World News In Brief

Brisbane, Australia—AP—Bill Talbert, captain of the United States Davis Cup team, has cut down on the boys' practice saying "I want to keep them hungry."

Wimbledon champion Vic Seixas, his injured knee almost fully healed, skipped Friday's practice altogether on the advice of Talbert. And U.S. champion Tony Trabert was pulled off the court an hour earlier than other members of the squad.

Seixas and Trabert play Belgium's Philippe Washer and Jacques Brichant in the inter-zone finals here starting Dec. 17. If victories—as expected—they will challenge Australia for the de la C. cup at Melbourne Dec. 28-30.

Ottawa—(CP)—Mr. Justice E. E. Chevrier of the Supreme Court of Ontario has been appointed a member of the Court of Appeal of Ontario and ex officio member of the high court of justice for Ontario, Justice Minister Garson announced Friday.

He also announced the appointment of Eric G. Moorehouse of London, Ont., as judge of the Supreme Court of Ontario and member of the court of appeal for Ontario. The announcement said that effective Jan. 1, A. H. McKinnon of Halifax will be a judge of the county court of district number six.

Ottawa, (CP)—The civil service commission Friday announced a further list of civil service salary increases, effective Dec. 1, covering 1,562 employees.

The list covers 58 classifications and is an extension to further government workers of general increases averaging about 10 per cent which have been announced in recent weeks.

Nearly 100,000 civil servants across Canada have been covered by the increases. A small number of federal employees are still to be dealt with and are being considered "with all possible speed," the announcement said.

Vancouver—(CP)—Fisheries Minister Sinclair arrived here by air from Japan Thursday night ending a two-month world tour of foreign fisheries and Colombo Plan countries.

In London, accompanied by a B.C. fishing industry delegation, he conferred with government ministers.

"They were pleased at the delegation's order for $4,500,000 of British fishing equipment and machinery," he said in India, at the request of Prime Minister Sir Laurence, Mr. Sinclair inspected Colombo Plan projects which started to add India in food production.

New York—(AP)—Primitive mothers who sat in a squatting position during childbirth may have given their infants a better chance for life than civilized methods do, a doctor said Friday.

The primitive method enabled blood to flow downhill from the mother to the child via the umbilical cord and nourish the infant in crucial moments after the birth, said Dr. S. R. M. Reynolds, of Washington, D.C.

Dr. Reynolds, head of the department of embryology of Carnegie Institute, spoke in a panel on neo-natal survival at the post-graduate assembly in anesthesia.

Too often he said, babies in modern births are handled so that they are above the reclining mother on the delivery table and the blood is drained from the infant's body at the time it needs it most.

Scattered Air Crashes Take Heavy Toll—Others Missing

By The Canadian Press
More than a score of persons were killed in two widely-separated air crashes Friday night and another nine are missing in a British observation plane which vanished during an Atlantic weather flight.

Thirteen persons were killed—one of them India's leading anti-Communist labor leader—in the crash of an Indian government airliner near Nagpur, India. Other victims were said to include a Frenchman and an American.

In the United States, a giant B-36 global bomber, lumbering in for a landing through swirling snow, rammed into a mountain near El Paso, Tex., and blew up, killing nine men. Five of those aboard, including the airplane commander, had parachuted to safety from a similar plane which crashed in England last February. An RAF Shackleton with nine men aboard was reported overdue on a weather observation flight

Local Woman Killed When Hit By Bus

Mrs. James Hoy, 54, of 330 Marquette Street, died last night of injuries she received when she was struck by a Laramie bus at the Frontenac-Dufferin intersection, directly in front of the Provincial Police Station. She was dead on arrival at St. Vincent de Paul Hospital, of a severe head injury.

Mrs. Hoy was crossing the street from the station in a north-easterly direction in order to catch the Murray-Argyle bus to take her to the Sherbrooke Hospital, where she was employed as a cook when tragedy struck in the form of the same bus she was to take, shortly after 10 o'clock.

Mrs. Hoy was a native of Inverness and was married 13 years ago to James Hoy, who survives. She was the former Neelle Roy, daughter of the late Mary Mercer and Azele Roy, both of Inverness. Since her marriage, Mrs. Hoy has been residing in Lennoxville and Sherbrooke.

Besides her husband, she leaves one brother: Odilon Roy, of Pawtucket, Rhode Island; two sisters, Mrs. Alphonse Morin (Josephine), also of Pawtucket; and Mrs. B. (Leah) Stoner, of Montana. She leaves many nieces and nephews to mourn her loss, including Andre Roy, of Sherbrooke, and the others in Inverness.

She is resting at Brien's Funeral parlors at 229 Queen North from where the funeral will take place at 8:45 Monday morning going to St. Patrick's Church for service at nine o'clock.

Cannot Identify Golf Club Body

Vancouver—(CP)—The corpse on the 13th fairway was still unidentified today as detectives probed the bludgeoning of a 35-to-45-year-old man found slain on fashionable Langara golf course Friday.

The body, its head battered and pillowed on a folded coat, was that of a "ball-shagger," a familiar figure who made a meagre living recovering lost golf balls and selling them.

Police said Friday night they knew who he was but later reported they had been unable to learn his name.

First reports said the corpse had a bullet hole in one temple, but an autopsy showed he had not been shot and had succumbed to a pounding "with a club or block of wood."

Hollywood—(AP)—A baby girl whose normal prospect in life might have been an orphanage Friday got a millionaire for a father instead. Comedian Jerry Lewis and his wife, Patty, said they will call their adopted daughter Sally May.

Toronto—(CP)—Potato prices here have dropped five to 10 cents for 75-pound bags this week.

The market-setting Prince Edward Island potatoes, which receive federal subsidy, are down five cents at $1.25 a 75-pound bag wholesale bringing New Brunswick returns to the same level and Ontario to $1.15-1.20.

Montreal—(CP)—Robert H. Saunders, chairman of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission Friday night criticized the tendency to advertise Canada as "a land of ice and snow." He told a service club dinner there that he had enough mention of Canada as the nation which has made the greatest industrial advance in the last 20 years.

from Bally Kelly, Northern Ireland base. Fears for its safety followed reports of a "blinding flash" in the Sound of Mull, west Scotland.

A sea and air search was under way over the Mull area this morning.

In the Texas crash, wreckage dotted a blackened patch about the size of a city block on the snow-heaped mountain.

A policeman who was among the first to reach the scene, said nine bodies "were scattered up and down the slope."

"One body was on fire. It was soaked with gasoline."

In 1944, a B-25 bomber crashed on the same mountain's east side, killing eight.

Among those killed in the Indian crash was Harihar Nath Shastri, vice-president of the International Confederation of Trade Unions. The plane was on a night flight from New Delhi to Madras when it crashed two miles from the Nagpur airport.

Dean Claims Latest Red Changes Sufficient Reason To Halt Any Further Talks.

Panmunjom—AP—Negotiations to set up a Korean peace conference were broken off today by Arthur H. Dean, United States envoy, after a meeting that lasted five hours and 45 minutes—longest since the preliminary peace talks began October 26.

The Allied and Communist diplomats had made no progress towards arranging a peace conference since the preliminary talks began. And today Dean, spokesman for the 17 United Nations countries which fought in Korea, walked out after the Reds accused the U. S. of plotting with the South Korean government to release 27,000 war prisoners last June.

"I treated these charges as reason to break off the talks and left the meeting," Dean told correspondents. "I said they accused my government of perfidy and unless it was withdrawn I would interpret it as a motion on their side to recess indefinitely."

Dean added that no further meetings will be held unless the Communists withdraw their accusation and ask for further sessions.

He would give the Communists a "reasonable time to decide what they want to do."

Earlier in the session Dean had accused the Communists of holding American and South Korean war prisoners as slave laborers in China and Manchuria, and said proof of this had been obtained from POWs who escaped from "your dictatorial control."

He also claimed the Reds are still illegally withholding American military personnel in China or Manchuria and have kept thousands of South Koreans.

The U.S. envoy said that several times during the sessions Chinese delegate Huang Hau had accused the South Korean government of releasing the 27,000 Korean prisoners from Allied compounds. Rhee has said openly that the release was ordered by him.

But shortly before the Allied walkout, Dean said, Huang suddenly switched his attack and accused the U.S. of "perfidy" and conspiring with South Korea.

The break came after seven full weeks of negotiations. The talks became deadlocked over Communist insistence that Russia be invited to a peace conference as a non-voting neutral observer.

Dean had insisted that Russia attend, but as a full participant, bound by a treaty written at the conference.

The negotiations concerning non-repatriated Allied prisoners continued, however, with the UN command asking today that explanations to the 22 American holdouts begin Monday.

The Americans were next in line after the non-returning South Koreans, who have presented a unanimous front against repatriation in more than a week of interviews.

New Zealand Ship Takes Escort Task

Aboard Gothic—(Reuters)—The New Zealand cruiser Black Prince took over escort duty Friday as Queen Elizabeth's royal tour liner began the last phase of its trans-Pacific voyage.

The New Zealand warship replaced the Royal Navy cruiser Sheffield which has accompanied the Gothic from Jamaica. It will escort the liner to the Fiji Islands, where the Queen is due next Thursday.

The vessels met in mid-ocean, along with the navy oiler Wave Baron, which refuelled both cruisers. Before the Sheffield turned back to Panama, the Queen sent a message of Christmas greeting and appreciation to the warship.

"You have come a long way and accomplished everything that has been asked of you with a degree of smartness which has been a pleasure to see," it said.

Meanwhile, in the Fiji Islands, the first rehearsal was held Friday for the welcome to be extended to the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh when they arrive there next Thursday.

Dressed in her best blue dress, her jet-black hair in ringlets, tiny Mei Kaimona Ganilau stood on the wharf at Suva and practised her greeting to the Queen.

The little daughter of a Fijian chief has been chosen to extend the islanders' welcome to the Royal Couple.

Solemnly she took her colorful bouquet of flowers and with shy poise handed them to the "rehearsal queen"—a male stand-in wearing white shorts and carrying an umbrella.

Mei's father, Major Ratu Penaia Ganilau, is commanding a company of the Fijian Infantry Regiment in the anti-Communist campaign in Malaya.

During her visit the Queen will also see schoolgirls perform a fairy tale in which she is portrayed as a fairy queen and the Duke of Edinburgh a prince charming. Traditional dance movements handed down over the centuries will be coupled in the performance with a special ode expressing the islanders' thanks and loyalty to "Elisipeti, our Queen, and the Duke ni Edinibara."

