Bitter Murdochville Strike Ends; Help Must Be Re-Employed

MURDOCHVILLE, Que. — (CP) — After seven months of bitterness and strife, a strike of mine workers at the Gaspé Copper Mines Ltd., here came to a sudden stop during the weekend.

About 300 workers, members of the United Steelworkers of America (CLC) voted Saturday to end their walkout and return to work. But the company — which fired them all last August — said the men would have to apply for work like new employees, and held little hope that all would be hired.

The mine officials gave the strikers a back-to-work ultimatum more than two months ago, and then started to hire outside workers to re-open the copper smelter. Since then 800 men, including new immigrants to Canada, have joined the company and limited production has begun. Herve Berube, assistant general manager of the mine, said none of the present employees will be dismissed to make room for returning strikers. He indicated that only 200 men were needed now to reach the mine's full complements of 1,000 workers.

UNION PLEDGES AID

But Roger Bedard, USWA official who has directed the strike since it started March 11, said he expected that 300 strikers would be able to get their jobs back.

"The others will try to find work elsewhere," he said.

While members try to find employment here or elsewhere, the union will continue to provide financial help. Some 450 strikers remain in the area—the rest had either rejoined the company or had sought jobs outside Murdochville.

The strike was called after the company obtained a court injunction that prevented the Quebec labor relations board from dealing with a USWA application for certification. Then, on Sept. 24, the Quebec Superior Court threw the injunction out.

It was this decision, said Mr. Bedard, that prompted the union to call for an end to the strike. He said that if the strike had continued, it might have been considered an obstacle to final recognition.

A USWA spokesman in Montreal said the union hopes the company will not raise further legal objections to union certification. The company has seven days left to appeal the Superior Court decision.

Cabinet Attempt By Plevin

PARIS — (AP) — Rene Plevin agreed today to try to form France's 24th postwar government. Few members of the National Assembly thought he would succeed.

President Rene Coty sent the presidential plane to Brittany for Plevin, who was vacationing at his home there.

Plevin was Coty's second choice to succeed Premier Maurice Bourges-Maunoury.

Guy Mollet, Socialist party leader who was premier for 16 months until last May 22, went to the Elysee Palace Sunday night and told Coty he could not form a government.

The Socialists refuse to take part in any government which is not given special powers to fight inflation by price freezes and strict economic controls. Mollet apparently decided that there was no hope of his rallying enough support for this kind of a program.

Such measures are opposed by the centre group of independents, who helped defeat Premier Maurice Bourges-Maunoury last Monday when it joined opponents of the government's Algerian home-rule bill.

Plevin also was believed unlikely to muster the necessary majority in the national assembly, although he is a skillful conciliator who twice served as premier, in 1951 and 1952. He is a member of the small Democratic and Socialist Union of Resistance, slightly left of centre in the 15-party national assembly.

US Eyes Russian Reaction

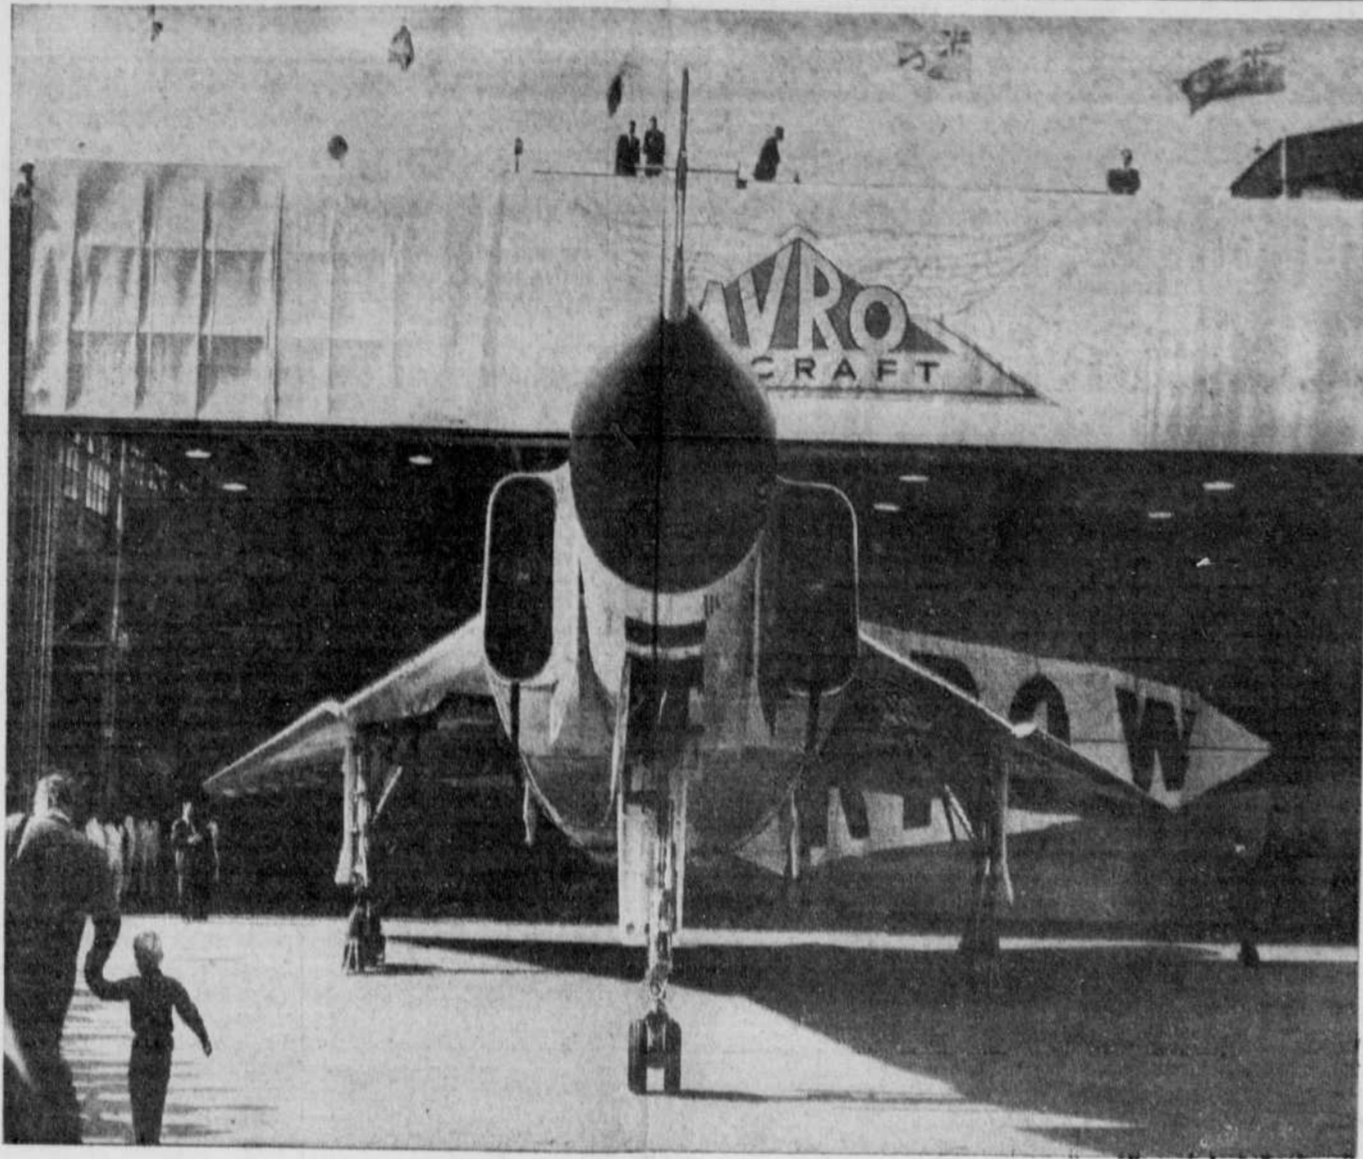

WASHINGTON — (AP) — State department officials awaited Moscow reaction today for evidence on whether the unprecedented Gromyko-Dulles talk here Saturday will lead to some improvement in Soviet-American relations.

Meanwhile, State Secretary Dulles and his aides were studying Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko's comments in the person-to-person discussion carefully to see whether they opened up any new avenues of approach.

Dulles and the Soviet diplomat met in Dulles' home for 3 1/2 hours. A joint statement said they had talked about the Middle East, disarmament, the European situation and contacts between this country and the Soviet Union.

The statement which both men agreed to, declared that exchange of views had been helpful in clarifying the policies of the two governments on these major areas of common interests. Gromyko told reporters upon leaving Dulles' house, with a friendly farewell handshake at the front door, that he considered the session "useful."

Informed officials said neither man had put forward any new ideas as of the problems raised.

The plane, which has not yet flown, is said to have a speed of 1,200 miles an hour and will be capable of carrying a hydrogen bomb. Because of its enormous thirst for fuel, however, it will be able to remain in the air only 20 to 30 minutes. (CP Photo)

Little Rock Quiet On Surface; South Carolina Buys Machine Guns To Repel Federal Troops

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — (AP) — A surface calm overlaid this focal point of the south's integration struggle during the weekend. But outside the state there was sound and fury.

In Little Rock, only the presence of troops around Central High school betrayed well. But elsewhere:

A South Carolina county bought nine sub-machine guns to repel any federal troops which might be sent there as they were here. A burning cross, symbol of southern resistance reaching back to reconstruction days, blazed on the lawn of Governor Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland, a critic of Governor Orval Faubus of Arkansas, whose acts are blamed by some for touching off the Little Rock crisis.

Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said in Chicago that the "greatest sin" of Faubus "has been arousing and fanning ugly racial hatred in the minds and hearts of impressionable white children in the north and south."

LITTLE ROCK QUIET
Little Rock citizens went about their normal weekend pursuits. The paratroopers increased their circulation among civilians. Some attended churches. One weekend ago they were confined to their base on the school grounds or their guard stations.

Many pastors Sunday asked their congregations to attend special services next Saturday when city-wide prayers for reconciliation of views in the racial dispute will be made.

Operation Satellite

Canadians Scan Skies For "Baby Moon"

Canadians hopefully scanned the skies for satellites Sunday and enthusiastically reported sighting yellow balls, an orange-gold substance, round objects, streaks and flitting spheres.

But as Russia's two-foot space satellite whizzed monotonously round and round the earth, there were no confirmed sightings of scientific bodies anywhere in the nation.

Radiomonitoring was a different proposition. There were scores of reports from ham operators whose shortwave sets picked up the intermittent "beep" of the baby moon's transmitter

Joker Fouls Up Satellite Signal

MONTREAL — (AP) — George Good, Montreal ham radio operator, suspects a practical joker is hornning in on the Russian satellite's broadcast frequency.

He said he picked up the satellite's radio signal early today. "But a little later on the same frequency a message in Morse code came over," he said.

Decoded, the message read: "This is the man in the moon. Better watch out or the big black bear will get you."

Russia Explodes H-Bomb

LONDON. (Reuters) — Russia exploded a "powerful hydrogen warhead of new construction" Sunday, the official Soviet news agency announced today.

The news agency Tass said the test was successful. The warhead was exploded "at a great altitude" to protect the population and the persons taking part in the test.

Gouzenko Says Reds Spying

NEW YORK — (AP) — The Times quotes Igor Gouzenko as saying Soviet spies must have infiltrated the United States missile production system.

An Ottawa-dated story says Gouzenko wrote President Eisenhower to state that Russia was able to launch the world's first earth satellite by stealing information from the United States.

by the Russians last Friday. Garnett Wafer, a ham radio operator at Bathurst, N.B., said he sighted "a streak in the sky that didn't quite look like a shooting star." Fellow ham Hugh McCrae said his set echoed the "beeps" twice Sunday night.

