RUSSIA STRONG ENOUGH TO WAIT

It's Either Too Hot...

These two would gladly exchange places these hot days, for extremes are no fun whether the day is hot or cold. Left, a Record stereotyper perspires as he heaps coal into the Sherbrooke Record melting pot. Right, Alden Clark needs parka and mitts to load ice cream from the 20-below zero freezing room at Sherbrooke Pure Milk.

Khrushchev Wants Geneva Agreement "On Honest Basis"

Moscow — (AP) — Communist party secretary Nikita Khrushchev said Monday Russia wants an agreement "on an honest basis" at the Geneva summit talks but is strong enough to wait if the West is not prepared to negotiate seriously.

Khrushchev's host at the United States Embassy's fourth of July party, Charge d'Affairs Walter N. Walmsley, replied: "I do not think the president of the United States would go to Geneva without serious reasons."

The Communist party chief and other top Russian officials, including Premier Nikolai Bulganin, put in a surprise appearance at the party. No such high-ranking group of Soviet leaders had ever before attended an embassy function.

In a speech he said he wanted to make to the guests, Khrushchev said the Russians are not going to the July 18 conference "with broken legs"—crippled by harvest failures or other breakdowns in the Soviet economy.

"We are going upright like soldiers to meet with worthy partners, and that is the only right way," he declared. "If we talk on an equal basis and if the talks are honest and sincere, equal to equal, something will come of it."

In addition to Khrushchev and Bulganin, former premier Georgi Malenkov, First Deputy Premier A. I. Mikoyan and Defence Minister Georgi Zhukov attended the party.

Asserting that people in the West "pay little attention to what we say and prefer to read tea leaves," Khrushchev told Walmsley:

"They ponder why the Soviet Union has made so many proposals that please the West so much. Of course we made these proposals not for the purpose of pleasing somebody. We made these decisions because they were the right decisions and this is what motivated us."

The Soviet chief added that some people "think that if the Soviet Union makes a contribution there was something that forced it to make that decision and even that the Soviet Union was afraid of some catastrophe if she did not."

"We are delighted to go to Geneva," Khrushchev said, "but if you are not prepared to talk"

Error Caused Death

A miscalculation on the part of Ray Atkins, 22, of Bury is said to have been the cause of the death of the young parachutist at Lake Aylmer Sunday, according to evidence given at the coroner's inquest held immediately after the accident in Disraeli.

A verdict of accidental death was returned by St. Francis district coroner Dr. Phidile Tremblay.

Dr. Claude Fortin, pilot of the light Cessna 120 plane from which Atkins leaped to his death, said that apparently Atkins waited too long before pulling the rip cord of the parachute. He said he saw the parachute released just before the ill-fated daredevil hit the water.

Prior to his jump, Atkins had told friends that he was planning to drop 500 feet straight down before releasing his parachute. However, witnesses at the inquest said that Atkins' rapid tumbling in the sky apparently upset his judgement, and he pulled the rip cord much too late.

Believe 5 Dead In Train Wreck

Fort Sumner, N.M.—(AP)—Two freight trains collided head-on west of here this morning and five members of the crews were missing in fire which started after the collision.

Mrs. Charles Anaya, wife of the area's state patrolman, said her husband informed her by radio that five men were missing in a fire which still raged around the destroyed engines.

PCs Reject Offer On Defence Powers

Ottawa — (CP) — A compromise offer by Prime Minister St. Laurent has been brushed aside by the Progressive Conservatives in their all-out fight against indefinite continuation of the broad procurement powers of Defence Production Minister Howe.

Mr. St. Laurent, entering the marathon debate Monday for the first time proposed, that after three years any members wishing amendment of the Defence Production Act's powers would get special priority to bring forward a bill to do so.

The government would yield priority given its own legislation to have the bill debated "without any delay whatsoever."

Howard Green (PC—Vancouver Quadra) replied that the offer shows the cabinet as "a spineless lot" afraid to oppose Mr. Howe.

Davie Dulton (PC—Kamloops) said the offer is useless because it would not bind future parliaments.

The opposition's rejection of the proposal was based on the prime minister's refusal to put a statutory time limit on the act's powers that has been the main Conservative objection to a government bill to wipe out the expiry date of July 31, 1956, written into the act when it was passed in the Korean war days of 1951.

The development left the government and the Conservatives still at loggerheads as the debate continued today in its eighth day.

