'Keefe Trophy in the 266 class.

Ideal weather was on the side of the contestants during the whole afternoon. A

Changes Soon To Be Made To Street Lighting in Town

Huntingdon Town Council met for an adjourned meeting on Monday evening, at the County Building, with all members present except Alderman Picard.

A request was made by a resident of Poirier Street for sewer and water connection, by means of the new project which is under consideration in plans for public works. He was apparently misinformed, or misunderstood the terms under which a connection could be made. The council stated that he was given permission to build on the understanding that he would be connected to the existing sewer. He did not want this and said he was willing to pay the required amount for this purpose. Mayor Lefebvre informed him that the council could not go to work and spend thousands of dollars to give one person a connection, he must connect to the existing sewer and water line.

A resolution made at a previous meeting to change up to 25 street lights in town for a larger type, was rescinded at this meeting. A new resolution was passed according to a plan that had been arrived at after the visit of the Shawinigan Company engineer. It was decided to install more of the stronger type lights and to replace some others. This will mean an increase of perhaps five or six lights in the grand total.

It was also decided to ask the Shawinigan to trim trees that were found to be interfering with effect of the street lights.

Traffic again came into discussion and the trouble still is cars with noisy mufflers unnecessary speeding and squealing of tires at corners and from standing starts and other matters which cause a nuisance and can be dealt with under that head. The police are to be asked to make an example of any of these offenders and the Alderman are to hand in any names of offenders they are aware of.

On the advice of Chief L'Heureux after consulation with the police committee, stop signs are to be placed on Lake Street in both directions at the interesection of Wellington and Lake, to control and slow down traffic on this street. It is a narrow street and much used, but cars are travelling too fast on it. It was noted that the stop signs at the intersection of Lorne Avenue had done much to control this dangerous corner.

Order was given to see that weeds in town are cut and owners of vacant lots, etc., are to be warned to have this work done.

Grandfather Alexander Meets Grandson For the First Time

Shown above are Mr. J. J. Alexander of Huntingdon, who is well over 90 and his 12-year-old grandson from Vancouver, whom he saw for the first time. The young fellow, John Alexander, is the son of Dr. J. D. F. Alexander and Mrs. Alexander of Vancouver, B.C. and he made the trip here to see his grandfather and other relatives by train and travelling alone. He actually arrived here about two weeks ago and was met at Montreal, by his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Ferry, of Huntingdon. He is presently staying with the latter and will remain for a holiday period and visit other members of the family from time to time. In the photograph above, The elder Alexander is showing the younger one some canes of his which are about 50 years old. It is a great time for both these Alexanders.

R.C.M.P. Seize Still and Equipment Near Dalhousie Station

A combined Royal Mounted Police raiding party from Divisions "A" and "C" under the command of Sgt. G. Noiseux of Montreal and Corporal Stan McDevitt of Cornwall uncovered a still near Dalhousie Station, just about ready to operate late Wednesday afternoon. Some 15,000 gallons of mash were fermenting and the cooker was scheduled to operate this morning. Two men, arrested on the premises, a barn on the farm of Leon Prieur on R.R. 2 were held in Cornwall cells overnight. Appearing before a Justice of the Peace in Cornwall this morning they were remanded to Magistrates Court in Alexandria for next Tuesday. 64 year old Eddie Labonté, of 26th avenue Rosemount, well known for past activities in this field, and 40 year old Leon Prieur on whose farm the still was found.

Along with the mash fermenting in 8 huge vats, some two and a half tons of sugar was seized. Labonté's 1963 white Buick convertible, the cooker with it's 16 inch stack, 500 gallons of fuel oil were included in the police haul. A twelve-man party, equipped with portable radios had the farm under surveillance for some thirty-six hours awaiting the arrival king pin, Labonté. It is one of the largest seizures made in some time. With a daily capacity of some 150 gallons, priced on the market at $10.00 per gallon, about half profit, gives some idea of the margin of profit. Both suspects are subject to either fines and jail, or both.

Joseph A. Labonte, 64, of 5935-26th Ave., Rosemount, one of two men charged Thursday with the unlawful possession of a still, remained in Cornwall County Jail Friday when he was unable to meet bail of $10,000 cash or property.

Leon Prieur of Dalhousie Mills, jointly charged, was released on $750. bail. Both were remanded until July 16.

Nazarene Vacation School Held at Rockburn

Parents and friends attended the closing program of the Vacation Bible School held at the Franklin Center Church of the Nazarene last Friday evening.

The demonstration program was the final session of the two-week school which has been attended by children from Franklin Centre, Ormstown and Huntingdon. There were also guest pupils from Montreal, and Peterborough, Ontario.

The school, sponsored by the Church of the Nazarene in Franklin Centre, assisted by the Church in Huntingdon, had an enrollment of 78 pupils and staff members, and a daily attendance of 70. There were six classes each with special activities for children in a given age group. The theme of the school was "Adventuring with Jesus".

Two of the most popular activities of the school were music and crafts. The Rythm Band was a feature of the kindergarten department. Crafts included hand-painted plaques, made by boys and girls in grades four, five and six, and the stuffed toy animals made by the junior high Class. The junior high girls' class also embroidered blocks for a nursery quilt to be sent to an overseas mission station.

Parents and friends drove children to and from school. Rev. Harley Bye, pastor of the churches, reports that some drivers totaled over 700 miles each during the ten day program. The superintendent of the school was Mrs. Basil Smith, of Beloeil, Quebec. Teachers and staff members totalled thirteen.

Regular Attendance by Pupils at Bible School

Above is a group of pupils who attended the Vacation Bible School held in Franklin recently. They are seen with the small car in which they all travelled each day between eight and ten miles from Covey Hill and Havelock. There were twelve of them and they are as follows: Left to Right — Front Row: Barbara Gow, Donna Watt, Kelly Allen and Sandra Watt. Back Row: Jimmy Gow, Richard Caldwell, Beverly Gow, Helen Caldwell, Larry Watt, Teresa Watt, Nina Caldwell and Janet Gow.

Guy Stowell in Montreal Hospital After Being Injured In Fall

Guy Stowell, widely known Dundee fish and game protector, is a patient in the Neurological Hospital in Montreal recovering from serious injuries sustained, when he fell on a hay elevator at the family farm last week Wednesday while helping with the haying operations.

The mishap occurred about 3:00 p.m., Mr. Stowell striking his shoulder in the fall and breaking a bone in his neck. He was taken to the hospital by the Cappiello — McKenzie ambulance, and the next day underwent surgery during which reportedly two pieces of bone were put in the back of his skull. At first it was feared he was suffering from paralysis with his right arm and hand affected but this week he is showing very marked improvement and is expected to fully recover.

HOWICK 4-H CLUB ENTERTAINS VISITORS FROM OTHER PROVINCES

On Friday, July 12th, a ball game was held in Riverfield. Later the 4-H members and guests were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Templeton where there was a wiener roast. This delightful evening was planned by the Howick 4-H for the delegates from the other provinces in the Inter-Provincial exchange. Each province in Canada has welcomed nine delegates and sent away nine.

The following delegates attended the ball game and wiener roast. Winnifred McCardle from Prince Edward Island, Eugene Mattenson from Nova Scotia, Dale Cleghorn of New Brunswick, Ruth Bates of Ontario and Terry Hanson of Saskatchewan. These delegates stay around the Howick-Huntingdon- Ormstown-Franklin Centre area.

Four delegates who could not attend were Diane Aucorn, Nfld., Alfred Fowler, B.C., John Briggs, Alberta, Sandra Robinson, Manitoba. These four are staying in other far away districts in Quebec such as Como and Sherbrooke.

Bobby Ness, a Howick 4-H Club leader acted as chairman at the wiener roast. He asked each delegate present to give a short talk on his club and community life in his province. The delegates were questioned by the members of the Howick Club and some of their parents. The delegates very ably told of the different farming in their area and of different projects done by their club.

After Mr. Ness learned that we had a visitor from England present he asked this young man to tell about farming in England. At present Mr. William Brown is working at Franklin Centre, Quebec at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Wilson. He is a student atending an agricultural college in Glasgow, Scotland.

Miss Sandra MacFarlane, President of the Howick 4-H Club thanked the five delegates and Mr. Brown for their very interesting talks on each of their clubs activities. Mr and Mrs. Templeton were thanked for the use of their home and for their hospitality.

Historical Society To Meet This Saturday At Rennie's Store

The Chateauguay Valley Historical Society will meet on Saturday afternoon at 2.30 — July 20 at Leslie Rennie's store at Cook's Lines near Rockburn.

The principle topics of the afternoon will be recent developments concerning the Commemoration of the Battle of Chateauguay; and a discussion regarding one of the society's Centenary projects... the store at which the meeting will take place.

Members and visitors are invited to enjoy a picnic lunch if they choose, beneath the trees in this pleasant spot. The meeting will commence officially at 2.30.

A full discussion of the Centenary project is contained in this week's column "Canada's Centenary" by D. R. Lambie.

Interesting Reports Given at Huntingdon W.I. Meeting

Huntingdon W.I. met on Tues. afternoon, July 2, at the home of Miss Kimball, with Mrs. Bernhardt and Mrs. Jamieson as co-hostesses. The meeting was conducted by the Pres. and Roll Call was answered by naming a favorite Canadian bird. The Robin seemed to be the favorite, judging by the number who liked it. One member is exchanging our County program with an English Institute. $25.00 was donated as prize money for Huntingdon Fair.

Miss Turner gave a splendid report of the Provincial Convention at Macdonald College. The Provincial President urged all members to strive for unity and understanding and voluntary service. 105 Branches are reported in 23 counties, the youngest of these branches being Val d'Or and Malartic. 743 Christmas stockings had been handed in and 15,000 school books sent to places where they are much needed. Memebers were asked to rouse their communities to beautify them. Mrs. Gerda van Beekhoff, Pres. of Associated Women of the World, whose home is in the Netherlands was guest speaker at the Convention and gave a stirring address on the ACWW work. All over the world there are six million ACWW members and among their many objectives is a constant war against poverty and hunger. Mrs. Bernhardt moved a vote of thanks to Miss Turner for her splendid address.

Mrs. Bernhardt then called on Mr. Cunningham to speak on some of his experiences in the Congo. After listening to his report of conditions there and under what dreadful circumstances he had to live and work, his listeners felt how fortunate we in Canada are. Here we have churches and their messages right in our midst and yet in this so called Christian country how many are indifferent to the gospel message and not thankful for it as are

Certain Changes Contemplated In Regard to Rotary Nurse Training Fund Plan

With some Rotarians out-of-town on vacation, attendance at the weekly Rotarian luncheon meeting was disappointing for the second consecutive week. One visitor, Rotarian Walter Roach of the Chateaugay, N.Y. club, proprietor of Knotty Pine Restaurant at Chateaugay Lake, attended the meeting.

It was confirmed that the Club will enter a float in the parade at Huntingdon Fair and that the G.E. electric kitchen to be drawn for at a later date will also be displayed at the Fair.

A lengthy discussion followed concerning the Rotary Nurse Training Fund. The fund was started as a Rotary project to help supply nurses for the Huntingdon County Hospital by paying tuition fees for girls who wanted to become nurses but lacked the financial means to attain their ambition. In return for the money paid out by Rotary, the girls were requested to spend two years after graduation at the Huntingdon County Hospital.

During past years, the Rotary Club and the Hospital have been disappointed on occasion by the fact that some of the girls have decided to work elsewhere after graduation. The Rotarians feel that they have performed a service to the country as a whole by helping a girl to become a nurse, but when they do not return here the original purpose of the project has been defeated.

It is now the aim of the Rotary Club to ascertain the sincerity of girls who apply for Rotary aid. The fund was meant to help girls who required financial help. It is not restricted to Huntingdon area alone, but to the entire Chateauguay Valley.

It was also felt by some members that the girls, after graduation, should be requested to return to the Huntingdon County Hospital for a period of one year, instead of two, if their services are required. This met with general approval and will be discussed with the Hospital authorities.

Facts and figures with regard to the Nurse Training Fund will appear in The Gleaner in a subsequent issue; meanwhile, any girl wishing additional information, or wishing to make application for Rotary aid, may do so by writing to The Secretary, Huntingdon Rotary Club. All applications are in strict confidence.

Gump Worsley of Les Canadiens will address the Club next week when he will be the guest of Rotarian Jon Proudfoot. Members are requested to bring along a couple of teen-age guests.

Valleyfield Student To See United Nations In Action

GERALD CLIFFORD

What progress in the Congo? How did the "U.N. Presence" keep hostilities from continuing in Yemen? Are tensions in Cuba, West Berlin, and Vietnam lessening? What practical steps can be taken in disarmament? How is atomic energy being developed for peaceful uses through international co-operation? What United Nations services may be even more important than political factors? Just what is our government's foreign policy? How is the critical problem of finances facing the U.N. being met?

Answers to these and other pertinent questions for the welfare of the world today will be sought by a thousand high school students who converge on New York this summer to study and observe the United Nations in action. From all parts of the United States and Canada they will travel to New York City as participants in the Odd Fellows' and Rebekahs' annual "United Nations Pilgrimage for Youth" now in its fourteenth year.

Taking part from this community is Gerald Clifford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Clifford of 72 Ellen Street, Valleyfield, at present a Grade X student in the Gault Institute. Gerald has been selected as a delegate to the U.N. Pilgrimage for Youth by competition from among Grade X students whose parents were associated with I.O.O.F. He is sponsored in this project by Bayview Rebekah Lodge No. 46. He will travel to New York City by train, leaving Montreal Central Station at 8.00 p.m., July 20th.

While in New York the week of July 21st, Gerald will be together with about one hundred and fifty other high school upper class students from a dozen or more states and provinces. For seven successive weeks similar numbers of students will take part to bring the total to a thousand. Since 1950, a total of 7,757 students have participated.

At the United Nations, they will tour the buildings and listen to briefings on political economic, and social aspects of the United Nations activities with opportunity to ask questions for further clarification. They will sit in on conference, committee, or council sessions where they will listen through ear phones to the conduct of business in the five official U.N. languages, English, French, Russian, Spanish and Chinese. One day will be spent in visiting in small groups the headquarters of various member U.N. nations where the ambassador or a member of his staff will be interviewed for two or three hours by the students. Similar visits will be paid to the United States Mission to the United Nations and the Mission of Canada to the United Nations.

A fascinating evening will be spent at the well-known International House on Riverside Drive where graduate students from more than sixty countries live harmoniously under one roof. Panel discussions, questions, conversations and personal chats, a movie on the House, entertainment by residents, and supper will be part of the evening's program.

While engaged in intensive seminars and studies of the United Nations, time will also be given for seeing a Broadway play, making a boat ride around Manhattan Island, viewing the city from the top of the Empire State Building, seeing the precision famous Rockettes at Radio City Music Hall, making a tour of Rockfeller Center, and taking advantage of other opportunities of the metropolitan area of New York.

Chairman for the U.N. Pilgrimage project in this province is Mrs. Shirley Rennie of Pointe Claire, who has processed the registrations of

Canada's Centenary

Its Importance To The Chateauguay Valley

PART IX

Progress — There and Here

by DOUGLAS R. LAMBIE

Editor of Waiting Room Digest, freelance writer, Past President and Centennial Committee Chairman of the Chateauguay Valley Historical Society

From there— in this case via a bulletin sent out by the Canadian Centenary Council — comes news of action by two large organizations.

Calling All Daughters!

The IODE recently passed a resolution establishing a Centenary Fund, with a minimum objective of $50,000 by 1967. Local chapters are invited to contribute on the basis of a minimum of 50 cents per member per year, and their suggestions for its use are welcomed. The disposposition of the Fund will be decided not later than 1965.

The IODE is also urging its members to develop interest in overall Centennial planning in their own communities.

That's the type of action many groups can take — even if it is in a less ambitious manner — set an objective invite participation from members of money and ideas for its use. Even if the objective is for one thousand — a great deal of good might be accomplished. And we like the note about urging members to look to community planning.

Calling All Mayors!

Talking of community planning, one of the resolutions adopted by the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities at their twenty-sixth Annual Conference, said in effect:

That the Federation through local government should give leadership and encourage the widest possible participation toward a successful Centennial. Recognizing that leadership, planning and implementation at the municipal level can do much to stimulate civic groups' ideas, and to make Canada a more vibrant and attractive nation, the Federation undertook to recommend the formation of Centennial Committees, "at the earliest possible moment" and the embarking on suitable programs of commemoration.

