MAJOR GERMAN STEEL PRODUCERS AGAIN BOMBED

Four Million Evacuated As Raids Expand

Bochum and Gelsenkirchen Objectives of Latest R.A.F. Attacks Against Nazi War Material Industries—Wholesale Evacuation of Non-Essential Population of Western Germany Now Underway.

London, June 26.—(AP)—R.A.F. heavy bombers carried their offensive against German war industry through the seventh successive night with a heavy attack last night on the Ruhr coal mining and steel district of Bochum and Gelsenkirchen, the Air Ministry announced today.

Thirty of the R.A.F.'s big aircraft were listed as missing in the night's activities.

The British bombers, following by only a few hours the United States heavy bombers which attacked undisclosed targets yesterday in Germany, encountered deep cloud formations and it was reported that results could not be observed accurately.

However, the Air Ministry communique reported that large fires were started in Bochum and Gelsenkirchen.

Bochum, located in the heavily battered Ruhr valley, was last raided the night of June 12, and on May 13 some 1,000 tons of bombs were spread over its industries by R.A.F. and U.S.A.F. heavyweights.

The Berlin broadcast declared that thirty bombers were shot down out of last night's raiding force.

The new R.A.F. attack followed a daylight assault by American heavy bombers on undisclosed targets in Northwest Germany.

Lying between Essen and Dortmund in the centre of the Eastern Ruhr coal basin, Bochum has three steelworks which, taken together, comprise one of the most important producing units in Germany.

R.A.F. Typhoon bombers also joined in the offensive yesterday by raiding an airfield at Caen, France, without loss.

Last night's R.A.F. attack, staged while Britain was enjoying its first raid-free night since June 20, was the eleventh assault on Axis targets by British-based bombers in fourteen nights and wound up a week filled with some of the heaviest of the war.

German news reports said this morning that Allied four-engined bombers took a whack at a German convoy off the Dutch coast early yesterday.

From Berne, Switzerland, came information from a reliable source that an organized removal of non-essential workers and residents from the heavily-battered Ruhr already had taken between 4,000,000 and 5,000,000 persons to safer areas, with the project still going on.

The Air Ministry news service reported meanwhile that the Germans had strengthened their outer ring of air defences on the North Sea Coast, presumably in an attempt to keep raiders away from the ruins.

FOUR AIRMEN KILLED IN EXPLOSION OF LARGE BOMBER

Windsor, N.S., June 26.—(C)—A Hudson bomber, exploding in the air over Summersville, nine miles from here on the opposite side of the Avon River, claimed the lives of four airmen yesterday. None of them were believed to be Canadians.

Parts of the wrecked aircraft were found on the ground over a radius of 100 yards. Eye-witnesses said they saw the bomber fly back and forth several times and then explode. They believed it was attempting to find a place to land.

The names of the victims will be released for publication later.

La Tuque, Que., June 26.—(C)—Mayor Omer J. Gauthier was re-elected by acclamation for his fifth term as Mayor of La Tuque yesterday.

Three Councillors, Thomas Quattier, Charles Gagne and Roch Courteau, also were elected by acclamation.

STEVENS HITS CABINET VIEW TOWARD LABOR

Declares Government Missed Golden Opportunity to Take Labor into Full Partnership in Canadian War Effort.

Vancouver, June 26.—(C)—Hon. H. Stevens, former Minister of Trade and Commerce in the Bennett Government, in an open letter to Prime Minister Mackenzie King charged the Dominion Government with failing to accord Canadian workers "their full rights as citizens playing an effective and vital part in national affairs."

Mr. Stevens said the Prime Minister "lost a golden opportunity" when he failed to invite labor leaders "into full partnership on the outbreak of war." A further mistake was made by freezing wages without consulting labor.

"The wages of tens of thousands of workers were 'frozen' at a debased level due to ten years of depression, and were, therefore, unfair and unjust," Mr. Stevens said. "The result of this injustice and the Government's refusal to treat labor as a full member of the great economic partnership is largely the reason for sporadic strikes and labor troubles."

Mr. Stevens asserted the Government "has used 'the bogey of inflation' as a justification for ignoring workers' rights and said Labor Minister Mitchell's recent suggestion to the House of Commons that Government "controllers" were needed in trades union organizations was "further evidence of treating labor as a subservient element in society."

Axis Invasion Anxiety Shifting To Balkans After Salonika Raid

By The Canadian Press.
Axis invasion anxiety, while still centred chiefly on Italy and her island outposts, turned again to the Balkans today following Thursday's raid by Allied bombers on an airbase near Salonika, Greece, and German radio reports that the British 8th Army is poised in Syria for action.

"There are signs that an Allied attack on the Balkans is imminent," said the German-controlled Vichy radio last night in a broadcast recorded by Reuters.

From within the Balkans themselves came reports of new defence measures. A Swiss telegraphic agency dispatch from Sofia said that Bulgarian police had arrested a number of persons and barricaded were erected after "suspicious persons" were seen near the waterworks.

Discovery of a Bulgarian espionage agency and the arrest of five of its members was reported in dispatches from Budapest.

A mop-up of Crete and the Dode-canese Islands in the Eastern Mediterranean might be undertaken at virtually the same time as an invasion of Sicily and Sardinia to deploy Axis strength and win full and final control of the Mediterranean, the observers held.

Some London speculation, based on a study of the aerial onslaught and the stabilized Russian front, was that Mediterranean island outposts are on the 1943 Allied invasion programme with an invasion leading to Berlin from the West unlikely until later.

German guesses on the invasion, meanwhile, ranged all the way to Norway, where a German admiral was reported to have told Nazi marines in a speech at Tromsø that the Allies would invade Norway "within a short time."

The newspaper Popolo di Roma was quoted in a Rome broadcast as saying editorially: "Today the Italian front is the most important and the most logical of the war between Europe and anti-Europe."

Leningrad Continues Existence Despite Intense Nazi Blockade

By EDDY GILMORE
Associated Press Russian Correspondent.

New York, June 26.—(AP)—Leningrad receives a slow but steady trickle of food and goods through this lifeline that Russia's heroic city maintains with the outside world.

One of the last Russians I talked to before leaving the Soviet Union recently was a young Red Army soldier on leave from the Leningrad garrison that has thrilled the world with its defence against the large German army hammering at its front and back doors since the early days of the war.

Our meeting was strictly American. We were on a railway train and looking one another up and down like two travelling salesmen.

I took a cigarette from my pocket and lit it. The Red Army man's broad Russian face beamed.

Then Ivan Ivanovich Dukov and I sat there and talked about Leningrad—the great city of the Russian North where Ivan came from. Peter the Great's city. The birthplace of the workers' revolution. The city of the beautiful white nights which, under Nazi guns and bombs and sometimes machine-guns, has often been a city of roaring fires, blood, sorrow, sacrifice and heroism.

Ivan Ivanovich made a point here. "Not only nights," he said, "but days too."

The history of Leningrad will be one of the great histories of the cities of the world. While the soldiers held the front lines, the people in Leningrad held the second line—the factory line.

Between long draws on his cigarette, the Red Army man talked: "I have seen days," he said, "when the Luftwaffe sent waves after waves of bombers against our city. The people were just going to the factories when the first planes came. They did not turn back. They kept on to the factories. And as they began working more planes came. And all day long the workers worked. And at night when they started back for home there were more planes. Ah, my friend, there was so much of this."

He told how it was when food got very low. How it was when the fuel ran low and bombings ran high and schools went under ground. How street car rails were ripped up to be made into bullets and shells. How enemy bombs and shells hit certain buildings and how the buildings rose again to continue to produce.

Ivan Ivanovich told of a woman he knew who lost two sons on the front before the city. Her husband died in a factory from a German bomb. And she and the wife of another son kept the home fires burning.

Many people have suffered in Leningrad—especially in the days when it was blocked. But the blockade has been broken, although it has not been removed.

Ivan Ivanovich, of the Leningrad garrison, talked about some of the lend-lease food which has reached the city.

"I don't mean we have been living entirely on your food," he said, "for that is not right. You remember how the peasants and collective farmers from all parts of the Soviet Union sent us in food?"

The Red Army man told how this food moved in through the long dark nights of winter. How Red Army men and citizens of Leningrad and other cities, brought it in under the German noses, by sledges, on their backs and shoulders. Over the ice of the Neva and the nearby lakes.

COMMENTATOR LAUDS EFFORT OF DOMINION

Vernon Bartlett, Member of British Parliament, Declares War Effort of Canada Is More Than Remarkable.

London, June 26.—(C) cable)—Vernon Bartlett, Member of Parliament and political commentator, returned from a trip to Canada, yesterday outlined Canada's war effort on the BBC's home service. He said it is "remarkable, and that word is simply a moderate adjective."

He described Canadian strides to develop air transport and said he doubted if Britain realized what air transportation meant to a country Canada's size.

The talk included a general summary of the Dominion's war contributions, especially those of the armed services, industry and food and financial contributions to the motherland.

Bartlett concluded, "My last word is this: It is unwise for us in Britain to imagine that all of this is done for our own beautiful life—Canada is a very determined and independent nation."

"She is rightly proud of her independence, and we may be rightly proud that her fundamental ideas have remained so similar to ours that she, of her own free will, is our ally in a war which is geographically so remote from her."

Boisterous Scenes Mark Continuation Of Debate On War Appropriations

Two Quebec Members Battle Speaker and Ministers in Series of Attacks on Party Leaders—C.C.F. Leader Demands Definite Statement from Government on Future Manpower Proposals.