Opposition Leader Drew asked Mr. St. Laurent Monday why the bill could not be left over until next session.

Mr. St. Laurent replied that Mr. Howe "has done a pretty good"

Don't Let The Records Fool You, It's Been Plenty Hot In Townships

By BETTY BRADSHAW

No records have been broken, but the Eastern Townships has been experiencing weather that has very nearly matched figures for the hottest, driest and sunniest June for the past 45 years.

This is probably not news to those who have been mopping brows for the past month. More interesting is what the future holds and prediction is that there will be no immediate relief from the heat.

Report from Toronto is that some cold air is moving down from the vicinity of Winnipeg, but there was no indication when or even whether it would reach the Townships.

Through June, Sherbrooke had only 2.99 inches of rain, according to a report from the Experimental Station in Lennoxville. Last year there 7.62 inches in June.

Canada Feels Heavy Loss From Strike

Montreal—(AP)—Spokesmen for leading shipping companies operating out of St. Lawrence River ports said Monday they doubt if it will ever be possible to make a reasonable assessment of losses resulting from the stevedores' and dockers' strikers in Britain. They said it has been considerable.

It would take some time—at least a month and probably longer—before cargoes piled up on British docks were sorted out and loaded for their original destinations.

Canadian Pacific Steamships reported that holds on two of its ships have contained the same cargo for six weeks—the whole length of the tie-up.

A spokesman for Cunard lines said 10 one-way voyages—or five round trips—have been missed by passenger liners scheduled for runs to Montreal and Quebec from British ports.

In addition to loss of shipping revenues, officials listed overtime for crews strikebound in ports, accommodation for stranded passengers and docking costs as items which ran the loss to acute proportions.

No estimate was available on how the grain trade was affected by the strikes.

Meanwhile, local post office authorities said the strike did not cause any important delays in postal service. At one point 600 bags of parcel post were piled up in Montreal awaiting shipment, but the situation was not serious.

They said they countered any difficulties by directing mail to ports where it could be unloaded and trans-shipped.

Today's Chuckle

A Texan was trying to impress upon a Bostonian the valor of the heroes of the Alamo. "I bet you never had anybody so brave around Boston," he said.

"Did you ever hear of Paul Revere?" asked the Bostonian. "Paul Revere?" said the Texan. "Isn't that the guy who ran for help?"

Drops Potent Hint

St. Laurent Intends To Head Liberals In Next Election

Ottawa — (CP) — Prime Minister St. Laurent plans to fight a third federal general election before dropping out of politics.

He dropped a hint of his intention Monday in the Commons during debate on legislation to continue indefinitely the wide powers of Defence Production Minister Howe. Informants later confirmed that Mr. St. Laurent intends to be at the Liberal helm at the next election.

Mr. St. Laurent, now a vigorous 73, will be 75 or 76 by the time the next election rolls around in 1957 or 1958. He already has led the Liberals to victory in elections in 1949 and 1953.

The prime minister referred to the next election after agreeing to permit a review of the wide powers of the Defence Production Act if this were requested three years from now by any member who introduced a bill to amend the legislation.

"Honorable members may say, You are talking about three years from now; there will be an election before that time and you may not be here to carry out your undertakings."

"In reply to such a suggestion, may I say that all of us on the Liberal side of the Commons expect to be here three years from now to carry out any undertaking that we give to the House and to the country."

Speculative reports have said from time to time that Mr. St. Laurent would step down before the next election to let a young

Peron Revoked Priests' Expulsion Vatican Believes

Vatican City (Reuters)—An unofficial Vatican source said Monday the Peron government had revoked its expulsion order against two Argentine Roman Catholic prelates, Msgrs. Manuel Tato and Ramon Novoa.

But no confirmation was available from official Vatican quarters.

The source said the Holy See was maintaining silence on all moves President Juan Peron's government is reported to be making to ease tensions with the Catholic church.

But he added that Vatican quarters described as "disconcerting" an interview granted by Peron to Chilean Senator Maria de la Cruz, in which he was reported to have said the Holy See's declaration of excommunication was perhaps due to "distortion or lack of information."

U.S. Holiday Sets Record For Deaths

Chicago. — (AP) — Traffic deaths in the United States during the fourth of July week-end soared to a record high for the holiday.

The overall accidental death toll also was the heaviest in years for the Independence Day period.

