Kittredge gets wings

WINNIPEG, Man. — Flying Officer D. E. Kittredge, of Westmount, Quebec, has successfully completed the RCAF Radio Navigator Course at the Air Navigation School in Winnipeg. He received his wings from Air Commodore L. J. Birchall, OBE, DFC, CD, Commandant, Royal Military College of Canada, Kingston, Ontario.

Flying Officer Kittredge obtained his Junior Matriculation at the Westmount High School prior to joining the RCAF under the Regular Officer Training Plan in 1959. He attended College Militaire Royale and graduated with a Bachelor of Engineering (Chem-thanks to this patron saint of our province.

Although, tomorrow in Montreal, there will be a huge parade, there will be dancing and singing and a festival atmosphere, officially it will be very quiet in Westmount.

The mayor has issued no special statement and the city will hold no festive events other than taking the day off.

The usual places will be closed; the banks, the post office, the library and the city hall. There will be no garbage collection.

But, according to city hall officials, this is as far as St. Jean-Baptiste Day will go in Westmount.

It could also be noted here, that in past years, there has been about the same amount of interest in this provincial holiday shown in this city.

"We may have loaned them a couple of trucks to pull floats during their parade," said one official, "but that was a long time ago."

So, Westmounters, if you want to get in on some of the fun around town tomorrow, you will have to venture into Montreal.

There, there will be a parade, the biggest of the year, there will be an outdoor ball on Mount Royal, a special mass celebrated by Cardinal Leger, a concert, a fireworks display in Jeanne Mance Park and entertainment in Jarry Park.

Several ethnic groups on the Island are expected to place a float in the parade and the St. Jean-Baptiste Society has placed open cars at their disposal.

'Born Free' photos displayed at library

For the next two weeks, the Westmount Public Library will be featuring a display of spectacular colour and black and white photographs taken from Columbia's magnificent colour film "Born Free".

The movie is a true representation of Joy Adamson's classic, best-selling story of her remarkable lioness, Elsa.

Along with the photographs on display at the library will be the three books about "Elsa" by Joy Adamson. These are "Born Free", "Living Free" and "Forever Free" and will be available for circulation.

Next week's weather By ERIC NEAL

JUNE 25 TO JULY 2

Clearing after usual first quarter of the moon storms. Violent storms along the New England coasts will be felt far inland.

Very hot and sultry through the middle of the week. Humid afternoons can finish with evening thunderstorms.

Setting fair with high barometer, and very hot with cloudless blue skies. Haying continues with thermometer marking 85 to 95°F.

Another fortnight of splendid holiday weather to follow. Fishing not so good, too warm.

City meets with WTA on housing

At a recent meeting between the Westmount Tenant's Association and the city, the Selby street area residents were alerted to the fact that chances of the city having alternate accommodation for them by July 1, 1967 was slim.

In an effort to keep the people of this area informed of every move the city makes, officials here have made it their policy to keep no closed doors between themselves and the WTA regarding the urban renewal study.

Attending the meeting on behalf of the city were: Norman T. Dawe, chairman and City Manager; J. R. Daye, City Engineer; J. M. McIver and G. Sunderland, director of the urban renewal study.

On behalf of the WTA, there were present: Mesdames Cloutier, Baxter, Murphy, Grimes, and Kowaluk. Also present were: Messrs. Fisher, president of the WTA; Black, Pigeon, Kitchen, Gaul and Miller, legal advisor to the WTA.

Following are the minutes:

Clarification was sought as to the meaning of the expression "require assistance" contained in the last paragraph of the first page of the minutes of the meeting of Wednesday, April 27th, 1966. In reply, it was stated that, generally speaking, those who require assistance would be those whose income was insufficient to pay the normal economic rent for accommodation. The determination of a person's ability to pay would be based, to a large extent, on the table of graduated rental scale established by the Central Mortgage & Housing Corporation.

The Chairman opened the meeting by reviewing the events that had taken place since the last meeting held with the group on April 27th, 1966. With regard to the rumors that had been circulating in the Selby street area prior to the last meeting to the effect that vacant possession of the properties would not be required until 1968, it would appear that they have no basis in fact. The most recent information available to the City indicates that the expropriating authority will want vacant possession by July 1st, 1967. It now appears that it is highly unlikely that the construction of any new housing as alternate accommodation could be completed before July 1967, should this be the accepted recommended solution to our housing problem. As a result, it was strongly recommended that the members of the Westmount Tenants Association should take all possible steps to locate alternative accommodation on their own. At the same time, the City would also take steps to assist in the location of vacant accommodation. To this end, it is the intent of the City to appoint a relocation officer who will be located in the present Urban Renewal office on Greene Avenue to assist the individual tenant in relocating. It is not at all impossible that the period of interim location could extend up to and beyond one year. Once the relocation office has been established, the tenants should make and maintain contact in order that complete records may be maintained. At the same time, it was emphasized that the policy of the City as to its intent to help those who require assistance has not changed in any way. The reason that the above advice is

A Westmouter in Great Britain

The racehorse and the donkey

by Stephen Schofield

LONDON, Eng. — Because some of these columns go to Australia and New Zealand, I use a good deal of their slang, which may interest you:

Bindycoot—idiot
Billabong—water hole
Bluey—rucksack or luggage
Bonzer—very good
Brummy—wild stallion
Clobber—clothes
Cocky—small farmer
Cracker—good-time girl
Crook—ill
Dig, digger or cobber—friend
Dingo—coward
Fair dinkum—honest, on the level
Jackaroo—apprentice to a ranch owner
Knocked up—tired out
Lubra—unattractive girl
Lumper—stevedore
Pommie—Englishman
Rouseabout—general ranch hand, usually in woolshed
Sheila—attractive girl
Smooing—flirting
Snoz—shoemaker
Sundowner—tramp, hobo
Traps—police
Wowser—kill-joy

Sheilas and lubras are common in Canada House, Australia House and New Zealand House, now that the tourists are here in their summer clobber.

In their bright bonzer clobber, Canucks and Aussies are conspicuous among Pommies in quiet clobber, like eggs in a coal bin.

Occasionally an unshaven Canuck is in dungarees, looking more like a lumper or someone sought by the traps, were it not for the fact that he has a guitar.

Many Pommies are keen to go to Queensland to become a jackaroo, or even a rouseabout, for a start, anything but a sundowner.

Crackers

Which of the sheilas and lubras are crackers? Fair dinkum this is difficult to perceive because the most likely are so often the least obvious, although smooing is commonplace.

Some sheilas and lubras appear to dangle their tentacles with abandon, while others play hard-to-get, presumably believing that this actually casts a sharper tentacle. The old game is incessant from A to Z.

Australianese

Australian use of English, considered THE END by Sir Tyrone Guthrie,* the distinguished drama producer, is audible here on the Strand:

"Say mate!"

"Say, dig!"

"Say, cobber!"

"You dingo!"

"Is Eddy coming?"

"That cove? He's a wowser."

"Come on, Jack. Hump your bluey and let's go. I'm knocked up and it's a long way to the next billabong."

But more Pommies and sheilas are lured to Australia and New Zealand Houses because—fair dinkum I hate to say so—beside them both Canada House is a rather seedy old donkey with les yeux cernés, albeit the poor dear's entrails, long neglected, are at last being overhauled. The post-Boer war chandeliers in the front hall and all other rooms are giving way to fluorescent lighting.

Even so, it will be a far cry from Australia House where the mere lounge, the biggest and most imposing room I have ever seen, about three storeys high and beautifully furnished, seems in itself about the size of Canada House.

Glass: 18' by 9'

Today the great disparity is that Canada House is far outstripped by the New Zealand House of 20 storeys of solid plate glass; every room walled with glass from floor to ceiling. The walls are of plate glass sections nine feet square, some of them 18 by nine feet.

Automatically air-conditioned, the building is in the form of a lower block of four storeys and a mezzanine surmounted by a 15-storey tower tapering to the top.

Yet it blends quite well into the adjacent Her Majesty's Theatre on the Haymarket. The architects are Matthew & Marshall of Edinburgh, who designed London's Royal Festival Hall.

Senate Abolished

So in this metropolis, this world fulcrum of big business, 20 new storeys of awe inspiring glass and marble represent two million people on a couple of grazing Islands together less than the size of Newfoundland, while four old storeys blotched with grime and pigeon droppings represent 18 million Canadians on half a huge continent rich in almost everything: a racehorse within a stone's throw of a donkey.

Living chiefly on meat, wool and butter exports, how they do it I have no idea, although having abolished their Senate in 1951 must save a small fortune each year.

In 10 years of prowling around this town, from sleeping in a dosshouse to dancing at Claridge's, if I may I would say New Zealand House is the finest contemporary building in London.

Language

Australia and New Zealand use more of my articles probably because they are not overshadowed by an enormous adjoining neighbour, and because one language applies

In 10 years of prowling around throughout.

Sometimes an article of mine, ignored in Canada, is used on page one in Australia or New Zealand. Over an article about Prince Philip an Australian put me in bold type in a box, thus:

Australian journalist
Stephen Schofield writes from inner court circles

Although this magazine section editor of a popular daily may consider me an Australian, he knows perfectly well I obtain information in the usual way. His device is simply to lure readers.

Westmouter

I know only one Westmouter in Canada House: Betty Murphy, brother of Dr. David Murphy of Westmount. She served with S.O.E., that is, Intelligence, during the war and consequently belongs to the Special Forces Club, a most insignificant looking little club, inside and outside, on a secluded sidestreet, whose members I can, by chance, testify, are among the bravest—and least known—men and women in Britain, and not by any means all British or Commonwealth.

Miss Murphy is now at the desk in the lounge of Canada House, dealing with visitors part of the time, and knows almost anything about London and England. Always prompt and obliging, she has never erred with some of my very odd queries, always answered with a smile.

*—TWICE THE TRUMPETS HAVE SOUNDED: A Record of the Stratford Shakespeare Festival in Canada, by Tyrone Guthrie (Clarke, Irwin Ltd., Toronto), p. 177: "The middle classes everywhere seem united about one aspect of speech: English as spoken in Australia is THE END."