By C. R. BLACKBURN.
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Ottawa, June 26.—(C)—Boisterous scenes marked yesterday's discussions in the House of Commons as Members completed the first week of almost continuous consideration in committee of the $3,890,000,000 war appropriation for the current fiscal year.

Liguori Lacombe (Cdn., Laval-Two Mountains) and J. F. Pouliot (Lib., Temiscouata) precipitated the fireworks, the former when he was in conflict with Chairman Bradette and two Ministers over points of order, and the latter when he called John Bracken, Progressive Conservative National Leader, "A Wandering Jew."

The day brought one announcement from the Minister—the proposed creation of a manpower pool of 750 men in Halifax to be available to ensure the quick handling of trans-Atlantic ships in Eastern Canada ports.

The pool, which would be used when local manpower was exhausted, would be mobile, the men guaranteed four hours a week at union rates as freight handlers and stevedores. Accommodation would be provided for them.

There was considerable shouting when Mr. Pouliot, after a lengthy speech in which he criticized the Progressive Conservative Party, attacked Mr. Bracken.

There were appeals to Chairman Bradette and Hon. R. B. Hanson (Prog. Con., York-Sunbury) after a shouted interchange with Mr. Pouliot, who said, "How long, O Lord, how long will we stand for this?"

Mr. Pouliot said Mr. Bracken had a policy for every parish he visited and should be in the House leading the party.

Instead of that Mr. Bracken was not in Parliament but going about the country—"a wandering Jew."

"He's a good Canadian," interjected a Liberal member.

"A good Canadian Jew," said Mr. Pouliot.

Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative House leader, asked Mr. Pouliot to recognize that Mr. Bracken was endeavoring to do his job and was entitled to proper respect.

"Since when is it unparliamentary to call a man a Jew?" asked Mr. Pouliot.

Mr. Lacombe attempted to discuss the Government's treatment of Camille Houde, interned former Mayor of Montreal, and persisted over the protests of Mr. Mitchell and Justice Minister St. Laurent who both questioned Chairman Bradette's failure to call him to order.

Eventually Mr. Bradette cautioned Mr. Lacombe that he would be "named" unless he observed the orders of the chair.

Later in the evening Mr. Lacombe

Rebellious Congress Overrides Roosevelt Anti-Strike Act Veto

Washington, June 26.—(AP)—Congress, in a stunning reversal for President Roosevelt, put war production in the United States today under the whip of an anti-strike law so stringent union leaders proclaimed it a "major disaster." Republicans saw in it a mortal blow to the Administration and resentful coal miners exploded in a new revolt.

Mr. Roosevelt touched off a momentous day when he vetoed the anti-strike law as more likely to foment labor troubles than to settle them.

With speed unequalled in recent years, the Senate and the House of Representatives promptly over-rode his veto to make law the measure providing fines and imprisonment for persons instigating or aiding wartime strikes in Government-operated industries, and outlawing stoppages in other war plants without a ballot of the workers. The law also broadens the powers of the War Labor Board.

There was no pronouncement from the War Labor Board concerning its plans now that it was given power to force the attendance of witnesses. Lacking subpoena authority in the past, the Board steadfastly has been ignored by President Lewis of the U.M.W. in its handling of the coal wage controversy.

As the vote was being taken, C.I.O. representatives were circulating an open letter to Congressmen from President Philip Murray, who declared that the veto had made possible "a more careful consideration of the devastating implications of the measure passed by Congress in haste."

In his veto message, the President said he was "unilaterally opposed to strikes in wartime," but expressed the view the anti-strike bill contained provisions "which in fact would foment slow-downs and strikes."

Authority to induct men up to sixty-five years of age into non-combat military service, the President told Congress, would provide a "direct approach" necessary to "insure the continuity of war work."

METAL BADGES FOR PETTY OFFICERS

Ottawa, June 26.—(C)—Petty Officers and chief petty officers in the Royal Canadian Navy now may wear metal cap badges.

In naval orders published today in the Canada Gazette provision for the use of metal badges is made because of the difficulty in obtaining adequate supplies of embroidered badges.

WAR BULLETINS

London.—R.A.F. heavy bombers raided Germany in force last night for the eleventh time in two weeks and the Berlin radio, in a broadcast heard by the Associated Press, identified Bochum as the principal target.

Allied Headquarters in North Africa.—Messina, strategic Straits city on the Eastern end of Sicily, was hit hard yesterday by the largest Allied heavy bomber raid of the Mediterranean war, and huge fires were left burning in the harbor and railway station.

LOOK HERE, HITLER
London, June 26.—(C)—Germany might well surrender to Britain in the hope that British and American armies would be in Germany to prevent the Russian army from going too far, said B. Kingsley Martin, Editor of the New Statesman and Nation.

Interurban Electric Line Shop Workers Permitted Pay Increase

Ottawa, June 26.—(C)—The National War Labor Board today issued adjustments establishing upward revisions of pay rates for some classifications of Ontario railway employees, members of the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen of America (B.R.C.A.) and some classifications of Quebec employees, members of the Canadian National Railways System Federation No. 11, Railway Employees Department (A.F.L.).

The judgments cover applications for pay increases by carmen of the Grand River Railway Co., Lake Erie and Northern Railway Co., and Canadian Pacific Transport Co. (Galt-Preston division), all of Ontario, and the Montreal and Southern Counties Railway (C.N.R.) electric lines.

The Board ordered that the monthly salary paid the night shopman at Granby, Que., be increased from $135 to $150, and that the night shopman at St. Lambert, Que., be paid $175 a month instead of $160.

Armature winders and blacksmiths, members of the C.N.R. System Federation, are to receive hourly wages of 65 cents, as against 60 cents.

Car equipment inspectors, welders and motor repairers, machinists, painters, electricians and carpenters, together with the car inspector at Montreal, are to receive four-cent increases—from 59 to 63 cents per hour. Air brake inspectors and repairmen also are increased from 51 to 55 cents per hour, and car equipment assistants from 45 to 52 cents per hour.

Increases also are granted in nine other occupations.

"In regard to overtime conditions," the Board said, "the present practice of overtime after nine hours each day should be altered to eight hours each day."

"With respect to monthly salaries employees with a seven-day week, one day's rest in each week should be given, Sunday if possible. We do not believe there should be any change in respect to vacation with pay provisions. All revisions should be effective from January 1, 1943."

ANNUAL PICNIC OF SHORT HORN BREEDERS HELD

The Quebec Short Horn Breeders' Association field day, formerly held in two sections, at Ste. Edwidge and Bury, was held this year at the Experimental Farm in Lennoxville. It was one of the most practical and beneficial meets ever held by the local branches of the organization.

This picnic organized by the Short Horn Breeders and the Quebec Beef Cattlemen's Association spent the forenoon examining results of pasture fertilization experiments begun early in the season. In addition to this feature, local farmers were addressed by Messrs. J. W. Ste. Marie, Farm Superintendent, and W. S. Richardson.

Following the luncheon a representative from Macdonald College, Prof. Sumner, delivered a speech of particular interest to farmers specializing in field crops.

Prof. S. E. Day, of Guelph, Ont., representing the Dominion Short Horn Breeders, emphasized the growing popularity of this breed, and further stated that breeders of this type were at the present time enjoying highest available prices.

Also present was the breeder of cattle and explained the importance of good stock, while Prof. Day further pointed out the proper types of Short Horn bulls to select for breeding purposes.

The final event of the day was credited to Dr. Gendreau, of Sherbrooke, who outlined and demonstrated the characteristics of modern artificial breeding.

Members enjoyed a delightful basket picnic at the noon hour.

CHERRY RIVER

Pte. Adrian Catchpaul has been on a furlough for a few days visiting friends and relatives.

The Red Cross met at the home of Miss Jane Mitten. The afternoon was a busy one, making quilts. A delicious lunch was served and a miscellaneous shower was given to Mrs. Robertson following lunch. Mrs. Robertson was formerly Miss Nurse, a school teacher in Cherry River School. She was married a short time ago. Mrs. Robertson received many useful gifts.

The Red Cross met at the home of Mrs. Ruby Whittier. The afternoon was spent in making patch work quilts. Arrangements were made for the July picnic for all the Cherry River children.

MORE ROOM FOR EMPLOYEES OF POST OFFICE

"Increase in mail delivery by carrier and a marked decrease in the use of post office boxes has enabled us to remove some 100 lock boxes and afford greater work room for our employees," stated C. E. Soles, local Postmaster, in an interview with a Record representative this morning.

"The need for an enlarged working space has been evident for some time," said Mr. Soles, "and the present construction job has given us an opportunity to make this possible. More and more customers are giving up the use of their call and get it boxes, preferring to have the carrier deliver the mail to their door."

With the removal of the boxes this week, almost one whole section being taken out, the local office thus gains the much-needed space for a serving counter for general delivery, with accessible lockers to meet the public needs. Additional lockers being installed in the new counter extension include those for Unemployment Insurance stamps, and for other Government forms distributed through the post office.

Other improvements at the local office include the removal of a stone wall in the basement to provide for an additional 20 feet of space for the mail carriers' sorting room.

Facilities for the receiving and despatch of mails have also been improved with the construction of a special shed at the rear of the local office. This Despatching Shed is 16 feet square, and permits mail trucks to unload and load their bags with the minimum of difficulty.

Built in 1881, the local post office was so constructed in the interior to accommodate only seven employees. As the staff increased it became apparent that certain changes would have to be made. These included the taking over of the whole ground floor for general office use, and the construction of the carriers' room in the basement.