Traffic accidents from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Monday killed at least 382 persons. That was more than the 380 deaths predicted by the National Safety Council, and compared to the previous record of 366 in a three-day fourth of July period in 1952.

In the 78-hour period, 233 persons drowned and 133 others lost their lives in miscellaneous accidents. The overall total of 745 was a record for a three-day fourth of July holiday and compared to the record of 793 for a four-day fourth of July period in 1950. The traffic toll in 1950 was an all-time high of 491.

Every state and the District of Columbia reported at least one accidental death. This year's toll in all types of accident was far ahead of last year's three-day holiday period when there were 348 traffic deaths, 182 drownings, 79 deaths in miscellaneous mishaps and four deaths by fire.

One person was killed by fireworks this year.

Case Of Burrowing Hose Clipped By Garden Shears

Downey, Calif. — (AP) — Enough, said truck driver George Di Peso, and he cut the saga of his burrowing garden hose with a pair of heavy shears.

The 50-foot green plastic hose began worming its way into the ground in his front yard last Thursday. It kept on disappearing in the general direction of China at a rate of two or three inches an hour.

Approximately 20 feet was gone by Monday. Hundreds of people tramped over the lawn to watch the unexplained goings on. Di Peso received batches of advice and suggestions; telephone calls from as far away as New York, Tokyo, Canada and England.

Finally, Monday, Di Peso cut the hose and said:

"If it wants to sink down farther and disappear completely, my prayers go with it. If it decides to stay the way it is and doesn't move any more, I'm going to bury it."

It started when Mrs. Di Peso sent their daughter, Suzanne, 12, to water some ivy. She came running in and said, "Mommy, I can't water the ivy, the hose is stuck."

From then on, green plastic hose disappearing downward made the Di Pesos' life a little frantic.

A consulting geologist, R. Bruce Lockwood of Glendale, Calif., said water-saturated sand or mud, like quicksand, below the surface might draw the hose down, but he knew of no such formation nor any underground river in this area.

Suzanne said she had not turned on the water, which might have started a hydraulic suction process.

Forest Fire Losses

The Eastern Townships so far has been free of the disastrous forest fires which have caused severe damage in many parts of Ontario and Quebec, but this is no reason for complacency on the part of those using the forests for business and pleasure. Following the driest spring in 50 years, the woods are tinder dry and the greatest precautions must be used to avert a holocaust that might claim many human lives.

In a warning on the current situation, D. W. Ambridge, president of the Abitibi Pulp and Paper Company, says:

"The areas involved in this year's fires will take upwards of half a century to recover. Casual readers of reports of fire-swept woodlands may easily gain an impression that conflagrations come from natural causes and must be expected in periods of dry weather. There is no such thing as a natural forest fire. Lightning occasionally does damage, but the eighty per cent source of destruction is provided by reckless human beings. Whether through carelessness in land-clearing, leaving campfires blazing, or tossing away lighted tobacco, the forests are set afire by those people who most benefit by them, whether through recreation or daily work.

"It is estimated by the Canadian Forestry Association that public negligence in wooded country destroys 300 million young trees each year. Left to develop as nature intended, they would furnish Canadian industry with a steady succession of wood-crops, assuring a stable supply to forest manufacture and the immense volume of employment dependent upon it.

"Let it be made quite clear: the substance that goes into a flaming timberland is not trees but trade. It is not the 'wilderness' that has caught afire, but the future pay-cheques of a multitude of our people."

Food, Then Autos

An interesting report on how the Canadian people spend their money has been issued by the Federal Bureau of Statistics.

As might be expected, the leading outlay is for food and drink. This group, which includes food and all beverage, alcoholic and otherwise, takes 32 per cent of the total money spent by the Canadian consumer.

In the second place comes the automobile. The expenditures on buying and operating cars, with all the associated expenses, amount to 23 per cent of the total retail spending.

Clothing and footwear are in third place, but well behind the automobile, taking only 12 per cent of the retail spending.

These figures reflect in a remarkable way the spending habits of the people of this country. They show, also, the important place which the automobile industry occupies in the economy of the country.

The fact that so large a portion of the national spending is for the buying and operation of automobiles shows the degree in which this kind of transportation has become a necessity, rather than a luxury, in Canada.

Germany Rules Own Destiny

That large group of people who are so free with their advice as to what the West should do for the future guidance of West German policy appear to forget that the Bonn Government is no longer under foreign tutelage. This section of the country is now free. It is free to choose to remain free and to profit under the support of the nations that put it on the world-free map.

