CANADA'S SCENIC BEAUTIES CALL CONFERENCE DELEGATIONS TODAY

Some Conception of Magnitude of Canadian Enterprise Will Be Conveyed to Visitors When They Attend the Official Opening of the New Welland Canal This Afternoon—Conference Now Wrestling With Plain Facts, and Circumstances Point to Definite Results in Course of Next Week.

Ottawa, August 6.—Canada's scenic beauties are being exhibited to Imperial Conference delegates, while at the same time some conception of the magnitude of Canadian enterprise will be conveyed to them when they attend the official opening of the new Welland Canal today. The Prime Minister, the Minister of Railways, Hon. J. R. Manion, and a large number of delegates are taking in the week-end trip to central and western Ontario. The relaxation comes on the heels of a hard week, for meetings of the various national groups have continued morning, afternoon and night.

Definitely, the conferees are now wrestling with plain facts. Practically all of the delegations have submitted to the United Kingdom—principal purchasing country—their lists of goods upon which Great Britain is being asked to extend preferences. Similarly, with those lists have been forwarded others, the productions or manufactures of the United Kingdom, which the Dominions would place in their preferred schedules. What the Dominions have achieved in their proposed relationships with Great Britain, they are also attempting to achieve among themselves.

For example, some modifications of the Australian and New Zealand trade treaties with Canada will probably be brought about. Also Canada is at present negotiating with South Africa, while "contacts" with the Irish Free State are continuing.

How long these conversations will take before the proposals and counter-proposals have finally been sifted down to something acceptable to all concerned is not known. Circumstances, however, point to definite results issuing from the Conference in the course of next week.

UNITED STATES TOURISTS STILL VISITING CANADA

Despite Decline of Fifteen Per Cent. in General Traffic, Visitors to Canada Only Drop Seven Per Cent.

Washington, D. C., August 6.—Pointing out that millions of car owners are taking advantage of low travel costs, including reduced hotel rates, the American Automobile Association declared that vacation motor travel is holding up exceptionally well and is off only about fifteen per cent. as compared with a year ago.

Basing its statement on reports from A.A.A. motor clubs at key points in areas of heavy summer travel, as well as figures from a variety of other official and private sources, the A.A.A. said that the outlook is favorable for a 1932 travel bill in excess of $2,000,000,000. "While a decline was to be expected," said Thos. P. Henry of Detroit, Mich., president of the national motoring body, "it is not as great as the drop in the levels of business generally. Considering that there has been a downturn of more than twenty per cent. in virtually all lines of business, there is room for optimism over the fact that our people still have the time and money for recreation.

EXPLOSION OF BOILER KILLED THREE

Locomotive Was a Twisted, Torn Mass of Iron and Steel After Cloud of Steam Had Cleared Away.

Levis, Que., Aug. 6.—Engineers and safety experts of Canadian National Railways went to St. Malachie today to investigate the explosion of a locomotive boiler there yesterday when three lives were lost.

Phidime Rouleau, a brakeman, whose home was in Riviere du Loup, was instantly killed when the boiler of the locomotive drawing a freight train suddenly exploded just outside St. Malachie station. Arcadius Tabot, of St. David, engineer, and Joseph Dubois, of Charny, his fireman, were sent hurtling through the air by the force of the explosion and died of scalds and burns some hours later. The ear-shattering explosion sent twelve freight cars toppling from the rails. The locomotive was a twisted, torn mass of iron and steel after the cloud of steam had cleared away. Parts of the locomotive were tossed hundreds of feet. The engine crew were picked up a few yards away and rushed to hospitals, where they succumbed to their injuries.

DAIL APPROVES LARGE VOTE TO AID COMMERCE

Eight Million Dollars Voted After Bitter Debate, During Which Fears of Revolution Were Presented.

Dublin, August 6.—After a bitter debate, during which opposition members declared that the Free State is heading fast for revolution, accompanied by bloodshed and violence, the Dail last night by a vote of 58 to 42 approved President de Valera's bill calling for $8,000,000 to aid industry and commerce dislocated by the economic war between Great Britain and the Free State.

President de Valera rejected a suggestion advanced by Sir Thomas Inskip, the British Attorney-General, in a speech at Stranraer, Scotland, yesterday, that the door still stands open for arbitration of the land anomalies dispute by an Imperial tribunal. "I should prefer independence," said Mr. de Valera, "to a partnership in which I have no advantages but I have also many disadvantages."

It was perfectly possible, he asserted, to indicate how the $8,000,000 would be spent, and even if it were possible it would be inadvisable. For the time being he admitted there was little prospect of establishing alternative markets for the goods of the Free State, but it was worth while making tremendous efforts to do so.

Hon. J. Fitzgerald-Kennedy, formerly Minister of Justice in the regime of Hon. William T. Cosgrave, made a bitter attack on the Government's policy, predicting civil war as its inevitable result. "The country is heading fast for revolution accompanied by bloodshed and violence," he declared.

The Free State is being side-tracked at Ottawa while other Dominions are trying their utmost to capture the British market for their meat, bacon and butter, said Hon. Patrick McGilligan, another member of the late Government.

The Labor leader in the Dail, William Norton, also rose to join in the attack on the Government, charging Mr. de Valera with lack of a decisive policy in dealing with the emergency. Hitherto Labor members have co-operated in keeping Mr. de Valera's party, the Fianna Fail, in power.

RUSSIA NOT TO RESTRICT TRADE WITH CANADA

Moscow, Russia, Aug. 6.—The Soviet Government today authorized an official denial of a report that Russia would intensify restrictions on trade with Canada.

It was reported yesterday at Riga that the Council of People's Commissars, high executive body, had decided to intensify the Russian embargo of Canada trade by strictly boycotting all goods made in Canada and by refraining from employing Canadian steamers.

Such a decision, said the report, would require the approval of Joseph Stalin, chairman of the Soviet Executive Committee.

