Tennis Club Planning Tournaments

At a special meeting of the Huntingdon Tennis Club at the Chateau on Friday evening, Mr. Henry Roskies was elected president for the 1950 season. Other officers named were Mr. L. Fredette, secretary, and Mr. Cecil Brown, treasurer.

So far the club consists of about 24 members and many more are invited to join. Arrangements are that those who are taking up the game for the first time or who feel the need of skilled instruction, will be coached by one of the expert players.

The club is also planning a series of tournaments, the first of which will take place in a few weeks. The court is reported to be in fairly good shape.

All things considered it looks as if the Huntingdon Tennis Club will be having a very successful season.

$5,000 Raised To Date For Memorial Fund

More Response Is Urged For Appeal

The County War Memorial drive for funds is now in full swing in the Town of Huntingdon. Some very gratifying reports have been received from the special names committee. Some of the larger firms in Huntingdon have subscribed beyond the expectation of the finance committee. The reports received indicate that $5,000 has already been subscribed.

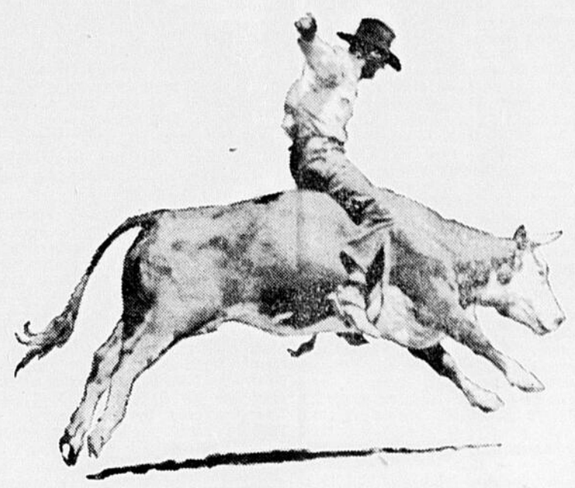

Some canvassers report a resistance on the part of the donors and have actually collected very small amounts. It would appear that in some quarters the drive has been a bit misunderstood. This is not just another drive, it is not an annual canvass, it is a financial campaign drive to obtain funds with which to build a Memorial in Remembrance of those who fought for us in World War II, and paid the supreme sacrifice. When we contribute toward this cause we should give more generously than for any other cause for which the people here have been canvassed in past years.

The young people who have fought for us, thereby making it possible for us to give at all, will not be very much impressed if after this financial campaign is concluded we cannot report it as being one of great success. The young people who responded to the Call of the Colours did so because they felt it was their duty. Let us hope that their responding to the call of duty means the rising generation of military age will not likewise be called upon to make a similar response.

An effort is now being made to have a Memorial building erected in remembrance of those who paid the supreme sacrifice. The Financial Campaign Committee and canvassers are doing their part to hold high the name of Huntingdon. Huntingdon stood firm by the boys when in action, let us not now falter when it comes to contributing our cash toward the building of the County War Memorial in honour of those who gave their lives.

Replica of Calgary Stampede To Be Part of Program For Old Home Week

One of Largest Rodeo Shows to Be Present For Four Days — July 20-21-22-23

During Old Home Week the ears of everyone will be ringing with cries of "Ride 'em Cowboy" and Indian war whoops when one of the best and biggest rodeos and stampedes on this continent will come to Huntingdon. The Old Home Week Committee announced last week that the company of cowboys, indians, Brahama bulls and countless horses will arrive in time to take part in the opening parade and perform throughout the entire four days of celebration. It will be the most exciting thing Huntingdon has seen since its founding 125 years ago.

The show which is promoted by National Sport Enterprises of Ottawa consists of a large troop of expert riders, cowboys and a full tribe of Inians. Among the party of Indians are Chief Sugarbrown, Otoe Indian chief of Red Rock, Oklahoma and his family. Princess Sugarbrown, the daughter of the chief is famous as an indian singer and will share the spot light with the chief's 19-month-old son who dances and whoops as lustily as the best of them. This Indian family are known in show business from coast to coast.

Among the saddle stock is a brother of 'Trigger', the famous horse of Roy Rogers and many paint horses and pintos are included in the group.

One of the Brahama bulls has already become notorious as the deadliest animal in the show ring. Rivalling the famous Big Sid, the most dangerous of all, this bull must be handled with extreme caution. These are but a few of the many outstanding features.

So, in a short while, Huntingdon will be a scene of teeming activity when carloads of western bronchos and steers and Brahama bulls will begin to arrive. The strings of riding mounts, the herds of bulls will, for the four days, July 20-21-22 and 23rd, make Huntingdon the rival of Calgary, Alberta. It will be the most exciting show this part of Canada has seen for a long time.

Field-day At Fair Grounds Success

Fine Weather on Saturday Ideal For Event

The J.O.C. Field Day which took place at the Huntingdon Fair Grounds, on Saturday, witnessed a number of interesting events such as softball, races and volleyball. The day of sports which was regarded as a tremendous success was brought to a close with a display of fireworks.

Those who donated prizes and all who contributed to the success of the event was warmly thanked by the J.O.C.

In the softball games, the J.O.C.F. and St. Joseph's School won the trophies; the J.O.C. boys were the victors in the volley ball, while Burke, N.Y., stole the honours in the baseball game.

The following are winners of the races: Seven to ten years, Roger Saumier and Murielle Lennox and Gaestane Emond. Ten to sixteen years, Russel Vaillancourt, Marielle Parent and Madeleine Lessard. The mile race for boys, Claude Boyer. The half-mile for girls, Adrienne Lefebvre and Marielle Parent. Bicycle races of one mile were won by Russel Vaillancourt and Harold Merson.

Sod Turned For Houses

60 to Be Built at Chateauguay Project

First sod of a project 60-house development at Chateauguay Village was turned Saturday by Arthur Laberge, M.L.A., for Chateauguay.

Work began immediately on the first six houses, three of which already have been sold. The dwellings, to be built on lots 100 feet by 100 feet, are priced at between $7,000 and $8,000, and are subject to mortgages approved under the terms of the National Housing Act.

Speakers at the ceremony stressed the benefit to firms established south of the Lachine Canal and south of the rail crossings at Ville St. Pierre. There is considerable time lost due to traffic holdups at rail and canal crossings for workers from Montreal to plants in Ville LaSalle, it was stated. The new housing development would obviate such delays for those living in the Chateauguay district.

The sub-division, which might eventually develop into a community of 130 homes, will be called Labergeville. It lies on the improved highway connecting the Chateauguay village.

Valleyfield Regatta to Be Held This Week-end

Large Number of Entries Received For This Great Annual Event

The Valleyfield Boating Club, organizers and sponsors of the annual Valleyfield regatta announced this week that they expected the largest number of entries in the outboard and inboard classes ever to gather at a Canadian regatta. The Valleyfield regatta will take place on Saturday and Sunday, July 1-2.

Sid Street, of Kansas City, Mo., swept all honors in the 225 class in 1949 at Valleyfield regatta, winning at same time the famous Canadian Schenley trophy. In the outboards such starry performers as Bob Boggie, of Loon Lake, N.Y.; Miss Shakeshaft, of White Plains, N.Y.; Richard Johnson, of Ogdensburg, N.Y.; Chris Smith, of Poughkeepsie, N.Y.; Dr. D. W. Schomberg, of Coral Gables, N.Y., have forwarded their entries to Commodre Dr. Armand Clairmont, of Valleyfield.

Valleyfield Boating Club has already received more than eighty entries for the Dominion Day weekend regatta at Valleyfield. This in itself assures the success of this aquatic event par excellence in Canada.

The regatta will get underway at 1 p.m. sharp Saturday, July 1, with races continuing until 5 p.m. that same afternoon. On Sunday the boat races will start at 1 o'clock with the last heat featured at 5.20 that afternoon.

Visitors to Valleyfield on July 1-2 will find varied entertainment before and after the boat races each afternoon. There will be fireworks in majestic St. Francis Bay, a band concert, musical programs, baseball games, etc.

In past years thousands of people from different points in Canada and the United States attended this event and the 1950 show at Valleyfield on July 1 and 2 will certainly induce more boat racing enthusiasts to come to this well-known cotton town.

Near Tragedy Occurs on Highway Near Beauharnois

Driver Injured; Taken to Hospital — Bus Badly Smashed

BEAUHARNOIS — T. Myre, Provincial Transport driver, miraculously escaped death on highway No. 3 on Friday evening, about 7.30 p.m. While driving his bus from Melocheville to Beauharnois, Mr. Myre hit a large block of cement at the side of the road and was sent crashing headlong into the recently completed bridge, directly in front of the new power house construction area. Eye witnesses say that a car driven by Mr. F. W. Saunders, master mechanic for the Angus Robertson Construction Co., signalled for a left turn and began to do so when the bus suddenly appeared going approximately 40-45 miles per hour. For some reason unknown, bus driver Myre tried to pass Mr. Saunders' car on the left hand side while the car was turning left, sideswiping the car as he did so. After hitting the car the bus hit the cement block and crashed. The incident occurred directly in front of the Angus Robertson first aid station and therefore Mr. Myre was removed on a stretcher to the station, and later to Valleyfield hospital, by ambulance. It was learned from the ambulance driver that Mr. Myre suffered from cuts above his left eye caused by broken glass, and a broken leg. Mr. Saunders escaped without injuries other than that of a good fright, although the left front fender of his car was flattened and the tire was almost torn off.