Here is a call for leadership from the leaders among the leaders! The Mayors' federation has recognized the urgency, let us indeed hope that the mayors in turn will answer the call and that they will be supported in full by their municipal bodies, citizens and civic groups.

Chateauguay Valley Historical Society

On next Saturday afternoon, July 20, at Cook's Lines near Rockburn, where Leslie Rennie's store straddles the international border, Centennial progress will be made.

This occasion will mark the historical society's first step toward accomplishing one of the group's Centenary projects, when the matter of acquiring the store and developing it as an important museum will be discussed.

This fascinating old country store has been the object of many hundreds of visits since last summer. Several experts in Canadian history have examined the store and expressed considerable interest in the building as a fine example of 19th. Century rural Canadiana.

One of the store's most important aspects is that it spans many years visually — in architecture, in content, in equipment, and most certainly in history. This store tells the story — not so much of one period in our local history — but of growth and change in community life over the years. Here may be found relics from many different decades — yet in true country store fashion many of these were "in stock" currently when the store closed for its last time as a business enterprise.

Unfortunately many of the store's more recent visitors have not been those with historical interests at heart, and a gradual degree of disarray has been accelerated. Much of the original atmosphere has been temporally lost. It is important that this be regained, and that the store be properly organized as a living museum, correctly safeguarded, and that a reasonable schedule of hours established and published.

The store at Cook's Lines has been the recipient of a number of historic relics since Leslie Rennie opened it to the public. If the building is managed on a museum basis many other people will be encouraged to make it a repository for their relics of the Valley's past.

The proposal that will be put to the society on Saturday will be that during the next four years the store should be acquired by the society, essential repairs made, certain rearrangements be made to the interior — to maintian the genuine store atmosphere but remove a degree of superfluous clutter, and that an inventory be made of the contents, noting the history when possible. The public will then be encouraged to offer gifts together with their histories, to be placed in the store, in order to develop a substantial museum by the year of the Centenary.

The store is in a delightful setting — a glade with several handsome old trees, and three other buildings of historic age. Of these, two are owned by Mr. Rennie and offer possibilities for minor renovation. The fourth is privately owned, whose owner has expressd great interest in furthering the development of the store as a museum.

Thus one Valley group take their first step toward Centenary planning, and at a time, it must be remembered, when many of their members are deeply engrossed in developing plans for this year's celebration of the 1813 Battle of Chateauguay.

There is so much need for action in the Valley it is to be hoped that many groups who will do nothing during the summer recess have planned to include Centenary discussions early in their Fall agenda. As a topic for the evening it can be tremendously interesting. As a challenge to work together for an extra effort, a special contribution to the community, it offers so much more. There are sources of information, speakers, and other groups willing to exchange ideas.

Again we emphasize the need in this Valley for a Centennial Planning Committee and it is also to be hoped that once groups become active again in the fall they will give urgent consideration to this proposal.

Big Parade Marks Opening of Recreation Activities

The above photograph shows the large group of children which paraded to the County Building to meet the Town Council on the occasion of the opening of the Huntingdon Recreation Association activites the past week. The children had an election for mayor and mayoress and the above shows the intensity of the campaign.

Mrs. Olive Peyton left on Tuesday for a month's vacation on Deer Island, near Stonyton in Maine. Master Steve Peyton will accompany his mother from Coaticooke where he has been enjoying the summer holidays at a Boy's Camp in the area.

Summer guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Greer are, Robert, Eric and Ellen Thim of Watertown, N.Y.

Almost forty 4-H members left by bus Tuesday morning en route to Ottawa, where they met their Member of Farliament, Mr. Ian Watson for a conducted tour through the Parliament buildings. The 4-H'ers have had a very busy summer, several members of other provinces are guests of the club and many tours of various points of interest have been enjoyed, not the least of these being a visit to Quebec City and the Experimental Farms at St. Hyacinthe, Que. In last week's Gleaner we printed notice that a meeting would be held at the Ewen MacDougall Farm on July 19. Will the Members please take note that this meeting has BEEN POSTPONED, notice will be given when plans are completed as to time of the meeting. Due to many activities the time and physical strength of both leaders and members has been taxed, thus the postponment of the MacDougall Meeting.

Hallamore), Toronto; one daughter-in-law, Mrs. Duncan Bruce; five grandchildren; two sisters Bernice Moody, Lakeside Heights, Mrs. Daisy McLellan, Huntingdon; one brother Daniel A. RECORDS BROKEN light South-West wind hardly rippled the surface on the five-mile stretch on St. Francis Bay.

There were several disqualifications, as some of the contestants were too anxious to get close to the starting line. However, there were no bad starts.

A total of more than $3,190. in cash, and ten trophies and medals were given to contestants during this International Regatta, sponsored jointly by the Canadian Boating Federation and the American Power Boat Association.

Twice, Chuck Simon of St. Bruno, Que., broke the previous Canadian Record for class "B" racing. He travelled at 61.686 in the first trial, and reached 63.558 in the final. The preceeding record was 61.308 m.p.h. By this victory, Simon qualified for the Canadian Schenley gold medal, which was presented to him by Frank Smith.

CKVL Trophy went to Wally Wright of Toronto, who won in class "48" with an average time of 5 minutes, 20 seconds 4/5, and an average speed of 56.11 m.p.h. Paul Bradfield, also of Toronto, established a new Canadian record in the second trial of the "48" with a speed of 57.216 m.p.h.

In the first trial of this race, a situation seldom encountered in events of this sort, is that Mr. Gene Roesch of Kenmore, N.Y., started at the same time as his daughter Lynor.

Asten-Hill Trophy was awarded to Dave Keiser of Concord, Mass., winner of class "145" having registered an average speed of 56.962 for the two trials.

Murney Carter of Pointe Anne, Ont. won the Montgomery Fuels by his victory in class "150". His average speed was 69.07 m.p.h. In this class, Jimmy Mann of Allen Park, Michigan, established a new Canadian record in the first trial with a speed of 70.423. The preceeding record being 66.470.

Harold Bucholtz of Buffalo was awarded the O'Keefe Trophy for his victory in the "266". In this event, his average speed was 79.717 and an average time of 3 minutes, 45 seconds 4/5 for the five-mile stretch, with his hydroplane "tu-bad-tuu."

The "Miss Valleyfield" with Fred Brouse of Iroquois, Ont., was second in the first trial of the "280". However, Brouse was an easy first in the second, maintaining a speed of 69.93. He was awarded the Canadian Schenley Trophy and Golden Cap. This was undoubtedly the most popular victory of the afternoon. Last year, he had taken third position in the two trials.

One hundred boats took part at the start on Sunday afternoon, to make a grand total of 264 for the two days. Last year, the grand total registered was 243 boats.

This Twenty-fifth International Regatta seems by far the best to date. No doubt, the organizers of this festival deserve the warm congratulations of the whole population of Valleyfield.

This team will represent the Malone Golf Club at the Northern New York Golf Association Championship, to be held this year at Governeur N.Y. August 2nd and 3rd. Massena Golf Club won this event last year but, are expected to get strong opposition from Malone and Potsdam this year.

The Malone Golfers played their 54 holes over the past three week-ends and played in a variety of conditions due to the sudden changes in weather, the first round was played in 95 degree heat, the second was almost called off because of persistent rain and the third in 30 to 40 mile an hour winds. The last round scores were high due to the weather except in the case of George Gokey who shot a 69 for the low round of the tournament.

Jon Proudfoot of Huntingdon is the only member of the team who was also a member last year, this is the third year in a row that Proudfoot has qualified for the six man team.

Dundee

Shower for Miss Shirley Grant

DUNDEE — Last Tuesday evening at Zion United Church Miss Shirley Grant was guest of honour at a miscellaneous shower prior to her forthcoming marriage. Mrs. Lester Fraser led Shirley to a table piled high with gifts and then presented her with a corsage. Seated with her were her aunt, Mrs. Arthur Fraser, Mrs. Agnus Stark and Mrs. Lyall Stark. Her friends were able to keep the shower a secret and Shirley suspected nothing until she reached Dundee.

After opening her gifts Shirley thanked those gathered for the lovely and useful gifts and invited all to visit her in her new home when she is settled some time in September. Delicious refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed.

THIS and THAT in TOWN

"A. J. Reid Enterprises" is one of the newer Chateauguay Valley business ventures. Don and Audrey Reid, young Hemmingford couple, were vacationing in Maine and the New England States last summer and noticed with interest that packaged hickory wood chips, flakes and sawdust were being marketed. Realizing the potential in our own area, Don and Audrey returned home full of ideas and now "Reid's Hickory Flakes" are being sold in the Montreal area and will soon be available throughout the Chateauguay Valley.

Don and Audrey Reid get a substantial part of their rough hickory from Herb Banning and the McCallum's in Huntingdon. The finished product is attractively packaged in two-pound sacks with instructions on the bag and a recipe-and- instruction folder attached to the package.

Watching the eclipse of the sun on the afternoon of Saturday, July 20, with the naked eye can be dangerous according to the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness. While Huntingdon is not in the direct path of the eclipse, some of our residents may be in Maine or other vacation areas where they will be exposed to it. Hence the following warning:

In previous years, this fascinating sight has sometimes been viewed by adults and children through sunglasses, smoked glass or exposed photographic film.

The National Society for the Prevention of Blindness has issued a strong warning that there is no safe method of looking directly into the eclipse without risking incurable burns of the retina from infra-red rays of the sun. The agency suggests other safer method of observing the phenomenon.

Widespread reports of damaged vision, especially among school children, after a partial eclipse of the sun three years ago prompted the N.S.P.B. warning.

Vision damage from the sun is caused when the eye focuses the infra-red rays of the sun on the retina. An irreparable burn results, very similar to the way a magnifying glass can be used to burn a hole in a piece of paper with the sun's rays. The damage is not immediately noticed because retina is insensitive to pain.

The July 20th eclipse should be observed over television whenever possible. If this means is not available, simple procedures can be used for observing the eclipse without looking directly into the sun.

A simple projector can be made with two pieces of white cardboard. A pin hole or pencil hole in the top cardboard serves to project and focus the image of the eclipse on the second cardboard. The size of the image can be changed by altering the distance between cardboards.

For older children and adults, a pair of binoculars and a cardboard will make a propector. Dual images of the solar eclipse will be made by each lens of the glasses. Under no circumstances should anyone peer at the sun through the binoculars or through the pinhole. This will greatly increase the risk of retinal burns.

In all probability gourmets with a taste for spaghetti will have the opportunity to enjoy their favorite dish at a new Spaghetti House which will be located not too far from Huntingdon. More about this anon as things are only on paper at the moment, but keep your fingers crossed.

While on the subject of food, Mr. Doug Ness of Burnside Farms, Howick, was in the office the past week and told us he attended the Ayrshire Club Field Day at Champlain, N.Y., on the previous Sunday. He said he really enjoyed the barbecue. Chickens were cooking on what looked like an old gate laid sideways over a pit but crude as it appeared, when served it was the most delicious chicken he had enjoyed in a long time.

Bombay, Moira, Fort Covington and other U.S. border towns have been strong on outdoor barbecues to raise funds for their fire departments, playgrounds, etc. The fad will probably be picked up by some organization on their toes in one of our towns too.

Last week at this time we moaned it was too hot . . . Now we're mumbling it's too cold. And we sure have a right to, too. Visitors from afar wonder why we like it so well here. Mr. Prime from Sydney, Australia, visited The Gleaner last Tuesday with his brother's mother-in-law, Mrs. Gordon Helm, and he said the 50-odd degree temperature was similar to what they have at home in mid-winter. Likewise Mr. and Mrs. John Herr of North L St., Lake Worth, Florida, who are guests of Chet and Mrs. Oney . . . they agree the weather here is changeable "but that doesn't make any difference when we're with friends" . . .

"It's good to be around again even if it is on crutches," Charlie McConville says. Charlie had a piece of cartilage removed from his knee three weeks ago in the Montreal General Hospital. His knee is still stiff and painful but he hopes to discard the crutches in a couple of weeks.

And we laughted last week when a friend said his almanac predicted snow in July.

The 25th Annual Regatta sponsored by Le Club Nautique de Valleyfield Inc. on Saturday and Sunday was an unqualified success. A record number of entries from Canada and the U.S.A. participated and the ideal boating weather that prevailed was partially responsible for at least three new records. Crowds from near and far points from both sides of the border were on hand both days to swell the ranks of local fans from Ormstown, Howick, Hemmingford, Chateauguay, Huntingdon, Dundee, Franklin, Montreal, Beauharnois, etc. The R.C.A.F. Fly Past, aerobatic show and Hudson water skiers helped round out a programme that reflects credit on Mr. Paul Campeau, Commodore, and his committees and also the City of Valleyfield and its Mayor, Robert Cauchon, Alderman and Police Department.

The reception tendered visiting yachtsmen, the press and those taking part in the Regatta at the newly renovated City Hall on Sunday morning, by His Honour The Mayor Robert Cauchon and the City, was an "affaire du success". The hospitality extended at the "Venise du Quebec" will be remembered long after the 25th Anniversary of the now-famous Valleyfield Regatta has come and gone, until another year.

The Regatta was a meeting place for more than one group of friends of yester-years. One such encounter was with George Kelley-DuPuy of Lufkin, Texas, his youngest daughter Suzanne and his charming wife (the former Suzanne Amiot of Valleyfield) and Jules Castagnier and family, formerly of St. Anicet. Events long forgotten were fondly recalled later Sunday evening when the above-mentioned joined other friends at the hospitable summer home of Dr. and Mrs. MacDonald Caza at Hungry Bay.

Spectacular entertainment this week-end for this area is a quality 3-ring circus complete with animals, clowns, aerobatic acts, etc. at Chateaugay, N.Y., sponsored by the Knights of Columbus of that nearby border town.

All interested in the Chateauguay Valley Historical Society are reminded by Doug Lambie and Ian Watson, M.P., that a meeting of importance will be held Saturday p.m. at Leslie Rennie's Store.

People who throw bottles out of car windows just to hear them smash on the pavement must have a very low I.Q. But those who break bottles in the vicinity of public beaches are plain fools. Again this week a girl cut her foot quite badly "at the lake". Last week Gerard Soucisse, manager of the local Q.L.C. store, cut his foot on a broken bottle and six stitches were required to close the wound. A little common sense on the part of some would be greatly appreciated.

PONY CART

Huntingdon Fair Secretary Thomas Brooks informed The Gleaner this week that the 1963 Midway contract has been awarded to "World's Greatest Rides Corporation". The Midway will consist of five rides, two shows and twenty booths which will include a train ride, ferris wheel, merry-go-round, auto ride, etc. The prize lists are now being printed and will be in the mail shortly. All booths in the Industrial Building have been rented and prospects look good for the best Fair ever. Don't forget the dates: August 29-30-31.

Next Monday's Rotary meeting will feature Gump Worsley as guest speaker. Gump has goaled for the Rangers for the past eight years and next hockey season will see him in Les Canadiens' nets. Rotarian Jon Proudfoot (our local golf champ) tells us that when he and Gump were kids they played "hockey/golf" (?) with a ball and a couple of brooms on "their" street in Montreal. More about Gump next week.

Au conseil de ville

Le Conseil de la ville de Huntingdon s'est réuni lundi soir à la salle du conseil. Tous les membres étaient présents à l'exception de l'échevin Picard.

Une requête fut présentée par un résident de la rue Poirier, pour l'eau et les égouts, d'après le nouveau plan qui est maintenant à l'étude. Il était apparemment mal renseigné, ou avait mal compris les conditions selon lesquelles le raccordement peut être fait. Le Conseil lui rappela qu'un permis de construction lui avait été accordé avec l'entente que le raccord serait avec l'égout actuel. Ceci n'était pas satisfaisant, et il informa le conseil qu'il était prêt à payer le montant requis à cet effet. Monsieur le Maire souligna le fait que le conseil ne pouvait pas dépenser des milliers de dollars afin de procurer l'eau et les égouts à une seule propriété et qu'il lui fallait s'accomoder des conditions existantes.

Une résolution adoptée à une assemblée antérieure visant à remplacer 25 lumières servant à l'éclairage des rues de la ville par de plus puissantes, fut contremandée. Une nouvelle résolution fut adoptée selon un plan formulé à la suite de la visite d'un ingénieur de la compagnie Shawinigan. Il fut décidé d'installer un plus grand nombre de grosses lumières, et d'en remplacer d'autres. Ce ci représente une augmentation de cinq ou six lumières, tout au plus.