BUSINESS IN CANADA SHOWS UPWARD TREND

For First Time in Four Years Retail Sales in Canada Show Increase, While for First Time Since 1919 Wholesale Prices Failed to Indicate Reduction.

Ottawa, Aug. 6.—Business shows signs of brightening up in Canada instead of slowing down in usual mid-summer period of slackness, according to a statement issued last night by the Department of Trade and Commerce.

The statement continues: "A number of important indices of activities are shown in Government reports to have registered increases this summer to date."

"For the first time in four years retail sales in Canada registered an increase in June over May."

"Wholesale prices for the first time since 1929 failed to show a reduction from June to July. Bank debits increased by ten per cent from May to June after seasonal adjustment, as compared with a seasonal decrease of 10.8 per cent and an increase of only 4.5 per cent in the corresponding periods of 1931 and 1930, respectively."

"Shipments of Canadian wheat in the four weeks ended July 29 totalled 14,621,242 bushels as compared with 8,814,089 in the corresponding period last year. Shipments via Canadian ports in the four weeks this year totalled 13,025,242 bushels or 89 per cent of the total while last year only 6,248,089 bushels or 70 per cent passed through Canadian ports."

Imports of crude rubber increased from 3,171,000 pounds in May to 6,849,000 pounds in June, as compared to a decrease from 6,155,000 pounds to 4,731,000 pounds in the corresponding months last year.

"Exports of Canadian planks and boards increased from 62,900,000 feet in June, as compared with an increase from 80,800,000 feet to 86,800,000 feet in the corresponding months last year."

"Exports of Canadian canned salmon increased from 34,300 cases in May to 86,890 cases in June, as compared with a decrease from 59,890 cases to 47,400 cases in the corresponding period last year."

"Exports of Canadian cattle to the British markets this year to the end of July totalled 13,399 head, an increase of 1,750 head over the corresponding period last year."

THE FLYING BRUCE FAMILY IS AGAIN FORCED TO LAND

Second Attempt of the "Flying Bungalow" Came to Naught After Only Fifteen Hours in the Air.

Ventor, Isle of Wight, Aug. 6.—Mrs. Victor Bruce, British woman diver who took off yesterday in an attempt to set a new endurance record in the air, failed again today.

Her plane, the City of Portsmouth, which she called her "flying bungalow," came down on the water near here this morning after being in the air a little more than fifteen hours.

A leak in the main gasoline tank was given as the reason for the abandonment of the flight.

The refuelling planes went up with gasoline, but the fog was so thick they had to fly blind round the aerodrome. They soon came down, unable to locate the ship.

Shortly afterward the City of Portsmouth alighted on the water. Mrs. Bruce and her assistant were brought ashore in lifeboats. She was greatly disappointed, but she said she would take the ship to Cowes for repairs and she hoped to start again tomorrow.

NARROW ESCAPE OF GERMAN PARTY CHIEF IN OUTBREAK OF SABOTAGE

Ernst Eckstein, Socialist Labor Leader, Thrown Out of Bed as Bomb Wrecks Room—Residents in Many Other Parts of Germany Have Narrow Escapes—Activities of Nazis Held Responsible for Series of Outrages.

Berlin, August 6.—Dynamite and hand grenades from the arsenals of political factions gave a new touch today to the violence which swept through Germany for the past six weeks.

In a wave of sabotage, dynamiters damaged buildings in half a dozen places, and several persons narrowly escaped injury from bombs.

At Breslau Ernest Eckstein, head of the Socialist Labor Party, was shaken out of his bed when a bomb was thrown from a speeding automobile through his bedroom window. The room was wrecked, but he was not hurt. He told police he suspected the National Socialists.

A dynamite explosion broke three hundred windows and caused extensive other damage at Brunswick. The charge was planted in a narrow street inhabited by workmen. There were numerous injuries from flying glass, but nobody was seriously hurt.

At Schwerin a building occupied by the Socialist newspaper was damaged by vandals, presumably political opponents. All the windows and glass doors were broken.

A department store in Karstadt was damaged by a bomb. A hand grenade was thrown into the bedroom of the chairman of the Catholic Church Council in Schum. It started a fire which was put out quickly, but the chairman was not hurt. He said he had been threatened in the past by National Socialists.

Another bomb was thrown at Muelheim into a window of the Labor office, damaging the City Hall and breaking glass in nearby buildings.

PESSIMISM AND FEAR MAKING A HASTY RETREAT

Stock, Bond and Commodity Markets Raced This Week to Secure a Place in Van of Returning Prosperity.

Toronto, August 6.—Convinced the depression is ending, that Canada is on the threshold of trade and industrial revival, stock, bond, and commodity markets raced this week to secure a place in the van of returning prosperity.

Fears and pessimism of three years were thrown aside in the rush to buy securities, and in place of the expected reaction after a month or more of rising share prices, the market upset the theory of caution by accelerating the speed of its advance. When the rapid upward pace showed signs of faltering, fresh signs of a constructive character burst upon the financial community and the ascent was resumed, although the market itself was somewhat disconcerted by the spontaneous outbursts of enthusiasm of the investing public.

The advance itself carried the values of some stocks well over one hundred per cent. above their low levels of 1932, and all groups of securities participated. Canadian investors, and more particularly the National Socialists, and told police he had received threats. He declared that Swastika signs, the Nazis' emblem, were painted on his windows.

CANADA'S $130,000,000 WELLAND CANAL OFFICIALLY OPENED TODAY

Ceremony Today Marks Conclusion of Nine Years of Planning, of Engineering Effort and Strenuous Labor—Elaborate Precautions Taken to Guard Canada's Overseas Guests, Who This Morning Were Taken on a Tour to Niagara Falls.

Thorold, Ont., August 6.—Culminating nine years of effort, Canada today opens her $130,000,000 Welland Canal. While distinguished statesmen from the four corners of the farflung British Empire look on, His Excellency the Earl of Bessborough, Governor-General, will move a lever at east lock No. 6. A simple act in itself, it ceremoniously signals the conclusion of years of planning, of engineering effort, of strenuous labor.