Charles Hedley of Halifax said he saw a yellowish streak racing toward the western horizon Saturday night. He said "it was just a flash, nothing more."

Muriel Low, a housewife standing near Hedley, said she saw "a bright spherical ball about 10 minutes to 11." Others nearby said they saw nothing.

Representatives Of 2 Governments Seek Removal Of Irritants

WASHINGTON — (CP) — Canada and the United States today open a fresh round of talks aimed at removing some of the irritants which disturb the economic relationships between the two countries.

Cabinet representatives of the two governments, meeting at the state department, will deal largely with Canada's perennial complaint that U.S. trade policies, particularly in the sale of surpluses of wheat and other farm products, are undermining Canadian markets abroad.

The Canadian delegation is headed by Sidney Smith, Canada's newly-appointed external affairs minister, and includes Finance Minister Fleming, Trade Minister Churchill and Agriculture Minister Harkness.

American interest is aroused, too, by the fact the Canadians come fresh from the Mont Tremblant, Que., conference where Commonwealth finance ministers agreed to Canada's proposal for a full-dress Commonwealth trade conference. Diefenbaker has said he would like to see Canada divert 15 per cent of her trade from the U.S. to the United Kingdom.

The Canadians are expected to bring up the efforts made unsuccessfully at the last session of the United States Congress to impose restrictions on imports of Canadian lead and zinc.

Jordan To Join Arab UN Chorus

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — (AP) — Jordan delegate Yusuf Haikali was expected to join the Arab chorus of "hands off Syria" in the United Nations General Assembly today.

Israeli Foreign Minister Golda Meir was to follow Haikali in the assembly's policy debate. She planned to say that an influx of arms into the Middle East endangers peace there and keeps living standards down.

Later today Syrian Foreign Minister Salah Bitar was to enter the debate with his reply to U.S. State Secretary Dulles' charge that the arms Syria is getting from the Soviet Union threaten Turkey and other neighbors of Syria.

Bitar has already denied the charge. Despite earlier charges from Amman that the Syrians plotted to overthrow King Hussein, Jordan recently has lined up her public policy on Syria with that of the other Arab nations who contend Syrian arms imports are the concern of no other country.

In a television interview Sunday, Bitar said Syria wants arms only to prevent aggression but does not yet have enough even for that. He charged Israel is committing aggression daily.

He accused the Western press of waging a propaganda campaign against his government but said he did not believe this "will prevent me from contacting the American government or American officials."

Fishermen Strike

VANCOUVER, (CP) — Five thousand British Columbia salmon fishermen went on strike against 11 canning companies Saturday to back up price demands on chums, secretary Homer Stevens of the United Fishermen and Allied Workers Union said Sunday.

The babies' weight at birth ranged from 2 to 2.3 pounds.

Outer-Space Missile Control Debate Slated

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The West readied a United Nations disarmament resolution calling for international control of outer-space missiles today while a Soviet satellite circled the earth.

United States sources said they thought the Soviet Union's launching of the world's first man-made moon would deeply affect "the whole feeling about the urgency of the disarmament negotiations."

They said perhaps 20 countries would submit the resolution for debate to begin probably Wednesday in the UN assembly's political committee.

Diplomats reported the resolution would have the 82-nation assembly call for resumption of negotiations in the UN disarmament subcommittee on the basis of six Western proposals:

(1) Agreement on measures to control outer-space missiles; (2) cessation of production of fissionable materials for use in weapons; (3) gradual transfer of military atomic stockpiles to civilian use; (4) an end to nuclear tests; (5) cuts in arms and armed forces, and (6) ground and air inspection covering the whole of disarmament.

Britain, Canada, France and the United States proposed this program to the Soviet Union in the five-power subcommittee in London Aug. 29. The Soviets rejected the plan and the subcommittee talks recessed in deadlock eight days later.

The specific proposal on outer-space missiles is that within three months after a disarmament pact takes effect, a technical committee should be set up to work out an inspection system to see that such missiles are devoted "exclusively to peaceful and scientific purposes."

World News In Brief

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Petro Trevino, 45, rested in a hospital today with back injuries after falling into a 40-foot deep creek bed. He said he got tired Sunday night while walking home. He said he started to sit down on a bridge railing. The bridge had no railing.

WARWICK, R.I. — (AP) — Four firefighters were injured Sunday while giving a public firefighting demonstration to mark the start of Fire Prevention Week. They were showing how to control an oil fire when a wind gust sprayed burning oil on them.

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — A 12-year-old girl scout who had been practising tying knots with a rope was found hanged in the bedroom of her home Sunday. State police said the death of Caroline Usamer appeared to be accidental.

TUNIS, Tunisia (Reuters) — Eleven persons were killed, two are missing and 38 were injured Friday in a violent storm which hit the little fishing port of Krijen, in the Kerkennah Islands in the Gulf of Gabes, official Tunisian sources said Sunday night.

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — Munich's two-week Oktober festival, Germany's biggest organized beer party, ended Sunday with the annual ritual of proudly reckoning how much beer was swallowed. The figure: About 2,700,000,000 quarts. The festival drew 5,500,000 visitors. City officials sadly conceded neither figure was a record.

TOKYO (AP) — A 3.3-inch rainfall loosed a landslide that buried three persons alive in Tokyo Sunday. Eight hundred homes were flooded and train and phone services disrupted.

MADRID, Spain. (Reuters) — Pablo Perez Gomez, 67-year-old attendant in the Madrid bullring, died Sunday night after being gored by a bull which jumped the barrier during a bullfight in the afternoon.

MONTIGAC, France. (Reuters) — The entire skeleton of a prehistoric man has been unearthed here, archaeologists reported Sunday. They said they may have struck an ancient graveyard. Other bones dug up here appear to date back 40,000 years.

Fashion Show / Waterville Draws Capacity Audience

WATERVILLE — A capacity crowd turned out for the fashion show at the United Church hall, sponsored by the W. A., which Mrs. F. Fidler was instrumental in bringing here. All costumes modelled were from Chez Jeanne, Engr., Magog.

Prior to the opening of the show the audience was entertained with piano music by Hugh Robertson of Magog. Mr. Robertson also played background music, changing tempo to suit the occasion which costumes represented.

The commentator, Miss Janine Beauty, opened the event by stating in French and English on behalf of the sponsors that she was happy to see such a wonderful attendance and explaining that the proceeds would be used to help defray expenses of the newly decorated Church Hall.

It would be impossible to describe in detail all the costumes which were modelled. They featured the trend of the season for everything from sport clothes to party wear. Mink seemed to be the finishing touch to practically everything, a collar on a sweater, trim on a suit, or dress and for a coat collar. Tweeds have come into their own in coats, suits, slacks and dresses.

The predominating new color is the Christian Dior blue which was seen in sweaters, dresses, hats and raincoats. Other popular colors were reds, greys and black as well as the widely used yellows, greens and browns.

Classic sweaters, blouses, sweaters and sweater jackets have taken a very prominent place in midday fashions for the coming months, ranging from bulky knits right down to the fine cashmeres which include all the new synthetic fibers.

The lines like the materials and colors are many and varied, with special stress on the new full blouse and narrow hemline on the coat and the straight skirt on dresses and suits. Another line shown was the loosely fitted top, nipped in waistline and circular skirt. The conventional tailored styles are still favorites and are holding their own with the new fashions.

The wide brim and cloche hats are very much in vogue for the coming months as well as the many versions of the beret.

Some of the cocktail dresses shown were boasting the scoop neckline draped with either self or contrast material. Others shown were strapless with bouffant skirts.

One of the main features of the evening's event was the showing of several Borganne coats which look like luxurious fur coats. These are dyed to imitate well known furs such as sheared muskrat, seal, etc. One

Inco Research helps Canada grow

These men are examining a "test spool". It is used by Inco to broaden the knowledge of the effects of corrosion on metals. The spool is made up of a number of small discs of different metals and exposed to conditions that cause corrosion in industry... chemical solutions and vapours, for example. At Inco's laboratories the nature and extent of corrosion of these specimens is determined. The results are freely available to industry. Already, Inco has accumulated in such ways over 150,000 items of corrosion information. And new tests are constantly being made not only in Canada but throughout the world.

INCO RESEARCH helps fight a billion-dollar battle against corrosion

Rust is the most common form of corrosion. It is caused most often by the action of air and water on iron. In industry, corrosion is caused by many chemical compounds—acids and alkalis, liquids and vapours.

In the repair of equipment, in replacement parts, in the idleness of machines, corrosion costs more than six billion dollars a year throughout the world—probably several hundred million dollars in Canada alone.

For many years, Inco has carried on a relentless fight against corrosion in the plants of many companies faced with these serious problems, in its laboratories in Canada, the United States and Great Britain... at its marine testing station in Kure Beach, North Carolina.

Through continuing research and the development of new corrosion-resistant alloys, Inco helps Canadian industry save many millions of dollars every year.

Youngster Drowns In Magog River

The body of 11-year-old Paul Bolduc, of 967 Stanley St., Apt. 8, who was the object of an overnight search, was found on the rugged shore of the Magog River yesterday morning.

District Coroner Dr. Louis Gagnon gave drowning as the cause of death.

A Montreal fisherman, Robert Hight, of 14000 Decarie Blvd., discovered the body partly submerged in a pool of water below the power dam behind the Paton Mill.

The youngster's shoes and socks were found on the shore near the body leading police to believe that he was wading when he tripped and fell into the water.

At the time of the youngster's disappearance Saturday night, the river level was still high. When Mr. Hight made his discovery, the water level had dropped to merely a few feet in depth and the body was found lodged near some stones beside a stream that flowed down the middle of the riverbed.

Mrs. Oliva Bolduc told police she last saw Paul around 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon when he stopped in the house for a drink of water. She said she called him at 5 o'clock without any success and then reported him missing to the municipal police at 8.57.

