NATION-WIDE UNCERTAINTY SPURS ON POLITICAL CHAOS IN BRAZIL

All-Night Session of Military Junta at Rio de Janeiro Fails in Effort to Nominate Cabinet-Commander of Southern Revolutionary Army Announces Self Head of Provisional Government, While Leader of Northern Forces Claims Freedom from Central Command.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 25.—Political chaos, spurred by nation-wide uncertainty, developed today to rend the camp of the revolution, victorious in a coup d'état which yesterday unseated Brazil's retiring president, Washington Luis.

The armed conflict which has raged on three major fronts for the past three weeks was stilled, momentarily, but a situation still prevailed which, charged with the tenseness of rival political personalities, may plunge the nation into further sanguinary internecine conflict.

In this capital a military junta, in charge, temporarily proceeded with formation of a Provisional Government. The officers composing it meeting far into the night in an effort to nominate a slate of officials to take over the administration. The junta adjourned its meeting finally just before dawn after having reached decision on only one office, that of Minister of Justice, which goes to Gabriel Bernardes.

Meanwhile, despatches from headquarters of the Southern Revolutionary army, located at Ponta Grossa, State of Paraná, said that Getúlio Vargas, the rebel southern army generalissimo, President of the State of Rio Grande do Sul, and defeated national presidential candidate in the recent elections, would take charge of the Provisional Government.

Lindolfo Collor, insurgent representative at Buenos Aires, is flying to Porto Alegre today to meet Dr. Osvaldo Aranha, acting president of Rio Grande do Sul, and proceed with him to Rio de Janeiro to confer with the military junta. Senor Collor asserted that Vargas would not assent to a military government.

The third principal in the battle of politicians developing here was Captain Juarez Távora, whose army of volunteers and revolting Federal troops conquered the northern states, Pará, Bahia, Pernambuco, Alagoas, Sergipe and part of Bahia. He was expected here by aeroplane this morning from Bahia. Although united with Vargas in the revolutionary campaign, the two men have long been bitter political enemies and the status of their present relationship was uncertain. Juarez Távora has attained a huge personal following in the states through which his army has progressed as it moved southward.

The military junta which has assumed actual control of the Government, and which brought about unseating of President Washington Luis yesterday, is composed of General Menna Barreto, General Leites, Tasso Fragoso, Admiral Irala Morúa, Dr. Pandá Calogeras and other lesser figures. Assisting them is Cardinal Leme, who was one of the intermediaries in the final negotiations with the deposed president.

Dr. Washington Luis today was a prisoner in Fort Copacabana. After holding out for hours against reinstallation with the words that he would be taken from Guanabara Palace only when he had been bound hand and foot, late yesterday he consented to the military junta's demand and was taken under heavy guard to the quarters of the general staff at the fort where he will remain temporarily.

His decision finally was made at the counsel of Cardinal Leme and Monsignor Rosalvo de Aguiar, vicar general of the Rio de Janeiro diocese. He left the Palace in the company of the Cardinal, the Vicar General and General Tasso Fragoso. As he passed through the reception room he bade good-bye to the assembled ministers of his cabinet and members of his civil and military household.

Outside the two Ecclesiastics and General Tasso Fragoso, entered an automobile with him. Other heavily armed officers mounted the running board as the deposed president was whisked away from the scene of his nearly completed four year term as chief executive of the Brazilian Union to the fort.

There is little apparent animosity toward the deposed president, who generally was regarded as honest in his convictions, but surrounded with a military and official family which many in the nation found objectionable. The military junta in its night long meeting decided to hold the deposed Minister of Justice, Vianna do Castelo, and the deposed Minister of War, General Sefredo dos Passos, as prisoners, setting at liberty other members of the cabinet, all of whom had been arrested.

Despatches from Sao Paulo said that president-elect Julio Prestes, who but for the revolution would have succeeded Dr. Washington Luis November 15 had disappeared. There were rumors that he had fled the city.

BRITISH NOTE WAS RECEIVED AT WASHINGTON

Suggestion that the Placing of Wreaths on War Memorials Be Abolished During Official Visits Does Not Appear to Meet With Approval.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The receipt of a note from the British Foreign Office, suggesting that the United States participate in a movement initiated by Great Britain to eliminate official ceremonies at World War cenotaphs, was made known today at the State Department.

Officials said, however, that no action had been taken and declined to comment on the suggestion. It was not indicated whether a reply would be sent to the British Government.

Meanwhile, Lieut. Colonel C. G. Mortimer, army officer in charge of the tomb of the unknown soldier here, said that shrine was visited by almost a half million people in the past six months. "While I can see the British viewpoint in wanting to obliterate war memories by ceasing ceremonies at their tomb of the unknown soldier, the same urge does not apply here," he said. "The United States is farther removed from the left-over animosities of war."

MANY DISTINGUISHED PERSONAGES ATTENDED ROYAL WEDDING TODAY

Princess Giovanna of Italy Became Wife of King Boris of Bulgaria in Upper Church of St. Francis at Assisi, Italy, This Morning—Torrential Downpour Was Only Unpleasant Feature of Happy Occasion.

ASSISI, ITALY, October 25.—Princess Giovanna, of Italy, and Czar Boris III, of Bulgaria, were united in marriage in the upper church of Saint Francis here at ten a.m. today. Their agents, the Royal figures of Europe, and Premier Mussolini were among the distinguished gathering which witnessed the ceremony.

Many of the guests were drenched by a driving rain which marred the pagentry incident to the ceremony. The beautiful white wedding gown of the Princess was drenched in the downpour, although she was protected with umbrellas.

The rain began as a drizzle just when the three royal trains, bearing the Italian King and Queen, former Czar Ferdinand of Bulgaria and the groom, and their suites, pulled into the station.

As the cars pulled up in front of the church the rain turned to a pelting torrent. Giovanna's beautiful wedding gown, although protected by a quickly offered umbrella, was considerably dampened. Others, including many royalties, unable to drive so close to the church because of the congestion of motor cars, were thoroughly drenched.

Before Boris had a chance to enter the church the weather became even worse. The rain, frozen in Assisi's high altitude, changed to pelting hail. Worse weather for a wedding would have been hard to find anywhere, at any time.

Had the wedding taken place on time the ceremony would have been concluded and the party at the palace Constantini for the wedding breakfast before the storm blew up. The start was an hour and a half late, however, due to late arrival of the trains at Assisi Station.

While the trains were taking their time about getting here from Pisa, a considerable party of notables, including Premier Mussolini, tramped up and down the platform looking anxiously at the skies, which gave plenty of forewarning of what was to come.