The actual opening will be preceded by brief speeches, Right Hon. R. B. Bennett, Prime Minister, who, like many others present, has torn himself away from Imperial discussions at Ottawa to participate, will speak. Hon. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways and Canals, under whom the great enterprise was completed, will give a brief address. It is possible that some of the delegation heads may also say a few words.

Today brought to Niagara Falls another special train carrying from Ottawa many more delegates, advisors and officials of the Imperial Conference. They arrived at about nine o'clock in the morning. With those already here they embarked on an electric train for a visit to Brock's monument and a view of the lower Niagara River. A visit to the Queenstown power house of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission followed and the party was shown how some of the might of Niagara is transformed into light and comfort for thousands of people. From the power house the delegates were brought back to Niagara Falls for lunch, after which they left by special electric trains for the scene of the opening ceremonies near Thorold.

Elaborate precautions were taken to guard Canada's overseas guests. Militia and police were stationed in the locality where the opening ceremonies took place. Secret service men and other police officers in plain clothes were said to be on hand in case of trouble. Threats made against one of the United Kingdom's delegates were taken seriously by the police. The party will leave St. Catharines for Ottawa tonight.

NOTED BELGIAN SCIENTIST MAY START FLIGHT MONDAY

Zurich, Switzerland, Aug. 6.—Professor Auguste Piccard, Belgian scientist, balloonist and conqueror of the stratosphere, planned today to take off on Monday for a second flight into the upper atmosphere.

There was a possibility, however, he said, that the final checking of the delicate scientific instruments he will take with him, as well as the necessity for favorable weather, might delay the start until the latter part of the week.

He hopes to remain in the stratosphere several hours making observations, but he is not after an altitude record this time. He would be quite content, he said, if he reaches a height of 45,000 feet. On his previous adventure he rose more than 50,000 feet.

IT PAYS.

Granville Kieker.

It pays

To do a thoughtful deed, To sow a fruitful seed, To help a friend in need, Yes, it pays!

It pays

To make an early start, To have a gentle heart, To play a noble part, Yes, it pays!

It pays

To cleave to truth and right, To put fear-thought to flight, To keep the goal in sight, Yes, it pays!

It pays

To send a gift worth-while, To live in simple style, To radiate a smile, Yes, it pays!

It pays

To win the love of men, To serve with voice and pen, To try again—again, Yes, it pays!

GENTLE REMINDER OF WHO SET THE EXAMPLE FOR DEBT CANCELLATION.

The rampant Senators at Washington, they who would chastise Canada for preferring its own flag instead of "coming in with us," are usually the men from the Southern States or from the unassimilated foreign-mixed Western States.

Where diplomacy has failed and more strenuous measures have met with repulse, the last fifty decades have met with many financial attacks through higher tariffs, and prohibited trade barriers.

Yet we go blithely on, mending our fences and making our trade channels lateral rather than perpendicular. From East and West, across both oceans we have traded, and now we barter in the South Seas—a nation as big as was the United States a century ago.

But for the good of their souls, and to keep our dear cousins in a more pleasant mood, we in Canada, who owe naught but what we can pay on demand, can recurrently print the list of defalcations, the bonds repudiated by eight of the United States in the years 1842 to 1884.

Compounded, these debts would pay off the British War Loan due the United States, for these were the total millions of that long ago:

Table with 2 columns: State, Amount. Mississippi 7,000,000; Florida 7,900,000; Alabama 4,700,000; North Carolina 12,800,000; South Carolina 6,000,000; Georgia 9,350,000; Louisiana 22,000,000; Arkansas 7,900,000.

$77,850,000

In the new Commonwealth of Australia one of the provinces sought to repudiate payment of the interest on bonds given for loans from London. The Commonwealth Government, similar to the Washington authorities, paid the interest promptly, compelled the defeat and disappearance of the defaulting administration. Yet the United States Congress had denied all responsibility for its chain of sovereign states. It is the point of view.

The Irish Free State Premier is committing political hari-kari, for he cannot read, mark, learn or inwardly digest the lessons of the past.

The credit of the eight erring Southern States has been at a low ebb ever since, and they are still the most backward in development of all the forty odd States of the Union.

And so will they continue to be until they regenerate themselves in the eyes of the world.

WE HAVE OVERCOME THE DIFFICULTY IN EVERY CRISIS.

Every country has at one time or another "emerged from a crisis," even though there are some middle European countries which appear to have arisen from a conspiracy at Versailles.

Canada has met and conquered many an emergency, and we are presently in the chrysalis of a crisis at Ottawa.

Exports from Canada began with furs, and for the first sixty years of British rule both imports and exports were with the United Kingdom. In 1822 the first trade reciprocity was made with the United States on the solicitation of the New Englanders.

In 1846 Britain abolished the preferential she had given to Canadian wheat, and when the Civil War broke out in the United States in 1860 Canada practically declared her commercial freedom. This declaration was forwarded to England by Sir Alexander Tilloch Galt, whose name is on the tablet at the Sherbrooke City Hall.

Great Britain had just then been converted to Free Trade, and could not well dissent, even though Canada at once set up her first protective wall.

Then came the Treaty of 1853, which is known as the Elgin Reciprocity Treaty, wherein there was a free interchange of natural products between Canada and the United States.

Canadian agriculture thrived under this arrangement, particularly during the five-year period of the American Civil War.

But eleven years later, in 1866, partly because of the friction engendered by the Alabama incident, but chiefly because Canada had put a revenue-for-tariff on many manufactured goods, the United States denounced and abrogated the reciprocity treaty.

This brought on the crisis which was not ended until 1878, when Canada adopted its National Policy, and made its tariffs high enough to produce infant industries which have since grown to giant stature.

This denunciation of the Reciprocity Tariff in 1866 speeded up the Confederation of all the Provinces of Canada, which ultimately overcame the period of hardship, by turning trade laterally, opening new trade accounts in allied countries and bringing new industries into being.