No one can sell Germany out but the Germans. There are 50,000,000 of them in West Germany. Newly sovereign, they hold the keys of European destiny and Western security in their hands. They are traditionally inured to the "leader" principle. They have the best leader they ever had right now in the person of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

All that the people of the Western World can do is pray that most of the West Germans go along with him and take advantage of the first real opportunity they have ever had to choose a free destiny.

Nehrutrality

With Billy Graham

By George Burnham

Nuernberg—Nuernberg, a city which spawned the Nazi party and witnessed many of Hitler's ponderous power orgies in huge Soldiers' Field, turned out 65,000 strong Sunday afternoon to hear an American talk about peace instead of war.

Evangelist Billy Graham spoke from a platform near the spot from which the German fuhrer often watched his troops and tanks pass in review.

main criticisms levelled against bomber command: That building the command was a misuse of resources which should have gone to other services and that bombing results were too small in comparison with the effort.

As late as 1941, the bomber offensive caused little harm in Germany. The RAF answer was to build up bomber command: "No army of liberation could hope to prevail until such a force was in existence and had been in action over a long preliminary period—the defences of Europe and the Reich had to be weakened. How else could this be done except by striking at the heart?"

Before the end of 1943, no less than 2,000,000 Germans were engaged in anti-aircraft defence. Half the total built-up area of some 40 German cities was destroyed; another 30 cities were severely damaged. German plane manufacturers had to switch more and more to fighters—to 78 per cent in 1944 from 31 per cent in 1939.

"The fact is that had Germany not been devastated with fire and high explosive and had not her industries in the process melted away, she must have won the war. For she would inevitably have been able to build a bomber fleet and to have wrought far greater destruction than she in fact achieved."

The three volumes make exciting reading. They are crammed with individual combat reports and there is a liberal number of photographs and maps. The index and appendices are most handy.

Americans will remember shots of the scene as Hitler stood on the top balcony, with a swastika waving at his back, and 500,000 soldiers standing at attention in the arena.

Billy didn't speak from the top platform. By choice, he spoke at the foot of a big cross on a level more even with the people. The marble structure on either side stretched a distance equal to three city blocks. The seats were filled with many of the same Germans who had taken part in the other events.

During the Nazi games there were lighted urns of oil at the top of the columns. The urns were without fires for the religious event. A banner underneath each proclaimed "Jesus Christ is the Light of the World."

One German pastor, who had stood on the same field as a storm trooper, said, "The spirit of love was here today. The other time it was a spirit of hate."

Hundreds of American GI's mingled with the gaily dressed Bavarians, some of whom wore the unique leather shorts with shoulder straps.

Shortly before the program was scheduled to begin the clouds darkened, lightning flashed and a few drops of rain fell. It appeared that a deluge would sweep over the packed throngs at any minute, but the rain never came.

Something similar had happened the night before in Neckar Stadium at Stuttgart, where 60,000 gathered to hear Billy. The wind whipped great clouds of dust across the stadium and it appeared that rain would wash out the proceedings. Billy asked the people to pray that God would hold back the rain. The meeting began and the clouds continued to threaten, but the rain didn't come. Even the disinterested observers noted that rain fell in nearby areas on all sides of the stadium, but none touched the meeting. Ten minutes after the benediction, the rains came down heavily. "Many people considered this a miracle," Billy commented next day at a press conference.

At the Nuernberg meeting he preached, in the main, the same message that he used in addressing 175,000 during the past week, with over 7,000 decisions for Christ. "God commands men everywhere to repent and turn to Jesus Christ, the Son of God, by faith," he said. "I don't care who you are. I don't care how much money or power you have. I don't care how many times you have gone to church. The Bible says you will never see the Kingdom of Heaven unless you renounce your sins and surrender your will to Jesus Christ."

When he gave the invitation it was almost impossible for the people to move forward because they were too tightly packed. But they came anyway. The first to step forward was a lady who appeared to be in her 70's. A blonde Aryan youth followed her. Then came scores of others, including GI's in combat boots. A later check disclosed that 2,500 had signed cards indicating their decision and church preference.

Germans and Americans stood there together with Billy, at the foot of the cross. And they had love in their hearts for one another.