Il fut aussi décidé de demander à la Compagnie Shawinigan d'émonder les arbres qui nuisent à l'éclairage des rues.

La question de traffic fut encore discutée, et il semble que la plupart des ennuis proviennent de silencieux défectueux, vitesse inutile grincement des pneus aux arrêts et démarrage rapides. On demande à la Police de sévir avec vigueur, et les membres du conseil devront dénoncer ceux qui se rendent coupables de toutes infractions qui seront signalées à leur attention.

A la suggestion du Chef L'Heureux, après consultation avec le comité de police, des signaux d'arrêt seront placés dans les deux sens à l'intersection des rues Wellington et Lake, afin de contrôler et ralentir la circulation sur cette rue très étroite et très achalandée où les véhicules circulent à une vitesse excessive.

Il est à noter que l'enseigne d'arrêt à l'intersection de l'avenue Lorne est une aide précieuse au contrôle du traffic à cet endroit.

Il fut ordonné de faire couper les herbages dans la ville et les propriétaires de lots vacants sont avisés de s'acquitter de ce travail.

NOTES SOCIALES

Madame N. McRae et ses deux enfants de Cornwall, ainsi que sa mère, Madame Leroux, étaient en visite en fin de semaine chez Monsieur et Madame Adrien Leroux.

Mesdemoiselles Claudette et Carole Bourque de St-Hyacinthe sont présentement en vacance chez leurs grands-parents, Monsieur et Madame Adrien Leroux.

Mayor for West End

Miss Cathy Smeall, elected Mayoress of West End, had the honor of being the first to put her name in the new Golden Book at the council hall, (old red schoolhouse) in Chateauguay Centre, July 12 The West End Mayor elected was Peter Thamm. Both looked very smart and happy as they left West End in the beautiful shiny convertible supplied by Mr. Beauvais of Chateauguay Motors Ltd Mayor Brisebois and his wife were present and Mme. Brisebois was presented with a bouquet of flowers. Council members and their wives also attended. Soft drinks and cakes were served to all the Mayors and Mayoresses of the various sections of Chateauguay and ice cream was given to all the children gathered outside. Again Constable Gravelle has shown his great love for children as each year they look forward to his playground elections. Mr. Bernie Gauthier did the organizing of the West End elections and also drove our dignitaries during the parade which ended at West End. Congratulations Mayor Thamm and Mayoress Smeall

The West End sends a note of thanks to Mr. Beauvais for sending his lovely convertible for the playground parade.

Softball

All married men interested in playing softball should report to the baseball field each Sunday at 6.30 p.m. Equipment is available. For any further details call Bernie Gauthier at 692-9569 any evening at 6 p.m. Once a week this is good exercise and as we have a lot of sportsmen here you may welcome these games. As the octogenarian said when he was asked how he kept fit: "Look, when you're pushing 90 that's all the exercise you need." We haven't any that age so see you at the ball park.

Bereavement

Sincere sympathy goes out to Mr. J. G. Cherrier upon the loss of his father on July 10th. Mr. Cherrier had been very ill since May and suffered greatly. The thoughts of your friends and neighbors are with you Jean-Guy.

Social Hi-Lites

An omission was made by me a week ago, so I am putting this item in now. Gilles Belair was 16 on July 3rd. His sister Guylaine was 12 on June 25th. She spent a week at St. Zotique with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. D. Hubert and cousin Ghislaine.

Happy little lad, namely Ricky Rankin, hosted a birthday party on Saturday, July 13th, from 4 to 7 p.m. Guests included Robbie Vrolyk, Yves Drouin, Claude Burnett, John Simmons, Barry Cushing, Ted Bonneville, Michael and Lennie Brown, Lyle Quennell, Ference Symogi, and Gary and Stevie his brothers. Games were enjoyed under the supervision of teenager Gary, the winners being Barry, Michael, Lennie, Terence and Ricky. Supper was served by Mrs. Rankin. With all these husky lads the hot dogs, birthday cake, ice cream and cold drinks disappeared in short order. So glad you had a happy day, Ricky.

Linda and Maureen Simmons are holidaying with Mr. and Mrs. Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Gianatti and their children, uncles, aunts and cousins of the girls, at Ecorse and Trenton, Michigan. So glad to hear you are having a nice holiday.

Mrs. George Rankin entertained Mrs. W. Broome and Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Smith at tea Sunday afternoon, on the occasion of the first birthday of Kevin Smith, grandson of Mrs. Broome. Mrs. Rankin looks after wee Kevin whom many of us know. Happy Birthday, dear.

We don't have fearless Fosdick in our midst, but we do have fearless Lynn and Laura, campers to the nth degree Sleeping out is a great adventure — no tent — just sleeping bags for these hardy girls. How is this for service — breakfast in bed served by mother Fuller. Nice going (?) and good camping.

A birthday party for Mona Cotton was held on July 2nd., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cotton, St. Denis St. Guests included Daniel Rochette, Christine and Daniel Drouin, Roger Gauthier, Philip Davies, Patricia Smith and of course, her sister Fay. Games were played and refreshments and party goodies enjoyed by all. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Ben Jansen, Mona's Godparents surprised her with a visit and a real little girl iron and iron board. However I'm told her favorite gift was a punchball from her daddy. Lots more happy birthdays, Mona.

On July 1st, Miss Denise Poirier came to the home of Mr. and Mrs C. C. Cotton for the summer holidays, to learn to speak English and help with Mona and Fay, their two little daughters. Denise's home is in St. Louis de Gonzague, and although she has only been with the family a short time, has endeared herself to them and the girls. On Saturday Carl, Christa, girls and brother Stewart were guests of the Poirier family at their cottage at St. Stanislas de Kostka on Lake St. Francis. Stewart had a wonderful time, water skiing and hear this folks — he did not fall. Perfect take off and three point landing. Good work,Stewart. A motor boat ride, swim and back to their home completed a day which Christa said was so restful and enjoyable. A big welcome to West End, Denise.

A reminder to the girls in charge of fair booths — only a month and a half left. Make every spare moment count.

Letter to the Editor

Chateauguay Heights, PQ.
July 9, 1963.

Editor
Huntingdon Gleaner
Sir:

The recently presented figures as to the cost of water and sewage for Chateauguay Heights, failed to disclose certain small "extras".

For instance, no figure was provided to repave every single street in the municipality, a necessary part of the overall cost as many other municipalities have found to their cost, and we mean that literally.

May we point out that the present rate of taxes in the Heights, does not pay for the paving of these streets in the first place. What newcomers to the Heights may not realize is that most of the paved streets in the Heights were paved free of charge by the provincial government, who realized that a little hamlet of some 300 well spread out houses could not afford to pave such a large amount of streets. Even to this day, the provincial government repaves and maintains as required a large section of the main streets in the town of the Heights and also gives a substantial cash grant towards snow removal on these streets.

If we could not afford to pave the streets in the first place even at our present rate of high municipal taxation, it is just common sense to realize that we cannot put in water and sewage, and then repave these streets all over again.

The assessors are now going around, and we are told that this is to raise the valuations of the houses in order to give Quebec the impression that we are a wealthy town, welle able to afford a million dollar or so loan. The first effect of this of course will be to raise our school taxes to a most grateful school board. But the second effect may be less obvious to the newcomer. Because the Heights is legally a town, but actually so very small in numbers of houses, it now rates for considerable govenment help of the "village" category. If we prove to Quebec that we are wealthy and well able to afford to borrow a million dollars or so, as we are now trying to do, we will then have also proved we do not need a special snow removal grant, that we do not need the province to maintain some of our main streets and our taxes will go up to replace these government grants thus lost.

The figures given at the meeting did not disclose the amount to be paid to the engineers, or for how many years this payment may have to continue. The impression given however that these engineers have been hired on a "cost plus basis" of about 10% of about a million dollars to start with, with more sections of the proposed sewage plan still to come. Not bad for a town of 300 houses that cannot even afford to maintain its own streets right now, nor even clean out its own ditches, not even its own process verbal ditches that it is required to clean out by law, and that have been twice condemned by the provincial government in writing, for two years now, as a hazard to health and a risk to life.

A town that apparently cannot afford to publish in a local paper such as the Gleaner, a call for tenders for street repairs, or similar municipal expenses. Possibly the modest amount spent for advertising of this type might be amply repaid many times over. Certainly it is worth a try from time to time, for there are several excellent road contractors living in the Gleaner area.

Yours truly,

LETTER FROM SEIGNIORY PARK

(by FERGUS HORSBURGH)

Happy Birthday to us! This is Letter from Seigniory Park's first birthday. Although I wrote a sporadic sports column in Jamaica many years ago, this is the first time I have ever attempted a column on a regular basis. I'm sure about 48 times in the past 52 weeks Sunday evening has approached with the Horsburghs not having a clue between them about what to write. Astonishingly, something has always turned up, but sometimes it has been close. May I make another plea? Please phone in your news and ideas, — OX 1-1581. So many times I have found that readers have wonderful stories in their heads, and never think to pass them on.

-O-

Bob Fair of the Heights was doing his homework around Seigniory Park last weekend, collecting signatures on a petition to the Chief of Police concerning a local dog which had bitten and scared the daylights out of local children, including Fair Junior. This is always a heart-rending problem, but one must be cruel to be kind. How well I remember as a boy losing our family pet, which had bitten a delivery boy and barked at our lamplighter - Leerie we called him. It seemed as if the world had come to a premature end, but it had to be done. The delivery boy, incidentally, went on to gain distinction as a bomber pilot over Germany, and is now a senior police officer in Scotland.

-O-

Congratulations to our neighbours in Colonia on the opening of their swimming pool. This is a do-it-yourself project organized by Chateauguay Property Owners Association. Membership is limited to 300 and entails the purchase of a non-interest-paying debenture of $100. We are very happy for Colonia, but please, will they turn down that canned music which converts our corner of Seigniory Park into the backyard of a fairground? Otherwise we shall just have to organize another petition to the Chief of police!

-O-

It has always puzzled me, this indifference of Canadians to the gooseberry. Perhaps, I thought, this delicious fruit just does not thriye in what we laughingly call the peculiar Quebec climate. But this is not so, as I proved in my garden this Spring. The gooseberry produces a bountiful crop in these latitudes, but perhaps topping and tailing them is just too much effort.

-O-

Commuters saw an impressive hard-topping job on the second span of Mercier Bridge two weekends ago. From Friday evening to Monday morning construction crews must have worked around the clock to go from one end to the other. Overhead lights are in place, traffic lanes are painted, and, ominously, traffic signs face future south-bound vehicles. This seems to confirm rumours that the old span will be closed for repairs when the new span opens, any day now. Surely we deserve a brief respite? Would it not serve the Roads Department well to study the new traffic pattern for a few weeks? Or couldn't they repair the old span one half at a time, leaving us temporarily with three lanes? I'm a little teapot, short and stout,

There's my handle, here's my spout,
When I get my steam up, hear me shout,
Lift me up and pour me out!

For the benefit particularly of newcomers, here is an up-to-date list of baby-sitters for Seigniory Parkers:

Lynda Perry, 692-2637; Carol Kinkade, 692-0403; Mrs. Johnston, 692-9741; Mrs. Bain, 692-9825; Mrs. Lemieux, 692-2625; Mrs. Teague, 692-9897; Doreen Clayton, 692-0463; Mrs. Brown, 692-6030; Mrs. Gray, 692-2623; Mrs. Coxon, 691-1149; Frances McBurnie, 691-1757; Patsy Ellis, 691-1887; Janet Layzell, 691-1483.

Eclipse Exiciting — But Eyes Are Priceless

(By Mrs. Mitchell)

During the afternoon of Saturday July 20th, we shall be able to witness again an eclipse of the sun. This eclipse will cause Canada, Alaska and Maine in parts to be in total darkness, as will be other parts of the continent.

Naturally everyone will be trying to see this phenomenon. But although this wonderful act of nature in the heavens is something to behold, it is NOT to be looked at with the NAKED EYE nor with smoked glass, exposed photographic film, or dark glasses. These are not adequate enough to protect the eyes from the dangerous infra-red rays emitted during the eclipse. I am inserting the following item submitted to me by Mr. Mitchell, who received it with his safety mail for the month. It is from the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness Inc., New York

Eclipse watching can mean permanent damage to eyes!

Never look directly at an eclipse of the sun. This eclipse means a serious threat to the eyesight of every person, both adults and children, who watch it directly. Children are particularly susceptible to vision damage. THERE IS NO SAFE WAY TO LOOK DIRECTLY AT THE ECLIPSE! Many who have tried the various ways of doing this have suffered eye injuries.

During an eclipse, even though the daggling visible rays of the sun are blocked, dangerous infra-red rays are nevertheless emitted. These rays, when focused on the delicate retina of the eye, can cause harmful burns much the same as a magnifying glass can focus the sun's rays on a piece of paper and burn it. Because the retina is NOT SENSITIVE TO PAIN, the victim never realizes he has been harmed until too late. Such retinal burns are incurable and the victim has a blank spot in his field of vision, where the burn scar remains in the retina. Only by indirect methods, such as on television or simple protection devices can this phenomenon be observed without risking damage to the eyes, is the warning of the N.S.P.B. Inc. and their simple method is two pieces of white cardboard. A pinhole or pencil hole in the top cardboard serves to project and focus the image of the eclipse on the second cardboard. The size of the image can be changed by altering the distance between cardboards. DO NOT LOOK AT THE SUN THROUGH THE PINHOLE. Remember your eyes are priceless.

Winner of Canadian Schenley Trophy

Every year, at the International Regatta at Valleyfield, there is a class of Runabout that is always the object of special attention, that is "280" whose winner is awarded the gold cap donated by Canadian Schenley. This year, "Miss Valleyfield", with Fred Brouse at the controls, came out first. Pictured at the top, winner F. Brouse is seen receiving the Canadian Schenley Trophy from Frank Smith. In the bottom picture, we see the "Miss Valleyfield" in action, ready to cross the finish line. Thousands of spectators cheered for the "Miss Valleyfield" which surpassed everything in its class.

Tragedy Takes Life of Thirteen-Year-Old Lad

Charlie Manson Victim of Drowning Accident in Lake St. Louis Near His Home

Tragedy and sorrow came to our district last Tuesday July 9th, when thirteen-year-old Charlie Manson fell from a raft and was drowned in Lake St. Louis. His pal Roderick Munro tried to save him, but he slipped from his grasp. Local divers tried in a vain search attempt along with many sympathetic friends and strangers, who spent a good part of the night in dragging operations. They were encouraged by the thoughtfulness of Mrs. Langevin who brought hot coffee and sandwiches from Miss Maple Grove Restaurant. The search was called off in the wee small hours to be continued early Wednesday morning, Charlie was found about 300 yards from the spot where the accident occurred by Mr. Jean Comeau, of Ville de Lery. The community was grateful to Mr. and Mrs. R. Munro and family for all they did and the many friends and neighbours who helped. The Rover Scouts were represented at the funeral. Boy Scouts and Sea Scouts were guards of honour and flag bearers at the Church service which was solemnized on Saturday morning by Rev. John F. Allan of Chateauguay at St. Edward's Church in Beauharnois Interment at St. Edward's Cemetery Our deepest sympathy to the family from all the community.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Porter and Mr. Gordon Manson wish me to express through this column, their heartfelt gratitude and sincere thanks to all those in the area, who gave of themselves unselfishly.

Letter To The Editor

OPENING OF WILBROD STREET

On Wednesday, July 24th, 1963, the Town of Chateauguay Center will hold a referendum pertaining to the following subject: "Opening of Wilbrod Street on part of lot 226, and a loan to the amount of $52,000.00 for this purpose". It involves the expropriation of certain properties to permit the opening of Wilbrod Street, starting at Richard Crescent as far as Principale (Main Street).

The purpose of this expropriation is twofold:

1. To clear this part of the old village for traffic purposes. Presently, there are only two streets to enter and leave the Town, and these, Haute-Rivière and Antoine are thirty and twenty feet wide respectively, which is definitely inadequate.

2. To allow building projects on lots 224, 223, 221, 220 etc., to progress normally.

For two years, the Council has been aware of existing problems in that section and has studied means to alleviate them. We have sought the advice of our town Planner, and experts from Central Mortgage and Housing, and the following suggestions have been submitted by them.

The Council has considered all possibilities, and has come to the same conclusions as those of above-mentioned experts.

If this by-law is adopted it will be a great benefit for the Town.

1. Traffic conditions will be improved by the fact that the owners of Imperial Gardens, Crown Homes and Chateau Estates will be able to reach the bridge without passing in front of St. Jude and Marguerite Bourgeois Schools.