Quickly there followed the hydro-power development in Quebec Province, which has given to Canada a motive power such as will handicap our neighbour in the race.

Now we are solving another crisis, one forced upon us our neighbour's disposition to cure all its ailments by tariff closure.

From out of it we come ten-million-people-strong, backed by an Empire of four hundred millions of consumers and friendly competitors.

Pray that our chief players may get every trick there is in their hand.

EDITOR'S NOTE BOOK.

The makers of "Scotch" and of "Irish" have for years complained that the distillers of French brandy and of Jamaica rum have enjoyed a smaller excise fee, much to the detriment of themselves and of the domestic distillers. This was brought about by weak salesmanship on the part of the Trade Commissioners in France and in the West Indies, who thought they had to offer preferentials to persuade the foreign distillers to enter our markets. Many such treaties may be ascribed to the same reason of futility. Yet it is harder to work up any tangible sympathy for the distillers than it is for the idle rich, who are also the sheep shorn by the taxpayers with abandoned glee. The superficial thinker does not at the time calculate that all taxes, gathered from no matter what source, spread out like oil on water.

Norfolk County, in Ontario, will this year produce 18,000,000 pounds of finely flavoured tobacco leaf. For how many years did we think the Virginia leaf and the Cuban cigar were the only fragrance and solace in time of woe. Col. Bruce Payne has done everything for Canadian tobacco except write poetry about it, such as:

"I light my pipe in silence, save a sigh that seems to yoke Its fate with my tobacco, and to vanish with the smoke."

They appointed a smoke inspector in Vancouver to stop the soft coal smoke nuisance. The inspector figured he would lose his job if the air grew clear; so there is still plenty of smoke to inspect. We invested in a cheap incinerator to overcome the noisome odours. The incinerator smokes but the odours still percolate. With the wind in a certain direction some residential districts are gassed with the essence of all smells.

The Tudor League in England has adopted an emblem, and its members wear a Tudor rose with the insignia "British Employment Providers." The object of the League is to buy British Empire goods as a first choice. It may be quite all right, but we in Canada do not wear our heart on our sleeves.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

From the Files of the Sherbrooke Record. August 6th, 1902.

Mrs. R. N. Robins, Mrs. W. Duncan Smith and the Misses Boydell were hostesses at a largely attended tea given by the ladies of the Sherbrooke Tennis Club.

The Richmond Waterworks Company refused an offer of $25,000 for their system made by the Richmond Town Council.

Mrs. F. N. McCrea, Harry J. Weyland and John Hommel were among those from Sherbrooke spending a holiday at Abenakis Springs.

C. A. K. Macpherson purchased John Taylor's saw-mill and stock of lumber at Magog and made preparations for the early reopening of the plant.

Dr. W. A. Dussault, of Quebec, and J. H. C. Dussault, of Montreal, arrived to spend Coronation Day at Little Lake with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Dussault.

Sherbrooke residents returning from vacations spent on the Maine coast included the Misses Sangster, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Lomas, Miss Lomas, Master Galt Lomas and Arthur H. Genge.

Mrs. S. R. Tate and Miss Myrtle Tate left to visit relatives at Kingsbury; Mrs. William Shearer to visit her brother, Joseph Russell, at Matane, Que.; E. O. Dyson to spend a vacation at his home in Richmond.

E. W. Gilman was elected general manager of the Canadian Rand Drill Company in succession to J. F. Lewis, whose death had occurred some months previously.

The medical board of the Sacred Heart Hospital, consisting of Drs. Camirand, Bechard, Rioux, Fregault, Lamy, Genest and Pelletier, made a presentation of a writing desk and table to Dr. F. A. Gadsbiss, whose marriage had recently taken place.

LOONBEAMS

by Ted Bullock.

You never know, when you write a column, where it is going to be read.

That uncertainty is one of the pleasures of the game. For instance, I wrote a dizzy thing last week advising the Americans how they ought to go about ridding themselves of prohibition.

Today I get a letter from a gentleman in Chicago who is in the advertising game. He writes on his firm letterhead, at seven-thirty in the morning, on a commuters' train between his suburban home and his office.

"I saw your column," he tells me. "As Josh Billings said—'Them's my sentiments'."

"I wrote an article recently along the same lines. It makes me laugh about the employment that will result from repealing the eighteenth amendment. Only four per cent. of our grain was used for beer in the palmist days. The only good result I can see from a return of light wine and beer is that you will also be able to get whisky at the same place.

"As far as the bootleggers are concerned, they are not going to lie down in the event of the repeal. They will only fight the harder and with more cunning as the game will then be more precarious. A savage situation will result. However, no use getting excited. The 'Yanks' may talk wet, but they vote dry."

That letter, coming from the Raquet Capital of the Free Republic, and from an advertising man, at that, ought to be more or less authoritative.

I suspect that my distant friend is one of those delightful persons who drink wet and vote the other way.

Every day I find the United States political system harder to understand.

Here in Canada we hold investigations, uncover scandals, and then put on our election campaigns on the strength of the dirt the investigators were able to dig up.

They work it the other way around down there.

Right in the middle of elections, Congress begins twenty-three committee probes which will last until the next session and perhaps longer.

The good old Senate, longest-nosed governmental body in the world, is prying into:

- 1.—Indian conditions. 2.—Post office leases. 3.—Wild life. 4.—The Alaska Railroad. 5.—Commercial relations with China. 6.—The Farm Board. 7.—Air and ocean mail subsidies. 8.—The failure of retail wheat. 9.—Meat and sugar prices to drop with commodity prices. 10.—The Pyramid Lake Indian Reservation. 11.—The effect of depressed foreign currency values on imports. 12.—The Department of Justice's handling of Cleveland's Union Mortgage Company case. 13.—Water resources of the Sacramento, San Joaquin and Kern Rivers. 14.—Rents in the District of Columbia. 15.—Campaign expenditures. 16.—R. F. C. loans. 17.—The Columbia and Snake Rivers. 18.—Government economy. 19.—The St. Lawrence Seaway Treaty. The House of Representatives is looking into:

- 1.—Government competition with private industry. 2.—Aid to veterans. 3.—Campaign expenditures. 4.—Railroad holding companies.