Today the staff at the local office numbers 56, and space had become so cramped in the general room that the present changes were expedited.

by the recent rain storm. Gardens were washed out entirely and all the bridges were gone. Transportation to a nearby town was almost impossible.

Pte. George Alex spent a Sunday with his wife.

THREE INJURED AS LIGHTNING STRIKES HOUSE

A bolt of lightning which shattered a chimney atop 100 St. Michael Street during yesterday afternoon's torrential downpour of rain, travelled down the chimney, damaged a stove and stunned Mrs. Joseph Vallieres and her two children who were in the kitchen. Sherbrooke Police reported today.

When able to walk again, she took her children to the home of neighbors, M. Dubois, on Rondeau Lane, and when she arrived there fell unconscious in front of the residence. She was taken into the house and Dr. Romeo Valleux, who was called, revived the woman. She was reported as feeling comfortably today.

Firemen answered two other calls during the height of the storm. A blaze breaking out in the motor of the car owner by Lionel Dion, 17 Brewster Street, was extinguished, but not before some damage had resulted.

The other call was a false alarm turned in from Box 132 at the corner of Argyle and Prospect Streets. Widespread damage was caused by the fifteen minute downpour. Limbs and trees throughout the city were broken and sewer outlets were blocked, flooding streets and cellars of homes in various parts of Sherbrooke. Big Forks Street, off Wellington, under the Canadian National Railway bridge was covered by water several inches high.

Boisterous Scenes

returned to the Chamber and clashed with Clarence Gillis, (C.C.F., Cape Breton South) who suggested that if the Sergeant-at-Arms did not take action someone else might do.

Mr. Gillis said of Mr. Lacombe's interruptions, that nothing like them would be permitted in any labor union local.

Warnings of the debate that may arise when and if the Government decides to exercise its power to send conscripts overseas came from M. J. Caldwell, C.C.F. leader, who was applauded by Progressive Conservatives on this point.

Mr. Caldwell said that "while I may not have agreed with the policy the Government laid down for the sending of such large numbers of men overseas . . . I think the one thing we must do now is to keep up reinforcements for those troops in order that they may be effective on the field of battle."

"We have reached the point, with the immediate prospect of heavy casualties and calls for increased food and other supplies, when this House should be fully apprised of the Government's plans to meet the situation."

He recalled Prime Minister Mackenzie King's promise last year that if the Government decided to send conscripts overseas he would seriously ask the House for a vote of confidence.

"In other words, we in the Opposition, who may have little or no confidence in the Government, are going to be compelled, perhaps, not to vote certain reinforcements but to vote confidence in the Government."

If the Opposition did not vote confidence in the Government under these circumstances it would be accused of voting against sending reinforcements.

He urged the Government to say at once what its policy was to be regarding reinforcements and manpower generally and have the debate and issue decided before the pressure arises which will come with invasion and heavy casualty lists.

Mr. Mitchell's announcement of the establishment of a 750-man labor pool in Halifax to ensure the availability of manpower for speedy turn-around of shipping in that and other Eastern ports, followed a statement by G. B. Isnor (Lib., Halifax) on the value of Halifax, and a question from him as to the Minister's plans for using Halifax.

him to protest the bombing of Germany and Italian cities. He said the raids were justified because they would "shorten the war and may save thousands of lives."

"We may sympathize with their soft-heartedness without sharing their soft-headedness. For if we do not finish this thing, it will finish us."

PROPRIETORS MEET JULY 8
City Clerk Antonin Deslauriers said today that a nopen meeting of the City Council will be held on July 8 when three new bylaws will be explained to property owners of the city. He said invitations have been extended to the Sherbrooke Proprietors' League, the Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce and Sherbrooke Junior Board of Trade.

The bylaws that will come up before the meeting are: 1. The purchase of the Central School for $55,000; 2. refunding of a $434,000 loan and the renewal of another loan for three years; and 3. expenditures amounting to $175,000, which will be used for the installation of sewer water and gas systems and the purchase of certain properties and equipment.

LABEL SUIT POSTPONED
Quebec, June 26.—(P)—The suit of Rene Chalouit, Bloc Populaire Member of the Quebec Legislature for Lotbiniere, against the Quebec Chronicle-Telegraph for $2,000 damage for alleged libel in an editorial published April 27, 1942, scheduled to resume yesterday in Superior Court, was postponed to June 29 when counsel will sum up their case.

The Wales Home, a home for aged Protestants, was founded and incorporated by Act of the Quebec Legislature, in 1920. It originated through the will of the late Horace Pettes Wales, who bequeathed his residence and farm, and the residue of his estate, to the Protestant ministers of Melbourn and Richmond for the purpose of founding a home for Protestant old people. It is located on the heights above the St. Francis river, just on the outskirts of Richmond, some twenty-five miles from Sherbrooke.

The farm bequeathed by Mr. Wales for the purpose of the Home consists of some 162 acres of land. The Home's own farm is worked as a dairy farm, and in addition supplies the Home with milk, cream and vegetables.

The Protestant ministers, to whom Mr. Wales bequeathed his property, thus becoming the first trustees, were Rev. G. H. Craik, Rev. J. F. B. Belford, Rev. William McMillan, Rev. T. Roy, who appointed Rev. Craik as the first President, July 11, 1918. Given a free hand by the will of Mr. Wales, these men associated with them a number of business men and organized a campaign to raise funds. Following a meeting in Sherbrooke, the project took on another character, that of a home for old people of the Richmond district. It was felt that there was a need for such an institution to serve the whole area of Townships, and it was decided to appeal for funds on that basis. This was most successful, securing the necessary funds for the new building plus the provision of an endowment fund of some $250,000.

In later years, the need for enlarged space having become apparent, plans were made for a new building, replacing the original farm residence of Mr. Wales.

On the ground floor is a spacious living-room with fire-place, and just off this room is the dining room. On the other side of the entrance hall is a roomy men's smoking room, and a series of rooms especially suitable for the elderly. The second floor is a dormitory, and the third floor is a dormitory. The kitchen, laundry and staff dining rooms are in the commodious and well-furnished basement.

Realizing the need for suitable infirmity accommodations, the problem was thoroughly solved by the extreme kindness and generosity of Mr. Harry A. Norton and his sister, Miss Helen Norton. They jointly erected and equipped, entirely at their own expense, a fireproof addition known as the Norton Memorial, in memory of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Norton.

The new wing, 140 feet long by 40 feet wide, was completed in 1940. Three stories in height, adjoining the older building at the southeast end, this wing contains an electric elevator serving every floor of both the old and new buildings. With the main floor designed an infirmity wing with beds, a ward kitchen and quarters for a resident nurse, the building also has the ground floor provision for staff quarters for the entire building while the top floor provides accommodation for twenty-three additional inmates.

Various changes have taken place from time to time, alterations to the main building including an enlarged kitchen, laundry and dining room, with a special servise added to the dining room. New equipment and additional storage space has also been provided.

Inmates of the Home must be chosen from three classes of worthy Protestant aged people, residents of that part of the Province of Quebec South of the St. Lawrence river, West of the city of Quebec, with preference being given to residents of the Eastern Townships. These groups are: (a) those who are actualy destitute, (b) those who have no sufficient means to support themselves on their income, and (c) those who are able to pay for their support, but are without friends to care for them in case of helplessness. Preference is given to the first two classes, and age limits for admission set at a minimum of 65 years for men, and 60 years for women.

The Home now enters on the first quarter-century of successful operation, the responsibility for which rests greatly in the hands of the Corporation, aided by numerous donations and requests of sympathetic friends, the total which reaches surprising proportions throughout the year.

West Virginia reported more than 500 of its 600 mines operating, but many with absenteeism ranging from ten to ninety per cent of the workers. Ohio said about fifteen per cent of its 21,000 mines were working.

SOVIET TROOPS BREAK FINNISH TRENCH LINES

Heavy German Losses Also Reported in Reconnoitring Attempt in Svesk Area Southwest of Orel.

London, June 26.—(P)—Attacking Russian troops broke into Finnish trenches in the Northern Karalia front last night and wiped out about a company of the enemy in savage bayonet and grenade fighting, the Soviet noon communiqué said today. Ten dugouts and two blockhouses were blown up and mortar batteries and an ammunition dump were destroyed.

Two German snobs, a reconnoitring attempt in the Svesk area Southwest of Orel, and South of Balakleya where they attempted to cross the Donets river, were beaten off with enemy losses, the war bulletin said.

Russian artillery action also was reported near Svesk where big Soviet guns were said to have started firing at two enemy strong points.

Heavy losses were suffered by the Germans in their attempted crossing of the Donets South of Balakleya and they were forced to retreat behind a smoke screen from concentrated Russian fire.

Guerillas killed "several hundred" Germans when they routed six Nazi garrisons during recent fighting in the Crimea, and derailed eleven German trains carrying troops and supplies, the Russians said.

June 19 (night)—R.A.F.-R.C.A.F. heavy bombers devastated the Schneider armament works at Le Creusot, France.

June 20 (night)—Germany's major air detection device manufacturing plant at Friedrichshafen, Germany, was hit by R.A.F. Lancasters on outbound leg of shuttle trip to Africa.

in this war."