Sir Tyrone also mentions Westmount, p. 178: "I can only testify that the ugliest, most racous and unattractive speaking I have heard in Canada has come from the lips, not of the roughnecked, horny-handed sons of toil, but from nicely-come-home, expensively educated, sophisticated ladies in Westmount and Rosedale: speech which, as an expert, I would

Westmount architect wins design award

Istvan Mezes, 47 Prospect avenue, an architect, has won an award of design excellence in the Canada-design '67 program.

A prototype of an indoor/outdoor suspended chair won him the award.

The nationwide design program was initiated by the federal Department of Industry and the National Design Council a year ago to encourage increased production of well-designed products and development of new ones for 1967. Provincial Governments participated in the program.

The new design was one of 64 winners announced at a banquet on June 15 at the Royal York Hotel, Toronto. Awards consisting of certificates and financial assistance, 14 of them sponsored by Canadian industry, were presented to winning designers. At the same event, 23 manufacturers whose awards for existing products were announced in May received certificates.

The awards announced on June 15 were selected from 410 designs which have been accepted into the program. There were 1,100 submissions of new designs. Most of the 410 are in prototype stage and a selected number are on display at The Design Centre, Toronto. Designs will later be exhibited at centres elsewhere in Canada.

DESIGN INFORMATION

The suspended chair is designed for use indoors or out. It features an adjustable seating angle to suit individual tastes and comfort.

The unit consists of a framing of 3/8" steel rod, which can either be dipped into colored plastic, or wound with cord (as in photo). Rope suspenders hang over double metals pulleys, which are secured to the ceiling-structure. The chair is designed to turn and tilt readily to any desired position. The seating material may be of canvas, leather, suede or nylon-net, etc., and is easily changeable. The corners of the seat are reinforced with leather, sewn to the textile, and hooked to the ring-frame at the points of suspension. Approximate weight is 15 lbs. Estimated cost: $15.00 - $20.00.

Youthpower to hold training clinic

Youthpower, the non-profit summer job placement service operated by and for 16 to 21 year olds, will sponsor its first training clinic for this season in co-operation with Air Canada and the LaSalle Commercial School. The clinic, which is intended to show young people how to get their own summer jobs will be called, "How to Succeed in Business by Really Trying".

It will be held on Saturday, June 25 at 2:00 p.m. in the Youthpower offices at 5319 Park Avenue. All 16 to 21 year olds are invited to attend the training session where Montreal employment authorities will give tips on just how to go about landing a summer job.

G. Mortimer, Supervisor, Employment Services Planning, Air Canada will talk about the job interview; what questions are likely to be asked; what information young people should be prepared to offer (resumes, references, social insurance numbers, etc. . . .).

We Say

Government image is made in Ottawa

DRURY drops suggestion," read the headline.

"Drury drops brick," we say.

A brick badly chipped by the subsequent cry of "Misquote!" As so often with politicians who make that charge, ones own words in print next morning sometimes look silly or downright embarrassing.

The suggestion, before Monday evening's meeting of the Federal Liberal Association of St. Antoine - Westmount, was that perhaps the Pearson administration could improve its image and better publicize its achievements by printing its own newspapers and pushing programs of its own onto the state-controlled CBC.

The underlying premise is that the print and broadcast journalists in Ottawa and their hometown editors across Canada deal with contentious issues in Parliament at the expense of important legislation.

Westmount's distinguished MP, the Hon. C. M. Drury, had the wrong ends of two sticks. Both have to do with public and, thus, press tastes.

One is the nature of news. The Government is expected to bring down needed, constructive and imaginative legislation. Done with suitable fanfare and flourish, with a dash of ministerial enthusiasm and parliamentary style, it would not go unnoticed. Dullness and dryness anywhere doesn't rate more than passing mention. The more solid if unsensational accomplishments get pushed into the background still further by the disreputable issues, conflicts and scandals which periodically preoccupy the House — situations which cast more reflection on the Government which controls (or should control) the Commons than on the most recalcitrant and irresponsible Opposition.

The other is the nature of the press and broadcasting. Press freedom connotes even the freedom to be partisan; the Liberals and all the others are free to launch and sustain if they wish their own media. The key question: will the public read or listen, let alone support, avowedly "kept" newspapers and radio and television stations, or sponsored programs on the CBC? It would be a terribly costly venture, and doubtful of success.

There is no roundabout way to plaster over cracks or obscure blemishes — or to create non-existent beautiful features — of a Government or political party. If the Ottawa regime's image needs bolstering in the public mind, it must start with improved standards of statesmanship, vision, leadership and administration. Procrastination must cease in handling costly and crippling strikes such as of dockers and postal workers (or failure to arm our Bomarcas with the necessary warheads) and conditions permitting Rivard and Munsinger scandals must be done away with.

(By the way, Mr. Drury, you folks aren't using the media already freely available to you. You haven't sent us your column for The Examiner for many a month. No one even notified us of your Monday meeting!)