If our Canadian government should decide, which, fortunately, it will not, to borrow into Senate items 2, 9, 15, 18 and 19 and House item 3, I am afraid neither party in this Dominion would dare to face the electorate.

We are less heady here. We keep away from certain forbidden topics.

Both parties learned to sever a lesson in Beauharnois.

I'll bet good dollars Peter Veniot would have a fit if Arthur Sauve agreed to an investigation of post office dismissals.

I venture to say Arthur would slough off about a hundred pounds if Peter ever really pressed for such an investigation.

And the same thing goes for the rest of the boys.

Doctor—"Your husband, madame, is suffering either from over-work or excessive indulgence in alcoholic stimulants; it is difficult to say which."

Anxious Wife—"Oh, doctor, I'm sure it's overwork! Why, he can't even go to the theatre without hurrying out half-a-dozen times to see one of his partners."

MARRIAGES

WHEELLOCK—WOOTEN

Bury, Que., August 6.—A very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Paul's Church, Bury, on July 16th, at six o'clock in the evening, when Miss Mildred Wooten, youngest daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Wooten and of the late John O. P. Wooten, of Bury, was united in marriage to Mr. Raymond George Wheellock, only son of Mr. and Mrs. George Wheellock, of Mansville, Que. The ceremony was performed by the pastor of the church, Rev. C. T. Lewis. Ted church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with pink and white roses, syringa and ferns by relatives and friends of the bride.

The bridal party entered the church to the strains of Wagner's wedding march from Lohengrin, played by Mrs. E. M. Goodfellow, of Sherbrooke. The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. G. H. Wooten, of Bury, wore a lovely gown of white French georgette, with Parisian lace, made on long princess lines. Her tulle veil was arranged in cap effect with bandeau of orange blossoms and her bouquet was of Talisman roses and lilacs-of-the-valley. She was attended by her sister, Miss Lavinia Wooten, as maid-of-honor, who was gowned in pencil blue angel lace, a large rose-beige hat with touches of blue, beige pumps and gloves to match, and carried a bouquet of pink larkspur and baby's breath.

Miss Jessie Wooten acted as bridesmaid and wore rose-beige angel lace, large beige hat with touches of blue and carried a bouquet of blue delphinium and baby's breath.

The groom was supported by Mr. Clarence Thompson, of Bury, while Mr. Walter Readshaw, of Sherbrooke, brother-in-law of the bride, acted as usher.

The bride's mother was gowned in an ensemble of black and white georgette, with hat, shoes and gloves to correspond, and corsage of roses and maiden's peas.

The groom's mother wore a brown printed flat crepe dress, with hat, shoes and gloves in contrasting shades.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, where the decorations were carried out in pink and white. A profusion of pink roses, pink and white sweet peas, periwinkles and other flowers were effectively arranged. The bride and groom received the congratulations of all under an arch of pink roses and ferns.

A most delicious supper was served to the many guests on the veranda. Again the color scheme of pink and white was carried out; alternate streamers of pink and white crepe paper having been arranged around the entire veranda. Pink and white sweet peas added much to the appearance of the table, which was centered by a three-story wedding cake.

The sun's gift to the groom was gold Masonic cuff links; to the maid-of-honor, bridesmaid and organist, gold little finger rings; and to the young ladies who assisted in serving, strings of crystals. The groom's gift to the bride was a crystal necklace and an imported blue bag; to the best man, a leather bill-fold; and to the usher a leather cigarette case.

The happy couple left amid showers of rice and confetti for a short motor trip through the New England States. Going away the bride was becomingly dressed in a powder-blue canton crepe suit, grey hat with touches of blue, grey fur neck-piece shoes and gloves, and carried a blue bag.

The out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Wheelock, Mansville; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Readshaw and Misses Elaine and Betty Readshaw, Miss Jessie Wooten, Mrs. Irma E. Racicot, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Goodfellow, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Goodfellow, all of Sherbrooke; Mr. and Mrs. H. Wooten, Misses Barbara and Ruth and Master Harold Wooten, Mr. and Mrs. W. Drennan, and Mrs. F. Hurd, of Cookshire; Mrs. J. F. Pope, Miss Evedene Pope and Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Woolley, of Scotstown.

The numerous gifts were tangible evidence of the esteem in which the young couple are held in the community.

MANY PATRONS ATTRACTED TO 'STREET FAIR'

Daughters of the Empire Spent a Busy Afternoon and Evening Catering to Desires of Those Who Attended Delightful Summer Event.

"Mitchell Park," one of Sherbrooke's beauty spots, was en fête yesterday afternoon and last evening, when a most successful "Street Fair" was staged amidst its lovely trees and shrubs. Gaily decorated booths, flags, colored lights and bunting made a colorful and spectacular setting for the pleasant event, which had been eagerly anticipated for some time. The "Fair" was sponsored by the Duke of Wellington and the Sir John Sherbrooke Chapters of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire, whose officers and members spared no effort to make the Fair enjoyable and attractive.

"Mitchell Street" was transformed into a busy thoroughfare, where charming salesladies sold their wares. Afternoon tea was served at tables placed in the lovely park, the shade from the trees being most acceptable to the guests, who enjoyed their tea amidst the pleasant surroundings. Mrs. G. S. Thomsen, Mrs. David T. Diplock, Mrs. F. C. Churchill, Mrs. George Ewing and Mrs. S. H. Gallinger, assisted by the Girl Guides, were in charge of the tea arrangements, and also conveyed a table of home-cooked food.

Mrs. Matthew Graham looked after a most tempting candy booth, and was assisted during the rush hours by Miss Elizabeth Terrey and Miss Isobel Berrey, of Montreal. Ice cream and soft drinks were in charge of Mrs. P. M. Robins, who was assisted by Mrs. Roby, Mrs. H. S. C. Moffatt and Miss Alice Moffatt, who did a thriving business, especially between the dances in the evening.