Sqdn. Leader Parker was a Presbyterian minister in civilian life, being stationed at St. Andrew's in Toronto. A former Moderator of the General Assembly, today he occupies the post of Senior Chaplain in the R.C.A.F. No stranger to Sherbrooke, he was in this city some twenty years ago. Slight in stature, dapper and erect, with hair turning grey, he speaks with a trace of English accent, no doubt acquired during his sojourn in England.

His local visit was arranged through the efforts of Hon. E. J. Levesque, M.P., and Hon. J. A. C. Dossie, of Plymouth Church, Chaplain of Windsor Mills Flying Training School. Introduced by Mr. Dossie, Sqdn. Leader Parker was welcomed in a brief address by Mayor Alex C. Ross. At the conclusion of his talk, words of appreciation were given by Rev. W. L. Clow, Minister of St. Andrew's, who also expressed the appreciation of the services of the organist, J. G. Scorer, who gave a brief recital previous to the lecture, and to A.C. Plt. Lt. Audet for attending several members of the 67 Squadron, Air Cadets of Canada, to act as ushers.

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian textbook: "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "This angel or messenger which comes from God, clothed with a cloud, prefigures divine Science. This angel had in his hand a little book, open for all to read and understand. Mortals, obey the heavenly evangel. Take divine Science. Read this book from beginning to end. Study it, ponder it. It will be indeed sweet at its first taste, when it heals you; but murmur not over Truth, if you find its digestion bitter." (pp. 558, 559).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And I saw another mighty angel come down from heaven, clothed with a cloud; and a rainbow was upon his head, and his face was as it were the sun, and his feet as pillars of fire: and he had in his hand a little book open: (Rev. 10: 1, 2—(to))."

SHERBROOKE HIGH EXAM RESULTS ISSUED

Prize And Scholarship Winners Are Also Announced By School Officers

After many long weeks of hard study and careful preparations for the examinations the trying days have now passed and the results of the Sherbrooke High School examinations have been announced. For many years now students have watched the letter boxes for the reports and have closely followed the columns of the local newspapers to see just what the outcome would be, because that complete strain of the year's work cannot be completely thrown off until the climax, be it good or bad, has been reached.

Some days ago the announcement came to the Record that the results would be ready for publication in the paper by Saturday, and Principal W. W. Gibson and the staff at the Sherbrooke High School have worked very hard and have put in many long hours in their efforts to get the much-anticipated information out as soon as possible.

Regulations issued by the Department of Education governing the promotion of any pupil in any school are as follows: 1. The criterion for the promotion of any pupil shall be his ability to do the work of the higher grade. 2. The responsibility for the promotion of pupils rests with the Principal of the school. A regulation of the Protestant Committee has the following statement regarding the duty of a Principal: "To require each pupil to do thoroughly the work prescribed for one grade before promoting him to the next higher grade. Pupils who have fallen behind in the work of their grade may be placed in the next lower grade." 3. Every pupil who obtains 50 per cent of the marks in each subject of the grade shall have the right to be promoted. The pass mark in spelling, however, is 75 per cent. These standards apply either to the work of the session or to the June examination. 4. Pupils shall also be promoted if they obtain 6 per cent of the marks in the subjects as a whole.

The reports from the 1943 graduating class will not follow for some time yet as the papers are sent out to town for correction, but the information will be mailed to the individuals as soon as the papers have been marked and checked by the Department of Protestant Education at Quebec.

The reports from grades eight to ten in the Sherbrooke High School are as follows:

Like To Send An Insult To Der Fuehrer?

A new national War Savings drive with the slogan "Stamp Out the U-boat Campaign" will get underway for a five weeks' period starting on Monday in Sherbrooke County, it was announced today by the local National War Finance Committee in the City Hall. The drive will continue until July 31, and officials said that every dollar invested will be earmarked specifically for the purchase of depth charges to aid the Royal Canadian Navy in its great battle against the Hitler sea-wolf packs.

An unusual feature is the "Stamp-o-Gram" whereby every purchaser of four 25-cent stamps may send a "personal message of defiance" to Hitler and the U-boat gangsters or words of encouragement to the men of the navy.

The messages, bearing signature and address of the sender, will be affixed to a depth charge tally sheet and each completed sheet, holding ninety messages, will be forwarded to the Naval Services in Ottawa to be sent on to Canada's sub-chasers. Local headquarters of the N.W.F.C. today received a copy of an Order-in-Council in Canadian war orders and regulations, making trafficking in War Savings Certificates illegal.

The order said there had been cases "where individuals have attempted to set themselves up in the capacity of discount agents for War Savings Certificates, buying the said Certificates at a discount from the informed registered holders and then attempting to present them for redemption at their full redemption price as agents of such registered holders."

Only a registered holder, the legal representative of a deceased registered holder, or a person authorized by law to act on behalf of the registered holder may acquire any right, title or interest in a War Savings Certificate or any right to the proceeds of a Certificate when redeemed.

Penalties were provided for anyone illegally acquiring Certificates. Upon indictment a fine of up to $2,000 or imprisonment of up to one year or both may be imposed. Upon summary conviction, a fine of up to $1,000 or imprisonment of up to six months or both may be imposed.

Prices Of Fruits And Vegetables Running Wild With No "Ceiling"

A Record reporter found that the prices of fruits and vegetables in Sherbrooke have not risen over last year — they have doubled, after making a special shopping tour yesterday afternoon.

If you are out to make a crisp, healthful salad, the kind that doctors recommend, the chances are you will pay twice as much for the ingredients. Potatoes and oranges, which are under a ceiling, were the only commodities which did not show a sensational increase. Other fruits and vegetables, running wild under no ceiling, are in a different league altogether.

"Why don't they put a ceiling on them?" This is the question customers asked the clerk in the chain store visited by the reporter. They shook their heads over the prices asked. The clerk was sympathetic, but otherwise offered no comment.

This year there has been a bumper crop of spinach, due it is said, to the heavy rains. As a result, the price is down from eight cents a pound in 1942 to six cents this year.

The reporter felt that any vegetable which could show a decrease in price like this deserved a special place in the story.

After noting prices in the store, the reporter checked with the manager to find out what the retail prices were for the same week last year. Here is the comparison:

	1942	1943
Price Price
Strawberries, pt. box	18c	35c
Cantaloupes	18c	35c
Red Plums, doz.	25c	25c
Green Beans, lb.	18c	23c
Asparagus, lb.	12c	35c
Onions, bunch	2c	8c
Radishes, bunch	2c	5c
Tomatoes, lb.	17c	23c
Cauliflower, each	17c	35c
Beets, bunch	7c	8c
Lettuce, head	7c	10c
Celery, bunch	19c	29c
Hothouse Cucumbers	14c	30c
Cabbage, lb.	7c	15c
Cherries, lb.	45c	69c
Rhubarb, bunch	9c	8c

Prices of fresh vegetables will be controlled if they continue at present high levels, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board recently announced in Ottawa.

Several plans had already been considered for bringing fresh vegetables under the price ceiling, but according to the Board announcement, Control of mark-up was also considered, but it was thought a maximum mark-up would result in an increase rather than a reduction in prices.

Many Tricks Of Germans To Snare Returning R.C.A.F. Raiders Told

"War is a field of dirty ingenuity and cunning," stated Squadron Leader Stuart C. Parker, R.C.A.F., one of four men detailed by the Canadian Government to tour Canada to interpret the life of the Air Force to civilians, in an address in St. Andrew's Church.

Telling of the life and experiences of the boys from Canada in the present aerial offensive of the Continent, Sqdn. Leader Parker made this statement as he described the various tricks and sly attempts made by the Axis to snare our homecoming aircraft after an operational flight over Germany. Camouflage plays a strategic part in this war, he said, describing the methods of covering ponds and stretches of rivers to throw a map out of balance. Fake fires are started in areas not under attack in an effort to lure aircraft away from their target.

Captured planes are sent up, still emblazoned with R.A.F. insignia, with the hope that other planes on night flight might approach, near enough to be shot down, thinking they were part of their own flight and that some help might be given.

Vigilance in the operational flights of the R.A.F. and the R.C.A.F. is one of the key requisites, the speaker emphasized. That our boys are on their toes day and night, is strikingly portrayed in the tremendous success of all operations in enemy territory. All parts of Germany are getting telling blows from our pre-invasion air offensive, he told his audience. Out of over fifty German industrial areas, thirty now have laid waste more than half of the 1,500 military targets throughout the Axis zone, he said.

Interrogation of returning flight members by our Intelligence develops the whole story of the war, Squadron Leader Parker explained. No details are overlooked and no loopholes are given to make any errors or give false reports, thus making all war bulletins absolutely reliable, he said. "You can have absolute faith in the British War Bulletins," Parker informed his listeners.

Nothing is counted unless actual damage is reported, and reports are more often minimized than padded when released to the public."

In telling of the care and attention given to the boys in their off-duty life, Sqdn. Leader Parker stressed the excellent housing, food and entertainment provided for the members of the R.C.A.F. overseas.

"Even better than they are accustomed to at home, in many cases," he said, "Nothing is too good for the boys," was his concluding statement, as he asked the folks at home to send more comforts to their boys.

"They need reminders of home, and the more you send, the better their morale will be—and believe me the morale in the Air Force is top-notch."

ADVANCE PARTY PREPARES SITE AT SCOUT CAMP

The advance party of St. Peter's Troop of Boy Scouts left town yesterday morning to make final preparations and arrangements for their summer camp which will be held on Lake Nic from the third of July until the twenty-first of the month. Six men and one leader were included in the party and it is expected that the boys will have a week-end of camping, a final check-up on the condition of the camp and making things in order for thirty Scouts and leaders who will be moving in within the next few days.