YOU CAN LOSE WITH ANY HAND

It should be almost impossible to lose the game contract in today's hand. South can make 12 tricks if he decides to set up dummy's spades and he can surely make 10 tricks if he embarks on a really thorough cross-ruff. When the hand was actually played, however, one of the best players of the country found a way to go down at four hearts.

West opened the king of clubs and continued with another club. South ruffed. Declarer cashed the ace of diamonds, ruffed a diamond in dummy, ruffed another club in hand, ruffed another diamond in dummy, and then made the mistake of cashing the ace of trumps. He should have tackled the spades in order to ruff still another diamond with dummy's ace of trumps.

Returning to the actual play, West dropped the queen of hearts on dummy's ace. This false card cost nothing, of course, but it had the effect of throwing South off the track.

Now declarer took the ace of spades and ruffed a spade, after which he led a fourth diamond to East's king. West discarded the jack of spades on this trick, and East promptly returned the king of spades.

There was still a way for South to recover. He should have discarded his last diamond, allowing East to hold the king of spades. If East then led the ace of clubs, South would ruff low; and if East, instead, led his trump, would put up the king. Either way, South would have won the last two tricks to make the contract.

As it happened, South was intent on rushing to his doom. When East led the king of spades, South ruffed with the nine. West overruffed with the ten of hearts and returned a club to force out declarer's last trump. East, much to his astonishment, took the last trick with the six of hearts, thus setting the contract.

CARD SENSE

Q—With neither side vulnerable, the bidding has been:

North East South West
1 Heart 1 Spade Pass Pass
Double Pass ?

You, South, hold:
Spades K-J-8-7-5, Hearts 6-3, Diamonds 9-7-4-2, Clubs 8-5.

What do you do?
A—Pass. You couldn't double one spade yourself, because this was the only contract you could defend against. You are delighted, however, to convert partner's takeout double into a penalty double.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold:

Spades K-J-8-5, Hearts 6-3, Diamonds 9-7-4-2, Clubs K-8-5.

Air Power Led

Paved Way For Victory, Book Claims

By The Canadian Press

The official history of the Royal Air Force in the Second World War does not claim flatly that air power won the war.

But it does contend and backs up that contention with forceful arguments that air power at least paved the way to victory.

With publication of "The Fight is Won," the three-volume history of the RAF in the Second World War is complete. The previous two volumes are "The Fight at Odds," covering 1939 to 1941, and "The Fight Awaits," covering 1941 to 1943.

Though very few Canadians are mentioned by name the RCAF has published a six-volume history—the three volumes by Denis Richards and Hilary St. George Saunders should be of intense interest to Canadians, especially to the thousands who served under RAF command. In June, 1944, there were 42 RCAF squadrons serving under RAF command.

No. 6 RCAF group formed one of the 12 groups in RAF bomber command and, as the RAF history says, "the offensive is the soul of air warfare."

Bomber command suffered 47,293 killed or missing in dropping 955,013 tons of bombs between 1939 and 1945. Total aircrew losses were 70,253 killed or missing.

At Sept. 3, 1939, the RAF had 2,600 aircraft and 173,958 personnel. By May, 1945, it had grown to 9,200 planes and 1,079,835 personnel. At June, 1944, the RAF had 340,000 aircrew, 134,000 of them from the Commonwealth.

What was gained for the loss of more than 70,000 men on air operations? Says the RAF history:

"First, foremost and beyond all was the establishment, in conjunction with the Americans and the Russians, of dominion in the air over the enemy.

"Not until this had become an accomplished fact was victory certain; not until it had become a commonplace was victory secure."

"That achievement was the outcome of a vast and unremitting struggle waged over a measureless battlefield, of which the land fronts and the sea-lanes where our life blood flowed were only parts."

"There were examples of tactical superiority early in the war, of which the most notable was that established by fighter command in the Battle of Britain. But such tactical superiority could only be local, temporary and precarious. There could be no enduring victory until Allied air power by many means—and the strategic bombing of Germany foremost among them—had gained a dominance that was not merely local but general."

"The struggle of the RAF, aided later by the air forces of the United States, to rule the air, began on the first day of the war and continued to the last. It was conducted not only above every battlefield of the army, every ocean sailed by the navy, but in many places where the sea and land forces of the crown were not engaged."

"It was the air force that fought the Battle of Britain above her fields and cities in 1940. It was the air force that swept the skies of France long before the army trod again her soil. It was the air force which sowed with mines waters which none of His Majesty's surface ships was able to visit. It was the air force that for years went out night after night over the sullen realm of Germany to conduct the only offensive within our power."