A fortune in gorgeous gowns was crumpled and ruined in the pitiless downpour. The vivid decorations which had been put up in Assisi for the occasion were wilted within a few minutes. On all sides there were exclamations of dismay and disappointment, mingled with prayers to St. Francis to make the rain cease.

The marriage occurred at 11:00 a.m. Just one hour late.

Kings and princes, queens and princesses hastened with as much dignity as was possible through the beating hail into the church.

INDUSTRIAL LORDS WELCOME BALDWIN'S LAST STATEMENT

Lords Melchett and Elibank, Former Beaverbrook Supporters, Declare Baldwin Policy Clears Way for Future Work.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—Lords Melchett and Elibank, prominently identified with the Empire Free Trade Crusade, have issued a joint statement welcoming Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin's declaration of policy, contained in a letter sent to Lord Beaverbrook on October 22. Beaverbrook already has placed himself on record as regarding the Conservative leader's declaration "wholly inadequate."

The joint statement of the distinguished industrialists declares that Baldwin's declaration "seems to carry out a policy for which we have been striving and provides for an entirely free hand to grapple with the great task that lies ahead of the Conservative Unionist Party."

"There is no truth to the story at all, and I do not know where it originated," Mr. Perron is still Minister of Agriculture and will remain so for a long time, I hope," the Premier said.

The story in question stated that a re-organization of the Provincial Cabinet was imminent and that the next vacancy would occur in the Department of Agriculture.

"For the past few weeks the minister of this department, Hon. J. L. Perron, has been prevented from fulfilling his duties by sickness. We understand from good authority that the Minister of Agriculture has decided to retire, and that moreover, his resignation is already in Premier Taschereau's hands. Hon. Mr. Taschereau hoped up to a few days ago that his colleague would reconsider his decision, but is now resigned to it. The task of selecting his successor is going on, and for the last six weeks, Asclard Godbout, M. P., for L'Islet in the Legislature, has been paying regular visits to the ministry, and the story is going the rounds that Mr. Godbout may be the next Minister of Agriculture."

It has been impossible to obtain any statement from Mr. Perron, who is at his home here, but it is learned from reliable sources that there is no truth in the rumor. Mr. Perron visited Quebec last Monday, and returned to Montreal the next day. He conferred at length with Armand Grenier, deputy Minister of Agriculture, while at Quebec, on the affairs of his department, and it is understood that he will speak at the winter fair of the Eastern Townships in the third week of November.

WILL INCREASE PRODUCTION AT COWANSVILLE

Production at Bruck Silk Mills to Jump from Seventy to One Hundred Per Cent.

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 25.—An announcement was made yesterday that the Bruck Silk Mills at Cowansville, Que., which have been working at only about seventy per cent capacity, will be placed on a full time operation basis on November 1.

Mr. Bruck states that the company is not making a decided improvement in sentiment just now, with an accelerating demand for silk piece goods, this being helped by prevailing low prices for both the raw and finished materials. The company, he says, is doing a very nice business at the present time and bookings are showing a satisfactory increase.

With regard to inventories Mr. Bruck says that the forthcoming annual financial statement will find these very substantially written down to a basis which will correspond closely to the low prices for raw materials and he also states that the actual volume of stocks on hand has been largely reduced. The financial statement he expects will show the company's treasury position quite well maintained in the face of the difficult operations experienced in the final five months of the fiscal year. Earnings have been affected due to these conditions.

Mr. Bruck reports that the promise for the new fiscal year is much brighter and he feels that from now on the company's position will improve progressively.

MR. TASCHEREAU DENIES RUMORS ABOUT PERRON

Premier Claims that Provincial Minister of Agriculture Has No Intention of Resigning—Plans to Visit Sherbrooke in November.

QUEBEC, Oct. 25.—Recent press reports that Hon. J. L. Perron, Provincial Minister of Agriculture, was contemplating resigning, have been emphatically denied by Premier L. A. Taschereau.

"There is no truth to the story at all, and I do not know where it originated," Mr. Perron is still Minister of Agriculture and will remain so for a long time, I hope," the Premier said.

The story in question stated that a re-organization of the Provincial Cabinet was imminent and that the next vacancy would occur in the Department of Agriculture.

GERMAN EDITOR IS SUSPICIOUS OF ALLIANCE

Adolf Hitler, Fascist Generalissimo, Replies to Proposals of Gustave Herve Regarding a Franco-Belgian Military Alliance.

MUNICH, Bavaria, Oct. 25.—Adolf Hitler, Fascist Generalissimo, replied today in his newspaper, Völkischer Beobachter, to proposals of Gustave Herve, French editor of La Victoire, of a Franco-Belgian military alliance.

Answering Herve, the National-Socialist leader expressed satisfaction at the conciliatory spirit shown but asked "why have a military alliance? Against whom is to be directed?"

Hitler said Germany had attempted for twelve years to arrive at a Franco-German understanding and the efforts have merely led to Germany's becoming so poor that many of her people prefer Bolshevism to her present condition. He added "Young Germany, as represented in the movement of which I am leader, earnestly desires an understanding with France, but wants no military alliance."

The Fascist leader expressed the opinion that to become a fit partner for France in a military sense Germany would have to increase her armaments greatly. He suggests that the better way would be for France to reduce hers, and thereby "relieve all Europe of a nightmare."

Herve's suggestion of a new European convention Hitler meets with the question, "Is this to be in the spirit of the Briand-Kellogg Pact or does France regard that pact as unsatisfactory?"

Discussing Germany's obligations, Hitler says the National-Socialists recognize her private and business debts, but the binding character of her "political debts exacted by insane political pressure is doubtful."

He declared that Germany will either become a nation recognized as the equal of others, and hence enjoy the same rights, or there will no longer be an orderly Germany, but Bolshevism will reign instead.

The other members of this non-political group are Messrs. Charles N. Duquette, former mayor of Montreal; Charles Edouard Trépanier, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Montreal; J. H. Commenting on the appointment of this commission, which follows the negotiations between the Ottawa and Quebec Governments in connection with the distribution of the federal unemployment relief funds, Hon. J. N. Francoeur, Provincial Minister of Public Works and Labor, stated: "I believe we have made a good choice in the appointment of this non-political board."

It was stated that the commission will be entirely at the disposal of the members of the commission. They will also be available for the handling of the correspondence, which already is very considerable and for general co-operation.