Driver would probably have met death

On inspecting the interior of the bus it was found that the dashboard had been pushed violently up against the driver's seat, and had the driver remained in his seat he probably would have been crushed. It is therefore probable that Mr. Myre, upon seeing that he was going to smash into the bridge jumped from his seat, or when the bus hit the cement block the driver was thrown from his seat.

Condition of the bus showed that of violence

The front of the bus was completely wrecked, although the headlamps escaped being broken. The floor at the front of the bus was pushed up and a supporting steel pole that ran from the floor to the ceiling near the driver's seat was pushed through the roof. The thick glass windshield was completely demolished with not a particle of glass remaining in its original position. The motor was still going when the bus driver was removed although it was not running smoothly.

Bus in two other incidents

One Provincial Transport driver who came to the scene of the accident with about three others said that the same bus was at one time stolen and found turned over in the bush and at another time was hit by a train.

FORTIETH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY FOR MR. AND MRS. JOHN GREER

TATEHURST — On Friday evening relatives, neighbours and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Greer to congratulate them on the occasion of their 40th Wedding Anniversary. At midnight refreshments were served and Rev. John Williams called the gathering to order and addressed Mr. and Mrs. Greer, extending to them the good wishes of their friends and wishing them many more years together. Mr. Adam McNeil then presented them with a gift of money while they were the recepients also of an electric kettle from the family. Mr. and Mrs. Greer thanked their friends and all joined in singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows".

Dancing was enjoyed throughout the evening the violinists being, Messrs. Howard Reid, Adam McNeil and Horace Paxton.

FREDERICTON, (CP) — The spring salmon fishing was marked by more than a little drama this year. Ice jammed along the southwest Miramichi and when it broke the water rose 18 feet—isolating homes and sportsmen's camps for several days.

Suspects In Cattle Thefts Held

Investigation of Case Still Proceeding

For some years past this district has been bothered by a certain amount of cattle rustling and those guilty had not been traced. This week, however, four young lads have been apprehended on suspicion and will probably stand trail on charges of stealing young heifers from several farms in this district.

Police Chief J. L'Heureux of Huntingdon and Provincial Police Constable Reault of Valleyfield, have been working on the case and have at last come upon the evidence they required. The investigation is still proceeding so too many facts of the case are not yet available, but we understand that several heifers have been sent to Montreal to be butchered in the past few weeks and this led to the suspects being detained. Two of the suspects are from Elgin and two from Huntingdon.

Races At Huntingdon July 1st

Many Fine Entries Already Received

The Huntingdon Driving Club has arranged a real racing card to be run off at the track adjoining the Fair Grounds, Huntingdon, on Dominion Day, Saturday, July 1st. The races will start at 1.30 p.m., and continue throughout the entire afternoon. Already a number of very promising entries have been made and it is expected that many more will be added before Saturday.

Recent reports from those who are qualified to know state that Huntingdon's race track is a very good one. With this in mind, the racing to be run off should be something worthwhile. There will be four races as follows: 2.30 trot or pace; 2.26 Trot or Pace; 2.20 Trot or Pace and Free-For-All. The purses range from $100 to $175. Canadian trotting rules will govern. For further information write to the officials named in the advertisement on another page of this issue. There is no entry fee and no deductions. Amos and Andy to Feature Softball Game at Athelstan

Evening of Fun is Planned For Tuesday, July 4th

The Athelstan Community Sports Association is sponsoring an evening of fun on the recreation field at Athelstan, on Tuesday, July 4th. The big attraction is to be a softball game between the old-timers and the girls' softball team. Some of the old-time baseball stars who will be in action are: W. A. McHardy, Billy Cooper, Bill Rowat, Phil Carrigan, Doug. Elder, Walter Arthur and many other old time greats of former years. To make the game more humorous, the team captains will be Amos and Andy, the Kingfish will be umpire in chief.

The people of Athelstan and surrounding points should not fail to be present at this game and give the old-timers their best support and best wishes for their fine community spirit. Athelstan now has a very fine recreation field for the use of young and old. It has been built up from scratch through the help an co-operation of the citizens in and effort shared by young and old alike. There are swings, slides, volley ball, horse shoes, good softball diamond and a refreshment booth. Plan to attend this event next Tuesday.

CAR OVERTURNS TWICE NEAR ST. ANICET

Above shows a car which came to grief near St. Anicet, Que., on Thursday evening, when it overturned twice and landed on its top in a ditch in front of the cemetery, half a mile west of St. Anicet, on the Lakeshore Road. The place of the accident is close to the residence of Mr. J. Donohue and Mrs. Girouard, a nurse, who was staying there, was one of the first to arrive at the scene. When she arrived, two men were imprisoned in the overturned car and she instructed them how to break away the glass and then assisted them out. She gave first aid until a doctor could be secured and the Provincial Police were notified. Dr. P. M. Girard of Huntingdon, answered the call and found one of the men, Romeo Hurteau, of Cazaville, to be suffering from a fractured collar bone and slight concussion. The other passenger suffered only minor bruises. The accident occurred about 7.30 in the evening. It is understood that the car was returning from a wedding party and was travelling at a fair rate of speed. Just what caused the accident is not known, but the occupants had a miraculous escape and but for the timely arrival of Mrs. Girouard, may have suffered greater consequences.

Complaints from residents in this area are to the effect that too many cars make the roadway a speedway and it is remarkable that there are not more accidents.

St. Andrew's Sunday Services

A special Youth Service was held in St. Andrew's United Church, Sunday morning, the guest speaker being Miss Daisy MacNeill, Girl's Work Secretary of the Quebec Religious Education Council.

Two solos were sung, one by Mrs. Stewart Trask "God So Loved the World", and one by Mr. Lee Gilbert, "Beside Still Waters", both being rendered with much expression.

At the close of the service the Sacrament of Baptism was administered by Rev. D. R. Morrison, when the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Smith was baptized Valerie Helen and the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Murdoch, Ross Gilbert.

At the evening service a very interesting 25th anniversary entitled "Growing with the Years" was presented. Demonstrating aspects of the work of the United Church during the last twenty-five, the pageant was ably directed by Mrs. D. R. Morrison.

Under the direction of Mrs. Eric Smith, organist, the singing by the choir of hymns suitable to the various parts of the pageant added much to the spirit of the service.

Davidson; The Spirit of the Church, Miss Norma Jones; Speaker, Mrs. David Reid; Home Missions, Miss Anna Sproule; Nurse, Miss Bates; Captain, representing the United Church Navy, Mr. Fred Durin, Jr.; Missionary, Miss Hazel Hardisty; College Student, Mr. Ronald Schurman; Musician, Mrs. Hartland Rowell; Layman, Mr. Henry Cassidy; The minister, Rev. The life of a Missionary supplies all these. There are 3,000 men and women who give full time service to the United Church of Canada and live a life which does not lack adventure. Satisfaction in living does not come from place power or position but from living for something outside of oneself. Our church's aim is to obtain 125 new recruits for the ministry every year and to raise our giving to the Missionary and Maintenance Fund to 3 million.

A poem entitled "A Peaceful Heart" was read by Mrs. Russell Logan.

RAFFLE RHUBARB

MONTREAL (CP) — Raffling bundles of rhubarb may not seem to be a quick way of making money. But that was one method used by students of Lower Canada College to raise $500 for the Montreal Joint Hospital Fund. A dance, cutting lawns and selling flowers and lemonade were other cash-raising schemes.

Dropping Sunday Evening Services

THERE is considerable agitation at the present time for the Protestant churches to drop Sunday evening services for the summer months at least. Already in Montreal this practice has been adopted by a great number of the churches. A glance through the church notices of the daily newspapers published there will soon show that there is a note in a number of them to the effect "There Will be no Evening Service".

We fancy we can hear a few saying that this is a serious thing to suggest, but the majority feel that the time is coming when such a practice will be an established fact. It is the age in which we live and we do not think that it reflects on the religious potentialities of the people. We believe that people in their hearts are just as devout as they ever were, but modern times have placed advantages before the people that they do not care to miss. They feel that if they spend the morning at church that this is sufficient time. The rest of the day should be free to do whatever they want. Then again, modern day people have placed a different interpretation on church worship than their grandparents did. In the days gone by it was considered proper for Sunday to be observed throughout as a quiet and peaceful day with church-going the main event at least twice.