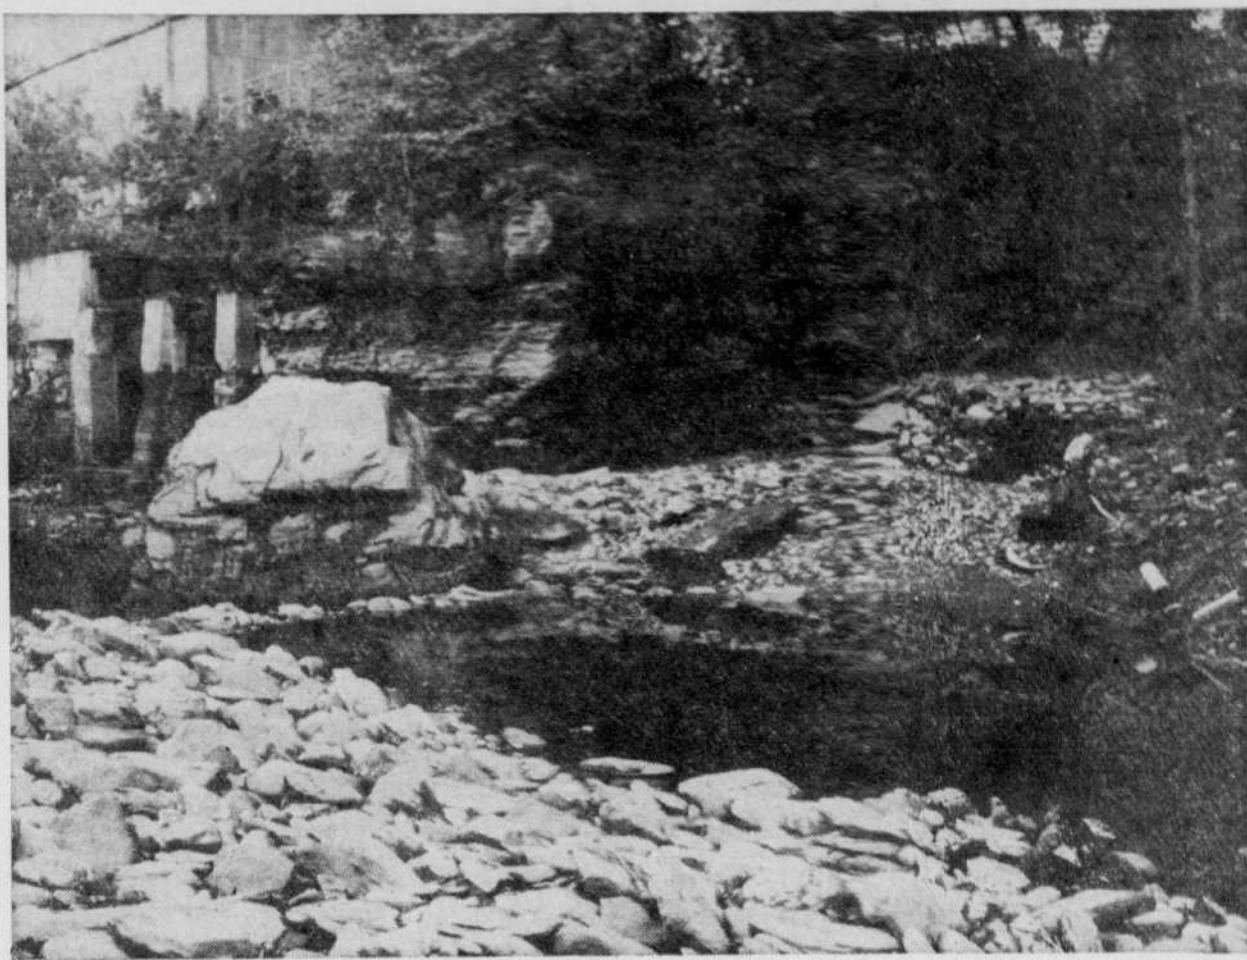

A city-wide search was organized but it failed to turn up the youngster until the following morning when Mr. Hight made his discovery.

Mr. Hight in an interview yesterday said: "I come down here almost every weekend to fish. I usually spend Saturdays and Sundays at the Paton dam. I went up Sunday morning but the dam was empty."

"I thought to myself I guess there's no fishing for me. But then I went along the shore below the dam and worked my way down to the water through the bush. At one place there's a suitable place to fish."

"It was then I saw the body on the stones, I noticed he had no shoes nor stockings and his legs were doubled back behind him with his face lying in the water. Then I went for the police."

A coroner's inquest into the death is scheduled for 11 a. m. Wednesday morning in Police Station No. 1.

$5,000 Fur Theft Heads Crime List

The theft of $5,000 worth of furs at a Wellington St. North store topped the list of a crime wave that swept Sherbrooke over the weekend.

Twenty fur coats were stolen from the Marcel Jodoin fur store at 13 Wellington St. North by thieves who entered the premises through a hole smashed in the wall of an adjoining dance studio. Lycee des Petits, operated by Mrs. A. Giguere-Becigneul, during the night of Saturday to Sunday.

The break-in was discovered by Mrs. Becigneul Sunday afternoon.

An official of the store said this morning early reports that the theft was for some $10,000 was inaccurate and placed the value of the stolen coats at about $5,000.

A young man was arrested early Sunday morning while trying to break into the collection box of St. Michael's Cathedral.

The sexton heard a disturbance in the church about 2 a. m. Sunday and notified police who made the arrest. The young man is reported to be a resident of Montreal.

Four youths will appear in Welfare Court of Montreal following their arrest early Sunday morning in Sherbrooke in possession of a stolen car.

The arrest was made at the corner of Hutchison St. and Durocher Lane. The car carried license plates taken from a car parked on Clark St. Police made the arrest because the youths looked suspicious. It was later discovered that they were in possession of a car stolen in Montreal.

Thieves stole $10 from a strong box in a Depot St. chain saw store after they entered the building through an unused ventilation opening.

There were also four false alarms reported. The Canadian Bank of Commerce on King St. West and the Bank of Montreal on Wellington St. North registered false alarms this morning.

The Jean Paul Perrault Jewellery shop, at 146 Wellington St. North and the Gerard Perrault fur shop, at 59 Alexander St., also had false alarms over the weekend.

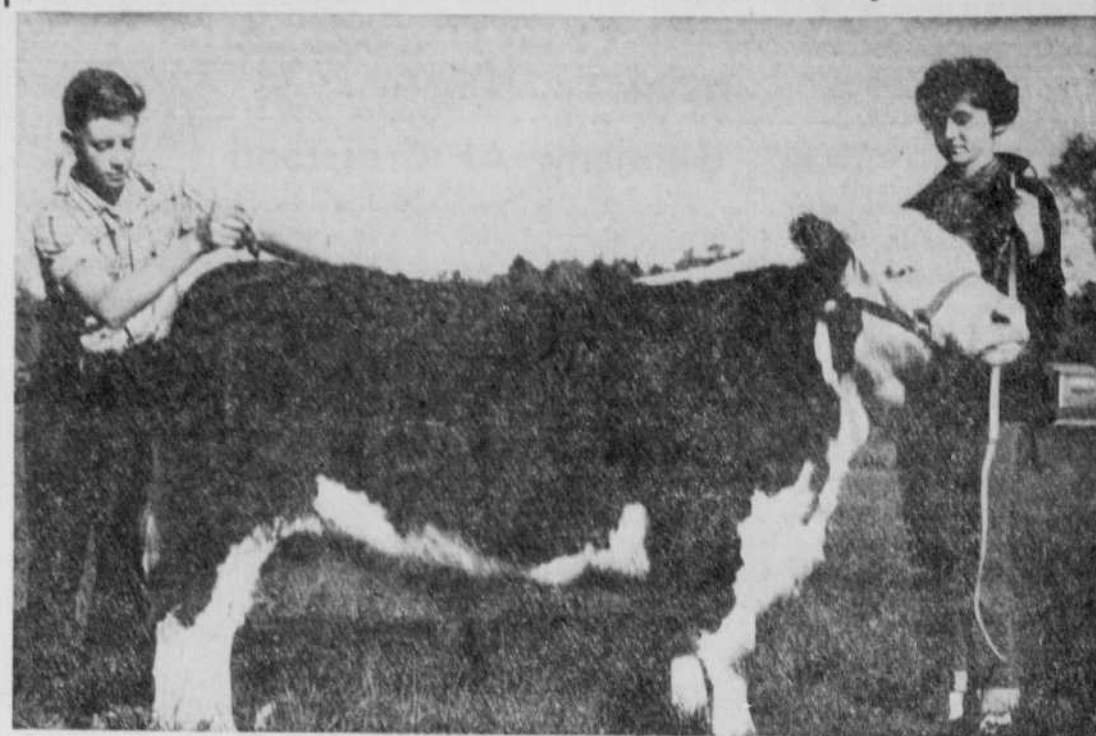

Slight Damage To Wellington Street Pharmacy

Fire, believed to have started from a short circuit, caused an estimated $200 damage to the front of the Olivier Pharmacy at 20 Wellington St. North last evening.

The blaze started in the lighting fixtures above the display windows outside the store. When firemen from Station No. 1, under the direction of Lt. L. P. Harton, arrived, the fire was spreading along the windows.

Firemen used two fog nozzles to extinguish the fire. Water and smoke damage was caused to merchandise in the windows of Olivier's and the adjacent Montreal Shoe Store.

Rotary Governor Making Visit To Sherbrooke Club

The Rotary Club of Sherbrooke will be host to G. Earl Heath, Governor of the 785th District of Rotary International, who is making his annual official visit to each of the 32 Rotary Clubs in his territory. District No. 785 contains 15 clubs in Vermont, 15 in New Hampshire, and 2 in the Province of Quebec. He will address the local Club and confer with President Cliff Bryant, Secretary Hawley Griffith and committee chairmen on Rotary administration and service activities.

Mr. Heath is a member of the staff of the United States Customs in St. Albans, Vt., and is a member and Past President of the Rotary Club of the Boundary, Rock Island Club. Governor Heath was born in Derby Line, is a past president of the local P. T. A. and a past president of the International Community School, an adult education group in Stanstead. For five years he was chairman of the District International Service Committee.

He was elected as a District Governor of Rotary International for the 1957-58 fiscal year at Rotary's 48th Annual Convention in Lucerne, Switzerland last May. He is one of 249 District Governors supervising the activities of more than 9,500 Rotary Clubs which have a membership of 446,000 business and professional executives in 102 countries throughout the free world.

Wherever Rotary Clubs are located, President Bryant asserted in discussing the Governor's visit, their activities are similar to those of the Rotary Club of Sherbrooke because they are based on the same general objectives—developing better understanding and fellowship among business and professional men, promoting community-betterment undertakings, raising the standards of business and professions, and fostering the advancement of good will, understanding and peace among all the peoples of the world.

Each year, this world-wide service organization continues to grow in numbers and in strength. During the past fiscal year, 341 new Rotary Clubs were organized in 41 countries of North, South and Central America, Europe, Asia, Africa, and the Islands of the Pacific, and six countries were added to Rotary's roster—Cambodia, French Cameroon, French Equatorial Africa, Guadeloupe, Liechtenstein and Uganda.

LADD'S MILLS — Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cunningham of Stanstead, visited her sister, Mrs. Stanley Drew recently, and then went on to Colebrook to visit Mr. and Mrs. Elizabeth Cunningham and family.

The annual Sherbrooke Winter Fair of the Eastern Townships Agricultural Association got underway today with the accent on youth, and some of the highest quality beef seen at the fair in some years.

The program today calls for events in the Ninth Provincial Rally of Beef Club. This afternoon, judging competitions will take place in all breeds of beef cattle, to be followed tonight by the annual banquet, at which prize-winners will be announced. The C. D. French Trophy for the winning judging team will be awarded.

Following the banquet, a showmanship contest will take place. Tomorrow morning, judging in the regular Aberdeen Angus, Hereford, and Shorthorn beef cattle will take place, along with market hog judging. Tomorrow afternoon, market lamb judging will start.

A special auction sale of purebred Shorthorns will be held in the Arena tomorrow night, starting at 8 p. m. Auctioneer will be Art Bennett.

Some 16 head of cattle will be up for sale at this auction. Wednesday, morning, judging of market cattle starts, along with judging of sheep and swine. The showmanship contest will be held at the same time the market cattle judging is going on.

The fair will wind up Thursday afternoon with the grand sale of market cattle which has made the Winter Fair so famous. It will get under way at 1.30 p. m. in the Arena.

Junior events will continue tomorrow with judging of heifer calves, and steer judging. Wednesday, steer judging in regular classes will continue.

Another French Course Opening This Evening

Another series of free French courses for English-speaking persons will open at the Leblanc School, 573 Ontario street, this evening and will continue twice weekly through the fall and winter months.

Last year some 75 students followed the course and from the enthusiasm displayed a large attendance is expected this year.

The course, sponsored by the Department of the Provincial Secretary, affords an excellent opportunity for adults to learn French under qualified teachers. Those wishing to follow the course are asked to register at 7.30 this evening.

Thanksgiving Birds Plentiful And Cheap, Survey Indicates

Poultry salesmen in major centres across Canada say there are turkeys for everybody for Thanksgiving and Winnipeg families will probably get them the cheapest.

Winnipeg housewives will buy tom turkeys for as low as 44 cents per pound for the traditional annual celebration.

In Sherbrooke, prices are expected to range from 52 to 53 cents a pound for prime birds.

Hens are more expensive everywhere and Winnipeg retailers will sell them for 49 or 50 cents a pound.

The most expensive turkey dinners will be prepared in Nova Scotia where the top price is 79 cents a pound for pullets weighing between four and eight pounds.