"Air dominion made possible seven major achievements:

1. "Britain was gradually transformed into the base from which huge invasion forces were eventually successfully dispatched to Europe.

2. "In Africa the 8th army was saved from destruction when forced to retreat and the way for its triumphant advance from El Alamein prepared.

3. "In the Mediterranean the enemy's communications by sea were rendered first difficult, then impossible, with the result that the Axis armies in North Africa were starved of fuel, food and ammunition, this starvation being a major cause of their eventual defeat. In that area, too, air dominion made possible the success of the Allied invasions of Sicily and Italy in 1943.

4. "In the next year the armies of liberation crossed the channel without let or hindrance and lodged themselves upon a highly defended hostile shore.

5. "All this time increasing protection was being afforded to convoys of ships sailing in every ocean and in the long fight against the U-boat mastery of the air proved of vital significance.

6. "The attacks" on German oil plants and on communications, carried out towards the end of 1944 and in the spring of 1945, brought the main enemy's industries and armies virtually to a standstill.

7. "The air supremacy established largely by the Americans in the Pacific shattered Japan's navy, severed her sea communications with her conquests, and finally pulverized the Japanese homeland into submission."

The authors say that the Battle of Britain was the turning point of the war.

"At the time, this victory was held by persons of discernment to be the turning point of the war; subsequent events proved the correctness of this judgment. With the advent of the night attacks on Britain, especially on her capital, such a view might, and indeed did, seem a piece of wild optimism. Yet as more and more bombs fell, more and more fires raged, more and more civilians died, the inadequacy of the attack was more and more clearly revealed."

Impressive Dominion Day Program Offered At Beebe

Beebe—The Dominion Day celebrations at Beebe began at 1:45 with a street parade which formed on Canusa Avenue, travelling down Main and Junction streets, and on to the Memorial Park at North Main Street where they disbanded following the judging.

Heading the parade were color parties from Stanstead Frontier Branch No. 5 and Coaticook Branch No. 26 of the Canadian Legion. The Coaticook Regimental Band provided marching music.

Marching in groups were members of the Stanstead Branch of the Canadian Legion, the Beebe Border Majorettes, Beebe and Rock Island Boy Scouts and Cubs and the C.G.I.T. group of Wesley United Church.

Little Marlene Rediker and Mitchell Wheeler, dressed as Dale Evans and Roy Rogers, rode small Shetland ponies. Military vehicles from the 74th Battery, Rock Island, decorated bicycles, floats and cars added much to the parade.

The floats and bicycles were judged by E. Struthers, of Stanstead, L. Tilton, of Rock Island, and Percy Bell, Sr., of Beebe.

First prize, a silver cup, went to the Wesley United Church Choir, Beebe, for a float depicting an Indian family in their trading garb gathered around their teepee with a campfire in the foreground. The float was entitled "Canada's First Settlers."

Second prize, a plaque, was given to the Rock Island Girl Guides and Brownies for a float entitled "Prepare—Lend a Hand," depicting the ten Guide rules. Much credit goes to these young girls who did all the work on their float.

A float entered by Stanstead Granite Quarries showed beautiful pieces of monumental work and a replica in stone and glass of the Paquette Ltd. department store, in Quebec City.

Bob Elliott, taxidermist, entered a car float, "The One that Got Away," depicting a large fish. Mounted on top of the car were two wildcats. A "Horrible" car, "Just Married," was entered by Arnold Fountain.

Prizes for the best decorated bicycles were won by Ann and Ronnie Langevin.

Hugo LaPenna, mayor, spoke words of welcome and the guest speaker, Louis Roberge, M.P. for Stanstead County, was introduced. Mr. Roberge said, "Today we are gathered together to celebrate the 88th anniversary of our independence."

Mark 65th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Dupuis were the guests of honor Sunday at a 65th wedding anniversary celebration, held at the home of their daughter Mrs. Eva Renihan, 240 Court St., with whom they reside. All the relatives, including their eight children and several grandchildren, travelled to Sherbrooke for the event.

The day began with High Mass being given to them by the children in Sacre Coeur Convent, sung by Rev. Father Casey. Later, a dinner party and celebration were held in their residence.