Some people may say that the modern age is deteriorating rapidly and putting religion to one side. Certainly young people do seek more pleasures than was wont in the days gone by, but perhaps they are no less religious because they do. The world has changed in its religious thinking as much as it has changed in many other things. It seems therefore that the church must rise up and change its methods to suit the times. The principle will always remain the same but the method could be changed to make the most of the chances offered.

We realise of course, that it is quite an important step to take to make a decision to curtail worship in the churches. The point is however, with so few people attending the Sunday evening services in each of the three Protestant churches, there is little encouragement for any of the ministers. The choir, for instance, is cut to a minimum and hardly a one of the younger people are present to take part. In place of a full choir as in the morning services, only a sprinkling take their seats in the evening. The congregation is the same, with but a few persons. This is not common to summer alone, it is also the same throughout the winter months. There are still a few devout who attend both services regularly, but they are very few. If the evening services were not dropped entirely, perhaps it would be well if the services of the three churches were combined in one church to alternate among those churches say month about. Possibly the number combined would produce a reasonably large congregation that would give greater encouragement, at the same time those who feel they must attend in the evening, would have the opportunity.

When city churches feel the need for suspending services on Sunday evening, then it is time the country points give the matter some consideration. Week-end travel has reached such a pitch now that so many people have Saturdays free, that more trips are planned today than ever before. These trips are more often long ones that keep the persons away for the full week-end. There is not much that can be done about it, there is no law forbidding it and this is a free world. If there are ultimate consequences to be suffered, the people are apparently willing to take their chances. In a number of churches Sunday School is suspended during the summer months, so it would seem logical that Sunday evening worship could also be suspended during that time. Generally speaking, we believe such an announcement would be met with approval.

Korea -- Does It Mean War?

JUST like Pearl Harbour — Just like Munich — Just like Poland — the world was aroused from its slumbers by the surprise attack on Korea over the week-end. Perhaps complacency is not so rampant as in the days of Munich and as far as we know — Hitler is not around — or could he be a political prisoner and adviser to Russia? The tactics, the timing are all so much alike that one could almost say it is a repetition of Hitler's methods. The blow is struck at the week-end — suddenly the war is on, bombs are dropping on principle cities — people are being evacuated and so on. No declaration, breaking off of diplomatic relations and all the time-honoured preliminaries that used to be associated with a clash between one nation and another. Sudden, total warfare.

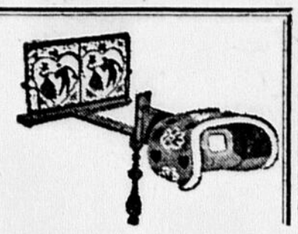

Yes, it has happened in Korea and the Western governments are aghast that it should take place without them knowing. Yet, what did they expect? There is no doubt but what this is a Russian coup, Russian inspired, Russian engineered, but nicely covered to try and throw off suspicion. There is no doubt that this is an act of aggression and had it occurred in the Atlantic region, would have called for action on the part of the pact nations who were signers of the agreement. Unfortunately, although it has been mentioned, no such pact for the Pacific region has been arranged or agreed upon. There seems to be indications that the United States is willing to send help, but here again the defence appropriations were cut recently by that country. There is no doubt that this was folly and later developments may once more prove that as in the Charge of the Light Brigade, someone has blundered. Already United States members of the armed forces in Alaska have been alerted to possibilities, but still a warning has gone forth that there is no need for alarm.

We believe and believe strongly that there is some cause for alarm as if Korea falls into Communist hands, it is that much more strength for Russia. If one followed the lines that Hitler took in the thirties, he made several bloodless conquests before he decided to take the chance of going into Poland which he knew would bring in France and Great Britain and possibly others. Meanwhile he had added strategic points to his roster which gave him stepping stones to points of value throughout the European continent. Look at the pattern that is being woven in the East today — the USSR has stretched into Manchuria and China as well as dominating many of the smaller countries in Europe. By surrounding herself by these countries she is making it much more difficult to attack Russia itself from almost every direction. Meantime by gradually excluding all nationals of the Western world, her operations are becoming more and more on the secret list. Each country so annexed to Russia means greater sources of labour, greater expansion for the manufacture and placement of weapons for attack and defence.

The western countries should now be bristling with armour and defence equipment to show Russia that we are wise to what is going on and do not intend to allow the grass to grow under our feet. Away with all this talk about atomic weapons, let us go ahead and make them, if only to show them that we have them and will use them if, when and where it becomes neccssary. This is the only talk that Russia understands, or some week-end we shall experience one of these so-called surprise attacks — only they will not be a surprise. You cannot call something a surprise when you are aware of it or suspect it. Twelve years ago we listened to the radio and we read in the newspapers of how Germany had launched a bloodless coup against this country and that country and how the Germans were celebrating in Berlin at the successes they had made. Do we want to wait until we hear that same thing again, but this time with regard to Russia? Do we want to be caught asleep at the switch while cities in the United States or this country are made targets for bombing attacks? No one can say we have not been warned — we have been warned time and time again — be on the alert, prepare your defences, gear your factories to wartime emergencies in times of peace. No, we do not want war and we may be able to prevent it yet if we will but show our teeth and dare anyone to provoke us too far.

The infiltration of Communists into all countries is far worse than Hitler's fifth column ever knew how to be. There is no telling just how bad conditions would be if it should be decided to make an attack on this side of the world. No, we do not want to make you panicky, but it may be later than we think if we do not take warning of the seriousness of this Korea episode. Desperate efforts are now being made to form a new government in France because of the seriousness attached to the sudden war in Korea. It would be most dangerous if Communists gained a foothold in France that would give them control. The fate of Europe would be practically decided. Let us not have another Pearl Harbor.

Random Glimpses of The Past Taken From Gleaner Files

Since this column began it has been the policy to recall only the events that might be within the memory of persons still living. From now until Old Home Week, however, Glimpses of the Past will have a different approach. It will draw from the earliest issues of this newspaper and try to present a Gleaner's-eye-view of the topics and events which created the Main-Street conversation of the day, and a record of the developments which made Huntingdon into a thriving, progressive, hard-working community.

February 16.

While we give every credit to the present and past postmasters of this province and to the able deputy Mr. Griffin, now of Ottawa, we think that the time has come to agitate for a little further postal reform. Five cents for a single letter is perhaps not too much for one that has to travel over 500 miles to its destination but it does seem rather high for sending them from one neighbouring town to another.

A special meeting of the Godmanchester Council will be held on Wednesday next at 10 o'clock. We may state that Mr. Rowe still persists in refusing to give up the books to the Secretary, or to allow an audit of them to be made.

March 9.

In Prussia, the King has made another aggression on the rights of the people. He has arrested and is going to try several members of the parliament of that country for speeches they made in it. If he and his Prime Minister, Bismark die a natural death, it will be a wonder.

March 23.

With the Fenians threatening, steps have been taken towards the raising of a cavalry troop in this village and so far success is promising. In such an emergency as the present one, troopers are invaluable as patrols.

March 30.

We are given interesting accounts of the preparations which are being made for the laying of the new Atlantic Cable next June.

When the Catholic Emancipation Bill was passed in the British house, a special oath was framed to be taken by Catholics elected to the House of Commons maintaining the Queen's supremacy and to do nothing which would tend to injure the Protestant Religion. On the 15th, Disraeli moved that a clause should be inserted admitting the supremacy of the Queen but this amendment was voted down. The Bill will undoubtedly pass the Commons but may be thrown out of the House of Lords.

We thought all our subscribers knew by this time that we do not insert obituary verses. It would seem not for we have been sent a set of such verses during the past week. We would respectfully inform the sender that for the past two years no obituary verses have found a place in the Gleaner.

April 13.

On Saturday two rafts of timber passed this village en route for a party near the basin. In going over the dam one of them broke in two. At Dewittville great difficulty was experienced getting over the one there. It is many years since a raft went down the Chateauguay.

On Friday night last about half-past ten, the inhabitants of this village were startled by the beating of drums calling the Volunteers to assemble. The cause of the alarm was the firing of three rockets, the signal giving the alarm of a Fenian irruption. After keeping the men under arms for a couple of hours, however, the Mayor allowed them to retire. No one knows who caused this false alarm.

May 18.

Contrary to our expectations, the directors of the Plank Road have taken no steps to put it in repair. It is now impassable. Something must be done at once or else Huntingdon and the surrounding country will be put to serious loss and inconvenience.

June 8.

The Village Council on Monday night did nothing beyond renewing Barret's license to sell whiskey.

The tidings that the Fenians were preparing to cross from Buffalo to the Canadian side were received by mail on Friday evening and during the day exciting stories of large bodies of the group assembling at Malone were current. Parties from that town reported that the Penians were arriving by train, until they had assembled in such numbers that the hotels could not contain them. This news created much uneasiness in the minds of all the people along the frontier; particularly among the people of Hinchinbrooke, who being mostly from the North of Ireland knew well by past experience the treacherous and vindictive character of the foe by whom they were threatened.