This is up from last year and well above the estimated average turkey price in Saint John, N.B., which is 69 cents a pound.

A Canadian Press survey also showed that an average turkey price of 70 cents a pound makes Newfoundland prices higher than the rest of Canada except Nova Scotia.

MONTREAL PRICES
In Montreal, where people buy nearly as many turkeys for Thanksgiving as they do for Christmas, top retail prices will likely settle at 51 or 52 cents a pound. This is up from last year's 49-cent figure.

In Ontario, Ottawa retail prices are expected to average about 59 cents a pound. Expected wholesale prices in Ontario will be about 52 cents for hens and around 45 cents for heavy turkeys. Sale figures quoted in Reg. are similar.

Alberta prices are expected to drop from last year and most turkeys will retail for about 55 to 57 cents a pound. Some prices are expected to drop as low as 50 cents.

Vancouver prices are the same as last year. Birds will retail anywhere from 55 to 69 cents a pound depending on size and type.

Chickens, geese and ducks are plentiful in Canada this year for those who prefer them to turkeys.

Local Resident Was Member Of Sangster Church

The death occurred today at the Sherbrooke Hospital, of William H. Wheeler, husband of the former Mabel Larrabee, in his 78th year.

Mr. Wheeler had retired from the Canadian Ingersoll Rand seven years ago after having been employed there for 37 years.

A quiet and unobtrusive man, Mr. Wheeler was an Elder of Sangster Memorial Church and a member of the Sons of England Lodge. He was the son of the late Edward Wheeler, formerly of Buckinghamshire, England.

Besides his wife, Mr. Wheeler is survived by two sons, Russell and Ashley and their wives; a sister, Mrs. Walter Ellis, of Lennoxville and five grandchildren; Mark, Rosemary, Lynn, Katherine and William. He was predeceased by two brothers, Charles and Walter and two sisters, Bertha and Lou.

Funeral prayers will be said in the R. L. Bishop Funeral Chapel on Wednesday, October 9 at 2.00 p.m. followed by the service in Sangster Memorial Church, Dr. J. E. Boucher officiating. Interment will take place in Elmwood Cemetery.

West Germany At Crossroad

Twelve years after the end of World War II, the pace and size of German economic recovery have become commonplace. But there are indications now that a critical phase is unfolding.

The fact is that West Germany's rebuilding has reached such heights that it is outstripping its European competitors in the market.

The remarkable industriousness that has produced this revival deserves wide admiration. But there is some danger in the economic situation which results.

West Germany is in somewhat the same status that the United States has so often found itself in recent decades. It sells more to its customers than it buys from them. Thus the customers have trouble accumulating enough German marks to keep on purchasing German goods in volume.

Sooner or later everybody will suffer if some way isn't found to break this log jam. American officials are urging West Germany to extend large amounts of credit to help take up the slack. They believe the Germans can afford to do so. In fact, they think they can actually engage in foreign aid programs on a fairly sizable scale.

If the latter were done, some of the burden of foreign aid would be taken off the United States. At the same time, Germany's relations with not only its European neighbors but nations in Asia and Africa would be considerably enhanced.

Ideally, West Germany should take in more of its customers' products to help balance its trade. Up to now, however, there are no great signs that this is likely to happen soon.

So credit and foreign aid programs seem the only immediate answer. They will at once assist in correcting what may become a perilous imbalance of trade in Europe, and make resourceful use of German economic strength for the benefit of the wider family of free nations.

If Germany has indeed become a member of this family with the intent to remain indefinitely in good standing, here is a great opportunity for it to demonstrate. A beckoning path of cooperation and assistance lies ahead.

Fire Prevention Week

Last year the citizens of Canada were hit with a staggering bill of over $100,000,000 for fires.

This represents only the cost in property! The cost in lives is equally terrifying, when we consider that so many fire victims are children.

Again this year the Governor General has issued a decree which sets aside this week for the observance of Fire Prevention Week.

During that week you, a citizen of this great country of ours will read, hear and see countless messages urging you to be careful with fire. How well you absorb these lessons will be reflected in next year's statistics. Will your home become a sacrifice to carelessness? Will you be "fired" off your job? It's up to you!

No one can "make" a person be careful. There are today a great many people of the "It Can't Happen to Me" school. These people are much like the ostrich who sticks its head in the sand and feels quite certain that because it cannot see, others cannot see it.

This form of "isolationism" is nothing more than a refusal to face the facts and the proof that such a philosophy is dangerous when applied to Fire Prevention is easily found in cemeteries from Newfoundland to British Columbia.

The Fire Prevention Week posters which are prominently displayed throughout your community and which were distributed coast-to-coast by the Board Insurance Companies as a public service, bear the message "STOP FIRES - SAVE LIVES."

Stop Fires - Save Lives! It is as simple as that. The tragedy is that it is as simple as that. It is accepted over 90 percent of the fires are caused by carelessness. All we have to do to stop 90 percent of the fires which occur each year in Canada, is to be careful. Not really very difficult, is it?

COMMUNISTS IN INDIA

The Printed Word.
—Rigid party discipline may account as much for Communist gains in India as does failure of Congress party's socialistic panacea. Such discipline is no less rigid in the case of Communists who gain elective office, as five-page rule book for "guidance" of MPs makes clear.
Communist MPs are instructed that they must at all times when in the party line, and when in doubt confer with the party's central committee. They are warned to be on guard against "bourgeois" ideas being smuggled into their parliamentary work, they are told to live austere, and to apply themselves with vigor to developing "contacts with progressive elements in all parties and groups inside Parliament."

Absenteeism from their parliamentary work and from committees on which they serve is a cardinal sin in the Communist book.

NKRUMAH'S RECORD

(Calgary Albertan.)

Prime Minister Nkrumah of the new nation of Ghana, for years in and out of British jails, professed his desire to lead his people and all the native peoples of Africa to freedom and democracy and out of the stultifying and oppressive reign of colonialism.

Now that Ghana has won its freedom much ahead of the timetable which conservative British Colonial Office experts had set for it, what is Nkrumah doing about it?

At latest report he had, among other things of a more constructive nature, decided that a 20-foot statue of himself should be erected in the centre of the capital, over-ruled the courts in a number of decisions, ordered the deportation of a newspaper editor who was critical of the government, decreed that his head should go on the new stamps and coinage of the country and booted the governor general out of Government House so he could move in himself.

GETTING AWAY

(Winnipeg Tribune)

Five young men left San Francisco the other day in a 36-foot schooner. They have shown a great deal of determination in their plans to "get away" for their trip has been two years in the making.

Policy Ignores Arab Feelings

By DAVE OANCIA

Canadian Press Staff Writer
BEIRUT, Lebanon (CP) — The United States seems to have suffered at least a short-term setback in the Middle East as a result of its policy predicted on alarm over recent Syrian developments.

American influence has seldom been lower. Last winter it was at its zenith after the Eisenhower administration backed United Nations resolutions dealing with the fighting in Egypt.

Observers see the Arab reaction to recent American policy as the first major failure of the Eisenhower doctrine. This program postulates economic aid and military assistance for any nation attacked by the forces of a country "controlled by international communism."

The doctrine, however, appears to ignore the strong feelings of Arab nationalism and the preoccupation of the Arabs not with the threat from Russia, but with Israel.

Although the front of Arab unity is flawed, individual nations declare they will not allow an outside power to exploit divisions to turn Arab against Arab.

Recent American actions have had the effect of forcing Western Arab countries into refraining from criticism of Syria's pro-Soviet stand. Syrians also have rallied behind their government.

Arabs see Western powers pursuing anti-Russian aims that are not, to their minds, relevant to Arab interests.

They look on the West in terms of support of Israel, the abrupt withdrawal of an offer to help Egypt build the Aswan high dam and restrictive trade and monetary policies.

Israel, they say, could not exist without the American money which is making it stronger every day.

Russia, on the other hand, has turned to account the nationalistic feeling, the long-established xenophobia and the hostility to Israel. The Russians have not asked the Arabs to be Communist.

Few Arabs condemn Syria for getting Soviet arms for the stated purpose of defence against Israel.

This is one of the main reasons why the declarations about the danger of the pro-Soviet regime in Syria by President Eisenhower and State Secretary Dulles and the sudden airlift of arms to Jordan have had effects opposite to those intended.

Foreign Minister Samir Rifai of Jordan was embarrassed to the point where he said it was "bad luck" that American arms had arrived at such an "abnormal time." Syria has a right to do what it pleases about its own interests and, anyway, Israel is a far greater menace to Jordan than is her neighbor to the north, he added.

Even more significant was the meeting of King Saud of Saudi Arabia, Premier Alijawdat of Iraq and Syrian leaders in Damascus last week.

The Arabian monarch, a cornerstone of American policy in the Middle East, promised categorically to help defend Syria if she were attacked.

The talks between the premiers of Western-minded Iraq and Soviet-leaning Syria marked the first meeting in eight years between the government heads of these two countries.

Criticism of U.S. policies does not mean Arab countries are not concerned about Syria's swing to the left.

King Saud is reported to have sought assurances from Syria that no closer ties will be formed with Russia than the purchase of arms and the agreement covering economic co-operation.

Tiny Lebanon, a staunch supporter to the West, is concerned about a Syria defaulting to communism. This would likely throttle much of the coastal country's commerce with nations to the East.

Pro-Western Arabs are hopeful the West will swallow a distaste for "neutrality" and help the Arab become a strong neutral bloc committed to neither side.

A growing number of western observers say that a strong and neutral Arab world is the best that can be salvaged from past British and American policies.

To do this, they add, economic aid should be granted without political strings to assist the Arab world to develop its resources and to raise living standards.

JACOBY On Bridge

GLORIA PLAYS THE RIGHT CARD

The recent national tournament demonstrated that while the old-timers are still tough there is a new crop of young players coming along who are able to compete successfully against them.

Gloria Turner, a secretary from Chicago, has been playing in tournaments for five or six years. She has almost 1,500 master points but up to this year had never won a national title. This time she was a member of the team that won the mixed championship and also finished fourth in the open team of four. Unquestionably Gloria's name belongs on any list of the 10 best women players.

Today's hand shows Gloria's technique in playing a three no-trump contract. The whole play was in the diamond suit. Gloria needed four diamond tricks but wanted five if possible. She won the opening spade lead and promptly laid down the queen of diamonds. The purpose of this play was to guard against all five diamonds being in the West hand.

However, both opponents followed to this lead so she continued with the ten spot. When West followed, Gloria went up with dummy's ace and East showed out.

Now the wisdom of the ten spot play became apparent. Gloria returned to her own hand and led her last diamond. It did not matter whether West covered or not. The rest of the diamonds were good. If she had played the deuce instead of the ten that ten spot would have blocked off dummy's nine and Gloria would have wound up with only three diamond tricks instead of five and would have made only two no-trump not four.

Next year, just as last year and the year before, tens of thousands of dead and dying birds will wash up on the beaches of Newfoundland, while tens of thousands of others will be killed at sea, and will disappear without ever being seen or counted.

But if he violated regulations he accomplished two other commendable objects. He taught a motorist, a strong lesson against speeding, and he invoked respect for the uniform of the Ontario Provincial Police.

Credit To Uniform

(Ft. Wm. Times-Journal)
Driving from western Canada to Toronto, a motorist arrived at a good stretch of pavement in the Temagami area north of North Bay. Coming after the indifferent paving from Matheson southwards, the road felt like velvet. He put more weight on the accelerator and sifted along at about 65 miles per hour.

Presently another car was abreast of him, coming from behind. The driver glanced across to see a provincial police officer waving him to a stop.

"You were going too fast," the officer said after the cars had come to a stop.
"What did you clock me at?" asked the motorist.

"Sixty-two, sixty-five," replied the officer.