Biography of Streets

Cote St. Antoine road ... Part 1

This is one of the oldest roads on the island. While today it branches off from Sherbrooke street at Clarke avenue and rejoins it again in Notre Dame de Grace, in early French times, the intervening part of Sherbrooke street did not exist. The Cote St. Antoine road was a part of the Island highway to Lachine, running from the "Chemin de la Montagne" along the hillside above Lac St. Pierre (the lake now drained by the Lachine Canal) to the line of the present Decarie Boulevard, where it turned off to connect with Cote St. Luc road. It probably had been developed from an earlier Indian trail.

A "côte" has several meanings, two at least applicable here, that of a hillside, and that of a shoreline (although the latter at some distance). As a matter of fact, it was a word used to describe the general mode of land division practiced in New France.

This method, known as the "Côte System", divided a seignory into long narrow farms fronting on the St. Lawrence, or on some other river or lake. As travel was chiefly by water, this meant that the houses could all be built along the shore and still be near together. It also had another great advantage in the days of sudden Indian raids — that the men, each working in his own field, could be within call of each other in case of need.

As the land became filled, concession roads were opened farther back and they in turn were known as "Côtes", the process repeating itself indefinitely.

The district of Cote St. Antoine, or "Côteau St. Pierre", as it was called, was first included in the area known as "La Contrée St. Joseph" a rather vague term for the land west of Villa Maria.

As the Island settlement had been dedicated to the Holy Family by its missionary founders, these names are obvious.

The exact date of the opening of Cote St. Antoine is not known.

A document exists in the Montreal archives, however, signed by Maisonneuve, the founder, in 1662, granting to Jean Leduc a piece of land containing 12 arpents adjoining the 30 arpents he already held in the Contrée St. Joseph. This may have brought his farm up to the level of Cote St. Antoine road; but the question must remain open until further light is available.

At any rate, we know that soon after the "Mountain Fort" was built by the Gentlemen of the Seminary of St. Sulpice, the road became an important one.

In the list of land-owners made by the Seminary in 1731, the following are given as proprietors on Cote St. Antoine road. Beginning next to the Priest's Farm itself.

La veuve et heritiers Boudria, René Leculier, Louis Decary, Louis Lacroix, Joseph Leduc, François Prud'homme, Lambert Leduc, Pierre and Jean Hurtubise, Veuve et heritiers Louis Decary et Michel Decary.

Excepting that of Michel Decary to the west, these then, are the farms in later days, from which grew the City of Westmount.

To be continued next week.

YOU SAY

Tax assessments City of Westmount

Editor's note: This letter was addressed to both The Westmount Examiner and Mayor M. L. Tucker.

Sir: I have expressed the opinion before that notice of any proposed change in assessment by the City of Westmount re a particular property should be mailed to the property owner concerned in sufficient time to allow the owner to file objection, if deemed necessary, as the yearly role of Westmount is adopted usually on 15th. August of each year when a great number of owners are away from the City, and as it is extremely inconvenient, if not impossible, for many owners to visit the City Hall during business hours.

I trust that our City will see fit to adopt this practice in future, and I would like to point out that the City of Montreal already uses this fair system.

I do not feel that a City as democratic as Westmount be satisfied with merely meeting the letter of the law in respect to tax assessment notices, or any other Notices required, in fact, Past experience has proved otherwise.

Further, it is unjust for the School Commission of St. Leon de Westmount, or any other School Commission for that matter, to adopt its roll on a different date each year and without adequate notice to property owners also. The tax collection agents seem to have forgotten that they are in fact the agents of the property owners and indirectly under their employ — so that they should act in the owners' best interests. Due to the fact that in most municipalities the school years ends 30th June, when school ends, the deadline for changes in assessments and transfers should be 30th. June each year, inclusive, and the tax bill for the current year should be mailed to the registered owner of record as of 1st. July each year, just as the municipal tax bill is mailed to the registered owner of record as at 1st. January of each year.

I trust that my suggestions will be adopted as they are based on a considerable experience in dealing with tax adjustments re Deeds of Sale of properties, large and small, in many municipalities over a period of 15 years.

Selby residents give opinion

Sir, Westmount is so wealthy now, that their land is much too valuable for housing projects or low rental housing; yes they may be able to squeeze in a few houses for a few families who are on welfare or starvation wages, but what of the majority of people around Selby who have a gross income of $80 to $100 per week which isn't exactly living it up when they have families to feed, clothes to buy and children to educate.

They need housing in the $75 to $80 a month range and they won't get it if Central Housing's rates of rental are put into effect. Let us consider the working man as well as the poor families on welfare; both have children to raise both need housing. If Westmount could build some accommodation in this rental range it would get its cost back and perhaps a little profit. The Central Housing then could assist on a separate deal for those unable to pay their way.

It was the Selby street tenants plight that triggered this whole urban renewal scheme, we hope one and all are to be included in their study. Is there no land in Westmount for us? God forbid that Westmount could be accused of financial segregation. If it were a typhoon instead of a bulldozer that was displacing us it would be declared a disaster, an emergency, people would be rushing to help. This is an emergency for us so

Two completed and one to go. The Unity Boys' Club summer program will highlight three countries of the world during its six weeks of program, which starts on Monday, July the fourth.