Following the dinner, several addresses were heard, one from a granddaughter, Micheline Godbout, of Sherbrooke, and later, one from Rev. Father A. Dupuis. A purse was presented to the couple from their family by a grandson, Jean-Yves Godbout, while Paul-Andre Lambert, another grandson presented Mrs. Dupuis with a bouquet.

A violin solo was rendered by Paul-Andre Lambert, and Dan Godbout presented a toast to Mr. and Mrs. Dupuis.

Many telegrams and letters were received, including a congratulatory telegram from Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent, and one from Maurice Giquet, M.L.A., along with a letter from Senator C. B. Howard.

Married in Cohoes, N. Y., in 1890, the couple have lived for many years in the Eastern Townships and for 14 years in Sherbrooke.

Among those of the family who attended included their eight children, Alfred Dupuis of St. Johns, Eugene Dupuis, of Sherbrooke, Mrs. L. Perron, Boston, Mrs. V. Lauze, Concord, N. H., Miss Anna Dupuis, Montreal, Mrs. D. Godbout, Sherbrooke, Mrs. A. Lambert, Sherbrooke, and Mrs. Eva Renihan, all of Sherbrooke. 19 Harness Horses Are Lost In Fire

Jonquiere, Que. — Nineteen harness racing horses were burned to death early today when fire destroyed a stable at the race track a few miles from here.

The recently-built stable was burned to the ground in less than an hour. Jonquiere firemen said there was no hope of saving it or any of the animals when they arrived.

Cause of the fire and an estimate of damage were not immediately known.

Most of the trotters and pacers were owned by horsemen in the Saguenay region. Gratien Dechene of Jonquiere was the hardest hit, losing five horses—Guy Tramp, Santa Nita, True Ho, Victory Taromite and Direct Vic.

Many of the horses had been brought here for the racing season from tracks in Montreal and Quebec.

A very enjoyable evening was spent and refreshments were served while the judges were scoring the targets. Bedford receiving the trophy for the fourth time. It was decided to hold another match sometime in September.

The Greater the need for High Octane

The Greater the need for TCP

Today's engines deliver more power than ever before—and with greater economy, too!

They're high compression engines. They're built to squeeze more power out of every drop of the high octane gasolines they require.

But high octane alone will not keep these engines delivering their full power. They must be protected against the harmful effects of deposits that build up in combustion chambers.

The reason is this:

When your engine warms up, these deposits warm up, too—glow red hot. And these glowing particles act like hot coals—ignite the gasoline mixture ahead of time... before the pistons reach proper firing position. This is called pre-firing and means that power works against you instead of for you.

In addition, these same deposits have another power-wasting effect: They foul spark plugs, causing your engine to miss.

Engineers will tell you there's nothing more wasteful of power and gasoline than pre-firing and spark plug "miss."

But there is an answer—there's one high octane gasoline that gives you all the advantages of high octane without the power-crippling effects of these deposits—Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP*.

TCP, the Shell-developed additive, fireproofs the deposits so that they no longer cause pre-firing. No longer can they glow red hot and ignite the gasoline mixture. And TCP stops spark plug "miss," too. Your spark plugs do the job they are supposed to do.

Start getting the full power built into your engine. Get Shell Premium with TCP. It's the most powerful gasoline your car can use!

*Shell's trademark for this unique gasoline additive developed by Shell Research. Patent applied for.

Only Shell Premium Gasoline has both TCP and High Octane!

Power-Packed Miners Blast Indians 11-6; Meet Tonight

Two Home Runs, Triple And Two Doubles Clouted By Theftford; Errors Prove Costly For Locals

Power and confidence can be attributed as the main factors for the sudden rise of the Miners of Theftford in the Provincial League. The Barney Lutz squad gave an exhibition last night at the Municipal Stadium when they walloped the Sherbrooke Indians 11-6 before a small crowd of fans.

This evening the same two teams tangle at 8:00 and then move to Theftford for the remaining two games of the series, tomorrow evening and Thursday. The next local game is slated for Saturday when the Braves of Quebec will clash with the Indians at 7:15.

The Miners displayed practically a new team since their last visit to Sherbrooke. They had eight new men in uniform and this added help will no doubt give them plenty of drive in the bid for a higher spot in the standings.

The visitors pounded out two home runs, a triple, two doubles and nine singles in their march to an 11-6 win over the locals. Only two players, shortstop Lee and first baseman Barker, failed to collect a hit during the evening. Ron Sanford and Don Smith each posted three-for-five to lead the attack.