"Due to the fact that it has been found more convenient to have all the exchange of correspondence and general requests received at the Parliament Buildings here, and that generally the sittings of the commission will be held here, it has been thought quite important to have the labor representatives on the commission local men, so that they be on hand at all times to help the commission. That has brought us to choose Messrs. Omer Fleury and P. Beaulieu, respectively, representatives of the international and local labor in the Eastern Townships."

GERMAN SHIP WAS FIRED ON BY BRAZILIANS

Claim Made by Brazilian Ministry of Justice that Vessel Displayed No Flags—Revolutionary Authorities Say They Intended Shot as a Warning.

BERLIN, Oct. 25.—The German Legation at Rio de Janeiro today notified the Foreign Office here that the German steamer Baden had been fired upon by Fort Chapachana, when she tried to leave Rio Harbor yesterday.

The Legation said the Baden had returned to the harbor with her flags at half mast. No information was given as to the number of dead and wounded but it stated that members of the Legation staff immediately went aboard.

The message added that the Brazilian Ministry of Justice claimed that the Baden displayed no flag and was shot at from Fort Chapachana.

The Baden was bound for Buenos Aires and had sailed from Hamburg on October 4th.

Most of the casualties were said to have been Spanish immigrants, bound for the Argentine.

It was stated that the Brazilian revolutionary authorities alleged that they had intended the shot merely as a warning and had hit the ship accidentally.

The Baden carried a large number of third class passengers.

OTTAWA, Oct. 25.—With a session of Parliament due for early next year,

Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Prime Minister, and the other Cabinet Ministers embracing his party, Hon. H. H. Stevens, Hon. Hugh Guthrie and Hon. Maurice Dupre, will face a busy six months on their return from London towards the end of next month or early in December.

Probably the first question to receive attention will be the St. Lawrence River development, as the reply of Mr. Bennett to a note received from the United States before his departure for Europe indicated that on the Premier's return the matter might be seriously taken up.

Complete reorganization of the system of port control may arise from the investigation just started into the affairs of the Halifax Harbor Commission. It is expected that Justice Orde, who has been named as investigator, will be instructed to extend his activities to all the other boards.

It is known from his vigorous utterances in the parliamentary session of 1929, when bills providing for further loans to many of the commissions were before the House, that Premier Bennett is opposed to the present method of appointing commissions and voting large sums for their expenditure. At that time he spoke strongly in favor of making the commissions statutory bodies and making the finances of the boards subject to the same supervision by Parliament as are those of the Canadian National Railways, which is obliged to submit to Parliament a list of detailed estimates for the next year.

Another plan favored in ministerial circles is to place all the ports under one central controlling board at Ottawa with one capable business manager at the head of the affairs of each harbor, the finances to be under the direct control of the central board in the Federal Capital. Whatever plan is finally adopted will be radically different from the present system, it is believed.

The Prime Minister, in addition to his regular duties, has also been acting Minister of Finance, and a vacancy also exists for the post of deputy minister. Early utterances of the Prime Minister indicated that he might retain the Finance post until such time as his fiscal reforms had been completed, but the appointment of a deputy minister is expected immediately on his return.

Several other posts have also to be filled, including the appointment of Lieutenant governors for Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia and Alberta, while in the diplomatic field a High Commissioner to London and a Minister to Washington have to be named.

Although appointment is by the British Government, it is believed that while in London Mr. Bennett will discuss the naming of a governor-general to succeed Lord Willingdon, whose term expires next August.

Changes in the Canadian National Railway Board and a measure of reorganization therein are talked of. It is suggested that the number of members on the board will be reduced. This question will doubtless be the subject of consultation between Sir Henry Thornton and the Government when Mr. Bennett comes back.

There are other items on the programme, one of which is the holding of public hearings on the tariff changes made at the last session of Parliament. Just what form these hearings will take has not been indicated, but Mr. Bennett intimated that they would take place.

BRITAIN MUST ADOPT PROTECTION.

There are forty million people in the United Kingdom, against only ten million in Canada. It took this journal just six months to re-inspire the people of Canada on the simple principle that if all other countries had protective tariffs against Canada, we must meet them on their own choice of weapons.

Great Britain, worshipping the memory of Richard Cobden and John Bright, who were quite right in their day of free trade doctrines, requires but a brief time for a sincere promotion of the educational process. But those who preach protection must sincerely believe it, otherwise they cannot carry that conviction which only sincerity can convey.

Hon. Richard Bennett believes in protection. He carried with him the people of Canada. His predecessors were merely academic in their advocacy, and failed just as do all who are merely echoes.

As a descendant of the same family as John Bright, who was a close relation of the Wood family, I confess that I followed the free trade theory in my youth, but in my adolescence I was convinced of the fact that where other nations declared business war upon Canada it was only protective that we should erect the same tariff walls against all tariff countries.

The coming elections in Great Britain, which must surely follow the penetrative doctrines of the Hon. Prime Minister of Canada, only require that the teachings of safeguarding shall be uncovered in the true name of protection. This suggestion was forwarded long since by the writer to Lord Beaverbrook and to Lord Rothermere, and both these gentlemen have now endorsed the policy of Mr. Bennett as the right doctrine for Empire trade unity.

The Labour Government of Britain, under Ramsay MacDonald, comprises a collection of incompatible followers, each one of whom is an egoist who believes that everybody must think as they do, or they are quite wrong.

It may seem to some of our admiring subscribers that the Record displays some egotism in its belief that from one of the smaller cities we can fix the policies of the British Empire, but there are those who under-rate the influence of the printed word, when it is also followed up by reaching the people who are active and progressive. Ideas are penetrative when they reach the right people, and particularly when the right people are intelligent and know a good idea when they meet it on the street.

THE LADIES CAN HELP.

Hon. H. H. Stevens, the Minister of Trade and Commerce, is publishing in the leading daily newspapers a series of well-written articles in advocacy of the purchase of Made-in-Canada products. This constitutes an active and specific exposition of the Hon. Mr. Bennett's Canada First policy which he promptly gave point to in the defensive tariff enacted before his hurried journey to the Imperial Conference.

Mr. Stevens' idea is to bring home to every buyer the most practical way of keeping Canadians busy and thus reducing unemployment.

Research authorities have uncovered the fact that over seventy per cent. of the retail buying in Canada is done by the ladies. And it is, therefore, the ladies who can do the most to carry out the curatives which are so ably presented by the Minister of Trade and Commerce.

As a general rule Canada-made goods offer the consumer the best value for their money. The word "imported" has not the lure that it may have had in the earlier days of Canadian industrialism.

During the World War the women of Canada showed their spirit, and performed a work that was marvellously efficient. They can today do a work that will be as fully effective in correcting the problem of unemployment. They can control the law of supply and demand by directing their shopping energies in insisting that the place of supply shall be in Canada.