London Wags Once Again On Romance

London—(Reuters)—A tall, blonde commoner has stepped out with Princess Margaret for the last three nights— and Mayfair gossips are making the most of it.

Not that 31-year-old Mark Bonham-Carter, grandson of Britain's First World War prime minister, is a newcomer to the Princess' list of escorts. He has been around since the gay nightclubs of four years ago when Sharmar Douglas, daughter of former U.S. Ambassador Lewis Douglas, was one of Margaret's set.

In fact, gossips linked Bonham-Carter with Sharmar last year when they were in a holiday party together to Norway with her parents. But talk of romance faded.

Now Mark has stirred up a tea-pot of new rumors. Editors are dusting off clippings about his casual friendship with Margaret.

On past dates, he has escorted the princess in the company of two other young couples—following an accepted unwritten rule governing her social life.

Thursday night, the 23-year-old princess and Mark went to theatre and supper with only the Duchess of Kent, Margaret's favorite aunt, and Philip Hay, the duchess' secretary. On the two previous nights, Margaret and Mark had been to theatres together.

Their behavior was followed closely by the London press. It was noted in headlines that the young couple called for encores of "Let's Fall in Love" at a west end restaurant.

They danced to such tunes as "Night and Day" and "Something Wonderful."

Bonham-Carter is regarded by Margaret's friends as her "intellectual." He won a scholarship to Oxford University and took highest honors there. After serving as a guards officer in the war and making a dramatic escape from Italian troops, he ran as a Liberal party candidate in the 1945 elections but was defeated in the Labour landslide.

Liberal politics runs in the family. His grandfather became Lord Oxford and Asquith after serving as first premier at the outbreak of the first war. His parents are Sir Maurice and Lady Violet Bonham-Carter. She is vice-president of the Liberal party and a member of several international organizations.

As the hunt widened, police received several reports of girls answering Miss McDowell's description. Four women at Thamesville, Ont., said they saw a blonde girl in a restaurant with a man who had polished fingernails. A telegram believed to concern the case came from Timiskaming, Que., but its contents were not made public.

The frogman was assigned to climb down into a well 10 miles north of the point where the girl disappeared. Searchers Friday snagged something in the well but could not raise it.

Eisenhower Move Demands Direct Reply By Kremlin

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
Associated Press News Analyst
The White House now has openly avowed that President Eisenhower's United Nations speech on the atomic problem was addressed to Russia and virtually asked the Kremlin to give a direct reply.

Wonder if anybody is following through on Madame Pandit's suggestion with a direct invitation to Malenkov to address the UN?

To carry on diplomatic affairs through public pronouncements, to which the attention of interested parties is then called through diplomatic channels, is a delicate one. In fact, the whole modern business of trying to do international business in a fishbowl is a delicate one. It makes people wary of seeming to commit themselves while things are still in an exploratory stage. It more or less eliminates the gradual approach.

President Eisenhower had been working for weeks on his atomic speech when, presumably, someone topped the United Nations secretary general that it might be delivered before that body if the president were invited. He was, and the speech created a sensation.

Super-secret Radar Project Now Takes Attention Of McCarthy Probe Leaders

Police Sure Toronto Girl Still Alive

Toronto—(CP)—A frogman, amateur radio operators, helicopters and scores of ground searchers today prepared to press the hunt for pretty Marion McDowell, 17-year-old typist feared kidnapped.

The high-profile blonde who collected Johnnie Ray records, disappeared Sunday night from a parked car on a lonely lovers' lane in suburban Scarborough township.

Her escort, 19-year-old James Wilson, said a hooded gunman struck him twice on the head with what is believed to have been a pistol butt. He said that during brief intervals of consciousness he saw his assailant place the apparently unconscious girl in the trunk of a strange car and drive away.

As the police check of the immediate area reached the stage where most of the ground had been covered, Chief Wilfred McLellan said he believes that since no body has been found there is a good chance the girl still is alive.

"Although the boy (James Wilson) did not hit himself, I'm satisfied there is more than one way to skin a cat."

"I'm convinced the girl is somewhere else in the province and that she is well. Further, I believe she went away of her own free will."

The girl's father, Ross McDowell, who has searched tirelessly all week, said he cannot believe she would go away without informing her parents.

As the hunt widened, police received several reports of girls answering Miss McDowell's description. Four women at Thamesville, Ont., said they saw a blonde girl in a restaurant with a man who had polished fingernails. A telegram believed to concern the case came from Timiskaming, Que., but its contents were not made public.

The frogman was assigned to climb down into a well 10 miles north of the point where the girl disappeared. Searchers Friday snagged something in the well but could not raise it.

Famous Jet Will Visit Canada Soon

Ottawa CP—The RAF Canberra jet bomber, which last October set a new speed record between England and New Zealand, will visit Canada in about 10 days.

The United Kingdom high commissioner's office Friday released a cable from the air ministry giving the speedy bomber's itinerary during its coming flight to North America.

One of the purposes of the flight is to take part in ceremonies at Kitty Hawk, North Carolina, Dec. 17, commemorating 50 years of powered flight. It was over Kill Devil hill at Kitty Hawk that the Wright brothers made their first successful flight.

The Canberra, carrying the same crew that flew it from England to New Zealand in 23 hours, 51 minutes, is scheduled to arrive at Ottawa's Uplands airport on or about Dec. 20 for a brief visit with the RCAF.

The elapsed time for the flight from England to North Carolina, including a two-hour stop at Gander, will be 11 hours. By clock time, since North Carolina is five hours behind British time, it will only be six hours.

The Canberra is described as a medium-range jet bomber and, under a licensing agreement, is being produced in the U. S. for the American air force.

Lehman, addressing the Friends Committee on National Legislation Friday night, called Senator Joseph R. McCarthy (Rep. Wis.) Senator William E. Jenner (Rep. Ind.) and Representative Harold H. Velde (Rep. Ill.) "inquisitors."

Referring to the "paralyzing influence of McCarthyism," Lehman said it started as a "guerrilla activity" and since last January has become "a full-scale assault on the government service, the schools, the stage, the publishing world and even on our churches."

"One effect has been to create more disunity at home than we have had in generations. The government service has been filled with fear and paralyzed in the exercise of judgment. Civil liberties have been cast under a pall. The basic concepts of due process and its protective innocence until guilt has been proved have been distorted beyond recognition."

"From these particular developments, in my judgment, the Soviet cause has profited more than it could from knowing all our vital defence secrets."

Seek Duties On Canadian Spuds

Presque Isle, Maine—(AP)—A spokesman for Maine potato men said Friday a marketing agreement under consideration in New Brunswick couldn't be called anything but a subsidy.

Edward F. Leach, executive secretary of the Potato Industry Council, said Prince Edward Island, which already has a similar agreement, has taken some of Maine's southern markets.

If New Brunswick growers adopt the agreement, he added, Maine interests fear it would "lead to a dumping program . . . with the Canadian government, making up the difference."

The Maine Potato Council has asked the U. S. treasury department for a tariff of 45 cents a bushel on Canadian spuds, claiming some Canadian provinces were offering subsidies.

In Frederick Thursday a spokesman for the provincial department of agriculture denied that New Brunswick was subsidizing its growers. He said the farmers are battling on an agreement providing for pool selling, with federal payments at the end of the season if growers failed to receive previously designated prices.

Russia May Reject Date For Parley

By DON DALLAS
London.—(Reuters)—Pravda hinted Friday that the Kremlin may turn down Jan. 4 as the date for the Big Four foreign ministers conference and insist on a later date, to be "fair" to France. France at that time will have only an interim government.

The Paris correspondent of the Kremlin mouthpiece, in an article analyzing tactics at the Bermuda conference, said it would be unfair for the foreign ministers to meet at a time when France, "in all intents and purposes, will be without a government."

He said French political circles were "incensed" that the French delegation at Bermuda "docilely accepted" the American proposal to convene the four-power conference Jan. 4.

He pointed out that the French presidential election, to be conducted by a vote of both houses of the French Parliament, will be held Dec. 17. The government of Premier Joseph Laniel will resign immediately afterwards and will then have authority to handle only current affairs.

President Vincent Auriol will not hand over office to his successor until Jan. 17, after which a new government will be formed.

Assuming the Pravda article represents official policy—and the French government has not said Friday by the official Soviet Tass agency implies that it does—then the Soviet government will reply to the latest Western note by suggesting a later date for the Big Four meeting.

Diplomatically Russia would thus try to appear as a champion of France and hint that the U.S. wants to ride roughshod over French interests. This would also fit neatly into the framework of this week's new Soviet wooing of France by an all-out propaganda offensive.

And it would certainly delay further final French ratification of the European Defence Community treaty.

Israeli Premier States Policies

Jerusalem—(Reuters)—Premier-designate Moshe Sharett Friday listed "the conclusion of a permanent peace between Israel and the Arab states" as a key objective of the government he is trying to form.

Sharett insisted at a press conference that this goal "depends on the Arabs alone, because we are ready."

Sharett, Israel's foreign minister and acting prime minister, has been delegated the task of forming a new government since Premier David Ben-Gurion resigned earlier this week to become a shepherd.

Arab states would renew the war against Israel, Sharett replied bluntly: "It would be criminal folly on the Arabs' part to attempt it."

United States Wheat Price Cut Causes Commons Worry

Ottawa—(CP)—Members of the Commons expressed concern Friday over the United States decision to cut export prices of surplus wheat not tied by international agreement, despite assurances by Trade Minister Howe that the move will not break Canadian wheat prices.

Walter Tucker (L-Rosthern) suggested Parliament should make it plain to the U.S. that Canada expects "that nothing is done by governmental agencies to break the prices of our product."

It should be made clear to the U.S. government that economic co-operation was the foundation for preserving strength and unity against the Soviet threat.

The wheat debate was initiated by M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, who described the American decision as a "threatening 'trade crisis,' developing out of possibly 'disastrous competition' by the U.S. government."

Mr. Coldwell said it seems evident that the American government has decided to destroy the International Wheat Agreement and to monopolize the overseas wheat market.

He charged that by subsidizing exports of non-IWA wheat, the U.S. has broken the letter and spirit of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, world tariff-reducing pact.

He urged that Canada call for an immediate session of the newly-formed Canada-U.S. joint economic and trade committee to seek "redress" of the unilateral American action.