To create and add a little interest in these three countries these warm pre-summer program days, a number of the enthusiastic and talented members, along with Tori Schrammel have constructed a very attractive and colourful pagoda and a very realistic windmill. Obviously these two structures represent Japan and the Netherlands respectively. Next on the list is to be the construction of an Amazon jungle to represent the country of Brazil.

We expect many items to be brought into the club to assist in the creation of this group project: So if any one has a spare alligator, bucket of sand, or pail of authentic water from the Amazon I am sure that these will be put to good use. Please note: No unfriendly creatures, dirty buckets of sand or pails of unchlorinated water will be accepted.

Visitors from Rhode Island

The newly formed Keystone Club of Westmount: a senior club members service group here at Unity are to be the hosts to a group of Keystone members from a boys club in Providence. This group of eight expect to stop over and visit Montreal for three days before they continue their travels back down to the State of Maine. Charlie Joyner, President of the Unity Keystone and the rest of the group are busy making plans to entertain their American counterparts while here in our city.

Holidays and Farewells

Summer must certainly be with us when some of our hard working staff members take to the hills to relax and enjoy a well deserved rest. Mrs. Willis who has been kept extremely busy keeping up to our many deadlines and has aided us greatly with the total operation of the club's program is away for the summer, best wishes and have a happy summer Mrs. Willis. Farewell to Miss A. Warren who has just completed six years of service at Unity as our ever dependable and efficient snack bar and games room atwill be closed on Saturdays throughout the summer months.

Your Unity passport to the Friendship Road will be available at the Club. Uncle Tom Stephens, Unity's man of many talents will take pictures of many pleasant faces which will enable them to go to many pleasant places. These passport photos will be enclosed within a special booklet for each member wishing one at a small nominal fee. Summer program outlines are being mailed to parents and are also available at the club. The Unity Summer program staff will start its journey down the Friendship Road led by uncle Tom Stephens, Auntie Tori and cousins Heather Gwynne and Jim Hotton. Sign up now for a most enjoyable and educational summer.

The first camp medical for those going to camps operated by the Montreal Boys' Association will be held here at Unity on Tuesday, June the 28th. As the medical takes up a great deal of the club's space, there will be no regular club program on Tuesday the 28th.

Unity Boys' Club summer program hours will go into effect on Monday, June the 27th. The club will be open from 9:30 in the morning and close at 4:30 in the afternoon. The club will close for lunch time from 12 noon till 1:30 unless a special program is in operation. Club

Westmount Rotary Club

This club was formed in 1930, under the sponsorship of The Rotary Club of Montreal. Regular weekly meetings are held at Victoria Hall at 12:30 p.m. each Wednesday. A service club, The Rotary Club of Westmount has backed many projects throughout the years, including Weredale House, the Unity Boys Club, safe-driving courses in Westmount high schools, water-safety courses and public speaking courses.

Final exams are finished now, and so goes one more year. The school halls are empty. Students, free of books, homework, exams, and studies, are taking a deep breath and surveying the pleasurable prospect of two months holiday. An essential part of everyone's summer is a relaxing combination of sun and water. All sorts of pleasant activities can be thought up to fill one's quota of empty hours. For some, however, this gusto is rather small. Many have full-time or part-time jobs. Fourth high in particular, or rather the former fourth high, has an eye to next year's finances. For those who aren't going away, employed or not there are many means of relaxing: swimming, tennis, and such.

For some, however, complete relaxation will come only this weekend. Saturday, June 25, is the night of the Graduation Dance of both St. Paul's and St. Leo's. It is to take place at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel, at 9 p.m., in the hotel's Gold Room. Parties start earlier in the evening and continue unbroken for many more hours. This is the final event attended as a group, and all want to make it a memorable night.

I hope each of you will have a happy, safe summer; and good luck next year!

Weston graduates 12 as Dr. Winspear retires as senior school head

Parents and friends of Weston School, Incorporated, were entertained with songs and skits in both languages as the school held its annual graduation and closing exercises recently. The program was held in Memorial Hall of the senior school building at 4335 Hampton Avenue.

Twelve girls were graduated and presented with Weston School certificates. They are: Nicole Ballantyne, Mildred Burke, class historian, Dorritt Chrastina, Elizabeth Dann, Frances Eden, who gave the valedictory address, Lesley Hailstone, Lynn Jessop, Jaynie Murray, Heather Seaman, also a class historian, Julia - Ann Stephen, Sally Sykes, and Linda Ziff.

The Weston School closing marked the retirement of Miss Mary Winspear, M.A., Ph.D., as principal of Weston's Hampton Avenue section. The nursery school and lower grades which are located at 18 Severn Ave., Westmount, continue under her leadership.

Mrs. Crosby Lewis, the Hampton Avenue school's new principal, presented the plaque for house standing to Lynn Jessup, head of Bronte House. Bronte led Austen House 230 points to 215, winning the cups for debating, spelling and gymnastics, while Austen won the basketball plaque.

Honor ribbons for excellence in studies were presented to Halina Sandig of Austen House, and Anna Harie Korwin-Lupszanska, Andrea Smith and Patsy Purves of Bronte House.