MR. WRIGHT WHISPERS HOME TRUTHS TO UNCLE SAM.

George F. Wright, associate editor of the Montreal Star, and an authority on economic subjects, has contributed a lucid article on the new Canadian tariff to the New York Sun. As the editor of the Sun says:

"These articles may not be pleasant reading for those American manufacturers who find new and higher hurdles in the path of their export trade. But the facts must be faced and without resentment. The Bennett Government has taken a leaf from the tariff book of the United States. Canada seeks to build herself up industrially as we have done."

Mr. Wright, in his articles, plainly tells the readers of the Sun that the framers of the new tariff hope that practically all of the higher protected trade will remain to the Canadian producer. He traces the history of Canada's defensive tariffs since 1878, when for eighteen successive years the Canadian people protected their own industries, and when in 1897 the first stone in the tariff wall was taken down to permit a preference being given to the British manufacturers. But when further reductions were made by the Liberals after the war period, matters reached a climax. The manufacturers cowed by the loyalty to Empire, were hampered in open criticism even though the British preference was ruining their business, particularly the textile industry. The rampant entry into trade and commerce by the United States, and the practically prohibitive tariffs they enacted, aroused the Conservatives into the adoption of the "Canada First" cry. Mr. Bennett said on the platform what was in reality a promise that the British preferential would only continue in effect should Canada be given preferential on the English markets.

When elected Mr. Bennett acted swiftly. Within three weeks his Government had raised the tariff on 150 articles. As Mr. Wright says after analysis of the changes made, "Is protection of a higher form than has ever been in force before."

His argument is that there are 11,000 people working in Canadian implement factories, that without raising prices to the consumer, the new tariff will practically give employment to 10,000 more persons in this one industry alone when the new fiscal policy reaches its point of attainment.

Not only has Mr. Bennett gotten the ear of Empire in London, but his policies are being given meaning to those American politicians who thought that Canada would continue to sit complacently by whilst they captured our trade and bought nothing whatever from their best customers.

The vociferous Free Traders have been routed, and only a few of the irresponsible and shallow-thinking demagogues continue to talk foolishly of Free Trade in Canada.

EDITOR'S NOTE BOOK.

The Federal Government has held out to manufacturers the promise of an adequate protection to any manufacturer who will devote his energies to the making of farm tractors. There is not a farm in the Eastern Townships which could not find profit in the purchase of a reasonable priced tractor of twenty or thirty horsepower which would plough, cut wood, do the threshing, cut the ensilage and otherwise become a robot equal to two man-power on the farm. On our rolling grounds and hillside farms a tractor would be a gift from the gods. Some farmers with eighty-acre farms have found them profitable as an investment.

One owner of a string of motor trucks expressed the opinion that the C.P.R. had brought influence to bear upon certain members of the City Council to have license fees exacted from out-of-town motors delivering goods in the City of Sherbrooke. The sum of $560 has been extracted from motor trucks in the various towns and villages adjacent to this city, a monstrous imposition by a short sighted Council who do not consider the injury they do to their city. For $560 we destroy the good-will of every municipality in the Eastern Townships. What a silly-ass piece of business on the part of the Finance Committee!

PRESS COMMENT

CANADA BARS SOVIET COAL.

Soviet Russia has averted an open rupture with Canada by the simple process of giving way when the pressure upon her became dangerously strained. Two years ago Moscow, looking for new fields on which some portion of her abundant natural resources might be planted, espied Canada and "saw that it was good." At least it appeared good so far as the possession of potential customers for anthracite made it promising. While Canada has vast deposits of lignite and low-grade bituminous coals she has so little anthracite that last year not a single ton was mined in the Dominion.

Russia possesses rich deposits of anthracite and in 1928 sent to Canada experimental shipments amounting to 6,204 tons valued at about $6 a ton at the port of entry and retailed to Montreal and Toronto householders at about $17.50 in the cellar. Last year the volume of Russian anthracite reaching Montreal rose to 117,405 tons.

Since then Canada has had a general election and the coal-producing sections of the Maritime Provinces have protested against the entry of this coal, which was admitted into the Dominion free of duty. Mr. Bennett promised to drive Russian coal off the market if it was proved that Canadian industry suffered.

The anthracite used in Canada amounted to something less than 4,000,000 tons, and of this amount about 3,200,000 tons comes from the United States. For the most part the Canadian coal distributors have hard-and-fast contracts with American collieries for the supply of their needs of anthracite, and they voiced their objections, which grew in crescendo tones when there were rumors of ten or a dozen ships loading in Russia for Montreal before navigation closed.

The Canadian Government therefore had to choose from two courses. It could either clap a duty on anthracite which probably would have resulted in raising the price of this product all round, or it could bar the Russian anthracite from entry into Canada and thus leave the field open to a fair fight and no favor between the Welsh and the United States anthracite mines.

Canada has chosen the latter course, and after vessels now on the high seas have discharged their cargoes no more Russian coal will be admitted into the Dominion. Dumping of Russian wheat on the world market has demoralized the grain trade and hurt Canada immensely. The Dominion now replies in words to the Soviet Government will understand when it takes action to prevent its coal trade being demoralized. While the quantity of anthracite affected is not large, the precedent may be followed elsewhere and have far-reaching effects.

Canada has told Soviet Russia that drastic action will be taken against a nation that sells its products to establish credits rather than primarily to build up profitable trade.—New York Sun.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Edith Shuter, of Montreal, is in Sherbrooke a guest at the Magog House.

Mr. and Mrs. William Spier, of North Hatley, spent a few days in Montreal this week.

Miss Helen Hetherington, Queen street, has returned from Woonsocket, R.I., where she has spent the past five weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Bruce Fletcher, Queen street, have returned home after spending a few days in Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McKeechie, Moore street, have returned from Montreal, where they have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles MacLeay for the past two weeks.

Under the convenship of Mrs. A. Jobel, Mrs. J. Sawyer and Mrs. R. Giff, a very successful rummage sale took place yesterday on the market for the benefit of the Ladies' Auxiliary of St. Andrew's Church.

Miss Lois Mitchell, the president, was in charge of the C.G.I.T. meeting held in Plymouth United Church hall last evening. Further plans for a connection with the Hallowe'en party and Miss Ethel Wells was appointed press representative for the year. Afterwards groups were formed and at the conclusion of business a jolly sing-song was enjoyed, the evening closing as usual with taps.