The Miners found the offerings of southpaw Hal Larned to their liking and this coupled with some costly errors played a big part in the Indians' downfall. Three big innings, second, third and ninth, accounted for all their runs.

In the second two miscues, a walk, two sacrifices, a home run, triple and a single showed six runs came over the plate. The complete team faced Larned before they were retired.

In the third Ron Sanford came up with his round-tripper with Kwak aboard. This completed their scoring until the ninth when they pushed home three more tallies. The Indians picked up a single, by Hudson, in the first, and went down in order in the following three innings.

In the fifth the locals put two singles back-to-back for their first run. In the sixth they added two more but although they got three hits in the seventh they failed to score.

In the ninth the Hartness crew started a rally and eight hitters went to the plate. They scored three runs on four hits but Bob Miller kept matters under control and coasted along with a comfortable lead.

Frank Jowle Shoots 63 For Lowest Round In History Of British Open; 40 Break Par To Set New Record

St. Andrews, Scotland—(P)—The harrowing reputation of this ancient cradle of golf was at stake today in the British Open.

Is it really a fire-breathing monster or have golfers down through the years let superstition get the better of them?

They walk in awe on the 6,936-yard, par-72 old course and are only slightly less respectful of the 6,526-yard, par-71 new course.

Monday in the first 18-hole qualifying round for the Open, Americans, Englishmen, Scots, continentalers and the one Australian in the tournament-defending champion Peter Thomson—breezed around the two layouts.

It was almost as though it was contagious. Out of a field of 270, 19 players broke 70 and little-known Frank Jowle, a 43-year-old Yorkshireman, ran up an amazing 63 on the new course.

The fireworks shook the residents of St. Andrews, although they took solace in the fact that the Scots were right in the middle of the demolition works.

When it was all over, here were some of the vital statistics:

1. Forty posted scores bettering par.
2. It was the finest round of competitive golf ever recorded in the 500 years of St. Andrews.
3. Jowle's round was the lowest ever posted in the 95-year-old British Open.

4. It was the third lowest competitive round ever shot anywhere in Britain.

Americans also joined in the assault. The British amateur champion, Joe Conrad of San Antonio, Tex., had a 67, while Byron Nelson, now a play-for-fun golfer, came up with a 69. Jimmy McHale of Philadelphia had a 70, while Ed Furgol, 1954 U.S. Open champion, shot a 71.

Greta Patterson Becomes First Person To Swim Lake Erie; Covers 15 Miles In 12 Hours, 44 Minutes

Crystal Beach, Ont. — (P)—Greta Patterson, an 18-year-old blonde who aspires to conquer Lake Ontario, licked part of Lake Erie Monday when she became the first person to swim the 15 miles from Angola, N. Y., to this Ontario resort area.

The good-looking teenager from Batavia, N. Y., touched a dock here at 7:19 p.m. EDT, 12 hours and 44 minutes after she dove into the soup-warm lake at Angola. She left Angola at 6:35 a.m.

About 20,000 persons lined the shoreline here and gave a tremendous cheer as Miss Patterson was pulled from the lake by her trainer and friends. She was placed in a boat and taken to a first aid station for a rest.

Although tired, Miss Patterson was elated over her swim and said: "I'm so happy. It's so wonderful. Everyone was pulling for me."

Two men failed to finish. William Gehrke, 19, and Laverne C. Leiper, 21, of Buffalo, were surprise starters, diving in shortly after Miss Patterson. Gehrke lasted six hours before he was taken out. Leiper was in less than

ROCK ISLAND—

Emergency Unit Visits Boundary

Rock Island — Boundary Citizens were given an opportunity to visit Molson's "hospital on wheels", which was on display at the Del Monty Hotel.

The first of its kind in North America, the 42 and a half foot trailer is divided into three sections. The front contains communications equipment for directing relief workers, preventing panic, etc.

The hospital section has a complete emergency first aid supply, with an operating table and surgical instruments. In the rear is a complete stainless steel galley, the equipment including a coffee maker which will provide 200 cups an hour.

The Molson's Brewery Co. has provided this equipment as a public service to the Province of Quebec to give relief under one roof, where normally three or four rescue vehicles are used.

The tractor equipment is operated by a three man crew, who upon call of disaster will quickly speed to the scene. These men are also St. John's ambulance trained personnel, and can give valuable assistance in emergencies.