The motorist lifted a shoulder in resignation and commented, "I guess I've had it then."
"I see you have come from the north," said the officer. "I know that when you get on a road like this after some of the bad pieces further up, the temptation is strong to step on it."

"But speed kills. On my job I see how it kills. I'd rather see you enjoy a slow down than go to hospital. So slow down."

Wearing a kindly smile, the provincial police officer turned towards his car.

The motorist started his car, continuing on another 250 miles to Toronto. And not once did he exceed the prescribed limit.

Perhaps that officer should be disciplined. He let a guilty motorist go scot-free with a warning. Strictly speaking, he should have issued a ticket for speeding.

But if he violated regulations he accomplished two other commendable objects. He taught a motorist, a strong lesson against speeding, and he invoked respect for the uniform of the Ontario Provincial Police.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Planche, Walton Ave., left on Friday to spend a few days in New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Campbell, who spent a few days in Portland and other points in Maine, have returned to their home on Queen Blvd.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lavallee, Miss Edna Lavallee and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Wilkes, of Montreal, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Lavallee, Dominion Ave. while here to attend the Goodfellow-Moffatt wedding which took place in Magog, on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Spafford have returned to their home, in St. Lambert, after having spent the weekend with the former's mother, Mrs. A. L. Spafford, Vimy St.

Miss Hilda Fowlie, who was the guest of friends in Sweetsburg and Granby, has returned to her home, on Montreal St.

Mrs. Ashton Tobin, Mrs. J. H. Blue and Miss Elizabeth Ann Blue, have returned from Montreal where they attended the funeral of Mrs. J. A. Lafortune, held on Saturday.

Mrs. R. L. MacIver and Mr. Rod MacAuley, of Lachine, and Mrs. T. Baird, of St. Lambert, were here to attend the funeral of Mrs. Clifford Bryant, which took place last week.

Fr. Chrysanthus, Guest Speaker At CWL Meeting

The October meeting of the Sherbrooke subdivision of the Catholic Women's League of Canada, took place in the Canon Fiset Memorial Library, Wednesday evening.

Miss Arlene Hand, first vice-president, chaired the meeting which opened with the League Prayer and prayers for deceased relatives and friends of the members.

Mrs. E. J. Wolfe read the correspondence which included a letter from Rev. Father T. G. Welsh, S.J., of Toronto, in which he thanked the League for remembering his 25th anniversary of priesthood with a spiritual bouquet and a cheque. She also read a copy of a letter of congratulation sent to Rev. Sr. Ste. Philomene, sister of Mrs. F. Steben, who had been decorated for her outstanding success in teaching, on the occasion of the Blessing of St. Michael's Cathedral.

As spiritual convener, Mrs. Wolfe announced that a closed retreat will be held on Saturday and Sunday, November 9 and 10, for C.W.L. members and all English speaking ladies, at the Villa of the Blessed Sacrament.

The hospital visiting committee reported 16 visits to the St. Vincent de Paul; 54 to Sherbrooke Hospital; 83 to Sacred Heart Home and Youville Hospital, 9 to private homes. Rosaries, Catholic and secular magazines, treats and votive lights were provided for the benefit of the sick.

The chairman, commenting on the same subject, made an appeal for additional volunteers for hospital visiting.

Membership convener, Mrs. F. Steben, welcomed the new members; Mrs. Charles Steele, Mrs. Lindsay Reid, Mrs. K. Gingras, Mrs. Leslie Hayes and Miss Doris Robinson.

Mrs. Ernest Morin reported on work done at the Cancer Dressings Services for July, August and September as follows: 4 x 4 dressings, 1430; 6 x 8, 2691; 8 x 12, 677 pads, 12 x 24, 97; cello cotton cut, 26 yds.; filler cut, 706; gauze cut, 650. Hours given 111, by 17 workers.

Mrs. C. W. Clark, tea committee, announced that a salad tea will be held on Saturday, October 19, and the Christmas tea, Saturday, November 30.

Miss Yvette Campbell, education, announced that the Reading Club will meet on Wednesday, October 9. She suggested that other study and reading groups be formed. The diocesan president also reported on the Provincial convention in Quebec.

Mrs. L. Dion, Stella Maris convener, introduced knitting for ditty bags for Catholic Sailors' Club is being done.

Following reports, discussion took place on future projects and purposes.

After the business session Rev. Fr. Chrysanthus, of the Marianne Fathers, who recently returned from Africa, presented an interesting program of movies of people and places in Africa. These depicted native dances by children, a scene of Kruger Park the habitat of animals, the Indian Ocean, travel difficulties encountered by missionaries in their efforts to locate the sick and other equally outstanding scenes many of which were taken from the air.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. B. W. Murray and thanked by Mrs. Raymond Servencher.

Refreshments were served after the talk, when the hostesses were Mrs. C. W. Clark, Mrs. Octavien Leveque and Mrs. L. P. Leveque.

MANNERS MAKE FRIENDS

If the understanding is that a lunch or dinner is to be Dutch treat, don't try to grab for the check. That just complicates what should be an uncomplicated arrangement.

If you are with persons who are accustomed to going Dutch treat, your grab for the check may seem like showing off.

Educational, Welfare Work Stressed At I.O.D.E. Meeting

The 34th semi-annual meeting of the Quebec Provincial Chapter of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, was held at the Cascade Inn, Shawinigan Falls on October 3 and 4.

The meeting opened with the procession of standards and the entrance of the Provincial Officers, led by the president, Mrs. J. R. Beveridge, Montreal, who welcomed the delegates. Greetings were brought by the Mayor, Mr. Foucher, who expressed his gratification at having his City chosen as the site of the semi-annual meeting and welcomed the delegates to the City Hall. Mrs. J. H. Gibbs, Regent of the Shawinigan Falls Chapter, also welcomed the delegates.

Mrs. George Smith, Sherbrooke, Miss M. Hope Glass, Quebec and Mrs. D. Rowat of Montreal, were appointed assistants to the press convener.

Mrs. E. B. Sims, Lennoxville, Provincial Educational Secretary, reported that George Poirier, reported that George Poirier had been awarded the Agricultural Scholarship at Ste. Anne de la Pocatiere, the winner of the Macdonald College Agricultural Scholarship had not yet been announced. The Quebec North Shore Bursary winners, Robert Batten and Claude Springhall, were studying at Shawinigan Falls and Quebec High School respectively, and the Lord Baden-Powell Chapter had donated an extra bursary of $100 to tutor Mr. Springhall in French. Mrs. Sims stated that 1,056 students across Canada had been assisted in 1956-57, in all $90,000 being spent; $17,000 on scholarships; $13,000 in monetary assistance, and $20,000 on bursaries. The National War Memorial Bursaries in Quebec had gone to Miss Betty Denison, of Lennoxville and Robert Piau, of Windsor Mills. The teacher shortage still prevails in the schools, she said, and recommended the setting up of additional bursaries to assist students who might otherwise be unable to attend teacher-training schools.

Miss M. Hope Glass of Quebec, Echoes Secretary, congratulated the chapters on their contribution of notes to the magazine. Services at Home and Abroad Secretary reported that the Korean Project Fund was low, thus the regular shipment of powdered milk is being delayed. This fund sends X-ray film and development supplies to Korean Hospitals, and also sends powdered milk to the Save the Children Welfare Centre at Pusan. Shipments of clothing and bedding are sent regularly to Britain for distribution by the British Save the Children Fund. One-fifth of overseas shipments goes to the British Fund for the Commonwealth and four-fifths to the underprivileged in Europe and Asia. This represents only twenty percent of the welfare work done by the I.O.D.E., the other eighty percent of the half million dollars spent yearly is spent in Canada.

The secretary stressed the need for recreation clubs for elderly people, as are being set up in Montreal, St. Johns, Quebec, and other centres. Immigration and citizenship convener reported that once a month the members go to the Courthouse in Montreal to welcome new Canadians receiving their citizenship paper, and give them the greeting card of the Order. In Quebec the members assist the YWCA at its weekly classes to teach immigrants English and housekeeping duties and also meet all incoming boats to distribute clothing, food and advice to immigrants.

Commonwealth relations convener announced that the Order was now able to state definitely that a six-bed pediatric ward had been set up in the Canadian Missionary hospital at Indore to provide nursing care for children and education for their

Woman Earns Certificate As Master Mariner

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mrs. A.C. Pitt-Clayton holds a master's certificate and a third-class motor engineer certificate, and is active in the sea-going profession.

The former Miss Dorothy Blackmore virtually grew up on the waters of Alberni Canal and Barkley Sound, as the daughter of Captain George Blackmore of Nanose Bay, veteran towboat operator. She now is the wife of Group Capt. Pitt-Clayton, OBE, and the mother of two daughters.

While still a young girl she proved herself a capable skipper and at the age of 23 passed her examination and applied for a master mariner's certificate.

There was some consternation in Ottawa, for the Canada Shipping Act specifically uses the male tense in its wording of those qualified for a "ticket."

WON HER POINT

But Miss Blackmore stuck to her guns and was recognized as a qualified master mariner.

During war years she operated the Blackmore Marine Service out of Port Alberni on Vancouver Island, with a fleet of four speedboats and two tugs.

Now she and her husband operate an 80-acre waterfront property at Nanose Bay, north of Nanaimo, where they have about 20 small boats for fishermen.

Installation Ceremonies Planned By Foster Cosby L. A. At Derby Line

DERBY LINE — The home of Mrs. Dean Palin was the scene of a meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Foster Cosby American Legion and a stork shower honoring one of its members.

Mrs. James Stevens, Jr., presided for the business session.

The slate of officers was completed by Mrs. Palin accepting the presidency and Mrs. Joseph Queenin, the office of Sgt.-at-arms. A joint installation of the Legion officers of Foster Cosby Post and the Auxiliary will take place in the Derby Line Village hall on October 28. A refreshment committee of Mrs. Cyril Cargill, Mrs. Stevens and Mrs. Kenneth Jenness, agreed to make the arrangements.

A sum of money was voted for the Vermont Association for the blind.

Following the meeting Mrs. D. Downing as guest of honor was presented with a number of gifts placed in an heirloom cradle belonging to Mrs. Palin and has been in her family for over 100 years. After the gifts had been admired, Mrs. Downing thanked the members and friends for their thoughtfulness.

Refreshments were served which included individual stork cakes. Hostesses were Mrs. Palin, Mrs. Arthur Palin, Mrs. J. Stevens, Jr., Mrs. Jack Berry and Mrs. Robert Darby.

HOME DEMONSTRATION GROUP

The first fall meeting of the Derby Line Home Demonstration club met at the home of Mrs. William Burke.

It was decided to vote on the bylaws of the club at the next meeting.

Mrs. Ruth Lafoe was elected as the delegate to the County Council meeting in Orleans on October 22nd.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Marion Kelley on October 28, with "new friends in the kitchen" as the subject of the meeting. It is expected the agent will be present.

After the meeting Mrs. Buckland gave an interesting talk on color and its effects of different people. With some of the girls serving as models, Mrs. Buckland proved that color is important to all of us.

Lunch was served by Mrs. R. Racine, Mrs. Robert Gardyne and Mrs. Arthur Judd, Jr.

MOTHERS' MEETING

Mrs. Raymond Petelle entertained Girl Scout and Brownie leader, Mrs. Ann Aldrich and several mothers of girls enrolled in the troops at her home recently.

Leadership committee chairman for the Brownie troop will be Mrs. Kenneth Jenness assisted by Mrs. R. Murray and Mrs. John Webster. This includes Brownies of grades two, three and four.

Mrs. John Covens, was made chairman for the Girl Scout grades five to eight assisted by Mrs. H. Lithway and Mrs. C. R. MacLean.

Mrs. Wesley Rumery was appointed secretary and Mrs. R. Petelle treasurer.