Mr. Coldwell's anxiety stemmed from a Washington announcement earlier this week in which the U.S. said it has decided to subsidize a "limited" quantity of government-held wheat for export to non-IWA prices.

The only major non-IWA country is Britain, traditionally Canada's top wheat buyer. Britain declined to sign a past when exporting countries demanded a ceiling of $2.05 U.S. funds a bushel, though it did not object to the

What is there to stop them (the U.S.) from putting the price below the Canadian cost of production and thus putting us completely out of the situation. We would be left with surpluses with pile up and pile up and the future would be dark indeed."

Bulwer F. F. Held Interesting Discussions

Bulwer, Dec. 12. — After discussing the questions on the Farm Forum Guide, the Bulwer members decided that the number of directors and officials in its Agricultural Societies and other farm organizations, who were former Calf Club members, proves that that club in itself, was successful in producing community and farm organization leaders. A former Boy Scout troop produced our scout master of today.

The interest of the young people can be developed in such problems as Canadian public affairs and international relations, first in the home. The senior members of the family should develop the habit of listening to such programs on the radio, and taking an interest in them and discussing them. Their interest develops better information in which the school can help. Senior could help develop their interest by giving the juniors more responsibility in public affairs. They could have debates and public speaking on these subjects. Tours in Canada and other countries would develop their interest.

The meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Pinchin.

Mrs. Pinchin served refreshments, assisted by Mr. Douglas Grapes and Mr. Leslie Richardson.

Mrs. R. P. Stafford Of Sherbrooke Was Guest Of Birchton H. H. Club Annual

Birchton, Dec. 12. — The annual meeting of the Helping Hand Club of Birchton-United Church was held, on December 8th, at the Hall.

The meeting was opened by a Devotional period in charge of Mrs. Nutbrown.

A short business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Nutbrown.

A report of final W. A. disbanding was given.

A substantial sum was donated to the Sunday School and the final payment to Women's Training Centre. Some outstanding bills were moved paid. The sale of cards for the year was reported and the money was handed in to the treasurer. Correspondence were read by the secretary and the treasurer gave her report.

A pleasant part of the afternoon was when Mrs. Picard introduced Mrs. R. P. Stafford, of Sangster Memorial Church at Sherbrooke, who spoke on the Wider Aspect of the Women's Association, stressing the need of a spiritual sense as well as a continual financial need in our meetings.

She also explained the six committees suggested by the W. A. Presbytery.

Mrs. Rogers thanked Mrs. Stafford who added that she hoped that we might appoint a convener to the committees.

Rev. Mr. Hinton conducted the election of officer, which resulted as follows: Mrs. Howard Plead, president; Mrs. Alex Glenn, vice-president; Mrs. Gilbert Nutbrown, secretary; Miss Doris Wright, treasurer.

Then the president asked for conveners for the committees. There are for Devotions: Mrs. Hinton; Christian Citizenship, Mrs. Arthur Rogers; Literature, Mrs. G. Nutbrown; Visiting, Mrs. Mabel Hodge and Mrs. Alex Glenn; Parsonage, Mrs. Charles Lefebvre and

Good Neighbors Give Party For Handicapped Lad

Stephen Lindop was born with a strong healthy body and all his faculties in perfect condition. During his first year at school, however, he contacted what was eventually diagnosed as TB meningitis of the brain. After a short stay in Sherbrooke hospital, he was removed to Montreal, where for eight months he lay in a coma, while medical science waged war with the angel of death to finally emerge the conqueror. Stephen is one of a very, very few who have recovered from this dread disease, and his survival gives hope for others so stricken.

Stephen is well and strong again, but his illness left its mark. Now, with faulty sight, defective speech and total deafness and an I.Q. of 109, Stephen begins life anew. His mother, Mrs. Robert Rintoul, R.R. No. 1, North Hatley, who for so many months waited in such anxiety for news of a change in her condition, has transferred that anxiety now to how to assure her boy of an education that will enable him to be a self-supporting citizen of the country, rather than a burden, as he grows to manhood.

She has placed him in MacKay School, in Montreal, where he is learning to get along without the faculties that most of us consider necessities and could ill afford to lose. Already his principal finds him making very good progress in reading.

Knowing the conditions, a neighbor, Mrs. Kenneth Price, was concerned about ways to help raise funds for Stephen's education and on Saturday night, December 5, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Lowell, East Hatley Road, gave the use of their home for a benefit card party.

Seven tables of players enjoyed "500" during the evening. Mrs. V. Hodgson received the ladies' prize, gentlemen's went to Stan Whitcomb, ladies' boogie prize to Mrs. Kenneth Johnston, gentlemen's to Bob Rintoul.

After the game refreshments were served by Mrs. Lowell, Mrs. Robert Little, Mrs. Kenneth Price, Mrs. Bob Rintoul and the Misses Janet Little and Ida Sarrasin. Mrs. Percy Kezar was unable to be present.

The collection taken at the end of the evening amounted to $23. The sum was handed to Mrs. Rintoul, who had not been informed of the real reason for the party and was taken completely by surprise. Her "thank-you" speech came from a heart full of gratitude for the help received.

Another card party is planned for December 19, at the Lowell home, when a turkey will be raffled off, tickets for which are now being sold. It is hoped a good number will avail themselves of an opportunity to assist one not so fortunate as themselves, who has been the victim of a disease that might strike any one of us at any time—and to help ease the burden of a mother who has suffered almost too much already.

Federal Grant For Hospital At Coaticook

A federal grant of $105,900 has been approved to help with the cost of construction of St. Catherine Labour Hospital, Coaticook, it was announced in Ottawa by Federal Health Minister Paul Martin. The federal grant is calculated on the basis of $1,000 each for beds for 89 active treatment patients, and additional grants are made for accommodation for 18 infants, an out-patient department and 11 nurses. The new hospital, which will serve an area with a population of 12,000, is now approaching completion.

Business Hours For Groceries, Butcher Shops

Raymond Petit, secretary, has announced the following hours for the Association of Butchers and Grocers, hours to take effect Monday and to continue through next year, with just a slight change for the coming Christmas week.

For Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, the stores will remain open from eight in the morning until six in the evening. Wednesday, the stores will close at 12:30 in the afternoon and Friday 10 o'clock at night.

There will be no change in the number of holidays for next year. For the coming holiday weeks: December 22nd and 23rd, open until 10 p.m.; December 24th, until six p.m.; closed Christmas Day but open all day Saturday, the day after Christmas.

On December 29th and 30th, the stores will remain open until 10 o'clock at night and until six on December 31st. They will be open the day after New Year's until six o'clock.

Another 2,415 Wrong Christmas Jackpot In Record Crossword Now Hits $70

Sombody has an opportunity of really striking it rich for Christmas.

Although 2,415 replies were received to the Record crossword puzzle competition this week, every answer was wrong so the pool advances to seventy dollars for the puzzle which appears in the paper today. This is rather a sizeable sum to aid with the Christmas expenses.

One thing about the contest is that it gives us an idea of how widely the Record is read.

For instance, one pair of entries came from Calgary, Alberta, accompanied by a note which explained:

"Each day we have tried the crossword puzzle and this is the first one we had any success with. We do not receive the Record until four days after it is published."

"We just thought we would send this along even if it was late."

Late or not, both puzzles were wrong, but we appreciate the spirit which dominated our western friend. It adds to the pleasure of the work.

One contestant even writes from a hospital bed, expressing how handy the money would be under his present circumstances.

From North Liberty, Indiana, we have a repeat customer—a school girl who indicates that even if she had won, she would receive little or nothing.

Increase In Collection At Customs Office

W. L. Greenland, in his report from the National Revenue office, announces that $347,639.03 was collected at the port of Sherbrooke during the month of November. This is an increase of $35,487.74 compared to November of last year.

Customs import duty yielded $73,772.35, excise tax brought in $273,370.80, while excise duties and Sunday collections collected $284.65 and $211.85 respectively. Total collections for 8 months ending November 30 were $2,525,244.73. Last year at this period $2,341,197.12 was collected, therefore this year there is an increase of $184,047.61.

Sherbrooke High School Notes

By ALAN TRUSSLER

Inter-Class sports have once again got in full swing at S.H.S. This year sees one of the best supported and best represented years for Inter-Class in the school's history. Some 270 students representing 24 teams are reaping much enjoyment through this medium.

The primary object of Inter-Class is to offer a well-balanced sport-programme to all students, without regard to the athletic abilities of the participant. By this method everyone is taught the fundamentals of the sport through the many games regularly played at noon hour. The motto is "Everybody belongs to a team; Everybody plays."

The League is divided into a junior and senior section which in turn is subdivided into sections for boys and girls. The junior section consists of Grade VII and Grade VIII while the seniors comprise the remainder of the school. Each section is headed by a manager who is responsible for securing referees for the games, keeping score and making certain all games run "smoothly."

The junior section, along with their captains, is as follows: T.C. Cats, G. Gagnier; Blue Panthers, A. H. H.; Blue Bombers, G. Quinn; Black Jacks, G. Allcorn; All Stars, R. Bradley; Globe Trotters, M. Echenberg; Dragnets, K. Peak; Molson Boys, J. Williams.

Sparks: C. Green; Dynamite, J. Savage; Champs, B. MacPherson; Spark Plugs, S. Henderson; Super Jets, D. Addis.

Following are the senior teams with their captains: Blue Stars, J. Begbie; Alcoholics, W. Peak; Canucks, B. Hill; Ten Stars, B. Buck; Stryainers, D. Chute.

Bobby Sox: J. Sarrasin; Musketeers, M. Skinner; B. Brats, B. Barker; Rockettes, K. Urba; Seniors, M. MacIntyre; Grade Eleven Bunny Rabbits, A. Flanders.

Inter-Class is one of the most important sport activities in the school. It encourages everybody to take part in a sport, thus improving their standards at the game and learning the "tricks of the trade." Inter-Class is receiving overwhelming support this year. Each noon hour the spectators gallery is filled to capacity with students who are enthusiastic over the games. Now, students attending Inter-Class games far outnumber spectators at representative games.

This year the school is representing four teams in the Eastern Townships Interscholastic Basketball Association which comprises schools from Sherbrooke, Lennoxville, Ayer's Cliff, Magog and Drummondville. The Senior boys and Senior girls teams are under the respective managements of Joe Wilton and Marlene O'Leary, while the Junior teams are being managed by Billy Buck and Jean Grundy.