Other winners were: Jaynie Murray, head of Austen House, Lynn Jessop, head of Bronte House, Leslie Hailstone, editor of Ad Lucem, the school magazine, and Linda Ziff, Ad Lucem's business editor.

Sports honor ribbons went to Brenda Thompson, Donna Armstrong, Linda Henderson, Jennifer Dobesch, Mary Latter, Angela Russo, Elizabeth Henderson, Belinda Grover, Susan Yount Sue Ann Hte of Austen House. Bronte House athletic ribbon went Dorritt Chrastina, Mildred Burke, Sally Sykes, Kathy Cannings, Judy Chrastina, Ellen Austin, Daphne Sidaway, Marjorie Mayo, Jennifer Adair, and Althea Sidaway.

'Security'

At morning worship on Sunday, June 26th, the minister, the Rev. Harold J. Balsdon will preach on the subject "Security, Freedom and Satisfaction" and in the evening, the topic of his sermon will be "Hindrances to Effective Living."

After the evening service all are cordially invited to the lower hall for the Fellowship hour when coffee and light refreshments will be served.

The mid-week meeting of the church is on Wednesday at 8 p.m. for prayer, praise and bible study.

The BYPU (ages 18-30) meets on Thursdays at 7:30 p.m.

'Christian Science'

A detailed consideration of the significance of the term "Christian Science" will be undertaken at the services in all the Christian Science churches this Sunday, in the course of a Bible Lesson designed to bring out the many different ways in which spiritual enlightenment has come to different people at different times.

Typical of the relevant Scriptural selections will be from Matthew: "The kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven which a woman took, and hid in three measures of meal, till the whole was leavened." Explanatory passages from the denominational textbook will include: "Ages pass, but this leaven of Truth is ever at work. It must destroy the entire mass of error, and so be eternally glorified in man's spiritual freedom" ("Science and Health with the Key to Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy).

Dominion-Douglas

Next Sunday morning in Dominion-Douglas — Dr. J. Douglas Wilson will preach on the theme — The Importance of the Insignificant. Dr. Wilson is Editor of the Design for Living Page of the Montreal Star. Rev. Roy P. Stafford will read the Lesson. Mr. Stafford is celebrating the 50th Anniversary of his Ordination to the Ministry this June.

St. Andrew's

VACATION OPPORTUNITIES is the title of the Sermon on Sunday morning. The Minister, Rev. Dr. D. M. Grant, will conduct the Service and give the Sermon. This will be the final service to be held this season in the Auditorium of the Westmount High School. Beginning the following Sunday, July 3rd, St. Andrew's Congregation will unite with Westmount Park Church for ten weeks of United Services, all of which will be held in the Westmount Park Church.

For the five Sundays in July the Minister-Elect of that Church, Rev. H. R. Ashford, B.A., B.D., will be in charge of the United Congregations; and for the four Sundays in August and the first Sunday in Sept. St. Andrew's will be responsible for pulpit, pastoral and clerical duties.

TWO MINUTES

WITH THE BIBLE

BY CORNELIUS R. STAM, PRES. BEREAN BIBLE SOCIETY CHICAGO 25, ILLINOIS

One does not have to be a prude to conclude that our country is suffering a serious moral decline. Our rulers and law enforcement agencies seem powerless to cope with it. Campaigns to check it seem vain. J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI has warned us again and again that the alarming rate of this downward trend spells ruin for America if it isn't checked soon. But what most people fail to realize is that behind this moral decline there is a spiritual decline. People have departed from God and His Word.

Paul's letter to the Romans tells us how the heathen got that way. Rom. 1:21,22 says: "When they knew God they glorified Him not as God, neither were thankful, but became vain in their imaginations and their foolish heart was darkened. Professing themselves to be wise they became fools," and the following verses tell how God finally had to "give them up" to "uncleanness" and "vile affections" — all because "they did not like to retain God in their knowledge" (Ver. 28).

St. Paul further describes them

CORRECTION

The marriage of Miss Catherine Jean Finnie to Mr. Eric Carl Riordon which was reported to have taken place on Saturday the 11th of June actually took place on Saturday the 18th of June, in the church of St. Andrew and St. Paul, and the Examiner is very sorry that the date was incorrectly stated. We apologize sincerely for any inconvenience this error may have caused.

City meets with WTA on . . .

offered to the Tenants Association is in order to keep them fully informed of the practical problems that exist in the provision of alternative accommodation in the time period from now until June 1967. It is not the intent of the City to conceal any information from the citizens, and since it appears to us that it may be difficult to provide alternate accommodation by June of 1967, it is thought to be only fair that the citizens who will be directly affected should also be made aware of the situation.

Different Tenor

Mr. Miller, the legal advisor to the Westmount Tenants Association stated that he felt that the tenor of the meeting was different from what he had been led to believe was the City's position and he asked if there had been a change in policy at the City or the Provincial level. In reply it was stated that there had been no change in policy as far as the City is concerned. The intent of the City remains the same but it is felt that the people should be made completely aware of the practical problems that may be encountered as a result of the exigencies of time.