2. Building projects are interrupted for the time being, due to the difficulty of access to Principale (Main Street).

3. The tax will be in the neighborhood of 1½ cents per 100.00 valuation. That is approximately $1.50 per annum for a $10,000. house.

Those eligible to vote should fulfill their duty on July 24th and support this by-law, thereby helping the committee to solve this very important problem.

Unfavorable publicity is presently being given this by-law, and all right-thinking citizens should see to it that it does not have any serious consequences.

Claude Mongeau,
Town Manager,
Chateauguay Centre.

New Wading Pool Nears Completion in Delson

(By G. M. Ball)

Excitement is running high among the young folk in Delson as the new wading pool nears completion. Eager, happy youngsters are just waiting for the grand opening day and all the fun which will be theirs at that time. A special vote of thanks has been extended to Mayor W. Boardman and Councillors for valuable assistance given in making possible the building of the pool, the Sports Association will take the responsibility for its maintenance. Monitors will be appointed at the next Sports meeting and a salary will be alloted to those chosen for this responsibility. It is most encouraging to hear that by this time next year a swimming pool for adults will be in the making. The Sports Association can be justly proud of their efforts on behalf of the young folks and older ones also.

Much has been done to promote interest within the community for one and all. We were very pleased to know that Father Brault has joined the Committee and has kindly consented to help in any way. All members are very grateful to the new Parish Priest for his interest in the Committee and in the young folk. It is hoped that citizens will rally in cooperation with these earnest workers, as the poet says, "For the cause that lacks assistance, for the future in the distance and the good that I can do."

the parents of the boys in their rosters to come out, Saturday, July 20, and with their boys (who by the way will be dressed-up for the occasion) and solicit, on behalf of Chateauguay Little League Baseball, the financial support of the good people of Chateauguay.

The objective of the drive: $3,000.00.

Anyone donating $1 (one) or more will be issued, on the spot, a token-shares certificate from the Chateauguay Little League Baseball (suitable for framing), which will stipulate how many $1 shares the generous patrons has contributed. Little League Baseball

(By Claude Brazeau)

Chateauguay — The world-famous Little League Baseball is now represented in Chateauguay.

The idea is so tremendous that everybody wants to get into the act.

It is now a fact! A field for the Little Leaguers has been allocated to them by the Town Council.

A detail worth-while knowing: the managers and coaches of the present four teams — well as the executives — are all active businessmen who enjoy, for the most part, an interesting baseball background and are along with the others honestly dedicated to the youth of our community. The executives seem so keyed-up about the whole deal that, according to some of them, Little League Baseball couldn't have happened to a nicer community.

BUT... Little League Baseball is a non-profit organization. Therefore, in spite of generous help gathered here and there, enthusiasm alone cannot foot the bills which keep piling up at a revolting pace.

EGO... apart from a serious and sincere search for sponsorship — be it whole, part or scattered which is currently in progress, a positive move has been chosen: Saturday, July 13 (of all ciphers) was set up, by the board as a ONE DAY OUTING by the Little Leaguers.

The managers of the four teams have unanimously agreed to help the drive by asking each of their two coaches to get in touch with

Alderman Bradley Resigns From The Heights Council

The monthly general meeting of the council of Chateauguay Heights was held Tuesday, July 9th, at which the resignation of Alderman Bradley was accepted with regret. Pro-mayor G. H. Robinson mentioned Mr. Bradley's many attributes and his contributions to the council which the other members had more or less taken for granted. Alderman Bradley's resignation is a distinct loss both to the citizens and Council of Chateauguay Heights.

Heights Girl Wins "New Talent '63" Contest

(By M. McCutcheon)

Linda Tonge of Gilmour Avenue, who has been competing in the 'New Talent-63' semi-finals, has been chosen as the finalist. She will receive a trophy next Sunday, on the show which is broadcast over CKVL at 9.30 p.m.

Part of her prize is making her very happy — she is going to make a recording at the Dave Leonard Studios. To date, she has not chosen her number. Linda who confesses to not being able to read music feels that her success in some part is due to the two excellent accompanists, Mrs. Louis Smith and Mr. Pellow. Organist of St. George's Church who have given her valuable assistance and time. She also says that Mrs. Harris, a teacher at the Mary Gardner School chose her material and helped her to practice. Mr. Fred Fetchock of Hamilton Avenue, has been providing transportation for her and all this has helped her.

Mr. Supple of Montreal, who heads the 'Metropolitan Revue' has asked Linda to join them on Wednesday for a performance (they provide entertainment for shut-ins, hospitals, clubs, etc.) She has also been asked to sing at a Walter Léja Benefit Performance which is being held in August.

Congratulations Linda — hope your dream of a musical career comes true.

Nautical Clubs To Elect Miss Water Safety of 1963

A province-wide search for a young beauty who is also adept at water sports will be climaxed at Beloeil, July 28, with the crowning of Miss Water Safety of 1963.

Paul Marion, a director of the Quebec Federation of Nautical Clubs and chairman of the contest, reported that various boating and water skiing events starting at 2 p.m. will be held prior to the election of this year's queen at the Beloeil Nautical Club.

Invitations have already been sent to the more than 100 clubs which are affiliated to the federation throughout the province, and several are expected to choose a representative and send her to Beloeil July 28.

"We select our queens on the basis of appearance, prowess at water sports and cultural talents, because they become a symbol of water safety during the fiscal year that follows", Marion pointed out.

"The girls must be 17 years of age or over and must be affiliated to a boating club which belongs to the Quebec Federation."

More than $500. in prizes await the three top candidates, with cash and merchandise awards also marked for every entry.

The annual contest will be the seventh held by the Federation, which is sponsored by the O'Keefe Brewing Company and is aimed at reducing the number of boating, swimming and water skiing accidents across the province.

The panel of judges for this year's contest will include Director Armand Durette of the Montreal Fire Department; Gerry Levesque, president of the Quebec Federation of Nautical Clubs; Gaston Godin, of Three Rivers, president of the Quebec Water Skiing Association; Danyelle Jacob, of Lac Cimon, last year's Miss Water Safety; Robert Orsali, president of the Beloeil Nautical Club; Mrs. Jacques Francoeur, wife of the Montreal newspaper publisher, and Reg R. Fife, of the Monty Berger & Co. public relations firm.

Notes and Jottings FROM Robert Sellar's Historical Writings

The trials and disadvantages of settlers in Hemingford were so similar to those already described of their neighbors in Havelock that one narrative will suffice, and I select that of William Barr:

We belonged to county Tyrone, and sailed from Belfast in the spring of 1830. My father and mother died soon after leaving port. I was led to this part of the country by a married sister, who had preceded me and lived in Sherrington. I bought for $400 lot 66 on the 2nd range. There was a shanty and a bit of clearance, made by a squatter. From Clelland's corners to Covey hill was solid bush, with the exception of the clearings of Clelland, the Robsons, Sweet, and the Spearmans, James and Simon, both blacksmiths by trade and Irish by birth. The road had been straightened the year before, and the pieces across the swamps cross-wayed. Before that, the road had crooked southward to avoid the swamps. Francis and William Horn, two as decent Scotchmen as ever lived, and William Pullar came the same year as I did, and settled near me. My father, thinking it would be better to take linen than money, had packed up 500 yards with a quantity of thread. I found it hard to exchange. Colonel Scriver took part, and from him I bought a yoke of oxen. I had sufficient money to furnish my shanty save to buy a stove, and I went to William Horn to beg the loan of $20. Remarking that by lending a man generally lost both his money and his friend, he said he would trust me, and when, the following spring, I went to repay him he refused to accept of any interest, and on pressing him, he exclaimed, "Weel, weel; give me a day in hairst", and so I sheared a day for him that fall. I set at once to clear the land and make potash, which was then selling high, $25 to $30 per barrel, in order to pay for my lot. My lot was finely covered with maple and elm but it was fearful work chopping in summer —often had I to take a drink from the brook every few cuts. That winter I did a good deal at lumbering, and became very expert with oxen. In 1835 I joined with Hosmer Corbin, who belonged to Champlain, in building a small sawmill on the creek that runs through my lot and did very well, selling the lumber chiefly to Colonel Scriver. Corbin brought 50 pigs in the spring from Champlain and they were turned loose in the bush. In the fall they came out fat, fed mostly on beech-mast. In 1838 Corbin left me and built a mill for himself on the English river, on lot 117, and Colonel Scriver at the same time raised his tannery a short distance above it.

Several years before Corbin built his sawmill, an expensive gristmill, with oatmeal-mill attached, was erected on the same lot by Colonel Languedoc of St. Edward, replacing the old Woolrich mill. He sold them to Humphries Nesbitt, and while in his hands the gristmill was burned. The sawmill and carding-mill he kept running for many years. In the eastern end of the township, in 1835, Andrew Starnes built a small gristmill on the Little Montreal, but that stream proved insufficient to keep it going during the summer, and, after a few years' trial, it was abandoned, and the farmers had again to rely on Judge Moore's mill at Champlain, or Shedden's at Mooers, both on the U.S. side.

Previous to 1829 there were only two schools in the township—one at Scriver's corners and the other in the Robson settlement, which was opened about 1827, and stood at the corner of the sideline. Shortly after the Robsons raised a block building near the site of the present one, which had Duncan Young as teacher. The building was occasionally used on Sundays by itinerant preachers, the more frequent being Methodists. On the Rev. Isaac Law's visiting the English river, a congregation in connection with the U.S. Association Presbyterian synod was organized. In speaking of the Robson neighborhood I would relate, in the words of Richard Sweet, an extraordinary event that happened in it:

In April, 1824, Mr. Merlin was sleeping at the Robsons, when he heard a commotion among the live-stock. Waking the household, they went out, when they found a wolf chasing the cows and sheep round the yard, the brute barking and snarling. Rousing the adjoining family of Robsons (Walter's) and securing a lantern, they came to my father's, towards which the wolf had run. Hearing the noise, my father rose and went out. While they were telling him of the cause of their coming, the pigs were heard squealing in our pen, and presently the wolf jumped out, holding a pig by the ear. Roger Robson fired, but the gun did not go off. Bringing it to the light in the house, they found the cause to be that the flint had slipped. Replacing the flint, they isued forth, and the wolf being still in the yard, gnawing the pig, Robson fired and broke the brute's leg, when it went close to the barn. Father's gun was in the barn, and slipping in, he got it and going up to the wolf fired into its breast, killing it. The wolf acted most savagely, snapping continually. Bringing it into the kitchen to skin it before the fire, they found it to be of unusual size and with only 3 legs, one having been lost in a trap. While skinning, mother suggested that they ran some risk, for the brute might be mad, and, sure enough, her conjecture turned out to be true, for every animal, except the sheep, it had bit became mad. Some of the sheep died from their injuries, but none went mad. We supposed it was because the wool had cleaned the teeth of the virus before entering the flesh. Cows and pigs went mad one after another and had to be killed, and all the dogs. A bull of Robson's, while mad, was a dreadful sight in his fury, which was stopped by a shot. We had a cow that we thought had escaped, but in August she too turned mad. We had used the milk in the interval and without harm. The horses that night were in a stable some distance apart, and so escaped. My father lost every horned critter he had, and the Robsons 7 or 8. The symptoms in dying began with paralysis of the hindquarters. The pigs were full of droll antics when seized. Wild beasts were very plentiful about that time, and deer were seen in herds, often of half a dozen. One day when all the men were away, a dog was seen to have a splendid deer at bay close to the big stone by the

I. The only man in the house was a travelling tailor, Jim Segar, who got the gun and went out, but the flint would not work. Mother ran for a coal, which went out; she returned for a second, and dropping it on the priming while the tailor pointed the gun, the charge exploded, and the deer killed.

To open the ceremony Canon Gareau gave the introductory sermon then accompanied Father Brault to the Tabernacle. The new priest then opened the church door, rang the Bell, sat in the Confessional and addressed his new parishioners. The choir from Longueuil gave an excellent rendition of special hymns. Sincere thanks was expressed to all who participated in this ceremony. It is hoped that Father Brault will be very happy in his new parish.

Rev. Rather Napoleon Poirier, former Parish Priest, in his farewell message to his parishioners stated that his successor, Rev. Father Albini Brault is young, devoted and bilingual and will be a great help to the young people of the parish, having a great deal of experience with the trend of today. It was with regret that Father Poirier took leave of his parishoners on account of ill heaith. We pray a special blessing for Rev. Poirier in his retirement.

Obituary

The Late Dennis Cliff

Residents of Delson were saddened to learn of the tragic death of the late Mr. Dennis Cliff, in Weston, Ont., last week. The late Mr. and Mrs. Cliff had resided in Delson for many years and were active members of St. Andrew's United Church, when for business reasons they were transfered to Weston. Mrs. Cliff passed away in February of this year, after a lengthy illness. Sincere sympathy is extended to the family members.

-o-

Our deepest sympathy goes out to Mrs. M. McAran of Laprairie and her four children in the great loss they have sustained. The husband and father of this bereaved family was a victim of a hit and run driver. May the blessing of our Heavenly Father sustain and guide this young mother in her hour of sorrow.

News from Brossardville

A "Farewell Party" was given in the United Church Hall in Brosseau recently, when members and friends assembled to bid god-speed to Mrs. Page, one of the oldest members, who is leaving the community. Mrs. Page, an ardent U.C.W. and assistant organist, was presented with a lovely lounge chair, from members of the congregation and was the recipient of other gifts from her many friends. Mr. George Weston made the presentation to Mrs. Page and expressed the sentiments and wishes accompanying the gift. The ladies of the Church served delicious refreshments and everyone enjoyed the social hour.

CHATEAUGUAY SPORTS ROUND UP

(by JOHN McDONALD)
Phone No. OX. 2-2647

Minor Sport got things rolling this past week with games being played in all 7 leagues. One interesting aspect of Minor Sport was the introduction of the 11 inch ball to be used by the Squirts. League President, Pat Darcy, stated that the 11 inch ball has improved the calibre of ball in the league. The young lads under seven years seem to find the smaller ball much easier to handle than the standard 12 inch ball, thereby reducing the number of errors.

This reporter has not been able to get to see the Squirts play but will make it a point to see them in action this coming week. Minor Sport has grown so big here in Chateauguay the past couple of years that the league has decided that all rained-out games will be considered a tie as time will not permit rescheduling of rained-out games.

Minor Soccer has come to Chateauguay under the Chairmanship of Mr. George Brown. Parkview, C.C.R.A., Loisirs St. Jean Baptiste, Loisirs St. Joachim, Colonia, Terrace and The Heights have shown interest with the C.C.R.A., St. John Baptiste, St. Joachim committing a team in both leagues, Parkview in one league, with Colonia, Terrace and the Heights making their decisions this coming week. The age group are No. 1, — 9-10 years; No. 2 — 11-12-13 years. With the large amount of former Europeans living in Chateauguay and the great interest that Canadians have been taking lately in the game this sport should be quite popular. For more information contact Mr. G. Brown at 692-6030.

Sunday, June 30, saw the C.C.R.A. present plaques to all members of last year's Bantam Championship Team, who went undefeated through the entire season. Also honored were eight members of last year's 4 C.C.R.A. Hockey Teams who were presented with trophies. All in all twenty-eight trophies and plaques were awarded yet only 8 parents, two coaches and one member of the C.C.R.A. executive were on hand. Parents on hand to see their sons awarded Hockey Trophies were, Mosquitoes: Mr. and Mrs. E. Moore, parents of Reggie Moore; Pee Wee: Mr. and Mrs. G. Young, parents of Tommy Young; Bantam: Mr. Jean Bedard, father of Michel Bedard and Yours Truly was on hand in the Midget Section to see son Ronnie receive his trophy. Of the four coaches, only Pee Wee Coach C. Young and Midget Coach, Joe Chissom were on hand.

The only parents on hand to see their boys receive plaques for softball were Mr. Lea Bedard and Mr. R. Heslop. 18 boys received Trophies yet only two parents could find time to make an appearance. Coach Ray Leduc was on hand and also received a trophy, a fine tribute to a great coach and fine athlete. Of the fifteen member executive staff of the C.C.R.A. only 1st. Vice-President, George Young was on hand. Someone mentioned that Dominion Day weekend was a bad time to present awards because many families are away for the weekend. The poor turnout of the C.C.R.A. executive and hockey coaches may have been due to the long weekéend but in the case of the parents the young lads were there so they can't use the long weekend as an alibi.