Hallowe'en was anticipated last evening when the senior girls of St. Paul's Church Girls' Club entertained their girl and boy friends at a jolly party in the church hall. Spooky pumpkin lights, black cats and other appropriate decorations lent a festive air to the scene. Games suitable to the occasion were enjoyed and later delicious refreshments, provided by the girls of the club, were served under the supervision of Mrs. F. Stanfield and Mrs. F. Payne, with the members assisting.

MARRIAGES

CASH—WELLS.
HYANNIS, Mass., Oct. 25. — A quiet but pretty wedding took place on October 16th at the Baptist parsonage in Hyannis, Mass., when Miss Una Elaine Wells, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wells, of Barre, Vt., and Mr. Edward Cash, of Hyannis, Mass., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cash, were united in marriage, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Mr. Vassar.

The only attendants were the bride's sister, Mrs. C. A. Temple, and Mr. and Mrs. B. LeBaron, close friends of the bride and groom. The bride was dressed in a suit of all silk with a train and a crown, with brown hat and shoes to match. After the ceremony, the wedding party went to the "Tower House," the home of the bride's sister, where a buffet lunch was served.

MOREAU—GAUTHIER.
KATEVALE, Que., Oct. 25. — On Wednesday morning, October 15th, a very pretty wedding was solemnized in the Roman Catholic Church here, when Miss Helen, daughter of Mrs. Gauthier and the late Mr. Alfred Gauthier, was united in marriage to Mr. Horace Moreau, of Sherbrooke. The ceremony was performed by Father Ledoux.

The bride, who was attended by little Miss Veronika Moreau, a niece of the groom, as train-bearer, and by ten young ladies of the Daughters of St. Mary Society, wore a white veil caught in cap effect, with a wreath of orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of lilies.

Two solos were rendered by Mr. Romeo Labbe, and Miss Moreau, sister of the groom, sang very sweetly. Special music was also rendered by a group of girl friends.

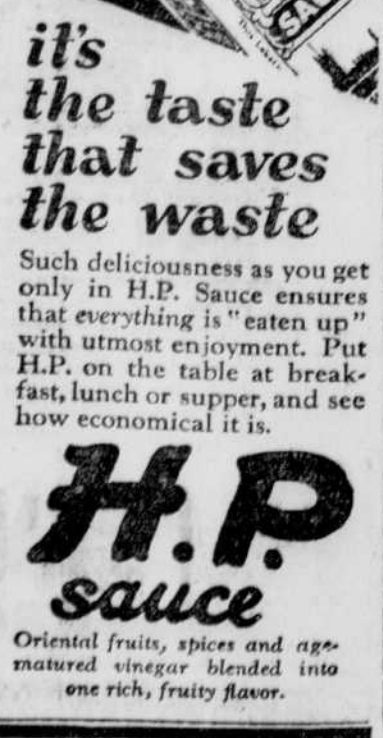

Following the ceremony the guests repaired to the home of the bride's mother, where a buffet breakfast was served. The happy couple left later by motor for their honeymoon in Montreal, Nicolet and other places of interest, the bride traveling in a motor car with black shoes and hat and coat, trimmed with silver muskrat.

On their return the happy couple will make their home in Sherbrooke.

SAULT STE. MARIE Trio Had Harrowing Experience When Their Fishing Craft Was Upset in Sudden Storm on Lake Superior—Reached Home Suffering from Exposure and Exhaustion.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Oct. 25.—Three citizens of the Soo, Robert Johnston, Oswald Kelly and William Hill, had a harrowing experience above Gros Cap on Lake Superior, when fishing from an open boat, the craft was upset by a storm which suddenly arose. The men managed to reach the deserted and barren shore and, in a miniature blizzard, started along the rocky shore for Gros Cap with frozen clothes and frost-bitten fingers. They made slow progress and finally, after Johnston had fallen down the side of a rocky hill and received painful injuries, they camped until morning without fire, their matches having been dampened by water during their immersion in the lake. Today Kelly succeeded in starting a fire with two matches he had placed in his hair overnight and later they again started their painful journey along the shore, arriving at Gros Cap. In the meantime a provincial air service plane, finding their boat on the beach, took it for granted that the men had perished. They were brought to the Soo and taken to their homes where they will be confined for some days from exposure and exhaustion.

LENNOXVILLE HIGH SCHOOL HELD OPENING

In Future, Promotion in Junior Grades Will Depend on General Standings in Tests of Entire Year—Prizes Awarded.

The formal opening of Lennoxville High School has long since outgrown the assembly room of the school building and for several years has been held in the town hall in the better accommodation of the pupils and their friends who wished to be present. This year St. George's Hall was utilized for the opening, which for the first time was held in two sessions.

At three o'clock yesterday afternoon the junior pupils of the school, their teachers and parents completely filled the hall, and a special opening was held for them. Songs were sung by grades four and five, relating to Thanksgiving and Hallowe'en, and the pupils of the school gave two songs very creditably for pupils who only entered school in September. Other selections were given by grades two and three, and six, the latter singing a round in four parts.

Dr. J. W. Stevenson, principal of the High School, presided, and briefly addressed the assembly. He said that the junior grades had a splendid record for last year's work. Four new teachers had been engaged on the staff, Misses Ayer, Huntington, MacKinnon and Gibson. An athletic association existed in the school, which was proving very successful.

An important announcement was made by Dr. Stevenson, when he stated that hereafter the June examinations would not be regarded as the basis of promotion in the junior grades. Promotion would depend on the general standing in the tests of the whole year. Any pupil taking seventy-five per cent in these tests would be promoted to the next grade. A place for cultural subjects would be given in the school work, as Dr. Stevenson believed in the use of the arts and sciences as a means of the development of the finest moral character.

Practical hints as to the care of school children under ten years were given by the principal. Long hours of sleep were absolutely necessary to ensure receptive minds during school hours, and parents were urged to co-operate with the school in this respect.

The prizes won by the pupils of the junior grades were presented during the afternoon. The second troop of Sherbrooke Boy Scouts held a meeting last evening when an interesting time was had by all the members. The programme for the evening was run off as follows: flag break, Scout silence, corners (dues, etc.) cockrover, class work, under the supervision of the patrol leader, a hidden treasure game, a charade, knot race (clove hitch, reef, bowline, sheepshank and fisherman's announcements, and flag lowering.

Rev. Mr. Gordon, Immigration representative of the United Church of Canada at Quebec and Montreal, was the guest of Rev. and Mrs. F. R. Matthews a few days this week.