In reply to a question as to why the City does not start with a small project (ten to twelve houses) which could be located in some of the vacant land existing in the City, it was stated that regardless of the size of the project, the time factors still apply. It is the hope of the City to be able to proceed in as many directions as possible at the same time and the possibility of constructing a small project will certainly be taken into consideration. It was suggested that there would be many advantages to establishing a number of small projects rather than one single large project in that the group would be more easily integrated into the community as a whole. However, there are a number of problems that would result from this type of a solution to the housing problems.

A question was asked as to of a person who finds new accommodation where the rent would be beyond his means. It was reported that there is a possibility of subsidization for a certain portion of the excess rental. However, it is doubtful that such a subsidy would be agreed to on a long term basis by Central Mortgage & Housing Corporation. With regard to moving expenses, should more than one move be necessary, it appears that payment for the first move would be granted with the possibility that some assistance would be available for a portion of the cost of the second move.

Federal

The question was raised as to the guide lines of the legislation which governs public housing in this province. In reply, it was stated that at the present time the legislation covering public housing in this province is Federal legislation administered by the Central Mortgage & Housing Corporation. At the present time, the Province of Quebec is contemplating legislation which would establish a Quebec General Housing Corporation and, at that time, the public housing legislation would be administered by the Provincial Authorities. It was explained that the policies of the C.M.H.C. have been expanded of recent date and, as a result, many more roads to solutions of urban renewal problems have been made available.

Copies of the rental schedules established by Central Mortgage & Housing Corporation were distributed. Various questions were asked with regard to these schedules, as to their fairness, etc., and it was reported that these schedules, as set up by the C.M.H.C. have been tested and modified over a period of some ten years and appear to be the best guidelines that could be developed.

Tours

The question was raised regarding the tour of the urban renewal area by various groups and why the Westmount Tenants Association had not been invited to participate in the Tour. In reply, it was stated the only tour of the area that has been undertaken so far involved only members of Council, Mr. Sunderland and Mr. Dave and no representative from any other group was involved. Mr. Fisher reported that the tenants in the Selby street area have been approached by Park Laign, an appraisal company, who are acting on behalf of the Provincial Government in the settling of moving and other damage claims. It appears that their intent is to settle the moving claims as soon as possible and, in fact, that some tenants have already been paid.

Mr. Fisher also raised the question of tenants in the Selby street area being advised by the urban renewal office and by City Hall that it was not worthwhile to join the Westmount Tenants Association. In reply it was stated that the City has not advised any person who called to either join or not to join the Westmount Tenants Association. All callers have been advised that it would be up to themselves as to whether they wished to join the Association or not as the City does not encourage nor discourage membership.

Mr. Fisher also raised the question as to when the Westmount Tenants Association might expect a reply to the brief which they submitted to Council. It was stated that it is doubtful that any meaningful reply could be given until after the Council has had time to study the recommendations of the Urban Renewal Scheme Report.

The question was raised as to why the Council should undertake to help those residents who are not members of the Westmount Tenants Association. In reply it was stated that the Council has a responsibility to all its citizens regardless as to whether they are members of one or many group.

PLANNERS

Mr. Fisher raised the question as to whether they might engage planners and engineers who would assist them in preparing a submission of possible suggestions to be considered by Council in conjunction with their study of the Urban Renewal Scheme Report. It was stated that the Council would welcome any and all suggestions that this Association or other Associations or individuals might like to submit. It was stated that the Council, after studying the Urban Renewal Report, would likely meet with a variety of groups who have made representations before the Report is published. It was suggested that any submission that might be made should be in the hands of the City officials before the end of the month of June 1966.

Mr. Fisher asked if it would be possible to obtain a listing of the addresses of all the expropriated properties affected by the Trans-Canada passage through the Selby Street area. It was stated that such a listing would be made available as soon as it could be prepared. The City, in turn, requested from the Association a listing of all their members and Mr. Fisher agreed to submit this list at an early date.

The meeting thereupon adjourned.

John Newman's Beavers:

Lewis and Walker sign contracts

Accomplished specialists are a bonus commodity with a football team and when that club can come up with those rarities who can play a regular position as well, they are really ahead of the game.

Head Coach Marvin Bass of the Continental League Beavers believes he has two young men who fit cleanly into such a category in Harold Lewis and John Walker, Jr., both of whom have returned their signed contracts for the coming season.

Lewis and Walker are both first string defensive halfbacks. At 21 and 23 years of age respectively they have both one full season of professional experience behind them as they played with the Fort Wayne Warriors of the Continental League last season.

It is in the special department that these two speedsters supply most of their excitement. Both men return punts and run back kickoffs. They handle these duties with exceptional ability.

Lewis

Lewis returned 27 kickoffs for 559 yards last year which averaged out to 20.7 yards a try. His longest effort covered 36 yards.

Walker took seven punts for 81 yards and an 11.6 yard average and though only called on four times he returned kickoffs

SPORTS

J. Newman's Beavers:

Pre-season exhibition games at Expo Stadium

Advisory Board members of the Beavers Football Club are so impressed with the progress being made at 'Expo' Stadium that they have eagerly gone ahead and okayed plans for a pre-season exhibition game on the site.