This year an abrupt change has taken place with regards to the camping facilities for the various troops in this district. The Scouts will no longer be using the old familiar site at Lake Aylmer but will be spending the summer trying out various sites that the local Association has in view and which in all probability will prove to be more satisfactory to the boys. The chief problem at the camp at Aylmer was the lack of a good water supply within easy reach and trips by boat had to be made to bring water to the camp. Transportation facilities to the camp were also bad and the mosquito problem and menace played a predominant part in the unanimous decision to forsake the place.

The site which St. Peter's Troop is going to try out this year is one which is believed to be quite satisfactory from all these points of view and the facilities at the camp are all of the best since the spot had previously been used by Dr. A. C. Hill as a location for the camp which he conducts during the summer months.

Lake Nic situated about three miles from Eastman on the Montreal Highway and the total distance to the camp is approximately thirty miles from Sherbrooke. Provision has been made for the boys to attend church service on Sundays and there is also a doctor near at hand. The branch road taken from Eastman to get to the camp is a good gravel road and it is easily accessible by car.

During the stay at camp the various patrols will engage in competitions and prizes will be given to the winners at the end of the session. All Scouts in the leading patrol will receive compasses while the patrol leader will be given a hunting knife. The best sportsman will also be given a prize at the end of the camp and the boxing champion of the camp will be presented with a trophy.

Visitors' days will be held at the camp on the 11th and 18th of July and it is requested that if any visitors intending to visit the camp have room in their cars to take someone else that they get in touch with the Rev. Russell Brown or with Mr. Bruce Millar. On the two visitors' days there will be Scouts on duty in the town of Eastman to direct the visitors to the camp. The mailing address for the boys at camp will be 3th Sherbrooke Troop, Boy Scouts, General Delivery, Eastman, Quebec.

The three-week camp will be under the direction of Eric Sharpe assisted by R. Pearson, L. Humphries, A. Jones and Troop Leaders J. Atto and C. Fontaine.

George E. Ewing Elected President Of Wales Home At Annual Meeting

Operating Deficit Reduced Almost One-Fifth in Past Year—Farm Profit Halved—New Governors Named for Year as Annual Reports Are Presented.

Highlighting the twenty-fourth annual meeting of the Governors and Corporation of the Wales Home in Richmond yesterday was the election of George E. Ewing of this city as President, A. St. L. Triggs of Melbourn, First Vice-President, and Everett E. Goodenough, of Sherbrooke, as Second Vice-President.

The reports of the past year's activities showed that the annual deficit had been reduced from $14,402.15 in 1942 to but $388 in 1943. Farm operation, on the privately-owned establishment, showed a good profit under the direction of the farm manager, V. R. Beatty, $688 being realized.

Buildings are in first class condition, reflecting very creditably on the efficient action of the members of the Corporation. Special commendation was also accorded the work of the matron, Miss L. S. Shaw, R. N. and her assistant, Miss Olive Symons, R.N.

Inmates of this twenty-four-year-old home for elderly Protestant people now number eighty-nine, an increase of three over last year. There is still a waiting list of some eleven persons.

The financial statement showed almost $200,000 invested in Government and municipal bonds. Stocks controlled by the Corporation amount to approximately $5,000, while mortgages which are held total almost $50,000. Some $9,300 in real estate is owned by the Home.

Following the election of officers, it was decided that the naming of the standing committees would be left until a future date. In line with the decision reached at last year's session, the annual picnic and reception has been cancelled, possibly for the duration. This was decided on due to the wartime restrictions on travel, though it was stressed that visitors are always welcome at the Home, no having to wait for an annual open invitation.

Officers for 1943-44 were named as follows: Honorary President, Harry A. Norton, Ayer's Cliff; Honorary Vice-President, Colonel John Price, Quebec; President, George E. Ewing, Sherbrooke; First Vice-President, A. St. L. Triggs, Melbourn; Second Vice-President, Everett E. Goodenough, Sherbrooke; Secretary, Dr. C. E. Manning, Richmond, (re-elected); Treasurer, A. A. McCartney, Richmond, replacing H. N. Becker.

Patrons of the Home are Harry A. Norton, Hon. Jacob Nicol, W. H. Miner, D. J. Salls, M. T. J. McKee, R. G. Davidson, A. C. Skinner, H. E. Bieber, W. E. Melver and Robert Mitchell.

SEA-GOING GUERRILLAS WORRY NAZIS

Sea-going Greek guerrillas have given the invasion-conscious Axis new cause for worry in the Balkans, according to German press accounts. Photographs published in Hitler's own newspaper, the Voelkischer Beobachter, and the German magazine Die Woche illustrated how the Axis is combating guerrillas whom the Germans described as pirates operating in small sailing ships and motor boats against Axis merchant ships in the Aegean.

For more than a year well-organized Greek and Yugoslav patriots, striking from hideouts in the wild Balkan mountains, have been reported steadily draining Axis resources by land, but this was the first indication they had taken to the sea.

The Nazis employ heavily armed patrol boats and reconnaissance seaplanes to hunt the sea guerrillas, the German papers disclosed. All suspicious craft are examined.

The photographs purported to show Axis retribution against one "pirates' nest"—a small village bordering the Aegean. One picture showed a seaside village alight with fires set by incendiary and explosive shells.

Berlin reports this week said large contingents of troops had been transferred from Russia to that area. Many of these were said to be units engaged in the Balkan campaign early in the war.

The Yugoslav insurgents were declared to have resumed their attacks in the Zagreb sector this week, and Berlin sources claimed strong German, Italian, Bulgarian and Croat forces had "practically annihilated" a large band of partisans in the Montenegro mountains.

Authoritative Berlin sources were quoted by Stockholm papers as saying the Montenegro insurgents numbered tens of thousands and were well equipped fighters.

Some idea of the fierceness of the Balkan battles is given by the Rome correspondent of the Dagens Nyheter, who reported recently that "Italian losses in the Balkans often have been heavier than the total Italian losses on other fronts."

AS THE JAPANESE SEE IT

Japanese military masters are too realistic to make the same foolish pledges to their people that the Germans once made about devastating air raids. Once Hitler's satellites boldly promised that German cities never would be bombed. They know better now. But Tomokazu Hori, a rough and tumble Japanese who was educated in California and knows the fallacy of duping the common people, recently told Japan in a broadcast specially prepared for domestic consumption, to be ready for such attacks. Hori is spokesman for the Japanese Board of Information.

Raid on Japan proper from the Aleutians and China are in the making, he warned, and then said: "We cannot guarantee there is no possibility that America and Britain will not take concrete steps for operations against Japan."

He saw in the Allied victory in Africa an opportunity for us to drop our "holding" war against Japan and instead wage one which was definitely offensive in character.

Despite the fact that he included the Aleutians there is not much doubt that Burma is our logical route for attack. That means China in the long run, just as Hori pointed out to the home folk. He said:

"More than anything, the enemy is contemplating the recapture of Burma, which is the key to the offensive in the Far East. We can think of the possibility of an opening of an offensive from the Burma area about the time of the close of the monsoon season, which comes some time in October."

Until then, of course, we can only strengthen our forces in India, keep hammering at the defensive outposts which circle Honshu, the main Japanese island, and seek to recapture Kiska, the American island which the Japanese took over more than a year ago.

This may be a sobering thought for those who think we have an easy time ahead in the Pacific. The Japanese captured the vast and rich Pacific areas in less than ninety days. Since then their army—at least the main forces—have been doing nothing but build defences.

By October, the Japanese will have had twenty months to exploit the resources of Malaya, the East Indies and the Philippines. And no one is sanguine enough to believe we can retrace this territory in the short time the Japanese found necessary to drive us out.

Hori's statements merely echo the sentiments expressed in the recent session of the Diet, which met in an extraordinary session in Tokyo. About the only tangible development—at least the only one disclosed by the short-wave radio—was that the Japanese could expect air raids on the mainland of Japan.

China most certainly can hold out until autumn—perhaps longer—but after that our policy in the Pacific will be the determining factor. We cannot go on indefinitely fighting a "holding" war in that area, whether or not the war in Europe is over.

HOT WEATHER TROUBLES

Hot weather days, with their co-related dangers of heat exhaustion and sunstroke, are here again, these problems being particularly trying for aged persons and infants, who suffer most in heat waves, the mortality resulting is chiefly among them. Persons with high blood pressure or diseases of the heart or kidneys are more likely to suffer from such prolonged exposure and heat than those who have good health. It has been found also that the mortality is higher among males than females, possibly due to greater exposure of men in their work.

A factor in heat exhaustion is the loss of salt from the body due to excessive perspiration, and replacement of the salt will do much to keep the body in good condition. Commercially prepared salt tablets are available from drug stores; many industrial plants now make them available for their employees. In heat exhaustion the patient usually remains conscious but shows pallor, feels cold, while the skin is moist. The respiration is rapid, the pulse weak, and the temperature is below normal. A doctor should be called and the patient should be put in a cool, quiet place, in a reclining position. He should be kept warm by means of a blanket or hot water bottle, and if conscious should be given a stimulant such as tea, coffee, or aromatic spirits of ammonia.

Sunstroke victims suffer from dizziness, sometimes nausea, acute headache, and in true sunstroke these symptoms are followed quickly by unconsciousness. The skin is dry and hot, the face red or purple, breathing difficult, fast pulse, and high temperature. A doctor should be called and the patient should be placed on his back in a cool place. As much clothing as possible should be removed. Temperature should be reduced by sponging the body with cold water. Ice in bags or cold cloths, should be applied to the head. Circulation may be induced by rubbing the hands and trunk toward the heart. No stimulants should be given.