Mrs. N. H. Cameron and Miss Margaret Cameron have returned from Lisbon, N.H., where they went to attend the funeral of Mrs. Cameron's uncle, Mr. L. H. Goudie.

I.O.D.E. meets Monday at 3.30. Speaker, Mrs. Gifford. Afternoon tea.

The principal's report showed an enrollment of 257 pupils, and a larger number in the upper grades than had been the case in previous years, with 88.8 per cent passing their examinations.

Dr. Stevenson stressed the fact that the passing of examinations was not the first and only consideration of himself and his staff, who estimated character higher than were scholarship.

Dr. Boothroyd, in his address, characterized education as a basic industry which was designed to turn out young men and women equipped for whatever purpose in life they had in view. The University, he said, was held in closest bonds with Lennoxville High School with any other in the province, because of the teacher-training system, and because many of Bishop's best pupils had come from that school, personal and humanities which formed a peculiar relationship between the two educational institutions.

Dr. Percival, in an address in which common sense and humor were closely interwoven, spoke first of the pupils. He wanted to see, he said, every one of the graduates of Lennoxville High School become some one of importance. This could not be done by staying on half the night and sleeping half the day. Only by hard work could success be won. "Build up a personality for yourselves," he advised. As one can train oneself physically, so mental habits can be formed. Hold on to an aim and press unwaveringly forward," he urged.

To the parents and guardians of the pupils Dr. Percival made a special appeal in the following words: "I congratulate the parents and citizens on their foresightedness and self-denial. You have done well in maintaining a high school of excellent standing and in placing at the disposal of your children such facilities as have enabled them to proceed as progressive citizens and which should enable them to develop as leaders of tomorrow. ACCIDENTS IN CITY NUMEROUS LAST EVENING

Slippery Condition of Streets Responsible for Several Auto Mishaps Last Evening—C. P. R. Locomotive Struck Rear of Small Truck at Belvidere Street Crossing.

The slippery condition of the streets, together with the heavy drizzle which was falling and dimming the lights of cars, rendered driving decidedly unsafe last evening, and as a result several accidents occurred, and in two instances drivers who realized they were responsible for the accidents escaped before they could be recognized.

A very narrow escape was experienced at about half past five o'clock yesterday afternoon by a C. P.R. brakeman and the driver of a small motor truck, when the latter tried to pass in front of a locomotive which was shunting across the Belvidere crossing. The car, according to those who witnessed the accident, was travelling at a fast rate of speed, and cut in in front of the engine in an attempt to continue on its way without waiting for the train to pass. The locomotive struck the rear end of the truck, and a brakeman, who was riding on the front of the engine, had to leap off to escape injury. The car was not seriously damaged, however, and continued on its way without stopping. The license number of the vehicle was taken and an investigation is being conducted to identify the driver.

Quite a commotion was caused on King street west early in the evening, when Gerard Menard, driving a taxi owned by Mr. A. Fournier, of this city, backed into a hydrant and broke one of the faucets, causing a heavy stream of water to fly across the street. A call was immediately sent in to police headquarters to rush a man to the scene in order to shut off the water. But there was no serious damage was caused. An unpleasant drizzling, however, was incurred by a few unfortunate.

At about 12 o'clock last night, a car which must have been travelling at a fast and reckless speed, in the risky driving conditions which prevailed at that hour, crashed into the "silent policeman" at the corner of King and Depot streets, pushing it back a matter of about ten feet. This sign is exceptionally heavy, with a concrete base, and it is apparent that in order to be removed that distance the impact when the car struck it must have been very severe. The policeman on patrol heard the crash, and rushed to the spot, to discover the wrecked sign but no evidence of the car which had caused the damage. It is understood that the police are conducting a search in the city to locate the guilty party.

Young five year old Robert Rheume, son of Mr. A. Rheume, of Federal street, was the victim of an accident on Thursday evening, when he was struck by a car. The driver of this car whose name is being withheld, struck the lad on Gall street, and immediately brought him to his home, where a doctor was summoned to treat his injuries. The boy sustained a deep and painful gash to the head, but his injuries were not considered serious enough to warrant his removal to a hospital.

GOSSIP IN THE WORLD OF FINANCE

Furnished by Johnston & Ward.

LIDLAW'S LETTER
NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Lidlau and Company say: The market continued its advance yesterday with substantial gains well distributed throughout the list. Pressure on the rails was lifted and this department showed good gains. The action of the rails will bear watching to see that they do not lag behind the industrials on an advance as many feel that they already are more deflated than the industrials.

The recovery at the close brought prices slightly above the level reached on the recovery on October 20th. If profit-taking on this rally is well absorbed we will be inclined to feel that the erratic action of the market in the past ten days was in fact the establishment of a temporary bottom from which a more sustained recovery than we recently have had may develop.

BUY ON WEAKNESS
NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The Wall Street Mirror says today: With a rally in stock prices of more than two days behind it, the sentiment in the financial district regarding the stock market has undergone a decided change. While the current rally and the further extension of this lift in prices can be set down as a purely technical rebound, nevertheless it will be of sufficient duration to be worth playing for. While it is true that many issues have already had a rally of sufficient proportions, it would not be at all surprising to see Westinghouse sell up around 115, American National Steel common 155, etc.

National Biscuit is an issue which should be picked up any time it gets around 75. The stock made low of 71 this year with earnings showing an increase.

Stocks can be bought on weak spots today and on Monday for an extension of the current rally. This lift in prices should carry through the greater part of next week and will be referred to as an "pre-election rally."

BROKERS' OPINIONS
Hornblower and Weeks—We prefer to stand by until the market has had a very substantial rally that at least makes up one third of the ground lost.
J. S. Bache and Company—That over-hanging sore spots are being eliminated is evident from the action of stocks during recent weeks.

TRADING FORECAST AND FACTORS
A further extension of the rally is expected in today's short session.
RASKOB'S ACTION PRAISED
NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The New York Advisory Service says: A real turning point at last. The market is providing its own best recommendation, more as a result of its impressive action in the face of adverse developments, than by its ability to advance.

In Thursday's letter we stated we felt the time had arrived where less than usual caution need be followed in making commitments, the more aggressive market movements at the week-end would tend to confirm this impression.

The street is inclined to regard Raskob's bullish statement as a usually significant, coming at this particular time. As chairman of the Democratic National Committee, it would seem that ordinary partisanship would restrain Mr. Raskob from issuing such a statement, but at least after action, it is for fear it might indirectly aid the Republican cause. Hence, Mr. Raskob is to be highly commended for relegating partisanship to the background. Without hedging or mincing of words he predicts a revival in the motor industry within the next few weeks to be followed by a resumption of activity in practically all other lines of industry.