At 6 o'clock on Monday evening reinforcements arrived in Huntingdon. The Academy and the Court House had been cleared and put in order. The spectacle of the troops was an enlivening one for there were no less than 70 teams and countless men. They had had orders to be ready and all believed that they would have a fight with the Fenians the next day. This prospect so cheered the troops that around the many camp-fires speeches and songs could be heard.

July 6.

The very important news that war has actually broken out in Europe we record this week. The powers (Prussia and Austria) are about equal in strength, Prussia making up in the superiority of her troops what she lacks in numbers.

According Victar Emanual of Italy has seized the opportunity of Austria and Prussia's quarreling to make an effort to recover Venitia from the former. If he should succeed then all of Italy will be free and united. That the flag of Italy may soon fly over Venice is our earnest hope, for then the dark cloud of ignorance and superstition may be lifted from one end to the other of that country, and she may be able to take her place among the enlightened nations of the earth.

Migration Miracle

By GEORGE MURRAY

(This is the sixth of a series of articles written for the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association by the editor of the Pictou Advocate, now touring Europe.)

EVERSBURG, Germany—Shortly before leaving Canada, I called in Toronto to see my good friend Gillis Purcell, general manager of the Canadian Press. I was in and out of his office without remembering that he had lost one leg overseas during the war. He directs the operations of that great organization as skillfully as if nothing out of the way had happened since we first met in the line of duty 20 years ago.

Here in Eversburg I thought of him and also of Cecil Day, publisher of the Liverpool (N.S.) Advance, who has moved around on crutches most of his life but has been able to transform his paper into one of Canada's better weeklies.

Such personal remarks may not be in good taste but they serve here to explain that hundreds of skilled displaced persons are bogged down because they cannot pass the health barriers of selection missions, whereas health and disability should be considered separately. Actually a man with a disability is a better workman and more reliable than a person who takes God's blessings for granted.

"They say a man cannot walk into a new country on one leg." The fair-haired boy inserted an intricate piece of mechanism into a tiny watch, laid it aside carefully, shrugged his shoulder towards the crutch leaning against the bench, then stretched out his hands smilingly. "But I hope to make a new life with the skill of my hands."

In this short sentence Vladimir expressed the hopes and fears of hundreds of young men, who under the care and protection of the International Refugee Organization are learning new trades to enable them in spite of physical difficulties to earn their own living as honest workmen.

"Don't people realize," he continued rather fiercely, "that a man can be a good watchmaker ..or tailor ..or shoemaker ..or toolmaker ..or carpenter ..or engineer." He gestured towards the workrooms. "Even if he has lost one foot," he added sadly.

Vladimir was only speaking the truth for as yet countries receiving refugee immigrants have not yet realized the wealth of good material among the displaced persons who do not quite conform to the medical qualifications for immigration.

This is, in the main, a young man's tragedy. Young men who during the war years were wounded, or suffered the hardships of slave labor camps found themselves after the conflict was over refugees from political persecution in their native lands and handicapped for resettling by some disability.

In the camps these young men were lonely. Selection committees arrived from this country and that country but they chose the young and fit or the older skilled men, and the handicapped youths who did not meet the physical standards and had been too young to learn a trade before their countries were disrupted were completely ignored.

Then IRO took a hand in the matter. It was obvious that these youths (their average is 27) must be taught some way of earning their living. When IRO closed, whether they had been fortunate enough to immigate or whether they had been obliged to remain in Germany it was still necessary that they should be given the necessary training to enable them to work and live.

With this in mind it was decided to open vocational centres for the limbless or slightly incapacitated that would combine both remedial rehabilitation with training in suitable trades. Several projects of this kind have been started but Eversburg Camp in the British Zone of Germany is one of the most advanced.

Here a team of vocational advisers, instructors and medical units advise, counsel and guide the youths in their choice of a trade suited to their disability.

Today over three hundred young men are voluntarily attending training courses, which will fit them to take their place again in the world as ordinary citizens.

Nineteen courses are in full swing at Eversburg. The most popular are tailoring, shoemaking, watchmaking and all forms of woodwork. But there are plenty of volunteer apprentices training as auto mechanics, radio mechanics, draughtsmen, leather workers and painters. Another group are rapidly becoming proficient as welders, machine toolmakers, silversmiths, tinsmiths, and woodturners.

All the necessary equipment has been supplied by IRO and every effort is being made to turn the men out as skilled tradesmen trained in the newest methods and not as enthusiastic amateurs. The training machines and tools are valued at over two million deutchs-marks.

One of the difficulties of the project is that it is purely educational and it is against trade union rules that articles manufactured with no overhead cost to the operators should be marketed. This has resulted in a keen determination among the men to make as many useful objects for the camp itself as possible.

The first aid came to the medical department when the machine tool makers and the welders manufactured several of the machines to assist in limbering stiffened limbs and also various devices to give extra facility to artificial arms. The gardeners wanted a plough, and harrow so the welders made these machines for them. Various parts of the camp building required alternation, so the carpenters, stiff limbs and all, leapt nimbly on to scaffoldings and built partitions, window frames, new doors and extra furniture. The painters have gradually succeeded in making the outside buildings spick and span. They are now contemplating a large scheme of interior decoration. Loving care and some very beautiful woodwork went into the construction of the camp church buildings.

In the meantime the tailors keep not only the inmates of this camp but other camps as well, in good clothing repair, and the shoe makers never lack a large pile of casualties on which to try out their skill.

Everything is turned to the communal good and to the common benefit.

Even national characteristics are submerged in the effort to train and equip.

Most of the men are Baltic in origin but there are also a proportion of Polish Ukrainians, Rumanians and Yugoslavs who hope to equip themselves for resettlement.

They are doing their part — but it remains to be seen if the receiving countries will do theirs and give those young, enthusiastic and valuable immigrants their chance.

In Eversburg Camp at present there are 28 auto mechanics, 12 carpenters, 7 electricians, 2 fine machinistes, 3 gardeners, 20 leather workers, 15 machinists, 16 painters, 21 radio mechanics, 47 shoemakers, 7 silversmiths, 44 tailors, 5 draftsmen, 4 tinsmiths, 36 watchmakers, 11 woodburners, 25 wood carvers and polishers and 11 wood turners.

Living up to the Joneses

By LEWIS MILLIGAN

Living up to the Joneses is an expensive and worrisome business, especially when you live right next door to the Joneses, and their mode of living is perpetually rising beyond your reach. That is the situation in which Canada finds itself as the next-door neighbor of the United States. It is not that Canadians are afflicted with an inferiority complex or that they are too proud to live within their means. It is a matter of pure necessity, and we would rather that the Joneses lived down to us, or at least that they would not set the pace so high.

The above reflections were prompted by an address delivered by Stuart Armour of Hamilton, Ont., to the Controllers' Institute of America in Buffalo, N.Y. The title of his address was "The Effect of American Policy on Canadian Business." He reminded his audience that Canada was still the largest cash basis customer of the United States; that "in the past decaded we 13 million Canadians have consistently bought and paid for considerably better than a billion dollars' worth of your goods every twelve months. We do this large volume of business with you because, while we appear to be rich in resources, ours is in reality one of the least self-sufficient of the world's national economies."

He pointed out that if Canadians are to enjoy the North American standard of living, they need American cotton, coal, oil, ore, citrus fruits, and a great variety of other products. As a partial offset to these imports we send newsprint and a variety or raw and semi-processed products. In consequence, said Mr. Armour, we Canadians live under very great and continuous pressure to adhere to what is called the "American way of life," which means that we must live up to our rich neighbors. This, he said, tends to create for us troublesome political problems. If, for instance, we let our standard of living fall too far below that of the United States, or if we try to follow too closely American levels of taxation or prices, we are likely to increase the outflow of Canadians across the line.

While we owe a great deal to the United States, financially and materially, there are some American imports we could very well do without. Mr. Armour did not refer to these in general. He commended the American people for their historic struggle for national independence and personal liberty, but he added: "We Canadians seem to have discerned some disposition on your part to forget, or at least ignore, some of the bases upon which your greatness rests. Your attitude toward us has continued to be an example to the world. Yet it sometimes seems to us that you have embraced, or are in no small danger of embracing, some pretty deadly fallacies. Amongst these fallacies are (a) that you can get something for nothing, (b) that two wrongs make a right, and (c) that a good end justifies the means."

Americans, said Mr. Armour, had allowed themselves to be persuaded by "glib tongues" into surrendering some part of their personal liberty in return for "economic stability," by adopting the farm price support program. In doing so they overlooked the fact that their stability "would inevitably at some point become someone else's economic chaos," and that their example would be copied by others. The Canadian government has followed suit.