ROOSEVELT AND CONGRESS AT WAR

This has been crisis week on the United States home front, featuring a coal strike, political wrangling over subsidy payments to roll back food prices and a rebellious Congress that shows an increasing inclination to oppose President Roosevelt.

The coal strike, the third since the United States entered the war, was postponed formally by John L. Lewis, President of the United Mine Workers, until October 31, but its effects and repercussions will be felt for months, including, perhaps, drastic changes in the labor and draft laws.

The effect of the coal strike on Canada has been negligible up to now, although it may be felt next winter, perhaps even to the extent of fuel rationing in the East, unless the miners troop back to the pits faster than they have been doing and maintain top production.

The effect of the political fight over subsidies, however, has a direct bearing on Canada's wartime economy. Canada's over-all ceiling on prices, wages and salaries has given the Dominion a more or less stable wartime economy, in contrast to the comparatively unrestrained and inflationary rise of prices in the United States.

All efforts of the Roosevelt administration, however, to use the subsidy principle to roll back food prices has met with concerted opposition in Congress, on the ground the process is inflationary, in itself. The House of Representatives already is on record as opposed to food subsidies and the Senate seems to be only lukewarm in its support.

Canadian officials in Washington are watching this political fight with keen interest because it is admitted frankly that Canada may not be able to maintain her price ceilings if prices go sky-high in the United States. The economies of the two countries are so closely inter-locked that an inflationary movement in the United States would engulf Canada as well. Already, food prices have advanced seventeen per cent over May, 1942, and forty-six per cent over January, 1941.

The old feud between President Roosevelt and Congress flared up last week when the House refused to appropriate money for the domestic branch of the Office of War Information, and again this week when the House Agriculture Committee approved a bill to create a food czar with complete control over wartime food, production, distribution, pricing and rationing. Mr. Roosevelt refused, however, to approve the bill declaring that Congress would have to take responsibility for any action towards inflation.

The Responsibilities Of Genius

Prof. the Rev. H. C. Burt, M.A., D.C.L., Lennoxville.

2 Kings II, 14: "And he took the mantle of Elijah that fell from him, and smote the waters, and said, Where is the Lord God of Elijah?"

In his book entitled "The Pathway from the Kingdom of the Dead," John Buchanan traces in imagination the "background" of one of the greatest of the sons of men—Abraham Lincoln. His thesis is that what we call "greatness" or "genius" is not a freakish unrelated phenomenon, a fortuitous biological product, but a fruit of heredity and environment.

The Bible writers, not being imbued with what we term "the scientific spirit," speak of their heroes as God-inspired men, chosen from of old to carry out a Divine purpose. Thus the saint whom our French compatriots commemorated last Wednesday is spoken of as coming "in the spirit and power of Elijah" to turn the hearts of the disobedient to the wisdom of the just, and of whom our Lord himself said: "Greater is not born of woman." Long before John was born he was ordained of God to become the forerunner of the Messiah.

John dared to be original, even in the matter of food and clothing; he made his home in the wilderness, apart from the haunts of men. Originality is the ear-mark of genius. The ordinary man does not care to look beyond the opinions of his class or associates, but prefers to follow precedent and find protection behind the breastworks of those who have gone before him. His gospel is expediency.

Of course, originality has its perils, and may well be the door to martyrdom—as the early Christians found out when they refused to conform the standards of heathen life and worship. The man who firmly believes that God still is, and that He is the rewarder of them that diligently seek Him; the man who believes that God's revelation to Humanity was not completed by the "Book of Revelation," but that the Church is but the vestibule of that grander Temple which the Lamb is to build—will find many to doubt his wisdom and pronounce him a fanatic. When a man becomes so unselfish as to want "light" not chiefly for himself, but for others, or when he is willing to bear all manner of ills that he may help and uplift others, then he becomes an Elijah or a John the Baptist—the Voice of one crying in the wilderness.

Elijah under the juniper-tree and Elijah at Carmel reveal in clear contrast that the world is slow to recognize that the man who speaks today with the voice of inspiration may tomorrow become a trembling fugitive, a victim of hopeless despair! It would seem that the Law in the natural and in the spiritual world is one. Where Humanity is in desperate need—as in this our day—and God can find a Man as a fit conductor of His light and power; He always supplies that need. God must find men willing to lay down their lives for others and brave enough to dare all costs to keep certain high and noble ideals inviolate. Such men are as useful conductors of divine power, as the wire is to the electricity that lights our homes and churches.

But alas for the fgment of Human infallibility! Even the mighty Elijah who had faced undaunted the priests of Baal in their hundreds, flees in terror at the threat of a woman. Moreover, Elijah made a mistake when he told Elisha several times to tarry behind. Had Elisha stopped when Elijah bid him he would have lost Elijah's falling mantle. In persisting, in spite of his master's requests, Elisha went against the precepts of the Church and of the world—but he was justified by Faith! As a matter of fact, God has raised up as much as Elijah himself. He had found a time and place where it was essential that he should act by a light more direct and individual than the old prophet could give; he was alive to the necessities of the hour.

It is not good for the soul to get into the habit of always allowing others—even those in high authority—to do all your thinking for you, or to prescribe all your tasks. A certain freedom of spirit becomes a man—even if it is freedom to make mistakes! It is quite possible to be too conservative in religion, as well as in other matters, and thereby lose the mastery over one's own soul.

If Churchill had continued to follow Chamberlain's lead for another year, what would have become of the British Empire, and the freedom of the world?

We must always bear in mind the fact that God knows His children as individuals, and not in the aggregate. He desires to know them as "free," with no mark of slavery on their souls. He wants them to be ever ready to receive the light, ready to suffer anything that pursuit of Truth may entail, and brave enough not to betray their individual sense of Duty "though the heavens fall."

This does not mean that a man should flout all authority and start a conventicle on his own account, or lead a party of "ones," like a well-known gentleman in Quebec's Legislative Assembly; but it does mean that "one good custom may corrupt the world"—as Tennyson taught—and that Authority, like that of the Priests and Levites in St. John the Baptist's day, may become an instrument of oppression and wrong. Moreover, this story of Elijah and Elisha teaches us that we do not really honor the great by servile imitation of them. We study their lives and characters and works, not to conform ourselves in all things to them, but that their "spirit" may animate us, and work through our varied gifts. The artist who studies the works of the Masters simply in order to imitate their style will never attain a high position in the world of Art. He—like Elisha—will succeed who studies the works of the great so as to catch therefrom the inspiration, the spirit, the enthusiasm that glowed in the breasts of those who transferred to canvas the visions of beauty that God vouchsafed to give them.

PRESS COMMENTS

THEY ASKED FOR IT

The Sydney Post-Record department, according to the London Times, has "suddenly discovered" that the Allied air raids on Germany are "terroristic and deliberate attacks on women and children."

We have by this time become accustomed to almost anything in the manner of hardy effrontery in our German enemies, but it is still possible to wonder how even Goebbels himself can have the face to complain now that the boot is on the other foot, and the Germans, instead of their adversary nations, are on the receiving end of the cargoes of the bombing planes.

For this was essentially their idea. It was their idea that it was all right to lay the cities of their enemies in rubble and ashes, especially if they were defenceless cities, like Rotterdam, protected by international conventions to which Germany had herself subscribed.

It was all right with the Germans to bury women and children in the ruins of their victim cities, as long as it could be done with impunity.

Well, the wheel of destiny has come almost but not quite full circle for the men who conceived the dreadful pattern of total war. The Allied Nations are not going to be deterred by Nazi whining now.

And to all the meanness and the fraud which has been the mark of the Nazi mentality in this conflict, which was mostly of their making, nothing has been worse than this abysmal crying to the deaf skies. If ever men in all history asked for an exact quittance for their own crimes, the Germans asked for what they are getting from the sky over Dortmund and Duesseldorf now.

RUSSIA AND RUBBER

Ottawa Citizen

Canada and the United States are actually producing synthetic rubber for war purposes, following on the heels of the pioneers in the business, Soviet Russia. It is interesting to note, however, that amongst the many supplies delivered by Great Britain to their Russian ally is crepe rubber, the natural rubber. It is unloaded at a port on the Caspian Sea where it is transferred to Russian cargo boats on the last lap of a hard journey through many strange scenes.

"Well, no," explained the polite steward, "but you won't hear Mme. . . . sing in Heaven."

The two commercial travellers were discussing the careless manner in which trunks and suitcases are handled by some railway companies. "I had a very cute idea for preventing that once," said one of them smiling reminiscently. "I labelled each of my bags 'With Care—China.' And did that have any effect?"

"Well, I don't know; you see, they shipped the whole darned lot to Hong Kong."

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By Wm. E. McKenney, America's Card Authority.

WARTIME BRIDGE IN HOME-FRONT FIGHT

Every once in a while I hear or read a word or two of criticism directed against playing bridge during the war. These critics probably do not know what the bridge players of the country have undertaken. They are out to raise $20,000,000 to provide scholarships for orphans of the war.

A blood and serum bank was started by the Washington Bridge League. The members of the American Contract Bridge League are fighting a war on cancer in children, in their children's unit at Memorial Hospital in New York. Card parties raise a large amount of money for worthy war relief causes.