Dozens of ball games are played in Chateauguay every week yet the majority of parents have never seen their children play one, yet if the hard-working men of sport should suddenly stop organizing sport, these same parents would start to howl so loud that they probably could be heard all the way to the American Border.

A wedding of interest to many in Chateauguay took place on Saturday, July 6th in Christ the King Church when Andrea Carolyn, daughter of Mr. R. O. Sanders and the late Mrs. Sanders became the bride of Dennis Leslie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Phelps of Montreal. Rev. Father Beaulieu, O.F.M. officiated and the church was decorated with standards of pink and white gladioli. Mrs. Guy Reid was organist and the soloist was Mr. Robert Beauchamp who sang "Ave Maria" and "Panis Angelicus".

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked beautiful in a floor length gown of Chantilly lace with fitted bodice and bateau neckline, having long sleeves and a bouffant skirt falling into a slight train. Her fingertip veil of tulle illusion was held by a double crown of seed pearls. She carried a nosegay of pink and white baby roses.

Miss Beth Sanders as maid of honour and Miss Margaret Sanders as bridesmaid attended their sister. They wore white dotted Swiss organza dresses trimmed in pink and open pillbox hats to match and carried nosegays of pink roses.

Best man was Mr. Gerald Phelps, brother of the groom and the ushers were Mr. Richard Sanders, Jr. and Mr. Stephen Sanders, brothers of the bride and Mr. Michael Phelps, brother of the groom.

Mrs. Phelps, mother of the groom wore a gown of aqua shantung silk with matching hat and handbag and her corsage was a white orchid.

Scott - Ross

A very pretty wedding took place on Saturday, July 6, when Beatrice Evelyn, daughter of Mrs. Bert Ross and the late Mr. Ross of Chateauguay Centre, became the bride of Donald, son of Mrs. George Scott and the late Mr. Scott of St. John, New Brunswick, in St. Andrew's United Church, Chateauguay, the Rev. Howard Fraser officiating.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Chester Ross, wore a full lenth gown of nylon and lace with long sleeves ending in points over the hands. Her shoulder length veil of tulle illusion was held in a crown of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Miss Mary Ross as maid-of-honor for her sister was gowned in blue nylon and carried a bouquet of blue and white carnations. Mrs. George Fifield and Miss Marilyn Jones as bridesmaids wore gowns similar to that of the maid of honor, in pink and blue respectively and carrying bouquets to match their gowns. All the attendants wore picture hats.

Best man was Mr. Carlos Mayo, cousin of the bride and the ushers were Mr. Everett Ross, brother of the bride and Mr. Robert Laframboise.

The reception was held in the Memorial Hall and was catered by Unit 2 of the U.C.W.

After their wedding trip the newlyweds will reside in St. John, N.B.

Parkview

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Sullivan and daughter Janice of Weston, Ont. paid an unexpected visit to us Monday evening. Oh! how wonderful it was to see them! We have been close friends since our early teen's, and we always had such fun. A lot of water has passed under the bridge since then, but just seeing them brought back so many fond memories. We were all sorry that their visit had to be so short.

The Duchesnesu family of St. Aubin Street have returned home from a camping trip at Meacham Beach, N.Y.

Birth

Congratulations to Marjorie and Hank Sarrazin of Dunn Street who are the proud parents of a baby daughter weighing 7 lbs. 3 ozs. Born July 9th at the Reddy Memorial. It seems they had quite a race to see who would get there first the stork or Marjorie.

The Bushes and Mrs. McCarvill of Parkview Blvd. had visitors from Toronto and St. Elzear.

The Kenndricks of Benny Ave., have returned home after spending some time touring the Maritime Provinces. They saw many points of interest, also attended a Lobster Festival. The countryside is really fabulous! I'm sure the way Shirley spoke that they will always remember this vacation. It was just terrific.

Vacation Bible School

On Friday, July 12th., the Daily Vacation Bible School held its closing exercises. Parents and friends were cordially invited to attend, and watch the children go through their paces. At eleven o'clock the parents were asked to assemble in the gymnasium to hear the children sing, each class sang a hymn and at the end, the entire school sang a rousing number, "If You're Happy and You Know It Clap Your Hands", the children went through the motions for the entire song that ended with a thunderous AMEN. Note of Caution

On Saturday, July 20th, Montreal and surrounding district will be in the path of a spectacular phenomenon — a solar eclipse. As interesting as this event is to the scientists, so is it as dangerous to your eyes, if sufficient protection is not used. We, as adults can read our newspapers, and listen to the radio for taking precautions, and it is up to us as parents to watch out for the safety of our children. If they are outside when this amazing event begins, bring them into the house to watch it on television. Some of the boys and girls may make a fuss, but insist that they obey you. Looking directly at the sun without proper protection can cause permanent eye damage, including blurred vision or blindness. Ordinary sunglasses do not provide adequate protection. You must have aids such as smoked glass, welder's goggles or even several layers of heavily exposed camera film. Take heed of all the many warnings you'll hear this week and make sure you and all your family watch this spectacular eclipse in safety.

Won't someone please tell me why some area residents find it necessary to burn garbage? First of all, it is against the law. Secondly, we have two garbage collections a week and this has now been augmented by twice monthly pick up of rubbish, other than household garbage. These additional collections are being made on the second and fourth Thursday of each month. This service is better even than in some larger cities! So, why all the private burning, causing unnecessary smoke and unpleasant odour as well? Most of the offenders, I'm sure, wouldn't think of doing this if they lived in the city, so why out here in Chateauguay, where there is no need of it, especially with our improved garbage collection.

Little League Ball had its official opening on Sunday afternoon at the Maple Street ball park. Many local dignitaries were present such as Mayor Joe Laberge of our Town and Alderman Colpron of the Centre. After the opening ceremonies by church and political officers, the games got underway.

I was very sorry to hear of the poor conduct displayed by some of the spectators and coaches during the second game, which in all honesty I admit I did not see. Certainly umpires get razzed at fastball games, but I do not believe it is conductive to teaching young boys good sportsmanship. Good sportsmen are not only good losers, but must also respect the decisions of the officials who are only doing their job as they see fit.

Little League Baseball began many years ago in the United States and can provide wholesome activity for boys. I am not against sports, but I do feel that some of the coaches and trainers involved are forgetting that they are dealing with young minds, bodies and emotions.

Out of the millions of boys across Canada and U.S.A. who want to play ball, the adults (again) pick only the best, of course. Little League in that way provides only a select few with the opportunity to play this ever-popular game. The top players are then put on a pedestal by the unthinking sportswriters, fans and in many cases the parents. Praising youngsters for a job well done gives self-confidence to them, but these same youngsters are certainly not mature enough to handle a tricky hero-worship situation.

Healthy competition, good sportsmanship and respect for law and order is taught by many means, starting at home and continued in the fellowship of any clean sport. I dare say that Little League has given a lift to many areas where there has not been too much enthusiasm for this type of competitive sport. However, Chateauguay is in the throes of growing-up. Each area is providing all its children with various activities. Some day I would also like to see unity in the field of sports, too, as I would with the various associations. Now that Little League has arrived, it means that the citizens must support it, if they so desire. Certainly Little League baseball can be called junior baseball at its best, but are we ready for it?

Personally, from what I have read, heard and seen, I cannot fully agree with it, whether we a ready or not, and I've only tried to explain why I cannot agree with everything that goes on in Chateauguay, but I can appreciate the fact that there are many fine gentlemen — even in Little League — who are indeed dedicated to providing our youngsters with worth-while activities. For this we can all be grateful.

We hear so much talk about some of the nasty things teenagers do. As a result, we tend to classify all teenagers as irresponsible and foolish. This is wrong. Worst of all, the teenagers themselves know it is wrong. Upon hearing the age of some boys and girls, many adults scornfully remark "so you're a teenager, eh!" and promptly expect the worst. Before condemning them, think of them as people with feelings that can be easily hurt and confused by your attitude.

Last week I mentioned that parents should check on some of the activities of teenagers during summer holidays. Obviously, parents cannot always watch all their children, all the time. May I make a further suggestion? If you see a young boy or girl deliberately causing damage or breaking the law, call the parents, if they are known to you. You may come across a parent, though, who will not appreciate your efforts to bring their children's mischief to their attention, but at least you have tried to do something constructive. Heavy damage can be reported to the police, if parents refuse to cooperate. Some times, even just talking to the misbehaving youngster will work wonders. Please notice, I said talking, not shouting.

On that note I will close this week's very opinionated column! My number is 692-2659 if you have any news or views to discuss.

Information Re: Eclipse

As many of you have read in the various newspapers and have heard on Television, a total eclipse will take place Saturday, July 20th., .No doubt I am not the only person who has given this spectacular event a great deal of thought, in fact to the point of contacting the Past-President of the "Montreal Centre of the Royal Astronomical Society" also spoke to one of the members of this Society to receive information as to the grave damage that could be done from looking directly at the sun for even a moment without adequate protection. From the information which I received, I wish to advise everyone of you who may read this column "DON'T TAKE CHANCES" If you should look to see the eclipse, for goodness sake protect your eyes! There are several items one could use for this purpose but an economical way would be to: — Purchase a roll of film black and white (NOT COLORED), open the package in the store and fully expose the film, then have them process it, but tell that not to cut it. You cut it in 5" or 6" lengths and use 2-3 (depending on the density) of these strips to protect your eyes from the sun. CAUTION: DO NOT USE OPERA GLASSES, BINOCULARS, TOY OR SMALL TELESCOPES. THIS COULD AND PROBABLY WOULD CAUSE BLINDNESS. (Is it worth the risk?) My deep concern is this: — How many of you realize that this crescent of sun which will be visible is as bright and powerful as the sun you see on a hot humid afternoon.. please be careful! Any particular town or city would on an average experience about 40 lunar eclipses, 20 partial solar eclipses in 50 years. But ONE total eclipse in 400 years. This will be our last total eclipse in this century. So friends, on July 20th., tell your youngsters (the sand box crowd) not to look at the sun, to your older youngsters, explain the importance of precaution, and last but not least... SET THE EXAMPLE YOURSELF ....O.K.?..m.m. If some of you think this is a lot of tommy-rot, re read it well, this is meant for you. Do you think for one moment I would take the time to make the contacts I did, and re-write them plus type them for the column just for something to do? I could have easily said nothing, saved a lot of time and work, but I don't work that way...if I feel others will benifit by what I have learned from these various contacts I sincerely feel it is my duty to let you know. So give it a bit of thought will you, and as I said before, please be careful.

NITRO NEWS

(Mrs. E. St. Onge)

NITRO — The gremlins — or something surely got into the column last week! What was left out were notes that a number of teenagers had been enjoying a few nights camping but in the end were glad to sleep in their own beds to catch up on some sleep!

Had a very pleasant surprise late Saturday evening when Mrs. Shannon came from Valleyfield to Nitro to meet Mr. Barry Payne of Montreal. Barry is the magician of the Blue Sky Revue and a great favourite with all of us. The Regatta and Valleyfield Fair all helped to make this quite a week-end.

The Latour family have been on holiday, was glad to have a short "chin-wag" over the week-end with Blanche, Mrs. Latour.

Birthday greetings to Charles Tardiff Jr. Better late than never — eh Charlies ? ? ? ?

C.A.L. is closed for a well earned two week vacation. Many families are away on holidays.

Lawrence left early Monday morning with Mr. Noel, for Rutland, Vt. Climbing electric poles will be a big change to skin-diving! But his experience in that field came in very handy last week, when he was able to assist the Police in locating the body of Mr. Mackie in less than 10 minutes of underwater searching. Sunday evening, I was very glad to know his services weren't needed during the week-end, as he was "on call" in a Patrol boat, during the races.

Editorial Notes...

It Took Courage, Therefore Should Be Recognized

THE controversy with regard to the first budget introduced by Finance Minister Gordon is fading somewhat now, although there are still some arguments going on.

While we are not in full agreement with all that made up the budget and what we are about to write in this column is not in defence of the Finance Minister, we must write what we believe is just and fair.

It is very seldom in this day, or for that matter in the past, that any government, or any member of the government will admit to be wrong. It is therefore refreshing that we have in Mr. Gordon, a man who will humble himself. This to our way of thinking points to a really honest man, and they should be praised, whenever they are found.

In seeking some way to raise funds for government administration and actually with very little knowledge of what was actually needed, the budget was introduced too soon. This was done however, to implement pledges made during the election campaign and therefore Mr. Gordon was only trying to do his best. However, when that budget was presented it caused the greatest furor of any for a very long time at least. Mr. Gordon was faced with a very angry populace and with the possible defeat of the government he represented. In most previous cases, the case once presented would have stood.

Mr. Gordon, however, took courage and took off one disagreeable feature right at the start. Other features caused still more cries and it was decided to review the budget and see if other changes could be made. All the time Mr. Gordon stood up to his opponents and never flinched at the responsibilities that were imposed upon him. He took his medicine and he came back with an amended budget which was re-introduced to parliament and country. It was modified considerably and while accepted in more pleasant manner, it was still not wholly satisfactory.

However, as we said in the beginning, we take our hat off to Mr. Gordon in having the courage to admit perhaps he was wrong and that the submission could be altered somewhat to give a fairer presentation. In our memory we do not know of an instance of like nature that has ever before taken place. There have been modifications of a sort, but never a complete revision and re-introduction of the budget. We do not think that Mr. Gordon's prestige should in any way be lessened by this act, we believe it should be enhanced and he should be shown greater respect for having the courage to admit he may be wrong and trying to rectify any mistake which may have been made. No man should be condemned entirely for a mistake that may have been made with only good intentions involved.

With this experience, no doubt when Mr. Gordon presents his next budget, he will do so with the wisdom gained being a guide. Perhaps we shall see something that may surprise all of us.

Will Khruschev Turn To The West

THE rift between Red China and Red Russia is not being lessened. There is evidence that it is getting larger all the time. If it should reach the breaking point, then there will be two Communist camps in the world instead of one. What effect this would have on the overall Communist plan as defined by Russia as the origin of it, is something that will have to be seen. The Russians claim their victory will be attained by peaceful revolution and bloodless victories. The Red Chinese, however, are seemingly more impatient for expansion and believe that warlike methods will bring greater and speedier results.

It is upon these views that agreement cannot be attained. It could therefore mean that a conflict could break out between these two powers to decide which of the two will have the final say. Under such circumstances it would be hard to say just what would happen and how long the whole world could stay out of danger. There is no doubt but what Communism has spread and is represented in every country in the world in varying measures. How strong this bond is with the originator would have to be seen. There is no doubt that it could be quite upsetting. We believe that the Red China variety of Communism is more confined to that country alone, whereas the Russian variety is more widespread. In this, of course, we could be wrong, however the composition could have a great effect upon future events.

As stated before, we believe that Krushchev will try to win the friendship of the West in this, his crisis, with a view to strengthening his hand in the event of conflict. As we also stated such a hand of friendship would need much watching before it was accepted in whole-hearted form. If Russia regained her former firm position through the help of the West, she would be the last to recognize it or to make concessions. It would be the West who would have to take it lying down. The only thing would be that a Khrushchev victory would also have to be recognized. If the West plays it cautiously, it would only be a matter of time before being involved in one way or another. If China should then be the winner, it is quite probable that there would be numerous wars and the taking over of other countries similar to Hitler's way of doing things.

There is of course the probability that the whole thing will blow over and we shall all go on living happily thereafter, so to speak. Things are always blackest before the dawn and it might be one of those things.

More World's Fair Changes?

WELL now that the site of the World's Fair in Montreal has been apparently settled, it would seem that there may be some changes in the personnel. It has been hinted that Mr. Bienvenu will resign and that Mayor Drapeau will head the World's Fair organization. It has been said that Mayor Drapeau has been getting things done on a one-man show basis and that others have been getting nowhere. It is also said that Mayor Drapeau was responsible for getting the World's Fair for Canada and Montreal and therefore he is the logical person to head any organization in connection with it.

There is no doubt but Mayor Drapeau has done a great deal toward securing the World's Fair for Canada and there is no doubt that he worked hard to obtain the site in Montreal. It is doubtful if he can run it as a one man show all the time and it should be realized that while the Fair is to be in Montreal, it is actually Canada's Fair and not just Montreal. It could have been held almost anywhere in Canada. The fact that Montreal has been chosen as the site is indeed very fortunate for that city and its people. Now there must be harmony in order to keep the people interested and have them visit Montreal. It is natural also that Canada will want to have some national representation and therefore the fact that the Government set up a Fair Corporation and headed it with Mr. Bienvenu. One other director has already resigned on the grounds that he speaks no French and the meetings are mostly held in the French language. Thus before it hardly gets started, there are already reverses and probable re-organization will be required.