The list of stocks given you this week has behaved in a manner truly representative of the general list, and its showing has been better than average. We feel it would be well to concentrate current trading activity in stocks of this type.

BRAZILIAN LED AT MONTREAL
MONTREAL, Oct. 25.—The Montreal Financial Service says today: The outstanding development yesterday from a local market standpoint was the announcement that the revolutionary forces in Brazil had been victorious and that President Luis had resigned. This precludes the possibility of any damage being done to property which was the outstanding factor overweighing the market in Brazilian Traction.

MAINTAIN RISE THIS MORNING AT MONTREAL

Brazilian Traction, Steel of Canada and National Steel Car Gained Point or More at Opening.

MONTREAL, Oct. 25.—The advance was continued today at the opening on the Montreal Stock Exchange, although realizing sales on yesterday's gains held the advance to smaller proportions. Brazilian Traction again led the upward trek, gaining 1 1/4 at 28 1/4. Steel of Canada at 38 up 1/4 and National Steel Car up one at 33 were others to show pronounced strength.

Nickel was 1/4 better and Canada Power and Paper gained 3/4. Montreal Power closed 1/2 on profit-taking.

The volume of trading was about normal.
WESTINGHOUSE LED WALL STREET ADVANCE TODAY
NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Further strength in share prices appeared at the opening of today's stock market. Westinghouse Electric rose three points with a purchase of 10,000 shares. Allied Chemical mounted two points. U. S. Steel gained a point with a transaction of 4,800 shares. American Tobacco B and A. T. & C. also gained a point. North American, Johns-Manville, American Waterworks, Air Reduction, Du Pont and United Gas Improvement gained about 1/2. Kennecott and New York Central, however, lost one.

MINE VICTIMS' BURIAL HELD THIS MORNING

Deepest Mourning Observed at Alsdorf as 216 Killed in Tuesday's Disaster Were Laid to Rest.

ALSDORF, Germany, Oct. 25.—Bodies of 216 victims of Tuesday's coal mine disaster were buried here today while the town observed deepest mourning and all business ceased.
The flower-covered coffins were lowered into four parallel trenches, Protestant and Catholic divine services were read. The burial took place in a special cemetery, as the local one was too small to hold all the bodies.

Fifty caskets bore no name plates because their inmates were too mangled for recognition.
Thousands of persons, including miners' delegations from the Saar and Ruhr districts, attended.

With yesterday's deaths the total list of dead stood at 292, of which forty-six were buried in neighboring villages where they had their homes.

UNITED STATES IS WARNED TO BE PREPARED

PRUSSIAN STATES HOLD DAY OF MOURNING
BERLIN, Oct. 25.—As a mark of nationwide mourning for the victims of the Anna II mine explosion all public buildings in Prussia carried flags at half-mast today. Church bells tolled and dance halls closed their doors.

The street is inclined to regard Raskob's bullish statement as a usually significant, coming at this particular time. As chairman of the Democratic National Committee, it would seem that ordinary partisanship would restrain Mr. Raskob from issuing such a statement, but at least after action, it is for fear it might indirectly aid the Republican cause. WOMEN'S VOTE WAS DISCUSSED AT MONTREAL

Granting Franchise in Municipal Elections Favored by Some Aldermen—Delegation Waited on Council.

MONTREAL, Oct. 25.—Considerable time was taken up at the meeting of the Legislation Committee of the Montreal City Council yesterday afternoon, discussing the question of whether or not married women, separate as to property, should have the vote in Montreal municipal elections.

The discussion took place behind closed doors after a delegation consisting principally of the executive and members of the League for Women's Rights, which had requested an interview, had presented their plea and been bowed out by the chairman, Ald. Allan Bray, chairman of the Executive Committee.

Mrs. Pierre F. Casgrain, who headed the delegation, stated that as it has been reported that the aldermen were considering going to Quebec to ask amendments for the City Charter, they wished to ask that a clause be inserted which would give the municipal vote to the married women of Montreal who are separate as to property and who own property. This, she noted, was a right enjoyed in the city of Quebec for many years past.

The principle was one of business, not one of woman suffrage, Ald. Trepanier affirmed, when the discussion on the question was taken up later, after consideration of another matter on the agenda. There years ago, when it was taken up at Quebec, many did not know that what was being claimed was a long possessed right. It was a special question, he said. Montreal would not be committing itself to the principle of women suffrage, on which he reserved his own opinion, by according this right. There were cases in which the husband was absent, and though the wife might have property in several parts of the city, she had not one vote on it.

CLAIM THAT POLICE KNOW ASSAILANTS OF GANGSTER

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The New York World says the identity of the two men who shot Jack "Legs" Diamond is known to police and that a search for them is being made here.

The men, the paper says, were friends of the racketeer and engaged in various deals with him until October 12 when they shot him four times in a room in the Monticello Hotel. The shooting was said to have grown out of a deal connected with the alcohol or narcotic "racket."

city in an aeroplane. Advice here from headquarters of the southern revolutionary army was that the rebel general was saying that those responsible for malfeasances of the deposed administration would be prosecuted.

After an orgy of destruction yesterday, in which damage estimated at $1,000,000 was done to seven municipal offices and buildings by gangs of hoodlums, the city today was quiet, and presented much of its old normal appearance. Theatres, cafes, bars and the like were closed last night but later in the evening groups of people emerged for quiet walks and others moved through the avenues. Buses and street cars resumed their normal service.

The newspapers A Noite, O Jornal Do Brasil, O Paiz, Vanguardia, A Noticia, Critica and A Ordem all suffered in the rioting. Movable property was thrown from windows into the streets and everything inflammable was burned. Fawcets were opened in the buildings and streams of water seeped through them, damaging property of other offices.

The message from Rio De Janeiro said: "Efforts are being made by the Brazilian Government to settle this regrettable incident amicably."

NORTHERN COMMANDER NOT READY TO OBEY JUNTA

PERNAMBUCO, Brazil, Oct. 25.—Captain Juarez Tavora, commanding the Northern revolutionary army today notified the Federal garrison commander at Bahia that he himself was not yet ready to take orders from the military junta which has taken over the government at Rio De Janeiro.

Captain Juarez, who has been advancing with any army of volunteers and former federalists from the state of Sergipe to Bahia sent a message to the general commanding there demanding his surrender. The Bahia general replied that he would obey order of the junta at Rio.

HOCKEY SEASON WILL OPEN ON NOVEMBER 11

National Hockey League Will Again Operate as a Ten-Team Affair, Divided into Two Sections as Formerly.