Pony rides were very popular with the young folk, and Miss Mary Baldwin had a busy time seeing that all her little patrons had their rightful ride.

Bingo rivaled dancing in popularity, and this fascinating game of chance was well patronized, both in the afternoon and evening. Mrs. W. H. Phillips and Mrs. K. B. Jencks were the convener's looking after this feature.

The "Fish Pond," with Mrs. L. R. McKee, assisted by Miss Aye Walsh in charge, drew crowds of kiddies all afternoon and evening, their patient angling in the attractive water tank being worthy of the re-

Tomorrow evening the band will give another of the summer open air concerts in Portland Square. Two feature numbers on this Sunday evening programme will be Verdi's famous "Forza Del Destino" and Beethoven's "Andante Con Moto."

Miss Isabelle Mitchell and Miss Alexandra Newton were in charge of "Victory Ball," an amusing game which attracted many patrons.

In the evening dancing was one of the outstanding amusements, and the excellent arrangements were carried out under the convener'ship of the Misses Isabelle and Louise Mitchell.

Mysterious parcels were sold by Mrs. W. E. Hume, who was assisted by Mrs. T. R. Mackenzie.

Riverside Park Lots on the Rise
 Between the St. Francis and Victoria Park—Fine Sites for Homes.

"To own his own home" is the aim of most men, but very few get to it because they think wrongly about it. Buying a home is like putting money in a savings bank, and then saving so much that one can buy something else.

There's a vision of a home in every lot on the Riverside Park extension which is being put on the market by auction next week. Every villa lot has a landscape dream on it, for the land is rolling, and every point offers a different vista. The view is across and up the valley of the St. Francis, and is exactly opposite the handsome McCrea mansion on Melbourne avenue. So that it is not far out. "I walk to the King and Wellington corner in fifteen minutes," said a resident who has a home on one of the lots already disposed of.

Some 200 lots have been laid out, each one of fifty feet frontage, and they can be made into a villa lot by the purchase of two adjoining lots. The owners of the lots are prepared to make easy terms of payment, and they allow the buyer to fix the price by putting the property on the auctioneer's block—right on the grounds.

With surveyors' posts marking and numbering each lot, the prospective buyers can select their own favorite view, and there can be the knowledge that what is bought today will be worth twice the price in a year.

PEDESTRIAN ON
 ST. FRANCIS ST.
 BADLY BRUISED

Mrs. Hector Perreault, of Johnville, Fell Some Fifteen Feet into Drainage Well Early Last Evening.

Battered, bruised, a nasty gash on one arm and her clothing, from her hat to her shoes ruined, Mrs. Hector Perreault, wife of the C.P.R. station agent at Johnville and the mother of a fine young lad of six years, is lucky to be alive today.

About six o'clock last evening Mrs. Perreault was proceeding along the so-called sidewalk of the Langis Canal, officially known as St. Francis street, when she suddenly disappeared.

The unfortunate woman had actually fallen into a hole, a hole approximately fifteen feet deep by eight feet wide. To make things worse, about four feet of water reposed in the bottom of the hole, and it was only with the greatest difficulty that Mrs. Perreault's husband and other helping hands were able to get Mrs. Perreault out of her dangerous position. When finally brought to the surface she was almost unconscious.

When interviewed by a Record reporter a short time after the affair occurred, Mrs. Perreault, who was resting at the home of her father-in-law, Mr. A. Perreault, who resides at 2 Belvidere street, Lennoxville, was naturally in too nervous a state to relate the incidents of her ordeal. Her husband, however, was quite ready and able to tell exactly what had happened for he was accompanying his wife at the time. "I cannot thank God too much for being alive," was all that Mrs. Perreault would say.

Hardly able to walk, she sat in a chair and listened attentively as her husband related the incidents of a few hours previous. At the time of the interview Mrs. Perreault was still wearing the same dress which she had on at the time of her unexpected fall. Through a large tear in the one sleeve could be seen the bandages which the doctor had applied when dressing her injuries. Her knee was also injured and she complained of pains in her back.

Her little son, too young to understand the seriousness of the situation, played about as the incident was discussed.

Mr. Perreault said that he, his wife, their son, his father, Mr. A. Perreault, and Mrs. Perreault were walking down St. Francis street, proceeding in an easterly direction. That is they had left Wellington street and were nearing the $9,000 "look-out," which it is expected will be completed some time in the future.

The two men were walking in front of the ladies. They were chatting together, when suddenly they heard one of the ladies shout, "she has fallen into a hole."

At the time Henri Prunier was looking out of a window in the White Block. He saw the party proceeding along St. Francis street and then, as quick as a flash, he noticed one of the women disappear. He immediately rushed to the scene and offered assistance. It is stated that later he remarked that the incident reminded him of an occurrence in Montreal which he had read about some time ago when a child fell into a man-hole and was never seen again.

As already stated there was about four feet of water in the hole and it was with great difficulty that the two men were able to get Mrs. Perreault back to the surface.

Noticing a ladder nearby, her husband put this into action. It was necessary for him to descend three or four feet and then reach down until his wife could catch hold of his hands. When finally released from her temporary imprisonment the unfortunate woman, in the words of her husband, was "almost unconscious."

From his observations of the hole Mr. Perreault expressed the opinion that it was intended to serve as a drainage well, possibly intended as an outlet for the over-flow of water from the river which is expected to submerge the street. It is likely that the hole or well is part of the $3,000 automatic pump with which the $250,000 project has been equipped as a means of fighting the rising waters and to keep the street as near dry as possible.

There was nothing whatever, Mr. Perreault said, to indicate that the spot was dangerous. The planks had been placed across the top of the hole and they did not give away until the two women were nearly across them.

Mr. Perreault said it was very fortunate for his wife she had not fallen into the hole head first, in which case she most certainly would have been drowned.