There has been enough delay now and it should be a down to business proposition from now on in.

MEMBER AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

WANDERING WITH WADLEY

As a welcome relief to you from my constant family name dropping, I will continue to make brief comments and observations on things I hear, see and read during my travels. This does not by any means, infer that I will not revert to family affairs because I most certainly will.

Up to now I have been living on the bounty of my brother and sisters but, before long, I will be backing up and going forth to visit friends and more distant relations. In passing through, and before I forget to mention it, I have already detected an atmosphere of relief and almost jollity, when I made the announcement that I would be sailing for home during the first week of September. But, please do not misconstrue anything I write as being a slur on their hospitality. Nothing could be further from the truth. On the contrary, their welcome has been most cordial and their entertainment of the highest order. The very fact that they have endured me for this long speaks volumes in itself but I feel that I must not stretch my luck too thinly and that I should go hence whilst the going is good.

For the most of this past three weeks I have been visiting various parts of the County of Essex. This is the county of in which my family has its roots and where, still, most of the family live. To many people Essex is one of the more prosaic counties but I am pleased to be able to disagree with such people. It is certainly not a hilly county as the highest elevation is not much more than 400 feet above sea level. The big towns are on the dull side as it is too near to London with is multitude of attractions but many of its villages are just soaking with history and one is only a few miles at any time from a village which still has visible signs of its foundations in Saxon times. To them, other villages which can only trace back their foundation to Roman and Norman Conquest times, are nothing but upstarts and are looked down on with a certain amount of condescension.

You will remember that, in one of my earlier spasms, I related to you how we had just acquired a poodle pup and how she promptly got lost. Well, I have a sister named Dorothy (that name, by the way, means "Gift of God" as if you did not already know it). Up to now, she has always been looked up to by the rest of the family and her many friends as the very acme of probity, truthfulness and every other known and unknown virtue. So there is not the slightest reason to doubt, for a single moment, her own dog story. I had hardly got into the house and into the kitchen to see what was cooking before she pointed out her dog which was peacefully sleeping in its box. Beyond the momentary opening of one eye and its immediate closing, she did not indicate the slightest interest in my arrival. But I am digressing for said Dorothy immediately launched into a long and descriptive monologue of what had happened to the dog. Personally, I am all for short, brief, pithy, concise and few but factual words relating to the story concerned and the long winded and flowery dissertations to others who have the time to spare. I am sure you will agree that, so far, this preamble to the story has been short, pithy, brief, and concise and, in keeping with this, I will now tell you the somewhat remarkable story of her dog.

As all dogs have, it had its favourite corner in the kitchen and the two cats of the household had good reason to believe that that corner was her's. One day she got up as usual, went out of the back door and, EIGHT MONTHS later, walked in the back door went to her corner and promptly went to sleep. End of story.

Now I want to tell you two short and true stories in both of which demon rum played a prominent part. In each case I was involved but, in case the wonderful image which you may have of me may become unjustly besmirched, let me hasten to tell you that I was very young and innocent in those days (well, almost anyway) and I was grievously misled by two unworthy characters who had served overseas with me during the First War. Both incidents happened in the very early twenties when rum running was one of the most lucrative industries in Nova Scotia as it also was in your own area.

It was our battalion's custom to have a summer picnic reunion and one of the main features of the gathering was the line up for the rum issue. You old codgers reading this will remember the rum issue and how you always accused the sergeant for swiping half of it for himself and watering the rest. I, being an abstainer, was always appointed the official rum issuer on the grounds that, being such, I would deal it out fairly and squarely. We were all short of funds at that time and the purchase of sufficient for the normal crowd of about two hundred was entirely beyond our means. The whole problem was solved quite simply by one of our committee, Jim Butler by name, who, somehow or other had got appointed as a constable in the Halifax police force. At that time I owned my first Ford jalopy and he asked me to meet him down on Water Street at a certain time and to be sure to have a blanket or two in the back seat. In due time I met him there and he immediately took a key out of his pocket and proceeded to open the door of the Legal Vendor's store. I should mention that it was after business hours but still light. He went in and, in a very short time, emerged with a case of rum. This was repeated two or three more times, they were covered in the back seat of the car by the blankets and then he wished me a pleasant good-night. On reflection, he must have been on very friendly terms with the manager of the store, don't you think? The most astounding part of the whole affair was that I parked the car outside of my house all that night with the rum still in it and, to my great relief, it was still in it the next morning, which was the day of the picnic. The contents were, in due time, enjoyed by all — except me. I never did get to know the name of the very generous donor.

The other incident was also connected with a summer reunion which was to be held at the beautiful seaside resort of Chester, Nova Scotia. Colonel Ralston, who had been our Commanding Officer, had not at that time moved his office to Montreal had enough influence with the miliary authorities to get us the loan of sufficient army trucks to get us there and back. And, here again, demon rum was a problem. In this instance Stan Westover, who had been our Company Sergeant Major and was a Lunenberger, came to the rescue. He had been appointed a Preventive Officer. These officers had the duty of seizing all illegal shipments of liquor both within the offshore limits and on land. I can vouch for the fact that, at times at least, he performed his duty with remarkable efficiency for he told us to look under a well marked road culvert on the road down to Chester where we would find ample supplies to meet our requirements. I, again, took my Ford and, accompanied by another old sweat, we duly reached the designated spot where, sure enough, ample supplies had been cached. Don't you think that my old comrades' confidence in me was really touching? But I do not remember that we had the decency to pass a vote of thanks to the unknown and certainly most unwilling donor.

But, before you decide to chide me, please do remember what I wrote at the beginning of this item relative to my youth and innocence.

Provincial Capital Report

QUEBEC (CP) Some of the municipalities that take advantage of the winter work program also take advantage of the men who are supposed to benefit from it.

Under the make-work program, the Federal Governmen pays half the labor costs, the Quebec Government 40 per cent and municipalities 10 per cent.

But some communities evidently are trying to wriggle around their responsibility in the program.

Raymond Gariepy, Assistan Auditor of the Province, told the Public Accounts Committee of the Legislature last week that many municipalities try to keep back part of the workers wages to meet their 10-per-cent obilgation.

"Many municipalities attempt in some way to obtain the repayment of costs of material used for these works and also their 10-per-cent share of director wages," Mr. Gariepy said.

"They think up all kinds of ways."

Last Spring, the Confederation of National Trade Unions in the Lake St. John region made the same complaint, giving an illustration of how the cheating was done. Some municipalities, the CNTU explained, charged workers 10 cents an hour for use of tools.

Mr. Gariepy said workmen knew they were receiving less than the municipalities reported paying them.

Things may be different next winter because of the attention the Committee and the CNTU have given the practices. The Committee — which is supposed to train a close eye on spending of public money — sat this session, for the first time since 1935.

The Session, which ended July 11, was the third longest in Quebec's Legislative History. It began Jan. 15.

Conflict with Ottawa was its theme. The Assembly found the 11-per-cent Federal Sales Tax, later modified, a measure that seemed aimed at Quebec It flayed Ottawa's proposed Municipal Development Fund and also told the Senior Govrnment to keep out of the Portable Pension Field here.

Two Major Bills never quite made it at this Session, but will be re-introduced at the next. The Quebec Labor Code, with 142 clauses was delayed for further study after introduction by Labor Minister Rene Hamel. No one objected to the postponement.

A Bill to create a Department of Education with a Cabinet Minister in charge was another matter. It seemed almost to go through but increasing the pressure from groups with a vested interest caused Premier Lesage to set it aside until next Session.

The usual flurry of last-minute announcements was made.

Premier Lesage told the Assembly Wabush Iron Ore Company will build its $50,000,000 pelletizing plant at Pointe Noire, near Sept-Iles. This announcement recalled Newfoundland Premier Joey Smallwood's decree last spring that Labrador Ore would be processed outside Newfoundland "over my dead body."

"Is he dead?" asked opposition Leader Daniel Johnson, touching off the nearest exchange of the session.

"Not according to the telegram I received from him today," replied the grinning Premier.

Roads Minister Bernard Pinard announced that s $35,000,000 six-lane suspension bridge will be built 700 feet upstream from the present Quebec Bridge on the St. Lawrence River here. He gave few details and construction isn't expected to start before 1965.

Report From Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP) — Bowing before an unprecedented storm of protest, Finance Minister Walter Gordon last week slashed $115,000,000 worth of taxes from his battered budget.

He reduced the immediate impact of the 11-per-cent federal sales tax on building materials and production machinery, announced in the budget June 13, by putting it on a gradual basis. It now starts at four per cent jumps to eight per cent next April 1 and to 11 per cent on Jan. 1. 1965.

When the budget June 13 announced the 11-per-cent tax, exempting only farmers and fishermen, it touched off an avalanche of protests from premiers, mayors, unions and business organizations of all kinds.

In watering down the tax impact the minister also extended the exemptions to schools, universities and materials consumed by manufacturing processes. The latter item gave relief to a wide class of industrial consummers, notably the publishing and graphic arts field.

Met With Jeers

Opposition critics had a field day as Mr. Gordon recited the details of his budget revision. There was laughter, jeering and cries of "shame, shame," and "chicken," during his 15-minute speech.

George Nowlan, Conservative financial critic, said Napoleon's retreat from Moscow "did not go so far or so fast" as Mr. Gordon's retreat from his original budget.

"Is this the final version?" Opposition leader Diefenbaker called out.

Both were referring to the fact that it was the second time Mr. Gordon had revised his budget. On June 19 he withdrew the controversial 30-per-cent "takeover" tax on sales of large blocks of stock in Canadian firms to foreign investors.

Mr. Nowlan, who was finance minister from last August until the fall of the Conservative government this spring, said he had been criticized as a finance minister who never brought in a budget.

"I would rather be the minister of finance who never brought in a budget than a minister of finance who brought in the worst budget . . ." he said, cheers drowning out his final words.

Milder Reaction

Outside the Commons reaction was a little kinder, although some organizations kept insisting the whole tax measure should have been scrapped. Most spokesmen welcomed Mr. Gordon's revised tax schedule, saying it would give business and industry a chance to adjust to higher costs.

Mr. Gordon at a press conference after making his Commons statement, told reporters that the original tax was "pretty tough" and said he had tried to meet most of the complaints which resulted.

This will certainly soften the shock," he said, referring to the changes.

The resulting loss in tax revenue will plunge the government deep into the red for this fiscal year. Mr. Gordon estimated that his budgetary deficit will reach $655,000,000 instead of the $585,000,000 deficit he estimated in his budget speech.

Advisers Depart

Little noticed in the week's news was the departure from Ottawa of the three businessmen Mr. Gordon called in from Toronto to help write the budget.

The "ghost writers, as one Opposition member labelled them, were the topic of bitter debate after Mr. Gordon admitted they helped prepare the budget speech. Things got really hot when Mr. Gordon later revealed that two of them remained on the payroll of Toronto investment houses while they worked in his office. He assured the Commons that they had taken oaths of secrecy, and that none of the budget proposals had been leaked.

This assurance was backed up last week when Prime Minister Pearson gave the Commons reports he had requested from the presidents of the Montreal and Toronto stock exchange. They said a study of stock trading patterns before and after the budget showed nothing to indicate any foreknowledge of budget information.

Sign Columbia Pact

The dispute between the federal government and British Columbia on the Columbia River power development treaty had been going on so long that Ottawa observers could hardly believe it when agreement was announced.

External affairs Minister Martin tabled a copy of the formal agreement and said all items in dispute had been resolved. Now the two governments will hold talks with the United States about making "certain clarifications" in the original treaty signed by Canada and the U.S. in January, 1961.

Premier Bennette of B.C. won his main point, that power owing to Canada from U.S. generating stations which will benefit from Canadian dams be sold in the U.S.

Only item remaining now is for Mr. Bennett to get the price he wants for this power. If he does, the gigantic hydro and flood control project on the international river could go ahead immediately.

If he doesn't, the whole deal is off.

Revise Atlantic Board

The Atlantic Development Board, set up by the former Conservative government six months ago, has a new look. Amending legislation, sponsored by the new Liberal government and passed by the Commons last week, gives the board a $100,000,000 development fund and six new members to be added to the five appointed in January.

Conservatives tried to wipe out a section of the amendment which reduces the terms of the five members they appointed. They also complained that the six new Liberal appointees would take over the board.

Gordon Churchill (PC--Winnipeg South Centre) said it was "too obviously a partisan trick."

State Secretary Pickersgill, who will report to Parliament for the board, shot back: "Those who are suggesting that primarily partian appointments will be made must be speaking from a guilty conscience."

Electronic Cupid

A report from California that an 81-year-old man met his bride-to-be through a computing machine in a marriage broker's office makes one wonder where automation is leading us.

With the exception of the men who lost their jobs, it was generally accepted as progress and a move toward increased efficiency when computers began directing the operation of assembly lines in mass-production factories.

When these electronic brains began taking over traffic control in congested cities, freeing some policemen for other duties, there were few complaints.

And even when computers took over the job of checking our income tax returns it wasn't too hard to take. For while they perhaps caught more of the mistakes, they were also faster in getting our refund to us.

But aren't they going a bit too far when they use these impersonal electronic wonders to pick out a potential wife?

When George Conway, a retired clergyman, went to the marriage broker, the necessary information about him and his preferences was fed into the computer. There it was matched with other information on various available women.

What emerged was Mrs. Gladys Coover, a widow and for many years a grandmother.

One thing that makes the idea a little easier to take is that the couple dated for a while before deciding to get married. It meant there was still a little room left for romance and emotion.

With all the divorce these days, it might be said that many are doing a mighty poor job of selecting mates with whom they are going to be compatible.

It might even be said that anything — even a computer — that somehow could cut down the margin for error would be welcome.

But for anyone who has experienced the wonder of that moment of discovery that there's only one possible true love for you and that, by sheer chance, he or she happens to be right here, it must be evident that there's really no room for an electronic match-maker.

ALERT REACTION TO OBSTACLES.

Maximum speed limit is not the same for all drivers, says the Provincial Highway Safety Committee (PRUDENTIA). The maximum speed at which a motorist can travel should be relative to the rapidity of reaction he or she has to sudden obstacles that loom up. Alcohol can diminish a driver's reaction to where it is unsafe for him to ever take to the road even if only one drink has been imbibed. Should the driver disobey this oft repeated warning, then he should, at least, never drive fast. The consequences are of his own making.

Congratulations to all these boys and girls. It meant a hard year's work. Besides appearing in recital the great majority of them took part in the Musical Festival. Success crowned their good work.

Miss Demers had to separate piano recitals due to having a very large class; the 1st by the "Juniors" was given on June the 8th. The "Senior" was on June 15th and both were held at Notre-Dame school Auditorium; and presided over jointly by Mgr. J.A. David and Rev. Black.

A special guest for each concert; for Junior: Gerald Carrigan, unable to come at very last minute, his teacher, Mr. Lindsay Cullen, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Crête replaced him, and delighted the audience with his Musical skill. Thanks, Mr. Cullen for favoring us.

Mr. Raymond Rowat, violinist, was our guest at the senior concert; he also charmed every one with delightful classic and semi-classical pieces. Miss Demers is very grateful to both gentlemen.

The two Clergymen congratulated the pupils for the excellent performance, and outlined the amount of work and patience required by both teacher and pupils to make a success in the musical field.

List of the Junior class: Laura Black — Artie McCoy-Kathryn Blake — Lynn Sparrow — Suzanne Dumouchel — Douglas Hayter — Camil Frédérick — Catherine O'Connor — Donald Mc Coy — Anne Parent — Steven Marton — Phyllis Hayter — Mary Jean Cameron (Dundee) — Paul Racine (5 years old) Susan Sparrow — Jean Parent — Robert Primus — Allan McCoy — Helen Caldwell — Raymond Métayer — Van Rankin. — O Canada was played by Master Camil Frédérick and God save the Queen: Kathy Blake.

O Canada was played by Miss Martha Armstrong and "God save the Queen" by André Nadeau.

Many thanks to the Catholic school-board for the use of the Hall and the flowers and also flowers donated by Mrs. Guy Lefebvre.

Comments by parents and friends were an appreciation for having given the recital in two parts being much easier on the young folks and the public, at this season when the heat makes it quite uncomfortable at times.