MONTREAL, Oct. 25.—On November 11 in three cities, Ottawa, Boston and Philadelphia, pucks will be tossed to the centre of the rinks and the 1930-31 season of the National Hockey League will be under way. The schedule issued today by President Frank Calder, of Montreal, shows that the league will again operate as a ten team affair, divided into two sections. Each team will again play three home and three away games with the teams in its own section, and two home and two away with the teams in the other section, making a total of twenty-two home games and twenty-two away matches.

The name Pittsburgh does not appear in the schedule this year, the team from that city having been shifted to Philadelphia, where the Pirates will become Quakers. Otherwise the league is the same as last year, being comprised of the Montreal Canadiens and Maroons, Ottawa Senators, Toronto Maple Leafs and New York Americans in the Canadian division, and Boston Bruins, New York Rangers, Chicago Black Hawks, Detroit Falcons and Philadelphia in the United States section. The Falcons is the new name of the Detroit Cougars.

On the opening night Montreal Maroons will tie up at the capital against their old rivals, the Ottawa Senators; Boston Bruins will be at home to the New York Americans, and Philadelphia will show their wares at home against the New York Rangers.

The other four teams swing into action shortly afterwards. Canadiens' first game and the first home game on Montreal ice, will be on November 15th, with Ottawa a the opposition. Detroit will entertain the Rangers on November 18th and Toronto will face Americans at Toronto also on November 18th. Last to get down to business will be the Chicago Black Hawks, which start at Chicago on Sunday, November 18th.

Ice will be ready at Madison Square Garden, New York, on November 18th.

November 18th, when Montreal Maroons will face the New York Americans in the first game of the season at Gotham. The intra-city scraps, which excite the fans of New York and Montreal more than any other games, will start at New York on November 18th with the Americans and Rangers after each other's scalps, and at Montreal on November 20th with Canadiens and Maroons battling.

The Ottawa Senators have shifted three games to other cities. On November 27th they will meet the Bruins at Boston instead of at Ottawa; on February 5th they will play at Detroit and on March 7th at New York Rangers.

MCGILL ATHLETES TOOK HONORS

KINGSTON, Oct. 25.—McGill University won the inter-collegiate track and field meet yesterday easily defeating their Toronto and Kingston rivals. The final point standing with the one-mile relay event still to be run tomorrow, was: McGill 65, University 15.

McGill piled up a respectable lead in the first four events, garnering a lead in points in the discus throw 850-yard run, 120-yard high hurdles and 100-yard dash.

Queen's won the shot put and pole vault, in registering their heavy and no records were equalled or broken in the meet but very good time was shown despite the condition of the track.

A rainfall during the night and early morning made the track heavy and no records were equalled or broken in the meet but very good time was shown despite the condition of the track.

Two new swimming champions crowned last night.

MONTREAL, Oct. 25.—Two new champions were crowned at last night's events in the Dominion women's swimming events in the Knights of Columbus pool, Irene Pierie, of Toronto Dolphinstones, taking the 100 yards free style title and Pearl Stoneham, of Montreal, winning the diving event.

Miss Pierie also won the 50 yard back stroke senior open event. Her time in the 100 yard event was 1:08 2-5, and for the 50 yards back stroke 58 3-5. Doris Ogilvie, also of Toronto, came second in the diving event.

Quebec has this season had the advantage of playing in league schedule in the Capital City, providing them with a regular run of games and thus keeping them in the best of shape, while the locals have had to pick up games as best they could. However, all who have seen the locals in action are satisfied that they will give a good account of themselves this afternoon.

SHERBROOKE AND QUEBEC IN ANNUAL CONFLICT

Last night a large number of the Quebec players arrived in Sherbrooke in readiness for the annual Quebec-Sherbrooke rugby tussle this afternoon. This is the sixth year that the representatives of the two cities have battled for the right to enter the Provincial Intermediate play-offs.

THE PREMIER

Mary Nolan will be seen tomorrow at the Premier Theatre in "Young Desire," Universal's poignant dialogue drama of the struggle of a girl for her soul.

"Young Desire" is said to be one of the most colorful pictures in which Miss Nolan has appeared. Many of the scenes are laid in the bizarre atmosphere of a carnival. An appealing romance runs through the picture, and the climax is a masterpiece of excitement and suspense.

Miss Nolan is supported by a noteworthy cast. Her leading man is William Janney, who, despite his youth, already is duplicating on the screen the success which he scored on the stage. The picture marks the return to the screen of Mae Busch, long one of the most popular actresses in motion pictures. Important roles also are portrayed by

The second picture on this programme will be "The Thoroughbred," starring Wesley Barry, Nancy Dover, Pauline Garon and Larry Steers.

For Wednesday and Thursday of next week the Premier Theatre will present Billie Dove in "A Notorious Affair," in which she plays the role of a self-willed English girl of good family, who falls in love with a musician, poor but talented. Their struggle, and his subsequent failures and successes provide the substance of the story.

The theme of the story is based on her struggle, first to make her husband known to the public, and then after that is accomplished, to hold his fickle affections.

Basil Rathbone is Paul Gherardi, the genius husband, who is alternately weak and strong. Who is a genius but not strong enough to stand fame and fortune. Kay Francis plays a designing woman. Montagu Love portrays an adoring father. Kenneth Thomson is an old lover of Billie Dove who comes to her with aid and help at the time she needs him most.

Along with "A Notorious Affair," the second picture on this programme will be "Pardon My Gun."

The Cohens and the Kellys are coming back once more to the Premier Theatre. They will be there on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week, and will tell of their experiences in Scotland.

Unknown to each other, Cohen and Kelly, who are on the outs again, go to Scotland with their wives to buy plaids. Each has been tipped off that the Prince of Morania, the style dictator, intends to wear plaids that year.

Cohen buys all the stock of plaids of McPherson, while Kelly buys all of McDonald's plaids. To their mutual discomfort, Cohen and Kelly meet on the golf links, where Cohen has the ill fortune to insult the Prince of Morania.

The hopes of both are staked on the Prince wearing plaid at the races. It rains, and the Prince never unbuttons his long raincoat.

Feeling they are ruined, Cohen and Kelly decide on suicide. Cohen jumps off a bridge and Kelly saves him. They are reconciled and go into partnership again.

They try to sell the plaids back to McPherson and McDonald, and are faced with the prospect of a terrific loss. Just then the Prince of Morania, wearing plaids, rides by. McPherson and McDonald buy back the plaids at a price which gives the Cohens and Kellys a huge profit.