The strength of the Senior boys was tested on Wednesday afternoon when they played the first game of the season, with Lennox-ville providing the opposition. This game proved a "feather in the cap" for S.H.S. as they edged their opponents by a fair margin.

Meantime, regular practices are being held after school in the gym, and by the enthusiasm of the players, S.H.S. will have many more success stories. Good Luck to you in your future games!

Pitch And Resin In Christmas Trees Ignite, Burn Furiously - Fire Chief

Director W. P. Donahue of the Fire Department today released important warnings for the population in an effort to cut down property loss, perhaps loss of lives, during the Christmas holidays. The fire chief aimed his recommendations not only at homes but at schools, churches, stores, clubs, hospitals and other public places.

In a direct appeal to manufacturers, Director Donahue said that plants are not designed for celebrations and, since many of them contain flammable materials, should not be used for these purposes.

He warned that the most commonly used decorations, especially Christmas trees, are highly combustible. Christmas trees are filled with pitch and resin and these ingredients ignite easily and quickly, and burn furiously.

"Ninety per cent of all fires are due to neglect or lack of precaution by humans," the Director stated. "Precautions are always necessary but more so than usual at this time of year when homes and other buildings are decorated and stores are filled with shoppers."

Points to remember are:

(1) Don't use flammable materials for decorations, especially in store windows, clubs and hotels.

(2) Do not overload electrical circuits and do not leave your lights burning all night, especially lights on decorations. Turn off decoration lights before going to bed.

(3) All wiring should be done by a qualified electrician. The law forbids anyone's doing electrical work without a license.

(4) Do not place Christmas trees or any other seasonal decorations where they will prove a hindrance to quick exit from a home or building in case of fire.

(5) Refrain from smoking in stores while shopping. The stores are filled with merchandise much of which is flammable.

Director Donahue concludes saying that members of the fire department will visit public places beginning Monday to warn of fire hazards. "The public and proprietors are invited to co-operate with us, to keep Christmas a happy one in Sherbrooke."

COMMENTS ON PUZZLE NO. 28

EXPLANATION OF MORE DIFFICULT CLUES:

- ACROSS:
- NICE is a perfect answer. Whether the pudding is a RICE one or some other kind seems comparatively irrelevant.
 - MOPE is best. Since by dictionary definition, "depress" is a "without HOPE", MOPE must be preferred.
 - BOWED is best. After years of toil over a desk he may well be BOWED. On the other hand he may quite well be BORED after a few hours.
 - True of RETORT. A REPORT, particularly if of a technical or scientific nature, may be good, but hardly embraces what is implied by "worth listening to."
 - True of ARMS. Accurate ARCS are usually drawn with a compass which makes it a simple matter for anybody and the clue doesn't stipulate FREEHAND drawing.
 - SKIP is best. It is, to a degree, dangerous to SLIP and to offer a clue specifies "in the middle of the road" which is necessary for SKIP.
 - FEASTS fits the clue best. "Cattle" would be more natural than "BEASTS".
- DOWN:
- WIDELY publicized facts can certainly influence opinion, quite irrespective of whether, in printing them, the journalists were acting WISELY or not.
 - "Of course" sturdy LAMBS are best, but in some people's lives, sturdy LAMBS is no particular advantage.
 - MODEL is best. The suggestion is that most people can do so after a fashion, but a few properly. This fits the clue. Most people can't YODEL AT ALL.
 - ARAB is best. Normally one would not expect to see a CRAB in its natural habitat, but rather at such places as it may be sold for food. Furthermore a CRAB is not necessarily found in sand. ARAB is apt.
 - True of WASTE; but in some offices the nature of the work demands a combination of HASTE and efficiency.
 - TRAIN is stronger than TRAIL, since it performs a POSITIVE ACTION in getting the traveller to his destination. Strictly speaking a TRAIL does not "get" anyone anywhere.
 - SIZE is best. The dictionary describes a clue as a "hint" or a "key to a mystery". The clue certainly not a hint or key to the SITE. They definitely indicate where it was they do give a hint to the SIZE of the old city.

Urban Incomes And Farm Prices

One of the darkest aspects of the Canadian economic picture today is the growing discrepancy in the relationship of farm and urban incomes. The average city dweller is ready to welcome the announcement that farm produce prices have dropped fifteen per cent as something which favors his own financial position without considering just what this means to the general economy of the nation.

Canadians who know that the costs and prices of rural and urban products must flow in sound relation to each other and to export markets cannot take such a philosophical view of the situation however, especially about the rising urban costs.

Farm implement workers who have been laid off have good reason to re-examine their wages and productivity in relation to farm prices at home and abroad.

The transportation, construction, material supply and other organized workers whose uneconomic wage increases created an uneconomic cost of living for farm-implement workers, whose production must be sold to the farmers, should be considering economic wage decreases instead of demanding and getting wage increases.

The many, both rural and urban, who think that decreases in urban prices could be taken out of profits, fail to realize that eighty per cent of the cost of production is paid to employees, that fixed charges account for the bulk of the remaining cost, that profits are the small percentage that marks the thin line between employment and unemployment.

Producing without profit, and the inability to make profits brought on the greatest depression the world has ever known.

There are many good reasons why another depression is unlikely to occur on a major scale but the most thoughtful observers of the economic scene realize that costs and prices must be brought into sound relationship domestically and internationally by foresight and adjustment to supply and demand or by the hard way of declining sales and incidental unemployment.

Redistribution Problems

Acting on the suggestion of Hon. C. G. Power, dean of the House of Commons, a parliamentary committee will consider the whole question of the fairness of representation in the House of Commons, with the special task of seeing if some better way cannot be found of determining the constituency boundaries. Under the present set-up, redistributions are made by a committee of the House of Commons, on which Government supporters predominate, with all the political implications that course may involve.

Often there are suggestions of gerrymandering and, in the past, there have been many reasons for such suggestions. But the fault is not entirely that of the party in power which has a majority on the redistribution committee. Very frequently the final outcome is a result of agreements, tacit or otherwise, between politicians of the various parties. Conservative members, for instance, might agree to certain changes if certain constituencies in which they are primarily interested are left alone.

Mr. Power's principal point is that many constituencies, normally urban ones, have a far larger population than others, usually rural. This is true, and it can mean that two rural votes are worth as much as three urban ones in the election of a member. That, at first sight, seems unfair.

There is another factor, however. An urban constituency may comprise only a few square miles, while a rural one can comprise 50 or more square miles. An instance cited is that of Hastings - Frontenac, in Eastern Ontario, which is 100 miles long and 80 miles wide, including 49 different townships. It obviously is more difficult for a member to adequately represent a constituency of that size than a city one which is fewer blocks in length and width than Hastings - Frontenac is in miles. That is why rural ridings, by common consent, have had fewer voters than urban ones.

But this doesn't detract from the merit of Mr. Power's contention redistribution should be in charge of an independent tribunal rather than a political committee. Votes are the basis of a democracy, and they shouldn't be tossed from one constituency into another just to suit the convenience of political parties.

"COEXISTENCE" IS CATCH-WORD EMERGING AS COMMUNIST LINE

Washington — (NEA) — Soviet Russia's newly expressed willingness to attend a meeting of the Big Four Foreign Ministers has revived interest in the idea of continued "coexistence" of the Communist and non-Communist worlds, with neither side declared winner of the cold war.

"Coexistence" is another of the trick words of diplomacy. Like the now-rejected word, "containment," it is an effort to describe an entire, complex foreign policy conception in a single word. This word may mean one thing to the Russians, another thing to the United States and its western European allies.

To the Russians, coexistence is said to mean having the two combat systems of economy and government — socialism vs. capitalism and dictatorship vs. democracy — existing side by side on a kind of live-and-let-live basis during any given phase of history.

Under this definition, coexistence could be nothing more than another, milder name for continuing the cold war, from the American point of view.

The American interpretation has been that coexistence implied a permanent division of the world into Communist and non-Communist spheres of influence. The United States has always rejected the idea as an immoral commitment.

Present Administration Wants To Push Reds Back To offset coexistence, the Truman administration adopted the policy of containment of communism. This was implied to mean confining communism to the borders of Soviet Russia and aiding those countries that wished to resist the spread of communism, as in Greece and Korea.

Containment has been repudiated by the Eisenhower-Dulles administration in the desire to have a more aggressive foreign policy. It is as yet unnamed by a catchword, but its intent is said to be forcing back communism and liberating all countries now under Communist domination.

Not much liberating has been accomplished thus far, however, and there is considerable opinion — particularly in Europe — that communism won't be pushed back, even by a hot war that nobody wants.

Statesmen who consider themselves realists are now saying that coexistence should be recognized as a fact of life. Soviet Russia isn't going to push the United States around and vice versa. Likewise, neither side is winning the cold war. Diplomatic effort should therefore be directed towards finding means by which the two sides can live together with a minimum of conflict, if not in peace.

Reds Are Counting On A Capitalist Depression. The Russians are still counting on a capitalist depression and a breakup of the western alliance in Europe. If a depression hits, the Russians seem to think that the United States would stop its foreign aid and withdraw American forces now in Europe. Such a world condition, the Communists believe, would make the west more willing to trade with Soviet Russia on its own terms.

Time factors working in favor of the west are said to be its great technical lead and its continuing high production rates. Also, the success of the Marshall Plan, North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the European Defense Community are counted on to set back Soviet expansion in the west.

Misled by headlines in the western press that the European Defense Community idea was falling apart, the Russians may have felt that eastern Germany would fall into their hands. They were brought sharply up against the reality of this mistake, however, by the results of the west German elections and the riots in East Berlin.

In the meantime, the idea of peaceful coexistence of the Communist and non-Communist worlds is again emerging as the Communist line. If a meeting of the American, British, French and Russian Foreign Ministers is finally arranged, the theme of coexistence is likely to be heard often and loud in the Soviet propaganda utterances.

One should not be trapped by this catchword in the pronouncements of misguided pacifists in the United States and Europe.

Bible Thoughts

Pilate saith upon him, What is truth? And when he had said this, he went out again unto the Jews and saith unto them, I find in him no fault at all.—John 18:38.

Truth is the source of every good to gods and men. He who expects to be blessed and fortunate in this world should be a partaker of it from the earliest moment of his life.

And the statutes, and the ordinances, and the commandment, which he wrote for you, ye shall observe to do for evermore; and ye shall not fear other gods.—II Kings 17:37.