Just as the accident occurred Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith, who reside in the Canadian Bank of Commerce building at the corner of King and Wellington streets, came along. They were walking in the opposite direction and would likely have taken the same fall.

Others who witnessed the affair or happened along shortly afterwards were a Miss McDonald, of Sherbrooke, and Mr. Alix, of the firm of Thompson and Alix, while Mr. Perreault said that Alderman M. T. Armitage was also nearby at the time.

J. T. Martel, municipal road superintendent, was soon on the scene. At first he acted very upish, according to members of the Perreault family. He even went so far as to say that people had no business walking along the street, although it is now several weeks since the street was officially declared open to traffic. On more occasions than one since the opening of the street, city officials have expressed great pleasure at the great popularity of the street and have mentioned with pride the large number of pedestrians and vehicles that have made use of the thoroughfare.

WILSON LOWERED OLYMPIC RECORD IN 400-METRE FINAL YESTERDAY

Montreal Sprinter Placed Third in Blanket Finish With Three Rivals to Break Former Mark—Three Canadian Teams Seek Honors in Women's and Men's Relay Races Today, While Eva Dawes, of Toronto, Attempts to Retain High Jump Title Tomorrow—Three Canadians in Marathon Race on Sunday.

Los Angeles, Aug. 6.—Canada retains just five chances to add to her most impressive total of points in the Olympic track and field competition. Today she sends three relay teams into action in preliminary heats and Sunday a trio of marathoners set out to battle the world's best over the twenty-six mile course.

Alex Wilson, of Montreal, added four points to the unofficial Canadian total yesterday by finishing in third place in the 400-metre final behind Bill Carr and Ben Eastman, United States aces. Wilson comes back today to run anchor leg on the 1,600-metre relay team. His mates are Jimmy Ball, Phil Edwards and Ray Lewis. The 400-metre team is made up of Buster Brown, Harold Wright, Percy Williams and Bert Pearson, with the Hamilton schoolboy running anchor.

The girls' 400-metre relay squad includes Hilda Strike, Mary Frizell, Mildred Frizell and Lillian Palmer. On Sunday, Eva Dawes, of Toronto, will attempt to retain for Canada the high jump title won four years ago by Ethel Catherwood McLaren, of Saskatoon. Three Americans, a Canadian, a South African and an Australian matched strides in the sensational 400-metre final. The field got away to a good start with Ben Eastman, the towering blonde from Stanford University, setting a burning pace for the first 200 metres. Bill Carr, the Arkansas farmer, finished with a terrific burst to beat Eastman and win in the world record-breaking time of 46.2. The old world record was 47 flat and the former Olympic mark 47.8.

Wilson, Bill Walters, of South Africa, James Gordon, of United States, and George Golding, of Australia, staged a blanket finish, with the Montrealer being awarded third place by six inches with Walters fourth and Gordon fifth. The Canadian, who was five yards behind Carr, also broke the old Olympic record. He was timed in 47.2.

Failure of Lieut. Godfrey Rampling, the highly-rated English quarter-miler, to even reach the final was the outstanding upset of the day. He was nosed out of the last qualifying place in the semifinal won by Carr in 47.2. Wilson was second and Golding third.

The semi-final defeat of Jimmy Ball, of Winnipeg, who figured in the sensational finish of the quarter-mile at Amsterdam in 1928, when he was just nosed out by Ray Barbuti, of United States, caused some surprise, although it was well known among the Canadians that he was suffering from an infected leg.

The duel between Carr and Eastman provided a climax to the finish in the 5,000 metres won by Lauri Lehtinen, Finland's distance running king, after a wild duel down the stretch with Ralph Hill, of San Francisco.

Some 60,000 fans, who roared their approval of the dazzling finish in the 400 metres, voiced their disapproval of the finish in the longer race. The Finn staggered into the tape a bare three inches ahead of the American, who was forced from his lane twice as Lehtinen swung wide at the turn and then cut back.

Immediately before the start several minor disturbances, including charges of unsportsmanlike conduct against the Finn and threats by United States of an official protest followed, and it was more than an hour after the contest before the officials announced their ruling which crowned Lehtinen the champion.

Lauri Virtanen, another Finn, finished third, forty yards behind the leaders, while fourth position went to a New Zealander, John Savidan. Robert Rankine, of Preston, Ont., carried the Maple Leaf well to the fore during the early legs, but weakened when the real racing commenced. He finished tenth.

The winner's time of fourteen minutes and thirty seconds created a new Olympic record, beating the old one set by Paavo Nurmi.

A summary of yesterday's events follows:

5,000-metre run final—won by Lauri Lehtinen, of Finland. Time, 14 minutes and 30 seconds. New Olympic record, former mark being 14:31.2, set by Paavo Nurmi, of Finland, in 1924.

400-metre final—Won by William Carr, U.S.A. Time, 46.2 seconds, breaking world's and Olympic records. The former world's record was 47 seconds set by Emerson Spencer, U.S.A., in 1928, while the former Olympic record was 47.6 by E. H. Liddell, of Great Britain, in 1924.

The unofficial standing of the nations after six days' competition during which eighteen events have been decided is as follows: United States, 160; Finland, 49; Great Britain, 34; Japan, 28; Canada, 27; Ireland, 23; Germany, 22; Italy, 18; Sweden, 17; Poland, 16; France 7; New Zealand, 6; South Africa, 6; Latvia, 5; Czechoslovakia, 4; Philippines, 4; Argentina, 3; Hungary, 3; Holland, 2; Brazil, 1; Australia, 1.

800-METRE CHAMPION

Tom Hampson, English schoolmaster, who defeated the cream of thirty-eight nations in the 800-metre Olympic event and established a new world record of 1:48.8. Hampson was hard pressed in the final heat by Phil Edwards and Alex Wilson, of Canada. He plans to retire undefeated.

TIGER TWIRLER HELD SENATORS TO A SINGLE HIT

Tom Bridges' Feat Is Best Major League Pitching Performance to Date This Season—Pittsburgh's Lead Increased Yesterday.