Having a talent and hobby show was discussed and will be planned for in the future.

The date of October 12 was established for a rummage sale.

Several women of the Village were suggested to give leadership courses to the groups and announcements of this will be made after confirmed by members of the committees.

BROWNIE HIKE

Mrs. Aldrich and girls of the Brownie pack hiked from the Village to Merrybrook where they had a cook out. As they hiked past the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hackett in the Village where stands two great maple trees, they were given a view of something which is a freak of nature. Growing between and out of the crotch of one of the trees is a green fern, while out of another is either a butter-nut or a mountain ash tree. Naturally questions as to how and why were asked, with Mrs. Aldrich explaining either the wind or the birds must have carried the seeds to the trees where growth began.

Once at Merrybrook camp, the girls scrambled around the outhouse and an outdoor fire where they cooked supper.

Later games were played, hide and seek among the trees, then it was time to go home.

OPEN HOUSE

The Derby Line Universalist parsonage, home of Mr. Everett Knight was the scene of a gathering when members of his congregation and friends, were entertained at "open house".

A social evening and card games were enjoyed.

Later refreshments were served buffet style from the white linen covered table arranged with a floral centre.

Farewell Party For Pastor

KNOWLTON — Baskets of white gladioli decorated the United Church Hall which was filled to capacity when members of the congregation of the local church, as well as those of the Creek and Brill churches, along with friends from St. Paul's Anglican church gathered to bid farewell to their beloved pastor and his wife who had served them so faithfully for the past nine years.

Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Gray and daughter Eileen, coming to Knowlton from an Ontario Circuit, left on Wednesday to make their home in Merrittville, Ont.

On their arrival they were ushered to the front of the church where Mr. R. McCutcheon on behalf of the congregation of the Knowlton and Creek Churches, presented them with a purse of money. In his remarks, Mr. McCutcheon mentioned the fine co-operation Dr. Gray had always given him. He mentioned that while the United Church would miss him, the community would also feel a great loss as Dr. Gray was always interested in any group that was working for the welfare of mankind. He felt that the finest tribute he could pay Dr. Gray was that he was "A True Christian Gentleman."

Mrs. G. Honey, of Foster, presented Mrs. Gray with a gift from the Women's Association of the Creek United Church.

The ladies of the Creek and Knowlton churches served lunch.

A week prior to the party Mrs. Gray was presented with gifts from the Women's Association, the Women's Missionary Society and the W. C. T. U.

Eddie Mathews Smashes Homer In 10th To Give Braves Weekend Split

Dumas' Mary Herbert And Beaudoin's Direct Harvester Split Main Event; Double Pays Top Price With $136.10

Adelard Dumas' Mary G. Herbert, with Lucien "Smoky" Denault, driving, and Amedee Beaudoin's Direct Harvester divided the honors in the Handicap Pace yesterday afternoon in one of the best classes witnessed at the local oval for quite some time. In both heats the winners were clocked in the same time 2:10 1/5.

In the first half Amedee Beaudoin guided his fast-stepping pacer home in a stretch drive which brought the fans to their feet. It was a duel with Fabi's William West Kyer and Coombs' Clever Volo. Beaudoin went to the fore from the start and set a merry pace for the mile.

On the second trip it was even closer than the first as the field went to the half in 1:03 3/5 and finished in 1:06 3/5. All six horses remained in a bunch the whole way and it was only when they hit the stretch that Lucien Denault came up with a nice move to sneak home ahead of the field. The Dumas mare paid the top price of the day when the sum of $35.50 was collected.

The double of Fabi's Mariette Ibat and Davies' Clair Ibat paid their backers $136.10. The Davies' four-year-old mare rewarded his backers the top for a place bet with $20.50 was doled out by the pari mutuels.

The top price for a show investment was in the ninth when $9.40 was collected for Frisco Harvester C. The top quinella of the day was also in the ninth when $97.70 was picked up for the winning combination of Morgan's Curley Brooke and Frisco Harvester C.

On Saturday evening the winners stole the spotlight as the majority of them paid off well. The tops for the evening was in the fifth race when Hammond's Sturdy General, a newcomer to the local track, paid his backers $17.80 for a straight investment.

In the first race Bennett's West Oak Diplomat led the field under the wire and he paid 15.30, $10.40 and $3.90 across the board. The Bennett entry teamed with Gravel's Peggy Grattan G. in the second, to pay the double pickers the sum of $63.20.

The quinella in the ninth was the big payoff with the sum of $51.20 being doled out when Le-tourneau's Spencer Creed and Jones' Jean Grattan Alden finishing 1-2. Two of the favorites failed to finish when Rosina B stumbled and fell and Theroux's Pat G. Abbe crashed into her.

A dead heat was called in the seventh when Desrochers' Sir Tony and Coombs' Freda Harmony pulled under the wire at the same time. They formed the second quinella and paid $17.10 while the first in the third paid with a 1-1 draw at Leeds and now have 13 points. Closest challenger in West Bromwich Albion — one point behind — which beat Portsmouth 3-1.

Nottingham Forest, the previous week's leader, also won 4-3 against Tottenham Hotspur, but now is in third position, having played one game fewer than either Wolves or West Bromwich.

Manchester United, champion the last two seasons, is in fourth place but was well repaid for its downgrading by notching smashing 4-1 win against Aston Villa. For Manchester, it was a grudge match — a repeat of last May's English Cup final when Aston Villa was the winner.

In an international match at Belfast, Scotland and Ireland drew 1-1 with the result flattering the visitors, helped by poor Irish finishing.

Shearwater Flyers Extend Lead With 42-14 Win Over St. Francis Xavier; Dalhousie Whips Greenwood Bombers

HALIFAX — Dalhousie Tigers whipped Greenwood Bombers—39-6 here Saturday for their first Nova Scotia Football League win this season, while Shearwater Flyers strengthened their hold on the league lead by pounding hometown St. Francis Xavier University 42-14.

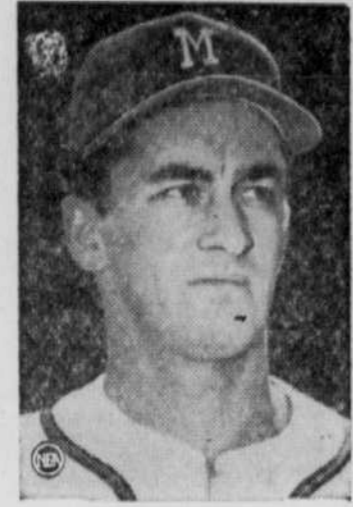

Tigers, winless in their last 10 games, tied Greenwood Bombers in their first 1957 tilt. Quarterback Teddy Wickwire completed 15 of 21 attempted forward passes and gained 334 yards on the ground Saturday to lead the spirited Tiger comeback.

Steve Thompson, Brewer Auld, Pete Corkum, and Wickwire were the Dalhousie scorers. Greenwood's lone touchdown was notched by Dick Headley.

Saturday's win put Tigers in a third-place tie with St. F. X. Greenwood holds second spot with Stadacona Sailors in the cellar.

Shearwater Flyers got their toughest workout of the season in Antigonish Saturday. Despite the long-sided score, St. F. X. held the offensive edge for three-quarters of the game. The university team scored the first touchdown and kept the powerful Fly-

Braves' Dressing Room

By JERRY LISKA

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Reporters virtually had to kick down the dressing room door of the delirious Milwaukee Braves Sunday.

Some 15 minutes after Ed Mathews clouted his two-run homer which gave the Braves a remarkable 7-5 victory over New York Yankees, the sports writers spilled eagerly into Milwaukee's joyous clubhouse.

Gendarms had held the writers outside while the Braves congratulated each other, peeled off sweaty work togs and enjoyed the presence of TV star Desi Arnaz, who somehow scooped the lads of the fourth estate.

Arnaz is one of the stars of the I Love Lucy, show but the theme in the Braves' dressing room was I love Eddie.

Mathews had to explain and then explain again how he measured a fast ball from the fifth Yankee pitcher, Bob Grim, to drill it over the right field fence for the final two runs of the thrilling game.

BORROWED BAT
The 26-year-old Mathews, a "bust" in the first three games of the series, told of borrowing first baseman Joe Adcock's bat to break his slump of nine hitless trips. He doubled in the fourth to end the drought. Then Eddie talked of the big clout in the 10th.

"It was a fast ball I hit off Grim with a 2-2 count," said the third baseman. "I knew it had the distance and I got the best feeling of my life. For a second, I got scared. Hank Bauer (Yankee right fielder) rapped his hand into his glove like he had a chance. But he didn't. It was gone."

In the Yankee clubhouse manager Casey Stengel said: "We did all right — we came back pretty good. Everybody booted it away. We got ahead in the 10th but couldn't hold it."

WANTED LOW-BALL HURLER
Stengel also explained why he took out pitcher Tommy Byrne after the lefthander hit pinch-hitter Nippy Jones with the ball. The Yankee manager called in righthander Grim "because I wanted a low-ball pitcher."

In each dressing room there was vivid example of how fleeting fame was in the hectic game. Milwaukee's Warren Spahn, who pitched 10 dogged innings for the victory, was asked only what kind of pitch he served Elston Howard, New York first baseman, who hit his three-run homer which tied the score 4-4 in the ninth.

"I'd say it was a sinker that turned out to be a stinker," said the Braves' ace lefty.

In the Yankee dressing room, Howard was a forgotten man although his powerful homer was a magnificent clutch performance on a 3-2 pitch which theoretically could have been the last Spahn toss of the game.

UK Finally Wins The Ryder Cup

LINDRICK, England. — Britain won the Ryder Cup Saturday for the first time in 24 years, crushing a polished team from the United States.

The final score was seven for Britain to four to the U.S., with one match halved.

In a great counter-attack, the British professionals won six of Saturday's eight singles matches. They had lost three of Friday's four Scotch foursomes, leaving themselves only the dimmest chance of pulling the match out of the fire.

Cape Breton Rams Take 2nd Straight At Wolfville

WOLFVILLE, N.S. — Cape Breton Rams registered their second win in as many starts in the Nova Scotia Junior Football League Saturday by downing Acadia University Axemen 15-6.

Acadia led 6-0 at the half, but the better conditioned Rams scored two second-half touchdowns, a safety and a rouge.

Think Oshen notched Acadia's only touchdown. Cape Breton marksmen were Gordie Way and Bob Couty.

Yanks Wallop Braves 12-3 Saturday; Home Runs Feature Sunday's Fixture; Ford And Burdette Get Nod For Today

MILWAUKEE — (AP) — Practically a new world series starts today as Milwaukee's Lew Burdette and New York's Whitey Ford go after their second victory in the fifth game of the October classic with an all-important 3-2 edge for the winners hanging in the balance.

With the best-of-seven series all square at 2-2 after Milwaukee's dramatic 10-inning 7-5 triumph over the Yankees Sunday, the seesaw battle must return to New York no matter what happens today.

Even the most partisan New York rooters, watching the Braves bounce back twice to pull abreast of the world champions, must be convinced that the Yankees are in for the fight of their lives to retain their laurels.

For the last contest at County Stadium here today the weatherman said there would be good baseball weather for the game, scheduled to start at 3 p.m. EDT.

CASEY WARY
"Those National Leaguers have proven to me what I've thought right from the beginning," New York manager Casey Stengel said Sunday. "I warned my fellows at the start not to take them too lightly. Make no mistake about it, this Milwaukee team is tough. It has the pitching, the defence and the hitting. It proved that in every game but one. Those fellows have hit all my pitchers but one. That's Ford. Now we'll see how those fellows can do against him this time."

Undaunted by his team's failure to disturb Ford in his previous effort, Haney asserted he will use the same lineup which came so near to being shut out by the lefthander. That means Andy Pafko will be in right field in place of rookie Bob Hazle and Joe Adcock will be back at first base, replacing Frank Torre.