We need only obey. There is guidance for each of us, and by lowly listening we shall hear the right word.—Emerson.

WHO'S EMBRACING WHOM?

Your Friend — Your Pastor

By Rev. B. S. Murray, M.A.

Do you know that the clergy have a special day set apart in their honour? This is an old story. For several generations the church has remembered on the third Sunday in Advent her ordained servants. I am aware that this day has not caught the imagination like Father's and other days. But there it stands with a special collect, epistle and gospel in which the clergy are referred to as "ministers and stewards."

Last year I discussed these two. There are, however, other designations, rich in suggestiveness, like priest, preacher, messenger, watchman, ambassador, interpreter, elder, witness, St. Paul in Eph. 4:11, 12 has a beautiful catalogue which includes apostles, prophets, evangelists, doctors, pastors, adding that their function is "for the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the Body of Christ."

Your Pastor Of that keeper of Christ's sheep, your pastor, I am thinking this Advent. Pastor is a particularly beautiful word derived from the Anglo-Saxon sceap (sheep) and hyrd (herdsman)—a keeper of the sheep. Across the centuries men have used this word in describing both God and Christ and in applying it to the clergy it surely makes the role of a pastor a high and holy vocation.

This ordained keeper of sheep has been specially set apart to feed and provide for as well as to teach and admonish the Lord's family, with a special exhortation "to seek for Christ's sheep that are dispersed abroad and for His children who are in the midst of this naughty world that they may be saved through Christ for ever."

The Lord's family! I like that phrase with its intimate, personal, warm, friendly implication. And Chaucer had the same basic idea when in The Canterbury Tales in describing "the person of the town"—the parson—he paints in words a charming picture setting a pattern that is unexcelled. He describes the goal of every minister: "Wide was his parish and scattered far asunder; yet none did he neglect in rain or thunder. Sorrow and sickness won his kindly care; with staff in hand he journeyed everywhere. This good example to his sheep he brought, that first he wrought and afterwards he taught."

Now to achieve this ideal, our pastors certainly must acquire a specialized training for the skies! Endowed by the Holy Spirit with special gifts and graces they accept the care of the souls committed to their charge, resolved to be faithful, wise and discreet as they discharge their duties to the motif of "faith, hope and love," all warmed by prayer.

These enthusiasts for Christ and His Church—watchmen, interpreters, guardians, servants of the Lord ask for no reward save that of having shared the travail which makes Thy Kingdom Come. God love them every one! They are your friends.

Your Friend A trusted old friend may well be the title given that preacher in Goldsmith's "The Deserted Village." I venture to write that your pastor—a part of the Lord's family—has no truer friend than you. To him you go with your problems. He understands. For you he has advice based on the Word of God, the Holy Bible. Like his Master he assists readily, takes all patiently, defends courageously, and continues a friend unchangeably. For such a friend—your friend, your pastor—thank God and be his friend!

Herald

From the Advent story, with its thrilling anticipations and urgency, emerges the office of a herald. This aspect the Church accentuates at this Ember season when young men are ordained to follow the example of the Messenger of the First Advent and prepare the way of the Lord. As heralds the clergy are something more than mere preachers or teachers. They are set apart to proclaim boldly and authoritatively that which saith the Word of the Lord "Jesus saves." So with pardon—and not progress; conversion, and not conversation; the new birth and not the new social order, are they primarily concerned. They must accordingly prepare the hearts of all people to meet their Lord "when He cometh" by a bold, certain, positive, arresting presentation of the Gospel to the motif of repentance and faith. This is a crusade that must continue until men order their lives as those who stand ready to welcome the Lord.

Clergy and People Toward your friend—your pastor—you can show your appreciation by affording him at all times all needful help, financial and otherwise, remembering that "even so hath the Lord ordained that they which preach the gospel should live of the gospel" (I Cor. 9:14). Never grow weary in encouraging him in his work, esteeming him very highly in love for his work's sake (1 Thess. 5:14). Your prayers he needs desperately.

Pray that upon him and you the continual dew of God's blessing may rest, enabling you as partners, co-workers to go forward together, crusading for Christ and His Church. And when the work of our pastors is finished here, may they, in hope, their charge resign assured that at the heavenly banquet Christ will honour their faithfulness by raising that faithful servant's head amid the angelic band.

Lute you, my brethren-in-Christ; The Lord is with thee! Blessed art thou among men, thy brethren!

Letters To The Editor

WOULD HAVE TRUEMAN APPEAR IN CANADA

The Editor,

Sir:—The repeated requests from various American individuals, papers and government bodies asking that Igor Gouzenko pack up his bag at once and hasten to Washington to be questioned by the Senate internal sub-committee has raised considerable resentment among Canadians, who, generally speaking, are noted as citizens who mind their own business, pay all just bills and honor all their treaty commitments.

May I suggest that we take a leaf out of the American book of etiquette? Why not have the R.C. M.P. send a "request" to Washington asking that ex-President

Harry Truman be sent to Ottawa to be questioned about matters of interest to both countries? Judging from what we read and what we hear on the radio the former president might be able to lift the eyebrows of his interrogators—perhaps their hats, too.

I beg to suggest that Mr. Truman be asked why his government failed to live up to its treaty commitments with this country, observing only those portions of such treaties which were of benefit to the United States?

Wiser minds than mine then could easily find more questions of general interest to be answered by Mr. Truman.

Thank you, Mr. Editor.

Defence Costs Again Took 40 Cents From Each Canadian Federal Tax $1

By JACK MacBETH
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Ottawa — For the second successive year national defence in 1953 cost the Canadian taxpayer about 40 cents of every dollar he paid into the federal treasury. No drop is expected in 1954.

Although the shooting stopped in Korea last July, defence officials stress there was no slackening in the huge defence program launched three years ago to meet the threat of Communist aggression.

In 1952, Canada's defence effort cost $1,876,724,000, a record peacetime high. This year, although final figures will not be known for some months, expenditures are expected to be roughly the same.

RCAF BUDGET UP

Reflecting the change in emphasis brought about by the development of modern aircraft and atomic weapons, the RCAF for the last two years has received the lion's share of the defence budget—37.6 per cent in 1952 and 41.7 per cent this year.

The Canadian Army received 27.2 per cent in 1952 and 23.7 per cent in 1953. Figures for the RCN were 13.3 per cent last year and 14.8 per cent this year.

Between the navy and the army in the matter of allocation of defence funds, was mutual aid under terms of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

In 1952, most of the 14 NATO countries received from Canada equipment and supplies amounting to 17.4 per cent of the total defence appropriation. In 1953, the figure dropped to 15.3 per cent.

TRAINS NATO AIRMEN

In addition to providing material, Canada also trains NATO airmen at the rate of 1,500 a year.

Broken down by service requirements, defence department statistics showed that 41.1 per cent of the total expenditure went toward the purchase of equipment; 18 per cent for military personnel; 17.6 per cent for operations and maintenance; 1 per cent for construction; nine per cent for transfer of equipment mutual aid and 4.3 per cent for the salaries of civil employees.

Financial experts with the department said the total defence outlay represents about 40 per cent of the tax revenues in 1953.

Under a three-year plan announced by Defence Minister Claxton in 1951, Canada was to spend some $5,000,000,000 to build its three services, to help NATO countries and to strengthen this country's radar defences against air attack.

NEAR COMPLETION

Mr. Claxton has said this program already is largely completed. No new plan has been announced, as such, but it is known that there will be no relaxation of effort as long as present world tensions continue.

Authorized strengths for the three services, under a 1952 order: RCN, 16,300; army, 51,715, and RCAF, 42,000.

To date, the actual complements are: RCN 16,000; army, about 49,

000, and the RCAF, about 42,000. With the world situation as it is today, defence officials say authorized strength can be changed if deemed necessary. Any big change however, would entail higher appropriations and thus call for parliamentary consideration.

CIVIL DEFENCE PROGRAM

Keeping pace with the development of Canada's military defences although on a much smaller scale, is the country's civil defence program. Under direction of the department of national health and welfare, the program is operating on a $6,000,000 annual budget.

Progress is reported as "excellent" in most parts of Canada, especially in the western provinces. There is close co-ordination between the national civil defence organization and the armed forces. Discussing the matter for continued and determined defence efforts Mr. Claxton told the Commons in March:

"We have spent great sums on our defence in Canada, as have other Western nations, sums expended as insurance for peace, and the prudent man does not stop paying the premium if the risk continues."

Adopted Bus Plan Provides Cleaner, Better Transport

London — The big double-decker buses of London Transport, rambling red landmarks so familiar to Canadian visitors, are being given regular four-minute beauty treatments.

The push-button treatment, which leaves the vehicles thoroughly vacuum-cleaned, refuelled and lubricated, is a development of a £6,000,000 post-war plan for reconstruction and modernization of L.T. facilities.

Six new garages have been constructed under the plan, which is expected to end early in the new year, and 14 garages and depots have been rebuilt or remodelled. This brings to 114 the number of garages and depots handling the 8,000 buses.

Cleaning Time Cut One of the new garages, at Peckham in the southeast district, boasts the latest high-speed push-button equipment, which has resulted in cutting cleaning and repair time from eight hours to 20 minutes.

Favorite gadget of night foreman Percy James is an immense frame on which 56 brushes whirl at 500 revolutions a minute. Cold water jets drench the exterior of the bus and the brushes clean and polish it in less than two minutes. Every nine weeks the coaches are given a "shampoo" when gallons of liquid soap are sprayed through the mechanism. "The Gobbler," a powerful vacuum cleaner which sucks up tickets, litter and dirt, can clean one deck of a bus in about one minute.

Tattersall's Sale Reaches New High

Newmarket, England. —(AP)—Tattersall's December bloodstock sales ended Friday. The five-day auction took its place as one of the greatest despite a weak finale.

Foreign buyers, representing 16 countries including Canada, were not as conspicuous Friday. Their slackened activities helped reduce sales to the unexpected low of $102,368 for the day.

Total sales for the entire week reached $1,776,115.74. Sales last year were $294,000 less.

John Landy To Try For New Mile Mark

Melbourne. —(AP)—John Landy, fastest active miler in the world, will have his third outing over the distance this season at Olympic park today.

Landy told reporters Friday: "I am not out for a record tomorrow but I am building up to it. My best effort may come any time in the next six weeks, depending on conditions and how I feel."