New York, August 6. — Credit young Tom Bridges, of Detroit, with the best pitched game of the major league season. The twenty-five year old right-hander, who learned his baseball at the University of Tennessee, pitched the Tigers to victory over the Washington Senators yesterday, allowing only one hit and facing only twenty-eight batsmen.

The Tiger star retired the first twenty-six Senators to face him, only to have pinch hitter Dave Harris break the spell with two out in the ninth. After Harris had cracked the first ball into left field for a clean single, ruining Bridges' chance at a no-hit game, Sam Rice was retired for the final out on a bouncer to first base. It was the second one-hit game of the year in the majors and the second by a Detroit pitcher. Earl Whitehill, veteran southpaw, allowed the St. Louis Browns only one hit on July 4, but walked two men. Bridges walked no one and fanned seven.

The Cleveland Indians pulled closer to second place by outpointing the Boston Red Sox by seven to two, while the Philadelphia Athletics were dropping a ten-inning nine to eight decision to the Browns, despite Jimmy Fox's forty-second homer of the year. The league leading Yankees were held idle by rain at Chicago.

In the National League, Bill Walker came close to duplicating Bridges' performance as the New York Giants trounced the St. Louis Cardinals by six to two. Walker gave up only two hits, both of them home runs by Ray Blades and Jimmy Wilson in the fifth inning. The Giants bunched five hits with English's long fly to score four runs in the fourth frame.

The rampant Phillies blasted Root, May and Smith for fifteen hits and handed the Chicago Cubs a nine to two beating, thereby stretching the idle Pittsburgh Pirates' lead to four games. Ray Benges was in form, keeping the Cubs' nine hits well scattered. "Red" Lucas pitched the Cincinnati Reds to a three to two verdict over the Boston Braves. He blanked them until the ninth, when a single by Urbanski and doubles by Moore and Schumlicher scored two runs.

The two Irishmen pictured above showed the way to the world's leading athletes competing in the Olympic games at Los Angeles in the hammer throw and the 400-metre hurdles. Dr. Pat O'Callaghan retained the hammer throw title with a heave of 176 feet 11 1/2 inches, while Robert Tisdall ran the hurdles in the record time of 51.8 seconds. Tisdall's time was two-tenths of a second better than the world record and eclipsed the Olympic record of 53.4 seconds. The Irishman's new record was not allowed, however, because he tipped the last hurdle in the final heat.

CANADIANS DO CREDITABLY IN YACHT RACING

Dominion's Boatmen Made Fine Bid for Olympic Honors Over San Pedro Course—Four Canadian Crews Entered in Various Events.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 6.—Canadian yachtsmen have made their bids for Olympic honors at the San Pedro course and, although they failed to win a victory, they were by no means out of the running.

In a close battle yesterday with Owen Churchill, of Los Angeles, skipper of the United States "Angelita," Roma Maitland, of Vancouver, skipper of the "Santa Maria," lost by seven minutes over a nineteen-mile course in the eight-metre class. Maitland guided the "Santa Maria" into victory position but the "Angelita" was too fast.

Three other Canadian crews tested strength on the southern waters.

Best place in the day's racing was made by Captain Harold Jones of Vancouver, master of the "Gallant," which placed third in the six-metre class behind Toreholm, of Sweden, and Ted Conant, of Santa Monica, Ill. fortunate dogged Captain W. E. Wylie, of Vancouver, in the same race. His craft, the "Wind-sor," bumped with the South African sloop, "All Star." Despite the incident, Wylie brought his boat into fifth place.

Reginald Dixon, of Toronto, sailed his craft into seventh place in the monotype class. Today, Dixon will have a different craft when the second race in the series for the monotype title is to be held. All competitors must alternate at the helm of different craft at each race.

While Yankee boatmen captured first places in the eight-metre and star classes, Sweden annexed first in the six metres and Great Britain in the monotype.

Gilbert Gray, of New Orleans, skipping the "Jupiter," vanquished a field of seven starters in the star boat class and was the outstanding performer of the day. His time was 2 hours 38 minutes 42 seconds, the distance being twice around a six-mile triangular course.

Toreholm vanquished the United States skippers to take first for Sweden in the six-metre sloop class in 2:21.2. Ted Conant, of Santa Monica, Cal., sailed the "Caprice" to second in 2:15.7. The Canadian sloop "Gallant," sailed by Harold Jones, of Vancouver, finished third in 2:17.1.

Colin Batsley, Great Britain, who took the opening race in the morning in the monotype group, was second in the star boat competition, finishing five minutes astern of Gray. Third and six minutes later was the Swedish star, sailed by Gunnar Asther, of Sweden. The seventh star boat, "Tramontane," sailed by Jean Herbolot, of France, failed to finish.

Ratsley won the monotype race

FINE PEAR CROP Ottawa, August 6.—Prospects are exceptionally good for a large pear

crop in the province of Ontario according to latest estimates of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa. The trees came through the winter with very little injury and weather conditions have been excellent for the development of the fruit. Niagara district looks for a yield double that of last year and Burlington also expects to top last year's figures. Taken as a whole, the production for the province should be far in excess of 1931.

"A Loving Cup with handles all round"

The Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa being in session, Mr. Picobac did not feel quite free to express his own views on matters sub judice.

"The Conference is in session," said he. "The case is before the courts. All I'll say at this time is this: We don't want any jug-handled agreement. What we want is a loving cup with handles all round."

The genial philosopher of Essex County thrust a straw into the stem of his pipe to improve the draught.

"Say," cried he, chuckling, "if all those Delegates smoked Picobac, they'd agree on one thing, anyway."

"And what's that?" demanded his wife.

"Picobac. It's a cool . . . mild . . . sweet smoke," replied Mr. Picobac.

Picobac tobacco is made from the pick of the burley crop produced in Canada's famous "tropic belt" on the shore of Lake Erie—cool . . . mild . . . sweet in your pipe. Try it.

—and don't forget, you get more tobacco for your money. Good for making cigarettes, too.