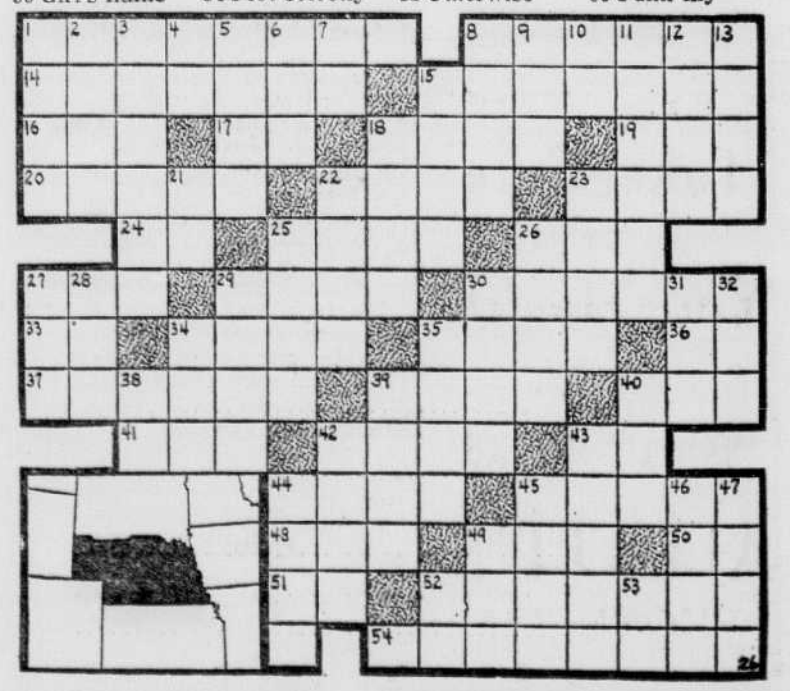

At a recent party held for the children's ward, I saw one pair get into a nice contract and make it by skillful play. All the declarer did, when the dummy went down, was to count his tricks. He figured that West must have five diamonds and the ace of clubs for his double. So

Baked Macaroni and Cheese
One heaping cup broken macaroni, cooked, 2 cups thin white sauce, 1 teaspoon onion juice, 1 cup American-style grated cheese.
Funge macaroni into a large kettle of rapidly boiling water. When tender, drain at once and rinse quickly with cold water to remove starch. Put half the macaroni in a buttered baking dish, cover with hot white sauce which has been seasoned with onion juice, sprinkle with grated cheese, repeat layers of macaroni, sauce and cheese. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) until top browns.

THRIFT SHOP REVIEWED AT W.A. MEETING

Scotstown Women's Association and W.C.T.U. Hold General Meetings.

Scotstown, June 26.—The June meeting of St. Andrew's Women's Association was held in the Church Hall, with the President, Mrs. J. D. Cox, in the chair. The meeting was opened with the theme song, "Let the Beauty of Jesus Be Seen in Me," and the devotions were conducted by Mrs. A. G. Sherman, the topic being "Our National life, to deal justly with all peoples and nations." The Scripture lesson was taken from Psalm XV, and Romans XII:17, "Recompense to no man evil for evil. Provide things honest in the sight of all men," and the Golden Rule, "As ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise." Comments were given on the subject. The hymn, "O God of Love" was sung, and prayer offered. The Treasurer's statement showed receipts for May as $44.62, with a balance of $144.89 in the Treasury. Favorable comment was made of the satisfactory results from the Thrift Shop, in charge of Mrs. P. B. Mayhew. The members were asked to donate discarded cotton garments, to be used in rug weaving. It was suggested that a lawn social be held at a later date. The meeting closed with the theme prayer.

The monthly meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union was held at the home of Mrs. George Kinsey and was conducted by the President, Mrs. R. A. Scott. The devotional period, in charge of Mrs. A. G. Sherman, opened with the hymn, "There Are Lonely Hearts to Cherish." The theme, "Visiting the Sick," was based on Matthew VI; other appropriate texts and comments from the White Ribbon Tiding were given. A noon recess followed. In tribute to a departed member, silent prayer was observed. It was reported that prizes in connection with the Temperance Society had been presented in the Sunday School, on Temperance Sunday. It was decided that members donate articles to the ditty bags for sailors, which are being filled by the Women's Institute, the donations to be sent to Mrs. William Taylor. It was suggested that the executive be a Ways and Means committee. The Secretary was instructed to send cards of sympathy to bereaved members and friends. Mrs. D. A. MacLean kindly offered her home for the next meeting. Mrs. Graham Barr was cordially welcomed as a member. The following superintendents were appointed by the President: Evangelistic and Christian Stewardship, Mrs. D. A. MacLean and Mrs. Murdoch MacArthur; Scientific Temperance and Press, Mrs. William Taylor; Sabbath Observance, Mrs. K. M. Smith; Flower Mission, Mrs. A. G. Sherman; Travellers Aid, Mrs. George Kinsey; Canadianization and Citizenship, Mrs. A. A. MacAulay; Soldiers, sailors and airmen, Mrs. A. Mackenzie; Anti-narcotics, Mrs. Robert Scott. The topic for study, "Flower Mission," was directed by the Superintendent, Mrs. Sherman, who gave a reading entitled "The Aim of Flowers." Mrs. MacLean read "The Flower Mission Plans" and Mrs. D. J. Graham gave a biographical sketch of Jennie Cassidy, who organized and directed the first Flower Mission in Louisville, Ohio, and who, afterwards became National Director of the first organized W.C.T.U. Flower Mission. In memory of the many years of faithful and efficient service in the Travellers Aid Department, by the late Mrs. J. W. Taylor, it was decided that a contribution from the members be given to this department of W.C.T.U. work. The meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction.
The regular meeting of St. Andrew's Sunday School Workers' Conference was entertained by Mrs. Roy Waldron, at her home on Main Street, and was directed by the Superintendent, Mrs. J. D. Cox, who conducted the devotions, and spoke of a worthwhile book, "What It Takes," passed on by John Carey Smart, and which contains stories from the lives of soldiers, sailors and airmen, under such headings as "Facing Life," "I Die at Dawn," "High Flight," etc. A church calendar was discussed, and tentative plans made for its use. It was decided that Children's Day Sunday and Flower Sunday be combined and a programme arranged. It was suggested and approved that the next conference take the form of a picnic, to be held at "Dunrobin," the summer home of the Superintendent. It was decided that a record book and scissors be provided for Mrs. Barr's class and a handbook book for Mrs. Waldron's class. It was announced that the Sunday School picnic would be held on Friday, June 25, at "Dunrobin." The meeting closed with prayer.

Scenes from "A Man's World" and "The Sombro Kid" which open at the New Premier Theatre tomorrow.

Deanna Durbin is starred in "The Amazing Mrs. Holliday" which opens today at the Granada Theatre.

AT THE LOCAL THEATRES

At The Granada

The shuddery entertainment phenomena, the horror drama, quickens its pace and lengthens its stride in "Frankenstein Meets the Wolf Man," which opened at the Granada
Theatre today.

In uniting the Frankenstein monster with the Wolf Man, Universal has a terrifying pair of fiends and the ingenious method by which they have been teamed by scenarist Curtis Siodmak, deserves unqualified praise. Siodmak's original screen play not only revives the Frankenstein monster and the Wolf Man from their respective tombs, but speeds them through a series of dastardly crimes which out-shock their previous depredations.

Ilona Massey, co-starred with Patrick Knowles, is seen as Baroness Elsa Frankenstein, current resident of the haunted Frankenstein castle where the dramatic action centers.

Knowles appears as the doctor who follows the Wolf Man from one bloody tragedy to another as the killer seeks to end the gypsy curse which ultimately brings crashing destruction both to himself and his partner, the Frankenstein monster.

Bela Lugosi has the role of the giant monster. His difficult portrayal and fantastic makeup highlight many of the film's eerie sequences.

Maria Ouspenskaya, as Meleva the gypsy, gives an ominously impressive performance and Lionel Atwill has a prominent role. Lon Chaney, known as the screens' original Wolf Man, repeats the remarkable characterization which won him distinction in the initial Wolf Man picture.

Universal presents Deanna Durbin in "The Amazing Mrs. Holliday," as the second half of the bill. She is supported by such noted players as Edmund O'Brien, Barry Fitzgerald and Arthur Treacher.

Ether Dale, Harry Davenport, Greta Mitchell, Frieda Inescort and Elizabeth Risdien are other well known Hollywood favorites in the cast.

Five vocal selections are presented by Deanna all of which are logically interwoven with the story movement. They are "Visi D'Arte" by Puccini, "The Old Refrain" by Fritz Kreisler and Alice Macmillan, "Mighty Lak a Rose" by Nevin and Stanton, "A Chinese Lullaby" translated by Madame Chang and a Chinese version of "Rock-a-Bye Baby."

As an added attraction "Little Isles of Freedom," a short subject with a commentary written by Dorothy Thompson, re-enacts the thrilling story of St. Pierre and Miquelon,
French outposts off the coast of Canada, which came under Nazi domination at the fall of France.

These brave villagers, discontented with the new government forced upon them, plotted how to overthrow the hated regime. They were powerless to act without outside help, but when that help finally arrived, they quickly ousted Vichy-controlled officials and threw their support to the Allies. The short subject, directed by Victor Sjöloff, is released by Warner Bros.

Greens Are Plentiful On Market As All Prices Remain Unchanged

"Popeye came to town," observed a young man on Lansdowne Market, yesterday as he glanced about at the bushels of spinach the farmers brought in. The heat of the last couple of days has hurried the spinach along with the result that the price dropped.