The foregoing are just a few extracts from an address which covered a wide survey of historic and present day relations between the United States and Canada and the world in general. I would like to add the following quotation: "One manifestation of airy irresponsibility is the present disposition of much of the world to set up some form of Welfare State; a State in which government will at all times not only seek to protect the people from the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune, but also from the results of their own folly. This, in abstract social theory, may even be highly desirable. But let it never be forgotten that the basic, if undeclared, objective of the Welfare State must be to slow the pace of life to the gait of the least productive. Thus if you Americans get more fully involved in the Welfare State, then you will not only set the world a bad example, but you will also, I submit, run the risk of being unable to discharge those international obligations upon which the whole fate of western civilization may yet depend."

Centralization Approved at Chateaugay, N.Y. By 3-1 Vote

CHATEAUGAY, N.Y. — Friday, June 23, will be regarded by future citizens of Chateaugay, N.Y., as a red-letter day in the history of the town. Culminating a vigorous campaign carried on by a committee of the proposed central school district, the proposition came up for vote on June 23. The voting booths were set up in the Chateaugay Town Hall with voting time from 1-9 p.m., E.D.S.T. Everyone interested in the proposition was amazed at the number of persons who came to vote. At the tally taken at the close of the voting period, the yeas held 895 ballots, while the nos held 309 ballots, making a total of 1205 ballots cast, one being blank. Thus 1205 voters expressed their opinion on the issue. The proposition placed before the voters was: "Resolved that Central School District No. 1 of the towns of Chateaugay, Burke and Bellmont, Franklin County, and Clinton and Ellenburg, Clinton County, as described in the order of the Commissioner of Education now before this meeting, be organized and a central school for instruction in elementary or elementary and high school subjects be established." Following the confirmation of the favorable vote on Friday last, the Chateaugay Central School District has been established, and the district now has before it the business of making this new educational unit a going concern. Immediately following the tally of votes, about 250 voters being present, the School Board for the new central school district was chosen, with 7 members, representing the various districts included in the central district. The present board members are as follows: Town of Burke, Peter Swanston, one year; Town of Clinton, Ryan Brown, one year; Town of Bellmont, Walter Roach, two years; Town of Chateaugay, Edward McCormick, one year; Town of Chateaugay, Gordon Hill, three years; Village of Chateaugay, Dr. John J. Mahoney, two years; Village of Chateaugay, Elmer Thompson, three years

It is anticipated that the new building to house the main unit of the central school district, will be ready for occupancy by September, 1952. However, by the terms of the central school district plan, any district choosing to keep its local school in operation for the instruction of grades 1-6, may do so. Therefore, the organization of the new district, will involve plans for the joint operation of more than one school building.

With the formation of the Chateaugay Central School District, the Union Free School District at Chateaugay ceases to exist after July 1, 1950. This marks the passing also of the Chateaugay High School, whose last graduating class received diplomas on Monday, June 26. Established in 1879, the local school has served its children long and faithfully, and its graduates have found worthy regard in many walks of life. With the passing of years, the old building became antiquated and it was with difficulty that the faculty was able to carry on the many educational activities now considered a necessary part of the educational process. With the post-war increase in enrollment in primary grades, the youngsters in these grades were crowded into classrooms not suitable for the work, and health and education were both inadequately served. Now, however, with the concerted approval of voters this area has set in motion a movement that promises for all the children an education suited to their needs.

When in full operation, the new central school will offer basic instruction in all branches of a formal education plus instruction in vocational work; the services of a guidance counsellor, school nurse, dental hygienist, art supervisor, physical education director; library facilities for all the children, school lunches, adequate transportation, music instruction for all the children; in brief, such educational services as will allow the children of this rural area an education comparable to that now available to children in urban areas.

When the new central school building has been completed, parents will be assured of a safe playground program for their children, where organized physical training will be carried on. The auditorium will provide suitable space for the presentation of school programs, notably the assembly programs which are planned and prepared by the pupils themselves. During the hours when school is not in session, such an auditorium will be available for community programs, and adult education can be offered in classrooms, shop, etc. If the facilities prove popular, the new central school should be a means of uniting the families of the area into a closely knit community, with various activities offering recreation and education to everyone.

In addition to the 22 members of the centralization committee, other volunteer workers assisted in canvassing the voters, securing transportation for the voters on June 23, acted as checkers and clerks at the polling place, etc. Mr. Paul Benedict, representing the New York State Education Department, was in Chateaugay to advise the committee on the various procedures necessary for the carrying out of the legal steps. County Judge Ellsworth, N. Lawrence presided at the meeting of the voters of the central school district immediately following the closing of the voting period. He presided at the tallying of the votes and at the election of the new school board. It was agreed unanimously that he conducted all steps in a calm, impartial manner and with adequate opportunity for anyone present to present his views or opinions. The first meeting of the new central school district was carried out in a manner which augurs well for the future success of the Chateaugay Central School District.

The pictures used in this article were taken by students in the Photography class at the Chateaugay High School. These and similar extra-curricular activities enable the boys and girls to express themselves by using their special skills and hobbies.

The little girl in the above picture is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Dwyer, Chateaugay. She will have an opportunity to try out her culinary skill in the home-making classes at the new central school.

THIRTY-TWO PUPILS GRADUATE FROM CHATEAUGAY HIGH SCHOOL

The Class of 1950, whose Commencement Exercises were held at the Chateaugay Town Hall on Monday, June 26, has two unique marks to set it apart from other classes. It stands at the mid-point of the 20th century, and it is the last class to graduate from Chateaugay High School. With the opening of the fall term in September 1950, pupils will be attending the Chateaugay Central School.

These two marks, for which the ity, are not to be compared, however, with the mark which distinguishes this class as worthy of attention. Unlike many previous classes, the 32 pupils to go forth class has no immediate responsibilithis year, seem to have a very definite idea of where they are heading, judging by the number who have already made plans for future careers. Already two of them hold scholarships to be used in paying their college expenses. Miss Julia Murray, who plans to enter Plattsburg State Teachers College in September, to prepare for teaching in the elementary grades, was awarded the annual scholarship given each year by the College Club, an affiliate of the American Association of College Women. This allows $200.00 for one year. Miss Patricia Martin was awarded a scholarship given annually on the basis of a competitive examination. The scholarship is given by the University of the State of New York, and carries a cash award of $350.00 for each of the four college years. Miss Martin has decided to seek a degree in Nursing and will enter Plattsburg State Teachers' College in September. These are only two of the graduates who already have definite plans to begin their life work.

Principal Maynard Pilling Presided at Baccalaureate and Commencement Day Programs

Baccalaureate exercises were held at the Chateaugay Town Hall, on Sunday, June 25 at 2.30 p.m. Rev. John Wiley offered the Invocation, Rev. Vernon C. Nichols gave the Scripture reading and prayer, Rev. Edgar Gallagher pronounced the Benediction. Rev. Benjamin Ashton delivered the Baccalaureate Address. Music for the program was presented by the High School Orchestra and the A Capella Choir, with the following numbers: Onward Christian Soldiers; Pomp and Circumstance; Ave Verum Corpus, Were You There?

In his address, Rev. Ashton took as his theme, "Noblesse Oblige". He urged his listeners to walk nobly, to live nobly, thereby justifying the faith in them which had been shown by their parents, their teachers, and the members of the community. He reminded them that life would offer them many tempting proposals and that they must be sure of themselves if they were to attain real success. He reminded them that they must be ever aware of the responsibility that would be theirs to preserve the liberty and welfare of themselves, their fellow men and their nation, since in as much as they had received much, much would be expected of them. Thus those who would call themselves noble, must of necessity act nobly.

Commencement exercises were held Monday evening in the Town Hall. This is always a very colorful ceremony. To the strains of the Masons Grand March, the Junior girls in gowns of various hues pass down the aisles carrying the ribbons that mark the line of march of the Seniors who next appear in caps and gowns, of the school colors, maroon and white. The seniors then take their position on the stage. Boy Scouts form a color guard to the left of the stage and a Salute to the Flag is given, followed by the stirring music and words of America, played by the orchestra and sung by all.

Miss Julia Murray delivered the Salutatory Address. Richard Wilson, who is a fine pianist, gave a piano solo, Waltz in C Sharp Minor, by Chopin. The High School Orchestra presented two numbers, Danube Waves, by Ivanovici, and a Medley of Stephen Foster melodies. The Valedictory Address was given by Miss Phyllis Newton. She spoke with much feeling of the affection felt by graduates for the Alma Mater, "dear old high school", and of the fact that the school they knew would soon be no more. She expressed for herself and for the Class of 1950 the pleasure they felt in the fact that a new and even better school would be available for the young people who would follow them. Though the class of 1950 would not benefit directly, some might not even live their lives in Chateaugay, yet as a class, their thought was, "We live for the future", and so rejoice at the continuation and expansion of the educational benefits which they themselves had received.