Stengel said he would return to the lineup that assaulted six Milwaukee pitchers in Saturday's rout. Jerry Lumpe will be at third, Tony Kubek in left base and Harry Simpson at first base.

It was the 36-year-old Warren Spahn, ably supported by the bludgeoning bats of Henry Aaron, Torre, Johnny Logan and Eddie Mathews, who gained the all-important Milwaukee victory Sunday. He went the nerve-wracking 10-inning distance despite only a three-day rest and allowed 11 Yankee base hits that included a last ditch three-run homer by Elston Howard and a near-fatal triple by Hank Bauer.

TROUBLE IN NINTH
The ninth was a nightmare for Spahn. After retiring the first two batters, the brilliant southpaw seemed certain of an easy 4-1 triumph but a tremendous Yankee rally left the score tied at 4-4 and the partisan crowd of 45,864 stunned beyond speech.

Hardly before Spahn knew what had hit him, Yogi Berra and Gu McDougald singled and Howard, connecting with a 3-2 pitch, sent the ball screeching into the left field bleachers for a mighty three-run homer.

Spahn managed to wiggle out of that inning without further damage but in the 10th, again after he retired the first two batters, Kubek beat out an infield hit and scored on a triple by Bauer. All seemed lost when the Braves came to bat in their half. But Tommy Byrne, who had taken over in the eighth, hit pinch-hitter Nippy Jones with the first pitch. Bob Grim, the relief ace, who had served numerous games for the Yankees during the regular season, was summoned from the bullpen.

Red Schoendienst sacrificed pinch runner Felix Mantilla to second. Logan smashed a double into the left field corner tying the score. Then Mathews, after working the count to 2-2, smashed a fastball over the right field fence, breaking up the game and sending the delirious crowd into hysterics. It also hung the loss on Grim.

RELY ON HOMERS
Six Braves runs were manufactured by home runs. Besides Mathews' payoff wallop, there were those of Aaron and Torre. Aaron's blast came in the fourth inning, off starter Tom Sturdivant, who had pitched one hit ball through the first three innings.

In the fourth, however, Logan led off with a walk and Mathews got his first hit of the series, a rousing double to right. Aaron, who had hit a home run in Saturday's losing cause, did it again with a shot over the left field fence, putting the Braves in front 3-1. Torre followed one out later with another home run, the first he has ever hit at County Stadium.

The Yankees opened the scoring quickly. Kubek beat out a bunt in the first inning and, after two were out, Berra walked and McDougald singled home Kubek.

In Saturday's one-sided affair Kubek, a 20-year-old Milwaukee boy, drove in four Yankee runs with two home runs. Mickey Mantle also homered after Kubek had singled in the fourth inning.

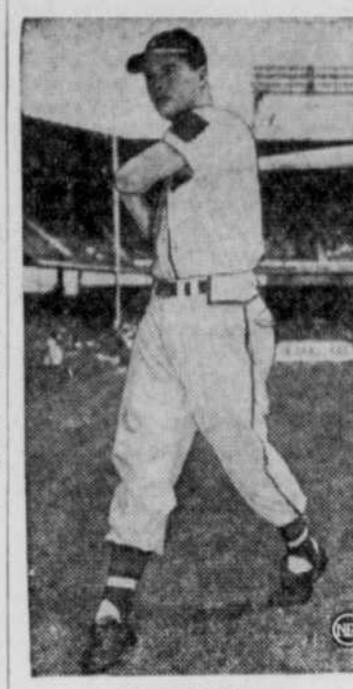

The string of Milwaukee pitchers, starting with Bob Buhl, eased the Yanks' way with 11 walks.

Basilio Named "Boxer Of Month"
MILWAUKEE. — (AP) — The National Boxing Association today declared vacant the welterweight title of Carmen Basilio, the new middleweight ruler, and then pronounced him "boxer of the month."

Fred Saddy, chairman of the NBA's ratings committee, said it was customary for a champion moving up to a higher division, as Basilio did, to surrender his old title.

Only Canadian listed in the ratings is light-heavyweight Yvon Durelle of Baie Ste. Anne, N. B. He is ranked the No. 2 challenger in that division for Archie Moore's crown.

HOMERS IN 10TH

Yanks' Dressing Room

MILWAUKEE — (AP) — A tiny mark of shoe polish on a brand new baseball played a vital role in Sunday's world series game.

As the result of the polish, umpire Augie Donatelli reversed his decision in the 10th inning and ruled that Nippy Jones of the Milwaukee Braves had been hit by a pitched ball.

This put him on first, sent Yankee pitcher Tommy Byrne to the showers, and set in motion the chain of events that was climaxed by Ed Mathews' game-winning homer.

"Yeah, I saw the polish," said Yogi Berra, Yankee catcher, who at first had contended that Jones had not been hit. "The ball must have hit his shoe."

ANOTHER KEY POINT
Manager Casey Stengel of the Yankees verified what Berra said.

Another key point was in the eighth when Andy Carey led off with a double, and advanced only to third—and had to scramble back on his belly to avoid being thrown out—on Jerry Lumpe's pinch single to short centre.

Some experts felt Carey should have scored on the single, which would have given the Yankees the game in nine innings when Elston Howard hit his three-run homer in the ninth. As it was Carey was left stranded when Tony Kubek hit into a double play.

"I didn't know if Carey got a good start when Lumpe hit the ball," said Stengel. "I didn't want him to be thrown out at the plate. We thought we had to hold him at third."

CURVE BALL
Howard, who hit a three-run homer that tied the game with two out in the ninth and the count 3 and 2, was as glum after the game as if he had booted it himself.

Asked what kind of a pitch he sent soaring over the left field fence he said curtly: "It must have been a curve or a fast ball."

Bob Grim, who went to the relief of Byrne in the 10th, said he did not consider walking Johnny Logan after Felix Mantilla, running for Nippy Jones, had advanced to second on Red Schoendienst's sacrifice.

"I was trying to give him some bad balls, but I guess I gave him a good pitch—too good a pitch."

Stengel said after the game: "We did all right—we came back pretty good, but everybody booted it away. Kubek and Hank Bauer put us ahead in the 10th but we couldn't hold it."

With New York Giants already gone and Brooklyn Bums given two weeks to either hit the road or stay here and work, they are talking about getting another National League club in the New York area. The question is what club? All the other teams seem happy in their present locations for the moment. To get another club here the league would have to be expanded to 10 teams. We still think the Minneapolis - St. Paul site is the logical one for another team. We have an idea it would be Milwaukee all over again as far as fanatical support is concerned.

In pro golf, did you ever notice how often a player who has never done anything spectacular before and suddenly crashes through with a big win follows it up with another big victory the same year. There was Jackie Burke winning the Masters last year, then taking the PGA tournament. And Dick Mayer winning the open this year, and then taking the "world" title, just as Julius Boros did in 1952 after being 34th in the money-winning list the year before. NHL All-Stars Top Canadiens 5-2 In Annual Classic; 13,003 On Hand As New Record Set With $33,249

MONTREAL (CP) — Gordie Howe of Detroit Red Wings and Dean Prentice of New York Rangers supplied third-period goals Saturday night to give the National Hockey League's All-Stars a 5-3 win over Montreal Canadiens, Stanley Cup champions.

The 11th annual All-Star game, which produced the most sustained action in the final period drew a crowd of 13,003 and a gross gate of $33,249.

The crowd was below the record 14,69 set in 1947 at Toronto but the gate returns set a record. Previous high was $30,386-75 in 1953 at Montreal. Ticket prices were higher this year. Proceeds go to the NHL Players Pension Society.

The All-Stars proved better marksmen than Canadiens and goalie Glen Hall of Chicago Black Hawks turned in a better job than Jacques Plante, Montreal's Vezina Trophy winner of last season.

Red Kelly of Detroit, Allan Stanley of Boston Bruins and Andy Bathgate of New York Rangers scored the earlier all-star goals before Howe and Prentice wrapped up the game in the last period.

Maurice (Rocket) Richard, Bert O'mstead and Stan Smrke scored for Montreal.

Canadiens led only once, holding a 3-2 margin for a seven-minute stretch during the second period.

A full-sized blowup threat involve! O'mstead, Rocket Richard and Ted Lindsay, ex-Detroit star now with Chicago. O'mstead drew a penalty for spearing Lindsay.

Eleven penalties in all were called, six against the Stars. Coach Milt Schmidt of Boston Bruins, directing the All-Stars, used various line combinations. Prominent among the forwards was the New York pair of Bathgate and Prentice, as well as Howe.

The Montreal line of the Richard brothers and Dickie Moore functioned well. Canadiens were without Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffon, laid up with the flu.

The meeting was the ninth — as the game now is played — between Stanley Cup winners and a selected All-Star squad.

The Stars have won five times, tied twice and lost twice. Both losses were to Detroit Red Wings.

Canadiens have a tie and two losses in three all-star games.

Hockey Interest Switching From Britain To Continent As Canadians Head For New Fields, 35 On Way

By ALAN HARVEY
LONDON (CP) — The centre of hockey interest in Europe is switching from Britain to the Continent.

Canadians who can skate and stickhandle, and don't object to a little tourist travel on the side, are heading in increasing numbers for Switzerland, Sweden, Italy, Germany, Holland and Belgium, where the money is good and the tax is light.

Some 35 Canadians will be employed as player-coaches on the Continent this winter, and experts with an eye for trends wouldn't be surprised to see the number doubled next term.

MANY SWISS TEAMS
The sport is booming in Switzerland. Reference works list 225 clubs in organized leagues, and new teams are being formed every year. One small Swiss community, Visp, has just signed Jack Macdonald, formerly of Penitence, B.C., as player-coach, and Ray Maisonneuve of Goward, Ont., who played with teams in North Bay, will tutor a team in the university town of Fribourg.

Probably the best-known Canadian in Switzerland is Stuart Robertson of Vancouver, who used to play for Edmonton juniors and a senior team in Kamloops, B.C. Robertson has adopted—or been adopted by—the winter resort of Davos, where he keeps a close eye on a colony of fledgling hockey players, starting with six- and seven-year-olds.

"Everybody in Davos knows Stu," says a Canadian hockey fan who recently visited Davos. "He has created a terrific interest in the game."

SWEDEN EAGER
Sweden is also opening arms wide to Canadian players. This month, hockey-conscious Swedes had Ed Reigle of Toronto, former coach of North Bay Trappers in the Northern Ontario Hockey Association senior league, flown to Stockholm to draw up a system of training for junior players.

The Swedes have also approached Les Anning of Rimouski, Que., Ken Booth of Montreal and Bill Glennie of Portage la Prairie, Man. All have played with English clubs.

Italian industrialists who like the speed and glitter of hockey are also bidding for Canadian talent. Milan-Inter, one of the wealthiest Italian clubs, has already launched enquiries seeking the "best player in Canada"—not for this year but for next.

Two Canadians signed by Milan teams for the coming season are Gerry Watson of Kirkland Lake, Ont., and Red Favero of Owen Sound, Ont.

To a lesser extent, there is demand for Canadian players in Austria, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, France, Finland, Norway, Spain, Yugoslavia, Hungary, Poland and Romania.

Hockey officials in London wouldn't be surprised to see more than 100 Canadians playing on the Continent in two or three years. Salaries vary from club to club, but an imported player can count on at least $75 a week, with handsome tax concessions and room and board thrown in.

Argonauts Pull Surprise Knocking Over Alouettes; Tiger-Cats Win

Rejuvenated Argos Run Wild For First Win Of Season; Fumble By Rough Riders Costly, Lose 18-17

Toronto Argonauts started the second half of the 14-game Big Four football schedule Saturday with a 41-31 decision over Montreal Alouettes while Hamilton Tiger-Cats squeaked by Ottawa Rough Riders 18-17.