Potatoes were scarce again, but new beets and lettuce were plentiful.

A whole stall of columbine continued to wave in the slight breeze; flowering plants of all descriptions, both perennials and annuals, were nearby as well as vegetable plants.

One woman with sweet pepper plants — the California Wonder — was overheard setting a customer right in connection with green and red peppers. That some red peppers were the green ones ripened seems still to be news to many who have bought peppers on the market for years.

Prices of eggs remained steady, with supplies being short. Fowl was still in demand in the meat sections. Because of meat rationing, chicken was in demand more than it was last year this time. Prices of dairy products, including cheese, were unchanged.

STUDENT BODY AT COATICOOK VOTED PRAISE

Magazine Published by High School Students Wins Honors Among Similar Eastern Townships Publications.

Coaticook, June 26.—One of the most unusual of the many school magazines which have made their inaugural bow in Eastern Townships scholastic circles this year, is that of the Coaticook High School. The "C.H.S. Banner," as it is appropriately called, marks the first time in the age-old history of this well-known institution that a year book has been issued, and it reflects great credit on the staff and student body who contributed to its most original makeup.

Entirely the handiwork of the students themselves, the issue, unlike most school magazines, is a mimeographed job, even to the advertisements which were hand-drawn and the excellent art work which far outclasses the majority of school magazines in this particular aspect.

With a foreword by the Principal, O. E. Lewis, the magazine contains a special feature in the form of an Honor Roll of all former students who are serving in His Majesty's Forces, or the service of the U. S. A. Much of the success of the magazine revolves around the splendid efforts of the Editor-in-Chief, Alvin Kirmeyer, whose personally-written notes and editorial comment indicate exceptional talent in this field.

Assisting Editor Kirmeyer in his work was the following staff: Assistant Editors, Mary Hall, Beverly Bennett, Arlene Jordan and Lorna Hamm; Staff Artists, Leah Green, Business Manager, Ronald Owen; Production Manager, Jean Baldwin, and Circulation Manager, Bruce Hopkins.

The clever art work of Leah Green and Billy Faulkner, with the help of Eileen Pierce, Dora Snow and Mary Hal contributed largely to the success and splendid reception accorded the first issue of this magazine.

Student Opinion, very well-written, Descriptive Essays by the Senior Pupils, and a very clever Junior Junior Section all make a well-balanced book. One of the most attractive parts of the issue is the poetical touch lent by the truly professional verses of Mary Hall, who seems destined to be one of the up-and-coming writers of tomorrow. A special section for the French language, as taught in the school, shows the value of this part of the training, and reflects very creditably on the instructor.

One of the best parts of the magazine is the one-act play written by Mary Hall, of Grade Ten, entitled, "Where the Fleet of Stars is Anchored," one of the finest pieces of human interest stories yet read about the present war, and told in a manner that keeps one's interest to the highest pitch throughout.

Lorna Hamm, of Grade Ten, contributes one of the cleverest poems, or any school publication ever seen. Her heart-warming lines penned to "Youth" leave one absolutely gasping at its stirring message so strikingly portrayed.

School activities occupy an important section, with the usual school jokes completing an intensely-interesting fifty-page magazine. A page for school autographs makes this first issue complete.

All who contributed to the making of this magazine are to be heartily and enthusiastically congratulated. May "The Banner" keep waving for many years to come!

BRILLE WATCH PRESENTED

Featuring the last meeting of the Coaticook Lions Club was the presentation by Neil Tracy, of Sherbrooke, Field Secretary for the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, of a Braille Watch to Raymond Isabelle of this town.

Young Isabelle, who is being educated in Sherbrooke by the local Club, was presented with this watch as a special gift from the Lions Club and the Institute for the Blind.

The meeting was closed with the election of officers for the coming year, with Roger Bouchard being elected to fill the President's chair, replacing Anson P. Rogers, whose terms expires this month.

W. A. MEETING
Under the presidency of Mrs. Roy P. Stafford, the June meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Church was held on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. A. Hopkins. The meeting was opened with the singing of a hymn, "O Worship the King," followed by a few well-chosen remarks by Mrs. Stafford on How to Carry On Our Work—at break of day—at noontime—and at close of day. This was followed by the repetition of the Lord's Prayer in unison.

At the conclusion of the reports presented by the Secretary and the Treasurer, Mrs. J. N. White, Sr., gave a report for the Supply Committee, telling of the sale of clothing and other necessities just packed and sent to the Presbyterian Supply Committee.

After some discussion it was decided to hold an apron and food sale sometime in July in the Church Hall, and committees were appointed to arrange for this event.

The feature of the meeting was the address given by Mrs. J. N. White, Sr., Secretary of Temperance and Christian Citizenship. Mrs. White spoke on "A Call to Action," from the General Council, and closed her remarks with a brief prayer.

To conclude the afternoon meeting a special temperance sermon, recently broadcast by Rev. Arthur Organ of Trinity United Church, Toronto, entitled "A Free Man's Code of Honor," was presented by the following ladies: Mrs. Stafford, Mrs. Hopkins, Miss Elizabeth Nunn, and Mrs. Anson P. Rogers. Miss Isabel Wadleigh read an interesting article by the Rev. John Colburn. The meeting was closed with prayers by Mrs. Cora Ferrill and Mrs. Stafford, following which the members repeated the Mizpah Benediction.

CARON IS HEAVY HITTER IN INTERMEDIATE

Well Matched Double-Header To Be Played Here Tomorrow

A well-matched doubleheader will be the feature attraction in the intermediate "A" Baseball League to be played at the Park Avenue Stadium on Sunday afternoon.

In the first game the league-leading Boissoneault outfit will pit their strength against the newly-organized East Ward team. The East Ward players have had a lot of hard luck in the two games that they have played but reports have it that their team has been substantially reinforced by the addition of several good players and this should help them considerably in their efforts to break the spell of the Chimney Sweeps.

In the other game the Notre Dame team and the Mount Pleasant club will renew their old rivalry that carried them to a 6-4 draw after twelve innings of play in their first encounter some time ago. These two teams are tied for second place, having both lost to the Boissoneault team and having tied their game with each other. A battle royal can really be expected and all baseball lovers should come and see one of the best bills of the season.

Crowds so far at the games have not been terribly good but it is hoped that as the league advances a better turnout will follow. The teams are really shaping into good form and the brand of ball which they are now playing is up to any former standards set by similar leagues in this city. The exhibition game played against the Lachine Airmen last Thursday is a good example of the playing ability of the teams in this league.

Caron, of the Boissoneault team, is now leading the field in the batting lineup, having collected seven hits out of fourteen trips to the plate for an average of .500, while Dussault of the Mount Pleasant Club and Rouillard of the Boissoneault aggregation are not far behind with four hits out of nine trips to the plate for an average of .444. Brault, of the Chimney Sweeps, leads the pitchers' field with an average of 1.000, having won three games in as many starts while Roy, of the Notre Dame team, places second with one win, one loss and a draw to give himself a .500 average.

The following is the list of the batting and pitching averages and the league standing:

Caron, B.N. 14 7 .500

N. Dussault, Mt. P. 9 4 .444

Rouillard, B.N. 9 4 .444

A. Bergeron, E.W. 5 2 .400

F. Emond, Mt. P. 11 4 .364

Charley Wensloff Retains Unluckiest Player Crown

By JUDSON BAILEY, Associated Press Sports Writer.

There are managers and players in the American League who will tell you that the outstanding rookie pitcher in the junior circuit this season is Charley Wensloff of New York Yankees. This way is open to debate, but no one will question his right to be called the unluckiest.

Wensloff, called the "Iron Man" on the Yankees' Kansas City farm last season—he won twenty-one games in the American Association last year—was the only hurler to reach the charmed "20" bracket, and pitched 25 complete games. He has been a starting pitcher for New York ever since Manager Joe McCarthy looked him over in spring training.

But what has happened to him in his nine starts has been terrific. He was beaten by Washington in his first outing. His next loss was to Chicago White Sox when Lee (Buck) Ross pitched a one-hitter. His third was to St. Louis Browns 5-2, with all three St. Louis runs scoring through four Yankee errors. His fourth was last Sunday when he had a streak of wildness against Washington and was banished from the game for disputing an umpire's decision.

Wensloff pitched four-hit ball, fanned seven, and might have won except for one of the rarest happenings in major league baseball—a player batted out of turn.

Joe Gordon, the stellar second baseman, batted in the wrong place in first turn at the plate, but no scoring was involved and if the Red Sox noticed they said nothing. But on against the fence that brought a tally home. The run was nullified. Gordon made an attempt to redeem himself by hitting his seventh home run of the season to tie the score in the ninth.

Senators gave ground to the Yankees by dropping a 5-2 decision to Philadelphia Athletics in the face of six-hit hurling by Orie Arntzen.

Cleveland beat Chicago White Sox 6-2 and St. Louis Browns bumped Detroit Tigers 6-3. Vernon Stephens and Mike Chartak each hit two-run homers.

In the National League both St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn Dodgers were beaten. The present National League leaders were shutout 6-0 by Chicago Cubs and the Dodgers were waylaid by Philadelphia Phillies, 5-2, aided by Conker Triplett's two triples and Schooboy Row's eight-hit pitching.

Boston Braves backed up Nate Andrews' eight-hit chugging to beat New York Giants, 5-3.

The Pittsburgh-Cincinnati game was postponed.