IF YOU ARE GOING AWAY

The photograph below shows Ivan M. Graham, on the left and Wm. "Bill" Russell of Chateauguay, owner of the well known Gordon Auto Parts Ltd. In the background is Mr. Russell's brand new 50 x 132 foot garage which is located near the Chateauguay intersection of Routes 3 and 4.

Read what "Bill" has to say:

"Early in April my former garage was destroyed by fire, and I needed a new garage, but fast. First, basically it had to be 50 feet wide by 132 feet long, absolutely free of posts, and designed for fast erection. Secondly, combined with versatility it had to have good appearance, and thirdly, economically priced.

"After checking on various types and makes of structures, I found Graham's building incorporated the desired basic features, and was reasonably priced, and I sincerely recommend it to anyone."

The Grist Mill

by

DOROTHY DAVIDSON

Now, when the Valley is on the eve of two anniversaries, the Gleaner's hundredth birthday and the one hundred and fiftieth year since the Battle of Chateauguay — when people are rooting up long-ago stories and plans are being made for celebrations, we think it an appropriate time to report on a windfall that literally has landed in our lap. It is two old, dog-eared ledgers which record the accounts of the early families who traded with Walsh's General Store in Ormstown. (The business was sold about twenty years ago, but the red brick building still stands at the corner of Lambton and Bridge streets).

The cover of one of these ledgers is made from a piece of cowhide, soft and pliable; the other is a mottled, cardboard cover with corners and spine of leather that feels like suede. It is this book that riveted our attention because it is the older of the two. Unfortunately, it is not the ledger used when the store first opened in 1848, but we believe it to be the second one.

A fine, copperpiate writing fills the rusty-edged pages. Clear and legible, it reveals a painstaking, meticulous person who must have spent hours of infinite patience and care to record the daily business of the store. The first entry is dated May 7, 1852, fifteen years before Confederation and long before the first Canadian dollar was printed, to the account of one John Morrison for four bushels of oats at a cost of seven shillings and sixpence. The last entry, to the Reverend William Breathour's account on January 5, 1857, is so faded that even a magnifying glass failed to reveal the items. And between these two entries and five hundred and ninety-nine pages there are bushels of stories and questions by the quart to tease the imagination.

For instance, the first item in a Miss Broderick's account, March 1855, reads: "To Amount from Father's Account — eight shillings and ninepence." A little research revealed the last entry in one Thomas Broderick's account was October 18, 1854. It is reasonable to suppose that sometime between these dates the good gentleman died. There being no mention of a wife, we assume he left his daughter an orphan and responsible for his debts. How did a maiden lady make ends meet in those days?

Why is there only one entry, crossed out, under the name John Cowan? Was it an error, or was the customer so rich in ready cash he decided to settle his purchases henceforth on the spot? Was there a disagreement, or what?

There is the story of the tailor who stitched the hours away through an alcoholic haze. His record is sprinkled with the acquisition of many bottles of whiskey along with braid, pearl buttons, studs and plaid, which periodically reached a crescendo, ending with the inevitable "To ½lb. Salts"!

There is the account to "The Jamestown Road" which begins June 27, 1853 with "3 axes, 3 hoes", followed in a few days with the purchase of more axes as additional forces must have joined the original three (or was it six?) men who started to build the road, leading south from Ormstown to St. Antoine Abbe. All through that summer the record tells of the number of axe handles bought to replace broken ones, the amount of powder and fuse that was necessary to blast rocks and boulders, and how many quarts of whiskey were needed to slake the men's thirst under the summer sun. Finally, on September 23rd, the account is closed with the paying off all hands, each man receiving the equivalent of 35 cents a day for his pains.

Comparisons are said to be odious; nevertheless, it is interesting to compare some of the prices of a hundred and ten years ago with those of today. On the assumption that a shilling was worth twenty-five cents, give or take a penny or so, the following makes good reading: Scythes and hay forks — $1.00 each; 1 lb. tobacco — 25 cents; 1 doz. eggs — 10 cents; 1 bushel oats — 45 cents; 1 spool thread — 10 cents; 1 yd. quilting — 3 cents; tea and sugar, according to price standards of the day, were expensive, costing 60 cents and 10 cents a pound, respectively. If you wanted to go all out and buy a fur hat, you would be $5.00 poorer, but you could settle, if you wished, for a "cloth cap with a fur band," for 51.00.

Late in the fall, the farmers brought their pork to the store where it was kept outside at the rear of the building, preserved in snow for the winter. They borrowed against this so-called collateral pile, and in the spring when the road was opened, they hauled the pork to market in Montreal. Upon returning to Ormstown, they settled their accounts by cash.

However, a man might square his debt in kind, if he so wished. At regular three-month intervals, Major Robert Lindsay was credited with so many pounds of butter, cheese or wool. Others paid in bushels of pearl ashes (potash), and one man netted eight shillings and sixpence for two calf skins and a dog skin. There were those who settled their accounts by service like the married lady who reduced her debit by five pounds, fifteen shillings and sixpence for digging 231 yards of cellar!

The forebears of many families, still living in the vicinity, are in these books: Baird, Campbell, Cavanagh, Cameron, Elliott, Graham, Hamilton, Henderson, McCormick, McGerrigle, McEwan, Sadler, Stewart — to name a few. Significant, perhaps, is the fact that of the 255 families listed, there are only two French Canadian names: Louis Primeau and Pierre Fobeare.

The more one delves into these books the more one senses that the ghosts of Dickens' characters are close by. It takes little imagination to see Mr. Walsh, when the door is closed for the night, sitting on a high stool before his desk in a back corner of the store. There, amid sugar and cracker barrels, bottles of syrups and elixirs, bolts of cloth and the smell of rope, where hoe and rake, scythe and shovel hang from nails, high in the dark spaces near the roof — there amid the wide range of merchandise, unique to the old general store, he painstakingly writes his accounts. A candle or, perhaps, a coal oil lamp lights the pages of the ledger, and no sound is to be heard save the scratching of his quill pen as he records the day's business in a fine, copperplate hand.

We are grateful to the person who so kindly gave us the opportunity to explore these books and wish that time and space permitted more than this small sample of what the pages tell. But, eventually, when the Chateauguay Valley Historical Society builds its proposed museum, we hope these ledgers will be placed therein, along with other relics of a bygone age, for all those who are interested in old things to see and enjoy.

Hemmingford

Street Fair at St. Luke's

HEMMINGFORD — The annual Street Fair was held in the grounds of St. Luke's Anglican Church, in Hemmingford, on Friday evening, July 12th. The lovely weather was, no doubt, partly responsible for the very large number who arrived to patronize the many games and decorative stalls set up on the lawn under the trees. The well-filled home-baked food table was sold out early in the evening and the Quiz game and Treasure Hunt proved quite exciting. The ladies on the Ice Cream stall were kept very busy cooling-off their many customers and the dance held after the Fair, in the Hall, was also well attended. A number of articles had been donated as prizes and the lucky winners were, for the Sewing Stand, made and donated by Mr. Norman Akester, Miss Myrne Hadley: the stuffed animal was won by Mrs. Walter Kyle. The first prize in the Lucky Star drawing was won by Ian Blair, and the second prize by Mrs. Clara Fewster. The Treasure Hunt was won by Miss Meg Woolley. The prize-winners in the various contests held during the dance were as follows first in the Twist, Miss Mary Hebert and Mr. Gerald Smith, second, Miss Lise Laniel and Mr. Ronny Grosser. First in the Rock-n-Roll contest were Miss Gloria Norman and Mr. Yves Lauzon and second were Miss Francine Mailloux and Mr. Gerald Patenaude. The Lemon Twist was won by Miss Giselle Hess and Mr. Gerald Smith. The Spot Dance was won by Miss Doreen Kyle and Mr. Rodney Rolph and Mr. Claude Mailloux won the Limbo Conest. The judges of the dance contests were Mr. and Mrs. W. Edgar and Mr. André Mailloux.

The Committee extends its sincere thanks to all who worked so hard helping to organize the Fair and to their many friends who came and helped make it such a financial success.

More about the 4-H Exchange of Members

Another milestone in 50th Anniversary year festivities for Canada's 4-H Club members will be conducted July 9 to July 22. Termed by 4-H officials as one of the most significant projects ever attempted by the Canadian Council on 4-H Clubs, Inter-provincial 4-H Exchange will see a total of ninety club members take two-week educational tours in provinces other than their own.

Each provincial delegation will depart by air from each province after farewell banquets on July 8th. The Royal Bank of Canada, a long-term Council member, is absorbing the costs of travel for the delegates, as well as assuming the role of hosts at the farewell banquets.

On arrival at pre-arranged destination points the travelling 4-H members will be guests of the host province. In the province the visiting delegates will be assigned to host farm families. These families, in turn, will show their guests points of interest and provide them with an opportunity to observe 4-H activities and agricultural practices.

The delegates will return home on July 22nd. Provincial activities in the two-week period of the Exchange will be many and varied. In Alberta, for instance, the visiting delegates will be guests of the Calgary Stampede on arrival, followed by a day in Edmonton to meet with Canada's Ministers and Deputy Minister of Agriculture. The Agricultural Conference will host the 4-H visitors to Alberta at an official banquet.

The ninety delegates average 18.5 years in age and have at least six years in 4-H, with an average of nearly nine 4-H projects each. Seventy-five of the ninety delegates are farming or living on farms. Seventy-three delegates are attending high school. Eleven are University Students. The remainder are attending teacher colleges or Schools of Agriculture.

4-H officials are viewing the exchange program with enthusiastic optimism and will review its success shortly after completion.

Several members from this area are included in this exchange.

Letter To The Editor

The Gleaner, Huntingdon

My stay at the hospital has permitted me to concentrate on my thoughts, to meditate and to read more often.

I take this opportunity to congratulate the doctors and the nurses for their devotion and great charity. May Providence always be there to help them.

While reading "The Gleaner", I noticed that some people want to cut off the water supply at the exhibition grounds; I wonder why they are thinking of doing this. Everyday, children come to see the horses and to play on these grounds; this place is known for being safe; there you will find adults from 6 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Have we ever asked ourselves what our children will do for fun and pleasure during the summer months? For them, water is indispensable. Surely, the town can afford a little water during 3 or 4 months. It is a very small sum if you think of all that is spent without any results.

In ending, I wish to thank all my friends, hoping that my request will be heeded and things will remain as they were in the past.

Thank you.

Achille Picard, Huntingdon.

Education is the Key That Opens the Door to Jobs

Education is the key that opens many doors. Volumes have been written about the value of education in acquiring the qualities of leadership, wisdom, prestige, self-confidence, and so forth. This booklet, however, is concerned with one particular aspect of the value of education. Based on the experience of thousands upon thousands of cases of young people facing the competitive world of business and industry, it points out emphatically that education is the key that opens the door to jobs.

If you are one of those Canadian students considering leaving school to try your wings in the working world, you will want to know what awaits you. Here are some established facts that you should consider before making your decision.

In 1955 when jobs were fairly easy to find, two out of three of the unemployed had not gone beyond grade 8 in school, although the average education of all working people was higher than this. It is easy to see, then, that people with only grade 8 are more often out of work that those who have attended some form of secondary school. And people with only one or two years of secondary school are nearly as likely to be unemployed as those who have only grade 8.

In short, the more schooling you have, the quicker you will be able to find a job and the better will be your chances of keeping it.

Why? Because the poorly-educated worker is forced into those occupations where workers are more often laid-off, and in which there are more people looking for jobs, than there are jobs to be filled.

The person with, say, high school graduation, or its equivalent from a technical or trade school, can choose any occupation requiring any amount of schooling up to that level. The person with grade 8 or less, must choose from unskilled occupations, which require less formal training. So the poorly-educated worker has fewer occupations open to him, and, therefore, fewer jobs for which he can apply. Besides, he has more competition for those pobs.

The more schooling you have, the more occupations will be open to you, and the wider will be your choice of jobs.

Rockburn Jehovah's Witnesses Delegates to Convention

The Rockburn delegation of Jehovah's Witnesses completed their role as delegates last Sunday, July 7, when the group's "Everlasting Good News" Assembly closed at the County Stadium in Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

According to Miro Kowalenko, local presiding minister, the assembly attracted delegates from 49 states and 15 other countries. Peak attendance reached 57,055 last Sunday, when N.H. Knorr, president of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, delivered as special public Bible talk on the subject, "When God is King over All the Earth".

According to Mr. Kowalenko, Knorr said "Farsighted statesmen of the world, military experts and specialists on economics are continually warning us that there is disastrous trouble ahead for mankind, but they do not tell us what the real cause of it will be. The real cause is that men do not desire to turn the sovereignty of the earth over to God"

In addition to Korr's climaxing talk, other highlights of the gathering were a mass baptism and a release of several new publications.

The Witnesses baptized 905 new ministers last Friday morning at Milwaukee. The mass immersion ceremony took 90 minutes and 50 baptizers to accomplish, Mr. Kowalenko said.

The opening day of the assembly was highlighted by the release, in one volume, of the NEW WORLD TRANSLATION OF THE HOLY SCRIPTURES. This is a modern-speech Bible complete with footnotes and marginal references. On Wednesday, Watchtower Society President Knorr presented the New Testament only of this translation in six languages, Dutch, French, German, Portuguese, Spanish and Italian. The Thursday release was a book of 352 pages entitled, "ALL SCRIPTURE IS INSPIRED OF GOD AND BENEFICIAL." This was described as a complete history and content summary of each of the 66 books of the Bible.

Another Bible aid titled, "BABYLON THE GREAT HAS FALLEN". GOD'S KINGDON RULES:" was introduced by Knorr on Saturday afternoon. This followed the adoption of a resolution which reaffirmed the intention of Jehovah's Witnesses throughout the world to "support the established Messianic kingdom of Jehovah God as the only hope of the world," Mr. Kowalenko explained.

Spokesmen termed the assembly a definite success. The largest convention ever held in Milwaukee, it was heralded as a great stimulus to the work of Jehovah's Witnesses in the central United States.

The Milwaukee gathering was the first of 24 segments in the "Around-the-world International Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses for 1963". The second eight-day segment is now in progress in New York's Yankee Stadium. Assemblies will follow in major cities of Europe, Asia and islands of the Pacific. A final segment of the globe-encircling convention is scheduled to be held September 1 through 8 at the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, California, Mr. Kowalenko concluded.

Allied Chemical Encourages Young Students

Mr. John Schvarczkopf, Manager of The Nichols Chemical Co. Ltd, manufacturing subsidary of Allied Chemical Canada Ltd. at Salaberry de Valleyfield is shown presenting to Miss Huguette Lalonde, of Ecole Secondaire Sainte-Cécile, Valleyfield, the Allied Chemical Certificate of Merit and a $50. Canada Savings Bond. The presentation took place on Friday, July 5th. Miss Laionde was the student in her final year who finished with the highest mark in chemistry.

Allied Chemical Canada Ltd. has inaugurated a plan whereby the company will be awarding a Certificate of Merit and savings bond to the graduating pupil attaining the highest mark in chemistry in the final examinations at the high schools in the communities where its manufacturing subsidiaries are located.

It is particularly noteworthy that in the case of Valleyfield, Allied Chemical Canada Ltd. included a girls high school with the other high schools in that area. So often girls are overlooked when awards of merit in the chemical and sciene fields are made. In the bottom photo are seen sitting: Miss Marie-Paule Goyette, director of school; Mr. John Schvarczkopf; Miss Huguette Lalonde and Miss Haydon, from Allied Chemical. Standing are teachers who assisted at the presentation of award: Miss Jeannine Guérin; Miss Elizabeth Renaud; Mrs. Gisèle Pouliot; Miss Suzanne Sureau; Miss Jeannine Gervais and Miss Thérèse Joubarne.

L'ECLIPSE

AUX DANGERS CACHES

"L'eclipse aux dangers cachés", voici la façon dont les oculistes et les têtes-dirigeantes de L'Institut National Canadien pour les Aveugls réfèrent à l'éclipse du soleil qui aura lieu le 20 juillet. Des milliers de canadiens voudront sans doute observer ce phénomène rare de la nature, sous sa forme totale dans l'Etat du Maine et l'Alaska, et partielle, dans le restant du pays.

"Toutefois, il est dangereux de regarder l'éclipse à l'oeil nu et même avec des verres fumés ou des lentilles polarisées," disait M. J. A. René Corbeil de L'Institut National Canadien pour les Aveugles. "Des dommages sérieux pourraient en résulter."

Quand vous regardez l'éclipse à l'oeil nu, les rayons solaires ultra-violets invisibles frappent la rétine de l'oeil, pouvant causer des brûlures qui auront comme résultat des taches noires dans le champ visuel pour le reste de vos jours.