The High School Mixed Chorus presented Gounod's Sanctus. This solemn and moving vocal number carried on and dramatized the spirit which set the theme for the entire 1950 Commencement, namely: reverence for and dependence on the Glory of God. Dr. John J. Mahoney, president of the Board of Education, presented the diplomas and also several awards, earned by students during their four years in high school. These awards included merits earned in: science, business, music, assembly programs, consistent high scholarship, and the L. C. Balfour Award. This latter one is given to the student who is chosen by the faculty as being outstanding in the class, for qualities of: leadership, high scholastic standing, and school loyalty. This year's winner was Clarence Patnode.

Mr. Ralph G. Risher, Director of Admissions at Champlain College, delivered the Commencement Address. In a forceful manner he set forth what he called the various steps in each student's progress toward a worthwhile maturity. He said that it was his belief that we are each and all, "Our brother's keeper", with a distinct obligation to set the right standards, first by a happy, wholesome home life. He decried intolerance, isolationism, and all the other selfish isms that lead man on for personal aggrandizement at the expense of his fellow man. As a theme and rallying cry, he called on all of the youth of today to return to the faith of the, "Founding Fathers", who risked all for the founding of our great democracy, and whose tenets were: forthrightness, solidarity of purpose, high goals. As he reminded his listeners, we cannot tolerate, "half-rate citizens", since we today have the role of world leadership and by our success in this difficult task, the happiness and security of helpless nations will rise or fall.

And so, another class passed out from the sheltering walls of Chateaugay High School and to the familiar words of the Farewell Song, the Class of 1950 was no more. "Dear old high school, farewell to you, 1950 bids you adieu". Each year these words have a poignant appeal but since this is a period of change, world-wide, nation-wide and here, town-wide, the words seemed to have special meaning and many a one had tear-filled eyes as the music drew to a close.

Soon, however, the graduates stepped down to receive the congratulations of their families and friends, and then hurried off to doff caps and gowns and get ready for the Senior Ball. With light hearts and flying feet, they made merry to the music of Clair Taro's Orchestra. As usual, the ball was well attended and the young people, together with their friends, closed the 1950 Commencement in a blaze of color and rhythm.

MONTREAL — Weddings — showers — birthdays . . . all red letter days are "right" days for cake decorated to suit the occasion. But make sure it's the best cake ever — by using the finest ingredients! Ingredients such as SWANS DOWN CAKE FLOUR, the cake flour that's sifted over and over again until it's 27 times as fine as ordinary flour. Not party cakes alone — but all cakes — are better made with Swans Down. Don't just take my word for it that Swans Down is a wonder-worker (though I've proved it to myself over and over again!). TRY Swans Down — the very next "gala occasion" cake you bake!

Serve It Hot — or serve it icy-cold . . . this coffee is always delicious! For RED ROSE COFFEE is quality coffee! You can count on its good taste whenever you feel like a cup of really good coffee! When guests drop in — when your bridge club meets at your house — or when you're buying coffee for your church social . . . do make sure it's Red Rose Coffee! But don't serve it only on special occasions — your family will like Red Rose Coffee, too! And you'll find that the same Red Rose quality makes Red Rose Tea tops in taste, too! That's why Red Rose is a top-of-the-shopping list buyword in so many thousands of Canadian homes!

Matched Equipment In The Kitchen is one of the things which, in my opinion, make modern kitchens not only more attractive, but also more work-saving and time-saving. That's why I like that catchy slogan the Frigidaire people thought up for the FRIGIDAIRE REFRIGERATOR and FRIGIDAIRE ELECTRIC RANGE: "Your matching pair — both Frigidaire!" In just five words it tells you what you really want to know about these two appliances . . . that they "go together" beautifully in your kitchen . . . and that they both give you the convenience, the economy and the dependability that has been identified with the Frigidaire name for a quarter century. Go see them at your Frigidaire Dealer's. Remember, only General Motors makes Frigidaire products.

You Have DOUBLE Assurance of complete baking success when you bake the "no-failure" Calumet way! Yes, CALUMET BAKING POWDER assures you muffins and biscuits, cakes and batter puddings that are always light, tender and perfectly delicious! It's the double action of Calumet that does the trick! In the mixing bowl, thousands of tiny bubbles are formed to prepare the mixture for baking. The second action takes place in the oven, when thousands of new little bubbles continue raising the mixture to feathery-light, tender perfection! It's just a "little" thing — this two-way action . . . but so very important, I find, for all my baking!

Here's The Quickest, surest way I know to make tender, beautifully set jams and jellies . . . use CERTO Fruit Pectin! For Certo is the natural substance in fruit that makes jams "jam" and jellies "jell" — extracted, concentrated and conveniently bottled. Certo recipes use fruits at their choicest — fully-ripe, full-flavoured — and retain the precious flavour and tempting colour you lose by the "long-boil" method! (Certo recipes cut the boiling time to just 1 minute for both jams and jellies, and make up to 50% more jam or jelly from the same amount of fruit.) Yes, you can make thrifty use of this summer's fruits with Certo . . . and end all the guesswork by following exactly the recipes under the label of each Certo bottle!

Specially Designed For Your Meal-Getting Convenience . . . that's the new DURHAM CORN STARCH package. It's so easy to open and close! All you do: Just break the seal and inside you'll find Durham Corn Starch neatly protected in a paper bag. No fussing 'n' fuming with a knife or other sharp instrument to open the package. Then, when you've finished using as much "Durham" as you need at the time, replace the top. It fits snugly — keeps out every last particle of dust and prevents any starch from spilling out. You'll be delighted, as I was, with this handy-to-handle package. And you'll be thrilled with the marvelous Ann Adam recipes on the package! Try the Ann Adam Lemon Pie soon! . . . so good and so economical, too!

When You Send The Youngsters off to market for you . . . there's one shopping-list item I'm sure they won't forget! Delicious, "nutty" HEINZ PEANUT BUTTER! Yes, Heinz Peanut Butter is a "masterpiece"! It's "chuck-full" of delicious peanut flavour right down to the last luscious spoonful. So keep a supply always on hand for all those peanut-butter-lovers in your family! Heinz Peanut Butter is always in demand! . . . for luncheon sandwiches — for parties and picnics — and for "good-night" snacks!

No Matter How Carefully you "locked up" before leaving on your vacation — you can't be sure burglars won't pry their way into your home. But you can be sure of the safety of your valuables when they're in a Safety Deposit Box in the BANK OF MONTREAL! Costs you only a cent or two a day and assures you of safety for all your important papers, jewels and keepsakes. That's why I urge you to rent a Safety Deposit Box at your B of M branch as soon as possible. It will be a happier holiday if you know your valuables are safe in the vaults of the B of M.

SPROULE-BILTON — At Huntingdon, Que., on June 24, 1950, Joyce Olive, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bilton of Montreal, to John Edmund Sproule, only son of Mr. George Sproule and the late Mrs. Sproule of Franklin Centre, Que.

YOUNG-GOLDIE — In Rockburn Presbyterian Church, on June 24, 1950, Dorothy Marion Goldie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Goldie and John Young, of Kylmar, Que., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Young. Rev. J. W. Williams officiating.

Wedding

YOUNG-GOLDIE

The marriage of Miss Dorothy Goldie and Mr. John Young took place on Saturday afternoon in the Rockburn Church, Rev. J. W. Williams officiating. The Church was beautifully decorated with peonies and ferns. Miss Mary Bennet of Harrington Que., was the organist.

The bride who was given away by her father, Mr. G. A. Goldie, looked charming in white lace and chiffon, with halo and three quarter length veil of net and carried a bouquet of red roses. The maid-of-honor, Miss Bernice Goldie, was dressed in powder blue taffeta, and the brides-maids, Mrs. E. Fox and Miss Lily Barr, were attired in yellow and light green taffeta, all wearing short veils and carrying colonial bouquets of sweet-peas. Mr. Daniel McCrae of Kylmar was best man and Messrs Norris Lindsay and Ernest Fox were ushers.

Following the ceremony, supper was served on the lawn at Mr. Goldie's home. Rev. J. W. Williams proposed the Toast to the bride and groom. Mr. D. McCrae the toast to the bridesmaids, and Mr. Norris Lindsay to the mothers of the bride and groom. Mrs. Young was attired in light grey and Mrs. Goldie in light blue.

The happy couple left for a holiday in Welland, Ont. The bride dressed in pink crepe with white accessories, and blue coat. They will make their home in Kylmar, Que.

The house was decorated in pink and white, and the gifts were many, pretty and useful. Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Young, Sr., and Messrs L. and J. Young and their wives, Miss Bennet of Harrington, Mr. and Mrs. H. Percy of Montreal and Mr. and Mrs. Brown of Cornwall.

The Gore

Mr. and Mrs. Willie McCartney, Mr. and Mrs. Ord Taylor attended the Farm Forum Rally at Macdonald College on Saturday and were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herbie Pringle at Beaconsfield, Que. All report a very enjoyable day.

day in Montreal and on returning home she was accompanied by Beverly Ford, who has been a patient in the Children's Memorial Hospital for almost five weeks. We all wish Beverly better health.