Head Coach Marvin Bass announces that arrangements have been completed with the Wheeling Ironmen, one of the Beavers' opposition in the Continental Football League, to play a game here on Saturday August 13th.

Whereas President Johnny Newman and his partner Russ Scrim were originally keeping their fingers crossed that all would be in readiness for the league opener, August 20th, against Perry Moss and his Orlando Panthers, the great haste with which the Foundation Company has moved ahead has prompted scheduling of the exhibition.

NINE GAMES

The Beavers, then, will play

Softball champions listed

MOSQUITO

Herewith is the roster of the Jets who won the Mosquito Championship for 1966 as listed by the Recreation Department.

for 86 yards, 21.5 yards as an average.

With this type of statistics these two men are of immense value alone. But Bass freely predicts that both could blossom into the finest defensive halves in the league as well.

Last season, for instance, the 5'11" 185 pound Lewis intercepted five passes and ran one of them back for 35 yards. One game the Warriors sent Lewis into action as a flanker and he caught the only pass thrown his way for a gain of 34 yards.

Won Honors

Walker, who also goes at 5'11" and weighs in at 185, intercepted three times and ambled 28 yards following one of his pilfers. Walker played four seasons at Ball State University and won all conference honors during his last season.

During his collegiate career Walker lettered in three sports, football, basketball and track. He covered the 100 yards in 9.8 and was clocked at 22.6 for the 220 yards event.

nine games at the new stadium which is to be officially known as the Automotive Stadium. There will be seven league home games, the Wheeling exhibition, and a game September 10th against the Brooklyn Dodgers which will remain as a 'home' game for the Dodgers even though it will be played here.

Montreal's newest stadium gets its official name because the Automotive Association of Canada is paying the $3,500,000 plus cost of construction and donating it to Expo. Officially, the stadium will not belong to Expo until shortly before the Beavers' game against Wheeling, August 13th.

The 19 sections which accommodate more than 25,000 persons have been erected and include comfortable wooden seats. The restaurants and concession stands are up and all the plumbing is installed.

The playing surface itself is just about levelled and draining of the field area is on schedule with the construction critical path. Conduits for drainage are currently being laid.

TURFING

Turfing will commence this week and the sods will be the nursery type which catch much more quickly than the regular type.

The parking areas have been levelled and asphalt will be spread next month. There will be space for thousands of cars in the main Place Victoria parking area, just 250 yards from the stadium. There will be room for 800 cars right at the stadium.

Stadium officials have a staff ready to move in and operate the stadium. Ushers are being selected even though the stadium is being programmed only for the Beavers this year.

Birdland:

Mother must protect, teach, while pa is out with the boys

By WINIFRED WILSON

Older people of today have been brought up to expect mothers to do all housekeeping duties; but as more women are entering the field of business, many fathers are now obliged to take over at least some of the daily chores. In Birdland the majority of mothers still take on the bulk of the work, some get absolutely no assistance from their partners, and a very few leave practically everything to the males.

There is not exactly any hard and fast rule, but most songbirds belong to the first group. For that reason most of these mothers are dressed in subdued colors so that they will not draw attention to the home and thus endanger the eggs or the infants. This applies, for instance, to Chestnut-sided Warblers. She alone builds the nest and incubates the eggs, but once the young are hatched father frequently comes home with food, giving it to mother, who sometimes passes it on to the babies and sometimes eats it herself. Also males of most shore birds do at least a little of the incubating. The two sexes dress similarly.

Redstarts, Hummingbirds, and Orioles are among those of the second class. The brightly dressed males keep away from the nest while their poor wives do everything. All Ducks, too, belong to this group. As soon as the eggs are laid off go the drakes to enjoy themselves for the remainder of the summer with their male pals. If you have ever seen Mrs. Merganser trying to keep her dozen or so offspring together and give them lessons in fishing you would be sorry for her.

Phalaropes go into the minority group, where everything is reversed. Mrs. Phalarope wears the gaudy colors, arrives at the breeding grounds first, does her best to attract a male by calling and going through antics, and then compels him to incubate the eggs while she amuses herself. However, she does not leave the vicinity or go off with other females. He has all the responsibility; but the task of looking after the young is not as arduous as it would be for some kinds of birds. His babies are precocial — that is they leave home very soon after birth, and once brought to a spot where their favorite food is in abundance can quickly be taught to feed themselves.

QML to sponsor 8 day courses

Due to overwhelming popular demand, and in order to make driver education available to all interested, the Quebec Motor League (a provincially chartered non-profit corporation) will sponsor a series of 8 day summer driver education courses at the Institute of Driver Education, 1467 Mansfield street.

The courses offered are open to all from the age of 16 to 72 and includes 28 hours classroom work on the theory of safe driving, traffic laws, elementary mechanics and defensive driving. Six hours actual driving behind the wheel of a double-controlled automobile and another six hours as an observer are included in the course.

Eight afternoons from 2 p.m. til 5:30 p.m. will be spent in a fully air-conditioned classroom, and lessons behind the wheel may be taken anytime from 8 a.m. until 10 at night.

These courses are "accredited" courses, and the first thirty applicants will be accepted only.