Pour pouvoir regarder l'éclipse en sécurité, suggère:

1) Regardez l'éclipse à la télévision.
2) Servez-vous d'un miroir pour refléter la lumière du soleil sur un mur, mais ne regardez pas dans le miroir; les rayons ultra-violets du soleil reflétés par le miroir peuvent causer les mêmes dommages aux yeux que si vous regardiez le soleil en face.
3) Développez un film photographique que vous aurez au préalable exposé à la lumière et regardez l'éclipse à travers deux épaisseurs de film. Faites ces préparatifs à l'avance et soyez prêts pour l'éclipse.

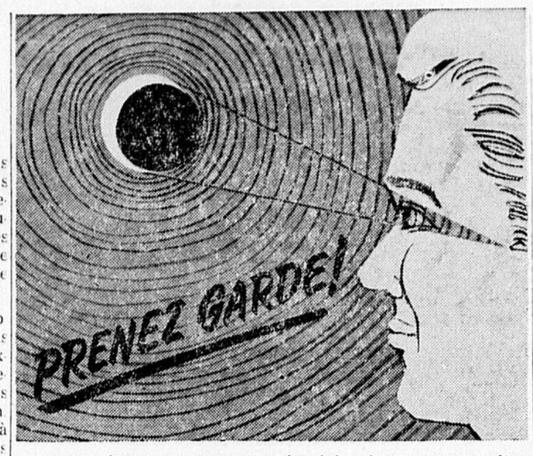
Le représentant de L'I.N.C.A. expliquait la cause des dommages aux yeux comme suit: "Normalement, la lumière du soleil est trop intense pour permettre de la regarder en face," disait-il. "Durant l'éclipse, cette lumière est interceptée au point où il est possible d'observer cet astre confortablement. C'est à ce moment que la rétine de l'oeil, qui elle n'est pas sensible à la douleur, est endommagée par les rayons invisibles du soleil".

Aucun traitement existe pour guérir les brûlures à la rétine de l'oeil. La cicatrice est permanente et forme un point noir dans le champ visuel. Ces brûlures vous affecteraient quand vous lisez conduisez votre voiture et durant l'exercice de tout travail qui demande une bonne vision.

L'an dernier, dans l'Utah aux Etats-Unis, durant une éclipse partielle du soleil, 31 personnes devinrent aveugles Il y a quelques années, à l'occasion d'une éclipse en Europe, 3,500 personnes ont souffert d'une perte partielle de vision, et 500 autres subirent des dommages sérieux à la vue.

"Si la population canadienne regarde l'éclipse à l'oeil nu", continuait M. J. A. René Corbeil des milliers de nos compatriotes, surtout des enfants, subiront des dommages irréparables à la vue". Les lunettes à soleil, les verres colorés et même les masques de soudeur n'offrent pas la protection nécessaire pour permettre d'envisager l'éclipse en sécurité; il n'est possible de le faire qu'en employant des méthodes indirectes.

Employez les méthodes indirectes et préservez votre vue.



Pendant leurs vacances, des milliers d'enfants canadiens risquent de perdre leur bonne vision s'ils ne prennent pas de précautions au moment de l'éclipse du soleil. L'Institut National Canadien pour les Aveugles avertit les parents que leurs enfants risquent de souffrir des dommages causés par l'éclipse pour le restant de leurs jours s'il la regardent à l'oeil nu. L'I.N.C.A. vous rappelle que les lunettes à soleil, les longues-vues, le verre coloré, les lentilles polarisées et même les masques de soudeur, n'offrent pas la protection nécessaire pour vous permettre de regarder l'éclipse en sécurité. Les rayons ultra-violets du soleil qui, eux, sont invisibles, frappent la rétine. Les brûlures qui en résultent causeront des points noirs dans le champ visuel pour le reste de la vie. Afin de vous permettre de jouir du spectacle de l'éclipse en toute sécurité, L'I.N.C.A. fait les suggestions suivantes: La meilleure manière est de regarder l'éclipse à la télévision. Vous pouvez aussi vous servir d'au moins deux épaisseurs de film que vous aurez au préalable exposé à la lumiire et développé. Souvenez-vous que les yeux de vos enfants doivent durer toute leur vie. Prenez-en soin.

Morale durant les vacances

Y a des loups, Muguette, y a des loups partout....

Vive les vacances, la liberté, les ébats, les cris, les détentes, les sports de toutes sortes.

Adieu livres, cahiers, tension nerveuse. — On se sent si léger, on veut tout à la fois; on chante; on rit. Quelle relaxation merveilleuse. On jouit des beaux jours, du soleil, des fleurs, du chant des oiseaux, de l'ombre de nos grands arbres.

Comme la vie est belle! on peut se balader à la campagne, se reposer sur la plage, se baigner, aller en canot, faire du ski aquatique, etc; puis....les centres de loisirs qui accaparent la jeunesse, souvent trop jeune hélas.

Qui pourrait vous blâmer, belle jeunesse, de profiter de ces plaisirs qui s'offrent à profusion, à votre disposition? Certes non. Mais vous est-il seulement venu à l'esprit de remercier l'Auteur de tant de bienfaits?

Avez-vous pensé aussi qu'à côté de tant de félicité, rôdent parfois de méchants loups? — les déceptions, les regrets, les accidents souvent mortels. De plus, il s'y glisse souvent des revers moraux qui parfois se cicatrisent difficilement ou laissent la conscience en délabre pour un temps indéfini.

Chers étudinats, qui avez la clé des champs, faites preuve d'intelligence et réfléchissez un instant avant d'agir; voyez ce qui se passe autour de vous. Vous faites l'essai de vos ailes toutes neuves, mais inexpérimentées et si fragiles; soyez donc prudents, faites confiance à des personnes d'expérience, dont vos parents, vos plus grands amis et encore ceux qui vous comprendront le mieux. Vous vous éviterez ainsi bien des déboires, des bêtises et des regrets.

Mes chers amis, le temps passe et vous savez comme il file; bientôt, votre jeunesse sera chose du passé. Vous aimerez vous en rappeler les souvenirs; alors, faites en sorte qu'ils ne soient pas entachés par des faiblesses honteuses. Gardez votre front levé vers des idéaux nobles, dignes de vos parents et de votre paroisse qui veulent faire de vous des chrétiens convaincus et des citoyens honnêtes. Soyez dès aujourd'hui ce que vous voudriez que soient vos enfants plus tard.

Pour être heureux vraiment aujourd'hui comme demain, soyez respectueux et aimables envers vos parents, allez vers eux en toute confiance, demandez-leur des conseils, soyez leurs amis, vous n'en trouverez jamais de plus sincères. Sachez surtout qu'ils veulent votre bonheur partout et toujours.

Enfin, pour braver ces vilains loups mentionnés plus haut, secourez à la prière, "Aide-toi et le ciel t'aidera," surtout à la messe et aux sacrements qui sont des armes sûres contre les attaques de l'esprit malin et des forces pour affronter les contrariétés inévitables de cette vie.

Rina Cérès

On oublie trop qu'il faut garder sa route

Très peu de conducteurs de véhicules-moteur semblent savoir que dans une rue ou sur une grande route, quelle qu'en soit la largeur, il faut garder sa droite. Un autobus ou un camion qui ne garde pas la droite sur une route large oblige celui qui veut dépasser à emprunter la gauche et à pénétrer ainsi dans la zone des véhicules venant en sens contraire. Gardez toujours la droite, répète le Comité Provincial de Sécurité Routière (PRUDENTIA). N'attendez pas que l'on vous demande de céder le chemin. N'Agissez pas comme si toute la route vous appartenait à vous seul.

L'origine des paroisses dans les Cantons de Godmanchester et Hinchinbrook

SAINT-JOSEPH de Huntingdon (suite)

En 1862, il ouvrait le premier registre paroissial, authentiqué pour les "missions de S. Joseph et de S. Agnès".

Mgr. Bourget était en visite à Huntingdon, le 12 juin 1863. Il pressa le curé de hâter l'érection de sa mission en paroisse canonique. Le 1er septembre, la requête à cette fin, était prête, signée de 83 noms. M. le chanoine Moreau fut chargé de l'enquête. Son procès-verbal fut approuvé. Le 24 octobre 1863, Mgr. publiait son décret constituant en paroisse tout le territoire décrit et borné comme suit: vers le nord, par les paroisses de St-Anicet et de St-Stanislas-de-Koskta; vers l'est, par la ligne qui sépare la seigneurie de Beauharnois d'avec les cantons de Godmanchester et de Hunchinbrook; vers le sud, par le trait-carré des terres du 5e rang du dit canton de Hunchinbrook, jusqu'à la rivière Châteauguay; suivant ensuite la dite rivière, par la rive nord, jusqu'à la ligne provinciale; et de là, jusqu'à la ligne qui divise le canton de Godmanchester de celui de Dundee; vers l'ouest, par les bornes actuelles de la nouvelle paroisse de St-Agnès.

M. Gagnier devient alors premier curé de Huntingdon. Il continuera son ministère paroissial jusqu'en 1869, avec les tracas des requêtes de Rivière-à-la-Truite, pour une chapelle, ou de St-Joseph, pour la construction d'une église à la place de la chapelle de 1852. Il partira alors pour les Etats-Unis pour répondre é un désir de Mgr. Bourget qui avait été sollicité, par un évêque américain, de lui envoyer un prêtre pour les Canadiens des Etats-Unis. Il bâtira 12 églises et méritera le titre de "glorieux apôtre des débuts canadiens de la Nouvelle-Angleterre. Il n'oublia pas sa paroisse de Huntingdon. De Springfield, où il était, il donna à la fabrique de St-Joseph un emplacement qu'il avait dans le village, et dans son testament, il légua pour ainsi dire, son couvent à la paroisse.

MEDITATIONS

Comme il est donc difficile d'être chrétien, vraiment chrétien!

Nous nous réunissons chaque dimanche à la messe pour former autour du Seigneur une communauté de charité, pour partager le pain de l'eucharistie comme le firent les premiers bénéficiaires du miracle dont parle l'Evangile, et puis, nous repartons chez nous, le coeur inchangé. Qui dira toute la détresse de ceux qui attendaient de nous non seulement un geste d'accueil, mais avant tout peut-être un accueil du coeur!

L'on nous répète — et c'est vrai — que l'Eglise est une famille, que nous sommes, par notre baptême, tous devenus des fils et des filles de Dieu. Mais peut-être parce que nous n'arrivons pas sur le plan purement familial à vraiment ouvrir notre coeur, il nous est impossible alors de l'ouvrir à ce frère, à cete soeur dans le Christ qu'est un autre chrétien!

Nous avons tous, à un certain moment de notre vie, besoin d'être reçus. Nous avons tous besoin de savoir qu'il est un lieu au monde où nous serons aimés, aimés pour nous-mêmes, avec nos défauts et nos qualités, aimés parce que nous sommes un fils ou un frère, une soeur peut-être égarée, une fille, un fils prodigue, perdus. Malgré les bons sentiments dont on nous rabâche les oreilles quand nous sommes à l'école, est-il donc tellement de maisons paternelles où les adultes se retrouvent chez eux? Où les frères et les soeurs sentent profondément qu'ils ne forment qu'une seule famille, quelles que soient les orientations différentes de leur existence, leurs réussites ou leurs échecs sociaux?

Que de familles où l'on n'aime que de loin, où l'on s'est durci le coeur parce qu'on n'essaie pas de comprendre! De comprendre que, quel qu'on soit dans la vie, il est parfois nécessaire de réchauffer son coeur au foyer de sa famille. Mais il n'y a plus de foyers dans les familles où, quand il y en a,il sont faits de bûches au gaz: préjugés tenaces, habitudes routinières, attitudes artificielles. On ne se comprend plus parce qu'on ne s'aime vraiment plus!

Quelle mascarade alors que d'aller à la messe former une communauté de charité ! Quelle illusion d'aimer le Christ, ses frères, de se dévouer pour les pauvres, de s'attendrir sur toutes les détresses humaines si l'on est incapable de voir, de sentir, de soulager cet enfant, devenu homme ou femme, qui peut-être de tout son coeur voudrait vivre la famille Eglise, mais qui aurait tellement besoin d'expérimenter d'abord que sa famille terrestre, composée elle aussi de baptisés, vit cet amour, cet accueil vis-à-vis de lui.

La dimension de l'Eglise charité, de l'Eglise unité, nous ne pourrons y accéder que si d'abord dans nos propres familles nous sommes don, accueil, tendresse, compréhension. Ce sont les nôtres que nous devons d'abord aimer pour pouvoir sans mensonge aller communier!

PRIE — NO 33 — M.C.

C'est un geste inexplicable

Prendra-t-on le risque de toucher à un fil électrique sans savoir s'il est chargé ou non, demande PRUDENTIA? La réponse, c'est non. Pourquoi alors certains automobilistes prennent-ils le risque tout aussi grand, de traverser un passage à niveau sans s'assurer d'abord que la voie est entièrement libre des deux côtés, qu'aucun convoi n'approche, qu'on peut le faire sans aucun danger? Beaucoup le font et ce geste est inexplicable de leur part. Quand notre vie dépend d'un simple acte de prudence, ne vaut-il pas la peine de la faire?

Evitez d'être victime des méfaits des autres

Il n'est pas toujours nécessaire d'appliquer les freins pour modérer, il suffit simplement de lever le pied de l'accélérateur, rappelle aux automobilistes le Comité Provincial de Sécurité Routière (PRUDENTIA). Tout automobiliste le moindrement prudent devrait toujours modérer quelque peu lorsqu'il approche d'une courbe ou d'une pente prononcée. On ne sait jamais si un imprudent approchant en direction inverse ne tente pas de dépasser dans la courbe ou en montant la pente. Avec un peu de jugement au volant, on peut éviter d'être victime des imprudences des autres.

PRESQUE 1000 CANADIENS

Près de 1,000 canadiens moururent l'an dernier parce-qu'ils ne tinrent pas compte de quelques simples précautions. Selon la All Canada Insurance Federation, la plupart de ces noyades se produisent au cours des mois de juin, juillet et août et plus d'un tiers sont dues à des accidents avec des embarcations.

La Fédération qui représente plus de 220 compagnies canadiennes d'assurances contre le feu, automobile ou accident, vous suggère ces quelques règles de sécurité.

1. Ne surchargez pas votre embarcation, qu'une partie suffisante ne soit pas submergée;
2. Si la température est menaçante, ne vous éloignez pas du rivage;
3. Méfiez-vous des canots, s'en servir pour pêcher ou voguer à la voile constitue un danger;
4. Ayez toujours les appareils de souvetage approuvés dans votre bateau. Dans le cas de ceux qui ne savent pas nager, ils devraient porter la veste de sauvetage;
5. Ne vous servez pas de votre embarcation avec un moteur trop puissant.
6. Voguez a une allure modérée, la vitesse en bateau est aussi dangereuse qu'en auto.
7. Restez à l'écart des gens qui se beignent;
8. N'entreprenez pas de longs voyages sur l'eau dans une petite embarcation;
9. Si votre bateau chavire, n'essayez pas de vous rendre à la rive à la nage, mais restez avec le bateau.
10. Soyez munis d'éclairage suffisant durant l'obscurité.

"C'est ma voiture qui a fait défaut!

Croyez-vous que c'est une excuse, de pouvoir dire, à la suite d'un accident dont on est responsable: "Ce n'est pas ma faute, c'est ma voiture qui a fait défaut" demande le Comité Provincial de Sécurité Routière (PRUDENTIA) aux automobilistes. Faites fréquemment vérifier l'état de vos freins, vos phares, le volant, les pneus. Ne vous hasardez pas sur la route avec une voiture qui n'est pas en parfaite condition. Elle peut être une acuse d'accident dont vous serez tenu responsable même si vous ignoriez la mauvaise condition du véhicule.

Rapidité de réaction devant les obstacles

La vitesse maximum des véhicules automobiles n'est pas la même pour tout le monde, dit le Comité Provincial de Sécurité Routière (PRUDENTIA). La vitesse maximum que peut faire un automobiliste doit être relative à sa rapidité de réaction devant les obstacles. L'alcool tout particulièrement peut modifier chez un homme cette rapidité de réaction en sorte que l'automobiliste qui a bu des liqueurs alcooliques devrait ne jamais prendre le volant, s'il désobéit à cette règle de prudence, il devrait pour le moins ne pas se permettre d'aller vite.