Owing to the illness of Rev. E. Davis the services in the Gore United Church have been conducted by Rev. C. L. Taylor of Ormstown the past two Sundays. Rev. C. L. Taylor will occupy the pulpit until further notice.

We are glad to note that Mrs. Albert Travissee is well enough to be removed to Riverside Convalescent Home and is gradually improving.

Rockburn

Mr. Ronald Williams suffered painful injuries Tuesday morning while operating the mowing machine in the orchard beside his home. No one witnessed the accident, and Mr. Williams was in too dazed a condition to recall what happened, but apparently he was kicked in the forehead by one of the horses and thrown against the knives or some other sharp instrument and received a nasty cut in the back of his head, and slight concussion. His jaw bone also sustained some injury. He was taken at once to Ormstown Hospital where he is under observation. All are grateful that latest reports say his mind is clearing and he might soon be able to recall what happened to him.

Cards of Thanks

I wish to thank Dr. Stalker and his staff of the Barrie Memorial Hospital, Ormstown, Quebec for their kindness to me; also to everyone for their cards, gifts, fruit and flowers.
Mrs. Carman C. Stark.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to relatives and friends for expressions of sympathy during the illness and loss of our baby.

Grateful thanks to the Sacred Heart of Jesus for granting a favor with promise to publish.

Diplomacy Takes Wings of a Dove

THE V SIGN of Britain's wartime leader Winston Churchill recently made another appearance in Washington, D.C. It was given by a countryman of his, young Peter Hadfield, son of a member of the British Embassy, from the cockpit of a de Havilland Dove. The eight-seater British aircraft had just arrived from England for use of the embassy's diplomats and staff when speed is necessary.

or both Judge Lawrence and Mrs. Lawrence, who are loyal supporters of all civic enterprises. Justice E. C. Lawrence and Mrs. Lawrence, Dr. R. J. Perkins and Mrs. Perkins, Judge C. J. Carey, Galneau Pond and Francis Lawler were present from Malone. Assemblyman W. L. Doige and Mrs. Doige, Rev. Vernon C. Nichols and Mrs. Nichols, Rev. Benjamin A. Ashton and Mrs. Ashton, Rev. Edgar A. Gallagher and Rev. John Wiley were among those present from Chateaugay.

A delicious turkey dinner was served under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Rose, owners of Camp Chateaugay. This camp offered a charming setting for the event. The camp is located on the Narrows between the Upper and Lower Lakes and the beauty of the Adirondack area is here well exemplified. The natural beauty is further enhanced by the camp architecture and appointments and all added to the enjoyment of the occasion. As the evening was cool, guests gathered around the fireplaces for conversation before the dinner was served. In the dining room each table was set for six with twelve seated at the speaker's table. Pine boughs and flowers were used to decorate the rooms. Rev. Edgar A. Gallagher of St. Patrick's Church invoked the blessing before meals and the Rev. Benjamin Ashton of the Presbyterian Church gave the Benediction. Following the dinner, three counselors at Camp Chateaugay, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cantor, and Cy Rosenthal, presented several folk songs with guitar accompaniment. Mrs. Smith Hammond and Mrs. William Doige led in group singing.

Robert Oliver, chairman of the dinner committee, introduced the toastmaster, Hon. William L. Doige, Assemblyman for Franklin County. Mr. Doige has had a long acquaintance with the Lawrence family, both Judge Lawrence and his father, Justice E. C. Lawrence, having been associated with Mr. Doige during the latter's political career as Assemblyman and former Supervisor for the Town of Chateaugay. Mr. Doige gave a resume of Judge Lawrence's life. Judge Ellsworth N. Lawrence was born in Malone, but has for 17 years made his home in Chateaugay following his purchase of the law practice of the late Thomas Fitzpatrick. He enlisted in the U.S. Navy at the outbreak of World War 2, and when discharged from the armed services he held the rank of Lt. Commander. Following his graduation from Middlebury College where his honor rating earned him a Phi Beta Kappa key, he was an outstanding graduate of Harvard Law School. His political success and legal ability secured him the position of District Attorney and his present office of County Judge for Franklin County. Mr. Doige, as a fellow resident of Chateaugay, expressed the warm regard felt for Judge Lawrence and his family by the people of Chateaugay and predicted a long and successful career for him. He then introduced the main speaker, Judge Cornelius J. Carey.

Judge Carey, former County Judge, gave tribute to the fine work already done by Judge Lawrence as a member of the legal profession, as District Attorney, and as County Judge. He said that he and his fellow members of the bar of the Fourth Judicial District would feel that their faith in Judge Lawrence would be justified if he attained the success in his profession already held by his father, Justice E. C. Lawrence. The latter was also at one time County Judge, later a member of the Supreme Court of New York State, and since retirement serves as Referee for the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court. Judge Carey dwelt at some length on the importance of our court system, upholding as it does the rights of the individual and the law as set forth in our national and state constitutions. He also expressed his belief that our present times are crucial ones, requiring the very best legal talent to see that our hard-won liberties are preserved. He said that the laws are the expression in legal terms of the Divine Law, coming to us from above, and only as they so fulfilled this Law could they secure the blessings of Liberty for each and every citizen. He closed by stating that he was convinced that "Buck" would carry out his duties in a fair, impartial and true manner, that would reflect honor on himself, his family, his county, the state, and the nation.

Justice Ellsworth C. Lawrence next spoke briefly, thanking those present for the fine tribute paid to his son, and publicly expressing his appreciation for the courtesy and friendliness shown to "Buck" and "Marge" during their years of residence in Chateaugay. As the dinner date coincided with the 45th anniversary of the wedding day of Justice and Mrs. E. C. Lawrence, Mrs. Lawrence joined her husband in acknowledging the best wishes of all present for many more years of happy life together.

On behalf of "Buck's" many friends, Charles Nolan then presented him with the gift of a fishing line, rod, and reel. Mr. Nolan then in a humorous vein recalled his long association with "Buck" as a fellow townsman and sportsman, relating incidents of their exploits in the line of sport.

In acknowledging his appreciation of the friendship and good wishes so warmly expressed, Judge Lawrence spoke with much feeling of his attachment for Chateaugay. He said that Chateaugay had been his home for as long as he lived. He spoke particularly of the friendly reception given to him and his wife and to the spirit of brotherhood so prevalent in the community. He also pointed out that Chateaugay was noteworthy for the manner in which its citizens rallied to the support of enterprises planned for the public good. He closed by saying that the testimonial dinner was an expression of friendship such as, "all a man and his family can hope for", and that he could not enough express his thanks for the honor accorded him.

The committee which planned the dinner included: Robert Oliver, Frank Foran, Walter Roach, Spencer Banta, Maurice Lambert, Chas. Nolan, William Dupree, William Tacy, Aaron Rose, Robert Franklin, Dr. J. D. Sweet and Assemblyman W. L. Doige.

BISHOP McENTEGERT HONORS KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

Sunday, June 25, The Most Reverend Bryan J. McEntegert, Bishop of Ogdensburg, came to St. Patrick's Church, Chateaugay, as guest of the Knights of Columbus, Wadham's Council. He celebrated the 8 o'clock Mass at which the Knights received Communion in a body. Breakfast was served in St. Patrick's Church Hall by members of the Catholic Daughters of America, Court St. Helen. About 90 were present.

At the breakfast, Dr. John J. Mahoney was toastmaster. Others at the head table included: Father Edgar Gallagher, Father William Argy, secretary to Bishop McEntegert, and Grand Knights of the Councils at Malone, Rouses Point and Chateaugay, namely, Grand Knights Thomas, Favreau and McArdle. At the breakfast these officers on behalf of their members presented Bishop McEntegert with purses, which sums were to be gifts for use at Wadham's Hall, the diocesan seminary at Ogdensburg.

Bishop McEntegert called upon the Knights to be leaders of a lay apostolate to combat the growing trend toward secularism. He said that goals that were good and true must be the aims of every worthy Knight of Columbus. He urged that the unchanging, Christ-given truth must be actively propagated not passively received, and that the false dogmas of today must be eradicated. He bitterly denounced the theories that "what works is right", and "morality varies with the times". He advocated study clubs, discussion groups and speakers' bureaus to keep before the laity the important issues of the day.

Sixtieth Wedding Anniversary

MR. AND MRS. JOHN JACKSON

Around eighty relatives, friends and neighbours of Mr. and Mrs. John Jackson, Sr., gathered at their home on Thursday evening, June 15th, to celebrate the sixtieth anniversary of their marriage, which took place at the home of the bride at Corbin, Que., on June 11, 1890.

The sixty years have been spent on the farm where they now reside on the Covey Hill road in the township of Havelock.

There are eight living children, four sons and four daughters, thirty-two grandchildren and fifteen great grandchildren. A most enjoyable evening was spent in dancing to music furnished by local talent.