Six selected runners will start against Landy, including Les Perry who was sixth in the 5,000-metre run at Helsinki last year.

Evashevski Has Wish Granted

Des Moines, Ia. —(AP)—Forest Evashevski, who started coaching the University of Iowa football team last year and said he wanted to remain here, was given his wish Friday — a 10-year contract.

The new contract was approved by the state's board of education without negotiation or discussion of pay raises for Evashevski, who came here from a successful coaching job at Washington State. The 35-year-old former Michigan quarterback said he wanted no pay in-

Welterweight Champion Kid Gavilan Voted "Fighter Of Year" By Boxing Writers Association Last Evening

New York — (AP) — Welterweight champion Kid Gavilan was voted as 1953's "fighter of the year" by the Boxing Writers Association Friday.

Gavilan will receive the Edward J. Neil Memorial Plaque Jan. 14 at the association's annual dinner. The 27-year-old Havana "keed" defended his crown three times during the year, defeating Chuck Davey, Carmen Basilio and Johnny Bratton. He turned in outstanding performances while knocking out Davey and battering Bratton.

The Neil Plaque, presented annually to the fighter who did the most for the sport during the year, is named in memory of the former Associated Press boxing writer who was killed in 1938 while serving as a war correspondent in Spain. Gavilan became the first non-U.S. boxer to win it.

POWERFUL LEFT HOOK

Gavilan, given a unanimous ballot by the 44 voting members, succeeds Rocky Marciano, 1952 winner. Lightweight champion Jimmy Carter and middleweight king Bobo Olson also were considered.

The flashy Cuban, known to television audiences for his spectacular bolo punch and more potent left hook, lost only one fight of 10 in 1953, an upset defeat by Danny (Bang Bang) Womber at Syracuse, N.Y., May 2.

After his one-sided victory over Bratton at Chicago Nov. 13, he was ready to give up the welterweight class to take his chances with Olson in a bid for a second title. However, he may defend the 147-pound crown against Basilio before he moves up among the 160-pounders.

Gavilan won the title by whipping Bratton in May, 1951. He has defended against Billy Graham (twice), Bobby Dykes, Gil Turner, Davey, Basilio and Bratton. Until the Womber upset, he hadn't lost a scrap since 1950.

Winners of the Neil Plaque since it was first awarded in 1938: 1938—Jack Dempsey, 1939—Billy Conn, 1940—Henry Armstrong, 1941—Joe Louis, 1942—Barney Ross, 1943—all the boxers in the armed services, 1944—Benny Leonard, 1945—James J. Walker, 1946—Tony Zale, 1947—Gus Lesnevich, 1948—Ike Williams.

E. T. Delegate Met Duplessis

Oscar Fournier, of East Angus, E. T. district of the National Federation of Pulp and Paper Workers (C.C.C.L.), was a member of the delegation, headed by national president Philippe Lessard, which called on Premier Duplessis this week to discuss syndicate strikes now in progress at Crabtree Mills and Beauharnois.

The E. T. division counts 1,500 members at industries in Windsor Mills, East Angus, Bromptonville and Kingsley Falls.

Mr. Lessard stated that the interview was cordial and the Premier had found the Syndicates' demands reasonable, promising intervention that would settle the two three-months' strikes as rapidly as possible.

Captain Of Buffs Says Civvy Street "Toughest Fight"

By ALAN HARVEY
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London. — (CP) — Capt. Rex Carey of the Buffs, back home after 14 years in the Canadian and British armies, still figures he had the "toughest fight of my life" as a civilian.

Carey, formerly of Victoria, B.C. and once middleweight boxing champion of Canada, has served as a soldier in Sicily, Italy, Ethiopia, Tripoli and Egypt. He holds the Military Cross for action in Sicily, has been a prisoner of war and only recently was leading patrols against Mau Mau gangs in Kenya.

But still, he says, his toughest fight was as a boxer. "I was fighting a big American sailor in the States," he recalled. "He had a large picture of an oomph girl tattooed on his chest and every time he moved she seemed to wink at me."

"At the end, my Negro second said, 'boy, why did you fight so bad?' And I told him, 'I couldn't keep my eyes off that darned girl.'"

Raised in Vancouver

Carey, now on leave near Dover sizing up the possibilities of civvy street, went to Canada with his parents in 1919 and grew up in Victoria. He won a boxing title three years in a row. In December, 1937, he became Canadian middleweight champion, defeating Paul Dyzandra of Winnipeg in the finals at Vancouver. Later he turned professional.

He joined the Canadian Scottish at Victoria in 1939 and went overseas with the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry in February, 1940, rising from lance corporal to commissioned rank.

After the war, part of which he spent as a prisoner in Italy, Carey transferred to the British army, forfeiting his Canadian passport. In Addis Ababa, he twice met and talked with Emperor Haile Selassie. In Kenya, the incident he recalls most vividly occurred when a rhinoceros charged while some British officers were taking tea.

The rhino caught one officer and hooked him with his horn. Miraculously, the officer was unharmed. The "spike" went through his packbag.

EAST PINNACLE

Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Jacobs and daughter, Debbie, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Jacobs and Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Jacobs, of St. Albans, Vt., were all guests of Mrs. Emma Barber and Miss Nettie Barber. Mrs. Dymond has returned to her home here from a short stay in Newport, Vt., with her daughter, Mrs. J. O. Barbin.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

She was a house guest when she had the misfortune to drop and break a cup belonging to her hostess' set of china. It was an open stock pattern and so she replaced it as soon as she returned home. If it had been irreplaceable the only thing she could have done would be to tell her hostess how sorry she was about the accident. The rule under such circumstances is: Replace the article if you can and if you can't let the hostess know that you are sorry, without laying it on so thick she thinks the incident has ruined your visit.

Ohio's Link in New-York-to-Chicago Turnpike Will Be 241 Miles of Safest Highway Possible

Columbus, O.—(NEA)—A long step toward reducing the lethal gap between high speed automobiles and low speed roads is being taken in present construction of the Ohio Turnpike.

The 241-mile expressway, crossing the northern part of the state, will connect with the Pennsylvania Turnpike, and when completed in 1955 will incorporate the latest and best in highway engineering.

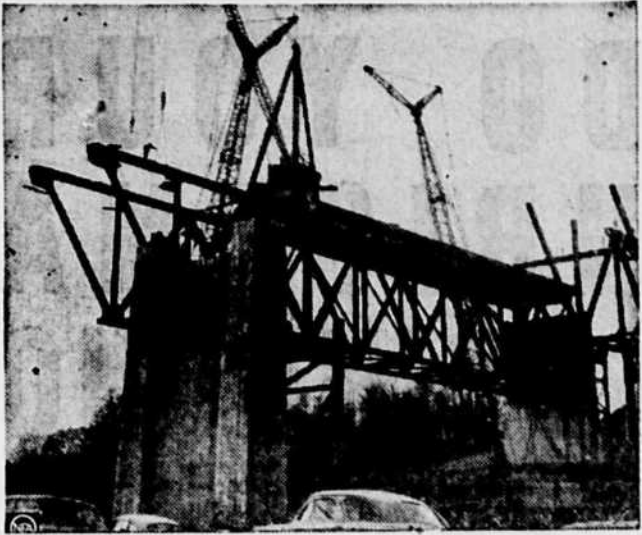

Forming, with the New Jersey and Pennsylvania turnpikes, the third link in a high-speed expressway which one day will stretch from New York to Chicago, the Ohio Turnpike's outstanding features will be the result of lessons learned from the other two turnpikes.

For instance, there's the matter of space between the two separate roadways. The minimum width of the dividing area will be 56 feet and at certain places in rough country it will reach 192 feet. This reduces the possibility of a car hurtling across the strip into traffic coming in the opposite direction.

The widened area will also make it possible for snowplows to pile snow completely off the highways. It will serve, too, to reduce the glare from oncoming headlights, particularly as it will be planted with shrubs.

Turnpike planners have been keeping a sharp eye on multi-car pileups which have occurred on the Pennsylvania and New Jersey turnpikes because of bad weather, particularly fog and a combination of smoke and fog.

Engineers here are studying plans for a system of flashing electric signs which would give motorists reduced speed limits in case of fog, ice, snow or other bad weather conditions.

Latest communications devices would enable highway patrol cars, service crews, and toll stations to keep in constant contact for posting up-to-the-minute information. "We're going to be aggressive and imaginative," says James W. Shooknessy, Turnpike Commission chairman. "We're not going blindly to follow other safety patterns for the sole reason that they are existing, accepted standards now."

Here's an illustration of what he means. In addition to the two 12-foot-wide lanes in each direction, the outside edge of each roadway will be flanked by a 10-foot-wide macadam shoulder. The inner edge of each roadway will have an eight-foot shoulder of the same hard-surface material.

Besides providing an all-weather emergency parking area, the outside shoulder should enable big trucks, which have been forced to park at the roadside, to get up sufficient speed on the shoulder before they pull back on to the turnpike.

The inner shoulder is designed primarily to avoid the squeeze when two cars try to pass a third car at the same time. The inner car can take to the inner shoulder in such cases.

To keep drivers from making U-turns to get to restaurants or service stations on the opposite side of the road, or from parking their cars and walking across the road, all service areas will be erected in pairs, one on each side of the road.

To break the monotony of high-speed driving on an unobstructed road, there will be no long, straight stretches. Charles P. Smith, executive assistant to the Turnpike Commission, says the longest straightaway will be only two or three miles.

Largely because of Ohio's gently rolling terrain, the maximum up grade will be only 2 per cent, and the steepest down grades 3.2 per cent. Trucks will be able to travel the entire length of the turnpike without shifting gears.

It is expected that passenger cars will be able to save four hours in crossing the state on the turnpike and that trucks can save six hours.

The right-of-way will be 200 feet wide, fenced in throughout its length to keep pedestrians and animals off the road. Day and night, drivers will be able to see at least 1000 feet ahead.

The turnpike goes either over or under intersecting roads and railroads. Every bridge along the route will be a twin span, with all traffic moving in a single direction on each.

With Ohio's turnpike due for completion in 1955, and with Indiana's now in the planning and money-raising stage, it won't be long before a New Yorker can step into his car and drive to Chicago without being held up by a single stop light or intersection.