The action created a three-way first-place tie with Als, Ticats and Riders each with 10 points, eight more than Argos, with six games to play.

It was Toronto's first victory of the season but left the team with only a faint hope of catching a playoff spot. Senior Intercollegiate action opened Saturday with University of Western Ontario Mustangs crushing McGill Redmen 26-7 and University of Toronto Blues scoring a 16-8 win over the defending champion Queen's Golden Gaels.

The Argo victory took an air-lift of 44 Americans, wholesale cuts and a tremendous amount of juggling to accomplish, but the group now appears to be a well-knit team.

Freddie Wyant, left-handed quarter picked up from New York Giants by Argos 10 days ago, directed traffic as the club barked over for six touchdowns.

He tossed touchdown passes to Pete O'Garro and Mennan Schriever and bulled over from one yard out for another. Dick Shatto, a powerhouse on both offence and defence galloped through a big hole in the Montreal line for a touchdown and passed to Schriever on another. Davey West accounted for the sixth touchdown on a five-yard plunge. Bart Moll booted five converts.

Quarterback Sam Ethevery of the Als, who completed 22 of 37 yards tossed touchdown passes to Red O'Quinn, Joey Pal and Pat Abbruzzi. Harold Patterson scored the Als' other touchdown. Bill Beweley kicked the converts and Bob Dean opened the Montreal scoring in the second quarter with a 41-yard field goal.

The Als moved the yardsticks 26 times out of 23 for Toronto. They gained 328 yards through the air on 24 completions in 41 pass attempts against 198 for Argonauts on nine completions of 21 attempts. Argonauts gained 203 yards on the ground against 163 for Montreal.

Tiger-Cats, who held Riders in their own half of the field for most of three quarters, were leading 18-3 early in the final period when the Ottawa offence came to life with two touchdowns.

On the last play of the game, Ottawa's Gary Schreider was slightly short and wide on a 30-yard field goal attempt. The try was good for only a single as Ron Howell conceded the point.

Schreider also kicked a field goal and convert. Tiger-Cats took a 6-0 lead in the first quarter on a 10-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Bernie Faloney to end Paul Dekker.

Schreider and Hamilton's Steve Oneschuk traded field goals in the second quarter to give Ticats a 9-3 halftime lead.

Hamilton made it 11-3 in the third quarter on two attempted field goals.

An Ottawa fumble late in the third quarter helped set up Tiger-Cats for a converted touchdown early in the final quarter by Cookie Gilchrist.

Quarterback Tom Dimitroff scored on a nine-yard run around left end as he tried a third down pass but could find no open receivers. Schreider converted.

With three minutes to go Bobby Simpson caught Dimitroff's 35-yard pass on the Hamilton 25 and ran all the way for an unconverted touchdown.

Gerry McDougall, Eddy Macon and Cookie Gilchrist shared the majority of Hamilton's 265 yards gained on the ground. Ottawa rushers could net only 84 yards rushing, but gained 267 yards passing to Hamilton's 138.

Ottawa completed 14 of 28 pass attempts while Ticats were successful 11 times out of 21 attempts. Tiger-Cats advanced through 24 first downs to Riders' 17.

Eskimos Wallop Argos 40-12 For Second Straight Win And Take Over Top Spot In Little Big Four League

Mike Leprohon's Eskimos moved into sole possession of first place in the Little Big Four Football League standing Saturday morning when they walloped the hapless Argos 40-12. In the other tilt of the twinbill the Ticats eked out a 20-18 decision over the Alouettes.

The Esks posted their second straight win, in as many games, to take over the top spot while the Ticats, with their victory, moved into a three-way deadlock for second position in the Hally Evans' circuit. The Als, Rough Riders and Ticats each have won one and lost one while the Argos are still seeking their initial win of the season.

In the first battle it was close the whole way with the Ticats coming from behind to win in the last half of the game. Fred Hurley got away on a 90-yard jaunt to register his first TD of the game and this held up until the second quarter when Dick Coates crashed over the Gordon Addis converted to put the Ticats out in front 7-6.

Just before the whistle sounded to end the opening half Hurley got away again and went over standing up to put the Als out in front 12-7 when the convert was missed. In the second half the fleet-footed Hurley broke loose again and the Als extended their lead to 18-7.

In the final quarter the Ticats paced by Guy Martineau moved back into the battle. Martineau crossed the goal line and Dick Coates converted to reduce the big margin. And to make matters better Martineau got around the end and went the whole way for his second TD to put his team out in front 20-18. This score held until the final whistle and the Ticats walked off with the decision.

In the second game the Argos chalked up the first TD when Doug Galbraith carried the ball over. The Esks struck right back when Jacques Cartier got off a 60-yard run to even the count. Pilote heaved a nice long pass to Lafontaine but he was pulled down before anything happened.

Paul Bouchard got around left end and went the whole way and when Jacques Cloutier converted the Esks were away and they never looked back. Quarterback Steve Edwards tossed a 25-yard strike to Denis Gosselin and he was away. Cloutier came up with his second convert and the Esks were out in front 20-6 when the whistle ended the half.

The second half opened with quarterback Steve Evans tossing a long pass to Clement and he went the whole way for the Argos' second and final TD of the game. Paul Bouchard came up with his second major tally when he was out in the clear on a pitch-out and the rangy half had no trouble going the distance.

Bouchard snared a long pass to move the ball to the 10-yard line and from there Jean Cloutier scampered over to give the Esks a 33-12 lead. Cloutier intercepted a forward on the Argos' 25-yard line and galloped over for the final TD of the game and his second.

Young Jean Jacques, the diminutive centre for the Esks, was by far the outstanding lineman on the field. His snaps were good and time after time he broke through to nap the quarterback before he could get his plays away. His down field tackling was also good.

Young Jean Jacques, the diminutive centre for the Esks, was by far the outstanding lineman on the field. His snaps were good and time after time he broke through to nap the quarterback before he could get his plays away. His down field tackling was also good.

A crowd of 32,000 saw the contest in Green Bay's new stadium. Washington Redskins turned loose their roughshod rookies, who teamed up with stalwart veterans to grind down Chicago Cardinals 37-14 in Chicago.

Veteran quarterback Y. A. Title engineered three spectacular pass plays to give San Francisco 49ers a 23-20 upset victory over Los Angeles Rams. A capacity crowd of nearly 60,000 saw the 49ers come from behind.

In Saturday games, New York Giants and Philadelphia Eagles tied 20-20, Baltimore beat Chicago Bears 21-10 and Cleveland Browns beat Pittsburgh Steelers 23-12.

Five Top US College Teams Remain Unbeaten; Oklahoma Dumps Iowa While Michigan State Tops California

NEW YORK — The top five college football teams in the United States roared to expected victories Saturday but the fall of No. 6 Navy threw the scramble for eastern supremacy into a jigsaw puzzle that might not work itself out until the waning days of the season.

Oklahoma, the No. 1 team, won its 42nd straight game, crushing Iowa State 40-14 in a big eighth game.

Michigan State, No. 2 behind Oklahoma, topped weak California, 19-0. Minnesota, third team in last week's Associated Press poll, beat Purdue 21-17 with Dick Larson scoring twice and passing for another touchdown.

Fourth-ranked Duke trampled Maryland, 14-0, for its third straight league win. Texas A and M, No. 5, raced past Missouri 28-0.

Navy lost 13-7 to North Carolina.

Auburn, seventh in the poll, defeated Chattanooga 40-7 and Iowa No. 8, turned back Washington State 20-13, despite an outbreak of the flu that almost caused the game to be called off.

Oregon State, No. 9 and defending Pacific Coast Conference champion, overcame Northwestern 22-13. Michigan, the 10th-ranked team, polished off Georgia 26-0.

Notre Dame took some of the heat off coach Terry Brennan by coasting to its second straight victory, a 26-0 decision over Indiana.

Maritime Hockey Teams Allowed Only One Import

MONCTON — The four teams in the Maritime Central Senior Hockey League — Amherst, Moncton, Summerside and Charlottetown — will be allowed one import each on their rosters, the league decided Sunday.

The imports must have played in the Maritimes last season and all other berths must be filled by local players.

The teams are to register all their players by Dec. 15. Play is expected to open Nov. 1 with Charlottetown meeting Summerside and the other two clubs likely seeing action the next night.

A decision on bids by Bathurst and Newcastle to join the loop was deferred until the next meeting in Amherst in two weeks. The north shore centres sought to enter on a partial schedule with their games counting four points.

Edmonton And Calgary Swamp Foes; Stamps Set New Yards-Gained Mark Over Riders; Esks Wallop Bombers

Edmonton Eskimos and Calgary Stampeders swamped the opposition Saturday to retain first and fourth places respectively in the Western Interprovincial Football Union.

Stampeders rolled to an unofficial WIFU yards-gained record with a total of 653 yards against the Saskatchewan Roughriders for a 39-9 win, before 9,500 chilly fans in Calgary.

And in Edmonton, The Eskimos kept the Bombers from crossing their 50 yard line even once for a 41-0 win. The second-place Bombers, upset winners 28-27 over Eskimos last Monday at Winnipeg, folded under the tremendous power of the Edmonton line.

The 24-degree weather and a slightly slippery field didn't hamper the Edmonton backfielders, who rolled up 352 yards on the ground with fullbacks Normie Kwong and Johnny Bright getting more than half of this.

It didn't seem to affect quarterback Don Getty's passing ability either as the deceptive Canadian completed seven of 11 attempts, including two for touchdowns.

Kwong led the scoring, driving over centre for two touchdowns. Joe Mobra took a Getty forward for one and converted four. Halfback Jackie Parker maintained his individual scoring leadership, getting one touchdown to increase his total to 67 points.

Rookie import end John Bell from Oklahoma took another Getty forward for a touchdown and Bright plunged over for the last one.

Eskimos rolled up 30 first downs to seven by the Bombers, had 16 yards on seven pass completions in 12 attempts — Parker missed on one try—to go with their 352 yards rushing, and made four interceptions.

Bombers managed 83 yards along the ground and with five completions—three by Ploen who tried seven, and two by Roseborough who threw six—they got 74 yards passing.

Jim Morse, Howie Waugh, Dean Renfro, Jack Gotta and Baz Nagle scored Stamps' touchdowns. But Korchak added a field goal and one convert and Ted Duncan kicked two singles.

Riders' points came off a touchdown by guard Fred Hamilton, who nounced on a fumbled ball behind the goal line, a convert by Red Whitehouse and a safety touch.

In setting the unofficial WIFU total offence record, Calgary collected 293 yards along the ground and 360 passing. It netters the mark set by Saskatchewan in a game against Winnipeg Blue Bombers last year when 607 were gained on 405 passing and 202 rushing.

Big Four Adopts New Ruling On Kicking At Ball

TORONTO — The Big Four Football League playing rules have been amended so that a player kicking at a ball in an opponent's grasp will draw a 15-yard penalty. There have been two such incidents in recent games, with no penalties.

If the kicker misses the ball and lands a boot on the opponent, he will be banished from the game, referee-in-chief Cecil McFaddin has ruled.

Bedford Guild Holds Opening Fall Meeting

BEDFORD — The opening autumn meeting of the Guild of St. James Church was held in the church hall, the president, Mrs. W. H. Baglaw presided.

Several letters of thanks were read. The report of the treasurer, Mrs. George Harland, showed a balance of $153.16, after a payment of $450 to the church warden during the summer, to cover the expenses in connection with the renovating and painting of the stage in the church hall. The president reported that the new drapes for the stage would be put up as soon as possible.

It was decided to send out a letter to the women of the congregation, asking for opinions regarding continuing church support.

Arrangements were concluded in connection with the annual turkey supper.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. W. H. Baglaw and Mrs. Malcolm McCaw.