Refreshments consisting of sandwichs and cake with coffee was served at midnight, and a beautifully decorated four-tier brides cake made by Mrs. Kenneth Sutton was passed around to the guests, after which the bride and groom were called forward and presented with two satin bound wool blankets and an envelope containing money. An address was read by Mr. Harold Stevenson to which both bride and groom responded, then the usual "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows" was sung. A pretty chenille bedspread a gift of a grand-daughter, Mrs. Doreen Williams, was given the happy couple, and a large armful of beautiful flowers sent by Mrs. Oscar Trainer. Dancing continued until the wee hours of morning, the departing guests wishing the bride and groom many more happy years together.

TOM GARD'S NOTE BOOK

"And what is so rare as a day in June?" rings through my mind on these first beautiful days of summer. "Then, if ever, come perfect days" has been true again this year. I don't suppose those lines will ever go from my memory, impressed there by being written out twenty times back in my public school days!

Rustic Table

I was finally bullied into leaving my garden long enough to take the family on a picnic yesterday. We journeyed to a secluded spot not far from the city and had a thoroughly enjoyable time. The highlight of the day for me was finding a rustic picnic table I could copy. I have been wanting to build one in front of the barbecue I finished early this month. If my first table turns out successfully I'll be making one for the cottage.

Garden Ornaments

The indiscriminate use of garden ornaments always bothers me. One house we passed on our way home from the picnic brought this whole subject back to my mind. The yard was so cluttered up with wooden ducks, dogs, girls with bright parasols and statues it looked more like a graveyard than a garden. Properly chosen and placed, ornaments do add to the beauty of the surroundings; especially if they are out of the ordinary—a carboy, sundial or painted butterfly.

No garden is complete without suitable pathways to carry the traffic. The type of material used in construction can be as varied as the shapes the path can be given. The subject is important enough to require lengthy treatment but a few ideas are given here.

The Abused Tin Can

Next week I must brush up on my tin-can craft as today's mail brought a request to help with handicraft at a summer camp for boys. No hobby is easier to master nor the equipment required more easily found. One or two suggestions are offered but you will find more in the booklet "Around The Home" now ready for distribution.

More information on these and other ideas in the booklet "AROUND THE HOME". Write for your copy to Tom Gard, c/o MOLSON'S BREWERY LIMITED, Post Office Box No. 1600, Place d'Armes, Montreal, Quebec.

Athelstan Softball Team Leading in Border League

ATHELSTAN—The local softball team journeyed to Burke, N.Y., to play their regular scheduled game with Holy Name, in the Border Softball League, the game was won by Athelstan by a score of 29 to 2.

This type of game from a spectator's point of view is most uninteresting, everything going one way, nothing the other. For Holy Name it was three men up and three men down, and for Athelstan a grouping of hits, stolen bases, piled up a score in the early innings to take the heart out of the Holy Name boys, who decided that 6 innings were sufficient. After the game they announced, their intention, that due to being unable to further strengthen their team, they were withdrawing from the League. We can understand how they feel in this respect, nevertheless their decision is regretted, they are fine fellows, and good sports. Perhaps they will be with us in another year. Let's hope so.

Their place has been taken by another team from Burke. This is fortunate for the League can still carry on. The new team will pick up where the others left off, taking their standing in the league in games won or lost.

On Friday evening Franklin Centre paid a visit to the local diamond and played an exhibition game with the local team. The game was won by the local boys 20 to 8. This game was more interesting than the score would indicate. The locals were leading 8-0 at the end of the 4th; in the 5th Franklin Centre went on a batting spree, coupled with local errors and they tied up the game 8-8; the local boys then got one in the 5th, and put the game on ice with 11 in the 6th. The game was then called on account of darkness.

Galipeau who pitched for the locals, has given the team the strength it needed, and he will win games for them, provided they give him in return the necessary support.

The Southern Division of the Woman's Missionary Society met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Anders, for its June meeting, with a good attendance present. The meeting opened with the usual worship service. The special program theme entitled "Over to Korea" was most capably presented by five of the members. The current Mission activities in Korea, showed the needs of its people, the work and the plans and the hopes of its Christian leaders and of our own missionaries there. This playlet, strange to say, had its setting in the Canadian Mission located in Seoul, Korea, from where this past week-end such disturbing news has come to us by radio and through the Press. The doctor, nurses and teacher, whose characters were impersonated, at this recent meeting, will be much in the thoughts of the United Church W.M.S. members everywhere during these trying, troublesome days. THE WEEK AT OTTAWA

by the Canadian Press

OTTAWA, -(CP)- The problems and rights of Canada's 136,000 Indians who live on reserves across the country shared the limelight in Ottawa last week with the west's wheat farmers and a determined group of fast-talking Maritimers.

The delegations from the prairies and the seaside area returned to their homes carrying government promises to study their respective proposals for higher final wheat payments and for construction of the long-sought Chignecto Canal. The Indians, given full backing by opposition benches hung on to watch a red-faced government do an about-face and yield to their wishes.

Cause of the government's embarrassment was Citizenship Minister Harris' bill to amend the Indian Act.

Heralded by the government as a new deal for Canada's Indians, the legislation ran into a storm of opposition criticism extending over several days and taking up almost six hours of debate in one day's sitting alone.

Second-Class Citizenship

Many Indians, delegates to a convention of the North American Indian Brotherhood, looked down from the galleries as the debate unfolded. Some were dressed in native costumes.

They nodded solemn approval as opposition members, with an odd assist from the government side of the House, roundly criticized the legislation as not going far enough along the road to citizenship and urging that it be withheld until the Indians themselves had had a chance to study it.

The Brotherhood convention joined the attack by sending a special delegation to see Mr. Harris and ask for postponement of the bill.

John Diefenbaker (PC--Lake Centre) said the bill would make the Indian a "second-class citizen" by denying him recourse to the courts without the permission of the minister.

About Face

John Blackmore (SC--Lethbridge) termed the bill "entirely negative" and said it apparently was designed to govern "an inferior and subordinate race and to keep them inferior and subordinate."

On Wednesday the government beat down an opposition attempt to give the bill a six-month "hoist" - parliamentary device for killing unwanted legislation.

The next day Mr. Harris, amid loud desk-thumping from all sides of the Commons, said the bill was being withdrawn until next session to give more time for its study by the Indians themselves.

He said the bill, providing for the drawing up of an Indian register for registration of all of predominant Indian blood, would be introducted again next year. The legislation also was aimed at clarification procedures regarding management, surrender and leasing or reserves and a uniform system of electing chiefs and councillors. Indian councils would have been given more power of internal government.

The Big Ditch

Ever since Confederation, Maritime residents have talked of carving a seaway across the 18-mile wide Chignecto isthmus near the Nova Scotia-New Brunswick boundary.

The canal linking the Gulf of St. Lawrence and the Bay of Fundy, say Maritimers, was a pre-Confederation promise that helped induce Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island to become part of the Dominion.

In Ottawa last week the Maritimers were doing their best to get the old promise fulfilled.

A 60-man delegation made up of fishermen, farmers, businessmen, and civic officials--largest to invade Ottawa in 25 years--took the capital by storm. They threw a cocktail party for cabinet ministers and other members of parliament--to soften them up--then invaded Parliament Hill itself to present a brief to Prime Minister St. Laurent.

Revitalize Economy

The brief, besides arguing the pre-Confederation promise side of the case, said the canal would revitalize the economy of the seaboard area and benefit Canadian transportation generally by chopping some 500 miles off the distance shipping now must travel around the eastern coastline.

Tentative estimates are that the big ditch would cost $100,000,000 if built on the scale considered by a 1981 Royal Commission--considerably more if built to meet present and future conditions.

Wheat Troubles

From the west came representatives of the prairies' 50,000-odd wheat farmers with a proposal that could mean a $200,000,000 headache for the federal treasury.

Headed by J. L. Phelps of Regina and big Carl Stimpfle of Edmonton, presidents of the Farmers' Unions of Saskatchewan and Alberta, respectively, the western delegation asked the government for a 25-cents-a-bushel final payment to farmers under the five-year wheat-board pool.

Available for distribution in the pool is, about 50,000,000 bushels which would allow a payment of five cents a bushel for the approximate 1,000,000,000 bushels the farmers delivered to the pool during the five years of its operation. The delegation asked Trade Minister Howe and Agriculture Minister Gardiner to have the government add another 20 cents a bushel.

This would bring up the price the farmers received under the pool from $1.75 to $2.00 a bushel--the price Canada obtained for the last two years of the four-year Anglo-Canadian wheat agreement. To do it, the government would have to dip into the treasury to find another $200,000,000.

To back their claims, the wheat farmers said they were the only major group in Canada who, since the beginning of the Second World War, had not received "a direct subsidy from the federal treasury."

They emphasized, however, that they were not asking for subsidies but only for "a just settlement in line with the terms of our contract."