The worship service was led by Mrs. Cillis. The theme was "The Church — The Body of Christ". Scripture Passages taken from Ephesians IV relevant to the theme were read and a discussion followed, on "Challenge" Unity of Faith. Farmers Hail First Good Wheat Pasturage Since 1950

Wheat pasture — the magic word in the agricultural economy of southwest Kansas — is again an actuality and drought-weary farmers are quick to take advantage of the boon. Last year wheat pasture was practically nonexistent and was limited in the fall of 1951. Wheat pasturage is ordinarily a normal, annual procedure, but this fall it is big news because it supplements the hay supply made very scanty by the drought. Despite the drought, recent fortunate rains have brought some of the winter wheat crop, planted in October, along well enough to make available a great deal of pasturage. Grazing cattle eat the tender green tops of the sprouting wheat. This does not injure the plants, but, in fact, strengthens the root systems. The pasture provides an extra "harvest" for the wheat farmer, who still may reap a bumper crop of grain next summer. The lure of this high-quality, low-cost feed has brought a flood of cattle into the area, many of them from New Mexico and Colorado ranges. Most of them are young — the type sought for fattening on wheat pasture. These photos show typical scenes as farmers and cattlemen take advantage of an overdue break from nature.

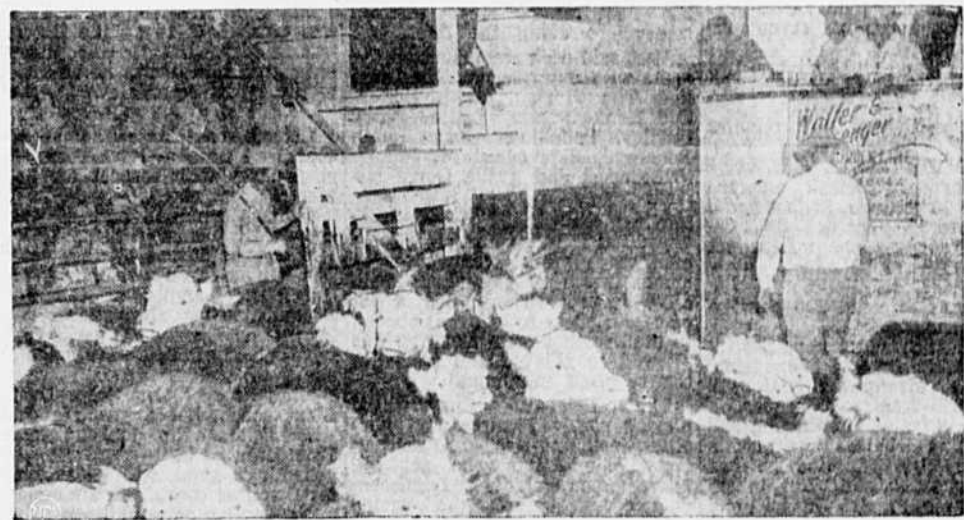

LEFT: Frank Anderson, who farms southeast of Dodge City, erects electric fence around a wheat field on which he will pasture cattle.

BELOW: These are some of Anderson's cattle that will graze the wheat field. They are calves, kept in a feed lot for a few days to let them "get the taste of milk out of their mouths" and gentle down. Newly weaned calves are prone to wander, so these will be broken to the electric fence before being put on wheat pasture. With a single strand of charged wire across the corral, shocked calves soon learn to respect the electric fence.

ABOVE: Some of the 55 head of steers which Anderson already has on wheat pasture. He bought them last December, fed them through the winter, grazed them through the summer, and now is fattening them on wheat.

BELOW: Lured by wheat pasturage, thousands of head of cattle flood through the Dodge City yards of the McKinley-Winter Livestock Commission Co. and into the auction ring above. In one day alone, 4800 head were sold.

WHERE IS IT GOING TO STOP?

WE ARE REFERRING, of course, to the rough-house tactics going on at present in what is called "hockey" and just when and where it will stop we don't know. If the present rate is continued a new all-time high mark definitely will be set. A grand total of 202 penalties were handed out this week in the National and Quebec Hockey Leagues.

The amount may seem high, and we agree it is, but they were all served by the players who, in our estimation, definitely do not help a hockey game. Of the total, 118 were meted out in the National, with the balance, 84, going to the Slater group. Even the minors are getting into the act and the local loop reached an all-time high of 84 penalties for four games.

We are of the opinion that unless something is done, and quickly, than somebody is going to be seriously hurt. On the other hand, where the fans pay their money to see a hockey game but if they keep up they will be seeing a boxing match instead.

We blame a lot of this on the referees for letting too much get away and the sooner they realize it the better it will be for everybody concerned. The rules are in the book and they should be strictly enforced, or the book should be tossed away and let everybody go at it hammer-and-tongs.

We admit that a lot of these infractions are for minor offenses which could be avoided but some of the coaches encourage their players, especially in the local minor league, to commit infractions. We all know that pro leagues play it rougher than the amateurs but when the kids commence swinging then it is time to tighten down. Being in charge of the local referees, those are the instructions which have been issued. We have witnessed several of the juvenile tilts and we think it is a shame the manner in which they carry on.

We think that it is time that the parents did something about their youngsters before they get hurt, and if they aren't interested then as far as we are concerned, suspensions will be handed out. We have definitely made up our mind that this rough-house "hockey" is going to stop and before somebody is hurt.

So managers and coaches, take heed because from now on your players will be sifting out a few games if they don't settle down and play the game the way it is supposed to be played. What happens in some other part of the country is no concern of ours but locally the teams are going to play the right way or not at all.

THE PROVINCIAL BASEBALL LEAGUE has come up with another complete working agreement for all teams with major league clubs. Sherbrooke is with Cleveland, Quebec—Milwaukee, Montreal—Baltimore, St. John's—Pirates, while Three Rivers has switched to the Phillies and Drummondville will work with the Athletics.

Three former members of the Loop were drafted at the convention: Jacques Monette (St. John) goes to Los Angeles, John Davis (Drummondville) Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and Mike Burack (Granby) was picked up by Columbus. All teams were represented at the convention with the exception of Three Rivers which speaks highly for the league.

We think that the local manufacturers and the citizens who rallied to the cause of baseball deserve congratulations for the manner in which they came forward to see that the fans of Sherbrooke would have baseball for the coming season.

It was the first time we saw money raised in such quick order and we think it was a fine gesture on their part. The replacement for Lewis Matlin has not as yet been named, although the Montreal papers stated that two were in line but both these men are out unless something further develops. We are sure once a new manager will be named that we will be the first to hear about it and not Montreal as that is the way Eddie Stump and Mike McNally want it. So fans, until then there is not much to say outside of the fact that we will have baseball once again thanks to the Cleveland organization and our local subscribers.

THE MARCOTTE CASE comes back into the spotlight, or rather it is still in it, as the much-discussed young goalie has decided to take his case to the Quebec Superior Court and two suits have already been instigated. The Citadels, QAHA and CAHA have named co-defendants.

So things keep rolling along and where it will stop nobody knows but it seems very funny to us that the CAHA executive ruled that he must return to the City, especially after hearing Phil Watson state that he signed Marcotte under false representations. We think that Marcotte is being used as a football in this matter by the CAHA in order to get back at the QAHA.

We are told on very good authority that everything was settled even before they held the special meeting, and that it was just a case of going through the actions in order to satisfy the Frontenacs. Knowing Mark Drouin, we are certain that he will make them step now, and before it is over the CAHA may wish that they had settled things in a just manner.

Fresh from their 3-1 victory over the Optimist Juveniles, Pat Murphy's juvenile Saints will tangle with Superior School tonight at the Arena in the second league game of the Sherbrooke Juvenile League.

How will the Superior squad stand up against the St. Francis Juveniles is not known. But judging from their first practice at the Arena last night they could stand a little polishing and with a little practice maybe they will be the needed opposition for the "under" team.

Murphy is expected to see the same squad who saw action against the Optimist last Tuesday, with Coates, Gregoire and Beaudoin forming his first line. Superior's coach has not yet announced who he will send in to match Coates' line but it is expected starchy Jacques Dupont will be one of them.

SHERBROOKE TO MEET WINDSOR
Following the juvenile game Sherbrooke Intermediates will be host to the Windsor Mills Paper-makers. This will be the first time these two clubs meet this year in a pre-season match. The official opening of the Intermediate C League will be Sunday December 27th.

Coach Ginguet of the Sherbrooke team plans the same starting line-up as he used against Coaticook on Tuesday. Laliberte will be in the nets, Lindley and Dumas on defence, and Leger, Dussault, Daucel, Papioutade, Hayden, Guimont, Morin, Menard and L'Heureux will be sent to the attack.

As yet the coach of the Paper Town has not yet given out his line-up but back on his squad will be several veterans of last year's

The Senior section of the Bedford District basketball league finished last Friday night with no change in the league standings resulting. The Waterloo team, without a league win this year put up a game fight but turned out to be no match for the Knowlton Seniors losing 46-8.

Knowlton played possession ball and waited for the opening before attempting to score. At the same time their defense was quite good as they held their opponents off the score board until a few seconds before the half. Halftime score was 25-2. The second half was a repetition of the first with Waterloo perking up a bit to score two more field goals and two foul shots. Rogerson with 8, Davidson, Sykes, Nurse and Crandall with 7 points and Jolley and J. Delamare with 4 each led the Knowlton attack while Fisher, Lowry and Short scored for Waterloo.

The Intermediate game was a bit closer with Knowlton piling up a 18-7 lead at half time and both teams scoring 11 points in the second half. Thus Knowlton walked off the floor winning 29-12. Knowlton had Hamilton scoring 12 and Seaman 6 points while Moore and Young did best for the losers.

The stage is set for the big playoff game being played Friday night at Lennoxville between Granby and Knowlton High Schools. Both teams ended up with a 5 and 1 record and to break the tie are playing on a neutral floor. By the time the Record goes to press the games should be over and a champion crowned.

Harry Lumley Leads In Vezina Trophy Race; Holds Average Of 1.55 To Pace National Hockey League Goal Tenders

Toronto — Goalkeeper Harry Lumley, whose early-season efforts last year left Toronto Maple Leaf fans cold, has the crowd cheering him these days.

He has taken the lead from Detroit Red Wings' Terry Sawchuk in the race for the Vezina Trophy.

In 27 National Hockey League games, the 27-year-old netminder from Owen Sound, Ont., has scored four shutouts and has allowed 42 goals for an average of 1.55 goals a game.

Sawchuk, trophy winner the last two seasons, slipped behind Lumley this week. In 24 games he has scored five shutouts and allowed 46 goals for a 1.91 average.

In the last three games Lumley has recorded two shutouts, over Montreal Canadiens and the Wings. The Vezina Trophy and $1,000 cash is awarded annually to the goalkeeper who has played the most games for the team with the fewest goals scored against it.

Lumley wears no feather in his cap. "Ah, there's not much I can say about it," he said in an interview Friday. "I'm pleased so far and I hope the front office is too."

Harry has made his best showing this season for the home crowd who gave him a verbal blasting early in the 1952-53 season. He's scored all four shutouts at the Gardens against every other team in the league except the last place

Canadiens - Leafs Rumpus Brings Out New Records In Penalties; League Collects $375 In Fines

Montreal. — (CP) — National Hockey League officials came wearily out of a long huddle Friday and announced that after much double-checking they have established these figures in connection with the Wednesday game between Montreal Canadiens and Toronto Maple Leafs—the game that was almost blown to smithereens late in the last period:

There were 36 penalties in all—a record. There were 18 penalties to each club. Research showed the previous high in total penalties was 35—all minors in a game Nov. 12, 1931, with New York Rangers in Montreal.

The Leafs had nine minor penalties, two majors and seven misconduct penalties. Canadiens had eight minors, two majors and eight misconduct penalties.

Total penalties in minutes were 204, another record. Previous high was Oct. 12, 1952, when Leafs played at Detroit, and the total was 78 minutes. In that game there were 25 penalties—19 minors, four majors, one misconduct and one game-misconduct.

Canadiens amassed 106 penalty-minutes and Leafs 98.

The 15 misconduct penalties, at an automatic fine of $25 against each man, means the NHL will collect $375 from pay cheques.

It took a lot of telephoning and telegraphing before referee-in-chief Carl Voss decided he had the records straight. He talked with referee Frank Udvari and other officials connected with the game. There was some rechecking to be done on the official scorer's compilation. At the end president Clarence Campbell of the NHL said he was satisfied Voss had correctly analyzed the whole business.

Voss indicated that the confusion in the so-called "mass penalty" to both benches resulted because of substitutions. One player from each team was out of the game temporarily because of misconduct penalties when the fighting and the big blow-up came and one Montreal player was still serving a minor penalty. The ruckus brought four major penalties—two to each team—before the "mass penalty."

LEGAL MINIMUM
Here the question of legal minimum of players entered. The rules say penalties can't deplete a team to fewer than three and goalie. In the general confusion the substitutions were allowed somewhere along the line.

Voss said each team finished the game with four players. The Leafs had Tim Horton, Hugh Bolton, Ted Kennedy and goalie Harry Lumley. Canadiens had Butch Bouchard, Bert Olmstead, Johnny McCormack and goalie Gerry McNeil.

When the official score sheets arrived at NHL headquarters some of these players were shown as among those in the "mass penalty" brigade. There was a lot of confusion as to who was allowed to the dressing room and who was allowed to fill out the teams to the required minimum.

The official now shows these players received misconduct penalties, including George Armstrong and Eddie Mazur who got the heave-ho on minor and misconduct counts before the melee broke out.

Warning To Western Coaches, Don't Get Your Club In Grey Cup Final; Trafton Fired By Blue Bombers

Winnipeg. — (CP) — A warning to coaches in the Western Interprovincial Football Union:

If you want to hold your job, don't get your team into the Grey Cup.

George Trafton, fiery and outspoken former Chicago Bears player did that with his 1953 Winnipeg Blue Bombers, and Friday he announced he had been fired—running to four the string of coaches who have felt the ax after winning the western title.

Although Trafton, who still has one year to go in a three-year contract, was definite about his dismissal, Bomber executives would not confirm the report.

Karl Slocomb, club president, said a press conference would be called after an executive meeting. He gave no indication what announcement would be made.

There was speculation that Slocomb would confirm Trafton's dismissal, and the club might even name his successor.

High School Win 70-46 Over L.H.S.

Sherbrooke High School defeated the Lennoxville High School cagers 70-46 in the opening game of the St. Francis Valley Inter-scholastic Basketball League, at the new S.H.S. gym on Thursday afternoon.

Sherbrooke led 31-21 at the end of the first half but from then on the pace was too fast for the Lennoxville squad and soon the score indicated S.H.S. pulling away to end the game with a 70-46 margin.

The high scorers were McMur-ray of Sherbrooke and Crosby of Lennoxville, both with 24 points. Other scorers were: Sherbrooke—Chute 8, Elkas 1, Neely 3, Sackstein 7, Warner 15, Willems 4, Wilson 2, Wray 6, Redway.

Lennoxville — Burt, Farnham, Jenne, Sparks 8, Stafford 5, Sullivan 6, Turner.

Doug Ford Grabs Lead In Miami Open Tournament

Miami, Fla. — (AP) — Doug Ford of Yonkers, N. Y., grabbed the early second round lead in the $10,000 Miami open golf tournament Friday, shooting a three-under-par 67 for a 36-hole total of 135.

With most of the big name players still out on the course, Ford, the year's second biggest money winner, was two strokes under Al Brosh, the veteran head from Garden City, L. I. Brosh added a 71 to Thursday's 66 for a 137 at the half-way point in this last tournament of the 1953 campaign.

Lions Worried Over Tilt With New York Giants

New York — (CP) — The U.S. pro football schedule ends Sunday and Detroit Lions, attempting to clinch the Western Conference title, are genuine worried over their windup game with New York Giants at the Polo Grounds here.

A victory or a tie will clinch a spot for the Lions in the National Football League's title game with Cleveland Browns, and Detroit coaches and players alike have been working grimly all week.

It is as though they are preparing to play the mighty Browns, undefeated Eastern Conference champions, instead of the lowly Giants.

New York has a 3-8 record and was crushed 62-14 by the Browns last Sunday. But Detroit players have been told to pay no attention to these past records.

Respects Both
Detroit scout Russ Thomas saw Cleveland humble New York. He came away with respect for both teams.

Thomas spoke in earnest when he told the Lions: "Don't be fooled by that score. The Giants aren't that bad and they'll be tougher at the Polo Grounds. They always are. The Browns made only 106 yards rushing—and 63 of those were made on one plan."

"Don't forget that Steve Owen, Giant coach, has a knack of getting his team 'up' for one game. This could be it."

Sunday's game will be the last for Owen as coach. He announced Thursday that he would retire after the end of the season after 23 years of coaching.

The Lions have won five straight games but they've had to play a full 60 minutes of football in each one. Their biggest winning margin was 14 points.

Favored By 11
If they lose to the Giants, and San Francisco defeats Baltimore, then a playoff for the western division title will be held in San Francisco Sunday, Dec. 20.

But if the Lions beat or tie the Giants—and they're favored by 11 points—the NFL title game will be played in Detroit's Briggs Stadium Sunday, Dec. 27.

management committee." The club's management committee—five executive and three advisory members—can hire or fire a coach without referring to the whole executive.

Dave Gatherum Given Green Light For Tilt; Locals After Number Ten Victory On Home Ice; Team Ready

Dave Gatherum will be in the nets tomorrow afternoon against the Chics of Chicoutimi, stated Coach Jake Forbes last night upon his return from Montreal. Gatherum and Forbes had journeyed to Montreal on Thursday to see Bill Head at the Forum.

Coach Forbes was told that his goalie would be ready for Sunday's tilt against the Chics as the torn ligaments were responding to the special treatments and everything should be fine. This was encouraging news for the local pilot as his case was a doubtful one.

The rest of the squad went through a hard workout yesterday and held another light one this morning and they are ready for the Sags' invasion tomorrow.

CAR TO BE RAFFLED
Tomorrow afternoon the 1953 Ford Customline sedan will be drawn during the game. Tickets can be purchased prior to the game at the entrance and all sellers are asked by Chairman Art Laforest to turn in their books as early as possible.

OHA Freezes Sarnia Team Until After Special Meeting

Toronto — (CP) — The Ontario Hockey Association said Friday that members of the Sarnia Sailors Senior A hockey club will be "frozen" until the association's sub-committee decides on their fate here Monday.

The Sarnia arena commission announced the team's withdrawal Friday night mostly because of poor attendance at home games. The team was reported to have gone $8,000 in debt.

Bill Hanley, business manager of the OHA said Friday that the committee meeting will decide, besides the players' future, the awarding of points in games played by Sarnia, and the possible revision of the remainder of the schedule.

Jim McFadden To Join Stampede

Calgary — (CP) — Coach Frank Currie of Calgary Stampede announced Thursday night that centre Jimmy McFadden, National Hockey League veteran, will join the Western Hockey League team here soon.

McFadden, 33, was named the NHL's top rookie when he broke in with Detroit Red Wings in 1947. He was traded to Chicago Black Hawks in 1951 and retired last month after a slow start.

Spanish Champion Wins Over Ford

Melbourne. — (AP) — Spanish lightweight champion Augustino Argote knocked out British Empire lightweight champion Pat Ford of Australia one minute after the start of the fourth round of their fight in West Melbourne stadium Friday night.

Ford, who weighed 135½ pounds, was unconscious for two minutes after the knockout. Argote, 135 pounds, was ahead every round until the KO.

Ives Hill And Draper's Corner Forum Entertained Group From East Clifton

Ives Hill, Dec. 12. — The Ives Hill and Draper's Corner Forum met in the local hall on December 7th, with the East Clifton Forum for its guest. Upwards of fifty persons were present and listened to the Broadcast, "What do you think?"

The gathering then divided up in to several groups for discussion purposes.

The following decisions were arrived at: 1. Yes, we think that 4-H clubs and other youth groups in our province have been successful in producing community and farm organization leaders, but we do not think that they are accomplishing as much here as in some provinces. 2. No, we do not think that a successful farmer is making sufficient contribution to his community unless he is taking an active part in his community activities. 3. The interest of young people can be developed in such problems as Canadian public affairs and international relations by keeping the young people in different organizations, thus arousing their interest.

The regular meeting followed the discussion period. Minutes of last meeting were read and accepted also the "Green Leaf" was read.

The meeting then adjourned and a recreational period followed.

Later the hosts and hostesses served refreshments.

Mr. Cameron of the Clifton Forum thanked the local forum for its invitation.

Today's child is one of those interesting youngsters who is apt to be too personal and with whom you should early have penetrating talks suggesting that an impersonal, objective attitude always be maintained as there is apt to be too much sensitivity in the makeup.
